THE TOWHEE

By The Bird Woman

The towhee, sometimes called the ground robin, is smaller than Robin Redbreast and a little more slender.

Distinct species are found throughout the United States and even in Canada. Florida has its native towhee which has a white ring around the eye. The next time you see one notice the eye carefully.

The red-eyed towhee comes down from the northeastern states and even Canada in winter, but they are so nearly identical with our native bird that you will have to look closely to see the difference in the eyes.

The towhee is easily recognized by its black hood and black back and rusty sides underneath, separated by a stripe of white. The female has a brownish color where the male is black, and their ample tails have white spots.

They seem to like to locate around a yard or garden. Their food being principally insects, you may find them scratching under your shrubs and trees like a chicken. If you watch them closely you will see that they kick up leaves with both feet at once and do not even lose their balance.

If you think that isn't a neat trick, try it some time and see if you keep your balance.

The towhee will scold at the bottom of a pine tree or shrub where dry leaves cover it. Rarely is a nest found in a tree. Four or five eggs are laid and they hatch in less than two weeks, and from 10 to 12 days the young are fed in the nest on beetles, moths, hairy caterpillars, and grasshoppers, and even wasps — think of a parent pushing a wasp down the throat of her baby! The young soon scamper about among the dry leaves before they can fly. As most young birds whose parents nest on the ground, the towhee's nest makes them hard to see.

While some birds feed from the tops of the trees, the towhee gets rid of millions of insects from around the roots of our plants and the insects that think they are secure under the fallen leaves. Naturally they are a wonderful help to us.

We have several pairs of towhees about our garden and although they prefer insects they do not scorn the "feeder" with its cracked seeds. But they prefer to scratch the seeds from the ground where other birds have thrown them.

A great many people have remarked lately about the scarcity of birds at this time of year. I have a theory but it has not been substantiated.

So many of our plants and shrubs are dormant, and the cold weather does not call forth the sleeping insects and hatch the eggs that are waiting for warm weather to hatch them. Our weather has so arranged it that the insects and new growth appear simultaneously. So in the meantime someone, evidently has told the birds that there were lush gardens with their accompanying insects around the Lake Okechobee region, also that nearby strawberries had been plentiful. So without as much as saying "by your leave" they have taken up their bed and board in localities where food was abundant.

With the warm weather, new growth, and insects, we will see our usual amount of birds and enjoy their songs or calls as usual. Speaking of calls, did you ever notice the towhee's call? It sounds like someone whistling for a dog.

We have several that will answer our whistle. Sometimes when we give the whistle, towhees will answer from two or three different directions. How they can make a whistling noise, we can't imagine but our whistle usually tires before they does.

THE CRESTED FLYCATCHER (Family Tyrannidae)

By The Bird Woman

The flycatcher is often associated with the kingbird to which it is closely related, although they do not resemble each other in color.

But they both belong to the large family of flycatchers which are abundant in the tropics, but only about 30 species reach the United States; some of the most familiar to us are the phoebe, peewee, and various species of king-birds.

In winter most of the crested flycatchers migrate to Central America, Colombia, and Mexico, although some remain all winter.
They usually migrate both ways at the same time the kingbirds migrate.

In some localities the kingbird is more abundant, and in some areas the crested flycatchers are more abundant.

When the crested flycatcher is very animated, it will lift the long feathers on the top of its head, and they will form a crest.
That is where it gets its name.

About the first week in April, the crested flycatchers usually arrive, and a great many times select the same nesting site they have used in previous years. It pounds in an abandoned woodpecker hole, a nesting box, or a natural cavity in a tree.

These birds select most anything in sight for building material — string, bits of rag or paper, cotton, fine rootlets or grasses. But there is invariably at least a part of a snake's skin in the lining of their nest.

Sometimes ago we wrote about the "bird that needs a physician-gist," and now we seem to have a bird that is superstitious, and hopes to frighten away enemies that would molest its home.

But at any rate, the snakeskin is there. One person examining an abandoned nest, found not a snakeskin but a strip of wax paper, which the bird evidently had mistaken for a snakeskin.

Last year we were called to the home of a friend to help identify a pair of birds that had nested in a deep hollow in an avocado tree not ten feet from a busy sidewalk.

The whole bird family were flying about it but it was impossible to see the field marks. We had already suspected that they were the crested flycatchers, but to verify our suspicions, we climbed a ladder up the nest and proceeded to pull out fiber, grasses and what not, until we finally came to parts of the snakeskin. Then we were convinced.

These birds, at all flycatchers, eat an enormous amount of insects, especially the flying insects, as locusts, moths and dragon flies.

They are not as restless as most birds, and sit quietly on a branch or twig patiently waiting for their prey to come along, then they will start out and snap their prey and return quickly to their perch.

The crested flycatchers are very beneficial around habitations, for like the martins and kingbirds, they help to chase away crows and hawks, that might pilfer poultry from a farm or destroy the homes of smaller birds.

The field marks of the crested flycatcher, besides its crest, are a rufous tail, grey throat and breast, and yellow belly. It is the only one of the group of flycatchers with a rufous tail.

Soil Conservation

By Sam Polston.

The possibility for some of the Highlands Soil Conservation District cooperators to have a successful afternoon with their fly-rod should be better next year than now.

The district assisted D. V. Palmer, Dr. W. C. Touchton, and Walter Mandis in obtaining free fish from the U.S. Fish Hatchery and assisted them in stocking their ponds last Thursday with large mouth bass at the rate of 100 to the acre. These same ponds were cleaned of rough fish last summer and stocked with blue-gill bream last fall at the rate of 1000 bream per surface acre.

If these ponds properly fertilized with a complete fertilizer
(6-6-6) at the rate of about 100 pounds per acre per month, according to the fish biologist there should be good fishing in these ponds within a year from time of stocking. The bass should weigh two pounds and the bream good pan size within a year.

When these ponds are fertilized and maintained properly they will yield about 400 to 600 pounds of bream and bass per surface acre of water each year and that amount of fish can be taken with sports gear each year to make room for the new crop. The pond must be fished often with sports gear to maintain a good pond and keep it productive. Biologist Howard Bisland, U.S. Soil Conservation Service, Orlando, Fla., says the best way to ruin a fish pond is not to fish it. Bisland also says the largemouth bass and blue-gill bream combination we use in the Highlands Soil Conservation District has proven to be the best for Florida. The bream eat the algae (small plant life) and the bass eat part of the bream, hence maintaining balance that nature has provided for.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Tallahassee — Florida this fiscal year will spend $55,650,469 to help the common schools of its 67 counties, announced State School Superintendent Tom Bailey. This is $850,000 less than the 1951 legislature appropriated under the minimum foundation program, the total for two years running to $117,000,000. Bailey estimated the next year's cost would increase nearly 10 per cent. This year, teacher salaries got nearly $42,000,000 of the total, and the remainder went for transportation ($2,504,207), current expenses

($4,844,976), and construction and repair ($6,459,965).

Tallahassee — The trails of two major Democratic candidates for president are to cross here soon. Senator Estes Kefauver will spend Tuesday and Wednesday in Florida on a flying visit to 10 cities, to organize his campaign. Senator Russell will make a major address in front of the capitol on May 1, following a breakfast with friends, including Governor Fuller Warren. The backstage efforts to clear out some of the surplus Russell delegate candidates before the May 27 election is going on, but with little break in the ranks.

Tallahassee — Commissioner James T. Landon has revoked the licenses of 16 food and lodging places since January 1, he reported to the public. Two of these were revoked because of gambling, one for failure to observe the rate advertising law and the others for unsanitary conditions. The Florida Hotel and Restaurant Commission is directed by the governor and his cabinet, plus representatives of industries.

Tallahassee — Florida is sixth in the nation in number of new corporations formed in February, Secretary of State R. A. Gray reports. Florida's corporation laws, revamped in 1925 to meet new conditions, have made this one of the leading states in number of corporations formed here.

Richard W. Ervin has ruled it is all right to give a $100 bond as a prize to the holder of a winning number in connection with spurring voters to the polls on election day. A civic group in Orlando wants to give each voter a number in connection with spurring voters to go to the polls on election day. A civic group in Orlando wants to give each voter a number, the winning of a drawing to get the bond. Ervin points out that no charge is made for the number, hence no lottery.

Tallahassee — School trustees cannot recommend persons for teaching positions who are not approved by the school principal under the present law. Attorney General Richard W. Ervin gave this ruling to a member of the Columbia county board of trustees. If the principal or supervising principal does not submit the name of a prospective teacher, that name cannot be considered by the trustees.

Churches of Christ, Scientist The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches next Sunday is "Doctrine of Atonement." The theme of the services is the need for each individual to work out his goodness with God.

One of the citations developing this theme is the following from Micah (6:8): "He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doeth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?"

A correlative reference from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is: "One sacrifice, however great, is insufficient to pay the debt of sin. The atonement requires constant self-immolation on the sinner's part" (p. 23). The Golden Text is from Mark (10:45): "The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many."

87 KILLED IN TRAFFIC DURING MARCH

Death stalked the traffic lanes of Florida last month and claimed eighty-seven victims, the Florida Highway Patrol tentatively reported today.

The number was only four less than March 1951. Sixty-seven of those killed in motor vehicle collisions last month were in rural areas.

Those who died in traffic included fifty passengers, thirty-one drivers, fifteen pedestrians, and one bicyclist rider.

Palm Beach led the death list with twelve, and Polk County was close behind with eleven. Wade was in third place with a report of nine traffic fatalities.

Volusia was next with eight people killed in automobile crashes and Duval was fifth with seven.

The Patrol said the first quarter of the year saw a total of 287 people killed in Florida's traffic accidents. This number may be increased when delayed reports are received later, the Patrol emphasized. The toll for the same quarter in 1951 was 244.

Florida's Tree Farm program started in 1946 under the joint sponsorship of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce and the Florida Forest Service.

Soil Conservation

The board of supervisors of the Highlands Soil Conservation District held their regular monthly meeting Monday April 7 in the commissioners room at the courthouse. All members of the board attended which included Chairman Katharine Wagman, Vice-Chairman Cole Danley, Ivey Futch, Jack Hutchinson, and L. L. Holmes. Also present were Secretary V. T. Oxer and District Conservationist Jack Zalles from Arcadia.

The board decided to publish a bulletin on Soil Conservation in Highlands County and appointed to read the publication committee were supervisors Danley and Hutchinson. The board viewed the soil and water conservation pictures now available, of which selected ones will be used to illustrate the subjects in the bulletin.

The supervisors reviewed the cost and maintenance on some parcels of the district owned equipment and decided they may have to raise the rental rate in view of the $600.00 repair bill in the past six months. They decided that part of the repairs were due to negligence on the part of the people using it.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"
 B. C. WILSON HARDER

Around this time of year, donations are sought and very worthily, too, to help the Displaced Persons of Europe. But more and more Washington is becoming aware of the problem of American D.P.'s.

There's lead waiting about the problem.

The guns are loaded to bombard all who take a stand against conditions resulting in American D.P.'s. The bombshell "isolationism" will be fired at C. W. Harder, then, but this ammunition has become much too soggy.

Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan created a nationwide stir with his exposure of the unemployment scandal in the auto industry. Detroit unemployment, up to 100,000, is expected to add another 50,000 unemployed.

Shortage of copper is blamed for mass unemployment.

Yet, Sen. Ferguson has exposed the fact that these Secretary Dean Acheson, without knowledge or consent of Congress, made a deal with England and France to allocate raw materials through a super world court, which denies American business the copper needed to make ships, yet heavy tonnage of U. S. copper are shipped abroad.

New figures released by the British show they are exporting more automobiles than the American auto industry. Britain also gets paid for cars it exports, but raw materials and Europe are paid for by American taxes.

The proposed planned unemployment and abundant salary officials of industrial nations is brutally inflicted by Washington Socialists.

An occasional blow is thrown to keep part of the American people contented. Rep. Howard Buffett, Neb., predicts, John Lewis will soon get the coal miners' wages boosted again.

There will be little objections to the raise, because a large part will be paid by taxes. That's the MSA, or Marshall Plan given the coal away to Europe. In October 1951, the Marshall Plan shipped more than 115 million tons of coal paid for, plus freight, by U. S. taxes.

In 1952, he states, America only exported 19,000 tons of coal. Europe exported a great deal. But in 1951, England had 1,200,000 miners, compared to 700,000 now that free coal comes from America.

Many Congressmen are even getting wary of pointing out the facts such as Sen. Ferguson and Rep. Buffett are doing.

That's because they are getting more and more repulse from home similar to Mark Twain's comment about the weather.

Typical comment about these Socialism plans which are including everything, money, oil, cars, you do something about it? What are you getting paid for?

These questions seem much easier to answer in Congress than in the land of the living, also indicative of the fact that the money is not being paid for.

The men of the voters care little for party lines, as the only answer many Congressmen have is to get in and do something to stop the waste. They would prefer to campaign on the basis of a record of waste already stop and then on pushing that record to stop waste.

"When power is needed, Dodge trucks have it!"

my C. R. SHARRMAN, Head Construction Co., Lynwood, Calif.

"We've been big Dodge users for many years, because our business demands trucks that are dependable, economical and rugged."

"We do most of our driving over rough ground, a lot of it in the mud. The trucks work with ours who are laying pipe in the field. This kind of hauling calls for a lot of power in every equipment to the man."

"And when power is needed, Dodge trucks have it. They seem to be able to pull anything."

Miss Landress Weds Robert Montemayer In Church Ceremony

In a candlelight ceremony Saturday, April 12, at 6:30 o'clock, at the Church of God, Miss Virginia Landress, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Landress of Avon Park, and Sergeant Robert Montemayer, a native of Texas but at present a member of the Air Force, MacDill Field, Tampa, were united in marriage.

The Rev. J. W. Watson, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, performed the double-ring ceremony, and a program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Virgil Hall Jr., pianist, and Miss Lynn Longbottom, vocalist. The two vocal numbers were "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly."

Massed palms served as a background for an arch entwined with fern and white carnations, for tall baskets of asters and white gladioli, and the tall candelabra holding the white candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerna length white dress of nylon marquisette over white tulle. She wore a matching white hat, and carried an arm bouquet of white carnations centered with delicate pink carnations.

Miss Beth Suggs, maid of honor, wore a white embroidered organza dress over pink tulle. Her tiny hat made of flat pink flowers was similar to the bride's. She carried an arm bouquet of iris tied with streamers of orchid ribbon.

Sgt. Joe Chavez, of Colorado, at present stationed at Avon Park, served as best man. Virgil Hall Jr., of Avon Park and Gainesville, served as usher and lighted the candles during the program of nuptial music.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given at the home of Mrs. Robert G. Landress. The rooms were decorated with asters, gladioli, and larkspurs. The Easter theme was carried out.

Mrs. J. T. Landress and Miss Jacqueline Landress presided at the punch bowl.

The following out-of-town guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Davis of Tampa; Mrs. Henry Tillery, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Stoll, Tommy and Robbie Jo Stoll and Mrs. O. T. Stoll of Miami; Miss Mildred Landress of Washington, D.C. and Mrs. C. M. Parnell and daughter, Pamela, of Jacksonville.

After the reception, the bride and groom left for a short wedding trip. The bride will return to this city early next week to complete her senior year at Avon Park High School. The groom will leave soon for Okinawa where he will be stationed.

AVON PARK BASEBALL TEAM TOPS SEBRING
Avon Park's Red Devils avenged a defeat handed them last week when they blasted the Sebring Blue Streaks 12-3, in a Ridge Conference baseball game at Sebring Tuesday night.

Jimmy Kelly had three hits for the winners, including a triple and a double. Tommy Jenkins, Bruce Spencer and Gene Reynolds each had two hits for the Devils.

John Creel and Ronnie Carnes had two hits apiece for the Blue Streaks.

WASHINGTON
NEWS LETTER

From

Special Delivery for Florida
Weekly Press

Washington — This is a story about the unmailed letters. All of us can remember what our fathers and mothers taught us about avoiding hasty actions or angry words. In all our vocabularies, almost from the cradle are such expressions as "haste makes waste" — "count ten before you act" — "keep your shirt on."

Several weeks ago, I received copies of another in a series of attacks by a labor press columnist. By twisting the meaning of my public statements on various issues, this columnist had sought to prejudice against me many of my friends among the working people who belong to labor unions and presumably read his paper. Finally I wrote this columnist a letter.

"As an intelligent person," I write, "You well know that you are distorting the facts and solely for the purpose of serving the cause of 'bossism' in labor unions. You fear the truth. You know that the tyrannical hold of a certain few selfish labor bosses over their unions will be broken unless you create distrust and fear in your membership, of those who deal with the rank and file of labor as free men. What you are really serving may not be Communism, but it is certainly not Americanism."

I kept this letter on my desk for a long time. I finally realized that the things I was talking about would not touch or be understood by this columnist. So I tossed it in the waste basket.

Several days ago I was in a midwestern city speaking on conditions in the South. I mentioned favorably, in some detail the presidential candidacy of Senator Richard B. Russell. A discussion brought an amazing favorable response from the people in the area.

As a result I was bitterly attacked by the editor of a midwestern Negro newspaper who called Senator Russell the "race baiting" Senator from Georgia. I started to write to the Negro editor: "You too, fear the truth. Senator Russell has made more shining contributions to race relations than have all the hierarchy of your radical Negro minority organizations. What you fear is not the welfare of the people of your race; you are afraid that the rank and file of your people in the North, will find out that their real friends are those who offer a moderate, common sense approach to their problems. The South, which has accomplished most for the Negro, has proved this."

I never mailed that letter. I directed it instead as a response to a letter from one of our Florida Negro citizens, a veteran group's leader. By coincidence, the mail had brought me this message, referring to the Negro's elevation in the South to "Thinking, good citizens." "Thank you," he said, "For allowing us to be on your side."

In my opinion, there are several morals in this story.

Standing of Candidates For Governor?

The governor's race still has quite a long way to go, with the last few weeks being the critical period, of course. The situation can change drastically prior to the first primary on May 6, but here is the latest estimate of each candidate's strength, according to the "experts."

McCarthy seems to be in the lead with a strong organization well distributed in all parts of the state. His greatest following seems to come from the Jacksonville area where he expects his largest majority.

Adam's greatest strength in voting power seems to be in North Florida. Prospects are good on the East Coast in sections that are against the proposed turn-pike.

Odhams is gaining rapidly with a strong vote coming from Tampa, St. Petersburg, Miami and Central Florida where his "talkathon" went over in such a big way. His following seems to be pretty spotty in sections outside the areas covered by his senatorial radio marathons. Odham's grass roots strength is difficult to gauge.

Spencer is still virtually unknown. The possibility of Spencer picking up as many votes as the others seems remote at this date.

THEY NEGLECTED A DUTY-WILL YOU?

The above illustration, released by the Florida Farm Bureau Federation, shows an artist's conception of the curtailment of liberty in some countries today. E. H. Finlayson, Greenville, president of the big farm organization, says: "One of the greatest dangers that threatens our democracy is the failure to vote by our citizens."

Jim Mitchell is not a silver spoon Candidate. He can and will understand the common man's problems.

A common man for common people. Jim Mitchell is not a pressure group candidate. He is not promoting himself; he is promoting the interest of the people. He is not being built up by someone else for a bigger job. He has no ambitions for a bigger job.

This is not a job for a boy; it is a MAN'S job. If it were a job for a boy, I have a son on the firing line in Korea who would qualify as well as any other boy. This job calls for a man of mature judgment, one who has political experience and the ability to get along with people.

REPUBLICAN CONTENDING DELEGATION

Dear Editor:

Florida must have a contesting delegation to the Republican National Convention, because this State's electoral vote will be needed to help win the 1952 election. This contesting group would be elected by and represent the majority of the registered Republicans. The present delegation, hand picked by the State Committee, does not represent the Florida Republicans, as over 60 percent of the Committee members represent those counties in which less than five per cent of the registered Republicans reside.

At a recent meeting, when the present delegation was selected, a group of Committee members, representing the counties in which over 53 percent of the registered Republicans reside, did not vote. They abstained because delegates selected in Committee would not represent the majority of registered Republicans.

All states, except Florida, elect their delegates either by primary or convention. A contesting delegation would have to be elected in district and state conventions under existing rules of the Republican National Convention. It would represent the registered Republicans of each district and the state as a whole. After the National Convention, our contesting delegation would be a united nucleus to carry the state for our nominees.

A contesting delegation would strengthen the Party in Florida because: More people would become interested in our program, our platform and our nominees; more active and ardent workers would become available to campaign for our nominees; and, our Party leaders would see that registered Republicans are vitally interested in the internal affairs of their Party; that they object to being robbed by Party leaders of their right to vote; and that they are capable of expressing an opinion. Without definite and decisive action now, we are not worth our salt! Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their Party. What do you think about this? What will you do about it? Replies invited.

(Signed)
Wynold R. Briggs,

GOOD HEALTH

WHERE WE HEALTHY
IN 1950?

3. DO BEDCLOTHES
KILL MANY BABIES?

Answer to Question No. 1:

1. It was our healthiest year in history. We have the lowest death rate ever and a continued high birth rate. Infant mortality rates were down. From 1940 to 1950 the general death rate decreased by 10 per cent and the infant death rate decreased by 25 per cent, a reward of our progress in medicine, nutrition and all phases of health.

Answer to Question No. 2:

2. Prevention of cerebral palsy is possible in many cases out depends in greatest measure on good pre-natal and obstetrical care, good medical care in the early months of the child's life and prevention of accidents, infectious and other sources of brain damage. With the organization of the United Cerebral Palsy Association and establishment of special clinics throughout the country a new day of hope is dawning for rehabilitation of cerebral palsy victims.

Answer to Question No. 3:

3. While death certificates often have listed suffocation by bedclothes as a cause of death (one-half the infant deaths between 1945 and 1949 were so listed) recent investigation has shown that most such deaths actually were caused by acute infection in throat or lungs. Mothers should continue to guard against suffocation but also should be particularly alert for signs of colds in young babies and should call the family doctor early when there are such signs.

Help wanted: A Florida citrus grover!

Such signs might well be hung on the door of every agency in the federal government today. Possibly if Washington's Postcard was filled with men whose qualifications paralleled those of a Florida citrus grover, the country could forget the dangers of creeping socialism and Communism.

It becomes immediately apparent upon the grover's arrival that he is not fit to strap himself into the regulation of running a large business. When President Roosevelt "nationalized" the steel industry he slapped every American businessman in the face. But a few Florida citrus grovers, or grovers might give new meaning to the terms upon which American free trade was built.

A citrus grover is a peculiar individual — peculiar, that is by today's standards. He more resembles the rugged pioneer of another era who fought danger and privation in scattering settlements over the vast reaches of a new country.

He's hardy and nerveless — giving and taking, agreeing and disagreeing. He's a gambler to the core, living dangerously and liking it.

His philosophy of life and business is the same — he wants to run both without help from his government. He hates centralized rule, preferring individual sovereignty to collective.

He's close to the grass roots and has a certain innate cunningness for solving problems. His opinion may not always be reckoned as correct, but he'll fight for the right to express it.

He loves a scrap — verbal or otherwise. He'll fuss and discuss; he'll argue and discuss. He'll battle you today and shake your hand tomorrow. He'll admit defeat when he's beaten, but he'll fight for the right to express it.

He has a big, broad, rubber back and may land flat on it many times. He'll always bounce back. He'll ask advice from his neighbor, but will do what he pleases anyway.

There's not a socialistic bone in his whole body and he hates both types of red — Communism and ink. He was born hard and plays with equal vigor, but never mixes the two.

He's shown how a dollar can be stretched — he's doing it every day. He'll allow himself to be balked once, but don't try to pull the wool over his eyes a second time.

Rugged individualism is his base and cry, having battled economics and the elements and beaten both. He's been written off many times as a total loss, but he's still around. He's the foundation upon which Florida's big industry is built.

Hard-headed federal officials who insist upon cunning industry's business should be cast in his image!

AVON PARK, FLORIDA, FRIDAY, APRIL 25, 1952

May Day To Feature "Alice In Wonderland" Theme

May Day, annual celebration in honor of the coming of Spring, will be held again this year on the Mall, amidst the gaiety of music, dancing, and the traditional winding of the Maypole.

Promptly at 4:00 on Wednesday, April 30, Queen Charlene Hart and King Edgar Pabor will hold fairy court. Many important ambassadors, including the Mad Hatter, the White Rabbit, and Tweedledee and Tweedledum, from Alice's Wonderland, are expected to be present for the revelry. Their royal majesties will be crowned by the King and Queen of Diamonds, sixth-graders Jimmie Cooper and Linda Hart.

Entertainers will include many of the elementary and pre-school children, as well as a bevy of beautiful high school maidens. Mortals in the vicinity have been invited to come and pay homage to the season. Don't forget — Wednesday at 4:00 on the Mall.

The festival this year is under the direction of Miss Dorothy Jones, assisted by Mrs. Clayton Fields Jr., Mrs. Paxton Hill, and the Student Council. In charge of music will be Gene Gorman and Mrs. Frank Morgan.

The Garden Club will have charge of the flowers, including the hibiscus chain carried by the maidens of honor. Mrs. M. E. Appelgren is chairman of the committee, with Mrs. J. W. Richmond as co-chairman.

Homestead Law Ruled Out

P. G. Geising, County Tax Assessor, stated in his report today that he was not surprised at the Supreme Court's decision in regard to the Homestead Exemption Law of 1951 which required a person to be a legal resident of the State of Florida for one year prior to the date of applying for the homestead exemption.

As constitutional questions have been raised by the Supreme Court, it was expected that this law would be struck down in every case. The application for exemption and held it in abeyance until the test case which was carried into Hillsborough County was decided by the State Supreme Court. "I do not know of a single case in which the law has been held to be unconstitutional," said Mr. Geising, "but if there are any, the applicant in question should make immediate steps to apply for this exemption. As it only has to do with those taxpayers who bought homes and moved into them prior to January 1, 1952, Mr. Geising does not expect to have many other cases affected by the ruling."

"All home owners whose applications were held up were notified of their acceptance the day the press report was released," said Mr. Geising.

Noted Graphologist Guest Speaker At Rotary

Members of Rotary of Avon Park were entertained at the Wednesday meeting by Prof. Herbert L. Walling, noted graphologist appearing in the lobby of the Hilton Theatre on Thursday and Friday of this week.

Walling, who was a special agent of the United States government in World War I, has played theatre dates from Chicago to Miami. At one time or another he has been depicted by the British, Canadian, and United States governments as a traitor, a spy, a criminal, a murderer, a surgeon, and a doctor.

The professor had a few applications of his method, handwriting, and proceeded to put up a show to the amusement of the audience.

A. E. Williams of Clarksville, Va., was visiting Saturday at the luncheon.

AN APPEAL IN MIND

The Youth Council needs a table piano. The one now there is in very bad condition—worth only a few cents as junk.

It is hoped that someone may have a piano he does not want or is perfectly willing to donate to the Youth Council. There may be a second-hand piano the center could buy at a very low price.

If you can help, get in touch with the director, Leslie Collins, or one of the officers or members of the Youth Association.

HON. JAMES A. HALEY

Know Your Candidate

James A. Haley of Sarasota, Democratic candidate for Congress from Florida's new 13th Congressional District, is campaigning on a platform to eliminate waste in federal government and to reduce taxes.

On a tour of the district, which embraces Sarasota, Manatee, Polk, DeSoto, Hardee and Highland Counties, Haley is soliciting the support of all voters who would like to see sound business practices replace Washington bureaucracy.

"I stand for an immediate effort to eliminate the disgruntled waste and corruption in the federal government," Haley declared. "Also I will work for an immediate and substantial reduction in federal taxes, not only to the individual citizen but to the business community as well, and understanding the very foundation of our national strength."

As a candidate for the post he seeks, Haley cites his 27 years of business experience in Sarasota and two terms in the state legislature during which he rose to prominence among the leaders of the state's economy and good government.

Born in Anniston, Ala., Haley went to Sarasota after World War I, in which he served overseas. He became an auditor and tax specialist and later joined the staff of John Ringling, the circus magnate and art patron. On Ringling's death in 1936, Haley assumed the management of the Ringling holdings. As a result of his management policies, Haley was called into the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus organization in 1942. In 1946 he was elevated to the presidency of the vast circus enterprise. On his retirement in 1947, Haley came to Avon Park, where he has since been active in the affairs of the American Legion, having been in the group of leaders who discussed the formation of the organization in Florida in 1919. He is a former vice president of the Sarasota Post, a former district commander and member of the district executive committee.

GRADUATION TO BE AT HILTON THEATRE

Prof. Robert L. Walling, noted graphologist, will analyze handwriting on a special table feature at the Hilton Theatre, Thursday and Friday of this week. There will be no charge for his analysis.

Prof. Walling will tell you if you're money by the way the pressure on your pencil varies.

If you are a good mixer and tactful, by the way you balance the lines on the paper.

If you are generous, by the size of your letters and the speed with which you write them.

If you're careless, by the way you space your letters and figures.

Need For Blood Plasma Stressed At P.T.A.

It is estimated that blood plasma has cut in half the total number of war casualties, was the assertion made by Don Hansen, secretary of the P.T.A. meeting Thursday, April 17. He also pointed out that it takes two pints of blood to make one pint of plasma.

In his excellent talk on our country's civil defense needs, he stressed the importance of being prepared to give blood when the mobile blood donor comes to Avon Park. He also showed a film depicting the extreme care with which the mobile unit handles the donors.

All the elementary school children who were candidates for the P.T.A. circus king and queen were introduced to the audience, while Mrs. L. M. Moseley, pianist, played background music.

The Rev. H. E. Garrett gave the opening devotion.

Officers elected for the coming year: T. J. Ward is again president; Mrs. George Kelsey, vice president; Mrs. John E. Hicks, recording secretary; Mrs. A. B. Grimes, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Sam King, treasurer.

Band Gives Variety Show At Theatre

An entertaining variety show, presented by the high school band, the majorettes, under the direction of Gene Gorman, was featured at Hilton Theatre on Monday night, between the first and second showings of the motion picture.

The band played two spirited concert numbers without sets. Robert Pedgley and Gloria Sherfield, representing a boy and girl singing-and-dance team, performed a clever comedy pantomime to a vocal recording. Jack Ward conducted "A Night at the Ballet," with Carolyn Ball in a ballet costume. Peggy Martin presented her skillful double-bass twirling.

The majorettes appeared in two dance routines, one to "Stormy Weather," in which they flourished bright colored umbrellas. The program concluded with the ever-popular "Rocky Ruck," which Mr. Gorman termed the band's "signature"; the majorettes also appeared on the stage for this number.

Taxes are high and the world is in a mess. Vote May 6th for the candidates you think are best.

Everyone is invited to attend our services Sunday. We will be happy to have you.

Big Crowd Attends Bridge Dedication

The $235,963 bridge under construction to carry U.S. Highway 98 across the Kissimmee River at Fort Basinger was named the William Sidney Hay Bridge Wednesday, while an estimated 2500 persons looked on and munched away at 3500 pounds of beef and pork.

Chairman Alfred A. McKethan, of the State Road Department, who named the bridge, used the occasion, too, to take another verbal blast at Alto Adams, gubernatorial candidate, in the running war of words between the road board and the former State Supreme Court justice.

Sponsored by county commissioners of the two counties and ranchers who donated hogs and cattle for the big "feed," the ceremonies drew an all-day throng which packed the Fort Basinger schoolyard near the eastern or Highlands County side of the river. Candidates for state and county offices, plus spokesmen for Democratic presidential timber, were afforded opportunities to speak. Miss Edna Pearce, state representative from Highlands, Mayor Raulerson, of Okechobee, and State Senator Moore, of Highlands, divided the chores of master of ceremonies.

The bridge was named for the father of Miss Pearce. The new bridge, 12 miles from Lorida which lies east of Hendricks Field and 14 miles from Okechobee, represents the attainment of a goal long sought by the many ranchers of this downstate plains area. The new Highway 98 route shortens the distance from Sebring to Okechobee by 20 miles. The $216,500 section of the highway from Lorida to the river and the $500,000 link from the river to the river at Miss Pearce's ranch house.

Road 98 will connect West Palm Beach, Indian River, Sebring, Avon Park, Fort Meade, Bunnell, Lake Wales, Dade City, Brooksville and Chokoloskee.

None of the strictly political speeches drew much applause. But the crowd pleased with the barbecue, rice and swamp cabbage, and the music of the Okechobee High School band, came in for praise for providing the music.

Film On Cancer Will Interest You

What everyone should know about cancer will be shown in a dramatic and interesting film at the high school auditorium next week, April 28, at 8 o'clock. Slides will supplement the film.

The audience will also learn how to avoid cancer. The Cancer Fund is used by the American Cancer Society. It is stressed that all information will be given in a simple and interesting as well as instructive.

J. C. Still, of the State Health Department, will introduce the film and serve as moderator for the meeting.

Dr. G. L. Beasom, of the County Health Department, and Dr. Samuel A. King, general practitioner, will be present. Following the film, the two physicians will take part in a discussion of the subject with the audience. Dr. Beasom will answer questions from a public health standpoint, while Dr. King will present the medical point-of-view.

This program is being presented in connection with the current campaign for funds for the American Cancer Society, for which Mrs. W. H. Warren is local chairman.

There will be no admission charge and no collection taken.

There will be a box at the door for those who wish to make donations, but it is emphasized that this program is meant to inform, rather than to raise money.

COLEMANSTONE LAYING Sunday, April 27, the State Superintendent of the Churches of God of Florida, the Rev. J. H. Roberts, will be at the Church of God here in Avon Park, to preach at 11 o'clock services.

At the noon hour there will be an old-fashioned dinner spread on the grounds. At two o'clock we will gather at our new church located at North Florida Ave. and Church St. for the purpose of laying our cornerstones and naming building.

One purpose of this meeting is to raise funds for the new church building not later than July 1.

Everyone is invited to attend our services Sunday. We will be happy to have you.

Candidates Swing Into Home Stretch

SENATOR ESTES KEFAUVER

Dem. Candidate For President Visits Avon Park

Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, was a visitor in Avon Park Tuesday morning and spoke for a few minutes to about 100 people who had gathered to hear the man who has made quite a record as a crime buster in Florida and other states. He was accompanied by his wife, Nancy who was introduced to the crowd. Following his short talk, the Senator spent several minutes shaking hands with most of the people present.

Highlands CAP Unit Meets Next Monday

The newly reorganized Highlands County Squadrons of Civil Air Patrol will meet next Monday in the Episcopal Parish House. Future meetings will be held in Avon Park in an effort to gain strength in the northern part of the County and from Frostproof; however, the Squadron will maintain its headquarters at Hendricks Field, Sebring for squadron air maneuvers. Everyone interested in the C.A.P. or the C.A.P. Cadets is invited to attend this meeting.

Mr. Harry Norris, Sebring, Commanding Officer of the Squadron, will announce the appointments of his staff and explain the revised organization of the C.A.P. The reorganization follows the visit last week of Lt. Col. Tom Smith, Ft. Lauderdale, Group Commander, and his staff, who met with Highlands County members at Hendricks Field.

Further details of the Cadet summer encampment and International Air Competition will be explained at the meeting. It is expected that about six Cadets from Avon Park and Sebring will be present.

Band Goes To State Contest Next Week

Members of the Avon Park High School Band, with their director, Gene Gorman, will be among the 4000 high school band and orchestra players to participate in the 12th annual All-Florida Band Festival in Tampa May 1-3.

Climaxing the three-day festival will be two night performances at Phillips Field on Thursday, May 1, and Friday, May 2.

Each of these performances, the bands — the state's best — will play through intricately designed drills, then combine to stage a massed concert, with 2000 musicians playing at one band.

Some of the country's outstanding music educators will be there to conduct the festival and to massed band concerts and judge the student musicians. They will include Dr. William D. Beville, director of the University of Michigan band; Paul Foster of New York, widely known for his composition and arrangement for bands, and Mark E. Hindley, director of bands at Indiana University and author of a number of books on bands and band music.

Bands from all parts of Florida, from Pensacola to Miami, will be in Tampa for this annual contest.

May sixth is the day. Vote and have your say.

With all the candidates swinging into the home stretch in the primary campaign, it is not surprising that the political and surveying world is not so much interested in the race, but in the outcome of the race, which is not out of the hands of the voters. It is not so much interested in the race, but in the outcome of the race, which is not out of the hands of the voters.

J. Bradley Githam has been coming up fast since the start of his talkations and has moved from third to second place. Indications are he has cut into both McCarty and Adams and it depends on what happens during the last few days of the campaign whether he can squeeze into a run-off with McCarty.

Adams, while apparently in third place, is not out of the race and his supporters throughout the state are working feverishly to get him back into the race. Adams has stepped up their pace with increased newspaper and radio advertising and house-to-house solicitation in many areas.

While the names of Bill Hendrix and Dale E. Spencer will appear on the ballot in the gubernatorial race, neither has shown any evidence of strength so far and are expected to draw only a smattering of votes.

The political spotlight swings from the governor's race to the battle royal between Estes Kefauver and Richard B. Russell in the Presidential campaign. Both are able and energetic campaigners who, with active organizations in the state, Russell expected to be the favorite and is expected to give Kefauver a run for his money.

Senator Spencer Holland is a sure winner. His opponent is giving him no trouble and it appears that his primary walk-away in his case.

The same is true with regard to Supreme Court Justice E. K. Roberts. He has the backing of the legal fraternity, is popular and respected through the state and generally recognized for his integrity and ability. He should win hands down in the first primary.

Tom Bailey, who is considered the No. 1 boy in the race for Railroad and Public Utilities Commissioner or attorney indications are that Tom Bailey will win high honors when the final count comes in, in the race for State Superintendent of Public Instruction, although Ray Van Duzen is making heavy gains and has support in many areas.

Richard Mack appears to be the No. 1 boy in the race for Railroad and Public Utilities Commissioner or attorney indications are that Tom Bailey will win high honors when the final count comes in, in the race for State Superintendent of Public Instruction, although Ray Van Duzen is making heavy gains and has support in many areas.

It is difficult to tell very much about the races for National Democratic Committee and Commissioner. For Commissioner, Jack Chiles seems to have the edge with Pat Whitaker a strong contender.

Mrs. Louise Alford seems to be in a knock-down-drag-out battle with Polly Rose Balle for the Committeewoman post; both are campaigning feverishly and it looks like photo finish in this writing.

If favorable weather prevails on election day, the heaviest vote in the state's history is expected. Numerous organizations spearheaded by the Florida State Chamber of Commerce are working to "Get Out the Vote." Their efforts to bring about increased registrations were most successful with records smashed in many counties.

Every effort will be made to get these qualified voters to the polls on May 6. Service clubs, the Farm Bureau, Chambers of Commerce and other groups are providing transportation to and from the polls and will welcome an opportunity to cooperate fully with citizens who want to cast a ballot.

The Robin

By The Bird Woman

The robin is the best known and probably the best loved of all birds in America.

The robin is really a red-breasted thrush, and it resembles the robin of the old world, only it is larger.

So when our early English settlers found a bird that looked so much like a bird of their home-land naturally they called it a robin.

Robins are considered harbinger of spring in the North, and their cheerful caroling is a welcome sound after a long, cold winter.

Robins are eccentric when it comes to migration. Some migrate some do not, depending on the abundance of food at hand.

Most high migrations can be linked to one group of birds have migrated at a Lakeland lake on October 10th for 12 consecutive years, and who haven't been thrilled by the song. When the Seabirds Come Back to Capistrano? Their return has been dated practically to the hour for many years.

At the Audubon Sanctuary at Cape May, N.J., many bird lovers gather to watch the migration of the robins. Between the first light of day — sun-up — flocks of robins arrive from the north, so high they are almost invisible, then other flocks at a lower level are seen going in the opposite direction. This is another amazing thing about migration, for these robins of the lower levels have reached the broad waters of the Delaware Bay and rather than attempt a crossing, they have doubled back several miles where for some unexplained reason they know the river is narrow enough and they might cross in safety.

As many as ten thousand robins pass through the sanctuary when the robins finally reach the Southland, some stop off in South Carolina to get food from the gum tree, others drift into Georgia for chinaberries, and others come on to Florida and find food among the palmettos.

On the return trip, which is made by daylight, the males usually arrive first and take out their claims. Then the females arrive. Usually the same mates are chosen as on the previous year.

The robin is easily identified by its black head and red breast; the female is slightly duller with grayish head.

The robin is the pottery maker of the bird kingdom. If the grasses and straw were burned off an abandoned robin's nest, you would find a rough hard earthen bowl.

The female probably selects the site for the nest and does most of the work herself. If no mud is at hand, the robin will dip itself in water and shake itself on a dusty road, or it may carry dry earth in its mouth and dip it in the bird bath to make mud for its nest.

The female shapes and molds the nest with her body. Four blue-green eggs are laid. (We have all heard of robin's egg blue.)

The eggs hatch in 14 days and the young have big speckles on their breast like the thrush.

The male stands by during incubation, but when the fledglings are ready for their first short flight from the nest, he takes over and stays with them until they can take care of themselves. During this period, the female either builds a new nest or relines the old one.

The robin fledglings are especially susceptible to cats at the time they are learning to fly, and many a robin falls victim to the stealthy cat. Even the well-fed cat takes its toll and the stray and underfed, cut really reaps a harvest at this time.

Did you ever see a robin on a lawn take a few quick steps, then cock its head to one side and look at the ground as if listening, then suddenly pull a long earthworm out of the ground? There has been a little controversy about whether the robin, with its head cocked on one side, is listening for a worm or why it assumes that posture. The fact is to be that the robin's eyes are set at such an angle that by turning its head in a cocked position it can better locate the worm it is after.

Most earthworms are partly exposed in their burrows and easily located by the robin, which cherishes it even more than the other insects, or the berries of cabbage palm, camphor tree, dogwood, gallberry, and mangrove.

So long as Communism exists the duty of every American is to keep the defense effort rolling—the only way to insure our freedom.

FARM BOYS AND GIRLS STILL HEADING FOR CITY

Winter Park (special) — In 1910 there were 32.1 million farm-boys in the U.S. out of a total population of 91.9 million, according to the research department of the Florida Farm Bureau.

Today, the Bureau points out there are only 24.3 million farmers out of a total population of 151.1 million. "Country boys and girls are continuing to flock to the cities in greater and greater numbers," declared E. H. Finlayson, Greenville, President of the Bureau.

ATTENDANCE RECORD SET AT STATE PARK
Highlands Hammock State Park, one of the three outstanding natural parks in the United States, has broken all previous records for attendance. Frederic G. Winter, superintendent, reported that 37,391 persons had visited the Hammock since last July, an increase of 12,915 over the previous year's nine-month period attendance of 24,476.

"This is a 53 percent increase over last year's attendance," Winter said.

SERMONETTE
By Father John O. Crumby
Church of The Redeemer

Easter is the period between Easter Day and the Feast of the Ascension. Easterday commemorates the forty days of Lent spent on the earth after His Resurrection. This period is commonly called "The Great Forty Days." The lesson throughout Easter is that Christ has risen from the dead and will share His immortality with men.

The fact of the Resurrection is truth founded on historical events. Thirty years after the Resurrection, when many of the witnesses were still alive and could easily be questioned, St. Paul stated in his letter to the Corinthians: "He was seen by Cephas, and after that by the eleven; then He was seen by more than five hundred brethren at once - of whom many remain until the present and some are fallen asleep" (1 Corinthians xv, 5-6).

Note the details of the account in the Gospel according to St. John: "Now when it was late, the first day of the week, and the doors were shut... Jesus came and stood in the midst of them."

Time and place are given with accuracy. Then, "He showed them His hands and His side." Then in His second appearance: "Put in thy finger hither and see my hands. And bring hither thy hand and put it into my side." Others were present in addition to doubting Thomas.

Nothing like a half a thousand witnesses are required to give judicial certainty in our courts of law. Yet that is the number of witnesses that can be called upon for the proof of the Resurrection. And these eyewitness accounts have been safely preserved by His Body, the Church.

VETERANS INFORMATION

The misfortunes of our hero veterans are again being exploited for private gain. I have received complaints from over the State that so-called art distributors are soliciting from house to house the families of our departed and missing-in-service heroes, fraudulently proclaiming that the Government is interested in obtaining photographs of the dead or missing veterans and that they the solicitors have been especially selected to secure their photographs and to make enlargements of them at half price. Well, now, wives, mothers and other relatives of the veterans should receive such solicitations with much caution. There is no program of the Veterans Administration requiring the photographs of veterans and the Veterans Administration has not authorized any solicitation by so-called art distributors. There is much likelihood that this is a violation of the Federal Criminal Code which prohibits the soliciting of such photographs and gifts in the name of the Government.

Instances of violations should be promptly reported to local authorities. Where the Veterans Administration is being used in furthering this scheme, the case should be reported to the Chief Attorney of the VA in St. Petersburg.

As a further precaution, I suggest that in every instance positive identification should be demanded of the solicitor so that if there is a violation of law the information may be passed on to the proper authorities.

Babson Discusses Business Outlook

Avon Park, Fla., Apr. 18.—(The Sun)—When I was a boy in Gloucester, Mass., my father ran a store. He often said to me: "Roger, it isn't how much money people have in the bank that makes them buy my merchandise — no sir, it's how they feel!" That was good advice in 1909, and it is still good.

Just take a look at what's happened in the last year. You will remember that the bureaucrats and the brain trusters in Washington were warning the nation that a new wave of inflation was just about — that there soon would be short shortages again. That was only twelve short months ago. Did these shortages show up? They did not. Why? Because the people who do the buying decided to save more and buy less. The government statisticians could measure inventories, but they couldn't figure out people's feelings!

Everybody Feeling Better
In my opinion, business and the public have both been holding back from making decisions and buying until after the elections. Now, however, with the President making historic "shall not run" decision, all that is changed. There is a widespread feeling that nearly all of his possible successors would be more kindly disposed to business. A feeling of relief has spread through the country from one end to the other.

Now, this feeling is not something you can measure in black and white. You can't put it into a graph. But, it is the kind of thing that will make a man go out and spend a little more money than he would have before. Just a month ago he may have told his wife that "there'll be no new car this year." Today, however, he may feel that things aren't so bad after all and say: "There is enough in the bank for rainy day, so, with election prospects looking brighter, why not now enjoy the new car?" That would cause currently high inventories to be pared down.

Swing To Right

There is another important possibility that should not be overlooked. With President Truman out of the running, every effort will be made to pick a candidate behind whom the whole Democratic Party can unite. Now, the big bulk of Southern Democrats happens to be very conservative. If they are to be appeased and "kept in line," it is highly necessary that the Convention nominate a team that will be conservative enough to attract full support from the South — like Russell, Kerr or Starnes. The Democrats don't look so formidable as business as they did a few weeks back.

What about the Republicans? Well, to me, it is pretty hard to see any candidate outside of Eisenhower or Taft. It doesn't seem likely that the Convention will be foolish enough to pin its hopes on some "dark horse" that may fall down in the big race. Businessmen generally would feel pretty good right now if they knew for certain that a conservative is to be in the White House next January. Thus, sizing up both the Democrats and the Republicans, it looks to me like a swing to the right!

More Spending Right Away
Finally, the Democrats know that if business is good and the voters are happy next November 4, they will have a better chance to win again. You can bet that their "smoke-filled rooms" are already busy mapping the strategy for keeping things humming right up to polling time. They may have lost their leader, but they haven't lost their sense of direction.

Already we have seen the government granting permission to the military to award contracts to "job distress" areas. It isn't a far step from this to finding other reasons why defense spending should be stepped up in the months ahead. Certainly, if the people get an impression that a new wave of inflation is on the way, which recent strikes indicate, they may do a little more buying themselves.

Health TOPICS

Stuttering is one of the most common speech defects. It affects one in every hundred persons in either of its two forms: the repetition of sounds or the absence of sounds when the mouth opens. It may be caused by either physical or emotional factors.

Children who stutter should be carefully examined by a physician. Any irregularities will be treated by him and about all the parents can do is give him complete cooperation, at the same time keeping the child happy and contented. If the cause is emotional, solution to the problem lies almost completely with the parents. The physician can only guide their efforts.

It may be that the child stutters because of emotional confusion resulting from the parents' impatience and reprimands. They may complete his sentences for him, or supply the word for his thought, or greater harm still, hurry him in his speaking efforts.

Parents should observe the child when he is alone to find out whether he stutters while singing or talking to a doll or dog. More than likely there will be no speech defect if he stutters when he is alone. If he does, it may be that the child is not exactly correct.

The attitude he exhibits while alone is the one parents will have to cultivate in him when he is in their presence. He should be treated as if there were no defect in speech. He should be encouraged to talk.

There are numerous games the mother can invent which will require speech. These will relax the child, put him at ease and destroy the impatience he may feel in his mother when he tries to talk and cannot.

The correction of stuttering should never be put off with the hope that it will be outgrown. Too frequently the problem only gets bigger with age.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"
B. C. WILSON HARDER

The Black Day of March 15, 1902, may well go down in history as the turning point in the battle for the preservation of the United States.

Never before has so much recrimination been aroused. Many individuals and businessmen found it necessary to borrow money to pay taxes.

So intense is the mail on the tax subject that many Congressmen, riding resolution, privately say that a C.W. Harder "yes" for any spending bill will be sure death in November.

If protests continue, the plan to spend another $8 billion dollars this year in gifts to foreign nations will be defeated soundly by bipartisan action.

Senator George Dyer, who will introduce in January by H.R. 10,000, a bill for a "National Commission" to investigate the just how the tax out is spent abroad.

The first job, Rep. Kennedy says, is to actually find out how many billions of dollars expropriated from American taxpayers have been sent to foreign nations. Estimates run all the way from $30 to $92 billions with no one knowing exactly how much has been spent, he adds.

In addition, Kennedy reports no evidence can be secured of any base good being obtained from the vast expenditures.

He states that Congressmen have found the billions already spent have failed to help the ordinary citizen and monopolistic foreign industries.

Weigh well the qualifications of all candidates, then go to the polls May 6 and vote for those you feel will best serve your nation, your state and your community.

It's as simple as...

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Tallahassee — Teachers were back at their desks in Florida this week after a Florida Education Association convention in Miami that seemed to promise them better pay. Robert Turner of Coral Gables was elected president, succeeding A. L. Vergason of Tampa. Delegates elected include Miss Barbara Ameyworth, Tallahassee; Mrs. Clarence Burns, Tampa; Mrs. Frances Nippert, St. Petersburg; Mrs. Margaret McGinnis, Jacksonville; Mrs. Pauline Bull, Jacksonville; Paul Davidson, Miami; Hugh Elsworth, Miami; John Seay, Ocala; and Roy Crosby, Fernandina. The delegates refused to consider a resolution calling for a general strike of teachers to force a special legislative session to raise teaching salaries.

Tallahassee — Southern negroes have been urged by a local negro newspaper to rally behind Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia for president, and help protect the south against exploitation and name-calling. This word came from Leon L. Lewis, publisher of the Record Dispatch, which circulates principally among the negroes.

Tallahassee — Southeastern Telephone Company has been ordered to reduce rates and to rebate over payments in its service area, reaching from Tallahassee west to Fort Walton. The Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission had granted temporary increases last October, then studied the effects. It announced that earnings of the company should be increased no more than $154,000 a year, while the temporary rates would return $305,000, hence the reduction.

Tallahassee — "Every tyrant of our day has made the destruction of the judiciary's independence one of his first objectives," Justice B. K. Roberts of the Florida supreme court told attorneys here in their spring meeting. Justice Roberts pled with the attorneys to carry on the fight they have made successfully in this country to keep the judiciary free from political control. Such freedom has been linked throughout American history with freedom of the press, Roberts continued. He cited the 1733 case of John Peter Zenger who risked liberty and his property to print in his New York Journal a protest by Chief Justice Morris against an attempt by the colonial governor to make the judiciary serve to his will. This case, the Florida justice said, marked the first great milestone in freedom of the press for the people of America.

Tallahassee — After April 30, it is unlawful for candidates to accept money donations, declares Attorney General R. L. W. Evin. The last day on which campaign contributions may be received and used for the first primary is April 30. Anything received less than five days before the election must be returned to the person giving it. This is a part of the 1951 election code covering campaign spending.

County Schools Given Free Food Valued at $8,341.55

Food with a wholesale value of $8,341.55 was provided children in the schools of Highlands County during 1951 without any direct cost to the county's school system, Fred Wild, superintendent of schools, said today.

The commodities are sent to the school system by the State Department of Public Welfare which is responsible for the distribution of surplus commodities made available through the Department of Agriculture's price support program. This is one of the services of the Welfare Department offered in addition to its public assistance and child welfare programs.

Superintendent Wild said that the shipments to Highlands County covered a wide variety of foods, and that all had a high nutritional value for the children. They ranged all the way from cheese and eggs to dried prunes and fresh fruits. Florida-produced, honey and orange juice concentrate went to schools in every county of the state.

The food sent here went to eight different schools with an enrollment of 2,697 students. This is one of the extra services, the county superintendent pointed out, usually not considered when one thinks of the public school program. The food for children as made possible through the cooperative planning and effort of the Federal Department of Agriculture, the State Welfare Department, and the public schools.

Among the foods received in this county were fresh apples; cheese; grapefruit sections; canned peas; and pork shoulder picnics.

There's getting to be too close a relationship between the automobile and the coroner.

Band at State Festival

The Avon Park High School Band, with its director, Gene Gorman, and its chaperones — Mrs. M. G. Whitcomb, Mrs. L. M. Moseley, and Mrs. Bertha Pabor — left early Thursday morning for Tampa, to take part in the 12th annual All-Florida Band Festival, held there May 1-3.

Unfortunately, some band members were absent because of illness. However, the band took with it the hopes and best wishes of our citizens and the expressed conviction that it would make a good showing in spite of that handicap.

There's an added thrill and a certain amount of pleasant suspense for the young musicians taking part in this year's festival, since a team of Hollywood picture men are supposed to be in Tampa during the festival to film scenes for a forthcoming picture, tentatively titled "The Big Brass Band." Members of every band will, naturally, be wondering if the camera will catch them.

Heading the Hollywood group are Jesse J. Lasky, producer, and Norman Taurag, director. With them is Cap Palmer, script writer for the picture, and a number of technicians in addition to making shots for the film — which has a budget of $2,500,000 and will be in technicolor — the group will also gather background information, story material, and local color on school bands for use in the picture.

The Avon Park band completed its part in the Festival Thursday night. The members spent the night at a St. Petersburg hotel, and a luncheon on the beach Saturday. They return home Friday evening.

Second Date For Dog Inoculation

Around 500 dogs were inoculated against rabies and given a license last Saturday afternoon, when the veterinarian was here. But that's not the whole dog population of Avon Park. And since there wasn't time Saturday to take care of all our canine pets, the vet will be at the Fire Station on Wednesday, May 7, from 2:30 to 6:00 p.m. License and inoculation fee is $2.00. Remember, the laws of our city state that all dogs within city limits must be inoculated and licensed.

Cancer Film Is Informative

Partly percent of the money collected by the American Cancer Society during its fund campaign goes to national headquarters for cancer research; the remaining 90 per cent remains in the state to maintain treatment centers for cancer patients, said Dr. J. C. Still, of the State Board of Health, explained slides giving cancer statistics for this state. At the close of the program, Dr. G. L. Beaumont of the County Health Department and Dr. S. A. King answered questions asked by the audience.

The films, "The Doctor Speaks His Mind" and "The Trail of Wilkes" dramatized the danger of neglecting the slight symptoms of early cancer (which are not painful), and portrayed the ways in which cancer cells spread through the body. The seven danger signals which may mean cancer are: 1, any sore that does not heal; 2, a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere; 3, unusual bleeding or discharge from any body opening; 4, any change in a wart or mole; 5, persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing; 6, persistent hoarseness or cough; 7, any change in normal bowel habits.

A campaign to collect donations for the Cancer Fund is now being carried on in this city.

The ancient festival of May Day was celebrated Wednesday afternoon at 10 o'clock in the Mall with the traditional waltzing of the May Poles, dancing to the green music, and the crowning of the May King and Queen, all woven into an "Alice in Wonderland" theme.

Charles Hart and Edgar Pabor were the royal couple, termed the King and Queen of Hearts in keeping with the theme. They were crowned by the King and Queen of Diamonds, Jimmie Cooper and Linda Hart. The two queens are sisters.

The flower-hued gowns of the Queen and the maids of the court, the dainty frocks and bright costumes of the dancers, on the green Mall under the moving pattern of sunlight and tree shadows, formed a picture of springtime beauty and gaiety.

The pageant opened when Alice, played by Jo Ann Granger, and looking very much like an illustration from the book, dozed in her chair. The audience was permitted to share her dream of Wonderland.

The high school band played the opening music, and the accompanying music.

Bob Whitcomb announced the appearance of the various personages.

A chain of brilliant red hibiscus blossoms was borne to the throne by the maid of honor, high school girls. Following them were the ladies of the court and their attendants: Thelma Sims and Donna Whitcomb, the Junior court; Gertrude Bell and Donald King, sophomore class; and Ann Stephens, and Joe K. Skipper, freshman class.

Next came the royal page, children of the elementary school transformed into playing cards for the occasion.

With trumpet fanfare and much pomp, the May Day regalia was announced. The King and Queen of Diamonds appeared first, waiting at the throne to crown the King and Queen of Hearts, who then presided over the festival.

Ambassadors from Wonderland were presented: the fantastic Mad Hatter (Bernie Sechman), the scurrying White Rabbit (Vicki Carter), and the comic twine, Tweedledum and Tweedledee (Gail Faye Wilson and Bobby Crews).

Lesser issues of the third grade danced the court with lively folk dances.

An exotic flamenco then pleased before the audience; the brilliant third was personated by Jan Taylor in a ballet dance.

A western square dance was performed by cowgirls and cowboys who attended our sixth grade.

Part of the day Whitcomb kindergarten formed a rhythm band, complete with snappy uniforms and their own band director.

The interweaving of the May-Pole ribbons, a custom observed in Old England centuries ago, was performed by fifth grade pupils.

May Day having then been celebrated with all proper rites and ceremonies, the audience was dismissed.

The Ruby-Throated Humming Bird

By The Bird Woman

Did you ever yearn to travel, winter in the land of sunshine and parrots, and summer as far north as the Gulf of St. Lawrence, the home of the cross-birds?

Not only a one-way trip, but a return trip too, and not just one year but every year of your life. But wouldn't you hesitate to make the trip on your own if you didn't weigh more than a penny?

Well, this is what the courageous little ruby-throated humming bird does, starting its southern trip in September and returning in May, the male arriving a few days before the female.

Inside this miniature bird, packed off from the Vaucular peninsula, straight out over the Gulf of Mexico, a little unharmed trip of from 300 to 600 miles, and arriving at the proper place, at the proper time. Who taught it?

Have you ever noticed the constant beating of the humming bird's wings? Sometimes these wings whiz at the rate of from 55 to 200 times a second, and we wonder if the bird ever rests its wings. Well, it does. It sits quietly on a branch or twig after its work is done and seems to relax in perfect contentment.

The ruby-throated humming bird is a scrappy little fellow, and where a number congregate at the same clump of flowers, you may see a real duel, their long bills being the fencing foils. Sometimes they will drop to the ground and then they fight with their claws.

We presume this would be termed a feather-weight bout. And although the female builds the nest and attends the young, the male plays the part of "head of the house" to the extent that she has to defend herself whenever she leaves the nest. The male assumes "dog in the yard" tactics, he doesn't supply the food as most males help to do and he seems quite angry when she leaves the nest for food. So we see that we don't have to be a giant to be a "bully," if we can pick on someone smaller than ourselves.

The nest the female builds is a gem of avian architecture, considered the most beautiful of bird's nests. It is dainty like its builder, but durable enough to withstand the winds and rains of the nesting season; about one and a half inches across and made of cottony wool gathered from ferns and other plants, entwined with spider's webs, and then camouflaged by lichens on the outside so that it looks like the branch to which it is attached.

Can you imagine the mother feeding the young with such a long bill? But she does this without even lighting on the nest. She hovers over the young and with rapidly beating wings she thrusts her long bill down the throat of the fledgling. This accomplishes two purposes: first, she uses the regurgitate method of feeding; and second, she touches the nerve in the fledgling's throat so that it swallows.

Young, tender spiders, insects and nectar are their chief diet, and after three weeks the fledglings spring from the rim of the nest and are on their own. And again we marvel — who taught these exotic little creatures the facts of life, how to bathe on a flat leaf where dew puddles collect, and how to find aphids under the curled-up leaves?

If you care to entice these unusual little birds to your yard or garden, plant flowers and shrubs that have trumpet-shaped blossoms, preferably red, and that seems to be their favorite color, and the wonderful Creator has equipped them with long bills so they can collect nectar deep in the flower that even insects and bees cannot reach.

If you hang small bottles with honey or syrup in them in a convenient site and a piece of red cloth around it to attract attention, they will become steady boarders.

We were fortunate in having a real humming bird feeder sent to us, via the Sun. We appreciated it very much, and now we are sure that we have "one" reader.

This Week In Tallahassee

Tallahassee — With 1,180,000 people registered in Florida, the state-wide elections next Tuesday are expected to set new records for attendance. In spite of one of the dullest races in years. Three men, Alto Adams, Dan McCarty and Bradley Odham, are battling it out in the stretch at this week-end. Guessing here is that McCarty is safely in the lead for the first primary, but opinion differs as to which of the other two will win a place in the second primary — if any. Justice B. K. Roberts of the Florida supreme court appears certain to be renominated, as does United States Senator Spessard L. Holland. The only cabinet member with opposition Tom Bailey, the superintendent of public instruction, also is considered sure to be returned to office. The chairman of the state railroad and public utilities commission, Richard Mack, has three opponents. In the registration figures, Dade county leads with 238,678 voters. Smallest county is Liberty with 1,820 Democrats and five Republicans.

Tallahassee — The state highway patrol this week started inspecting automobiles in Florida, expecting to find dangerous defects in every third vehicle. Small green stickers will be given drivers of cars found acceptable under safety standard. Those in dangerous condition may bring arrest to the drivers — especially the bad ones. Note: those campaign stickers will get you a bad mark if they obscure vision. The patrol expects to look over 200,000 cars and trucks this coming month.

Tallahassee — If you suspect termites but buy the house without digging into it, the supreme court of Florida says you are at fault and cannot get damages. The court said that Mr. and Mrs. Pete J. Davis of Dade county should not have accepted the word of the seller but should have dug into the plaster themselves to see if termites were chewing away. They were.

Tallahassee — Tom Bailey, the state school superintendent, reports that the minimum foundation program and excellent schools are attracting permanent residents. Since 1947, he said, when the minimum foundation program for state support of common schools was written into law, the eyes of the nation have turned southward to look at schools instead of bathing beauties or white sand beaches.

THE SHERIFFS JOB

Now, this Sheriff's job is a curious one; Like the housewife's work, it's never done. Calls come by night and come by day; They may be near, or miles away. Do hurry up, says the voice of the caller; You're badly needed in Han Scratch. Paw's on a rampage; he's got a gun; Been looking for Paw since half-past one. So we jump in our silver and hit the trail; And drive like a streamliner carrying the mail. Our only hope and all we can figure, Is to be on hand before Paw pulls the trigger. We finally arrive and amid confusion— We learn the affair was a simple delusion. Paw with his gun was just hunting squirrels; Paw had gone to school with the two oldest girls. Next day we're hunting a mottled-faced cow; That night we referee a nice family row. Now, that's just a sample of what we do; An endless variety of the old and the new. It may be a preview, a bumper, a drink; He may steal your blizzard, your watch or your trunk. We set out to catch him, and we do our best; We catch our percentage and lose the rest. We can't catch them all, for some leave no clue— They don't leave their cards, like the candidates do. Sometimes they plead guilty, and the judge will pool. Then half of the country will want them pool. They blame the government, the New Deal, the tariff— But most of the folks put the blame on the sheriff. So it's quite a game if you stay right in— You'll get a pat on the back, and a sock on the chin. But, I like it, and I'm shunning no tears— And I'd like to be your sheriff for another four years.

Social Security Information

Many working women of today, who are employed in jobs covered by social security, are not aware that they are providing for themselves in the old age and are also insuring their dependent children, husbands, or parents in the event of their deaths. Other women who have not worked under social security long enough to be insured on their own account should know that they and their children are protected by the earnings records of their husbands.

Through provisions of the new Social Security Act, children under age 18 may now receive monthly benefits on either their mothers' or their fathers' work records.

A dependent husband (who was getting at least one-half of his support from his working wife) may now receive benefits on his retired husband's payments; a widow receives 75 percent. A dependent divorced wife under 65 may receive monthly payments if she has a child of her ex-husband in her care.

Parents may be eligible for monthly payments at age 65 if they received at least 50 percent of their support from their sons or daughters before their deaths. The new social security law provides also for lump-sum death payments in every case, even though there may be a widow, widower, parent, or child entitled to monthly benefits. In the event neither a widow nor widower survives the lump sum is payable to the one who paid the burial expenses.

A husband must file proof of support within two years after his wife's death for entitlement; a dependent parent within two years of his child's death.

Applications for payment of the lump sum must also be filed within two years after death unless the wage earner was in the military services or the applicant was overseas during World War II.

It is advisable for members of a family to write the social security office at 807 Madeleine Arcade Building, Lakeland, in the event of the death, or retirement after age 65 of any wage earner. For the time and place of the Social Security Representative's next visit to this community, consult your local postoffice.

VETERANS INFORMATION

A new VA ruling will speed up outpatient dental treatment for recently-discharged veterans, considerably.

In order to expedite determination of service-connection, veterans who apply for VA outpatient dental treatment within one year after discharge from active service will be given routine examination.

Outpatient dental care of veterans is restricted to service-connected conditions, such as disability must have occurred or aggravated in service. Under the new system veterans of the Korean conflict may be examined immediately for dental trouble.

Eligible veterans seeking outpatient dental care will first apply at the nearest VA Regional Office, or through their local Veterans' Service Officer. If VA dental clinic service is not available the veteran may choose to be treated by private dentists. The application for outpatient care will be forwarded, together with the results of the dental examination, to the VA adjudication division for determination of service-connection. A final determination will then be made by comparing the examination findings with the veteran's military records.

Unless the veteran obtains prior VA approval for the outpatient treatment, he must bear the expense, as the VA will not reimburse veterans for any dental work when they pay the dentist. In the event you desire assistance in filing a claim for free dental care, contact your local Veterans' Service Officer or write the State Service Office, P. O. Box 1437, St. Petersburg.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay

With the deadline drawing near, candidates have been galloping around like crazy trying to reach every possible voter. The three leading contenders in the gubernatorial race for all have been hitting a terrific pace and all will welcome a breathing spell.

Wonder-boy of the campaign has been Bradley Odham, the 32-year-old political maverick who introduced talkathons and junior talkathons that gave the customers a chance to join in the fun. In spite of his opponents' efforts to discount his talkathons, any observer who has followed Odham's trail and checked results will tell you that they have clicked in a big way.

While I still consider Dan McCarty high man and would have given him a win in the first primary three weeks ago, it is my guess that Bradley is a close second today and it would not surprise me in the least to see him in the run-off.

Although Adams' supporters will tell you Odham is taking votes from McCarty and McCarty folks will insist that he is cutting heavily on Adams, it remains a fact that the young man from Sanford has been switching votes from both of them and is getting to the people more effectively than either of them.

His "Dollars for Decency" slogan caught on from the start and is still pulling dollars out of the pockets of the voters. Heretofore, only the big boys put out the campaign money in more or less substantial amounts.

Now a little guy can get in on the act with a single buck and he likes it. What's more when a fellow puts even one dollar on a man he puts his heart and interest in that candidate along with it. He will get out and work and do his best to get friends and neighbors to do likewise.

If the governor's race goes to the second primary, and my guess is it will, you will see the doggedest political melee this state has witnessed in many a day. For the most part, up to now, McCarty and Adams have discounted the Cracker Boy from Sanford and have been firing point blank at each other.

With McCarty and Odham in a run-off the fur will fly and no foolin'. Adams' voters will be in all probability swinging to McCarty, and with this advantage and a heavy first primary vote to start with Odham would have to put on a miraculous second primary campaign to win, but considering what he has done so far I'm not discounting him for just about anything can happen.

In the Supreme Court melee it looks like Judge B. K. Roberts all the way to me. He should win easily in the first primary. The Judge has every qualification for the post and a record of ability and public service that cannot be discounted.

Reports coming in from all sections of the state indicate that Judge Tom Ferguson of Miami is really giving Richard Mack a run for his money in the race for Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commissioner. While Mack has the advantage that always attends the man in office, Ferguson has been putting on an energetic campaign and has built up support throughout the state that cannot be laughed off. I look for a run-off in this race between Mack and Ferguson.

Mrs. Louise Afford, National Democratic Committeewoman, has a tough opponent in Polly Rose Bailey. Polly knows her way around politically and she has been campaigning with a vim.

Mrs. Afford has been handicapped through the serious illness of her husband who had a heart attack and who is still in the hospital, but she also has an advantage in being the first on the ballot and that really goes count in the minor office race. Anything can happen in this race and as there are only two contenders - there won't be any second primary. One or the other of these candidates will win and that will be that.

One thing I do hope is that all qualified voters will go to the polls on Tuesday May 6 and cast their ballot for the candidates of their choice. A record-smashing vote would give Florida a good name throughout the nation as a state where the citizens appreciate their blessings and the advantages that American citizenship affords and are willing to assume their civic duty and have a voice in government.

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

THE WISE MAN LEARNS TO LIVE

Rev. H. D. Graetz

United Congregational Church
"Your Father knoweth what things ye have need of before you ask Him," Matthew 6:8
"There's a divinity that shapes our ends, rough hew them as we will." This line from Shakespeare's "Hamlet" expresses much the same thought as our text. God knows. God cares. God has a plan and purpose for our lives. We are instruments for the working out of God's plan for the world. Faith in God's promise both dignifies and gives meaning to our existence.

A great faith is need for great living. A true religious faith and a true life complement one another. Look around you and you will discover that the best people you know are usually the most truly religious people. They are the people who have the most in them and the most to them.

How do we discover God's plan for our lives? We are all interested in knowing the answer to that question. Well, let us see. We must open our hearts toward others before we can open our lives toward God. "Therefore, if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath opposed against thee; Leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way; first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift." We must set our lives in harmony with those about us. In doing so, we must necessarily discard attitudes, motives and actions that are foreign to the will of God.

We should make an acquaintance with the teachings of our Lord Jesus Christ and the great souls of the past; those attuned to God's purpose for life. Someone once asked Socrates how to make the venture of life a success, and the wise old Athenian said in substance: "Let the person consult some wise men who have lived their life successfully, someone who has made the voyage and has weathered the storms and waterspouts of life. Let him listen carefully to the report of the far-traveled voyager, and then, let him make his own voyage of life, 'as on a raft not without risk'."

Finally, we should listen to the voice of God within the soul. Hugh Walpole has said the author say to the younger in "Fortitude": "The whole duty of art is listening for the voice of God. I have hurried, I have scrambled, I have fought and striven, but as an artist only those hours that I have spent in listening, waiting, have been my real life." In grateful moments of quiet devotion God speaks His word to our hearts. God's will is manifested to the mind that is stayed on Him.

Mrs. Ethel Patten Ames
Mrs. Ethel Patten Ames, 78, died Saturday in a St. Cloud nursing home following a long illness. For the past several years she had made her home here with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Ginn.

Mrs. Ames was born in Silver Lake, Kansas, and attended the public schools there and was graduated from Kansas State Agricultural College in 1895. She moved with her husband to Florida in 1915, settling near Kissimmee. She taught in the public schools of Kissimmee from 1919 to 1925 and in the Loughman schools for several years.

Though her membership was in the Methodist Church of Loughman, she was an active worker in the First Methodist Church of this city until illness claimed her. The Ethel Ames Circle of the W.S.C.S. was so named a few years ago in loving tribute to her. She is survived by two sons, F. Byron Ames of Zephyrhills, Florida, Burton W. Ames of Gainesville, Florida, and one daughter, Mrs. C. R. Ginn of this city; two brothers, John V. Patten, Sycamore, Illinois, Ernest B. Patten, Carthage, South Dakota; and one sister, Mrs. Jeanette Conner, Sycamore, Illinois; two grandchildren and four step-grandchildren.

Funeral services were at 2:00 p.m. Monday at the First Methodist Church, Kissimmee, with the Rev. E. H. Crowson, pastor of the Loughman Methodist Church, officiating. Interment followed in Rose Hill Cemetery there. Pallbearers were: Laurence Rogers, Edward Grissom, H. Harold Goodell, Newton Gaffney, Sam Lupter, all of Kissimmee, and J. Colin DeShong of Avon Park.

KEEP CALM: SWIM

When you swim this summer, keep your head and don't get panicky. Usually drowning is caused by exhaustion, panic or cramps. The emphasis should be on panic, because a cool head even in cases of exhaustion or cramps more than likely will get the swimmer safely to shore.

The fat and air in the human body make 90 percent of men and practically all women buoyant. This buoyancy, also called "floatability" enables nearly anyone to stay afloat with little effort and without any knowledge of swimming.

It is easy to lie back in the water and test your buoyancy by floating out which part of the body tends to sink first. If you are leg-heavy, concentrate your efforts on keeping the lower part of your body up by turning your legs. If your head goes down first, use your arms. Another great help will be learning to hold your breath under water for a minute or more—an insurance against panic if your head is temporarily under water.

Another point to remember is not to let the waves frighten you. While they may seem to be running against you giving the illusion that you are being carried away from shore, if you fix your gaze upon some stationary object you will see that you are really making progress as long as you are swimming.

Another so-called menace is weeds and grass. These plants, moving back and forth in the water, are sometimes accused of waiting to grasp and pull down the innocent bather. But they actually are moving with the water and have no strength of their own. Everyone whether or not they make it a practice to go swimming in summer should learn the fundamentals of keeping themselves afloat. Sometimes a life may depend upon this knowledge. And when you swim, keep your head and save your life.

Join the Cancer Crusade... your support may save many lives.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By G. W. Harder

There is probably no bureau which gets out as much press material as the Office of Price Stabilization, better known as the Office Price Survey.

With reports of slow business from all over the country, OPS officials, either unwilling or incapable of working in private employment, are seeking every possible means to justify existence on the public payroll.

G. W. Harder, as which are set so far below the arbitrary ceiling, that no one pays any attention to them.

A short while ago, with lots of fans and feathers, and great expense of tax money, OPS started a test in three cities, requiring all food stores to post their ceiling prices. This was supposed to be the start of a national food price posting orgy. However, it died a-borning.

The reason? No one gave a hoot, least of all the consumers. The grocers themselves are selling no far below ceiling prices, that posting the price ceilings was pure comedy.

But in a time when month after month, Federal Reserve figures show retail trade declining, the OPS is plenty busy.

The facts are that the Office Price Survey has filed more suits for alleged violations of price ceilings during these months of declining business than ever before.

And while so far no huge combine has been proceeded against, the OPS has confined itself to the gradual persecution of independent business.

small businesses of the land.

In fact, many businessmen would be happy if OPS could shut down for good. As OPS is a ceiling prices, because competition for the consumer's patronage doesn't permit them to get such prices.

One of the latest suits filed by OPS could very well be the booming that could knock the office out of existence.

The Rock Island Company of Michigan is charged with selling copper to Kaiser-Fraser at over the ceiling price of 15 cents per pound.

Actually, the suit does not charge that Rock sold the copper for less than the ceiling, but in exchange for this copper, it took from Kaiser-Fraser some cold steel, on the basis of 18 cents per pound, which was under the OPS ceiling price for cold steel. Note, under OPS ceiling price, not the prevailing market price.

Therefore, the OPS reasons, the metal firm made an extra profit on the copper because it took steel in trade for less than the OPS ceiling price, and, worse than all, the company apparently found a buyer who wanted the steel and was willing to pay them a price that resulted in a profit.

It does not seem to enter OPS reasoning that perhaps Kaiser-Fraser was overloaded with this type of steel, and was unable to find a buyer for it, and rather than let it rust, was willing to liquidate at any price.

But the biggest sin so far developed by OPS was that a small metal firm did make a profit out of the transaction. And that, according to OPS, is illegal, because nobody should make a profit, after all, who makes a profit is a scoundrel!

AVON PARK, FLORIDA, FRIDAY, MAY 9, 1952

NUMBER 26

McCarty and Odham in Runoff Tuesday, May 27th

Dan McCarty held an unprecedented first primary lead of more than 115,000 votes over his nearest rival for the governorship of Florida Wednesday night, but it didn't seem quite enough to keep him from having to run it off with Bailey Odham.

With only 58 precincts left to report, McCarty was some 17,000 votes short of the total of the other four candidates. He had about 48.7 percent of the total cast. He needed one vote more than 50 percent to become the first man to win the governorship without a primary.

It was doubtful that the outstanding votes, plus some 15,000 or 20,000 absentee ballots still to be counted, would make up the difference.

Returns from 1624 of the state's 1682 precincts gave McCarty 338, 225, Odham 223,337, former Supreme Court Justice Alvin Adams
118,077, Ku Klux Klan Chief Bill
Hendrix 10,862 and Dale Spencer 6042.

McCarty headquarters at Fort Pierce said plans are being made to carry on the campaign for the second primary May 27. Odham also was planning to continue his drive that brought him out of the field into the position as a contender. He challenged McCarty to a joint speaking tour.

It will be the only statewide contest on the May 27 ticket besides the election of delegates to the Democratic national convention. The Republicans also will have a runoff for the governor-ship nomination between Harry S.
Swain and Earl Abernethy.

National Memorial Day at Walker Memorial Hospital

Walker Memorial Hospital and Hospital will observe National Memorial Day Monday, May 12, by having open house for them to desire to visit the institution.

Conducted tours have been arranged for the afternoon between the hours of one and five o'clock.
All are invited, and especially any who may not have visited the hospital are urged to see what your institution has to offer in medical services.

Arrangements have been made through Principal A. E. White to give the Avon Park High School students a "behind the scenes" glimpse of what goes on in a hospital. The group will be divided into four sections, with tours at 9:30 and 10:30 a.m. also 1:00 and 4:00 p.m.

After the tour an essay contest will be conducted in the English Department of the high school on the subject, "What Walker Memorial Sanitarium and Hospital Means to My Community, My Family, and Myself." First and second prizes will be awarded the winners. The first prize essay will appear in a subsequent issue of the Avon Park Sun.

Doyle Carlton Jr. Elected State Senator

Doyle E. Carlton Jr., 29-year-old son of the former Florida governor, made his political debut an astounding one in Tuesday's Democratic primary as he swept to victory in the 27th District state senate race over two opponents.

Complete returns from the 63 precincts in the four counties of Hardee, Highlands, Glades and DeSoto gave the Wauscha rancher
5281 votes to 4949 for Sebring
Mayor J. D. Mitchell and 751 for Dave Elliott of Sebring. Carlton easily carried every county, and had a 4-1 margin in a Hardee, where he resides.

Senator James W. Moore of Sebring did not seek reelection.

Death Takes APHS Senior

Grief darkened the anticipation of Commencement festivities for the Senior Class of our high school last Sunday, May 4, when Joseph Alton Langston, 19, died at his home. He was to have graduated this June.

It was discovered several years ago, during a routine physical examination of prospective school football players, that Alton had a serious heart defect, presumably the result of an attack of rheumatic fever he suffered as a child.
In spite of his handicap, Alton insisted on leading as normal a life as possible. He had hoped that he would be able to graduate with his class. He was well-liked by his classmates and his teachers.

Born in Bowling Green, Florida, Alton came to Avon Park seven years ago with his parents, Mr.
and Mrs. R. R. Langston. Mr.
Langston is an employee of Avon
Florida Citrus Corporation.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a sister, Betty Sue Langston, and four brothers, J. C.
Langston, Fort Meade, R. W.
Langston, Missouri, D. R. Langston, Bowling Green, and J. M.
Langston, Mississippi.

Funeral services were held at the Church of God, Tuesday, May 6, at 2:30 p.m. The Rev. Roy C.
Miller officiating. Interment was in Sebring Green in Mount Pistache cemetery, with Maude Fennell Harris in charge of arrangements.

It will be the only statewide contest on the May 27 ticket besides the election of delegates to the Democratic national convention. The Republicans also will have a runoff for the governor-
ship nomination between Harry S.
Swain and Earl Abernethy.

Motorcade Visits Migrant Centers

An interesting visit to centers for migrant workers in the Oke-chobee region was made by members of the Union Congregational Church last Monday. The motor-cade, sponsored by the Covenant Circle, left the church at 1:40 a.m., en route to the centers.

The group was led by Mr. C. H. Shugherd, Mrs. Ada Miller, and the Rev. John E. Pichman.

Accompanying them were: Mrs.
O. Norris, Mrs. Annie Dick,
Miss Marjorie Reis, Mrs. H. J.
Hahn, Mrs. James Lutzon, Mrs.
A. E. Maynard, Mrs. Loretta Easton, Mrs. David Farrell, Mrs.
Hicks, Mrs. John Pichman.

The visitors first inspected the white migrant center at Clewiston, where Mr. and Mrs. Julian Griggs are in charge of the service center.
They then visited the Negro migrant center at Belle Glade, where the Rev. John Pichman is in charge.
This is the next to the largest center in the United States, serving 3000 persons. While there, Mr. Pichman addressed briefly the young people of the high school.

These service centers, which maintain Sunday schools, workshops and recreational facilities, are under the direction of the Migrant Council, and supported by the National Mission Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

Fiddlesticks! My Man Lost!

Marilyn Sue Smith doesn't seem too well pleased to learn that her father, Mr. Charles S. Donaldson, has lost his fiddlesticks. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Langston, and she is also the granddaughter of Congressman Mr. Roy C. Miller.

Charles S. Donaldson, Father of Park's Famous Mall, Died Saturday

The business places of our city were closed Tuesday afternoon between the hours of 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. in honor of the memory of Charles S. Donaldson, 64, prominent and beloved citizen of Avon Park.

He was the founder of the mall,
and the originator of the movement to develop Highlands Hammock as a state park. Both are living monuments to him.

Mr. Donaldson's death at Walker Memorial Hospital early Saturday morning, May 3, closed a long and full life. Chief of the consullar division of the Federal Government from 1940 to 1945, he has previously been a northern newspaper editor, and a member of the United States Senate.

At one time, he was associated with the Western Newspaper Union in Charlotte, N.C.
He was also editor of official bulletin papers for the Federal Government. A citrus grower here, he was noted for his expert knowledge of plants.

He first came to Avon Park on a visit in 1920, returning to settle here in 1927. He became a civic leader, Highlands Park No. 69 of the American Legion awarding him a large silver cup "in recognition of the most outstanding and meritorious, and unselfish service to the City of Avon Park during the year 1948." He was Mayor of Avon Park for two terms, being chosen to fill out the term of Mayor William King, accidentally killed on February 11, 1929, and then being re-elected.

It was during his terms as Mayor that the mile-long Mall, a distinctive feature of our city, was laid out from plans drawn by the late L. H. Park, architect.
Mr. Donaldson planted the Mall with Jacaranda trees, palms, and other plants, including the exotic cactus garden, contributing his own labor, time and plant specimens as a free gift to his community.

He also made a thorough study of plant life in Highlands Hammock, listing and describing the trees, shrubs, and wild flowers there, and writing a treatise on them, which is now out of print.

Noted as a plant expert, he termed his study of plants his "hobby", and referred to himself as an "amateur" rather than a botanist. His work on the subject has been well known in the botanical world, and he has been abroad, in many countries, to study the plants of the world.

He kept up his work with plants until shortly before his death. At his home, he cultivated many tropical flowers as the jack-fruit tree. During 1939-41, he contributed a series of articles to the Sun on exotic trees and plants in this vicinity, with the hope of stimulating interest in their preservation and cultivation.

Mr. Donaldson was born in Kittanning, Pa. March 26, 1884, his paternal ancestors having come from Edinburgh, Scotland, to Philadelphia, at a date previous to the arrival of William Penn.
He was a Past Master of the Masonic lodge of Charlotte, N.C., and an honorary member of the local Poinsettia Masonic Lodge.

A member of the Union Congregational Church, and a member of the Presbyterian church before he came to Avon Park, Mr. Donaldson had been active in church work during most of his mature life. He was at one time superintendent of the Sunday school and a deacon of the Union Church.
His friends, in paying tribute to him, speak of him as one who exemplified the true spirit of Christianity in his daily life.

Mr. Donaldson is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary B. Donaldson, and a son, Dr. John Donaldson, both of Avon Park; a brother,
Dr. Lewis M. Donaldson, West Newton, Pa.; and one grandson, John Charles Donaldson, Donaldson, of Washington, D.C.

Funeral service was held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Stephenson Funeral Home Chapel,
the Rev. Herbert D. Granger officiating. Burial was in Bougainvillea Cemetery.

Active pallbearers were: Herbert Todd, H. B. Donaldson, S. F.
Longbottom, S. Colquhoun, C. E.
Lanier, and Raymond Dill-more.

Honorary: Dr. I. W. Chandler,
C. W. Hood, Fred Smith, C. E.

Judges Prize APHS Band and Soloists At State Festival

A superior rating for marching was won by the Avon Park High School band at the All-Florida
Band Festival in Tampa last Thursday, May 1, and the comment by Dr. William Revelli, a judge, that it is "a very appearing band and plays with good concert." The dancing chorus of maidenettes was termed "superb," and it was noted that the trombone (Jack Ward) "is terrific—lots of talent."

Jack Ward as student conductor was marked "superior," and commented on as "a very competent student conductor."

Soloists and their ratings were:
Patsy Martin, tripping, excellent;
Beth Spang, clarinet, superior;
Pat Sherfield, tuba, flute, superior; Carolyn Bolt, clarinet, excellent.

The band received excellent in concert and sight reading. However, one of the band judges, Mark Hindley, thought the band's concert playing rated superior, calling it a "very finetuned band."

P. J. Gustaf Sr. of Sebring commented that our band is "always a band that any community can justly be proud of... its precision and playing ever a pleasure to see and hear."

It was decided by the judges that the strong points of the band are its playing and its special features.

Jane Suggs Hall, of Avon Park and Gainesville, was at the committee table, and she was and was superior for a flute solo.

TWO FIRES FOUND TOO LATE

Two fires, resulting in major property loss, occurred the end of last week. In both cases, the fire was well advanced before discovery and turning in of fire alarm.

On May 1, at 4:55, alarm was given for a warehouse on Central, owned by Housco Skipper packing house. It was stored with several tons of excelsior and a number of truck tires. The Fire Department poured 14 gallons of water on the flames, but could not save the property. There was $3990 damage. It is thought children playing in the structure set it afire. Fire had been burning at least 15 minutes before found.

On May 2, at 8:45, the dwelling house of Love Dozier in crate mill colored quarters burned; house and contents worth $1250, a total loss. The house was completely aflame before fireman arrived. Fire presumably started by kerosene lamp left burning when house was vacant.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY?

By Russell Kay

Last week and I was privileged to attend the annual dinner of the Associated Industries of Florida held at the George Washington Hotel in Jacksonville. Speaker of the evening was Fulton Lewis, Jr., nationally known Mutual network news commentator and columnist.

I have long admired Lewis, enjoyed his broadcasts and his writing, but found him even more appealing as a speaker. I wish that every man, woman and child in Florida could have heard him for his message was one every American should bear and thoughtfully consider.

What he said wasn't pleasant, in fact it was downright frightening. Speaking straight from the shoulder, with good reason, Lewis pictured the pitiful situation this nation is in today as clearly and vividly as it could possibly be presented.

Like Christ flaying the money-changers in the Temple, Lewis, his voice ringing with anger, tongue-lashed the petty politicians, the 10 percenters, the chiselers, the political opportunists, the reds and pinkies, moral degenerates and all the rest of the ghastly, sickening board that today sit in the seats of the mighty and eagerly sell this country down the river for 30 pieces of silver.

He called on the decent men and women of America to arise and smite these parasites. He urged a rebirth of the "Spirit of '76"—a return to the tried and proven philosophy of Washington, Jefferson, Franklin, Lincoln and other great Americans who looked on public office as a public trust, God-fearing, courageous patriots who founded and safeguarded this nation so that you and I might enjoy its freedom and liberty.

Pointing out that President Truman during his term of office has spent more money than all of the other presidents since Washington, he pictured our precarious position balanced above the chasm of economic and financial disaster which could be even more destructive than a flock of atomic bombs.

It wasn't a great many years ago that this nation was saved when the expenditure of one billion dollars was being given congressional consideration. Now we talk in terms of countless billions and the people do not even blink a hair—why should they? Who can visualize the meaning of the word "billions"?

To forcefully present it in terms that the average person could understand, Lewis urged that we visualize a printing press capable of printing a brand new dollar bill every second. He pointed out that if such a press had been put in operation the day Christ was born, and since that time had been operating continuously for 24 hours a day turning out dollar bills every second without let up through the rise and fall of the Roman Empire, the voyage of Christopher Columbus, discovery of the new world, and all those dollar bills were stacked in a pile, we would still find ourselves faced with such a pitifully few dollars that if we wished to pay off the national debt that is now ours we would find that the press would have to continue to run 24 hours a day turning out a dollar every second for another 5,000 years before we would have enough dollars to meet the debt.

The American dollar that used to be worth 100 cents and could be spent on that basis is now worth only 50 cents. If we continue to permit the extravagance and waste now being practiced by all governmental subdivisions plus ever increasing federal, city, county, state and federal, that city, county, state and federal, that city will continue to shrink in value until the nation is thrown into economic chaos.

The philosophy of the present administration seems to be that we can have our cake and eat it too; we can spend and spend, elect and elect, TAX and TAX and that there will never come a day of reckoning. History tells a different story, nation after nation before us has traveled the same perilous path only to meet its destruction.

Unless we as a people, you and I and our neighbor, come to the realization of what is happening to us and standing shoulder to shoulder, forget petty politics, and vote for ourselves and our children, for principles rather than men, for honesty, integrity and down-to-earth common sense administration, a balanced budget, and individual independence, we will find ourselves behind an Iron Curtain of our own making.

We have had enough of "New Deals" of "Fair Deals" and political catch words. These silly and false philosophies have brought a great, powerful and proud nation to its whimpering knees; we no longer can defend our liberties from torture and oppression, we wallow in the filthy slimes of fear.

Unless we, as a people, and our leaders to account, unless we as individuals take an interest in government and demand an accounting, God Help America.

Memorial Services At Great Masterpiece Memorial Day

Lake Wales — (Special)—More than 500 persons are expected to attend the Memorial Day ceremony at the Great Masterpiece on May 30 at 11 a.m. it was announced by C. A. Gillen, vice president of American Legion Post No. 7.

The Lake Wales post is sponsoring the services, at which former U. S. Senator Claude Pepper will be the principal speaker.

Between American Legion posts, state, county, and city officials and a group of civic leaders have been asked to attend the Memorial Day ceremony, the first ever held at the Great Masterpiece.

A special honor guard from the South Air Police Squadron at McChesney Air Force base is expected to participate in the honoring of our war dead.

State Attorney Walter Woodcock will be the master of ceremonies during the services, which will include the raising of the American flag to half-mast, special music, introduction of guests, address by former senator Claude Pepper, firing of three volleys by honor guard, playing of taps and the benediction.

The Great Masterpiece will be open free to all those wishing to attend the ceremony from 9 a.m. to 12 o'clock (noon). During the remainder of the day proceeds from the sale of tickets, souvenirs and refreshments will go to the welfare fund of the Lake Wales legion post, according to Gerdt A. Wagner, general manager.

The ceremony will be held at the Great Masterpiece Court of Flags.

Florida Taxes To Uncle Sam

Floridians paid a cash total of $514,006,933 in taxes to Uncle Sam last year.

In addition to this amount, a further sum of $170,000,000 was estimated by the Florida State Chamber of Commerce as being paid from Florida in hidden federal taxes during 1951. Thus Floridians paid into the federal till alone, 20 per cent of their income from all sources. State and local taxes are not included in these figures.

This week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division lists the sums which make up the $514,006,933 total. Individual income taxes not withheld, the heaviest paying category, amounted to $162,380, 013, up 42 percent from 1950. Individual taxes withheld reached $167,912,256, more by 46 per cent than during the previous year.

Corporations, paying $90,555, 688, showed an increase of 42 percent in federal taxes paid. Unemployment insurance collected in Florida in 1951 reached $2,428,627, a 13 per cent increase. Miscellaneous collections, including taxes on liquors, tobacco, jewelry, cosmetics, etc. amounted to $70,530,344, more by 15 per cent than in 1950.

Collections in Florida in 1951 were 39 per cent above collections in 1950. The national increase was 41 per cent.

A Year of Civic Service Closed By Woman's Club

The completion of the fund for building the new library was cited as the major service of the Woman's Club to this community by Mrs. S. O. Norris, president, in her final report delivered to the club last Friday afternoon, May 2, in the Jacaranda Hotel's Palm Room, at the last meeting for this season.

Mrs. Norris, who has been president for the last two years, reminded members that the object of the club is to expand the interests and influence of women and by united efforts to promote community development along civic, educational, religious and social lines.

Among the activities listed by Mrs. Norris were the support of the Youth Center here; support and contribution to the cancer, church of Deacons, and T. B. fund campaigns; cooperation with the State Federation in supporting an Indian student, Billy Cecelia, at Florida Southern College; contribution to the Pecos Art Fund and to an additional endorsement fund. In addition, the club has a scholarship fund which has been on loan but has now been repaid.

The club also sent a box of clothing to the Jacksonville orphanage for Christmas, as well as contributing to the local Christmas Cheer baskets.

On March 11 the opening of the new library was held, and Mrs. Norris, on behalf of the club, complimented the building committee on its fine work.

The club has received 11 new members this year.

Mrs. Norris further reported that she had attended all state-ward meetings and conventions, had been present at all regular meetings and executive board meetings, and had called special meetings when necessary. She expressed her pleasure in having been able to serve the club for two years, and thanked all members for their support and cooperation.

Mrs. E. G. Todd, chairman of the library committee, delivered the report on the library; this will be published next week.

The officers for the coming year were installed, with Mrs. Charles F. Kennedy, president; Mrs. Glenn Boston, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. J. W. Zimmerman, registrar, present at the meeting. WASHINGTON
NEWS LETTER

From Business
U.S.S.

A number of... have written me about... political races... will be made as... summary.

The Florida delegation's policy... in fact other... not apply to... preference... outstanding... are not Floridians.

It obviously has not been the... of most of our citizens... acquainted with... from outside the state.

We in Congress have had the... to observe these two candidates. We have served with them in the Congress, we know their strength... and their weaknesses... and we feel obligated to pass on to our fellow citizens our evaluation of their abilities.

We are not presuming to tell voters for whom they should cast their ballots.

We do urge them to study the issues, to compare the records of the two candidates and ask themselves these questions:

Which one stands firmest for a sound money policy, balancing the budget, preserving our free enterprise system and protecting our economy?

Which one has the best record on the issues of anti-subversion and "world federalism?"

Which offers assurance of continued adherence to America's democratic principles and customs, dear to all of us?

Which stands strongest against pressures of special interests seeking special legislation?

Florida's congressional delegation is united in support of Senator Russell because of his outstanding ability, his experience and his splendid character. He offers the sound leadership this nation badly needs.

Senator Russell is opposed by Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee who has been a personal friend of mine since I came to Congress six years ago. He is running, apparently, on the basis of his work as Senate Crime Committee chairman. He knows the Florida delegation supported and aided him in his anti-crime work. He knows that "gangsterism" is no issue in this campaign.

Florida's primary is a crucial one. If Senator Russell gets our state's endorsement, he will be assured of going to the convention with more pledged delegates than any other candidate. He now has substantial support outside the South. Although he has not campaigned nationally because of his insistence upon fulfilling strictly his legislative obligations he has been quietly assured of substantial support throughout the country.

In this primary the eyes of the nation will be on Florida. People all over the country are interested in knowing that the Florida people have voted for their kind of democracy.

This challenge should inspire a big turnout at the polls next Tuesday. Your vote may decide who will be the next President of the United States. It may be the most important vote you ever cast.

For County Superintendent
Re-Elect

Fred Wild

He Has Done A Good Job:

The records show improvements in all departments of the County School System during his administration.

He Is Qualified For The Job:

By having the "know-how" which is essential for the job.
By being trained for the job (He has a master degree in School Administration).
By capable, loyal, and efficient service during his administration.

He Should Be Re-Elected To The Job:

Because he is qualified.
Because he has been tried and proved successful.
Because he will continue to devote full time to the job and work for improvements in all the schools of the County so that our children will receive a more Democratic, thorough, and worthwhile education.

A common man for common people. Jim Mitchell is not a premature group candidate. He is not promoting himself; he is promoting the interest of the people. He is not being built up by someone else for a bigger job. He has no ambitions for a bigger job.

This is not a job for a boy; it is a MAN'S job. If it were a job for a boy, I have a son on the firing line in Korea who would qualify as well as any other boy. This job calls for a man of mature judgment, one who has political experience and the ability to get along with people.
