"Teen - Town Talk"

The Victory Dance drew a nice crowd Friday night after the game with Frostproof. The gold-iron heroes and football fans all did justice to the hot dogs and cold drinks sold for refreshments. Judge and Mrs. Mervin Rehrer and Mr. and Mrs. John Crittendon chaperoned the occasion.

Saturday night there were about 65 present for the weekly session at Teen-Town. Again hot dogs and cold drinks were there for refreshment and as usual plenty of good music, and games. Chaperones were Dr. and Mrs. Stuart Ward and Mr. Andy Miracle, Recreational Director. In addition to Avon Park, Frostproof, Sebring and several other towns were represented.

Nancy Ginn, who finished high school here last spring, and is now attending Stetson College in DeLand, Florida, was home over the week-end. All of her friends were happy to see her at the Club on Friday and Saturday nights. Nancy looked 'sweet and lovely' as always, in matched skirt and sweater sets, one brown and one green. Come back often, Nancy, Avon Park misses you.

Next Friday will be a special night at the Club as the school is holding its homecoming dance right after the game. Admission will be 25c. Hot dogs 10c, Hamburgers 15c and cold drinks 10c. Parents are urged to attend, if only for a few minutes. Some have never been in the Club and we believe that they would enjoy a little visit.

If any Club member has anything of interest they would like to see written up in "Teen-Town Talk" please call Mrs. Coats at 2-7501. Any one willing to volunteer as chaperone call Mrs. Stuart Ward at 2-7471.

Miss Verna Nistendirk, State Director of Regional Libraries, spoke on "The Value of Regional Libraries" to the members of the Avon Park Senior Woman's Club at their luncheon meeting on Friday, Nov. 1, in the Club house. She also stated that November has been designated as "Know your Library Month". Miss Avis Slaughter, Avon Park Librarian was a special guest at the luncheon along with Miss Nistendirk.

Mrs. Ruth Phillips gave her interesting report on International Affairs and urged members to offer their services for Ground Observer Corps. Mrs. Andy Hart and Mrs. P. Johnson were welcomed as new members. Mrs. Ralph Kelly, president, presided over the business session. The club members voted to send Mrs. Kelley, Mrs. Samuel O. Norris and Mrs. Robert Watson as delegates to the District 9 meeting in Bartow on Tuesday, Nov. 5. The club also decided to turn the matter of obtaining an abstract for the land on the east side of the Library over to the Library Committee for further study.

Mrs. Kelly reported briefly on the CDA meeting which she attended, the purpose of which was the "Beautification of Avon Park". It was suggested that all residents be asked to plant petunias during November.

Thanks were extended to Mrs. Charles Kinkelday, Chairman of the Club house Committee, and her committee for the fine work they had done. Mrs. William Reitzner, Chairman of the Luncheon, and her committee were also praised for their fine work.

Mrs. I. H. Ford reported most gratifying results from the pie and cake sales at the Halloween Carnival and received the appreciation of the club for her hard work on this committee.

The next meeting of the Senior Woman's Club in December will be held in the Union Congregational Church with Mrs. Edna Jackson in charge of the program. The time of the meeting will be 3 o'clock.

Winter Guest Club News

Good morning, folks, or is it afternoon? Well, anyway this is the Stroller pinch hitting for Mrs. er, er, the Tattler, who is on leave just at present. But she will be back soon with her wit and sparkle. So cheer up.

Our genial horticulturist, Mrs. Ford, will have a petunia bed here. This is in line with the suggestion by the Sun that everybody plant petunias this month and so make A. P. the "City Beautiful". Good idea. Let's hope that her petunia seeds will be truer to form than some the Stroller sowed recently. The packet read "petunias", but what came up was cauliflower! It has been said that you can't judge a man by his clothes; now it seems you can't judge seeds by what the packet says. But after all a row of cauliflowers in front of the club house wouldn't look bad. Or would it?

The Hallowe'en jamboree on Thursday last, Mrs. Book in charge, was a honey. There were no tricks but plenty of treats in the shape of doughnuts and coffee, thanks to Mrs. Warner. It was a jamboree all right, the house being jam full, nearly 136 elbowing each other round and having a good time. Various games were played, but perhaps the highlight was a square dance engineered by Professor Krenerick, Master of the Dance. It was a novelty dance, men in gowns and women in pants. They whooped it up and had a fine time. You should have seen 'em, you who didn't. But that did not affect the usual Friday dance. That functioned with some 75 dancers present. More doughnuts and coffee afterwards, and, mirabile dictu, no reports of indigestion as yet.

The shuffleboard tournaments are on for the season, Mr. Kidder being as usual Clerk of the Courts. None better for that job. The first battle, October 30, was won by Arms and Slater. Like Abou Ben Adhem they led all the rest and into the Hall of Fame they go, Mr. and Mrs. Bolduc almost got in but were held up at the door. But they got a look in, and that was something to hand down to the grandchildren. The game on Saturday last brought out a large crowd of eager and trembling for fame. The weather was just right, pleasing everybody for once. And who won? Why, Mrs. Goodwin assisted by John Glenn, of course. And who came in next? Ah, Mrs. Thomas with the aid of Mrs. Goodwin. It was a Goodwin day all right. All games were interesting, but the most entertaining was played on No. 12 where the final score was: Black 6, Red minus 8!! Well, well, when you can win by a score of 6 out of a possible 75, it is worth recording in the annuals of the Guest Club.

The Tuesday afternoon bridge club got off last week with a flying start: four tables, eight couples, and Mr. Lester Truex walked off the high honors and the usual smile. Good for Lester.

Eight couples and one over sat down at the groaning tables at last Saturday's pot-luck supper. The "wittles", as Sam Weller called them, were as usual better than ever, and what the party lacked in numbers made up by conviviality. Small dinner parties are likely to be that way.

Some 60 members attended the gospel singing in the club house last Sunday under the able direction of Mr. Shiltz. The melodious singing must have pleased the angel ears up above. Besides the group singing there were two solos by a young lady visitor, the men were invited up front to sing to the ladies and got a good hand for the doing, our beloved Cal read a paper about our human belief of the life hereafter, followed by a very tuneful solo. It was all very pleasing. The meeting ended by singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again". And that being what most of us feel, with that thought we'll end this little spiel. So says

The Stroller

This medical discovery treats the cause, not just the symptoms, of pre-menstrual tension, thus relieving the nerve-racking distress that may leave you extra sensitive, overtired, more subject to pain at the beginning of your period. Latest findings show pre-menstrual tension is largely due to stored-up fluids which cause pressures and nervousness. TRAN-QUIL-EZ can reduce those pressures, leaving you calm and relaxed when your period begins. End those Blue days now—make your next "difficult" time an easy one!

Susan blew out the three candles on her three tiered birthday cake decorated with pink and green. The boys and girls enjoyed eating the birthday cake and chocolate ice cream cones. The favors were orange and black cups with candy.

All the guests enjoyed helping Susan open her many lovely gifts. Boys and girls present were Danny Bennett, Eddie Culp, Jimmie Dilley, Candy and Holly Reddick, Sue and Beth Ferguson, Mandy Maness, Debbie and Joan Young, Sarah, Janice and Patty Turnbull, Kathy Kirkland, Rita and Rickie Rich, Butch and Paula Jean Allen, Gary Griffin, Susie Skipper, Bill and Ann MacDaniels, Winnie Davis, Johnny and Brad Giddens, Robby Watson, Stephanie Samergedes, Billy Phillips, and Walter Kempton.

Phillips 66 Trop-Artic THE ALL WEATHER MOTOR OIL

This one will do the work of two!

LIGHT OIL HEAVY OIL

This one all-weather motor oil gives you the easy starting of a light motor oil . . . the high temperature protection of a heavy motor oil. It's one oil combining the different advantages of a light and heavy oil for all driving conditions.

Users of TROP-ARTIC* All-Weather Motor Oil never have to worry about using different grades of oil. TROP-ARTIC is a light oil and heavy oil in one (grades 10W through 30). Furthermore, it lubricates and protects your motor far better than any of the old-fashioned "single grade" oils.

The reason is that TROP-ARTIC never gets too thick or too thin. In a cold engine it flows quickly for easy starting. In a hot engine it retains the "body" necessary to prevent wear. It reduces friction to save you gasoline. It keeps your engine clean. Compared to old-fashioned oils it can even double engine life. Get TROP-ARTIC All-Weather Motor Oil today from your Phillips 66 Dealer. *A trademark

It was reported that the General Federation of Woman's Clubs is urging this action and also that a committee consisting of J. Edgar Hoover and other well known people are investigating this subject.

Mrs. Mannin Kirkland, President, presided at a short business meeting after an interesting talk by Mrs. Joseph O. MacBeth of Sebring, Junior State Chairman of Religions of the World, and a film entitled "Major Religions of the World" in which Mrs. MacBeth was assisted by Kenny Wells who ran the projector. Mrs. MacBeth also passed out various pamphlets concerning her subject.

In the business meeting it was suggested that the Club urge that the children celebrate Halloween only one night by going to Trick or Treat, and the Club voted to participate in Friends, Inc., sponsored by the Ocala Junior Club, which consists of visiting or contacting girls in this area when they are released from the Florida School for Girls to help them get a new start in the community.

Members were reminded to take rummage to Mrs. T. O. Martin, who is selling it for the Club, and it was reported that there will be an orientation supper for new members sometime later this month.

Soil Conservation News

By Sam Polston

The Highlands Soil Conservation received an application from John Boyd of Sebring and H. L. Clark of Lake Placid for assistance in developing a complete conservation farm plan.

R. A. Carlton of Lorida planted 10 acres of paraguay Bahia no. 22. This is the first planting of this pasture grass for the Highlands Soil Conservation District. Mr. Carlton is Agricultural Agent for the Seaboard Railroad and said this was just a trail planting. The Soil Conservation Service through their nursery, furnished Mr. Carlton with the first Pensacola bahia grass seed to be planted in the Highlands District. This was done over twelve years ago and now Pensacola bahia is a grass used throughout the South-east.

Mr. Rollie Murray of Sebring planted 80 acres of Pensacola bahia grass and Louisiana White Dutch clover mixture this week on his ranch at Lake Josephine. Marvin Kahn of Sebring is planting about 100 acres of white dutch-hubam clover mixture this week on an old pangola grass sod.

Mr. Carl McIntyre of Sebring said his old stand of white Dutch clover that was recently fertilized is beginning to make a showing now that the weather is favorable. He will have clover to graze in a few days. He has 65 acres that will be under seepage irrigation when his control structures are completed. The Soil Conservation Service engineers assisted him in the designing and layout of the system.

South Florida folks may be behind a plot to name the new university at Tampa—"University of South Florida."

If South Florida plays its cards right, it will name the proposed new university at Boca Raton—"Pork Chop U." The Tampa school might get some benefits from the magic of the "South Florida" tag . . but what about on appropriations?

Obviously "Pork Chop U" would are better before the Senate appropriations committee than a school with "Worth Florida" as a name.

The Department of Education has put out some snappy cartoons to interest kids in becoming teachers. Looks like their appealing to the wrong kids. They might do better putting pitch inside a school book. At least they would narrow it down to the youngsters that open the books.

About the emptiest place in the Capitol these days is the governor's office. Gov. Collins is spending more and more time working at his new office in the basement of the new Governor's mansion.

It makes it a little hard on newshounds, who like to keep tab on the governor's visitors.

But it's nice for tourists. It gives them a chance to sit in the governor's chair during tours of the capital.

Road Department is going to show off its new thinking machine next month. It supposed to be able to work out intricate engineering problems with the greatest of ease.

It will probably pass the test, if it can answer one question: "When will the new parkway in front of the Capitol be finished?"

Underway by Smith Engineering and Construction Co. for two years, the new parkway still isn't finished.

The snow white capitol buildings are getting tinted with a "red clay tint". Frank Trippett Capitol Correspondent for the St. Pete Times, described the work as "the world's largest professionally constructed mud pie."

Florida State University's homecoming was "non political".

Legislator's that did show up showed more interest in the apportionment of the majorettes's than in the legislative angles of the same question.

Gov. Collins has spelled out that he expects assessors to make a "good faith" effort at bringing property assessments into line.

If they willfully refused to do so, he said he would consider it neglect of duty, which is grounds for suspension.

This puts it on the line.

The problem is the assessor more afraid of the people who elect him year after year on the basis of low assessments or the governor?

Devils Defeat Frostproof 32-7

The Avon Park Red Devils got back into high gear last Friday Night at Memorial Field when they downed the Frostproof Bullpups 32 to 7 and overcame another obstacle on the road to the Ridge Conference Championship. This win gives the Red Devils three wins against no losses and one tie. They are currently tied with the Sebring Blue Streaks for first place in the conference standings. Sebring's record is also 3-0-1.

The Bullpups came to Avon Park with a much improved ball club and continued to hit and drive hard right down to the final whistle. The Frostproof backfield looked very good with Tailback Alton Carraway and L. Douglas running the tricky single-wing plays with a considerable amount of success against the tough Devil line. The Bullpup line, although scrappy, couldn't match the determination and agressiveness of the big red line. The Devil forward wall played very good ball despite the fact that Coaches Joe Franza and Guy Garrett had moved some boys to new positions to add strenth. Two big gaps had to be filled when Winkie Williams was moved to halfback and Henry Scott was dropped from the squad for disciplinary reasons. The Devil line led by boys like Farless, Parrish, Elder, Bigbie, L. Starling and Martin have proven themselves tough and hard to be pushed around.

The vaunted Devil backfield after being weakened for the past two games with sickness and injuries was in much better form against the Bullpups. The addition of Winkie Williams in the backfield gives the Devils much more power, power that no team in the conference can match. The passing of Quarterback Jimmy Cooper is greatly improved and now plays a big part in the Devils' offensive game. He completed six out of thirteen against the Bullpups, mostly to End Ben Earnest. A touchdown aerial to End Futch was called back because of a rule infraction. Halfback Billy Rouse ran well against Frostproof and reeled off a beautiful 70 yard touchdown run. This too was called back for a foul. He is expected to be in tip top running condition against the Kissimmee Kowboys this week.

Avon Park took the opening kickoff and drove down to score with Johnny Starling taking it over from the six. This was a drive of 58 yards. Cooper's pass to Earnest was good for the extra point.

The Bullpups after taking the kickoff were unable to gain in two plays and Carraway caught the Devils napping with a nice quickkick. The Devils' Starling picked up 8 yards around end and then Rooster Rouse brought the fans to their feet with his 70 yard sprint that was called back.

In the second quarter Frostproof's offensive picked up a little and they had a drive going only to have Jimmy Cooper intercept a pass. The Big Red mixed power plays with accurate passes and drove down to score with Rouse carring it over. The point was no good. The ball changed hands a couple of times by pass interceptions just before the half ended.

Frostproof received Avon Park's kick and ran two plays before fumbling to the Devils. The Devils picked up one first down then fumbled back to the Bullpups. The Pups tossed a pass and Leroy Farless intercepted and ran it back for a touchdown. The kick for extra point was blocked. Frostproof was again unable to gain and punted to the Devile. The Devils went on to score with Futch taking the pass in the end zone. This too was called back as the third quarter ended.

Avon Park scored early in the last quarter with Rouse taking a pitchout and going around right end. A beautiful block by Winkie Williams aided immeasurably. The Bullpups came back and racked up their first touchdown against Ridge competition with Carraway going over from the four. This was set up by a triple reverse play and by a roughness penalty by Avon Park. The extra point was good.

Halfback Winkie Williams added his name to the list of scorers late in the final quarter when he went over from the three. Cooper added the point on a buck. Avon Park rolled up 14 first downs to 8 for the visitors and were penalized 70 yards to 35 for Frostproof.

Deputy Captures Lake Placid's Mystery Caller

James E. Thomas, 37 year old truck driver from Miami, was captured Monday morning by Sheriff's Deputy Charles M. Rucker as he came out of a pay station booth in Lake Placid.

The capture of Thomas brought to a close the mystery telephone calls to Lake Placid women. Thomas allegedly made lewd and lascivious suggestions to Lake Placid women whose names he picked from the telephone directory. During the past six weeks five married women and a nine-year old girl were the victims of such calls.

Thomas was arraigned before County Judge Mervin Rehrer Monday. He pleaded guilty to five charges and not guilty to six charges. Sentence on each guilty plea totaled $700 in fines and 14 months in jail. Bonds of $500 each was set by Judge Reher on the remaining charges.

Thomas told the judge he merely asked the women for "dates" but admitted he made indecent remarks to the girl whom he said he thought was a boy.

Thomas is married but has no children and has been making daily runs from Miami to Lake Wales and return for the past six months.

CRACKER POLITICS

BY ALLEN MORRIS

TALLAHASSEE—A significant speech by Governor LeRoy Collins which no one here had heard about in detail is being applauded by a Southern religious magazine as having come to grips with today's problems when Billy Graham failed.

What was supposed to have been the usual "mild and somewhat meaningless words" of greeting to a convention turned out, in the opinion of the Presbyterian Outlook of Richmond, to be a "real challenge" to Christians "to meet the attacks of pressure groups in the present racial situation."

Catching unplanned inspirational fire from the "All the Way for Christ" theme displayed at the Southern Presbyterian Men's convention at Miami, Governor Collins likened the attitude of those Floridians who shrugged off two fairly recent state incidents to that of the handwashing of Pontius Pilate.

The Governor reminded the some 8,000 Presbyterians how Pilate had faced up to the cry of the Judea mob for the crucifixion of Jesus by calling publicly for a bowl of water, dipping his hands, and saying "I wash my hands of the whole thing. The blood of this innocent and righteous man will not be on my hands. See to it yourself."

ued Governor Collins, Floridians generally said "see to it yourself" when an "anarchistic" interposition resolution whistled through the Legislature and similarly said, in effect, "see to it yourself" when a busy woman public health doctor was fired for having a backroom sandwich with a Negro nurse so they could discuss their mutual responsibilities during lunch.

Of the firing of Dr. Deborah Coggins by the Madison county commission, Governor Collins asked the Presbyterian convention:

"Where in that situation were our Presbyterians? Where were our Methodists? Our Episcopalians? Where were all of our churchmen? Where were all of our people who are dedicated to this proposition of 'All for Christ'?

"Did they go before these county commissioners and say, 'Don't! This is wrong!' No, they called for the bowl, and they washed their hands, and they said, just as Pontius Pilate said, 'The blood of this innocent, righteous person won't be on my hands. See to it yourself.'

"And she was fired, to the everlasting shame of our state."

(Actually, at least two persons did stand up and protest any others, did."

The Outlook recalled that in its daily convention newspaper "We suggested that in this day of weak compromises and compromisers the (Collins) is raising a banner of Christian courage and of influence that is worthy of best traditions of our heritage.

"For a man in public life to do this, and particularly one for whom larger political possibilities have been pointed out, is something rare today. Governor Collins did it at great personal risk, and his example proved to be a tonic for the convention."

In its seperate news report of the convention, the Outlook said "after this high mark (the Collins speech) it seemed that any speaker would be largely anticlimatic."

Referring to the interposition resolution, expressing the Legislature's assertion of the right of states in fields not specifically reserved to the Federal government, Governor Collins told the Presbyterian churchmen:

"Last spring in our State Legislature a resolution was introduced in the heat of all this racial controversy. It was a resolution that struck at the very concept of law and government. It was anarchistic in its very nature. It defied all those things that we as patriotic citizens have tried to preach and practice over the years.

"I took the position that passage of that sort of legislation would stultify our state. I so hoped that some bar association—some lawyers who knew better—would say, 'Don't do that!' But the mob was howling, so they washed their hands of it and they said, 'See to it yourself.'

So Governor Collins left the church leaders with the problem, "will you be 'all the way for Christ' when the mob is howling at your door and the pressure comes?"

OPEN ALL DAY WEDNESDAYS

WHEN THE DINNER BELL RINGS

By The Bird Woman

Food is a necessity to every living thing, regardless on the type of food, or the means of procuring it, every thing that has life must have nourishment.

The human body is not the only garmandizer, but down to the most minute organism or cell, whether it exists in water or land or in the body of man or animal, this desire is present and must be satisfied if life is to continue.

Babies will cry and show the desire for food even before we give them credit for being organized sufficiently to make their wants known.

Have you ever seen a baby bird that did not stretch it's neck and open it's mouth, until it seemed all mouth, when there was a sound or a slight jar of the nest?

Every one who has raised caged birds has experienced this many times, and many people have raised a nest of wild birds when the parents have been killed, by putting the food on a tooth pick and poking it far down into the fledglings throat.

Indians had a knack for rearing unfortunate fledglings which was quite successful, they would mix saliva with the food much as the bird parents would have done.

We know that many birds will consume their own weight of food daily, and while this imposes quite a task for the parents, yet we see what a tremendous number of insects and weed seed that are destroyed daily.

If a growing boy should eat in proportion to a bird he would eat daily as much as two sheep or a calf, so lets be thankful that his appetite isn't any greater than it is, and that our wonderful helpers do have such a capacity for food.

It is such an amazing thing to realize that the most seemingly flippant and care free birds, as well as the most arrogant, such as the Jay, realize that their young must have food, and as soon as the first fledgling is out of the shell, the parents, one or both immediately begin to hunt and prepared in the same manner that every fledgling of its specie has received every since that bird was created and it was instilled in it by the Creator what manner of life it should live and what manner of food it was equipped to consume.

We do not see water birds skimming about through our shrubs hunting small insects, neither do we see the Cardinal or Towhee or any of our garden birds standing in shallow water fish or snails.

As far as we have been able to learn there is no Welfare Agency among the bird families, each individual family assumes it's responsibility and withstands vigerously any attempt of another bird to even approach it's nest.

Usually both parents share in the incubation and feeding of the young, but in some species the male assumes the role of a gay young bachelor and leaves the feeding to the female, in these species it was decreed that there would be fewer eggs per nest so the female would be able to care for them herself.

In some other species when the young become old enough for the mother to start the second nest, the father takes complete care of the young both the feeding and their protection.

We would like to mention the methods used by a few birds to feed their young; The Cedar Waxwing, which migrates our way about the time mulberries are ripe and usually stay as long as the bloom remains on the Silk Oak or the loquats or other early fruit are in season.

The Cedar Waxwing is an expert prestidigitator, when it arrives at it's nest no fruit is in evidence for the brood, nevertheless it is carrying a full market basket, which is sometimes enough for a meal for the entire family, this food is carried in it's distended throat but it is not partly digested as in some other species.

And presently up will come a cherry (For they nest in the north) and it will slide down the throat of one of the fledglings, then perhaps more cherries or berries and an occassional insect to vary the diet, until all the hungry mouths have been filled, sometimes the food must be carried for quite a distance from the nest and that has been provided for, using the esophagus as a market basket.

Where these birds are numerous the fruit grower does not begrudge the loss of some fruit, as this bird is such a good insect gatherer.

An entirely different system is used by Cooper's Hawk, it of course feeds chiefly on small rodents and birds. It will decapitate a bird and pick most of the feathers from it before it is offered to the young.

The Pelican partially digests the food it gives to it's young, their food being principally fish, which it garners, and collects in it's pouch under it's bill and the young reaches deep into the pouch to procure it's meal, so deeply does it delve into the pouch that a bystander would think that it was headless.

The interesting Gannets of the Timberline and Tunda of the far north are lavish feeders and by the time the young are twelve to thirteen weeks old they are heavier than their parents, then the parents abandon them altogather and for at least ten days they starve until they are able to find their way to the Sea, and gather their own food, which they do by swimming and diving like their parents, with no previous training.

As the Pelican, the Gannet will dive downward a hundred feet through the air and send up a spray of water ten feet high, to catch a fish, but it is also cushioned with pneumatic cells which breaks the force of the contact with the water. Gannets have been caught in Fisherman's nets fourteen fathoms deep.

The crossbill is an exotic bird and although not a native of Florida, is quite a well known bird in the east and at first glimpse it looks as if it had a deformed bill, for it's bill is crossed, but as in other birds this is for a purpose, it is to remove the scales from pine cones so it can eat the seed.

Another exotic bird with which we are familiar is the Hummingbird, there are many species but the Ruby throat is the one with we are most familiar in Florida.

Think of a bird with a darning needle bill trying to feed young, we have heard of sword swallowers in the circus, but this one may be seen for free, no nurse is present to give injections, still our smallest bird has that innate knowledge of the care and feeding of it's young.

The Women's Society For Christian Service

The Women's Society for Christian Service held its regular monthly general meeting on Monday, November 4, at 8 o'clock in Wesley Hall.

The meeting opened with a song followed by the reading of the Lord's Prayer by the group.

Circle 2 presented the interesting program which followed. Mrs. I. H. Ford spoke on the subject "The Mind That is Christ" and mentioned some quadrennial goals and financial goals. Her talk stressed four main objectives: (1) to meet educational needs, (2) to develop interracial and international understanding, (3) to supply training for local and community leadership, and (4) to train students for full time Christian service.

The song, "My Lord and I" was sung by a trio, Eve Campbell, Peggy Bussard, and Sarah Leslie Harrison. Claire Maxwell spoke on "The Beginnings of Student Work in the United States" and Mary Sally Sayers discussed "The Methodist Student Movement."

Mrs. Fred Simcox presided over the business meeting which followed. The date of the annual Fall Festival of the First Methodist Church was set for Dec. 3. Remember this date!

Mr. Bill Myers, Editor
Avon Park Sun
Avon Park, Florida
Dear Mr. Myers:

We are writing in reply to your article of November 31, entitled "Trick Or Treat Is For Small Children, Not Teenage Rowdyism."

Your article left the impression that all teenagers went out on Halloween hunting trouble. This is not so. There may be a few who go out with the intention of distroying private property but they are in the minority. The main idea is to have a good time without being destructive. Teenagers are at that in-between stage but nevertheless, they still know the difference in right and wrong.

It is our opinion that all our holidays, including Halloween, are observed and enjoyed by people of all ages, not just small children.

The teenagerz wish to point out that it is generally the youths of the junior age group who tend to get into mischief. (By Junior age, we mean 10 to 14.)

We recall a quotation of wisdom which we heard once. It applies to our situation. It stated, "The older you get, the less you do, and the more you get blamed."

Many of the teenagers had dates on the night the damage was done. This is the trend in our group. They attended a movie which lasted into the wee small hours. We are sure no one felt like playing pranks after that. This seems to clear the young people of the false accusations.

To the adults who issued complaints, we would like to make a request. Think, Parents! Where were your children Halloween night? Were they at another's house doing what you are complaining about?

In writing this letter, we did not mean to hurt any feelings but we did want to let the public know that the teenagers have been offended by these false accusations. We love our community and for the most part we try to protect it. We do our best as young Americans and the best is all anyone can do.

Respectfully yours,
Teenagers of Avon Park

Dear Sir:

I would like for Mrs. Louise Armstrong to answer a few questions. I believe the Public is entitled to know about.

1. You say you are a good loser. Would you raise all this commotion if you had won.

2. Why do you think you are so important to the city. Avon Park has managed to get along without you being on the council up to now. And it seems the majority of the people believe we can still get along without you.

3. I am sure, being a very intelligent woman, you realize your actions are going to cost the city money the city needs so badly for improvements. Wouldn't it be better for the money to go for this purpose than for another election the voters have proven they don't won't by their refusing to sign your referendum.

4. The Chamber of Commerce is doing its best to encourage tourists to settle here. Are you helping in this cause?

5. Why don't you go on the other side of the tracks and keep your big mouth shut!

Sincerely yours,
Warren George

"Too Late To Classify"

By RUSSELL KAY

Speaking to a group of business executives in Tampa last week, David Corey, an official of the J. Walter Thompson advertising agency, pictured South Florida as becoming one city in the years to come.

He visions a practically solid developed area that will contain two-thirds of the state's population. This future dense population area would streatch from north of Tampa on the Gulf Coast south to Naples while the Coast will continue its amazing growth from the Keys to Jacksonville. Large central areas such as Orlando and Gainesville will serve as hubs for the Jacksonville, Tampa, Miami triangle with homes and industries packed in between.

Flying over this area today most of the territory appears deserted or sending water, yet travel by car proves otherwise and when we consider other areas of the nation, that was formerly farms and fields which has become practically one big sprawling metropolis in the last 50 years, Corey's prediction seems to make sense.

Much the same thing happened in the New England - New York - New Jersey area. Here a densely populated strip stretches from Boston along the coast, virtually one city as far south as Virginia Beach forming a 600 Interurbia.

Corey pointed out that changes in the last few years with industry seeking larger space for expansion and new plants, people seeking larger and better homes in more spacious, comfortable surroundings, following in the wake of industrial development, ease of transportation through super highways and countless thousands seeking a desirable location for retirement all give Florida a tremendous advantage and insure its continued magical growth.

Evidence of what is happening is found in the Hillsborough-Pinellas area where numerous new large industries are spending millions of dollars and new homes are being built by the hundreds and sold as fast as they are completed.

Another section that is experiencing similar development is the Piedmont Range in Georgia, North and South Carolinas. This will become another Southern Interurbia just as will South Florida.

Such growth will, of course, call for more super highways and turnpikes. Corey pointed out that transportation problems and the necessity for networks of easily accessible highways is causing the destruction of 90,000 homes a year and the number will increase. With the nation's fast increase in population and larger average families it means we must continue to build more and bigger homes which, of course, call for more public buildings, super-markets and business blocks.

North of Tampa the Temple Terrace area at one time a vast orange grove is destined to become an important manufacturing center surrounded by thousands of modern homes. Now building are two huge brewery plants of the Joseph Schlitz Brewing Company and the Anheuser-Busch Budweiser plants and here also is the site along the winding Hillsborough River selected for the building of Florida's third State University as well as many smaller business and industrial institutions.

Pinellas County continues to attract big industry around the bay area with such firms as Minneapolis Honeywell, General Electric, Sperry-Rand, Air Associates, and others. It was recently announced that the Houston Texas Gas and Oil Corporation, the firm that is bringing natural gas by pipeline to Florida is establishing offices in St. Petersburg. All this clearly indicated the trend that Mr. Corey sees as making all of South Florida one big unbroken metropolitan area in the future.

An ambulance rushed Murdock to Walker Memorial Hospital and he was later taken to the Florida Sanitorium at Orlando where he underwent surgery Friday. This is to be a "Kick Off" dinner on the eve of the 51st Christmas Seal Sale of the National Association.

Dinner will be served in buffet style by Royal Coats and should prove to include about everything to delight the tast of the Epicurean. The expense will be $2.25 per person.

The principal speaker will be The Rev. E. Myrle Weyant, resident of the Sebring Ministerial Association who will relate some of his experiences gained while working among the Navajo Indians where the mortality due to TB is high.

A program of music by an excellent male quartet has been arranged. This dinner meeting is open to the general public but reservations must be made in advance and not later than November 12. They can be secured by contacting E. A. Houck, Executive Director, P. O. Box 84, Sebring or phone Evergreen 6-3393.

Washington SEE SAW

by WM PERDLETON

BOB SIKES AGAIN—Congressman Bob Sikes and Inez were in town last week. While serious business called the Congressman back to town, he and Inez did take the opportunity to attend the reception at the British Embassy for Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

The serious business had to do with Sikes' work on the Defense Subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee. Among other things he was boiling mad at Vice-President Nixon for his statement on the inadvisability of tax cuts in view of the lagging missile program.

Sikes said the two were not related. He said Nixon's statement completely ignored the deep cuts in the current military budget that were made arbitarily by Secetary Charles E. Wilson. Sikes said that Nixon, "is just trying to divert attention from the real facts in the defense picture.

"In the field of guided missiles and the satellite program," Sikes said, "Congress has approved every dollar the Administration permitted the services to say they could properly use. It is common knowledge in Washington that a number of our leading experts in this field have been disturbed about Russia's rapid progress and our own failure to push ahead with our full capability."

He said that the Administration's present about-face attitude looks like panic. "Proposals by Vice-President Nixon for greater spending next year indicates a return to the costly and wasteful peaks-and valleys system of defense spending.

"Cuts inflicted by the Administration have weakened Western defenses at a very critical time and the loss of the Middle East is a real possibility," he said. "With full knowledge of her advantage in the missiles race, Russia is pushing ahead there despite Mr. Dulles' talk of war." Sikes said he thought that the Russians have gained an unexpected propaganda advantage and is using it where it will do the most good.

"I feel there is still official unawareness of our serious status in the field of missiles worldwide and I hope the Administration will listen to people who know the score and have the knowledge to do something to improve our position rapidly."

Sikes indicated that he was greatly alarmed over the Russian's successful launching of the satellite. He said it was only a hint of Russian technological and scientific ability.

He has urged that all of the defense committees of the Congress be convened at once in Washington to study firsthand the lagging American satellite and missile programs. The Florida "he-coon" said he was sure that we can out, produce the Russians, but that we can't do it by following the "stupid" policy of sitting on our hands while the Russians are at work 24 hours a day. He said the Administration should take every step to find the men and means to recapture the initative and hold it-in all of these important scientific fields.

THE NEW MONEY—Have you seen the new Charlie Bennett dollars? You can get them now. As a result of a bill introduced by the Jacksonville Congressman, all of our new paper money will carry the inscription, "In God We Trust." For years this motto has been on all U. S. coins but never before on our paper. The wording appears on the back of the money and will be added to all new issues as they are printed.

Incidentally, the first bills that carry the slogan also are the first to be signed by the new Secretary of the Treasury, Robert Anderson.

The biggest and most luxurious Mercury ever built—the new Park Lane series was designed to appeal to the more discriminating buyers in the upper-medium price bracket. Striking styling features and big car size—220.2 inches long and 125-inch wheelbase—distinguish the Park Lane. Mercury will offer 20 models for 1958. The Park Lane series includes a convertible, a phaeton coupe and a phaeton sedan, pictured here.

You'll be ahead with Ford's new Interceptor V-8 and Precision Fuel Induction. There's nothing newer than these engines that give you up to 300 hp. Smoother power! From less gas! One secret is Precision Fuel Induction, a wonderful new carburetion, fuel feeding, and combustion system.

You'll get up to 15% more gas savings with new Cruise-O-Matic Drive teamed with the new Interceptor V-8. New D1 position, used for all normal driving, lets you move smoothly, automatically—with just a touch of your toe—from solid-feeling take-offs right up to highway cruising speeds.

You'll ride on a cloud instead of a spring with Ford-Aire Suspension. Four air pillows literally rock up the bumps! And Ford's new air suspension relevels the car every time someone steps inside or luggage is loaded. An extra cost option, you get all this at traditionally low Ford prices!

You'll steer with a feather touch with Ford's new Magic-Circle Steering. Nothing rolls like a ball, and that's the secret of Ford's handling ease. Free-moving steel balls in the steering mechanism are virtually friction-free—give you the closest thing yet to power steering! Come in and try it!
