Red Devils Win Overtime Game From Sebring 51-47

The Avon Park Red Devils started the 1957 basketball season in fine fashion by downing the Sebring Blue Streaks in the Sebring Gymn last Friday night. The game was a real thriller with both teams battling on even terms for the regular time period. The Devils didn't cinch the game until the overtime period when they went ahead to win 51 to 47. The leading scorer for the Devils was Dale Landress. He dropped in 9 field goals and two free throws for a total of 20 points. Other scorers were Rouse and Charlie Anderson with 8 points each, Ben Earnest with 7, Billy Shepard 5 and Nelson with 3.

This was the first Ridge Conference game of the season for the Devils but they won the Christmas Invitational Tournament in Wauchula in December.

The opening game found Sebring victorious as the Sebring Lassies outscored the Devilettes 41 to 35. They played a good ball game and kept it close until the final three minutes of the game when they were unable to close the gap. Scoring honors in the girls game went to Ann Rowland with 28 points. Behind her was Esther Kuhn with 7 points, Guelda Gaster with 2 and Frankie Thorpe with 1.

Tonight, January 11, the Devils travel to Bartow for a conference game with the Packets. The following Friday, January 18, the Devils are at home playing host to Meade Miners. A "B" game will be played at 5:30 and Devilettes will play the Minerettes at 7:30 in the boys game following.

Samuel Garrison Appointed Director Of Public Relations And Advertising Of The Sottile Banking Division

J. SAMUEL GARRISON

One of Florida's largest financial organizations, the Sottile Banking Division, announced today the appointment of J. Samuel Garrison as Director of Public Relations and Advertising for the Sottile Banking Division. The announcement was made by Mr. George S. Walker, Administrative Director for the Sottile Banks. Mr. Walker said, "We are very happy to have Mr. Garrison associated with us. He brings with him to the Sottile Banking Division the background of Public Relations and Advertising that we feel will work to the best advantage to both the Sottile Banks and the communities which they serve."

The Sottile Banking Division represents seven banks in the Florida area, including Pan American Bank, Miami; The Coral Gables First National Bank; American National Bank in Fort Lauderdale; South Dade Farmers Bank in Homestead; Bank of Palmetto in Manatee County; Boynton Beach State Bank in Palm Beach County and Avon Citrus Bank in Avon Park.

Mr. Garrison comes to the Sottile organization from the Central Bank and Trust Company of Miami, where he was the Director of Public Relations and Advertising for the past year. Prior to that, Mr. Garrison had his own advertising and Public Relations Agency for a number of years in the Greater Miami area. He has been associated with radio as sales and commercial manager for four years and his been in the general field of advertising with major national agencies in both New York and Philadelphia. He is a member of the American Institute of Banking, the Advertising Club of Greater Miami, and the Navy League, the Poor Richard Club, America's oldest advertising club — and a number of civic, fraternal and service organizations.

Mr. Walker pointed out further that the appointment of Mr. Garrison was another progressive step on the part of the Sottile Banking Division to make each of the banks an integral part of their communities and to help serve these communities better. This is best expressed by the philosophy of Mr. James Sottile, Jr., head of Sottile Banking Division—OUR AIM—To Combine Men, Money and Materials for a Better Community.

Florida Power Corp. To Spend $33,587,[illegible] In '57

The biggest one-year construction budget in the history of Florida Power Corporation — $33,587,700 — has been drafted for 1957, according to G. F. Woodham, District Manager here for the utility.

This huge amount will go into power plants, substations, transmission and distribution lines and other facilities to serve customers in FPC's 31-county area.

The 1957 budget will bring to $228 million the construction investment made by the company since 1945, to keep ahead of the increased power demands in this fast-growing area by all classes of customers — residential, industrial, commercial and rural.

"1957 promises to be Florida's most outstanding year to date in every phase of activity," Woodham said. "More people are moving here permanently, more tourists are spending winter and summer vacations here, we are attracting additional desirable industries, and in general, nearing our goal of a well-balanced, year-round economy. As an example of our own company growth, this year we have added 18,000 new customers which is equivalent to a city of about 40,000 population or

Lions Club Starts Drive For [illegible] Of Toys

Anyone having old [illegible] bicycles, tricycles, wagons, [illegible] en dolls, etc. that they would like to donate to the Lions Club to be used in the Christmas Toy Fund of 1957 please call either Earl Futch, [illegible] or C. A. Stinson, 3-6881, and they will come pick the toys up for you. Toys may also be left to Stinson's Gulf Service Station on West Main.

Each year the Lions Club sponsors the Christmas Toy Fund and the members repair and paint used toys they can get donated, and also purchase a number of new toys. This year they bought 107 new toys to be used in the basket—and repaired a number of old ones plus three bicycles. The Lions Club also gave a braille wrist watch to Miss Evelyn Jones at Christmas time.

Now that the rush of the holidays is over look around and see if there isn't a number of toys your child has broken that you have put away to fix but never found the time. Your child will be happy to know that the Lions Club can fix it like new and some child will be mighty happy on Christmas next Christmas. DON'T WAIT. PLEASE DO IT NOW, that way the members will have all summer to work on them.

The Lions Club wishes to express their appreciation to the citizens of Avon Park for the wonderful response that was given to the Toy Fund and the Christmas Seal Sale. In the past Christmas, many needy families were made very happy by the thoughtfulness of the

Model Homes Overlooking Rex Beach Lake Now Available

You can be one of the six lucky buyers if you act fast. B. D. Rubels, president of the East Coast Realty Construction, Corp. has announced for sale six of the 9 luxury model homes at drastic price reductions.

These beautiful modern homes are located on Highland Hammock Road, overlooking Rex Beach Lake. Each home is large and distinctive, while retaining the charm and compactness of the ideal easy to care for home.

Each home contains the latest in modern living, such as built in range and oven; ceramic tile bathroom walls; imported marble chip terrazzo flooring; glass jalousies; formica topped cabinets and vanities; stainless steel sinks; kitchen exhaust fans; extra large wall space heaters and all built on beautifully landscaped and sodded lots, 100x200.

These luxury homes were built for models in what was to be a completely planned city but the present mortgage market has forced the developers to cease further construction and to sell the remaining six homes at 75% of the building cost.

Drive out and look them over and you will see that these homes have everything and they can be purchased by the average working family. Plans can be worked out so that payments are like rent, as low as $76 a month, and it is an ideal home in which to raise a family.

Let's Finish The Job

NOW—there is an opportunity for the people of Florida to push a job to the absolute finish.

The March of Dimes campaign has opened and is now being conducted in all the communities throughout the state.

Happily, this 1957 campaign opens on a note of triumph. For 1956 was a year of great achievement in the long fight against infantile paralysis. Tens of millions of American children were innoculated with Salk vaccine. The number of polio cases was sharply cut. By next summer millions more—adults as well as children—will be protected.

It's definitely been a victory—but it would be a hollow victory to fall short of a complete triumph. It would be tragic to deprive thousands of less fortunate Americans of hope.

Those that have been stricken with the dreaded paralytic polio still need assistance as can be offered only by The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

These programs of rehabilitation must continue—and they can only continue if we Americans are willing to pitch in and help by joining the March of Dimes now.

"The Ideas Of Communism Are Dead"

Only time can put events in their proper perspective. The news that makes black headlines today may be as dead as the Pharaohs tomorrow. But it seems as certain as anything can be that history will record that the most significant and far-reaching event of 1956, and perhaps of many years, was the revolt in Hungary.

This uprising was not successful in the ordinary sense of the word. Rifles and improvised grenades and fists, unfortunately, are no match for tanks and artillery. But in another, more fundamental sense, this act on the part of an oppressed people was almost incredibly successful.

It showed that courage, and the willingness to risk death and torture in the pursuit of freedom exist in undiminished vigor in this chaotic world.

It showed peoples everywhere, once and for all, the cruel true face of communism. This is enormously important. Reports from country after country state that membership in communist parties has abruptly declined, and that the circulations of communist and communist-sympathizing organs are shrinking. Well-known writers and other molders of opinion, who out of a mistaken and stubborn idealism once supported or tolerated communism, have openly proclaimed their defection from the party and from the Kremlin. The ruthless acts of the Soviet government and the Red Army have excited almost universal horror.

It showed, above all, that communism contains the seeds of its own destruction, and that its very structure is crumbling. A view that is held by all manner of experts, was thus expressed by Kurt S. Lachmann, a journalist of long experience in Eastern Europe, in U. S. News & World Report: "What we are witnessing now is the gradual decomposition of the entire communist sysem . . . the ideas of communism are dead. What remains is the lumbering, armored body of Soviet military might."

This does not mean that there can be any relaxation in the Western world—its governments and forces must be more wary and alert than ever. To quote Mr. Lachmann again, "Dictators . . . are being cornered. It is well to remember that cornered animals often are dangerous." Desperate fanatics are capable of the most desperately fanatical acts. There is always the possibility that, seeing their own world collapsing under the weight of its sins and excesses, they will attempt to bring all the rest of the world down too.

This is speculation. But there is nothing speculative about the fundamental lesson that has come to us out of Hungary—a lesson that is destined to be read to us again and again, as communism goes through its death agonies, however long that may take.

Super-government, all-powerful government, monolithic government, socialism, communism—whatever name you want to use—is the implacable enemy of human freedom. It reduces the individual to the stature of a cipher. It makes a mockery of every concept of human dignity, human rights, the preciousness of human life.

Communism is simply the end of the line for that kind of government. Socialism is a way station. So are all other systems of government that attempt to do for the people what the people can and should do for themselves.

The thousands of Hungarian refugees who have been airlifted to this country know what slavery is, and how it is brought about in the modern world. They, along with the legions of their compatriots who fell victim to Soviet ruthlessness and savagery, placed the ultimate value on freedom. They risked all to gain it. They have set an example of courage and resolution that every American should understand and admire.

Moreover, the Hungarian blood-bath—and all the other ugly fruits of communism we see—should make every American resolve to keep the freedom we have, and to forever defend and support a system of government that is based on a high concept of the worth of the individual, and on the principle that the government is best which governs least.

Hungary Has Shown The World

The people of Hungary have suffered the misery of a bloody rebellion, but this sacrifice has not been in vain.

Hungary has shown the world the heartlessness of Russian communism, and will perhaps go down in history as the nation that struck the death blow at government by terror and oppression.

Gasparilla Pirates Will Invade And Capture Tampa

Tampa — It's pirate time in Tampa Feb 4-9, 1957 as thousands join the buccaneer revels of Tampa's annual Gasparilla Pirate Festival.

Florida's greatest single-day crowd will converge on Tampa Monday, Feb. 4, to witness the all-day extravaganze of a full-scale pirate invasion, followed by the triumphal parade of the Gasparilla Krewe—together a spectacle unique in Amerdican pageantry.

Ye Mystic Krewe of Gasparilla, about 350 Tampa businessmen turned pirate for a week, will make their conquest aboard the only full-rigged pirate ship in the world, the Jose Gasparilla.

With its 100 foot masts and colorful rigging swarming with jack-booted rogues, the huge pirate flagship will lead an armada of literally hundreds of smaller pleasure craft into Tampa harbor amid the echoes of booming broadsides and the crackle of pirate sidearms.

Before long, the defenses of the city will crumble and Tampa will surrender to the invaders. The skull-and-bones flag of piracy will be hoisted over Tampa City Hall.

As the Krewe makes successful its landing, the Parade of Triumph will begin! Sixty mammouth floats and thirty marching bands selected from schools, universities and the armed forces are climaxed by the re-appearance of the victorious pirates on an even dozen of their own piratical floats. Four hours long, the entire procession winds through Tampa to the grounds of the Florida State Fair which is already in progress.

A full week of hi-jenks follows. Feb. 6 will be the big day for the kids. Thousands of elementary school children from the area will turn out to stage their own pirate parade. Miniature replicas of the adult pirates' floats bantam pirates, even a junior Gasparilla Pirate King and Queen mimic the adult pirates.

A regal coronation ball Feb. 5 will see a new Pirate King crowned amid pomp and ceremonies rivalling monarchs of the world in Florida's Winter season social highlight.

Into Tampa's Latin sector of Ybor City move the pirates on Feb. 7 for Pirate Fiesta Night. A torchlight parade climaxes a full day of costume contests, street dancing and free Spanish bean soup.

And Tampa's Gasparilla Pirate Festival will end Feb. 9 amid a blaze of color. As the Krewe sails their pirate corsair into the night, a gala display of fireworks can be seen for miles over Tampa Bay.

Tampa's honor is unique. It is the only city in the world which is certain to be invaded and captured by pirates each February.

This is about the time the June bride begins to suspect her husband isn't making the money she thought he was making.

This sweet, smooth and sassy new Chevy has its own built-in "dollar-saver"—America's favorite six!

Hard to believe it, but this big beauty is a bottom-priced Chevrolet "One-Fifty." It's got Body by Fisher quality written all over it. And it has a peppery, sweet-running "Blue-Flame" six under the hood to make your gas stops few and far between.

Like all new Chevies, it brings you a very special sureness of control. This is a quality that just can't be measured in dollars and cents. Lots of cars that cost lots more just don't have it. Come in and see how much pleasure we're passing out these days at Chevrolet prices!

Mutual Export Official Attends National Export Council Meeting

Lakeland — Florida Citrus Mutual's export coordinator, Martin E. Hearn, will attend a meeting of the U.S. National Fruit Export Council, scheduled to open in San Francisco on Jan. 11, it was announced here by Mutual's general manager, Robert W. Rutledge.

Hearn is in Chicago at the present time, conferring with Mutual's market representative there, Howard Heisey, and other citrus handlers on matters expected to come up for discussion at the fruit council sessions.

High on the agenda is the effect of the crisis in the Near East on the European market and purchases of citrus and other fruits from the U.S., because of possible aggravation of the dollar scarcity.

"It is extremely important that the Florida grower be represented at this meeting," Rutledge emphasized. "Mutual has taken the lead in developing our export outlet for several years.

Don Rubel, director of the fruit and vegetable branch of the Agricultural Marketing Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, plans to attend the export council session. Mutual is a charter member of the council and took a leading part, together with California grape and tree fruit producers, in bringing the council into existence about two years ago.

Representatives will attend from agencies interested in apples and other delicious fruits, cherries, grapes, all dried fruits, citrus, cranberries, figs, strawberries and dates. Forty-four fruit producing states are involved.

Following the San Francisco session, which will last several days, Hearn will go to Los Angeles for conferences with officials of Sunkist Growers and Mutual Orange Distributors, the two principal California citrus organizations.

Name These Charming Caribbean Guides

NAPLES: Beauty, beauty everywhere. Adding additional charm to beautiful Caribbean Gardens with its colorfully planned birds, and exotic tropical plants and flowers, this famed attraction now provides beautiful girls who act as guides to those touring the gardens. They are (left to right): Jacquee Sloan, Judy Tabor, Maxine Hamilton, Janice Compo and Gail Prasil. They made their debut recently when Caribbean Gardens owner, Julius Fleischmann entertained at open house. Now the question is, what shall these guides be called? Charm Guides, Caribbean Queens. What do you suggest?

CRACKER POLITICS

BY ALLEN MORRIS

TALLAHASSEE — Its strong "board of directors" easily could makes the Florida Development Commission the brightest star in Governor LeRoy Collins' governmental crown when his six years in office can be fully evaluated a decade or so hence.

This board of directors, the nine members of the Development Commission, constitutes an unusual group, politically speaking. In the first place, there's not a professional politician among its members or operating chiefs.

As a matter of fact, there are those who believe the leavening of the Commission by inclusion of one "pro" or perhaps even a "semi-pro" might have softened some of the buffets received here and there as a result of this "let's-get-the-job - done - and - forget - the-red-tape" approach which usually works well in private business but not always in government.

The 1955 law establishing the Commission provided that a member be appointed from each of the state's eight Congressional districts, with the chairman named from the state at large.

That geographical spread makes it certain that all major segments of the state's economy—tourism, industry and agriculture—possess a vote-backed voice in the state's promotional program. With each of the present Commission members having served on boards, all have learned to express their opinions clearly and concisely and to accept majority decisions without rancor when they happen to be in the minority.

When the Development Commission and Council for Industry and Commerce, there were plenty of skeptics who said the program would never work out. One press cynic summed up his doubts this way:

"They'll never be able to find anybody smart enough to run an agency with all those responsibilities. Where can you find anybody who knows something about advertising and promotion, something about strengthening Florida's ties with foreign countries, something about aviation, something about attracting new industry, something about building hospitals, and so forth and so on?"

After 18 months, the answer is rather plain. The critic was correct in saying there was no such paragon as he described.

But the pooled knowledge of the nine members of the Commission, plus the operational abilities of Executive Director B. R. Fuller, Jr., have conquered one obstacle after another and converted what could have been a clumsy, disjointed bureaucratic monstrosity into an organization that grows more effective by the day.

True, there was a good deal of gear-grinding when the agency first began to operate. Some personnel mistakes were made. Some adjustments yet are to be completed. For a public agency, there has been an unusual willingness to confess error. In the beginning, it was difficult to delineate responsibility and authority among the Commission's three divisions — Advertising and Promotion, Improvement, and Industrial Services.

Director Fuller generally sits quietly as the nine men around the table discuss Commission problems. But he has shown a rare skill for absorbing knowledge the Commission members offer in their specialized fields. That brain-picking talent has enabled him to command the respect of his major subordinates, much in the way an Army or Navy officer obtains respect from his subordinates when he demonstrates some technical knowledge of a subject within their field.

In the Commission's important field of advertising and promotion, for example, there are two specialists who are fully qualified to ask expert questions — the questions that should be asked — when the state's advertising agencies bring in their wares. They are James R. Brumby, Vice President and General Manager of the Miami Daily News, and A. Clifton Johnson, Vice President of Pensacola's WEAR and WEAR-TV.

Of course, in the same general activity the Commission frequently listened attentively to the voice of its first Chairman, J. Saxton Lloyd of Daytona Beach. Lloyd's highly successful career as an automobile dealer more than qualified him to talk about what techniques will sell and what methods won't sell in proportion to their cost. Indeed, Lloyd's 385-horsepower exertions in the development program were regarded by his physician as a contributing cause to the general physical debilitation which finally forced his resignation. Lloyd had not been able to make the formal presentation of the Commission's money requests at the budget sessions here several weeks ago, and this was regarded then as an indication he would insist upon the Governor's acceptance of his retirement.

The issuance of revenue bonds is a complicated part of Florida government. But the Commission has several members who are intimately familiar with big-scale financing. And they are relied upon to see that the state and its local governmental units don't get gouged.

This group includes W. J. Clapp of St. Petersburg, President of the Florida Power Corporation; Wiley R. Reynolds, Jr., whose extensive spread of interests includes the presidency of the First National Bank of Palm Beach, and S. T. Dell, Jr., long-time City Attorney of Gainesville.

All three of the other Commissioners — Edward C. Roe of Jacksonville, President of Cummer Sons Cypress Company and a director of the Seaboard Air Line Railroad; Herman E. Turner of Bradenton, rancher and former road and bridge contractor, and Alex M. Collins of Ocala, citrus grower-cattleman —likewise are men of broad and successful business experience.

Clapp, incidentally, serves a dual purpose on the Commission. As Chairman of the Governor's Industrial Advisory Committee, he maintains liaison between that group and the Commission.

One of the reasons the Commission achieves so much is that, while its members sometimes disagree on policy matters, their disagreements are settled in a quiet, reasonable manner as becomes men of good will working in a common cause. There is no one of them inclined to filibuster out of pure contentiousness and thus prevent maximum utilization of meeting hours.

Summing up, the nine men around the table, who of course serve without pay, would do credit as a board of directors for any business concern. But they work especially hard when they're promoting their favorite enterprise — the State of Florida.

Church Of The Nazarene Show Big Increase

The Church of the Nazarene, an international Protestant denomination, recorded substantial gains in every area of its work during 1956, it was reported here this week.

The annual statistical report by Dr. S. T. Ludwig, Kansas City, Mo., General Church Secretary, showed that new churches and Sunday schools were established at the rate of two a week in 1956. The denomination had net gain of 109 churches for a year-end total of 4,435.

A net gain of 8,031 members, or a 2.8 percent increase, brought the denomination total to 287,866. The vast majority joined on profession of faith.

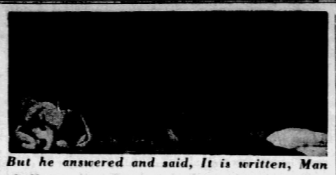
Perhaps most notable was the record of $129.94 in per capita giving in 1956. This was an increase of $4.35 over the previous high of $125.59 in 1955.

Denominational giving for all purposes also increased by $2,260,063 in 1956, or a denominational total of $37,404,741.

Sunday school enrollment reached an all-time high of 611,319.

All three principal societies —missionary, junior and young people — recorded gains in members and income.

The denomination stands for the spread and conservation of the Wesleyan doctrine of entire sanctification. It marks its start at Pilot Point, Texas in 1908, and plans are being completed for its golden anniversary observance in 1958.



But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.
