9,500 Lots Sold Since Opening of Avon Park Lakes Development

Another saga of community development has unfolded at Avon Park Lakes in the heart of scenic Highlands County in Central Florida.

In mid-January of this year, a 320-acre section of the famous Touchton Ranch, three miles north of Avon Park, was sold to buyers, including building plots and offered to the public under the sponsorship of the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce as part of a campaign to interest people in establishing winter or all-year homes there.

Today, just about 7 months since the first lot was offered, a total of nearly 9,500 have been sold to buyers, coming from 40 states and from such far away places as Puerto Rico, Venezuela, British Columbia, Hawaii, Turkey, Cuba and Scotland.

Even more interesting, is the fact that 32 homes have been completed or are in the course of construction, with a number of families already occupying their new homes.

Approximately $200,000 has been spent on rough grading, laying and asphaltting the roads to date representing 156,400 feet of roads surfaced with red clay and $3,000 feet of roads black-topped or finished with asphalt.

A visitor after personal inspection and investigation describes Avon Park to be the most ideal location in the state and writes favorable of the state and our beautiful city in a letter to the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. A. H. Bartlett of Marshfield, Wis., writes: "For many years I have received very favorable reports relative to the ideal conditions that exist in your progressive state."

This last July my wife and I made an automobile trip to Sebring to see the state to see for our own satisfaction if these reports would stand the test of personal inspection. It appeared that both of us were in good luck. The climate, the State Government is sound and considerate of the welfare of its people, climate ideal, drinking water of the best, and its citizens appear happy which is the result of these favorable conditions."

We found many ideal places in which it appeared favorable to locate, however, after taking everything into consideration we found none which appeared more favorable to us than your beautiful city and town, Avon Park."

Building Permits Total $32,650 For July

Building permits issued by the City of Avon Park during the month of July totaled $32,650, of this amount 7 permits were for new dwellings, at a total of $20,500; four permits totaling $2,000 for repairs and alterations and a $500 permit for remodeling at the American Legion Hall.

July was the first month in which the total permits issued was less than the same month last year. In July 1956 a total of 17 permits valued at $78,300 were issued by the City. Permits issued during the past six months total $420,625 while permits written during the same period of time last year totaled only $239,312, thus proving the growth of Avon Park.

franch tract has been opened for sale.

The Avon Park Chamber of Commerce, in reviewing the first six months of this unique program, is gratified to report that the results have far exceeded original expectations.

"Far more important, in our opinion, than the attraction of the desirable new families to the Avon Park area, the significance of this to local business men and its meaning in the form of new tax revenue, is the growing recognition on the part of so many people from all parts of the United States and the world of the desirability of Central Florida for all year or retirement homes."

The lots measuring 40x100 feet are available for purchase for $300 with a down payment as low as $25 and payments as low as $5 a month. There is a reservation, however, that no one will be permitted to build a home on the lots until the year 1960.

County Commissioner M. H. Grice reports on special meeting held Monday in Clearwater with Alfred L. Rogers of the State Road Department.

Mayor E. A. Delaney, Mannin Kirkland, president of the Avon Park City Council and County Commissioners A. J. Tubbs, Sol McClelland and Sid Cooper, and County Clerk T. Plety. This meeting was held to discuss the secondary road program and getting the program started.

Rogers agreed with the County Commissioners as the Commissioners agreed with him to accept 1957-58 budget for the cities of Avon Park, Sebring and Lake Placid that included approximately $520,000 of County secondary road money spent within city limits.

He agreed that engineers could be here within a couple of weeks to start on these jobs. Mr. Rogers left for Sebring.

Little League All-Stars Defeat Lions 6 to 5

The Little League All-Stars beat the 1957 champion Lions team in the annual all star game 6 to 5 last Thursday morning at the Little League field. The game had been postponed twice because of rain and wet field.

The Lions won the title in regular play this summer and finished the season as the all-stars, made up of top players from the Baptist, Rotary and Lions leagues.

The Lions went ahead 3 to 2 in the first inning but Singletary pulled out a homer to tie it up in the second. The score remained tied until the fourth when the Lions pushed across a run in the sixth and held the Lions to one run in the seventh to win by a one run margin.

The leading hitters for the All-Stars were Singletary with four hits.

on less than two lots and no one will be allowed to buy more than five lots. The trend, generally has been for the acquisition of maximum plot size.

Another gratifying development has been the undertaking of home building operations by individual buyers. Hard to believe, but actually true is the fact that we now see, throughout the area, attractive homes rising on land where only six months ago cattle were still grazing.

MANNIN KIRKLAND

P. A. MCFARLAND

ROBERT E. LEE

Three candidates for councilmen jumped into city political waters the first thing Monday morning, and presumably others will soon join them, as time is slowly running out for the deadline for qualifying for office will be 5 o'clock August 30.

Those who paid their $3.00 qualifying fee at the City Hall Monday were Councilmen Mannin Kirkland, Bob Lee and Paul McFarland, each is a member of the retiring council.

Kirkland was first elected to the City Council in the fall of 1949 and has served as president of the council for the past two years and has also served as vice president of the council. For the past two years he has served as chairman of the Finance committee.

Bob Lee has served on the Council for the past two years during which time he was chairman of the Sanitation Department, Public Housing and Airport Committees.

Councilman George Borden and Robert Barben have not indicated they will seek reelection, but it is believed that Mayor E. A. Delaney will run again.

At the present time the slate is small but some predict that by Election Day we will have a list as long as we had two years ago. Just make sure that you are registered to vote September 10. Deadline for registering is the same as the deadline for qualifying as candidates, August 30.

The City Election September 10 will be the first election in Avon Park's history for staggered city council terms. A Mayor and the two council candidates receiving the highest number of votes will be elected for two-year terms. The other three councilmen will be chosen for one-year terms.

A county-wide survey to discover the current rehabilitation needs of all post-polio patients will be conducted this month by the Highlands County Chapter of the National Foundation for the Crippled Children.

The local survey is part of a nationwide project by the National Foundation to compile a roster of post-polio cases of all ages and degrees of disability regardless of date of onset. The census for Avon Park is to be completed by September 1.

"Modern medicine has made impressive strides in developing new rehabilitation techniques in recent years," Mr. Davis said. S. who have not yet been given the opportunity for medical evaluation to determine if they might benefit from the new techniques."

Menace to the Smaller Retailers

It is proposed that the federal wage-hour law be extended to retailing—though this industry, along with certain other service businesses, has been exempt during the law's entire existence. If this effort succeeds, what will be the result?

Russell R. Mueller, managing director of the National Retail Hardware Association, wanted an answer to that question. So he polled hardware dealers on their views, and got the remarkable total of 3,000 replies. Of all these, exactly two favored placing retailing under the federal wage-hour law. All the others were opposed—often vehemently so—and for the soundest of reasons.

An Iowa dealer wrote, "The Wage-Hour Bill would have a devastating effect on small operations. . . . Any further burdens such as the wage bill would force on us would about wind up a good many hundred Main Street merchants." A Massachusetts dealer wrote, ". . . Any time the government regulates, it is the little fellow who has the greatest difficulty adjusting." A Mississippi dealer wrote, "Small town stores can't stand any more expenses. . . . A Missouri dealer wrote, "We would be forced to discontinue all outside service and become a one-man store or discontinue completely. . . . An Ohio dealer wrote, "What is wrong with the law of supply and demand? What happened to all the party platforms concerning private business versus government control?"

So the answers were. Their substance is clear: Extension of the law would be a body blow to all retailing, and especially to the smaller retailers—and the effect on the consuming public would be of an extremely damaging nature.

Farmers in Business Suits

"Farmers In A Business" is the striking title of a new book by John Davis and Kenneth Hinshaw, published by Simon and Schuster. It deals with what the authors call "agri-business"—a term that succinctly indicates the vast change that has taken place in farming, in comparatively speaking, a handful of years.

In their introduction the authors say this: "The farmer in a business suit has taken the place of the old homesteader. His horsepower is bred in factories and his stock is fed by the white-frosted scientists in the laboratories that produce those fabulous substances known as antibiotics and hormones. His family farm is a costly, efficient, reved-up complex of fields, barns and equipment. . . . His productivity is a hundred, a thousand times his family's own needs."

This is what technology has done. A farmer of the old homestead days wouldn't believe his eyes if he was to see a typical modern farm of the present. Tractors and other mechanized equipment, the new seeds and fertilizers, scientific methods of soil improvement and conservation—these have almost completely revolutionized farming from grandfather to grandson.

Such a revolution inevitably brings problems as well as opportunities. There is less and less room for the inefficient marginal farmer, or the farmer who refuses to adapt himself to modern conditions. But there is plenty of room for the family farm that is run as a business by people who know their business. These are the farmers in business suits.

New Chemical

Kills Insects

In Two Ways

A new chemical that gives southern farmers a weapon to stop insects that attack certain vegetable and forage crops late in the growing season has reached agricultural markets.

The product, known as phosdrin insecticide, can be used to stop a late season attack because of its rapid dissipation, according to E. E. Heuermann, Manager of Agricultural Chemicals for Shell Chemical's Atlanta District. It kills and then quickly disappears. So, explained Heuermann, farmers can apply it to broccoli and cabbage up to four days, to lettuce up to seven days, and to sorghum up to fourteen days before harvest, without fear of finding harmful residue when they bring in their crops.

Prior to this, farmers did not have a chemical approved by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for use so late in the season. Shell Chemical has its label for these crops accepted by the USDA earlier this month.

Heuermann said phosdrin is recommended for use against aphids, leafhoppers and spider mites, which attack vegetables and against corn leaf aphids and corn earworms, which feed on both grain and forage sorghum.

An organic phosphate, this insecticide kills insects in two ways — through direct contact or through systemic action.

"Like most phosphate insecticides, the product is highly toxic to man. The District Manager said all users of the product are being advised of its potential danger, the necessary safety precautions for its handling, and the remedies to take in case of mishap.

Phosdrin insecticides were discovered by Shell Development Co. and its label was accepted earlier by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for use against certain insects that attack cabbage, broccoli, lettuce and apples.

Shell Chemical sells the product to formulating companies throughout the country who market it under their brand names. These companies formulate it for use on sorghum in an emulsifiable form.

Jaywalking was costly in the U. S. in 1956 — 3,170 were killed.

R. A. Gray has been Secretary of State of Florida since April 12, 1956.

DO YOU KNOW?

By DALE I. ROYAL, Evangelist

Avon Park Church of Christ

Did you know that not all good people are Christians? This is not saying that Christians do not have to be good. In order to inherit eternal life a Christian MUST be good. To say that every good man is a Christian is to say too much. It would make the good infidel, the good Jew, or even the good atheist a Christian.

In the third chapter of John we read how Nicodemus came to Jesus by night. Nicodemus was a Pharisee and a ruler of the Jews.

the Jews. There is no indication that he was not a good man. Yet Jesus said he must be born of the water and the Spirit in order to enter the kingdom of God (verse 5). It is this new birth that makes an individual a Christian. See Acts 2: 37-41.

An even clearer example is found in the tenth and eleventh chapters of Acts. The Holy Spirit has not recommended many men as highly as He does Cornelius. We read (verse 2 of chap. 10) that he was a devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, who gave much alms to the people. Verse 22 closes this by saying that he was a righteous man and well reported of by all the nation of the Jews. If morality will save a man surely here is a man in a safe condition with God. The only trouble is that although a good man Cornelius is lost. The angel told Cornelius (chapter 11 verse 14) that it was necessary for Peter to speak words whereby he should be saved. Peter came to Cornelius and spoke the words of salvation declaring that Jesus was the Christ and then Peter commanded him to be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ. (Acts 10:48)

Being good is not enough. We must wash away our sins by obeying the Word of God. (Acts 22:16) If this is not true then the sacrifice of Christ on Calvary was unnecessary for the salvation of the world.

FOREMOST GOLD NUGGET BUTTERMILK

Is rich in flavor—but not in calories!

COOL IDEA! Fill a mug with Foremost Gold Nugget Buttermilk, add a pinch of onion salt or curry powder—and tuck in a swizzle stick of crisp, cool cucumber!

If you're counting calories—this is for you! If you just plain love buttermilk—this is for you! And even if you're not a buttermilk fan—this is for you!

For Foremost Gold Nugget Buttermilk is a completely different kind of buttermilk—smoother, tangier, richer than any brand you've ever tried.

The reason? Buttermilk—bright, golden flecks of it all through the glass. And what butter!

Unlike the kind in many brands, it's what dairymen call "92 score"—meaning just about tops in quality.

Yet for all its extra richness, Foremost Gold Nugget Buttermilk has only 132 calories per glass. (That's for less than regular milk!)

Try Foremost Gold Nugget—and soon. Until you do, you'll never know how good a buttermilk can be!

Eyes Must Be Seen In Action To Learn Whether Vision Is Good

By Richard J. Appell, O. D.
Gesell Institute Eye Clinic

The past two weeks we have been talking about vision and eyes and some of the problems that are encountered with children that cannot be detected merely by using the Snellen Acuity Chart.

One might ask if we are not speaking of the same thing when we speak of "vision" and "eyes." Although vision and eyes bear an important relationship to one another, they definitely are not the same. We see through our eyes but we learn and understand through vision. Golf clubs are the tools of a golfer, but whether the set is good or whether it is mediocre, we can't tell much about the golfer and his ability just by looking at and examining his tools (clubs). We need to see him in action, to judge what is behind the golf club.

The same sort of reasoning can be applied to a child, his eyes and his vision.

When we speak of vision we refer to the ability to get meaning and understanding from what is seen. It is the ability to perceive. It especially applies to the ability to get meaning from symbols.

Since a distinction is made between vision and eyes, you might ask us if there is a difference between a visual problem and an eye problem? Such a difference does indeed exist and may be defined as follows:

A visual problem may exist when there is a loss of ability to get meaning from symbols or to learn through vision to a degree comparable to the potential level of intelligence of the individual. This loss of ability may be due to immature visual and total development of the child. The visual problem is not initially an eye problem, but under the pressure of learning in school may lead to one.

An eye problem may exist when there are structural changes in the eye such as high hyperopia, myopia, and astigmatism; misalignment (strabismus); disease or injury to the eye.

Next week we will give an example of each of these two problems.

Mrs. Suggs Tells About Europe

"Paris, the most beautiful city in the world, is everything you've seen in pictures and heard about. I crammed in everything possible both day and night. During the five nights I was there I slept about an average of four hours a night. We were fortunate to be there on July 18, Bastille Day, their national holiday. Business places closed on the seventh. Dancing on the Champs Elysees and other places in the city continued until early morning. The next morning the Champs Elysees simply thrived with the military parade. It looked exactly like the ones we've seen in the newsreels of Hitler's 1934 parade. That night we went to the left bank of the Seine River near Notre Dame for the giant fireworks display.

"I would like to give you my impression of the Louvre, probably the most famous of all art galleries where everyone goes to see 'Mona Lisa' and Venus de Milo; of Tuileries; of Eiffel Tower; Notre Dame; the Pantheon; the Luxembourg; the Arc de Triumpe; the Champ de Mar; The Invalides where the tombs of Napoleon and Foch are in the Dome; of the Grand Boulevards beginning at the Madeleine and continuing to the Place de la Bastille; of the Place de la Concorde; and especially of Montmartre which is dominated by the famous Sacre-Coeur but space does not permit. Our trip to Versailles and the palace would also be too long to tell.

Do You Have

All the ladies I know like to keep some special recipes on hand for entertaining and for all gala occasions. Here are some of their specialties which you may want to clip for your file.

GLAZED HAM

Place a ham inside up on a rack in an open pan. Use no water. Bake half hams in slow oven 325 degrees about 22 minutes per pound. If ham is taken from refrigerator, increase cooking time about 5 minutes per pound. Drain fat from pan. Skin ham, score, and stud with cloves. Pour one cup sherry wine or fruit juice over ham and let stand 5 minutes; then cover with one cup maple syrup. Brown in hot oven (400) for about 15 minutes, basting frequently. Strain sauce into service dish. Serve surrounded by hot spiced fruit.

FROZEN GINGER ALE SALAD

1 tablespoon plain gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
1/4 cup ginger ale, heated
1/4 cup lemon juice
1 1/2 cups ginger ale, cold
1/4 cup celery, chopped
1/2 cup seedless grapes
1/2 cup pineapple, crushed
1/2 cup preserved ginger, chopped

Lettuce
Cream mayonnaise (1/4 whipped cream and 3/4 mayonnaise)
Soak gelatin in cold water; add heated ginger ale and dissolve. Stir in lemon juice and cold ginger ale. Place mixture in refrigerator to set. When it begins to stiffen, add celery and fruit. Return to refrigerator to set. Serve on high beds of lettuce cut squares. Garnish with cream mayonnaise.

sight to me. My son had been sent to Berkeley, California, so I came straight home after several hours in New York. I flew back to Jacksonville on a Super Constellation. This was a daylight trip made in less than three hours. We flew at 10,000 feet and I think I know what Joel McCraw meant by "And reach out and touch the face of God".

Getting back to Avon Park was just as much a thrill as all the other things I did on my trip abroad. However, my experiences have enriched and changed my life and as soon as I can I shall start saving for another trip. John Howard Payne expressed my feeling exactly in his song, "Home, Sweet Home."

This is the final letter of Mrs. Suggs' European trip and the Avon Park Sun and the people of Avon Park thank her for so graciously sharing her experiences with us here at home. We feel sure that our community and country could never have a better "good will ambassador" to Europe than Mrs. Suggs. Her enthusiasm and interest are to be felt in all she has written and we know that this will be with her forever. So hurry up and take another trip, Mrs. Suggs, so you can tell us about it. Thank you.

Would you like to be able to go to a retreat like this when you are worried—a place where you could be alone with your thoughts—a place where you could untangle your problems?

If you would, then you are like most people. Everyone needs a retreat, at moments. And everyone has one! It isn't a mountain cabin or a seaside cottage—but it is a place far better suited to prayer and contemplation, a place to sort out old errors and make new resolutions. It is your church.

Let your church be your sanctuary. Go to it when you are troubled. You will find within its walls your moment of peace, and you will walk out into the street again far better able to make the most of your life.
