"GOD'S HONOR ROLL"

Robert T. Liner, Pastor
First Baptist Church
"The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life; and he that winneth souls is wise." (Proverbs 11:30)
And they that will be wise, let them shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever." (Daniel 12:3)

God says that a person shows evidence of wisdom when he wins souls. If soul winning is a mark of wisdom, then there are many people woefully lacking in intelligence.

An honor roll is something that we all understand. The high schools post an honor roll of those students who make certain grades in their studies. The colleges have a dean's list which is often in the newspapers to the honor of those who have attained to certain scholastic standards.

Even some churches have honor rolls. I receive bulletins from many churches which publish honor rolls of those who contribute regularly to the support of the work, or an honor roll of those who have distinguished themselves by faithful church attendance.

God has an honor roll. The way to attain a place on this honor roll is pointed out in the verses which form the text for this message. "He that winneth souls is wise." "They that turn many to righteousness shall shine as the stars for ever and ever."

If you are Christians worthy of the name, you will never be satisfied until you have your names on God's honor roll. I want to give three characteristics of those who attain a place on God's honor roll.

I. God's honor roll is attained by those who engage in the greatest of all work—soul winning. Soul winning is a task committed unto all God's children, but it is shunned by many. Those who shun the task and refuse to work will never be listed on God's honor roll.

The wise man turns to this task. He recognizes the greatness and the preeminence of it. The foolish man spends his life on secondary things—the making of money, the seeking of pleasure, the striving for social and political prominence.

The wise preacher makes his main work soul winning. He does not spend his life dealing with non-essentials. He is not concerned about programs—he is concerned about winning the soul.

MEMORIAL SUNDAY AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

A special Memorial Sunday service will be held at the Union Congregational Church on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Prayers will be said for patriot souls of deathless fame and for the great causes for which they died.

GOOD HEALTH:

1. ARE PEOPLE SPENDING LESS TIME IN HOSPITALS?

Answer to Question No. 1:
The average length of stay in general hospitals in the United States today is about 20 to 25 per cent less than it was in 1940. This improvement is largely the result of medical advances, early ambulation after surgery and childbirth, and the use of blood transfusions.

Answer to Question No. 2:
Healthy old people are not necessarily tired. Much of the weariness is due to improper diet. An increase of proteins and a lessening of fats, and the feeling of exhaustion. Elderly people for whom Jesus died. He is not concerned about building the kingdom, but is concerned about getting folks ready for the coming of the King. He is not a task master. He is settling minor disputes between people—he is concerned about getting a reconciliation between God and lost men. This way of reconciliation has been provided by our Savior, but men in their sin have not received Him. The wise preacher brings his time and his life in bringing people to Jesus. All Christians are saved, but God has a special designation and honor to bestow on those who do his major work. Of all things that are worth while, this is the most abiding. It will abide the testing fires of the judgement seat of Christ. It will abide throughout eternity. The wise Christian also makes soul winning his main business.

II. God's honor roll is attained by those who continue to work at this task. "He that winneth souls is wise." Surely this text does not say, "He that winneth one soul and stops in wisdom. Nor does it say, "He that wins a few souls and ceases is wise." No, the text indicated that the wise man is one who continues in this, the greatest of all work.

You may ask, "Why do people stop in the work of winning souls?" The answer is two-fold. First, they stop because of the hardness of the way, and secondly, they stop because of the pressure of other things.

Let me repeat, God's honor roll is attained by those who continue to work at the job. There are too many "has-beens" in the Lord's army. There are so many who were once active, but today they do nothing. There are those who began vigorously and enthusiastically and zealously to win souls, but after a while they ceased. God's honor roll is for those who continue.

III. God's honor roll is reached by those who recognize the urgency of soul winning. If souls are to be won, then they must be won before time runs out. All of your tears over the dead body of a loved one will not bring that one unto salvation. All of your prayers by the graveside will not bring about the salvation of that one who died without Christ. If we are to win, we must win them now, while there is life and opportunity.

We must be persistent. The urgency of our task demands that we be persistent. We must do all we can to bring souls to Christ.

The Chancel Choir will sing "The Beautiful City" by Wilson. Mrs. Floyd Wells will sing, as a soprano solo, "My Own Dear Land."

"My Lord and I" will be sung by Miss Vicki Carter. Rev. Herbert D. Graetz will preach the sermon to the subject, "God's Peace and Man's." The public is cordially invited to attend.

2. MUST OLD PEOPLE BE TIRED?

persons' diets, under the direction of the family doctor, will include plenty of meat, fowl and green vegetables, with less butter, sweets and the like.

Answer to Question No. 3:
The alcoholic has the will to be cured, his doctor can, with the aid of new drugs and electric procedures, help him to give up drinking. To be certain of continued cure, the patient must always abstain from drinking alcoholic beverages and fats will often relieve the feeling of exhaustion. Elderly

VETERANS INFORMATION

No Receipts for Premiums after August 1—All policyholders of government life insurance (NSLI and USGLI) are being notified not to expect receipt slips for insurance premiums after August 1. The mailing of receipts will be discontinued for insurance premiums becoming due after that date.

Curtailment of this service is announced as an economy move which, it is estimated, will save about $1,000,000 annually.

However, reminder envelopes in which to enclose premium payments will continue to be mailed.

Policyholders who want to maintain a record of their premium payments will continue to be mailed.

Although no receipts will be mailed, the VA will continue to maintain the official record of premium payments for the protection of policyholders.

However, if premium payments are not correct, such as—insufficient to pay the premium due, or submitted after expiration of the 31-day grace period following the due date of the premium—the VA will continue to acknowledge the payments and supply the policyholders with full information regarding the action they may take to keep their policies in force or reinstate them.

Your local Veterans' Service Officer will be glad to assist you veterans with your insurance problems, or write the State Service Office, P.O. Box 1437, St. Petersburg.

The Marine Laboratory of the University of Miami says the porcupine fish is so named because of the sharp erectile spines which cover its head and body.

This Week In Tallahassee

Tallahassee — With three different groupings of Russell candidates for delegate to the national Democratic convention, next week's ballot will present the worst puzzle in years. On the ballot are nearly double the required number of delegates either pledged to or friendly to Richard B. Russell for president. In one combination, the state democratic executive committee has announced its slate. In another, former National Committeeman Jerry W. Carter listed what he considers "true blue" Democrats who will stand hitched in still a third, Senator Russell himself has named those he prefers to see elected. Also on the ballot will be the required number of candidates for delegate pledged to Estes Reford.

Also on the ballot will be run-off candidates for governor, Dan McCarthy of Fort Pierce and Braley Odum of Sanford. The election, May 27, will clinch all local offices except those in a few counties with strong Republican leanings.

Tallahassee — Redistricting to increase efficiency has been announced by the enforcement division of the state leverage department. A new district will include the counties of Polk, Hardee, DeSoto, Highlands, Okeechobee and St. Lucie, all under other districts previously. Joe W. Bowen, assistant director, said the department lacks manpower to cover districts as they had been set up, and the new district will enable them to cut travel expense and step up efficiency with what the department has.

Tallahassee—Davis Atkinson, recently renominated as one of two house members for Leon county, has announced he will bid for the position of speaker pro tempore in the 1953 session. This post, filled by caucus at the end of the 1951 session, would have been held by Irlie Bronson of Kissimmee. However, Bronson ran for the senate and the position will be filled again. Incidentally, the house decided last year not to caucus for speaker and other officers in the future until after the election.

Rep. C. Faris Bryant of Ocala has been chosen as the 1953 speaker, but the officers for the 1953 house will not be selected until after the 1954 elections.

Soil Conservation News

Cooperator R. A. (Buck) Carlton of Florida had several acres of Pensacola Bahia grass fertilized with Anhydrous Ammonia (Liquid Nitrogen) some thirty days ago and the pasture is now definitely showing good response to the fertilizer treatment.

The Ammonia was applied with a pressure tank mounted on a Patrol Grader; there was a row of plows (spikes) spaced about 18 inches apart which applied the Ammonia fertilizer about 6 inches deep in the soil.

This fertilizer was applied at the rate of about the equivalent of 400 pounds of nitrate of soda per acre, but since ammonia is a complex form of nitrogen it has to go through a breakdown process before the grass can use it. As far as can be determined Mr. Carlton is the first Rancher in the Highlands Soil Conservation District to ever use Anhydrous Ammonia as a source of nitrogen for fertilizer.

Most all of the well fertilized Pensacola Bahia grass showed quite an edge over Pangola grass during the recent dry period, but Pangola is expected to gain the lost ground during the coming rainy season. Most ranchers recognize the advantages both grasses have and are coming more and more to plan a variety of both where they have suitable land.

LYKES BROS., Inc. made in Florida... by Florida

(Written Exclusively for Florida's Weekly Press)

Washington — One of my first political affiliations when I became 21 years of age and looked forward to casting my first vote was with the Young Democrats. Many of my friends of my age, similarly moved by a desire to enter actively upon their careers of citizenship, joined me in this affiliation.

We were somewhat disappointed as time went on and our familiarity with the operations of the Young Democrats increased. The pattern was something like this:

(1) Few holding offices in the organization seemed interested in any activity except during political campaigns.

(2) The leaders of the organization seemed interested in: (a) making political deals and then (b) policing the organization in an effort to get all the members to follow their lead at the ballot boxes.

Within recent weeks, I accepted an invitation to address the Florida Young Democrats.

When I got there and looked around, I threw away my prepared speech and spoke from the cuff. I said a few things that had been boiling inside me for some 15 years.

Not many youthful Democrats were there.

I spoke from my heart, and not from manuscript, because I looked around and saw many of the same old faces that had been pulling the strings 15 years ago.

The scene came to mind again the other day when I received a letter from a Florida hotel man who suggested a Senior Democratic Club for those past the age making them eligible as Young Democrats.

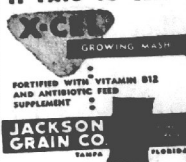

I am for any movement of this kind, if it will only pull the die-hard oldsters out of the Young Democrats and leave that organization to youth.

It has been a matter of concern to me for some time that so few of the young generation of voters are being brought into the organizations which belong to them. The older generations should recognize their responsibility for encouraging organizational training of the rising generations. But they should surrender to the young men and women the organizations and operational direction of Young Democrats and move along to make way for youth and youthful thinking. It is in that way we can assure our nation a continuing leadership and alert, active citizenship. Too many of our older citizens have persisted, sometimes for selfish, political reasons, in holding on the reins of the Young Democrats long after these young men have passed their days of youth. In other words, we must work to make the Young Democrats in fact as well as name which is their right.

There's no traffic congestion on the straight and narrow path.

There Is Something Wrong In Wash., D.C.

Florida merchants are within five percent of being unanimously in favor of an immediate price control, according to a state-wide survey just completed by the Florida State Retailers Association.

The Association urges individuals to write their views directly to their Senators and Congressmen although it already has sent the results of its poll to Florida's Congressional delegation.

"Legislators like and have a right to expect to hear directly from their constituents," organizational spokesmen point out.

"Conditions for which price controls were established have not materialized," the state association declared. "Instead of shortages, we have surpluses. Instead of rising prices, we have falling prices. Demand for consumer goods has been slow for months. Most goods are selling for below ceiling prices."

"The red tape of record keeping and conformance to the growing mountain of regulations and orders and amendments under price control is an incalculable and wasteful waste of money in government and in retailing. There is no justification for continuing this terrible extravagance."

"In keeping with its demand for an end to waste and corruption in government, the theme of the Florida State Retailers Association 1952 Annual Meeting is 'There is Something Wrong in Washington.' The subject assigned for the address to be made by John C. Hazen, Washington, D.C., mayor of the Retail Dry Goods Association.

The Association's Annual Meeting will be held at the Grand Court Hotel in Orlando on Monday, June 9. The day's business includes a conference on the organization's program for price legislation and election of officers and directors.

F.P.C. BREAKS GROUND FOR NEW PLANT UNITS

Florida Power Corporation officials broke ground last week to mark the start of two big 45,000 kilowatt additions to the Higgins plant near Oldsmar.

When the two units of the plant go into service next year, the Higgins plant will have a capacity of 135,000 kilowatts and will be the largest plant in the 31-county system of the utility.

Work on the first unit of the plant was started in February, 1950, and the first of three 45,000 kilowatt generators went into service last May. It was understood, when plans for the new plant were announced, that the total cost would be approximately $20,000,000.

The utility also has under construction at the present time a 45,000 kw addition to its plant in Avon Park, and a completely new 31,000 kw plant near Ellaville in North Florida on the Suwannee River. The Avon Park unit is scheduled for completion in September and the Suwannee River plant in December. Also planned is a second 31,000 kw unit at the Suwannee River plant.

"The Florida Power family has always been proud of the fact that we have always kept ahead of the rapid growth of Florida. With the completion of our big expansion program we are sure that we will be well ahead of even the vast potential of the state," Mr. Clapp said.

MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS

The formation of hard, patchy scars in the central nervous system characterizes a disease known as multiple sclerosis. Why they form is not known. While accurate statistics are not yet available, the disease is widely prevalent and is believed to be twice as common in persons as does infantile paralysis.

Multiple sclerosis is a chronic disease of the nervous system, characterized by blurred vision and partial blindness and weakness or numbness of arms and legs. Other characteristics are involuntary or uncontrollable movements of the eyelids, tremors in the arms or hands, disturbed speech, bladder disturbances and general weakness.

Multiple sclerosis seems to occur most frequently in persons between 20 and 30 years of age and is apparently associated with the nervous system, extreme emotional tension, fatigue and, occasionally, with pregnancy. Four principal causes of the disease are: (1) infection, (2) heredity, (3) trauma, and (4) exposure to cold.

Because of its misleading, recurrent nature, prolonged rest and advised for patients with multiple sclerosis. The victim may seem greatly improved for a long period only to lapse again into the helpless, slow state characterizing the disease.

Think what superlative government we would have if citizens would stay as interested the year around as they do at election time.

Claude Reynolds Dies By Hanging

Neighbors and friends of Claude Reynolds, were shocked Thursday morning, when a neighbor, Mr. Reeves called at the house on West Bell street about 7:45 o'clock to see Mr. Reynolds, and found his body hanging at the West side of the porch. Evidence pointed to the fact that he had jumped from the roof of the porch.

Mr. George Riffe, next door neighbor stated that he had talked to Mr. Reynolds around 9 o'clock Wednesday night. He was of the opinion of Dr. King, without a thorough examination, that the body had been hanging for about 8 hours before being found.

Claude Reynolds formerly operated a watch repair shop here and at Sebring. He was around 38 years old. Mr. Reynolds had been under a great strain owing to sickness in his family.

Mr. Reynolds is survived by his wife who is confined to a hospital in Sebring, and two stepdaughters, Peggy Dice and Mrs. Cecil Willis of Sebring. It is reported that he has two daughters living in the East.

The body is at the Mistle Funerary Home, and at this writing no plans had been made as to the time of the funeral.

They have three children with them, two girls, ages 14 and 13 and one son 11 years of age. The oldest daughter is very talented in playing the accordion and piano and in singing. As a welcome to the new pastor the church has given a pouting of many good things with which to start their housekeeping.

Rev. J. D. Benson and family have left the local pastorate because of illness and wish to express their deep regret to say "goodbye" to their many friends of this fine community. Friendship is worth more than money for friends cannot be bought but are won through love and the people of this town have certainly shown that love. To all may God richly bless you abundantly.

Durrance Challenges Wild's Nomination

Highlands County School Superintendent Fred Wild's nomination has been challenged on the grounds he allegedly violated election and school laws. Sam P. Durrance, vocal music instructor in Sebring, brought up the matter at a meeting of the board of education on Thursday night.

The information noted that the state attorney general had refused to file the proceedings.

Durrance, who opposed Wild's nomination in the first primary and lost by a 3427 to 1940 vote, contends Wild is not legally vested with the Democratic nomination. Durrance alleges he is the legal nominee because of Wild's alleged disqualification on the following grounds:

1. That members of the Sebring faculty in a meeting at the home of one of the members arranged for a radio round-table program opposing Durrance and took up a collection to pay for the radio.

2. That Wild failed to report the donation to the circuit court clerk.

3. That is against school laws for teachers to contribute to a political campaign.

4. That Wild further disqualified himself when he "organized or permitted to be organized or knowingly accepted the organization and execution of two political parades" by school children in the county to further Wild's campaign.

Durrance is represented by J. Tom Watson, of Tampa, former state attorney general.

Wild said he never accepted the teachers' donation and that he was through with the radio table. He had nothing to do with the parade or parades of the school children, and that they were voluntary.

Wild has retained Haskins and Bryant, of Sebring, to defend the action.

"Dan Came Thru In '52"

DAN MCCARTHY

Next Governor Makes Statement

Here is Dan McCarthy's statement on his nomination as governor:

"My fellow citizens of all Florida. I am deeply humble and grateful to you who have given me such a fine lead as the Democratic candidate for governor.

"I am exceedingly proud of the fine tribute you've paid me. But I am prouder of the splendid way in which so many good friends from all sections of the state have worked so hard over these past months to crown our efforts with success.

"This has been more than Dan McCarthy's campaign, or the campaign of personal friends. It's been a campaign of business men and women; of housewives, citrus workers, farmers and fishermen; of workers in the industrial plants, of railroad men, bus drivers, taxi drivers, of retired citizens and those in hospitals, school people and others too numerous to name.

"This has been a hard campaign—at times a bitter campaign. I want all of you to know that I hold no grudge that I shall lose the Governor for all of Florida and that I look to the people of Florida to help me carry out the duties of my office as governor of all our citizens everywhere.

"I want to congratulate my opponent on a determined campaign. I know that he is proud of the way that his friends went to bat for him. I now invite all Florida citizens to join with me in giving Florida an administration that will make us all proud and happy to claim as our own.

"Thank you very much."

Jaycee Officers Installed

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, their wives and friends, enjoyed an excellent chicken barbecue with all the trimmings at Mandis Stock Farm on Thursday night, May 22.

The occasion was the installation of the new officers. After the dinner, the outgoing president, Bob Barben, installed the incoming officers: Franklyn Ward, president; Jim Heim, vice president; Dick Hedrick, secretary; and Jim Weeks, treasurer.

Entertainment was provided by the Junior Chamber. The Indian old-time marimba band, which was a hit, — it's amazing how much music can be drawn from unlikely instruments.

About 60 persons were present, including out-of-town guests.

The far East Coast went almost solidly for McCarthy. Except for Nassau County, in which O'Dham led by two votes, McCarthy carried every county on the eastern seaboard and every county bordering Alabama and Georgia across the top of the state.

O'Dham, who carried 17 counties and held a close edge in Ocoee, from which returns were not complete, drew most of his strength from the 261,430 votes he received in the first primary. O'Dham gained almost 100,000 over the 222,668 he received previously.
