AVON PARK, FLORIDA, FRIDAY, JULY 16, 1948

NUMBER 25

AS WE SEE IT

By Art Kinney

We have used the expression "scot free" a good many times and never knew what it meant. The other day we saw it defined: "Scot" refers to a tax or an enforced contribution. Thus one who goes "scot free" escapes without tax penalty.

The talk of the town... Will the Mayor and City Council have a utility tax on the tax payers of Avon Park? The answer, we believe is "yes"... If the ordinance is passed you will pay more for the use of your telephone; more for your light and power bill and whatever other utilities they may slap it on. There is no question but what the City needs more money to meet the obligations that are necessary to give us an up-to-date City, and meet the bonded indebtedness. But how about the burden to the average citizen that has his hands full right now in feeding his family? The present city administration has raised the water rates, increased the real and personal property tax and put the nuisance on cigarettes and punch. These also increased the cost of banking up on the city water system, and now the utility tax... what will follow next?

Many a gambler believed that we would be getting a new mayor elected by the radio warblers in recent years—remain.

You girl! Avon Park is to be lit up this Christmas in the real Yuletide spirit. If the Avon Park Women's Club can do it, we can, and we are going to see that they do. The Women's Club have done a lot of fine things for A. P. and they are to be commended for taking their big shoulders, and it is up to every citizen to give them all the help needed. This is a mighty fine little progressive city, and last year's Christmas decorations were very pitiful compared to the decorations in towns... so please remember when the committee calls on you for help on this job that it is up to you to give them encouragement, financially and in every way that you can.

Avon Park is moving ahead... now it's air conditioned barber shop where men can have a haircut in comfort, and the barbers can stay happy without talking a customer into a nap... the Garrett Barber shop this winter for the comfort of their customers. We believe is the first business place in town to take this step for the comfort of their customers. Congratulations, Mr. Tonsorial Artist.

Speaking about air conditioning we were in a neighboring town this week trying to pick up a little business to keep our crew busy, and we stepped into a completely air conditioned store, and honestly I had quite a time to keep the "better half" from spending all of the "egg money."

The unusual happens in Florida... this week we were in the unusual position of witnessing a candidate for the high office of Governor of the Great State of Florida who is practically assured of election in November, taking time out to visit everyone of the 67 counties in the state, and thank the voters for their support. I am reiterating his promises of the primary campaign... Fuller Warren, our next Governor, is here on Wednesday, and found time to shake hands with a large number of old and young people of Highlands county, and assure them that he will be a governor for all of Florida and will do his best to carry out his promises to the voters. Good luck to you, Governor.

Next week the Sun will publish what we term our "mail away edition"... The front page of our second section will be devoted entirely to Avon Park, consisting of pictures and a story of A. P. written by Dr. R. H. Jordan, president of the Chamber of Commerce. This page will appear in 10 other sections of the state that will give it a circulation of over 20,000, and figuring only on a basis of three readers to a paper, over 100,000 people will read of Avon Park. 2200 copies will be printed here at the Sun office and the Chamber of Commerce will mail out 1,000 copies, and one business firm will mail out 200 copies. Other advertisers will mail out copies to their friends.

B & B always for freshest produce in town.

Q And A On Florida Citrus Mutual

L. B. Anderson, of Muthery, in a letter to the press, made the suggestion that inquiries about Florida Citrus Mutual be answered through newspapers as a means of getting more information to growers.

Jim Martin, organizing director of Mutual, has drawn up a list of questions being asked at organizational meetings over the state and presented answers to them. The questions and answers are:

Q. Will Florida Citrus Mutual be in operation early next season?

A. Yes, if the citrus growers of Florida want it. It can only become active if 75 per cent or more of the tonnage is signed up by growers contract. Your signed grower contract is needed to make the total, and contracts are available to you at most banks and chambers of commerce in the citrus area.

Q. As a grower, if I sign up and the packer or canner with whom I have done business in the past does not sign, what shall I do?

A. If 75 per cent of the growers have signed with Mutual, your shipper or canner will probably sign for you. If not, you will be available to you for your service the packing and canning of citrus.

Q. Will those growers who do not become members of Mutual lose an advantage by staying out?

A. Definitely not. Mutual by virtue of size and volume will secure definite market advantages for its members. Mutual will be able to buy citrus at a lower price than growers who do not belong.

Q. When will the growers elect a new board of directors?

A. As soon as 75 per cent has signed up, an election will be held. The board of directors of Mutual will elect a new board of directors.

Q. How is the board of directors elected?

A. In each of the seven Florida Citrus Commission districts, Mutual will elect one director annually to elect two directors a total of 14 from the districts.

Q. How is the election of the board of directors?

A. The board of directors will be elected at the annual meeting of Mutual. They will be elected annually to elect two directors a total of 14 from the districts.

Dry Forces Stop Wet-Dry Election

Dry forces took an important step Tuesday in stopping the election on the wet-dry issue when they filed a bill of complaint with Circuit Court Clerk H. T. Pate against the Highlands County Board of Commissioners.

The bill is in the form of a request for a temporary injunction to cancel the scheduled election, with the additional request that the injunction be made permanent.

Plaintiffs on the bill, which was filed by dry attorneys W. W. Whitehurst and F. T. Haskins, are the Rev. E. H. Puryear, Avon Park minister, and C. J. Marsh, Sebring citizen. The five defendants are A. C. McAuley, Sol McClintock, N. B. Haskins, John H. Hood, and A. J. Tubbs, "as and constituting the Board of County Commissioners of Highlands county."

Also it alleges that 100 of the members on the petition are Negroes, and that the petition is being used to discriminate against the Negroes.

There are four centers in the county. The first center is at the Avon Park Campground, and the second center is at the Sebring Negro quarters.
