

John H. Perry Given Honorary Degree At Centre College

Danville, Ky. — Colonel John Holliday Perry of Palm Beach, Fla., and Owensboro, Ky., noted publisher of Florida and Kentucky newspapers, received an honorary degree at Centre College's 129th commencement exercises held here recently. He received a Doctor of Laws degree, according to Dr. Walter A. Groves, Centre president.

Col. Perry, a native of Port Royal, Ky., is an alumnus of Centre and was initiated into Beta Theta Pi fraternity at the school. He has a Bachelor of Arts degree from Hanover College in Indiana and an LL.B. degree from the University of Virginia law school.

Col. Perry is chairman of the board of the Western Newspaper Union and chairman of the board of the John H. Perry Newspapers in Florida and Kentucky. He formerly was part owner of James C. Scripps' western newspapers and is a former member of the National Council of the Scripps Newspapers, the Newspaper Enterprise Association and the American Press.

The John H. Perry newspaper group lists such papers as the Frankfort (Ky.) State Journal, West Palm Beach Post-Times, Jacksonville Journal, Pensacola Journal, Ocala Star-Banner and the Panama City News-Herald. A total of 18 weekly newspapers, 10 daily papers and 1 magazine fall into the scope of John H. Perry, chairman of the board.

Other properties listed in the 1950 edition of "Who's Who" under the name of John H. Perry include radio stations WHIP in Jacksonville, WTKM in Panama City, WCOA in Pensacola, WDP in Panama City and the Jopony Realty Company.

Col. Perry's organization is credited with the now famous "Perry Printing Process," a revolutionary new development in the printing industry which allows the use of cold type. Besides the listed holdings, the Perry organization maintains a Washington, D.C. News Bureau and a John H. Perry Associates Office in New York City with six other associate offices in the nation's largest cities.

As chairman of the board of Western Newspaper Union, Col. Perry also heads the Union's subsidiaries which include Harry W. Brintall and Co. of Los Angeles and San Francisco, Calif.; the E. C. Palmer and Co., Ltd., of Dallas, Texas, and Tampa, Fla.; and the Midwestern Paper Co. of Kansas City, Mo., and Topeka, Kansas.

The Western Newspaper Union has offices in 44 of the major cities of the United States. Its official newspaper, the Publisher's Auxiliary, is called "the most thoroughly read newspaper publication in this country."

The honorary degree was conferred upon Col. Perry prior to the commencement address by Richard Drouper, chairman of the board of Proctor and Gamble.

Highlands Hammock Park Cleanup Fund Appropriated

An appropriation of $65,000 for the rehabilitation of Highlands Hammock State Park was authorized by the legislature Friday.

Miss Edna Pearce, Highlands representative and the only woman in the house, obtained passage of the bill after it had been introduced and passed in the upper house by Senator Moore, of Sebring.

When the bill went over to the house it was pigeonholed in the forestry and parks appropriations committee, a double reference that normally would have killed it. But Miss Pearce asked for and obtained two-thirds vote of the house to get it on the calendar so she could pass it.

The park bill asked that the money be expended by the Florida Board of Parks and Historic Monuments for use during the coming two years.

The park, consisting of more than 3800 acres, was a gift to the Roebeling estate, which developed it from 1930 to 1935, after which the Civilian Conservation Corps took over and made it a national attraction.

The bill said the state, since it took over the park, never has provided sufficient money to keep it up properly and it has deteriorated, until today there is not enough even to protect installations from fire. Further development, the bill said, would provide the state much revenue.

Gus Carratt Buys Palms Restaurant

On Friday of last week, Lee Shackelford and Joe Davis who have operated the Palm Restaurant for the past year and a half sold to Gus Carratt of Miami. Mr. Carratt took over immediately and he and his wife will operate the restaurant.

Gus Carratt formerly owned and operated the Avon Park Cafe, and is well known here in Avon Park, leaving here five years ago to make his home in Miami.

Mr. Shackelford and Mr. Davis have made no announcement as to their future plans, except that they intend to take a well earned rest. It is hoped by many friends that they will be able to remain in Avon Park.

Miss Dot Roberts, Miss Mary Connell, Miss Janet Brown, all of Sarasota, spent last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Roberts.

Commissioners Met Tuesday, June 5

Highlands County Attorney Keith Collier, in a verbal opinion Tuesday advised the commissioners that recent legislation making the office of county prosecutor elective in counties with a population range from 13,699 to 13,850, does not apply to Highlands County, even though it is in that range.

Highlands county grew into the population bracket of an earlier prosecutor election bill and Rep. Edna Pearce killed an attempt by State Sen. Moore to keep the office of prosecutor as it had been in the past.

County Agent V. T. Oker's recommendation that a ratification program be conducted through the county jail and the State Road Department, out of the county's share of the gas tax fund, will repair an overhead bridge at Lake Placid, Commissioner R. L. Stokes reported on his return from Tallahassee.

The board announced plans to build guard rails around the well on the second and third floors, hand rails on the north and south ends of the well, to install a flag pole on the Court-house grounds. The present pole is on the roof and not easily accessible.

4-H Boys To Attend Short Course

Five Highlands County 4-H boys will attend 4-H short course at the University of Florida at Gainesville. The course will start June 18th and last through the 23rd of June.

This trip is sponsored by the County Commissioners. The boys are selected on the basis of their 4-H Club record. Their project work, their attendance and participation in 4-H program in general.

The following boys are selected to attend short course: Donald McIntyre and Marvin Kahn of Sebring 4-H Club; Gilbert Woods of the Avon Park 4-H Club; Murray Shackelford and Herbert McClellan of the Lake Placid 4-H Club.

Donald McIntyre is president of the Sebring club and has done an excellent job of leadership of this club. In fact, Don won the County Award. Last year he has also carried two projects of two beef heifers and a home garden.

Marvin Kahn, secretary of the Sebring club, has carried his project work along beef lines by establishing improved pasture and buying this cattle to fatten.

Gilbert Woods of Avon Park has done a good job in his project work by raising two calves and heifers that were only about three days old when gotten from the F. Lauderdale area.

Murray Shackelford, president of the Lake Placid Club, has fed and showed two beef calves, one in the Tri-County show and one in the Avon Park show.

Herbert McClellan of the Lake Placid Club has been very active in his project work also. He has raised a grade dairy heifer and a grade dairy calf, also a grade Hereford heifer.

These boys have all done a good job in 4-H work and deserve the trip that they have won.

Bill Connell has returned home for the summer from Florida Southern College.

Outstanding A. P. Students Given Awards

Peggy Martin and James Arthur Whitte received the American Legion Auxiliary and American Legion awards Wednesday morning at the closing exercises of the Avon Park public schools. These awards, consisting of a pin, medal, and citation, are awarded annually for honor, courage, leadership, service, companionship and character.

Mrs. Ben T. Stewart presented the Auxiliary award. Jim Heim, adjutant of Highland Post No. 69, presented the Legion award to the boys. The recipients of the awards are chosen by a vote of the whole faculty.

Awards for scholastic achievement in various departments were also presented. Those receiving them were selected by their individual teachers. The recipients of the awards are chosen by a vote of the whole faculty.

Charles DeLagat, for best work in creative English, presented by Mrs. Lorraine Peters.

Mary Ann Pollard, literary service award, presented by Miss Anne Feltton.

Patricia Smith, most outstanding typing student, presented by Miss Lena Harding.

Gene Cruise, award for excellence in Latin, presented by Mrs. Elizabeth Driggers.

Max Cruise, best science student of the year, presented by J. C. Mathews.

Susan Brown, outstanding English student, presented by Mrs. Lena Suggs.

Benny Harvey and Jerry Childs, for outstanding work in audio-visual activities, presented by Mrs. Lena Suggs.

Jack Ward and Bobby Whitcomb, for outstanding work in history, presented by Miss Millie Pearson.

The Bosch and Lamb Honorary Science Award to the senior with best record in science throughout his high school years was presented to Gene Cruise by J. C. Mathews, science teacher.

The high school and upper elementary students met in the auditorium at 9 a. m. After the assembly had sung "America" and pledged allegiance to the flag, Mr. Whitte read from the scriptures. The Lord's prayer was then spoken in union.

The meeting was then turned over to Vaughn Driggers, principal, who introduced those passing from the sixth grade into junior high and awarded certificates. The boys then awarded certificates to those passing from the ninth grade into senior high.

Perfect attendance awards were then presented by Mr. Whitte to approximately 48 elementary and high school students.

At the close of the assembly Mr. Whitte spoke with appreciation of the splendid record made by Vaughn Driggers and by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Driggers, during their six years with the Avon Park school. He is elementary principal, and she is Latin and history teacher in the high school. Both are leaving the school, since he is retiring. They will move to their new home near Wauchula this month. Mr. Whitte expressed his regret at their going that is commonly felt.

Mr. Driggers, in reply, told how he had enjoyed his years here and termed our school "one of the finest in Florida—or in the South." He also spoke of Mr. Whitte as the "best high school principal with whom I have worked."

Before dismissing the students to their homes, where they would receive their report cards, Mr. Whitte devoted a few moments to school debt. He also mentioned the proposed summer program, which will probably open around June 18. Fuller information will be published in this paper.

The lower grades of the elementary school held their closing exercises in their rooms.

OPEN HOUSE
Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Driggers are having "open house" at their new home 2 1/2 miles northwest of Wauchula on Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5:30 o'clock, June 10. All their friends are invited to come to the new house.

Wauchula Firm To Open New Store Here

Plans for the opening of a new store in Avon Park as a branch of Eaton Department Stores, Inc., of Wauchula, have been announced by R. D. Eaton, president of the company. Primary negotiations for the building, the store room recently vacated by the Super B & B Market on Main Street, have been completed, and the necessary alterations and repairs to the room are now under way.

Mr. Eaton said the new store will be patterned after the Wauchula store, offering the same nationally famous brands at the same economical prices. The opening date for the new store will be announced at a later date when the alterations have been completed, and the stock arranged.

The store will be the result of many months of study and planning to find a suitable location and to secure a manager capable of operating under modern merchandising methods, said Mr. Eaton.

Rev. F. D. Penton Seriously Injured

E. D. Penton, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church, received serious injuries during a fall from a roof on which he was working. According to reports received here, the accident occurred around 9 a. m. Mr. Penton was putting up a new roof on the William Bennett residence, West Cornell St., near Lake Tulane, when his ladder slipped. He fell, and a heavy roof of roofing fell on top of him.

No one saw the accident, none of the family being at home. Mr. Penton lay unconscious on the ground for some time. He at last recovered sufficiently to call for help. An unidentified woman living in the neighborhood heard him, and came to investigate. She called a Mirelle Funder Home for an ambulance.

Mr. Penton was taken to Walker Memorial Sanitarium and Hospital. It is not yet possible to predict the probable time required for his recovery.

Northern JayCees Stop In Avon Park

A great many JayCees, most of them from the north, arrived in this town of 35 inhabitants 40 miles west of Casper in the dedication of new homes known as "House of Our Shepherd."

Like the pioneers of old, the ranchers, shepherders, cowboys and townspeople of this community almost with their bare hands built this simple but unique community Methodist church. A professional carpenter had a hand in it. Tree trunks and limbs were brought in from the Big Horn mountains and used for the timber into desired dimensions. No formal solicitation was conducted, no volunteers called for; the money and work came freely as the building progressed.

The interior is of knotty pine design. The altar and pulpit are of the same material. But it is the pews that first catch the eye as one enters. They are made out of planks and limbs crudely cut from trees. They present not only a unique appearance, but are comfortable as well. The distinctive metal holders for the pews were made by school children, who brought old scrap iron from the abandoned Northern railroad property in the town. A large picture window behind the altar sets off in bold relief the handiwork of God in the majesty of the mountains with the hint of eternity.

The real miracle of this frontier town is that there was a man sent from God by the name of John to preach. His whole congregation was made up of men and women, doctor of philosophy, professor of philosophy and psychology at Furman University. He has never been west of the Mississippi until 1935 when he toured the West. He stopped overnight in Powder River. He then, that he must come back. Perhaps it was the lure of the Big Horn mountains; perhaps it was the call of God.

Following is a report of the weather for the week, as given by observer Bill Gillard:

Dr. John G. Holt To Speak At First Baptist Church

Dr. John G. Holt will preach at the 11 o'clock service of the First Baptist Church and at 7:45 p. m. service he will tell of his work and show pictures.

Dr. Holt is brother of Mrs. J. F. Weaver. He was a resident of Avon Park in his early life, coming here with his parents when he was a young man. Perhaps some of the older residents will remember the turpentine mill which the family operated just south of Avon Park.

We invite and urge everyone to avail themselves of the privilege of hearing and meeting Dr. Holt.

The following article concerning Dr. Holt and his work was taken from the Christian Advocate (March 22, 1951).

My Dear Sir:

I wish to thank you in behalf of all the students for sending the Sun to our library this school year. They really looked forward to its coming each week.

We have had a usual good year in the library but nothing that would run into news as we had several years ago when the record was extra good. The flu epidemic cut down our circulation of books a bit, but otherwise records and reports are above the average.

Again, thank you for sending the Sun this year.

Sincerely,

ANNE FELTON, Librarian.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger

Tallahassee—A surprise ending made the last night of the 1951 session of the Florida legislature an exciting as a continued thriller.

Several hundred school teachers and their friends rushed back and forth from Senate to House as each in turn considered a bill to give the teachers and bus drivers each $300 out of living annual raise. But the House, which had originated the bill, refused the $12,000,000 or more must come from added sales taxes on big industry, and the Senate refused this unless the tax also was spread over clothing, now exempt up to $10 under the sales tax. The midnight hour of adjournment caught the bill in mid-air, both Senate and House leaders inexorably obey the clock and the tired galleries left with victory almost in their grasp. The legislature had previously approved a general tightening up of the sales tax, to yield $2,500,000 extra, and a tax on utility and transportation companies to produce $620,000 a year. These were the only new revenue bills to meet appropriations of $274,000,000. Thus, according to Comptroller C. M. Gay, existing revenue and new taxes may fall by as much as $8,000,000 to meet the appropriations of this legislature.

First major veto of the 1951 legislative session was on a bill to prohibit pit sheets and newspapers from publishing advance information on horse races. Governor Warren's veto was sustained. It was based on his belief that freedom of the press was in danger when attempts were made to prohibit any type of publication. He also observed that reducing racing news would cut down on race track revenue, thus reducing the return to the counties. The House voted to override the veto 44 to 47.

This legislature through 60 full days upheld the right of the newspapers and the radio stations of Florida to comment on their actions without curb. Numerous bills were introduced in trying to punish or throttle the press, but each was killed by committee or ignored by the majority. Latest to be blighted in committee was a resolution from Senator Newman C. Brackin, Crestview, to investigate the Miami Herald Others which were withdrawn or died on the calendar would have controlled the price of advertising, would have required newspapers to furnish equal space for replies to criticism of public officials, would have substituted professional non-resident process servers for adequate public notice and would have changed the libel laws to eliminate the right to correct honest errors.

A promised explosion which fizzled like a damp firecracker was the impeachment proceedings initiated by Representative Geo. S. Okell of Dade against Governor Fuller Warren. A committee of lawyers appointed to investigate charges in the impeachment resolution found they were without legal force. Only six votes out of 56 were cast for impeachment when the committee report was adopted. This was the major act of the Crime Commission of Greater Miami for legislative attention.

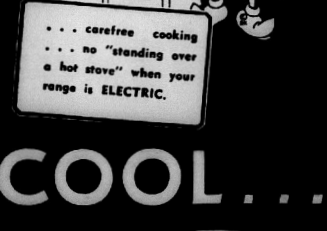

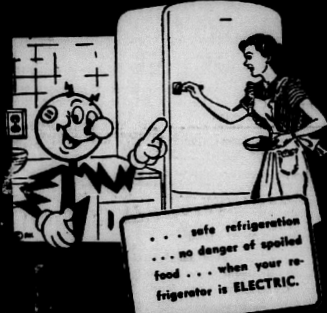

Major achievements of the 1951 legislature included dividing Florida into eight new Congressional districts, putting privately owned electric and gas companies under State Railroad Commission regulation, shifted welfare control from the Governor to a State Board, created a State Defense Council without money or authority to defend, made false passes at controlling gambling, limited political campaign contributions, enlarged the State Highway Patrol to 300 men, outlawed the masked and hooded orders on the subversive front, started work on a major financing plan to build $150,000,000 in school plants, upheld the suspensions of three sheriffs, reinstated none. The lawmakers also refused finally to codify Florida's insurance laws although it did pass codified election laws. It made most of its headlines through the Haley and the Davis committees, one investigating corruption in general and the other the Revenue Department in particular. No official corruption was discovered except a slight touch in the State Racing Commission, and the five members were summarily dumped overboard by the Senate when their names were sent up by the Governor for confirmation. The Davis committee found nothing generally wrong with the Revenue Department except receiving gifts of tax-free whisky for employees and legislators.

GAS TAX DEDUCTIBLE FROM INCOME TAX

According to an article in the current issue of "Our Motor Club," official organ of the Tampa Motor Club, Florida motorists may now deduct taxes paid for gasoline used for business purposes when they file the long form of the federal income taxes.

This is a privilege previously enjoyed by motorists in 42 states, and became a reality in Florida through the efforts of the AAA motor clubs who successfully sought such legislation in Congress.

There are 34,270 tractors in operation on Florida farms, according to the Florida Farm Bureau.

THE MASTER MOTIVE

Scripture: St. John 6:38. "For I come down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me."

Many lives are dominated by unworthy motives. These motives may have the aspect of being righteous and good but have selfish intentions at their base.

First let us consider the Excellence Motive. This is prompted solely by the desire of a person to excel to just get by in this present world. This is usually the thought of those who are discontented as by those whose ambition and ambition is just to get by anyway. We find many in this class.

We find the extreme of the above in those who have the Ambition Motive, with the thought to excel above others at any cost to others of themselves. I agree it is well to have high ideals and to strive to reach them, but only in such a manner that will be pleasing to God. When we seek to excel at the cost and to the detriment of others, with a selfish motive in mind, then the motive is wrong.

Another motive which is good as a means to an end is the Research Motive. Laboring to discover, but as a means in itself it is inferior. We should seek to discover and then distinguish between the good and evil. After we have come to the end of our research, then there should be a taking of advantage of the good in bettering ourselves and others. We can say that the Equality Motive has its place in a means to an end. Many labor faithfully to achieve a social level, which is well and good, providing they are bettering conditions of all. If this is the great motive of any life, then it is useless unless the self element is eliminated, and all other motives of good be parallel.

In our day we find many who have made much of the Assistance Motive. This is a greatly needed one also, but not to be used alone. Too often this attitude of altruistic spirit is shown only as a means to evade a greater good. This motive can be magnanimous in spirit but not necessarily moral.

With all these worthy motives, still we find the Master Motive expressed in the scripture: "To do the will of God." This Master Motive will do what any of these others and what they altogether can accomplish, and then he goes on to spare. This great motive is in some ways likened to a master key to a set of locks. Each key has one lock that it will open, and may fit the slot of many other locks of its group, but the individual lock that it is made for is the only one it will unlock. The master key, which is held in reserve will unlock any of them and also all of them.

We realize that the Master Motive is grounded in our love for God. This is only accomplished by a fully consecrated life to God when we pray and ask and seek. "To do the will of God." We do our own will, and it would have its good aspects, we would open such a small store of resources to the world, but when we do the will of God, then the Master Motive will unlock the whole of the storehouse to us.

The Master Motive is prompted by passion for souls. A desire to do His will is a desire to seek out those who need help spiritually. When the key to a lock is in hand, we fail to realize the need of the master key which is furnished for those who need it. When we try to live our lives to ourselves, little do we realize that we need any help of the Master Key, God, but when we realize we have a need and are not without higher help, then we have the Master Motive at our disposal if we will but accept it. The Master Motive is expressed in service. Being an assistance when needed most is of great value. We have this great potential at our disposal, but so long as we fail to use it, it is useless, but when we put it into service, then we realize its value. We may put it to service by doing the will of God.

It makes us realize the need of having this Master Motive. Susan Wesley, mother of John and Charles Wesley, said this about sin, "Take this rule: Whatever weakens your reason, impairs the tenderness of your conscience, obscures your sense of God, or takes off the relish of spiritual things—in short, whatever increases strength and authority of your body over your mind, that thing is sin to you, however innocent it may be in itself."

In 1929 a factory worker could buy 13 dozen oranges for an hour's labor. Today he can buy 13 dozen with the wages earned during the same time, according to the Florida Farm Bureau.

Veterans Information And Service

By Melvin T. Dixon
State Service Officer

Repatriation of servicemen who died in Korea is now underway. Eventually all Korean dead will come home to the states. The Office of the Quartermaster General of the Army, Memorial Division, Washington, D. C., has this responsibility, for all branches of the Armed Forces. However, it is the responsibility of each branch of service to notify the next-of-kin that the remains are enroute to the United States. This message is sent to the next-of-kin asking for information concerning the place of final interment and the name of the funeral director to whom the remains will be consigned.

The next-of-kin and the consignee will then receive a telegram from the port quartermaster at San Francisco port of embarkation advising them that the remains will be delivered to the consignee, giving service's name, rank and time of arrival at destination.

The Department of the Army is responsible for preparing the body for burial, furnishing the casket, and providing an escort from the appropriate branch of service to accompany the remains to the place of final burial. If the family chooses to have the loved one interred in a national cemetery, the superintendent of the cemetery is notified and he helps to coordinate the date of shipment, arrival of remains, and date and hour of burial.

Should the family choose to have the burial in a private cemetery, there is in each state a designated official of a veterans' organization who has been informed of the impending funeral and he assists in arranging for military services offered by veterans' organizations, if the family so desires. The Armed Forces always buries its deceased military personnel in national cemeteries unless next-of-kin specify otherwise.

Further, if burial is to be in a private cemetery, the Army will defray a portion of the funeral and interment expenses up to $75.00. As there are no normal costs incurred in the burial of a deceased serviceman in a national cemetery, no payment of expenses to the family by the Army is authorized. Any expenses involved, such as for flowers, are borne by the family or friends of the deceased. In certain instances, the family may prefer a casket other than that furnished by the Army and in such cases the family bears the expense.

There is no way of determining which remains are being returned to the United States until a passenger list of deceased has been received from the Overseas Port of Embarkation. The family is notified soon after the ship's departure and in sufficient time to make the necessary funeral arrangements.

Florida now ranks seventh in the acreage used as tree farms in the nation. Only six states, Arkansas and Alabama have more acreage.

The Florida Forest Service communications system aids in the state's hurricane warning system.

AVON PARK, FLORIDA, JUNE 15, 1951

Tribute Paid To Retiring Principal

The entire membership of the Avon Park elementary school gathered together in an outdoor assembly Friday morning, June 1, to pay tribute to its retiring principal, Vaughan W. Driggers.

The program was planned as a complete surprise to Mr. Driggers. All the children were assembled on the front lawn before he was invited to come out and join in the last day exercises. Mrs. DeRetha Lanier had charge of the program. A representative from each class formed the platform guests.

First grade representatives were Vallorie Lyle, Suzanne Harvill and Janice Ellis; second grade, Lawton Toodie, Bill Lagoni and Carolyn Biggs; third grade, Freddie Sachsenmaier, Kakkie Guster, Martha Elder; fourth grade, Nancy Watford, Eve Campbell, Walter Crawford; fifth grade, Linda Hart, Donnie Limer, Judy Poulos; sixth grade, Frances Warren, Louana Smith, and Nancy Ginn. Butch Saylor and David Lee Rees presented the colors. A sixth grade representative, Frances Warren, was selected to make the presentation of a gift to Mr. Driggers.

The gift, in which each child had a part by bringing a penny, was a Haden mango tree, presented after the following poem was presented by Mrs. Claire A. Rowe, Mrs. Mary E. Shearer, a high school teacher, is the author of the poem.

THE MANGO TREE
Our principal is changing jobs;
He really likes his tree,
He'll not be Driggers, principal,
But "Digger" of the soil.

He's counselled 'till he's tongue-tied,
He's worn out his right arm,
And now he's losing weight so fast,
He's going to the farm.

He loves each tree in that old grove;
He counts them back and forth,
And then he counts the dollars
He considers they are worth.

One day he said, "Elizabeth,"
(Elizabeth's his wife),
"I need one more thing on this place
To bring joy to my life.

I just must have a mango tree
To bear luscious fruit sublime,
And then I'll challenge any man
To transcend this home of mine."

At listening to that
She said, "To get that mango tree
I'll do the best I can."

And straight to Avon Park she came
As fast as she could fly,
A-whispering softly all the way,
"I'll get that tree or die."

She came right to the campus,
Where the children all could see,
And sang, "Your friend is weeping
For a little mango tree."

That friend," the children shouted,
"Is sad enough for that?
We'll see that he is pacified
In twenty minutes flat."

Every child who had a penny-bank
Brought a penny back to me,
And with 535
We bought the mango tree.
—Mary E. Shearer.

Now a little bird sat on her nest
At listening to that
She said, "To get that mango tree
I'll do the best I can."

And straight to Avon Park she came
As fast as she could fly,
A-whispering softly all the way,
"I'll get that tree or die."

White Oaks Band Liked AP Welcome

The high school band from White Oaks, Texas, which favored Avon Park with an excellent concert in the Mall Sunday afternoon, June 3, when its members were on the way to the national Junior Chamber of Commerce convention in Miami, were well pleased by the hospitality shown them here, according to a report from Alton Elder, president of the Band Association. In fact, band members stated they received a warmer welcome here than in any other place where they had stopped.

The Avon Park high school band served as a welcome committee for the visitors from White Oak. The Chamber of Commerce and the Band Association were instrumental in getting the White Oaks band to stop. And Avon Parkers were grateful for the opportunity to hear this noted band. Coming from a high school with an enrollment of 160, this 100-piece band is ranked as one of the foremost school bands in the United States, and has played by invitation in many parts of the country, such as the famous "bowls" football games and at Madison Square Garden in New York City.

After the concert, the White Oaks band members were given free oranges donated by J. H. Williams and C. M. Cress, manager and foreman of Minute Maid groves.

Highlands Teachers Get Pay Increase

The Highlands County School board, against the wishes of the county Classroom Teachers Association, Tuesday voted a $100 yearly increase to all instructional personnel and all other full time employees of the school system.

The increase in salaries will amount to nearly $18,000. The money will come from race track funds and the salaries of two teachers to be saved by eliminating remedial reading classes in the Avon Park and Sebring elementary schools.

The CTA, while appreciating the efforts of the board and Superintendent Fred Wild to give them the pay boost, stated in a letter that they would rather forego the raise than decrease supplies and teaching positions, feeling that such a move would prove detrimental to the school program.

Wild and the board members, however, are of the opinion that the program will not be affected, inasmuch as remedial reading can and will be continued under the elementary teachers.

In addition to the teachers, the pay increases will apply to school secretaries, bus drivers and school cafeteria personnel.

The board also voted to give continuing contracts to eligible teachers, as recommended by the superintendent.

The action was taken against the judgment of the board members W. V. Higgins and Kathryn Waggoner, who considered continuing contracts "the worst thing in the world," and included that quotation in the motion giving the contracts. Higgins made the motion and Mrs. Waggoner seconded it.

Henry Webster, in voting for the motion, suggested that a "P. U." be added to the quotation, and he didn't mean Princeton University.

GEORGIA MAN ELECTED PRESIDENT OF JAYCEES
Miami—The U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce adjourned its annual national convention last week after electing Lee Price, 33-year-old attorney of Swainsboro, Ga., as its new president. Price won the election in a grueling ballot battle with Ed Rood of Tampa, and Bill McDaniel of Dallas. The convention adopted a resolution endorsing universal military training after a spirited argument. Other resolutions condemned Federal annexation of tideland areas, urged that the Jaycee board of directors launch a nationwide crime cleanup crusade, and endorsed statehood for Hawaii.

Senator Nixon (R-Cal.), who gave the main convention address, declared that "despite the thousands of words of testimony, our policy in the Far East ended in failure."

The Rev. E. D. Penton, who injured his back in a fall last week, is now home from Walker Memorial Hospital. However, his convalescence will probably be lengthy.

Killed Instantly
On State Road 17

Mrs. Mildred O'Toole Crawford, 38, of Mission, Kansas, was killed on State Road 17 Tuesday night, and her husband, Lt. Col. Charles D. Crawford, was injured, when the car she was driving was struck by a trailer-truck.

Mrs. Crawford was apparently killed instantaneously. Her husband, who was in the driver's seat, received chest injuries, broken ribs, and abrasions of the body; his condition is believed not to be serious.

The Crawfords were driving south on their way to Miami when a north-bound truck, headed for Memphis, Tenn., struck the motor car. The driver of the truck had apparently become confused as to the route he should take. The accident occurred near the turn-off to Ft. Meade. The Crawford's car, a new Mercury sedan, was demolished.

The truck and trailer were owned by W. L. McClelland of Tupelo, Miss., and driven by J. W. Dunn, 22, also of Tupelo. The accident was investigated by State Patrolman H. D. Doyle of Lake Wales, assisted by State Patrolman J. E. Hicks of Avon Park, and Assistant County Solicitor Tomassella of Polk county. No charges have been filed.

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Crawford were on a vacation trip prior to his reporting to the army at Ft. Riley, Kansas, on June 25. He had just been recalled to duty, and had previously been associated with Monogram Studios in Kansas City.

Mrs. Crawford was pronounced dead on arrival at Walker Memorial Hospital. Her body, now at Stephenson Funeral Home, will be sent back to Kansas City, Mo.

Among her survivors are two small children, one a two-months old infant.

Bettyus Davidson Honor Graduate
Miss Bettyus Davidson of Avon Park graduated cum laude from Florida State University last Saturday night, June 16. She also recently initiated into Phi Alpha Theta, history honor society, which is a member of the Association of College Honor Societies.

Other laurels won by Miss Davidson include membership in Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi, national honor fraternities, giving recognition to students of high scholastic achievement; Sigma Delta Psi, an honor society for students of Spanish. She is also a member of Los Pizarros, whose membership is interested in developing a better understanding of Latin-American culture.

Miss Davidson will teach next fall at Leon High School in Tallahassee, where she will be head of the Spanish department, his convalescence will probably be lengthy.

happened was the Western spirit; perhaps he saw the loneliness of the people—with bars, dances and rodeos as the only source of amusement and uplift in the community. Perhaps he saw the hunger and thirst of a people who knew not that they wanted God. Children were growing up who knew not God, who had never been inside of a church.

He came back and stayed for a time, teaching in the little white schoolhouse by the side of the road. But it didn't seem that he could stick it out, and back home to Florida he went.

Till a voice, as had as conscience, rang interminable changes and was repeated over and over again.

"Something hidden. Go and find it. Go and look behind the ranges."

Something lost behind the ranges.

Lost and waiting for you. Go? Yes, he came back, this doctor of philosophy, to teach in a little white rural schoolhouse—so preach on Sunday in the "House of Our Shepherd" and be a friend to man.

He is here to stay. On the night of last December 17 the district superintendent went out to this unique rural church and dedicated it to God and to the people of Powder River. Twenty-eight members were received as charter members.

WARREN SIGNS AVON PARK HOSPITAL BILL

Establishment of a Florida state hospital for alcoholism at Avon Park in Highlands County was approved Tuesday when Governor Warren signed into law a legislative act authorizing the institution.

The new law empowers the Board of Commissioners of State Institutions to construct, maintain and operate the hospital for chronic alcoholics.

The law provides that a chronic alcoholic may be committed to the projected hospital for a period not to exceed 180 days on petition to the county judge by himself, his spouse, child, parents, next of kin or three interested citizens.
