"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

It has been the practice for many years to encourage sports fishing in Florida by offering prizes in fishing contests for the largest fish caught of various species.

St. Augustine conducts a Black Drum contest, Flagler Beach a Sea Trout Rodeo, Leesburg a Bass contest, Palm Beach a Sail Fish Derby, St. Petersburg a Tarpon Round Up and there are many others.

Thousands of eager sportsmen have entered these contests and many point with pride to the "big one that didn't get away" and tell of this or that prize they won for their skill and achievement in conquering these denizens of the deep.

For years sports columns have carried pictures of these piscatorial champions and described in detail the battle that resulted in such a mighty victory.

Have you envied these guys and secretly hoped that someday you might attain the skill to win such an honor and be so acclaimed?

Have you cursed the "big one" that might have been the all-time prize winner? That old he-devil you snagged under a lily pad, that backlashed your line, bruised your knuckles, burnt your thumb and finally smashed your pet rod in making a get-away?

You cussed the fish but you know in your heart that the fault was yours. As you go back over the experience in your mind you can think of a dozen things you did wrong. You weren't ready when he struck. If you had gotten that knot out of your line you wouldn't have backlashed. In your excitement you clamped down on the reel with your thumb. You gave him slack and finally let him outsmart you by darting under the boat and smashing your rod.

Don't condemn yourself. Don't feel sorry. Nothing you might have done would have made any difference. It was all purely a matter of luck. You were engaged in a lottery and skill had nothing whatever to do with it. You can laugh at the guy who wins the prize for catching the biggest fish. He deserves no credit for his feat. It was just plain horse luck.

Try telling that to a guy who has wrestled with a wily bass or a leaping tarpon and see how far you get.

But according to a ruling of the Post Office Department, catching any kind of a fish is just luck. Anyone entering a fishing contest is engaging in a lottery for there is no skill attached to landing a fish. The fisherman simply gets a strike, pulls in his prize and has no control over the size of his catch.

Therefore, the Post Office Department rules that it is unlawful and against postal regulations for a newspaper or other publication to publisize such contests, give names of winners or in any way encourage such wickedness. Any paper that does so risks the loss of its mailing privilege.

I have encountered a lot of silly assinine bureaucratic rulings in my time but this latest one from the Post Office Department tops them all.

If there is any art under the sun that calls for know-how and skill it is outsmarting a big bass or handling a leaping, fighting bull tarpon or sailfish. In the first place a fellow has to know where to find the fish, what kind of bait to use, how to handle it and God help him if he isn't alert and on the job when the big fellow strikes.

Every experienced fisherman knows that more fish have been lost because the sportsman did the wrong thing than ever have been caught and that the utmost skill is required in any battle with a gamester be his habitat fresh or salt water.

The wily sheephead can make a first class monkey out of an inexperienced and unskilled angler. I've seen guys try for hours to snag one and feed the critters a dollar's worth of cut shrimp without getting the first one, while other guys in the same boat have pulled them in by the tub full, simply because they knew how and had the feel that enabled them to snag the fish at just the right second.

You would think the Post Office Department, wallowing as it is in red ink and inefficiency, could find more important things to do with the taxpayers' money than hiring dim-wits to sit in air-conditioned offices and make idiotic rulings that classify sports fishing as a lottery. No wonder they have cut down service to the public and scream for increased postal rates.

I understand a bill is being introduced in congress to make this nit-wit ruling inoperative and I hope our Washington delegation to a man will vote for it. It will adversely affect Florida as no other state and the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, the State Advertising Commission and every civic-minded citizen should register a vigorous protest.

Bankers Study Current Problems At Bank Forum

A large segment of the banking fraternity in Florida will gather beginning May 8, at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel, Daytona Beach, at the Third Annual Bank Executives Forum, for five days of intensive study and deliberation concerning current problems and topics affecting the banking business, it was announced here today by Wiley Reynolds, President First National Bank, Palm Beach. Mr. Reynolds is chairman of the Educational Committee of the Florida Bankers Association which has charge of this annual event.

The Forum has attracted not only state-wide attention but also has been accorded national recognition by the American Bankers Association by reason of the technique of presentation of subject matter. A single subject is scheduled for each day and is exhausted to the utmost through the lecture-conference panel discussion methods.

Lecturers of national reputation in their fields have been selected to handle the subjects, and they will be assisted by several leading Florida bankers on the various panels. On Monday, May 8, "What Price Government Lending" will be presented by Everett D. Reese, President Park National Bank, Newark, Ohio, and chairman of the American Bankers Association Small Business Credit Commission; Sylvia Porter, government band expert, author and newspaper columnist of New York City, will be in charge on Tuesday, May 9, and her subject will be "Reporting on Governments". The subject, "Outlook for Banking", will be featured on Wednesday, May 10, by Dr. Raymond Rodgers, Professor of Banking of New York University; "Personnel Administration in the Smaller Bank" will be handled on Thursday, May 11, by William Powers, Deputy Manager in charge of Customer and Personnel Relations for the American Bankers Association in New York City; and on Friday, May 12, there will be presented a series of shorter subjects under the general theme of "Towards Better Operations". The morning presentations will be in charge of George Ortagus, Vice President Atlantic National Bank, Jacksonville, and the afternoon subjects are to be in charge of W. C. Payne, Vice President and Cashier Pan American Bank, Miami.

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

By REV. H. E. GARRETT

The Meaning Of Faith

We are facing one of the most solemn hours our world has ever known. As a young minister I have lived through two world wars and the newspaper and radio broadcasts bring to me daily the threat of another one more terrible than the human mind can comprehend. Russian Communism and atheism threaten to engulf the entire world. Alien ideologies and dangerous political philisophies are springing up like deadly plagues all over the world. In the hour of this dark picture made by man's sinfulness and selfishness, stupidity and egotism, self-sufficiency and self-will, I find myself in this Christian ministry. Again and again the magnitude of my need to master the spiritual secret to possess a power beyond my own has pressed hard upon me.

My five senses, sight, touch, hearing, taste, and smell have served me well in letting the the world in to me and letting me out to the world. However, my need of spiritual power cannot be met through these, for spiritual power must come from another world that these five senses cannot open to me. This other world is the world of God, the world of spiritual reality. There is a faculty, perhaps a sixth sense, which lets us into this spiritual world and brings spiritual realities in to us. It is faith. There is no living without it. We are employing it in every other realm of life. The letter you mail is dropped confidently into a slot, with the calm assurance that it will reach its destination. The deposit you make in the bank is made with faith in the banker. We eat by faith. Every meal we eat shows faith expressed in the sanity and moral integrity of the cook. Faith enables us to lie down in a world of terrible forces and dangers and go into absolute unconsciousness trusting in the goodness at the heart of things. Our crops are sown in faith, faith in the dependability of the laws of nature which brings the seasons and the rains and the sunshine. We believe in the dependability of the Universe which is nothing less than faith in the dependability of the God of the Universe.

Faith in God is exercising in religious life an attitude which we are employing in every other realm of life. Faith is an inescapable necessity in every human life. It is a principle which underlies all of life. There is no living without faith. We must come to terms with it, seek to better understand it and to more fully use it as intelligently as we can.

Webster's dictionary defines faith as belief in God; fidelity to one's promises; that which is believed; and complete confidence. The Articles of Religion, printed in the Methodist Discipline, declare Faith in the Holy Trinity; Justification by faith; Good works are the fruits of faith; the sacrament is to be received with faith; and santification is received through faith. But the Bible is our supreme record of man's experience with faith. It contains the priceless teachings of Christ on the subject as well as the important emphasis the Apostolic Church gave to it. What a field day for this study of faith, and what a matchless body of information and inspiration the New Testament affords!

Jesus himself taught many things about faith. When we remember that not more than one hundred days of his life, and possibly as few as forty, receive any mention in the gospel records, the oft repeated reference to faith is portent. When his scattered counsels and declarations are gathered we are able to trace the features of this essential faith.

He declared it to be an essential of prayer and of all high endeavors. "If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove to yonder place, and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you." (Matt. 17:20) "What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them and ye shall have them." (Matt. 17:20) Just as the men of medical research are assuring us with stirring challenge that cancer, a most stubborn disease, can be cured, so the praying man must venture says Jesus, scorning all insinuating doubts. He must believe that God is near and good and mighty and that the world will yield to the coworking of God and man. He must cling to the faith that any good thing is too good not to be be true, and that God will bring it to pass. Hear the ringing challenge of Jesus, "Have faith in God." (Mark 11:22) Hear him calling to a glad expectancy "Ask and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you." (Matt. 7:7) Always demanding reality, honesty, lack of "pretense" or vain repetitions", he taught that basic confidence was an essential to all high endeavor and that faith in him was essential to all worthy purposes.

Jesus plainly implied in his teaching that faith is the instrument or channel of salvation. To the woman who pressed through the crowds and was made whole by touching the hem of his garment he said as he turned about and saw her, "Daughter, be of good comfort, thy faith hath made thee whole." (Matt. 9:22)

A certain beverage company in this city has as its slogan the words "Cheer Up!" We tell people not to worry and not to fear and not to lose heart. Sometimes the words are little more than a feeble effort to rally their spirit because we have nothing deeper to say. When Jesus said, "Be of good comfort" he was not just trying to stir up surface courage. He knew life and he knew that since God is Father there is nothing really to fear. "Have faith in God!" That is the foundation of inward peace. Faith is even the secret of mental stability.

Perhaps the best known and most loved story about the way of salvation is the story of Jesus' conversation one night with a man of the Phasisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews. To the immortal question of Nicodemus Jesus' answer is that "Whosoever believeth in him shall not perish but have eternal life." (John 3 15-16) Here is a fundamental truth of faith as revealed in all of the gospel teachings. Faith brings life, unbelief brings doom. "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my words and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation, but is passed from death unto life." (John 6:40) "Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live." (John 11 25) "I ame come a light into the world, that whosever believeth on me should not abide in darkness." (John 12:46) "But theses are written that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and believing ye might have life through his name." (John 20:30) The change from unbelief to faith is passing from death unto life—this is present judgement, present resurrection and present eternal life.

Not only is our salvation according to our faith, but all worthy achievements and blessings are according to faith. "And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; and as thou has believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed the selfsame hour." (Matt. 8:13) "Then touched he their eyes, saying, according to your faith be it unto you. And their eyes were opened." (Matt. 9:29) ". . . if ye have faith and doubt not . . . it shall be done." (Matt. 21:21)

Faith is one of the greatest natural forces in the life of man, and is just as impartial as sunlight or rain. It works by law and this is the law: a living faithfulness. It is not a matter of sentiment, nor of blind, wishful thinking, but of creative, intelligent, consecrated and directed desire. The fixities of God's nature, called "law" by science, are sure, not because of earthly necessity, but because the goodness of God is sure. Jesus in teaching this law said, "How much more shall your father in heaven give good things to them that ask him?" Matt. 7:11)

The special blessings of Sonship and of power to do great works are promised as rewards of faith. "But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name." (John 1:12) "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my father." (John 14:12)

Jesus continually sought to aid faith and strengthen it. He foretold his death and resurrection that his followers might believe. "And now I have told you before it came to pass, that, when it is come to pass ye might believe." (John 14:29) He gave them many signs which John wrote to aid faith. "But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name." (John 20:31(

Jesus prayed for oneness of his followers; that the world might have faith in them. "That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that thou hast sent me." (John 17:21)

Perhaps the story of Peter's great confession (Matt. 16:13-20) gives us the most intimate and significant picture of all Christ's teachings about faith. The scene took place at a critical turning point in the life of Jesus. The deciples were taken by him into the region of Caesarea Phillipi. As he scanned the faces of his chosen companions he seemed to have hesitated to put the question upon which everything turned, because he did not ask them point blank "Who do you think I am?" but asked first, "Who do men say that I, the Son of Man, am?" and in reply they told him of the rumors they had heard. And then we can imagine the pause, and at last the question of questions, "But who say ye that I am?" And Simon Peter answered and said, "Thou art the Christ the Son of the living God." This is the root-faith of Christendom according to its Founder—the faith that he is divine. It is on this rock of confessed faith in Christ that the Christian church is built.

Bartow Drops Devils Second Time, Tuesday

The Avon Park Red Devils went to Bartow Tuesday night and dropped their second baseball game of the season to the Bartow Yellow Jackets. Morrell on the mound for Avon Park lost his first game to the heavy hitting Jackets. He was guilty of issuing several passes and his team mates made six errors. He walked one batter four times.

The Yellow Jackets made two runs in the third frame off three base hits and an error by Davis. Mooneyham, Nichols and Young each contributed a single and Till and Young made runs.

Ralph Hill slapped a three bagger in the fourth inning with two gone. He was caught off the bag for the third out.

In the fifth inning Jimmy Kelly drove a hard smash at the pitcher, which proved to be to hot to handle and it went for a base hit. Fields grounded to shortstop, who threw wild. Kelly took the third bag on the error. Kelly attempted to steal home and was apparently out, but the catcher dropped the ball and he was safe.

Bartow also made a run in that inning. Young, Bartow catcher lined a long fly to Kelly in left field. Kelly misjudged it and Young was safe on second. Taylor singled to right and Young came home.

The Jackets were not satisfied with their lead and made five runs in the sixth inning.

They used two free passes and an error by Jenkins to load the bases. Till, Stanley and Thompson all occupied the sacks after the walks and the error were committed. Young flied to left scoring Till. Stanley and Thompson counted on two successive wild pitches. Mooneyham and Taylor walked. They advanced a base each on pass balls. Fields made a bad throw to first and Mooneyham was home. Taylor sped home on an error by Jenkins.

Religious Liberty Day Observed At Walker Memorial

Religious Liberty Day will be observed at the Walker Memorial Sanitarium Seventh-day Adventist church at Highland Lakes, on May 6. In a special program carried out in all Adventist churches throughout the nation a warning will be sounded against proposed laws which would affect every church organization in its use of the free press. "There are dangerous trends toward curtailments of religious liberties in the United States," declares the pastor of the Adventist church, J. R. Young. "There are six bills pending before Congress, any of which could be interpreted so as to prevent even the New Testament from being distributed through the channels of interstate and foreign commerce and the United States mail. The same laws would keep various classes of church literature from circulating freely. Penalties for violations would be fines up to $5,000 and five years in jail, or both," he said.

"Ancient Sunday Blue Laws are still on the statute books of many states," declared Pastor Young. "Their use from time to time denies complete religious freedom to Catholic, Jew and Protestant alike. Sunday law prosecutions during 1949 were recorded in at least ten states. Arrests involved the selling of meat, the raking of lawns, and the painting of windows on Sunday," he said.

"Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. Our liberties have been purchased for us at a tremendous price, even the blood of thousands. All liberty-loving peoples should be aroused when they see even the slightest encroachments upon these dearly purchased liberties," continued Pastor Young. "The Adventist church is not merely seeking for freedom to promulgate its own message for the world, but it is just as concerned about freedom for all faiths to worship God according to the dictates of conscience," he declared.

In this special Religious Liberty program the members of the Adventist church will be urged to widely distribute the quarterly magazine "Liberty", devoted exclusively to protecting the religious liberties of every American.

State Employment Service Has Job Information

Would you like to know what the employment conditions are in Montana, Alaska, or other far away places?

Then see your nearest office of the Florida State Employment Service as they have inaugurated nationwide job information in the Job Inventory released this week.

Information concerning labor demand and supply in 12 states, Alaska, the District of Columbia and Canada are included in the bulletin. Special information is given on large dam projects throughout the country. At present, however, the local labor supply is adequate to meet the needs at most of these projects except for a few highly skilled workers.

Despite the fact that employment in the tourist and agricultural areas of Florida has passed its peak with no large volume of openings expected until fall, the demand for these specialists is heavier in the larger communities.

A teacher in cabinet making between 30-50 years of age is needed to instruct a class of 20-35 in the art of cabinet making. The job pays $3,000 a year.

While experience is required in most of the specialist jobs listed there is an opening for an inorganic chemist who is a college graduate in chemistry or chemical engineering.

A commercial photographer between 24-45 years is needed in one area. Must have five years experience, preferably with newspapers.

Twelve trainee openings for airport superintendent between 20-25 with college education are listed in another city. They must speak Spanish and should have an A and E license.

There is also an opening for a man or woman with two years experience in supervisory as a medical laboratory technician. The applicant must be registered with A. C. P. A.

Information on these and other jobs may be obtained at any of the local offices of the Florida State Employment Service.

Rotary Club News

H. D. GRAETZ

Mrs. Claire A. Rowe, reading specialist of the local school system, spoke to the Rotary Club on Wednesday. She called attention to the great need for Remedial Reading classes in elementary schools. Fifty-seven percent of the elementary children in the Avon Park School were reading one year or more below their grade level at the beginning of the present school year," Mrs. Rowe declared. During the year a total of 117 children have received remediation. Each child is thoroughly diagnosed as to achievement, capacity, eyes, ears, eyedness and handedness. It was found necessary to fit 18 children with glasses as a result of this diagnosis.

Physical disabilities, emotional blocks, malnutrition and nervousnous are eliminated as nearly as possible. "Then," Mrs. Rowe stated, "the child is given books on his own level which he can read and enjoy. When the child is reading on his own level, he is happy and enjoys reading as a pastime. If a child is forced to read at a level above his achievement, his is frustrated and dislikes reading, or school in general.

"If a child is able to come to school alone, he can be taught to read," Mrs. Rowe said. A child can succeed in reading, if the material is on his own level. The teacher must be sympathetic. The child should be encouraged by being shown his gains.

Mrs. Rowe pointed out the fact that many children are far-sighted at the age of 6 years. If so, they probably are not ready for school. She also warned against making comparisons between children. In closing her address she declared that a need existed for good books on the reading levels of her students.

Billy Wingfield was introduced as the high school senior guest for the month of May. Visiting Rotarians for the day were: R. L. Maxson, Urbana, Illinois; E. F. Armstrong, Hicksville, Ohio; J. B. McClendon, Frostproof; Bill Dutton, Allan Intz and Jack Stephenson of Sebring.

King James and Queen Margaret seated on their throne, surrounded by the royal court enjoy the May Day Festivities, under the Jacaranda Trees in the Mall.

Brilliant May Day Program Enacted Before Colorful Crowd of 500 in the Mall Monday

Miss Margaret Lawhon daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lawhon and James Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Marshal Davis were crowned Queen and King of the May, Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in an elaborate May Day pageant in the Mall.

The throne was decorated with flowers and banked with greenery. A large umbrella formed a rainbow of beautiful colors under which the King and Queen with their royal court were seated.

Mrs. Vaughan Driggers acted as announcer for the show in the absence of Anna Belle Worden, director of the May Day festivities.

Promptly at 4 o'clock, the herald announced the approach of the royal party.

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! We are gathered here today, in the kingdom of May, to welcome our beloved rulers who have been selected by their subjects to reign for one year in this land of beauty and flowers.

In this land of make-believe, we first see a playlet "Spring Awakens" given by pupils from Miss Fountaine's 3rd Grade.

Now that Spring has set the stage with blue of sky, rainbow colors of showers and flowers, and laid a carpet of velvet green grass for Royalty and their court, we see arriving in the distance a bevy of fair ladies who comprise the Senior Court.

Betty June, of the House of McKinney; Marjorie, of the House of Hetherington; Ruth, of the House of Sellers; Jennie Bell, of the House of Mann; Janet, of the House of Sauls; Pat, of the House of Smith; Anna, of the House of Vilkaitis; Martha, of the House of Hayes; Margaret, of the House of Roan; Roberta, of the House of Harris; Gerry, of the House of Elder; Betty Jo, of the House of Elder; Pat of the House of Lagoni; Joyce, of the House of Basemore; Mary Nell, of the House of Cooper; Helen, of the House of Bryant; Margaret, of the House of Lloyd; Helen, of the House of Wilson; Helen, of the House of Knowles; Virginia, of the House of Norris; Ramona, of the House of Meyer; Joyce, of the House of Wingfield; Anne, of the House of Palmer; Wilma, of the House of Giddens; Laverne, of the House of Purvis; Judy, of the House of Wright; Lynn, of the House of Longbottom; Pat, of the House of Bovard; Sandra, of the House of Rodgers; Kathryn, of the House of Howell; Hortense, of the House of Weed; Norma Jean, of the House of Thompson; Mary Jo, of the House of Hill.

There follows now the Maids of Honor and their Escorts.

Martha Jo, of the House of Little and Thomas of the House of Jenkins; Betty Rose, of the House of Ford and Bruce of the House of Spencer; Patricia of the House of Smith and Julian of the House of Fowler.

Lovely little girls are now approaching, scattering flower petals for our King and Queen to tread upon. Kathy Kluberg, Linda Shepherd, Cindy Metcalf and Sherry Wells.

Beauty Queen Margaret, of the House of Lawhon, and noble James, of the House of Davis, are arriving to take their places on the throne which we have prepared for them.

Now come our Junior Maids to await our Junior King and Queen.

Barbara, of the House of Marshal; Carolyn, of the House of Arnold; Linda, of the House of Rogers; Judy, of the House of Stringer; Shirley, of the House of Mosley; Joe, of the House of Wright; Suzan, of the House of Crews; Clytee, of the House of Coleman; Ellin, of the House of Etter; Judy, of the House of King; Joan, of the House of Williams.

Behold our Junior Queen, Sara Lou, of the House of Smith and our Junior King, Billy, of the House of McCreary.

Now that Queen Margaret and King James—Queen Sara Lou and King Billy—have claimed their thrones, their subjects wish to express their pleasure by providing entertainment for their majesties.

First come their youngest subjects to delight them with music —a Ryhm Band from the Whitcomb Kindergarten School.

And now a Ballet by the pupils of the England School of Dance.

Miss Harrell's 4th Graders will present a folk dance for our enjoyment.

The traditional Maypole danced by pupils from Mrs. Sherman's and Mrs. Lookoff's 5th Grades.

Before we leave our land of make believe to return to our everyday affairs, the student council wishes to express their thanks to the Garden Club, especially Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Marshall, committee chairmen, for the beautiful floral arrangements and decoration of the throne; to the City of Avon Park for the police protection; to Mr. Gorman and the Band for furnishing the background of beautiful music; to the Whitcomb Kindergarten School, the England School of Dance, the teachers, Miss Fountain, Miss Harrell, Mrs. Sherman, Mrs. Lookhoff, for drilling their pupils intheir parts; to Mrs. Morgan who has come from Sebring to play the piano for us; to the boys of the Projection Club who have arranged our loud speaker for us; to the patrol boys of the 6th grade for their help; to Anna Belle Worden for staging and directing this pageant; to everyone who has helped us make this affair the success it has been.

Now as Royalty is departing, this is Herald Elizabeth Driggers signing off in the absence of Herald Anna Belle Worden whom we miss so much today. Thanks to all of you for your presence here in the land of May.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Herold of Charleston, W. Va., have returned to their home after a two weeks visit with Mrs. Herold's aunt, Mrs. Samuel Norris and Mr. Norris at their home on Church St. While here Mr. and Mrs. Herold and Mr. and Mrs. Norris made a tour of many interesting places in Florida.

Juniors And Seniors Dine and Dance At Banquet Saturday Night At Lake Byrd

By PAT LAGONI

"Bon Voyage" was the theme of the banquet presented by the junior class of Avon Park High School in honor of the Class of 1950, on Saturday, April 29, at 8:00 o'clock at Lake Byrd Lodge. The banquet, annual affair, was presented under the direction of E. D. Charpie, sponsor of the Class of 1950, and the food was prepared by a group of mothers from the Parent Teachers Association.

The senior class colors, green and silver, and the class flower, a yellow rose, were used, in the decoration. The center piece for the speakers' table was a silver ship and on the wall behind the table, in green and white, was a sign which read, "Bon Voyage Class of 1950". White cardboard light houses, lit up in green, and with the theme printed on one side, were placed in the center of each table. White anchors could be seen on the posts around the rooms.

The favors were small cups of life savers, chewing gum, and salted peanuts with a novelty ship pinned to the side of each cup. Programs were used as place cards.

Gene Cruse, president of the junior class, was a very efficient master of ceremonies. Throughout the meal, which consisted of ambrosia, mashed potatoes, fried chicken, Golden Bantam corn, butter and rolls, salad, iced tea and pie a la Mode, Gene introduced the speakers. Gene spoke on "Vikings All". "Over the Waves" was the subject chosen by Norman Todd, senior class president, who expressed the appreciation of the seniors for such an enjoyable occasion. Bobby Whitcomb, representative of the sophomore class, was unable to attend and present his speech, which was to be entitled "Yo Heave Ho". Miss Millie Pearson, senior sponsor, spoke in behalf of the faculty and expressed appreciation for the banquet. Subject of her talk was "Anchors Aweigh". Joyce Thomas represented the Freshman classes and spoke on "Going Places". Mr. Wilhite told of some "Educational Landmarks".

The mothers who prepared the food and the waitresses, sophomore girls, were asked to come forward from the "galley," as "M. C." Cruse expressed appreciation to them for their services. The sophomore girls who served the banquet were: Maxine Gilliard, LaFaye Todd, Caryl Hill, Catherine Fletcher, Mary Lou Farmer, Joyce Henderson, and Pat Denmark.

Gene also introduced and welcomed the special guests, who were: Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Garber, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wells and Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Longbottom.

In the center of the dance room was a large plastic ball covered with mirror glass. Colored spot lights were flashed at the ball, reflecting light throughout the room. Punch was served by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hutchinson during the dance.

Throughout the evening, Mr. Garber photographed the couples who attended the dance.

At about 12:30, the orchestra played its last number and the tired but happy couples left the dance.

Through combined efforts of Mr. Charpie and his juniors, the Parent-Teacher Association, Mr. and Mrs. Pickens, Sam Green and friends, a very enjoyable evening was had by teachers, students and guests.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Plane Incident Heats Up Cold War; German Rearmament Pleas Spread; Court Upholds Georgia Vote System

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

COLD WAR:
Heating Up

Russia had heated up the Cold war.

A United States air force navy Privateer had disappeared after a flight in which it was reported to have flown over Russian territory. The Russians claimed the plane had fired upon a Russian aircraft, and then had disappeared over the Baltic sea.

A WIDESPREAD HUNT by American officials was launched for the missing plane. Erroneous reports had it that life rafts from the plane had been found. The first reported rafts turned out to be only fishing boxes.

But later, a life raft was picked up and air force officials indicated a conviction it came from the missing plane, which had 10 crew members aboard. A British ship under command of Captain J. Henderson reported finding the raft and said it was partly collapsed. The air-supply bottle was exhausted and supply pockets were open and empty.

There were no signs of life and no messages were found.

Had the Soviets shot down the plane, or so crippled it by gunfire that it crashed in the Baltic? That was the big question. Bigger yet was the question: "What would the United States do if it were developed that the plane was a victim of Russian gunfire?

THOSE were questions that would have to wait, however, until the answer to what had actually happened to the plane had been cleared up—if it ever could be cleared up.

Meanwhile, American tempers grew a little shorter with Russian tactics and there was no denying that the Cold War had taken on a degree or so more heat.

GEORGIA:
Unit Vote Stays

The county-unit vote determination system is unique in the United States because only two states use it. It is unique, too, in that it is found acceptable by city populations in these states, when its use gives votes in some rural counties up to 122 times more weight than those in city areas.

But, the U.S. supreme court has said the system is all right. In a 7 to 2 decision it refused to strike down the county-unit vote in Georgia. Maryland is the only other state employing this system.

JUSTICE BLACK and Douglas protested bitterly against the majority opinion, which was brief and unsigned. These two members of the court declared the action failed to plug what they called the last loopholes in the court's decision which gives Negroes the right to vote.

The majority opinion said that federal courts have no right to interfere with the way a state geographically apportions voting strength. It made no mention of any racial issue the dissenters saw in the case.

Two Georgia voters attacked the existing law. Under the system, each of Georgia's 159 counties is alloted a number of unit votes, ranging from six for the eight most-populous counties down to two for most of the counties.

THE CANDIDATE who receives the most popular votes in a county is awarded all its unit votes. The system, in that respect, works something like the electoral college.

ROYALTY:
Tough Going

Everyone has known for a long time that with the exception of England, royalty has been having a tough time. With the changing times have gone royal privilege and pomp but, chiefly regretful to royalty, the cash, too, has gone.

LATEST to join the ranks of impoverished noblemen was a German duke, Ernst August, of Coumebrland and Brunswick, father of a queen and cousin of a king.

Duke Ernst was really up against it. He was so badly off, financially, that he had to sell treasured antiques just to pay his grocery bills. Rare old relics of his family's medieval splendor were to go under the auctioneer's hammer.

Said the duke, philosophically, "Of course, I'm sorry to part with these things, but it just can't be helped." The duke was down to his last two castles—and one of them is a war ruin.

TV FOOTBALL:
One Show Over

Football fans who have been following Big Ten football via television screen, will find that this fall the show's over. They'll have to go out to the stadium now, instead of sitting cozily at home and following the play.

Big Ten athletic directors, meeting in Chicago, voted to ban live television of their schools' football games for this season. The action may cost the conference $200,000.

Starts Sixth Year

Harry S. Truman, looking trim and fit, has started his sixth year as President of the United States. The Chief Executive, 66 on May 8th, rounded out his fifth year with a renewed determination to win the "cold war" with Soviet Russia.

GERMANY:
A Repetition?

Any mention of rearming Germany makes cold chills run down the backs of those who remember how a beaten, dismantled Reich was permitted to come back and plunge the world into the most devastating conflict it had ever known.

THREE TIMES in the past 80 years, German war machines have struck swiftly and ruthlessly at the peace of the world. Had the Germanic hordes ever won a world conflict, something of what the vanquished might have expected is provided in the terms laid down by these conquerors of the French in 1870, when German troops stayed on French soil until every penny of reparations demanded was paid.

How the individual may have fared under the Teuton heel was revoltingly demonstrated by Hitler and his sadistic Nazis.

Now, all the great talk, the board planning, the global thinking is merging into one resounding chorus: "Rearm Germany!"

Joining this chorus was General Jacob L. Devers, retired chief of U.S. army field forces, who said in an address in Louisville, Ky., that western Germans "Would like to fight for us, under American officers, against the Russians," if war should come, and he added "They can fight like Hell!"

NO ONE disputes that. But recent history is too grim for such proposals to be received with general equanimity. Too many people of the world will remember that it was that very fear of possible Russian attack which led France and England to sit by with folded hands while Hitler flouted the Versailles treaty and served notice on the world that he was going to rearm Germany. "Let him go," seemed to be the whispered desire, "he'll serve as an excellent buffer against the Russians."

So Chamberlain went to Berchesgaden with his folded umbrella and came back hugging to his breast the miserable pledge of the Austrian madman of "peace in our time."

The world had a horrible taste of that kind of "peace." To rearm Germany creates a fearful possibility that the dose may be repeated.

STRIKE THREAT:
Old Issue Flares

Two big railway unions were ready to "review the whole case" of their Diesel-engine dispute with the nation's railroads. If the results weren't satisfactory to the brotherhoods, the country faced a major strike threat.

The argument was two years old and was easy to state. The unions felt that the adoption of Diesel-powered locomotives discriminated against manpower and insisted that an extra man be put on these locomotives, whether there was any need for him or not.

The railroads, on the other hand, have refused to do this.

Union leaders refused to discuss just how imminent a strike might be or when and in what matter it might be called. Instead, they indicated a review of the situation.

The union was in a highly strategic position. It was free to strike at any time, inasmuch as all "cooling off" provisions of the railway labor act have been exhausted.

Thunderjet

The air force's Republic "Thunderjet" was reaching out farther and farther to deal death and confusion to any potential U.S. enemy. The air force reported that the F-843's range has been increased to where it can carry out most types of missions more than 1,000 miles from base. The increased operation radius is available for straffing missions, bomber escort and hunting enemy fighters.

Tragedy to Truth

Lesson for May 7, 1950

GOOD PREACHERS are not all of one kind. In listening to some of them, you have the impression that what this man says would be just as true if another man said it; that he is uttering a universal truth that might as well have been written on the sky; he is a voice, only a voice. In listening to other good preachers you have the impression that no other man could have said this as well as he; what he says is distilled from his own experience; he is not only a voice, he is a heart, and you hear the man's heart-beats all through his words. Now Hosea was this kind of prophet. You might say that his experience was the text of all his sermons.

And so They Were Married

THE STORY of Hosea is in chapters 1—3. (Experts in Old Testament study have never quite agreed as to the meaning of the story. However, the interpretation which is offered here is the one now held by the majority of scholars.) It is the story of Hosea's marriage to a girl named Gomer. If it was a normal marriage, he loved her with all his heart, and his hopes for the future were as bright as any young bridegroom's could be. In time they had a little boy named Jezreel.

Then came the second child, a girl named Lo-Ruhamah. In Hebrew, that name means "No-Mercy." What a name for a little girl! But is it possible that Hosea named her for her mother—not for her mother's name but for her mother's character? At all events, things were not well in that home; indeed, it soon ceased to be a home. For when the third child was born, Hosea gave the boy the dreadful name of Lo-Ammi, No-Child-of-Mine.

There was no use in pretending any more. The home had collapsed, happiness had fled. No experience a man can have is more bitter than this, to know that the one great love of his life has been given to the wrong woman. But Gomer vanished, leaving Hosea, as such a woman would, to care for the three motherless children.

Home Again

HOW MANY MONTHS or years later it was we do not know. But one day, in the slave market, Hosea saw a woman for sale. The price was low (as slaves went in those days); evidently few buyers were expected. A half-price slave would not attract attenion from most men, but Hosea looked twice . . . Yes, it was his Gomer! Where she had been, who had abused her, made her a slave, how many times she had been sold and resold, no one knows. But there she was.

Hosea might easily have stood and laughed bitterly in her bedraggled face. It serves her right, he might have thought. The way of the transgressor is hard, she made her bed and now she can lie in it. Justice has been done, I am avenged. And with a parting curse he might have gone his way.

Somehow beneath all the shame and disillusionment, beneath the bitterness and the pain, still the old love was burning bright. Paying the small price asked, he took Gomer home again. Love had conquered evil.

Long before Christianity, Hosea did that rarely Christian thing, he did good to one who had done him harm. Gomer was unloving, unlovable; yet he loved her in spite of all

Sermons From the Heart

THIS BITTER EXPERIENCE God turned into a blessing, for Hosea and for his nation and for us. In our study next week we shall see more of what God taught Hosea through these experiences.

But the first thing Hosea learned was that the experience was a lesson, God's lesson. He could even look back on the tragedy of his marriage and see that God was leading him all along, from the very first. God knew what sort of woman Gomer was and would be, yet he wished Hosea to marry her. God intended that he should go through just those years.

Without the tragedy, he could not have arrived at the truth. His sermons thenceforth came from the depths of his heart. Hosea, like all the prophets, denounced sin; like all the prophets, he could see the fatal effects of sin on his nation.

Hundreds Tell Bob Wills Of Hadacol's Numerous Blessings

Hundreds of folks, who are benefiting every day from taking HADACOL meet at the Trianon Building in Oklahoma City where Bob Wills, famous band leader, and his Texas Playboys broadcast each noon for HADACOL.

"It looks like all my fans are getting wonderful benefits from HADACOL," said Wills. "It is a real pleasure to broadcast for HADACOL because the folks taking HADACOL are so enthusiastic that I feel like I am performing a real service for mankind."

Hundreds have told Wills of the blessed benefits of HADACOL and the following statement by Miss Betty Lou Lobb, 720 College St., Bethany, a well-known singer, is a good example.

"I was tired, run down and lost my appetite. I suffered with gastric disturbances. I had tried almost everything but it didn't seem to help me. I had heard about the wonderful results HADACOL had been bringing to so many of my friends. Soon after taking HADACOL I was feeling much better, had no gastric disturbances and had a wonderful appetite. I am no longer nervous. I am sure that HADACOL has helped me a great deal and I recommend it to my friends."

Miss Lobb suffered with a deficiency of B Vitamins and important Minerals which HADACOL contains.

A lack of only a small amount of the B Vitamins and certain Minerals will cause digestive disturbances.... Your food will not agree with you. . . . You will have an upset stomach. . . . You will suffer from heartburns, gas pains, and your food will sour on your stomach, and you will not be able to eat the things you like for fear of being in misery afterwards. Many people also suffer from constipation. And while these symptoms may be the results of other causes, they are surely and certainly the symptoms and signs of the lack of the B Vitamins and Minerals which HADACOL contains. And if you suffer from such a disorder, there is no known cure except the administration of the Vitamins and the Minerals which your system lacks.

HADACOL contains not only one, but 5 of the B Vitamins. HADACOL contains not only one, but 4 of the necessary Minerals. It comes to you in liquid form, easily assimilated in the blood stream so that it can go to work right away.

Bob Wills Hears About HADACOL'S Blessings

Bob Wills, famous western music band leader, loves to talk with his fans at the Trianon Building auditorium in Oklahoma City about the blessings of HADACOL. In the picture above Miss Betty Lou Lobb, 720 College St., Bethany, Okla., a very promising young singer, tells Bob how HADACOL has helped her. Hundreds of folks who are obtaining rich blessings from the precious B Vitamins and Minerals in HADACOL visit Wills each week for his network broadcast, which is originated from KBYE, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma's western music station, and sent over a leased wire to stations, KRMG, Tulsa; KWHN, Fort Smith; KGLC, Miami, Oklahoma; KLYN, Amarillo, and KWFT, Wichita Falls.

It is easy to understand, therefore, why countless of thousands have already been benefited by this amazing tonic, HADACOL.

So, it matters not who you are . . . it matters not where you live . . . or if you have tried all the medicines under the sun, give this wonderful preparation a trial. Don't go on suffering. Don't continue to lead a miserable life. Many persons who have suffered and waited for 10 to 20 years or even longer, are able now to live happy, comfortable lives again because HADACOL supplied the Vitamins and Minerals which their systems needed. Be fair to yourself. Give HADACOL a trial. Demand the genuine HADACOL. Accept no substitutes.

Trial size only $1.25. But if you are so fortunate as to obtain the large family or hospital size, we urge you to save money—only $3.50.

We are so firm in our belief that HADACOL will help you that we sell HADACOL on a money-back guarantee. If you don't feel perfectly satisfied after using HADACOL as directed, just return the empty carton and your money will be cheerfully refunded. Nothing could be fairer.

If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana. Send no money. Just your name and address on a penny post card. Pay postman. State whether you want the $3.50 hospital economy size or $1.25 trial size. Remember, money cheerfully refunded unless you are 100% satisfied.—Adv.

FACIAL NEURALGIA

The pain of facial neuralgia has been described as severe as any that man is ever called upon to endure. This pain lasts for from a few seconds to a few minutes but is of such violence that the sufferer winces and contorts his face in agony.

Neuralgia is an inflammation of the trigeminal nerve of the face and may spread throughout its three branches. Attacks of this type of facial neuralgia are brought on by apparently trivial movements, such as eating, drinking, talking, washing the face, or even shaving. A loud sound or even a light touch to "trigger zones" around the nose or mouth may bring on an attack.

In the beginning, there are often long intervals between seizures—months to years—but finally, in practically all cases, the pain becomes continuous and extends to all three branches of the trifacial nerve. In about 3 per cent of cases, tic douloureux, a spasmodic facial neuralgia, follows and affects both sides of the face.

Spontaneous recovery from facial neuralgia has never been reported. Although the condition is intermittent, it does not permanently disappear except as the result of proper medical or surgical treatment. Injections of alcohol into the branches of the nerve, while a radical treatment, seems, in expert hands, to be the best hope of successful treatment. At one of the leading hospitals in the United States it was reported that the average period of relief from facial neuralgia through alcohol injection is about a year and a half, though many are relieved for much longer periods.

Doctors To Attend Heart Seminar In Miami

Hundreds of doctors in Florida and surrounding states will be trooping back to school in Miami Beach May 15-20 to learn the latest developments in the treatment of the nation's number one killer—heart disease.

The postgraduate cardiovascular seminar, which will have its headquarters in the Delano Hotel, took on an international touch today when it was announced that Dr. Ramon Aixala of Havana, official delgate from Cuba to the second Inter-American Congress of cardiology, would serve on the seminar faculty. Delegations of doctors from Cuba and Puerto Rico also are expected to attend seminar sessions.

The seminar is being presented by the Miami Heart Association, the Florida Heart Association, the Dade County Medical Association, the Florida Medical Association and the Florida State Board of Health, sponsors have announced.

Need for improved methods of diagnosing and treating heart disease was stressed today in a statement from Dr. Wilson T. Sowder, State Health officer who maintains headquarters in Jacksonville, Fla.

"Figures just compiled by the State Board of Health of Vital Statistics," said Dr. Sowder, "show that in 1949, diseases of the heart were credited with causing at least 8,209 of the state's death toll of 25,317 people. We believe that the time and money put out on the seminar at Miami Beach May 15-20 will be well spent in terms of saving and extending human life."

Outstanding figures on the faculty, in addition to Dr. Alexis, include: Dr. T. Duckett Jones of New York, medical director of the Helen Hay Whitney Foundation of Rheumatic Fever; Dr. Charles C. Wolferth, professor of medicine, University of Pennsylvania and director of the university hospital's cardiac clinic, Philadelphia; Dr. Abraham Gootnick, director of Cardiovascular services, Veterans Administration Teaching Hospital, Fort Hamilton, Veterans Hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y.;

Dr. Irvine H. Page, director of research for the Cleveland, Ohio, Clinic Foundation and prominently associated with several agencies in the heart disease field; Dr. Robert Parker, associate professor of medicine, Mayo Foundation, the graduate school of the University of Minnesota, and consultant in cardiology for the Mayo Clinic, Rochester; Dr. Irving Wright, professor of clinical medicine, Cornell University and civilian consultant in medicine to the U. S. Surgeon General, U. S. Army, New York; Dr. E. Cowles Andrus, associate professor of medicine at Johns Hopkins University and physician-in-charge of the Johns Hopkins hospital cardiac clinic, who also serves as chairman of the U. S. Public Health Service Cardiovascular Study Section, Baltimore, Md.;

Dr. Walter M. Bartlet, Atlanta, Ga., instructor in medicine at the Emory University school of medicine and area section chief of internal medicine for the Veterans Administration; Dr. G. E. Burch, Jr., New Orleans, professor and chairman of the department of medicine at Tulane University, who also serves in important posts with Oschner Clinic and the U. S. Public Health Service;

Dr. Arthur DeGraff, New York, Samuel A. Brown Professor of Therapeutics at New York University College of Medicine, staff member and consultant for several hospitals.

Mrs. Hubert Bussard and daughter, Peggy, Claire Maxwell and Miss Patricia Sheffield accompanied Mrs. Hayes Maxwell and Jane to Miami last Saturday and were the guests of friends over the weekend.

State Fencing Bill Deadline July 1st States Fla. Cattleman

The July 1st deadline of the state fencing bill to keep cattle off the highways is only a few weeks away, it is stated in the editorial columns of the May Florida Cattleman—official organ of the Florida State Cattlemen's Association—which is now in the mails.

"We believe that the State of Florida, through the Highway Patrol, and the counties of Florida, through their Sheriffs, are going to enforce this law strictly," states Editor Bob Cody.

"We believe that they should in the interests of the traveling public and of the cattlemen as well. We hope all Florida livestock owners will have their fencing completed, or their land adjacent to state and federal highways vacated, before July 1," Cody continued.

This 80-page issue of The Cattleman is the special Glades issue containing a series of articles covering irrigation, development of Big Joe corn, water control, crossbreeding of cattle and study of livestock disease at the experiment station, and the May 12, opening of the new Glades Livestock Market, located between Pahokee and Belle Glade. These are all special features of the Everglades.

Factual and pictorial coverage of the Imperial Eastern Brahman Show held recently at Bartow and the 2nd Southeast Florida Livestock Show recently held at Belle Glade, and many other features and articles pertinent to Florida's cattle industry are contained in this issue of The Cattleman.
