Firemen's Minstrel Show Success -- Swells Toy Fund

The Annual Minstrel Show, produced by the Firemen's Association, and held in the high school auditorium March 29, provided a lively and amusing evening of fun and music--the best show of its kind ever seen here, according to many. Between six and seven hundred persons attended.

The proceeds of the show will be used for Christmas toys for underprivileged children of Avon Park. The collection amounted to exactly $91.78 and eight collar buttons—these last being a response to "Parson Sinkiller's" sermon during the minstrel act. The proceeds of the advertisements on the program bring the total net sum available for toys to $200.

Minstrels were J. C. Still, Floyd Wells, Arlin King, Charles Howze, Virgil Still, Willard Griffin, Harold Reeder, M. L. Rogers, Sr. and little Shirley Still. Billy Martin, Herbert Todd, James Anderson, and John Garber, formed a backface quartet. Mrs. Floyd Hayes was pianist.

The high school orchestra played two numbers. Miss Carolyn Bolt did an acrobatic dance, and Lenny Rush presented "Slover's Gin Act."

During the show, A. Engelmann presented the trophies for outstanding service in the Firemen's Association during the past year. Those receiving awards were: Willard Griffin, active members; Bill Rowland, associate members; Wilbur Giddens, organization as a whole.

Ushers were: Glenn Simpson, W. G. Gilliard, Reason Shivers, John Zeiglar, Wilber Adkinson, Richard Gayland.

With the exception of Miss Bolt and Mr. Rush, everyone participating wore blackface, including the ushers.

Get In Line For The Big Parade

Don't miss the Big P.T.A. Circus Parade on Saturday afternoon, April 14, at 4:30. Funny clowns, ring masters, circus people of every variety, will march. There may even be wild animals in cages, to make the parade a truly Mammoth Spectacle.

Better still, be a part of the parade yourself. Everybody is invited to get into costume and get into the act.

Paraders will be divided into classes, according to age, beginning with pre-school children. Six ribbons will be awarded in each class for the most outstanding circus character costumes, with three honorable mentions in each group. There will be favors for all.

The fire truck will lead the parade, and some students will have the fun of riding in it. Miss Alma Harrell, director of the parade, will also ride in it.

The parade will line up at the Avon Park Motor Co., on Main and Verona. Paraders should be there by 4:00 P. M.

MARINE RECRUITING OFFICER HERE APRIL 12

Stressing the advantage of the thorough military training offered by the United States Marine Corps Technical Sgt. Joe Bass will visit Avon Park next Thursday, April 12, to interview applicants for enlistment in the Marines.

Maintaining hours from 3 until 6 p. m. in the Avon Park Post Office, Bass will accept both men and women. He explained that men between 17 and 32, with or without dependents, may be accepted for the regular Marines or the Volunteer Reserve immediately.

Because of the limited quota for the enlistment of women, who are eligible if between 18 and 31, there is a delay of a few weeks between their acceptance and actual enlistment.

Is This You?

You were seen entering a store on West Main Wednesday afternoon, wearing a blue short-sleeved shirt, with a sign of your trade on it, and matching blue pants. You are about 5 feet 5 inches, have graying hair and wear glasses. If this is you, call at the Sun office or Hilans Theatre and receive two passes to see "Bedtime for Bonzo" next Thursday and Friday, April 12 and 13.

Last week's "Is This You?" was Harvey Harden.

$50,000 SUIT FILED IN HIGHLANDS COURT

A car-truck accident on State Road 17 near Avon Park in February, 1949, has resulted in a civil action for $50,000 damages being filed in the Highlands County Circuit Court.

The plaintiffs are George and Mary Marucci, of Bristol, Pa.

The defendants are Sydney E. Fox and James L. Praytor, formerly of Wauchula, and Vernon Milton Manley, Jr., of Wauchula. Fox is now residing in Shreveport, La., and Praytor in Birmingham, Ala., according to the bill of complaint.

The defendants, Fox and Praytor, who formerly owned The Farmers Feed Store at Wauchula, allegedly owned the truck driven by Manley, which collided with the Marucci car, seriously injuring Mrs. Marucci.

Lee Opens American Cancer Society Drive

During the past year, 3609 lives were claimed by Cancer in the State of Florida, which includes 16 deaths which occured in Highlands County, according to attorney Harry A. Lee, Chairman of the Educational and Fund Raising Crusade which will be carried on here during the month of April by the American Cancer Society.

In making his appeal to the people of Highlands County to give generously, Harry A. Lee explained that many of these lives were lost needlessly, and that the American Cancer Society is attempting to save them through its threefold program, Research, Education, and Service.

One fourth of every dollar contributed will pay for research projects which are being carried on in an effort to learn the cause of and the cure for cancer. It is through this part of the program that there is hope of finally conquering the disease.

A service program is also carried on to aid cancer patients. The American Cancer Society gives financial aid to all clinics in the State where treatment is given to medically indigent cancer patients, and volunteer workers perform many other services for them.

In supporting this worthy cause, Lee said, "you will help save lives. It may be the life of a friend or neighbor. It may be the life of a member of your family, or it may be your own."

Wins Popular Vote At Recent Art Show

"The Reading Hour", a large oil by Grace Wood Herring, was the winner of the Bronze Award for the best-liked picture at the Art Show. "Cat Walk" by Harriett Stodden won the second highest vote.

A great many people viewed the Art Show, held here for the past two weeks, and a large proportion of them were out of town visitors. A number who were merely driving through were attracted by the exhibit and stopped to see it. One of these, whose conversation indicated that she was familiar with art, expressed the opinion that it was unusual to find such an excellent show in a small city.

Each visitor at the Art Show was asked to vote for the picture he liked best.

The show is now in Frostproof. It opened there Wednesday evening, and will remain there for about ten days.

Requests Small Merchants Exempt From Price Control

All merchants doing less than $75,000 annual volume should be entirely exempt from all provisions of the OPS price control order and general price freeze, it was urgently suggested today by the Florida State Retailers Association. The suggestion was dispatched to Price Stabilizer Michael DeSalle in Washington.

The State organization's appeal on behalf of smaller merchants declared that free competition will keep prices in line in the several million small retail establishments in the United States. The message to DiSalle was signed by Lloyd F. Gahr, president of the Florida Retailers Association.

"Our smaller merchants do not have the facilities to prepare the detailed records required under OPS regulations," Gahr declared. "We urgently suggest that the exemption be granted as soon as possible because there is great confusion among thousands of Florida's smaller merchants concerning the preparation and filing of pricing charts and the record-keeping involved.

"No harm to the overall program of price stabilization will result from exempting smaller retailers from the charting, filing and reporting requirements of the order," the Association president added. "Ceiling prices established in the larger stores automatically will determine ceiling prices in the exemtp establishments. Competition will control that."

Mrs. Katharine Moore, from Glen Ellyn, Ill., arrived Friday to spend a three-weeks vacation with her mother, Mrs. May Walden, at her home on Bell St. Mrs. Moore is a secretary in the psychiatric department of the Veteran's Administration Hospital at Hines, Ill, which is one of the largest veteran's hospitals in the United States.

SEBRING WINS OVER AVON PARK BY 3 TO 1

The Sebring Blue Streaks nipped Avon Park's Red Devils, 3 to 1, in a Ridge Conference pitching battle here Tuesday night.

Both teams were undefeated prior to this contest.

Red Devil pitcher Whitcomb while Lovering struck out six and walked five for Sebring. Whitcomb's temporary wildness paved the way for the Blue Streaks' two big seventh inning tallies.

An error followed a base on balls and then Elton Stivender doubled both men home for Sebring. A double by Gene Cruse scored Avon Park's only run.

Score by innings:	R.	H.	E.

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

WHAT GOD REQUIRES

Rev. M. L. H. McMullen
Retired Methodist Pastor

"He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with God."

This does not reach selection in weeks, but has current application to the times, enough to give them much concern about civil defense. Gambling and its many overtones added spice to the conversation in the halls, but there is no real sentiment for curtailing racing, nor for legalizing other forms of gambling. Best bet for increased taxes—tinker the 3% sales tax to eliminate some exemptions, strengthen collections. Governor Fuller Warren gave his talk to the opening session Tuesday afternoon, and by Wednesday both houses were settling down to organizing committees and to prepare for an avalanche of bills. Both Governor Warren and leaders of the House have committed themselves to trying to hold hte life against any new taxes. Question now is whether he will use his veto power to prevent the spreading of the sales tax over food, agriculture and clothing. School people generally declare that unless the two-year state support for the common schools is increased from about $100,000,000 to $120,000,000, the minimum foundation program will totter, teachers will go elsewhere and some 30,000 new pupils each year may be denied learning. The three state universities and colleges seem condemned to no more expansion, and to austerity in operation. Mainly state departments face a long hard fight to get increased appropriations from either house. The Senate, more reserved by nature, has not given much indication of its stand on the money question.

Tallahassee — Pay raises for law enforcement officers and more money to obtain modern crime-fighting tools were recommended by Attorney General Ervin to the legislative session just starting. Salary increases from $10,000 to $15,000 a year for harried supreme court justices (also recommended by the Florida Bar), and adequate pay for sheriffs were prominent among his suggestions. He urged tighter laws to break up bookmaking.

Tallahassee — The Florida Parole Commission reported to the legislature that 75 boys between the ages of 14 and 17 were sent to state prison in 1950. Many could have been handled by proper juvenile courts and possibly saved from such contact with other criminals, the commission concluded. Three were 14 years old.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Tallahassee — The 1951 Florida legislature met this week with no burning issues except where and how to dig up about $50,000,000 in new money for the next two years. A Senate and House containing many new and young members gathered with the clouds of war all around, but not dark enough to give them much concern about civil defense. Gambling and its many overtones added spice to the conversation in the halls, but there is no real sentiment for curtailing racing, nor for legalizing other forms of gambling. Best bet for increased taxes—tinker the 3% sales tax to eliminate some exemptions, strengthen collections. Mother of Two Praises Hadacol

HADACOL Supplies Deficient Systems With Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron

Mrs. Elmer Hisel, 3225 2nd Ave., Council Bluffs, Iowa, is a good mother, and like all good mothers she keeps a careful watch for the welfare of her two young children. And when little four-year-old Lucille Hisel wasn't feeling as her mother knew she should be she decided to do something about it. Mrs. Hisel gave Lucille HADACOL because she had heard how much it was helping children who had poor appetites and stomach distress caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin. It helped her so much that now Mrs. Hisel gives HADACOL to both of her children.

Lucille Hisel

Here is what Mrs. Hisel says:

"My daughter has taken two bottles of HADACOL and she has been eating more than before and also sleeps better. I think HADACOL is the best thing for children who do not have an appetite. My daughter is four years old. Before taking HADACOL my daughter complained of her stomach hurting her, and I got her a bottle of HADACOL and she says her stomach doesn't bother her any more. I think HADACOL is wonderful. I am also giving HADACOL to my three-year-old daughter."

HADACOL Is So Effective

An important thing about HADACOL is that you get Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron in liquid form, which means that they are quickly absorbed and dispatched to the blood stream, ready to go right to work. HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of the blood (when iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every part of your body.

VOLUME XXVI — Single Copy 5c — AVON PARK, FLORIDA, FRIDAY, APRIL 13, 1951 — NUMBER 22

Big PTA Circus Parade Will Start At 4:30 P.M. Saturday

The P.T.A. Circus will start with the Big Parade at 4:30, Saturday afternoon, April 14, and build up to a climax of daring aerial acts, tumbling, and other gymnastic feats, when the Big Show starts in the gymnasium at 7:30.

In the parade led by the fire truck, will be school children in brilliant circus costumes. Mrs. Mildred Murphy and her educated horse, Red Fox, and the Bronze Saddle Club of Lorida, riding their beautiful horses, and the high school band will also help to make it a real circus parade. There will be a king and queen, with their court.

Then follow the parade to the school grounds, where you will find entertainment for all — horses and ponies to ride, side shows, movies, a replica of an old-time Country Store. Eat there, too. There'll be good homemade food: hamburgers, "pronto pups" (a new and better sort of hot dog), tempting cakes and pies.

Mildred Murphy will give a free performance, putting Red Fox through his repertoire of tricks.

Then, at 7:30, Florida State University will present the featured attraction in the school gymnasium.

Dr. Hartley Price, head gymnastic coach at Florida State, will bring his internationally known gymnastic team and gymkana troupe to perform in gorgeous costumes. You will be thrilled by their daring aerial acts, trampoline work, also feats on the side horse, the flying rings, by their acrobatic dancing and tumbling. A number of the performers are champion gymnasts, many have won gymnastic awards. It promises to be a great show — one you shouldn't miss.

Tickets are 9c for pre-school children, 25c for students, and 75c for adults, tax included.

Remember: those who are going to march in the parade should line up by the Avon Park Motor Co. at 4:00. Prizes for costumes will be given.

I. O. O. F. REORGANIZING IN AVON PARK

After a period of several years without an active lodge, the Independent Order Odd Fellows has been reorganized here in Avon Park. At a meeting held Thursday night, April 5th new officers were elected. All officers have not been installed as yet, but Reason Shivers was installed as Noble Grand, so as to be able to represent Highlands County Lodge No. 80 at the Annual Grand Lodge meeting at Sarasota, April 15th through April 19th.

Mr. Shivers was former past Grand, and former past representative to the Grand Lodge of the state.

Meetings will be held at the Brickel building on the first and third Thursdays of each month.

A guilty conscience and a suspicious mind are light sleepers.

Hoodlums Still Prowling The Streets

Not many days ago, flowers were planted in the cavities of the stumps near the postoffice, the Chamber of Commerce building, and the theatre. Members of the Garden Club, by request, donated the plants, and their labor, assisted by Mr. Rogers, in the hope of changing these unsightly lumps of dead wood into colorful ornaments for our main street. Business people promised to water the plants.

But someone uprooted the plants a few hours after they were set out. It was not the thoughtless act of a boy who passes by and carelessly pulls up what may be weeds, but deliberate michief, for a sarcastic word had been chalked on one stump.

Also, one of the bird baths recently installed in the Mall was deliberately broken shortly after its arrival—apparently, stones were thrown at it.

These are only two acts of destruction; there have been others.

Nearly everyone likes to make his own home attractive. This is proved by the fact that it is hard to find a house in any section of Avon Park which does not have at least a few shrubs and flowers around it. And the man who plants a vine in his front yard makes certain that the rest of his family are taught not to uproot it.

Our streets and our parks are a part of our home. They belong to every resident of our town as surely as our own front yards. Our money pays for their upkeep. We are responsible for their appearance. Visitors judge us by the attractiveness of our community property even more than by our homes or our clothes.

Imagine how Avon Park would look without its pleasant Mall. Or if Donaldson Park were a weed patch. It wouldn't be so pretty, would it?

It's a shame that work done to beautify our streets should be destroyed. It is also foolish for anyone to destroy what belongs to him as much as to anyone else.

And besides, having fun by breaking things, tearing things to pieces, is silly and childish—not at all grown-up.

Memorial To W. H. Kempton

Hard of hearing aids and a complete system of broadcasting chimes are being placed in the Union Congregational Church by the Kempton family, as a memorial to the late W. H. Kempton, who was a member of that church, and who spent many years in the field of electronics.

The chimes were heard for the first time on Easter Sunday. The complete broadcasting system and hearing aids have been ordered, and will be installed as soon as they are available.

Curiosity is mostly pure vanity. We desire a knowledge so many times so we may talk about it.

Jaycee District Conference Held In Haines City

The 4th District Conference of Florida JayCees was held April 8 in Haines City. After a buffet luncheon in the Community Center building, which was built by the Haines City JayCees, the meeting was addressed by State President J. Brailey Odham of Sanford and former State President Ed Rood of Tampa.

A resolution was approved for presentation to the State Convention to be held in Hollywood April 27-29, to petition the state legislature to open the state welfare rolls for public inspection.

Ed Rood, Tampa attorney, announced that he will be a candidate for national JayCee president, subject to election at the national convention to be held in Miami in June.

JayCees from Avon Park attending the conference were Bob Barben, Walter Mandis, Jim Anderson, Hubbard Biggs, Olin Harris and Welch Fisher.

PRESCOTT NAMED DEPUTY CIRCUIT CLERK

W. H. Prescot, of Avon Park, will become deputy circuit court clerk, assigned to the Highlands County commissioners, effective April 23.

Prescott's appointment was announced by Circuit Court Clerk H. T. Piety, who is empowered by law to name his deputies.

Prescott will succeed Billy Martin, who resigned the post he held for nearly three years.

The new deputy is an Avon Park High School and Tampa Business School graduate, and for the past four years has been employed by the Ware Furniture Company, of Avon Park.

The Republican Women's Club of Avon Park will hold a meeting in the Florida Power lounge, Jacaranda Hotel building, April 18, at 8:00 p. m., for election of officers.

Helen Walker Wins County Spelling Bee

The finals of the Highlands County spelling Bee were held in Avon Park Monday night. Nine school children started in a forty round elimination contest which produced a winner: Helen Walker, 7th grade Sebring and runner-up Robert Carter, 6th grade, Avon Park.

Last night's contest completes the second stage in the eleventh annual Spelling Bee sponsored by the Miami Herald. As winner and runner-up Helen Walker and Robert Carter will represent Highlands County in the district Spelling Bee to be held in Miami, April 27th.

Those taking part in the Spelling Bee and the schools represented were:

Eloise Selph, 8th grade, Avon Park, Robert Carter, 6th grade, Avon Park; Norma Jean Griffin, 5th grade, DeSoto City; Donald Long, 6th grade DeSoto City; Dorothy Crews, 8th grade, Lake Placid; Larry Sapp, 5th grade, Lake Placid; Betty Jo Wheeler, 7th grade, Sebring; Helen Walker, 7th grade, Sebring; Curtis Hall, 6th grade, Sunnyland school, Lorida.

As first prize Helen Walker received ten dollars and was presented the Spelling Bee Trophy by Mr. Wilhite. The trophy will remain in the Sebring school until the next annual contest is run off.

As second prize Robert Carter received five dollars.

The officials for the contest, listed below, are personnel of the Highlands County School:

Mr. A. B. Wilhite, Supervising Principal, Avon Park, chairman; Mrs. Julia Titus, Sebring, Pronouncer; Mrs. Lena Suggs, Avon Park, Turn-keeper; Miss Jamie Lee Whitaker, Lake Placid, Judge; Mrs. Sadie Brown, Lorida, Judge; Miss Barbara Baker, DeSoto City, Judge.

Dogs Must be Vaccinated

The Highlands County Health Department wishes to remind all dog owners in the county to have their dogs vaccinated against rabies before May 15th. This is in accordance with the State Health Laws. Arrangements have been made by Dr. G. L. Beaumont, director of the Highlands County Health Department, for Dr. Howard F. Anderson to hold clinics in Sebring, Avon Park, and Lake Placid. Posters will be displayed in each town showing the date, hour, and location of clinic. A charge of $1.50 will be made for each dog vaccinated. This will include serum for the vaccination and metal tags showing animal has been properly vaccinated.

This is a small price to pay to protect your dog and at the same time, anyone who may be bitten by the dog. As dog owners you are responsible and liable in case your dog bites a person and that person contracts rabies as a result of the bite.

Because rabies is more prevalent in the hot summer months it is very important that each dog-owner take advantage of these clinics and have their dog vaccinated.

The Misses Louise and Mattie Storey, who have been the house guests of Dr. Ruth Miller and Miss Toni Gardner, have returned to New York City.

Smith Hardware Co. Presenting Spring Bargain Days

Smith Hardware Company, the oldest hardware firm in Highlands county, under the same management for 20 years, are presenting their once-a-year super values during Independent Retail Hardware Association Hardware Week, starting today and ending Saturday, April 21.

The super values sales are being held in practically every town in the United States. The entire hardware industry are cooperating in making these values possible. The Smith Hardware Company is pleased to bring you these values in appreciation for your patronage during the many years we have had the pleasure of serving your hardware needs.

In an interview with Mr. Fred Smith he stated: "During the past 30 years, the Smith Hardware Company has shipped merchandise to customers in several states of the Union, including Oregon, Wisconsin, Minnesota. We have shipped merchandise to Canada and to France."

Several of the many values offered are shown in an ad on page two of this week's Sun.

Luke Moseley Has Fractured Skull

Luke Moseley, Highlands County attendance officer for the public schools and head of the Federal Housing Authority has been confined to Walker Memorial Hospital this week with a slight skull fracture.

Moseley was struck over the right eye by a thrown ball Thursday night, April 5, while batting flies for the "Skeeter" squad. He didn't realize the extent of the injury until the next day when he went to the hospital for an examination — and was kept there.

Formerly a player and school coach, Moseley has maintained an interest in sports, and has been serving as both baseball and football official at games in this section. He has been in the habit of helping the high school players with their practice.

Last week was the first time he had ever received an injury in all his years of sports activities.

His condition is reported to be satisfactory.

Avon Park High Students Win Literary Honors

Douglas Fields and Edith Hagan, regional winners in the Scholastic Writing Awards Contest, were presented gold achievement keys by Mr. Wilhite at school assembly on Friday, April 7. Douglas was regional winner in the Poetry Division and Edith, in the Short Story Division. The awards were given by the Scholastic Magazine, a national publication for high school students. The contest, which was sponsored by The Miami Herald, was open to all junior and senior high school students in the counties comprising the Southeastern district.

These students are to be congratulated on their achievement in the literary field. It is hoped that both may continue their interest in writing. They have won honors for themselves, their school and community.

Sure Winner

It is generally conceded that there's a degree of gambling spirit in all of us. In some cases only a "sure thing" brings it out.

Well, here's a genuine, 14 karat, straight-from-the-feedbag "sure thing" that every one of us can have a piece of . . . theAmerican Cancer Society.

"There's no such thing as an incurable disease," says science. "There are only diseases for which the cure is not yet known."

On this very logical premise, cancer research is no gamble — it's a long term investment with a precious dividend of life itself. Along the many avenues of research which may lead to discovery of cancer's cause and cure, science is finding new techniques of cancer control which may someday save your life, or that of someone dear to you. Today's science and medicine are saving the lives of one-fourth of all cancer patients, who, not so long ago, might have been considered hopeless cases.

The 1951 Crusade of the American Cancer Society gives everyone the privilege of joining the only national voluntary agency devoted to the cause of cancer control exclusively.

Twenty-five cents of every dollar contributed is used for cancer research. Part of the money pays for public and professional education which, on the basis of present knowledge alone, can double the number of lives saved. And part of the money is used for service to cancer patients and their families.

Help Science help you. Help guard your family. Help to conquer cancer — by contributing to the 1951 Crusade of the American Cancer Society.

All who can and want to contribute to this worthy cause may do so, by handing your gift to Mr. Sam Longbottom at the Barnett Bank, Avon Park.

Jaycee Membership Drive Now In Action

President Bob Barben announced that the annual membership drive of the Avon Park JayCees would begin with the first week in April and extend through the first week in May.

All JayCees are urged to turn in their membership dues as early as possible, so that the local club may make full use of the maximum number of votes available to it at the State Convention to be held in Hollywood April 27-29, and at the National Convention in Miami, June 5-9.

The Avon Park JayCees have only one purpose for being in existence — and that is the betterment of our own town and community. Every man is urged to become a member, regardless of age. Each member's vote is equally important in local affairs. JayCee officers and delegates to conventions must not have passed their 35th birthday; otherwise there is no limit as to age or activity. Your moral support and help will mean a great deal to our community.

Let's all boost our town.

Spring Meeting Florida Press

Pledging its full support to the legislature in keeping the people of Florida informed as fully and fairly as possible concerning the problems faced by lawmakers and their actions in regard to such problems, the Florida Press Association unanimously adopted a resolution pledging to interpret for its readers factual information with fairness and vigor.

The resolution also conveys the best wishes of the association for a productive session and for a representative approach to the problems of this growing state.

This action was taken at the spring convention of the association held at Vero Beach, April 6, 7, 8.

Gathering from all sections of the state, over 100 representatives of daily and weekly newspapers considered problems affecting their industry and listened to talks by outstanding authorities on such matters.

While an all day rain put a damper on much of the entertainment planned for the group by the city and chamber of commerce, many braved the weather and visited McKee Jungle Gardens and other points of interest.

Working indoors instead of out, as had been originally planned, the Florida Poster Girls modeled Florida-made fashions designed for sunshine and outdoor activities.

At the annual banquet, tribute was paid to four Floridians for outstanding service to the state and the association by the presentation of honorary life membership certificates. Those so honored were W. M. (Shorty) Davidson of Silver Springs; John C. Lochner, retired publisher of the Clermont Press; Nate Reese, Sr., former publisher of the Arcadian of Arcadia, and George R. Hilty Sebring, former newspayerman and for many years public relations director of the Florida Power and Light Company, all having been active in the association for many years.

John Schumann and Mrs. Schumann, publishers of the Vero Beach Press Journal, were presented with the Lochner Trophy, which had been won by the Journal several years before for outstanding journalistic achievement, but not delivered to them.

Country Club Elects Board

The first regular meeting of the newly organized Country Club was held at Pinecrest Lakes Club on Saturday evening, April 7. Approximately 120 were present, which included 65 voting members, since each family membership carries one vote.

The following board of directors, including officers, were elected by secret ballot: E. G. Touchton, president; H. C. Wright, vice president; Mrs. Lawrence Ford, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Robert Barben, Mrs. Walter S. Betts, J. W. Crews (Wauchula), C. O. Locke III, A. M. Owens, and Dr. Stuart J. Ward.

You may have to be dead to get your face on money, but very much alive to get your hands on much of it.

"BEAR YE ONE ANOTHER'S BURDENS . . ."

Rev. H. E. Garrett, Pastor, First Methodist Church

Alice Freeman Palmer, once president of Wellsley College, was happiest when doing most for others. When she left college, she gave herself so universally to her self imposed task of lightening the burden of the unfortunate that her husband, a Harvard professor, expostulated: he thought she should give her time and strength to writing books that would make her still more famous. "You are building no monument," he said, and when you are gone, people will ask who you are and no one will be able to say." Her reply was, "Well, why should they? I am trying to make girls happier and wiser. Books don't count much toward that. You want to put yourself into people; they touch other people; these still others; and so you go on working forever."

"Nothing is so dull as to be encased in self", says Bertrand Russell in his book, "The Conquest for Happiness," "and nothing is so exhilirating as to have our attention and energies turned outwards."

It is the directing of one's affections toward others which leads to peace and happiness. Jesus told his diciples that they could find their lives if they were willing to lose them—lose them in a cause outside of themselves and greater than themselves. Happiness will come to us when we have a willing spirit to serve and a loving spirit to forgive those who might persecute us while we serve.

Florida landowners have now planted 110 million seedlings produced by the Florida Forest Service nurseries since the beginning of the planting program in 1928.

MRS. J. I. SAVAGE WINNER IN SOUTHERN BREAD CONTEST

Mrs. J. I. Savage of Avon Park has been named as one of the winners in the big statement contest now being sponsored by Southern Bread. Mrs. Savage secured her entry blank from Palmer Grocery, and successfully completed a 15-word statement beginning "I like Southern Bread because . . . ."

She sent her statement to Freshie, the pixie-like cartoon representative of Southern Bread, who appears in all of their advertisements. She was chosen from over 200 contestants to receive a $5.00 prize.

Mrs. Savage's dealer, Palmer Grocery, also receives a prize of $5.00.

Freshie invites everyone to enter the cash statement contest in the coming weeks. Each week, three $5.00 prizes will be given to contestants who send in the winning statements, and in additional $5.00 will also be given to the store or market from which the entry blank is secured. Blanks are available wherever Southern Bread is sold. All a person has to do to be eligible is to secure an official entry blank from a Southern Bread dealer, write a statement, fill in his or her name and that of the dealer, and send it to Freshie.

JOE HEVIA DEALER FOR QUONSET BLDG'S

Joe B. Hevia of the Avon Auto Supply, Inc., is now dealer for quonsets and steel structural buildings. Mr. Hevia states that there is a market here for this type of building and he is now prepared to take orders for them.

The buildings are adaptable to hundreds of farms and industrial uses. They are available in many different sizes. Quonset buildings are filling a steadily increasing need for low cost, all purpose structures. See Mr. Hevia's ad another page of this issue.

CIVIL SERVICE JOBS OPEN FOR MECHANICS

To qualify, applicants must have had from 6 months to 3 years of appropriate experience. The amount of experience required depends on the salary level of the position. No written test is required.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from the Commission's Local Secretary, Mrs. Gladys Smith, located at Postoffice.

CYPRESS GARDENS, Fla.—Miss Pat Hill, the Alabama state champion, tunes up on a slalom ski practicing for the Dixie Water Ski Tournament to be held April 14 and 15.

Soil Conservation

By Sam Polston,

The essay contest that the Highlands Soil Conservation District is sponsoring in the high schools of the county is shaping up very nicely. The registration date was extended from March 30th to April 13th and to date there are 50 registered at Avon Park, 16 at Lake Placid, 8 at Sebring and 12 at E. O. Douglas (Colored).

Two educational film were shown to the schools last week, "A Heritage We Guard" illustrating how farms can be protected and passed down through the generations, or be destroyed in only a few years, and "Wet Lands", illustrating the destructive power of water. After showing the films the work unit technicians held discussions in the various schools on what soil conservation has meant to the South, and how proper land use can control destructive agents like erosion and water conservation for plant use and control of fires. It was discussed with the students how Highlands County fits into the soil conservation program. The title of the essay to be written is "What Soil Conservation Means to the South". The film to be shown to the schools this week is "The South Grows Green".

A soil and water conservation plan is being prepared on roughly a 10,000 acre ranch for J. C. and Ralph Durrance. The plan includes some pasture irrigation, depending upon the supply of water available for seepage ditch irrigation.

"That reminds me - our lines will please you too."

We'll please you, and there are no "curves" to it. Get the habit of driving in regularly. When we KNOW your car better we can give you better service.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Tallahassee — There is good news for the taxpayers as the Florida Legislature goes through its second week of the 1951 session. From the opening gun when Governor Fuller Warren asked for no new taxes, and no more appropriations than there is money to pay them, the watchword has been to "hold the line" at the 1949 level, at least.

The House already has passed a bill by Rep. Perry Murray, Polk, which carries the 1949 appropriations act on indefinitely if no new act is passed at this session. He was quite frank in telling the House that the purpose was to avoid last minute pressure, because in other years, the entire machinery of state government would have stopped at the end of the fiscal year July 1 if a new appropriations act had not been passed. The House vote was 85 to 0 for the Murray bill, and the feeling is that by filibuster or other means, no new appropriations bill will pass this session.

By the same token, legislative views are that no new taxes are needed. The senate finance and taxation committee, headed by Senator W. A. Shands of Gainesville, has introduced and prepared for a hearing the revamped sales tax law, cutting out the exemptions on clothing and patent medicines, making other changes designed to life the taxing power by about $17,500,000 for two years. This will nearly cover the increased demands from schools.

Tallahassee — Gambling holds a lion's share of the legislative spot light at the state capital. Hearings started this week on eleven bills, now before both Senate and House, which would make it mandatory to put twice-convicted bookmakers in jail, require public officials to make annual sworn statements of their assets, require horse and dog track employees, officers and stockholders to submit fingerprints and photographs to the racing commission and prohibit any felon from owning or working for a track; prohibit a person from having an interest in more than one Florida track, make sheriffs and prosecutors subject to recall, punish racing interests who contribute to political campaigns, making it a jail or prison sentence for those convicted of lottery operation, enable the state hotel commission to revoke the permit of a hotel or rooming house harboring a gambler, and letting those who lose money at illegal gambling sue to get it back. Both House and Senate promise early action on the program, spearheaded in the Senate by W. A. Shands of Gainesville, in the House by Perry Murray of Polk County.

Soil Conservation News

By Sam Polston.

The board of supervisors of the Highlands Soil Conservation District held their monthly meeting in the county courthouse Monday night with the following members present: Mrs. Katherine Waggaman, Chairman; Ivey E. Futch; Franklin Ward; V. T. Oxer, Secretary. Soil Conservation Service personnel present were District Conservationist Jack Zilles, Sam Polston and C. F. Howerton."

The board held a lengthy discussion on the Secretary of Agriculture's memorandum for consolidation of the Agricultural resources and agreed to cooperate with the PMA committee and other agencies in effecting the consolidation as efficiently as possible.

The district Pangola grass plot at Hendricks Field was fertilized last week with a complete 4-7-5 fertilizer and is responding nicely. With the help of these light showers, we hope to have plenty of planting stock available to cooperators by the time weather conditions are favorable for planting.

It seems as though the Pensacola Bahai grass on the ranches of R. A. "Buck" Carlton and Brothers, as well as several others, has done an excellent job of filling in the gap caused by the cold weather. It has come out fast, especially where it was fertilized either in the fall of last year or this spring, and is furnishing good grazing while some of the other grasses are taking longer to recuperate from the frost.

Of the 67 counties in Florida, Taylor County ranked as the number one producer of lumber in 1948.

THE IVORY-BILLED WOODPECKER

Contributed by Ross Allen's Reptile Institute, Silver Springs, Florida

The Ivory-bill, largest North American woodpecker, was once widespread, but today persists only in two or three scattered localities. A colony of these nearly extinct birds was recentlydiscovered in a swamp in northwestern Florida. The ivory-bill is a black and white bird, big as a crow; the male has a flaming scarlet crest. Most characteristic is the pure white beak, which is so hard and sharp that it was once used by the Indians to tip their spears and arrows! An effort is being made to keep this interesting bird from dying out completely; The area where it was recently discovered has now been set aside as a bird sanctuary.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

Some time ago Governor Warren took a stand in opposition to increased appropriations and more taxes and his courageous action in the face of imperative demands from most all agencies of government for more money met with warm public approval.

Recently the State Democratic Executive Committee took a similar stand in a strongly worded resolution. It is unusual indeed for a State political committee to take such action toward its own party and is commendable, and evidences clear thinking on the part of committee members.

The resolution is worthy of study and careful thought on the part of every citizen. It reads as follows:

"WHEREAS the total direct and indirect taxes paid by the people of Florida to the Federal Government for the year 1950 was approximately $450 million dollars, which will be increased to more than $500 million dollars in 1951, as a result of additional taxes for national defense, and

"WHEREAS the taxes collected in 1950 by the State of Florida and for the counties, cities, schools, and other local governmental units amounted to approximately $375 million dollars, and

"WHEREAS virtually every state department, bureau, commission, institution and agency of the state government has asked the State Budget Commission for increased budgets and apparently will attempt to 'lobby' and 'high pressure' the legislature into increasing their appropriations in spite of the following pertinent facts:

1. All state departments, bureaus and agencies operated in the 1945 Biennum on a total appropriation of $103,059,850, but appropriations were increased in the 1947 Biennum to $190,860,193 and again in 1949 to a total of $240,522,646—an increase of 133% in a four year period.

2. It is apparent that without any further increase in state taxes the Federal Government, the State Government, the Counties, Cities and Schools will spend approximately one-third of the income of every citizen in Florida in the year of 1951.

"WHEREAS the favorite propaganda and alibi of those promoting increased spending is that 'the public is demanding increased governmental services.' That is not true—the minorities who spend or profit from government spending do the demanding, the great majority who pay are too busy making ends meet to protest, and

"WHEREAS another favorite trick of the spenders is to challenge the opponents of economy to tell them where expenditures can be cut. Obviously no citizen or group of citizens has the information or facilities to make up a state budget. They can see the over-all picture but they cannot do the detail job. That is the duty and responsibility of the Budget Commission. They asked for the job when seeking election they should perform their duty to the people, not try to shift the responsibility back to the people, and

"WHEREAS excessive taxation can destroy our nation, our state and the American way of life. The danger point has been reached if not already passed.

"THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED BY THE STATE DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE in special session this 17th day of March, 1951:

1. That we call upon all elected administrative officials of the state, counties, schools and the cities to re-examine their operating budgets and eliminate all non-essential public expenditures to assure that there will be no increase in total operating expenditures and that there will be decreases in the extent of every non-essential expenditure.

2. We call upon the members of the Florida Legislature to hold the 1951 appropriation bill to a total not exceeding the $240 million dollars appropriated by the 1949 legislature less the approximately 10% of that appropriation that has been withheld by the State Budget Commission as a result of unavailable funds, a net total of $216 million dollars, and to reduce expenditures wherever possible through the consolidation of departments or functions and the elimination of unnecessary personnel and operating expenses.

3. We pledge the legislature the support of this committee in the above objectives.

4. The Secretary of this committee is hereby directed to release copies of this resolution to the press and mail copies to the Governor and Cabinet, the members of the Legislature and the State and County Democratic Executive Committees."

THE JUJUBE TREE

By C. S. Donaldson

Until a dozen years ago there lived an old world traveler, Doc. Blum, out on Deer Lake, adjoining Mrs. Harriet Stodden. Doc had a wonderful tree alongside his pump which he called his South American Apple. He had brought it from Peru. It was about 15 feet high, of perfect umbrella shape. The fruit was of the size and shape of a crabapple, and always heavily laden; he enjoyed it greatly and so did others. The ground was covered with little trees from the seed, but I succeeded in getting only one to grow. It is now in the Mall near the Nazarene Church. The town kids watch it closely for the fruit to ripen. A little pruning would make it a perfect umbrella of rich evergreen foliage. Doc's tree shaped that form naturally.

This tree is the Jujube (Zizyphus Jujubus) of Syrian origin but grown mostly in China in immense orchards for converting into little candied apples. In many American cities they are for sale in Chinese stores. Call for candied Jujubes.

The Department of Agriculture sent me a new species of Jujube which is growing thriftily along Trout Lake but the fruit is too small for eating by humans, though birds like them.

The Jujubes belong to the small Buckthorn family (Rhamnaceae order) of which four species are in Highlands Hammock: Black Ironwood (Krugiodendron Ferrum), a small tree with rich evergreen leaves and orange-brown heartwood; the bushy Indian Cherry (Rhamnus Caroliniana) with small red berries making good bird food; and two Rattan vines which wriggle around snake-like and go 100 feet high to tree tops—Sagaretia Minuflora and Berchemia Scandens, the latter commonly called Supple-Jack. These vines have olive-size edible purple fruit, but only the birds can get to them.

The bark of Indian Cherry bushes contains almost the same Cascara Sagrada laxative medicine as that of its sister Rhamnus Purshiana growing wild in California, but its laxative essense is in too irritant a form.

The original Doc Blum Jujube tree was destroyed by a subsequent tenant. The property is now owned by Colonel Ellis.

American workers are deprived of 40 million dollars by forest fires each year.

Vets Information And Service

Here are a few reminders concerning Government checks, especially for veterans.

The fact that veterans often receive another veteran's check with their own, is due to the holes punched in the checks causing them to stick together. When this occurs the check should be returned to the Veterans Administration, telling them what happened so that the check will be remailed promptly.

The acceptance of a check by the veteran who believes more money is due him will not have the effect of waiving any rights he may have in claiming greater compensation or pension. The veteran is advised to cash the check and not to return it under any circumstances.

Government checks for compensation or pension are not subject to seizure by a creditor or for taxes.

If you receive a check which you know for sure you are not entitled to receive, either return it or write the VA for an explanation. It is hard to pay back money after it is once spent and you will be required, sooner or later, to return it.

The Postoffice Department is not permitted to leave a check at a home of a veteran if they know that he no longer lives there or has passed away. Neither are they permitted to forward your check to your new address. They must return check and it usually takes several months to get it straightened out. The exception to theis rule applies to special insurance dividend checks.

Overpayment or subsistence allowances are causing veterans much trouble. Training will be stopped if refund is not made. Overpayments will be taken from unemployment compensation pension, compensation, or any other amounts you may have coming from the VA. By refunding the overpayments you re-establish your credit and character with the VA.

When a widow remarries her pension rights stop but the children's rights continue at a larger amount. No increase will be granted the children until the new marriage certificate is in the VA office and the widow's account properly adjusted.

A check delivered to the veteran, or other payee before his death, and if not cashed by payee, must be returned to the VA. It becomes an asset of payee's estate. Checks delivered after the death of the payee must also be returned to the VA. That part of the check due at date of death is payable only as an accrued amount to dependents, or toward funeral expense if there are no dependents.

If benefit checks are lost or destroyed the VA should be notified immediately. Steps will then be taken to recover check or replace the check. Should check turn up, in the meantime, notify the VA.

When you veterans run into trouble concerning your VA checks, you may receive assistance by seeing your local Veterans, Service Officer or writing the State Service Officer, P. O. Box 1437, St. Petersburg.

Sawtimber in the 10 southernmost Florida counties has declined 45 percent in the last 13 years.

Woman's Club Hears Report on Address By Madame Pandit

That "American security is imperiled by the hungry man in the wide expanse of Asia," was the statement made by Madame Vijaya Lamski Pandit, Ambassador to the United States from India, in her address to the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs in Daytona Beach last Tuesday evening. Her assertion was brought back to the Woman's Club here by its president, Mrs. Samuel Norris, whose report on the convention was a major part of the program at the club's annual luncheon, held last Friday, April 6, at the Hotel Jacaranda.

Over 50 persons attended the luncheon, for which Mrs. W. D. Dorminey was chairman. The two long tables were decorated with flowers.

Mrs. Earl Jackson, at the piano, provided the musical program.

Rosebud corsages were presented to Mrs. Norris and Mrs. Charles F. Kenney, director of District 9. Mrs. Roy E. Sams, Mrs. Walter Mandis, and Mrs. Stuart J. Ward, of the Junior Woman's Club were guests, and received hibiscus corsages. All new members received corsages of garden flowers.

During the short business session, the club voted to have Mrs. Esther Perry Hornbaker give a five minute talk on international relations at each meeting, beginning with the October meeting.

In her report, Mrs. Norris related that Mrs. Charles F. Kenney also attended the convention, held April 3, 4, and 5, and took part in "The Collect Speaks Through the District," that portion of the program presented by district directors.

Mrs. Norris further quoted Madame Pandit as saying that while India is a free country, "to the people of my unhappy country freedom means food — a square meal every day.' That point may seem trivial, but it is "all the difference between peace and war — it is bread." Madame Pandit also said that the long-time objective of India is world peace, but that political independence is not enough for her country. The people of India must first have the basic necessities of life, which they do not have today, if the "hungry man in the wide expanse of Asia" is not to be a threat to our way of life.

Th convention adopted an important four-point legislative program:

1. To urge active support of the Mental Health bill.

2. To urge that the Federal Government act with promptness and firmness in adopting and enforcing inflation and consumer protection controls. Also, a recommendation that food prices be rolled back to prices prevailing on or about June 5, 1950.

3. Enforcement of the bill to be presented by the Florida State Nurses Association, setting up standards for registered and practical nurses. The Federation would recommend that a prompt joint committee be set up in the state legislature to inquire into all matters of health, welfare and protection of consumer interests.

4. A recommendation to the legislature that an appropriation be made for the establishment of an industrial school for Negro girls. There is no institution, either county or state, where delinquent Negro girls can be placed for correction and care.

Mrs. Anna T. Beck, historian, also gave her report at the luncheon, summarizing the work done by the club during this year.

Carlene Adkison Has Party

Carlene Adkinson celebrated her 12th birthday with a party at her home on North Forest Avenue last Saturday night, April 7. She and her guests played games.

A pink and white theme was used in room and table decorations, and the birthday cake was iced in pink, white and green. Cake, snacks and soft drinks were the refreshments.

Mrs. Muriel Boardman was the hostess. Assisting her with the serving were Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Adkison, Ethel Covan and Mabalene Adkison.

Annual Fashion Show Presented At High School

Girls of the high school home economics classes presented a fashion show in the auditorium on Thursday evening, April 5, at 8 o'clock, in which they modeled the garments they had made. Mrs. Martha Allen, home economics teacher, wearing a strapless purple gown with long matching gloves, made the announcements.

An overture was played by the high school orchestra, conducted by Mr. Corman, after which Mrs. Vaughan Driggers, who was at the piano, was presented with a corsage.

The stage was decorated with bougainvillea, and on it was placed a dais where the youthful models revolved.

The first number was the modelling of skirts and blouses by eighth grade girls. Models Ethel Covan, Mabalene Adkison, Patricia Denmark, Betty Childers, Patricia Sheffield, Annie Stewart, Martha Jo Little with her younger sister, Linda Little, Hermie Myers, Alice Collins, Patricia Knowles, and Jackie Landress.

A brief skit, "Doing What Comes Naturally," directed by Miss Ann Sides, was presented by the following boys: Tommy Giddens, M. L. Collins, Hubert McAfee, and Kelton Hill, with Susan Brown as off-stage voice.

Between the modeling scenes, a feminine chorus, accompanied by the orchestra, sang a number of songs. In the chorus were: Lynn Longbottom, Betty Elder, Gerry Elder, Ruth Sellars, Norma Thompson, Maxine Gilliard, Janet Quintier, Margaret Roan, Pat Bovard, and Roberta Harris. During one chorus selection, Carolyn Bolt appeared in ballet posts.

At the close of the program, prizes were awarded by S. F. Longbottom. Judges were: Mrs. E. W. Hartt, Mrs. J. Paul Garber, and Mrs. W. W. Wingfield.

At the close, Mrs. Allen thanked all those who had assisted.

The Kingfisher

By The Bird Woman

For years I have been fascinated by an uncouth looking bird that is seen near either large or small bodies of water, or inland streams.

It is not a handsome bird but one of our most interesting water birds. And their close proximity to water is not without purpose.

This unusual bird is the Kingfisher. Now don't throw up your hands and say "That bird"—it is a menace to fish and a nuisance to fishermen." So let's just stop and put things in their proper setting. Yes, the Kingfisher eats fish.

But Florida being a peninsula, practically 2/37 of our birds are more or less water birds, and a great many of them subsist on fish.

These birds were created and placed in the world with specified habits and appetites before man was created, some to feed exclusively on fish, others to use fish as part of their diet.

When man was created, he was not a fish-eater exclusively, and a great number of our fish that are caught by fishermen are more for sport than for food.

We have no quarrel with those who enjoy fishing, as we enjoy it ourselves, and there is no other way to gain relaxation that equals fishing or tramping through fields and woods bird watching.

Did you ever see a small freckled-faced boy with a ragged straw hat, sitting on a half-submerged log, feet dangling in the water, intently watching a cork floating in the water? That is a perfect picture of relaxation.

So let's live and let live, and not try to unbalance the whole scheme of creation by killing off certain species that need fish to prolong their lives, because they happen to interfere with some of our selfish pleasures.

The Kingfisher prefers minnows to larger fish, because they enjoy swallowing them whole, but when stomachs were examined, it was found that although they had eaten fish, crawfish, frogs, dragonflies, water beetles and grasshoppers had also been consumed, and formed a great part of their diet.

When a fish is caught that cannot be swallowed whole, the Kingfisher will pound it on a post or limb of a tree until it is softened up enough to swallow whole.

The belted Kingfisher is the most common and may be seen at various times all over Florida. It usually migrates to the Keys for the winter.

This species can be readily recognized by the white belt around the neck, and the double stubby crest which is very valuable in diving. It has a black stubby tail wit hrows of white polka dots on it.

They enjoy the lakes, pools and inlets of Florida, preferring the region where there are high banks, where they can make their unusual nesting places.

For this purpose they excavate a long tunnel into th eembankment, and use both beak and feet in the process, and we wonder if they do not have some secret implement of which we are not aware, whan we see what they actually accomplished.

The tunnel is from five to seven feet long and three to four inches in diameter; it is cupped at the end and slightly larger than the main tunnel; this larger cavity is necessary to give these large birds room to raise their brood.

Other nesting places on ledges of rock have been found, but they are rare, and seem to be used only as a convenience, when they have located a good food supply and disdain to abandon it even at nesting time for a more favorable site.

Occasionally, probably for the same reason, nests have been found in holes of dead trees.

Most everyone is familiar with the behavior of the Kingfisher. He sits patiently on a limb that extends out over the water and seems to be asleep, but suddenly he seems to come to life, when he has spotted a fish in the water below, and as swift as an arrow, he dives and disappears completely into the water, but comes up immediately with his prey in his long bill.

This is always interesting to watch, but did you ever wonder how this art of fishing was taught to the fledgling?

Here is mystery—the fledgings are taken to kindergarten.

A small shallow pool is selected by the parent, one that has two overhanging branches. And the parent proceeds to catch minnows and stock the pool. When the young are ready, they are brought out on the limb and the parents teach them by example to locate and catch their prey. When they have learned the art of diving in shallow water, they gradually are allowed the deeper water; and in an incredibly short time, they cannot be told from the parents, either in size or in their maneuvering.

CORRECTION ON MURDER STORY

The cutting death which took place at the Cotton Club in Avon Park on March 30 was incorrectly reported in lasf week's edition, the names of victim and accused killer being reversed.

Phelmore Simms, reported as being held for first degree murder, is the dead man while William (Son) Brown is charged with killing him. Both are Negroes.

NEW TEACHERS

Miss Yvonne Head, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Head and a graduate of the local high school, now interning here in the elementary school, was appointed an Avon Park teacher for next fall, at the monthly meeting of the Highlands County School Board on April 10.

At the same meeting, Miss Jamie Lee Whitaker and Miss Alice Ruth O'Brien, both now at Lake Placid, were transferred to Avon Park school.

REBEKAH ASSEMBLY

The Florida Rebekah Assembly will meet in Sarasota on Sunday, April 15, continuing through Thursday, April 19.

Headquarters will be at Sarasota Terrace Hotel, with sessions held in the American Legion Hall.

EPISCOPAL GUILD

St. Margaret's Auxiliary, of the Church of the Redeemer, will meet at the Parish House next Wednesday, April 18, at 3:00 P.M.

STONES IN THE GALLBLADDER

Stones in the gallbladder are responsible for one of the most excruciating pains in the human machine. More than that, if the gallbladder should rupture, in an attack, the victim often has little chance of recovery.

Some persons live indefinitely under recurrent attacks, attacks so mild that they are attributed to "indigestion", while others have repeated violent attacks so severe that they are soon convinced that something is radically wrong and will seek professional advice from a physician immediately.

The gallbladder is a pear-shaped organ lying under the liver, in which bile is stored after being manufactured in the liver. When fatty food enters the duodenum it stimulates production of a hormone which causes the gallbladder to expel bile through a duct into the intestine. Bile is a powerful chemical which plays an important part in breaking down food in the digestive process. Because it is so powerful, the body does not normally permit it to enter the general circulation.

The exact reason why stones form in the gallbladder is not known, but, because bile contains cholesterol, a substance that is not easily soluble, bile is considered the source of the formations. Anything that occurs in the digestive tract to prevent the gallbladder from emptying may end in the stagnation of bile and help form the hard insoluble gallstones. When the gallbladder cannot be emptied, because of gallstones, the resultant distention produces symptoms ranging from indigestion and gas discomfort to intolerable pain called "gallstone colic", the characteristic gallbladder attack.

Persons suffering fullness, belching and pain after eating, should not treat the discomfort lightly, but should consult the family physician immediately.

Florida holds the unenviable position of being second among the nation's states in number of woods fires and area burned.

THE COPPERHEAD

(Agkistrodon contortrix contortrix)

Contributed by Ross Allen's Reptile Institute, Silver Springs, Florida

The copperhead, or "highland moccasin", is a master of the art of camouflage, its mottled pattern rendering it almost impossible to see against a background of fallen leaves or debris. Common farther north, it enters Florida in the northwestern portion, and is rare there. Its bite produces great pain and swelling, but is rarely fatal to adults. The copperhead is good-natured and seldom strikes unless actually touched or stepped on. About a dozen young are born. The babies have bright yellow tail-tips, which they sometimes wiggle like worms. Frogs are often fooled by the wiggling objects and, in trying to catch the supposed worms, may be caught themselves by the little copperheads.

Speaker Table At Rotary Anns Party

Rotarians and Rotary Anns at speaker table: Mrs. C. L. Armstrong, F. T. Haskins, Sebring, (Mrs. Haskins was evidently blocked out but we know she was to Mr. Haskins' left) Bob Gibson, president elect, District Governor Frank Rhodes and Mrs. Rhodes of St. Petersburg, President Charles Metcalfe, Mrs. Metcalfe and Charle's mother, Mrs. G. C. Metcalfe, and C. L. "Army" Armstrong, secy.

Rotary Anns Have Their Night

Thursday night, April 12th, members of the Avon Park Rotary Club were hosts to their wives, "Rotary Anns," at a dinner and dance held at the Jacaranda Hotel.

There was no speech making at this meeting and that seemed to please everyone. District Governor, Frank Rhodes of St. Petersburg was introduced by President Charles Metcalfe. The Governor did not make a speech, but did read some prose and poetry that especially pleased the Rotary Anns.

Al Dohany and his boys from Lakeland furnished the music for the dance following the dinner.

Local Rotarians To Conference

A group of Rotarians from Avon Park plan to attend the annual Conference of the 244th District of Rotary International from April 22-24, in Orlando. Charles G. Metcalfe President of the local Rotary Club said today.

Representatives from the 32 other Rotary Clubs in the Central Florida and West Coast area which make up the District also will attend the Conference.

Sen. Spessard Holland will make the principal address at the Conference. District Governor, Frank M. Rhodes of St. Petersburg, will preside at the Conference sessions.

One of the most important matters to be taken up at the Conference is the nomination of a Rotarian to succeed Mr. Rhodes as District Governor. The man nominated will take office as Governor on July 1, and will be the official representative of Rotary International, the world-wide organization of all Rotary Clubs, in the 244th District. Although nomination at the District Conference is equivalent to election, the new Governor will be formally elected, along with more than 200 other District Governors from all parts of the world, at Rotary International's 1951 Convention in Atlantic City, New Jersey, May 27-31.

A. J. Tubbs Elected Board Chairman

J. W. Schumacher resigned as chairman of the Highlands County commission Tuesday afternoon and Commissioner A. J. Tubbs was elected to the post.

The resignation was submitted when the board convened after the luncheon hour. His letter of resignation was as follows:

"I want to thank you for rejecting my resignation of March 20th, 1951. I am of the same opinion and the same frame of mind.

"Due to the conditions that exist in this county, I resign as chairman effective immediately today at 12 noon, April 17, 1951. I re-endorse county Commissioner A. J. Tubbs as chairman for the board today, April 17, 1951. Due to his six years of service as county commissioner I feel he is the one for this office.

"I can now put my full duties to serving the people in District 5 and Highlands County."

Commissioner A. C. McAulay, Schumacher's supporter in the past, moved that the resignation be accepted. Commissioner R. L. Stokes seconded the motion, which was carried.

The ex-chairman moved for the unanimous election of Tubbs but withdrew the motion when it failed to get a second. Stoke's motion to elect Tubbs chairman was seconded by McAulay and passed unanimously. Commissioner M. H. Grice remains as vice-chairman.

The board, with Grice dissenting, transferred Mrs. Vera Bowers, office assistant, from the commissions payroll to that of Circuit Court H. T. Piety. Her employment several months ago precipitated a court battle that cost the county $500 in extra legal fees.

Piety reminded Schumacher that much of Mrs. Bowers' time was used in typing letters for the former Chairman.

The board, among other things, awarded contracts for two two-ton trucks, one to the Wells Motor Co., Avon Park, for $3239 and the other to the Lake Placid Motor Co., for $3165.

Bartow Edges Red Devils 8-7

By John Garber

The Red Devils gave way to the Bartow Yellow Jackets last Tuesday in a game which started off as a thriller for the Avon Park fans but ended in a heartbreaker. Jimmy Kelley was responsible for the first runs of the game by smashing a home run in the first inning which well cleared the left field fence at the 325 foot mark. This brought in Clenney from second base totaling two runs added to Kelley's RBI. In the fifth inning, Doug Fields' hit, second to none but Kelley's, showed his power by a neat two base hit which rolled to the left center fence at the 345 foot mark. Unfortunately there was no runner on base. Kelley was replaced in the fourth inning due to injuring his knee while fielding a ball.

Bobby Whitcomb pitched the full seven innings, and, although the losing pitcher, turned in a creditable showing for himself. Whitcomb struck out five batters against three strike outs by Bartow pitchers Simons and Thompson.

The picture didn't look too bright for the Yellow Jackets as the final inning came up with the Red Devils leading by 7-2. Bartow, with the aid of four hits, two walks, and two errors, tallied six runs to take the lead in the first half of the seventh 8-7. The Red Devils just couldn't muster another run but made a good stab at it leaving (as a consoling thought) a man on second and third as the game ended.

Fields, Kelley, Spencer, and Jenkins drove out Avon Park's four hits and Clenney, Fields, Kelley, Whitcomb, Spencer, Reynolds, and Ward tallied one run each.

Bartow — Simons, Thompson: Stanley.

Avon Park — Whitcomb: Spencer.

Bartow — 8 runs, 9 hits, 3 errors.

AvonPark — 7 runs, 4 hits, 4 errors.

Avon Park	220 000 0—7 runs

Red Devils Crush Kathleen 11 To 1

By John Garber

Bobby Whitcomb was the man behind the big gun last Friday leading his teammates to a decisive win over the Kathleen Red Devils. Whitcomb dished it out to the tune of nine strikeouts in four innings while giving up but two walks and allowing no hits or runs. Morris Harper took the mound to relieve Whitcomb the fifth inning and also turned in a good performance for the remaining three innings by striking out five batters, giving up but two walks, two hits and one run.

Avon Park regained their strength in the return of Doug Fields to the line-up. This was his first game since his arm injury. Fields connected with two hits and scored one run.

Gene Cruse led the scoring by safely crossing home plate three times followed by Whitcomb with two, and one each by Jenkins, Fields, Clenney, Reynolds, Meeks, and Harper.

Doug Fields drove out two hits while Crews, Kelley, Whitcomb, Spencer, Meeks, and Ward tallied one each for a total of eight hits.

Comparatively Speaking:

Kathleen 1 run, 2 hits, 9 errors

Avon Park 11 runs, 8 hits, 3 errors.

By The Innings:

Kathleen 000 000 1 Total 1 runs
A. P. 414 101 - Total 11 runs

Civics Classes Conduct Survey

The 9th grade Civics classes of Avon Park High School, taught by Mrs. Elizabeth K. Driggers, have recently conducted a survey of the factors which influence public opinion of adults in the community. The students selected a timely question around which to build a questionnaire. The question was, "Do you think that 18-year olds should be called into the services?" Of 124 people replying, 34 said yes, 90 said no.

The questionnaire showed that the radio and newspapers tied as leading agencies which helped to form opinions on this topic. Conversation with other people rated second place. The radio news commentator who won top place as favorite was Lowell Thomas. Edward R. Murrow and Walter Winchell tied for second place.

The favorite magazine of the community was "Life." "Readers' Digest" was second and the "Saturday Evening Post," third. The query on movies disclosed that the five outstanding movies recently shown at the local theatre before the last of February were, in order of most votes, "Prince of Peace" "King Solomon's Mines," "Stars In My Crown," "All About Eve," and "Hamlet."

Continuing the interest in the question of induction of 18-year olds into the armed forces, the Civics classes are following the actions of Congress. Newspapers, especially the Tampa Tribune, the widest read daily in the community, were closely studied. The Senate's actions, in committee and its overwhelming passage of the bill, were followed with interest. Now close attention is being paid to the proposals in the House of Representatives, especially to the 19 year's difference in age.

Florida's Senator Smathers has a special plan whereby a college student may combine his college education with his military service. A committee of students is preparing a letter to be sent to Senator Smathers, asking for more information on this plan.

These activities, called laboratory practices, and many others have been undertaken to give students a knowledge of the principles of American democracy, attitudes of affirmation of those principles, and skills in applying them in their daily lives. These activities are coordinated with the Citizenship Education Project of Teachers College, Columbia University, where Mrs. Driggers and A. B. Wilhite, supervising principal of Avon Park Schools, attended a special conference on Citizenship Training last summer.

This week, Mrs. R. M. Riefstahl and her brother, Walter R. Titzel, Jr., visited their aunt, Mrs. Anna T. Reck, and cousin, Mrs. E. G. Todd. Mrs. Riefstahl is head of the Egyptian department of Brooklyn Museum, Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Titzel purchased a fine apartment building in Clearwater last year, and spent this season as a real estate dealer there.

Registration For Next School Term Begins

All parents who have children that will enter school for the 1951-52 term for the first time are being sent letters at this time asking that they fill out a questionnaire to be returned to the Elementary Principal at the earliest possible date. Also, that a pre-school roundup will be held in the Elementary School Auditorium, Thursday, May 3, at 9:00 A. M., for the purpose of enrolling all the new students and at the same time giving physical check-ups to any children whom the parents request be examined.

Below is a letter that is being sent to all parents of children who will enter school for the first time this Fall. If you do not receive a copy of this letter, please go to the elementary school office of the principal and receive your copy of the letter.

Dear Parents,

You are urged to bring your child who will be a beginner in our school next year to the Avon Park Elementary School Auditorium on Thursday, May 3 at 9:00 A. M., for registration for 1951-52 school term. The Highlands County Health Department under the direction of Dr. Beaumont and assisted by Mrs. Ranklin has consented to be present on that day to give physical check-ups to any children whom the parents desire be examined. This is a great aid to you parents because it gives you sufficient time to make proper corrections of the physical defects of diseased tonsils, decayed teeth, and other defects that a child may have before he begins his school year in September.

Attached hereto is a questionnaire which all parents having children entering school for the first time in September should fill out and return to your Elementary Principal, either personally, by mail, or by some student at once!

We hope to make this a profitable occasion for you and that you will co-operate with us by being present on the above date. Be sure to bring to the clinic on Thursday, May 3, a copy of the child's birth certificate or other accurate evidence of proof of age.

Yours truly,
V. W. DRIGGERS,
Elementary Principal.

Moore Introduces Broad Recall Bill

A proposed constitutional amendment that would permit ousting of any elected state or county official by recall election after one year's service was introduced in the senate Monday.

Senator Moore offered the proposal which is a broader measure than the one offered by the Senate crime and corruption committee to permit recall of law enforcement officials.

Moore's measure even would let the public get rid of Congressmen and U. S. Senators.

He introduced a similar proposal in the 1949 session.

Moore introduced another proposed constitutional amendment which, if passed, would give the voters a much more direct and powerful part in the lawmaking process. This would permit the public, by a petition of 25 per cent of the voters, to direct an election on any legislation they wish passed.

Moore's amendment also would diminish the power of the governor's veto through a provision that 10 percent of the voters, upon petition, could call an election to pass on any legislation adopted by the state legislature.

Rotary Meeting

Members of the Avon Park Rotary Club had the pleasure of hearing a representative of the Blue Key Society of the Florida University at their meeting Wednesday noon. Herb Hildreth spoke on Research and Expansion at the University. Mr. Hildreth made the trip from Gainesville especially to address the Rotary. His speech was well received by all present.

Out of town Rotarians and guests at the luncheon were: L. T. Carter, Wood River, Ill., John Jackson, Clarksburg, W. Va., Harry Lee, Sebring; Galen Croun, Harrisburg, Va., Miles Davis, Frostproof, Dr. Richard Hedrick, Avon Park.

Mr. Lee, Highlands County Chairman for the Cancer Drive gave a short talk, emphasizing seven points for the detection of cancer.

Mrs. Al Kayworth of Wauchula was the guest Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Gregor.

P T A Circus Entertaining And Financially Successful

The show given by the Florida State University Gymnastic Troupe in the gymnasium last night, as the feature entertainment, combining the best gymnastic feats with the added costuming, natter, and comedy of the clowns.

The performers included the Tallahassee Tumbling Tots, and members of the varsity gymnastic team, among the latter were Dick Guthrie, who won the Florida A.A.U. Trampoline and Tumbling title this year, and Jack Miller, who won the Middle Atlantic A.A.U. title for performance on the flying rings last year, and was Eastern Philadelphia Turners All-Around Junior Champion in 1950.

The Tumbling Tots were an attractive part of the program, and revealed the amazing proficiency in executing back flips, hand stands, etc., that can be attained by small children.

The Troupe donated their performance to Avon Park, receiving only their expenses.

Dr. Hartley Price, head gymnastic coach, who came with the troupe, stated that he was pleased with their reception here. He also stated that should the local school develop tumblers and gymnasts to form the backbone of a show next year, he would be glad to send F. S. U. stars to perform with them.

The P. T. A. Circus began with the big parade, which marched to the school grounds, where ribbons were awarded for best costumes by Miss Alma Harrell. The Bronze Saddle Club of Lorida and members of the high school band lent interest and music to the parade.

The food booths, rides, and side shows provided entertainment and nourishment until show time.

At 6:30, Mrs. Mildred Murphy put her wonder horse, "Red Fox," through his paces. This was a free attraction.

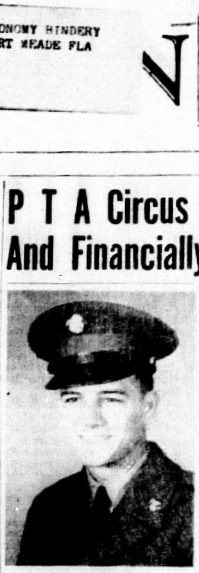
Before the Gymnkana performance in the gym, Fred Meeks and Gerry Elder were crowned king and queen of the circus. In their court were Carolyn Bolt, Kenny Elder, Alice Collins, Jeril Clenney, Joan Williams, Gloria Davis, Virginia Landress, M. L. Collins, Jimmy Kejley, and Tim Jenkins. The king and queen were chosen by vote.

All in all, the circus was fun; and those who attended should certainly thank those whose effort contributed to the entertainment.

In addition, the circus was a financial success clearing around $600.00, considerably more than last year.

Mrs. J. A. Johnson, P. T. A. Chairman for the circus, also wishes to thank everyone who donated talent, work, or articles toward making the circus a success.

It should also be noted that Miss Yvonne Head helped get the Gymnkana Troupe for Avon Park.



Pfc. Robert Holt

Pfc. Robert Holt Received Award

Private First Class Robert T. Holt, of Avon Park, and brother of Mrs. W. N. Crews and Miss Grace Holt of this town, has been awarded the Combat Infantryman's Badge in Korea while serving as an infantryman with the 5th Cavalry regiment.

This badge, which is awarded only frontline combat infantrymen, distinguishes the actual fighting man from the rear area and service troops in a combat zone. A soldier must be a member of an infantry regiment to be eligible to receive it.

The badge itself consists of a miniature replica of a revolutionary flint lock rifle on a rectangular blue background superimposed over a wreath. It is worn by the soldier over his left breast pocket above his campaign ribbons.

Rev. F. M. Butler And Local Laymen Attend Convention

The Reverend Martin Julius Bram, Rector of Holy Trinity Church, West Palm Beach, was elected Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese of South Florida on the second ballot, Wednesday, April 11, at the annual diocesan convention at Daytona Beach. Father Bram has been rector of the West Palm Beach parish since 1945.

More than 650 delegates attended the diocesan convention and the concurrent meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary and it is believed that this was a record attendance for an Episcopalian Convention in Florida.

Delegates and visitors to the convention from the Church of the Redeemer, Avon Park, were: the Reverend and Mrs. Frank M. Butler, Mr. Walter S. Betts, Mr. G. Franklin Ward, Mrs. A. C. Wester, Sr. and Mrs. Frank Moore.

Father Butler also attended the first Florida Convention of the American Church Union of the Episcopal Church, which was held Thursday afternoon at St. Mary's Episcopal Church. The American Church Union is the largest and oldest society devoted to the furtherance and defense of Apostolic faith and practice in the Episcopal Church through which, it is believed, the Church can make the greatest possible contribution to the ultimate reunion of Christendom.

St. Luke's Cathedral, Orlando, will entertain the Convention in April 1952.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Colmery, who have been staying in the Kempton apartments on Lake Isis, returned Wednesday to Cartersburg, W. Va. They have purchased a lot here, on which they intend to build a home. They expect to return to Avon Park during the summer, in order to be here during the building operations, and will become permanent residents.

Is This You?

You were seen Monday afternoon, on the corner of Main and Lake, sitting on a bench, refreshing yourself with a sandwich and a Coke. You wore a tan, striped shirt, navy blue trousers — no hat. You are about 5 feet 9, have grey hair, wear glasses. If this is you, call at Hilans boxoffice or Sun, and receive two passes to see Gene Tierney and John Lund in "The Mating Season" next Thursday, and Friday, April 26 and 27.

Last week's "Is This You?" was Mrs. Robert J. Watson.

Reward Fund For Information

A fund is being established by private individuals to reward those who can tell the names or identities of any persons who break, tear up, or otherwise destroy property, whether the property belongs to the town or to private homes.

There have been many other instances of destruction than those described in last week's edition. Property in private yards have been deliberately broken, street signs have been stolen, and so on and on.

These acts of destruction don't benefit the doer in any way. They are apparently acts of petty malice, sheer wanton destructiveness, the pastime of an infantile personality — not much above the level of decency indicated by tormenting a helpless puppy.

So if you know anyone who is destroying property, report him.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Tallahassee — Body blows against crime are being thrown around by both houses of the Florida legislature, with restrictions on the transmission of race information and penalties for bookies most numerous. Both houses have received a series of eleven bills to clamp down on gambling in particular. One of these, to make all public officials swear annually to their net worth to catch the crooks, has been killed in committee. Others are being tinkered to meet house objections, as when hotel men protested their licenses could be cancelled if four of their guests got caught in a poker game for which the hotel was not responsible. Others prohibiting television and radio broadcasts of races until the day's program is ended, and asking Congress to prevent interstate transmission of results are headed for passage. At the suggestion of the attorney general's office, more of the mechanics of new anti-bookie enforcement is being shifted to the railroad and public utilities commission, which will be given a staff of experts to ferret out those using telephone and telegraph lines for illegal gambling purposes.

Tallahassee — Investigations are the order of the day in the Florida legislature, with a "Little Kefauver" committee apparently destined to keep the news columns hot between sessions, and a temporary investigation group set to spice up the remainder of this session. In addition, the senate has started a three-member quiz of the state beverage department, after charges by Senator W. T. Davis of Madison and others that beverage inspectors had dabbled in legislative races. The Republican Pinellas delegation and former Speaker Perry Murray of Polk County proposed the "Little Kefauver" committee, which was quickly approved. The committee on resolutions boiled down several requests into one major investigation of all public officials, but aimed at no one in particular.

Tallahassee — Talk of impeachment of Governor Warren started after his reinstatement of Jimmy Sullivan of Dade county, but had died away when cool heads in both senate and house pointed out the governor was acting within constitutional grounds, and virtually on mandate from the state supreme court. Meantime, the senate in executive session confirmed Warren's suspension of Walter R. Clark of Broward county and Frank M. Williams of Polk county. Others suspended from office by the governor for their part in gambling or other malfunctions are being screened through a senate committee headed by Senator LeRoy Collins of Tallahassee.

Tallahassee — One of the first bills to clear both houses will make "The Sunshine State" the official slogan for Florida automobile license plates. The house bill introduced by Roy Surles of Polk county survived various attempts to change the slogan to "See Everglades National Park" and "Tourist Paradise" and went through the senate without major opposition.

Tallahassee — The 1951 revision of the state sales tax is going slowly through the senate, with all sides virtually agreed that it will pass without major change. It was prepared by a committee headed by Senator W. A. Shands of Gainesville, who is chairman of the finance and taxation committee sponsoring it. The bill will eliminate exemptions on clothing, patent medicine and other items, will produce $17,500,000 every two years in addition to what is produced by the tax today, its authors declare. Chief beneficiaries — common schools. The schools have submitted separate appropriations bills calling for $129,000,000 for the next two years but these have been killed off. In the house, a bill has passed to continue the present general appropriations act if the legislature cannot agree on a new one, thus holding the line at the 1949-50 level of state spending. The senate has not acted on it.

Tallahassee — Senator Charley Johns of Starke will reverse over the 1953 Senate and Farris Bryant of Marion county will lead the house of that year. Party caucus-

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

By the Reverend Frank M. Butler

"Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall also believe on me through their words; that they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me."
St. John XVII. 20. 21.

A recent issue of one of our well known national weekly magazines devoted several pages to the discussion of Christian unity. The whole question of reunion is indeed an important one when even the secular press looks to the Christians of the world with such eager expectancy. Most important of all the influences bearing upon Christian unity however, is the prayer of our Lord which He ceaselessly offers: "that they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee." Reunion is something which God will accomplish by His Holy Spirit. Men will have their part to play surely, but it will be accomplished not so much by striving and planning as it will by submission to the Lord of all.

Our opinion is that the great danger to Christian unity lies in the modern attempt to bring it about by making sort of an alloy of our present denominationalism. The divine plan for real unity already exists. The Church of God, undivided, can be seen in the pages of the New Testament, and when men with real penitence and faith, start studying the Holy Scriptures together, be assured that God will accomplish that which men can never accomplish.

We ought to remember that in spite of all its imperfections and sins Israel remained the People of God. The Church, divided and weakened by human sin, is still His Church, and it has a unity which can never be broken because God created it for man's salvation with the promise that "the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

Soil Conservation District News

Land preparation for pasture improvement is going at a stepped up pace since the much needed rain came. The prospect for early planting stock looks excellent now, especially where the grass has received a spring application of a complete fertilizer. Many who were not fortunate enough to fertilize before the rains are putting on an application now while the moisture conditions are still good.

Cooperator J. R. Ramer's pasture is responding very nicely. He was fortunate enough to have his fertilizer on and he says the fertilizer definitely increases the quality of his grass. Mr. Ramer says that a pound of green forage from a fertilized grass is higher in food value than a pound of green forage from an unfertilized grass and a cow can only eat just a certain number of pounds of feed, therefore, if the cow eats the fertilized grass it will put on more pounds of beef or give more milk per day than if it eats the unfertilized grass.

It seems to be the general opinion now days that with improved pasture grasses that fertilizer can be converted into beef or milk with a good margin of profit.

It takes thinking to keep Florida a beautiful state. It takes thinking to Keep Florida Green! ee decided on the Starke insurance agent and the Ocala attorney early in the session. The house later agreed, however, that it will hold no more caucuses for speaker until 1954, after the 1955 house is nominated. Practice of beating the gun on the speakership grew during war years.

Child Cancer Toll Is 3,000 Annually

Cancer is least prevalent among the young, but nevertheless took the lives of approximately 3,000 children under 15 years of age last year.

The type of cancer which occurs most frequently in children is leukemia, a malignant growth of white cells in the blood. This caused more than 1,350 deaths in young boys and girls last year. Scientists are hopeful that current research in Hormones may provide a method of controlling leukemia since unusually promising results have been obtained in a few cases.

Cancer has a tragic impact on young lives through the death of parents. Every year more than 60,000 children lose a father or mother to cancer.

Early detection and prompt treatment of cancer can reduce the deaths by one-third. Meanwhile, a multi-million dollar research program supported by contributions to the Cancer Crusade is seeking the causes of the disease and new cures.

Your dollars help guard your family. Strike back! Give to conquer cancer.

THE BLACK WIDOW SPIDER

Contributed by Ross Allen's Reptile Institute, Silver Springs, Florida

The black widow, America's only dangerously poisonous spider, may be recognized by its round, black body with a red hour-glass marking on the under side. Only the venomous female is so colored; the much smaller, harmless male is striped. The black widow is good-natured and seldom attempts to bite; deaths from the bite are rare. After courtship, the female often eats the male; this occasions the name of "widow"!

Ace Director Made Deal With Villa

Raoul Walsh Began His Career As Assistant To D. W. Griffith

Thinks He Has Another Big Hit In "Distant Drums," Story Of Seminoles

BY NEIL MEFFERT
Staff Writer
Ocala Star-Banner

Raoul Walsh, movie director famous for such smash hits as "What Price Glory," "White Heat", "Strawberry Blonde", and many others, thinks he has another big one in "Distant Drums", now being filmed in Florida.

The million-dollar opus starring Gary Cooper is being filmed entirely in the state and is a story of the Seminole Indian war against the United States government.

Currently shooting opening scenes at Silver Springs, Walsh called the picture a "tough one" to make, but one almost sure to please the public. Much of the action takes place in semi-jungle and swampland, and parts of Florida never before filmed in color will be shown.

On a location inspection trip two months ago, Walsh said he covered over 2500 miles of Florida territory, finally choosing Silver Springs, Fort San Carlos at St. Augustine and the big cypress swamp near Naples as perfect spots to fit his story.

Walsh's latest picture, "Captain Horatio Hornblower", an epic of the high seas starring Gregory Peck, is scheduled to open next week in England. Invited to meet the Royal Family at the command performance, the director had to tender his regrets. "Next week I'll be meeting the royal Seminoles in the mud", he remarked, in telling about the invitations.

Started As Actor

Walsh an eminent director for nearly three decades, began his career as a cowboy actor back in the days of one and two-reel Westerns. Then he was picked as an assistant to D. W. Griffith, and given an assignment which provided sufficient adventure for an ordinary lifetime.

Griffith sent the young actor-director, along with a cameraman, down to Mexico to record on film the exploits of the infamous Pancho Villa. Walsh was to shoot a couple of reels of Villa's army to be incorporated in a feature length film.

He met Villa, Walsh relates, at Juarez and made a deal with him, paying the Mexican $500 in gold for the rights to photograph him. Then he set out with the bandit general on the bloody march to Chihuahua, camera grinding all the way.

Execution of prisoners was accomplished by dark of night, except on one occasion when the persuasive young director talked Villa into waiting until daybreak so there would be enough light for picture-making.

After the prisoners were shot down, Walsh relates, one group of renegades, with Villa's full consent, would pounce upon the dead to pry out their gold teeth with rocks, while another group removed boots and other clothing from the victims. "They operated two concessions", comments Walsh.

Merciless killings, lootings, rape, and arson, all were daily occurrences as the army proceeded southward.

Walsh describes vividly the senseless ransacking and destruction of a fine mansion belonging to one of Mexico's richest families.

Only one member of the family had remained when the others fled at the army's approach, and he scuffled and roundly cursed Villa. "Villa stood there and listened to the fellow calling him everything in the book. You could tell he was planning how he would torture him slowly to death, when one of Villa's men shot the fellow," Walsh recalls. "Villa was so mad, I thought he was going to kill the one who did the shooting."

Walsh left the bandit general at Chihuahua, but before letting him depart, Villa demanded Walsh tell him the story to be used in the movie. "I invented a corny story on the spot—it made him out a hero, and he liked it."

That story, with some refinements, was used in making "The Life of Villa", in which Walsh played the leading role.

After Villa took over the capitol and proclaimed himself president of Mexico, he invited Walsh to visit him and take more pictures. But before the director was able to make the visit, Villa was assassinated.

Retired From Screen

Walsh won considerable fame and fortune as an actor, but after playing John Wilkes Booth in "The Birth of a Nation", elected to give up acting entirely in favor of directing. (He did return to the screen several years later as the sergeant in "Rain."

In 1926, Walsh made "What Price Glory", a powerful story of World War I, which he still considers his best movie. "They are still using the same formula for war pictures that we used in that one," he says to back up his evaluation of its merits.

Nearly all of Walsh's successful movies, and he has had few duds, have been big, colorful, out-of-door adventure pictures. This is the kind of thing he likes to do, and the kind he thinks the public likes. Box office records bear him out in that opinion.

Rolls His Own

A chain smoker who rolls his own cigarettes, Walsh looks like the director of adventure movies ought to look. He is deeply tanned by the sun, has a crisp white mustache, and wears a black patch over one eye. His working costume is levis, boots, denim shirt, and cowboy-style tie.

Walsh is noted for shooting fast, he rehearses scenes only briefly before takes—and has a surefire formula for dealing with temperamental actors. "Out 'em out", is his method.

However, he hastens to explain, the day of the Hollywood temperament is gone. "We haven't got time for that foolishness nowadays", he declares.

Walsh praised Gary Cooper, star of "Distant Drums," for his cooperativeness, and lack of temperament. "He's a fine fellow to work with", thinks Walsh. "Drums" is one of the best roles Cooper has ever had, according to the director. The lanky, drawling actor appears in almost every scene.

The shooting schedule for the Warner Brothers location company, which numbers nearly 150 actors and technicians, calls for seven weeks in Florida. "Distant Drums" is supposed to be ready for release around January 1, and will likely open in two or three Florida cities, Walsh said.

During his stay in Florida, the director hopes to renew old acquaintanceship with Newspaper Publisher John H. Perry. The two met in Hollywood many years ago when Perry visited the set of "The Birth of a Nation". Perry, who expects to be in Ocala sometime this week, has promised Walsh to visit the "Distant Drums" set while here.

New Social Security Protects Children And Mothers

When a worker insured under the federal old-age and survivors' insurance program becomes entitled to benefits or dies, each child in his family under 18, including stepchildren, adopted, and illegitimate, becomes entitled to a monthly benefit.

The mother of the children, regardless of her age, also becomes entitled to a monthly benefit in her own right as long as she has in her care an unmarried child under 18, of the insured worker.

This provision which extends protection to mothers as well as minor children, is a part of your new Social Security about which the people of this community need to become more informed, according to W. E. Arnold, Manager of the Lakeland office of the Social Security Administration.

Mr. Arnold points out that the underlying purpose of this provision is to enable the mother to maintain her home intact when the breadwinner becomes too old to work regularly or dies.

Benefits continue to be paid as long as certain requirements are met. For instance, a mother loses her benefits for any month during which she earns more than $50 in work covered by Social Security. Children lose benefits for any month during which they earn more than $50 in covered employment. Benefits to a widowed mother stop permanently when she remarries, or to the children when they marry.

A divorced wife of a deceased wage earner is entitled to monthly benefits as long as she has in her care a child of the deceased, entitled to benefits and was entitled to monthly alimony equal to more than her monthly income.

In order to become more fully informed as to the rights of children and mothers under your new Social Security, persons responsible for a child of a deceased wage earner, particularly children of World War II veterans, are requested to visit or write the Social Security Administration located at 807 Marble Arcade Building, Lakeland, or talk with the representative here in Avon Park on alternate Tuesdays.

Walter Tubby, a disabled veteran of Clarkston, Washington, figures his handicap as an asset to him.

Confined to a wheel chair as a result of a spine crushed in war service, Tubby, who is today office manager of the Troy Lumber Company, says:

Walter Tubby

"Instead of running all over the place trying to wait on customers and do all the other jobs, I have to stay right here in my wheel chair. That way I am able to concentrate on my work and don't spend half my time trying to do everyone else's."

His ability to overcome serious disability and put himself on a self-sustaining basis has earned for Tubby the Disabled American Veterans selection as "Hero of the Month."

His selection is part of a national program to honor each month a seriously disabled veteran who has successfully rehabilitated himself.

The experience of Tubby and thousands of other disabled veterans, according to Boniface B. Maile, national DAV commander, emphasizes the importance of safeguarding the rehabilitation program for disabled veterans and not letting false economy moves wreck the program.

A paper salesman before the war, Tubby enlisted with the Seabees in February, 1942. A month later he left for Funa Futi, in the Allice Islands, where he worked as a dynamiter and shovel operator. But in April, 1943, he was loading steel for bomb shelters when a crane overturned, pinning him underneath the heavy boom.

A year in hospitals, including several surgical operations, was the first stage in Tubby's rehabilitation. But even the skill of the best surgeons failed to repair all the damage done to his crushed spine. He must remain in a wheel chair.

After his discharge from the hospital, Tubby joined the DAV and started looking to the future. His old trade demanded too much travel. He tried making plastic novelties and restringing tennis racquets.

In the spring of 1946 he talked himself into a job as clerk of the Troy Lumber Company. His devotion to duty and willingness to learn soon paid dividends.

Tubby is married and has a three-year-old boy. He is building a new home that will be equipped with ramps instead of stairways.

1951 Year Book Shows Progress Of Adventists

Washington, D. C. — There are 1,212 Seventh-day Adventist churches with 70,922 members behind the Iron Curtain, according to official reports in the denomination's 1951 Yearbook, released here today.

High church officials believe the membership figure may be much higher, but explain that it is impossible to obtain accurate information on membership and organization of the church inside Russia itself.

The annual report lists a total world membership of 710,538, including only members over 15 years of age. Total number of communicants is set at 939,338, attending 10,032 churches in 193 of the 230 countries in the world.

Contributions by Seventh-day Adventists to gospel work last year totalled $44,450,803. Foreign missions receive $14,433,527 of this. The figures represent a world per capita gift of $62, and a North American per capita gift of $137.

More than 195,000 students are now enrolled in 4,164 Adventist schools over the world, and 7,639 full-time medical workers are employed by the church's 161 hospitals and clinics. The denomination's 30 publishing houses last year sold $12,456,770 worth of Christian literature printed in 195 languages.

The 37,931 full-time workers of the church are now using 510 languages in their medical, educational, and evangelistic work, the Yearbook reports.

Pioneering steps taken by the church during 1950 include launching of the first regular network religious television program, "Faith for Today," now on 10 TV stations from New York to San Francisco. Most important step taken by the church during the year was the beginning of a civil defense program to make every church a first aid base in case of emergencies.

Another important move was the reactivation of the "Medical Cadet Corps" to work with Army officials in training Seventh-day Adventist men for medical corps service with the armed forces in keeping with their noncombatant convictions.

Radio coverage of the "Voice of Prophecy" broadcast of the church was extended to 700 stations, including powerful Radio Ceylon. It is said to be the only religious broadcast that can be heard in Moscow.

Florida Motor Courts Prove Big Business

Motor courts in Florida grossed an estimated $18 million last year. The Florida State Chamber of Commerce stated yesterday.

Motels, tourist courts and similar establishments with three or more rental units and primarily engaged in providing accomodations to tourists were covered.

The total number of establishments falling within this classification reached 2,338 with 26,864 rental units by the end of last year. Approximately $2,500,000 in wages were paid to employees, not including active proprietors of these establishments.

These figures do not cover any type trailer park, nor do they include small motor courts having less than three cabins.

This week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division reported the above estimates as a projection of the latest available official statistics. These official figures covered the year 1948 and showed a total of 1,600 motor courts with courts with 18,384 rental units and gross receipts of $12,255,000 for that year.

An indication of Florida's increasing summer tourism is shown by the fact that last year the number of employees at motor courts varied only 7 per cent between winter and summer. This variation was 28 per cent in 1939.

FLORIDA PRODUCES THE MOST GRAPEFRUIT

Economist Zach Savage of the University of Florida Agricultural Experiment Stations says Florida produces more grapefruit than all the rest of the world.

While dealing destructive blows to citrus in California and Texas, nature has been kind to Florida citrus during the last few years and has enabled this state to far outstrip its rivals in production of oranges and grapefruit.

Florida's production of oranges and tangerines this season has been estimated at 66,600,000 boxes including 4,600,000 boxes of tangerines. And that's 26,000,000 above California's production and nearly 25 times Texas' crop.

Texas has never challenged Florida in orange production, but California was ahead of Florida until 1945.

Florida produced most of the tangerines in the world this year and has done so for many years.

Funds given the American Cancer Society help to train cancer research scientists. Awards have been made to 72 young researchers this year.

Tropical Goose-Berry Trees

By C. S. Donaldson

Mrs. Paul Rumpsa, who has one of the finest Florida flower gardens a block north of the high school, brought me a lacey leaved tree twig with some marble-size green fruit for identification. It was what is popularly called the Myrobalan Plum (Phyllanthus Emblica). The Rumpsa tree is the handsomest of several in town and is at the street corner. At the suggestion that the fruit be turned into jam to encourage her husband's appetite, this was done.

The early Greek botanists who named this tree and its sisters Phyllanthus did a poor job for the word means Leaf Flower, which is quite true of this particular species, for the flowers really occur on the tips of the tiny leaves, followed by the Tropical Gooseberries, but I know of no other members of the Phyllanthus genus in which this oddity occurs. I would like to change the name of this genus to Ribesoides — will some language scholar figure why?

Then the common name of Myrobalan Plum is also wrong because other unrelated trees bear seed or nuts also called Myrobalans. This came about through the general use of the word in Southern Asia by local doctors for any nut whose essence proved astringent and available for curing dysentery. American druggists import over 16 million pounds of Myrobalan sannually.

In planting the Mall I placed a Star Gooseberry (Phyllanthus Distichus) on the hilltop near the Nazarene church. It grew rapidly into a small tree with such pretty foliage that Councilman Cliff Eiseley from Highlands Lakes called it the handsomest tree he had ever seen. Its long clusters of green gooseberries so greatly interested Mrs. Ollie Walker who lived nearby that she converted them into jam and had me taste the delicious product. This tree is gone. The tree is quite worth yard planting and can still probably be had from some nursery in the Miami area. The flower and fruit come from the limbs and thus is not a Leaf Flower, as botanists still list it.

In California they grow the Phyllanthus Grandiflorus which I would like to see. It has lustrous metallic foliage.

We have had in many Avon Park yards two other species, the Calico Bush (Phyllanthus Roseapictus) and the Purple Bush (Phyllanthus Purpureus) which has mostly disappeared — eaten up by Caterpillars. They never bloomed, so I would not know about their bearing little Gooseberries.

There are about four other species of Phyllanthus elsewhere in the world that apparently have not been introduced into the U. S.

They enacted characters from the book, and were dressed as a veiled Moslem woman, an Arabian slave girl, a young Mohammedan man eager to get into business, a beautiful college student from Turkey, and others.

Mrs. Weems arranged an elaborate setting for this meeting with many beautiful oriental rugs, tapestries, vases and books, including copies of the Hebrew Bible and the Koran. She referred to many recent magazine articles on and newspaper accounts of that part of the world as it is today.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Weems and Mrs. Jones were guests of Mrs. Maxwell and Mrs. Ben T. Stewart at the Woman's Club luncheon at the Jacaranda Hotel.

Two Avon Park Men Killed In Truck-Auto Crash Sunday

Injured were Guy Stroup, 54, who operates a restaurant at Slaughter's Corner, and Billy Meeks, 24, of this city.

It was reported that the four men had started for Sebring in Howze car when it crashed into a truck headed toward Avon Park, owned by A. B. Taylor, of Fort Pierce, and driven by a Negro, Bronson Toney, of Fort Pierce. The two men on the drivers side of the car was instantly killed when the impact sheared away the side of their car. The car a Plymouth, was a total wreck, and the truck was overturned and badly damaged.

Patrolman Johnny Hicks investigated the accident and absolved the driver of the truck of any blame for the accident on a curve.

Red Devils Take Sebring 5 to 2

By John Garber

The Red Devils showed their class again last Tuesday, redeeming their previous loss to Sebring.

Bobby Whitcomb, ace Red Devil hurler, went all the way holding the Blue Streaks to seven well distributed hits and struck out eleven batters.

Jenkins scored the first run of the ball game on an error by the short-stop in the first inning. Sebring came back to tie the score — one and one. The score remained unchanged until the fourth inning when Sebring moved ahead to lead 2-1. The fifth inning brought Spencer a base on balls and Cruse followed him up, driving a three base hit down the right field foul line, scoring Spencer, and later crossing the plate himself to bring the score to the Red Devil's favor 32-. With two outs in the top of the sixth, Harper, Ward and Spencer, respectively drove out single base hits to cinch the game 5-2. Clenney and Reynolds each added another hit to their credit bringing the total hits for Avon Park this game to six.

Cruse, Jenkins, Reynolds, Harper, Ward and Spencer were credited scoring one run each.

If you've missed the Red Devils in action you have surely missed some most exxciting and thrilling entertainment. Don't miss the game tonight, Friday the 27th, 8.00 p. m., here at Head Field.

"Red" Murphy Gets The Remains

The picture shows what's left of the Plymouth sedan that crashed into a truck Sunday morning. Two men on the driver's side were instantly killed, and two other men injured. The car is a total wreck. Mr. Murphy states that hundreds of people have been by to view it. Perhaps it would be a good idea to put the wreck on the Mall as a reminder to other drivers, that it pays to be alert at all times.

Following the Constituency Session, the General Board will meet to elect a new Board of Directors and Local House Committee. During the general board meeting, plans for the next two years will be discussed.

Youth Guilty Of Shooting Officer

A Highlands County Circuit Court jury Monday found Frank S. Costanzo, 18-year-old Jamestown, N. Y., youth guilty of assault with intent to kill in the third degree, in the wounding of Sebring Policeman William E. Fowler, in February.

If the verdict stands, Costanzo faces a two and a half to 10-year sentence.

His companion, Nathan Saul Levitt, 20, of New York City, who fired three times at Fowler, missing him once, recently pleaded guilty to assault with intent to kill in the first degree. He is subject to a 20-year sentence.

Costanzo, who was represented by McDonald and McDonald of Sebring, did not take the stand. A paroled New York state convict, Costanzo was pictured by his counsel as a youth, innocent of the charge, who might become a hardened criminal after a penitentiary career.

Fowler and Levitt were the only witnesses of State Attorney Walter W. Woolfolk.

Fowler related how he gave chase to the pair when they sped through Sebring early in the morning of Feb. 6, after being notified they had sideswiped two cars south of here.

He also told them of halting the couple about five miles south of here and being greeted by gunfire when he ordered the driver, Levitt, to get out of the subsequently admitted stolen car. Although shot in the stomach and side, Fowler emptied his gun at the car as it sped north, only to turn over on a curve a short distance away.

Mrs. Cora Wray, D. D. P. of District 11, Florida Rebekah Assembly, and Mrs. Mildred Waddell, P. D. D. P. of District 18, attended the 41st annual session of the Rebekah assembly in Sarasota on April 18 and 19. While there, they visited Mrs. Flossy Edwards Summers, Myrtle Campbell, and Mr. and Mrs. Barney Blum of Okeechobee, all former residents of Avon Park. They then went to Tampa, on a two-day business trip.

Memorial Steeple For Parke Anderson And C. H. Shepherd

A new steeple is being erected on the Union Congregational Church as a memorial for the late C. Parke Anderson and Charles H. Shepherd.

The memorial is being given by Avon Florida Citrus Corporation, of which both men were officers.

The new steeple will be a slender spire, not a duplication of the former square tower, and will be roofed with stainless steel.

In the front wall there will be a stained glass window, in the form of a long, narrow cross, illuminated with symbols telling the story of the crucifixion. Mrs. C. Parke Anderson and Mrs. Charles H. Shepherd are presenting this window to the church as a memorial to their late husbands.

The Willet Stained Glass Co. of Philadelphia, Pa., who installed the beautiful rose window now in the church chancel, will make the stained glass cross.

William J. Heim and Son are the architects for the steeple. Samuel O. Norris is in charge of the construction work. R. Neale Sellers will do the metal work.

Avon Park Band To Have Tag Day Saturday, April 28

To make it possible for the Avon Park Band to enter State Band Contest at St. Petersburg, May 3rd, 4th and 5th, it is necessary to raise money to finance the trip. In order to raise the funds in a hurry the Band Association decided to hold a Tag Day, this coming Saturday, May 28th.

It is imperative that our band be able to attend the meeting, as that is where they receive their ratings along with other high school bands of the state. The bands are judged on sight reading, soloists, playing and marching.

The band will leave here on Wednesday, May 2. For the information of those who wish to attend from Avon Park, we understand that the contest will be held at the High School, and the marching contests will be held on the football field Thursday night. We have a wonderful band, so let's all get tagged Saturday and give generously.

The annual May Day festival, its crowning of the May queen, and its dancing around the Maypole, will be celebrated this year in the days of King Arthur and his Knights of the Round Table.

Romantic pageantry will be the keynote of the program, and it promises to be a colorful and impressive event.

There will be both a queen and a junior queen, and a king and his aide. Senior queen candidates are Betty Fields and Jeanne Dekle. Dolores Stewart and Bill Pardee, both chosen from the sixth grade, are junior queen and king.

The fete will open with the presentation of the queen and knights of both the senior and junior by the crowning of the May king and queen.

Their royal highnesses and the public will then be entertained by dancers, troubadours, and minstrels.

Folk dances from many lands will be presented by fourth grade children. Pupils from Mrs. Alice Sherman's fifth grade will wind the Maypole. There will also be solo numbers by dancers from the England Professional Studio of Dance, and various selections played by the high school band.

Musical recordings made by Mrs. Frank Morgan will be used for accompaniment.

Miss Yvonne Head is in charge of all arrangements for the May Day fete. She is assisted by Mrs. Maryanne Reddick.

Red Devils Down Frostproof 21-11

By John Garber

There are several old familiar savings such as "Never say die," "don't give up the ship," and "never too late to try," to mention a few. Take your pick and you have the determined spirit of the Red Devils that keeps them on the winning side of the ledger. If you were among the fans at this game you could fully realize and appreciate this outstanding factor of the Red Devils.

The final score might indicate the game a noncompetitive run-a-way scoring festival, however such was not the case, for if you wanted an action packed thriller, — this was it.

To single out the outstanding players would be quite an undertaking for each player took an important role and turned in a top performance. However, a tip of the hat goes to Fields, who set one over the left field fence with one man on base, and to Jenkins, who placed two double base hits to the fence between left and center field. These two doubles drove home two runs each.

Bobby Whitcomb took the mound the fourth inning relieving Fields, who previously relieved Harper the second inning. Whitcomb kept the game under control for the remainder of the game by striking out six batters, allowing no hits, and giving up but 2 runs and 4 walks. Jenkins Clenney and Fields received two hits each while Cruse and Reynolds received one each.

Fields captured the scoring honors by crossing the plate four times followed by Cruse, Clenney, and Spencer with three each and Ward, Harper and Reynolds with two, and Jenkins with one.

Battery: Avon Park — Harper (1), Fields (2), Whitcomb (5), Spencer.

Battery: Frostproof — Morelene, Lyle: Lee.

Avon Park — 21 Runs, 8 Hits, 4 errors.

Frostproof — 11 Runs, 9 hits, 9 errors.

The Flyers Split Doubleheader

The Flyers, Sebring's crack softball team, sponsored by American Industrial Sales Corporation, split a doubleheader in Clearwater, Saturday night, April 21.

The Flyers won the first game 2-0 behind the superb pitching of Mack Flythe, their fireball ace. Flythe handcuffed the world champion Bombers completely. Their vaunted hitting attack was completely helpless against the fireball offerings of Flythe. This is the fifth consecutive shut-out Flythe has hurled this season, against the strongest teams in the state.

The Flyers dropped the second game, their first loss this season, to Clearwater. However, they found big John Hunter, Clearwater ace pitcher, no mystery, as they pounded him at will.

On Saturday, April 25, the Flyers will face St. Petersburg All-Star team in a benefit game at Bay Pines Hospital.

The next home game will be played by the Flyers on May 3, when they face the top-flight team of Coral Gables, the Coral Gables City League of last season.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Nye left this week for their home in DePere, Wisc., after spending the winter in the Truan cottage on Lake Damon.

Highway Patrolman Talks To Rotary

Members of Avon Park Rotary Club, Wednesday had the pleasure of hearing Patrolman H. Gillete of the Safety Education Division of the Florida Highway Patrol deliver a talk on "Safety on the Highways."

Officer Gillete cited figures showing that the State of Florida shows the second highest increase in highway accidents for 1950, having 872 traffic fatalities. He pointed out that carelessness is the cause of the five major traffic violations. Listed in order they are:

No. 1 — Speed is the cause of 30 percent of the accidents on the state highways. No. 2 — Improper passing on curves and hills as well as the straight away. No. 3 — Wandering all over the road while looking at the beautiful Florida scenery. No. 4 — Driving too close to the car ahead of you. He stated that if drivers will allow a car length for every ten miles of speed shown on speedometer, there will be no danger of striking the car ahead in case of a slowdown or stop. No. 5 — Drunken driving by the driver who says he only had one bottle of beer.

Gillete also said: "Don't blame the tourists, as the records show that 85 percent of the accidents are cars bearing Florida license plates."

Visiting Rotarians were: Guy Maxcy, Sebring; L. T. Carter, Woodriver, Illinois; H. W. Heppler, Lake Wales and L. L. Horton, Bedford, Ohio.

CROSS-BURNING IN POOR TASTE

The burning of crosses here and at Sebring was a disgraceful act said to have been done by high school students. About 11:30 o'clock last Friday night a cross was burning in Donaldson Park opposite the Armory. A cross was burned in a residential section in Sebring a couple of weeks ago.

Sheriff Coker and his deputies made an investigation. The names of the youths questioned were not made public. The crosses were wrapped with oil-soaked burlap bags.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Tallahassee — The legislature is moving slowly as deadline approaches, with highlighted this week by public hearings by the Ways and Means Committee of the House to hear testimony on possible conviction of public officials. The House has passed a bill making it illegal to print or distribute advance information about racing, including selections and other data in daily newspapers. It also has passed a bill requiring hotel and beverage licenses to be canceled where gamblers are caught in hotels or bars. The third crime bill to pass the House sets up an enforcement agency for the Railroad Commission and Attorney General's office to enforce the bookie law. None of the 11-bill series introduced earlier by Rep. Perry Murray and others to beef up and punish gamblers has yet been passed. The House and the Senate each has rejected the idea of a "little Kefauver" committee to probe the crimnie wave between sessions. "Too many headlines," concluded one member.

Tallahassee — The House of Representatives has agreed to let the people vote on whether 18-year-olds shall vote. On the cry from men like Rep. Frances Williams of Citrus — "Old enough to die for this country, old enough to vote!" the House overrode objections of the conservative element. The same measure has been favorably reported by a Senate committee. McAlpin of Hamilton, Hathaway of Charlotte and Johnson of Hillsborough introduced the measures.

Tallahassee — An expanded 3 per cent sales tax, to raise an additional $17,000,000 a year from the consumers of Florida, has passed the Senate, and soon will be considered in the House if the Finance and Taxation committee lets it out. The bill resulted from a summer's work by a committee under Senator W. A. Shands of Gainesville, and removes previous exemptions from such articles as candy, clothing, farm equipment and long-term rentals. An amendment by Senator James Moore of Sebring added newsprint to the list of things now to be taxed. Such men as Senator Johnnie Wright of DeFuniak Springs, Luther Tucker of Crawfordville and Henry S. Baynard of St. Petersburg opposed the bill to the last. In the House it is expected to have a rough passage—if it goes through at all. This is the first major money bill of this session. The House already had passed a bill to continue the 1949-50 appropriations act, due to expire in July, if no new bill is agreed on this session. However, a Senate committee killed this House bill. If the House now buries the sales tax amendment, the two Houses will be heading for the stalemate many predict.

Tallahassee — Welfare critics have been advised by Senator James A. Franklin of Fort Myers that any lawful body or legislative group can inspect welfare roles, and see who is drawing the $50,000,000 a year spent for needy old folks, the blind and the dependent children. The Senate is considering a measure to require the list of the needy blind to be opened to the Florida Council for the Blind, so they can know who to help, and to the State Highway Patrol, to lift driving licenses of those drawing blind relief. Already approved is the memorial urging Congress to change its welfare laws to permit names of those getting help to be made public.

Tallahassee — The Florida Senate has passed a resolution calling on the Governor to accept the resignation of the four remaining members of the Fresh Water Fish and Game Commission, following a blistering report from a committee headed by Senator B. C. Pearce of Pahokee. Others, including Senator Newman C. Brackin of Crestview, have urged a change in the constitution to make the commission a creature of the state cabinet instead of appointive by the Governor. The House has passed the resolution to a committee for further study.

Tallahassee — Repeal of the controversial milk control act was voted down by a House Public Health committee, after several hundred dairymen from all over Florida gathered here to protest. The repeal bill was offered by Rep. Pittman, Hillsborough, who declared rigid price fixing prevented even those who wanted to give cheap milk to school children from doing so.

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

Some Bible Reasons why the Moral man must repent or be lost.

Christ said in John 5:40: You will not come to me that you might have life. Moral people have an unchanged or unregenerated nature no matter how good they are even as Jesus said to Nicodemus, John 3:3: Except a man be born again he cannot see the kingdom of God. You must be born again.

This statemennt makes it clear that those who go to heaven must have God's righteousness.

God's Word in Rom. 3:10 says: There in none righteous no not one. Also 3:19 latter part — that every mouth may be stopped and all the world may become guilty before God. All means ALL — this is man's natural condition.

The moral man sets himself up as his own saviour and rejects the Son of God — man's only saviour. But God says our righteousnesses are as filthy rags — Isa. 64:6. Also John 3:16: For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life.

John 3:36 reads — He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life; and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him.

No matter how sincere people are in their belief the Word of God is our guide — listen to Proverbs 14:12: There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death.

The moral man rejects God's plain statements that Christ is the Way, the Truth and the Life.

John 24:6: Jesus saith — I am the Way, the Truth and the Life, no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. Also Acts 4:12: Neither is there salvation in any other: For there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.

The moral man rejects the wooing of the Holy Spirit. The warnings of God's Book, also the pleas of God's people and the church.

God is calling all men to repentance because he hath appointed a day which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained, whereof he hath given assurance unto all men.

That man God has ordained is Jesus Christ, His Son.

The moral people out of Christ are rushing on to meet God unprepared to face the judgment. They have great influence here over others and that is good, but when they reject Jesus they lead others away from God and heaven.

May God help the Good Moral people to see and realize that God's invitation is to, Whosoever will let him take the water of life freely — Christ is that Water.

Screw Pines

By C. S. Donaldson

The late Norton Smith was a natural landscape architect, as evidenced by the estate he developed on Lake Isis, now the Walker estate. There may be seen a great mass of Pandanus Tectorius, the Screw Pines, deep green with saw tooth leaf edges. This season it had a big crop of fruit each over a foot around. This last point shows the plant encyclopedias to be wrong in stating that all Screw Pines are dioecious (which means that the male and female flowers are not borne on the same plant.) However it is probably true of some Pandanus species.

Notably I have watched for nearly a quarter of a century for that large Pandanus Odoratissimus just west of the A. C. L. tracks to bloom. It was a present from the late Dr. Nehrling who said it had the finest fragrance of any flower in the world. As there are probably not more than three other specimens of this in Florida its value would run into hundreds of dollars.

Just west of this plant are a pair of the prettiest and most useful Screw Pines, Pandanus Utilis. They are tinged with red and very spiral. In the West Indies these are very popular, not only for decorations, but they are grown for turning into tough fiber for making sugar bags, etc.

The Pandanus most used is the P. Veitchii, soft, small and grown mostly in urns. I once had some where the deer stands opposite the P. O.

We also once had in the Mall a little larger Pandanus, the Baptistii which had yellow striped leaves. Some folks regard it as the most attractive.

There was also once in the Mall a clump of Pandanus Teetorius, which is the most vigorous grower, too large for a small yard.

There are growing elsewhere about a dozen other species of Pandanus; I doubt if any of them may be seen in Florida, though I saw some others in the Shaw Gardens, St. Louis, where they have more species of all plants than elsewhere in America.

KEFAUVER CRIME INVESTIGATION

One of the first feature length news report ever to be shown in Avon Park will go on the screen at the Hilans Theatre Thursday, Friday where you see first hand what was said and done at the New York Senate Crime Investigation Committee recent session. Sen. Estes Kefauver is chairman of the Investigators and is shown through the picture with Tobey, O'Conor and others cross examining Frank Costello, Ambassador O'Dwyer, Virginia Hill Hauser and others believed connected with gamblers and the underworld.

This news feature is presented as a public service to our community by the Hilans along with the movie "Never A Dull Moment."

'TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

Paper has long been a critical material. During the last war many newspapers were forced to cease publication while others limited advertising and reduced the size of their publications to meet the situation.

There has been little improvement and today paper is difficult to obtain, and indications are in no way promising for the future.

Publishing sources have figured consumption of newsprint is about 6.5 per cent above 1949 and production has gained only 2.8 per cent. This means digging into stocks for the difference and stocks are dwindling.

Florida may play an important part in helping to relieve this newsprint shortage and at the same time give this state another big industry.

News came out of Clewiston the other day that a new and successful process had been developed for the manufacture of a good grade of newsprint from sugar bagasse, waste from the cane after the juice has been extracted.

It was stated by Harry T. Vaughn, general manager of the United States Sugar Corporation, Clewiston, that a Cuban engineer, Joaquin J. de la Roza, has perfected the new process and heads a corporation that plans construction of a $15,000,000 paper mill at Clewiston.

According to de la Roza, the new process is less expensive, the raw material more abundant and the quality of paper produced comparable with newsprint made from wood pulp.

He points out that utilizing the waste of sugar cane preserves the forests and wild life and aids soil conservation and water supply because there is no problem of deforesting to obtain raw materials.

The new multi-million dollar paper mill to be built at Clewiston, where the world's largest sugar mill is now in operation, will be operated by the United Bagasse Cellulose Company. Joaquin J. de la Roza is president and Harry T. Vaughn of Clewiston is vice president.

No definite date for ground breaking has been set but de la Roza said the new plant can be in operation in 18 months if suitable priorities for construction are obtained. When in operation it will have a capacity of 45,000 tons of newsprint annually.

Officials were not in a position to state just what price the consumer would pay for bagasse newsprint, but de la Roza pointed out that this proces sfor commercial production of newsprint was much cheaper than the present cost of producing comparable quality of paper from wood pulp.

De la Roza is no newcomer to the scene. He is well-known in sugar circles as well as in the paper technological field in the United States and is recognized as an authority on the utilization of bagasse and continuous pulp processing.

The United Bagasse Cellulose Corporation was set up and incorporated in Florida to manufacture catalogue, book and other papers and cellulose products from bagasse as well as news print, but it is understood that newsprint is the first goal.

The establishment of this gigantic new industry will mean much to Florida for it will give employment to additional thousands of workers and will support business and industry throughout the area.

Directors of the new company are listed as Atwood Dunwody, Miami attorney; Erie Lagemann, New York, director of Francisco Sugar Co.; C. Harold A. Mott, New York, director of Czarnikow-Rionda Co.; Forrest P. Tralles, St. Louis, Mo.; Harry T. Vaughn and Charles E. Wetherald, Clewiston, directors of the United States Sugar Corporation.

RAILROAD TRYING TO SAVE MULBERRY TREE

Ever hear of a busy railroad worrying about an old tree living a little while longer?

That's what the Seaboard Air Line Railroad is doing. It wants to put a little more color in the pale pink blossoms of the aged mulberry tree that gave a name to the pretty little town of Mulberry, Fla.

The line has retained a tree surgeon who believes he can add 25 years to the life of the tree, estimated now to be 75 years of age. It is on the grounds of the Seaboard's station in Mulberry.

This is not just an ordinary old tree. Because it was a pleasant tree and in a convenient spot, it became an unofficial gathering place for the early settlers in that community long before a town was there. Many items shipped to the settlers by rail were addressed simply to consignees at "The Mulberry Tree" and dropped off the train there, to be picked up at leisure.

It has much historical significance for the town of Mulberry, whose residents, as well as others in the vicinity, have a sentimental affection for this old friend they have known so long.

The Seaboard is in full sympathy with the sentimentality for this old mulberry tree, and that is why it is worrying about making it live a little while longer.

Soil Conservation District News

By Sam Polston,
Work Unit Conservationist

The high school essay contest that the Highlands Soil Conservation District board of supervisors is conducting in the county is to be written in a special 1½ hour period set by each individual school. Bulletins have been placed in each school library, a series of films have been shown, and soil conservation technicians have held discussions with the participants. The title of the essay, "What Soil Conservation means to the South."

The Highlands Soil Conservation District would like to acknowledge the cooperation of the following in making the essay contest more effective: Highlands County News, Sebring American, Avon Park Sun, and radio station WJCM.

There will be $220 awarded in eight prizes for the best essays. Mr. Cole Danley who is vice-chairman of the Highlands Soil Conservation District, donated Hairy Indigo seed which were sold for $213, almost enough to finance the contest.

Three complete soil and water conservation plans have been completed recently for the following cooperators; J. C. and Ralph Durrance, W. B. Crawford, and Ivey E. Futch who is a member of the Highlands Soil Conservation District board of supervisorss. These plans totaled 11,000 acres, including pasture improvement program, citrus production, range improvement, and wildlife area improvement.

The water control structure in the Istokpoga Canal has been opened and according to the committee in charge of controlling the structure it will be left open until the lake falls back to the desired elevation which is approximately the elevation at the time the rain starts.

Rainbow Banquet Gala Affair

Saturday night, April 21, at the Lake Byrd Lodge, a magnificent and colorful banquet dinner and junior-senior dance was enjoyed by 112 students, honored guests, and faculty.

The theme of the banquet was carried out to perfection by many vivid decorations: ribbons, umbrellas, crepe paper rainbows, flowers, stone walls, spot lights, and balloons.

The guests enjoyed a meal prepared by the PTA mothers. This also corresponded to the rainbow theme: Crimson Glow, tomato juice; Heart of the Rainbow, Chicken a la King; Gold Nuggets, creamed corn; Pot of Gold, sweet potato souffle topped with marshmallows; Crimson Sun, cranberry sauce; Sun God Salad, colored pears; Moon and Stars, rolls and butter; Pink Clouds, Strawberry Parfait; Rain Drops, iced tea.

The programme consisted of: Invocation by Mr. J. C. Mathews; "Rainbow Around My Shoulders" by Bobby Whitcomb, "Ain't Gonna Rain No Mo'" by Charles Collins, "If you Meet The Sun Halfway by Edgar Pabor, "'N Every Cloud Has A Silver Lining", a solo by Lynn Longbottom, "Beware! Thunder Bolts." Douglas Fields, "Oh, Let A Smile Be Your Umbrella," a quartette by Bruce Spencer, Bobby Whitcomb, Jack Ward, and Gene Cruse; "When You Reach The Rainbow's End," by Miss Millie Pearson.

A four piece orchestra sent out by the Lakeland Solidaires supplied excellent music for the dance following the meal until midnight.

The junior class wishes to extend thanks to Mrs. Charles Best, Mrs. McGibboney, Mrs. Touchton, Mrs. Englemann, Mr. Harper, Mrs. Julie Johnson, Mrs. Durrance, and the many students who gave their beautiful flowers and to Mrs. Whitcomb, chairman of the food committee and all those who helped her make the banquet a huge success.

A mother, hearing the family cat crying in the backyard, looked out of the window and saw her small son shaking the cat by the tail. Telling the boy to stop, the boy answered that last night he heard his dad, while playing cards, say there was $3 in the kitty and he was trying to shake it out. — Montreal Star.

Big Snake Killed At Lake Isis

Last Saturday, the Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Shiltz and Jerome Shiltz, with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brandon, visitors from Steubenville, Ohio, were sitting on benches near Lake Isis, when the Rev. Shiltz saw a snake swimming toward the shore. It proved to be a water moccasin.

Brandon and Jerome Shiltz started toward the snake, to kill it before it could come out of the water; Brandon managed to hit it and terminate its reptilian career.

Later, a picture of the Rev. Shiltz holding the dead moccasin was taken. The snake measured five feet in length and four inches in diameter.

Brandon, an ex-navy man, said this was the first time he had ever killed a moccasin.

Motor Vehicle Safety Inspection

Members of the Florida Highway Patrol, in cooperation with local city and county officers, will start the annual Voluntary Motor Vehicle Safety Inspections on May 1st, according to an announcement today by FHP Chief H. N. Kirkman.

The announcement said the inspecion are not compulsory on the part of the motorists.

"It is to the advantage of the motor vehicle driver to have his car checked for faulty equipment," Kirkman said, "Since it determines whether or not his car is in a safe condition."

He revealed that the monthlong safety check last year showed 39,108 defective vehicles. The number of trucks and cars inspected at that time was 97,047.

Equipment to be checked by the officers includes lights, brakes, tires, steering apparatus, horn, muffler, rear-view mirror, windshield glass and wiper.

Announcements will be made during the week by officers as to when and where they will hold inspections in the county.

Sunshine Package Nets Good Income

Floridians marketed a $1,980,000,000 "package" of sunshine last year, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce announced yesterday.

This amount was the portion of the income of the people of Florida which was earned as a result of the State's climate and geographical position.

Terming this almost $2 billion sum as "sum income," this week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division points out that it accounted for approximately 70 per cent of all the earnings of Floridians from all private sources in 1950.

The largest slice, $825 million, of the grand total was derived from tourism, winter and summer, and includes income from all types of services and businesses patronized by visitors to the State.

Another obvious portion of the "sun income" total resulted from the production of agricultural crops and livestock made possible, either by type or market timing, by Florida's climate. This portion amounted to, some $355 million.

Food manufacturing and related industries and services stem from these typically Florida crops. Further a part of the earnings of all industry in Florida comes from low absenteeism, also the result of the climate. From the industries and services in this category an estimated $800 million of the total "sun income" was earned by Floridians last year.

PRETTY ANN GARLAND demonstrates that it doesn't take a man to close an orange or grapefruit box anymore. The wirebound box closing machine she is operating is one of the four installed recently for the Lakeland Packing Company, the first such installation in the Florida citrus industry. Totem Poles Line Village Street

"Wolf Crest" Totem at Kitwanga has a toothfilling job done by an Indian craftsman.

(Below) Section of Totem-lined streets of Kitwanga, on the banks of the Skeena River in British Columbia.

Photos: Canadian National Railways

ONE of the finest collections of totem poles in North America, all of which may be seen in their natural state, line the streets of the picturesque Indian village of Kitwanga, on the banks of the Skeena River, 159 miles east of Prince Rupert, on the Canadian National Railways in British Columbia.

The Kitwanga Indians in common with their North Pacific Coast forebears, believe the proper place for a totem place is right in the vicinity of their houses. These poles, covered with carving often are brightly painted. They represent the crest, or family coat of arms of the owner, together with those of his ancestors. Some represent animals or "Totems" believed to be the guardians or ancestors of the family connected with illustrious antecedents.

So great is the interest of American visitors in the picturesque and photogenic poles of Kitwanga, the trains pause there long enough on the run between Jasper and Prince Rupert to allow passengers to walk through the tiny village to inspect and photograph the Indians' tribute to tribal and family pride.

Parents Of Missing Soldier Receive Bronze Star Medal

Corporal James H. Kerklin, 21 years old, a former Avon Park boy who enlisted in the army while living at Woodruff Heights, and has been reported missing since Dec. 2nd in the Korea fighting, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal with "V" Device for heroic achievement in connection with military operations against an armed enemy of the United States.

On Friday afternoon, April 27th Capt. V. M. Evans, Senior Instructor, Camp Byron Bartow, in the presence of a representative of the Sun, and photographer Rush, and a few friends of the missing soldier's family, presented the medal to Corporal Kerklin's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Kerklin, who live four miles north of town on the Polk County line.

The award reads as follows:

Award of the Bronze Star Medal — by direction of the President:

Corporal James H. Kerklin, RA14233526, Army Medical Service, United States Army, a member of Medical Company, 23rd Infantry Regiment, 2d Infantry Division distinguished himself by heroic achievement on 16 September 1950 in the vicinity of Changnyong, Korea. During the attack to the Naktong River, Corporal Kerklin was attached to a rifle company as medical aid man. During this attack he repeatedly exposed himself by treating wounded men under the most dangerous conditions. On several occasions, Corporal Kerklin, with complete indifference for his personal safety, exposed himself to the intense enemy mortar, artillery and small arms fire, to carry wounded men to safety. By his courageous and outstanding performance of duty Corporal Kerklin inspired the other members of his unit and was responsible for the saving of many lives. His heroism reflects great credit upon himself and the military service. Entered the military service from Florida.

By Command of Major General McClure.

Another of the Kerklin's five sons is in the armed forces, and a third, Grover Kerklin, left Thursday morning for Tampa, for induction in the army.

Flyers Win Three Games Past Week

American Industrial Sales Corporation's crack softball team, the Flyers, again hit the victory streak by winning three games in the past week. Of the three victories, big George Lint, ace innoundsman, pitched two no-hit games in succession. On April 25 at Boca Raton, he pitched a perfect game. In this seven inning affair, only 21 men faced the veteran ace. On Saturday, April 28, the Flyers in a doubleheader, header played St. Petersburg All Star team at Bay Pines Veteran's Hospital. Both games were benefit games. The first game handcuffed All Stars, resulting in a 3-2 victory for the Flyers. Mack Flythe, ace fireballer, pitched an outstanding game until the last inning when, with three walks and one out, he was relieved by George Lint, who struck out the next two batters with seven pitched balls.

The Flyers lineup was altered considerably from the starting lineup in the past. Veteran Forest Howard replaced Jimmy Wheeler at second base, and played a sensational game. Veterans observers at Bay Pines Hospital stated that the sensational backhand stab of the ball by Howard was probably the most sensational ever witnessed at Bay Pines. Howard also led the Flyers at bat, getting three hits on six trips to the plate.

The second game was Lint all the way. His superb pitching handcuffed the St. Petersburg team throughout the game. He also batted in the winning run. With the bases loaded, in the second inning Lint hit a tremendous double that scored all three men on base.

The Flyers record at this point in the season is 18 victories; two defeats.

Progress Shown In Biennial Report To Hospital Board

The Biennial Constituency meeting of the Walker Memorial Sanitarium and Hospital, of Avon Park, was held on Monday, April 30. At this meeting the progress of the institution during the past two years was reviewed. Plans and means of increasing and improving the service of the Hospital were also discussed. Reports were given by the various departments of the Sanitarium and Hospital.

Mr. H. M. Baldwin, the business manager of the Hospital, in his report, cited the progress that has been made during the biennial period of 1940-50. A new hydrotherapy department for women, which is modern and up-to-date in every respect, has been added. In the X-ray department, a new X-ray machine has been installed, and a deep-therapy X-ray unit has been added to this department. Said Mr. Baldwin: "This has filled a great need in this community since heretofore all patients needing this type of treatment had to travel at least sixty miles to obtain such treatment." Mr. Baldwin went on to report that sound-proofing material has been installed in the business offices, the doctor's office, nursery, and the nurses' office. This has been done to eliminate noise, and thus add to the patients' comfort. Improvements have been made in the exterior of the building. The entire exterior surface of the main building has been repainted. The west porch has been completely remodeled and decorated. New furniture for the porch has also been added.

The Business Manager's report showed improvements have been made in the Culinary department of the Hospital. The entire dishwashing unit has been removed from the kitchen proper to another room more convenient. Tile wall has been installed throughout a portion of this department. A new oven and other equipment for the kitchen, will be added soon.

Mr. Baldwin declared in his report: "It is of interest to study the growth of the institution. This is truly manifested in many departments. The following figures indicate this progress:

Patients admitted	1,606
Patient days	14,002
Out Patient Calls	5,087
Patient Meals Served	41,212
Surgical Operations	357
Physical Therapy Treatments	4,916
Babies Born	181

In concluding this report, Mr. Baldwin said: "Notwithstanding the fact that great progress has been made during the past two years, there are still many things to be accomplished." He then mentioned that numerous improvements would be made as soon as it is possible to do so. New furniture and other equipment for the patients' rooms will be added.

Mrs. Doris Payne, the Director of Nurses, reported on the work of the nursing department. She spoke of the new Microtherm machine which is a recent addition to the hydrotherapy department. She also reported that a new

Betty Foley and Gene Cruse Crowned King and Queen

In a magnificent court setting of King Arthur's day, the annual crowning of the king and queen of May was held Tuesday afternoon in the Mall.

The ceremony opened with the royal page, Jack Ward, heralding the arrival of the lovely ladies of the court, dressed in pastel formals and carrying an exotic chain of hibiscus blossoms, shading from pink to deepest red. The ladies were: Patty Ann Bovard, Maxine Gilliard, Betty Rose Ford, Charlene Hart, Caryl Hill, Joyce Hill, Mary Ann Pollard, Mebalene Adkinson, LaFaye Todd, Patricia Denmark, Lynn Longbottom, Jane Suggs, Ruth Sellers, Ima Jean Robinson, Margaret Roan, Gerry Elder, Janet Quintier, Roberta Harris, Joyce Bigbie, Elouise Harris, Mary Lou Farmer, Nell Harrison, Ethyl Covan, Juanita Morrell, Idella Pearson, Beth Suggs, June Quintier, Norma Jean Thompson, Patricia Sheffield, and Jeannette Teal.

Next entered the royal court in miniature. The ladies and their squires were: Valerie Lyle and Jack Seims, Sue Hutchinson and Bob Atwood, Clytee Coleman and Frank Butler, Sylvia Foster and Leroy Farless, Betty Clair Foster and John Camara, Juddy Lookoff and Michael Helberington.

The junior queen, Delores Stokey, and king, Bill Pardee, followed their court. Queen Delores wore a pastel green organdy gown, and carried a nosegay of gardenias, showered with white satin ribbons, tied with gardenia buds.

The maids and knights of honor then advanced in stately procession across the carpet of green. The maids were dressed in colorful formals and carried arm bouquets of spring flowers. These members of the court were: Martha Smith and Fred Meeks, Charlene Delegal and Benny Harvey, Joyce Murray and Brady Hopson.

The royal crownbearers were Linda Shepherd and Donnie Whitcomb, followed by the lovely flower ladies, Ann Johnson and Ann King, scattering petals to brighten the path of the king and queen.

Queen Betty Foley, wearing a crown of emerald green and carrying a sheaf of white lilies, escorted by the king, Gene Cruse, advanced slowly down the aisle formed by their gaily-clad court, to the throne, where they were crowned monarchs of "the Kingdom of Avon in the beautiful land of the lakes" by Miss Gloria Garber, a former queen. Miss Garber wore a gown of palest pink with matching bandeau.

For their majesties' pleasure, their subjects entertained them with a program of music and dancing, with the music provided by the high school band.

Doug Fields, court jester, represented mirth and madness.

Fourth grade children performed folk dances from many lands.

The children of Kay Whitcomb's kindergarten danced as the first young birds of spring; followed by Jan Saylor and Carolyn Bolt, dancers from the England school of dancing.

Fifth grade children performed the traditional dance around the Maypole.

Closing the pageant, Miss Lynn Longbottom sang, "Follow the Gleam."

Miss Yvonne Head and Mrs. Maryanne Reddick, directors of the pageant, wish to thank Mr. Gene Garman and members of the band for their music; the ladies of the Garden Club for the beautiful flowers and setting; Gerry Childs, Tommy Moore, and Benny Harvey for operating the public address system; Mrs. Frank Morgan for the recordings accompanying various numbers; Miss Betty Rose Ford for properties; Smith Hardware Co. for material loaned; and all who helped to make this May Day a success.

Gen. Mark Lance And Staff Visit Here

Thursday night, April 26th Major General Mark W. Lance accompanied by Col. Lewis A. Moore and Lt. Col. M. Edwards flew here in the General's plane from Tallahassee to call on the Avon Park National Guard Unit, and attend the barbecue given in the Guard's honor by Legion Post 69, at the Mandis Stock Farm.

General Lance, a former Avon Park resident, renewed old acquaintances and made several new ones.

Following the dinner, the head of the Florida National Guard made a short talk to the Guard, and complimented Demos Mandis as a master barbecuer, and a citizen who is always ready to do his civic duty.

Besides the Guard, and Legion members several other guests of Avon Park were present and enjoyed the evening of good eats and fun made possible by the Local Legion Post, 69.

Last night the Guard Unit were guests of the Avon Park Rotary Club at a barbecued chicken dinner at the Mandis Farm.

Red Devils Trip Fort Meade 4 - 2

By John Garber

The Red Devils tasted victory again last Friday, defeating the Ft. Meade Miners at Head Field. Harper, hurling the full seven for Avon Park, struck out nine opposing batters, walked six, allowed five hits and two runs, as compared to Ft. Meade Miners' Twiss, who gave up four hits and four runs.

Avon Park scored the first runs of the ball game which came about in the third inning as follow: Clenney laid down a bunt and beat it out adding another hit to his record. Spencer made it possible for Clenney's advance to 2nd base and himself safe on a fielders choice. Cruse laid the wood to the ball driving out a two base hit scoring Clenny and Spencer. Fields, not letting Cruse get ahead of him, drove out a two base hit which scored Cruse from 2nd base. Kelley's infield line drive to the Miners shortstop, who errored on the play, scored Fields totaling the fourth and last run for Avon Park. Ft. Meade scored their two runs in the fourth inning.

HITS — Avon Park — Clenney (2), Cruse, Fields.

Ft. Meade — 2 runs 5 hits, 2 errors.

Avon Park — 4 runs, 4 hits, 6 errors.

Ft. Meade	000 200 0—2 runs
Avon Park	004 000 0—4 runs

LOSE TO BARTOW

Last Monday the Red Devils bowed to the Bartow Yellow Jackets for the second time of the season, and, as was the first, the bad breaks of the game proved the downfall. Fields connected with two hits with Kelley and Clenney with one each. Cruse, Fields, and Harper scored Avon Park's three runs. Whitcomb really showed his stuff by fanning eleven Bartow players, giving up but two walks and four runs.

Avon Park	100 100 1—3 runs
Bartow	000 202 0—4 runs

6-FOOT RATTLER KILLED BY CITY FIREMAN

The fire department was called out Friday afternoon to extinguish a brush fire near the Polk county line. The fire had evidently driven a rattlesnake out of the brush, as the snake's rattles were scorched.

Curtis Gilliard, who is good at fighting fires showed his skill at killing snakes, by reaching for a long handle rake on the fire truck, and sinking the teeth of the rake in the rattlers head. The snake was one of the largest to be killed here, being a good 6 feet in length and possessing 21 rattles.

NEW PHYSICIAN TO ARRIVE THIS SUMMER

Dr. Samuel King is scheduled to come to Avon Park on July 1 of this summer, to work with Dr. H. W. Coleman at the latter's offices here. Dr. King is at present interning in Miami.

Highlands County Board of Public Instruction, at their regular meeting, Monday, April 30th, decided to call a special meeting, May 7th, at which time the proper location for a new road from the Sebring road and southern City limits of Avon Park to Sun Shiners was discussed by Mr. Eastman that a definite point around which could be used by Highway Department would be willing to establish the "Wayside" and beautify same, and put in proper equipment for the use of travelers and others who desire to use same for picnics and a resting place.

Friday night at a special meeting, the council passed a resolution to be presented to the State Highway Department, asking that a truck route be surveyed through the city. The old truck route is in bad shape, and the heavy traffic going through the main part of the City will soon breakup our Main street. The Chairman assured Mr. Shivers that upon receipt of the resolution he would have engineers in here to make the survey.

The proposition was also discussed of the State taking over South Fairfield avenue and designate it as a Farm to Market Road from Main street south to the railroad and thence east to old Highway 8.

A resolution was also passed by the Council, that the State be invited to take over old Highway 8 from Slaughter's corner to the City limits. The expansion being made at the Florida Power Corp. plant, is causing heavy traffic on this street.

If the proper resolutions are passed by the City and presented to the Highway Department, and they decide in favor of them the maintenance of these streets will then be taken care of by the Highway Department, meaning a big saving to the City.

A resolution was also passed favoring the establishment of an Alcoholic Hospital here, and copies of the resolution sent to our representatives in Tallahassee.

The Council also passed a resolution favoring a State Road Camp for Highlands County.

Exchange Club News

The Exchange Club held its regular meeting at the Methodist Church Annex, Thursday, April 26, at 12:15 P. M.

Mr. Gene Gorman, Director of Avoin Park School Band, entertained the club with the school's very talented trio, Beth and Jane Suggs and Virginia Landress, which was enjoyed very much by all present.

Mr. Gorman gave a summary of the band's activities, and gave much praise to the members of the band for their hard work as a unit. He also related some of his past experiences in some of the large bands and orchestras of the country.

Mr. McKenney, an accomplished band leader and musician of vast experience, complimented Mr. Gorman and the Avon Park Band by stating that it was the best band of its size that he had ever had the pleasure to hear.

Exchangite Billy Martin commented that he had gone through college on a music scholarship and praised the work being done by Mr. Gorman. Mr. Gorman stated at this time that he had several scholarships to be given away this year.

Is This You?

You were seen Wednesday afternoon crossing East Main at the red light. You wore a blue skirt, white blouse, red belt, and carried a brown purse. Your hair is graying, and is shoulder length. You are about 5 feet 8 inches tall, and have often before been seen walking between your residence and A. P. H. S. If this is you, call at the Sun office or Hilans boxoffice and receive two guest tickets to see "Tarzan's Peril" and "Basketball Highlights of 1951," next Thursday and Friday, May 10 and 11.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

With the legislature at the halfway mark and most bills still in the hands of committees, lawmakers will have to speed up if they are to finish their job in another thirty days.

Practically no major legislation has been enacted with the exception of a bill to set up state supervision and regulation of private gas and power companies. It has passed both houses but must go back for minor changes before it is sent to the Governor.

Interest centers in the appropriations bill which the house committee is expected to have ready this week. The economy-minded committee has been working with a mighty sharp pencil and is reported to have slashed appropriations for most boards, bureaus and departments all down the line.

The senate appropriations committee is more liberal minded and is much more apt to condone governmental spending than is the house. Observers expect to find the two bills many millions apart.

It will take the two houses a long time to reach agreement on appropriations for they seem to be further apart in their thinking this session than ever before.

You can look for a howl from most governmental agencies when the house bill comes out of committe for it is reported to have very sharp reductions, and department heads claim that they cannot operate without more funds.

Governor Warren's quarrel with Collier's Magazine which broke into headlines last weekend, has taken the spotlight from the legislature temporarily. The Governor states that the published statements about him in Collier's are false and defamatory and he will sue unless an immediate retraction is made by the magazine.

It will be recalled that former Governor Millard Caldwell had a tilt with Collier's when it published an editorial about him some time ago. The trial juries gave Caldwell large awards but the case was finally settled for $50,000.

The article which has aroused the wrath of Governor Warren was written by Lester Velie and deals with the Governor's campaign expenses and his association with Louis E. Wolfson, Jacksonville industrialist. C. V. Griffin, Howey - in - the - Hills citrus grower, and William H. (Bill) Johnston, dog track operator.

They have said, under oath before the U. S. Senate Kefauver Committee, that together they put more than $400,000 into Warren's 1948 campaign for election.

The Governor contends that "The article by direct statements and imputation states that an unlawful conspiracy was entered into between himself and these men."

The Governor is not the only one alarmed over the Collier's article which comes out just when a bill is being considered by the legislature which would prohibit one person from owning more than one race track in Florida.

Should this bill pass it would hit William H. Johnston hard since he controls four of the nine dog tracks in the state. Political observers who have watched Johnston work around the capitol during legislative sessions believe he is powerful enough to defeat the measure.

A senate committee wouldn't even let the anti-monopoly bill come to a vote on the floor and when a move was made to force it out of committee, 14 senators lined up to defeat a floor vote.

A house committee also quickly buried the bill, but a move to override the committee succeeded by a bare margin. Twenty-six members of the house voted a point bringing the bill to the floor.

A race track is unlike any other Florida business. Nobody can start one without first getting the sanction of the people of the county and, second, getting the approval of the State Racing Commission. Legislators who oppose the one-track-to-a-man bill will be asked why by a lot of constituents.

Job 13:7 — "For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut down, that it will sprout again, and that the tender branch thereof will not cease."

Progress Shown In Report To Hospital Board

Another iron lung machine has been added to the operating room. Her report showed that various improvements have been made in other departments. Mrs. Payne concluded her report with the following words: "Today there are many things for which we are thankful. We are grateful for a well-equipped hospital in which to work; for Christian doctors and workers who are willing and anxious to go beyond the call of duty" in rendering their service of love. Their spirit of cooperation and loyalty has been one of our greatest assets."

Dr. C. J. Larsen, the Medical Director of the institution, reviewed the progress made in the Medical and Surgical departments during the past two years.

The Sanitarium Board elected for the ensuing two years included: V. G. Anderson, Chairman; H. M. Baldwin, H. E. Schneider, I. M. Evans, R. H. Nightingale, Dr. C. J. Larsen, L. T. Hall, G. R. Nash, W. E. Strickland, C. H. Lauda, Dr. Westcott, Dr. R. H. Hartwell, Mr. Walton, Dr. Stevens, and K. A. Wright.

All the departmental heads of the Hospital and members of the House Committee were re-elected.

VETERANS INFORMATION

DEPENDENTS OF VETERANS — SOCIAL SECURITY — Too little publicity is being given to benefits due dependents of veterans who died in service, or since discharge from service under the 1950 amendments to the Social Security Law, and became effective September 1, 1950.

For instance: If the veteran left no widow, or child under 18 to claim the monthly benefits, his parents may be entitled to monthly benefits at age 65, provided they can prove that they received at least one-half of their support from the deceased veteran at the time of his death. If the veteran died in service, or since, parents have only until June 30, 1951 to file papers with their local Social Security office proving dependency at time of death. If death occurred after discharge the dependents have two years from date of death or June 30, 1951, whichever is the later, to prove dependency.

Among the parents, the widowed mothers of veterans who died in service or since are most likely to be eligible. There are other cases where both parents might qualify. Parents who have remarried since the veteran's death are not eligible. Any parent who may qualify for these benefits should be encouraged to file for parent's insurance benefits with local Social Security office, if possible someone should go with them, or give them a letter setting forth the reason why it is believed they are eligible to file a claim.

The new Act credited each veteran's Social Security account with $160 for each month he was in service. It brings Social Security coverage to all ex-servicemen of WW II, as well as deceased cases, even though there had been no employment previously under the Social Security program.

Prior to the enactment of the new law, the old law provided that veterans meeting certain service requirements, who died within 3 years after separation from service, were considered to have died fully insured, with an average monthly wage of not less than $160. Under previous laws the widow, children and parents of veterans who died during WW II were not protected unless they had worked in a covered job.

So here again, this office has a duty to perform, check the widows and children of WW II veterans who died in service, or since. If they did not receive benefits under the old law, they may under the new law. If there are children under 18 years of age, they should be drawing benefits now.

When death occurs after discharge from service a lump sum death payment is made to survivors or to the person or persons who paid veteran's funeral expense.

Missouri, Georgia, New Mexico, Nebraska and North Dakota reduced gasoline taxes in the past year saving motorists more than $33,000,000 yearly.

In 1950, oil marketers collected more than $2,000,000,000 in gasoline taxes for Uncle Sam and the states. Florida motorists alone contributed $66,065,000.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Last week this column related part of the weird story about Western States Refinery, an independent oil refinery in North Salt Lake, Utah.

* * *

This refinery was located near Colorado and Wyoming fields to ship refined products via pipeline to the Pacific Northwest, but before it was completed two years ago it required vigorous measures by both the Senate and House Small Business Committees to secure steel for the plant.

C. W. Harder

* * *

In nearby Geneva, Utah, US Steel has the steel plant built by the government during the war. This plant had to date supplied 285,000 tons of steel for the Arabian oil development.

* * *

By a strange coincidence the company developing Arabian field controls with a subsidiary and another oil major, the big Northwest market which is supplied by tanker.

* * *

But despite this and other handicaps, the plant finally got into operation. Because of limited finances a cracking plant to produce high octane blending stock for making ethyl was not built. Arrangements were made to secure this stock from other sources.

* * *

When Korea started Western Refining was notified supply of high octane stock would be cancelled. In meantime, Washington decided plant is vital defense need, encouraged management to erect own cracking plant.

©National Federation of Independent Business

Plans were made. Late in February the Reconstruction Finance released a story to all newspapers that Western Refinery would invest $300,000 and RFC would loan $720,000. Of this loan $300,000 would be a regular RFC loan, the balance a loan under the defense plants construction program.

* * *

A week later the National Security Resources Board granted a certificate of necessity. A priority for steel from the National Production Authority followed. The company signed firm contracts for the construction work.

* * *

The ink was barely dry on the contracts when the weird part happened.

* * *

A letter was received from a Mr. Bruce K. Brown, deputy for the Petroleum Administrator for Defense, Dept. of Interior, stating the $420,000 portion of the loan was turned down because "the urgency from the national defense standpoint does not appear to be sufficiently great to justify such action."

* * *

This action after public announcement of the loan was made puts the company in so tight a spot it may have to close down.

* * *

No one knows how Mr. Bruce Brown arrived at his decision after all other defense agencies gave the go ahead signal to the project.

* * *

In fact, Washington is not quite clear just who Mr. Brown is. Some think he is a dollar a year man on loan from a major oil company. Others say he is not, but his superior is.

* * *

But the investigation that will ensue will surely establish identities.

SOFT-SHELLED TURTLES

Contributed by Ross Allen's Reptile Institute, Silver Springs, Florida

Among the strangest of reptiles are the soft-shelled turtles, two kinds of which occur in Florida. The broad, flat shell of these turtles is soft and flexible, like leather. The nostrils are at the end of a long, pig-like snout. Beneath the soft, fleshy lips are powerful, sharp-edged jaws with which the turtle defends itself when molested. Soft-shelled turtles reach a large size; some weigh as much as 30 pounds. They feed mostly on crawfish, which they catch in the water.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Tallahassee — As the Florida legislature moves through the fifth week of its regular session, the halls of the state capitol are filled with the usual grist of rumors, charges and countercharges.

Tallahassee — Governor Fuller Warren has retained Collier's Magazine that he will bring suit for libel against the publication unless it retracts an article entitled "Secret Mr. 'Big' of Florida" published in the current edition. The impact of the article and the governor's reaction on the legislature is expected to be profound. At work is a house committee investigating connections between gamblers and public officials, under the chairmanship of James A. Haley, Sarasota county representative. Pending in the legislature are bills prohibiting ownership of controlling interests in more than one race track in Florida by any individual. Also going through the legislative mill is a series of bills aimed at book-making, illegal use of wire service and gambling in general.

Tallahassee — Apparently settled in the 1951 legislature are such pre-session subjects as the following:

Voting by 18-year olds — they won't.

Abolishing the fish and game commission — they won't.

All women subject to jury duty — they won't be.

Taxing homesteads for schools — they will not be.

Unmasking the Ku Klux Klan — it will be.

Setting a maximum automobile speed limit — it won't be.

These and other less important subjects have been disposed of either by defeat of bills — as the 18-year-old voting bill was killed in the senate — or adverse committee action.

Tallahassee — When Florida elects eight congressmen instead of six next year, the state probably will be divided into eight districts, Senator G. Warren Sanchez of Live Oak, chairman of a committee to bring peace to several warring factions on the redistricting front, reported success to the senate. The compromise bill will leave the present Bob Sikes third district pretty much as it is, create a new district out of counties between Tallahassee and Jacksonville, and another new one around Polk county and with some minor exceptions, making satisfactory changes for the other old districts. Senator Sanchez said he believes the committee version also will be acceptable in the house.

Tallahassee — A spate of anti-newspaper legislation is dying out before committees which so far have shown a vigorous intention to defend freedom of the press — even though it occasionally hurts. A house committee has killed a memorial to ask congress to repeal the second class mailing privilege. Bills such as the proposed new juvenile court and civil defense measures have been changed to remove the possibility of hampering free newspaper and radio reporting. Still pending is a measure to tax the sales tax premium which would tax newsprint. Also pending, without much support, is a bill to require all newspapers to print publication of the names of all persons arrested in it or them already in jail. No newspaper protest has been filed against amendments to existing bills which would prohibit printing defense secrets, such as secret weapons, and the location of rocket sites. Also pending is a committee at work and soon to report a bill to require newspapers to give equal space for replies to any editorial criticism of public officials.

Bird of Paradise Flowers

By C. S. Donaldson

Tourists have been inquiring lately about the Bird of Paradise flowers here. They have noticed that my tenant clumps of them in the Cactus park on both sides of the entrance and wanted to know what they were. Those flowers resembling birds in flight. It is Strelitzia Augusta of the Musa or Banana family.

The tourists also ask about the more richly colored variety with gold and blue-purple flowers which they have seen in florists' shops. That is Strelitzia Regina and the florists answer that they get their blooms supplies from Southern California. The plants, which do not grow over three feet high, seldom do well except in containers. Miss Annis Whitman has a number of them under her specialty several times. I have just discovered that the Strelitzia Regina may be had from Rex D. Pearce Moorestown N. J. with seeds or plants.

On the north side of the City Hall is a seven foot plant cluster of Strelitzia Nicolai, which has never bloomed, should it do so the flowers will be similar but larger than the Strelitzia Augusta. Alongside it is a Travelers' Palm (Ravenala Madagascariensis), also of the Banana family — the two plants look like twin sisters. The Travelers' Palm stores up water where it grows in the desert and refreshes the thirsty who pass by.

The above firm also has variegated and mottled leaf forms of the Banana that are quite decorative yard plants. Some florists also have Heliconias, another member of the Banana family that produces gaily colored leaves and rich bloom.

The various species mentioned cover all the small Banana family.

By Sam Polston.

With the deluge of rain, cover crop planting in the county is beginning to get under way. W. F. Ward of Avon Park is planting 500 acres of different varieties of Indigo, mostly the early maturing variety, but planting some common hairy indigo and some blanket. The later shows promise of being a good legume to be worked in combination with pasture grasses as well as being an excellent cover crop. With a moderate amount of fertilizer the indigos will make excellent growth on a low fertility soil which, according to Mr. Ward, makes it one of the best adapted plants for cover crops in this area.

Mr. Ward is planting this indigo as a cover crop on newly cleared citrus land and in young citrus groves. The seed will be combined in the late fall and according to Mr. Ward, he will get enough seed shattering from the combining to get an excellent stand next year. The early maturing variety of Indigo has the advantage, especially in early winter such as last past, in setting a good seed crop before frost, allowing it to be chopped under before it would become a cold hazard in the groves.

The Highlands Soil Conservation District Nursery plot of Argentine Bahia grass was top dressed last week with Ammonium Nitrate at the rate of 200 pounds per acre to increase seed yield of this common referred to "Gold Grass" in that the seed sold for $100 per pound in 1949. The District is trying to reproduce the seed of this grass in order to be able to distribute small quantities of seed to cooperators of the district who wish to try this pasture grass. According to experimental grazing tests at Brooksville it is excellent. The Highlands Fertilizer Company donated fertilizer for this grass. Mr. Harshman said he is interested in helping make it possible for people to obtain seed, since this grass had proved to be of such high quality.

AUDUBON'S CARA-CARA

Contributed by Ross Allen's Reptile Institute, Silver Springs, Florida

Audubon's cara-cara is a tropical bird that occasionally is seen as far northward as southern Florida. It is a large hawk, black and white in color, with a red area of skin from eye to beak. It often soars on motionless wings over the Florida Everglades. Like the vulter, the cara-cara feeds mainly on carrion. It constructs a bulky nest in a tree or bush, and deposits 2 or 3 large, brown-splotched eggs.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Charles Sawyer, Commerce Secretary, talking too frequently, and in circles, embarrasses his colleagues on the Mall.

They say, referring to his carnival park, "The Cincinnati Coney Island Kid can't tell the difference between giving the people a fast whirl for a dime on a Gayway Concession, and giving the people a fast whirl for billions."

C. W. Harder

There is a fervent wish he would quit his pre-occupation with the monopoly sideshow.

* * *

Opposition party attacks on a cabinet officer are common. But Sawyer is being repudiated most energetically by his own party.

* * *

His latest idea. Newspapers, he tells Ohio newspapermen, should refrain from printing some news for "national security". As he has nothing to do with military strategy, attending newsmen quickly dubbed it a plea for "Sawyer security". He said, "It (censorship) would I am sure, make the task of the public official much easier."

* * *

But Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath, who operates out in the open told newsmen there are no plans for an implied, disguised, direct or indirect censorship.

* * *

Undoubtedly, censorship would suit Sawyer. Just recently this column reported how a House Judiciary Committee, headed by N. Y. Democrat Rep. E. Celler, condemned a Sawyer plan to use a half billion American dollars to finance a new aluminum plant for Alcoa's Canadian affiliate.

Called to testify Sawyer "double-talked" through a half hour. One observer said, "He squirmed and ducked so much there kept running through my mind the popular melody, 'Cincinnati Dancing Pig'."

* * *

Senate Small Business Committe has opened public hearings to investigate the strange ousting of Earl Glenn, a Commerce Dept. career man, as head of rubber allocation. He was replaced by Leland Spencer, vice president of a subsidiary of the rubber monopoly.

* * *

There was an attempt to have the hearings in secret. Before that, Sawyer contacted Sen. John Sparkman, head of the committee, attempted to forestall the hearing, forming the Glenn ouster a matter of administration not policy. But Sen. Sparkman, hailing from Alabama believes in bringing out truth in the open.

* * *

Many bureaucrats now desire to keep non-defense information from the public. ECA quits announcing who sells the billions of merchandise the Marshall Plan is giving away.

* * *

Big Business, getting the lion's share of the business, objected. Besides, Marshall Plan officials are being embarrassed by publication of their actions.

* * *

An example. Sometime ago this column reported government is buying French industrial alcohol at 41¢ per gallon for defense needs. The big U. S. distillers refused to sell except at a price range of from 90¢ to $1.25 per gallon.

* * *

But ECA Bulletin No. 2059 reports Marshall Plan has bought $120,000 of alcohol from American distillers and given it to France. Next week other reasons for the bureaucrat's desire for an Iron Curtain along the Potomac will be reported.

First Grade Has Open House

The children in the first grade room of Miss Yvonne Head and Mrs. Maryanne Reddick invited their parents to the grand opening of their grocery store on Friday afternoon, April 27.

The children greeted the parents; they also served refreshments of fudge and fruit juice from a table spread with a white linen cloth and decorated with an arrangement of gladioli and spring flowers. The fruit juice was served from a silver pitcher. The girls, under the direction of Miss Head, made the fudge on a hot plate at school.

The grocery store, made and painted by the children, was very complete, its equipment including cash register and scales. On its first day, it offered for sale actual vegetables and fruit. Before its construction, the children made a trip to City Hall to apply for and purchase a building permit. The store will continue in operation as a learning-with-fun device.

On opening day, Miss Harty's fourth grade sent flower arrangements to congratulate the first graders.

In addition to the parents, Mr. Markham, Mr. Wilhite, Mr. Driggers, and Mrs. Rowe were guests at the opening.

The guests were then taken into the house, and each was given one half of a picture, to be matched with the other halves, which had been tied to packages containing miniature candy bars, packages of gum and a gift for each guest. After the pictures had been matched, a circle was formed to watch Judy open her lovely gifts.

Improvements At Touchton's Drug Co.

Touchton's Drug Store is loud these days with clanging and hammering, noises which will eventually result in a bigger and better place for Coke-drinking or deciding which of the latest magazines (or comic books) one should buy. Of course, also for the serious matter of having prescriptions filled.

The store is being enlarged, and is being, equipped with a new fountain and new shelving. It is reported that it will be air conditioned.

Park Hardware, it is further reported, will move into what is now the A. & P. store, and may be connected with the drug store by an open archway.

REMEMBER GOLDEN RULE: DON'T DUMP GARBAGE

No householder likes having heaps of kitchen waste and trash near his own dooryard. Therefore, if he lives in a section which does not have regular garbage collection, he loads his tin cans, bottles, old papers, and bags of food waste into his car and takes it for a ride — and all too often dumps it on the handiest vacant lot outside the city limits, forgetting that people live nearby.

Country residents, who burn or bury their own trash only to find neighboring lots heaped with garbage deposits, would be very grateful if the dumpers would remember the rules of neighborly consideration. Anyone who has no place at all where he can bury or burn trash is reminded that garbage can be taken to the city dump on the Wauchula road.

Crossing Signals Being Installed

Warning signals and signs are being installed by the Atlantic Coast Line at its crossings on Main Street.

Citizens of Avon Park have long felt that such signals were necessary, since several serious accidents have occurred at these crossings, when cars were struck by trains. The last one happened only a few weeks ago.

After every accident, over a period of years, letters were written to the ACL by business and civic organizations of this town.

Now, at long last, it is good to see that the crossings are being made safer for the motorist.

Red Devils Lose--Eliminated From Ridge Tournament

By John Garber

The Avon Park Red Devils lost their first encounter in the Ridge Tournament last Tuesday night to the Auburndale Bloodhounds, 6-4. Thirteen Red Devils died at the plate under the spell of Ramsey, the Bloodhound star pitcher. Ramsay was the first fast ball pitcher Avon Park faced this season.

Bobby Whitcomb started off at the mound for Avon Park, but was relieved in the fifth inning by Harper, when he couldn't find the plate, walking nine batters, striking out three, and allowing six runs and three hits. Harper showed good form for the remaining three innings, striking out five, walking one, and allowing one hit and no runs.

This loss eliminated Avon Park from the Ridge Tournament. Their next game will be played here at Head Field on Monday, May 14, at 8 p.m. They meet the Lake Wales Highlanders in a make-up game which was previously scheduled at Lake Wales and rained out.

The Kissimmee Cowboys narrowly escaped defeat at the hands of the Lake Wales Highlanders at 6 p.m. Tuesday, however, through no fault of their own, managed to win 5-4. The Highlanders catcher slammed out a home run in the seventh inning, but was tagged at the plate when he failed to touch home. Had he tagged home plate, his would have been the tying run. Criner was pitching for the Cowboys, and Morrow for the Highlanders.

Flyers Win Two; Drop One

The Flyers, American Industrial Sales Corporation's crack softball team won two games and lost one last week. On Saturday night, May 5, the Flyers played Coral Gables All Stars in a Sebring doubleheader. The Flyers won the first game 10i, behind the splendid performance of fireballer Mack Flythe. The Flyers won the second game 5-0 behind the combined efforts of George Lint and Dick Dennis. Lint was withdrawn from the game due to a leg injury suffered last week.

On Monday night, May 7, the Flyers journeyed to Waverly and encountered the world's top softball team, the famed Zollner Pistons of Fort Wayne, Ind. Against this top competition, the Flyers certainly turned in a creditable performance. In dropping the game 2-0, the Flyers added prestige to their reputation as one of the top softball teams in the country. George Lint, the veteran ace of the Flyers, hurled the Zollner game suffering from a pulled leg muscle, which impaired his effectiveness. However, the performance turned in by the team received nothing but praise from the 2,000 fans attending the game, as well as from the Zollner team.

BID FOR $300 YEARLY PAY RAISE REFUSED

The school board Tuesday turned down, with regret, the petition of the Highlands County Classroom Teachers Association, and the faculties of Sebring and Lake Placid, for an annual increase of $300 per teacher.

The increased cost of living was the basis of the petition.

No funds are available to grant the basis of the petition.

Teacher appointments approved were Mrs. DeRheta Saylor Lanier, Avon Park; Mrs. Virginia Crews Dunty, Lake Placid; Freddie Gypson Peterson, Negro, Avon Park.

Hospital Day Plans Include Tours; Invitation To Public; Band Concert

Hospital day will be observed Sunday, May 13th at which time conducted tours are being arranged through the Walker Memorial Sanitarium and Hospital by H. M. Baldwin, Business Manager.

There will be "open house" at the Walker Memorial Hospital from 1:00 to 5:00 P.M. Two band concerts are planned; Avon Park High School Band will play from the Boat Pavilion from 2:00 to 3:00 and the Sebring High School Band from 3:30 to 4:30.

The purpose of the observance locally is to acquaint local people with the job their hospital is doing.

It also commemorates the birthday of Florence Nightingale, who pioneered in the founding of a modern hospital system with her work among the sick and wounded soldiers during the Crimean War of 1854.

Scout Leaders To Meet Friday, May 11

The leadership training committee of the Highlands District Boy Scout organization, is putting the finishing touches on a training course to start this Friday, May 11, for scout leaders. Bill Sachsenmaier is the committeeman representing the Avon Park area. Those completing the course will receive leadership training certificates. The program is organized for scoutmasters, assistant scoutmasters and troop committeemen.

The attendance at these training sessions by troop committeemen of the two Sebring troops, Nos. 156 and 157, is particularly stressed. Committeemen are the backbone of the troop organization and the scout movement recognizes that this is one of its best ways of developing qualified leadership for the Boy Scout group as a whole.

There will be five sessions, each directed as nearly as possible by a local man qualified to present and demonstrate a particular phase of scouting. There will be a different leader at each session, the first being Mr. Fred Wild, county superintendent of schools, a former scoutmaster and troop official with a genuine interest in boys. Mr. Wild has already earned his basic training certificate.

Fathers of scouts have not only a ready invitation but are urged to attend all session. Scout leaders believe the participation of fathers in scout activities is especially valuable, leading the father to a better understanding of his son's interests and occupations, thus contributing to broader and deeper companionship between father and son.

All sessions will be held on Friday at 8 p.m., the first two at the scout house opposite the court house, and the next two at the Avon Park Youth Center. The leadership training committee for the Highlands district consists of Robert L. Taylor, chairman; Ford Heacock, Sebring; Bill Sachsenmaier, Avon Park, and Dick Riley, Frostproof.

Well Caves In On Local Boy

Duane Kopta, 17, was caught in a well cave-in last Sunday morning, and spent at least two hours buried in earth up to his neck before Avon Park firemen were able to release him. Fortunately he was uninjured.

It was necessary for one man to go down into the well with the boy in order to free his arms. Charles Howze, fireman, volunteered for this dangerous job, risking the chance that both of them would be smothered in a second cave-in.

The Fire Department received the emergency call at 10:45 Sunday morning. Duane had been digging a well on his home farm, on the Bombing Range road. He had gone down about 14 feet, with his brother standing at the top to haul out excavated earth, when the cave in occurred, driving him against the side of the well in a crouching position. He was completely covered, but managed to free his head. His mother, Mrs. Verrilla Kopta, ran to the nearest telephone, which was about a half a mile distant.

Members of the Firemen's Association who assisted in the rescue were: Fire Chief Wilbur Giddens, Bill Gilliard, M. A. Thorpe, Charles Howze, Durrah Martin, Richard Galan, John Ziegler, and C. W. Watson. Russell Mizelle carried a supply of oxygen to the scene of the accident.

Cut In Welfare Assistance If Bill Passes House

There are 636 persons in Highlands County who will feel the effects of lower public assistance grants if the appropriations bill now before the House of Representatives is passed.

Appropriations in the bill reported by the House Committee will affect those receiving assistance now, and will affect the entire economy of the county, since virtually all money received by those in need is turned back into the channels of trade.

The House committee has recommended an appropriation of $32,120,000 in State funds for welfare operations during the next biennium beginning July 1. That compares with $46,642,767 requested by the State Welfare Board, and $41,903,818 recommended by the State Budget Commission.

On a statewide basis, Old Age Assistance would be cut 20 percent; Aid to Dependent Children, 24 percent; and Aid to the Blind, 16 percent. That is because approximately 60 percent of grants come from Federal funds on a matching basis.

In Highlands County, there are 436 receiving aged assistance for an average of $38.50 a month. If the House appropriations bill passes, this would be cut to an average of $30.50. There are 184 receiving Aid to Dependent Children for an average of $45.50 a month. This would be cut to $34.00. Highlands County has 16 blind persons receiving assistance now. The average grant is $39.50, which would be cut to $33.00.

The chairman of the local welfare board said that the figures showing cuts are based on the over-all reduction in available funds. There will be some recipients who may not be affected because their needs are well above the maximum allowed by State law, and who do not have income or other resources.

Legislators from this and other counties will finally determine the outcome of the appropriations.

LEON DELANEY HURT

Leon Delaney, employee of the Barnett National Bank, who received a fractured knee cap and broken nose in an auto collision on Thursday, May 3, is now in Walker Memorial Hospital. He is reported to be recovering satisfactorily. His leg, however, will be in a cast for some time, and it cannot be determined as yet how long it will take the fractured knee cap to knit.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Reddick will have as guests over Mother's Day week-end, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Bell of Tampa; their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Reddick, and their daughter, Miss Hilda Reddick, all of Lake Wales.

Band Wins Superior Rating In State Contest At St. Pete

The Avon Park High School Band, under the direction of Gene Gorman, at the State Band Contest in St. Petersburg on May 3 and 4, won superior ratings and laudatory comments from the judges, as well as a front-page write-up in the St. Petersburg Times.

Acknowledged to be one of the best high school bands in Florida, the band entered in the CC classification, which includes high schools with an enrollment up to 250, but played its selected number in Class A, the highest group. Next year, the band will compete in Class B, its excellence warranting its moving up to competition with larger schools.

The band received a superior rating in concert and sight reading; an excellent rating in marching.

Band soloists were rated as follows: Jane Suggs, superior in flute and student conducting; Patricia Sheffield, flute, superior; Jack Ward, trombone, superior; Bobby Whitcomb, baritone, superior; Lynn Longbottom, piano, excellent; Peggy Martin, baton twirling, excellent; Jack Ward, student conducting, good.

The St. Petersburg Times carried a picture of the entire drum section of our band, and commented on the "outstanding percussion section." The newspaper also termed the special maneuver —the "Irene" number, featuring the Majorettes, with Roberta Harris and Bobby Bolt performing a specialty dance — "very professional".

The band's outstanding brass section also won much praise.

One of the judges, Fred McCall, band director of the University of Miami, commented: "The outstanding strong points of this band are too many for this judge to list."

"This is an excellent band — very musical. Fine bass drummer, fine balance, tone quality, and a superior interpretation of this music." was the opinion of another judge, Paul Yoder, nationally know composer from Chicago.

William Revelli, internationally known bandmaster from the University of Michigan, who gave the band superior rating in all playing, wrote: "This is a very striking band, beautifully uniformed, with superior playing. Very refined unit. Solid brass. This band did a wonderful job."

The town owes a rising vote of thanks to our hard-working band director, Gene Gorman and his diligent and talented students. They really put us on the map in St. Petersburg. And proved that quality still outranks size, by stepping out of their classification to compete with schools of much larger enrollment.

National Guard Left Monday For Camp

On Monday night this week, the guard assembled at the armory, and the people of Avon Park and the High School Band turned out to send them away with appropriate music and good wishes. The Guard boarded busses that took them to Haines City, where they entrained for Camp Stewart, Ga.

Members of the National Guard unit sat down with members of the Rotary Club at a chicken dinner barbecue, served at the Mandis Dairy Farm on Thursday evening, May 3, and really got their fill on delicious chicken.

The boys were guests of the club, and the meeting was the regular session of Rotary, with President Charles Metcalf in charge. Bob Gibson, president-elect, introduced Ray Clements, tax collector of Polk County, who delivered a serious talk, spiced with humorous stories.

Dance Recital Will Be Quality Show

There will be beauty, grace and humor in the annual dance revue presented by students of the England Professional Studio of Dancing. The revue, with the theme, "School Days," is sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club, staged and directed by the England studio. It will be given at 8 p.m., Tuesday, May 22, in the high school auditorium.

It is reported to be the most ambitious show ever presented by our local dancers, who range in age from pre-school to teenage. The advanced students, who have had the advantage of several seasons' training, have attained finish and skill in various forms of the dance, including ballet—which has become so popular through the nation that two excellent motion pictures, "Red Shoes" and "Tales of Hoffman," have been based on this traditional and difficult dance mode.

More than 75 juvenile dancers well-known in entertainment circles in this part of the state will offer a variety of feature numbers, songs, novelty dance routines, and specialties. They will be beautifully costumed in gleaming satin and spangles or clever novelty costumes, all designed by Madelyn England, and assembled by Mrs. Layton Smith and mothers of the students.

The various committees in charge of the revue for the Junior Woman's Club report that all indications point to a splendid performance this year; and advise all residents to keep the date of May 22 open that they may be entertained by their favorite children and young people.

Tickets are now on sale by members of the Junior Woman's Club and the dance students.

A bill has been introduced in the legislature calling for a tax of $2 a gallon on Hadacol, just as applies to any alcoholic beverage.

GOOD SMOKING

Avon Park received $2,546.39 as their share of the cigarette tax money for the month of March. Men, women and teen agers are really paying their share of taxes.

Sebring smokers burned more tobacco in March than Avon Park. Their share of the March taxes being $3,349.94. The census gives Sebring a population of 4,092 and Avon Park census 4,-639. It could be that more travelers stop in Sebring to buy the smokes. Anyway, they have the honor for the month of March.

MAKE MOTHER'S DAY MEMORIAL

Sunday, May 13th, is Mother's Day. It seems hard to believe, but the fact remains that out of 365 days a year, only one is dedicated to Mother. With all the self-denial, kindness, consideration and devotion our mothers show throughout the year, there ought to be at least twelve such celebrations. Can't we remember this in the future and spend some time each day in showing Mother just how much we appreciate everything she does? But meanwhile, let's do our best to make this Mother's Day a perfect one.

Your Queen For a Day should have breakfast in bed. The small fry, with a little coaching and supervision from Daddy can prepare the meal and serve it to Mother on a pretty tray.

Then a day planned for doing the things she likes best. A visit to friends and relatives? A pleasant ride in the country? A visit to one of our many state parks, and by all means a good dinner eaten out, or prepared by anyone but Mother. Flowers and candies make nice gifts for the day. Whatever you plan, treat her like the queen she really is. In fact, we feel that every day should be Mother's Day.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger

Tallahassee — The legislature of Florida has paved the way for a $150,000,000 school building program, if the voters approve in 1952. Both senate and house have completed action on the proposed constitutional amendment to earmark a part of the automobile license tag money to pay for school bonds. This is the No. 2 item on the school program for this session, the first being an increase in the state support of common schools from $99,000,000 during the current two years, to $120,000,000 for the next two. The agreement to a change in the constitution to authorize school bonds backed by a pledge of money from auto tags is considered by school people as the biggest single advance in education since the minimum foundation program law of 1947.

Tallahassee — Both houses of the Florida legislature have agreed to stop state payment for certain educational "frills," but they are miles apart on how to do do it. Separate bills have passed each house, one to stop payment for kindergarteps, junior colleges and auto driver education. In addition, the house voted to eliminate all summer programs. One other education bill is being polished up as complete. It requires students getting scholarships to become teachers to train for those grades in which there is the greatest lack of trained teachers.

Tallahassee — What has happened to the revised sales tax which breezed so blithely through the senate, promising to provide $17,500,000 more per year for state government?

Answer: The revised sales tax is being emboimed in Rep. Albert Stewart's house finance and taxation committe, with a leisurely series of hearings scheduled for this week, and possibly a swift death stroke from the committee at the end.

The house leaders have vowed that no new taxes shall pass. The same group controlled the inordinated appropriation bill just released, and which can pay for state government, they believe, without new taxes. It will take a major house revolt, not at this time in the making, for the house to change its mind and follow the senate into more liberal treatment of state institutions.

FLORIDA LIME
SEASON AHEAD

With Florida continuing to receive millions of dollars for "every marketable quality" according to a spokesman of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association's field crops, and Florida limes of as superior quality in every way, there is no reason why Floridians can't get along exceedingly well without the California product, according to FFVA officials.

At the same time, Floridians may know, they are a superior product and help an important Florida industry, thereby aiding the economy of the state.

Nutritionally, it is admitted that limes and lemons are about on a par, from the standpoint of vitamin and mineral content — but there the resemblance stops. Limes have a piquant flavor, lacking in lemons, and a multitude of uses that lemons can't match.

One peculiarity about limes is that they are characterized by being "ripe" when green — green when "ripe". Its mature limes have a rich dark green color.

PRAYER IN THE GARDEN OF THE SINGING TOWER BY AVON PARK AUTHOR

Just recently a book called "Supplications" has been published by Les Editions Chantecler in Montreal, Canada. It is a compilation of world prayers and the one from America is written by Mrs. Charles Kenney of Avon Park, "Prayer in the Garden of the Singing Tower." From the title, you may know the setting for the prayer is Florida's Bok Tower. Mrs. Kenney has contributed to various literary works and has had a volume of poems published.

Prayer in the Garden of The Singing Tower

How beautiful this garden is at dawning of another day.
The summer sun sends forth its light in magic ray
To tint the sky. The shadows fade and there in stately beauty tall
Reflected in its pool the tower revealed in perfect line and marble wall.
Alert to day, the birds awake and sing their songs of mirth for light;
To them a world of glory is with peace assured—for gone is night.
The radiant tower, silent first but soon in pealing tone as comes the hour.
To souls of men, its chimes, as words, in harmony impart Thy power.
At dawn of this new day, we turn to Thee, oh Father of mankind.
And in the garden of our hearts, may we Thy true creation find.
Tune Thou the souls of men to harmony that from their hearts as towers tail
May chime a symphony of brotherhood to men of nations all.
In cruel marts of greed, have earth men strayed: "They know not what they do!"
Contrite, to that first lovely garden, Father bring them back to you.
We gave our sons, vicarious, to sacrifice in war; spare now a further giving,
That hearts of mothers everywhere in all the earth may go on living.
Eternal Father, merciful and kind, to Thee we kneel as human frail to pray.
Grant us Thy love, its majesty and power, in Thine own perfect way.
As we alone must come and penitent, the soul must bare
We feel the silent presence of Thy Son,
Who once the victory won.
And, too, give thanks that in His grace it is we share.
Remembering that once so long ago at eventime in garden, too, He knelt,
And grief, as shadow of the coming night, He then so deeply felt.
May we, as holding faith, the dawning of Thy perfect day now know
Eternal hope is in the sky and following the gleam, may we to victory go.
Keep us in Thy garden, Father, teach us of Thy way and make us free.
Put into the hearts of all Thy people LOVE; give us true charity.
This prayer in faith we offer here and life to sacrifice in pay;
Send victory to all the earth and Thy true peace to all, we pray.

Oversleeping will never make your dreams come true.

MOTHERS

"When I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice; and I am persuaded that in thee also." II Tim. 1:15.

Let us look first at a few women of the Bible:

Eve—The woman of curiosity.

Miriam — The ambitious woman.

Ruth—The woman of constancy.

Hannah—The ideal mother.

Esther—The self-sacrificing woman.

Mary—The woman chosen by God.

Lydia—The business woman.

We notice a few things about God's dealing with these notable women.

1. He gave them a place in society which no other religion has ever done.

He idealized womanhood, yet has never excused them from the normal functions of motherhood and family building.

3. He gave them a peculiar love which transcends any other type of human affections, which has called this day into existence.

Now let us notice a few dangers to modern mothers:

1. This new freedom has a tendency to cause her to be glaringly immodest.

2. The career fever tends to destroy the passing on of better blood to the next generation.

3. Bad habits are not only weakening the fiber of her character, but are blasting at the future and foundations of the coming generations.

4. Lack of spiritual emphasis is creating a chaotic domestic condition which is ruining or eliminating continency and faithfulness.

Now for some due praise to the mothers of the world:

Somewhere among his writings, Marion Crawford has said, "To woman, man owes his existence, and ought to owe his happiness —without woman civilization would cease, and society would fall to pieces." May we never forget or cease to appreciate our mother's love for us, her unselfish devotion, and her endless sacrifice.

All through life it is a mother's love that guides us on, for the light of her love shines ever on our path to keep us in the right. She encourages us in all things we should do. She excuses our fauits, extols our virtues, and points the way through her own beautiful faith, to Christian living and heights sublime.

Let us pause today to speak a word of love and tender memory for the dear mothers who are gone, and who await our coming to join them in that realm of bliss beyond the turmoil of this life. Make her remaining years happy and replete with every joy and comfort. Forget not the things you have learned at her knee, nor the prayers of her heart for you.

Kate Douglas Wiggin says, "Most of all the other beautiful things in life come by twos and threes, by dozens and hundreds. Plenty of roses, stars, sunsets, rainbows, brothers, sisters, aunts and cousins, but only one mother in all the wide world."

We have the world over many women who give birth to children, but very few true mothers as God intended them to be. Let us do our best to raise the standards of motherhood back to its rightful place by showing proper respect at all times for the now mothers and to the future mothers of the world.

The Key To Good Hospital Care

Your hospital is much more than just a building with a driveway, landscaped grounds and modern scientific equipment. Your hospital is people—the finest in your town. Only the finest will do. Only the best people can be counted on to help you fight the battle of health in your community.

Everyone who serves in your hospital is specially chosen—for intelligence, for skill, for loyalty. From the governing board who directs the hospital policy to the newest assistant in the laboratory, each member of the hospital family has a deep interest in serving you in your time of need.

That's the reason you'll find that in your hospital human kindness and great miracles of science go hand-in-hand. The services of the hospital family—the hospital team—restore health, courage, and hope to patients and help protect the entire community.

More than 50 professions, occupations and skills are found in hospitals. The training and talent of your hospital family help save lives. Their services provide comfort for patients.

The hospital family is the team that works together to serve you in what may be the most critical time of your life. They're on hand to see you through your illness . . . to hasten your recovery.

If you've ever been a patient —one out of eight people enter a hospital every year!—or have visited a friend who was one, you've had a chance to meet some of the members of this important hospital family. You've been able to learn at first hand why we say "hospitals are people."

There are so many other members of the hospital family beside the doctors and the nurses that you should know. For when you are a patient, these other members of the hospital team will help your doctor bring all the skills of medical science to work for you in your recovery.

When you're a patient, your diet is most important. Proper nutrition and speedy convalescence are closely related. That's why the scientific food service at your hospital is so vital to you. Every meal—prepared according to your doctor's direction—will reflect the handiwork of some pecialist in the dietary department and kitchen.

Other important members of the hopital family are the laboratory director and his staff. Their painstaking work helps the doctor diagnose your condition.

Other prominent members of the hopital family include the housekeepers, who assure cleanliness, the maintenance staff, who keep equipment and plant in operation, the laundry workers, who handle all linens.

Remember this important fact: Every minute that you're in the hospital, the time of two members of this family is directly and indirectly devoted to your well-being.

Hospitals throughout the country—there are more than 6,000 of them—represent a book value of $6½ billion dollars.

You and your family—as well as other members of the community—used hospitals' facilities, services and equipment to this extent last year:

Nearly 3 million babies born in hospitals. Three out of every four babies born in the U.S. were born in hospitals.

Your hospital is people. These people constitute the hospital family. They stand by—faithful, loyal, constant, ready at all times to meet your health needs, whenever they arise, whatever may occur. To show your appreciation —to do your part . . . Serve and support your hospital.

Kissimmee River Valley Mapping To Be Complete July 1

[illegible] the Kissimmee [illegible] part of the [illegible] Southern Florida [illegible] Flood Control Project, [illegible] Col. Lawrence Hagerty, [illegible] the Central and [illegible] Flood Control [illegible] the board. Mr. [illegible] visited the district [illegible] in Jackson[illegible] the display of [illegible] topographic maps [illegible] covering areas of [illegible] miles. It will provide [illegible] basic information [illegible] engineers in designing [illegible] construction to [illegible] maximum use of land [illegible] for the Corps of [illegible] undertaking the mapping of this area, no suitable maps were available for general use in the Kissimmee Valley. In addition to being useful in the flood control project, Mr. Rogers pointed out that the maps will also be of value to private engineers and individuals who are planning and designing water control developments for private lands. He said that individual photographic prints of any particular area will be available at a nominal cost upon application to the District Engineer, P. O. Box 4970, Jacksonville 1, Florida. These prints will show the contours of the land and designate the major landmarks such as county lines.

The Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District is conducting a soil sourvey in the area covered by the aerial mapping as well as additional lands in the St. Johns Valley. This includes that part of the District north of Lake Okeechobee not previously mapped for soil classification. This work, which is being done by the District in cooperation with the Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Plant Industry, Soils and Agricultural Engineering, is expected to be completed by June 1952.

Information obtained in the soil survey, when used in connection with the mapping will formthe basic data to be used by engineers in designing flood and water control works best suited to this area. It will prevent errors that might occur in using potentially good land for conservation areas and protecting poor land. The information will also be helpful to landowners in planning the best utilization of their properties.

Highway Patrol Checking Cars

As the motor vehicle safety equipment inspection continues throughout the second week, Director H. N. Kirkman of the Florida Highway Patrol has offered a few pointers to motorists on the maintenance of their cars.

Kirkman suggested that such mechanical equipment as brakes, lights, muffler system, horns and windshield glass and wipers be in proper working condition before they are checked by officers assigned to the safety program this month.

"It will save their time as well as ours," he said.

The Patrol Director said that brakes should be equalized so that when they are used, equal pressure should apply to all four wheels. The law requires that brakes stop a vehicle in 30 feet at a speed of twenty miles per hour, he declared.

Brake pedals, he added, should grip almost immediately on contact.

Kirkman suggested that the emergency brake should be checked periodically.

He warned against "too much play" in the steering gear.

Windshield wipers should work with precision and the glass should be clean and without cracks or cloudiness.

These factors," Kirkman said, "are the motorists' own responsibility since no automobile has yet been perfected that will go very long without having some adjustments made."

Some folks work with their hands, some folks work with their heads, and then, of course, there are also the bureaucrats.

"Coulda used that guy at Normandy."

No car or truck is too big for us to wash and lubricate. We go "all out" and "all in" besides. Inside and out your car is clean when we do the job.

The Guava Group

By C. S. Donaldson

Many people think of Guavas as all of a kind, but there are many varieties, and as there is new interest in them locally a list of them is timely.

Of the most common Guava (Psidium Guajava) there are some quite acid, others sweet, while the late Chas. W. Pabor grew one in the Pabor Lake colony that bore fruit weighing half a pound; it was pear shape and delicious to eat out of hand. These are all yellow outside and have reddish flesh. Another of the same group has white flesh, quite acid, considered by some as best for jelly.

Then there is the Red Cattley (Psidium Cattleyanum) with the handsomest foliage of all. If given plenty of fertilizer and water they produce purplish red fruit two inches round. My bush bore quite a winter crop and bears a big summer crop, some of which is wasted. Many are eaten out of hand and the balance going into wine-colored jam.

The Yellow Cattley (Psidium Lucidum) has the same size fruit but is too sweet for jelly making, but delicious as table fruit.

There are two bushes of the Pineapple Guava (Feijoa Sellowiana) in the Mall in front of the Pabor that formerly bore great masses of pink and white bloom in April and May. The fruit of these is supposed to taste like a pineapple but here they drop off before quite reaching maturity, which would call for spraying as Bordeaux to the fruit as the petals of their bloom.

The handsomest bloom of this group are on bushes of Psidium Montanum (Blood-stripe). Specimens of which are now in bloom several in the Mall near the Sanctuary Church. The senior W. E. Pabor who started that row of trees Highland Lakes region and who was a member of the Royal Horticultural Society, planted them. Mention in the notes of little Pabor Lake. The birds are planted this will assure the lake and the surrounding trees with a beautiful floral effect of little "snow" about mid May, followed by bushels of dainty small black fruit that delight the palate, but do not overload the bushes. Many fine specimens of these can be seen from the highway.

All of this group of Guavas are propagated easily from seed, but have found most of them difficult to transplant in bare roots, so grow your own from the kinds whose fruit most pleases. E. A. Austin, Bible distributor here, is making a specialty of the Guavas.

OPINION OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

April 30 — In an opinion to Walter W. Woolfolk State Attorney, Lake Wales, the Attorney General held that under the Beverage laws of Florida it would be unlawful for a social or fraternal club located in a dry county to permit members to contribute to a general fund for the express purpose of purchasing whiskey and for the payment of wages or salary of employees of said club who actually would purchase and serve same to the members of the club, and also held that it would be unlawful for members of a social or fraternal club in a dry county to rent locker space in the clubhouse and store their own individual liquor in these lockers, with the club thereafter charging for ice, bitters, silverware, glasses, etc. for serving drinks to the members. In so holding, the Attorney General pointed out the case of State v. Livingston, 159 Fla., 63, 30 So. (2d) 40, in which the Supreme Court held that no matter in what type of sheep's clothing the wolf was wrapped, that is to say, regardless of how the transaction is described by the statute, the serving of liquor by a bona fide social club in a dry county is a "sale" within the meaning and definition of the Constitution. 051-97.

Rev. John Pickens Is Guest Speaker At Woman's Club

The Rev. John E. Pickens stressed the importance of family worship in an interesting talk on the American home, delivered at the last meeting of the Woman's Club, held in the Palm Room of the Jacaranda Hotel, Friday afternoon, May 4.

He made three suggestions for the modern home: First, that one evening a week should be set aside for family home night, with the family all staying at home or going somewhere together; second, that there be a family council to discuss family matters; and third, that there be more Christian religion in the home—not merely church going, but more family worship and daily Christian living.

Tribute was paid to the late Earl Jackson, husband of the club's music chairman, Mrs. Edna Jackson.

Mrs. Esther Perry Hornbaker gave a five minute talk on international relations, stressing Russia.

This being the final meeting of the season, the president, Mrs. Samuel Norris, reported on activities during the year. Mrs. I. H. Ford, treasurer, also gave her final report.

Mrs. Norris opened her report by thanking club members for their cooperation, support and work during the year. Among those things accomplished by the club this year, as summarized by the president, were:

1. Granted a loan scholarship to a student at the University of Florida. 2. Cooperated with other civic groups on plans to improve Donaldson Park; in an attempt to reestablish the youth center; in starting first aid classes. 3. Supported the Public Library. 4. Sent Christmas boxes to the Jacksonville Children's Home and to Germany; also to six local families. 5. Contributed to various drives, such as Cancer Fund. 6. Assisted with tuberculosis and diabetic tests given last January.

Mrs. Norris closed the meeting with the following remarks:

Sometimes we wonder what is happening to this world of ours. Where is the peace? Where is the good will? Where is the conscience of this civilization?

We are again in the midst of a world crisis, but throughout the length and breadth of the world I am sure that all women are praying for peace.

Here in America we have freedom of religion, and power of prayer. Let us as women and true Americans, use both of these assets to the fullest. Let us pray for guidance in bringing peace to a troubled world. Let us be informed women whose privilege it is to elect outstanding individuals to our county, state, and national offices—individuals who will act at all times in the best interest of all Americans and all human beings.

The interest of women in government is vital and most essential to our well being.

As we close our meeting today, and we each return to our homes, I wish for each and every one happiness, and contentment; and for our club, community usefulness, and that it be a joy to each member.

Diaconate Meets At Supper

The Diaconate of the Union Congregational Church held an informal supper for members and their families in the church house last Sunday evening.

Howard B. Donaldson was elected chairman of the Diaconate; M. G. Whitcomb, chairman of the board of deacons; and Mrs. Peter Boney, chairman of the deaconesses.

The Rev. Herbert D. Graetz announced the arrival of the silver communion service, which completes the communion table furnishings given to the church as a memorial to the late Miss Alice Davidson.

Butchers Must Post Ceilings

Retail butchers are required to post by June 4 the meat ceiling prices for beef cuts that go into effect May 14.

These beef prices will be effective until July 31. On that date OPS will put into effect the first of two ceiling price reductions. The next ceiling price reduction will take place October 1st.

These step-by-step reductions in beef price swill result in average reductions by fall in the prices consumers pay of about 10 percent, says Sam F. Davis OPS district director. Actual percentage reductions will be partly dependent on the type and style of beef cuts. The ceilings effective next week hold retail prices at about the freeze level of Last February.

The Office of Price Stabilization condition controlling beef prices is part of a group of regulations that reduce the price that slaughterers can pay for beef cattle and that wholesalers may charge retail butchers. The cattle prices will be reduced about 10 percent on May 20, another 4½ percent on July 29 and still another 4½ percent on September 30.

The price slaughters may pay for cattle are lowest which would protect cattle feeders against inventory losses on cattle acquired before the freeze date.

WHOSE TWINS?

Almost a year ago, a lady came into the Sun office to ask for a picture of twin infants which had been published in the newspaper and was supposed to have been saved for her. We couldn't locate the photograph, but have since discovered a large one of twin babies.

Could this be the missing one? And could the lady, whom we don't know, return to look at it?

Why a "Job-Rated" truck is your safest investment

A "Job-Rated" truck is engineered at the factory to fit a specific job . . . save you money . . . last longer. Every unit from engine to rear axle is "Job-Rated"—engineered to haul a specific load over the roads you travel and at the speeds you require.

Every unit that SUPPORTS the load—frame, axles, springs, wheels, tires and others—is engineered right to provide the strength and capacity needed.

Every unit that MOVES the load—engine, clutch, transmission, propeller shaft, rear axle and others—is engineered right to meet a particular operating condition.

Safer stops with "Job-Rated" brakes

Step on the brakes of your Dodge "Job-Rated" truck and you're sure of smooth stopping action far in excess of normal requirements. You get long-lasting Cyclebond "no-rivet" brake lining—with lining area increased as G.V.W. rating goes up!

Now, on models 1½-ton and up, except air brake models, you get another Dodge "first"—new Tapered, Molded Cyclebond brake lining. It's longer-lasting, extra quiet—free from "squeal." Independent hand brake also adds to safety.

Safer steering and easier handling

Now, you can maneuver your Dodge "Job-Rated" truck with less effort! Steering is more accurate. New easy-acting worm-and-roller steering gears on many models.

To make driving still safer, Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks have new, shorter turning diameters. You also get the easy-handling advantages of cross-steering, short wheelbase, wide front tread. All these features add up to the easiest handling truck on the market!

Safer visibility with "Pilot-House" cabs

When you drive a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck you look through the biggest windshield of any popular truck! You have a clear close-up of the road, made possible by new, lower hood line. For even greater visibility you can get De Luxe and Custom cabs with rear quarter windows. All-steel "Pilot-House" cabs provide extra safety, too. Top, floor and sides are welded together—not bolted! No wonder owners agree that Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks are the safest on the road!

FLUID DRIVE now available

Only Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks offer this great "exclusive"—available on all 1½-, 2-, and 3-ton models and Route-Vans. Helps assure less wheel-spinning on slippery surfaces . . . less tendency to spin in mud, sand, snow or wherever the going is tough.

What's more, gyrol Fluid Drive makes driving easier, helps protect loads, lowers upkeep costs, and lengthens truck life.

Come in today... see and drive the "safest" truck on the road... a DODGE "Job-Rated" TRUCK

Youth Center Will Reopen At Armory Friday Night, May 25

Our much-needed Youth Center will be reopened this month, according to an announcement made this week by Mrs. H. C. Worden, president of the Avon Park Youth Association. The center will be located in the Armory and will open on Friday and Saturday nights of each week. Permission to use the Armory was given by Hubbard K. Biggs, who was appointed custodian of the building by General Mark Lance after the departure of our National Guard unit.

Mrs. James A. Johnson is the chairman in charge of refurnishing the Armory. She states that the Youth Center will be open for the first time this season on Friday night, May 25.

Mrs. Johnson, with Mrs. W. W. Wingfield working with her as co-chairman, will see that the center furnishings are moved from the air port building, and also supervise necessary cleaning and redecorating.

The movement to reactivate the Youth Center, which has been closed since the beginning of the school year, was begun during this past winter. Although a number of our citizens worked diligently to reactivate the center, no practical plan was found until two weeks ago, when Mrs. Worden, Mrs. James A. Johnson, Gen. A. M. Owens, Herbert Todd, Paul Garber, and A. B. Wilhite met with Mr. Briggs, and received permission to use the Armory. Before the re-organization of the National Guard here, the Armory was used for the Youth Center and was successfully operated. The air port site was too far away from the center of town.

All parents must realize that our Youth Center will be of great value to our community in providing a meeting place and wholesome recreation for our youngsters; and should, therefore, be glad to cooperate. Volunteer workers are urgently needed by the center. If you are willing to help, either with the moving and refurnishing, as a chaperon, as a member of a program committee, or indeed, in any way—get in touch with Mrs. H. C. Worden at the Kiddie Korner or her home (phone 268), or with Mrs. James A. Johnson, phone 7.

Mrs. Worden also requests that all civic organizations cooperate by appointing their representatives to serve on the Youth Association board, so that a meeting may be held, officers elected, and business conducted. She will be very grateful if these appointments can be made at once.

The Woman's Club has already appointed its representatives. They are Mrs. W. W. Wingfield and Mrs. T. O. Martin; the latter will be chaperon chairman. Representatives from public schools have also been appointed, these being: A. B. Wilhite, Mrs. Lena Suggs, and Mrs. Patti Hill.

Dance Revue Ready To Show

More than 75 children and girls will take part in the dance revue, "School Days," which will play at the high school auditorium Tuesday evening, May 22, at 8:00.

Sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club, and staged and directed by the England Professional Studio of Dancing, this year's show promises a new high in songs and dances.

The youngsters will take you back to your school days, with singing, tap dancing, acrobatics, toe and ballet, in their own cute, versatile way. There will be novelties galore, and expressions of personality you will enjoy watching. The costumes will be dazzling.

One of the many outstanding features of this year's revue will be the delightful "baby" number. These children, all under the age of five years, are characterized as "Rag Mops," and present a routine really remarkable for a group of that age.

The advanced group will be romantically beautiful in a white ballet, and sphosticated in a tap number.

Every number on the program will be presented by young performers who have worked hard and diligently to provide an evening of sparkling and enjoyable entertainment.

Tickets are now on sale by the dancing students, and members of the Junior Woman's Club. Or they may be purchased at the door.

Annual Meeting of The Pioneer Club

Robert M. McCabe of Florida Power Corporation here is in St. Petersburg this week to attend the annual meeting of the Pioneers' Club, of which he is a member. This is an organization made up of employees who have served 25 years or more with the utility.

Highlight of the meeting will be a tour of the company's huge new plant at Booth Point near St. Petersburg. The first unit of the $20,000,000, 120,000-kilowatt plant will go into operation this month, adding 40,000 kilowatts to the Florida Power Corporation's electric production.

Following this tour, the group will return to the Detroit Hotel in St. Petersburg for a dinner meeting which features a talk by FPC President, W. C. Gilman.

A. W. FILLING STATION BURGLARIZED

Early Saturday morning the Border Service Station at the West end of the Mall was broken into and money, tires and a couple of flashlights stolen.

The thief entered by breaking the glass in the front door of the office, but made so much noise a neighbor living across the street from the station heard the racket and shouted at the man, frightening him away before he could get a larger haul. The police were notified and Chief Johns got enough information to arrest a local man by the name of Dewey James Jackson, Jr., whom he placed in the county jail at Sebring. Jackson was released early this week on bonds.

The police recovered some of the money, tires and flashlights.

Managing Editor Of Tribune Talks To Rotary Club

V. M. Newton, managing editor of the Tampa Morning Tribune, was the guest speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon on Wednesday, making the same talk he has delivered before other associations in the state on "The Freedom of the Press."

Mr. Newton, a fearless and able editor is also a forceful speaker, and held his audience's attention from the start to finish, with figures that were appalling to the average tax payer of the money being spent by the powers that be in public office who hire press agents for the purpose of putting out news releases that are favorable to the ones in power and the different beaurocratic setups in Washington. He stated that there are 45,000 press agents on the government pay roll that the tax payers are paying for. The State of Florida alone is spending $265,000 a year on propaganda issuing from the different departments and taxpayers are paying for it.

President Charles Metcalf, informed members of the Club that it is impossible for him to attend the National Convention of Rotary at Atlantic City this summer. The Club then elected Secretary "Army" Armstrong as delegate to the convention.

Rotarians and guests from out of town present were: W. H. Nollman, Starke; Major Keenan, Frostproof; A. V. "Swede" Benson, Lake Wales, and W. P. Clark, St. Petersburg.

Ridge Fuel Company To New Location

Mr. Ed. Welch, proprietor of the Ridge Fuel Company, distributors of Green's Fuel Gas, has moved his place of business in the Jacaranda building to 15 Jacaranda Arcade, just east of his old location.

Florida Farmers Use $50 Million Fertilizer

Florida farmers used fertilizer and other plant foods valued at approximately $50 million last year, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday.

This week's business review of the state chamber's research and industrial division shows a total of 835,924 tons of mixed fertilizer alone, the principal plant food, consumed in Florida last year. Approximately 80 per cent of these fertilizers were manufactured in the state.

Fertilizers and soil correctional materials are necessary factors in the production of Florida's agricultural crops, valued at $344,-980,000 last year, and figure strongly in livestock production which grossed $92,320,000 in 1950.

Primary foods as well as essential minor elements such as boron, manganese, zinc, copper and iron, are added to the soil in the form of commercial mixed fertilizers, other fertilizers and correctional and soil building materials. Certain of the minor elements can also be applied in the form of nutritional sprays. However, the principal use of sprays, dusts, etc. in Florida is for disease and insect control. All sprays, insecticides and dusts used in Florida totaled an estimated $14 million last year.

County Commissioner John W. Schumacher Ruled Insane

The Florida senate Wednesday removed Highlands County Commissioner John W. Schumacher from office for incompetency on the recommendation of Governor Warren.

Earlier in the day an order adjudging Schumacher insane was entered in County Judge Howard Livingston's court in Sebring.

Schumacher, former chairman of the Highlands County board, became violent at the May 9 meeting of the commission and was rushed to a Tampa hospital. The following day, his wife petitioned for the incompetency inquisition, which was held in Tampa May 11.

No commitment order had been entered late Wednesday.

Schumacher represented District 5. His term runs through 1952. The names of W. V. Higgins, school board member; Payne M. Sebring and Hobson Parnell were among those metioned in Sebring as possible successors to Schumacher.

Forest Fire At Highlands Park

Forest fires, which threatened the destruction of Highlands Hammock State Park and two other state park areas, have been brought under control with the loss of 400 acres of state park property, according to reports from the Florida Park Service.

Park Director Lewis G. Scoggin reported from Highlands Hammock State Park, one of the three outstanding natural parks in the United States, that nearly 100 acres of that park had been burned over by fires started from outside the park. He and 75 delegates to the Florida Park and Recreation Training Institute, which met at the park for their annual week's training period, worked with the park crew and firemen from Sebring and Avon Park to bring the fire under control. He said the danger of further fires was serious because the park service has only one 1932 fire truck which, this time as in other fires, broke down shortly after it reached the fire.

More than 300 acres of Tomoka State Park, near Ormond, were burned last week.

A third state park, on Anastasia Island, south of St. Augustine, was partially destroyed by fire which has finally burned itself out, according to park service reports here.

OPTOMETRISTS ATTEND DINNER AT TAMPA

With advancement and increased knowledge as their aim, Dr. Carroll P. Ezell of Lake Wales and Dr. Richard P. Hedrick of Avon Park were among the many Optometrists to attend the Florida West Coast Optometric Association dinner meeting at the Crystal Ball in Tampa Monday night.

Following the dinner the Ladies' Auxiliary retired to their meeting while the Optometrists participated in an exceedingly interesting study of diseases of the eye. This was the first of a series of such studies to be conducted by various Ophthalmologists, this one being conducted by the eminent Dr. S. B. Forbes of Tampa.

A short business session was held following the study period.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger

TALLAHASSEE — The Florida legislature this week is bringing two appropriation bills closer to both the senate version of $270,000,000 and the house version of about $20,000,000 less, still pending is the question of whether the state will get new income if the senate "regulatie" spending bill is passed. These appropriations cover state expense for the next two years. The house led by Rep. Fletcher Morgan of Duval county adopted a tight-fisted or pinch-penny attitude toward state spending, finally produced a $744,000,000 bill to cover state expense for the coming two years. This has been increased in a house revolt by upping the common school and welfare appropriations, and by making lesser changes, in a free-swinging conflict between the pinch-penny group and the free-spenders. Held in the house finance and taxation committee is an amended version of the 3 per cent sales tax, already passed by the senate and calculatered to yield $17,500,000 a year. Leaders of the house hope to end this session without imposing new taxes. The next two weeks is expected to see a battle between those trying to hold the line, and the group wanting more money for schools, old folks and state agencies.

Crime again is getting its inning, although the Haley committee investigating corruption for the house of representatives has called a temporary truce. The senate has taken up a series of bills providing, among other things, mandatory prison sentences for bookmakers, suspension of hotel and beverage licenses where gambling is discovered, outlawing of tipsheets and advance information printed by newspapers on racing, wire tapping to trap bookies, and opening the racing commission records to the public. The Haley committee has postponed further hearings until it can get fresh witnesses, and also to give the hard working members time to catch up on sleep and their own legislative business.

Hugh Culbreath has been reinstated as sheriff of Hillsborough county by Governor Warren, after a criminal court there cleared the ex-sheriff of grand jury charges. Culbreath's name was not submitted to the Florida senate. Neither was that of Jimmy Sullivan, also reinstated as sheriff of Dade county earlier in this legislative session. The senate has upheld the governor's suspension of former sheriff Isle Enzor of Okaloosa county. Hearings for other suspended county officers are being held by a special senate committee. Rep. Ferrin C. Campbell of Okaloosa county, son-in-law of Enzor, grumbled to the house "Sheriffs in big counties are the ones with enough influence to get reinstated."

A second money-producing bill has cleared the state senate, this one to produce $200,000 a year from public utilities to help pay for new regulation duties of the state over electric and gas companies. Shortly after Governor Warren signed into law the Dowda bill to put regulation of the rates and charges of electric and gas companies under the railroad and public utilities commission, the senate finance and taxation committee introduced a bill to tax all utilities for the added work. Spokesmen for railroads, telephone companies, bus and truck companies and electric companies said the added taxes would force them to increase their charges to the public. The bill assesses each utility $2 per thousand of gross intrastate income up to the first million, and $1 per thousand over that.

The Burton newspaper "gag" bill has been killed by a house committee headed by Rep. Bob Burnsed of Baker county. The bill would have required all newspapers to make space available for answers from public officials and others they criticized. The bill came to Tallahassee secretly, and is similar to one introduced under Ku Klux Klan auspices in the Georgia legislature. It is one of a lengthy list of anti-free press bills introduced at this session of the Florida legislature, some of which are on the calendar of the house or senate, but none of which have cleared either body.

Four major state agencies are under legislative attack, and may occupy much of thre lawmakers' time as the session draws to a close. The state beverage department is being investigated by a senate committee headed by Senator Turner Davis of Madison, with influence selling and political tampering the chief charges. The state milk commission is the subject of a bill finally given a favorable committee report, to allow schools, hospitals and the state custodial institutions to buy milk at competitive instead of fixed prices, require distributors to sell for one cent less in stores than by delivery. The state racing commission has been on the fire before the Haley committee and is the subject of bills to clip its authority over expense money and records. The game and fresh water fish commission, beset by internal gripings, has been battered back and forth by senate and house all session, may have its income cut in half by reducing resident fishing and hunting licenses.

Governor Warren has signed into law a bill to prohibit the wearing of masks or hoods by secret orders in public and to stop the burning of crosses and other threatening moves. It is aimed at the Ku Klux Klan, and passed both houses almost without opposition.

Civil defense and highway safety were orphans of the legislative storms, but there is hope that civil defense will be restored to the appropriations bill following the speech of former Gov.v Millard Caldwell as U. S. civil defense administrator before the legislature. The senate had cut both agencies out of its spending bill. The house had cut out highway safety, but put in a token $25,000 a year for defense. The governor's highway safety conference had asked for $120,000, got nothing.

Fred Astaire and Jane Powell portray a brother and sister song-and-dance team in MGM's technicolor musical "Royal Wedding."

FRED ASTAIRE WEEK

Fred Astaire is still King of Dancers, as you may witness by his performance in "Royal Wedding" at the Hilans Theatre Sunday and Monday.

Fred was born in Omaha, Nebraska, the 9th of May, 1900, and began dancing lessons at the age of five with his sister Adele. By the time he was eight they signed with an Orpheum vaudeville circuit as a dance team at $200 per week.

After reaching super star rating in the film capitol he "retired" in 1945, but couldn't stay away and returned to the screen fans in bigger and better techni-color musicals. He married Phyllis Potter in 1933 and they have three dancing children.

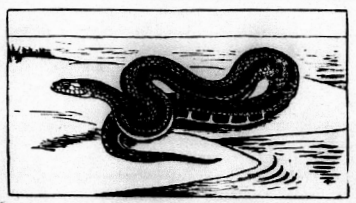
60 PERSONS KILLED IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Sixty persons, only seven less than the corresponding period last year, were killed in traffic accidents in April, the Florida Highway Patral reported today.

The patrol said that rural accidents accounted for 45 deaths. Those killed included 24 passengers, 20 drivers and 16 pedestrians. There were 49 fatal accidents, indicating 11 wrecks in which more than one person met death.

Heavy increases in motor vehicle registration in Florida will give the state an automatic $8,165,000 extra in gasoline taxes in 1951.



SALT-WATER SNAKES

Contributed by Ross Allen's Reptile Institute, Silver Springs, Florida

Few people know that saltwater snakes occur in the United States. Three forms are found in Florida; they are all non-poisonous and completely harmless to man. They often live down crab burrows, and come out to hunt for food when the incoming tide floods the coastal marshes and salt-flats. The form shown above is black and dull yellow; it is found along the Gulf Coast.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Senator John Sparkman's (D. Ala.) Senate Small Business Committee investigating weird actions of the National Production Authority on rubber, is learning one apparent fact.

* * *

That fact is this. If a Washington bureaucrat cannot ignore a small businessman, they then insult him. Instances of both have entered the record of the hearings.

C. W. Harder

* * *

For example, in his testimony, I. B. Calvin, vice president the Bearfoot Sole Company of Wadsworth, Ohio, employing about 400 people making rubber heels and soles, found the allocation set for them threatens their existence. He addressed several inquiries to Leland Spencer, head of the rubber program.

* * *

Spencer failed to acknowledge any communication. Spencer, a vice president of a subsidiary of one of the Big Four in rubber, assumed control of rubber when Earl Gilson, generally credited with establishing a fair allocation system was summarily fired without explanation.

* * *

Then there is the testimony presented by Kent Tomlinson, head of the Kent Equipment Company in Chicago.

* * *

Tomlinson has an unique problem. His company, probably the smallest of the 900 firms in the nation in the rubber business, specializes in making rubber fingers for automatic chicken picking machines. These machines have been responsible for the dressed chicken industry jumping from 400 million birds processed in 1940 to almost a billion and a half chickens at the present time.

To make these picking fingers, his company needs only 5 tons of rubber per month, of which 70% must be latex. Spencer's office cut him down to 35% latex. This means, he said, that the fingers only last a fraction of their normal time, requiring the use of 50 tons of rubber a month to supply his customers.

* * *

Tomlinson talked to a Mr. Miller in Spencer's office to explain the unusual problem involved. Mr. Miller promptly demanded "Why weren't you there to write the law?" When Tomlinson replied he had never received any notice of a meeting for this purpose, he was told "It was all in the newspapers."

* * *

Not getting any place with Mr. Miller, Tomlinson told Miller he was going to appear before the rubber hearings of the Senate Small Business Committee.

* * *

Miller replied, "Well, that is like most of you fellows, go over there and talk to a lot of Senators who are trying to run our department and do not do anything about it."

* * *

That was what the bureau underling said. Tomlinson reported, in a land where government is supposedly vested primarily in elected representatives.

* * *

Sen. Sparkman, however, is not accustomed to being pushed around by bureaucrats, and he is deadly in earnest about his chairmanship of the Senate Small Business Committee.

* * *

He is taking a long, hard look at all bureau directives.

* * *

Through his efforts, NPA order cutting off aluminum to 75% of the nation's 14,000 small aluminum fabricators who only use 5% of the national supply, has been postponed. Sen. Sparkman intends to investigate. Chances are, an actual potential surplus of aluminum exists.

SERMONETTE

MOTIVATING POWER OF PRAYER

Rev. M. L. H. McMullen, Retired Methodist Pastor

In 1st John 5: 14 and 15, we have confirmation that in human affairs of life, no force is as powerful as believing prayer.

Prayer may be likened to gravity, the force by which the physical universe is governed, and the planets cling to their orbits. Life on earth in plant, animal, and human, is dominated by this mysterious magnetic power.

Likewise, in the spiritual realm, prayer is that vital force which lifts and links the soul of God.

We who have ministered to the sick and afflicted know without a question how wonderfully the prayers of honest, sincere Christians lift the soul in despair into the very presence of God. But let us not fool ourselves, or the ones who need prayer, by mere words, but by faithful living be able to take needy souls into the very presence of God our Father.

As the sun is the natural center of our solar system, and the source of light, heat and energy, so in the spiritual realm, God is the eternal source of life and power.

Therefore, prayer is that spiritual gravity by which the creature clings to the creator, and by which grace, mercy and all good are obtained. Man is incapacitated without God, but prayer is the soul's contact with the eternal God.

Through Jesus Christ we may approach deity and become mighty through God to the pulling down of the strongholds of the enemy.

In Hebrews 7:25, notice the clause, "that come unto God."

Prayer is that approach of the finite to the infinite, a coming together to present our thanks, our praise of Him, and enumerate our needs. If we are unselfish in our prayers, His bountiful storehouse may be opened, and our needs supplied. (John 14:14 and 15:7).

Someone has said, "It is not the length, but the strength of the prayer that is required; not the labor of the lips, but the travail of the heart that prevails with God."

Prayer is actually speaking into the ear of God, realizing that He is present, knowing He hears us, and is able to answer if it be in His will, for our good and His glory.

Those who have suffered the tortures of diseased bodies, those who have been severely persecuted, know that prayer brings more relief and peace of body and soul than any other agency of help.

This world is full of folks sick in body and mind, lands devastated by wars, nations that are hungry for food, homes that are wrecked by sin, hearts broken by those who were unfaithful, children deserted and homeless in a heartless world. All of these things calls for the prayers of those who know God.

Men of all ages, from Abraham to our present day, who have meant the most to our civilization have been men of prayer, and in the very midst of the host of prayer warriors, stands the Lord Jesus Christ, who taught us how to pray and now is our great intercessor.

In these dark days, can we who labor in the shadows of an approaching night, survive without much effectual, fervent prayer?

Prayer is the key that unlocks heaven's doors to him who prays and has a close walk with God.

Talented Girls And Boys In Fourth Annual Dance Revue

An audience that practically filled the ground floor of the high school auditorium viewed and enjoyed the fourth annual dance revue last Tuesday night, which was staged and directed by the England Professional Studio of Dancing and sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club. The dancers were Madelyn and Fred England's Avon Park students, with selected numbers by students from Sebring, Lake Wales, and Frostproof.

The dances ranged in variety from the graceful "Orange Blossom Ballet," with the girls dressed in pure white with white garlands in their hair, to the comedy of the deliberately angular "Cute Little Girl" tap; from the daintiness of the "Dancing Doll" to the breeziness of the cow girls in dungarees, and the exotic quality of a Hula ballet. The "Circus Cats," a smoothly-flowing coordination of tumbling and dance, and "Country Lads and Lassies," tap, were among the outstanding groups.

The very tiny ballerinas, in their very full tarlatan skirts, were, as always, adorable.

We'd like to describe all the numbers — the brilliance of the toe-taps performed by Carolyn Bradley and Bonnie England, for example, or the beauty of the solo ballets—but we do not have space. It must be enough to say that the quality of performance was very high, and the show entertaining. Indeed, each year's revue seems better than the last, as more of the talented youngsters profit by several years of professional training.

The costumes, ranging from glowing scarlet and cerise through the pastel shades, to white, were clever and lovely. One member of the audience has commented that the privilege of viewing them was worth the admission charge. The costumes were designed by Madelyn England, and made by Mrs. Layton Smith and mothers of the students.

Revue pianists were Maribelle Twitty, Mrs. V. A. Sims, Mrs. J. Simmons. Studio pianist was Mrs. Vernon Lanier.

Members of the Junior Woman's Club, in evening dress, served as ticket sellers and ushers.

The program was as follows:

Fred Montsdeoca Joins G-Men

Fred Montsdeoca, one of Florida's all-time all-around athletes and his Gator baseball squad teammate, Roy Poole, Saturday night signed contracts with the Gainesville G-Men of the Class D Florida State League.

Montsdeoca, of this city, took off a Gator uniform for the last time Saturday as the Gators beat Rollins, ending four years of valuable football and baseball service for the university.

Montsdeoca, a credit to his home town of Avon Park, played four years of varsity baseball and three years of football. He was the Southeastern Conference's leading punter in 1949 with a 41.6 average and he was high up last year, also. For three years he did Florida's booting, always dependable and sure of getting his team out of trouble. Montsdeoca had only two punts blocked out of 173 kicks.

As a baseballer he was tops. The slender, part Indian athlete captained the Gators last year and again this season—the only player to captain the baseball team twice in a row since W. G. Ward in 1921 and '22.

A natural hitter and a fine defensive player at nearly any position, he lettered in 1948 and '49 as a pitcher. Last season, because of his batting ability, Coach Dave Fuller started using him as a first baseman and outfielder. In 23 games he compiled a .425 mark. This year, again playing pitcher-outfielder, Montsdeoca averaged .483 in 23 games, probably the top average in Gator history.

A fine athlete, Montsdeoca also is an excellent student. He is an officer in Florida Blue Key, the top honorary society at the university, and is president of the P-Club, an athletic organization, and is past president of the Athletic Council.

Red Devils Lose In District Meet

By John Garber

The Avon Park Red Devils ended their baseball season for this year last Friday when they were defated by Wauchula, their first opponent of the District playoff. This game was played at Firemen's Field at Sebring. The score, 21-6.

Although Avon Park did not perform their best in the Ridge Tournament and also lost their chance to take a crack for the State Championship, it would not be fair to consider the season as "poor." The "bad breaks" in baseball, just as in any other sport, and the so-called "off days," are bound to come sooner or later no matter how good the team might be. The "bad breaks" and "off days" caught the Red Devils at times when it hurt the most — Ridge Tournament and District playoff. When they play their level best, as they did the biggest percentage of their games, they could have given any team in the Ridge a run for their money—they'd have a tough time beating the Red Devils.

Whitcomb, Harper, and Jenkins did the hurling for Avon Park, and the target [illegible] they were shooting was held by Spencer, the catcher.

Although this game marked the last for a few of the high school players, there are quite a few that will "carry on" this summer, playing with the Junior American Legion team. In next week's issue will be more about that.

Florida Citrus Mutual Will Elect Directors

Every effort is being made to streamline the meetings at which Florida Citrus Mutual members will elect 21 directors for the coming year, according to J. C. Morton of Auburndale, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

"We are urging that the presiding officer at each of these meetings make the proceedings as snappy as possible," Morton said.

Three of seven such meetings were to be held this week, the first having been held at Orlando Monday, followed by Tavares Wednesday and DeLand on Friday.

Other meetings are:

May 29, Tampa Chamber of Commerce Hall, 2:00 p.m.

May 31, Arcadia Youth Center, 2:00 p.m.

June 5, Community Building, Vero Beach, 2:00 p.m.,

June 7, Florida Room, Florida Citrus Bldg., Winter Haven, 2:00 p.m.

Mutual's charter divides the state into seven districts which correspond with those set up in the state citrus laws. Three directors represent each district.

Following the district elections, Mutual's annual meeting will be held at Mayhall Auditorium in Lakeland on the afternoon of June 19, at which time the directors chosen in the districts will be formally seated.

In the past, the newly-elected directors have met immediately after the annual meeting to pick a president and other officers for the year.

The annual meeting is being held in Lakeland this year to give Mutual members an opportunity to look over its shiny new building, one of the most modern in the state, which was completed a short time ago and is now in use.

Mutual's president, Lacy G. Thomas of Groveland, and its general manager, A. V. Saurman, are attending all of the district elections. They will be introduced and make brief reports, and will also be on hand to answer questions concerning Mutual's operations.

The directors in each district are arranging to have someone open the election meetings, with the temporary presiding officer then calling for election of a chairman, who will preside.

Special voting cards are being furnished all members. These are to be presented at the district elections, and the member will then be given a ballot. All voting is secret, with each member entitled to one ballot regardless of the size of his citrus holdings.

Proxy voting is not allowed at these elections.

YOUTH CENTER NEEDS

The new Youth Center does not have a piano. The one that used to be in the old center is in such bad condition that it's not worth moving.

Is there anyone who has a piano, still in good playable condition, that he would be willing to donate to the Youth Center? If so, his kindness would be much appreciated.

Florida Senate Approves Alcoholic Hospital

The Sun received the following letter from Senator Moore in regards to Alcoholic Hospital Bill:

May 22, 1951.

Avon Park Sun,
Avon Park, Florida.

I know that you will be interested to know that the Senate Bill 254, the Alcoholic Hospital Bill, passed in the Senate this morning without a dissenting vote. It now goes to the House. The bill still has to pass in the House before we will receive benefits under it.

This bill carries an immediate appropriation of half a million dollars and an annual appropriation of upwards of a quarter of a million dollars per year, the annual appropriation being raised by a five cent per gallon tax on alcoholic beverages. Based on 1950 sales, this will raise a little over $252,000.00 per year.

The bill establishes a hospital at Avon Park for chronic alcoholics, with provisions for committing and treating such patients. Not only will the bill bring in considerable money to Highlands County, but recent surveys show that the percentage of permanent cures effected by these hospitals when properly administered, is about three out of five.

With kindest personal regards,
Sincerely yours,
JAMES W. MOORE,
Senator 27th District.

A trailer belonging to Vera Finn and located on Second Street was completely destroyed by fire early Monday morning, May 21. With its equipment, its value was estimated by the owner as being about $500.00.

Mrs. Musgrove's Brother Is Killed

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Musgrove, Jr., manager of the Ideal Theatre, and their children were home from Jacksonville this week because of the sudden death of Mrs. Musgrove's brother, Jack Leitner, 29, of Gainesville, an employee of the Jack's Cookie Company of Tampa.

On Sunday, May 20, Mr. Leitner was on his way to a family reunion at Juniper Springs when his car overturned near Astor Park, about 15 miles south of Ocala. He apparently lost control of his car, according to the road patrolman's report. He was pronounced dead on arrival at the Ocala Hospital.

Mrs. Leitner, who was riding with her husband, was seriously injured, sustaining a broken leg and bruises within the body. Her condition is now reported to be somewhat improved.

Funeral services for Mr. Leitner were held in Ocala on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Musgrove joined his wife there on Tuesday afternoon, in order to attend.

Mr. Leitner is also survived by his mother, Mrs. Christine Leitner of Avon Park; and two more sisters, Mrs. C. G. Gay, Lakeland, and Mrs. W. E. Link, Ocala.

General Lowry Asked To Resign

The Florida branch of the World Federalists, meeting at Lakeland this week, called on Maj. Gen. Sumter L. Lowry to resign his position or cease his attacks on the United Nations.

In a telegram to the National Guard Commander, the executive board of the Federalists said:

"In the position of commander of the 31st Infantry Division National Guard, which you cannot effectively disclaim, you are attacking the national policy of the United States which you may be called upon at any moment to support and defend. Therefore, we call upon you to resign your commission if you wish to continue your public campaign against the United Nations and our allies."

In a strongly worded editorial the Tampa Morning Tribune points out that some 250,000 Americans are fighting in Korea under the flag of the United Nations, and are pledging their lives for the principle of the United Nations which is simply that peace-loving nations must band together to prevent aggression.

It calls General Lowry's attention to the fact that at the time he was bitterly denouncing the United Nations in a public speech, representatives of 10 member nations were gathered in Tampa for Armed Forces Day, and asks "What must have been their feelings upon reading the report of General Lowry's denunciation of the United Nations?"

SHRINE CLUB TO MEET HERE

Upon the invitation of Noble Reason Shivers, the Winter Haven Shrine Club will hold their next regular meeting here in Avon Park.

A barbecue dinner will be served along with other entertainment. The Nobles and their ladies are asked to keep the date of June 6th open at 7:30 p.m. Full details will be published in the June 1st issue of the Sun.

Third Session Boy Scout Training

The Leadership Training committee of the Highlands District Boy Scout organization held its second training session last Friday at the Scout House in Sebring. This session is one of five conducted each year for the purpose of assisting scout leaders and troop committeemen in carrying out the ideals of Scouting.

The session was well attended even though the England School of Dance revue and the Avon Park-Wauchula baseball game were also in full swing.

Bob Gibson of Avon Park, who acted as "scoutmaster," ably conducted the session. An interesting film in technicolor, "Patrol and Troop Program Training," illustrated the variety of methods used in planning activities.

The third session this Friday, May 25, at 8:00 p.m., is under the direction of Maurice Paige, Boy Scout field executive, and promises to be interesting and entertaining. It will be held at the Youth Center in Avon Park.

All Scout leaders and troop committeemen of Avon Park, Sebring, Lake Placid and Frostproof are asked to make an effort to be present. Fathers of scouts are cordially invited.

RELIGIOUS FILM AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

A new motion picture called "A Wonderful Life," will be shown on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Union Congregational Church. It is the story of a Christian family in Missouri, of how they faced life and found meaning in it. Many of the scenes were photographed in Missouri, although production was completed in Hollywood by the Protestant Film Commission.

"A Wonderful Life" has been acclaimed by previews audiences as a film so timely and true that the scenes pictured, the words spoken, are reechoed in hundreds of homes, day by day, in this present time of tension and tumult. The film stars James Dunn as Henry Wood; features Jolene Roberts as Mary, and Isabel Withers as Jeannie, the mother. It was produced by the Nassour Studio in Hollywood. William Beautind directed the film and Paul Heard was executive producer.

The public is cordially invited to attend. The young people of the parish will serve cake and coffee afterward in the church house.

Ward's Sixth Anniversary

We wish to call your attention to Ward's Department Store ad in this issue, announcing their Sixth Anniversary Sale.

Mr. Ward holds this sale every year, so as to give the people of Avon Park an opportunity to save money on their purchases, as an appreciation of their patronage during the year.

Bob Douglas, manager of Ward's, states that there are many values in the store that have not been advertised. So if you do not see it advertised, visit the store, and they will be glad to show you the many values that are offered in this sale.

People who marry for real love have a wonderful habit of never doing it again.

Is This You?

You were seen Wednesday morning drinking coffee in a local drugstore. You are about 5 feet 11 inches tall, have dark hair, and rather thin face. You wore light gray shirt and slacks, brown shoes. If this is you, call at Hilans box office or Sun and receive two free tickets to see Donald O'Connor in "Double Crossbones" next Thursday and Friday, May 31 and June 1.

Last week's "Is This You?" was Mary Garrett, of Barnett Bank.

The Malpighia Family

By C. S. Donaldson

This tropical family is little grown in Florida, although nearly a thousand species exist in the Tropics, so we will list only the five growing in the state, all of which are in my yard where anyone may have twig cuttings or seed.

The best known is the Baby Holly (Malpighia Coccigera) a slightly thorny bush with tiny leaves and masses of four-petaled white flowers for months. If grown singly they will reach several feet tall, but I keep mine pruned into a low hedge, very attractive. As the cuttings root readily Baby Holly should make a good opportunity for growing wholesale in tiny paper cups for the Northern 5 and 10 trade, now highly profitable.

My Barbados Cherry (Malpighia Glabra) has eight-petaled yellow bloom in racemes, the tree 30 feet high, and produces almost black cherries, marble size and smooth. The fruit makes delicious jam or jelly. The late Orville Sebring, as agricultural agent for S.A.L., once asked me if the Barbados Cherry would make a good prospect for growing commercially. I had to reply no, as the cost of gathering this fruit would be prohibitive. My tree was a gift from the late Mrs. Mary Francis Baker, Florida's greatest botanist. Everyone who cares for plant life should have her wonderful book on Florida Wild Flowers. It can be bought through any public library at a cost saving.

My little vine Malpighia Syringaflora, although six years old, has not yet bloomed. It should have flowers imitating the Northern Syringa.

The freest bloomer of this family is the Thryallis Glauca, with masses of tiny yellow flowers, but it must have more sunshine than mine because the encroaching overhanging trees have caused the bloom to grow less. Plants have their likes and dislikes just like humans.

My most showy of the Malpighias is the Gold Vine (Heteropteris Chrysophylla). It is a scandant, that is, it tries to be both a vine and a shrub. Its generic botanic name means "winged," while its specific name means "golden," hence Golden Wings, alluding to the seedpods. The underpart of the leaves show a silky golden sheen and the small bloom is rich yellow.

This is the old mulberry tree that gave a name to the pretty little town of Mulberry, Fla. It is a very old tree now, perhaps more than 75 years old, and the Seaboard Air Line Railroad is worrying about making it live a little while longer. It has always been a pleasant tree with refreshing shade and pretty blossoms, and the people in and around Mulberry have a genuine fondness for it.

Army and Air Force Announce Enlistment Policy

High school graduates of 1951, faced with possible induction, will be given enlistment priority in the Army and Air Force, according to Major Wade E. Bailey, officer in charge of recruiting in this area.

Graduating seniors planning on college but who are reluctant to register if eligible for induction may still avail themselves of two years of college study through the Armed Forces Institute.

According to Major Bailey, the Armed Forces Institute offers two years college training through self study courses drawn from all major universities including the University of Hawaii.

The U. S. Armed Forces has opened its technical schools for direct enlistment of high school graduates of 1951, he added. Application must be submitted through the recruiting station at 203½ E. Lemon St., Lakeland.

Army technical schools range from air conditioning installation and repair to typewriting and shorthand.

Enlistment in the Army and Air Force is restricted to men who are not younger than 17 and not over 35 years of age. Applicants for Army must be single with no dependents. Air Force applicants may be married with not more than two dependents.

Dependents monthly allowance start at $85.00 and do not exceed $165.00.

Gasoline Taxes Up 183% In Generation

Florida motorists looking for a way to stretch the family budget will find little encouragement in a statement by Comptroller T. Ade, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Florida Petroleum Industries Committee, that gasoline taxes have risen 183 per cent in the last generation.

Until 1925 there were no taxes, Mr. Ade pointed out that personal living costs have risen 97 per cent since. His investigation of road-building costs showed an increase of 69% since 1925 but that is 69% lower than in 1929.

The Florida Petroleum Industries Committee points out that the tax on gasoline is only one of many taxes paid by motorists. Gasoline taxes represent only 4.6 per cent of the cost of a gallon of gasoline, Mr. Ade said.

He pointed out that the highest general sales tax in the nation is only three per cent and that luxury taxes on jewelry, fur coats, and night club entertainment are only 20 per cent, adding, "It's easy to see why so many people call the motorists the most heavily taxed group in the state."

If a bill now being considered by the legislature becomes law, the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission will become responsible for the elimination of static which interferes with radio reception along state highways.

Is This the 'Typical' U.S. Auto?

Dividing its registrations into equal North-South and East-West parts, Chevrolet spots this 1941 sedan as the country's "typical automobile." It is owned by Don Sobkoviak, shown above with his wife, in Watseka, Ill., the approximate center of all cars in use in the United States. Sobkoviak, an employe of the Iroquois Farm Bureau, bought the car third-hand. It has 107,000 miles on its speedometer. The 1941 model represents the average age of all Chevrolets in service.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

While MacArthur episode causes debate on preservation of American lives in Korea, a drive is launched in Washington to preserve the huge profits of Big Whiskey.

• • •

Strong efforts are being made to get bureaucrats declare a grain shortage; limit use of grain for distilling.

• • •

There is a grain surplus. There is also a whiskey surplus, largely in the many warehouses of Big Whiskey. Distilling holiday would cut down independent production.

C. W. Harder

• • •

Many monopolistic corporations believe in Freedom of Enterprise as long as they have freedom to utilize government bureaus to manipulate profits.

• • •

Socialists also use bureaus for their subversive ends. The actions of the Food and Drug Administration now being fought by the National Association of Retail Druggists illustrates this point.

• • •

At present time most of nation's 40,000 independent druggists could be prosecuted under arbitrary law established by this bureau.

• • •

Here's an example. If you run out of the non-narcotic cough syrup prescribed by your doctor, your druggist is not supposed to refill it for you without a new prescription.

• • •

Most likely, your druggist is saving you money, and both you and your doctor needless bother. He goes ahead in defiance of this edict which parallels in arrogant stupidity any edict ever issued by the Kremlin.

Another example. Perhaps you live 15 miles from a drugstore. Your doctor arrives, finds your child will die unless medication is given immediately. He phones in a prescription which your druggist rushes out to you.

• • •

But to be legal, according to the bureau edict, your child should die, because it is illegal for your druggist to fill any prescription until received in writing.

• • •

What is behind these callous edicts? A Congressional investigation will find out. There is considerable opinion Oscar Ewing pushed the edicts through.

• • •

Ewing is the official constantly trying to push through socialized medicine. He has been repudiated by everyone including the overwhelming majority of the National Federation of Independent Business.

• • •

But, unfortunately, socialists neither die nor fade away, they just bore underground in a new direction.

• • •

It's obvious if a bureau edict can force the independent druggist and medical practitioner into inefficient, expensive methods, resentment against them by people not aware of the full facts will enlist new recruits for socialised medicine.

• • •

Congressional probes will continue. Look for more facts. Subversive activity cannot stand spotlight.

• • •

One of the hardest blows dealt Acheson and British Socialists came when MacArthur testified British Hong Kong is important Red China supply base.

• • •

This came at critical time.

• • •

Britain, which announced end of Marshall Plan gifts on December 31, 1950, but still getting millions more, had just requested additional $6 million in wheat from Marshall Plan.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger

The week ending with sunset Friday found the Florida legislature leaning toward adjournment at last week. The major two-pending bills for state government have been passed by both houses, sent to conference, and one bill submitted to Governor Warren. The house of representatives under rules handed Rep. Morgan of Duval lashed with an appropriation bill of 244 millions, but when the members got to thinking about the old folks and the schools they hiked this to 268 million. The senate had approved a total spending program of 272 million dollars to repair and build new buildings at state institutions. So far, the house has failed to take action on the amended three per cent sales tax bill passed by the senate, to make up the difference between what the state gets now, and what it will need.

Racing threatened again to break up a legislative session in a cloud of scandal. Rep. B. Elliott, Palm Beach County, had introduced a bill to allow harness racing in Palm Beach County. A house committee killed it, but he appealed for votes and got unanimous approval of the bill. Following the vote, the speaker marched to the clerk's desk, took the bill in hand and personally carried it to the senate. Other racing bills in the past have mysteriously disappeared on this short journey.

Both house and senate have completed action on a revision of the laws of budget making by county commissioners, originally sponsored here by the state association of county commissioners. It reduces to summary form the contents of proposed county budgets, as a substitute for adequate public notice given to the taxpayers under existing law.

The senate by a close voice vote defeated efforts of Senator J. Min Avers to restore notice to the public on preliminary budgets. The legislature also has voted to increase from $300 to $1,000 the limit of purchases county commissioners can make without calling for competitive bids. Paul Rardon, Palm Beach County publisher and county commissioner, endorsed these measures before legislative committees.

The legislative drive against crime bogged down when it tried to control public officials. The senate has rejected a proposal to make sheriffs and other peace officers subject to recall by the people. Elsewhere a committee had put to sleep a bill to prohibit an individual from owning a controlling interest in more than one race track. The senate also killed a bill to let the state monitor telephone conversations to get evidence on bookies. Otherwise the lawmakers have done well on gamblers, approving in the senate mandatory jail sentences for bookies, banning tipsheets and newspaper selections, prohibiting transmission of racing information for 30 minutes after betting closes, putting hotel and bar owners where gambling is permitted, and tightened upon the use of telephone and telegraph services used for bookmaking.

The house has approved a bill to open welfare rolls to the public, putting names of old folks and pensioners on record with the commissioners of welfare. This bill has been followed by committee approval of bills in both houses requiring elderly needy parents to go to court to sue their children for support, and to become liable for aid given to dependents. Mayor Wright of Belleair Shores has protested this feature, as well as the publication of relief rolls, and has indicated he will veto both proposals in the senate. The house was told by Rep. Richard Simpson of Jefferson that if the federal government should threaten to withhold federal matching funds because of welfare publicity, the cabinet would be authorized to close them again. Other requirements to put liens on the property of welfare clients are pending.

A house committee has killed the massive insurance code which had passed the senate, and which would have gathered into one place the insurance laws of the state. A senate committee has given an unfavorable report to a bill to tax Hadacol like wine. A house committee rejected bills to investigate the Tampa Tribune, and gave unfavorable reports to measures which would have cancelled out the libel laws, required newspapers to open their books for an answer to any criticism of official conduct, and required newspapers and radio stations to get approval of a candidate for office before his friends could place advertising. Still unsettled is a resolution to investigate the Miami Herald. The rash of anti-newspaper bills at this session of the legislature has not yet been traced to their source, but capital observers agree most of them are coming from the same place. All are attempts at muzzling the free press.

The house has agreed to a senate bill granting $3,000 per year to each student in the first medical school to be built in Florida from non-state funds. But the house tacked on an amendment to appropriate $100,000 to draft plans for the construction of a state school. Present law requires that such a school be built at the University of Florida. Senator R. B. Gautier of Miami is the sponsor of the bill, hopes to start the first medical school in Dade county.

Soil Conservation District News

By Sam Polston,
Florida Press Association

The Highlands Soil Conservation District has recently begun holding its office in the courthouse open on Saturday mornings for the benefit of those farmers and ranchers who can only make it to town on Saturdays. There will always be a Soil Conservation technician in the office on Saturday morning between 8:00 a.m. and 12:00 noon to discuss your soil and water conservation problems with you.

The Highlands Soil Conservation District governing body is made up of farmers and ranchers that are interested in conserving the county's natural resources of soil and water which makes them directly interested in your conservation problems as a land owner.

The district board members are Chairman Katherine Waggaman, Lorida; Vice-chairman Cole Danley, Lake Placid; Ivey E. Futch, Lake Placid; Franklin Ward, Avon Park, and L. L. Holmes, Lake Placid. The members are elected by popular vote for a definite period of time in a county wide election.

Land Capability (Land Inventory maps and a complete soil and water conservation plan can be obtained through the district upon request by the land owner.

The district board members serve without pay and there are no charges for the conservation plans or technical assistance. The district board has at its disposal the technical assistance for assisting the land owners, three Federal employees namely, Sam Polston, Soil Conservationist, Lloyd Zorn, Conservation Assistant; and C. F. Howerton, Conservation Assistant.

The district has, since January 1st, assisted a total of 20 landowners work out complete soil and water conservation plans on a total of 26,900 acres and assisted numerous old cooperators with their land and water conservation problems such as water control, (drainage and irrigation), pasture improvement, citrus grove management, range improvement, wildlife area improvement, stocking farm fish ponds, etc., and they will be more than pleased to assist you.

THE THREE TEMPTATIONS OF CHRIST

By E. D. Penton, Pastor,
Assembly of God Church

Luke 4:4. And Jesus answered and said unto him, 'Get thee behind me Satan: for it is written, thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.'

The scripture that I would like to call your attention to today tells of Christ being tempted to sin, and how he overcame that temptation. Even though he was the son of God, yet he was human in his makeup, so that he was tempted in all points as we are. Let us look at the three temptations of Christ and compare them to some of the trials that we may have to face as Christians today.

1. "If thou be the son of God, command this stone that it be made bread." The Lord had been fasting for forty days and nights, and therefore was hungry. So the Devil approaches him at the weakest point. Satan appealed to Christ just as he had appealed to Eve—through the desire to enjoy things: in this case, through the desire to enjoy something to eat. He as much as says to Christ, "If you are the son of God, why are you left out here alone for forty days without food? You must be deluded! But if not, surely you can easily prove your divinity, by working this simple miracle."

Satan's methods have not changed. From the beginning he has sought to persuade men to question and doubt God and his word. He has attempted to destroy man's faith and to induce discouragement—the great cause of many a life of sin and failure. But thank God, just as the second Adam overcame so may we today.

2. The second temptation was to offer Christ the kingdoms of the world if he would bow down and worship Satan. The avenue of the temptation is "the lust of the eyes," the desire for popularity, fame, and the craving for ownership of the world's goods. In this temptation Satan suggests that Jesus escape the cross. Christ did desire to rule the kingdoms of this world, which was in direct harmony with the will of God. In fact, it was in order that he might redeem and rule the kingdoms of world that he had come. But he could only secure the kingdom in God's way. And God's way was the only way—the Cross!

In this temptation is an offer for compromise. Satan is bringing about the downfall of more people through this avenue of temptation than any other form I could think of today. Don't be misled into believing that you can compromise with sin, and still be right with God. It just doesn't happen that way.

3. The third temptation operated in the sphere of the religious life. Its purpose was to get Jesus to misunderstand and misapply God's promises.

The tempter as much as says, "If you are the son of God, you have a right to test and to demonstrate God's power to the world. Leap off the temple! God has promised to protect you. Think how the people will marvel and rejoice and give glory to God." Here Satan endeavors to deceive Christ into foolish presumption, to ask God to work a miracle to save him from a peril which he could easily avoid.

Victory over temptation is two-thirds won when we perceive its true nature. To see Satan and sin as they really are will make sin very undesirable. Again and again, Christ, by the holy spirit, tore the mask from Satan's temptations.

If we live in the spirit and keep full of the word and prayer, we, too, shall see through the devil's devices, Let us guard our lives against sin, and God will deliver us from temptation.

JOY Class Meeting

The JOY Class of the First Methodist Sunday school held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday evening, May 17.

The group assembled at the home and opening of the new A. & P. store, to honor Bob Cleveland, manager of the store, who is one of the class members.

After enjoying refreshments of cake, doughnuts and coffee served in the store, the class went to the Methodist church classroom, where Mrs. Patti Hill, president, presided over the business session. Harold Nute, treasurer, reported a balance of $43.32, including the totals of all funds to date.

It was decided to change class meetings for June and July to Wednesday afternoons for swimming and picnics. The June meeting will be held at Lake Isis on June 20. Mrs. Virgil Tondee, Miss Mildred Henderson, and G. L. Harrison were appointed as a social committee to make arrangements. Mrs. Ben T. Stewart, Mrs. H. Ford, and Mrs. T. H. Maxwell were appointed to arrange for a "White Elephant" sale, with proceeds to go to the class building fund.

NATIONAL PTA URGES TEACHER JOB FREEZING

The National Congress of Parents and Teachers, meeting at Miami Beach, anxious to preserve the already thin supply of school teachers, urged Wednesday that the profession be classed as essential.

The PTA delegates, who were agreed that the teacher shortage is education's most critical problem, made the recommendation a plank in their 1951 platform.

The action was taken following reports that teachers again are beginning to leave the schools to enter the armed forces or take better paying jobs in defense industries.

The platform, adopted at the final general business session of the PTA national convention, also called for encouragement of competent young people to take up teaching careers.

MONTSDEOCA IS LEADING GATOR HITTER

Captain Fred Montsdeoca of Avon Park, turned in a blistering .422 batting average to lead the University of Florida baseball hitters this year, and just for good measure had a 3-1 record as a pitcher.

The one-man Gator bench, who recently signed to play with the Gainesville G-Men of the Florida State League, also led the team in runs batted in with 27. To build his .422 average, Montsdeoca hit safely 27 times in 64 trips to the plate—including two doubles, two triples and two home runs.

Fort Clinch State Park, Fernandina, is bounded on three sides by river, sound, and ocean.

Men who spend their time beefing seldom are the ones to bring home the bacon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Beason of Rome, Georgia, and her sister, Mrs. Abbie Jolly of Taylorsville, Georgia, visited last week with Mrs. C. H. Harris.

Mrs. Marion Nelson has accepted the chairmanship for the local American Red Cross production committee. A call for workers will be made in the very near future.

Dale Jordon went to Presbyterian Hospital, Philadelphia, on Tuesday of last week, where he underwent plastic surgery. He is expected to return home the end of this week.

Eileen Sachsenmaier, Frances Fisher, Jan Saylor, Carolyn Bolt, Beverly Williams, and Carol Graetz are scheduled to dance at the England Studio recital in Frostproof this Friday night.

Miss Marguerite Boivin, of Montreal, Canada, where she is an employee of Morgan's Store, and who is now the guest of relatives in Zolfo Springs, visited Avon Park Tuesday afternoon. She was accompanied by Frank Palmer, manager of Zolfo Springs trailer park.

Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Cummings are vacationing at Bryson City, N. C.

Mrs. Herbert Seaverns, former mayor of Lake Placid, her son, Capt. Harry Jenks, Mrs. Jenks, and their twelve-year-old son, Arthur, called on Mrs. May Walden last Sunday. Capt. Jenks, who was reared in Avon Park and is well-known here, was a navigator in World War II and has been in the reserves. He has been recalled to active duty and will report to Houston, Texas, on June 1.

Eighteen lots in the Lake Lotela Estate plats have been sold by Raymond Dilley, 14 being bought by O. K. McClure and four by Major Charles H. Long. These lots were purchased for development purposes.

A Bird Who Needs A Psychiatrist

By The Bird Woman

When we study the bird family, we find that many of their instincts and much of their behavior parallel those of the human family, and it is amazing that they excel us in so many ways.

It is true that they do not have the brain development that we possess, and that their methods are the same that their ancestors have used from the beginning of time. But even with our boasted progress, we still cannot match them in a great many ways, not to mention one that we have discussed before—migration.

The more we study it, the more we marvel. Now there are charts showing where the different species migrate, and to which part of the country they go. We have never found one of these schedules in a bird's nest, or posted on a tree in the woods. But at the proper time they migrate, some species travel by day, some by night, but their destination is reached without a detour.

When someone of the human family develops some eccentricity, the modern-day doctor puts him under the care of a good psychiatrist.

Well, we have found a bird that we think should consult a "bird psychiatrist"—if birds have one. This bird is the much-maligned loggerhead shrike, or butcher bird, to most of us. He has been called cruel, to say the least, but study has revealed that moving objects seem to irritate him and he immediately swoops down upon them and proceeds to impale them on a thorn or barb to die. Few of them are eaten as food.

There seems to be a little quirk in the mind, as is occassionally found in the human mind, hence, we suggest a "bird psychiatrist" for him.

About the seeming cruelty, a great many people do not understand insects, animals or birds preying on each other, or the weaker ones of their own species.

It is said that there is never a deformed monkey found. When a baby monkey arrives, all the monkeys of the settlement hasten to see the new baby, and with much grumbling and chattering, the baby is carefully examined, and if it is perfect, it is returned to the mother. But if it is deformed, it is thrown from the tree tops to the ground and killed. And in this way the monkey family is kept strong.

But scientists say that what we call cruel is just the way nature is kept in balance; the slow and the weak being wiped out, leaving the perfect and healthy to survive.

The human family sometimes kills for food—think of the animals and fowls that are killed annually for human consumption. But almost as often for sport.

What do you suppose some wise bird would think if he were perched in a tall tree and gazed down on some of our slaughter pens, where animals were being killed by the score?

Yes, some may say, we don't object when food is needed, but the butcher bird seems to kill for the sheer joy of killing.

History recalls how the human family almost wiped out the buffalo of the west, not for food, for the most of them were left on the plains after being killed.

When the first slow trains were crossing the plains, men would shoot the buffalo from the train windows.

Is there any wonder that the Indians were angered by this waste of their food and went on the warpath?

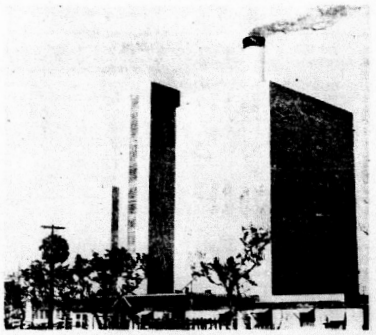
Some of our most interesting animals and birds are extinct because somebody failed to kill "Sic 'em who is without sin cast the first stone."

The butcher bird is a native of Florida and is found all over the state except in the Keys. He selects sheltered bushes and makes a bulky nest of sticks and trash, and rears two or three broods yearly. More form a good part of his diet the year round although crickets, beetles, cutworms and other insects are eaten, and the grasshopper after it is dropped of wings and legs makes a juicy morsel.

The crooked bill of the butcher bird need, but one stroke to kill his prey.

He has a musical song, for which he is not given credit by many, who consider him only as being cruel. But his song entitles him to be called "French mockingbird," as well as loggerhead shrike. Let's consider the bird more and think of him as a friend. For he is one of our most helpful birds, ornithologists agree, and let's forget the little quirk in his brain that makes him "disliked by many."

FPC New Power Plant



The first unit of Florida Power Corporation's new power plant, shown above, is now a part of the 28 county inter-connected system of the utility. With a capacity of 45,000 kilowats, this unit went on the lines May 18th and when the other two units are completed in 1953, the plant will have a capability of 135,000 kilowats, making it the largest power plant in Florida.

By unanimous action of the company's Board of Directors, it is known as The Higgins Plant in honor of A. W. Higgins who was president of the utility for many years and retired last May on his 70th birthday.

President W. C. Gilman told the 92 members of the Pioneers Club, (employees with 25 or more years of service) who were the first to inspect the plant, that the utility now had on order and under construction generating units of 168,000 kw capability which will all be in service by 1953. He pointed out that with this new 45,000 kilowatt unit the utility now had a capability of over 245,000 kilowats.

"We are determined to keep pace with the rapid growth of our state," said Gilman, "and we now have under construction a 45,000 kilowat addition to our Avon Park plant and are building a new plant with a capability of 33,000 kw in North Florida."

The Florida Power Corporation this year will spend more than 20 million dollars for construction and through 1953 will spend more than 62 million dollars for new power plants, transmission lines and facilities necessary to serve the rapid growing area in the 28-county FPC system.

Farm Bureau Convention Set For Orlando

WINTER PARK — The 1951 State Convention of the Florida Farm Bureau will be held in Orlando and Winter Park, November 15 and 16. The announcement of the selection was made today at the organization's state headquarters here.

Each of the 48 county Farm Bureau Organizations will send voting delegates to the convention, as in the past. These representatives chart the course which the state organization must follow during the coming year, officials said.

Convention headquarters will be at the Orange Court Hotel in Orlando. The entertainment part of the two-day meet will be held at the bureau's state headquarters building in Winter Park.

Flyers To Play Pan Am Clippers

The Flyers, Sebring top softball team, sponsored by American Industrial Sales Corporation, meet the Pan Am Clippers, sponsored by Pan American World Airways, Miami, at Fireman's Field in a doubleheader on Saturday night, May 26. The first game will begin at 8 p.m.

Pan American Clippers is undoubtedly the strongest softball team to make an appearance in Sebring. For many years they have won the championship of the Metropolitan League in Miami, and for four consecutive years have been finalists in the State Tournament. The Clippers have a well-rounded pitching staf headed by the veteran Sandy Deas. Deas has long been recognized as king of softball pitchers in the State of Florida. A veteran of many years' experience, he is a great control artist, plus being the possessor of a variety of stuff. The Flyers will send Ray Hobbs, newly signed Jacksonville hurler, against Deas in one of the contests. Hobbs, though small in size, is one of the greatest fireballers in the state today. A native Californian, though young in years, he is a veteran in the game. Softball critics throughout the state are almost unanimous in the opinion that Hobbs possesses a greater variety of stuff than any pitcher in the state.

On Tuesday, May 29, the Flyers will meet the strong Palmetto Merchants at Firemen's Field. This organization was a finalist in the District Tournament last year. Last season this team, in fact, was sponsored by the Zoller Lumber Company of Bradenton. Their pitching staff is topped by veteran Jimmy Rowe, who is ably assisted by Charlie Rinehart. The Palmetto-Flyers conflict will be a doubleheader, beginning at 8 p.m.

CLEANING BILL OVER $48 MILLION

Florida laundries and cleaning and dyeing establishments grossed an estimated $48,826,000 last year, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday.

The business of making Floridians and visitors to the State presentable is an important phase of the State's economy. This week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division placed the number of laundries and cleaning and dyeing plants catering to the public at 978 in 1950. These plants paid $23,839,000 to employees in salaries and wages durmg the year.

NEGRO HELD IN FATAL SEBRING CRASH

A Meridian, Miss., Negro, Robert Chappel, 26, is being held in the Highlands County jail under $1000 bond on a manslaughter charge filed after his truck collided with a car on State Road 25 and killed Frank C. Martin, 42, Coral Gables developer and former Pan-American World Airways pilot.

The crash occurred shortly before 6 o'clock Wednesday morning about 15 miles south of Lake Placid. Chappell said he was attempting to pass another southbound car when his semi-trailer and Martin's northbound car met head-on, and that he didn't see the car in the fog until they crashed.

At the impact the truck burst into flames but neither Chappell or his Negro helper, Howard Owens, also of Meridian, suffered injuries or burns as they leaped from the flaming vehicle.

Martin was killed instantly.

THE PROPER PLACE FOR GAS TAX

A constitutional provision to guarantee that all seven cents of the state gasoline tax goes for road purposes only was introduced in the legislature last week.

Senator Crary of Stuart offered a proposed amendment designed to make it a constitutional requirement that all gasoline tax money collected by the 7c state levy be spent on road building and road improvements and not diverted to other use as is now the case.

Dairy Cattle To Be Tested For Bangs Disease

Since it is advisable to test dairy cattle annually for Bang's disease, the County Agent's office is laying plans for the 1951 county-wide test. The work will be done by a representative of the Bureau of Animal Industry at no cost to the cow owner, his only obligation being that he (or she) agrees to dispose of the animal for slaughter should it be found to be a reaction.

All dairy heifer calves that are being kept for milk production should be vaccinated against Bang's disease as soon as they reach four months of age and before they get to be six months of age. Vaccination at this time makes these animals immune to Bang's infection for life so annual testing is not necessary. Dairy heifer owners should keep the county office advised of dairy heifers they are raising, with date of birth, so vaccinations can be arranged for in this 4 to 6 month of age period.

In order to get dairy cattle tested for Bang's disease this year the County Agents' office should be contacted at once.

LOBBY FOR TEACHERS

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hutchinson of Avon Park, Mrs. Wm. True of Lake Placid and Mrs. J. W. Ingle of Sebring, went to Tallahassee on Wednesday, May 23, as Highlands County representatives to the lobby which favored a $300 high-cost-of-living raise for the public school teachers.

The lobby included representatives from every county in the state, and was the largest in Tallahassee.

Its members attended a state legislative session and sat in on a joint house and senate committee meeting. Many also met many state notables, including the governor.

A bill to raise the salaries of teachers is now being considered by the state legislature, although the sum granted will probably be less than $300.

It is expected that the minstrels will display their talents in other nearby towns.

MISS EDNA PEARCE

Shrine Barbecue Wednesday, June 6

The Winter Haven Shrine Club will hold its monthly meeting at the Demos Mandis stock farm, 4½ miles west of Avon Park, on the Wauchula road, Wednesday, June 6, 1951, at 7:30 p.m.

This is the first meeting of the Winter Haven Shrine Club ever to be held in Avon Park and we urge everyone to come and help make this the best meeting of the year. All Nobles and their wives are invited to attend this meeting, which opens with a bar-be-cue supper. Each Noble is requested to wear his "Fez." Also each Noble has the privilege of inviting a friend to this occasion.

The bar-be-cue supper will be prepared by Noble Demos Mandis, who is also an ambassador from the Egypt Temple Shrine of Tampa, Florida. Noble Mandis is a real "artist" when it comes to preparing "bar-be-cue" and an invitation to a bar-be-cue at the Mandis stock farm is considered something very special by all who have heretofore participated in one of his feeds.

There will be plenty of good eats and you will enjoy the association of the jolliest bunch of fellows you ever met.

If you fail to come to this meeting, you will miss a "golden opportunity" as a "Demos Mandis Bar-be-cue" is a real treat.

There will be a small fee charged per plate to cover cost of the food. Don't forget the date, place and hour!

Sebring Flyers To Play Benefit Game

The rampaging Flyers, sponsored by American Industrial Sales Corporation, made available to the Lions Club their services for a benefit game to be played for the Kelsey Payne fund. The game will be played Saturday night, June 2, against the Orlando All-Stars, who will feature one of the game's real veterans in the person of Ollie Barker, who in years past has proved to be one of the most effective pitchers in softball. The Orlando All-Stars defeated the Flyers in their one previous meeting this season, with a score of 5-3. The Flyers are out to avenge this loss in the doubleheader to be played for the Kelsey Payne fund on Saturday night. The Flyer's playing manager, Harley Dull plans to star Roy Hampton and Ray Hobbs, recently acquired pitching sensations against the Orlando team.

This will be the 8th benefit contest in which the Flyers have engaged this season. Each member of the squad is extremely proud that they have been able to contribute to worthy benefits this season. The popularity of the Flyers in other cities of the state have made them very much in demand for benefit contests. As a result of their splendid performance for the veterans at Bay Pines Hospital, the Sports Director there has notified C. D. Richardson, business manager, that the patients there have adopted this scrappy softball team as their team for this season.

The Kelsey Payne benefit game undoubtedly will be a hard-fought contest due to the tremendous pitching power and hitting ability of the Orlando All-Stars. Game time will be 8 p.m.

Editor's Note: The following story appeared in the Tampa Sunday Tribune. The editor of the Avon Park Sun compliments both Senator Moore and Representative Edna Pearce for the fine work they have done in getting legislation passed that assures Avon Park of a State Hospital.

Rep. Edna Pearce of Highlands County, Florida, deserves a vote of thanks from every citizen of Avon Park for her untiring efforts in behalf of a state hospital for alcoholics in Highlands County. It would be financed by an alcohol tax.

Gallantry may have had some part in her victory, for Miss Pearce, cattle woman from remote Fort Basinger, has many friends on the floor, and her senator, James W. Moore, of Sebring, who already had put the bill through the upper house, was there for the discussion.

She won, too, almost over the dead body of Rep. Fletcher Morgan, of Duval, conscientious chairman of the powerful appropriations committee, who objected strongly to continuing appropriation financing.

Move Started in 1937

Back in 1937, Miss Pearce said in her plea to the house, civic-minded citizens of Avon Park set out to get a state hospital.

They decided first to make it a branch of the state hospital at Chattahoochee, always overcrowded.

Every session they would try, she said, but never were able to get a bill through the house. But in 1945 Rep. Charles E. Lanier, of Highlands, and Sen. Wilbur C. King, of Zolfo Springs, got a bill for a $500,000 appropriation through, providing the local citizens provided a site.

Highlands County spent $10,000 and the City of Avon Park $5000, she said, and they got a beautiful site. There were surveys and plans and everyone thought the hospital was assured.

But at October of that year the board of commissioners of state institutions was offered and accepted Dorr and Carlstrom fields near Arcadia, on which the Federal Government had spent $5,000,000.

The $500,000 never was requested nor released.

Then, said Miss Pearce, Avon Park changed plans and set its sights on a hospital for alcoholics, and in 1949 Rep. (now Senator) Branch, of Hillsborough, got a bill through for an alcoholics hospital.

Beverage Tax Added

To finance it an additional tax of 25 cents a gallon was placed on alcoholic beverages. But the money was taken for other purposes.

A year ago, she said, the board of commissioners of state institutions accepted the Avan Park site, providing the legislature passed the necessary bill.

The bill, introduced first in the senate by Moore, and passed there by him, authorizes the board of commissioners of state institutions to construct, maintain and operate a hospital for alcoholics in Highlands County.

Maintenance costs are to be borne by the state in the same manner as for patients at Chattahoochee, and the project is to be financed by 25 per cent of the additional tax on alcoholic beverages.

But no one during the debate today was able to estimate how much that would be.

When the bill first went across from the senate, Miss Pearce got it on the calendar, rather than having it sent to the appropriations committee, which is supposed to get all measures calling for the expenditure of state money.

But Morgan's eagle eye caught it, and unnoticed by her got it socked in his committee.

Fifteen or 20 minutes later she found out, made an appeal to the house and got a two-thirds vote to get her bills out of committee and on special calendar. That was vital in these hectic last days of the session.

$2.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE — OUTSIDE COUNTY $2.50

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger

Tallahassee—This last week of the 1951 legislative session found house and senate in disagreement over raising taxes to meet higher appropriations. The senate has passed a revision of the 3 per cent sales tax to provide $17,500,000 yearly in fresh money to meet increases for teachers and old folks. The house has okayed increases too, but at the time this is written, had not agreed to any form of new taxes. The economy bloc was riding high in the house. Big question was whether pressure from schools and welfare lobbies would break their resolve to go back home without increasing the tax load.

The Haley committee has reported, but found no positive evidence of corruption. They did report almost unbelievable inefficiency in the state racing commission, based on only a sketchy examination of the members. No evidence of wrong doing was laid to Governor Warren, although they noted he had spent more than the law allows on his election. The committee asked to be continued for two years, with $50,000 for expenses, to continue probing for corruption in high places. As a byproduct of the Haley investigation, the legislature has ordered the racing commission to open its books and confidential files to state and county officials.

Racing has figured only briefly in the legislative news and a threatened blow-up over harness racing didn't develop any steam. Speaker B. Elliott of Palm Beach county was able to blast two harness track bills out of unfriendly committees, first, by appealing to the house membership for a local Palm Beach county bill to let them have harness racing, and second, by stacking the house public amusements committee with six new members, he got the same committee to release a general bill permitting harness racing. It was opposed at every turn by the dog racing interests, who see in night harness tracks with part mutuel wagering a direct threat to their prosperity. The fate of the harness bills in the senate continues doubtful.

This legislature has dutifully voted more money than ever for welfare—old age pensions, aid to dependent children, and aid to the blind. It has, in addition, called on the welfare board to make public the names of those getting these benefits. This publicity shall be withheld, says the bill now approved, only if the federal government threatens to withhold its part of welfare on that account. The federal rules prohibit publicity on the names of those receiving aid. The legislature has decided not to require those getting welfare money to give liens on their property, nor does it appear likely there will be any curb on support for illegitimate children. Still pending is a legislative requirement that old people, before they can get state aid, must first sue their children or other close kin for support. This was approved by the house, is being opposed by a senate bloc headed by Senator Johnnie Wright of De-Funiak Springs.

Hodges T. Landon can be confirmed indefinitely as hotel director if the cabinet should agree with Governor Warren on his appointment. The legislature should agree with Governor Warren on his appointment. The legislature has approved a bill creating the new Florida Hotel and Restaurant Association, through which the director will be appointed by the governor and his cabinet. Under the old law, the hotel commissioner is appointed by the governor, leaves office when the governor does. By another bill, hotels would have their licenses revoked if they lease space for gambling purposes.

Newspapers have come through a baptism of fire with flying colors in this session of the legislature. Senate and house committees have killed or sidetracked bills designed to repeal the "honest mistake" feature of the state libel laws, to require newspapers to give equal space for answers to those criticized, to investigate the Tampa Tribune and the Miami Herald, to prohibit Hadacol advertising, to cut down on legal and political advertising. Still pending is a bill to require all political advertising to be paid for at certain rates, and to substitute profession al process servers for publication in certain forms of public notice. Daily newspapers report their business offices delighted with a bill which prohibits publication of advance matter on races. Savings in setting type will run into thousands of dollars annually.

A medical college for Florida may result from a bill to let the state pay $3,000 per pupil to any such school established by non-state agencies. It was sponsored by Dade county legislators but was amended to carry $100,000 to plan state medical buildings for the University of Florida, and to appropriate $2,500,000 to match any later federal aid for medical schools.

Interesting Figures On Milk Production

Florida's 160,000 producing dairy cows gave 80,433,136 gallons of milk last year, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday.

In recognition of approaching Dairy Month in June, this week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division presents official statistical information on the industry in Florida.

The 1950 milk production in Florida was 2,433,136 gallons above the 1949 production, yet missed meeting the amount consumed in the State by 285,343 gallons. This difference, however, between consumption and production has been lessening in recent years. The 1950 importations of milk into Florida were 45 per cent less than in 1949.

Importations of forty per cent cream into Florida last year reached 1,780,289 gallons, up 9 per cent from 1949. Cottage cheese importations also increased and amounted to 2,550,683 pounds, more by 11 per cent than in 1949. A relatively small amount of cottage cheese is made in Florida each year.

The chief manufactured dairy product made in Florida is ice cream. A total of 11,042,436 gallons of ice cream and similar frozen desserts was made in the 351 plants of this type in the State last year.

Unusual problems characterize the dairy industry in Florida, the result especially, of the need for greater feed crops and of varying seasonal demands. However, through the cooperation of the industry and state and federal agencies significant advancement has been made in recent years.

There was a man who called a spade a spade—until he stumbled over one in the dark.

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

J. R. Young, Chaplain of Walker Memorial Sanitarium and Hospital, and Pastor of Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

Not long ago when the Kefauver Committee was in New York City and its televised revelations of corruptions in public life were enthralling and shocking the nation, a bold-type, full-page advertisement appeared in the Washington Post, asking: "What's happened to our principles of honesty in government? What's happened to our ideals of right and wrong? What's happened to public and private standards of morality?" No answer was given. The reader was left to judge for himself. And with the whole sordid story before him—in his own home, where he could see it with his own eyes and hear it with his own ears, day after day, week after week—what conclusion would he come to, but that our ideals of right and wrong have become confused, our principles of honesty tainted, our standards of morality decayed?

Never before in history has a nation seen so many of its secret sins brought to light in so short a time. First came the sickening reports of bribery revealed by the committee appointed to investigate the Reconstruction Finance Corporation; then the confessions of college students, who, for money, had deliberately lost basketball games they were supposed to try to win; then the dramatic parade of gamblers, racketeers, and unscrupulous politicians before the Kefauver Committee. For months the papers have been full of these tragic revelations of the intermingling of crime and politics, the dishonor in public and private life. No wonder many are asking, "What's happened?" God's holy prophet, Isaiah, describes exactly the situation we are in today: "None calleth for justice, nor any pleadeth for truth: they trust in vanity, and speak lies; they conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity . . . Judgement is turned away backward, and justice standeth afar off: for truth is fallen in the street, and equity cannot enter. Yea, truth faileth." (Isaiah 59:4-15). How perfectly do the words of the prophet fit our time!

Today the supreme need of the nation and of every individual is to get back to God, back to Christ, back to the precepts of heaven. We must start to pray again, revive the old-fashioned family altar. We must read the Bible, and incorporate its teachings in our lives. The God of heaven is calling us to a revival of true godliness. In central Canada there is a river known by the unusual name of Qu'appelle? which in English means, "Who Calls?" Its strange story concerns an Indian brave who in the long ago was ascending the stream in search of his beloved. One evening as he was about to make camp, he heard a voice urgently calling his name. "Who calls?" he cried, but there was no reply. The next day he learned that it was the voice of his loved one who had died as she called to him. Today beside all the rivers of life, another voice is calling. It is the voice of a Lover, seeking His beloved. It is the voice of God yearning for you. "Come now, and let us reason together," He says to us all, "though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow." (Isa. 1:18.) "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy-laden, and I will give you rest." (Mt. 11:28).

Let us listen to this gracious pleading, and with the prophet Hosea respond: "Come, and let us return unto the Lord." (Hosea 6:1).

CAR RAMMED WHILE MAKING TURN

A car accident occurred on highway 17 about 9:00 p.m. Wednesday, May 30, in which four persons sustained cuts and bruises and two cars were badly damaged.

Wilburn Maddox, driving a Willys, was making a left turn just opposite Lake Isis Shores Motor Court when he was struck by the car behind him, a 1946 Pontiac driven by S/Sgt. Paul Soudelier, stationed at Avon Park Air Base. Sgt. Soudelier was charged with following too closely, according to the report given by Deputy Sheriff Bob Barringer.

Lois Gray, Soudelier's companion, Mrs. Wilburn Maddox and her sister, Rachael Chapman, 9, who were in Maddox car, were slightly injured, none requiring hospitalization. They received first-aid at Walker Memorial.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Congress wants to take steps to make the Secretary of State responsible to Congress, and thus to the people.

• • •

The problem is this. In days gone by, the State Department merely functioned to observe international amenities, carry out intent of Congress when relations with another nation became thorny.

• • •

However the United Nations has continued to grow. Actions are now taken by the State Department without consent or knowledge of Congress.

C. W. Harder

• • •

Now even a small one man business can be wiped out by the State Department.

• • •

The carefully worked out system of checks and balances has been destroyed and the Secretary of State dominates not only in foreign matters, but in matters affecting business, taxes, even life or death.

• • •

Many of the confused orders controlling vital materials are State Department blunders.

• • •

It is a situation that was never visualized. Traditionally, the President has been intellectually equal to his State Secretary, as in the Hoover and Roosevelt administrations.

• • •

Current happenings reveal that the reverse is now true. The tail now wags the dog.

• • •

Dean Acheson, a very suave intellectual, has never really been a part of the American grass roots; has no conception of how independent enterprise built America.

• • •

He is also one of the Georgetown clique who sees nothing wrong with a "little socialism", failing to realize that a Communist is nothing more than a Socialist in a hurry.

• • •

Hearings on the rubber mess by Sen. John Sparkman's (D. Ala.) Senate Small Business Committee is outlining the extreme efforts that Acheson has exerted to bolster up the Socialist government of Britain.

• • •

So far, hearings have shown that in 1945 synthetic rubber program was all but sabotaged to protect British rubber monopoly profits.

• • •

Korea boosted natural rubber prices 800%. American taxpayers are paying to save Socialism in Britain at any price, even in American lives and dollars. Disagreement with MacArthur views show same trend.

• • •

MacArthur wants to blockade China. This would cause severe financial loss to British Malay interests who shipped in first nine months of Korea 120,000 tons of rubber to Red China; 40,000 tons to Russia.

• • •

There is also the Acheson record on convicted traitor Alger Hiss; his plan to force the Chinese Nationalists to form a coalition government with Communists.

• • •

Briefly, that is the background for a movement to insure that either the Secretary of State is stripped of many powers, or safeguards set up so that the office will be filled by someone of the American people, by the American people, and for the American people.

• • •

Senate Small Business Committee is also studying the weird newsprint situation. So far one interesting fact is revealed.

• • •

The nation's 8,000 weekly newspapers, backbone of the free, independent American press, only uses 2% of the newsprint supply; the Federal government uses 7%.

'TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

If this column gives the impression that I'm running around in circles and gasping for breath, you can blame it on Leesburg, the Watermelon Festival and George Rast.

When Leesburg lets its hair down and starts to kick up its heels, boy, I'm tellin' you it's a sure enough party. They crowd more thrills, excitement and entertainment into one day than most towns do in a week of festivities.

The 1951 Florida Watermelon Festival topped 'em all; starting off with a bang-up parade there wasn't a dull moment for the rest of the day and night. It would take a two-headed guy with six eyes to even see half the show.

It may have been Armed Forces Day in other places, but in Leesburg, last Wednesday, was Marine Corps Day for they brought the crack Second Marine Air Wing Band from Cherry Point, N. C., to head the parade. When that outfit comes steppin' along, high wide and handsome, it just naturally does something to you. When it comes to makin' sure enough music they got both Harry and Margaret lookin' like a total loss.

Events of the day included a watermelon eating contest in which youngsters vied with each other to see who could eat the most melon in 2 minutes; a fashion show in which Doc Webb's famed Poster Girls appeared as models; a bathing beauty contest; a water ski show; motor boat races; a baseball game and the State University Circus.

Flanked with a Marine Corps Guard, the Fight Cancer barrel, which, during the next 12 months will be publicly presented at fairs, festivals, parades and events, made its initial appearance. Bright eyed youngsters with nets, gathered cash from the thousands that thronged the streets tossing the money in the barrel and these funds will eventually find their way to the Damon Runyon Fund for Cancer Research.

Outstanding event was the "Queen of Queens Contest" to select the girl who will carry the coveted title of "Miss Watermelon Festival for 1951." Entrants this year were limited to girls who had previously won a queen title.

I've seen a lot of beauty contests but don't believe I've ever seen so many beautiful and charming girls assembled for one event. Fortunately, it did not fall my lot to be among the judges this year and I was mighty glad of that, for the judges certainly had a tough job and I didn't envy them a bit.

One of the officials took me behind the scenes to meet contestants before the show. Talk about being knee-deep in gulebritude! Boy, I was up to my ears in it. Why is it that things like that never happen to a guy until he's so old it doesn't matter any more?

One thing I always enjoy about events of this kind is meeting so many old friends, and it seemed like just about everybody was there, Bob Eastman and Bill Carter of Cypress Gardens, Peter Schaal of Silver Springs, Doris Daniel of St. Petersburg, Ruth Zimmer of Rainbow Springs, Karl Lehmann of Taveres, Congressman Syd Herlong, Henry Balch of Howey-in-the-Hills, Martin Antersen of the Orleando Sentinel, Bill Wells and Caroline Russ of the Sarasota County Chamber of Commerce and a host of others.

It is easy to see why Leesburg is an up-and-coming, enterprising community when you note how just about everybody joins in and helps to put over the job. It would not have been possible to have staged such a splendid show had it not been for the untiring work of the able chairman, George Rast, of the First National Bank, backed up by cooperative and able citizens. They didn't just sit back and "let George do it"—they participated with just about every group or organization in town taking part, including civic clubs, women's organizations, boy and girl scouts, merchants and others.

Another fact that impressed me was that this event was successfully staged without any outside carnival or concessionaires. Leesburg's guests were royally entertained and the only thing sold on the grounds was food and soft drinks, and the nickel you spent for a bottle of Coca-Cola went to a local charitable organization. Too many communities turn such events over to a carnival outfit that shakes down the public for all they can get and then leave town with the bulk of the dough.

Hugh Taylor Birch State Park, at Fort Lauderdale, is ideal for year-'round group camping.

Flood Control Survey Nears Completion

(The following story about the flood-control survey being made by Michael Baker, Jr. Inc., written by Jeanne Bellamy, staff writer, was clipped from the Miami Herald of May 29, 1951. The engineering firm has been operating from an office located in Avon Park, under the direction of Minor E. Dean).

Dizzying is the word for a pair of eye glasses used on a $328,000 job here. The right lens of these specs is green. The left lens is red.

They make the world look as topsy-turvy as it sometimes seems, but they're as important as a welder's goggles to the men who use them.

These men are experts running an educated gadget called a stereo-plotter. It's one of the instruments being used to finish the first topographic map of the Kissimmee valley.

The map will contain 67 sheets about 20 by 22½ inches—enough to cover the floor of a good-sized office. It will show every lake, stream, swamp, road, forest, pasture, grove and farm in 4,350 square miles of Florida.

The map will show exactly how high above the sea is every foot of this region. That's why Uncle Sam hired map-making specialists, the engineering firm of Michael Baker, Jr., Inc., of Jackson, Miss., to do the job.

It will show army engineers how to plan the Kissimee valley's part of the $208,000,000 flood control project.

The mapping job began Feb. 1, 1950. A two-engined airplane carrying a $16,000 precision camera flew north and south taking 26 lines. From a height of 20,000 feet the camera took pictures on negatives covering about one township each.

Seventy-five men in survey parties walked a total of 27,000 miles in the valley. That's a heap of walking through country full of brush taller than a man and palmettoes nearly as tall.

The surveyors drove 12,750 stakes. They lettered and numbered these stakes to show the height above the sea at each.

Then a specially equipped jeep went out. It carried a tall, tall platform who could see surveyors as much as a mile off. He marked on photographs the spots to show draftsmen indicating where to put the contour lines showing height of the land surface.

This is where the red-and green eye glasses come in. The stereo-plotter uses red and green light to create an illusion of depth in photographs.

This complicated machine uses photographs printed on glass. It has more handles than an octopus. By using them, the operator can correct any tilt in the pictures—that is, make them show up as they would if taken from a perfectly level position 20,000 feet in the air.

The stereo-plotter also draws contour lines on giant sheets of paper. Another machine reduces these 100 times so they can be traced on the mosaic of aerial photographs which forms the final map.

Minor E. Dean, project engineer, expects to deliver the finished product by July 1.

THE COACH-WHIP SNAKE

Contributed by Ross Allen's Reptile Institute, Silver Springs, Florida

A common snake of the Southeast is the Coachwhip. It is black on the head and neck, tan elsewhere. It reaches a length of nearly 8 feet. Its slender build, color, and large overlapping scales cause it to resemble a braided whip; this occasions the common name. Some people believe that a Coachwhip will actually whip a person, but this is completely false; it is entirely harmless to man. It feeds mainly upon mice and rats, but sometimes also eats lizards, other snakes, small birds, or eggs. It is one of the fastest reptiles, and has been clocked at 18 miles per hour.

TARPON TIPS. Mary Marshall is getting the dope on the 21st annual International Tarpon Tournament at Sarasota, Fla., straight from the fish's mouth. The fishing contest gets underway on May 15 and lasts through July. Daily and weekly prizes will be awarded, with a new car as the final grand prize.

Answer to Question No. 1:

1. The appendicitis death rate has been dropping at an astonishing rate. Metropolitan Life Insurance figures show that whereas 10.2 persons per 100,000 died of appendicitis in 1939, the rate was 2.2 in 1949. New drugs to control infection and improved surgical techniques are largely responsible but early recognition and early operation are important.

Answer to Question No. 2:

2. Athletes' hearts beat slower than the average person's under comparable conditions because the heart of an athlete has been developed by exercise to do more work per beat.

Answer to Question No. 3:

3. The National Tuberculosis Association estimates that there are 250,000 undiscovered cases of tuberculosis in this country. Every person in every community should have a chest X-ray picture. This is nearly 100 per cent reliable. In almost every community this can be done without charge. The tuberculosis death rate has been reduced 80 per cent in 40 years.

The Magnolias

By C. S. Donaldson

Much discussion has been going on about selecting a State tree, with most folks advocating the Palmetto. They forget that South Carolina has for generations been the Palmetto State. The Orange tree would best symbolize the southern half of Florida, but for unity we should not neglect Northern Florida. Were it not that Louisiana had preempted the Magnolia tree for its State name, it would have been the best. These trees grow from Cape Sable to the Georgia line, and beyond to Washington, D. C., for that matter, though to get mine established in the Washington suburbs I had to put many wrappings around them for the winter until they got well established.

Of course I refer especially to the Magnolia Grandiflora, which should not be given the undignified local term of Bull Bay, nor should we follow the prominent botanist who tried to change its botanic name to Magnolia Fuerta, for practically everyone regards highly the perfume of its big white blossoms. Quite a few of these trees are grown in every Florida town, presenting a beautiful effect. We would do well to plant many more, particularly along the sidewalks, the fact that they are slow growing is all to the good because they will not be bothered by the telephone and electric light folks. Many Florida nurserymen offer them for sale at $1.00.

Then our smaller Magnolia Glauca by the thousands beautify Florida's bayheads and swamps, each spring making a shower of white fragrant blossoms. It is evergreen too, while on north into Maryland it sheds its foliage each fall. The leaves are silvery underneath which distinguishes it from the similar leaves of the Red Bay, which belongs to the Camellia family.

Ranging over the Blue Ridge and Allegheny mountains I greatly admired the big Cucumber trees (Magnolia Acuminata and M. Fraserii) both deciduous, with their immense whitish blooms. Here in Florida I talked often with the late W. G. Overton, who was for many years land agent of the A.C.L. and who was deeply interested in forest trees. He said that all the small boats that were built in the early days to ply the rivers from the mountains to the sea were Cucumber boats, that is made of the Cucumber Magnolias. Another huge Magnolia that I could hardly distinguish from them was the Big-leaved Magnolia, the Macrophylla. You will find all these in the Mall at Washington, well marked. The last named also grows wild down into West Florida.

Botanists also list other Magnolias growing wild in West Florida, namely the Pyramidata, also called a Cucumber tree, which is small, with big leaves, the Magnolia Tripetala, or Umbrella tree, small, but with big leaves, and the Magnolia Asheii, often shrubby. The last is named in honor of the late W. W. Ashe, with whom I spent many pleasant hours peering through fields and woods. The Hickory trees in Highlands Hammock are also named for him, Hicoria Asheii.

Another skilled botanist, W. C. Coker, director of the North Carolina Arboretum, also visits us. His book on Trees of the Southeastern States is fine and written in plain language. He tells of the Tulip tree, Liriodendron Tulipifera, also of the Magnolia family, which grows wild into mid-Florida, and which bears big yellow flower cups:

"One of the best known is the George Washington Tulip tree at Falls Church, Virginia. Washington had his horse tied to a ring in this tree when he worshipped there."

It was a pleasant drive out from Washington to this church and I saw this 300-year-old tree.

In his very technical book, J. K. Small lists still more Florida members of the Magnolia family. One is the Purple-anise, Illicium Floridanum, which I once had in the Avon Park Mall, a pretty shrub, and its twin Illicium Parviflorum, both swamp residents; also the Wild Sarsaparilla, Schizandra Coccinea, often called Bay Star vine, very woody.

The Chinese and Japanese Magnolias, all deciduous, bear gorgeous flowers in many rich colors. The first were planted on White House lawns a century ago and are now popular throughout our Northern States. North Florida nurserymen offer some of them at $2.00 each and up, but they would not do well in South Florida.

By all means plant some Magnolia Grandiflora trees, either for yourself or the next generation.

LOCAL GOLFERS INVITED TO VERO BEACH

Local golfers will have an opportunity to try out a top rated course and enjoy a special day of entertainment on June 10 when the Royal Park Club at Vero Beach is putting on an open house and field day, according to announcement received from Dan K. Richardson, president of the club. Invitation is being extended to players in cities along the East Coast and in Central Florida to make a week-end visit to the conveniently located coastal city and participate in the events of the special day.

The feature will be a Scotch foursome tournament starting at noon. No greens fee charge will be made but a small entry fee will cover tournament competition for which there will be attractive prizes. A buffet supper will follow at 6:30 p.m. with an evening of social fellowship for those who can remain over night.

Richardson claims that the Royal Park course offers eighteen holes of most interesting play, with fairways and greens in tip-top condition. He states that the Chamber of Commerce is cooperating with the club and is in position to give information about low cost accommodations available during the summer months.

LAUGHTER

Most people can laugh off anything but weight. "Laugh and grow fat," states the time-worn adage. One never grows thin from laughing. It is, therefore, only reasonable to believe that a good laugh must have some tonic effect.

Well, it does. A laugh is the releasing of pent-up emotions which have been built up as a result of the stimulation of the sensory nerves from the eye and the ear to the brain. This release gives the tonic effect to the whole nervous system. During the time that these emotions are being built up as a result of what has been said or seen, or both, the mind is receiving pleasant pictures or sounds which are stamped indelibly on the brain. These remain as pleasant memories; hence both the mind and body are at ease after a good laugh.

Under these conditions, digestion goes on at a normal rate. The nervous reserve is built up through untroubled sleep; consequently, there can be no nervous breakdown. One who can laugh frequently develops certain face lines which are pleasant to all who see them. They are in striking contrast to the wrinkled brow. They encourage the confidence and trust your friends have in you, but best of all, there comes to be a humorous side to the worst situations. You actually see the world much differently from your neighbor who sees the world through the dark glasses of despair.

So, if you will laugh frequently, you will find that your relationships with your fellow men will enhance in value, both socially and commercially, for it at once establishes you as a social asset rather than a liability. "Laugh and the world laughs with you, grouch and you grouch alone."

Closing Exercises At Kindergarten

An audience of parents and friends attended the closing exercises of the Kay Whitcomb kindergarten school held in the church house of the Union Congregational Church, on Monday evening of this week.

The children, most of whom are "graduating" into the first grade of public school, were formally attired for the occasion, the little girls wearing dainty ankle-length dresses in white or pastel shades, while the young gentlemen wore long white trousers with darker jackets.

The rooms were decorated in purple and gold, with multi-colored clusters of balloons.

The program took the form of a television show, with an announcer seated before a microphone. There were several play songs and a rhythm band by the whole school. The boys, in large straw hats, sang and acted a fetching version of the "Farmers Song." The girls sang a sweet lullaby to their dolls. The whole group also demonstrated how they sometimes danced to music during regular school session, each child making up the steps he thought suited to the music. Each child also sang a solo. All did very well and all were very appealing.

The children presented Mrs. Whitcomb with a small silver dish.

Jones-Martin Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Jones, of Avon Park, announce the marriage of their daughter, Annie Ruth, to Pvt. Charles Aubrey Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Martin, of Slocomb, Ga.

The wedding took place in Soperton, Ga., Feb. 4.

The bride attended school at Lyons, Ga.

The groom is a graduate of the Slocomb high school. Before going into service, he was employed by a furniture company in Avon Park, and was also a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce here. He is now stationed at Camp Stewart, Ga., and has completed a school in personal administration at Ft. Jackson, S. C.

PICNIC AT TAMPA

Several women of the First Baptist Church, members of Mrs. Paul McFarland's Sunday school class, motored to Tampa on Wednesday of last week. They visited Mrs. Frank Waddell in her new home on So. Harold Ave.

Later, they had a basket lunch at Balle's Point, after which they went shopping. They were joined at lunch by Mrs. Ivor Farnell of Tampa.

Mrs. Theo Weisheyer and Mrs. Cora Wray were guests of honor. Others attending were: Mrs. Harmon Atkins and baby Sharmon, Mrs. Kelley McClure and baby daughter, Melanie, Mrs. Ray Bechtell and daughter, Martha Carol, Mrs. Bill Strength and son, Ray, Mrs. Dan Antley and son, Don, and Mrs. Paul McFarland.

LADIES AID

The Ladies Aid of the Union Congregational Church will meet in the home of its president, Mrs. Samuel Norris, on Wednesday, June 6, at 11 a.m. It will be noted that this date is one week earlier than the usual monthly meeting date.

There will be the usual covered dish luncheon, with each member attending bringing a covered dish, her own sandwich and table service.

MRS. MARY HUSCROFT

Mrs. Mary Huscroft died Sunday, May 27, at her residence in Frostproof.

She was 79 years old, having been born Dec. 10, 1872, in Cedar Forks, Utah.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Ethel Kellogg, Tampa, and Mrs. Mabel Wainright, Frostproof; 9 grandchildren, and 9 great grandchildren.

Graveside services were held Monday, May 28, at 2:00 p.m., with the Rev. Fountain, of Frostproof, officiating. Stephenson Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were: A. B. Ellis, Ralph Blount, Chesley Smith, Horace Spurlock, Mercer Spurlock, and Dannie Hall.

Indians Hold Big Birthday Pow-Wow

Wild Indians assembled Wednesday, May 23, at four o'clock to celebrate Mark Butler's sixth birthday with a "heap big pow-wow." Braves and maidens wore feathered war bonnets and carried tomahawks, bows and arrows. One maiden carried a papoose strapped to her back. A few cowboys and cowgirls arrived giving a real frontier atmosphere to the celebration.

Indian games were played, races and games of skill, and colored movies were taken of most of the events.

Supper was served at 6:00, the braves and maidens browning their hot dogs over the glowing embers of the camp fire. The Indian banquet ended with the cutting and serving of the birthday cakes and the presentation of favors and prizes.

Guests at the party were Ruth Border, Donnie Collyer, Nancy Coleman, Joe Hevia, Jonelle Hicks, Anne Johnson, Kathy and Nancy Kluberg, Judy Martin, Linda McCreary, Linda Shepherd, Pat Touchton and Frank Butler.

Mrs. J. A. Mottlau assisted the host and hostess at the party.

QUIET MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial Day, on Wednesday, May 30, passed quietly in Avon Park without any public parades or speeches. The American Legion Post did mark the day by holding a fish-fry for its membership on Wednesday evening. Perhaps, with a war in progress, with very recent memories of lost soldiers being added to the old, the people are more in the mood to observe Memorial Day quietly, in the privacy of their own hearts and minds.

However, a number of American flags were prominently displayed along Main Street.

RHEUMATIC FEVER

Like a thief in the night, silent, sinister, the infection known as rheumatic fever may steal into you home.

A perfectly healthy child may develop a sore throat, recover, and apparently go about his business as if nothing had happened. Then, a few days or weeks later, mysterious things begin to happen. There may be unexplained pains. Maybe it isn't always rheumatic fever, but it's safer to see to your child's case, that perhaps there begins a twitching, an awkwardness, and the youngster is punished for being awkward and breaking dishes, or spilling things at the table. Before you make up your mind that Junior is just at "that age," or that the horrible faces he makes at the teacher are pure cussedness, better be sure . . . that it isn't St. Vitus dance, a close relative of rheumatic fever, when the disease affects the nervous system. Or the youngster may be tired all the time, flushed with sight fever. The doctor may find strange and unusual sounds in his heart.

If you have a child with rheumatic fever you may have to uproot your life and find a living and a home in a warm climate, because the cold damp winters of "temperate" climates are definitely bad for these patients.

Children with rheumatic fever must be protected against heart injury through exertion. Sometimes they have a long siege in bed to start with, and many restrictions on work and play may have to be permanent.

Patients often escape heart damage in the first attack, if it is promptly recognized and treated. The problem is to avoid recurrences. Be alert, keep in close touch with your doctor, and guard your child against rheumatic fever.

RESTAURANTS WARNED

Sam F. Davis, district director, Office of Price Stabilization for South Florida, warns all bars, restaurants, and eating establishments which serve food or beverages to be consumed on the premises that their filing date was April 30.

No extension has been granted, and all in the above classification who have failed to comply with this regulation are being checked in the South Florida District.

The report is to be filed with the South Florida office, which is located in the Roper building, 20 E. Third Ave., Miami.

There is a typical northern maple-beech forest at Florida Caverns State Park, near Marianna.

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:
1. The causes of rheumatic fever are now so effectively treated by new drugs that the rheumatic fever death rate is only one-fifth what it was in 1920. Most of the improvement has been accomplished in the past ten years. But take no chances. It's still very dangerous, even because of its serious effect on the heart.

Answer to Question No. 2:
2. Furnishings, from bib to crib, cost about $300 on a national average and medical care and hospitalization come to about $255, a minimum which varies with local factors. Prepayment insurance like Blue Cross and Blue Shield can reduce the medical cost—at the beginning and throughout the child's life.

Answer to Question No. 3:
3. Cytology—the study of living cells—permits early detection of uterine cancer, of which 20,000 women in the United States and Canada die each year. Early detection is the only good bet in the cure of cancer.

Says Integrity Attacked

Morgan struck back, charging that the integrity of his committee had been attacked. He called it "a slap in the face of the committee."

Edna Pearce sat tight.

Today Morgan was on the floor immediately with an amendment to "strike the enacting clause," which would behead the bill.

He said the legislature had been working six years to get rid of continuing appropriations, and this would be a new continuing appropriation about which the legislature could say not a word.

Rep. Ayres, of Marion, helped Morgan.

"Wouldn't this be a blank [illegible]," asked.

"That's right," said Morgan.

Others spoke, for and against the bill, until Morgan's motion was killed, 37 to 30.

Rep. Bryant, of Marion, put in an amendment to make the appropriation run only to the 1953 session. Miss Pearce immediately accepted it. The bill then was passed, 49 to 23.

Reps. Moody and Johnson, of Hillsborough, voted yes; Pittman was out of the chamber.

It will have to go back to the senate for concurrence with the Bryant amendment.

NEW BEEF CEILINGS MUST BE DISPLAYED

Retail ceiling prices of beef must be posted in all non-kosher establishments by Monday, June 4, Sam F. Davis, district director, of the Office of Price Stabilization in Miami, said today.

Office of Price Stabilization regulations also require that retailers display their selling prices for each grade and cut of beef on or near the products. Consumers may check the selling, or offering prices against the posted ceiling prices.

In citing the deadline for posting ceiling prices, OPS district director Davis pointed out that the ceiling prices shown in ceiling price regulation 25 were changed in several instances by amendment one, so retailers should be careful to post only the latest price ceiling lists and only the list applicable to their particular store group and zone. Maximum prices vary slightly by class of the store and its freight zone.

Retail ceiling prices on beef now in effect will be reduced on August 1 and again on October 1 to bring prices back more in line with pre-Korean levels.

FARMER'S MARKET AT PLANT CITY

So tremendous was the volume of fresh vegetables placed on the Plant City State Farmer's Market for auction last week that two auctioneers were required to move it.

Eighteen varieties of vegetables were offered and sales totaled $278,506.15. Better than a vehicle a minute passed through the auction block and the sale continued from early in the morning until late evening. Sometimes farmer's trucks were lined up for several blocks awaiting their turn under the big auction shed.

Crowder peas led in volume with 39,139 bushels, followed by 29,643 hampers of peppers; 1,904 hampers of okra were sold at from $8 to $13.75.
