ASKS FREE FISHING LICENSE FOR YETTS

The State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission today announced a resolution urging the 1946 legislative to exempt totally disabled veterans from buying hunting and fishing licenses.

The resolution was introduced by Commissioner Cecil M. Webb of Tampa.

"Fishing and hunting is good medicine for many of these veterans," Webb told the commission, "and I think the least thing the State of Florida can do is furnish the medicine free."

Though the game and fish commission is a constitutional agency, its fee and license laws are set by the legislature.

AS WE SEE IT

By Art Kinney

Beginning with today's issue, the Avon Park Sun will carry an advertisement, sponsored by 30 public spirited citizens in the interest of stimulating church support and attendance.

"The quality of the ads will speak for themselves, for the art is commanding and the text is convincing. . . . They should accomplish much in aiding churches in their challenge to the public to think of the value of a church not only in the Kingdom's work, but in the life of the community."

Support of churches is sound business. . . . Aside from the manifest spiritual values, churches are tremendous civic assets to the community. . . . Those who sponsor the series of appeals are performing a public service of merit in encouraging others to think seriously about their obligations to their churches.

We all have a chance, through the American Legion Auxiliary, to bring cheer this year to Christmas to hospitalized veterans, by giving gifts for the Christmas Shop in Veterans hospitals throughout the land. . . . The auxiliaries are doing a fine job in bringing happiness to the wounded veterans. . . . The Christmas shop should not be left to carry this tremendous task alone. . . . Everyone is invited to help by giving some gift that you can afford, and we can all certainly afford to give something for the boys who are lying in these hospitals, their lives and I may be free to live as we like. . . . Read the article on this page titled "Christmas Shop to Hospitalized Veterans," and then do something about it.

"I Love a Parade" seemed to be the expression on several hundred school children's faces Tuesday of this week, as they marched following the High School Band in the Jacksonville Education Week parade. . . . The teachers seemed to enjoy it also. . . . All of the students were the first to the twelfth grade were in the line of march. . . . The following poem, author unknown, seems to be appropriate at this time.

Home And The School
Who teaches a boy by the Master's hand,
In shaping the course of the future man,
Father or mother or teacher or priest,
Friend or stranger or saint or beast?

In dealing with one who is living and dead,
And may be the man whom the world shall need,
For who can measure the pride and joy
That may someday spring from a growing boy?

As we predicted a few weeks ago, the matter regarding the Utility Tax ordinance will be put to a vote of the freeholders on November 30th. . . . This is a serious question that the voters are called on to settle, and we urge you one and all to put on your thinking cap and study this question with an open mind. . . . The proponents of the tax can give you a good many reasons why the City should have this tax, and may do so in public print before the election. . . . The only good reason this writer has heard in opposition to the tax is that "we are already overburdened with taxes," which is certainly the truth as far as Federal taxes go.

Overheard while shopping:
"Mother, I must find a place to go down, as I am really tired." . . . These words were spoken by a young man about 17 years of age, who was with his mother. . . . The remark reminded us of the famous green benches at St. Petersburg, where the shoppers and visitors have a place to sit and rest. . . . We believe it would be smart business for stores to place some benches in front of their places. . . . The only benches, out side the Park, along the Mall that we know of are in front of the C. of C. building and on the West end of the Mall in front of the new business place, the Bachelors Plumbing shop. . . . Lake Wales and other small cities here in the state have benches where shoppers may rest, and as we said, "it's smart business."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warrington are the proud parents of a son, born Wednesday, November 10, at Walker Memorial Hospital.

There are three national trout and four state forests in Florida.

'Support The Church' Campaign Series Starts Today in the Sun

Avon Park Sun readers are invited to turn to page 2 of this edition, which contains a 60 inch advertisement of an institution older than America itself—the Church.

This initial advertisement will be followed by other ads of a special series each Friday for 26 weeks. The series which is the endorsement of the Avon Park Ministerial Association, is made possible by the cooperation of 30 business firms and individuals who view support of the Church as an important means of maintaining a stronger community.

It won't take much time to review these weekly messages, each of which is graphically illustrated, and if these messages inspire interest and action, the church community stands in the debt of the Sun. The Sun believes these messages will support the cause of Christianity and the Church, and by means of attractive visual appeal and compelling script.

This series was prepared for publication by E. E. Keister of Strasburg, Va., a newspaper publisher and churchman, with the cooperation of a number of newspaper editors and church leaders.

The church supporting campaign actually is a national scale, and this series of messages is being published in no less than 50 states. It carries wide endorsement of Clergy and lay leaders of all denominations. Watch for it each week.

AVON PARK BULL NAMED GRAND CHAMPION

A two-month-old, copper-colored bull named by Oakley Murphy's Ranch at Avon Park, was selected Friday at Webster Show and the grand champion Brahman bull in the third annual Sun County Breeders Show. Dandee's Lord Jim, owned by Norris Cattle Co., at Ocala, was reserve champion.

Formal Opening Of Maxcy's Garage

Formal opening of Maxcy's Garage, Inc., Frostproof, one of the most modern and best equipped shops in the entire South, will be celebrated Friday and Saturday of this week.

Hundreds of visitors from all parts of the State are expected to attend the celebration. Favors will be presented to the children, and there will be two drawings for valuable prizes each day for the grownups. Prizes will be on display before each drawing. The host person must be present to win.

Located on the corner of Wall Street and the State Highway, right in the downtown section of Frostproof, the new building is of modernistic design. It contains a total of 14,500 square feet, measures 155 feet in length and 90 feet deep.

The building was built by Stevens and Simple, general contractors of Orlando. Construction was started March 10, 1948, and although the building has been occupied since last August 27, it was only recently completed.

Built of concrete blocks, the building has a dynamic color scheme. The store walls on the exterior are painted pearl gray, flamingo, and rose. The interior is painted a soft green and trim is in cream.

It is more than a garage however. The front part of the building is a complete automotive repair shop. Ford Automobiles and Trucks and many appliances handled by the firm. These include the entire line of the B. F. Goodrich Company, the Frigidaire line, Youngtown Kitchens and many other products.

Your Chance To Bring Christmas Cheer To Veterans

All members of the American Legion Auxiliary, and others who would like to contribute, are requested to bring or send their gifts intended for the Christmas Shop in the Veterans' hospitals, to the Mariusson Shop at the earliest possible date in brief explanation of this request, most everyone is probably aware of what is meant by the Christmas Shop maintained during the holiday season in each of the Veterans' hospitals.

Previous Christmas, American Legion Auxiliaries are busy collecting articles of various kinds suitable for all ages as gifts; these gifts being assembled and sent on to the various veterans hospitals. There, they are sorted and placed on display, and the veteran visits the shop in the hospital where he is a patient, and does his Christmas shopping. It contains a variety of small gifts to which a patient to whom he wishes to send a gift. His selections are placed in a box and forwarded on to his loved one in time for Christmas. The veteran pays not a penny for any of this wonderful service, not even the postage; it is one of the many fine and worthwhile things done by the American Legion Auxiliary.

The veteran, who is a bed patient and is thus unable to visit the Christmas Shop, is still privileged to "go Christmas shopping." The stores walls are brought to his bedside, and he may select his gifts at leisure. An auxiliary may select as many gifts as he wishes, and choose whatever he wants from the display.

Gifts, large and small, medium priced or expensive are accepted. The auxiliary has a list of the gifts on display at the meeting Monday night, which had already been turned into the hands of the auxiliary. Margaret Stewart, Wouldn't you like to share in this wonderful gesture at the approach of the holiday season? If so, please send your gifts to Mrs. Stewart at the Mariusson Shop without delay.

Hettie H. Hetherington, Publicity Chairman.

G. Parke Anderson Addresses Jaycees

The Avon Park Jaycee Club was honored at their regular Tuesday night meeting at the Room of the Florida Power Corporation to have G. Parke Anderson, their guest speaker. Mr. Anderson gave a very enlightening talk on conservation in and around Highlands County and outlined the part the Jaycee Club could play in this program. He spoke of the waste land that could be reforested with the help of the government conservation agents and the effects this would play on the State of Florida at large.

Climate for one instance, said Mr. Anderson, has been affected by the cutting down of so many of the larger trees in Florida. This could have a good bearing on the tourist trade. The connection of fish ponds would be a boon to this county, and there are many small ponds that with a little care could be made into good breeding places for bass. Along with this, the value of a large pond would increase. Mr. Anderson gave a demonstration of how one man made $8,000 in ten years from a fish pond. He first cut the timber, on what he thought was barren waste land.

The club made a motion to adjourn this plan and look into the project, with the aid of the State Conservation agent.

A letter was read from Paul D. Bagwell, stating that the charter is being prepared and would be available in the near future.

A vote was taken and it was agreed, the club would sponsor Mrs. Lynn Jones in the annual Tanager contest to be held in Winter Haven November 27.

Malcolm Cress gave a short paper on the Georgia Power and Light Company.

Florida Power To Sell 8 1/2 Million Dollar Bond Issue

The Florida Power Corporation has asked permission for the sale of $8,500,000 of bonds to finance part of their huge construction program. It is expected that the company's financing plans so that the construction program started three years ago can go forward in order to furnish electric service to the growing number of customers of the utility in the 27 county area served by the company in Florida.

Florida Power officials stated that the company was in the midst of a $40,000,000 construction program which began in 1945. The company has already added a 25,000 Kva turbine at their Inglis Plant and a similar one at the George Turner Plant which means hundreds of miles of transmission and distribution lines being built to improve further the utility's service. The company expects to add another 50,000 Kw capacity turbine to the system within the next two years but final determination of the plant location for all this construction has not been decided.

Five New York brokerage houses are expected to bid on the eight and a half million dollar bond issue sometime later this month. Company officials stated that it was necessary to submit full data to the federal power commission and other federal agencies before securing a loan of financing because the company was doing interstate business through its wholly-owned subsidiary, the Georgia Power and Light Company.

Ranchers Meeting Held At Sebring

Tuesday afternoon, as a feature of the annual convention of the Florida State Cattlemen's Association, held at Sebring, the cattlemen were divided into two groups for a tour of improved pastures.

Half went south to see the fine grasses of the T. J. Durran Ranch on the muck at Brighton and the ranch of N. B. Jackson, widely known for his fine Devon cattle. The others took the northern route and inspected the handsome pastures of south prominent ranchers as Dr. W. C. Touchette, west of Avon Park, Rex Beach, famous novelist, and Oakley Murphy, outstanding breeder of Brahman cattle.

The City Council, through its president, urged that all registered voters of the City carefully study the question of the utility tax, and vote on it at the election to be held on November 30, 1948.

The City Council after careful consideration of the needs of the city, and the fact that the question of a utility tax was of such importance to the welfare of the Community that the question should be submitted to a vote of the voters of Avon Park. The City Council, through its president, urged that all registered voters of the City carefully study the question of the utility tax, and vote on it at the election to be held on November 30, 1948.

GREATER WEEKLIES

Formal Opening Of Maxey's Garage

Two post lifts, new lubrication system, motor equipment, etc., has been installed throughout the plant to provide both customer and workman with most satisfactory methods of automotive repair, reconditioning, parts insertion and various other services.

One piece of equipment — the John Deere Visualizer for sheet metal — was one of the first installed anywhere in the nation. It operates on the principle of a motion picture screen. The position of the wheels are projected on a motion picture screen enlarged eight times. Thus, 1-4 inch adjustment will show up as one full inch on the screen. The equipment eliminates all guesswork in wheel alignment.

The garage is one of the best lighted plants in the south. The very latest in fluorescent lighting — recessed slim-line — is used throughout the building, along with incandescent.

In the auto display room, the slim-line lighting is arranged to permit spot lighting. Color tubes also may be used. In the parts department, reflectors are used to throw the light back into the bins so employees can find the smallest parts in a hurry.

The modern lighting also extends to the five rest rooms — for white women, white men, colored men, colored women, and shop employees. All rest rooms are equipped with expensive germicidal electric light bulbs to insure maximum sanitation.

The building is a tribute to the vision of Latt Maxey, prominent citrus and cattle man, who began his business career at the pay of thirty-five cents a day in the phosphate mines in Polk County.

After working in the phosphate mines, first as a water boy and later as a steamboiler operator, Maxey came to what is now Frostproof forty-four years ago and bought a tract of land which he set out in a grove.

He toured the United States as a steamboiler operator for the next ten years and came back to Frostproof in 1914, when his grove began to bear. In 1919 he built a packing house in Frostproof and a few years later built the citrus cannery which produces the famous Silver Hip brand citrus juices. He entered the garage business about twelve years ago in order to have a place to care for his large fleet of trucks and cars.

Although the present citrus situation is anything but rosy, Mr. Maxey is not overly pessimistic. The fact that he has invested thousands of dollars in the modern, new garage is the best testimonial that he still believes in citrus — and Frostproof.

Manager of the garage is Lowell H. Mahon, who was practically "born and raised in the garage business." Mahon's father was an automobile dealer in Apalachicola, Florida. He has been working with automobiles and machines since 1923.

T. A. (Sam) Denton, Secretary-treasurer of the organization, has been with the Maxey organization seventeen years.

Other members of the organization are Lowell Y. DuBoise, in charge of the service station; Don Thompson, assistant parts manager; James M. Langford, budget department manager; Howard L. McLeod, front man; Tommy Griffin, mechanic; Al Antler, mechanic, specialist in wheel alignment, wheel balancing and motor analysis; Dick Willis, shop foreman and specialist for Fords; W. F. Wain, machinist; Ruby Schwab, bookkeeping and demonstrating for home appliances; N. R. (Trab) Briggs, sales representative; William B. (Shorty) Davis, grease rack and tires.

MRS. MABLE LOHR
Mrs. Mabel Lohr, 66, widow of the late W. M. Lohr, died at her home, 301 South New York Ave. in Lakeland, Monday, November 11. She had been a resident of Lakeland for 41 years, moving there from Tennessee. She was a member of the First Baptist Church in Lakeland.

Survivors are three sons, J. A. and Ralph, of Lakeland; Ray D. Tampa; a daughter, Mrs. J. L. Wells, Avon Park; a brother, E. T. Amelia, Roddick; two sisters, Mrs. H. C. Terry, Tampa, Mrs. Betty Burkhardt, St. Petersburg; six grandchildren, including Miss Betty Jo Wells and Mrs. Charles D. Locke III, of Avon Park and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held November 3 at Dukes-Steen Funeral Home Chapel, with the Rev. E. E. Isom, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment at Lake View cemetery.

In over 21 years of business experience Jack Stephenson has never denied any family his services regardless of financial circumstances. Adv. 2

WINTER GUEST CLUB NEWS

David Arthur Brodie

Mr. Adam Shaffer is away on a business trip to Schenectady, N. Y. He is expected back in a few days.

Mrs. P. J. Lavin, who has been quite ill since her return from Ontario, is able to be up and around. We are glad to report.

The "Strut Night" program last Friday evening was a decided success. The debate "Onions vs. Peas" between Mrs. Kelley and Mrs. Coselman was well received, and after serious consideration by the august judges it was pronounced a tie. It has been remarked that Mr. Starrett with his harmonica, and Mr. Markel with his violin, stole the show, yet, no less heavily applauded, were the sunshine solos, sung by Mrs. Samuel Norris with Mrs. Lancy Thompson's accompaniment.

Our program was well received. Our Number one booster for the month received a beautiful bouquet presented by Mrs. Coselman.

Next Friday is "Game Night." Don't miss it.

A good many of our members, and citizens of Avon Park, took advantage of the invitation issued last week to be the guests of the Cypress Gardens Association Sunday.

Among the recent registrants are the following:

Mr. and Mrs. John Naber, 46 North Butler St., Avon Park; Jaycasada Drug Co., by Mr. H. R. Todd, Avon Park; L. Estelle McGinnis, Avon Park; R. A. McKenna, Avon Park; C. E. Lanier, Avon Park; Vaughan Druggists, Avon Park; R. R. Brown, Avon Park; Ware Furniture Co., by J. W. Hend, Avon Park; Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Mitten, 127 North Forest St., Avon Park; Harris Dry Cleaners, Avon Park; Dr. M. E. Jordan, Avon Park; Michael Renner, 217 Catherine street, New York; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Richmond, Bassett, Neb., Highlands Lakes, Avon Park; Mrs. Alta Robinson, 3033 Dana St., Toledo, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Lavin, Toronto, Ontario, and 615 W. Main, Avon Park; Mr. and Mrs. Martin DeCoursey, Warsaw, N. Y., and R. L. Box 123, Avon Park; Mrs. Niva Atherton, 20 East Church St., Avon Park; Mrs. C. Prescott, 1540 Crestview Road, Church St., Avon Park; Mrs. C. W. Paddock, 316 South 20th St., Terra Haute, Ind. E. G. Todd, 53 Todd Ave., Avon Park; Bernie Johnston, Avon Park.

"VOICE OF AMERICA"

IS NOW GETTING

DEFINITE RESULTS

I am going to be hovering around, peering over the shoulder of the editor assigned to do my column—which I trust will be many years from now—and if he doesn't have one line as I am going to leave him right out of the place by writing it as myself.

The line I want is this—

"He was one of those who worked to save and establish 'The Voice of America'."

I think I am prouder of that than any other job I've done. It proved something to me that I believe fundamental. I believed that if we could tell the story of America to the people of the world—the real story—it would do great things for us and for our way of life. Now that "Voice" is paying dividends.

I think the same thing about the South. That is one reason I have a lot of appearances on platforms outside the South. I try to tell the real story of the South. I am proud of what the South is trying to do. I admit our problems, our errors and our failures. But we have a story to tell which is a good one. It makes for better understanding. It is helpful. You can be honest and aggressive, not dishonest and apologetic. I try to say, "Yes, these things are true and this is why they are true and this is what we must do to correct them. This is what the real South believes and wants."

The trouble is, too many of our Southern "voices" have been self-promotional voices. It is illustrated by so many of our political figures who ate the Klan's bread and then turned on them, with never an explanation to the rest of the nation that many of our people are not well informed; that they have just grievances; that they are caught in the mills of friction and prejudice. They just go on beating their publicly drums, trying to make it appear that the people who go to the Klan, fooled and cheated by those who exploit their fears, are wickedly mean and vicious people. The Klan exists only where government has failed to solve local problems.

So, you have to try and work out your own way to say that the Klan is wicked and evil and not a solution for troubled fearful people. But you must present a solution. You've got to keep pointing out that the Dixiecrats and their fake states rights platform isn't the Southern answer either—that the answer is to be found in more jobs and more opportunities for all the South—not in isolation or the legalization of wrongs.

The fakes and the self-seekers make it a hard job to do. But you have to keep trying. The real "Voice of the South" has a difficult time being heard. There are many who make up that voice, but the clamor from the other side is loud.

Well, anyhow, the truth does its own work, if slowly. And the truth is the best tool to use.

Two years ago the Congress had killed the radio "Voice of America" as an economy measure. I worked, without pay, for Nathan Mayo, then Assistant Secretary of State. I had only a minor part in it. But I, with other appearances before the House and Senate committees—I lobbied—I appeared on radio programs—I wrote for it—I wrote letters to congressmen—I served as chairman of a national committee to help save it.

And we saved it. "The Voice of America" is just a news report. It is beamed to Russia, among other nations. It is truth—a true account of life and news in this country—not of gangs, Hollywood divas, lynchings, strikes, and so on.

The Russians attacked it viciously. We then knew it was being heard.

They then sought to "jam" it. They succeeded now and then.

They then attempted to ridicule it.

But, things happened. More and more evidence was at hand that the Russians were learning we were not war-makers; that we did not want to conquer Russia; that we did not seek to "encircle" her.

Now come two young Soviet aviators. They flew a plane into our German zone. They told of the growing dislike of the Soviet system. They had determined to come to the Americans because of "The Voice of America."

They were asked how many listened to the program. They said they believed everyone with a radio listened.

They had heard, from the voice of this country, the stories of the Berlin blockade; of the Russian schoolteacher who jumped to see his own countrymen; of the many disputes between the two countries. They chose to accept the "Voice of America" version.

WEEKLY BUSINESS REVIEW

Manufacture of food products from edible nuts grown in Florida holds possibilities for industry and for agriculture, the research and industrial division of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce stated yesterday in its weekly business review.

Peanuts and pecans are the two principal nuts grown in Florida but relatively little processing, other than shelling and shelling, of these two crops is done in the State.

Last year, 65,325,000 pounds of peanuts, picked and threshed in Florida, were sold for $4,980,000. This was a 59 per cent increase in value and a 41 per cent increase in volume over 1946.

"The manufacturer of peanut oil for use in preparation of foods, of meals for bread, of toasted and salted nuts, and an expansion of candy manufacturing all present opportunity within Florida for the grower and the interested industrialist."

"Pecan production and value stood at 2,774,000 pounds and $504,000, both down considerably from 1946 because of a short crop and unfavorable prices nationally.

"In addition to furnishing a source of raw material, these two crops afford healthful variety for the family diet and a much needed meat substitute for the housewife."

ORLANDO RETAIL MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION

Remember — your local merchants come first, but if they don't have all the things you want — come to Orlando.

THE NEW JEEPSTER is Willys-Overland's latest — a distinctive sports phaeton with fast performance that makes each trip a driving thrill. The Jeepster weighs less than any other standard-size car... rolls up record-breaking gas mileage... rides with road-hugging smoothness.

WILLYS-OVERLAND BLAZES THE TRAIL WITH SEVEN PIONEERING CARS AND TRUCKS

THE 'JEEP' STATION SEDAN is a perfect family car, with the luxury and comfort of a sedan plus the spaciousness of its all-steel station-wagon body.

THE 'JEEP' PANEL DELIVERY offers smart appearance together with low operating costs, thanks to low weight and the 'Jeep' Engine.

'JEEP' TRUCKS both 2- and 4-wheel drive, cut hauling costs through long service and low operating and maintenance costs.

4-WHEEL-DRIVE 'JEEP' TRUCKS outperform conventional trucks on cross-country hauling, extreme grades, through mud, sand and snow.

THE 'JEEP' STATION WAGON, with all-steel body and top, is designed for a smooth-riding passenger car and a practical vehicle for hauling.

THE UNIVERSAL 'JEEP' is America's most versatile vehicle for farm and industry, serving as tractor, mobile power unit and for hauling.

The little things in LIGHT

GIVE IT THAT LIGHT TOUCH, DAD!

Dad doesn't want to be a "cut-up" when he's shaving. Light the bathroom mirror from both (or all) sides, then he won't be plagued by the shadows that result from having just one bulb over the mirror.

YOU'LL BE SURPRISED WHAT A DIFFERENCE THERE IS IN LIGHT OUTPUT WHEN YOU MAKE SURE YOUR LAMP SHIELDS AND REFLECTORS ARE SPARKLING CLEAN. You may get 25-30 percent more light from the same lamp.

I CAN SEE MUCH BETTER, AND SO CAN YOU!

I'LL BE RIGHT HERE, HONEY!

For small fry who can't go to sleep peacefully in the dark, try a friendly little night light with a 7-watt bulb. It burns over 100 hours for the price of a stamp.
