Red Devils vs Mulberry In First Home Game Tonight

By John Garber

The Avon Park Red Devils will be giving it all they have tonight when they meet the Mulberry eleven in their first home game of the season. The Red Devils will be fighting to avenge the one touchdown defeat that Mulberry edged them by last season. The game tonight is expected to be as close as last years encounter between the two with either team coming out with the winning honors. Those who did not see the game last week between the Red Devils and Ft. Meade no doubt favor heavily the Mulberry eleven in tonights game. The Ft. Meade Miners came away from the game with a 31-6 victory over Avon Park, however, the score does not paint the true picture of that game. Those who were in Ft. Meade saw the Miner's Powell intercept a Red Devil pass in the fourth quarter and run 30 yards to pay dirt. After Avon Park's touchdown, the Miner's Peacock returned the kickoff 75 yards to set up another TD also in the 4th quarter. A Miner's pass covering 22 yards in the air and a 48 yard gallop after the catch scored another touchdown. In the first part of the game the Red Devils fumbled deep in enemy territory while on their way for a touchdown. However, the ifs, ands, buts do not add up to victory but they sometimes help seal the wounds of defeat. We mention the above, hoping to drown the cries of those who think the game tonight will be one-sided. Barring any unforseen twists of lady luck, we again predict a 6 point margin between the winner and loser.

The leading ground gainers for Avon Park in last weeks game were: Kelley-50 yds. in 13 carries, Pabor-21 yds. in 3, and Elder 10 yds. in 5. A loss of five yards in one of the five attempts for Elder brought his average down. He gained 15 yards in 4 attempts and lost 5 on another. Jimmy Kelley scored Avon Park's lone touchdown from 5 yds. away after a sustained drive of 64 yards — 30 yards rushing, 34 yards passing.

The Avon Park High School Band will be on hand in full color with the spirited tunes and half time performances. For more than your moneys worth, don't miss the Band and majorettes.

Gazing into the crystal ball with both eyes closed and a hope that luck is with us, we pick this weeks Ridge Conference winners as follows: Avon Park over Mulberry — Sebring over Frostproof — Lake Wales over Auburndale —Wauchula over Ft. Meade (non conference) — Haines City over Kathleen.

The Highlands Soil Conservation District is sponsoring an essay contest in the Highlands County schools. The title of the essay will be "What the Soil Conservation Districts are Doing for Florida." Registration will open Oct. 8 in the four high schools in the county. Any student can register for the contest in grades 7 through 9 and 10 through 12 and duplicate prizes will be awarded in each division. Watch the paper for more details.

Several cooperators of the Highlands Soil Conservation District are still planting improved pasture grasses. O'Neal and Boney, Cleveland Boney, and Denver Albritton have planted several acres of Pansacola Bahia Grass recently to help fill the winter grazing needs.

Prescott Starts Civil Action In Liquor Theft

Murrell Prescott who operates a liquor store in the quarters has filed a $10,000 civil action for damages against Frank Edwards, Bradenton retail liquor dealer, and three other men now living in Lee County.

Prescott alleges that Edwards on or about Feb. 2, 1951, entered into a conspiracy with Henry Smith, alias James M. Davis, Thomas Smith and Clifford Ulmer, Jr., they to steal liquor wherever they could get it and Edwards to buy it from them at a fraction of its real value.

Prescott further alleges that the Smiths and Ulmer broke into his store at Avon Park on Feb. 2 and stole whisky valued at $1954. Part of the loot, valued at $497, was recovered later, leaving a net loss of $1461.

The stolen liquor constituted his stock, which would have netted him $300 profit, according to Prescott's bill of complaint; further, that he turned over his stock three times a month, which represented a $900 monthly profit, and that he has been unable to replace the stock and continues to suffer loss of profits since the Smiths and Ulmer made the haul in February.

Library Sum Mounts But Not Enough

The amount contributed to the Avon Park Public Library Building Fund now totals $3107.

This is an advance of almost $650 over last week's total. It is not half of the total sum needed.

There is little to be said to convince you that this library fund needs your support that has not already been printed on these pages. It should be clear to everyone that a good library building is a necessity, not a luxury.

The generosity of those who have contributed is much appreciated. It is hoped that those who have not contributed will add their names to the honor roll of donors.

(Names of additonal donors will be published next week. No space this week.)

OLD SETTLERS PICNIC

You are reminded that the annual Old Settlers' Picnic will be on Wednesday, October 10, in Donaldson Park. Luncheon will be served at noon, followed by the business meeting.

All old-timers who like to remember the "good old days" are asked to be prepared to tell their favorite stories about the early days of Avon Park. The program will be little talks about the old-timers and the old days, and everyone who'd like to, will be given an opportunity to talk about his memories. Sounds like fun.

The answer to Florida's waning timber supply is tree farming.

The guest list included Miss Sara McNamara, state field secretary from Jacksonville, and about fifty civic-minded people of the community who are vitally interested in the promotion of health education.

Last January some 4500 chest X-rays were taken in Highlands County, and the association hopes to furnish the mobile unit again this winter.

Red Devil Booster Club

The thought of organizing a "Red Devil Athletic Booster Club" is being entertained and it is wished that all of you spirited sports-minded citizens express your interest in such an organization. The need is most positively here and the possibilities in athletic improvements and moral support to both teams and citizens are unlimited. Much can be done not only in the line of improvement projects but in moral support. Through such an organization athletic improvements could include projects such as providing an adequate football practice field, etc., and through its efforts such entertainers as the nationally famous "Harlem Globe Trotters Basketball Team," baseball clowns Max Patkin and All Schacht, and major college basketball teams could be brought to Avon Park.

If you are interested in such an organization, please express your interest to Coach Edwin Carter, Coach Joe Franza, or John Garber. If there is interest enough to warrant, the announcement will be made next week in the Avon Park Sun. Let's talk it up—the need is great.

BABY SWALLOWS OPEN SAFETY PIN

Gerald Wicker, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wicker, is in Morrell Hospital at Lakeland under observation after he swallowed an open safety pin at his home Tuesday night.

He was taken to the Lakeland hospital where an attempt was made to remove the pin.

The pin had passed down into the stomach, point upward, doctors said.

If the pin stays in that position and passes out normally, doctors are hoping to avoid an operation.

Youth Center Holds Second Meeting

The meeting of the Youth Association on Friday of Last week not being large enough to form a quorum, due to conflicting activities, another meeting was called for Thursday night, Sept. 27, at 7:30 o'clock, in the high school auditorium.

All directors, parents and teenagers were invited to attend.

The association has secured a director for the Youth Center, and he is anxious to get started; he has planned an extremely interesting program for the year, but he cannot carry out this program without the support of the parents and the young people.

Regular Adjourned Meeting of City Council

All members Present:

The meeting was called to order by President E. W. Gough, who stated that the meeting is now open for any business which may come before it.

City Council
City of Avon Park
Avon Park, Florida

Gentlemen:

Refering to the objections previously made by me to the casting of the ballots by the negroes in voting place number 2 and to the rejection by the Council of the objections so made by me, I request the Council to reconsider and revoke its action in approving the returns of Voting Place Number 2 and for my reasons, state that whereas 1500 of the official ballot forms were delivered to voting place number 2, there were voted 397 and there were returned to the City Clerk 799 unusued forms of ballots and that 304 are unaccounted for. It is only reasonable therefore to conclude that the missing ballots were illegally used, and all or some portion deposited in the ballot box invalidating the voting in the voting place designated as number 2.

The returns from Voting Place Number 2 should therefore be re-canvassed and if the above statement is found to be true, all of the votes counted in voting place Number 2 should be rejected.

Sincerely yours,
/s/O. C. Wilkes.

FAITH

Text — Heb. 11:1.

The word faith has well been defined as the hand that reaches out to God and never returns empty. I should think that the most needed thing in the life of every individual is simple faith in God.

Faith satisfies. "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." There is, within the heart of every soul, a desire for satisfaction. Men will do everything possible to please that heart's desire without even knowing for sure just what they are looking for. They fail to look to their Creator is the thing that is so sad about it. If only people would look to God for their satisfaction, they could see and understand that simple faith in God is what they needed all the time.

Faith satisfies. Faith becomes a reality when it gives to our lives that which we so longed for. Not, of course, in the natural or fleshly sense of the word, but in the spiritual sense, because if our souls are perfectly satisfied in the spiritual realm, then it is that our other desires are so insignificant that we find ourselves trusting God in every sense, so what we need is faith in God.

Faith rewards. Not only is there satisfaction for our lives and souls now in this earthly life but also in the life hereafter there will be abundance of perfect satisfaction. The Word teaches that without faith it is impossible to please God; on the contrary, faith pleases God and when we please Him then He literally blesses our lives not only now but then when we stand before Him as our judge, He will reward us for having trusted in the name of the Lord.

What the world needs most is simple faith and trust in God and the only way to do it is get back to prayer.

Farless, of 1206 Woodruff Heights, is one of the 36 Florida soldiers who were scheduled to arrive Sept. 21 and 22 from the Far East aboard ships arriving at San Francisco or Seattle, Wash. These soldiers are rotation combat personnel coming home for reassignment, or enlisted reserve corpsmen returning to civilian life.

The following story was mailed from Korea on Sept. 8, 1951.

With I Corps In Korea — Capt. Woodson A. Sadler has been awarded the Air Medal for meritorious achievement in completing thirty missions over and behind enemy lines in an unarmed artillery liaison plane.

Captain Sadler, who has been in Korea since February 10th, is an aerial observer and liaison officer for I Corps Artillery. His job is to search out enemy targets and direct fire on them.

Sadler entered the Army in 1940. In 1942 he graduated from Artillery Officer Candidate School. During World War II he served in Italy with the 88th Infantry Division. He was stationed in the Philippine Islands after the war.

Before entering the Army Captain Sadler was a linotype operator for the Avon Park Sun. He worked for the paper from the time he graduated from Avon Park High School in 1936 until he entered the Army.

FBI Successful In Tracing Thieves

J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, announced today that FBI investigations of violations of the law which prohibits the interstate transportation of stolen cattle clearly indicate that cattle rustling continues to persist in many sections of the country.

The old-time outlaw bands have been replaced, however, by a more modern type of rustler, Mr. Hoover explained. The cattle rustler today is generally riding in a pickup truck and is armed with a flashlight and wire cutters. Instead of stealing large herds, as was the custom in the legends of the frontier West, the modern rustler will take only a few head at a time and depend on rapid transportation and distance to save him from being identified.

During the 1951 fiscal year, 27 persons were convicted as a result of FBI investigations of violations of this law and received sentences totaling 83 years, five months and one day. Stolen cattle recovered as a result of FBI investigations were valued at more than $15,000.

In one case, three individuals who stole a total of 40 head of cattle at various times in Florida and sold them in near-by Alabama were convicted in Federal court in connection with these thefts and received sentences of five years, two years and one year and one day. Aberdeen Angus cattle valued at $2,700 were recovered.

In another case investigated by the FBI two individuals were convicted in connection with the transportation to Maryland of 15 steers valued at $6,000, stolen from a stockyard in Philadelphia. Both of these persons received one year, six months sentences.

The FBI's investigative jurisdiction in cattle theft cases covers only those in which interstate transportation is involved and, as such, would constitute only a small portion of the actual total of cattle rustling incidents.

The facilities of the FBI Laboratory, however, are available to all local law enforcement agencies for the examination of evidence in cattle theft cases.

The services of the Laboratory have been helpful in establishing the identity of stolen cattle as well as assisting in the identification of forged documents which are sometimes utilized in stolen cattle transactions.

Mr. Hoover pointed out that current economic conditions and the possibility of black market operations may encourage an increase in cattle rustling. The black market in the past has provided a lucrative outlet for stolen cattle, he said.

Second Annual Boat-A-Cade

Approximately 225 boats carrying over 400 boat enthusiasts from all over the Southeast will leave Kissimmee Thursday, Oct. 11 for a four-day expedition down the Kissimmee River to Lake Okeechobee.

Purpose of the cruise, which covers 175 miles of scenic waterways through four lakes, three canals and the Kissimmee River, is to acquaint Floridians and others alike with the unexcelled fishing to be found in these waters.

W. B. Makinson of Kissimmee, chairman of the 1951 event, has announced the following schedule for the second annual Boat-A-Cade.

The first night will be spent at Camp Mack, located between Lake Cypress and Lake Kissimmee. A fish fry will be held.

The second night will be spent at Oasis and Kenansville along the Kissimmee River. The third night will be featured by a fish fry at Riverview Camp. The boats are expected to arrive at Okeechobee Fish Camp on the banks of Lake Okeechobee about noon Sunday, fourth and final day of the cruise. A fish fry will be held here at noon, given by the city of Okeechobee.

The first Kissimmee-Okeechobee Boat-A-Cade was held the last week in November, 1950, when approximately 75 boats carrying 150 persons made the trip in three days.

Anyone may make the trip by registering with the Kissimmee Chamber of Commerce. Cost of the trip will be the expense incurred by persons making the expedition.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

The political picture for 1952 cleared a little this week with the announcement from Millard Caldwell, former governor and now U.S. civil defense administrator, that he will not be a candidate for governor again. He told a special press conference here that he hoped to retire to his farm, that in next spring's elections he would vote either for Comptroller Gay, Supreme Court Justice Adams or State Senator Baynard and not Dan McCarty, whom he supported in 1946. Meantime, reports from Miami said Senate President Wallace Sturgis of Ocala is feeling some pulses, also may run for governor.

Word that Democratic funds from Florida went to help elect U.S. Senator Lester Hunt of Wyoming was confirmed here by Millard Caldwell, who was governor from 1945 to 1949. He said he had helped collect money to assist Democrats, of which Hunt was one. Governor Warren recently has attacked Senator Hunt, a member of the senate crime committee, for alleged gambling and racketeering in his own state.

Florida State University, which is enrolling more than 5,000 students this year, will hold its 1951 homecoming on October 26 and 27, according to President Doak S. Campbell. The two-day celebration will be high-lighted by a game with Stetson University during the afternoon.

Attorney General Richard W. Ervin has appealed to the Florida supreme court to reconsider its recent decision freeing some 22 big time Miami gamblers from prosecution based on testimony gained under faulty search warrants. The attorney general said the effect of the court's decision is to make justice inefficient and to coddle the law-evading classes of the population.

Mrs. Alfred I. DuPont of Jacksonville became the first woman to serve on the state board of control, when Governor Warren named her to fill one of two new positions. Originally a five-member group, which controls the universities and some other institutions, the board was increased to seven by the last legislature. Mrs. DuPont is probably the wealthiest woman in Florida, and one who engages in wide range of charities and philantropies.

The state improvement commission has been given the task of planning and engineering new ward buildings to house 226 white mental patients at Arcadia. The cost, $376,800, also will provide 10 duplex apartments to house employees.

A High School education is something easily carried around and a very valuable asset in a world that grows more complicated week by week. Boys and girls — don't let the lure of a pay check keep you from completing your education. Go back to school.

Mothers and fathers who want to assure a better future for their children should see to it that they return to school. Employers who hire young workers should encourage them to go back to their classes, even as the employer would have his own youngster do.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

Attending a meeting of the Committee on Public Information of the Governor's Safety Conference, I listened for several hours to an earnest discussion of what can be done to reduce the terrible death toll on our highways and impress upon the public consciousness the need for the co-operation of every individual in an effort to reduce this toll.

People who wouldn't think of playing with a stick of dynamite, poking their finger into a buzz saw or fondling a rattlesnake, think nothing of climbing into the driver's seat of a high-powered motor car and risking their necks as reckless drivers.

The press and radio is constantly issuing warnings and urging motorists to drive carefully, but it seems folks have become hardened to such advice. The daily accounts of terrible accidents and the horror pictures of the results of reckless driving fail to impress them. They think that accidents are something that happen to other people.

Reports of traffic officers, highway patrolmen, judges and others show clearly the public indifference to danger. Heavy fines and even jail sentences don't seem to faze some people.

Two things stood out as more effective than anything else in dealing with traffic violators: publicity and loss of their driver's license. Time after time motorists will plead guilty, pay a heavy fine or even go to jail if such action will not be recorded in the public prints or not result in the loss of their driver's license.

In cooperation with safety officials and in an effort to curb automobile accidents in Newark, N.J., the local newspapers decided to fight the evil with what appeared to be the most powerful weapon at their command - publicity.

Anyone arrected and convicted of drunken or reckless driving could be certain of one thing if he lived in Newark. His name, address and in all probability his picture was sure to appear in the paper.

Social leaders, politicians, business men, who on occasions had found it possible to fix a traffic ticket or escape with a fine, found that they couldn't beat the rap with the newspapers. If they were guilty the newspapers made sure that the whole town knew about it and photographers haunted the traffic courts snapping pictures of the culprits.

With this powerful newspaper backing, the police and traffic officials clamped down. They used the next most powerful weapon and recorded the offense on the culprit's driver's license or, when justified, saw to it that the license was revoked.

After this campaign had been in progress a short time the number of accidents and arrests dropped sharply and Newark became one of the safest cities in the nation for both motorist and pedestrian.

A few Florida papers make a practice of publishing the names of those convicted of drunken or reckless driving or causing an accident. This is always helpful if every culprit is treated alike regardless of his station in life, wealth or political influence.

One Florida daily recently published the fact that its managing editor was arrested and convicted. The people of a community where alert newspapers publish such information without fear or favor become safety-conscious. It was reported to me the publisher that in several instances where accidents occurred and names were not printed because they had not been shown on police records, subscribers called up to ask why and give the names and full information. Investigation revealed that the officer had heeded the plea of the motorist and failed to report the case. Publicity put a stop to this and now the people of the community are afraid, not of the real danger but rather the publicity.

It takes real courage for an editor or publisher, particularly of a small town paper, to publish the name and maybe the picture of his local banker or next door neighbor under such circumstances, but it will stop the greatest cause of accidents, reckless and drunken driving, and the community as a whole will have greater respect for and confidence in their local paper.

The safety and welfare of all the people in a community, or the life of one child, is more important than the embarrassment or shame caused a guilty individual.

Churches of Christ, Scientist

Spiritual reality — the true universe of God which can be seen through spiritual understanding — will be elucidated in next Sunday's services in all Christian Science churches. Subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Reality".

The Golden Text is from Jeremiah: "The Lord hath brought forth our righteousness: come, and let us declare Zion the work of the Lord our God" (Jer. 51:10).

Among the Bible selections is the following: "For since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him" (Isa. 64:4).

Passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause, and effect belong to God. These are His attributes, the eternal manifestations of the infinite divine Principle, Love. No wisdom; no truth is true, no love is lovely, no life is Life but the divine; no good is, but the good God bestows" (p. 275: 14).

Farewell Supper For Butler Family

Members of the Church of the Redeemer bade farewell to the Rev. and Mrs. Frank M. Butler and their sons, Frank and Mark, at an informal supper in the parish house on Tuesday evening of this week. Around 80 persons attended.

The room and the tables were attractively decorated with pink hibiscus and greenery. A chicken salad plate was served.

Walter S. Betts, speaking on behalf of the church, made a brief farewell speech, and wished the Butlers all success and happiness in their new home in Lake Wales. There was otherwise no program, the evening being devoted to friendly conversation.

The Rev. John Scutt, from England, was a guest.

The church will hold another parish supper at 7:00 P.M., Tuesday, October 9, to welcome the incoming vicar, Father Crumbly.

P.T.A. Reception For Teachers

A series of lively marches played by the high school band, under the direction of Gene Gorham, opened the first meeting of the P.T.A. for the current school term, in the high school auditorium Thursday night, Sept. 20. Approximately 160 persons were present.

The president, Ted J. Ward, then called the meeting to order. J. A. Johnson acted as recording secretary in the absence of Mrs. Thomas Quintier.

Reports from the various chairmen were presented and approved.

Mr. Ward was elected to represent the association as lay member of the Highlands County School Advisory Board.

Mrs. Alice Sherman explained the necessity for the present drive for funds to build a new public library.

Mrs. T. Hayes Maxwell reported on the national P.T.A. convention held in Miami, to which she was delegate. Noted speakers at the convention were of the opinion that education has stressed the material aspect of life, neglecting the spiritual.

It was agreed that room-count prizes would be awarded in the future only to rooms having present at association meetings a number of parents or friends equaling 50 percent of the room's enrollment. Thus, a room with 30 students would need a count of 15.

Following the meeting, a reception was held for the teachers in the band room. School officials and all teachers present formed the receiving line. Punch and cookies were served.

FILM TO BE SHOWN AT BAPTIST CHURCH

On Wednesday, October 3, 1951 a "Cathedral Film, "Ambassador for Christ", will be shown in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church at 7:45 P.M. This is the fifth episode in the Life of Paul series and is a dramatic film with a powerful message in stewardship and evangelism. It tells of the great famine of Judea and how the Antioch church responded by giving, every one according to his ability, to send relief. It is a mission story of the early church sending missionaries on to preach the Gospel in other cities. Past showings of films in this series has met with enthusiasm on the part of those who saw them. Each film has been better than the one before. Everyone is cordially invited to attend this showing. Immediately following the film, at 8:30, there will be a meeting of the 75 newly elected teachers and officers of the Sunday School of the First Baptist Church.

Avon Park vs Kathleen--Kickoff Time 8:00 P. M.

By John Garber

The Red Devils of Avon Park and the Red Devils of Kathleen will be butting heads tonight in Avon Park's second home game of the season. The Kathleen Red Devils, who were narrowly edged by the Haines City Hornets in their first game of the season last week, will be favored over Avon Park in tonight's duel. Nevertheless, Avon Park, again playing the role of the underdog, will not give up without a fight—all the way to the final whistle.

Avon Park Handicaped

Jimmy Kelley, Sam Elder, and Edgar Pabor saw very little action in practice this week. A foot injury received during the game last week may "bench" Kelley in tonight's game. Elder and Pabor were out of action the first part of the week due to sickness, which will probably hinder a top performance from them. These three, along with Quarterback Morris Harper, are the mainstays of Avon Parks backfield.

Lose to Mulberrry

The rugged line and driving backs of the Mulberry Panthers proved too much for the Red Devils last Friday — the Panthers scoring 18 points to Avon Parks' 6. Mulberry's hard hitting, 190 pound fullback Dickie Harte and halfback speedster Jackie Purcell led the Panther's attack and their team to victory. The first score of the game came late in the second quarter when Mulberry's Harte intercepted a Red Devil pass and ran 45 yards for a TD. The try for extra point failed and at half time Mulberry led 6-0. The statistics show that Avon Park played the Panthers on even terms. Mulberry ran up a total of 56 yards forward - Avon Park 59.

Mulberry earned 5 first downs compared to 4 for Avon Park. The score would no doubt have been a 0-0 deadlock at the end of the first half if it hadn't been for the Panther's break in the pass interception. Avon Park's break of the game came when Eugene Reynolds intercepted a Panther pass and raced 70 yards for the TD. This tied the score 6-6. Avon Park kicked off and on the third play thereafter, the Panther's Harte found his opening and broke away on a 58 yard dash to another 6 points making the score 12-6. Stopping at this point to add up the statistics for the third quarter we find that Avon Park moved the ball 104 yards forward (including Reynold's 70 yard pass interception) compared to Mulberry's 140 yards (including Harte's 58 yard run and 2 kickoff returns). The Red Devil defense fell apart in the third quarter but held its own the 1st, 2nd, and 4th quarters. Mulberry moved the ball for a total of 43 yards against 38 yards (not including a 12 yard kickoff return) for Avon Park. Mulberry's forward attack in the 4th quarter was set back due to penalties totaling 20 yards. The Red Devils defense was stronger during the 1st and 2nd quarters than it was in the 4th, but the 3rd quarter proved the weakest. The Red Devils will not be a pushover in tonight's game if defense can continue its good performance.

We offer these statistics not trying to "cover" for the Red Devils loss. We definitely concede the fact that Avon Park lost to a stronger ball club both offensively and defensively. The Red Devils defensive play is considerably stronger than their offensive. Comparing the defensive and offensive strength of the Ft. Meade Miners to that of the Mulberry Panthers you can readily see that Mulberry is considerably stronger in both categories. In consideration of this, those who saw the Mulberry game will have to admit, thinking with an open mind and eliminating their emotional views, that the Red Devils made a much better showing against Mulberry than against Ft. Meade. Had Avon Park turned in as good a performance against Ft. Meade as they did against Mulberry, the outcome would have been different—possibly not in a victory for Avon Park but in an narrower margin between the two scores.

In the game tonight we belive that Kathleen will prove too much for Avon Park and will come away from the game with a two touchdown lead. It is possible that Avon Park can whittle it down to one touchdown if they can produce an offensive play better than shown in the first two games.

Tonights predictions of Ridge Conference winners: KATHLEEN over Avon Park — FT. MEADE over Frostproof — LAKE WALES over Sebring (this may fool us) BREWSTER TECH over Winburndale — MULBERRY over Haines City (believe the Panthers have what it takes to do it) —WINTER GARDEN over Kissimmee (just guessing). Last week's predictions came through with flying colors. The only prediction backfiring was in Avon Park. Four out of five — .800 percentage.

Library Needs Your Prompt Support

$3,833 has now been contributed to the library building fund. That is an impressive sum, but still more than twenty-three hundred dollars short of the goal set.

The drive for contributions is still going on. If you are one of those who have received a letter from the fund committee, won't you please send your contribution soon? The money is needed.

Below is a quotation from a letter written by a public school student of another county during a campaign to win support for the public library. It well expresses the place of a library in a community. Please read it — and think about it.

(A library) . . . "is part of the American way of life. Both of you (his parents) have always told me that my freedom is the most important thing in life. The privilege of going to a public library to get books and information all free is something of which you can be mighty proud. Since you insist upon my having the best education, you should certainly support the library, because some of the best information can be obtained in books found mainly in a library. As long as I have a voice about where I get my education, I want a place where I can find all the facilities at my hand. In order to have this place, there must be money. That's where you come into the picture. I'm asking you . . . to support the library."

C A P Hold Air Search Maneuvers

Last Sunday afternoon three Civil Air Patrol planes scoured the area adjacent to Hendricks Field for one hour searching for a "crashed" aircraft. Fortunately the search was a training maneuver and the "crashed aircraft" was a white sheet from the bed of the Commanding Officer John C. Thomas; however, participants in the search carried it through with all seriousness of purpose since the Squadron must be ready at all times to conduct such a search for actual lost aircraft.

Capt. Thomas briefed the pilots before take-off as to the search area, air-to-ground and ground-to-air signals, and search patterns. While the briefing was taking place, two other members set out by Jeep to place the "wreck". In fact these members were so industrious in carrying out their part of the plan that only one of the three search planes spotted the "wreck" on the first flight. Search patterns used by the pilots were Parallel, Circular and Expanding Square.

Beside the pilot there were three observers in Capt. Thomas Stinson, and one observer each in the Luscombe and Cessna. Two flights were made by each plane to enable all present to participate. Two Avon Park CAP Cadets, Franklin Welch and Tom Moore, participated as observers in the Stinson's first flight.

After the search flights the pilots and observers held a "debriefing", discussing and criticizing techniques and patterns. The maneuver was directed by Capt. Thomas and Lt. Fred Potter, Operations Officer.

Gene Gorman Addresses JayCees

"No community is a good community without a higher form of art, and music is such an art," Gene Gorman, director of the high school band, told the Avon Park JayCees at the regular meeting Thursday night, Sept. 27, in the Florida Power customers' room.

Mr. Gorman told of his 40 years in band work, the last 20 of which have been spent directing high school bands. The first 20 years of Mr. Gorman's musical career were in professional work, including much time in the theatrical field.

The main theme of Mr. Gorman's talk was what a high school band means to a community. Back in the '20's, the municipal bands, along with various civic organizations, were the main source of music for the general public. Gradually, however, the municipal bands have dwindled away, and their place has been taken by the high school bands of today.

As an example of this, Mr. Gorman said that the Avon Park high school band played 85 public engagements last year and gave 16 concerts. Besides this, they also played twice a week in school chapel and were in six parades. All this was accomplished in addition to the student's regular school work. The general public has little conception of the countless hours of drill and practice that are necessary to give them an hour of concert music, Mr. Gorman added.

It is not the idea to make professional musicians out of every band member, but to teach poise, self-control and the ability to follow as well as lead, that so much time is devoted to teaching music. Nevertheless, a number of students from the local band have been offered scholarships in universities, and also, Mr. Gorman state, many of the band students could take their places in the professional ranks today and earn a living by their music.

Mr. Gorman went on to describe the qualities a student must have before he or she can become a good band student. He also told of some of the many interesting trials and tribulations a band director must go through before he molds a smooth-playing musical unit out of a group of adolescent boys and girls.

While Mr. Gorman had nothing but praise for the band students of Avon Park, he deplored the lack of adequate facilities to present the band in a proper setting —namely, a band shell. We have a wonderful band here— one that is known as a pattern band, which means that they set the pattern by which other bands are judged at State meets. This is indeed a high honor for a town the size of Avon Park.

Ninety per cent of the world's houses are still being made from wood.

Political Question Still Undecided

Repairs to barracks in the cantonment area of the Air Force base near here will be started this week by a civil service construction crew.

The extent of the program and the length of time to complete it were not known.

The crew arrived Tuesday at Sebring, where they will be lodged at the Hotel Roanoke. Their appearance gave rise to a report that a group of architectural engineers expected to make a survey of Hendricks Field, former B-17 pilot school near Sebring, had reached the Highlands County seat.

Brig. Gen. Sidney D. Grubbs, who conferred with Sebring municipal officals and businessmen recently, advised them that the architectural engineers were scheduled to arrive there in the near future.

Old Settlers Picnic Next Week

All old-time residents of Avon Park are invited and urged to attend the Old Settlers' Picnic in Donaldson Park next Wednesday, October 10. If, through some oversight you did not receive an invitation card, plan to come anyway. This is your invitation.

You don't want to miss getting together with all your old friends. And it will be fun to hear the yarns told by those who lived in our city when she was a young village.

Besides, Demos Mandis has kindly consented to cook up some of his scrumptious barbecue for the picnic. That's worth walking a mile for.

There will also be a covered dish luncheon, provided by those attending.

So come along — but don't forget to bring your covered dish.

E. A. DELANEY AT WALKER MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

E. A. Delaney of Woodbine, Georgia, and former Mayor of this city returned to Avon Park last week to enter the Walker Memorial Hospital. After a check-up and rest he entered the hospital Monday evening and was operated on Tuesday morning for a kidney ailment. The report is that he is doing nicely and will soon be up and around greeting his many friends.

Mr. Delaney was one of the prime movers in the move to have a hospital established here, little thinking at the time that he might be one of the patients at sometime in the future.

Youth Center Now Has Director

Clayton Fields, Jr., was appointed director of the Youth Center at the meeting of the Youth Association on Thursday of last week. The center has been without a director for more than a year.

Mr. Fields, a graduate of the University of Florida and a veteran of World War II, has a good working knowledge of the theatre and various art forms and crafts. He has already begun plans for an interesting Youth Center program.

Mrs. W. W. Wingfield, acting president, presided at the meeting. Various matters connected with the Youth Center were discussed, but it was decided to postpone decisions until after a definite date for reopening the center had been set. Mr. Fields, Mrs. Lena Suggs and Mrs. James A. Johnson were appointed a committee to confer with Hubbard Biggs on reopening the center in the Armory.

B. Wilhite, supervising principal, agreed to permit the high school students to meet during school hours for the purpose of reorganizing the Teen-Age Club, in order that those students riding the busses might be present.

Fire Prevention and Clean-Up Week October 8th to 13th

The purpose of Fire Prevention and Clean Up Week is to get people to clean up and look their property over for possible fire hazards. In doing this it might save considerable damage or loss of valuable property.

Some of the Do's and Don'ts as advised by the Local Fire Department are as follows:

Clean up dead grass and trash around buildings.

Disc vacant lots so they cannot burn during dry weather.

Check electric wiring and don't put pennies back of burned out fuse.

If you have an oil stove make sure it is in good order as half of the fire alarms are from oil stoves or heaters. If it is flooded with oil don't light it.

Put matches where children cannot reach them.

If you do have a fire in your home call the Fire Department at once then try and put it out. The phone number is 192. If you have no phone, close the doors to the room in which fire is in before going somewhere else to phone as this will confine it to one room. If electric fire pull main switch. If oil stove remove oil jug and turn off stove.

Get a good fire extinguisher and keep it handy, but do not put it near the danger point as it may be impossible to get to it when needed.

If you call the Fire Department from a neighbor's house have someone wait in the street to direct them to your house.

The Firemen are trained men and know what to do. Don't bother them with advice till the fire is out. All the Volunteer Firemen are working and need a clear road in order to get to the fire in the quickest possible time. You can do your part by staying far enough behind allowing the firemen a chance to arrive first. The fire truck goes to the house on fire and then back to the nearest fire plug, if you go too close you may be in the way. Don't run over the fire hose as it may burst then or later. 50 feet of hose cost the taxpayer about $100.00 and may cause a home to be burned while the burst length is being changed.

The past year: House fires -34. Grass fires - 98. Automobile - 6; False alarms - 1; Rescue squad calls - 3. They also answered 82 calls for blood through the Firemen's Walking Blood Bank.

Most of the fire department have first aid training and hold Red Cross First Aid Cards.

On Tuesday and Wednesday, October 9th and 10th the Fire Department will sponsor a show at the Hilans Theatre to help secure money to maintain and operate the Rescue outfit and other expenses not paid for by the city. The firemen must pay all their own expense for food, gas, etc while on a rescue trip, also lose own pay while gone from their work. The outfit is equipped with a 400 foot drag with about 175 hooks costing 20c each. Many of these are lost while dragging and must be replaced.

Come see the "Rookie Fireman" future well worth seeing. Bill Williams is featured in the title role, with Baton MacDand, Marjorie Reynolds and Gloria Henry in other leading roles. Jerry Sackheim's screen play depicts how firemen are trained and illustrates the behind-the-scenes drama of their work, using for this purpose the actual fire department of Los Angles, Calif.

Tickets can be secured at the U. H. Ford Motor Company, Main Street, The Pure Oil Company and Engelmann Hatchery, or phone and your ticket will be delivered to you at your home or business.

Usual admission charges.

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

PRAYER

Roy C. Miller, Pastor
Church of God

"Pray without ceasing". (1 Thess. 5:17)

We may pray anywhere, but the best place to pray, is in secret. Great powers are secret powers. The power that swings the earth on its axis, and holds the planets in their places, is secret power. Jesus loved to pray in secret. When the people would retire at night, Jesus would go to the mountains, and pray. He taugh his disciples, that prayer was the secret of success. But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

Daniel was a man greatly beloved of God, but greatly hated by men. The princes of Babylon sought his overthrow, and since they could not charge him with incapacity, nor unfaithfulness, they prevailed with the king to pass a decree to stop him from praying. Now when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house; and his windows being open in his chamber toward Jerusalem, he kneeled upon his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime. Daniel was humble before God, he kneeled upon his knees. We must be humble as we pray, worship and serve the Lord, if we expect to please him. Those who stand firmest in the presence of sin, bow the lowest when they approach the throne of grace. Moses stood firm in the presence of Pharaoh, but took off his shoes before God. When Elijah sternly faced the idolatrous, wicked king, Ahab, he was very firm and brave, but when he went out on the mountain to pray for rain, he put his face between his knees.

"We should be definite, in our prayers."

Many prayers are too indefinite, general and pointless. Real prayer is the sincere desire of the heart. When we enter a store, we do not ask for everything in the store. We call for the items we want. When the publican prayed, it was to the point, "God be merciful to me a sinner." When the blind Bartimeaus heard that Jesus was passing by, do you think his prayer was indefinite, general or pointless? No, this blind man had a great need, so his prayer was, Lord that I might receive my sight." The prayer of the dying thief was to the point: "Lord, remember me, when thou comest into thy kingdom."

"Prayer must be offered in faith."

All things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive, for without faith, it is impossible to please God.

"What a friend we have in Jesus,
All our sins and griefs to bear,
What a privilege to carry
Everything to God in prayer.
Oh, what peace we often forfeit,
Oh what needless pain we bear
All because we do not carry
Everything to God in prayer.

"Have we trials and temptations,
Is there trouble anywhere"
We should never be discouraged,
Take it to the Lord in prayer.
Can we find a friend so faithful,
Who will all our sorrows share?
Jesus knows our every weakness,
Take it to the Lord in prayer."

Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

The Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club

The Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club held its first meeting Thursday, Sept. 27, in the Palm room of the Jacaranda Hotel, under the auspices of Avon Park's Welcome Wagon hostess, Miss Verna Heim.

Miss Joan William, pianist, and Miss Jane Maxwell, vocalist, presented an enjoyable musical program. Refreshments of punch and cookies were served from a table spread with a lace cloth and decorated with arrangements of yellow chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Cora McIntosh of Zephyrhills, area supervisor for Welcome Wagon, was a guest. She made a brief welcome address.

There are Welcome Wagon Newcomers Clubs in 500 cities in the U.S. and throughout Canada. Its social object is to extend a friendly and neighborly helping hand to all newcomers by introducing them to others like themselves and starting them on a new social life in this, our community. Its patriotic object is to do all in its power to help the country at all times in the best way suggested. Also, another object of the club is to promote interest in our town and the many advantages it has to offer newcomers.

Welcome Wagon service dates back to the pioneer days. The days of the westward trek are over. Its place has been taken by a complexity of living, but the pioneer spirit remains. The spirit of adventure still lives in our hearts. It is these folks that form the Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club and through their own club, bring to each other the magic word of welcome for which its organization stands.

What more ideal place for their club to meet than at the Palm room, Jacaranda Hotel, for it, too, is an organization that believes sincerely in the magic word "welcome".

Another enjoyable social meeting will be held this month. Announcement of this meeting will be made in the Avon Park Sun.

Frostproof Citrus Firm To Use "Hopalong" Labels

Hopalong Cassidy Enterprises signed a contract last week with Scenic Citrus Cooperative of Frostproof, giving the latter organization the exclusive rights to use the Hopalong Cassidy "character" name on citrus products within the United States, according to W. F. "Bill" Phares, manager of the Frostproof Cooperative.

Phares said, "Our becoming a licensee for Hopalong Cassidy's name will have far-reaching results in both our organization and the Frostproof area. The move is in line with a recent trend for the use of various kids' comic, TV, and movie heroes' names in the food field. Hopalong belongs only in certain categories of food, the sort of food that is more or less identified with children. Certainly, high quality citrus products are identified with children — with healthy, growing children."

There are between 100 and 150 different character names being used effectively in helping to sell merchandise of all types. These characters are to a great extent responsible for about 40 percent of both food and non-food sales. "That is it," Phares remarked. "Scenic now has what I consider to be the most beloved - by - children character name available, and high quality products to sell under that label."

CAP Cadets Now Meet in Avon Park

Because of the increased interest in the Cadet Program, The Highlands Civil Air Patrol announced this week that future meetings of the Cadets will be held simultaneously in Avon Park, Sebring, and Lake Placid. Previously all Cadets had been meeting weekly in Sebring under the guidance of Commandant of Cadets, Lt. Martha Allen, CAP.

At present time the Cadet Roster of the Avon Park Unit lists nine members; however, at the Tuesday meeting held in the Avon Park Civic Center, three new prospects were enrolled; they were Bruce Osteen, Harold Wells, and Thomas Maxwell. Regular members of the Unit are; Louis Lagoni, S/Sgt.; Billy Jones, Corporal; Franklin Welch, Pfc; Tom Moore, Pfc; Ben Harvey, Pfc; Wayne Cravey; Darryl Edwards; Wayne O'Connor; and Marvin Farles. The Avon Park Unit is commanded by Lt. Franklin Ward, Training Officer, CAP.

Meetings will be held weekly on Tuesdays at 7 P.M. at the Civic Center and will consist of military drill, aviation lectures and films, and specialized activities as model making, radio, and photography. The Unit has just finished the study of "Why an Airplane Flies" and will begin on Aircraft Engines next week.

Boys and girls who have reached the age of 15 and are not yet 18 are eligible for membership. There are neither dues nor physical requirements. Contrary to the belief held by some, membership in the Cadets does not commit the participant in any way to induction into any military service. Although Cadets may gain the opportunity to make flights with the CAP, such flights are not mandatory, and indeed, can only be made with the expressed consent of the Cadet's parents.

Exotic Trees On Display

Visitors to the Chamber of Commerce this week were able to make the acquaintance of such exotica as the bright carambola fruit and the sausage that grows on a tree.

They were part of an exhibit, provided by C. S. Donaldson, student of botany, composed of branches of trees that grow in and around Avon Park, but which are not familiar to most of us. Old residents know Mr. Donaldson as the gentleman who planted the Mall and Donaldson Park.

The exhibit included:

Branch and edible fruit of the Carambola tree.

Branch and fruit of the tung oil tree, a profitable crop in the Ocala-Gainesville section.

Branch of the Oncoba Spinosa, bearing green apples which are edible when ripe. This is one of the "leprosy-cure" trees.

The polished brown seeds of the egg fruit tree, a cousin of the sapodilla, or chewing gum tree.

Branch and fruit of the longan, or Chinese litchee nut tree.

Branch of Spanish cork oak, recently introduced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, with the hope that this country can produce its own cork.

This display will continue through this week.

In 1950, national figures showed that second lowest amount of acreage burned by forest fires in the history of the United States.

Soil Conservation News

By Sam Poiston
Soil Conservationist

The Highlands Soil Conservation District assisted 4 cooperators in working out a complete soil and water conservation farm and ranch plan during the month of September. The acres involved are as follows: Carl R. Mahaffey, Grady Smoak, Marvin Kahn and Jack Deadwyler. The Soil Conservation District supplied each with a land inventory map showing the different kind of land on the farm or ranch and what it was best suited for, showing the land best suited for citrus, pasture, cultivated crops, woodland, wildlife, etc. Each of the Highlands Soil Conservation District's 402 cooperators have been supplied with land inventory (land capability) maps showing the kind of land they own and its ability to do a job. The job being to produce the most for the longest period of time.

Then engineers of the Central and South Florida Flood Control, the Board of County Commissioners, and the supervisors of the Highlands Soil Conservation District held a conference in the Court House September 19th pertaining to water conservation and water control in the lakes and streams in Highlands County. These three governing bodies agreed to cooperate 100 percent in working together assisting the people of Highlands County in combating their water problems. The lakes of Highlands County is one of its greatest assets and a great deal responsible for its well being and they should be treated accordingly.

Mrs. Katherine Waggaman of Lorida, Chairman; Cole Danley of Lake Placid, Vice-chairman; Jack Hutchinson, Avon Park; Ivey Futch and L. L. Holmes of Lake Placid, compose the Highlands Soil Conservation District board of supervisors. They are your officers in soil and water conservation for Highlands County. They are land owners here and were elected by popular vote of the landowners of the county to handle and advise on soil and water conservation problems. Some of them are subject to reelection or replacement each year.

SEBRING TO HAVE ANOTHER CONVENTION

Aother convention was secured for Sebring this week when the officers and directors of the state association of Soil Conservation accepted the invitation of the convention bureau of the Sebring Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Katherine Waggaman, Sebring state director and chairman of Highlands Soil Conservation District, presented Sebring's bid before the new board headed by President E. E. Carter, Vero Beach, who succeeded Tom J. Maxwell of Quincy.

The western and the southern states are just about even in the volume of timber produced in each section.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

As soon as a candidate for primary nomination announces that he is running and either receives or spends money on account of his campaign, he must qualify under the new law. Attorney General Richard W. Ervin has advised Secretary of State R. A. Gray. First step, the attorney general pointed out, is to name a campaign manager, either the candidate or someone acting for him. Reporting of money received and spent must be on forms provided by the secretary of state. The new law requires everyone placing a political ad in a state primary campaign to have written authorization and to have the money available.

Governor Warren has filed a $1,000,000 libel suit against Collier's magazine, charging he was defamed by an article, "Secret Mr. Big" of Florida" which appeared in the issue of May 5, 1951. The governor previously had called for a retraction and had not received it. His suit was filed by Weldon G. Starry in the local federal court. It denies that the governor had conspired with three campaign sponsors to divide up the state business, and denies other alleged implications of wrong doing contained in the article. It was written by Lester Velie, was the subject of extensive legislative hearings, but developed nothing tangible.

Request of Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company that it be permitted to increase its rates under bond pending determination of a state-wide rate case has been denied by the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission. The order of the commission pointed out that the testimony in the lengthy rate hearings had not developed that present rates are confiscatory. In another order, the commission complied with the interstate commerce commission orders to allow a 15 per cent increase in intrastate sleeping and parlor car rates for the Pullman company. Interstate increase of the same amount was authorized for last June 1, and 40 other states meantime have raised their intrastate rates accordingly.

New housing for 610 more students will be built at the University of Florida by a loan approved by the state cabinet and amounting to $1,998,000. The loan will be financed through self liquidating bonds, and will pay for two new housing units and a central service unit.

Following the resignation of Dr. Eugene Peek of Ocala from the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, Governor Warren appointed Walter Warren of Leesburg to the vacancy. The new member, no relation to the Governor, is an attorney and a former member of the legislature. He has been active in conservation for many years.

Cabbage Palm — Clown and Acrobat

By Carol H. Beck
Botanist, Florida Park Service

The most unpredictable tree found along Florida's warm coast is the Sabal Palmetto, more commonly called "Cabbage Palm" by Floridians.

Its naturally tall slim trunk can often be seen twisted into unusual shapes, either vertically, obliquely or horizontally, at times utterly defying all the laws of gravity.

When found growing in an open place at Mayakka River State Park, near Sarasota, this tropical looking tree with its crest of fan-like leaves reaches a height of twenty or forty feet. Its tall slender bole under its heavy head of leaves looks as though it would snap like a pencil at the first brisk wind but this is not so.

The fact is that this tree is not brittle as the hard wood trees are since the trunk consists of many fibers and tubes which make it very flexible. It is a wonderful sight to see this tree bending and swaying in tropical winds that would break or uproot a tree of another type.

Often when this same tree is found growing in a wooded section at Highlands Hammock State Park, near Sebring, it does not grow straight and tall but twists and turns through the leafy branches which surround it, seeking an opening through which it may thrust its head to gain the benefits of sunlight. Because of its fiberous nature, the cabbage palm can grow in an almost horizontal position to the ground without breaking or falling, something which can be observed at Hillsborough River State Park, near Zephyrhills.

This majestic palm, with its tall trunk and luxuriously tufted mass of fan-shaped leaves at its summit, is very different in appearance from trees with which we are mostly familiar. It is in truth a Florida oddity.

There are nearly five acres of forest land for each man, woman, and child in the U.S.

CITRUS CANNING YEAR-AROUND

Florida citrus canning operations have become a year-around business.

Bruce's Juices, Tampa canning firm, is winding up processing of fruit this summer and immediately starts in on grapefruit from the new season's crop.

It's the first time a Florida citrus cannery has kept its doors open all 12 months for citrus canning, said Bert Livingston, secretary of the Canners League of Florida.

Final Figures On Population of County

Urban areas of Highlands county generally reflected an increase in population in 1950 as compared with 1940, according to final figures compiled by the Bureau of the Census and released by Merill C. Lofton, regional director of the U. S. Department of Commerce in Atlanta.

The county itself reflected an increase of 47.5 per cent or from a population of 9,246 in 1940 to 13,636 in 1950.

Following were the population figures for the urban area in the county in 1950 as compared with 1940 with percentage increases or decreases: Avon Park, 4,612 in 1950 and 3,125 in 1940, an increase of 47.6 per cent. DeSoto, 220 in 1950 and 131 in 1940, an increase of 67.9 per cent. Lake Placid, 417 in 1950 and 340 in 1940, an increase of 22.6 per cent. Sebring, 5,006 in 1950 and 3,155 in 1940, an increase of 58.7 percent.

For the State as a whole, the Commerce Department announced final population on April 1 of this year of 2,771,305, an increase of 637,891, or 46.1 per cent over that of 1940. Among the States, Florida ranked twentieth in population. The 1950 population of Florida was about 80 times as large as its population in 1830, the first year in which the present area of the State was enumerated in a Federal census.

Churches of Christ, Scientist

Ability to distinguish between reality, which is God-created, and unreality, which is only belief, is vital to success and progress. This will be explained next Sunday at all Christian Science services when the subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Unreality".

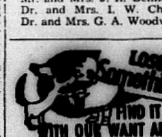

A verse from Proverbs supplies the Golden Text: "The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he addeth no sorrow with it" Prov. 10:22).

Bible Selections include the following from Psalms referring to the man who delights in God's law, "... he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper" (1:3).

Correlative citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "The term Science, properly understood, refers only to the laws of God and to His government of the universe, inclusive of man. From this it follows that business men and cultured scholars have found that Christian Science enhances their endurance and mental powers, enlarges their perception of character, gives them acuteness and comprehensiveness and ability to exceed their ordinary capacity" (p. 128: 4-11).

Red Devils Play At Haines City

By John Garber

From last week, Kathleen 13 Avon Park 6, — a game that might easily ended the other way around had Avon Park been able to capitalize on three good breaks. The game got under way with Kathleen kicking off to Avon Park. Jimmy Kelley returned the kickoff 15 yards and picked up 2 yards through the line on the first play. Sam Elder picked up 1 yard on the 2nd down and Morris Harper, on the 3rd down, attempted a pass which was incomplete. Kelley punted to Kathleen's Jerry O'Neal who returned it 12 yards. On Kathleen's first running play they drew a 15 yd. penalty for offensive holding. Bobby Grimes and O'Neal in two plays picked up 10 yards — then James Watkins lost 2. With seven yards remaining for a first down Kathleen went back in punt formation. The ball was centered way over the punter's head by the time he raced back to pick up the ball three Avon Park linesmen were there to drop him on the 14 yard line — a loss of 30 yards on the play. Avon Park took over from there. On the 2nd down Morris Harper passed to Kelley picking up 11 yards and a first down. Harper then raced over from 4 yards to score. The kick for extra point was blocked. Avon Park kicked off to Kathleen and held them to one yard on three plays. Kathleen's Allred went back to punt . . . Avon Park rushed him causing him to fumble and Avon Park recovered. Harper threw a pass to Kelley that was good for 12 yards and a first down. They were on their way when Harper, on 3rd down laid a perfect pass to his receiver but he couldn't hang on. That would have set up another scoring chance had the pass been completed. In the dying minutes of the 2nd quarter, Kathleen made a desperation pass and connected for a touchdown. The pass covered 30 yards. Avon Park blocked the kick for extra point. Kathleen kicked off and Kelley returned 25 yards. With time remaining for but one play, Harper found Bruce Spencer in the clear and hit him with a pass good for 12 yards. Half time score 6-6.

Avon Park kicked off to Kathleen to open the third quarter. Kathleen kept possession of the ball for eleven plays and climaxed a drive of 63 yards with a touchdown. The try for extra point was good making the score 13-6 as it stood for the remainder of the game. Twice in the third quarter Avon Park got started on their way to paydirt but both drives were halted — once by a pass interception and once when a Kathleen player stole the ball from Sam Elder after he was stopped but not down.

Avon Park's defense continued to play good ball and their offense clicked better than anytime this season. Harper attempted 12 passes — connected 5 for 56 yds.

Tonight the Red Devils will drive to Haines City where they will face the Hornets. Haines City has lost two games this season—their opener to Sebring 6-0 and last week they fell to Mulberry 7-6. They have a victory over Kathleen 13-12. Although the Red Devils will not be able to field as strong a team as Haines City does not mean they won't have a chance to win. We believe that Avon Park has a good chance to break into the win column tonight but believe their chance of losing is greater because of Haines City's strength. We think that the encounter tonight will be a close and scrappy one.

David Maddox will be out of uniform possibly for the remainder of the season due to a knee injury received in the Kathleen game.

Last Sunday afternoon Coach Edwin R. Carter received 2nd and 3rd degree burns when he took off the radiator cap of a car which was overheated. Pressure inside the radiator forced hot steam and water on to Carter's face chest and arms. The most severe burns were on his chest and arms where his shirt held the heat. Latest word from Walker Memorial Hospital announced he is recovering nicely. We know that he would appreciate a card or note from you. Visitors are allowed during visiting hours. Coach Joe Franza will take charge of the team until Carter recovers.

This week's Ridge Conference predictions: HAINES CITY over Avon Park — LAKE WALES over Mulberry (in a close one which the breaks of the game could turn it around)—SEBRING over Auburndale (without any trouble) — KISSIMMEE over Frostproof —KATHLEEN over Ft. Meade. Above are all conference games.

Avon Park Civil Air Patrol Cadets Gain Strength

The Avon Park Unit of the Highlands Civil Air Patrol Cadet Squadron continued to gain strength at its meeting Tuesday night at the Civic Center. Five new members were added bringing the total roster to seventeen —greater than the roster of the entire county squadron one month ago. The new members are Ronald Thompson, James Logan, A. W. Sims, Casey Windham, and Glenn Welch. With such growth it is expected that the Unit will soon be commissioned as a separate Flight.

The Cadets are fast shaping up as a drill team and soon will be ready for public exhibition. Most of the Cadets can run through the facings and marching maneuvers with the smartness of many a military unit. Drill leaders at the last meeting were Sgt. Louis Lagoni, Cpl. Bill Jones, Pfc. Tom Moore, and Pfc. Franklin Welch. Each Cadet will get his turn as drill leader.

The Unit began its study of Aircraft Engines at the Tuesday meeting. The types of engines were discussed and the principle of the 4-cycle engine was explained by Lt. Ward. The study of this subject will continue next week with emphasis on fuels and carburetion.

The day following the meeting several of the Cadets met at the Avon Park Airport to inspect the maintenance facilities and to examine the various types of planes stored there. Next Sunday the Cadets will meet with the senior Civil Air Patrol at Hendricks Field.

REV. FERN HEASLEY

Revival at Church Of The Nazarene

Revival services began on Tuesday night, October 9, at the Avon Park Nazarene church, with the Rev. Fern Heasley as evangelist. Rev. Heasley has been in evangelistic work for several years, and is now in the pastorate of the St. Petersburg First Nazarene Church.

Bible preaching will be the main theme, with Christ being exalted. As a special feature there will be special music and singing each service.

On Sunday, October 14, Rally Day will be held during the Sunday School hour, in conjunction with the district-wide program.

We send out a challenge to all to come and hear good, solid Bible preaching and bring a friend, for all will receive a cordial welcome.

Services are at 7:30 P.M. nightly and at 11:00 A.M. Sundays.

J. D. Benson, pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. James Luxton, Mrs. Amelia Dick, Mrs. M. Irwin Spurlock, Jr., of Angola, N.Y., and Mrs. Clare E. Mann spent Monday in Lakeland on a combined business and pleasure trip.

Coach Carter Severely Burned

Edwin J. Carter, athletic coach at the Avon Park High School, is in Walker Memorial Hospital recovering from severe burns on his face, upper part of his body, and his right arm. He received his injuries Sunday afternoon.

Carter, accompanied by his son, Robert, and R. L. Padgett, was driving a recently-purchased 1940 Ford pick-up truck when the motor began to overheat, apparently because of an unnoticed leak in the radiator. He stopped to put more water in the car. Thinking he had cooled the radiator sufficiently by pouring cold water on it, he removed the radiator cap and was scalded by exploding steam.

Dr. H. W. Coleman treated him before he was taken to the hospital. It is the opinion of the physician that Mr. Carter's face will not be scarred.

He is reported to be recovering satisfactorily. It was stated that he would remain in the hospital for at least a week.

Avon Park Artist In Annual Show

"The Old Village School", an oil painting by Mrs. J. F. Weaver of this city was one of 12 paintings by Florida artists accepted by the sixth annual Southeastern Art Exhibition, which opened at the High Museum of Art, Atlanta, Ga., Sunday afternoon, Sept. 30, with a reception for exhibitors and sponsors.

CEMETERY ASSOCIATION

The Avon Park Cemetery Association will meet Tuesday October 23, at 8:00 P.M., in the customers' room of the Florida Power Corp. This meeting has been called because there was not a quorum at the meeting called for this week.

Children's Clothes Urgently Needed

What about those pants or that sweater, still almost as good as new, that Johnny has outgrown? Are they taking up space in your closet, or going to waste in a storage chest?

They shouldn't be, for the P.T.A. is appealing for good, wearable children's clothing not now in use. There are numbers of children in Avon Park who find it difficult to attend school because they do not have enough to wear. Clothing up to age 12, and particularly for boys, is the most urgently needed.

If you have such clothing, please give it — and please don't delay. It is needed right now!

The clothes may be given to either the elementary or high school offices. Or, if that is more convenient, leave them at the Western Auto Associate store, on Main St.

93 Attend Old Settlers Picnic Here

The annual picnic and meeting of the Old Settlers' Club was attended by 93 persons, most of them old-time residents of Avon Park. A number of early settlers now living elsewhere returned for this event.

The new officers of the Old Settlers' Club, elected during the afternoon business session, are: O. E. Wolff, president; F. S. Jordon, vice president; Mrs. Mary Reed, secretary; and Cora Wray, treasurer.

The meeting began with the ample picnic spread under the shelter in Donaldson Park. Demos Mandis furnished his famous barbecue, which was supplemented by an array of hot dishes, salads, delicious cakes and pies, and coffee, provided by members of the club.

The Rev. John Q. Crumbly pronounced the blessing before food.

The business meeting in the Winter Guest clubhouse followed the picnic, with the program following that. The Rev. Herbert D. Graetz offered a prayer of thanks. Speakers were the Rev. E. G. Wood of Deland, S. E. Roberts, W. O. Skipper, and Mrs. Fred Stevens of Sebring, all of them relating stories of the early days of Avon Park.

Library Fund Slowing Down

The public library building fund is still growing. But it is growing rather slowly now, the present total being $4001, leaving $2,000 needed.

The library building itself is growing rapidly. So, if you have planned to contribute, won't you please send your gift in now? (you can send it to the Chamber of Commerce office.) The fund needs to be completed so that the expenses of building can be paid when due.

Let's see your name on the list of contributors next week. Those who contributed during the past week are listed below:

J. BRAILEY ODHAM

Odham Candidate For Governor

J. Brailey Odham, an ex-legislator and former president of the State Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced recently he would run for Governor of Florida on a platform to rid the state of "comercialized gambling racketeers, legal or illegal."

Odham is the first "well known" contender for governor to announce his candidacy. However, Bill Hendrix, of Tallahassee, and Dale Spencer, of Kissimmee, announced previously their intentions to run.

Odham served with the Navy durig World War II. He received an AB degree in business administration at Louisiana College, where he played football and basketball in 1941, and has been a distributor for Gulf Oil Corp. in Sanford since 1941.

Mrs. Parke Anderson C. of C. Secretary

Mrs. C. Parke Anderson will be executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, filling the position left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Joseph A. Gregor. Mrs. Anderson will take over her new duties next Monday, Oct. 15. Mrs. Gregor, however, will also be at the office for a few days, to assist in clearing up work now in progress.

It is scarcely necessary to inform residents of our city that Mrs. Anderson has lived here most of her life. Born in Kissimmee, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Bass, she first came to Avon Park as a child around 1916. Her family settled here permanently in 1919. Her mother, three sisters and two brothers are all residents of Avon Park.

Her husband, the late C. Parke Anderson, was one of the town's most prominent businessmen, and very active in civic affairs.

BETWEEN-HALVES SHOW

The Avon Park High School Band marched in full uniform for the first time this season at the between-halves show during the football game with Kathleen last Friday night. Bad weather and other unfavorable conditions have prevented their marching in full regalia before. The band was in good marching form, and it and the majorettes presented a striking show.

Preceding the appearance of the local band, Kathleen's band marched and played for the spectators, presenting an entertaining novelty act representing the discovery of America by Columbus. The majorettes, wearing feathered headdresses, performed an Indian "peace dance."

Prather's Sales Staff Hold Meeting

Above is the sales staff of the Ft. Myers and Lake Wales plants of Prather's dry cleaning and laundry establishment, photographed at the Jacaranda Coffee Shop, where the organization held a sales conference and a dinner on Wednesday night, Oct. 3. Included are Frank A. Prather, head of the firm, and C. B. Randall, sales manager.

Joe Settle, manager of the Lake Wales plant was toastmaster at the banquet. Entertainment was provided by Marvin Lacey, Prather's "Singing Salesman," who is heard on the radio.

Sales plans and program for the coming season were discussed. A contest for the joint sales staff was also set up, with prizes to be awarded for the best sales presentations to the housewife on why she should send her laundry to Prather's.

Judge Livingston To Speak at P.T.A.

The Avon Park P.T.A. executive board will meet next Tuesday, October 16, 3:00 P.M. in the high school teachers' room, according to T. J. Ward, president.

A final draft of the fall activities will be completed. It is hoped to successfully conclude the campaign for members in October.

The question of having a booth in the Junior Woman's Club Halloween Carnival on October 27 will be acted upon.

Consideration will be given to a recommendation that the P.T.A. support the County School Board in their recent approval of an increase in the school district millage to provide a $200 annual cost-of-living increase for all school personnel.

The next regular meeting of the P.T.A. membership will be Thursday, October 18, at 3:15 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Judge H. G. Livingston will be guest speaker at this meeting, and will explain procedures under the new Juvenile Court Act.

Moose Plan October Xmas Party

By Bernice Mintz Senior Regent

Christmas is a joyful time at Mooseheart because of the unselfish and sincere interest of the Moose Fraternity. Every child is remembered, from the tiny tots in the Baby Village, to boys and girls of high school age. All look forward to Christmas with equal enthusiasm.

Each gift presented to these children are specially selected to suit as near as possible, the individual child, in order to do this, gifts and donations must reach Mooseheart within the first week of November.

Mooseheart, founded July 27, 1913, is a community of twelve hundred acres, located about forty miles west of Chicago in the beautiful Fox River Valley. It is owned and operated by the Supreme Lodge of the World Loyal Order of Moose, as a home and school for over nine hundred dependent children of deceased members of the Moose Fraternity.

Religious and moral training are under the direction of two resident Chaplains, a Catholic priest and a Protestant minister. All students are required to attend Church services and Religious classes regularly.

A Christmas party will be held October 27, 8:30 P.M. at your local Moose hall Avon Park, Lodge 1333. This party is being sponsored by the Women of the Moose, auxiliary of local Order. The hall will be decorated in the spirit of Christmas, a Christmas tree loaded with gifts will be given to those attending for small donations, the entire amount donated will go to Mooseheart "Child City". A free chicken supper is also planned. This party is restricted to members and their guest.

If you are not a member of the Moose and are interested in joining our defending circle, drop a card to Loyal Order of Moose, P.O. Box 903 Avon Park, Fla. and a representative will call on you. Women need not have affiliation to become a member of the Women of the Moose.

Our City's Fame Spreads Far Afield

The name of Avon Park is apparently becoming known in far-distant and exotic lands, for persons living in such countries send letters of inquiry to our Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Gregor, executive secretary, reports a request from Nineveh, Iraq, that information, official guides or booklets about Avon Park be sent to 12 individuals or groups of individuals. An importing firm in New Delhi, India, has also requested information.

But perhaps even more interesting to us is the inquiry from the gentleman in Honolulu, Hawaii, who will soon retire and who wishes to leave that famed locality to settle in Florida. He not only asks for information concerning citrus, but also about the possibility of growing papayas here.

The Rev. E. G. Wood and Mrs. Wood, of Deland, were guests this week of his sister, Mrs. R. E. Maysack, and Mr. Maysack. Mr. and Mrs. Wood, who first came to Avon Park in 1900, also attended the Old Settlers Picnic on Wednesday.

Avon Park's political situation was jumbled at press time Thursday. Here are developments in the aftermath of the county democratic convention Saturday:

Thursday Morning

The Board of County Commissioners, Lenny Rush, Mark Smith, Clifford Thomas and Ed Gough, met in regular session.

They fired an undisclosed number of employees, including Mrs. Ruth Crews, city assessor; Mrs. Mary E. Booth, Mrs. Lee Bishop, former assistant clerk; succeeding Mrs. B. A. Cox, Oscar Wiltz, police chief, succeeding W. O. Roberts; Keith Culley, city engineer, succeeding S. C. Pardee, Jr., J. W. Ward, patrolman, succeeding E. O. Blanford; George Prevatte, fireman.

Failed to name third fireman.

Retained were: Mrs. Gerald Moseley, water department clerk; Joe Lee Elder, patrolman; Wilbur Giddens, fire chief; Willie Willis, water department superintendent; current employees in the street and sanitary departments.

Set salaries of all employees.

Learned that the former councilmen had appealed Circuit Judge Register's decision (that council had no right to go behind the election returns) to the supreme court.

Wednesday

Noon — The old council, with the exception of Mannin Kirkland, appeared before Judge Register in Wauchula, in response to a contempt citation. They promised to carry out tonight the court's peremptory writ issued Oct. 8.

Afternoon — A supersedeas was issued by the supreme court, which stayed Judge Register's order. O. C. Wilkes, Ed Gough and O. E. Wolff allegedly obtained the writ, through Attorney S. C. Pardee, Sr.

Wolff later asked The Sun to deny that he had any part in obtaining the supersedeas. He also acclaimed the new council as one of the best in years.)

Night — Despite the report of the supreme court's action, the old council carried out the Circuit Court's order to rescind its Sept. 25 resolution declaring the following election winners:

O. C. Wilkes, Mayor; Lenny Rush, Mark Smith, Clifford Thomas, O. E. Wolff and Ed Gough, councilmen. The purported result of complying with the peremptory writ was to declare the following winners: Wiley Sauls, Jr., mayor; Rush, Thomas, Smith, Mannin Kirkland and J. B. Sparks, councilmen.

The latter then took the oath of office and the loyalty oath, which were administered by Attorney Collyer.

Tuesday

It became known in the morning that Judge Register had ruled, after a hearing in Sebring Monday, that the right to throw out votes and change the results of the election was vested in the courts, not in city councils.

Copies of the writ were served on the old councilmen. President Gough called meeting for afternoon but later changed it to Wednesday night.

ACTION TAKEN BY LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE

At the regular meeting of Avon Park Moose Lodge held, Thursday, October 4, a matter pertaining to a 6-year old youngster, whose parents could not afford an operation for the removal of tonsils was brought to the attention of the members. The members voted to defray the expense of the operation. The Walker Memorial Hospital and Sanitarium was contacted and arrangements made with the Hospital defraying part of the cost. The tonsils were removed and it is reported that the youngster is home and getting along fine.

The Moose and the hospital are to be complimented for this fine act.

RIDGE HIGHWAY TO BE OPEN FRIDAY

The Avon Park Chamber of Commerce took steps to inform Legionnaires en route to the national convention at Miami next week that Highway 27 through the Ridge section and along the west side of Lake Okeechobee will be open by Friday, after being closed for over a week by heavy rains in the Okeechobee region.

INFLUENCE

The Rev. H. E. Garrett, pastor
First Methodist Church

Mr. Friends stop and look over your shoulder! Somebody is following you! Do not be alarmed. It is no thief or murderer trying to do you harm. But be alarmed, less you do serious harm to whoever is following you. He is doing so because he trusts you, and thinks where you go is right, what you say is truthful, and he believes the way you live will bring him happiness and success, so he follows you.

1. Influence is a thing that is inevitable. It is possible to escape zero weather by going to Florida for the winter. One can avoid having the tooth-ache by receiving dental care. But no one can escape being influenced by others or influencing others. Influence, whether bad or good, is as manifest in every life as the leaven in the meal. It is as penetrating as ointment. Every action and utterance is linked to a chain of sequences no mortal can foretell. Should we not be most careful as to the kind of foot print we make on the sands of time?

2. Influence also lives long after we have passed away. Scientists tell us that the words spoken by Abraham and Elijah are still influencing the air; that the atmosphere is a mighty library on whose pages human actions and utterances have all been impressed. Influence is born with us like the fragrance in the orange blossom. It walks with us, flashes from our eyes and radiates from us like light from the sun. From the greatest to the least each person exerts lasting influence. Oft times the least influences the greatest. It was Andrew who influenced Peter to come to see Jesus. The one least spoken of among the apostles influenced the one who took the foremost place among them, as if to show that power is independent of personal superiority. These personal influences, first Jesus on Andrew, then Andrew on Peter, were the beginning of the conversion of the world.

Yes, my friend, someone is following you, and the best way I know to be sure that your influence is eternally good is to be a true follower of Christ, whose life is still the ideal example and the perfect way. "Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another." Within our own limited power we can never exert the sturdy influence for righteousness that God desires. Our lives must be securely joined to Christ so that his grace and power can be transmitted through us to the world.

My friend, look over your shoulder! Somebody will be following you today.

REPUBLICAN MEETING

Mrs. Dot Zielinski of Sebring entertained the Executive Board of the Highlands County Republican Woman's Club Tuesday night at her home on N. Lakeview Drive in Sebring.

Plans were made for the joint meeting of the Highlands County Republican Men and Women to be held Friday night, October 19, at 8:00 P.M. at the Sebring Hotel in Sebring, at which time a School of Politics and Forum will be conducted on the coming Election for School Trustees, in which Republicans will participate.

An invitation is extended to Avon Park Republicans to attend the October 19th meeting in Sebring.

Seven Candidates Seek Highlands School Trusteeships

The names of seven candidates will appear on the ballot in the school trustee election to be held Nov. 6, when Highlands County freeholders will select three.

Among the candidates are two incumbents, Charles Ginn of Avon Park, and Frank Eyman of Lake Placid.

Dr. H. V. Weems of Sebring, another incumbent, declined to seek reelection. His wife, however, will be a candidate.

Other candidates are G. Clayton Fields, Jr., director of the Avon Park Youth Center, and C. Lester Armstrong, also of Avon Park, and Ben Eastman and Dave Elliott, of Sebring.

J. A. Gregor Will Be Plant Manager In Winter Park

Joseph A. Gregor, former bakery owner and the originator of Brown 'N Serve rolls, will leave Avon Park the latter part of Oct. to become plant manager in charge of production and distribution for Minit-Fri, a new corporation located in Winter Park.

Minit-Fri will produce a processed french-fry potato for commercial use. This processed and packaged potato, a recent discovery which has been sold in some sections of the north but is new to the south, enables a cook to provide french-fried potatoes in a few minutes time, without the trouble of peeling, preparing, or pre-blanching. It will be distributed only to hotels, restaurants, etc. There is a possibility, however, that it may eventually be placed in grocery stores for household use.

The Minit-Fri corporation was formed some months ago in Lake Wales. Mr. Gregor is one of the original stockholders. Winter Park was chosen as plant site because it is the best distribution center now available.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregor came to Avon Park during the war, when he was stationed at the Pombing Range. After the war, they opened a bakery on South Forest Ave. Mr. Gregor discovered the famous Brown N' Serve rolls in December, 1948, and sold the process to General Mills in Nov. 1949. These rolls are now familiar to housewives throughout the country. The publicity concerning them and their discoverer, including magazine articles, radio broadcasts, etc., also publicized this city.

Mrs. Gregor has been executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce since the latter part of November, 1950, in which position she has proved herself both enterprising and efficient. She has of necessity resigned, her resignation becoming effective the last of this month.

The Gregors are now the parents of an infant son, Paul Francis.

The Gregors, who recently purchased a home here, had planned to live in Avon Park permanently, but the new opportunity was too favorable to let slip. They are well-known and well-liked here, and will be missed by numerous friends.

Mr. Gregor's family will join him in Winter Park at a later date.

Firemen Sponsor Gospel Concert

Stage, recording and television artists of the gospel concert world will be here on the night of Wednesday, Oct. 17, in one of the famous R. Loy McCormick all-night gospel sings at the high-school auditorium under the auspices of the Avon Park Firemen.

Arrangements were completed a few days ago for the sing between Mr. McCormick and Wilbur Adkinson of this city, and because of a tour of Florida by the quartets, including sings in Miami, Avon Park will get to hear the gospel songs of three of the nation's top singing groups.

McCormick said his caravan will include the famous Capitol recording stars, the Statesman's Quartet with Hovie Lister; the Homeland Harmony quartet with Connor Hall and the Lefevres, all of Atlanta, Ga. The quartets have appeared in hundreds of stage performances in Florida, Georgia and Alabama in the last five years. They have had 270 dates so far this year, and traveled more than 70,000 miles.

The McCormick gospel show will come here to the high school after a state tour which starts in Tallahassee the night of Oct. 11, goes to Tampa on Friday, Oct. 12 and winds up in Miami on Saturday night on Oct. 13.

The quartets will rest up a day or so before coming here to perform for the benefit of the voluntary fireman's fund and the fire department will get a portion of the receipts.

The sings will begin at 8 P.M. and last until ?

McCormick, who started promoting gospel concerts five years ago, has had eight of the nation's greatest quartets including the Jordannaires, who do background music for Red Foley, before 1,225,000 persons in auditoriums all over the three southern states. He is considered one of the largest promoters in the U.S.

Communion Vessels Dedicated

New memorial communion vessels were dedicated Sunday morning at the Union Congregational Church. The two sterling silver trays and plates were the gift of Miss Mildred Myers, in memory of her parents, the late Mary Gerdeman Myers and William Philip Myers, who lived in Avon Park for many years. The minister of the church, the Rev. Herbert D. Graetz, led the dedication, the congregation participating through response and joint prayer.

The ceremony preceded Holy Communion, with the Rev. O. L. Curl officiant. Mr. Curl is a retired Congregational minister now living in Sebring.

The prelude and postlude were piano and organ duets by Miss Dorothy C. Jones at the piano, and Mrs. Vaughan W. Driggers of Wauchula, at the organ.

C. OF C. HAS OUT-OF-TOWN TELEPHONE DIRECTORIES

Another new service has been added to those afforded by our local Chamber of Commerce. Out-of-town telephone directories for reference will be available within the next few days, covering Tampa, St. Petersburg, Clearwater, Tarpon Springs, New Port Ritchie, and Plant City.

The directories are supplied, without cost, by the Peninsular Telephone Co. Directories for the remaining cities served by this company will be forwarded as they are published.

LOCAL LEGIONAIRES TO ATTEND CONVENTION

The following members of the local American Legion Post have registered to attend the National Convention of the Amerrcan Legion to be held at Miami October 15 to 18:

Hubbard Biggs, Joe Fann, Johnny Wright, Lenny Rush, Francis LaFlam, James Heim, Demos Mandis, Floyd Freer, and Dr. Richard Hedrick. It is expected that others from here will attend but at this writing had not registered.

U. of F. Homecoming Set For Oct. 19-20

Former grid stars and advanced students Fred Montsleoca, Avon Park, and Jimmy Kynes, Marianna, have been named football coordinators for the University of Florida's annual Homecoming celebration, slated this year for October 19-20. They will take care of the many problems surrounding the game from the spectator point of view.

The Homecoming slogan this year is "Renew Old Fun in '51", and members of the Florida Blue Key, in charge of the celebration, have accepted it as their job to see that fun will be there.

Everything from the gala show on Friday night in Florida Field stadium to housing for visitors is being coordinated by Blue Key committee chairmen.

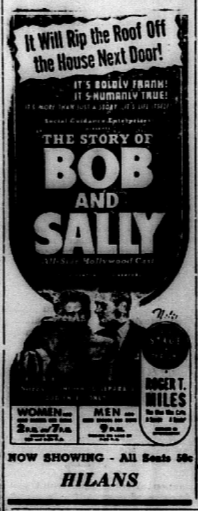

Besides Florida Blue Key, many other organizations have a part in the total program. Fraternities and sororities dress up their houses, make their floats for the parade, and spend many nights rehearsing their skits to be given at the Growl. Independent groups do the same.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH WARNING

Of the 14 shoe-fitting X-ray machines in Florida found emitting too much radiation, eight have been corrected and placed back into service, says the Florida State Board of Health.

The remaining six are being readjusted and are being withheld from operation pending a check to be sure they can be used within safe limits, says Dr. John M. McDonald, director of the state health agency's Division of Industrial Hygiene.

That division made a survey of 110 of the X-ray shoe-fitting machines in Florida and found only 14 operating beyond safe limits, Dr. McDonald added.

Dr. McDonald warned, however against indiscriminate use of the X-ray shoe-fitting device, pointing out that too frequent use of even a correctly adjusted machine could be dangerous.

"Customers should be limited to a maximum of three fittings in any one day and 12 fittings in any one year," he advised.

What Does It Mean To Preach "CHRIST"?

Acts 8:5, 35; 1 Cor. 2:1,2

A. To preach "Christ" is to Preach His VRGIN BIRTH. Why?
1. The truth of the gospel records rests on His Virgin Birth. Matt. 1:18-25; Luke 1:26-35.
2. His Divine Sonship rests on His Virgin Birth. Luke 1:34, 35. (How else could God become flesh, yet be God?)
3. Many there are who profess to be Christians, yea, even to be Preachers, who do not belive in the Virgin Birth.
4. It is the writer's conviction that no one can please God as a Christian or preacher who does not believe in the Virgin Birth.

B. To Preach "Christ" is to Preach the Bible Account of His MIRACLES.
1. (The way many "explain away" the Bible miracles will be brought to light in Sunday night's sermon.)
2. Objections to miracles, their historicity, and their purpose in the apostolic age will be discussed thoroughly.)
3. Modern "miracles" will be considered in the light of Bible teaching.
4. The importance of belief in Jesus' miracles will be fully demonstrated.

C. To Preach "Christ" is to Preach His DEATH FOR OUR SINS.
1. Many do not really believe in the death of Jesus as an atonement or propitiation for our sins. However,
2. His death for our sins is part of the Gospel. 1 Cor. 15:1-4.
3. The Cross is the Power of God. Rom. 1:16; 1 Cor. 15:1; Jno. 3:14; 1 Cor. 1-21-24.
4. His death was for (to atone for—pay the price for) our sins. Rom. 5:8, 9; 1 Jno. 2:1, 2; Acts 8:35—Isa. 53:1-12; Rom. 3:23-26.

NEXT WEEK: Preach His Burial and RESURRECTION, His ASCENSION into Heaven, and His 2nd COMING.

(Notice: This begins a series of articles on the theme of "What It Means To Preach Christ" Study each one carefully, prayerfully. This subject will be fully discussed beginning Sunday evening, October 14, 1951, at 7:30 P.M., and each Sunday evening thereafter during the next few weeks at the Church of Christ, at Walnut and Forest Ave., in Avon Park. Plan not to miss one of these inspiring Bible messages. Bring your friends and your Bibles, not your Pocketbooks.)

MacDill Airmen Train On Avon Park Bombing Range

Many Floridians glance in the skies at the sound of giant bombers roaring over at 30,000 feet and wonder where the high-flying silver planes are going.

The destination of many B-29's from MacDill Air Force Base and B-36's flying out of Carswell Air Force Base, Fort Worth, Texas, is Avon Park. They make simulated bomb drops on targets in the huge government reservation five miles from the city.

The Avon Park range for bombing, gunnery and artillery practice cover 167,054 acres—ample room to detonate explosives without endangering anyone. The site came into use during World War II, and was constantly used to train bomber crews from MacDill Air Force Base, and other installations in Florida.

Presently, the Avon Park range is used for daylight bombing and gunnery training by Air Force crews from MacDill, Carswell AFB; Hunter AFB, Savannah Ga.; Barksdale AFB, Shreveport, La., and other bases.

A detachment of 20 MacDill personnel commanded by Lt. Col. Roy N. Bailey mans the vast Avon Park reservation consisting of three aerial targets and two gunnery ranges. These men operate a ground radio transmitter to contact air crews, do the bomb plotting and scoring.

A portion of the tract near Arbuckle Lake is reserved for training Air Force crews to "survive" crash landings in jungles by catching fish, trapping birds and animals. This training is provided selected air crews from the Strategic Air Command by the Provisional Training Squadron at MacDill, commanded by Lt. Col. Donald M. Kupfer.

Crews Evaluated

These "selected" crews fly out of MacDill for three weeks under the eagle eyes of specialists from the Evaluation Squadron. Each crew member is evaluated for individual performance and likewise, each crew is evaluated for overall efficiency. Veteran airmen call this process one of separating the "men from the boys" to determine which Air Force crews are proficient enough to be entrusted with dropping the newly A-bomb.

Further pilots fly down from Turner AFB, Albany, Ga., regularly in speedy jets and conventional aircraft for gunnery practice at the Avon Park range. These fighter squadrons come to MacDill on three-week tours during the gunnery practice. Visiting air crews usually bring their own planes, mechanics and other personnel.

As defense preparations speed up, Avon Park and MacDill are becoming by-words in the Air Force. Other services also use the reservation. Nearby units of National Guard artillery and infantry spend weekends at the range, firing artillery, mortars, bazookas and other weapons to maintain proficiency.

The vast reservation is bounded on the west by Lake Arbuckle and Arbuckle Creek and partly on the east by the Kissimmee River. — Tampa Sunday Tribune.

Our Bird Sanctuary Is Now A Yearling

By The Bird Woman

Avon Park has been a bird sanctuary a little more than a year, and it might be interesting to engage in a little retrospection.

The city has received a great deal of favorable publicity by being a bird sanctuary.

Our city ordinance and write-up praising Avon Park was carried in the "Naturalist, a publication of the Florida Audubon Society, which is read by people all over Florida, and also a great many other states, and it has called forth quite a lot of favorable comment.

Other sanctuaries are being established in other cities and we hope that many others will follow our lead, as we have set a good example in bird conservation. Our sanctuary signs have also been the means of telling all who pass through our city that Avon Park has the class of people who are protecting our natural friends — the birds.

This has been good advertising, for people from every state in the Union and many from Canada, pass through our city annually, and many have expressed their delight that we are protecting our birds.

Some of the most prominent and intelligent people we know are bird lovers and bird watchers, and are not ashamed to admit it, and discuss it, and seeing our city as a bird sanctuary stamps it indelibly in their minds as a worthwhile city in which to spend some time.

Recently we were several miles from Avon Park on one of our main highways, and having occasion to stop at a farmhouse, remarked about a flock of martins that had just returned from migration. The farmer said that birds were very beneficial to his farm, and that he was trying to protect several coveys of quail on his property, for as long as the quail were there, he did not have to worry about the army worms that had been such a pest to his farm, for the quail took care of that situation.

But there being an open season for quail it was difficult to keep them from being wiped out. How thoughtless we are about the rights of others where our own pleasures are concerned!

I remarked that Avon Park was a bird sanctuary and he said, yes, he knew it was a sanctuary.

Another time we were on one of the old roads and saw a huge flock of birds feeding on weed seed in a field. We stopped to talk to the farmer about them. They proved to be rice birds (migratory). He also knew that Avon Park was a bird sanctuary and commented favorably about it.

A nurseryman from another city was telling me recently that since they had been attracting birds to their yards by feeding them and giving them bathing facilities, that they were not bothered with a great many insects that had previously been a menace.

We were also interested in another report along this line. A man plants several rows of corn along his truck patch, which was adjacent to a meadow, and each year the corn was not allowed to mature for worms and insects. So, being a wise man, he placed nesting boxes for birds in posts between the meadow and the corn. The nesting boxes were soon inhabited, and that year, as grasshoppers and insects came out of the meadow, they were met by hungry birds — consequently, the farmer harvested his corn.

Why is it that we are so intelligent on so many subjects, and fail to recognize how helpful our birds are to us?

Have you noticed how many birds are in evidence since so many people are feeding them? Notice as you pass homes, how many have feeders and baths handy for birds.

It was quite amusing to see how ragged some of the birds became while they were moulting, even the arrogant jay lost his crest and could hardly be recognized.

But our wonderful Creator so arranged it that the wing and tail feathers are not shed at once, but the old ones are replaced with new in such a manner that the bird is always able to fly and balance itself. Now most of them have their new coats for fall and winter; the style is the same as the old ones, but the color is fresh and new.

Especially do we notice the brown thrasher. His rich-colored coat looks like some lavish artist had just completed a masterpiece.

There have been very few infringements reported of the protection laws, some have been dealt with and some will be in the near future.

We hope soon to publish the bill passed by the last legislature, regarding the carrying of air guns and 22 rifles, and we hope all parents, yes, and grandparents, that have the jurisdiction of a child will study these laws carefully and teach them to the children, for after all, the child reflects the training it has in the home.

Another suggestion about bird feeders. You do not have to have an expensive one to attract the birds. Although fancy ones do attract the eye of the passer-by.

Anything that will hold feed, preferably with a roof to keep out the rain, will be appreciated by the birds. It may be hung in a tree or placed on a post, and for the brown thrasher, ground diver and towhees, just the regular scratch feed scattered on the ground in a designated place each day will be welcomed, as they like to scratch among the leaves and grass for their food much like the barnyard hens.

But if you do this, look out for cats! Now this brings up an unpleasant and unpopular subject, but a very vital one.

If you have a pet cat, please train it not to bother birds as far as this is possible, and feed it well so it will not feel the need to follow its natural instinct and forage for food. Please do not keep a "pack" of unfed, uncared for cats about your home. If you have more cats accumulate than you care for, call the city authorities and they will handle it for you.

To show how vital this cat situation really is, statistics show that an average, well-fed cat will kill fifty birds a year. Count your cats and with a little multiplication, you can see what happens to so many of our lovely song birds.

Then, of course, there are always the stray cats that nobody claims or care for.

We rank cats first in the destruction of bird life, and second, the boy with a gun or sling shot.

We have taken a long step forward in bird conservation, now lets follow it up, do our part as a parent and as a good citizen.

SLOW DOWN AT SUNDOWN

Thirty per cent of the reported traffic accidents in Florida during the first six months of 1951 occurred at night, Safety Director H. N. Kirkman reported today as he again reminded motorists to reduce their speed when darkness descends.

Forty-eight per cent of the fatal collisions during the six months period also occurred after sundown, Kirkman revealed.

"Thus, we see that night time hazards take their toll of the unwary driver who refuses to abide by traffic rules and regulations," the Director commented.

He pointed out that ninety per cent of all traffic accidents are due to violations by motorists. Seventy-four per cent of these caused at least one death.

Officers of W.M.U. For Year 1951-1952

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met at the church Tuesday evening for an installation service. The Rev. Liner, the pastor, gave the charge to the new officers, basing his remarks on the first eight verses of the first chapter of Acts.

Following the prayer, Miss Jamie Lee Whitaker sang, "I'll Live For Him". She was accompanied by Mrs. J. B. Coen, Jr.

Mr. Liner presented bookmarks bearing a picture of Christ and the words, "I'll live for Him", to each of the officers. These are:

President, Mrs. E. A. Martin; vice president, Mrs. Jerry O'Hern; young people's director, Mrs. David Stuckey; program chairman, Mrs. S. F. Longbottom; corresponding secretary and literature chairman, Mrs. O. C. Wilkes; recording secretary, Mrs. R. T. Liner; treasurer, Mrs. H. H. Rhiner; stewardship chairman, Mrs. L. W. Wicker; mission study chairman, Mrs. W. C. Touchton; community missions chairman, Mrs. L. R. Waters; social chairman, Mrs. L. D. McGiboney; publicity chairman, Mrs. S. J. Pendleton; Children's Home chairman, Mrs. L. P. Childers; training school and Margaret fund chairman, Mrs. W. E. Willis.

Counselors are: Sunbeams, Mrs. R. C. Bigbie and Mrs. O. C. Harris; junior girl's auxiliary, Miss Alice Ruth O'Brien; intermediate girl's auxiliary, Mrs. Harold Guerndt; Y.W.A., Mrs. Ray Wells and Miss Jamie Lee Whitaker.

Indian Welfare Chairman Speaks

Mrs. E. N. Lightfoot of Lakeland, chairman of Indian Welfare for the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs gave an interesting and enlightening talk on our Indians at the meeting of the Woman's Club, held in the Palm Room of the Jacaranda Hotel, Friday afternoon, October 5. She later passed around samples of the Indian's beautiful garments and various other articles exemplifying their marvelous handicraft.

The president, Mrs. S. O. Norris, presided at this opening meeting for this season. After the devotional, conducted by Mrs. W. C. Touchton, the salute to the flag, and the reciting of the club collect, several new members were voted in and welcomed.

Mrs. Esther Perry Hornbaker delivered an informative resume of Gen. Eisenhower's report on conditions in Europe.

Mrs. E. G. Todd, chairman of the library committee, reported work on the new building progressing rapidly, and collections coming in, but more than $3000 still to be raised. She urged those who have not contributed, to do so as soon as possible, and asked collectors to interview those on their lists immediately, so payments can be made when due.

Canned foods were brought by the membership for the Christmas welfare baskets.

WELFARE DEPARTMENT REPORT ON GRANTS

Monthly public assistance grants to Floridia's needy aged, blind and dependent children have dropped $583,000 since June and $356,00 of it is in reduced funds from Federal sources.

At the beginning of the new fiscal year in July, the State Welfare Department had to "tighten its belt" to stay within appropriated funds. That meant cutting grants on a statewide percentage basis for the blind and dependent children and putting into effect stricter eligibility rules in all three programs.

In Highlands County, grants in June were $16,420.50 for the aged; $8,268.00 for dependent children; and $661.00 for the blind, as compared with Septeomber figures of $15,612.00; $4,265.12; and $609.37 respectively.

The action of the Welfare Department has resulted in elimination of many persons from the welfare rolls, and less assistance grants in the county. In the entire state, checks in June went to 101,521 persons for assistance to 143,603 individuals. In September, grants were sent to 94,956 persons representing aid to 127,358 individuals. Checks for dependent children cover an average of between two and three children for each family group.

Here's why Fordomatic puts them all in the past!
For the past year, automotive writers, engineers and owners have been raving about a new kind of automatic driving . . . and here's why you get it only in Ford Cars!

All the power you need when you need it!
It gives you instant "GO"!
It practically drives itself!
Some automatics have this:
The automatic drive means cars offer you a torque converter which multiplies horsepower without the use of gears. Its advantage is a smooth flow of power. Its disadvantage is a one-line range of torque multiplication which requires more power from the engine and an uneconomical axle ratio which increases costs.
Some automatics have this:
Other cars offer an automatic drive that uses automatic gears (as illustrated in simplified form at right) instead of a torque converter. The advantage is a choice of driving control and greater economy. The disadvantage is that this system is not as smooth, nor as jerk-free as a torque converter.
But Fordomatic has both
Yes, Fordomatic has a torque converter plus automatic gears. It brings you only the advantages of both drives.
Unlike cars with only a torque converter (which start and cruise in low gear), Fordomatic starts fast and smooth in Intermediate Gear—then shifts itself into Drive Gear.
See our selection of A-1 USED CARS
Fordomatic Drive optional on V-8 models of extra cost. Equipment, accessories and trim subject to change without notice.

State President of JayCees Visits Here

C. Sweet Smith, Jr., of Cocoa, state president of the Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Art Highee, executive secretary, from Jacksonville, were guests of the Avon Park JayCees at a luncheon meeting in the Jacaranda Hotel last Friday noon.

This was the first visit the new president has made to the clubs in this section since his election at the state convention in Hollywood last June.

One of the most interesting points of Smith's talk to the club was that the state organization is seeking a location as nearly as possible in the geographical center of the state to establish permanent state headquarters. All clubs interested should submit bids for this worthwhile project. It will be necessary for the club receiving this honor to provide the ground on which the building will be constructed, and to offer any other considerations that will be most beneficial to the state organization.

Avon Park, Smith said, would make an excellent site for the state headquarters, and he urged the club to turn in a bid for it.

Another feature of the president's talk was that while the JayCee war memorial building, which houses the national headquarters in Tulsa, Oklahoma, has been completely paid for and was dedicated by General George C. Marshall in August, several of the states have not completed their quotas. Florida has paid slightly over 50 per cent of its quota.

The balance of the money not needed for the memorial has been voted to be used as scholarships for the children of deceased JayCees. Ironically enough, Florida was the first state to receive help from this source. The children of Seldon Waldo, past national president from Gainesville, who died after a lingering illness at the age of 35, received the first scholarships.

Dave Elliot, president of the Sebring JayCees, invited the Avon Park club to a joint meeting Thursday night, Oct. 18, at the Nan-Cess-O-Wee Hotel in Sebring. The national directors from Miami will attend and dinner will be served.

County Judge Issues Notice To Hunters

Notice was received from the office of County Judge Howard Livingston, and we want to call the attention to all old time hunters holding exemption certificates that they must have tags to place on their kill. The notice reads as follows:

"We have just received from the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission a book of tags for allotment to be used by resident hunters exempt from purchasing hunting licenses.

In that the Game Commission now requires that tags must be placed on deer and turkey immediately after it is killed, which tag must remain on the carcass, it is necessary that all residents who hold an exemption certificate because of being over the age of 65 and who desire to hunt deer and turkey must come into the office and secure the tag allotment."

Farm Bureau Meets Saturday Night

The Highlands County Farm Bureau will hold its annual meeting at the Fish and Game Club on State Road 27, north of Sebring, October 20, at 6:30 P.M.

President Loring Raoul, Florida Farm Bureau Federation, will be the guest speaker.

J. F. McClure, Jr., chairman of resolutions committee, announces that there will be resolutions presented relative to the following: increase in dues, social security for farm owners, and the Farm Bureau will reaffirm its stand favoring the bill on initiative referendum and recall. He further states that any member desiring to present resolutions may do so, but please have the resolutions written out. Resolutions passed will be presented by the delegate at the Farm Bureau convention, to be held in Orlando in November.

An important item of business not to be overlooked will be the election of officers, directors and delegate

All members are urged to attend this meeting, as it is the high point in the Farm Bureau year.

The Highlands County Tuberculosis and Health Association will hold a Christmas Seal Sale Institute today (Friday, Oct. 19) at the Jacaranda Hotel at 1:30.

Have You Given To The Library Fund?

A P Library Fund Still $2000 Short

It is not possible to know our own times or judge the future without a knowledge of the past. A public library is a storehouse, for our use, of the history of the past, its wisdom and wit — yes, even of its folly, which we may hope to avoid. It also extends our knowledge of our own times by supplying us with contemporary books describing experiences we cannot know in our own persons.

Such a valuable storehouse of books should be housed in a building strong enough to keep it safe from fire and storm damage. Such a library building is rapidly being built here, but the fund to pay for this building is still approximately $2,000 short.

Generous contributors have given $4210 to the library fund. Most of these contributors are Avon Park citizens. However, winter guests, former residents, and others interested in the welfare of our city, have been solicited by letter, and a number have responded generously. The drive for donations is continuing. Do add your name to the list of donors, the latest additions to which being printed below:

Civic and Youth Center at Armory

The Armory is now a Civic Center, available for the use of the Avon Park public.

Youth Center activities will reopen there next weekend, Oct. 26, and 27, under the direction of Clayton Fields, Jr.

There will be a teen-age dance there this Friday night, Oct. 19.

The Seventh-day Adventist church will hold a youth rally at the Armory on Saturday night, Oct 20.

The Civil Air Patrol meets there every Tuesday night.

Avon Park has needed a community center building, as well as a youth center, and this opening of the Armory to the townspeople is an answer to this need.

Groups wishing to meet at the Armory should get in touch with H. K. Biggs, to check dates and make arrangements.

HI-JINKS AT THE TABLE SUPPLY

We have been informed that the local Table Supply store employees are planning something special for their harvest sale, being held this week-end. Besides bargain aprices we are told the help will be dressed in costume to carry out the theme of "harvest sale". The management promises many surprises for visitors to the store.

Judge Livingston Outlines New Juvenile Court Law

Judge Howard Livingston, as guest speaker at the Avon Park P. T. A. meeting on Thursday, October 18, outlined the new Juvenile Court law, its purpose and its application to Highlands County.

The purpose of the Juvenile Court is to reform the wayward child to create a good citizen of him, rather than to have him become an habitual criminal, Judge Livingston said. "Reformation rather than punishment, is the order of the day."

The court has exclusive jurisdiction of dependent and delinquent children living or found within the county — under 17 years of age — married or unmarried, a dependent child being one who is homeless and who does not have proper parental care, a delinquent one being a child who commits a violation of the law, regardless of where the violation occurred, a persistent truant from school or an incorrigible, the judge explained.

In instances where a youth of 14 or older is charged with the commission of a felony, the Juvenile Judge may transfer the case to the criminal court. Any child 16 or older, who is charged with a capital offense, such as murder or rape, shall be mandatorily tried in the criminal court.

Judge Livingston pointed out the duties of the arresting officer, one of which is that in transporting the child to court or place of detention, the officer shall not place the child in any police or other vehicle containing an adult under arrest.

He said the child's identity must be protected on court records, and that children are identified by initials and case numbers only and never by name. Whenever a child is placed in jail, he or she must be placed in a part of the jail entirely separate, and apart from adult inmates.

As for further protection, a child taken into custody shall not be deemed to be under arrest, nor shall he be fingerprinted or photographed, except by special order, and all originals and copies of each destroyed. No child shall be held in jail more than two days, unless he has been adjudged a depedent or delinquent child.

After a hearing is held, an order is entered dismissing the proceedings or adjudging the child to be delinquent or dependent. The adjudication is not to be deemed a conviction, Judge Livingston said, nor shall it impose on the child any civil disabilities nor disqualify or prejudice the child in any civil service application.

After a child shall be adjudged to be delinquent or dependent, Judge Livingston said the Court shall have the power to:

1. Place the child under the supervision of the counselor in its own home or in the home of a relative willing to accept him, or in some other suitable place.

2. Commit the child to a detention home or a licensed child-caring institution.

3. Commit the child to an industrial school.

4. Commit the child to a licensed child-placing agency for subsequent adoption.

Oldest "Old Timers" At Annual Picnic

Among those attending the Old Settlers' Club annual picnic last week, Mrs. Max Wild, who came here in the spring of 1893, and E. C. Stenstrom, who came in 1888, were the woman and man who had lived longest in Avon Park. Mrs. Wild received a corsage from Avon Gardens as her prize, while Mrs. Stenstrom was given a gift from the Jacaranda Drug Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Wild received a gift from Jordon and Son Jewelery store for being the couple who had lived here the longest. They were also the first couple to be married in the Union Congregational Church, the oldest church in Avon Park, and originally a community church.

The Old Settlers' reunion, held in Donaldson Park, Wednesday, October 10, was a success, and the bountiful dinner was enjoyed by the 93 attending.

The club extends many thanks to Demos Mandis for providing, preparing and serving the delicious barbecue that was a high spot of the picnic.

After dinner, all assembled in the Winter Guest clubhouse, where the business meeting, program, and election of officers for the next year were held. Talks were given by several of the "Old Settlers" which brought back memories of the past.

Minutes were taken by Mrs. J. A. Gregor, for which service the club members send her their gratitude.

The club asked all Old Settlers who have not done so to sign the charter. Mrs May Walden and Mrs. Cora Wray are in charge of this.

It was announced that 17 Old Settlers have passed away since the last meeting of the club in October, 1950.

The club expressed its gratitude that room will be found in the new public library building, which will be fireproof, for lockers in which to store the club's valuable papers and pictures connected with the early history of our city.

The club will make a donation to the library building fund.

Those attending from out of town were: the Rev. Ernest Wood and Mrs. Wood of Deland, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Stenstrom of Wauchula, Mrs. J. W. Raulerson and Flossie Edwards Sumners of Sarasota, Victor Smith of Orlando, Anna K. Stevens of Sebring, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Piety of Sebring, Mrs. Gertrude Hessler Durrance of Wauchula.

Highlanders Meet Red Devils Tonight

By John Garber

It looks as though the Red Devils will be in for another onesided defeat tonight when they meet and play hosts to the undefeated, untied Lake Wales Highlanders. The Highlanders have romped over all opponents this year by decidedly substantial margins. They have had but two points scored against them so far. The Red Devils, on the contrary, have yet to win a game this season. This, among other reasons, can be partially attributed to the "tough ones" coming at the first of the schedule. Tonight they meet the toughest of the Ridge Conference teams and powerful Wauchula standing 3 and 0.

Although the Red Devils were unable to score against the Haines City Hornets last week they accumulated more yardage rushing and in passing than in any other game so far. The defensive line put up a good stand considering the bruising it had to take from the Hornet's backfield.

The game tonight at Memorial Field will offer plenty of scoring. The High School band will be on hand to perform during the half time activities. This in itself will be worth your money.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira McClarren have arrived in Avon Park and are settled in their recently-purchased bungalow at 129 Lake Ave. They expect to remain in Avon Park at least nine months out of the year. On Tuesday night, they entertained Mr. and Mrs. Clare Lehman of Stryker, Ohio, relatives of Mrs. McClarren.

Devon Gaster and Bobby Bolt are now in Dickinson, North Dakota, where they have been employed by an engineering company. They expect to return home in the spring. They recently were guests at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Emmanuel E. Hedgebeth, formerly of Avon Park. Mr. Hedgebeth having been the pastor of the Union Congregational Church here a few years ago; he is now pastor of the Dickinson church. The boys also report that Harold Worden, Jr., now working in Montana, made a trip to Dickinson to see them.

Legionaires Plan Veteran's City At Sebring

The following story has come out of Miami where the National American Legion Convention was held this week.

One group of American Legionaires attending the national convention here really got sand in their shoes.

They have taken over a tract of land near Sebring, in the lake region of Florida, with plans to establish a vacation, now-retirement home town for their buddies.

It is a real estate development with building lots for sale at $500 each. Only 150 of a total of 1000 lots have been platted, but options have been taken on nearly all these available, said Elmer W. Sherwood.

Sherwood, of Indianapolis, former Legion Adjutant-General for Indiana, is secretary-treasurer of Sebring Shores Development, Inc., which plans the veterans city. E. Meade Wilson, of Mulberry, national executive committeeman of the Legion for Florida, is president.

Sherwood said five former national commanders have taken option on lots. He named them as Paul H. Griffith, John Stelle, S. Perry Brown, George N. Craig and James F. O'Neil.

"Practically all the 150 available lots have been sold," said Sherwood. "Most of the purchasers are New England and Midwestern Legionnaires.

"We took over an old development started in the 1925 Florida boom by former Mayor A. C. Townes, of Cleveland. We acquired it only last week from a Sebring estate.

"Our plan is for a place where Legionnaires can vacation now, retire later, for hunting, fishing ad recreation and where they will have a common interest.

"They can make it a year 'round convention where they can hash over their old battles and meet old buddies and feel welcome in their own community."

BYRUM SHOCKLEY PRESENTS THEORY

A theory, based on practical experience, formulated by Byrum Shockley, that the Albizzia, or mimosa, trees growing near orange trees will fertilize them, protect them, produce sweeter oranges, and cut the cost of citrus production, has been publicized in an article by Aubrey Williams, entitled "A Legume Tree Fertilizes Oranges." The article first appear in the "Southern Farmer," and was reprinted in "The Organic Farmer" for June, 1951, where it is illustrated with a photograph of Mr. Shockley.

A copy of the magazine (a small publication) has been given to the public library.

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

J. R. Young, Chaplain Walker Memorial Sanitarium and Hospital, and Pastor of Seventh-day Adventist Church

Sitting in the day coach of a streamlined passenger train, a man watched a small boy playing in the aisle. Finally, in one of the child's wanderings, he came past this man's seat. The man spoke to the boy, "Where are you going, sonny?" "Goin' out West," was the youngster's reply. "What place in the West are you going to?" continued the man. "I don't know, but my father knows; and I'm going with him," answered the lad.

Many today are asking the question concerning this old world of ours, "Whither Bound?" "Where are we going?" the child of God, like the small child on the train, trusts his all-wise heavenly Father. His hand is on the helm, and if we will but trust Him with child-like faith, He will guide us to the heavenly port On one occasion the Saviour of the world said, "Except ye be converted and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven." Matthew 18:3.

Christ, the Son of God, came to this world to bring mankind hope and life. He declared, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly," John 10:10. If we fail to accept this proffered gift of life chaos and disaster will be the result. Have we entrusted our lives to the One who can still the troubled waters? Are our lives safely sheltered under His wings?

Christ has a right to your life and mine. First, He has a right to our lives by reason of His creation. "For by Him were all things created, that are in heaven and that are in earth . . . All things were created by Him and for Him . . In whom we have redemption through His blood, even the forgiveness of sins." Colossians 1:16; Ephesians 1:7. Certain individuals and certain companies have patents on particular articles. Jesus Christ has a patent, as it were, on our lives. They belong to Him, for He is the Creator. And our lives belong to Him because He redeemed us, or bought us back from the bondage of Satan, to whom man sold out for nought. On the island of Corsica is the birthplace of Napoleon. On a tombstone there is an inscription which the person buried there wrote before her death. It reads: "Traveler from the north, whoever you may be, tell Wilhelm Lowenstern in Stralson that you have seen the grave of his wife, who was sold into slavery in Africa and then released, and who died here in June, 1698. My son is still in slavery there. Let his father come and deliver him. If he passes by this place, he will find the remains of his Euphrasia." Excavation revealed another inscription which showed that a traveler did see the message, and that the father did seek his son in Africa, and having found him dead, buried him there beside his mother.

In those days moving stories centered around the redemption of those carried off into slavery by the Barbary pirates of Tunis, Tripoli, and Algeria. And thousands, like this mother and son, never got home again. But Christ's redemption is always certain and always complete. The slaves of sin are always redeemed if they are willing to be. If we will permit Him, He will bring us at last to the Father's house without fail.

Introduction: Last week we began this series by noticing that to preach "Christ" is to preach His Virgin Birth, His Miracles, and His Death to Atone For Our Sins.

A. We Continue: To Preach Christ is to Preach His Resurrection.

1. Two Objections to the fact of His Resurrection will be stated and answered in the sermon, this Sunday Evening, October 21st.
2. Why Believe in and Preach the Resurrection?
   a. Basis of Apostles' Preaching. 1 Cor. 15:1-4, 14.
   b. Basis of Faith in Christ. 1 Cor. 15:14; Rom. 10:9,10.

   f. Proof of Christ's Divine Sonship. Rom. 1:4.
   g. Assurance that He Will Judge the World. Acts 17:30, 31.
3. Therefore, One could not be a Christian who does not believe in His Resurrection from the dead.

B. To Preach "Christ" is to Preach His Ascension Into Heaven.

1. Truth of Gospel Narratives depends on it. Luk.24:51; Mk. 16:19.
2. Truth of Peter's Sermon depends on it. Acts 2:32-36.
3. The Giving of Spiritual Gifts depended on it. Eph. 4:8-10.

C. To Preach "Christ" is to Preach His 2nd Coming.

1. Promised in Jno. 14:2, 3.
2. Objections to His 2nd Coming will be considered and answered in the sermon — characteristics of objectors will be noted. 2 Pet. 3:1-10.
3. Time of the 2nd Coming. Mk. 13.32.
4. What will happen when He comes?
   a. All will be resurrected. Jno. 5:28,29.
   b. Coming to receive His Own. 1 Thess. 4:16-18.
   c. Will Punish Wicked . . . . Those not obeynig the Gospel. 2 Thess. 1:7-9.

NEXT WEEK: To Preach "CHRIST" is to preach His Doctrine.

(Note: Hear this subject discussed fully this Sunday Evening, October 21, 7:30 p.m. at the Church of Christ, Forest and Walnut in Avon Park. Bring your friends and your Bibles, not your pocketbooks. We will welcome any questions in the interest of Truth! Plan to be with us this Sunday. Minister and Speaker: Paul E. Tustin — Phone 57-M for conference.)

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

No one seems to know just how it started, but Confederate flags have been breaking out like a rash all over the country and the fad is being viewed with alarm in some quarters.

One might think that the staid old Daughters of the Confederacy would whoop with glee, but on the contrary, they are very much put out about it and complain that the dear old flag is being abused and insulted and there ought to be a law or something.

On the other hand, some rock-ribbed Yankees fear that this widespread display of the Rebel emblem will stir up strife that might lead to another Civil War. They point out that it will tend to revive the bitter feeling that existed between the North and South immediately following the war between the states and something should be done about it.

Personally, I can't see anything to get excited about. Fads like this come and go and there is seldom any deep or sinister meaning attached to them. It appears that folks who used to get a kick out of displaying a fox or squirrel tail on their automobile, for some reason or another have switched to Confederate flags for a change. Maybe next year they will turn to a rabbit's foot or Coca-Cola bottle.

In a recent column in the Haines City Herald, M. M. "Dad" Lee says: "An Associated Press Dispatch from New Jersey states that a chaplain of the Sons of Union Veterans terms the fad 'improper and entirely out of order.' The Confederate flag went out of existence at the end of the Civil War. The fad is dangerous.'"

It seems that the people of the North have taken to the Rebel flag to a much greater extent than the people of the South, and "Dad" Lee thinks it is an indication of a growing resentment against the centralization of government and power in Washington.

He points out that such centralization is directly contrary to all principles underlying the American form of government, and there is undoubtedly a deep seated feeling upon the part of the American people, both in the North and South, that it must not be allowed to grow.

The fad is not dangerous as the Northern chaplain so incorrectly interprets it. It does not represent an effort on the part of any person or any state to secede from the Union; it cannot be dangerous to anyone except those who do not belive in our traditional form of government.

The Confederate flag stands for an ideal. It stands, if anything ever did, for the freedom of the individual, and that is not just a Southern ideal. It stands for local self-government, and personal independence.

Moreover, the Confederate flag stands for a good clean fight, and that is something Americans love. The Confederacy lost its war, but its cause was not lost. This cause has continued to thrive through the years and is now recognized by thinking people, both North and South, to represent the best hope for preservation of the America founded for us by our forefathers.

That cause is the right of the individual to carve his own destiny and not have it planned for him by a centralized bureaucratic government. That cause is the right of the local government to determine what is best for its people and not have this question decided by a remote agency.

The flying of the Confederate flag at this time may well mean that the people of this country want to see the issues joined in the days immediately ahead; that they want a clear cut fight between the socialistic, paternal form of government now so urgently advocated by the bureaucrats and others in high places and the old fashioned constitutional form of government which dignifies the individual rather than degrades him — the type of government that recognizes the right of the states to govern themselves.

If the fight is to be made mainly by the youth of this nation so much the better. They are the ones who will take over in the not too distant future. The display of the Confederate flag need not cause any great alarm.

Perhaps its display at this particular time is a good omen. Perhaps it will cause the people of this nation to stop and consider its meaning and give though to the future. The courageous and noble men who followed that flag on the battle field would be the first to arise and condemn the present trend toward centralized bureaucratic government, for they were the first States Righters.

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

Soil Conservation News

By Sam Polston

Soil Conservationist

The Highlands Soil Conservation District assisted Robert Stokes in laying out a sprinkler type irrigation system on 25 acres of pangola-clover and grass for Feeding purposes. The irrigation system was the first of its kind to be laid in Highlands County. The system will consist of pump, main supply ditch, and lateral risers spacing 40 feet on the main and following the contour spaced about 100 feet apart down the slope. There will be small control structures in the main ditch where each lateral crosses it so the water level can be regulated at each lateral. This type of system has been used in adjacent counties very successfully on hard pan land that has a gentle to moderate uniform slope.

Several other cooperators are planning to plant clover within the next few weeks. John Payne of Lake Placid is planting 25 acres, Frank Taucher, 25 acres, H. A. Pfaff, T. J. Durrance and several others. E. W. Hiatt and T. J. Durrance are planning on installing a sprinkler type irrigation system similar to the one laid out for Stokes.

The Highlands Soil Conservation District is sponsoring a contest in the four high schools entitled "What Soil Conservation Means to Me." Several Students have been entered in the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs contest and the winner will be announced in November. Judging will be based on neatness, originality, and correctness. Bulletins and other material will be placed in the hands of the contestants. The first place winner will receive a $25 U. S. Savings Bond and the second place winner will receive a $10 bond. Those who are entered in the contest are Jeanette Hall, Sebring High School; Jeanette Hall, Lake Placid High School; Jeanette Hall, Avon Park High School; and Jeanette Hall, Sebring Junior High School.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

At the end of the first 10 years of the Florida Parole System, its administrators reported to the public that 87 per cent of those given freedom have made good. The Florida Parole Commission this week celebrates a decade of cracking with those who have broken the state's laws and started to pay the penalties. Out of 4,351 paroles granted in that time, only 441 had been revoked and fewer than half of those for the commission of new crimes. In addition, the parole commission has handled the probation supervision of 3,604 persons placed on probation by courts instead of sending them to jail, and of 1,010 persons on parole from other states. The first commission consisted of Francis R. Bridges, Jr., Joseph Y. Chaney and James T. Vocelle. The latter has returned to private law practice and the other member is Raymond B. Marsh.

Mrs. Eileen H. Butts of Ormond Beach has been reappointed to a new four-year term as a member of the Florida Board of Parks and Historic Memorials. Mrs. Butts was elected chairman of the board at the annual meeting here this past week, having been acting chairman since the resignation of John D. Pennekamp of Miami in the spring. Other members are Mrs. Elizabeth D. Towers, Jacksonville; M. Brooks Hayes, Blountstown; Karl A. Bickel, Sarasota; and Miles Collier, Everglades.

Selling New York industries on locating in Florida is a new job-payless — created by the state improvement commission for Wallace G. Rouse, consulting engineer in New York. Rouse has agreed to represent the state for one year without fee. If at the end of that time the state has received enough industrial boost to warrant a fee, then the improvement commission will consider it. This is a part of their program to lure new light industries into the state.

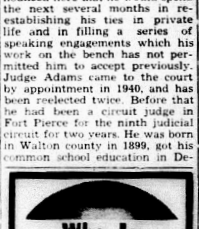

With the start of the fall hunting season just around the corner, the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission will hold a regular meeting in Tallahassee October 29. Director Ben L. Mclauchlin said that sportsmen or any other delegation will be heard at that time.

Aito Adams has resigned from the Supreme Court of Florida to return to private life. He announced here that he would spend the next several months in re-establishing his ties in private life and in filling a series of speaking engagements which his work on the bench has not permitted him to accept previously. Judge Adams came to the court by appointment in 1940, and has been reelected twice. Before that he had been a circuit judge in Fort Pierce for the ninth judicial circuit for two years. He was born in Walton county in 1899, got his common school education in Defuniak Springs, and his law degree at the University of Florida. He was in the navy in World War I. He married Carra Williams, member of the famous West Florida Williams family, in 1925. They have two children, Alto, Jr., who is in the cattle and citrus business with his father in St. Lucie county, and Elaine (Mrs. Nat Harrison). Judge Adams first practiced law in Pensacola, then moved to Fort Pierce and practiced from 1924 to 1936, when he went on the circuit bench. During those years he also engaged extensively in cattle and citrus production. He has headed the state Elks as well as his local and district lodge, is a member of the Episcopal church, the American Legion and the state and national bar associations. He had been a member of the state welfare board for two years.

Campaign statements for candidates and their managers to use in buying newspaper space have been printed and made available by Secretary of State R. A. Gray. One blank carries a place for the campaign treasurer of the candidate to authorize an expenditure, i.e. for advertising; another is for the newspaper to fill out when the ad has been run and the bill is due, and the third is an order by the campaign treasurer on the bank where the campaign funds are deposited, authorizing payment. Other reports, for travel expense, for recording contributions, and for filling other requirements of the new campaign law also are available. The attorney general has ruled that as soon as a person announces he intends to run for an office, he is a candidate and must qualify under the new law.

Both Attorney General Richard W. Ervin and Secretary of State R. A. Gray have stated they will run for re-election in the primaries of next spring. General Ervin was the first to fromally qualify as a candidate, naming his brother, Robert, as campaign treasurer. Other members of the cabinet are expected to seek re-election, although the remaining question mark follows the name of Comptroller C. M. Gay, who some months ago considered returning to private life in Orlando. However, it is expected that he will run.

The state and federal governments bear the cost of initial installation such as lookout towers, radio communications, telephone lines and operation headquarters in the counties that vote for county-wide forest fire protection in Florida.

Bull-Hagan Wedding Last Saturday

Miss Cecilia Carmen Bull, daughter of Mrs. Edward Bull and the late Rev. Bull, of Sebring, became the bride of Sgt. Lawrence Jerome Hagan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hagan of Avon Park, at St. Agnes Episcopal Church, Sebring, at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, October 13. The Rev. Arthur J. Lively performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Maxine Martin, organist, presented a program of nuptial music.

Given in marriage by Hilan Rogers, a friend of the family, the bride wore a white satin dress featuring a lace yoke with a lace bertha and pointed calla lily sleeves. The bouffant skirt extended into a short train and had a pointed lace insert in front. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a lace-Juliet cap edged with seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations showered with tuberoses.

Mrs. Russell Childs, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor and wore an old rose satin with an off the shoulder neckline. The very full skirt had a hoop. She wore a matching hat of satin and carried a bouquet of lavender pom-poms.

Miss Nancy Bull, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore an identical gown and hat of turquoise. She carried a bouquet of golden pom-poms.

Best man was Darwin Stoll of Tampa and ushers were Wiley Sauls of Avon Park and Billy Hawkins, Fort Myers.

At the reception held at the home of the bride's mother, the following assisted in hospitalities: Mrs. Terrell White, Mrs. W. H. Areson, Mrs. Frank Camp, Jr., Mrs. Darwin Stoll, Mrs. Ben Albritton and Mrs. Clyde Collins.

When the couple left on a wedding trip, Mrs. Hagan wore a beige suit with brown accessories.

They will make their home for the present at Camp Stewart, Ga., where Sgt. Hagan is stationed.

United Nations Day

United Nations Day is the twenty-fourth day of October. It marks the anniversary of that day in 1945 on which the United Nations Charter came into force as world law, expressing the mandate of the peoples of the world that there shall be peace.

United Nations Day is a peculiar day . . . it is the only day in the year which is celebrated all over the world in all countries by all races, all people, of all religious affiliations, languages and creeds. Never before in history have we had anything like it.

United Nations Day, and the observance of it, is important in 1951. The world is passing through a time of anxiety and crisis, in which the United Nations stands out as the only workable international instrument of the will to permanent peace.

United Nations Day stands for the accomplishments of the United Nations during the six years of its existence. It has helped to solve political issues, acted against breach of peace, helped achieve economic progress and social progress and build world law.

United Nations Day signifies the work ahead for the United Nations . . . work that must have the support of everyone to succeed. It has the backing of every American government official from the President down, from all American patriotic and service clubs, the majority of foreign nations, the United World Federalists who believe in and prescribe a united world government of the people, and the entire religious world. It deserves special recognition and world-wide observance on October 24, its sixth birthday.

VOLUME XXVI — Single Copy 5c — AVON PARK, FLORIDA, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1951 — NUMBER 50

T. Hayes Maxwell New Head Of Highlands Farm Bureau

One hundred persons who were members of Farm Bureau and their families, and guests enjoyed a tasty meal of fish, hushpuppies, grits, coleslaw, pickles, coffee, and cold drinks, well prepared and served at the Fish and Game Club, Saturday night, October 20th, 1951.

The following officers were elected at the important business session immediately after the supper:

President, T. Hayes Maxwell, Avon Park; Vice President, James B. Sellers, Lake Placid; Secretary, Mrs. Ruth J. Payne, Sebring; Treasurer, Jack Hendry, Lake Placid; Women's Chairman, Mrs. Henry Goodnow, Sebring.

Convention Delegates: Regular, J. F. McClure, Jr., Alternate, Jesse Vaughn; Regular, T. Hayes Maxwell, Alternate, Carl McIntyre; Regular: Cole Danley, Jr., Alternate, H. W. Grotewold.

Officers and Chairmen of the past year presented reports of various committees and the work accomplished. All reports indicated 1951 was a very successful year for Highlands County Farm Bureau. Outstanding in accomplishments was the fact that Highlands County Farm Bureau became incorporated, and is affiliated with the Florida Farm Bureau Federation; they initiated the mailing of a monthly newsletter to all members and prospective members, designed to keep the membership informed of Farm Bureau affairs and meetings; and realized an increase in membership over last year.

H. D. Tarter, Director of Sales, Winter Park Office, was introduced by H. W. Grotewold, Insurance Agent for HCFB, and he spoke briefly on Sales and Service relative to Insurance for Farm Bureau members.

John Ford, Executive Vice President of Florida Farm Bureau Federation, Winter Park, speaker of the evening was introduced by F. C. Payne, State Director of Farm Bureau.

In a very intertaining manner but with point and tenacity, Mr. Ford gave a report on the situation as it now stands relative to an increase in dues for Florida Farm Bureau which is a big issue in the coming convention.

The Highlands County Farm Bureau passed the following resolutions:

1. Highlands County Farm Bureau favors the extension of the Social Security Act to include coverage of all farm owners who desire to participate, with full and equal rights and privileges now accorded those at present included in the Act.

2. Highlands County Farm Bureau reaffirms their previous resolution favoring the proposed law providing for Initiative Referendum and Recall as endorsed by the 1950 Convention of Florida Farm Bureau.

3. That, seeking only the greatest good for the Florida Farm Bureau, its continued rapid and substantial growth in membership and influence, the members of Highlands County Farm Bureau go on record as opposing any increase in dues exceeding one dollar in any calendar year.

These resolutions will be sent to the Resolutions Committee of the Florida Farm Bureau to be presented at the 1951 Annual Convention, and delegates will be instructed to urge their passage. Also, copies of the first two resolutions will be sent to our U.S. Senators and Representatives with instructions to urge their passage.

Ruth J. Payne,
Secretary, HCFB

Teen Age Club Begins Work For Opening October 26

The organization meeting of the Teen Age Club was held in the high school auditorium Wednesday, October 17.

The following officers were elected: Bobby Whitcomb, president; Edgar Pabor, vice-president; Jane Suggs, secretary-treasurer. These, with Clayton Fields, Jr., the director, will form the executive board.

Beth Suggs was elected reporter for the group. Alyne Reed and Charlene Delegal were appointed co-chairmen of the food committee. This is a very responsible job since the teen-agers expect to make a small profit on all drinks and food sold in order to get money for badly-needed equipment and for parties. The committee members will be appointed later.

Many other committees will be set up in order to carry on the work of the club efficiently. Chaperones will be needed and the teen-agers will be grateful to the citizens of the town for volunteering their services.

A dance was sponsored by the Teen Age Club after the Avon Park-Lake Wales football game Friday night. The dance was well attended and enough money was raised for the teen-agers to begin their activities at the Civic Center Friday evening, October 26, which will mark the official opening of the Youth Center in the Armory. The center will be open Friday and Saturday nights so long as the citizens of Avon Park continue the support of this badly needed project.

The Avon Florida Citrus Corporation and the Rotary Club have donated $30 each to pay the rental for two months. The teen-agers wish to express their appreciation to the city for providing for the director's salary in the budget of the city, and to these two organizations for their help.

Recommendations Adopted By P.T.A.

The Rev. John Q. Crumbly, introduced as the new vicar of the Church of the Redeemer, led the devotional which opened the meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association last Thursday afternoon, October 18. 130 members and 4 visitors were present.

Following the customary pledge of allegiance to the flag, T. J. Ward, president, presided at the business meeting. Five recommendations of the executive board were voted on favorably, being:

1. That the program planning committee work up a mimeographed P.T.A. yearbook.

2. That the ways and means committee handle a booth for the P.T.A. at the annual Hallowe'en carnival sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club. Mr. and Mrs. John H. G. Hutchinson are co-chairmen of this committee and they will sponsor a balloon and candied-apple booth.

3. That 900 leaflets entitled "You are Needed in the P.T.A." be ordered for the use of the membership committee at a cost of $3.60.

4. That the room awards of $1.50 be given to each room with 33 percent of the enrollment of that room attending any P.T.A. meeting, instead of the 50 percent as voted in September, this motion to be retroactive to the September meeting.

5. That there be a class in parliamentary procedure to be taught by Dr. F. R. Bayley, November 5, 7:30 P.M. in the Florida Power customers' room. Dr. Bayley's services were secured by Mrs. T. H. Maxwell, study chairman.

As a result of the 4th recommendation, Mrs. E. A. Martin announced four winners in the September room count.

Mrs. H. W. Coleman read the treasurer's report, and Mrs. L. M. Lagoni gave an encouraging report on the membership drive. Nearly half the goal has been reached and the room mothers expect to "go over the top" early in November.

Judge Howard G. Livingston was guest speaker, explaining the new Juvenile Court Law.

Supreme Court Hears Election Case

The Supreme Court heard argument of counsel for the old City Council and for Wiley Sauls' Jr., Mannin Kirkland, and J. B. Sparks, in the Avon Park election suit, in Tallahassee last Monday (Oct. 22) morning.

Representing the old Council at the hearing were S. C. Pardee, Sr., and Sumter Leitner, of Leitner and Leitner of Arcadia. They contended that the appellees, Sauls and the others, had brought their action under the wrong form, or in other words, used the wrong remedy, because mandamus was not an action which could be used to compel the city council to do an act which was within their discretion.

Representing the appellees, was Keith E. Collyer, who contended that the old city council had no discretion, nor authority, to act as they did, and that therefore mandamus was the proper remedy. His contention briefly was that the retiring city council has no authority at all to go behind the election returns — that their sole duty is to accept all official election returns, tally them, and declare the results.

Chief Justice Tom Sebring, Justices Thomas and Chapman, and Associate Justice Walker heard the case. They reserved their decision and did not rule upon the matter at once.

It is reported that a ruling is expected very soon, because the Supreme Court realizes the urgency of the matter, as indicated by the fact that they required briefs to be filed within five days time when usually 40 days are allowed, and by the further fact that the case was brought to hearing on the merits within a two-week period that was heard on a day when hearings on the merits are not usually held. Further, the Chief Justice stated that he realized that an early decision was desirable.

It is the usual practice of the Court to hold a conference after argument, and express a tentative opinion. Then one of the Justices is assigned the job of researching the question, and writing an opinion. If the remainder of the Division which hears the case agrees with the opinion, it is handed down. If not, then the entire court confers, goes over the opinion, and at length a majority opinion and a dissent are written, and the case is then decided.

Since this is a matter of importance, not only to Avon Park but to other cities and towns, the Court may be expected to follow the above procedure, taking such short cuts as it may in order to reduce the time needed to render the decision, according to one informant.

Hallowe'en Carnival And Parade Saturday

Don't forget the big Hallowe'en parade and carnival Saturday evening. Come out and have fun and stay for supper.

The parade starts promptly at 4:30, and will be led by the high school band. Follow it to the school grounds, where you will find food and drink booths and entertainment. And remember, your pleasure will support worthwhile civic organizations.

The parade will form at 4:00, paraders meeting at the Jacaranda Service Station, on the corner of North Verona and Main. Judging will take place between 4:00 and 4:30, before the parade starts, with awards announced at the school grounds, at the end of the march.

The carnival is sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club. In addition to supervising all arrangements, the club will sell hot dogs, sandwiches and soft drinks.

Founders Circle of the Garden Club will sell ice cream sodas and provide eating places.

The Senior Woman's Club will sell cakes, pies and coffee.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will have pony rides.

Rotary Club chose this time to clean up the grounds after the carnival, the Junior Woman's Club being very appreciative of this service.

Other organizations will take part in the carnival; however, their names did not reach this paper before press time.

Each child in the parade will receive a favor. Those donating these favors include:

I. H. Ford, of Gulf Oil products

Morris Adams, Texaco distributor

George Border of Border's Service Station

Ray Wells on behalf of Texaco Oil Co.

J. B. McClendon, Standard Oil distributor

Parliamentary Law Class on Nov. 5

The P. T. A. is sponsoring a class in parliamentary law, based on Robert's Rules of Order, Monday night, Nov. 5, beginning at 7:30, in the customers' room of the Florida Power Corp. The Rev. F. R. Bayley, D.D., LL.D., will teach this class.

All leaders or members of church groups, clubs, lodges, high school students, and anyone interested in parliamentary procedure are invited to attend. There will be no charge. This is a public service offered by the P.T.A. Mrs. T. H. Maxwell, study chairman, is in charge.

Dr. Bayley, who became a member of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1920, and who served as president of the Judicial Council of the Methodist church from 1939 to 1948, is well qualified as a teacher of parliamentary law, and the P.T.A. will appreciate a good representation from all organizations in the city.

We Are Invited By The Air Force

Avon Park Air Force Base personnel, with Col. Roy N. Bailey officer in charge, will be hosts at a Hallowe'en dance held at the Armory on Wednesday, October 31, at 8:00 o'clock. All residents of Avon Park are invited, as well as all military personnel and their guests. There will be no admission charge.

The 740th Air Force Band from MacDill Field will furnish the music. This band is famous, many of its musicians being former members of big-name bands or orchestras who have entered the Air Force.

Tech. Sgt. Frank L. Gabitz, chairman of the dance committee, states that the dance will provide an opportunity for base personnel living here and local residents to become acquainted.

He also says that the Armory will be gaily decorated for Halloween, and that a refreshment bar where coffee and soft drinks may be purchased will be set up.

Dress need not be formal, although no one is going to object if the girls sport their prettiest dance frocks.

Avon Park Plays Arcadia Tonight

By John Garber

Tonight will be the fourth time this season that Memorial Field will be the gathering point of football fans when the Red Devils meet Arcadia in a non-ridge conference game. Both teams will be anxious to taste the sweetness of victory. Arcadia has quenched its thirst but once this year whereas Avon Park's thirst quenchers have been nothing but disappointing mirages.

We do not have available Arcadia's record this season, hence we don't wish to make a pre-game prediction. We are in high hopes that the Red Devils will come out on top — and "Who knows?" We believe that if there is any victory in store for the Red Devils, this will have to be the one. The balance of the schedule brings on heavy favorites like Wauchula, at least a 40 point favorite, and Sebring, probable two touchdown favorite.

Loss To Lake Wales

Last week Avon Park fell to the Lake Wales Highlanders 46-0. (Enough said). About all that can be said for the Red Devils in this game is that they forced the Highlanders to kick on last down, which was the 2nd time Lake Wales has been in such a spot. And another time in the game Lake Wales gambled on 4th down trying to pick up 2 yards for a 1st and didn't make it. Lake Wales' kicks for extra points had never been marred by blocks until they played Avon Park. The Red Devils blocked two tries for the extra point. Avon Park's Varsity Substitutes showed remarkable spirit and football know-how against Lake Wales. The last string could take a lesson from them.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Delaney, Highland Lakes, left Friday to make their home in Live Oak.

New Library Fund Still $1500 Short

$4492.00 is the total sum now paid in to the public library building fund. The goal is $6,000. The fund is $1508.00 short. That's plain arithmetic.

We consider our city progressive. Every progressive city must have an adequate public library building, adequately stocked with books — that's a necessity, not a luxury. Therefore, being progressive, we need a good public library. And we must pay for it. This should be recognized as plain logic.

Our snowball of fund money has been getting bigger. We've been rolling it uphill and we're nearing the top. Maybe that's why, as it gets bigger and bigger, we're finding it harder to push. But it will go up and over the top if some more of you make your contributions and add your strength to all those whose names have been printed as helping.

New contributors are listed below:

Mrs. Donna McClelland, Elizabeth Thiele, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Ward, Mrs. Georgia W. Moeckel, Mr and Mrs. J. M. Adams, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Wilkes, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Crofutt, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Between Halves Show

Between the halves of the game last Friday the Avon Park High School Band presented a new and elaborate "Make-Believe" routine. After the usual marching and forming of letters, the band, directed by Mr. Gorman, played "Make-Believe" in darkness. Spotlights were directed on the majorettes, who did a "boy and girl" routine, with half of them in masculine costume, and on a portable stage, where Carolyn Bolt, a majorette, in a brilliant red costume, danced a ballet number. Jack Ward sang the words of the son into a microphone.

The effect was unfortunately marred by some individuals turning on their car headlights and by the failure of the loudspeaker, but the band and the featured young people played their parts most skillfully.

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA ENROLLMENT 8,984

Final enrollment figures reached 8,984 for the 1951-52 fall semester at the University of Florida, according to President J. Hillis Miller.

Of this total, 2,090 are women students. Freshmen totaled 1,765, including 561 women.

In revealing the total figure, Dr. Miller said the University would have enrolled more women students had there been housing facilities for them. He pointed out that the present figure compared favorably with last year's total of 10,039 despite the fact that educational circles generally had predicted a large drop in enrollment.

What Does It Mean To Preach "CHRIST"?

Acts 8:5, 35; 1 Cor. 2:1,2

INTRODUCTION: Thus far in this series we have demonstrated that to preach "Christ" is to preach His VIRGIN BIRTH, His MIRACLES, His DEATH TO ATONE FOR OUR SINS, His RESURRECTION, His ASCENSION INTO HEAVEN, and His 2ND COMING.

Today: To Preach "Christ" is to preach His DOCTRINE.

A. What the "Doctrine is:

1. The word "Doctrine" simply means "Teaching".
   a. Hence, all that Christ taught (i.e., his teachings) is His "Doctrine".
   b. Where can we find the pure doctrine of Christ?
2. The Apostles were commanded to teach all the doctrine of Christ. Matt. 28:19.
   a. In doing this they were not left to their own wisdom, but were commanded to wait for the guidance of the Holy Spirit. Jno. 14:26; 16:13; Luk. 24:46-49; Acts. 1:6-8.
   b. We do not find them executing Christ's command (to teach all things he had commanded) until the Spirit did come. Acts 2:1-4,14-40.
   c. From that time on the diciples continued stedfastly in the apostles' doctrine. Acts 2:42.

B. The Source of the "Doctrine" of Christ.

1. Jesus did not teach of Himself alone, but what the Father instructed Him to say. Jno. 7:16,17; 12:48-50.
2. The Holy Spirit did not speak of Himself, but rather what he had been instructed to speak. Jno. 14:26; 16:13.
3. The Apostles and other inspired men (e.g., Luke) spoke not of themselves, but what the Spirit revealed they were to say. Jno. 16:13; Acts 2:4; 1 Cor. 2:13. (Note: If Jesus, the Holy Spirit, and the Apostles were so careful in this matter, all who profess to be following Christ's example should be very careful not teach anything of themselves — doctrines of men).
4. All that we know of what these inspired men taught is found in the Holy Scriptures. 2 Tim. 3:16, 17 — A.S.V.
5. Therefore, all that the Bible teaches concerning Christ and what He taught is the DOCTRINE OF CHRIST.

C. Two Applications of these Truths:

1. Since all creeds, manuals, disciplines, catechisms, and confessions of Faith are of human origin, these ought not to be made the standard which each Christian must embrace, and to which all truth must conform. 2 Tim. 3:16, 17; Matt. 15:3, 7-9.
2. It is vain and wrong to classify some Bible truths as essential and others as nonessential to be believed, some as the "Doctrine" of Christ, others as not — for His teachings are His Doctrine. Matt. 5:19; Jas. 2:10; 2 Tim. 3:16, 17.

(Note: Come and hear God's Word on this vital subject Sunday, October 28, 7:30 P.M. at the Church of Christ, Forest and Walnut, in Avon Park. Bring your Bibles and your friends, not your pocketbooks. We will welcome any questions in the interest of truth. Minister and Speaker: Paul E. Tustin — Phone 57-M for conference).

NEXT WEEK: IS THE BIBLE THE WORD OF GOD?

Florida Style "Boys' Town

Ten miles south of Palatka on the west bank of the beautiful St. Johns River is a great many dream of a Florida style "Boys' Town" has become a reality. Hames Rodeheaver, who gained international fame as the late Billy Sunday's song leader, with his co-partner, Harry Westbury, have dedicated 320 fertile acres for the establishment of the Rainbow Ranch for Boys.

On the occasion of the first Board of Directors Meeting before the arrival of the first boys Mr. Rodeheaver said, "We hope eventually to take care of 200 or more boys. They will be given a high school education, and we're going to teach them how to farm!"

At that time, a Massey-Harris 30 horsepower farm tractor was given to the Ranch by the Florida Farm Equipment Company of Jacksonville, State distributor of Massey-Harris Farm Equipment. Mr. C. J. Hatch, Vice-President and General Manager of the Company, presented the tractor to Mr. Rodeheaver.

Mr. Rodeheaver further explained, "We intend to teach the boys every phase of agriculture. They will raise cattle, poultry and their own garden. We are going to have facilities for teaching them many crafts including printing, woodworking and mechanics."

The stated purpose of the Rainbow Ranch is "to provide a place where unwanted boys are accepted, where security and faith and understanding will be given to boys who previously have known only failure, shame and rejection. The Rainbow Ranch for Boys intends an opportunity for underprivileged boys such as is not a part of institution, but of a family relationship."

The farm is now in full operation and the first 6 boys will be given a good home, Christian training and high moral instruction, and basic agricultural training. Mr. Rodeheaver will direct activities of the boys and is an accomplished farmer in his own right.

Hundreds of Spectators at Big Hallowe'en Parade

Costumes in the annual Hallowe'en parade last Saturday ranged from such modern figures as the fighting soldier with leaf - camouflaged helmet to a resurrected mummy from ancient Egypt; included a highway patrolman, football player, and bandsman in miniature. The Yokum's pig, Salomey, was also present.

The parade, led by the high school band in full uniform, marched around the Mall to the school grounds, where the carnival booths were set up. The majorettes, in brief white costumes, formed a dancing chain across the Avenue at Main to keep the intersection clear for the paraders.

Awards for outstanding costumes were announced at the school grounds by Miss Alma Harrell.

Following the awards, Mrs. Mildred Murphy put her famed horse, "Red Fox," through his paces.

Hamburgers, hot dogs, country sodas and other carnival fare was on sale at the booths and hawked about by school pupils.

Rides on the honest-to-goodness fire truck (very popular) and a jeep were sold by the JayCees, who donated the proceeds to the public library fund.

The costume judges report they had a difficult time choosing the best costumes, since there were so many that seemed worthy of mention, and yet all could not receive awards. The awards given were:

Novelty Group: First, "Peace in Our Time," Linda McCrary as "Peace" and Bill McCrary as "Time." Second, Alice in Wonderland and rabbit, Ann and Bob Barben. Third, Sherwood Forest group, with Celia and Robert Carr as Robin Hood's men and little Lynn Fields as the "dear". Fourth, circus group, Kirk and Jane Pardee as clowns, with white, costumed kitten.

Pre-School: First, Beth Sullivan and Johnny Hicks. Second, Joan Kelly and Tommy Waldon. Third, Marcia Ward and Jimmy Ward. Fourth, Lynda Shepherd and Lanse Padgette.

Grades 1, 2 and 3: First, Nancy Coleman and Doyle Griffin. Second, Cheryl Guerndt and Milton Stokey. Third, Mary King and Donnie Riskoski. Fourth, Linda Griffin and Stevie Maxwell.

Grades 4, 5 and 6: First, Clare Maxwell and Thurston Martin. Second, Anne Roland and Larry Bond. Third, Jessie Mae Osteen and Paul McFarland. Fourth, Peggy Bussard and Dale Nute.

Judges were Mrs. T. Hayes Maxwell, Mrs. W. D. Dorminey, Mrs. G. A. Woodward, Mrs. B. F Camp, Mrs. W. W. Wingfield, Mrs. Irving Ford, Mrs. M. E. Appelgren, Mrs. Earl Jackson, Mrs. C. F. Hindman, Mrs. R. H. Jordan, Mrs. J. Q. Crumbly, Mrs. H. C. Wright, Mrs. O. C. Wilkes, Mrs. W. J. Head, Mrs. Walter Martin.

The carnival was sponsored by the Junior Woman's Clubs. Other organizations participating, in addition to those already mentioned, were the Founders' and Hibiscus Circles of the Garden Club, and the Junior Class.

The Junior Woman's Club thanks all those who assisted in any way.

First Methodist Will Hold Morning Services In Theatre

The extensive building program which has been in progress at the First Methodist Church for the past six months, has now reached the point of the complete renovation of the Sanctuary. This makes it necessary for the Sunday Morning Services to be held elsewhere while the renovating is being done. Arrangements have been worked out with Mr. Floyd, the owner, and Mr. Johnson, the manager, of the Hilans Theatre for the use of their building for this purpose.

The Sunday School classes will meet at the church and go directly to the theatre for worship at the close of the class sessions. The church nursery will be open as usual during the worship hour.

Special Evening Services During November

Sunday evening services and mid-week prayer meetings will be conducted in the attractive new social hall at the church. This room is large enough to accommodate these gatherings.

At 6:45 each Sunday evening the Methodist Youth Fellowship groups will meet as usual; also at this hour the Woman's Society will be conducting a class on the theme: "The Family—A Christian's Concern" and there will be movies for the children at the same hour in another room.

Attendance emphasis is being made as follows at the worship services each Sunday evening in November:

Nov. 4th — Circles of the Woman's Society. Junior Choir of 25 voices.

Nov. 11th — Church Officials Night.

Nov. 18th — Youth Night.

Nov. 25th — Sunday School Night.

Annual Jr. Legion Baseball Supper

Highlands Post No. 69, Avon Park, of the American Legion, held their annual Junior Legion baseball supper in the Junior Legion baseball team at the Jacaranda Hotel Tuesday night, October 30.

Those attending were the Junior Legion team members and the following guests: A. B. Wilhite, Coach Edwin R. Carter and Coach Joe Franza. The Legion baseball committee, composed of Pete Boney, chairman, Olin Harris, Ed Welch, Reed Agnew, and James A. Heim, commander, were also guests.

After the supper, James A. Heim, Commander of the local Legion Post gave a short talk on the Legion baseball program. He pointed out the fact that there are 17,000 Junior Legion baseball teams over the country that bring together a million boys every summer to play baseball, a game that is as American as the Indian or the automobile. The purpose of this program is not primarily to produce a winning team, but to build good citizenship and good sportsmanship. The whole program is based on the proved principle that organized and directed play moulds character.

He also stated that the Legion baseball program is 28 years old, having started in 1925. Since that time there have been many major league players who have been Junior Legion baseball players. During the 1950 season there were 240 major league players who were former Legion players.

The major leagues contribute each year to the Junior Legion program. The national Junior Legion baseball champs received a free trip to the World Series as a reward for being the best of 17,000 teams.

The chairman and commander expressed their thanks to all for a job well done and also appreciation to the merchants.

DAN McCARTY

Dan McCarty Makes Plain Statement

To All of the People of the State of Florida:

I shall be a candidate for Governor in the next Democratic Primaries and in due time I will announce in more detail the principles of clean, efficient, and progressive government which I will advocate and upon which I will seek your support.

I realize that by custom, announcements of this kind are delayed until a date closer to the elections. But I am impelled to speak out now for several reasons. First, I know in my own mind that I shall run, and to delay or evade a forthright statement would not be fair to the 276,425 people who voted for me in 1948 and to the additional thousands who have pledged their support. Also, the new campaign practice laws passed by the last Legislature impose duties upon candidates, and I want to assume full responsibility of compliance with all lawful requirements. Further, and even more important, I have been shocked by recent reports of deals, and combinations, and manipulations, and conspiracies, involving the governorship.

The "kingmakers" and professional politicians are busy. Their cry is "beat Dan McCarty". Why? The answer is clear. They know they cannot control him. Their political shenanigans have, and only have, one basic aim and design and that is, by power piled upon power, to take and control the gvernorship which belongs to the people and which should be exercised for their benefit.

It is now clear that the people of Florida who want good government must prepare themselves for a fight and as a member of their team, I want to speak and

Christmas Seal Bond Sale Starts Nov. 5th

Christmast Seals are scheduled to be mailed to several thousands of Avon Park's regular annual subscribers on Nov. 19th according to Mrs. Ted Ward, Seal Sale Chairman.

However on Nov. 5 (preceding the regular distribution of Christmas Seals by two weeks) will begin a Christmas Seal Bond campaign. These bonds in denominations from five dollars to twenty-five dollars will be offered to a selected list of civic-minded citizens, business firms and organizations in a sustained endeavor to substantially increase this year's Seal Fund.

Mrs. Ward informs us that the Tuberculosis and Health Association's program is being extended each year. It now embraces health education of the child and the general public through the press, literature, films, lectures and radio; cooperation with other community agencies such as the County Health Department, the doctors and County Welfare Department case finding through the use of chest X-rays (some 4500 persons were chest X-rayed in our county last January) and also temporary emergency, medical and material relief for indigent patients.

Moneys raised from the sale of Christmas Seals are trust funds says Mrs. Ward and we have an obligation to spend them carefully for the purpose for which they were raised; namely to carry forward a vigorous campaign against tuberculosis.

Avon Park May Get Better Freight Service

J. C. Sweat, commercial agent for Tamiami Freightways called at the Sun office Wednesday, and stated that his company has asked for a hearing before the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission to establish a route through the Ridge Section that will give Avon Park overnight service between here and Miami and Jacksonville.

The proposed route if established, and it is badly needed here, will run through Haines City, Lake Wales, Frostproof, Avon Park, Sebring and Lake Placid to Miami, and north from here to Jacksonville.

It is our understanding that the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce has passed a resolution in favor of the proposed route.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Tallahassee — In its first major test since the Florida Bar was reorganized that the Florida Supreme Court suspend D. Guy Green of Jacksonville for nine months for accepting legal fees without giving service. Subsequently, Green resigned as county solicitor for Duval county and governor Warren appointed Frank C. Cannon to the position. Cowan has stated he will ask an early hearing before the supreme court. Under the integration plan for all Florida lawyers the Florida Bar, or parent organization is charged with investigating charges of misconduct among its members and recommending punishment. If the supreme court agrees with it after a review, it is the duty of the organization to mete out the discipline.

Tallahassee — With many distinguished jurists and lawyers looking on, John E. Mathews of Jacksonville has been sworn in as a member of the seven-man supreme court of Florida. Mathews succeeds Alto Adams of Fort Pierce, who has resigned and apparently will become a candidate for governor. Mathews was a state senator for two terms, member of the lower house for two terms, and for many years has been a leader in Duval county.

Tallahassee — Opening the welfare rolls of Florida to public inspection is permissible, according to Attorney General Richard W. Ervin, if the state welfare board adopts proper rules to prevent the welfare names from being used improperly. The opinion came on a request from Comptroller C. M. Gay who asked for the ruling after Congress had changed the law to permit publicity on those getting help. State Welfare Commissioner Sherwood Smith is having a meeting of his board this week to study the new federal law and the ruling of the attorney general.

Tallahassee—Homecoming here brought Dan McCarty of Fort Pierce into the spotlight for the first time since his formal announcement of a few days ago that he is a candidate for governor in the primaries of 1952. McCarty, his brother John and Mrs. Dan McCarty were guests of Florida State University and of local friends during the homecoming festivities. McCarty has been keeping his sights on the governor's chair ever since he was defeated by Fuller Warren three years ago. He is the only major candidate so far to announce.

Tallahassee — New president of the alumni association of Florida State University is Mrs. Ellen Knight Whiteside of Miami, wife of Attorney Thurman A. Whiteside. She attended here from 1927 to 1931, is a member and first chairman of the Florida Children's Commission and otherwise has been active in children's work. Ben A. Meginniss of Tallahassee is president. Mrs. Margaret Walcott Higgins of Lake Alfred is secretary and Fred O. Drake, Jr. of Tallahassee is treasurer.

Tallahassee — Attorney General Richard W. Ervin this week gave the official opinion on the following questions:
MOTTOES NAME — Persons whose name certificate under fictitious name of be otherwise operating be proper notice.
VENDING — Person using pool and vending games having license, even though he is still future.
LITERARY — Tax exemption is given to various retired because of inability.
POLICE — Without specific authority city police court cannot issue statewide warrants.
VOTING — Electors may not be segregated so as to race in precinct polling places using printed ballots.

MOST TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS IN RURAL AREA

Fifty-eight of the seventy-one traffic fatalities occurring on the state's thoroughfares in September were in rural areas, the Florida Highway Patrol tentatively reported today.

The Patrol stated that 30 drivers and nine pedestrians were included in the fatalities which was nineteen more than September of last year.

Only three counties - Gilchrist, Lafayette and Okeechobee, - have reported no fatalities so far this year.

STORKS SEEN HOVERING OVER AVON PARK

By The Bird Woman

We do not wish to cause any unnecessary alarm among the inhabitants of our city, but we think we saw a large flock of storks just west of Avon Park and headed this way a couple of weeks ago.

We were watching what we presumed to be a flock of white heron, feeding in a marshy place, beyond the Mandis Dairy, and back quite a ways from the road. A noisy, fast-moving car passed and the noise flushed the heron, and they arose and flew quickly away.

But to our surprise, a flock of larger white birds then arose and flew toward Avon Park.

We classified them as storks!

We were not close enough to them to see the field marks, so they may have been the white ibis, or curlew. If they were the stork or wood ibis, they are the most abundant of the species in Florida, and although at a distance they are easily confused with the white ibis, at close range they are easily distinguished from each other, as their field marks are quite different.

The stork belongs to a different family from the white ibis or curlew, although they are called wood ibis.

The wood ibis or stork has a dark, naked head, and much greater expanse of black on the wing tips, underlinings of the wings, which is more evident in flight.

While the white ibis or curlew has a red face and red legs and is smaller than the wood ibis and has less black on the wings, it being only on the ends of the wing feathers.

Either species is not easily confused with the white heron in flight, as the ibis flies with neck extended, and the heron with the neck drawn back to its shoulders.

Ornithologists claim that the ibis is often seen Florida, but this is the first time we have seen them in this locality.

The ibis and stork have one characteristic in common, they both have the curved bill.

It is easy to see how the stork got its bill "bent". (By carrying such heavy bundles!)

But the only way we can account for the "bent" bill of the white ibis or curlew is that they may have helped the stork sometime in a "busy season", and always since that their bills have been bent too.

Since this was written, we have had an opportunity to study these birds at close range, and they are storks! Please remember it is against the law to shoot a stork.

$160 Million Crop Of Summer Tourist

Floridians cashed in approximately $160 million from summer tourist business this year, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday.

During the months of June, July and August an estimated 1,200,000 visitors, seeking recreation, came to the State. This was something like 20 per cent above the 1950 summer business in both number of visitors and money spent by them.

An analysis of Florida's summer tourism is shown in this week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division. Although each type of transportation showed an increased number of visitors this past summer, the family car was by far the most popular. Seventy-one per cent (or 852,000) of the total number of visitors to Florida during June, July and August came by private passenger car. Trains brought 12 per cent (144,000). 10 per cent (120,000) rode buses and 5 per cent (60,000) flew in by plane. The balance, 2 per cent (24,000), came by a combination of the different types of transportation.

These percentages are for the summer business only as the use of all types of public transportation is heavier in relation to the private car, in winter than in summer.

The above figures are not to be confused with total numbers of persons coming into Florida. They refer only to tourists.

Summer tourism accounts for about one-fourth of the annual number of visitors to Florida and approximately one-fifth of the yearly income of Floridians from tourism. Further, September and October usually show a decline in tourism until climate sends the winter visitors south.

Scripture — Matt. 12:30 — "He that is not with me is against me."

As citizens of a free country, we face the God-given privilege of voicing our opinion in the operation of our various forms of government. This voice we have is brought about by the act of expressing our desires through an election, by voting for or against a person or thing. Many times we do not immediately realize the results of our action through voting but our influence is felt down through history for it is as the saying goes, "we are a part of all we meet."

This little writeup is in no way about politics but it does concern the freedom we have in another walk of life and as to how we vote. The scripture which Jesus quoted was, "He that is not with me is against me, and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad." This verse expresses a law which is final, as Jesus expressed it so well.

This article, titled, " Did You Vote To Close The Church" is taken from a periodical and it expresses the true picture of too many indifferent church members and non-church members. It reads thus: "Last Sunday I voted to close the church, not intentionally, nor maliciously, perhaps, but carelessly, thoughtlessly, lazily, indifferently, I voted. I voted to close its doors that its witness and its testimony might be stopped. I voted to close the open Bible on its pulpit — the Bible that had been given us by years of struggle and by the blood of martyrs who died that we might have it to read. I voted for our minister to stop preaching the glorious truths of the gospel of Jesus Christ. I voted that the children of the Sunday School no longer should be taught the stories of the Bible and no longer lift their tiny voices in singing, "Jesus loves me this I know

For the Bible tells me so."

"I voted for the voices of the choir and the congregation to be stilled, and that they should no longer sing in united praise.

All hail the power of Jesus' name

Let angels prostrate fall;

Bring forth the royal diadem

And crown Him Lord of all.

"I voted for every missionary of the church to be called home, every native worker supported by the church to stop preaching, every hospital, every school and dispensary in its foreign missionary fields to close. I voted that its college's should close their doors and no longer bother to train its youth for Christian service. I voted for every home missionary project to be abandoned, every influence for good and right and truth in our community to be curtailed and finally stopped. I voted for the darkness of superstition, the degrading influence of sin, the blight of ignorance and the curse of selfish greed once again to settle their damning load on the shoulders of an already overburdened world.

"I voted all this, I say, and more too — things that the human mind cannot grasp and the human tongue cannot find words to express. Carelessly, thoughtlessly, lazily, indifferently, I voted.

"For, you see, I could have gone and and I should have gone, but I didn't. I stayed away from church when I could have been there."

Just in case this is a picture of you or of a friend, do something about it for your church needs you and God seeks for you.

There are more kinds of insects than all other animals together.

Is The Bible The Word Of GOD?

2 Tim. 3:16, 17

1. The Bible places itself in a definite historical context.
   - A. It claims to have been written by about forty writers from Moses or Job (at the beginning) to John (about A.D. 95.
   - B. It also claims to have been written by men who were inspired of the Holy Spirit. 2 Pet. 1:21; 2 Tim. 3:16, 17; 1 Cor. 2:13.
   - C. Can we trace it back through the ages to the men who wrote it, and can we prove its words are those inspired of God by the Holy Spirit?
2. The New Testament May Be Traced Back To Its Writers:
   - A. Printed versions date back from 1946 to about 1400 A.D.
   - B. Cursive Manuscripts date back from 1400 to 900 A.D.
   - C. Uncial Manuscripts date back from 900 to 350 A.D.
   - D. Period from 350 to 50 A.D. is bridged as follows:
     1. Quotations by church Fathers, and by enemies of Christianity.
     2. Versions (Ancient translations into vernacular) 5th to 2nd Century.
     3. Papyri (writing material made from Egyptian papyrus reed).
     4. Ostraca (Inscriptions on broken pottery).
     5. Lectionaries: (Like Uniform Sunday School lessons).
   - E. How did the text in the first century agree with present text? No more than one-thousandth part of the text in doubt — Not one article of faith involved in any word about which there is doubt.
   - G. Note: The Old Testament can be traced back by similar methods.
3. The Content of the Original Text Being Assured, Is It Inspired of God?
   - A. Jesus testified to the Old Testament itself, its authority (Jno. 10:34,35), necessity of its fulfillment (Matt. 26:31), and to God as its author. (Matt. 19:4).
   - B. The Apostles based their preaching on Scripture, declared they must be fulfilled, affirmed God is the author of the Scripiures (Heb. 1:5, etc.).
   - C. The net result of all scientific, historical, and archaeological investigation has been to confirm the accuracy of the Bible wherever it speaks.
   - D. Thus, the Bible is verbally inspired (1 Cor. 2:13), written by men moved (borne) of the Holy Spirit (2 Pet. 1:19-21), and is profitable and sufficient to instruct in all holy purposes (2 Tim. 3:16, 17; 2 Pet. 1:3).

(Come and hear this question discussed on November 4, 7:30 P.M. at the CHURCH OF CHRIST, Forest and Walnut, in Avon Park. Bring your Bibles and your friends. We will welcome your questions. Minister and Speaker: Paul E. Tustin. Phone 57-M for conference.)

EDITOR'S MAIL BAG

Dear Editor:

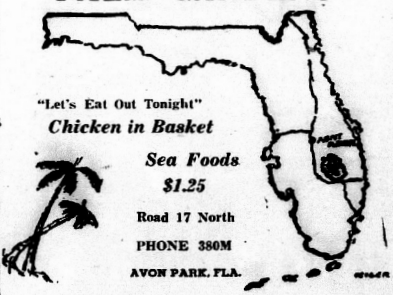

Just a few lines. We live in a time or age when we all seem to take things for granted. We come and go and never seem to think of the many problems others face but seem to say, well that's what they are there for. I say that so say this, you are in a way in a place where everyone seems to say, "Well its his job," or "He gets paid to do that." Well I pause long enough here to apologize for our being so selfish as to impose upon your kindness of printing our stories and sermonettes and other religious schedules and never saying, "thank you". I believe if we would cultivate our better selves and do this more it would soon pass around and brighten the world. Do accept the apologies and expression of appreciation for all you have and will do. God Bless you.

ARBOR DAY PLANTING

Schools may again obtain free pine seedlings from the Florida Forest Service for Arbor Day plantings in January, according to State Forester C. H. Coulter.

Seedlings have been given away several years by the state agency to schools for Arbor Day programs as part of its program in stimulating public interest in forest plantings.

Arbor Day this year, as every year, falls on the third Friday of January. Thus Arbor Day this year will be on January 18.

Because the supply of pine seedlings is extremely limited this year, Coulter suggested that all schools wanting seedlings should make their requests at an early date.

Study Shows Florida Had Late Polio Peak

Florida's polio peak was one of the latest in the United States last year, according to a recent nationwide polio analysis by the medical division of the Kemper insurance group.

The analysis shows that the peak held off until the week that ended November 4. But that single week produced 34 of the state's 1950 total of 471 cases, or almost 8 per cent of the year's polio cases.

The study was based on insurance company reports and on figures supplied by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and public health services.

It disclosed that Florida's polio season — the period during which 80 percent of the cases were reported — ranged from March 25 through December 2, and was one of the longest nationally.

All other states except Arizona, Minnesota and South Dakota reached their peaks earlier in the year.

A total of 27 states and the District of Columbia reported peak weeks in September, making that month the worst polio month in the nation.

"The fact that four states with different climates had their worst polio experience late in the year indicates that the incidence of poliomeyelitis is not necessarily determined by weather," said Dr. J. D. Willems, Kemper medical director.

With a repitition possible for Florida, Dr. Willems urged residents to avoid undue fatigue, eat properly prepared foods and practice clean living habits.

He also advised that medical attention be sought as soon as symptoms appear since early diagnosis may help speed recovery. Symptoms include headaches, nausea, vomiting, nasal voice, stiff neck, general stiffness and difficulty in swallowing.

Senator Holland On Speaking Tour

With adjournment of Congress only a few days behind him, Senator Spessard Holland already has opened his Florida "senate" office at Bartow and started a 4,500 mile statewide speaking and visiting tour.

In Washington the Senator's office will continue to function on a full time basis handling many requests and inquiries that pour in despite adjournment of Congress.

Holland's speaking and visiting schedule will take him to nearly every section of the State. Florida citizens should have a first hand report on the activities of their representatives in Congress I am going to do my utmost to give them that information in the limited time available before Congress reconvenes January 8," Holland declared.

Senator and Mrs. Holland will do a little family visiting this weekend while in Tallahassee for Homecoming activities at Florida State University. Their two daughters, Mrs. Jeff Lewis and Mrs. Gus King, live in Tallahassee. Both daughters and Mrs. Holland are FSU alumnae.

He and Mrs. Holland were honor guests Tuesday at a Homecoming celebration sponsored by all civic clubs in Bartow.

"THE GREAT CARUSO" AT HILANS

"The Great Caruso" comes to the Hilans Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday with Mario Lanza portraying the immortal tenor, Enrico Caruso of the early 1900's.

Caruso was born in Naples, Italy in February 1873 and made his official singing debut in Naples in 1894 in "L'Amico Francesco". Coming to the Metropolitan Opera House in 1903 in "Rigoletto," after which time he was paid $2,500 for each performance. Caruso spoke Italian, English, French, German, Spanish, Portuguese and Russian.

IT'S "MOVIETIME" IN FLORIDA

90% For! 10% Against } Time to settle...

Railroad workers are represented by 23 standard unions. By mutual agreement, 20 of these unions—comprising about 1,200,000 men, or more than 90%—are working under wages and rules agreed to by them and the railroads. But leaders of three unions—with only about 130,000 men, or less than 10%—still refuse, after more than a year of negotiations, to accept similar wage and rules agreements. These are even more favorable than the terms recommended by the Emergency Board appointed by the President.

Yes, it certainly seems to be finally about time that the leaders of the three unions stop their delaying tactics—their quibbling. But the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors continue to refuse. They continue a course of dilly-ing and dally-ing. It is definitely time to END THIS QUIBBLING!

On June 15, 1950, an Emergency Board appointed by the President under the terms of the Railway Labor Act—an Act largely fathered by the unions themselves—made its recommendations on certain wage and working conditions ("rules" in railroad language) which had been in dispute between employes and the railroads.

More Than 90% of Employes Accept

Since then, terms equal to or better than the Board recommendations have been accepted by about 1,200,000 railroad employes—more than 90% of the total of all workers. They are represented by 20 of the 23 standard railroad unions.

Less Than 10% Refuse

But three unions—with about 130,000 men, or less than 10% of the total—have refused to accept, even after months of negotiations. These three unions are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors. These are three of the so-called "operating" unions. Already the highest paid men in the industry, their leaders demand still further advantages over other workers.

In all, there are about 270,000 operating employes. But not all of them, by any means, are represented by BLE, BLF&E, or ORC. As a matter of fact, less than half—132,000 to be exact—are in these three unions. More than half—about 140,000—are in other unions, principally the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. What makes the whole situation so hard to understand is that these 140,000 operating employes are working under wages and rules which the leaders of the other 130,000 say they cannot agree to.

What Do the Railroads Offer?

They offer these three unions the same settlement which was contained in a Memorandum of Agreement signed at the White House on December 21, 1950, by four brotherhoods and the railroads. Later these brotherhoods sought to repudiate this agreement. But on May 25, 1951, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen signed a complete agreement carrying out the principles of the Memorandum Agreement of December 21. They have been working under this agreement since May 25.

What About Wages?

Under the terms of the agreement, yard engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving a wage increase of $.34 an hour ($2.72 a day) and road engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving an increase of 19½ cents an hour ($1.56 per day). Large sums of retroactive pay have already accrued and if the agreement is carried out, will be paid promptly.

What About "Cost of Living" Increases?

The White House Agreement includes an "escalator" clause under which wages will be geared to changes in the Government's cost-of-living index. Two such increases—April and July, 1951—have already been paid to the 90% of railroad employes covered by signed agreements.

What About the 40-Hour Week?

The White House Agreement calls for the establishment of the 40-hour week in principle, for employes in yard service. The employes can have it any time after January 1, 1952, provided the manpower situation is such that the railroads can get enough men to perform the work with reasonable regularity at straight time rates. If the parties do not agree on the question of availability of manpower, the White House Agreement provides arbitration by a referee appointed by the President.

What Else Do the Union Leaders Demand?

The continued quibbling of the leaders of the three unions has to do principally with rules changes, which have already been agreed to by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Of these, the principal one seems to be that having to do with so-called "interdivisional service"—runs which take in two or more seniority districts.

The union leaders would bar progress and efficiency in the industry, and better service to the public, by maintaining a situation where they can arbitrarily stop a railroad from establishing such interdivisional runs. The carriers propose that if a railroad wishes to set up an interdivisional run, the railroad and the unions should try to agree on such run and the conditions which should surround its establishment, and if the railroad and the unions can't agree, the matter will be submitted to arbitration.

But the three union leaders still refuse.

Rules Can Be Arbitrated

The railroads have not only offered these three unions the same rules agreed to by the BRT and covered by the White House Agreement, but have even agreed to submit such rules to arbitration.

The Industry Pattern Is Fixed

With the pattern so firmly established in the railroad industry, it seems fair to suggest that the leaders of BLE, BLF&E, and ORC stop their quibbling and take action to make the railroad labor picture 100% complete. Certainly today's economic and international situation calls for a united front. And certainly no good reason has been advanced why these three unions should be preferred over all other railroad employes.

Old Age Assistance Program In Florida

The Federal Security Agency announced Senator Spessard Holland's checks covering the federal government's share of the Old Age Assistance program for the State of Florida for the month of November were issued by the Treasury. Certification of federal funds for the months of October, November and December, which should have been issued prior to December, had been held up because of a law adopted by the last session of the Florida Legislature which permitted a recipient of Old Age Assistance to own a garden, one cow, one pig, and ten chickens.

Senator Smathers had contacted the Federal Security Agency in an effort to have the funds released on the grounds that the State law had specified that the foodstuffs derived from the garden, cow, chickens, etc., would be for the personal use of the pensioner and had prohibited its sale or exchange. He had sought to convince the Federal Security Agency that there was no violation of the purpose of the Old Age Security program as a result of this Act of the Florida Legislature. In a reply received from Commissioner A. J. Altmeyer of the Social Security Administration, dated October 17, the Senator was advised: "The possible question raised by this law is whether, under it, all income and resources will be taken into account as required by the Federal law. We are currently awaiting information from the State relating to the interpretation of the law and how it will operate. If the State can substantiate a finding that the subsistence resources covered in this law do not result in a net gain, there will be no question of compliance with the Federal law. In the meantime, Federal funds have been certified to Florida."

Senator Smathers expressed the hope that state officials will immediately furnish to the Federal Security Agency the information as to the interpretation of the law and how it will operate in order that there will be no delay in certification of funds for the first quarter of 1952. "I am offering my services to State Auditor Commissioner Sherwood Smith in an effort to be of assistance in any way possible in presenting the State's case," Smathers said. "In my opinion it would be ridiculous to forbid the elderly people of our state to produce, by their own efforts and initiative, some of their own food and so augment their meager pensions."

Soil Conservation News

The recent rains have brought the citrus grove cover crops out and have produced excellent tonnage of green material plus a good yield of seed. Mr. W. F. Ward of Avon Park planted 400 acres of the three kinds of indigo and Cole and Fulton are now combining seed for Mr. Ward. These seed are the early maturing variety of indigo. Ward has planted the common hairy indigo, blanket indigo, and the early maturing variety. He says the early indigo has the advantage of always producing a seed crop before the frost hits it and allowing it to be chopped before it would become a cold hazard. Franklin Ward says the blanket indigo which carpets the ground seems to have a definite advantage in young groves where you have lots of open space. He says it can be left undisturbed through the winter to mulch and protect the soil and will also conserve moisture and increase irrigation efficiency.

The three indigos have proven to be very good in mixture with improved pasture grasses. Some ranchers say the blanket indigo is most palatable (more tasty) to cattle.

The Highlands Ranch and Grove company has a very good stand of striata crotalaria on some new citrus land east of Avon Park.

Cleveland Boney and several other ranchers are putting on the fall application of fertilizer to bring out the grass for the long winter months ahead. Boney says he has a striking example of how much better Pangola is than torpedo. He has a field of Pangola and torpedo side by side each on the same kind of land and both identical treatment. Both pastures had a 400 pound application of 6-6-6 fertilizer 3 weeks ago and he estimated his pangola as too good to compare with his torpedo.

The Highlands Soil Conservation District assisted H. A. Pfaff in laying out a drainage system and W. H. Melvin in preparing a complete soil and water conservation plan on 1068 acres.

Favors were balloons and Hallowe'en hats filled with bubble gum and bright-colored small candies.

Mrs. Robert Henderson Honored

Mrs. Robert Henderson, recent bride, was the honoree at a shower given Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Love McGiboney, with Mrs. R. H. Lawhon and Mrs. Mark Smith as co-hostesses.

The rooms of the spacious home, which lends itself so ideally to entertaining, were beautifully decorated with a profusion of pink and white blossoms. A miniature wedding scene on the mantle was the focal point. The bride and groom stood in miniature before a satin-covered altar and a fern-bedecked arch with two triple-branched candelabra and two urns filled with tiny white blossoms on either side reflected in the large mirror. Other appointments about the party rooms included a white lace basket, tied with satin bows, filled with sweetheart roses and tiny white blossoms. Hibiscus and dahlias were used to advantage elsewhere in the party rooms.

After various games and contests were enjoyed by the guests, the honoree was presented with a large package attractively decorated with a large pink and white nosegay.

In keeping with the chosen motif of pink and white, refreshments of pink and white ice cream, cake, and nuts were served. Each guest was presented with a miniature nosegay in varied colors.

Approximately seventy ladies shared this lovely affair with Mrs. Henderson and the three hostesses.

Why We Should Buy Christmas Seals

By Mrs. Ted Ward, Seal Chairman

Every year about this time, Christmas Seals go on sale. It's an American Christmas tradition to put these little health greetings on cards and letters during the holiday season.

Infectious! — That's the word — the reason why TB is everybody's problem. You aren't born with it, it isn't inherited. But it can attack anyone and usually gives no warning. In fact, you and I could walk around for months and not even know we have it. It strikes rich or poor, any age or race.

One of the most important phases of our Highlands County program is case-finding.

Over 4500 persons were chest X-rayed by the mobile unit last January. Some of those discovered with the first stages of Tuberculosis are now being treated in Sanitoriums now.

Only yesterday a young mother of two small children living in Avon Park was entered in the Southwestern Sanitorium at Tampa for treatment. Detecting the dread disease at its very beginning and separating the husband and children from the afflicted mother will prevent the spread of TB to the family and others. Possibly a year from now, the family will be happily reunited, she with her past disability arrested and with a new lease on life.

The fight against TB is expensive and every Christmas Seal you buy supplies much of the "bill-paying" ammunition. Christmas Seals are the sole support of our local Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Surely everybody wants to join in this fight for a better community and a safer world. Then let's all buy these tiny greetings that have literally become paper bullets aimed at destroying one of the greatest enemies to mankind's health and happiness.

The regular Seal Sale campaign opens up on November 19th but the annual sale of Seal Bonds from donors of the larger gifts is going on now.

Avon Park Invited To Cypress Gardens

The Florida Cypreis Gardens issues a cordial invitation to all the residents of Avon Park and the surrounding territory to visit the Gardens free of charge on Sunday, November 11th. Come an see the many improvements, enjoy a quiet restful day as our guests.

You will enjoy the tropical plants and flowers that have been gathered from the ends of the earth to form this tropical paradise. You will thrill to the cry of the water skiers as they soar through the air over the high jump or go through their complicated [illegible] on the water. Four shows daily at 11:00, 1:00, 3:00 and 4:30.

ARMISTICE DAY SERVICES CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Armistice Day will be observed at a special service at 11 A.M. on Sunday morning, November 11, in the Union Congregational Church. Mr. M. E. Appelgren, tenor, will be the soloist. The Rev. Herbert D. Graetz will preach to the subject, "Peace for Modern Times."

Wildcats Beat Red Devils 46-12

Hardee County High School's Wildcats Friday night trounced Avon Park Red Devils at Wauchula 46-12, in a non-conference football game.

The Wauchula team scored once in the first quarter then ran wild with 26 points in the second to put the game on ice.

Herman Grimsley passed to Earl Stancil on a seven-yard play for the first period score.

In the second quarter Jackie See went over from the seven, James Knight from the 12, Charles Shackleford from the seven and Grimsley passed to Stancil from the three.

Graham Johnson passed to Joe Page on a 17-yard play for a third period touchdown, and Jackie Carlton raced seven yards for the final Hardee score in the last period.

Shackleford converted four extra points.

Avon Park got its first touchdown in the third period when Morris Harper passed to Jim Kelly on a play that covered 78 yards.

Avon Park's other score came in the final period with Harper going over from the three.

Wauchula made 14 first downs to six for Avon Park. It was Wauchula's fifth conference win.

Hazel Tillman Severely Burned

Mrs. Donald Tillman and her son, James, two years old, are reported to be in a critical condition from severe burns received Monday in their Ocala home when a gas stove exploded. The cause of the explosion is not known.

According to Mrs. Tillman's physician, she suffered second and third degree burns on 40 per cent of her body. The child has first and second degree burns on 20 per cent of his body.

Until a few weeks ago, when she left to join her husband who was employed in Ocala, Mrs. Tillman lived on South Central Ave. here. She is the former Hazel E. Mott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Mott of this city.

The Tillmans are also the parents of a second son, Robert Duaine, an infant born September 26, 1951, at Walker Memorial Hospital.

DEATH OF WELL-KNOWN FORMER RESIDENT

Mrs. E. O. Knight died Wednesday night, November 7, in Orange, Massachusetts, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Clifford Johnson, where she had been staying for the past several months. Mrs. Knight was a resident of Avon Park for a number of years. She was the mother of the late Olive Knight.

No further details are available at this time.

Firemen Will Again Give Toys For Christmas

The Firemen's Association of Avon Park will again this year buy toys and candy for those children in our city whose parents cannot afford to play Santa Claus. The necessary money was furnished by the proceeds of the Firemen's minstrel show given last spring.

Food and clothing will be furnished for Christmas boxes to be given within Avon Park by other civic organizations. The firemen's toys and candy will be placed in the boxes with the other contributions.

The giving of the annual Christmas boxes is usually supervised by a committee coordinating the gifts of all civic organizations and churches. However, should this committee not function this year, the firemen will send toys and candy with the food baskets of individual organizations, if those organizations will hand their list of needy children to the Fireman's Association.

HIGHLANDS COUNTY CATTLEMEN'S GROUP ELECTS OFFICERS

N. B. Jackson, of Venus, was elected president of the Highlands County Cattlemen's Association at the annual meeting held at Sebring Wednesday night.

Other officers elected were: T. Jessie Durrance, of Brighton, vice president; Jack Ingle, of Sebring, secretary; Wes Davis, of Sebring, treasurer.

Directors chosen: Roscoe Bass and Earl W. Hartt, of Avon Park; George Waggaman, of Lorida; Carl McIntyre, of Sebring, and T. J. Durrance, of Brighton.

Dr. Clarence Campbell, assistant state veterinarian, principal speaker, said the anthrax outbreak in the southern part of the state was under control. He added that vaccination of cattle in this area would not be necessary.

The association went on record in favor of the rehiring of Dr. W. V. Knapp as state veterinarian. Dr. Knapp's service with the state is scheduled to end Thursday.

NURSES IN DEMAND

The need for nurses in county health departments throughout the state is emphasized by an announcement issued this week by the office of the State Merit System in Tallahassee.

The salary for existing vacancies vary from $200 per month for beginning nurses, to $270 for nurses with public health training. In most cases nurses are required to have a car, and are compensated at the rate of seven and one-half cents per mile for official travel. Nurses must be graduates of accredited schools of nursing, and registered, or eligible for registration, in the State of Florida. Interested persons should make inquiry direct to the office of the Florida Merit System, Tallahassee.

County Grand Jury In Session Tuesday

They brought in an indictment charging William Brown with the knife slaying of Filmore Sims at an Avon Park Negro club in March. His trial has been set for December 11.

From the parade of witnesses into the grand jury room it looked as though the jury may have been probing the recent municipal election of the City.

CIO Citrus Workers Met Here Sunday

C. Parke Anderson Memorial Dedication

The dedication of the C. Parke Anderson memorial was held in the Congregational Church of Avon Park Sunday, November 4, at 3 P.M. Mr. Anderson's many friends and fellow workers shared in the dedication service. The memorial was a very revealing portrait of the late Parke Anderson and a furnished room in the Walker Memorial Hospital at Avon Park. This memorial was sponsored by the State Association of Soil Conservation District Supervisors of which Mr. Anderson was president as well as chairman of the Highlands Soil Conservation District board of supervisors at the time of his death. Mr. E. E. Carter of Vero Beach, now president of the State Association, presided at the dedication and Mrs. Z. C. Herlong, Honorary President, made a very interesting talk on Mr. Anderson's devoted and unparalleled ability in the field of Soil Conservation and the very high esteem and love Mr. Anderson's fellow workers and many friends held for him in that field as well as the many other fields of his endeavor.

The Rev. Herbert D. Graetz officiated at the dedication ceremony and Mr. H. M. Baldwin of the hospital accepted the memorial on behalf of the hospital board of directors.

Elder J. R. Young, pastor of the Walker Memorial Sanitarium and Hospital Seventh-day Adventist Church, pronounced the benediction.

Miss Dorothy C. Jones played the organ prelude and postlude.

Mrs. Katherine Waggaman who succeeded Mr. Anderson, and still remains chairman of the Highlands Soil Conservation District, was in charge of arrangements for the dedication ceremonies.

There was a capacity crowd for the services and the unveiling of the portrait by Mr. Anderson's lovely daughter, Miss Arden Anderson. After the ceremonies the crowd was received at the hospital by Mr. Baldwin where they viewed the memorial.

Those attending are to report at the Methodist Church in Fort Meade at 3:00. The outing will be from 3:00 to 4:30, followed by business meeting and supper. The evening program, from 7:30 to 8:30, a union service with the Methodist group, will be based on the subject, "United Christian Youth Movement."

STATE SENATOR MOORE TO ADDRESS FIREMEN

State Senator James W. Moore and Superintendent Fred Winters of Highlands Hammock State Park will be the principal speakers at the meeting of the 6th District, Florida Firemen's Association, to be held at the Highlands Hammock state park at 2 P.M. Friday, November 9.

State President M. Q. Bullock, of Miami, will respond to Mayor J. D. Mitchell's welcome address. Chief O. A. Lewis, of Lake Alfred, district president, will conduct the business session. The Rev. John C. Hersey, former chaplain of the Fire Chiefs' Association of Pennsylvania, will give the invocation.

Mrs. K. Brause, of Lake Worth, will preside at the session of the women's auxiliary.

Registration of delegates will start at 10 A.M. Friday at the Sebring fire station. The Nancesowee Hotel will be headquarters.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Wells visited in St. Petersburg and Tampa recently.

CIO citrus workers met here long state convention [illegible] the Negro school building. A floor price and [illegible] these services.

Grapefruit, spot picking, 20 cents.

Oranges, spot picking, 20 cents.

Loaders, straight pick and semi-truck, two cents per box.

The rates to be demanded for truck drivers; goat and straight grove, $1.25 per hour; semi and bulk over-road, $1.25 per hour.

Truck drivers will receive time and a half for work over 40 hours.

Grove workers, $1.25 per hour.

In addition, according to CIO Representatives Otis G. Nation and Arthur Leary, who addressed the convention, the union will demand $1.25 per hour for workers traveling from projected hiring halls to the groves and return.

Nation said it was the first time that the workers set their own wage scale, rather than leave it up to the big wigs.

The estimated 1500 delegates and members white and Negro, from the 20 locals in the Ocala-Lake Placid area, joined by 15 other CIO groups, gave backing to their demanded scale by empowering the union leaders to call a strike. And the unionists were assured by their leaders that complete work stoppages or curtailment of production would be called for only when the situation was ideal — prices high, demand heavy.

Nation said another meeting would be held within 15 days. The site will be around Winter Haven.

The subject is vital. Everyone is urged to attend this meeting.

The P.T.A. executive board will meet Thursday, November 13, at 3:15. All members should be present.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Tallahassee — The political fever that broke in the capital bubbled only slightly this week, chiefly on what the new political contribution law can do. Bradley Odham of Sanford, officially announced candidate for governor, blasted potential opponents who, he said, have set up headquarters and are beating the bushes but won't comply with the law. Minor candidates for governor brushed off the campaign law, saying no one would enforce it. Secretary of State R. A. Gray and Attorney General Richard W. Ervin tried manfully to bring public understanding of the law's quirk's but both seem to agree that enforcement of the law is in someone else's hands. Newspapers and radio stations meantime were advised, at Daytona Beach where the Associated Dailies met, and in St. Petersburg with the Florida Association of Broadcasters, that the new law does not prevent individuals from sponsoring and paying for advertising on behalf of candidates, so long as the sponsor is known and he acts in good faith independently of the candidate.

Tallahassee — O. Earle Frye has been moved up to the position of assistant director of the State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, a position formerly held by Director Ben McLauchlin. The state has been divided into five districts, each with a director. The move simply reassigned personnel to effect better operations, said the announcement, and involved no new personnel.

Tallahassee — Two Jacksonville lawyers threatened with disbarment told the supreme court that the charges were "fictitious, fraudulent and perjured" and asked the court to quash them. The attorneys, Evan T. Evans and Will O. Murrell, Sr. were charged with unethical practice by the Florida Bar, and must appear before the supreme court in answer.

Tallahassee — Advertising of county school board purchases of automobile tires will be ended if the state carries through a plan first advanced by Rep. John McFarlin of Marianna, by which school boards would send in their requirements to the state, which would determine from whom to get bids. The State Road Department reported that a similar plan is being worked for the county commissions, who can buy through the state instead of advertising for low bids as individual counties. Local dealers in each case handle the delivery.

LAW WILL HELP FHA BORROWERS

Farmers who borrow from the Farmers Home Administration will be better able to make adjustments in farming operations, increase production and work out balanced farm and home management plans under the newly enacted Public Law 123, Wilson H. Harrison, County Supervisor, announced today.

The law, amending the Farmers Home Administration Act of 1946, enables the agency to make loans for farm operating expenses up to $7,000 for an initial loan and places a ceiling of $10,000 on the indebtedness outstanding at any one time. The maximum repayment period is seven years. Previously the initial loan limit was $3,500, the maximum indebtedness to $5,000 and the maximum repayment period to five years.

"In amending the loan terms, Congress recognized that the costs of farm operating expenses have increased sharply in recent years," Mr. Harrison explained. "A farmer who required a $3,500 loan in 1946 for annual operating expenses and the purchase of machinery and livestock would have required a loan of $5,900 for the same proposal in 1951.

PRESIDENT OF FARM BUREAU TO SPEAK AT ORLANDO NOV. 15

The eyes of 46 State Farm Bureaus will be on Florida next week. Their national president, Allan B. Kline of Iowa, will address Florida farmers in Orlando Thursday November 15, at 11 o'clock.

"Just a few years ago our state organization wasn't large enough to warrant a visit from our national president", declared Loring Raoul, state Farm Bureau president in Sarasota last week. Today Florida is in the same membership bracket with Idaho, Louisiana, New Jersey, North Dakota, South Carolina, Vermont and West Virginia", he said.

Help The Children Enjoy Thanksgiving

To most Floridians Thanksgiving Day means a cheerful home holiday and the giving of thanks. But to hundreds of helpless people referred to the Children's Home Society of Florida, which has its state headquarters in Jacksonville, it means a sad, lonely day of desolation and even disappointment, a day without an old Thanksgiving turkey or stuffing unless the readers of this article are willing to share their blessings with these destitute boys and girls, orphaned and needy children.

An urgent appeal is made by the President of the Home Society, S. Kendrick Guernsey, C. K. France, the new Executive Director, Marcus C. "Daddy" Hearn now State Superintendent Emeritus and Consultant, and by the long-time Treasurer, R. V. Covington, 1649 Osceola Street, Jacksonville. The appeal is for desperately needed funds, foods of every kind, and children's wearables of every type and size, for homeless children from wee babies to boys and girls of sixteen years.

All moneys are to be mailed to Mr. Covington and all articles other than cash will be gladly welcomed at any one of the Society's four homelike Receiving Homes, as follows: Children's Receiving Home, 3165 San Diego Road, Jacksonville; Rose Keller Home, 802 South Pennsylvania Street, Lakeland; Scotland House, our West Florida Receiving Home 12th Avenue and Blount Street, Pensacola; the Southeastern Division Receiving Home at 809 NW 14th Street, Miami.

The work is supported entirely by voluntary gifts of moneys, food and children's wearables. No support is received from either the state or federal government.

During the forty-nine years that the Children's Home Society of Florida has served Florida's homeless and needy children, a total of over fifty-seven thousand children of all ages, all creeds, have received aid, care, and careful supervision and guidance, these children having been referred to the Society from every city, town and village in all of Florida.

You can help some child find happiness on Thanksgiving Day by sharing a portion of your income and other blessings. The need is really desperate.

The average American spent $4 last year for books of all kinds.

The Blood Purchased Church

Acts 20:28; Eph. 5:23, 25

Although God gave His Son for the whole world (Jno. 2:1,2), John says it is the believer who will be saved (Jno. 3:16; Matt. 7:13,14). Thayer (Greek-English Lexicon - a standard work) says the word here rendered "believeth" involves three elements: (1) Acceptance of the truth that Jesus is the Son of God, (2) A personal trust in Him, and (3) Obedience to Him.

Therefore, it is the obedient believer who will be saved (Rom. 1:16; Heb. 5:8, 9), and whom He adds to His body the church (Acts 2:41, 42; 18:18; Gal. 3:26, 27; Rom. 6:16-18). When each believer obeys (Acts 2:37-41) from the heart (Rom. 6:16-18), the Lord adds him to the church, the body of the saved (Eph. 5:23, 25). Thus, Paul says Christ has purchased the church by his own blood, the church being composed of those who have accepted on His terms the Salvation in Christ (Acts 20:28).

We sometimes hear: "The church doesn't save" (This is true); "One can be saved out of the church as well as in" (this is not true); and "Be saved, then join the church of your choice." To so speak is to use the language of Ashdod (Neh. 13:23-25) and not to speak as the oracles of God (1 Pet. 4:11).

(Hear this subject discussed on November 11, 7:30 P.M. at the CHURCH OF CHRIST, Forest and Walnut, in Avon Park. Bring your Bibles and study with us — ask questions. Minister and Speaker: Paul E. Tustin — Phone 57-M for conference).

NEXT WEEK: IS CHRIST'S CHURCH MADE UP OF ALL DENOMINATIONS???

250 Year Old Canoe On Display

Bristol — It may be the first ferry boat ever used on the Apalachicola river, this 250 year old dugout. Now it rests in dignified quiet in Torreya State Park, but two of a half centuries ago, its lumbering hulk have compared in importance to that of some steel seven liner of today.

Students who go to Torreya State Park to study prehistoric life see the scene in the long ago when this great dugout was launched by a group of Indians encamped at the mouth of a small clear stream emptying into the broad Florida Apalachicola.

Undoubtedly, they say, great excitement accompanied the launching. For it was a noble vessel hollowed out of a giant cypress by fire and primitive stone tools, a log that had taken the combined strength and skill of a tribe to bring down and shape out of the marshy swamps.

The Indians have long gone, but the evidence is unmistakable that this canoe became the means by which Indians for man generations were carried back and forth across the Apalachicola river there where it sweeps toward the Gulf between high banks.

Then the white man came, and the canoe disappeared from its route and for more than a hundred years it lay hidden.

In June, 1936, a foreman of the CCC camp at Torreya State Park, located 13 miles northeast of Bristol, was crossing the ferry from Blountstown to Bristol and detected what appeared to be a hollowed out log on a sandy bank. A closer examination disclosed that it was a canoe, a dugout canoe in a good state of preservation. It was carefully excavated out of the sand and mud and taken to nearby Torreya State Park where it can be seen today as an object of historic interest and the subject of much conjecture.

The canoe is 23 feet in length, two feet wide and twelve inches from top to bottom. One end is flattened into a platform, evidently for the stearsman to stand on. Scientists calculate it was used as a ferry canoe more than 250 years ago.

Florida Will Permit Hunting Alligators

Tallahassee — Florida's alligators, partially protected since 1944 and completely protected since March 1950, will once more be hunted by the sportsmen of the State, the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission ruled Oct. 29.

The Commission acted on the request of E. Ross Allen and Wilfred E. Neill, reptile experts from Silver Springs, and also on the report of a State Alligator Committee, composed of sportsmen and Game Commission personnel.

Both groups stated that alligators had increased in apundance since 1944 and were now becoming a nuisance. Allen said the gators were becoming unafraid of people and therefore dangerous.

Allen suggested taking larger gators, eight feet and up, in order to save the smaller breeding animals. He said hunting the larger ones, of which there were many would drive the smaller ones into wilder areas of the State and keep them in their place.

The season will be open for the taking of 'gators over eight feet in length from October 1 to Feb. 1, with the exception of this year, when the regulations will become effective 30 days after being certified by the Secretary of State.

Damage from wildfires on 12½ million protected acres of Florida from July, 1950, to July, 1951, was estimated at $1,061,238. You ... and only you ... can prevent this shameful waste.

Let's Help Along With Conservation

By The Bird Woman

When we look around us and see the scarcity of so many birds that used to be plentiful, and know that many birds are extinct, and others are nearing extinction, it is hard to keep off the subject of "conservation."

We know that most of this was brought about because we have not had adequate conservation laws or adequate enforcement.

This is rapidly being remedied, but rather late in the day. We are having bird sanctuaries established in many places.

In looking over the St. Petersburg ordinance making that city a sanctuary, they say, "It shall be unlawful to kill, hunt, chase, injure, trap, capture or destroy by any means whatsoever any bird, nest or egg." And the penalty for violating this ordinance is a fine not to exceed $500.00 or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding 90 days.

We were amazed to see how closely this parallels our own ordinance (published in the Sun August 26, 1950).

Our last legislature took another step forward and passed a law relative to carrying firearms, and we are submitting it herewith from a copy from the office of the Secretary of State, R. A. Gray.

Chapter 26946—(No. 467)
Senate Bill No. 900

An Act Relating to the Regulation by Children Under the Age of Sixteen in the Use of Air Rifles, BB Guns, and 22-Caliber Rifles; Providing Penalties for Violation of This Act and Repealing All Laws in Conflict Herewith and Making This Act Effective Upon Becoming a Law.

Be it Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. The use for any purpose whatsoever of BB Guns, Air Rifles, and 22-Caliber Rifles by any child under the age of sixteen years is prohibited unless such use is under the supervision and in the presence of an adult.

Section 2. Any adult responsible for the welfare of any child under the age of sixteen permits such child to use or have in his possession any BB Gun, Air Rifle, or 22-Caliber Rifle in violation of the provisions of Section 1 of this Act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $300.00 or by imprisonment for not longer than thirty days.

Section 3. All laws or parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 4. This Act shall become effective upon becoming a law.

Became a law without the Governor's approval.

Filed in Office Secretary of State, June 11, 1951.

FLORIDA GROWS SMALL FAMILY TURKEY

Many Florida turkey men are growing the Beltsville Small White turkey which fits the small family and the small ice box and oven.

With the high costs of beef, pork and lamb, growers generally are cooperating to put turkey meat on the retail markets as an all-year-round food. The large turkey has frequently been the source of criticism in small families where "we don't want to eat turkey for a week after Thanksgiving, with Christmas coming right along."

So the Beltsville Experiment Station of USDA started to do something about it, and the Beltsville Small White is the result. Here the smaller turkey is bred through the wild and domestic strains, is featured in an illustrated article in November Florida Grower.

Soil Conservation News

By Sam Polston
Soil Conservationist

Several cooperators of the Highlands Soil Conservation District are in the race with ole man Winter for winter pasture. Some are planting clover and some are fertilizing the pasture grasses and clover they already have.

E. W. Hartt of Avon Park put on his fall application of 3 complete fertilizer last week. He fertilized at the rate of 500 pounds per acre with his total application amounting to more than 100 tons, which will mean a lot of good rich grass for the cattle through the long winter months ahead.

D. C. Kelley of Lake Placid is planting 10 acres of White Dutch Clover and Kentucky 31 Fescue grass on organic soils. Properly innoculated clover seed will be seeded at the rate of 5 pounds per acre and Fescue at the rate of 10 pounds per acre. Three tons of High Calcium lime per acre was applied before planting and 500 pounds per acre of a complete (4-12-10) fertilizer with secondary elements added will be applied when seeded the first of next week.

Lykes Brothers planted 100 acres of White Dutch Clover on organic soils last winter and it carried through the summer, which clover doesn't generally do in this part of the state on sandy soils, but on sands clover will re-seed in the late spring, the old plants die off in the summer and then come back from the seed in the fall.

Tallahassee — Installation of an aircraft spotter system and radio communication for the state civil defense program was assured when the cabinet agreed to give $20,000 out of available funds to Col. R. J. Howie, civil defense state head. The money is contingent on final approval by Governor Warren. The 1951 Legislature gave only $25,000 a year for this purpose. Colonel Howie said in view of the grave international situation, Florida must be prepared for any emergency.

Old Time Turkey Shoot Saturday

A regular old time turkey shoot will be held by the American Legion on the Saturday before Thanksgiving which is November 17. The Avon Park Municipal Airport has been designated as the site of this Daniel Boone affair. Shotguns and rifles will be available for all those who would like to compete. There will be cold drinks available and the outing and turkey shoot will begin at 1:00 P.M. Saturday, November the 17, and last until sundown.

All ammunition will be furnished and all that is needed to make the event a success is plenty of spectators and marksmen.

There will be a hundred turkeys and the best shot out of a round of twelve shooters will win the turkey.

This turkey shoot is being held by the American Legion so that they can continue to send some deserving youngster to Boy's State and to accomplish the many benevolent and charitable projects that the American Legion has on its calendar.

W. W. WOLFF

W. W. Wolff, vice president, Florida Power Company, St. Petersburg, who will report on the industrialization of the State, before the 35th annual membership meeting of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, Palm Beach, Nov. 19-20. Wolff is chairman of the organization's industrial division.

$20,627.59 Welfare Grants In County During October

Most of Florida's needy children being helped through the State Welfare Department received more aid in October than in any of the three preceding months.

That was because tightening of rules and regulations covering eligibility and new laws passed by the 1951 Legislature resulted in fewer children receiving assistance. In October it was possible to make welfare grants for children on a basis of 80 percent of their need within Department standards and legal maximums, as compared with 56 percent the preceding three months.

In Highlands County, 100 assistance grants were made in October covering 230 children totalling $4,443.20. In addition, to aid for dependent children, 413 aged received $15,614.50, and 16 needy blind received $569.89.

So far, there have been enough funds to make assistance grants to the needy aged on the full amount of their "budget needs" within legal maximums and standards approved by the Department. The needy blind are receiving 94 percent of their budget needs within the maximums.

The budget needs of an individual are determined by computing the amount of money required to provide basic living necessities as established on a statewide basis, then subtracting whatever income the individual may have. The maximum grant is $50 a month for the aged and blind, and $30 for the first child in a family group and $18 for each additional child, with a maximum of $81 for any family group.

October payments on a statewide basis amounted to $3,740,952.87 of which $2,438,332.44 came from Federal sources.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS CLINIC ON PROGRAM

To help business men better understand the federal wage and stabilization act, so that severe penalties will not be visited upon them, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce has scheduled a question and answer clinic to be part of its 3-day annual membership meeting proceedings which will get under way at Palm Beach on November 18. Alexander E. Wilson, Jr., of Atlanta, an authority on the law, will conduct the clinic on Monday afternoon, November 19. Harold Colee, the organization's executive vice president, made this announcement today.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE STARTS ON MONDAY

The Christmas Seals whose annual sale is sponsored by our Highlands County Tuberculosis Assn. are gay and colorful touches for yuletide packages and letters. But more important, they also brighten lives and, in the words of the founder of the Christmas Seal Sale in the United States, Emily Bissell, aid "thousands who had no hope and have it now."

Science has made great strides against TB, but it still remains one of greatest health problems in which early detection and treatment are of primary importance. If we do our part, some day TB will be no more prevalent in this country than typhoid fever.

To Attend Dedication of Son's Memorial

Mrs. Myrel E. Appelgren will leave today (Friday) for Oklahoma City, where she will be present at a service dedicating a new youth center to the memory of the Appelgren's son, James. Mr. Appelgren is prevented by business duties from attending.

The youth center, connected with the First Lutheran Church of Oklahoma City, was given by Mr. and Mrs. Applegren in memory of their son, who was confirmed in that church. James, an only child, died on May 8, 1946, at the age of 14.

The dedication service will be held Sunday, November 25 .

Mrs. Appelgren will go first to Houston, Texas, where she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Peterson. Mrs. Peterson will accompany her to Oklahoma City. Mrs. Appelgren expects to return home around the end of this month.

FOUR ESCAPE INJURY IN TRUCK-CAR CRASH

Four persons escaped uninjured Tuesday afternoon on State Road 17 between Avon Park and Sebring when a truck and car collided, causing extensive damage to both vehicles.

Florida Highway Patrolman John E. Hicks, who investigated, preferred a drunken driving charge against Eddie Clark, of Avon Park, driver of the truck. Francis Roberts, Hardee County rancher, was driving the car, in which he was en route to the Florida Cattlemen's Convention at Clewiston. It is reported that the truck was attempting to pass in a no passing zone.

Clark's 9-year-old son, Jay, and an unidentified passenger also were riding in the truck.

WAGE STABILIZATION ENDS HEARING

Lakeland, Nov. 14—After listening to more than 50 hours of testimony recorded on better than 3000 miles of wire, a five-man regional Wage Stabilization Board concluded hearings today to decide whether a higher ceiling than exists on citrus harvester wages is necessary to prevent complete "chaos" in Florida's second largest industry.

The tripartite agricultural panel, which opened hearings here last Thursday, heard voluminous testimony from management and labor and returned to Atlanta today to formulate its findings. A decision is expected by November 26 or 27.

Testimony of witnesses examined and cross-examined by counsel for labor, management, and the board, indicated prorating of labor to be a formidable threat to the citrus industry with violations of present wage ceilings a common practice among operators.

BENCH WARRANT FOR "TONI" GARDNER

Circuit Judge Don Register has issued a capias for Nola Ruth (Toni) Gardner, charged with unauthorized practice of medicine in Avon Park several months ago, State Attorney Walter W. Woolfolk said Wednesday. The defendant, who is believed to be attending a school in Indiana, had posted a $250 bond, which was estreated when she failed to appear for trial Tuesday.

FIRST NEGRO SITS AS JUROR IN HIGHLANDS COURT

A Negro served as a juror Tuesday for the first time in the history of Highlands County courts. He is J. E. Aaron, of Sebring.

Aaron sat with five white circuit court jurors trying the case of Anna Bell Deloney, a Sebring Negro charged with conducting a lottery. She was acquitted.

Trials of criminal cases will continue before Judge Don Register.

FOUR COUNTY OFFICIALS FILE FOR REELECTION

Four Highlands County officials have filed notice of their intention to seek reelection at the Spring primaries. They are Sheriff Broward Coker, Circuit Court Clerk Harvey T. Piety, County Judge Howard Livingston and Marion H. Grice, District 1 commissioner.

Chairman of the Republican National Committee, Honorable Guy George Gabrielson, will make the first official visit of a Republican National Chairman to Florida when he speaks in Williams Park, St. Petersburg, on Saturday, November 17. Chairman Gabrielson is appearing under the auspices of the Republican State Executive Committee.

Chairman Gabrielson says "The people of Florida are tired after 18 years of Democrat government by crisis and by crony. They realize that new and competent leadership is needed, and that only the two-party system can bring about this change."

Mrs. Rose Mayes, Assistant Vice Chairman of the National Committee, has just ended a series of speeches in the state. Chairman Harold Alexander of Fort Myers says their visits are not only a recognition of the Florida Republican State Committee but the beginning of the 1952 campaign. Republican leaders both in Florida and Washington believe there is an excellent chance of Florida being in the Republican column nationally in next year's election.

The National Committee has agreed to give the Republican state committee in Florida every assistance based on its analysis of the present political situation. The state committee has Senator Taft scheduled for Orlando on January 28th and Senator Dirksen for St. Petersburg, February 12. Other well known Republican speakers are expected in other Florida cities.

Hunting Season Will Open Tuesday

With official opening of the Florida hunting season November 20, hunters were advised today to obey the laws of both safety and game by Ben L. McLauchlin, director of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

"Each year, many hunters are killed or seriously injured by someone's failure to observe the simplest rules of the sport," he stated. "People just don't seem to remember that guns can be very dangerous weapons when they are improperly handled. Caution should be observed at all times, and hunters should be sure that they actually see where and what they are shooting."

McLauchlin also stated that Game Commission wildlife officers will be more alert than ever this season to apprehend any violators of the game laws. "Under the law, each hunter is entitled to his fair share of the game, and no more," he said. "Any sportsman should be willing to abide by laws that help conserve game for future as well as present use. Those who are not willing are stealing game that belongs to other people."

Florida hunters were recently advised by the Game Commission that they will probably enjoy the best hunting season this year that they have had in many years. Deer and turkey hunters were promised especially good prospects, while squirrel, quail and migratory bird hunters will have as good or better hunting than last year.

Postmaster Urges Early Christmas Mailing

Postmaster D. G. Perry opened the Yultide Season officially today. He issued his annual appeal for early mailing of Christmas greeting cards and gift packages.

"It's later than you think!" the Postmaster warned. "Most people wait until December rolls around before they give the increasingly heavy Christmas mails a second thought.

The Postmaster expects the greatest flood of Yuletide mail in local history. He predicted it would exceed "by a considerable margin" the record-breaking 1950 holiday season, when 122,437 pieces of mail were cancelled.

"This year's deluge of Christmas mail will strain post office facilities severely," he stated. "But we'll get everything delivered by Christmas, if the public cooperates whole-heartedly."

Christmas packages for distant States should be mailed by December 5th, he declared. All Yuletide parcel post should be on its way by December 10th.

Christmas cards to friends and loved ones in other States should be deposited by December 15th. Greetings for local delivery should be mailed at least a week before Christmas.

Preparations to handle this Yultide rush have already begun. The post office is training extra mail clerks and carriers, setting up new sorting tables, hauling out reserve mail sacks. Thousands of bright new postage stamps are on hand, and the post office pens are all getting new points.

To keep Christmas mail on schedule, the Postmaster asks that you—

Stop at the post office next week to purchase the extra stamps you're going to need, thus avoiding last-minute crowds. When buying stamps for Christmas cards, bear in mind the desirability of sending the cards by first class mail. The rate for unsealed cards, no writing is 2c and cards mailed in this way to do not rate forwarding or return services.

Packages are limited to 70 pounds in weight, and must not measure more than 100 inches in length and girth combined. Repeat the address inside the outer wrappings, in case they are damaged in transit. Please address plainly and completely.

ALTO ADAMS

Adams Announces For Governor

Tallahassee — In four brief sentences, Alto Adams today announced his candidacy for governor.

The 52-year-old Ft. Pierce rancher, businessman and former Supreme Court justice had been mentioned as a probable candidate for several weeks.

In one of the shortest political announcements on record, Adams said "flagrant disregard for morality and reckless waste of public funds" had moved him to seek the governorship. His complete statement follows:

"As of this day, I am a candidate for governor. Flagrant disregard for morality and reckless waste of public funds have led me to this decision. We need a revival of common-sense leadership. I am prepared to supply that leadership."

Adams is a native of Walton County and a graduate of the University of Florida law school. He moved to Ft. Pierce in 1924 and practiced law there until 1938, when he was appointed circuit judge of the Ninth Judicial District. During this period he branched out from his law practice to become a highly successful businessman. He still has widespread business interests in St. Lucie County, including a 20,000-acre cattle ranch.

Adams was named to the Supreme Court in 1940 by Gov. Fred P. Cone, and served as Chief Justice of the court in 1949-50. He resigned from the bench early last month.

Frostproof Wins Over Avon Park

The Frostproof Bullpups scored early and late to hand the Avon Park Red Devils a 27-14 Ridge Conference football loss here last Friday night before a gathering of 1200 fans.

Jim Storey opened the scoring for Frostproof in the first quarter with a five-yard touchdown plunge. Jimmy Stewart ran 20 yards to paydirt in the second period and added his own extra point. In the same period, Juell DuBose passed to Charles Lee for a 12-yard touchdown play. Stewart ran the extra point.

Avon Park staged a comeback in the third period, scoring 14 points, but the comeback was not strong enough. Bruce Spencer intercepted a pass and ran it 30 yards to the Bullpup four, where Morris Harper carried over. Kelton Hill plunged the extra point. Later Jimmy Kelley passed to Varnes for eight yards and a touchdown and the same combination made the extra point.

Frostproof made the final score in the last period as DuBose plunged the final yard to the double stripe. Stewart ran the extra point.

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

THE LONELY JESUS

By Father John O. Crumbly
Vicar, Church of the Redeemer

No attempt to study the personality of the human Jesus is complete without a consideration of his intense loneliness.

From the beginning of His fame to his Crucifixion, He was constantly pressed upon by great crowds. The Gospels record many incidents which speak for the difficulty which our Lord and His Disciples had in securing moments of solitude for mediation and partaking of spiritual nutrition. The loneliness of Jesus was not the loneliness of solitude, for solitude is quite independent of loneliness. Our Lord sought solitude. He did not seek loneliness. Loneliness was an unwelcome companion. The Christ who was lonely in the press of the crowds withdrew to the solitude, and there in the stillness He was comforted by communion with the Father, even as the Christian of today is comforted by the Father as he pauses for meditation or takes his periodic retreat.

The loneliness of our Lord was the loneliness of the lack of sympathy. Although multitudes sought Him, and although His intimate friends, the Disciples, were almost always near Him, yet they could not to any appreciable degree, understand the complexity of His Personality.

It was to a very limited degree that the sympathy and understanding of Christ's best friends penetrated His unlimited nature. The tremendous range of hopes and desires for them and for the world lay altogether beyond them. As He revealed these hopes and the way to their realization, there was no word of hushed reverence and admiration, but only easy-going, commonplace protest. When people gave Him sympathy, adoration, reverence, they did so, in most cases, for reasons less than the highest. From the Manger to the Cross He was forced to walk alone in all the higher ranges of His Life. His journey was made without the companionship of sympathy and understanding.

Our Lord's highest comfort was his twelve friends. The way in which he craved their human sympathy and help is manifest in His eagerness to have them near Him during the crisis. It was not merely that He was teaching them; He wished them to "watch with Him": He wished the feeling of their human nearness. Here was something that did not require great learning on their part as much as a deep and abiding love and loyalty. This loyalty was handicapped by their lack of understanding of His nature and mission. When His heart was heavy at Bethany with the certainty of the Passion, and when a woman's intuition showed Him, at great sacrifice, a regal homage of adoration and sympathy, His friends were coldly critical of the waste. In the Garden of Gethsemane His three closest friends fell asleep when His agony was at its height. One denied Him. One betrayed Him. All forsook Him. At best they understood Him but little; not enough to give Him the sympathy which He desired of them.

Many people may experience a loneliness due to the lack of sympathetic understanding. The poet, the artist, and the genius are susceptible to such loneliness. It is like a journey on a little-traveled road. If we do not understand the poet's word picture at a glance we put an unfavorable stamp upon it; if the vision of the artist is not immediately captured and appreciated by untrained eyes we withhold our sympathy; if the genius speaks above our understanding we leave his company and seek a more-frequented highway: thus we part company with men of great vision and they walk alone in their loneliness.

Christians are no exceptions in their loneliness. Because of the general lack of understanding of the nature of the Kingdom of God and the bounden duty of Churchmen, those who adhere strictly to the will of God as taught by the Church often find themselves suffering the pangs of loneliness of the lack of sympathy of their fellowmen. Churchmen find themselves alone in the midst of the press of the crowd. This is the loneliness of Christ.

Our Lord spoke of His loneliness when, it is said, He told His Disciples: "Ye shall be scattered every man to his own, and shall leave me alone." Then, it is said, he added, "I am not alone, because the Father is with me." If He could not have both human friendship and experience the presence of God, He always had the latter. And so does every Churchman who is in sympathy with the lonely Jesus. No follower of Christ who is lonely for legitimate reasons can fail to feel the dignity of association into which His loneliness has brought him.

Employers should encourage young employees to return to school. The youth of the nation is not expendable and children need a chance to prepare for greater usefullness.

Churches of Christ, Scientist

Immortality, found through understanding that man is the reflection of God, Spirit, will be death with at a Christian Science services next Sunday. The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "MORTALS AND IMMORTALS."

The Apostle Paul's statement from Romans (8:13) constitutes the Golden Text: "If ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if we through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live."

The following from Psalms (118:14,17) is among the Bible passages: "The Lord is my strength and song, and is become my salvation . . . I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord."

Correlative readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Matter, sin, and mortality lose all supposed consciousness or claim to life or existence, as mortals lay off a false sense of life, substance, and intelligence. But the spiritual, eternal man is not touched by these phases of mortality" (p. 518).

FLORIDA BIG PRODUCER OF PULPWOOD

The South produced 60 percent of the total 1950 U.S. production of pulpwood and Florida was the third largest producer from the 12 southern states, State Forester C. H. Coulter, announced today.

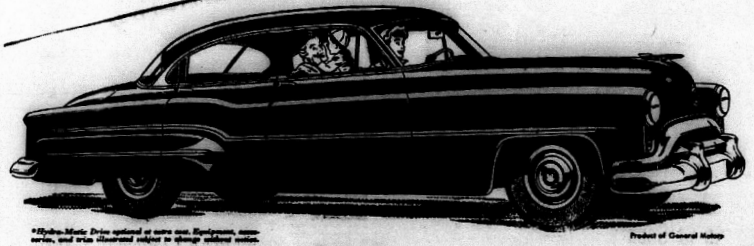

The 1950 cut was an all-time record, according to the forest service, with a total of 12½ million cords being cut in the South. Over 1,300,000 cords were cut in Florida alone but Georgia's harvest of 2,200,000 cords made that state the South's leading producer.

At the present time, 61 pulpmills are in operation in the South, eight of these located in Florida. These mills, producing about 22,800 tons of pulp per day, account for half of the nation's total pulping capacity.

In Florida, a new mill is now being constructed at Eastport near Jacksonville by the St. Regis Paper Company and the St. Joe Paper Company plans to double the capacity of its present mill at Port St. Joe. At the same time, the Buckeye Cotton Oil Company is planning to build a new mill in the Perry area.

VETERANS INFORMATION

By Melvin T. Dixon

All veterans of the United States armed forces, disabled in military service any where in the world after June 27, 1950, are now eligible for vocational training on the same basis as World War II veterans, under Public Law 176, 82nd Congress, signed October 11, 1951.

Previously, the rehabilitation training had been limited to Korean veterans who needed it and whose service-connected disabilities had resulted from armed conflict or extra-hazardous service outside of combat - under Public Law 894, 82nd Congress.

This limitation, in effect, barred hundreds of veterans — disabled while serving in the United States or in non-combat zones elsewhere — from the Federally sponsored training program. Those entitled, in the past, were mainly veterans injured or disabled in Korea itself.

Public Law 176, which amends Public Law 894, 82nd Congress, lifts the bar by eliminating the "armed conflict" and "extra-hazardous" requirements.

This amendment extends vocation rehabilitation under Public Law 16, 78th Congress, to those veterans disabled in any part of the world after fighting started in Korea, needed to overcome the handicaps of a disability incurred or aggravated by such service "for which compensation is payable. The discharge must have been under other-than-dishonorable conditions.

The fact that vocational rehabilitation was previously afforded under PL 16, or that education and training was afforded under PL 346, additional vocational rehabilitation may be provided under PL 176 to the extent necessary.

Any veteran who was not a citizen of the United States at the time of his service, may be afforded vocational rehabilitation only while a resident of a State, Territory, or possession of the United States or of the District of Columbia.

This benefit may be applied for within nine years after the termination date of the Korean conflict.

Let's Eat More Florida Oysters

The housewife's best assurance of clean, healthy oysters is the certification number on the original container, the Florida State Board of Health said today.

Certification numbers are assigned to oyster producers who comply with state regulations regarding harvesting and handling oysters from the beds in which they grow to final delivery to the consumer.

"In spite of state laws designed to assure a safe, clean product," says George W. Gehres, shellfish sanitarian with the state health agency's Bureau of Sanitary Engineering, "we still have a few illegal operators who are 'bootlegging' shellfish. This 'bootleg' product is potentially dangerous, for such shellfish are generally taken from beds in which pollution exists. Some types of pollution can produce serious illnesses.

"The housewife who patronizes a reputable dealer and who looks for the certification number on the original can or container can have assurance that she is buying safe seafood."

A certification number is necessary for interstate shipment of shellfish, Gehres added.

Florida oysters, properly packed, compare favorably in appearance and satisfaction with oysters anywhere available, Gehres said.

Oysters are harvested in Florida from October through April, the period of greatest activity being from December through March. Canning operations are centered at Apalachicola, Carrabelle, Eastpoint and Panacea on the Apalachicola Bay. Health workers in these areas and the State Board of Health work in a joint program to assure Florida's oysters are safe to eat.

30,000 ACRES OF SUGAR CANE

A luxuriant crop of sugar cane covering 30,000 acres of glades mucklands awaits the opening of the harvest season, Harry T. Vaughn, vice president and general manager of the United States Sugar Corporation, announced this week.

"Every agricultural operation is dependent upon weather conditions," said Mr. Vaughn, "but since we are reaching the end of hurrican season with no damage, we feel we have only an early freeze to fear in our prediction of a record harvest.

Is The Lord's Church Composed Of All Denominations?

DENOMINATIONS ARE HUMAN ORGANIZATIONS EXISTING WITHOUT DIVINE APPROVAL, WHICH YET CLAIM TO BE DOING CHRIST'S WORK. Hear Jesus: Matt. 7:21-23; 15:7-9, 12-14.

A. Denominations cause Divisions, which divisions are wrong.
1. They cause unbelief. Jno. 17:21.
2. Christ prayed for unity. Jno. 17:20, 21.
3. Paul condemned Divisions. 1 Cor. 1:10.
4. Bible teaches there is one body. Eph. 4:4; 1 Cor. 12:13, 20.
5. One faith or gospel (system of teaching and belief). Gal. 1:6-8; Eph. 4:4; Jude 3.

B. Denominations Approve and Encourage Religious Division.
1. Teach (and approve) many opposing, contradictory Human ways by which man may appropriate to himself the Salvation in Christ. (e.g., Justification by faith only is expounded in the Methodist Discipline, 1944 Ed., Art. IX, paragraph 69. See Baptist Manual under same heading for a similar statement, then compare Jas. 2:24; Acts 5:32; Heb. 5:8, 9; Mk. 16:16, etc.
2. Denominationalism thanks God for Division in Prayer and Song. Jno. 17:20, 21.
3. Denominations apparently ignore the Bible Teaching on the one church with unity of doctrine. Matt. 16:18; Acts 20:28; Eph. 2:14-16; 1 Cor. 1:10; 1 Tim. 3:15; 1 Pet. 4:11; Eph. 4:1-6; 5:23; Col. 1:18.

C. Hence, Denominations are not the Lord's church or any part of it. Matt. 7:21-23; 15:7-9, 12-14.
(We invite everyone to hear this subject discussed and to ask questions. Time: November 18, 7:30 P.M. Place: CHURCH OF CHRIST, Forest and Walnut in Avon Park. Minister and Speaker: Paul E. Tustin. Phone 57-M for conference.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

If you have been thinking of buying the high cost of liquor by purchasing a purveyor of moonshine, take my advice brother, don't do it.

According to reports received from officials of the Internal Revenue Industries and the U.S. Treasury Department, the Federal Tax that must be paid on liquor legally distilled within the United States has risen and a number of states have also stricken out their health services and increased the tax levied on liquor. Starting with 20 per cent of the alcohol in this product, the Federal Government has increased the tax to 70 per cent of the alcohol. Add to this the tax levied by the State of Tennessee, which is 10 per cent, and the Federal Tax Unit in Knoxville, Tennessee in an effort to prevent loss of revenue.

Records reports that an additional 5 cents is added to the price of every pint. Since most of the alcohol in the illegal product was isopropyl that a two-dollar word meaning rubbing alcohol. This chemical is a petroleum derivative that is deadly poison.

In spite of this warning, however, 40 people have died in two Georgia communities alone in the past 10 days. The two afflicted communities were Atlanta and Americus. It is feared other batches of poisoned liquor may turn up in other southern communities and that is why officials are making every possible effort to warn the public.

It is hard to understand how anyone, for the sake of a few dollars, would deliberately make a poison brew and sell it to unsuspecting victims, particularly when the product will kill their customers. They probably figure that the world is so overrun with saps that there will be plenty left for all the brew they can produce, be it poison or otherwise.

According to all reports, the distilling of illegal liquor is on the increase, in Florida as well as other states.

Questioned conserning the cause of the increased consumption of moonshine, Admiral Whiting stated that is is quite evident that excessive taxation placed on distilled spirits is the chief cause.

"We of the distilled spirits industry have fought for reasonable taxes on our product ever since the repeal of prohibition laws. We have never objected to a reasonable tax, but congress has taxed our product to the point where people of low incomes are unable to pay the price asked for legally distilled liquor and they turn to moonshine which is tax-free and offered at such a low price that they cannot resist it. Not only are they cheating the government out of revenue but they are risking death or serious injury to themselves.

"At the present time," the Admiral continued, "a $3.75 bottle of blended whiskey selling in the average state carries a combined federal and state tax burden of $2.10 or more than half of the selling price.

"On top of this an additional tax of $7.50 per 100 proof gallon was placed on legally manufactured whiskey November 1. This has caused the already exorbitant price to be increased from 40c to 50c a fifth."

This additional tax on distilled beverages gives the illegal distiller or moonshiner that much more encouragement. His risk is no greater but his chance for sale and profit is that much more enhanced.

Prohibition proved that it was impossible to legislate morals or prevent drinking. The well-to-do found no difficulty in securing all the good liquor they wanted while those in the lower income brackets satisfied their thirst by patronizing the moonshiner and racketeer.

It is doubtful that the current increased tax will bring much more revenue to the government. It is more apt to bring about a sharp increase in illegal manufacture and a flood of untaxed liquor of questionable quality, some of which like that reported in Georgia will endanger the life and health of those who drink it.

While another 50c a fifth won't bother the cocktail trade or Country Club folks, it will hit those in the low income bracket and they are the ones who will patronize the moonshiner and risk their lives in their effort to "keep up with the Jones'."

LEST WE FORGET

Another Armistice Day has come and gone and in our city—not even a bugle was blown or a small prayer made at our monument. This is a sad neglect on the part of our City — have we forgotten that "poppys grow in Flanders fields" on the graves of our honored dead — this is no time to forget.

Eyre-Fitzgerald Vows Exchanged

The Rev. J. M. Burcham of St. Petersburg officiated at the beautiful candlelight ceremony at the First Pilgrim Church on Thursday evening, November 8, at 7:30, which united in marriage Miss Jean Eyre of Alexandria, Louisiana, and the Rev. O. Ray Fitzgerald of Avon Park.

The bride was attractive in a white satin gown, very full-skirted, the fitted bodice having a scalloped lace yoke and tiny Peter Pan collar. She carried a white Bible, the gift of the groom, topped with a corsage of red roses.

The bride's only attendant, Mrs. J. M. Burcham, wore a blue satin gown, with a white carnation corsage.

The groom was attended by Robert Stanoff.

Little Miss Wanda Singletary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Singletary of Avon Park, was the flower girl. She wore a long pale blue frock and carried a white flower basket.

Master Robert Singletary, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Singletary of Avon Park, carried the white satin pillow for the bride.

James Singletary and Lee Gurganus were ushers.

The traditional wedding marches were played by Mrs. John Layne of Lakeland. Jack Ward sang, "I Love You Truly," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Singletary.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ninah Mae Eyre of Alexandria, La. She attended the Frankfort Pilgrim College Academy, Frankfort, Indiana, and is a graduate of the Dry Prong High School, Dry Prong, La., and of Spencer Business College, Baton Rouge, La.

The Moose Lodge thanks everyone who helped.

THAT TIRED FEELING

The state of being tired is experienced by almost everyone at some time or other in his life — a natural feeling at the end of a hard working day, but one that is supplanted with new energy after a refreshing sleep.

The fatigue that is always present is another problem. This is the fatigue brought about by a long period of overwork, or late hours with little rest, or meals that do not provide the fuel necessary to maintain the machinery of the body.

The maximum of production cannot be obtained from long hours of overwork. Efficiency is lessened to the degree that a worker comes to his job as tired as he left it the night before. The fatigue resulting from overwork, either mental of physical, is responsible for the saying "too tired to eat". The body needs fuel, it needs to replenish its stock of energy with energy-producing foods and this can be done by means of a well balanced diet. Sugar is needed to combat fatigue. When the blood sugar is depleted, many cases of fatigue and tiredness occur, even to the point of collapse.

Many conditions stem from fatigue. Again fatigue may stem from various diseases, infections, improper hygiene, too much mental effort and inadequate nutrition. Many accidents can be charged to fatigue.

In general, rest is the best treatment for most types of fatigue.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Do you know the neighbor who lives in your block? Do you ever take time out for a bit of talk? Do you know his troubles, his heartaches, his cares; the battle he's fighting, the burdens he bears? Do you bid him "good morning" and "how do you do," or shrug up as if he was nothing to you?

We rush on so fast in these strenuous days, we're apt to find fault when it's better to praise. We judge a man's worth by the make of his car; we're anxious to find out what his politics are. But somehow it seldom gets under his hide, the fact that the fellow we're living beside is a fellow like us, with a hankering, too, for the grip of the hand and a "how do you do!" Just stop with your neighbor and visit a while.

Report C of C Meeting Held Thursday, Nov. 15th

The Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, at their regular meeting of November 15, were pleased with the response of those business and professional men who have been contacted in the annual membership drive of the Chamber. At the time of the meeting, the membership drive was but two days in effect and those directors and other members who had taken names for solicitation all reported favorable responses from those contacted. It was felt that a continued active campaign will insure the Chamber sufficient funds to operate efficiently during the year 1952.

The Board was advised that the Chamber had been closely following the matter of planning and construction of the Alcoholics Hospital authorized by the last State Legislature. In this connection it was brought out that Senator Moore and Miss Edna Pearce had volunteered and were rendering every assistance in the endeavor being made to secure an early meeting with the Governor and the State Budget Commission for the purpose of insuring an early allotment of funds for preparation of detailed plans with a view to actual construction. It is noted that the Governor has about completed his speaking tour of the State and it is hoped that an appointment with the Governor and the Budget Commission will be had in the near future.

Report was also made to the Board on recent efforts of the Chamber to secure greater active utilization of the Avon Park Bombing Range. A committee of the Chamber conferred with Senator Holland at Bartow during the past week and reviewed the situation in detail. However, due to the limited strength of the Air Force as compared with its strength in World War II, it is a fact that the requirements of the Air Force for active bases is much less and the expansion of bases is being carefully considered in relation to present and prospective needs. While the Chamber cannot feel too optimistic as to future of the Bombing Range, recent developments lend some hope for a further increase in activity. In any event the many members and friends of the Chamber may be assured that the Board of Directors will continue to give this matter their full attention and energy.

Mrs. Anderson, the Executive Secretary, reports an unusually large number of inquiries from possible visitors and home seekers. All such inquiries receive immediate attention and a courteous and informative reply. Also, Mrs. Anderson reports many visitors to the Chamber, most of whom are from out of State, seeking information about the city; its businesses and advantages. The courteous attention given these visitors and correspondents does much to further the good name and reputation of the community.

However, the 2-cent card is being placed on sale early to accommodate advertisers and others who desire to obtain them in quantity to be printed up for mailing early in 1952.

FROSTPROOF-HAINES CITY HIGHWAY WORK BEGUN

Work has started on one of the last gaps in federal highway between West Frostproof and Haines City. The contract was let to H. E. Wolfe Construction Co., of St. Augustine, on the low bid of $804,660.18. State Highway Board of Engineers estimated the cost at between $750,000 and $800,000.

This new link in Fedaral Highway 27 is one of the remaining stretches to be completed in the Michigan-to-Miami thoroughfare which is expected to do much to increase traffic through Central Florida.

More than 20 families of men working on the construction will be located in Frostproof during the two years the strip will be under construction.

These are the Symbols of Thanksgiving

These are the symbols of Thanksgiving. These are the symbols of America on her mighty, ceaseless quest for greatness and for freedom.

Bible . . . Turkey . . . Axe . . . and Gun. They were well-known to the Pilgrim Fathers. For the Bible led them to this strange and lonely land . . . as the Word of God and the need for the freedom to worship Him were to lead other thousands in their own time to help build a great nation: Roger Williams to Rhode Island, the Quakers to Pennsylvania, the Catholics to Maryland, the Wesleyans to Georgia, the Jews to Newport and Charleston, the Mormons to Utah.

The wild turkey's forbidding countenance and incredibly tender flesh seemed from the start to symbolize the country they found; a country whose stern and forbidding forests, tumbled mountains and endless plains hid richness unsuspected.

For it was a country that beckoned the brave and laughed at the weak . . . a land that placed great premium on courage and skill . . . a wilderness waiting to be reclaimed only by strength and by steel. By the axe and the plow and the steel rail; the locomotive, the tractor, the machine.

And always with the American went the gun. For as the silent wilderness had concealed the threat of a savage and serpent, so the uncovering of its wealth bred new dangers and the need for defense against them: the tyrant in a hundred guises who sought to make the rewards of other men's labor his own. And so the right to keep and bear arms became fundamental to the American. The steel of his tools and of his weapons alike have always reflected the bright metal of his own spirit.

These are the symbols of the day we celebrate; of the peculiarly American holiday we call Thanksgiving. These are the symbols of American freedom. Of its inspiration and its attainment; of its rich reward and its price. These are our hallmarks, the tokens of our creed and destiny, the things we stand for: Faith in God. Zeal and achievement. The pot of gold at rainbow's end. Abiding love of country.

The Bible. The Axe. The Turkey. And the Gun.

CARE Saved Korean War Orphans' Lives

Each CARE food package subscribed by Americans kept five Korean orphans alive for seven days, during the tragic weeks before the second occupation of Seoul by Communist forces last winter.

That illustration of what CARE packages can mean to war victims is cited by the General Federation of Women's Clubs in appealing for public support of the Thanksgiving-season "Care-for-Korea" Campaign now being conducted by its affiliated Women's Clubs throughout the United States, and sponsored here by the Junior Woman's Club.

In all, 3500 children in 34 Seoul orphanages were sustained by the CARE food distributed during the first wartime delivery of CARE packages in Korea last December, according to a UN relief offical who handled the deliveries. From a stockpile of 3000 CARE food packages, distribution to the orphanages was made on a weekly basis of one package for every five children.

"Those CARE packages not only saved the children's lives then, but kept them from dying during the evacuation," the UN representative later reported to CARE officials," for each group of children was issued CARE packages before they started the journey from Seoul."

Contributions to the General Federation of Women's Clubs campaign are being used to provide Korean orphans, refugees and other civilian war victims with CARE food, clothing textiles and blankets.

Delivery of the gifts will be made in time for the Christmas holiday. In this city, donations in any amount can be put in coin boxes.

HUNTING SEASON OPENED TUESDAY

Hunting season opened November 20. Last year there were over 50 people killed with firearms and hundreds injured.

Hunters, remember that the farmer is an early riser - don't mistake one for game.

Always carry your gun barrel down with safety on. Never carry a loaded gun in your car. "Keep firearms out of the reach of children," is the advice of Asher Frank, director of the Florida Safety Council.

GOLF TOURNAMENT

The Women's Golfing Association of the Avon Park Country Club held its regular morning tournament and covered-dish luncheon, followed by business meeting, on Tuesday. Mrs. Edna Cox won blind bogie in the tournament.

Hostesses were Mildred Head, Ruby Bass and Martha Wester.

There will be no meetings during the month of December, although the Tuesday morning golf tournaments will continue. After December, meetings will be at members's homes instead of at Pine Crest Lakes.

Mrs. Mannin Kirkland, Mrs. Roy E. Seims, and Mrs. J. C. Barrow represented the Junior Woman's Club at the meeting of District 9 of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, held at Winter Haven, Monday, November 12.

Christmas Party at Fish and Game Club

The Highlands County Fish and Game Association will give a Christmas party for Avon Park and Sebring again this year. The party will be at the Fish and Game Club on Thursday, December 6, with a barbecued chicken dinner served at 6:30 P.M. There will be carols, a Christmas tree, movies, and fun for the children.

The event, in addition to celebrating Christmas, is in memoriam for deceased members and those serving in the Armed Forces.

Speakers will be Dr. E. F. Carwithen, the Rev. Frederick W. Widmer, and the Rev. H. B. Heisey, all of Sebring, and the Rev. Herbert D. Graetz of Avon Park.

John C. Hershey will be master of ceremonies. Miss Edna Mixsell, president of the Sebring Garden Club will be in charge of music. Chairman of the entertainment committee is T. C. Thomas.

William Dutton of Sebring and Avon Park will furnish the loud speaker for the carols; Jack Stephenson of Sebring and Avon Park will provide the lights for the tree.

Tickets for adults are $1.25; for children, 60c.

DR. COLEMAN TO SPEAK TO STUDY GROUP SUNDAY

The study sessions on "The Family, a Christian's Concern", being held at the First Methodist Church in Wesley Hall each Sunday evening at 6:30 P.M., was postponed last Sunday because of the cold weather and the building's ineffective heating system.

Mrs. T. H. Maxwell, chairman of this study series, states that the building will be warm this Sunday evening and invites all those interested to come. Dr. H. W. Coleman will talk on the subject, "Emotional Maturity."

Mrs. Eunice Carter will be the speaker the following Sunday.

THANKSGIVING DAY COMMUNITY SERVICE

A Thanksgiving community service was held Thursday morning, November 22, 9:30 A.M., in the Florida Avenue Baptist Church.

This was a city-wide service, and was sponsored by the various churches.

Supreme Court Rules Sauls Mayor; Sparks, Kirkland Councilmen

The Florida Supreme Court on Tuesday ruled today that the election stand as the city canvassing board had determined it on January 15th, when the then council, sitting as a canvassing board declared Wiley Sauls, Jr., mayor, and J. B. Sparks and M. Kirkland councilmen.

From what one hears on the streets of this city, it is thought that the majority of the people are satisfied with the ruling of the court and hope that the matter will be dropped, and the new council be able to get down to transacting the business of the City without the threat of further contest as to the legality of the September 11th election hanging over them.

The city canvassing board had thrown out all votes cast in a special polling place for Negroes on grounds of irregularities.

A special voting place was set up for the 1951 municipal election where qualified Negro voters of the city could cast their ballots. The inspectors and clerk were Negro voters and had exclusive supervision and management of the municipal election in the precinct.

The Avon Park City Council met Sept. 15 as the election canvassing board and determined there was insufficient evidence introduced to determine fraud and material irregularities in the Negro polling place, which would change the result of the election. The council then certified the election of Sauls as mayor and of Kirkland, Sparks, Lenny Rush, Mark Smith and W. Clifford Thomas as councilmen.

But on Sept. 25, the city council again met and on the basis of new complaint ruled "there has been a grave irregularity . . . sufficiently serious to change the entire results . . . and that it is impossible to ascertain the number of valid and invalid votes" cast in the Negro precinct.

This new complaint was that the inspector and clerks illegally aided many of the Negro voters in marking their ballots.

The council then declared all ballots cast in the Negro polling place illegal and void and declared Wilkes, Gough, and Wolff elected city councilmen along with Rush, Smith and Thomas.

Judge Register ordered the Avon Park City Council to set aside its resolution of Sept. 25, declaring Wilkes, Gough and Wolff elected and to restore the resolution of Sept. 15 declaring Sauls elected mayor and Kirkland and Sparks elected councilmen.

In upholding Judge Register, the supreme court said the duty of the canvassing board was to "ascertain the number of votes cast for each person for each office voted for, then compute the figures from the several returns and certify the aggregate votes and publicly declare the result of the election.

"The canvassing board has no judicial authority."

The supreme court said the canvassing board "was without authority to judge the legality or validity of the returns" cast in the Negro polling place.

Prizes For Home Christmas Lighting

A series of outdoor Christmas scenes in town is always a pretty sight, and a reminder of the joy this season should bring to us.

The annual outdoor Christmas lighting and decoration contest for private homes is intended to stimulate our residents into producing this picture of Yuletide cheer.

This year, each entrant will receive either a camphor or bohenia seedling tree, this premium being given to encourage many entries. You should register your entry at the Chamber of Commerce. If your name is not on the registration list, you will not receive your seedling.

Awards will be given for the best entries in three groups: 1, window decorations; 2, door decoration; and 3, lawn decoration. Flowers plants as well as ribbons will be given as prizes this year.

The outdoor lighting and decoration contest is sponsored by the Garden Club of Avon Park, with the civic committees of the two circles in charge. Founders' Circle chairman is Mrs. Dan M. Ellis; Hibiscus Circle, Mrs. Charles O. Locke III.

Library Fund Drive Still Rolls Along

If you have not yet contributed to the new public library building fund, our suggestion is that you send your donation in now to the Chamber of Commerce office. Let your gift to our city's new library be a portion of your Thanksgiving offering for whatever gifts the past year may have brought you.

The total sum collected is now $5,268.50. Additional donors who have contributed to this total are.

The Fourth Estate

Many hear the expression "The Fourth Estate." Most ask, what on earth is the fourth estate? It is a nice thing to know, because it is a thing integral with the bastions of Freedom. It is a bearing wall under Human Dignity and Human Liberty.

On the one hand, it imposes a transcendent duty upon its members, on the other, it provides a constant flow of knowledge upon which neighbors base the judgment by which they guide their common affairs.

Just about 200 years ago, a fiery, young Irish Statesman first used the phrase. He was Edmund Burke. His descriptive language applied to the members of the Press who occupied the gallery in the British Parliament.

His first reference was to the three estates then existing. First the clergy. Second the nobility. Third the common people. By way of establishing that facts must be disseminated to all, he waved his hand toward the Press Gallery and created "the fourth estate" by saying, "Yonder sits the Fourth Estate, more important than all the others." So the term was coined.

Many years later, when this Free Republic had come into being because the Fourth Estate had provided the people the facts upon which to achieve Freedom, a newer connotation was created. This reference was changed to the three estates which are the base of our Republic. First, the Legislature. Second, the Judicial. Third, the Administrative. Then, the Free Press was proclaimed as that "Fourth Estate," which enabled the others to live in Liberty, through knowledge passed along to the people.

Among journalists worthy the name, Fourth Estate defines that sacred thing by which they must be activated. It demands of them news reporting without coloration. Its dictates are clear and inflexible. Having done that reporting, the Fourth Estate thereupon imposes an editorial obligation to speak with vigor and fairness on public affairs. Such speaking, as we see it, should state a position well considered. It should advocate in the public arenas.

This is important not in order to control public thinking but rather to activate it. The reader of editorials should reserve unto himself the right to agree; and the equal right to disagree. Either brings crystalization of the elements to be resolved into public policy. That editor who finds disagreement with what he writes, should thoroughly console himself in the knowledge that truth emergent is none the less vital because he discovered it through error. Millions of truths have so been revealed.

As the Scientist sets up his postulate and pursues it through experimentation, so the editor does with his editorial expressions. That in which he is right is not necessarily more productive than in which he is in error. The focusing of public thought is the prime function of the editorial. The result of public agreement is the closest approach to truth available to the fallible finite mind.

So, that is the Fourth Estate. It is the estate which preserves the other three, by making clear to all, the facts as these appear in the news; then highlighting those facts through proper predicate for mass thinking and decision.

It will be easy to understand what satisfaction we find in learning that John H. Perry has named his new home at Palm Beach, "The Fourth Estate."

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

CHRIST, THE CAUSE OF DIVISION

Robert T. Liner, Pastor
First Baptist Church

John 7:43 — "So there was a division among the people because of Him."

This is the day of great division. To this day the greatest division in all the world is because of Him. (Christ)

1. There was a division among the non-disciples. (In His day)
2. Some admitted none of His claims.
3. Some admitted a portion but denied the rest.
4. Some admitted His claims but neglected to follow.
5. A few became sincere hearers and followed Him all the way.

II. There was a division of the believers from the non-believers. This is a great division even to this present hour. There are differences of opinion regarding Christ because of the lack of knowledge concerning them. Some refuse to have Him which separates some love Christ but unwilling to give pleasures and things of this world and allow themselves to go after these different philosophies.

III. There was a division of the believers themselves.

There was a difference in love, one love, development differing because of the motives of their lives. These difference divide the desires of friends and relatives.

God created man in His image as a rational being with the power of deciding and making choices. Therefore, there are many differences of attitudes and opinions even in the true followers of Christ. Upon one occasion when His disciples saw a group preaching in the name of Christ, they would have stopped them but Christ said, "No, leave them alone for others I have that are not of this fold." It is a tragedy that some narrow minded people think they have a monopoly on Christ. Nowhere in the Bible can one find this attitude in Christ's teaching. Nothing is more widely separated than the sentiments of many real Christians. We sing "How sweet the name of Jesus," and unto this day His own chosen people curse His name and infidels brand Him as an impostor.

Yet, when faith comes, and real love — unity is produced and even nationalities are blended by faith. Calvary hears Babel, bring one language. Jews and Gentiles are made one in Christ, Saints in Heaven are as the waves of the Sea — many but all one sea. Personal ambitions disintegrate and are overcome at the feet of Jesus.

So let us divide if there be a division but let us unite if there be a real union in Christ.

Does your life indicate that you are for Christ and Christianity or would it mislead men and lead them astray? Let us answer this question honestly and then respond to the leading of the Holy Spirit.

FLORIDA WILL PRODUCE OVER A MILLION HOGS

Florida farmers will produce over a million hogs and pigs this year, according to projected estimates of the U.S. Agriculture, constituting and income of about $28 million.

Florida produces about 1 per cent of the nation's total swine crop, which is expected to top 106 million head this year. Hogs bring in 3.5 per cent of the state's total farm income.

The year's huge hog crop is expected to be the nation's second largest on record. Probably an important factor in the current rise in hog production is the use of the antibiotic feed supplements. Reports from farmers in this and other Southern states prove that among herds fed an aureomycin-vitamin B-12 supplement, mortality is decreased, growth is more rapid and less feed is consumed up to sell-off time.

Florida's 1940 hog crop was only 3.3 per cent of the state's total farm income, while the 1930 crop brought 2.9 per cent of the total.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

With Fuller Warren's lease to a mansion in Tallahassee running out in about a year from now, it appears that a lot of prospective tenants are preparing to stampede the landlord for a chance to take over the day that Fuller moves out.

The way things have started out it appears that between now and next May, the landlord will get an ear full and no foolin'.

Dan McCarty of Ft. Pierce, who had hoped to get the lease three years ago, has been making a fuss over the owner of the property and whispering in his ear at every opportunity. Dan's friends, and he has a lot of 'em, have been putting in a good word for him, too.

Up in Tallahassee, former Justice of the Supreme Court Alto Adams has had his eagle eye on the property for some time. Considering the fact that Fuller is giving up the place, and Adams is right on the ground - he has decided to get with the landlord and see if he can't persuade him to make a deal for the next four years. Millard Caldwell, who spent a few years there awhile back, has been telling Alto what a nice comfortable place it is so he is mighty anxious to move in.

While he was serving in the legislature, J. Brailey Odham of Sanford used to walk by the place frequently and it seems that he has also taken a real fancy to it. He is sure that he can convince the landlord that he would make an excellent tenant and is promising to clean the place up and keep it nice and tidy if given the opportunity. He claims he is just itching to do a first-class job of housecleaning.

Bill Hendrix of Tallahassee, head of the Ku Klux Klan, has been sore ever since the present occupant called him and his fellows a bunch of "jerks." Bill would like nothing better than to move in himself and burn a nice big cross on the front lawn. He admits, however, that he isn't on very good terms with the landlord and doubts if he would be given much consideration.

Down Kissimmee way a chap named Dale E. Spencer thinks it would be nice living in Tallahassee and announced not long ago that he would be in their pitching in an effort to take over the lease. He says he would make a lot of changes but all of them would be for the better and of genuine benefit to the landlord.

A Tampan named Bruce Stevens has also started ringing the owner's doorbell and is telling what an excellent tenant he would make.

At St. Petersburg friends of Henry S. Baynard have been trying to get him to make an appeal for the place. They think Henry would prove a most desirable tenant and advised him that if he didn't have the rent money they would scout around and help him dig it up. They figure they could have a lot of fun and throw some swell parties there if Hank Baynard was in possession of the key. But Baynard knows his way around and after giving the proposition a lot of careful consideration he finally decided that life in St. Petersburg would be a lot pleasanter than in Tallahassee, so he says he is going to pass up the idea.

When the matter of the lease was up for consideration three years ago, the boys interested in it at that time sure did entertain the landlord in bang up style. No one actually knows how much was spent on entertainment but it ran into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

While the boys may have to keep track of their expenditures a little closer this time and some of them may find their style a bit cramped, there are always ways and means and you can rest assured that the landlord will be well taken care of and entertained royally.

Of course after one of them wins out and the new lease is signed, sealed and delivered nobody pays much attention to the landlord for the next few years, but from all indications he is in for a high old time from now until election rolls around.

If you haven't gotten a ringside seat you better be getting one for this promises to be a knock-down, drag-out melee if there ever was one. Brailey Odham has already come in swinging and when you get 'em all in the ring sluggin' and slappin' you can look for some bloody noses and some gorgeous black eyes.

Keep your campfire small and in an open space away from brush. This will help prevent woods fires.

* * * *

It's forest fire prevention time and you can be the star of the show by helping prevent wild fires.

* * * *

Only 4,598 acres of Florida's forests would have burned last year if you and your neighbor had been careful. As it was, 481,029 acres burned.

Winter Guest Club News

An "Old Friends" group numbering around thirty gathered at the lovely new home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simcox on North Lake Avenue last Friday evening to celebrate uniquely the recent marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warwick.

It was to them an honest-to-goodness surprise and the group made the most of it by songs, laughter, hand clapping and hand clasping. It seems that the women in this particular group really can keep a secret. The sumptuous and delectable buffet dinner that followed all the hilarity left nothing to be desired except a few rounds of the ever popular canasta.

Towards the end of the dining hour Mrs. Bob Maxson made her way through the assembled throng to the table of the bride and groom bearing in her arms a number of beautifully and appropriately wrapped packages. Bertha knew just what to say and how to say it as she presented these packages to the happy pair. When the brilliant wrappings were removed, the two were overwhelmingly pleased to find just what they wanted and needed in the way of a combination waffle-iron and sandwich toaster and also an attractive and useful pantry set.

This friendship group comprised the Simcoxes, as host and hostess, the newly-wedded Warwicks, the McClarens, the Richmonds, the Maxsons, the Glenns, the Wymans, the Rulisons, the Oppys, the Kelleys, the Bovards, the Andersons, the Martins, Alta Robinson, Arthur Pickell, Mary Reed, Lena Keene, Amelia Dick, Louie Divoll, and Jessie Harper.

These friendly folk, as they are nearing the autumn of life, choose "The Roads of Happiness" for living.

"The roads of happiness are not
The selfish roads of pleasure seeking,
Where cheeks are flushed with haste and hot
And none has time for kindly speaking.
The roads of happiness are lined,
Not with the friends of royal splendor,
But with the loyal friends and kind
That do the gentle deeds and tender."

Bob and Virginia Warwick will be glad to welcome their friends at their home on Highland Lakes Boulevard.

The Veterans Administration plans to pay another National Service Life Insurance dividend next year. About half of the 1951 "special" dividend has been paid . . . this year's "special" dividend covers the period from 1948 to 1951 and will be the last "special" dividend, as dividends will be regular and paid annually from now on.

Q. Under National Service Life Insurance, what is the difference between an "expired" policy and a "lapsed" policy?

A. An "expired" policy is one on which time of coverage as stated in the original policy has run out - a "lapsed" policy is one on which premium payments have not been paid on time.

FPC Dedicates New Plant at Oldsmar

"The state of Florida must continue to make a healthy financial climate for northern investment capital if it is to keep pace with the rapid growth now evident on every side", said Senator Spessard L. Holland in his speech dedicating the Higgins plant of the Florida Power Corporation last week. "Industry is on the move southward and Florida is very properly taking its place among the fastest-growing states in the nation and all of us must work to make our great state attractive to industry and business expansion," he declared.

Talking to three Pinellas county civic, political and business leaders, Senator Holland told the group that Florida Power has always been able to serve the fast-growing needs of the 31-county area and like all privately owned utilities in the state, they were cooperating with government agencies that rural Florida was getting power for farm and grove.

The latest power plant in the vast Florida Power system was dedicated and named after A. W. Higgins, who for twenty years served as president of the utility and just recently retired at the age of 70. Located in Pinellas County near Oldsmar, the plant with an initial capacity of 45,000 kilowatts is already part of the company's huge integrated system and helps serve this area. The eventual capacity will be 135,000 kilowatts when completed in 1953 and at that time will be the largest plant in the company's system of five major and six smaller power plants which are all inter-connected by a high voltage transmission system.

W. C. Gilman, president of the utility, served as master of ceremonies for the plant tour and dedication program. He paid high tribute to Higgins and all the employees of the company for their spirit of service to which they have always devoted themselves.

W. J. Clapp, executive vice president of Florida Power, was general chairman of the day and presented Chester B. McMullen representative in Congress from the first district who told how proud he was of the power company building this plant in Pinellas, his home county.

After the dedication, luncheon was served and a tour of the plant was taken by all guests.

for the AMERICAN Way of Life

Thanksgiving makes us think of roast turkey, cranberry sauce, football games, and family gatherings. It's a holiday that has become so typically American that we have forgotten the hardships and the fortitude of the Pilgrims and the real reason for setting aside a day of Thanksgiving.

Primarily, our Pilgrim forefathers came to America to worship God "each according to the dictates of his own conscience" and to escape religious persecution. Woven into our American way of life, the freedom of worship is one of our "inalienable rights" which cannot be destroyed under our democratic form of government.

Founded on religious faith, our republic's standard of living and its production under the free enterprise system is the best in the world.

Be thankful you're an American.

Fire Prevention and Civil Defense Go Hand in Hand

Fire prevention is an important part of civil defense. If an enemy attacks this country, his bombs, whether they be atomic, high explosive, or incendiary, will cause more damage by fire than they will by blast. Hence, anything done to make it hard for fires to start is a step towards preparing your community to protect itself if war comes.

The majority of all fires start in trashpiles, rubbish, or stored odds and ends that accumulate around the house. Closets, attics, and cellars are the main source of home fires, and plain ordinary good housekeeping is a strong line of defense against them.

Clean out your storage places. You will be surprised at how many burnable odds and ends are really useless to you. Don't let them make your home a fire hazard. Get rid of them. If local welfare agencies can't use them, call the junk man.

Don't stop when you've cleared out the inside of your house. Go after rubbish in your back yard, in alleys and in vacant lots near your home. Collect the rubbish and burn it. Don't leave it around to burn if an enemy bombs your city. Be sure to burn rubbish in metal containers.

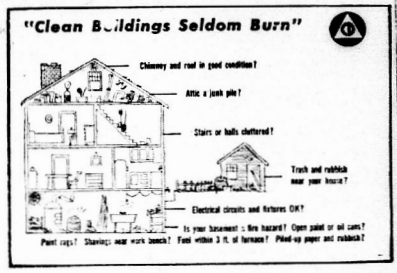

Take a look at your electrical system. Buy new plugs and cords if yours are worn. Get advice from an electrician if your fuses blow frequently. They may be dangerously overloaded. His advice may prevent a bad fire.

Every winter costly fires are started by faulty furnaces, stoves, and other heating plants. Some result from too much soot in chimneys. Others are caused by rusted or cracked pipes and fittings. Look over your heating system now. If your chimney needs it, clean it out. If the furnace pipes and connections are cracked and rusted, replace them.

Teach your family not to put magazines, papers, or clothing on radiators or near open flames. Don't hang flimsy curtains near your kitchen stove. Don't allow lamp shades to come in contact with light bulbs. Remember that such things don't have to touch flame to burn. They will catch fire simply because they are too close to the heat for too long.

Gasoline, benzine, naptha, and similar fluids should never be used indoors. When mixed with air, their vapors can be ignited by the spark of a light switch or an electric fan, or the tiny flame of a pilot light. Keep such fluids in tightly closed metal containers outside your home.

And remember: oil-soaked rags, especially rags that have been used to spread quick-drying liquids such as turpentine, paint thinners, and some furniture polishes, can catch fire by themselves. Oily rags shoud be stored in air-tight metal containers. It is best to keep them outside the house.

Mr. Dohany attended his brother as best man.

Mrs. Dohany was graduated from Avon Park High School and from Virginia Intermont College, in Bristol, Va., where she was active in dramatics. She attended Florida Southern College, majoring in elementary education.

Churches of Christ, Scientist

Man's spiritual individuality and his oneness with God, Soul, will be brought out in next Sunday's sermon in all Christian Science churches when the subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "SOUL AND BODY."

The Golden Text is from I Corinthians (3:16): "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

Passages from the Bible include the following from II Corinthians (5:8): "We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and present with the Lord."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Rightly understood instead of possessing a sentient material form, man has a sensationless body; and God, the Soul of man and of all existence, being perpetual in His own individuality, harmony, and immortality, imparts and perpetuates these qualities in man,—through Mind, not matter" (p. 280).

News Of Our Service People

Pfc. Leslie LaFlam, who was reported ill in the hospital in Stuttgart, Germany, has now recovered and returned to active duty. Pfc. LaFlam, with the Army of Occupation, in a letter to his mother, dated November 19, wrote the following interesting paragraph about the Stuttgart hospital:

"Mother, at the hospital here there is a system of underground tunnels that were built by the German army for the Storm Troopers, Hitler's old gang, and although it's about five blocks from here to the PX, or the show, we can take the tunnel and go there without even setting foot on the sand. The tunnel is about 37 miles long . . . One thing, that tunnel goes all over the place here; there are 17 different buildings that I can go to in that tunnel without ever going out in the weather. That's sure something."

Sgt. and Mrs. James T. Landress, Diane and Gene, arrived here Tuesday night from Camp Stewart, Ga., to spend the Thanksgiving holiday with the Sgt. and Mrs. Landress' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Uel Henderson of Wauchula and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Landress, Sr., and friends. They will return Sunday.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Attorney General Richard W. Ervin has ruled that the Haley legislative committee may accept private donations to finance its investigations. James A. Haley of Sarasota, legislator and member of the special committee, said he was willing to accept "clean money" and would smoke out every office holder connected with illegal practices. This ruling followed failure of the attorney general to get a second to his cabinet motion that $20,000 in emergency funds be given the committee. Cabinet members took the view that no "emergency" existed. Spearhead of the move to get private funds for the Haley committee is Rep. William C. Cramer, Pinellas county Republican leader, and Robert H. Hoore, Fort Lauderdale newspaper publisher.

Lawyers of Florida are balloting this week on their choices for supreme court justices, in the event the people in 1952 decide to expand the court from seven to 10 justices. Ballots were sent to 4,600 lawyers in the Florida Bar through their Florida Law Journal. Governor Warren has told spokesmen for the Bar that he will give consideration to the recommendations of the Bar. When the most recent vacancy occurred, in the resignation of Alto Adams, the board of governors of the Florida Bar submitted a list of recommended names to the governor and he selected John E. Mathews of Jacksonville for the position. Ballots on the choices for the possible vacancies will be received and checked here, and submitted by the Bar to the governor.

A call for greater imagination in administering state parks was sounded by Miles Collier, president of the Collier Corporation, in an address prepared for the annual convention of the American Institute of Park Executives.

With greater leisure, he said, those who run the nation's parks must open up "far horizons" in providing opportunities for the people. But, he emphasized, this is a field in which the people can pretty well determine for themselves what they want and like to do with their leisure. He warned that some schools of thought are leaning toward a federal director of recreation, which he condemned.

Rate revisions have been granted Western Union in its Florida operations to match those recently granted by the federal communications commission in interstate messages. The new Florida rates approved by the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission allow 15 words instead of 10 for straight telegrams and 50 words on a night letter instead of 25. Increases were allowed after Western Union showed it had lost money in Florida for the past 18 months. New rates allowed the Railway Express Agency and effective this week permit the addition of 20 cents on each shipment within Florida except carload lots, milk, cream and similar products, newspapers and corpses.

Regulations On Hunting Alligators

Tallahassee — Alligators, one of Florida's prime tourist attractions, will not be wiped out by the Oct. 29 ruling of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission declaring a restricted open season on specimens over 8 feet in length. O. Earle Frye, assistant director, stated today.

Fry stated that many sportsmen and newspaper writers have protested the ruling, but said that such protests evidently stemmed from a lack of knowledge about the new statewide regulations and the characteristics of alligators, themselves.

To clarify the regulations, Frye brought out the following points:

1. All alligators are protected at all times in the vast Everglades region lying south of State Highway No. 80 and west of State Highway No. 7.

2. Hunters must obtain permits from the Game Commission to hunt alligators, even during the specified open season. No alligators may be legally taken at any time without such a permit.

4. It will be illegal to possess, sell or transport any alligator, crocodile or similar animal, or its hide, except during the open season.

3. It will be illegal to molest, possess, sell, buy or transport nests, eggs, or specimens of alligators under eight feet in length at any time or place in the state.

10th Convention Florida Farm Bureau Well Attended

ORLANDO (special) — Fifty-one county Farm Bureaus were represented here last week-end when the Florida Farm Bureau wound up its business for 1951. Voting delegates and leaders from all sections of the state attended the 10th state convention of the big agricultural organization.

Site of the 1952 convention was not chosen. The Convention decided to allow its board of directors to make the selection at its January meeting.

A highlight of the meeting was the first open-house and inspection of the organization's new $50,000 state building, located in adjoining Winter Park. The structure was completed earlier this year and has been in full operation since last summer. A quarter-mile police-escorted motorcade took the visiting members from their convention hotel in Orlando to the building six miles away. The Orange County Farm Bureau acted as hosts during the open-house.

The members applauded their national president Allan Kline, who flew down from Chicago to address them. He warned farmers about the socialistic trend in Washington and urged a continued fight against it by the Farm Bureau both on the national, state and county levels.

Paul Thornhill, of Dundee, was officially presented the 1951 Farm Bureau Winn & Lovett $1,000 college scholarship. He is enrolled at the University of Florida in Gainesville.

County Farm Bureau members who attended the state Convention here included:

E. H. Finlayson, Greenville seed grower, is the new president of the Florida Farm Bureau. He was elected by the organization's new board of directors, following the state convention in Orlando.

Lacy Thomas, Groveland, is vice-president; Mrs. Annie Sue Davis, Madison, secretary; Al Whitmore, Winter Park, treasurer; were chosen to serve with Mr. Finlayson. John Ford, Orlando executive vice-president was re-elected.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole Danley, I. S. Hall of Lake Placid, Fla., T. H. Maxwell of Avon Park, Fla., P. C. Payne, of Sebring, Fla., and Mrs. H. C. Goodnow of Sebring.

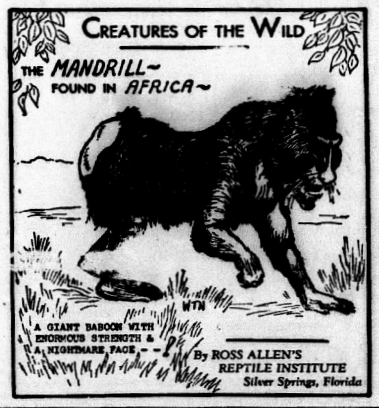

Soil Conservation News

By Sam Polston
Soil Conservationist

The rains are keeping pasture improvement going, among the ones still planting improved pasture grasses are W. C. Touchton, Earl Hartt, Redwine Company.

Several acres of clovers have been planted in the Highlands Soil Conservation District in recent weeks by its Cooperators, among the ones planting are Dr. J. M. Gilbert, O'Neal & Boney, Robert Stokes, Lloyd Zarn, C. R. Disher, Walter Mandis, John Payne, and Lykes Bros. The Louisana White Dutch Clover taking the lead; other kinds planted were Hubam (sweet clover) and Lidano, which is just a giant variety of white dutch, Reynolds & Smith, and D. C. Kelley are introducing a new grass - a legum mixture into the Highlands Soil Conservation District that of Kentucky "31" Fescue, and white dutch clover mixture planted on well limed organic soil. This combination has proven to be very good especially for winter in the Zellwood muck area near Orlando. Neither of these plants are killed by frost and do a lot toward filling in that critical gap where winter grazing is a problem. Another new winter plant is being used in the Highlands Soil Conservation District is the new southland oat, the Mandis Stock Farm of Avon Park is planting several acres on heavy soil for temporary winter grazing. This is a new type of oat that was developed recently by the University of Florida Experiment station which is resistant to crown rust and other diseases that have tended to keep other varieties of oats out of south Florida. Mr. Mandis also took advantage of his heavy growth of Pangola grass in the summer and bailed it for hay. He says he believes he will have an excess, so if anyone else have got caught short on winter feed see Mr. Mandis.

Youth Center Faces Crisis: No Chaperones

The Avon Park Youth Center is facing permanent closure today because of a lack of cooperation on the part of the very people it means the most to — the parents. Director Clayton Fields reports that the Youth Association committee has had practically no success in getting parents to chaperone at the Youth Center on Friday and Saturday nights. He is issuing a special plea to all the parents of teen-age youth, as well as to any interested citizens, that they sign up to donate at least one night of their time this year to this worthwhile community project. The work is easy and the need is great.

Call Mrs. W. W. Wingfield or send word by your child and volunteer for your night.

Registered at the Chamber of Commerce this week are; Minnie Lee Chase, Ray E. Chase and Margaret T. Chase of Westminister, Maryland; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Krenrick of Milwaukee, Wisc.; Denton J. Shiltz, Bowerton, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Roberts, Townsend, Deleware; Dr. and Mrs. John Laughlin, Bedford, Indiana; Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Ackerman, Nedericktown, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Eden, Bangor, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer George, Coe, Ohio; Mrs. Matt L. Divoll, Bellow Falls, Vt.

Co-Developer of Highland Lakes Dies In Maryland

Louis Eisele, 67, who helped develop the Highland Lakes section here during the 1920's, died of a heart attack in Prince Georges General Hospital, Prince Georges County, Maryland, the first part of this month. Mr. Eisele is reported to have built the home fronting Lake Lillian now owned by Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Loomis.

At the time of his death, Mr. Eisele lived in Kent Village, near Hyattsville and Bethesda, Prince Georges County, Md. He was president and co-owner, with his brother, Clifford M. Eisele, and a third partner, of the Prince Georges Golf and Country Club. Mr. Eisele went to Maryland in 1930, being in the general banking and brokerage business in Washington from 1930 to 1941, at which time he became associated with the country club.

A native of Malcolm, Iowa, and a graduate of Grinnell College, Iowa, Mr. Eisele worked as a bank cashier in his home town. He and his brother then set up an insurance company in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, during which period both men were active in the development of Lake Lanier in Tryon, N.C., and the Highland Lakes section here.

Besides his brother, he is survived by his mother, Mrs. Clara Eisele, and his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Eisele, both of Kent Village; a son, Arthur Eisele, Hollywood, Calif., three daughters, Mrs. Gloria McQuillin, Ridgewood, N.J.; Mrs. Betty Jane Riner, Fayetteville, N.C., and Mrs. Virginia Duane, Los Angeles.

Funeral services and burial were at Fort Lincoln Cemetery.

In the Health Line

The line forms on the right for a chest X-ray when a mobile unit such as this comes to town. This unit, purchased with Christmas Seal funds, is used in the search for hidden tuberculosis. Case finding is one of the tuberculosis control activities of the tuberculosis associations which, throughout the country, are conducting the 45th annual Christmas Seal Sale from Nov. 19 to Christmas to raise funds to support their work.

Christmas Seal Sale Brings In $602.75 First Week

Christmas Seal returns during the first week of the annual seal sale conducted by the Highlands County Tuberculosis and Health Association totaled $602.75 according to Mrs. Ted Ward, campaign chairman for Avon Park.

The sale opened on Monday, November 19th with the mail delivery of seals to residents throughout the county and will continue until Christmas. Proceeds will be used to finance the tuberculosis control program of the local association.

"The first week's returns are certainly gratifying and represents 22 percent of our 1951 goal of $2750.00, said Mrs. Ward. "Our quota is considerably higher than the amount raised last year but our expanding county-wide program necessitates the increase."

Numerous contributions received from purchases of books in values of from $5.00 to $25.00 have helped to swell the total. Last week the association publicly thanked through the columns of the Sun donors of these special gifts. Additional names of those we thus wish to thank are as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Earl T. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCorkle, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hauptmann, Charlie Gedwin's Market, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Burkett, Mrs. H. E. Boorom, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Redwine, Lake Byrd Citrus Packing Co., Presbyterian Women of the Church.

Rotary News

Mrs. G. Franklin Ward, a former employee of the Tennessee Valley Authority was guest speaker at the Avon Park Rotary Club Wednesday. Mrs. Ward, with her knowledge of the TVA along with a large wall map showing the various dams and territory covered by this huge government project, held the attention of all present to a very interesting subject.

Visiting Rotarians present were, Vaughn Driggers, former president of Avon Park Rotary, and now a resident of Wauchula; Elgin Bayless, Sebring; Ralph E. Kirkpatrick, Butler, Pa. Rotarian Art Kinney had as his guest, Elwood Heitsman of Wooster, Ohio and Avon Park.

C of C Needs More Rental Listings

Do you have a house, apartment, or room for rent? If so, contact Mrs. Parke Anderson at the Chamber of Commerce.

Winter vistors are flooding the Chamber of Commerce office with inquiries concerning accomadations in Avon Park, and Mrs. Anderson is trying to comply with their requests. The listings in the office have been practically exhausted.

Avon Park has unlimited possibilities, and it is the desire of the Chamber of Commerce to display its charms before the countless numbers of winter visitors who stop each day to ask questions.

This listing of rentals is a free service to the people of the community, as the local real estate brokers are not interested in such business.

Visitors today may be our home owners and tax payers tomorrow, and are necessary to make a bigger and better Avon Park.

Woman's Club To Present Program of Christmas Music

A special program of Christmas music will be presented at the meeting of the Woman's Club on Friday afternoon, December 7, at 3:00 o'clock. The meeting will be held at the Union Congregational Church, located on the corner of Church Street and Forest Avenue.

A cordial invitation to attend is extended to all women of the community, including winter visitors, and others.

Mrs. J. Paul Garber, director of the Congregational Chancel Choir, will be in charge of the program.

Don't forget to bring the articles of clothing or canned foods for the Christmas box to be sent to the Children's Home in Jacksonville, is the reminder for members who have not made their contribution. This meeting will be the last before the box is shipped.

The Christmas gift box for the Jacksonville orphanage is sent by the club each year. In addition, the club will, as in the past, furnish baskets of food for the annual Christmas gifts to the needy of our city. These baskets are to be pooled with those given by the churches and other civic organizations, and the toys purchased by the Avon Park Firemen, all to be distributed by the community's Christmas Welfare Committee.

The executive board will meet the Wednesday preceding the meeting, December 5, at 3:00 P.M., at the home of the president, Mrs. Samuel O. Norris, 17 E. Church.

FLYING VISIT PAID BY LONG-AGO RESIDENT

The Avon Park Sun received a visit from one of its former newsboys Wednesday afternoon when Wallace Bless, now of Richmon, Va., dropped in to see if any of his old haunts still looked familiar after 25 years of absence. He and Mrs. Bless were making a motor trip through this section.

Mr. Bless, with his parents and four other children, lived in Avon Park during 1925 and 1926. He attended elementary school here, and remembers that Roscoe Bass was one of his classmates.

While he was a schoolboy here, Mr. Bless sold copies of the Sun. Mr. Freeman was editor then, and H. D. Brooks circulation manager. The paper sold for a nickel, just as it does now — the newsboys receiving the whopping percentage of half or 2½c for each paper sold — but there were a lot more issues, for those were the good old boom days, and the Sun was a daily.

Unfortunately, most of the names Mr. Bless remembered are now missing from our roster of citizens, and have never been heard of by such Johnny-comelatelys as our present staff. But we hope Mr. Bless will visit us again to get to know us better as we are now.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION

The ladies of the Walker Memorial Church wish to express their gratitude and appreciation for the response that made their recent bake sale a success. These fnuds will be used to help needy families in this and surrounding areas.

If you and your neighbor cooperates, 97 percent of Florida's wildfires can be stopped.

City Council Held Long Session Monday Night

Game Lost But Show Was Excellent

Avon Park's Red Devils were beaten 24-0 in the annual Thanksgiving and end-of-the season football bout with Sebring's Blue Streaks on Wednesday, November 21. In spite of the severe penalties imposed on Sebring during the first half, Avon Park never threatened.

Caleb Cowart, playing his last game for Sebring, made three touchdowns. Elton Stivender accounted for the other TD.

This was a homecoming game for both towns. Sponsors for Avon Park were June Quintier, Nancy Harris, Charles Marshall and David Maddox. Sebring sponsors were Eunice Adams, Kelsey Payne, Janet Brown and Henry O'Neal.

The Avon Park and Sebring bands, playing together, presented a halftime show spectacular enough to take the minds of the Avon Park audience off their troubles.

The combined bands marched onto the field to the strains of "Men of Wisconsin", swinging into the "Marvel" as they formed letters spelling HELLO. They countermarched to the end of the field. The field was then darkened, with colored floodlights revealing an enormous pumpkin on a platform in the middle of the field. The bands played "Shine on Harvest Moon" while the majorettes danced around the pumpkin. Jack Ward sang the chorus.

The bands then played the dreamy "Alice Blue Gown", as Gloria Sheffield, dressed in a long blue gown, came out of the pumpkin to dance on the platform. She was joined by another majorette, Beverly Williams, in band uniform, who danced the role of the boy.

When the lights came on the bands were in formation to march off the field. Bill Morrow, Sebring drum major, led both bands in the marching.

The show was the result of arduous joint practicing by the two bands. The participants and Mr. Gorman and Mr. Gustadt, band directors for Avon Park and Sebring, should receive applause for the success of a show such as is seldom seen at high school games.

Plans For Christmas Cheer Baskets: General Meeting This Sunday P.M.

The Outlook For Food Prices

The following article was prepared by Clarence King of the City Market Frog Store.

In answer to many inquiries from our citizens as to what I think food prices will do in the near future, I offer the following opinions which naturally might of necessity be changed in a week or two. However, here is how it looks from what reports I receive from the buyers of our Frog organization, manufacturers' representatives and several Trade Journals.

Fresh pork for the next few months should show about a 20 percent decline because of a seasonable supply, the largest in history. However the average trend for most foods should be slightly upward. Sharper advance will develop particularly if temperatures continue subnormal in the northern markets. Low temperatures have already killed a lot of the fresh vegetables which normally would have reached markets, and must retard the sales of canned goods. Increased consumption due to larger pay checks in the factories and larger exports will be the sustaining influence to keep prices up and offer opportunity for narrow advances.

Most merchandise now being stored in warehouses by the processors and growers have been placed there by the use of high labor costs. Scarcity of labor in and out of season, necessitated paying of maximum wages, which naturally is reflected in the price of the commodity. The sugar market seems to be stabilized. However, pressure from some of the Cuban markets may advance or reduce sugar prices at any time.

Lard and vegetable oils will be under pressure. We seem to have sufficient stocks to hold pressure down unless record exports are arranged.

Rice surplusses will be quite fully exported. Domestic demands for rice will be heavily increased by low income families using this commodity for substitutes for higher priced items. Rice is now showing a strong market.

On apple products processors are paying $2.00 per hundred pounds more for apples as of this week, which will reflect in all the canned products very shortly. This same picture is true on most canned fruits and vegetables.

Because of the foresight of the buyers of our Frog organization we should not have to advance many prices for several months. However, some we will.

In summary, about 90 percent of the commodities in the food lines are being sold under OPS ceilings — anything could happen.

Preparations for the annual distributions of Christmas boxes in Avon Park and vicinity, these boxes to contain gifts of food, clothing, and toys as needed by the recipients, are now being made. All organizations and individuals who will help in this splendid way of spreading Christmas cheer throughout the community are asked to be ready to cooperate promptly.

The Ministerial Association called a meeting of the Children's Committee at the educational building of the First Methodist Chnrch on Tuesday night for the purpose of establishing a coordinating plan for the distribution. It was asked that each of our churches be represented by a minister or a layman. At this meeting, C. Lester Armstrong was chosen chairman for this year.

Mr. Armstrong announces there will be a general meeting for all persons interested in this worthy project on Sunday afternoon, December 9, at 2:30, in the Methodist educational building.

He also states that all organizations which contributed last year will again be asked to contribute to the Children's Committee fund. Contributions should be given to A. B. Wilhite, secretary-treasurer.

The deadline for receiving names to be placed on the Christmas gift list is December 15, to allow time for checking and coordination. All organizations are asked to send their lists to A. B. Wilhite, at the high school office, by that date.

Also, any person who knows of individuals needing a Christmas contribution, is asked to advise Mr. Wilhite at the Avon Park High School.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING

Our Christmas lights are on again. Shining up and down the Mall, and draped on the flag pole in the shape of a gigantic Christmas tree, they give our city a Yuletide appearance. And remind us that it is time to begin the keeping of Christmas, with all its mingling of sacred rejoicing and secular mirth derived from antique and pagan festivals.

The lights went up for Thanksgiving Day, to remind us that one holiday follows fast on the heels of another. Christmas is the 25th day from this date — 20 shopping days between now and it. The postmaster is begging us to mail our packages and cards—well, he seems to have wanted them the day before yesterday—and oh, goodness!—where is that Christmas card list we stuck somewhere last winter?

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

You probably never thought of yourself as being one of Joe Stalin's little helpers. If anybody accused you of being one, you probably would kick his teeth out.

Like a lot of other folks, you are inclined to believe that anyone saying anything to aid and comfort Stalin must necessarily be a Communist.

Unfortunately, such is not the case. Thousands and thousands of folks like you and me are unknowingly and unintentionally helping the cause of the Kremlin.

A lot of us have been thinking so much about "Heartbreak Ridge" in Korea and not enough about "Heartbreak Ridge" here at home.

You don't have to worry about the one in Korea. Our fighting men will take care of that. It is the one here at home we should be concerned about.

Stalin isn't very much concerned about Korea. He doesn't care how many Chinamen are killed or whether the line is north or south of the 38th parallel. Korea is just one little pawn in his international chess game.

He is concerned with the United States and what is happening here. One corrupt politician, crooked contractor, dishonest public official or radical labor leader means more to Joe than a thousand dead Chinamen.

But more helpful to him than any of these is the indifferent, selfish, apathetic average citizen. The millions of men and women who are not concerned, who are willing to sit back and see their country ravaged by petty politicians and pressure groups.

The smug individuals who are content to ignore the destructive forces that are gnawing at the nation's vitals and sapping its wealth and its strength. The growing tendency toward dishonesty and corruption in high places, appalling waste and extravagance, a general lowering of public morale and the placing of personal gain or advantage above that of the national welfare.

Men of little minds and lesser ability have been permitted to elevate themselves to positions of great power through the indifference of those who have failed to vote or who have cast their ballots in the interest of selfish aims.

Disregarding the welfare of the nation as a whole, the ambitious, self-seeking politicians have learned that the easiest way to gain and retain power is to cater to a few minority groups that, through organization, have been able to swing elections and force their will on an apathetic majority who must eventually pay for it in tax and tribute sufficient to meet the selfish demands of these power minorities.

The health of a nation is not advanced when the sovereign votes of the people are bought either from the individual on the street corner or the pressure group by legislative action.

America's "Heartbreak Ridge" today is Capitol Hill where the intended government "of the people, by the people and for the people" designed by our forefathers is bestirred by minority groups and blocks, each demanding its pound of flesh without regard for the welfare of the national body.

The farmer must have his subsidies, what matter if crops rot in the fields, surplus is dumped into the ocean and foodstuffs are cut back. Labor must retain its gains and obtain higher and higher wages or coal will not be mined, trains will not run or ships be unloaded. Veterans and senior citizens must have their pensions and security and a board of business men must strengthen their hold on the national economy, bleeding the public treasury white in the advancement of socialistic schemes that history reveals have wrecked every nation so foolish as to adopt them.

Strong, forthright, courageous leadership is the nation's greatest need today. Such leadership can only come from alert, aroused and militant people who are willing to sacrifice selfish interests, insist on a sound economy and unite to defend and maintain our Constitution and American way of life.

The hour is later than you think, the danger greater than you realize. Your thought, your voice and your vote are weapons at your command that can be effectively employed in the service of the nation. Use them to strengthen and safeguard America.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Tallahassee — Plans were going to wait here to test in Florida courts the 1951 election laws which some newsmen feel violate the constitutional rights of the citizen to "speak his piece" about a candidate for public office. Officers of the Florida Press Association here studying the directive from the association asking that a suit for declaratory judgment be filed at the earliest possible moment to get court interpretation of puzzling features of the new law, lifted almost bodily from New Jersey statutes which for more than 20 years have existed on New Jersey lawbooks without a test case. The Florida Press Association may be joined by other agencies asking clarification of the law.

Tallahassee — First candidate for governor actually to qualify by putting $600 on the line is Bradley Odham of Sanford. He paid this amount to Secretary of State R. A. Gray as a qualification fee. The money was in one dollar bills, collected, he said, from home folks.

Tallahassee — The issue of state money for the Haley legislative committee has been given a final burial by the state cabinet. After Comptroller C. M. Gay said he would not issue a state warrant (check) for any Haley investigating committee funds unless the supreme court okayed it, the cabinet had waited on the opinion previously requested by Governor Warren. The opinion arrived this week, said the state had no authority to spend money for such purposes. Still unanswered is the question of whether the committee itself has any power when the legislature is not in session.

Tallahassee — Ted Smiley has resigned as public relations director for the state beverage department, after paying $2,148.10 to the state comptroller to settle disputed expense account items. Smiley said he had no plans for the future and the department said it would not get another public relations director. Smiley paid the amount "under protest" and declined to go into details on who else may have been involved in the expense statements under question.

Tallahassee — One major issue for next spring's primaries began to take shape here as Alto Adams, candidate for governor, labeled the proposed East Coast Turnpike a "pig in a poke" proposal and stated his opposition to it. The turnpike, patterned after other through toll roads in the United States, has been advocated by State Road Department Chairman Alfred A. McKethan, who has ordered studies made to determine its feasibility. Many small communities along the East Coast have started to oppose it, because through traffic would be routed on the outskirts of some and miles from others.

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

GOD'S REST AND CHRISTIAN'S REST

The Rev. M. L. H. McMullen,
Retired Methodist Pastor

Please read Hebrews 4:1 to 11 verses inclusive.

I have been looking at these verses prophetically.

They are of interest to every child of God, but they are so seldom rightly interpreted, or understood as referring to a future rest of God's children.

Too often these days of rest are referred to as the Jewish sabbath, or to the Christian's Lord's Day, which we observe on Sunday.

It is neither of these days. The first day of rest reaches back to that period of time when God had finished the creation of the earth in the six days, and rested on the seventh. To us it matters not if a day was a thousand years, or just 24 hours, it could be either. But at least God rested on the seventh day, which is referred to in these verses.

But this new Day of Rest as spoken of reaches forward to a new dispensation.

It is yet future, when the Holy Spirit leads the writer of Hebrews to speak of that day of rest which we enter into, not by works, but by faith, and that faith must be in the blessed name of Jesus.

Let us review the picture. God worked six days and took a seventh day to rest. Then Satan wrecked God's plans by bringing sin into the world through Adam and Eve. Again God had to enter into the labors of ruling and reigning over this old world, to preserve for Himself a "peculiar people", the Jews, who would have a major part in a new dispensation, called the millenium, on this earth, and at the same time, send His son into the world to give His life as an example and a letter — a complete sacrifice, through which as many as would believe on His son, Jesus Christ, by and through faith should someday become the Bride of Christ, and live with Him in heavenly places, prepared by our Lord; and then we have the complete picture of His own Old Testament Jewish people, at rest here on earth, at peace with the rest of the world, and the church — the Bride of Christ, at rest in Glory.

It is plain to see as we read these verses that the writer fears that many will come short of this Christian rest.

That too many are in unbelief, or clinging to a false belief, that because they live good moral lives, or have joined some church or organization that they are perfectly safe for the future. Many will be lost because they have not had the oil of the Holy Spirit in their lives.

We must also remember that God gives a whole list of sins in Revelation that will hinder folks from entering Heaven, unless sins are forgiven and wrongs made right, and restitution made where possible.

It is an easy matter to claim membership in an organization, but let us remember that the true church is an organism, something alive and vital. I have no quarrel with any church — but be sure you are a blood-washed, regenerated soul.

The warning then is that we labor therefore to enter into that rest. What a wonderful future lies before us, that the world that then stands, shall enter into that rest on the earth, and we the church, the Bride of Christ, shall enter into that rest in heavenly places, and even God can enter into that time of rest with us, His children.

Now read those eleven verses again with a new meaning, and plan to enter into that rest, of the Christian's rest by faith.

Self-Employed Persons Apply Now For Social Security

Self-employed persons should apply now for their social security account number, according to W. E. Arnold, manager of the Lakeland social security field office. Although self-employed persons are not required to report their 1951 earnings until they file their income tax returns early in 1952, Arnold said that every self-employed person who does not have a social security account-number card, should apply for one now to be certain he has the account number when the tax report is made. Applications for account numbers can be obtained from the local post office, or by contacting the Lakeland social security office, located at 807 Marble Arcade Building.

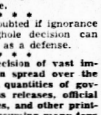

Most owners or partners in a trade or business who have net earnings of $400 or more a year are required by the new social security law to pay in full the tax of 2¼% of their net earnings, up to the first $3,600 earned in the year, at the time the combined income tax and social security tax form is filed. This coverage of the self-employed is not voluntary, Arnold emphasized. Participation is required by the law, unless net earnings from self-employment are less than $400 a year, or if the income is derived from the ownership or operation of a farm or from certain professions excluded by the law; such as physicians, lawyers, dentists, professional engineers, public accountants, and some others.

A new booklet entitled "Do You Work For Yourself" which gives a complete explanation of the new social security law applying to the self-employed can be had at no cost by writing to, or calling at, the Lakeland Social Security office.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

With a stroke of genius, the Office of Price Administration has now embarked on establishing a dollar and cents ceiling price on holes. So far, no price ceiling has been established on doughnut holes, but it is presumed that progress will be made in this direction as soon as the bureau hires more high priced personnel.

C. W. Harder

* * * *

But the ceiling price on a bunghole has now been officially established by Ceiling Price Regulation No. 36 at 10 cents. Thus, anyone who makes barrels, now knows that he can only charge 10 cents for each bunghole.

And it is doubted if ignorance on this bunghole decision can ever be used as a defense.

* * * *

For this decision of vast import has been spread over the land by vast quantities of government press releases, official printed matter, and entered matter consuming many tons of precious and scarce paper so all would know the nation's official position on bungholes.

Of course, the public is confused over just what prices the Office of Price Control is controlling.

* * * *

The only squeeze of any consequence has been felt by millions of small retailers who have been forced to consume billions of man hours trying to obey edicts issued them.

* * * *

For sheer waste of tax money OPS operations amaze Washingtonians. For example, industry meeting was just held on price ceilings for the electroplating industry.

Present were six industry spokesmen. In addition, fifteen high priced OPS executives were present. No definite decisions were reached.

However, OPS sometimes makes definite decisions, and they too, are widely published at government expenditure of more tons of scarce paper. An example of positive action is General Overriding Regulation No. 5.

No shilly-shally indecision is found in this forthright edict which exempts from price ceilings butterfly wings, incense burners, bird cages, spinning wheels, and hand painted used bottles. In connection with the last item, a decision is awaited on hand painted new bottles.

* * * *

Trivia such as this may cause Congress to either knock out all price controls or else approach the subject from an entirely different slant.

Many Congressmen are feeling that Big Labor, Big Business, and Big Bureaucrats have formed an unholy alliance to break through the anti-inflation line at will.

For example, the railroad labor wage increase of $100 million per year was immediately followed by ICC permitting railroads to increase rates an estimated $500 million per year.

Milk deliverymen struck one day for higher wages. Strike mediators were immediately handed an OPS order permitting a milk price increase, so the wage boost was granted.

Do not be surprised if curious Congressmen investigate cases such as this for evidences of criminal conspiracy.

Winter Guest Club News

On Thanksgiving Day sixty-one members from fifteen states met to enjoy together a bountiful and delicious dinner at the Avon Park Cafe. At the request of Mr. Oppey, Club President, Rev. Cummings offered grace. How many of us paused to think that no where in the world except in the good old U.S.A. could a similar group meet in such a carefree way?

Mrs. Harper and Mrs. Dick had charge of the arrangements and must have spent hours in decorating and perfecting the setting to make it attractive for us.

In the evening of Thanksgiving Day a large crowd met at the Club House for dancing. Mr. Krenerick of Wisconsin, a newcomer to Avon Park, furnished Victrola music for both round and square dancing. Mr. Krenerick was very helpful in his instructions to those who were not familiar with the square dances.

Mrs. Sylvia Book has been named entertainment chairman for the season by Mr. Oppey. Activities have already begun to hum and we can look forward to a busy and pleasant winter.

This Saturday evening, November 24th, at 5:30 a potluck supper will be held in the club house. If each lady will bring one dish large enough for her family and one extra, there will be plenty for all. The unattached gentlemen may help with a little cash to pay for coffee and the fixings. The arrangements for this supper are cared for by Mrs. Rulison and Mrs. Wyman.

Sunday afternoon at 2:30 a songfest will be held in the club house under the able leadership of Rev. Cummings. Many of us know how enjoyable these meetings are.

Each day brings new arrivals to Avon Park, Those who have been here before are greeted with joy by their friends. Those who come for the first time are glad of a warm handclasp and a word of welcome. May none fail to make the newcomer feel at home.

Fall Meeting FPA Well Attended

The Florida Press Association, closing its 63rd annual meeting last week at Lakeland, reelected Eugene Matthews, of Starke, president. Matthews is publisher of the Bradford County Telegraph.

Another feature of the Sunday session was an address by Ralph W. Keller, manager of the Minnesota Editorial Association, who discussed the problem of press associations. The Honorable R. A. Gray, Florida's secretary of state, appeared on the program Saturday and gave the newspaper executives an insight into the problems they may expect to arise in connection with the new election law restricting the spending of money for political advertising.

O. C. McDavid, president of the Mississippi Press Association, recounted advantages of his state's annual press-legislative tour as a means of fostering better legislative news relations in another feature of the Saturday session. The presentation of awards for outstanding journalism featured the annual luncheon. A barbecue sponsored by the phosphate interests, a tour of Polk County points of interest and a hospitality tour presented by Publix Markets were also highlights of the three-day meeting.

The following vice presidents, elected earlier, started their term of office following the convention: George L. Burr, Jr., Winter Haven Herald; R. B. Beard, Gainesville Sun; Wallace Findlay, Calhoun County Times, Blountstown; A. E. Harum, Riviera Times, Coral Gables; Fred Fitzgerald, the Observer, Daytona Beach; Wilmont E. Day, Sun-Tattler, Hollywood. Russell Kay, publisher of the Florida Newspaper News and Radio Digest, was reappointed secretary-treasurer.

OUR NATIONAL SONGBIRD

By The Bird Woman

The mockingbird is considered our "national songbird", and it has also been chosen by five southern states as their "state bird" — the school children of Florida selected it as our state bird.

The mockingbird is really an operatic star, and besides having a distinct song of its own, naturalists have counted its mimicking thirty or more species of birds in a ten-minute concert.

The mockingbird belongs to a family of mimics (family mimidae). In this family are also the catbird and thrasher; both species are mimics but not as expert as the mockingbird.

Not only is the mockingbird a mimic, but it loves to clown as it sings, often jumping up in the air with outspread wings, and returning to its perch without loosing a single note. It also enjoys flight songs, as in this way it can display the white patches under its wings.

There are different schools of thought about the mockingbird's ability to mimic; some claim it is born with this ability, others think it is acquired from listening to other birds.

The mockingbird is a permanent resident in whatever area it chooses to enhabit, and can withstand cold weather even in the northern climate, the main requirement being an abundance of food, as wild berries, wild fruit and insects.

The mockingbird can be found from the West Indies, Florida and Mexico, north to Maryland (scarce in Massachusetts), Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, southern Wyoming and central California.

The coloring of the mockingbird is practically the same wherever it is found, yet the ability to mimic is not so pronounced in the western bird as in the southern.

The mockingbird fears no other bird, and at nesting time, it shows its belligerence not only by attacking other birds that stray into its chosen area but will also attack other enemies, such as cats and snakes.

The loggerhead shrike is often confused in appearance with the mockingbird; although its body color is similar, yet it is smaller and does not have as long a tail as the mockingbird. Besides, like some of the human family with the same habits of cruelty, the shrike wears a black mask over its eyes.

Traffic Deaths Soon To Reach 1,000,000

The Florida Highway Patrol is waging a campaign to postpone the accident which will claim the 1,000,000th traffic victim in the United States, and is asking the complete cooperation of motorists and pedestrians.

The person who is supposed to be the millionth person to die as the result of a motor vehicle crash is expected to be involved in an accident sometime during December, according to statistics based on records of the National Safety Council.

As a result of this prediction every traffic agency in the country is waging a campaign to postpone the fatal mishap.

"Unless we have the complete cooperation of the people of this state, the 1,000,000th person to die in a traffic accident will come quicker than we expect," Florida Highway Patrol Director H. N. Kirkman said today. "With the support of Florida citizens, who will be working together with others throughout the nation," Director Kirkman continued, "that fateful moment not only will be postponed, but will not happen this year."

He urged that every traffic rule and regulation be observed by motorists and pedestrians and suggested that the golden rule be practiced on the roads and streets.

Non-resident anglers have a choice of buying two fishing permits for taking Florida fresh-water fish — the yearly license costs $10.50 and the 14-day continuous permit which sells for $3.25.

Do Your Xmas Mailing Early

"First class friends deserve first class mail!" Postmaster D. G. Perry declared today, as the arrival of Christmas cards and gift packages in heavy volume indicated that the Yuletide Season has officially begun.

By way of explanation, the Postmaster said, "Most of the grief is caused each year by hastily scribbled addresses that can't be read or Christmas cards being sent as third class mail which can't be forwarded or returned if the addressee has moved. Loosely wrapped gift packages are other trouble-makers that can be avoided."

To offset these perennial problems, Postmaster Perry recommends that you begin now to correct and bring your address book up-to-date. "And be all means, be continued mail those precious packages and Christmas cards early — next week if possible!"

"Wrap your shipping cartons carefully, with a good cord pulled over and under several times around. Stuff your packages properly to cushion any fragile items they may contain. Use heavy wrapping paper to help insure safe and sound delivery.

"And remember, packages are limited to 70 pounds in weight and must not exceed 100 inches in length and girth combined."

Florida has the opportunity of becoming the wild turkey headquarters of the world because of its bigger and potentially better turkey-raising range than any other state.

VETERANS INFORMATION

By Melvin T. Dixon

The problem of providing hospitalization and out-patient treatment for mental illness and those with mental illness who might qualify for compensation, a new law is expected to be of benefit to the veteran.

The new law, Public Law 293, 82nd Congress, enacted by the last session of Congress, provides that veterans who have psychoses which developed after separation from service may be eligible for the treatment of such psychoses and out-patient treatment as a service connected disease.

To be reviewed are the cases of approximately 9,000 World War II veterans awaiting hospitalization who have psychoses classified as non-service-connected. Those found eligible will be reclassified as service-connected which gives them a priority for hospitalization and makes them eligible for out-patient treatment.

Under the new law, World War II veterans and those with service in the Armed Forces since June 27, 1950, who have developed an active psychosis within two years after separation from service, may file applications for hospitalization or out-patient treatment as service-connected cases. Those now on waiting lists for hospitalization need not file new applications as their cases will be automatically reviewed.

Under this law, these newly entitled veterans will not be entitled to compensation, only to hospitalization and out-patient treatment.

Churches of Christ, Scientist

That mesmeric sorcery which governed by the carnal mind always leads, and that man except the God's protection is press evil, will be the theme of Christian Science services next Sunday. Subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "ANCIENT AND MODERN NECROMANCY, ALIAS MESMERISM AND HYPNOTISM, DENOUNCED."

The Golden Text is from Proverbs: "Do they not err that devise evil? but mercy and truth shall be to them that devise good" (Prov. 14:22).

The theme of spiritual awareness will be emphasized in other selections from the Bible, including the one: "Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?" Rom. 6:16).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "The baneful effect of evil associates is less seen than felt. The inoculation of evil human thoughts ought to be understood and guarded against" (p.449).

The Farmer's Stake in Stabilization

PRICE STABILIZATION PROTECTS YOU AS A SELLER

It is impossible to separate the prosperity of the farmers from the prosperity of the entire Nation. The farmer sells his products to 152 millions of fellow Americans. How much they can buy and what they can afford to pay is important to him. Price stabilization protects this profitable market. If inflation is permitted to undermine the buying power of the United States people, farmers eventually will sell less and earn less.

Inflation forces prices up. Prices of farm products rise along with other prices. But wages and salaries usually rise more slowly than prices. Over a period of time if prices get too high, most people have to buy less of everything. When fewer goods are bought, production must be cut and fewer people have jobs in factories and stores. These unemployed, in turn, must cut down on their buying. As a result of all these actions, farmers in the long run are able to sell less. Since it is hard for them to cut production, soon they have to sell at lower prices as supply of their products exceeds demands.

Inflation can be controlled. It is being controlled. But it is the responsibility of every person in every occupation to join in the battle. Each one of us has a stake in stabilization.

Florida 4-H Winners Go to Chicago

STATE championship honors for 1951 have been won by four 4-H Club members in the Peninsula State for outstanding work in the National Canning, Field Crops, Home Improvement and Poultry programs. Their awards are all-expense trips to the 30th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, November 25-29. Brief outlines of their records follow:

If you haven't the money for a beautiful home, simply substitute ingenuity and hard work, says Marguerette Glass, 20, of Sefner, State Winner in 1951 4-H Home Improvement program. Plasterers estimated that work on walls of Marguerette's home, badly in need of repair, would cost at least $1,000. Undaunted, Marguerette and her mother, Mrs. Emery A. Glass, and sister Juanita, 15, set out to do the job themselves. She bought a heavy grade of decorators' paper and the team covered the walls and ceilings of five rooms. Marguerette also salvaged an old leatherette chair, which she sanded, stained, repaired the springs and reupholstered. She also built a couch from a few two-by-fours, parts of an old innerspring mattress, and down from the ducks on the family farm. Marguerette's entire project cost less than $25. Her Chicago trip was provided by The Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

Applying the latest scientific developments in poultry and egg production to the home flock, and thereby making a major contribution towards the farm economy, Philip Armstrong, 17, from Green Cove Springs was named state winner in the 4-H Poultry Achievement program. In 4-H Club work five years, he has raised nearly 11,000 purebred New Hampshires. He has built newer type houses and learned to keep them and the grounds well cleaned and disinfected. He keeps a constant supply of fresh food, water and green stuff before the birds and gives careful handling to the eggs. Much painstaking work went into his poultry exhibits, 31 of which he has made in the district and 65 in the state.

All of these activities are conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA cooperating.

Donor of Philip's trip was Dearborn Motors.

For making an outstanding record in her food preservation project, Mary Woodruff, 16, of Jay, was named State champion in the 4-H Canning Achievement program. Experimenting with new ideas, she has broadened her knowledge of better homemaking methods through her 4-H art. Home canning also has made it easy to follow the nutrition yardstick and keep the budget low. During five years in club work, she has completed 18 projects in clothing, home improvement, livestock and poultry, among others. Mary planned a food budget to take care of a family of eight for one year. She canned a total of 702 quarts of food by herself, and 325 with help. Mary, a student at Jay High, lives with her parents Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Woodruff on their 400-acre farm. Kerr Glass furnished funds for her trip to Chicago.

Utilizing improved field crop methods has earned state honors for Willie Godwin, 16, of Escambia County, in the 4-H Field Crops Program. Long interested in such effort went into learning good farm practices and expert use of farm machinery, but the greatest per acre production of food, feed and fibre crops has been compensated. Six years in Club work, during which time he competed 40 projects, 34 of them in field crops, have taught Willie that in order to have good livestock you must have good field crops. Willie planted 4½ acres of corn, cotton, peanuts, and sweet potatoes on his father's 80-acre farm this year. International Harvester provided Willie's Chicago trip award.

Christ -- The Cure For Division

Jno. 17:20, 21; I Cor. 1:10

1. CHRIST IS THE CURE FOR DIVISION AMONG "NON-DISCIPLES."
A. He would have all men to believe (Jno. 20:30,31), obey Him (Mk. 16:15, 16), and be saved (1 Tim 2:4).
B. However, man is free to believe or disbelieve (Matt. 23:37; Jno. 5:40).
C. Thus, Christ's teaching divides the world into two camps: believers and unbelievers(Matt. 10:34-39).
D. But only those who believe and obey will be saved (Jno. 8:24; 14:23; 15:10; Luk. 6:46; Matt. 7:21).

2. CHRIST IS THE CURE FOR DIVISION BETWEEN BELIEVERS AND "NON-BELIEVERS."
A. He would make believers out of the "non-believers" thus making them all one, by preaching the Gospel to them (Rom. 10:5-17).
B. The Unity of Believers is one powerful argument for the Deity of Christ (Jno. 17:21)—the very argument that modern denominations have made void with their creeds and divisive doctrines.

3. CHRIST IS THE CURE FOR DIVISION AMONG BELIEVERS.
A. He would have them to be one as He and the Father are one. Jno. 17:20,21.
B. Believers can be united by speaking the same things (1 Cor. 1:10), the Word of Truth (Jno. 17:17; 8:31, 32; and by rejecting the opinions and doctrines of men (Gal. 1:6-10; Col. 2:18-23; Eph. 4:11-16).
C. Preaching and practicing the one faith (Eph. 4:4; Jude 3), they will be one as Christ desired.

We do not align ourselves with some who seemingly would make light of the existing religious division, or seek to place the blame for it on Christ. Those the disciples would have forbade to cast out devils (Mk. 9:38-40; Luk. 9:49, 50) were doing Christ's will — not teaching and working counter to him. Jesus brought the sheep of the other fold and there is now one fold and one shepherd (Jno. 10:16). They were to be made one by "hearing his voice."

It may be "narrow-minded" to preach that only those will be saved who believe and obey (Mk. 16:15, 16; 2 Thess. 1:7-9), and that men should be united who follow Him (1 Cor. 1:10), and that divisions are wrong (1 Cor. 3:1-4), but so the Apostles preached. May God help us to stand united on the teachings of His Word, resisting every divisive effort of the Devil, though it place us among the "few" rather than the many (Matt. 7:13, 14, 21-23).

(Hear this subject discussed at the Avon Park CHURCH OF CHRIST at 7:30 P.M., December 2. Minister and Speaker: Paul E. Tustin — Phone 57-M for conference.)

$16 Million Each Year for Flowers

Florida has blossomed forth as Dixie's top-ranking producer of flowers — a bouquet that is bringing growers more than $16 million annually.

Taking advantage of ideal climate and growing conditions that caused the Spanish to christen it the "Land of Flowers," the state has forged ahead of such sectors as Texas in production of cut flowers, bulbs, ornamentals and nursery stock, says the Florida State Chamber of Commerce.

Specifically, $16,429,000 worth flowers and plants were produced within the State last year, it was revealed in this week's business review by the State Chamber's research and industrial division.

This figure placed Florida in eighth place nationally, overall United States production being $435,781,000. New York led the individual states with $39,656,000.

Florida's leading commercial flowers are gladioli, Easter lillies, ferns, bulbs, camellias, azaleas, palms and other ornamentals, with approximately 12,000 acres planted to these varieties. Additionally, considerable greenhouse space is given over to orchids and rare house plants.

Florida's industry, however, is not confined alone to flowers and ornamentals. There is a growing production in nurseries of citrus and other fruit and nut trees, particularly the tropical varieties.

Although the value of Florida's commercial flower and plant crop has increased three-fold in the past 10 years, the industry still is in its infancy. Growers say the climatic advantage presents a potential which almost is untapped today.

Name Four Florida 4-H Winners

TOP RANKING records in the 1951 National 4-H Farm and Home Safety, Food Preparation and Leadership programs have brought state honors to four Florida club members.

Daisy Brown — Betty Benecke — Johnny Reichel — Jerrie Griggs

The Brown family of Bradenton has had to buy new kitchen equipment and a set of silverware to do full justice to meals prepared by daughter Daisy, 17, state winner in the 4-H Food Preparation program. A 4-H'er for six years, Daisy has completed 23 projects in poultry, clothing and canning, won first prize for exhibiting a complete meal on Achievement Day, and holds three medals for Foods and Nutrition.

Mrs. Brown drives the school bus and works in the lunchroom, and it is a great help to her to have Daisy prepare the suppers. This year Daisy worked in a cafeteria in Connecticut which served three hot meals a day to 100 tobacco workers. As part of her project, she took complete charge of the family cooking for two weeks. Daisy's three sisters and one brother are also 4-H'ers. Her educational trip award to National Club Congress in Chicago, was presented by Kelvinator.

Betty Benecke, 18, of Titusville has demonstrated what vigilant safety practices can mean in a community, and has been named State 4-H Safety champion. Her industry also won for her the General Motors trip award to 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. During the first year of her project Betty put her efforts into correcting common housekeeping hazards, cleaning up the yard and surroundings at the rural fire tank. She won the county safety contest and the following year expanded her project to include the community. By designing posters and writing safety habit that was prominently displayed.

All of these activities are conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA cooperating.

Mystery Photograph Reaches Sun

A newspaper reprint of a picture which has been published in various parts of the country and created something of a sensation was brought to this office recently by Mrs. Sam McKenzie.

It purports to be an actual photograph taken in the sky over Korea, showing an American and and enemy plane. Dominating the foreground is an amazingly perfect image of Christ, apparently formed by clouds.

The clipping we saw was sent from Park City, Montana. The story appearing with the picture states it was published in the Ashland (Ky) Daily Independent, and was represented to that newspaper as having been taken by an air force man from Chicago, who sent it home to be developed. To the surprise of everyone, including the air force man, the image of Christ showed up on the photograph. A neighbor of the man's family then sent a print to his brother in Ashland.

The Florida Advocate of Wauchula printed an item about this picture on November 16, having received a reprint from Union, N.H., with the information that it was first published in the Boston Globe.

The origin of the picture is a mystery, since the names of the air force man, of his family, and the neighbor are unknown.

However the picture is highly interesting. We regret the clipping we have would not reproduce well enough for publication in this paper.

Christmas Seal Sale Totals $1004.50 End of 2nd Week

The 1951 Christmas Seal Sale in Highlands County entered its third week on Monday Dec. 3. Total county receipts for the two weeks total $1004.50 or 40 percent of the quota set, was revealed today in a report by Mrs. Ted Ward, Seal Chairman of Avon Park.

Proceeds from the 1951 Christmas Seal Sale will continue until Christmas and will finance the 1952 program of Highlands County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

With three weeks of Seal Sale remaining Mrs. Ward pointed out, "there is a good chance for the county to reach its desired quota". She urged however that returns be made as soon as possible.

Last year the State Association reported a total of $403,733.15 raised in Florida during the Annual Seal Sale. This was said to be an average of 15c per capita.

However, Highlands County raised but $1650.58 a per capita investment in a good health program, of only 12 cents per capita.

"Surely" said Mrs. Ward, "we do not want to be again classed as below the average as good charitable citizens".

"That is why we have set up our quota to $2750.00, an average of about 20 cents per capita, that we might prove we are above the average, and with the valued assistance of our civic-minded friends, we'll make it".

Sheriff Addresses Rotary Club

Broward Coker, sheriff of Highlands County addressed the Avon Park Rotary Club on Wednesday. Mr. Coker explained the many duties of the office of sheriff, and his talk was greatly enjoyed by all present. The following visiting Rotarians from other towns were present: D. D. Elliott, Millersburg, Ohio; August Vanderpool, Tampa; Cecil J. Shuttleworth, Tallahassee; Milton Cutliff, Raleigh, N.C. and Avon Park: A. V. Benson, Lake Wales; Chas. H. Thompson, Stroudsburg, Pa.; Rondo Sullivan, Frostproof; Jack Stephenson and Allen Intz of Sebring.

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

J. R. Young, Chaplain of Walker Memorial Sanitarium and Hospital, and Pastor of Seventh-day Adventist Church

Most of the people of Bethlehem were asleep on that memorable night nineteen hundred years ago when the Saviour of the world was born. Asleep at the greatest moment in history. Asleep when heaven was so close to earth they could have touched it. Asleep when the Lord of glory had become a babe in their very midst. Deep in slumber, they failed to see that wondrous light glowing behind the inn. Asleep, they did not hear the first faint cries of the Christ child in the manger; nor did they see heaven open and the mountains round about Jerusalem grow radiant with a splendor never seen before on land or sea.

Nor did they see the angels. Only the shepherds saw them - devout and humble shepherds, "keeping watch over their flocks by night." Only upon their eyes burst that marvelous sight when "the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them." Luke 2:9.

How few were there to welcome the Saviour when He came! Could it be that the angels, winging their way earthward to announce the glad tidings, "Unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord," were disappointed to find the whole town slumbering, seemingly indifferent to the greatest event of the ages, careless of the greatest news that ever fell upon human ears?

What if the angels came again tonight, bearing anew a message of the coming of Christ, what would be our attitude? Would they find us spiritually asleep, indifferent and careless, or "waiting and watching for Him"? Should the angels come tonight to your church, your club, your community, bearing the glad tidings, "Jesus is coming again!" what would be the reaction? What would your friends say? What would you say?

The fact is that angels are bearing this very message to all mankind today. That is the picture which the Bible gives us. "I saw another angel," writes the apostle John, "fly in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people, saying with a loud voice, Fear God, and give glory to Him; for the hour of His judgment is come." "And I looked, and behold a white cloud, and upon the cloud One sat like unto the Son of man, having on His Head a golden crown, and in His hand a sharp sickle." Revelation 14:6, 7, 14.

So the angels, who once announced the coming of Jesus as a babe to Bethlehem, are here pictured as heralding His second coming in power and glory to all the world. Though carried by men, it is the word of angels. They are as eager for everyone to hear the tidings of the coming triumph of their Lord as they were for Bethlehem to know He had been born in its midst as a babe and a Saviour.

Some day soon Christ will come again, and "all the holy angels with Him." Matthew 25:31. Will you be "waiting and watching", or asleep?

FIFTY-TWO MILLION MOTOR VEHICLES IN '52

An estimated 52 million motor vehicles will be on U.S. roads at the beginning of 1952. This includes about 43 million automobiles, and nine million trucks and buses. The 52 million registrations represent an increase of six percent over the end of 1950. It is now theoretically possible for every man, woman and child in the United States to go riding at the same time.

"BIRDS IN FLORIDA" IS NOW REALITY

By The Bird Woman

In June of last year we announced in the Sun that we were trying to get a Florida bird book published. The state published such a book during the depression to help give work to the unemployed, and they gave copies to libraries and interested people.

We took up the matter of getting this book republished with Nathan Mayo, Commissioner of the State Agricultural Department at Tallahassee, and the following is a paragraph from his letter:

"This office issued a very elaborate book of Florida birds sometime ago, but I am sorry to say that they are entirely out of print, and we do not contemplate another edition. We distributed 25,000 copies of the book. The cost of a publication of its nature is too exorbitant for additional reprints."

And in another letter he argued that they had over a hundred and thirty-five strictly agricultural publications and to keep them revised and published takes all this fund.

But it's hard for a woman to take no for an answer. And appreciating the dire need for such a book at nominal price, The Bird Woman continued to (shall we say) "nag", and finally, probably in self-defense, we had more encouraging news from Mr. Mayo, as he had found someone who would republish the book, and it was at that stage that we announced our hopes for a new book in the Sun.

So possessing our soul in patience, yet giving an occasional "nudge", and as much encouragement as possible, we crossed our fingers and hoped for the best.

On November 14, we received the welcome news that the book, "Birds in Florida", was printed and available.

It is printed by the Florida Grower press, and if a sufficient number of copies can be sold here, The Bird Woman can present the school library and the public library with free copies.

Copies may be seen or purchased from Mrs. B. M. Davis, 115 E. Pleasant St., phone 242.

TEN COUNTIES CLOSED FOR TAKING ALLIGATORS

Tallahassee — Ten South Florida counties have been completely closed to the taking of alligators at all times under an emergency ruling November 26 by Ben L. McLauchlin, director of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

The action was taken in response to numerous requests from sportsmen and conservationists in the areas involved, McLauchlin stated. Counties closed under the new ruling include: Indian River, St. Lucie, Martin, Palm Beach, Broward, Dade, Monroe, Collier, Lee and Hendry.

The remaining 57 counties, and all of Lake Okeechobee, remain open to the taking of alligators over eight feet in length from October 1 to February 1 under special hunting permits.

Even if you have timber to burn, Florida doesn't.

U.S. Must Build Civil Defense

AIR FORCE CHIEF SAYS ENEMY BOMBERS CAN ATTACK AMERICA

(This is the first of a series of articles on civil defense, based on the booklet "Civil Defense" prepared by the Federal Civil Defense Administration and published by the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C., for ten cents.)

By MILLARD CALDWELL
Federal Civil Defense Administrator

General Hoyt Vandenberg, Chief of Staff of the United States Air Force, has made a startling statement — one which most Americans find hard to believe. He had said that at best we could knock down only 30 out of every 100 enemy planes attacking the United States. That means that at least 70 of them would get through. Despite our traditional attitude that "it can't happen here," we must believe these facts.

This does not mean that our Air Force is ineffective. We have an excellent air force and our anti-aircraft defenses are good. In the last war, the Germans also were well equipped with defense weapons, but they were not able to stop our attacking bombers. On the average, we lost fewer than 10 out of each 100 planes. That gives us something to think about!

We know that everything possible will be done to stop the enemy at our borders, and to prevent sabotage within, but we also can be sure that, in case of war, a good percentage of enemy attacks would be successful in spite of all that we could do. That is why we must have Civil Defense.

The wide oceans which once protected us have given way to global bombers. Today we face more kinds of attack than ever before, and our danger is much greater.

There is only one sure way to keep any enemy from knocking us out of a war. We must know how to save lives and property, restore our cities and industries, and carry on the fight no matter what kind of attacks are hurled against us.

Russia Has Bombers

Russia has hundreds of heavy, long-range bombers patterned after our B-29s which could get through most of our defense setups. We know that Russia has atomic bombs and that their heavy long-range bombers are capable of delivering them anywhere in the United States at any time the Kremlin dictates.

She can wage biological warfare for she has specialized for years in preparing diseases for use against people, plants and animals. A trained secret agents who could spread them.

It is certain that one of the major war gases used during the last and deadly nerve gas developed by German experts who were taken into Russia at the end of the last war.

What is not all we must plan against. In some types of modern warfare fifth columnists could begin work without waiting for a war to start. Saboteurs too, could attack from within and wreck our defenses and war production machine.

Hit Without Warning

All these enemy weapons could hit us without warning.

The outcome of modern war is not necessarily decided by armies in the field. Wars today can be won or lost on the home front. The home front cannot be hidden, and it cannot retreat—not if we are to survive as a free people.

Millions of Americans must be trained in civil defense before this country can be sure it is ready for enemy attack. Meanwhile, that attack might come at any moment.

We have no time to lose in preparing to ward off such an attack. Your home, your job, your family, your own life may be at stake.

Civil defense is the sure way—the only organized way—for survival on the home front.

(The next article will discuss what is civil defense and how it can help.)

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Tallahassee — Anyone expecting a bill to be paid by the state may have to wait until late in January or February. Comptroller C. M. Gay called a halt on payment for anything but salaries, welfare, schools and similar essential services, until the seasonal low point in state collections is past. The 1951 legislature moved the purchase of automobile tags up to January 5, and this means that at least 12 million of early tag money won't come into the state treasury until the first of March. Comptroller Gay indicated, however, that the state will be able to pay out as soon as these big chunks of tax money start coming in.

Tallahassee — Coca colas and coffee cost the average Floridian more than does education for the young. State School Superintendent Tom Bailey is sending out word to parent-teacher associations that the cost of common school education is less than 10 cents per day per person. The annual cost of educating one pupil has risen only from $170.45 to $174 since 1948-49, in spite of the ballooning of all other costs, he added.

Tallahassee — As various agencies moved to test the new state election laws, Secretary of State R. A. Gray announced a series of state meetings starting in Pensacola December 6 to explain the new election code to many whose letters and calls indicate misunderstanding. Gray said he will conduct other similar meetings throughout the state in the next few weeks, similar to one he held with weekly newspaper publishers in Lakeland November 24. Many provisions of the new laws, especially those dealing with campaign spending, are not understood by the public, the secretary of state said he has found, and it is his purpose to help dispel the confusion which followed passage of the 1951 election code and the accompanying campaign expenditure law.

Tallahassee — A proposed 10-year lease by the state beverage department was held not binding past the 1953 legislature in an opinion by Attorney General Ervin. He ruled that such a lease would be in effect an attempt to bind subsequent legislature in a matter where each legislature could make its own decisions. The beverage department which collects more than $20,000,000 a year in taxes from liquor and cigarettes, is cramped for space and has taken the top floor of a proposed office building for which the ground on the edge of the Capital Center is now being cleared.

Campaign — Canditate may use proceeds from motion picture project for campaigning without reporting such as contributions.

Judge — Small claims courts must be held at the county seat.

Vacation — County cannot pay former county agent make-up vacation salary.

Youth — Supervisor of registration may employ clerk under 21 years old.

Stop — Motorist who disobeys traffic light is subject to prosecution.

Evidence — Property held as evidence in criminal cases may not be replevined.

Election — Calendar printed on back of campaign card is legal.

Voting — Where county has adopted voting machines, they must be used in all municipal elections as well.

Tallahassee — The next meeting of the Florida Board of Parks and Historic Memorials will be held in Everglades December 10 and 11. The Collier county seat town is the home of Board Member Miles Collier, whose father founded and helped develop the county. Chairman Eileen H. Butts said the meeting will consider a recent offer of the owners of Killearn Gardens, near Tallahassee, to give the gardens to the state for a park. The board also will consider whether to start a long range financing program to develop greater public use of state parks, most of which have not been improved since the days of the CCC and the WPA.

SENATOR HOLLAND MAKES STATEMENT

Bartow, December 6 — "It is clear to me after completing nearly 5000 miles of travel over Florida since the recess of Congress that the people of this state are ready to shoulder any burden necessary to win if we get into an all out shooting war but feel they have reached the limit on taxes and government expense to meet the present type of limited emergency," Senator Spessard L. Holland declared today as he approached the closing days of his vigorous six-weeks visiting and speaking tour.

"I also find the average citizen is supporting the Congress in its investigations," the Senior Senator continued, "and he demands that Congress continue to exercise this spirit of independence."

Holland emphasized that Floridians "are thoroughly fed up with the almost daily reports of misconduct by high officials. They want Congress to keep in behind these probes until a thorough house cleaning has been accomplished. I expect to continue to follow that course when I return to Washington for the new session."

The South American republic of Ecuador has 85 types of medicinal herbs or flowers ready for marketing.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

Supporting your favorite state candidate with cash contributions, complimentary advertising or boosts on the radio won't be easy during the coming election as it has been in the past. If the new election laws are fairly enforced, candidates are going to have mighty tough sledding to get as any big money is concerned. Although the law does not limit the amount a candidate may spend, it does require that he account for every penny as well as any service rendered that might be considered help or favor to his campaign.

Regardless of candidate or campaign, where the money came from, where it went or how much was, are a thing of the past as far as candidate advertisements yesterday that carried the line, "This Advertisement Paid for by Friends of Joe Doaks," are out.

Corporations that in the past have made sizeable contributions to every candidate in the race, just to be on the safe side must now forego that questionable pleasure. They will probably be glad of it for the aspirants used to stand in line waiting to tap the big boys for so much as the traffic would bear.

The new laws should also protect the candidate from a flock of cheap chiselers who for years have yapped at his heels and taken him for sucker dough. The guys who yank the aspirant's coat tail in the hotel lobby and try to mooch a few dollars for gasoline money. They are working their heads off for him but need a few bucks for expenses.

Then the "WE BOYS" won't find things as easy as they used to be. They are the one who get a candidate on the telephone, call him by his first name and say, "You know WE BOYS over here at the Union Hall have been sitting around talking about you and we've decided to go all the way for you in your behalf. We are going to go around the state and just talk to the boys; it won't cost much, just expenses, maybe a couple of thousand would do it. I'll come right over and pick up a check."

The bookies and gamblers are all backlashed and balled up this time. They are afraid to stick their necks out for not only does the new election law hold their feet to the fire, but Uncle Sam is sitting on the side lines waiting to nick them for a federal license and 10 per cent of their take.

Maybe you used to gallop around passing out cards for your favorites. You have always contended it was a very valuable service and if it hadn't been for your hard work the candidate probably wouldn't have carried your precinct. But, my friend, that valued service must now be officially recorded and you must place an actual value on it and file this information with the campaign manager, who in turn must pass the information on the Secretary of State, and you can be pretty certain that the newspapers will tell the world about it when the statement is filed.

The fellow who grasps the hand of the winner after election and startes the old song and dance about how hard he worked, how much money he spent and how helpful his services were during the campaign will be laying himself wide open, for if what he claims is true, there should be a detailed record of all his activities on behalf of said candidate on file in the Secretary of State's office.

The next governor will be in a lot better position when it comes to knowing just who did or didn't support him. He will have a very complete and interesting record available and can drop across the hall and check it for himself.

Of course the law doesn't say that you can't celebrate or that you can't work for a candidate but it does say that you can't do so before making it official that he is on record and has been officially elected. If it hasn't and an opposing candidate finds it out, you are going to be in plenty of trouble and you can go to jail or pay a sizeable fine if found guilty.

The law was so confusing that the Florida Press Association called upon Attorney General Dick Ervin for clarification as to how new rules affected us. Seems that after reading the law, feared that it might be prevented from supporting a candidate in an editorial.

The Attorney General ruled, however, that since an editorial was "not a thing of value" it didn't count. That ruling is a terrible blow to the editor who always contended that the most valuable thing a candidate could have was his editorial endorsement.

HALTS HEARING ON F.P.C. PETITION FOR HIGHER RATES

The State Railroad and Public Utilites Commission last week halted its hearing on a Florida Power Corporation petition for higher rates after the commission's attorney challenged admissability of the corporation's evidence.

The corporation was asking that its rates in Pinellas County be raised to the level of those in the 30 other Florida counties it serves. Commission Chairman Richard Mack said the commission would set a date for resuming the hearing later.

Lewis Petteway, Florida Power attorney, cited a recent ruling by Circuit Judge Victor O. Wehle on this rate issue. Judge Wehle ruled community rates should be based on costs incurred in serving that community rather than on system costs. A $500,000 reduction in FPC rates was ordered. The FPC is appealing that order to the State Supreme Court and also brought the order before the commission in the first exercise of the electrical rate fixing powers given the commission by the 1951 legislature.

E. H. Finlayson, native Floridian and well-known Jefferson County seed grower, who is 1951-52 President of the Florida Farm Bureau, largest agricultural organization in the state. Soil Conservation News

By C. F. Howerton
Soil Conservationist

The Board of Supervisors of the Highlands Soil Conservation District held their regular monthly meeting in the courthouse Monday night with the following supervisors present: Mrs. Katherine Waggaman, Cole Danley, L. L. Holmes, and Jack Hutchinson. Mr. Bill Morse, representative of the Central and South Florida Flood Control District, was at the meeting and presented a plan to the board of supervisors requesting them to organize a Flood Control and Water Conservation Committee in Highlands County, which would be composed of a representative of all interests in the county such as citrus, cattle, farming, wildlife conservation, recreation, and city and county officials. The supervisors adopted the plan anc instructed the secretary to write all organized groups in the county which might be interested in Flood Control and Water Conservation, asking them to appoint a committee member from their group. The supervisors designated their next regular meeting, Monday night January 7, 1952, as a joint meeting with this committee. Mr. Morse stated that he, and possibly other members of the Flood Control District staff would be present at the meeting to help with the organization of the committee.

Mr. Clay Stackhouse, Vice-president of the National Association of Soil Conservation District Supervisors will be in Sebring on December 13.

Did Christ Build The Roman Catholic Church?
No! Catholics say the Scriptures alone are not a sufficient guide and rule of faith: "Now the scriptures alone do not contain all the truths which a Christian is bound to believe, nor do they explicitly enjoin all the duties which he is obliged to practice" (James Cardinal Gibbons, The Faith of Our Fathers, 110th Ed., pp 72, 73).
The Bible Teaches: The faith was once delivered (Jude 3), the Scriptures are sufficient (2 Tim. 3:16, 17), and the church of the Lord is the pillar and ground (support) of the truth (1 Tim. 3:15). The Bible is the Word of God, the truth (Jno. 17:17). Since Catholics do not uphold the truth that the scriptures are sufficient, they could not be the church Christ built.
No! Catholics say their church is built on Peter (Gibbon, Op. Cit., pp. 81, 82).
The Bible Teaches: Christ built His church on bedrock of truth that He is the Son of God, the same truth Peter confessed (Matt. 16:16-18). To Peter was given the keys of the kingdom — privilege to open, begin or unloose — the conditions (already bound in heaven) for admission into the Kingdom.
I affirm that the other apostles possessed "authority and jurisdiction in the government of Christ's church" equal to that of Peter (cf. Gibbon, Ibid., p 76) (Eph. 2:20; Matt. 12:28-30; 1 Cor. 9:1-5; 2 Cor. 11:5; 12:11-13).
I Deny that the Bible teaches that primacy was ever given to Peter in "authority and jurisdiction in the government" of Christ's Church, that the Popes of Rome are Peter's successors to the "Apostolic office", and that any pope of the Roman Catholic Church has ever been infallible.
(Hear this subject discussed at the Avon Park CHURCH OF CHRIST at 7:30 p.m., December 9. Minister and Speaker: Paul E. Tustin — Phone 57-M for conference. We invite a representative from any Catholic Church to be present with us, either to defend his doctrine or to assure all that it is correctly represented.)

Santa Claus To Be At Touchton Drug And Park Hardware

Cheer up kiddies! There sure is a Santa Claus, and you will be able to see and talk to him at the Touchton Drug Store and the Park Hardware on Saturdays. You see Santa is so busy this year that he has found it necessary to set up certain office hours for Avon Park, so the many children in other towns can have some of his time.

Now read carefully: Santa's headquarters and "throne room" will be at the Touchton Drug Store and the jolly old fellow will be there Saturday morning, December 15th and Saturday, December 22nd at 10:00 o'clock in the morning until noon each Saturday, and each Saturday afternoon from 4:00 until 7:00 P.M. During those hours Santa will also visit the Park Hardware. And to be sure, Santa will have candy for all the children if you catch him at the right time.

Mr. Ed Touchton and Mr. Scott of the Park Hardware have assured the writer that they have had direct word from Santa, that he wants to see all the kids of Avon Park and surrounding community. Remember the dates, hours, Saturday, December 15th and the following Saturday, December 22nd.

School Holiday

The Avon Park elementary and high schools will close for the Christmas holiday at the end of the school day Wednesday, December 19. They will reopen at the usual morning hour on Wednesday, January 2, 1952.

Santa Claus Calls At Avon Park Home

Santa Claus made a pre-Christmas visit to the City of Avon Park on Thursday night, December 6. The good Spirit of Christmas merely looked slyly mirthful when the Sun reporter asked him to state his reasons for this early trip. It is surmised he may have been making a preliminary survey of this area, perhaps noting who was behaving and who wasn't.

It is known, however, that he called on a little Jimmie Parnell, who was ill at his home. Jimmie was assured that his letter to Santa had been received, its contents duly noted, and that his order would be filled. He was given a Santa Claus lollipop as a foretaste of Christmas fun and goodies.

Earlier in the evening, Santa attended the Christmas party at the Fish and Game Club, where he distributed candy and oranges to the guests.

He'll be back on the 11th night from now. Better hunt up those long stockings you haven't been wearing this warm winter.

Outdoor Decoration Deadline Dec. 21

Christmas scenes on various lawns about town are reminders that Christmas Day is rapidly approaching. They also remind us that there will be another home outdoor decoration and lighting contest this year, sponsored by the Garden Club.

Each entry should be registered at the Chamber of Commerce. The deadline for registering is Friday, December 21. Unlisted decorations are likely to be missed by the judges. Every person registering will receive the gift of a seedling tree.

Judging will take place on Sunday, December 23.

Awards will be given for three classifications: lawn, door, and window decorations.

MITCHELL WINS SEBRING POST

Mayor J. D. Mitchell was re-elected to a third two-year term in the municipal election at Sebring, Tuesday, winning over D. L. W. Martin, a last minute candidate, 829 to 558.

City Clerk Dan R. Stevenson also was given a fourth term. He defeated former clerk Edward Hasti, 937 to 430.

Reelected for a third term was Councilman William Mackay, the only one of three who sought reelection. He polled 802 votes. Other councilmen elected, and their vote, were Henry Crutchfield, 764, Jim Fulton, 718. They will take the seats to be vacated by Floyd M. Schumacher and Ralph D. Eyman.

Opportunity To Be Naval Aviator

"Wings of Gold don't rust", is one of the slogans of the Naval Air Corps. These wings, the insignia of the Naval aviator, proclaim that those who wear them have received top training as Naval officers, precision flyers, expert navigators, and winning fighters.

To honor the wings of gold, Mayor Sauls, Jr., has proclaimed next Wednesday, December 19, Naval Aviation Day in Avon Park. The U. S. Naval Aviation Corps will be so honored throughout the nation during this same week.

For the benefit of the young men of this community who may be interested in winning their wings, Chief J. N. Jefferies and AD1 Lawton Sellers from Miami Naval Air Station will be at the City Hall from 9:00 A.M. next Wednesday, to interview candidates or to give information.

A candidate for Naval aviation cadet (NavCad is the short form) must be a man at least 18 and not more than 26 years of age. He must be single, and must have had a minimum of two years at college, or 60 semester hours.

The cadet will receive his basic training at Pensacola, Fla., now known as the "Anapolis of the Air". Here he will receive academic, athletic and military instruction. He will also enjoy many recreational facilities, including golf, swimming in the Gulf, sailing, the ACRAC or Aviation Cadet Recreation Center.

A Proclamation

Whereas; In order to further the National Defense and Safeguard the Security of the United States, it has been necessary for the rapid expansion of all Armed Forces, and

Whereas: The air arm of the U. S. Navy must be kept at a high peak of proficiency in time of peace with a reserve of qualified pilots in the event of war, and

The Christmas Seal Sale

By Mrs. Ted J. Ward, Chairman

Since our Seal Sale opened on Monday November 19 we have received throughout Highlands County the sum of $1500.50 or about 55 percent of our quota of $2750.00.

We have mailed out nearly 2800 letters and double that many number of sheets of seals to the residents of the county and of that number some 850 have acknowledged receipt of the seals and have contributed the total sum of $1500.50 In this sum is included special gifts of from $5 to $25.

If a good percentage of those 1950 whose names still remain blank in our files will contribute our association will raise its quota which has through necessity been considerably increased for the year beginning Jan 1st and we will be enabled to carry out our health program as planned.

One of our projects this coming year is the desired plan to chest x-ray every possible person in Highlands County. Last January the mobile unit made over 4500 examinations in all sections of our county.

For the convenience of those who may not have received seals through the mail and wish to contribute to our worthy cause the sale of seals began this week at booths located at busy points in the various towns.

Civic Response Keeps Youth Center Open Saturdays

An appeal to the citizens of Avon Park has brought a hearty response from many civic minded people of this vicinity.

Because of the uncertainty of conditions surrounding the Youth Center, a number of citizens have decided to help plan parties and keep the center open on Saturday nights only during basketball season. The teen-agers may plan to open on Friday nights during the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. M. G. Whitcomb, Mrs. G. W. Bolt, and R. E. Maysack, a never-failing friend of youth, were in charge of activities on Saturday evening, December 8.

Mrs. C. R. Ginn is chairman for activities on Saturday, December 15.

The Teen-Age Club, with Mrs. Talmage Suggs as a temporary adviser, will meet in the auditorium at 10 o'clock for an important meeting on Friday, December 14, for the purpose of making definites plans for entertainment. Bobby Whitcomb, president, hopes the teen-agers will complete the formation of needed committees as well as decide on some matters necessary to more efficient functioning of the organization.

The teen-agers hope the loyal, friendly citizens of the town will continue offering their services. If many people share in the work, the load will not be too great for anyone. Remember the youth of today will be the citizens of tomorrow. What kind of citizens will we have?

Please Wrap Gifts For Xmas Baskets

Clothing to be placed in the town's Christmas Cheer baskets should be gift-wrapped, then labeled as to sex, age and size, before being turned over to the Christmas Cheer committee for distribution. This is the suggestion of the chairman, Lester Armstrong, to all churches, clubs and individuals donating gifts. Otherwise, much time is consumed in wrapping by those who volunteer to fill the baskets — and they have plenty to do at the last minute as it is!

The deadline for handing in names of those who need baskets is tomorrow, Saturday, December 15. All names should be given to A. B. Wilhite, supervising principal at the high school.

Not You, Is It?

? ONE MILLIONTH ?

Don't Put Yourself In This Picture

Every motorist has a real reason for careful and safe driving right now — for some time during December the one-millionth traffic fatality is due to occur. This prediction is based on the present rate of highway deaths in the United States.

"The majority of traffic accidents," the National Automobile Dealers Association points out, "are the result of an error committed by one or more of the drivers involved. These errors are usually the product of carelessness and ignorance."

"This ten-point program," says N.A.D.A., "if followed by every motorist, will at least push back the date when this millionth victim will make headlines."

1. Don't drive so fast that your stopping distance exceeds your seeing distance, or that you risk losing control of your car.

2. Use your rear-view mirror and signal your intentions, before moving out of the lane in which you are driving.

3. Pass only on the left side of other vehicles when overtaking them.

4. Give the pedestrian the right-of-way.

5. Make it a point to turn your head and look before backing up.

6. Don't follow the driver ahead too closely. You should allow a distance of at least one car-length between you for every ten miles per hour of speed.

7. Drive on the right side of the road.

8. Slow down and look both ways at traffic lights — even green ones.

9. Be careful that no train is coming when crossing railroad tracks.

10. Keep your car in the best operating condition at all times. Take it to your dealer for periodic inspections.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Tallahassee — First court test of the new election code in its restrictions on free speech and freedom of the press will come from nearby Calhoun county. Wallace Finley, publisher of the County Record of Blountstown, has undertaken to get these questions before a court, in a suit for declaratory decree. His action came as a result of a request from the Florida Press Association, to start such a suit on behalf of the public these newspapers serve. The Finley suit questions those restrictions of the new election code which seem to prevent American citizens from freely writing their sentiments about candidates of their choosing, and which seem to curb the freedom of the press by preventing newspapers from giving space to candidates to outline their policies. It is expected that an early answer will be received from the circuit court.

Tallahassee — Two opinions from the Attorney general, Richard W. Ervin, have slowed down recent political movements, one by the Miami-Eisenhower-for-president club and the other by the Jefferson-Jackson day dinner movement of the state Democratic committee. In the Eisenhower incident, General Ervin ruled that election laws prevent a corporation, such as they formed, from placing advertising in a newspaper in support of the Eisenhower boom for president. In the other, he ruled that money received from race tracks, corporations, public utilities or liquor establishments, or anyone connected with them, would be "contributions" to the Democratic party and thus illegal under the new law.

Tallahassee — A "get tough" policy on those who collect the state sales tax but forget to turn it in has been announced by Comptroller C. M. Gay. Due to a change in the law, the comptroller now may ask for embezzlement charges to be laid on those caught withholding sales tax collections. Strict enforcement, Gay believes, is responsible for an increase already noted. The tax will yield close to $50,000,000 a year.

Tallahassee — Another state tax benefitting by strict enforcement is the cigarette tax. Director Lewis Schott announced $1,270,677 is available for distribution to the cities, to the state hospital and to the general fund of the state. Miami heads the list of cities, getting $194,590 out of one month's tax collections by Schott's agency.

Yule Trees Can Increase Fire Hazard

Your Christmas tree is a fire hazard because it contains extremely combustible materials. Tests by Underwriter's Laboratories have proved that Christmas Trees are easily ignited and burn swiftly.

"Extreme caution is needed," says the National Board of Fire Underwriters, "when this fire hazard is in your home."

To avoid fires in the home during the Christmas season, a time when fires increase all over the U.S., the National Board suggests the following rules "to keep your Christmas Merry."

1. Choose a small tree. It will be less hazardous.
2. Wait until a few days before Christmas to set up your tree.
3. Keep the tree outdoors until ready to set it up.
4. Place the tree in the coolest part of the house.
5. Place the base of the tree in a container of water.
6. If a radiator is near the tree, shut it off.
7. Do not use cotton or paper decorations unless they are flameproofed.
8. Do not place electric toys, such as trains, around the tree.
9. Do not use candles. Use electric lights instead.
10. Make certain wires are not frayed. Choose lighting sets bearing marking which indicates listing by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.
11. Do not plug or unplug the lights beneath the tree.
12. Do not leave tree lights burning when no one is in the house.
13. If needles near the lights turn brown, change the location of the lights.
14. When the needles start falling, take the tree down and discard it.

American forest acreage is again larger than the acreage devoted to food and textile crops.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

A grim jest makes the Washington rounds today. It is "A single atom bomb can save the country . . . if it is dropped on Washington".

What is meant is that seemingly this is the only way to eliminate the free-spending bureaucrats who have fastened such a hold on the American tax dollar.

Washington veterans can understand, although not condone, the greed behind alleged graft disclosures now making headlines. But sheer lunacy, as exemplified by many bureaucratic actions, passes all understanding. That is why the saying now is: "We are used to a White House clique, a Capitol Hill clique, a military clique, and others, but now there has been added to government a St. Elizabeth clique.

St. Elizabeth's is the large hospital for insane near Washington.

For example, the Marshall Plan publishes many, many publications, all carrying clever little stories, ground out by hundreds of government press agents, hailing Marshall Plan accomplishments.

The Marshall Plan News, an expensively printed slick paper publication points with pride that Marshall Plan dollars are now being used to rehabilitate the ancient ruins of Greece, just as new taxes bite deep into every family.

So millions of families who found new taxes in November paychecks, ruining their budgets will be made happy to know their money will go to restore ancient ruins in Greece.

Still more amazing is that

©National Federation of Independent Business

Marshall Plan officials rush into print to boast about their new way of throwing away dollars.

Congress, [illegible] Marshall Plan, [illegible] Mutual Security Plan, to aid [illegible] for defense.

The fact that Congress passed this statement indicates that Congressmen fall to see the lunacy.

And [illegible] Marshall Plan officials [illegible] Marshall Plan dollars, given to an Austrian government controlling agency, financed the zither industry expansion.

Undoubtedly, more zithers is just what Eisenhower needed.

Divisions of men armed with zithers must be an ideal solution of Ike's problem of how to stop Russian armor.

And many a vacationing Congressman, finding constituents questioning his sanity for tolerating such things, will return to Washington in an ugly mood.

And even though the Marshall Plan is strongly supported by a few huge corporations profiting from the billions of dollars worth of petroleum, machinery, chemicals and newsprint given to nations like Yugoslavia, the force that has always saved America may strike again.

That force, again mobilizing, is the common sense sanity of the average American.

They carefully point out that Marshall Plan dollars, given to an Austrian government controlling agency, financed the zither industry expansion.

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

THOUGHTS OF CHRISTMAS

L. M. Collins, pastor,
Florida Ave. Baptist Church

As we come to the time when millions will keep Christmas — some in the way that pleased the Master, realizing that it is Christ's birthday, not ours, we know that he should be the one to receive the birthday presents.

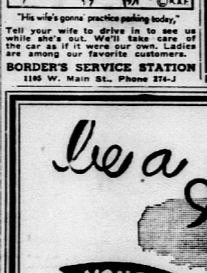

May our hearts go out to those in heathen lands that have no Christmas day. Many people over the entire earth haven't heard of God's Christmas gift to us. It is our privilege and joy to publish everywhere the story of His love and mercy.

Let us think for a moment: suppose He had not been born. There would be no Christmas trees, no Christmas carols and songs of praise to God for His goodness, no churches, no New Testaments. Remember that hospitals and schools are the by-products of Christianity. When we think of these things it makes us remember the words of Nehemiah, 8:10 to the people — "Go your way, eat the fat, and drink unto them for whom nothing is prepared."

Since Christ has come we have received Him as the promised Saviour, may we sing with the spirit and the understanding, the songs of praise and thanksgiving unto God. Let us be careful to think of the words of the angel, "Behold I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be unto all people for unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

This message is for all people, and right here in Avon Park are people who need to receive Him in their hearts and homes. In Avon Park children will be neglected, because of divorce, sins, evils of all kinds and the wrong way of celebrating Christmas. The churches, the firemen, and the civic clubs are trying to avoid this by sponsoring the Christmas baskets.

May we remember the words of Jesus — "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of my brethern, ye have done it also unto me."

The First Baptist Church was the scene last Saturday night December 8, at 7:30 of a ceremony which united in marriage Miss Juanita Frances Sauls, of Avon Park, and S/Sgt. Herbert J. Fralish of Wauchula.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley T. Sauls, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Fralish of Wauchula.

The Rev. Robert T. Liner officiated at the double-ring candlelight ceremony. The altar was banked with palms, greenery and baskets of white gladioli, backed by branched candelabra. Mrs. J. B. Coen, Jr., organist, presented the nuptial music.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Wiley Sauls, Jr. She chose for her wedding a winter white suit with accessories of light blue and navy. She carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of white carnations showered with white satin streamers and tuberoses.

Members of the Sans Souci bridge club enjoyed their annual Dutch treat Christmas party Tuesday night.

After dining at the Jacaranda Coffee Shop they played bridge in the lounge room of the Florida Power Corporation. Miss Muriel Nelson won high score; Miss Millie Pearson, second high.

There was an exchange of gifts, which had first been placed under a bright Christmas tree.

Present were Miss Muriel Nelson, Miss Millie Pearson, Miss Mildred Myers, Mrs. A. B. Wilhite, Mrs. Ben T. Stewart, Mrs. Raymond Dilley, Mrs. Paxton Hill, Mrs. C. R. Ginn, and Mrs. Alice Sherman.

AVON PARK GROUPS STUDYING CITIZEN COMMITTEE PLAN

The Avon Park Chamber of Commerce and Jaycees are studying the practicality of a citizens' committee here, patterned after the Sarasota Citizens' Committee.

A meeting of the two groups was held Friday night at the Jacaranda Hotel, where Russell A. Currin and E. A. Boalt, members of the Sarasota organization, explained its functions.

MRS. EDITH PAYNE

Mrs. Edith Payne, wife of F. C. Payne, of Sebring, died Thursday, December 6, in Walker Memorial Hospital, to which she was admitted the preceding night. A native of Kansas, she came to Lake Placid in 1922, later moving to Sebring.

Survivors in addition to her husband include five sons, Carl M., William M., Robert C., and Leonard O. Payne, of Sebring, and F. Merle Payne, of Lake Placid; two daughters, Mrs. Norman Nixon, Sebring, and Mrs. Fred Hamlinger, Hobart, Ind.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Sebring Methodist church, with the Rev. E. F. Carswell officiating. Burial was in Lake Placid Cemetery, with [illegible] in charge.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

I have a fair education and am usually able to read and understand most of the reading matter that reaches my desk, but now and then I encounter a manuscript prepared by the masterminds in Washington that throws me into a tailspin and leaves me gasping for breath.

Maybe I'm reading myself, but I consider that I am a reasonable man, save to anger and eager to learn. However, when I encounter a document such as the annual report of the Library of Congress which contains between 200 and 300 pages, printed on highest quality paper and handsomely bound in buckram at the taxpayers' expense, I gasp in amazement and then develop a slow burn.

YOU, my fine-feathered friend, whether you know it or not, had money deducted from your shrinking pay check for the publication of the following, which I quote from page 11 of the 1949 annual report:

"But if the Library is, as it is designed to be and as, in the past, it most assuredly has been, a popular institution, popularly supported, administered and sustained; if it is, invisibly perhaps, but nevertheless indivisibly and integrally a part of the intellectual endowment of every citizen; if solely to diffuse, it has scrumptiously amassed the recorded knowledge it contains, if it belongs to the experience of its days, if it is sensitive to the expectations of it and applies whatever strength it has to their fulfillment; if learned spuriously cannot taint, nor curtain, nor embarrass, nor divert, nor betray, nor in any way diminish its steadfast demonstration of the freedoms of inquiry and access and discovery and choice; if its ambitions do not exceed its opportunities for useful service; if it has acquired and exploited for perfected special skills; it is an active agent as well as an obedient servant of the nobler energies of a people; if it is aware of, and disturbed by, and in rebellion against, its own short comings; if performance of duty is its single purpose and its duty, the enrichment of society; if its traditions are not marescent, but alive, adaptable and approved; if hallow precedent does not exact conformity nor impose requirement; if there is confidence in its maturity; if through age, it has attached character; an identity, a realization, 'non faciat ea, quae invenes; at vero multo meliora facit' (Cicero; De-Senectuate, vi: 22-23), then the passage of its first 150 years may merit some attention."

I think what the guy who wrote that was trying to say was that the Library of Congress is a credit to an enlightened nation, has performed a masterful job in assembling and preserving material and should bestir a feeling of pride in the minds and hearts of all Americans.

Now I have personally visited the Library of Congress on several occasions. My heart throbs with pride in the knowledge that my country possesses such a worthy and worthwhile institution. If I had my way every American citizen would visit it and acquaint themselves with the treasures it contains. It is truly an American Shrine of which even the humblest citizen may well be proud.

I don't know how many copies of the report were published or how much you and I paid for its production, but for my money if one guy out of a thousand who received it even read it, or reading it understood what it was all about, then I take off my hat to higher education in America and pull in my horns.

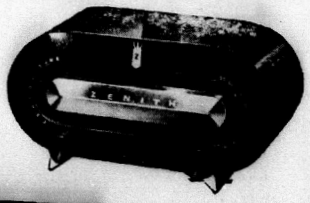

The thing that impresses me is the wanton waste of taxpayers money on the publication of such tripe as this. Even if it didn't cost any more than a few thousand dollars, it still represents a flagrant waste of public funds. And it is the publication of thousands and thousands of bulletins, reports and booklets in similar vein of interest and value to no one that is boosting this nation's debt.

Every government department, commission and bureau, plus every state bureau or department is issuing costly expensive reports that nobody reads or, if they did read, can understand. All of these combined, cost you and me millions of dollars.

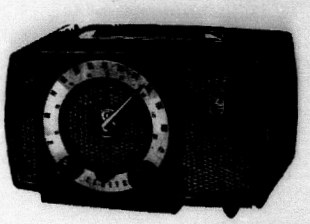

Sure, the guys who write them have a lot of fun, they are on the payroll and I give them credit for trying to do something to earn their salt. But if you as a citizen and taxpayer feel that you were well served in paying for such service, I'll take a bow and retire. But for my money, if 99 and 99 100 per cent of all the run-of-the-mill reports were left unpublished and the money they cost the taxpayer was used for some constructive worthwhile purpose, I feel that we would be much better served.

Weekly Business Review

Florida ports were kept busy last year handling almost 20 million tons of goods.

Virtually every Florida port showed an increase over 1949, says the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, resulting in a State total gain of 20 per cent.

The 1950 state total tonnage is reported in this week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division as 19,620,334 tons made up of 11,819,841 tons moving out of the state in both foreign and domestic commerce; 5,689,812 tons brought into the state and 2,118,681 tons handled in local port trade. Imports from foreign countries amounted to 1,887,576 tons and exports totaled 2,455,651 tons.

Tampa, Florida's busiest port, handled a total volume of 7,517,476 tons; Jacksonville ranked second with 4,158,074 tons and Miami third with 2,168,100 tons. Other ports handling more than one hundred thousand tons were Port Everglades 1,866,552 tons; Port Saint Joe 1,835,184 tons; Panama City 1,040,606 tons; Charlotte Harbor 930,040 tons; Palm Beach 611,358 tons; Pensacola 447,506 tons. It was pointed out that these port totals exceed the state total as all state figures have been adjusted from reports of the Army Engineers to eliminate duplications caused by reshipment of goods.

Charles Hughes of West Palm Beach caught what may be the smallest sailfish or white marlin on record — 3 inches long. The fish has been submitted to the University of Miami Marine Laboratory for official classification.

STUDENTS INVITED TO STATE FAIR

All Florida students of junior and senior high schools and vocational agricultural schools have been invited to attend the Florida State Fair for an educational field trip as the guests of the Fair.

Superintendents of Public Instruction in each county in Florida and principals of junior and senior high schools and vocational agricultural teachers over the entire state recently received an invitation from J. C. Huskisson, Assistant State Fair Manager, to organize trips to the State Fair on any day between February 5 to February 16, except Gasparilla Day, February 11.

Admission to the State Fair will be free to these groups. Parking facilities for busses will be provided and complete precautions for their safety have been arranged for. Each group must be accompanied by at least one adult. Reservation forms have been provided by the committee and must be submitted prior to the field trip.

Experiments are being conducted by a large frozen food company in the frozen whole-wheat bread doughs.

Can We Understand The Bible Alike?
Eph. 5:17
If we cannot, (1) God is the author of all this religious division, whereas the Bible says it is God's will that his followers be united (Jno. 17:21); (2) God is also the author of a system in which no unity of doctrine is possible (1 Cor. 14:33). Both of these theories contradict the Bible, which is God's inspired word (2 Tim. 3:16,17).
Before giving reasons why we can all understand the Bible alike, remember that whether or not we ever understand fully any particular passage, the sense of the passage is one, not many.
We can understand the Bible alike in the following ways:
(1) We can understand alike its authority and profitableness (2 Tim. 3:16, 17). Even Catholics admit this when they quote to Protestants scripture in support (?) of Catholic claims.
(2) We can understand alike its teaching on Christ our Hope. (Jno. 20:30, 31; 3:16; Rom. 5:1-11).
(3) We can understand every command God has given unto us. He commands us to understand His will (Eph. 5:17). Otherwise, He demands of us what is impossible for us to do without understanding.
(4) We can believe every word of those compartively few passages in which (as Peter said of some of Paul's writings) "are some things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, to their own destruction" (2 Pet. 3:16). On this passage, note:
(a) Peter says the ones not understanding the "hard" passages. also wrest (twist, pervert) the plain ones.
(b) They do this because they are unlearned and unstable.
(c) Peter implies that stability in faith and continued study will aid in understanding even the "hard" passages.
Therefore, I conclude that we can believe all that the Bible says, keep to the best of our ability every command he has given, understand every truth God expects us individually to understand at one particular time in our spiritual development, and by "studying to show ourselves approved unto God, . . . , handling aright the word of truth" (2 Tim. 2:15—A.R.V.), we can come to a better understanding of the more difficult passages. But, whether we ever understand a passage, it means only one thing — has only one meaning.

Christmas Services Of Methodist Church

The Sunday morning Christmas service of the First Methodist Church will be held at 10:55 o'clock. Mr. Garrett's sermon subject will be "The Most Wonderful Thing Has Happened". Special Christmas music will be featured. "There Were Shepherds", by Norman, will be sung by the Chancel Choir. "'Twas In A Manger Lowly", by Nolte, will be sung by the Chancel and Junior choirs with Miss Jane Maxwell as soloist.

In the evening, at 7:30 o'clock, a Christmas cantata-pageant entitled "Star and Desert Sand" will be presented in the high school auditorium. Mr. R. P. Waite, with the assistance of Mrs. Fred Reddick and Mrs. W. R. Dinnison, is directing the pageant. Mr. Ira McKenny is directing the music and Mrs. W. E. Jackson is pianist.

Mr. Paul Critchfield is in charge of lighting effects, and has worked out such effective use of colored lights that the mood of each scene will be easily realized. The public is cordially invited to attend this unusually splendid sacred program.

A Christmas Plea From the Children's Home Society

As we commemorate the birth of the Christ child at this season of the year, it is natural that we should think of other children, also.

A great many babies come to the Children's Home Society of Florida very much as the babe in the manger came - without clothing or any earthly goods. Many of the children that they have for temporary care have come to them without sufficient clothing. They are underweight; they need medical care, and some need school supplies, dental care and many other things. It is the privilege and duty of the Home Society to help build up their bodies, to give each child the special care he or she may need, and get them ready for whatever may lie ahead for them. And this is where YOU come in. You can help perform this very necessary work for the needy children of our State by contributing whatever you can toward their care. The Children's Home Society needs funds to finance this program; foodstuffs and all kinds of children's clothing, particularly layettes and other supplies for infants. They will be grateful for any help you can give. Your own Christmas will be made happier by the knowledge that you have shared with some less fortunate ones.

Please send articles to any one of the Receiving Homes; Jacksonville Receiving Home, 3165 San Diego Road, Jacksonville; West Florida Receiving Home, 1417 North 12th Avenue, Pensacola; Rose Keller Home, 602 South Pennsylvania Avenue; or the Southeastern Division Receiving Home at 809 North West 14th. St., Miami. Checks made payable to the Children's Home Society, 1649 Osceola Street, Jacksonville will be used for the Statewide work or for any Division designated by the donor.

Firemen Accept New Members

The Avon Park Firemen's Association accepted three new members at the association's regular meeting held Thursday night, December 13, at the Fire Hall.

The new members, M. K. Crews, Richard Pate, and Clayton Fields, Jr., were given the Fireman's Obligation by H. M. Flowers, former secretary of the association and presently serving with the armed forces.

The members present made final plans and arrangements for the annual Christmas Fund program sponsored by the association. On Monday, December 24, the Firemen plan to distribute toys and gifts to approximately 200 underprivileged boys and girls. President Willard Griffin also stated that he had called a special meeting Friday night, December 21, of the firemen and their wives to wrap the toys and gifts and also to tag them.

Since there was no further business to discuss, the meeting was turned over to the initiation committee, composed of Reason Shivers, J. O. Bridges, and Charles Howze. After the new members had been fully initiated into the Firemen's Association, the meeting was adjourned and the members present retired to the dining room for refreshments.

The earth was filled with the voices of angels at the time of the birth of Our Lord . . . and at the same time each year the angels return to do Him homage. But these days their voices are drowned out by the sounds of battle. Now we must listen closely to hear them. But they can be heard . . . by those who bear peace in their hearts.

Shoot Your Own Turkey Saturday

In spite of rain, snow, and even when the sun shines Daniel Boone will again fare forth to shoot his turkey at the American Legion sponsored turkey shoot to be held at the Airport.

Many hardy souls braved the wet and windy weather this last Thanksgiving in order to walk away with some mighty fine turkeys. This time the American Legion is counting on some sunshine in order that the ladies might try their hand at the turkey shoot. By the way, the shoot will be held on December 22, just in time to get a Christmas turkey. We've made arrangements with the weatherman and he assures us that on Saturday December 22 there will be no low clouds to obscure your shooting eye. However, if he is prevaricatin' the shoot will go on just as planned.

Well, I'll meet you at the Airport this Saturday and I know that my rifle shoots just as straight as yours. Shoot begins at 1:00 P.M.

Law Says Boys' Guns Must Be Supervised

If your son gets a BB gun or air rifle for Christmas, don't forget he'll have to be supervised when he shoots it if he's under 16.

Also, don't forget that Avon Park has been declared a bird sanctuary and it is forbidden by city ordinance as well as state law to shoot at our birds.

Because of the increasing number of accidents caused by toy weapons (one was the cause of an emergency operation on a local child last year), the state legislature has passed a law that no child under 16 may use a BB gun, air rifle or .22 rifle unless an adult is with him and supervising him. Punishment for violation, which falls on the child's parent or guardian, not the youngster, is a fine of up to $300 or imprisonment for as much as 30 days.

PVT. OTIS L. GLENN

Reported Missing Now On POW List

Mrs. Odessa K. Glenn, Woodruff Heights, received a Christmas gift of hope Wednesday evening when she received a telegram from the Defense Department notifying her that her son, Pvt. Otis L. Glenn, was listed among the Korean prisoners of war. He had been missing since November 30, 1950.

Pvt. Glenn was reported missing on December 29, 1950, the story with his picture, being carried in the Sun for January 12, 1951. At that time, his mother was grief-stricken, feeling that she would never see her son again. Pvt. Glenn, the youngest of eight children, had then just passed his 22nd birthday.

Lighted Christmas Tree On Mall

Among the many signs of Christmas along Main street is the growing Christmas tree on the Mall opposite City Hall, which has been decorated by the Avon Park Woman's Club. Hung with lights, it is especially beautiful after dark.

This tree was planted some years ago by the Woman's Club to be a permanent town Christmas tree. The Florida Power Corporation received permission from the City to install a power line for lighting the tree.

The Christmas tree can be used by any organization or group that wishes to hold a yule-tide party near it. Those wishing to use it, however, should call Mrs. S. O. Norris, president of the Woman's Club, in order to avoid conflicting dates.

Nazarene Church Christmas Program

J. D. Benson, pastor of the Nazarene Church, announces that everyone is invited to attend the Christmas program at the church on West Main Street, Sunday night, December 23, at 7:30 P.M.

A Nativity scene is on display in th church yard, and is lighted every night from dark until 11:00 P.M.

Midget Gridders Play at Lakeland

Lakeland Dec. — Football fans from coast-to-coast will hear a blow-by-blow description of the fifth annual Santa Claus Bowl games here Dec. 28 as antics of the Nation's top midget gridders are broadcast over 550 radio stations throughout the United States, it was announced by Optimist Chairman Bert Lind today.

With the stigma of professionalism attached to present-day college football because of subsidies and paid scholarships, Lind said, the midget games will be a welcome relief to serious fans of the sport. The game itself is only a means to an end — that of character development, civic pride, responsibility, respect for property, competitive spirit, and leadership, he added.

The games, which are sandwiched between parades, bonfires, pep rallies, fireworks, and tours starting December 27 and continuing through December 29, are sponsored by the non-profit Pop Warner Foundation and the local Optimist Club. Teams scheduled to compete are from Las Vegas, Nev., Omaha, Neb., Roanoke, Va., and New Orleans, La.

Arrangements are also being completed for the appearance of the vaunted United States Air Force band from MacDill Field in Tampa, Lind disclosed. He said the large musical aggregation had offered their services during the three day event.

Christmas Seal Sale Exceeds Last Year

Since reporting last week in the Avon Park Sun many generous persons have contributed the sum of $375.00 and now at the conclusion of four weeks Highlands County has increased its Christmas Seal Fund by a total of $1,875.75.

As our goal is $2750.00 that leaves a balance to be collected of $874.25. With slightly over two weeks left in this year our association has every confidence in its civic-minded citizens to reach this goal which will assure our community of a widely expansive health program sponsored by the Highlands County TB and Health Association. We gratefully appreciate every contribution presented and a great many are the smaller sums of fifty cents and one dollar, but the larger gifts of five dollars to twenty-five dollars which we have received have helped considerable to increase the total to date.

LOCKE - LANIER

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Mrs. Charles O. Locke and Charles E. Lanier on Saturday, December 8, at Miami Shores Presbyterian Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Luther Price of Miami, former pastor of the Sebring Presbyterian church.

Following their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Lanier made a short trip to Key West and Havana. They are now at home in Avon Park.

Congregational Christmas Services

Christmas music will be a feature of the morning services at the Union Congregational Church Sunday, December 23, at 11 o'clock.

A soprano solo, "Holy Night" by Adams, will be sung by Mrs. John P. Garber, Jr. The chancel choir will sing two anthems: "Bethlehem" by Wilson, with Mysrel Appelgren, tenor soloist; and "Christmas JubHate" by Wilson.

The Rev. H. D. Graetz will preach to the subject, "The Right Side of Christmas."

The Sunday School of the church will have its annual Christmas party tonight (Friday) in the Church House at 7 o'clock. Santa Claus is scheduled to visit the youngsters.

In spite of bad weather, the church was crowded Tuesday night when the Chancel Choir presented "The Nativity", a cantata based on traditional Christmas hymns and carols.

The nativity window was lighted at the close of the program. The beautiful stained glass cross on the exterior of the church, bearing Easter symbols, was illuminated for the first time since its installation last month.

Rare Old Piano Found In Barn

An antique piano, thought to be a museum piece, and made of solid African rosewood, a wood now rarer than rubies, is in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Weekley here. Mr. Weekley found it discarded in a Hampton County, S.C., barn last summer, looking like a "pile of junk", and purchased it for $75.00. It was later valued at around $2500, before it was rebuilt.

Mr. Weekley and his son, Dallas, music major at Stetson University, Deland, while on a trip last summer, heard of this old piano which had been handed down in one family for about four generations. They learned that the women who had last inherited it had died, and her husband, tired of having the instrument taking up so much room in his house — the piano is a large grand — sold it for $25.00. The purchaser also tired of it, and put it in the barn, where it remained for seven years.

After buying the piano, Mr. Weekley had a difficult time finding some one who could rebuild it. It had, of course, greatly deteriorated, and its tone was not good. At last, H. W. Cornett of Brandon, Fla., who has worked with pianos for 42 years, repaired it. He suggested that the instrument should be valued by a musuem, stating that it is the second of its kind he has ever seen. It is a Kgnarppe, three notes short of the modern piano range.

Mr. Weekley has kindly invited anyone who would like to see this piano to call at his home, 297 E. Canfield.

Church of Redeemer Christmas Services

The traditional festal celebration of the Mass will take place at the Church of the Redeemer beginning at midnight on the Vigil of the Nativity (Christmas Eve). December 24. Two masses on each of the days will be held on Christmas Day. The Rev. John Q. Crumbley is the celebrant.

Preparation for the festal eucharist will be made in the parish church on the Vigil of the Nativity beginning at 7 P.M. when the Litany will be read. The sacrament of Penance will follow at 7:30.

The children of the Church School will present a Christmas skit and be visited by Santa Claus in the Parish House following the children's Christmas service which will begin in the parish church at 4 P.M. on Sunday December 23.

The Holy Communion will be celebrated on December 26, the Feast of St. Stephen, December 27, the Feast of St. John, and December 28, the Feast of the Holy Innocents. These three Masses will be said at 10 A.M.

In preparation for the Sunday after Christmas, confessions will be heard on the Feast of St. Thomas of Canterbury, Saturday December 29, beginning at 7 P.M. Only one celebration of the Holy Communion will be said on the Sunday after Christmas, this celebration to begin at 7:30 A.M. The eleven o'clock hour will be given over to the traditional English lesson and carol service.

Tuesday January 1, being the Feast of the Circumcism, the Holy Communion will be celebrated at 10 o'clock.

You May Be Eligible For Social Security

Changes made in the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance benefits by the 1950 Social Security Act Amendments have had a noticeable effect on the Public Welfare Programs in Florida, according to W. E. Arnold, Manager of the Lakeland Social Security office.

The provision making it possible for persons aged 65 and over to qualify for monthly benefits if they have six quarters of employment under Social Security affected many people who were receiving assistance payments, qualifying them for Old-Age insurance monthly benefits. There were also many widows and children who were getting welfare payments who became eligible for Social Security payments because of other changes in the Social Security laws.

"For all of these folks who were affected by the changes in the Social Security laws, the new income from Social Security payments made it possible for the State to reduce the amount they were receiving from the State, and in many cases the payments could be stopped altogether," Arnold said.

There are still many people in this area over 65 years of age and no longer working who have at some time worked for a year and a half under Social Security. These persons are eligible for Social Security retirement payments if they apply for them. Arnold urges that anyone meeting these requirements get in touch with his office, in order to find out how they stand.

Rotary Meeting

The Rotary Club was served a fine turkey dinner at their regular meeting Wednesday, and were entertained by a quartet of its members singing appropriate songs of the Yuletide.

Miss Arlene Sargent who plays the piano for the Club was presented a gift of appreciation by the Club.

The Club members will entertain the college students who are home for the Holidays at the next meeting, Wednesday, December 26.

Ray P. Waite, project manager for Burns and Roe, Consultant Engineers, who are building the addition to the Florida Power Corporation plant in this city, delivered a very interesting talk on the project and the services the FPC is rendering to the state of Florida. We hope to publish his talk in next week's issue of the Sun.

Visiting Rotarians were, Elgin Bayless and Allen Intz of Sebring. Art Kinney had as his guest George Allen, auditor of Burns and Roe.

From November through April, Florida's woods are easily burned. Be careful.

Five-Room House Built In A Hurry

Tuesday, December 4, the materials for constructing a three-bedroom house, with living room, kitchen, utility room and bath, were unloaded in Avon Park. The following Friday, when the Sun reporter saw the house, it was almost ready for occupancy.

The house, erected by R. C. Cramer of Stroudsburg, Pa., on his Lake Vigo property, is a prefabricated Gunnison dwelling. With the house come all its fixtures, such as heating unit, plumbing, electric hot water heater, etc. Door and metal-framed windows (including a picture window) are already set in panels. Usually, when one of these houses is set up, walks are also laid and the lot landscaped, so that it is left as an absolutely complete dwelling.

Mr. Cramer's house will be used as winter vacation home by his sons and daughter and their families.

The setting-up of the house was supervised by T. C. Wilkins, Mr. Cramer's employee, who, with his wife and three children, combined a trip to Florida with this work. Mr. Wilkins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wilkins, who are staying in Avon Park for their second winter.

WEBBER COLLEGE CLASSES OPEN TO PUBLIC

Babson Park, Florida — Dr. Palmer T. Hogenson, President of Webber College, Babson Park, announces a series of late afternoon classes to be open to the public during the winter term, January 7 through March 17, 1952. There will be a nominal tuition fee for each course.

Included in this program are classes in Principles of Nutrition, Home and Interior Decoration, and Problems of the Consumer under the direction of Mrs. Frances Warne, Amherst, Massachusettes. Mrs. Warne is a graduate of Cornell university and is a professional interior decorator by occupation. Mrs. Helen L. Watson, popular instructor in Retailing, is offering a course in Personal Grooming as part of the late afternoon program.

Mr. John Long, who is charge of the General Business and Investments program at Webber, will have a class in Stock Markets and Investments. In many communities where such a course has been made available, especially to women, facilities have been swamped by applications for instruction along this line.

In addition to these courses, made available for the first time, the general public is again invited to the forum lectures to be held each Wednesday evening for eight weeks beginning January 9th. Special announcements will be made regarding the speakers and the subjects. All of the forums are offered without charge.

AUTOMOBILE GRAVEYARDS MUST BE CLEANED

Operators of automobile "graveyards" in Highlands county are now required to get their old cars moving to market to help the nation solve its present problem of steel shortages, or they may be found in violation of Federal regulations.

According to information received here from Merrill C. Lofton, regional director of the U.S. Department of Commerce in Atlanta, the Natinonal Production Authority has just issued an order under which owners of automobile "graveyards" must send that agency an inventory report by December 20 detailing the number of motor vehicles, car units and amount of loose scrap they had on hand on December 1 of this year.

The order makes it mandatory for prompt and complete compliance with any directives issued by NPA to allocate motor vehicles, car units and loose scrap from yards for delivery or disposal to scrap dealers or consumers.

The sum and substance of the NPA order, Mr. Lofton said, is to make it a Federal offense for any owner of an automobile "graveyard" to keep his old cars on the yard and not get them into commercial scrap channels. Compliance investigators working out of the Atlanta regional and district offices will conduct a periodic check to make certain there are no violations of the order, and if any are found the offenders will be subject to penalties provided in the Defense Production Act of 1951, he said.

It pays to read and use the want ads.

National Emblem

The Bird Woman

We recently wrote about our national song bird, and now we would like to write about the bird that is our national emblem.

The bald eagle has been our national bird ever since George Washington became our first president.

But as astute as we as a nation boast of being, yet it took us until June, 1940, before we got around to giving this bird federal protection, and by that time it was fast becoming extinct. In fact, of the 48 states, only two (Florida being one of them) can boast of having the bald eagle in any number, and as we know it is getting very scare in Florida.

We are about to allow the same thing to happen to the bald eagle in Alaska, where there has been a bounty on the head of the eagle and only an act of Congress can save it from annihilation in Alaska.

There was a very revealing article in the December "Reader's Digest" on this subject. We hope you will read it and pass it along to some school child, who would be glad to have it to put in the "Bird Book" that the intermediate grades are preparing.

As has been explained, the bald eagle is really not bald headed, but the white on its head makes it appear bald.

These white feathers on head and neck do not appear until the eagle is three or five years old, and it is often mistaken for other birds during this early phase.

If you notice an eagle soaring high in the air, you may mistake it for a distant airplane, as its wings reach straight from the body as the wings of an airplane.

One of the most interesting things about the eagle is the nest it builds. Most birds build a nest of some variety, and after its brood is old enough to fly, the nest is abandoned, but not so the eagle. To it a nest is as home, and as long as this pair lives the nest is in use, and if either of the pair dies, the other selects another mate and brings it back to the old "homestead".

That no doubt is the reason the eagle is so careful in selecting a home site. There is an old saying that if a pair of eagles are seen on the limb of a tree, facing different directions, that they have selected this as their nesting place.

The nests are added to each year and after a few years the nest is sometimes six feet deep. In this nest-home the first brood remains for months, and other eggs are laid and incubated while the first brood remains in the nest.

The parents are good providers and keep the nest heaped with food about 80 percent of which is fish.

It seems no one has told the eagles about "deep freeze" or refrigeration, and although it would be interesting as far as the eye is concerned to have the eagle's nest low enough so we could watch the rearing and feeding of the family, yet it seems the Creator knew best when the eagle was taught to place its nest from 30 to 140 feet in the air.

Look at your money, both coins and bills, and see how many have the bald eagle on them.

Christmas Hollies Of Florida

By CAROL H. BECK
Botanist, Florida Park Service

Tallahassee — Holly may have given the colors of red and green for Christmas because in snowy countries where the trees have lost their leaves, it was difficult to find colorful decorations, in the long ago before colored paper was available.

Florida has many beautiful trees of American holly, especially where northern trees count southern trees in such places as Florida Caverns State Park, near Marianna; Torreya State Park, near Bristol; O'Leno State Park, near High Springs; and Gold Head Branch State Park, near Keystone Heights.

But Florida has other hollies. There is a tropical holly of the Everglades holly that grows as a small bush on our sandhills. Best of all, there is the richom, or Dahoon holly which, if it grows taller and had thorns on its leaves could pass for the finest tree of American holly.

While we find dahoon, tropical holly, and American holly, I have yet to see it frequently in other parts of Florida, noticeably at Highlands Hammock State Park, Myakka River State Park and at Hugh Taylor Birch State Park, Fort Lauderdale. However, it is fruiting, it puts on a fine display of color which lasts for months and for outdoors use for Advent holly is green leaves and red berries.

Mystery Photograph Labelled Fake

The photograph described in last week's issue, reported to show an image of Christ in the clouds of a Korean sky, was faked, according to Time magazine for December 3, 1951, although its first maker probably did not intend to deceive.

Time's story relates that Air Force Staff Sergeant Roy C. Burnham walked into the Savannah Morning News with an identical picture in color, which he had obtained from an Air Force photo laboratory technician in England in 1944. The technician, whose name Burnham did not remember, said he had taken a picture of a B-17 bombing mission over Europe and painted in the picture of Christ. He planned to sell pictures to airmen as souvenirs.

The picture first brought to the Sun is somewhat vague, and could possibly, although not probably, have been formed by clouds; it shows only a suggestion of one upraised arm. The reproduction in Time is clearer, with both arms and hands dimly revealed. The Sun reporter has seen another version, reproduced on a religious tract sent from Intercession City, with the image very obviously resembling a drawing or painting, with all detail, such as the hands and fingers, distinctly outlined.

Merry Christmas

To Our Friends:

Again as Christmas approaches we welcome the opportunity of expressing in a small way how much your friendship means to us.

In and uncertain world, such as we face today, it is good to know that we live in America — one of the few places where freedom is still a reality — where you and I can follow the occupation of our choice — where we can serve one another in a friendly, sincere and honest way.

We are deeply grateful for the privilege of serving you. We sincerely appreciate your friendship — and we hope it will be our good fortune and privilege to continue serving you for a long time to come.

May you have a very Merry Christmas, with 1952 filled with good health, success and much happiness.

Sincerely,

Avon Auto Supply, Inc.

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

By H. E. Garrett, Pastor, First Methodist Church

A few days many a man will be saying: "For Christmas she got me given socks and red ties, just the thing for the right place, but wanting for her eyes?"

One has only to look around to recognize that our Christmases each year are becoming largely a matter of buying and selling. There is more and more of Santa Claus and less and less of Christ — more of "celebration" and less of meditation. The true meaning of the season has been hidden beneath tinsel and colored lights. The song of the angels has been drowned beneath the burst of firecrackers. The spirit of sharing has been obscured by thoughts of expected gifts.

"I shall keep Christ for Christmas,
And let no gift of mine,
Fail to convey His message;
Then, be it small or fine.
Price tags will have no meaning,
For over a manger's rim
Recipient's eyes close leaning,
Will surely, first, see Him!"

This is the message of Christmas. It is the birthday of the Redeemer, and it ought to be a season of reverence, of brotherhood, of self-giving.

It is the season of childhood. St. Paul admonished us to put away childish things, but no one ever told us to put away childish virtues of pure love, simplicity, sincerity, faith, and hope. Since this is the child's season we adults ought to try to capture some of these virtues for ourselves. James Russell Lowell was thinking of these no doubt when he wrote the following lines:

"For they who to their childhood cling,
And keep their natures fresh as morn,
Once more shall hear the angels sing
"Today, the Prince of Peace is Born!"

It is the season of brotherhood, too. Jesus is the Saviour of all or He is the Saviour of none. The world is in its present predicament because we haven't yet learned to say "Our Brother." The beginnings of brotherhood are in simple things: Love for neighbors, love for servants, love for the grocer, love for the postman, love for relatives and little children.

Christmas is also a time when unselfish giving ought to be the order of the day. Think of someone who won't have any Christmas and give him something. It will be a happier Christmas if you will give yourself away, if only in more kind words and your brightest smile.

Christmas should be a time for reverence. It is no occasion for drunken revelling. Simple things can express our love and our appreciation for our Lord: Things like staying at home with our families and sharing the day; a worship period of rememberance when all the family and any guests gather in a circle around the table to offer thanksgiving for Christ's coming and to read the New Testament account of his birth; visiting sick and shut-in friends; writing letters to old friends telling them again the age-old Christmas story.

PRAYER: Lord of Christmas, come into our hearts this happy season. Take from us all that is unkind and cold. Put within us an understanding of Christmas in its true meaning, and help us to celebrate it in the spirit of your Son. Amen.

"It's his super lubricator."

We do SUPER lubricating, to be sure. We know where - we know how - and we know what to use. Drive in for that regular lubrication . . . for gasoline, too.

Christmas Tea At Hartt Home

Clusters of gold and silver balls and greenery outlined the stairway at the lovely home of Mrs. Earl Hartt on Lotela Road, Thursday, December 13, when she entertained members of the two circles of the Avon Park Garden Club at the annual Christmas tea.

Mrs. Joseph Lander, Mrs. G. A. Woodward and Mrs. L. D. McGibboney, co-hostesses for this delightful affair greeted guests in the dining room. Emphasizing the holiday theme, the tea table was covered with a green linen cloth and centered with a minature silvered tree. Pouring during the afternoon were Mrs. Walter Betts, president of Founder's Circle and Mrs. Viola Alderman, president of Hibiscus Circle.

The business meeting held on the terrace overlooking the lake, preceded the tea. Members brought toys for the Christmas baskets and flower arrangements to be taken to Walker Memorial Hospital for the holiday season.

About sixty guests enjoyed the hospitality of the charming hostess on this occasion.

Business Women Dinner Meeting

The Business and Professional Woman's Club celebrated the Christmas season with a dinner at the Avon Park Cafe Monday night.

A turkey dinner with all proper accompaniments was served on a table decorated with Brazilian peppers, poinsettias, and chrysanthemums.

After dinner, members played bingo.

Hostesses were Vera Sellers, Estelle McGinnis, Millie Pearson, Eileen Babcock, Sarah Sellers.

Present were: Ruth Quintier, Suzanne Wing, Kay Giddens, Eileen Babcock, Barbara Sachsenmaier, Rosemary Cason, Clara McCreary, Chloe Lookhoff, Vera Sellers, Estelle McGinnis, Emma Bussard, Edna Cox, Carol Hill, Mary King, Margie Capwell, Ann Wilhite, Tommy Hall, Clara Bigbie, Ethel Williamson, Mattie Tompkins, Millie Pearson, Sarah Sellers, Allie Cain, Neva Atherton, and Margaret Stewart.

Poinciana Lodge Enjoys Bar-B-Cue

Poinciana Lodge No. 227 F. and A.M. held its last regular meeting for this year on December 17, and at this meeting Father F. M. Butler, A. A. Simpson, Z. B. Childers, and K. L. Massey were raised to the sublime degree of a master Mason.

But before the meeting, Demos Mandis "done it again"—as usual — with his famous bar-b-cue chicken. Always, when you say Mandis bar-b-cue is going to be served, there is not even standing room left.

This chicken supper was not served altogether in honor of the candidates taking the master's degree, but also celebrated the birthday of one of the members who has for many years been very active in the York Rite body of Masonry — Reason Shivers, better known as Pete. Also, honor was paid to the retiring worshipful master, Roy E. Seims, who has served Poinciana Lodge faithfully this year.

In behalf of the members and all who were present, Roy takes his hat off to Demos Mandis for the fine bar-b-cue and all who served on this committee, especially the ladies.

There were almost 50 different lodges represented at this meeting, some from as far away as Canada. We welcomed these visitors.

The new officers will be installed at the first regular meeting in January.

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

By H. E. Garrett, Pastor, First Methodist Church

Santa Claus made a man will be coming. For Christmas she put the green socks and red ties, which is in the right place, but what of her eyes?

One has only to look around to recognize that our Christmases each year are becoming largely a matter of buying and selling. There is more and more of Santa Claus and less and less of Christ — more of "celebration" and less of meditation. The true meaning of the season has been hidden beneath tinsel and colored lights. The song of the angels has been drowned beneath the burst of firecrackers. The spirit of sharing has been obscured by thoughts of expected gifts.

"I shall keep Christ for Christmas,
And let no gift of mine,
Fail to convey His message;
Then, be it small or fine,
Price tags will have no meaning,
For over a manger's rim
Recipient's eyes close leaning,
Will surely, first, see Him!"

This is the message of Christmas. It is the birthday of the Redeemer, and it ought to be a season of reverence, of brotherhood, of self-giving.

It is the season of childhood. St. Paul admonished us to put away childish things, but no one ever told us to put away childish virtues of pure love, simplicity, sincerity, faith, and hope. Since this is the child's season we adults ought to try to capture some of these virtues for ourselves. James Russell Lowell was thinking of these no doubt when he wrote the following lines:

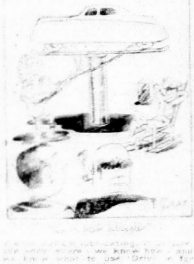

"For they who to their childhood cling,
And keep their natures fresh as morn,
Once more shall hear the angels sing
'Today, the Prince of Peace is Born!'"

It is the season of brotherhood, too. Jesus is the Saviour of all or He is the Saviour of none. The world is in its present predicament because we haven't yet learned to say "Our Brother." The beginnings of brotherhood are in simple things: Love for neighbors, love for servants, love for the grocer, love for the postman, love for relatives and little children.

Christmas is also a time when unselfish giving ought to be the order of the day. Think of someone who won't have any Christmas and give him something. It will be a happier Christmas if you will give yourself away, if only in more kind words and your brightest smile.

Christmas should be a time for reverence. It is no occasion for drunken revelling. Simple things can express our love and our appreciation for our Lord. Things like staying at home with our families and sharing the day; a worship period of remembrance when all the family and any guests gather in circle around the table to offer thanksgiving for Christ's coming and to read the New Testament account of his birth; visiting sick and shut-in friends; going afield to old friends telling them again the age-old Christmas story.

PRAYER: Lord of Christmas, come into our hearts this happy season. Teach us all that is important, and help us to live without fear, and with the spirit of forgiveness and love, and with the spirit of Christ. Amen.

Poinciana Lodge Enjoys Bar-B-Cue

Poinciana Lodge No. 227 F. and A.M. held its last regular meeting for this year on December 17, and at this meeting Father F. M. Butler, A. A. Simpson, Z. B. Childers, and K. L. Massey were raised to the sublime degree of a master Mason.

But before the meeting, Demos Mandis "done it again"—as usual — with his famous bar-b-cue chicken. Always, when you say Mandis bar-b-cue is going to be served, there is not even standing room left.

This chicken supper was not served altogether in honor of the candidates taking the master's degree, but also celebrated the birthday of one of the members who has for many years been very active in the York Rite body of Masonry — Reason Shivers, better known as Pete. Also, honor was paid to the retiring worshipful master, Roy E. Seims, who has served Poinciana Lodge faithfully this year.

In behalf of the members and all who were present, Roy takes his hat off to Demos Mandis for the fine bar-b-cue and all who served on this committee, especially the ladies.

There were almost 50 different lodges represented at this meeting, some from as far away as Canada. We welcomed these visitors.

The new officers will be installed at the first regular meeting in January.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

I've just learned that when Santa Claus finishes his year's work this Christmas he is planning to remain in Florida for a few days and rest up. You see the old boy is a tourist at heart and he just can't resist the charms of Florida.

Here is how it all came about. The enterprising citizens of Lakeland have invited the Pop Warner Foundation, sponsors of National Midget Football, to hold its championship play-off there between Christmas and New Year's. The invitation has been accepted and the four top-rating Midget Football Teams of the nation will meet in the Santa Claus Bowl December 28.

There are over 1,500 Midget Football Teams scattered throughout the country and elimination contests leave four teams that will compete for the National Championship at Lakeland. They are from the following cities: Las Vegas, Nevada; Omaha, Nebraska; Roanoke, Virginia and New Orleans, Louisiana.

Traveling by train or bus these four crack midget teams will arrive in Lakeland on December 26. Since rules of the National Foundation do not permit them to stay in hotels, each boy will be assigned to a Lakeland home, where parents with children of the same age will be their father and mother while they are there.

These midget teams are composed of boys not over 13 years of age or weighing more than 103 pounds. Don's get it into your head that because they are small, they can't play football.

Folks who have seen some of their games say they put on a show that compares with the best of the big teams. They are fast as greased lightning, can squirm through a rat hole and put everything they've got into the game. The Pop Warner Foundation sponsors these youngsters on a non-profit basis as a means of developing character, civic pride, respect for property, a competitive spirit and leadership.

The games will be sandwiched in between parades, bonfires, pep rallies and sightseeing tours over the four-day period. The event will be broadcast nationwide over the Mutual network with top flight sports announcers handling the microphone. National sports writers will cover the games, and newsreel and television camera men will be on hand to record the events. All Florida will benefit by the national interest and publicity it will develop.

Colorful ceremonies will include a gigantic street parade headed by the Third Air Force band from MacDill Field, queen contest for the selection of the Little Miss Midget Football and presentation of beautiful trophies.

Before leaving Florida these youngsters and their chaperones will be given an opportunity to see as much of the state as possible. They will be taken on tours of the citrus and phosphate areas, entertained at Cypress Gardens and Silver Springs and other points of interest.

Recognizing the importance of the event, Fight Cancer, Inc. has arranged to have the famed Damon Runyon Cancer Barrel in the parade attended by a U.S. Marine Corp color guard.

While the barrel is a long way from full, it already contains several thousand dollars in the form of contributions as a result of its appearance at similar events. The hope of the sponsors is that it will be filled and running over by the time the next Watermelon Festival rolls around, which will be just one year from the time it began its journey of mercy. At that time it will be turned over to the Damon Runyon Foundation and every penny contributed during the year will go into the fund with no deductions of any kind, since expenses of the campaign are all paid by officers and directors of Fight Cancer, Inc. as a personal contribution.

The ideal of raising a barrel of money to fight cancer was conceived by Major Reardon of the Marine Corps after he lost a very near and dear relative to the dread killer. Approval was given for the effort by the Damon Runyon Foundation and the campaign was launched to run for a period of one year.

During the coming fair and festival season the big barrel, and it is big, will appear at such events as the Orange Bowl Festivities, Florida State Fair, Gasparilla Carnival, Florida Citrus Exposition, Festival of States and others. You can make a real contribution to the fight against cancer by tossing your loose change in the barrel when the opportunity is presented.

A new type of panel window which can be installed as a single unit or to form a window-wall is expected by Libbey-Owens-Ford architectural consultants to start a new trend for using Thermopane insulating glass for all windows in a home, not just the "show window."

Rotary Hears About FPC and Electricity

Talk by Mr. R. P. Waite, Construction Superintendent , of Burns and Roe, Inc., Engineers and Constructors of Florida Power Corporation's Avon Park Plant Extension, Avon Park, Florida.

To Members of The Rotary Club of Avon Park, Florida. December 19, 1951.

Today, I want to talk with you about electricity. That thing which Edison described as a form of energy - a kind of energy that is perhaps the nearest thing to atomic energy without being a form of nuclear atomic reaction.

Electricity is about the only thing we use in daily life that we never see. We see the effects of it's heating wires to incandescence and in the rotation of motors, but the energy itself is invisible. We can't show electricity to you or have you taste it, smell it or hear it, but we will try and tell you simply how electricity is made and delivered to you. We will also tell you a little about the Company which serves you with this form of energy and about the new plant extension which is now in progress in your city.

The manufacture or generation of electric energy is different from any other type of manufacturing business. The Florida Power Corporation cannot manufacture its product ahead of time and store it away until you are ready to use it. Their job is to have plenty of power ready for you the moment you want it.

All this takes a lot of planning and a lot of the investors' money. The Florida Power Corporation's investment at present is $91,900,780.00. This represents an investment of $582.00 for every customer served or $57,908.00 for every employee or $6,126.00 for every common stockholder. The huge power pool available now is 242,300 kilowatts from Steam, Diesel and Hydro-electric plants. There is now under construction, new plants and generating facility increases which will raise this power pool to 408,300 kilowatts by 1954.

The future of Florida depends on an adequate power supply. The future of the Florida Power Corporation is in the use of the energy by the new industries. Thus, working hand in hand together, they will carve out in this great state a brilliant and successful future, industrially.

Many of you may wonder just what is meant when we speak of a kilowatt hour. We all know that working a horse for one hour would represent one horsepower-hour. Now, a horse-power is 746 watts and a kilowatt or 1,000 watts, is approximately one and a third horses. A kilowatt hour woud represent the energy of one and one third horses for one hour.

Do you think that you could rent the use of a horse for say, three cents per hour? I hardly think that you do - yet, you get a kilowatt hour of electricity which is equivalent to one and one third horses for three cents or less.

Before telling you about the new Avon Park power plant extension, it might be of interest to learn a little about the growth of the Florida Power Corporation, for its growth really is a barometer of the growth of the great state of Florida. What we now know as the Florida Power Corporation had its humble beginning in St. Petersburg, on August 5, 1897, in a small plant at the foot of Central Avenue. This first plant consisted of a wood burning boiler and a 50 kilowatt generator, operating from sunset to midnight only. This plant lighted only a few hotels and homes of the wealthier people nearby. As the cost of energy was twenty-cents per kilowatt hour, not many people could afford this new fangled thing call "electric service", according to a local St. Petersburg paper.

About the same time that the St. Petersburg plant was started, G. A. Louden of Clearwater started in the ice business in Tarpon Springs and, incidentally, generated a few kilowatt hours for use around that town. The late Jacob Disston (of Disston Saw fame), together with Frank E. Davis of Philadelphia, were the main instigators behind both of these pioneering electrical operations. However, it remained for E. A. Fitkin, one of the early men in the utility holding company program, to put the Pinellas County operation together under the

The Avon Park, "Red Devils", football squad was guest of the Hilans theatre management Monday evening December 17 and was called on to the stage to announce who they had voted the Outstanding Lineman of the 1951 season. Mayor Sauls, Jr. presented the Hilans Theatre trophy to Bruce Spencer.

Babson Reports On Business And Financial Outlook 1952

B. Roger W. Babson

1. Excluding defense orders, the total business volume in 1952 will be less than that for 1951. However, National Income in 1952 will be very high, as war orders take the place of peace production.

Government Controls

2. The outstanding feature of 1952 — barring all-out war — will be the Presidential Election on November 4, 1952. I comment further upon this under paragraph 48.

3. The Administration and its economic advisors appear firmly convinced that radical inflation is about to break out next year. But the "brain trusters" are overlooking the fact that the boom is already old and it was creaking badly when the Korean War broke out. The date of the slide has only moved ahead.

4. Farm income will continue high in 1952.

5. As 1952 wears on, the effect of controls, increased taxes, and high prices will cause a decline in legitimate business. If civilian production declines too much, the public may then cry, "This is a government-made slump; let's change the Administration."

6. If in 1952 it becomes evident that business is declining too much as a result of government curbs, the planners at Washington will rush their patient into an oxygen tent.

Labor Outlook

7. Many labor groups will be successful in getting another round of wage increases in 1952. Although there may be more important strikes in the first part of 1952, there should be a decline in work stoppages in the last half year.

8. Tightness in the labor supply will continue through 1952, particularly of highly-skilled workers. Wages of such workers will be advanced voluntarily in order to hold them.

9. The Taft-Hartley Law will not be repealed during 1952, but may be amended. The Administrators of the Law will continue to wink at some of its clauses.

Commodity Prices Will Remain Firm

10. Wholesale prices of many commodities will suffer a mild decline in 1952 when compared with the price level for December 31, 1951. In some lines the drop may be quite steep from the high levels of 1951. Retail prices for 1952 will hold steady.

11. Commodity speculation for a rise will not pay in 1952. Furthermore, our expanding stockpiles of strategic materials present a real price threat in the event of a peace scare. Such stockpiles could then act strongly as a depressant on prices. Wise merchants will operate with only a conservative inventory.

12. The cost of living will remain high during 1952. This prediction recognizes that living costs next year may continue above the lower levels that existed during the first half of the year now closing. I also predict further rises in freight and passenger rates.

Farm Outlook Good

13. Congress will not take any action during 1952 to legally bolster so-called Fair Trade price maintenance. It's too risky politically when consumers are complaining about the cost of living. But, some manufacturers will tighten up on distributors, eliminating those who won't sign Fair Trade contracts.

14. Barring crop failures, the total supply of food available should be larger in 1952 than for 1951, since the government will raise planting quotas as part of its attack on inflation. If the weather is extremely favorable, the government will be asked to give away surplus crops.

15. With prospects good for a rising supply of feed grains, most meat should be more plentiful next year than in 1951. Prices for beef, however, will be held up by high wages and military needs.

Local Taxes Will Be Higher

16. The burden of Federal taxes, both corporate and personal, will not be increased again during 1952 above the advance late in 1951. State and Municipal taxes, however, will go higher again.

17. The above forecast is based on the assumption that unless Stalin starts World War III during the early months of 1952, he has made up his mind to forget World War III until the United States and our Allies again "Go to sleep", which may be some years hence. We give this as a definite prediction as to the outlook for World War III.

18. There are three ways of preventing inflation: (1) increased production; (2) decreased spending; and (3) as a last resort, increased taxes. I forecast that the current exploitation and accompanying fear of inflation are not yet at their peaks for this business cycle.

19. States and Municipalities will again be under pressure to find adequate resources of revenue. Further increases in sales taxes by State and Municipalities can be looked for next year.

20. There will be no increase in "luxury taxes" during 1952.

Domestic Trade Uncertain

21. Credit curbs will continue to hold down the demand for automobiles and certain household equipment. Completions of fewer dwellings will also act as a damper on furniture sales.

22. Falling demand for hard goods should stimulate the public's spending for food and lower-priced soft goods.

23. The above trend forecast will mean a decline in department store volume. I predict a rise in the sales of variety and drug chains.

Foreign Trade Outlook

24. I believe that armament is to become a new and permanent industry, at least for many years to come. Airplanes, tanks, artillery, guns, and munitions will constantly be replaced as they become obsolete. This new activity will operate much as the automobile industry has operated. I forecast that this will be more and more recognized throughout 1952.

25. Barring new war developments, I look for continued shrinkage in our civilian exports during 1952. Imports, however, may rise further. Exports to South America will be off. Total foreign trade should not be changed much, but the exporters will be on the short end of this business with the importers gaining.

26. Except for war supplies, it will become more difficult to convince Congress that additional heavy credits should be granted abroad.

27. Many domestic manufacturers will feel increasing competition from foreign merchandise. A cry for increased tariff protection will be heard; but no radical tariff legislation will result.

More Deficit Financing

28. The first quarter of 1952 may actually see a budget surplus as a result of high National Income and increased taxation. But, a Federal deficit will surely arise during the balance of the year.

29. Government loans will gradually increase during 1952 and there will be some strengthening of basic interest rates.

Ridge Club Game To Aid Scholarship

Former APHS football players will play again in the area Saturday night, when the Ridge Club, composed of University of Florida students from this section, divides itself into North and South teams to wage its annual gridiron battle.

Proceeds of the game will go to further the worthy purposes of the Ridge Club, which include the support of a scholarship awarded to a deserving high school student from one of the six town represented in the club.

The game will be played Saturday, December 29, 8:00 P.M., at the Lake Wales Athletic Field. Adult tickets are 75c; students, 35c.

Students from Avon Park, Sebring, and Lake Placid make up the South or rebel team. The North team is composed of men from Lake Wales, Frostproof, and Fort Meade.

The Ridge Club, founded in the fall of 1946, its members being University students from the six ridge towns named above, was established for the following purposes:

To support the scholarship already mentioned.

To make for better relationships among the students attending the University from the Ridge Section.

To create an interest in the University of Florida by giving various social functions in honor of high school students of the towns recognized as being members of the Ridge Club in its charter.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES AT CHURCH OF NAZARENE

Reverend Edward R. Ferguson, Irish immigrant and active minister for the past nineteen years, will begin an evangelistic campaign in the Church of the Nazarene, on January 2, 1952 and continue through January 13, 1952, according to Reverend J. D. Benson, pastor of the congregation. Everyone is invited to attend the services, which will begin at 7:30 o'clock each evening. Special music for the campaign will be under the direction of Mrs. Ferguson, noted gospel and radio singer.

A successful pastor for many years and former superintendent of the Ontario District of the Church of the Nazarene, Reverend Ferguson was born in Belfast, Ireland, and came to America in 1922. During the meeting he will relate his life story and tell of his experience during the Irish Rebellion of 1916.

An active Sunday-school and young people's worker, Mrs. Ferguson carried her own program over a radio network for three years. At the present time she and her husband maintain their home in Port Huron, Michigan.

DR. SEDLEY LYNCH WARE

Dr. Sedley Lynch Ware, 83, died Friday, December 21, at Walker Memorial Hospital. Dr. Ware was a retired professor of history at the University of the South. He was born in Jackson, Miss., and came to Avon Park three months ago from Sewanee, Tenn. He was a member of the Episcopal church.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Alice Ware; three daughters, Mrs. Mary W. Daniel, Knoxville, Tenn., Mrs. Elizabeth W. Ford, New York City, and Mrs. Alice W. Pember, London, England; and two sons, Capt. William L. Ware, USN, Charleston, S.C., and William Porter Ware, of Sewanee, Tenn.

The remains were forwarded to Sewanee for funeral services and interment there. Mizelle Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

C. Wever, Erskine College, Due West, S.C.; Stanley Kelsey, Georgia Tech; Wendell Driggers, Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn.; Gene Cruse, Emory University, Atlanta; Lillie May Collins, Stetson University; Bill Brodie, Dental College, University of Maryland.

Civil Air Patrol Cadets

Members of the Avon Park Civil Air Patrol Cadet Flight held an organization meeting at the Youth Center last week and the following Cadets were chosen as the administrative group for the Flight unit:

Louis Lagoni, 1st Lieut.; Franklin Welch, 2nd Lieut.; Bill Jones, 1st Sgt.; Tom Moore, Cpl.; Tom Maxwell, Cpl.; Darryl Edwards, Pfc.; Glenn Welch, Pfc.

Flight instruction for the group is under the supervision of Lt. Franklin Ward of Avon Park and Operations officer for the Highlands County Civil Air Patrol Squadron. Interesting meetings of the Cadets have been held each week in Avon Park and special meetings have been held each month at the CAP headquarters at the Sebring Municipal Airport and at the CAP Headquarters in Highlands County will hold a combined meeting the 2nd Sunday of each month in the future. A Link Trainer and other educational equipment are now available at the CAP Headquarters and instruction at the Sunday meeting will include navigation, flight, construction of aircraft and instrument flying.

The Cadet members are doing an outstanding job in the Highlands County CAP Squadron and the Senior members are mighty proud of these young men who have become an important cog in the wheel of CAP activities.

Seventh-day Adventists Active In Foreign Missions

Sabbath school members of the Walker Memorial Seventh-day Adventist church have given foreign mission offerings totaling $2,804.19 during 1951, H. M. Baldwin, Supt. of the Sabbath school reported this week.

To this amount will be added the special quarterly mission offering given to aid medical and educational work in Latin America.

The local church has a goal of $150.00, part of an estimated $315,000 to be collected on that day in the Adventist churches of North America. Approximately $50,000 of the offering is earmarked for construction of a surgical unit at Montemorelos, Mexico, mission hospital and new buildings for the denomination's training school at Mandeville, Jamaica.

Since the Montemorelos Hospital opened 4 years ago, 1500 patients have been hospitalized and more than 30,000 people have been cared for in the out-patient service.

With the aid of an airplane piloted by one of the missionaries, the institution serves the remotest villages in a radius of 300 miles. The flying pastor brings emergency cases to the hospital and carries doctors and nurses out to hold clinics in surrounding areas.

The nurses trained at the hospital are serving the needs of the sick in many places throughout Mexico. Ten city clinics are already in operation and the church plans to expand this medical service as fast as trained Mexican doctors and nurses are available.

The hospital is a part of a medical missionary program begun 6 years ago in Inter-America. Today the church operates 4 hospitals, 11 clinics, a medical launch and a weekly "Home and Health" radio broadcast in that area. A new 75-bed hospital will open in Puerto Rico next year.

Episcopal Services After Christmas

"The Service of the Nine Lessons" will be held in the Church of the Redeemer on the First Sunday after Christmas at 11 A.M. The service is a traditional form of the carol service in the Angelican Communion. Nine lessons are read from the Old and the New Testaments of the prophesy and the birth of our Lord. The lessons, culminating in the Prologue of St. John's Gospel, are interspersed with carols.

The public is invited to attend the service.

In addition to the 11o'clock service, the Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 7:30 A.M. and the Church School will meet in the Parish House at 9:45.

Other services during the week will include a celebration of the Holy Eucharist on the Feast of the Circumcism, January 1, at 10 A.M., and the Sacrament of Penance on the Vigil of the Epiphany, January 5, at 7 P.M.

YOUTH CENTER OPEN THIS WEEKEND

The Youth Center will be open this Friday evening and Saturday evening, from 7:30 to 10:30.

Mrs. Edwin Carter will be in charge Friday; Mrs. L. M. Lagoni on Saturday.

A letter signed by Santa Claus and bearing the postmark of the North Pole, was received by each of the 42 underprivileged families in Avon Park on Christmas morning. The letter, which was written by Mrs. Fred Montsdeoca of Gainesville, a former resident of Avon Park, informed the families that Santa had left gifts for them at the Youth Center and that they were to come there on Christmas morning to get them.

Accompanying the letter were ample bags of holiday food, and gifts of clothing and toys, all gift-wrapped. These were the Christmas cheer gifts distributed by the Christmas Committee, under the chairmanship of C. Lester Armstrong, to those unable to provide a happy holiday for themselves.

City trucks carried the gifts to the 42 families, which included 215 individuals, 130 of these being children who received enough toys purchased by the Firemen to gladden the heart of any small girl or boy. Both white and colored families were included. Children up to age 15 received gifts, the older ones being given such things as pocket knives or costume jewelry suitable to their age.

The distribution of the gifts was well organized and progressed rapidly. On the Friday evening preceding Christmas, wives of the Firemen met and gift-wrapped and labeled toys and other articles. Organizations donating clothing wrapped and labelled their gifts before turning them over to the committee.

A number of churches and organizations distributed additional Christmas baskets.

Gifts were given to a list of families which had been previously investigated as to need, a great deal of the work of clearing having been done personally by the committee chairman. A committee in the colored quarters also worked hard and efficiently, and Mr. Armstrong wishes to express his thanks to them.

The chairman of the Christmas Committee also wishes to express his gratitude to everyone—whether church, club or individual — who contributed any gift, work or money towards the success of this annual distribution.

Toys and Christmas candy were donated by the Avon Park Firemen, who have already set the date for their annual minstrel show to provide funds for Christmas, 1952. It will be March 20.

Thanks are given J. W. Earnest & Co., Wauchula, who gave dolls; to A. P. Cook and R. A. Carver for gifts of honey.

Others donatung food, clothing or money include: Seventh-day Adventist Church; Christian Science Church; Parent-Teacher Association; St. Margaret's Auxiliary of the Church of the Redeemer, and the church; Avon Park Garden Club; Junior and Senior Woman's clubs; Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church; Women of the Moose; Women's Missionary Union, Deacon's Association, and Sunday School of the First Baptist Church; Florida Avenue Baptist Church; Rotary Club; Order of the Eastern Star; American Legion and Legion Auxiliary; T. J. Ward, for Ward's Department Store; Mt. Olive Church, Beulah, Church, and City Mission (all colored).

It should also be pointed out that other organizations not listed contributed a sufficient sum last year to provide a surplus for this year, and were therefore active members of this year's Christmas Committee.

Old-Fashioned Revival

Revival services will begin at the First Pilgrim Holiness Church, located on Highway 27 No., on January 1, 1952, and will continue through January 6.

The Rev. and Mrs. P. D. Trissel and family from Battle Creek, Michigan, will have charge of these services. There will be special singing each evening by the Trissels and the Rev. Trissell will bring the message.

Prayer services in behalf of the revival are being held at 7:30 each evening December 26 through December 30. These prayer meetings are conducted by the laity and the pastor.

The pastor, the Rev. Ray Fitzgerald, extends to everyone a cordial invitation to attend each of these important services at 7:30 P.M.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Montsdeoca of Gainesville are spending the holidays in Avon Park.

Winter Guest Club News

Louie Divoll Scribe

Christmas is over. The most common phrase heard in the tourist circles has been, "I can't make this seem like Christmas." The club held its usual Christmas party Saturday evening with a very large attendance. An excellent program was presented under the able direction of Mrs. Book. Santa arrived at the proper time to distribute the gifts. Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Peter. Christmas day large groups enjoyed dinner together at various places.

Mr. Harry Gibson of St. Paris, Ohio, was recently elected to the Board of Directors to replace Mr. Rodgers who resigned. This column extends congratulations to Mr. Gibson.

Friends who remember Mr. Rodgers will be interested in his recent letter to Mr. Oppy. Because of the health of his brother, the Rodgers considered it best to go to Tucson, Arizona, this winter. They are near the University of Arizona and have the privilege of attending the lectures, plays and concerts of the University. They have joined the Winter Visitors Club which has activities similar to ours. Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers extend to their many friends in Avon Park the Holiday Greetings.

Mr. Gruber is spending some time at the Walker Memorial Hospital. Reports of his improvement are very encouraging. We extend our sympathy to both Mr. and Mrs. Gruber.

New York, New Jersey and the New England States are to be hosts and hostesses for the month of January. The group is headed by Mr. Frank Beckwith with Virginia Warwick and Louie Divoll acting as right and left bowers respectively. At this writing, plans are not fully developed, but it is safe to say that Open House will be held on New Years Day honoring the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Heath. Watch the bulletin board for further announcements. The witch's pot is brewing.

1952 will be welcomed by those who attend the dance to be held in the club room New Year's Eve. The usual good time. The usual music with Ed Patton as master of ceremonies.

Wanted — More of the male species to attend Ed Patton's dancing class on Thursday at 9:30 A.M. It's exciting! It's instructive! It's enjoyable! You'll never learn any younger. No charge.

We had a score sixty to their sixty-five so it was anyone's game. Will Eisenhower run? Me, why I'm a Taft man myself. Oh yes, I knitted two sweaters last winter. She had five hearts and made it to win the rubber. I liked that hot potato salad at our table. Aren't these tax scandals terrible? Why, this is only half of what we caught in Lake Okeechobee. It was 20 below in my town. Well, I'm glad I'm down here out of the snow.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE FOR COUNTY REACHES $2,232.65

The Christmas Seal Sale has netted the Highlands County Tuberculosis and Health Association the total sum of $2232.65 up to and including Saturday, December 22nd. This is approximately $1000 over the same period of last year. Of this sum Avon Park has realized $672.00, Sebring $1350.15, DeSoto City $45.00 and Lake Placid $160.00.

We have hoped to reach our quota of $2750.00 by January 5th of the year in which event a Christmas party will be staged. With this objective in mind reminder cards have been mailed to contributors in former years who through the oversight of business during the holiday season have forgotten to send in the seal; they have been doing their Christmas mail.

During the past week numerous individuals and organizations have contributed to our Seals of appreciation and we take this opportunity to thank them.

The State Livestock Sanitary Board has asked for a crackdown on movements of uncertified livestock into the State. It is said there is a danger of spreading disease among Florida stock unless regulations requiring incoming cattle to have health certificates are strictly enforced.

Florida Highway Patrol Director H. M. Kirkman told the Florida Trucking Association that commercial vehicles are involved in only 16 percent of the traffic accidents in Florida.

POSTING YOUR BOOKS

J. D. Benscn, pastor.
Nazarene Church

In the book of Amos. 4:12-b, we read: "Prepare to meet thy God."

Just recently, I received a letter from the United States Treasury Department of Atlanta, Ga. Upon examination of its contents I found, as in previous years, the necessary forms and helps for filing an income tax report. Each wage earner whose income is above a set amount, has to file a report each year and if the agents feel so as to do it, they may come to a business office and ask to examine its books at any time, even unexpectedly. In order to give an accurate report, the books must be posted and brought up to date.

This reminds me of the fact that another year has passed both in my business life and also spiritual life, and during this lapse of time, many have been called up unexpectedly to stand before God and give an accurate account of themselves to God. Yes, the call was given for the posting of their books and every thought, word and deed to be accounted for. Resolutions will not do now to set our spiritual books in order but we must seek God with our whole heart if we do find Him and be clear in His sight. "Success comes in cans but failure comes in can'ts."

There has been a peculiar parallel between our spiritual and governmental check-up and it is that either may at any moment come to us and demand of us an open, posted set of books. How will we measure up before God when the books of our spiritual life are posted? Will He say, "Well done" or "Depart"?

This little thought in closing:

"I have only just a minute,
Only sixty seconds in it,
Forced upon me, can't refuse it,
Didn't seek it, didn't choose it,
But it's up to me to use it.
I must suffer if I lose it,
Just a tiny little minute,
But eternity is in it."

"Yesterday is a cancelled check. Tomorrow is a promissory note. Today is ready cash. Spend it wisely."

W. J. Clapp New President of FPC

William J. Clapp, was elected president of the Florida Power Corporation by the company's board of directors, effective January 1, 1952, according to an announcement made yesterday by G. F. Woodham, local manager of FPC.

Clapp, who has been with Florida Power for 27 years, succeeds W. C. Gilman, who now becomes chairman of the company's executive committee.

Clapp has been executive vice president of the utility and brings to his post a varied background of experience in almost every department of the company. He first joined Florida Power in 1925 as an engineer after graduating from Clemson College. In 1943 he left for military service and at the close of the war was part of the staff which helped rehabilitate German and French utilities. He holds the rank of Major in the Army reserve corps of engineers and is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and other professional organizations.

The amount spent in 1950 by United States cities for each public school pupil was $246.71.

"He comes in every day trying to catch us."

If more people would drive in every day to "put us to a test" we'd be even busier than we are now. We welcome you to test our service and our courtesy.

Babson Reports on Business and Financial Outlook for 1952.

30. Government bonds will continue to be held tightly between the floor of Federal Reserve support purchases and the ceiling of Federal Reserve anti-inflation sales. Under such conditions, price changes should be negligible during 1952.

31. While Canada and South Africa have permitted "free markets" or revaluation of gold, because of increases in costs of production, the Administration is still opposed. The Gold Stock of the United States is, however, likely to be revalued, upward when the nation, in the opinion of government economists, "needs another shot of inflation." This will not be in 1952.

Stock Market and Bond Outlook

32. Until the danger of war is past, wise people who can easily do so will move out of large bomb-vulnerable cities and avoid having investments in such areas.

33. Sometime during 1952 stocks will sell lower than current quotations. This applies especially to oils and certain "blue chips".

34. Stocks now in the best position for 1952 should be many of those that have not been popular as inflation hedges in the past months. I like good chain variety store stocks, certain movie stocks and possibly the air-transportation issues.

35. Investments Trust funds, pension funds, and insurance companies may provide an excellent backlog of demand for sound Income Stocks where good values can be demonstrated.

36. Successful investors of 1952 will be those who have the patience to follow a carefully planned investment program. Such a program will emphasize diversification — not only by company and industry, but also by quality and cash.

37. Highest-grade taxable corporate bonds should hold in a narrow price range during 1952, but I see no reason for individual investors to buy them unless they are convertibles.

38. With present high income taxes, tax-exempt bonds should continue in good demand. Investors should see to it that their bond maturities are carefully diversified, with some part of their bond funds maturing each year. As there usually is not a good market for tax-exempts when an estate is liquidated, it is wise to hold only such bonds as will mature near the time of one's probable death.

Real Estate Activity

39. Much of the recent real estate boom was the result of easy credit,—almost nothing down and small payments for years hence. Under the recent legislation there will be fewer small homes built in 1952; but some credit restrictions will be modified. Mortgage money should soon be had on more liberal terms.

40. Nonessential commercial building will be hit in 1952 — but, barring World War III, controls will be lessened rather than increased.

41. The decline in new building will continue to throw a wet blanket over speculation in vacant suburban lots during 1952.

42. The scare caused by the Korean-China War and fears of an early outbreak in other sections will adversely affect the demand for big city real estate. This fear, however, is declining and many who had put their city properties up for sale are withdrawing them.

43. Small sustenance farms should hold up well in price as these continue to be valuable inflation hedges. Demand for large commercial farms, however, should weaken as the year progresses.

44. Any swing back toward rent control will act as a further dampener on new apartment house building. There is as yet no incentive to build homes for rental income, although rent control is gradually lessening.

45. Tighter credit controls will make it more difficult to improve older residential properties. Hence, the prices for these should weaken even though these are now the best buys.

46. Volume of money and credit in circulation will continue to increase to about the peak of a few years back. The big rise has been in credit. Much of the credit is "secured" by commodity and property values that can shrink greatly when defense spending ends.

Defense Orders and Politics

47. Those who can do so should attempt to get defense orders if needed to hold up production volumes and reduce overhead. Not too much profit from such war business should be expected. These contracts will be subject to tightfisted renegotiations.

48. The political outlook for 1952 will be completely dominated by jockeying for position in the Presidential race for 1952. Barring World War III, Congress will pass very little new legislation except some sops to labor and the veterans.

49. Congress will still be dominated by a conservative coalition of Northern Republicans and Southern Democrats. This North-South coalition will still be able to curb onslaughts by New Dealers.

50. Democrats, as well as Republicans, in Congress are making every effort to avoid antagonizing farmers. Again, in 1952 - as in 1948 - the farmers will hold the balance of power in the Presidential and many Congressional elections. Midwest states can make or break the Presidential candidates. The labor vote is overrated.

$7 MILLION FOR CORN-ON-THE-COB

Florida grown corn-on-the-cob, the state's newest commercial vegetable crop, cashed in more than $7 million in the 1950-1951 season.

Florida farmers have furnished green corn for local consumption since earliest times but not until the last five or six years has the crop reached significant commercial proportions, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce pointed out yesterday.

Fast harvesting and pre-cooling, attractive packaging, the development of new hybrid varieties of sweet corn and the protective use of new insecticides are the principal reasons for the rapid expansion of sweet corn production in the State.

Rotary Hears About FPC and Electricity

name of the Pinellas Lighting Company. Fitkin also acquired other small plants in Florida and thus, in rapid succession, the present 28-county system of the Florida Power Corporation was put together.

In the progress of growing in the twenties, the present Florida Power Corporation was controlled by Insul through the Seaboard Public Service Company and, later, by Hobson and his associated companies, the Associated Gas and Electric Company which was at the top of the pyramid, and then General Gas and Electric Company which, at that time (1938), controlled the Florida Power Corporation and the Florida Public Service Company operating in the eastern part of the state from Avon Park to Deland and the Georgia Power and Light Company operating in 21 southern counties of Georgia.

Under the so-called "death sentence" clause of the utility holding company act, the Florida Public Service Company, in 1945, was merged into the Florida Power Corporation, and the Georgia Power and Light Company became a subsidiary of the Florida Power Corporation.

In October of last year, after five years of operation, the present company, free of holding company control - with control located in St. Petersburg and by citizens of Florida, had paralleled five years of their greatest growth. Indicative of that five year growth is the approximate 100 percent increase in fixed capital, 59 percent increase in generating capacity and over 125 percent increase in revenue. Rates, however, have dropped from the twenty-cents per kilowatt hour to approximately three-cents per kilowatt hour on 300 kilowatt hours use of energy.

Great as the last five years of growth has been, the next five years indicate even greater progress for, at the present time, the Florida Power Corporation has, on order and under construction, 190,000 kilowatts of additional capacity to add to their 181,000 kilowatts of installed capacity, as of January 1, 1951.

During 1950, the Company reached the 150,000 mark in customers and is owned by 14,000 common stockholders and several thousand preferred stockholders, many living in Florida, and it has approximately 1500 employees.

The first unit of the new plant expansion program was completed in May 1951. This plant has been named the Higgins Plant, in honor of A. W. Higgins, former President of the Florida Power Corporation, and a pioneer in the electrical industry. This modern station has a generating capacity of 45,000 kilowatts and, when Units No. 2 and No. 3 are completed by 1953, the plant will have a generating capacity of 135,000 kilowatts. Fuel requirements for each unit, totals 550,000 barrels of fuel oil annually barged from the companies' own storage terminal at Port Tampa.

Ground was broken in September, 1951, for a new plant to be located on the Suwanee River, east of Madison, Florida. The expected completion date of this plant is 1952 and its capacity will be 31,000 kilowatts.

This brings us down to the new unit that is being added to the Avon Park plant. This new unit has a capacity of 45,000 kilowatts and, when completed in the fall of 1952, will increase the station's generating capacity nearly four times.

The structural steel for the steel skeleton of this plant will be approximately 1200 tons or over 40 freight car loads of steel. Over 200 freight car loads of material will be used in the construction of this station. This is equivalent to 10 trainloads of 20 cars each coming into Avon Park.

The boiler at this plant will be approximately 10 stories high and will produce steam at 1315 lbs. pressure 955 deg. Fahrenheit total steam temperature. This boiler will evaporate 450,000 lbs. of water per hour or approximately 60,000 gallons. In a 24 hour period this amounts to 1,440,000 gallons of water or enough water for a city of 48,000 people, based on 30 gallons use per person per day of this water. The huge steam drum on this boiler is about six feet in diameter and weighs 44 tons. There are about 49 miles of boiler tubing in this boiler.

This boiler will be fired by what is known as Bunker C oil and slightly more than 1600 barrels of fuel oil will be used per day to generate steam. The complete station will use approximately 33,600,000 gallons of oil per year or about 100,000 gallons of oil per day or ten tank cars of 10,000 gallons capacity. The volume of the furnace or fire box on this boiler is about 26,000 cubic feet, which is equivalent to a one story house 40 feet wide and 80 feet long.

The steam from this boiler will turn a turbo-generator at a speed of 3600 revolutions per minute. A point on the periphery of the widest diameter blade in this turbine will actually travel nearly 129,600 ft. per minute, or at the rate of almost 25 miles per minute. In one day's time, this point will have travelled about 35,350 miles or one and two-fifth times around the earth at the equator. In but a little more than 7 days, it will have travelled 250,000 miles or the distance from the earth to the moon.

After this steam has done its work in the turbine, it goes into what is known as a condenser, where it passes through over 45 miles of condenser tubing. Here, it is again condensed into water, returned to the boilers, again to be generated into steam. This cycle goes on every second of the day. The water in Lake Lotela is used as the condensing medium to change this steam back into water. To do this, it requires two circulating water pumps pumping into two 48" diameter pipes, each pipe completely full of water at all times. These pumps handle a capacity of 55,000 gallons per minute of water. All of this water is returned to Lake Lotela. As a matter of fact, more water is returned to the Lake than is taken from it, as drains are also returned. All drains returned to the lake in no way will be injurious either to fish life or to humans.

The condensed steam is returned to the boilers at the rate of 20,000 gallons of water per hour per pump. Each pump handles this water against a head equivalent to a 4000 foot mountain.

The turbine turns the generator rotor, which weighs 96 tons, at the rate of 3600 revolutions per minute. This huge electric magnate rotor generates magnetic waves or a magnetic flux, as it is called. This magnetic flux flowing past the miles and miles of wire on the generator stator generate an electric current flow of 13,000 volts per phase. There are three phases on this generator - each phase is the equivalent of a complete two-wire circuit.

The electric current passes through controlling switches into stepup transformers where it is stepped up to 33,000 and 66,000 volts for transmission to distant points. At points along these transmission lines, the voltage is stepped down at substations by distributions transformers to the desired distribution voltage. The black box you see on the pole in the alley is the transformer which steps down the distribution voltage to the service voltage you use in your house.

To bring this service into your home, the company utilizes many skills and each man must do his job and coordinate it with his fellow workers. Public relations or that element and desire of rendering the kind of service that you want and expect, is the task of every employee of the Florida Power Corporation.

This company, like Rotary, knows that if you are to profit most, you must serve best.

God — The Author Of Liberty

By J. R. Young, Chaplain of Walker Memorial Sanitarium and Hospital

God is the Author of liberty, and not of intolerence. And when Christ appeared on earth He upheld in His teachings, and finally with His life, the principles of religious liberty.

The first representative democracy which guaranteed to each citizen full civil and religious liberty was chartered at Providence Plantations by Roger Williams, whose doctrine of soul liberty was drawn from the teachings of Christ and the apostles. Like many other good things, his work was bitterly opposed by many good men who were still influenced by the spirit of the Dark Ages. And his life was one long battle for the principles of freedom.

But these principles, tested out in actual government by the people of Rhode Island, were later espoused by such men as Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, and George Washington, and made the very foundation of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States. In the Holy Bible in Leviticus 25:10 we find the very words cast in the bronze lip of the Liberty Bell, "Proclaim liberty throughout all the land and unto all the inhabitants thereof." This is God's plan —liberty to all, not merely to some. And it is not just permission to those who are strong enough to demand it — it is to be proclaimed!

God's plan of salvation is based upon the fact that men are free moral agents. They can choose to serve God, or they can reject His service. Again and and again the Holy Scriptures call on us to obey God and accept His offer of mercy. God forces no man to believe. Every human being enjoys the kingly power and liberty of choice. God appeals for our allegiance, but He does not enforce it. He asks, but He does not compel. The fact that the Almighty God who could compel our religious obedience does not do so, is absolute proof that no man or set of men, however moved by good intentions, has the least right to compel the soul of another man. God will not invade the sacred precinct of the soul, and man ought not to do it. Every time it has been attempted it has done two things: (1) It has made hypocrites of those who conformed to what they did not believe. (2) It has made martyrs of those who would not surrender their sacred convictions.

The forces at work in our land today to enforce old Blue Laws, or Sunday laws, compelling men to close their places of business on Sunday, constitute a threat to religious liberty. From the U. S. Senate Report on Sunday Mails, January, 1829, are the following words: "The proper object of government is to protect all persons in the enjoyment of their religious as well as their civil rights, and not to determine for any whether they shall esteem one day above another, or esteem all days alike holy."

The observance of Sabbath days is wholly a matter of conscience, and not a state regulation. Sunday observance is a religious obligation. It is not a civil duty. Sunday laws do not prevent criminal acts on Sunday. They only prohibit what is honorable and legitimate on other days. They protect a day, and are therefore religious. According to the Divine Author of the Christian faith, Jesus Christ, men must "render . . . unto Ceasar the things which are Ceasar's," and to God, and God alone, must be rendered the things " that are God's." Matthew 22:21. The Lord's day belongs to the Lord, and not to Ceasar. Men have never been and never can be made religious, or even moral, by force. All religious legislation is based on the false assumption that God needs protection. Religion by law has always been a blight upon civilization and a curse to Christianity. John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, gave the following Christian advice: "Condemn no man for not thinking as you think. Let everyone enjoy the full and free liberty of thinking for himself. Let every man use his own judgment, since every man must give account of himself to God. Abhor every approach in any kind of degree to the spirit of persecution. If you cannot reason or persuade a man into the truth, never attempt to force him into it. If love will not compel him to come, leave him to God, the Judge of all."

May we with constant vigilance safeguard the principles that have made America the land of freedom!

The new "official residence" of President J. Hillis Miller of the University of Florida will cost approximately $125,000. Authorization of construction of the new home came from the state board of control with the work being done by the university's construction department.

Well-Known Citizen Here Since 1915 Dies In 80th Year

Avon Park lost a well-known and respected citizen when William Hauptmann, 80, died Thursday night, December 27, at Walker Memorial Hospital. Mr. Hauptmann's health had not been good during the last year, and his death closed an illness which had necessitated his entering the hospital about two weeks previously.

A retired citrus grower, Mr. Hauptmann had lived in Avon Park since 1915.

He was born in New York City on July 23, 1871, the son of Bernard and Helena Denker Hauptmann. During his youth, he did mission work in New York, later studying for the ministry at Oberlin College, in Ohio.

After serving in the army during the Spanish American War, he became pastor of the Congregational church in Genoa, Nebraska, where he married Georgia Henderson on May 15, 1901.

He continued in the ministry for several years, but later decided to enter the business world. He was first connected with the Cudahy Packing Company, later doing newspaper work in Los Angeles, Calif., and Denver, Colo.

He came to Florida in 1913, moving to Avon Park two years later to manage his grove here. During his years in this state, he was interested in real estate, stock selling, and newspaper work, as well as the citrus industry. When he first came to this city, he published a newspaper, the "Avon Park Facts."

He retired in 1944, but continued to cultivate a wide range of interests. He was an active member of the Masons and of the Spanish War veterans' organizations. During the last war, he served on the Office of Price Administration Board.

He was a member of the Union Congregational Church and served in various capacities for a long period. At the time of his death, he was deacon emeritus.

He was noted for his interest in many phases of life, his mental vigor, and his generosity.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. George Hauptmann; one son, Oliver H. Hauptmann of Grinnell, Iowa; and one sister, Mrs. John Gilchrist of New York City.

Funeral services were held at 3:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon, December 29, at Stephenson Funeral Home Chapel, with the Rev. Herbert D. Graetz, pastor of the Union Congregational Church officiating. Burial was in Bougainvillea Cemetery, where the Spanish War Veterans held graveside services.

Honorary pallbearers were: S. E. Roberts, S. J. Pendleton, C. S. Donaldson, Robert E. Maysack, Frank Beckwith, and Otto Skipper.

Active pallbearers: C. R. Ginn, Howard B. Donaldson, Welch Fisher, James Anderson, Jr., D. G. Perry, and Peter C. Boney.

Police Cracking Down On Speeders

Avon Park now has a new patrol car, and as a result four speeders were picked up over the weekend and one driver from Lakeland was arrested on a reckless driving charge and fined $100.00 in police court Monday morning. The other four charged with speeding forfeited their bonds of $10.00 each.

It is high time that speeders were slowed down on passing through Avon Park, and the police department informed the writer that the same law will be applied to any local people caught exceeding the speed limit within the city.

The city has installed a new court room in the City Hall on the second floor, and in the absence of the mayor from town, Lenny Rush, president of the City Council sits as Judge.

Three drunks were also hailed before the court Monday morning and fined $25.00 each.

State Attorney Post Is Sought By Stephenson

Gunter M. Stephenson, of Winter Haven, Polk County solicitor since 1939, with the exception of 32 months in World War II service, has announced his candidacy for State Attorney of the Tenth Judicial Circuit, which comprises Highlands, Hardee and Polk Counties.

Stephenson aspires to the office now held by Walter W. Woolfolk, of Lake Wales, who is expected to enter the race for the new District 7 congressional seat.

Since entering on his duties as Polk County's solicitor, Stephenson has been returned to office at each election without opposition.

In seeking a promotion from the voters in the Tenth Circuit, Stephenson said: "I accepted the Polk County Solicitor's position as a public trust and will so accept the office of State Attorney. I will endeavor to do a good job for you, with equal justice to all under the law."

Stephenson was awarded the Winter Haven Bankers Cup last year, when he was also voted the outstanding Polk County official by the Lakeland Jaycees. He is a Methodist, Mason, Shriner, and past president of the Inwood School PTA.

Burglars Steal Safe From B&B Market

Sometime Saturday or Sunday night burglars entered the B&B Super Market and carted away a safe weighing around 300 lbs., containing around $3000.00 as near as the manager has been able to estimate at this writing.

The thieves entered through a window in the wash room, and removed the safe to a truck or car that had been parked in back of the store. It is thought that the job was done by experts in this line of breaking and entering.

David A. Brodie Died Saturday

David A. Brodie, 83, died suddenly Saturday morning, December 29, at the Poinsettia Hotel, where he made his home. He had been failing in health for some time.

Mr. Brodie, a retired geologist, was born in Ontario, Canada, and came to Avon Park 12 years ago from Washington, D.C. He was a graduate of the Washington State College and an employe of the U.S. Department of Agriculture until his retirement. He was past president of the Winter Guest Club of Avon Park.

During his years of residence here, Mr. Brodie was a well-known figure on the Avon Park streets; he had a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. He often expressed a great affection for his adopted home.

Fond of books and reading, Mr. Brodie liked to try his own hand at writing. At one time, he reported the Winter Guest Club news to the Sun, and later contributed a number of essays, most of them about Avon Park.

Survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Ann Hackworth and Mrs. Genette Elder, of Tacoma, Washington, and several nieces.

The body was forwarded to Winchester, Va., for funeral services and burial there. Mizelle Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

COUNTY LEADS STATE IN CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE INCREASE

Comparing the total sales of all the counties in Florida we find that on Saturday, December 22nd, with but one exception, Highlands County has shown a bigger percentage of increase in its Christmas Seal sales than any other county in the state to date.

However, the exception being Hamilton County with an increase of $113.88 with an average of 3c per capita against Highlands County with an increase over the total of last year and average per capita over 16c. Highlands County's percentage of increase up to December 22, was 35 per cent while Hamilton's increase was 57 percent. At this time five other counties are showing increases over their totals of last year.

To date Highlands County's contributions to its Christmas Seal Fund totals $2406.15. As its quota is $2750 this still leaves a balance of over $300 to be received.

Merchandise Removed From Sidewalks

Starting Tuesday, January 1st the City Council invoked an old ordinance that prohibits merchants from displaying merchandise on the sidewalks in front of their business places.

It has been the custom for many years past for merchants to display merchandise on the walks, and the ordinance has been on the books for several years but has never been enforced.

If the city council plans to enforce the ordinances on the books, and we think it a good idea, so long as they are the law to either enforce same or remove them from the books, and that being the case we would like to call the city officers' attention to another ordinance on the books in regard to cleaning up vacant lots. If our memory serves us right we believe the ordinance in regards to lots reads that if the owners do not keep the lots clean the City has the authority to clean up same and charge the cost to the owner's tax bill.

He said his hat blew off, and when he tried to retrieve it, the boat capsized. As the motor turned on him, he was able to cut it off, but the propeller continued spinning and inflicted the cuts. He managed to right the boat, and made his way to shore, where he was able to summon help.

Civic Leader and Attorney Died Friday, December 28

S. COLQUITT PARDEE, SR.

Avon Park was shocked by the very sudden death of a most prominent citizen when it became known that Stephen Colquitt Pardee Sr. formerly City Attorney for fourteen years died of a cerebral hemorrage last Friday shortly after 11 A.M. He was seated at his desk in the Pardee Professional Building when he slumped over and was pronounced dead after being taken immediately to the Walker Memorial Hospital. He had suffered from a fall two months previously. At that time he suffered three broken ribs and a head injury and had not quite fully recovered from the effect of the fall.

Mr. Pardee was born in Sudlersville, Maryland, a village of 500 on the Eastern shore, which derives its name from Mr. Pardee's maternal ancestors, who settled there early in the 18th century. Graduating from the Academy he entered Charlotte Hall Military School in Maryland situated near Washington, D.C. one of the oldest Military institutions in this country. There he won outstanding honors in scholarship and as a member of the debating team of the Mount Vernon Literary Society.

After graduation he entered the U.S. Navy as a Yoeman, most of his service being in Japanese and Chinese waters. Upon completion of his naval service he studied law at the Baltimore Law School and practised in Baltimore for 20 years. He devoted considerable time to a fine community development called Linthicum Heights, one of Baltimore's most attractive suburbs. He was very active in church, civic and social work.

Coming to Avon Park 27 years ago in the interest of clients he became enamoured with the kindly climate and its citizenry. He decided to abide here permanently, since them all of his time has been devoted to being a useful, helpful and community minded member of the City. No inconsiderable amount of the progress of our community is due to his unselfish interest in its civic growth. He was an active and faithful member of the First Methodist Church of Avon Park.

Mr. Pardee since his majority has been interested in Ancient and Free Accepted Masonry. He was High Priest of Belvideir Chapter of Baltimore, thrice Worshipful Master in the Blue Lodge of Avon Park, a 32nd Degree Mason in the Scottish Rite Consitory, and a member of the Egypt Temple Shrine and as a Knight Templar was about to receive the Honorable Degree of York Rite at the time of his demise. He was also an active member of the Loyal Order of Moose and Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

Mr. Pardee was the type of man whose heart opened to friendships like a blossoming rosebud to a glowing sunbeam and once his friendship given it was for a lifetime.

A symbol of the esteem in which he was held was attested by the mountain of floral tributes from his home town and distant parts. His was an ever helping hand, a kindly word, a cheerfulness even to the end despite suffering and with full knowledge of a possibility of impending danger. He attended his affairs and with the assistance of a very capable son, his namesake, and a wonderful wife, Helen, who gave the most tender care in the hours of his affliction.

He is survived by his wife, Helen, and son S. C. Pardee, Jr., two brothers, C. H. Pardee, Avon Park and John Pardee, Philadelphia and one grandson.

Services were held in the [illegible] enson Funeral Home at [illegible] on Sunday, December 30, [illegible] E. Garrett of the [illegible] Church officiated, being [illegible] by Dr. F. R. Bayley, [illegible] Methodist minister and [illegible] dee's close friend. The remaining members served as honorary pallbearers. Honor Guard were the Knights Templar, representing Holyrood Commandery No. 27.

The table was beautifully decorated with a center piece of yellow gladioli arranged on an antique brass tray. This was flanked on each side by bowls of marigolds. Mrs. Heath was presented a corsage and Mr. Heath a boutonniere of yellow mums with gold ribbon. A white leather guest book embossed in gold letters was presented to the Heaths by Mrs. Maxson. After dinner, the group went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warwick for an evening of cards. Those attending were:

FLORIDA GULF DEALERS CELEBRATE

The sparkling appearance and bright decorations of Gulf Service Stations in Florida which have been so much in evidence recently are results of a statewide clean-up and refurbishing in connection with Florida Gulf Dealers participation in the company's 50th Anniversary Celebration. Gulf came into being as a result of the bringing in of the famous Spindletop Gusher in 1901 and started its present widespread service station marketing operations with the first drive-in service station, located in Pittsburgh, Pa., twelve years later in the spring of 1913. Today the company markets to motorists in thirty states and has limited distribution in seven more.

Florida Gulf Dealers, well over a thousand in number, officially began their part in the celebration by offering anniversary gold tumbler sets to customers over the week end of December 14. This special activity was backed by extensive announcement advertising in newspapers and on radio.

Marines have been stationed at Pensacola, Florida since in the 19th century.

Gloria Garber and James Hetherington United in Marriage Saturday, Dec. 29

LT. AND MRS. JAMES LEE HETHERINGTON

In a beautiful candlelight ceremony at 6:30 o'clock Saturday night at the Union Congregational Church, Miss Gloria Garber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Garber, became the bride of Lieutenant James Lee Hetherington, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Michael Hetherington. The Rev. Samuel L. Brumbaugh, grandfather of the bride, officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony. He was assisted in the service by the Rev. Herbert D. Graetz, pastor of the Church.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Vaughan Driggers, of Wauchula, organist, and Mrs. John Paul Garber, soloist. Mrs. Garber's numbers were "How Do I Love Thee" "At Dawning", and "The Lord's Prayer" (Malotte), which she sang as the couple knelt on white satin pillows at the prayer bench. Mrs. Driggers played a prelude of music, and the traditional wedding marches.

Stately palms formed a background for pedestal baskets of white gladioli, and white tapers burning in branched candelabra, cast a soft illumination. The altar vases held white carnations intermingled with asparagus fern.

The lovely bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pedal pink gown of nylon net, ballerina length. Gossamer net lace in an intricate pattern, was appliqued over satin to fashion deep pointed inserts on the very full skirt. The deep nylon yoke of the slim bodice was edged with scallops of the lace, which extended onto the short puff sleeves, and she wore long nylon net gloves to match her gown. Her fingertip veil of Belgium lace was held in place by a pearl cap, and her flowers were white orchids showered with white satin streamers. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls.

Miss Suzanne Shields, of Columbus, Ohio, attended her cousin as maid of honor. She wore a blush pink nylon net ballerina gown, with voluminous skirt, and a stole of the filmy material about her shoulders. Her flowers were a nosegay of pink carnations, to match the beruffled bandeau of nylon net and pink carnations worn in her hair.

The bride's mother chose a rose orchid gown for her daughter's wedding, with which she wore gold accessories. Her flowers were white carnations, in corsage. The groom's mother wore an aqua crepe, with dark brown accessories, and a corsage of rose camellias. Mrs. Brumbaugh, grandmother of the bride, wore a grey silk crepe, and a corsage of white carnations.

Robert T. Keller attended the groom as best man, and the ushers were John Paul Garber, Jr., brother of the bride, and Master Sergeant Robert K. Nycum, of Shreveport, La., and James R. Beardsley, of Lakeland, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Garber entertained at a reception at the Jacaranda Hotel immediately following the wedding. The bride's table held a tiered decorated wedding cake encircled with small white carnations and topped with a miniature bride and groom, as its centerpiece. At opposite ends of the table, white tapers burned in silver holders, amid scatter arrangements of snowy white camellias. Silver compotes on the table held salted nuts.

After the bride and groom had cut the traditional first slice, Mrs. D. G. Perry assisted in serving the guests. The crystal punch bowls were at either end of a long table centered with an exquisite arrangement of white camellias. Mrs. Robert K. Nycum, sister of the groom, was at the Bride's Book, which held a low bouquet of deep rose camellias. Elsewhere about the room, white and rose camellia blossoms were used to pleasing advantage.

Mrs. C. Parke Anderson assisted Mr. and Mrs. Garber in receiving their guests who were greeted at the door by Mrs. Earl W. Hartt, Mrs. H. E. Keller, Mrs. R. B. Porterfield, and Mrs. Walter S. Betts. Others assisting in the hospitalities were Mrs. W. Jack Head, Mrs. Lloyd Shields, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Fred Montedoro, of Gainesville, Mrs. Jagues B. Beardsley, sister of the groom, and the Misses Sujette Dorminey, Arden Anderson, Patricia Smith, Anne Pabor, Clarice Skipper, Lillie Mae Collins. Nancy Ginn and Michael Hetherington served the mints from small silver dishes.

The couple will make their home temporarily in Ft. Belvoir, Virginia, where Lt. Hetherington has been assigned to engineers school.

Friends Honor George R. Elwell's 90th Birthday

George R. Elwell attained the dignity of his 90th birthday on Wednesday, January 2. He is, so far as the Sun can learn, the oldest living resident of Avon Park.

Mr. Elwell, originally from Pittsburgh, Pa., has lived in Avon Park for about nine years. He makes his home with his son, A. McKee Elwell, and family, at 9 W. Winthrop Street. Born in England, he came to this country at the age of five, and was reared in Pittsburgh. He was a winter visitor for a number of years before making his permanent home here.

Mr. Elwell is alert and retains a keen enjoyment of life. Although he finds walking somewhat difficult, he is otherwise in good health.

On the evening of Mr. Elwell's birthday, 45 friends and relatives gathered at his home to do him honor and to present him with a gift.

Among those attending were the Rev. H. Edward Garrett, pastor of the First Methodist Church, who offered the closing prayer. The church's chancel choir also attended and sang for Mr. Elwell.

C. H. Pardee who has himself passed his 80th year, presented the gift, with a brief address, which was in part:

"Your neighbors and friends have conferred upon me the honor and pleasure of presenting to you this token of their love and appreciation on this your 90th anniversary. This token is of slight value in comparison with the depth of their love.

"They love you because of the beauty of your character in the sight of God and not merely your reputation in the sight of men . . .

"Brother Elwell, in presenting this token, we ask you to accept it as our recognition of a life well spent. . . ."

Mr. Elwell then thanked his friends, responding to Mr. Pardee with an impromptu speech.

The home was decorated with gladioli for the occasion. Mrs. McKee Elwell served cake and orange juice to those present.

The meeting was a very interesting one.

Hopster of Lake Wales; Jim Bell, Frostproof; Jim Mantle, Waynesville, N.C.; J. C. McDuffie, Sumter, S.C.; Thomas B. Kreeger, Miami, was the guest of C. R. The appointment of Franklin Ward as Senior Warden of the Church of the Redeemer was announced by the Vicar at a meeting of the Vestry on January 9. Dr. Edward Touchton was named Junior Warden.

At the same meeting James 'A. Johnson was re-elected secretary and F. A. Truan was re-elected treasurer. Other vestrymen are W. R. England, Dr. Stuart Ward, and Harold Worden. The Vestry appointed Roy Seims as Key Man for men's work for the coming year.

Many comments were made by the congregation, following the Church School report, concerning the need of Church School classrooms for the growing Church School. Following the meeting a member of the congregation pledged a sum to the Church School Building fund and his offer was immediately followed by others. Greed Kills Big Bass In Lake Verona

Read the lamentable tale of the fish that was big but not so big as its appetite.

Mrs. J. Earle Martin of Tarentum, Pa., who is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Richard P. Wyant, was on the beach Tuesday morning at the Wyant home, which fronts Lake Verona, when she saw the body of a large fish floating near the shore. She hauled the piscine corpse in with a rake. It proved to be a big-mouth bass, measuring 20½ inches in length, 18¼ inches in girth, and weighing 10 pounds. It had choked to death.

Still lodged in its throat was an extra-large bribe, which the bass had apparently tried to swallow. The victim is itself reported to have been of a size sufficient to have gladdened the heart of any fisherman who found it on his hook.

The moral of this story is: if you must prey on your fellow-fish, pick on those smaller than your gullet.

Mrs. F. L. Clemens and daughter, Patricia, and Mrs. May Spencer, of Tampa, were New Year's guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Easton.

Polio Drive In 2nd Week, Aid Asked

As the March of Dimes drive for polio funds swung into its second week here today, campaign director Dr. Richard Hedrick issued this appeal:

"We're rolling at high speed but not fast enough."

Reports reaching campaign headquarters showed that thousands in every community across the country were enthusiastically working to make the 1952 March of Dimes the outstanding event in the history of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. This is necessary, the county director said, because:

"The March of Dimes has not kept pace with the march of polio."

"For four straight years," he explained, "the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has been running into debt, due to the terrific number of cases of infantile paralysis needing aid.

"The National Foundation cannot carry on its work efficently if it has a reputation for 'slow pay' in meeting hospital and treatment bills for polio cases. The National Foundation, moreover, must continue to keep its promise to the people that no case of this crippling disease shall be denied adequate medical care for lack of family funds.

"The time for giving to the March of Dimes is right now. Contributions are urgently needed and everyone is asked to give as much as can be spared."

Broward Coker To Seek Reelection

Broward Coker of Sebring and Sheriff of Highlands County announced this week that he would seek re-election to the office in the primary election, May 6.

Mr. Coker who had served as deputy sheriff was elected to the office on May 25, 1948. Mr. Coker has made a very efficient officer and states that he will stand on his record. He is a member of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, member of the Sebring Chamber of Commerce and the Lions Club and Sebring Fire Department, also member of the First Baptist church. Broward Coker has been a resident of Highlands county for 20 years.

Hardee County Man Candidate For State Senator

Doyle E. Carlton, Jr., cattleman and rancher of Hardee County, and a resident of Wauchula, called at the Sun office on Monday and made the following statement:

"It has been my choice to announce as a candidate for State Senator from District 27, which embraces the counties of DeSoto, Glades, Hardee and Highlands. I am aware that any public office is a public trust, conferred by the people. If elected I shall strive to justify their confidence with an administration of honorable service."

Mr. Carlton is well known in his home county as a farm and civic leader. He is 29 years old and married and the father of 3 children.

HIGHLANDS LEGION POST NO. 69 SUPPORTS MARCH OF DIMES CAMPAIGN

Highlands Post No. 69, The American Legion went on record at their weekly meeting Wednesday night as whole-heartedly supporting the 1952 March of Dimes Campaign and agreed to sponsor some event, still to be determined, the entire proceeds of which will be contributed to the March of Dimes.

By their action the Avon Park American Legion Post demonstrates to our fine community that they are out in front in civic affairs and civic improvements. This endeavor by the local Legion Post is indeed gratifying to the March of Dimes Campaign Committee and such activity is solicited from all the clubs and organizations of our city.

WOMAN'S CLUB ANNUAL CARD PARTY

The Annual benefit card party of the Avon Park Woman's Club will be held next Friday, January 18, from 2:00 to 5:00 P.M., at the Jacaranda Hotel.

Tickets may be obtained from club members.

You Are Asked To Become Member of Youth Association

There will be a meeting of the Avon Park Youth Association on Tuesday, January 15, 7:30 P.M. at the Civic Center (Armory). This will be an important meeting and all old and new members are urged to attend. Since any citizen may become a member of the association, it is suggested that all parents and individuals interested in young people read carefully the following excerpt from a letter sent to all civic organizations by Mrs. Lena R. Suggs, secretary of the Youth Association, and then support the Youth Center by attending the meeting:

"The Amendments to the Charter of the Avon Park Youth Association calls for a meeting in January at which time new officers will be elected. The amendment grants each supporting organization the right to one member. In addition any citizen may become a member by paying $1.00. Wouldn't it be wonderful if three or four hundred people were interested in the youth of Avon Park?

"Never has there been a greater need nor yet a more opportune time for the building of a center for wholesome teen-age activities in our town than we have now. About 50 boys and girls have paid their membership dues and they have about $65.00 they are planning to spend for repairs and replacement of equipment. They are demonstrating their faith in us! . . ."

Howard Candidate For Clerk of Circuit Court

Forrest Howard of Sebring has filed as a candidate for Clerk of Circuit Court of Highlands County. Mr. Howard is Chief of the Sebring Fire Department, and we understand this is his first try for a county office. Howard is better known in Avon Park as the umpire of the Ridge Conference Baseball, having served for 8 years in that capacity.

Mr. Howard is married and has a family of 5 children. He has been chief of the Sebring Fire Department for the past 9 years, and is past president of Florida State Fire Chiefs Association. He is a past president of the Highlands County Fair Association and has always been active in civic affairs. He has been a resident of Sebring for 29 years, and is a member of the Presbyterian church.

Humorous Lecture At Methodist Church

The J.O.Y. class of the First Methodist Church has arranged for a humorous lecture to be given in the church's new Wesley Hall on Thursday, January 24, at 7:30 P.M., by the Rev. Francis R. Bayley, DD, LLD.

The speaker has had a wide variety of experiences as a rural and city pastor, district superintendent, and member of many church boards. Having a keen sense of the ridiculous, he has found many things to laugh about during the more than 50 years of his ministry, and he will relate many of these incidents in the lecture. His subject will be, "The Funny Side of a Preacher's Life."

The J.O.Y. class is inviting everyone to come and enjoy this evening of laughter with them. No admission will be charged, but a silver offering will be received to raise funds to furnish the classroom in the new building. The class hopes that many who are not Methodists, and especially the winter visitors, will feel welcome and attend.

Fred Wild Up For Renomination

Fred Wild, Superintendent of Public Instruction of the Highlands County Schools has filed his intentions to run for renomination to that office in the May 6th primary election.

Mr. Wild has served seven years and he will be running for his third term. He has been a very efficient officer and has made many friends in his work.

The Church of the Redeemer held its annual parish supper and meeting at the parish house Tuesday night. A covered dish supper was served.

Our excellent new public library building is completed except for minor finishing details. Standing at the east end of Main Mall, the attractive green structure invites the passer-by to enter. Within, it is light, accommodated and well stocked, and is equipped with proper facilities for study. It is a worthy acquisition to our city to those who use the streets for the first time.

All citizens of Avon Park should contribute. A committee of the Woman's Club, who have worked long and hard to raise the funds necessary for the building of this fine library.

There is one snag. The building is complete, but the fund is not. It is absolutely necessary that more money be given to finish paying for the library.

A plea is being made by the Woman's Club to those who have not given to do so now. If you have contributed, please try to give a little more. If you have planned to give, but have delayed, please do not wait any longer.

Your gift should be sent immediately to Mrs. Walter S. Betts, P. O. Box 66, Avon Park. Checks should be made payable to the Avon Park Public Library Building Fund.

Give what you can, even though the amount be small, and the Woman's Club, as well as the community, will thank you, as they thank those in the following list of recent contributors:

New Chevrolet On Display Jan 19

New model Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks will go on display at dealer showrooms nationally, Saturday, January 19.

The disclosure by W. E. Fish, general sales manager, accompanied an announcement that in 1951 Chevrolet led all other automotive manufacturers in retail sales for the twelfth consecutive peacetime year.

"Last year's new car deliveries," said Fish, "brought the number of Chevrolets in service to over 12,000,000. No other make in automotive history ever accumulated so imposing a total."

The 1952 models, said Fish, will be new mechanically and in appearance, "fulfilling in every respect the quality and beauty that the public has come to expect from Chevrolet."

"In accordance with our long-standing custom," the sales executive continued, "the models will be publicly shown first at Chevrolet dealerships, virtually all of whom are planning special events on the date of the showing."

Post Office Does Record Business

The business done by the Avon Park postoffice during the year and quarter ending December 31, 1951, was the largest on record for this postoffice, with the exception of the war years 1943, 44, and 45, when the Bombing Range was in operation, according to a statement made by D. G. Peavy, Postmaster.

The business for the quarter ending December 31, 1951, was 18 per cent over the corresponding quarter in 1950. Business for the year ending the same date was 16¾ percent over the corresponding period in 1950.

This Is Americanism

Startling evidence of the public frame of mind and present day grass roots thinking is evidenced in the platform adopted last week by the Clay County Democrat Executive committee.

Unfortunately, space does not permit publication of the full text, every word of which is thought-provoking and constructive.

It calls for a return of the Party to the fundamental philosphy of Thomas Jefferson, pledges its support to the opposition to deficit spending and ever mounting taxation.

Calls for reduction of the national debt and the exercise of economy and efficiency in government, both national and state.

Goes on record as vigorously opposing not only the Communism of Russia, but every form of socialistic ideology whether it be termed Communism, Socialism, Fascism, Planned Economy or the Welfare State, since they all have the same goal - the destruction of the liberties, rights and freedoms of the individual and lead to the evil of totalitarian dictatorship.

It calls for a purge of the dishonest and disloyal persons in government on all levels elective or appointive. It deplores the lust for power in the executive, judicial and legislative branches of government, which is weakening public morale and is driving the nation down the road to Socialism, has exposed us to the horrors of war, weakened the national defense.

It solemnly declares that we have reached a fateful hour in our national history and that every citizen faces the choice of liberty or despotism, foreign or domestic and aligns the Democratic Party of Clay County on the side of liberty.

It views with alarm the infiltration of educational, religious, labor and other organizations by subversive groups which are undermining the confidence of our people in the traditional American system of free enterprise.

It encourage the youth of the nation to take an active interest in government, in defense of their heritage, and calls on the people as a whole to unite in opposition to the encroachment of centralized government, defends states rights, and commends the press and radio for its efforts to arouse and awaken the people to the danger that confronts us.

It pledges its devoted and vigorous action against the invasion of federal or state government of the basic rights, privileges and imunities of the individual and expresses deep concern over the destruction by judicial interpretation and usurpation of our Constitution. Holds that public office is a public trust and abhors alliances between officials and racketeers, gamblers and law violators.

It calls upon the Florida Legislature to enact appropriate laws for referendum and recall of state and local officials who fail to perform the duties of their offices or fail in the public trust.

It denounces and condemns the FEPC, National Health Insurance and Socialized Medicine, and believes in the social and educational separation of the races.

It would limit the treaty-making powers of the President and the Senate when they conflict with, nullify or restrict the Constitution of the United States or of any of the 48 states.

There are a number of other points in the lengthy platform which have been briefly reviewed here. Chairman of the Clay County Democratic Executive Committee is S. Bryan Jennings, son of former Governor Jennings and a cousin of William Jennings Bryan.

Copies of the full text of the remarkable document may be secured from him. Other county executive committees would do well to study this platform of Clay County Democrats in this tragic hour in our national history.

TYPING CLASS HELPS MARCH OF DIMES COMMITTEE

Armed with their typewriters, the Avon Park High School typing class went to work Thursday in the battle against infantile paralysis under the capable direction of Miss Alice Ruth O'Brien. In the face of mountains of work of their own to do and having just finished a similar task for the Tuberculosis drive, this class went to war for the March of Dimes Campaign by addressing literally hundreds of envelopes to mail out form cards over the city. The huge job, which was expected to take about one and a half weeks, was accomplished in one hectic day of hard work.

The Avon Park March of Dimes campaign chairman, Dr. R. P. Perkins, would like to take this opportunity to extend his sincere thanks to Miss O'Brien and her typing class for a job well done and appeals to you, the good people of our city, to contribute to the March of Dimes in Highlands County's fight against Polio by a generous gift of funds and offering your services.

The State Advertising Commission recently got its millionth inquiry about Florida. It came from a Pennsylvanian who wanted advice on a good Florida honeymoon spot.

The usual song fest was held Sunday P.M. Mr. McKinney directing and Mrs. Gibson at the Piano. Mr. and Mrs. Newhouse sang a duet. The male quartet gave several selections. An innovation was a ladies quartet composed of Mesdames Oppy, Wolverton, Beall and Heal who gave several selections.

Fishing seems to be good and a popular pastime. This writer only hears about the fishing trips where the catching was also good. One such trip was recently made by Messeurs McLaren, Warwick, Elfting and Maxson who returned proudly exhibiting 13 beautiful bass.

A very large crowd attended the showing of beautiful slides by Mr. Lewis and Dr. Phillips. These views carried us across the country through the northwest and returned to Avon Park via Washington, D.C. To those who have taken similar trips was a revival of mental pictures, to those who haven't, a seed of desire was planted.

Avon Park Tourist Club was practically deserted last Saturday when twelve teams of shufflers backed by a huge crowd of rooters journeyed to Sebring for a tournament. Sorry to report that Avon Park was badly beaten, but they were all excellent losers and ready to try again on the home court.

Wednesday, January 9, three teams went to Lakeland to enter the Central District Tournament. Those who will play are Clark and Stonmetzs, McBride and Gruber and Gibson and Mrs. Kelley. We wish them luck.

Coming Events

Two planned programs are scheduled at the Club this week. Thursday evening is called Music, Fun and Laughter. A short program will be given followed by games. Cards, Chinese Checkers, Dominoes and Flinch will be available. Saturday evening music by Mrs. McCrea, a solo by Mr. Flagg and a talk by Dr. Reisner. This program will also be followed by games.

Monday, January 14, at 7:30 p.m. the club will be privileged to hear Judge Leon L. Rice of Anderson, S.C. speak on the United Nations. Judge Rice is a personal friend of Jimmie Byrnes, a former member of President Roosevelt's cabinet and now Governor of South Carolina.

Next Tuesday, January 15 there will be a bobby show in the club house from 2:30 to 5:00 and 7:30 to 9:00. Every club member is asked to bring samples of their hobby. Those who can are asked to work on their hobby at the club house during the show.

At the same time as the hobby show, members from New York, New Jersey and the New England States are urged to place on exhibition any pictures or articles they have advertising their respective state. Some one will be in attendance at all times so there will be no danger of losing precious souvenirs.

TWO DROWNED WHEN JEEP RUNS INTO CANAL

Two Negroes were drowned and a third escaped death early Sunday morning, when the jeep truck in which they were riding went off the road and landed in a canal along Highway 621, east of Lake Placid.

The victims, employes of the Smith-Reynolds Farms were L. C. Gardner, the driver, and Mamie Matthews.

The fatalities, Highlands County's first of 1952, were investigated by Sheriff Broward Coker.

The word "idiot" is derived from the classical Greek "idiotes", which meant "those citizens who did not take part in public voting." In ancient Greece it was because they could not; in the U.S. today it is because they do not—and the word "idiot" is still appropriate.

SERMONETTE

LOST SHEEP

Robert T. Liner, pastor
First Baptist Church
Luke 15

Romans 5:6 — "For when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly.

Romans 5:8 — "But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us."

I need no other sacrifice;
I need no other plea
It is enough that Jesus died,
And that he died for me.

The murmuring of self-righteous, self-satisfied Pharisees drew from our Lord three great parables that have brought healing to many a sin laden soul. They tried to trample His grace under their feet and said sneeringly, "This man receiveth sinners." But the more they tried the greater did His grace swell.

Obviously the parable of the lost sheep, the lost coin and the lost son revealed Christ's personal interest in the salvation of sinners individually.

The lost wandering sheep, lost because of his own carelessness must be found. The lost coin was lost in the household, helpless to help itself. The lost son teaches us the individual responsibility of the sinners to receive Christ, making his own choice.

This chapter brings before us:

1. The painful discovery — one is lost.

Whether world, nation, or individual, the fact remains, if one is out of the fold of God, he is lost. It disturbs the Shepherd's heart and restfulness for that lost one is a potential son.

We see:

2. An altered purpose.

The shepherd leaves the ninety and nine and goes after that which is lost. It would have pleased God if this had not been necessary. Our Saviour left heaven, Father, angels and glory because he loved the world. Fallen angels might have been more valuable than fallen man — but "God so loved the world," that He gave . . ."

We see:

3. A patient seeker.

He seeks until he finds. Jesus said, "If I be lifted up I will draw all men unto me." (This shatters some predestination theories.)

Then we see also, joyful finder—rejoicing. Can we not feel the tenderness of His heart. Then a restful journey, the sheep resting on the shoulders of the Shepherd.

Salvation is simply just abiding in Jesus. The sheep did nothing but be willing.

Then lastly a happy home. Heaven rejoicing over some sinner that repents.

Sinners, do not hide any longer in the wilderness of sin. He will give you rest and peace.

Trust Him now. Acts 16:31

By The Bird Woman

We are all interested in the doings of our public school, and a great many times we could be more helpful if we just understood the whys and wherefores of the projects under consideration.

So the Bird Woman wishes to explain a project underway in the elementary department of our school, which is a very interesting and instructive study for our children.

This is the study of "Bird Life", and the children, under the supervision of their teachers, are each preparing a bird scrap book to illustrate the birds studied.

For this they need colored birds, such as we find in magazines and elsewhere.

When we consider that there are approximately 525 children in the elementary department, we see it takes "heaps" of birds for each child to have the varieties of birds studied.

Also consider that a great many homes represented do not take any magazines. So before you discard your magazines look for "bird pictures", just tear out the pages and send to the school, and I am sure the children will derive great benefit from them.

At the end of the school year, the scrap books will be graded on "points" and the different varieties of birds will be one of the points. So you see how important the collecting of colored pictures is to the children.

After a child has cut out these colored birds and arranged them in a scrap book, properly named and studied, there will not be any trouble in recognizing the birds seen alive, and after studying their nesting habits, food, and habitat, the child will have a lasting knowledge of a great many birds, both native and migratory.

The Avon Park Sun is kindly running supplementary articles which will gain the child another point, if posted in his book.

So if you have no child in the elementary department of the school, please clip the "Bird Woman's" article and give to some child who is preparing a scrap book, and also watch for colored birds and anything relative to birds in magazines.

Sees $116.50 Auto Tax Bill for Florida Motorist in 1952

Jacksonville, Fla. — Due to recently-enacted federal gasoline and automotive tax increases, the typical Florida vehicle owner will pay a record-breaking $116.10 in special motoring taxes next year, Glen P. Woodard, Jr., Executive Secreary of the Florida Petroleum Industries Committee predicted today.

The car and truck owner's special tax bill will hit an all-time high because tax rates are now at their peak, Mr. Woodard explained.

He stated that "the full impact of the heavier federal taxes will be felt in 1952, when the motorist finds how drastically they add to his driving costs."

Under the new scale of federal automotive excise taxes, which took effect on Nov. 1, the gasoline tax is increased to two cents a gallon from the previous 1½c. The excise tax on new passenger cars is up to 10 percent, from seven percent, and the former five per cent taxes on trucks, buses, truck-trailers, automotive parts and accessories have been boosted to eight per cent.

"Just the higher federal gasoline tax will mean that Florida motorists must pay 9 cents in state and federal taxes on every gallon of gasoline they buy," he added. "This equals a 44 per cent sales tax on gasoline — the heaviest tax imposed on a non-luxury product in our state."

He pointed out that the federal gasoline and automotive excise taxes are not connected with highway development but are used for the support of general government. These taxes were first levied as temporary measures in 1932 "to help meet a depression emergency," he said.

"Not only have the federal gasoline and automotive taxes been retained all these years, but they have been increased with each following emergency," he declared.

He concluded: "As soon as world conditions clear up, the heavily overtaxed motor vehicle owners should be the first to receive deserved — and long overdue — tax relief from their federal government."

The Owl

By The Bird Woman

Many times when we think of owls, we think of something "spooky", like the owl we use for Hallowe'en, or big eyes peering at us from the darkness.

No doubt this comes from the fact that owls are considered nocturnal, and we see them mostly at night, so we feel that there is something almost ghostly about them.

But if we stop to consider that there is a great group of animals and some birds and insects that are afoot at night and that look up someplace during the day, and if we make a study of these we are amazed to learn that while we sleep many insects, birds and animals are abroad and enjoying life as we do in the daytime.

There are about 18 species of owls in North America, but the owl in some species is found almost every place in the world, its habits and food are similar everywhere.

Being predators, the Creator has equipped them for this purpose, each talon is provided with a sharp claw, and the third toe can swing back to pair with the fourth, making a perfect set of tongs to catch and carry the prey.

The bill is sharp and curved so it can tear the flesh of the prey that is too large to swallow whole. The outside ear of the owl makes its hearing very acute, although its movements are practically noiseless. Another peculiarity about the owl is its eyes, which of course see better at night than in daylight — although some species, as the burrowing owl, are often seen about hunting their food by day.

The owl's eyes are placed in the front of its face, while most birds' eyes are placed on each side of the face. But the owl cannot turn its eyes as we can, but has to turn its whole head, and can turn in such a manner as to see directly behind it.

The owl makes no nest of its own but will appropriate the hole made by woodpeckers, or any natural cavity in a tree or stub.

When we were at Merrits Island, we foud a family of great horned owls, very much at home in an eagle's nest.

Their food consists chiefly of mice, rats, squirrels, shrews and other rodents, as well as insects.

Another characteristic peculiar to the owl is that it will swallow its prey, head first, and digest it as it swallows, to make room for the remainder. This is rather a slow process, but after it has all been consumed, in due course of time, a pellet about the size and shape of the end of the thumb will be coughed up. This regurgitation of pellets contains the part that was indigestible, and will contain the skull and bones of whatever it has consumed tightly wrapped around with a layer of felt which proves to be the animal's fur. As unusual as this process is, this pellet is clean and odorless and may be examined easily, which tells what type of food the owl has had.

Underneath the tree where the owls nest, these pellets can invariably be found. This is just another little trick of nature that puzzles naturalists, and gives us all a greater respect for the Creator who can perpetuate down through the ages habits and eccentricities that were given to the first pair created.

Veterans Information

Do you know the difference between Death Compensation and Pension for dependents of deceased veterans of the Armed Forces?

In distinguishing between "death compensation" and "death pension" as paid to the surviving kin of deceased veterans, the basic difference to note is that "compensation" payments are made if the veteran's death was service-connected, whereas a "pension" is paid when the veteran's death was not due to service, and only to certain dependent survivors with limited incomes.

Compensation payments may be made to unremarried widows, minor children or dependent parents of veterans who died as a result of injury or disease directly brought about by active duty in the armed forces. The service need not have been in wartime, although the rate of compensation in peacetime death cases is slightly less.

A pension, on the other hand, is paid to unremarried widows and minor children of veterans whose deaths were not due to service-connected conditions. Parents, whether or not dependent, are not eligible for this benefit.

The veterans must have served at least 90 days during World War I or II or after the fighting started in Korea. If a veteran's death occurred after separation from the service, the discharge must have been other than dishonorable. Eligibility requirements in the case of World War I veterans differ slightly from the others.

A four-pound hen, laying 250 eggs a year, produces about 31 pounds of finished product, according to the Florida Farm Bureau.

'TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

I don't know whether Patrick Henry ever grew any watermelons or not but if he were a central or south Florida grower today he would probably join T. E. Simmons, an Alachua county farmer from Archer, who said as for himself he would rather have freedom than dollars.

Ever since the inauguration of "New Deals" and "Fair Deals" the people of this nation have been losing more and more of their freedom and independence of action, accepting in return doses of deficits and handouts that go with them bureaucratic controls and regulations.

Failing for catch phrases and slogans advanced by slick tongued political aspirants, we as individuals and public have accepted gradual and greater tax burdens and in return submitted to more and more regimentation.

The average tax-paying American citizen today is just about in the same position as a gambler playing a slot machine. He keeps feeding his money into the government in the form of taxes and hopes that somehow, some way, he will hit the jackpot and win. But the percentage against him is too great. Now and then he may get a few dollars back, but usually the guy who feeds the money in, stands by to see some jerk step up, drop in a nickle and walk away with the case, a large percentage of which the sucker taxpayer contributed.

Florida with its favorable climate can produce watermelons earlier than other states and early melons bring better returns. Under the proposed tri-state agreement growers in less favorable areas would take that marketing advantage away from Florida growers and our boys don't like it.

Under the terms of the agreement, Georgia and South Carolina growers could vote Florida growers under the terms of such an agreement even though a majority of the Florida growers voted against it. Furthermore, the law gives Secretary of Agriculture Brannon dictaterial powers and can decide the matter on the basis of either the acreage involved or the number of growers participating.

It happens that Florida has less than 4,000 growers, against Georgia's 7,000 and South Carolina's 4,000 in spite of the fact that from an actual production standpoint this state produces more melons than Georgia and South Carolina combined because of the large scale farming here.

Attending the recent hearing as and unorganized group of farmers without any legal talent to plead their cause or present their side, Florida faced top-flight officials of the Department of Agriculture, marketing specialists and government attorneys, but with their backs to the wall these Florida growers told the bureaucrats off in no uncertain terms.

Pointing to the situation the farmer finds himself in today, one grower said he had to pay field hands 75c an hour or more, beg them to work and stay out in the field all day to see that they did work.

Fed up with the whole socialistic "New Deal" program, rebellious growers said what they thought of government controls and went on record as favoring their own freedom, independence and self-respect above any questionable benefits of paternal government had to offer in the form of dollars.

One thing these indignant growers overlook is the fact that they themselves are largely responsible for the situation that exists today. It is reasonable to assume that most of them have supported the present government with their votes and their tax money and have had a hand along with a lot of other folks in creating the present dictatorial centralized government, that is now attempting to kick them around.

The farmer has reached the crossroads and must make up his mind whether he wants to have a centralized, bureaucratic controlled government dictate his affairs or whether he wants dependent and restricted freedom of action. If present trends are permitted to continue and there in the next few years as there has been in recent years, the forces of socialized action and control will become so firmly entrenched that it is doubtful if they can ever be ousted.

Secretary Brannon isn't going to be worried too much about the feelings of a small group of Florida growers if it develops he can win favor with 7,000 in Georgia and 4,000 in South Carolina, and they will probably never find it convenient and realize that farmers are more interested in security than freedom.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Tallahassee — As candidates for governor jockey into position, and other state candidates slowly get ready to qualify here, the big political question of the moment is what former U.S. Senator Claude Pepper will do. A capital correspondent quotes Pepper as saying he will announce his plans before the end of January, as to whether he will remain in private life, become a candidate for the senate against Senator Spessard L. Holland, or run for governor. Meantime, Nathan Mayo became the first cabinet member to qualify for re-election, seeking another term in the office of commissioner of agriculture, where he has served since 1925. Secretary of State R. A. Gray and Attorney General Richard W. Ervin have announced they will run again.

Tallahassee — Spokesmen for 42 northwest Florida Baptist churches by resolution deplored recent bombings and acts of terrorism in this area. The resolution stated, "We go on record as being opposed to any acts of violence, expressions of lawlessness and actual or implied persecutions of any group or persons, whether of a majority or a minority."

Tallahassee — A throat ailment has forced State Road Department Chairman Alfred A. McKethan to cancel January speaking engagements. However, Chief Engineer Sam Turnbull said the chairman will be here for the annual budget hearings to start January 14. These hearings are expected to last throughout that week. The chairman has been mentioned often as a possible candidate for governor, but no announcement on the subject has been made.

Tallahassee — Attorney General Richard W. Ervin this week gave his opinion on the following general subjects:
MASKS — Persons in safety parade may wear hoods to depict traffic casualties.
SURETY — Peace officer has no authority to arrest defendant on criminal bail bond surety in another county.
TAXES — County tax assessors and collectors get same fees for Central and South Florida Flood Control District taxes as for county taxes.
TRADE NAME — Corporation operating business other than under its name must register fictitious name used.
APARTMENTS — Apartment houses operating under fictitious names must register, where trade name is used in leases, etc.
LOTTERY — It may be a lottery for drive-in theatre to give free tickets on the basis of certain automobile license tag numbers.
INFORMATION — State road department may purchase Tallahassee property across from capitol to build an information center.
RACING — Stock car racing drivers may be given workmen's compensation coverage as casual workers.
GAMBLING — Plan for giving mattress to holder of winning ticket number probably is illegal.
HOTEL — Hotel and Restaurant Commission may not refuse to license place having same name as another except for fraud.

SEVENTH ANNUAL MUSIC CLINIC

Over 2,000 talented youngsters from every section of the state will gather in Tampa, January 11-12 for the Seventh Annual Music Clinic sponsored by the Florida Music Educators Association.

The clinic is designed to give vocal and instrumental music teachers in Florida schools an opportunity to observe methods used by some of the outstanding teachers in the country and music students the chance to meet and perform with other children with particular ability.

Separate sessions for orchestras, bands and vocal music on the senior and junior high and elementary school level are scheduled for Friday and Saturday and a massed concert will be presented for the general public on Saturday evening at the Fort Homer Hesterly Armory at 8:15 P.M.

Dr. Lara Hoggard of the Fred Waring's School will direct an 800 voice chorus and Paul LaVelle, nationally known director of the Band of America, N.B.C., will conduct 100 outstanding instrumentalists.

Robert Scott, music director of Jefferson High School, Tampa is general chairman of the clinic program which promises to be the best ever staged.

The United States has enough crude and synthetic rubber on hand to meet all essential needs for five years of all-out war, John L. Collyer, president of the B. F. Goodrich Co., declared in a year-end statement.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

"Our lives are rivers, gliding through
To that unfathomed boundless sea—The silent tomb"

In Memory of Brother Stephen Colquitt Pardee who died December 28, 1951.

"Leaves have their time to fall, and flowers to wither, at the north wind's cold blast, but thou, oh Death! hath all seasons for thine own." Once again a brother Mason, having completed the designs written for him on life's trestle board, has passed through the portals of Eternity and entered the Grand Lodge of the New Jerusalem and hath received, as his reward, the white stone with a new name written thereon.

And Whereas, The all-wise and Merciful Master of the universe has called from labor, to refreshment our beloved and respected brother

And Whereas, He having been a true and faithful brother of our beloved Order, therefore, be it

Resolved, That Poinciana Lodge No. 227 F.&A.M. Avon Park, Florida, in testimony of her loss, be draped in mourning for thirty days, and that we may tender to the family of our deceased brother our sincere condolence in their deep affliction, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.

"There is only a curtain between us,
Between the beyond and here;
They whom we call dead have not left us
Nay, they were never so near."

St. Petersburg City Council made sure some years ago that the city would never be troubled by a water shortage. They purchased the great Weekiwachee Springs 65 miles to the north.

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:
1. Yes, fat people have more falls and other accidents than persons of normal weight. But there are other dangers in excess weight, in addition to the tendency toward accidents. Fat kills in two ways, by promoting disease and by making various diseases more deadly. These factors add to the long list of reasons for maintaining reasonable weight, in addition to the factor of appearance.

Answer to Question No. 2:
2. In comparison with 1930 there is very little smallpox in the United States today. Statistics show a total of 34 cases last year in comparison with 48,907 cases in 1930—a triumph for immunization and one of the great victories in public health. Doctors state that infants should be vaccinated soon after birth or, at the latest, before the age of three. The duration of the protection varies.

Answer to Question No. 3:
3. A stomach ulcer is a small area of the stomach wall where living tissue has been destroyed. The exact cause is unknown but there are several contributing factors common to many cases. There is a tendency in some families toward ulcers. If a person abuses his stomach constantly by eating his food too hot or too cold, by failing to chew it properly or by eating too highly seasoned foods he may develop an ulcer. Emotional pressure is blamed by many doctors.

The Boys in the Back Room—what they say: Women are interested all right. They are interested in the safety of their children on the streets, in the purity of the water they drink, in the cleanliness of the school and town, in the honesty of the man running for mayor. "Oh, is that politics?" they ask me. "I didn't realize that had anything to do with politics." How dumb can we get?

There will always be open seats available for representatives of every interest whether it be organizational or private and we wish to remind everyone that has been notified about the committee and the interests who may not have been notified who would like to be represented that there is always a place on the committee for you and your ideas of the problems and solution to problems is necessary for the maintenance and betterment of Highlands County.

Helps Dimes Drive

Miss Florida — Mary Elizabeth Godwin of Gainesville—a Miss America contestant in the annual Atlantic City Pageant, makes one of the first contributions to the 1952 March of Dimes. The March of Dimes period has been doubled to include all January because of the record polio toll of the last four years.

Florida's orange production will probably reach 90 million boxes by 1954 is the prediction of H. R. Cloud, vice president and general manager of the Minute Maid Corporation.

Christmas Seal Sale Still $150.00 Short of Quota

Mr. S. F. Longbottom, Treasurer of the Highlands County Tuberculosis and Health Association advises us that the annual Christmas Seal Sale will terminate on January 19.

Last Saturday the total receipts for the county amounted to $2523.15 and at press time today it was approximately $2600.00.

This is nearly one thousand dollars over the total amount taken in last year. However as this year's quota was set at $2750.00 it still leaves about $150.00 to be received. Mr. Longbottom says there are 279 names in the files who contributed last season but have not been heard from to date. With a favorable percentage of contributions from these missing ones the quota can be easily reached and the county again go over the top in a big way.

94% of the Christmas Seal Fund recains in Florida and 77% is deposited in the Barnett State Bank of Avon Park where the Bank President, Sam F. Longbottom is also Treasurer of the Tuberculosis Association.

Because Christmas Seal funds are trust funds their expenditure demands skilled administration to assure an adequate and efficient program of health education.

Mr. Longbottom says that the Association's books are always open to the public and invites inspection at any time.

Grand Opening At The First Methodist Church

After being unable to use the auditorium of the First Methodist Church for several weeks because of the extensive remodeling the congregation will worship for the first time, next Sunday, in the improved building. Special services are being arranged for this occasion. The following program will be of interest to the members and friends of the church.

The morning service at 11:00 o'clock will open with a grand processional of the two beautifully gifted choirs. The choirs will sing "O God We Praise Thee" by Bach. The minister's sermon subject is, "I Believe In The Church."

The evening service at 7:30 will feature a chorus of 30-40 voices composed of Winter Guests. This group will be directed by Mr. Ira Holloway. Dr. Bruce F. Gantzaway, District Supt. of the Sarasota District, will be the speaker of the evening. Immediately after the worship service there will be a period of open house when everyone will have the opportunity to visit the entire building. During this time the women of the church will serve refreshments (orange juice and cookies). The public is cordially invited to attend these services and activities of First Methodist.

U.S. Contributes Food For Florida School Lunches

School days have a meaning to more than just pupils, parents and patrons, teachers and others in the school administration, F. M. Wild, Highlands County School Superintendent, observed today.

Take the State Department of Public Welfare for instance.

During the three summer months when schools are closed, distribution of commodities by that department sinks to almost nothing, but when the schools open again, as they did more than 20 different kinds of food for use in schools in every county of the state becomes a "big business."

The commodities are used in school lunch rooms, and go a long way toward making it possible for children to get the kind of lunches they do for as little as they pay, said Superintendent Wild.

In September, October, and November - first three months of the present school year - the State Welfare Department sent to schools in the state food with a wholesale value of $478,513.69.

The commodities come to Florida without cost from the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture through its price support program. Distribution within the state is handled as one of the services of the Welfare Department.

Here in Highlands County, commodities received the first three months of this school year had a wholesale value of $4,777.75. Among the items were canned peaches, cheese, canned peas, canned cherries, navy beans, dried milk, canned snap beans, peanut butter, honey, canned tomatoes, canned tomato paste, and fresh apples.

Approximately 2,000 children eat school lunches each day in this county. The Avon Park school feeds the greatest number each day, at times feeding over 650 students.

The students pay 25c for their lunches, with the county and the Federal Government each contributing 3c toward the cost of the meal. The commodity distribution amounts to another 9c per individual lunch.

The men held are Doyle Robertson, James Franklin Turner, Homer Turner and John B. Pass, alias Fond.

Avon Park Firemen Have Busy Week

A fire which caused $1500 damage to a building and its contents on Thursday, Jan. 10, was the most important call answered by Avon Park's Fire Department in a very busy ten-day period. The building so extensively damaged by fire was a beer garden in the quarters operated by Annie Brown.

From January 9 to the morning of January 17, the firemen have answered nine calls. There were five grass fires, one automobile fire, 2 residences, and one building (the beer garden).

Marian Freeman's house in the quarters received $50.00 damage last Tuesday night.

On Thursday morning, Jan. 17, she firemen were called to the home of Mrs. G. S. McKnight to investigate what seemed to be gas fumes, but turned out to be a trash basket on fire, the fire apparently caused by a smoulder-ing cigarette butt.

Band Students Termed Fine Musicians At Music Clinic

Eight members of the Avon Park High School Band were among the outstanding musicians chosen from all high school bands in Florida to form the two bands — clinic and concert — at the State Music Clinic held in Tampa on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

In the clinic band were Beth Martin, bass clarinet; Jane Suggs, flute; Beth Suggs, clarinet; and William Reveille conducted the band.

In the concert band, under the direction of Paul LaValley, were: Bob Whitcomb, first baritone; Jack Ward, first trombone; and Pat Sheffield, flute.

Gloria Sheffield and Peggy Martin, majorettes, demonstrated proper majorette procedures for handling bands in formation such as correct signalling, etc.

Out of the 125 high school bands in the state, only two bass drummers were chosen for the Music Clinic—Dean Martin and a senior high drummer from Miami.

All of the Avon Park students won additional laurels at the clinic for themselves, their director, and their school. The quality of their performance was such that they were characterized as a fine group of young musicians and outstanding in the state.

Dr. Reveille's remark about Jane Sugg, flautist — "She is wonderful, she is an artist" — was typical of the praise given our young people.

Bob Whitcomb was chosen first solo baritone. Jack Ward was praised for excellent tone quality and other attributes of good musicianship, while Beth Suggs and Pat Sheffield — indeed, the whole group — were complimented upon being fine musicians.

As added proof of the outstanding musical ability in our Avon Park High School Band, it may be relevant to state here that members of the band have been offered $10,000 worth of music scholarships by the University of Miami.

Harry W. Norton Passed Away Sunday

Harry W. Norton, 73, passed away early Sunday morning in the Winter Haven hospital.

While in Winter Haven, he was actively engaged in church and civic affairs of the community. As a member of Rotary and a member of the Board of Governors of the Chamber of Commerce, he did much in promoting the Orange Festival in its beginning, the creation of the Orange Belt Baseball League, and in forwarding other community affairs. He was a Florida post member of the Masonic Lodge and the Commandery.

Mr. Norton came to Avon Park after his retirement and has made his home here for the past several years. He had a host of friends in this community and throughout the state.

He leaves two daughters, Mrs. J. A. Johnson of Avon Park and Mrs. E. R. Trueman of Winter Haven; a sister, Mrs. G. W. Jones of Los Angeles, Calif.; and two grandchildren, Leila and Anne Johnson of Avon Park.

The March of Dimes

There's a story that came out of World War II which has special significance for every American concerned with wiping out polio. A Red Cross team was moving into a town which had been "liberated". In the corner of a bomb-torn building they found a little boy, frightened half to death and obviously sufering the effects of starvation. One of the Red Cross workers poured a glass full of milk and handed it to the boy. The little fellow raised it to his lips, but before he took a single swallow lowered it momentarily and asked the man who gave it to him: "How deep can I drink?"

The Red Cross worker knew immediately what that boy meant. It meant that the last time he had a glass of milk . . . probably the last several times . . . he had been at home with a number of brothers and sisters and that glass of milk had to be shared.

"How deep can I drink?" In a sense, every polio victim in America is asking each of us that very question. "How deep can I drink?" How far are you going to go in providing me the kind of care I need to get well? That research worker in the laboratory is asking all of us—"How deep can I drink?" How much money will I have for supplies and equipment? That doctor is asking: "How much care can I give these patients?" That mother is asking: "How much longer must I fear this dread disease will strike my children, my family?"

Surely all of us will answer: "Drink as deep as you can—Go as far as you like — Here is everything you need to do the job! — May God speed the day when polio, and the fear of polio, will be only a memory!"

THE SECOND MILLION

The ink is hardly dry on the widely-published announcement that "Victim X" is dead. Hardly dry, either, are the tears of his or her saddened family, for "Victim X" was the unknown man, woman or child who recently became a shocking national symbol of hideous recklessness on our country's streets and highways.

Bad enough is the realization that in the 176 years of our nation's life a million sons had to die gallantly in battle to preserve the freedoms and privileges we so rightly cherish. Far worse and strictly dishonorable is the appalling announcement that in only a third of that time we have permitted another million citizens to be battered and crushed to death in traffic accidents, needlessly and many times criminally. But frightful to the point of reeling unbelief is the cold knowledge that at the present rate we are speeding to a second million such victims within a mere 25 years.

It must not happen!

It will not happen if every citizen, as a matter of sheer necessity for self-preservation, does his or her part promptly, consistently and courageously. Let us demand that our lawmakers give us laws with teeth that will stop speeding, drunken, reckless drivers. Let us demand that our police departments enforce the law sternly and impartially — and give them enough men to do the job. Let us tell our judges that we will no longer tolerate "slap-on-the-wrist" sentences when prison or at least permanent revocation of all motoring privileges, including ownership of a car, should be the penalty. Finally, let us look squarely at our own selves and grimly say:

"Yes, you too!"

Sure, this is tough language! But it is mild compared to getting splattered to death or maimed for life by some fool at the wheel. Of this you may be sure — unless we write tough, talk tough, get tough and stay tough, an awful lot of us are due for a mighty brief and not at all sweet life. We will either stop horror on the highway now or it will stop us any minute.

Veterans Information

Did you know that VA Domiciliary care is designated to provide a "home" for those veterans who have a chronic condition which incapacitates them from earning a living and who require minimal medical attention.

Eligibility requirements for admission to a home are essentially the same as for hospital treatment, that is: (1) Those needing hospitalization because of injuries or diseases incurred or aggravated in line of duty. (2) Those with non-service-connected disabilities who state under oath that they are financially unable to pay hospital charges elsewhere.

Transportation at Government expense, as a rule, is provided only for the initial admission.

The veteran or his nearest relative, guardian or representative should obtain pre-admission approval before going to the Domiciliary.

Contact a local Veterans' Service Officer for assistance, or write the State Service Office, St. Petersburg.

The greatest area of water ever to be covered in research on game fishes, from Jamaica to Nova Scotia, the 2,500 mile journey of the bluefin tuna, will be investigated by the University of Miami Marine Laboratory.

It looks now as though many of the about 750,000 boxes of undersized tangerines abandoned each year in Florida, will be turned into a new delicacy called tangerine sherbet. This will bring growers a return of about $1.50 a box.

WEBBER COLLEGE FORUM WEDNESDAY, JAN. 23RD

Babson Park — "What Makes America Tick?" will be the subject of Gerhart H. Seger's lecture at the Webber College Forum Wednesday evening at 7:45 P.M., January 23, 1952, in the Babson Park Woman's Club building.

Recognized as one of the outstanding authorities on problems of both Europe and the United States, Mr. Seger is appearing for the third time on the Webber College Forum. His rich background of study and travel makes him an appealing as well as instructive speaker.

Capacity audiences have filled the Babson Park Woman's Club at the first two meetings of the series and the question periods at the end of the lectures have brought forth some interesting exchanges between the speaker and his audience. Dr. John Ray Ewers, pastor of the Babson Park Community Church, is serving as moderator.

1952 National Newspaper Highway Safety Program

The saving of 10,000 lives and prevention of at least 250,000 injuries this year is the goal of more than 8,000 newspapers throughout the United States that have joined in a coast-to-coast campaign to halt the mounting horror of motor vehicle accidents on America's streets and highways.

Confronted by a staggering total of more than 1,000,000 traffic dead, with 35,000,000 other men, women and children injured, many of them crippled for life, in a mere 52 years of reckless motoring, the press of the nation has adopted a common program to attack this annual national calamity on three fronts:

1. Intensive education of drivers.

2. Intensive education of pedestrians.

3. Intensive insistence upon strict enforcement of traffic laws.

Assisting this and the other newspapers in presenting the facts about traffic accidents, and how they can be prevented, will be the famed accident prevention department of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, which first introduced safe driver education to the high schools, wrote and published the first textbook on that subject, and maintains staffs of safety specialists in New York, Chicago and San Francisco to study constantly the trends and needs of traffic conditions on a countrywide basis.

"Reducing traffic fatalities by 10,000 and personal injuries by 250,000 this year is a real possibility," said Thomas N. Boate, acting manager of that nationally recognized safety organization. "It will take the full and united cooperation of the press, of state and municipal officials, of safety organizations, and of the people. We can count on the first three. The public, which has the most at stake, is the unknown quantity. If they read and heed, this campaign will be a success; if they don't, it will fail.

"That should be a terrifying prospect to every man, woman and child in the country when you remember that, if the toll keeps increasing at its present rate, it will not be long before every person in the country must steel himself or herself to the fact that sooner or later they will be hit by an automobile — hit hard enough to be either injured or killed. It has been 10 years since we had less than 1,000,000 persons injured in traffic accidents in any one year. It only took us 52 years to pile up the horrible toll of 1,000,000 traffic dead, but the second million may well be reached in half that time, at the rate we are going.

"As a starting point toward the goal of far fewer accidents, what is needed most is immediate state and local action against moron drivers and unsafe driving habits of normal Americans who now kill more than 100 people every day, or die themselves in the accidents they cause while violating traffic laws. Last year more than 1,200,000 persons were injured by automobiles. The vast majority of these accidents were caused by carelessness, a great many by calloused indifference to traffic laws. Obviously, fullest law observance and enforcement on the highways should become the immediate objective of all states and cities."

The newspapers' 1952 traffic safety campaign, which has the full endorsement of all the state press and publishers' organizations, will seek to educate both drivers and pedestrians in the causes of accidents. The No. 1 target will be speeding drivers, whose violations of traffic laws cause half of the automobile deaths in a number of states. All safety organizations are urging stringent action against speeders. Another primary target will be drinking drivers, who also kill thousands of Americans every year and often escape punishment with "slap-on-the-wrist" fines that merely encourage similar violations, according to Mr. Boate.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Tallahassee — Leading off the list of big name candidates for state office this week are Thomas D. Bailey, seeking re-election as state school superintendent, Ed Larson, qualifying for re-election as state treasurer; Richard W. Ervin, qualifying for re-election as attorney general. Secretary of State R. A. Gray and Agricultural Commissioner Nathan Mayo already had tossed their hats back into the ring. Governor Fuller Warren is prevented by the constitution from succeeding himself.

Tallahassee — The State Livestock Sanitary Board is moving to end unsanitary meat killing and processing under a 1951 law which took effect January 1. State Veterinarian J. V. Knapp said complete state inspection of all meat will be accomplished as fast as the board can get qualified inspectors. They hope to end practices such as slaughter houses accepting dead animals for processing, mixing sausages by hand and in the same room where chickens are being plucked. Sanitary controls are badly needed in Florida, he concluded.

Tallahassee — Housing needs of eight men's fraternities at Florida State University have been met with new houses, built by the state and leased to the groups. They actually are small dormitories, are equipped and maintained by the university, and will be used by summer school students when the regular terms end. The fraternity members pay enough rent to retire the debt and meet maintenance costs. Phi Delta Theta, Theta Chi and Phi Tau have moved in, Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Kappa Alpha are moving this week, and Delta Tau Delta and Lamda Chi Alpha will get their houses later this month.

Tallahassee — Secretary of State R. A. Gray said he will comply with state democratic committee demands that candidates for appointment to "little cabinet" positions be put on the ballot. But Attorney General Richard W. Ervin said, if he is asked for his opinion, he believes so much "doubt and confusion" have been raised by the committee action that he will suggest court clarification. The committee at St. Petersburg voted to put all appointive positions on the ballot, for the "guidance" of the next governor. State officials here see this as an impossible assignment, because of the numbers involved and the varying terms of office.

Tallahassee — Governor Warren has increased from $2,500 to $5,000 the reward for conviction of the terrorists who bombed the residence of a Mims negro and his wife, killing both. He told a group of spokesmen for various groups that an explosive expert from the Third Army has arrived to continue the investigation, and promised the electric chair for anyone convicted of the murders without recommendation for mercy.

NATURE'S HUMBLE VIOLET INVENTED THE FIRST GUN

Many, many years before man invented the first pop gun or the first full-fledged cannon, the humble violet, one of nature's most beloved flowers, had already devised a pistol of its own, and was shooting missiles all over the place.

Violets, which can be observed growing throughout the winter season in many Florida State Parks, an unusual sight to our visitors from northern states, ripened up long ago a member of nature in the form of a gun that shoots out seeds into space, so they can find a new place to grow.

As the seed capsule drys, it splits into three boat-shaped sections with the seeds lying in the base of the boats. The edges of the boats keep drying and squeeze the seeds until the very pressure shoots them as far as nine feet, and a record-breaking distance if the wind catches them.

While northern states have wild yellow violets, the only violets with yellow in them that Florida knows are the cultivated pansies, a member of the violet family.

Florida violets are either white or purple. The white violets like the sun and damp ground and are quite easily seen at Gold Head Branch State Park, near Keystone Heights, and in Highlands Hammock State Park, near Sebring.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

Advertising clubs of Florida which comprise the Fourth District, Advertising Federation of America, launched a campaign this month to make Floridians courtesy-conscious.

At their urgence, Governor Fuller Warren officially proclaimed January as "Courtesy Month in Florida," and Mayors of Florida cities are urged to follow through with local proclamations.

District Governor A. P. Phillips of Orlando, chief executive of the Fourth District, AFA, points out that January is the most opportune of all months to take heed of the importance of courtesy, as during this month our greatest increase in visitors occurs each year.

Adopting the slogan, "Courtesy Wins Friends for Florida and You," the AFA has secured the cooperation of the Outdoor Advertising people who are contributing a full showing of 24 sheet boards throughout the state promoting the courtesy idea.

Transportation companies have joined the effort and courtesy cards are prominent in city bus advertising. Press and radio have been equally cooperative.

Through the exercise of courtesy every citizen of Florida can make a sizable and worthwhile contribution to the advancement and welfare of his state. Courtesy costs you nothing and yet it pays big dividends.

No matter how humble your position in life you can make a tremendous impression on others by being courteous. Those who develop the habit of being courteous are happier and get much more out of life than do those unfortunates who fail to cultivate the habit and go through life with a selfish attitude, indifferent to the feelings of others.

The corner stone of a great many successful businesses, large and small, can be traced to the consistent exercise of courtesy. People like to do business in a shop or store where clerks and attendants are polite and courteous. Tourists and visitors like the community where public officials and ordinary citizens are friendly and cooperative.

No matter how much money the Advertising Commission spends to increase tourist travel to this state, this investment will be lost if you and I fail to make our visitors feel at home when they arrive.

Florida with all its natural beauty, its sparkling lakes, flowers, palms and sunshine can quickly lose its glamorous appeal if its people fail to exercise courtesy toward its guests.

A surly policeman, indifferent store clerk or grumpy, sullen citizen can do untold harm to his state or community and drive prospects away who might have become substantial investors and permanent residents.

On the other hand, a courteous filling station attendant who greets the stranger with a smile, gives directions cheerfully and shows an interest in the visitor's problem, makes a lasting impression. Because of him the visitor forms a favorable impression of the state, the community and the firm that employs this type of attendant.

The courtesy movement that is now sweeping the state got its start when the Florida Power & Light Company adopted the slogan "Courtesy Wins Friends for Florida, the Company and You," and put on an intensive campaign to promote courtesy among FP&L employees.

The Miami Police Department took it up and the slogan, minus the word "company" was adopted for the American Legion National Convention. Then the Tampa Motor Club brought the campaign to the West Coast. Tampa's Police Department fell in line and now with the forceful backing of the state's enterprising Advertising Clubs of the Fourth District, AFA and Governor Warren's timely proclamation, Floridians really should become courtesy-conscious.

It is much easier to be friendly and courteous! Try it and see what wonderful dividends it pays. Adopt as your own, the slogan, "Courtesy Wins Friends for Florida and You."

96 KILLED ON RURAL HIGHWAYS

Rural highways continue to be more deadly than city streets, a Florida Highway Patrol report revealed today.

In a tentative summary of December's traffic fatalities, it was shown that ninety-six of the 112 persons killed were in collisions on state and county roads. The toll included twelve pedestrians, two bicycle riders, fifty-seven passengers and forty drivers.

Only Lafayette and Gilchrist counties reported no traffic deaths for 1951.

The county showing the most traffic deaths for December was Dade with thirteen. Palm Beach came second with twelve. In third place was Hillsborough with ten traffic fatalities. Pinellas had seven.

Miss Ruth Ellis, University of Florida senior speech student, and National College Student Chairman for the March of Dimes confers with Senator LeRoy Collins, Tallahassee, Florida State Chairman for the March. Miss Ellis, a polio, is also heading the University of Florida drive for March of Dimes funds.

THE CARDINAL

By The Bird Woman

This bird no doubt has been named from the vivid cardinal color of its feathers. The only other color being the black around the beak, which gives it a striking personality.

There are at least five distinct varieties of the cardinal in various sections of the country. Some have deeper tones of cardinal than others, but they all have a decided crest. The female has a little duller coat, but has a crest also. We find that even in the colder climates, as Canada, and the subtropical climates of the southern United States, that the cardinal's habits of nest building and of gathering its food are practically identical.

We have often heard people say that pretty birds cannot sing. This is false, for the goldfinch, indigo bunting, and rose-breasted grosbeak have both beauty and the ability to sing.

What could be more beautiful than the cardinal? Yet it has a beautiful song which resembles a chant more than a tune. They have a series of clear, rapid whistling sounds, like "whact, whact, who'it," etc., or "kew, kew, kew," etc., or "what cheer, what cheer, what cheer," etc.

The cardinal does not reserve its chant for nesting season, but can be heard most any time of the year, as it perches on a shrub or sappling and seems to get great joy out of chanting its melody to the world at large.

If one is familiar with birds, he can look at a cardinal, with its strong beak built for crunching, and know exactly what food the cardinal prefers. Although insects and wild fruit and berries are eaten, yet it prefers weed seed and sunflower seed, which it can readily crunch with its strong beak.

The Department of Agriculture designates the cardinal as a useful bird and it is protected by law both in Canada and the United States.

Deleware, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, and Ohio have chosen the cardinal as their state bird.

It is well to remember, when tempted to spend money out of town for something that can be purchased locally, that no job was ever created for anyone in the home town from money spent out of town. It is only the money spent at home that creates prosperity at home.

AGRICULTURAL CREDIT TO BE STUDIED BY BANKERS

Orlando — Endeavoring to keep currently informed on farm and ranch credit and related agricultural problems, bankers from most all sections of Florida will meet in their Third Annual Bankers Agricultural Credit Conference at the University of Florida, Gainesville, January 24 and 25, it was announced here today by J. E. Bryan, President of the Florida Bankers Association and President Union Trust Company, St. Petersburg. The Conference is jointly sponsored by the Association's Agricultural Committee of which N. Ray Carroll, President First National Bank, Kissimmee, is Chairman; the College of Agriculture of the University of Florida; and the Jacksonville Branch Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta.

Also attending as guests of local bankers will be various professional agricultural workers including county agents, vocational agricultural teachers, and Soil Conservation Service people.

Farmers of Lake and other central Florida counties growing sea-land cotton, are urged to burn the stalks to better control the boll weevel in the next planting.

Motor Vehicle Commissioner Arch Livingston expects to sell 1,325,000 1952 automobile license tags before the year is over, at a yield of $25,000,000.

The Ames Circle, W.S.C.S., of the First Methodist Church, held the January meeting at the home of Mrs. Devon Reddick, with 11 members and one visitor present.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. C. DuBose, with Miss Millie Pearson leading in prayer. Roll was then called, and the treasurer's report given.

After a short business session, Mrs. J. C. Mathis gave the devotional, her very interesting topic being, "What's Coming in '52."

The meeting having been adjourned, the hostess served delicious refreshments of lemon pie and coffee.

Of an estimated 200,000 Americans disabled each year, primarily by chronic diseases, the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation believes the majority could become self-supporting through rehabilitation.

Peggy Thompson Thevenow Delaney Married This Week

Miss Peggy Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Thompson of this city, and Corporal Thevenow Delaney of the United States Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Delaney of Woodbine, Ga., were united in marriage Wednesday evening, January 16, at 6:30 o'clock, in the Union Congregational Church. The Rev. Herbert D. Graetz performed the doublering ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown with a train. The sleeves were of white lace, which also formed an over-bodice and peplum. The bride's finger-tip sheer veil was held by a white satin Juliet cap. She carried a white Bible centered with a corsage of white carnations and showered with orange blossoms on white ribbon streamers.

Mrs. James M. Anderson, sister of the bride, matron of honor and sole attendant, wore a full-skirted gown of white nylon with fitted bodice, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Gus Carrott, jr., of Miami, was best man.

Mrs. Vaughan Driggers of Wauchula, organist, played the nuptial music.

A reception at the bride's home followed the ceremony, the guests at both wedding and reception being the friends of the bride and groom. The bride's table, overlaid with white, was decorated with white baby chrysanthemums and gladioli, combined with silver wedding bells, and was lit by white candles. The three-tiered cake and the punch bowl flanked a wedding ring formed of individual blossoms.

At the close of the reception, Corporal and Mrs. Delaney left for the West Coast. Mrs. Delaney chose as her going-away costume an aqua silk dress with matching wool jacket and black accessories; she wore the corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The newly-married couple are both graduates of Avon Park High School.

Mrs. Delaney is a graduate of the Johns Hopkins school of nursing in Baltimore, Md., and has also attended Stetson University in Deland. She is now employed by the United States Indian Service as a nurse in Alaska.

Corporal Delaney recently returned from Japan, where he spent three years with the U.S. Army Medical Corps.

Mrs. Delaney will return to Alaska in February to complete her year's term of service. Corporal Delaney will report to Fort Jackson, S.C., to complete his Army service.

So You Have A Pot!

Well, that is just fine — now what we want is for you to make the best of it. The committee for the Garden Club wants you to take that "pot" and plant a nice plant or shrub in it, and get it to growing nicely for the plant and flower exhibit which the Garden Club is giving at the Armory in March.

March seems a long way off but it takes plants time to get adjusted after being potted.

Even if you have plants already potted, please fertilize them and groom them so they will be looking their prettiest when put on exhibition.

Each member of the club is expected to bring two potted plants to the exhibit.

We were happy last year to find that a great many ribbons were awarded to our friends and flower lovers who did not belong to the Garden Club.

We sincerely hope that you will all co-operate again this year.

Malcolm Crews, city clerk reports that Avon Park had a good building year in 1951, as his office issued a total of $273,360.00 worth of building permits as follows:

New residential, $118,850.00; residential additions, $19,460.00; new business, $21,100.00, business additions, $55,950.00, included in this is $50,000.00 for Power Plant addition; churches, $46,000.00; Library, $12,000.00.

All indications point to a much larger year for 1952, if a couple of planned subdivisions materialize.

BRICKEL ESTATE LOTS PURCHASED

The City Council has purchased for our city the lots formerly owned by the Brickel Estate and lying between Donaldson Park and the Mall, for the sum of $7900.

In purchasing these lots the Council obeyed the public will, as expressed by resolutions in favor of the purchase passed by civic organizations and expressions of opinion by numerous individuals. It was felt that the sale of these lots to private persons and the erection of business structures on them would have seriously detracted from Donaldson Park.

SOME ARE OPEN AND SOME ARE CLOSED

For the information of our readers we have been asked to mention the fact that some stores in Avon Park are remaining open on Wednesday afternoon for the balance of the winter season. So if you are inclined to do some shopping on that afternoon you will find some of the stores open and you will also find that some are closed. Most grocery, hardware and department stores are remaining open.

'51 Florida's Largest Vacation Year

Last year 4,800,000 vacationers and visitors came to Florida from virtually every state and a number of foreign lands.

This is the greatest number of tourists ever to visit the State, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reports.

Further, tourism, the greatest single source of income of Floridians, accounted for $840,000,000 of the total income of Florida residents in 1951.

Last year, as in other years, most of the tourists arrived in Florida by private passenger car. Estimates on means of transportation used are given in this week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division.

Passenger cars brought 49 percent, or 2,352,000 of the total. Twenty-four per cent, or 1,152,000, came by train, 19 per cent, or 912,000, traveled by bus, and 8 per cent, or 384,000 by plane. Less than one per cent arrived by boat but are not reported separately.

These totals refer only to vacationers and visitors and do not represent total passenger loads of any of the means of transportation.

1951 Farm Safety Program Yields Fewer Accidents

There were a total of 15 fatalities on the farm, which is a reduction from the previous year, yet there were 9 farm workers killed off the farm and many injured. Recent truck accidents throughout the state have caused the death of many farm employees. You are just as dead whether killed on the farm or on the highway if you are careless.

Citrus workers should be more careful when using aluminum ladders. Several, recently have been killed by coming in contact with live wires.

"The Safety On The Farm Program" inaugurated in 1938, by Com. Nathan Mayo is today nation-wide and has resulted in the saving of many farm lives and improved farm conditions throughout the nation. All state farm agencies are cooperating in the "Safety On The Farm Program" which has done much to remind the farmer of the need for caution in the home and on the farm — Agricultural Inspectors, Vocational Teachers, the Extension Service, the Press and others have cooperated in this program.

Florida Phosphate Sold for $45,377,842

Phosphate, Florida's most valuable mineral, sold for $45,377,842 at the mines last year.

Sales in Florida in 1950 involved 8,085,870 long tons of phosphate, more by 184 percent than in 1940, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reports. National production increased 156 per cent during the ten year period.

From 1940 through 1947 Florida produced from 65 to 73 per cent of the national volume of phosphate sold. By 1949 this Florida proportion had increased to 76 per cent and to 79 per cent last year. Other phosphate producing states are Tennessee, Idaho, Montana, Utah and Wyoming.

Mutual To Hold Statewide Mass Meeting Monday, Jan. 28

Florida citrus growers will be told all the facts leading up to the present demoralized orange price situation by Florida Citrus Mutual at a statewide mass meeting to be held in Winter Haven Monday at 2 P.M. The meeting will be held in Nora Mayo Hall in the Florida Citrus Building. Principal speaker will be Merton L. Corey, who returned from New York to serve as public relations counsel for Mutual. Corey was a co-organizer of Mutual with James C. Morton, and carried the organizational campaign to a successful conclusion singlehanded after Morton was stricken with a heart attack brought on from over-exertion.

All Mutual members have been urged by Lacy G. Thomas, Mutual president, to attend the Winter Haven meeting if it is at all possible. It had originally been planned to hold meetings in various sections of the state but this plan was changed and one statewide mass meeting decided upon in order to get the full story to all Mutual members as quickly as possible. Letters went out Wednesday to all Mutual members stressing the importance of the Winter Haven meeting and urging them to be present.

Dimes Fund Seeks To Banish Polio

Aimed at eventually making infantile paralysis "as rare as smallpox", the 1953 March of Dimes boomed into high gear here and in 16,000 communities throughout the nation today, as the campaign for polio-fighting funds entered the third week of the most critical drive in the history of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"We are more eager than ever to knock polio into the limbo of conquered diseases," Colin DeShong Highlands County March of Dimes director said, "because infantile paralysis is on the upsurge and is the only epidemic disease still on the increase in America."

Mr. DeShong called the campaign in this county one of the most important voluntary efforts ever made. He asked every citizen who has not yet contributed this year to the fight against infantile paralysis to do so at once. He said:

This is more than just a fund raising drive. It is a peculiarly individual appeal. The fight against polio is everybody's fight because everybody is eager to provide our children with all the protection possible against this crippling disease.

"Scientists report that we are definitely closing in on polio. We are faced, however, with keeping scientists at work and caring for patients at the same time. We must see the fight through with our dimes and dollars, if we are to achieve final victory. Our local chapter of the National Foundation must have funds with which to take care of those who need assistance when polio strikes.

'Liquid Sunshine' Gift From Home

Avon Park National Guardsmen at Camp Stewart, Ga., had all the Florida oranges they could eat last Friday, Jan. 18, and they revealed, as they stared "liquid sunshine from home."

Neal Sellers, who went to see his son, a guardsman, drove to the camp in a truck. The truck was loaded with oranges, the gift of the Avon-Florida Citrus Corp., through Charles Metcalfe.

Legion To Have Fish Fry For March of Dimes

At their weekly meeting Wednesday night Highlands Post No. 69, The American Legion followed through in their agreement to sponsor an event for the March of Dimes. On January 31, from 6:00 to 7:30 P.M., an old fashioned public fish fry with plenty of fish will be held at the American Legion Home on Lake Lotela, the entire proceeds of which will be contributed to the 1953 March of Dimes Campaign.

The March of Dimes Committee would like to express their deep appreciation to the local Legion Post for this action and urge all people of Avon Park and the rest of Highlands County to attend thus helping fight infantile paralysis in Highlands County as well as enjoying a good American Legion public fish fry." This support is urgently needed since the Highlands County Chapter is some $1200.00 in the hole for funds spent on our polio cases. Our goal this year is $4500.00 of which an integral portion has to be raised in Avon Park.

Avon Park Camp Opens Thursday

The Avon Park Camp Meeting will open Thursday night, January 31 to continue through February 10, on the camp ground located on Highway 27 opposite Lake Isis Tourist Court. The camp is interdenominational, and held in favor of all evangelical church groups. The public is invited to attend.

Dr. S. H. Turberville of Winter Park and Dr. James A. DeWeerd will conduct alternate services. Dr. Turberville, formerly a pastor in Iowa and Indiana, is an approved Methodist evangelist. Dr. DeWeerd, editor, author, and former college president, was a U.S. Army chaplain during the last war, and was decorated with the Silver Star for gallantry in action, the Purple Heart, and the Oak Leaf Cluster.

REV. ARTHUR J. LIVELY TO BE HERE WEDNESDAY

The Reverend Father Arthur J. Lively, vicar of the Church of St. Agnes, Sebring, will be the celebrant of the Holy Communion service at the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer here on Wednesday, January 30, 10:00 A.M.

Agriculture Topic Of Rotary Talk

The Avon Park Rotary Club on Wednesday heard a fine and intelligent talk on "The Truth About Florida's Agriculture", by a man who is in a position to know. Willard M. Fifield, director University of Florida Agricultural Experiment Stations, Gainesville spoke to a practically full membership and 15 visiting Rotarians. We regret that we do not have the space to publish his talk in full, but the speaker's opening statement was as follows:

"Florida's agriculture is tremendously vital to the state's entire economy. There are in this state some 135 different kinds of agricultural enterprises from which one or more individuals derive their entire livelihood. Most of you know something of our citrus, vegetable and cattle industries, but how many of you know that there are 10,000 beekeepers in the State of Florida, and that we rank third in the United States in honey production? There are over 5,000 commercial nurseries that sell plants of one kind or another. Our gladiolus and our shade tobacco industries each bring an annual income of about $10,000,000 to their growers. Last year the actual cash income to our farmers and cattlemen was estimated at approximately $490,335,000. This figure, however, does not represent agriculture's total value to the state. It does not include the income derived as a result of our agricultural production by such industries as our fertilizer manufacturers and distributors, insecticide dealers, crate manufacturers, railroads and commercial truck lines, farm implement, automobile and truck dealers, our feed dealers, our container industry, ice plants, machine shops, hardware stores, seed companies, cigar factories, our huge citrus processing plants, meat packers, petroleum distributors, electrical utilities, and a host of others such as our agricultural magazines, our veterinarians, produce buyers, and our bankers. Even our newspapers think enough of their rural subscribers to include considerable agricultural news.

If a calculation were made of the total contribution of agriculture, it probably would amount to at least one-third of our entire State income, or approximately one billion dollars. This is the reason that agriculture is so important to practically all who earn their living in Florida."

Visiting Rotarians present were: Glenn Nestman, Delbert Peter and E. F. Armstrong, Hicksville, Ohio; R. L. Maxson, Urbana, Ill.; L. T. Carter, Woodriver, Ill.; Dr. Frank Brodrick, Sterling, Ill.; Jim Massie, Waynesville, N.C.; H. W. Seaborn, Sebring; E. V. Romig, Keyser, W. Va.; Milton Cutliff and Colyar S. Tatum of Raleigh, N.C.; R. B. Curry, Greenwood, S.C.; Dick Riley and J. B. McClendon, Frostproof.

Rotary urges all who can to attend the basketball game Friday night, between Fort Meade and the Avon Park teams, as all proceeds go to the March of Dimes drive. There will be three games the first starting at 6:30 P.M.

Sen. Moore Won't Seek Reelection

State Senator James W. Moore Wednesday announced he would not seek reelection in the 27th senatorial district of Highlands, Hardee, Hendry, Glades and De-Soto Counties.

The effect of legislating on his personal economy and the deprivation of the pleasure of his family were the two factors that caused him to withdraw from the political arena the senator stated.

Measures sponsored by Moore provided an additional appropriation of $65,000 for the rehabilitation of Highlands Hammock State Park; $385,000 in additional revenue for the Pierce C. Wood Memorial Hospital at Arcadia; endorsation of Avon Park as the site of a hospital for alcoholics with an initial appropriation of $500,000 and an annual appropriation of $252,000 for its operation when built.

As a result of Moore's standing with the administration, the district has benefitted from a road-building program by the State Road Department.

The withdrawal of Moore may result in the nomination of Doyle Carlton, Jr., of Wauchula, son of ex-Gov. Doyle Carlton, as Moore's successor without contest.

God has endowed man with inalienable rights, among which are self-government, reason and conscience. — Mary Baker Eddy.

Be On Lookout For Bad Check Passers

Merchants and business people of Highlands County are warned to be on the lookout for bad check artists, as this is the season for the smooth operators and high powered salesmen to hit Florida.

In talking to County Judge Howard Livingston he stated:

"Lately there has been an epidemic of bad check cases being brought in the County Judge's Court. Apparently this is rapidly becoming a common practice throughout the state, and I respectfully urge that all merchants and persons accepting checks from strangers make certain that they definitely know the maker of the check and the endorser."

A small amount of investigation and questioning may save the merchants a considerable amount of worry and sums of money.

Three File For County Commissioner Dist. 5

Three candidates have entered the race for county commissioner from Dist. 5, the post now held by W. V. Higgins, who was appointed to fill the unexpired term of John W. Schumacher.

W. V. Higgins said he would not seek another term.

Morris Adams, local manager for the Texas Oil Co., will be a candidate for County Commissioner from District 5 in the May primaries. Mr. Adams came to Highlands County in 1928. A graduate of the University of Forida, he served four years in the army during World War II. Now a resident of this city, he is married and is the father of two children.

He is a Director of the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce, a member of Rotary, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Carroll M. Payne, a resident of Sebring, for 38 years, made announcement this week. Payne was born in New York state, but came to Florida in 1918 and has lived in Highlands county since 1923. He raises poultry, bulbs and cattle. He is married, has five children, and is a Methodist, a member of the Farm Bureau and the Cattlemen's Association. He was a telegraph operator and agent for the Seaboard railroad before going into the poultry business.

Scott Landress of Avon Park has also filed his intention of becoming a candidate.

Bert Frizzell has filed for commissioner from District 1, Avon Park. He will oppose Commissioner M. H. Grice, who filed for re-election in December.

Commissioner R. L. Stokes will be opposed by Austie Heacock, who has filed as a candidate from District 3.

Commissioners A. J. Tubbs, District 2 and A. C. McAulay, District 4, are hold-over members of the board.

American Legion Membership Banquet

Highlands Post. No. 69, The American Legion had a membership banquet Wednesday night, January 23 at the American Legion Home on Lake Lotela. The occasion was well attended by about 150 Legionaires, wives, and Auxiliary.

The purpose of the banquet was to celebrate a successful membership drive in which the local Legion Post exceeded its last year membership by 40 percent. There was a gain of 57 new members with 5 of these Korean Veterans and for the 2nd time in the History of the Post there is a lady member, Mrs. Mary Garrett. Jesse J. Wallace, of Nokomis, Fla., District Commander presented the Post with a membership Honor Ribbon, which in turn was placed on the Post colors by Comrade Francis LaFlam who secured more than 50 members for 1952.

Membership awards were presented to: Francis LaFlam, Floyd Q. Freer, Demos Mandis, Vernon Waters, Spike Rhiner, H. T. Sasser.

Ralph A. Johnson of Coeburn, Va., Past Department Commander of Va. and Chairman of the National Internal Affairs Commission of the American Legion was the principal speaker. Mr. Johnson spoke on the workings of the National Headquarters of the American Legion and the Sebring Shores Development for Legionaires.

Following Mr. Johnson's address a technicolor motion picture of the recent National American Legion Convention was shown.

County Officers Tell Human Interest Story

On January 6, of this year, due to the drowning of two negroes in a canal leading from Lake Istokpoga to Lake Placid, Sheriff Broward Coker and County Judge Howard G. Livingston as Coroner of the County were called to conduct an investigation thereof. In that it was determined that the drowning was purely accidental, no inquest was held.

However, during the course of the investigation, four insurance policies were found in the personal effects of one of the deceased, Mamie Matthews, there being two policies written on her life and two on her husband, Lucius Matthews, who at that time was confined to a hospital in Tampa, written by the Independent Life & Accident Insurance Company of Jacksonville. Records on the receipt book would indicate that all policies had lapsed, but in making a more careful search, a receipt was found for a United States Postal Money Order in the amount of $3.52. Had that amount been applied to all four policies they would definitely have been lapsed, including the grace period of thirty (30) days. Should the amount have been applied to one policy, there was a possibility that it would have been in force by four or five days.

Judge Livingston wrote the insurance company, advising of the loss, and asked for payment of the policy. Later he received a call from the District Manager and local agent of the insurance company who, upon being advised of the death, advised that the policies had lapsed. Judge Livingston pointed out that if the last premium payment had been applied on one policy there was a possibility that the one policy would have been in force. He was told that it was very rare that that procedure was followed, but upon examination of the official record, it was discovered that the local agent, Mr. J. W. Whitlock, had applied the entire amount on one of the policies of the life of the deceased, Mamie Matthews. Thereupon, the District Manager advised that payment would be recommended, and that in addition to the face value of $500.00, the double indemnity of an additional $500.00 would be paid. The appropriate proof of death was secured, and in due course, the widower received checks of the company totaling $1000.00. All of this was done without any work on his part whatsoever.

This is, indeed one of those rare occasions that happen once in a lifetime, and is stranger than fiction. Anyway, the husband received payment for the insurance policy, and the County was saved the cost of a pauper's burial. So, it is another case where good was derived from the investigations by the Coroner, assisted by the Sheriff.

FLORIDIANS MUST MAKE 1952 TAGS LAST 2 YEARS

Roland X. Droit, Supervisor of Registration of Highlands County, also Tag Agent, has this recommendation to make to car owners when they purchase their 1952 license plates.

"In view of the fact that in all probability motorists will continue to use their 1952 plates for the next several years with a tab being placed on the top of the plate showing the year 1953, we recommend that motorists do everything possible to preserve the present conditions of their new plates."

This announcement came from the tag office after Droit learned unofficially today that because of the shortage of steel new plates for Florida motorists would not be issued in 1953. Instead the war time tab will probably be put into effect, hence the recommendation from the tag agent to Florida motorists is to coat their new license plates with a preservative.

'TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

Cities all over the country are making a strong pitch these days to take the management of the public transportation companies away from the company officials and place them in the hands of the taxpayers and their elected representatives. It is a sort of "dummy" plan to make bus systems tax free with the argument going something like this:

Cities must have competent bus service. Transportation companies can't make money as long as they have to pay the current high taxes. Public ownership would free the companies of taxes. So why don't the cities take title to the bus companies, leaving private management in charge, with no taxes to pay?

Isn't this a perfect illustration of the way high taxes are being used as stepping stones to socialism?

Miami is in the midst of just such a problem right now. And the city fathers are actually considering just such a move to alleviate the tax problems of the Miami Transit Company. Will the Florida Power & Light Company or the Southern Bell Telephone Company, the other large public utilities in the Miami area, be next in line?

Let's see how the dummy-ownership plan would apply to the City of Miami.

The three major public utilities are of course, the Florida Power & Light, Southern Bell Telephone and Miami Transit. Dade County and the City of Miami receive a total of $3,373,000 a year in taxes paid or collected by these three utilities.

Dade County gets over a million dollars a year from the three companies in property taxes alone . . . almost enough to run the whole county park system, which includes seven public parks, the county auditorium, four boat harbors, a camp site and the county nursery, for a year.

The same three utilities pay the City of Miami $745,000 in direct taxes. In addition, the power company collects a million dollars a year and the phone company $500,000 for the City in taxes levied on the users of electricity and telephones.

This adds up to $2,245,000 a year in the City's coffers . . . more than enough to pay the cost of all waste disposal . . . which includes the removal of garbage and rubbish from homes and business places, street cleaning and running the city incinerator.

The City of Miami must need this $2,245,000 a year and Dade County must need its $1,128,000 . . . they're spending the money!

If this income were wiped out by taking over the three utilities, would the City discontinue the disposing of garbage? Would the county parks be closed to the public? Or would some other service be discontinued or curtailed to save the money?

We know that wouldn't happen. The additional money would come from the pockets of the good people of Dade County and Miami.

None of the public utilities is asking for public ownership. They know it just doesn't work. They know they can do a better job at a cheaper price to the average citizen than the city-owned plant can ever hope to do.

We have had too many examples of waste and corruption in government-controlled agencies . . . whether it be city, state or national basis . . . to have any confidence whatsoever in the politicians doing a good job this time.

I just can't go for any plan whereby my neighbor can get free bus service into town just because he knows someone in the Mayor's office . . . or for a friend to get free electricity in his home by controlling a block of votes that helped elect one of the city commissioners.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The Federal Trade Commission tire ruling effective in April furnishes a pattern by which monopoly growth may be curbed.

While the evils of the tire industry are perhaps more spectacular percentage-wise, the same practices [illegible] are being followed in other industries to the detriment not only of free trade, but also to the public.

C. W. Harder

The FTC order you'll hear a lot about rules there is a limit to the preferential discount that any dealer is entitled to for volume purchases.

The order sets up a 20,000 pound carload as the maximum quantity any dealer needs take at one time to qualify for the maximum discount allowed by the manufacturer.

An FTC study initiated in 1947 through the efforts of the National Federation of Independent Business, brought to light some startling figures.

In 1947 there were slightly more than 48,000 tire dealers in the country, buying from 21 manufacturers. 98% of these dealers, or slightly more than 47,000, do 32% of the business. In 1926 98% of the dealers did 90% of the business, and there were more dealers.

However, as the report showed, these 47,000 dealers on whom the majority of the nation's auto owners rely, have been severely penalized.

There are 63 dealers, or less than 1/5 of 1% who sell 36% of the tires, and they receive preferential discounts from the manufacturers of from 26 to 40% more than the independent dealers. This means that dealer profits on some tires amounted to two-thirds of the price, but only 62 dealers were allowed this profit.

* * *

In making this ruling, the FTC invoked a section of the Robinson-Patman Act, for the first time in the 15 years it has been enacted into law.

Of interest in this fight which started when the House Small Business Committee in 1927, urged by George Burger, N.F.I.B. vice president, called upon Justice Department and the FTC to investigate the situation, is the bitter delaying action fought by the Big 4: Goodrich, Goodyear, Firestone and U.S. Rubber.

They fought to the end, despite the fact that on the face of the evidence, it would appear they would welcome the opportunity to cut discounts to a favored few outlets.

Neither can it be presumed the Big 4 has been selling to these few preferred customers at a loss. Therefore, the only conclusion that can be placed on their opposition is that the public has long been overcharged for tires.

The Office of Price Stabilization, better known as the Office of Price Snattling, has announced this ruling upsets their procedure and indicates they may attempt to block enforcement.

* * *

Such action, however, could reveal information showing conclusively that despite all the propaganda for monopoly on the grounds that the public is saved money it will be proved the public "pays through the nose" for this type of business control.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Tallahassee — C. M. Gay, state comptroller, has announced for re-election thus bringing onto the spring primary ballot all six of the state cabinet officers. And on the eve of the qualifying deadline, February 1, the hard-working chairman of the state road department, Alfred A. McKethan, withdrew his name from speculation that he might run for governor. As this is written, the only uncertain factor from a state-wide basis is whether Claude Pepper will run for governor, or for United States Senator, or remain in private life. A minor turmoil developed in the Tampa-St. Petersburg congressional district when Chester B. McMullen announced he will retire at the end of his first term, and opened the lists for a wild scramble among those who want to succeed him.

Tallahassee — The Florida Bar soon will announce the names of seven former past presidents who will form a committee to help prosecute lawyers accused of unethical practices. President John M. Allison of Tampa reported to the board of governors that 100 complaints have been brought to the board, after many more had been screened. He promised that the "house-cleaning" in the legal profession would be thorough. As of now, he added, there are 4,762 practicing attorneys in Florida.

Tallahassee — The magnificent music building at Florida State University one of the finest in the nation, has been named Opperman Hall, in honor of Dean Ella Scoble Opperman, who joined the school of music in 1911. The hall has been opened since the war, and embodies the latest in design and fittings. Dean Opperman retired in 1944.

Tallahassee — The state of Florida this week is expected to be on a cash basis again. Comptroller C. M. Gay told the cabinet that the general fund now has a balance of nearly two and a half million dollars after all January school and pension checks are paid, and that he expects within a few days to pay some bills deferred in December. Collections from automobile tag tax were delayed 35 days by a 1951 law which postponed sale of tags until Jan. 5, and this is largely blamed for the recent shortage.

Tallahassee — Major candidates for governor so far have reported spending at least $15,000 altogether, with four months of campaigning still ahead of them. Expenses reported include Alto Adams with $5,458 to date, Dan McCarty with $2,799, and Bailey Odham with $5,912.

Tallahassee — Chairman Alfred A. McKethan of the state road department has suggested that the department be enlarged to have nine instead of five members. Thus, he told delegates here attending the budget hearings, various sections of the state could be represented without putting such a strain on the board members. Instead of making the chairman the executive officer, McKethan advocated hiring a commissioner of roads. Terms of the board members would be staggered, he said, so no one governor could control its actions.

Three In County Stock Fish Ponds

By Sam Polston,
Soil Conservationist

The possibility of making a good catch of fish on the day off ought to be better in 1953. At least for three cooperators of the Highlands Soil Conservation District who were assisted by the District last week in stocking their farm fish pond with blue gill bream which will also be stocked in March with bass.

D. V. Palmer of Lorida, Dr. W. C. Touchton and Walter Mandis of Avon Park received a total of 2,650 bream to stock their three farm fish ponds. These ponds were cleaned of rough fish and fertilized in preparation for the stocking with the bream and bass combination. This combination for stocking domestic ponds according to Howard Bissland, Fish and Wildlife Biologist, of the Soil Conservation Service and it is also recommendation of the State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

The ration for stocking farm fish ponds is 1000 blue gill bream and 100 bas per surface acre of water and potential production of fish is about 600 pounds per year if the pond is properly fertilized.

There is no charges for the stock fish so if you think you have a suitable pond for stocking, the Highlands Soil Conservation District will examine the pond and assist you in stocking it, if it is suitable.

There are several factors to consider among which is at least ¼ acre in size, and have at least four feet of water when it is the lowest.

Winning Friends For Florida

A statewide Courtesy Program is being jointly sponsored throughout the state by advertising clubs of the Fourth District, Advertising Federation of America, and other public-spirited groups and firms. Governor Fuller Warren has proclaimed January as official "Courtesy Month." Newspapers, radio stations, outdoor poster companies and other advertising media are helping in the program to encourage courtesy. President of the Miami Advertising Club, Josh Ellis, and Vernon Paul of Packer Displays, above, check one of the many highway signs which tourists will see throughout Florida. The courtesy slogan was originally developed and used by Florida Power & Light Company. When it was adopted by the Miami Police Department, it made news in northern newspapers and national publications.

Homes Open To Public on Flower Show Tour

By Elisabeth D. Burnette
General Chairman of Publicity

The "House to House Flower Show" of the Garden Club of Sebring will be held on Wed., Feb. 6 from 1 to 5 P.M. and 7 to 9 P.M. and Thursday, February 7, from 1 to 5 P.M. It will include six lovely homes of Sebring, containing approximately ninety Blue Ribbon flower arrangements, personally arranged by Ruth Kistner of Long Island, who is a nationally known authority, and has made special flower arrangements for Princess Elizabeth in London, and many other notables.

There will be six homes on the tour, as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sebring, Mr. and Mrs. J. Clagett Taylor, Miss Edna Mixsell, Dr. and Mrs. H. V. Weems, Mrs. Ellen Bee, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Williams.

The Georgian home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sebring, on Sebring Heights, the highest land point in Sebring, is a well designed home for comfortable living. It has a number of unusual features of construction that are of architectural interest. The woodwork throughout the entire house is of solid black walnut, mellowed by time. There are two rare and unusual ceramic mantels in the living and dining rooms, the latter being an especially lovely one.

The house contains many examples of good pottery, created by American artists. Many of these fine pieces were made at the Sebring, Ohio, Potteries, with which Mr. Sebring was connected for over forty years.

Mrs. Kistner has selected for the Georgian type home flowers of striking colors. The living room mantel will carry two traditional Georgian flower arrangements in ruby vases. Other arrangements in the living room will be composed of various kinds of lilies, and combinations of softly muted shades of gerbera.

The dining room mantel will have an unusual arrangement of camellias in shades of pink, arranged in a natural grapefruit as a container, which will be most effective beneath Mrs. Sebring's collection of fine English plates hung above the fireplace. The dining room table will be centered with a glowing arrangement of burgundy and pink flowers, picking up the shades of the draperies.

Mrs. Kistner has chosen a lighter color scheme for the bedroom; the dressing table will have an arrangement of a pair of natural cockle shells filled with pink rose buds and subtle shades of hydrangeas.

A fine Chinese joss bowl arranged with the rich tones of burgundy gladiolii will be the focal point of interest in Mr. Sebring's den.

"Chapel Bell", the home of Miss Edna Mixsell, president of the Garden Club, has an interesting history. Several years ago, Miss Mixsell purchased the old Presbyterian Church of Frostproof, which was built over forty years ago of excellent construction. It was moved the 28 miles from Frostproof in two sections, and assembled as an additional wing on the lakeside of Miss Mixsell's home. The exterior entrance to this wing is the original entry way to the church. Topping the entrance is a bell tower with a resonant bell.

The remodeled wing now contains a spacious living room and two charming bedrooms. Despite the size of the living room, with its vaulted ceiling, it is made graciously liveable with well chosen furniture, a large Mahal Oriental rug, and ancestral portraits by Sully. The huge picture window commands a wonderful view of the lake, especially at sunset.

Mrs. Kistner has chosen "Chapel Bell" as the scene of a wedding reception. Calla, Easter and Eucharist lilies, with white gladiolii will be featured in arrangements against a background of traditional palms. The bride's table will be covered with a rare heirloom lace cloth, which has been in the Mixsell family over one hundred years. To complete the picture, there will be a bride's bouquet, and a tiered wedding cake.

The dressing tables, in each of the bedrooms in the wing, will have unusual flower arrangements. One will carry a pair of old lamps as flower vases, and the other will be centered with a gay potpourri arrangement, having a mysterious aroma. The screened veranda, opening from the latter bedroom, will feature whimsical flower arrangements in bird cages.

The Monterey-type home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clagett Taylor on North Lake View Drive, presents a picture of quiet charm, with its exquisite color schemes providing a harmonious background for flowers and family heirlooms. The Colonial mantel will be centered with an arrangement of small citrus fruit, large grapes, and multi-colored croton leaves. It will be flanked by a pair of old blue Bristol vases with arrangements of deep rust snap dragons and podacarpus foliage. Another point of interest will the rare 18th century Hepplewhite serpentine chest of drawers with an arrangement of yellow and red gladiolii. The early American tables, at each end of the Victorian sofa, will have bouquets formally arranged of various types of foliage. The lake view veranda, forming an extension of the living room, will be gay with arrangements of gloriosa lilies, with their rich hues of red and yellow.

The dining room table will be enhanced by a Della Robbia wreath of foliage and fruit. The very attractive modern kitchen will be decorated effectively.

Next week the attractive features and flower arrangements for the homes of Dr. and Mrs. Weems, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Williams, and "Rancho Margurita", the home of Mrs. Ellen Bee, will be detailed.

The block tickets for the "House to House Flower Show" are $2.00 each, and may be purchased from Garden Club members, or at the desk of the Sebring Cafe, from Mrs. Ramon Canto, ticket chairman.

The Kroger Grocery Chain, which has 2,400 stores but none in Florida, sells 22 million dollars worth of Florida citrus and produce per year.

Winter Guest Club News

Week of Jan. 13, 1952

Activities at the Club are at a new high point. The shuffleboards are full from 10:00 A.M. until late evening. The events inside the Club House have full houses.

A potluck elimination tournament was carried out Saturday P.M. under the able supervision of Yvonne Beall. The original teams were decided by numbers drawn. Winners played winners until all were ousted, leaving Ira McLaren and Wilfred Smalley the successful team for the afternoon. They are still strutting their laurels.

Saturday evening a full house gathered for the program, which opened with community singing of Stephen Foster favorites followed by a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Newhouse. Mr. Heath introduced Dr. Edward Reisner who gave an interesting and humorous talk on "The Challenge of Growing Old." The program ended with a piano solo by Mrs. McCrea. Following the program a large crowd remained to participate in games.

Monday evening was equally entertaining and well attended. This program was opened by singing "America", then Mr. Oppy introduced Judge Rice of Anderson, South Carolina who chose the United Nations as his subject. Judge Rice entertained with a fund of humorous stories before attempting the serious subject.

A Hobby Show was held in the Club rooms Tuesday afternoon and evening. The quantity and quality of hand work exhibited caused amazement but proves that we winter guests do not play all the time. A large crowd attended both the afternoon and evening exhibits. Many exhibitors were present to explain or demonstrate their work to anyone interested.

Coming Events

Card party Thursday evening, prizes.

Dance, Friday evening. An amplifier has been added to help Ed's calling.

The Sympathizing Tear

Jesus shed the sympathizing tear. His whole life may be summed up with one word "Compassion". In all of his dealings with men he showed sympathy toward them. He let others criticise, condemn and hurl stones. His great concern was to discover and understand the basic causes underlying twisted and unfortunate lives. After which he patiently untangled the web of circumstances to get at the heart of the personal difficulties.

Recently there came to my attention the case of a man who had been maligned unmercifully because of his insobriety. When all the facts were in, it was revealed that he was seeking relief from intense suffering caused by a malignant tumor. Unkindness, as a rule, roots itself in ignorance. Take the story of the Scottish professor who directed one of his students to stand up and read. The lad stood up, holding the book in the left hand. "Hold the book in the other hand", exclaimed the professor. The student didn't obey. "Do you hear me, sir?" thundered the professor. The student stopped reading and bowed his head. Whereupon the professor shouted at him. Then the lad held up his right arm disclosing the fact that the hand had been cut off.

Of course, one would retort, the poor professor didn't know about the lad's unfortunate handicap. True! But isn't that precisely the situation that most of us are in with regard to the misfortune of others. We just don't know! If we did, we would be apt to be more sympathetic and less ready to let fly a cruel and ugly remark.

DEFEND RELIGIOUS FREEDOM IN AMERICA

Seventh-day Adventist church members here will devote a part of the Saturday morning service January 26 to the consideration of ways by which laymen can help to defend religious freedom in America, according to J. R. Young, pastor of the local church.

Attention will be called to recent threats to this liberty as seen in the appointment of an ambassador to the Vatican, revival of Sunday laws, the Green River Ordinance prohibiting sale of gospel literature, and other developments. Dr. C. J. Larsen, religious liberty secretary for the church, will explain procedures freedom-loving citizens should follow to make their opinions and wishes known to their congressmen.

Church members will be asked to send subscriptions for Liberty magazine to judges, lawmakers, teachers, ministers and other leaders of the nation, to bring to their attention current issues which involve the American principle of separation of church and state. Since it was launched in 1906 as the American Sentinel, Liberty magazine has been devoted to the preservation of the religious and civil liberties guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States.

SEN. SPESSARD L. HOLLAND

Holland Announces For Reelection

Bartow — U. S. Senator Spessard L. Holland announced this week he will be a candidate for re-election in the Spring primaries.

"I am humbly grateful to the people of Florida for the high honor of representing them in the United States Senate, and I sincerely hope that I may be accorded the privilege of continuing to serve them and the Nation," Holland declared, adding that he had tried faithfully to represent the viewpoint of the Florida people.

"At all times, I have placed first the welfare of the general public rather than the demands of pressure groups, and have endeavored to perform my duties in such a way as to preserve our traditional American way of life," the State's Senior Senator continued. "I selected my committee appointments so that, while serving the Nation, I would be able to give maximum service to all Florida."

He praised the teamwork of the Florida delegation and said the unity of its members had produced good results for the state.

As he often has on the Senate floor, Holland sharply rebuked the "extreme left wingers who have persistently tried to engulf the United States with creeping Socialism under proposals such as the Brannan Farm Plan, Compulsory Health Insurance, and FEPC." "I have in the past opposed these and similar proposals, and will continue to do so with all my strength," he explained.

"I regard it as a continuing responsibility of Congress to do all within our power, by investigations and otherwise, to unearth corruption and loose practices in government, and to insist upon a return to greater simplicity, honesty, and efficiency," he added.

Holland has been a constant foe of governmental waste and was in the last session a leader in the move which whacked about $5,000,000,000 off the administration's request for additional taxes. Similarly, in each session, he has opposed extravagant spending by voting dozens of economy votes to reduce appropriations.

Himself a decorated combat veteran of World War I and the father of two fighting men in World War II, Holland has been a vigorous advocate of strong national defense and particularly attentive to veterans' legislation and problems ever since he has been in public life. Though steadfastly refusing to follow the Truman Administration on its more radical proposals, he has generally supported the bi-partisan foreign policy.

Part of Holland's effectiveness for Florida in the Senate stems from the fact that he is thoroughly experienced in all three branches of government - the judicial as Polk County Judge, the executive as wartime governor of the state from 1941 to 1945, and the legislative as State and United States Senator.

His record of being present and voting is 99 percent for the last three years, and is the best in the Senate. In party matters in the Senate, Holland is a member of the Democratic Steering Committee.

State-wide campaign offices for Holland will be opened soon in Bartow. He designated Ralph Davis, his Executive Secretary, as campaign treasurer and the Florida National Bank at Bartow as his official depository.

PREDICTS BILLION DOLLAR TOURIST YEAR

Florida visitors will be more economy-minded this year but they will still bring more than a billion dollars to the state if the pace set last year continues.

This is the opinion of Marvin L. Holloway, manager of the Tampa Motor Club, which serves 17 counties. He noted that winter sunshine seekers today favor a mobile vacation which fits into a limited travel budget. They visit more places, remain in each place a shorter period of time.

Holloway said his organization served 28,950 visiting AAA members in 1951 — 18 percent more than 1950. The Motor Club manager said income from last year's visitors amounted to about $855 million.

If the percentage of increase holds true in 1952, Holloway predicts tourist dollars will easily top the billion mark.

U. S. Must Build Civil Defense

RURAL AMERICA HAS IMPORTANT PART IN PROTECTING HOME FRONT

(This is the second of a series of articles on civil defense, based on the booklet "This Is Civil Defense" prepared by the Federal Civil Defense Administration. It may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. for ten cents.)

By MILLARD CALDWELL
Federal Civil Defense Administrator

Even if forewarned of war, our armed forces cannot prevent attack, for there is no sure way of keeping enemy planes from getting through our defenses.

The enemy's first objective would be to upset the war efforts of the civilian population, as well as to destroy property and to kill and injure people. His aim would be to make you quit, leave your jobs, desert your homes and start panic among you. Panic can take a tremendous toll of lives. It also can bring production to a stand-still.

It is the task of the civil defense to organize and train millions of Americans so that each one will be prepared to render the best protective service at the moment it is needed.

Your aim should be to accept that training so that you will know how to rescue the trapped and injured, know how to work with volunteer fire-fighting units, know how to prevent panic and know how to perform any of the specific duties of civil defense, particularly those you have indicated, in your training, that you are best qualified to do.

There are ways to save thousands of people from the effects of blast, radioactivity and heat from the atomic bomb. There are ways to take shelter, to rescue the trapped and injured, and ways to cut fire loses to a minimum. Organized civil defense can do those things.

The atomic bomb is too expensive to use purposely on a farm community. However, this relative freedom from attack only adds to the responsibility of the people who live in such areas. Civilians away from the target area will be better able, mentally and physically, to cope with situations of disaster.

Farm People Equipped

With cars, trucks and tractors available, farm people are well equipped to aid any stricken area within their reach. Mobile support, rescue and evacuation work are phases of civil defense that rural folk are especially qualified to do. To do any of them without confusion and delay, you must be organized and trained.

It is imperative that farm families learn about biological warfare and how to watch for it. While you are protecting your family and your livestock from infections and your crops from infestations, you are cooperating with the civil defense program.

There are ways of keeping disease from spreading, and of protecting our food and water supplies. Civil defense, working with existing health agencies and physicians, attends to that job.

We should be prepared to cope with poison gases. And we can be, for there are good defenses against them. There are ways of sharply reducing loses from gas attacks, and civil defense provides the best answers.

Civil defense services are organized to bring in help from outside, and to get a stricken city back into working order in the shortest possible time. It provides food, shelter and medical care for victims of attack.

Defense Takes Planning

Civil defense takes planning, organization, and a lot of hard work. There are jobs for you. Find out where you can serve your family, your community and yourself the best. Then volunteer for the work you are best suited to do.

Civil defense cannot protect every life and every home, but it will save thousands of lives—maybe your life or the life of someone dear to you.

(The next article will discuss what would happen if an A-bomb fell on your city without civil defense.)

"Alice in Orangeland" Theme for 1952 Citrus Exposition

THEY'RE OFF FOR THE FAIR

For real down-to-earth, homespun humor, none can dish it out like the lovable comedy team of Myrt and Gert. Here Gert is all set for a burro-buggy ride. Myrt doesn't show in the picture, but you can bet she will be with her big sister at the 1952 Florida State Fair in Tampa, Feb. 5 to 16.

Information On Social Security

More than ever before social security is now a family insurance program, according to W. E. Arnold, manager of the Lakeland Social Security office.

Pointing to the important changes Congress made in the law in 1950, he stated that four of these changes have special bearing on the family features of Federal old-age and survivors insurance.

Wives of insured workers may now draw social security payments regardless of their age if they have at least one of the workers' minor children in their care. Before the 1950 amendments, wives could receive payments only if they were 65 years old or over.

The men got a break through the amendments which was not there before, because now dependent husbands and dependent widowers are eligible for benefits based on their working wives' wages in many instances.

Heretofore, according to Mr. Arnold, children could not draw payments on their mothers' earnings under social security if their fathers were living with or supporting the children. This is no longer true. A child whose mother was working regularly during the few years before her death is now eligible to receive payments based on its mother's work.

The fourth change made by Congress which affects social security as a family insurance was to greatly increase the benefits payable to dependent parents. This step makes the payments a more substantial item in the income of the parents, thereby permitting social security to be a greater bulwark against economic insecurity.

Soil Conservation News

By Sam Polston

In the Highlands Soil Conservation District during 1951, about 25,000 pounds of Hairy Indigo was harvested, enough seed to plant 5,000 acres of cover crop in citrus groves or plant in improved pasture grass. About 160,000 bushels of pangola grass stolons were harvested, enough to plant 10,000 acres of improved pasture.

During 1951, enough grass and legume seed and grass sprigs have been harvested in Florida's 53 Soil Conservation Districts, to plant four hundred thousand acres of new grass-legume pasture, according to H. B. Helms, Assistant State Conservationist, U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

Based on present market prices this seed is valued at more than four and one-half million dollars and represents an increase of one and one-half million dollars over the 1950 harvest.

Over one million five hundred thousand pounds of improved grasses such as Pensocola Bahai, Argentine Bahia, and Common Bahia have been harvested. This is an increase of 400,000 pounds over improved grass seed harvested in 1950.

In addition to the total figure of grass seed produced, two million five hundred thousand bushels of grass sprigs of Pangola and Coastal Bermuda have been harvested for planting new pastures, Helms stated.

The reported production of legume seed on Florida farms in Soil Conservation Districts includes five and one-half million pounds of Blue Lupine, over 700,000 pounds of Hairy Indigo and 250,000 pounds of Crimson Clover. These three valuable soil building crops have been introduced to Florida agriculture in comparatively recent years.

Hialeah Race Course recorded the biggest crowd of sight-seers in its history when an estimated 4,000 Christmas Day visitors mailed 8,000 on-the-scene postcards.

Fraternity Honors Local Student

The university adviser to student organizations, H. K. Mc Clelland, in a letter notifying Jimmy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Tomlinson, of his election, wrote: "This is one of the highest honors a fraternity can bestow on any of its members and bespeaks the esteem and respect with which he is regarded by his brothers in the fraternity."

Jimmy, who graduated from Avon Park High School in June, 1948, is a senior student at the university. He expects to receive his B.S.B.A. (bachelor of science in business administration) degree this June. He plans to study law after receiving his degree.

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled

Christian Science: The Pathway of Light

by

Margaret Morrison, C.S., of Boston, Massachusetts

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

My friends, have you ever followed the unfolding pathway of light in our material world, watching it grow in brightness, from the cave man, groping in the darkness to the amazing brilliance of today? Has it ever occurred to you that the facilities for lighting have increased with increased spiritual enlightenment? Since the advent of Christian Science over three quarters of a century ago, when candles began to be stricken from the human mind, that so-called mind has found within its own realm undreamed-of sources and means of bringing light to its world in an increasing measure of beauty and usefulness. Following the teachings of the Bible, Christian Science is proving light to be, in reality, not a vitalizing property of matter, but a quality of Spirit; in other words, spiritual understanding. When the human mind is governed by hatred, greed, selfishness, lust for power, all the things that make for war, the people sit in darkness. This darkness of fear and hate makes for material darkness and results in what has recently been called a "black-out." Does that not indicate that light in its true nature and origin does not depend on matter, but Spirit?

The first command from God given in the Bible is, "Let there be light," and the record reads, "There was light." It further states that "God saw the light, that it was good." In this light that God saw as good the entire creation of God was seen to be good and very good. But in the second chapter of Genesis we are told that there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground." Thus the light pronounced by God as good, in which all creation is seen as good, is secured, and man began to walk in darkness instead of in light. They began to have obscured and perverted beliefs about God and His creation, instead of true ideas and right concepts.

However, there are to be found throughout the Bible records of inspiring experiences when the light of the true knowledge of God shone through the darkness. Moses delivered the children of men from their idolatry, dangers, and difficulties. The prophets of Israel stand in the history of the people of that time, their leaders, and their prophets, even unto the coming of Jesus the Christ, the Wayshower and Light to the world. He exemplified that light that he became Jesus the Christ, the Wayshower and Light to the world that we walk in darkness shall not have to walk in light of life," and again, "I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness."

For several hundred years after the ascension of Jesus his followers walked in that light of Truth and were enabled to carry on his work, healing the sick and sinning and raising the dead. But again the mist of materialism obscured the light, and only glimpses of it were caught by those who sought for Truth in the way pointed out by Christ Jesus. But wherever much the light may be obscured for individuals or for nations, by moments or for centuries, the light of Truth and Love is never for one instant extinguished. It shines everlastingly and uninterruptedly. And today Christian Science has come, a light into the world, and whosoever follows, understands, and obeys its teachings shall not walk in darkness, in trouble and fear, but shall have the light of Life, of joy and harmony.

Light is law, and, just as so-called material light dispels darkness, so the light of spiritual understanding dispels the darkness and ignorance of materialism that which is called matter and its ability of sin, sickness and death.

We may find a simple illustration in the child starting out to school. He is in mental darkness as he is ignorant of the rules of mathematics, for instance. As the child learns the truth about mathematics, beginning simply with the multiplication table and going on through higher problems, he comes into the light on that subject; he sees, or understands, how to work out his problems. So Christian Science is bringing us into the higher light of spiritual understanding so to the true nature of God, man, and the universe.

All the mistakes the child makes in his problems are entirely due to his ignorance of mathematics. There is nothing wrong with the principle of mathematics, nothing wrong with the multiplication table. Just so, all the mistakes of humankind, all the fears, tragedies, crime, disease, and so forth, are due to their ignorance of God, the Principle of being. There is nothing wrong with God or man, nothing wrong with Life or the universe.

As the child's knowledge of mathematics must be exact, so the knowledge of God must be exact. In acknowledging the rules of the multiplication table, exact obedience is required. The smallest fraction less than four is never near enough when multiplying by four times two. So in acknowledging the supremacy and goodness of God the smallest fraction less than all is never near enough. Verily, God is light and in Him is no darkness at all.

Christian Science—A Revelation

"First he wrought, and afterward he taught." These words of the poet Chaucer most aptly describe the work of the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy. For some years after her healing, which came about through the light of understanding thrown on a record of healing in the Bible, she studied consecutively the miracles and acts of Jesus, of the prophets and apostles, and proved, by many works of healing, the truth of her discovery before she gave it to the world in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." Mary Baker Eddy was the most daring and intrepid thinker the world has seen since Christ Jesus. She is the world's most courageous explorer. When the light of spiritual understanding dawned upon her, she dared to follow where it led, through fiery trials, through all the persecution, scorn, and ridicule of that carnal mind which is enmity against God. She dared to follow the line of light, in the footsteps of Christ Jesus. She dared to climb above physics to pure metaphysics and to prove that the vision which she gained, i.e. that spiritual light, is practical, its laws scientific and available. She dared to proclaim her vision after winning her way to absolute consciousness through divine revelation, reason, and demonstration" (Science and Health, p. 109), and proved it an unbelievably wonderful God in her spiritual, but knowable and He is here demonstrable. She dared to take up that command of the Master, Jesus Christ, to heal the sick and prove her discipleship by the required signs following.

Great indeed is the debt of gratitude and honor due her who dreamed and gave to the world Christian Science, the revelation of loving, gentle Mother God, standing alone against the carnal and intellectual hatred of materialism, and established the science of divine medicine, and science of preaching, teaching, and practicing directly contrary to the then accepted theories and practices.

Her works proclaim her discipleship, her right to be known as the revelator of Truth, and her ability to establish forever her place in the world as the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science and the Leader of the Christian Science movement. Her discovery shines, a light in the world, to lead the thought of mankind out of the darkness of materiality, though the darkness comprehendeth it not. We are not the physical scientists of today finding true Mrs. Eddy's statement that knowledge cannot save from the dire effects of knowledge" Lord Balfour, one of their number, has been credited with saying, "We know too much about matter to be materialists." Jesus said, "If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness!" So it is being proved that no matter how brilliant the intellect or intellectual attainments, if these are based on the belief in the reality of matter, that brilliance is darkness because it proceeds from falsity. As the investigations of physical scientists prove in their own words the mythical nature of material existence, the futility of research in matter, thought will turn to Christian Science as discovered by Mrs. Eddy years ago, and find therein that which has universal use —the solution of the riddle of the universe, satisfaction and salvation.

God Revealed

"In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." This is the first statement concerning causation found in the Scriptures.

Reasoning logically it is inconceivable—nay, absurd—to think of cause as having been at one time nonexistent, and so as having to have something to start it, or a beginning. What could we call that which might cause causation? Causation, then, that which we are obliged reverently to designate as God, must have always existed without beginning and without ending, always without time—without a past tense. May we therefore say: Principle, which is causation or God, creating the heaven and the earth? God as Principle must be infinite and as incorporeal Spirit or Mind, and therefore all creation must be expressed, not in material objects, separated from Him and left to their own devices, flung into space, up in the air, and left to take care of themselves. Rather is His creation consistent with Him, the expression of His own nature, consisting not of His own objects, conscious divine ideas or spiritual objects of the divine Principle, Love, inseparable from Love's tender care and provision, held in perpetual harmony by the indissoluble bonds of Science. God is thus truly seen as Immortal Mind, Truth, supreme intelligence, the living Father-Mother Mind, all-inclusive Love.

Life Revealed

As we thus correct our concept of God we must necessarily correct our concept of the life which expresses God—infinite divine Life. The human mind in its concept of life as existing in an "I of matter is always balancing good and evil, thus remaining in a perpetual state of uncertainty, never knowing which will triumph, light or darkness, good or evil, health or sickness, life or death. Christian Science comes to this vacillating, uncertain state, and reveals the certainty of Principle, the omnipotence and infallibility of God.

In one of her messages to The Mother Church Mrs. Eddy has said: "Absolute certainty in the practice of divine metaphysics constitutes its utility, since it has a divine and demonstrable Principle and rule" (Message to The Mother Church for 1901, p. 2) Spirit is positive in its qualities and activity never negative or passive. So in working out the rules of this divine Principle it is never enough to say, "I won't have to worry if everything will be taken care of." We must not only not worry, we must rejoice in our knowledge of the omnipresence of God that is enough to say, "I am not afraid." We must attain to peace—that peace that passeth understanding—because we know the availability and power of Truth. It is not enough to say, "I do not hate anyone." We must love with a realization of that divine Love which is impersonal and universal. Let me repeat: there is no uncertainty in that divine Life which is the gift of God, and which it is our privilege to accept, enjoy, and reflect in our daily human living.

In the light of spiritual understanding we learn that omnipresence is origin. We cannot begin for any of us "away back when," but here and now is our origin, our continuity, our eternality—in all-inclusive Mind.

Life is always Life, birthless, ageless, fearless, deathless, eternal. This life is indestructible by any process, disintegrating belief of time or sudden terror. None of the methods of mortal, material mind can be effectual to destroy it; no chemical action, no molecular action, no mesmeric mental manipulation can touch, confuse, injure, disable, or destroy Life, God. There are no elements apart from divine Mind—whose elements are never destructive, but always constructive. No discordant human experience can mar the purity of Life, God, because this Life is self-existent and is in itself all harmony, beauty, strength, and loveliness. Christ Jesus said, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." So he came to reveal to us the Christ-idea or fact of Life as Spirit, we find that our human sense of life is lifted into light, safety. We are told in Science by my friends, by the knowledge of the utter safety of all that is real, good, and harmless, and beautiful. All that is good is guarded by omnipotence.

Man Revealed

The supreme expression of this Life which is God is man in His image and likeness. In no way is the inconsistency removed from theology more clearly shown than in its reasoning about God and man, that, while the theologian has agreed, theoretically, to the fact that God is Spirit, it has declared of man in the image and likeness of God, to be matter. Mrs. Eddy has given us a definition of man in the Glossary of the textbook (p. 501) as "... the compound idea of God and Mind." Accepting the teachings of Christian Science, then, concept coming out from the false concept of man as a corporeal, limited, fleshly being into the fact of man as an incorporeal, spiritual, indestructible expression of God. Mrs. Eddy has spoken of man as a "stupendous, Godlike agency" (The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellany, p. 14).

A dictionary definition of "agency" is "action: instrumentality." and "power to produce a result or bring force." In the above quotation, then, we have man indicated as an instrumentality, a moving force, and the nature of God defined as stupendous and Godlike, as well as individual. Is not this the real man, the man God has in the world today to bring order out of seeming chaos, peace to the afflicted of earth and the equality of right and privileges to men?

Man reflecting divine Principle, whose expression is intelligence, intelligence, infallible wisdom, is indeed a stupendous agency for good, operating in the affairs of men to reveal the course of right action, to uphold justice, and to reward equitably the service of men one to another! How absurd in the light of this intelligence must be seen the efforts of mankind to cope with evil with good; to spend skill, effort, and time in the vicious and utterly stupid circle of manufacturing destructive weapons which are made ever effective by weapons of still more destructive power! In the light of this intelligence must be seen also this nonintelligent activity is seen as leading inevitably to the annihilation of life by man's mythical creation. Divine intelligence holds man awaken to the illusory nature of evil and all that claims to act out of the basis of evil. But it makes perfectly clear the fact that only good can be the work of the Spirit of evil, that good, spiritual good alone, can satisfy and govern in love and harmony the lives of men. Surely the intelligence expressed in and as the universe is meant for the use of intelligent agency for good throughout the world.

What is more needed in the world than justice? Man, the expression of divine law, the reflection of divine Principle, is justice. This justice operating in the affairs of men is impartial in meting out both responsibility and reward. It sees no undeserved or unearned favors, and withholds no justly full recompense. It holds open opportunity for all to make advancing progress with equal opportunity to increase that ability, and so to earn greater reward. Justice never loses sight of mercy, and goes hand-in-hand with brotherly love and freedom. Assurance of justice brings joy to service and willing hands to labor. Justice is akin to wisdom: "the wisdom that is from above ... first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy." Justice and wisdom! Here indeed is found a stupendous agency for good, one that will promote harmony between employer and employee, what is called capital and labor, unify all interests, and maintain in full the well-being of mankind.

On page 495 of Science and Health Mrs. Eddy says, "God will heal the sick through man, whenever man is governed by God." When in human consciousness the truth about man, God-governed and God-expressed, harmonious and immortal, displaces the false concept of man as a mortal being, sick and suffering, this right concept of man heals the sick. This is the greatest healing agency in the world, because it is metaphysical and scientific. This alone is true healing, because it alone deals with cause rather than with effect and eliminates that which in its own suppositional realm produces sin, sickness, and disease.

If material remedies were always successful in healing disease regardless of the mental aspects of the case, they would aid in perpetuating evil. This would leave the world worse rather than better because of the remedy. If wicked, lustful, cruel thinking could through material remedies maintain a healthy embodiment, what a monstrous power for evil material remedy would possess! This is unthinkable, and must turn the light of Truth to Mind as the true and unfailing Physician for mankind.

Divine Principle, whose expression is man, is Love, divine Love, whose law is imperative and omnipotent, irresistible in beneficence. If in the midst of seeming hatred, greed, and misunderstanding there is one who understands man as governed by omnipotent Mind, what a mighty power for good that one is by his reflection of Truth, divine Love! This Love divine is not the love that is content merely to supply the cripple with a crutch to aid his inability. It is the Love that enables one to say effectively, as did the Master and his immediate followers, "Rise up and walk." This Love divine is not satisfied merely to provide material loaves and fishes and feel satisfied that thus all duty is fulfilled. It is the Love that warms the heart, feeds the affections, and wakens men from the dream of poverty and lack to the everpresent abundance of God's stupendous and Godlike indeed is this agency of man as the reflection of almighty Love, expressing the perfection of Mind.

It is to be remembered that this agency for good is individual as well as stupendous, so wherever thought is imbued with Truth and Love, instructed in the Science of the Christ, Truth, it becomes a stupendous Godlike agency in the world. It acts to heal the sick, purify morals, stabilize governments, equalize the privileges of men, and maintain peace on the earth.

Let us, then, turn from the darkness of materialism and know ourselves as children of light, of Spirit, coexistent with God. The poet George MacDonald has given a word picture of what we may expect as we thus realize and dwell in the consciousness of true being:

"When I am with Thee as Thou with me,
Life will be self-forgetting power;
Love, ever conscious, buoyant, clear, and free,
Will flame, in darkest hour."

A child of light is a child of joy, of love and peace, of "self-forgetting power," of dominion, and immortality.

Each individual as he comes into the pathway of light and becomes a discoverer and adopter of Truth begins to claim his God-bestowed dominion over his own human affairs. He becomes the master of his environment, not its victim. He comes into a realization of the truth that because of his at-one-ment with God he reflects the power of God—good. He exercises that power, and so becomes a potent factor in redeeming the world from darkness, depression, despair.

And how greatly the world is in need of this stabilizing right thinking today, when to the mortal senses nothing seems to be stable.

Stability cannot be thought of in terms of matter, material substance, knowledge, or so-called scientific research. Stability can be thought of only in terms of changeless spiritual verities. Because true stability is found only in spiritual values, it remains rooted and grounded in divine Principle, as eternal as Spirit, God, Himself. This stability is unmoved by the mockeries of materialism, unshaken by Hiroshima or Bikini. Outside the realm of almighty Mind, whose immutable law is omnipotent, there is no stability.

How can this almighty power which is the stability of all time be seen and made practical for our world today? Isaiah stated it very simply when he said, "Wisdom and knowledge shall be the stability of thy times, and strength of salvation." This wisdom and knowledge is not found through research into so-called matter and its mythical laws, but through an understanding of God, whom Jesus declared to be Spirit, and whom Mrs. Eddy in the Key to Science and Health declares to be "the great I AM; the all-knowing, all-seeing, all-acting, all-loving and all-loving, and eternal; Principle; Mind; Soul; Spirit; Life; Truth; Love; all substance; intelligence." Here is a God to be understood, declared, and demonstrated as All: all-power, all-law, all-action.

When evil presents its pictures of subtlety, trickery, greed, lust, and destruction, the student of Christian Science will resist the temptation to struggle against it with human sense or human means. In the light of spiritual understanding he will have the comfort of realizing that God is good, and he will rise above the claim of evil into a realm of power and quietness, and in quietness and confidence he will find strength. He will take his ground firmly on the position that nothing acts except intelligence, nothing is creative except divine Mind, nothing is true but that which is based upon Christ, Truth, nothing is real except that which God supports and "not mankind."

Each individual is responsible for the stability of his own living and therefore his contribution to the stability of his time. This is not a complicated or difficult matter, but is found in the simplicity of the Christ. He acknowledges God as the allness of good, the appropriation and incorporation into his daily living of the stable and potent, intelligent and gracious ideas and qualities of Spirit.

Christian Science is today as the voice crying in the wilderness, "Make straight in the desert a highway for our God," and he who heeds this voice, and makes his own life straight by unqualified obedience to its teachings, is a man of the hour, a woman of the hour, a source of stability, and power. He demonstrates to the world that the stability of our times is solid and immovable, rooted and grounded in Principle and in the indestructible peace, power, permanence, loveliness, and light of Spirit.

Substance Revealed

One of the most radical of the changes made in thought as the light of spiritual understanding is approached is made in regard to that which has been called substance. That this light is penetrating even the mist of the realm of physical science has been mentioned before. Sir Arthur Eddington, late professor of astronomy in Cambridge University of England, speaking of the present trend of material scientists and its constantly changing aspect has said that the planks of fact on which you step has no solidity of substance; "to step on it is like stepping on a seam of fine."

Many years before this was said, and many similar statements made by other natural scientists, Mary Baker Eddy had given to the world that mighty and revolutionary "scientific statement of being," beginning with the declaration: "There is no life, truth, intelligence, nor substance in matter" (Science and Health, p. 468). Unlike our friends, the material scientists, she was able to tell us not only what substance is not, but what it is. She says (Science and Health, p. 468), "Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay. Truth, Life, and Love are substance. Spirit and Soul, the synonym of Mind, Soul, or God, is the only real substance." So then we see that substance is not "lumps of stuff"—solid, inert, non-intelligent.

A right concept of substance is one of the most important steps in the healing practice of Christian Science. It is readily seen that if there be no such thing as matter substance, either real or unreal, are not existent in matter, not a condition of matter, but entirely a mental state, a state of true life and identity, a distorted picture seen through the mist of ignorance, fear, or hate; always and only an illusion to be dispelled by the light of Truth and Love. May I tell a story of how this was proved to one student of Christian Science?

There had been brought to her for healing a young child who was suffering from a carious condition of the spinal cord, a poisoned sense of body, which threatened her activity and life. The doctors had said that without the removal of an extremely dangerous operation she would either die or remain always a cripple. In working on this case the practitioner found that frequently to her thought that verse from the Bible, "Honour the Lord with thy substance" and on considering its meaning she saw that that was what she was called upon to do in this matter with the sick child. To have sick, suffering matter as a reality was surely not honoring God with her concept of substance. She must cease to see as real only the substance which must exist as the expression of Spirit, pure, perfect, harmonious, incapable of poisoning, being poisoned, "incapable of discord and decay." This spiritual fact held steadfastly in thought through the opposite erroneous argument in all its phases, and excluded the evil belief from consciousness, even as light excludes night. In the clear light of Truth and Love, of true substance which honored God, Life was seen as eternal, and Love as the law of Love instead of hate. So the little child whom Satan—or evil—had bound was freed, was made free and restored to beauty, to normal and healthy activity. Is not this practical proof that what is called matter is not substance to obstruct the manifestation of Mind, nor intelligence to hinder the activity of Spirit, God, who is only one Mind, there is only one substance—not two substances, one seeing and one acted upon.

Christian Science teaches that "unless an ill is rightly met and fairly overcome by Truth, the ill is never conquered" (Science and Health, p. 396), rightly to meet and overcome the belief in poverty it is necessary to attain the true and scientific concept of wealth. The right concept of wealth was voiced by wise men of old when they declared the value of wisdom and understanding to be greater than that of fine gold and choice silver, rubies and topaz, pearls and sapphires. For, say, wisdom and understanding give durable riches, sound judgment, and righteousness, and crown those that love them to inherit substance. Through a consecrated study of the Bible and the Christian Science textbook we learn that the real universal existence is mythical in nature, its values are mythical. The only wealth there is, is in Spirit. The only riches are spiritual qualities; therefore, true wealth is found in the abundance of omnipresent spiritual qualities and ideas, ever available, ever operative under God's law of love. This wealth is not accumulated, it is unfolded in proportion as we give up false beliefs of the limitations, lack, and penury of matter for the facts of the abundance, bounty, and provision of Spirit. True wealth lies not in increased material possessions, but in decreased material desires; not in more complicated and luxurious living, but in simpler modes and more spiritual aspirations.

How often one hears the remark, "I do not want a lot of money, just enough to make me independent." This specious argument came to one student of Christian Science when she was struggling with a sense of poverty and the necessity of earning her living. More concentrated thought and study were given to the solving of this problem. That study brought to her the revelation that the only thing that could possibly make her independent was not money but the full, free consciousness of reflection of that perfect Love that casteth out fear. The fear that perplexed her was not money, but the fear of being obliged to live as a dependent in the home of a relative. Then it was seen that what she really needed was not money enough to keep her from having to live in that home, but love enough to enable her to live in it, if necessary, and bring love and joy and healing to that place. This brought the light and true peaceful state of mind; a glimpse of that Love in which there dwells no fear, and so a consequent state of independence. It was seen that the best way in which to earn a living was it, learning to live, not by taking thought for what she would eat or drink or wherewithal she would be clothed, but by reflecting her active, life-giving qualities of Spirit through which the living and means of human living are inevitably provided. In doing this, dependence on person or persons was obviated, and her problem was, in time, worked out with joy and freedom.

Prayer

How can we best come out of the darkness of mistaken beliefs into the light of "the radiant reality of God's creation"? (Science and Health, p. 110.) Perhaps the simplest answer is: Through prayer. Not the kind of praying some of us do at times, and which was illustrated by a small boy I know. He was saying his prayers on a Christmas night after a day of excitement and the receiving of many gifts. He began his prayer by asking God to bless his mother and daddy, and continued his request for a blessing on all the relatives and friends he could think of, quite a long list—then stopped, and looked up at his mother and said, "Mother, who else gave me a Christmas present?"

The form of prayer is not of so much importance. It is an individual thought. Each one prays from his own standpoint of need or growth. Whether he has grown out of pleading petition into joyous realization or not matters little difference, so long as he draws near to God—near to the light of Truth and Love, earnest desire and pure motives.

While in the unreal realm of the darkness of mortal belief sin manifested itself in many direful ways, in our prayer we can approach God, who is Love, without fear. Divine Love enlightens, purifies, blesses.

The qualities of the Christ-Mind are not far off, mysterious, or difficult to understand. They are what Paul refers to as the simplicity of the Christ; such simple things as love, joy, peace, intelligence, kindness, faith, alertness, enthusiasm, energy, charity, tenderness, and so forth. We look for these, we long for them, we desire it all. They are not to be found in matter or material conditions. They do not come from our daily living, family, friends, position, or profession. They are the attributes of God, and so by reflection the attributes of man—our true being. When, instead of trying to get love and joy and peace out of our daily living, we bring those qualities to our daily living, we shall find that living transformed. To be joyous does not mean to be thoughtless. Some of the most profound thinkers have touched the deepest springs of joy. Someone has said, "I have nothing to be joyful about," but, oh, my friend, you have more—much more than something to be joyful about—you have joy itself; the pure, eternal, fresh, and fadeless joy which is one of the indestructible qualities of Spirit.

This perfect light in which there is no darkness at all is simply the perfect love which casteth out fear. The prayer which accompletely and absolutely acknowledges the allness, supremacy, and omnipotence of this perfect Love casteth out perfect prayer. In the light of that prayer we see that man and the universe have not changed since "In the beginning—or in the only—"when the morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy."

We are living in that same universe today—now. In reality, the song has never ceased, the joy never been clouded or mystified, for Eternal Love has remained intact, man and the universe unified, still under the government of infinite intelligence, manifested as the "beauty, grandeur, order" of divine Love, the immortality of Truth, the joyous activity of Life.

The loving Father-Mother Mind, which constitutes and expresses this universe, in the words of St. Paul, is "not far from every one of us: for in him we live, and move, and have our being; . . . ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light."

Churches of Christ, Scientist

Timely emphasis will be placed on the need to acknowledge God and give Him all glory in the services to be held in Christian Science churches next Sunday. Subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "TRUTH".

The Golden Text is from John (8:31, 32): "Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

The following is one of the selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals obtain the harmony of health, only as they forsake discord, acknowledge the supremacy of divine Mind, and abandon their material beliefs" (p. 400).

WE RECOGNIZE BIRDS AS WE DO PEOPLE

By The Bird Woman

When we meet strangers and want to be sure to recognize them again when we see them, what do we notice first?

We probably "look them in the face," and notice the color of their eyes and hair, notice whether their nose is long or short, whether their mouth is large or small, whether their ears are small and close set, or whether they are large and flap like an elephant's.

Also whether they have "buck teeth" or if their teeth are a row of pearls, or perchance fresh from a mail order catalogue.

Then we notice their height, are they stout or slim. And their general manner, also their gait, do they take quick short steps or long graceful strides?

In fact, anything that makes them different from their fellows.

So many people are not observant, as we find when a crime has been committed, and eye-witnesses are questioned—no two agree.

This being a proven fact, it is not astonishing that so many people say they do not know one bird from another. They may admit knowing a red-bird from a blackbird but there their knowledge ceases.

Rodger Tory Peterson a few years ago realized that to interest people in birds, they must first be taught to identify them, at least the common species.

He realized that the average person has to have a diagram drawn, and made so simple that "he who runs may read," so he simplified bird study by teaching us to recognize a few outstanding characteristics of the various species, and to recognize them as we would the stranger we had met. In birds these charcteristics are called "field marks".

First the relative size of the bird, the length of the bill and tail, the spread of the wings, the splashes of color, whether dots or stripes, and the predominating color.

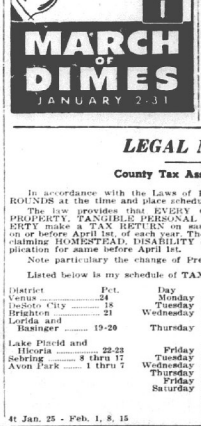

Does it have a strong bill for crunching like the cardinal, or long slender bill for hunting food among the dead leaves and grasses?

Does it have weak feet and legs just for perching or does it have long legs for wading or strong legs for scratching in the leaves for insects?

Or does it fly with quick flaps of the wing like the songbirds, or does it soar like a buzzard or hawk?

Often at a distance we think we can identify a bird but as it gets closer, other "field marks" can be seen and we change our classification.

If we will note the "field marks" of a few birds, we will be surprised how quickly we can identify them, and by adding another bird occasionally it will be surprisingly how quickly we can recognize all the common species. Try it, and see how interesting it is.

Orange Juice Being Served In Schools

Wauchula, Fla., Jan. 24, 1952—The welfare of Florida's giant industry, as well as the wellfare of hundreds of thousands of Florida's school children may both improve immeasurable as the result of an interesting, yet amazing, experiment being conducted among the schools of Hardee, DeSoto and Charlotte counties.

In these three counties, Florida's golden liquid health, orange juice, is being made available to school children at the low cost of five ounces for a nickel. This is the first time that children in any of Florida's schools have been able to obtain, as readily as they have been able to obtain the popular, yet less healthful soft drinks, the fruit juice from Florida which medical people claim to be one of the most beneficial aids to the growing child's healthful being.

What makes this operation "amazing" is that is remained for a transplanted "Yankee" from Midland, Michigan, Dr. R. E. Rice, now Hardee, DeSoto and Charlotte counties' Public Health Officer to turn the trick, which has been long desired by health authorities, but which for one reason or another never was accomplished before.

Upon the recommendation of the Commission, Dr. Rice and his co-worker, Helene Connor discussed the problem with Sargeant's Concentrates, a Lakeland firm which engages in producing frozen concentrate for institutional use. The Sargeant people and Dr. Rice quickly evolved a plan and inside of a short time 14 dispensing machines were installed in schools in the three counties. The immediate response was gratifying. In one school, soft drink sales dropped off 25 percent in the first week the orange juice was made available.

The USDA says a home freezing unit for a farm family of five should contain about 25 cubic feet of storage space.

JayCees Staged "Block of Dimes" Campaign Saturday

Saturday morning at 10 A.M., the startled attention of all those on Main St. was turned toward the Barnett Bank when an ambulance from Stephenson's Funeral Home dashed up with siren wailing and its attendants entered the bank with a stretcher. But the "emergency case" they wheeled to the sidewalk, S. F. Longbottom, arose and made a speech on behalf of the March of Dimes drive for funds to fight infantile paralysis.

The stunt opened the "Block of Dimes" campaign conducted by the Junior Chamber of Commerce last Saturday from 10 A.M. to 7:30 P.M., which netted $302.78 for the polio fund. Mr. Longbottom placed the first dimes on a line drawn down the sidewalk. As the March of Dimes progressed down the line towards Dutton's Appliances Store, a wheelchair, equipped with sound amplifier and loud speakers and operated by JayCees, moved before it. JayCees worked in shifts throughout the day playing musical recordings and speaking.

Deputy Sheriff R. H. Barringer and the City Police cooperated in putting on the srabulance stunt that gave the "Block of Dimes" such a good start.

Other contributions to the "March of Dimes" drive include the proceeds of the basketball game sponsored by Rotary Club Friday night, January 25, which netted approximately $182.25. The local "March of Dimes" committee wishes to thank the Rotarians for sponsoring the game, and the to the Sebring High School for permitting the sponsoring of the game and for donating the gate receipts.

Avon Park Country Club donated $40.00, proceeds of a golf tournament held at Pinecrest Lakes last Sunday afternoon.

The Women of the Moose voted to give $34.00 at their Monday night meeting.

On Thursday night, from 6:30 to 7:30, local women made a "Mothers March on Polio" house-to-house donations. The sum collected was not available at press time.

Miss Anne Felton, Chairman of the Avon Park High School drive, reports that the High School Students have raised $94.27 for the 1952 March of Dimes Campaign.

Legionaires have been busy securing and cleaning a number of fish for the old fashioned fish fry Thursday Jan. 31. Total proceeds of this event will also go to the March of Dimes. Since the Mothers March on Polio took place at the time as the fish fry, an opportunity was given to those attending the fish fry to contribute to the Mothers March.

Following the American Legion March of Dimes Benefit fish fry and the Mothers March on Polio on Jan. 31, an old fashioned square dance was held at the City Tennis Courts in Frostproof, 8:00 P.M., Admission was a 50c donation to the March of Dimes.

"GO TO CHURCH" SUNDAY SPONSORED BY LEGION

Sunday, February 3, 1952 will be "Go-to-Church" Sunday in the American Legion throughout the nation in commemoration of the sacrifices of The Four Chaplains who, when their transport Dorchester was torpedoed and sinking, gave their life-jackets to enlisted men and went to watery graves and to their God.

The anniversary of this tragic but inspiring event will be observed with a special service at the Chapel of the Four Chaplains, an inter-faith chapel in Philadelphia, erected to the memory of those heroic men.

Avon Park's Highlands Post No. 69 strongly urges all churches to participate in this occasion and appeals to all citizens of our community as well as the Legionaires and Veterans to attend the church of their choice on this National Go-to-Church Sunday.

Registrations at the Chamber of Commerce this week include W. F. Luscomb with the Federal Prison Camp here; McClellan E. Randolph, 1008 W. LisGrande; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Denton, E. Circle St.; Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Jessup of Hobart, Ind.; O. O. Coleman, staying at the Avalon Hotel; and Mr and Mrs. R. C. Betterley from Brattleboro, Vt.

Camp For Training In Christian Life At Lake Byrd Lodge

The "Camps Farthest Out" will hold the first Florida camp at Lake Byrd Lodge next week, February 4 to 11, with Dr. Glenn Clark, founder, in charge. Miss Mary Bogue, registrar, has announced that more than 100 registrations have been received, with many states of the union represented among the campers.

An imposing list of leaders makes the camp very attractive and include Dr. Clark, J. Rufus Moseley, Marcia Brown, Marge Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Higginbottom, Mrs. William Clement, and Dr. H. B. Jeffery.

The camps are training experiences in living according to the teaching of Jesus Christ. The camp program recognizes the total personality of the individual, and experiences are provided in the physical, mental, and spiritual areas of life. The camps are family affairs and the registration list shows families with children as well as adults.

The program opens Monday afternoon and carries through the entire week until the following Monday morning. Those who are interested can secure additional information from the Rev. John E. Pickens, manager at Lake Byrd Lodge, or beginning Sunday afternoon, from the registrar, Miss Mary Bogue, or the programs director, Mrs. Maidie Briggs, who will be at the lodge.

Walter S. Betts entered Tampa Municipal Hospital Monday for a throat operation.

Dimes March Against Polio

CAP Cadets To Tour MacDill Air Base

Announcement was made at the regular CAP Cadet meeting Monday night that permission had been granted by the Air Force for the Highlands County CAP Cadets to visit MacDill Air Force Base, Tampa on February 23. Lt. Gene Reeves, USAF, now stationed at the Avon Park Bombing Range, will be in charge of the trip. The cadets will be furnished by senior CAP members. The Air Force will take over at the gates and for the remainder of the day the Cadets will live the life of Air Force men and women, eating in the mess hall, and marching to points of interest.

This event, though by far the most important, is not the only activity planned for February. Next Wednesday, February 6, the Cadets will stage a program at the Avon Park High School, to stimulate interest among the students and to gain new members. On Sunday February 10, the monthly joint meeting of the Avon Park and Sebring Flights at Hendricks Field will be held with the Avon Park Flight in charge of the program. Cadet Lieut. Louis Lagen will command the Squadron.

With all these outside activities the Cadets are not neglecting their studies. The course in aerial navigation is fast reaching conclusion and Cadets are now learning the first phases of Meteorology from Prof. Donald Todd, of Lake Placid High School. The Flight is to be commended too on the professional quality of its drill. Visitors are invited to attend meetings, which are held every Monday at 7 P.M. at the Armory.

Rotary Meeting

Rotarian, Fairfax T. Haskins of Sebring, was the guest speaker at Rotary Wednesday. In his usual forceful way, Mr. Haskins, a Democrat, took the party to task for the way it has been leading the United Stated into socialism, and stated that "the power to tax is also the power to destroy", as they have in England. Mr. Haskins' address proved of great interest to all members present including 17 visiting Rotarians from different parts of the country.

John Gerber announced that the basketball game sponsored by the Rotary Club would net $163.25 for the benefit of the March of Dimes.

Visiting Rotarians and guests were as follows: W. B. Sowers, Dr. J. M. Adams and Jack Stephenson of Sebring; Lester F. Jones, Lebanon, Ind; Jarvis K. Smith, Falconer, N.Y.; Morris Todd, Doubtik, Md.; C. S. Tatum and Milton Cutliff, Raleigh, N.C.; J. D. Earle, Ashville, N.C.; R. N. Forbes, Olean, N.Y.; L. T. Carter, Woodriver, Ill.; Hugh E. Jones, Fairmont, W. Va.; J. B. McClendon, Frostproof; W. Treichler, Dunellen, N.Y.; Charley Treichler, Lewiston, N.Y.; L. E. Windham, Tampa; Ed Rush, Jacksonville. David Lanier was the guest of his father, C. E. Lanier.

ESSENTIALS IN PRAYER

St. Augustine defines prayer to be, "the turning of the heart to God." St. John Damascene says, - "Prayer is the elevation or ascent of the soul to God." The Holy Scriptures give- innumerable instances of prayer, frequently telling us the very words used so acceptably to God. Our Lord is our Great Example, and in the Gospels we often read of Him praying, many of the prayers which He said, being recorded there. He taught his disciples to pray, and gave them and us the best of all prayers, - the Lord's Prayer.

Prayer is the soul's converse with God. Communion with God in prayer involves much more than the mere asking for certain things. Our prayers each day should include at least five elements.

The first two elements, Adoration and Thanksgiving, concern God's glory. God is the Supreme Being. He is the Creator of all things. He is above all things. He expects adoration and the soul of man is capable of adoring Him. This is the first element of prayer and the second is like unto it: thanksgiving. The soul is made glad when it adores God and offers thanksgiving for the privilege of knowing Him and praising His Holy Name. The prayer of thanksgiving should always be very specific. "I thank Thee for all Thy blessings" is not enough in personal devotions. The blessings of God should be named, as many as can be remembered, and new blessings should be named specifically as well as those which are already ours.

The third and fourth elements of prayer are Confession and Petition. These elements are concerned with our individual needs. The prerequisite of confession is contrition. The soul must be truly sorry for the things we have done that we should not have done and for the things we have not done that we should have done. In the act of contrition we must search the soul for shortcomings. Here again we are to be very specific. To say "I am sorry for all my sins" is not enough. If such a general confession is said daily it finally comes to mean nothing at all. Our penitence should also reach out and enter into the sin of the world. These great social evils are partly our responsibility. When our confession is made with a contrite heart and we are assured of forgiveness, we may then petition God for our daily bread. "In everything by prayer and supplication let your requests be made known unto God." As we increase in Christian understanding our petitions will grow in grace.

The fifth element in personal prayer has to do with the needs of others. It is called Intercession. Again we must be specific. "God bless all our friends and loved ones" is not a good prayer for private use. It is better to use names. Since it is impossible to include every individual and every group for whom we should pray every day it is well to work out a plan for the week, including different individuals and groups each day.

We all have God above; we all have souls to be sanctified; we all have sins and passions to beat back and to conquer. All these things will be realized as we associate ourselves with our divine Advocate on high through prayer.

See You IN CHURCH Sunday.

LIBRARY SERVICE IN HIGH SCHOOL

Several high school students spend one period each school day in Library Service work. During the first semester, they help process new books for circulation, make order cards for new books to be ordered at the close of this school year for next year, and clean up sets of encyclopaedias and some much-used fiction books - erase pencil marks and mend torn pages. During the second semester, these girls have charge of the circulation desk during the periods they serve, and at the close of school help take inventory. For this experience, they get for themselves ½ unit credit, information about libraries, and a wonderful feeling of being helpful to others. Below follow the ideas of a Junior girl and a Senior girl who are taking Library Service for their second year:

Library Service Hour

What do I like about this hour? What do I get out of it? The work that I do here holds a sort of fascination that I don't quite understand. There are some days when the period seems entirely too short, especially when I am turned loose on a group of new books.

I like to order new books because I hear certain students say, "Well, I wish a certain book were in the library" or "I need a certain book, but we don't have it in our school library." These, I feel, are good reasons for wanting to order certain books.

Working in the library has taught me more about where to find the materials I need when I need them. It has also taught me to be more patient with others when they need help from someone else.

I have found that in this library is a good place to learn to be a good neighbor.

I like work here because it is always neat and orderly. You are not expected to do more than you are capable of. There is also an emphasis on taking time to be kind to the other fellow. You don't find this everywhere.

There are other things that come up from time to time that make things pleasant here in the library. Very seldom does anything unpleasant come up and when it does it is soon forgotten.

This is the way I feel about this hour and some of the things I have gained from it.

Mary Ann Sellers,
Senior.

Library Service

Have you ever wondered how a library functions? Take for example our high school library. When you enter the room, you are greeted by groups of tables and chairs in perfect condition and order. Looking around the room you find the librarian's desk in the back of the center of the room with the card catalog directly behind it. Straight across the desk is a small stand with the unabridged dictionary on top and maps beneath on shelves. In the north end of the library is the magazine rack with about 20 magazines on it. Around the walls are 28 sections of shelves each filled with books. You might wonder how you can find one certain type of book from the more than 2,500 books on the shelves. Melvil Dewey solved the problem with his Dewy Decimal System of Classification which was first put into use about 1880. This system classifies books according to subject. The classification numbers and subjects are posted above the sections of shelving.

When new books arrive, many things must be done to them, such as checking for defects, stamping, pasting, lettering, shellacking and typing accession records, cards and pockets and four catalog cards for each book.

It is the librarian's job to see to it that the lighting and ventilation are correct, that the room is always clean and orderly, books and magazines are in their proper places, the keeping of attractive displays on the bulletin board and table - these are a few daily duties.

Cooperation in keeping the library always in perfect condition is needed and appreciated.

Sally Ann Thorp
Junior.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Tallahassee — Claude Pepper solved the No. 1 riddle of the Democratic campaigns in Florida by announcing he will not run for any office. Thus he relieved the minds of friends of U.S. Senator Spessard Holland and made it likely that Holland will be returned to another six-year term without opposition. He also made the major candidates for governor happier, because Pepper as a candidate for governor might have nosed out Dan McCarty, Alto Adams or Brailey Odham for one of the two places in the second primary. As it is, Pepper said he will continue in private life, holding himself in readiness to serve his country wherever the emergency may require.

Tallahassee — The state railroad and public utilities commission has ordered a number of telephones restored to service, after being jerked on charges they were used for gambling, but others will have to wait awhile, most as long as a year. The others have been without phone service for periods ranging from three months to one year. The phones were removed under the 1949 bookie law, and will be kept out long enough, the commission hopes, to teach the subscribers not to let them be used for gambling again.

Tallahassee — Newsmen from widely scattered sections of Florida swapped ideas on how to improve their craft, at sessions of the Southern Newspapermen's Short Course, put on by Florida State University under Dean Laurence Campbell of the school of journalism. The directors of the Florida Press Association, led by President Eugene Matthews, held a formal meeting here. Among topics which were discussed in forum was the effect of the new election law on freedom of the press.

Tallahassee — Millard Caldwell, U.S. Civil Defense Chief, has advised friends here there is no truth to reports he has asked to be relieved. What he said when he took the position, he said, was that he "would stay until we could create a civil defense organization and that I did not wish to stay longer than necessary." Caldwell early took himself out of speculation on whether he might run again for governor, by declaring he would not.

Tallahassee — R. A. Gray, secretary of state, has asked for a ruling from Attorney General Ervin on how a preferential primary for president may be held here May 6 under the new election law. He said it appeared to him that the names of presidential candidates would go on the ballot, to advise the delegates to the conventions, and that delegates could run either as pledged or unpledged.

Tallahassee — A suit to test the right of the state to pay $225,000 to help the University of Miami start the state's first medical school presents a court case in the opinion of Circuit Judge W. May Walker of the Second circuit. He has ordered E. Dixie Beggs, Pensacola attorney representing five taxpayers, to file a brief on his contention that the 1951 act is invalid because it tries to appropriate state money to a private institution. The act itself was bitterly fought by friends of the University of Florida, which has authorization under another law to build a medical school if the state ever gets enough money to do it.

RED DEVILS WIN CAGE GAMES

Avon Park basketball teams played a triple header Friday nite with the Fort Meade Miners and the Red Devil varsity copped a 57-39 Ridge Conference victory.

In the other games the Red Devil "B" squad won 36-23 over the baby Miners and the girls from Ft. Meade saved a triple defeat by winning 38-33 over the local girls.

Jim Kelley had a great night under the nets as he hit for 28 points for the winners in the varsity contest followed by teammate Jack Ward who netted 12. Ginther led the losers in scoring with 16 and Mabry was second with 10.

The three game program was sponsored by the Avon Park Rotary Club and the proceeds went to the March of Dimes campaign.

Miles and Barron Collier, Jr., sons of the late Barron Collier for whom Collier County was named, have announced the gift of 32,000 acres of land in the Ten Thousand Islands to the Everglades National Park.

SEBRING "HOUSE TO HOUSE" FLOWER SHOW NEXT WEEK

Elisabeth D. Burnette, Publicity Chairman

The "House to House Flower Show" that will be held by the Sebring Garden Club next week on Wednesday and Thursday, February 6 and 7, is of state-wide interest. Members of garden clubs over a wide area, including Tampa and Miami, are planning to attend this outstanding event. It will be the only tour of homes decorated with flower arrangements personally arranged by Ruth Kistner held in Florida this season. The tour is open to the general public, and Sebring is indeed fortunate in having such a noteworthy event on its own doorstep.

Mrs. Kistner, one of America's foremost authorities on flower arrangements, was chosen to make the flower arrangements for the suite of General and Mrs. Mac Arthur at the Waldorf, at the time of their arrival in New York from Japan.

Details of the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sebring, Mr. and Mrs. J. Clagett Taylor, and "Chapel Bell", home of Miss Edna Mixsell, President of the Garden Club, were given in last week's issue of the Avon Park Sun.

The spacious home of Dr. and Mrs. H. V. Weems will have most interesting flower arrangements in keeping with the Victorian furniture, and picking up the colors of the handsome Kerman oriental rugs. Mrs. Weems' fine collections of old cups and saucers, Wedgewood, and Royal Copenhagen figurines will be of interest to antique collectors. An intriguing figure of a blacksmith, with his anvil, will form the focal point of interest in an imaginative arrangement of varied croton foliage. The white mantel in the living room will carry Sevres urns and bowl as flower arrangement containers. The large marble-top table will have a handsome mass Victorian bouquet of red and yellow gladioli, gerberas, snap dragon and varied foliage.

The dining room table will be centered with an exquisite arrangement of sweet peas, and other gay annuals, in a blue hobnail glass epergne with ruffled top. One of the most interesting flower containers is a large hand-wrought silver chest, which Dr. and Mrs. Weems brought from Peru. It is an exact duplicate of one in the American Embassy in Lima. It will be used for an unusual arrangement of pink and white poinsettias.

"Rancho Margurita", the home of Mrs. Ellen Bee is a picturesque ranch house, of the older substantial type. The old stone entrance steps are charming with low military hedge growing in the crevices. These steps lead to a long screened entrance veranda, which will have mass arrangements of tropical foliage, making it seem an integral part of the surrounding landscape.

The clerestory of the living room architecture, and the rustic balcony around the entire room were well designed for airy coolness in a southern climate. The entire house is panelled with pecky cypress, in mellow tones of natural wood. The central lighting fixture is a large wagon wheel fitted with electric candles, and suspended from the high ceiling by a long, heavy chain. The hearth of the massive fireplace has an interesting sunken pool on the left side for gold fish and aquatic plants.

Mrs. Kistner plans to make arrangements of fruit, flowers, and vari-colored foliage in the living room, the dining room with its corner fireplace, and the quaint breakfast bar, using unusual containers made of dried palm fronds, driftwood, brass and copper. The balcony will feature a huge arrangement of glowing poinsettias against the cypress walls. The hostess committee will wear Spanish costumes in keeping with "Rancho Margurita".

The home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Williams on South Lake View Drive has a sweeping view of the lake. The house is completely modern in architecture and furnishings. It is finished in blonde woodwork and pastel walls, which will make a perfect background for Mrs. Kistner's dramatic treatment of modern flower arrangements. The end tables in the living room will have yellow flowers and duranta berry sprays in Chinese mandarin containers. The blonde mahogany dining room table and side board will have arrangements of yellow roses and gladioli.

Other arrangements throughout the spacious house will feature the formal use of fruit as decoration, and the indoor use of plants and arrangements of foliage, such as monstera, sago-palm, crotons, podocarpus, dracaena, and trailing vines, as highlights of permanent emphasis to give modern architecture warmth and variation.

The homes on the tour will be open from 1 to 5 P.M. and from 7 to 9 P.M. on Wednesday, February 6, from 1 to 5 P.M. on Thursday, February 7. Transportation will be provided for winter visitor ticket holders, who have no other means of attending. Cars will be available on the days of the tour at the Chamber of Commerce Building. The tour block tickets are $2.00 for each person. If children accompany parents, each child will be required to have a $2.00 block ticket. Patrons may make the tour in one day, or they may spread it over two days if they choose. Flags will mark the designated homes, and the tour may be started at any point on the information map.

Ticket holders for this tour will also be guests of Highlands Hammock State Park, and will be welcome to enjoy the gardens of Kenilworth Lodge and Harder Hall. Tea will be served at the City Pier to patrons, and a Flower Mart will also be located there for sale of plants donated by Garden Club members. Tickets may be purchased from Garden Club members at any time, and on the days of the tour at the Chamber of Commerce.

Haley Candidate For Congress

James A. Haley of Sarasota, who announced his candidacy for Congress from the newly created Seventh District, composed of the counties of Polk, Highlands, Hardee, DeSoto, Manatee and Sarasota, declared his platform would be dedicated primarily to an immediate effort to eliminate waste in federal government and the attainment of a substantial reduction in federal taxation.

"I invite the support of those Floridians who feel there should be more men of business background in Washington, men possessed of the ability to read, digest and understand the financial plans of such terrific portent to the future of the American way of life, plans now being constantly presented to Congress and all too often being approved without any real understanding of what they mean to our people and the future of their children.

"I stand for an immediate effort by members of my party in Congress to attain the elimination of the disgraceful waste and corruption in the federal government and an immediate and substantial reduction in federal taxation, not only in the income tax but in the enormous hidden and indirect taxation further impoverishing our people. It is undermining the very foundation of our national strength far more dangerously than is generally realized. I also want to seek for the country a breathing spell in taxation.

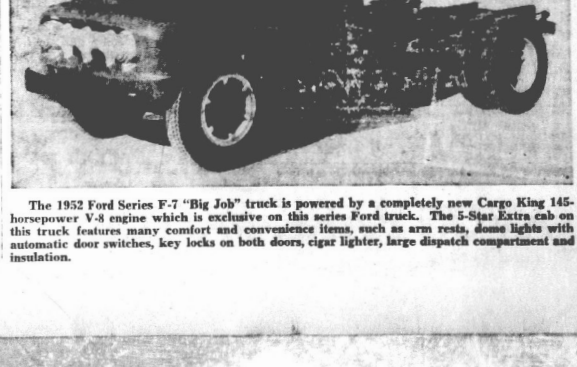

Haley entered business life in Sarasota in 1925 as an auditor became associated with John Ringling in 1932 and upon Ringling's death four years later assumed charge of the circus magnate's vast realty holdings in this area. He handled this assignment so efficiently he was called into the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus organization in 1942 as first vice-president and assistant to the president and was elected president in 1945.

A native of Anniston, Ala., and scion of a family that has been in the South for generations, Haley first came to Sarasota in 1925 "for a rest". He never returned to Alabama, except as a visitor.

A member of the Florida House of Representatives during the 1949 and 1951 sessions, Haley exhibited remarkable legislative ability. He was one of the leaders of the group that fought for economy in state governmental expenditures. As chairman of the Haley Committee, a continuing investigating body appointed by the House during the 1951 session, he became known throughout Florida for his fearlessness in seeking to uncover irregularities on the part of public officials. He has been County Democratic Chairman of Sarasota County for several years.

Window cleaners aren't the only workers whose occupation is hazardous. We read recently of a newspaper editor who dropped 11 stories into a waste paper basket.

VETERANS INFORMATION

Did you know that under conditions similar to those for out-patient medical treatment, eligible veterans may be furnished out-patient dental treatment at Government expense?

For out-patient dental treatment, the dental condition must be determined by VA to have been incurred in or made worse by, the veteran's active service before treatment can be authorized; or, when treatment of dental condition is necessary for the relief of service-connected physical disability. Also, a dental condition will be treated when determined as necessary to prevent interruption of vocational training under Public Law 16, 78th Congress.

In the event that the veteran is found to be entitled to out-patient treatment for a dental condition at Government expense, an examination will be authorized to determine the need for treatment. Where VA facilities are not available, the veteran may select an authorized dentist of his choice.

Korean veterans are entitled to the same dental benefits as those of World War II, and care should be taken to see that evidence of dental condition will be available when needed. Therefore, I want to urge returning veterans to have a dentist check their dental condition as soon as they are discharged (if they had any dental trouble or treatment in service), and to file a claim without delay. I know from experience just how difficult it is to get VA approval of some of these dental claims.

Red Cross News

Dallas A. Swindle, Volunteer of Broward County Chapter, a member of our Southeastern Area Advisory Council met with our Board of Directors and members at the chapter office Monday evening January 28. Discussion followed Mr. Swindle's informal talk and those of us who attended feel that we gained much by this meeting.

One of the main points Mr. Swindle brought out is that compared to the 16,500 paid employees of the American Red Cross we have 1,650,000 volunteers actually working for Red Cross throughout the Nation.

We now have in our chapter office copies of our National Red Cross Annual Report for the Year ending June 30, 1951. This is a very interesting report. We welcome any of you to come to the office and either read it there or take it home to read. We believe you will have a much better understanding of American Red Cross activities if you could spare the time to read this report.

Miss Jane Perry, our General Field Representative, visited the Chapter on Wednesday, January 30, and met with our Board of Directors.

The following are our Board of Director members:

Rev. O. K. Cull, Chapter chairman; Rev. H. D. Grubbs, Vice chairman; Mrs. P. S. Bos, Secretary; Mrs. Chas. F. Weigle, Treasurer; Mrs. J. W. Ingle; Mrs. Ethel B. Tucker; Robert F. Mason, James W. Bowen, Jr.

These Board of Directors are elected by you at our Annual meeting held in the month of May.

Attending an Area meeting at the Manatee River Hotel in Bradenton on January 23 were the following: Mrs. Esther Bovard, Avon Park, Mrs. T. E. Ferguson, and Dr. and Mrs. Warren Wooden, Sebring. Very interesting addresses were given by W. W. Jefferson, Southeastern Area Manager and Emil Lewis, Southeastern Area Assistant Director both of Atlanta.

Miss Nedra Mitchell, Junior Red Cross Consultant for Florida and Georgia visited our Chapter Monday, Jan. 28. She met with Mrs. Sarah Holifield and together they discussed plans for the coming year for our Junior Red Cross organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy O. Atkins of Everglades surprised his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Atkins, with a visit Wednesday of last week, returning home the same night because of Mr. Atkins' duties as chief deputy sheriff and jailer of Collier County.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Storm of Elkhart, Ind., are staying for the winter at the Kenmen apartments, Lake Isis. Their daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Gordon Stock and Sharon, who came down with them, returned to Elkhart Thursday. Mrs. Storm is the sister of Mrs. Fred Simcox.

Dr. S. Gertrude Crandall of Wooster, Ohio, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Kempton. Dr. Crandall came down from Swarthmore, Pa., with her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Louis N. Robinson, who remained here over the weekend before going on to Naples.

Mrs. H. C. Chappell left Saturday for Frankfort, Ky., to be at the bedside of her sister, Miss Eula Tichenor, who died Wednesday at 1:50 P.M., three days after Mrs. Chappell arrived. Miss Tichenor was an employee of the Frankfort State Journal, a newspaper, for over 30 years, retiring three years ago on account of ill health.

Clare Mann, who suffered a stroke Sunday morning, has been taken to Walker Memorial Hospital.

Clarice Skipper, John Delegal, and Garth Spencer are among the college students home for mid-term vacation.

Mrs. O. K. McClure left last Sunday for a week's visit with her mother in Francesco, N.C.

Mrs. C. C. Coffee of Rome, Ga., and Mrs. J. L. Hines of Griffin, Ga., are houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Allen Martin.

Virgil Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Durrah Martin, is at home from the university at Gainesville for two weeks between terms.

The Pilgrim Fellowship, Congregational young people's group, enjoyed a fish fry Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Glinn.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Howard Conger that they have arrived at their home in East Orange, N.J., and that both are well.

Mrs. May Munson of New York state will arrive today (Friday) to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hougaboom. She will stay for about a month.

Mrs. R. T. Hosking of Wilmett, Ill., arrived this week to be the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. H. Stodden. Mrs. Hosking will stay until the end of May.

A group of women of the First Baptist Church attended the meeting of the W.M.U. Orange Blossom Association at Lake Placid, Monday, January 28.

Mrs. H. B. McClung and daughter, Kathy, of Houston, Texas, arrived Saturday to spend two weeks with Mrs. McClung's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Thompson.

Theta Sims, Avon Park High School student and daughter of Mrs. A. W. Sims, returned home Wednesday afternoon from Walker Memorial Hospital, after undergoing an appendectomy there last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Boney, Mrs. Jet Park, and Mrs. R. J. Rutherford drove to St. Petersburg Sunday, and visited the American Legion Crippled Children's Home there. They then went on to Venice, where they called on Francis Shockley, who is there receiving treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Leininger and sons, Dwayne and Johnny, have returned to their home in Archbold, Ohio, after a two-weeks visit with Mrs. Leininger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Simpson. The Leiningers were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Trout, also of Archbold.

Highlands Soil Conservation District Progress Report 1951

A summary of a few of the Highlands Soil Conservation District's accomplishments for 1951 were as listed below: Assisting its 300 active cooperators in establishing 7,938 acres of improved pasture; 3,427 acres of farm drainage; 334 acres of improved water application; stocked three farm fish ponds, and others.

If there is a breach of the undertaking, the Mayor shall make a record thereof and shall declare the undertaking, and any money or bonds that have been deposited as bail, forfeited. Forfeiture of the undertaking, money, or bonds shall not in any way affect the power of the Mayor to issue a warrant ordering the person charged before him for trial. The method of declaration of forfeiture of bail bonds shall be the same as that set forth by statute for the enforcement of bail bonds in the State Courts of the State of Florida.
Section 18. Witnesses in all cases who are summoned before the Mayor's Court shall receive for each day's attendance two dollars, which shall be paid to the witness by the party in whose behalf he was summoned.

Avon Park High School Talent On WLW - TV Show at State Fair, Tampa

Over 140 Floridians are currently participating in a unique amateur talent show which is being televised by WLW-TV in Cincinnati, Ohio in addition to being rebroadcast on several FM and AM stations in the state.

The following talent from Avon Park schools will participate on Saturday, Feb. 9th: Jane Suggs, Beth Suggs, Virginia Landress, Patricia Sheffield, Bob Whitcomb, Jack Ward, Donald King, Carolyn Bolt, Peggy Martin, Beverly Williams.

The program, "Crosley-WLW-TV Talent Search Review", is held twice daily in the Electrical Building during the Florida State Fair in Tampa, according to A. E. Elgan, Community Carnival director for Crosley Division, AVCO manufacturing corporation.

Highlight of the program will be Saturday, February 16 when the finals are scheduled. Grand prize winner will receive an all-expense trip to Cincinnati for a week's engagement on WLW-TV's NBC network show.

Second place winner has a choice of a Crosley Shelvador refrigerator or electric range, while third prize is either a Crosley Shelvador home freezer or a TV set.

Each day during the Fair a minimum of nine acts are held on the 3:00 P.M. show, five of which are chosen to compete on the 7:00 P.M. program that evening. Three winners are chosen on this show, all of whom receive varied medals of Crosley radios. First place winners each evening will advance to the final show to compete for the "Big Three" prizes.

Acts include all types of vocal and instrumental numbers, dance and comedy routines, ventriloquists and impersonations. Judging points out that amateurs are judged on originality, showmanship, variety and showmanship rather than quality or audience applause. Contestants must be at least 15 years old.

"Because the response has been so great Florida has been so rewarded with such a co-operative talent," Elgan said, "plans are underway to hold a similar talent show in the near future so that more Florida talent may participate."

WFLA will rebroadcast the 7:00 P.M. program at 10:30 each evening while WDBL and WJCM will rebroadcast those shows in which participants from their counties appear.

MORE CANADIANS NOW VACATIONING IN STATE

Canadians, now able to travel without need to forsake dollar restrictions, are currently vacationing in Florida in great numbers, according to Harold Cobe, executive vice president, Florida State Chamber of Commerce. A postwar regulation which expired on January 9, forbade Canadians taking more than $300 each into another country. "Canadians not only succeeded in stabilizing their currency, but their dollars are now worth almost as much as ours, and are still climbing," Cobe said, adding, "Our northern neighbors have sizeable investments in Florida. We welcome them back."

Statement From State Board of Health

There is no known medical basis for the statement that drinking of "cola" drinks or other carbonated beverages can make a person more liable to develop polio, the Florida State Board of Health said today.

The reassurance was made in response to "numerous inquiries" regarding the possible effects of such beverages in relation to polio, according to Dr. L. L. Parks, director of the State Board of Health Bureau of Preventable Diseases.

"Polio" said Dr. Parks, "is still largely a medical mystery. We don't know positively how it is transmitted. But we do feel safe in saying that we think it perfectly safe to drink colas and other carbonated beverages."

The wave of queries, it was learned, springs from literature being circulated among Florida schools and elsewhere which declares that the sale of "these destructive soft drinks" should be banned in an effort to eliminate poliomyelitis.

One of the queries came from a school nurse in Alabama, who wrote to ask if the Florida State Board of Health had read or approved publication of the literature.

"We emphatically have not approved such literature and we disagree with the text on many points" Dr. Parks asserted.

Accompanying the pamphlet is a statistical table which purports to show that as consumption of bottled soft drinks increases, so does the cases of poliomyelitis. The table, however, does not prove its claims.

For instance, in 1949, a heavy polio epidemic year, it is noted that as consumption of bottled soft drinks reached 162 per person during the 12-month period, the number of polio cases reached 42,366. But in 1951, on the basis of estimates, the consumption of bottled soft drinks had reached 173.8 per person, while the number of polic cases was listed at 28,500.

"However, the State Board of Health does not recommend the use of too many soft drinks at the expense of a well-rounded diet. Their use can be overdone and frequently is, particularly in the case of children."

Tallahassee — In the first major case involving electric power companies under regulation by the state railroad and public utilities commission, request for increased rates were denied. The order of the commission stated that special legislation requires that rates fixed by the Pinellas Utility Board remain in effect until changed by court order, and that such is now before the court. Rates for other counties in the system cannot be changed without taking the Pinellas county rates into consideration, and for that reason the order dismissed the entire application. In an earlier order, the commission granted an increase of about 6 per cent to Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, with increases generally for business and some reductions in residential areas.

The keenest politicians have thier ears to the ground now.

Take someone to church Sunday —you'll both be richer for it.

Soil Conservation News

By Sam Polston
Soil Conservationist

The Highlands Soil Conservation District has recently assisted the following new cooperators in preparing complete soil and water conservation plans, R. P. Dortch of Sebring, Sol McClelland of Lorida, Leon Tubbs of Sebring, D. C. Kelley of Lake Placid, Jack Hutchinson of Avon Park, and Dr. Oren Ellingson of Tampa totaling 4,602 acres. The soil and water conservation practices planned were improved pastude, citrus grove cover crop, farm drainage, irrigation, improved range, wildlife area improvement, and others.

In addition to the above cooperators, requests have been received from the Federal Prison at Avon Park, and E. O. Douglas High School for assistance in working out problems in soil and water conservation. Lloyd Zorn of Lake Placid who is with the soil conservation service has recently assisted the following cooperators in farm drainage problems, H. A. Pfaff, Marvin Kahn, Carl McIntyre, and W. Z. Carson of Sebring, Joe Ellis of Lorida, and D. C. Kelley, and Jess Durrance of Lake Placid.

Speeding Drivers Killed 15,000 Persons Last Year

Declaring that "speeders are getting away with murder," the nationwide newspaper campaign to reduce the 1952 accident toll today centered its fire mainly on speeding drivers, who alone killed 15,000 men, women and children and claimed 500,000 injured victims last year.

Public safety specialists throughout the country have branded excessive speed as "Killer No. 1" in traffic accidents and urged that the most intensive law enforcement drives against speeders be undertaken this year in all states. They have also proposed that all official and unofficial groups interested in greater safety on the highways initiate educational programs during 1952 to help lower the high toll of deaths and injuries attributable to speed by persuading drivers to "slow down for safety's sake."

The key relationship of speed to the upward death curve in highway accidents in recent years has definitely been established, according to Thomas N. Boate, public safety director of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies and acting manager of its accident prevention department. The tendency to higher speeds increased deaths on highways in rural areas by 3,200 in 1950, he said, accounting for all but 300 of the 3,500 jump that year in the death toll for the nation as a whole, compared with 1949. Last year, he added, rural deaths due to speed probably increased nearly 5,000 over the 1949 total.

A former captain of Pennsylvania's state police who has often seen dead speeders and their victims in wrecks on the highways, Mr. Boate urged that speeders be made the No. 1 target of enforcement and educational campaigns throughout 1952 "to make a real start towards saving 10,000 lives this year"—the goal of more than 8,000 newspapers' intensive highway safety efforts. He recommended that law enforcement authorities be backed up in every possible way in drives to round up and penalize speeders.

In some states, Br. Boate pointed out, drivers lose their driving privileges for speeding offenses. This has been an effective deterrent, he said, expressing the hope that more states would take similar action to curb "veritable jet-propelled speeds" on the open road and thus help to hold down the growing number of fatalities.

But drivers themselves, he declared, must be convinced of the utter folly of reckless speeds to "save time", endangering themselves, their families, and other innocent persons on the streets and highways.

Excessive speed increases the severity of accidents two to three times, compared with mishaps at lower speeds, Mr. Boate emphasized. In one state a survey showed that on a super-highway where speeds of 70 miles per hour were permitted, and often exceeded, 4.5 percent of all accidents were fatal, compared with 1.5 percent in crashes on other highways in the same state.

"Speed is now causing up to half of all motor vehicle deaths in a number of states," said Mr. Boate. "A corresponding high proportion of those injured and crippled for life in highway accidents are caused by speeding. Speed killed 13,300 men, women and children and its injured victims totaled 475,000 in 1950. Last year these casualties were greatly increased because of the growing tendency to speed. On the highways, speed is Killer No. 1 and its toll will continue to grow year after year unless enforcement officials, the public and millions of drivers themselves take concerted action against needless, heedless speeding.

"There is almost a 50-50 chance that if you have a fatal accident it will be caused by speeding, so why not slow down, keep within sensible limits, and have a better chance of arriving safely at your destination!"

We're 93 Candles on Our Cake!

Your A&P is 93 years young this week. For it was about this time in 1859 that our founder, George Huntington Hartford, pridefully opened the doors of his modest little store on Vesey Street in downtown New York, the forerunner of today's A&P.

Even with his vision, we suppose he'd be surprised to see how his little business has grown.

We think he'd be proud, though, to know that the basic idea that guided him then, "to bring more good food to more people for less money," has been the reason for our growth.

We pledge to maintain this principle as long as there's an A&P!

G. P. WOODHAM, [illegible]

THE

By

Did you ever wonder how the woodpecker knew where to bore a tree to find food?

Again we stand in awe of our wonderful Creator, who equipped each species of birds with the proper "tools" to collect the food it was intended to eat, and made it possible for each succeeding generation to have the same knowledge that was taught to the first pair. So that each pair of birds gather the same kind of food in the same way as the original pair, and build their nest in the same manner, even if they have never seen such a nest built.

The hairy woodpecker and the downy woodpecker are so strikingly alike that even their pictures seem identical.

Both have black and white stripes on their wings and wider stripes on head and neck, their sides both front and back are white. The male of each has a red patch on the back of his head. Even taken feather by feather, it is hard to recognize the difference between them, but there is a difference. The hairy woodpecker is three or four inches longer than the downy. We might say the hairy woodpecker is a magnified downy.

This [illegible] noted in the [illegible] which is proportionately [illegible] with the hairy woodpecker; [illegible] Creator plan[illegible] the hairy woodpecker [illegible] deeper into the trees and the [illegible] finds different insects for food, while the downy woodpecker [illegible] its short bill can drill only [illegible] low holes and finds a different variety of insects.

One naturalist stated that he had watched a downy woodpecker for two and a half hours and in that time it had inspected 181 woodland trees and made 26 excavations for the wood-boring ant.

Some go so far as to say that the woodpecker can hear the "grub" crunching inside the tree, but did you ever see a carpenter tapping a wall to find the heavy uprights? Well, it seems that somebody has explained this method to the woodpecker and he can find where there is a defect inside the wood and where there is a decayed spot or a hollow spot holding a grub.

When the woodpecker builds its nest, it usually selects a decayed stub or tree, and makes an opening about one and a half inches in diameter, and the hole is as perfect as if a compass had been used. It bores a short way into the tree and then than turns the opening downward and chips fall on to the ground, but the rest are kept in the cavity to be used as a nest.

Of course the larger species of woodpeckersd build larger and sometimes different kinds of nests.

The cavities made by woodpeckers are not considered injurious to trees as they release the pressure on growing trees, and also destroy insect enemies of the trees.

Woodpeckers in general have short stubby tails that they use as a brace against the tree and usually have strong feet with two toes before, two behind, and also a long barbed tongue that can thrust an inch and a half beyond the bill, to spear the insect or grub it has located.

Some woodpeckers remain in northern states during the winter and as the sap begins to move in the late winter will make small holes in branches and that allows the sap to drip out and freeze into icicles — to form "woodpecker candy" which many birds enjoy.

They will team up with the nuthatch, Chickadee and titmouse in winter and hunt in flocks; this habit helps to annihilate untold numbers of insects, for what the sharp eyes of one misses another sees, and masses of insect eggs and hibernating larvae are in that way put out of business.

Rainbow Springs has been selected as the shooting site for a forthcoming U.S. Treasury Department film on southern bass fishing.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD H. NORDMAN

Miss Dot Edge Weds Richard Nordman

Miss Dortha Edge, daughter of Mrs. A. W. Edge, and Richard H. Nordman, U.S. Air Force, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Nordman of Olwein, Iowa, were united in marriage Friday evening, February 1, at 7:30 o'clock, in the First Methodist Church. The Rev. H. Edward Garrett officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

White gladiolli, carnations, and fern against palms formed a background for the ceremony. The altar was flanked with tall candelabra, bearing lighted white tapers.

Mrs. W. Earl Jackson, organist, played the prelude and the wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Bud Edge, wore a gown of white embroidered nylon over orchid taffeta, fashioned with fitted bodice and full skirt. Her long mitts matched the overdress. Her shoulder-length veil, also of the embroidered nylon, was caught at the front by wounded bands of white and orchid tulle. Her bouquet was of purple sweet-peas, centered by a white orchid, and showered with white and lavender ribbons.

Miss Anne Palmer, the bride's only attendant, wore a gown of midnight blue taffeta, with matching bonnet and short mitts. She carried a bouquet of small golden chyrsanthemums.

Lt. Sam Boswell was the best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Duncan Palmer, the mother of the maid of honor.

The room was decorated with lighted tapers and arrangements of crimson and yellow gladiolli. The bride's table, overlaid with white, was centered by a tiered wedding cake, surmounted by a miniature bride and groom.

Miss Betty Sue Freeman and Miss Nettie Lee assisted in the serving of wedding cake and punch.

Guests at the wedding and reception included the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Nordman; his sisters, the Misses Mary and Monica Nordman; and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Nordman, all of Olwein.

The mother of the bride wore a white suit with pink accessories; her corsage was of pink carnations. Mrs. Nordman, mother of the bridegroom, chose as her costume a black suit with lavender accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The bride's going-away costume was a pink suit with black accessories and the orchid corsage from the center of her wedding bouquet.

The newly-married Mrs. Nordman is a graduate of Avon Park High School. Her husband is stationed at the Air Force Base here.

The couple will make their home in Avon Park for the present.

Boy Scouts Had Tent City On Mall, Other Activities

National Boy Scout Week, from February 6 to 12, was thoroughly observed by our two local troops, Troop 156, sponsored by the Exchange Club, and Troop 157, sponsored by Rotary.

At the beginning of the week, the Scouts put up tents in the Mall, these being "tent city", and made preparations for some members from both troops to "camp out" there on Friday night.

24 boys, supervised by Bob Gibson, Scout Master for 157, and Floyd Q. Freer, Scout Master for 156, spent a restful Friday night in the Mall. Their supper was "hunter's stew," a Scout favorite, cooked in the Mall, and the next morning, they prepared an ample breakfast of bacon and eggs. All camping was carried out as though they had been in the woods, instead of the center of the business section.

Friday night, before bedding down, the Scouts went to see the movie, "Bright Victory."

Sunday morning, the Scouts as a body attended services at the First Baptist Church in observance of Scout Sunday.

Monday, Troop 156 was honored at a barbecue given by the Exchange Club at the Fish and Game Club. Troop 157 had a board of review at Scout Hall that same evening.

Tuesday the Scouts broke up "tent city" on the Mall. Later they were guests of the Hilaso Theatre, where they saw the picture, "Crosswinds" filmed in Florida.

This year's National Scout Week marks the 42nd birthday of the Boy Scouts.

The Scouts wish to express their deep appreciation to every one who cooperated with them in making Scout Week a success.

Notes of the City Council Meeting Held Monday Night

The City Council met in regular session Monday night with all members present and following are a few notes of the meeting:

Elder A. R. Young, Chairman of the Walker Memorial Sanitarium and Hospital, appeared before the Council in regards to the location of a tent for a thirteen week series of Bible and health lectures. He stated that he had been unable to secure permission from the property owner to use the lots on Main Street and S. Anoka Ave., and requested permission to erect the tent at Main Street and North Florida Avenue. After some discussion including the reading of a telegram from Fred Poden protesting the erecting of the tent the Council advised Elder Young that the proposed location would meet with their approval since there seemed to be a minimum of objection to the site.

Miss Lucretia Furci and one County Commissioner, Mrs. Girdy appeared relative to the claying of streets in Park Hill Subdivision. After some discussion Miss Furci was informed that at the present the City would be unable to help her obtain clay as she proposed.

Gilbert Tyler, Horace Jackson and Mr. Pigler appeared and requested information regarding electrical work being done in the City by non-licensed electricians who work by the hour. Mr. Tyler and Mr. Jackson objected to allowing electricians to work without purchasing licenses when they had purchased theirs. Mr. Pigler stated that he felt he was entitled to work by the hour without purchasing a license since he was not operating a regular business or advertising. The City Council informed Mr. Pigler that he would have to purchase a $25 license or cease to operate within the City Limits.

Woodwind Trio Wins First WLW-TV Prize

Virginia Landress also received an unexpected prize. The director of the Tampa Symphony offered her an immediate position as bassoon player with that orchestra. It seems the girl is really good!

Patricia Sheffield, solo flute, placed second, and also received a radio.

The woodwind trio will return to Tampa Saturday, Feb. 16, to compete in the final contest, the winner of which will receive an all-expense trip to Cincinnati, O., for a week's engagement on WLW-TV's NBC network show.

The programs, "Crosby-WLW-TV Talent Search Review" are being televised by WLW-TV in Cincinnati, and are rebroadcast on several FM and AM stations in this state.

It was during this campaign that he decided he would like to make Highlands County his home. Mr. and Mrs. Lee have two children, and since they moved to the county they have made many close friends in the social and business life of Sebring.

CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR SPOKE HERE MONDAY

Alto Adams, candidate for Governor of Florida was here Monday night and gave a short but interesting talk to quite a number of voters who turned out to hear the first candidate for this high office to speak in Highlands County in the 1952 campaign. One thing about the Judge, he is certainly not making any wild promises to the voters and it looks to this writer, that should Judge Alto Adams win he will carry dignity and honor to the high office he seeks.

Mrs. J. H. Hamlin of Columbia, S.C., will arrive Sunday to join her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Hayworth of Washington, D.C., who is staying at her apartment here for an indefinite period. Mr. Hayworth, who has been here for the past two weeks, will return to Washington Saturday.

The Well-being Of Society

"The well-being of society, the success of the church, the prosperity of the nation, depend upon home influences," J. R. Young, pastor of the local Seventh-day Adventist church, told his congregation in a special Christian Home Day service Saturday morning. "Divine prophecy declares that the breakdown of the home is one of the outstanding evidences that we are approaching the end of the age and the glorious return of Jesus Christ to the world," declared Pastor Young. "The divorce rate in the United States in the year 1870 was 1 to 34 marriages; in 1900 it was 1 to 12; in 1930 it was 1 to 6; today it is nearly 1 to 3, with 385,000 granted in 1950. The basis for national prosperity and world peace lies in the home. A man or woman can reach no higher achievement than to build a happy, successful home, and to do that God must be the Master Builder. 'Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it', wrote the Psalmist.

Pastor Young urged the young people in his congregation to "seek the guidance of God and the advice of parents in choosing a marriage partner." Judge Joseph Sabath has listed the following Ten Rules for a Happy Marriage: 1. Bear and forbear. 2. Work together, play together, grow together. 3. Avoid little quarrels—the big ones will take care of themselves. 4. Compromise. It is the antitoxin that destroys the poison of divorce. 5. Practice sympathy, good humor and mutual understanding. 6. Don't grouch before breakfast—or after it. 7. Respect your "in-laws." 8. Establish your own home, even in a one room flat. 9. Fight for each other, but not each other. 10. Build your home on religious faith, and never let a day close without a clean slate of forgiveness.

STATE PATROL RECOVERED 480 STOLEN CARS IN 1952

Three hundred and one wanted persons and escaped prisoners were apprehended by the Florida Highway Patrol in 1951, according to its annual report released today.

In addition, the state traffic officers recovered 480 stolen motor vehicles in 1951. This was a 16 percent increase over the number of such recoveries in 1950. Safety Director H. N. Kirkman said that the drivers were apprehended in more than thirty-eight percent of the stolen vehicles his men recovered last year.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

Most folks might think that time spent in a morgue would be a rather gruesome experience. This doesn't apply, however, to a "newspaper morgue" and there is nothing I enjoy more than pawing over old files and digging out interesting information.

I was called on recently to provide a publisher with authentic information on the history of the Florida State Fair and Gasparilla Carnival. Since the local newspapers are the mirror of community life and action, there is no better place to look for facts, and after spending hours in the morgues of our local papers I came up with some very interesting information.

The history of Florida fairs goes back many years. The earliest record I found of a fair in Tampa was the account of an exhibition staged in connection with the Tampa Bay Hotel by H. B. Plant, builder of the Plant Railroad System, now Atlantic Coast Line.

Plant recognized Florida as a land of tremendous opportunity. He developed the west coast at about the same time Henry M. Flagler was pushing his Florida East Coast Railroad and development.

Desiring to acquaint wealthy hotel guests and winter visitors with the advantages and opportunities in this section, Plant arranged for an exhibit of fruit, vegetables, minerals and wild life.

These exhibits were maintained for a number of years and many of the guests Plant brought to Florida were impressed and eventually located and invested here. The exhibits were discontinued after Plant's death, but Tampans eventually recalled how these exhibits had helped to develop the area and a few years later the idea was revived and an organization formed to sponsor a more elaborate exposition.

This was in 1904 and invitations were extended to a number of counties in South Florida to exhibit their wares in Tampa. About the same time another group of Tampans conceived the idea of staging a gay and colorful carnival patterned after the Mardi Gras of New Orleans.

Casting around for a theme, George Hardee advanced the suggestion that a pirate invasion of the city would be new and different and the first Gasparilla Carnival was staged. Sailing up the river in small craft, Ye Mystic Krewe of Gasparilla captured the city and mounted horses to ride to the old Plant Race Track where an afternoon of fun and frolic prevailed. The show was similar to the jousts with tests of skill with lances.

For the first few years the fair and the carnival were held at different times and it was not until the formation of the South Florida Fair in 1914 that the two events were put on at the same time.

The fair was supported by contributions of local business men who purchased stock in varying amounts in a cooperative, non-profit corporation; its charter provided that any revenue remaining from the operation must be used to improve and expand.

Starting with one building that year, annual improvements occurred until today the Florida State Fair is recognized nationally as one of the foremost in the country.

At the same time the Gasparilla Carnival grew and prospered. Brilliant, colorful parades and social events were incorporated in its program and it, too, has taken its place alongside the Mardi Gras of New Orleans and the Cotton Carnival of Memphis.

Fair officials this year anticipate an attendance of well over a million during the eleven days of its operation, February 5 to 16. Just now the fair grounds are alive with carpenters, painters, decorators and technicians who are busy with the last minute preparations for what promises to be the greatest exposition ever held.

It is interesting to note that one exhibit, the Electrical Exposition sponsored by the Tampa Electrical Company, occupies more space than the entire fair employed in its beginning.

Easter Lilies Given Preview

Like many other Florida counties, Highlands harvests a wide variety of products from its forests, fields and groves, but it leads the state in the production of Easter lily bulbs and caladium bulbs and ranks second in beef cattle, lime and avocado production and fifth in citrus.

So quite naturally those items get the feature spots in the county's exhibit, planned and set up at the Florida State Fair by V. T. Oxer, the county agent and his assistant, Bert J. Harris, Jr., and the county's home demonstration agent, Miss Catherine Brabson.

Oxes said the county has over 15,000 acres of citrus but also grows important amounts of mangoes, pineapples, bananas and other tropical and semi-tropical fruits. Leading truck crops are tomatoes and beans followed by blackberries, strawberries, grapes, corn, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, sugar cane and forage crops.

The importance of the cattle industry is shown by the fact that nearly 500,000 acres of lands are devoted to pasture. Timber, for commercial purposes, commands 302,000 acres.

Tourists swell the county's population by some 15 per cent during the Winter season to enjoy the area's fine hunting and fishing. Game includes dove, quail, deer, turkey, squirrel, raccoon, fox and rabbit while the streams and lakes are well known for perch, bass, bream, shellcrackers ano catfish.

Highlands Hammock State Park is located in the county and its natural orchids and a giant oak 950 years old, draw thousands of visitors.

The county was created in 1921 from a part of DeSoto County and consists of 698,240 acres. It was named for the abundant highlands it includes in its area. Sebring, the county seat, was founded in 1912 by the late George E. Sebring. Avon Park, founded in 1886 by Oliver M. Crosby of New York and Mr. and Mrs. William King of England, was named for the English home of Shakespeare, Stratford-on-Avon.

Have You Met Jay?

By The Bird Woman

The jay is another bird that scarcely needs an introduction for in abundance it is second only to the mockingbird.

The jay belongs to the family, "corridae", and is considered by ornothologists to be the most intelligent of all the bird families in the world.

To this family crows, ravens and magpies belong. Naturalists predict that after man has used his super-intelligence to destroy himself, that this wise family, especially the crow, will still remain and be able to take care of himself.

While some species of jay is found in nearly every part of the country, the magpie is found only in the west.

The jay is larger than the robin and is the only bright blue bird east of the Rockies with a crest.

We think the two words that describe him best are "inquisitive" and "pugnacious."

He is full of tricks and loves to clown and mimic. Did you ever hear him give the "riot call", and watch the blue streaks flashing through the air, as the clan gathers? When you hear this call, you may feel sure that an enemy has been spotted. It may be an owl, a snake, or the family "tabby", but whatever the enemy, it usually has business elsewhere and realizes the fastest retreat is the wisest move.

The jay enjoys giving the cry of the hawk, and then watching the chickens scurry for cover, his mimicry being so perfect that while scanning the sky for the hawk, you see the jay, calmly perched in a tree and trying hard to smother a laugh.

The jay has been accused of stealing bird eggs, but after careful study, the Department of Agriculture has weighed his faults against his virtues, and considers him a valuable bird and he is subject to protection at all times.

In Florida, we have another species of jay that is without crest and is called the "scrub jay", because he frequents only places where scrub oaks grow. There he builds his nest and gathers his food.

This jay has a different disposition and manner from the crested jay. He is more quiet and quite easily tamed, where he will eat from the hand. We saw this done when we were on the Merritt Island trip, and one afternoon we were driving through the woods and after being lost for sometime, we came upon a fishing cabin on a lake where some nature-lovers lived. There we experienced the thrill of holding out a handful of nuts and giving a soft whistle and having one of these lovely scrub jays alight on our hand and gobble up all the nuts and then fly away and bury them.

This is not an unusual custom of the scrub jay and even the crested jay will bury acorns and nuts and will even make bold to steal nuts from the store of the squirrel and bury them—later it is problematical which will find them and enjoy the fruit of their labor.

EDITOR'S MAIL BAG

(NOTE: The letter below is a note of appreciation for the concert given last Sunday afternoon in the high school auditorium by the APHS Band. It is also worthy of mention that the audience, mostly our winter visitors, enjoyed the concert so much, that it expressed appreciation through the unexpected and unsolicited collection of money for the benefit of the band fund.)

I am one, who believes in saying "Thank you" and especially to the wonderful young people who are the Avon Park High School Band, and when you think they are giving up a Sunday afternoon which could be spent in more enjoyable persuits by folks so young, then I think we oldsters ought to say "Thank you" again.

Their renditions were so beautiful, and their leader seems so inspired, that one can't help feeling Avon Park is an ideal place to spend a Sunday afternoon and such an afternoon, of wonderful sunshine and fresh air, for this auditorium is ventilated with open windows and not air conditioning as would be necessary, were the concert held in any of the northern states.

So I say "Thank you" Avon Park, for your wonderful Band and Leader.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger

Tallahassee — The deadline for most state and some county candidates for office to qualify found two of the six state cabinet officers and one supreme court justice with opposition. Nathan Mayo, dean of the cabinet and commissioner of agriculture is opposed by John M. Kennedy of Orlando. Thomas D. Bailey, state superintendent of public instruction, has Ray Van Dusen of Miami as an opponent. Halley B. Lewis of Arcadia qualified against Supreme Court Justice B. K. Roberts. The following win Democratic nominations automatically; R. A. Gray, secretary of state; Ed Larson, state treasurer; C. M. Gay, comptroller; Richard W. Ervin, attorney general; John S. Mathews and R. H. Chapman, supreme court justices. Throughout the state, candidates for the eight congressional districts and those running for the legislature are getting into high gear. The deadline for qualifying for governor and railroad commissioner is Mar. 15, along with county offices where there were no special laws setting another last day.

Lee Announces For Full Time Judge

Harry Lee, young Sebring Attorney, today announced his candidacy for the office of Full Time, Court House, County Judge, of Highlands County.

Born at Munson, a small logging camp in the northwestern part of the State, Lee is a member of one of Florida's pioneer Baptist families which dates back six generations and almost 180 years. After graduating from Munson High School Harry completed a Business and Accounting course at Massey Business College, Montgomery, Ala. and then was associated with his father in the logging business, until the call of public service overcame him and he entered the Univ. of Fla. at Gainesville, where he acquired two degrees in Education. Lee then spent three years serving his country in the Field Artillery, during World War II. He then returned to the University of Florida where he completed his law degree. The last two years at Gainesville found Lee an assistant to the Business Manager of the University of Florida, as well as a Member of Beta Theta Pi social fraternity, Phi Alpha Deta, honorary legal fraternity, and Florida Blue Key, honorary leadership fraternity, and was considered one of the outstanding campus political leaders during his stay at the University of Florida.

While touring the State in his May 1948 campaign for State Comptroller Lee visited in Sebring, Highlands County, and then decided this was the place for him to settle. In the Fall of 1948 he moved his law office, Dot, Linda, and Bobbie, his family, to Sebring.

Lee states that when he is elected Full Time, Court House, County Judge, he will close his downtown law office and be available to the people of Highlands County around the clock as their Full Time, Court House, County Judge and it will not be necessary for the Highway Patrol to locate him when needed; and that he is the Independent Candidate in this race and will be responsible only to the people of Highlands County, and not to any group, clique, organization or political boss and will serve all the people impartially around the clock.

SGT. AND MRS. ROBERT DONALD YOUNG

Helen Knowles Weds Air Force Sergeant

The wedding of Miss Helen Dorris Knowles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Knowles, to Sergeant Robert Donald Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Young of Anniston, Ala., took place Sunday evening, February 10, at 5:00 o'clock, in the First Methodist Church. The Rev. H. Edward Garrett officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Baskets of white gladiolli against a bank of palms and candelabra bearing lighted tapers made a beautiful background for the marriage service.

Miss Dorothy Jones, vocal solist, and Mrs. W. Earl Jackson, organist, presented a program of nuptial music.

The bride's gown was of satin, ballerina length, with white nylon net yoke and short sleeves fashioned with a center point, accentuated with white rosettes; and worn with elbow-length white satin mitts terminating in a point. Her fingertip veil of white nylon net was held by a white satin cap edged with white rosettes. She carried a white Bible, covered with white iris and showered with stephanotis.

Mrs. Gordon L. Tyre of Frostproof was matron of honor and Miss Vivian Dean of Winter Haven was bridesmaid. Both attendants wore satin gowns fashioned in the same style as the bride's dress, the matron of honor wearing blue, while the bridesmaid wore pink. Their caps were matching satin with rosette edging. Mrs. Tyre carried a colonial bouquet of yellow iris; Miss Dean a similar bouquet of blue iris.

Wayne Knowles and Wallace Kirkland were the candlelighters.

The mother of the bride was costumed in a gray suit with a pink blouse and black accessories; her corsage was of pink carnations.

Mrs. Young, mother of the bridegroom, wore a suit of dusty rose, with navy accessories, and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mrs. H. E. Barber. The house was decorated for the occasion with arrangements of white gladiolli and spring flowers.

The bride's table held the white, three-tiered wedding cake, surmounted by a miniature bride and groom. Punch and cake were served.

Miss Janet Seals kept the bride's book.

Mrs. Viete Bassmore presided over the wedding cake, assisting with the serving were Mrs. W. R. Hood, Miss Pat Lagoni, and Miss Kathryn Howell.

The bride chose as her going-away costume a pink gabardine suit with navy accessories, and a white iris corsage.

After a honeymoon spent on the east coast, Sgt. and Mrs. Young will reside in Avon Park.

PANCAKE DAY IS COMING

Hold the date open for the annual Shrove Tuesday "Pancake Day", February 26. Hours are from 9 to 2, at the Episcopal parish house.

The U.S.W.V. will hold their carnation drive on Saturday, Feb. 16.

Large Crowd At Eastern Star Supper

Leight Chapter No. 85, Eastern Star, held its annual chicken supper Wednesday evening, Feb. 6, from 5 o'clock until 7. This was one of the largest gatherings since the new Temple was built. Over 300 persons were served, and more wished to be; lack of space prevented the serving of the crowd that came.

The supper was a chicken Bar-B-Cue. Demos Mandis barbecued the chicken according to his always well-enjoyed recipe. The chapter thanks Mr. Mandis for during such fine service and good food, and wishes him to know that his constant willingness to help is much appreciated.

The Worthy Matron also wants to thank her committee and all others who assisted in any way.

The chapter is pleased that those attending seemed well satisfied. They apologize to those who were not served, but it was one of those things that could not be helped, as those with tickets had to be taken care of first.

Ladies Aid Honors Presidents

The birthdays of Lincoln and Washington were commemorated at the February meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Union Congregational Church, held at the church house Wednesday. Fifty-one were present.

Following the lavish covered-dish luncheon, the members surprised their president, Mrs. S. O. Norris, who had celebrated her fifth wedding anniversary Sunday, by presenting her with a gift of a set of beautiful costume jewelry and a pottery flower bowl.

The luncheon tables were appropriately decorated with small axes and hatchets; one table was centered with a miniature cherry tree formed of a leafy branch and artificial cherries. Silhouettes of Lincoln, on which were religious mottoes, were at every place.

After luncheon, Mrs. Norris led a devotional period. During the following business session, it was decided to hold a bake sale in the near future. The meeting closed with a silent auction of spring flowers.

Women of Moose Regular Meeting

The Women of the Moose, Avon Park Chapter, 1137, held their regular meeting Monday, February 11.

The social service chairman, Mrs. Lillith Williams, announced that the Valentine's Day dance which was to be held Friday, February 15, for teen-agers, was postponed because of the basketball game between Avon Park and Sebring on the same date. A new date for the dance will be announced as soon as possible.

The next meeting will be held Monday, February 25, at 8 P.M. There will be an initiation of new members. A buffet supper will be served after the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Pixler of Erie, Pa., have arrived in Avon Park and are living on Lake Lotela. Mr. Pixler, who retired February 1, is the brother of Major Ray L. Pixler. The newcomers plan to make this their permanent home, and plan to build a dwelling on Lake Lotela.

Noted Missionary Guest Speaker at Covenant Circle

The Rev. Eleanor Wilson, Congregational-Christian foreign missionary now on furlough, and the only woman to act as skipper and navigator of a boat among the Marshall Islands in the South Seas, will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the Covenant Circle of the Union Congregational Church.

The meeting will be at the Congregational Church next Friday, February 22, at 2:00 P.M., the regular date and place having been changed in order to make it possible for Miss Wilson to be there.

A "Tourist Tea" will follow the program and meeting, the tea being served in the church house.

Winter visitors are especially invited to attend. All women of the church and friends are invited.

Miss Iva Warren is program chairman. Mrs. Paul Garber is hostess for the tea.

Miss Wilson, who worked in the Pacific during World War II, was, as one of her auxiliary tasks, the skipper of Morning Star VI, a 29-ton, diesel-powered two-masted schooner sent to the South Seas from Boston by the American Board of Foreign Missions. When she took over the job, she had no knowledge of navigation. She studied celestial navigation from a book and learned how to plot a course from the navigator of a Navy plane. With this scanty knowledge, she set sail and took the schooner more than 3,000 miles.

Born in Norwalk, Conn., Miss Wilson lived for the past five years in the Marshall Islands. She began her work in the Far East in 1925. Her activities since the war have won much favorable comment, and have appeared in a special article in Life magazine.

She was ordained a Congregational minister in Hawaii in 1946.

AIRMEN MAKE SUBSTANTIAL DONATION TO MARCH OF DIMES

Members of the MacDill Field 306th Air Base Group on detached service here waited until pay day before making their contribution. They didn't want their donation to be of the "small change" variety. They, according to Lt. E. W. Reeves, wanted to make a substantial showing, for the following reason:

"Kenny," young son of a MacDill Field lieutenant, had been stricken with polio, and the youngster was a favorite with the group while stationed at Tampa. They thought of their little pal when the drive for funds to combat the disease was started.

THANKS TO TEEN AGE CLUB

Working quietly and willingly the Teen Age Club of Avon Park made a substantial contribution to the success of the March of Dimes campaign last month. When called upon the Teen Agers spent many hours opening envelopes and lungs (or coin collectors) and counting money and tabulating results. This excellent work by the Teen Age Club is greatly appreciated by the March of Dimes Campaign Committee who would like to take this opportunity to thank the Teen Agers for their help.

Brood over your troubles and you will have a perfect hatch.

MUST MAKE REPORT ON TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Operators of motor vehicles involved in traffic accidents are again reminded to make out a report to the Department of Public Safety, Florida Highway Patrol Director H. N. Kirkman said today.

Florida's regulatory traffic act provides that drivers involved in accidents in which there is a fatality, an injury or total property damage of $50, must make out a report within twenty-four hours. Refusal to do so is punishable as a misdemeanor.

Emphasizing that the reports are confidential, Kirkman explained that they are necessary in obtaining the information on where, how and why accidents occur so that traffic authorities may know exactly the procedure in reducing and preventing such mishaps.

Central Florida Exposition To Open Monday, Feb. 25th

Orlando, Fla. — Six days and nights of fun and frolic are on tap for the thousands of Central Floridians who will pour through the gates of the Central Florida Exposition when it opens on Monday February 25. The menu of entertainment and amusement to be dished out to fairgoers will be well relished, with portions of agricultural and home economics exhibits which form the background for success of the Central Florida Exposition down through the past 40 years.

Claude H. Wolfe, Fair president, has predicted that record crowds would jam the fairgrounds this year, and to give them a full measure of entertainment fair officials lined up a variety of programs beginning with Children's Day on opening day, until gates close on the 1952 show on Saturday night.

For the first time in recent history of the fair, a giant Democratic rally will be staged on Tuesday to begin a parade at 1:30 P.M. and wind up with the king-size rally on the fairgrounds at 7:30 P.M. This event is expected to attract more visitors from all sections of the state and Central Florida than any other single feature during fair week.

The James E. Strates midway shows will be back again this year direct from winter quarters in Deland. The Strates attractions this year include an animal circus in addition to the side shows, amusement rides and musical shows.

And for five nights the 1952 edition of the Ice Vogues, favorite ice show, will be presented at the municipal auditorium on the fair grounds. The Ice Vogues will play evenings Tuesday through Saturday with a matinee on Saturday.

As an added feature, free to all fairgoers, a giant fireworks display will be presented three of the six nights that the fair is to run.

Continue 4-H Public Speaking Program In Florida This Year

The 4-H Public Speaking awards program is being continued in Florida in 1952 for the second consecutive year, the State Club office has announced.

Thousands of 4-H Club boys and girls, realizing that speaking in public goes hand in hand with every type of 4-H project or activity, have taken advantage of the training offered through this program.

As incentives for outstanding records in public speaking in this and 27 other states, gold-filled medals are awarded to the top rating boy and girl in each participating county. The state winning girl receives a beautiful set of silverware, and the outstanding boy gets a 17-jewel wrist watch. Awards are provided by the Pure Oil Co., which this year also offers two college scholarships of $300 each and two educational trips to the 31st National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November for national winners. All states are eligible to submit candidates for these two national awards.

This program is conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

VETERANS INFORMATION

Former GI Bill veteran-trainees who returned to active military duty were reminded today by the Veterans Administration that they have little time to lose, in case they want to resume their GI studies after discharge.

Under VA regulations, they must resume their training within a reasonable period after their release from active duty. That "reasonable period," VA said, will be based on the circumstances of each veteran's case, and will depend on the kind of training he is taking and a number of other factors.

These regulations apply to veterans affected by the July 25, 1951, cut-off date for entering training, who had previously been in training under the GI Bill, but who were unable to be enrolled at that time because of re-entrance into military service.

Veterans were advised to make their training plans early, rather than wait for the last minute. This way, VA said, they may avoid the disappointment of missing out altogether.

VA also reminded veterans of three requirements that must be met in order to take post-cut-off date training after military service:

1. Conduct and progress of their previous GI Bill courses must have been satisfactory.

2. The amount of training they may get after discharge will be limited to their remaining GI Bill entitlement.

3. And their courses may not extend beyond the wind-up of the GI Bill program on July 25, 1956.

According to the law, the July 1951, cut-off date applied to World War II veterans discharged before July 25, 1947. For those few discharged afterwards, the cut-off date is four years from their date of discharge.

Seventy-nine million gallons of gasoline were sold in Florida during the month of December 1951, Comptroller C. M. Gay reported collection of $5,508,000 in taxes on the fuel sold.

Soil Conservation News

Improved pasture planting has slowed down to a mere trickle in the Highlands Soil Conservation District, cooperator George Wilson of Lorida is still planting pangola grass, other recent plantings were made by Scotty Walker, Hub Boney, Walter Mandis, and Earl Hartt. However, land preparation for summer planting is now going at a steady pace with several cooperators clearing, discing and draining.

The old plantings of clover that have re-seeded themselves in the past are showing up mighty good now. Cooperator Lykes Bros. have the most outstanding field of white dutch clover at their Wild Island ranch, on Lake Istokpoga, that this writer has seen in South Florida. This field consists of 100 acres of Class II (shallow muck) land and the clover was planted in December of 1950. At present this field is carrying several cows to the acre. It would be worth anyone's time to see this field of clover, because it is considered exceptionally good by everyone who has seen it. Earl Hartt also has some good clover on (flatwoods) Class IV land. Clover not only furnishes excellent winter grazing it furnishes nitrogen for the summer grass and builds up the fertilty of the land.

Four applications for assistance in developing farm plans were received last week. Two from M. A. Boney, and one each from Cecil Collins and Barron Collier. All applications were for planning improved pasture development.

Auto Taxes Cost Typical Florida Car Owner More Than Federal Income Tax

Big as it is, the federal income tax costs the typical Florida motor vehicle owner less money than the taxes on his vehicle and gasoline, George A. Kimball, Division Manager of the North Florida Division, American Automobile Association, revealed today.

He cited a Federal Reserve Board study which found that most automobile owning families have incomes below $4,000 a year.

The typical family man in this group is now paying $71.42 a year in federal income tax, he said. By comparison, he continued, annual state and federal automotive and gasoline taxes now average $116 per vehicle in Florida.

Mr. Kimball pointed out that the federal taxes on motor vehicle owners were increased at the same time that the income tax was boosted by Congress last year.

As a result, he explained, Florida motorists are now paying higher federal excise taxes on new motor vehicles, parts and accessories, and a two cents a gallon federal tax on gasoline. This federal tax combined with the state rate makes a total gasoline tax of 9 cents a gallon here.

"Even with all other kinds of taxes at a record high, the motorist has not lost his unhappy distinction," Kimball said. "He is still considered by many to be the most heavily taxed citizen in Florida."

Crusade For Christ And Better Living

On Tuesday, February 26, 7:30 P.M. there will begin in Avon Park a Crusade for Christ and Better Living. A canvas tabernacle, screened against mosquitoes and insects, has been erected at North Florida Avenue and the Mall.

This is not an ordinary revival, but it is a series of Bible messages dealing with the great themes of the Holy Scriptures, and with Bible prophecies that reveal the meaning of present conditions in the world. This is just one unit of thousands in a great worldwide program to effect a spiritual awakening for Christ in this most solemn hour. Over sixty churches and groups in Florida alone are participating in this crusade. The Walker Memorial Sanitarium Seventh-day Adventist church is happy to cooperate in bringing to the people of Avon Park and surrounding area this extraordinary program.

The opening subject, Time Running Out . . . Or Is It? Are We On The Doorsteps of Doomsday? Is Peace Possible or Has The World Had Its Last Chance is one of vital concern to everyone. People of all religious faiths and of no religious faith whatsoever need to know the answer to these questions.

The subject Wednesday, Feb. 27, Did A Good God Make A Bad Devil? How, When, And Where Did Sin Begin? will grip the hearts of all who hear it. On Thursday, Feb. 28, the subject, The Angels, Who Are They? Are They Real Beings Or Spirits Of The Dead? will be presented. The subject for the last meeting of the week, Friday, Feb. 29 will be: Wonder of Wonders! The Man Who Wrote His Own Autobiography Before He Was Born.

These messages will be illustrated with beautiful screen pictures. Every Wednesday night there will be a special feature for the children, and every Thursday night, a special "Good Health" feature will be presented. Admission is free and everyone is invited to attend.

ERNEST W. RIGGS

Forum Series Will Close Wed. Feb. 27

Babson Park, Florida — The Webber College Forum Series will be concluded on Wednesday evening, February 27, 1952, at the Babson Park Woman's Club building, with the presentation of Mr. Ernest W. Riggs who will speak on "Has Our Investment in Turkey and Greece Paid Off?"

Mr. Riggs was born of American parents in the Near East. He absorbed from his playmates its atmosphere and its languages. Since graduating from Princeton he has spent twent-five of the most dramatic years of the century in this "tinder-box" of Europe". During these years, spent both in the Consular Service and in Educational Administration, he has not only seen history, he has lived it and helped make it.

In World War I Mr. Riggs witnessed the liquidation of the Christian Minorities of Turkey and the rehabilitation of the million and a quarter who escaped to Greece. He has seen the swift about-face of Turkey, as she groomed herself to take her place beside the Western Democracies, a powerful friend and ally in the present line-up.

"Get Out The Vote" Campaign Started

Spearheading a statewide "Get Out The Vote" campaign, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce has issued an appeal to all civic, fraternal and business organizations to join in urging every citizen to register and vote.

Executive vice president Harold Colee explained that the State Chamber is not interested in the election or defeat of any candidate, but feels that it is imperative that the people be aroused to the importance of the ballot and be encouraged to register and vote in the coming elections.

The Florida State Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Florida Farm Bureau Federation are actively engaged in this effort and if all organizations will support the movement, Colee feels that more voters will go to the polls next May than at any time in the state's history.

In a recent bulletin to members of the Florida Press Association, Eugene Matthews, president of the organization, urged all publishers to consider the matter of getting out the vote a civic duty and public service.

Do A Good Deed Lead Girl Scouts

A number of girls in the Avon Park public schools would like to belong to a Girl Scout troop. But they cannot have a troop unless they have an adult leader. These girls, some of whom are former Scouts, are appealing to the women of Avon Park for volunteers who are willing to direct Girl Scout troops.

The appeal is backed by many mothers, who are anxious to see the Girl Scouts re-established in Avon Park.

If you are interested in this work, if you will call either Mrs. T. H. Maxwell, or Mrs. S. O. Norris, president of the Woman's Club, they will help you.

There are several places available for Girl Scout meetings. The only need is an adult director.

DR. BAYLEY AT OLD UNION CHURCH SUNDAY NIGHT

Rev. Francis R. Bayley will be speaker on the American Church series of addresses at the Union Congregational Church on Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock. He will talk about the things that are central to an understanding of the Methodist Church, "and what that Church may be expected to contribute to the future of religious life in America." Dr. Bayley has been a member of the Judicial Council of that Church and has served as a District Superintendent. He is an able speaker. The public is cordially invited to hear him.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER TO BE OBSERVED HERE

The World Day of Prayer, interdenominational, and international in scope will be observed Friday evening, February 29, at 7:30 o'clock, with a union service at the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer.

Christians are joining hands with other Christians around the world. Beginning at dawn far out in the Pacific Ocean on the Fiji Islands and encircling the globe, Christians will be meeting together in prayer.

"O, come let us worship and bow down,
"Let us kneel before the Lord, our maker."

Customers' Corner

George Washington said it first.

This week, the celebration of Washington's birthday brings to mind the story about the famous cherry tree. Whether he said, "I cannot tell a lie" . . . we don't know, but the father of our country did say, "honesty is always the best policy." The founding father of A&P — George Huntington Hartford—had the same idea when he said, "Always do what is honest, fair and sincere and in the best interest of our Customers."

That's the spirit that has always guided the folks of A&P. It always will!

This Week In Tallahassee

Tallahassee — The major political scene was enlivened this week by the possibility of Jerry W. Carter, veteran member of the state railroad and public utilities commission, entering the race for governor. Qualification deadline is March 15. Carter also is national Democratic committeeman from Florida. He said many people have urged him to get in, but he is reserving his decision. In another major development, a federal grand jury in Tallahassee indicted Bill Hendrix, self styled Klan leader in Florida, for violating U.S. postal laws by sending "libellous and defamatory" matter through the mails. Hendrix is an announced candidate for governor but has not qualified. He will be tried in this term of federal court now sitting in Tallahassee.

Tallahassee — Alfred McKethan, chairman of the state road department, has instructed the personnel director of the department to drop from the payroll all road department employees who offer for public office. This is in line with the spirit of the law, he pointed out, which prohibits state employees from taking active parts in political campaigns. However, he added, he urged all his workers to vote, and said they will be given time off for that purpose.

• • • •

Tallahassee — A recent law requiring inspection of all meat slaughtered in Florida has brought a sharp division in the State Livestock Sanitary Board and a call for help from Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo. The board has divided 4 and 4 on the subject of further enforcement of the meat inspection act. Commissioner Mayo has asked the Florida press to inform the public that his department does not inspect slaughtered meat under that act. He reported that many small farmers and slaughterers have complained to him that the law is unfair to them, and asked him to do something about it, which his office is not authorized by law to do.

• • • •

Tallahassee — No mercy will be shown violators of the auto license tag law after February 20, is the warning of State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Arch Livingston. Tags this year went on sale January 5 instead of December 1, as under the old law. The new deadline will be observed by all inspectors for the tag department.

The smaller stores will post the highest ceiling prices, the medium size stores slightly lower prices and so on up the line with the big chain outlets posting the lowest ceiling prices of all.

The announced intention is to furnish housewives information on what the ceiling price should be in each type of store, but in actual practice it will result in no more than a tax-supported propaganda drive to try and sell the housewife that most stores sell for less, because their OPS ceiling prices are less.

• • •

This erroneous assumption is contrary to facts, but regardless of facts, the program is being carried out when OPS, in the communique, admits it is not needed. The communique states this action had been postponed "because actual ceiling prices have been somewhat below permitted ceilings" and further "prices have been about four per cent below ceilings."

(Distributed Federation of Independent Business)

But nothing stops the Office of Price Stabilization in any way except stabilizing prices. OPS is determined to do a false propaganda job to the detriment of medium and small grocers.

But this program will furnish a lot of work and a lot of the money expenditures, because OPS people will work out in each city the price ceilings on 400 food items for each of the four categories of stores, and print these ceiling price lists.

So the nation will now witness the spectacle of a government agency trying to accomplish a job that even the expenditure of millions by huge grocery combines has never been able to do. That is to convince all the housewives that chains sell for less. And once again a government agency is taxing the small businessman to pay for the rope with which to hang him.

Cynical Washingtonians are saying the British have become smarter in the past 140 years.

In 1813 when they took Washington, they razed the town, but failed to make any profit.

• • •

But in the recent invasion, headed by Winston Churchill, British tin monopolists profited.

RFC Administrator, Stuart Symington, explained he knew the prices down, but that the $1.15 per pound on the maximum price this nation would pay for tin, or about twice the price existing the day before Korea, was one of the results of the Churchill visit was the announcement that the government has agreed to raise this to $2.20 per pound. And Symington, who had opposed any increases, has rotired to private life.

EDITOR'S MAIL BAG

Mr. Arthur S. Kinney
Managing Editor, Avon Park Sun
Avon Park, Fla.

Dear Mr. Kinney:

Please accept my thanks for your kindness in printing my request for Christmas cards and wrappings for use in the story books that I make for children in hospitals, orphanages, and other facilities.

The response was most gratifying: not only from friends here in Avon Park but from many other towns and cities in Florida and from a number of other states.

Many thanks to the many friends who gave so generously of material for the books. The little children will enjoy the lovely pictures.

Thanking you again for your kindness and courtesy, I am, with kind regards and all good wishes,
Mrs. Barbara Darsey

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:

1. The Sloan-Kettering Institute points out that, since cancer is like a terrible weed, the destruction of the blessedly growth of most cells before it gardening methods: pulling out the weeds (surgery); burning out the weeds (irradiation); poisoning the soil (chemical body fluids by giving special hormones); killing the weed in the soil (giving an agent which will impart to the cancer cells undesired); exploding weeds with chemicals (use of nucleonic bombs which destroy cells). Every gardener knows if weeds are subject to the—7 when they first appear. The same is true of cancer.

Answer to Question No. 2:

2. It used to be that pneumonia would keep you in the hospital for as long as five weeks. Now, because of modern drugs and techniques, many cases of pneumonia can be discharged from the hospital in five days. Although hospital costs have risen, because modern hospitals, adapted to high volume of patients, tend to keep expensive to operate, this reduction in the length of hospital stay has greatly lessened the expense of illness.

Answer to Question No. 3:

3. Authorities say 40 per cent of all days lost from work are due to colds. Assuming a wage of $5 a day loss in earnings of $200,000,000 a year on this basis alone. Colds, also often lead to more serious illnesses.

Churches of Christ, Scientist

"Mind" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon for all Christian Science churches next Sunday. The infinity and oneness of Mind, and the healing power of Mind are stressed.

A verse from Paul's message to the Romans provides the Golden Text. "Be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that we may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God" (Rom. 12:2).

An account of Jesus' healing work is among the Bible readings: "And the people, . . . followed him: and he received them, and spake unto them of the Kingdom of God, and healed them that had need of healing" (Luke 9:11).

Correlative selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "The necessity for uplifting the race is father to the fact that Mind can do it; for Mind can impart purity instead of impurity, strength instead of weakness, and health instead of disease" (p. 371).

30 MILLION TOURIST DOLLARS SPENT IN FLORIDA DRUG STORES

Florida drug stores rang up sales totaling $99 million during 1951.

All items sold in drug and proprietary stores are covered in last year's estimated total which was up $4 million above 1948, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday.

There are virtually 1,300 drug stores in Florida. These stores employed 7,700 persons and had a total payroll of $18 million last year.

This week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division reports that 76 per cent of the 1951 sales were in drug stores with fountains; 12 per cent in those without fountains and 12 per cent in proprietary stores.

On a per resident family basis Florida drug store sales would appear to be some 30 percent above the national average. This, however, is the result of an estimated $30 million spent across drug counters by tourists and visitors last year.

—See you IN CHURCH Sunday—

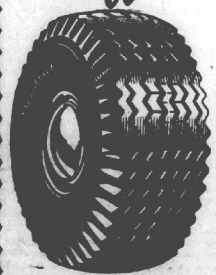

Tax-free securities are the only free things left in the country.

For the first time in the history of our country there are more men running away from government offices than for them.

In our estimation there are two things that an American Communist never has gotten, all he wanted—or all he has deserved!

How much better would our government be if each hat thrown into the political ring had a sweatband soaked with the perspiration of honest toil.

One Vote

We are quoting below the statement, One Vote, made by Mr. Charles J. Farrington, Assistant to the President of the National Automobile Dealers Association.

"Frequently you hear this question, 'What good will my one vote do?'

"Well, one vote has had a great deal to do with a lot of things in this country.

"Thomas Jefferson was elected President in the Electoral College by ONE VOTE.

"So was John Quincy Adams.

"Rutherford B. Hayes was elected President by ONE VOTE. His election was contested, and it was referred to a Congressional Commission. Again he won the highest office in the land by a single vote.

"The man who cast that deciding vote for President Hayes was a Congressman from Indiana - a lawyer who was elected to Congress by the narrow margin of just ONE VOTE, and that one vote was cast by a client of his who, though desperately ill, insisted on being carried to the polls to vote for his friend.

"Just ONE VOTE in Congress gave statehood to California, Idaho, Oregon, Texas and Washington, and today all the millions of people residing in those five state are citizens of the United States by just ONE VOTE.

"Now you will probably say that one vote only applies to the past. Let us see.

"The Draft Act extension during World War II passed the House of Representatives by just ONE VOTE.

"Throughout the history of this country, ONE VOTE has won a seat in Congress, for the Presidency, and in the selection of a governor 113 times.

"In 1948, for instance, one additional Republican vote in each of Ohio's 8800 precincts would have carried the state for Governor Dewey as Mr. Truman's margin was only 7,107.

"Innumerable instances are to be found in various local and state elections of recent date where ONE VOTE has been the deciding factor in the selection of public officials."

Getting Away With Murder

Excessive speed has been branded everywhere as "Killer No. 1" on the highway. It is only right, therefore, that drivers who violate speed laws that are established for the safety of everyone — including themselves — should be made the primary target of state and local enforcement authorities throughout the nation in their determined effort to save at least 10,000 lives in traffic accidents in 1952.

Few persons will disagree with this decision. Speeding motorists have hung up the record of their own indictment and conviction where all may see it and shudder. They are responsible for nearly half of the nation's highway deaths resulting from traffic violations and for one-fourth to one-third of the injuries, which may exceed 1,500,000 when the statistics are tabulated for 1951. Here is the price we paid for speed violations last year, as closely as the safety specialists and actuaries can judge on the basis of available reports:

Killed: 15,000!

Injured: 500,000!

This is a public outrage that cannot and must not be tolerated. The only immediate cure is stern law enforcement, and that we must have. If law enforcement is to be effective, however, it must have the unqualified support of the people themselves — even when it strikes right home to y-o-u. Penalties, too, must be commensurate with the crime — stiff fines for so-called minor speed violations, a year's minimum suspension of driving privileges for more serious speed violations, and permanent revocation of driving license for repeaters.

Never forget, as one safety specialist correctly expressed it, the speeding motorist who takes another person's life is literally "getting away with murder."

86 Killed In January Highway Accidents

That is the total rural traffic fatalities for January, a tentative report from the Florida Highway Patrol disclosed today.

The sixty-six persons killed in automobile collisions last month were included in the eighty-six whose lives were taken on city streets, state and county roads. January, 1951, saw seventy-five persons die in Florida's traffic accidents, and the Patrol said that the number killed for the month this year will cary when all reports have been made.

The Patrol said that sixteen pedestrians and twenty-six drivers were among those killed in the state's traffic mishaps last month.

The death toll by county showed that Hillsborough and Palm Beach counties each had ten fatalities, while Duval county reported four. Broward county had five people to lose their lives on its streets and highways.

Monroe and Marion each had four traffic deaths. Counties reporting three such fatalities were Lee, Osceola, Polk and St. Lucie. Two deaths each were reported from Bay, Brevard, Highlands, Orange and Taylor.

By The Bird Woman

The osprey is native to Florida and may be found near ocean, lake, river, or canal—either salt or fresh water, just so there is plenty of fish at hand.

Ospreys often wander far afield in search of food and often fly in from the Bahamas, but their plumage being as the native bird, it is impossible to distinguish between them.

The osprey is also found along the coast further north.

It has a white head and is clear white underneath and blackish on top, giving it the appearance of having a black cape about its shoulders. It is the only large bird of prey so patterned.

The osprey is an expert fisherman, and will spot its prey from 40 feet in the air, and then dive with folded wings, causing a young water spout, but coming up with its prey in its talons, and it seldom misses.

Catfish and mullet and many fish not edible to man are the osprey's chief diet.

In Florida, the osprey, much like the eagle, selects a live tree and builds a bulky nest 30 to 60 feet high and continues to use the nest year after year; sometimes the nest weighs 100 pounds, and grackles and sparrows will nest around the bottom of the nest.

The salt from the nest eventually kills the tree where it rests.

The osprey is easily distinguished from the bald eagle and buzzard in flight. The bald eagle soars with its wings straight, the buzzard with its wings dihedral, the osprey with a kink or crook in its wings.

There seems to be quite a colony of osprey on Long Island and on the eastern tip of this island. They have a new fad, they have deserted the trees for nesting, and and selected the 2,300 volt lines of the lighting company as nesting sites. The crossbars on top of the poles seem to have a peculiar facination for them, and there are no tree limbs to hinder them in their coming and going.

The wet sea-weed and salt water is an excellent conductor of electricity and naturally causes no end of trouble for the company.

We know that "necessity is the mother of invention," so here was a good place to put it to a test. The osprey is protected by law, so that way out was eliminated. But it was found that if a three foot by three foot platform was erected on a high pole near the transmission lines, and "baited" with a pile of sticks, that the osprey would be attracted to it and scorn the bare poles.

This year a crew of men spent two weeks getting 20 new platforms ready for occupancy, and they hesitated to say just how many platforms they had already erected, but said it was a lot.

Allowing for the normal increase of osprey, this platform building might eventually take care of the unemployment problem.

Large Attendance At Silver Tea

Approximately 125 ladies called at the spacious and beautiful Earl W. Hartt home on Lake Lotela last Friday afternoon, Feb. 15, when the house and grounds were opened to the public for the annual Silver Tea, given by the Women's Club of Avon Park for the benefit of the public library building fund. The silver offering collected for the fund amounted to $125.75.

After taking tea, guests enjoyed walking on the lawn, where the many varieties of cammelias and other flowers were in full bloom.

Arrangements of beautiful red and white camellias and red roses decorated the rooms, each arrangement being confined to one color and one variety of flower. The tea table, laid with a white linen cloth and bearing tea appointments of silver and fine china, was centered with a bowl of red camellias. A side table carried an exotic grouping of pineapples and other tropical fruits.

Assisting Mrs. Hartt as hostesses were the president of the Senior Woman's Club, Mrs. S. O. Norris; the librarian, Miss Avis Slaughter, and members of the Woman's Club library committee, Mrs. E. G. Todd, Mrs. R. H. Jordan, and Mrs. R. R. Porterfield.

Those who poured tea during the afternoon were Mrs. Charles F. Hindman, Mrs. Viola Alderman, Mrs. W. W. Wingfield, Mrs. H. D. Dickenson, Mrs. Alice Sherman, and Mrs. Demos Mandis.

Members of the Junior Woman's Club, in formal dress, assisted. Greeting guests at the door and presiding over the guest book and silver tray were Mrs. Robert R. King, Jr., Mrs. Charles Metcalfe, Mrs. William Trowbridge, and Mrs. Edwin R. Carber.

Those assisting in the dining room were: Mrs. Roscoe Bass, Mrs. John Horton, Mrs. Harvey Hogan, Mrs. G. F. Ward, Mrs. John P. Garber, Mrs. Walter Mandis, Mrs. Joe Hovis, Mrs. H. W. Coleman, Mrs. Albert Wester, Jr., Mrs. Donald Todd, Mrs. Cecil Skipper, Mrs. Ed Huie, Mrs. Roy Nelson, and Mrs. Mary Ann Lyons.

Little Anne Barben, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Barben, winsome in an ankle-length, hooped frock of pale yellow, passed a basket of mints among the guests.

Founders Circle New Officers

Founders' Circle of the Avon Park Garden Club met Thursday, Feb. 14, at the home of Mrs. Roscoe Bass on East Bell St.

Emphasizing the valentine motif, a lace-trimmed red valentine outlined with white camellias and ferns, centered the tea table. Camellias floated in the punch bowl and were used with other flowers to decorate the rooms.

Thirty members attended this meeting.

Spring Flower Show, arranged by Garden Club, at Civic Center (Armory) Thursday, March 6, open 2:00 to 10:00 P.M.

It's Easy When You Know How

Can you take two bent branches and one tall one and add a collection of leaves and make an "arrangement" that will carry away a blue ribbon? It can be done and it's easy if you know how. Come to the Flower Show at the Armory on March 6, and see how this is done.

There will also be potted plants and many exotic and rare house plants that you will enjoy. The juniors will have their display as usual, and it is surprising to see the talent displayed by the younger generation.

We will have "miniature displays" this year again. These arrangements should measure no more than three inches each way. If you have never tried to arrange a miniature, try it—the results are exciting.

If you can bring arrangements, or potted plants, they will be welcomed. If you can't, come and enjoy the efforts of other flower lovers.

The Sun very kindly ran our schedule last week and we hope you cut it out for reference. Study it carefully and decide what you have or can get that will fit into one of the classifications. You don't have to have a garden full of posies to select from to make an arrangement. We heard one of the most popular authorities on flower arrangements say, "If you have a dozen roses, discard all but three and you can make a perfect arrangement." So don't be discouraged if you have only a few to select from.

Please bring your arrangements or plants early, so they may be placed in the proper position.

The doors will be open to the public from 2 to 10 P.M., and orange juice will be served. No admission charged, but silver offering will be accepted.

The chairmen and co-chairmen for this year follow:

General chairman, Mrs. W. C. Touchton, co-chairmen, Mrs. Ray Selms; schedule, Mrs. P. J. Bumpass, Mrs. C. O. Loehr III; staging, Mrs. J. A. Johnson, Mrs. M. Kirkland; properties, Mrs. C. P. Anderson, Mrs. I. H. Ford; classification, Mrs. W. G. Betts, Mrs. J. W. Zimmerman; horticulture, Mrs. R. H. Stoddard, Mrs. D. D. McGibboney; potted plants, Mrs. B. F. Camp, Mrs. R. M. McCabe; entry, Mrs. L. M. Lagael, Mrs. D. M. Chambers; publicity, Mrs. B. M. Davis, Mrs. Ruby Bass; finance, Mrs. H. B. Donaldson, Mrs. J. L. Wells; judges and awards, Mrs. R. J. Barben, Mrs. M. F. Stokey; hospitality, Mrs. W. D. Dorminey, Miss Verna Helm; junior exhibit, Mrs. Roscoe Bass, Mrs. G. A. Woodward; organization, Mrs. D. Mandis, Mrs. C. R. Ginn; special exhibit, Mrs. W. J. Methodist Bishops Plan South-Wide Program

CHARLOTTE, N. C.—Three widely-known Southern churchmen, bishops of the Methodist Church's Southeastern Jurisdiction, and here recently to plan aspects of the Centennial Jubilee Year of Methodism in the South, are shown as they met at Duke Mansion, Charlotte, N. C. Left to right are Bishop Paul N. Garber, assigned to Georgia but now serving the Charlotte Area; Bishop Arthur J. Moore, Atlanta, Ga.; Paul R. Kane, Nashville, Tenn.; W. W. Peele, Richmond, and Glenn Frank, Birmingham, Ala. Standing: Bishop Marvin A. Franklin (left), Jackson, Miss., and Clarke J. Hunt, Charlotte.

Bishop Moore is president of the Southeastern Jurisdiction, which includes 15 annual conferences, 2,500,000 members in seven states and is the largest of Methodism's six episcopal areas. He is also president of the church's National Council of Bishops.

"The Methodist Church is moving forward decidedly . . . during the last four years especially in the United States has received more than one million to the present total of 6,600,000, and more than 2,000 new churches have been established," he said.

At their session here the bishops discussed plans for a South-wide evangelistic crusade in 1952, preparations for which will be made at a series of presidents' conferences to be held Feb. 25-28 in Florida, and March 1-30 in Atlanta, Ga.

It was announced that Bishop Moore will give the opening address at the church's Centennial Conference, April 23-May 7 in San Francisco. Centennial of the two main branches of Methodism in the South, the conference will be attended by nearly four years of planning by nearly every four years of planning by nearly four years of planning by nearly four years of planning by nearly

A recent air view of a great Florida industry shows the ultra modern meat packing plant of Lykes Brothers in Tampa. At the lower right is the new canning plant where a line of quality meat products are now being produced. Established more than forty years ago, the Lykes Brothers plant is the largest and most modern in the South and now employs more than 600 workers.

Florida Owned and Florida Operated

Florida owned - Florida operated! That's what is back of the big modern meat packing plant of Lykes Bros., in Tampa. And the story of this immense all-Florida industry, actually goes back nearly a full century - to the "frontier" days of the state

The present worldwide activities of the Lykes organization began in the last century with Dr. H. T. Lykes, whose parents had migrated in 1832 from South Carolina to Florida and had settled near Brooksville, some forty miles north of what is now the city of Tampa. As a young man, Dr. Lykes gave up his practice of medicine to become a pioneer in the infant cattle industry of the state.

Ever growing herds of Dr. Lykes cattle grazed the open range for many years before the seven young Lykes brothers, founders of the present company, actively entered the business. In the early 1880's the Lykes activities expanded from local stock raising into the exportation of cattle to Cuba, where herds had been badly depleted during the Cuban struggle for independence.

The chartering and ownership of steamers and sailing vessels, used to transport this livestock to the island republic, gave Lykes brothers their first experience in ocean shipping which has since led to building the largest ocean freight line in the United States. Lykes Brothers now own or operate on charter approximately 100 ocean going steamships.

The present parent company, Lykes Brothers, Inc., which controls all ranching, meat packing, citrus and shipping interests, was organized by the brothers in Tampa in 1911.

From a small beginning of the meat packing activities, forty years ago, the plant has been expanded until today it is the largest, most complete and modern plant in the entire South, covering some 15 acres of space and employing more than 600 workers every week in the year. The present plant can handle a total of as many as 2,400 hogs and 400 cattle daily. In addition, modern cold storage facilities are provided for more than 2,000,000 pounds of meat, the largest storage capacity East and South of Kansas City and Chicago.

Recently Lykes Bros. added a new branch to the meat packing plant activities, the canning of a quality line of meat products. These include corned beef hash, beef stew, Brunswick stew, chili, beef tripe, Vienna sausage, potted meat and luncheon meat.

These new Lykes products are all prepared in the most modern canning kitchens of the finest quality materials, and are marketed throughout the state of Florida.

Veterans Information

Did you know that the Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act of 1945 provided that persons enlisting or reenlisting in the armed forces between October 6, 1945 and October 5, 1946 may count the entire period of such enlistment or reenlistment as war service for purposes of G.I. Bill benefits, regardless of the date the war was declared officially ended.

Such enlistees, therefore, may substitute the date of their enlistment ended in computing their benefits where that date is later that July 25, 1947.

Dating from the end of the enlistment period, such enlistees will have: (1) ten years in which to use their loan guaranty rights; (2) the full period in which to accrue entitlement for education and training, four years in which to commence training, and nine years to complete it; (3) the full period in which to accrue entitlement for readjustment allowances for unemployment or self-employment, and a maximum of five years from that date for two years from discharge, whichever is earlier) in which to claim them.

If you have a question and/or need assistance contact your local Veterans' Service Officer or write the State Service Office, P. O. Box 1457, St. Petersburg.

A little guy in the citrus industry is rapidly growing up. He's getting ideas and they're beginning to pay off!

He's abandoned his rompers for a big pair of pants — zipper jeans, if you please. He's the Florida Tangerine Cooperative, born less than two years ago.

An aggressive bunch of men who were tired of "economically abandoning" thousands of boxes of the zipper-skinned fruit, banded together and decided to pool ideas. Nothwithstanding the fact they were the only large commercial producers of such fruit in the world, tangerines year after year were anything but conducive to wealth.

Sparked by a dynamo from Seville, resident W. H. McBride, the new cooperative quietly marshalled 65 per cent of the State's tangerine acreage and officially went into business a year ago. There was little fanfare and the incident almost went unnoticed.

But the buying trade soon felt its influence. General Manager Marion J. Young, who now heads the Sealed-Sweet Concentrate Division of the Florida Citrus Exchange, herded quality tangerines into almost every far-off market. Florida tangerines began arriving in such virgin sales spots as Seattle, Vancouver, and even Honolulu. He proved beyond a doubt the tangy fruit could be shipped great distances with practically no spoilage — if shipments were prepared and fruit selected carefully.

Now the up-and-coming group are literally going into the ice cream business. Realizing the sales potential in the ice cream-hungry kid populace, the cooperative developed a puree which will soon appear commercially as tangerine sherbet. They put up a bundle of cash for the experiment and large ice cream manufacturers seem to be realizing that a new flavor bonanza and profit maker is in the offing. Its a big profit item to the grower also, we are told, and returns him $1.75 per box for his fruit.

Tangerine concentrate operations are also being stepped up and the group may open their own plant next season if present plans are carried out. They may be the small boys of the industry, but they're bursting with big ideas!

To Steve Roberts, present general manager, goes a big share of the praise for the cooperative's forward motion this year. He even has the United Merchandising Institute, a branch of the mammouth United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association singing the praise of tangerines as a big plus value to consumers and a fat profit item for the trade. United went all-out last month in featuring Florida's "forgotten" fruit, the planting of which only two years ago was considered a mcrilege.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

While a lot of folks are cussing Alfred McKethan and his ideas for a super-duper, four-lane highway that will by-pass our cities and move traffic through the state today, a lot of folks will be cussing the dupes who opposed the plan and wishing we hadn't been so stupid, a few years from now.

Unless we exercise a little vision and forget our present day selfish attitude, we are going to wake up a few years from now to find that while we were yelling about highways by-passing some of our cities we have brought on a condition where tourists are by-passing the state.

Today many of our highways are carrying a terrific overburden. U. S. 1 cannot continue to carry all the traffic that will develop in the years to come, and the West Coast is finding that its old roads can't even care for the traffic today. During the Florida State Fair and Gasparilla Carnival cars were lined bumper to bumper from St. Petersburg to Tampa and many visitors never even got across the bridge although they started hours ahead of scheduled events. The highway between Bradenton and Sarasota has been so crowded this winter that it is no pleasure to travel it and visitors do not forget these experiences.

We need not only an express highway on the East Coast, but one through Central Florida and another on the West Coast.

The crazy idea that tourists and visitors should be routed through the center of every town or village in the state is one sure way to fill our tourist trade and disgust visitors.

A super-highway running near but not through a community is far better than the present day highways that require a motorist to crawl mile after mile through speed traps, school zones and stoplights to get where he is going.

The visitor will like you a lot better if you provide him with fast, safe four-lane express highways than he will if you force him to weave his weary way through a lot of communities he is not interested in and comes to thoroughly dislike because of the imposition.

If it is necessary to finance such super-highways by making them toll roads, all right. Folks won't object to the tolls if we give them something for their money. If a few years later we find we can reduce the tolls or remove them altogether, so much the better, but we certainly cannot afford to delay their building much longer and citizens of Florida cannot foot the bill with additional taxes.

A lot of folks accused McKethan of advancing the toll road idea as a means of promoting himself as a candidate for Governor, but Alfred has announced that he is not a candidate and his one ambition is to give his state highways that will safeguard its future and insure its continued growth and development.

I don't know whether you have traveled U.S. 1 this winter or not, but I can tell you from personal experience it is a nightmare. Hundreds of thousands of people travel it daily, most of them with a specific destination in view. If, instead of having to crawl through town after town, they could start from Jacksonville and travel speedily and safely over a superhighway to Daytona, Melbourne, Vero Beach, West Palm Beach, Miami, they would be more glad to pay any reasonable toll and they would have a lot more respect for the communities that gave approval to such a highway that made it possible for them to travel without delay and discomfort.

Another thing, these super-highways should be patrolled exclusively by the Florida State Highway Patrol, even though it called for the employment of additional patrolmen. This would do away with the speed trap and fee officer evil and protect our visitor and home folks alike.

Tourist travel to Florida has steadily increased each year and at the same time our industrial an agricultural development has added increased burdens upon our highway system. Either we are going to have to dig down in our pockets and pay for new superhighways or ask for toll to build and support them, and such highways should have a single purpose - moving traffic - not catering to the selfish interest of any community or section.

Go on ahead and cuss Mr. McKethan if you want to, but I give the boy credit for thinking ahead and trying to do a real job for Florida. Laugh him off and the day will come when you'll wish you hadn't. Believe it or not, Florida is growing up?

The automobile license tag you get this year will have to last all through 1952 and also 1953. A shortage in steel is given as the reason.

The cover on the Feb. 2 issue of Saturday Evening Post is a painting from a scene at the big Bradenton Trailer Park.

Leslie Collins Chosen Youth Director

A director was chosen for the Youth Center at the meeting of the Avon Park Youth Association last Tuesday night. He is Leslie Collins, now teaching at Lake Placid. He is a local man, a graduate of our high school.

This acceptance has not yet been received, but he had applied for the position, and it is hoped that he will begin his directorship within the next few days.

Everyone is again urged to join the Youth Association. It deserves and needs public support. Yearly dues are $1.00. (If you don't know where to pay for your membership, the society editor of this paper can help you.)

Also, if you are willing to be a volunteer chaperone at the Youth Center, please notify Mrs. M. G. Whitcomb, chaperone chairman.

Various committees were appointed at the Tuesday meeting. A list of these and further information will be published later.

Hi, Nobles!

A big time coming up March 8, with the best bar-b-cue you ever ate, and a steak to remember.

Yes, through the kindness of Noble Reuben Holmes, the Winter Haven Shrine Club has been invited to the steak farm of Noble Demo Mandis, just a few miles west of Avon Park on the Wauchula road.

All nobles who were there last year had a wonderful time and commended Noble Demo Mandis very highly on such a fine barbecue. This year the party will be bigger and better and is expected to surpass all expectations. Can't tell you any more.

Remember the date — Wednesday, March 8, 7:00 p.m. Bring your wife and friends to the farm of Noble Demo Mandis.

If you are a Shriner, wear your fez. Visiting Shriners, Masons and their friends are invited.

One special act is to be performed by Mrs. Mildred Murphy and her talented pupils, Red Fox, Bubbles Demo Mandis, Walter Mandis, and Reason Shivers, Junior.

Contributed.

World Prayer Service Tonight

The observance of the World Day of Prayer, Friday, February 29, will begin in Avon Park at 12:00 o'clock noon when Mrs. D. H. Wolverton will give a half hour recital on the chimes at the Union Congregational Church.

In the program at 7:30, union services will be held at the Methodist Church of which Mrs. Robert Maxwell is chairman.

An appropriate program has been arranged by Mrs. Robert Maxwell, general chairman, Mrs. R. O. Norris and Mrs. E. G. Todd, co-chairmen.

The following people are taking part:

Mrs. Lorene Peeples, leader; Mrs. Lorene Bryant, Mrs. D. O. Rivers, and Miss Rose Maxwell, organist; Mrs. Clara McCreary, pianist; Mrs. Irene Pyle, soloist; Mrs. Ben Stone, Mrs. James Spencer, and Mrs. Sam McKinzie, ushers.

Throughout the years, the observance of the World Day of Prayer has been growing so steadily that last year it was observed in 104 countries, and in the United States of America, services were held in 17,000 communities.

The great theme of the worship service for this year is "Christ, Our Hope." The public is cordially invited to attend the program.

Lutheran Pastor At Old Union Church

The Rev. August Bernthal, pastor of the Grace Lutheran Church of Winter Haven, will speak this Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Union Congregational Church. Dr. Bernthal will talk on the Lutheran Church, the church of the Protestant Reformation on the continent of Europe and one of the large denominations in this country. He will be the fifth speaker in the American Church series now being presented by outstanding religious leaders. The public is cordially invited to attend and hear this important address.

SCOTT LANDRESS SEEKS FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

C. Scott Landress, well known resident of Avon Park, having resided here since 1930, announces this week that he is a candidate for the office of County Commissioner from District 5.

Mr. Landress has been in business in District 5 near the "quarters" for a number of years, and has also been driving the school bus for sometime. He has many friends here who have urged him to file for this important office.

LIBRARY SELLING BOOKS FOR ONE DIME EACH

Second-hand books are on sale at the Public Library for ten cents each. The books, both juvenile and adult, are displayed on the porch of the library. They are all old books, but they can give you hours of pleasant reading at an extremely low cost.

The books, for various reasons, are no longer needed in the library. The librarian, Miss Avis J. Slaughter would like to dispose of them before the library is moved to the new building sometime next month.

Red Cross Chairman Explains Campaign

The Highlands County Red Cross Chapter this week announced a 1952 Fund goal of $5845.00 as the minimum amount needed for the chapter's activities during the coming year in this community. Of this, Avon Park's goal is $1500.

The annual fund campaign in Avon Park will begin March 4. George Ammen Jr., local fund chairman, said an organization has been set up to make possible a complete coverage of business and residential districts by volunteer soliciting teams.

He said a major share of the 1952 campaign funds will be needed for basic services your Red Cross gives to members of the Armed Forces, veterans, and their families; disaster preparation and relief; support of the organization's blood program; and the tremendous training program in the fields of first aid, water safety, home care of the sick, and baby care.

Most of these programs," Ammen commented, "cannot be said to have community boundaries. They represent neighborly services that often reach far beyond the confines of this community, especially activities related to the Armed Forces and disaster relief.

For instant, citizens of this community may be proud of the services they gave, through the local Red Cross, to the victims of the four-state Midwestern flood last summer. Their contributions helped make possible an expenditure of nearly $14,000,000 in behalf of 31,000 flood-swept families."

The increased strength of the military forces means a proportional step-up in the budget requirement for your Red Cross services to armed forces personnel. These services include financial assistance in cases of emergency or hardship, counseling for government benefits, helping with recreational programs in military hospitals, offering guidance and consultation to men with personal family problems.

Your Red Cross maintains a staff of 2400 experienced workers in this country and overseas to aid military personnel.

However, only 6 per cent of the national fund are designated for salaries for these workers. And in all the history of the American Red Cross only two presidents have taken the salary set aside for them.

"The foundation of your Red Cross," Ammen remarked, "is friendly neighborliness — whether through volunteers serving neighbors in their community, the entire nation coming to the aid of a stricken community, or the nations of the world joining together in the spirit of good neighborliness to serve humanity. Your Red Cross embodies all these, and its services reach around the world. It is not an organization apart. Our Red Cross here is made up of people here; it is as good or as bad as we make it. The support of every citizen is needed in your Red Cross."

C.A.P. Cadets Visit MacDill Field

Twenty-five Civil Air Patrol Cadets from Sebring and Avon Park made an inspection trip to MacDill Air Force Base, Tampa, last Saturday, February 23. The Cadets were guided on the tour by Lt. Eugene Reeves, USAF, who is on detached service from MacDill to the Avon Park Bombing Range.

Lt. Reeves won the admiration of the Cadets with the well-planned tour. From the time the Air Force bus met the Cadets at 9:30 a.m. at the gate until it discharged them at 1 p.m., every minute was scheduled. The Cadets were first taken to the flight line where careful inspections were made of the Boeing Flying Tanker, a bomber especially adapted for refueling of other aircraft in mid-air; the B-29 and B-50 bombers; and Grumman Amphibians used for Air-Sea Rescue Service. Probably the biggest thrill of the trip came when the Cadets watched several of the new jet B-47 light bombers take off, followed by a F-86 Sabrejet.

Following a bus tour of the base, taking in the hangar area, housing area and hospital area, the Cadets were fed at an Air Force Mess Hall.

Upon leaving the base, another stop was made at Tampa International Airport where the Cadets inspected the facilities of the Weather Bureau and CAA Communications Station. Here the meteorologist in charge explained the gathering and plotting of weather data and showed the Cadets a weather map of the U.S. that had been just received. The meteorologist explained the "warm front" that had moved north of Tampa and predicted rain before the Cadets returned home. In fact he showed them several rain squalls on the radarscope that were then about 30 miles away.

Cadets from Avon Park making the trip were: Louis Lane, Franklin Welch, Glenn Welch, Billy Jones, Tom Maxwell, Ronald Thompson, Darryl Edwards, Albert Sims, Anthony Rogers, Tommy Moore, Ben Harvey, Bruce Osteen, James Logan, Dewitt Story, Sally Thorp, and Bobby Collins.

Assisting Lt. Reeves on the trip were CAP members Wallace Pirty, Donald Todd, and Franklyn Ward.

A full week of activity at the annual Highlands County Fair will get underway with a flourish Monday afternoon at 4:30 when the trumbones toot and the drums roll in a big parade from the Atlantic Coastline Depot in Sebring, down Ridgewood Drive to Magnolia, and out to the fairgrounds. But according to V. T. Oxer, President of the Highlands County Fair Association, the parade is only a start. "This is going to be one of the best fairs we've ever had. A great deal of interest has been shown in the preparations for the livestock, school, and commercial exhibits. Everyone in the county should thoroughly enjoy their trip to the fair this year."

Some highlights of this year's activities will be the Sweet's show on Tuesday afternoon. Tourist Day on Thursday, the livestock auction on Friday afternoon, and the the quadrille on Friday night. The beauty contest, previously announced, will not be held. Plans for a possible amateur contest on Saturday night have not yet been announced. Anyone who can sing, dance, do impersonations, or play a musical instrument, and who would like to enter the contest and compete for the grand prize should get in touch with Hank Wilson at Radio Station WJCM. Auditions will be held at the station every night through next Wednesday, except Sunday, at 7:15 p.m.

Walt Marshall of Sebring, General Chairman of the School Exhibits, said, "The County schools are presenting a combined exhibition this year rather than separate exhibits as in the past. This is in order to better portray what is being done for the education of our youth in an over-all sense." The theme of the exhibits is to be "Our Youth Needs and How They Are Met." The "needs" with which the exhibits will be concerned are:

1. The need to learn to live with other human beings.
2. The need to achieve and maintain sound mental and physical health.
3. The need to learn to live in their natural and scientific environment.
4. The need to learn to think logically, and to express themselves clearly.
5. The need to prepare for work, for future citizenship, or the path.
6. The need to learn to use the leisure time well.
7. The need to learn to live aesthetically.

Bert Harris, Assistant County Agricultural Agent, who is in charge of the livestock exhibits along with Emory O'Neal has announced that Dan Dworkyfur of Cornwell will show his grand champion bull and his grand champion heifer — the two animals which won the top awards at the Tri-County Fat Stock Show in Wauchula. The blue ribbon fat steer calf of the Tri-County show will also be exhibited at the Highlands County Fair by its owner Billy Mackey. Oakley Murphy, John K. Brown, and H. H. Jackson, and possibly others will have commercial cattle exhibits.

At the cattle sale on Friday afternoon at one, Peter McCord of Okeechobee will auction some of the fat stock exhibited at the show.

Approximately six hundred dollars will be awarded in prizes in the junior livestock competition on Tuesday afternoon and in the judging and showmanship contests. These competitions are open to 2Z, 4H, FFA, and NFA club members and will be judged individually under the Danish system. Contest rules state that exhibits must have been owned, fitted, and exhibited by the owner for at least 60 days prior to entry in the show.

Competing classes will be as follows: Fat Stock - Class I, under 400 pounds; Class II, 400 to 500 pounds; Class III, 500 to 600 pounds; Class IV, 600 to 900 pounds; Class V, over 900 pounds.

Breeding - Class I, under 12 months; Class II, 13 to 18 months; Class III, 19 to 24 months; Class IV, 25 months and over. Both sexes of all standard beef and dairy cattle will be accepted for entry in these classes.

Dr. G. W. Kirk of the University of Florida Range Cattle Experiment Station at Ona will be the judge of all the above cattle competitions. The Junior Judging Contest will be held Tuesday at 1:30 p.m.; the Official Cattle Judging will be at 3:00 p.m.; and the Showmanship Contest will be at 4:00 p.m.

Mrs. Gregg Mazzy and Miss Carol Peyne will be in charge of a special hobby exhibit this year, and these two ladies are anxious that anyone having an interesting hobby that would be practical to exhibit, please get in touch with them.

J. P. "Dad" Lightfoot is in charge of the commercial exhibits again this year. He says work is going fast. August F. Seidel managed to get left out.

Thrilling Messages at The Big Tent

On Sunday, March 2, 7:30 p.m. a thrilling message of hope for everyone will be presented at the Big Tent, North Florida Avenue and the Mall, in Avon Park. The subject will be, "The Coming Warless World! Where Peace Will Reign From Shore To Shore." Every citizen will be wealthy, healthy, and happy. In this message, the remarkable discovery of the planet where the saved of all nations will spend eternity, will be revealed.

As an added feature at this meeting, Mr. H. C. Ray will play the large Marimba. The beautiful and melodious music will thrill the hearts of those who hear it.

There will be a program at the Big Tent every Sunday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. The subject Wednesday, March 5 will be: "The Book With Forty Authors". In this unusual book is the priceless secret of personal peace and power. Then on Thursday, March 6, "Your Key To Answered Prayer", will be the subject presented. Almost everyone prays, yet why is it that some people's prayers seem seldom to be answered?

Edwin Carter Asks Release From School

Edwin Carter, athletic director of the Avon Park schools, has asked the Highlands County school board to release him from his contract in mid-March, it was learned recently.

Favorable action is expected from the board.

Carter, in his ninth year as a faculty member here has accepted a position with General Mills but in what capacity was not immediately learned. Since coming here from Fort Meade, Carter has turned out one Ridge Conference championship basketball team, five conference district champs, one state high school baseball championship team and two runners up for the state baseball title.

In addition he led the Avon Park American Legion junior nine to one state championship.

It seems probable that Mr. Carter and his family will move from Avon Park, but the time and location of their new home is not yet known.

His wife, Mrs. Eunice Carter, is speech correctionist for all Highlands County schools except that in Avon Park. No information has been disclosed as to whether she will ask to be relieved from her contract or intends to finish the school year.

Passenger cars more than 25 years old are considered "antiques" and exempt from price controls but all others are subject to OPS ceiling price regulations.

THE RED-HEADED WOODPECKER

By The Bird Women

Some months ago we wrote about the beautiful ivory-billed woodpeckers and the pileated, which are so often mistaken for each other — that is, they were before the ivory bills came so near to extinction.

There are a great many species of woodpeckers. Some in the West have white heads. But the red-head is considered the most striking of the entire species of woodpeckers.

This woodpecker is getting rare, as it is so colorful that it has always been such a good target for boys with guns and slingshots. It is protected by federal and state laws, as it is so helpful to our trees.

But with the forest being cut down, the woodpeckers of all kinds have suffered. For some years, the woodpecker was considered harmful to trees by boring holes in them, but it was later agreed that although they occasionally bored holes in live trees, they did not harm them. In so many localities in the North, the starling has become so numerous that it drives the woodpeckers from their homes and even forces them to leave the locality altogether.

Then the woodpecker flies low across the highways and the present-day swift cars have taken a heavy toll of them.

The woodpecker uses the hole it bores in a tree or telephone pole as a nest and what few chips fall inside as they drill are used for a place to deposit their eggs.

Here is another instance that makes us pause and realize what a wonderful creator planned the habits of each species so perfectly.

The fragile eggs of a great many birds would be crushed in this sort of environment, but not so the eggs of the woodpecker. Their shells are heavy enough so withstand the kind of crude, rough nests they are intended to occupy and they hatch after 14 days incubation, and are just as happy and contented as the fledglings of the oriole in its fancy woven basket which it's mother has woven for her nest.

The red-headed woodpecker is very fond of acorns and beechnuts, as well as the insects, grubs, and ants it hunts so diligently. And like some other birds (as the jay), it will hide the nuts in cracks and crevices of trees for future food.

A great many red heads migrate to Florida, coming in November and remaining until April, and so spend about half of their lives with us. Some do not migrate even as far north as Canada.

The red head takes kindly to nesting boxes, although it whittles chips from the inside of the box as is its method for nesting.

Do you remember the story in one of our old readers about the selfish woman being turned into a bird because she refused to give St. Peter some of her cakes when he walked about the earth preaching? Of course, it is just legend.

"So, he said, you are far too selfish
To live in human form
And have both food and shelter
And fire to keep you warm.
So up she went through the chimney,
Never speaking a word —
And out of the top flew a woodpecker,
For she was changed to a bird.
She had a scarlet cap on her head
And that was left the same,
But all the rest of her clothes were burned
Black as the coal in a flame.

* * * *

You may not be changed to a bird
Though you live as selfishly as you can,
But you will be changed to a smaller thing—
A mean and selfish man."

U.F. DEAN CLAIMS NEED FOR MORE ENGINEERS

Gainesville — The University of Florida's Dean of the College of Engineering claims this country is not educating a sufficient number of engineers to supply the country's needs.

Speaking at a recent dinner meeting on campus, Dean Joseph Weil warned that Russia is educating far more men in this field than the U.S., and he says, "Many feel that in years to come we will pay a terrible price for our shortsightedness in this regard."

Dean Weil reported that in 1950 there were 52,000 men graduated from engineering schools, while last year the figure was 38,000. The expected figure is 26,000 graduates this year, and only 17,000 in 1954.

Winter Guest Club News

Lelie Reisner, Scribe

Washington's birthday was appropriately observed at the Club House by a program presented under the supervision of Mrs. Ella Gruber Chairman of Entertainment Committee for February. One of the highlights of the evening was a very excellent talk by Mrs. Haas on "Little Known Facts About George Washington."

The annual business meeting and election of directors for 1952-53 was held Monday Evening with a very large crowd attending. The president Mrs. Oppy presided. Reports of accomplishments under their stewardship were given by Mrs. Beall, Secretary and Mr. Pipher, Treasurer. Their reports were accepted and adopted as read. Mrs. Beall reported the growth of the club in membership with 530 full term members and 114 short term members. This is about 150 more than last season. The club house, the kitchen, the grounds and the shuffle courts have been kept in A1 condition at all times by committees headed by Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. Peter, Mr. Wyman and Mr. Lane.

A new electric stove for the kitchen, 50 new chairs, 50 hymnals and 50 social song books have been purchased by the directors.

Mr. Pipher in the Treasurer's report broke down the disbursements into several headings such as dances, eats, and the above named new purchases. A nice balance will be left in the treasury to begin the new year April 1st.

The result of the election of directors is as follows.

Dr. Frances Bayley, James Oppy, Harry Gibson, Asia Mitten, Charles Lehman, Yvonne Beall, Wallace Wyman, Harvey Heath, Walter Walker, George Mills, Edward Patten.

An improvement to the Shuffle Courts was accomplished on Monday by the erection of a wider arbor, which will give needed protection from the sun to the players at that end of the courts. The lumber and other material used was furnished by the city and the work done by club members under the supervision of Mr. Wilbur Smith and Mr. Wyman. Those helping were Beckwith, Peter, Stonemetz, Patten and Fenstermaker.

Feb. 21st Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Heath attended the Business Conference held under the auspices of Webber College in Babson Park. Among the speakers were Dr. Spangenberg and Roger Babson.

The grand finale of the February entertainments under Mrs. Ella Gruber chairman, was a minstrel show Tuesday evening presented to a full house. Those participating were Mrs. Gruber, Intertocutor, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lane, Mr. and Mrs. John Newhouse, Mrs. Bonner, Mrs. Lehman, Mr. Glenn, Mrs. Hayes, Mr. McBride. The entire program was enthusiastically received by a full house. Mr. Gibson's rendition, with choral accompaniment was one of the high points of the entertainment.

More and Better Milk for Florida

More and better milk for Florida consumers has resulted from teamwork among dairy interests and related agencies, a University of Florida dairy husbandman and a Chief Dairy Supervisor of the State reported in a recent article.

R. B. Becker, dairy husbandman, and John M. Scott, chief dairy supervisor, say this teamwork has provided disease control, herd improvement and improvement of feed and pasturage, to mention just a few of the results.

"Many of Florida's visitors, who know good milk, have commented on the exceptionally high quality that is available generally over the State," they write in the latest issue of "Economic Leaflets", monthly publication of the University's Bureau of Economic and Business research.

Among other facts reported in the leaflet entitled "The Dairy Industry in Florida", Becker and Scott say that dairy farms in Florida numbered 1,153 in January, 1951 (latest figures available), and that at the present time dairying ranks third among sources of farm cash income from agricultural products.

About 28,000 workers are employed in dairying, in addition to many part-time helpers.

Advertising is not bragging. It is merely a device to show buyers where they can get more for their money.

Place An Exhibit In Spring Flower Show

When the Japanese arranged flowers, they kept three things in mind — heaven, earth, and man. A great many of our flower arrangements follow the same line. When you come to the Armory on March 6, notice how many arrangements exemplify this theory. If you are not familiar with it, ask one of the hostesses or any club member.

We hope you are studying the schedule which was printed in the Sun to decide with just which classification your arrangement will comply. But don't be confused by the long list of sections, divisions and classifications. Just select what material is available and arrange it. The classification committee will place it for you.

Everyone is invited to display, and everyone is urged to come and enjoy "Florida Revealed in Flowers", which is our theme for this year.

We are showing horticulture, potted plants, and shrubs, as well as flower arrangements. The children will also have their display as usual.

And don't forget the miniatures, which must not be more than three inches by three inches. The lines are the same as those of larger arrangements, but the fascinating part of the work is taking you back to childhood when you took a few wild flowers and put them in a holder in your "playhouse."

The Armory will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 10 a.m. Thursday, March 6, to receive the arrangements; then will be closed until 2 p.m. to give the judges opportunity to make the awards.

The Armory will then be open from 2 p.m. until 10 p.m. for you to view the displays.

The committee for the show would appreciate having the potted plants and other non-perishable exhibits entered on Wednesday, March 5. To receive them, the entry committee will be at the Chamber of Commerce office on that day from 9:00 a.m. until noon, and will be at the Armory the same afternoon from 2:00 until 5:30.

Advance registration of all entries will also be appreciated, since it will make arranging the show much easier. Registration of your entries — as plants, ornamentals, blooming flowers, or arrangements — should be made at the Chamber of Commerce office on Monday, March 3, from 10:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. However, non-registered entries will be accepted later. But please help by registering if you possibly can.

During the time when the show is open to the public, orange juice will be served. No admission will be charged, but an offering will be accepted at the door.

Come and bring your friends.

Sebring Christian Science Church Dedicated Sunday

Christian Scientists in Sebring dedicated their attractive new church building on the corner of Pomegranite and Franklin streets last Sunday, Feb. 29. G. C. Daly of Avon Park is the First Reader.

The first Christian Scientists in Sebring began holding meetings in the Masonic Hall during the winter of 1925-26, three years later moving to the Woman's Club building.

A fund was started early so that a proper building site could be purchased. When a little over $1,000 had accumulated the sum was lost through the bank failure and a fresh start had to be made.

The Sebring Christian Scientists were organized and recognized as a Society, a branch of the First Church of Christ Scientist, in Boston, in 1936. Prior to this time, they acquired what seemed a desirable location, but due to war-time restrictions, were unable to build. This delay, however, proved beneficial, as they disposed of the site and purchased the present location.

Building was started in February, 1950, and completed in September, 1950, the first service being held Sunday morning, September 17.

Christian Science churches are dedicated only when free from debt.

Statistics Are Revealing

Our public library receives $300.00 from the city government annually. All other monetary support comes from funds raised by the Woman's Club, supplemented by the cost of membership (free to all public school students), and the small amount received from overdue-book fines and rental books. Most of us are familiar with these facts, but newcomers who have been reading about the current drive for the building fund may be interested.

Interesting to all of us is a comparison of public funds received by our library and libraries in nearby towns, as listed in the "Florida Library Directory and Statistics" for 1950-51. Sebring, with a population listed as 5,006 (U.S. Census figures are 4,902, however), gives its library $810 each year. In Wauchula, population 2,872, the library receives $1,000 annually. The library of Winter Haven, population 8,605, receives $3,500. Avon Park is at the end of the parade; with a population of 4,639, Avon Park doesn't give its library as much public money as does Fort Meade (pop. 2,803), which gives $360 each year.

You are reminded that the Public Library Building Fund is not yet complete, and that your donation may be given to the Chamber of Commerce office or to Mrs. E. G. Todd.

Churches of Christ, Scientist

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches next Sunday. His advent in fulfillment of prophecy, his divine origin, his mighty demonstrations supporting his teachings, and the need for every Christian to follow him, are points that are stressed.

The Golden Text is from Isaiah ((11:1). "There shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots."

Bible passages include the following from I John (4:9). "In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him."

Correlative selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "His consummate example was for the salvation of us all, but only through doing the works which he did and taught others to do" (p. 51).

POLL SHOWS EISENHOWER LEADING IN STATE

According to a recent announcement by the Florida Political Survey and Poll, a public opinion poll serves 290 newspapers and has a record of being correct for the past eleven years, says General Eisenhower is leading the presidential race in Florida.

Poll director Joe Abram says that in the first presidential poll of over 50,000 voters General The has received 29 per cent of the vote. Senator Taft is running a close second with 26 per cent. Senator Russell of Georgia is leading the Democratic candidates with a 16 per cent return, Governor Byrnes is next with 11 per cent.

President Harry Truman has a 10 per cent vote in this first statewide return and Senator Estes Kefauver picked up a mere seven per cent.

Abrams also announced that over 60 per cent of the voters polled returned their ballots through the mail, with over 49 per cent signing their names to their vote.

Those who spend most of their time talking about other people don't have enough variety in life. One of the missing elements usually being work.

IT IS UNLAWFUL FOR ANY PERSON OR PERSONS TO ENGAGE IN BUSINESS UNDER A FICTITIOUS NAME UNLESS THE NAME IS REGISTERED

The fictitious name statute was recently changed by the 1951 Legislature and the Sun has the necessary forms for proper registration and advertising.

The charge for advertising the notice the necessary four times is $7.

As amended by the 1951 session, the law reads as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, as defined herein, to engage in business as herein defined, under a fictitious name as herein defined, without said unknown said fictitious name shall be registered with the clerk of the circuit court of the county where the principal place of business is, which registration shall consist of filing with the clerk aforesaid an affidavit signed by all interested persons, stating under oath the names of all those interested in the business enterprise, the extent of the interest of each, and the fictitious name under which said business is carried on. Said registration may not be made until the person or persons desiring to engage in business under a fictitious name shall have advertised his or their intention to register said fictitious name at least once a week for four (4) consecutive weeks in some newspaper as defined by law in the county where said registration is to be made, and said registration shall not be accepted by the clerk of the circuit court except upon receiving proof of such publication."

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Tallahassee — The closing date of March 15 for qualifications for governor may bring no new entries, and thus the field will be limited to three bona fide candidates, Alto Adams and Dan McCarty of Fort Pierce and Brailey Odham of Sanford. All are busily beating the bushes this week, as the first sound wagons swung into operation and ads began to appear in the newspapers. A federal jury convicted Bill Hendrix, Tallahassee Klansman, of sending defamatory matter through the mails. He was sentenced to a year in federal prison on each of three counts, and fined $750. The fine was promptly paid by a bystander in the court, and Judge Dozier A. DeVane freed Hendrix on parole for two years. The conviction was for a misdemeanor, which does not disqualify Hendrix from making the race for governor.

• • • •

Tallahassee — Final arguments in the case of Wallace M. Finlay, publisher of the County Record of Blountstown, against Attorney General Richard W. Ervin and others to test freedom of press and of speech were before Circuit Judge Ira A. Hutchinson at Panama City. The Florida Press Association spokesman declared that the 1951 political campaign expenditure law had gone far beyond constitutional limits of policing the candidates, and had put a muzzle on the press and the public as well. Attorney General Ervin argued that the law was a reasonable use of the state's police power to end corruption among candidates. An additional 15 days was given to file briefs, and an early decision is expected.

• • • •

Tallahassee — Governor Fuller Warren apparently has healed the breach between him and one of his principal supporters, C. V. Griffin of Howey-in-the-Hills. The governor started the auction of the first of a housing colony for Griffin this week. Griffin had broken off relations in 1949, later admitted before the Hisley committee that he had no proof of what he charged, and subsequently matters appeared to mend between him and the governor.

• • • •

Tallahassee — Another crisis in the pre-election campaign has passed with word from Attorney General Richard W. Ervin that hill-billy bands are legitimate stage dressing for political rallies. The attorney general had held that such a campaign aid was permissible, and commented that frequently in his campaign, hill-billy music seemed to interest the audience more than his speeches calling attention to the state's need for his services.

• • • •

Tallahassee — The state road department is expected this week to begin negotiations to buy property east of the state capitol building for a tourist welcome station such as the law authorizes on main ingress roads. The state also may acquire enough land there to put up another badly needed office building. The old Dixie hotel, long ago condemned, a former filling station and several weather-beaten houses of ancient vintage occupy the land.

• • • •

Tallahassee — Comptroller C. M. Gay warned his fellow cabinet members not to deplete the governor's emergency fund too much, leaving none for Governor Warren's successor. The fund, to meet current expenses, has shrunk from $300,000 to $200,000 in less than a year, must last until July, 1953. It ought to take a real emergency from now on to get help from this fund, cabinet members agreed.

• • • •

Tallahassee — The Florida Congress of Parents and Teachers has decided here to build a state headquarters in Orlando, and has donated by that city. With a membership of close to 170,000, the need for a permanent home has been apparent. Mrs. Edith McBride Conover is state president.

TWO MORE PROGRAMS AT WEBBER COLLEGE

The Webber College Forum will sponsor this year two additional programs, the first on Wednesday, March 5th, and the concluding one on Wednesday, March 12th. Jay Pettit will present "Glamour Girls" at the Forum on March 5th at 9:00 P.M. in the Methodist Youth Worker's Club building.

"Glamour Girls" is an original act. Fifty pilots were sent to Korea during the Korean conflict to fly jet fighters. Many of them returned from combat to marry beautiful showgirls of nearby Egypt.

On Wednesday, March 12th, Mr. P. M. O'Byrne of Lake Wales will present a travelogue of Switzerland. The travelogue will be accompanied by Kodachrome color slides made by Mr. O'Byrne while on a European trip in the summer of 1951.

Most people think the person with the loudest voice wins the argument.

Health TOPICS

Presented by your Health Officer of the Florida State Board of Health and your Local Medical Society.

HEARING AIDS

At [illegible] hearing aids were worn with reluctance. The deaf-wise hearing person felt he was advertising a defect and the man in the interior person, the one less poised and taught now accept hearing aids as readily as they do glasses.

The person having difficulty with hearing should first consult an ear physician. It may be an aid is not needed for all cases of defective hearing are not benefited by the instrument. For instance, those suffering from partial nerve deafness can often be helped, but not be helped by a hearing aid. However, those suffering from partial nerve deafness can often be helped. The nerve is like a telephone wire. When the wire is broken it is not possible to talk or hear over the phone. The same is true of the nerve. If the auditory nerve which carries sound from the ear to the brain is totally dead [illegible] of or injury, the sound cannot be heard. This is true no matter how normal the ear itself is, or how loudly the sound is amplified.

The ear physician will map out these factors and determine whether treatment is needed or whether a hearing aid will be satisfactory. These steps will follow after he has determined the particular type of hearing loss.

If a hearing aid is the remedy, the physician will be able to recommend a suitable type and refer the patient to the legitimate retailer of the instrument. The retailer should occupy the same position in the case as the druggist who fills prescriptions.

Many persons purchase an instrument without the advice of a physician. This is not wise. Retailers of hearing aids welcome instructions from the patients' doctors; they know the wearer will be happier for having obtained one the correct way. Hearing will be improved, and the patient will be spared the discouraging trials and errors that so often accompany the wearing of an aid.

RICHARD A. MACK TO SUCCEED HIMSELF

Richard A. (Dick) Mack, [illegible] man of the Florida Industrial and Public Utilities Commission, announced that he will run to be re-elected to a second four-year term.

Mack was appointed to office in 1949 by the governor and cabinet to fill the unexpired term of the late W. S. Murphy. Before that he was chairman for a full term and prior to that he served as secretary to Attorney General Richard W. Ervin.

THE CITRUS BOX

COMPILED BY THE FLORIDA CITRUS EXCHANGE

Seems like someone is always taking a poke at America's food basket and particularly Florida, the nation's Number One bastion of vitamin C! This time the blow hit home because our big citrus industry, composed of a great many cooperatives, is one of the few in the field of agriculture not receiving government price supports or subsidies of one sort or another.

Yet there are some who speak out loudly against agricultural cooperatives' draining money from the taxpayer and even as they shout, have their hands in the nation's pocketbook.

It all boils down to a little known but nonetheless important controversy being waged between agricultural cooperatives and the National Tax Equality Association. The latter organization is a bitter foe of farmer cooperatives and their supporters. And in the middle of the squabble, as is usually the case, is the federal government.

The struggle between the two factions dates back a number of years, but became explosive when President Truman, in his Economic Report to Congress last month, recommended tax leniency for new cooperatives. He favors a modification of the government take on unallocated reserves of agricultural cooperatives as outlined in the Revenue Act of 1951 in order that newly-organized co-ops will not be subject to it for a limited number of years.

Garner M. Lester, president of the tax equality group, took an intermission from his almost constant attacks on cooperatives and brought his big artillery to bear on Mr. Truman. The cotton man from Jackson, Miss., termed the President's recommendation "a slap in the face of every taxpayer, since the cooperative tax loophole is the biggest inequality now in our tax laws."

The fiery Mississippian charged the President with "utter inconsistency," pointing out that Mr. Truman asked for a $5 billion tax boost then recommended steps be taken to assist new cooperatives. He said the President's recommendation was "unadulterated politics."

Rep. Noah M. Mason (R., Ill.), a member of the important House Ways and Means Committee and another cooperative foe, jumped headlong into the battle in support of Lester.

"Obviously, it is time — and past time — for the Congress to end the archaic privileges of the tax dodgers and to require them to pay the full corporate income tax on all their earnings," he stated.

But what both the cotton gentleman from Mississippi and the good Republican solon from Illinois failed to explain was the 72 to 7 walloping the Williams Amendment took on the floor of the Senate during the last session of Congress. The Amendment was to be tacked on the 1951 Revenue Act and in effect would have abolished all tax prerogatives of agricultural cooperatives. Its defeat came in the face of a strong and high paid National Tax Equality Association lobby.

"After absorbing the disastrous 72 to 7 licking on the Williams Amendment, the smart boys of the NTEA have apparently decided to ignore the decision of the Senate and to proceed on the assumption that not many of its contributors read the account of the defeat in the newspapers," wrote M. G. Matin Jr., editor of the FCX Patron, outstanding membership newspaper published by the Farmers Cooperative Exchange of Raleigh, N.C.

Lester's money-saving argument sounds mighty hollow, coming as it does from a cotton man whose industry during the first half of this fiscal year, was partly responsible for a $39,761,000 net deficit to the American taxpayer. According to a report of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Commodity Credit Corporation sustained the net loss in carrying out price-supported loan and purchase programs on wheat, cotton, tobacco, and corn. In fact, last year the program cost taxpayers $345 million.

Good business and sharp business are two different things.

Soil Conservation News

By C. F. Howerton
Soil Conservationist

The Highlands Soil Conservation District was delighted last week to have Mr. Glenn Swank, Roosevelt County Soil Conservation District Supervisor of Poplar, Montana, as a visitor. Mr. Swank, who has been a district supervisor for several years, was visiting his sister, Mrs. Horton, his brother, Harry Swank, and his father, W. A. Swank in Sebring and was planning to go from here to the National Convention of Soil Conservation District Supervisors in Cleveland, Ohio, February 25-28.

The rains we have been getting are keeping the pasture grasses in good shape and those having land prepared and planting stock are still planting. George Wilson and O'Neal and Boney of Lorida are planting Pangola grass this week. Both planted several acres to Pangola in December and January and are getting a good stand.

The Highlands Soil Conservation District is in contact with a few people having Hairy Indigo seed for sale and we will help locate seed upon request form anyone contemplating planting indigo this summer, either as a cover crop or as a legume mixture with pasture grasses.

If 1952 is to be your best year intelligent advertising will be necessary.

Most people are befogged by figures, one kind or another.

"They always try to serve the ladies first."

We welcome Mrs. Motorist, always - and she'll be thrilled at the friendly service we give. When your wife wants the windshield cleaned - tell her to drive in.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. Wilson Harder

The Office of Price Stabilization, often referred to around Washington as the Office Plenty Screwy, has now alerted itself to ward off a threatened blow that could not only be disastrous to the United States, but also presumably to the United Nations, the armament program, and heaven knows what other ghastly implications.

C. W. Harder

OPS fearing prices on cosmetics may jump, is working feverishly to nip such nefarious plotting in the bud.

OPS Press Communique No. 1161 proudly announces three meetings have already been held on a price control program. Nine high salaried OPS officials including one Martha Wood, chief of the cosmetics section have met with industry leaders.

* * *

A cosmetics section chief and a staff is already on the payroll; now the staff casts around for something to do.

* * *

Sample remark: "Some things that smell pretty bad have cost millions, so maybe the plan is to hold down the cost of smelling pretty". Reduction of the excessive cosmetics tax was a suggestion that was dismissed as probably communist inspired.

* * *

Some feel that Pentagon elements who disliked Gen. MacArthur's idea of ruthlessly knocking out the enemy, may be behind this move to hold down cosmetic prices.

A military plan is being developed, they say, to copiously spray behind the Iron Curtain such perfumes as "Yabo", "My Sin", "Indiscrete", "Aphrodisia", with the hope that enemy hearts will so fill with love they won't want to fight.

* * *

No one seems to know exactly what the Office Plenty Screwy is attempting to do except interfere with every business.

* * *

There is plenty evidence even OPS officials are confused.

* * *

Washington laughs over OPS press release containing "excerpts from an extemporaneous speech" by Edward Phelps, assistant director of OPS.

* * *

But these extemporaneous remarks of Phelp's were released to the press the day before he made the speech. Now there is a new phrase in Washington "planned extemporaneousness".

* * *

Whiskey, beer, wine, have all received special attention from the OPS, so it seems natural that cosmetics get attention.

* * *

The big mystery is this: what has OPS done to hold down the actual living costs. Even the yearly report of the Presidential Council of Economic Advisers shows prices have advanced steadily since OPS was formed.

* * *

And in order to comply with controlless controls, thousands of small businessmen have spent thousands of profitless man-hours filling out thousands of forms.

* * *

With department store sales down 13 per cent, in January despite great sales it is evident prices are being held down only by fierce competition existing for that part of the consumer's dollar left after huge tax bites. But it should be something that OPS realizes it shouldn't cost any more to enroll pretty.

VETERANS INFORMATION

Did you know that about $105-million of the $2.8-billion first National Service Life Insurance dividend remains unclaimed and unpaid? This means that about 600,000 eligible World War II veterans have never made application for this first dividend.

Under present rules this unclaimed 1948 fund can be transferred to future dividend fund at any time by the VA - even if the VA has put no time limit on filing and receiving applications.

This $105-million is for those who had NSLI policies in force at least three months prior to January 1, 1948.

If you are a World War II veteran and have not filed an application for the first dividend, I urge you to do so without delay - at a later date you may be left out. A deadline may be set and your portion of the dividend be placed in future dividend pool.

If you have not filed, see your local Veterans' Service Officer for a VA Form 9-430, or write the State Service Office, P.O. Box 1437, St. Petersburg.

BE READY FOR THE LAST GREAT DAY

Be rea-dy for the last great day.
That's what the good book says
When Ga-briel blows that horn
There'l be a new world born
Get rea-dy for the judge-ment day
There's a fire gon-na start burning

That's what the Bible says
Now children start to pray
The times not far-a-way
Be ready for the last great-day

Saint Pe-ters at them pearl-y gates
Now child-ren don't be late
Cause he knows where you been
If you are tinvited in sin
Be ready for to hear your fate
He'll be ask-un you some close questings
And don't you tell no lies
Cause he won't let you in
If you don't ac-cept him
Be rea-dy for that last great-day.

God's child-ren heed the call today
And fol-low the Lord's way
Just be so kind and true
And try your best to do
The things he wants you to always
And just tell him you'l be faith-ful
E-ter-ni-ty you'l win
He prom-ised when you die
A home with him on high
Be ready for the last great-day.

$1,200 Business Firms Operating In State

A total of 94,200 new business firms of all types were established in Florida during the years 1944 through 1950, marking the rapidly expanding economy of the State.

In March of 1944 the number of firms in Florida stood at 48,200. With the addition of new firms and the closing out of 51,200 firms, both old and new, the number in operation as of March 1951 came to 91,200 firms.

Florida stood with one other State at first place last year in the number of new business firms (totaling 163) per thousand firms already in operation. At the same time, Florida ranked fifteenth in rate discontinuance of firms, or 104 per thousand in operation.

Florida accounts for a little over two per cent of all the business firms in the nation. In contrast, the State has 1.80 per cent of the nation's population and 1.49 per cent of the personal income. This relatively large proportion of business is the result, primarily, of tourism, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reports.

A breakdown of the 91,200 firms doing business in Florida last year is shown in this week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division as 37,000 firms engaged in retail trade; 22,800 in service trades; 10,400 in contract construction; 5,600 in manufacturing; 4,200 in wholesale trade and 11,200 in all other types of business combined.

You can usually measure one's brain by the mouth, inversely.

Fame For Florida

CYPRESS GARDENS, Fla. — The sunshine state received a lot of fame when the current LOOK Magazine carried a story on Leslie Caron, ballerina of AN AMERICAN IN PARIS and here she is shown doing a topside tandem on the shoulders of Dick Pope, Jr., World Champion.

Service stations and all other retailers of gasoline are required to continuously display their ceiling prices on each grade of gasoline and motor oil offered for sale.

U. OF FLA. SECOND SEMESTER REGISTRATION 8,162

Final registration for the second semester at the University of Florida totaled 8,162, according to Registrar Richard S. Johnson.

The figure includes 1,967 women students and represents a normal ten percent decrease from the first semester total of 9,001.

Johnson said the decrease is partly accounted for in the graduation of approximately 500 students at the end of the first term, adding that second semester enrollments are traditionally under that of the first semester. At the same period last year, 8,586 students were enrolled.

It is usually hard to buck the majority, but it often pays in the long run, especially when the majority is wrong.

How to get what you want and need in a truck

"Dodge 'Job-Rated' Trucks are the best we've ever used!"
...says PAUL CRUCE, Cruce Butane Co., Tulsa, Okla.

"We do a lot of driving on narrow roads, in and out of driveways, in small yards and other tight spots. We need trucks that are real easy to handle, so we switched to Dodge. They'll turn on a dime!

"We service oil wells, too, and that's the toughest off-the-road hauling there is. We need plenty of pulling power. For mud and heavy pulling, Dodge 'Job-Rated' trucks are dependable and economical to operate."

SUPPOSE you need a 1½- or 2-ton truck. Naturally, you'll want one that costs less to run. You'll want one engineered best for your needs. Above all, you'll want one that fits your job to a "T".

That calls for a truck in which every unit that moves the load is engineered to meet most severe conditions—and every unit that supports the load is engineered to provide the strength and capacity needed. What's more, load-moving and load-supporting units must be engineered to work together.

The way to get such a truck is to see us about a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck—one that's factory-engineered for your kind of work!

Yes . . . when it comes to your hauling job, you'll find everything you want and need in a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck. Come in today.

Power with economy. The big high-compression engine of a Dodge "Job-Rated" 1½- or 2-ton truck operates with outstanding economy. You get money-saving values like chrome-plated top piston rings, and exhaust valve seat inserts.

Time-saving performance. Low loading height on 1½- and 2-ton models and blind center sections on stake bodies make loading and unloading easy. 5-speed transmission available on most models for more pulling power, better speeds.

Easy handling. Exceptional handling and steering ease is made possible by wide front tread and short wheelbase. Thanks to shorter turning diameters, you can turn sharper either right or left—fast into tight places easier.

Winter Guest Club News

Louie Reisner, Scribe

Mrs. Hilda Taylor and Mrs. Colmery have agreed to solicit the Club for the American Red Cross. Let's all make our contribution to this worthy cause through our Club representatives.

The states of Ohio, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Virginia, Pennsylvania and Florida with Mrs. Kinsel as chairman sponsor the entertainment for March. Tuesday evening they opened with a covered dish supper for their group.

Mr. and Mrs. Rulison have friends in town for a short stay.

Two ladies from Toledo, Ohio are with Mrs. Alta Robinson for a vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Heath visited Mrs. Heath's brother in Ft. Myers this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warwick, Mrs. Jennie Vail and Mr. Kirk Thompson enoyed a trip to Ft. Myers and vicinity recently.

Sarasota and its beaches were well represented by Club members last Sunday. Among those seen in around Sarasota were the Kidders, the Limperts, Mrs. Hilda Taylor and William Young.

This Saturday evening March 4, Rev. Wolff will give an illustrated lecture on Africa. Rev. Wolff spent several years in Africa as a missionary and his lecture is well worth attending.

Each day one sees newcomers around the Club, also each day one misses familiar faces and learns they have left for home. Weather reports from the north are far from alluring to those of us who do not have to return for business reasons. Most common question now is "When do you go home"?

THE FLICKER
By The Bird Woman

The flicker belongs to the woodpecker family and has most of the characteristics of that family. This is one of the most beautiful families that we have, yet we believe that the different species differ more in color and size than the usual family.

The woodpecker family is called a "friend of the forest," and rightly so, for it has no doubt saved many trees from destruction by insects and grubs.

Each bird has is own peculiarities, and its own method of gathering food.

Some birds, as the crow, will dig up freshly planted corn, or as robins, will alight in a flock and take possession of a strawberry patch. Or certain hawks will invade the poultry yard. When these things happen, we immediately brand that particular species as harmful.

But that of course is an erroneous approach to the problem, just as it is wrong to stamp our neighbor's child incorrigible if it chances to stray in our yard and pick one of our choice posies.

Ornithologists and the U.S. Department of Agriculture study both sides of the case, and balance the good against the bad, and then hand down a decision whether that particular bird does more harm than good.And it is quite interesting to learn what small numbers of birds do not tip the scale on the beneficial side. As we have so often said that birds were placed here for a purpose, so let's not be too hasty in forming our conclusions until we have all the facts.

Let's analyze the habits of the woodpecker in general and the flicker in particular.

Occasionally they may drill a hole in telephone poles or porch posts, but the chief reason for them to bore a hole at all is to search for food, and insects and grubs are found more often in dead trees or stubs, so the woodpeckers busy themselves going over dead limbs and stubs in forest trees and myriads are the insects and scales that fall prey to this careful searching; consequently, a great saving of spraying and dusting.

Grubs, larvae, worms, and ants make their way into the heart of these trees and are unaffected by spray and dusting.

But when the woodpecker finds a suspicious area in a tree, we hear him tapping knowlingly around and around, and at last the chips begin to fly and eventually he has drilled a hole into the chosen spot and located the grub or larvae and thrusts his long barded tongue into the hole and removes the enemy that is killing the tree. That is why ornithologists call the woodpecker family the "friend of the forest."

The flicker has some very outstanding field marks.

It has a red spot on the nape of the neck. (All male woodpeckers have some red on the head.) The back of the flicker is brown, with black stripes across back and wings. It has a white rump patch which is visible as it flies; also the yellow under the wings and tail. There is a black crescent across the chest which looks like an improvised bib.

The long sharp bill and strong feet and toes are similar to other woodpeckers. Its breast is light with dark spots and blotches.

Our species of flicker is not migratory, but other flickers from farther north migrate to Florida to spend the winter.

PHILIPP SCHMIDT

Philipp Schmidt, 86, died Thursday morning, February 28, at the home of his daughter, Margaret P. Schmidt, at Highland Lakes.

A retired interior decorator, he came to Avon Park four years ago from Cleveland, Ohio. He was a member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Survivors include his widow, Anna Margaret Schmidt; two daughters, Mrs. E. A. Manry and Miss Margaret P. Schmidt, of Avon Park; and five sons, George and Fred Schmidt, of New York; John, Conrad and Edward Schmidt of Washington, D.C.

Funeral service was held here Sunday, March 2, at 2:00 p.m., in the chapel of the Mizelle Funeral Home, with Elder J. R. Young, of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, officiating. The remains were forwarded to Cleveland, O., where services were held Thursday afternoon, March 6, at 2:00 o'clock. Interment was at Sunset Memorial Park, Cleveland.

Voting is a civic duty. Don't neglect it. Register before April 5. Vote May 6.

1951 Annual Report Florida Power Corp.

Florida Power Corporation this week released a 1951 annual report that was studded with records everywhere except in net profits, according to W. J. Clapp, FPC president.

The company set a record for total gross revenue, $24,497,776 up 16 per cent over the 1950 gross revenue of $21,178,153.

But net profit dropped to $1,995,973 from the $2,345,728 earned in 1950. Earnings for 1951 were equal to $1.29 per share of common stock compared with $1.51 the year before, a drop of 15 per cent.

Increased to 163,548 was the number of customers served by Florida Power Corporation in 31 Florida counties and 20 Georgia counties through its subsidiary, Georgia Power and Light Co. This is an increase of 10 per cent over 1950. All classes of customers, residential, commercial, and industrial were responsible for the increased sales.

Up 14 per cent was the system peak demand last year to 301,300 kilowatts. Since 1937 the peak demand of the company has grown an average of 13 per cent annually.

Last year $16,000,000 was spent on new construction, Clapp said, and the company plans to spend $28,000,000 this year in its expansion program. Principal items in this program are a 31,000 kw plant construction on the banks of th eSuwannee River near Ellaville; a 45,000 kw addition to the Avon Park plant, now under construction; and 45,000 kw addition to the Higgins plant at Oldsmar, recently started; as well as new transmission lines, substations, and related equipment to supply efficient service and adequate power for Florida's ever-growing needs.

Get Automobile Scrap Moving

Automobile wreckers of Highlands county now have until April 1 of this year to get their old automobile scrap moving into scrap channels.

Information received here from Merrill C. Lofton, regional director of the U.S. Department of Commerce in Atlanta, was to the effect that the National Production Authority of the Commerce Department has just taken action to extend the "deadline" for the disposing of scrap in auto wreckers' wards to April 1, instead of March 1 as originally provided in an NPA order.

The reason for this action, it was stated, was that many auto wreckers in Georgia and other sections of the country had complained that they would not be able to comply with the NPA order and get their scrap moving by March 1 because of the shortness of time.

The order, Mr. Lofton explained, applies only to scrap from vehicles produced prior to 1946.

The order was issued as a result of the grave shortage of iron and steel scrap in the country, which was not only threatening the national program of defense, but also the operation of many steel mills and foundaries, including some in Georgia, where scrap is needed for the manufacture of new steel.

Valuable Ring Recovered

Mrs. Minnie F. Slack was a very relieved and grateful woman Wednesday night when City Patrolmen Ward and Elder delivered to her a diamond and sapphire ring she had lost on Main Street between the Post Office and City Market, and which they had found.

Mrs. Slack had been carrying the ring, which was her engagement ring, in her purse when she was in town Monday, but did not discover her loss until the next morning. She apparently dragged it out of her purse while looking for parking meter change.

Mrs. Slack lives at the home of her sister, Mrs. H. H. Staggers, on the Frostproof Road near the County line.

Red Cross Creed

(Cardinal Spellman released the following creed several years ago and gave it to the American Red Cross for use, whenever and wherever needed. If you, the people of Avon Park, read this with your heart, with your knowing this fine man and what he stands for, you will not forget the dire need for your suppert in the 1952 American Red Cross campaign.)

I believe in the service of mercy. Wherever disaster calls, there I shall go to alleviate suffering and sorrow. I ask not who calls but where I am needed. I have no price for my services except gratitude that out of its largess I may expand my mission. I know no barrier of race, class, creed, or country, no barrier of ideology, no obstacle of rivers, mountains, continents, or seas.

Wherever human beings are in need, there I shall go to minister unto misery under my banner of merciful, fraternal love. An earthquake in Tokyo, a typhoon on the China coast, typhus in Asia, a landslide in Chile — all these call alike in my heart. An epidemic in Alaska, starvation in Greece, ravages of disease, flies, and floods in our own America—all these needs find me ready with my services.

I know no distinction between French and English, Italian and German, Czech and Pole—I serve all because I am all, having been born of the finest instincts of mankind, faith in God and in His Son's redemptive mission which my cross symbolizes, and merciful love for all, which my crimson color declares.

You who believe in me, so many of whom I have mothered in your sons and daughters, strengthen my hand and reanimate my courage, for I am the spirit of humanity marching beneath her cross. . .

Funeral services were announced as to be held Friday morning, March 7, 10 a.m., at the Church of God in Wauchula. Interment will be in the New Zion Cemetery.

In the 1948 election less than one-fifth of the state's eligible voters elected our public officials.

We take off our hat to Mother!
Maybe it's true that it's Dad who pays, but from experience we can assure him his money is in good hands when Mother buys the groceries.
For Mother, without doubt, is America's greatest purchasing agent. She knows what she likes and wants. And at A&P we make it our business to see she gets it.
If she doesn't, we'd like to know about it — and the reason why. Hooray for Mother! — and Dad, too.

This Week In Tallahassee

By J. Kenneth Ballinger
Florida Press Association

Tallahassee — Spending by 3 candidates for governor is approaching the $25,000 mark for two and the $10,000 mark for the third. The nearing qualifying deadline of March 15 and the absence of activity in other camps makes it evident that there will be only three actual candidates for the major state office. At last reports, Alto Adams has spent $21,282 thus far, mostly for office work and two state-wide broadcasts. Don McCarty has disposed of $18,109 for one broadcast and office work. Brailey Odham has reported $8,140 disbursed, mostly for personal travel expense and central office work. The new campaign expenditure law will get a second airing in Tampa before Circuit Judge Henry C. Tillman this week, in a suit for declaratory decree by Radio Station WPLA. The station asks the court to define its rights to free speech and freedom of the press, as did Wallace B. Finlay, Calhoun County newspaper publisher, in another suit heard by Circuit Judge Ira A. Hutchinson of Panama City and now ready for decision.

Tallahassee — The Florida Highway Patrol reported that only three counties - Gilchrist, Lafayette and Okeechobee - ended 1951 without a fatal haghway accident. The total for the state was 876 killed, with 15,766 injured in a grisly toll that may exceed all records for Florida. Carelessness, speeding, and drinking caused most of them. Accidents totalled 50,597, or at the rate of 138 a day.

Tallahassee — The department of agriculture here has ruled that horse meat sold for human consumption must be plainly labelled as such. J. J. Taylor, state chemist, says that at least one Miami firm has been distributing horse meat in cartons without being labelled properly. It has desisted, but to prevent others from falling into the same error, the department now requires horse meat containers to have the words plainly printed on the outside.

Tallahassee — Final arguments have been heard by the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission on railroad safety rules, governing clearances between cars and fixed obstructions. This case, sought for years by railroad labor groups, has been carried to the point of adoption of safety rules after more than 16 days of hearings.

Tallahassee — State gasoline tax reached a new high in the first month of 1952, according to Comptroller C. M. Gay. He reports that more gasoline was sold in January than in any other month in Florida's history, topping the previous March record of 81,500,000 gallons.

Baptist Bible Institute

The Baptist Bible Institute, Lakeland, Florida, offers an attractive program of interest to all, Monday and Tuesday, March 10th and 11th, in the school chapel. Speakers will include Dr. E. D. Solomon, former editor of Florda Baptist Witness; Dr. John W. Moffatt, author, lecturer and pastor; Dr. Samuel M. Lindsay, well known pastor in Boston, Mass. and West Palm Beach; Dr. John D. Freeman, rural community authority; Dr. W. E. Denham, teacher and Dean of the institute; Reverend T. S. Boehm, pastor First Baptist Church, Lakeland, and Reverend Tom Collins, pastor North Jacksonville Baptist Church.

Sessions will begin at 2:00 P.M. Monday, March 10, with Mr. Roger M. Hickman leading a song-devotional. The evening session begins at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday morning the session begins at 9:00 a.m.

The afternoon meeting opens at 1:30 p.m.

The closing session will be Tuesday evening, March 11th, with music by the Institute Singers. Dr. Moffatt will speak on "Building for God" and Dr. Lindsay will give the closing address on "The Preacher and World Vision".

All of these sessions are free and are open to everyone who may wish to attend.

THE MARINE CORPS

The Marine Corps has modified its rules to permit enlisted regulars and reserves who have separated themselves from the Corps, to reenlist within one year of their separation without loss of rank, according to Sgt. Donald C. Lawliss, local Marine recruiter.

Those persons desiring information on first enlistments or reenlistments may obtain full details by visiting Sergeant Lawliss at the Avon Park Post Office any Tuesday. His office hours will be from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

C. SCOTT LANDRESS

AVON PARK SERMONETTE

J. R. Young, Chaplain of Wallace Memorial Sanitarium and Hospital

There are times when one wonders if the Great Creator of the universe is concerned with individuals on the earth. When one stands on the sublime heights of Glacier Point, thousands of feet above the floor of the Yosemite, in the famous national park in California, the importance that sometimes attaches to one's own personality seems slight. And one's personal problems that have loomed so large, in comparison with the immensity before him seem trivial indeed. Here is the Infinite God, unlimited by time or space. A cosmic consciousness envelops the spirit; only eternity seems important.

But one of the great teachings of the Holy Scriptures is that the Great God of heaven is a God of love and understanding. A God who knows and loves every individual. One day a group of people were standing on the wharf at Long Beach, California, when the Pacific Fleet arrived. There were thousands and thousands of sailors coming off the battle wagons in large open boats. A girl in the group looked across the wharf to where one of the boats had just docked and shouted to her companion, "There's Mike! Let's go!" Out of nearly a hundred men in that boat, all of whom were dressed exactly alike, she recognized Mike. Somehow love must have made her sensitive to his presence.

God is Love and at the same time, Infinite, and He can pick each one of us out of the moving mass of humanity, think upon us individually, and call us by name. In Acts 10:5,6 we read the Lord's instruction to one, Cornelius, "And now send men to Joppa, and call for one Simon, whose surname is Peter. He lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea." The Great One knows all about Peter, and He knows all about you, too, and cares for you. Commit your life to His unfailing care.

In most discussions, those who talk most can be most wrong.

'TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

If Joe Abram's "Florida Political Survey and Poll" is running as true to form as it has in previous selections, it looks like "Dan is the Man"

According to Joe's latest report, Dan McCarty is leading his opponents by a very comfortable margin in both the city and rural areas.

The first primary is still two months off and the boys are just beginning to get out and campaign in earnest. They all have a rough and rugged road to travel and anything can happen between now and May 6.

As this time the poll shows Dan McCarty leading in 31 of the state's 67 counties and in such key cities as Tampa, Miami, West Palm Beach, Ft. Pierce, Vero Beach, St. Petersburg and Tallahassee. He has not lost any votes since the last poll and shows a gain of 3 percent.

Alto Adams, reported in second place, is strong in north central and west Florida and is shown leading in 19 counties, most of them in west Florida.

J. Brailey Odham is right on Judge Adams' heels, is drawing larger crowds than either of his opponents and is putting plenty of pep and fire in his campaign. He is reported as leading in only 3 counties, however, although he has a good following in all sections of the state and is expected to pick up rather than lose votes in the weeks ahead.

Other candidates in the race show little strength at this time.

Indications are that the fight will develop into a first class slugging match before it is over. Odham has been taking pot shots at both Dan and Alto and all three are pointing fingers of scorn at the Warren Administration.

Adams and Odham are both rugged hard hitting campaigners and won't waste too much ammunition on each other until they shorten the distance between themselves and McCarty.

Gentleman Dan may find himself forced to take off his coat and start sluggin' before it is over if he wants to retain his lead. Dan kicked off his campaign in Ft. Pierce last week with several thousand enthusiastic followers beating the tom-tom and ringing the welkin.

Speaking at Ft. Pierce Dan made it clear that there wouldn't be any "Mr. Big" in Florida if he is entrusted with the Governorship, and his remarks about dog tracks and their operation offered no comfort to those who make a business of "going to the dogs."

What he had to say about certain political cliques wasn't very complimentary either, in fact he told them they could go get lost or drop dead as far as he was concerned and talked like he meant what he said.

Getting back to Joe's poll, it indicates that Mr. Truman doesn't have much of a batting average in Florida with Eisenhower (Republican or not) the favorite, Taft second, Russell third, Byrnes fourth, Truman fifth, and Fuller's friend Kefauver was low man on the totem pole.

On the controversial issues it indicated that voters are opposed to FEPC, don't want state owned liquor stores, favor the Jax-Miami Turnpike by a small margin and are not quite as down on Fuller as they were a month ago.

Joe tips his hat to Judge Tom Ferguson of Miami who recently announced as a candidate for State Railroad and Public Utilities Commissioner, and while he gives no figures in this race, he will probably cover it in his next report which ought to be plenty interesting from every standpoint.

The fun is just starting and it should get merrier and merrier as we roll along toward May 6. And, by the way, have you registered? Better do it now if you want to vote.

BEAUTIFICATION WEEK MARCH 17-22

Tallahassee — A proclamation issued by Gov. Fuller Warren today calls attention to the necessity of keeping everlastingly at the task of beautifying Florida. The chief executive, in the document, designates, at the request of the State Chamber of Commerce, the week of March 17-22 as "beautification week."

It was thought fitting by the State Chamber's beautification committee, of which Mrs. W. S. Jennings of Jacksonville is chairman, that St. Patrick's Day should mark the beginning of a movement which will be activated on the lawns of the State's 67 counties, and be signalized by the planting of at least two camellia bushes, the plants to be given the governing commissioners of each county by Fred Mahan, Monticello nurseryman, and transported to the seats of the counties by the State Road Department.

There is no way for a young person to attain years of experience, but by careful study he can learn from other people's experiences.

Soil Conservation News

By Sam Polston,
Soil Conservationist

Oren Reynolds of Lake Placid, so far has some very successful plantings of fescue grass and White Dutch Clover. He has planted both Kentucky 31 and the Alta varieties of fescue which are primarily winter growing but also afford summer grazing if planted on the right kind of land. Mr. Reynolds has varied his lime, fertilizer, seeding time, and seeding rates for observational purposes. The first planting was made in mid-November and the last was made six weeks ago. He says it is too early to draw any definite conclusions except that the clover-fescue combination will produce early winter grazing, likes cool weather, and is pretty certain it needs lime and fertilizer for best results. If anyone in the Highlands Soil Conservation District has organic land and is interested in this grass legume combination, I am sure you would get a lot out of seeing Mr. Reynolds' plantings.

Don't be content to criticize governmental faults. Correct them with your ballot. Register now and vote May 6.

Are You Registered? If Not, Do So Now

Deploring the apathy and indifference of the average citizen when it comes to participating in elections, former Governor Doyle Carlton, president of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, points out that in the last presidential election only about 20 percent of the qualified voters actually went to the polls.

Government of the people, by the people and for the people cannot be successfully maintained if we continue to permit a small minority to control our local, state and national elections.

In a statewide effort to arouse all good citizens to the importance of the ballot in the American way of life and to encourage everyone to take a personal interest in government, the Florida State Chamber is spearheading a "Get Out the Vote" campaign and has called on every civic and fraternal group in Florida to join.

Registration books close in most counties on April 5, and persons who are not registered should do so now to avoid being disfranchised. Every qualified voter should let nothing interfere with casting his or her ballot on election day, May 6.

See You IN CHURCH Sunday

Churches of Christ, Scientist

Man's present opportunity to express his God-given integrity, identity and true being is the theme of services to be held in all Christian Science churches next Sunday. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Man."

A verse from Daniel furnishes the Golden Text: "O man greatly beloved, fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong" (Daniel 10:19).

Among Bible citations is the following from Ephesians (4:7): "Unto everyone of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ."

Included among correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy are the following: "Identity is the reflection of Spirit, the reflection in multifarious forms of the living Principal, Love," and "The human capacities are enlarged and perfected in proportion as humanity gains the true conception of man and God" (pp. 477 and 258).

Thanks to Dad..

A pretty good measure of a man is his insurance policy. Dad took his out when he and Mom were married. He wanted her to have something for a rainy day.

It was changed as each of the kids came along. It was changed again to make sure we got our schooling. The kids are grown now. So Dad altered his policy still another time—back to what it was at first.

Yes. Thanks to Dad, we've all had a good life through the years. His life insurance policy is a good measure of a mighty good man!

Your Gulf Life agent will be glad to explain how your policy may be altered to meet the changing conditions of your life and how its value increases every year. Better call him today and talk things over. It could be the most valuable conversation you've ever had!

What is back of the million plus Gulf Life policies and the agents who look after them? This year-end balance sheet tells the story of Gulf Life's strength and security.

Highway Death Mars Opening of Fair

The opening parade of the Highlands County Fair in Sebring on Monday afternoon was marred by the announcement that a man had been killed in a car accident a few hours before at the intersection of Highways of 17 and 98, about four miles south of Frostproof.

The victim was identified as Lewis Swiney, of Gibsonton. An ambulance driver reported that the man had lost his legs in a previous accident. He was a carnival man en route to the fair.

Driver of the truck in which Swiney was riding was Henry D. Turnbull, 39, of Gibsonton.

Highway Patrolman H. D. Doyle, who investigated the accident, said W. H. Sullivan, 41, of Frostproof, was arrested and charged with manslaughter in connection with the accident.

Doyle said Sullivan's car came out of a side road, striking the truck. The truck skidded 71 feet sideways, the patrolman reported.

VETERANS INFORMATION

Did you know that well-meaning relatives and friends can do an ill veteran a lot of harm by rushing him to the nearest VA hospital — especially against the advice of the attending physician or before it is even ascertained whether the veteran will be admitted to the VA hospital?

In many instances it has been found — and sometimes to the detriment of the patient's health — that the VA hospital is overcrowded and no bed is available. In other instances it has been found that the veteran doesn't actually qualify for such VA hospital care.

There have also been cases of critically ill veterans being hastened to the VA hospitals hundreds of miles away, only to expire a few days after admittance.

To qualify for VA hospitalization, a veteran must first of all have been discharged or separated under conditions other than dishonorable.

Veterans requiring emergency medical treatment should have the attending physician communicate by telephone with the VA, before going to the hospital.

If admission to a hospital has been approved for a service-connected case, Government transportation may be provided to the hospital and, upon completion of treatment, to the veteran's home. This service may be extended to non-service-connected cases if they attest financial inability to pay for the transportation.

THREE-WAY FARMING IN 'DEVIL'S GARDEN'

How a vast region approximating 118,000 acres is being reclaimed in what is called the "Devil's Garden" in Hendry and Collier counties between LaBelle and Immokalee — a typical Florida prairie wilderness — is told in the March issue of Florida Grower Magazine. The Atlantic Land and Improvement Company has owned the territory for years but only within a few years has begun development of parts of it. It is a three-way agricultural program so carefully planned that there is not now, and will not be any conflict between truck gardening, forestry and ranching.

In the livestock phase of the operation a number of herds are being successfully wintered. The Range Cattle Experiment Station at Ona is conducting trials of 14 varieties of legumes and other clovers; and a nursery for slash pine reforestation will turn out 1,000,000 seedlings for the prairies this year.

Register today and vote in May.

WHOOPING COUGH

Whooping cough is a dangerous disease. Children under five years of age are most susceptible, but it is more serious in the first year of life and in the very old.

Whooping cough develops between seven and fifteen days after exposure. It usually begins like an ordinary cold and runs into a tight dry cough. The cough deepens until the whoop occurs. This is a sobbing intake of breath following an extended cough.

The coughing spasms are severe, with the face becoming deep red or purple, the veins of the face and scalp swelling and the eyes watering. The body is racked by prolonged, violent, frequent spasms of coughing. The child may be weakened by the repeated coughing and vomiting, and complications such as pneumonia may develop.

Sometimes the child with the disease never whoops even though the whooping cough germs are present in his nose and throat. Thus the disease may go unrecognized and be spread to other children through nose and throat discharges by a cough or sneeze or on dishes used by the patient.

There are drugs that can reduce the severity of the coughing spells but these drugs must be given only under the careful supervision of a doctor.

Whooping cough is one of the diseases that can be controlled by immunization which is one of the important procedures of preventive medicine. The procedure keeps the child reasonably safe, usually preventing the disease from being contracted or minimizing the condition if it does develop.

The vaccine that will prevent or greatly reduce the severity of whooping cough is usually given with diphtheria and tetanus toxoids before the age of six months. This has been found desirable because most deaths from the disease occur before age five and a majority of them before the child is three.

Sarasota Democrats Endorse Jim Haley For Congress

Sarasota — James A. Haley, candidate for the Democratic nomination to Congress from the new Seventh district, was solidly endorsed for the position last week by the Democrats of Sarasota County in a resolution praising Haley for his strong position on economy in federal and state management.

"I stand for an immediate reduction in the federal income tax and the elimination of the un-American, irritating and resultless withholding tax on household help," Haley declared.

Every day we read of a continuing series of disclosures of gigantic frauds or wastes in management perpetrated upon our people. In one recent week the record ran over five billion dollars. All of this largely comes from the pockets of hard working men and women who are deprived of the necessities of life so that these wasters and crooks can get away with their frauds. I am for stopping it by tax money that made these frauds possible."

Facts truck owners should know about hauling bigger payloads

"With our new Dodge, the payload is high, the cost per mile low!"
. . . says MORRIS SAPIR
Dependable Furniture Company, Oakland, California

"After using Dodge 'Job-Rated' trucks for eight years exclusively, I want to report that your new models are keeping me sold on Dodge.

"No vehicle we have ever seen can give our drivers more freedom in city traffic than our Dodge 1-ton truck. With our new Dodge, the payload is high, the cost per mile low."

WANT to know why you can carry more payload with Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks?

First, they've got better weight distribution. This means that bigger payload capacity is engineered into a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck. Many trucks carry too much weight on the rear axle, not enough on the front. But in a Dodge truck, the right proportion of the load is carried on each axle.

Besides this better weight distribution, a shorter wheelbase provides easier turning, easier parking. Come in and try one of these payload-packin', easier-handling trucks for yourself. Get all the facts about hauling bigger payloads.

Carry more! In Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks, the engine is placed forward and the front axle back —for better distribution of the load. You can carry bigger payloads—without overloading.

Haul faster! Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks are powered by high-compression engines to give you top performance with rock-bottom economy. Big power gives you pull and speed that save time.

Get longer life! There's a Dodge truck that's "Job-Rated" to fit your road and load conditions —with load-carrying and load-moving units factory-engineered to stand up on toughest service.

See us today for the best buy in low-cost transportation...
