This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Tallahassee — The race for Democratic nomination as governor has entered the name-calling stage this week. Alto Adams has charged that a coalition of Jacksonville lawyers and businessmen are backing Dan McCarty, along with the road builders. Dan McCarty has countered by naming financial interests which he says are behind Adams. Brailley Odham, the candidate who has made the radio talkathon a new vehicle for getting votes, is aiming his hard sharp blasts at both leaders. Bill Hendrix has withdrawn from the race and resumed his leadership.

ship of a remnant of the Ku Klux Klan. Dale Spencer, the fifth Democrat whose name will be on the ballot in May has made scarcely a ripple in the stream of public opinion.

Tallahassee — Road and bridge projects in 15 Florida counties will be started soon after April 17, when bids for the work will be received here. Chairman Alfred McKethan of the state road department said most of this proposed work consists of paving and resurfacing.

Tallahassee — Oil operations in Northwest Florida have taken on new life as Humble Oil Company began a second well near its producer on the Alabama line, and other drilling was predicted for Escambia and Franklin counties.

Tallahassee — The little West Florida town of Sopchoppy again is in the news, as one of its former residents, B. K. Roberts, seeks a full term on the supreme court of Florida. Sopchoppy won early fame during the Tilden-Hayes presidential battle of the last century, when the votes from Sopchoppy, last in the nation to be received, swung the delicately balanced scales in favor of the winner. For many years "the returns from Sopchoppy" had a place in the political lore of the state. Justice Roberts is the outstanding member of a large family which still lives in and around that part of Wakulla county, just south of here. He was appointed to a vacancy on the court and in 1950 was unopposed for election to the remainder of that term. He first won public notice when at the age of 14 he became the youngest certified teacher in the state. His path to the court has been along a self-earned course that led him through the University of Florida, into the United States navy and finally a successful law practice.

Tallahassee — Construction of a state hospital for chronic alcoholics will be started on Highlands county land near Avon Park. The hospital will be financed from a 1951 appropriation, and will be situated on land provided for a mental hospital which was never built. The 1951 legislature approved the alcoholics hospital as an alternative. The state cabinet this week began releasing funds for the building, which may cost $1,000,000.

Churches of Christ, Scientist

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject for services in all Christian Science churches next Sunday. The power of Mind, God, to dissolve human belief in all disorders and bring healing will be stressed.

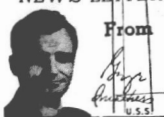

A verse from Romans (8:2) provides the Golden Text: "The law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death."

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "The cause of all so-called disease is mental, a mortal fear, a mistaken belief or conviction of the necessity and power of ill-health; also a fear that Mind is helpless to defend the life of man and incompetent to control it" (p. 377).

Included in Bible passages as the following from Psalm 103 (2, 3): "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: Who forgiveth all thine iniquities, who healeth all thy diseases."

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Written Exclusively for Florida's Weekly Press

Washington — The subject is not exciting, in the ordinary news sense, but one of the most vital issues before the Congress since I have been in Washington is the Tidelands question.

A real fight has been going on for sometime over the effort of the federal government to take control of the underwater land off our shores and within the three-mile limit. This bareheaded interest stems from the discovery of oil along the shallow water shelf extending into the Gulf of Mexico. Our concern is soundly based. Florida has the longest coastline of any state in the union, and we have a tremendous stake which all our people have been trying to protect. Senator Holland and I have been engaged vigorously in this case on the Senate floor.

Here are some excerpts of the debate by Senator Long and me which brought out some of our strong points.

Mr. Long. Does not the Senator think that those who tell us we need not worry about all these properties and nationalizing various other things are, in many respects, the same gentlemen who approve the Government's taking over the practice of medicine, the Government's extended powers into the field of public power, the regulation of the production of fuels and various other things, and extending its power into the field of agriculture, and in the estimation of some of us, practically socializing agriculture? They say, "Do not let us worry about it; that is not our intention." But there are those who believe that the Government is doing just that in many fields.

Mr. Smathers. I agree with the Senator from Louisiana. I cannot understand how any person who believes in article 16 of the Bill of Rights, who believes the teachings of Jefferson, Madison and other great founders of our Government can vote for this resolution.

Effort seems to have been made to confuse the issue by making it appear that the Holland substitute would surrender the Federal Government's paramount rights of navigation and defense. Nothing could be further from the facts. Ownership of the oil has nothing whatever to do with rights of navigation and defense.

The senior Senator from Illinois would like for us to declare title to the subsoil in Lower Mississippi. Does he contend that the Government would lose its rights of navigation and defense?

Mr. Smathers. Did the Senator say "interim" or "enter in"? It appears to me to be an "enter in" proposal.

Mr. Long. The Senator is correct. If the resolution passes in its present form it would simply mean that the Federal Government would take over the lands of States within the 3 mile limit. It has been stated that it is a compromise, but there is no compromise involved.

Mr. Smathers. It is a compromise such as the judge in New York will make with Willie Sutton, giving him either 30 years in prison or 75 years in prison.

USING NOSE DROPS

The habitual use of nose drops may do more harm than good. After a year or two of their use, an annoying degree of dryness may be not only expected, but a partial or even total loss of the sense of smell may occur. Other harmful reactions also are possible.

A stuffiness in the head may not be a common cold. All about any disturbance in the nose, and many in the throat and elsewhere, may cause stuffiness. Such stuffiness may run the full scale from emotional to nose growths, yet in the early stages all may have the one common symptom of nasal stuffiness. It should be obvious, then, that drops in the nose could not possibly be the answer to all these varied conditions.

Nose drops contain a substance that contracts the blood vessels and consequently shrinks the membranes. This decreases the swelling within the nose and proportionately increases the air passage. When the effect of the shrinking drug wears off, a temporary degree of swelling takes place and this in turn causes a degree of blocking that for a time is greater than existed before. This stuffiness causes the patient to turn to the nose drop bottle and continue the habit forming cycle.

This is not to say that nose drops do not have their place in the proper treatment of certain conditions. They do, and this place is distinct and very valuable. However, the physician should prescribe them in order for the desired results to be obtained.

After an illness during which nose drops have been used as part of prescribed treatment, expect a little stuffiness to remain. Let it disappear on its own accord so that dependence upon drops will not be built up. If there is too much stuffiness, ask the physician what to do. For your own well-being, don't begin the indiscriminate use of nose drops.

$16,000,000 Is Goal In Cancer Crusade

The month of April has been named Cancer Control Month by Presidential Proclamation and Act of Congress. During April the American Cancer Society conducts its Crusade which this year has a goal of $16,000,000.

The Society is the only voluntary, national agency in cancer control with three vast programs: research, education and services to patients. Its purpose is to save millions of the 22,000,000 Americans now alive who will die of cancer if present death rates continue.

Since the research program began in 1945, the ACS has awarded more than $20,000,000 to scientists and institutions conducting the world's most exciting medical investigations. All the modern means of communication are used to teach the public that cancer is curable when detected early.

A professional education program keeps doctors up-to-date on newest detection and treatment techniques so they are equipped to give the best service to an alerted public. Volunteers perform a hundred humanitarian services to aid and comfort those with cancer.

The Cancer Crusade raises the funds needed to keep these programs rolling. Remember! Cancer strikes one in five. Strike back. Give to conquer cancer.

VETERANS INFORMATION

"Wheel Chair" Homes - Did you know that seriously disabled veterans of World War II or veterans of Korean Service who served after June 27, 1950, may be entitled to grant from VA for a "wheel chair" home, especially adapted to their needs?

These veterans must be entitled to compensation for permanent and total service-connected disability for the loss, or loss of use, of both legs due to certain specified conditions.

The provisions of the law have been liberalized to include disabled veterans for loss, or loss of use, by reason of amputation, ankylosis, progressive muscular dystrophies, or paralysis of both lower extremities, such as to prevent him from moving about without the aid of braces, crutches, canes or a wheel chair.

Eligible veterans will receive a Federal grant of not more than 50 percent of the cost of the home or a maximum of $10,000 with which to buy or build a new home, or to remodel an existing home for their requirements.

The grant also may be used to pay off the indebtedness on such a special home already acquired by an eligible veteran.

Also eligible under this law are veterans of war or peacetime service in the Armed Forces since April 21, 1898, who have a permanent total service-connected disability due to a spinal cord disease or injury resulting in paralysis of the legs and the lower part of the body.

MRS. MAYNARD J. PETERSON

Miss Sheffield
Is Bride Of
Maynard J. Peterson

Monday afternoon at 6:30 o'clock Miss Patricia Claire Sheffield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sheffield of this city, became the bride of Pfc. Maynard John Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Peterson of Castle Rock, Minn.

Before the altar of the First Methodist Church, decorated with palms, white gladioli, and lilies, against a background of soft candlelight, the Rev. H. E. Garrett performed the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Edna Jackson, organist, presented a program of spiritual music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white tulle and silk gown with a white tulle and silk train, and a white veil.

Miss Gloria Sheffield, sister of the bride, on maid of honor, wore a white tulle and silk gown with a white tulle and silk train, and a white veil.

Mrs. Sheffield, mother of the bride, wore a spring outfit of sheer navy blue.

Pfc. Ronald Budd, of Grand Meadows, Minn., served the groom as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in Wesley Hall. The bride's table was overlaid with a cream lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of white flowers and ferns. At either end was the punch bowl and the three-tiered wedding cake, which was cut and served.

Miss Arlene Sargent and Miss Jane Maxwell presided at the punch bowl. Others assisting in various capacities were Misses T. O. Martin, R. A. Gerrard, Fred Garrett, C. E. Lander, T. R. Palmer, Miss Jim Baylor and Miss Beverly Williams.

Pfc. Peterson received his education at the schools of Northfield, Minn., and has been stationed at various places with the Air Force. He is at the present time in the process of being transferred to a base in Alaska.

After a short wedding trip in Florida, Mrs. Peterson will continue her work in the high school here until after her graduation in June, at which time she expects to join her husband.

SOME THINGS JUST DON'T MAKE SENSE

Winter Park (Special)—Florida farmers, through the Farm Bureau, are protesting Florida's April potato price ceiling of $4.35 per hundred pounds. The movement was prompted by OPS action in raising prices on Texas potatoes to $5.00 as a disaster relief measure.

"How Texas will be able to sell five dollar potatoes in competition with Florida growers operating under a ceiling of $4.35 is not explained by the OPS," declared E. W. Lins, Ft. Pierce, Florida Farm Bureau state director. "The absurdity of the situation is that Texas growers will not be permitted to benefit by the higher ceiling in competitive markets, of which there are many, unless the Florida ceiling is raised," he continued.

"Florida farmers continue to insist that Congress kill price ceilings on fresh fruits and vegetables when the present law expires June 30th," Mr. Lins concluded.
