POOR PEPPER — RICH FRIENDS

One of the most insistent campaign boasts of the Pepper for Senator forces is that their candidate doesn't have any money to spend. This is in line, of course, with his pose as the "poor man's politician". Though penniless, he fights those with millions. It is an engaging picture.

Only trouble is that it is not in keeping with the facts. These facts have been given thorough study by Martin Andersen, editor of the Orlando Sentinel-Star, and he presents his findings in an editorial which The Sun here reprints in full:

* * * * *

Although CIO political agents were sent down to Florida from Chicago to throw around money to run up a big registration in behalf of their candidate, the Pepper Campaign Hdqts. advertised in this newspaper last week:

"Unlike his foes, Sen. Pepper has no unlimited funds to draw upon."

It is significant that all the dollars shelled out by CIO workers to corral voters, nobody—not even the Pepper people—thought for a moment that a single of these votes were being corraled for Smathers.

In the same advertisement, the Pepper Campaign Hdqts. pleads poverty:

"The big special interests have set out to build a wall of confusion between the people and the truth. Today there's only one way Sen. Pepper can get his message across to the people . . . through bought space in the newspaper and through bought time on the radio."

The Pepper Campaign Hdqts. knows full well that every daily newspaper of any size in Florida, daily prints the speeches of I. Claudius. . . . It knows full well that when I. Claudius stops off in Orlando or anywhere in this territory that he is given a column or more of space—which is the exact text of his speeches.

The Pepper Campaign Hdqts. knows full well that the same fair treatment is given their candidate by Jacksonville, Tampa, Miami, Sanford, Lakeland, Ocala, Pensacola newspapers and by others wherever he speaks.

* * * * *

In the advertisement, the Pepper Campaign Hdqts. says:

"The battle lines are drawn and the issues are crystal-clear. On the one side, Pepper and the People. On the other, the Old Guard Republicans and the big corporations."

Well, now, Claude, let's look at the record:

Let's stand up the rich people of Florida and count them. Let's look over the biggest corporations in the state and see if any of them, by any chance are for I. Claudius.

The biggest banker in Orlando is a Pepper supporter, introducing him in one of his early speeches here.

The biggest banker in Leesburg is a Pepper supporter.

The biggest banker in Kissimmee is a Pepper supporter.

One of the largest stockholders of the largest bank in Ocala is a Pepper supporter.

These are not secrets. The people who live in these communities know these men, know their political alliances.

Sen. Pepper was introduced recently in Pensacola by Mr. James H. Allen, founder of the Florida & Alabama Pulp & Paper plants, at cantonment, near there and now vice chairman of the board of the St. Regis Paper Co. This is a colossal corporation, running into the hundreds of millions in value with plants scattered all over the nation.

Mr. Lou Wolfson, who bought at least three shipyards from the government after the war, and who is reported to have made a million or more off each one, who owns Southern Pipe & Supply Co., here and in many other cities, is an ardent Pepper supporter.

If Mr. Wolfson isn't kicking into the Pepper campaign—and who said he wasn't?—well that just doesn't make sense. Mr. C. V. Griffin said Mr. Wolfson contributed $154,079 to the Fuller Warren campaign. If he did that for Fuller, what would he do for I. Claudius, whom has has known longer than he has known Fuller? Besides, Fuller didn't help Mr. Wolfson get those shipyards.

Meanwhile, Mr. C. V. Griffin, referred to in recent weeks by the Associated Press as a citrus millionaire, who said that he to kicked in something over $100,000 for the Warren campaign, is also a Pepper fan. If he gave for Fuller, doesn't it stand to reason that he would likewise give to Claude?

* * * * *

Not the least of the giant corporations for Sen. Pepper is the sprawling Wall Street-owned Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, which not only owns its own road but controls some 25 other railroads, two shipping companies and 20 or 30 railroad terminals.

The ACL has a net worth of nearly 400 million dollars, that is assets after liabilities and it made seven million dollars last year.

Top men in ACL are not only ardent Pepper supporters and therefore certainly would be expected to contribute to his campaign, but they also would like to see most of their 10 or 15 thousand employes do likewise—especially those in Florida.

Mr. Julian Cone, owner of the Floridan and Jefferson hotels in Tampa and one of Florida's largest road contractors is owner of Cone Bros. Construction Co., is for Pepper and able to give and give and give.

Mr. John Montgomery, our old playmate of Miami & Miami Beach, who last year sold his newspaper for $700,000 cash, is still a red hot Pepper partisan.

Mr. Dot Manley, a wealthy road contractor and worthy citizen of Lake county, is a staunch Pepper advocate.

Mr. Shorty Davidson, co-owner with Mr. Carl Ray of Silver Springs, the most profitable entertainment enterprise in the entire Southeast, is a Pepper supporter.

In St. Augustine, potent Mr. Walter Fraser, who owns the Fountain of Youth, and other valuable holdings, is pro-Pepper. He is not only one of the wealthiest men in St. Augustine, but in North Florida.

Mr. Wm. G. Ward of the law firm of Ward & Ward, of Miami, which represents the duPont bank there, recently introduced Sen. Pepper when he was campaigning in Miami. The 22 duPont banks in Florida have resources of over 375 million dollars.

* * * * *

In Jacksonville, some of the wealthiest citizens, are Pepper supporters and one can judge by their holdings, whether I. Claudius needs money from the so-called "little-man." These include, as well as Mr. Lou Wolfson, mentioned above, the following:

Mr. James R. Stockton, president, Stockton, Whatley, Davin. This is the largest real estate firm in Jacksonville.

Mr. Robert Kloeppel, owner of the George Washington hotel in Jacksonville, the Pennsylvania hotel, West Palm Beach and the George Washington, West Palm Beach.

Messrs. Alexander Brest & George Hodges of the Duval Engineersing Co. (Naval Air Station).

Mr. George Hills, the well-known and wealthy engineer of the firm Reynolds, Smith, Hills Co.

Mr. Henie Miller, president of Miller Electric Co.

Two of the biggest cattle tycoons in Osceola county and one of the biggest operators in Marion county are well-known Pepper money-raisers . . . all are not only well-known, but also well-heeled.

Mr. George Rogers, another big Tampa contractor and former city comptroller there, is also beating the tom-toms for Claude.

Some of the richest Pepper men in West Florida, some of the biggest operators, other than Mr. James H. Allen, the St. Regis Paper Corporation officer, include:

Mr. Charles W. Smith, Pensacola road and Eglin Field airport contractor, now engaged in a large project in Venezuela.

Mr. George Klosterman, housing contractor, building FHA homes in Pensacola and in the Eglin Field area.

Wealthy Mr. George Morrow, vice president and general manager, Girard-wood Products Plant, Gibsonville, the world's largest peanut shelling plant.

Mr. James A. Smith, Panama City, F. H. A. home builder.

Mr. Tom Brooks, the Ft. Walton realtor and amusement man.

* * * * *

These are the big men of Florida, representing the big money, and the big corporations from Lou Wolfson and his shipyards right on up to the big duPont lawyer down in Miami.

But there are others much larger, who not only support Claude, but whom Claude used to visit in their lush Palm Beach homes and sun himself with Wall street's most powerful and richest operators and sip tall drinks beside their fabulous swimming pools.

I. Claudius, when he wasn't campaigning for the poor man's vote and talking out both sides of his mouth, has been, with his charming wife, a guest more than once in the home of Col. Flanagan, vice president of the Standard Oil Co., when he maintained a palatial residence at No. 256 South Ocean Blvd., Palm Beach.

We don't mean that the Peppers just dropped in there one day by mistake, looking for a poor man's house and we don't mean that he took the servant's entrance, looking for the butler or gardener, either.

We mean that Claude used to drive in the big front gate, along with the other millionaires and he was so close and so intimate with Col. Flanagan that the Flanagans took the Peppers on a tour of Central and South American countries.

Is Claude is such a poor man, how can he afford to run with such rich people as Col. Flanagan of Standard Oil?

Or, was he on another government mission—like he says he was in Moscow, when he interviewed Uncle Joe—good old Uncle Joe, who laughs so heartily like an American; and who according to I. Claudius, "you instinctively trust".

* * * * *

We don't like to write so long and burn up so much space, but when Claude Pepper started his campaign of misinformation and demagogy we promised our readers we would try to keep him in line. . . Every time he misused the truth, we promised to call his hand.

So once again today, we publicly resent his advertised statement that his campaign is broke. . . That only the poor, down-trodden man is furnishing him funds. . . That all the big, rich corporations are for Smathers.

Tain't so, and, Claude, you know it ain't so. . . And if all these big shots are for you, you are certainly smart enough to wheedle the dough out of them for your present campaign.

Let the working man be, Claude, and go ahead and get your dough from your playmates like Col. Flanagan, Lou Wolfson, who gave Fuller $154,079, and C. V. Griffin, who gave him another $100,000, and from your banker friends and the big road contractors and the big cattle men and the big corporation men such as Mr. James H. Allen of the St. Regis Paper Company.

Loans Are Available For Farm Mortgages Says Supervisor

Nearly three times as many farmers are using insured mortgage loans to purchase, enlarge and develop farms this year as last, said Wilson H. Harrison, Farmers Home Administration County Supervisor, today. The number is 1300 for the nation this year as compared to 485 last year.

Under the two-year-old federal program, a family with ten percent or more equity in a place, or money enough to make a ten percent or larger down-payment, may borrow from a bank or other private lender to buy, enlarge, or develop a farm, and have the loan's repayment guaranteed by the Farmers Home Administration.

Repayment period for the loan may run for forty years if necessary, and the interest rate is four percent. Only applicants unable to get other suitable credit are eligible for insured loans.

Funds for the loans are now available from private lenders throughout the country, according to Mr. Harrison. To date more than 500 banks over the nation, 34 insurance companies, and several Federal savings and loan associations are participating, he said. "In addition, a few loans have been made to individuals, trust companies, and other groups.

The Wauchula State Bank was the first lending agency within this State to assist the Farmers Home Administration in securing insured mortgage loan funds. The Wauchula Office, now serving Hardee, DeSoto and Highlands Counties, is handling more insured mortgage loans than any other office within this State.

Florida's Only Woman Representative

Highlands Countians, interested in good roads, will be interested in the following letter from State Road Department Chairman Alfred McKethan, which reveals your state representative's efforts in behalf of Highlands County during her first term in office:

April 4, 1950

Miss Edna Pearce, Member
House of Representatives
Fort Basinger, Florida
Dear Miss Pearce:

In reply to your letter in which you have asked us to advise you concerning items appearing in the 1950 budget for road construction and repairs in Highlands County, it affords me pleasure to advise you that the budget includes $469,400 of construction work, consisting of the following projects.

S. A. L. Signals in Avon Park	$8,100
Road 17, A. C. Signals in Avon Park	7,200
Road 64, Avon Park-Hardee County Line	90,000
Road 66, S. A. L. Signals in Lorida	8,100
Lorida-Southeast	307,000
Highlands Hammock State Park Road	49,000
	$469,400

Included in the above amounts are $107,000 of secondary funds on Road 66 from Lorida southeast.

It is our expectation to do all of the work listed above during 1950. The plans for the Highlands Hammock Road may be expected at an early date. At the present time it is our plan to let the contract for the Lorida southeast road in May.

The secondary road funds which are available for expenditure in your county are largely the result of the Extraordinary Session of the Legislature which allocated the seventh cent gasoline tax to roads, which heretofore has been going for other purposes. According to the estimates of the Road Department this will result in $126,800 being allocated to Highlands County for secondary purposes, in addition to regular allocations of the four cent gasoline funds.

I would like to take this opportunity to express to you my appreciation for the fine cooperation that you have given to this Department.

With Kindest regards and best wishes,

Cordially,
Alfred A. McKethan, Chairman.

Theatre Asks Patrons Help To Combat Irritants

EDITOR: A recent writer in Public Thought stated that she was calling attention to irritating incidents in local theaters, by doing so she hoped the managers of these theaters will see to it that their patrons may enjoy the show in comfort.

Every theatre manager is very much concerned with the comfort of his patrons, for it is his pleasure when they enjoy themselves at the movies. The theater manager knows that movies can be spoiled by a few ill-mannered persons who laugh and talk; therefore he is constantly doing his utmost to eliminate such persons from the theater.

The problem of combating such groups cannot be entirely eliminated by the manager and service staff alone, for it requires the assitance of the patrons who observe such annoyances and should report them to the manager or other persons in authority, immediately.

There are many reasons why such groups cannot always be apprehended. First of all, it is sometimes difficult to single out these pests in a crowded theater, for once they are aware that they have attracted the attention of some member of the staff, they usually behave in a normal manner until that staff member leaves the scene. In such cases it would be ill-advised to accuse any patron of making a disturbance without positive proof.

New staff members, although instructed in the proper handling of such incidents, are sometimes reluctant to speak to such groups or even report to the manager, due to their lack of experience. It takes time to properly train a new employe in the theater, the some as it does in other businesses.

This letter has not been written to refute the statements made by the writer of the letter published in the Sentinel, but rather as an urgent plea to all moviegoers to assist your theater manager in assuring you of greater comfort and relaxation while you attend the movies.

Every theater manager appreciates suggestions from his patrons for improvement of service, for he is the proudest man in town when he has fulfilled his obligation of providing movie entertainment.

Vernon D. Hunter, District Supervisor, Florida State Theaters.

"Why Preach Against Sin"

Cry aloud, and spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and show my people their transgressions, and the house of Jacob their sins. Isa. 58:1

Them that sin rebuke before all, that others also may fear. 1 Tim. 5:20

Preach the word, be instant in season, out of season, reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long suffering and doctrine, 2 Tim. 4:2

This witness is true, wherefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith, Titus 1:13.

Paul said woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel. 1 Cor 9:16. I believe every God called Minister feels the same way.

Listen to this—To watchmen—When I say unto the wicked, O wicked man, though shall surely die, if thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity but his blood will I require at thine hand.

Nevertheless if thy warn the wicked of his way to turn from it; if he does not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquity, but thou has delivered thy soul. Ezekeil 33:8-9

May we be able to say the same words the Apostle said wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men. Acts 20:26

Paul said to Timothy the time would come when men would not endure sound doctrine but would heap teachers or preachers to themselves who would not condemn sin.

God help us to see that time is here, may we wake up to our task. We have the biggest job in all the world. To prepare people to live here and hereafter.

The souls of men never die, and precious, so precious to God that he sent Jesus to make atonement for all men.

For there is one God and one Mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus who gave himself a ransom for all. 1 Tim. 2:5-6

Who will have all men to be saved and come to the knowledge of the truth, 1 Tim. 2:4.

Knowing that heaven is a prepared place for a prepared people, it is our business to warn people and plead with them as Ambassadors of Christ that they take God's remedy for sin—for no sinner receives the benefits of atonement without repentance towards God and faith in the Christ, as their Savior.

Look all about us and see—

How the people of Avon Park are living. Many not regarding the Lord's day or the churches meeting to worship God and plead with sinners, too busy enjoying sin for a season.

God help us as lights or sign posts to be faithful to the trust that Christ has given unto us to occupy till he comes, and condemn sin of every type that the word condemns.

Fascinating Fashions

By Judy Seaton

With the coming of springtime and fresh new fashions, it's time to think about new Easter outfits. Dearest of all to the feminine heart at Eastertime is the all-important Easter bonnet. This year, perhaps you might try making your own spring chapeau. It's easy and lots of fun and, besides, it's a wonderfully inexpensive way to add an attractive hat to your wardrobe.

"Little flowery hats are so versatile," says petite Mary Jane Higby, star of the NBC daytime serial, "When A Girl Marries." "They go beautifully with tailored suits, and are perfect with summer prints and cottons, too." These little hats are so smart with the spic-and-span lingerie collars and cuffs so fashionable this season. Mary Jane is modeling a charming hat made entirely of massed clusters of white flowers . . . Set piquantly over her eye, it's just right with her heart-shaped face. A tiny bow of narrow green velvet ribbon holds this confection together and sets off the white flowers. "Secret of making this hat," says Mary Jane, "is to be lavish with the flowers. Don't skimp; if you have any flowers left over, pin a cluster on your lapel or bag."

You can find the foundations for making these bonnets in any good millinery supply store — pick out the shape that is most becoming to your face shape. There you can also find artificial flowers and veiling. Try a combination of massed violets, interspersed with green velvet bows, the whole veiled in a cloud of pale violet maline. Or multi-colored field flowers accented with a drift of soft moss green veiling—nothing could be more fresh and spring-like!

Or make a daisy bonnet—cover a buckram foundation completely with field daisies. Make a flat bow of wide black velvet ribbon with long streamers; scatter a few daisy flowers on the long ends and attach the whole bow to the back of the hat.

There are innumerable possibilities — all you need is imagination and taste. Tack the flowers lightly to the buckram foundation and anchor the veiling lightly—millinery takes the light touch.

Plans were made for a Pot-luck luncheon to be held at the home of Mrs. W. E. Jackson on N. Highlands, on May 16. The hostess served refreshments of ice cream and cake in lovely pastel shades.

HIGH SCHOOL POW-WOW

By Pat Lagoni

There is a correction in last week's Pow-Wow The list of boys on the Dean's list named last week were the Freshman and Sophmore students. There are some Junior and Senior students on the list who were not named.

The Red Devils chalked up another win on April 13, against the Wauchula Wildcats by a score of 11 to 2. Ralph Hill pitched for the Devils and Bruce Spencer caught.

The junior class was very successful in the magazine subscription drive recently sponsored. Three boys, Bobby Bolt, Devon Gaster and Charles Collins, were awarded Good Salesmanship trophies at a special assembly program on Tuesday, the 18. Bobby and Devon, working together, sold $212.00 worth of subscriptions and Charles brought in $102.00 from his sales.

The Devil's Chatter staff sold cookies and candy at home room period on Wednesday, the 19 and cleared nearly $13.00, which will be used in the production of the paper.

The snazzy high school band is hard at work in preparation for the state contest which will be held in Miami in May.

The Red Devils suffered their first defeat on Tuesday, the 18, against the Bartow team by a 7 to 3 score. Batteries for Avon Park were Hill, Morrell, and Spencer.

Here's one last reminder of the Fashion Show, which will be this Friday, the 21st. The chorus, glee club, England School of Dance, and high school orchestra are all ready to give you some good music along with the selection of beautiful clothes made and modeled by the Home Economics students. Don't miss it.

Spring Harvest on Your Table

When you're choosing a china pattern, remember that you will use it on many occasions. Your choice, then, should be a careful one . . . with an eye to finding a pattern which is appropriate for any occasion, from the family breakfast to the most formal dinner party.

The perfect solution to this problem is the Harvest pattern, created by Lenox. Made of creamy, translucent Lenox china, Harvest features three sheaves of wheat in 24k. gold around the border . . . with a single sheaf placed dramatically in the center of the plate.

The centerpiece here — wheat sprays tucked into an arrangement of flowers and fruits — repeats the motif of the china. Similarly the glassware echoes in fine etching the dainty wheat sheaves. Your silver, too, is of classic design.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

Lloyd Stuart, Chief of Police of St. Augustine and Secretary of the Florida Peace Officers Association, writes to call my attention to the old Spanish Jail confidence racket and asks that publicity be given to it for the protection of the public.

It is difficult to believe that anyone could be so dumb as to fall for such a gag, but it seems that people do for as P. T. Barnum told us, "There's a sucker born every minute."

The intended victim receives a letter that reads something like this:

"A person who knows you has spoken very highly about you so I have decided to trust you in a very delicate matter that concerns my entire future and that of my daughter as well.

"I am in prison, sentenced for bankruptcy, and I wish to know if you are willing to help me save the sum of $285,000 in U. S. Currency which I have in bank bills hidden in a secret compartment of a trunk that is now deposited in a customhouse in the United States.

"As soon as I send you some undeniable evidence, it is necessary for you to come here and pay the expenses incurred in connection with my process so the embargo on my suitcases can be lifted. One of these suitcases contains a baggage check that was given me at the time of checking my trunk for North America. This trunk contains the money.

"To compensate you for all this trouble I will give one third of said sum.

"Fearing that this letter may not come to your hands I will not sign my name until I know from you. Then I will enlist you with my whole secret. For the time being I am only signing L.

"Due to serious reasons of which you will learn later, please reply by air-mail or wire. I beg you to treat this matter in absolute confidence.

"Due to the fact that I am in charge of the prison school I can write you like this. I cannot receive your reply directly in this prison, so in case you accept my proposition, please send your reply to a person of my entire trust who will deliver it to me. His name is Sr. Ricardo Valles, Calle Antonio del Castillo, 16, Mexico, D. F.

"Wording may not be exactly as given above and the name of the go-between may be different, but if a person is dumb enough to reply they will be advised to bring anywhere from $25,000 to $50,000 to a city near the border, inside Mexico, the amount necessary to get the man out of jail, turn it over to the go-between who will contact the person later at a point in the United States. Then they will get the trunk and the money.

The sucker, of course, cannot complain to the law and reenact officers inasmuch as he is attempting to defraud the Federal Government out of customs duty and fees. He is simply out what he got. I reckon he was foolish enough to put money in a rocket.

Equally dumb are the tourists who visit zoos and wayside gambling joints and are gypped out of their money. A number of cases have been reported in Florida this winter.

The Florida Peace Officers Association wants to do everything it can to protect our winter visitors and home folks as well, but when people are so gullible that they will allow themselves to be hoodwinked out of large sums of cash without checking a investigation, there is not much anyone can do about it.

If you know of anyone who would like to buy the State Capitol Building for a few thousand dollars or is interested in the purchase of the Gandy Bridge I can probably find a guy who will sell em to you. Remember you never get anything for NOTHING. Don't be a sucker.

In over 24 years of business experience Jack Stephenson has never denied any family his services regardless of financial circumstances. Adv. tf

Actions Talk Louder than Promises!

Every farmer knows there's a whale of a difference between promising the farmer things at election time, and doing things for him after the votes have been counted.

So before you make up your mind about election issues, it's a good idea to check the record:

Claude Pepper was born on a farm, is thoroughly familiar with the farmer's problem...

Claude Pepper sponsored and fought for the Rural Telephone Bill and Rural Electrification Program...

Claude Pepper led the fight for Florida's Flood-Control Program...

Claude Pepper has always backed price supports for citrus, tobacco, peanuts, tung oil, and many others. (His opponent — only last year — voted against maintaining the 90% parity support program in Congress.)

The record tells the story in a nutshell. When it comes to getting things done for the farmers of Florida — Claude Pepper's actions speak louder than anyone's promises — and always have.

if their attention had been directed for instance to articles such as:—

1 The tremendous cost of looking pretty and smelling sweet.
2 The fabulous expense of saying "Merry Christmas," "Happy Birthday" and the like.
3 Keeping Fido healthy for $30,000,000 per year while thousands of humans go without food.
4 Hastening by five years the call of the undertaker by spending $1,300,000,000 annually for tobacco.

Oh Yes, my wife spends as much ... for cosmetics and weekly visits to the beauty ... as the average female.

Oh Yes, Christmas cards are an annual event in our home you ...

Oh Yes, I have those in my family who buy tobacco in the form of cigarettes at an annual expense of not less than $200 to the end that they will need the funeral director two, three, four ... years sooner than would otherwise be the case.

So you see it is not always a ... sour grapes on my part, but it is a matter of disseminating ... of facts with sound conclusions rather than erroneous conclusions.

The point I am driving at is simply this:

STANDARDS OF DYING INEVITABLY MUST KEEP PACE WITH THE STANDARDS OF LIVING.

Someone has said, "A nation without high standards of living, moral conduct and integrity is always a nation without sentiment."

The American Funeral Service Industry by public demand is the elaboration of its service, its facilities, and its equipment has set itself up to preserve certain standards of conduct in the disposition of the dead, exactly in the same manner that the American Public today demands the highest standards of living of any nation in the entire world.

The American Funeral Director in his true duty, exists for SERVICE TO THE LIVING, NOT SERVICE TO THE DEAD.

Arterial embalming accomplished under the most strict laws of training, licensing, and procedure was instituted into the Funeral Director's operation and is universally practiced today in all areas. It was not done for the dead, but it was done as a matter of sanitation and satisfaction for the living.

The transition of funeral operation from the livery stable to the present day modern, and in some cases elaborate, funeral homes, was made not as a service to the dead but as a matter of consolation for the living friends and relatives.

Forty years ago a lion's share of all sick people were cared for in their own homes whereas today a major portion of all illness is handled and treated in hospitals built for that purpose. In the same manner the modern funeral establishment is more adequately equipped to care for the dead and their relatives and friends.

Operating rooms, equipped and furnished like those of a hospital, service rooms equal and in some cases finer in their furnishings, details and arrangements than the average church provides, motor equipment in hearses and other cars better than the average American family maintains, and cemetery equipment in the form of lowering devices, tents, etc.— they were all devised for the satisfaction of the living relatives and friends to the one end, that the most tragic event in a human life which is death, can be made as bearable as possible to the living. Intellectual honesty forces us all to the conclusion that a dead body, whether it be a millionaire or one who has nothing, is just as well off in death if he were placed in a pine box strong enough to contain the body, placed on a wagon and moved to a hole in the ground, as if he were buried according to the present day American standards of burial which involve the time of the Funeral Director and his staff for over TEN MAN DAYS of LABOR, utilizing facilities and equipment which in some cases involve capital investments that run into six figures.

SERVICE TO THE LIVING is the principal objective of the American funeral service profession today in their efforts to cushion the blow of death just as much as it is humanly possible by creating a pleasant memory picture for the living relatives and friends.

Not long ago I was talking to one of the leading men in another industry and when it happened the conversation came around to my business, he said:—"When I die, put me in a pine box. That's good enough".

I inquired, "What if your wife dies first, is that way you would bury her?"

The reply came back "Oh, No! If she should die I want to provide the finest thing your industry affords."

I replied, "Is it not reasonable to suppose that she has as much love, esteem, and affection for you as you have for her? Why then should you impose a grueling heart breaking request of the kind you just mentioned upon her by wanting to be buried in a pine box? Your attitude is selfish, not magnanimous."

Just so long as the American Consuming Public first accepts and then demands new, higher standards of living just that long will the American Funeral Service Profession continue to elaborate their standards of service in dying which they render to the American Consuming Public.

Straight thinking consistency demands standards in dying at least equal to standards adopted in life.

People who are accustomed to ... and toilet facilities ... in a hotel with ... and toilet facilities because it is cheaper. Why then should people be forced to accept pauper standards of burial at time of death because they are cheaper, when their standards of living are not pauper standards. The answer is they don't and won't.

Burials can be handled more economically from a livery stable facility than the 1950 model funeral home, but would the public accept livery stable facilities, ice box preservation, horse drawn hearses, at the saving involved? Well, would you, if you had a death in your family?

The American Public has always chosen its own standards of living, just as it has, by its patronage, chosen its standards of dying, and the American funeral director is only striving to furnish what the public wants, as evidenced by their patronage.

The present day standards of American burial, advancing from ice box preservation, livery stable quarters, cortege consisting of a hearse and a horse and buggy instead of limousines, are only keeping abreast of the standards of living demanded by the American consuming public in this year 1950 as compared to the 1900's.

In closing, the financial "Who's Who" record of names in these United States, does not reveal the name of one funeral director who has become a millionaire from the operation of a funeral business, even though it is a 24 hour per day emergency operation to serve immediately as, if, and when the occasion of demand arises in every American family.

School For Veterans To Open May 1

The Highlands County Educational Institute for Veterans and Adults has been in operation for the past two months. All indications are that the men now being served in the Accelerated Elementary and Accelerated High School programs are finding that their educational needs are being met in our institute program.

Fred Wild, Superintendent of Public Instruction of Highlands County, announced the appointment of Leonard Payne of Sebring as Director Teacher of the Institute program.

A unit for white veterans and adults will be opened in Avon Park on May 1 of this year. The institute program is organized to fulfill the educational needs of men on the full time program of 25 hours per week or the part-time program of 12½ to 18 hours per week. The new unit will open for instruction at 4:30 P. M., Monday, May 1, for full time students; at 4:30 on same day for ½ time students; at 7:30 for ¼ time students.

Sixteen men have made arrangements to transfer from Polk County institute. They will make up the larger part of the first white unit. There will be approximately six men who will make their original entrance into this training program with the opening of the new unit.

All adults who are interested in this type of educational training should contact R. D. Reddick, Highlands County Service Officer for the proper filing of papers requesting Veterans Administration to issue the proper certificate of eligibility.

Show Boat Fashion Parade Staged By Home Ec Class

Show Boat Fashion Parade was the keynote of the annual style show presented by the home economics department of the Avon Park High School in the auditorium Friday evening under the direction of Mrs. Martha Allen.

Devils Win Loop Game From Lake Placid

The Avon Park Red Devils defeated the Lake Placid Green Dragons 9-1 Thursday afternoon here for the seventh Ridge Conference victory this year and ninth win altogether. Coach Carter hurled Ralph Hill at the Dragons for five innings and put Bobby Whitcomb in, in the 6th frame. Hill gave up one single and one was all Whitcomb gave up. Rhodes and Smith, Lake Placid third baseman and catcher, got the two safeties for the visitors.

Jimmy Kelly and Ralph Hill cracked out a three bagger each for Avon Park and each safety brought in two home runs.

County Orders Separate Polling Places For Negroes

The county commissioners have ordered separate polling places for Negroes set up in Avon Park, Sebring and Lake Placid precincts. Action was taken by the board at a special meeting Wednesday, not because of complaint of white people, but because the Negroes objected to voting with the white people.

Believe it or not, that was the complaint of a delegation of Avon Park Negroes who appeared before the board, and complained that Negroes would rather have separate polling places, because some of their color, "might be afraid to vote in white precincts." Walter Dixon, local president for the Association of Colored People, and Dan Gibbs, local merchant, were among those attending.

The action was taken contrary to advice of County Attorney Keith Collyer, and a recent opinion of attorney General Richard Ervin.

Mrs. Marion Nelson was presented a past president's pin.

Hoy Black, district commander of the eighth district, installed the following local officers: Philip Boardman, Commander; Lenny Rush, first vice president; R. L. Pixler, second vice president; C. L. Craft, finance; Fred Garrett, Chaplain; Jimmy Hiem, historian; John Hicks, sergeant at arms; Devon Reddick, service officer and John Wright adjutant.

Fred Montsdeoca Outstanding Athlete At University of Fla.

Fred Montsdeoca, University of Florida, former Avon Park high athlete is a fine toe and hand athlete. He is the best kicker in the Southeastern conference and one of the best punters in the nation.

In baseball he's captain of the Gator varsity squad and star pitcher.

Don't be surprised if Montsdeoca throws a few passes and runs a bit for the Gator football team next fall. He was an outstanding triple threat star at Avon Park high and Coach Woodruff wonders why he was never allowed to run.

The Florida Gators, of which he is captain, are leading the Southeastern Conference with four wins and no conference losses. Fred has four wins in and out of the conference to his credit, the latest winner being over the Rollins Tars. He also holds a winner over the Gainesville G Men, a members of the fast Florida State League, the Gators have seven or eight games that they have won out of the Conference. They hold wins over such teams as the University of Miami, Florida Southern, University of Tampa and a few other small college teams in Florida.

Avon Park Moose Lodge Re-Organizes

Under the able leadership of Otto M. Schleicher of Winter Haven, the Avon Park Moose Lodge is re-organizing and signing new members every day as well as herding the strays that have dropped out in the last year.

Mr. Schleicher is not new in this field. He has been successful in other communities where the Moose failed to get off to a good start. He has been here about three weeks and a change in attitude among the members has already been noticed.

By completely reorganizing the club and putting it on a business basis, confidence in the club's future again prevails. It is hoped delinquent members will cooperate by subscribing to the enforcement of the new regulations for the betterment of the organization and the community.

Members are urged to attend business meetings on Monday night in order that they can help plan the social events featured each Saturday night at the Moose Club on Lake Lotela.

Senator Pepper Makes Last Bid For Highlands Vote

Senator Claude Pepper made his final bid for the votes of Highlands county in his talk in Avon Park Monday afternoon. He had spoken previously in Sebring, and this was his last appearance in the county prior to next Tuesday's election.

His talk followed familiar lines of the campaign. Summing up everything, he said he was running on the Roosevelt program. He was for the little fellow. He was against the big interests, and that they were fighting him. He reminded his audience of everything he had done for the people of Florida, and especially the people of Avon Park. He was for labor, for help to the aged, for help to citrus people, for help to cattle people, for help to the veterans, for help to everybody.

"That one word "help" just about covers my platform. Elect me and I will help you in every way I can", he said.
