John Deere Dealer In Wauchula To Show 1938 Utility Model

At a special demonstration to be conducted Wednesday, July 31, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., half mile west out Main St. in Wauchula the Burke Equipment Co. of Zolfo Springs, will show the new John Deere Model 420 Utility Tractor for 1938 in its work clothes along with the new powerful John Deere 250-G Grove Tractor pulling a 10 foot C. R. grove harrow. According to the Burke Equipment Co. the new 420 Utility Tractor line for 1938 features factory-engineered integral power steering as well as field installation power steering systems for older tractors. A handy direction reverser gives quick reverse action to match all forward speeds for faster load handling.

With a new steering wheel slanted at 35 degrees from vertical, extra operator comfort and convenience has been built into this new 4-wheel low silhouette tractor to speed up front loader work as well as heavy-duty 3-point hitch and conventional drawbar jobs. Being introduced at the same time is a new LP gas burning tractor for the 420 series tractor.

Touch-O-Matic hydraulic controls for 1938, it was announced, is easier and smoother than ever before.

Mr. Burke says, "The John Deere 420 Utility for 1938 has a place in every grove and can perform profitably on utility work everywhere. With power steering and LP Gas engine, it's right down the alley. Our friends are cordially invited to see it in action at the Smith Estate Grove, 1/2 mile west out Main St. in Wauchula, on July 31."

Mr. Burke would also like to remind his many friends in Avon Park that he gives free pick-up and delivery service, all you need to do is call him and he will gladly send someone over to see you at once. Mr. Burke was formerly with the Florida-Georgia Tractor Co. and is well known in this part of the country.

Burke Equipment Co. specializes in two things, products and service, and are known for having one of the best shops with qualified mechanics in this section of Florida.

Top Agricultural Scientists To Meet In Orlando August 21

Top agricultural scientists will meet in Orlando August 21 and 22 to lead a "workshop meeting" on the damage caused in Florida by nematodes—red-like microscopic pests that cost the state's farmers, citrus growers and nurserymen up to 10 percent of their annual production.

Purpose of the meeting is to give Florida's growers and farmers the latest scientific findings on the damage caused by nematodes and on methods of controlling the pests. Reports from the 24-member workshop staff will cover citrus, vegetable, nursery stock and tobacco.

About 1,200 people are expected to attend. E. E. Heuerdissen, Agents district manager of Shell Chemical Corporation's Agricultural Chemical Division, sponsor of the meeting, said the group would include county agents, representatives of agricultural chemical companies, in addition to farmers, growers and nurserymen.

This is the second workshop of its kind ever held. The first was sponsored by Shell Chemical in New York early this year and covered nematode problems in Northeastern states.

The workshop staff includes 10 agriculturalists from the University of Florida, four from the Florida State Plant Board and three from the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Commissioner Ed L. Ayers, of the plant board, and B. G. Chittwood, the board's chief nematologist, will sketch the background of Florida's nematode problems. Ayers will talk about economic effects of the pests, while Chittwood will report on the various types found in the state (the different species now number over 50), how they live and how they cause damage.

Most of the reports on the problems and methods of control will be given by scientists from the university. C. I. Hanon, assistant nematologist at the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture, assistant horticulturist from Gulf Coast Experiment Station, Bradenton, and J. F. Darby, plant pathologist, Central Florida Experiment Station, Sanford, will report on the experiments they have been conducting on vegetables and field crops. Orchard and nursery experiments will be covered by R. F. Sutt, plant pathologist, R. W. Hanks, assistant plant physiologist, both of the Lake Alfred Agricultural Station and J. R. Christie, nematologist, from the Gainesville Agricultural Experiment Station.

A. L. Taylor, who is in charge of nematology research for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, will talk on the benefits of soil fumigation.

A talk on agricultural chemicals that are now under experiment will be given by Roy Hambray, manager of Shell's agricultural research laboratory in Modesto, Calif.

What To Take On Vacation

As you read this article, you may be one of 5 million Americans who will be going on vacation next week—or one of another similar group that will leave the following week-end and the next, the next.

If you are like 90 per cent of the vacationists-to-be, you are in a state of sublimated excitement and the children are chanting, "Oh, boy—only three days!" (Or six days—or five or two, or whatever. They keep accurate count.)

Also, if you go along with the majority, packing will be left to the last minute when all kinds of unnecessary things will be thrown into unnecessary extra luggage and many essential mental things will be left at home.

Everybody should have a check list of "what to take." The average vacationist is an amateur traveler and usually takes along too much or too little.

Here is a basic list of outer clothing and other essentials that the vacationist needs for travel by automobile. There is no attempt here to list recreational equipment such as fishing boats, fishing gear, etc. This list is for the suitcase. Limit luggage to two bags for a family of four.

Here we go for last minute shopping: (Suggested by travel authorities for a two week trip to a cabin or cottage or continuing travel on the road—not for country club type resorts)

Girls Return From Camp

Sixteen Avon Park girls returned Friday, July 19, from a very enjoyable time at Camp Cloverleaf, the 4-H camp near Lake Placid. The girls were from the Avon Park Elementary fifth and sixth grades and were able to go to the camp because of their outstanding work in some 4-H project during the past year.

At the camp the girls were quartered in cabins of 12 girls each, and took care of their own cabins. Each day they all participated in handicrafts, swimming lessons, and helping with the camp work. While they were in camp each girl made several clever articles, during handicrafts to bring home.

On Thursday night, July 18, the girls held an impressive Candlelight Service for their parents and visitors. After a brief movie about 4-H work the girls went down to the side of the lake and were each given a lighted candle as a chorus sang several selections. The girls placed their burning candles on a float which drifted out into the lake making a very lovely reflection and picture. Far out in the lake they were gradually extinguished.

David Knight, a former Avon Park resident, is now camp manager of Camp Cloverleaf. Avon Park girls who attended were: Deborah Reddick, Pat Jones, Vaughn Bennett, Jeanette Budd, Kathy King, Diana McClung, Torista Gaster, Jeanne Price, Silvia Sauls, Enid Milligan, Janis Wells, Ann Johnson, Kim Wells, Martha Watson, Sharon Nation, and Carol Sanders. Mrs. Chise Lookhoff went with the Avon Park girls and helped with the camp. Mrs. C. L. Wells, Mrs. Floyd Wells, Mrs. H. E. Gaster, and Mrs. W. M. Sauls attended the service on Thursday night and were very pleased with it and the camp.

Bride Elect Honored With Coke Party

Miss Betty Chisholm, bride elect, was honored with a Coke Party at the lovely new home of Mrs. H. H. Shepherd on Lake Verona on Friday morning, July 19. Mrs. Sam King and Mrs. Shepherd were hostesses to a number of Betty's friends. Dainty sandwiches and delicious cookies were served the guests from a table covered with a cool green cloth and highlighted with beautiful yellow hibiscus. Several large arrangements of colorful tinnies in the living room added to the festivity of the gathering. A coffee table spread with chips, dip, and nuts also tempted the guests in the living room.

Miss Chisholm received her friends at the door with her mother, Mrs. P. C. Chisholm, and her sister, Mrs. Clayton Fields. Mrs. Shepherd and Mrs. King gave her a lovely gift to be used in her future home.

Mrs. Leslie Crowe, Mrs. Virginia Hall, Jr., and Mrs. W. M. Reddick assisted the hostesses.

Beginning—

(Continued from Page 1) one but two cars coming toward him as a result of double vision? On the other hand what chance would a pedestrian have of surviving when he crossed a busy intersection if he had visual acuity that permitted him to see only 10 inches away from his face?

Since a great deal of attention and importance has been attached to the loss of visual acuity, we'd like to discuss further their merits and limitations. The Snellen Visual Acuity test came into use almost 100 years ago since its inception it has been widely used as the sole test to screen your child's vision in school. It is used routinely by all eye and visual examinations to determine first of all if there has been any loss of visual acuity, and secondly, whether it may be improved by glasses to compensate for the condition that causes the loss of acuity.

Loss of visual acuity in the growing child implies in many cases that an eye problem, and not a myopia (near-sightedness), has hyperopia (far-sightedness), or astigmatism (lack of focus) may have developed or exists. Or in still other instances, that some systemic disorder has had an adverse effect upon the eyes or the pathways leading to the brain.

Note that in the preceding something has already happened to the child before he shows this loss of visual acuity. Therefore the use of the visual acuity test as a screening device is effective only after the fact has occurred. This is equivalent to waiting until a child has a toothache before giving dental care. Or like testing for polio before remembering that inoculation was available. In other words, there is nothing preventive in the use of the Snellen Acuity Chart.

For the Baptists—Bobby Bates had 2 for 3—both singles, Tommy Singletary had 1 for 1, a single and Clifton Crews had a double.

In a rained out contest played at 8:30 Wednesday morning, the Lions rallied to beat the Baptists team 5 to 3 in an exciting 5 inning game. Owen Kempion pitched the first 3 innings giving up 3 hits and walking 4. Sullivan came on in the fourth inning and struck out four, walked two and gave up one hit. Clifton Crews had 2 for 2 for the home team, a single and a double and Singletary and Bates each had a single. Paul Vester pitched for the Baptists, giving up 3 hits and seven, walked five and gave up three hits, all singles. Bates went in to pitch in the fourth and struck out four, walked one and gave up only one hit. The Lions scored their 5 runs on hits with Sullivan, Johnson, Turner and Forizes getting singles.

In the second game the Rotary handed the Jaycees a 12 to 9 licking in another close contest. Leroy Shepard, Randy News and Jeffery Childers all pitched for the Rotary. They gave up a total of five hits, two doubles and three singles to Cherry, Townsend, Perez and Watford.

The Rotary boys collected 13 hits off Townsend and Bates. News and Shepard each caught a home run for the Rotary. The seven other hits were singles.

Thursday night the Jaycees went down in defeat again in the opening game with the Lions 9 to 2. Bobby Bates and G. L. Townsend pitched for the Jaycees and gave up 4 hits all singles to Johnson, Kempion and Sullivan. Johnson pitched for the Lions and he gave up two hits—both singles to Turner and Cherry who scored the only 2 runs for the lucky Jaycees.

The second game saw the Rotary and Baptists tied 3 to 3 in the fifth inning and for the first time this summer a game went into an extra inning. The Baptists, looking for second place in the League came through with 2 runs in the sixth to win the close contest 5 to 3. The Baptists collected 13 hits off Shepard and Townsend, a double by Bates and a single by Doyle Griffin.

Baptist right hander, Paul Vester gave up 2 runs—a single by Shepard and a triple by Lewis. He struck out 14 and walked 7.

Soil Conservation News

The Highlands Soil Conservation District assisted two co-operators of Lake Placid in developing Conservation Farm Plans this week. They were L. L. Holmes and B. J. Harris & Son, all large commercial flower growers. Their plant consists of cover cropping with sebanium and a crop rotation system.

The Soil Conservation Service Engineers are working with these District co-operators on very complex water control systems. Organic land is required for best flower production. The water has to be controlled to a very fine point for both drainage and irrigation.

There are large deposits of organic lands in the Lake Placid area suitable to commercial flower production, such as Calladium and Easter Lilies. Lake Placid boasts as being the Calladium Capital of the World. It claims upward of 1,000 acres in production which is valued in gross sales of about $1,000,000. This is all made possible because of this unusual depth of acid peat.

These organic lands need very careful management. If overdrained they are subject to catch fire and burn up, if kept too dry for long periods they will lose several inches of depth per year. These soils vary in depth from a few inches to over 20 feet but average about 4 ft. with the surface level to gently sloping of about a foot to the mile.

Florida's chief scientists, in order of their importance are: Jacksonville, Tampa, Pensacola and Miami.

Florida's first primary elections are conducted on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in May of a general election year.

Florida Caverns State Park is located four miles north of Maitland on State Route 167. It includes caverns, underground rivers, a dense forest, a wide variety of plant life and picnic grounds.

Of drivers in 1956 highway accidents, 96.7 per cent had more than one year's driving experience.

Meikrowave

Florida is launching a unique experiment in promoting state's rights.

For those who expect a "wood hat" approach of fiery oratory and sectional trumpet blowing, it will probably be a disappointment.

Instead, the job will be carried out by a 7-man commission of top Florida legal minds — including two former governors — men who will be able to go to northern states and lobby states' rights with top officials.

The author of the plan, Sen. John Bayne of Marianna, says the South isn't the only part of the country that is getting fed up with recent Supreme Court decisions. The job of the Florida commission will be to enlist the aid of states outside the South in getting some protective measures put in the U.S. Constitution.

The group will have a $100,000 budget to do its job — promoting a nation-wide agency to bring about the Constitutional change.

As outlined in the law that set up the commission, the job isn't being approached with a "head in the ground" attitude. It recognizes that the changing times call for expansion of some powers of the central government, but it says the trouble in recent years is that "instead of awaiting amendment of the Constitution by the method therein provided, many of these powers have been exercised through the expedient of placing a warped and unjustified construction upon the federal constitution."

Rawls has been designated to serve as the Senate representative on the committee.

Gov. LeRoy Collins has named five others — Former Gov. Doyle E. Carlton; Former Gov. Millard Caldwell; Cody Fowler, Tampa attorney; Chester Beddie, Jacksonville attorney; and Fred McMullen, Tallahassee, attorney to serve.

The seventh member will be appointed by House Speaker Doyle E. Conner.

Rawls said he hopes to hold an organizational meeting of the group soon after the Senate

First Baptist Church News

On recommendation of the Board of Deacons, the First Baptist Church in Business Conference on Wednesday night, July 17, voted to air-condition the church auditorium if sufficient funds could be raised. Brutal Test For Outboards

When a boat aims over a rocky reef at 15 miles per hour, this photograph taken at 1/1000th of a second shows what happens. The prop keeps churning, and bits of rock fly everywhere. Strangely enough, this brutal treatment is part of a routine test conducted by engineers to double check the ruggedness and safety of Mercury outboard motors. It means owners shouldn't have to worry about motor damage if they accidentally hit submerged or floating objects.

Inset photo at top shows the lower unit of the 40 horsepower model before-and-after three hours of this test. The sleep is worn down but the motor is still in perfect running order. Lower inset before-and-after photos show how 60 percent of the propeller from a 6 horsepower Mercury has been worn off in the same three hour test. More than most the eye is the progress in modern outboard engineering brought about through tests such as this.

Post 69 Defeats Arcadia 13-1

The Avon Park Post 69 American Legion Juniors trounced the Arcadia Post 11 team 13 to 1 in the last regularly scheduled game of the season last Wednesday night at Head Field. This was the 12th win for Post 69 and gives them a perfect 13-0 record for the season.

Avon Park got off to fast start in the five inning contest. They followed with one in the second and five more in the third to end the scoring. This commanding lead gave Coach Franz the opportunity to play all the boys on the squad.

Jimmy Cooper pitched good ball for Post 69 and didn't give up any hits although he was wild at times. He walked 5, threw a number of wild pitches and struck out nine in the five innings.

Avon Park collected eight hits, the leading blow being a three run homer over the left field wall by Cooper in the first. Dale Landress socked out a triple. Billy Rouse rapped out two doubles and Winkie Williams, Tommy Dourberly, Bryan Kempton and Leroy Stirling all hit singles.

Arcadia scored their only run in the third when Dwight Flinch walked and advanced all the way around on wild pitches and passed balls.

The Avon Park boys play Saratoga in an exhibition game Friday night at Head Field before entering the District Tournament.

Highlands Coca-Cola Bottling Co.

The Highlands Coca-Cola Bottling Company was purchased by Mr. Jimmy Grunholzer, formerly of Fort Meade, in June 1956. Mr. Grunholzer has been in the bottling business since getting out of the service of Uncle Sam and since coming to Avon Park has made many friends and built up an outstanding trade.

Ten residents of the community are employed at the Highlands Coca-Cola Bottling Company, and they have 2 trucks which distribute that wonderful "pasee that refreshes" to the stores, filling stations and other business places where Coca-Cola can be purchased.

In May of this year they started bottling and distribution of the new King Size bottle of Coca-Cola, this change in size of the bottle was the first since 1916, and the new King size was packaged in 1954. Orlando was the first section in the state to test this new king size bottle, in 1955. The reason for not introducing the new size in all areas at the same time was because of the machinery problem.

The purpose of the new King size bottle is to make it more convenient sized for the home. Each king size bottle contains two full glasses. If you haven't tried the new king size bottle of Coca-Cola purchase a carton or better yet get a full case and see how your family will love the new size bottle.

Coca-Cola was first marketed in Atlanta, Georgia in 1886, and has been on the market ever since. Coca-Cola is sold in every free country in the world, over 80 countries. Today more than 58 million people enjoy Coca-Cola each day. The idea behind the advertising of Coca-Cola has been the "sign of good taste". Try it yourself and you will see why more and more people each day are taking time out to drink a Coca-Cola and relax, and then starting back to work refreshed.

The Highlands Coca-Cola Bottling Company is located at 207 Tulane Circle and Mr. Grunholzer extends a cordial invitation to the citizens of our community to stop by and look over his newly remodeled plant. The plant had to be changed considerably to bottle the new size, and he will gladly show you through the plant and explain the bottling of this world famous drink to you.

Caraway-Cheese Muffins

A basket of muffins has muffins gives wonderful "new support" to summer meals.

Caraway-Cheese Muffins are perfect companions for any meal that calls for hot bread. Mellow cheese flavor and the distinctive taste of caraway seeds guarantee their success.

Want to know how to serve hot muffins for dinner with a minimum of last-minute frenzy? Just measure all of the ingredients well ahead of time. Combine the dry ingredients in one bowl, the liquid ingredients in another. Grease the muffin pans, too. Then, all you have to do is just before dinner is combine the liquid and dry ingredients, fill the muffin pans and bake.

You'll also save time and effort by using self-rising flour. There's no measuring of baking powder and salt, because self-rising flour already contains those two ingredients. That's 4 nice "plus" factor you'll learn to appreciate as you continue to use self-rising flour for any recipe that uses baking powder.

CARAWAY-CHEESE MUFFINS
2 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup melted American Cheese (2 ounces)
1 egg, beaten
1 1/2 teaspoons caraway seeds
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons melted shortening

Sift together flour and sugar. Stir in cheese and caraway seeds. Combine egg, milk and shortening. Add liquid to flour mixture, stirring only until flour is moistened. Fill greased muffin pans to full. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) about 20 minutes. Makes 12-2 1/2 inch muffins.

• It provides necessary oils for essential lubrication.
• It maintains the normal balance of oils and moisture.

Flowing Velvet is granulose. Just a few drops of FLOWING VELVET at night and in the morning will supply you safely, naturally, with the special moisture your skin needs!

Countless Many have tried but no one can successfully imitate FLOWING VELVET because Hydrolin, its exclusive ingredient, is controlled by Jacqueline Cochran!

And remember FLOWING VELVET CONTAINS NO ROSEMPHER.

An Opportunity — And A Problem

An investment authority told a convention of coal men that their industry should spend a billion or more during the next five years to expand production and to increase operating efficiency. Much of this sum, he went on, "will represent new, outside money." He added that the industry is now "in a new phase of growth."

That latter view seems to be shared by every one who has studied coal's potential role in the economy of the future. There is no doubt that energy requirements will increase at a tremendous rate—both here and in the other Western nations—and that coal will be a primary source. The two biggest consumers of coal—the electric and steel industries—are due for accelerated growth. And new, valuable uses for coal derivatives—ranging a gamut from cosmetics to fabrics—are constantly being discovered.

Yet there is a fly in the ointment. If any industry is to be attractive to investors, it must be a profitable industry. These investors must see a good chance to receive a fair return on their savings. Coal's profits have been inadequate for years, and during some extended periods have been non-existent.

The coal industry must get a price for the product which will pay all the bills and leave a reasonable profit for those who make its existence and growth possible.

"Be Safe — Be Seen"

Modern mechanized equipment has been a major factor in revolutionizing agricultural techniques that had been virtually unchanged for centuries. This equipment is absolutely essential to successful farming today, and to the continued existence of the family-sized farm which is the backbone of all American agriculture. At the same time, like all mechanical innovations, it has led to a safety problem. It can be dangerous if misused.

The farm equipment industry has been carrying on an aggressive safety program. It is obvious that the great majority of accidents connected with the use of tractors and other equipment are the direct result of human carelessness, ignorance, and apathy. Young children are allowed to run the machines—and disaster is thus invited. Farmers make mechanical changes or additions of their own devising—and these, more often than not, create critical special hazards. All kinds of elementary safety rules are ignored—and the casualty statistics mount.

Special emphasis is being put on proper lighting for equipment which is moved on roads. The industry's motto in this is "Be safe—be seen", and that covers the situation like a glove. Many an unlighted or inadequately lighted tractor has been driven down a road at night, to come to crashing grief and to bring death or serious injury to its driver and others.

The equipment makers are doing everything possible to build safety into the machines. They are publicizing safety instructions and messages. The rest is up to the user. He, and he alone, can stop the chance-taking that accidents feed fat on.

Are We On Our Way?

A lot of complainant individuals in the U. S. were set on their ears recently when a top Russian official in a TV interview said our grandchildren would enjoy the blessings of socialism.

Instead of the Russians bringing us state socialism (communism) it will come from within our own country, if it comes. We have already accepted the forerunners of the socialist state—government in many lines of business. Elected public officials are seeking to extend its field of activity. They attack our capitalistic system (private enterprise) and promise the people their God-given rights under non-profit government enterprise. A lot of people fall for that baloney and cast another vote for the promoters of socialism.

Our farmers would reject the idea of operating under Russian socialized farm methods, and yet they have accepted and voted for policies that put them under the dictation of government for much of their planning and revenue. Try to raise one of the "socialized" farm crops without complying with the quota allowed you, even if you want no subsidy, and see what happens to you.

And the same applies to other lines of business where government competes — free enterprise is no longer free.

It is not too late to heed the Russian forecast.

No Argument Here

The following editorial is reprinted from the Butte, Montana, Standard:

"There may be some room for argument between government-ownership and private enterprise proponents in the hydroelectric field, but there is no argument among the employees in the electrical industry about for whom they would rather work."

"Gordon M. Freeman, president of the 700,000-member International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, has put his union on record favoring free enterprise. The great majority of the members of his union are employed by private investor-owned power companies."

"In a speech before the American Power Conference in Chicago recently, the union president said:

"We want the benefits of free enterprise for our members and we support the system for the reason it does provide such benefits. Labor also supports the modern free enterprise system because we think it is the only system which can provide prosperity for the great majority of our citizens, and still maintain our free institutions."

"It is the job of responsible labor and responsible management to insure that our citizens continue to have a stake in maintaining the best system yet devised to spread prosperity, maintain a stable economy and, at the same time, preserve the freedoms which are the true basis of our greatness as a nation."

"We heartily agree with Mr. Freeman that it is wise to support the system which produces the greatest reform and at the same time preserves the freedom of the worker."

clean the market."

Since Mr. Shuman spoke, livestock prices have held to levels that are favorable to the producer—and, at the same time, these levels make possible retail prices for meat that are attractive to consumers. In other words, prices have been fair to all. And these prices are established, not by fallible human beings, but by the natural law of supply and demand, working in a free and open market.

Farmers cut hog production 5 per cent in 1956. As a result, the farm price of hogs was up to $17.50 per hundred in January 1957, or 58.7 per cent higher than the same month a year earlier. The hog market, free of the price-fixing influence of a government program, was able to make an adjustment and

Sharp Contrast

It is widely believed that just about all farmers and farm organizations are enthusiastically in favor of high, fixed price-supports. However, that is no longer the case. More and more farmers and authoritative farm spokesmen recognize the urgent need for less dependency by agriculture on government.

A few months ago president Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation said in a speech: "Today the effects of price-fixing in the government-supported crops such as cotton, wheat, rice, and corn furnish a sharp contrast with the free livestock market. In January 1956, the average farm price of hogs was $10.90 per hundred.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship.
It is a schoolhouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Touchton Drug's newly remodeled store is a beautiful attraction to our community. The store now specializes in self-service, thus allowing the clerks to give better service to the customers who need and want it, for branded and pre-sold merchandise is on open display. Touchton's want their patrons to feel free to ask any of the clerks for personal service and aid in making their selections in any of the departments of the store.

The history of Touchton's Drug goes back to 1917 when the late Dr. W. C. Touchton acquired an one-half interest in the Avon Park Drug Store with Dave Lander. Then a few years prior to 1920 Dr. Touchton purchased the full ownership of the store and changed the name to Touchton Drug Store.

The first Touchton Drug Store was located in a small portion of the building that now houses the newly remodeled store.

During the next twenty years, at one time or another, Dr. Touchton had drug stores in Sebring, Wauchula, Kissimmee, Fort Myers, DeLand, St. Augustine and Daytona Beach. Throughout the years Dr. Touchton sold some of these stores and began devoting more of his time and interest to his medical practice and to his holdings in citrus and cattle raising.

At the time of his death in 1954 Dr. Touchton still had four drug stores and his sons, Walton C. Touchton, Jr. and Edward G. Touchton, and his son-in-law, Herbert Dodd, assumed the management of the Touchton Estate which included vast holdings in real estate, and the ranching business besides the four drug stores.

Walton and Ed both are registered pharmacists. Walton attended the University of Florida and later the University of Tennessee Pharmacy School, Ed attended Emory University.

ly in Atlanta and received his degree in pharmacy at the University of Tennessee.

Shortly after Dr. Touchton's death the store in DeLand was sold, and they began building new self-service drug stores in a number of the ever popular and leading shopping centers in the state. The older stores were all remodeled into self-service stores to conform with the other Touchton Drug Stores, and now it is a pleasure to shop in any one of the stores in the chain.

In October 1954 a Touchton Drug Store was opened in the Pinellas Shopping Center in Largo, Fla. and a year later in November 1955 another self-service Touchton Drug Store was opened in the famous Ringling Shopping Center in Sarasota.

The next drug store in the growing chain was opened in March 1956 in the West Gate Shopping Center in Bradenton and then in November of the same year Touchton Drug opened a new store in the Bazaar Shopping Center in Tampa. Later in the same month they acquired the Clark Drug Company in Tampa and changed the name of the store to Touchton's Drug Store.

This year they opened a new store in March in the North Gate Shopping Center in Winter Haven and in October of this year they are planning to open their newest store in the South Gate Shopping Center, on South Florida Avenue, in Lakeland. When this fall that will mean that five of the Touchton Drug Stores will be located in popular shopping centers in the middle part of the state.

Few people realize that the main office for all the drug stores in the Touchton chain is located in Avon Park. Mrs. Lawrence Ford is in charge of the office and has six employees, and they handle all the business and payrolls for all stores from this office. A total of approximately 275 persons are employed throughout the state in the different stores of the Touchton chain.

Touchton's motto: "Your Prescriptions, Our Most Important Business," and you will find that in each of their stores the prescription department is the most important part of the store. The pharmacists are there to help you and is a friend to everyone, for the truth is that he always has been and always will be one of the most important men in any community. For the health of every citizen depends upon the doctor first and the pharmacist next.

During this huge remodeling sale go in and take advantage of the many bargains that will be found in every department of the store, and if you don't know the clerks introduce yourself, for they are your friend as well as there to serve you.

TOUCHTON'S NEW MOUNTAIN AND RESTAURANT offers the citizens of Avon Park a chance to enjoy a home cooked meal, at lowest prices, in the cool comfort of their newly remodeled and air conditioned store. Their noon day specials are becoming more and more popular with the business people of the community, and their fountain specials are very popular with all the youngsters.

CRACKER POLITICS

BY ALLEN MORRIS

Tallahassee — For all the skirmishing going on, an occasional glance at a calendar is necessary to realize the active campaign for governor won't be getting underway for three more years.

The unprecedented double-term of Governor Collins seems to have thrown political thinking out of kilter, for conventionally the atmosphere is that usually found in the summer just before a campaign.

But whatever the reason, there's plenty of speculation and of jockeying about. Old names are being resuscitated daily and new names are popping up in the gubernatorial discussions.

Among the newest names are those of William H. Dial, Orlando attorney who came to the State Board under Governor Collins after acquiring himself well in other public trusts; M. M. (Jack) Frost of Jacksonville, Tampa and New York, who served in the House from Duval county during the 1930's and lately has been a trouble-shooter for Eastern Air Line's Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker; and State Senator Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr., who vaulted into the Senate from Palm Beach county after being acclaimed the 1955 House's outstanding first term.

The pace-setter remains former House Speaker C. Farris Bryant of Ocala, who never stopped running after the 1950 campaign in which he finished third while Governor Collins was lapping the field. Bryant is traveling the familiar speech circuit — luncheon clubs, conventions, holiday gatherings and the like.

Bryant's situation is a matter of extreme controversy, especially so since he's the only man regarded as a sure starter in '60, he be sound of wind and limb then. All the rest are simply raising a model finger to detect any draft.

There are those who fervently believe that Bryant will stay out front because of the experience gained in '56. They explain away his then by saying that, by and large, he and Collins were drawing from the same pool of votes. Certainly many people said then that they would have supported him if Collins wasn't in the race.

Others rather than the Bryant future in the way Chick Merritt so bittily disposed of Lex

Green when the then Starke Congressman had the '44 race for governor all to himself for months: "There's only one horse in the race, and he's running second."

Those who view Bryant's chances dimly make these three main points: (1) He's an economy man, and while that's fine as an ideal it's a political liability because so many people today look to the State government for help of one kind or another; (2) He's got the problem of blending his organization of '56 with those who opposed him then, a rock on which Dan McCarthy's campaign almost foundered in '52, and; (3) It's take something drastic — funerals or the like — to overcome certain substantial

Lower East Coast opposition arising from what he did or did not do about the full-length turpentine as Speaker of the 53 House.

However, with the politically-stirring Bryant still the man to beat if Florida is to have another as its chief executive in 1961, the opposition is not his champion among these (in addition to the three mentioned earlier) whose names are being seriously discussed.

Supreme Court Justice Stephen C. O'Connell of Fort Lauderdale, Interims Chairman William C. Lanfitt of Miami, former Speaker Thomas D. Busley of DeFuniak Springs, former Speaker T. E. David of Hollywood, Duval County Solicitor W. Lacy Mahon of Jacksonville, Utilities Chairman Alton S. Boyd of Miami, State Senator Doyle E. Carlton, Jr. of Wauchula, State Senator Joe Eaton of Miami and State Senator Verle A. Pope of St. Augustine.

But it's a long, long time from July of 1957 until the primaries of 1960. Several of those who were among last year's best bets have already faded, others are likely to do so during the months ahead, and new names will be mentioned — and, perhaps, fade — before the field of candidates is settled three years hence.

Subsurface legislative rumblings over efforts by the Board of Control to bestow the name of "University of Southern Florida" reveal the reason behind the pin-pointing of the Tampa school in the '57 appropriations law as a "four year

"Too Late To Classify"

By RUSSELL KAY

We have been brought up to think that the American "dollar" is just about the most important trinket a person could acquire. We hear about how much more an American "dollar" will buy in Mexico and other countries.

But it seems that the dollar, no matter who issues it, can shrink and become practically valueless of the government behind it ignores a creeping paralysis known as "inflation." History records numerous prosperous nations that have spent and taxed themselves into poverty through failure to heed the handwriting on the wall and it could happen here if we don't watch our step.

We are now playing around with $60 dollars while the cost of living continues to rise month by month. We continue to increase the tax burden, a penny here, a penny there, while hard-headed business or organizations, concerned with the needs of the nation, demands for higher pay, shorter hours, and benefits, raises the price of their commodities. The cost of steel goes up. Building costs mount. Groceries cost more as the merry-go-round lulls its riders to sleep with a song of progress and prosperity.

It is difficult for a little guy like you and me to get a clear picture of what is happening. We groat over a 10c an hour wage increase or a four and a half day week, hospital and retirement benefits, social security and what have you. Maybe the increase and benefits are wiped out by the rise in the cost of living. To our simple minds a dollar is a dollar and to hell with inflation, let's get more of them.

All this mental musing is brought about by an experience I had when I tried to write a check for transportation and accommodations in Canada where I am vacationing this summer.

I was informed that Canadian firms are not a bit interested in personal checks of Americans nor will they accept American dollars at their U.S. face value. They are only interested in REAL money so if you want to romp and play in Canada you must send a Canadian draft for the Canadian dollar is now worth more than the U.S. dollar and why should Canadians take a loss because we are poor budget keepers and insist on spending beyond our means, but they tell me my Canadian dollar will buy more in Canada so I'll still be o.k.

Yes Sir, I learned that old Mr. Sam's famed "dollar" is worth only about 85c in Canada. In order to pay for my advance reservations I had to go to my local bank and arrange for a Canadian draft which amounted to around $20 more than if I had been able to pay in American dollars. To add to my problem I learned that the U.S. Government wasn't encouraging travel outside of the states and insisted on a 10 per cent cut which meant that my transportation would cost me another 10 per cent on top of the lessened value of my dollar.

Of course, I am just as pig headed as the next guy, I had planned on a trip to Canada and I wanted to go even if it did cost me 15 per cent more than if I stayed home, but it does make a guy think.

Why should we be burdened with a travel tax? Isn't it a good thing for neighboring countries to become better acquainted? Isn't it helpful for folks from one state to visit another? Is the money our government takes in travel taxes both foreign and domestic really worth while?

I figured I'd better go now, maybe next year the American "dollar" may be worth a lot less, so I boarded a Trans-Canada Airlines plane in Tampa for Toronto, Montreal, and Quebec. If the Canadians want to discount my American Express Travel checks I guess I will just have to like it, and when I return I hope our dollars will still be worth as much in my own country as they were when I left.

"YOUR PRESCRIPTIONS" OUR FIRST ORDER OF BUSINESS

Prescription departments have been the keystones of all Touchton Drug Store operations ever since the late Dr. W. C. Touchton acquired a one-half interest in the Avon Park Drug Store in 1917. Each of the Touchton Drug Stores that have been added since that time and the outlets they plan to open this year will continue to carry out a storewide policy of giving Rx's, drugs, and drug sundries prominent position.

Prescriptions and drugs have always been their first order of business at Touchtons, and other departments are built about this concept of drug-store merchandising. Touchton's Drug Store has developed a reputation, through the years, for stocking and dispensing only the highest quality drugs and pharmaceuticals.

The customers at Touchton's can rest assured that the pharmacist will never supply

Your prescription will be filled in the fastest time possible and you can rest assured that only the finest and most potent drugs will be used in filling your prescription.

to a patient, any drug or pharmaceutical of lesser quality than that which he would dispense for a member of his own family.

The prescription department at Touchton's Drug Store plays an important role in our community, for it is second only to the doctors in keeping the citizens of our town healthy. The pharmacist is ready at all times to aid you in all your needs and to see that your prescriptions are filled promptly and accurately. He is a friend to everyone in the community, each at some time or another will call on him for services, here the customer will be met in a pleasant manner and the best advice will be offered.

Florida Doctors Get Heart Grants

Three Florida scientists have been awarded grants totaling $15,290 from the American Heart Assn. in support of their studies in the field of heart and blood vessel diseases. The Florida Heart Assn. has announced.

The recipients and the amounts are: Dr. Melvin J. Freely, University of Florida College of Medicine, $7,700; Dr. Maurice Levy, Mount Sinai Hospital of Greater Miami, $5,940; and Dr. Milton S. Saslaw, National Children's Cardiac Hospital, Miami, $1,650.

The three Florida awards are among 225 grants-in-aid totaling $1,385,335, the largest single group of research grants ever made by the national Heart organization. The money comes from contributions by the public to the Heart Fund.

Dr. Freely, assistant professor of physiology at the University of Florida's College of Medicine, will devote his grant-in-aid to studies of the role of sodium chloride (table salt) in high blood pressure, in experimental animals, with a view to throwing more light on the value of low-salt diets in treating human hypertension.

Dr. Levy's grant is to be used for studies of the specialized tissues in the heart that conduct the electrical impulses regarding the heart beat, with particular reference to abnormalities seen in congenital heart disease. The aim is to provide knowledge for both diagnosis and corrective surgery of inborn heart defects.

Dr. Saslaw is devoting his grant to studies in the efficacy with which penicillin eliminates streptococcal bacteria from the tissues deep inside the tonsils when it is administered to eradicate these germs from the surface of the throat. Streptococci causes the throat.

throat which is sometimes followed by rheumatic fever.

The 225 new grants by the American Heart Assn. raises to almost $1,375,000 the sums allocated by the national Heart to support scientific studies related to the heart and blood vessel diseases during the 12 months ending June 30, 1958.

Earlier this year national Heart announced the award of 158 fellowships totaling $977,000.

Dr. Edgar V. Allen, president of the American Heart, said: "The growth in our research support program is a direct reflection of the increased support the public has been giving to the annual Heart appeal. At least 50 per cent of the sum the national headquarters receives from the Heart Fund campaign is set aside for support of scientific studies, while in the past two years, research expenditures have actually gone over 50 per cent."

The reason is, of course, that new knowledge is our greatest single need in the fight to bring the heart diseases under control. We are handicapped in the fight by not knowing, for example, the causes of the three main types of cardiovascular disease: hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure and rheumatic fever.

A traveling salesman was Harry G. Blowe,

Who could sell ice cubes to an eskimo,

But he fell for a line slicker than his,

From a new car salesman—wow! what a whiz!

The car had style—years out of date,

The features were new—back in '48!

Harry's still smiling, the tears hardly show,

But how he wishes he could get back his dough!

Moral: Don't get "bargain-talked" into yesterday's styling and features!

Like a lot of people, Harry was looking for a "good buy" in a new car. But no car is a bargain if it's outmoded before you drive it a mile. For the same money, Harry could have stepped up to a dashing Sweep-Wing Dodge—no new it actually obsolesces other cars in its field. Obsolesces their high, boxy design with the low, low look of tomorrow. Obsolesces their old-fashioned features with such advances as Torson-Aire Ride, Push-Button TorqueFlite and Total-Contact Brakes. So don't do what Harry did—please. See your Dodge dealer today.
