Avon Political Pace Steps Up This Week

Three More Qualify For Council Posts

The political pace for the upcoming city election on September 12, picked up this week, as three more candidates qualified for the city council posts. As of press time Wednesday, no one had officially qualified for Mayor.

E. E. Sheumaker, S. M. Woodard and H. M. (Chick) Farless were the latest to enter the political ring. J. B. Sparks, a former councilman, was the first to qualify last week.

Although not qualified officially, Mayor E. A. DeLaney told The Sun this week he would seek another term in the office he has held for several terms.

Sheumaker has been a resident of Avon Park for 30 years, 25 of which he was employed by the city. He is a veteran of World War I and a member of that group's veterans organization. He is also a member of the Church of Christ. Sheumaker, like all other candidates who have filed, claims no political affiliations with any groups.

Woodard, a resident of Avon Park for 28 years, was employed by the city for 16 years prior to his retirement. He is a member of the Church of God, where he is an assistant Sunday School teacher.

Farless is the youngest candidate to enter the race for the two council posts thus far. He is 34 years old, a native of Highlands County and veteran of World War II. He is a salesman for Bagwell Lumber Co. He is making his first venture into politics.

The two councilmen ending their terms are Sam McKenzie and E. O. Blandford. McKenzie had indicated he will seek another term, while Blandford has not committed himself thus far.

City Clerk Lucile Shockley said the registration books and qualifying deadline is August 11. Several other candidates are expected to qualify before that deadline, the clerk said.

Light Docket In Court Monday

County Judge Mervin Rehrer returned from the Florida County Judge's Association conference Monday and found a very light docket awaiting him.

In the weekly court session Monday the Judge heard a few cases—most of them dealing with traffic offenses.

In one of the more serious cases disposition was made of a long-standing case against Merrall J. Cardwell. Cardwell faced six counts of issuing worthless checks.

On five of the charges he was sentenced to 30 days on each charge. The terms in jail are to run concurrently. On the sixth charge Judge Rehrer postponed sentencing until Sept. 13.

Judge Rehrer last week completed a term as vice president of the County Judge's Association. The association conference was held at Pensacola.

Final Hearing Set For Budget

The final hearing on the proposed county budget has been set for Thursday, (August 3) at the county courthouse in the commissioners meeting room. Meeting time is 8 o'clock, one hour earlier than the group normally meets.

If no objections are raised at this time, the budget will be approved at the figure of $1,021,730. This figure is somewhat less than was requested by several agencies, but still above last year's budget.

Alcoholics Anonymous Celebrates Fourth Anniversary Here Sunday

The fourth anniversary of the founding of Group 1177, Alcoholics Anonymous, was celebrated at the Avon Park Correctional Institution Sunday with about two hundred men and women from over the state joining the 50 inmates in the group for the meeting, which was held as an all day affair.

Alcoholics Anonymous was praised for its accomplishments by those who told of their experiences and what the AA had done for them with the aid of the Supreme Being, to help them find a better life. Only the Christian name and surname initial was given as each one was introduced.

Several men and women spoke from five to 35 minutes, telling of their addiction to alcohol, the fight to overcome their weakness and the happiness in victory when they were once more restored to their place in society, after overcoming the drinking habit.

Guest chairman for the day was "Bud", of Largo, who had helped to establish Group 1177.

Other speakers by whose names can be revealed because they are not AA members are L. L. Wainwright, William E. Booth, H. M. Hellig and the Rev. W. B. Johnson of the correctional institution staff. Royal M. Coats, president of the Chamber of Commerce assisted with the devotions.

The APCI orchestra of eight pieces provided music. A delicious dinner was served at noon.

Rec Program Scheduled To Close Friday

The summer recreation program will officially end Friday, August 4, with the annual Play Day scheduled for Thursday, August 3, to be held at the Avon Park school grounds for all the children enrolled in the sumer recreation program of the Avon Park, Sebring and Lake Placid schools, according to area Supervising Principal, A. B. Wilhite.

A full day's program is scheduled to include group games, contests, swimming and watermelon-eating contest. Activities will get under way at 8:30 Thursday morning at the high school gym.

Play Day is an annual event in the summer program and the site is rotated among the schools each year.

The Driver Education program also ends this week. Sixteen students from Avon Park will complete the course.

Thought For Today

Always think what is true and do what is right.

Our Progress Is Showing

"Road under construction, the sign of progress" . . . to borrow from a former governor . . . Growing pains afflict most of Avon Park at the present time. Almost any street you travel will eventually end up a mountain of dirt, or you might meet a house moving down the street, or be surrounded by enormous water pipes waiting in rows to be laid along the streets.

Sometimes these facts are annoying to the driver, but to the children who have played on the water pipes, or raced up and down the mountains of dirt, (when the workmen aren't around) these are exciting moments. It all goes along with the widening of streets and the general improvement of our city.

In the meantime, the driver must be more cautious and remember that it is only our progress showing.

HOME FROM SCHOOL

Lee R. Maness, who has been attending the summer session of Clemson College, Clemson, S. C., returned home this past week. Mrs. Maness and the children visited with relatives in Anderson, S. C., and returned home with Mr. Maness.

New Teacher Named To Ridge Area Day School Here

School Superintendent Andy Miracle this week announced the appointment of Mrs. Marjorie Coe as teacher for Ridge Area Day School.

The Ridge Area School, located in King's Addition here in Avon Park, is the county's only class for retarded children.

Mrs. Maxine Delahunty, original teacher for the school, resigned early in the summer when she moved out of the state.

Mrs. Coe, with her husband, will make her home in Sebring. She comes to Highlands County from Starke, where she had been a teacher in the exceptional child program of the public schools.

She received her education at Mt. Union College in Ohio and has taken additional work at University of Nevada, University of Hawaii and University of Florida.

The Ridge Area Day School is maintained cooperatively by the county school board and the Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children.

Mrs. Coe will be teaching approximately a dozen children from all parts of the county. These children, sometimes referred to as "slow learners", have developed mentally at a rate one-third to one-half as rapidly as the average child.

In the special school, with other children of similar abilities, most of them will learn to read and write and will master simple arithmetic.

A building campaign for Ridge Area School has been under way for the past year, and plans call for erection of a new school building during the current school year.

APHS Graduate To Play On 'Star Eleven

Joe Milton, a member of last year's graduating class here, is in Gainesville this week working out with other members of the South squad for the high school All-Star football game to be held at Florida Field Saturday, August 5, at 8:15 p. m.

Milton was chosen to participate on the South team by coaches of this district. He was one of two boys selected for this honor from the Ridge Conference.

Coach Jerry Jackson of Brandon High School will be in charge of the South team and Coach Len Register of Starke will handle the North squad. This will be the 13th contest in the All-Star football series with the South ahead in games won 7 to 5.

Joe was chosen for the honor team as an end although he played fullback and defensive linebacker for the Red Devils his senior year. He moved to Avon Park from Lakes Wales in the middle of his sophomore year and lettered the following year as an end on the Red Devil team.

Last year Joe served as co-captain of the Ridge Champion Red Devil eleven and won a trophy for being the most valuable defensive player on the team.

Joe was a three letter man at Avon Park for two years. He earned three letters in baseball as a third baseman and two letters in basketball. He was selected for the All-Ridge baseball honor nine this past year.

Coach Joe Franza expects Joe to see action as offensive end or defensive linebacker for the South team this Saturday night.

At present Joe plans to enter the University of Florida this fall with plans for becoming a dentist in the future.

$152,500 Sought In Three Suits Filed This Week

Damage suits, growing out of two auto accidents, were filed in Circuit Court this past week. A total of $152,500 is being sought in three different actions.

Earl Lawrence of Columbiana County, Ohio, is seeking $151,000 damages from Harry Levy of Newark, N. J.

Lawrence charges that his auto was severely damaged and that he and two members were seriously injured in an accident on U. S. 27, six and a half miles south of Sebring.

The Levy car, which was traveling south, collided with the northbound Lawrence car on June 13, 1960.

James and Betty Fountain filed petitions on behalf of their daughters, Deborah and Diane. They charge that the girls were injured in an accident in the city of Sebring on April 21, 1960. A car driven by Elma Stiles Cook of St. Petersburg figured in a collision with the Fountain car.

In this suit damages of $500 are being sought on behalf of Deborah Fountain and $1,000 for Diane Fountain.

APCI Dentists Pass Exams

Doctors John McDonnell and B. E. Hargett, who served their internship at the Avon Park Correctional Institution were among the 215 dentists to pass the Florida State Board of Dental Examiners July 2-10 and licensed to practice in the state.

Dr. McDonnell expects to practice in Miami and Dr. Hargett will be in Fort Lauderdale.

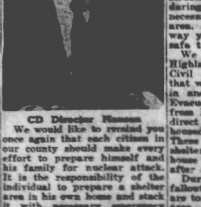
WHEW, IT'S HOT

Avon Park residents sweltered under an extreme heat wave this week in what old-timers acclaimed was the hottest weather we have ever had here. They are probably right in their assumption. The mercury climbed to 100 degrees last Saturday, dropped to 99 on Sunday, then soared to 103 Monday. Tuesday's temperature fell back to the century mark. Whew.

Civil Defense Director Urges Building of Emergency Shelters

By Don Hansen
County Civil Defense Director



CD Director Hansen

We would like to remind you once again that each citizen in our county should make every effort to prepare himself and family for a nuclear attack. It is the responsibility of the individual to prepare a shelter area in his own home and stock it with necessary emergency supplies. Basic survival requirements are, briefly: a shelter from radioactive fallout; a two week supply of food and water; cooking and eating equipment; bedding; first aid supplies; sanitation supplies; candles and flashlights and a battery radio.

If you cannot build a shelter according to government specifications, fix up an inner room or hallway for a shelter area. Any protection is better than none.

Attack warning will be given on the fire whistles in each community until regular air raid sirens can be installed. The attack warning will also be given on radio and TV. Be sure to have a radion tuned to a Conelrad frequency for instructions during attack and during the period when it is necessary to stay in the shelter area. A radio will be the only way you will know when it is safe to leave the shelter area.

We do not plan to evacuate Highlands County. At this time Civil Defense authorities feel that we will be safer here than in another part of the state. Evacuees will be coming here from Palm Beach if there is a direct hit there. They will be housed in designated shelters. These shelters are not fallout shelters but will be used to house the homeless and wounded after an attack.

During an attack and the fallout period following, you are to stay in your own shelter area.

More detailed information and pamphlets on shelters may be obtained by calling EY 5-4507 or write a card to Civil Defense, in care of Don Hansen, County Home, Sebring.

Grading To Begin Early Next Week

Plans for the long anticipated shopping center near the West end of the Mall appeared near reality this week as Food Fair Stores, Inc., purchased a city building permit for $350,000.

The permit represented $300,000 for a building and $50,000 for a parking area, sewage and drainage. The property is located between Main and Pine Streets and faces U. S. Highway 27-98. The site was purchased by Food Fair from the Avon Park Citrus Bank some time ago.

According to available information, the shopping center will be known as Avon Plaza. It will embrace a Food Fair Grocery Store covering approximately 16,000 square feet of floor space and a Neisner Brothers Variety Department Store with equal floor space. Several other stores will make up the total 37,944 square feet included in the center.

Food Fair Stores rank as the nation's sixth largest supermarket chain, with stores throughout the southeast. The company is also presently negotiating with site owners in the Sebring area for a store South of that city.

Information recently released on the proposed center indicate the most modern materials, newest features and developments in store design will be incorporated in the Food Fair supermarket, with emphasis on self service, convenience, variety and value. The store will feature 17 separate departments, carrying more than 5,000 food and household items, including groceries, meats, produce, dairy goods, frozen foods and a wide selection of fresh-caught sea food.

The Neisner Brothers variety store will be designed for self service. It will offer a complete selection of merchandise for the entire family including home furnishings, wearing apparel, fashion merchandise, notions, cosmetics, glassware, luggage and toys.

According to word received here this week, work is scheduled to begin next Monday on grading and clearing the property.

Officials said the constructions of Avon Plaza would provide permanent employment for over 100 people, most of whom will be from the Avon Park area, in addition to the employment resulting to the building trades and services from the construction of the shopping center.

A BEAR IN THE AIR

Soviet and American delegations are meeting to discuss a commercial air treaty between the two countries. Two airlines are involved—Pan American World Airways and Aeroflot, the Soviet state airline.

Both of these enterprises fly modern aircraft—and that's where any similarity ends. Pan American, which pioneered international air service and more recently inaugurated jet service under our flag, is a free enterprise corporation, owned by 40,000 stockholders, which must pay its own way and try to make some kind of prifit. Aeroflot is a department of the Soviet government, and a part of the Red Air Force. It is not concerned with operating costs, much less profit. Whatever funds are needed to keep it going are doled out by the Soviet government.

Throughtout its history Pan American has competed with subsidized, low-wage foreign-flag carriers which have, in one way or another, received strong financial support from their governments, and have, in one degree or another, been intimately identified with their governments as instruments of national interest. The fact that Pan Am has been able to do this says much for its efficiency and spirit. But the Russians pose a new and greater threat in the form of a competitor to whom cost is no object. The American delegates to the negotiations will have to proceed with the utmost care if vital American interests are to be protected. The Russian Bear, in his furtherance of economic war against the West, always tries to follow a no-holds-barred policy.

The State of Citrus

By John Sikes — Florida Citrus Mutual

(Mrs. Pat Townsend, editor of the Winter Garden Times, is pinch-hitting this week for John Sikes in the State of Citrus.)

WINTER GARDEN, Aug. 2—Palaver on citrus chatter runs rampant around a small town in Central Florida—year round!

Hail the champ! Winter Garden holds the undisputed title of Citrus Capital of Orange County, and we would go so far as to say that no other town, comparison-wise, has such a large citrus payroll in proportion to its population of 5,000.

Just stand around any day at the local bank. Pay roll chatter revolves around citrus most of the time.

And no wonder! The heavenly odor of orange blossoms, and the derivatives of this citrus fruit linger like a guardian angel over the city year-round. In this quaint, but fast progressing city there are six fresh fruit packing houses and one concentrate plant,—plus all this and heaven, too,—Continental Can Co.

All these citrus plants contribute a very unusual payroll —in size—to the growth of Winter Garden.

"Let's make a garden out of Winter Garden," civic groups shout. No need—with the permeating scent of our wonderful and incomparable Florida citrus.

'Tis an honor that in Orange County with a census of 367,000 residents that Winter Garden holds its undisputed title. We hereby unofficially crown the city with a wreath of orange blossoms and bless the industry brought to us so many hundreds of years ago by Christopher Columbus.

Yearly output? This runs approximately six to nine million boxes of fruit, both for fresh and concentrate.

Payroll chatter these days runs to the estimation that within the next few years there will be a possible increase to 10 million boxes in Winter Garden.

Individual trees? It would be fun to spend your vacation cruising the groves. Around and about us here are 1,796,000 citrus trees.

As we stated, according to citrus experts within the next few years there is a strong possibility of even this amount substantially increasing.

So in citrus beauty, heavenly odors and big payroll, no city—or few cities, if any—the size of Winter Garden can boast of a citrus payroll as big as ours.

No wonder the main topic of conversation here is . . . citrus. Florida citrus.

Pinney Antes

By Bill Pinney

Mr. Randolph Hodges, said the editorial, has done more and made a decision which shows a keen sense of the basic American governmental principle of separation of powers.

I agree. But I think "forgotten" would have been a better word than "basic" to describe that governmental principle of separation of powers.

Mr. Randolph, the best known of the Cedar Key Hodges, is president of the state senate and director of the State Conservation Department.

The Senate-Conservation Director, I figger, has given his two job predicament careful study. He probably concluded senating and conserving just ain't synonymous and is doing the noble thing.

But here is a unique case. A man with two government jobs. One government job normally has three or more men.

Florida Teenage Stylists Win Honors

FLORIDA BOYS designing and building these miniature "dream cars" in the 1961 Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild model car competition won first place awards of $150 each for the best entries in their state. The upper car was built by Lonzo Kirkland of Starke. The lower car was designed by Raymond Canzara of St. Petersburg.

Florida Students Among Nation's Best Designers In Fisher Contest

WARREN, MICHIGAN. — Two Florida teenage boys were named among the nation's best young model car designers and builders today in the 1961 Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild model car competition.

Lonzo Kirkland, 412 North St. Clair, Starke, and Raymond Cannara, 9145 Gulf Blvd., St. Petersburg, won the top state honors in the senior and junior divisions respectively. As first place winners, each boy receives $150 cash.

In competition with the first state winners from Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia, 20 year-old Kirkland also won the regional honors. As a regional winner, he will be attending the 1961 Guild convention in Detroit, Michigan, August 1 through 4, with all expenses paid. While in Detroit, his car will be competing with other regional winning models for $38,000 in university scholarships.

His model this year is a hardtop sports car made from basswood and painted with white lacquer. Studying to be a minister, this is the 10th award he has won in Guild competitions. Since 1955, he has attended three Guild conventions, and this year, makes it his fourth trip to Detroit.

Junior winner, Cannara, 14 years old, won the top state award on his first attempt. He built a closed coupe version of a futuristic sports car. Made of wood, the car is painted a pearlescent color and required several hundred hours to build.

Second place winners were John Blackard, Pompano Beach, and William Cole, Sarasota. Both boys receive $100 awards for their creative work.

H. John Hambrock, Ft Pierce, and Craig Sperman of Orlando, won third place awards of $50 cash.

Honorable mention awards of $25 each went to Michael Mucci, Ft. Lauderdale; Robert Mosher, Orlando; William Scales, Miami; James Hicks, Miami; Harold Ridenour, Orlando; and Joseph Brown, Plant City, in the senior division. Junior winners include Gary Johnston, Pompano Beach; Paul Reilly, Jacksonville; and Thomas Holden of Jacksonville.

The awards are by these Florida youth are part of $117,000 in university scholarships and cash awards offered in this year's Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild competition. Since its beginning in 1950, the Guild has given $1,750,000 in awards to thousands of young American designers and craftsmen.

CAPITOL CAPSULE

By Don Meiklejohn

TALLAHASSEE.—Gov. Farris Bryant is moving ahead on plans to extend the turnpike.

Latest plan calls for the pike to be extended as far as Wildwood, which is South of Ocala.

This will tie in with an interstate highway—75—running from the Georgia line to Tampa.

Prospects are that Interstate Highway 95, which would run down the East Coast from Jacksonville to Miami, would be built in "hop scotch" fashion—in areas where it will serve a local need, but not compete with the turnpike.

TWO JOB LEGISLATORS—The Supreme Court has ruled it's okay for Sen. President Randolph Hodges to serve as a senator and as state conservation director at the same time.

The decision has raised doubts about the traditional separation of powers. Other legislators with state jobs are Rep. Mallory Horne, Tallahassee, who will be the next House Speaker, who is attorney for the milk commission; Sen. Harry Stratton, Callahan, who is a labor trouble shooter for Gov. Bryant; and three school teacher legislators —Reps. George Stone of Escambia; James (Gator) Beck of Putnam, and Ken Smith of Taylor.

In a sidelight action, a Taylor county taxpayer has filed an injunction suit challenging the right of the school board to pay Smith a salary while serving as a legislator.

DELAY DECISION — A Merit System Council recommendation on reinstanting five road department engineers who were involved in the payola scandals is under study by the road department.

The Merit System Council recommended reinstanting five engineers and upheld the firing of two others.

ESCHEATMENT MONEY—Money from a new escheatment law state claiming dormat bank accounts—isn't rolling in buckets.

Under a 1961 Legislative act, unclaimed savings in banks and utility deposits which have been dormant for 15 years or longer would be turned over to the state.

INTEGRATION SUIT — A hearing on an Escambia County integration suit has been set Aug. 17 in Tallahassee.

The school board has asked that its plan not be effective until September, 1962.

NAACP officials want the plan to be effective this September.

LAND O'LAKES—The hassle over a new law in Pasco county requiring fingerprints, photograph and other information on audiots will solve one problem.

A Pasco county man recently told a reporter, "I can't tell who is, or who isn't a nudist, except to pull up a shirt sleeve and see if the tan goes on."

TOO CROWDED—A Washington official is quoted as saying Cape Canaveral is too crowded to launch a rocket as large as the super-dooper Nova, which is designed to go to the moon and back.

DAVID WINS ONE — Ted David, who campaigned for governor on an "anti-pork chop" ticket didn't win the election campaign, but one of his issues resulted in action.

During the governor's campaign, David held up a package of cigarettes and said the smoker paid more in taxes on the cigarettes than a bank does on purchasing thousands of dollars worth of equipment.

The 1961 Legislature ordered banks—state and federal to pay the state sales tax. Comptroller Ray Green advises that he expects no trouble, although federal banks theoretically are exempt.

Thirty-three million pounds of fresh fruit is consumed by visitors annually during their stay in Florida, according to the Florida Tourism Steering Committee.

CRACKER POLITICS

By Allen Morris

TALLAHASSEE. — Governor Bryant's disclaimer of further political ambition should be taken with the grain of salt of skepticism.

There are a number of reasons for doubting the everlasting nature of Bryant's declaration, which even he prefaced with the escape clause of it being "my present intention."

A most persuasive argument for taking a wait-and-see attitude on Bryant's political future is this:

Every governor of Florida in this century put his name on the ballot in some subsequent election except Dan McCarty, who did not have the opportunity because he died during his ninth month in office.

Many of these governors or ex-governors regarded election to the U. S. Senate as the logical outlet for their continuing political yearnings. Some sought another term as governor. Still others asked election as delegate to their party's national convention. A number did all three.

The significant fact is that not a single one of those able could resist going back to the voters.

It well may be that someone will come along to be the exception that proves this rule. But those who have observed Farris Bryant through the years of his political life don't think he'll be that exception.

Even granting the "present intention" which would return Bryant to Ocala and the private practice of law in January, 1965, those observers regard the intensity of his political feelings as assuring Bryant's active participation in matters political during the years thereafter.

There are a number of sound reasons for Bryant having answered the question of his future plans by saying "my present intention is never to run for anything again."

In the first place, it would be extremely foolish for any governor in the seventh month of his four-year administration to concede he might be interested in doing what comes naturally to a public man: stay active in politics. If he did this, he would give his foes a club to clobber every future action as being intended to advantage him politically.

Next, running for governor is ordinarily different than running for the U. S. Senate. An aspirant can begin running for governor many years in advance with the expectation that there will be a vacancy at the election when his planning matures. But running for the Senate usually means running against an incumbent.

Why do governors and ex-governors run? There's a variety of obvious answers to that question.

There can be little doubt but that every governor has gone out of office with the recognition some things were being left undone that he wanted to achieve. For example, despite his six years, Governor Collins listed quite a bit of unfinished business in his final report, "Across the Threshold."

Certainly some felt that if they had known at the beginning of their administration what they knew at the end, failures could have been changed into successes.

There's the vindication motive. When it comes to gauging public opinion, a governor lives in a vacuum. He tends to regard critics as being a noisy minority. This feeling is encouraged by the people he sees most, for they are aides who occupy the same boat or outsiders who see no useful purpose served by saying: "Governor, you're doing a miserable job."

It's true that history lags a generation or so behind a governor's own recognition of his progressive contributions. Governors tend to gain stature in retrospect.

John W. Martin is regarded today as having hastened development through an aggressive highway program. Yet the voters of his own time twice rejected him, when he ran for U. S. senator and for governor. Doyle E. Carlton, Sr., is esteemed now as a statesman who coped ably with the fiscal miseries caused by the collapse of the land boom. Yet he was defeated when he sought to be U. S. senator.

There is still another reason why ex-governors run again. It is a very human trait, not confined to ex-governors, to feel your successor is not doing your old job as well as you could. Usually overlooked in this analysis is the fact the ex-governor, in the case of these, thinks of himself as the experienced official he was at the end of four years. He forgets how he had to be steered around the Capitol at the beginning.

Each new governor and his lieutenants like to stamp their impress upon the face of the government. Everything has to be done differently, even if not always better. The ex-governor, watching these changes, naturally feels what is being done is all wrong.

But to get back to the record: if history means anything, the chances are that Farris Bryant will be a factor with which to reckon in Florida politics for the next 10 years or so.

"A SMILE WILL TRAVEL"

Someone smiled when I walked by . . .
And the sun began to shine . . .
Clouds scattered in the sky . . .
And then the day
seemed fine . . .
My heart felt so much lighter then . . .
I smiled at you
with joy sheer . . .
You looked surprised but you passed it on
To another . . . standing near.

THE FOUR-WAY TEST

1 Is it the TRUTH?
2 Is it FAIR to all concerned?
3 Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
4 Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

New arrivals from the North to take up permanent residence on Lake Olivia are Florence and William Constantine from Dumont, N. J. The Constantines new home is on Carpenter Road. We wish you much happiness and good luck.

Mr. Clarence Bue has returned home from a business trip to Tell City, Ind. After returning Mr. and Mrs. Bue took off for a couple of days in Miami.

Guesting with Mr. and Mrs. Nestor Fowler for a week were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Rady and son, Danny, from Chichgo, Ill. Mr. Rady is a brother of Mrs. Fowler.

A nice new home is being built on Archer Road, Lake Chilton for Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Ott from Beaumont, Texas. Mrs. Ott is a sister of Don Edmonson. Their nephew, Buddy Ott, is spending part of his vacation with the Edmonsons before returning to Texas where he attends Lamar College.

GEORGIAN VISITS

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Crews of Decatur, Ga., are visiting Mrs. Crews sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Becker, on Holly Shores. Mr. Crews was born near Zolfo Springs and his family still lives in that area. While in Florida he made a business trip to Orlando for his insurance company.

E. E. Sharpe's Father Passes

What started out to be a vacation trip for the E. E. Sharpe family ended in a sad experience for them last week. They left Avon Park to drive to Tennessee where they expected to visit with his family, and en route they visited several places of interest.

Shortly after they left a message came from his family in Lake City, Tenn., that his father had died suddenly.

Their eldest son, Eddie, had remained at home, and he tried to locate his family after receiving the message, but the Highway Patrol were unsuccessful, and when the Sharpes finaly arrived in Lake City late Sunday afternoon they learned the sad news of his father's death, which had occurred Friday, July 14.

Samuel Thomas Sharpe, age 79, is survived by four sons and three daughters, and his wife.

COMMUNION SERVICE

Sunday, August 6, will be Communion Service at the Lutheran Resurrection Church, at 11 a.m. The Reverend John W. Walters, is pastor of the church. Services are held temporarily in the Winter Guest Club House.

TURNERS IN GEORGIA

Mr. and Mrs. Art Turner were in Atlanta, Ga., where he attended the furniture market and they also combined a vacation trip with the business. Upon returning home last week they took their children, Marion, Wesley and Cathy on a sight-seeing trip throughout the state of Florida.

CHURCH SPEAKER

Col. Mylon D. Merchant will preach at the 10 o'clock service Sunday morning in the Union Congregational Church. Col. Merchant is a retired Army Chaplain, and is well known in the Avon Park area.

We're not really living in a faster age, it's just that we've slowed down.

In the "railroad" business the brakeman's lantern means everything. His "signal lantern" preceded the driver's stop and go light. It must be obeyed. The brakeman, like God, must give us the "all clear." It is the only way we may know the track is clear, the switch in place, for us to move with confidence. How reassuring when we know that God is clearing the way ahead of us.

If you were ever in a business a righteous God could not bless, then, you well know how it hurts not to be able to get His "all clear." But He warned us, "There is a way that seemeth right, but the end is death." If one's destination is Heaven, it is important that he get on the main line and keep on going. Let us take the church as our "brakeman." It will not signal us wrong. Let us worship God in her pews every week and support her many programs of service.

Miss Wilson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Solon Wilson, Sr., formerly of Wauchula. The groom to be is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Autry, Jr., of Wauchula. The party was held in the Social Hall of the New Hope Baptist Church. Roses predominated in the floral arrangements of the Hall.

The guests were entertained with a dramatic reading given by Miss Sue Roberts describing the romance of the happy couple, with Miss Beth Hendry emphasizing various incidents of the courtship with songs, "I'm Just Wild About Donnie", "You, You, You", "Am I Blue", "Love and Mariage" and "Donnie, The Roadman". The soloist was accompanied at the piano by Miss Mary Simmons and Miss Kathy Blanton.

The hon ree was presented with a basket and flashlight with instructions to hunt for the treasure. The clues led her to the bride's chair and an array of gifts displayed for her to open and admire.

The refreshment table was overlaid with an embroidered cut-work cloth. Roses formed the table centerpiece with yellow tapers burning in crystal candelabra at either side. Dainty sandwiches, homemade cookies and nuts were served with iced cokes.

Jim Haley Reports

WASHINGTON, D. C. — I think that President Kennedy spoke for every American the other night when he said for the United States that we seek peace, but that we shall not surrender to blackmail and brass-knuckled threats from the Communist aggressor. As a Member of the Congress, I will firmly support all of those things which are necessary for our country's defense.

I am equally certain that all of you who receive this letter, as well as all citizens of this nation, the bulwark of the free world, will be unified in a solid wall of support.

I had hoped, however, that the President would do two things that he did not do in his address to the nation and the world. First, I had hoped that Mr. Kennedy would spell out specifically what he intends to do about Castro's Cuba, which is in our own backyard and where the situation is getting worse by the day. But there are reasons, perhaps, which kept the President from a specific statement on Cuba.

Secondly, I believe that the President missed a great opportunity to make a real and dramatic appeal for national unity—by calling for a reduction in domestic spending, in appropriations for government handout programs, if you will, as a means of reducing the burden of the inevitable increase in spending for national defense.

Mr. Kennedy mentioned sacrifices in his call for a crusade against the communist menace. But as far as I can see, he contemplated no sacrifice which touches the average citizen—or politician, or lobbyist. The sacrifices he did mention were limited to reservists and draftees about to be called away from their homes.

Some of the punch was taken out of the President's otherwise convincing appeal by his emphasis on federal grants and handouts as usual. Even before this latest increase in defense costs— and we certainly cannot afford to stint on this—the budget was well out of balance. The President now fixes the deficit for this year at "over $5 billion." It could be a great deal more.

Yet Mr. Kennedy said "We must not be diverted from . . . other tasks," meaning the costly lists of new projects his Administration and the recent Administration have been promoting.

Mr. Kennedy asked in his speech that the people advise him. I intend to write him what I have written you. If you feel as I do, I hope you also will write our President. For I believe, indeed, I know, that a solvent economy is comparable to guns in its importance to the national defense. We must strip off non-essentials and get on with our overwhelming concern —which is national security, even national survival.

Florida Is Gaining In Businesses

The incorporating of new businesses in Florida has turned upward again, passing the thousand mark in both May and June of this year, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce said yesterday.

"Not since December of last year, which tallied 1,028 new incorporations, has this mark been passed. The monthly average last year stood at 975 new incorporations, somewhat below the 1959 average of 1,056 but considerable better than in 1958.

"The first six months of this year showed a total of 5,542 incorporations, 13 per cent below 1960. June, however, was only 3 per cent down, a decided improvement over monthly drops of from 15 to 20 per cent early this year.

"Offsetting the number of newly established firms in the state, failing firms through June numbered 527, half as many again as in the same period of 1960, according to reports compiled by Dun and Bradstreet.

"Current liabilities of the failing firms totaled $22,666,000 through June, a gain of 43 per cent over 1960. In June liabilities dropped 12 per cent below 1960 for the first time since July of last year.

"Florida accounted for 5.8 per cent of the new firms established in the nation during the first six months of this year; for 5.9 per cent of the failing firms and for 4.1 per cent of the liabilities. The state's proportion of new firms was a little lower and the failures slightly higher than at this time last year."

Electric Living Popular—FPC

The popularity of all-electric living is being dramatically proved in Florida with the Medallion Home Program, according to R. N. Robertson, director of residential development for the Florida Power Corporation.

Robertson reported that 6,889 all-electric Medallion Homes have been built within FPC's 31-county service area since the program began in March, 1958.

There have been 1,471 homes certified as having met the high standards of the Medallion since January 1 of this year. This figure represents an increase over the same period last year.

Medallion homes have become increasingly popular with newcomers to the State as well as with established residents. The sign of the Medallion is the home buyer's assurance that a house has full housepower wiring right for better living and modern electric appliances.

Construction Up In State

Gainesville. — The monthly Florida construction report issued by the University of Florida Bureau of Economic and Business Research revealed construction in May to be the highest in 11 months.

Total state valuation of permits for non-farm building was $114,423,000, a 14 per cent increase over May, 1960. Sixteen Florida cities led by Miami and Jacksonville, reported May valuations in excess of one million dollars.

Florida tourists consume 4 million pounds of butter each year, according to the Florida Tourism Steering Committee.

Pardee Families Enjoy Picnic

Miss Mary Ruth Pardee of Gainesville has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Ben T. Stewart and family and brother, Charles Pardee and family. She has been a librarian at the University of Florida for a number of years and is transferring to Fort Lauderdale, where she will be in the library at the Junior College there.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Neubauer of Tallahassee and Miss Emma Michels were weekend guests of Mrs. Neubauer's sisters and brother. They were en route to Miami for a cruise to Nassau.

The three sisters and brother and other relatives enjoyed a family picnic at the Stewart's home on Lake Letta Sunday.

Sawdust Now Important To Industry

Sawdust?

In the auto industry?

It's true! Oldsmobile Division, in Lansing, purchased a truckload of it the other day.

The 50 bags of sawdust are being used in the company's pressed metals plant in a unique operation in which sawdust cleans oil from numerous small sheet metal parts, recently fabricated on automatic stamping presses.

It's just one more of the unusual processes that occur in the manufacture of cars.

The sawdust is poured into an automatic hopper on top of the small sheet metal components, slick with oil. Then the hopper, better known as 'the rattler' to the men in the plant, is shaken violently.

The action of the sawdust in the hopper cleans the oil from the sheet metal parts and also smooths off burred stamping edges.

It simplifies the cleaning operation considerably, and is economical.

When the sawdust no longer is able to absorb oil, it is burned in a huge incinerator.

WALKING ON A CLOUD ! !

That "walking on a cloud" feeling is one of life's greatest thrills! It usually comes with the achievement of some goal, long sought . . . the realization of a dream, long cherished.

Very seldom, though, does just "dreaming" or any other form of wishful thinking, by itself, produce this happy result. Usually it takes some very practical, purposeful, down - to - earth planning. Fla. Citrus Commission To Ask For Advertising Presentations

LAKELAND, Fla., July 27— The Florida Citrus Commission, for the first time in six years, will invite a selected group of advertising agencies to make presentations for the $3,100,000 consumer account in September, it was announced here today.

Benton & Bowles, Inc., of New York has held the account since 1955 and will make a presentation at the September meeting along with a "practicable number" of other agencies, Homer E. Hooks, general manager of the Commission, said.

Hooks said more than a score of invitations have been mailed to top, middle class, and small advertising agencies, asking if they would be interested in handling the account. Those which show an interest, Hooks said, will be sent a comprehensive questionnaire asking for a resume of their activities, billings, products now handled, and other pertinent information.

"A screening committee will then look over the questionnaires and determine which will be invited to make a presentation on September 13 and 14," Hooks said. He added that the screening committee would consist of Chairman Key Scales, Jr., Commissioners Sam A. Banks and Bruce W. Skinner, and staff members Frank D. Arn, director of advertising and merchandising, Hal S. Gardner, advertising manager, and Hooks.

"Although Benton and Bowles has done a splendid job over the past six years, the Commission feels that it should look at some new ideas and copy strategy," Hooks said. "The broad field of marketing is changing almost daily and our citrus crops are steadily getting bigger, and the Commission feels it should reappraise its advertising to see that it is getting maximum mileage out of every advertising dollar spent."
