The Avon Park Junior Woman's Club has presented a Fashion Show for the entertainment of those attending and to help support the civic projects of the club each year for the last five years.

The Junior Club members are justly proud of their show and all of which have been of the highest quality. One was a luncheon, several have been a night, and two were combined with beautiful afternoon teas.

The girls of the club, with the help of other gracious ladies of Avon Park, have become quite adept at staging modeling, and organizing fashion shows.

The lovely Pinerest Lakes Club will be the scene of the show on Wednesday, Feb. 19, from 3 o'clock until 5 o'clock in the afternoon. After the show and entertainment the guests will be served tea. The Pinerest Lakes Club will prepare one of their own fabulous teas especially for the show.

The income from this Fashion Show will be used to aid the financing of such projects as the Ridge Area Day School for Retarded Children, Medical Welfare in the community, and the upkeep and addition of more playground equipment to Donaldson Park.

The Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children will meet Monday, January 27, 7:30 p.m., at the Ridge Area Day School, King's Court, Avon Park. The film, "A Light in My Path" will be shown. This film depicts the story of a community working as one to bring light into the lives of mentally retarded children.

The film was shown at the Donald Training Center in Tampa, and follows the training of a child from nursery through the Sheltered Workshop. It describes the manner in which these handicapped children can be helped toward a better life and in many cases trained for a livelihood. The public is invited to attend the meeting.

Chamber Plans Exhibit For County Fair

W. A. Meyer presented the Chamber with a check for $55 from the Avon Park Sun to be used on the exhibit advertising Avon Park.

Complete plans for the exhibit have not been finished for it is the desire of the Chamber to have an outstanding exhibit on Avon Park.

Thousands of lives saved by the use of the Salk vaccine, made possible by the March of Dimes, has contributed to a dramatic drop in new polio cases, and the threat of a life of crippling has been erased for millions of children and young adults.

Yet over two-thirds of those in the susceptible age group under 40 still need one or more of the three shots required for maximum protection. Meanwhile, polio has left its wake thousands of victims of paralysis, many cruelly disabled. Many are imprisoned in hospitals and wheel chairs, many live lives of tragic waste.

This need not be. Indeed, in a society as affluent and civilized as ours, it must not be. To many of these people we bring hope. Thousands of lives saved by the March of Dimes can now be made worth the saving to the saved. This is the meaning of the 1958 theme: "Survival is not enough."

In a special meeting late Monday afternoon the committee chairman outlined plans which will be used in special events during the drive.

Mrs. David Griffiths will serve as chairman for the Mothers (Continued on Page 5)

Rewards Are Great

Industry's nearly insatiable demand for engineers and for people trained in related sciences has been widely publicized in late years. Particular emphasis has been placed on the opportunities offered in such new fields as jet aircraft, electronics, nuclear energy, and so on.

But the engineering student who is now seriously considering where his best hope for the future lies should not confine his thinking to these new fields. Old and established industries also need engineers of many kinds—and also offer top inducements.

Soft coal is such an industry. It is understaffed in its engineering departments. Through the National Coal Association and other organizations it is actively and aggressively seeking production, safety, sales and other categories of engineers. And coal can say, in truth, that the opportunity is unlimited.

During the coming years, for example, dramatic expansion is universally forecast for the utilities, the steel companies, chemical producers, and other major coal consumers. That means we will need more and more coal—along with ever-improving methods for producing, processing and transporting it. These are tasks for engineers—and the rewards, material and otherwise, are great.

would deal with leads. These bridge lessons have proved very popular and, no doubt, add greatly to the keen interest in the games.

Remember the art classes on Thursday morning, under Mrs. Nace's instruction.

On Tuesday morning, last, we had a record crowd at the dance practice; four sets most of the time, plus quite a group of watchers. There were over 50 present, a record attendance for the morning sessions we believe. Friday night's dance was likewise well attended; for a while we wished we could just push out the walls a few feet.

The Martin De Costa played to a jam-packed house on Thursday evening; by actual count there were 190 present. De Costa received, Jan. 20, times, acted as M.C. and played her accordion throughout the entire program. Mr. De Costa amazed us all by his versatility as well as his excellence as a musician; during the evening he played sixteen different

The men of the First Baptist Church will sponsor a special visitation Friday evening, Jan. 24, at 7 o'clock in behalf of the coming revival. All men of the church are invited to come and help with this.

The Annual Revival will begin on Thursday, Jan. 20. The preacher, Dr. Chester E. Swor, is a national known speaker. Before giving his full time to this work he was Dean of Men in Mississippi College. Every year he travels some 45,000 miles, mostly in the Southern Baptist area, speaking to the churches, colleges, and religious assemblies. The Rev. A. R. Pagan, Pastor of the First Baptist Church of Sebring, will lead the singing during the revival.

Jim Warrington Honored With Weiner Roast

Jim Warrington and a dozen of his friends gathered at the Florida Power Clubhouse on Saturday morning, Jan. 18, to celebrate Jim's sixth birthday with a picnic lunch and party.

The guests played on the swings and see-saws as they arrived and then moved into the clubhouse for more games and fun. Prizes were won by Howie Godwin, Ann Montsedeoca, Joe Franz, and Emily Christensen and Jean Gruber tied for one prize.

After Jim opened his lovely gifts the boys and girls were served a lunch to delight a child's heart, hot dogs, chips, ice cream and cold drinks, not to mention the chocolate birthday cake with white icing and "Happy Birthday, Jim," written in yellow. The table was covered with a birthday cloth and birthday napkins and plates were used.

When the boys and girls left for home each guest had favors of coloring books, balloons, and candy to take with them. Those helping Jim celebrate were Gayle and Gary Bennett, Joe and Suey Franz, Marty Kelly, Sharon Moseley, Gwendolyn Sharpe, Mary Elva Sherertz, Chuck Warrington, Ann Montsedeoca, Emily Christensen and Jean Gruber.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Warrington with their party were Mrs. Duke Christensen, Mrs. G. D. Godwin, Jr., and Georgine Godwin, and Mrs. W. W. Sherertz, Jr.

THE KEY DEER

By The Bird Woman

During this season of the year so many things have been said and written about the deer of the north pole pursuing to be the property of certain fabled characters, we think it is appropriate to turn our thoughts to a more tangible species of the deer family, namely the key deer, which are the only one of their kind in the world, and which are rapidly becoming extinct owing to the lack of protection.

We are told that the key deer has long been protected by laws set forth by the Game and fresh water fish commission, but having a law on the statute books and enforcing it is two different things, and an adequate law that will really protect and enforce, is what has been badly needed.

This key deer resembles our white tailed deer in a number of ways, yet is as unlike it in so many ways, that there are different schools of thought on the subject of whether it is a distinct species, or whether environment has caused it to be so.

Soil Conservation News

By Sam Polston

The Highlands Soil Conservation District received requests this week for technical assistance in developing complete soil and water conservation farm plans on the Moon Branch farm owned by E. D. McCauley, George southeast of Sebring.

Cooperator Edna Pearce Lookstein has completed the construction of three miles of drainage ditch on her Fish Branch Ranch. This is part of a system designed by the Soil Conservation Service for water control on 1,000 acres of pasture.

Cooperator N. B. Jackson of Venus requested technical assistance in the design and layout of a dike to protect about 150 acres of improved pasture from flooding. Mr. Jackson constructed one mile of dike in December to protect about 100 acres of improved pasture.

Clover planting in the Highlands District is about finished. Cooperator Sol McClelland of Lorida planted 25 acres last week on a pangola grass sod. The recent rains have been excellent for the White Dutch Clover plantings.

Carl McIntyre of Sebring has an outstanding field of clover on the Skipper Road south of Sebring. It was fertilized about October, and is now ready to graze. He plans to use it as a deer fattening pasture as he has done in the past years with a high degree of success. The SCS assisted him in the design and installation of a 60 acre page irrigation system last year.

Senior Class

To Receive

Entry Fee

The Senior Class of the Avon Park High School will be in charge of local contestants in the Sebring County Fair. The entry fee of $5.00, which each merchant must pay to sponsor a girl in the contest, will go to the Senior Class. This is the first year that the entry fee has been donated to the School.

Several of the Senior girls will contact the local merchants this week to see who they desire to sponsor. The girls will have a list of those who are eligible to enter the deer hunt in the area.

The last Congress passed a bill to secure a certain part of land for the establishment of a deer refuge, this bill was sponsored by congressman Bennett, and thousands of letters from our own state and locally as well as all over the nation, put pressure on congress to take action. The bill was passed, but it is still in the hands of the executive branch.

We hope every one who reads this will keep the plight of these deer in mind and will watch to see what progress is being made in enforcing the laws we have and in securing a permanent refuge for our key deer. We only hope that "we are not looking the barn after the horse has been stolen."

Secrets of a Model

Today we photographed a model of a home with the laundry built into a bathroom. When I cornered the builder, I asked why on earth he hadn't put the laundry in a sensible place such as the kitchen. First, he pointed out that this was a real family home designed for a woman who does all her own housework.

"We think a bathroom-laundry will cut down the amount of carrying the housewife has to do. For example, when she changes the bed linen, she can put them right into this RCA bination washer-dryer instead of letting the laundry pile up and hauling it downstairs to wash and dry."

"I like that idea," I mused. "If the kids have been making mud pies, she could whisk them into the tub and wash their play things practically in one operation."

There was a chuckle and Hank interposed. "What an imagination! Which gets a cold bath when the hot water supply runs out? Kids or clothes?"

Fortunately, a home economist on Whirlpool was standing by, assured me that my idea was ideal because the washer-dryer has a built-in heater to warm the water temperature.

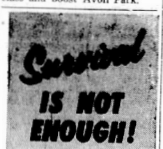

"I do not think of this as a 'laundry'," I asked her. "For it," she replied, "should be more accurately called a laundry where it has."

I knew of an eyebrow and I mind as well as my own. I was reading my magazine as I mentally rearranged the laundry to accommodate the washer-dryer!

Rotary News

Jack Hancock of Sebring presented the Avon Park Rotary Club with a Sebring Rotary Banner at the regular meeting.

This year the Beauty Contest will be bigger and better than ever and it is hoped that Avon Park will have as many contestants as the other cities. Sebring is ready to sponsor a local girl when the seniors call on you, and thus help the senior class and boost Avon Park.

luncheon meeting held Wednesday, January 15, at the Jacaranda Hotel. The Banner was presented as a token of friendship between the two clubs and the Sebring Club's appreciation for the hospitality shown them by the local club.

Hotels was the topic of Royal Cote Classification Talk and he stressed the importance of the community supporting its hotels. He also told how the hotels benefited the community.

Dr. V. A. Ward of Robersonville, N. C. was the guest of honor.

Seven visiting Rotarians were presented copies of "Florida, The Land of Romance" as they were from out of the state and this was their first visit to the local club. They are: Phil Palmer, Hart, Mich.; Will Kennedy, Greenwich, Conn.; Oscar Nelson, Canton, Ill.; Frank Furman, Port Jervis, N. Y.; A. P. Baldwin, Port Jervis, N. Y.; L. M. White, Mexico, Mo.; and Stanley Skiller, Matck, Mass.

Other visiting Rotarians last week included E. F. Armstrong, Hickville, Ohio; Jack Hancock, Bob Disher and Jack Thompson.

Stephenson, all of Sebring; Bruce C. Kline, Hickville, Ohio; Hugh Jones, Fairmont, W. Va.; and Jim Massey, Wayneville, N. C.

The State Board of Conservation says that stone crabs measure four inches in length of claw before they are legal to keep. Females must not be taken.
