"Nothing Sells Like Newspaper Advertising"

"At the retail level, nothing sells like newspaper advertising if the product has newsworthiness, is priced right, and if the in-store promotion follows through."

That statement was made recently by a Philadelphia advertising man, speaking at a sales forum. He gave the example of one of his clients, who gained $8 million in retail sales over a three-months period for an advertising expenditure of less than $100,000. He added: "The real payoff of this promotion came as the result of newspaper advertising."

The other and newer media have their place — but they can't supplant the newspaper. That goes for the papers in the smaller towns no less than those in the great cities.

The advertising man has quoted some big figures, so it is supposed that he has been dealing with big business. Big business has realized for many years that the printed word is the best form of advertising, although it is also realized that other media has its place in the advertising industry.

Big business devotes its advertising dollar to standard forms of advertising. It is not approached by all types of advertising promotion.

The average small town businessman is approached for all types of advertising, some of which is not worth anything, except as a contribution to some cause or another. He probably spends more for advertising than is justified, but when all of the returns are in, he at times feels that advertising does not pay. He has compared his advertising expenditure to his returns.

Legimate advertising media suffers from these contributions made under the head of advertising. It is also felt that the average businessman would be perfectly happy to pass up many of the promotion schemes offered and direct his dollars into legimate advertising channels. The day may come when it will be possible to do just that, and when it rolls around, it will be a financial blessing to all parties concerned.

known nationally Wednesday night, March 27th, and those in Avon Park or vicinity who have submitted their own entries most nearly guessing the correct line-up of Award winners will be declared winners of the local contest.

However, in filing entry blanks, many moviegoers have come upon a Hollywood lexicon which may prove enlightening or confusing. For example, how many know that "cinematography" is just plain fancy for camera magic. Thus the category on the entry blank which says "Best Achievement in Cinematography-Color" merely means which picture in color had the best camera work.

Similarly, "Best Scoring of a Musical Picture" means which of the nominees was the most tuneful musical. It gets a little more complicated in the category of "Best Music Score of a Dramatic or Comedy Picture." In this group the music is merely background effect and more likely to have been less noticed by the average moviegoer. Frequently these scores do reach out on their own to gain public recognition, such as "The Third Man Theme," "The Song From Moulin Rouge" and "The Man With The Golden Arm" among others.

Finally, there is a category for "Best Motion Picture Story." Movie stories, as a rule, come from many sources including books plays and just ideas. Writers who frame these stories in script form are called scenarists.

"The Best Motion Picture Story" category involved in the Sweepstakes, however, refers only to original stories written for the screen and not previously published or produced in any other medium.

This ought to clear up some semantics for the contestant — but they're still on their own in guessing which is the best.

Michigan Delegation Visits Avon Park Chamber Of Commerce

Tuesday afternoon, March 5, Mrs. Anna Belle Worden, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce was very busy when approximately 25 persons from Dearborn, Michigan stopped at the local Chamber office wanting information on Avon Park and locality.

James Smith former co-publisher and editor of the Dearborn Press acted as spokesman for the Dearborn residents who are on a ten-day vacation at the Lake Byrd Lodge.

Mrs. Worden presented each visitor with Avon Park literature and information. One of the gentlemen in the group jokingly asked Mrs. Worden if she was going to present them with the key to the City. She went him one better and replied "Who wanted a key to the City, she would present them with the whole City so that they might have a pleasant stay while in Avon Park."

Mayor Orville L. Hubbard of Dearborn, Michigan, has long made plans to establish a Dearborn, Florida. The plan calls for the purchasing of between 500 and 2,000 acres in Florida with the building of homes costing approximately $8,000 each. These homes are to be leased on a yearly basis to Dearborn inhabitants. (Population of Dearborn, Michigan is 125,000) The homes are to be modern and well furnished with the grounds beautifully landscaped, and a maintenance department will take care of all homes and grounds.

Mayor Hubbard refers to retired people as Senior citizens. His honor, the mayor, was in this section of the state a short time ago and favors the area between Avon Park and Sarasota for the location of Dearborn, Florida.

Mrs. Worden sent the Chamber of Commerce card by Mr. Smith to be presented to Mayor Hubbard with an invitation to return again soon to Avon Park. A personal letter is being mailed to Mayor Hubbard confirming this invitation.

Rev. John E. Pickens from Lake Byrd Lodge acted as host to the group and took them on a tour of Avon Park and showed them through Ben Hill Griffin's Packing House before they stopped at the Chamber of Commerce office.

DO YOU KNOW?

By James D. Judd
Evangelist, Church of Christ

Last week we asked the question: "Where does the Bible teach that we are saved by faith only?" We asked that if someone knew where the scripture was located to please send it and we would be glad to print it. At this time NO ONE has sent in the scripture. If at this reading you know the scripture please send it and we will still print it. Your name will not be mentioned if you desire it this way.

Our question for the week is this. WHERE DOES THE BIBLE TEACH THAT ONE MUST PRAY THROUGH TO BE SAVED OR TO BECOME A CHRISTIAN? Also we would like to know the scripture which tells WHAT IT IS that he must pray through.

Many preachers insist that people must come to the altar or prayer bench and pray until they get through to God. They indicate that God is not willing for people to change their lives and call upon Him. So as a result they insist that one must pray until they get God in a frame of mind to listen and save them. Such teaching is not found in the Bible to my knowledge. The Bible plainly teaches that God is not willing that any should perish . . . " (2 Peter 3:9). In the parable of the Prodical Son we find that when the son returned home, he did not have to BEG his father to come out of the house and accept him. The scripture says, "But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran and fell on his neck, and kissed him." (Luke 15:20). This is just how glad God is for us to turn from our sinful ways and obey Him.

If you know of the scripture which teaches one to pray through to become a Christian we would appreciate it if you will send it to us. If you don't know, ask your preacher. If he teaches or practice this, he should be able to give you the scripture.—adv.

Winter Guest Club News

WINTER GUEST NEWS . . .

The high light of the past week's activities, was, beyond a doubt, the hobby show, held on Thursday, March 7. The exhibits could be classified as to: collections, needlework, handcrafts. and fine art.

Among the collectors Mr. W. F. Berwinkle's was outstanding for number and variety of articles. He displayed many mementoes of Civil War days, among them being a piece of "hard tack", rationed to soldiers of the time, which is in as good shape as when issued. In the field of articles Mrs. Berwinkle showed a 100-year-old coffee mill, which Mrs. Berwinkle has made into a decorator planter, a dough tray, a coin collection and a stamp collection. Another of the old pieces is a hand organ which plays wooden cylinders, using metal notes to make the music. It is called a Chatauqua Roller Organ and was patented in May 31, 1887. Mrs. Berwinkle modeled a dress which Mr. Berwinkle's mother had worn, about 1870.

Passing down the line of collections, Mrs. L. B. Ratcliffe displayed travel mementoes from the Orient and Central and South America; Mr. H. C. Little, a collection of daguerreotypes; Mr. and Mrs. Ford, hand-carved objects from Japan; and Mr. Harold Davis, an interesting contract concerning some slaves owned by his grandfather. Mr. Jerome Shilly showed a collection of silver dollars, from 1825 through 1945.

State-fair prize-winner, Mrs. Stropes amazed all by her diversified and prolific display of needlework, ranging from hemstitched handkerchiefs for men, fancy-edged ones for the ladies, to banquet cloths, Italian cut-work embroidery, and knit Afghans.

Among others who displayed needlework were Mrs. Gertrude Kass, knit cape and stoles; Mrs. Daniel Keiter, embroidery, Mrs. Beck, crocheted doilies, Mrs. Cecil Ogden, an amazing array of hand-crocheted and beaded bags, and hats; Mrs. Martin Lindborg, a crocheted bedspread, Mrs. Kinner, two outstandingly beautiful quilts, the double wedding ring and the butterflies; Mrs. Heal, crocheted stole and bags, and Mrs. Ford, a table of her famous sunshade hats.

Lest you think this was entirely ladies' day, the men did some displaying, also. Mr. A. G. Fisher showed a collection of carvings which he had made from the wood taken from a 113-year-old covered bridge which stood near his Ohio home. These carvings included several animals, a mounted carving of George Washington, and a stagecoach.

Also showing carvings was Mr. L. H. Nebel, with a collection of Great Lakes sailing ships and an intricately carved picture frame.

Mr. Kenneth Lewis' display showed what can be done with native Florida materials. From bamboo and palmetto he has fashioned an ingenious planter.

Also using native materials was Mrs. Robert Hanford, with a pine needle basket.

Mrs. C. H. Davis displayed a large and beautiful assortment of jewelry fashioned from shells; she had the satisfaction of selling quite a few of the pieces she had brought for display.

Mrs. Grace M. Kinner has a most interesting button collection, as well as needle work. Then, as though to prove her versatility, Mrs. Kinner showed a truly amazing display of hand-painted metal trays, baskets, boxes, etc.

Mrs. Dorrit Wolverton displayed some fine specimens of hammered aluminum craft, ceramics and decorator candles.

Among the artists the following showed work done in oil: Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. C. H. Davis, Mrs. A. W. Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Peifer, Mrs. B. Meyer, Mrs. Annette Beyer, Mr. George Mills. Their work attracted considerable attention and comment, all of which, we hasten to add, was highly complimentary. Mr. Piefer's work, Twin Oaks, pleased one patron so much he purchased it. Also Mrs. B. Meyer sold one of her works a landscape.

Mrs. Will Kuenzel was the only artist showing work in water colors, and Mr. H. I. Arms, charcoal and ink sketches.

Miss Myrtle Wilson and Dr. Ruth Phillips not only displayed samples of their art, but brought a loom so we could see them at their weaving.

Much credit is due Mrs. Paul Bolduc and her committee for this outstanding hobby show; it is, beyond a doubt, the best we have had; let's hope it continues to grow in size and scope.

Wednesday's potluck tournament was rained out, but played on Thursday, with Shauger and Fensterman being the winners. Saturday's choose-your-partner event was won by Lindborg and Ifland who just barely edged out D. Gruber and Christensen in the final round.

On Monday, March 11, Ohio challenged all the other states to a tournament. Now, these keen eyes have some champion cue-wielders among them and they are favored to win; nevertheless, the combination arrayed against them was too severe, and they suffered defeat.

We are very happy to report that the new cue house and rest rooms building is now a reality and soon the old cue house will be no more, with none to mourn its passing. No more cracked heads, we hope, from those who forget to duck".

A musical treat is in store for us on Thursday, March 14, when Vroman Du Fais, a concert harpist and Katherine Du Fais, pianist and Wanetta Brown, contralto, will present a program for our enjoyment.

The monthly card party will be one week earlier than usual, on Thursday, March 21.

On Thursday, March 28, we will take a trip to Europe, via pictures, with Mr. and Mrs. George Mills who toured Europe in summer of '56.

In response to requests for instruction in ballroom dancing, Mr. Kremerick is scheduling this class for Tuesdays, immediately following the instructions in square and folk dancing.

Mrs. Bonner reports nine tables in play at last Tuesday's bridge games, with Mrs. McDonald high-scorer.

Friday morning's bridge lesson dealt mainly with signals, leads, and other means of compounding any confusion already present.

The TATTLER

Martin's Annual Problem Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Martin held their annual Problem Dinner for guests of the Problem House at their home last Wednesday evening. A beautiful arrangement of white gladioli was used on the banquet table.

The guests of Problem House presented Ma and Pa Problem, (as Mr. and Mrs. Martin are called by all their guests) with a gift of appreciation.

Hurst — and will field a team which may prove enlightening or confusing. For example, how many know that "cinenatography" is just plain fancy for camera magic. Thus the category on the entry blank which says "Best Achievement in Cinematography-Color" merely means which picture in color had the best camera work.

Similarly, "Best Scoring of a Musical Picture" means which of the nominees was the most musical musical. It gets a little more complicated in the category of "Best Music Score of a Dramatic or Comedy Picture." In this group the music is merely background effect and is most likely to be heard and noticed by the average moviegoer. Frequently these scores do reach out on their own to gain public recognition, such as "The 500 and 2,000 Acres in Florida with the building of homes, costing approximately $8,000 each. These homes are to be leased on a yearly basis to Dearborn inhabitants. (Population of Dearborn, Michigan is 125,000) The homes are to be modern and well furnished with the grounds beautifully landscaped and a maintenance department will take care of all homes and grounds.

Rev. John E. Pickens from Lake Byrd Lodge acted as host to the group and took them on a tour of Avon Park and showed them through Ben Hill Griffin's Packing House before they stopped at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Coach Garrett has picked left handed Charlie Anderson as his starting pitcher for the Frostproof game. Leroy Starling will handle the catching duties and the infield will be made up of Tom Bass on first, Dale Landress on second, Jim Cooper at shortstop, and Wendell Williams on third. Tommy Doubereley will cover right field, Johnny Starling will play centerfield, and Bill Rouse will take the left field position.

The Wednesday afternoon game in Wauchula will be a non-conference game but the Hardee County boys are expected to be strong this year and may give the Avon Park team some trouble. Veteran Dale Landress will get the nod for the hurling duties for the Red Devils and young Wayne Kempton will take over the second base position for this game.

The Red Devils are defending Ridge Conference and District Champions are are pointing for a repeat performance this year. A Ridge Conference title in baseball this season could give the Avon Park athletic program the best record in Ridge play they have ever had. The Avon Park teams already hold the title in football and were runner-ups in basketball in Ridge Conference competition.

The remaining schedule for the Avon Park team is as follows: March 22, Kissimmee, away; March 26, Lake Placid, home; March 29, Ft. Meade, home; April 2, Sebring, away; April 6 (Saturday) Dade City, home; April 9, Frostproof, away; April 12, Kissimmee, home, April 16, Sebring, home; April 17 (Wednesday), Lake Placid, away (4 p.m.); April 23, Wauchula, home; April 26, Mulberry, home. The Avon Park "B" schedule is: March 29, Wauchula, home; April 2, Sebring, home; April 5, Lake Placid, away; April 12, Lake Placid, home; April 16, Sebring, away; April 23, Wauchula, away; April 30, Lake Placid, away. Coach Lee Manness will coach the "B" squad.

DO YOU KNOW?

By James D. Judd
Evangelist, Church of Christ

Last week we asked the question: "Where does the Bible teach that we are saved by faith only?" We asked that if someone knew where the scripture was located to please send it and we would be glad to print it. At this time NO ONE has sent in the scripture. If at this reading you know the scripture please send it and we will print it. Your name will not be mentioned if you desire it this way. Our question for the week is this. WHERE DOES THE BIBLE TEACH THAT ONE MUST PRAY THROUGH TO BE SAVED OR TO BECOME A CHRISTIAN? Also we would like to know the scripture which tells WHAT IT IS that he must pray through.

Many preachers insist that people must come to the altar or prayer bench and pray until they get through to God. They indicate that God is not willing for people to change their lives and call upon Him. So as a result they insist that one must pray until they get God in a frame of mind to listen and save them. Such teaching is not found in the Bible to my knowledge. The Bible plainly teaches that God is not willing that any should perish . . ." (2 Peter 3:9). In the parable of the Prodical Son we find that when the son returned home, he did not have to BEG his father to come out of the house and accept him. The text says, "But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him." (Luke 15:20). This is just how glad God is for us to turn from our sinful ways and obey Him.

If you know of the scripture which teaches one to pray through to become a Christian we would appreciate it if you will send it to us. If you don't know, ask your preacher. If he teaches or practice this, he should be able to give you the scripture.—adv.

Winter Guest Club News

WINTER GUEST NEWS

The high light of the past week's activities, was, beyond a doubt, the hobby show, held on Thursday, March 7. The exhibits could be classified as to: collections, needlework, handcrafts, and fine art.

Among the collectors Mr. W. F. Berwinkle's was outanding for number and variety of articles. He displayed many mementoes of Civil War days, among them being a piece of "hard tack", rationed to soldiers of the time, which is in as good shape as when issued. In the field of articles Mrs. Berwinkle showed a 100-year-old coffee mill, which Mrs. Berwinkle has made into a decorator planter, a dough tray, a coin collection and a stamp collection. Another of the old pieces is a hand organ which plays wooden cylinders, using metal notes to make the music. It is called a Chatauqua Roller Organ and was patented in May 31, 1887. Mrs. Berwinkle modeled a dress which Mr. Berwinkle's mother had worn, about 1870.

Passing down the line of collections, Mrs. L. B. Ratcliffe displayed travel mementoes from the Orient and Central and South America; Mr. H. C. Little, a collection of daguerreotypes; Mr. and Mrs. Ford, hand-carved objects from Japan; and Mr. Harold Davis, an interesting contract concerning some slaves owned by his grandfather. Mr. Jerome Shiltz showed a collection of silver dollars, from 1825 through 1945.

State-fair prize-winner, Mrs. Stropes amazed all by her diversified and prolific display of needlework, ranging from hemstitched handkerchiefs for men, fancy-edged ones for the ladies, to banquet cloths, Italian cut-work embroidery, and knit Afghans.

Among others who displayed needlework were Mrs. Gertrude Kass, knit caps and stoles; Mrs. Daniel Keiter, embroidery; Mrs. Beck, crocheted doilies, Mrs. Cecil Ogden, an amazing array of hand-crocheted and beaded bags, and hats; Mrs. Martin Lindborg, a crocheted bedspread. Mrs. Kinner, two outstandingly beautiful quilts, the double wedding ring and the butterflies; Mrs. Heal, crocheted stole and bags, and Mrs. Ford, a table of her famous sunshade hats.

Lest you think this was entirely ladies' day, the men did some displaying, also. Mr. A. G. Fisher showed a collection of carvings which he had made from the wood taken from a 113-year-old covered bridge which stood near his Ohio home. These carvings included several animals, a mounted carving of George Washington, and a stagecoach.

Also showing carvings was Mr. L. H. Nebel, with a collection of Great Lakes sailing ships and an intricately carved picture frame.

Mr. Kenneth Lewis' display showed what can be done with native Florida materials. From bamboo and palmetto he has fashioned an ingenious planter.

Also using native materials was Mrs. Robert Hanford, with a pine needle basket.

Mrs. C. H. Davis displayed a large and beautiful assortment of jewelry fashioned from shells; she had the satisfaction of selling quite a few of the pieces she had brought for display.

Mrs. Grace M. Kinner has a most interesting button collection, as well as needle work. Then, as though to prove her versatility, Mrs. Kinner showed a truly amazing display of hand-painted metal trays, baskets, boxes, etc.

Mrs. Dorrit Wolverton displayed some fine specimens of hammered aluminum craft, ceramics and decorator candles.

Among the artists the following showed work done in oil: Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. C. H. Davis, Mrs. A. W. Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Peifer, Mrs. B. Meyer, Mrs. Annette Beyer, Mr. George Mills. Their work attracted considerable attention and comment, all of which, we hasten to add, was highly complimentary. Mr. Piefer's work, Twin Oaks, pleased one patron so much he purchased it. Also Mrs. B. Meyer sold one of her works a landscape.

Mrs. Will Kuenzel was the only artist showing work in water colors, and Mr. H. I. Arms, charcoal and ink sketches.

Miss Myrtle Wilson and Dr. Ruth Phillips not only displayed samples of their art, but brought a loom so we could see them at their weaving.

Much credit is due Mrs. Paul Bolduc and her committee for this outstanding hobby show; it is, beyond a doubt, the best we have had; let's hope it continues to grow in size and scope.

Wednesday's potluck tournament was rained out, but played on Thursday, with Shauger and Fensterman being the winners. Saturday's choose-your-partner event was won by Lindborg and Ifland who just barely edged out D. Gruber and Christensen in the final round.

On Monday, March 11, Ohio challenged all the other states to a tournament. Now, these Buckeyes have some champion cue-wielders among them and they are favored to win; nevertheless, the combination arrayed against them was too severe, and they suffered defeat.

We are very happ, to report that the new cue house and rest rooms building is now a reality and soon the old cue house will be no more, with none to mourn its passing. No more cracked heads, we hope, from those who forget to "duck".

A musical treat is in store for us on Thursday, March 14, when Vroman Du Fais, a concert harpist and Katherine Du Fais, pianist and Wanetta Brown, contralto, will present a program for our enjoyment.

The monthly card party will be one week earlier than usual, on Thursday, March 21.

On Thursday, March 28, we will take a trip to Europe, via pictures, with Mr. and Mrs. George Mills who toured Europe in summer of '56.

In response to requests for instruction in ballroom dancing, Mr. Krenerick is scheduling this class for Tuesdays, immediately following the instructions in square and folk dancing.

Mrs. Bonner reports nine tables in play at last Tuesday's bridge games, with Mrs. McDonald high-scorer.

Friday morning's bridge lesson dealt mainly with signals, leads, and other means of compounding any confusion already present.

Joyce Wolfgang Of Tampa Wins Scholarship From General Mills

Florida's Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow is 17-year-old Joyce Wolfgang of Hillsborough High School, Tampa, Fla.

Miss Wolfgang, the brown-haired, brown-eyed only daughter of a Tampa fireman, received the highest score in a written examination on home-making knowledge and attitudes administered to 6,886 senior girls in 165 schools throughout Florida.

She will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills and becomes a candidate with 47 other state winners and the representative from the District of Columbia for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Each state winner and her school advisor will receive an expense-paid educational tour to Washington, D. C., colonial Williamsburg, Va., and New York City April 27 - May 3. Score in the original test and personal observation on this tour will be the basis for selection of the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow, to be announced May 2 at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York. Her scholarship will be increased to $5,000.

Susanna Buie of Leon High School, Tallahassee, rated second in Florida and will receive a $500 scholarship.

Miss Wolfgang, the state winner, is a member of the National Honor Society, and is tied for the highest average in her senior class of 600 students. In addition to maintaining a straight "A" average in her school work, she is editor-in-chief of her school paper; parliamentarian of the National Honor Society and Pan American Student League; secretary of Beaker Brakers, a chemistry club; president of the national speech society, Masque and Gavel; and state president of Florida Assn. Future Homemakers of America.

In spite of all these duties, she finds time to play the piano and saxaphone, sing in a quartet, write poetry and help with the evening meal at home.

Most of her summers are spent at camp or visiting.

"Last summer," she says, "I visited my future roommate at Florida State University. We met at the state convention of the Future Homemakers of America and decided to room together when we go to the university. I plan to major in home economics, but I'm not sure yet whether I want to teach or be a dietitian."

Miss Buie, the second place winner, is particularly interested in mathematics, science and music. She plans to attend Vassar College and take a liberal arts degree with a major in one of these three fields.

The test in this third annual national homemaking program was designed and judged by Science Research Associates of Chicago. The school of each state Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica. This year for the first time, girls who rank second, third and fourth in the national fields will receive $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships, respectively.

Chamber Of Commerce Votes To Accept Associate Memberships

Last Thursday night a General Membership meeting was held at the Chamber of Commerce office for the purpose of making provisions in the by-laws for associate members, their dues and privileges.

It was unanimously voted upon and passed to make these provisions in the constitution and by-laws. The associate membership provision has been established by the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce with the idea in mind that the purchasers of Avon Park Lakes lots would like to be associated with the local Chamber in order to be kept informed on the growth and activity of our City, County and State.

The membership fee for associate members will be five dollars, this will not entitle them to voting privileges but monthly bulletins will be mailed to them and the many services of the Chamber will be at their disposal.

Following the general membership meeting the Board of Directors held their regular meeting. Members remaining for the Board meeting other than the Directors were Mrs. Ella Albright, Dick von Burske, E. A. Martin, W. A. Meyer, C. T. Daves, and M. C. (Mel) Miller of Sarasota.

Mr. Miller who is advertising agent for Avon Park Lakes talked to the members on advertising Avon Park. He also gave some points on increasing the budget in order to take care of the mailing rest in soliciting associate members. Mr. Miller complimented the Chamber for being on their toes in planning this campaign.

R. J. Barber, president, announced the Avon Park Lakes promotion had exceeded everyone's fondest hopes.

Ira J. Glockner, manager of Avon Park Lakes, has informed the Chamber that six homes have already been started at the development where as in Venice (similar project had been sponsored there by the Venice Chamber of Commerce) it was six months before the first house was built.

Mr. Glockner also informed the Chamber that 3,471 lots had been sold in the Avon Park Lakes Development to date.

Mr. Howard urged all members to attend the State-wide conference on Community Industrial Development at the Jacaranda Hotel on April 24-25. It is expected that between 100 and 150 persons outside of Highlands County will attend the conference.

He feels certain that the zoning problem will be one of the ideas discussed at this meeting. Representatives from Clearwater, Leesburg, Tampa, St. Petersburg and Gainesville will be among the speakers.

The conference will be open to the public and all interested parties are urged to attend.

March 17-23 Wildlife Week In Florida

Tallahassee — The week of March 17 through 23 has been proclaimed as "National Wildlife Week in Florida" by Governor LeRoy Collins.

Theme of the special week will be "Make a Place for Wildlife." All citizens are asked to give thought and attention to those species of Florida wildlife now facing possible extinction or depletion. The proclamation cites the Key Deer, the Manatee, the Roseate Spoonbill, the Everglades Kite, the Swallow-tailed Kite, the Mississippi Kite, the American Crocodile and the Ivory-billed Woodpecker as being examples of Florida Wildlife species presently endangered by destruction of natural food and cover found within their living areas.

In making the proclamation, Governor Collins requested public "support for those programs providing for the protection and restoration of wildlife living areas by wise management of the lands and waters" of Florida.

As many as 30 types and grades of petroleum products may be traveling through a pipe line at one time.

of National Wildlife Week in Florida.

The proclamation urges "all citizens to consider the value of adequately training our junior citizens in wise conservation practices that will ensure the future of our natural resources — soils and water, forests, minerals and wildlife."

The proclamation was based on the fact that the future of natural resources conservation in Florida "lies within our youngsters of today who are now undergoing training in wise conservation practices."

Tough jobs demand a Universal 'Jeep'

Traction. 4-wheel drive gives the extra traction for traveling up steep grades or broken ground. The 'Jeep' is built to stand up and take it in tough usage.

Mobile power. With power take-off, the Universal 'Jeep' provides mobile power for operating welders, compressors, generators and many other kinds of specialized equipment.

Hydraulic lift. With hydraulic lift, the 4-wheel drive 'Jeep' operates graders, scrapers, post hole diggers and most 2-point hitch implements.

Now a 'Jeep' with longer wheelbase—the new model CJ-6. Carries larger, bulkier loads; has all the features that made the 'Jeep' famous.

A 4-Wheel-Drive Universal 'Jeep' takes you to the job, wherever it is—on the road or off! This rugged performer carries men and equipment over the highway in conventional 2-wheel drive. Then, when work calls for travel off the road—through mud, sand or snow, up hill or down—you shift a single lever for the extra traction of 4-wheel drive. With power take-off, or hydraulic lift, the Universal 'Jeep' does an almost endless variety of jobs. To find out what it can do for you, ask for a demonstration.

Growing Nematodes

Strange as it may seem, relates the March issue of the Florida Grower and Rancher, scientists at the Lake Alfred Citrus Experiment Station are actually feeding the burrowing nematodes in order to grow thriving new generations of the pest.

The nematodes are being grown to screen new seedling material of the citrus family which could be resistant or immune to attack by the burrowing nematode which produces spreading decline. Thus far, however, no seedling has passed the test.

According to one estimate, 400 new uses for petroleum chemicals are being found every year.

Florida Lime Growers To Vote On Amendments To Marketing Order

Florida lime growers will be given an opportunity soon to vote in a referendum on proposed amendments to the Federal marketing order for Florida limes, the U.S. Department of Agriculture announced today.

Proposed identical amendments to the marketing agreement for Florida limes also are being submitted to the handlers of limes for their approval or disapproval.

The proposed amendments are the same as those recommended by the U.S. Department of Agriculture on February 13, 1957, on the basis of evidence obtained at a public hearing at Homestead (Modello), Florida, December 10, 1956. On February 16, 1957, the department's recommendations were submitted to producers and handlers for the filing of exceptions.

The principal amendments would (1) permit only growers or producers having proprietary interest in 10 or more bearing lime trees to participate in the nomination of grower members of the committee; (2) provide for simultaneous meeting of groups of committee members at two or more places through the use of telephone communication, with loud speaker receivers; (3) authorize the establishment of a reserve fund to finance certain program operations; (4) provide for the handling of limes under marketing research and development projects exempt from regulations; (5) authorize the establishment of pack specifications and require packs of limes graded and packed in accordance with such specifications to be identified by appropriate labels, stamps, or tags; and (6) require handlers, in filing reports on the disposition of limes, to show the market area, for each lot of destination, by state, zone, or limes handled.

The period during which the referendum and poll will be conducted has been set to begin March 14 ending March 23. Ballots will be mailed to all growers and handlers on record and a supply of grower ballots will be furnished each County Agent, which may be obtained upon request by any grower not receiving a ballot by mail.

VIM PENDLETON

MAYBE A COINCIDENCE? — Congressman Bob Sikes, as the "Dean" of the Florida Congressional Delegation, often voices the unofficial opinion of our representatives here. This week he issued a statement calling for Democratic re-organization "not only on a state level, but (it) must reach down to each precinct in the State with particular emphasis on the activities of the young voters."

At the same time he said there was no connection between his statement and the rumors that Jimmie Milligan, Orlando, Chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, was on his way out. That rumor was given strength here last week when Milligan's name created a violent reaction at a meeting of some of the Congressional wives.

Under discussion was a plan to hold a Democratic luncheon here; sponsored by the ladies. The luncheon was to be a typical Democratic pep rally and get-together. The suggestion made that Jimmie Milligan might be invited to come up from Florida and be the principal speaker. That's when the storm broke. Result: if and when the ladies hold their luncheon, somebody other than Jimmie will be the speaker.

Although he said there was no direct connection between his statement and the rumors about Milligan, Sikes did call for a "complete re-building of the party" within Florida.

He urged Democrats in the State to combat and off-set the increased activity by the Republicans during the last two elections. "And the Republicans haven't stopped their efforts to make inroads in our State," Sikes said. "Recent press statements show a step-up in preparations for future elections."

Sikes said he thinks some of the Republican activity is only "Ike-ism" which will die now that the President is limited to two terms. "Regardless of this, there is much work to be done towards reorganization within Democratic ranks," he said. "The party organization needs strengthening and the so-called 'Democrats for Eisenhower' should be encouraged to realign themselves with the Democratic Party."

FLORIDA PRINCESS?—Friday the 15th has been set for the election of the Florida Cherry Blossom Princess. Voting will be the highlight of the annual Florida State Society Ball to be held at Bolling Air Force Base Officers Club; 8:30 p.m. until 1:30 a.m.; dress informal; price $1.50 per person. All Floridians and friends are invited. Winner will compete for the title "Washington Cherry Blossom Queen." Candidates for Princess this year are: Betty Wilmon, Quincy; Barbara Moon, Clearwater; Andrea Anderson, Ocala; Ester Torres, Miami; Ann Davis, Patka. She will be crowned at the Florida Ball by Elizabeth Hall, Plant City, the present reigning Princess.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS — Congressman and Mrs. Charlie Bennett have checked their calendar for the middle of May for the arrival of a new member of their household. Both are secretly hoping it will be a girl. True to human nature, the Congressman hasn't had as much to say about this expected event as he did about the arrival of Charlie Jr. who will be two years old on the 25th of June. (For a time, it looked as though Junior would outstrip his father in the amount of newspaper publicity he was getting.)

Rainfall Has Greatly Reduced Fire Hazard

Tallahassee — A moderate rainfall throughout the state during the past week or more has wet down Florida timberland and greatly reduced the fire hazard. This announcement was made by John Bethea, Fire Control Chief of the Florida Forest Service.

Rainfall during January and February was far below normal in most parts of the state and this created a serious fire hazard.

Bethea pointed out however, that despite the dryness of the woods, there has been a marked decrease in the number of fires since Jan. 1 ,below the number of fires during the same period last year.

Through March 5, daily fire reports show that there have been 756 less fires, or 28 percent less this year than for the same period last year.

This year a total of 1,901 fires have burned over 34,900 acres. During the same period of time last year, 2,657 fires burned 62,877 acres.

In spite of Florida's having the worst fire record in the nation, a trend over the past ten years shows a gradual decrease in the number of fires on protected land. Latest figures indicate that there were 8 percent less fires on protected land in 1956 than in 1955.

"A decrease in fires," stated Bethea, "is no reason for slackened efforts in the public effort to prevent fires. Florida still has a long way to go and we are asking for continued vigilance and care with fire to help in the great task of fire prevention."

Three Counties Turned In Fire Records

Tallahassee — The Florida Forest Service today announced that at least three counties in the state turned in fire records for last year that were below the national average for 1956.

County fire records throughout the state are evaluated on a standard which give a picture of the county's performance during the year. By figuring the average number of fires that each county has per 100,000 acres of protected forestland, Franklin, Gulf and Taylor County lead the state with fire records that were below the national average. Franklin had an average of 11.0, Gulf followed with 14.6 and Taylor County had an average of 19.2. The national average is about 20 fires on the same standard.

Four additional counties had exceptional fire records for the year. They are: Liberty 20.4, Calhoun 21.8, Bay 23.4 and Jackson 25.0.

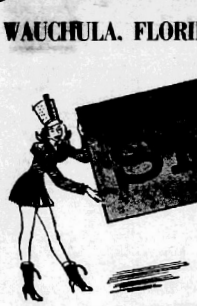

These counties are just above the national average. However, their performance when compared to the average number of fires for the state, does merit recognition. In 1956 Florida had an average of 49 fires for every 100,000 acres of forestland protected by the Florida Forest Service, whereas, not long ago, in 1951, Florida averaged 79 fires on its protected land.

Although Florida's average is still well above the national average, there has been a gradual decrease in the last few years.

Soil Conservation

By C. F. Howerton

U.S. Soil Conservation Service

Sam Polston, Soil Conserva- tionist of the Highlands Soil Conservation District, took the Sebring FFA Chapter on a field trip last Wednesday. About 80 members of the chapter and Mrs. Kenneth Eaddy, vocation- al agriculture teacher, went on the trip. They visited George Waggaman's ranch at Lorida where they studied soils, a long range ranch development plan and how it was fitted to the soil. They also studied details of the drainage and irrigation system and saw 200 acres of clover pasture under seepage irrigation that Mr. Waggaman established last year on flat- woods land.

The District assisted Tobler Ranch of Lake Placid in lo- cating proper routes for deep drainage ditches on organic soil that will be planted to im- proved pasture.

A water control system was staked out on improved pasture for W. M. Payne of Sebring and a drainage outlet ditch was staked for B. J. Harris and Son of Lake Placid on a tract of land that will be cleared and planted to caladiums this year.

Chamber Adds Assistant To Secretary

Mrs. Welch Fisher will as- sist Mrs. Anna Belle Worden in the Chamber of Commerce office on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings.

Due to the rapid growth of Avon Park and the increased activity at the Chamber office has created a demand for more personnel in the Chamber of- fice so the Avon Park Lake Development is supplying the Chamber with added help three mornings a week.

This assistance is desperately needed because the Chamber office is being deluged with re- quests for help and information daily. At almost any hour of the day one can find visitors or residents asking information, assistance or consulting the re- gistration list.

New Sponsor Of Awards Named In 4-H Program

Chicago (Special)—The new donor of awards in the national 4-H food preparation program is Betty Crocker of General Mills, Minneapolis, Minn., ac- cording to an announcement made by G. L. Noble, director of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work. Last year more than 600,000 members of 4-H Clubs between the ages of 10 and 21 years enrolled in the project. They prepared and served approxi- mately 37 million different dishes and meals, Mr. Noble reported.

"At General Mills we cherish the opportunity to be a part of 4-H," said Harry A. Bullis, chairman of the board. "Through the years we have endeavored to help in various ways. Now, our major effort will be focused on the food preparation project."

Six $400 college scholarships will be offered to the 1957 national winners who will be announced by the Cooperative Extension Service during the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next fall. State cham- pions will be awarded an all- expense trip to the Congress. In addition, it is estimated that General Mills will provide about 10,000 county medals of honor to be pinned on deserv- ing 4-H members in 2500 coun- ties participating in the food preparation project.

The purpose of the program is to develop leadership as well as skill in preparing and serv- ing meals, and to acquire pro- per eating habits as a prere- quisite of good health. The youthful cooks "learn by do- ing," which is the 4-H way. Along with meal planning, they are taught to buy foods wisely, and to utilize home grown pro- ducts as well.

Senator Spessard Holland

SHRIMP INDUSTRY HAS PROBLEM — Last week, with Senator Lyndon Johnson, of Texas, I testified at the Senate hearings on Treasury Department Appropriations in support of funds to provide two additional U. S. Coast Guard patrol vessels for duty in the Gulf of Mexico where our commercial fishermen have had much trouble with the Mexican government.

Claiming that our fishermen, particularly shrimpers, are working in their territorial waters, the Mexicans have, during the last two years or more, seized numerous American fishing boats, confiscated their catches and gear, and imposed heavy fines on the operators. The presence of one Coast Guard cutter has always assured peace in its immediate neighborhood.

For several years the Congressional delegations from the Gulf States have vainly tried through the State Department to promote a workable agreement between our government and Mexico on joint use of the international waters of the Gulf. In a recent conference with Under-Secretary of State Christian Herter and other high government officials, representatives of the National Shrimp Congress strongly recommended the assignment of additional U. S. Coast Guard patrol vessels in the troubled area so that two will always be on patrol. The fishing industry is convinced, and so am I, that the constant presence of two Coast Guard vessels will serve as a strong deterrent to more trouble.

SUPERVISING PRINCIPALS MEET — The National Association of Supervising Principals of Secondary Schools held their annual convention here last week. A Florida contingent of thirty-five principals and several college professors were present. I had the pleasure of visiting with them at breakfast. Wide newspaper publicity of the convention's daily forums points up the national interest in the problems of our public school system. Florida's splendid delegation was led by State Association president Orville Davis, Principal of Edgewater High School, Orlando.

LEGION REHABILITATION CONFERENCE — Florida was well represented at the American Legion's annual Rehabilitation Conference held in Washington last week. This dedicated group is doing a fine service for disabled veterans and it was a real pleasure to have breakfast with them and to see them in action. The Florida delegation to the Conference was headed by State Legion Commander Billy Anderson, Rehabilitation Commission Chairman Joseph D. Murray and State Service Officer Melvin T. Dixon.

FARM BUREAU FEDERATION — Winners in the American Farm Bureau Federation's County membership contest from Florida, Mississippi, Tennessee and Kentucky were awarded trips to Washington by the Bureau. While they were here last week I was privileged to address these leading farm people at a dinner meeting. The eight winners from Florida were Harold Henschen, Oakland; Mrs. Anna Freisinger, Cantonment; Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Findley, Jay; Chas. A. Barth, Center Hill; Lionel Villemeaire, Ruskin; Geo. W. Broxson, Ponce de Leon; and T. J. Fletcher, Jr., O'Brien. They were accompanied on the trip by T. K. McClane, Executive Vice President of the Florida Farm Bureau Federation.

POULTRY INSPECTION — Recent testimony before our Senate Agriculture Committee on bills to provide compulsory Federal inspection of poultry slaughtered for market showed Florida to be a pioneer state in establishing regulations to insure that the industry follows sanitary practices and that only healthy birds are marketed. Testifying for Florida poultrymen were Thomas J. Mullin, Director of the Poultry and Egg Inspection Division of the Florida Department of Agriculture; State Senator Harry O. Stratton, Chairman, Florida Legislative Poultry Committee; Roger Painter, of Jacksonville, and Harold Irvin, of Callahan.

FLORIDA AIRCRAFT INDUSTRY — Members of the Florida Congressional delegation were guests of officials of the United Aircraft Corporation at a "get acquainted" dinner here on Feb. 27. Their Pratt-Whitney engine testing plant is under construction near West Palm Beach and their Hamilton Division is building an electronics plant near St. Petersburg. These plants are important additions to Florida's growing industrial economy.

BUSY WEEK-END—On Friday, March 1, I attended the Centennial Celebration at Leesburg where I was a guest at their Good Neighbor Day festivities. It was a splendid occasion climaxed that evening by the Centurama, an impressive historical pageant. Saturday, Mary and I took part in the colorful parade of the Sara de Soto Festival at Sarasota. Sunday, we both participated in the dedication of the long-needed Cortez Bridge from Bradenton to Anna Maria Island. Monday, I was in Miami where I spoke at the "Kick-off" luncheon of the Date County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

MIDDLE EAST RESOLUTION PASSED — The first major legislation of this session was sent to the White House March 7 when Congress finished action on the President's Middle East Program. As we passed this measure it included several Senate amendments which in my judgment greatly improved it. This clears the deck for other important legislation already approved by Committees.

Weedless Corn

The USDA predicts there soon will be no more weeds in corn, reports the March issue of the Florida Grower and Rancher.

Randox, a new chemical, can knock out such grassy nuisances in corn fields as fox tail and crab grass. Four pounds per acre, pre-emergence, does the trick in protecting corn, soybeans, and several truck crops.

Simazin may be even more useful, once it is marketed. As little as two pounds per acre kills most weeds; as much as 12 is not harmful to such crops as sweet corn — and may actually stimulate it.

Nickel is the third most magnetic element, after iron and cobalt.

CRACKER POLITICS

BY ALLEN MORRIS

Tallahassee — State School Superintendent Thomas D. Bailey, who has fathered the community junior college movement in Florida, says: "Please don't call them 'baby' universities!"

"The community junior college is a distinct type of educational institution," explains Superintendent Bailey. "The junior college serves fields apart from the university, even though many of its graduates may enter some university for further education.

"The primary purpose of the junior college is to provide educational opportunity for the people — including the adults — of its particular community. And each junior college will be somewhat different from the others because of the varying needs of the areas served."

(Florida presently has five public junior colleges which derive some financial support from the State under the 1947 Minimum Foundation Program. Fourteen other localities serving 32 counties have been determined by a State survey to possess certain of the elements necessary to the establishment of a junior college with a minimum enrollment of 400 students. The 1957 Legislature will be asked to bring some of these into existence and to recognize junior colleges as a separate educational program.)

Broadly, a community college finds its justification in:

1. Providing pre-university education within commuting distance for those who either cannot initially afford to live away from home or do not want to do so during the transitional freshman and sophomore years.

("Recent studies indicate," remarks Superintendent Bailey, "that approximately 60 percent of the students entering the freshman class in State universities fail to enter the junior class. This large percentage of 'drop-outs' can be expensive to the State as well as to the families of students. It seems probable that local institutions, because of their lower cost, their convenience, and their more personalized relationships with students, will exert greater holding power than have the universities.")

2. Providing post-high-school education for those who wish specialized training which will enable them to pursue an occupation that does not require a four-year college degree.

("Florida has a responsibility to both youth and industry to provide training opportunities so that our own citizens may offer both leadership and service in Florida's rapidly expanding industrial economy," asserts Superintendent Bailey. "During eight recent months, 287 industries located in Florida. A survey indicates that industry needs five technicians for every engineer employed.")

3. Providing the opportunity for adults to receive such training as will qualify them for (a) employment, (b) promotion, and (c) improved performance.

("A varied adult program should result," opines Superintendent Bailey, " in a better level of living, larger incomes, higher cultural standards, and greater satisfaction in life for the citizens of any area served by a community junior college.")

4. Enabling both adults and recent high school graduates to take courses which interest them but may not have any direct bearing on either academic or vocational aspirations.

"No Floridian should, be denied the opportunity for a post-high school education, consistent with his abilities and aptitudes," observes Superintendent Bailey. "I do not believe Florida wants an educational elite, selected on the basis of the financial ability of parents or on the basis of limited types of educational programs available to them.")

What has caused the flowering of the junior college movement in Florida?

"When surveys undertaken several years ago began to reveal the tremendous number of students who would be knocking at the doors of the institutions of higher learning within the next decade," explained Superintendent Bailey, "it became perfectly obvious that thinking needed to be done to provide the means of furnishing at least two years of higher education at a much lower cost to both parents and the State than could possibly be provided through the universities.

"The experience we already possessed with the four public junior colleges then existing indicated that this approach to meeting a future problem was realistic and practical."

As part of the cost advantages, Superintendent Bailey visualizes junior college utilization of the auxiliary facilities of a community's high school — the common use of the auditorium, gymnasium and cafeteria, so that the small college may be brought into being by simply providing a classroom building.

"I'm a great believer in the small institution," says the State School Superintendent, "just as I believe there is a very definite place fir the larger university for those people who are ready for specialization."

Superintendent Bailey's own experience as a student and as an educator inclines him toward the small college.

"At Wofford College, we students knew our professors rather intimately," he recalls. "As homesick, sophomore-bedeviled freshmen, Sunday dinner with the President helped us to adjust to college and certainly gave many a fair chance for success there."

Later, Superintendent Bailey was President of Thomas Industrial Institute, a preparatory school at DeFuniak Springs sponsored by the South Alabama Methodist Conference. There were few recognized high schools in West Florida then, and Thomas Industrial Institute drew its 100 students from a broad region into an atmosphere where books were but part of education.

Superintendent Bailey was reminiscing the other day with one of his students from Thomas Industrial Institute, B. K. Roberts of Sopchoppy, now Justice of the Florida Supreme Court.

"I believe T.I.I. was the turning point in my life," opined Justice Roberts. "It gave me the ambition to seek a higher education. It was my first time away from home. If it had not been for the family atmosphere at T.I.I. I might have returned home to spend my life in farming or timbering."
