Cash Awards Made In Subscription Drive

With many hundreds of new subscriptions the Avon Park Sun Expansion Campaign closed Tuesday. A final tabulation of Votes showed Mrs. Hazel Townsend in first place.

Publisher William A. Meyer presented Mrs. Townsend a check bringing her total cash award to $1,500 for the five and a half weeks drive.

Mrs. Viola Townsend placed second and was awarded a cash prize of $700. In third place was Jack Flaggert, who received a cash award of $400; in fourth place Mrs. Kathy Harden received $250; in fifth place was Sherman Drawdy who received a check for a total of forty percent of the money taken in by himself other than commissions he had received during the drive; in sixth place Mrs. Irene Shields received 20 percent of her total over regular commissions previously paid.

Mrs. F. E. Carlson was close behind the winners; while Mrs. Edna Dixon and Mrs. Eva Moore were also contestants.

Mr. Meyer complimented all of the workers in the campaign for their efforts and expressed himself well pleased with the results as many hundreds of new readers were gained for the Sun by the work of the contestants.

Tabulation of votes was done rapidly at the Chamber of Commerce office with judges selected by contestants doing the tabulation and certifying the results to the Sun. Serving as judges were J. B. Hall, Jr., Lens S. Wright, Aden D. Childress, Theda D. Miracle, and H. I. Arms.

The campaign was conducted by Mr. and Mrs. John A. Price representing the Naperville Circulation Company, who were in charge of the Expansion Drive for the Avon Park Sun.

With the several hundred new subscribers in Avon Park and community, many in the Sebring and Lake Placid areas and many in the northern states, the Avon Park Sun will be better able to serve the community by getting the local news before thousands of new readers.

Family reunions are wonderful. Especially if one is endowed with a huge capacity for food and a chance to loosen ones belt after lunch.

It was my good fortune to attend one of these gatherings at the picturesque country home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lamb near Bowling Green.

There was a goodly gathering of Wingates and Lambs, aunts, uncles and cousins all over the place, and of all ages, ranging from Grandmother who was 96 to wee tots in their mother's arms.

After the excitement of much greeting, handshaking, introductions and trying to get straight who belonged to whom, and which were the "kissin' cousins" the preacher asked the blessing and we all gathered around a picnic table under the big oaks that stretched nigh on down to the lower forty.

Set out on this board was the most fantastic array of covered and uncovered dishes that this one has ever seen assembled. Being as confused as a blind dog in a meat shop I finally made my choices, all good, because everything was delicious.

One thing in particular brought back happy memories of my childhood, when I visited my grandmother's farm in West Virginia. That was the home-made chow-chow or pickled relish that grandmother called "End of the Garden". Boy, was it good!

After everyone was fed and groaning and the growing boys had been back for their third piece of cake, some went to the house to cluster around the piano and sing the good old songs. Others formed groups under the trees to visit, while the children amused themselves as only kids can, by running and falling down and playing ball, and as one curious toddler did, by squatting to inspect the red wagging tongue of a panting dog.

Everyone seemed so happy to be there among relatives, neighbors and friends. It was a gay and cordial group. On the way home, a stuffed tummy and thoughts of all the wonderful food passed up inspired this thought:

How convenient to the cow
Her numerous stomachs
For storing chow

I am happy to report that Hattie Leighton, who took a tumble during the Red Devil circus Saturday night, has recovered nicely. She suffered back bruises and her doctor says there are no internal injuries.

Monday night's performance went off without a hitch since there were no high winds to interfere.

All concessions did a brisk business with complete sell-out's the first night and I have been asked to thank all those good folks who donated cakes and pies for the PTA.

The women of Avon Park will march in the fight against Cancer on Monday night, April 27, and at this time they will canvass the residential districts of Avon Park and the surrounding homes for contributions to this vital program.

The Avon Park Junior Woman's Club under the direction of Mrs. James Turnbull and Mrs. Andrew Miracle will be in charge of the drive and Jr. Club members and other women of Avon Park will make the canvass. When they knock at your door next Monday night between 6:30 and 9 o'clock remember the importance of the Cancer Society. Leave your lights on and contribute generously to this cause. Canvassers will meet at 6:30 in the Florida Power Customers Room to receive their district assignments.

The Cancer drive will be concluded during the next two weeks and several other ways to reach the public of Avon Park are being planned, reports J. T. Lassiter, Chairman of the local drive. On Saturday, April 25, Cancer Tags will be sold in Avon Park with all contributions going to the drive. During the next two weeks a short film will be shown in the local theater stressing the importance of a check-up and a check with donations taken.

Chairman Landress urges all merchants who have Cancer Coin Collectors in their stores to place them in a prominent place where they will be seen easily by the public. If the clerks and managers will do this, he feels that many will remember to contribute a small change that will add up on a large scale.

Treatment and detection of cancer has improved so greatly during the last few years, largely through the efforts of the American Cancer Society that many thousands have been saved. The medical and scientific study of cancer is making great strides and it is hoped that soon all of the funds will be able for further research, reports Avon Park's chairman of the Crusade.

'Labor Refrom Bill'

Some time this week the United States Senate is expected to vote on a bill that had its origins in the obvious need to curb "improper activities in labor-management relations"—a phrase incorporated in the formal title of a select committee named to investigate these activities, better known as the McClellan Labor Rackets Committee.

The measure under consideration, sponsored by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), was reported favorably out of the Senate Labor Committee last Tuesday with the warning that Congress should not swing so hard at union corruption that it will hurt the majority of unions "honestly and democratically run."

This would appear to be a tacit admission that the so-called Kennedy-Ervin bill—direct descendant and spittin' image of last year's defeated Kennedy-Ives bill—is something less than an adequate answer to the vicious practices exposed in hearings before the McClellan Committee.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), who voted against the bill in committee, said it is ineffective, and that the measure as it stands has no legitimate claim to the title "Labor Reform Bill." There are many who will agree with him, for good and sufficient reasons.

An effective labor reform bill, among other things, would protect the rights of labor union members in all phases of union operation, including control of its treasury; it would put tight limits on organizational picketing; it would ban all secondary boycotts; it would limit and control labor union political expenditures and assessments for political purposes.

The Kennedy bill does none of these things. Although its proponents claim it represents "a major attack on the abuses and problems identified by recent investigations" like that conducted by the McClellan committee, analysis shows a number of glaring deficiencies that negate its purported aims.

Sen. McClellan, the man in a position to know best what is really needed, has introduced a labor reform bill of his own which could be effective, although at this point it appears that its only chance of being implemented is through amendments to the Kennedy bill.

McClellan, for instance, would impose fiduciary obligations on union officials and give union members the right to sue in federal courts if these obligations were violated. His bill would deprive unions of tax immunity and the right to appeal to the National Labor Relations Board if their officials failed to live up to provisions of the act. It would protect small businessmen and their employes in labor disputes where the NLRB refuses to take jurisdiction, by giving the states power to act.

McClellan's bill would make it illegal for unions to contribute to state and local political campaigns as well as to national parties. It would prohibit proxy voting in union elections. It would outlaw blackmail picketing and secondary boycotts.

Clearly, if the aim is actually to correct the abuses now existing, McClellan's bill is far superior to the Kennedy bill. If the real aim is to appease powerful labor leaders by merely creating an impression in the public mind that something is being done, Kennedy fills the bill.

How, may we ask, would a law making robbery illegal affect honest people? And how, by the same token, would a labor bill banning undemocratic and dishonest union practices affect the majority of unions honestly and democratically run?"

In our opinion, it will be a sad day for America if the Congress approves the Kennedy-Ervin bill in its present form. If that is your opinion too, you CAN and SHOULD do something about it. Write to your Congressman and your Senators, IMMEDIATELY, demanding that they support the kind of labor bill needed to do the job, Sen McClellan's bill will do it.

Driver Training Cuts Insurance

Automobile liability insurance rates went up approximately 23 per cent last week. J. Edwin Larson, State Insurance Commissioner, made the announcement.

The increase raised a howl of protest from citizens already burdened with rising taxes and costs of living. However, facts are facts. If automobile accidents increase, insurance rates will increase right behind them.

The only way to stabilize or reduce automobile liability insurance rates is to reduce accidents through a sound, sensible program of safety education, enforcement and engineering.

An example of a realistic program to reduce the highway tolls of death, injury and destruction is the Florida Conference of AAA Motor Clubs' 17-point motorist legislation program.

This plan thoroughly covers education, enforcement and engineering. It would call for persons under 18 years of age to successfully pass a driver education course approved by the State Department of Education in order to obtain a drivers' license.

Facts and figures from states having extensive driver education programs prove that drivers trained in school have 50 per cent fewer accidents than untrained drivers in the same age bracket.

Numerous insurance companies, having already recognized the fact that properly trained and oriented drivers are good risks, have reduced their premiums 10 per cent below the cost of an untrained driver in the same age bracket.

The cost is less than five cups of coffee. An additional 50 cents for drivers' licenses will pay for the program, providing lawmakers in Tallahassee pass the bills now pending. It is a cheap price to pay for the resulting reduction in death, injury, and property damage on Florida highways.

Soil Conservation News

DISTRICT NEWS

By C. F. Howerton

U.S. Soil Conservation Service

The Highlands Soil Conservation District assisted Mr. Jack Dressel in working out a soil and water conservation plan on his 900 acre dairy farm at Aven Park this week. Mr. Dressel has approximately 600 acres of improved pasture and plans to develop the rest of his property in the near future. He has a water control system that is serving for both drainage and irrigation on organic soil. The ditches are so constructed that they intercept seepage water from sand hills that ordinarily would keep the land too wet to work and divert it around the fields in wet weather and by use of control structures the water can be held up for irrigation in dry weather. He plans to mole drain part of the area in addition to the ditches.

Conservation plans were also prepared with Henry O'Neal, R. P. Dunty, Jr., and LaVaughn T. Werner on citrus groves. Cover crop management and springler irrigation programs were planned for all three. Irrigation pond sites were checked for P. M. Porter for citrus irrigation and N. B. Jackson for pasture irrigation.

The landowners of the Istokpoga Marsh Watershed held a meeting in the Soil Conservation Service office in Sebring Tuesday, April 14 and worked out some of the details of the application to the U. S. Department of Agriculture for technical and financial assistance on construction of works of improvement under the Small Watershed protection and Flood Prevention Act (P.L. 566). The proposed improvements would benefit about 30,000 acres of muck land southeast of Lake Istokpoga.

Recently there were three cases of smallpox reported in an adjacent county and the usual alarm that goes with such a report, especially affecting those who are unprotected. Many are now requesting protection by vaccination against this disease. Certainly those persons who have not been vaccinated should go to their family doctor or report to the Health Department for this protection. At this time we would like to remind Highlands County residents who have not availed themselves of the opportunity for protection against "polio" that this, too, is important. Don't let "polio" strike you or your family. Remember that polio vaccination is not complete without at least three injections. Three "shots" - properly spaced - are 85-90 percent effective against paralytic polio. It takes about eight months to become fully vaccinated.

Americans are not adequately vaccinated. Only 42 percent have had any vaccine at all, only 33 percent have had the full series. It is up to each individual family to see to it that they are protected from this dreaded disease. Don't put it off any longer. Polio could strike one of yours if they are unprotected. Help the doctors and the Health Department in making Highlands County "polio"-free by seeing that all persons under the age of 40 are protected by receiving "polio" vaccinations.

Quartette Sings At Walker Memorial Sunday

The male quartette of Southern Missionary College near Chattanooga, Tennessee gave an unscheduled concert in the lobby at Walker Memorial Sunday night.

The men were on their way to Miami where they sang for the delegates at the Southern Union convention of Seventh Day Adventists.

It was felt that Dick Larsen, first tenor, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Larsen, lent his influence to make the unscheduled stop for which the delighted audience was grateful. Other members of the group were Elder Don Crook, second tenor, Lane Schmidt, baritone, and Larry Blackwell, bass.

Jimmy Rhodes was accompanist and also demonstrated his skill at playing some of the instruments which have earned him the title of "One Man Band".

Winter Guest Club News

A quiet week just past. Not much doing, as the highbrows put it. Hence this may be a short report, which will please some folks and astonish the rest. Well, we'll see. The Stroller can sometimes make something out of nothing, but not always.

Our numbers are still shrinking. The card enthusiasts on Tuesday afternoon filled only four tables as against six the week before, sixteen folks to shuffle and deal, bid or pass as circumstances allowed, instead of twenty-four on that previous day. And now three couples are shoving off this week for their homes in the cooler North or the golden West. And incidentally Mr. Luyben came in first when scores were counted, Mrs. Nickerson next.

The dancers too, like the card players, are fast thinning out. Only sixty-five on the floor last Friday night a against ninety-five is a goodly number for the middle of April, the month when so many good-byes are said. There will be fewer next time, but what of that? On with the dance. Let joy be uncorked, as the poet said. If sixty-five can have a grand time, as on Friday night they did, so can fifty-five, or forty-five, and so on ad infinitum. Thirty stayed for refreshments after the dance, coffee and doughnuts as usual and as good.

On Saturday evening sixteen manned the supper tables, but there was no tournament afterwards as had been scheduled. Probably the late afternoon parade and the High School circus later drew too many from the tables and the courts. Nevertheless enough folks turned out to fill 6 courts with friendly games, which some folks regard as more interesting than tournaments, and to fill three tables of card players afterwards.

The Sunday afternoon sing under the expert leading of Professor Shiltz, with Mrs. Shiltz at the piano, was the final one of the season. And a most pleasant hour it was too. The Stroller reckoned there were between fifty and sixty folks present. Mr. Ford said there were exactly fifty-five. As it happened both were right though different, just another case of the greater containing the smaller, as when the whale swallowed Jonah.

To many people group hymn singing is as good as a sermon, better than some sermons that have been preached. When "Softly and tenderly . . ." was sung one felt like walking straight to the confessional rail, and the "Old Rugged Cross" roused the urge to fight the devil and all his minions. The Baptist quartet stated on the bulletin board to appear, dwindled to one soloist in the person of Mr. Gerald Dunn, baritone, who rendered two numbers in fine voice and was generously applauded. He then faded away via the side door. Something to be done, something done, exit. It seemed just like that but very nice after all. Mrs. Book gave a recitation in her usual faultless and graceful way, the men present lined up front and sang about the church in the wildwood, and the session closed by everybody hand in hand and forming a ring round the room singing the final hymn. A most pleasant occasion and everybody went home happy.

The coin collectors, which the city strung along the street fronting the Guest Club grounds, don't appear to do much business. But they really do some now and then. One yielded three pennies the other day. So the city will probably keep them there, believing like the Roman poet that a little is better than nothing. And so it may be about this column as the Guest Club goes into a sort of summer hibernation, when news items become both thinner and scarcer. So says

The Stroller

The ancient writers said some smart things, if you have ever taken the time to read what they wrote.

Kitchen Shower Honors Couple

An original kitchen shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Smith on Lake Lotela honored Jack Smith, bridegroom-elect, and Miss Carlynne Daniel, bride-elect, on Thursday night, April 16.

The young couple are from Wauchula but have many friends and relatives here and their wedding will be an event of June 5. The delightfully different shower included the bridegroom-elect and his friends as well as the ladies this time. Hosts for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Henderson of Wauchula, and Mr. and Mrs. Wendall Smith.

The informal setting of the evening was enchanced with lovely bouquets of spring flowers throughout the Smith home and a green and white color scheme was used. Guests signed a magnetic memo-pad instead of the usual bride's book as they arrived.

Several games were played during the evening with a number of lucky winners. At one time the honored guests were asked to leave the room and then the men attempted to describe the bride-elects dress and accessories while the women described the clothes of the bridegroom-elect. This game caused much merriment and proved the old saying that we do not really "see" what we look at.

The young couple received many useful and clever gifts for their new kitchen from their many friends, about forty friends from Avon Park and Wauchula enjoyed the evening with Miss Daniel and Jack Smith.

Rrefreshments were served the guests from a lovely table featuring a punch bowl surrounded with gardenias. Punch, delicious white cake, and nuts completed the refreshments.

During the afternoon several tables of bridge were in play with Mrs. G. A. Woodward winning the high score prize.

The Woman's Golf Association will hold its next meeting on Wednesday, May 20.

Charter Members Honored By Royal Arch Chap.

The Royal Arch Masons honored two charter members and six companions of from 25 to 38 years membership in Highlands Chapter No. 42.

Following the six o'clock dinner meeting at Griffin's with 22 members attending, the regular Chapter meeting was held at the Masonic Temple.

It was an inspiring meeting with some wonderful early-day reports of the Chapter. There were visitors from Hempstead, N. Y., Toledo, Ohio, Frostproof and Sebring, Lebannon, Pa., Elgin, Illinois, Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

It was announced that on April 27, Hollyrood Commandery No. 27 will have a covered dish supper followed by entertainment. The ladies are going all out to make this a success. All Knights and wives invited.

In Loving Memory Of Betty Jo Collins

Nov. 12, 1933--Apr. 29, 1958

Gone but not forgotten, her life and
Memory continue to be an inspiration to all
Who really knew and loved her.
Her humility, sincerety, unselfishness and unending love are sadly missed.

"Who shall find a valient woman?
Far above rubies is her price.

"Many daughters have gathered together many riches, she has surpassed them all. Favor is decietful and beauty is vain. The woman that feareth the Lord she shall be praised. Give her the fruit of her hands and her works praise her at the gates".

Her short presence enriched many lives and made them worthwhile.

Proudly and lovingly remembered.

Visitors to Avon Park judge it largely by the people they meet here. What do you do to make Avon Park more attractive to visitors and newcomers?

Now that we've had a taste of it, winter doesn't seem all we thought it was—last summer.

Safety Patrol Boys Of Avon Park High School To Attend Assembly

Three members of the Avon Park High School Safety Patrol will attend the 23rd National School Safety Patrol Assembly and Parade in Washington, D. C. on May 6 through May 10.

Every thoughtful citizen is grateful for the faithful, unselfish service of our School Safety Patrols. In all cities and towns throughout the United States and Forida many school children's lives are saved each year through the constant efforts of the boys and girls of the Patrols.

In recognition of this fine life-saving work, many communities send representatives to participate in the National School Patrol Parade in Washington, D. C. The trip is a reward and is one way of telling the young patrolmen how much their diligent work is appreciated. More than 32,000 Patrolmen from all over the United States are expected in Washington for the Annual Parade down historic Constitution Avenue on Saturday, May 9. The approximately 200 Patrol boys and girls of the Tampa area attending the Assembly will be in the First Division which leads the parade at 9 a. m. on Saturday morning.

Safety Patrol members from Avon Park attending the Assembly will be Clifton Crews, Patrol Captain, Leroy Smedley, and John Thompson. The boys will leave from Tampa on Wednesday, May 6, on the "Champion" and return on the same train Sunday afternoon, May 10.

Thursday morning the Florida boys and girls, accompanied by ten adult escorts, will visit the White House, Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Supreme Court Building, Library of Congress, and visit with the Florida Congressional Delegation at the Capitol. That afternoon will include more sightseeing as will Friday. The boys and girls will have chances to see most of the important landmarks of Washington and our governmental departments. On Saturday they will march before many notables of the government. Saturday afternoon will include visits to Andrews Air Force Base to see latest aircraft, rockets, missiles, satellities, and a special flying demonstration by the Air Force Thunderbirds.

The fortunate boys who will represent Avon Park on this trip are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Crews, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Smedley, and Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Thompson. Clifton is a member of the ninth grade class and Leroy and John are seventh grade class members.

Avon Park Lakes News

Sixty-one men, women and children attended the Cook-Out held at the Clubhouse Thursday, April 16. The weather was favorable, permitting the cooking and serving of the food outdoors. Three charcoal grills were in operation providing hamburgers and hot dogs broiled to suit the taste. In addition were salads, slaw, potato chips, pickles, onions fresh from the garden, coffee, tea and milk, followed by ice cream and cookies. A short meeting was held at which the Chairman of the Board of Governors, D. Grey Knowles, gave a progress report, explaining and clarifying the Board's position and actions on several items. Albert S. Cushing showed colored motion pictures of a western trip including the popular Disneyland and Sun Valley followed by films featuring quartet singing of old time favorites in which the group joined.

Thad Keefe, Chairman of Entertainment and Sports, asked for a show of hands at the meeting to determine the extent of interest in a shuffleboard competition. A large number of these present seemed to want to develop this skill. Names of the interested parties were recorded. Those not present who wish to play should signify their intention to Edward Kostitch who will supervise the competition.

Dear Sir:

Last night I attended the Circus put on by the Avon Park school kids and I was amazed at the quality of their abilities.

I say this as somewhat of an expert in gymnastics and if those kids would feel rewarded by a few loud words of praise then here it is. I have been fooling around gymnasiums for more 40 years, and during that time I competed for the New York Athletic Club in gymnastic and fancy diving contests for 17 years. With luck I won national championships in both sports, and was a coach in both sports for 7 years. With this background as a foundation for my praise I say to the circus kids: Let us have more circuses of the caliber I saw last night. It was wonderful.

The Birds Tell Us It Is Spring

By Bird Woman

Who could watch the birds at this season of the year and not realize the time of year? It Is Spring!

We quite frequently hear people say, "Spring is in the air", it certainly is, and a great part of it on wings. Martins are soaring and diving and bringing nesting material to their apartments, and numerous birds are on the wing.

We were "surrounded" by a mocker this morning, if such a condition would be possible, but we were very near her nest, evidently, but it was so cleverly hidden that without wishing to frighten her by prying, we were unable to see it, but with every step we took in any direction we would find her blocking the way, flying from one low shrub or limb to another.

We did not wish the situation to become acute, for we knew about the long sharp bill and claws, and had seen her dive bomb an enemy, so we decided that a hasty retreat would be the easiest way out, so we retreated.

Usually these birds that stay with us all the year and take advantage of our feeders and bird baths, are so accustomed to our coming and going that they pay no attention to us, and often we are quite near to them without knowing it, and when we do spy them they seem to be quite unconcerned by our presence. But Spring is here and things are different.

Bird lovers should be on the alert now as there are many birds that have spent the winter in either S. America or Cuba or one of the keys and are returning to their northern homes, and as they cannot carry extra food with them on the journey, and as it takes up a great amount of energy to cover all the miles they must fly, they are forced to land and feed.

Some of these migratory birds fly by night and rest and feed during the day, others although they fly by day must stop many times to find food and water.

We like to quote the scientists who say, that if it were not for birds migrating, and eating insects and weed seeds, that man could not live on this planet.

It has been estimated that ten per cent of the crops raised by man, are consumed by insects and rodents. So we hope that every one will do all they can to protect these feathered helpers, even those that stay with us only a short time, but are of immeasurable help to us in eating insects and also a tremendous amount of wed seed.

The yellow throated warbler in our midst is another sign of Spring, one of the windy days recently we discovered one sitting contentedly on our front steps, feating it had been hurt, we approached it cautiously but it flew away to the nearest shrub and began to hunt insects, so it evidently had taken advantage of a place out of the wind.

We saw it later in the dog wood tree freely cleaning the twigs of insects.

We have been a little disturbed about the cedar waxwings, as they had such a bad winter last year, as all the fruit on which they depend for food as they travel through our area, was either too late for them or was frozen completely.

But now the mulberry trees are full of fruit and waxwings also, they usually come when mulberries are ripe and stay to enjoy the nectar of the silk oak blossom.

We have written about the waxwings before but they are always an interesting subject. We seldom give the names of birds used by ornithologists if there is a common name for them.

The waxwing belongs to the same family as the silky fly catchers, and of the waxwings there are three species, all these are found in the northern Hemisphere. While there are some elegantly colored birds in the tropics many of them do not come this far north, and many that we have are not familiar to them.

Whenever we try to discribe the size of a bird we try to compare it to the robin, or another birds with which people are familiar, so we will say that the waxwing in size is between the robin and the sparrow.

It has unusual markings, while the main color is brown, many call it fawn colored, with a wide yellow stripe across the tail, the yellow underneath is one of the field marks that makes it easy to recognize in flight.

It is also our only brown bird with a crest, its bill and mask is black, and there are little white lines seperating the mask above and below.

It always makes us think that in designing this bird our wonderful Creator must have taken a hair line brush to place these little lines so narrow and so true, yet after all the centuries, this little hair line of white feathers is still in place.

After they have gorged themselves with berries, they will fly to a dead limb and line up shoulder to shoulder, waiting for the food to digest.

They do not nest in the south and when their young are hatched they are capable of flying long distances for food for the young, they are called the bird with the bread basket, because they can carry so many berries in their throats and then regurgitate them whole to the young.

These intellegent birds, will often sit in rows on a dead limb and pass a cherry from one to another the length of the line, it seems to be a game with them, but one bird lover was enjoying this little game and he noticed that a sparrow had inadvertently or purposely found a place in the line, so when the cherry was passed to the sparrow it seemed not to know the rules of the game and he swwallowed the cherry.

We sincerely hope that every one will watch for the migratory birds and also the enemies of the birds, so that in a few years we will have our quota of birds again.

Lets not forget it is also nesting time for our native birds, and that cats and small boys with guns are the worst enemies our birds have to combat. And that we have laws protecting these birds, and a call to the Mayor will bring the help to see

Lynn Longbottom And Lieut. Rice Wed In Candlelight Ceremony Sat.

Miss Lynn Longbottom became the bride of Lt. Joe Allen Rice in an impressive double ring ceremony on Saturday night, April 18, at 7:30 in the First Baptist Church. The marriage rites were performed by the Rev. J. T. Owens, Assistant pastor of the Palma Cecia Baptist Church, and standing baskets of white gladioli and fuji chrysanthemums with banks of palms added to the beauty of the candlelight service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Longbottom and Lt. Rice is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Rice of Houston, Texas.

A program of nuptial music was presented before the ceremony by Mrs. J. T. Owens of Tampa, organist, and Miss Janet Biven of Jacksonville, soloist. Miss Biven, sang several appropriate selections including "The Wedding Prayer", "The Pledge", "O Perfect Love".

The lovely bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional floor length wedding gown of embroidered Swiss organdy trimmed with Valenciennes lace. The fitted bodice featured a slightly scalloped neckline and dainty cap sleeves and the bouffant skirt was also of imported Swiss organdy and Valenciennes lace. A jeweled Juliet cap held her veil of fingertip length and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and white sweetheart roses. The bride's only adornment was a string of pearls given by an aunt and they were the customary "something old" having been in the bride's family for a number of years. The dainty lace covered white Bible she carried was a gift of the Elizabeth Provence Young Woman's Auxiliary of the Palma Cecia Baptist Church.

Mrs. Chesley Andrew Moore, aunt of the bride, of Bartow was matron of honor. Miss Nancy Sue Longbottom, cousin of the bride, of Sebring was bridesmaid. Their dresses were coral silk organza of waltz-length and they wore matching headpieces trimmed with net. They carried feathered carnation bouquets in shades of pink which were arranged in the shape of the double wedding rings.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Longbottom chose a terrace-length sheath gown of blue-violet sheer crepe with a draped molded Empire' bodice featuring a slim skirt. Her accessories were of matching blue-violet and she wore a corsage of two cymbidium orchids of variegated shades of violet.

Mr. and Mrs. Longbottom entertained at a reception in the Palm Room of the Jacaranda Hotel following the ceremony. Beautiful arrangements of white magnolias, yellow roses, and mixed pastel spring flowers were used to decorate the room. Standing baskets of white gladioli and fuji chrysanthemums were also placed at vantage points.

The bride's table, covered with an imported handmade cutwork cloth of white linen and lace, held four tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature arrangement of lilies of the valley. Silver candelabra at each end of the table, silver compotes holding salted nuts, shaped gardenia arrangements, and dainty white pompons with baby's breath encircling the cake, completed the lovely table.

Crystal candelabra, a crystal punch bowl, and white gardenias were used on the punch table. Crystal compotes on the table held dainty candy mints of pastel shades decorated with a lily of the valley design.

A wedding portrait of the beautiful bride adorned the table that held the bride's book and a small arrangement of white pompons. Mrs. James Turnbull presided at the bride's book during the reception.

Greeting the guests were Mrs. L. H. Ford and Mrs. R. H. Lawhon. Mrs. Aden Childress escorted the guests to the cake and punch tables after they had greeted the members of the receiving line.

The young couple will live at 220 West Davis Blvd. Tampa, when they return from their wedding trip.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Al Hines and her daughter, Patty, Miss Sandy Asher, Miss Faye Fettles, Miss Joy Richardson, Miss Kody, J. B. Houps, and Mrs. J. T. Wills, all of Tampa; Mrs. T. J. DeSha, Miss Louise Wise, and Miss Beryl Minten, all of Jacksonville; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Moore and their daughter, Kathy, of Bartow; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Longbottom, Sr., of Stuart; Mrs. George Osborne of Stuart; Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Harp and Miss Shirley DeSha of Eau Gallie; Mr. and Mrs. Noel Robinson of Gainesville, and Mrs. J. A. Harvey of Williston. Many friends from Sebring and Lake Placid were also present for the lovely service.

National Merit Scholarship Tests Here Tues.

More than 24 students at the Avon Park High School plan to take the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, A. B. Wilhite, Supervising Principapl, announced Tuesday. The test will be administered at the high school at 9 a.m. on Tuesday, April 28.

The test is the first step in competition for Merit Scholarships provided by some 90 corporations, foundations, professional societies and individuals as well as by the National Merit Scholarships Corporation itself. Some $15 million Merit Scholarships has been awarded in the first four years of the program.

The Qualifying Test is a three hour measure of educational development and college aptitude. The highest scorers in each state, some 10,000, will take a second examination. From these the highest scorers will be given further evaluation and the winners will be announced in the Spring of 1960. Test results will be reported to all participating schools and may be used as students as indications of individual strengths and weaknesses. Test results cannot be used to evaluate school performance because of many factors having nothing to do with total effectiveness of the school such as size of school, state, number taking test, native intelligence of those taking test. However, it can help the individual student recognize his own abilities.

Each Merit Scholarship carries a stipend based on the need of each individual winner. The Merit Scholarship Corporation was founded in 1955.

The Ridge Area Day School has been in operation for the past two school years with Mrs. Maxine Delahunty of Sebring the teacher. This year the school is serving eleven children of Avon Park, Sebring and DeSoto City. The enthusiasm and help of the entire community of Avon Park has been a large factor in the success of the school and the Association.

DOG OWNERS

How do you feel toward your dog? Do you have him for companionship, burglary insurance, child's playmate, automatic guard, defender of the home, fire alarm, or do you think of him as just a dog? If he is missing for two days will you be interested enough to try to find out where he is?

Has he been properly trained, or do you let him run at large chasing children on bicycles, upsetting garbage cans, or getting into some other trouble? Remember that the owner is liable for the misdoings of his dog. Perhaps the most famed literature on dogs was spoken by the late Senator Vest of Missouri when a man was being tried for killing another man's dog. He said, "A man's dog stands by him in prosperity and in poverty, in health and in sickness. He will kiss the hand that has no food to offer, he will lick the sores and wounds that come in encounter with the roughness of the world. He stands the sleep of his pauper master as if he were a prince." When we humans are sick we go to see our Doctor; the Veterinarian stands by to keep your dog well, which in turn, protects humans.

Alcolines

By Charley Stookey

"Every since the first primitive tribesman drank too much fermented fruit juice, it has been obvious that the uncontrolled use of alcohol may lead some persons into the disease of alcoholism."

I found that sentence in one of the pieces of literature given me at the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center, Avon Park. It started me on a study of the history of the drinking of alcoholic beverages in which I made some startling discoveries.

I found that drinking of alcoholic beverages began thousands of years ago--so long ago that we have no record of how or when it started. It is likely that food and drink containing alcohol were developed purely by accident.

One legend says that in the primitive world before men learned to grow crops, some tribes lived on the grain, or seed, of wild grasses. They harvested this grain and stored it in crude containers. Often it got wet from rain or melting snow. This resulted in the seeds sprouting and fermentation taking place.

When these ancient people ate this grain they probably found that it had strange taste---probably unpleasant, but they had to eat it or starve. This grain had remarkable effects on those who ate it. They became exhilarated and forgot their cares. They then became sleepy. Next morning they awakened with almost unquenchable thirsts and probably headaches. In other words they had gotten drunk and woke up with hangovers.

In that manner the grain-eating races probably discovered alcohol.

Tribes in other parts of the world lived on fruit which they gathered and stored in a manner similar to that of the grain eaters. Some of the berries or grapes were crushed; the juice fermented and they drank it to experience strange and exciting effects.

In the tropics ancient men discovered that the so-called "milk" of the coconut fermented readily, turning it into a beverage which brought on new feelings. Many tribes deep in the tropics still make a drink in this manner.

History tells us that ancient Greeks poured wine as an offering to their gods, and the Viking sea pirates celebrated their victories by getting drunk on beer.

The drinking of alcoholic beverages is not new, and the disease, alcoholism, which attacks some people who drink, has been a problem for ages, as well as today.

A Tip For A Real Treat

IT HAS BECOME CUSTOMARY TO TAKE MOM OUT for dinner on Mother's Day. But, she comes back down to earth at supper time. The family still must be fed. Here is a quick and easy menu that doesn't take long to put together. Even a teen-age daughter could do it.

The first course is a delicious pea soup made from a handy packaged soup mix. Although it takes but a few minutes to make, this Pea Soup, Virginia style, tastes like a chef's masterpiece that has stewed and simmered for hours. Served with a platter of cold meats, tomato slices, sweet pickles, bread and butter, the end result is a thoroughly satisfying meal.

PEA SOUP, VIRGINIA STYLE

2 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons minced onion
3 cups cold water
1 package green pea soup mix

In a 1½ qt. saucepan, sauté ham and onion in butter for 5 minutes. Add cold water and pea soup mix, stirring until smooth. Simmer for 3 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Florida Industry Development Is At Healthy Rate

New plants and major expansions announced during the year totaled 700 with anticipated employment of more than 23,000 when in full production, the Florida Development Commission said today in its annual report on manufacturing progress.

"These represent declines of 18 per cent in new plants and 10 per cent in employees from the 1957 totals, a more favorable situation than might have been expected in view of the nation-wide business recession and unusually cold winter of 1957-58," the report declared. "These effects were felt principally in the first half of 1958, with the second half of 1958 and early 1959 showing a definite recovery trend."

Commission Executive Director B. R. Fuller, Jr., hailed as "highly encouraging" a substantial increase in number and average size of expansions in 1958 over 1957. Expansions increased from 54 in 1957 to 62 in 1958, a gain of 15 per cent. The employment increase resulting from larger average size was 38 per cent.

"The gain in the number and average size of expansions is the best endorsement Florida could receive as a location for manufacturing plants," Fuller explained. "It's definite proof that many industrialists have found conditions in this state so good that they have increased the scope of their operations."

For the three years since the Committion's Industrial Services Division was activated and began collecting figures on industrial growth, announcements have been made of nearly 2,000 new plants and major expansions with expected employment of more than 80,000.

"No other southeastern state has equaled this record," the report continued. "Indeed, none of the highly industrialized northern states has yet published larger figures."

During the three-year period, figures collected for the federal government by the Florida Industrial Commission credit the state with a 21 per cent net gain in manufacturing employment. The report noted that in the same three years more than half the states showed declines in manufacturing employment. Only one state (California) had a larger absolute gain than Florida and only two states (Arizona and New Mexico) had larger percentage increases.

New plants or major expansions were announced for 52 of Florida's 67 counties during 1958. Dade County, with 220 plants and anticipated new employment of 6,000, again led the remainder of the state. Orange was second with 60 new plants and 3,800 employees, with Broward, Hillsborough and Duval third, fourth and fifth in number of plants, and Pinellas, Duval and Lake third, fourth and fifth in new employees.

Seeley Family Enjoys Reunion

A three day Family Reunion was enjoyed by the children of Mrs. Hazel Seeley and their families at Highlands Lakes last weekend.

Mrs. Seeley has recently moved to Avon Park from Clearwater and is employed at Walker Memorial Hospital and lives on Lake Lillian. The weekend gathering of her four children, their wives, and her grandchildren was the first reunion of all members of the family in a number of years.

A special section in the Walker Memorial Seventh Day Adventist Church was reserved for the twenty-four family members on Saturday morning at the church service. A delicious picnic luncheon with Elder and Mrs. Kenneth Wright of Walker Memorial, and their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Wright and their daughter, of Maitland, as special guests was enjoyed by all after the church service.

On Sunday the group enjoyed a day of boating and picnicing on Lake Jackson in Sebring. A trip to visit Mrs. Gertrude Seeley, the family's only living relative on their father's side in New Smyrna climaxed the three day visit on Monday. A swim in the ocean there was a treat to the children before the group parted with many fond memories for their respective homes.

Enjoying the weekend with their mother and family were Mr. and Mrs. James Seeley and their two children of Jacksonville; Dr. and Mrs. George V. Fuller and their eight children of Macon, Ga.; Steve Seeley of Sebring whose wife and two children were not present being away on a visit to Louisiana; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Culverhouse and their four children of Avon Park.

Air Force Seeks New Program Of Officer Training

A brand new program designed to provide a short cut for college graduates who want to be officers in the United States Air Force was anounced today by Major Manuel J. Fernandez, Jr., south Florida recruiting director. The program became effective April 1.

College graduates accepted by the Air Force Recruiting officer will undergo three months of officer training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, and receive commissions as second lieutenants. Each graduate will incur a minimum active duty obligation of three years. Officer trainees will receive the pay and allowance of a staff sergeant while undergoing training.

Applicants must be physically fit and between 20½ and 27½ years of age at time of application. Marriage is no bar to qualification.

This program, never before offered by the Air Force in peacetime, is in some respects similiar to the officer candidate school (OCS) offered during World War II. According to Major Fernandez the new program is a separate one from the Aviation Cadet program still in operation.

College graduates who were unable to qualify for the Aviation Cadet program because they were married will have an opportunity under this new officer program.

The Birds-ivingston's Report

By Bird [illegible]

Who made [illegible] ...rious years - mainly because of the lack of the usual requests for local legislation. Heretofore Dade County alone would introduce several hundred bills that would apply to cities in that county alone. In that Dade County now operates as a single unit - commonly called "Metro" - and not as containing many cities, the number of local Acts have been materially lowered.

Our Committees have begun to function, with the appropriate bills referred to them being considered. Here they are discussed both by the members and the public.

Very few bills have been filed relating to taxes. One of the more important ones considered by the Committee on Finance and Taxation has been one that would prevent the assessment of a partner's share in a partnership as intangible personal property. The tax program as presently carried out by the Comptroller results in double taxation for the tax is first assessed on the assets of the partnership, and then, for a second time, against the share of the respective partners. The proposed Act would prevent this double assessment.

The Appropriations Committee is still struggling with the problem of keeping the expenditures within the means of anticipated revenue. If they are successful in this then very little new tax will be required. It is quite a monumental task, for it will be the first time in several years that the Legislature has served notice on the several agencies that they will be expected to curtail their activities to fit the State's ability to pay.

So far the session has been operating on an even keel. Very few of the industry bills have been introduced, the exception being the ones relating to citrus. These have been screened by the Citrus Commission, the Mutual, lay groups of the packers and canners and have received the endorsement of a vast majority of the interested parties. It is indeed gratifying to have legislation of such general scope be acceptable before being introduced.

It is odd how a condition can arise. Last session so many of the bills submitted required amendments to be made to the matters contained in the body of the Act; this time the defects appear mainly in the title of the Acts, and have to be changed even after final passage. This requires a motion to reconsider the bill as passed, an amendment added to the bill, then repassage of the entire bill.

Birthday Party Honors Sherry Kay Smith Thur.

Sherry Kay Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Smith, celebrated her eighth birthday with a party at her home on Thursday afternoon, April 17.

Sherry Kay and her friends played games in the yard and were each given favors of balloons to enliven the fun. After some playtime the boys and girls gathered in the dining room which was gaily decorated with balloons and held a table covered with a lace cloth holding a large birthday cake surrounded with flowers and pastel party pops for each guests.

Birthday cake, ice cream, and Cokes were served the hungry guests and then everyone enjoyed more games in the yard. Helping Sherry Kay with her party were her mother, Mrs. Smith, her sister, Linda, Miss Judy Martin and Mrs. Billy Martin.

The City of Sebring has a notice in a recent issue of the Highlands County News of its intention to apply for a local Act enlarging the city limits. It is very important that the citizens of Sebring, as well as the residents of the area the city desires to take in, carefully view the city's proposal, for it would enlarge the area of the city by more than four times its present one. Under their request the city would be more than six miles square.

Senator Carlton and I held public meetings prior to the session wherein we invited all who were interested in new legislation to present their program. In that none was requested by the city we are surprised at its action now, for it prevents us from discussing the question with you in public. Please let us hear from you on this vital problem.

It is my honor to be your representative, and I welcome your assistance in the task of making Highlands County a fine place in which to reside.

Sincerely,

Beware of salesmen who threaten to give you something.

"All Things Bright and Beautiful . . ."

By J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director

Years ago every child was familiar with a simple but lovely poem of praise to God for the miracles of every day—the sunset, the meadows, the color of a bird's wing, ripe fruit in the garden.

Today, unhappily, that poem is not so widely known, and even more unhappily, the children who live in the cement, brick and steel canyons of the cities are unfamiliar with "all things bright and beautiful"—those miracles of nature which the poet sings.

Since the civilization we are building eliminates nature's greatwclassroom for many of our children, we are duty bound to provide the best substitutes of which we are capable. That is the task to which the many Boys' Clubs of America are devoted.

While a tiled swimming pool cannot supplant the "ole swimmin' hole" in its natural setting, or any game match the thrill which a battle with a fighting trout provides, these substitutes may yield the sola bright spots in lives that are drab and barren. Indeed, in many instances, "all things bright and beautiful," all stability, and all constructive activity in the life of the street child is supplied by the Boys' Club to which he belongs.

For these reasons alone—apart from the fact that in areas where a Boys' Club program exists, delinquency diminishes—the Boys' Clubs of America deserve the unqualified support of every citizen.

Brownie Scout News

Troop 4 met with Mrs. Clara Mae Bennett on Monday afternoon and observed the Brownies ceremonies, discussed future plans, and enjoyed group games. Mrs. Tony Mitchell served refreshments to the third grade troop.

Youth Center News

A number of happy Red Devil Circus performers, the faithful crew of workers, and their sponsors were treated to a party at the Youth Center on Saturday night after the first performance.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack DeLaney, Mrs. Tuart Ward, and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Miracle served the boys and girls during the enjoyable evening.

The Youth Center will continue to be open each Wednesday afternoon and each Saturday night.

Eighth Birthday Party Honors Larry Sapp Fri.

Chit - Chat

By Pearl Yeaple

Last Christmas I received a most unusual card, actually it was of letter size, compiled with the wonderful thought of sending, not only Greetings on the Christ Child's birthday, but Twelve Things to Remember and ponder as our days progress.

First of these things was "The Value of Time". Time can mean so many things. To a child, it has no meaning except perhaps the Stop and Go periods of eating and sleeping and playing.

At school age, there begins to be a greater significance, yet how seldom is there realization that this is the Time of their preparation, knowledge-wise, for the rest of their lives. The basic tools of knowledge, like the component parts of anything to be built, are assembled now. Never again will there be Time for this acquisition; supplementing, yes, but this is the only unhampered time, set apart for this purpose.

And for young adults is the Time of marriage, of children, of learning to manage living, and of striving to achieve the one God-given purpose for which each of us was born.

For middle adulthood, the Time of evaluation comes from nowhere - am I doing well? Have I done well? Have I done the best I could? To what accomplishment have I built?

To older adults comes the Time of choice, and the Time of recognition. One chooses whether to count the life work done or continue in the progress of work, determining the need of one's special skills to his fellow man. Recognition comes that perhaps much of the measured Time has been wasted, that the hours that have passed give color to the hours to come, and these will be drab or rich, according. But still, that each day is the day to be Lived.

The trouble with too many people is that the only thought they have is that they have to say something.

Why Gamble?
Yes, why gamble . . . when there's no chance of winning? That's the kind of gambling you're involved in when you drive your car beyond the recommended period without having the oil changed.
Although you may use the very best motor oil, such as Phillips 66 Trop-Artic*, there comes a time when the accumulation of impurities in the oil reduces its efficiency.
That's why lubrication experts say: the best motor protection is to use the best motor oil, and change it every 1,000 miles under average around-town driving condtions.
Be sure to let your Phillips 66 Dealer change oil for you on schedule.

After an interesting Bible study lesson the seven members present made plans for taking care of the circle's business. Mrs. Giddens then served delicious refreshments to the following members, Estelle Bass, Erie Lewis, Letha Revis, Irene Albritton and new member, Mrs. Edna Money.

The Roxie Jacobs Circle met on Thursday night for its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Howze with nine members present. The Covenant Circle celebrated its 35th birthday on Wednesday, April 15, with a very impressive program. Mrs. Henry Lexia, president, was in charge of the program, and had done a great deal of research on the history of the group which she presented in a very interesting manner. Mrs. Lexia read the names of the former presidents of the group and a lovely white gardenia was placed on a tray for each president. Mrs. Robert Mysack, ex-president who served more years than any president, and Mrs. H. C Krenerick, another past president, who were present at the meeting were given gardenia corsages.

Mrs. Lexia then read the original Covenant from which the name of the Circle was taken and the group sang songs which the original members sang. Mrs. Samuel O. Norris sang an appropriate solo. A special "Happy Birthday" cake with thirty-five candles and lovely red roses adorned a lovely table from which the guests were served the delicious cake and punch. All the members enjoyed the memorial celebration and the history of their group.

The next meeting of the Covenant Circle will be a work and play day at the home of Mrs. Charles Shepherd on Lake Byrd.

About twenty-five members and families enjoyed the delightful "get-acquainted" dinner together at the Hein home. The lovely weather and the abundance of delicious food made for an extra-special day of fellowship for all, honoring John A. Scott, Minister, of Lake Wales, who has been serving the church but will retire in June.

Sunday school meets Sunday Morning at 10 o'clock and church begins each Sunday at 11 o'clock.

More than 125 delegates and officers representing some 15,536 Florida members of the Society will attend.

Speakers will include Congressman Robert Sikes; DeEmmett Bradshaw, of Miami and Omaha, Neb., honorary chairman of the Society's board; E. D. Rivers, Omaha, chairman of the board and former governor of Georgia; and Woodmen National Directors J. O. Hollis, Carthage, Miss., and Richard W. Ervin, Tallahassee, Florida attorney general.

One of the highlights of the convention will be the presentation Monday afternoon of a U. S. flag and flagpole to the St. Petersburg Youth Center. Board Chairman Rivers will make the presentation on behalf of the Society.

A competitive drill by the Uniform Rank, the Society's semi-military adjunct, will be first on the program Sunday afternoon. That evening, women delegates of the Society's newly formulated Women of Woodcraft will meet in the ballroom. The Miami Women's Court will confer the Presentation ceremony on a class of new members. The models had made these creations themselves and told the audience the total cost which fell far below usual purchase price of articles of like quality material and workmanship.

The PTA voted to serve light refreshments to all personnel of the Red Devils Circus, Saturday night, following the performance at the football field. The refreshments were served at the youth center, they report.

It is a great temptation to agree with certain people rather than engage in a hopeless discussion and waste one's time.

Avon Park should be very proud of these performers who make our circus probably second best of all school shows in the state. Timing must be perfect in order to successfully complete an act . . . and this takes work, as well as talent.

—o—

There was much ado in the Sun office when the contest checks were passed out to the winners. The boss forgot to sign a few but managed to catch Vi Townsend as she drove off and signed hers on the fender of the car. Everyone was extremely pleased with the results but wouldn't reveal what they planned to do with their winnings. The Townsends (Hazel) are building a house so we all have our own ideas about what will happen to her prize.

—o—

"Pete" gets around. In fact "Pete" travels in circles. Sometimes he raises cane, but most of the time he just squeezes cane juice, sugar cane, that is.

This grey animal with "mule ears" spends his days over on the Wauchula-Ft. Meade road attached to a long pole. One end of the pole is fastened to two grinding wheels which move when "Pete" does, thus grinding the cane stalks and extracting the juice.

Mules, I learned are a little like billy goats, they aren't a bit particular about their diets. "Pete" sometimes goes AWOL and heads for the nearest garbage can where he takes "pot luck". And one of his favorite dishes is a good old splintery board which he crunches with relish (when he can get it) . . . this might be termed planked plank, but I fear unless old "Pete" has a cast-iron tummy it may result in doom and board.

At any rate lots of tourists stop by to sample some of the juice and to take pictures of this beast at work. He doesn't mind the picture-taking but one overexuberant sight-seer tipped aboard without consulting either Pete or his owner. The mule went up and the man came down. You see Pete is a union mule and there is nothing in his contract that calls for hauling passengers.

Anyway, before he spent a dime for some juice, this would-be bronc-buster left the scene rubbing his back and muttering something about a silly mule, or words to that effect. And Pete just threw him a disdainful glance and heehawed something about men making a mule of themselves, or words of like nature.

The moral of this story being: Only a fool tries to ride a strange mule.

Hurd on the Mall

BY GEN HURD

Two lovely ladies who have shared their home and hobbies are Dr. Ruth Phillips and Miss Myrtle Wilson.

These two retired after many years on the faculty of Madison college in Harrisonburg, Virginia and live in a modest home on Lake Ave. where they weave beautiful materials and work in their vegetable garden. Dr. Phillips also "paints pictures" in needlepoint, and most of her work is done from memory.

Miss Wilson weaves washclothes from nylon, making up her original designs as she goes. She demonstrated her work and explained the various functions of the loom parts.

The household pet is their toy Doberman, who takes very seriously his responsibilities as guardian of the domain. This small animal has a name almost as long as he is, and comes from a long line of a breed which were lap dogs of the German nobility.

Being an antique lover I was interested in the beautiful early American furniture and the cabinet of glassware. Many of the old pieces had interesting histories and I recognized some of the Sandwich Glass patterns I used to search for in some of the junkiest junk shops, much to the dismay of my family.

Both Miss Wilson and Dr. Phillips had interesting stories to tell about their weaving. Dr. Phillips likes to weave Scotch plaids and has many books on the various patterns which carry family names. She has collected a number of plaid squares which, when completed, will become a colorful afghan. Some of the family histories go back as far as 1400, and some of the patterns are so rare they have to be ferreted out of obscurity. For instance one pattern was copied from a cravat woven in the family pattern.

Each day all of us learn something new. I recently learned that just plain old moth balls will keep squirrels and rabbits out of the corn patch.

Try placing the moth balls about six inches apart around your planting area. Dr. Phillips does this and has no trouble with garden raiders. In other words put your meals in moth balls.

A SUNDAY MORNING AT OUR HOUSE

Mother woke me in the morning while I'm sleepy as a fool
Says hurry up Dear, we'll be late for Sunday school
Breakfast is on the table, your coffee's getting cold
If I didn't know you better I'd think you're getting old.
So I clamber out of bed, like old Bruin from his Lair
Wash my face and hands, brush my teeth and comb my hair.
Then start looking for the paper
