Avon Park Folks In Germany

Cpl. Henry Clark, Mrs. Roberts, Lt. John D. Roberts

10 August, 1951
Eschwege, Germany

Avon Park Sun
Avon Park, Florida.
Dear Sirs:

Thought it might be interesting for you to know that on the week-end of July 14-15 my wife and I met Cpl. Henry Clark in Frankfurt, Germany. I am enclosing two snapshots taken in the area of the "Bahnhof" (R.R. station). Cpl. Clark wrote me a letter when he arrived in Hanau, Germany, so on that week-end my wife and I drove to Hanau to meet him. Frankfurt is only 15 miles from Hanau, so we spent a very nice two days together there.

I also drove to Mannheim, Germany, about six weeks ago and looked up Pvt. Leslie LaFlam. We had a nice talk about Avon Park.

If any more of the people from Avon Park get over this way I sure wish they'd get in touch with me. My address is:

1st Lt. John D. Roberts, 7734 Signal Serv. Det. c/o Eucom Ordnance School, A.P.O. 171, U.S. Army.

P.S. We receive the "Sun" regularly, and it sure is nice to get all the news from home.

(Note: Lt. Roberts' return address given on the envelope of his letter is also copied for the benefit of those wishing to write him from the U.S.: Lt. John D. Roberts - 02033872, c/o Eucom Ordnance School, APO 171, c/o Postmaster, New York, N.Y.)

Civil Air Patrol Change Meeting Date

Highlands County Civil Air Patrol Cadets from Avon Park and Sebring met last Friday night at the Cadet Headquarters at the Municipal Pier to begin the official organization of the Patrol. The Cadet Honor Code, Leader Personnel, types of instruction and choice of Air Age subjects were discussed.

It was also decided, beginning with Tuesday September 4, all future meetings would be held Tuesday nights at 7:30 instead of Friday nights, due to the athletic program in the County. No meeting will be held this week. Boys and girls 15 through 17 are cordially invited to attend the CAPC meeting on September 4, and enjoy an interesting evening with the cadets.

DRIVERS' EXAMINATIONS TO BE ON FRIDAYS

Beginning next week, examinations for driver's licenses will be given on Friday afternoons instead of Monday.

Highway Patrolman John E. Hicks will be at the City Hall every Friday afternoon from 2:00 to 4:00, to conduct these examinations.

Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Norris spent the weekend in Orlando with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Prestly.

Big Crowds Attend Baptist Revival

The First Baptist Church is now in the second and final week of their revival services in the "Big Tent" on South Highlands Avenue. Between 500 and 700 have attended every night. More than 50 have been in the choir each night. Prayer groups are meeting at 7:15. A young people's "Singspiration" is held at 7:00. Congregational singing has been enjoyed as well as special music furnished by the men's quartet, girls' trio, duets and solos under the direction of R. O. Stone, Jr., evangelistic singer.

Bennie Skinner, 19-year-old evangelist, is reported to have moved the congregation every night with powerful Bible messages. Spokesmen for the First Baptist Church feel that no one in Avon Park should miss the opportunity to hear this outstanding evangelist.

Must Have Drivers License By Sept. 30

County Judge Livingston has been supplied with a large number of 1952 Florida driver licenses, an announcement from the Department of Public Safety said today.

The announcement said that motor vehicle operators must obtain a renewal of their permits by September 30 or face arrest. Drivers may start obtaining their licenses on the first of the month.

The Department stated the most important change in license this year is that the expiration date has been moved from October 1 to September 30.

Another change in the driver license law effects military personnel. Men and women in the armed forces have been granted ninety days after their discharge to obtain a renewal of their permits without penalty.

Persons seeking a license for the first time or those whose permits have expired must undergo a driving examination.

Higgins Named As Highlands Comm.

Governor Warren Monday named W. V. Higgins of Sebring to the Highlands County Commission, to fill the unexpired term of John W. Schumacher, removed by the 1951 state senate after suffering a nervous breakdown.

Higgins, a realtor, resigned from the Highlands school board, to which he was appointed last year by Warren, to accept the commission post. Henry G. Bailey, Sebring insurance agent, was appointed to replace him on the school board.

Mrs. Demos Mandis is at home again after visiting her daughter, Mrs. John Caraberis, and family, in Trumbull, Conn.

ClearGround For Library Building

The site of the new library is being cleared and building is expected to begin next week. The fund on hand will start the work, but is not enough to complete it. Your help is asked.

Everyone would probably agree that a progressive community should have a good public library, with a large range of reference books and non-fiction, as well as fiction. For several years, our library has been huddled into the Woman's Club building, which is wholly inadequate, too small to house the number of books we should have.

Therefore, when one of the women listed below calls on you sometime during the month of September, please be ready to receive her with as generous a contribution to this library building fund as you possibly can. What helps the town, helps you individually, and we believe this library project will have far reaching benefits to the community for years to come.

Those calling on homes, beginning next week and continuing through September, are: Mrs. Samuel Norris, Mrs. Earl Hartt, Mrs. W. D. Dorminey, Mrs. W. W. Wingfield, Mrs. S. F. Longbottom, Mrs. R. H. Lawhon, Mrs. W. J. Head, Mrs O. C. Wilkes, Mrs. I. H. Ford, Mrs. D. G. Perry, Mrs. C. R. Ginn, Mrs. J .C. DeShong, Mrs. M. Kirkland, Mrs. R. J. Barben, Mrs. Cecil Skipper, Mrs. Floyd Wells, Mrs. C. O. Locke, III, Mrs. J. W. Fisher, Mrs. Herbert R. Todd, Mrs. H. E. Keller, Mrs. F. A. Truan, Mrs. Alice Sherman, Mrs. R. H. Jordan, Mrs. A. C. Wester, Sr., Mrs. Walter S. Betts, and Mrs. E. G. Todd.

Let's all get behind the library committee and its helpers and put this money-raising campaign over in a big way.

Local Adventist Church To Be Represented

James McCarthy, of the maintenance department at Walker Memorial Hospital, has been chosen to represent the Walker-Memorial Seventh-day Adventist church at the North American Laymen's Congress at Grand Ledge, Michigan, August 29, to September 2.

More than 10,000 people are expected to attend week-end meetings of this first national laymen's meeting ever held by the church. They will include 2,400 official delegates chosen from among the most active Adventist laymen.

Practical instruction in house-to-house visiting, welfare work, holding Bible classes and cottage meetings, distributing literature, and other lay activities, will be featured in daily workshops.

Plans are being made for 5,000 visitors at the congress to visit every home in nearby Lansing in an effort to encourage greater study of the Bible.

Guest speakers at the congress will include Senator John W. Bricker of Ohio; Michigan's Governor G. M. Williams; the Adventists' world president, Elder William H. Branson of Washington, D.C.; and other church leaders from this country and overseas.

Florida Power Issues Hurricane Advice

Don't take chances with electricity during hurricanes, George F. Woodham, manager for Florida Power Corporation here, warned today, pointing out that the greatest trouble lies in fallen wires.

"We build our lines and equipment strong enough to withstand driving winds and rains of great force, but in spite of all we can do, trees fall, lightning strikes, lines are knocked to the ground, and services go out during hurricanes," Woodham said.

"We will do everything possible to get your service back on as soon as it is safe to do so.

Woodham urged that the following rules be observed during hurricanes:

If your power should go off, notify the local Florida Power office immediately, (telephone 117), but call only one time or you will tie up the telephones with needless calls.

Beware of lines that have fallen to the ground. Notify Florida Power immediately. stay away from lines, instruct children to keep away, and don't try to move lines with sticks or brooms, and don't go near metal fences on which lines may have fallen.

If you have a home freezer and the electricity should go off, don't open the doors or the frozen food will thaw quickly. The freezer will protect the food for 36 to 54 hours if the doors are kept closed . . . and up to 72 hours if the freezer is full.

If your lights grow dim but continue to burn, notify the local office immediately, and open the main switch into the house to cut off the electricity as the low voltage might cause refrigerator or freezer motors to burn out.

T. H. Maxwell and Thomas Maxwell have returned from a two-weeks visit with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maxwell at White Plains, Georgia.

Missionary From Cape Verde Islands

The Nazarene Church of Avon Park announces a very special service on Sunday night, Sept. 2, 1951, at 7:45 p.m. The service will highlight a recently returned missionary from the Cape Verde Islands, who will relate many interesting stories, including stories about the natives and their customs and behaviour, and his own fifty-mile trip on muleback the day after a very narrow escape from a raging storm at sea.

The missionary is making a tour to bring to us a closer picture of our neighbors, how they need and must have the gospel. All are welcome to attend this service of special interest. The pastor says, "Tell a friend and come."

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

Recently the University of Miami conducted a survey in the Greater Miami area to determine what induced folks to come to Florida. Were they influenced by newspaper advertising, radio, television, publicity or what?

While all of these avenues of contact brought a goodly number, the thing that influenced people the most was the recommendation of relatives or personal friends who had been there and returned with glowing reports of their trip.

The visitors who are with us today are the super-salesmen who will advertise Florida far and wide and cause millions to follow in their footsteps. Florida possesses an abundance of natural charm and beauty, lakes and rivers, ocean and gulf, sunshine and sea breezes, palm trees and bathing beauties, but her greatest asset is her people.

Every visitor must contact people everywhere, hotel clerks, bellboys, waitresses, taxi drivers, sales girls, clerks, policemen. The over-all picture and opinion our tourists form of Florida is based primarily on their reaction to our people.

They won't like Florida if they don't like our people. All of our sunshine, palm trees, beaches and other attractions lose their glamour and appeal unless they are backed up by the friendliness and courtesy of Floridians as individuals.

Realizing this, the Florida Power and Light Company inaugurated a campaign a few months ago to sell the idea that "Courtesy Pays." By the use of car and telephone stickers, placards, posters and advertising, they broadcast the slogan "Courtesy Wins Friends For Florida, For Your Company and For You."

Company employees were the first to react. Everywhere they turned they found reminders that "Courtesy Pays". Meeting customers with a smile became a habit. Girls on the switchboards, clerks behind the counter, truck drivers, service men, everyone began to get courtesy-conscious.

So successful was the campaign that others were impressed. Walter Headley Chief of Police, set out to win friends for Miami, the Department and his Force. Decals on every motorcycle and patrol car urged courtesy and reminded every officer that "Courtesy Wins Friends, For Miami, the Department and You." Stickers appeared on desks, telephones, washroom mirrors, everywhere. Everywhere a member of the Miami Police Department turned he encountered such a reminder. Pedestrians and motorists alike noted a marked change. The old familiar, "Hey, You, pull over to the curb," gave way to a more courteous approach. Smiles replaced scowls. Officers were firm but courteous and the results were amazing.

So impressed was a California visitor that he wrote, "The sunshine of your courtesy is even more penetrating and impressive than the sunshine of Mother Nature herself."

In October, Miami will play host to the American Legion National Convention and thousands of Legionnaires from every state in the Union will be her guests. Many of these folks will be visiting Florida for the first time and the Magic City is anxious to make as favorable an impression on them as possible.

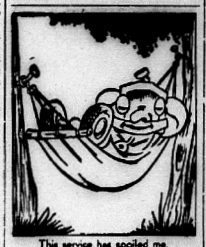

Noting the success of the Power Company and Police Department courtesy campaign, Joe H. Adams, of El Comodoro Hotel, General Convention Chairman, is adopting the courtesy theme and slogan for the convention.

Thousands of stickers, posters and other forms of reminders will be displayed throughout the greater Miami area in hotels, restaurants, on cabs, car and buses, in Legion Posts and at convention headquarters carrying the slogan, "Courtesy Wins Friends For Miami, The Legion and You."

It is bound to pay off in a big way for there is nothing that means as much to a visitor or stranger as friendliness and courtesy. The language of courtesy is understood and appreciated by almost everyone. Little words like "Please," "Thank You," or "I'm Sorry," generate a feeling of warmth and kindliness. Irate customers can be completely disarmed by them. It is natural to respond in kind and when you smile and are courteous, the other fellow usually meets you half way; if he doesn't, you have the satisfaction that attends being courteous, for you have retained the sunshine in your heart and that makes personal happiness.

Other communities, organizations and companies would find it tremendously profitable to follow Miami's lead and inauguarate a "Courtesy Campaign." Not for a day, or week or month, but always.

Last year over 615 million broiler size chickens were produced commercially in the U.S., compared with only 150 thousand a decade ago, according to the Florida Farm Bureau.

This service has spoiled me.

That's the way we treat our customers. But, even more important, we KNOW HOW to care for your CAR. Get the habit of driving in regularly.

COMMON AND RARE DISEASES

J. D. Benson
Church of the Nazarene

It has been quite alarming in the past few years to enumerate the vast number of new but rare diseases. Many of them seem to appear suddenly in certain areas of the universe while others come on gradually and become worse as time goes on. Many of the more common diseases have been equally as much of a problem to control or cure as have the new ones and even today we realize that many of the most common diseases are becoming serious in that medical science cannot control them.

I speak of one of these common and probably a most common malady for which the medical science has no cure nor ever will have. This disease has been known since the time of the beginning and is very prominent today. It is called by many names and is commonly known the world over. It is known as "morbus Sabbaticus", or Sunday sickness, and is a disease peculiar to church members. The symptoms vary but never seem to interfere with the appetite. It never lasts more than 24 hours. No physician is ever called It always proves fatal in the end —to the soul!

It is becoming fearfully prevalent, and is destroying thousands every year. The attack comes on suddenly every Sunday. No symptoms are felt on Saturday night; the patient sleeps well and wakes feeling well, he eats a hearty breakfast; but about church time the attack comes on and continues until services are over for the morning. Then the patient feels easy and eats a hearty dinner. In the afternoon he feels much better, and is able to take a walk and read the Sunday papers; he eats a hearty supper, but about church time he has another attack and stays at home. He wakes up Monday morning refreshed and able to go to work, and does not have any symptoms of the disease until the following Sunday.

The remedy — "Be not deceived; God is not mocked". (Gal.6:7)

If you are bothered with this disease and wish a permanent cure, then get upon your knees and call the master physician of the soul and when he hears, confess your sins and he will forgive them for you. Don't wait too long for this is a deadly disease to the soul.

Turtle Mound, near New Smyrna Beach was donated to the state in July, 1951.

IN MEMORIAL

In loving memory of my dear husband, C. G. Drawdy, who passed away August 20, 1951:

Memories are treasures no one can steal; death leaves heartbreak no one can heal. Treasured thought of one so dear often brings a silent tear. Friends may think the wound is healed, but they little know the sorrow lying with my heart concealed. Thoughts return to things now past; time goes on but memories last.

It was bitter grief to part with one I loved with all my heart, the blow was hard, the shock severe. But Jesus heard and answered prayer. I never dreamed his death so near, but Jesus' arms carried him through, and only those who've lost can tell the pain of parting without farewell.

And while he rests in peaceful sleep his loving memory I shall keep.

A heart-broken wife
Mattie Drawdy

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere gratitude to our many friends for their kind expressions of sympathy, and beautiful floral offerings during our recent bereavement in the passing of our loved one C. G. Drawdy.

"Movie Time In Florida"

Theatre managers and officials representing the 446 theatres now operating in Florida will gather in Jacksonville this week to lay plans for this state's participation in a nationwide celebration of the 50th anniversary of the movie industry in America.

For many years our theatres have been rendering public service in the promotion of bond drives, cancer campaigns, Red Cross Roll Calls and the like and their efforts have resulted in bringing millions of dollars to these worthwhile causes.

Now they propose to do a job for themselves in a nationwide campaign to be known as "Movie Time, U.S.A." Each state will adopt the national theme but include the local state name, so here it will be "Movie Time in Florida, U.S.A."

Everyone in the far-flung movie industry will participate in this effort - Hollywood producers, distributors, movie stars and exhibitors. It promises to be a birthday party that the public will thoroughly enjoy and long remember.

Florida State Service administers 24 state parks and 17 historic memorials.

Veterans Information

By Melvin T. Dixon
State Service Officer

Certainly we have county courts and district courts in the State of Florida, but what relief would such courts afford the average litigant or defendant were it not for the services of attorneys who are skilled in the art of presenting evidence to the courts so that impartial decisions might be rendered? Accredited representatives of the Florida Department of Veterans' Affairs, The American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and other leading veterans organizations present the veteran's side of his case to the Veterans Administration. It can truly be stated that the Veterans Administration has the same deferential regard for service organizations as have the civil courts for attorneys. It can likewise be said that veterans organizations have the same esteem for the VA officials. It isn't a matter of "fighting" and "brow-beating" on the part of either. It is a situation where both sides meet in mutual desire to accomplish the results intended by our numerous laws pertaining to veterans' benefits.

Great emphasis can be placed on the manner in which claims are now handled by local service officers, as compared with procedures in handling claims for World War I veterans. Veterans' Service Officers have been schooled to channel claims through the State Service Office of the Florida Department of Veteran's Affairs. This schooling has been a difficult undertaking in some instances. Service Officers of the old school have now learned that much confusion can be avoided by channeling veterans claims through the State Service Office where experienced service officers can sift out evidence derogatory to the interests of the veteran, and at the same time outline to them the type of evidence which will enhance the claim.

Veterans and their dependents are today receiving service on a local level and state level, which is unprecedented. Five years after World War I, a Veterans Administration was undreamed of, and service to veterans by representation was practically nil. One year after World War II chaos ruled supreme within the VA. The VA had been caught flat footed, without sufficient personnel and funds. And while the VA is today operating more efficiently, much credit must be given to local veterans service officers for the efficient manner in which claims are handled.

Most claims for veterans benefits are now adjudicated in only a few weeks, and not to exceed a very few months. Much pain, anguish, suffering and unnecessary waiting would have been avoided in World War II cases had there been a Florida Department of Veterans' Affairs functioning prior to World War II.

The Crusade for Freedom offers every American an opportunity to play a part in a "great campaign of truth" to win the war of ideas.

Avon Park in 1915

I came to Avon Park in October, 1915, a village of about 500 population with two stores carrying general merchandise. One of these stores was operated by B. F. West and Sen Elliot. The other by G. F. Smith and Sons (Fred and Vivian).

There was one dry goods store operated by T. J. McGinnis. One hardware store operated by Captain Rae. One drug store operated by T. H. Lander. One meat market operated by Allison Roberts. One furniture store operated by M. D. Holt in the building now occupied by the [illegible] Hotel. He carried everything in furniture from a cradle to coffins and caskets. One doctor, a tall, gangling country boy just out of college with a determination to make good, and he was a bang-down good doctor, always attentive to his patients, giving his best 24 hours a day — just ask Dr. W. C. Toulmin. I think he ought to be practicing now instead of chasing around after those [illegible] yearlings. There were two banks —B. F. West Bank and the First National Bank of Avon Park.

There were a few board sidewalks, but most walks were just sand.

There was one policeman. I don't know that he ever put anybody in jail. In fact I don't think there was a jail here. But he was well armed with a rake and pitchfork, accompanied by a mule and wagon. His job was to keep Main street paved with pine needles — that was all the paving we had. It was often too thin and the cars would get stuck in sand on Main street.

I moved away from Avon Park in 1920. Since that time I have lived in several towns and communities in the state, and have been in various kinds of business. But I got sand in my shoes. I wanted to come back to Avon Park. In February, 1950, I bought the Marisusan Shoppe, and a home, and came back to Avon Park to live. But it is not the village of 1915. In 37 years it has grown to a small city, a modern city, with miles of paved streets and sidewalks, with unlimited possibilities for business and investments, an ideal place for retired people, or for those who want to come to Florida and spend the winter months. Our hotels, our cafes and other accomodations are as good or better than any other city of like size. We have as fine citizens here as can be found anywhere, citizens with civic pride—the town shows that—excellent churches and schools.

But there is one civic duty that some of our citizens are neglecting, and that duty is to register at the City Hall before September 1 and vote in the city election September 11.

Vote for the best qualified man for mayor.

Vote for the five best qualified men for councilmen.

If you lose your vote, don't be a knocker, back those who are elected 100 percent. They will do more with your support, and we will have a bigger and better Avon Park.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

There is considerable speculation in Washington as to just who the Defense Department is trying to defend.

* * *

So far the only crushing blow dealt by the Defense Department has been to the American free enterprise system.

* * *

C. W. Harder

This fact, brought out in a sharply worded report by the Senate Small Business Committee headed by Sen. John Sparkman, (D. Ala.). It is titled "Concentration of Defense Contracts in Industry".

* * *

It shows monopoly has scored its greatest victory since Korea.

* * *

The Committee reports that during World War II ten big corporations held 30 per cent of the defense contracts, and 100 corporations had two-thirds.

* * *

But now, since Korea, the Big Ten hold 40% of the total new defense contracts, and two-thirds of all contracts are now held by only 50 corporations.

* * *

The committee calls for immediate action.

* * *

In the language of the report "this trend of concentration of defense contracts must be immediately reversed and defense contracts spread widely in industry to guarantee a broad and growing industrial base, if this top-heavy imbalance is not to undermine our economy, retard our mobilization effort, and entrench monopoly beyond hope of dislodgement in our time."

* * *

Probably no bitterer criticism of a government agency has ever been launched.

* * *

While even those officials in charge of defense publicly wonder why American rearmament, has not moved faster, the Senate Small Business Committee found the answer.

* * *

American homes are without adequate defense because of the unbridled greed of a few big monopoly-minded corporations.

* * *

These Goliaths, holding the major share of the prime defense contracts are supposed to sub-contract parts of the work to independent business firms.

* * *

The committee reports this is not being done.

* * *

Big corporations, are expanding their plant facilities, encouraged by rapid tax amortizations which will permit them to skim the cream without paying a normal tax. They are sitting on the defense contracts they hold, planning on doing the work that was expected they would sub-contract to small firms.

* * *

As a matter of fact, these big corporations who hold most of the defense contracts, are still turning out consumer goods at such a rapid rate that there is a surplus of the cars, TV sets, refrigerators and other items they make which they are having trouble selling.

* * *

But their smaller competitors, not holding defense contracts, cannot get the raw materials, either, to maintain a high rate of consumer goods production. It's probably the first time in history that a democratic government has made it profitable to play dog in the manger.

* * *

That is why in Washington it is privately held that no big war is on the horizon.

* * *

In fact, without more aggressive work such as now being done by the Sparkman Committee the American system will be lost without a shot being fired.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Workers in most of Florida counties now have a cost of living pay raise, ranging from $90 to $300. There is no indication that a special session of the legislature will be called to try to add to these sums. Florida Education Association says that 36 out of the 67 counties have not adjusted pay boosts out of local funds. 17 counties gave no raises. Others haven't reported. The Florida dollar value for school pay this year will be $3,080 per teacher, an average increase of $200. This is slightly above the national average, according to the state department of public instruction, but the cost of living didn't come close to matching the increase in costs of living, as well.

Lawyer's Title Guaranty Fund dropped forward this week and voluntarily deposited $100,000 with State Treasurer Ed Larson as further guarantee that it can pay off on the real estate titles it insures. This organization, unique in Florida, was formed by lawyers to insure titles. It now has about 800 members and by the middle of this summer it had issued title guarantees on $50,000,000 worth of Florida real estate. Although it is exempt by special law from making the deposits required of other commercial insurors, its directors decided to comply voluntarily.

The state railroad assessment board valued railroad and telegraph property in Florida at $117,814,443 for tax purposes this year. Bruce Davis, secretary for the board, said this is slightly more than for last year — increases being mostly for larger rail lines. The railroads cut out seven and a fraction miles of main line but increased side tracks. The valuations go to the counties which assess ad valorem taxes against them.

Flame-proofing the mattresses and other fabrics in frame rooming houses and tourists courts has been ordered by the State Hotel and Restaurant Commission, comprising members of the state cabinet. This commission since the 1951 legislature, has taken over the duties of the old state hotel commission. The new rule will affect places which are non-fireproof.

The man who makes up the license tags for your car — Arch Livingston of Tallahassee has decided they'll have orange letters on a blue background for 1952. This changes from the present green and yellow. Tests in Miami showed said Livingston that orange and blue are two of the four colors best meeting the sun test. The slogan will change from "Keep Florida Green" to "Sunshine State" as result of 1951 legislation. They'll go on sale January 5 this next year. Livingston has ordered 1,267,000 tags from the factory operated by state convicts at Raiford.

There'll be a conference soon between spokesmen for the state executive branch, the heads of the legislature and the leader of the capital press corps to work out plans for dividing up space now being air conditioned and renovated at a cost of $150,000. The work, in the old senate and house chambers, and on the present house chamber is moving ahead, the cabinet learns, and soon they'll be in the final blue print stage. Before that time comes, the conference will be called, for there isn't room enough to go around, and it becomes a question of how much less each department can do with.

Chairman Raymond E. Barnes of the Florida Industrial Commission reported this week that he hopes for an end to bitter fighting between Florida and Alabama, over cotton pickers, now in short supply. He has returned from a meeting with the Alabama department of labor relations director, in which they discussed the practice of hiring labor back and forth across the state line. Crews to work Florida farms on a rotation basis, and similar crews in Alabama, are expected to harvest all crops and put an end to labor-pirating.

MARINE RECRUITER HERE ON MONDAYS

Staff Sgt. Charles Lucas, Lakeland Marine Recruiter, announced that a Marine recruiting sergeant will be in the Avon Park Post Office each Monday morning during September, except Labor Day, for the purpose of answering queries concerning the opportunities offered by an enlistment in the Marine Corps. Avon Park residents, both male and female, are invited to visit the sergeant between the hours of 10 A.M. and 1:30 P.M.

Sergeant Lucas also announced that for the first time since World War II, young ladies who join the Women Marines will have an opportunity to be stationed in Hawaii for duty.

First Reward For Forest Fire Arrest Made By Bankers

Orlando — Payment of its first $100 reward for information leading to a conviction for a Florida forest fire law violation was announced today by the Florida Bankers Association.

J. E. Bryan, President of the Association and President Union Trust Company, St. Petersburg, said that a Nassau county law enforcement officer has been given the award. The Forestry Committee of the Florida Bankers Association has a standing offer of the $100 rewards to persons who provide information leading to the conviction of anyone who willfully sets a forest fire in violation of the state law. X. L. Pellicer, Vice President St. Augustine National Bank, St. Augustine, is Chairman of the Florida Bankers Association Forestry Committee.

The receiver of the award gave a Florida Forest Service investigator information which led to the identification and confession of a Hilliard man. He subsequently was convicted in Nassau County Circuit Court and placed on full probation for two years.

Weekly Business Review

Tourists and travelers in Florida spent an estimated $554,400,000 in retail stores in the State last year, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce stated yesterday.

This tourist-expenditure-total includes amounts spent only in retail stores of all types, eating places, filling stations, etc. Expenditures by tourists for rents, hotel rooms, utilities and amusements are not included in this total.

This week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division places total retail sales in Florida last year at $2,800,000,000 which would appear to be $1,000 per Florida resident.

This, however, is not the case as the tourist expenditure figure of more than half a billion is included in total retail sales.

The average American spent $928 in retail stores in 1950 and the average resident of the Southeastern States, $672. The Florida resident per capita retail store expenditure lies somewhere between these two figures; an average would place it at $800. On this basis, $2,245,600,000 was spent in the State's retail stores by Floridians. The balance, or $554,400,000 remains as the total spent in these stores by tourists.
