Anderson Hurdled Two Hitter To Win 4-0 Monday

The unbeaten Avon Park Red Devils shut out the Sebring Blue Streaks, 4-0, last Monday night for their nineteenth straight win and one of District Six sub-group championships. The win puts the Devils into the Class A District Six playoff finals with Mulberry, the other sub-group winner. This best-two-out-of-three games series will be played this week and the winner will represent District Six at the State Baseball Tournament in June.

Lefty Chuck Anderson posted his eighth win of the season as he hurled a two-hitter against the Blue Streaks, striking out eight and walking only three. It was Anderson's third win over the Blue Streaks who have lost four games to the Devils this season. Sebring has never won a baseball game from Avon Park since the team's inception.

Avon Park scored two runs in the first when Dale Landrum drove Winkie Williams across with a single and then scored on an error by the Blue Streak third baseman. In the 4th frame, the Red Devils added two more runs as Williams was hit by a pitched ball. Landrum was safe on a fielders choice, and Johnny Stirling sent both runners home with a double over the head of the center fielder.

Devils Play Mulberry Here Friday

The first game of the District Six playoff finals between the Avon Park Red Devils and the Mulberry Panthers was rained out after one and a half innings of play last Tuesday night at Head Field. Mulberry will now play host to the Red Devils at Lakeland Thursday night, May 16, for the rescheduled first game of the best-two-out-of-three game series which will determine the District Six representative to the State high school baseball tournament.

The second game of the series is scheduled to be played here at Head Field Friday night, May 17, at 8 o'clock. The site and date of the third game will be determined at a later date if such a game is necessary.

Mulberry gained the finals with an upset win over Plant City and Avon Park shut out Sebring to advance to the play-off.

Avon Park is the defending champion of District Six.

Miss Basemore To Compete In Area Contest

Miss Patricia Basemore of Avon Park is winner in the Highlands County Soil Conservation District Public Speaking contest, May 1, and will compete in the Area Contest in Moore Haven today, May 16. Also making the trip as runner-up is Harold Jackson of Sebring. Mr. Barney Howard, of the Avon Citrus Bank in Avon Park, presented cash prizes of $15.00 to Miss Basemore and $10.00 to Harold Jackson in the county contest.

The area winners will compete in the State Contest in August at the annual meeting of the Soil Conservation District supervisors.

The topic of their talks was "What the Conservation of Our Natural Resources Means to You," and the state wide contest is sponsored by the Florida Association of Soil Conservation Districts. Mr. Jack Ingie, Highlands District Supervisor in Sebring said he felt the contest served two purposes. To teach conservation to the people and at the same time encourage school children in gainful experience in public speaking.

J. W. Clanton Killed By Train In Sebring

The maintenance crew of the Seboard Air Line Railroad discovered the mangled remains of a man early Tuesday morning, May 14, about a mile south of the Sebring station.

The man was identified as Jasper Washington Clanton, 48, present address unknown, but formerly of Apopka and Tampa, from personal possessions found in his clothing.

County Judge Mervin Rehner and Sheriff Broward Coker said death was accidental after inspecting the scene and believing that Clanton was walking along the track when struck by a passenger or freight train during the night.

Florida Joins The Fight

When the South's fight for survival of its schools began, nearly three years ago, critics of the Supreme Court initially expected to see the States that might be expected to align themselves against the court's race-mixing decree: South Carolina and Georgia, of course, and Mississippi, Alabama and most probably Louisiana. Virginia was at first a question mark; so was North Carolina. Not much was expected of Texas, Arkansas or Tennessee. And curiously enough, Florida scarcely entered the speculation at all. Florida was regarded, politically, as a sort of Winter suburb of Washington—a land apart, neither Old South nor Deep South, a cosmopolitan domain not much concerned with constitutional issues.

Within the past month, we have discovered—and what a wonderful gratifying experience it has been—how wrong that speculation was.

On March 8, the Florida Supreme Court, in an amazingly courageous decision, flatly defied a mandate of the United States Supreme Court in a school segregation case. The Florida judges sharply criticized the United States Supreme Court for encroaching upon the sovereignty of States. They reasserted the oldest and most honored doctrines of States' rights in unmistakable terms.

And on April 18 the Florida Legislature completed adoption of a ringing Resolution of Interposition, asserting the Legislature's solemn convictions that the court's segregation opinions (and other encroaching opinions also) are "null, void, and of no force and effect." In Florida's view, "it is clear that the court has deliberately resolved to disobey the Constitution of the United States, and to flout and defy the Supreme Law of the Land." The people of Florida, said the Legislature, "do not consent to changing State precedents and their rights by having doctrines thrust upon them by naked force alone."

This resolution from Florida has a multiple significance. It comes almost three full years after the court's original opinion, which surely would indicate that resistance in the South is not diminishing, but is in fact increasing. The resolution was adopted over the strenuous opposition of Florida's Governor Collins, a gentleman who has disappointed many of his conservative friends: Victims of the Vice-Presidency, it is feared, done in his head. Finally, Florida's resolution went beyond the school segregation cases, and directed its hard-hitting provisions to several other usurpations as well.

Looking across the South, one now finds an area more united than it has been on a single issue in many years. Texas and Arkansas, in one sense, have provided even more dramatic evidence of their convictions than most other States: In Texas and Arkansas, the people of the States themselves—the ultimate source of sovereignty in this Republic—have voted in constitutional referenda in favor of State interposition against Federal encroachment. Virginia stands firm. Not a school has been integrated in North Carolina. In South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi, resistance is so solid that scarcely a school official is troubled by a law suit. Louisiana's opposition becomes steadily more resolute. There is much reason to believe that Tennessee, if it had the opportunity to vote on an appropriate constitutional provision, would overwhelmingly reject any ratification of the court's integration decree.

What it comes to is that 11 of the sovereign States—almost the one-fourth plus that may defeat a constitutional change—stand publicly allied against the amendment enacted upon the Fourteenth Amendment by the court in 1954. Under Article V of the Constitution, no change in our fundamental law may be made without the consent of three-fourths of the States. There is now an obvious, demonstrable doubt that three-fourths of the States would approve the court's action. In addition to the 11 States mentioned, one may suggest such States as Maryland, Oklahoma, Arizona, Nevada, Indiana and Idaho—in these and others, stout sentiments of States' rights still prevail.

Florida's strongly-worded resolution tells us, among other things, that the battle is far from lost. The battle, we would say to the court, is just beginning.—Richmond News Leader, May 3, 1957.

Where Women Are Wiser

The largest single group of shareholders in American enterprise consists of housewives and women who have jobs. They account for more than 34 per cent of all the shareholders in the whole country.

That remarkable fact is reported by Virginia Kachan, of International News Service. Miss Kachan goes on to tell more about women as investors. For example, women take a different attitude in buying stock than do men. The head of a large brokerage firm told her "A man with $10,000 comes in with an apology for the smallness of the amount and asks if we will consent to take him on as a client. But a woman comes in with $200 or $300 and wants to know what we have to offer."

Florida Heart Association Gives $18,815 For Heart Research

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Grants in aid totaling $18,815 to Florida physicians and undergraduates have been awarded by the Florida Heart Assn., to be used in heart research.

The announcement was made by Dr. Sidney Davidson, of Lake Worth, chairman of the Florida Heart Assn.'s professional and lay education committee, who said the grants, to three Florida undergraduates were, "To stimulate an interest in medical scientific research in undergraduates and, hopefully, bringing new young men into this field."

Grants to physicians, for medical research, were as follows: Dr. Philip Samet, director, cardio-pulmonary laboratory, Mount Sinai Hospital, of Greater Miami, Miami Beach, $5,000; Dr. Bennett Salmon, associate professor, department of bacteriology, University of Miami School of Medicine, Coral Gables, $3,000; and Dr. Milton S. Sacklaw, director of medical research, National Children's Cardiac Hospital, Miami $3,000.

Undergraduates aided by the research grants were: Howard Novitch, University of Miami, $780; Albert Frederick Jr., University of Florida, $600; and Larry Jaffe, University of Miami, $435.

Allocation of the grants was made possible by money raised by the Florida Heart Assn. during the 1957 Heart Fund campaign in Florida.

The three objectives of the Heart Assn. are research, education, and community service.

Correction

In the write-up in the Avon Park Sun last week on the May Day program it failed to mention that Mrs. Virgil Hall, Jr., Avon Elementary Music teacher, was the director of the Rhythmic Band, Danish Dance, and Ribbon Dance.

Mrs. Hall did a wonderful job in instructing the children for these numbers and should receive the credit.

DO YOU KNOW?

By James D. Judd
Evangelist, Church of Christ

Last week we ask the question, "Where does the Bible say anything about getting religion?" At this time NO ONE has sent the passage, even though many teach this and say that it is in the Bible.

In the Old Testament the word does not occur, and it is found only five times in the King James translation of the New Testament. But in all these passages it is evident that religion is something men DO NOT something they get. Paul referred to his early religion as this manner of life: "My manner of life from my youth... know all the Jews; which knew me from the beginning, if they would testify, that after the strictest sect of our religion I lived a Pharisee." (Acts 26:4-5) His religion at that time was not something he received in answer to prayer—but was his manner of life, it referred to what he did. In Galatians 1:13-14 he said: "For ye heard of my conversation in time past in the Jew's religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and wasted it; and profited in the Jew's religion above many my equals in mine own nation." The religion mentioned here was his conversation, or his conduct, his manner of life, instead of something he received or "got."

James says in James 1:26-27: "If any man among you seems to be religious, and bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain. Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unstained from the world." Two kinds of religion are here mentioned—vain religion and pure and undefiled religion. But even the vain religion refers to something the man does—not his tongue but deceives his own heart. Also the pure and the undefiled religion is NOT something one gets but something he does, for James says it is "to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction." This refers to deeds we do. Also to "keep himself unstained from the world" surely refers to the manner of living. But the Bible says that is religion.

If you perform the Christian religion you are a Christian. If you DO NOT perform the Christian religion you are NOT a Christian. What ever you DO in religion makes you what you are, whether it be pure religion or vain religion. You don't go out and get it. You become what you are by what you do. If you desire to be a Christian you must do what Christ teaches. The article will not appear for the next two weeks as I will be in Michigan conducting a revival.

herefore speak I to them in parables: because they seeing see not; and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand.

(St. Matthew 13:13)

THE PARABLE is the basis of all religious education. From infancy through adult life we learn spiritual truths only as they are interpreted for us in terms of every-day experience.

OUR CHURCHES follow the example of the Greatest Teacher. Simple precepts or more complex doctrines are brought to us in vivid illustration. Lessons, sermons, hymns—even church architecture and ritual—are full of human narrative, word pictures or traditional symbolism to help us grasp and apply God's truth.

SPIRITUAL MATURITY must come to us through the effective teaching and practical guidance our churches provide. Our souls cannot grow simply by seeing a church on the corner, or hearing folks talk about religion. Worshipping and learning every Sunday, we will understand Christian truth in living terms and use our understanding to serve God and man.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Outdoor Motors Available For Only 10% Down

A convenient new time payment plan for the purchase of outdoor motors, boats and trailers has been announced by J. Paxton Hill, the Avon Park authorized Mercury outdoor dealer.

An outstanding feature of the new plan is that a new motor may be purchased with only a 10% down payment. Additional payments may be extended to 24 months. During the payment period, the purchaser also receives the benefit of life insurance and the motor also is protected against loss or theft, with an all-risk policy that has a low premium only $5.

"It's easy to understand why this new program has been so popular," stated Paxton Hill. "Most people today are faced with the problem of financing a purchase on a time payment plan. It is only natural that a pleasure item like an outdoor motor be financed in this manner."

Under the new program, a Mercury outdoor motor can be purchased for as little as $23.15 a month. If the motor is in many cases, a trade-in motor would more than cover the initial down payment and the subsequent payments could be arranged using the new terms. The Mercury Time Payment Plan is the first ever to be offered in the outdoor motor field and is being underwritten by the manufacturer.

Popular Weekly Church Feature Begins This Week

A non-denominational "Support the Church" advertising service designed to stimulate interest in church activities and increase church attendance appears in this issue of the Sun.

This program, prepared by the Kestler Advertising Service, Strasburg, Virginia, is being used regularly in over 950 daily and weekly newspapers from coast to coast, and has been running for from two to ten years continuously in many of these papers.

It has been endorsed by outstanding church leaders. The theme of the advertising is kept on a non-denominational basis so that it carries a message for all Faiths.

Local merchants who are co-operating in the sponsorship of the timely, beautifully written messages feel that they will serve a definite purpose in reminding the citizens of Avon Park of the necessity for strong churches. The sponsors are as follows: Cove Realty Inc., Wells Motor Co., Metcalf Hardware Co., Inc., Delaney Hardware, Western Auto Associate Store, I. H. Ford Motor Co., Avon Citrus Bank, Ray's Bakery, Lakeside Motel, Lake Breadwood Court, Capell's Gift Service Station, R. H. Nutt Thrift Shop, Griffin's Restaurant, Capwell's Cakes and Gift Shop, Stinson Realty Co., Avon Amoco Service Station, Ratliff-Roberts Agency, Wain's Department Store, Del Ray Motel, Meade Motor Cleaners, Hart's Garage, Green's Sundry Store and the Avon Park Sun.

Support of the churches is sound business in any community. It takes no oracle to note the stability of a community with strong active churches.

The "Support the Church" feature will be run each week and will consist in most instances of a parable-like message, beautifully illustrated. The program has proven popular in hundreds of other communities over the U.S.A., Canada and throughout the world.

The committee is in favor of the First Aid Course, Home-making, Musical and Physical Education programs in the local high school, and stated the program will be run each week in an effective and meaningful manner.

Following the reception, the couple left for a short honeymoon in the Central part of the state, the bride wearing a white nylon dress trimmed with blue bows and the orchid lifted from her wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Simpson is presently in the U.S. Navy, and left Tuesday to report to Newport, R.I. Mrs. Simpson will remain in Avon Park and continue her schooling until she is able to join her husband.

The bride's gown was a floor length princess style model of bridal satin with a Chantilly lace yoke. Her sheer illusion veil was fastened to a scalloped crown cap and a double strand of pearls completed the bride's outfit. She carried a bouquet of ribbon and tulle, from which flowed tiny ribbon streamers of satin bows and blossoms.

Mrs. O'Connor wore a ballerina length gown of blue net, with a crown cap and arm corsage of white carnations.

The bride's mother chose a street length dress of blue net, with a crown cap and arm corsage of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the Young Peoples Department. The bride's book was kept by Mrs. Glenn Simpson.

Murphys Purchase Farm In N. C. For Cattle And Pony Business

Mr. and Mrs. Oakley G. Murphy of Avon Park have purchased the Pine Crest Farm, which is one of the show places in the 100-year-old legendary Blue Ridge Area in North Carolina.

The Murphy plan to raise pure-bred cattle and Shetland ponies on the 78.5 acre estate which is just on the south edge of Hendersonville.

The former owner was Francis J. Rue, who with Mrs. Rue, had resided there for many years. Mr. Rue had listed the property for $100,000.

Murphy is well known here as a ranch owner, lumber and ship wood dealer, citrus grower, has oil rights, developer and business leader. He was former owner of 15,000 acres in ranch and in Highlands County, which with buildings, equipment and 3,500 head of cattle, he sold to Florida investors for $3,000,000.

At the present time the Murphys live in Hendersonville but will return soon, when they go back will take with them pure-bred cattle and a herd of 10 Shetland ponies.

The estate dates to the period in the early 1800s when Flat Rock was settled by Charles-Thomas French, blacksmith, statesman and other Southern leaders. The main house has the Chesterfield Cigarette Factory, Circle K, R. H. E. Sebring, 000 000 0-0 2 4 Avon Park, 000 000 0-0 2 4 Edwards and Brown; Anderson and L. Starling.

Growers Mutual—
"I am glad to see the growers' mutuals," according to Robert R. Rutledge, Mutual general manager, "was more than offset from an economic standpoint by the reduction in the California orange crop of a million boxes."

"If anything else happens of significant nature to change the Valencia values Mutual has announced, full information will be presented to the growers at each of the district meetings, including the reasons for such change."

Next week's meetings will be held in Tampa, Tallahassee, Orlando, Wauchula, Winter Haven. Mutual grower members will elect three directors at each of the meetings to serve during the coming crop year. These 18 directors, together with the three selected June 1 at Vero Beach, will be formally seated at Mutual's annual meeting in Winter Haven on June 18.

The new board of directors will meet immediately after the annual meeting and, based on the pattern of the past few years, will pick its officers to serve during the period when the 1957-58 crop will be harvested.

All of the May 22 meetings start at 2:30 o'clock. As in past years the meetings follow immediately after sessions held by the Growers Administrative Committee to nominate members who will operate the federal citrus marketing agreement during the coming season.

Poppy Day—
ing May 25, when the corps of volunteers organized by Mrs. Francis Welch, the Auxiliary's Poppy Chairman, will be out with their baskets of poppies to greet citizens on their way to work. They will continue to work throughout the day, covering outlying business centers as well as the downtown district. Before the day ends, they hope to see the little red flower of remembrance glowing on every lapel.

Contributions for the Auxiliary's work for disabled veterans and needy children of veterans will be received by the Poppy Day volunteers. These contributions form the financial base of support for the Auxiliary's rehabilitation and child welfare programs. As the Auxiliary's poppy program is carried out by volunteers, all of the money contained, over the cost of the materials and the wages paid disabled veterans who make the poppies, goes to the disabled and children, Mrs. Welch explained.

Air Force—

Master Sgt. Jack D. Wilson, Houston, Texas.

Technical Sergeant Billy Martin, Memphis, Tenn.

In querying these persons as to their reasons for buying lots at Avon Park Lakes, the development which is being sponsored by the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce, their answers ran along fairly similar lines. They plan to eventually settle in the State of Florida, and feel that the Avon Park area is an ideal and promising location. The advantage of living near friends and acquaintances made while in the service has been another feature which the buyers have found desirable. Here are a few sample remarks, made by some of the buyers.

Major Kempe: "I'm planning to make Florida my home after I retire and Avon Park Lakes seems like a sound investment."

Major Wysocki: "I consider Avon Park Lakes as an investment in retirement. I want to settle in Florida when I retire from active duty and I like the idea of living in a community comprised of the friends that I met in the Air Force."

Sergeant Filicomo: "I have no doubt that Avon Park Lakes will develop considerably during the next 20 years and I think that it will be an ideal spot in which to settle after retirement."

Sergeant Saunders: "I've been planning to settle in Florida when I retire and the Avon Park Lakes offer seemed very promising."

The base at Prestwick, is not particularly large as Air Force bases go, but is very busy and active throughout the year. Prestwick is primarily a British Civil International Airport and the United States Air Force shares space as an associate organization along with five civilian airlines.

Home of the 1602d Air Transport Wing and the 1631st Air Base Group, the base has developed since its establishment in 1951 into one of the major links in the Military Air Transport Service (MATS) Transatlantic Chain between the U.S. and Europe.

The Military Air Transport Service is in effect a military version of a commercial airline carrying mail, passengers and cargo to all parts of the earth via scheduled flights. MATS may, in fact, well be referred to as the world's largest "airline."

At Prestwick, MATS Airlines are flying between Europe and the United States stop over for traffic services. These services essentially include aircraft refueling and servicing, aircraft engine repair when necessary, and feeding and billeting of passengers when necessary.

One of the factors that make Prestwick such a busy base is its weather. While Prestwick's climate in general is usually far from a sun-lover's delight, its weather in regard to flying conditions is ideal. Located on Scotland's Southwest coast, less than two miles from the water of the Firth of Clyde, Prestwick Airport enjoys favorable flying weather almost continuously.

Because of this all important factor many aircraft are scheduled to pass through Prestwick in preference to other routes while other aircraft are often diverted to Prestwick when landing conditions at their intended destinations are below minimum.

During an average month the 1631st MATS traffic and Operations section handle more than 350 scheduled and non-scheduled flights and more than 12,000 passengers. An example of how busy Prestwick can get at times occurred in mid-December 1956, when the 1631st set a MATS record for a single day's work by handling a total of 35 scheduled departures and 120 passengers during a 24-hour period.

As for Very Important Persons, they normally are transported by MATS when they travel by military aircraft and on occasion pass through Prestwick.

Vice President Nixon was a visitor at the base during the recent Hungarian Refugee Air-lift in December 1956, when his MATS aircraft stopped at Prestwick for refueling en route from Austria to the U.S.

Telephone

The new building addition will be of modern design and will have increased floor space of over 100% of present building. The architects and engineers are the firm of Gaudin and Wilson of Fort Myers, and the building and microwave tower foundation work will be handled by H. L. Long, Building Contractor, who constructs all of Inter-County Telephone System's buildings. The first floor building addition will include the new spacious modern business office and equipment room. The second floor will provide space for six additional toll switchboard positions for the coming season, large operator's lounge and additional space for future growth.

Avon Park Long Distance operators handle calls for the changes of Avon Park, Bowling Green, Fort Meade, Lake Placid, Okechobee, Sebring and Wauchula. The exchange serves approximately 10,000 telephones and of this number, 2,100 are in the area. There will be 28 Long Distance switchboard positions in service and will require 71 operators and supervisors.

Inter-County Telephone System and Peninsular Telephone Company have a joint new toll cable project connecting their Long Distance facilities between Frostproof and Avon Park, which will improve the present toll circuits and provide additional circuits for immediate use. Included in the project are ample facilities for future development.

The microwave project is being inaugurated to supplement the present Inter-County Toll System. This type of system will supply ample toll facilities for this area for the next several years. The microwave system is the latest transmitting equipment for Long Distance calls without wires, employing a directional beam of radio energy. Frequency signals will be in the 900 megacycle band and will be beamed from the Parabolic Antennas on top of the 175 foot self-supporting tower. Special permits are obtained from the Federal Communications Commission and the Civil Aeronautics Authority before construction and operation can be started.

The microwave project at Avon Park will be integrated with Inter-County System's network of microwave radio relay system and connecting with the Peninsular Telephone Company System, and that of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company and American Telephone and Telegraph Co. This system will provide 24 additional Long Distance circuits at the inception and has a capacity of more than 300 circuits.

The Inter-County Telephone System now has microwave systems located at Fort Myers, Naples, Clewiston, Hialeah Springs, LaBelle, Punta Gorda and Arcadia. Additional microwave towers and equipment are planned for Avon Park and Wauchula during this coming season.

The outside cable and open-wire plant in Avon Park will be expanded by many thousands of feet. This plant will provide facilities for upgrade in present service and future demands for additional service.

In making this large investment in Avon Park, we feel that we will meet our responsibility of furnishing adequate telephone service to our customers, and continue our policy to keep pace with the growth in the area which we serve, under Mr. Johnson.

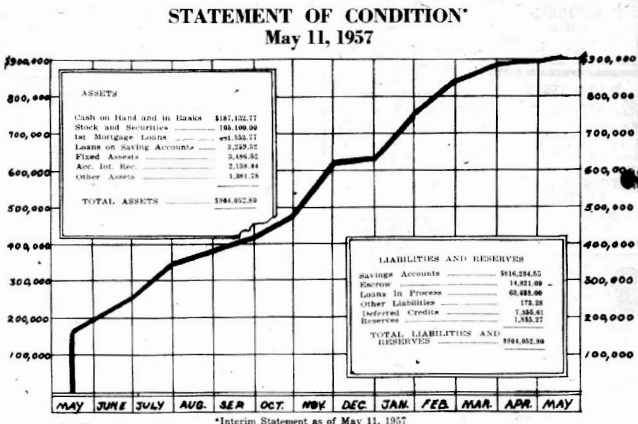

Under the constitution of 1958, Florida had a lieutenant governor until the position was abolished by the legislature in 1965.

MORE ABOUT SCREW
WORM PROBLEM — Senator Holland is still pushing his fight against screw worms — a plague that cost Florida cattle more than $10 million last year. He succeeded in getting the U.S. Department of Agriculture to set up a "pilot" control laboratory just below Orlando to an emergency basis, but feels this is not enough. He wants a permanent laboratory established to work at the problem constantly. He wants to go "home" instead of piece meal. This week he personally asked Secretary of Agriculture Benson to initiate a request for supplemental funds to match the $3 million already put up by the Florida State Legislature. Holland is dead serious about eradicating screw worm and says that if the USDA puts in a request for the special funds, he is reasonably sure he can get the money.

SERVES AGAIN — Congressman Paul Rogers will serve for the second straight year as chairman of the Resolutions Committee of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress which opens its 44th annual meeting here May 18. Rogers' committee will set up the policy of the Congress on conservation of water and land resources. When approved, his work will constitute the program of the Congress for next year. He was appointed by Congressman Overton Brooks of Louisiana. The Committee is made up of one member from each state, territory and possession of the United States and the District of Columbia.

HIGH HONORS IN WASHINGTON — A St. Petersburg lady has been given the "red carpet" treatment in Washington. Mrs. Genevieve Farris, was named employee of the year by the Goodwill Industries because of her outstanding achievements as a handicapped worker. Mrs. Farris had polio four years ago, which left her without the use of her hands or arms. She works at the Goodwill Industries office, answering the phone with a desk microphone and dialing it with her left foot. While in Washington she visited President Eisenhower in the White House, dined with Senators Holland and Smith, and was given her award at a big banquet where other employees also were honored. Her special treatment began in St. Petersburg where she was put on the plane by Congressman Bill Cramer, Director for the St. Petersburg Goodwill Industries. Dr. Robert C. Adair, recommended Mrs. Farris for

Met Thursday

Founders Circle, Avon Park Federation of Garden Clubs, met Thursday night, May 9, at the home of Mrs. C. E. Lanier with Mrs. John Hood as co-hostess.

The twenty-three members present thoroughly enjoyed the beautiful colored slides of the Redwood Forest and the California Flower Show. These slides were furnished by the National Council of Garden Clubs, New York.

The newly installed president, Mrs. E. A. Shepherd, announced some of her committee chairmen. A complete list will be published soon.

Delicious refreshments were used by the hostesses on the terrace.

HIBISCUS CIRCLE — The Hibiscus Circle met at the home of Mrs. George Walters, Thursday afternoon, May 9, with Mrs. Horace Fenton as co-hostess.

Mrs. B. M. Davis, member of the Founders Circle, was guest speaker. She delivered a very interesting and informative address on Conservation.

Mrs. B. F. Camp, also a member of the Founders Circle, was a special guest.

The hostesses served delicious refreshments at the close of the meeting.

There are three ways in which persons can be exposed to atomic radiation, says Arnold B. Grobman, author of "Our Atomic Heritage," published by the University of Florida Press. First, by actual contact at atomic energy plants; second, through contact with atomic waste matter, some of which is buried, or dumped in rivers to be carried out to sea, or discharged in the air. The third way has already been demonstrated twice — at Hiroshima and at Nagasaki.

the award and came to Washington with her.

MONEY ASKING TIME — Last week, Florida had its say before the Appropriations Committee about money for a number of public works projects. Although the projects have been okayed by the Congress, the money has yet to be approved. First was a cooperative request with Georgia and Alabama for $6,750,000 to continue work on the Apalachicola-Flint-Chattoohoe Rivers development. Congressman Bob Sikes was chief spokesman for the group. He then put in a word for one of his own pet projects — a $1,300,000 request for harbor improvements at Port St. Joe. Congressman Billy Matthews asked for $254,000 to buy a channel and turning basin on the Gulf at Horseshoe Cove. Congressman Bill Cramer appeared for $2,250,000 to continue work on the development and improvement of Tampa Harbor. Up from Florida for the hearing were: J. J. Nichols, mayor pro tem of Apalachicola; Joe Pace, manager, and Lewis Atkins and George Atkins, representing the Blountstown Chamber of Commerce; former State Senator George Tapper, County Attorney Silas Stone, general manager of the St. Joe Paper Co.; Harry Saunders and C. D. Frank, engineer for Sinclair Refining Co., all of Port St. Joe.

Do You Have

Do you ever have a yen to make something different? Or would you like to serve leftovers in a really glamorous dish? Try these.

HAM CASSEROLE
To use all those ham scraps! 2 cups ham, chopped
3 eggs beaten
1 pint cream
1/2 cup Parmesan cheese
1/4 cup butter
1 package medium wide noodles.

Use all the lean scraps of a baked ham but also a little of the fat and chop medium fine. You should have at least 2 cups of ground ham. Break the noodles.

Use Mrs. H. E. Keller, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Perry, Mrs. R. R. Porterfield, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Barben and Mrs. C. P. Anderson.

dien in your hand, then boil them in a pot of water, adding only a little salt in case the ham is very salty. This should take about 20 minutes. Strain the noodles. Bake a very well buttered baking dish, ready, and after you have mixed the ham and noodles, fill them into the baking dish and pour the following mixture over them, covering all the noodles.

Beat the eggs well and add the cream. If not all the noodles are covered, add more cream. Sprinkle the top with Parmesan Cheese and put a few small pieces of butter on top of the noodles. Bake in a 375 degree oven for 30 minutes. Serve with a green salad.

CHEESE SOUFFLE
(Good for now when eggs are reasonable in price)
1/4 pound Swiss cheese grated or put through chopper
2 tablespoons butter

1 tablespoon flour
1 1/2 cups top milk
4 egg yolks
5 egg whites
2 tablespoons chopped fresh chives or dried ones
Salt and pepper to taste
Melt butter, add flour, blend well, cook lightly. Add the milk slowly and boil for 1 minute. Add the cheese stirring until all cheese is melted but do not boil. Remove from fire. Cool slightly. Beat in egg yolks one at a time until well blended. Add chives, salt and pepper to taste. Beat the egg whites very stiff, fold in lightly but thoroughly. Turn all into an ungreased baking dish and place in a pan of hot water. Put all into a 375 degree oven and bake for 1 hour.

110 Persons Died In March From Accidents

Tallahassee — There were 34 counties in which no traffic fatalities occurred in March, the Florida Highway Patrol reported today.

However, over half of the 110 persons who died in highway accidents — 58 in all — were killed in crashes in six of the remaining 33 counties in which fatalities did occur.

The patrol's monthly summary showed that Dade continued to lead the state in traffic death losses, with 22 recorded in March. Broward and Okaloosa each counted eight dead, and seven died from traffic crashes in Palm Beach and Pinellas five in Volusia, to be the state's other leaders.

The county-by-county score shaped up this way:

One death each: Alachua, Brevard, Escambia, Holmes, Lake, Manatee, Nassau, Okaloosa, Pasco, Putnam, St. Lucie, Seminole, and Taylor.

Two deaths each: Citrus, Franklin, Indian River, Duval, Santa Rosa and Suwannee.

Three deaths each: Clay, Duval, Highlands, Jackson, and Polk.

Four deaths each: Bay, Hillsborough and Lee.

No death counts: Baker, Bradford, Calhoun, Charlotte, Collier, Columbia, DeSoto, Dixie, Flagler, Gadsden, Gilchrist, Glades, Gulf, Hamilton, Hardee, Hendry, Hernando, Jefferson, Lafayette, Leon, Levy, Liberty, Marion, Martin, Monroe, Okeechobee, Orange, St. Johns, Santa Suiter, Union, Wakulla, Walton, and Washington.

Tree Farming Part Of Pulp And Paper Industry Operation

To help meet the nation's future needs for wood and wood-derived products, industries engaged in the manufacture of paper, pulp and paperboard are carrying on some of the most intensive and effective forest management in the country, according to the 1957 edition of "Facts About the Pulp, Paper and Paperboard Industry," just off the press. Published by American Forest Products Industries, which sponsors the 16-year-old Amer-taxpayers lands, the book says pulp, paper and paperboard companies employ about 1,000 technically trained foresters and give assistance and advice to small woodland owners in the management of farm products, growing continuous tree crops.

"Forestry—the business of has become an accepted part of the processes of the industry," says the booklet, "just as much as the operation of paper machines."

Besides furnishing a market for the nation's growing roster of tree farmers, the pulp, paper and paperboard companies provide full-time jobs for 548,100 workers whose salaries and wages total nearly $2,000,000,000 (billions) annually, the booklet says.

On the basis of latest available statistics, there are 804 mills making paper or paperboard and 330 mills manufacturing pulp. These mills, scattered through 42 states, represent a property investment of $7,800,000,000.
