Harry Lee Released On Habeas Corpus

Harry Lee, former Highlands County Judge, cited for contempt of court last week by County Judge Mervin Rehder obtained his release on a writ of Habeas Corpus late Monday afternoon.

Sheriff Broward Coker had been ordered by Judge Rehder to collect a fine of $20 from Lee or confine him in the County Jail for 24 hours on a charge of violating the vehicle laws. Lee was involved in a minor accident recently and charged by the Florida Highway Patrol with following too closely.

The order signed by Circuit Judge J. D. Kinney reads: "The recitations contained in the capias issued by the County Judge are considered insufficient as a basis for contempt proceedings in that it only appears there from that he advised the contemnor to appear in his court on November 20, no direct order of the Court appears to be involved; therefore, the order should not be enforced as a contempt of court in law in that notice was not served upon him as to why the order should not be enforced."

In The Flush Of Youth

Going by some of the pessimistic statements and forecasts now being made, one could believe that U. S. agriculture is en route to hell in a handbasket.

Fortunately, however—and without minimizing farm problems—there are plenty of signs that this just isn't true and won't be true.

For instance, farm equipment sales are one good barometer of farm purchasing power, and of the farmer's determination to make his operations more efficient and profitable. The Bureau of National Affairs, in a recent issue of its Economic Review, reports that these sales are rising and will continue to pick up in 1958. Next year's tractor sales are expected to show a three to five per cent gain. Sales of other machinery used by farmers is now up to 14 per cent in dollar volume over last year, and 1958 is expected to show an equally substantial improvement.

The Review adds: "These sales increases are not just a result of increases in farm income, which have been only modest. Farmers are finding that investment in machines cuts costs and enables them to stay in business despite the low prices received for what they produce."

Agriculture has made great strides in cutting costs in this fashion. The mechanical harvesters pay their way many times over. But there is still tremendous room for the further lowering of production costs through modern tools. There is small doubt that agriculture's mechanical revolution is still in the flush of youth.

Dictators And The Economy

During one of the President's recent press conferences, he was asked what government programs would be reduced or eliminated in the effort to cut federal spending. In answering, he laid special stress on federal electric power development, saying: "... there is a very great difference between local or state government building things, that is, a public utility system or a dam or anything else, and the federal government doing it. Because as federal government begins to run riot with the expenditures that it deems good for the country, if necessary, it can print money; it can go into debt."

Then the President added: "... any government that controls all the power in the country can really dictate what the economy is going to be. They can shift it and everything else." He made it clear that the Administration will continue to support the "partnership" plan of power development, which lays the primary responsibility for meeting local power needs in local private enterprise, local government, and other local groups.

Many people see eye to eye with the President in his views on federal power—socialized electricity. These public plants escape all or the major part of the tax burden borne by private enterprise. They become political footballs. And there is plenty of evidence that the people don't want them—in local election after election proposed public power plants and systems have been voted down.

That to one side, what the President said about federal power is unassailable. These monopolies are forced on the people by politicians who make careers of promoting bigger and costlier government, and the people have no choice in the matter. Their power projects are tax-dodgers on a grandiose scale. And inevitably, they become dictators against whose policies there is no effective recourse.

Operation big switch on a ceiling on prices first—then later considering abolishing wholesale and retail controls.

He felt—as did Robert Carter, board of health member—that this would have allowed a pattern to develop to let the housewife know she should be able to buy milk cheaper at a store than home delivery.

With controls on milk has to be sold at the store at the same price it is sold at the home. Testimony before the commission indicates that the cost for the delivery to homes is actually being paid at least in part by the folks who buy at the store.

Odhams felt the same way at 11:30 Wednesday, but he couldn't get the votes, and finally voted for lifting controls in an hour later.

He pointed out that he could not vote against abolishing controls because it would be against everything he believed in—although he thought it would result in milk prices going up at present.

The big question seems to be: "What will happen to milk prices?"

Among those in the business, the answer seems to be no back they agreed to lower the minimum by a half-cent a quart, but everyone was in favor of abolishing controls.

Odhams said "If they're for it, there must be something wrong with it."

Under the circumstances, Odham said he was tempted to bring his guns on first lowing him minimums and putting cause it would tend to show they could go down.

There will probably be some isolated cases of lower prices, just as there was in the southern part of the state when controls were lifted, but nothing general.

Harvey, the Capitol cat who writes with his tail, visited the hearing. He has this to say: "I wandered down out of the Capitol dome to attend the milk commission hearing on price fixing—planning to get a free bowl of milk."

"Instead, all I found were 'cokes'."

"I got the impression that some of the milk folks don't like Brailey Odham."

"During the meeting, I curled at the feet of some of the milk men. Instead of talking about milk, they were discussing the need for a deodorant or something."

They kept saying, "BO this, and BO that."

"I was a little bit puzzled, until it occurred to me that they were talking about Brailey Odham."

"For what it's worth, I also wandered into some of the local restaurants looking for a handout during the hearing."

"A man had called Odham and was urging him to run for governor."

Brailey listened politely and thanked the man, but said, "I've already tried that twice, and didn't get anywhere."

Red Devils Roll Over Kowboys In Homecoming Game 41-0

A large homecoming crowd saw the Avon Park Red Devils roll over a weak Kinsman Kowboys eleven last Friday night at Memorial Field by a score of 41 to 0.

The Kowboys, the biggest threat to the Devils in conference play last season, were no match for the tough Ridge Conference leaders and failed to offer a threat at scoring even during the second half when the second team went into battle. The Red Devils scored almost at will during the first half as the rugged starting team refused to be stopped. All of the Avon Park ball carriers ran with determination and rolled up a total of 443 yards against the visitors.

The scoring started about two minutes into the game when the Devils received the kickoff and drove it across on six running plays. The payoff was a 25 yard dash around left end by Billy Kowbo. Big John Starling ran over the seventh point. Later on the first quarter halfback Winkie Williams intercepted a Kowboy pass on Kinsman's 48 yard line and carried it back all the way to score. Rouse went around and for the extra point. The quarter ended with the Devils on the march again. After a 40 yard punt return by Starling the big Red Team drove to the one foot line and lost the ball on a fumble. The Avon Park defense held against the Kowboys' drive. The Devils on the 30 yard line. Six plays later John Starling crashed over from the two yard line. Williams tore through for the extra point. Later in the sec-

For the balance of the third and fourth quarters the quarter back teams played on even terms. Late in the last quarter Daniel Monev decided to play as the fifth man in the Kowboys' backfield as he snatched the ball out of Kinsman's possession and ran 15 yards to score. Dusebery's kick for the extra point was blocked. The game ended after the rough and ready Tom Base intercepted a Kowboy pass and swivel-kipped his way to midfield.

Avon Park had 14 first downs to 3 for the Kowboys. In passing it was 8-3 for the Devils and 12-3 for the visitors. The Devils punted twice for a 36 yard average and Kinsman punted 6 times for a 33 yard average. Avon Park lost 53 yards on penalties to 20 for Kinsman.

Senior Woman's Club Reports On Years Work

The Senior Woman's Club of Avon Park has been very active during the year of 1951 and were proud to be able to report some of their accomplishments to the State Federation Officers at the annual District 8 meeting in Bartow.

The membership of the club has been increased by forty-five members and many new social events have been added to the club calendar to stimulate interest in the Club and to better the financial status.

A contribution of $100 to the Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children is something all members can be very proud of. Also the library looks lovely in the new coat of paint donated by the Senior Club.

During the month of July the Chest X-Ray Mobile Unit was manned in Avon Park for five days by members of the Senior Woman's Club. The club and individual members have actively supported many civic activities such as the Ground Observation Corps, City Beautification Plans, and the Community Development Association. The drives supported by the club are contributions are the T. B. Fund, Cancer Drive, Red Cross, March of Dimes, Library Fund, Christmas Cheer Baskets, Indian Welfare, Heart Fund, Ridge Area Hospital Extension for Colored Patients, Endowment Fund, and Penny Art Fund. In fact the Avon Park Senior Woman's Club has responded to all requests for help.

The Clubs money making projects have been interesting and various. Card parties, breakfasts, luncheons, have been held. Pie and cakes were sold at the annual Halloween Carnival.

The Senior Club has shown a decided interest in the ex-

"Teen - Town Talk"

Mr. and Mrs. Hanford assisted Mrs. Martha Wade as chaperones Friday night at the Homecoming Dance at the Youth Recreation Center. Around 100 were in attendance, celebrating Homecoming day and the winning of the game with Kissimmee. Queen of the day was Annette Weinstock.

The Youth Center was closed Saturday night due to the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance, which was held at the elementary school cafeteria. The large room with its smooth floor and stage was a perfect spot for the party. Mrs. Francis LaFam was the Main Attraction, making his pre-declinations for the future, while Judge Reher acted as Marjory Sam, and performed the "communion" for the happy couples, after which they took a honeymoon cruise to "Kissin' Rock." What about those parties in that little brown jug? It's not quite a few. Anybody care to elaborate? Oh, yes, the girls had to pay for the marriage certificate the only requirement being an solemn word that the growing victim of his choice was over two years of age. Bobbie Sue Elder was there as Daisy Mae, and Thurston MacIn as Lili Almer. Bob Conner was won by Jan Sawyer and Leroy Sturling. Records were the prize. Refreshments were cold drinks, soft cider, hamburgers and cookies. Admission was 30c for each girl and a boy. The resignation of Ellis Watson as corresponding secretary was read, and Mrs. L. A. Renfro was appointed to fill this office. It was announced that Mrs. Royal Coats will write the sketches on teachers to appear in the Avon Park Sun.

Editorial Line-Up For December 12 Issue Of All Florida Magazine

"Living Test Tubes," the feature story in this week's issue of ALL FLORIDA MAGAZINE, was written by Edgar L. Hay. The article describes the work of Dr. Wilhelm P. Dunning, unassuming hero in the constant war on cancer. Working with only a colony of rats and mice, Dr. Dunning and his associates have published about 40 reports on the causes and prevention of cancer.

Florida's Carnegie hero medals winners are listed, and some of their daring rescues described in Henry F. Unger's story, "Heroes To Rescue." Andrew Carnegie established the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission to honor any citizen who tries to save a life with full knowledge of the danger involved but with no thought of a reward.

"The Trains Human Trackers" by Grace Moses is a thumbnail sketch of Carl Anderson, Polk County Deputy sheriff. Anderson's fame as a trainer of bloodhounds has spread far beyond the United States.

A festive fare from Florida is featured in the colorful food pages of this issue. The appetizing recipes call for Florida limes and avocados.

Two very timely articles are also contained in this Christmas issue. "For a Tropical Christmas" gives directions for making candies and decorations with a Florida touch. "A White Christmas — Florida Style" describes the making of snowballs.

Another fiction favorite on page 6 by Ruth Goddard entitled "A Surprise for Ma." Regularly featured in ALL FLORIDA MAGAZINE Week-end Capers are "Milly Beauty, Travel Wise, and When You Retire."

Chief Giddens Issues Warning On Heaters

Fire Chief W. M. Giddens issues the following statement concerning portable heaters which are often used during the winter months to provide extra warmth without regard to the safety of such heaters.

Heaters should always be placed level, in a spot where there is no danger of tripping over them.

The job of filling an oil heater should be done with extreme care—never when the heater is hot or in use and preferably outdoors.

Any spillage on heater or floor should be wiped up immediately.

Gas heaters should be vented to the outdoors, unless specifically approved for unvented use.

Any room where an oil or gas heater is in use should be adequately ventilated, since these heaters use up oxygen.

$100 Collected In Youth Assn. Drive; Triple Amount Needed

Have you mailed your contribution to the Membership Committee of the Avon Park Youth Association? If not, won't you please do so when you write your checks this week. Mr. Robert King, Chairman of the Membership Committee, announced that as of the first of the week only $100 had been collected in the drive, and triple this amount is needed.

Letters were mailed last month by the Committee in regard to the Drive. But if you didn't receive a letter the Association is asking only $2.00 for family contributions and $3.00 for business firms. Anyone in the community interested in the welfare of the youth of Avon Park is cordially invited to join the Association.

This is indeed a small amount to donate for such a wonderful project, for the money is used in financing the Teen Club. The Teen Club is the only place in the community for the youths to gather for an evening of supervised entertainment.

The Club under the direction of Mr. Andrew Miracle is open to the teenagers nearly every week end with planned and supervised entertainment for all. The parents and any other interested adults are invited to visit the Club and see for themselves what a wonderful time teenagers have there.

The Association and the teenagers of Avon Park will be most grateful for your contribution. So mail it tonight and thus help provide a nice place for themselves what a wonderful time teenagers have there.

Send your check to Mr. Robert King, Jr., Box 455, Avon Park, Fla.

Through a program of sight testing in the primary school grades, many children have had proper lenses prescribed for relief of eye strain, and thus have gained improved eyesight and made great progress in total comprehension. The program is known throughout the country as the Winter Haven Story.

The business session included reports on the various different activities the local Lion's are carrying out. We would like to make another appeal to the citizens of Avon

John Starling drove for 5 yards and then Billy fumbled his way through the Blue Streak's line to score the first touchdown. The linebacker for the point was no good, but Avon Park held a 6 to 0 halftime advantage.

The two teams struggled ineffectively during the third quarter with Avon Park in control of the ball most of the time. The Devils drove deep into Sebring territory only to fumble on the five. The ball rolled back to the fifteen where John Starling recovered. The damage had been done and Sebring took over as the quarter ended.

Marvin Paster intercepted an Avon Park pass and ran it back 25 yards to Avon Park's 17 where he was hauled down by Staring. A 15-yard penalty set the ball on the Red Devils' two and it was a simple matter for Gene Tomlinson, to crash the line to score.
