Plan Avon Park Clean Up Days And Beautification Nov. 2 To 7

PINNEY Antics

By BILL PINNEY

The Florida Supreme Court has ruled again against a plot which was likely to make ham actors out of some of our bald, robed and dignified jurists by banning the broadcasting or televising of court proceedings.

So, it looks like most folks will still get only a word picture of proceedings in our paneled palaces of perjury.

In Jacksonville one TV station had a program lined up called "Watch This Lying," a witness chair drama. It was sponsored by an attorney whose slogan was "I can spring you by summer."

Later they planned to star an ex-convict coming up for trial as a fourth offender, and the DA in a witness chair chiller called "Prison to Prison."

I think the court was afraid that before long the TV boys would have the judge, witnesses, defendant, lawyers and jurors studying scripts and watching for cue cards.

Now TV will have to stick with the Perry Mason version of courtroom capers, something about as similar to the McCoy as new Ovaltine is to Old Overholt.

Chamber Names Five Industrial Committees

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce has accepted and adopted the recommendations of the Industrial Study Committee to appoint five committees instead of one general committee on Industry and to accept industry as the number one project of the Chamber.

The committee recommended the five committees as a General Industrial Site Committee; Committee on existing industry: an Industrial Park Committee; Industrial Parks Committee! an Industrial Contacts Committee; and an Industrial Information Committee.

The Industrial Study Committee had James A. Heim as chairman; Jack DeLaney, Robert E. Lee and Mrs. Anna Bell Worden, executive secretary of the Chamber.

President Malcolm Crews appointed personnel to head each of these groups: Existing Industry: Bob Barben, chairman; E. Ray Wells and Charles Metcalfe. Industrial Sites: Hubbard Biggs, chairman; Mayor E. A. DeLaney, E. G. Todd and George Border. Industrial Park: Robert R. King, chairman; Bob Lee and Jack DeLaney. Industrial Contacts: Roy Seims, chairman; Royal Coats and William Briscoe. Industrial Information: George Woodham, chairman: James A. Heim and Bill Meyer.

Dressel Brothers Named To Guernsey Club

Dressel Brothers of Dressel Brothers Dairy in Avon Park have been elected to membership in the American Guernsey Cattle Club, non-profit agricultural organization serving over 40,000 purebred Guernsey breeders throughout the United States.

They started with purebred Guernseys in 1959 and now own 80 head. They hope to increase their herd to include 200 head as soon as possible. They sell Golden Guernsey Milk in Miami.

The American Guernsey Cattle Club records the registration of purebred Guernseys - those whose ancestry can be traced back to the Isle of Guernsey, original home of the breed. The AGCC also records the results of official production tests; and, through Golden Guernsey, Inc., supervises the marketing of Golden Guernsey Milk.

C of C Nominating Committee Is Named By Crews

Malcolm Crews, president of the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce, has appointed a nominating committee to nominate a slate of candidates for election to the board of directors of that organization.

The committee, composed of James A. Heim, chairman; Dr. H. W. Coleman and E. Ray Wells, will present a ballot at first meeting in November of the board of directors and ballots will be mailed to members shortly thereafter.

The ballot will contain sixteen names with eight to be elected. Five current members of the board will see their time expire this year, and three additional will be elected to the board, making a total of eight to be elected. Those who's time expires are George S. Woodham, E. Ray Wells, Dr. H. W. Coleman, Hubbard Biggs and Jack Delaney.

Halloween Carnival And Parade Set For October 31 With Return To Mall As Setting For Activity

The annual Halloween Carnival and Parade set for Saturday afternoon, October 31, is expected to be the biggest and best in a long line of successful events.

The Junior Womans Club is sponsoring both activities and have announced that the parade will start promptly at 4 o'clock, with line-up time set at 3:30.

Plans have been made to return the carnival to the Mall, just as it was several years ago. "It will be an Old Fashioned Avon Park Carnival", sponsors say.

There will be many booths and concessions including fish ponds, fortune tellers, fire truck ride, cake walk, hamburger stand, hot dogs, snow cones, candy, pie, cake, coffee and other eats.

General chairman of the carnival and parade are Mrs. Donald Ford and Mrs. Frank Camp, Jr.; Serving with them are Mrs. Wendall Smith and Mrs. Art Turner a. food booth chairmen; Mrs. Fred Davis and Mrs. Jim Runkle as parade chairman; Mrs. Ollie Gentry, fire truck rides; Mrs. Ralph Hill, cake walk; Mrs. Norman Todd, fish pond; Mrs. Jeff Barrow and Mrs. Jim Anderson, publicity chairmen.

The big annual parade will kick-off festivities promptly at 4 o'clock led by the famous Red Devil Band. Boys and girls are urged to decide now what they want to be, ghosts, goblins, witches, or skeletons for the parade, so they may have their costumes ready in plenty of time.

Orbitaires Will Play For Halloween Dance

The Orbitaires, a local musical group, will furnish music for the Halloween dance, Friday night, October 30, at the Youth Center building under sponsorship of the Optimist Club.

Dancing will begin at 7:30 p.m. and continue until 11 p.m. Chaperoning will be members of the Optimist Club and their wives. Admission price is 50 cents per person.

Ridge Coin Club Is Name Of Collectors Group

The Coin Club has been named. The one selected for it is "Ridge Coin Club". Most appropriate, since the club has members from Avon Park, Frostproof, Lake Wales and Sebring. These towns compromise the Florida Ridge.

The Chairman of the Committee on Constitution and By-Laws read the finished product and the club aproved it.

Important to all collectors is this; Any collector wishing to become a Charter Member of the Ridge Coin Club, can join at the November or December meeting. Or place his application to join. After the December meeting the Charter Membership will be closed.

The program created a great deal of interest and was very successful. Shown were Guerrilla money printed during the Japanese occupation, a two dollar bill with the autograph of Admiral Nimitz and strings of Phillippine and Japanese paper money, pasted together.

Punch and cookies were served.

Total Number Of Registered Free holders 5859

Roland X. Droit, supervisor of registration for Highlands County, reported today that a total of 5,895 freeholders are registered and eligible to vote in the November 3 election for School Trustees.

In Avon Park registered eligible freeholders for this election total 635 in precinct No. 1; 601 in precinct No. 2; 329 in precinct No. 3; and 406 in precinct No. 5, this makes a total of 1,971 in the city.

The only trustee race in the county is in District One, or Avon Park, where Paul McFarland, incumbent, is opposed by Louis Armstrong. There are three to be elected and wih the other two candidates being from other districts, the law allowing only one trustee to be elected from a district makes the contest between these two.

The county total eligible freeholders is only 180 higher than at the time of the election two years ago. At that time only 573 votes were cast in the school election, denoting a lack of interest on the part of voters.

P. A. McFarland Seeks Fourth Term Re-election

P. A. McFARLAND

P. A. McFarland announced today that he had qualified as a candidate in the November third School Trustee Election, from District 1 in Avon Park.

In qualifying Mr. McFarland is seeking re-election to a fourth term. During the past three terms, Mr. McFarland has served as Chairman of the Highlands County Board of School Trustees.

Mr. McFarland has lived in Avon Park for the past thirty-three years. He is manager of the Gulf Bulk Plant in Avon Park. He has served two terms on the Avon Park City Council. He is an active member of the First Baptist Church.

If re-elected to a fourth term, Mr. McFarland states that he will continue to do his best to serve the people of Highlands County through their public school system in all phases of school operation.

High School PTA Draws Large Attendance Thur.

The High School PTA enjoyed an excellent program last Thursday evening when Dr. C. B. Henderson spoke on Teenagers and answered questions from the audience on the subject. More than a hundred parents and teachers were present. Mrs. Mannin Kirkland was the program chairman.

During the business meeting, it was voted to call a special meeting for the purpose of discussing the lunch room situation and covered walk-ways between the buildings. The date for this meeting will be announced later. Mrs. J. C. DeShong, publicity chairman expressed appreciation to Mr. Fred Garrett who assisted with getting the new sign made for the street intersection downtown, announcing PTA meetings.

Names were drawn for the door prize and Mrs. Vi Townsend drew the name of her daughter, Bonnie Sue who was the lucky winner of the $5.00.

Mrs. T. H. Maxwell, President expressed her appreciation for all who have worked in making the PTA program successful, and she urges parents to attend the meetings.

The Book Fair Committee met with Mrs. J. A. Johnson last Thursday morning and completed plans for the Book Fair that will be held Nov. 5th. at the Woman's Club Building. Mrs. Johnson will announce her plans in full at a later date; but you are reminded that books will be on sale. There will be a large selection of children's books suitable for Christmas presents, as well as other books to encourage good reading.

Polling Places And Officials Named By Board

The Highlands County board of commissioners have announced the polling places and officials chosen to conduct the Special Election set for November 3.

Avon Park polling places and officials:

Precinct No. 1—Tourist Club: J. R. Duggan, clerk; Mrs. C. C. Skipper, Hazel Sumner, Helen I. Mann, Mrs. Alber Cain and Mrs. B. F. Camp, inspectors; R. A. Gerrard, sheriff.

Trick Or Treat For UNICEF Is Planned Here

The Committee in charge of the UNICEF Trick or Treat in Avon Park is composed of Mrs. T. H. Maxwell and Mrs. Hubert Bussard, R. M. Gay and Ollie P. Gentry. The town will be divided into sections, and each church will be given a packet of material and information as to forming a team. Everyone is urged to participate in the area that will be assigned to their group. It is hoped that this will eliminate repeated calls on certain homes by youngesters and pranksters.

Last year was the first UNICEF observance of Halloween in Avon Park and everyone was pleased with the results. A total of $96 was collected last year and there was less mischief done by the youngsters because of the organized effort for their entertainment on Halloween.

Read the posters on the store windows, be informed and cooperate.

The Optimist Club will sponsor a booth on the circus grounds for general information about UNICEF, and will also send out a team of youngsters for a Trick or Treat for UNICEF.

October 31st is the date.

Joseph S. Moss New Director Of Avon Citrus Bank

Joseph S. Moss was elected Director of the Avon Citrus Bank - a Sottile Group Bank - at the Bank's September Board of Directors' meeting.

Mr. Moss comes to the Bank from the Irving Trust Co. of New York where he served as Senior Vice President. He had been an officer of the Irving Trust Co. since 1930. He became Senior Vice President in charge of bank operations in 1958.

This is a return trip for Mr. Moss to the South Florida area. He spent 5 years of his banking career in the Gold Coast area during the boom days of 1925-1930.

Shopportunity Days Planning Is In Final Stages Committee Says

The Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Comerce announced today that the big "Shopportunity Days" event is in the final planning stage.

Chairman Robert E. Lee stated that tickets for the big Free award drawing are being printed and distribution will begin October 31 with all participating merchants giving them.

Merchants are busy lining up new merchandise for the big bargain event and have promised this will be the biggest money saving event ever spen in the Ridge Area, with finest quality merchandise marked down to unbelievable low prices. "People will find that the Chamber of Commerce Slogan of Trade In Avon Park has real meaning during this great event", one merchant promised.

Many Free awards are to be made during the big event with top award being a $100 certificate good for choice of merchandise at any or all stores participating in the event. The person receiving this certificate may spend it all at one store or smaller amounts at all the stores they wish, it was pointed out, as all stores taking part in Shopportunity Days will honor it the same as cash.

Members of the Merchants Committee planning this big event are Robert E. Lee, chairman; Excie Caffee, Vernon Tyson, Henry Sellers, Jack Delaney, Charles Metcalfe and A. W. Wicker.

Free awards are open to everyone, and all are urged to ask for them at their favorite merchants.

This big Bargain Festival has been announced for November 5, 6 and 7 in Avon Park.

Red Devils Whip Naples 21-13 At Home Friday

Naples came to Avon Park Friday night primed to topple the Red Devils from the undefeated ranks and the result was the roughest played game of the season for the Devils.

Avon Park won the toss and elected to receive, they started to roll but penalties forced them to punt. A Naples fumble was quickly followed by a pass from Jackie Seims to hard running Laymon Money for a 30 yard touchdown, then Seims skirted right end for the extra point to put the Red Devils in front 7-0.

The second period opened with the Red Devils on the visitors four yard line. Starling plunged over from the one for a TD and Seims hit Milton with a pass for the extra point. Later in the same period Seims hit Milton again with a pass deep in Naples territory, but time ran out before another score could be racked up. The half ended with the Red Devils on top 14-0.

Milton kicked off to open second half play and on the first play Long recovered a fumble, Seims again passed to Milton deep in Naples territory and McKenzie charged over from the six yard line for a TD, Starling skirted right end and bulldozed a would-be tackler out of his way for the extra point.

In the final period Naples began to click with their aireal offensive and scored on a 33 yard pass to Hathaway, a pass to Lewis was good for the extra point. A 20 yard pass to Lewis brought their second T Dand the try for point was no good. The game closed with the Red Devils on top 21-13.

Avon Park gained 278 yards on the ground, 64 in the air, made 15 first downs, completed 6 of 13 passes, intercepted one pass and were penalized 150. yards.

Naples gained 63 yards on the ground, 110 in the air, made 7 first downs, completed 7 of 12 passes, fumbled 3 times and were penalized 50 yards.

National Mags Feature Stories Of This Area

Highlands County is being featured in two national publications this fall. The October issue of FLORIDA ILLUSTRATED, published at Vero Beach, carries a story about a Canadian family which spent a week at Highlands Hammock State Park, while exploring and enjoying South Florida.

ORGANIC GARDENING & FARMING of Emmaus, Pa., will feature Plantation Paradise in its December issue. This is a pineapple plantation on U. S. 27 four miles south of Lake Placid, owned and operated by H. J. Emminger and his wife. It is recognized as one of the largest commercial pineapple plantations in the U. S. outside Hawaii.

Both stories are by Charley Stookey, information officer of the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program.

Youth Center Bldg. Group Plans Tupperware Party

The Avon Park Youth Center Development Association has planned a Tupperware Party for the general public for Thurday night, October 29 at the Youth Center building on the Wauchula Road.

The party is for the general public and proceeds go into the building fund. 8 p. m. is the starting time and everyone is invited to attend. The Committee on arrangements is Mrs. Mildred Runkle and Mrs. Stuart Ward.

City Divided Into Four Sections As C Of C Committee Plans Action

The Avon Park Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee met Monday and set November 2 to 7 as "Clean Up and Beautification Days" for the city.

The meeting was attended by city officials, Chamber representatives, Garden Clubs, State Road Department representatives and the Avon Park Sun.

Governor LeRoy Collins is to proclaim the same period of time as "Keep Florida Clean" throughout the state, with emphasis on "Don't be a litter bug", and the Avon Park group decided to set the local observance at the same time.

Committee Chairman, Jack DeLaney announced that the city is being divided into four section for this big drive with the first section under supervision of Mrs. W. S. Betts, second section to be supervised by Mrs. Bertha Pabor; third section by Mrs. Peter F. Watterson; and the fourth section by Mrs. Ruth Henderson. Each will be responsible for an inspection of their section and will make a report back to the committee on November 29.

Mayor DeLaney headed the city delegation at the meeting which included council president, Mannin Kirkland; councilman, Roland Dilley and maintenance supervisor, John Zeigler. These city officials pledged full cooperation of all departments in the project. It was pointed out that the city is in better position, both with more equipment and more man power than in previous years to help make this project more successful.

Garden Clubs of the city will initiate an education program in the city schools in which they will explain about 'litter bugs' to the students. This is expected to be a valuable service for both the present and the future by informing students of the importance of the program of keeping their city clean and beautified.

Mrs. Pabor will order 1,000 "Keep America Clean" badges for distribution amongst students and hopes that each student will wear one during the entire period of the drive.

This "Community Pride Drive" will include all sections of the city and Walter Williams was named chairman in the colored quarters section.

The committee will recommend to all residents that petunias be planted at all homes, and every available place in the city. These beautiful flowers are to be planted in the mall and other places by the Garden Clubs and it is hoped to make the city more beautiful by a uniform planting, they report.

Every resident is urged to inspect their own property and to make a strong effort to bring their property up to top consideration of cleanliness and beauty.

Garden Clubs To Hold Plant Mart Wed., Oct. 28

The Federated Garden Club have announced that their annual "Plant Mart" will be held Wednesday, October 28 on the Mall across from the Jacaranda Hotel from 8:30 a. m. to 1 p. m.

A large variety of plants, such as annuals, bulbs, potted plants for indoors and outdoors, shrubs and trees will be offered.

Also on sale will be the "Down To Earth Calendar" which contains suggestions for the care of plants, they report.

Junior Optimist Club Planning Meeting Held

The Optimist Club held a meeting of prospective members of Junior Optimists Saturday at Donaldson Park attended by 15 boys, applications for membership were handed to each boy to take home and discuss with their parents.

A period of swimming was enjoyed by the boys in the pool at Bennett's Motel after which they were fed hamburgers, hot dogs and Cokes by Ollie Gentry and John Townsend, representatives of the club.

The boys will meet again this Saturday at 1 p. m. at the park to discuss actual formation of the group.

CRACKER POLITICS

By ALLEN MORRIS

Tallahassee.—Fred Kent, in delaying decision on whether he will run for governor, argues changing political technique makes early campaigning of less consequence.

The Jacksonville lawyer-movie theaterman says, in part:

"The phenomenal growth of our metropolitan areas in the last 10 years has made it necessary for a candidate to sell himself to the voters via newspapers, television and radio - not through political henchmen. Brailey Odham and Governor Collins proved that to my satisfaction."

Kent has participated in too many campaigns - he was Governor Cone's road department lawyer and Governor McCarty's board of control chairman - for his views to be taken lightly but an argument could be made persuasively for the approach of those now expending considerable energy as candidates to be candidates in next spring's gubernatorial primaries.

In fact, both Odham and Collins could be cited as examples of the contrary view, if Kent actually is suggesting a whirlwind electronic campaign could elect an unknown.

Neither Odham - who, incidentally, didn't win in two tries - nor Collins was a political unknown on the day he announced for governor. Each was as well known as anyone running today, if by "political henchmen" Kent means the personal following of a candidate.

Odham had nurtured carefully among Jaycees a corps of supporters who regarded the political campaign as a crusade. He also had created a statewide public image as a fearless leader through agressiveness at two legislative sessions, one of which produced a sensational trail. Collins had earned the gratitude of many grassroots groups - among these, the teachers and the public assistance beneficiaries - through 14 years of legislative espousal of their causes.

There are a number of reasons why personal appeal is just as important to a candidate today as it was, say, 50 years ago. One of these is that it takes money - lots of it - to finance the kind of campaigning which Kent holds to be so effective. It is effective, but the money which makes it possible comes, by and large, from the people being seen now by the prospective candidates.

Kent's own situation, it should be kept in mind, differs from that of Senator Carlton, former Speaker Bryant, Senator Dickinson, and some of the other front-running aspirants. In their listings, most observers speak of one candidate as "Mr. X".

By "Mr. X," they mean the aspirant who emerges finally as the candidate of the ultra-segregationists. This candidate, who may be Kent, automatically will get a substantial share of the pool of votes without more advertising than that which each candidate receives without charge, in the news columns, on the panel shows, and the like.

"Mr. X" will be running with a label. If he happens to possess charm and background, as does Kent, these will earn him additional votes. But the situation of "Mr. X" will be different from that of the rest of the candidates.

Never has the election of the Cabinet possessed as much voter importance as it does next year.

That's because the Legislature quietly has been transferring power out of the hands of the governor ever since the buildup of voting strength in Southeastern Florida became so well advertised in the Collins elections.

Among the barely noticed transfers at the '59 session were the appointments of the Director of the Conservation (salt water fishing, geological survey, water resources) Department and of the Director of the Budget.

Both served previously as direct appointees of the governor atlhough they worked with boards made up of cabinet officers. Not infrequently, under the old scheme, the Director of the Budget was at odds with members of the Cabinet. He could afford to be politically, since he was responsible only to the chief executive.

The new law, however, says "a budget director shall be appointed by the governor with the approval of the budget commission to serve at the will of the budget commission." That seems to mean he works without specific term, but from day-to-day at the commission's pleasure.

* * *

Of those who started out as top-echelon assistants to Governor Collins, only his personal secretary, Erin (Mrs. W. Paul) Shelley, remains.

She first came to the executive office as private secretary to Dan McCarty after having spent seven years as the good right hand of U. S. Senator Spessard L. Holland. (As Erin Clark, she was a Bartow girl.)

After the ordeal of McCarty's long illness and nearly five exceedingly active years of Collins, Erin Shelley seems mellower of mood, perhaps in the realization that others either cannot or will not give the perfection, the patience, and the time she does to the performance of her tasks.

In recent years, the duties of the personal secretary to the Governor have evolved into those once performed by the executive secretary. It's not the ability to take shorthand that counts anymore, but a multiplicity of other talents: screening outgoing mail, originating many letters for the Governor's signature, keeping his calendar, monitoring the time available for visitors, and serving in general as a trouble-shooter.

He didn't know it could be done—so he did it.

Tallahassee.—This is the time of year for political polls.

Generally, these polls show what candidate would be elected if the election were held today.

This sort of thing is going on at the national level, and to a degree at the state level.

Of course, most of the polls at the state and local level aren't significant because the voters--or at least a big majority of them--don't have enough information on those running to make an intelligent decision.

Harvey, the Capitol Cat, has been looking into this business and has decided to run a poll. But it will be different than most.

Instead of trying to find out what candidate will win--and create a big ballot stuffing situation, Harvey has decided to find out what people in Florida are looking for in a governor.

Let him explain it:

"It seems to me that elections are held to find out what people want in the way of public officials.

"But the problem is that people vote for people."

"This can't be avoided, but the people never really get to vote on what they would like to have. They have to find a candidate who comes the closest and pull the lever for him."

"The danger, of course, is that each candidate stands for many things . . . some of which probably aren't particularly desirable to the voter.

"Among the platform planks may have been one in which he said he was for chasing all the cats out of the state--but people might have overlooked this, and voted for him because he looked like a nice clean cut young man."

Harvey listed these possible reasons for voting for a candidate. (Check the most important.)

1. What will he do for me, my county, section of the state, or business interests; 2. A winner; 3. Honesty; 4. Family life; 5. Religion; 6. Private financial status; 7. Appearence; 8. Speaking ability; 9. Sincerity; 10. Integrity; 11. Practical politician; 12. Idealist; 13. Experience; 14. Age; 15. Education; 16. Stand on major issues; 17. Personality; 18. Other Reason for choice-----

Clip and mail to Harvey, c/o Don Meiklejohn, Capitol Press Room, Tallahassee, Fla.

A tabulation will be made of the answers, and they will be combined into stories about what people look for in a candidate.

Dear Sir:

We would like for your readers to know our opinion of Mrs. Ella Albright. We think she is one of the best friends that the unfortunate can have. She does not only lend a helping hand to widows and older people she is a 'friend in need' for anyone she finds in need.

My husband had a stroke Nov. 20, 1958, and has not been able to work since, and we found it necessary to move our four children nearer our families. We asked Mrs. Albright to rent our property for us and send us the rent after deducting her fee. Each month she has sent us the rent and will not accept one penny for her services. Mrs. Albright can not expect to profit, materially, from this kindness to us, such deeds are just a part of living to her. People like Mrs. Albright make we, who have had misfortunes realize that we are never alone in our troubles.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Grace Vaughan

Synthetic Brain Helps Build New Dodge Car

Synthetic bodies and brains are helping engineers design better cars these days.

"A transparent plastic model of a car body and a battery of electronic 'brains' have combined to help Dodge engineers build two completely new and different lines of car for 1960", said George Gibson, Dodge chief engineer and director of product-car.

The pastic model aided Dodge in production of this year's new "Unibody" construction for the Dodge line and the low-priced Dodge Dart -- each of which required literally thousands of new testing operations that ordinarily would have taken three to four years.

The giant electronic computers also saved millions of "man-brain" hours.

"The new techniques give buyers this year a car which could not have been developed until 1962 or 1963 with former methods", Gibson said.

Before the plastic body model testing technique was developed, most testing of the car body structure had to be done on full-size steel models of the proposed designs. This meant that after many tests the steel body had to be re-constructed.

With the plastic model there is no need for repeated welding and re-welding as body design changes are made. For each test the plastic can be cut, shaped and bonded together with no change in the plastic body structure.

The plastic body can be loaded to simulate the weights and stresses encountered by a full size car. A one-ounce weight produces exactly the same effects on the plastic body that a 35-pound load would produce in a normal-size steel body.

Avon Park Lakes News

A very successful Pot Luck Supper was enjoyed by fifty-two persons last Thursday evening at the clubhouse. There were adequance, tastiness, and variety in the dishes prepared and brought to the gathering and served by the committee composed of Mrs. Donald Ball, Mrs. John Bengel, and Mrs. Thad Keefe.

A brief business meeting followed the supper, presided over by Mr. D. Grey Knowles, Chairman of the Board, in which Mr. Knowles reviewed the important acts of his group since its last meeting.

Mr. A. M. Luyben volunteered at the supper meeting to give Bridge lessons to any interested parties. About a dozen accepted the offer which contemplates a two-hour session each Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 in the clubhouse beginning October 21, and continuing until further notice.

Another development following the supper was the announcement of Mrs. A. M. Luyben of plans for the Thanksgiving dinner to be held Thursday afternoon, November 26 at 4:00 o'clock at the clubhouse. Mrs. Luyben and Mrs. John A. Riley will roast the turkeys. It was requested that the other women arrange with the committee for their part in furnishing the dishes that would complement the turkeys.

The last item discussed at the supper meeting was the Hallow'een Party to be held at the clubhouse Saturday evening, October 31 at 8:00 o'clock. All those planning to attend were asked to appear in costume, wearing masks. Games and refreshments appropriate to the season will be enjoyed under the direction of a committee made up of Mrs. C. G. Coburn, Mrs. Ed. Kostitch, and Mrs. Lee A. Wentworth.

Those attending the Pot Luck Supper broke up into groups to enjoy a variety of card games.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mehrling of Miami Springs spent the weekend at Avon Park Lakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson were weekend visitors at Mrs. Wilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thad Keefe, of Seneca Drive. Mrs. Wilson has just returned from an extended trip to California.

Dr. and Mrs. Conrad Moehlman of Avon Boulevard are checking galley proofs of a book to be published soon by the Philosophical Library of New York. The book, written by Dr. Moehlman, is a religious treaties for advanced study and instruction, the first edition of which is already sold. This is not a new venture for Dr. Moehlman who has written more than twenty books on religious subjects during a career in which for many years he was associated with Colgate Rochester Divinity School, the University of Rochester, and more recently the University of Southern California, where he was emeritus Professor of History of Christianity.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Andrews are expected soon at their home on Avon Boulevard following a season in Defiance, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Coburn of Mimosa Road enjoyed a reunion with an old acquaintance of Mr. Coburn's, now living in Casselberry, Fla., a Mr. Harry Culp. The reunion came about in an unusual manner: it seems that Mr. Coburn sent a snapshot of a group of nine young men, of which he and Mr. Culp were members, taken in front of a cigar store in Buffalo in 1907, to the Buffalo Courier-Express for inclusion in this paper's "Old Photo Album". After the appearance of the picture in a recent edition, Mr. Coburn received letters from the widow of Dr. W. H. Johnson, who was in the group picture, a man who lived on the street where the cigar store was located, and from Harry Culp, now living in Casselberry, an invitation to visit him. Needless to say the Coburns and Culps had a lot of conversation to exchange.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Ackerman of Ft. Lauderdale visited for a few days this past week with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barlow, Mrs. Ackermans parents, on Lake Chilton Drive.

Sgt. and Mrs. George R. Reynolds have moved into the Bennett house on Carpenter Road, The Reynolds returned from Labrador last March, where he was statione for two years, to Tampa. He is now located at the local Air Base. Mrs. Reynolds is a Maryland girl while Sgt. Reynolds is a native of Omaha, Neb.

Mr. Albert G. Downing and his sister-in-law, Meta Thiart, have moved into their new home on Southhampton Road. Mr. Downing is from Chicago, a retiree from the Illinois Bell Tel. Company after 43 years service, a Cable Supervisor. Miss Thiart was associated with the Rand-McNally Publishing Company for 42 years in machine maintenance.

Debbie Wallace, three year old daughter of Lieut. and Mrs. Benny Wallace of Dryden Road, was given a birthday party this past Sunday afternoon which was attended by Ann McDaniels of Avon Park and Tommy Rubas of Camden Rd. and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. Wentworth, as well as her brother Stevie Wallace.

Lee A. Wentworth has started the construction of a house in Unit 37 on Rochester Drive for James M. Carlisle and Viola M. Fawcett of Pittsburgh, Pa. Mr. Carlisle is retiring from State employment and expects to occupy the house when completed.

Johnny McDowell was surprised Monday evening when nineteen guests gathered to celebrate his 17th birthday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Edmonson at Lake Chilton. Amid Hallow'een decorations the "Hall of Horrors" and other games were played, prizes being won by Bonnie Nagelschmidt, Carolyn Elliot, Ricky Funkhouser, and Jerry Draughton. Johnny opened gifts and cut the birthday cake while his guests enjoyed the refreshments. Following the refreshments dancing was enjoyed. Other guests were Freda and Johnny Bennett, Frank Phillips, Pat Elder, Corky Stokes, Pat Hart, Buddy Felters, Jimmy Mercer, Harvey Hill, Wanda Elder, Billy Johnson, David Pyke, Bobby and Jerry Edmonson, and Barbara Nagelschmitd. Mrs. Lee A. Wentworth assisted Mrs. Edmonson with decorations, games and refreshments.

There are at present ninety-four houses completed or under construction at Avon Park Lakes. There are about ninety-four miles of roads serving the development, of which about ninety-five percent have been clay surfaced and sixty-five percent later hard surfaced.

Mrs. Alma Getty of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, spent the past week visiting at the home of Mrs. Mae Feary.

Hart-McKenzie Engagement Told

MISS LINDA HART

Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Hart have announced the engagement of their daughter, Linda, to Curtis McKenzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira McKenzie of Frostproof.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Avon Park High School where she was an honor student, May queen her senior year, cheerleader, and active in various other activities.

The bridegroom-elect is a native of Frostproof and a graduate of Frostproof High School. He was active in sports, playing football, basketball, and track.

Both Miss Hart and Mr. McKenzie are employed by the Avon Park Correctional Institution.

The wedding will be an event of Saturday, November 28th, in the Florida Avenue Baptist Church at 7:00 p.m. with the Rev. Gilbreath officiating. A reception will be held in the church social hall following the ceremony. No invitations are being sent. All friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend both the wedding and reception.

Circle Two Met With Mrs. W. M. Renfro Tuesday

Circle Two of the Woman's Society for Christian Service met Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 13, at the home of Mrs. W. M. Renfro with Mrs. George Riffle as co-hostess.

Sixteen members, one new member and one visitor were present. Mrs. W. R. Dinnison conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Ben F. Stewart gave the study lesson from Luke. Mrs. C. H. Harris closed the meeting with prayer ,after which refreshments were served by the hostess.

The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. R. Dinnison with Mrs. E. A. Harris as co hostess.

Walter Connell To Speak On Temperence Sat.

Walter A. Connell, principal of Highland Lakes Junior Academy and Temperance Secretary of the Walker Memorial Sanitarium Seventh-day Adventist Church, will be the speaker at the Sabbath morning worship service on October 24. Mr. Connell's address will be part of a nation-wide campaign against alcoholism, which is today recognized as the nation's number three health problem.

Next Saturday at the special Temperance Day service, the local Adventist congregation will contribute to a special fund in a drive to help raise $100,000 for use in grass roots alcohol educational work in communities throughout the nation. The approach calls for organizing studies of alcoholism on a community level, and gearing programs of education to help curb the use of alcoholic beverages, especially among teen-agers. Leading citizens will be asked to serve on special committees in the development of seminars, workshops, and other activities including the circulation of educational publications and motion pictures to combat alcoholism.

Tuberculosis is transmitted from someone who already has TB.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank everyone for their visits, cards, calls, flowers and prayers, while I was in Walker Memorial Hospital. I also thank the nurses, they were so kind and good to me. Special thanks to Dr. Coleman.

May God bless each of you and yours.

Sterile Flies In Screwworm Program Stopped

The Florida Livestock and Sanitary Board voted last week to discontinue the mass dropping of sterile flies as a means of combatting screwworm in the state. The mass rearing of sterile flies at the Sebring laboratory will also be discontinued.

Dr. C. L. Campbell stated that the program proved very successful, with the exception of one case reported in Highlands County there have been no positive cases reported anywhere in the state and Campbell feels that it is now safe to discontinue the fly dropping program.

The cost of the program during the fiscal year 1958-59 was about $4 million, shared equally by the state and federal governments.

Inspection of livestock will continue however and should an outbreak occur anywhere it would b ean easy matter to re-establish the fly dropping program quickly.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Theile have returned from their summer home in Buffalo, N. Y. to spend the winter at The Villa on the Sebring Road.

Miss Ginger Mehrling of Miami was the weekend guest of Miss Claire Maxwell.

THIS POPULAR MERCURY MONTEREY,* FOR EXAMPLE, IS NOW PRICED $136.50 LOWER THAN LAST YEAR

1960 Mercury Monterey 2-door Sedan with deluxe interior and complete carpeting at no extra cost.

NOW THIS MERCURY MONTEREY DELIVERS FOR ONLY $72 MORE THAN "LOW-PRICE NAME" CARS WITH THE SAME EQUIPMENT.

The new lower Mercury prices now make it possible for you to own this truly beautiful car for practically the same amount of money you would pay for a car with a low-price name.

And we mean price comparisons using the same body style, equipped the same way—with typical equipment most drivers want (such as radio, heater, and automatic transmission).

Remember, this exciting price news applies to America's best-built car—now your best buy, too.

 Based on manufacturer's suggested delivered price for a 1960 Mercury Monterey 2-door Sedan v. comparable 1960 model of popular "low-price name" car, both with automatic transmission, heater and defroster, radio, white sidewall tires, air cleaner, oil filter, power-assisted wipers, wheel covers and electric clock; also includes Federal excise tax, suggested dealer preparation and handling charges.

RAILROAD FEATHERBEDDING:

$500,000,000 LOSS

TO THE NATION—INCLUDING YOU—EVERY YEAR

Featherbedding on the railroads – pay for work not done or not needed – is costing the American people the shocking total of more than $500,000,000 a year.

You pay for it every time you shop, because featherbedding costs are hidden in the price of everything you buy.

Obsolete union work rules, involving the railroad operating employees, are responsible for this gigantic burden. Right now, for instance, these rules require every diesel locomotive to carry a fireman – even though diesels have no fires to stoke, no boilers to tend.

The forthcoming negotiations between the railroads and the unions are urgently important to the whole nation.

In asking the unions to drop these featherbedding rules, all the railroads ask for is a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

Meadow Lark

By Bird Woman

This native bird, known to us as the Meadow Lark, is really not a lark at all, but belongs to the black bird family, which family also comprises the oriole, grackles, and red-wings. All this family is recognized by the flat head and the long sharp bill.

No doubt this bird received its name from the habit of giving out its call while on the wing in the manner of the true lark. But it has a very musical song besides this, and can always be recognized by it even when the bird is not visible among the grasses.

There is a western Meadow lark that lives just over the border that divides the eastern and western bird life, which has a different song, and any one accustomed to hearing our eastern bird sing would not recognize the song of the western lark, which ornithologists tell us is a different specie entirely.

It is beyond our understanding that there is that invisible line, between the eastern and western bird life as pronounced as if ornithologists had taken a map and drawn an irregular line on it to divide the different species. But that is not the way it was done, ornithologists just studied the bird life, and found and reported the conditions that existed.

We know that there is also a line as definite as the Mason-Dixon line, that divides the northern and southern bird life, and occasionally there is found a bird in the wrong "pew", and it is designated as a straggler, although it might have been blown off its course in a storm, or it may just be a discontented bird with a wander-lust.

But although we know that many birds migrate to warmer climates in winter, yet the birds home is considered the area where it nests and raises its brood.

Did you ever think what a marvelous thing it was that our wonderful Creator gave each bird its own peculiar song and call? Imagine hearing the "konk, knok", of the wild goose and locating the bird in a tree and seeing a robin, or listen to the robins own peculiar notes and finding them eminating from a ground dove, or the crow sitting on the highest twig of a tree and singing like the mocker.

The meadow lark should be quite familiar to all in this locality who play golf, or to those who drive through the ranch part of our country, for although the cutting of the timber and the draining of the land has deprives us of many birds, it has been a help to the meadow lark, which enjoys meadows and grassy areas.

So popular is this bird in the western part of our U. S. that seven states have chosen it as their state bird. The western meadow lark, has a little paler coloring on its back, and the yellow of the body extends higher on the cheek than our eastern lark, yet it is the difference in the song that differentiates it from the eastern lark.

Besides the beautiful coloring of the meadow lark, their eternal hunt for bugs and insects have endeared them to all who have studied their eating habits, being large enough to handle the larger insects, as grasshoppers, crickets, catippilas and grubs, they make great inroads on these insects that would otherwise be very harmful to the fields and would spill over into the groves and farm and truck areas.

The meadow lark is easily identified by its yellow breast, with a brown bib, and the many streaks and stripes on its sides and wings, and the white rump patch that is especially visible when it is in flight.

It is almost large enough to be classed as a game bird, but it has other uses that are more important, as insect eating, and therefore is protected.

The meadow lark builds its nest in a depression in the ground, often merely a cow track, and after making the nest suitable with grasses, it will cover it almost all over with grasses, something on the order of the nest of the oven bird, in this way the nest is camouflaged so that often people have walked over it without seeing it, and the only way they knew that a nest was near, they would see the mother rise and fly from quite a little distance from the nest.

We have never known her to put on the wounded bird act to draw the enemies from her nest as the quail and ground dove do, but she can tell when an enemy is approaching and slips away through the grass without causing a ripple among the grass and weeds, and at the proper time she will rise and fly, causing the enemy to seek in the wrong direction for her nest.

Many people seem prone to try to translate bird song into human language, and sometimes they succeed, but as a usual thing, no one is fooled except the person trying the experiment. Some people can so successfully imitate some of the calls that the bird seems to be fooled, especially when the call resembles a whistle. We have lured quail almost to us by answering the "bob white" call, but many think the towhee says, "cup o tea", but try as we may we have never been able to parallel the sounds . . "Spring is here", is supposed to be what the meadow lark says, so when you hear the meadow lark calling, try to see if you can translate it into human words.

One note worthy thing about this family of birds, they are strictly birds of the new world, as the starling was of Europe, but since the starling was introduced into this country, it has found it very satisfactory and has increased in such numbers that is succeeds in driving out many of our more helpful birds in the north, and is now found at certain seasons in flocks in our area.

We are always amazed at the tameness of the meadow lark, especially along the road side where cars are always zipping past them, sometimes if they happen to be feeding near the road they scarcely move or pay any attention to cars.

Fortunate is the land owner who has meadow larks to help him diminish the insects and weed seeds, although many are unnecessarily killed each year by truckers who think the lark is eating his tomatoes or fruit, when it is only trying to eat the insects that are doing the damage.

We have all heard the expression "Happy as a Lark", and it seems to have come from the fact that when a lark sings, it opens its bill and throws back its head like a prima donna, and its notes are just as melodious, and it seems to be singing from its very hear, and in that way express its feelings to the world, that the song eminates from a heart, overflowing with happiness.

Next time you're talking "from the shoulder"—try a bit higher up.

KELTHANE

Don't put up with mite killers that have slow initial kill or that require frequent applications. Switch to KELTHANE, the longer-lasting miticide. KELTHANE is not a phosphate—is safe to use. No extraordinary precautions are necessary when used as directed.

KELTHANE quickly kills most of the troublesome mite species, including "resistant" strains. KELTHANE is excellent for an immediate mite clean-up. Its long-lasting action prevents the development of mite populations by migrants or newly hatched colonies. Long-lasting residual activity also means fewer applications per season . . . more dollars saved. KELTHANE will help you harvest more perfect-finish fruit. It is compatible with most citrus pesticides and harmless to beneficial insects. See your dealer today for KELTHANE.

ROMANS
VIKINGS
ESKIMOS

They* SAID they could sell FLORIDA'S FRESH-FROZEN ORANGE JUICE (that's our famous CONCENTRATE) . . . . worlds and worlds of it. Even if they had to drum up a market among the Romans, Vikings, and Eskimos.

Well, they ARE selling it . . . . Right here in AMERICA . . . . Without having to pitch a single sales pass at the Romans, etc.

Just plain Americans (that includes the Eskimos now, you know) are already drinking considerably more F-FOJ . . . . since the first part of September when FLORIDA'S 22 enterprising CONCENTRATORS put up $3,300,000 for a national advertising and promotional drive to boost present CONCENTRATE markets — and certainly to create new ones.

Here's how these 22 CONCENTRATORS are concentrating that $3,300,000 in every marketing community in the U. S. A.

● $1,500,000 worth of advertising in 191 daily newspapers; in LIFE, LOOK and The SATURDAY EVENING POST; and in the Sunday supplements, AMERICAN WEEKLY, THIS WEEK, PARADE and FIRST THREE MARKETS. — Total circulation: 93,000,000 (that's just for ONE edition of each of these periodicals, and the ads are running several times in each.)

● A first Sweepstakes Prize of $25,000 in cold cash (it's being kept cold in a G. E. electric refrigerator, which also goes to the winner); 10 Second Prizes, each a brand new Corvair auto; 50 Third Prizes, each a G. E. combo refrigerator-freezer; and 1,000 Fourth Prizes, each an electric can opener (so's to open the cans of CONCENTRATE without even having to twist the wrist.)

● Trade Sweepstakes for ANYBODY employed in America's Grocery Trade. Five First Prizes, each a 1960 Thunderbird; and 50 Seconds, each a 1960 G. E. 17-inch portable TV set.

● The ads feature 12- and 20-cent coupons redeemable by customers everywhere (not including the Romans, etc.) with their purchase of CONCENTRATE — any brand. (For more coupon news of concentrated interest to you, see coupon in this ad.)

A QUARTER of a BILLION of these coupons are being distributed.

This CONCENSATIONAL (what gives, etymologically, when you jam CONCENtrated and senSATIONAL together) campaign will profit every Citrus Grower in Florida because it will not only sell more oranges already processed into CONCENTRATE, but it will result in even more favorable markets for Florida Citrus Growers in the future.

Every community in Florida (this means YOU!) will profit from this program. Because the economic impact (that's business lingo for the force of $$$ and ¢¢¢) of the Florida Citrus Industry reflects itself upon ALL Florida business and in every walk of Florida life. (Total retail sales of Florida citrus last year: $650,000,000)

The Board of Directors of FLORIDA CITRUS MUTUAL enthusiastically endorse this program and wholeheartedly congratulate the CONCENTRATORS for dreaming up this novel and forceful way to sell more Fresh-Frozen Orange Juice — and for backing up this dream with action.

Through FLORIDA CITRUS MUTUAL'S 21 Directors, now representing more than 10,000 Florida Citrus Growers, MUTUAL'S fundamental policy is to be factual in all matters concerning the Florida Citrus Industry and to do everything realistically possible to see that the Grower maintains his rightful standing and shares mutually in Industry responsibilities and benefits.

They're* Doing The JOB!

[illegible] Schoendienst Hon. Chairman Of March Of Dimes

Red Schoendienst, Milwaukee Braves star now completing his recovery from tuberculosis, has been named National Honorary Chairman of the 1959 Christmas Seal Campaign, according to an announcement today by Dr. H. McLeod Riggins, president of the National Tuberlosis Association.

The Christmas Seal Campaign, to raise funds for the tuberculosis control program of the voluntary TB associations, is under the auspices of the NTA and its 2,700 affiliated associations throughout the country.

Schoendienst is the first person to hold such a post in the 53-year history of the Christmas Seal Campaign. He was selected, Dr. Riggins said, because of the exemplary courage he has displayed in his own fight against TB. The ballplayer was found to have tuberculosis when he had a physical check-up at the conclusion of the 1958 season. He was hospitalized during the winter but is now back with his family and team, although still under medical supervision.

"We are delighted that Red Schoendienst accepted our invitation to serve as our first National Honorary Chairman," Dr. Riggins stated. "The whole nation admires his courage in the face of a personal tragedy and rejoices with him and his family over the splendid recovery he has made.

"Particularly gratifying to me and my associates is the spirit with which he is tackling this assignment. His interest is deep and real. He is not merely giving lip service to the job. He has volunteered to give as much time to the Christmas Seal Campaign as his physicians permit. He plans to make TV and radio appearances and participate in other activities connected with the campaign."

In accepting the appointment, Schoendienst said: "No one knows better than I do how terrible TB can be. I was lucky because my infection was discovered early and the doctors knew what to do about it. I am going to do everything I possibly

Soil Conservation News

DISTRICT NEWS

By Sam Polston

The Highlands Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors held their regular monthly meeting October 7th in the Soil Conservation Service office in Sebring.

Supervisor Ivey Futch reported that first phase of construction on the Fisheating Creek Watershed project is now completed. This project consists of ten miles of channel construction and one water control structure. This work was done under the Small Watershed Act. The landowners and the federal government shared in the construction cost. The Highlands Soil Conservation District and the County Commission sponsored the project. The landowners will maintain it through a working agreement with the County Commission.

Mr. George Cross of Lorida met with the board and negotiated a lease on the Districts motor grader for a one year period. The grader will be used to cut ditches for district cooperators and will also be used for webbing palmetto pasture land.

There is still pangola grass planting material available at the District's nursery at Hendricks Field. This may be obtained by contacting the Highlands Soil Conservation District in Sebring.

Mr. R. P. Dortch, Sr. of Sebring planted 40 acres of clover last week. He used a mixture of 40 per cent Ladino and 60 per cent Louisiana S-1. He says even with the drainage ditches the frequent rains have caused considerable loss of stand. Mr. Dortch feels strongly that in order to establish pasture properly the land must be adequately drained.

Mrs. Susan Hughes of Bradenton arrived at her home on Lake Isis Tuesday.

CAP Conducts Search And Rescue Mission

A theoretical C-119 crash and a downed crew of six was the scene of a simulated search and rescue mission conducted by the Florida Wing of the Civil Air Patrol at New Smyrna Beach, October 16, 17, and 18.

As a member of such a vast organization, the Sebring Composite Squadron, ventured forth to take an active part of the evaluation test, conducted by the 14th Air Force. The eight members attending were: Cadets John Hanlon, Kathy Rogers, Charles Payne and Larry Mason with Senior members, Leo Rogers, Nancy Douglas and Commanding Officer, Lt. and Mrs. sonnel, while 500 CAP personnel remained at the New Smyrna Beach Airport, to control the base of operations.

Despite the threatening of bad weather, the number of radio equipped motor vehicles and personnel was high. The seriousness of this mission was carried out by everyone from the Cadet running errands, on up to the Mission Commander, Lt. Col. Ralph McCauley of Jacksonville.

Mobile units were stationed near the different areas ready for the "high sign" to pick up C. M. Patton.

With Leo Rogers as pilot of his own Piper Club, and Lt. Patton as Observer, they took their place along with approximately 60 other planes, which were dispatched at 9:30 a.m. Saturday morning to cover several hundred square miles of inland and coastal areas in search of the missing crew members, which consisted of Cadet perthe survivors and return them to base headquarters for "interrogation" as to further information on remaining crew. Because of bad visibility on the part of the pilots, time was shortened, but nevertheless the full crew was discovered Saturday evening.

A banquet was held for all senior members, at the New Smyrna Beach Yacht Club, while the Cadets were honored at the airport with a Weiner Roast. The guest of the evening was a nofficer from the Strategic Air Command, speaking on SAC and its part in the defense of our nation.

Hurricane and storm warning having been posted, closed the two day mission to only one, therefore Sunday's activities consisted of the many squadrons returning home earlier than expected. Several planes were grounlded at the New Smyrna Beach airport because of the bad weather conditions.

Ford For 1960 Presents Advance Styling Theme

The 1960 Ford represents a styling theme originally created for later use but brought forward because of the spontaneous enthusiasm of company management when they first saw the car in avance studios.

J. O. Wright, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager, said the 1960 Ford was redesigned from bumper to bumper because "we wanted to increase passenger space and comfort and improve the roadability and handling ease and performance."

He said, "After the car originally planned for 1960 was well under way, the advanced styling office showed us some designs for Ford Motor Company cars even farther advanced than our planned 1960 model.

"One of these was called 'Quicksilver'," he said. "It captured everyone's imagination immediately, and we began to explore the possibility of advancing it to the 1960 models. We were faced with a crucial decision involving millions of dollars.

"When the engineers pointed out that a complete new car also would enable them to design additional quality features into the vehicle, company management gave the go-ahead.

"One of the most important features of the new Ford," Mr. Wright said, "is that it has been 'comfort-engineered'. There is substantially more hip room, shoulder room, leg room and head room in the 1960 Ford than there was in the 1959 model -- which ranked far above its competitors in these vital comfort areas.

Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Turbeville of Winter Park arrived at the Avon Park Campground Tuesday.

Living With Your Heart

By Richard J. Clark, M.D.

In the past some doctors have subscribed to the theory, "The longer you rest after a heart attack, the better." I once saw a patient who was told by his doctor to go home and stay in bed for six months. Fortunately he sought other advice and spared himself the consequences of quite a complete breakdown.

Before World War II, when a diagnosis of a coronary attack was made, the usual and accepted formula was six weeks of absolute bed rest. Today we know that the majority of such patients can be safely ambulated within three weeks, and under this program total comeback is more speedy and sure.

Many are now about and outside within six weeks, and if they are fortunate enough to have office or relatively light jobs, they can be back to work within eight weeks. By the end of ten to twelve weeks the average patient is able to return to moderately strenuous work.

Patients after a heart attack may be compared to athletes out of training. General strength does not return through rest alone but through a guided balance between rest and increasing activity. All too often we have seen patients three to four months after a coronary attack who wish to discuss returning to their old jobs involving moderate exertion or activity, but unfortunately they have been doing little beyond sitting and lying down.

We have to outline for them a further month of progressive walking, light work around home and getting out into the world before they are in trim for their jobs. Often unwarranted fears must be overcome in getting these people going, but with development of confidence through encouragement and increased muscular and circulatory tone, they will soon be ready to resume self support and employment.

At the Cardiac Work Classification Units of your Heart Association we see many such patients who require reassurance regarding ability to go back to their old jobs or who need guidance in finding new or more suitable employment. We have found that between two thirds and three quarters of patients after coronary attacks have been able to return to gainful employment. The majority can often best return to prior jobs which they know well, sometimes with suggested modifications.

We see patients who have had one, two and even three attacks get back to the job and do well for some years. Some have returned to seemingly quite strenuous jobs, even involving lifting of up to a hundred pounds and they have done very well.

It has not been at all an unusual experience to find patients markedly improving after return to work. In some cases angina previously present decreases or disappears. Getting away from home, being busy, and loss of anxiety over finances are factors which play an important role in this picture.

Heart attacks can and do recur, both with those who are working and those who are loafing, but it is our belief that the activity of work in itself very rarely is the responsible factor; indeed, moderate activity may well be a preventive factor. Actually the majority of heart attacks occur at rest in bed.

Above all, the patient after a coronary attack must not develop the attitude that "he is done". This attitude alone will, in fact, finish him faster than anything else. He must have confidence and hope for the future in spite of what may have occurred. For a specific example and inspiration he need only think of the case of the President of the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Deitz of Rossville, Ga. arrived Sunday for a few days at the Avon Park Camp on business.

CRACKER POLITICS

By Allen Morris

Eight years ago Bill Guild gave up his real estate business in Massachusetts with the idea of retiring. He came to St. Petersburg and acquired a modest home expecting to spend the rest of his days taking it easy, puttering around in the sun.

All his life Bill had an interest in nature and an oversized bump of curiosity. "How" and "why" were questions he was continually asking. With time on his hands in Florida he took walks in the woods and along the seashore observing nature and still seeking answers.

Learning is fun, but it is much more fun if you can share your knowledge with others. The opportunity came when Bill made friends with neighborhood youngsters and began encouraging them to seek answers themselves. He directed their activities, set up a number of nature study and scientific projects in his garage, and invited his young friends to participate in voluntary classes.

It wasnt long before he was known far and wide as "Uncle Bill" to many youngsters who were thrilled to find an oldster willing to give them his time an attention. Bill loved kids, he understood the curiosity abounding in their eager young minds and like the Pied Piper, he developed an eager following among youngsters interested in all phases of scientific knowledge.

Parents became interested and then local school officials. Uncle Bill established a laboratory and museum. City officials and the chamber of commerce, cognizant of the fine work Bill was doing among the children, put their shoulders to the wheel. School classes were sent to his museum in school buses for scientific study. Here they found numerous models and gadgets, all designed by Bill that showed how things worked. Then followed a science fair in the youth center. It was a smashing success.

According to Bill Guild "education" is a process of leading the youngster to a simple scientific phenomenom that will stimulate his natural curiosity into a lively desire to find out "how and why."

Alcolines

By Charley Stookey

Not long ago I heard a woman in her 30's say, "If I told you my story, it would make Forever Amber sound like a fairy tale for children."

She was an alcoholic who had driven more than 200 miles with a party of four to conduct a meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous for the patients in the treatment center of the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program, Avon Park.

"I had lost the respect of all my friends and my family," she continued, "I had drunk for 15 years, starting in my teens. I am so grateful for A.A. and the new life it has brought me. I only regret I didn't have an opportunity for treatment like that offered here," she said.

That same evening a man said, "For 20 years I dreaded to see the sun come up. Since becoming sober through A.A. I have gained a new inner feeling which makes me look forward eagerly to the next sunrise."

"I drank for 20 years," said another, "and spent time in all kinds of hospitals. Finally I went to Avon Park for treatment. Here I was given a good look at myself and prepared for A.A. which has made a new life for me. Those who have been to Avon Park (treatment center) have a head start on other alcoholics."

A man who had been commited to an institution for the insane in another state said the chaplain had asked him if he would be interested in Alcoholics Anonymous. "I agreed to attend," he said, "and something struck me at that meeting which started me on the way to sobriety." He said that upon discharge from the mental hospital he drove as far as 60 miles to attend meetings of A.A. Groups. "One group, 40 miles away, I attended regularly for 22 months," he said.

From these personal statements it should be evident to even the most casual observer that the person who cannot control his drinking--the alcoholic--is not necessarily a weak-willed bum, but a human being with a treatable illness--alcoholism.

Winter Guest Club News

Nota bene, says the Roman. Take a gander, mumbles the American. Which interpreted means take a look at something, and that is the small box on Tony's desk in the main room of the Guest Club House. Read the inscription on it and act accordingly: "Notes for the Stroller". The latter is no news hound. He does not mind tapping the typewriter for the benefit of the Guest Club, if it is a benefit, but as a gatherer of news items he just about n.g. So if anybody here has a news item worth airing, please make a note of it and slip in into the box. It will help this writer no end. But let the item be of real interest to Club members. For instance: if Mrs. A. wins a penuchle game in the House, that's a fact worth recording for the benefit of posterity. Her grandchildren can point with pride at the item: "Our grammer was a whiz at cards". But if she spends the day shopping in Tampa, that is not of so much interest to the hoi polloi, not even to the grandchildren. Anybody can go shopping in Tampa. And what of it if anybody does?

The Tuesday afternoon bridge games are now a regular feature. On last Tuesday, the 13th, four tables were occupied by the card shufflers, and the high scorer was Mr. Lyben, the next in line Mrs. Wessa. Give 'em a hand, everybody. All members who enjoy a game of cards are urged to come in and join the push, male or female as the Lord made 'em.

Some of us a while ago began to think the rainy season over, and then we had another think. Copious showers continued to plague the sun bathers and interfere with tournaments. Not so on Wednesday evening, the 14th, however, when old J. Pluvius held off and Nature smiled to see Mrs. Warner and Harold Arms (old hands at the business of winning) walk off with first honors, while Mrs. Beall and Mr. Inger took the consolation event. But on Saturday evening it was another story. A small flood came along and it was ,nix on the tournament. No question about that, it was really wet that night.

The regular Friday evening dance functioned according to schedule, forty-five members present, enough to make a happy time of it. After the ball, so to speak, thirty-five stayed for coffee and doughnuts, which might seem almost a prime necessity after shaking a leg for an hour or two. This feature of the evening is becoming popular. May be even the Stroller might enjoy that part of the program. The beginners' class gave a good demonstration of what can be learned in one lesson. After the next lesson on Monday, the 19th, they should be able to take part in the majority of the Friday evening numbers.

The eerie and witchery evening of Halloween is almost here, when old beldames ride broomsticks, children play tic-tack on window panes or come to your door for a treat or a trick. Halloween is celebrated traditionally on the 31 day of October, but the Guest Club is to celebrate it with a big party at 8 p. m. on the 29th. That should be a grand get-together for all who are here. It is the time for jollity and our numbers are increasing fast.

Every day sees an old friend appear on the grounds or a new face welcomed at the door. And the annual dues are being paid, which is a fact worth noting. According to Tony's figures the number of paid up memberships up to date is 107, including the 17 great-grandpas, now over 80, who paid up for life some time ago. And on that happy note let us end this spiel, says

Editor's Mail Bag

Avon Park, Fla.
October, 1959

Avon Park Sun
Avon Park, Fla.
Dear Editor:

I hope you will extend me the courtesy of printing this letter in your column of the Editors Mail Bag. Being a local business man and living in Avon Park, I am naturally interested in our fine city.

I attended the city council meeting last Monday night and I saw action and heard words that reminded me so much of Phoenix City, Ala. A place I know so well. First I want to congratulate the Tax Payers League of Avon Park. They are the kind of people that are the salt of the earth and give freely of their time without any pay or reimbursement, to help the citizens of Avon Park secure justice and economy and a fair deal and want all tax payers treated alike.

The two new Councilmen recently elected didn't have a Chinamans Chance. The new men did their best! "Believe me". But they might as well have gone fishing, as the wood was cut and stacked with no hope of a change in any way. You do not have five councilmen, in reality, you only have three.

Do they hate the Tax Payers League so much that they will destroy all their worth as your representatives. In order to defeat them? Do we have a group that intends to rule or ruin? Of course it all boils down to the Tax Payers bearing the brunt of it all.

Think of this for a moment "Please". They passed a law that no one could do business with the city, if they owed the city money. One Council man pointed out a fine lady whom I know personally and a widow, and said you owe the city money for back taxes and until you pay, you can not have any more of the City Insurance.

By the same token the mayor and one councilmen had been delinquent in their property tax. Can they do these kind of things legally? Pick one out of the many who owe the city money, not only in Property tax, but rent and other ways. And yet be employed by the city? I think the citizens have their selves to blame for not looking into our city affairs long ago. Believe me if the Public could check the Delinquent Tax list with out a Court Order, they would really open up their eyes, At Who, How Many, and how much, is owed. This condemned Widow spoke right up and said when I am treated as others were in paying their tax, she would also pay.

If the Tax Payers League is wrong, Why are so many reliable citizens joining the newly organized Tax Payers League? Thanks for your kindness for allowing me to have this letter printed.

Sincerely,
Johnny Stubbs

PROCLAMATION

Governor LeRoy Collins, himself a one-time State Chairman for the March Of Dimes, has proclaimed January "New March Of Dimes Month" in Florida.

The Governor in a Proclamation issued this week, said the expanded program of the National Foundation (formerly The National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis) "has opened a new offensive against the nation's major crippling diseases of birth defects, arthritis and polio."

Collins declared the expanded program, "developed through years of experience as a national voluntary health organization, provides a real hope for a solution to the causes of the three disease areas."

Little Ben Mills, Jr., a 21-month-old Tallahassee boy who was striken with paralytic Polio at eight months, received the Proclamation from Governor Collins.

The Chief Executive has continued his close personal interest in the fight against crippling since he served as State Chairman while a Florida Senator several years ago.

His Proclamation reads as follows:

WHEREAS, the National Foundation has opened a new offensive against the nation's major crippling diseases of birth defects, arthritis and polio, and

WHEREAS, more than a quarter of a million infants are born each year with serious defects, and

WHEREAS, arthritis cripples more persons than any other disease, and

WHEREAS, polio in 1959 continued to be a major health problem in the United States with twice as many paralytic cases during the year as in 1958, and

WHEREAS, millions of Americans are still unprotected by Salk Vaccine against this virulent crippler, and

WHEREAS, thousands of children are especially the defenseless victims of these vicious cripplers, and

WHEREAS, the National Foundation's expanded program, developed through years of experience as a voluntary health organization, provides a real hope for a solution to the causes of the three disease areas;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, LeRoy Collins, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Florida, do hereby proclaim January, 1960, as in Florida, and urge all citizens to give their services and support to this urgent need to prevent crippling diseases.

Boy Scout Troops 156 and 157 will be delivering the X-Ray Survey Schedules to all the homes in Avon Park on Saturday. Everyone over 16 years is urged to take note of the time, and plan to have their Chest X-Ray while the Mobile Unit is in Avon Park. Mrs. Helen Harris and Ollie P. Gentry are in charge of the workers who will assist in this program.

Local Group At Dorcas Welfare Meet In Arcadia

Pastor and Mrs. Kenneth A. Wright and several other members of the Walker Memorial Seventh-Day Adventist Church attended the bi-annual meeting of the District Dorcas Welfare Federation meeting last Wednesday in Arcadia.

The district includes Arcadia, Fort Meade, Ft. Meyers, Sebring, Walker Memorial, Wauchula and Winter Haven.

Elder Walter Mozart of the Florida conference home missionary department and H. S. Will of Atlanta, Georgia were the guest speakers, and gave inspirational talks and suggestions of more ways to help our fellowmen. Elder Mozart also played two violin solos for special music.

Elder W. W. Walker of Arcadia, pastor of the host church, offered prayer and made guests welcome. Mrs. Walker was hostess at the lovely picnic syle dinner served in the yard of the church.

There are five district in Florida and the reports of approximate work done shows: clothing giving $6,490; expanded for welfare work about $12,000; 243 food baskets given; 4,000 hours of Christian help work in care of sick, etc.; about 1700 persons helped; 106 bouquets given; 6 welfare centers open and about 1180 workers who volunteer their services. The later report of the actual active workers who attend meetings and keep the welfare centers open, but nearly every member in the conference contributes clothing, food or money to help in this work, which we believe Jesus referred to when he said "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren ye have done it unto

Florida Southern 75th Anniversary Set For March

Florida Southern College and the City of Lakeland have announced a combined 75th Anniversary celebration for March 14 through March 20.

Activities will include a parade, coronations, dances, exhibits, drama, arts and crafts displays, sports events and other activities.

There will be a Governor's luncheon attended by Gov. and Mrs. Leroy Collins. The Largest parade ever staged in Central Florida is being arranged. Dancing Waters, a 60 foot wide fountain played to music, internationally known for its beauty and color, will be featured also. A water carnival will provide a grand climax to the Jubilee Week at Lake Hollingsworth.

Next time you're talking "from the shoulder"—try a bit higher up.

World's Largest Orange Grove Being Planted

The world's largest orange grove is now being developed along the famed Indian River, where the Minute Maid Corp. is readying 6,400 acres of swamp land for citrus planting.

The company officials predict that the land being developed and now under from two to four feet of water will eventually produce about 1,800,000 boxes of citrus fruit when trees come into full bearing about 15 years from now.

The first planting of 80 acres will be completed this year and next year calls for the planting of an additional 2,500 acres. Development will continue until the entire 6,400 acres are in citrus.

In preparing the large tract for planting the company is digging 460 miles of wide ditches, six to eight feet deep, pumps capable of moving 250,000 gallons of water a minute will keep them dry. The property being developed is located 15 miles west of Ft. Pierce.

Covered Dish Is Set For Cub Scout Pack 156

A covered dish supper will be the feature of the monthly pack meeting of Cub Scout Pack No. 156 at the Florida Power Clubhouse, Thursday, October 29.

Florida Citrus Prospects Good

The coming season looks like a mighty good one for Florida's citrus industry. The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates the coming orange crop at 93 million boxes or an increase of about seven million boxes over last season.

The grapefruit crop was estimated at 32 million boxes or three and one-half million above last year.

General Manager Homer Hooks of the Florida Citrus Commission said the estimate "marks a full return to the production level reached prior to the freezes two years ago."

COLLINS CONCERNED — Gov. LeRoy Collins, after several months of sitting tight on the proposed reapportionment amendment, has decided to get out and plug for it on radio, television, and in the newspapers.

He made the announcement after conferring with Sen. Ed. Price, Bradenton, a strong backer of the amendment and one of Collins' Senate leaders.

Asked if the conference with Price indicated worry that the amendment was in trouble, Collins said he thought "concern" was a better word.

"We both feel that the opposition has by over-generalization given many people in this state the wrong view of the effect of this amendment, and that there is a great need for as effective a campaign as possible to give the people the facts so they can understand just where this additional representation goes in the state, and just how it improves the representation of people in areas of the state in the Legislature and the important need of this additional representation in order to carry on in the next session of the Legislature a program for general constitutional revision."

PLUG FOR PRICE — Collins, who has been pretty coy about his choice for governor in 1960, plugged Sen. Price as his choice for governor . . . in "1964".

ORCHARD VILLA—Florida's first attempt at integration at the grade school level apparently has come to an end.

The Dade County School Board has assigned 379 more Negroes to the school.

Four Negroes were admitted to the school last month in Florida's first experiment in public school race mixing. Only 14 white children were in the school because the district in which the school is located has changed to almost all-Negro.

Parents of white children in the school indicated they would seek transfers to all-white schools, and the school board indicated it would grant the requests.

JOHNSON SURE — Senate President Dewey Johnson, Quincy, after some politicking in Dade County said:

"I'm just about as sure as a person can get that I'll be in the race. If I wasn't sure yesterday, I am now."

Johnson said what he saw and heard in Dade County encouraged him and helped him make up his mind.

He said the people of Dade County want segregation of the white and Negro races just as much as the people in any of Florida's small counties.

SMATHERS IN? — U.S. Senator George Smathers is expected to announce his "favorite-son" candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination at Miami Oct. 16.

Smathers will be the speaker at the Allen Morris cracker politics legislative awards luncheon.

Among the guests will be Vice President Richard Nixon.

SPECIAL SESSION—Miami's Junior Chamber of Commerce has urged Gov. LeRoy Collins to call a special reapportionment session of the Legislature to deal with reapportionment if the proposed amendment fails.

The odds are against Collins calling such a session if it fails.

Although the Constitution requires that the Governor call the legislature into session to accomplish reapportionment, Collins probably would be against such a move because it would provide a way to revive radical racial legislation.

Senator Spessard Holland

Legislative Record of Senator George A. Smathers for the 1st Session 86th Congress.

(Prepared by the Legislative Staff of Senator Smathers)

Committee Assignments:

Standing --

Committee on Finance

Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce

Select --

Select Committee on Small Business

Subcommittees --

Committee on Finance has no Subcommittees

Interstate and Foreign Commerce:

Chairman, Surface Transportation Subcommittee

Member, Aviation Subcommittee

Chairman, Subcommittee for Latin America, of Special Subcommittee on Foreign Commerce

Select Committee on Small Business:

Chairman, Subcommittee on Government Procurement

In addition to these Committee assignments, Senator Smathers is also Chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee.

The First Session of the 86th Congress came to a close after establishing a record of accomplishment in which the American people can take just pride. Its legislative record, guided by the concept of national interest, is a constructive and responsible one. It is a record responsive to the demands of the electorate.

The following is a brief resume of the major legislative highlights which received the support of Senator George A. Smathers:

TAXES AND FINANCE

Corporate and Excise Taxes

The Congress extended to July 1, 1960 the present 52 percent corporate income tax rate and certain excise tax rates. At the same time it reduced from 10 percent to 5 percent the excise tax on the transportation of persons, effective July 1, 1960, and repealed the 10 percent excise tax on local telephone service, effective as of the same date. The reduction in the tax on the transportation of persons was the result of Senator Smathers' efforts to bring about a complete repeal of this tax.

Permanent Insurance Tax Law

Enacted a permanent and more realistic formula for the taxation of life insurance companies which imposed a tax on under-writing profits and a higher tax on investment income. Heretofore gains from operations were not subject to tax. This legislation increases the tax on the insurance industry this year by $181 million. This year the industry will pay revenues to the Treasury of approximately $500 million, compared to $319 million payable under the temporary stopgap law which has been in existence since 1942. By the adoption of this permanent formula of taxation, it rids the insurance industry of uncertainty that previously existed in the tax structure.

Debt Limit

Raised the permanent debt limit from $283 billion to $285 billion and, at the same time, provided a temporary increase of $10 billion for the fiscal year 1960. Thus, until June 30, 1960, the debt limit will be $295 billion.

Increased Interest Rate on U. S. Savings Bonds

Increased from 3.26 per cent to 4¼ per cent the limitation on interest rates for Series E and H Savings Bonds, both new and outstanding, held to maturity. A one-half of one per cent increase, and any increase thereafter up to 4¼ per cent will go into effect when it is determined to be in the national interest. There are some $43 billion of these savings bonds in the hands of our people today, and the legislation provides an incentive to purchase these bonds as security for the future and at the same time give our people a feeling of participating effectively in the reduction of the national debt.

Prohibition of State Income Tax on Interstate Commerce

Enacted legislation prohibiting a State from levying a tax on the net income of a foreign corporation if its activities are limited to the solicitation of orders within the State, and which are filled from outside the State. The exemption under this legislation would not apply to persons domiciled in or a resident of the State, nor to any corporation incorporated under the laws of the State. Its objective is to prevent States from imposing an undue burden on interstate commerce and, in this respect, is helpful to many small businesses located throughout the nation.

Alcoholic Center Former Patients Elect Officers

In spite of hurricane warnings and heavy rain more than 150 persons gathered at the Center of the Florida Alcoholic Program here Sunday for the Center's first reunion of former patients.

During the day an association of former patients was formed. Officers, including president, vice president, recording secretary, corresponding secretary and treasurer were elected.

The officers, as an executive committee, will meet with the program's Advisory Council November 20, to discuss plans for the organization. A total of $109 was subscribed to carry on activity of the new organization.

In his opening remarks the temporary chairman said, "Your presence here on a day like this is a definte proclamation that you are, proud of the Florida ARP and that you want to organize an alumni association."

A picnic dinner, prepared by the Center's kitchen staff and served by a committee of present patients, was a highlight of the day. Following the organization meeting, refreshments of fruit juice and cookies were served.

The day's visitors represented 20 counties, from Baker in the north to Dade in the south part of the state.

A record of 79,910,670 gallons of frozen orange concentrate was produced by members of the Florida Canners Association during 1958-59.

"HOW TO LIVE LIFE"

By: ALLAN R. STUART

This past Sunday was Laymen's Day in our church, as it was in the churches of several denominations. Mr. Hushang Bahar, our church Lay Leader brought the morning and evening lay messages. His morning message was concerned with a "Christian's Personal Inventory," and his thoughts centered around the idea that even as a merchant will take inventory at least once a year, a Christian should do the same. In a Christian's inventory he will find that there are some items that should be discontinued, or discarded; there are other items that are nothing but poor substitutes for the real thing; and that there are some items that are truly worth keeping on the shelf.

He emphasized that the Christian's "working capital" is faith, and that without faith, your life is a "lousy mess." Yes, that's what he said -- a "lousy mess!" Have you ever thought of your life like that? Better take inventory, my friend . . . and you'd better add up your remaining capital funds!

Speaking of substitutes, I am reminded of one of those little signs you many times see posted in stores: "We don't care what our competitor is selling it for; he alone knows what his product is worth." Just what is your brand of religion worth? Are you selling yourself too cheaply?

As a postlude to Mr. Bahar's thinking, I have taken this opportunity to bring his message to the entire community. Why don't YOU take stock of your assets? What can you easily discard? What about those substitutes? What have you got that is really worth keeping? With a good working capital in FAITH, you can replenish your life with worth while products. Why not take inventory now?

Elder Schmidt Visits Walker Memorial Church

Recent guests at the Walker Memorial Seventh-day Adventist church were Elder and Mrs. H. D. Schmidt. Elder Schmidt, who is President of the Florida Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, spoke at the 11:00 o'clock sermon Sabbath morning on "Jesus Stilling Life's Storms." He also sang a special song accompanied by Mrs. Schmidt at the organ.

Before coming to Orlando, Elder Schmidt was the pastor of the Miami Seventh-day Adventist Temple Church. A graduate of Lincoln College, Nebraska, he has been evangelist in several churches in Minnesota, Missouri and Illinois. The Schmidts have three children, all in Southern Missionary College in College-

Methodists Set Five Commission Groups Meeting

Four of our five Commissions in First Methodist Church will meet next week, reports the Minister, The Rev. Allan R. Stuart. The Commission System in the Methodist Church is the means whereby all of the integrated work in the church is emphasized and particularized. Each Commission embraces a certain area of concern, although the whole is integrated within the official board.

The Commission on missions, with Mrs. Hubert Bussard as chairman, will meet Sunday afternoon, October 25, at 5:00 p. m., in the Pastor's Study.

The Commission on Stewardship and Finance, under the leadership of Reason Shivers, will meet in the J. O. Y. classroom, Monday, the 26th, at 7:00 p. m. The Commission on Membership and Evangelism, led by Jerome Shiltz, will meet in the J. O. Y. classroom immediately following the stewardship meeting, at 8:00 p. m.

The Commission on Education, with chairman Earl Rich, will meet in the J. O. Y. classroom Tuesday evening, October 27th, at 7:00 p. m. All teachers and associate teachers are requested to attend, also.

The official board, including all trustees, elective stewards, and ex-officio stewards, will meet in the lounge Wednesday, October 28th, at 8:00 p. m., with George Kelsey directing the business. "Every member of the church is invited to the official board meeting," announces Rev. Stuart. "For this is never a closed meeting. Furthermore, every church member should be interested enough in the business of the church to attend."

Ohio Visitors Guests Of Elder And Mrs. Wright

Elder and Mrs. Kenneth A. Wright of Lake Lillian, have had for their house guests recently Mrs. Elsie Bauer, of Lauderdale-by-the-Sea, and her sister, Mrs. Wellington Nicola from Worthington, Ohio.

Last week little Miss Judy Lorraine Wright spent the week with her grandparents. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Wright, Jimmy and Jeanie joined her for the weekend. Mr. Wright, a graduate of Southern Missionary College, is one of the Bible teachers at Forest Lake Academy in Maitland, Florida. It was Elder Wright's privilege, as President of Southern Missionary College, to present his son with his college diploma. Elder Herman Ray was in the same class.

Mr. Burton Wright gave the sundown vesper message at the Walker Memorial Church and sang a special number "To See Thy Face."

NEW HOPE for victims of Polio, Birth Defects and Arthritis is offered through the National Foundation's expanded program of research and patient care in the field of crippling diseases which rolls into high gear in January. Here little Ben Mills, Jr., of Tallahassee, a 21-month old paralytic Polio victim, is seen with Florida Governor LeRoy Collins as the Governor completes action on a proclamation which names January, 1960 as NEW MARCH OF DIMES MONTH. The little tyke wears leg and back braces. He was stricken at eight months.

Suwannee River Academy Sets Dedication Sun.

A new kind of research center pioneering in the field of preventive psychology will be formally introduced to the public when Suwannee River Research Academy in Gilchrist County on the Suwannee dedicates The Marion Cottage, first office and staff building, and the Utility-Workshop Building, Sunday afternoon, October 25, at three o'clock. State Senator Doyle E. Carlton, Jr., of Wauchula, long-time friend and contributor, will be the dedication speaker. At the same time ground will be broken for the Functional Building for case conferences, group therapy and educational activities. Mr. Gordon Granger of Lake City, Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commissioner, also a friend and contributor since the grounds were acquired in 1953, will turn the first shovelful of earth. Rev. Thurman Lamberth of Byron, Georgia, will give the Invocation. Representative Howell Lancaster of Gilcrhrist County will speak briefly and other guests of honor will be recognized.

Mrs. Carl E. Shifflette, research psychologist, President and Chairman of the Board of the Institution, will act as master of ceremonies for the outdoor program. Her leaflet on Preventive Psychology has been widely distributed. Her many friends in this area will remember her as the former Dr. Margaret Liuba.

Suwannee River Research Academy is a non-profit scientific, educational and religious institution. Long before the buildings were started on the fifty-eight acres of riverfront property on the Suwannee, when there was no road, electricity or water, psychological research was carriied on by Mrs. Shifflette with actual cases in home and other environments from Florida to Virginia. Anyone may seek help with various kinds of personal problems: marriage, child, teen, alcoholic and other emotion and educational problems. There is no charge for any of the work. Each case studied is a contribution to research in this field. It is not a clinic but a facility for informal study, without embarrasment, of the smallest or the largest kind of personal problem. The mail address is Bell, the telephone address, Branford.

"We are trying," says Mrs. Shifflette, "to 'lock the stable door' before the horse is stolen. Millions are spent on locking it afterwards - many times too late. The long-range aim is to educate people to an awareness of the need for prevention in the emotional realm, and to develop educational material as psychological 'tools' for maintaining better emotional balance."

Mrs. Shifflette is assisted by two part-time research associates, Mrs. E. O. Eastwood, III, of Atlanta, and Miss Dorothy Koch, of Richmond, consultant on juvenile problems.

Sgt. Carl E. Shifflette, U. S. Army Reserve, a director and Vice President and Treasurer, has been contributing his time as Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings since his return from active duty last December. Directors, officers and staff have given their services and have also contributed financially. The institution is supported by donations and the first two buildings have been constructed almost entirely with donated materials, supplies and equipment.

UNICEF Start Makes Story Of Interest

UNICEF's symbol of a child drinking a cup of milk is known literally around the world.

It was originally the word for United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund that was first formed to take over the job of providing the children of war-torn Europe and of Palastine with supplementary food, largely milk. By early 1950 it was clear that the "emergency" was a permanent, or at any rate, a very long term one.

Hunger is not the passing result of disaster, but a chronic condition in many areas of the world.

Hence at the request of the General Assembly, UNICEF began to direct its attention more and more to the chronically hungry areas of the world. The name is shortened to United Nations Children's Fund, but the famous initials UNICEF continues to be used; helping to provide medicines, milk and education in over 100 countries and territories around the world.

American Young People can share by joining the teams who go out on Halloween Night to collect for UNICEF's Trick or Treat.

Clement A. McFarland of Avon Park is one of a group of ROTC cadets at Stetson University being assigned as platoon sergeants with that grade.
