Avon Park Schools Term Close Today

Friday afternoon, June 2, will bring to a close the reguluar attendance of pupils at the local schools. Final tests, the checking in of textbooks, and other details, are being completed this week.

Pupils will not be expected to return until Wednesday morning, June 7, at 9:00 A. M., at which time they will report to their home rooms and then go to Assembly in the auditorium, where the closing exercises will be held. The school buses will make their regular routes on Wednesday, at a time which will be specified by the driver prior to that time.

At this Assembly, the Sixth Grade pupils will receive their certificates of promotion to the Junior High School. The Ninth Grade pupils will be awarded certificates admitting them to Senior High. Perfect attendance certificates will be given, also American Legion award and Legion Auxiliary medals.

Some statements will also be made concerning the summer educational and recreational program which will get under way June 15.

After the Assembly program, pupils will return to their respective rooms, where report cards will be issued and pupils dismissed for the summer.

The 3rd annual dance revue, "The Woman in the Shoe", given Monday night, May 29, at the high school auditorium, was a finished and beautifully-costumed performance. From the standpoint of attendance, it was a smash-hit.

The revue was sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club, and was staged and directed by Fred and Madelyn England's Professional School of Dancing. The program, in addition to graceful ballet and rhythmic tap, included novelty numbers, controlled acrobatics, songs, and a monologue and eccentric soft-shoe dance. "The Farmerettes" and "Beautiful Dolls" numbers were among the cleverest arrangements. The dancing as a whole was smooth and professional in technique.

The entire ensemble appeared on the stage for the opening, and for the finale, the medley of glowing colors in which the young performers were dressed making an attractive picture against the background of a huge, picturesque old shoe. Oversized rainbow peppermint sticks added color to the scene, and sparkling butterflies fastened to the curtain gave the stage an air of springtime gayety. This was enhanced by baskets of flowers placed at both sides of the stage, credit for which goes to the Avon Park garden clubs.

Representative of the high quality of the costuming was that worn by the "La Millitaire Ballet"—white satin leotard with gold braid and high gold hat and a flaring tarletan skirt in tiers of red, white and blue.

The dancers were the Avon Park students, and students from Sebring and Lake Wales. They were as follows:

1. Toyland Ballet—Mary King, Clytie Coleman, Betty Lou Dyal, Tura Anne Delaney, Patricia Pickett, Barbara Marshall, Frances Warren, Mary Lou Warren, Jennelle Hicks.
2. Pleasing Taps — Kathleen Pella
3. Skaters Waltz—Verna Lou Nevilles
4. Merry Widow Ballet—Lee Anne Hamilton
5. Sweet as Apple Cider—Elaine Worden

Dr. John S. Allen To Address APHS Graduates

The Commencement season will get underway with the Baccalaureate Service to be held at the high school auditorium on Sunday evening, June 4, at 8:00 P. M.

The graduation address will be given by Dr. John S. Allen, Vice President of the University of Florida.

The Baccalaureate address will be delivered by Rev. H. E. Garrett of the First Methodist Church. As has been the custom for many years, all churches are invited to attend the service and several ministers will participate in the program.

Graduation exercises will be held on Thursday evening, June 8, at 8:00 P. M. There are 41 candidates for graduation in this year's class.

Pre-School Round-Up Sponsored By P.T.A.

A round-up of those children who will enter school for the first time next year was held at the elementary school last week, Thursday, May 25, from 9 to 12 A. M. A number of P. T. A. mothers assisted in registering the children.

Fifty-two children attended the round-up, a number known to be less than the number of prospective first-graders for next year. Consequently, those who did not come must be registered next fall.

The children were given a physical examination, with Dr. G. L. Beaumont, head of Highlands County Health Department and Mrs. L. E. Rankin, county health nurse, officiating. Mrs. Claire Rowe, remedial reading expert, ran a visual test for each child.

Toys and ice cream for the children were provided by the P. T. A.

The first grade teachers, Mrs. Georgia Dinnison, Miss Sarah Sellers, and Mrs. Fred Reddick, also assisted. Those mothers who helped were Mesdames Bernie Johnson, Luke Moseley, H. W. Coleman, Leon Campbell, Jack Hutchinson, Louis Lagoni, Ken Harris, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Keith Collyer.

Rotary Notes

At the Rotary luncheon this week, Billy Wingfield, Junior Rotarian for the month of May, thanked the Club for the privilege of being their guest, and assured the members that he now knows what Rotary stands for. Personally we think Billy's farewell speech to the club should be used as a standard to all after dinner speakers, it was well delivered, showed thoughtful thinking, and short.

Coach Don Hansen of Sebring was the guest speaker, and explained the "Driver Education Program", sponsored by the Board of Education as one of the courses for the summer program. Students will be enrolled from Avon Park, Sebring and Lake Placid schools. This program will b eexplained further in another issue of the Avon Park Sun.

Members from other clubs and guests were: R. L. Maxson, E. F. Armstrong, Bob Liner, Art Kinney, David Lanier, H. W. Johnson of Avon Park; L. Alsmeyer, Allen Intz, Jerry Kitchings and Bill Dutton of Sebring; H. W. Heppler and K. H. Gerlach, Lake Wales; George Liner, Marietta, Georgia and Benny Skinner of Lake City.

Wauchula Firm Celebrating 44th Anniversary

The J. W Earnest & Co., of Wauchula are announcing their 44th year in business with an ad appearing in this week's Sun.

The Earnest store is fully air-conditioned, and their three floors are heavily stocked for this anniversary sale, with ready-to-wear merchandise for men, women and children as well as furniture and home furnishings.

Mrs. Cora Wray is expecting her son, Ellis Wray, his wife and son Earl, frm Montgomery, Ala., to come Sunday, June 4, to spend a week with her. Ellis Wray has been employed by the Alabama Power Co. in Montgomery for over 20 years.

Eagle Scout

Avon Park's newest Eagle Scout, Edgar Pabor of Troop 157, will attend Boy Scout National Jamboree, to be held at historic Valley Forge from June 30 to July 6. The Jamboree will be opened by President Truman, who is Honorary President of the Boy Scouts. There will also be a three-day pre-Jamboree camp. Only two per cent of the entire Scout enrollment of the United States, Hawaii and Alaska are eligible to attend the Jamboree; however, 47,000 boys will be present.

Eagle Scout Pabor was invested with his rank on May 22, at one of the largest Scout Court-of-Honor ever held in Avon Park. 226 persons attended it.

Students Make Good Use Of APHS Library

Avon Park High School students have done more than a normal amount of library reading, according to a report made by Miss Anne Felton, High School Librarian.

The record made by Edward Batson, a 7th grader, who read 125 books from the High School library, tops the record of last year, which was almost 100 books, read by Billy Miller, then a Junior. On an average, students have read better than 40 books each from the high school library during this school year. This is not the complete reading record as many students read books from the Public Library and from other good sources. The record shows that our school has been successful in implanting the love of reading in many students and in forming a habit which will bring them enjoyment and information during the years that lie ahead.

All phases of Library work show some improvement over the record last year except that a few more books have been damaged and lost. Last year the record was almost unbelievably excellent. The "damaged and lost" record is still well above the usual even though not quite as good as that of last year.

The library room was much improved last summer. Those improvements have meant better and more enjoyable use of the library this year. A few improvements are still needed this summer to complete the improvement plans.

Capable Library Service students this year have been Alice Sue Collins, Shirlee Hill, Pat Smith, Virginia Norris, Margaret Roan, and Anna Vilkaitis.

LOCAL MEN REPORTED IN ACCIDENT

Kenneth F. Harris and H. N. Bovard, both of Avon Park, are reported to have been in an automobile accident in New York State, where they have been working. Both suffered injuries, but have been released by the hospital, and are recovering.

The accident occurred just outside of Jamestown, N. Y., on Lake Chautauqua. Mr. Harris, with Mr. Bovard as passenger, was driving into the town when his car was hit by a city bus.

No further details are available as this paper goes to press, but assurance has been given that neither man was seriously hurt. Their families expect to join them this week end.

"Reading produces a significant living."

Annual Meeting American Red Cross

The Highlands County Chapter, American Red Cross, will hold its annual meeting at the Tourist Club Room, North Ridgewood, Sebring, Monday, June 12, at 8 P. M.

Among the more important matters to be considered at this meeting is the adoption of revised bylaws, to correspond with those suggested by the parent body.

All persons living in Highlands County who contributed one dollar or more to the 1950 Fund Drive automatically become members of the Chapter and are expected to be present and vote their sentiments on the adoption of the proposed revision of the bylaws, election of directors and all other matters which may come before the meeting.

There will be a report of the Disaster Committee, a resume of the important work carried on by the Home Service Department, and many other interesting sidelights on the workings of the organization.

Mr. W. C. Schaeffer, Chairman of the 1950 Fund Drive, will make his report to the members after which he will be awarded a "Citation" for his efficient services by the Chapter Chairman, Dr. H. N. Rafferty.

The highlight of the meeting should be the address by the Rev. O. K. Cull, on "This Is Your Red Cross".

Closing the program will be a sound film entitled, "When Disaster Strikes."

Is This You?

You were seen Wednesday afternoon at the checker-board table on the Mall, very interested in the game. You were wearing blue pants, pale green shirt and brown shoes. You are 5 feet 10 inches tall and have slightly gray hair. A blue car was parked near the above mentioned location. If this is you stop by the Sun office or Hilans box office and receive two passes to see Ruth Roman in "Barricade" Thursday or Friday.

Large Crowd Attends A P Memorial Day Program

Gold Star Mothers Presented Corsages

Principle Address by G. A. T. Washburn

Several hundred Avon Park people paid homage to the living and those who made the supreme sacrifice for our country on Tuesday morning Memorial Day. The good old Florida sun performed wonderfully and held off showers until later in the day.

A colorful parade formed at the Tourist center and marched north on Main street to Butler avenue and then south on Main to the reviewing stand on the Mall. A highway patrol car led the parade, and was followed in turn by a Color Guard and the fast stepping Avon Park High School band, a firing squad from the National Guard, members of the American Legion, veterans of Foreign Wars, Spanish War vets and the Ladies of the Legion Auxiliary, school children and Boy Scouts.

In the reviewing stand, Major Roy L. Pixler acted as Master of Ceremonies and introduced guests in the stand, who were the heads of the many civic organizations of the City.

Rev. Robert T. Liner of the First Baptist church gave the Invocation, and Miss Alma Harrell led in the singing of America.

Major Pixler then introduced the speaker of the day, Admiral G. A. T. Washburn, retired. Admiral Washburn then proceeded without the aid of "dramatics" to deliver one of the most forceful addresses that this writer has ever had the pleasure of listening to, on the chief topic of the day: "Peace, and Atomic War".

Philip Boardman, Commander of the local Legion Post then presented the Gold Star Mothers with corsages. Mrs. Alice Sherman representing the Gold Star Mothers placed the wreath at the War Memorial, in commemoration of those who gave their lives for their country.

Gold Star Mothers present were: Mrs. Alice O. Sherman, Mrs. Cora Wray, Mrs. M. L. Rogers, Mrs. Peter Boney and Mrs. Hobbes, the only colored Gold Star Mother present.

The firing squad then saluted the dead with three volleys, and Taps was sounded . Rev. Frank M. Butler of the Church of The Redeemer delivered the Benediction, and the band then played the National Anthem, bringing to a close on of the finest Memorial Day services held here in the last few years.

Earlier in the day, the graves of Avon Park veterans in Bougainvilla Cemetery were marked by members of the American Legion and decorated by members of the Legion Auxiliary.

Health Authority Warns Dog Owners

Dr. G. L. Beaumont, Director of the Highlands County Health Department, announced today that all dogs over the age of six months in Highlands County must be vaccinated against rabies not later than June 15, 1950. This is a Florida Law. All dogs not vaccinated by this date will be picked up.

Because rabies is more prevalent in the hot summer months it is very important that this be done at once. Any local veterinarians may do this work.

Dr. Anderson states that he will be in Lake Placid, near City Hall, on June 7, between the hours of 1 and 5 and 6 and 8 to carry out this program.

Protect the children of Highlands County by having your dog vaccinated.

Hoodlums Break In Geiger Shop

Sometime during Wednesday night of last week some young hoodlums who should have been off the streets and at home in bed, broke into Henry Geiger's drapery and upholstery shop in the Sun Court building, and deliberately wrecked some material and poured oil and varnish over the place. They also spilled ink over the desk and floor. Mr. Geiger reports that a pair of triangle shears are missing.

Montsdeoca received injuries and was removed to the hospital.

State Highway Patrolman, Johnny Hicks investigated the accident, and reports he is waiting for the driver to leave the hospital before placing charges. The accident happened right after a shower and the paving was wet and made driving hazardous.

Free Booklet On Story of "Our Flag"

Once again the Marine Corps Recruiting Service in Florida is offering free copies of "Our Flag," a 30-page colorfully illustrated booklet on the history, care, and customs of the National Colors.

Capt. J. J. Reardon, State Marine recruiting officer, in making the announcement, said that since Flag Day, 1949, over 5,000 copies of the booklet have been presented to organizations and individuals who wished to learn more about the Stars and Stripes.

Beginning with a discussion of such early American flags as the Moultrie Flag and the Rattlesnake Flag, the booklet follows the progress of Old Glory up to the present 13 stripes and 48 stars.

Detailed rules on the proper methods of displaying the flag are given, and approved flag customs are explained. An interesting sidelight is given in the parallel between the history of the Stars and Stripes and the history of the U. S. Marine Corps.

Copies of "Our Flag" may be obtained without cost, by writing the Marine Corps Recruiting Station, Post Office Building in Jacksonville, Miami, Ocala, Orlando or Tampa.

'TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

In 1947 Governor Caldwell appointed a Florida Resources-Use Education Committee composed of representatives of state and federal agencies and institutions concerned with the use of human and natural resources.

In his original letter of appointment to members of the committee Caldwell explained the purpose of the committee in the following words:

"This committee is to help implement the growing conviction among the people of Florida and their leaders that a permanent high level of living in this state can be insured only if we give careful attention to the wise use of our human and natural resources. It is apparent for example, that we cannot afford to continue to have more forest fires per year than any other state in the nation; nor can we longer ignore the conservation problem growing out of the misuse of such resources as water, soil, fish and game.

"Briefly then, the chief purpose of the Florida Resources Use Education Committee is to hep further the educational process basic to a sound conservation program by pooling, coordinating, and increasing educational efforts of agencies and institutions already engaged in resources use education."

Last week the committee met in Tampa and it was my privilege to sit in on their conference. The men and women composing it are officials of such agencies as the State Board of Forestry, State Fish and Game Commission, State Board of Health, Soil Improvement Commission and others.

While subject to political pressure and control, these folks were not themselves politicians. Rather, they were technicians thoroughly familiar with some specific resource, sincere and anxious to do a job for the state and its people.

It was apparent from their discussions that they have not found it easy to aquaint the public with what they are doing or gain sympathetic cooperation and support from the man on the street.

Probably one reason for this has been their inability to talk the language of the man on the street and tell their story in a simple understandable manner. College professors and scientists often try to talk to the layman in the same terms and language they employ in talking with each other.

For example, our Forestry Department, to succeed in its effect to conserve and replenish the state's timber supply must have the sympathy, cooperation and understanding of the small farmer, the cattleman and the average citizen.

The word "forest" while proper in a technical sense, does not convey the meaning it should to the small farmer or city dweller. The farmer calls a few acres of virgin timber a "wood lot"—the city man goes hunting in the "woods." The public mind thinks of a forest as a vast acreage or reserve. Most of the destructive fires that annually destroy millions of dollars worth of valuable timber start in the woods or brush in an area the public would never think of as "forest" land.

When we talk of a "coordinator" who is engaged in "implementing" a program and state that conservation is on the agenda, we are talking over the heads of the average Joe. Maybe if we explained that the old conservation team had a new manager who called the boys together to find out how come they were making so many errors and was preparing to whip 'em into shape for the season, the man on the street would understand.

But speaking of conservation. It might be a bright idea to go down into the heart of the Everglades and get us an old Seminole tribesman and put him in charge of our conservation program. The Indian has learned more about conservation than the white man will ever know. For centuries, the Indian has depended on such national resources as forests, fish and game and water for his livelihood. From childhood he has been taught not to kill any more game than he acutally needs for food. He observes no closed season but he wastes no food. The same goes for his fishing. He learned the importance of putting out a camp fire a long time ago and you don't catch him throwing lighted matches or cigarette butts around to set his playhouse on fire. He knows the value of water and won't do anything to contaminate it. He may not have any college degrees, and signs his name with an "X" but, brother, he knows the real value of natural resources and how to preserve them.

HIGH SCHOOL POW-WOW

By PAT LAGONI

After this week the doors of A. P. H. S. will close for another summer vacation. Of course, the students will be back for their report cards and the seniors will return for their diplomas but their books and lockers will be closed on Friday, the 2nd.

Some are happy, while others mostly seniors, are sad, but the memories of another pleasant school year will stick with them for life, no matter where they go.

This coming Sunday the class of '50 will don those long-awaited caps and gowns for the first time for the Baccalaureate sermon, which will be presented by Rev. Garrett of the Methodist Church, in the high school auditorium.

Tuesday, the 6th, at 9:30, the seniors will be honored at a breakfast given by the Parent Teachers Association. That night the class will, history and prophecy will be acted out at the tradition Class Night Program. Richard Landress is in charge of the program and should be ready with a few songs. Right, Dick?

It's somewhat backward to present the events to come before those that have already taken place, but, nevertheless, here goes:

The Red Devils made their way to the finals of the district tournament here last week, but suffered defeat at the hands of the Winter Haven "Blue Devils" by a score of 5 to 1. The Devils defeated Turkey Creek in the semi-finals and Winter Haven got to the finals by downing the Bartow nine. The State Class B tournament will be held here starting June 13.

Tuesday, the 30th, A. P. H. S. students "took life easy" since it was Memorial Day and a holiday at the schools.

Last week's chapel program was rather "mixed-up". The Model Airplane Club was in charge and ordered a film to show. After skimming through the list of available films they selected "Flying South", but when it arrived they found out that it was about ducks, not airplanes. So Reverends Bennie Skinner, Robert Liner and George Liner were called to the rescue, and led the students in a devotional.

Congratulations to Virginia Norris, who recently received word that she has been awarded the Lewis scholarship for preparation of teachers. Virginia will attend the Florida State University in Tallahassee.

So end the activities of another school year. Many thanks to the SUN for the opportunity of chatting with you about the doings at A. P. H. S. through the Pow Wow columns.

Let's Consider Birds

By The Bird Woman

Birds have a strong appeal to the interest and affection of mankind, not only their graceful form and wide range of coloring and shading but also their sprightly actions and antics, and the pleasure one derives from their songs and calls—these create a combination that few can disregard.

But these are not the most important claims upon our esteem for them, for we have learned to realize and evaluate their great economic value, which tends to endear them to us even more.

Not enough people realize that birds feed upon practically every insect pest, even those that become such a burden to us, and they are a potent factor in the check of the great tide of insect life that seems destined to engulf us.

Floride could and should be called a "Bird Paradise" without much expense or effort on our part, if we would use a little thoughtfulness and safeguard them from their natural enemies. Not the least of these is the boy with a gun or sling-shot.

More than 800 of the North American species have been observed either in our state or in the numerous rivers, lakes, ponds, marshes and tidal lagoons.

Nowhere else north of the Caribean Sea are found such popular rookeries of pelicans, water turkey, egrets, heron and ibis. Each of these, along with our song birds and game birds, have a place and a purpose in the eternal scheme of balance in this world.

We should ponder thoughtfully on the fact that as civilization invades the haunts of these beautiful creatures they immediately begin to diminish.

Laws are enacted to protect various species when it becomes apparent that they are becoming extinct.

But there is something wrong with human nature when we fail to realize what a great part the birds play in the Great Creator's plan. Birds were placed in this world before man and consequently have the priority of possession. In the beginning of the world there was the proper number of birds to take care of the insects and hold them in check for their food, but when man came along in all his wisdom, he grew careless and allowed the birds to be slaughtered; consequently, we have brought upon ourselves this scourge of insects, according to scientists, who tell us that even a lazy bird will eat several times its weight in insects daily if uninterrupted.

We are striving to establish a "Bird Sanctuary" in Avon Park, and we are hoping for the cooperation of every man, woman and child.

Birds are very interesting to watch and study and we send out a special appeal to the children to help us in this great movement.

We hope to see bird baths, feeders and nesting boxes in the yard of every home in this locality.

Let's take the protection of birds seriously and let Avon Park be known as a bird center, where birds are adequately protected, and they will repay us a hundred fold.

I REMEMBER...

By THE OLD-TIMERS

From R. O. (Dick) Helwig: "I remember when kids used to gather in front of the house after a wedding and serenade the new bride and groom with discordant noises made with kettles, tin horns, etc., until the groom would toss out a handful of pennies. This was supposed to bring good luck. Sometimes the pennies were red hot and couldn't be picked up for a long time. This ceremony was called a shivari, spelled it as it was pronounced. Through the years we learned that the correct spelling is charivari, when means a mock serenade."

From Henry H. Vocke: "When a new building was under construction the plasterers would mix the lump lime in a big box and soak it with water overnight to dissolve the lumps. They always covered the mixture with a layer of sand. Many a time I got pushed in."

Brazil, Here We Come

By HELEN LANGWORTHY

"ISN'T IT just too wonderful?" Jean breathed. She looked the picture of complete young happiness sitting across the dinner table from her family making plans with Petey for their South American honeymoon.

Doris Walters looked at her daughter's smiling face and murmured, "But Jean, don't you remember you were going to college? After all, you're only 17!"

"What if!" Jean turned up an impudent nose at her mother. "We don't need college, do we, Petey?"

"Not you and I—in Brazil," Petey answered. His hand closed over Jean's.

Jean's father spoke for the first time since the news explosion. "Are you doing to fly to Brazil?" he asked, lazily.

"We're going on a cattle boat. I've made inquiries and we'll leave New York four weeks from today."

"Nope." Petey unrolled their plans. "We're going on a cattle boat. I've made inquiries and we'll leave New York four weeks from today."

"A slow cattle boat! It's so romantic!" Jean leaned forward to flash a bright smile at them.

Jean and Petey had barely climbed in Petey's jalopy before Doris Walters turned to her husband with outflung hands.

"What will we do to stop them?" She practically implored it.

For answer Mr. Walters laughed. He roared with laughter.

"I don't see anything funny about it, our baby, marrying at 17 . . ." Doris choked on the words.

"Don't go dramatic on me," Mr. Walters said still chuckling. "A cattle boat — romantic! Wait 'til Jean gets one whiff!"

"You didn't say a solitary thing to stop them," Doris protested.

"I know Jean too well, Mr. Walters took the last piece of cake from the plate. "Tie her up, chain her, put her in prison and Jean would bust the walls to marry Petey."

Doris began washing the dishes with considerable noise. "But what will we do!"

"I'd be willing to bet my life something will stop them," Mr. Walters answered reaching for a dill pickle.

"Then you've a plan?" Doris was eager.

"Not the ghost of an idea!" Mr. Walter's tone was finality itself. "Just a hunch."

"You might write a story," Mr. Walters suggested quietly.

Doris dropped a pan noisily. She has written stories for years and somehow managed to clarify some of Jean's behavior problems in the past with the stories she had "happened" to write. But this situation was beyond stories.

As the days became weeks, Doris admitted herself stumped.

Mr. Walters no longer laughed. Doris didn't know whether it made her feel better or worse to see him aware of the situation.

"I still say you could write a story, he said finally.

All right. I will." Doris said, tight lipped. So that was the stuff he based his hunches on.

She put her heart into that yarn. Since it wouldn't do to have the situation entirely parallel, Doris built hers around a young fellow taking a cattle boat to Guatemala. Doris poured over her dictionary for words to describe how smelly, how dirty and agonizingly slow that boat travelled. She concentrated on synonyms of smelly. It was quite a tale.

Very casually Doris left the yarn where Jean would see it. Perhaps—! Jean sandwiched the story between telephone calls to Petey and fittings for her — heaven forbid! — going-away suit.

Afterwards Jean sat very still, her eyes gone glassy. Her comment was a wry, "That wasn't exactly a dream boat."

Petey called then and wanted Jean to go with him down to the drug store for a hamburger. Shades of Whimpy! "I—I don't think I could eat a hamburger," Jean protested.

Doris smiled grimly to herself. It might work.

Petey spoiled it all. He drove up in his new convertible carrying a sack of do-nuts. Petey and food! There was a new man with him. Doris craned her neck for a quick look as eagerly as Jean had before the new era happened. A new hope was already forming in Doris' mind. New man, a new thrill, would it, could it help?

Petey introduced the new boy around as Karl, his cousin.

Two days before the fateful day the hunch had not come off. Mr. Walter's usual grin was wearing a little thin on the corners. Doris was preparing dinner for Jean, Karl and Petey.

When the meal was ready, Doris whispered an angry "Your hunch!" to Jean's father as he went to call the young people. A moment later he was straightening Petey's tie, flicking imaginary dust from Petey's shoulder. Why this great show of palsy-walsy business, Doris wondered.

She was still tossing at midnight when Jean crept upstairs and whispered, "Moth-er," plaintively. There was a quiet urgency in Jean's tone.

Doris hurried down stairs, went to the refrigerator to make cocoa. Something had happened, she knew, it was going to take time for Jean to tell it.

Finally, she said it in a rush of words, "It's all off—Petey and me."

Doris wanted to laugh, dance, clap that it had come about. Jean's woebegone face warned her in time.

"It was this," Jean held out a very rumpled handkerchief to her mother. It was Petey's and in one corner were two very exact lip prints. They were small, the color a vivid scarlet and somehow suggestive of a petite dark cutie.

"It wouldn't be so bad if he told me about her," Jean swallowed. "But he insisted he doesn't know."

Doris picked up the tattle tale evidence for further inspection. Jean yawned and seemed to look far into the future. "I'm going to the show with Karl tomorrow. Isn't he smooth?" she asked. "Did you notice him looking at me all the time!"

Then Doris saw something that made her eyes widen. It was a laundry mark on the handkerchief. The name was "Walters." She remembered then; his chummy fussing over Petey before the meal. He had planted his hunch well.

Jean started up the stairs humming a dance tune. "Don't lose that hank," she called back. "I'll put it with my souvenirs."

"O. K." Doris called to her. She knew that before morning she would have "lost" the handkerchief, however.

"I just can't wait 'til tomorrow night," Jean's voice floated down.

Winter Haven Wins District Title

By LESLIE LAFLAM

The Winter Haven Blue Devils defeated Avon Park's Red Devils 5-1 in the finals of the District Six Baseball Tournament which was held at Head Field here Thursday and Friday of last week. Winter Haven skunked Bartow 4-0 to enter the finals and this game was the dilly of the tournament. Homar DeVane, Winter Haven hurler fanned 16 and thereby set a new record for the Tournament. The most struck out in any one game in either the Ridge or District Tourney was 14 by Wes McKinnie of Lake Placid in the opener of the Ridge Tourney.

Sebring's Blue Streaks, 1950 Ridge Conference Champs went to Bartow last Tuesday, May 23, to play Turkey Creek's Gobblers to decide the fourth spot in the tourney. The Gobblers promptly ousted the Sebringites 3-0. Hicks the Turkey Creek hurler kept the Sebring hits well scattered and held the Streaks away from the plate all during the game.

Turkey Creek went down to defeat before Avon Park's Red Devils in the tourney opener Thursday night at 6 P. M. The Gobblers used the same pitcher and he was tagged with the loss. The Devils used their bunting antics on the Gobblers and Ralph Hill held Turkey Creek to 5 scattered hits and the result was a 3-0 shutout for Avon Park.

The umpires for the Tournament were William Phebus of Bartow and Forrest Howard of Sebring and they both did a very fine job.

Eastern and National airlines last Monday asked the Civil Aeronautics Board at Washington for permission to again offer summer excursion fares between eastern and northern points and Florida.

DAIRYING ON INCREASE IN FLORIDA

Seventy-eight million gallons of milk were produced in Florida last year, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday.

This week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division presents official statistical information on the State's dairy business in recognition of June, Dairy Month.

The number of dairy cows producing milk in Florida last year stood at 157,000, seven thousand more than in 1948. Although milk production was three million gallons over 1948, the demand in the state was not met. During the year 520,538 gallons of fluid milk were imported. This total, however, was 36 percent less than the 1948 figure indicating a greater degree of self sufficiency of Florida dairies in this respect. "Forty-per cent cream" imported into Florida reached 1,627,588 gallons in 1949, eleven percent below 1948.

A small amount of cottage cheese is made in Florida each year and last year 2,301,507 lbs. were brought in from other regions.

Ice cream and other frozen desserts are the chief manufactured dairy products produced in the State. The volume of ice cream alone made in 307 Florida plants was about 8,500,000 gallons last year.

Through the combined efforts of the dairy industry and state and federal agricultural agencies, Florida is more nearly supplying its own needs. Yet a greater variety of products manufactured from milk could well be used in the State.

A total of $3,910,878.88 was collected in revenue for the State of Florida during the 1950 Hialeah horse race meeting. Hialeah is Florida's largest source of racing taxes, and since the legalization of pari-mutuels in 1932, has contributed $32,247,793 in state revenue.

Health TOPICS

Presented by your Doctor of Medicine as a Health Service of the Florida Medical Association and your Local Medical Society.

HEART DISEASE

Many disorders involving the heart and blood vessels are covered by the term "heart disease." Together, they account for one-third of all deaths. Whether or not heart disease is curbed depends largely upon the willingness of every individual to take two essential precautions: (1) Have a periodic health examination by a qualified physician and (2) Be scrupulous in following your doctor's instructions for protecting your heart.

The five principal causes of heart disease are high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, rheumatic fever, syphilis, and overactivity of the thyroid gland. Lesser causes include congenital defects, severe anemia, chronic asthma and other long-standing lung diseases, and injuries and deformities of the chest.

Nervous or emotionally disturbed persons sometimes develop symptoms of heart disease although examination shows their hearts to be organically sound. On the other hand, many persons who consider themselves to be in perfect health are drawing upon the reserve power of a damaged heart. The heart's reserve power is so great that it can work at an accelerated pace for some time. Only when the reserve is approaching exhaustion does the patient experience some of the typical symptoms often associated with heart disease such as shortness of breath, pain over the heart or breast bone, swollen ankles, consciousness of heavy, uneven heart beats.

In adults, heart involvement may first manifest itself with symptoms which may be thought of as indigestion, pain or discomfort at the lower end of the breast bone. It is desirable of course, to try to prevent these symptoms from developing. In some cases, treatment can be given to remove the cause; in others, prompt treatment will prevent further impairment. Your doctor, not your feelings, must be relied upon to tell you whether you have heart disease.

OF INTEREST TO TAXPAYERS

Tallahassee — Leon County circuit court is asked to determine whether cities and towns must reduce their 1950 taxes 50 percent for the entire year, to get state cigarette tax benefits, or whether it should be on an eight-month basis. Coral Gables has contended that their taxpayers are entitled only to eight months of tax savings, since the law didn't go into effect until four months after the start of their fiscal year. Comptroller C. M. Gay says the law declares a whole year's tax receipts must be taken into account.

During 1949, 1,056 young men and women from the seven southeastern states were selected for enlistment in the regular Marine Corps.

MRS. SAM F. LONGBOTTOM, JR.

Miss Marian Laverne Cross And Sam F. Longbottom, Jr., Married

Flame-tipped cathedral tapers lighted an altar banked with commodore fern, tropical palms and center arrangement of white gladioli and stock at the Seventh and James Baptist Church in Waco, Texas, on Friday night, May 26, when Miss Marian Leverne Cross became the bride of Samuel F. Longbottom, Jr. Dr. W. W. Melton performed the double-ring ceremony.

Mr. Longbottom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Longbottom, Sr., of Avon Park.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marrero Cross of Waco, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of imported white net over white satin, fashioned along colonial lines, with a ruffled, off-shoulder neckline. The full shirred skirt, worn over hoops, with an inset of rose-point Chantilly lace at the bottom, was fitted to a long, tight basque, and extended into a short train. Her finger-tip veil of imported bridal illusion with lace roses appliqued at different points was caught to a matching Chantilly lace coronet embroidered with seed pearls. Long lace mitts tapered to points over her hands.

Miss Lynn Longbottom, sister of the groom, was her maid of honor, and the bride's cousin, Mrs. Clyde McCauley was matron of honor.

The bridesmaids wore identical hooped gowns in pastel shades of pink and blue net over taffeta, with matching bonnet.

Mr. Longbottom was attended by his father as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, the parents of the bride held a reception in the drawing room of the Baylor Building at Baylor University. The bride's table was covered with white satin and centered by a lace fan encircled with small gardenias and maiden hair fern. The three-tiered wedding cake was embossed with roses and wedding bells.

After the wedding trip, the bridal couple will be at home in Waco, where they will continue their studies at Baylor University this summer.

Among the out-of-town guests from Florida were Mrs. Robert L. Longbottom and Miss Eunice Wills.

Mr. and Mrs. Longbottom, Sr., were hosts for the rehearsal dinner Thursday evening, May, 25.

The cucumber, which was brought into the newspaper office by Mr. T. A. Hutchison, was green and firm and fit for the table, not yellowed and gone to seed as one might expect of such a whopper.

Mr. Hutchison also reported that he and his brothers shipped 60 bushels of cukes to the north last week. The Hutchisons own about 40 acres, on which they raise vegetables and cattle.

For perfect summer relaxation: an easy chair, a cool drink. And a lively novel from our library.

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

The Weeping Christ

By L. S. HUFF, Nazarene Church

Text: "He beheld the city, and wept over it." Luke 9 41

Jeremiah might have been the weeping prophet, but Jesus was touched even on the occasion of His most triumphant procession on earth with a sense of sadness. Entry into Jerusalem was not merely an hour of glee and singing of loud hosannas for Him but of sorrow. We, as He, should weep because of lost privileges.

Jerusalem, once the crown of the religious world, now fallen, and the numerous hearts of whose divine privileges once were great, now are forsaken by God and man. It should break up the fountain of every preacher and Christian to see privileges lost and gone forever.

Jerusalem, in the sight of the Master, might have its welcome committee ready to act for Him, but beneath the garb of its religious leaders was hidden the dagger with which He was to be stabbed. They were lost, and hence the Master wept.

Around us the world is lost, but our tears cannot or do not flow. Sin abounds in all its iniquitous byways. Everywhere are broken hearts, homes wrecked, and characters blighted because of the sins of the lost.

The Master wept because Jerusalem would not weep. They did not conceive of their danger, their lost condition, and it took the tears of another to awaken them to their danger. These tears made possible His sacrifice, even His death. A heart touched with sympathy gave strength to face the cross and all it meant.

So with the minister today, only love will awaken tears in the souls of the unsaved. Weep over their sins, weep true tears of sympathy and hope for them.

The one great tragedy in the Christian Church is that men cannot even weep over the erring, weep with the seeking sinner, weep with the glorious discoveries of the grace of God.

Books do win friends and influence people.

BON VOYAGE

A SHORT-SHORT STORY

By HARRY C. TROVER

THE WIND had whistled down the eaves of the house all through a sleepless night, and now Monty buttoned the slit in the back of his topcoat against it before he stepped out into the winter afternoon.

Buttoned, gloved and muffed he took his hand from the door to make a last minute inspection of the living and dining rooms that opened from the hallway. He had seen Brenda do this same thing more times than he could remember. All set to go, and then the final look-about to see that every tastefully selected period piece was in the place that did the most for itself and the room it was in. Everything was in order. Each piece pleasantly complemented its companions, and with good reason. The house had been furnished piecemeal with such long waits between purchases that by the time Brenda could afford the next item on her list she was absolutely certain what she wanted.

It didn't seem possible that it had happened to them. No matter how desperately he tried to bring the events of the past few days into focus so that he could inspect them separately and together for the meaning behind it all, he always came back to the same impasse. It didn't seem possible . . .

Downtown the streets were filled from show window to curb with shoppers, of whom Monty was completely oblivious except as they made the careless infractions on his person that are not considered familiar or rude in a crowded public place. He welcomed the rush of warm air that brushed the cold bite off his cheeks as he stepped into the lush interior of a smart dress shop.

An impeccably groomed saleswoman approached him from the opposite side of her pince-nez eye wear to ask if she could be of help. When he told her that he wanted a dress for afternoon wear, she led the way to a set of French doors over which was inscribed in characters reminiscent of an old Dore print, "The Chateau." Plaster mannequins posed about the room in various stages of dress and undress. How Brenda's eyes would have fluttered wide open at this sight! She always had wanted something from this store, but since the prices were slanted toward the Gold Coast trade the projected shopping trip had never progressed beyond the stage of wishful thinking.

Although her band box appearance was one of the links in the chain that eventually bound him to her, his first glimpse of Brenda had been so fleeting that he could not have said whether she was dressed well or in glaring bad taste. How does it happen that in a crowd of people where not one face is familiar to another, two persons will match eyes and for one swift moment the relationship is almost as intimate as an embrace?

Often that encounter is both the beginning and the end. But sometimes, as in the case of Brenda and Monty, there is destiny in that brief exchange. Their eyes had met for just a second as they moved with the crowd into the street in front of Orchestra Hall, and then each was lost to the other until the next week when both of them had come back to hear the second in a four-week series of concerts.

After the program Monty paused to look over the notices of coming musical events, which was something he had never done before, and at the same time his eyes darted over the crowd, waiting for the kaleidoscope of faces to turn up the one he would recognize at a glance.

When the contact was made neither one said anything very novel, but with a mutual appreciation of music as a beginning they soon found they had other, more basic, interests in common. Although they would like to have been married right away, Monty was taking his civil service examinations at the time and he thought it best to wait until his job at the post office was secured.

The dress Monty finally selected, after carefully reconsidering several runners-up, was an interesting design called "The Comet." It was dark blue—almost black—an exquisite style with a shooting star emblazoned in silver sequins on the left shoulder with a trail of star dust in its wake. It was, he felt satisfied, a perfect union of balance and restraint.

From a selection of sheer nylons Monty chose the shade that Brenda always bought.

The saleslady asked if she could show him anything else. He quickly checked his mental list. One more purchase to make. Thanking her for her help, he walked out of the shop pulling on the hat which he had been holding in his hand. With the packages clamped firmly under his arm, he moved through the crowd for several blocks and then slipped into a less-trafficked street. He entered a neat and compact shop where summer flowers bloomed as radiantly as if it were June.

The florist brought out a large vase filled with full-blooded roses in graduated stages of bloom, and from them Monty was invited to make his choice. He put twenty-four carefully to one side, keeping in mind that they would be delivered tomorrow.

Tomorrow. As he thought about seeing her again after the first separation in almost ten years of married life he began to build the anticipated scene in his mind . . .

At the little writing desk he found a plain white card and a matching envelope. He wrote simply, "For Brenda. With love, Monty."

When he reached home again the murky grey of the winter afternoon had begun to gloam into dusk as the lights came on in the streets and the stars blinked on in the sky making him aware of the glitter of the snow under foot and the scrunch, scrunch of it as he put his weight forward. As he turned in at the walk he noticed that the outside lights were not burning. Always before when he came home after dark these two symbols were glowing as an advance greeting.

He walked to the desk and lighted the lamp. The picture came to life as the dark brown eyes caught his and held.

He turned to the window and opened the venetian blinds. Through the lattice of bare branches Monty looked at the stars scattered like diamonds on the black velvet night. It didn't seem possible that it had happened to them.

For the first time Monty was glad there were no children. It had all happened so swiftly that before there was time to make an adequate defense, the harmless little cold had become double pneumonia, and in a few days Brenda was gone. He watched a star leave its orbit with a flash of light and veer off into space. Very quietly he said, "Bon voyage, darling!"

The County Board Rejects Road Route

The Highlands County commissioners, by a split vote, Tuesday rejected the blazers' report that would have resulted in the condemnation of land owned by C. H. Alsmeyer, fish camp operator, to build a county road to Arbuckle Creek for commercial and sports fishermen.

Commissioners R. L. Stokes and M. H. Grice voted to accept the report. Commissioners A. J. Tubbs and A. C. McAulay voted against the motion to accept the report, thus causing a tie. Commission Chairman J. W. Schumacher broke the deadlock by voting against the motion.

The action was taken after County Attorney Keith Collyer read Attorney General Erwin's opinion that the board had the right to condemn land for a county road for fishing purposes, "if said road is for public welfare."

Alsmeyer has built a private road over his property to the creek. A toll is charged by him, with residents of Lorida excepted, it was stated.

Because of alledged lack of cooperation on the part of the State Road Department in the projected widening of Road 64 from Avon Park to the Highlands-Hardee County lines, the commission tabled a motion to submit a right-of-way contract and resolution pertaining to the extension of Road 66 from Lorida.

Stokes was the only commissioner to vote against tabling the motion.

It was charged that the Road Department had failed to deposit $72,000 in the registry of the circuit court within the 10-day limit after Circuit Judge D. O. Rogers had approved the appraisers' report in an order of taking land needed for right-of-way on Road 64.

The board agreed to pay Oakley Murphy and the Clinton Rutledge estate 5,000 each for Road 64 right-of-way. The properties were appraised at that sum.

R. D. Reddick, county service officer, submitted his resignation, effective June 30. He has served about 4 years. He plans to go into business in Avon Park.

The Sebring Veterans of Foreign Wars post recommended R. W. Gast to succeed Reddick, but no action was taken. It was understood that the board will receive applications for the post.

JACK QUINTIER SUFFERS 3RD DEGREE BURNS

Jack Quintier is recovering from 3rd degree burns acquired on Wednesday, May 31, when he was attempting to burn off some grass in order to make a lakeside beach. The grass was damp, and in order to make it blaze, he poured on it what he thought was kerosene. Unfortunately, the can contained gasoline, which exploded and burned his arms. The injuries are healing well, however, and he expects to be back at work the first of next week.

Avon Park To Have Softball League

After weeks of wishful anticipation, softball players' dreams will finally come true. Plans are now in full swing by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to light the softball diamond located at the east end of the football field. The softball diamond was one of the JC's projects last year; however, unfortunately they were unable to put the field under lights. They are picking up where they left off and are eagerly and conscientiously working toward that goal.

Six teams will participate and make up the city league. The six sponsors are—Junior Chamber of Commerce, Roscoe Skipper, Inc., Avon Park Firemen, Stimsons Gulf Station, Exchange Club and Mandis Stock Farm.

One representative from each team will compose the "City League Committee" and will meet Friday, June 9, 8:00 P. M. at the Florida Power Lounge Room. At this meeting the rules and regulations which will govern the league will be established for the coming softball season.

Rosters of the six teams are filling up fast so all you softball players better "get on the ball" and get your name on one of the rosters. All players' cooperation is solicited to help in this league organization, so pass along the word to your friends and neighbors—lets keep the ball rolling—"Lets Play Ball."

Annual Plant Exchange

The Annual Plant Exchange, sponsored by the Avon Park Garden Clubs, will be held in Donaldson Park, July 6.

This is a community project, a neighborly exchange of plants, cuttings and bulbs. So come and bring what you can spare from your yard and take home something you don't have to plant. If you have nothing to bring, come anyway, and take home cuttings, plants or bulbs to beautify your yard. These are all free.

Now is the time to separate chrysanthemums for fall blooming, so please pot up a few in cans for the Exchange. Your rooted cuttings and small plants will transplant better if you put them in cans now to bring to the Exchange later.

The Gangs All Here

C. E. Lanier, Ford dealer for Avon Park was host to the above gang of hungry youths and some not classified as youths at a delicious feed served in the customer's room of the Garage, Wednesday evening, May 31st. We were unable to identify all in the picture so you readers will just have to identify them.

The meeting was called for the purpose of organizing an American Legion Junior Baseball Club for Avon Park, and a great deal of enthusiasm was shown. It is now definitely known that a strong team will be formed. It is planned to play 16 games this season, 8 at home and 8 at Wauchula. All tournament games will be played at Wauchula.

The American Legion expresses its thanks to Mr. Lanier, Coach Carter, A. B. Wilhite, Demos Mandis, and all Civic organizations for making it possible to organize a Junior club.

R. E. Langford, chairman, has been busy contacting the business firms for financial help, and wishes to thank all for their cooperation.

41 APHS Graduates Given Diplomas Thursday Night

Closing Exercises Held Wednesday

Wednesday, June 7, was the final day of reckoning for Avon Park students, when the elementary, junior and senior high schools returned to school for their report cards. Most of the students met first in the auditorium, where they heard a short devotional by Rev. H. E. Graetz, in which he asked them to consider the picture each one presented to himself, to others, and to God.

Certificates were then presented by Mr. Vaughan Driggers, Elementary Principal, to the 69 graduates from the sixth grade into junior high. Mr. Julian E. Markham, County Superviser, addressed those who were going on into senior high, and Mr. A. B. Wilhite, principal, presented their certificates of graduation. There were 46.

Approximately 32 students received perfect attendance awards for the past year.

Achievement awards were as follows: Patricia Lagoni, best in typing, presented by Miss Harding; Judith Wright, best science student, presented by Mr. Matthews; Anna Vilkaitis, the Laum-Bausch Science Award to the senior with the best science record for four years, also presented by Mr. Matthews; Richard Beltz, best in mathematics, presented by Mrs. Shearer; Charlene Hart, best in home economics, presented by Mrs. Allen.

The American Legion and Legion Auxiliary awards for courage, honor, and scholarship, presented by Mr. Lenny Rush and Mrs. G. C. Fields, Sr., were: Thomas Jenkins, Alice Thomas; honorable mention, Jerry Childs and Joyce Thomas.

Mr. Fred Wild, County Superintendent, then addressed the assembly briefly.

Mr. Wilhite then spoke about the beginning of the summer program, and the drivers-training program, outlined elsewhere in this paper. He also announced that the teachers would be in the school through June 14, and that the school office would be open all summer, except for a short vacation period.

The students then went to their home rooms for their report cards.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my grateful appreciation to the many friends who visited me, and in one way or another so generously contributed to my comfort and well-being during my recent illness.

100 Mutual Members Attend District Six Meeting Here

Vandalism Still On The March Here

At about [illegible] last Saturday night [illegible] boys were seen [illegible] through a [illegible] window of the I. H. Ford M[illegible] Company [illegible]. Mr. F[illegible] was [illegible] called by the person who saw the boys from a distance and the police were notified at once. The boys were frightened away before gaining entrance and a description of the youths was given to the police but at the time of this writing no arrests have been made.

The Hilltop Restaurant was also broken in at an early hour on Friday morning of last week. The intruder gained entrance through a front window and left by the front door. This is thought to be the work of some bum passing through town. The Sheriff's office investigated and lifted some finger prints. Nothing was missing from the Hilltop, but the intruder evidently had time to enjoy some freshly baked ham before taking a hurried exit.

Avon Park Man Dies While Fishing

Joseph Ollie Meeks, 59 years old, and a resident of Avon Park for the past 17 years died of an acute heart attack while fishing in Alligator lake 3 miles south of town Saturday afternoon, June 3rd.

Mr. Meeks left home about 1:00 o'clock P. M. for an afternoon of fishing. When he failed to return that night, Mrs. Meeks became worried and sent a son-in-law, Alton Jones and two sons, H. B. and Billy to look for him. The trio called and received no answer while searching the lake shore. They then followed Mr. Meeks' dog which had been splashing in and out of the water, and found the body face down among reeds in two feet of water. They took the body home and then called law enforcement officers. The victim's watch had stopped at 1:52 P. M. indicating that was the approximate time of the heart attack. The body was found at 11:00 P. M.

Suspecting foul play from marks on the body, a coroners jury was impaneled and they were unable to reach a decision, and it was decided to send the body to Mills Patterson pathology laboratory at Tampa for an autopsy.

The jury met again Tuesday afternoon and Dr. H. W. Coleman gave a verbal report of the autopsy findings to the jury, that Mr. Meeks' death was due to an acute heart attack. He also stated that the laboratory reported that carniverous fish had caused the puncture wounds and perforations on the body, mainly on the face and neck.

Joseph Ollie Meeks was a veteran of World War I. Funeral services were conducted by the local Legion Post at 4:30 P. M. Tuesday afternoon at the Stephenson Funeral Home and interment was at Bouganvilla cemetery. Rev. Lawrence Collins of the Florida Avenue Baptist Church officiating.

Pallbearers were Demos Mandis, Lenny Rush, Will Bennett, Wiley Sauls, Sr., W. T. Connell and Hardy Shaw. Honorary pallbearers were: Grady Pate, Clifford Craft, Grady Campbell, Pete Boney, Vernon Waters, Duncan Palmer, Dick Langford and J. C. Wright.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Meeks is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Etta Blackwelder, of Frostproof; Mrs. Eva Mae Thompson, Mrs. Ophie Jones, Mrs. Rilla Thompson and Harriet Meeks, and another son James Meeks, all of Avon Park; his mother, Mrs. J. F. Meeks, of Hampton, Ga.; a sister, Mrs. Mary Bieling, Avon Park; six brothers and another sister, of Georgia and Alabama.

Is This You?

You were seen Wednesday afternoon (4:10) leaving the post-office wearing a white sunback dress, white sandals, and carrying a white drawstring bag. You are about 5 ft. 10 in. tall and have brown hair. If this is you, call at the Sun office or the Hilans boxoffice and receive two passes to see "The Eagle and the Hawk" at the Hilans Thursday and Friday.

It was estimated that 100 Citrus Mutual members from [illegible] counties were in attendance at the annual meeting for the purpose of [illegible] [illegible] District 6 [illegible] of the [illegible] Wednesday afternoon.

[illegible] Avon Park, W. S. [illegible] and [illegible] were [illegible] elected [illegible] of the State organization.

Jeff [illegible] of W[illegible] was elected chairman and E. Ray Wells, secretary of the meeting. Alden M. Drury, general manager of Florida Citrus Mutual presented his annual report, and stated "As of today, Mutual has identical contracts with 237 fresh fruit handlers. Canner and processor contracts, 58 in number, have likewise been secured since Sept. 1. This makes practically a 100 per cent sign-up of the State's canning facilities. Mutual also has signed contracts with 241 cash-buyers. In addition, we have secured contracts from some 500 other growers, making a grower-member total now on the books of 6,650, who produce approximately 84 per cent of the total State tonnage. Due to the changes in handler contracts mentioned above and the resultant signature by handlers and processors, Mutual now has under its control 92 per cent of the citrus fruit produced, owned and handled in Florida."

Other speakers were, A. V. Saurman, of Clearwater, president of Mutual, and Merton L. Corey, Marketing Councillor.

Through Mayor Chesterfield Smith, of Arcadia, the DeSoto County delegation recommended that directors be paid $10 per diem, citing that they devote considerable time and money in the interest of the organization.

The DeSoto County members also presented a resolution calling upon the state organization to change the bylaws, effective next year, to provide for staggered terms of one, two and three years for the directors. All directors now serve one year terms.

Both the recommendation and the resolution were approved by the District 6 members.

Counties in the district are Highlands, Hardee, DeSoto, Charlotte, Okeechobee, Glades, Collier, Sarasota, Lee Hendry and Monroe.

Baccalaureate Held Sunday Night June 4

"Dream, for tomorrow is built of dreams", was the advice given to the Avon Park High School graduating class by Rev. H. E. Garrett, First Methodist Church, in his Baccalaureate sermon delivered in the high school auditorium on Sunday, June 4, at 8:00 P. M. The theme of Mr. Garret's address was "To Have or to Be", stressing that young people must decide whether they will be content with having things, or whether they are more desirous of being worthwhile individuals.

The Baccalaureate Service opened with the entrance of the 41 candidates for graduation. The Processional, "March of the Nobles", was played by Mrs. V. W. Driggers and Mrs. J. B. Coen, Jr.

Rev. L. S. Huff, Church of the Nazarene, gave the invocation, whichh was followed by a vocal trio, composed of Lynn Longbottom, Joyce Thomas, and Laverne Purvis.

Rev. F. M. Butler, Church of the Redeemer, offered the prayer, and Rev. H. D. Graetz, Congregational Church, read the scripture.

Immediately preceding Mr. Garrett's sermon, Lynn Longbottom and E. D. Charpie sang a duet. Rev J. E. Pickens, Congregational minister in residence at Lake Byrd Lodge, pronounced the benediction. The Recessional, the priest's march from "Athalia", was also played by Mrs. Driggers and Mrs. Coen.

Patricia Smith and Lynn Longbottom were chief marhalls. Ushers were Jennie Bell Mann, Margaret Roan, Judith Writh, Gene Cruse, Harry Hood, Roberta Harris and Charles Collins. All are honor students.

Avon Park Sun
Sir:

I have lived in Avon Park for ten years and do not think there has been a cop in an alley in that time, let alone one who tries the front doors of the stores or even passes to peer in.

The Ware Furniture Company, while I was with them, was broken into twice. The second time, whoever broke in spent at least five hours with a sledge and a beetle mutilating the safe. People two blocks away heard the noise, but no soap.

April 29th last the B&B Grocery was broken into. Who discovered it? The manager the next morning. The Palms Restaurant was robbed. No clue. Quite a few other places in the last few years have been broken into.

Now, Mr. Citizen, don't you think it is high time we had a clock system for our night watchman on the beat to punch?

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

The Power of Revivals

By BOB LINER

Ezra 9:8
Psalm 13:3—"Consider and hear me, O Lord my God lighten mine eyes, lest I sleep the sleep of death."

Revivals are indispensable. Some say a continuous process of church activity will do it. That has never worked and never will. Without revivals Christians would sleep the greater part of the time and wake up once in a while, rub their eyes then go back to sleep.

Attempts to have revivals by education have been made but failed. Excited feelings are not religion if they do not raise one to a place where they can break with the carnal things and leave their soul free to obey God. Christians need revivals of religion to break the power of sin and of the world around them.

Then God can use them to move a world of sinners. David said, "Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me. Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation and uphold me with thy free spirit. Then will I teach transgressors thy ways and sinners shall be converted unto thee."

[illegible]

When Christians are finally aroused, sinners will be awakened and converted. The worst of sinners, softened and reclaimed are made to appear as lovely specimens of holiness.

The church will not do much real good without revivals. We may build a splendid new house of worship, line its seats with Damask, get an unconverted music set-up, make a big show, but no good comes of it. Unless Christians are revived themselves, the world will laugh at the church.

What is a revival? Some say a movement in the church, a meeting for the lost. A revival is a renewal of first love among Christians, and the awakening and conversion of sinners. It is something in a community that will arouse and quicken backslidden church members. A revival in the world will have to start in the church. We must renew the image of Christ in Christians. The most powerful action upon lost men is the looks and earnestness of the daily lives of Christians.

Some people talk of wanting the lost saved, but by their lives how can they expect it? If you have deep feelings and convictions you will arouse and produce it wherever you go. A Christ like wife is a daily sermon to a sinner husband. On the other hand an anxious person can spend the day with a Christian who is cold and light and their convictions are gone.

What is a revival? Some say a miracle. It is not a miracle. We say "pray down a Revival." You can't get a revival up, you have to pray it down. The truth is, it can be gotten up. That's the only [illegible]

What kind of revival do we need?

1. Revival of Bible teachings and preaching.
2. Revival that will set us on fire for God.
3. Of believing prayer for self and others, followed by work.

The amount of sincere work you do proves the amount of your faith. Work without faith is dead. Not works against faith, but faith producing work. The power of revival is in one's own heart.

Suggestions On Bird Houses

By The Bird Woman

I would like to answer a few questions that have been asked since my article last week. I am delighted that so many are interested and are starting active participation in this wonderful movement.

We do not know where the human family began to build nesting places for birds, but we do know that when the early colonists first came to America, they found that the more agriculturally-minded Indians had hung gourds on the limbs of bare trees to attract martins.

"Then the little Hiawatha Learned of every bird its language,
How they built their nests in summer,
Learned their name and all their secrets,
Where they hid themselves in winter,
Talked with them whene'er he met them,
Called them 'Hiawatha's chickens'."

A great many birds will build in boxes put up for them. Among those most familiar to us are: the bluebird, robin, house wren, mocking bird, purple martin, song sparrow, and mourning dove.

The mourning dove and ground robin frequently nest in secluded places in the ground.

There are a number of basic things to consider if we are really in earnest in attracting birds to our garden. There is a certain level that each species of birds selects to build its home and rear its fledgelings. It has been found that is is better to place the nesting box on a post or pole rather than in a tree, unless the tree is segregated from other trees or buildings, so that cats or squirrels cannot jump from them to the tree containing the nesting box.

Either way a "guard" — a cone-shaped piece of metal—should be placed around the tree or post for a safeguard, and high enough from the ground that it cannot be jumped over from the ground.

We must consider what types of birds we desire to attract, and build boxes accordingly. If we desire a variety of birds, we must make different types of boxes for each.

The openings should be near the top and the size to admit the birds we are trying to attract. If too small, they cannot enter, and if too large, they will admit birds of prey, and other enemies.

Birds the same size of bluebirds require an entrance 1½ in. in diameter, those the size of the house wren, one inch in diameter.

The robin is satisfied with one or more sides open. Robins, catbirds and brown thrashers have been known to nest on brackets or shelves erected for their convenience. Martins are gregarious and the builder may employ all her skill and ingenuity in planning apartment houses for these good helpers, who will not even scorn a cluster of gourds if properly prepared. Martins feed on the wing and it is well to place their apartments near an open space or adjacent to a pasture or clearing.

Rustic boxes are attractive to birds as well as the public. Anyone with a little imagination can make an endless number from wood or dead trees. Boxes are more attractive to birds when stained green or brown, more like their natural surroundings. Perches on nesting boxes are considered inadvisable, as they are of more assistance to their enemies than to the birds themselves. If dressed lumber is used it used it should be roughened on the inside, or cleats should be placed, so the young can reach the opening near the top.

Some birds enjoy thickets—the catbird, cardinal, robin and wood thrush are some of these.

If we want long-range planning, we should plant fruit-bearing trees and shrubs, as the mulberry and elderberry.

Some birds enjoy evergreens and arbor vitas or thorn shrubs as a retreat from their enemies.

1951 PLATE COLORS

Florida's 1951 automobile license plates will be green and white and will carry the slogan "Keep Florida Green", State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Arch Livingston reports.

Livingston said the slogan, urged by the state's forest industries, is part of a drive to arouse public interest against costly woods fires.

The slogan is also intended to remind residents of northern states that Florida is green all year' round.

"Reading opens the door to hours of amusement and entertainment."

I REMEMBER...

By THE OLD-TIMERS

From Ernest Kartje: "I remember the good times we youngsters used to have dancing the waltz, the two-step, the schottisch and the quadrille in the days before the fox-trot and jitterbugging."

From Robert H. Sedgwick: "I remember the tall-stemmed flowers that used to grow so abundantly in the prairies near our town before it grew up to be a big city. They were called Blue Bills or Shooting Stars. Whatever became of this species?"

From Henry H. Vecke: "I remember when kids from miles around would come into town on Sunday afternoon to see the old silent westerns, with Bill Hart, Francis X. Bushman and a guy called Billy who played either a sheriff or a bandit. Then there were such stars as Tommy Meighan, Ben Turpin, Charles Chaplin, the Gish sisters and Pearl White in the serials, 'The Perils of Pauline,' in which each episode always would end at the crucial moment and we had to wait a whole week to find out what would happen next. If you came in late you would receive a late check which was collected between performances and if we did not have a late check we would hide under the seats until the man was past us. After the show we went to an ice cream parlor nearby and bought a paper cone full of ice shaving saturated with some kind of sweet fruit syrup."

From Anon: "I remember when old-time photographers held your head steady with a vise when they took a tintype photograph."

"Reading enriches one's speech."

'TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

Arousing public interest in a project isn't easy. People for the most part are busy with their own affairs; they have become calloused to appeals and it takes time and consistent effort to sell an idea no matter how good it is.

In the early twenties when they began talking about a road across the Everglades from Ft. Myers to Miami it was termed "ridiculous". While everyone agreed it would be wonderful to have such a road, it was generally agreed that such a construction project would be so costly it was out of the question. Some folks were content to say it was "impossible" and let it go at that.

A few men with courage and vision kept right on pushing for such a road. To prove that you could drive cars across the 'Glades, they formed an organization of Tamiami Trail Blazers and starting from Ft. Myers with seven automobiles, they literally cut their way through cypress swamps, built corduroy roads, and after nearly a month arrived triumphantly in Miami. This venture captured the public imagination. The story of how this little band of pioneers had mastered the nation's "last frontier" made newspaper headlines from coast to coast. It gave new life to the Tamiami Trail project and within a few years it became a reality.

When old George Gandy suggested that a bridge be built across Tampa Bay to connect Tampa and St. Petersburg, folks said he was as nutty as an almond bar. But George didn't let that stop him, he kept plugging away and finally the bridge was built.

Down in Okeechobee a country editor is crusading for the construction of a road around Lake Okeechobee. He would build it on a road bed already prepared and contends that its construction would not be as costly as maintaining existing roads in the area today.

He sold the idea to Governor Warren and at the recent Governor's Day celebration in Okeechobee the Governor pledged his help in the building of this road, and knowing editor Ammon McClellan of the Okeechobee News as I do I'm confident he will keep working for this highway until it is finally built.

This rapidly growing lake area needs such a road and I concur with McClellan that the dyke around the lake offers a natural road bed far superior to the 'glades where road building is a real problem. In some places the muck is 30 feet deep and to attempt to provide a permanent rock base would cost a fortune.

As the state develops, a good permanent highway around the lake would pay for itself many times over for it would carry both cross-state and north and south traffic and present roads in the area are inadequate for the present day travel.

Tourists and visitors who have heard of Lake Okeechobee and drive by to see it are keenly disappointed when they tour the entire area and never see the lake. If a road were constructed on top of the levee it would become a valuable scenic drive. It goes without saying that the only permanent road that ever will be built around the lake will be built on top of these dykes, which are themselves above the level of damage by ground water, and provide a ready-made road bed far superior to any roads that could be constructed in the deep muck of the lower level.

Instead of constantly repairing these old roads in the muck, the lake area could solve its road problem as far as the lake is concerned by utilizing these dykes, and such a road would attract thousands of motorists and visitors who now shun the area because of the poor condition of present roads.

The state has already spent thousands and thousands of dollars trying to maintain roads down on the level of the terrain in that country which have been wavy and dangerous to travel. Often they are flooded over and washed out.

I understand that the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Board and the Army Engineers have reached a practical agreement whereby these levees can be designated as highway right-of-way. Now if the State Road Department would seriously consider an investment in a permanent lake shore highway built on the levee itself and stop throwing money down a rat hole in an effort to maintain muck-based roads that will never stand up, the whole state would benefit.

I am glad to see that Governor Warren has recognized the wisdom of such a course and has recommended it to his road department. While its construction may not be accomplished during his term of office, it at least could be started now and Warren Parkway wouldn't be a bad name for it.

Picnic areas could be provided at intervals and the entire highway planted and beautified.

Book donations are welcomed by our town library.

Health TOPICS

Presented by your Doctor of Medicine as a Health Service of the Florida Medical Association and your Local Medical Society.

SWIMMING

Swimming is one of the most healthful of sports. It exercises the body without overheating it. It develops strong, smooth muscles and good lung capacity. It can be enjoyed by well people, from childhood to old age.

People who are not well should have their doctor's permission before swimming. If you haven't had a medical check up for a year or more, why not have one before your vacation starts? Find out for sure just how much exercise and sun are good for you.

Before you swim in a river, lake, or swimming pool, make sure that the water is not polluted. Don't go into the water immediately after meals, or when tired from other exercise. Always come out before you get tired or chilly. A swim should leave you relaxed and comfortable. If it doesn't, you have stayed in the water too long. Take a shorter swim next time. Remaining in the water after you feel chilly lowers your resistance to infections such as colds, pnuemonia, sinus, or ear infections. Getting overtired is dangerous too. It puts a strain on your heart and blood vessels.

On a long swim have someone row along beside you, or go with another good swimmer. Be sure that you both know lifesaving methods. The most expert swimmer may drag you down if he gets a cramp. Rescue training will teach you how to avoid his clutches while you tow him to shore. Don't attempt a long swim the first few days of the season. Your swimming muscles have lost their strength through the winter.

Before diving in a new place, test the water for depth and hidden logs or rocks. Lakes and rivers change in depth according to rainfall. In salt water, there are high and low tides to consider when diving from a stationary platform. Find out for yourself if your dive should be a shallow one. Don't risk a broken neck.

If you have trouble with your sinuses or ears, give up diving and underwater swimming. Water in the nose washes away protective secretions that help prevent infection. It will soon become second nature to protect yourself against swimming accidents and illnesses.

A Pioneer Dies

W. L. Warren, Sr., 85, who died in Wauchula on June 1, was a man whose passing should be noted in Highlands County also. Some of the old-timers of the Ridge Section may remember him, although the original announcement of his death merely stated that he was a citrus grower and retired merchant who came to Wauchula from Geneva, Ala., in 1903

He was in the early days, the only furniture dealer and the only undertaker available for the residents of Avon Park and Sebring. He made numerous trips to Lake Byrd Lodge, then a private resort, to prepare for burial those winter guests who had been overtaken by death while there. It was a full day's journey then from Wauchula to Avon Park, for the roads were nothing but rutted, sandy tracks. Originally he travelled in a horse-drawn hearse Later, he had a car, which he did not mind driving straight across open country.

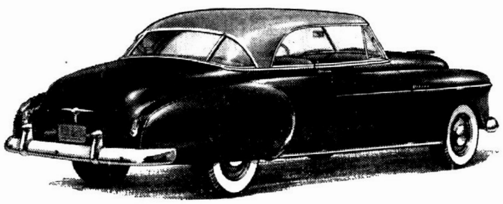
Mr. Warren sold the first furniture ever delivered to Sebring. Indeed, he sold and delivered that furniture in 1912 to the founder, George E. Sebring, before the town was actually in existance. At first, Mr Warren considered that the delivery of furniture to Sebring would be too difficult, but agreed to make the attempt when he learned that the bill would total what was then the very large sum of $2,000. He carted the furniture over by ox-team, arriving at night-fall. He camped for the night, with his goods, under a large tree in what is now the Circle. The tree is still standing.

Mr Warren was a member of the Baptist Church, having served as a deacon for 42 years.

Prior to coming to Florida he was in the Yukon gold rush. He brought back numerous entertaining tales, but little gold.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Ruth Warren; four sons, Kyrle, W. L., Jr., and Lex Warren, of Wauchula, and George Warren, Lakeland; five daughters, Mrs. R. L. Fisher, Mrs. Leslie Hord and Mrs. H. A. Strickland, Wauchula; Mrs. Frank Crews, Arcadia, and Mrs. Forrest Arnold, Brooksville; a brother, J. J. Warren, Wakulla, and two sisters, Mrs. Julius Rigden, Houston, Tex., and Mrs. J. T. Williams, Birmingham, Ala.

Now see the style-star of an all-star line . . . the new Chevrolet
Bel Air



It's the only car of its kind in the entire low-price field!

Here is the most beautiful Chevrolet ever built—here is the magnificent new Chevrolet Bel Air!

Here, for the first time in the low-price field, is a car that combines all the dash and jauntiness of a convertible with the comfort and safety of an all-steel body by Fisher. The new Chevrolet Bel Air combines fresh breath-taking beauty of design with all the traditional Chevrolet advantages . . . makes it possible for you to own the liveliest-looking, loveliest-looking car on the road!

But come in and find out all about the Bel Air for yourself . . . its low-lined, youthful silhouette . . . its wide side windows unobstructed by any post . . . the exceptionally generous vision from its sweeping rear window . . . its sparkling color harmonies . . . the rich blendings of its luxuriously appointed interior.

Report On Florida Conference Of Adventists

J. R. Young, pastor of the Walker Memorial Sanitarium Seventh-day Adventist Church, has just returned from the 46th session of the Florida Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, which convened at Forest Lake Academy, near Orlando. Approximately 5,000 delegates were elected for the ensuing two years. Plans were laid for a great advancement in the humanitarian program of the church. An enlarged program for the Dorcas Welfare societies of the church was adopted. Plans for Junior Camps for the youth were completed. These camps are carried on similarly to the work of the Boy and Girl Scout organizations. This program for the youths helps in the development of character and gives them a vision of a world in need and a Saviour who is calling them, which leads them to find their place in God's program.

The theme of this great conference was "Prepare To Meet Thy God, O Israel." Speaker after speaker challenged the great audiences to seek a deeper personal Christian experience that they might stand unswervingly for Christ in this tremendous hour. Seventh-day Adventists believe that they have a definite message for the world for this hour. From their very beginning they have proclaimed that conditions in the world would grow steadily worse, that wars would continue and increase in their destructiveness, until the culmination of all things in the return of Jesus Christ to this earth to end the reign of sin and to establish His kingdom of righteousness. Their message is based on the prophecies of the Holy Scriptures.

In this Conference session the Seventh-day Adventist church voted that an appeal be sent to Governor Warren, urging the elimination of gambling in the state. A portion of the letter, addressed to the Governor, reads as follows:

"The delegates assembled in the 46th session of the Florida Conference of Seventh-day Adventists hereby respectfully urge that State law enforcing agencies immediately be utilized in eliminating illegal and so-called legal gambling from within the boundaries of our State. We take this stand, not to interfere with governments in their just legislations, but because we recognize that gambling is one of the basest of evils and is a serious moral problem. Florida is a progressive State. Let us keep it progressive and keep it clean so that it will be a model for people everywhere. Eliminating gambling will be a major step toward keeping Florida attractive and decent for its residents. As delegates, representing Florida Adventist Churches, we commend those agencies already acting to stamp out this evil and we strongly urge that every effort be made to eliminate it completely."

Miss Alma Harrell left today, Friday, June 16, for Quitman, Ga., where she will visit relatives. Later, she will go to the mountains of North Carolina for the rest of the summer.

Avon Park Loses In Tourney Semi-Finals

By LESLIE LAFLAM

The Avon Park Red Devils fell apart in the State Class B Tournament at Head Field here Wednesday night to lose a one-sided game to the Fighting Eagles from Ft. Pierce High School. Morrell started off on the mound for Avon Park and was lifted in favor of Ralph Hill in the second frame after having given up 3 runs and two hits. Hill was not able to stop the Eagles as consistent bobbles by the Red Devils allowed the Eagles to score at will and the final score was 12-2. Bobby Whitcomb came into pitch for Avon Park in the 7th frame and gave up five runs. Errors by catcher Jenkins and shortstop Fields accounted for three Ft. Pierce runs.

The Ft Pierce Eagles and the Deland Bulldogs will fight it out for the State Class B Championship Thursday night at 8 P. M. Ft. Pierce will have to face Perrin, Bulldog hurler that was so effective in the opening day game against the Winter Haven Blue Devils.

The Tourney opened Tuesday morning at 10 A. M. with Gainesville's Purple Hurricanes winning over the Panthers from Jennings. Deland, behind the two hit pitching of Don Perrin blanked the heavily favored Winter Haven Blue Devils. Homar Devane on the mound for Winter Haven was not so effective as he was when Winter Haven played Avon Park in the finals of the District Six Tourney. Deland ousted them 5-0. At 4 P. M. Tuesday afternoon Ft. Pierce's Eagles won their initial game of the Tourney by whipping Fletcher High from Jacksonville Beach, 5-4. Avon Park won their only game of the Tourney Tuesday night at 8 P. M. by slipping a close 3-2 decision over the Cadets from Florida Military Acadamy.

Avon Park had a shutout going in the 7th and final frame, Ralph Hill worried the Avon Park fans by issuing two straight bases on balls. The next batter, Bob Adams, scared the fans by drilling a sharp single to center and the pair of runs galloped home. Hill regained his control and fanned the next batter. He then got the next two batters to go out via the fly out and strike route to end the game.

The other game that was played Wednesday found the Deland Bulldogs eliminating the Gainesville Hurricanes from the Tourney 7-4. The Bulldogs saved their ace finger for Thursday night and they evidently will have more than half a chance to take the Crown.

The only home run of the Tournament so far was when Fred Kendall, Ft. Pierce catcher cracked a 345 foot drive over the fence in Tuesday's game with Avon Park. There was one man on base when the fatal blow came.

PROWLER ENTERS AVON PARK HOME

The home of R. P. DeLaney, Jr., on South Highlands Ave., was entered by a Negro prowler about 2 A. M. Sunday.

Delaney, asleep in a room on the other side of the house, was awakened by the screams of his wife in a corner bedroom. He rushed in the room just as the Negro fled out the back door. A bed lamp was on in Mrs. Delaney's room when the prowler entered, and she saw the prowler well enough to see that he was a Negro.

Officers W. A. Roberts and E. O. Blanford summoned Deputy Sheriff Robert Barringer with his bloodhound, but the effort was fruitless, nothing was taken, and so far no suspects have been arrested.

ELDER BROS. STATION BROKEN INTO

Tuesday night, June 6, burglars gained entrance by breaking a rear window of the Elder Brothers filling station on West Main street and made away with 10 to 12 dollars worth of small change kept in a box. It is not known for sure as to whether anything else is missing. Alton Elder says the thieves evidently knew where to look for the money. No arrests have been made at this writing.

AVALON GRILL VICTIM OF NIGHT PROWLER

Mrs. L. E. Stewart, owner of the Avalon Grill reports that sometime Friday night of last week a thief or thieves removed a screen from a back window and gained entrance to the grill and stole a purse belonging to her granddaughter containing $3.00, an alarm clock and a jar of peanut butter. She reports that no other canned goods was taken.

LAWN UMBRELLAS STOLEN FROM HILLTOP

Sometime in the early hours of Friday morning June 9, thieves again visited the Hilltop drive-in and made off with the two umbrellas on the tables in the patio. The umbrellas were valued at $70.00. At this writing the thieves have not been apprehended.

A Communication

The Highlands County School Board refused last Friday afternoon to help the Jaycees in any way toward the lighting of a soft ball field for the use of the school and town teams. After it was definite that no member of the board would speak in favor of helping with the lighting it was asked that they replace the rotten poles on the football field, so there would be no danger of these poles blowing over and ruining the lighting system on the football field. Mrs. Waggaman made a motion to replace the poles that are hazardous, but the motion died for lack of a second. One member of the board said that the Board was not liable if a pole should blow over, and that it was the worry of the Athletic Association whether Avon Park had lights on their football field.

Florida Legion leaders met with Carroll in Jacksonville last weekend to set up machinery for a state-wide campaign which will be pressed through more than 250 state Legion posts. A speakers' bureau, printed material, press and radio releases and visual aids were authorized.

We have taken the initial steps to comply with this program."

Audit Hits Nepotism And Overspending

The following article by Jim Powell, Tampa Tribune staff writer was published in the Wednesday morning Tribune, and the Sun is publishing it in full as we feel the taxpayers of the County will be greatly interested in the same. The report for a county the size of Highlands is not bad, nor is it perfect, but as a whole we do think it shows that our officials are trying their best to do a conscientous job for the tax payers.

Editor of the Sun

Five relatives of a former Highlands County commissioner were employed in his commission district while he was in office, a recent state audit revealed.

The report was one of 13 audits surveying financial administration of Highlands County officials or boards and recently released by the auditing department. School budgets under the county board of public instruction were overspent during the last fiscal year in violation of minimum school foundation law, although the board's finances were "generally" found to be well managed.

The county commission audit also showed that the board, "through Commissioner M. H. Grice," paid over $2000 in rentals and repair to a garage for a dump truck abandoned to the garage by its former owner.

Five On Road Payroll

Reporting that former Commissioner Sol McClelland had five relatives on the payroll for road work in his district, the audit listed them to include two sons, Marshall and Joe McClelland; two brothers, Naan and Willie McClelland, and a nephew, Wayne McClelland. The commissioner's term expired Jan. 3, 1949.

The report cited state law that forbids any state or county officer from employing more than one relative kin within the fourth degree.

The audit said "two or more" of the five were working at the same time, in "clear violation" of state law.

Concerning the dump truck rental, the following account was given:

Report On Truck

"During the audit period, the board, through M. H. Grice, rented a dump truck from the Avon Park Motor Co. at the rate of $12 a day and also paid considerable bills on the rented truck, paying a total of $2173 for rental and repairs. The truck had been abandoned and apparently had not been operated for some time previously."

The auditor also said that Grice had paid to the board, for clay sold from a county pit, $84 that had been "withheld from the county."

Separate district bank accounts for commissioners were also criticized, as follows:

"The board continued to maintain separate bank accounts for each road district and a general road and bridge bank account.

Extra Work Caused

"The board ras no authority of law for maintaining these separate road district bank accounts and these accounts cause considerable extra work on the part of the bookkeeper in addition to overpersonalized and decentralized maintenance of the county roads."

A statute was cited that requires the roads and bridges in each district to be under the supervision of the entire board.

It was also found that the commission "failed to advertise for bids as required by (Florida statute) on the purchase of two clay pits during the audit period."

In addition, commissioners had collected mileage payments for inspecting roads in an unauthorized expenditure. The commissioners refunded the money.

Financial Condition "Fair"

A general statement on the board operation said: "The financial condition of the board was fair.

"Finances were fairly well managed and expenditures have been held within resources. Tax levies have decreased slightly over prior years. Budgets have been properly prepared, but individual items were overspent.

"Records were well kept. Depository balances were adequately secured."

The board membership changed in three instances during the au-

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

Love One Another

A Retired Methodist Pastor

1st Cor. 13th chapter, is the great love gem of Paul's writings in the church Epistles. Ask any minister of the Gospel what is the best way to build the church of our Lord, and he will at once say, "There is just one way, love them into the Kingdom."

The city of Corinth, to which Paul wrote the famous words of his thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians was built on a narrow isthmus. By stopping at Corinth and making a short trip overland, a long sail was saved. All ships took advantage of this fact, and the shipping lanes of the world crossed at Corinth. The streets were filled with sailors; the population was mostly immigrants. It was a wild and lusty city. People who live a wild and loose life were called "Corinthians". And yet to that city Paul wrote his famous love chapter. It was as if he said "You Christians at Corinth must love them into the Kingdom. No matter what you say, they will not listen. But they will understand Christlike life." So it is always. Love is ever the best proof of Christianity.

One of the great sins of Christians is the lack of love and respect for the other fellow's faith. Our experiences are varied, our crosses even more so, and we so often set ourselves up as judges of others, when God's word is plain that we must judge not, lest we be judged. Paul admonishes Christians that they shall not bite and devour one another.

Yet we find that we have changed very little since Paul's day. Many a good man or woman has found themselves at the cross roads of life, because of thoughtless words, hearsays, and wagging tongues, that so often ruin a good reputation, and turn a beautiful character into one of bitterness toward others, the loss of a great respect for the church, and more often the loss of their faith in God.

It takes a great faith, that anchors in Christ and holds, to weather the storms of persecution and sail through the troubled seas of gossip, and live in prayer for peaceful waters.

A good Christian layman gave me this poem years ago. I have very often used it to drive home some truth, so that it has become a blessing to others. I want to pass it on, in an even larger way, that we may love each other more, and emphasize in our lives the wonderful love gem of Corinthians.

NOT UNDERSTOOD

Not understood! We move along asunder,
Our paths grow wider as the seasons creep along the years,
We marvel and we wonder why
  life is life
An then we fall asleep-Not understood.

Not understood! We gather false impressions,
And hug them closer as the years go by,
Till virtues often seem to us
  transgressions,
And thus men rise and fall, and live and die, Not understood.

Not understood! Poor souls with stunted vision,
Oft measure giants by their narrow guage,
The poison'd shafts of falsehood and derision
Are oft impelled against those who mould the age-Not understood.

Not understood! How trifles often change us.
The thoughtless sentence and the fancied slight
Destroy long years of friendship and estrange us,
Whilst o'er our souls there falls a freezing blight-Not understood.

Not understood! The secret springs of action
Which lie beneath the surface and the show
Are disregarded; with self-satisfaction
We judge our neighbors and they often go-Not understood.

Not understood! How many hearts are aching
For lack of sympathy? Ah! day by day
How many cheerless, lonely hearts are breaking
How many noble spirits pass away-Not Understood.

Oh God! That men should see a little clearer,
And judge less harshly where they cannot see,
Oh God! That men would draw a little nearer to one another,
They'd be nearer Thee, and,-
  Understood.

4-H Club Girls Stage Annual Achievement Days

The ten 4-H Clubs throughout the county held their local annual Achievement Days during the month of May.

Parents and friends were invited to view the display of work that the girls had completed during the year. Refreshments of orange juice and cookies were served. The officers of each club acted as hostesses.

Prizes and ribbons were awarded to each girl that had an exhibit of her work. The banks of Avon Park and Sebring gave the money for the prizes again this year. The first prize was a blue ribbon and a silver bracelet with the 4-H emblem on it; the second, red ribbon and leather case with gold 4-H emblem, containing comb and nail file; the third, white ribbon and green and white plastic box with gold 4-H emblem to hold pins, needles and thimble. Each girl that had an exhibit was given a washable 4-H chevron.

The winners:

Avon Park—First, Shirley Moseley, Edith Hagan, Carolyn Scott, Betty Scott, Patricia Pollock and Janette Stimson; Second, Lee Ann Hamilton, Mary V. Mackintosh, Alyne Reed, Myrna Willis, Minnie Lou Cothran, Patricia Pickett, Betty Childers, Peggie Shields, Carolyn Scott, Nancy Ginn; Third, Mary Ann Nader, Betty Scott, Charlene Adkinson, Myra Hall, Lee Ann Hamilton and Carol Graetz.

Lake Placid—First, Diane Parsons, Jean Worley, Faye Hargrove and Elinor Oxer, Jackie Sue Kelly; Second, Sylvia Rucker, Nell Pandarvis, Naomi Ellis; Third, Diane Parsons, and Norma Ann Bates.

The county gave 4 girls a trip to Tallahassee to attend the State 4-H Short Course. Plans are being made to take 30 or 35 girls to the State 4-H Camp McQuarrie in the Ocala National Park for a week in July. Another year, it is hoped that we will be able to camp in the new 4-H State Camp here in our own Highlands County.

Since many of the club members attend camp or go away for the summer, the clubs do not meet, however, the clubs will be reorganized in September. The 4-H Club work for girls in this county is under the direction of Miss Catherine Brabson, Home Demonstration Agent.

1950-51 Fishing Licenses On Sale

Many Florida anglers will receive an additional 15 days of fresh water fishing if they buy their 1950-51 licenses by June 15, Director Coleman Newman, State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, said today.

The new licenses will be considered valid on and after June 15, thus providing an additional 15 days without the necessity of buying a 1949-50 license which would only be valid during the remainder of this month. The new license will expire on June 30, 1951.

County judges throughout the state already have started selling the new issue, Newman said. However, he pointed out, state wildlife officers will not honor the new license until June 15.

With a few minor exceptions, 1950-51 fishing regulations remain substantially the same as last season. The daily bag limit of 25 fish, including not more than 8 black bass, will be enforced. However, game fish once attached to a line or placed in a box cannot be thrown away or replaced by another fish, under a new ruling. This move was made to stop the practice of discarding a smaller fish after a larger one has been caught, the director explained. Another ruling, which has been in effect for a number of weeks permits fishermen to use up to three poles regardless of what county they are fishing in.

A three-year jail term and a fine of $1,000 may be levied by Florida's courts against those found guilty of starting woods fires.

Weekly Business Review

All government employees in Florida numbered 113,916 as of October first last year, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday.

A breakdown of this total number of employees is shown in this week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division as 30,626 federal, 25,285 State and 58,005 local employees of all types.

Nationally 40 persons out of every 1,000 Americans are employed by government at some level. The comparable Florida figure is 46 because of a greater proportion of State and local employees than is general throughout the nation.

Only twelve states, and no Southern state, outranked Florida's 33 State and local employees per 1,000 State residents.

Another breakdown showed 21 non-school and 12 school employees in State and local governments per 1,000 Floridians.

An increase of 6.7 per cent in State employees and 9.3 per cent in local government employees registered in October 1949 over the same month of 1948. Payrolls for that month last year show a gain of 11 per cent in State and 13 per cent in local government employees over October, 1948.

The total State-local payrolls in October of last year was $15,380,200. This payroll varies from month to month with the number of employees. The annual total is not yet available for 1949 but "will approximate $175,000,000", the State Chamber said.

REPORT OF FLA. STATE EMPLOYMENT SERVICE

A total of 1,235 persons in Florida were found to have obtained unemployment compensation benefits to which they were not entitled during the first four months of this year. Three-fourth of these claimants were found to have filed fraudulent claims. The remainder made improper claims due to misunderstanding.

William H. Anderson, Jr., Manager of the Winter Haven office of the Florida State Employment Service, reported there were nineteen such cases in this area during this period. All these claimants are required to repay the amounts improperly received and those guilty of misrepresentation are barred from further benefits for a period of one year.

Twenty-one unemployment compensation recipients in Florida were convicted of obtaining illegal payments during the first four months of 1950.

Penalties in connection with these convictions ranged from a $50 fine or 30 days in jail, to a 90 day jail sentence. At the end of April more than one hundred additional prosecutions were pending.

Some improper payments are caused by misunderstanding of claimants and failure to report all types of earnings including employment for which wages have not been received, domestic employment, odd jobs, farm work and self employment.

Principal methods for detecting such claims, Anderson explained, are the screening of wage reports submitted by employers as required by the Florida Unemployment Compensation Law, special audits of employer records in selected industries, and leads furnished by employers and the general public.

Reiterating the Commission's policy on irregular claims, Anderson said it was not the agency's desire to put people in jail, however, the agency does have a definite obligation to prevent and discourage the fraudulent claiming of benefits under this program.

SEABOARD COMPLETELY DIESEL OPERATED

The south Florida division of the Seaboard Air Line Railroad has become completely diesel operated. This is the first all-diesel division in the Seaboard system, Division Superintendent C. H. Loneberger, of Tampa, said.

In the past two months 62 diesel locomotives have taken the place of steam engines, at a total cost of $8,700,000 for the change. The last eight locomotives moved to Jacksonville last week, some to be scrapped and some to be used on other divisions.

Hereafter diesel locomotives will pull all passenger and freight trains and perform all yard switching service in the divisions, Loneberger said. The south Fla. division extends from Gainesville down the Florida West Coast through Tampa, St. Petersburg, Clearwater, Bradenton and Sarasota to Fort Meyers. Parts of Polk County's citrus and phosphate areas are also included.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

You know this state is getting so cluttered up with summer tourists that it is getting so a fellow has to stop and scratch his head trying to figure out what season of the year it is.

In the good old days we had just one season, the tourist season during the winter. It didn't last too long, we could cater to the Yankees a few months and make enough to enjoy ourselves for the rest of the year. We had all summer and most of the spring and fall to go fishing. We never had to worry about a place to park our car. If we wanted to rent a beach cottage or spend a few weeks at a swanky hotel we could get the finest accomodations at rock bottom prices. I remember when we could get a gorgeous room on the waterfront at Miami Beach for a dollar a day in summer. All the stores sold merchandise at bargain prices from May to December. Nobody worked very hard and didn't expect the other guy to. This was known as the dull season and Florida natives thoroughly enjoyed it.

Now all that has changed. Thanks to the publicity and advertising developed by the State Advertising Commission, the numerous attractions, the airlines, railroads and chambers of commerce we are messed up with tourists all year around.

Uncle John and Aunt Minnie never would have thought of a trip to Florida in the summer a few years ago, but now they are just as apt to bounce in on you bag and baggage in July as they are in January. Hotels, motels, tourist courts, and trailer camps stay full the year through. It is almost as hard to find a place to park in June as it is in February. If you happen to have a favorite fishing camp and expect to go there and get a boat you have to get up before daylight; if you don't, you'll find that the tourists got there ahead of you and you are out of luck if you can't walk on the water.

The big resort hotels that used to close for the summer now stay open all year. Beaches are so crowded with people that even the fiddler crabs are moving out. It is no fun passing a car on the road anymore, because it don't get you anywhere, there's always another car in front of you anyhow.

According to the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, Florida business and industry spent a record shattering $2,000,000 last year on summer advertising. And this year they are planning to spend an additional million.

G. T. Baker's National Airlines and Eddie Rickenbacker's Eastern Air Lines have found out how profitable summer air travel is and they are offerng package tours (all expense) transportation, hotel, meals, supper clubs, fishing and what have you at prices that appeal even to grocery clerks. They are offering a millionaire's vacation on a piggy bank budget. Now the summer visitor can enjoy a luxurious air flight to Fla., have a car waiting for him at the airport which he can drive for as low as $29 a week. Last year the airlines alone carried over 5,000 people to Florida during the summer months on excursion fares and this year with increased advertising and bargain vacation offers they will probably bring double that number.

To give you some idea of the amazing package offer now available to the summer vacationist, National Airlines offers a round trip to Miami from New York for $120.55; seven days at a top hotel, a visit to a swank night club, a sightseeing tour of the Greater Miami area and a deep sea fishing trip. You can't beat that and now that folks are beginning to find out how delightful Florida is in the summer, more and more are selecting this state for their summer vacation.

People used to have the idea that only a millionaire could afford a Florida vacation, but now sales girls, mechanics, farmers, clerks and just about anybody can enjoy a Florida vacation, a real deluxe vacation at that on the most modest budget.

Advertising is no longer slanted to the wealthy, everybody is appealed to through newspapers, magazines of general circulation and by direct mail. Industrial concerns find that groups of their employees will get together and plan a vacation trip and Florida is becoming more and more popular both summer and winter.

All this is swell, but as I said in the beginning, it sure is messing up our playhouse and instead of taking it easy all summer, if it keeps up we will find ourselves so busy all the year around we won't have time to enjoy Florida ourselves.

Forests provide the raw materials for countless products in modern living. It pays to prevent wildfires!

Advance Work Program Adopted At Parish Dinner

The members of the Church of the Redeemer at a parish dinner, Sunday night, voted unanimously to support the program of Advance Work and Evangelism adopted two weeks ago by the Vestry and the Executive Board of the Women's Auxiliary. Dr. Stuart J. Ward, Senior Warden of the parish, introduced the speakers at the dinner.

Father Butler spoke about the advance work of the entire Angelican Communion beginning with the Lambeth Conference in London in 1948, the General Convention of the Episcopal Church in San Francisco last year, and the Convention of the Diocese of South Florida at West Palm Beach in April of this year. The Diocese of South Florida is the fastest growing diocese of the Episcopal Church east of the Mississippi and it is planning to raise $330,000 during the next three years to build new missions, expand existing missions, establish a home for the aged and to build a chapel for Episcopal students at the University of Miami.

Mr. Harold Worden, chairman of the local Advance Work and Evangelism campaign, told about the diocesan program, and the needs of the Church of the Redeemer, which will seek to raise $6,000 during the three year campaign to support the diocesan program and to purchase a new organ for the church in Avon Park.

Mrs. G. Franklin Ward, vice-president of St. Margaret's Auxiliary told the congregation about the improvements needed in the parish house and spoke in behalf of the Auxiliary giving full support and cooperation. Mrs. Walter Betts presented the plans of the Bazaar Committee. The Bazaar will be held this year on November 30. Other speakers at the dinner were Mr. Herbert Todd and Mr. Walter Betts.

Niece of Perrys Is Married In North Carolina

Miss Jane Douglass Perry, of Ashville, N. C., the niece of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Perry, who has visited often in Avon Park, was married on Saturday, June 10. The following story is taken from the Ashville Citizen-Times:

Miss Jane Douglass Perry, daughter of Mrs. David Henry Perry and the late Mr. Perry of 176 Merrimon Avenue, became the bride of Richard David Hildebrand, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard David Hildebrand of Del Rio, Texas, formerly of Ashville, yesterday afternoon in Trinity Episcopal Church.

The Rev. John W. Tuton, rector, and the Rev. Alfred St. John Matthews, McLean, Va., uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony.

White gladiolus were used on the altar, and the chancel was banked with Oregon fern. Josef Privette, organist, presented the following program: "Ave Maria," "O Perfect Love," "The Lord's Prayer," and "Panis Angelicus." The traditional wedding marches were used.

Douglass Green Perry, Avon Park, Fla., uncle of the bride, gave her in marriage. She wore an ice blue satin dress made on princess lines with the yoke, sleeves and mitts of Chantilly lace. The full skirt had a short circular train and she wore a strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was attached to a tiara of satin and seed-pearls. The wedding ring used was worn by the bridegroom's great-grandmother. The bride carried a white satin prayer book covered with white gardenias, with a cascade of tuberoses on satin ribbon.

A reception followed at Sunnyside Inn for members of the families and out of town guests. Among those assisting was Mrs. Douglass Greene Perry, aunt of the bride.

The couple left by car for Eastern North Carolina. They will reside at 440 Beaucatcher Road, Chunn's Cove.

Mrs. Hildebrand attended St. Genevieve-of-the-Pines Academy, Lee Edwards High School, and was graduated from St. Genevieve College.

Mr. Hildebrand was graduated from The Citadel with a degree in civil engineering and is now connected with the Ashville Paving Company. He served two and a half years in the army.

The club regrets the resignation of Mrs. A. R. Martin, one of its most valuable members, who is moving to Miami.

Mrs. Walter Betts, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Harriet Stodden, who gave a splendid talk on "Insect Control". The following information will be of interest to the general public:

There are a number of Nicotine-copper combinations on the market that are effective in controlling sucking insects and they must be sprayed or dusted directly on the insects. Oil emulsion is sometimes used to control mealy bugs, red spider and white fly, but great care must be taken in its use. Oil should only be used when plants are dormant and on bright sunny days when it can dry rapidly.

We may apply tobacco dust on the ground around plants, to control worms and also fertilize the plants.

To dust or spray—Most of the chemicals used in pest control can be obtained in either dust or spray form so you may use the one that suits you best. Dust sticks better when applied to wet or damp foilage and to both sides of the leaves; however, dust containing nicotine should be applied only when the leaves are dry. Early morning or late evening is best for dusting.

Use DDT 50% mixed witn equal parts of flour.

Mr. Gene Gorman was one of several band directors attending a barbecue given in honor of Professor P. J. Gustat, retiring Sebring high school bandmaster, at Highlands' Hammock State Park last weekend.

A gift of $1200 in savings bonds was presented Prof. Gustat, and Mrs. Gustat received a leather handbag. Prof. Gustat, 70, was paid tribute bly several of the state's leading bandmasters. Among those honoring him, in addition to Mr. Gorman, were:

Col Harol Bachman, director of the University of Florida band; Fred McCall, director of the University of Miami band; Otto J. Kraushaar of Lake Wales, and E. L. Roberts of St. Petersburg.

Walker Memorial Thanks D. Mandis

The staff of the Walker Memorial Hospital wishes to express again their appreciation to Mr. Demos Mandis, who has made possible the installation of an emergency lighting system for the hospital. This gift came about as a result of proceeds received from the barbecue given for the 40 and 8 Club.

The remainder of this gift will be applied on the initial payment for new X-ray equipment for the hospital.

Pine Crest Owner To Be Here Year-Round

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wright have purchased from Cy Hyde of Boston the house on Lake Lotela commonly known as the "Old Ketchum House," and moved into it the week of June 4. They will be permanent residents of Avon Park, and the town welcomes them.

Mr. Wright is the sole owner of Pine Crest Lakes Club.

The Wrights have spent a good deal of time in Avon Park, and learned to like this locality so well that they have decided to be year-round residents. They have sold their summer home in Indiana, it is reported. About two years ago, they sold tneir winter home in Oak Park, Illinois, since they preferred to spend the winter months in milder regions.

Meeting Of Bridge Club

The Friday Bridge Club was entertained by Mrs. C. A. Clark last Friday afternoon, June 9, in the Customers Room of the Fla. Power Corp. Refreshments were served.

Those present were Mesdames Minnie Slack, Mabel Staggers, Wr. Hauptmann, K. Bristol, E. F. Armstrong, W. H. Kempton, C. T. Taylor, Lula Bass, Henry Kidder.

High score was won by Mrs. Staggers, low by Mrs. Hauptmann.

Wild Flowers Identified By State Botanist

The Hibiscus Circle of the Garden Club held its June meeting on Thursday afternoon, June 8, at the home of Mrs. J. W. Zimmerman.

The spacious living room was decorated with several lovely flower arrangements, most notable of which was a graceful triangle of red hibiscus.

After a short business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Roy Seims, Mrs. Keith Collyer introduced Miss Carol Beck, State Botanist from Highland's Hammock Park. Miss Beck spoke on the subject of Florida wild flowers. Her talk was given added interest by an exhibit of many beautiful wild flowers. Ticketed specimens of the flowers were passed among the guests, to assist them in identifying our state blooms.

Later, the hostess served delicious punch and cookies to about 15 members present.

Mrs. T. C. Stewart of Columbus, Ga., has been visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ben T. Stewart. On Thursday morning, she went to Tallahassee with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. G. W. Stewart, to visit her son and family there.

Interesting Talk On Phillipines Given Ladies Aid

Miss Elena Maquise, native of the Phillipine Islands, gave a most interesting talk on the background of her people, war experiences in the islands, and present conditions, to the Ladies Aid Society of the Union Congregational Church at their monthly meeting on Wednesday, June 14. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. C. R. Ginn.

Miss Maquiso explained the mixed racial groups of the Phillipines, which includes some aboriginal pigmies, now almost extinct. She also spoke of the different religious groups, there being only 8 per cent Protestant Christians, a larger percentage of Catholics, with Mohammedans and Pagans overshadowing the Christians. She pointed out that the spirit of democracy, under the influence of the Americans, has been increasing in the islands.

Miss Maquiso is an instructor this week and next at the Lake Byrd Youth Camps. She is in this country studying to fit herself for religious work among her own people.

For her talk she was dressed in beautiful native costume, which she explained was not work-day wear, but reserved for festive occasions.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Sam Norris, Mrs. Ginn presided over a short business meeting. A covered-dish luncheon was served.

Highlands Soil Conservation District Met Monday Night

The Highlands Soil Conservation District Supervisors held their regular monthly meeting on Monday night, at which time a petition was submitted to them by Mr. Jim Bowen, who is manager of the Lake Placid Land Co. This petition was signed by approximately seventy per cent of the land owners around Lake Annie, Lake Placid and Lake June In Winter. According to Mr. Bowen, the purpose of this petition is to get the District to OK a preliminary survey for water control for Lake Annie, Lake June and Lake Placid. The smaller land and home owners around Lake June In Winter were represented by Mr. Jack Simms of Lake Placid. Mr. Simms decided in favor of the proposed preliminary survey after the Supervisors decided to take all the chain of lakes from Lake Annie through Josephine Creek down to Lake Istokpoga, into consideration.

In his report to the Supervisors, Mr. Bowen stated that the land owners around these lakes were alarmed at the constantly dropping water table and the increasing number of months the grove owners were having to irrigate their citrus groves. According to Mr. Bowen, the Lake Placid Land Company are making plans to increase the size and extent of their irrigation facilities, as are several other land owners around Lake June. Mr. Bowen states that unless proper steps are taken to control the water in these lakes, he expects the water table to keep dropping, which will cause the grove owners to irrigate over longer periods thereby running the cost of citrus production higher and higher. Mr. Bowen reports considerable interest among land owners around these lakes, and he believes the entire land ownership around these lakes will back any well planned water conservation movement. The District accepted the petition unanimously.

The site of Oklahoma City was opened for settlement at noon, April 22, 1889, and by night it had a population of 10,000 living in tents.

Report On State Audit For County

dit period, Oct. 1, 1948, to Sept. 30, 1949. Members serving were J. H. Hood, Grice, A. J Tubbs, McClelland, A. C. McAulay, N. B. Jackson, R. L. Stokes, and John W. Schumacher.

The school board operation was audited for the last fiscal year which ended June 30, 1949.

Salaries Now Paid

It was found that $25,000 in teacher salaries was unpaid at that time, but State School Finance Director James L. Graham reported today that the salaries have now been paid up to date.

The report indicated that two main factors were responsible for the board's plight last fiscal year:

1. Salaries authorized for teachers were higher than the minimums which a county can pay and still draw its state aid.

The audit listed $373,000 as the amount paid during the year for instructional salaries. A department of education analysis, not included in the audit, shows that $324,000 was the minimum payment necessary under the state requirements.

2. the board counted on getting $37,000 in loans from banks during the year, but they didn't get as much as was expected.

The budget, as finally amended, was overexpended $6985, the auditor said. Revenues, from sources in addition to the loans, were under expectations.

The total budgeted expenditure was $627,755 for school operation termed "suggest and maintenance."

During the fiscal year, about $614,00 was received from revenues for support and maintenance while $632,000 had been anticipated in the budget.

A general statement on the school board operation said:

"Financial condition of the board's operating fund was poor. Finances were in general well managed but expenditures were not held within resources.

"Budgets were over expended, particularly in capital outlay terms. Funds required by the minimum foundation program for the county effort were provided. Depository collateral was adequate. Financial records were well kept. No property record for movable equipment was kept. Internal accounts were maintained and audited."

Members Changed

The board membership changed in two instances during the audit period. Members serving were J. Paul Garber, chairman, T. V. Conway, Mrs. Katherine Waggaman, Paul Anderson, C. Elton Weaver, Theodore R. Cason, and Sam Longbottom.

The auditing department found the financial condition of the trustees of Highlands County bonds to be "excellent," adding:

"Finances have been carefully managed. Tax levies have decreased over prior years. Budgets were not properly prepared, but no over expenditure occurred. Records were well kept. Depository balances were adequately secured."

Reports were also made on the sheriff, circuit clerk, tax collector, tax assessor, motor vehicle license agent, county judge, constables and justices of the peace in Highlands County. The audits were as follows:

Deficit Made Up

Circuit Clerk H. T. Piety, audit period, Oct. 1, 1948 to Dec. 31, 1949—Records were well kept. A deficit of $414 was found by the auditor and made up by Piety. The report said the deficit resulted from "his failure to keep accrued excess income in his official bank accounts."

Tax Collector J. Colin Deshong, audit period, Jan. 4, 1949 to Dec. 31, 1949—"All collections of record of taxes and licenses were accounted for by remittance or funds on hand. On Dec. 31, 1949, there was a cash deficit in the amount of $1366.99, due to the failure of the collector to keep accrued excess income in his official bank accounts. This deficit was covered when the collector remitted $1385.19 excess income from his personal account on Jan. 13, 1950."

Motor Vehicle License Agent (registration supervisor also) R. X. Droit, audit period, Oct. 1, 1948 to Dec. 31, 1949—A deficit of $110 we reported on Dec. 31, and was paid by personal check from Droit.

County Judge Howard G. Livingston, audit period, Oct. 1, 1948 to Dec. 31, 1949—Collections were accounted for and records well kept.

Tax Assessor P. G. Gearing, audit period, July 1, 1948 to Dec. 31, 1949—Tax rolls well prepared and records well kept and up to date.

Sheriff's Records

Sheriff Broward Coker, audit period, Jan. 4, 1949, to Dec. 31, 1949—Collections accounted for and records well kept.

Justice of the Peace Alton Elder, of District 1, at Avon Park, audit period, May 1, 1947 to Dec. 31, 1949—Owed and deposited $31 to the fined and forfeiture fund at the close of the audit.

Justice of the Peace W. L. Long, of District 2, at Sebring, audit period May 1, 1947 to Dec. 31, 1949—Records adequate and collections accounted for adequately.

Constable R. S. Massey, of District 1 audit period, May 1, 1947 to Dec. 31, 1949—"The constable stated that all of his records to substantiate his office expenses for 1947 and 1948 were destroyed by fire, through no fault of his part." The report said that Massey made approximations of his expenses.

A. A. Bates, former constable for District 2, May 1, 1947 to Jan. 3, 1949—Fees were charged in accordance with state law. Reports of income and expense were not filed in accordance with law.

Constable Lewis I. Butler, District 2, audit period, Jan. 3, 1949, to Dec. 31, 1949—Records were adequate and fees charged in accordance with law.

Constable N. B. Cline, of District 3, at Lake Placid—Records adequate and fees as authorized. A report of 1948 income and expenses was not filed.

6th Suit Filed In Highlands Car-Train Crash

The sixth damage action to grow out of an auto-train crash here nearly two years ago was filed in the Highlands County Circuit Court Monday.

The plaintiff is Calvin B. Hill, of Wauchula, who seeks $10,000 from the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Co. and A. W. Stewart, of Lakeland, engineer of the train that struck Hill's car at the main street crossing on the night of July 25, 1948.

Another $10,000 damage action resulting from the crash is on the docket for disposition at the next term of court. It was brought by Malcolm Sayre, a passenger in Hill's car, along with Martha Finney and Barbara Turner, also of Wauchula. The four were injured, the girls seriously.

The two girls sued the railroad company for a total of $70,000, and on May 12, by agreement of opposing counsel, Circuit Judge D. O. Rogers ordered the jury trying the consolidated cases to render the following verdicts for damages: Miss Finney and Miss Turner, $2350 each. R. E. Finney, father of Martha, $1700, and B. E. Turner, father of Barbara, $600.

Drive A Little More Slowly

Here's how you can cut the high cost of living—and enjoy it, too!

Just drive a little more slowly—around town and when you go on trips.

You will save gasoline, oil, wear and tear on your tires, and most important of all, some of the risk of an accident to your car, yourself, your passengers, and other folk who use the streets, according to the Florida Highway Patrol.

"The trite old saying that haste makes waste is especially true when we drive cars," Director H. N. Kirkman says.

"Not only does speed, that is, haste—increase the risk of an accident, it actually costs more in dollars and cents to drive at high speeds. You'll use about one-third more gasoline cruising at a top speed of 60 miles an hour as compared to a top speed of 40. You'll use about four times as much oil, and your tires will wear out two and a half times as fast. That's how fast haste can make waste.

A&P HEAVY BUYER OF FLORIDA PRODUCE

During the recent shipping seasons at Sanford and Hastings, Fla., the Atlantic Commission Company, produce-buying affiliate of A&P Food Stores, paid shippers and growers $3,938,000 for fruits and vegetables procured through its field offices.

At Sanford, buyers for A&P purchased $2,693,000 worth of fresh produce. The total volume, equal to 3,315 carlots, was distributed to company stores throughout 17 states. Carlot shipments were almost 10 per cent above the previous year.

The food chain bought $1,384,000 worth of celery at Sanford and $691,000 worth of corn. Other commodities included cabbage, escarole, and 194 carlots of miscellaneous fruits and vegetables.

In five months at Hastings, buyers for A&P obtained $1,245,000 worth of produce. This included $849,000 for potatoes, $274,000 for cabbage and $122,000 for miscellaneous items.

ACCIDENTS INCREASE

Highlands County industrial accidents covered by Workmen's Compensation showed an increase of 30.6 per cent during 1949 over the previous year, according to cases reported to the Florida Industrial Commission.

These accidents cost Highlands County employers and insurance carriers $43,266.14 in medical and hospitalization expenses and in the amount of compensation paid out.

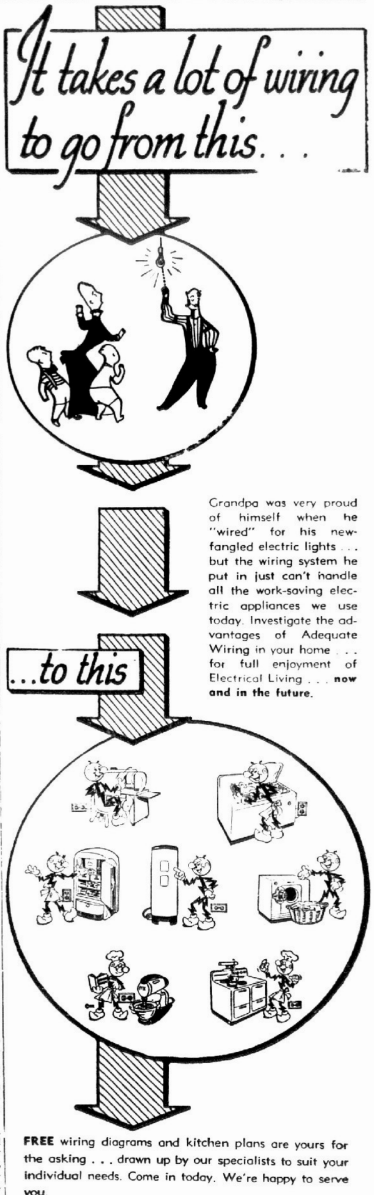
This increase in accidents was not in keeping with the general trend over the state where accidents showed a drop of 5 per cent. Total accidents in the state were 88,595 and cost over five million dollars.

Greatest number of accidents were incurred in the agriculture industry in Highlands. There were 249 injuries in this field resulting in a cost of $25,490.26 and 285 weeks of lost time. These figures represent a large increase in accidents and costs in this industry over the 1948 totals. Comparative numbers show a rise of 102 accidents, $16,830.21 and 56 more weeks of time lost. Increases were also noted in costs for construction, wholesale and retail and government work. Decreases, however, were indicated for manufacturing, public utilities and services jobs.

Only one of last year's 85 industrial fatalities was recorded for this county. In 1948 there was also one work death for Highlands County.

Indirect costs of the accidents in loss of service, training new workers, broken machinery, distraction and spoilage, is at least four times the monetary cost, according to Commission estimates.

"In an effort to curb these accidents and the resulting costs," said Raymond E. Barnes, commission chairman, "the Commission has set up a 10-Hour Safety Course for Florida foremen and key personnel and expanded its plant inspection program."



It takes a lot of wiring to go from this...
...to this

Grandpa was very proud of himself when he "wired" for his new-fangled electric lights . . . but the wiring system he put in just can't handle all the work-saving electric appliances we use today. Thousands Expected To Attend Regatta

Lenny Rush, general chairman for the 2nd Annual Lotela Regatta, sponsored by the Avon Park Moose Lodge, to be held here Sunday, June 25th states that he is receiving a large number of entries from all over the State, and great enthusiasm is shown by all entries, as they realize we have a perfect course for racing on Lake Lotela, and there will be plenty of trophies to take care of all events.

Thousands of spectators are expected here, and arrangements are being completed by the committees of the Moose Club to serve refreshments on the grounds, and in the "downstairs room" of the Club. There will be plenty of parking space available. A stand-by ambulance will be on the grounds, though the courtesy of the Stephenson Funeral Home. The Dutton's Appliance Company will furnish the public address system.

The regatta is sanctioned by The Florida Federation of Outboard Clubs, and officials for the day are as follows: Referee and announcer, J. Paxton Hill, Avon Park; chief starter, Ed Creasey, Sebring; clockman, Fred Davis, Miami; gunman, Pete Boney, Avon Park, flagman, Bob Soelke, Miami; timer, Everett Greiner, Lakeland; scorers, Admiral Washburn, Avon Park; Judge Howard Livingston, Sebring; Mayor Wiley Sauls, Jr., Avon Park; FFOC President, Lew Hewes, Miami.

The races are expected to start at one P. M. sharp, so plan on being present early and enjoy a full afternoon of racing. Eleven events of 5 laps each are scheduled on the official program, and all the racing stars of the state will be here to give you thrills.

Commissioners Name New Highlands Service Officer

Harvey Roberts, Lake Placid war veteran, was named Highlands County Service Officer by a secret vote of the county commission Monday. He will succeed R. D. Reddick, of Avon Park, whose resignation after four years' service becomes effective July 1.

Roberts received three votes of the five-man board. One each was received by R. W. Gast and Richard Batchelder, both of Sebring.

At the morning session, Commissioner R. L. Stokes' motion to appoint Gast died for the want of a second. Several hours later just before adjournment, the secret ballot was taken.

The post pays $3000 a year, including expenses of the office.

Dick Stodden is at home, temporarily on leave from his work in Bartow.

Colonel Everett Yon Rotary Guest Speaker

A large number of Rotarians and guests had the pleasure of hearing a very pleasant address by Col. Everett Yon, president of the Gainesville Rotary Club at the regular Wednesday luncheon meeting.

Rotary President Vaughan Driggers, and past president Harold Worden, remember Col. Yon, Professor of Military Science and Tactics at the University of Fla. back in the early "twenties". Harold Worden introduced the speaker with a few well chosen words and some good natured ribbing.

Col. Yon is known throughout the state as a booster for the University of Florida Athletic Association, and is often asked, "when is Gainesville going to have a winning team?" His answer is: "I do not know, but I do know that Gainesville will have a good team this fall." He states that the Gainesville school is a great University and is more interested in scholarship basis of education than an athletic education. He praised Dr. J. Hillis Miller as a great university president.

The speaker also gave credit to the Experiment Station at the University, in building up the cattle herds of this state. Coach Woodruff also came in for his share of kudos from this enthusiastic booster for the University located at Gainesville.

Visiting Rotarians and guests were introduced as follows: H. B. Cromleigh, Mr. Ephraim, N. J., B. M. Payne, Avon Park; Rev. Robbin Ralph, St. Petersburg; Bill Phares and Arthur Davis of Frostproof; H. W. Heppler, Lake Wales; A. H. Intz, Sebring; R. L. Mixson, Johnny Hicks and Art Kinney, Avon Park.

A COOL LOCALE FOR COLD CASH

When anyone says, "My isn't it hot today?"—and almost everyone is saying that these days—the employees of the Barnett Bank of Avon Park can casually reply, "Is it? I hadn't noticed." That is, they can as long as they are in the bank. For the Barnett Bank has done something about the weather by having T. E. Williamson, of Williamson's Appliance Store, as representative of the Lake Wales Refrigeration Service, install an air-conditioning system. S. F. Longbottom said he hoped it would be ready and working by the end of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Kelly are leaving Sunday for their summer home in Toledo, Ohio.

Carl Floyd Approves Plans For Drive-In

Final plans for the Avon Park and Sebring Drive-In theatre have been approved by Carl Floyd and are now being made ready for blueprinting by W. J. Heim, architect of Avon Park, who will receive estimate bids for the construction in about 10 days.

The name of the new Drive-In will be the SEVON. This name was derived at by taking SE from Sebring and VON from Avon.

The Sevon will be located near Lakemont and will be a beauty spot on the highway between Avon Park and Sebring. It will be very much up to date with the latest equipment and have a concrete block triangular screen tower, which is a special creation of the architect's with only one in use in the U. S.

FIRE DESTROYS PLANT

A multi-million dollar fire that raged out of control for hours, destroyed one of Winter Haven's largest citrus plants last week.

John A. Snively, head of the sprawling 10 acre installation, estimated the damage at between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000 but stated it was fully covered by insurance. Between 350,000 and 400,000 cases of citrus juice and sections were lost in the blaze.

Junior Legion Team Off To Fair Start

By LESLIE LAFLAM

The Avon Park Junior American Legion baseball team scored a 5-3 victory over the Sarasota Junior Legion team in Sarasota Wednesday afternoon to bring their average to .500, after having dropped their opener Monday afternoon here at Head Field.

Bobby Whitcomb on the mound for the Avonites kept 5 Sarasota hits well scattered and he struck out 7. Reynolds, shortstop for the locals was the leading hitter with 2 safeties for the three trips at at bat. Ralph Hill was clase behind him, with 2 for 4. Hill's 2 hits were a double and a three bagger.

Avon Park lost their game Monday to the Bradenton Junior Legion nine in the seventh inning. Two men were on base when the fatal blow was struck. A long towering fly to left center field fell for a two bagger and tallied the first runner, but a fine throw by Reynolds to Spencer at the plate nipped the second runner.

The final score of that game was 4-3.

Next week will find the local Junior Legion team playing both games away from home. Monday, June 26, they will travel to Bradenton to try and avenge their initial loss. Wednesday, June 28, they will go to Ft. Myers to play the Lee County Junior Legion team.

The next game will be with Sarasota at Head Field Friday, June 30. Coach Carter has very little material to work with, but has whipped up a fairly good team. The players are pitchers Ralph Hill and Bobby Whitcomb. Catcher is Bruce Spencer. Calab Cowart from Sebring is holding down first. Bobby Whitcomb plays second when he is not on the mound. Thomas Jenkins at short. Eugene Reynolds at third and the outfield consists of Morris Harper in left, John Edward Carson of Sebring in center and Thomas Harvey in right.

Vaughan Driggers Trial Deferred

The trial of Vaughan Driggers, elementary school principal, on charges filed against him by Mrs. Mary Chapman, has been postponed by County Judge Howard Livingston on motion of defense attorneys.

The postponement was granted because two of the witnesses will be out of the county on June 26, when the bimonthly court term is held. These witnesses are teachers who will be attending summer school at that time.

The trial is based on charges made by Mrs. Chapman that Mr. Driggers punished her ten-year-old son, Lawson Chapman, too severely.

Both the Highlands County School Board and the Avon Park PTA have adopted resolutions upholding Mr. Driggers.

Protect Your Children Against Disease

With the opening of schools only two months away, now is the time to give your children "protective shots" against smallpox, diptheria, lockjaw, whooping cough and typhoid fever.

Medical science has developed "protective shots" against these diseases and children going to school for the first time come into closer association with other children than at any time in their lives so these diseases have a greater opportunity to appear.

All children should be immunized first at the ages of 3-6 months against these diseases and given "booster shots" one year later and before entering school. Those that have not had this protection early should be given a protective series of shots before entering school.

Some may say we do not have these diseases, but in looking over the vital statistics ending the week of June 10, 1950, fifteen cases of typhoid and paratyphoid fever, one hundred sixty-one cases of whooping cough and forty seven cases of diptheria. These are reported cases, and of course, there are more that have not been reported.

If you have not protected your children yet, by all means do so. See your family physician or health department clinic. The clinic schedule is as follows:

Sebring: Tuesday 8:30-12:00 noon - 1:00 P. M. - 4:30 P. M. Saturday 8:30 - 12:00 noon.

Avon Park: Wednesday 9:30-11:00 A. M.

Lake Placid: Wednesday 1:30-2:30 P. M.

Local People To Attend Conference At San Francisco

Two Avon Park families are among the many delegates from the Florida Conference who are planning to attend the World Conference of Seventh-day Adventists to be held July 10-22 in San Francisco, California.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Baldwin will be representing Walker Memorial Sanitarium and Hospital at this 46th World Conference Session. Others who are planning to attend from this area are Chaplain J. R. Young and his family.

The quadrennial meeting will attract an estimated 15,000 Adventists from all over the world. There are 850 official delegates representing the educational, medical, welfare and evangelistic work of this denomination in 228 of the 282 countries of the world.

Plans for the next four years will be made, officers elected and resolutions adopted during the conference. Progress of the church's work during the past four years will be reviewed in a pageant staged in the San Francisco Civic Auditorium by three hundred costumed nationals and missionaries on Saturday, July 22nd.

Driver Education Program Operating In Highlands Schools

Through the cooperation of the Sebring Civic organizations, who presented a showing of a film entitled "Teach Them To Drive" furnished by the Tampa Motor Club and shown to members of the Highlands county school board and Superintendent Fred Wiles, a driver education program has been started as an accredited course in the summer school program of Highlands county.

Coach Don Hansen of the Sebring schools is teaching the course. Don took the AAA instructors course last February at the University of Florida, under Norman Key, AAA national driver training expert.

A new Plymouth with dual controls has been furnished for the training through the courtesy of E. Ray Wells of the Wells Motor Company.

The schedule for the program through August 11th is as follows:

Sebring — June 19, 22, 27, 30; July 6, 11, 14, 19, 24, 27; Aug. 1, 4, 9.

Lake Placid — June 20, 23, 28; July 3, 7, 12, 17, 20, 25, 28; Aug. 2, 7, 10.

Avon Park — June 21, 26, 29; July 5, 10, 13, 18, 21, 26, 31, Aug. 3, 8, 11.

The Board of Education is to be complimented for instituting the program, that makes Highlands county one of the first counties in this part of the state to adopt this program.

This program is being taught in about 7500 high schools in the U. S., and in every large area where the program is taught and accurate records kept, the accident rate of teen age drivers has dropped at least 50 per cent. The program was started experimentally by AAA 14 years ago in Cleveland, Ohio. Its rapid spread throughout the U. S., has come about as authorities began to recognize the fact that the fatality rate of the teen age driver has increased 86 per cent in the last twenty years. It is the teen age accident rate which keeps automobile insurance rates so high. All companies now demand a penalty rate on a family car if anyone in that family under age 25 drives the car.

Safety authorities expect that within the next ten years driver training will be offered to boys and girls in 90 per cent of the high schools throughout the country. It is interesting to know that two states have passed a law requiring that every boy and girl graduating from high school must complete the driver training course before he or she can get a diploma. North Dakota was the first state to pass such a law. California passed the same type of law that goes into effect in 1951.

Fencing Law In Effect June 30th

At the stroke of midnight Friday, June 30, livestock "booby traps" will be outlawed from Florida highways.

One year ago, on June 7, Governor Warren signed into law Senate Bill No. 34, which makes it unlawful for any owner of livestock to permit the animals to run at large or stray upon the public roads of Florida.

Florida Highway Patrol accident statistics show that: In 1944 there were 65 accidents involving livestock, with 6 fatalities, 1945, 65 accidents, 5 fatalities; 1946, 174 accidents, 4 fatalities; 1947, 297 accidents, 9 fatalities; 1948, 384 accidents, 2 fatalities, and 1949, 402 accidents, 2 fatalities.

The new law provides that an owner who intentionally, willfully or negligently permits livestock to stray upon public roads shall be liable for any damage resulting from accidents in which the animals are involved.

Even if a stray animal causes no accident, its owner may be found guilty of a misdemeanor and sentenced to six months in jail, or fined $500, or both.

Here are other points in the law:

1. The owner will be liable both for property damage and personal injury to the driver or passengers of the motor vehicle in an accident in which the owner's livestock is involved.

2. The sheriff and deputies of each county are responsible for the impounding of roaming livestock. They also are charged, along with highway patrol officers, with enforcing the law.

3. Impounded livestock may be sold to the highest bidder within three days after the animals are picked up, provided the owner has been legally notified and does not call for the stock and pay all incurred expenses.

4. Impounding fees include $2.50 for each animal, mileage, serving notice, care and feeding, advertising and disposition of animal. The service notice will be $1.50; feed and care 50 cents a day; whatever is necessary for advertising; $1 for the sale and disposition and 50 cents for report of sale.

5. If there is no bidder for an impounded animal, the stock can be killed and the carcass disposed of. If any money is received it shall go toward expenses, and if there is no ready sale for the meat it can be given to a county, state or city-owned institution, or to a recognized charitable institution within the county or area.

6. In cases where livestock is sold, any balance after after deduction of expenses shall be turned over to the owner on proper proof of ownership. Proof must be made to the county commission within 90 days after the sheriff reports the sale.

7. Unless ownership is established, the court clerk has authority to let any incurred balance revert to the county fine and forfeiture fund.

8. Permanent records of all sales, disbursements and distributions must be kept by circuit court clerks.

9. County commissioners must provide impounding places, the sheriff will designate a "poundmaster," and the sheriff himself must provide feed and make certain that the animals are fed and given water at least twice daily.

10. While the owner has a liability to the people for letting animals roam at large, he also has his rights. If he feels impounding fees are unfair, he may post bond (not to exceed a "fair value" on the animal) and then file suit in equity.

'TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

There is so much to see and do in Florida that it always seems foolish to me for Floridians to go galloping off to some distant point where it is never as cool and comfortable as it is here and where outdoor atractions cannot compare with those our own state offers.

For several years the Florida Power & Light Company has stressed the slogan "Stay at Home and Play at Home This Summer," and has issued attractive and appealing literature telling folks where to go and what to see on their Florida summer vacation. I have just recived a copy of their 1950 folder which is extremely attractive. It's title page reads "Looking for America's Best Vacation Spot - You'll Find it Right Here in Florida."

Mr. Reddy Kilowatt, the energetic little character we have come to associate with Light and Power, tells in story and picture what Florida has to offer. No state in the Union, he tells us, has a greater concentration of fun facilities or finer more comfortable accomodations for the vacationist than has Florida.

Dividing the state into five areas, the folder outlines the attractions and points of interest in each section. West Florida with its Naval Air Station, Old Fort Barrancas and San Carlos, its Caverns State Park and National Forest, the Glorious Gulf Beaches, fine fresh and salt water fishing, historic shrines and State Capitol has much to offer the visitor.

Moving down into the peninsular section of the state we find so much to see and do that a person could keep going somewhere new every day and still not see all there is to see. Gay and inviting Daytona Beach, the Lost Mission at Port Orange, famous Silver Springs and Rainbow Springs, thousands of lakes - many connected by canals - invite a cruise, bating or fishing. Orlando the City Beautiful, Lake County with its rolling hills and sparkling waters, Polk County with its Bok Tower and beautiful Cypress Gardens, Marine Studios and numerous other attractions in the St. Augustine area. The beautiful Indian River country, Gainesville and the University of Florida are but a few of the high spots.

The development that has occurred in the Tampa-St Petersburg area will astound and amaze you. The beaches are building at a tremendous rate, hundreds of new hotels and apartments, motor courts and rental cottages are available. St Petersburg offers such attractions as Turner's Sunken Gardens, Earl Gresh's world famed Wood Parade, the Wild Animal Ranch; Tampa has its Latin Quarter famed Spanish restaurants; Clearwater its Japanese Gardens, Tarpon Springs its quaint Sponge Fleet, Innes paintings and Greek Colony; nearby is wonderful Weekiwachee Spring with its amazing underwater theatre and jungle river cruise; Homosassa Springs and Nature's Fish Bowl; Highlands County invites you to tarry in Highlands Hammock State Park.

While the Ringling Winter Quarters are closed at this time of year, the Ringling Art Museum is open and well worth a visit. Tarpon are leaping and cavorting all up and down the Gulf Coast and Tarpon Tournaments are in progress at Tampa, St. Petersburg, Sarasota and other points. Myakka River State Park is worth seeing and Jungle Gardens at Sarasota will prove enjoyable.

A swing into the Everglades from the West Coast has much to offer and you will enjoy a visit to such interesting points as Naples with its splendid beaches and excellent fishing, Clewiston with its Sugar Mill and superb bass fishing, Lake Okeechobee and on into the Everglades National Park.

On the lower East Coast tourists accomodations are available to meet every purse and there is much to see and do. McKee Jungle Gardens at Vero Beach is a must. Stop at Stuart and catch a sailfish, see Ft Pierce and Jupiter Lighthouse, visit a Seminole Indian Reservation, don't miss a trip to famed Hialeah Race Course, spend a few days at Miami or Miami Beach and take side trips to such points of interest as the Monkey Jungle, the Parrot Farm and don't fail to travel the Overseas Highway to Key West.

The are just some of the high spots - there are numerous others and wherever you go or whatever you do in Florida you will have fun, be cool and get more out of your vacation than anywhere else you might go. Florida is really glorious in the summer, so pack the family in the car and head in any direction, no matter what route you take you will find it interesting, entertaining and educational and you'll have FUN. "Stay at Home and Play at Home this Summer."

Speech And Hearing Camp To Be Held

Two children from Avon Park, Myra Hall and Benny Hill, are among the seven children selected from Highlands, Desoto, Glades, Hardee and Hendry counties to attend a summer speech and hearing camp. The camp will be held at Crystal Lake Camp, located between Keystone Heights and Starke.

The camp, a joint project of the University of Florida, the Alachua County Board of Public Instruction, and the Florida Chapter of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults will provide eighty speech-handicapped youngsters, selected from throughout the state, an opportunity to enjoy a fine camping experience, together with intensive speech therapy. The University of Florida is providing a skilled speech therapist to direct the program, and the Florida Chapter will hire a graduate speech correctionist to assist. The Florida Chapter, according to Mrs. Rose Catalano McQuade, president of its affiliate, the South-Central Society for Crippled Children, will pay the expenses of the children attending the camp.

The camp is a pioneer effort in Florida to provide camping opportunities for those with handicaps. Mrs. Eunice Carter, speech correctionist for Highlands County, who did the diagnostic work and preliminary screening of candidates, stated she felt the camp would provide a most valuable experience for the children.

FLORIDA PUBLISHER HITS NEWSPRINT COST

A Florida publisher told a congressional investigating committee Monday that domestic production of newsprint will be expanded to offset the higher prices asked for the Canadian product.

John H. Perry, who operates a chain of Florida newspapers and is president of the Western Newspaper Union, said newsprint sources in other parts of the world may also be tapped to get around the high asking prices.

He attributed the high cost of Canadian newsprint to 12-year paper contracts without restrictions on price rises which American publishers were forced to sign.

Perry appeared before the investigating group headed by Rep. Emanuel Celler (D., N. Y.), who stated that remedies must be found "if the American publisher is going to be punished by unreasonable prices." He said his committee is attempting to get the facts on production and supply in order to determine what legal steps can be taken.

DEMOCRATIC COMM. ELECTS OFFICERS

The new and the old members of the Highlands County Democratic Committee met together at the courthouse in Sebring last Saturday, June 17, at 2:30 P. M. Those members who are dropping out finished their business, and then the newly-elected precinct members voted on the officers for the coming year.

The new officers are: J. J. Still, chairman; Mrs. Edwin Booth, vice president; J. Lee Johnson, Jr., secretary and treasurer.

Under scientific methods of forest management it is possible to take a harvest from the woods and still leave a forest growing.

Commissioners Met Tuesday

Higlands County commissioners Tuesday twice almost sent resolutions to the State Road Department approving use of county gas tax share funds on State Road 66 extension already begun by the state but ended up tabling the motions.

Commission Chairman J. W. Schumacher cast the deciding vote when he joined Commissioners M. H. Grice and A. J. McAuley on a motion to table the resolution. Commissioners A. J. Tubbs, who moved to send the resolution, and R. L. Stokes dissented.

The majority trio is miffed at the road board because it sent right-of-way deeds on the project to Stokes for execution, rather then to County Attorney Keith Collver. The road runs through Stokes' district.

Approval of the appointment of Mrs. Vera C. Bowers, of Lake Placid, as office assistant to the commission's clerk at a salary of $1800 annually, setting July 3 instead of July 4 as the next regular meeting day.

STAY IN THE FLORIDA CITRUS MUTUAL

Florida citrus growers "should not be satisfied with anything except the highest price a willing buyer will pay for a finished product," banker George Ware warned in a rap at recent offers of citrus concentrate firms for long lease contracts for the purchase of fruit.

He told growers "by all means" to stay in the Florida Citrus Mutual.

Ware is a powerful figure on the citrus committee of the Florida Bankers Association. He pointed out that the small grower needs Mutual now more than ever and said, "a grower can do a more effective job supporting the organization from the inside than he could possibly do for himself or the industry on the outside.

I REMEMBER . . .

By THE OLD-TIMERS

From Robert H. Sedgwick: "I remember (circa 1906) when there were arc lights along the streets and how, when they failed to light up, we kids would kick the pole to jar the carbons and, once started, they all would light up. We used to collect discarded carbons to write our names on cement sidewalks, which were not too common in those days."

From Henry H. Vocke: "I remember when the Waffle Man came down the street, blowing on a trumpet, and all the kids would run home for a penny to buy a waffle sprinkled with powdered sugar. The waffles were made with water, but they sure tasted 'waffle' good to us kids!"

From Evangeline Sedgwick: "I remember when Essanay movies were filmed in Chicago across the street from Riverview park. David Spoor and G. M. Anderson coined the name from their last initials. It was there Gloria Swanson and Wallace Beery first met and became movie stars. Edna Mayo, Ruth Stonehouse, Henry B. Walthall, Bryant Washburn and James Kirkwood were some of the others. Anderson always acted the part of 'Broncho Billy' in the westerns."

From Mrs. Mary R. Stewart: "I remember when there was a 'sure cure' for a sore throat—a remarkable remedy used by grandmothers in my childhood days. She would slap a thick, fat slice of salt pork around our neck, tie a wool sock over it, make a strong gargle of vinegar and salt, force us to sit an hour with our feet in hot mustard water, huddled under a blanket like a small tent, then tuck us into a bed piled high with a feather tick. If the the throat didn't clear up by morning, the sock was wrung out of hot water, dipped in a saucer of kerosene and re-applied. Then we had a blistered neck as well as 'grippe.' Strange to say, we survived."

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

First Assembly of God Church
E. I. Ponton, Pastor
Luke 12: 33-34

Sell that ye have and give alms. Provide yourselves bags which wax not old. A treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

Almost every person has an aim in life, a goal that we hope to reach. We can all agree that we want the best out of life, but we we don't always agree as to what that best is. To some it may be fame or popularity (in the movie world forinstance), to others it could be success in business. To others it might be political success. Regardless what kind of a career a man may choose, he naturally expectes to do that which will give him the best return in dividends.

That which will benefit us most, becomes the most valuable. The greatest treasure that a man can choose is not made up of earthly material, but consists of that which will last for ever. If an eternal possession is worth anything it is worth everything, and if you get an eternal treasure, you must get it not with gold and silver, but through the redeeming Blood of Christ our Saviour.

When Christ was weighing the value of your soul, he found that it was worth everything, even his own life, and he gave his life that your soul might become an eternal treasure to himself. If Christ valued our soul as the greatest treasure that he could possess, how much more should we value our own soul. Indeed, eternal life is the greatest treasure we could ever possess.

If it costs you your fame, popularity, riches, business success, political success, or what ever may be the price you have to pay, it is still a good investment, and we should be willing to count all things worthless, that we may win Christ, for there is no other treasure that will ever bring as great a return in dividends as an invesment in eternal life.

MEMORIAL FUND AUGMENTED

Field specialists of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service in Florida contributed more than $60 to the C. Parke Anderson Memorial Fund, which will be used to equip a room at the Walker Memorial Sanatarium and Hospital.

The contribution was made on June 15, at the final session of the SCS technicians' conference in Sebring. At that session, Mrs. George Waggaman, of Lorida, who served with the late Avon Park chairman of the board of the Highlands district, told the SCS personnel that "good soil and water conservation was almost a religion with Anderson."

MRS. M. R. McDONALD

Mrs. M. R. McDonald, wife of M. R. McDonald, Sebring attorney and former Highlands County solicitor, died at her home Wednesday afternoon. Besides her husband she is survived by four sons, Howard McDonald, Shelby, Mich., Etheridge McDonald, Italy, and Parker Lee and Donald McDonald, and a daughter, Miss Martha Vail McDonald, all of Sebring.

Maintenance of Florida's forest lands for permanent production of forest crops requires wise cutting practices, an example of which is selective cutting.

LLOYD B. CORRELL

MRS. GORDON LEE TYRE

Candlelit Ceremony Weds Joyce Basemore And Gordon Lee Tyre

In an impressive candlelight ceremony, marked by beauty and dignity, Miss Joyce Leigh Basemore, daughter of Mrs. Vicie M. Basemore, became the bride of Gordon Lee Tyre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Tyre of Frostproof. The wedding was held at 8 o'clock Friday evening, June 16, at the First Methodist Church. Rev. M. E. Myer, pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church in Lakeland, performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of a gathering of relatives and friends.

Palms formed a background for pedestal baskets of white gladioli and calla lillies on either side of the altar, where white candles burned in branched candelabra.

A program of nuptial music was given by Mrs. Earl Jackson, church organist, and Richard Landress, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Ned Cox of Frostproof, was radiantly lovely in her bridal gown of white Swiss organdy over taffeta. The bodice, made with a high neckline, had long fitted sleeves; the skirt was full, with three tiers. The bride wore a mantilla veil of illusion and carried a bouquet of white roses centered with a purple orchid.

Mrs. Grady Wilson and Mrs. Ned Cox of Frostproof, sisters of the bride, were matrons of honor. They wore identical dresses of yellow and blue organdy, respectively, with low fitted bodices and three-tiered full skirts. Miss Helen Knowles and Ann Palmer, who were bridesmaids, wore dresses of pale pink organdy made in the same style. All carried bouquets in contrasting colors.

The candles were lighted by Miss Patricia Basemore, sister of the bride, and Miss Delores Still, her cousin.

Grady Wilson, brother-in-law of the groom, attended as best man. Ushers were Marcus Vaught and Billy Cannon of Frostproof and Jack Moore of Tampa.

A reception was held at the bride's home following the ceremony. The couple left during the evening for a wedding trip on the East Coast. On their return, they will make their home in Frostproof.

Morning Party For Bride-Elect

Mrs. M. Talmage Suggs honored her house guest and future daughter-in-law, Miss Judy Smith of Raleigh, N. C., with an informal Coca-Cola party on Friday morning, June 16.

The guests were greeted by Mrs. Suggs, then introduced to Miss Smith. Miss Beth Suggs was in charge of the bride-elect's guestbook. Approximately 75 persons attended the party.

The decorations were summer flowers—dahlias, amaryllis, and carnations—in a color scheme of pink and green with touches of yellow. Assorted open-faced sandwiches, Old London cheese sandwiches, and potato chips were served buffet style, from an appropriately-decorated table. On the "summer table" was a giant rectangular bowl, banked with fern and pink hibiscus. In this bowl, filled with crushed ice, were placed the Coca-Colas and more pink hibiscus, making an enticing picture of cool refreshment.

Miss Jane Suggs, Mrs. E. Ray Wells and Mrs. H. H. Shepherd assisted in serving. Mrs. J. Paxton Hill assisted in entertaining the guests.

It's Hot

It is an axiom that No news is [illegible] news. Judging [illegible] the [illegible] state of Avon Park is healthy and wholesome. It has also been said that a happy people has no history, therefore since there has been a dearth of events worthy of narration this week we at the Sun office trust that Avon Parkers have been spending the past seven days in a state of placid felicity.

However, though the prevalence of quiet goodness and happiness may benefit the generality of mankind, it rather puts newspaper editors and [illegible] out of employment.

So we are forced to apologize for the small number of stories in our pages this week. If you don't make the news we can't print it. The sad truth is that the [illegible] news of this week is [illegible].
