Winn & Lovett Offer Scholarship

Winn and Lovett Tampa, Inc., operators of the Table Supply store in this city, have just announced the details of a co-operative education scholarship plan which is designed to help a large number of male high school graduates obtain college educations thru part-time employment with the company and additional financial assistance from Winn and Lovett's Scholarship Fund.

The two-fold primary purpose of the plan is (1) to assist eager young men obtain college educations and (2) to give these college students practical on-the-job training and experience that will qualify them for better positions upon graduation from college.

The plan itself works very simply. To qualify, any male high school graduate must first work for 4½ months with the company. During this period he is paid the current average wage for the job he performs. And during this period he can save a part of his salary thru a payroll savings plan with the company. At the end of the 4½ months work with the company will give additional financial assistance and the student goes off to college for 4½ months, one full semester.

Alternating with 4½ months work and 4½ months college, the student may obtain a college degree in 5 years and one semester. At the end of this time the young man is equipped with a diploma, a business education and 3½ years actual experience with Winn and Lovett. Bexley pointed out that at this point the student is about 5 years ahead of the average new employee. If the graduate chooses to continue with Winn and Lovett and has proven his mettle it is likely that promotions will be steady and his future success is virtually assured. Stetson University is, at the present, the only University offering a curriculum that fits the plan. For this reason a number of the presently eligible youths will enroll at Stetson this summer and fall.

Principals and other educators attending the meeting were urged to advise male high school graduates to apply at the nearest Table Supply store for full particulars, and indicated that in towns where Winn & Lovett are located, qualified young men can work their 4½ months eligibility period while living in their own homes.

C. W. Spurlock, local high school graduate was present to hear the plan. He has already achieved his scholarship eligibility status, having worked at the local Table Supply store for more than the 4½ months required.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay

While residents of most cities are staggering under heavy municipal taxes and City Fathers scratch their heads and strain their intellect figuring how they can get more money from the taxpayers, the fortunate people of the town of Waverly in Polk County pay no city taxes at all for such municipal services as street lights, garbage disposal, fire and police protection.

I know it sounds like a fairy tale, but nevertheless it is true. Residents of lucky Waverly get all these services and the cost is included in a flat water bill of $2.75 per month, which also pays for all the water they care to use, in the home or for yard and garden. The water bill alone in most communities runs more than Waverly residents pay for all municipal services.

Waverly is the home of the Waverly Growers Cooperative, and this organization supplies these services to the town and at the same time provides employment for many residents of this enterprising community. A good dependable water supply was the first need of the big citrus packing plant when it was established. It installed a deep well and a 50,000 gallon tank and offered the town of Waverly water at a flat rate of $1.75 per month.

When the matter of providing garbage collection came up, the Cooperative offered to assume this task for the community at an added cost of 25c per month on the water bill. It worked out fine. Street lights were provided in the same manner with another 25c added to the monthly water bill.

Then as the town grew and more homes were built it was evident that some adequate form of fire protection was needed. Here again the Cooperative stepped in and offered to construct the necessary mains and furnish fire fighting equipment, all for an additional 25c on the water bill. Fire protection was provided in the same manner and these services are all adequate and top notch, serving both the Cooperative and the community. The total cost is only $2.75 per month.

In Waverly there are no bond issues, no costly installations of individual water meters, no parking meters, and no tax worries. Few towns of this size have as good municipal services and those that do have them are paying a great deal more for them.

Waverly homes are neat and well kept. Residents are justly proud of the big packing plant that has served as a sort of fairy godfather. There are no city employees, no political haggling or council meetings, no city taxes and Waverly folks like it that way.

Waverly is just a small honey community of friendly, neighborly folks. It is not ambitious to become a BIG city. The deputy who cares for policing the town is also an employee of the Cooperative. He makes few arrests for Waverly is a peaceful, law-abiding community.

From the standpoint of taxes at least Waverly probably has more to offer the home-seeker than any other Florida community. Waverly Growers Cooperative is to be congratulated on the far-sightedness of its management in establishing a public relations program that pays off. Call it a selfish program if you wish, for the Cooperative benefits along with the citizens and neighbors it serves, but it is worthwhile for everyone concerned and illustrates what can be accomplished when American free enterprise joins hands with worker and neighbor to advance the welfare of all.

The Waverly packing plant, one of the largest and best in the state, welcomes visitors and serves them orange juice in their Welcome House. An interesting tour is well marked which runs around the entire packing house on the mezzanine floor. Placards are displayed explaining each operation. Waverly loses no opportunity to promote Florida and the Florida citrus industry.

Milk Production In Florida Up In '52

Florida's 175,000 dairy cows produced 100 million gallons of milk last year.

This 1952 volume of milk produced in Florida was 17 percent above the 1951 gallonage, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday in recognition of June, Dairy Month.

Florida now produces very nearly all the milk consumed in the State. Last year, 1,090,980 gallons were imported from other areas and about half this amount was exported from Florida into adjacent states.

This week's business review of Florida's leading manufactured product is ice cream. Production in 1952 of ice cream and related frozen desserts reached 12,500,000 gallons, made in the 400 wholesale and retail plants in the State. This 1952 total was up 2 percent from the 1951 production.

The dairy industry in Florida is marked by unusual problems which stem principally from variations in seasonal demands and from a need for increased production of feed crops. However, significant advances have been made in recent years through the cooperation of the industry and governmental agencies.

A recent issue of Florida Grower Magazine told about the mole cricket which lives like a mole and is equipped with shovels on its front legs.

There's only one answer...

Chevrolet trucks must be the best buy!

Fleet operators, farmers, independent truckers—truck users everywhere—buy more Chevrolets than any other make. There can be only one reason for that: Chevrolet trucks offer more of what you want.

As the official registration figures keep rolling in, they keep telling the same positive story about truck popularity and truck value: Again in 1953, for the twelfth straight production year, truck buyers show a clear-cut and decisive preference for Chevrolet trucks. If you're a truck user, this fact is mighty important to you. Why? Well, as you know, trucks are built and bought for just one reason—to do a job. So isn't it logical then that since Chevrolet trucks outsell all others, they must do a better job at lower cost? That's why it will pay you to stop in and see us before you buy your next truck.

MORE CHEVROLET TRUCKS IN USE THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

Soil Conservation
By Sam Polston
The ranchers in the Highlands Soil Conservation District are now receiving the beneficial after-effects from last winter's clover. Grasses that had a good stand of clover stand out as vigorous, growing exceptionally green pastures. E. W. Hartt commented that his grass on flatwoods appeared "vigorous like grass on muck."

A good stand of clover will put the equivalent of several hundred pounds of nitrogen into the soil for the grasses to use. When converted into pounds of beef per acre with a good stand of clover, the price of beef is even at the present price of beef.

George Wilson of Florida says he is working to establish a summer and winter legume in his pasture. He now has a good stand of sweet vetch. Also a good stand of Pensacola bahia.

August Tobler of Lake Placid has limed 200 acres of flatwoods land which will be planted to Pangola grass in July. Several other cooperators are now preparing land to plant this summer.
