Soil Conservation News

By Sam Polston

Mr. Springer plans to develop 760 acres of organic land in the Upper Fisheating Creek Marsh area to improved Pasture. He will plant a variety of grasses such as pangola, Argentine bahia in mixture with clover. Mr. Jackson will develop about 180 acres of flatwoods land to improved pasture. 100 acres will be planted to pangola grass and clover mixture and 80 acres to Pensacola bahia grass.

Forest Pearce of Okeechobee planted 80 acres of Pensacola bahia and bubam clover mixture this week on flatwoods land on his ranch at Lorida. Mr. Rollie Murray of Sebring planted 10 acres of Pensacola bahia grass on flatwoods land this week and 70 acres of clover-bahia last week.

The Soil Conservation Service assisted Mr. John G. DuPuis, Jr. of Miami in staking out a 4000 acre combination drainage and seepage irrigation system on his ranch at Venus this week. The area will be planted to improve pasture grasses in the near future.

Deadline Dates For State Fair Entries

Showing of the two groups again will be divided, as it was this year, during the eleven days of the 1958 Fair which will run from February 4 through 15.

First to be shown will be Dairy cattle, confined to Ayrshire, Guernsey, Holstein and Jersey breeds, from Feb. 4 through Feb. 8. Prize money totaling $10,916 is offered by the Florida State Fair association. Special awards include $250 from the Ayrshire Breeders association. Open to all breeds in the 10-year-old cow class is a $272 award from the Florida Feed Dealers association.

"We expect the 1958 Dairy Cattle Show to be the largest in the Fair's 53-year history," said Mr. Huskisson, "and for judging we have chosen an outstanding authority in this field, C. Hilton Boynton of Durham, New Hampshire."

Showing of Beef cattle will run during the Fair's second week, Feb. 10 through 15. Judges will be Professor Robert A. Long from the University of Georgia, at Athens, and Donald L. Wakeman of the University of Florida, at Gainesville.

Five beef cattle breeds — Aberdeen-Angus, Braham, Hereford, Santa Gertrudis and Shorthorn — will be entered in the 1958 competitions. Two additional breeds, Charolaise and Brangus, are being entered for exhibition purposes only.

Competitive exhibitors in the Beef cattle show will vie for a grand total of $13,663 in cash awards, of which $11,000 is being offered by the Fair and $2,663 by breeders associations.

All preliminary arrangements for the Beef and Dairy cattle shows at the 1958 Fair, including processing of entries, again is being handled by M. E. Tweddell, assistant manager of the Fair, with Elton Hinton again serving as Dairy and Beef superintendent.

Senator Spessard Holland

ON THE MARCH - Throughout my travels the rapid growth and development of Florida was evident. Home and business building is flourishing. New churches, schools, hospitals, libraries, public utilities and other structures necessary to full community life are being built as rapidly as possible; many miles of fine new highways have been built, are in course of construction, or are in the planning stage.

Most noticeable is the tremendous industrial development that is taking place. Industrial plants, large and small, are springing up rapidly. It was my pleasure to inspect a few of them, including the great Pratt Whitney plant being built near West Palm Beach, the Glenn Martin plant near Orlando which was dedicated December 4; the American Cyanimid Co. plant still a building, Escambia Chemical Corporation and Columbia National Corporation plants, all three near Milton, in Santa Rosa County. The last named is already producing from ore mined in Florida, Zirconium, a metal important in the atomic energy field. These new Santa Rosa County industries, added to the already large industrial concentration in neighboring Escambia County, are completely changing the economy of an area in Florida which heretofore has primarily been agricultural.

MORE IMPORTANT GROWTH - While Florida's material growth is a source of satisfaction to us all, more gratifying is the equally rapid progress our people are making in these things which, basically are more important to good living. Everywhere I found Floridians bending every effort to insure that the cultural, spiritual, health and educational values in their communities keep pace with the great expansion in population and material growth. This is the proper course if we are to maintain our appeal for good people from other parts of the country. Florida's future is truly bright and it is the responsibility of each of us to help keep it that way.

DATES AND PLACES - In a previous report I stated my itinerary through November 2. From that date to December 2 the schedule was completed as follows: Nov. 4--Orlando: Jaycee Luncheon, Orlando Book Fair, Parade of Homes; Nov. 5--Tampa: Rotary, Chamber of Commerce Congressional Action Committee; Nov. 6--Conferences in Bartow office; Nov. 7--Bartow: Annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet & Installation Night; Nov. 8--Mandarin Community Club; Nov. 9--Jacksonville: University of Florida Alumni Breakfast, Florida-Georgia Game; Nov. 10--Jacksonville: Conference with Waterways group, Farm Bureau Federation Convention, JayCee TV Panel program; Nov. 11--Panama City: Veterans Day celebration, Visit to new Panama City Junior College; Nov. 12--Pensacola: Rotary, Chamber of Commerce, Congressional Action Committee, Escambia County Chapter, U of F Alumni Association; Nov. 13--Milton: Kiwanis, Visit to new Santa Rosa County Industrial plants; Nov. 14-15--Atlanta: Meeting Board of Trustees Emory University, inauguration of new President of Emory; Nov. 16--Hunting turkeys with friends near Jacksonville (the Turkeys saw me first); Nov. 18--Daytona Beach: Florida League of Municipalities; Nov. 19--St. Petersburg: State Chamber of Commerce, Panel Program, Gulf Beaches Rotary; Nov. 20--Lake Wales: Reception and Dinner for visiting German Food Purity team; Nov. 20-- Conferences in Bartow office; Nov. 21--Haines City: Chamber of Commerce annual banquet; Nov. 22-Orlando: Kiwanis, inspection of new Glenn Martin plant; Nov. 23--Tampa: Florida Citizenship Clearing House at University of Tampa; Nov. 24--Stuart: Dedication of new Martin County Library; Nov. 25--Bartow: Office conferences; Nov. 26--Lakeland: Florida Southern College Convocation: Evening at Plant City: Kiwanis, Farmers Night banquet; Nov. 27--Tampa: Kiwanis, Tampa Tobacco Table annual banquet; Nov. 28--Thanksgiving at home in Bartow; Nov. 29--Miami: Dedication of new Southern Branch of the Florida Baptist Childrens Home at Kendall; "Cracker Politics" Awards Program, meeting with Chamber of Commerce Congressional Action Committee and with maritime interests; Nov. 30--Miami: U of F Alumni Breakfast & Executive Council meeting, Dade County Young Democrats Barbecue, Florida-Miami Game.

Tips for Safe Holiday Trips

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

PLANNING a holiday trip to visit the family or friends? Don't spoil the reunion with an accident on the highway. Safety experts point out that there are more hazards threaten a safe journey at this season than at any other time of the year.

Inclement weather and more hours of darkness make visibility poor and highways treacherous. And the holiday spirit often causes drivers to be less alert than usual.

Miss Smith

For a safe and pleasant trip, follow these suggestions from the National Safety Council:

1. Plan your trip so that as much of the driving as possible will be accomplished during the daylight hours.
2. Postpone your trip if the weather is bad or if hail, snow or sleet are predicted for the area in which you plan to drive. Consult the weather bureau for a forecast if you're in doubt.
3. Drive slowly and cautiously. Wet, slippery roads increase emergency stopping distances.
4. Assume that there are icy or wet patches on seemingly dry pavement — especially around curves, beyond hillcrests, on bridges and in shaded spots—and drive accordingly.
5. Be certain your car is in top mechanical condition before attempting any sort of trip. Check windshield wipers, defrosters, headlights, tail lights, brakes and tires. Use reinforced tire chains when the road is covered with snow or ice.
6. If you drink, don't drive.

Meikrowave .....

Florida's tax situation is in the same boat as the miler that breaks the world's record, but still loses the race.

Although the sales tax—the bread and butter tax of state government—is soaring to new records, it is still lagging behind the predicted amounts.

This may call for some sharp reductions in state spending.

State officials haven't pushed the panic button as yet, but they are keeping a sharp eye on the sales tax collections. After the December returns are in, some careful study of the sales tax structure is in line.

The problem boils down to this:

To meet the appropriations, the sales tax has to bring in about 52 per cent more than it did before the new sales tax went into effect.

So far, the increase has only been 39 per cent.

In other words, in the first five months, the sales tax is lagging some 13 per cent behind the expected amounts. It will take a big upswing to bring the percentages up.

Some folks tend to pass it off by saying, "Oh well, Christmas sales will bring it up," but they forget that in dealing with percentages, you would have to have a tremendous increase to make up the 13 percent from previous months.

From a money point of view, it means that the state must collect an average of $14,300,000 in each of the seven remaining months from the sales tax to stay on sound ground.

Otherwise, the State Budge Commission must begin cutting services or delaying buildings.

Sales tax collections in November were a record-breaking $11,111,615, but despite the record this was about $900,000 below predicted amounts.

At the same time, the sales tax take in the first five months of the fiscal year was just over $50,000,000—about $4,750,000 shy of predictions.

Comptroller Ray E. Green, who warned against too enthusiastic predictions on the sales tax income during talk on new taxes, says the big factor in the slump so far is in the building trades. This source produces roughly about 28 per cent of the revenuts.

Home construction is definitely off, and this in turn affects taxes in many ways. Construction workers don't have as much money to spend on taxable items, less taxable material is purchased, and allied sales for such things as appliances slack off.

Another significant trend is that the building industry shifts more to public works projects, on which the building materials are tax exempt in many cases.

Green pointed out that the problem is not local. Other states, including New York, are experiencing similar difficulty. They too are also keeping a sharp eye on the sales tax returns—plus keeping the budget cutting ax sharpe.

Harvey, the capitol cat that writes with his tail, took the day off and tagged along on a tour of the St. Regis Paper Company's seedling nursery and huge paper mill in Jacksonville. He has this to say:

The Cat's Meow
By Harvey

On my trip to Jacksonville, I met a fellow from Fitzgerald, Ga., who says they solved the probem of friction between Georgia Crakers and Yankees.

It seems Fitzgerald was formed back after the Civil War or War Between the States—take your pick - by some Yankees, who formed a colony. They put $10 in a pot and drew parcels of land.

After all these years, the Yankees have been absorbed by the Crackers, and they have a motto for the town that goes, "Fitzgerald, Ga., In Central South Georgia Where the Crackers and the Yankees Built is Wisely."

Some of the offsprings of the original settlers still live in Fitzgerald, and this fellow tells me, "Why, we don't even know the difference anymore."

Basketball Season To Open January 7

The Avon Park High School Devilettes wound up the third week of practice with the selection of fourteen girls for the A-string out of one of the largest groups of girls to turn out for baskeball in some time.

Only one senior, Ann Rowland, returned to the varsity. Ann was high scorer last year, averaging around twenty-five points per game. Six juniors returned to the squad this year. Gueldo Gaster, Frankie Thorp, Charlotte Albritton, Mary Lois Roberts, Pat Tondee and Betty Shepord. These girls all lettered last year and form the nucleus of the 57-58 Devilette Team. They will be bolstered with some new talent-sophomores Margie Reynolds, Mirlam Francisco and Clytee Coleman; and freshsmen Freda Bennett, Cecelia Weinzirl, Hattie Leighton and Tura Ann DeLaney.

The girls have been working very hard in practice and they hope to better their last year's record of eight losses and two wins. They look good in practice and from all reports will be able to wipe last years record out of the way with some fine playing.

Sally Sayers is the girls manager and Salie Harrison is scorekeeper. All girls home games on Tuesday nights will be at 7:00 p. m. and Friday night games will be at 7:30 p. m. Boy's games will follow.

Do You Have

Have you filled the candy dishes for Christmas, if not try these quick and easy recipes and you are sure to get wonderful results.

QUICK FONDANT
2/3 cup (½ 15-oz. can) Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk.
1 teaspoon vanilla extract.
4 cups sifted confectioners' sugar.

Blend together Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk and vanilla. Gradually add confectioners' sugar while mixing until smooth and creamy. Use this fondant between nut meats or as a stuffing for dates; or form into small balls and roll in chopped nut meats, shredded coconut, grated chocolate, candied fruit. Or flavor and color the fondant as desired and form into round flat candies.

CHOCOLATE PEANUT CLUSTERS
2/3 cup (½ 15-oz. can) Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk.
1 cup whole peanuts.

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler over boiling water. Remove from heat. Add Eagle Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk and peanuts and mix well. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto buttered baking sheet or plate. Chill for several hours before serving.

October Sales Tax Shows Big Increase

November sales tax collections, based on October sales, totalled $11,111,615, an increase of $3,408,120, 44.2 per cent, over the $7,703,494 collected for the same month last year, and an increase of $936,362, 9.2 per cent, over the $10,175,253 collected the previous month this year. This is the highest monthly collection in the history of the sales tax in Florida.

Total sales tax collections for the five months this fiscal year (four months under the expanded tax) amounts to $50,194,592, an increase of $14,047,380, 38.9 per cent, over the $36,147,212 collected last fiscal year at this same time under the "Old" tax.

Although this month's collections fall below expectations (the percentage increase this November over last November of 44.2 per cent is slightly under the increase this October over last October of 46.9 per cent) the overall increase for the five months this year over last year of 38.9 per cent is a gain of 1.5 per cent over the first four months last year.) The big collection months are still to come and it is too early to make any accurate prediction about the adequacy or inadequacy of sales tax returns. The January collections, which will reflect Christmas season sales and the beginning of the winter tourist season, will give us a better picture of our financial position.

the Shining Hour

The street is still.

Lights and music, bells and horns and voices have disappeared into the hush of snow that lays its gentle mantle on our hurried footprints.

Beyond, where the air shimmers to the glow of stars, new bells begin their lovely and triumphant chime.

Now, as on this night for nearly two thousand years, the shining hour casts its hope and blessing on the earth once more, and Christmas comes.

May the joy of this season live in our hearts all the days of the coming year, and its spirit guide us toward peace among all men.

Deputy Sheriff Shot Twice By Glenn Eiland

Sheriff's Deputy James C. Murdock, 31, of Sebring was shot twice Thursday night, October 31, when he went to investigate a report that a man was abusing his wife in Sebring. One of the 45 caliber bullets shattered the deputy's leg above the knee. The other struck Murdock in the thigh.

Glenn Eiland, 29, of Sebring, alleged assailant, gave himself up early Friday morning to Sheriff Broward Coker after one of the county's most extensive manhunts.

The shooting occured outside of the Eiland residence in Sebring. Murdock had gone to the Eiland home in answer to a call from Mrs. Eiland who reported she was being abused by her husband.

Sheriff Coker and State Attorney R. B. Huffaker received information from Mrs. Eiland and others which led them to believe that Eiland met Murdock outside and fired a so called warning shot.

The deputy radioed the sher...

The E. O. Douglas High School Tigers will meet the Oakland Raiders of Haines City in their Homecoming Game in Avon Park Saturday night November 9 at 8 o'clock.

The Annual Homecoming Parade sponsored by the E. O. Douglas High School will start in Sebring at 12 noon. The parade will arrive in Avon Park between 1:30 and 2 o'clock and will make a circuit of the Mall and then South on Fairfield to the Hopewell School.

School Trustees Re-Elected Nov. 5

Paul McFarland of Avon Park, Dr. W. S. Coon of Sebring and John Wirick of Lake Placid were re-elected as School Trustees by the Highlands County voters Tuesday, November 5. The voters also approved the 10-mill school levy as recommended by the School Board.

Of the election Tuesday Mc Farland received 351 votes; Dr. Coon, 281 and Wirick 339.

They desire to have mutual reliance and dependence upon each other due to their association over the past 10 years; that they have mutual business interests and deem it for the best interest of each of them that the relationship of partner and husband and wife be dissolved; and that the petitioner be restored to the status of a single person.

The petition alleges that not single one of the 13 candidates in the City Election was qualified to run according to the Charters Code and Ordinances of the City which the petition alleges calls for filing written statements and or petitions signed by not less than 25 qualified voters. Candidates in the City Election qualified merely by paying a $3 fee and signing a statement.

The petition further alleges that the use of the voting machines was also contrary to the City's Charter, and that voters were not given instructions on the use of the voting machines; that written ballots were not used; that approximately 150 names of deceased persons and other voters not qualified were not purged by the City Council.

The plaintiffs contend that as a result of the alleged actions they and other citizens were deprived of their rights to vote in a free, fair and honest election.

The mayor and members of the retired and present council will show cause before Judge Joe D. Kinsey Friday morning, November 15, at 9:30 why the relief sought by the plaintiffs should not be granted.

Glenn Eiland's Bond Set At $35,100 By Judge

A total of $35,100 in bonds must be posted by Glenn Eiland, 29, alleged assailant of Sheriff's Deputy James C. Murdock, to obtain his release from jail pending trial on four charges.

The bonds were set by County Judge Mervin Rehrer Monday when Eiland was arraigned on one of the four charges.

The charges, and amount of bond for each charge is as follows: Asault with intent to kill $15,000; Resisting arrest with violence $10,000; Possession of firearms after a felony conviction $10,000; discharging a firearm within the city limits of Sebring, $100.

Eiland pleaded not guilty to the charge of discharging a firearm within Sebring's city limits. He will be arraigned before Circuit Court Judge Joe D. Kinsey at a later date on the other three charges.

"The Rankest Kind of Federalism"

Representative Durham of North Carolina, who is chairman of the enormously powerful Congressional Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, recently had something of top importance to say about the production of electric power from nuclear sources.

The government, he pointed out, is deeply concerned with any atomic development, and so certain types of government regulation and control are inevitable. Then he said this: "But the regulatory responsibilities of the government in the field of the development and utilization of nuclear energy must not be exploited to expand and enlarge the government activities in the field of power. Electric power is a needed public service which the citizens of this nation can provide for themselves, under effective regulation. The notion that the federal government should build and operate generating stations just to have public power is the rankest kind of federalism, is wholly repugnant to our concept of free enterprise, won't assure the nation an adequate power supply, and generally weakens our economy by the unsound tax manipulation which results from federal power investment. . . .

"The industry must, over the next decade, prove by accomplishments that the privately-owned electric companies of the nation can and will do the job that has to be done if the nation is to realize the promise of atomic energy within the framework of a free enterprice economy."

There need be no fear that the industry will not or cannot do that. Power companies, both singly and in groups, are deeply engaged in all manner of atomic research and pilot projects—the kind of projects which will assure us abundant electricity from the atom in the shortest possible time and at the lowest cost. The question is whether the industry will be permitted to do the great job of which it is capable. The public power fanatics seek and will continue to seek a tax-subsidized federal monopoly of power from the atom—just as they seek a tax-subsidized federal monopoly of power from conventional sources. That is the problem now confronting this country as we move into the atoms-for-peace era.

You And Your Retailer

Retail sales this year will hit a record figure of more than $200 billion, marking an increase of some $9 billion over 1956. That happy forecast comes from Editor Godfrey M. Lebhar of Chain Store Age. He bases it on sales estimates by the Department of Commerce covering the first seven months of the year, plus an estimate for the remaining five months which takes into consideration the current rate of consumer purchases.

The significance of this, Mr. Lebhar believes, lies not so much in the fact that it will represent a new record but in what is behind it. He observes: "The fact is that despite all the talk one hears about our weakening economy, with a recession always lurking just around the corner, no such pessimism is warranted." The indicated reduction in defense orders by the government will be more than offset by the expected gain in retail sales.

This adds up to good news of the first water, and we'll all hope that the predictions prove true. It is often said, and accurately, that retailing provides the perfect show window for the American free enterprise system with all its abundance. The state of retail trade determines the state of our economic system as a whole. Hence the public interest.

The Church may not have its name blazoned across every front page, but it is big news just the same.

From infancy to old age, the Church offers many things to each and every individual.

The Church introduces human beings to God.

The Church emphasizes the beautiful through its architecture, its services, whether ritualistic or informal, its music.

The Church develops leaders through its many activities.

The Church broadens man's outlook through its work of sending the gospel to those in far-away places.

The Church exemplifies the brotherhood of man through the welcome it extends to all who believe.

Last, and most important of all, the Church offers salvation and the assurance of eternal life for every believer.

Big news—the Church! Can you afford to miss it?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"Teen - Town Talk"

The Victory Dance drew a nice crowd Friday night after the game with Frostproof. The grid-iron heroes and football fans all did justice to the hot dogs and cold drinks sold for refreshments. Judge and Mrs. Mervin Rehrer and Mr. and Mrs. John Cittterdon chaperoned the occasion.

Saturday night there were about 65 present for the weekly session at Teen-Town. Again hot dogs and cold drinks were there for refreshment and as usual plenty of good music, and games. Chaperones were Dr. and Mrs. Stuart Ward and Mr. Andy Miracle, Recreational Director. In addition to Avon Park, Frostproof, Sebring and several other towns were represented.

Nancy Ginn, who finished high school here last spring, and is now attending Stetson College in Deland, Florida, was home over the week-end. All of her friends were happy to see her at the Club on Friday and Saturday nights. Nancy looked 'sweet and lovely' as always, in matched skirt and sweater sets, one brown and one green. Come back often, Nancy, Avon Park misses you.

Next Friday will be a special night at the Club as the school is holding its homecoming dance right after the game. Admission will be 25c. Hot dogs 10c, Hamburgers 15c and cold drinks 10c. Parents are urged to attend, if only for a few minutes. Some have never been in the Club and we believe that they would enjoy a little visit.

If any Club member has anything of interest they would like to see written up in "Teen-Town Talk" please call Mrs. Coats at 2-7501. Any one willing to volunteer as chaperone call Mrs. Stuart Ward at 2-7471.

Miss Nistendirk Speaks To Senior Woman's Club

Miss Verna Nistendirk, State Director of Regional Libraries, spoke on "The Value of Regional Libraries" to the members of the Avon Park Senior Woman's Club at their luncheon meeting on Friday, Nov. 1, in the Club house. She also stated that November has been designated as "Know your Library Month". Miss Avis Slaughter, Avon Park Librarian, was a special guest at the luncheon along with Miss Nistendirk.

Dr. Ruth Phillips gave her very interesting report on International Affairs and urged members to offer their services for the Ground Observer Corps.

Mrs. Andy Hart and Mrs. P. F. Waterson were welcomed as new members. Mrs. Ralph Kelly, president, presided over the business session. The club members voted to send Mrs. Kelley, Mrs. Samuel O. Norris and Mrs. Robert Watson as delegates to the District 9 meeting in Bartow on Tuesday, Nov. 5. The club also decided to turn the matter of obtaining an abstract for the land on the east side of the Library over to the Library Committee for further study.

Mrs. Kelly reported briefly on the CDA meeting which she attended, the purpose of which was the "Beautification of Avon Park". It was suggested that all residents be asked to plant petunias during November.

Thanks were extended to Mrs. Charles Kinkelday, Chairman of the Club house Committee, and her committee for the fine work they had done. Mrs. William Reitzner, Chairman of the Luncheon, and her committee were also praised for their fine work.

Mrs. I. H. Ford reported most gratifying results from the pie and cake sales at the Halloween Carnival and received the appreciation of the club for her hard work on this committee.

The next meeting of the Senior Woman's Club in December will be held in the Union Congregational Church with Mrs. Edna Jackson in charge of the program. The time of the meeting will be 3 o'clock.

An invitation to the Open House on November 10 from 2 until 5 of the new Hillcrest Nursing Home was read the members.

Mr. George Mills showed lovely motion pictures and Mrs. Mills made a short delightful talk on their recent trip to Europe. All the members were interested in the beautiful pictures and the hints for European travelers.

This medical discovery treats the causes, not just the symptoms, of premenstrual tension, thus relieving the nerve-racking distress that may leave you extra sensitive, unstrung, more subject to pain at the beginning of your period.
Latest findings show pre-menstrual tension is largely due to stored-up fluids which cause pressures and nervousness. TRANQUILEZ can reduce these pressures, leaving you calm and relaxed when your period begins. Find these facts now—make your next look bad. Or would it?

The Hallowe'en jamboree on Thursday last, Mrs. Book in charge, was a honey. There were no tricks but plenty of treats in the shape of doughnuts and coffee, thanks to Mrs. Warner. It was a jamboree all right, the house being jam full, nearly 130 elbowing each other round and having a good time. Various games were played, but perhaps the highlight was a square dance engineered by Professor Krenerick, Master of the Dance. It was a novelty dance, men in gowns and women in pants. They whooped it up and had a fine time. You should have seen 'em, you who didn't. But that did not affect the usual Friday dance. That functioned with some 75 dancers present. More doughnuts and coffee afterwards, and, mirabile dictu, no reports of indigestion as yet.

The shuffleboard tournaments are on for the season, Thomas with the aid of Mrs. Goodwin. It was a Goodwin day all right. All games were interesting, but the most entertaining was played on No. 12 where the final score was: Black 6, Red minus 8!! Well, well, when you can win by a score of 6 out of a possible 75, it is worth recording in the annuals of the Guest Club.

The Tuesday afternoon bridge club got off last week with a flying start: four tables, eight couples, and Mr. Lester Truex walked off the high honors and the usual smile. Good for Lester.

Eight couples and one over sat down at the groaning tables at last Saturday's pot-luck supper. The "wittles", as Sam Weller called them, were as usual better than ever, and what the party lacked in numbers made up by conviviality. Small dinner parties are likely to be that way.

Some 60 members attended the gospel singing in the club house last Sunday under the able direction of Mr. Shiltz. The melodious singing must have pleased the angel ears up above. Besides the group singing there were two solos by a young lady visitor, the men were invited up front to sing to the ladies and got a good hand for the doing, our beloved Cal read a paper about our human belief of the life hereafter, followed by a very tuneful solo. It was all very pleasing. The meeting ended by singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again". And that being what most of us feel, with that thought we'll end this little spiel. So says

...man's Club ...s Many Activities

Girl Scout News

At the regular scout meeting on Thursday, Oct. 31st the girls decided that each meeting would be opened with the song "Girl Scouts Together" and close with the Girl Scout Promise.

Sherry Wells was elected song leader. The scouts were divided into a fourth patrol with Torista Gaster the new patrol leader. There were thirty three members present and Sandra Biggs was a new member. Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. F. Simpson.

Susan Lee Entertains With Halloween Party

The carport was decorated with black and orange streamers and large pumpkin and black cat adorned the table. The small guests wore colorful costumes and played parade and other games. Susan blew out the three candles on her three tiered birthday cake decorated with pink and green. The boys and girls enjoyed eating the birthday cake and chocolate ice cream cones. The favors were orange and black cups with candy.

All the guests enjoyed helping Susan open her many lovely gifts. Boys and girls present were Danny Bennett, Eddie Culp, Jimmie Dilley, Candy and Holly Reddick, Sue and Beth Ferguson, Mandy Muness, Debbie and Joan Young, Sarah, Janice and Patty Turnbull, Kathy Kirkland, Rita and Rickie Rich, Butch and Paula Jean Allen, Gary Griffin, Susie Skipper, Bill and Ann MacDaniels, Winnie Davis, Johnny and Brad Giddens, Robby Watson, Stephanie Samergedes, Billy Phillips, and Walter Kempton.

Phillips 66 Trop-Artic THE ALL WEATHER MOTOR OIL

LIGHT OIL HEAVY OIL

This one all-weather motor oil gives you the easy starting of a light motor oil . . . the high temperature protection of a heavy motor oil. It's one oil combining the different advantages of a light and heavy oil for all driving conditions.

Users of TROP-ARTIC* All-Weather Motor Oil never have to worry about using different grades of oil. TROP-ARTIC is a light oil and heavy oil in one (grades 10W through 30). Furthermore, it lubricates and protects your motor far better than any of the old-fashioned "single grade" oils.

The reason is that TROP-ARTIC never gets too thick or too thin. In a cold engine it flows quickly for easy starting. In a hot engine it retains the "body" necessary to prevent wear. It reduces friction to save you gasoline. It keeps your engine clean. Compared to old-fashioned oils it can even double engine life. Soil Conservation News

By Sam Polston

The Highlands Soil Conservation received an application from John Boyd of Sebring and H. L. Clark of Lake Placid for assistance in developing a complete conservation farm plan.

R. A. Carlton of Lorida planted 10 acres of paraguay Bahia no. 22. This is the first planting of this pasture grass for the Highlands Soil Conservation District. Mr. Carlton is Agricultural Agent for the Seaboard Railroad and said this was just a trail planting. The Soil Conservation Service through their nursery, furnished Mr. Carlton with the first Pensacola bahia grass seed to be planted in the Highlands District. This was done over twelve years ago and now Pensacola bahia is a grass used throughout the South-east.

Mr. Rollie Murray of Sebring planted 80 acres of Pensacola bahia grass and Louisiana White Dutch clover mixture this week on his ranch at Lake Josephine. Marvin Kahn of Sebring is planting about 100 acres of white dutch-hubam clover mixture this week on an old pangola grass sod.

Mr. Carl McIntyre of Sebring said his old stand of white Dutch clover that was recently fertilized is beginning to make a showing now that the weather is favorable. He will have clover to graze in a few days. He has 65 acres that will be under seepage irrigation when his control structures are completed. The Soil Conservation Service engineers assisted him in the designing and layout of the system.

Meikrowave .....

—By Don Meikeljohn

South Florida folks may be behind a plot to name the new university at Tampa—"University of South Florida."

If South Florida plays its cards right, it will name the proposed new university at Boca Raton--"Pork Chop U." The Tampa school might get some benefits from the magic of the "South Florida" tag . . but what about on appropriations?

Obviously "Pork Chop U" will fare better before the Senate Appropriations committee than a school with "Worth Florida" as a name.

The Department of Education has cut out some snappy cartoons to interest kids in becoming teachers. Looks like their appealing to the wrong kids. They might do better putting pitch inside a school book. At least they would narrow it down to the youngsters that open the books.

About the emptiest place in the Capitol these days is the governor's office. Gov. Collins is spending more and more time working at his new office in the basement of the new Governor's mansion.

It makes it a little hard on newshounds, who like to keep tab on the governor's visitors.

But it's nice for tourists. It gives them a chance to sit in the governor's chair during tours of the capital.

******

The Road Department is going to show off its new thinking machine next month. It supposed to be able to work out intricate engineering problems with the greatest of ease.

******

It will probably pass the test, if it can answer one question: "When will the new parkway in front of the Capitol be finished?"

Underway by Smith Engineering and Construction Co. for two years, the new parkway still isn't finished.

The snow white capitol buildings are getting tinted with a "red clay tint". Frank Trippett Capitol Correspondent for the St. Pete Times, described the work as "the world's largest professionally constructed mud pie."

Florida State University's homecoming was "non political".

Legislator's that did show up showed more interest in the apportionment of the majorettes's than in the legislative angles of the same question.

Gov. Collins has spelled out that he expects assessors to make a "good faith" effort at bringing property assessments into line.

If they willfully refused to do so, he said he would consider it neglect of duty, which is grounds for suspension.

This puts it on the line.

The problem is the assessor more afraid of the people who elect him year after year on the basis of low assessments or the governor?

DON MEIKLEJOHN

NOTE TO EDITORS: Weekly press conferences with the governor have been scheduled for Thursday. Alternating between 9:30 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. If you have a question you'd like an answer to, let me know.

Devils Defeat Frostproof 32 - 7

The Avon Park Red Devils got back into high gear last Friday Night at Memorial Field when they downed the Frostproof Bullpups 32 to 7 and overcame another obstacle on the road to the Ridge Conference Championship. This win gives the Red Devils three wins against no losses and one tie. They are currently tied with the Sebring Blue Streaks for first place in the conference standings. Sebring's record is also 3-0-1.

The Bullpups came to Avon Park with a much improved ball club and continued to hit and drive hard right down to the final whistle. The Frostproof backfield looked very good with Tailback Alton Carraway and L. Douglas running the tricky single-wing plays with a considerable amount of success against the tough Devil line. The Bullpup line, although scrappy, couldn't match the determination and agressiveness of the big red line. The Devil forward wall played very good ball despite the fact that Coaches Joe Franza and Guy Garrett had moved some boys to new positions to add strenth. Two big gaps had to be filled when Winkie Williams was moved to halfback and Henry Scott was dropped from the squad for disciplinary reasons. The Devil line led by boys like Farless, Parrish, Elder, Bigbie, L. Starling and Martin have proven themselves tough and hard to be pushed around.

The vaunted Devil backfield after being weakened for the past two games with sickness and injuries was in much better form against the Bullpups. The addition of Winkie Williams in the backfield gives the Devils much more power, power that no team in the conference can match. The passing of Quarterback Jimmy Cooper is greatly improved and now plays a big part in the Devils' offensive game. He completed six out of thirteen against the Bullpups, mostly to End Ben Earnest. A touchdown aerial to End Futch was called back because of a rule infraction. Halfback Billy Rouse ran well against Frostproof and reeled off a beautiful 70 yard touchdown run. This too was called back for a foul. He is expected to be in tip top running condition against the Kissimmee Kowboys this week.

Avon Park took the opening kickoff and drove down to score with Johnny Starling taking it over from the six. This was a drive of 58 yards. Cooper's pass to Earnest was good for the extra point.

The Bullpups after taking the kickoff were unable to gain in two plays and Carraway caught the Devils napping with a nice quickkick. The Devils' Starling picked up 8 yards around end and then Rooster Rouse brought the fans to their feet with his 70 yard sprint that was called back.

In the second quarter Frostproof's offensive picked up a little and they had a drive going only to have Jimmy Cooper intercept a pass. The Big Red mixed power plays with accurate passes and drove down to score with Rouse carring it over. The point was no good. The ball changed hands a couple of times by pass interceptions just before the half ended.

Frostproof received Avon Park's kick and ran two plays before fumbling to the Devils. The Devils picked up one first down then fumbled back to the Bullpups. The Pups tossed a pass and Leroy Farless intercepted and ran it back for a touchdown. The kick for extra point was blocked. Frostproof was again unable to gain and punted to the Devile. The Devils went on to score with Futch taking the pass in the end zone. This too was called back as the third quarter ended.

Avon Park scored early in the last quarter with Rouse taking a pitchout and going around right end. A beautiful block by Winkie Williams aided immeasurably. The Bullpups came back and racked up their first touchdown against Ridge competition with Carraway going over from the four. This was set up by a triple reverse play and by a roughness penalty by Avon Park. The extra point was good.

Halfback Winkie Williams added his name to the list of scorers late in the final quarter when he went over from the three. Cooper added the point on a buck. Avon Park rolled up 14 first downs to 8 for the visitors and were penalized 70 yards to 35 for Frostproof.

Deputy Captures Lake Placid's Mystery Caller

James E. Thomas, 37 year old truck driver from Miami, was captured Monday morning by Sheriff's Deputy Charles M. Rucker as he came out of a pay station booth in Lake Placid.

The capture of Thomas brought to a close the mystery telephone calls to Lake Placid women. Thomas allegedly made lewd and lascivious suggestions to Lake Placid women whose names he picked from the telephone directory. During the past six weeks five married women and a nine-year old girl were the victims of such calls.

Thomas was arraigned before County Judge Mervin Rehrer Monday. He pleaded guilty to five charges and not guilty to six charges. Sentence on each guilty plea totaled $700 in fines and 14 months in jail. Bonds of $500 each was set by Judge Reher on the remaining charges.

Thomas told the judge he merely asked the women for "dates" but admitted he made indecent remarks to the girl whom he said he thought was a boy.

Thomas is married but has no children and has been making daily runs from Miami to Lake Wales and return for the past six months.

CRACKER POLITICS

BY ALLEN MORRIS

TALLAHASSEE—A significant speech by Governor LeRoy Collins which no one here had heard about in detail is being applauded by a Southern religious magazine as having come to grips with today's problems when Billy Graham failed.

What was supposed to have been the usual "mild and somewhat meaningless words" of greeting to a convention turned out, in the opinion of the Presbyterian Outlook of Richmond, to be a "real challenge" to Christians "to meet the attacks of pressure groups in the present racial situation."

Catching unplanned inspirational fire from the "All the Way for Christ" theme displayed at the Southern Presbyterian Men's convention at Miami, Governor Collins likened the attitude of those Floridians who shrugged off two fairly recent state incidents to that of the handwashing of Pontius Pilate.

The Governor reminded the some 8,000 Presbyterians how Pilate had faced up to the cry of the Judea mob for the crucifixion of Jesus by calling publicly for a bowl of water, dipping his hands, and saying "I wash my hands of the whole thing. The blood of this innocent and righteous man will not be on my hands. See to it yourself."

ued Governor Collins, Floridued Governor Collins, Floridians generally said "see to it yourself" when an "anarchistic" interposition resolution whistled through the Legislature and similarly said, in effect, "see to it yourself" when a busy woman public health doctor was fired for having a backroom sandwich with a Negro nurse so they could discuss their mutual responsibilities during lunch.

Of the firing of Dr. Deborah Coggins by the Madison county commission, Governor Collins asked the Presbyterian convention:

"Where in that situation were our Presbyterians? Where were our Methodists? Our Episcopalians? Where were all of our churchmen? Where were all of our people who are dedicated to this proposition of 'All for Christ'?

"Did they go before these county commissioners and say, 'Don't! This is wrong!' No, they called for the bowl, and they washed their hands, and they said, just as Pontius Pilate said, 'The blood of this innocent, righteous person won't be on my hands. See to it yourself.'

"And she was fired, to the everlasting shame of our state."

(Actually, at least two persons did stand up and protest to the county commission—T. C. Merchant, Jr., editor of Madison's weekly newspaper, and Robert Browning, who was transferred out of the Madison health unit as a consequence. Both were Presbyterian deacons at the time.)

The Presbyterian Outlook, reviewing the Miami convention in its current issue, commented that the speakers came closer to some of the "real problems than they have in earlier conventions, but very few actually came to grips with the crucial issues in a way that was irrecapable.

"As one layman put it, 'Billy Graham had the big opportunity, but Governor Collins used it.' Time after time in his address dealing with the citizenship phase Billy Graham came up close to the problem, but he never did come to grips with it. It was Governor Collins, an Episcopalian, on the opening evening who stirred the convention as few, if any others, did."

The Outlook recalled that in its daily convention newspaper "We suggested that in this day of weak compromises and compromisers the (Collins) is raising a banner of Christian courage and of influence that is worthy of best traditions of our heritage.

"For a man in public life to do this, and particularly one for whom larger political possibilities have been pointed out, is something rare today. Governor Collins did it at great personal risk, and his example proved to be a tonic for the convention."

In its seperate news report of the convention, the Outlook said "after this high mark (the Collins speech) it seemed that any speaker would be largely anticlimatic."

Referring to the interposition resolution, expressing the Legislature's assertion of the right of states in fields not specifically reserved to the Federal government, Governor [illegible] told the Presbyterian church men:

"Last spring in our State Legislature a resolution was introduced in the heat of all this racial controversy. It was a resolution that struck at the very concept of law and government. It was anarchistic in its very nature. It defied all those things that we as patriotic citizens have tried to preach and practice over the years.

"I took the position that passage of that sort of legislation would stultify our state. I so hoped that some bar association—some lawyers who knew better—would say, 'Don't do that!' But the mob was howling, so they washed their hands of it and they said, 'See to it yourself.'

So Governor Collins left the church leaders with the problem, "will you be 'all the way for Christ' when the mob is howling at your door and the pressure comes?"

Rotary News

Members of the Avon Park Rotary Club enjoyed a delicious meal Wednesday, October 30, at the State Prison. After lunch L. L. Wainwright, Superintendent, conducted the members on a tour through the prison. The tour included a visit to the wood working shop, print shop, work shop, infirmary and denial clinic.

Members were amazed and delighted with the trip and each is looking forward to visiting the prison again.

WHEN THE DINNER BELL RINGS

By The Bird Woman

Food is a necessity to every living thing. It gives us the type of fuel to the means of growing it, every thing that must have nourishment.

The human body is not the only gormandizer, but down to the most minute organism or cell, whether it exists in water or land or in the body of man or animal, this desire is present and must be satisfied if life is to continue.

Babies will cry and show the desire for food even before we give them credit for being organized sufficiently to make their wants known.

Have you ever seen a baby bird that did not stretch it's neck and open it's mouth, until it seemed all mouth, when there was a sound or a slight jar of the nest?

Every one who has raised caged birds has experienced this many times, and many people have raised a nest of wild birds when the parents have been killed, by putting the food on a tooth pick and poking it far down into the fledglings throat.

Indians had a knack for rearing unfortunate fledglings which was quite successful, they would mix saliva with the food much as the bird parents would have done.

We know that many birds will consume their own weight of food daily, and while this imposes quite a task for the parents, yet we see what a tremendous number of insects and weed seed that are destroyed daily.

If a growing boy should eat in proportion to a bird he would eat daily as much as two sheep or a calf, so lets be thankful that his appetite isn't any greater than it is, and that our wonderful helpers do have such a capacity for food.

It is such an amazing thing to realize that the most seemingly flippant and care free birds, as well as the most arrogant, such as the Jay, realize that their young must have food, and as soon as the first fledgling is out of the shell, the parents, one or both immediately begin to hunt and prepared in the same manner that every fledgling of its specie has received every since that bird was created and it was instilled in it by the Creator what manner of life it should live and what manner of food it was equipped to consume.

We do not see water birds skimming about through our shrubs hunting small insects, neither do we see the Cardinal or Towhee or any of our garden birds standing in shallow water fish or snails.

As far as we have been able to learn there is no Welfare Agency among the bird families, each individual family assumes it's responsibility and withstands vigerously any attempt of another bird to even approach it's nest.

Usually both parents share in the incubation and feeding of the young, but in some species the male assumes the role of a gay young bachelor and leaves the feeding to the female, in these species it was decreed that there would be fewer eggs per nest so the female would be able to care for them herself.

In some other species when the young become old enough for the mother to start the second nest, the father takes complete care of the young both the feeding and their protection.

We would like to mention the methods used by a few birds to feed their young; The Cedar Waxwing, which migrates our way about the time mulberries are ripe and usually stay as long as the bloom remains on the Silk Oak or the loquats or other early fruit are in season.

The Cedar Waxwing is an expert prestidigitator, when it arrives at it's nest no fruit is in evidence for the brood, nevertheless it is carrying a full market basket, which is sometimes enough for a meal for the entire family, this food is carried in it's distended throat, but it is not partly digested as in some other species.

And presently up will come a cherry (For they nest in the north) and it will slide down the gullet of one of the fledglings, then perhaps more cherries or berries and an occassional insect to vary the diet, until all the hungry mouths have been filled, sometimes the food must be carried for quite a distance from the nest and that has been provided for, using the esophagus as a market basket.

Where these birds are numerous the fruit grower does not begrudge the loss of some fruit, as this bird is such a good insect gatherer.

An entirely different system is used by Cooper's Hawk, it of course feeds chiefly on small rodents and birds. It will decapitate a bird and pick most of the feathers from it before it is offered to the young.

The Pelican partially digests the food it gives to it's young, their food being principally fish, which it garners, and collects in it's pouch under it's bill and the young reaches deep into the pouch to procure it's meal, so deeply does it delve into the pouch that a bystander would think that it was headless.

The interesting Gannets of the Timberline and Tunda of the far north are lavish feeders and by the time the young are twelve to thirteen weeks old they are heavier than their parents, then the parents abandon them altogether and for at least ten days they starve until they are able to find their way to the Sea, and gather their own food, which they do by swimming and diving like their parents, with no previous training.

As the Pelican, the Gannet will dive downward a hundred feet through the air and send up a spray of water ten feet high, to catch a fish, but it is also cushioned with pneumatic cells which breaks the force of the contact with the water. Gannets have been caught in Fisherman's nets fourteen fathoms deep.

The crossbill is an exotic bird and although not a native of Florida, it is quite a well known bird in the east and at first glimpse it looks as if it had a deformed bill, for it's bill is crossed, but as in other birds this is for a purpose, it is to remove the scales from pine cones so it can eat the seed.

Another exotic bird with which we are familiar is the Hummingbird, there are many species but the Ruby throat is the one with we are most familiar in Florida.

Think of a bird with a darning needle bill trying to feed young, we have heard of sword swallowers in the circus, but this one may be seen for free, no nurse is present to give instructions, still our smallest bird has that innate knowledge of the care and feeding of it's young.

The Women's Society For Christian Service

The Women's Society for Christian Service held its regular monthly general meeting on Monday, November 4, at 8 o'clock in Wesley Hall.

The meeting opened with a song followed by the reading of the Lord's Prayer by the group.

Circle 2 presented the interesting program which followed. Mrs. I. H. Ford spoke on the subject "The Mind That is Christ" and mentioned some quadrennial goals and financial goals. A dialogue, "The Classroom of the Burning Brush" was given by Sarah Leslie Harrison, Mary Sally Sayers, and Claire Maxwell.

After this interesting dialogue Mrs. John Cottenden, Secretary of Student Work, discussed "Institutions of Higher Learning in the Home and Foreign Fields of the Women's Division of Methodism". Her talk stressed four main objectives: (1) to meet educational needs, (2) to develop interracial and international understanding, (3) to supply training for local and community leadership, and (4) to train students for full time Christian service.

The song, "My Lord and I" was sung by a trio, Eve Campbell, Peggy Bussard, and Sarah Leslie Harrison. Claire Maxwell spoke on "The Beginnings of Student Work in the United States" and Mary Sally Sayers discussed "The Methodist Student Movement."

Mrs. Fred Simcox presided over the business meeting which followed. The date of the annual Fall Festival of the First Methodist Church was set for Dec. 3. Remember this date!

Shell Service Station Dealers Get Insurance

Shell Oil Company has initiated a nationwide group life insurance program for service station dealers, jobbers and other marketers of Shell products and their employees.

The insurance is an outgrowth of suggestions made by Shell dealer councils held earlier this year throughout the United States.

The program to be administered by the Travelers Insurance Company, is expected to go into effect on December 1. Jobbers will be insured for 10,000. Dealers and distributors for $5,000, and employees for $2,000.

The group insurance plan includes a double indemnity clause in case of accidental death and additional benefits in case of dismemberment. Medical examinations are not necessary, and no one is excluded because of age.

November 5, 1957
Mr. Bill Myers, Editor
Avon Park Sun
Avon Park, Florida
Dear Mr. Myers:

We are writing in reply to your article of November 31, entitled "Trick Or Treat Is For Small Children, Not Teenage Rowdyism."

Your article left the impression that all teenagers went out on Halloween hunting trouble. This is not so. There may be a few who go out with the intention of distreying private property but they are in the minority. The main idea is to have a good time without being destructive. Teenagers are at that in-between stage but nevertheless, they still know the difference in right and wrong.

It is our opinion that all our holidays, including Halloween, are observed and enjoyed by people of all ages, not just small children.

The teenagers wish to point out that it is generally the youths of the junior age group who tend to get into mischief. (By Junior age, we mean 10 to 14.)

We recall a quotation of wisdom which we heard once. It applies to our situation. It stated, "The older you get, the less you do, and the more you get blamed."

Many of the teenagers had dates on the night the damage was done. This is the trend in our group. They attended a movie which lasted into the wee small hours. We are sure no one felt like playing pranks after that. This seems to clear the young people of the false accusations.

To the adults who issued complaints, we would like to make a request. Think, Parents! Where were your children Halloween night? Were they at another's house doing what you are complaining about?

In writing this letter, we did not mean to hurt any feelings but we did want to let the public know that the teenagers have been offended by these false accusations. We love our community and for the most part we try to protect it. We do our best as young Americans and the best is all anyone can do.

Respectfully yours,
Teenagers of Avon Park

Dear Sir:

I would like for Mrs. Louise Armstrong to answer a few questions. I believe the Public is entitled to know about.

1. You say you are a good loser. Would you raise all this commotion if you had won.

2. Why do you think you are so important to the city. Avon Park has managed to get along without you being on the council up to now. And it seems the majority of the people believe we can still get along without you.

3. I am sure, being a very intelligent woman, you realize your actions are going to cost the city money the city needs so badly for improvements. Wouldn't it be better for the money to go for this purpose than for another election the voters have proven they don't won't by their refusing to sign your referendum.

4. The Chamber of Commerce is doing its best to encourage tourists to settle here. Are you helping in this cause!

5. Why don't you go on the other side of the tracks and keep your big mouth shut!

Sincerely yours,
Warren George

Washington SEE SAW

by WM PENDLETON

BOB SIKES AGAIN—Congressman Bob Sikes and Inez were in town last week. While s...rious business called the Congressman back to town, he and Inez did take the opportunity to attend the reception at the British Embassy for Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

The serious business had to do with Sikes' work on the Defense Subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee. Among other things he was boiling mad at Vice-President Nixon for his statement on the inadvisability of tax cuts in view of the lagging missile program.

Sikes said the two were not related. He said Nixon's statement completely ignored the deep cuts in the current military budget that were made arbitrarily by Secretary Charles E. Wilson. Sikes said that Nixon, "is just trying to divert attention from the real facts in the defense picture.

"In the field of guided missiles and the satellite program," Sikes said, "Congress has approved every dollar the Administration permitted the services to say they could properly use. It is common knowledge in Washington that a number of our leading experts in this field have been disturbed about Russia's rapid progress and our own failure to push ahead with our full capability."

He said that the Administration's present about-face attitude looks like panic. "Proposals by Vice-President Nixon for greater spending next year indicates a return to the costly and wasteful peaks-and-valleys system of defense spending.

"Cuts inflicted by the Administration have weakened Western defenses at a very critical time and the loss of the Middle East is a real possibility," he said. "With full knowledge of her advantage in the missiles race, Russia is pushing ahead there despite Mr. Dulles' talk of war." Sikes said he thought that the Russians had gained an unexpected propaganda advantage and is using it where it will do the most good.

"I feel there is still official unawareness of our serious status in the field of missiles ...wide and I hope the Administration will listen to people who know the score and have the knowledge to do something to improve our position rapidly."

Sikes indicated that he was greatly alarmed over the Russian's successful launching of the satellite. He said it was only a hint of Russian technological and scientific ability.

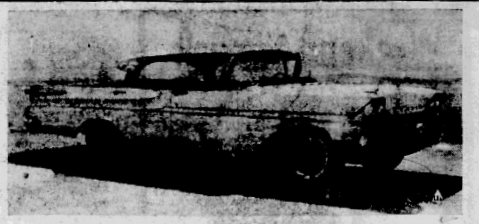

He has urged that all of the defense committees of the Congress be convened at once in Washington to study firsthand the lagging American satellite and missile programs. The Florida "he-coon" said he was sure that we can out produce the Russians, but that we can't do it by following the "stupid" policy of sitting on our hands while the Russians are at work 24 hours a day. He said the Administration should take every step to find the men and means to recapture the initative and hold it in all of these important scientific fields.

THE NEW MONEY—Have you seen the new Charlie Bennett dollars? You can get them now. As a result of a bill introduced by the Jacksonville Congressman, all of our new paper money will carry the inscription, "In God We Trust." For years this motto has been on all U. S. coins but never before on our paper. The wording appears on the back of the money and will be added to all new issues as they are printed.

Incidentally, the first bills that carry the slogan also are the first to be signed by the new Secretary of the Treasury, Robert Anderson.

Devils To Play Winter Park Friday Night

After a week's layoff the Avon Park Red Devils will resume action this Friday night when they travel to Winter Park to battle the Winter Park Wildcats. This is a non-conference game and was booked to fill in the gap left when the Bartow game was played October 4th in place of Fort Mead.

Very little is known about the Wildcats but it is thought that they play in a league a little tougher than the Ridge loop. By way of comparison we find that Winter Park was beaten this past week by Lakeview 9 to 7. This same Lakeview team beat a weak Kissimmee team 12 to 7. Kissimmee was beaten by Kathleen 12 to 0 and by Mulberry 33 to 0. Avon Park trounced Kathleen 32 to 0 and beat Mulberry 20 to 6. If these scores mean anything then Avon Park should go into the game playing the role of the favorite.

Building Permits Total $80,050 For October

The City of Avon Park issued fifteen building permits during the month of October 1957 totaling $80,050.

Six permits issued totaling $30,200 were for new homes; seven permits, $4,850, were for additions and alterations; one $6,000 permit for commerical and a $40,000 permit for the new motel.

Although only a little better than twice the number of permits were issued last month as compared to the month of October 1956 the total value this year was nearly twenty times as great. For during October 1956 there were only seven permits totaling $4,275 issued by the City.

The Highlands County School Board approved the addition of seven classrooms at the Avon Elementary School and that the Architect, Heim and Heim, proceed with these Plans and specifications immediately.

The Board received a state wide report on school transporation and maintenance which states that Highlands County ranks Seventh in the state and received a percentage rating of 99.69% which is excellent.

A resolution was passed by the Board requesting the aid of Sheriff Broward Coker in seeing that students are in regular attendance at school Sheriff Coker advised the Board that he would be glad to cooperate in anyway possible.

The Board approved the policy that the Valedictorian and Salutatorian from the high schools of the county must complete all of their senior high school work (grades 10-12) in the school from which they earn the honor.

Dedication and Open House for the E. O. Douglas School has been set for Friday night, November 15, at 8 o'clock. All colored and white citizens are invited to attend.

Rev. Harry Parham of Lake Placid requested that the county schools not accept monies for Band and other school related groups that is raised by lotteries.

The Board gave Mrs. Smith of Sebring permission to teach piano classes during the school hours to students of the Woodlawn school. Classes will be conducted in a home adjoining the school property.

Mrs. Hazel Howell of the Avon Elementary appeared before the Board requesting that school lunch rooms be considered in a more thorough manner thus recognizing their true value to our school program, and salaries paid reflecting their value in comparison to other salaries.

The Tool Exchange

The American Economic Foundation has issued a booklet entitled "The A-B-C's of Your Financial Security In Our Changing World." It deals with the various forms of savings that are available to everyone and with their respective characteristics.

One section of the booklet is devoted to common stocks. And here it says: "One of the greatest economic inventions of all time is the stock exchange with its many broker members. By no other method could the United States have developed its enormous stock of productive tools which are the secret of our power, prosperity, and national security.

"This is the network that gathers millions of small investments and puts them together into multi-million dollar corporations.

"It is also the network that enables people to buy or sell their tool investments with safety, or, at least, with knowledge of the risk involved."

That phrase "tool exchange" is a happy and accurate one. Our great enterprises, which are responsible for our employment and living standards, represent the invested savings of great numbers of people — and most of those people are in the moderate income brackets. The stock exchange is the instrument that makes it possible to accumulate and concentrate those savings.

The Foundation's booklet makes another important observation. Crooks and sharpers are always trying to "take" the unwary investor, usually with mail and telephone pitches. But there is no need for anyone to be victimized by these vultures. You can protect yourself by dealing only with an established broker who is a member of one or more of the nation's stock exchanges.

Private Enterprise Scores Again

Handling the baggage of transferred military personnel has always been something of a problem. When a service man is ordered to some far distant station, long delays in sending on his "hold-baggage" have been commonplace.

Now, however, a new system promises marked improvement. The European edition of The Stars And Stripes, the service newspaper, tells the story.

It concerns the transfer of an officer from Fort Bliss, Texas, to Giessen, Germany. Under the old system, The Stars And Stripes says, deliveries of baggage over similar distances averaged six weeks. Personnel traveling by air turned in their hold-baggage to the transportation officer, who in turn gave it to a military transportation service, which handled trans-ocean shipment. Then at the port of debarkation it was turned over to the port transportation officer, who arranged for forwarding to the final destination.

The new system does the job in 20 days instead of six weeks—and in addition, according to officials, it is actually cheaper. And an interesting fact here is that the job is done, not by a government agency, but by a private enterprise. The military baggage is turned over to the Railway Express Agency at point of origin, and the Army doesn't see it again until it reaches the final destination.

Railway Express, incidentally, has lately been developing a fast, simple and economical international shipping service. The example described in The Stars And Stripes indicates how effective that service is.

Mercury To Show 20 New Models

With a big new "super Mercury" series called the Park Lane, and major styling and engineering changes in its full line of cars, Mercury for 1958 will blanket the whole medium price market with a total of 20 models.

The new Park Lane, with three models, is the biggest and most luxurious Mercury ever built. It has a wheelbase of 125 inches and it is 220.2 inches long — nine inches longer than the 1957 Mercury.

"By extending our car line into the upper-medium price bracket, Mercury for 1958 offers a big car with matching power and performance throughout the entire range of the medium price field," said James J. Nance, general manager of Lincoln and Mercury Division and vice president of Ford Motor Company.

Matchless performance throughout the entire driving range is provided in a series of four new Mercury Marauder overhead valve V-8 engines with horsepower ranging from 312 to 400. These new engines feature such unique engineering concepts as water-jacketed intake manifold and combustion chambers in the engine block rather than in the cylinder head.

Full air cushion suspension, which improves the ride considerably by greatly reducing pitch and other road and driving disturbances, is optional. This suspension uses air as a springing medium instead of steel, and it maintains the height of the car at a constant level regardless of number of passengers.

In a major styling change, all front end sheet metal in the 1958 Mercury is new and features a longer, lower hood which carries a graceful step up to the cowl. New sculptured fender lines blend with a heavies bumper-grille and incorporate quadri-beam headlights as standard equipment.

Long, deep-channeled side projectiles with unique tubular chrome outrigger tail lights and a restyled thin roof line with narrower quarter posts and greater rear roof overhang accentuate Mercury's crisp appearance and give it a low, fast silhouette.

Living room luxury is provided in the magnificent interiors, all color co-ordinated to complement the attractive array of exterior body colors.

Four transmissions are offered, including a new Merc-O-Matic Multi-Drive automatic transmission which gives unmatched flexibility in meeting individual driving requirements or habits. Multi-Drive has three forward ranges, cruising range which meets normal driving needs, a "high performance" range for fast acceleration and hill control or low range for maximum engine braking on extremely steep grades or for extra pulling power. A hill-holder operates in cruising range, preventing the car from slipping back when stopping on steep grades. Multi-Drive is standard on the Park Lane models and optional on all others.

An improved Merc-O-Matic automatic has been designed for adaptation to the increased torque capacity of the Mercury Marauder engines. It includes a stronger, welded steel converted which replaces the bolted converter used previously. Merc-O-Matic is standard on Montclair models and on Voyager and Colony Park station wagons. Keyboard control for automatic transmissions is simplified in design.

Mercury's top engine, the Super Marauder, has 430 cubic inches displacement and three two barrel carburetors. The other Marauder engines have four barrel carburetors. The Marauder 360 has 360 horsepower and 430 cubic inch displacement. The other Marauder engines with 383 cubic inch displacement have 312 and 330 horsepower. Compression ratio on all engines is 10.5 to 1.

Performance and economy promised by these new engines and transmissions are supported by rear axle ratio of 2.69 to 1 with the 383 cubic inch engines, and 2.91 to 1 with the two 430 cubic inch engines.

Engineering improvements in the chassis give a luxurious limousine ride which softens jolts and smothers bumps over all kinds of roads. Mercury's balanced weight distribution, its lower center of gravity, its full-cushioned shock absorbers and its swept-back ball-joint front suspension all contribute to riding comfort and ease of handling.

An important chassis improvement is a new threaded bushing in the front suspension upper arm which is lubricated for life with a lithium-base lubricant. It replaces a rubber bushing.

Mercury developed self-adjusting brakes, with lining area increased to 233.38 square inches, for all its 1958 cars. These self-adjusting brakes give even braking with straight-line stopping and maintain the foot pedal at a constant distance from the floor, thereby assuring maximum pedal reserve for emergency stops. They eliminate the need for manual adjustment and permit lowering the brake pedal ¾ of an inch.

An optional speed limit safety monitor rings a reminder bell when the driver exceeds the speed he has selected on its dash-mounted dial.

A vacuum operated finger-tip control for all heating, defrosting, ventilating and air conditioning requirements is provided by Mercury's Climate-Dial -- a single dial mounted on the instrument panel. On the Park Lane it comes with the heater, and it is standard with air conditioning.

An extensive list of options to improve motoring pleasure is available, including power seat that remembers, power steering, power brakes, power lubrication, power windows and air conditioning. Transistor radios are available.

The new Park Lane series has three models: the Montclair series has six, including two Turnpike Cruisers; the Monterey series has five models and there are six station wagons, all with hardtop styling and back window that retracts into the tailgate.

Figures just released by the U. S. Forest Service sets pulpwood production by 12 southern states at 20,344,900 cords in 1956, a new record.

WHEN THE DINNER BELL RINGS

By The Bird Woman

Last week we wrote about the different methods birds use in feeding their young, we find this such an interesting study that we would like to continue it this week.

The Pidgeon has it's own method for feeding, the Creator has placed a gland in it's throat which secrets a very nourishing fluid, known as Pigeon Milk, and the young receive this by regurgitation, and gradually the parents add finely crushed grain, adding more grain until the young is able to take grain alone, and finally it is able to select it's own food.

The Paraqeet with every one is familiar these days, has a very streneous task when their young begin to hatch, the young hatching every other day, when first hatched the young must have the pigeon milk alone for a stated time, then small amounts of crushed grain is added as with the pigeon, and the formula becomes gradually richer until the time when it is strong enough to crack the seed for itself.

But here is what is so unexplainable, the Parakeet unlike most birds feeds their young at night also, and with a nest full of young differing in ages, who is going to tell the parents which needs the pigeon milk and which needs the differing degrees of seed mixtures?

The parents cannot turn on an electric light or a flashlight and say, "Don't stick out your neck Buddy, the pigeon milk is not for you, just wait your turn and I will grind up a few seeds for you, or to another here is your formula rich in seeds for you are much older than some of the others".

As far as we can discern the cry if each of the young is the same, but the beneficent Creator who planned the intricate life of each specie also gave them the ability to go according to the plan. And we are assured that not even a Swallow falls without his notice.

The Crested Flycatcher is a familiar bird to most of us, and enjoys nesting in hollow trees or nesting boxes preferring to be near a dwelling. The family is one of the most helpful we have for catching insects, when they are feeding their young they will arrive at the nest with such large insects that we wonder how the young can handle them, but it is no problem for the parents, they simply push the insect far down into the throat of the young and in doing so touch a nerve that causes the young to swallow, and down goes the insect, still kicking.

Even Dragonflies and certain types of moth and butterflies do not escape these marvelous foragers, we have timed their coming to the nest with food and it averaged every two and a half minutes.

Is'nt that wonderful to have such good insect killers roaming your garden and for free. It might smack a little of selfishness, but if there were nesting boxes put up in safe places where cats and squirrels could not molest, you might be blessed with a pair of these beautiful helpful birds adopting you, and spending most of the year in your garden.

Last year a Crested flycatcher came and several times challenged the Redbellied Woodpecker that was already nesting in a hole it had carved deep in a silk oak, but at length being satisfied that the apartment was already occupied, found another tree with a hollow limb and proceeded to set up housekeeping.

As among the human family, there are also species of birds that refuse to provide for themselves and become pirates, there is the Jaeger family that is known for robbing bird's nests, and robbing Tern and any other bird they can, of the fish they have caught causing them to disgorge their food in mid air and then retrieving it.

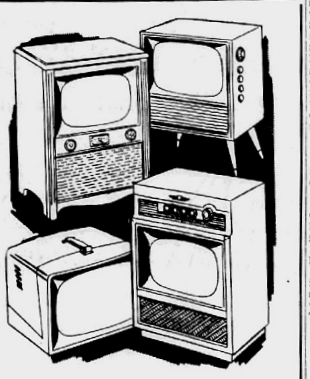

The Eagle is not above doing this trick, it will often wait for the Osprey, who is an excellent fisher, to catch his fish and start to take it to his nest, then it will attack the Osprey and cause it to drop it's fish and will grab it in mid-air and carry it home for it's own young, the Eagle is a good provider and whether by fair means or foul, will keep it's huge nest well stocked with food, so the young may avail themselves of nourishment when ever they wish, and as the young do not leave the nest for several months, there is usually more than one brood being cared for at a time.

Then there is the Cow bird who has a little different slant on rearing a family than any of the other birds, as they shift the responsibility on their neighbor, here again may we say is a characteristic employed by some of the human family.

She simply lays her egg in the nest of another bird and goes merrily along her way and lets the unsuspecting bird do all the work, often the egg is placed in the nest of a smaller bird, and the young being larger and stronger will stretch it's neck higher and deprive the legimate birds of their food so that only the Cow bird will survive. But some birds are wise to the trick of this bird and will throw the egg out of the nest, others will build a second nest on top of eggs and all.

A great many game birds rest on the ground as the Quail, Killdeer, Prairie-chicken and wild Turkey, and as soon as the young are all hatched they leave the nest with their downy brood and catch insects and scratch in the debris on the ground for food, the young immediately take the hint and are soon self supporting, but they will stay in coveys until they are old enough to start families of their own.

But there is something more important to game birds especially, than food, its self protection, and even as they are learning to find their own food they are also being taught to be alert to signs of danger. There is that innate ability to understand the danger signal from a parent and they will freeze in their tracks and melt into the surroundings at the first signal of danger.

A remarkable awareness and knowledge of the benefits of car rental has developed in the past few years he said. The car rental business in Sebring has been increasing steadily, and I fully expect it to continue.

Belcher said that more and more businessmen and people traveling for pleasure are taking a train or plane between cities, then renting a car at the airport, railroad station, or hotel.

Group Three Of Senior Woman's Club Holds Garden Party Monday

Mrs. Samuel O. Norris's lovely garden on Church Street was the scene of a delightful party on Monday afternoon, Nov. 11, from 2 until 4 o'clock given by Group 3 of the Avon Park Senior Woman's Club.

Eighty six guests were present and seated at the individual tables which were centered with lovely plants colorfully sprayed with silver and crystals of varied hues creating a festive atmosphere. Each guest received a striking favor skillfully made from shells.

The highlight of the afternoon's entertainment was a "Silent Auction" during which fifty articles were placed on a table for the guests to cast silent bids on. This was the occasion for much merriment as the gifts were delivered to the highest bidders.

Refreshments consisting of pie, coffee, candy, and nuts were served by fifteen "waitresses" from Group 3. Music for the afternoon was provided by a one hundred year old music box and by a record player. All the guests enjoyed throughly the afternoon of companionship in this lovely setting.

The party was given to augment the funds of the Senior Woman's Club. Mrs. Ralph Kelley, president of the Senior Club, expressed her deep appreciation to Mrs. Samuel Norris and all the others who helped make the party such a huge success.

"Teen-Town Talk"

The fun and frolic at Teen-Town Saturday night drew out about 55 club members. Quite a few of the 'younger teensters' were among the number, and were having just as much fun as their more 'aged' brothers and sisters. The Whistle Dances were enjoyed by all as always.

Patsy Strasberger, graduate of Avon Park High School, now a freshman at Florida State in Tallahassee, was a welcome addition to the group and all were happy to see her.

Chaperones were Mrs. Martha Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanford, who have been in Avon Park about a year. Mr. Hanford is with Ted Ward Real Estate Co. Mr. Andy Miracle was present, of course, and kept things going smoothly.

Thursday night, November 7th, the Youth Recreation Association Board Members met at the Club. A general discussion was held about things they hoped to accomplish. One of them being the adult membership drive. Proceeds to go for sponsoring club improvement projects. Parents, and Business People of Avon Park, if you are asked to join the Club as an 'inactive member' please don't turn the request down. If we keep our boys and girls happy in a good environment they are bound to turn out to be good and happy citizens. Good AND happy! Sounds wonderful, doesn't it? Can be done! Let's help by all joining up with the Youth Recreation Center.

"THEY'RE CATCHING ON, BUT THEY CAN'T CATCH UP." That's how lots of people feel about the "new 1958" cars that are trying to match the Dodge Swept-Wing look. These other cars have been lowered some, but still seem high and boxy by comparison. A few are "catching on" to fins, but they're years from "catching up." And the air suspension offered by some cars (at well over $100 extra) can't compare with the sway-free, dip-free ride of Dodge Torsion-Aire (standard equipment on all models). So on your way home from someone else's new car showing, stop in and compare it with Swept-Wing 58 by Dodge. You'll see what we mean.

INSTITUTE IS SYMBOL OF HOPE

With construction started this year on the Institute for Muscle Disease, Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc., is adding a mighty arsenal for the medical fight against this progressively crippling disease. Architect's drawing shows completed structure which is being made possible through contributions to the November March for Muscular Dystrophy.

Winter Guest Club News

On Wednesday, Nov. 6, Duke Christensen and Herb Shauger won the tournament, edging out Grace Warner and Ota Gibson, to take honors for the day.

Saturday, in an exciting dramatic finish, S. Stonemetz and J. Slater came from a zero score to win over H. Sauger and H. Arms who had piled up a total of 70 points against the winners.

In a short time, the 5-tournament series will begin with Sebring, possession of the trophy being at stake. We'll need all you good players, so come out and practice for your club. Watch the board for the dates.

In case you're wondering at the changes in the yard we hasten to enlighten you. The old cue house has been removed from the premises and the flag pole moved to its present location in order to make room for two additional courts. Work on these will get under way soon; making it possible for us to schedule more tournaments with out-of-town clubs, as well as provide a place for everyone at the peak of our sesson.

Friday night saw an enthusiastic, peppy crowd assembled for the evening's dance; some to participate actively, some to enjoy the music and fun. Remember to save Tuesday morning for learning new steps and squares. Our instructor has agreed, again this year, to give instruction in ballroom dancing on Tuesday morning immediately following the regular practice. Here's the chance of a lifetime; you can't learn any younger (or cheaper).

All those who came to the covered-dish supper Saturday night had a most enjoyable evening; fifty-one hungry mortals passed to the right, to the left, and across the table. Over fifty persons enjoyed various cardgames, while some twenty real hardy souls braved the chill winds to "work off that last bite" by playing a few games at shuffleboard. If you weren't there, you missed a very pleasant evening; you'd better resolve right now to be among those present next Saturday; five-thirty is the hour.

Mr. Jerome Shiltz, in charge of the Sunday sings, has an interesting and varied program planned for you on Sunday, November 17. These "sings" are, as in years past, not restricted to members only; all are welcome.

Here is a weekly schedule of event; you had better clip it and have it for reference.

Tues. 9 a.m. - dance practice, 1:30 p.m. - bridge games; Wed. 1:30 p.m. - shuffleboard tournament; Thurs. 7:30 p.m. - program, movies, or cards - watch for further announcement; Fri. 8:00 p.m. - dance followed by coffee and doughnuts.

As the season progresses there will, no doubt, be other activities added, but for now, these are scheduled affairs.

CRACKER POLITICS

BY ALLEN MORRIS

Tallahassee - Floridians often are puzzled about the magic key which enables Governor LeRoy Collins to open doors outside the state.

This key has made it possible for Governor Collins to (1) impress audiences of top financiers and industrialists on Florida's behalf and (2) gain far more stature in national affairs than home staters realize.

(For instance, State Treasurer J. Edwin Larson, just back from a Chicago conference, reported he heard some presidents of national insurance companies discussing Florida's investment advantages as a result of a New York speech by Governor Collins which one or more of them had heard.)

Actually, the Governor's personal acquaintanceship among persons of national substance startles those who think of him as basically a lawyer in a relatively small Southern community and a man whose formal education beyond high school was quite limited.

Yet he speaks the language of business, industrial and government leaders without shyness or hesitancy.

Some of the Governor's assurance can logically be attributed to his successful practice of the law over some 20 years, much of which involved State Capital representation of corporate clients. But a little known part of the Collins background supplies the answer to today's welcome in high places.

To the pinelands of extreme North Florida and South Georgia have come for many generations some of the nation's most affluent citizens for the sport of quail, dove, duck and turkey shooting. The largest part of the acreage of the northern half of the Governor's home county of Leon and that of neighboring counties is still owned by these winter residents.

For example, George Humphrey, whom President Eisenhower appointed Secretary of the Treasury, finds his winter shooting sport in this area, and long before his political prominence on the national level was a friend and law client of Governor Collins.

Many others of like background and position come and entertain their guests throughout the winter. It is natural that these guests are also persons of outstanding prominence in business and politics. They come and go with little or no publicity. And over the years Governor and Mrs. Collins have been invited to hunt, picnic and dine with them.

Some of his colleagues in the Senate may recall that during his argument for the full-length turnpike in the last session he served there, Collins read from a letter in which Robert R. Young, the executive, extolled the advantages of Florida and the prospects for continued future growth.

It was on the plantations of North Florida that the then State Senator Collins had developed personal relations with the New York Central's Bob Young.

The friend from this milieu of Bakers, Talbots, Ingalises, Cushings, Griscoms, Teagles and McElroys who doubtless contributed most to Collins in his maturing years was the late U. S. Senator Walter E. Edge, twice Governor of New Jersey, Ambassador to France and for 30 years a national Republican leader.

Edge and Collins became fast friends more than 20 years ago, about the time Collins first became a member of the Florida House of Representatives. He often counselled Collins about his political future. He strongly recommended that Collins run for Governor in 1940 when the Leon countian stepped aside for his friend Dan McCarty, who failed that year, and more vigorously four years later when McCarty again ran and this time won.

After McCarty died in office and the time approached for the election to choose a successor, Senator Edge hammered away at Collins with the older man's guiding principle: "don't procrastinate, don't hesitate, don't vacillate."

On the occasion of the first Collins inaugural, Senator Edge and his wife, little noticed by most in attendance, occupied front row seats on the platform. There was a smile on his face when in the course of Collins' inaugural address, referring to the greatness of Florida's future, the new chief executive said "we must not procrastinate, we must not hesitate, we must not vacillate."

The Governor does not like to talk about these friends. Not that he isn't extremely proud of them, but because he knows their own desire to avoid publicity and he respects this. The truth is, however, that many doors have been open to Florida with the help of these same friends.

And no doubt one of the reasons Governor Collins can talk with such assurance at the gatherings of people who can help Florida, as he did recently in New York, is the basic fact that he is not as much among strangers as a great many people in his home state would assume.

On the political side of the coin, the Governor of Florida has the opportunity to win more attention than the chief executive of most states because Florida is the second home for a vast number of people. The natural climate attracts them but they become aware of the prevailing political climate and of the names of some Florida leaders.

Thus, if national opportunity presents itself in the future, there would be men and women everywhere in the country who feel some measure of identification with Collins. Again, he would not be among strangers.

Jack Horner Tarts

Jack Horner loved plum pie and he likes these tarts equally as well! For tender flaky crust use a package of your favorite pie crust mix and fill each tart with fresh Italian plums. These tarts are wonderful "just-for-me" desserts.

Plum Tarts
Makes 4 large tarts

Crust:
One 10-oz. pkg. pie crust mix
4 to 5 tablespoons cold water

Filling:
4 cups sliced Italian plums
1/4 teaspoon almond flavoring (optional)
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup flour
1/8 teaspoon salt

Heat oven to hot (400°F.). For tarts, empty pie crust mix into bowl. Sprinkle cold water by tablespoons over mix; mix lightly with fork until just dampened. Form dough into 8 balls. Roll out four balls on lightly floured board or canvas until each forms a circle slightly larger than inverted tart pan. Fit loosely into tart pans; trim edges with scissors until even with edge of pan.

For the filling, add flavorings to sliced plums. Mix sugar, flour and salt. Add plums to sugar-flour mixture, tossing with fork to completely coat the plums.

Place plum mixture in pastry-lined tart pans. Roll other four balls as above to form circles. Cut a circle in each or slash in 2 or 3 places to form steam vents. Fold edge of top crust under edge of bottom crust. Seal by pressing edge with tines of fork. Bake in preheated oven (400°F.) 35 to 40 minutes or until top crust is evenly browned.

Mrs. Dirkman's Mother Passed Away Saturday

Mrs. Augusta Harding, 60, of Mount Dora, mother of Mrs. Richard Dirkman of Avon Park, passed away in a Eustis hospital Saturday morning, November 9.

Mrs. Harding, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Bean, a pioneer family of Orange County, was born in Zellwood, Florida and had been a resident of Mount Dora for the past 37 years. She was a member of the First Methodist Church in Mount Dora.

Survivors include her husband, E. Frank Harding of Mount Dora; five daughters, Mrs. W. K. Galbreath of Fruitland Park; Miss Winifred Harding of Greensboro, N. C.; Mrs. Sam Holloway of Orlando; Mrs. Richard Dirkman of Avon Park; Mrs. E. M. Crossland of Arnold, Md.; two sons, Edward B. Harding of Boothbay, Me.; and William P. Harding of Mount Dora; one brother, J. E. Bean of Orlando; one sister, Miss Annie Bean of Jacksonville, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the First Methodist Church in Mount Dora with The Rev. Jimmy Jones of Mount Dora and The Rev. Kenneth Rogers of Gainesville officiating. Interment was held in the Zellwood Cemetery.

American Airlines has announced plans to buy 40 more jet airliners at a cost of more than $200 million. This would raise their fleet to 70 planes by 1961.

Thousands of rare trees, shrubs and flowers and great flocks of tropical birds are highlights of Caribbean Gardens, outstanding show place at Naples in Southwest Florida.

DO YOU KNOW?

By DALE I. ROYAL, Evangelist
Avon Park Church of Christ

Do you know how important the church is? Many will probably wonder how anyone would even consider the church important at all. The truth is that the church has been run down and belittled until most so-called Christians firmly believe that the church is something you can take or leave as you choose. Such is not the case.

In Matt. 16:18 Christ promised to build his church. In Eph. 1:22-23 Christ is declared to be the head of the church. In Acts 20:28 we read that the church was bought or purchased with the Lord's blood. In the light of all this, how could anybody ever think, let alone say, that the church is unimportant foolish? To think that the G of Heaven would permit only begotten son to pour his blood for some thing that is unnecessary is the height of absurdity. How apt Paul's statement (1 Cor. 1:25), "the foolishness of God is wiser than men!"

In loving memory of Larry Patrick Cason (nicknamed Tiffy) aged 5 who was drowned November 7, 1957 in St. Petersburg.

Dearest Giffy
We do not cry for you my dear
Cause you're in Heaven, we are here.
We cry because we miss you so
Just why God took you we do not know.
In our hearts you are not gone
Your loving memory lingers on,
Your walk and talk, and loving smile
All helped to make our lives worthwhile.
But like your little brother said
To us you are not really dead,
Someday in Heaven we'll meet again
And so my Darling, goodby till then.

A member of the First Methodist Church of Williston, Mrs. Gilley was active in the work of the WSCS Circle No. 3 of that church. She was a member of the Junior Woman's Club of Williston and a member of the Pithyan Sisters. Mrs. Gilley was also active in the work of the Williston PTA.

Survivors include her husband, Carl Gilley, an eight year old daughter, Evelyn Grace; a six year old son, Roy Eugene, her mother, Mrs. Elsie Watson, Williston; two sisters, Mrs. Otis Phillips, Williston; Mrs. M. C. Butler, Jacksonville; four brothers, J. T., Jr., and Calvin Watson, Williston; Ellis Watson, Avon Park; and A. B. Rodgers, Jacksonville.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Methodist Church in Williston with Rev. Coefield, pastor, officiating, assisted by the pastor of the First Baptist Church of Williston. Interment followed in the Orange Hill Cementery with Knauff Funeral Home of Williston in charge.

WESH TV

Channel 2 - Daytona Beach, Florida

Is Now On Your Television Set

A new channel was added to the TV sets of some 150,000 Central Florida homes last week. The long-awaited high power and tall tower of WESH-TV, Channel 2, Daytona Beach went into operation. And with the new power, a new network service.

The station, owned by the John H. Perry newspaper interests, has been on the air since June, 1956 operating at low power of 5,000 watts and using a 350 foot tower at Daytona Beach to transmit its non-network programs.

The new transmitting plant, located at Orange City, 5½ miles south of DeLand and approximately half way between Daytona Beach and Orlando will operate at 100,000 watts, the maximum permitted for Channel 2 stations. The new tower stands 1,036 feet above sea level or 995 feet above ground.

NBC will be the basic network service on WESH-TV, although the station will carry some programs from the ABC network. Included in the starting lineup are such TV favorites as Collegiate football on Saturday afternoons, the Friday night fights, Perry Como, Loretta Young, Groucho, Pat Boone, Steve Allen, Tennessee Ernie Ford, Lawrence Welk, Gisselle MacKenzie, the popular NBC "Tonight" show and the famous NBC "Spectaculars" which have won such high acclaim. Many of the NBC shows will be carried by WESH-TV in full color.

Engineers estimate that the new station's primary Grade A and B coverage area will extend from Lakeland to St. Augustine and its Grade C will reach from near the Georgia line to Fort Pierce, thus covering more than half of the state.

While the station will currently operate from 12:00 Noon until 1:00 AM Mondays through Fridays, Noon until midnight Saturdays and 1:00 PM until midnight Sundays, morning TV service will probably be added within the next few months, according to T. S. Gilchrist, Jr., Vice President and General Manager of the station.

Editorial Line-Up For Nov. 28, 1957 Issue Of All Florida Magazine

The feature story in the coming issue of ALL FLORIDA MAGAZINE, "young Men at Work" by Jack Benham tells of the many projects undertaken by Junior Chambers of Commerce all over the state. The record of these future leaders is certainly one of young men in action. A great deal of the Florida's progress can be partially attributed either directly or indirectly to the activities of the Jaycees.

Dr. W. H. Sears article, "We Salvaged a Bit of Florida's History of the excavation of an Indian mound on Bird Island, in lower Lake Weir. The MacKenzie Brothers, realtors of Ocala, discovered the mound, which has since been named after them, and contacted the University of Florida to suggest that trained personnel excavate it.

The coming issue's color food pages feature "Up-to-date Turkey Trimming." With the hints on side dishes there's no chance of getting that heavy "already full" feeling before the main dish even gets carved.

Read Mary Helm Clarke's thumbnail sketch of "The Waiter with Green Thumb" on page 2. Ernest Ballmond of Miami raises herbs as a hobby. But, it's a profitable hobby, as Ballmoos sells his fresh herbs to gourmets and dining rooms. Many of his plants come from his native Switzerland and other faraway countries.

For those of you who like a sentimental ending to a story, Stewart Robertson's "Ending Deferred" will fill the bill.

Judge Dismisses Petition Against City Officials

Circuit Judge Joe D. Kinsey entered an order late Tuesday afternoon dismissing the petition of Mrs. Louise B. Armstrong, John Seaborn and O. E. Wolff in which they had petitioned the court to declare the City Election on September null and void and requested the court to order another election held.

In the hearing held in Circuit Court Monday afternoon, State Representative Howard Livingston, who assisted Hue Nunnalee, City Attorney for Avon Park, moved for dismissal contending the plaintiffs had not alleged or shown fraud in connection with the city election. Livingston also argued that the allegations presented by the plaintiffs that all candidates were disqualified was not proven, and that now they were barred by law for failing to register protests before the election was held.

A state law permitting the experimental use of voting machines by municipalities was cited by attorneys for the defendants in countering the plaintiffs contention that voting machines were used instead of written ballots as required by the City Charter.

In his order for dismissal Judge Kinsey noted the petitioners did not file their complaint until 55 days after the election and 34 days after the elected Mayor and five councilmen took office.

The order read that no reason for the delay in seeking relief from the purported wrongs was given. The order also quoted from section 99.192, Florida Statues, which provides that election contests shall be filed within 10 days after the votes have been canvassed.

Judge Kinsey wrote that "Such statue may be used as a yardstick by this court in determining whether the petitioners are barred by laches or the lack of diligence."

The court is aware of the contention of the petitioners that this proceeding comes under the extra-ordinary equity jurisdiction of this court, but they seem to disregard the equable principle, or maxim, that equity aids the vigilant. Courts of equity view with disfavor suits brought long after the transations involved have occured."

Judge Kinsey also wrote, "Elections are conducted by our citizens and the courts should leave unhampered our avenues of popular expression and do nothing to prevent the free expression of the popula; will."

"It is the duty of the courts to grant relief against fraud, or conspiracy to violate the election laws, or other unlawful interference with elections, but such relief must be sought in good faith and in accordance with established rules of procedure and law. Under any circumstances application must be reasonably made, otherwise long after an election chaos and wholesale confusion in government would be the result."

Costs were assessed against the petitioners by the court.

Progress Being Made In Clean-Up Drive

The City has gone all out on the Community Pride Month clean-up drive, have you.

Many vacant lots in the city have been mowed by the city crew, and right of ways have been cleaned. Although there is still much to be done a vast improvement can be noticed if one will only take a short drive around the community.

For instance, what use to be just a jungle on Souh Lake Avenue, just across from the ball field, has been cleared and an attractive vacant lot now meets the visitors eye. Lots on West Pleasant, West Main and the highway have also been cleared.

The clean-up committee for the colored section has made great progress in the quarters. The rest of the town will have to go some to make as much of an improvement as they have made to date. In fact they are cleaning away rubbish and clearing lots faster than the City can haul the rubbish away. Much credit is due them and the Chamber expresses their appreciation to the committee and groups that are working so hard.

The Chamber has worked diligently with the City this month in an effect to make everyone Communly Pride conscious, and it is hoped that everyone will continue to do their utmost in this drive.

Pulse Of The Country

The great American cities are booming in population. But millions of people still prefer the smaller towns, the grass-roots feel and atmosphere, the way of life that goes with the countryside.

Recently an employment agency ran a three-line ad in the New York Times offering jobs on country weekly newspapers. From that single, tiny notice more than 60 replies were received. This caused the American Press to say that " . . . there may be many newspapermen who have gone to the cities to seek their fortunes and, after a few frustrating months or years, long to return to the country . . . . "

Those who work on the smaller papers are about as close to the pulse of the country as anyone can be.

An Industry In Transition

It is simply a truism to say that the soft coal industry is absolutely essential to the economic life of this country — and that it grows more essential as our demands for energy inexorably increase. It is equally true to say that coal has been going through a difficult period of transition. Historical markets have been lost or greatly diminished, and new markets have been explored and developed.

Coal still faces serious problems. And the most important of these problems is found in its profit picture.

For many years coal's profits have been extremely low. In some years they have been non-existent. Many companies have operated at an out-of-pocket loss for long periods of time. While the final statistics are not yet available, at least one top industry authority thinks that coal's profits for both last year and this will not total half as much as the money operators paid into the miners' welfare fund. And, whatever the case, it is a certainty that these profits are not nearly substantial enough to justify extremely costly mechanization and improvement programs that coal wants to undertake—and that should be undertaken in the national interest.

There is no pat answer to this question. But a solution must be found, and at the earliest possible time.

Combat Useless Government Spending Now

In the view of VicePresident Nixon, military preparedness "must always take priority over the understandable desire to reduce our taxes."

Practically everyone in the country will agree with that—especially in the light of Soviet rocket achievements.

However, this certainly does not mean that there is no longer any point in talking about government economy. It should, instead, mean that every possible frill and non-essential in government is now to be cropped down to the root. And an excellent place to start would be in government activities in the field of commercial business. Most of these run at big losses. If they were returned to private enterprise, where they belong, all the financing would come out of private capital and private savings—and, to frost the cake, government would get big new tax revenues that could prevent tax increases or be the basis of tax reductions.

Where There Are No Parking Problems

Adjacent to American automobile factories there are always big parking lots. And these lots are loaded with cars belonging to the workers.

But, as William Henry Chamberlin points out in a Wall Street Journal article, there are no parking problems around the auto factories of communist countries. The reason is found in the wage-price relationship. As an example, he cites the principal car produced in Communist Poland, the Warszawa. At its state-fixed price, it would take the average worker five years to earn enough to buy one, if he put aside every cent of his earnings for that purpose. And the fixed price is way below the going black market price.

This is what total government does to the masses of workers—the people it is supposed to serve and revere. It forces them down to a subsistence basis of living—and keeps them there.

A Lesson From West Germany

Konrad Adenauer's victory in the latest West Germany elections was a triumph for NATO and the Western world. It came when good news on the international level had been something of a rarity. The doughty old Chancellor, now in his 80's has, like Winston Churchill in an earlier era, stood between his country and disaster. He is an implacable foe of Communism—a fact that was dramatically demonstrated when he broke off diplomatic relations with Yugoslavia because the latter country had recognized East Germany. The principle opposing party in Germany, the Socialist, is not pro-Communist. But there can be no doubt that it would adopt a much more conciliatory policy toward Communism should it come to power—and history tells us that is the road to ultimate defeat and enslavement.

On top of this, there has been another unforgettable Adenauer achievement. At the end of the war Germany lay in ruins. Her once magnificent industrial complex had been razed. The soup kitchen, so to speak, had become a way of life for the German people.

Yet today, under the Adenauer leadership, Germany is booming. She has again become a great trading nation. She enjoys full employment and steadily rising living standards. Few of the wounds of war remain visible.

How was this accomplished? The answer is that it was accomplished under a philosophy of aggressive private enterprise. This philosophy has no more eloquent spokesman than the Chancellor and his top aides—and they act on their words. To put it another way, intelligent capitalism brought Germany back from ruin and despair in a handful of years. Under a total state, she lost the war. With economic and political freedom, she has won the peace.

Grass roots Opinion

Ozona, Texas, Stockman: ". . . in 1956, a year in which the labor leaders and politicians were talking loudly of our unprecedented employment and prosperity, manufacturing profits (after taxes) sank to the level of recession years. From 4.9 percent in 1948 these net profits fluttered steadily downward to 3.1 in 1956."

Texahoma, Oklahoma, Times: "It is generally agreed that the average driver reacts in three quarters of a second. At sixty miles per hour, a car will travel 66 feet in that time At forty miles per hour it will travel 44 feet, at 20 mph it will travel 22 feet."

Carlsbad, N. M., Current-Argus: "International finance in an intricate, and intriguing, thing. The World Bank has agreed to lend Thailand $66 million for a huge new hydro-electric project. Some are wondering where Thailand will get the money to repay the World Bank loan."

Anaheim, Cal., Bulletin: "Possibly the most terrifying news to come off the press wires in a decade is the advent of 'subliminal' commercials for television and movies. This diabolical idea involves the use of a visual advertising message flashed on the screen with such split-second swiftness that the eye and mind do not record it, but the subconscious does. Thus, Mother, while weeping over the forlorn fate of the soap opera heroine may all the time be building up an inner but inexorable urge to slink out and buy a flagon of 'Purple Passion' perfume."

Pointe-A-La-Hache, La., Plaquemines Gazette: "We are dealing in 48 cent dollars today. That means that for every dollar we paid for life insurance during the past few years, every dollar we paid on a mortgage and every dollar we put in the bank is really worth less today than half of what we paid out."

Soil Conservation News

By Sam Polston

Mr. Howard Nelson, Soil Conservation Service Engineer, met with the Highlands Soil Conservation District board of supervisors Wed. night. He discussed the progress on the final survey of the Fisheating Creek Small Watershed and the status of the final design on the Lake Placid East Chain of Lakes Watershed. They are hopeful that the plans will be ready to advertise for bids in December for the Lake Placid East Chain of Lakes and the Fisheating Creek Watershed in January. These are the first two projects in Florida to be planned by the Soil Conservation Service under the Small Watershed Act (P.L. 566, 83rd Congress).

Pasture work in the Highlands Soil Conservation District is centering around clover these days. Planting clover this week were Coward Ranch, Ellingson Ranch, Forest Pearce and Marvin Kahn, totaling about 400 acres. The Louisiana White Dutch is primarily used. Also R. W. Neel Ranch planted 100 acres pangola grass and Everett Boney planted 30 acres Pensacola Bahia grass, both on flatwoods soil with good moisture conditions.

The Soil Conservation Service assisted several District cooperators in water control work this week. Among them were Carl McIntyre of Sebring in the installation of ten check dams that will be used to regulate the water level in ditches for seepage irrigation on 65 acres of clover pasture. They will also serve to prevent erosion when being used for drainage. Clarence Wilson of Sebring was assisted in laying out two miles of dragline ditches now under construction.

A six-inch cobia, the smallest on record at Marine Studios, was recently brought in by collectors. It doesn't look like a cobia at all, but rather like the remora, or sucker fish. This is further proof of the close relationship always thought to exist between the two species.

The first power press used in this country was invented by Daniel Treadwell of Boston in 1822. Printing 500 copies per hour. Treadwell's press was widely used by newspapers in the United States from 1815 to 1840.

Water in the tropical oceanarium tank at Marineland, Fla., must be heated during the cooler winter months for the benefit of fish from normally warmer waters. The 450,000 gallons of sea water must never go below 68 degrees.

The first successful Sunday newspaper started on May 17, 1835 under the name of the New York Sunday Morning News. Later, many other Sunday editions used the News as a model both for content and policy.

Among the changes in the proposed Constitution is one that will make it easier to convict airplane murderers.

Whether you think it is a good change or not probably depends on your plans in the criminal field, but anyway, it's an intriguing little change.

Briefly, the problem seems to be that prosecuting attorneys have a hard time in some cases trying to prove that a crime took place in a certain county.

Everytime the proposed change is discussed, the example of an airplane murder is used. Obviously, it might be hard to prove the "situs of the crime", as the lawyers say.

During legislative debates, they must have killed more people on airplanes than Wyatt Earp bumps off in 30 minutes.

Just out of curiosity, I asked a couple of lawyers how many people had been murdered lately in Florida's airways. They said none that they knew of--but added some "provided howevers" pointing out how it might happen.

Of course the provision doesn't apply to just murders or airplanes, and undoubtedly will be mighty helpful in many other types of cases--Say, like fining the guy who kisses the stewardess against her will.

Under the new constitution, a prosecuting attorney will be able to list all the possible counties where the crime might have taken place, and the defendant (the guy that's on trial) will get to choose where he wants to be tried.

The need for the new provision was graphically pointed up the other day. A realiable source reported that the Russian "pupnik" gasped its last breath somewhere between Sopchoppy and Jacksonville. The trouble is nobody can prove what county it happened over. Naturally, the Russian that put the pooch in the satellite can't be prosecuted.

CAPSULE NEWS ITEMS:

"State school boss Tom Bailey reports there will be 900,000 kids in Florida's schools by the end of the year, and points out the need for keeping pace with school facilities."

This seems to indicate the need for some imaginative thinking in the school field. A 10-year-old friend down the street says he has the answer . . . a "pupil bank" program similar to the farmer's soil bank.

He says the way it will work is that the kids will be paid to stay away from school, just like the farmers get paid for taking land out of production.

"Comptroller Ray Green says the state expenses are climbing toward the billion dollar mark."

No wonder he has put in some of those electronic thinking machines. All the old adding machines don't have enough zeroes.

"Pensacola wants to make a university out of a navy training base."

There most likely be some fussing about whether it should be built ahead of the proposed state university at Boca Raton. Maybe the answer is to get an old battleship and convert it into a university. That way, it could be anchored off Boca Raton six months a year and off Pensacola the other six months.

It also would solve another problem. Gov. Collins has expressed an interest in having a state university on a water-front site. This would have water all around it. The problem seems to be in naming it. The logical name would be Florida Seagoing University--but that has the same initials as Tallahassee's FSU.

"Cabinet members are pondering whether it is worth $25,000 in advertising to send the Cocoa High band to the Rose Bowl."

Maybe they could save the money by shooting them out in one of those Cape Canaveral missiles . . . it also would get plenty of publicity.

Orlando is promoting a deal that may solve reapportionment. It has asked the state road department to give Orlando title to the land under a road that connects some property outside the city that it wants to annex. As it stands, the property isn't contiguous and can't be annexed.

The city, in turn would give the state the right to maintain a road. The land under the road, being owned by the city, would make the property outside contiguous, and it could be annexed.

By working the same sort of deal for the road between Two Egg and Miami, Two Egg could annex Miami and give North Florida a population boost.

Harvey, the Capitoleat, who writes with his tail, left some fan letters on my desk about his first column. Samples:

"It's nice to read something intelligent in that column for a change. A. J."

"Dear Harvey. I wish you would run against my senator. You couldn't do any worse. W. L."

"Dog lovers are indignant about the cruel comments concerning "Curly" the Russian "pupnik." Too bad they didn't fire you into space. A. L."

Dear A. L. You may get your wish. Here's Harvey's latest report:

THE CAT'S MEOW
By Harvey

Some missile experts have invited me down to Cape Canaveral. They want to shoot me off into space in the U.S. satellite.

I think it's a plot to keep me out of the senate race, but, if they can get me down again, I may go.

They are going to fire the satellite up in a Jupiter-C. The "C" stands for cat, I'm told.

Anyway, the trip might be people's thoughts back into perspective. All anyone talks about these days are dogs. Maybe us cats can get a few headlines if I take the trip.

Also in attendance will be the presidents of the local Adventist conferences representing the states of Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia, North and South Carolina and Florida.

Wednesday, November 27 the board of trustees of Walker Memorial will meet in Orlando. At this meeting a successor to H. M. Baldwin, manager of the hospital, will be discussed and possibly a choice made.

Construction on the facilities for colored patients is moving along. Installation of the elevator has been made and it is hoped no serious delays in completing the construction will prevent open house to inspect the new facilities about January 1st.

• • • •

A complete revision of the electrical wiring of the hospital has been made. The new lines will insure adequate voltage to all departments without overloading the lines. It also makes possible removal of the transformers located on the highway to the east of the building.

Incorporated in this project has been the new street lighting south of the building. Thus adequate light is assured for this part of the grounds when it becomes the main parking area in the future.

CRACKER POLITICS

BY ALLEN MORRIS

Tallahassee.—There are definite signs that old Navyman LeRoy Collins is running a tauter ship of state these days.

After nearly three years in which the agencies under the chief executive pretty much ran themselves, the Governor finally has the time to enforce the standard of performance he always wanted.

That he was not entirely satisfied was indicated in a little-noticed "to whom it may concern" Statement Collins put out last December as the two-year McCarty-caretaker administration neared its end.

In carrying over the Little Cabinet into the new, four-year term he had earned at the polls, Collins said then he was driving for better performance and would be unhappy if he failed to obtain this.

There are a number of reasons why closer administrative supervision is now possible.

From the hour he first took the oath of office in January, 1955, until the lawmakers went home last October 8, the Collins administration was continuously engaged with the problems of policy and preservation - of getting its program to the Legislature and of obtaining public approval at the intervening primary and general elections.

In other words, the Governor was engrossed with matters he regarded as being of greater long-run importance which also demanded immediate attention. Now, he has the first real opportunity to tighten up the rigging of his ship of state.

These circumstances figure in the making possible of that tightening up:

1. Unless some emergency arises, the Legislature will not be back in session until April, 1959.

2. Next year's regular primaries have been deferred from May until September.

3. At present, no office is at stake in those postponed elections in which the Collins administration is particularly concerned.

4. In more than a semantic sense, the old Governor's office has been replaced by an Office of the Governor. It is an administrative agency performing tasks independent of any department. At the same time, executive assistants have been assigned liaison responsibilities providing a two-way channel between the Governor and agencies under his supervision.

5. The Governor has agreed to regularly-scheduled press conferences. These permit the general airing of problems which come to the attention of individual newsmen.

6. It may be surmised that the aides of Governor Collins have become increasingly determined that no departmental short coming shall blemish the Governor's chances of obtaining national recognition. It is certain that political friendships are being shelved when these seem to constitute a threat to that record of performance.

7. There is no one remaining on the Governor's immediate staff who had any connection with the statewide patronage side of his two campaigns for the office.

Old Navyman LeRoy Collins is running a tauter ship of state these days.

There's a new happy sound in town, the gift of Secretary of State R. A. Gray in memory of his wife, Grace, who died two years ago.

The Secretary of State gave a 32-note carillon to Tallahassee's First Baptist Church, itself in a stately new home. The Gray bells may be played either manually or mechanically. Through the years ahead, they should be a continuing source of inspiration to the community which Mrs. Gray had enriched by words and deeds during her lifetime.

Mrs. Gray was the daughter of the Rev. S. G. Mullins, who served as pastor of the First Baptist Church in Bartow, St. Petersburg and Leesburg. "Captain Bob", her husband for 52 years, was the son of the Rev. W. J. Gray, a Methodist minister in the Tallahassee area for 40 years.

Orphaned at the age of one, Dade Sheriff Thomas J. Kelly's achievements in the field of help to youngsters are receiving further statewide recognition on his 58th birthday, November 25.

On that evening, during a testimonial dinner at Miami Beach, Sheriff Kelly will be presented the first annual Florida Sheriffs Boys Ranch Award "for meritorious service to the youth" of the state.

The presentation will be Hillsborough Sheriff Ed Blackburn, Jr., newly-appointed executive director of the Boys Ranch to be established on the Suwannee River near Live Oak as a permanent home for worthy and needy boys.

Sheriff Blackburn said the Miami sheriff was being honored not only for his leading role in the founding of Boys Ranch but for numerous other youth activities. These include organization of Junior Deputies as a vehicle for promoting respect for law enforcement, establishment of a summer camp for Dade youngsters, direction of the Miami Boys Drum and Bugle Corps, and as a board member of the National Children's Cardiac Home.

Sheriff Kelly is well known throughout Florida for other reasons. He retired in 1953, as a brigadier general, after 29 years in the National Guard. He served in both world wars and was gassed in the first.

Which Is The Secretary?

Is it brunette Janet Scott, of New York City, blonde Martha Tiller, of Orlando, Florida? Or, is it the one in the middle, "Ella," of Waukesha, Wisconsin? Believe it or not, all three are secretaries, with "Ella, the Electronic Secretary," taking her place with our two beauties. Developed by the General Telephone System, the country's largest independent telephone company, "Ella," when connected to your home or office telephone, takes all calls, asks the callers to leave their names and messages, and repeats them to her "Boss" when he returns to the office, or gives them to him over the telephone, if he desires — all automatically. "Ella is a wonderful secretary," according to Donald C. Power, president of General Telephone. "She'll never replace our two beauties, but is a vital accessory to any office or business."

Jr. Woman's Club New Members Feted At Supper

The Officers and the Standing Committee Chairman of the Avon Park junior Woman's Club entertained the new members of the club with a supper and orientation program on Wednesday evening, Nov. 13, in the Women's Club Building.

The buffet supper was served from a beautiful table graced by a lovely arrangement of delicate camellias and sparkling silver. The members and their guests enjoyed the tasty chicken, cranberry salad, scalloped beans, at individual tables of two new members and two old members. Delicious pumpkin pies and coffee finished the meal.

After supper Mrs. Andrew Miracle, first vice president, presided over the short orientation meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Mannin Kirkland. Mrs. Miracle introduced Miss Pat Lagoni who gave a brief history of the Junior Club in Avon Park. Together Mrs. Miracle and Miss Lagoni discussed the projects and budget of the Avon Park Club with each officer and committee chairman making a short statement about the duties of their respective office. The federation of clubs was discussed and their help to the local clubs stressed.

The new members enjoyed the supper and the program and felt that they had become better acquainted with the purpose of the club. The wish was expressed by old and new members that the supper become an annual event for new members.

It was suggested that the new members of the Club take the annual fashion show in the spring as their project to work upon under the supervision of an older member and with the help of all the club. This was received enthusiastically by the new members.

About thirty-five new and old members were present at the supper orientation.

"Teen-Town Talk"

Dr. and Mrs. Stuart Ward and Mrs. G. H. Hodges were chaperones at the Recreation Center last Saturday night. There were refreshments, games and dancing. Several visitors from Lake Placid and Frostproof were welcome guests.

Friday, November 22nd, the Teen Club is sponsoring the Homecoming Dance at the recreation center immediately following the game with Kissimmee. Admission will be 25c—there will be hamburgers and cold drinks.

Mr. Andy Miracle announces that the recreation center will be closed Saturday night November 23. Why? It's Sadi Hawkins Day! So the bachelors decided they might have more chance of escaping in the school cafetorium (since its larger) and as this week there'll be a 'catch us if you can' session in the Avon Park High lunch room.

All the VIP's will be there—Li'l Abner, Daisy Mae, Mammy and Pappy Yokum, Moonbeam McSwine, Fruitful and Frightful, the two lovely (??) young sisters—and oh yes—boys its' only fair to tell you that Marryin' Sam will probably be there. Think I'll go as Old Man Moose—cause I got a powerful strong feelin' I could make some pretty good pre-dickshuns about who's gonna ketch whom. Or is it hoo? Anyhoo, don't fail to be at the school cafetorium Saturday night 8:00 p.m. sharp, and Boys, you'd better be sharp, 'cause here's a tip to the weaker sex . . . "No holds barred."

Concert To Open Second Orchestral Season

The Community Orchestra of Eastern Kentucky opens its second season with a pair of concerts at Richmond Brock Auditorium on November 21st at 7:30 p. m., and at Berea Gray Auditorium on Sunday, November 24th at 3:00 p. m.

The Orchestra, with Joseph Firszt of Berea and Robert Oppelt of Richmond as co-conductors, has almost doubled its size since it was started last year. For many years Eastern Kentucky has needed a source of live orchestral music. A dearth of competent string players has created this situation. It is impossible to have an orchestra without large numbers of strings—violin, 'cello, bass—just as it is impossible to have a bread without brass. Gradually, more strings have come into this area and channeling their energies and efforts was made possible last year and to a much greater extent this year.

The rehearsals are held alternately in Richmond and Berea—Berea College sponsored the orchestra the first year, and now Eastern College has joined in the expense of running such an organization. Berea and Richmond have worked together for twenty-six years in presenting the "Messiah," so the next logical step was to have the instrumental divisions come together for greater possibilities and rewards.

Musicians from the world over who live now in our part of Kentucky have come together in this group. We have players from the U.S., China, England, and Turkey.

The orchestra enjoyed a successful first season and gave a variety of concerts, from Bach to Leroy Anderson. Their performances utilized full orchestra, chamber ensemble, string quartet, a special children's orchestra, a dance group, and soloists.

The program for the first concert is. Overture for the Suite "Dardanus" by J. P. Rameau; Symphony No. 15 also No. 85) in Bb Major (A Reine) by Joseph Haydn; Valse Triste by Jan Sibelius; Andalucian Suite by Ernesto Lecuona. Also included will be a premier performance of "Seven Joys of Mary" from the Appalacian String Serenade by John Jacob Niles; and Acadian Songs from "The Louisiana Story" by Virgil Thomson.

If anyone is interested in having the orchestra perform in your community please contact Joy Dedman, 806, Berea College, Berea, Kentucky.

Winter Guest Club News

Sunday, November 24, all Avon Park "Sunday Singers" are invited to attend the sinfest at the Sebring Tourist Club; the time, 2:30 p. m. Last Sunday, in spite of summer temperature (or so it seemed), over 75 enthusiastic folk gathered for the bi-weekly song service. Special numbers included a trio, Mrs. C. Ireland, Mrs. G. Marsh and H. Gibson accompanied by Mrs. H. Gibson, which sang two numbers. This was their first appearance as a group—let's do it again. Miss W. Roe and Mr. J. Shiltz sang a duet and Mrs. Beck was in usual good form with her whistling novelties. The high light of the afternoon, though, was the novel experience of singing to the accompaniment of an hundred-year-old roller organ. We thank Mr. Wm. Bervinkle for his generosity in sharing this treasure with us.

Saturday's covered-dish supper was well attended by a hungry, enthusiastic group. For the newcomers this is an excellent way to meet the other members and get acquainted, for the not-so-newly come it is a most pleasant final to the week's activities.

Saturday's tournament saw the ladies victorious and great was the rejoicing therefore; we hear our president had some special favors to bestow. Sadie Wyman and Sylvia Book were the victorious team, nudging out C. Brush and H. Arms to take their places on the Roll of Fame. On Wednesday J. Slater and H. Arms were the victorious team.

The winter season is getting into high gear now, especially on Friday nights. The floor was filled for every dance last week and, had there been room, most of the time there would have been two more sets; guess we'll have to do repeats on the most popular numbers. Especially noteworthy was the set of "learners" who, after only two practice sessions, were taking part in the squares. Another class for beginners will form immediately after Thanksgiving; if you want to dance and don't know how, or if you are rusty from long disuse, here is your opportunity.

Tuesday's bridge on the twelfth was well attended, with seven tables in play. Mr. John Nuber had the highest score with Mrs. H. Kidder a close second.

On Saturday, November 30, there will be no covered-dish supper; the reason being that so many of our members get together for similar affairs on Thanksgiving.

THE TATTLER

Devils Go To Sebring Next Wednesday

The annual turkey tilt and big inter-county gridiron battle of the year looms as the two Highlands County rivals, both unbeaten in Conference play, prep for the Thanksgiving Eve battle next Wednesday night in Sebring.

The Devils and the Streaks annually try to best each other even before the kickoff. In the past buildings have been smeared with red and blue paint, the traditional bonfires have been set off on the eve of the battle and there was general tomfoolry in both communities prior to the game.

The Red Devils will be the favorites by virtue of their 4-0-1 Conference record and also by the fact that for the past four years they whipped the Streaks by impressive scores. In 1954 the Devils won 33-19, in 1955—28-14, in 1956—46 to 7 and last year by a decisive 32 to 0 score over the county rivals. These scores mean little when you start comparing two teams with a rivalry as keen as these two schools have. Sebring has not won a grid Conference title since 1937 and they would like nothing better than to upset the Devils and wrest the championship title away from them.

Avon Park has won four Ridge games and tied Arcadia. Kissimmee and Fort Meade are still on the slate. The Blue Streaks have won four Ridge tilts and tied two—Mulberry and Kathleen. They still have Fort Meade on the slate. Neither team has lost a conference game. Both teams play conference toes this week. Sebring will entertain Ft. Meade on Thursday night and Avon Park will entertain the Kissimmee Kowboys on Friday night.

The two teams seem to have well-rounded squads. The Red Devils boast the most powerful balanced backfield in the Conference with John Starling, fullback, and Wendell Williams, Billy Rouse and Jim Cooper. These boys average 6 yards per carry and they really hustle with the ball. The Devil line, led by 175 pound tackle Terry Elder is tough and aggressive and they have given up only two touchdowns and one extra point in conference play.

Sebring also has a good backfield led by fullback Jerry Sheffield and quarterback Don Seaborn with Wayne Harris, Gene Tomlinson and Gary Lanier doing some of the running. The line is led by 205 pound tackle John Tew.

The teams run from the T-formation or its variations. They both have good running games and pretty good passing attacks, although Sebring might be a little better in the air than Avon Park. This year's battle is expected to be plenty rough no matter how you look at it.

Co-captains for the Sebring Streaks are John Tew and Jerry Sheffield, and for the Devils, Winky Williams and Billy Rouse.

A pre-game parade will climax a week of excitement and preparation for the ensuing battle. The parade and pep rally will be held in Sebring.

Kick-off will be at 8:30 after a Pre-game ceremony led by Supervising Principal George Douglas. The halftime show will feature the Bands of Sebring, Avon Park and Lake Placid along with the introduction of the Sponsors. Sponsors for Sebring are Miss Mary Alice Hunt and Miss Johnnie Ruth Heath, majorettes. The Avon Park Sponsors are Miss Kay Mizelle and Miss Betty Claire Foster.

The probable starting line-ups will be: Avon Park—Farless and Earnest, Ends; Elder and Parrish, Tackles; Bigbie and Martin, Guards; Starling, Center; Cooper, quarterback; Starling, fullback; Williams and Rouse, halfbacks. For Sebring: Harris and Sauls, Ends; Tew and Johnson, tackles; Waters and Belcher, guards; Lanier, Center; Williams quarterback; Tomlinson and Seaborn, halfbacks; Sheffield, fullback.

Since the game is in Sebring this Friday—the big football dance of the season will be held this Friday night at Teen Town after the game with Kissimmee. So all you waltzers and rock 'n rollers be sure to be on hand for that event.

Let's all gather in the Mall Tuesday night for the pep rally and in the true spirit of good sportsmanship — cheer the team to victory in this all important game of the year.

New Fellowships Offered High School Science And Mathematics Teachers

Shell Companies Foundation, Inc., announced today that fellowships will be provided for special study next summer to 100 high school teachers of physics, chemistry, and mathematics.

This is a 67 per cent increase in the size of the Foundation's Merit Fellowship program since the first 69 fellowships were awarded in 1956. There were 90 fellowships last year.

The Foundation said the program is designed to help check the nation's shortage of scientists by strengthening the teaching of high school chemistry, physics, and mathematics and thus encouraging more young people to plan scientific careers.

Half the fellowship teachers attend full summer sessions at Stanford University, and half go to Cornell.

Applications for both Stanford and Cornell fellowships close February 1, the Foundation said.

Fellowship teachers receive allowances for travel, tuition, living expenses, and $500 in cash to offset the loss of other summer earnings. Teachers attend lectures and laboratory sessions, hold group discussions with scientists, and visit nearby research installations.

Requests for fellowship applications should be sent directly to the two universities. Teachers living west of the Mississippi should write the School of Education, Standard University, Stanford, California. Teachers east of the Mississippi should write the School of Education, Cornell University, Ithaca, New York.

Mathematics, physics, and chemistry teachers in the U.S. and Canada with five years' experience and known leadership ability are eligible.

A Lesson-Sermon for the day entitled "Thanksgiving" will be read in all Christian Science churches. Consisting of selections from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the Lesson-Sermon will emphasize the importance of expressing gratitude to God in deeds as well as in speech.

The service is open to the general public and local church members have invited everyone to attend.

Winter Park Defeat Devils

Avon Park went down to their second defeat of the season Friday night when they lost to Winter Park of the Orange Belt Conference by a score of 7 to 6.

The always tough defense of the Red Devils fought the Wildcats and held them scoreless up until two minutes before halftime at which point halfback Johnny Jane ripped off right tackle and raced 40 yards to pay dirt. Winter Park's kick for the extra point was good and gave the Wildcats the point which finally proved to be the margin of victory.

The Red Devils took the second half kick-off and combined power running and accurate passing to drive down to the Winter Park one.

The stubborn Wildcat line dug in and would not yield to the Devils. Winter Park took over at this point and brought the ball out only seven yards when they were forced to punt. Avon Park took the punt and again drove down in the shadow of the goal post, this time being stopped two yards short of the touchdown so sorely needed.

The Wildcats assumed possession and with their deceptive running plays mustered three first down before being forced to punt. Winky Williams received the ball on the 10 yard line and looked as if he were going all the way when he reeled off a beautiful 50 yard return to end the third quarter.

DO YOU KNOW?

By DALE I. ROYAL, Evangelist
Avon Park Church of Christ

Do you know that church attendance is a necessary part of being a Christian? Concerning church attendance the Hebrew Writer said, (Heb. 10:25) "Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is." Thus we see that even in the New Testament some Christians failed to attend church as they should.

But someone says, "I don't like to attend church. Its so dull and uninteresting." When I was a boy (not too long ago) my teachers and parents used to say, "You cannot get sometime out unless you put something in." This is as true of church as slot machines. Too many professing Christians never put themselves into the work or worship of the church yet they expect much out but in vain.

Actually it is not a case of what "I" want or do not want. Christians are bought with a price (1 Cor. 6:19-20) therefore they are not to be interested in serving their own desires but rather in serving the desires of Christ Jesus their Lord. Je said, (Jno. 14:15) "If ye l me, keep my commandment Thus to the extent we do attend church regularly that extent we do not love H who died that we might h life!

Early For Christmas"

Predicting that the Christmas mail this year will set an all time record, Postmaster D. [illegible] announced this 1957 "Mail Early For Christmas" campaign today.

With Christmas only a little more than a month away, the Postmaster reminds us, "It's later than you think!". Most folks have a tendency to wait until December rolls around when they give their Christmas mailing plans a thought!

The Postmaster further suggested that right now is the time to take the following steps: Check your Christmas card lists very carefully - make sure that each address includes the full name, street and number, city, zone and state.

He said, also, that it is a good idea to stock up on heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord, and paper adhesive tape for use in securely packing and wrapping your Christmas gifts. If you'd like to include your Christmas card or letter inside your gift package, just add the appropriate First Class mail postage to the postage for the package itself; thus, insuring simultaneous arrival of your gift and greeting.

To help you plan your early Christmas mailing, the Postmaster suggested that you secure from the Post Office Pamphlet No. 2, which tells all about Packaging and Wrapping Parcels for Mailing, and Pamphlet No. 3, giving full details on Domestic Postage Rates and Fees. Be sure to stock up on plenty of stamps at the same time.

Also, ask for free labels reading, "All For Local Delivery" and "All For Out of Town Delivery", so that you can speed arrival of your Christmas cards by sorting and tying them in two separate bundles with the addresses all facing one way.

Keep in mind that only Christmas cards carrying First Class three cent, or six cent Air Mail postage, may include a personal message. Nothing more than a signature is authorized on cards mailed at the two cent Third Class rate; and be sure your return address is on every Christmas card envelope - this is socially correct, and helps both you and your friends to keep your mailing lists up-to-date.

The Postmaster says he is completing advance preparations to handle the Christmas rush with extra mail clerks, carriers, and expanded facilities all around. So, now, it is really up to you!

It's important to plan your Christmas mailings so that those Christmas cards and gifts for most distant points are mailed first. Try to get all of your out-of-town cards and gifts into the Post Office before December 10th, and those for nearby points should be mailed by December 15th.

Hints For Christmas Mailing

Hundreds of thousands of Christmas cards and packages will be lost this year because of illegibly written addresses. Servicemen overseas, relatives, friends, business associates—all will be part of a disappointed army whose mail goes astray, because, as a national magazine recently stated, we have become a "nation of scrawlers."

Yet a few simple rules and just a little attention to it will improve anybody's handwriting immediately, says the Handwriting Foundation in a special appeal aimed at cutting down losses.

All addresses, says the Foundation, should be written in at least three well-spaced lines, with zone numbers included. This goes for the return address as well. Take special care with the "tricky" letters and numbers shown on the chart.

WATCH OUT FOR TRICKY LETTERS

Never close these loops: e l f

Always close letters like: a g d

WATCH OUT FOR "LOOK ALIKE" NUMBERS

1-7 3-5-8

NP

Your signature, on greeting and gift cards, should be legible. Include the last name when identification might otherwise be in doubt. If it's a family card, make the children part of the greeting, and let them sign the card, too.

For far away friends and relatives, add a short note—a few words of greeting and maybe a promise of a longer letter soon. A New Year's card is appropriate for friends you've forgotten at Christmas. And never give money gifts to the postman, milkman and others without at least the personal touch of your signature.

You don't have to be an artist to decorate a card or gift package. A pen and colored inks (try red and green for Christmas) is all you need. A tree in outline, some stars, a few heavy dots . . . and you've drawn your own Christmas spirit. Another personal touch is a note in an envelope attached to the outside of a gift package.

As for next year's greeting card and gift list, compile it now. Write each name on a separate index card, and alphabetize them in a file box to simplify additions and changes. Or keep a booklet, with blank pages between names for newcomers. Such a list prevents embarrassing duplication or omission at card-sending time.

And always remember, concludes the Handwriting Foundation, that the written message is part of the Christmas spirit. Be sure to make the message legible.

HOMES

By The Bird Woman

We all enjoy traveling around and inspecting new homes as they are being erected in our locality, and we have come to the conclusion that a home exemplifies the personality of the owner.

We do not mean that all tall people have tall houses, nor that all short people live in one story flat houses, but the general aspect of color and landscaping, whether it be an elaborate planning or a single shrub or tree, tells the passer-by what type of people live in that particular home.

If you are familiar with bird families you will find the same thing to be true, and if you are seeking the home of a specified bird you do not have to have the street and number, for you will know that the bird you are seeking builds at a certain height and in a certain environment, you will be able to verify the owners name by the structure of it's nest.

We have carpenters, Weavers and Masons, as well as birds that tunnel in the ground for a nesting place and also some that attach their nests to floating reeds.

Some prefer dark caves as homes, some build on the side of a chimney or wall and glue them fast with a secretion from their mouthes.

Some enjoy nesting boxes and enjoy building close to a habitation, while others seek a hollow limb, and shape the interior to their own needs and size.

One thing is essential before a nest is built in a box, that the opening is just large enough to admit an enemy.

We have the Wood Duck, one of our most beautiful ducks, and unlike most of the duck family, which prefer a secluded nest near the edge of a bobby of water, prefers to build it's home in a tree and will take readily to a nesting box if one is provided, these ducks are very fond of acorns and swallow them whole, and they are so constructed that they can digest them.

Some birds are very careless about the construction of their nests and just place a few twigs and leaves togather, and make an indentation in the center to keep the eggs from rolling out, and to look at it, we would think that the first passing breeze would send it flying, but the birds have the know how, and even these nests will survive the rearing of two or three broods.

There seems to be no end to the varities of nests constructed by the various species, but we find each specie adheres specificially to the pattern given to the original pair, so whether it builds in the north or south the specie can be determined by the structure of it's home.

Imagine the human family trying to duplicate a bird's nest using only their mouth and feet, to support a nest of fledglings and their parents without using a hairpin or scotch tape.

The male if the specie usually arrives first, when nesting time arrives, and chooses an area for a home, then mounts on the highest twig or spire and shouts the news in it's most musical voice, for all to hear, both calling some female to come and share the area with him, and also to proclaim to other birds that this area is taken and that he is willing and able to protect it.

So when the female arrives and accepts the attention of the male, and decides to cooperate in rearing a family, she must accept the area that he has chosen, but the definite site is chosen by the little woman, who has most of the responsibility of building the nest.

It is quite interesting to watch the male in his endeavor to be helpful, usually bringing the wrong material at the right time, and being more in the way than doing good.

We find that bird's homes range from what seems to be a small knot on a limb covered with li chen, as made by our smallest bird, the Humming bird, to a huge collection of branches and limbs weighing a ton, and placed in the crotch of a tall tree, as built by the Eagle.

Some birds use their nests only one season, but the Eagle will add to it's nest each year and never build a new one, and if one of the mates die or is killed, the other will select a new mate and continue to use the same old homestead.

The Robin is the Mason of the bird world, and it must have the proper material with which to build, water and dust, if a good supply of mud is at hand it will use it, if not it will carry the dust and drop it into the water or soak itself in water and shake the water on the dust and make mud for itself.

If a convenient limb is near it will utilize it, if not it will not scorn a shelf properly placed.

When the mud has been deposited at the nesting site the Robin will sit on the mud and work itself by twisting and turning, until it moulds the inside of the nest to the shape of it's body, leaving room of course for a soft lining and for the young when they are hatched.

We know the robin here only as a migratory bird, as it spends the winter with us and goes north in the spring to nest.

There is another bird with an unusual habit, although it does not live in our area, it is the Prairie Horned Lark, it builds it's nest on the ground and often builds a platform of pebbles in front of it's door.

The Creasted Flycatcher must have a snake skin in it's nest, whether it builds in a nesting box or in a hollow tree, it has not yet been determine whether the bird is superstitious or whether it considers the snake-skin a charm to keep away intruders.

Protection From TB

For safety's sake these young men are lining up for chest X-rays to be sure they don't have TB. If the X-ray eye finds TB in its early stages before symptoms develop, it can be most easily and quickly cured. Christmas Seal funds support the TB case-finding programs of the voluntary tuberculosis associations.

Safety Stressed Thursday At Avon Elementary PTA

The parents and teachers of the Avon Elementary P.T.A. discussed the possibilities of more safety precautions being taken at the railroad crossing on Pleasant Street at their regular montly meeting on Thursday evening, Nov. 14, in the Elementary Cafeterium.

Mrs. James Anderson, president, appointed Mrs. M. V. Parry, to set up a committee to decide upon and order T-Shirts with appropriate emblems for sale to the children of the elementary schools. This was approved by the group.

There were about seventy-five parents present at the meeting. Mrs. Everett's second grade won the attendance banner with the most parents present.

Mrs. Sam King introduced the speaker who was Dr. James Mosco, Psychiatrist with the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program. Dr. Mosco spoke on "The Development of the Child until The Age of 12", a subject with which he was familiar because of previous work in child psychiatrics. He stressed the child's need for love, approval, and a sense of direction. Dr. Mosco said that by the time a child was 12 years of age his lifetime personality was formed and he emphasized the great importance of the early years. After his talk parents asked questions and a lively discussion followed. The talk and discussion was enjoyed by the parents present.

Refreshments were served after the meeting by the roommothers of the second grade with Mrs. Floyd Wells and Mrs. Harmon Atkins acting as chairmen.

Many foreign countries classify newspaper selling among the occupations for which a higher age minimum is required than for other industries.

On August 24, 1912 a postal law was passed which required publishers to file and publish sworn statements of circulation twice a year.

Fla. Ave. Baptist Church News

The ladies of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Florida Avenue Baptist Church enjoyed a study on Africa entitled "Something New" on Thursday evening, Nov. 14, in the Social Hall of the Church.

The interesting and informative course was taught by Mrs. W. D. Fletcher. Fourteen members of the W.M.S. were present for the course.

Refreshments of coffee and cookies were served after the course.

"Floridarama in Action" is the story of Florida, expressed by the people who live here, in the poetic language of the lover of flowers, according to Marie Bolles. Floridarama is a state flower show which will be held in Lake County in early December.

Ridge League of Municipalities To Meet In Avon Park Dec. 12

The City of Avon Park will be host to the Ridge League of Municipalities at a dinner meeting at the Jacaranda Hotel Thursday night, December 12, at 7 o'clock.

Speakers at these meetings are considered authorities in their field, and are members of the staff at either the University of Florida or the Florida State University. The subject for the Avon Park meeting will be "Better Police and Fire Service".

The Ridge League of Municipalities had its beginnings in the summer of 1948 when a small group of officials from various cities in Central Florida met to exchange administrative information and policies concerning various municipal problems.

The first recorded minutes were taken in an informal session at Lake Alfred on July 14, 1948, with eight cities represented. It was the group's second meeting. Copies of ordinances were exchanged, and members voted to include cooperation with the Florida League of Municipalities as one of its many objectives. A suitable name was discussed and adopted by the organization on October 11, 1948. Mayor C. Allen of Auburndale was elected first president; City Commissioner George Tolson of Lakeland was elected president the following year. Eleven cities were represented in the organization by the end of the year.

Today - after 10 years of growth - the Ridge League of Municipalities represents 25 cities, and its monthly meet-

Rogero Meets With Officials On Paving Of City Streets; 4-Laning Of Hwy. 27 To Begin 1st Of Year

A special called meeting of the Board of County Commissioners was held Monday afternoon, November 25, with representatives from Avon Park, Sebring and Lake Placid to discuss street paving in the various towns of the County from the Secondary Road Money. Al Rogero, State Road Board member, and H. M. Johnson, District Engineer, met with the group.

The Board submitted their Secondary Road priority to the State Road Department on March 15, 1957 which included paving of certain streets in these cities. But the Attorney for the State Department claims that the Secondary Road money could not be used in the paving of all streets listed in the priority. According to his interpretation of the only streets within the cities that could be paved are ones that connect two state roads, either primary or secondary.

After much discussion of the problem concerning construction of within city limits of the various cities, Mr. Rogero asked the cities to submit a list of streets within their cities, again and a letter explaining why each street was needed.

Mayor E. A. DeLaney acted as spokesman for the group. Also present from Avon Park

The order signed by Circuit Judge Joe D. Kinsey reads:

The recitations contained in the capias issued by the County Judge are considered insufficient as a basis for contempt proceedings in that it only appears there from that he advised the contemner to appear in his court on November 20, no direct order of the Court appears to be involved; the contemner was not accorded due process of law in that notice was not served upon him as to why the order should not be en-

Sheriff Broward Coker had been ordered by Judge Rehrer to collect a fine of $20 from Lee or confine him in the County Jail for 24 hours on a charge of violating the vehicle laws. Lee was involved in a minor accident recently and charged by the Florida Highway Patrol with following to closely.

The order signed by Circuit Judge Joe D. Kinsey reads:

The recitations contained in the capias issued by the County Judge are considered insufficient as a basis for contempt proceedings in that it only appears there from that he advised the contemner to appear in his court on November 20, no direct order of the Court appears to be involved; the contemner was not accorded due process of law in that notice was not served upon him as to why the order should not be en-

In The Flush Of Youth

Going by some of the pessimistic statements and forecasts now being made, one could believe that U. S. agriculture is en route to hell in a handbasket.

Fortunately, however—and without minimizing farm problems—there are plenty of signs that this just isn't true and won't be true.

For instance, farm equipment sales are one good barometer of farm purchasing power, and of the farmer's determination to make his operations more efficient and profitable. The Bureau of National Affairs, in a recent issue of its Economic Review, reports that these sales are rising and will continue to pick up in 1958. Next year's tractor sales are expected to show a three to five per cent gain. Sales of other machinery used by farmers is new up to 14 per cent in dollar volume over last year, and 1958 is expected to show an equally substantial improvement.

The Review adds: "These sales increases are not just a result of increases in farm income, which have been only modest. Farmers are finding that investment in machines cuts costs and enables them to stay in business despite the low prices received for what they produce."

Agriculture has made great strides in cutting costs in this fashion. The mechanical horses pay their way many times over. But there is still tremendous room for the further lowering of production costs through modern tool use. There is small doubt that agriculture's mechanical revolution is still in the flush of youth.

Dictators And The Economy

During one of the President's recent press conferences, he was asked what government programs would be reduced or eliminated in the effort to cut federal spending. In answering, he laid special stress on federal electric power development, saying: ". . . there is a very great difference between local or state government building things, that is, a public utility system or a dam or anything else, and the federal government doing it. Because as federal government begins to run riot with the expenditures that it deems good for the country, if necessary, it can print money; it can go into debt."

Then the President added: ". . . any government that controls all the power in the country can really dictate what the economy is going to be. They can shift it and everything else." He made it clear that the Administration will continue to support the "partnership" plan of power development, which lays the primary responsibility for meeting local power needs on local private enterprise, local government, and other local groups.

Many people see eye to eye with the President in his views on federal power—socialized electricity. These public plants escape all or the major part of the tax burden borne by private enterprise. They become political footballs. And there is plenty of evidence that the people don't want them—in local election after election proposed public power plants and systems have been voted down.

That to one side, what the President said about federal power is unassailable. These monopolies are forced on the people by politicians who make careers of promoting bigger and costlier government, and the people have no choice in the matter. Their power projects are tax-dodgers on a grandiose scale. And inevitably, they become dictators against whose policies there is no effective recourse.

Operation big switch on milk price controls caught Brailey Odham, the Sanford house builder, a little off guard.

Odham had made up his mind that during the two-day hearing he would concentrate on developing testimony on rebates to big grocery stores.

After proving—or at least showing windespread use of the rebate system—he was ready to knock the minimum price down two to three cents at the wholesale level, and put a top of 25 cents a quart at retail in stores.

This is on pasteurized milk.

Odham based this on the fact that most everyone agreed that rebates to big grocery chains were running about 10 percent. By lowering the wholesale price to the big store owner—or at least lowering the minimum, he figured some of the rebate might be passed along to the consumer.

At a private conference of the milk people Monday night before the hearing, they asked Odham to come up and talk to them. He did. He told of his formula and asked them to endorse it.

He left and when he came back they agreed to lower the minimum by a half-cent a quart, but everyone was in favor of abolishing controls.

Odham said "If they're for it, there must be something wrong with it."

Under the circumstances, Odham said he was tempted to stick to his guns on first lowering he minimums and putting a ceiling on prices first—then later considering abolishing wholesale and retail controls.

He felt—as did Robert Carter, board of health member—that this would have allowed a pattern to develop to let the housewife know she should be able to buy milk cheaper at the store than home delivery. (With controls on, milk has to be sold at the store at the same price it is sold at the home. Testimony before the commission indicates that the cost for the delivery to homes is actually being paid—at least in part—by the folks who buy at the store.

Odham felt the same way at 11:30 Wednesday, but he couldn't get the votes, and finally voted for lifting controls an hour later.

He pointed out that he could not vote against abolishing controls because it would be against everything he believed—although he thought it would result in milk prices going up at present.

The big question seems to be: "What will happen to milk prices?"

Among those in the business, the answer seems to be nothing.

The reasoning goes this way."

Since the milk industry sponsored the move to get controls abolished, they probably won't make a move to raise prices immediately.

By the same token, they probably won't lower them, because it would tend to show they could go down.

There will probably be some isolated cases of lower prices, just as there was in the southern part of the state when controls were lifted, but nothing general.

Harvey, the Capitol cat who writes with his tail, visited the hearing. He has this to say "I wandered down out of the Capitol dome to attend the milk commission hearing on price fixing—planning to get a free bowl of milk.

"Instead, all I found were cokes."

"During the meeting, I curled at the feet of some of the milk men. Instead of talking about milk, they were discussing the need for a deodarant—er sumpthun.

They kept saying, "BO this, and BO that."

"I was a little bit puzzled, until it occured to me that they were talking about Brailey Odham."

"For what it's worth, I also wandered into some of the local restaurants looking for a handout during the hearing."

"A man had collered Odham and was urging him to run for governor."

Brailey listened politely and thanked the man, but said, "I've already tried that twice, and didn't get anyplace."

The Koyboys, the biggest threat to the Devils in Conference play last season, were no match for the tough Ridge Conference leaders and failed to offer a threat at scoring even during the second half when the second team went into battle. The Red Devils scored almost at will during the first half as the rugged starting team refused to be stopped. All of the Avon Park ball carriers ran with determination and rolled up a total of 443 yards against the visitors.

The scoring started with about two minutes gone when the Devils received the kickoff and drove it across on six running plays. The payoff was a 25 yard dash around left end by Billy Rouse. Big John Starling rammed over the seventh point. Later on in the first quarter halfback Winkie Williams intercepted a Kowboy pass on Kissimmee's 48 yard line and carried it back all the way to score. Rouse went around end for the extra point. The quarter ended with the Devils on the march again. After a 49 yard punt return by Starling the big Red Team drove to the one foot line and lost the ball on a fumble. The Avon Park defense held and the Kowboys punted to the Devils on the 23 yard line. Six plays later John Starling crashed over from the two yard line. Williams tore through for the extra point. Later in the second quarter the visitors punted and Winkie Williams received it at midfield and brought it back all the way to score. He then added the extra point with a perfect kick. This put the score at 28-0.

The Halftime show featured both the Kowboy Band and the Red Devil Band both of which gave excellent performances. The visiting band used an Indian Pow-Wow as their theme and did a very good job. They were well received by the crowd. The Avon Park Band's performance was centered around a fashion show featuring the beauties of the Band.

Also at halftime the Homecoming Queen was announced along with her two attendants. The honor went to Annette Weinzirl as Queen and Sylvia Foster and Bobie Sue Elder as her attendants.

After taking the second half kickoff and not being able to gain the Kowboys kicked to Jim Cooper who returned it to the Kissimmee 44 yard line. Only four plays later Avon Park scored again as substitute quarterback Reggie Butler tossed a pass to Ben Earnest on the seven yard line. He stepped over untouched. Tommy Douberly's kick for the point was good. At this point, what few first stringers were in the game, were replaced and sat out the reminder of the game.

For the balance of the third and most of the last quarter the teams played on even terms. Late in the last quarter Daniel Money decided to play as the fifth man in the Kowboy's backfield as he snatched the ball out of Kissimmee's possession and ran 15 yards to score. Douberly's kick for the extra point was blocked. The game ended after the rough and ready Tom Bass intercepted a Kowboy pass and swivel-hipped his way to midfield.

Avon Park had 14 first downs to 3 for the Kowboys. In passing it was 8-3 for the Devils and 12-3 for the visitors. The Devils punted twice for a 36 yard average and Kissimmee punted 6 times for a 33 yard average. Avon Park lost 55 yards on penalties to 20 for Kissimmee.

Senior Woman's Club Reports On Years Work

The Senior Woman's Club of Avon Park has been very active during the year of 1957 and were proud to be able to report some of their acomplishments to the State Federation Officers at the annual District 9 meeting in Bartow.

The membership of the club has been increased by forty-five members and many new social events have been added to the club calendar to stimulate interest in the Club and to better the financial status.

A contribution of $100 to the Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children is something all members can be very proud of. Also the library looks lovely in the new coat of paint donated by the Senior Club.

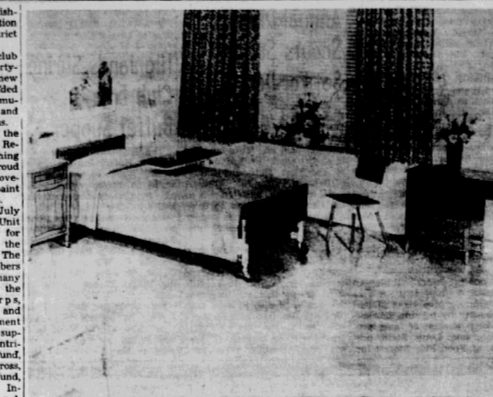

During the month of July the Chest X-Ray Mobile Unit was manned in Avon Park for five days by members of the Senior Woman's Club. The club and individual members have actively supported many civic activities such as the Ground Observation Corps, City Beautification Plans, and the Community Development Association. The drives supported by the club with contributions are the T. B. Fund, Cancer Drive, Red Cross, March of Dimes, Library Fund, Christmas Cheer Baskets, Indian Welfare, Heart Fund, Ridge Area Hospital Extension for Colored Patients, Endowment Fund, and Penny Art Fund. In fact the Avon Park Senior Woman's Club has responded to all requests for help.

The Clubs money making projects have been interesting and various, Card parties, breakfasts, luncheons, have been held. Pie and cakes were sold at the annual Halloween Carnival.

The Senior Club has shown a decided interest in the ex-

"Teen - Town Talk"

Mr. and Mrs. Hanford assisted Mrs. Martha Ward as chaperones Friday night at the Homecoming Dance at the Youth Recreation Center Friday night. Around 100 were in attendance, celebrating Homecoming Day and the winning of the game with Kissimmee. Queen of the day was Annette Weinzell.

The Youth Center was closed Saturday night due to the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance, which was held at the elementary school cafetorium. The large room with its smooth floor and stage was a perfect spot for the party. Mr. Francis LaFlam was Ole Man Mose, making his predickahuns for the future, while Judge Rehrer acted as Marryin' Sam, and performed the "ceromonies" for the happy couples, after which they took a honeymoon excursion to "Kissin Rock." What about those pennies in that little brown jug? I noticed quite a few. Anybody care to elaborate? Oh yes the girls had to pay for the marriage certificate the only requirement being her solemn word that the groaning victim of her choice was over two years of age. Bobbie Sue Elder was there as Daisy Mae, and Thurston Marlin as Li'l Abner. Bop Contest was won by Jan Saylor and Leroy Starling. Records were the prize. Refreshments were cold drinks, soft cider, hamburgers and cookies. Admission was 25c for each inch around a girls waist. If some of them hadn't held their breath they might have accumulated enough money to pay the expenses of that Washington trip they are wanting so badly. The persecuted bachelors only had to pay 1 cent for each inch of their gorgeous waistlines. Chaperones for the evening were Judge and Mrs. Mervin Rehrer, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Tish and Mr. and Mrs. Townsend, and Mr. Leroy LaFlam. Guess Mammy and Pappy Yokum had to baby sit with Hanmus Alahamus.

Preston Strenuth acted as Master of Ceremonies assisted by Robert Hall. Many thanks to WJCM of Sebring!

Saturday night the Youth Center will be open as usual. Mr. Miracle says the door prize will be given this Saturday night. See you there.

cellent work of the Junior Club and is striving to stimulate even finer relationships.

For the growth of the members the Club has had book reviews each month, monthly reports on the world situation, and a course in current events called "History in the Making."

Our members are very interested in the proposed regional library and Mobile Unit plan and will work to make these plans become reality.

Mrs. Robert Watson, second vice president, is in full charge of the Christmas Seal distributions in Avon Park. All members have shown a marvelous spirit of cooperation on all projects.

It is with great regret that the Club reports the death of two valuable members during the year; Mrs. Anna Reck, a former president and charter member, and Mrs. Frank Truan, a longtime member.

This report of the outstanding work of the Avon Park Senior Woman's Club was given by the president, Mrs. Ralph Kelley, at the District 9 meeting.

Founders' Day was observed in all Congregational Churches in the United States on Sunday, November 24. In the local church the Rev. Herbert Graetz called particular attention to the sacrifices made by the founding fathers.

During the first terrible winter of 1620 each colonist was rationed to five kernels of corn as their total food supply for the day. To commemerate this period of privation each person attending church at the morning service was given an envelope containing five kernels of corn.

The Congregational Church was founded by the first settlers who were members of the Plymouth Colony. The Avon Park Church holds the unique honor of being the oldest church of any denomination in continuous service on the Southern Ridge Area.

Interest Shown By Parents At PTA Meet Nov. 21

A large number of parents enjoyed the discussion on the grouping of students by Mrs. Andrew Miracle and Mrs. John Crittenden at the regular monthly meeting of the Parents Teachers Association on Thursday evening, Nov. 21, in the High School Cafetorium.

Mrs. Crittenden and Mrs. Miracle discussed the problem of grouping from various angles and reported on the procedures being used in several other schools. After their discussion a question period was held which showed the interest of the parents in this subject. The discussion and question period stressed the fact that the gifted child is being neglected in the schools of our country.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. E. A. Martin who gave the devotional thought.

A recomendation of the Executive Board was read to and passed by the group. The motion is as follows: As the city has not yet sold the city property, the money from which the PTA and other civic organizations hoped would be used to help in the construction of a Youth Center in Donaldson Park, the Executive Board of the PTA recomends that the PTA modify their plan of a new Youth Center for the time being and work to improve the present Youth Center on the Wauchula Road at present.

The resignation of Ellis Watson as corresponding secretary was read, and Mrs. L. A. Renfro was appointed to fill this office. It was announced that Mrs. Royal Coats will write the sketches on teachers to appear in the Avon Park Sun.

Mrs. Virgil Hall announced that the Christmas musical program is designed for 'the young and the young in heart'. The program will be presented at the regular December PTA meeting on Dec. 19 in the High School Auditorium.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, the Home Room Mothers of the 11th grade with Mrs. John Wright acting as chairman.

Editorial Line-Up For December 12 Issue Of All Florida Magazine

"Living Test Tubes," the feature story in this week's issue of ALL FLORIDA MAGAZINE, was written by Edgar L. Hay. The article describes the work of Dr. Wilhelmina P. Dunning, unsung hero in the constant war on cancer. Working with a colony of rats and mice, Dr. Dunning and her associates have published about 40 reports on the causes and prevention of cancer.

Florida's Carnegie hero medal winners are listed and some of their daring rescues described in Henry P. Unger's story, "Heroes to the rescue!" Andrew Carnegie established the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission to honor any citizen who — tries to save a life with full knowledge of the danger involved but with no thought of a reward.

"He Trains Human Trackers" by Grace Moses is a thumbnail sketch of Carl Andrews, Polk County Deputy sheriff. Andrews' fame as a trainer of bloodhounds has spread far beyond the United States.

"...festive fare from Florida" is featured on the colorful food pages of this issue. The appetizing recipes call for Florida limes and avocados.

Two very timely articles are also contained in this pre-Christmas issue. "For a Tropical Christmas" gives directions for making candies and decorations with a Florida touch. "A White Christmas — Florida Style" describes the making of snowballs.

Chief Giddens Issues Warning On Heaters

Fire Chief W. W. Giddens issues the following statement concerning portable heaters which are often used during the winter months to provide extra warmth without regard to the safety of such heaters.

Heaters should always be placed level, in a spot where there is no danger of tripping over them.

The job of filling an oil heater should be done with extreme care never when the heater is hot or in use and preferably outdoors.

Any spillage, on heater or floor, should be wiped up immediately.

Gas heaters should be vented to the outdoors, unless specifically approved for unvented use.

Any room where an oil or gas heater is in use should be adequately ventilated, since these heaters use up oxygen as

$100 Collected In Youth Assn. Drive; Triple Amount Needed

Have you mailed your contribution to the Membership Committee of the Avon Park Youth Association? If not won't you please do so when you write your checks this week. Mrs. Robert King, Chairman of the Membership Committee announced that as of the first of the week only $100 had been collected in the drive, and triple this amount is needed.

Letters were mailed last month by the Committee in regards to the Drive. But if you didn't receive a letter the Association is asking only $2.00 for family contributions and $5.00 for business firms. Anyone in the community interested in the welfare of the youths of Avon Park is cordially invited to join the Association.

This is indeed a small amount to donate for such a wonderful project, for the money is used in financing the Teen Club. The Teen Club is the only place in the community for the youths to gather for an evening of supervised entertainment.

The Club under the direction of Mr. Andrew Miracle is open to the teenagers nearly every week end with planned and supervised entertainment for all. The parents and any other interested adults are invited to visit the Club and see for themselves what a wonderful time teenagers have there.

The Association and the teenagers of Avon Park will be most grateful for your contribution. So mail it tonight and thus help provide a nice place for the youths of the community. Send your check to Mrs. Robert King, Jr., Box 455, Avon Park, Fla.

Xmas Basket Committee Needs Cash To Purchase Groceries

A meeting of the Avon Park Children's Christmas Basket Committee was held Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce. The meeting was well attended by representatives of church and civic organizations.

Several grocery stores submitted estimates of cost to furnish groceries for the baskets and the Committee checked 1956 lists of those receiving baskets last year, eliminating some who have moved away and adding others.

A corrected list will be available at the next meeting, which will be held Tuesday afternoon December 10, at the same hour and place. Grocery stores are cooperating by saying and storing for the Committee boxes in which the food and gifts will be packed. The Cafeteria room of the Avon Park School will be used to pack the boxes and the City will use its trucks to deliver.

Several cash contributions have been received and it is hoped sufficient funds will be on hand for use by the Committee in purchasing groceries.

A. B. Wilhite made an appeal to the children at school Wednesday morning to help out by bringing old toys that they did not want. The Lions Club will pick the toys up on Friday morning to repair them and add them to the Christmas baskets. Boxes have been placed in the halls at school for students to leave any repairable toys of any description.

Coach Joe Franza fielded his second title winning grid team this season when the Defending Champion Devils knocked off previously unbeaten Sebring 12-6 last Wednesday night to win the Ridge Conference Title in the annual Thanksgiving Eve grid game.

Sebring won the toss and elected to receive. They drove thirty yards before they stalled and had to punt. Ben Earnest block the kick and the Devils took over on their own 45. The Devils didn't roll and punted. The Streaks took the ball on their own 26 and methodically drove deep into Red Devil territory only to fumble on the Red Devils eight. Winky Williams recovered the fumble as the first period ended.

Bill Rouse, the left half, and Ben Earnest, right end, teamed up to produce the Devils first touchdown after the scoreless, hard fought first quarter. Rouse threw from the Streaks 43 and Ben caught the beautiful, high pass on the ten where he was pulled down by a host of Streaks. John Starling drove for 9 yards and then Billy fumbled his way through the Blue Streak's line to score the first touchdown. The linebuck for the point was no good, but Avon Park held a 6-0 halftime advantage.

The two teams struggled ineffectively during the third quarter with Avon Park in control of the ball most of the period. The Devils drove deep into Sebring territory only to fumble on the five. The ball rolled back to the fifteen where John Starling recovered. The damage had been done and Sebring took over as the quarter ended.

Marvin Paster intercepted an Avon Park pass and ran it back 47 yards to Avon Park's 17 where he was hauled down by Starling. A 15-yard penalty set the ball on the Red Devil's two and it was a simple matter for Gene Tomlinson, to crash the line to score. The Streaks also missed on the point attempt and the score was tied 6-6.

Undeserved Suspicion

A spokesman for a leading oil company says that undeserved suspicion of big business hampers business itself and threatens the great U. S. economy. These suspicions, he adds, provide " a working platform for those who would like to remake our economy in the image of a planned socialism, Marxist or otherwise."

The oil industry has come in for its share of suspicions. Time and again, for instance, it has been denounced as monopolistic. Yet if facts mean anything at all, the plain record proves that oil is highly competitive.

Take gasoline—the oil product practically everyone uses. Enormous sums have been spent in improving it, to the point where today's gas, available everywhere, approcaches the quality of the aviation fuels used in the last world war. Yet the cost of gasoline in recent years (excluding taxes, over which the industry has no control) has increased only half as much as have living costs generally.

To what can this development be attributed? The answer is—competition. Monopolies always seek maximum price increases—not minimum price increases. Monopolies aren't interested in improving quality or in spending money on progress. Monopolies offer their wares on a like-it-or-lump-it basis, because the purchaser has no choice.

The oil companies, on the other hand, have to continually try to give us a better buy for our dollar—because competition, most inexorable and relentless of forces, makes them do exactly that if they want to stay in business.

"Standard Oil Company (Indiana)

The Basis Of Labor Abuses

Senator Karl Munds, who is a member of the McClellan Committee investigating labor racketeering, has come up with an important discussion of what is needed in the field of labor legislation. On the basis of clearly established facts, he says, there is an urgent need for laws to protect the dues paid by the members; to strengthen democratic procedures and processes within the unions; to bar gangster control of the unions; to keep union funds out of politics, and to deal with the "pernicious problem" of secondary boycotts" . . . wherein unions by remote control seek to paralyze and stalemate the economic activities of a community or a company far removed from the scene of labor strife and entirely outside of the disputed conditions."

Then Senator Mundt deals with what he considers the basis of labor abuses. It is compulsory unionism—the closed shop or union shop, under which a man has the choice of joining and paying dues, whether or not he wants to, or starve.

The Senator quotes Samuel Gompers, the father of modern American unionism, as saying: "No lasting gain has ever come from compulsion. If we seek to force, we tear apart that which, united, is invincible." He then adds: "Once men are compelled to join a union in order to hold a job to earn the money to support their families, the union leader is automatically relieved of the necessity of serving the interests of his members or selling them on the desirability of trade unionism . . . . Union chieftains can concentrate on perpetuating themselves in office and serving their own selfish interests rather than constantly being under pressure to do something useful for the dues-paying members in order to attract and hold the membership. . . "

In sum, the biggest immediate need is for the right-to-work law—which puts unionism on a purely free and voluntary basis.

Total Costs Are What Count

A speaker at the recent 64th annual convention of the Farm Equipment Institute said that the industry's business this year will average out distinctly better than last.

One reason he cited is the breaking up of the big drouth which plagued much of the West and Southwest for many years. Another is of deeper significance. Speaking of the cost-price squeeze in which farm equipment customers found themselves, he pointed out that they are using with considerable success the same method to help offset it that industry is using. To quote him directly: "They are finding, more and more, that buying cost-saving, modern power equipment is truly an investment and that prices received for their products are not nearly as important as the difference between that price and their cost of production."

In other words, even though farm equipment prices, like all other prices, have risen substantially, mechanization is far and away the most successful means of cutting farm operating overhead. The equipment makers have done an outstanding job in designing and building equipment which has a greater use value to the farmer. And, though this may come as a surprise to many, they have also done an outstanding job in keeping prices down. Since 1947-49—a period commonly used as a base for such measurements—wholesale prices of farm equipment have risen 32.3 per cent. In the same period, the industry's hourly wage costs have increased by more than 80 per cent and steel prices have gone up an average of almost 70 per cent. That's a record the industry is entitled to take pride in.

Farmers An The Cost-Price Squeeze

An old argument used in favor of public electric power projects is that they provide service more cheaply than do the private utilities. Time after time, when that argument has been subjected to careful analysis in specific cases, it has been proven groundless.

A current example is found in New York City. The city-owned power plants which are operated by the Transit Authority to supply power for New York's great subway system are virtually worn-out. One of two things must be done. These plants must be rehabilitated and modernized or the needed power must be bought from New York's private utility.

According to the public-power people, rehabilitation and continued Transit Authority operation of the plants would be the cheaper course. However, the Citizens Budget Commission, Inc. has looked into the matter and it reaches a very different conclusion. Due to the system of bookkeeping used by New York—under which the Transit Authority pays only part of the total Transit power cost—it does appear that public-power is cheaper. But the total costs to New York of purchased power from the private company are less than the total costs of power generated at the municipal plants. From the taxpayer point of view, it is obvious that total cost is the big thing—not the mechanics of a bookkeeping system.

What is true in this case is true in many others—on both the municipal and the state and federal levels. When all costs are computed, and a really accurate comparison is finally reached, socialized power is usually more expensive than private enterprise power.

Journalists And Doctors

Newspaper people and doctors have a great deal in common. That is the unusual theme of an editorial in the Louisville Courier Journal, entitled "Press And Medicine Both Serve The People."

The Journal says: "The two professions—medicine and journalism—have some notable points of similarity. Both are concerned with important functions of human life. Doctors strive to preserve and restore human health—Journalists deal with the health of human minds in a democracy by trying to keep them adequately informed.

"Both professions are practiced by men and women who are passionate believers in their calling. Here is perhaps the root of some misunderstanding. A doctor believes that all must recognize the nobility of his profession. A journalist is just as convinced that the satisfaction of the people's right to know is a duty of a high moral order. Such pride can lead to arrogance on both sides. The practitioners of both professions sometimes fail to explain their actions fully to each other or to the public, because they forget that any explanation is necessary. . . . "

Happily, misunderstandings born of such causes are much less common than they used to be. More and more doctors—along with medical societies—now recognize the need for good public relations, within the framework of medicine's high code of ethics. More and more newspaper people, on their side, are showing a keen interest in the problems and achievements of the medical fraternity. The legitimate interests of both groups—and, of far greater importance, the public interest—is thus served.

Meikrowave .....

—By Don Meikeljohn

Ik's illness has provided a good selling point for Florida's new constitution.

As it stands, Florida is in the same fix as the federal government on picking a substitute for an ailing chief executive. There just isn't a method.

In the proposed constitution, the governor himself can say he's on the shelf by certifying it to the secretary of state. The lieutenant governor would take over.

As a further protection, the cabinet by a suggestion by four members can initiate such a move, but the Supreme Court is the final judge on determining inexpacity to serve.

A reverse procedure puts the governor back at the helm. He can do it himself by certifying it to the secretary of state. . . .

If the move was initiated by the Cabinet, the legislature or the governor can seek restoration from the Supreme Court.

Gov. Collins sidestepped the Christmas tree issue mightly handily the other day.

After coming out strong for Palm trees to be used as Christmas trees, he was asked what kind of tree he was going to have at his home.

Some of the folks up in north Florida were ready to pounce if he said a palm tree, they would have claimed he had forsaken North Florida's sturdy pine for South Florida's showy palm.

A real north-south battle.

Proving himself a real diplomat, the governor said his family would probably have two trees—a pine and a palm.

Harvey, the Capitol cat, that writes with his tail, spent a stomach busting Thanksgiving, and has this to say:

The Cat's Meow
By Harvey

A South Florida cat friend visited me for a Thanksgiving pork chop, and it was right interesting to see how the other half lives.

Susy—she is a lady cat—was telling me about the uproar at her house. It seems the intangible tax bill came in the other day.

According to Susy, who is very learned in these matters, an intangible tax is a tax on money, stocks and bonds, etc. On money, you have to pay a tax of 10 cents a $1,000 and on stock and bonds the tax is $2 a $1,000, she tells me.

According to Susy, the fellow that owns her house has to pay $100 this year. Last year he paid $50. All this because the intangible tax was doubled by the legislature.

Susy was shocked. She is pretty good at math. All her boss's money is in the bank, and she figured out that he only has a million dollars in cash, if he paid $100 tax.

Susy is a high class cat, and you can easily see how this hits her. After all, if her boss pays the tax, he will only have $999,900 left.

He draws a pretty good interest rate on the money, but the $50,000 he gets from interest goes toward run of the family mill living expenses.

Susy has always refused to live with anybody that doesn't have at least a million dollars in cash around . . . and although she likes her boss personally, she is quite frankly looking for a new home.

* * * *

It it got out that she were living with a family that had less than a million in cash, her reputation would be ruined.

Safety Tips For The Holidays

With Mother spending extra hours in the kitchen cooking up holiday specials and Dad prowling through cellar and attic in search of Christmas decorations, accidents seem bound to happen in the coming weeks.

Each year, falls and burns alone bring tragedy instead of holiday cheer to thousands of American homes, and safety experts warn against common household hazards: shaky ladders, loose stair treads, frayed wires, and a whole variety of kitchen dangers that can cause serious burns.

With some 8,000 Americans dying every year of burns, first aid cabinets should be especially stocked to cope with this menace. When the burn is deep and widespread, of course, a doctor's care is essential. But when the burn is minor, self treatment is relatively easy, and can prevent future complications.

Doctors have discovered that the best remedy is that standby found in any first aid box or medicine chest—Vaseline petroleum jelly. Following the steps shown in the diagram below, the wise homemaker can promptly handle a minor accident, save needless pain, and keep the merriment going.

But most important, of course — be careful! Avoid burning — except for the Yule log!

After the play Santa graciously presented each member with a gift from under a Christmas tree. The hosetsses also gave each guest clever earrings of snowmen or reindeer. The Rev. Aden Childress gave the group a brief devotional thought and group singing of Thanksgiving songs followed.

An evening of visiting followed with forty members of the group present. Guests were the Rev. and Mrs. Aden Childress and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McFarland. In charge of the lovely evening were Mrs. Bud Edge and Mr. Bob Henderson.

Each year all the Baptist churches in the United States Training Unions meet for a mobilization night. The Training Union "M" night for the Orange Blossom Association was Monday night, Dec. 2, with the First Baptist Church in Wauchula.

The church bus and several cars took about sixty-two from the Avon Park church to this meeting.

The Rev. O. E. Burton of Calvary Baptist Church of Clearwater made an inspiring address. He is a former pastor of the Avon Park Church. All those attending felt that they had gotten a great deal.

The Three Choirs of the Church will present a program of Christmas music on Sunday, Dec. 22, at 7:30.

This will be a very enjoyable evening for all music lovers and the public is cordially invited to attend. The program will be announced later.

Red Cross News

Mrs. Dorthie S. Wooden, Executive Secretary of the Highlands County Chapter of the American Red Cross will be out of town for the week of December fist attending a special Conference for Chapter Executives.

Lions Club To Stamp Hubcaps For Xmas Fund

The Avon Park, Lion's Club will be working with the Avon Park Police Dept. to raise funds for the Christmas Toy Fund Saturday, Dec. 14, at Stimsons Gulf Service Station on the Mall.

The purpose of stamping your hubcaps is so that you will be able to identify them in the event they are stolen or lost. Little do people realize the cost of their hubcaps, some range as high as $30.00 each, this would be a capital outlay in the event they had to be replaced.

Chief Harrison recommends that every car owner in Avon Park have his or her hubcaps stamped not only for the protection of their personal property but it would also help out a very worthy cause. The charge for this service will be $.25 per hubcap.

Fire Department Answers Two Minor Alarms

The Avon Park Fire Department answered two fire alarms during the past week to heaters in homes of twe Avon Park residents.

At midnight, Saturday, November 30, the fire department was called to the home of Veron Bass on W. Bell St. Minor smoke damage was reported as the result of defective flu.

Tuesday morning, December 3, the fire department was called to the home of Oliver Smith on South Butler Avenue. Minor smoke damage reported as the result of a flooded oil heater.

Christmas Seal Sale Report

The last report on the Christmas Seal Sale received on Saturday, November 30, shows a county-wide total of 639 contributions amounting to $1552.-55, an average of about $2.43 per contribution.

Sebring is leading with $827.-50; Avon Park has collected $551.05 while Lake Placid reports $174.

As E. A. Hauck of the County Tuberculosis Association remarked, "We want as many people to be interest in the Association, and it's work and though our budget calls for $4500 this coming year, we would rather that 2,000 people give an average of $2.25 each than to receive the entire sum of $4500 from one contributor."

More Fort Pickens Leaflets

The Florida Park Service has slightly revised and has had reprinted 30,000 copies of the Fort Pickens State Park leaflet to try and meet the demand. The average attendance at that popular park during the last two years was over 430,000 persons.

The description of the fort and its part in the War Between the States is well portrayed by Dr. Dorothy Dodd, who heads up the State Library in Tallahassee.

It is well illustrated with pictures of the historic old fort guarding Pensacola Bay. It also contains a diagram made by Lieutenant Loomis L. Langdon, who landed with the first Federal reinforcements.

The Battle of Santa Rosa Island is well described. This was the first major engagement between Union and Confederate forces in Florida.

The Confederates landed near where the U. S. Coast Guard Station in now located and marched in three parallel columns and attacked and destroyed the Federal camp near the present site of Battery Worth.

However, the Federals counter-attacked and forced the Confederates back to their boats.

The pamphlet is available at no charge and may be obtained

Adult tickets .75 cents and .50 cents for children. The supper is being sponsored by the L.W.W.B. So join the crowd at the Church at 5 o'clock.

The Avon Park Sun
Avon Park, Fla.

Dear Mr. Meyer:

The absence of our usual Christmas Lighting Display on Main Street this year and their handling by the Chamber of Commerce, shows our great need for a Avon Park Merchants Association. As I understand it the lights and wires are the property of the merchants of Avon Park, having been donated several years ago by the merchants.

This year the existing lights and wires are in need of some repair, know one I have talked to seems to know the value or cost of these repairs. For that reason along with others they have not been put up this year.

We the people and merchants of Avon Park are very grateful for the Labor to install the Lights and the Expense of Lighting them that has been donated by the Florida Power Corporation.

With a Merchants Association we could have advance planning for a proper Christmas Lighting Display in 1958.

Art Turner

Mutual Hints Orange Crop May Be Smaller Than U. S. Forecast

Lakeland—Florida may be growing an orange crop of 102 million boxes—biggest in history—but Florida Citrus Mutual isn't too sure.

"The big cooperative hasn't as yet openly taken issue with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, which makes the only official forecast on the size of the crop, but it says it has quite a lot of information from its grower members and other veteran handlers casting doubt there are that many oranges in the new crop.

Enough doubt, in fact, for Mutual to come out publicly and tell its grower members to keep their fingers crossed.

Herman F. Steele, Mutual's assistant general manager, says "evidence is building up indicating the official government estimate for oranges may be too high," and he carefully stresses the word "may."

Adverse weather, he states, has resulted in heavy droppage and is keeping oranges from growing as big as expected. The smaller the fruit, the more of them it takes to fill a box and the smaller the size of the crop produced from the same total number.

Steele said he wanted to make it crystal clear that "all these indications involve conditions as we find them today and, because the season is barely under way, and findings at present must be strictly tentative."

Mutual openly questioned Uncle Sam's estimate issued Oct. 10 that Florida had a grapefruit crop of 38 million boxes. A month later, the government whittled two million boxes off its original figure, and Mutual says it may have to cut it still further.

The size of the crop is one of the important factors which determine what growers will get for their fruit. The on-tree crop is added to stocks on hand of processed products in determining the total "supply" on which the industry must base its advertising and merchandising plants.

Chamberlains Home From Western Tour

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Chamberlain have recently returned from a 9000 mile tour through the west and middle west. Besides seeing points of interest along the way, they visited with all their children and grandchildren.

First stop on the trip was St. Louis where they found the [illegible] and development so phenomenal in the last few years that they could hardly find their way around, though they had lived their for many years. In St. Louis they spent several days with two M Mrs. Chamberlain's brothers. Then on to Chicago where their oldest son lives.

The Chamberlains didn't do much sight seeing there but did take a drive along Lake Michigan and through the campus of Northwestern University. Next stop was Anderson, Miss. and a week's visit with Mr. Chamberlain's mother, sister, niece, and many friends.

Then they headed west with the Pacific coast their destination and many interesting stops along the way, among them Boulder Dam, Death Valley, Painted Desert, and the Grand Canyon. They enjoyed their coffee break one morning at the foot of Mt. Shasta which was mild and warm at the base but had five distinct glaciers on the snow covered peak. This was a truly beautiful and inspiring sight.

At Death Valley the Chamberlains passed the lowest spot in the United States, several feet below sea level, while less than 100 miles away rises Mt. Whitney, the highest point in our country.

At Fresno, Cal., called the raisin capital of the world, they spent a week with a daughter and her family. Then they had an enchanting time in San Francisco, crossed the Golden Gate Bridge, shopped and had a sea food dinner on the Embaracadero (wharf), went through an old sailing vessel, and spent an enjoyable three hours at the Planetarium where they saw just how the sputnik works.

Turning south, they passed through Los Angeles and visited Knott's Berry Farm, a fascinating reconstructed ghost town then to San Diego and the trip home. On the way they did more visiting, a few days in Phoenix, Ariz. with another of Mrs. Chamberlain's brothers, and a weekend with a son in Marshall, Texas. While in Phoenix they called on Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Spencer who are former Avon Park residents who recently moved to Arizona from Auburndale. The Spencers are both well and are getting settled in a beautiful home.

The last stop for the Chamberlains was Anderson, Missouri, again to get Mrs. George Chamberlain, Mr. Chamberlain's mother, who returned with them to spend the winter in sunny Florida.

The November issue of Holiday Magazine features an article on Coral Gables and its interesting history in conjunction with the Florida boom of the 1920's.

"THE PATIENCE OF JOB" . . . is required to build this one-inch to the hundred-foot scale model. It's the multi-million dollar Island Estates project, now being developed on "made land" (pumped up sand) in Florida on Clearwater Bay between Clearwater Beach and the Mainland just north of Clearwater's Memorial Causeway to the Gulf of Mexico. Although there's only about $19 worth of material in the model, it took this craftsman more than 500 hours of meticulous hand labor to fashion the 500 miniature homes, scores of motels, a big hotel, a shopping center, marina, (left foreground) a church, a schoolhouse and landscaped "boulevards" that run around the various "fingers." Model maker is Alfred L. Stobbs, an Englishman now living in Belleair, Florida. Island Estates development is progressing rapidly with the first of the hundreds of homes to be built there already under construction.

Ten Basic Pointers For Safe Delivery Of Mail At Christmas

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield today outlined ten basic pointers for users of the mails to follow in order to assure prompt and safe delivery of their Christmas cards and gifts this year:

1. Address mail fully and clearly. Write legibly or print plainly and always use zone numbers in the address and return address. Avoid abbreviations since this may lead to confusion.

2. Use the 3-cent letter rate on cards and letters. Be certain a return address is printed in the upper left hand corner of both Christmas cards and parcels. This will prevent any undelivered mail ending up in a dead letter office.

3. Do not enclose coins or hard objects of any kind in letters. Cancelling machines cannot process such letters and often damage the letters and contents.

4. Do not mail money in Christmas gifts or letters. For safety's sake, use postal money orders or checks.

5. Separate your letters to "local" and "out-of-town." This will speed all the mail and relieve much of congestion in post offices.

6. Make certain that parcels are well packed and securely wrapped in strong containers. Cushioning material, such as excelsior, shredded news-papers or tissue paper should be evenly and firmly placed on all sides of the Christmas gift. The carton should be wrapped in heavy paper and securely tied with strong twine.

7. Gifts of a delicate nature, such as glass, china, electrical appliances, radios and musical instruments, must be marked "Fragile" by the mailer. Food stuffs should be marked "Perishable" if subject to spoilage.

8. Insure parcels. Register letters of real value. Where only proof of delivery is required for letters of no intrinsic value use Certified Mail. Use Combination Mail where a letter or message -- other than a gift tag -- is to be enclosed inside a Christmas package.

9. Mail Christmas cards and parcels early to avoid the last minute rush and waiting in line at the post office. The best times to avoid crowds at stamp windows in most post offices are before 10 a. m. and between 1:30 and 3:30 p. m.

10. Every postal employee is happy to answer questions on postal rules and regulations. Anyone with problems about mailing his Christmas parcels should avail himself of the opportunity of discussing the problems with postal employees, and take advantage of their experience.

Ask at any post office for the free pamphlet, "Post Office Department Publication No. 3," which contains rates of postage and limits of size and weight for domestic mail. Another free pamphlet at post offices is entitled "Packaging and Wrapping Parcels For Mailing."

Mr. Summerfield further emphasized how important it is to start planning now to shop early and mail early for Christmas.

"Our loyal and dedicated postal employees, whose efforts during every Christmas season are so commendable, must depend upon public cooperation to help get their job done. We know that all citizens will recognize the importance of this, and will again extend us this cooperation and help," the Postmaster General added.

During its first year of publication in 1851, the New York Times spent $40,000 for newsprint, $25,000 for mechanical and business employees, and $13,000 for correspondents, editors, and reporters.

"IT WAS A NICE TRY, BUT . . ." seems to sum up public opinion about competitive cars attempting to equal the styling and features of the Swept-Wing 58. They tried to get as low, but had to lower the roof to do it. (Less headroom, same high, boxy, cooped-up look.) Their windshields got smaller, while ours got bigger. Most of them still don't have Total-Contact Brakes to assure smooth, even, safe stops when needed. Nor do they offer push-button TorqueFlite, the proven automatic transmission, and Constant-Control power steering that works full time—not part time as some other systems do. And Dodge no-sway, no-dip Torsion-Aire is standard equipment. (Bus-type air springs offered by some cars cost well over $100.00 extra.) So compare all the 1958 models with Dodge. We think you'll agree: Other cars are catching on, but they can't catch up.

PUBLISH GUIDE FOR MOTORISTS

WILMINGTON, DEL.—(Special)—So popular was its map last season—one million copies—the Ocean Hiway Association here is printing 1,250,000 1958 Ocean Hiway map folders to meet this season's anticipated demand.

Motorists planning trips to Florida, or to mid-South resorts this winter, now can obtain a copy of the 1958 map folder, also the association's Motorists Guide, absolutely without any charge and by postpaid return mail, simply by writing to Department 30, Ocean Hiway Association, P.O. Box 1552, Wilmington, Delaware.

The new four color map contains 20 panels with three large maps and 30 illustrations. It has a detailed mileage table of the route, a map of connecting New England highways and an up to date highway map of the Florida peninsula. Also it lists state speed laws. Points of outstanding interest are described and pictured.

The Ocean Hiway is the 998 mile sea level, North-South route along the coast between New York city and Jacksonville, Florida. It is the fastest, safest, smoothest, also most restful and scenic, route from northern pines to southern palms. Among its acknowledged advantages over other North-South highways are avoidance of industrial and commercial traffic, lack of hills and minimum of snow or ice in winter, due to adjacency to the ocean.

More than one-third of the distance is divided four-lane construction. From New York the route follows the New Jersey Turnpike, then U.S. 13 in the northern sector and U. S. 17 from near Norfolk, Va. all the way to Jacksonville, Fla. Splendid hotel and motel accommodations, and excellent dining places, contribute to enjoyment of the trip.

"Too Late To Classify"

By RUSSELL KAY

I attend a lot of conventions but there is none more stimulating and inspiring than the annual meeting of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce. This annual congress of Florida's top-flight business and industrial leaders provides a meeting of the minds, a more intimate knowledge of the state's problems and opportunities and lays a firm groundwork for our continued progress and prosperity.

It spotlights what we have achieved and points the way to even greater accomplishments. The meeting held in St. Petersburg recently was particularly well conducted and I never cease to marvel at the smooth and efficient work of Executive Vice President Harold Colee and his fine staff of assistants. Their teamwork is notable and attested by the growing attendance at these meetings.

John T. Bills, Jr., vice president of the Peoples Gas System of Miami, convention keynoter called on delegates to take responsible roles in preventing an "economic vacuum" in the future growth of the state, which could occur between wealthy and pensioner classes should industrial growth not keep pace with them. He urged business leaders to avoid conflict with tourist development, pointing out that tourism pours millions of dollars into the state and both tourism and industry in proper balance are needed for a healthy permanent growth.

Governor Collins called on the Florida State Chamber of Commerce to take the lead in adopting a broader program aimed at giving older workers a greater opportunity for employment. The Governor deplored the attitude of industry in its failure to recognize the ability and experience of older workers and urged that a greater effort be made to find jobs for people of 45 or over, many of whom are better qualified and in a better position to serve industry than are some younger people. He cautioned against what he termed "human erosion" which stifles ambition and creates a desire for so-called "security" in the place of "ambition."

A. F. Persons, manager of the General Electric Company's Pinellas Plant, said Florida's "business climate" is as important to the state's growth as is our natural climate. He described business climate as follows: 'Good government, sound labor relations, adequate supply of trained employes, labor costs, community services and facilities, social, cultural and educational institutions and assumption of business citizenship responsibilities on the part of all employers in the community."

A bold step to eliminate all personal property tax in Florida was taken by the Retail Merchants Division of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce. It was explained that the tax is manifestly difficult to administer and often results in inequities. Under the plan for the elimination of the tax, the retailers propose to make a thorough study of the tax as it applies to each county and municipality and will seek support of legislators and local authorities. While the elimination of such tax would reduce state and local revenues considerably the merchants will outline a fair and equitable replacement. In another action the group voted to change the name from Merchants Division to the Florida Retail Federation of the FSCC.

Senator Spessard L. Holland expressed the opinion that Congress would take some action in the next session to curb "racketeering labor practices brought to light by the recent investigation and pass a law requiring unions to give a financial accounting.

Space does not permit a review on all subjects discussed during the session but it will go down as one of the best in State Chamber history.

Harry Lee Re-Arrested: Posts $100 Bond

Harry Lee, former County Judge, was re-arrested last Wednesday for failure to appear for trial in County Judge's Court. He immediately posted a $100 bond with Sheriff Broward Coker.

Attorney Lee had been cited for contempt of court by Judge Marvin Rehrer when he didn't show up in Court in Novembe to be tried on a charge of driving to closely. The Florid Highway Patrol charged Le due to a highway accident h had in September.

At the time of Lee's first arrest he was released on hi own recognizance to appear for trial in the November term o Court.

When he failed to appear th Court, issued a capias wherein the Sheriff would confine the defendant in County Jail or release him on $100 bond to appear for trial by jury in the next term of Criminal Court of the County Judge's Court which will be held in January 1958.

Troop 157

Troop 157 of the Avon Park Boy Scouts sponsored by the Rotary Club also held a Board of Review at their last meeting on Monday. Glenn Peters and Ed Sharpe went before the Board for Star Scout.

attempt to salvage the game and in the final minutes of the game drove to the Sebring three where they lost the ball on downs. The Sreaks took over on their own four and fumbled the ball on the second play. Avon Park recovered the fumble on the two. John Starling, outstanding Red Devil back blasted through to score with three minutes left on the clock.

Sebring tried several desperation passes in the dying moments, two of which were beautifully and alertly intercepted by quarterback Jimmy Cooper. Avon Park took over on downs and ran the clock on penalties.

Fire—

it is very important to know the correct number of your local fire department.

In many areas, when you dial "Operator," your call may be received in a central exchange several miles away. The Operator may have to guess which fire department to notify. As a result, the arrival of fire apparatus is delayed. Give your address clearly and distinctly when you call.

The correct number for reporting a fire in Avon Park is GLENDALE 2-4441.

Santa Claus Is Coming To Town

Boys and girls, you better be good, you better not cry, for Santa Claus is coming to town. Santa, with a pack on his back, will arrive a Touchton's Drug Store on Saturday morning, December 14, at 10 o'clock.

Boys and girls make plans now to have your parents take you to Touchton's to visit dear old Saint Nick. On December 14th he will be in the store from 10 a. m. until 12 noon, and again that afternoon from 2 until 4 p. m. Santa will also welcome all his little friends during the same hours on Saturday, December 21.

On Monday and Tuesday, December 23 and 24, Santa will again be at Touchton's. He will be in and out of the store all during the day. So you better hurry and make a list of things that you want Santa to bring you, and tell Santa what you would like to have for Christmas.

Letter Creates Flurry At FARC

The Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program routinely fills requests for literature from interested individuals and agencies, but one letter received last week created quite a flurry among workers in the Educational Department.

The surprise item was an order from the Nkana/Kitwe Committee on Alcoholism located at Kitwe, Northern Rhodesia.

This agency's letter contained a bank draft on the African Banking Corp. to cover the charges on certain items on their list which are distributed on a cost basis. There, plus the free materials asked for, filled a shipping carton nearly as large as a standard filing cabinet.

The African group had become aware of the Florida Program through its monthly newsletter, "The Reporter", which has world-wide circulation.

Mail Early For Christmas

"The mounting volume of Christmas mail makes it more important than ever for everyone to 'Mail Early For Christmas'," Postmaster D. G. Perry said today.

The Postmaster says that every effort is being made to deliver all mail on time and in good condition before Christmas Eve, as has been done during the past three years.

Every facility of the Post Office is being pressed into maximum service, extra trucks and personnel have been added, and with the help of the mailing public, postal employees can look forward to spending Christmas Eve and Christmas Day with their families.

The Postmaster reports that the present flow of Christmas cards is running about the same as last year, but the mailing of gifts by Parcel Post is somewhat behind schedule. He suggests that all gift parcels to GLENDALE 2-5555 and this number is for fire only. All other calls to the fire department should be dialed on GLENDALE 2-4441.

Rotary News

Marvin Walker, General Manager of the Citrus Canners Co-op, Lake Wales, was guest speaker Wednesday, November 27, at the Rotary Club luncheon meeting held at the Jacaranda Hotel. He spoke on the outlook for the citrus industry for this season and the near future. He states that at the present time the outlook was very good for the citrus grower due to the increased sales of fresh fruits and products. One of the main reasons was that the Florida oranges were ready for shipment before the crops in California, Texas, Mexico or Spain.

Four Rotary Anns, who had recently observed wedding anniversaries, were special guests Wednesday. Present were Mrs. Smokey Padgett, Mrs. C. J. Larsen, Mrs. Marvin Baldwin and Mrs. E. Ray Wells.

H. E. Keller attended the meeting as guest of Charles Ginn; Don Williamson of Trotwood, Ohio and Russell Dement of Dayton, Ohio were guests of Corky Pardee.

"The Messiah" To Be Presented December 12

"The Messiah", which was first performed at a concert given for charitable purposes at Dublin, Ireland, on April 13, 1742 and conducted then by its composer George Frederick Handel, is an oratorio written principally for four-part cnoral singing and vocal solos. It tells the story of the coming of the Lord, His death and resurrection. It has been performed in many places throughout the Christian world every year since 1742.

The Lake Placid Messiah Society will perform the traditional Christmas parts of the oratorio at the First Baptist Church in Avon Park on Thursday evening, December 12, at 8:00 o'clock.

The soloists will be Paul Buckley, baritone, who is manager of the Bar S Ranch south of Lake Placid and director of the Society; Jane Hall, soprano, director of the Glee Club at Avon Park School; Reverend A. R. Fagan, tenor, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Sebring; and Anne MicKunas, mezzo-soprano, current soloist at the Baptist Church in Lake Placid and formerly soloist at churches in St. Petersburg.

The accompanists will be Irene Buckley, former piano teacher in Lake Placid, who will play the organ; and Dorothy Dean Crews Stidham, well known as a former star pupil of Florence Clayton Dunham, teacher of music in Sebring, will play the piano.

All are invited to the concert. No admission will be charged. A free will offering, however, will be accepted.

Red Devils Play Ft. Meade Tonight

The final football game of the season will be played tonight when the Red Devils travel to Fort Meade for the previously postponed game with the Miners. Game time is 8:00 o'clock.

The game is almost anti-climax after the Highlands County battle in Sebring but a loss to the Miners would throw the Devils into a precarious position with Mulberry who holds undisputed second place in the conference standing. Even if the Devils lose, they will still hold the title by a quarter of a point according to the Dickinson Rating system. Nevertheless, the Avon Park boys will have to be on their toes against a fired up Polk County team that would like nothing better than to upset the high-riding Red and White.

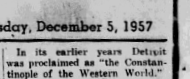

Twelve Seniors will play their last ball game for the Red Devils this year. They are: Jimmy Cooper, John Starling, Billy Rouse, Winky Williams, Henry Scott, Thurston Martin, Gene Bigbie, Terry Elder, Ben Earnest, Gordon Futch, Tom Bass and Benny Hill.

These boys have all played first string ball this season and they will be the starters against Fort Meade Thursday night. As the curtain closes on the 1957 football season, a large following of fans is expected to cheer the boys on to victory and especially the Seniors who have done an outstanding job on the gridiron this year.

HOMES

By The Bird Woman

One of the most exotic homes of birds that we know is the home of the African Hornbill, the male is known as the bully among husbands, for after the eggs are laid he will wall up the opening in the hollow tree where the female is incubating the eggs, with mud, and leave only an opening large enough to pass food in to her and later to the young, and she must remain in the nest until the young are ready to leave the nest.

The common Chimney Swift makes it's nest and glues it to a wall or the inside of a chimney with it's own saliva.

The Oven Bird, is migratory and quite shy but it is very pretty having speckled breast and brown back, looks something like a Thrasher but - belong to the Warbler family, and although it is seldom seen, yet it's call of "Teacher Teacher Teacher" is familiar with most of us.

The home of this bird is built on the order of the old dutch oven, with an opening on the side, and when built in a secluded place on the ground is difficult to find.

Most ducks and geese line their nests with feathers plucked from their own breast, this shows how perfectly every thing was planned by our marvelous Creator for the feathers not only make a soft bed for the eggs, but it brings these hard shelled eggs closer in contact to the warmth of the parents body to help in incubation.

We never find a bird's nest that does not have a soft inner lining to protect he fragile eggs and later the young, even the woodpecker family which bores into trees for a nest, retains some of the fine chips and dust on which to lay it's eggs.

The exotic Flamingos are as interesting in their mode of living as in their nesting, their nest is a mound of marl scooped up with their bill, then a cup shaped depression is trampled in the center with their feet until the proper size has been formed.

It usually lays one chalk white egg per season although occassionally two are laid and very rarely three have been found in the nest.

Imagine one of these long necked long legged birds trying to sit on a nest, we wonder what it does with these long legs on a truncated cone nest, but as with other birds their problems have been solved for them in the beginning and they go about their nesting in the way they were designed to nest, and with the Flamingo the male stands by and takes his shift with the incubation.

The young are sufficiently developed when hatched to leave the nest even before they are dry, but some will prefer to stay in the nest two or three days before starting to explore, and like other water birds they do not have to be taught to swim and fly, nor do they have to be taught how to procure their food, for their bills are so constructed that they must put their heads under water upside down and scoop the food from the water.

Although Flamingos used to inhabit our area, as with so many other birds we have killed them or driven them off until now we must go to a Park to be able to see them.

You may recall the experience of trying to induce Flamingoe to nest in Hialeah Park, Birds were brought in from the Islands and put in an enclosure, hoping to make a show place with these exotic beautiful birds, building their homes and rearing their young.

But although the birds seemed healthy and contented no nests were built for a period of seven years, which proves that other things being satisfactory, birds will not build unless they have the material suited to their type of nest, no doubt there were other birds building in that some location, but they did not take up the nesting style of any of them.

At long last it must have occured to the keepers of the birds that something was wrong and they went to their native Islands and studied the manner of nesting.

So the keepers on their return dumped loads of loose soil with small sticks in the edge of the lake, and seeing the proper material they immediately began to utilize the mud and build their nests and rear their young.

We have mentioned our smallest bird, the Humming bird, we would like to mention our largest bird which we all know is an exotic bird in many ways, the Ostrich, it is not even a native of our hemisphere, but is interesting never the less.

The nest of this bird is a hole dug in the ground and is used by many birds at a time, taking turns in incubation, the males also taking turns in incubation and protecting the eggs and the young.

We have all heard of the Ostrich hiding it's head in the sand and thinking it was protected but our best authorities contend that this is not true, they claim that an Ostrich is a nit-wit and would never think of trying to protect itself in that manner.

All birds and animals have been given some means to protect themselves with some it is quick flight, others speed and some power and strength.

In a fair fight the Ostrich can defend itself both with it's powerful kick and also in rapid flight, but they have some enemies that know how to circumvent the Ostrich's defense, the Baboon and the Jackall are two of these, they seclude themselves until the Ostrich leaves the nest twice daily for the eggs to cool, then they pilfer the nest, whether it contains eggs or young it matters not to them.

Donna Buettell Celebrates Seventh Birthday

The boys and girls played games in the yard and enjoyed helping Donna open her lovely gifts.

Birthday cake and punch were served the children and each child was given a large candy cane as a favor. Helping with Donna's guests was her grandmother, Mrs. L. G. McConnell, who was assisted by Mrs. Lewis Maddox and Mrs. Tressie Rigdon.

And if they are caught in this act they will slither away so close to the ground that the powerful kick cannot reach them.

It takes the Ostrich egg six weeks to hatch and the young when first hatched are the size of an ordinary grown chicken.

By DALE I. ROYAL, Evangelist
Avon Park Church of Christ

Do you know that love, as revealed in the Bible, involves more than maudlin sentiment? It is not enough for the professing Christian to say he loves God. He must back up his claim with action. Just as a child's love for his parents drive him to please them by minding so the love of the child of God will inspire him to be obedient to the commands of the Heavenly Father.

While Christ was in the flesh, Jno. 14:15) he charged his disciples with these momentous words, "If ye love me, keep my commandments." In the light of these words, how can anyone who claims to love Jesus treat with indifference the commandments and ordinances given by Christ through his apostles? Yet, by neglecting church services (Heb. 10:25), the Lord's Supper (1 Cor 11 and Acts 20:7), studying the Bible (2Tim, 2:15 and 2Pet. 3:18) we indicate to him, by our actions, that we do not really love him.

Some would say, "Its not the outward observance of ordinances that count but how one feels in his heart." This would be a wonderful doctrine if it were true. It appeals to me very much. But the inspired writers of the Words tells us the opposit. John claims one cannot love God and not keep his commandments. Read, (1 Jno. 5:3) "For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments are not grievous." How different is the inspired definition of the "love of God" from the uninspired defination perpetuated in the hearts and minds of men to the destruction of their souls. Adv.

Marcia Ward; Rose, Leader, Lark Adams, Asst. Sybil Anderson.

The troop got a troop record book and Mrs. James Runkle, Asst. Leader, will take charge of the book and keep records.

The troop held the flag ceremony and practiced investiture service. Mrs. Runkle told the troop the Brownie story.

New members were Martha Land and Robin Williams. The meeting was closed with taps and the friendly circle. Mrs. Morris Adams and Lark served the girls refreshments.

Troop 3

Troop 3 of the Brownies held their regular meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 19 at 2:30 in the Woodruff Heights Scout Building with Mrs. Roy Felknor and Mrs. Jeff Barrow, their leaders.

The troop sang their songs and had the color guard with Janie Clark carrying the flag and Mary Lou Stewart and Sharon Sue Childress assisting. The girls practiced sewing buttons on cards and their program for the investiture service. Mrs. Ben Stewart served refreshments.

Sunday, Dec. 1, over 80 happy songsters gathered to enjoy Mr. Shiltz' very popular hour of song and fellowship. The men's chorus, growing larger by the week, sang two numbers and then the ladies repaid them in kind. We are always pleased when Mrs. Norris sings for us and Sunday she sang two solo numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Earl Jackson. Mrs. Norris' rendition of the old hymns was greatly appreciated, doubly so, because of her gracious manner. Miss Roe presented a most interesting novelty number by playing on water tumblers. Putting the rocking chairs at the front of the room was a master stroke; do you suppose it would work in church?

Wednesday's choose-a-partner tournament was won by Ray Million and Harry Gibson against finalists Mr. and Mrs. Godwin. On Friday, Nov. 29, we played Sebring to a tie score. The shufflers tell us this was one of those "friendly tournaments"; there won't be any tie score games when the trophy is at stake. Just be sure the heavy end of the score stays in Avon Park; that one trophy looks longsome all by itself. Because of the rain on Saturday the Mr. and Mrs. tournament scheduled then was postponed to Monday: Mrs. Paul Bolduc and Walter Walker emerged winners in this event.

High scores for the month of November were Herb Shauger for the men's trophy; Lura Pickell for the ladies'.

On Friday, Dec. 6 four teams, plus a crowd of well-wishers for moral support, will the girls refreshments.

The Brownie Scouts of Troop 3 enjoyed a weiner roast at Highlands Hammock State Park on Friday after school. The girls walked on the trails, identified many kinds of trees, saw several deer, and explored the park.

After a tour of the park the 17 Brownies enjoyed a weiner supper with cold slaw, chips, and cold drinks and candy. Mothers who accompanied the Brownies were Mrs. Roy Felknor, and Mrs. Jeff Barrow, leaders, and Mrs. Herbert Todd, and Mrs. Betty Graham.

Troop 4

Troop 4 of the Brownies Scouts held their regular weekley meeting on Thursday, Nov. 21, in the Cafetorium of the Avon Elementary School with their leaders, Mrs. Jack Hutchinson, Mrs. Roy Ladwig, and Mrs. E. B. Poff.

The girls practiced their skit for the investiture service on the stage and will practice for the next several meetings. Refreshments were served by Brownie Linda Cummings.

On Tuesday, Nov. 19, the Brownie leaders were invested at the home of Mrs. Fred Davis. Mrs. Davis, who has previously worked with Scouts and Brownies in Lake Wales, invested the other leaders. The leaders are Troop 4, Mrs. Jack Hutchinson, Mrs. E. A. Poff, and Mrs. Roy Ladwig; Troop 3, Mrs. Roy Felknor and Mrs. Jeff Barrow; Troop 2, Mrs. Jim Runkle.

3500 Newspapers Carry Dodge Ads

According to W. D. Moore, director of advertising and merchandising for Dodge, the ads are running 400 lines in size, and are being carried in still greater frequency than ever before in more than 3500 daily and weekly newspapers throughout the country.

Moore said the newspaper ads comprise a large portion of the announcement campaign, which also includes magazine and radio schedules, as well as television advertising on the Lawrence Welk programs. The campaign uses the theme, "They're catching on, but they can't catch up.

"We feel that the large picture and brisk, brief message carry our story effectively to the local prospect," Moore said. "We consider the ads a distinct departure from ordinary automobile advertising, and are sure they will attract many readers".

The post-announcement radio commercials, which began Nov. 6, capitalize on the success of the firm's unique Summer selling campaign, which was based on the humorous presentations of local radio personalities, Joe Gentile and Ralph Bingo. The newspaper advertising also represents a departure from standard practice, featuring large illustrations and short, conversational copy.

Moore said the newspaper ads will be about 400 lines, but will run with greater frequency than in the past.

Federal Judge Barker Honored By Bar Assn. And Commissioners

Federal Judge William J. Barker of Tampa, former resident Circuit Judge of Highlands County, was honored in a special court session Monday afternoon by the Highlands County Bar Association and the Highlands County Commissioners.

A portrait of Judge Barker was hung in the Circuit Court room where he presided before he was elevated to the federal bench.

The County Commissioners presented Judge Barker with the chair he occupied while serving Highlands County. A bronze plaque, suitably inscribed, will be placed on the chair.

Judge Barker became the first resident circuit judge here in 1925, when he was appointed by Gov. John W. Martin. He was later transferred to Polk County where he presided until President Roosevelt appointed him to the Southern Florida District of the Federal Court.

Appellate Court Judge William P. Allen and Circuit Judges Gunter Stephenson and Joe D. Kinsey were on the bench when Sheriff Broward Coker called the court to order. Attorney Harry Lee, chairman of the ceremony committee, was presented by Judge Kinsey. Lee introduced L. Grady Burton, former state prosecutor, and M. R. McDonald, another state attorney now president of the Highlands County Bar Association.

The court, on McDonald's motion, found Judge Barker "guilty of being a great jurist". Sheriff Coker and Ex-Sheriff Doyle Schumacher were ordered by the court to hang the judges portrait in the place designated by the court.

The Rev. George C. Stuling of the First Presbyterian Church of Sebring gave the benediction after which refreshments were served.

Newly Elected Officers Of Avon Park Board Of Realtors Installed

A banquet meeting of the Avon Park Area Board of Realtors was held in the Jacaranda Hotel Monday night with forty-two present. Guests included members of the City Council, City Attorney, City Clerk, Mayor E. A. DeLaney, W. A. Meyer, together with their wives.

The speaker of the evening was Mr. Harry Wear, Lake Wales Realtor who is the Vice President of the Florida Association or Realtors for the Sixth District. He complimented Avon Park Board for the rapid strides they had made in boosting their membership from five members a year ago to eight regular and seven associate members. Following a very interesting introduction of the subject of "Multiple Listing" he conducted a question and answer period with most of the members participating. No action was taken however by the Avon Park Board as the Committee is investigating several plans.

President E. A. Martin presided throughout the meeting, introducing the honored guests and the Realtors. Devils End Season With Win Over Fort Meade

The Avon Park Red Devils ended the 1957 gridiron season last Thursday night in fine fashion when they rolled to an easy 40 - 0 victory over a weak Ft. Meade Miner team in Ft. Meade. The game was played in very cold weather which affected everyone but the hot gridders.

The Devils scored almost when wanted to except in the third quarter when the substitutes were doing battle.

From the beginning it was evident that Avon Park would have little or no trouble winning the game so most everyone concentrated on the point making of halfback Billy Rouse. When the game ended he had jaunted easly for four touchdowns, which, according to figures received, gives him a seasons total of 79 points, one more than the previous leader Jerry Sheffield of the Sebring Blue Streaks.

The Devils started with grim determination scoring on a 88 yard drive after taking the opening kickoff. Rouse climaxed the drive going over from the nine yard line. Winkie William's line buck added the seventh point. The Miners picked up 2 first downs but were then held and the Devils took over on their own 28 yard line. Five plays later Billy Rouse carried it over from the Ft. Meade 17 yard line. A 40 yard run by Williams set up the play. The attempt at the extra point was blocked. Ft. Meade couldn't gain as the quarter ended and kicked to Avon Park with Winkie Williams returning it 32 yards to the Ft. Meade 30. Rouse picked up 15 and Williams bowled over to score on the next play. Johnny Starling rammed over the extra point.

Ft. Meade ran two plays and the Devil line knocked the ball loose and recovered on their own 25. It took Johnny Starling just two plays to ram it over for a touchdown. Cooper's pass to Earnest for the point was to long. After being stalled on their next drive the Miners punted to Rouse on his 25 from which point he raced 60 yards to the Miner 15. The Devils were stalled and Ft. Meade took over as the half ended.

Ft. Meade took the kickoff but fumbled on their 15 to open the second half. Gene Bigbie recovered for Avon Park. Rouse lugged it over for the score. Winkie William's kick for the point was perfect and the Devils led 33-0. The second string players played the remainder of the third and parts of the fourth quarter. Gail Hovey and Tommy Douberley both ran well. In the final quarter Ft. Meade penetrated down to the Avon Park two yard line but the Devils took over and drove 98 yards to score. The highlight of the drive was a 56 yard sprint by John Starling. Rouse picked up 23 yards and then went ten yards to rack up his fourth six pointer. Williams kick was again perfect.

Tommy Douberly scored a touchdown with seconds left but the Devils drew a backfield in motion penalty that nullified the beautiful run. With time for only one play left big tackle Henry Scott moved to Fullback to carry the leather just one time. He hit the center of the line with abundant power and surprizing speed to pick up 12 yards, dragging about four Ft. Meade players with him as the final whistle blew. Surprizing in the game was the fact that the Devils passed only once other than the extra point attempt. Ft. Meade completed only two passes and had the same amount intercepted.

This win over Fort Meade gives the Devils a conference record of 6 wins 1 tie and no losses--the best in the league. They had already retained the Ridge Conference crown for 1957 when they stopped the Sebring Blue Streaks 12-6 in the Thanksgiving Eve battle. The Avon Park boys rolled over Mulberry, Kathleen, Frostproof, Kissimmee, Ft. Meade, Sebring, and tied Arcadia in Conference play. They beat Bartow while losing to Auburndale and Winter Park in Non-conference games for an overall 7 - 2 - 1 record.

$51 Billion Isn't Enough

The federal highway program is supposed to provide 41,000 miles of roads over a 13-year period at a cost of $51 billion. But now, according to a growing body of evidence, it begins to appear that even that incredible sum of money isn't enough for the job. The Chicago American says: "Some authorities think the present appropriation will pay for only half the new roads we need."

It's interesting to relate this king-sized problem to something that is going on in the states. In Illinois, Wisconsin and Texas determined efforts were made to lift truck weight limits to the startling figure of 72,000 pounds. The Illinois and Wisconsin legislatures did pass such bills, but in both cases they were vetoed by the state governors, on advice of highway authorities. In Texas the bill passed the House but died in the Senate—when, reportedly, members began "Hearing from the folks back home."

Wisconsin's Governor Thomson, in explaining his veto, said: "Probably not more than 10 per cent of our Class A highways are constructed to carry such loads." The cost of such superhighways is unbelievably high. So is the cost of maintenance. And they are definitely not needed by private cars and by trucks of moderate size, which make up the vast majority of the traffic.

Soaring road costs are commonly blamed on inflation. This is a factor, but not the only one by any means. The oversize trucks constitute one of the principal reasons. That's why more and more people, in and out of government, are coming to believe that it is time to review our methods of raising money—and to share the costs on a more equitable basis than is the case today.

Avon Park Sun,
Dear Mr. Meyer:

We would like to inform the people of our City a little more about the efforts the Avon Park Beautification Committee had in attempting to decorate our lovely city for the Christmas season. As for back as August we started investigating the possibilities of street decoration. After many conferences, letters and talking to display representatives, in October a meeting was called of representatives from all civic organizations, the City of Avon Park and the Chamber of Commerce. It was unanimously decided by all present, in view of the fact that the Christmas lights were in such bad state of repairs, and have been used for so many years, that something different would be tried this Christmas season.

The merchants that had purchased these lights were contacted for their vote on not putting up the lights this year, as it was only fair to get the wishes of those business men that invested in the decorations.

It was then decided that palms, being typical of our tropical climate, could also be used as a featured part of our beautification for Christmas plan. The City of Avon Park furnished their Park Committee labor to gather the palm fronds, hauled them to Wells Motor Company where they were sprayed white and sprinkled with silver glitter with no charge for this service. Mrs. J. W. Head, one of the Garden Club members joined with Mr. J. A. Sites, City Park Superintendent, and the Chamber Beautification Committee in designing and arranging the palms around the lamp posts on each corner of the mall throughout the business district.

It was the thought of those contributing to this effort that these decorations would be lovely in the daylight as well as show up under the street lighting system. So, our business section was decorated at no expence whatsoever, to the merchants, with the exception of Wells Motor Company, and thanks to Avon Gardens, DeLaney Hardware, Metcalfe Hardware allowing paint and materials to be purchased at cost.

We are well repaid for the efforts by the many complimentary remarks made by our travelers, visitors and residents. Even the children have marveled at the "diamond dewdrops" glittering in the sunlight and under the street lights.

And that, readers, is the inside story of "Why are the lights missing from the streets after many, many years." (Although, we must confess, there have been very few question this.)

God Bless You All, and may you have a Happy Christmas season.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Anna Belle Worden

The target of the Florida Legislature's "investigating committee" is being kept a closely guarded secret, but its bird dogging has extended all over the state and include contact with Rep. Bob Sikes of Crestview.

Charley E Johns, chairman of the committee, says the sphere of the investigation can't be revealed because the targets might skip the state.

The last time around, the committee, which was then headed by Henry Land, Apopka, who was defeated in his bid for a senate seat, concentrated on the NAACP and John Kasper.

Kasper is in jail, and the previous committee pretty well covered the field on the NAACP without getting any results in the form of controlling legislation passed by the Legislature.

State Comptroller's office records show that Committee Investigator R. J. Strickland, a former sergeant on the Tallahassee police department, has logged more than $700 in auto travel expense since the first of August.

Strickland also has spent more than $1,000 purchasing records and information for which receipts were "unobtainable due to the confidential nature of the operation."

Phone calls from the committee phone indicate several calls to Rep. Sikes in Washington, and among the cities visited by Strickland was Crestview, Sikes' hometown.

Other trips were made to Starke, home of committee chairman Johns, Gainesville, Ocala, Lake City, Jacksonville, and the Tampa Bay area.

Strickland also made trips to Apalachicola, DeFuniak Springs, and Crawfordville in Northwest Florida.

On November 4, a lump payment of $960 was authorized by Johns for "payment of records and transcript from a confidential source."

Another payment was made in August to a mystery person identified in the records only as "informant A." "Informant A" was paid $85.

The committee has $75,000 to do its investigating. As of Dec. 1, it has spent $7,838.47. Of that amount $6,377.29 went for salaries for Strickland and Mark R. Hawes, committee counsel.

Harvey, the capitol cat that writes with his tail, has this to say about the furor over education:

The Cat's Meow
By Harvey

You humans are facing a crisis similar to one that confronted us cats.

The big problem for you seems to be getting folks interested in scientific study.

Our problem was to get some of the young cats interested in mouse catching—an ancient art that is fast losing its appeal to the modern-day cat.

We have launched a program that appears to be paying dividends.

We now select an "All America" team of mouse catchers. This team makes an annual tour of the U. S. & A interesting young cats in the profession.

How Much Lime?

"Most of us realize that lime is necessary if we want to get the most from our soil."

"The question troubling many of us is, how much lime should we use? There is no easy answer. Before deciding how much lime to use, consider several factors."

Crops vary in their requirement for lime. If you are planning to grow a legume, such as clover, it will pay you to add sufficient lime to maintain the soil pH between 6.0 and 6.5. However, if you are growing non-legumes, a pH from 5.8 to 6.0 will be satisfactory. Generally speaking, it's best to maintain the soil pH above 5.5

Dr. Donald Rothwell, of the Soils Department of the University of Florida College of Agriculture, suggests you consider the type of soil on which you are growing the crops. The amount of lime necessary to lime you will have to apply to soil will influence greatly the apply. The higher the percentage of clay present, the more raise the pH. This also applies to the amount of organic matter in your soil. The higher the percentage of organic matter the greater will be the resistance of the soil to a change in pH. Therefore, a larger amount of lime will be required to overcome this resistance.

You must know the pH of your soil to decide the proper amount of lime to apply. This means that you must have your soils analyzed to get this information. If you haven't had your soil tested lately, you should get in touch with your county agricultural agent or write to the Soils Department at the Agricultural Experiment Station, Gainesville, for information. Unless you know the pH of your soil you are at a distinct disadvantage in deciding the amount of lime to apply.

In addition to the pH you should consider the amount of available calcium and magnesium in your soil. It is possible for your soil to have an adequate pH and still be deficient in these two elements. Another factor to consider is whether or not you are going to broadcast the lime on the surface and leave it or disk it under. The effectiveness of the lime applied will be increased if it is mixed with the soil. There are conditions, such as on pastures, where it is necessary to apply the lime broadcast and leave it on the surface. This, of course, reduces its effectiveness.

The size of the particles of lime will influence its reaction rate. This in turn will influence the amount that you should apply. The finer the grind, the faster it will react to change the pH. However, you may have to relime a little more frequently if you use finer ground lime.

Marineland uses 5,000,000 gallons of fresh sea water every 24 hours, making six complete daily changes in each of its three large marine life tanks.

Fla. 4-H'er Wins Conservation Award

Understanding and cooperation in a farm program of 4-H Soil and Water Conservation brought distinction to Braxton Powell, Jr., 15, of Brevard county, who won the 1957 state award.

Braxton Powell, Jr.

A 15-acre pasture did not support the dairy herd so Braxton took soil samples and laid out plans for ditching. He spread dolomite and fertilizer and planted pangola with excellent results.

Braxton attended 4-H short courses twice and 4-H Camp three times. He was treasurer and secretary of his club and served as assistant leader.

When Illness Strikes the Very Young

Cooler weather ushers in the sneeze and sniffle season. To add to this year's usual worries, Asian flu has swept across the country in epidemic proportions.

As always, children are the heaviest hit. The slightest illness will send fevers soaring. Coughs and running noses seem to linger all winter, disrupting household routines and adding to parental burdens.

No certain cure exists for some of the commonest illnesses except time and rest. Nevertheless, relief is possible. Fevers can be reduced, aches and pains relieved. This year, an easy-to-administer liquid replacement for aspirin has been developed especially for young sufferers. Liquiprin, a boon to mothers because it is pleasant tasting and easy for youngsters to take, can be mixed with fruit juice, prepared formula, or milk, which it will not curdle.

Mothers annoyed at the awkward problem of crushing tablet aspirin for infants will welcome the ease with which the new product can be measured out accurately by a calibrated dropper. It is more rapidly absorbed, and will not upset the stomach as aspirin sometimes does. It helps calm a fretful and irritable child.

Safety-conscious parents will welcome yet another feature. Dangers lurking in the medicine chest are well known. Statistics show a tragic number of children poisoned by medicines that in proper doses are beneficial, but deadly when swallowed in quantity by an over-curious child who has invaded the medicine cabinet. Liquiprin comes in a new safety bottle that will not pour even when held upside-down, a guarantee against a child's drinking its contents.

The new medication's pleasant raspberry flavor, incidentally, was selected by a taste panel of 500 children, 82% of whom took a second spoonful without coaxing. For mothers who complain that the cure sometimes is worse than the illness, this easy-to-take product should provide welcome relief.

TWO SLEEPY PEOPLE slip happily off to Nod in peppermint-fresh candy cane striped sleepers by Sterncraft. Dreamland comes easily with less help from mother because there are no bothersome buttons on these cosy flannel pajama sets. Strong Dot snappers, instead. Florida Orange Concentrate En Route To Calif.

Haines City.—Plans for shipping 1,000 barrels of Florida frozen orange concentrate from here to California have been announced by Reuben P. Hughes, president of Pacific Hawaiian Products Company of Fullerton, Calif.

He reported that the first of 20 refrigerated truck loads of the concentrate already has left Stockeley-Van Camp's Pietsweet Bordo plant here on its four-day trip to Fullerton. The Florida juice will be combined with exotic tropical fruit juices in California to make Hawaiian punch, Huges said.

"A cross-country trip for the 1,000 barrels of orange concentrate, especially when its going to California, may seem like a long way around to market," he added. "Trucking the product from the East to the West Coast, however, is simply a matter of economics."

Once the Florida concentrate and other juices have been combined into Hawaiian punch, it will be distributed nationally, much of it probably returning to East Coast states.

Money Still Needed For Youth Association

Contributions to the Avon Park Youth Association are coming in every day the Membership Committee reports. If you have not yet mailed yours, don't forget to do so. The Committee hopes to have a list of contributors ready for publication in January.

The Youth Center, under the direction of Andrew Miracle, has been doing outstanding work with the young people of our community. This year alone they have sponsored a number of activities for the boys and girls. The value of an active organization such as this to a community cannot be underestimated. But money is needed to help support their activities, and help from all citizens of Avon Park would be greatly appreciated.

Soil Conservation News

By Sam Polston

Requests for engineering assistance are still heading the list of work for the Soil Conservation Service technicians assigned to the Highlands Soil Conservation District. Sanford Hartt recently requested assistance in designing a seepage irrigation system for 1,000 acres of clover pasture on flatwoods land south of Arbuckle Creek. Mr. Hartt has several hundred acres of irrigated pasture which evidently has been producing satisfactorily. The first system of this kind to be put into operation in the Highlands District was on the Hartt Ranch and he has been steadily increasing the acreage for several years.

The Consolidated Naval Stores Company of Lake Placid also requested assistance in the design of a sprinkler irrigation system on 400 acres of new citrus grove south of Lake Placid. The company constructed an earth dam across Hickory Branch this year to impound water for this area.

The Highlands Soil Conservation District is hopeful of obtaining a limited supply of combine pea seed from the state Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission nurseries for trial plantings in this area next spring. The peas are good feed for both dove and quail. The seed will be made available to landowners who are interested in planting them and giving them proper care for a fair trial. Applications for the seed should be made at the Soil Conservation Service office at 39 S. Commerce St., Sebring.

Sterling Silver is Teen-ager's Dream

Wise parents understand the "moods" of teen-age daughters. They know that deep down, their little girl yearns to be married to a dream man, live in a dream house and entertain her husband's boss and friends with poise and charm. But sometimes the dream falters; she wonders if she could really fill the role successfully.

Parents and loving relatives can give her an early assurance with beautiful things. Mother should use her sterling daily to teach daughter that courteous living is not necessarily formal living—(daily use increases the lovely patina and minimizes the need for polishing.) It helps the teen-ager to start her on her own set. Ownership gives her a deep sense of security and conviction that, when the time comes, she will know how to do her husband proud. This Christmas, start her with a six-piece place setting of beautiful sterling for a little as $30.

Art Classes Need Objects As Models

Articles which are old, used, worn and damaged are preferred to new things. Donors are asked to please leave their offerings with Mr. Rakoczi at room 1-J in the Junior High School Building.

THE COOT

By The Bird Woman

Many times we know a specific bird by it's history or it's pictures so that we can visualize it in our mind's eye, but when we meet it "FACE to Face", we are amazed to find it in real life so nearly as we pictured it to be that we recognize it immediately.

Having lived in an area where there was a small river, called by most of the inhabitants a creek (and pronounced crick), water birds have always been fascinating to us.

So that when we met a coot for the first time and learned of it's habits we understood better what the Poet meant when he had the Brook to say: "I come from haunts of Coot and Hern"

The coot may be found along water ways or lakes, either in flocks or in company with grebe, ducks or other water fowls, the white bill quite easily identifies it as an outstanding field mark, and it may be easily distinguished from the duck family by it's short pointed bill, in appearance it is some times discribed as half duck and half chicken.

The plump body causes it to be put in the class of game birds, and it is listed along with ducks and geese, and although it may be taken by hunters, there is a limit to the take.

Another field mark of the coot is the scalloped feet, which probably accounts for it's ability to run and skim on top of the water for some distance before it attempts to rise and fly.

A similar specie, with which most fishermen are familiar is the Florida Gallinule, but the gallinule is slightly smaller and possess a red bill, their mode of swiming is similar also as they both pump their necks and heads back and forth.

The food of the coot consists of certain leaves, buds, seeds and aquatic insects, that it gleans in shallow water but some times when cold weather has killed this tender growth it will dive as deep as twenty feet to find the food of it's choice.

One pecularity of the bird family is that they like to go as far north to nest as possible some birds that we consider native to the south will go as far north as the timber line to roar their young, sometimes nesting before the ground has thawed.

We know that birds are prodigious eaters, and birds have been informed that the longer the day, the more food can be stuffed into the ever ready mouth of the young, and the sooner they will mature and leave the nest so the female may be able to start another family.

As the days and nights are the same length at the equator, the farther north the birds can go as soon as the weather permits, the longer will be the days, and the feeding time.

Some coots remain in the south for nesting, those migrating usually leave about April and return in November, those remaining usually nest in May, constructing their nests out over the water and attaching it to a cattail or other upright vegetation, usually in secluded areas but occassionally in the open where the nest is simply a mat of dried grass.

Seven to fifteen eggs are laid and must be of the colors to match the surroundings, so they are grayish with a few large spots and numerous small ones, in this camouflaging of eggs we see the wonderful miracle passed on to each generation of a specie, after being worked out by our marvelous Creater.

It reminds us of the perennial question, why a cow eats green grass and grows hair on it's body, and a sheep will eat the same green grass and grow wool on it's body?

The baby coot when hatched is covered with a thick down, as is a number of ground nesting birds, when it is hatched it is ready to start out in quest of food, but as the mother starts to incubate the eggs as soon as the first one is laid so one hatches daily, it is up to old Dad to start out with the first ones to hunt food and then adding to his burden daily as new eggs hatch, so by the time all the young are ready to leave the nest Dad has things pretty well under control, and it is not long before the mother is starting another family.

Postmaster Gives Tip On How To Save Time

Postmaster D. G. Perry had a tip today on how residents of Avon Park can save much time and effort in their Christmas mailing.

"Experience has shown," postmaster Perry commented, "that one of the big difficulties most mailers encounter in their efforts to complete their Christmas mailing early, is the lack of materials. They find that they don't have enough paper, or enough twine, or enough tape, and so forth, and as a result they often do not wrap and secure their parcels adequately."

The best way to avoid the last minute difficulty of insufficient mailing materials, the postmaster advised, is to make a trip now to the stores and obtain plenty of good heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord, cellulose tape, seals and so forth.

"Get it all in one trip and avoid the necessity of making a half dozen trips later, or trying to mail with improper or insufficent materials," the postmaster noted. "This can save a lot of headaches at Christmas time."

Melvin Pearson Completes Basic Training

Melvin Pearson, 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Pearson of Avon Park, has completed eight weeks of Infantry Basic Training in the 2nd Training Regiment, Fort Gordon, Georgia, Lt. Col. Curtis W. Markland, Regimental Commander, announced.

The mission of the 2nd Training Regiment, United States Army Training Center (Basic) is to train newly inducted or enlisted soldiers in basic military subjects. Military Courtesy, Close Order Drill, Physical Training, Rifle Marksmanship, and Rules of Land Warfare are some of the subjects taught.

These soldiers are then transferred to active Army Units throughout the world for advanced training.

The Thrill "FOR" a lifetime

SOMETHING NEW has been added to Santa's bag of gift ideas. It's a miniature Esther Williams Swimming Pool to be placed under the tree to announce that a gift of many years' pleasure will soon be right in your own backyard. If you want a swimming pool—and who doesn't—there are reasons too numerous to mention why it's a practical, sound idea to have one. The miniature pool is a faithful replica of the real pool in every detail. It's packaged in handsome-velour-lined, gold-colored gift box. This thrill OF a lifetime will be a thrill FOR a lifetime.

Winter Guest Club News

Plans are fast shaping up for the special holidays; Mrs. Book announces the Christmas program is being planned by Mrs. Wolverton. This program will be presented at the annual Christmas party, on Christmas night, at 7:30 p. m. Remember to bring a 50-cent article for the gift exchange, appropriately wrapped, and labeled, "For a man" or "For a lady."

On New Years' Day will be held the annual reception for all couples who have observed their fiftieth anniversary in the past year. Those who have observed this anniversary are requested to see Mrs. Book. Remember, she can't include you in the festivities if you neglect to give her your names.

Mr. Jerome Shiltz has planned another fine program for the sing on December 15, we should pass the 100 mark in attendance this week.

The shuffleboard enthusiasts have been hard at it the past week. On Wednesday, Dec. 4, was played a game between Reds and Blacks which the Reds won by a score of 26-22.

Thursday, December 5 the following players participated in a Slate Tournament at Kissimmee: Mesdames Ireland, Pickell, Bolduc, Warner, Goodwin, and Beck; Messr. Brush, Goodwin, Gibson, Bynner, E. Gruber and Christiansen. Gruber and Christiansen survived to play again on Friday at which time they gave a very good accounting for their club. Better luck next time.

The first trophy play with Sebring resulted in a win for Sebring; we'll have to work hard now to overcome this handicap. On Dec. 20 there will be a "for-fun" tournament at Sebring. The regular chosse-your-partner tournament scheduled for Wednesday, December 25, will be postponed to Thursday, December 26. The courts will be open for play as usual, on Wednesday, Dec. 25.

CHAMPAGNE LADY

With the strong emphasis of recent years on the teenager, on extreme youth, in the fashion world, it is little wonder that the mature woman — despite her larger buying power — might feel a little left out of the bustle and glamor of the fashion picture.

Supposing she isn't her best in skinny toreador pants; or is no longer a "sweater girl"; or, prefers attending a garden club meeting to spending the afternoon swimming! Over-thirty-five Mrs. U.S.A., whose desire and need to look attractive is just as strong today as when she herself was sweet sixteen, will be delighted with the attention being paid to her in an elegant group of dresses just introduced by Champagne Lady. Inspired by the mythical personality and champagne music of the top-rated Lawrence Welk Shows, they are designed and manufactured by Puritan Dress Company, recognized for years as the finest craftsmen in the field of women's dresses. New collections are being planned for every season in a complete range of sizes.

The Saturday evening pot-luck dinners are again in full swing with a full house reported from last week.

Interest in the dances seems greater than ever this season; possibly the many new couples learning the figures and steps are responsible, or, maybe it's the coffee and doughnuts. There were six sets in action for many of the figures last Friday evening, and the floor was really crowded for the round dances. Remember the practice sessions on Tuesday morning; it's much more fun when you are sure you know the figure or and steps, says THE TATTLER

Girl Scout News

The Avon Park Troop of the Girl Scouts held their regular meeting on Thursday, Dec. 5, at the new time, 3:30, in the Ridge Area Day Building.

After the meeting was opened with the singing of "Girl Scouts Together" lead by Sherry Wells, song leader, the following Scouts received Badges for Camp Craft, Pat Jones, Georgianne Godwin, Barbara Bigbee, and Torista Gaster. One year membership pins were also given to these girls and Sharon Lee, Beth Church, Kathy King, Susan Booth and Paulette Sikes.

Miss Sally Nute, a student in high school, will help the Scout Leaders each week. She will play the piano for their music and assist with the projects. The Scouts could easily use several more volunteer helpers if other high school girls are interested in this type of work.

Sandra Biggs received her pin and became a member of the Girl Scouts. The troop then worked on their copper projects. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Arlin King.

DO YOU KNOW?

By DALE I. ROYAL, Evangelist

CHRISTMAS

Did you know that "Christmas" is not mentioned anywhere in the Bible? Did you know that there is no hint in the Bible, or elsewhere for that matter, that December 25th is the actual birthday of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ? Did you know that there is no indication that the church of the first century observed any day as the birthday of the Christ, hence there is no ground for assuming that the Father ever authorized the observance of the birthday of His Son?

The above statements may well make the average Christian wonder about Christmas and its relation to Christianity. But let us inject right here that the above facts are, or at least should be, common knowledge of anyone that has made more that a surface study of the New Testament or church history. What then, is the origin of Christmas and what is its relation to the Christian?

Turning to the English Dictionary (Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary) we learn that Christmas comes from two words, Christ plus Mass. Even the man-on-the-street can see from this the hand of the Apostate Church in this "church festival", as Webster defines it. This of course does not make Christmas right or wrong. It does seem though that the conscientious Protestant would examine any doctrine or ordiance inherited from any church that claims the right to modify or change any ordinance delivered by the apostles or institute new ones as the church sees fit. When Webster states Christmas is a "church festival" he cannot have reference to the church of the first century because there is no indication in sacred or secular history that the church of the New Testament ever observed any such "festival". Even as late as 250 AD men could not agree on which day was Christ's birthday and even then there is no indication it was a "church festival".

Next week - Why Christians should not observe Christmas as a religious holiday.

Brownie Scouts Troop News

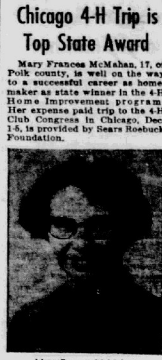

Troop 2 of the Brownie Scouts for second grade girls has been busily practicing on their investiture service for the P. T. A. meeting on Thursday night, Dec. 12, for the last two meetings. The patrol leaders check the attendance and collect dues for their patrol for each meeting.

The Boy Scouts of Troop 157 made the troop a flag stand for their flag and the Brownies and their leaders wish to express their thanks.

Week before last the girls made Christmas presents for their mothers assisted by their leaders and Mrs. E. B. Poff and Mrs. William Johnson. Mrs. Johnson served refreshments. Last week the troop made Christmas trees as handwork and Mrs. Bennett served refreshments. Examples of their handwork will be displayed at the P. T. A. meeting on Thurs-

Chicago 4-H Trip is Top State Award

Mary Frances McMahan, 17, of Polk county, is well on the way to a successful career as homemaker as state winner in the 4-H Home Improvement program. Her expense paid trip to the 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Dec. 1-6, is provided by Sears Roebuck Foundation.

Mary Frances McMahan

A 4-H'er for nearly five years, Mary Frances started her projects by recovering a lamp shade. During the next three years she completed more than 100 improvements in five projects. She redecorated her own bedroom, and executed a "Florida Room" in her home. A barbecue pit and picnic table were more of her doings. Plants from her nursery project added a fresh touch to all of her indoor and outdoor projects.

Mail Early For Christmas

Postmaster D. G. Perry, said today, "We hope to keep up our good record on the Christmas mails by getting everything processed and delivered well before Christmas Eve." He said further that much depends on your cooperation in and gifts during the next ten mailing your Christmas cards days.

The Postmaster said, "Most people realize that the early arrival of a Christmas card or gift is always welcomed, although there are still some who have the mistaken idea that a gift or card arriving on Christmas Eve has a special significance. Actually, it's the thought behind the gift or card, and not the time of arrival that is the important consideration."

The Postmaster asks for your special cooperation to be sure that your return address and the recipients address are plainly typed or written on all labels and Christmas cards. Use zone numbers, and it's always a good idea to include an extra label inside your packages. Parcel Post size and weight limitations vary according to destination. Ask about them when you go to the Post Office to buy stamps.

Be sure to use First Class postage on your Christmas cards, because this enables you to include handwritten messages. Cards sent by First Class mail will be delivered promptly, and forwarded or returned, if necessary, providing you include your name and address on your Christmas card envelope, a custom, by the way, which is entirely socially correct.

Response to his "Mail Early" appeals to date have been excellent, the Postmaster said. Now it's a case of keeping up the good work to avoid those last minute Christmas mail pile-ups.

You can do both yourself and the Post Office a real favor by securing free labels at the Post Office which read, "ALL FOR OUT OF TOWN DELIVERY" and "ALL FOR LOCAL DELIVERY." Place these labels on bundles of cards for local addresses, and on those for out-of-town destinations, and mail day, Dec. 12.

Troop 3

Troop 3 of the Brownie Scouts for the third grade girls held their last meeting on Tuesday, Dec. 3, in the Avon Elementary Cafetorium and practices their program for the P. T. A.

Catherine Still was elected Patrol Leader to take the Patrol of Hawley Griffin who has moved away. Mrs. Fentress served the girls refreshments.

Troop 3 will have its investiture service at 7:15 on Thursday night, Dec. 12, before the P. T. A. meeting. All girls should be in the Avon Elementary Cafetorium at that time.

Troop 4

The Brownies of Troop 4 for fourth grade girls practice for their P. T. A. program at their last meeting. The leaders would like to have the girls to be in the Avon Elementary Cafetorium at 7 o'clock on Thursday, Dec. 12, for their investiture service.

your out-of-town Christmas cards several days in advance of those intended for local delivery.

Plan your Christmas mailings so that all Christmas cards and gifts for most distant points are mailed first. Try to get all of your out-of-town cards and gifts into the Post Office before December 10th, and those for nearby points should be mailed by December 15th.

The Postmaster has asked the cooperation of all business firms to postpone the mailing of circulars and catalogs until after December 25th to keep the mails clear for the Christmas rush.

The windows are most crowded at lunch time, so the Postmaster suggests that packages be mailed before 10:00 a. m. or between 1:30 and 3:30 p. m.

Boy Scout News

The Highlands District of the Boy Scouts of America held their annual Supper and Court of Honor on Tuesday, Dec. 3, in Layton Hall in Sebring with more than two hundred Scouts, parents, and friends present. Members of the Gulf Ridge Scout Council were present at this meeting as well as Scouts and their families from Frostproof, Avon Park, Sebring, Lake Placid and Wauchula.

Troop 156 of the Avon Park Scouts sponsored by the American Legion received the National Camping Award from the National Boy Scout Organization at this meeting. The troop has been working for this difficult award for the past five years. It is one of the few, if not the only Highlands District Troop, to ever received the award. In order to gain this honor the troop must have ten nights of camping with better than 80% of its Scouts present on all camp-outs. Troop 156 also won the Advancement Ribbon for more advancement for individual Scouts than any other troop. Scout Andy Miracle received his Star Scout Rank. Jimmy Lyles received four merit badges, and Robin Duggan became a 1st Class Scout at the Court.

Scoutmaster Eltor, Lawrence of Troop 156 was given a certificate honoring his five years of outstanding leadership with his troop. Scoutmaster Lawrence and Scoutmaster Dick Reilly of Wauchula were the only scoutmasters to receive this award for their outstanding work.

Troop 157 of the Avon Park Scouts sponsored by the Rotary Club had two Scouts who received the Star Scout Rank. They were Glenn Peters and Eddie Sharpe. Scoutmaster Davis was proud to have forty boys and parents representating Troop 157 at the meeting.

Troop 156

The Scouts of Troop 156 will sell Christmas trees again this year with Mr. G. L. Harrison in charge of the project. The boys will sell native Florida short-leaf pine trees and also some spruce. They will appreciate the patronage of the citizens of Avon Park and promise nice trees again this year.

Troop 157

Scoutmaster Fred Davis was very proud of the forty boys and parents who represented Troop 157 at the Court of Honor and Annual Supper in Sebring.

Assistant scout leaders of 157 are Franklyn Ward and Mr. R. E. Maynard.

Christmas Seal Sale Continues

The county-wide Christmas Seal Sale totaled $2022 of a quota of $4500 on December 8th. Sebring was still leading with $1081.20; Avon Park has collected $718.80 while Lake Placid reported $220.

In Avon Park there have been 317 contributors up to this date. Mrs. Robert Watson says she has every confidence of reaching her quota of $1600. With over two weeks to go before Christmas and with some 500 contributors of former years still to be heard from she remarked "we must go over the top."

A very bizare and expensive specimen was recently added to the exhibit at Marineland. It is the Pacific dragonfish, whose body is covered with long poisonous spines.

Earnest, Cooper, Williams And Rouse Named On All-Conference Team

Football bowed out in the Ridge Conference for the 1957 Season with the naming of the Ridge Conference Seniors Team.

Avon Park, the winner for the second straight year of the Ridge Conference Gride Title dominated the selections of the Ridge Coaches.

Ben Earnest, spasmodically oustanding during the season's play on defense and in snatching aerials from Jim Cooper, received the nomination for right end. Henry Scott, 210 pounder and outstanding defensive ball player for the Devils received the left tackle spot. Wendell Williams, who was sixth in the Ridge scoring column with 29 points and carried for 275 yards in 39 thrusts for a 7.0 average, received the honor of Guard on the Seniors Team. This nomination was not on his backfield playing especially but was partly based on his outstanding play on the line as Guard and Tackle and the fact that he had been an adept linebacker for the past three years.

Billy Rouse--winner of the Ridge scoring honors with 79 points--was selected as left halfback. Rouse won the scoring honor in spite of an injured ankle and the fact that he played on limited offense in two games and no offense in the Arcadia game.

John Starling, the work horse in the Red Devil backfield, received honorable mention. John ran 633 yards in 94 tries, averaging 6.7 per carry in his fullback position. Our hats off to Johnny for a commendable job this year.

The Avon Park quarterback Jimmy Cooper must be applauded for the outstanding way in which he piloted the Red Devils to the Conference Title. Jimmy did in one year what it takes two or even three years to accomplish. In the past Jimmy played mostly on defense until near the end of the season last year when he switched to right halfback. Jimmy has done a good job at calling the right signals, using the right plays and in getting the ball to the ball carriers. Deception at handling the ball and his passing improved as the season went along.

The responsibility of running the ball club was a big one and Jimmy stepped in when they went to him and he handled it admirably.

The four winners on the Seniors Team and the one honorable mention were, in the eyes of all the coaches in the Ridge Conference, the outstanding choices from Avon Park.

Other selections for the Seniors Team were: End, Leland Hagan, Mulberry; Tackle, John Tew, Sebring (also designated as Captain); Guard, Ken Sutton, Kathleen; Center, Howard Waters, Sebring; Backs, Charles Lyle, Mulberry; Charles Parkyn, Arcadia; and Jerry Sheffield, Sebring.

The City of Avon Park wishes to extend a cordial welcome to members of the Ridge League of Municipalities who are visiting in Avon Park today.

The Ridge League of Municipalities, after only 10 years of growth, represents twenty-five cities, and its monthly meetings are attended by 200 to 300 city officials and their guests. The organization has been described as unique in that its members volunteer their efforts toward better government "above and beyond the normal call of duty".

Members attending the meetings, which are held on the second Thursday of each month from October through June of the following year, hear interesting and informative discussions on annexation, planning and zoning, ordinance revisions, subdivision regulations, and related problems.

Speakers at these meetings are considered authorities in their field, and are members of the staff at either the University of Florida or the Florida State University. President of the Ridge League of Municipalities for 1957-58 is George Costello of Wauchula.

Burske, secretary treasurer. Other Directors are: E. A. Marin, Ted J. Ward and C. T. Daves, all of whom have served one or two terms as president of the local organization.

The Avon Park Board was organized six years ago with C. T. Daves, Hubbard Biggs, and E. A. Martin as the Charter Members. Since that time it has gone forward with great success in making the community conscious of the reasons why they claim "It Pays To Deal With A Realtor". Brokers can join the organization only upon invitation from the membership. They are bound under a very strict code of ethics, and are pledged to practice the Golden Rule in their business transactions.

Eiland Released On $5000 Bond

Glenn Eiland of Sebring, alleged assailant of Sheriff's Deputy J. C. Murdock, was released last week on a $5000 bond pending trial on five charges which include, assault with intent to kill; unlawful possession of firearms after a felony conviction; obstructing an officer in the performance of his duty; illegal possession of firearms and exhibiting fire arms illegally.

Eiland's release was obtained by Attorney L. Grady Burton, former state prosecutor in this circuit, and his son, Attorney John W. Burton of Wauchula on a habeas corpus writ issued by Circuit Judge Gunter Stephenson.

Eiland is charged with shooting Murdock October 31 when he went to Eiland's home at the request of Mrs. Eiland to investigate a disturbance. Murdock is still in the Florida Sanitorium in Orlando and is reported in fair condition.

County Judge Mervin Rehrer first set bond for Eiland's release at $35,100 but then ordered Eiland held without bond pending the outcome of Murdock's condition.

A Tribute Of Respect

Many members of the Winter Guest Club who knew him desire to pay a tribute of respect and love to the memory of Mr. G. W. Dinges who passed away at his home in New Brunswick, Canada, on November 18th, 1957. Though he had been unable to winter in Avon Park in recent years, he was already planning to come down this year when he suffered a stroke on November 4th which terminated fatally. We are sorry we shall not see him again in this world for we enjoyed greatly his fellowship as a member of the Club.

Mr. Dinges was a man of sterling character, honest and upright. He was friendly without being effusive, moral with out parade, of strong convictions without being belligerent. He was active in his church at home, of which he often spoke, and when he was in Avon Park he attended divine worship regularly and supported the local church of his choice with his presence and his gifts. He stood for everything which was good and true and noble.

We who knew him mourn his loss but we are consoled by the fact that after a long and useful life here he has entered upon a fuller life above. "Servant of God well done! Thy glorious warfare' past; The battle's fought, the race is won, And thou art crowned at last."

Duval County has more than twice as many dooryard and non-commercial citrus trees than it does citrus trees in commercial groves. This information is apparent from figures released by the Florida Citrus Commission recently covering the State Plant Board's 34th county to be covered by the citrus tree census. The survey indicates Duval County has a total of 32,857 citrus trees of which only 10,357 trees are located in commercial groves, and 22,500 trees are estimated to be dooryard and non-commercial trees.

Miss Tuten Presents Art Of Xmas Decorations To FPC Aux. Members

The Florida Power Employees Club Auxiliary held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, Dec. 5, at the Florida Power Clubhouse with Mrs. Robert Harden and Mrs. Ray Rutherford serving as hostesses.

During the business meeting it decided that the group would have some self-improvement program or project each month at their meetings. In January the materials will be ordered for the members to do some work in aluminum, such as hostess trays, coasters or ash-trays. Mrs. Elizabeth Ladrie, of Ward's Department Store, will present a program on knitting, crocheting, and hat making, at the January meeting of the club.

The men of the Employees Club have announced that they will decorate the outside of the Clubhouse with several Christmas decorations this year. There will be the letters "Merry Christmas" among other things.

Miss Helen Tuten presented the very interesting and helpful program on Christmas packages and decorations. She showed how to do some very attractive and different packages and make many practical decorations. When she finished some of articles were given to members as prizes. Mrs. Robert Harden won the door prize. Mrs. Walter Sherertz and Mrs. Richard Birt won dried arrangements for Christmas made by Miss Tuten. Mrs. Walter Rutherford won a gift package and Mrs. Lamar Wild won a large snowman decoration. Then each member made a corsage to take home.

Delicious refreshments of assorted homemade cookies, banana bread, fudge, divinity, and coffee were served by the hostesses.

Other members present at the meeting were Mrs. Ed Sharpe, Mrs. R. L. Burlingame, Mrs. Wendall Smith, Mrs. Durrah Martin, Mrs. R. D. Young, Mrs. L. Y. DuBose, Mrs. A. L. Kelly, Miss Faye Gordon, Mrs. W. M. Green, Mrs. H. F. Wells, Mrs. C. I. Wells, Mrs. H. R. Douberley, and Mrs. Arlin King.

Sr. Woman's Club Presents Xmas Musical Program

The Annual Christmas musical program of the Senior Woman's Club of Avon Park was held at the Congregational Church on Friday afternoon, Dec. 6.

This affair was well attended and a fine success. Mrs. A. W. Rogers was Chairman of the afternoon, and was graciously assisted by Mrs. William Reitzner, Mrs. S. Book, Mrs. William Beale, and Mrs. G. Jacobson. The inspirational devotional service was given by Mrs. P. Rumpsa followed by a musical program of piano and organ duets rendered by Mrs. E. Jackson and Miss M. Bilbee, and two beautiful soprano solos were sung by Mrs. W. Bennett. Mrs. I. H. Ford, in her own inimitable way, read the Christmas story. A sincere thank-you to all who participated, especially to Mrs. Jackson who arranged the entire program.

It was with deep regret that the Club members heard of Mrs. V. Hall's sudden illness as she had rehersed with the High School Glee Club there carols and had herself intended to play a flute solo. We all wish her a speedy recovery.

We are truly grateful for the generous freewill offering which will be used by the Woman's Club for local benefits such as the Christmas Cheer Baskets and the Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children.

The Club was happy to welcome the following new members: Mrs. C. Twombly, Mrs. H. Greenleaf, Mrs. E. Gardner, Mrs. J. Richmond, Mrs. J. Townsend, and Mrs. M. Merchant.

All members who have overlooked paying their dues are urgently requested to do so at once so their names may be registered in F. F. W. C. Headquarters. Please send your check to Miss J. Bane, Registar, 304 E. Camphor Street.

Everglade State 4-H'ers Win Chicago Trip

Hard work and perseverance brought success and a trip to the 1957 National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago Dec. 1-5, to three Florida 4-H Club members. Their records in 4-H Entomology, Frozen Foods, and Field Crops programs were judged best in the state, according to the 4-H Club office.

Herman Somers, Jr. Teresa Desch Frank Syfrett

When the bug bit Herman Somers, Jr., 16, of Alachua county to enter the 4-H Entomology program he dreamed of winning the state award and a trip to Chicago. Now after seven years in club work the dream has come true.

When Herman tackled entomology, he learned the value of several qualities he never needed as captain of his undefeated Santa Fe high school team. Gentleness and patience were extremely important in mounting his hard-to-catch specimens, and Herman confesses his inexperience cost him many fine ones.

His fine collection won recognition in the community and county. "My project has been very educational and it has also been a lot of fun," said this happy teener. "I'd recommend it to any 4-H'er."

Hercules Powder Co. provides the entomology trip award.

Plenty of fresh frozen fruits, vegetables, meats and baked foods are served the year around in the home of Teresa Desch, 16, of Orange county. The reason is that Teresa learned how to expertly select and prepare good quality foods for freezing. Her excellent record in the 4-H Frozen Foods project brought her state honors.

Teresa worked on freezing projects for five of her six 4-H years, and she now considers her home freezer a valuable household helper. Besides bread, pies, and special treats, she has nearly 600 quarts of frozen fruits and vegetables to her credit.

Teresa was twice vice president of her local 4-H Club and served as parliamentarian of the county 4-H group. Her all-expense trip is provided by Whirlpool Corporation.

More than a good crop was in store for Frank Syfrett, 14, of Jackson county who won the state 4-H Field Crops award for his exceptional project work.

During his five-year 4-H career, Frank prepared, planted, and harvested 21 acres of corn, soybeans, and peanuts. In addition he also raised champion pigs and cattle.

Using all the specialized machinery available for his field work, he was even able to pass along a bit of helpful advice to his father, on the 200-acre farm.

MOTOR MAIDS

It Takes More Than 20/20

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

"I DIDN'T SEE the other car!"—an all too-frequent explanation given for an accident—is actually not a valid excuse.

Miss Smith

It's the driver's responsibility to see everything on the highway. It also his responsibility to recognize any hindrances to his vision, and to drive accordingly.

There are several reasons why motorists fail to see cars, pedestrians, stop signs or other objects in time to avoid an accident. Among these are driving too fast, fatigue, an obstruction at an intersection, blinding lights from another car —a inadequate vision.

One out of every six motorists needing special visual attention is unaware of his shortcomings, reports the Motorist's Vision Committee of the American Optometric Association.

Safe vision, from the standpoint of driving, is made up of four essential visual skills, the Association points out. They are distance acuity, proper field of vision, night vision and depth perception.

Distance acuity is the ability to see objects clearly, without blur, from 20 feet to many yards ahead. The AOA considers 20/40 vision (with or without glasses) a minimum requirement. Tests have shown that the average traffic sign with five-inch letters can be read at about 280 feet by the driver with 20/20 vision, 118 feet by those with 20/40 vision and at only 90 feet by motorists with 20/50 vision.

Inability to read signs or spot hazards accounts for thousands of accidents, AOA officials believe.

Proper field of vision means being able to see over a large area without moving either your eyes or your head. This visual skill is important because many highway hazards must be seen from the side if they are to be avoided. An accident can be caused by "tunnel vision," in which the driver can see only straight ahead.

Night vision includes the ability to see adequately under low illumination, to see against glare and to recover rapidly from the glare of oncoming headlights. Driving in a semi-blinded state contributes to a high proportion of night driving accidents.

Depth perception involves the ability to judge accurately the distance between your car and other objects. Collisions can occur through misjudging relative distances of approaching cars.

The AOA has listed several recommendations for those who lack these visual skills; periodic eye examinations with special reference to driving; if glasses are prescribed, always wear them when driving; if troubled by headlight glare, cut down on night driving—and drive more slowly after dark.

Other recommendations: compensate for inadequate field of vision by turning your head to watch for danger; be extra careful in passing other cars if depth perception is poor, and avoid driving at high speeds.

There is no substitute for alertness and caution.

As Seen By The Stroller

Having for some time been strolling to and fro in the earth and walking up and down in it, somewhat like the chap in the Book of Job, ch. 1, v. 7, and getting quite a kick out of it too, I have at last come to a haven of rest in this pleasant city of Avon Park. It could hardly help being pleasant with so many shining lakes in it and about it, its churches outnumbering its saloons by a big margin, its food stores so numerous that if you can't get into one you may possibly squeeze into another, and running through it all a strip of the country verdant and tree shaded all the year round, where the aged tourists sit, chin on cane, viewing the passing throng in safety and comfort and where wise old men play checkers on sunny afternoons, bidding the world go hang. Other cities have their pleasant parks where one may find refuge from the rolling traffic, watch ducklings dip their heads in lilly pools, or birdlings roll their hoops along the walks in safety. But Avon Park has its Mall, and in some ways it tops them all.

Entering town at the west end of Main street I could hardly help seeing a very flamboyant sign urging the traveler to turn to left at the corner and see Avon Park and its ("World Famous Mall". The latter phrase nearly bowled me over. My foot, as the fellow said when the fat lady trod on his toe, is that true or isn't it? Is his little strip of country in the midst of Avon Park famous all over the world? May be it is. I wouldn't know, but it seems to have the ear marks of a whopper. I suspect there are millions of people in Europe, Asia, Africa, and S. America who never have heard of it. I suspect there are people in Florida who never have heard of it. I suspect that whoever coined that phrase could not prove it, nor can I disprove it. There are such statements made occasionally. But there it is on the signboard, there to stay, and of course it may be true. But wouldn't a more modest phrase, one within the bounds of probability, be just as effective? It seems to me so says

Roderick Stroller

Mr. Santa Claus
North Pole, America
Dear Santa:

A lot of people say that you do not exist, that you are only a myth invented to please children. I wonder what they know about that. The fact that nobody ever saw Santa Clause doesn't prove anything. I've never seen you really, but I don't doubt your existance; no, not for a minute. So I am writing this letter to you asking if you will please stop at Avon Park for a few minutes on your way southward on the evening of the 24th. Just drive down one side of the Mall and up the other side an note how very Christmassy it all looks. The city Fathers have decorated the Mall in honor of your visit, and they are looking for you. They have enshrined the lamp posts in fronds of gray and bound them there with gay red ribbons, and colored stars will twinkle along the way throughout the wondrous night.

And while passing through our city will you please remember all little children with the toys they love so much: you know; such things as Teddy bears, rooler skates, and little trains that run and whistle, and so on; little gifts that make for happiness in childhood's short hour. To all young men and maidens bring something, you know what that may install in them a love for truth and yearning for righteousness; and it would be fine if you could hang a shining moon in the sky under which they might exchange those happy vows of love and fidelity. To all those of riper years, who now bear the burdens of life, leave some calculated to brace them for the strife as they battle for the right in this world of so many wrongs. And to all those whose gray hair is a crown of glory, who now sit patiently in the boat of life waiting to hear the keel grate upon the shores of time; to all such bring something to hallow and sweeten the memories of the past to the end that their latter days may be filled with contentment and gladness.Do these things for us, O Santa, and Christmas in Avon Park will be the happiest ever known.

Roderick Stroller

Santa Visits Kindergarten

Eighteen youngsters surrounded him with great enthusiasm and asked a million very important questions of their favorite. Santa left bags of candy for all the children and departed leaving a very satisfied group.

The boys and girls then enjoyed a play in Donaldson Park and returned to the Kindergarten to open the gifts which they exchanged among themselves. Under a small Christmas tree decorated by the children with pipe cleaners of different colors and icicles. Mrs. Whitcomb passed out the gifts to the excited children. Cookies and ice cream completed the morning.

Christmas decorations for homes and lawns will be judged Monday night, December 23, by judges appointed by the Avon Park Area Board of Realtors. Five cash prizes totaling forty dollars will be presented for the most attractive Yuletide displays.

Residents are requested to leave their display lights on Monday night until 11 o'clock, and again Tuesday night as judges may have to review some displays in the process of elimination. Last year the judges had a hard time choosing the most attractive display in the community in one evenings tour. So plans have been made to tour the community both Monday and Tuesday nights by the judges.

Everyone in the community may participate in the contest. If your home is located in a spot that you think the judges might miss when they make their tour Monday night, please call the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce or Dick vonBurske and leave your name and address.

Boundary lines for the contest will be the Polk County line on the North, including homes in Avon Park Lakes, Highlands Lakes or Lake Lillian section, to the Drive-in Theatre, and to the south side of Lake Anoka and East including Lake Angelo.

Only a few days left to complete your decorations, so hurry and have your home on lawns ready when the judges make their tour Monday night.

"Doc" Moller Hold-Up Victim

"Doc" Moller was the victim of a hold-up Friday night just a few minutes before closing time and was robbed of nearly $60.

A man, a total stranger, walked into "Doc's" on Main and Fairfield and at first Doc thought the man was only kidding when he told him it was a hold-up. Doc was forced at gun point to open the cash register and then he had to give the bandit his wallet also. He was then told to go into the back room and to kneel there for five minutes before he got up.

The City Police called in the Sheriff's Department and investigation is still going on. As yet the robber has not been caught.

YES, ICE IN AVON PARK: who said it didn't get cold in Florida, well we will admit that it doesn't happen very often. Last Wednesday night when the temperature went way below freezing the sprinkling system was left on in the Mall and these beautiful icicles were formed. Scenes like this were common Thursday morning when this picture was taken just a little West of the City Hall. The Tourist Club can be seen in the background but no one seems to be playing shuffleboard in the real winter weather we had last week.

Yes, Virginia, Santa's Real And He'll Live Forever

We would like to print for our many readers The New York Sun's famous editorial answering the query of eight-year-old, Virginia O'Hanlon, "Is there a Santa Claus?"

This editorial has become a Christmas classic and we're sure that many readers have read it but many would feel that the holiday was incomplete without the chance of rereading it. Here it is:

We take pleasure in answering at once and thus prominently the communication below, expressing at the same time our great gratification that its faithful author is numbered among the friends of the Sun!

Dear Editor—I am eight years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus.

Papa says "If you see it in The Sun it's so".

Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?

Virginia O'Hanlon
115 West Ninety-first St.

Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do no believe except what they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's are little. In this great universe of man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there was no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory behind. Is it all real? All, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and and abiding.

No Santa Claus! Thank God! he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

Unprofitable Tax

The National Conference For Repeal of Taxes on Transportation has issued an effective legislative brief on this matter. The taxes in question amount to 10 per cent on passenger tickets sold by the railroads and other intercity carriers, and 3 per cent on freight, except for coal and oil, which carry taxes of 4 cents a ton and 4-½ per cent respectively. They were passed as a World War II emergency measure, designed to discourage unnecessary travel at that time, no less than to raise revenue.

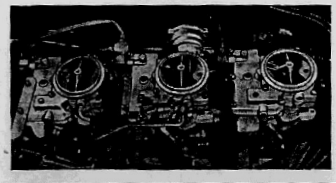

The Conference makes a series of important points. The freight tax, for instance, adds directly to the cost of practically everything we buy. Usually the tax is multiplied—often many times—because it is applied on each step from raw materials to finished products.

The long-distance shipper — those whose markets are far from the points of production —is under special heavy handicaps, because the tax is a percentage of his total transportation costs and theres are based on mileage.

Finally, the biggest part of the transportation taxes is a deductible business expense. It thus reduces the income taxes paid by the concerns involved. If the taxes were repealed, their income taxes would therefore rise. In addition, repeal would result in substantial new business for the commercial carriers, and thus increase their income tax payments. Therefore, the actual loss, if any, to the Treasury would be very small. In fact, an Interstate Commerce Commission economist figures that the Treasury would be money ahead.

BROWNIE SCOUTS PRESENTED PROGRAM THURSDAY NIGHT, DECEMBER 12

Troop 1 for second grade Brownies held their Investiture Service and presented a program Thursday night, December 12, in the Cafetorium of the Avon Elementary School. The Brownies of the Troop presented the Flag Ceremony with patrol leaders presenting the colors. The Red Birds and the Bluebirds were presented their Brownie pins by their leader, Mrs. Fred Davis, and the other patrol was invested and pinned by Mrs. Jim Runkle. Each Brownie received their pin up-side down and were requested to wear it that way until they had done a good deed. The person who received the good efforts had the honor of turning the pin. Members of Troop 1 taking part in the program and their leaders are shown above, back row left to right, Mrs. Fred Davis, Linda Simmons, Patricia Holden, Marcia Ward, Martha Land, Jacalyn Hutchinson, Gail Chestnutt, Cheryl Runkle, and Mrs. Jim Runkle. Seated left to right, Delores Reynolds, Jan Teeter, Linda Johnson, Nancy Mitchell, Kim Wells, Johnnie Childers, Shavon Bennett, Lark Adams, Sybil Anderson and Gale Meyer. Troop 3 for fourth grade Brownies presented a clever skit about the founding of the Brownies with the Brownie legend being told and the work of present day Brownies illustrated in their Investiture Service held Thursday night, December 12, in the Cafetorium of the Avon Elementary School. An outstanding display of the handwork of the troop was displayed and the troop committee introduced. Members of Troop 3 and their sponsors are shown here back row left to right, Mrs. Roy Ladwig, Charlene Ladwig, Terry Albritton, Wanda Singletary. Debbie Ann Ward, Mrs. E. B. Brownie Scout Troop News

Troop 3 for fourth grade Brownies and Troop 1 for second grade Brownies held their Investiture Services and presented a program on Thursday night, Dec. 12, in the Cafetorium of the Avon Elementary School.

The Brownies of Troop 1 presented the Flag Ceremony with patrol leaders, Lark Adams, Kim Wells, and Jackie Hutchinson presenting the colors. Their leader, Mrs. Fred Davis, invested and gave the Brownie pins to two patrols, the Red Birds and the Blue Birds, and Mrs. Jim Runkle, assistant leader, invested and pinned the other patrol. Each Brownie received their pin up-side down and wore it that way until they had done a good deed and the person who had received the good efforts turned the pin.

Troop 3 presented a clever skit about the founding of the Brownies with the Brownie legend being told and the work of present day Brownies illustrated. Girls in the skits were the Tailor, Debbie Ward; Grandmother, Arlene King; Tommie, Nancy Wright; Mary, Betty Hutchinson; The Wise Owl, Sally Beth King; and the Narrator, Carolyn Poff. In the present day skit were Charlene Ladwing, Joyce Simpson, Joan Wells, Linda Holmberg, and Linda Wester. Directors were Judy Runkle and Janet Douberley.

Refreshments of coffee, orange juice, cake, and cookies were served to the large audience of parents and friends by the troop leaders.

An outstanding display of the handwork of the troops was presented on a table at the back to the Cafetorium and the two troop committees were introduced.

The Avon Elementary P.T.A. meeting was postponed for that night due to the cold weaher, in order that the program would be over earlier and the Brownies and their families get home sooner. Troop 2 for the third grade girls postponed their service also.

The Brownies of the second grade troop enjoyed a Christmas party at their meeting on Saturday morning, Dec. 14. Robin Williams and Pam Maness were invested at the meeting.

Each girl made small Christmas gifts for Walker Memorial Hospital and Mrs. David and Mrs. Runkle will deliver them. During the meeting the Brownies told about the good deed they did to have their pins turned right-side up. A small gift containing something for the troop was opened by the Brownies. Gale Meyer presented the Brownie leaders with a Christmas corsage. Mrs. Fred Davis and Mrs. Jim Runkle presented each Brownie with a World Brownie Pin as their Christmas gift.

Delicious refreshments were served the girls of cupcakes, party lollipops, and balloon favors by Mrs. Reynolds and Brownie Delores Reynolds. Games were then played with Cheryl Runkle, Nancy Mitchell, Patricia Holden, Delores Reynolds and Johnnie Childress winning prizes.

Troop 2 for the third grade Brownies had a Christmas party at the Brownie Building on Tuesday, Dec. 17.

Troop 3 for the fourth grade Brownies will take Christmas gifts to the Gray Inn, an Episcopal Home of the Aged, in Davenport on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 19. They will give a program and bring cookies for a party.

Winter Guest Club News

It seems that each year some outstanding addition is made to our club property or to our program. This year bids fair to excel all records. Thanks to our zealous president and his loyal work crew we now have an awning over the walk from the club house to the cue house, and an adeuate storeroom. In the expanded program we have Martin Lindborg and his committee to thank for the Christmas dinner plans. If you would like to join the club members in an excellent turkey dinner on Christmas day, you get your name on Martin's list by Saturday, Dec. 18, at the very latest. We feel this is a wonderful way for those among our members who are away from their homes at this holiday season to come together for food, fun, and fellowship.

Our apologies to the bridge players for omitting them in last week's news. On Tuesday, Dec. 3 Mrs. Bonner played to high score with Mrs. Fenton in second place. Mrs. Duffy and Mrs. Hayes were the lucky winners of the door prizes. On Tuesday, Dec. 10 Lester Truex had the highest score, with E. Ludington right behind with second high. Mr. Coan, Mrs. Grimshaw, and Mrs. Parry were the lucky winners of door prizes.

Sunday's sing was very well attended, especially so since many people, no doubt, were saving their energy to attend the concert at the Congregational Church in the evening. There were nearly 90 present to enjoy singing the old, familiar Christmas hymns and carols. Mr. Ney Smith and Mrs. Cliff. Ireland sang an alto and tenor duet and Mary Dilley, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Harry Gibson, sang two of the lovely Christmas melodies. Mrs. Thomas Johnston read an original poem; she warned us 'twould not be a happy story and it was not, until the very last few lines when she showed us Christ, the hope of the world. The next sing will be on December 29. The Frostproof club invites the Avon Park Club to join them on December 22.

The weekly Friday night dance got off to a good start last week with a jam-packed house, by next month we may have to give out numbers and let you take your turns at dancing. For the first time, there were seven sets (and that's the absolute maximum your space will allow) in action; you guessed it, the ever-popular "Grand square" brought everyone to his feet. The circle two-step continues to be the most popular of the round dances.

The shufflers are a hardy lot; witness the fact that 44 of them braved Wednesday's cruel wind to indulge in their favorite out-door sport. Arms and Walker were the successful team, edging out Brown and Million to win the tournament. Also, on Wednesday six of our ablest went to Lakeland to enter the Sate Singles meet; Mr. and Mrs. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. E. Gruber, Mr. C. Brush and Mrs. C. Ireland. While we did not win honors, we are not discouraged; it is only very recently that any players from our local club have entered this kind of competition. In time, and lots of it, to produce championship players and we feel we have made a good start. On Sat., Dec. 1 every court was taken for the weekly pot-luck tournament which was won by P. Boldu and Ney Smith. C. Brush and D. Gruder were runners-up in this event.

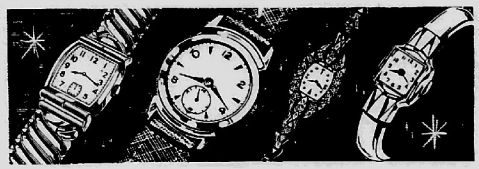

After the bitter cold of last week, Saturday was a wonderful day just to be alive. The record turn-out for the afternoon's games, side-line sitters as well as players, surely did enjoy the warm sunshine and friendly chatter as much as the friendly competition. Then, a finale to the week, came the tempting viands displayed at the potluck supper. This was followed by a relaxed, friendly sort of evening with everyone playing his favorite game of cards. If you haven't made it a habit, now's a good time to start.

Ground Broken For $385,000 Tiotie Beach Clubhouse

Lake Rosalie, Fla.—Ground breaking ceremonies today initiated construction work on a $385,000 clubhouse for the Tiotie Beach Yacht and Country Club on the shores of Lake Rosalie near Lake Wales. The celebration was attended by various notables, including the Polk County Commissioners, and was preceded by chicken and spareribs barbeque. The first spadefull of dirt was turned over by Col. James E. Huffman, Commodore of the Tiotie Beach resort, and partner in the Tampa realy firm of Schulstad and Huffman.

The clubhouse, central project in the 1,000 acre, private family membership resort and club, will occupy a site 500 by 800 feet adjacent to beach, golf course and swimming pool. Its unusual roofline features a series of vaulted concrete arches above a bank of stained glass windows in an ultra-contemporary design. Designed by the Tampa firm of Frank McLane, Jr. and John F. Ranon, architects, the building is being constructed by the Edward L. Bolding Construction Company, also of Tampa, and is expected to be ready for use by May of next year.

Designed expressly to provide spacious views in all directions of 12-square-mile Lake Rosalie, the white sand beach and the wooded landscape, the Tiotie Beach clubhouse is also planned for the most efficient use of space for all kinds of resort and country club activities for the whole family from baby to grandparent. Provisions have even been made for indoor barbequing in a large fireplace in the lobby. Imaginstive use of screening has also made possible large promenade and garden areas protected from weather and insects. A screened and roofed promenade runs the length of the clubhouse on lake side of the building.

The clubhouse will be 70 feet wide and 318 feet long when finished, and the floor space on the ground floor alone will run to 22,260 square feet. Three hundred fifty tons of air-conditioning equipment will be required to cool it. An Oly pic size swimming pool of unusual shape will lie between the clubhouse and the Lake Rosalie beach. Bathhouse and locker rooms will serve the pool, the beach and adjacent golf course.

A ballroom providing 3,300 square feet of dance floor will feature spotlighting, stage and sound amplifiers for large dances. The main dining room will seat 250 people, with space for an additional 100 on the second floor balcony overlooking the dining room. Kitchens will be large enough to accomodate anything from a picnic lunch to a full-scale banquet.

The clubhouse lighting will be dramatically controlled by rheostat and will be supplied by imported Finnish chandeliers hanging from the balconies. Approximately $100,000 will be required to furnish the huge building.

According to Leonard Lowe, Executive Director, the opening of the clubhouse next spring should greatly augment the Tiotie Beach Yacht and Country Club's membership that already is the neighborhood of 1,000.

Highway Philosophy

By TROOPER BILL

There's less likely to be mourning on Christmas morning if every one drives sober the night before.

The safest speed on any road is the one that fits existing conditions.

No one could care less about his own safety than the fellow who handles his automobile in a careless fashion.

Old fashioned is the pedestrian whose actions fail to result into at least half dozen quick jumps a day as he goes foolishly about his way.

Look before you leap, my friend? The leap could be toward your end!

THE AMERICAN BITTERN

By The Bird Woman

There is scarcely another specie that differs as much in size as the American Bittern, it ranges in size from two feet eight inches, to four feet two inches, and as it differs so much in size, it is often mistaken for various other species, but in flight it folds it's neck back to it's shoulders like the heron.

It is quite a stocky bird and has a streaked body and black wing tips which are quite evident when it flies. There is also a smaller bittern known as the least bittern, which is much more colorful.

The American bittern is known as a bird of the dogs and the marshland, and is often taken by hunters, owing to it's slow easy flight, although it is not on the game list.

This harmless looking bird when wounded, becomes at once a dangerous assailent, and it will squat on the ground with every feather elevated ready for the attack, and woe betide the enemy, who comes in contact with the long sharp bill, for it makes its attack directly at the face of the enemy.

We would like to discuss briefly the difference between the game bird, and the non-game bird; We know that when our country was young that animals and birds were very numerous and whenever a hunter went out to procure meat, the ones at hand were the first taken, except only when some special meat was wanted did he pass up the ones easy to get.

Wild meat was necessary for the early settlers until they had time to get domestic flocks and herds started, and naturally the more meat an animal or bird supplied, the more desireable it was to the settler who also had to clear his land and till his soil and build his buildings, so the deer and turkey soon began to grow scarce, then the smaller birds and animals came in for their share of slaughter.

Strings of Robins and Meadowlark were not uncommon sights in the public markets, and dressed venison hung side by side with domestic meats, one winter when as a girl we spent some time in the Ozarks we saw the venison hanging in the public markets.

With the rapid growing population and no check on hunting, soon a great many birds were being decimated and a number were becoming extinct, among these was the Eskimo Curlew, Labrador Duck, and the great Auk as well as the smaller Passanger Pigeon, the Heath Hen, and our own Parakeets.

Swans and Cranes were also hunted and even song birds, with all of this slaughter and the clearing of the lands for farming and home building, which naturally exposed the game to more danger, and it soon became evident to a few wise people that some steps must be taken to protect our birds and other game.

And that some decision must be made between game birds and non-game, and even then nesting seasons must be recognized and also time for the rearing the young, and that bag limits must be designated and strictly adhered to, if we were to have wild game to hunt, and to keep the proper balance of nature.

So it was decided that to be a game bird, it must serve it's best function as game. It should not be a greater destroyer of insects, nor should it be of greater asthetic value.

Another important consideration was, that it should be prolific, so that specie could with stand the added strain of being hunted. Some birds like the swan that does not nest until they are two or three years old, or the shore birds that lay only three or four eggs, or the crane that lays only two eggs, cannot be considered game birds or they would soon be extinct.

Most hunters say they hunt for the sport of hunting, so usually the trustful tame species like the shore birds that fly in a compact flock and make it possible for one discharge of a gun to kill a large number will never be considered game birds.

During the hunting season we will always have hunters who will kill non-game birds and animals and even kill them out of season, but the level headed thoughful hunters know, that the restrictions are for their benefit as well as for other hunters, and they will obey the game laws as well as the other laws.

I hope I have clarified the game situation and not made it more confusing, natually every one who loves birds and animals would be very happy if birds and animals were not hunted at all, but those who have made close study of the question must admit that a limited amount of hunting helps to keep the balance of nature, and makes it possible for the food supply to be adequate.

We believe we were writing about the American Bittern, although it is not too plentiful in this area, it can often be seen standing on a post or shrub near a body of water, one prominent field mark it it's posture, it will stand with it's long bill pointing skyward and the streaks on the breast help to camouflage it as a discolored limb or old root.

The wonderful Creator has given it this means of hiding, and it depends on it so implicitly, that, if it is on the ground it will almost be trodden on before it will move.

The bittern nests mostly in the marshes and builds over the water, attaching it's nest to reeds or cattails, it lays from four to six eggs which are olive brown to blend with the surroundings.

The Least Bittern is so small that Audubon found that it could pass readily between two books set one inch apart, this enables it to get into small crevices between reeds to find it's food, which comprises small fish, frogs, insects and tad poles.

First Methodist Church News

The members of Circle 4 held their annual Christmas banquet and party at Wesley Hall on Tuesday night, December 10.

The table was decorated with red candles and holly on the white cloth. After a delicious chicken and dressing dinner a program was given. Mrs. I. H. Ford told a Christmas story. Eve Campbell, Peggy Bussard and Salie Harrison sang several Christmas songs. The Rev. Willmer Luttrell gave the blessing and devotional message.

After the program the members revealed the names of their Sunshine Sisters and drew new ones for the coming year. This is a clever custom of Circle 4 which they follow annually. In a secret drawing each Christmas each member receives the name, birth date, anniversary, etc. of another member. During the year she is the Sunshine sister to this named member and remembers her birthday, etc. and is a literal "good fairy" all without revealing her identity. At the end of the year all is told. This custom affords a great deal of pleasure and suspense to Circle Four. The twenty-five present finished the evening with the singing of Christmas carols.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. John Cuttenden, Mrs. David McDaniel, Mrs. Ruby Johns and Mrs. Colin DeShong. Serving the tables were Martha O'Steen, Linda Griffin, Faye Watford, and Alice Hollingsworth.

FLORIDA ROSE GARDEN BECOMES ICELAND SCENE. Mrs. C. W. Meeker's beautiful rose garden located between Meeker's Hitching Post Restaurant and Meeker's Phillips 66 Service Station on Highway 27 North was a picture of ice and beauty Thursday morning with icicles better than twenty inches long. Visitors stopped all day Thursday to take pictures of the beautiful scene, but all admitted that they hoped they had seen the last of icicles in Florida. Will the rose bushes live, we hope so for Mrs. Meeker's garden was a sight to behold when the roses were in bloom.

There are several good reasons why the Christian who believes the Bible (it seems some "Christians" do not believe the Bible is God's word) should not observe Christmas as a religous "festival". One good reason is enough for the true disciple of Christ so we will not try to give every possible reason but merely a principle or two to help those that had never thought about it".

One of the fundamental concepts concerning the worship of God and the need of revelation from God is the fact that in worshipping the God of Heaven men are not supposed to be pleasing themselves but pleasing God. Man could never know what worship would be pleasing or acceptable to Jehovah unless He reveals it. This has been true throughout the history of man. Some think Cain and Able worshiped God by guess but this is not true. The Bible indicates God revealed his will to them even then. Paul writes (Heb. 11:4) "By faith Able offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain". The same writer indicates how men receive faith in Rom. 10:17 when he writes, "faith cometh by hearing and hearing by the word of God." So if by God's word that Abel offered his sacrifice.

In the N. T. Jesus tells us we are to worship God in spirit and in truth (Jno. 4:24). But what is truth? Jesus answers (Jno. 17:17) that the words of God are truth: Thus when we worship God in truth we must worship him according to his words. Paul tells us (2Tim.3:16 17) that the scriptures are complete and that the man of God is throughly furnished unto every good work by them. He futher tells us (Col. 3:17), "whatsoever ye do in word and deed, (religously DIR) do all in the name (or by the authority Dir) of the Lord Jesus."

Regardless of how wonderful and noble the concept of Christmas is we can form no other conclusion than that it is unauthorized by Jehovah and is thus after the doctrines and precepts of men rather than those of God. If the Father would have desired the observance of the Son's birth into the world he would have revealed it period God reveal that there was something more important than the birth of Christ to men : that was the death of Christ for the sins of the world. God would rather men remembered the Lord's death and so He instituded an ordinance for that purpose. The ordinance is the Lord's Supper (1 Cor. 11:23) and its purpose is to proclaim the Lord's death till he come again. The disciples of the first century observed this ordinance on the first day of the week (Acts 20:7).

Remember this: Paul condemns the unauthorized observance of days (Gal. 4:10-11 and

Following is a copy of the letter written by Albert L. Rogero to Hon. Wilbur E. Jones, Chairman of the State Road Board, in which Mr. Rogero expresses his wishes regarding these improvements.

STATE ROAD DEPARTMENT OF FLORIDA, Tallahassee
P. O. Box 567
Clearwater, Florida
December 9, 1957

Hon. Wilbur E. Jones, Chairman
State Road Board
State Road Department
Tallahassee, Florida

Dear Wilbur:

On Monday, November 25th, I went to Sebring, Florida, Highlands County, and reviewed with the City Officials of Sebring, Avon Park and Lake Placid the County Commissioner's request for Secondary road improvements in those communities. Before reviewing these requests with the City and County Officials at the Court, November 25th, I had personally reviewed them on site and after doing so I believe that every request that these officials have made are in order and legal and in my mind there is no question that it could be fully defended in case our present expenditure secondary funds were questioned.

Therefore, it is my wish that each of these requests, as outlined in separate letters, be granted and thoroughly reviewed by Mr. Stanton and if there is any question on any one of them that he be instructed to call me as I am most willing to place my name on any order requesting this work to go forward. Thers people have been most patient and cooperative in an effort to obtain these Secondary road improvements. Therefore, please let me have a letter authorizing my District Engineer to proceed with these projects at the earliest possible moment.

Thanking you" for your attention to this mater and with best personal regards, I remain
Sincerely,
Albert L. Rogero

Deadline Dates For State Fair Entries

Showing of the two groups again will be divided, as it was this year, during the eleven days of the 1958 Fair which will run from February 4 through 15.

First to be shown will be Dairy cattle, confined to Ayrshire, Guernsey, Holstein and Jersey breeds, from Feb. 4 through Feb. 8. Prize money totaling $10,916 is offered by the Florida State Fair association. Special awards include $250 from the Ayrshire Breeders association. Open to all breeds in the 10-year-old cow class is a $272 award from the Florida Feed Dealers association.

"We expect the 1958 Dairy Cattle Show to be the largest in the Fair's 53-year history," said Mr. Huskisson, "and for judging we have chosen an outstanding authority in this field, C. Hilton Boynton of Durham, New Hampshire."

Showing of Beef cattle will run during the Fair's second week, Feb. 10 through 15. Judges will be Professor Robert A. Long from the University of Georgia, at Athens, and Donald L. Wakeman of the University of Florida, at Gainesville.

Five beef cattle breeds — Aberdeen-Angus, Braham, Hereford, Santa Gertrudis and Shorthorn — will be entered in the 1958 competitions. Two additional breeds, Charolaise and Brangus, are being entered for exhibition purposes only.

Competitive exhibitors in the Beef cattle show will vie for a grand total of $13,663 in cash awards, of which $11,000 is being offered by the Fair and $2,663 by breeders associations.

All preliminary arrangements for the Beef and Dairy cattle shows at the 1958 Fair, including processing of entries, again is being handled by M. E. Twedell, assistant manager of the Fair, with Elton Hinton again serving as Dairy and Beef superintendent.

Senator Spessard Holland

ON THE MARCH - Throughout my travels the rapid growth and development of Florida was evident. Home and business building is flourishing. New churches, schools, hospitals, libraries, public utilities and other structures necessary to full community life are being built as rapidly as possible; many miles of fine new highways have been built, are in course of construction, or are in the planning stage.
Most noticeable is the tremendous industrial development that is taking place. Industrial plants, large and small, are springing up rapidly. It was my pleasure to inspect a few of them, including the great Pratt-Whitney plant being built near West Palm Beach, the Glenn Martin plant near Orlando which was dedicated December 4; the American Cyanimid Co. plant still a-building, Escambia Chemical Corporation and Columbia National Corporation plants, all three near Milton, in Santa Rosa County. The last named is already producing from ore mined in Florida, Zirconium, a metal important in the atomic energy field. These new Santa Rosa County industries, added to the already large industrial concentration in neighboring Escambia County, are completely changing the economy of an area in Florida which heretofore has primarily been agricultural.
MORE IMPORTANT GROWTH - While Florida's material growth is a source of satisfaction to us all, more gratifying is the equally rapid progress our people are making in these things which, basically are more important to good living. Everywhere I found Floridians bending every effort to insure that the cultural, spiritual, health and educational values in their communities keep pace with the great expansion in population and material growth. This is the proper course if we are to maintain our appeal for good people from other parts of the country. Florida's future is truly bright and it is the responsibility of each of us to help keep it that way.
DATES AND PLACES - In a previous report I stated my itinerary through November 2. From that date to December 2 the schedule was completed as follows: Nov. 4--Orlando: Jaycee Luncheon; Orlando Book Fair, Parade of Homes; Nov. 5--Tampa: Rotary, Chamber of Commerce Congressional Action Committee; Nov. 6--Conferences in Bartow office; Nov. 7--Bartow: Annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet & Installation Night; Nov. 8--Mandarin: Community Club; Nov. 9--Jacksonville: University of Florida Alumni Breakfast, Florida-Georgia Game; Nov. 10--Jacksonville: Conference with Waterways group, Farm Bureau Federation Convention, JayCee TV Panel program; Nov. 11--Panama City: Veterans Day celebration, Visit to new Panama City Junior College; Nov. 12--Pensacola: Rotary, Chamber of Commerce Congressional Action Committee, Escambia County Chapter, U of F Alumni Association; Nov. 13--Milton: Kiwanis. Visit to new Santa Rosa County Industrial plants; Nov. 14-15--Atlanta: Meeting Board of Trustees Emory University, inauguration of new President of Emory; Nov. 16--Hunting turkeys with friends near Jacksonville (the Turkeys saw me first); Nov. 18--Daytona Beach: Florida League of Municipalities; Nov. 19--St. Petersburg: State Chamber of Commerce, Panel Program, Gulf Beaches Rotary; Lake Wales: Reception and Dinner for visiting German Food Purity team; Nov. 20-- Conferences in Bartow office; Nov. 21--Haines City: Chamber of Commerce annual banquet; Nov. 22-Orlando: Kiwanis, inspection of new Glenn Martin plant; Nov. 23--Tampa: Florida Citizenship Clearing House at University of Tampa; Nov. 24--Stuart; Dedication of new Martin County Library; Nov. 25--Bartow: Office conferences. Nov. 26--Lakeland: Florida Southern College Convocation; Evening at Plant City: Kiwanis, Farmers Night banquet; Nov. 27--Tampa: Kiwanis, Tampa Tobacco Table annual banquet; Nov. 28--Thanksgiving at home in Bartow; Nov. 29--Miami: Dedication of new Southern Branch of the Florida Baptist Children's Home at Kendall; "Cracker Politics" Awards Program, meeting with Chamber of Commerce Congressional Action Committee and with maritime interests; Nov. 30--Miami: U of F Alumni Breakfast & Executive Council meeting, Dade County Young Democrats Barbecue, Florida-Miami Game.
MERRY CHRISTMAS - Mary and I and my staff all wish for you and yours a Merry Christmas and a full measure of health, happiness and prosperity throughout 1958.

Tips for Safe Holiday Trips

By Jeanne Smith,
Dodge Safety Consultant

PLANNING a holiday trip to visit the family or friends? Don't spoil the reunion with an accident on the highway. Safety experts point out that there are more hazards to threaten a safe journey at this season than at any other time of the year.
Inclement weather and more hours of darkness make visibility poor and highways treacherous. And the holiday spirit often causes drivers to be less alert than usual.

Miss Smith

For a safe and pleasant trip, follow these suggestions from the National Safety Council:
1. Plan your trip so that as much of the driving as possible will be accomplished during the daylight hours.
2. Postpone your trip if the weather is bad or if hail, snow or sleet are predicted for the area in which you plan to drive. Consult the weather bureau for a forecast if you're in doubt.
3. Drive slowly and cautiously. Wet, slippery roads increase emergency stopping distances.
4. Assume that there are icy or wet patches on seemingly dry pavement — especially around curves, beyond hillcrests, on bridges and in shaded spots—and drive accordingly.
5. Be certain your car is in top mechanical condition before attempting any sort of trip. Check windshield wipers, defrosters, headlights, tail lights, brakes and tires. Use reinforced tire chains when the road is covered with snow or ice.
6. If you drink, don't drive.

Florida's tax situation is in the same boat as the miler that breaks the world's record, but still loses the race.

Although the sales tax—the bread and butter tax of state government—is soaring to new records, it is still lagging behind the predicted amounts.

This may call for some sharp reductions in state spending.

State officials haven't pushed the panic button as yet, but they are keeping a sharp eye on the sales tax collections. After the December reurns are in, some careful study of the sales tax structure is in line.

The problem boils down to this:

To meet the appropriations, the sales tax has to bring in about 52 per cent more than it did before the new sales tax went into effect.

So far, the increase has only been 39 per cent.

In other words, in the first five months, the sales tax is lagging some 13 per cent behind the expected amounts. It will take a big upswing to bring the percentages up.

Some folks tend to pass it off by saying, "Oh well, Christmas sales will bring it up," but they forget that in dealing with percentages, you would have to have a tremendous increase to make up the 13 percent from previous months.

From a money point of view, it means that the state must collect an average of $14,300,000 in each of the seven remaining months from the sales tax to stay on sound ground.

Otherwise, the State Budge Commission must begin cutting services or delaying buildings.

Sales tax collections in November were a record-breaking $11,111,315, but despite the record this was about $900,000 below predicted amounts.

At the same time, the sales tax take in the first five months of the fiscal year was just over $50,000,000—about $4,750,000 shy of predictions.

Comptroller Ray E. Green, who warned against too enthusiastic predictions on the sales tax income during talk on new taxes, says the big factor in the slump so far is in the building trades. This source produces roughly about 28 per cent of the revenuts.

Home construction is definitely off, and this in turn affects taxes in many ways. Construction workers don't have as much money to spend on taxable items, less taxable material is purchased, and allied sales for such things as appliances slack off.

Another significant trend is that the building industry shifts more to public works projects, on which the building materials are tax exempt in many cases.

Green pointed out that the problem is not local. Other states, including New York, are experiencing similar difficulty. They too are also keeping a sharp eye on the sales tax returns—plus keeping the budget cutting ax sharpe.

Harvey, the capitol cat that writes with his tail, took the day off and tagged along on a tour of the St. Regis Paper Company's seedling nursery and huge paper mill in Jacksonville. He has this to say:

The Cat's Meow
By Harvey

On my trip to Jacksonville, I met a fellow from Fitzgerald, Ga., who says they solved the probem of friction between Georgia Crakers and Yankees.

It seems Fitzgerald was formed back after the Civil War or War Between the States—take your pick—by some Yankees, who formed a colony. They put $10 in a pot and drew parcels of land.

After all these years, the Yankees have been absorbed by the Crackers, and they have a motto for the town that goes, "Fitzgerald, Ga., In Central South Georgia Where the Crackers and the Yankees Built is Wisely."

Some of the offsprings of the original settlers still live in Fitzgerald, and this fellow tells me, "Why, we don't even know the difference anymore."

Basketball Season To Open January 7

The Avon Park High School Devilettes wound up the third week of practice with the selection of fourteen girls for the A-string out of one of the largest groups of girls to turn out for basketball in some time.

Only one senior, Ann Rowland, returned to the varsity. Ann was high scorer last year, averaging around twenty-five points per game. Six juniors returned to the squad this year. Guelda Gaster, Frankie Thorp, Charlotte Albritton, Mary Lois Roberts, Pat Tondee and Betty Shepard. These girls all lettered last year and form the nucleus of the 57-58 Devilette Team. They will be bolstered with some new talent—sophomores Margie Reynolds, Miriam Francisco and Clytee Coleman; and freshmen Freda Bennet, Cecelia Weinzirl, Hattie Leighton and Tura Ann DeLaney.

The girls have been working very hard in practice and they hope to better their last year's record of eight losses and two wins. They look good in practice and from all reports will be able to wipe last years record out of the way with some fine playing.

Sally Sayers is the girls manager and Sallie Harrison is scorekeeper. All girls home games on Tuesday nights will be at 7:00 p. m. and Friday night games will be at 7:30 p. m. Boy's games will follow.

Girl Scout News

Thirty-five Girl Scouts enjoyed a Christmas supper and party at the Florida Power Club house on Thursday, Dec. 19, after their regular meeting.

During the meeting the girls wrapped the gifts that they had made for their parents. Sonia Lawrence received her pin and became a member of the Girl Scouts. The Scouts then practiced singing Christmas carols as they plan to go carolling on Christmas eve. They will meet on the corner by the Methodist Church at 7 o'clock and plan to sing at different places until 8:30.

The Scouts membership cards will be given out at the next meeting on Thursday, Jan. 9. Miss Sally Nute and Miss Connie Booth, of Avon Park High School, are now assisting the Scout leaders, Mrs. Bob Lee and Mrs. N. H. Booth. Mrs. Garland Kelly visited the girls at their meeting on Thursday.

The troop committee had prepared the girls a lovely Christmas party at the Clubhouse with a delicious hamburger supper. The Scouts had a Christmas tree, exchanged gifts, and played games. Mrs. Floyd Wells, Mrs. Arlin King, Mrs. Mannin Kirkland, and Mrs. Robert Barben took charge of the party and all the mothers helped.

Bridge Club Has Christmas Dinner Party

Members of the Supper Bridge Club enjoyed a Progressive Dinner and Christmas Party Monday night, December 16, with Dr. and Mrs. S. N. Reeves of Wauchula, former members of the Club, as special guests.

Members met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Betts for the first course and from there went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Keller. Serving as hostesses with Mrs. Keller were Mrs. Doug Perry, Mrs. J. Paul Garber and Mrs. Bee Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Worden were hosts to the Club for dessert and coffee, after which an exchange of gifts was held. All enjoyed the beautiful Christmas tree and decorations. Prize for the evening was won by Dr. Reeves.

October Sales Tax Shows Big Increase

November sales tax collections, based on October sales, totalled $11,111,315, an increase of $3,408,120, 44.2 per cent, over the $7,703,494 collected for the same month last year, and an increase of $935,262, 9.2 per cent, over the $10,175,253 collected the previous month this year. This is the highest monthly collection in the history of the sales tax in Florida.

Total sales tax collections for the five months this fiscal year (four months under the expanded tax) amounts to $50,194,592, an increase of $14,047,380, 38.9 per cent, over the $36,147,212 collected last fiscal year at this same time under the "Old" tax.

Although this month's collections fall below expectations (the percentage increase this November over last November of 44.2 per cent is slightly under the increase this October over last October of 46.9 per cent) the overall increase for the five months this year over last year of 38.9 per cent is a gain of 1.5 per cent over the first four months last year.) The big collection months are still to come and it is too early to make any accurate prediction about the adequacy or inadequacy of sales tax returns. The January collections, which will reflect Christmas season sales and the beginning of the winter tourist season, will give us a better picture of our financial position.

Gasoline tax collections during November, also based on October sales, amounted to $8,339,250, an increase of $752,637, 9.92 per cent, over the $7,586,613 collected during the same month last year, and an increase of $848,313, 11.32 per cent, over the $7,490,937 collected the previous month this year.

Total gasoline tax collections to date this fiscal year amount to $41,295,280, an increase of $3,479,887, 9.17 per cent, over the $37,824,393 collected to date last fiscal year.

Rotary News

Attorney Ernie Breed of Sebring explained the duties, responsibility and qualifications of a juror to members of the Rotary Club during the luncheon meeting Wednesday, December 18, at the Jacaranda Hotel. He stated that anyone selected for jury duty and serving as a juror should not prejudge the case before all facts are put before them. He explained how the attorneys questioned the jurors while they were being selected and why. He briefly outlined the courtroom procedure one might encounted when called as a juror.

Visiting Rotarians last week were Louis H. Nebel, Sturgeon Bay, Wis.; Harold Runyan, Cattlettsburg, Ky.; Dr. John Cox, Chattahoochee; A. M. Rose, Marion, S. C.; Bob Gay, Arcadia; Nat Porter, Fort Myers; E. F. Armstrong, Hicksville, Ohio; Richard Dutton, Sebring; Dick Dressel, Miami and Alex Robinson, Orlando.

Mrs. Anna Belle Worden was the guest of Doug Perry last week and Nimrod Frazier, Montgomery, Ala. was the guest or Lorant Foriz; Ralph Davis of Frostproof was the guest of Donn Duncan.

C. R. Ginn, on behalf of the Club, presented a Christmas gift to Miss Marcia Bilbee in appreciation of her serving as pianist to the Club for the past year.

Hunting Allowed Every Day From Dec. 25—Jan. 2

Tallahassee—Holiday hunting will be allowed every day December 25 through January 2 in all districts of Florida, according to A. D. Aldrich, director, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

Hunters will have their choice of 13 major game species during the holiday period. Deer, turkey, bear, panther, quail, squirrel, rabbit, duck, geese, snipe, coot, woodcock and dove will all be legal game except in certain areas where special restrictions on deer and turkey prevail. Dove hunting closes December 29.

Deer may be hunted in all counties, except Washington, Holmes, Hardee, Manatee, Sarasota, Pinellas, DeSoto, Alachua, Bradford, Union, Gilchrist and Clay counties, and portions of Escambia, Santa Rosa, Polk, Hillsborough, Baker, Nassau, Columbia and Suwannee counties. Monroe County closed to Key Deer.

Turkey may be hunted in all counties except Hardee, Pinellas, Manatee, Sarasota, DeSoto, Alachua, Bradford, Clay and Union counties, and portions of Hernando, Polk, Hillsborough, Baker, Nassau, Columbia and Suwannee counties.

After January 2, hunting seasons, for all other than deer, panther and bear, revert to pre-holiday schedule, with hunting of resident game animals allowed on Saturdays, Sundays, Wednesdays and Thursdays in the Second and Fifth Districts, and every day in the remaining three Districts. Deer, bear and panther hunting closes statewide one-half hour after sunset January 2.

Hunting of migratory game birds—ducks, geese, snipe, coot, woodcock and dove is allowed every day throughout the state, with dove hunting closing at sunset December 29.

Aldrich made a special plea to all hunters to obey the game laws and observe the rules of hunting and field safety.

the Shining Hour

The street is still.

Lights and music, bells and horns and voices have disappeared into the hush of snow that lays its gentle mantle on our hurried footprints.

Beyond, where the air shimmers to the glow of stars, new bells begin their lovely and triumphant chime.

Now, as on this night for nearly two thousand years, the shining hour casts its hope and blessing on the earth once more, and Christmas comes.

May the joy of this season live in our hearts all the days of the coming year, and its spirit guide us toward peace among all men.
