

By BILL PINNEY

I've often been asked by other lars why I never wrote a column on fishing. More people have asked why I ever wrote a column, but those I'll ignore.

I have never written a fishing column because, angler extraordinaire that I am, I am a man with a conscience. I know more'n a dozen fellows who made their living living around fishing camps and in newspapers, not one with a conscience.

During the past 25 years I've fished with some of those fellows. And believe me, there was a long difference between what we caught out of the creek and our catch in the column.

Most fishing columns are pretty decent angles. But when plugs, bugs and other bait fall they are prone to pround out the legal limit on their trusty type-writers.

I've refrained so far, but I guess I could land as many as a big fish with my mispelling machine as any of 'em who ever pounded out a pictorial piece for a paper. But, like most columnists, I like to write about things I know nothing about.

Motorists Urged To Be Careful Near Schools

Parents and friends driving on Lake Avenue to pick up school children are urged to observe the 10 miles per hour speed limit for the safety of children.

Traffic is heavy on that street, especially on rainy days and danger to students is ever present. Officials point out that motorists should be especially careful during school bus loading and unloading at the corner of Lake and Camphor.

AP Rotary Club Has Chest X-Rays For Its Program

Interest High In Election Here November 3

With three important issues facing voters in the November 3 election a fairly representative number of ballots is predicted, especially in Avon Park.

City Officials Commended For Sanitary Work

Mayor E. A. Delaney, Sr., and the city council have received a letter of commendation from the county sanitarian Bill Power on the work being done in the colored quarter section of the city to eliminate health hazards for the entire community, caused by standing water in that area.

Mr. Power pointed out that Doctor Hill and members of the Health Department were especially pleased with the filling of the area at First Street and Caroline Avenue which goes long way toward correcting a condition of long standing, and the draining of the Lacy Hill section, which they note will prevent the possibility of a typhoid epidemic and make for improved living conditions.

The first quarter proved to be strictly defensive play with neither team scoring or offering that time.

Merchants participating in the big bargain festival have promised shoppers the lowest prices and highest quality merchandise ever offered in south central Florida during the big annual Shoppportunity Days, giving substance to the general public slogan, "Shop In Avon Park."

"Be Sure To Ask For Tickets," merchants say.

Highlands County's Rapid Growth Reflected In Tax Assessor's Need For Additional Office Personnel

The rapid development throughout Highlands County can be seen in the increased work load in all county offices, with special emphasis on the office of the tax assessor.

Assessor P. G. Gearing has increased his work force with the addition of J. W. "Billy" Martin of Avon Park, bringing his regular staff to six, including himself. At the time of taking office in 1957, Gearing had one assistant.

The addition of clerical equipment in 1958 has made it possible to do the increased work without overwork more in his force, he said.

Gearing points out that in 1957 the gross valuation was slightly over three and a half million, while today it exceeds $40,000,000, with not a cent decrease. The tax roll that year showed 4,232 taxpayers, while today there are more than 12,000 on the roll.

The sixty new subdivisions in the county, with a total of 20,000 acres, has increased the work load many times. There are about 40,000 combined hotel places

Tallahassee—Gov. LeRoy Collins apparently has decided that the only way to sell the new reapportionment formula to the big counties is to talk tough.

In a speech in Asheville, N. C., at the Southern Governors' Conference, Collins marshaled the "pork chop gang," ambitious politicians, and big business interests—all of whom he said were benefiting from the plan.

It's an interesting approach. Basically, Collins is using the same arguments as opponents to the proposed reapportionment formula—but is reaching a different conclusion.

Both Collins and some opponents of the plan are knocking the pork chop gang.

Some opponents say the plan will put the pork chop gang in the drivers seat forever.

Collins says the plan will provide needed reinforcements in the long-range fight for more representation for larger areas.

So what happens after the election Nov. 3?

Whether the plan passes or fails, reapportionment is still an issue.

If the plan passes: * Small county legislators who supported the plan will have to keep their present control in the Legislature or improve it—or face the wrath of the people back home, who are being assured it won't hurt the small county control.

Big county legislators who supported the plan will have to

Avon Park Sun

Dear Editor:

In the public interest, I would appreciate it very much if you would print this letter in your Mail Bag. I hear Tax Payers League has been named for me being a Candidate for Mayor in the recent election. This rumor is false and with out foundation. No one promoted or endorsed me, as I know I would of been elected. I would consider it an honor to be endorsed by them, as I think they are the finest group of citizens I have ever heard of. I have my self to blame as I didn't make known my qualifications. Some say I can't read or write, which is untrue, as I keep my books and others also. I was deputy sheriff in Polk County and also Railroad deputy. One thing I do know, I am honest and truthful.

I feel very happy and grateful to the folks that made my 384 vote possible. The Election is over and I congratulate my opponent and hope he will be fair in all his dealings with the public, and our citizens will be proud to call him our Mayor.

There is one thing I can't understand, why are some people knocking the members of the tax payers league so much? Other city's and states have the same organizations and they work and assist them in every way. One thing the Tax Payers League has done, it has taken the rabbit out of our citizens and put back home in their spines. This fine group of citizens are property owners from all parts of our city. They have been refused all kinds of any kind at the City Hall, and refused the public records. (Why?) After all have the officials forgot these people help pay the salaries of these folks, also those records belong to the Tax Payers and the public. I believe if some folks will check the old records of 1925 to 1927 they will find there was two factors in this at that time.

I think this a fine city and made up of fine people and I think personally the Tax Payers League was one of the best organizations our City has ever had or will have.

Yours truly,
Lucy R. Bennett

An Open Letter To The Avon Park Sun From The Woman's Club

Dear Editor:

Since the Woman's Club has been receiving complaints of late regarding certain conditions in Avon Park, which the complainants and we of the Woman's Club feel should be corrected, we are calling them to the attention of the citizens of Avon Park. These conditions are:

1. The condition of garbage containers and handling of same. Ordinance specifies that garbage should be placed at the curb for collection in securely covered containers, and removed immediately after collection. Complaint is made that containers are not covered in many cases, or that they are left in the street, causing upsets and garbage scattered. Containers are then left at the curb in an unsightly condition on our streets.

2. Dogs are allowed to run on the streets of the city. This is not only a nuisance, but a menace as not all dogs have been inoculated against rabies. Also, children play in it after school, on Sundays and at night. This unsafe building is no place for children. We need to do all in our power to prevent juvenile delinquency.

We therefore, ask the citizens of Avon Park to get behind the authorities and help them clean up the garbage which are a credit to our city. We believe that our people are proud of their town. Let's keep it worthy of that pride.

Franklin Wards' Attend National Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Ward of Avon Park were Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children representatives at the four day annual convention of the National Association held at the Netherland Hilton Hotel in Cincinnati, Ohio.

New projects and proposals for training and education of the mentally retarded that would have been considered impossible at the time of the Association's first meeting in 1950 were presented and studied at great length.

Much attention is being given to programs for permitting more of the nation's 5,000,000 mentally retarded children and adults to live in the community and earn all or part of their own living.

The work of the Ridge Area Day School here is regarded as an outstanding example of the fine work being done in this field.

You are what you think you are.

CRACKER POLITICS

By ALLEN MORRIS

Tallahassee—Insiders of the Dan McCarty gubernatorial campaign of 1948 and 1952 occasionally wished their candidate was instead his youngest brother.

But that must Dan's first acquaintance was reserved, almost stiff, somewhat inflexible, when John was outgoing, friendly, able to adjust to circumstances in a day, a debate. Dan would form deliberate judgments and then become rigid; John would hear people out and be open to persuasion.

Actually, the brothers McCarty—Dan, Brian and John—were a team, with each contributing his special talent to the solution of family problems as these arose in their groves or ranch or politics.

In a strong such as the Blue Key smoker at the University of Florida homecoming, the brothers McCarty would circulate as a unit with John the head of the crowd, his brother's handshake and excellent memory would set up the situation for Dan to say a few words before Brian closed out the episode with assurance of how nice it had been to see that person again.

After the death of Governor McCarty in 1954, his brother John came to the Capitol press room with the announcement there would be a McCarty candidate in the next year's special election to finish out Dan's term.

It was assumed John would be that candidate. He certainly thought so, for he began to assemble the tools of a campaign: letterheads, headquarters, an automobile, money, but in the end he stepped aside for his brother's ally, Senator LeRoy Collins.

In turning over to Collins the reins of political warfare which he had gathered, John McCarty did so not alone because of the opposition of Collins and others that the Tallahassee lawmaker would be the better candidate.

John's decision was influenced as much by the feeling of members of the McCarty family that the family name should be in six years—a revolution intended by the code of Governor McCarty's seventh-month illness and untimely death.

During that period, incidentally, coming in the nature of a career engaged on the McCarty administration.

While John sat at the Capitol as Dan's deputy, and took the briefing which necessarily goes with the first months of a gubernatorial administration, he had the private comfort of Campbell Thorne of Orlando, now Justice of the Supreme court, and of Senator Collins and his law partner, former Senator Charles S. Ausley.

It is quite possible that John, by standing aside then for Collins, missed forever the high risk of McCartyism in the state.

Certainly the emotionalism has passed, compounded as it was both of esteem for Dan McCarty and of disappointment of some with the administrations of Fuller Warren, who had defeated Dan in '48, and of Charles E. LeRoy Collins for the same reason that stirred people against Warren and John.

There are other changes. The men and women who aggressively supported Dan McCarty have grown older, and in many the case for campaigning has ebbed away. Tens of thousands of new voters do not even know the name although in that respect John McCarty is no worse off than any of the other candidates.

John McCarty is knowledgeable politically but already he has been forced by circumstances

Alcolines

By CHARLEY STOEKEY

Hasn't a drug been developed to help a person quit drinking? That question is frequently asked by alcoholics and members of their families who are eager for something to help them gain control over their drinking.

The answer is "yes" and "no." The drug is called "antabus" but it cannot be used as a cure for alcoholism. It is merely an aid in treatment.

In addition to the $20,878,792 of projects already under way in the state during September, according to a monthly progress report issued today by Joe Grotgert, Chairman of the State Road Board.

In addition to the $20,878,792 of projects already under way in the state during September, according to a monthly progress report issued today by Joe Grotgert, Chairman of the State Road Board.

Temporarily, "antabus" can keep a person from drinking but it will not help him deal with the tensions which will inevitably arise when he is in situations which formerly caused him to drink.

For this reason Dr. Fox and others who treat alcoholics recommend psychotherapy in conjunction with "antabus" treatment. "Antabus" can give sobriety; psychotherapy can give self-understanding," she said. "Thus we believe that with a real desire to give up drinking and find a more satisfactory way of living, the excessive drinker will find a solution to his problem in these two forms of treatment."

Occasionally, patients at the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center, Avon Park, are given a supply of "antabus" upon discharge with instructions to their physician as to its use. This is done only when the clinical director feels it is needed after carefully observing the patient's reaction to treatment during the four-week stay at the Center.

He didn't know it could be done—so he did it.

Battle Against Tuberculosis

The fight against tuberculosis in the United States is conducted by many groups, such as the U. S. Public Health Service; state and local health departments; national, state and local tuberculosis associations; the medical and nursing professions; hospitals; social service agencies; and vocational rehabilitation agencies.

The National Tuberculosis Association, organized in 1904, was the first voluntary organization formed by doctors and laymen to work together against a specific disease. Today it has constituent associations in every state and territory. Affiliated with these are associations organized on a county or city basis. Altogether there are 2,700 voluntary tuberculosis associations joined in a common cause covering every state, the District of Columbia, Canal Zone, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. Their registered trademark is the red diamond cross.

The annual Christmas Seal Campaign supports the work of the tuberculosis associations. Of the money raised each year in local communities, 94 per cent remains within the state and 6 per cent is allocated to the National organization. Christmas Seal funds are used primarily for preventive programs of health education, case finding, rehabilitation, and research.

Ruth Fox, Medical Director, National Tuberculosis Association, describes "antabus" as a chemical compound discovered in Denmark. It is a small white tablet, taken by mouth, which renders a person so sensitive to alcohol that he cannot drink without becoming ill. The reaction consists of nausea, sense of fear, nausea and vomiting.

She says "antabus" can be taken by anyone who has a problem with alcohol, provided he is in a good state of physical health. She says further that it should be taken only by a person with a drinking problem which has not been brought under control by any other means.

Temporarily, "antabus" can keep a person from drinking but it will not help him deal with the tensions which will inevitably arise when he is in situations which formerly caused him to drink.

For this reason Dr. Fox and others who treat alcoholics recommend psychotherapy in conjunction with "antabus" treatment. Barbara Miller Honored At Birthday Party
Pumpkinland was the theme of Barbara Lee Miller's sixth birthday party on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 17.

The young ladies and gentlemen entered the Miller home through a huge orange pumpkin and were delighted with the decorations of huge pumpkins, orange streamers and balloons. Each guest then made a pumpkin hat for his own head and the fun began.

There were many games with a prize for the lucky child who placed the mouth on the pumpkin. The children played musical pumpkins, three clothe-pins in a cardboard pumpkin, and took part in other games with pumpkins featured.

A large pumpkin birthday cake delighted the guests and Barbara and everyone enjoyed eating it with ice cream and orange drink. While Barbara opened her many lovely birthday gifts the guests were given favors of notepaper from a huge pumpkin fish pond. During the afternoon they also made pumpkins with balloons to take home as favors.

Helping Barbara celebrate were Patti Turnbull, Beverly Wicker, Rickie Rich, Clay Fields, Chantel Doid, Sue Skipper, Winifred Davis, Freddie Jahna, Claire Lanier, Maria Moseley, Laura Carr, Patti Locke of Homestead, Wendy Bowers of Sebring, and her sister, Patti Miller. Don't put up with mite killers that have slow initial kill or that require frequent applications. Switch to KETHANE, the longer-lasting miticide. KETHANE is not a phosphate—is safe to use. No extraordinary precautions are necessary when used as directed.

KELTHANE quickly kills most of the troublesome mite species, including "resistant" strains. KETHANE is excellent for an immediate mite clean-up. Its long-lasting action prevents the development of mite populations by migrants or newly hatched colonies. Long-lasting residual activity also means fewer applications per season... more dollars saved. KETHANE will help you harvest more perfect-finish fruit. It is compatible with most citrus pesticides and harmless to beneficial insects. See your dealer today for KETHANE.

Know why you're not using a phone like this?

Very few telephones wear out. They're retired when better ones can be placed in service.

Better and more attractive instruments, more efficient central office equipment to speed your calls such as Direct Distance Dialing, expansion of service to let you get in touch with more people by telephone—these things are constantly being provided for you by the Inter-County Telephone System.

Of course, constant improvement and expansion take money which your telephone bill doesn't begin to cover. It takes the investing public to put their savings in telephone securities for which they expect a fair return for the use of their money. Only a healthy telephone system operating at a profit with fair rates can provide that return.

Profit is a small part of the money you pay for telephone service but it assures the continuance of this important utility for you. Only when payment is adequate can you count on getting the greatest value for your money.

that group, as he has been for three terms. The only constant for the school board is in Avon Park as the law requires that only one from a District can be elected. The other two candidates are from other districts in the county and there are three to be elected. $500 freeholders are registered eligible voters for this election and with the interest being generated it is anticipated that a goodly number will take time to exercise their franchise November 3-4, privilege that many men had fought and died to preserve for the American people.

Winter Guest Club News

Ho for the month of October, when Nature is quiet and sober, when still is the wind like one who has stood, repeated and so become nobler. The tourists are now coming down to vacate in little time to spend every day in some kind of play, and so get their skin tanned brown. That goes for October also November, likewise the next month, chilly December.

Texas to October, the 19th day, that 26 people assembled to play the game of penicill and also some just for fun, you know, and not a filthy racket. But who was what the note didn't say, so the little news we have for that day. If people want to play in the press, please tell the whole story, not leave us to guess.

Of the 21st day we've a bit more to say. Then sixteen people, while time away assembled to chat and also to play the good game of bridge. You ask who won? Just listen: "was J. E. Lunding. And close behind him, Mrs. Perry with her score card. And what was the score? The note didn't say, and that after all is perhaps just as well.
"Hear the mellow wedding bells! What a world of happiness! Mrs. Perry with her score card. As all schoolchildren know, the poet Edgar Allan Poe, and we are moved to quote it thus: because good news just came to us. William, he, and Dorothy were joined in holy matrimony. Now the two have begun to live as one, and we wish them both felicity, long life together in sunny weather.
We think there can be no dispute about last Wednesday's tournament. The crowd was here all set to play and so round out another day. And play began with might and main when, in a flash, down came the rain. No tournament played that night, instead they all went home and so to bed. On Saturday night I was about the same, the rain came down to spoil the game. And so about that lusty sport we were mighty little to report.
Now let us set off this dog.

Racing Funds To Be Distributed

The first distribution of racing taxes collected by the State will be made to the counties on November 3, 1959. These funds are being distributed two months earlier than in the past because of financial difficulties now being experienced by some of the smaller counties.

Bombing Range United Funds Help Community

Detachment No. 1, Headquarters Squadron, stationed at the Avon Park Bombing Range, through the Air Force United Fund Drive, has donated $140 to local welfare functions. This sum does not include previous contributions of $46 to the Avon Park Boarded Children's School, and $16.79 at another time to the same group.
The money was sent to Mayor E. A. DeLaney, Sr., with $7 designated to the Red Cross, $14 to the Boarded Children's School, $5 to the TB Association, $12.50 to the Salvation Army, and $10.50 for the mayor to disburse as and where needed most.
Mayor DeLaney stated that he would handle the distribution of this money where he thinks it most needed and will publish in this newspaper a report of where it was spent.

The troops stationed at the Bombing Range are considered among the first to report when a need arises, and are considered an important part of the life of the community. Major John P. Dodd, commanding officer, told the mayor that the entire personnel is happy to be stationed at Avon Park and hopes that at this time. Accordingly, my staff has been instructed to make this racing distribution at the earliest date which would not conflict with the statutes.

Avon Park, Florida
Dear Sirs:
While acting as referee for Avon Park-Frostproof last week I lost my driver's license and house keys. They were turned in to the police department by one of your younger citizens and in turn one of the members of the fire department, whom I cannot identify, took the time to inform me they had been found. He then was generous enough to take my effort and time to mail them to me.
I certainly appreciate his effort and the congenial manner in which he represents the City of Avon Park.

Wide Open Race—Secretary of State R. A. Gray's decision to step down after his present term makes the 1960 state election contests among the most wide-open in the state's history.

Florida voters will be assured of getting a choice between at least three new faces to state-wide office—governor, secretary of state, and commissioner of agriculture.

Gray in stepping down joins Agriculture Commissioner Nathan Mayo. Between them, they have 76 years of experience on the Cabinet—longer than any other men in the state's history.

The reason for Gray's decision was his health.

In announcing he would retire at the end of his present term, Gray said he had been advised by his physician that he should not undertake another campaign.

Gray also disclosed for the first time that he has had a heart ailment for the last two years.

Possible Candidates — Among the possible candidates for Gray's post are about eight men—may-be move.

Edward G. Hornsby, Tallahassee printing salesman who has been in 1956, already has been announced he would run again.

Other possibilities are: Sen. Tom Adams of Orange Park; Rep. John Shipp, Marianna; Polk County Tax Collector Ray Clements, Hillsborough County; Sheriff Ed Blackburn; Former Tax Commissioner E. V. Fisher of Tallahassee; Railroad Commissioner Alan Boyd of Miami; and John L. McMullen of Live Oak.

Of this group, the most potent candidate would be Adams.

His hunting and business-like approach to government reform has put him in the spotlight during his short-but productive Senate career.

Adams, contacted about the possibility of his candidacy, said:

"I should like very much to serve the people of Florida as a member of their Cabinet."

"For the past several weeks I have been giving serious consideration to running for Governor of State. My decision has been made much easier by the withdrawal of Mr. Gray. I am sure service demands the respect of us all."

"I should say many friends about the state continue to offer

Challenging jobs in many career fields; good salary and other financial benefits; opportunities for worldwide travel; fine social activities; a position of prestige; a distinctive wardrobe and executive training for college juniors.

These are the subjects Captain Catherine H. Coll, WAC Officer Procurement Officer from Third U. S. Army Headquarters, Atlanta, Georgia, will have complete and detailed information on when she visits Lakeland, Florida on November 5, 1959, during the hours of 8:00 and 12:00 noon.

First Lieutenant Regina H. MacGregor, WAC Recruiting Officer for this area will accompany Captain Coll during her visit.

Captain Coll educated in the schools of our state is a former student at Florida Southern University and a 1947 graduate of Sileston University. Prior to her entry into the Women's Army Corps she was employed as a teacher in the Florida State Public Educational System.

She will offer information on the corps Direct Commission Program available to College Graduates and the College Junior Program which affords young ladies who are in their junior year to try out this executive career with pay during a 4-week summer orientation program held at Fort McClellan, Alabama.

Through the direct commission program qualified women are trained to fill one of the countless assignments in varied fields. These fields include Intelligence; Logistics; Special Services; Civil Affairs; Military Government; Public Information and Information and Education among others.

The 20-week course is conducted at the seven million dollar WAC training center at Fort McClellan, Alabama. To be acceptable for this program applicants must be between the ages of 20 thru 35, in good physical condition, and meet with the moral and mental requirements of the service.

Interested persons who would like to obtain more detailed information about the revolutionary new WAC Officers procurement program are urged to contact Captain Coll and Lt. MacGregor when they visit Lakeland, Florida on November 5, 1959, at Post Office Building, Lakeland or call for appointment at MUtel 2-6712.

rate was 37.675 and in 1959, 37.75. He points out that unlike some other counties there has been no change for 100 per cent valuation. He feels this is due to the fact that the valuation system used here provides the necessary tax dollars to operate the county.

Highlands County is one of the most prosperous and progressive in the state," Gearing said, "we have three progressive and rapidly expanding towns, diversified economy, $180,000,000 railroad valuations, a large power plant, nearly 30,000 acres of citrus groves, more than 600,000 acres of pasture land, large commercial bulk and flower farms, five large dairy farms who find the tax load much lighter than in East Coast counties, at least 60 lakes in the county around each of which houses are going up." He also pointed out that Highway 27 has been a tremendous help in increasing the valuation due to building of motels and other businesses. "And this will increase even more," he said.

The first installment was a book itself, and certainly Belser wouldn't have wasted his time drawing up the platform if he weren't going to run.

Apportionment — Campaigning for and against the proposed reapportionment formula which will be voted upon Nov. 3 comes from the Highlands County Clubhouse. Gov. LeRoy Collins fired some broadsides at the so-called "pork chop" plan in opening up his campaign.

This apparently is the only plan that could be sold in South Florida but it could put the skids to the plan in some of the smaller counties.

Revol Registration—A record total of more than 168,000 voters will be eligible to vote in the Nov. 3 special election on the reapportionment formula.

Almost one third of the total is in Dade, Broward, and Palm Beach counties where the opposition to the plan is the strongest.

The Clubhouse was decorated with many Halloween decorations giving the afternoon a scary ghost like air that excited young and old alike. In a fortune teller but on the porch a "real" fortune teller told everyone great things and was the hit of the afternoon.

The guests came in costume and so there were plenty of ghosts, witches and hobgoblins to make the afternoon exciting. Hot pers, handbags and all the trimmings were served for a delicious supper and the live-crowd was accompanied by a band.

meal. Mrs. Robert Harden was general chairman for the fun.

Candy Redford won the door prize and Bonnie Fletcher guessed the correct number of apples in a large box for another prize. Several games were played with all taking part and enjoying themselves.

will be served during the day and all residents of this area are invited to stop and see this outstanding collection of books of all types.

The books will be for sale and the Senior High School PTA which sponsors the Fair hopes that local residents shopping for that perfect Christmas gift will make a special point to look at the display.

The first Book Fair last year was very successful and all attending enjoyed it very much. This year's Fair will be even larger and all are urged to come and acquaint themselves with the books whether or not they wish to purchase any.

The high school students will take notices on the Book Fair home and parents attending may bring their notes to the fair and later there will be a drawing for a $5 prize for the boy or girl whose note is drawn.

Make plans now to pay a visit to the Book Fair.

Friends will be sorry to hear that former resident Mrs. L. M. Lagoni has been very ill at the Orange Memorial Hospital in Orlando. Mrs. Lagoni underwent surgery and is now doing better but still in the hospital there.

The letter commended the attitude and performance in correcting these conditions and expressed the hope that it will continue to be done under the small watershed act.

The Highlands SCD received application for assistance from the Butler Dairy. This Dairy will begin operation in a few months on 2800 acres of flat woods land along 9 mile grade in the south east portion of the county. Their long range Soil and Water Conservation Plans include establishing the entire acreage to improved pasture and developing a very detailed water control system for the area. Grocers Support Florida Orange Juice Promotion

A Florida citrus official today commended the nation's independent grocers, voluntary groups and cooperatives for their "splendid support" of a grant $3,300,000 Florida from orange juice promotion, sponsored by 25 producers of the product.

Frank D. Arm, director of advertising and merchandising for the Florida Citrus Commission and coordinator of the big juice promotion, said the country's independent grocers or those not affiliated with major food chains, "were deeply interested in the program and were giving it splendid support." The big campaign, which began in September and continues through November, features a hard-hitting advertising program coupled with educational campaigns through redemption campaigns in food marketing history. The first couponed off 12 cents on the purchase of four 6-ounce or two 12-ounce cans of any brand of Florida from the grocer's store while the second series of coupons are worth 20 cents if the grocer's store is returned for redemption.

Arm said the Commission to date had distributed over a half million pieces of display material to the independents, voluntary groups and cooperative grocers spread all over the country. The Commission is handling the mass distribution of display material for the juice producers.

The land has been purchased and is now the property of the people of the community, through the Association. Much of the anticipated labor is promised as donation by various skilled and unskilled workmen of the community. There is enough money on hand to begin actual construction, president, Mrs. John L. "HOW TO LIVE LIFE"

By ALLAN R. STUART

We are living in a day of "wonder drugs." As soon as you get a "sniffle" you load for the doctor's office and say, "How about blasting me with 50,000 units of Oramin, huh, Doc?" Better yet you go to the doctor for relief of a common cold, and he says, "We really don't know how to treat a cold, but have faith, it may turn into pneumonia and we know just how to treat that!"

Not only do we have wonder drugs, we also have "wonder machines." The modern kitchen is not complete without a home laundry, a dish-washer, an automatic potato peeler, a push-button stove, a pop-up toaster, and an electric mixer with 48 different speeds—from concrete to egg whites.

Now science has split the atom. I can remember when I was in high school the one impossible thing to do was to split an atom, for the atom was the smallest unit of a chemical element, and if it is smallest, what is smaller?

We now have an answer . . . a wonderful answer, yet a terrible answer. When speaking of the latest developments in atomic science, we say, "Isn't it wonderful when science can do I agree, for not only has nuclear science made great advancements. We have even constructed an entire man, with all the necessary protoplasm, but there science

J. B. Rhodes, Jr., airman, USN, son of Johnnie Rhodes of Avon Park, Fla., serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Essex in the Mediterranean which, on the night of Oct. 21, chalked up its 93,000th arrested plane landing.

The landing was made by a propeller-driven A-1 Skyhawk, piloted by Marine Attack Squadron 225 aboard the carrier. Essex is far and away ahead of other active duty carriers in landings but still remains 4,400 behind the all-time mark of 104,849 set by the old carrier USS Saratoga before it was sunk in a A-bomb test off Bikini.

State Of Citrus

By John Sikes

Lakeland—James C. Morton, who puts a wee touch of weather in the orange blossom by being a born Scot and vice president emeritus of Florida Citrus Mutual, is a rare person, it turns out.

He's a prophet with honor in his own country. In this case his country is now the Florida citrus belt—he lives in Auburndale and commutes daily to his work with Veterans' Groves—instead of his native Scotland.

Honors? Morton has been a Mutual director since the big growers' cooperative was formed, except for one year when illness slowed down his normal pace of high activity. He holds that "emeritus" title now not because he's less than usually active, but because of Mutual's by-laws which limit the number of terms a person may hold a regular office. He served his limit as just plain vice president.

Further, "Jim" Morton's voice continues, as far for many years, of the most respected in Florida's big citrus industry.

Prophet? A yellowed newspaper clipping just found in a forgotten file, with an artist from Citrus-Crisland, Jack Gurnett, tells the story of a barbecue in Winter Haven more than a decade ago. Some 400 growers were there; not just to eat barbecue, but drawn by the hope that their collective minds might find a way out of the poor state of Florida's citrus economy at the time.

That was in June of 1948. Here's what "Jim" Morton said to the gathered barbeque:

"It will be Mutual's big job to enlarge Florida's citrus markets so that the state's citrus products can be utilized at a price giving the grower cost of production and a reasonable profit."

He added, among other prophetic statements, that Mutual would stabilize prices, seek new markets for Florida citrus and try to increase exports.

Well, today—October, 1959—Mutual, which back there at the 1948 barbeque was in its organizational throes, has a membership of more than 10,000 Florida growers, testimony in numbers to the success of the possibilities Morton foresaw way back then.

When Jim Morton had his say back there in Winter Haven in June of 1948 Florida citrus, in just about all forms, was something of a drug on the market. (Thousands of acres of trees hung heavy with unsaleable oranges at the moment Morton was envisioning a hopeful future through the Mutual organization.)

Last year, just to give you a dollar and cents notion of how true Morton predicted, retail sales of Florida citrus and citrus products totalled $650,000,000.

Cancer Society To Organize Highlands Unit

The American Cancer Society will hold an organizational meeting in the commissioners room at the court house tonight (Thursday) at 8 p. m.

Officers will be elected at this meeting and an interesting film on cancer will be shown by Dick Forebecker, area supervisor for seven Florida counties. Mrs. John Seely will give a talk on cancer.

At the present time Highlands County has no American Cancer Society unit. People from various parts of the county have been invited to attend this meeting and to take an active part. Those from Avon Park receiving special invitations include Art Turner, George A. Keisley, James A. Heim, Carl Price, Robert E. Lee, Jim Turnbull, Leon Delaney, E. A. Martin, Jim White, Charles Metcalfe, Mrs. Mary Darden, Mrs. Jim Tomlinson, Mrs. Virgil Hall, Mrs. Theda Miraco, and Miss Mattie Tompkins.

Jacaranda Hotel News

Mrs. Barbara Weeks of Lewiston, N. Y., arrived Wednesday, Oct. 14, to spend the winter at the hotel.

Another guest arriving in the past few weeks for the winter season was Miss Jessie Bohrer of Stillwater, Okla. on Oct. 17.

Guests of the Jacaranda at the Friday night buffet supper recently were Mrs. Sam King and her mother, Mrs. B. F. Butler of Hollywood, Hugh Bahar and his daughter, Roxanna, and his cousin, Mrs. Ann Sadr who is visiting with her cousin and family. She is from Iran where her husband is prominent in the Department of Education and owns a large farm. Mrs. Sadr was also entertained with a luncheon at the Jacaranda on the same day and with Mrs. Sam King on Lake Isis during her visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Royal Coats spent a recent Saturday in St. Petersburg and met a guest at the nine o'clock plans.

Garden Clubs Board Meeting

There is to be a Federation Board Meeting of the Garden Clubs, next Thursday, Nov. 5 at 9 a. m. at the home of the president, Mrs. A. C. Wester.

November 8-14, 1959, as American Education Week in the City of Avon Park, and urge all of our citizens to take this opportunity to visit our schools and become familiar with their administration, and to pay tribute and extend special recognition to all our teachers and educators.

MIGRATION

By Bird Woman

Migration, is one of the most profound facts of bird study and there are so many theories and schools of thought on the subject that the more you study and consider it the more complex it becomes.

There is one phase on which all agree, and that is that certain birds do migrate, and certain others do not. But after that has been established, the different theories begin, reminding us of the cowboy who jumped on his horse and rode off in all directions.

Others reply that many birds migrate to warmer climates when there is still plenty of food for the taking. And that they will start their return trip before the snow has melted in the north, or the insects have come out of hibernation.

Another interesting study is why some birds migrate at night and others by day. Also why some birds, even the smaller species will fly mostly over water, while others of the same size will follow hundreds of miles to avoid crossing large bodies of water.

Also why some birds are content to spend the winter in Florida, and others pass us up and go on to the Gulf, non-stop, of course, and some travel deep into South America.

Another interesting fact is that birds of the tropics do not migrate, so that fact spots a host of theories, such as that birds were originally in the north, and were driven south by the ice age, therefore they feel the urge to return to their original home when nesting time arrives.

There is an old saying, that there will be a change in the weather, for I can "feel it in my bones", or that certain weather effects us in various ways, while many people live in-doors, and especially in large cities, are not aware of the weather until they emerge from an air conditioned place and realize that it is extremely hot or cold outside or that the rain is falling.

But so far we have not found any air conditioned bird nests, and the birds are constantly living in the different types of weather, and, as with all animals they are more aware of what the weather changes will be than those who have all kinds of weather calculators to help them.

We recall reading about a man traveling in the west and saw huge flocks of birds hurrying past him, and presently flocks of various animals, none conscious of his presence, but all traveling in the same direction, he couldn't understand what all the rush was about, until he was suddenly overtaken by a terrific and storm. Had he understood wild life he would have been prepared for the storm.

Some call it an uncanny sense that animals and birds possess, but it seems to me that our marvelous Creator would not have placed the wild life on the earth to be so helpless and ignorant to understand the world they must live in, and how to protect and care for themselves.

Otherwise with all the predators that are lying in wait for the various kinds of wild life, one or two generations would have seen the last of most of them, for besides other wild predators, they have men, and also the weather to combat.

We recall that Longfellow said, in his poem "The Tide Rises and the Tide Falls", that they would expect a "winter long and inklement, for 'thick' was the fur on the foxes".

Many woodmen predict the weather for the coming season by studying the fur of the wild animals, those who live close to nature, as the primitive Indians, can read the forest as their more elevated brethren can read their printed books.

Many people like to brag about the number of languages they can read, but the Indians and many primitive folk could read the language of animals, birds, bees, trees, and also the floor of the forest, and the clouds that pass overhead.

Another interesting fact is that, we see various birds flying around our lawns and gardens, some flit, quiet rapidly, others flap their wings slowly and seem to make very slow progress, and we naturally wonder just how fast they travel while migrating, and how long it takes them to complete their journey.

If the larger and stronger birds make the longest flights, or migrate the longest distances.

Knowing that in their normal life they spend much time hunting for food, we must wonder how they sustain life and have the energy and endurance to cover the many miles they do in flight, and still take very little time off to gather food, as some of the time must be used to rest.

One day, as it was nearing time for robins to fly north, we saw thousands of them assembled near the bridge over Big Charley, evidently having their last "covered disk" dinner before starting their northern flight, and it concerned us very much to know how they could do this, if food had been scattered over such a vast area, knew when and where to assemble to meet the birds and take possession of their last years' nesting food.

And how each group knew where to have the main body to find their last years' nesting place. For many migratory birds return to the identical nest that they built and occupied the year before. Even the tiny wren, will return and challenge an interloper that has arrived earlier and taken possession of her last years' nesting box.

Many birds use the same nest, while others will refurbish the old one and perhaps add a few shingles, or a picture window or draw drapes a little tighter each year. But still use the "old home place."

Some birds are more sanitary than others and will keep their nests clean, even while raising their young, the martins belong to this class and we have watched them carrying out the excrement

Circle 4 Meeting Held Monday At O'Steen Home

Mrs. P. O. O'Steen and Mrs. Bob Padelford were hostesses to the Circle 4 of the Woman's Society for Christian Service of the First Methodist Church at the O'Steen home on Monday night, Oct. 12.

The meeting was opened with two minutes of silent prayer and Mrs. Robert Bussard ended the prayer with a short devotional message. Mrs. Bussard, Mrs. Oyal Amusey and Mrs. Violet Hollingsworth were guests of the circle at the meeting.

Mrs. Bussard presented the program on the "World Banks" that each member of the Woman's Society had been given. These banks will be turned in in the spring and the money used in more than one thousand projects of the Society all over the world. Mrs. Bussard told their story with an interesting talk and clever skill.

Mrs. John Crittenden taught the Bible Study lesson and Mrs. Bill Dixon gave the devotional message. Mrs. Oliver Carl was welcomed by the group as a new member. During the business meeting committee reports were heard and plans made for coming events. The Lord's Prayer ended the meeting.

During the social hour which followed the business meeting, the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

Mrs. B. F. Martin Hosts Circle At First Meeting

Mrs. B. F. Martin president at the first meeting of the new church year for the Nina Lewis Circle which met in the home of Mrs. T. Brown with Mrs. Ellen Goen as co-hostesses.

After the business meeting an interesting program on "Missions In The Old Testament" was directed by Mrs. Bertha Pehon. A social hour was enjoyed at the close of the program and the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

From their nests and dropping it some distance from their nest. We hope next time to be able to answer some of these questions, at least give our own version of migration.

Council—

The Mayor and Mr. Adams, the building inspector and they had decided the same thing, to allow the building to be used as a storage space after he fixed it.
Motion by Mr. King, seconded by Mr. McKenzie and unanimously carried that the following resolution be accepted:

RESOLUTION
Be It resolved by the City Council of the City of Avon Park, Florida, that the Avon Citrus Bank is hereby authorized to invest $50,000.00 Sinking Fund Monies in U. S. Treasury Bills.
Now, therefore, be it resolved that this resolution is passed and adopted this 14th day of October, 1959.

M. Kirkland, President
Attest:
Lucile A. Shockley,
City Clerk

Mr. McKenzie stated that he had read the letter stating that as long as the Southland Trailer Park was operated as such, Church street just south of the Park would remain closed. This is entered in the minutes of February 14, 1955.

There was a lengthy discussion between Mr. Baldwin, Mr. Cook and Mr. Miller. Several letters were read by Mr. Baldwin from Mr. Miller. Mr. Baldwin stated that if Rev. Staten would give him the names of any elderly people who had to walk several blocks to church he would gladly furnish and grant permission for them to pass through the Trailer Park.

Mr. Cook stated that he had not been to any authorities to have Church street opened but would like to have it opened for drainage purposes.

Lt. See, commanding officer of Battery "C", National Guard unit of Avon Park, appeared to request a yearly donation of $500.00 to be placed in the budget and requested $150.00 at present. He received this donation with the motion coming from Mr. Dilley, seconded by Mr. King and unanimously carried. Lt. See gave an impressive talk about the unit and informed us that his unit was available to the City at all times in case of any emergency. Lt. See invited the Council to a barbecued chicken and pork dinner at the Armory on November 4, 1959.

Mr. Heim (Walter) requested a motion collect all delinquent taxes and was told that this was in due process and would be brought up later.

Motion by Mr. Dilley seconded by Mr. King that the City send R. L. Adams to a four day school being conducted in Chattanooga, on Building, Plumbing and Electrical inspections. Unanimously carried.

Mrs. Vi Townsend left a copy of an open letter to the Avon Park Sun from the Woman's Club which was read and will appear in this week's paper.

Mr. Robert R. King, Jr., requested that the Council be told that he now has his Insurance license and was open for City as well as other business.

The Mayor presented a sign from the Coin Operated Laundry, lighted by the Avon Park Neon Sign Co., to be placed at their request at the end of the Mail. No action taken.

The mayor presented several additional requests — one from the Jr. Woman's Club of Sebring, to advertise their show "The Pull-ins", by lettering the sidewalks. Another, was the Halloween Party coming up at the Band Stand which might require the closing of a street or streets for a short time. These requests are to be handled by the Mayor at his discretion.

A request from the Florida State Road Department to the City and Highlands County to know their desires as to when they think the best time would be for letting the contracts for the construction of State Road 25 (US 27) from Avon Park to the Polk County Line.

They stated that the construction would take approximately 1 1/2 years. The Council agreed any time suitable for the State Road Department, that the City is ready and waiting.

The Mayor stated that he and Mr. King met with the colored ministerial association last Monday night to discuss the Clean-Up Week coming up and also sanitation in general for the colored quarters. He stated he was not too successful with this project last year and wanted so much to have better conditions existing in this section for the coming year. Only one man was appointed, but they in turn would have a conference and appoint committees at a later date.

The Mayor requested that in the Police Dept., the man making the graveyard shift or the hours from 11:30 p. m. to 7:30 a. m. would receive $18.00 more per month. This motion came from Mr. King and was seconded by Mr. Dilley and unanimously carried.

A letter was read from Judge Marvin Behrman thanking the City for the use of the Band Stand in August. The meeting was adjourned.
