Smathers Climbs The Ladder

Washington reports show Senator Smathers of Florida is climbing even higher on the ladder of Senate leadership in this session of Congress. We note he is relieving Senator Lyndon Johnson, Democratic Majority Leader, of some of the workload in the Senate floor leadership, and we saw on a recent television show that Senator Johnson described Smathers as his "strong right arm."

It's easy to see that Congressional and party leadership have spotted in Smathers the same talent and character that Florida voters saw in 1950 when they elected him decisively to the Senate.

This confidence Smathers has won among his colleagues has earned him positions on such powerful committees as Finance and Taxation and Interstate and Foreign Commerce, and Small Business. Sitting in these key posts, he is in particularly good position to put his abilities and energies to full use for Florida and the nation.

Such responsibility, of course, means that Smathers is up to his ears in work. But that's nothing new for the youthful Senator from Florida, who has been working hard throughout his career in public life, first as a fighting assistant district attorney, as a United States Marine, then as Congressman, now United States Senator.

The situations he faces as a Senator are often intricate and difficult, as they are for his colleagues. And the most difficult problems arise, as in the farm legislation for example, when there is no pat solution and no ready made answer. Smathers has said frankly that he does not think we have arrived at the final "cure all" answer—and certainly he is not alone. No one has found how the nation may boost farm prices and still eliminate mountainous surpluses which aggravate the problem.

Smathers has won, however, the commendation of the Florida Farm Bureau for following its recommendations in favor of a soil bank coupled with flexible price supports. On March 14, E. N. Finlayson, President of the Florida Farm Bureau wired him "to express appreciation for the way you have followed our suggestions in voting on the soil bank farm bill, which is now being considered by the Senate, adding:

"We feel that the soil bank bill if passed as we have suggested, and backed up by flexible price supports, will materially improve the economic condition of American farmers."

(Tobacco is not at issue in farm legislation. It's price is stabilized at 90% of parity, because the government gets substantial income from taxes on tobacco.)

Smathers and other Southern Senators soundly served notice on the Supreme Court that it had overstepped its boundaries in substituting its own social theories for the established law of the land, and they now seek ways and means of stopping this invasion of the legislative field by the Supreme Court of the United States.

We also note with pleasure that Smathers has been looking out for Florida in legislation affecting natural gas. We hope someday to have a natural gas industry in Florida. The Florida State Chamber of Commerce and the Florida League of Municipalities urged Florida Senators to support the Harris-Fulbright bill, which was designed to lift the socialistic government control of natural gas by taking away from the Federal Power Commission the power to dictate price of natural gas at the well head.

This power had been granted in a Supreme Court decision. Smathers says this is an erroneous Court decision, invading the legislative prerogative. Present FPC practice destroys the theory of state rights.

The State Chamber of Commerce and municipalities seek to encourage development and expansion of the natural gas industry in Florida for we do not yet have natural gas in any substantial amounts. They maintain, as does Smathers, that we will not get it as power to be used by consumers, and for development of industry, unless the restrictive hand of the FPC is removed from exploration and development of gas within a state.

Since Smathers took his seat in the Senate, he has played a substantial role in developing federal benefits for Florida—in the development of Florida's great air-fields and other military establishments; in flood control and harbor development; in hospital construction; in bringing new industry to Florida; in helping agriculture when stricken by freeze or drought, or when plagued by such disease as the Spreading Decline in citrus; in working for legislation; encouraging tourist travel; and in many other fields. He has been a friend of the elderly citizens of Florida and has sponsored considerable legislation which has been beneficial to them.

Yes, Smathers gets things done for Florida and for the nation. Yet, at 42, he has only begun to realize his potential. He has had ten years experience in the greatest legislative body in the world, and he has been frequently and favorably mentioned as a vice presidential candidate. Florida is fortunate to have his services, and we look forward with confidence to his re-nomination to another term.

DO YOU KNOW?

By James D. Judd, Evangelist of Church of Christ South Forest Ave.

Question: "If a man can perform signs and wonders (miracles) today, does this prove that he is a man of God?"

Answer: If you see what looks like a miracle, this does not mean that the man who performed it is a man of God. The Bible states that Satan has the power to perform miracles so strong that if it were possible he would deceive the very strongest among men. (Revelation 13:13-14, 19:20, 2 Thessalonians 2:8-9, Matthew 24:24) The Bible also states that Satan and his workers appear as angels of light when they do this. They pass themselves off as preachers of righteousness. (2 Corinthians 11:14-15)

Today, the way to know a man of God is not by his signs or wonders, but by his message. Does he preach and practice the truth? If he does he is a man of God, if not he is not a man of God no matter how many signs and wonders he does. Isaiah when speaking of this matter said, "To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them." (Isaiah 8:19-20). The Bible states that if a person gives you a sign or a wonder and it comes to pass, but this person teaches a false doctrine we are not to follow this person, "because the Lord your God proveth you, to know whether ye love the Lord your God with all your heart... Ye shall walk after the Lord your God and fear Him and keep His commandments, and obey His voice." (Deuteronomy 10:1-5) The New Testament says that we are not even to listen to an angel from heaven if he does not teach the truth. Notice: "But though we or an angel from heaven preach any other gospel unto you, than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed." (Galatians 1:8) Some would follow an angel no matter what he taught. We also find that because some people love not the truth, "God shall send them a strong delusion, that they should believe a lie: That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness." (2 Thessalonians 2:9-15). If one does not love the truth God will let him see and believe "signs and lying wonders." Many are lost in the judgment for this very reason, they believed they had cast out devils and done many wonderful works in the name of Jesus, but they had not done the will of God. (Matthew 7:21-23). It boils itself down to this, God will never confirm a false message with His miracles, only Satan could do this. So the way to know a man of God is to see if he does teach and practice the truth. This is God's infallible rule.—Adv.

Winter Guest Club News

This is the first of the "occasional" Guest Club reports. As stated in this column last week, now is likely to be scanty from now on till next October, and therefore reports of club doings must be only occasional occurrences. It is something happens worth mentioning.

Just now it is worth mentioning that at the first meeting of the new board of Directors, President Duke in the chair, it was voted to allow the entertainment committee next year to spend a little more money than was spent the past season, though how much more wasn't stated; flowers were authorized to be sent to Mrs.

Gruber now convalescing in the hospital, and act sure to be approved by everybody here; and authority was granted for holding an April card party with refreshments not to exceed a certain amount in the cost thereof. Treasurer Glenn reported a balance on hand on April 3d of $293.47, and was handed the responsibility of having an audit of the books as of the first of the fiscal year. The list of members who are to have charge of the various club activities for the coming year, as presented by the president was approved and is as follows:

Entertainment: Mrs. Book and

Mrs. Williams.
Membership: John Williams, John Glenn, and Mr. Wyman.
Luncheon: Mr. Kessel, Mr. Ireland, and Mrs. Lewis.
Shuffleboard: Martin Lingbord and Henry Kidder.
Cards: Mrs. Charles Gruber.
Refreshments: Mrs. Helen Baker.

House: Jack Richmond.
Art Class: Mrs. Nace.
Sunday singing: Jerome Shultz.
News Reporter: Mr. Fenton.
Cheerio: Mrs. McAdams.
Club members are unanimous in their hope and expressed sympathy for Mrs. Gruber now convalescing in the Walker Hospital. On every side every little while is heard something like the following: "How is Mrs. Gruber today?" "She is holding her own. She's coming along. She's making a good fight." Good, good, we're all pulling for her, are we not? That is the way it is here. It is trouble that brings out the better part of our human nature. Trouble for one means trouble for all in one degree or another. So does joy, and we'll all be glad when we hear of that fine lady's recovery.

The Daiblers, who recently moved to Winter Haven, last week entertained a number of old acquaintances at a luncheon and bridge party in their new residence in that city. On last week Thursday the art class met at Mrs. Davis's place on Lake Letta, where they painted ad lib, and gave Mrs. Nace a token of their appreciation for her painstaking work with them. On Tuesday afternoon the bridge enthusiasts presented Mrs. Grace Bonner a crystal luncheon set to show their appreciation of her work as mistress of the card tournaments through the past

Drake And Morrow Stars Of Oldsmobile's Musical "Marco Polo" On NBC-TV April 14

Alfred Drake and Doretta Morrow, who as a team scored magnificent successes in "Kismet" on Broadway and in London, will co-star in the musical spectacular, "Marco Polo", which the Oldsmobile Dealers of America will present over the NBC-TV network on Saturday evening, April 14, from 9 to 10:30 p.m. (ETST). The brilliant melodies of Rimsky-Korsakoff have been adapted for this original script by William Friedberg and Neal Simon who used the authentic journals of Marco Polo for source material. Max Liebman is the producer and director.

Beatrice Kraft, who is the world's foremost exponent of Oriental dance, is featured in several highly exotic numbers. The cast also includes Arnold Moss, Jerome Kilby, George Mitchell and Harold Vermilyea. Milt Lyons has staged the musical with settings by Paul Du Pont. Musical adaptation and lyrics are by Clay Warnick and Mel Pahl.

"Marco Polo" is an exciting panoramic view of the journeys of a daring Venetian trader who left his native Venice with untapped trade routes to far-off China. Adventures take them through Persia, India, Afghanistan to the palace of the fabled Kublai Khan.

Alfred Drake is perhaps America's greatest male musical comedy star. Among the roles he originated on Broadway were the starring parts in "Kiss Me, Kate", "Kismet" and "Oklahoma". His dashing presence has been observed by video audiences on a previous Oldsmobile spectacular, "Naughty Marietta".
