Kansas City Blues Blank Bisons 3-0 Here Wednesday

The Kansas City Blues of the American Association humbled the Buffalo Bisons of the International League at Head Field Wednesday, blanking them 3-0 and letting them down with one hit. Minor, Buffalo backstop, got the lone hit, a single off Delduca in the third inning. Menard, Kansas City catcher, poked a homer over the 370-foot fence in right center in the fourth, scoring Gentile ahead of him. While the Bisons were blanked by Kansas City, the treasury of the Avon Park High School Band was swelled by the game, the proceeds of which were donated to the young musicians by Leo Miller, general manager of the Bisons. The band played at the game.

Buffalo Bisons Win Game From Springfield

By Leslie Laflam

The Buffalo Bisons, champions of the International League last year played their first home exhibition game last Monday afternoon at Head Field and swamped the Springfield Cubs by the foot-ball score of 21-6. The Bisons opened the game with Woods on the mound. He served for three innings and was relieved by Frank Robinson. Buffalo inserted another hurler in the eighth and this gave their mound staff a good workout. Woods gained credit for the victory. Buffalo opened up with heavy fireworks in the third inning and plastered 12 runs on the book with four big home runs. Six fourmatters were clouted by Buffalo and one by the Cubs. Jack Hollis slapped the homer for Springfield in the eighth inning with one on the sacks.

The Springfield Cubs, who hail from Massachusetts, took over the franchise of the Newark Bears in the Triple A International League.

This was the second win for the Bisons out of four games played up to Monday of this week. They lost two games to Philadelphia and won the third and final game with the same team last Sunday afternoon in West Palm Beach. Government Loans To Help Farmers Construct Houses

The Housing Act of 1949 authorizes government loans to help farmers construct or repair houses and other farm buildings. It also authorizes a limited number of grants to correct housing defects which are dangerous to the health or safety of the farm family or the community.

To be eligible for a loan, a farmer must be unable to get needed credit for housing improvements from other sources. Loans can be made only to farm owners, but landlords may use the loans to provide better housing for tenants, sharecroppers or farm laborers. Veterans have the preference.

A loan may be made to a farmer whose income from farm or other sources is considered sufficient to repay the loan plus interest without further assistance from government. A loan may also be made where the farmer's income is considered inadequate if the borrower agrees to revise his farming operations or make other improvements to protect the government's interest, and if such changes will make his income adequate to repay the debt on schedule. In this case, the government may forgive the interest and up to half the principal due during the first five years if the borrower is unable to make full payments and if he is following the improvement program outlined at the time of making the loan. A loan may also be made to enlarge or improve farm land to make the unit capable of producing income that, combined with income from other sources, will repay a housing loan and sustain the family.

Loans are repayable in a maximum of 33 years at a maximum of interest payments on principal annual payments may be granted when, because of circumstances beyond his control, the farmer is unable to make scheduled payments. In extreme hardship cases, interest may be cancelled during the moratorium.

Interested applicants in Hardee, DeSoto and Highlands Counties may contact Wilson H. Harrison, County Supervisor, on Monday of any week, at the office of the Farmers Home Administration in the Court House in Wauchula.

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

BE YOURSELF

By Rev. L. S. HUFF
Text: 2 Timothy 4:6-7 "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith."

In Paul we have an example of a man's being himself, finishing his own course and doing his own work. Some sort of selfhood we are going to do, some use of life we are going to make. God has in mind the selfhood we should develop, the work we should do, the use we should make of life. Our business here below is that of being the persons God would have us to be, and doing the work He would have us to do. It is one thing to have the Spirit and know that we have Him. It is another matter to know Him, learn His will and ways of working, and become efficient in our cooperation with Him in His work. This will require our entire earthly career while here, and forever in the hereafter.

You have a heredity, such as no other person has ever had, or ever will have. What you may or may not be said is heredity. It is a force in life that in the whole realm of nature, men are recognizing its value in matter of improvement. Like all else that goes into the development of personality, its powers and possibilities must be discovered, developed and used. This will require the work of a lifetime. The good must be used, the evil inhibited. Make the most of your heredity. You have a place to fill in the building of your character and personality.

Whatever may, or may not be said of the forces of environment, the right use of it, and right responses to it are tremendous factors in the development of personal selfhood. God has not only endowed us with the attributes of freedom of choice, but He has put us in a world where that attribute must be brought into constant use. Right choices are essential to the building of right character. Make the best use of your environment.

Every effort you put forth to be another than yourself will prove a hindrance to you in the development of your own personality. God has needed but one apostle Paul. He has been here; he has done his work, and done it well. You are here to be and to do, in all that goes into the making of life, living and service. God needs you in the personality He designs that you should develop. Be yourself.

God has a plan for you to fill, a work for you to do. This plan can be filled; this work can be done by none other than yourself. All that makes living worth while is the consciousness that the will of God is being done in and through you. An ever present question is, How may I know the will of God? That is something you must be ever learning, and may be ever learning, as you develop. Searching the Scriptures, Waiting upon God, Cooperating with Him in His work will prove useful. The worthwhile things of life are not easy. Make the most of your fellowship with God.

You have an investment of life to be made. This is the one worthwhile investment, possible in this vale of tears. The rewards of other investments are temporary and fleeting. The right investment of life is the one investment that will yield enduring and eternal dividends. Christianity is—and ever will be—a forward looking affair. A well invested life here is a good preparation for life hereafter. Life does not end at the tomb. Paul went out of life here below with a forward look. He had enjoyed much of the grace of God here. He would enjoy vastly more of it in the hereafter. Not only was he looking forward to heaven, but to what would be his in heaven. The glories of grace we enjoy here are earnest of the glories of grace we shall enjoy hereafter.

Boy Scouts Enjoy Camping Trip To Horse Hammock

Scoutmaster Bob Gibson took the Scouts of Troop 137 to Horse Hammock on Arbuckle Creek for a camping trip last Friday and Saturday. The following Scouts enjoyed the trip: Edgar Faber, Dan Norris, Alton Langston, Larry Hooper, Tom Maxwell, Bob Demere, Leonard Sellers, Bill Sellers, Paul Babe, Bill Pardee, Bill Mooley, Donald Penten and "Junior" Maysack.

On arrival at the campsite the boys pitched their tents and cooked their supper in an efficient manner. After eating some of them went fishing. Later the Scoutmaster assembled them to observe constellations and learn to find directions at night with aid of the stars.

Saturday morning Game Warden E. W. Crybus, who enjoyed being with the boys, took them on a Nature and Bird Study hike. After that they went fishing again. After dinner the campsite was cleaned up and then the tired boys started for home sweet home. C. J. Murphy and Bob Gibson furnished the transportation.
