Launching Of Fourteenth Annual Episcopal Hour Set For Easter

The Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church the Right Rev. Arthur Lichtenberger launches the 14-week Fourteenth Annual Episcopal Hour on Easter Day over 350 radio stations across the country and the Armed Forces Network, which carries the world. This will be Bishop Lichtenberger's fourth year as host of the worldwide audience since his installation in January as head of close to four million Episcopalians. The Episcopal Church is part of the Anglican Communion which numbers some 50 million souls throughout Christendom. The Archbishop of Canterbury is its spiritual head.

Bishop Stephen Bayne of Seattle, Washington, speaks on the weekly Episcopal Hour from April 5 through May 31. Author of Christian Living, Gifts of the Spirit, Optional God, Christian Ideal of Education, and chairman of the Seattle Housing Authority and the State Welfare Advisory Committee and a member of Washington's Department of Public Assistance, Bishop Bayne is recognized as an authority in the field of family life, marriage, and the social and economic life of the nation. He was chairman of the 1958 Lambeth Conference Committee "The Family in Contemporary Society" one of five major committees of this once-every-ten-years convocation of Anglican Bishops gathered from all over the world. The knowledge and insight of this keen-minded, popular preacher will grip his listeners as he tackles provocative subjects of interest to this modern age.

Muscle for The Episcopal Hour is furnished by the choir of St. Thomas' Church, New York, under the direction of William Self. Composed of ten men and forty, seven to thirteen year old boys, who are full time students in St. Thomas' Choir School, this is one of the best trained and most famous boys choirs in the country.

Produced by the non-profit Episcopal Radio-TV Foundation, Atlanta, the Episcopal Hour was chartered in 1954 to serve the broadcast industry and the Episcopal Church. The Episcopal Hour is presented locally by the Church of the Redeemer, and is broadcast by WAPP at 3:30 p. m. on Sunday. Listen to the Episcopal Hour. Invite your friends to listen. Printed copies of the 10 sermons in the series will be available from radio station WAPP or from the Episcopal Radio-TV Foundation, 2744 Peachtree Road, Atlanta 5, Georgia.

Health Topics
What do you know about Dental Health? You are carrying the laboratory for study right in your own mouth. How many of you have looked into your child's mouth lately and what did you see? Were you proud or ashamed? Your children can have good dental habits but it takes effort on the part of the parent. Do you as a parent set the proper example for your child. A child learns much better at times by being shown rather than told. During school physical exams the majority of defects seen are dental caries. The schools are doing some dental education but the main group to reach is the parent. A renewed effort is being made to help local communities understand the great advantage of fluoridation of water. There will probably be a PTA program on dental health this year. If you are interested in your own child, you should attend this meeting. Recently a Highlands-Glades-Hendry County Dental Committee was formed to try to improve the dental health of our communities. You don't have to wait for committees or others, you can act now. Consult your local dentist and if you don't have one, you owe it to yourself to choose one now. The Health Department can also be of help to you on

Second Grades Take Field Trip To Local Dairy

Sixty second graders of the Avon Elementary School were the excited participants in a field trip to the Mandis Dairy and Stock Farm on Tuesday, March 17.

The field trip gave the children a new experience to remember as they toured the dairy. They were able to watch the black and white herd of dairy cattle being milked, follow the milk as it ran through pipes into the milkroom for sterilization and cooling, and see the tanks where the milk is stored until the Borden's Milk Trucks pick it up.

A special bit of the close look at the common domestic animals in their native environment.

The children had brought sack lunches and ate together in one of the large barns. Chocklate milk from the dairy completed their meal. Walter Mandis accompanied the group on their tour and explained the various dairy work to the second graders. He complimented the children and their teachers.

DONALD T. MARTIN, right, director of public relations and advertising for Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, and the contract submitted by Thomas P. Wright, left, vice president of Tucker Wayne & Company, awarded the Coast Line's advertising account to the Atlanta agency.

Mrs. Mary Esther Metheny and Mrs. Barker, on the excellent behavior and interest shown by their groups. Later in the week the other two second grades of the Elementary School will make this profitable and enjoyable trip to Mandis Dairy.

Deven Reddick drove the boys and girls to the dairy in the school bus. Mrs. Walter Mandis accompanied the rooms on their trip.

From The Office Of Jim Haley

Washington, D. C.—I have received many letters concerning the amount of Federal spending in which the writers complain about the enormous amount of money that is being spent on national defense. However, the increase in Federal spending have not been in the field of national security. Rather, the increase have been in the domestic fields. For example, in 1955, our total budget expenditures amounted to $74,274 billion, of that amount, $60,365 billion was spent for national security. In the President's budget for fiscal year 1960, only $45,802 billion is included in the total budget calling for expenditures of $77,009 billion. Thus there has been a decrease in this field of over $14 billion, while the total budget has increased over $27 billion.

It is interesting to note that in this same period, 1953-59, the amount budgeted for the interest on the public debt has increased from $6,583 billion to $8,096 billion. At the same time the budget expenditures in the field of labor and welfare have increased over $11 billion and expenditures for agriculture and agricultural resources have increased over $3 billion.

At the same time, our National Debt increased nearly $19 billion. It is because of such statistics as these that I have been very much concerned over our fiscal policies, and for this reason I am bringing about an orderly retirement of the national debt. The splendid nationwide response I have had to this bill indicates that the American people are also concerned and realize the necessity of doing something about getting our fiscal policies in order.

FEDERAL-STATE-LOCAL RELATIONS: In a previous report, I suggested that one of the best ways to achieve fiscal responsibility, reduce and balance the Federal budget, reduce the national debt, and prevent further encroachment by the Federal government upon the rights of the States, is for the State and local governments and individuals to assume their proper responsibilities without reliance upon the Federal government.

In this connection, I want to point out that the House Committee on Government Operations conducted a thorough study in the field of Federal-State-Local Relations in the 86th Congress. I suggest that the findings and conclusions of this important Committee are deserving of a great deal of careful consideration by the American People. Among the Committee's findings and conclusions were the following:

1. The responsibility for public services should be decentralized in our federal system to the maximum extent consistent with the maintenance of responsible and effective government for the following:

2. To a considerable extent, the growth of Federal activities has taken place because the States, by constitutional and statutory means, have restricted their own powers and those of their subdivisions. Weaknesses in State government, at a time when the responsibilities of our government are being increased by rapidly changing conditions, help to facilitate the growth of Federal activities.

3. The strengthening of State government is an important objective that deserves much more attention than it has received from the American people. It seems to me that if we want to preserve those rights which we consider have traditionally belonged to the States, we must carefully consider the above concerns of the House Committee on Government Operations. Space does not permit further elaboration on the Committee report. However, a limited number of these reports are available to me in the event anyone in the 7th District would like a copy.

Year Book Tells Of Overthrow Of Batista

Between the launching of the first U. S. satellite newspaper, the throw of Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista, the year 1958 saw the deaths of many notable persons.

Some of those whose names are listed in The World Book Encyclopedia Yearbook were famous when they died—others were forgotten.

The deaths of Tyrone Power, Mike Todd and Ronald Colman are the headlines. Less well known perhaps was Albert Smith, the inventor of the Vitaphone, one of the first successful motion-picture projectors.

One of the public may not have recognized the name of entertainer Masade Nugent when he died, but he probably has heard of "Sweet Rosie O'Grady," one of the songs she composed.

The sports world lost Mel Ott, who hit 511 home runs for the New York Giants, ranking third among baseball greats.

Baseball also lost Leon Cadore, the Brooklyn Dodger pitcher who hurled all 26 innings in the longest game in major league history in 1920.

While the music world lost the blues for W. C. Handy, Tin Pan Alley noted the passing of Canadian-born Alfred Bryan, who wrote the lyrics for "Peg O' My Heart" and "There's Danger in Your Eyes, Cherie."

Another composer who died was British-born William Heeling, who wrote the U. S. Military Academy's official march, "West Point Forever."

Nationalist China lost a friend in General Claire Chennault, whose "Flying Tigers" made history over China during World War II. Clyde Pangborn, who flew from Tokyo to Washington state in 1931 to make the first non-stop Pacific flight, passed away. And while East and West were losing their military, the producer of the first rocket-powered aircraft, Germany's Ernst Heinkel, died.

Clamorous women around the world will long remember French fashion designer Lucien Lelong. While Frederick Winslow is immortalized by the unpleasant quonset hut he designed for World War II servicemen.

In a class by himself was Javier Pereira, a Colombian Indian who claimed to be 101 years-old in 1954 when he visited the U. S. New York doctors, however, were more conservative—they said he was "perhaps" more than 150-years-old.

Atlantic Coast Lines Names New Ad Agency

The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Co., with headquarters in Wilmington, N. C., has appointed Tucker Wayne & Company of Atlanta to handle its advertising program. It has been announced by Tucker Wayne, president of the agency.

The agency will begin representing Coast Line officially on January 1, 1959. Donald T. May, director of public relations and advertising for Coast Line, has already approved basic advertising plans for next year as submitted by Thomas P.

Wright, vice president and account executive of Tucker Wayne & Company. Separate campaigns have been created for passenger travel, freight traffic, and industrial development.

Coast Line's dynamic young chief executive W. Thomas Rice, president since August, 1957, has introduced revolutionary innovations which have boosted him to national prominence. He has made "salesmen" of the company's 14,000 employees. During a recent six-weeks sales contest dubbed "Traffic Roundup," Coast Line employees made over 76,000 additional sales contacts. Rice has also initiated a program to unify employees from one end of the line to the other.

The Coast Line is one of the country's largest transportation systems. It represents an investment of more than one-half billion dollars and operates over 5,292 miles of track in Georgia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida and Alabama. The bulk of its passenger traffic is made up of vacation trade between New York and Florida.

A modern, 14-floor office building in Jacksonville, Florida, will be occupied upon its completion in 1960 to serve as headquarters for the company. The present Coast Line system is the result of unification of more than 100 separate small railroads. The first of these was a short line chartered in 1830.

The most important link was the Wilmington & Weldon, a 161-mile railroad that began operation in 1840 in North Carolina—the longest railroad

Rene Dreyfus French Champ To Start Cavalcade

Rene Dreyfus, former racing champion of France, will be the honorary starter for the second annual Historical Automobile Cavalcade, the Friday, March 20, highlight of Sebring International race week.

Dreyfus came to the United States just before the second world war to race at Indianapolis. He stayed, joined the American Army, became a United States citizen, and now operates LeChateau Restaurant on New York's 49th Street, the unofficial sports car headquarters in Manhattan.

More than half the 87 entries for the historical cavalcade and driving tests at Sebring, March 20, come from outside Florida. 13 states from Connecticut to California, reported committee chief, Tim Hawkins.

Ranging from the 66-year old 1893 Benz Velo, the cars average 33 years of age.

A six-event driving competition will feature the March 20 program at the Sebring International race course.

The ninth annual Sebring world championship 12-hour sports car race for $10,000 and the Amoco trophy will be held the next day, at the winding 3.8-mile course. Saturday, March 21, 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Fort Kissimmee Camp A Success For Boy Scouts

Forty-three Boy Scouts of the Highlands Scouting District and sixteen adults enjoyed a two-weekend camp-out at Ft. Kissimmee on the Bombing Range. The two Avon Park Troops, Troop 163 of Sebring a newly organized troop sponsored by the Church, and a Wauchula Scout troop participated in the camping activities.

The Scouts gathered Friday afternoon and followed the clear-cut arrows and signs posted by John Townsend to the beautiful campsite overlooking the Kissimmee River. The area had been recently bulldozed by the Range authorities to make camping easier. The campsite was next door to the old cemetery and near the ruins of Fort Kissimmee. Supper was cooked by the boys and all feasted heartily on the excellent fare.

Campfire ceremonies were open last night by the "spirit of the old Fort" when the camp fire first lit in flame as if by magic. Major Keenan, pioneer resident of this area, of Frost-proof, was introduced to the boys and told them the history of the Fort. The many interesting points of local history Major Keenan spoke of had the Scouts and the adults spellbound. He stated that Morgan's Hole was named after a Scout Major who rode with Gen. Zachary Taylor on his famous march in Seminole Indian territory. Gen. Taylor and his men marched by the Fort on their trip, but of course this was before the fort was built. To prove his story's interest in the Major's talk was the fact they kept asking questions for one hour and a half the night and kept the forty-three active Boy Scouts interested for so long it was quite a task. Mr. M. G. Whitcomb drove the Major home after the ceremony and also brought him to the gathering.

The next morning four areas of competition and training were set up, these were compass work, hand signaling, the 12 minute mile run, and height and distance estimating. Each of these tests were taught by a leader and the boys competed on the various courses. After lunch the boys cleaned up the campsite and broke camp. It was the general consensus of opinion of the eight adults who spent the night that the boys hadn't been near as cold as they had and all agreed that the camp-out was a worthwhile experience.

Troops 156 and 157 will take part in a Council Camporee at Bok Tower on April 12, and the boys will be tested on the various areas worked on at the outing last weekend. Attending the camp last weekend from Troop 156 were Elton Lawrence, Scoutmaster, Norman Cook, assistant; Thomas Hall, Scouts; Andy Miracle, Robin Duggan, Steve Maxwell, Tracey Mizell, Mike Allison, Johnny Coulllette, Roy Streng, Tommy Hallam, and Billy Bates. From Troop 157 Scouts Owens Heaver, Randolph Bruce, King, John Thompson, Lee McDonald, Morris Adams, Bill Ward, Dennis Feltner, Billy Roy Smith, Don Rozkowski, David Ward, Lane Padgett, Donald Whitcomb, Bill Fries, Jim Runkle, Steve Semm were accompanied by their Scoutmaster Thompson. Franklyn Ward, M. J. Thompson and M. G. Whitcomb.

At their regular weekly meeting on Monday night, March 17, the Scouts of Troop 156 under the direction of Scoutmaster Lawrence practiced on the four areas studied on Saturday and plan to work on these skills at their next few meetings.

Corn Meal Banana Loaf

... with a flavor and texture to make any hostess proud.

Years ago when the chum and the coffee grinder were kept in the kitchen, so was the corn meal. Now all these have emerged to take their places with guests—even prestige guests.

Its very goodness suggests this Corn Meal Banana Loaf as party fare, for the exceptional texture and flavor will make any hostess proud to take it as her own creation. Serve plain, with butter, or with cream cheese.

If you are fortunate, there may be enough left to toast for breakfast, giving the family additional vitamins and calcium cleverly concealed in a delightful, festive form. To make:

CORN MEAL BANANA LOAF
1 cup enriched self-rising
corn meal
1 cup all-purpose flour
1 cup mashed ripe banana
1/2 cup melted shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg

Sift self-rising corn meal, self-rising flour, and sugar together, then blend in chopped nuts. Beat eggs and add mashed banana and melted fat. Add dry ingredients to egg mixture and stir lightly. Mix until just blended. Pour into a 4 1/2 x 8 1/2 x 2 1/2 inch loaf pan which has been greased on the bottom, then lightly sprinkled with corn meal. Bake in a 350°F. oven for 60 to 70 minutes or until done. Let bread partially cool in pan 20 to 30 minutes before turning out onto rack. Cool thoroughly before wrapping for storage. Makes 1 loaf.

A&P Floral Cake For Flower Show

One of the largest "birthday cakes" in history, commemorating the 100th anniversary of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, is on display in the New York Coliseum here this week (March 5-14).

One of the centers of attraction at the International Flower Show, the A & P Centennial exhibit is a floral display designed in the shape of a giant birthday cake and has been awarded the Silver Trophy which is symbolic of first place among commercial entries.

The four-tiered floral "cake" stands 18 feet high on a 250-square-foot base in the center of a 2,500-square-foot garden. It contains 25,000 live chrysanthemums and lavender orchids. It is illuminated by 100 electric candles and is surrounded by an azalea border.

Each side of the six-foot-high base contains a three-dimensional color diorama depicting the history and progress of the century-old company founded by George Huntington Hartford in lower Manhattan in 1859.

At each side of the cake's base is a distinctive period garden. One garden is primitive with a realistic brook in a setting of ferns and evergreens. Another is a formal Victorian garden with clipped hedges while the remaining two are tropical and contemporary gardens.

Each of the gardens has a separate walkway that enables visitors to reach the observation area where they may view the color diorama at the base of the cake.

The first diorama shows the old clipper ships which brought the first tea to the United States.

The Scouts of Troop 157 cleaned their tents from the weekend outing at their meeting on Monday night. They also practiced on knot tying and made plans with Scoutmaster Thompson to help the new Scouts pass their Tenderfoot tests before the Council Camporee at Bok Tower in April.

Limit Hunters At Inverness Next Season

No more than 400 hunters a day will be allowed in the Inverness Wildlife Management Area next hunting season under stricter regulations set in a resolution adopted by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission at Lake City March 13.

A. D. Aldrich, Commission director, said that other regulations set for the Inverness area include:

1. An archery season, with maximum limit of game animals to be harvested later following surveys of game populations this summer. Tentative dates October 31 to December 6. Hunting to close immediately if maximum limit of game animals is taken before regular closing date.

2. A gun hunting season for archery season, with each day's hunt limited to no more than 400 qualified hunters selected by drawing. A maximum limit of game animals to be harvested by gun hunters will be set later following surveys of game populations this summer. Gun season will close immediately if maximum limit of deer is taken before regular closing date. Tentative dates for two-day gun hunts are December 12 to 19.

3. That adequate supervisory and hunt personnel will be provided by the Commission to insure compliance with all hunting regulations.

4. That the area south of Highway 400, plus the Tills Hills road and the equipment area, will be closed to all hunting, and plainly marked and defined at such.

The Inverness resolution also states that the Commission shall attempt to trap surplus deer which will be used to restock other public management areas which may have inadequate deer populations.

Florida Death Rate High In Industry

Out of a total of 28 reported industrial deaths in Florida for the first two months of 1959, Dade County led with eight.

State Industrial Commission Chairman James T. Vocelle said the total compares with 21 industrial fatalities for the first two months of 1958.

The approximate 22,000 industrial injuries reported for the period was the same as for 1958.

Hillsborough County was second in the number of fatalities with four; and Palm Beach was third with three.

Polk, Lake, Leon and Broward reported two each for the two month period; and Duval, Glades, Pinellas, Alachua, and Escambia had one each.

Vocelle said industrial traffic fatalities took the greatest toll of the 28 victims. Five work-

ABC-TV ALL-STAR GOLF MATCH

"I was pretty lucky . . . on the very first hole he laid his 8 iron shot 3 feet from the pin and then rapped in his putt for a birdie 3. On the par 3 No. 3, he birdied again with an 18 footer. Sam took it easy until the 6th, par 4, 420 yard hole. Three 8-iron placed the ball 8 feet from the pin, and his magical putt sank it for his third birdie.

On the 7th and 8th, Harney kept pace with "Slamming Sam"—both of them scoring birdies kept to task. On the 9th, Snead made his only error, taking a bogey 5 . . . while Harney scored, giving him a 31 against Snead's 32 on the first nine.

Harney, running into trouble, after 12 holes was 5 strokes down and it looked like the excitement was over for the afternoon, but Sam suddenly got hot again. On the 15th, par 5, 560 yard hole, he just missed a 58 foot putt for an eagle, taking a birdie 4. On the 16th hole, par 4, he sank a 21 foot putt for a birdie 3. On the 17th, par 3, he sank a 17 footer for a birdie 2.

On the 18th, par 5, 464 yard hole, "Slamming Sam" Snead lived up to his nickname and put his 16-iron, 2nd shot, on the green. 16 feet from the pin . . . and then proceeded to calmly sink it for an eagle 3—and a $200 cash reward! Millions of TV fans must have upset their potato chip bowls in excitement over this one.

This rocket-like finish of Snead's on the second nine gave him a 41 which, coupled with his first round 32, added up to a neat 63 for a lead over Snead's 74 on the 18th hole.

Senior Woman's Club Entertains Junior Club On Thursday Night

"Challenge" the film showing the Alcoholics Rehabilitation Center in Avon Park was shown to sixty-five members of the Senior Woman's Club and Junior Woman's Club at the Women's Club Building on Thursday night, March 12.

This remarkable color sound film was made by the University of Florida for distribution throughout the world explaining the purpose and methods used in the state Alcoholics Rehabilitation Program. All the actors in the film were employees of the Center in Avon Park. The story was very well presented and gave a remarkable insight into the problem of alcoholism and also showed what could be done to help the alcoholic with their problems.

All the audience enjoyed seeing people they were acquainted with the east and the lovely shots of our fair community. Dr. B. C. Ostling introduced the film with a brief talk on the Center and answered questions from the floor after the meeting.

The occasion for the showing of the film was a special evening of entertainment and fellowship program given by the Senior Club for the Junior Club. Mrs. S. Elkhil Program Chairman, and Mrs. Norman Cook were in charge of the meeting. A string prayer for peace by Mrs. A. Luyben opened the meeting with the group then singing the "Star Spangled Banner" with Mrs. Doris Phillips gave a short thought-provoking talk on the Berlin crisis and asked how many Junior Club members would be interested in First Aid or Home Nursing Courses. A large number replied in the affirmative and Dr. Phillips stated that she would investigate possibilities for having a course in Avon Park in the near future. An interesting highlight to the program was the introduction of Mrs. Stephens who was second president of the Avon Park Senior Woman's Club. Mrs. Stephens is now eighty-nine years old and was pleased to tell the members a few things about the early days of the Club.

An hour of fellowship followed the meeting and the guests and members enjoyed delicious refreshments of coffee, ice cream and cake together. A lovely table held the refreshments and spring flowers graced the table. Mrs. Mylon Merchant and Mrs. Cook were responsible for the many lovely bouquets which were placed at vantage points in the Club Building. Mrs. Mervin Rehner, Mrs. John Jacobson, Mrs. L. Bloomquist, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Zell, Mrs. Ann Kirk-El Day, and Mrs. John Townsend, president of the Senior Club, assisted with the hostesses for the lovely evening.

Mrs. Mervin Rehner will be in charge of the April meeting of the Senior Club and Mrs. Mims of Lake Wales, District Director of District 9, will be a guest at the May meeting.

Guests of Mrs. Wm. M. Reddick and Mrs. Honer Shepherd and their daughter, Lydia, last weekend were Mrs. Reddick's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Reddick of Orlando. Mrs. Shepherd and Mr. Reddick are brother and sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Joiner and their baby daughter, Lydia, of Jacksonville, were the guests of her mother, Mrs. Maggie Dickson, last weekend.

FLOWER CAKE commemorating 100th anniversary of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company is among the largest exhibits at 42nd International Flower Show at the New York Coliseum. The 18-foot cake, which was made of 25,000 live city-antennums in various colors, is illuminated by 100 electric candles. Three-dimensional panels around the base of the cake depict the history and progress of the century-old food chain, founded in 1859 by George Huntington Hartford, pioneer in low-cost mass distribution.

Business Women Set Bake Sale For March 28

A Sale of Homemade Cakes, pies, and cookies was scheduled for Saturday morning, March 28, by the members of the Business and Professional Women's Club at their regular monthly meeting on Monday night, March 16, in the Florida Power Customer's Room.

Delicious baked footstuffs made by the members will be sold to the residents of Avon Park in front of the Avon City Bank that morning. The benefits from the sale will be used in financing the club's worthy civic projects. All friends and neighbors are asked to keep this date in mind and get their baked goods from the Business Women that day.

On Monday night a budget for the club was presented to the thirty members attending and after some discussion adopted. Mrs. Mary C. Durden, a new member, was introduced to the group and welcomed. Mrs. Jean Ricketts had as her guests, Mrs. Maude McPhail of New York.

Following the meeting three tables of bridge and two tables of canasta were in play. Winning canasta high score prize was Mrs. Durden with Mrs. Elizabeth M. Zell taking second high. Miss Millie Pearson won the high bridge score and Mrs. Vera Sellers was lucky in her low score to take the consolation prize.

Dainty four-leaf clover napkins marked the approaching St. Patrick's Day and angel food cake topped with green whipped cream made delicious refreshments. Coffee, mint, and nuts were also served by the hostesses, Violet Hollingsworth, Margaret Stewart, Florine Coats, Betty Sullivan and Neva Atherton.

Word has been received that Mrs. H. A. Maddox and Mrs. Bill Schaefferman won their respective flights in the golf tournament at the Capital City Country Club in Tallahassee last weekend and did Avon Park proud by bringing home two lovely silver bowls as prizes.

Hubert Pate of Lakeland spent last weekend visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pate, in Avon Park.

Almost one hundred members of the fifth grade class of the Avon Elementary School entertained the Avon Elementary PTA at its meeting on Thursday night, March 12, in the Elementary Cafeteria.

Their excellent program was enjoyed by over three hundred teachers, PTA members and parents. Mrs. Morgan and her fifth graders performed to an overflow crowd and there was really standing room only.

During the business meeting Mrs. Robert King and Mrs. Jewel Shepherd were elected from the floor to serve on the nominating committee with Mrs. Hue Nunnallee of the Executive Board serving as chairman. The group also decided to lower the price for the Avon Elementary T-shirts to 75c in order to sell the remaining few shirts quickly. The shirts that remain are sizes 10 and 12. All children who have purchased the shirts and their mothers have been very pleased with the excellent way they held up and these few shirts are going at a real bargain. They are on sale in the Elementary office from Mrs. Jewel McCulley.

Mrs. Madsen Pary, president announced that the April meeting will be the annual election of officers for the PTA for the coming year. At this time the nominating committee will make its report and nominations from the floor will be in order. All members are urged to attend. After the meeting and program a social hour was enjoyed by the children and their parents. The Third Grade Room-mothers served punch of fresh juice and cake from a lovely table featuring two lovely bowl surrounded with patch spring flowers.

Can Turkeys Swim-

By Bird Woman

In our area of Florida, a few years ago relatively speaking, most of the land was covered with timber and a great deal was in swamp, but of course that has been drastically changed as the trees were cut for timber and the marshes drained, and now the land is producing the world's most wonderful citrus fruits.

Just as great has been the change in our wild life especially birds, for water birds cannot live on the dry land but must have swampy localities where they can wade in the water and catch their food or find deeper water where they can dive and catch their prey.

When there was plenty of swampy areas every hunter was familiar with one of the exotic birds, which although not a bird of prey was quite frequently seen, and never ceased to be interesting, this was the heringa.

The anhinga or as it is more commonly called, the snake bird or the water turkey, is a dark colored bird and is nearly a yard in length, the neck comprising about a third of that length.

The female is lighter underneath than the male, and they have long tails which always have twelve stiff plumes, the central pair being rippled, another distinction is the webbing on their feet.

While most water birds are web-footed yet it is just the three front toes that are webbed, but there are four species including the anhinga, that has all four toes webbed together.

The anhinga is a good swimmer, it must be for that is the way it gets its food, and as a usual thing it swims submerged with only the head and a very little of its neck out of the water, but its feathers are not as water repellent as most water birds and when it comes out of the water it spreads out its wings and tail to dry in the sun and air, and that is usually what attracts one attention to them.

Besides being a good swimmer, it is very graceful in flight and some times will soar like a vulture. With its long neck and tail extended in flight it makes a unique cross shaped silhouette.

Our wonderful Creator seems to have given this unique bird a good share of unusual equipment, for like grebe it has air pockets stored internally which it can shift to change buoyancy and be swimming like a cork floating along quite placidly one moment and then disappear beneath the water without even making a ripple.

This helps it not only to escape quickly from its enemies.

but makes it easier for it to catch food. If you have ever tried to catch gold fish from a pool or even a large aquarium you will know how quickly a fish can get out of reach.

The T.V. shows some amazing skills of the skin divers, but this bird is like a skin diver with a spear. The neck of the anhinga would make an interesting study for a chiropractor, for the cervical vertebrae forms a Z shaped kink with the foreneck, head and bill.

Working together these form a triggered spear with which they catch their food, most of which consists of fish, and so rapid and accurate is this movement that almost all the fish found in the stomach of the bird looks like it had been speared with a miniature spear.

Sporing the fish is like the fisherman hooking a fish, there remains quite a little doing before the fish can be eaten, natural yanhangs do not cook their fish, but the process to make it edible is about as complicated.

First it must keep the fish on the spear until it can swim to the surface, then with violent retracting motions of the head, free it as the fisherman frees its fish from the hook.

Then, with the long slim slightly upcurved serrated bill it remains the fish and swallows it. It certainly knows the meaning of the old saying, "There is many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip".

There are four recognized species of the anhinga in its world wide domain, but the one with which we are familiar does not roam farther north than the Carolinas, but may be found in Texas, Arkansas, California, and Arizona.

We have all learned that the most fastidious woman we meet on the street is not always the best housekeeper, and so it is in the bird world, some of our best singers and most graceful birds are very careless about their housekeeping.

The ugly anhinga is the exception that proves the rule, the graceful pure white heron builds its nest in such a haphazard manner that often anyone standing on the ground under the nest can see the eggs between the twigs.

The anhinga builds a sturdy cradle and lines it with leaves, usually fresh green ones, while most birds lay an egg each day, the anhinga lays from three to five eggs at irregular intervals, over a period of from five to ten days.

When the young are hatched they are naked and remain in the nest to be cared for by the parents much longer than the Lynn Longbottom Honored At Luncheon Sat.

Saturday, March 14 Miss Lynn Longbottom was the honoree at a three course luncheon at the home of Mrs. I. H. Ford. Hostesses for this lovely occasion were Mrs. L. W. Wheeler, Mrs. Donald Ford and Mrs. I. H. Ford.

Arrangements of spring flowers were effectively used throughout the house. The twenty-four guests were seated at small tables in the living room and Florida room. The tables were charming with centerpiece of old fashioned nagsays of spring flowers. Each place was marked with dainty white place cards featuring miniature wedding bells and real orange blossoms. The bride-elect's place was marked with a corsage of white tulle centered with a tiny bride doll.

A piece of silver in her chosen pattern was the gift from the hostesses to Miss Longbottom. Out of town guests were Mrs. C. A. Moore of Eagle Lake, Mrs. B. O. Turner, Mrs. Nan Umhenn, Mrs. Billy Carson of Sebring, and Mrs. L. T. Willis of Tampa, grandmother of the bride-to-be.

Miss Longbottom's marriage to Lt. Joe Rice of Houston, Texas, is to be an event of April 18 at the First Baptist Church of Avon Park.

Editor's Mail Bag

Dear Sir:

I have been reading the late History Book of this Highlands County and a lot of facts are so. Mr. Crosby was a wonderful County and a lot of facts are Smith the same. Mr. Rhymes, when I was 15 years old, was my uncle and he carried the mail from Ft. Meade to Ft. Bassinger in horse and buggy. The main street running east towards Sebring was a dirt road that he traveled and people would be surprised to know how many turkeys and things have been killed in this big oak out in the street in the park in front of DeLano's. Hardware. Also we used to ride the road and kill turkeys along the dirt road. There wasn't none of Avon Park here then. Then we carried the mail from Aricricle Creek to Ft. Bassinger with boat. Mr. Rhymes was my uncle. I traveled with him and he would go down like today and come back tomorrow. Along them all the departments which would until I knew of 200 head of cattle that got drowned in the road between here and Ft. Bassinger.

Florida Power Puts Development Groups Together

The reorganization of the community, agricultural and industrial development departments of the Florida Power Corporation under one new title—Area Development—has been announced by Geo. F. Woodham, district manager here.

In making his announcement, Woodham said that the reorganization was achieved to effect the coordination among those closely allied departments which would assure even better service to customers.

Named to head up the new general department, was Andrew H. Hines, Jr., formerly director of industrial development. A mechanical engineering graduate of the University of Florida, Hines has worked closely with Chambers of Commerce, state and other development agencies, bringing many new industries into the State in recent years.

The agricultural and community development departments will both be under the supervision of S. John Folks Jr., who is well known in State agricultural circles. He is also a graduate of the University of Florida and formerly faculty member. Folks has published several booklets on writing for farm youth. Both Folks and Hines are native Floridians.

A former FPC industrial power sales engineer, Zack C. Richardson, will replace Hines as head of industrial development. Richardson has had considerable experience in industrial sales in the St. Petersburg and Winter Park areas, and is a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point.

Mrs. B. Y. V. Vraginov of South Shore Chicago has been the guest of her father, J. L. Collins and her sister, Mrs. S. J. Pendleton for the past week.

Mrs. W. A. Meyer and her little daughter, Emma, spent last Wednesday in Zellwood, Fla., visiting relatives and to bring Mr. Meyer's sister, Mrs. Pauline Van Meter back to Avon Park to spend some time with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Meyer.

Only way to get along with some people is to get along without them.

RACE LEGISLATION—The first major expansion of the coming Legislative session, will doubtless be on the race question.

As it stands, two proposals will be getting most of the attention. A bill to provide parent-option tuition. In general, the bill would authorize parents to withdraw children from schools faced with integration and authorize payment of tuition grants to send them to non-church private schools.

This bill would require a constitutional amendment, which would have to be voted on by the people.

This legislation is being sponsored by School Superintendent Thomas D. Bailey and Atty.-Gen. Richard Ervin.

The Legislature also will be called upon to pass a revamped version of the "last resort" bill. This provides for elections to close down the schools. As proposed by Rep. J. W. McAbuin, Hamilton County, it also would provide for a recall election to open any school board member voted to integrate any school.

At this stage, the suggestions that may be offered by Gov. LeRoy Collins are not known.

The Fabianist race relations has been asked to study present laws to see if they need bolstering.

It will present a report to the governor.

Any announcement of Collins' suggestions in this field will be made after the committee report is filed.

GOVERNOR DERBY—Looking through a slightly worn crystal ball, the best bets as candidates in the 1960 governorship derby at present seem to be:

1. Former Gov. Millard Caldwell.

2. Former House Speaker C. Farris Bryant, who ran third last time.

3. J. Brailley Odham—twice an unsuccessful candidate.

4. Fred Kent, Jacksonville attorney and former board of control member.

If such a race did develop, it looks like the runoff would be between Odham and Caldwell, which would probably be the biggest political collision in recent years.

CALDWELL AND THE COURT—There has been plenty of speculation about Caldwell's references to running for the Supreme Court.

Most logical explanation heard thus far is that there has been talk that Gov. Collins would appoint his former law partner, Charles Ausley to the high court, if a vacancy came up.

The theory is that Caldwell, just tossed out the suggestion about the Supreme Court to let Collins know he would run against Ausley the first time the post came up for election.

The rivalry between Ausley and Caldwell has been going on for some time since they head Tallahassee's two largest law firms—and necessarily get on opposite sides of the fence quite a bit . . . in court and politically.

Tag Day Friday

World War One Vets Baracks No. 387 will hold Tag Day in Avon Park, Sebring and Lake Placid Friday.

It is spending two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Tondoe. He is stationed in Memphis, Tenn., and Billy Chisholm, of Tennessee, who was formerly stationed in Iceland. He also is a guest of Virgil and his parents, and Kenneth Shero, who is attending a wedding in Sebring this weekend. On Saturday Virgil and his sister, Pat, went to Bartow to attend a wedding in which Virgil served as an usher.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Seward of New Milford, Ohio, are spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fisher.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Swartz spent several days in Miami visiting friends last week.

Avon Park Lakes News

Last Thursday evening the Board of Governors of the Avon Park Lakes Association held its second regular monthly meeting, one in which the several committee chairmen made their first reports of activities.

It is expected that by the April meeting considerable progress will be reported.

Last Thursday afternoon the Women's Group met at the Clubhouse with ten present. The ladies discussed the matter of additional equipment for the kitchen, money for which has been raised by the Group's activities independent of the Association. Following this, each one presented a resume of her life leading up to the choice of Avon Park Lakes as a home.

Most making for a better acquaintance among them. Plans were made for a carry-in supper Thursday evening, March 19. It was agreed that the April supper will take the form of a cook out.

While the Women's Group were still in session, sixteen additional matching folding chairs were delivered, a gift of the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce.

The following roads in Units 38, 39 and 40 have recently been hard-surfaced: Dover, Walker, Hurv, Oxnard, Corvallis, Calumet, Preston, Mandan, Irvington, Royall, Lowen, Bermuda, Nausau, Hunt, Hugo, Wellston, Ogden and Dale.

An area in Units 28, 29 and 30, where large quantities of red clay have been dug for use as fill for many of the 34 miles of roads in this 3,000 acre development, has been filled and leveled, and the lots therein sold for future homes.

Progress on both Lakes Chilton and Olivia has been made this past week on the plan for shore improvement. There is still much leveling and grading to be done, the former lake, but the finishing touches are being applied to the latter.

With still a good number of lots remaining to be sold in the development, the Developers on March 16, changed the lot price from $300 to $375 with the price on the road signs leading to Avon Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Anderson, formerly of La Grange, Ill., flew to Ft. Lauderdale recently and continued their trip to visit Mr. and Mrs. J. Lowell Slotts on Chilton Drive. Mr. Anderson was a commercial artist prior to his retirement.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins Irwin formerly of Detroit, Mich., came here this past weekend to visit their friends, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Duncan on Chilton Drive. Mr. Irwin is a retired builder.

Mrs. C. P. Tucker of Hollywood, Fla., is visiting her son and family, the J. D. Edmonsons.

Jack E. Edmonson, the 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Edmonson of East Chilton Drive, spent the past weekend here on leave from his duties in the Naval Sonar School at Key West.

Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Hamilton of Grosse Pointe, Mich., are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Orville J. Castine of Nautilus Drive.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

WE are no reason why upset Mikoyan, of the Communist Politburo in Moscow and close friend of Khrushchev, should be welcomed to the United States.

In fact we see every reason why he should not be allowed to come here.

Khrushchev, author of "I Chose Freedom," tells how the Russian employ-ees in the Em.-Dr. Kershner essay in Washington were called together about 12 years ago to listen to the reading of a message from Mikoyan, instructing them to obtain by any means necessary, technical information about American industrial facilities, and warning them that their rating would depend upon their success in stealing this information.

Why do we now let this top spy come here to confer with his representatives in our country, to ways and means of obtaining more information, to assist them in their efforts to destroy us?

It is remembered also that this Mikoyan was one of those sent to Hungary to speed up the murder of freedom fighters in 1956.

Why do we want him here? Will he too be photographed in clumsy poses with the President?
