Methodist Pastor Announces New Sermon Series

The Rev. Allan R. Stuart Minister to the First Methodist Church has announced a new sermon series which began last Sunday evening. This series is unique in that the ten sermons approach the "Beatitudes" of Jesus in the opposite direction than usually approached.
The proposed titles are:
The series is entitled "Answers To A Cynic" and deals with the possible answers these eight Beatitudes may have to someone who considers himself a cynic. Rev. Stuart says that the Beatitudes, far from being sweet platitudes, are in reality the strongest words in the New Testament!
The proposed titles are:
Matthew 5:3 — "I May Not Have Much Spirit, But I'm Certainly Poor!"
Matthew 5:4 — "Are You Telling Me That I Can Be Happy and Sad At The Same Time?"
Matthew 5:5 — "I Never Inherited Anything But Trouble!"
Matthew 5:6 — "Who Can Be Happy When They Are Hungry?"
Matthew 5:7 — "Well, I'm A Christian In Spots."
Matthew 5:8 — "Purity Is For The Birds!"
Matthew 5:9 — "I'm Not Biting My Neck Out For Anybody!"
Matthew 5:10 — "I Say: Do Others Before They Do You!"
Postlude — "You Win, Friend; Now Show Me How To Be Happy."
The public is cordially invited to worship every Sunday night in First Methodist Church.

Miss Judith Ann Zinn Married To Mr. Lamar D. Dykes On Saturday, June 20

MISS JUDITH ANN ZINN
Miss Judith Ann Zinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Zinn of Avon Park and St. Petersburg, and Lamar D. Dykes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jennings Dykes of Frostproof, were united in marriage on Saturday, June 20, in the Faith Assembly of God Church, St. Petersburg.
The Rev. O. R. Ferdon, uncle of the bride, performed the wedding ceremony.
The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length traditional wedding gown of tulle over white taffeta featuring a charitably lace train. Her fingertip veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls and sequins and she carried a colonial bouquet of carnations centered with a white orchid.
Mrs. Yvonne Lester, sister of the bride of St. Petersburg, was matron of honor.
James Dager of Frostproof served the bridegroom as best man.
A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in St. Petersburg immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a white cloth and centered with a beautiful wedding cake. Mrs. Jean Marshall cut the cake and served the guests.
Miss Carolyn Richardson presided at the bride's table. Assisting in serving the guests were Miss Margaret Hagen of Avon Park, Miss Sylvia Dykes, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Marilyn Zinn, sister of the bride.
The couple enjoyed a wedding trip to the Gulf coast beaches. The bride is a graduate of Avon Park High School with the class of '59.

Sharon Atkins Birthday Party Enjoyed Monday

Sharon Atkins celebrated her ninth birthday with a party for some of her friends at her home on Monday afternoon, August 3.
During the afternoon a number of games were enjoyed by all with prizes going to Lark Adams, Sybil Anderson, Melanie McClure and Lynn Fields for their ability. The girls enjoyed helping Sharon open her many birthday gifts and played games in the yard also.
A birthday table covered with a pink cloth helped a birthday cake of pink decorated in blue with other refreshments of nuts, candy and cold drinks. The highlight of the afternoon for the guests was the moment when Mrs. Atkins let them make their own banana splits. From a variety of ice cream, bananas, nuts, sauces, and cherries each girl concocted her very own favorite. All happily departed.

Sharon gave her guests half-breads as favors and Mrs. Sharon Atkins helped serve the girls at the party.
Helping Sharon celebrate were Lynn Fields, Gale Meyer, Reggie Webber, Jackie Hutchinson, Melanie McClure, Lark Adams, Sybil Anderson, Nancy Mitchell, Marcia Ward, Marion Turner, Quentin Atkins and Wesley Turner also helped Sharon celebrate.

Keep competition trying to answer your product's advantage. He didn't know it could be done—so he did it.
Class of '59. The bridegroom is now serving in the U. S. Coast Guard and is now stationed at Cape May, New Jersey.

WHY DO WITHOUT A LITTLE LUXURY LIKE THIS... LET ALONE THESE BIG CHEVY VIRTUES!

greater roominess
Automobile Manufacturers Association records carry the facts on this. In a Chevy sedan, for example, you've got more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars! And Chevy's front seat hip room spreads up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars.

bigger savings
Here's solid proof that Chevrolet squeezes more miles out of a gallon: In the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, two Chevrolet sales with Powerglide took the first two places in their class. Winning mileage: 22.58 m.p.g. And that, friends, took top honors for Chevy from every full-sized car!

full coil ride
You're the expert on ride, so you'll want to try Chevy's air-ride smoothness for yourself. MOTOR TREND magazine can give you a hint of what you're in for. "The smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." And Full Coil springs, of course, never squeak, never need grease.

award-winning engines
The NASCAR Outstanding Achievement award goes to Chevrolet! Chevy wins for the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engine . . . for the establishment of new levels of V8 compactness combined with outstanding smoothness. And you can choose among eight V8s and the Six that won the Mobilgas Economy Run for its class.

fresh styling
POPULAR SCIENCE magazine gave Chevy's styling a thoughtful look, then said it this way: "In its price class, Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling. . . . You'll find your own happy way of saying that Chevy's the only unmistakably modern car in its class."

See how much more Chevy has to offer—visit your local authorized Chevrolet dealer!

Winter Guest Club News

Not much news this week; Guest Club data all too weak; not much doing, so to speak. On Monday, July 27, our dances danced until eleven, or thereabouts so 'tis said; then as their luck and so to bed, as Sammie Phipps used to write in his famous dairy every night. It was a very jolly crew who danced that Monday evening, though, the number being thirty-two. Some came to dance and some to sit, but all enjoyed it every bit. One more dance before September, on August tenth, please remember.

Our skin in memory fairly tingles, hearing that Ford now has the shingles. We had 'em once long time ago, and they're no fun you ought to know. They are not fatal, just make you itch until you feel like an itch. Well, Mr. Ford, we hope you are better before the editor gets this letter. Take our advice and feel more placid; we cured the shingles with borax acid.

The Seventh Day Adventists, so they say, entertained Mrs. Ratcliff the other day; or several days it was in fact, but now we hear that she is back, back with no intent to wander again from her hotel Jacaranda. The shuffleboard courts haven't been the same with no Blanche there to play the game. Only one tournament to report this week; no other posted for us to look. On Saturday evening, August 6, a lively tournament was held. Who won? Why, Mrs. Pothall and Mr. Dickson. And that's the truth untouched by fiction. Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Hager took with ease the consolation. And having made that declaration will now ring off, for without stint that's all the news fit to print. So says

Gulf Counties Gas Opens Here

A new business began operation in Avon Park Highway when the Gulf Counties Gas Co., opened at the corner of Highway 27 North and Withrop street. Bill Lanning of Eagle Lake is serving as company representative here and Walter Crawford, Avon Park high school graduate is employed there. Vacation Church School Opened By Methodists

The annual vacation church school sponsored by First Methodist Church opened Wednesday, August 5 at the church. Mrs. Raymond Gerrard is the director and will be assisted by a faculty of well-trained teachers and workers. The school is for all children, of any religious denomination, ages 4 through 14. This year the school will be held in the afternoon starting at 5:00 and closing each day at 5:00. The annual daily vacation Church School picnic will be held at Highlands Hammock, Saturday, the 15th of August, and all persons are urged to attend and bring their children.

The closing exercises will be Sunday evening, August 16, in the sanctuary of the church, followed by a reception and a display of materials and achievements. Wesley Hall, The Woman's Society of Christian Service will be in charge of the reception.

Mrs. Gerrard announces that this year there is a nursery for the worker's children. The nursery theme is "God and His World." The kindergarten theme is the same, the primary group is studying "The Earth Is Full Of His Riches." The juniors are studying "The Lord's Prayer" and "Finding God Through Work and Worship"; and the intermediate young people are studying "God's World And Ours."

A cordial invitation is extended to all children in Avon Park to attend the great vacation church school. Pre-registration took place last Sunday morning in the church school, but a child may register any time during the school.

Third Birthday Marked By Party

Young Miss Linda Dennis Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hill, celebrated her arrival at the ripe old age of three with a birthday party on Saturday afternoon, July 25, at her home.

A birthday cake with three candles and beautifully decorated announced the fact that Linda was three to the little guests who helped celebrate. Birthday cake, ice cream and fruit punch were served the happy children by Mrs. Hill, Mrs. John Starling, and Mrs. Charles Marshall.

The boys and girls enjoyed helping Linda open her birthday gifts and then spent the afternoon playing games in the yard. Terry Barrow helped the younger children with the games and the play equipment.

Enjoying the important day with Linda were Bobby and Cindy Stokes, Bonnie Waldron, Tim and Gary Elder, Brenda and Kathi Marshall of North Carolina, Glenda Padgett, Kathy, Teresa, and Mike Collins, Toni and Jeffery, Jeffery Barrow, Debbie and Fred Crawford, Debbie Royal, Maggie Bryant, and Mary Elaine Weeks, Connie, Cecilia, Cathy, and Jimmie Elder, and her brother, Smokey Hill.

THE PENGUIN

While we are considering water birds we must not omit one of the exotic birds that every one seems to know, and yet when we think of them, very few people know much about them, especially those who live in the tropics. We naturally think of them as inhabiting the Antarctic, but do not realize that their habitat extends much farther than that. While they are found often in the Arctic, it has been impossible to raise them in captivity, until recently one has been hatched in the Chicago Zoo, and is apparently doing very nicely. Last year one was hatched in the same Zoo but was stepped on and killed by a parent.

The Portland Zoo is considered the Penguin Capital of North America, for they imported the first one in 1953 and also brought to Zoos or Parks, and also export them. But owing to the peculiar nesting habits it doesn't look like the country will be over run with them.

We have often heard that "A little learning is a dangerous thing," and that is what most of us know about the Penguin. We see a bird in a Zoo, that is white underneath and has on a black tuxedo and we say that is THE PENGUIN, it is from Antarctica, and we do not pursue the subject, for that is most people's idea of the bird.

But of the sixteen species of Penguin, only two inhabit America. Many seem to think that they are found also in the Arctic region, but this is not a fact. There is one species that is purely tropical, and may be found on the Islands of the Southern Seas, the Falkland Islands and those of New Zealand and Australia, also in the south part of the Indian Ocean, and South Africa, the Galapagos Penguin.

We would like to consider the habits first of one of the Penguins, that is the Adelle species, and is about a foot and a half tall, and an all Penguin, it has flat webbed feet.

We must remember that this bird is a skilled fisher and swimmer and can dive to great depths, in fact when fancy dictates it can swim up and down in the water like a Porpoise, and the peculiar part to us is that it does not use its webbed feet to swim but uses its wings to propel itself and dive but the flapper wings.

All Penguins are of robust build, and the larger ones are sometimes adapted themselves out of the water, in salmon style, and leap high rocks or ice shelves. Their food consists of aquatic life, mostly fish.

All species are flightless but are considered the most completely aquatic of any living bird, even their eyes are adapted for seeing under the water. Great colonies of them will sometimes remain at sea for months at a time, only coming to land to nest.

Their legs are set far back on their body and on land they have an erect stance, different species are different in size as in color. A fossil of one was found in New Zealand, which stood six feet high and must have weighed two hundred pounds, whether this was a different species or just one that was over grown from eating too many fish, is not known.

Getting back to the species Adelle of the Antarctic, when nesting time approaches, she starts to walk inland, to her nest, and sometimes she walks for two hundred miles, over ice and snow that changes with each storm, but she perseveres, sometimes walking and sometimes tobogganing on her chest over the smoother, steeper areas, but always with the anteastral nesting sight in view. Often she finds the same nest and the same mate that she has had in previous years, for some species mate for life. The male then builds the nest or works over the old one, and it is made of small stones built up about six inches high, which helps protect the eggs when the snow begins to thaw.

In about a month the first of two eggs are laid, and when the second egg is laid the female feels that her task is completed, and she leaves her happy home in charge of the male and starts her dreary trek back to the sea for food and after seven days she returns to take over the home keeping, but the poor male has been without food for six days, and he has to be ready to hatch, and somehow that seems unsatisfactory, he has to be young by regurgitation. Incubation requires thirty-five days.

When the female takes over and the male starts his long trek to the sea for food, but he soon returns and helps care for the family, the young being cared for, five and a half weeks. The Penguin being gregarious they will be from a hundred to two hundred young to be cared for and they are placed together in a crech or as we would call it a Nursery School.

Emptiness is the most southerly species and is about four feet high and weighs about seventy five pounds. It is bluish gray and black on head and throat, white underneath and sulphur-orange on upper neck.

When the male takes off on his vacation after the one egg is laid and stays two months, and leaves her mate to do the incubating, and is one of those absent minded sisters, when she returns she will find her chicks from many males, not seeming to recognize her own.

So altogether the male has fasted two months, the longest period in history for any bird to fast. Even though he has been so long fasting, still he feeds the young with a few secretions. The Emptiness is the one that lives entirely in the tropics. The Galapagos Penguin, on a twenty inch bird and inhabits the equatorial waters at the northern terminus of the Humboldt Current, we have mentioned this before as being a cold belt of water along the western coast of S. America. This is a grayish bird with throat and chin of white.

Being water birds they enjoy riding the rough waves and when the storm lashes the waves too much for them they can dive deep to calmer water and only come up occasionally to breathe.

Had we the ability to fashion bird to make it supremely exotic, we are afraid our specimens would fall far short of what the wonderful Creator has given us in the Penguin.

Raymond Dilley Home Scene Of Buffet Supper

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Zuck were the guests of honor at a delightful buffet supper on Wednesday evening, July 22, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dilley on Lake Letta.

Enjoying the evening with the honor guests were thirty-eight members and their wives or husbands of the Chancel Choir of the Union Congregational Church. Mrs. Zuck has been the outstanding and "egg-suffering" director of this excellent choir for more than twenty-five years. During these years she has had many friends among the choir members and has presented a consistent program of outstanding music for the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Zuck are leaving soon to return to their home in Norristown, Pa., and the choir enjoyed this chance to wish them well. A silver tray from the members was presented to the couple by Mrs. Edna Jackson for their new home.

Mrs. Raymond Dilley, Mrs. Floyd Johnson, Mrs. John Hood, and Mrs. C. R. Ginn were the hostesses for the supper honoring their long time friend and choir director.

Summer flowers were used for notes of color in the large living room and the guests were seated at individual tables. The delicious supper was served from a lovely buffet table in the dining room. An evening of visiting and wishing Mr. and Mrs. Zuck happiness in their new home followed the supper.

Living With Your Heart

Your Heart

Your heart and circulatory system, in their simplest terms, are a tremendously complex network in which the heart serves as a pump, and the arteries and veins are a piping system to carry the blood to nourish every part of your body.

When the arteries are roughened and narrowed in the region of the heart, the condition is called atherosclerosis. One of our major underlying causes of heart disease. When the blood flow is restricted, there is a heart disease, there could not be enough blood to carry oxygen to the atherosclerosis. In Finland, where fatal heart disease was slashed in the World War II diet, the heart disease dropped—but the atherosclerosis remained.

Of course, an excessive fat intake is undesirable, both for heart patients and entirely healthy persons. But until there is more knowledge about the causes of atherosclerosis, it is the most that can be justified today for a heart patient is a moderate restriction of animal fats without the rest of the diet well-balanced.
