Clean-up Drive Slated This Week

Today is the kick-off day of the Clean-up campaign proclaimed by Mayor E. A. DeLaney to run through November 12 for Avon Park.

Clean-up activities will continue through this period and will be accomplished with the volunteer services of the various clubs and organizations in town in cooperation with the city.

The Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up program as outlined by the mayor is not only to complete the removal of debris still left by hurricane Donna, but also to make Avon Park as presentable to tourist season visitors as possible.

The Federation of Garden Clubs have taken upon themselves to make a survey of the city and ascertain just what is needed to be done to most effectively accomplish this end.

Chairmen appointed for the survey are Mrs. Mabel Staggers, northeastern area; Mrs. Bertha S. Faber, northwest area; Mrs. Brooks Henderson, southeast section and Mrs. Guy Decker will survey the southwest quadrant.

The local volunteer firemen stole the march on the clean-up campaign last Saturday morning by turning out to clean the church yards of the churches within the city. This is a time-honored traditional job which has been carried out by the city, but was necessarily neglected due to the work load caused by the storm.

Each of the organizations in Avon Park are formulating plans as to what they will do for the drive and coordination will be handled through the Garden Club Federation and the City.

It is reported that the greatest need of the project will be trucks to haul debris. Anyone with a truck which would be available should notify Mayor DeLaney.

Did It Ever Occur To You that by carelessness on your part and the part of your neighbors you are costing the city of Avon Park over a thousand dollars of your tax money to keep the streets litter-free?

that this money so needlessly wasted could be used for the beautification of our town instead?

that by being careful to use provided containers for trash and litter that you would be doing your part in preventing this cost?

Highlands County School Advisory Board Passes Fifteenth Birthday

The Highlands County Advisory Board passed its fifteenth birthday, October 1st. On this date, 1945, Superintendent Fred Wild called a meeting of the principals, supervisors and a few teachers for the purpose of discussing school problems on the local level. As a result of this discussion another meeting was called and a name chosen which was The Highlands County Advisory Committee. M. M. Ferguson of Sebring was the first president and Mrs. Alice Sherman the first secretary.

The present name of the organization is the Highlands County School Advisory Board and the constitution is two-fold:

1. to study problems that originate in the various schools of the county school system, and

2. to recommend school policies to the county board of public instruction. Members of the board report the actions to their various groups.

Membership is composed of the county superintendent, supervisors, principals of the four larger white schools, a teacher member who is elected to represent each ten teachers or major fraction thereof, one member elected by the teachers of the remaining schools, and the Classroom Teachers Association, the H.C.E.A. and the PTA of the three larger schools each elect a member to the board.

Officers of the board are elected by the membership, and the 1960-61 slate is composed of Paul K. Moore, president; Jack Ingle, vice president and Mrs. Patti Hill, secretary. Members from Avon Park in addition to the officers are A. B. Wilhite, Mrs. Chloe Lockhoff, Mrs. Margaret Allen, Mrs. Ruth Drawdy, Mrs. DeRetha Lanier, Mr. Geo. A. Kelsey, Miss Sara Sellers who is also president of the H.C.E.A. and Paul McFarland.

Legion Post Announces Plan To Build Here

According to Francis LaFlam, Commander of Post No. 69, the American Legion building is to be started in the near future. The lot on West Bell Stret has been cleared and the Legionares have already run the water line to the property and the electric current is extended there, all in preparation to begin the work.

James A. Heim has completed the plans for the building and the Legion Auxiliary is cooperating in the building program.

Parade Big Success

SPOOKS, GOBLINS AND 'PUNKINS'—all roamed the streets of Avon Park Saturday as this city enjoyed one of their most sucessful parades and carnivals to be held in many a Halloween. (Center) City officials joined with fire trucks and racing go-karts to lend their part to the parade, here Council president Clarence King and Mayor E. A. DeLaney ride during the festivities. At the bottom, Freddie Jahna in the get-up which gave him first place in the second grade division and at the right is Yvonne Sumners as she was awarded her prize. The costumes show the effort and work as well as the originality which was put into them.

According to many remarks the crowds were larger and the parade much better than any that has ever appeared in Avon Park, at the Hallow'en Carnival Saturday afternoon.

Many of the businesses of the city entered gayly decorated floats. Beautiful new cars carried the dignitaries of the city, the schools and the clubs and organizations. Hundreds of children turned out in every imaginable kind of costume to add to the gaiety of the occasion. The Scouts, in full dress, Cubs, Brownies, Girls and Boy Scouts were all on hand.

The two Avon Park Red Devil Bands led by the two majorette teams won a double round of applause from the crowds. This was the first appearance of the junior band and the junior majorette team. They made a fine showing for themselves, both in marching and playing.

The food booths and candy stands did a landslide business. The country store offered many bargains. The spook house and other attractions for the youngsters drew a big patronage.

Candidates Bolster Party Platform In Final Big Drive

Last Thursday, at a rally on the circle in Sebring, Democratic candidates took the stand to add their voices to their party platform in a last big push before next Tuesday's election day.

The two notables to attend were Governor elect Farris Bryant of Ocala, who flew in from Atlanta and landed at the Avon Park Airport about noon where he was met by an impressible motorcade of supporters and escorted to Sebring for the rally.

The second dignitary was James A. Haley, congressman who is seeking his fifth consecutive term from this district. Haley met Bryant as he arrived here in Avon Park and shared the speakers rostrum with him in Sebring.

Bryant recounted the success of his visits to various cities with cabinet officers, his talks with other governors, congressional leaders and state legislators. And he predicted that with the "Democrats on the move, they will move, into seats of responsibility from the courthouse to the White House."

Bryant said he would return to the county later to discuss its problems.

S. F. Schwinn, chairman of the County's Democratic executive committee, introduced Bryant and Mrs. Haley, wife of the congressman.

The gubernatorial candidate began his talk after Atty. Frank Bryant read a telegram from John F. Kennedy, Democratic presidential candidate, congratulating the Democrats on the rally and asking their support in a move toward a Democratic victory November 8. The telegram was sent to Mrs. F. Elgin Bayless, chairman of the county's Democratic campaign committee.

After Haley was introduced by Rep. Howard Livingston, the congressman told of his cooperation with the county in getting watershed projects.

To the many older citizens in the crowd he said more people are looking to Florida as their future home; that the state is just beginning to move, and its potential is great.

Haley hit the GOP spending policy and cited the increased expenditures and the increase in the national debt since 1953. He also pointed to the scandals in the present administration.

Dick Williams, Wauchula, Senate nominee from the 27th District, was introduced but did not speak.

CLEAN-UP STARTS HERE

A clean-up, paint-up, fix-up campaign proclaimed to start today by the Mayor, coupled with Governor Collins anti-litterbug program should go far in the community of Avon Park.

It is heartening to see the many organizations which are aligning squarely behind the project to dress up the community and rid the city of the last remnants of debris of Hurricane Donna.

The only sour note which is usually present in a drive of this nature is the well-meaning individual who at the time is willing to raise his hand and be counted as a volunteer but when the time comes to really get out and produce is just "Too Busy" at that very moment and will just have to put it off until next time.

We certainly hope this is not the case for YOU.

Orchids to the volunteer firemen. This active group knew of the burden imposed on the city from Donna and that the municipality was forced to drop the time-honored tradition of spending one afternoon a week cleaning up the church yards in the city prior to Sunday services.

The fellows turned out with trucks and hand tools and did the job for the city with no expectation of thanks from any one.

We should like to convey the "thanks" and also award you the title of being the first to kick off the clean up. A hearty T.V.G. to ya'.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

CANTON, N. C., ENTERPRISE: "If a person, firm or any group has anything to sell or give away, it generally pays to let the public know what is being offered. How else can the public know that something is for sale or is being given away? . . . . "This is the reason why the merchant who just opens his door and waits for customers to enter—without doing some form of advertising, is likely to do a minimum of business. At the same time, the merchant who sees to it that the public knows what he has to offer is going to be much better for the town."

TALLAHASSEE, — A flying spot check of Florida in the Presidential election indicates Vice-President Richard Nixon is ahead with "Kennedy moving."

Sources, however, were mostly Democrats—balanced by the views of newsmen in the areas.

If the check is valid, the key to the election in Florida turns on two factors:

Heavily populated Dade County, where Nixon has a slight edge according to veteran politicians and a political reporter, and the size of the vote in the Northern tier of counties, which appear to be in the Kennedy camp, by margins ranging from 60 to 40 per cent to 70 to 30 per cent.

Even Republican sources agreed "Kennedy has picked up ground in the last few weeks."

Although there was agreement on the "movement of Kennedy", there was a sharp disagreement on what it means.

Highly partisan Democrats think the momentum will swing the state to Kennedy before the Nov. 8 election.

Equally partisan Republicans—and some of the less enthusiastic Democrats—believe that although Kennedy is on the move—he had too far to go in Florida."

To win, Kennedy, according to most of the observers, must win in Dade County by a margin of from 20,000 to 40,0000 and build up a comfortable cushion in North Florida to offset what shapes up as a 2-1 victory for Nixon in Central Florida, and Lower East Coast counties north of the populous Miami area.

Key factors given for Kennedy's momentum in Florida were: TV debates in which he got exposure where previously he figured as an unknown quantity, the debate over whether Henry Cabot Lodge "promised or predicted" a Negro member on the Cabinet, a feeling among the pro Democratic politicians that Kennedy has a good chance of winning nationally and they want to be on the winning team, minority and young voters swinging to Kennedy.

All observers still reserved a question mark on the "religious issue", which many felt was primed again by the developments in Puerto Rico where three Roman Catholic bishops kicked up a fuss with a pastoral letter forbidding Catholics to vote for Gov. Luis Munoz Marin.

Most observers felt that the so-called "undecided vote" is actually a "quiet vote", and account for the apparently high estimates of "undecided" as being a result, in part, of the TV factor where a voter can sit quietly at home and make up his mind, without engaging in much conversation on the street.

By areas, this is what we found in Florida:

COASTAL NORTHWEST FLORIDA

PENSACOLA—Predictions of a turnout of near 40,000, with Kennedy getting as high as 26,000 to 13 for Nixon . . . predictions ranged downward to 23,000 for Kennedy to 16,000 for Nixon based on a 39,000 turnout . . . Kennedy apparently moving.

PANAMA CITY—Predictions of a vote of up to 13,000 with Kennedy getting as high as a 3 to 1 split, which would mean a 9,000 to 3,000 victory . . . predictions ranged down to a 2 to 1 victory for Kennedy. Depressed economy, resulting from industry layoffs cited as a reason for Democratic tide, along with Lodge statements about a Negro on the Cabinet.

INLAND NORTHWEST FLORIDA

Predictions ranged from a 2 to 1 victory for Kennedy to a 60 to 40 per cent split for Kennedy . . . big factor the turnout. Some predicting a 50 per cent turnout, others say it will go higher. The turnout, plus some religious opposition to Kennedy, are chief question marks.

NORTHEAST FLORIDA

JACKSONVILLE—The Jacksonville area is currently rated as "nip and tuck" with Kennedy moving . . with a heavy turnout for Kennedy during a Florida swing indicating he is on the "move". Politicians and newsmen agreed Kennedy has "picked up considerably in the last few weeks."

A heavy turnout is expected with the vote going as high as 125,000.

SURROUNDING AREAS TO JACKSONVILLE — A highly partisan source, who has been traveling a 17-county area beating the drums for Kennedy, says that the area is firmly in the Kennedy camp by a 60 to 40 margin. Big question mark is the turnout, but he said that he expected to see an 80 per cent turnout on election day.

ORLANDO—Heavy for Nixon with predictions ranging from 70 to 30 to 2 to 1 . . . Good turnout expected . . . A similar pattern appears in other Central Florida areas, according to area politicians.

TAMPA—Described as the strongest Kennedy spot in the state, with local politicians predicting a victory for Kennedy and adding "don't be surprised if it is as much as 25,000 votes." The Tampa Democrats for Kennedy are attempting to offset a heavy vote for Nixon in St. Petersburg, holding the area to a split when viewed as a whole.

ST. PETERSBURG—Rated heavily for Nixon, even by Democrats maybe as much as 2 to 1.

SARASOTA—Stronger than St. Petersburg, if anything, for Nixon.

MANATEE — Strong for Nixon, but possibly not as strong as Sarasota.

FORT MYERS—"Was Nixon, swinging more to Kennedy, and Kennedy could carry the area", according to one observer.

LAKELAND — Conflict of opinions . . . Some politicians say Nixon leading . . . with little change recently. Others say Nixon leading, but Kennedy moving.

WEST PALM BEACH—Nixon comfortably ahead with Kennedy moving, with an outlook for a 2 to 1 Nixon victory.

FORT LAUDERDALE — Nixon for Nixon, maybe more than 2 to 1, but Kennedy doing better.

MIAMI—Most observers predicting a narrow Nixon victory, but Kennedy key workers say that "we are doing better than most people think."

SUMMING UP: Kennedy is moving but Nixon's trump card appears to be that in the areas where he is the strongest there are hot local races to stimulate the vote. If the North Florida vote precentage is low, Nixon's lead should hold.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

I remember the thrill I got as a youngster when I had my first ride in an electric automobile. It was at the turn of the century. The car was known as the Baker-Electric. It had wooden buggy-type wheels and hard rubber tires. It attained the fantastic speed of 20 miles an hour on good roads and would cruise at that speed for a distance of 40 miles.

I haven't been in an all-electric automobile since, for shortly after my early experience the "electric" was consigned to the ash heap when the "gas buggy" proved more dependable and efficient.

A short time ago I had my second ride in an all-electric automobile as a guest of the Tampa Electric Company. They were demonstrating a new all-electric, the Henney Kilowatt, manufactured by the Henney Motor Division of Eureka-Williams Company, which is a division of the National Union Electric Corporation.

The pendulum swung back to the electric when the operating cost of present-day automobiles due to fuel and up-keep expense caused the motorist to look for some way out of his predicament. This new all-electric may be the answer for certain types of transportion, especially short run, start and stop motoring that is so costly today thanks to excessive taxes and other costs.

The new electric car utilizes a Renault Dauphine chassis. The manufacturer states that the design and weight characteristics, as well as unit cost, dictated the use of the French-built body rather than a domestic chassis. However, the machine is now in the experimental and research stage and if public acceptance is great enough it can be manufactured with other types of bodies to meet specific needs and at much lower unit cost.

The Henney Kilowatt is powered by heavy duty batteries. It has 72 volts for power plus 12 volts for lighting and control. The battery charging equipment, which is included in the car, operates from any convenient 110 electrical outlet and batteries can be fully recharged overnight.

The driving range of the fully charged Renney Kilowatt is approximately 50 miles and a speed of from 32 to 35 miles an hour may be attained, speed and range depending on the terrain traveled and type of driving done.

The car will deliver approximately two-and-one-half to three miles per kilowatt hour charge, and at a rate of 3 per kilowatt hour which is higher than the average residential rate per kilowatt, which means that the car can be driven at a cost of about one-and-one-quarter cent per mile.

The only maintenance as such that is required for the car is to keep a good systematic check on the water level in the batteries and greasing of the nine lubrication points on the chassis. No gasoline, oil or water to worry about.

The accelerator and brake pedal leave the floor uncluttered. No power is lost in waiting for a light to change and it operates at lowest cost on short runs and when frequent stops are made.

While not practical for distant travel it seems to fit th bill admirably for those who maintain delivery service in a limited radius or for persons who use a car primarily for nearby shopping or runs from home to office.

On behalf of the Old Settlers Association, I wish to thank you for your generosity towards the club in making pictures and giving our association such nice publicity.

This writer is no office holder, so no one needs to listen to what he has to say except for such weight as his words themselves carry. For what my words are worth I therefore wish to make a few comments in regard to the special meeting of the City Council held on Oct. 26th.

I do not envy any policeman or city councilman his job. We have many conscientious men in each position. But we are all human and can benefit by listening to the opinions of others. In charges made against one of our local police the party in question was exonerated and probably should have been. Yet I believe that the public in general would have felt more reassured of justice had there been a note of caution added.

One party connected with the police force on leaving the hearing made a comment to the effect that if the police had been condemned they would be the laughing stock of the town. This is quite probably true - but WHY? Why is it that many law-abiding citizens enjoy seeing a policeman repremanded? Is it not that the police so often overstep their case or overstep the bounds necessity in using their authority? I wonder if the policeman in question can say in all sincerity: "I used only enough force necessary to get the arrested man into a prison cell," or "I didn't give him one lick more than was essential to my own self-defense." Isn't he just as human and just as subject to excesses as the rest of us humans. There is need to receive as well as give an occasional warning no matter how sincere and conscientious he may be?

At the close of the hearing, our mayor made the comment that drinking was a major factor in this case as it is in the majority of cases of local arrest. This doubtless is true. People who throw away good judgement by resorting to drink either for a booster or as a way of escape from problems are usually in for trouble. Yet the expression "driven to drink" strikes a responsive chord in many persons capable of feeling another persons heartaches and problems. In a broken home (especially where there are children) regardless of who is either right or wrong, everyone suffers and is emotionally disturbed as was demonstrated in this case. If a person drinks when "emotionally disturbed" he

PINNEY Casts—

By BILL PINNEY

For a month now I have been studying polls for the purposes of making a prediction on the big election coming up next Tuesday, I believe it is.

Frankly I ain't got no more business making political prognostication than somebody's aunt Minney. But I got to, or get kicked out of the columnist union. So.

Think here ain't like pickin' the world series. It ain't no four out of seven. It's a won of one contest.

It could be close. In fact I predict that neither Kennedy nor Nixon will run worse than second.

Going strictly by automobile bumper stickers I'd say the two are about neck and neck, well behind Silver Springs and slightly ahead of Cypress Gardens.

Of course something could happen to change the outcome. But whether it does or not, some of y'all write and tell me how it came out.

Parents of all junior and senior high school students are urged to attend the first "back to school" PTA meeting of this term, Tuesday, Nov. 8, at 7 p. m. This is election night, and the time is set early, so parents can be home early to listen to election returns.

Devil Bees—Fort Meade Battle

Avon Park's "B" squad and Ft. Meade's junior varsity battled to a scoreless tie at Memorial Field last Tuesday night. Although both teams drove close to the other's goal line, the scoring punch was missing and the defensive teams took all the credit for the evening.

Just before halftime, Avon Park reached Ft. Meade's ten yard line only to have a penalty move them back and beg them down. The passing of quarterback Bobby Bates to Jimmy Singletary was outstanding and the running of Clifton Crews, David Bonnville, and Bob Pearl looked good in spite of the fact that they couldn't push a TD across.

Steve Maxwell stopped a Ft. Meade thrust late in the fourth quarter when he recovered a fumble deep in Avon Park's territory. The line play of Robert Duggan, Billy Miracle, Jim Lyle, Steve Maxwell, and Bill Ward was mainly instrumental in holding the larger Ft. Meade boys scoreless.

Next Monday night the Avon Park Jayvees take on Lake Wales here at Memorial Field in a game which will be sponsored by the Avon Park Band. Kick-off time is scheduled for 7:30 so plan to be on hand to see these football stars of tomorrow and enjoy a delightful band show too.

Here's More About—
Band Supper

$70.91. Mrs. Eloise Sharpe, chairman for the Country Store, expressed her appreciation to the group and to the residents of Avon Park for making this project such a success.

On Monday night, November 7 the Association will sponsor a "B" squad game at the local football field. During half-time the band under the direction of Vic Mickunas will present a special half-time show. Both the marching band and the newly formed junior band will march in the Shopportunity Day Parade Thursday.

These two bands are outstanding assets to our city, and their members act as "Good Will Ambassadors" for the City of Avon Park in whatever function they participate. At present Avon Park is the only city in Highlands County that has two marching bands. The Junior Band in their red and white uniforms made their first personal appearance during the Halloween Parade and everyone connected with the band was proud of the wonderful performance that they gave.

In next weeks issue of the Avon Park Sun a complete schedule of the Mardi Gras trip will be published so that everyone in the community will know what the Association has planned for the band students.

Auxiliary Meets At Home Of Mrs. Fields

The American Legion Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Louise Fields with Mrs. Elizabeth Lamb as co-hostess Tuesday evening. A bit of Hallowe'en gaiety was injected into the decorations and the refreshments that were served.

Grace Boney reported on the school of instruction that she had attended in Venice. The group voted to make a contribution of money to the Ridge Area Day School, and to donate another book on Americanism to the Avon Park Library.

Gifts that have been received for the Joy Shop at the Vets Hospital were on display, and all members of the Auxiliary and their friends are urged to send in their gifts immediately for the Joy Shop, so they can be packed for shipping.

Another display of comfort articles for the patients at the hospital was a reminder that more of these items are needed. Anyone wishing to contribute to either of these packages are asked to leave items with Mrs. James Heim at her office on Main Street.

The hostesses served a delicious pumpkin pie and coffee.

Devils Journey To Kowboy Land

The Red Devils will travel to Kissimmee tomorrow night (Friday) to take on the Osceola Kowboys in a Ridge Conference game. It will be Avon Park's last out-of-town game with the two remaining games against Okeechobee and Sebring scheduled for Memorial Field.

Kissimmee holds down third place in the Ridge's Northern Division with a four and two record while Avon Park leads the Southern Division with four wins and a tie in conference play. The Kowboys have an overall record of four wins and three losses. The Devils have won five, tied one, and lost one. In conference scoring the Devils lead with 120 points in five games, but Kissimmee isn't far behind with 102 points in six games. The Devils' defense has given up 66 points while the Kowboys have allowed 72 to their conference opponents. Both teams have defeated Arcadia, Kathleen, and Frostproof, but Avon Park scored more touchdowns than Kissimmee against each of their mutual opponents.

The Kowboys always give Avon Park a tough game, however, especially on their home field. Last year the Devils won 33-20 in their homecoming game but this year's battle is expected to be much closer. The Kowboys have three good running backs in halfbacks Ken Murphy and Roger Haddock and fullback Bobby Gehrett. Haddock has scored 36 points and Murphy 32 against conference opponents.

Avon Park's defense has improved greatly since the Devils' loss to Wauchula, and the team expects to be able to hold down the Kowboys scoring tomorrow night. Halfback Lamon Money, who has scored 53 points in conference games and 77 points in all seven games, will team up with Raymond Hall, Joe Milton, and Jack Seims to furnish the offensive ball carrying for Avon Park. Money has gained 839 yards in the Devils seven games and has a seven yard average per carry. He has scored at least once in every game this year. The Kowboys will need a strong defense and a little luck to hold down this elusive Devil halfback.

Avon Park's Red Devils scored once in every quarter last Friday night at Memorial Field to take an easy 25-13 victory from the Belle Glade Golden Rams of the Suncoast Conference. The Devils racked up their fifth win as they played their best game of the year against the larger Belle Glade team.

The Avon Park eleven took the opening kick-off and drove 80 yards for their first touchdown. Backs Milton, Hall, Seims, and Money all punched out yard after yard on the ground down to Belle Glade's twenty yard stripe. From that point Lamon Money slanted through the line, faked his way into the clear, and sailed into the end zone for the six pointer. Raymond Hall's try for the extra point was short.

The Rams failed to make a first down on their first offensive effort and punted to the Devil ten where Money was waiting to return the ball to the twenty-eight. The Red Devil's offense clicked again and with the aid of a fifteen yard penalty against the Rams they moved the pigskin to the Belle Glade six in nine plays. A nine yard gain by Jackie Seims on a keeper play highlighted the drive. From the six Seims hit Ed Touchton in the end zone for what looked like another TD, but a fifteen yarder against the Devils nullified the touchdown and moved the ball back to the twenty-one. On the next play Seims pitched out wide to Money who attempted a pass to Touchton. However, Belle Glade's Tom Bass intercepted the pass on the ten to halt Avon Park's threat and give the Rams the ball just before the first quarter ended.

The second quarter opened with the Rams punting out from their own ten on third down. Avon Park took the kick on the Rams forty-seven and started another march down the field. Belle Glade stiffened their defenses at their nine and held the Devils for four downs to stave off another threat. But the Rams were still deep in their own territory and Avon Park's line refused to give up a first down. So Belle Glade punted out a short one to their own forty-four.

The Devils took to the air and after two incomplete passes, Seims heaved a long pass intended for Touchton. Once more Tom Bass, the Rams alert defensive back, snagged the pass away from Touchton to give his team possession on their twenty. A twenty yard jaunt by big 220 pound end Marvin Davis on an end around play gave the Rams their first first down of the game, but on the very next play, Avon Park's Dick Nagel leaped high in the air and intercepted a Belle Glade pass on the Devil's forty. The scrappy Devil defensive back headed for the sideline and raced to the Rams' twenty-five for a thirty yard interception runback. Joe Milton and Lamon Money then carried to the ten for a first down and goal-to-go situation. Two running plays produced only a yard gain so Seims dropped back and fired to Touchton in the end zone for the Devils second score. Again the try through the line for the extra point failed.

Belle Glade unleashed their longest drive of the first half next as speedy quarterback John Bass returned Barefield's kick-off twenty-five yards to the Ram's forty yard line. Halfback Roger Walker broke loose for two fifteen yard gains and with less than a minute to play before the half ended, the Rams had the ball on Avon Park's twenty-five. However, four consecutive pass plays were broken up by the Devil's improving pass defense and the Avon Park team took over just as the second quarter ended.

After a fine halftime show presented by bands from both schools, the teams returned to the field and Avon Park kicked off to Belle Glade. Barefield's kick was unintentionally low, however, and hit a Ram lineman.

HE'S LOOSE—Joe Milton heads around end with the ball for another touchdown for the Red Devils.

Halloween Theme Is Used For Birthday

Miss Torista Gaster entertained thirty-five of her friends on Saturday, in celebration of her 14th birthday. The group gathered under the Hallow'en streamers that decorated the large carport adjoining the home on Twin Lakes. They spent the afternoon dancing to records, and sharing in games and conversation.

The refreshment table, covered with a lace cloth was arranged buffet style, where the group was served several varities of dainty sandwiches and chip-dips with cookies and cold drinks and the chocolate birthday cake.

Torista opened her lovely gifts for all to admire. She was assisted by her mother, Mrs. H. E. Gaster and her sister, Miss Guelda Gaster, and her aunt, Mrs. James Waldron.

THE INFINITE IN NATURE

God made the beautiful hills
And the valleys that lie between.
He made the rippling rills
That make the meadow green.
He made the wide spreading wood-lands
And the flowers that nestle there.
The soft cool shade of the shadows
And light breaking through here and there.
He made the creeks and the rivers
That flow far away o'er the sands,
And brings them back as raindrops
To water the thirsty lands.
He gives us the songs of the wood-birds
When the darkness is fading away
And the pale pink glow of the morning
Announces the coming of day.
He gives us the freshness of morning
When the dew is on the rose.
He gives us the warmth of the noon-day glow
And the stillness of night for repose.
He gives us the beauty of autumn
The charm of the goldenrod
The radiant brilliance of the landscape
Like a soothing benediction from God.
He gives us the blessing of vision
And the wisdom to understand
The marvelous Work of creation
Designed by the Infinite hand.

Winter Guest Club News

It is fine to note the increasing number of old faces back here again. Every day now we shake the hands of someone we haven't seen for months and bid 'em welcome home again. And the answer always is, "Glad to be back again." The Thayers have returned from their private hotel in New Hampshire, the Ely Merchants from their mansion in that same old State. There are returnees from Maine, Michigan, and all States in between. The Guest Clubhouse and grounds are quite lively these days, evenings too, and it is pleasant that way.

If you didn't see any Guest Club News last week, we don't quite know why. We remember laboriously writing up a sheet or two and handing them to a mutual friend at the door of the Sun office. What happened after that is a blank. It was "just one of those things" as we say sometimes.

Now for the games of the week. On Monday, the 24th, the devotees of penuchle, six tables strong, batled through the afternoon, and at the close Mrs. Anna Ford led the pack, with Mrs. Grace Warner close behind. Fine work, ladies. On the next afternoon three tables of bridge players spent the sunny hours slapping their cards upon the tables bidding anywhere from one club to six no trump. At set of sun when scores were counted Mr. Luyben was found to be high, Mrs. Huber almost but not quite. Cards are tricky things, aren't they?

The pick-your-partner tournament on the 26th ended with Mrs. Pickell and Duke Christensen leading all the rest, with Mrs. Brush and Mr. Sam Brown next in line, or copping the consolation. The pot-luck tournament on the 29th seems to have been won strangely enough by Mrs. Pickell and Duke Christensen again, with Mrs. Risner and Frank LaFollette winning the consolation event. The latter couple are new candidates for the Shuffleboard Hall of Fame, or so it seems to us.

The Hard Times frolic on Thursday evening brought out a goodly number of fun-loving folks. Quite apropos, that was, for it does look like hard times when a fellow has but one car in his garage instead of two. Well, be that as it may, there were present some seventy people, "some in rags, some in tags, and some in velvet gowns". The latter presumably having two cars at home instead of one, like the rest of the poor folks. But anyway all had a good time, a darn good time, some said, playing games of skill and chance, eating pumpkin pie and drinking oceans of coffee. The entertainment committee are to be congratulated on the success of their party.

The entertainment committee for November, we understand, is to be made up of folks from Ohio, Mrs. Grace Warner in charge. We are all a-tip-toe now to see what Ohio can bring forth to delight the multitude. And that's all the news we could pick up this week says

The Stroller

(Held Over From Last Week)

Now the Krenericks are back, a welcome and pleasing fact, the dancers are "tripping as they go, on the light fantastic toe," sometimes fast and sometimes slow, on Monday and on Friday night, and so the season starts a-light.

Having got that off our chest we will now state that the dancing folks are fast returning. As proof of the fact there were 80 people at the dance last Friday night, enough for six sets. That was a capacity house for so early in the season.

The practice class will have its first meeting on Monday night, October 31, at 8 p. m. This class is not only for beginners but for those who feel the need of special drill in preparation for the numbers to be found on the Friday night program.

A large number of the Friday night dancers declare they do not want any instruction given at that time. They prefer to "mess up" the sets, claiming that is real sport. Of course the instructor does not enjoy seeing his efforts demonstrated that way, but if that is the wish of the majority, that is the way it will be. If you find greater pleasure in doing the performance correctly, be sure to be on hand Monday evening.

It is pleasing to look about and note how well things look around here, really shipshape. The house and grounds have been washed and ironed. It's all wood and a yard wide now, repairs made, and everything in place. The new luncheon shed at the west end is up, wreckage cleared away, and ready for use again. And please note the new rubber bumpers at the ends of the several courts, and the big sign board up and in place again telling the passing world what is going on here. We are off to a good start.

We note that the hostesses of the house for the season of 1960-61 are the following fair and lovely ladies: Mrs. Clay Kull, ch., Mrs. J. Dixon, Mrs. Cliff Seifert, Mrs. J. Stuckey, and Mrs. Zeno Warner. Good times ahead for all with that leadership.

On Monday night, October 17, there were four tables of penochlers battling for the honors at the game. We are pleased to announce that Mrs. Viola Lexa was high at the close, next in line Mrs. Grace Warner. Give 'em the glad hand, folks. On Tuesday afternoon, the 18th, there was one table and Mr. Frank Thicroft ran away with the honors at the close. Another glad hand, please.

Fine weather the past week brought out an increasingly large crowd on the courts of shuffleboard. At the tournament on the 19th D. Christensen and J. Stuckey were the big winners, with Dot and Bill Johnson next in line to win the consolation honors. On Saturday evening, the 22, Mrs. Brush and Mr. Kostitch took first honors, Mrs. Brush and Mrs. Goodwin next in line. We can not help noticing how well the Brush family is sweeping the courts these days. Congratulations from all and sundry, including

Southland Trailer Park—

Hennington Is Released From Hospital

Friends are delighted to have Ben Henningham back in the Park after his long stay at the Walker Memorial Hospital, from an injury he sustained Sept. 11. Being on crutches will probably interfere with his fishing sport for the present time, but he will very likely continue to pursue his fine art of baking. The ladies say his culinary arts match those of any of the finest cooks.

Cliff and Ruth Neynaber have sold their home in Detroit, Mich., and expect to settle down permanently here, which pleases their friends in the Park.

The shuffleboard courts have been scrubbed and waxed and new equipment purchased which will add to the pleasure of shuffling for this season.

Colored lights adorn the palms and entrance to the Park to add a cheerful welcome to the winter residents.

Mrs. Earl Crawshaw, leader and Mrs. Eloise Sharpe, assistant leader, took the girls to the Florida Power Clubhouse where they helped Diane Murphy celebrate her birthday. Diane's mother and sister, Janice were also present to help with the celebration.

A Hallowe'en theme was prevalent in all of the decorations and the games included contests and square dancing. Connie Elder, Janie Barben and Nicky Hancock won prizes in the contests.

Diane received many lovely gifts. Each guest was presented with a ring as a favor. Mrs. Murphy served hamburgers, hotdogs, potato chips and the birthday cake with punch and candy.

Besides the Brownie Troop the guests were Betty Padelford, Pat Selph, Connie Elder and Janice Murphy.

Cotton Crop Down—Yields Are Lower

The 1960 cotton crop was estimated at 14,553,000 bales by the Crop Reporting Board last week. This is slightly below the 1959 crop of 14,558,000 bales. The 1949-58 average is 13,710,000 bales.

The indicated yield per acre for the United States of 450 pounds compares with 462 pounds in 1959 and the 1958 record high of 466 pounds. Yields are lower than last year in most states with California the only state indicating a record high.

The State of Citrus

Florida Citrus Mutual

(Editor's Note: Marie Bolles, Editor of the Eustis NEWS, was a member of Florida Citrus Mutual's recent World Citrus Tour as winner of the 1960 Florida Citrus Writing Competition. Her last dispatch from the Tour comes from Paris.)

By MARIE BOLLES
Editor, Eustis NEWS

PARIS.—While most big cities lose individuality in the maze of bigness, Paris clings to her way of magnificence and exudes an essence of magic—if you want to catch.

Perhaps the best way to feel the spirit of Paris is to sit in a sidewalk cafe on the Champs Elysees and watch the world go by. The Champs Elysees is one of the most magnificent streets in the world. It connects the Place de la Concorde at the east and the Etoile on the west. Louis XV built it through open fields and now it is the center of elegance and business . . . with fine shops, hotels, and restaurants.

The great monumental arch at the western end of the Champs Elysees is the Arc de Triomphe which Napoleon started in 1808 to honor his armies, but it was not finished until 1836. Beneath it is the grave of the French Unknown Soldier, marked by the eternal flame lighted in 1920. The Arc stands in the center of the Etoile with 12 avenues radiating from it.

Then of course you haven't lived until you've taken a taxi ride in Paris. These tiny little cars seem to be everywhere at the same time. They can cut in front of a line of traffic as smoothly as you would cut a piece of butter for your breakfast toast.

Road markings, incidentally, are uniform throughout Europe. And exceedingly simple. Markings are by picture, not words.

Sightseeing in Paris included:

MONTMARTRE — Traditional home of Bohemians and artists. This picturesque area is atop a hill on the north side of the city. It's a maze of twisting streets with artists painting outdoors.

EIFFEL TOWER—The most conspicuous landmark in Paris rising skyward on the south bank of the Seine. Alexandre Eiffel designed and built the tower for the Paris Exposition of 1889. For 50 years it was the world's tallest structure (984 feet) and is now taller by a TV antenna. On the first and second landing there are restaurants with superb views of the city. It's interesting to note that Eiffel also designed the framework of the Statue of Liberty in New York Harbor and a miniature model of the statue was seen by Mutual tourists in the Luxembourg Gardens.

THE LOUVRE—Generally regarded as the most famous museum in the world, it is without doubt the biggest and best. It started as a fortress, built by Philippe Auguste and in the 14th centure it was a royal residence, becoming a museum under Louis XV.

NOTRE DAME CATHEDRAL and the Church of the Sacred Heart were also included in the tour.

A visit to Versailles, the vast palace of Louis XIV, was a high spot. Here Mutual tourists viewed the splendor of former centuries.

France, Europe's fourth largest citrus juice importer, purchased 1.5 million gallons of all types of citrus juices in 1958. North Africa (French Zone) supplied nearly all of the orange juice. Italy supplied more than half of the lemon juice and Israel most of the grapefruit juice.

Orange juice imports are increasing and lemon juice imports are decreasing. Single strength grapefruit juice imports have increased and concentrated grapefruit juice declined. This shift in imports is due largely to the restriction of U. S. imports in 1958. In 1956 France imported 448,000 gallons of grapefruit juice from the U. S. and in 1958 only token quantities.

Before the war some U. S. grapefruit sections were imported by France. Post-war imports have been negligible and no sections from any source are to be found in French retail shops.

France uses both canned single-strength orange and grapefruit juice. Most of the canned orange juice comes from North Africa, but it has never gained wide popularity. It is a tart juice of good color and is canned in small volume by Algerian and Moroccan processors. In the past, considerable quantities of Florida single-strength grapefruit juice have been imported. Some French importers have developed their own brands for these juices.

While the demand is here immediate trade possibilities are difficult to predict. Until U. S. citrus juices can be imported without restriction, the U. S. cannot regain its former position in this big market.

France can be a very important market for U. S. citrus juices if import restrictions are removed. The potential is worth a major effort.

Hereford Assn. To Hold 14th Annual Bull Sale

WEBSTER. — The Florida Hereford Association will hold its fourteenth annual Hereford bull sales at the livestock pavilion here on November 3. The sale will be held in conjunction with the Sumter All-Florida Breeders' Show held here annually.

The sale will feature 110 purebred Hereford bulls of the highest quality states sales manager Gary N. Brown of Leesburg.

The sale will have both horned and polled bulls with consignments from Florida, Georgia, Alabama, and South Carolina.

This sale will be even bigger and better than last year's which in its turn was the largest ever held in the series of Florida's oldest continuously-held purebred cattle auctions.

Brown reports he has given his personal attention to consignments, and states the bulls are the highest quality animals ever sold in a Florida Hereford Association sponsored sale.

In last year's sale 88 bulls brought a total gross of $36,630 to average $416.

Pet Owners Asked To Watch For Screwworms

Florida owners of small animals and domestic pets were urged to keep a sharp watch for screwworms following the recent discovery in Tampa of the first positive case of the costly pest to be reported in the state in the past 16 months.

The importance of prompt reporting of any suspected screwworm case to the proper authorities also was stressed.

According to Dr. D. E. Meadows, Jr., chief of the screwworm eradication section, Florida state veterinarian's office, screwworms have been found by a Tampa veterinarian in a wound on a greyhound that recently had been transported into Florida from the Southwest. Immediate precautions have been taken in the area, he added, and will be continued to prevent any possible spread of the pest.

"Since the successful eradication program in 1958-59, livestock owners throughout Florida have been alerted to the continuing danger of possible screwworm reentry into the state," said Dr. Meadows. "It is possible, however, that owners of dogs and other small domestic animals have failed to realize the importance of continued vigilance on their part.

"Florida and the Federal government spent seven million dollars in 1958-59 to wipe out screwworms in this state as part of a co-operative program to eradicate them from the Southeast. The task was accomplished in less than 18 months. But we can't let down our guard so long as screwworms continue to exist in the Southwest and Mexico."

Since the eradication program ended in November, 1959 its mass-production and aerial distribution of steril flies, efforts have been concentrated on continuous inspection of livestock in every Florida county, Meadows said.

To protect the Southeast from possible screwworm re-infestation, Federal regulations require inspection and spraying of livestock shipped in from any area not free of the pest. State regulations control such shipments into Florida.

Dr. Meadows pointed out, however, that dogs and other small animals sometimes are not visible to inspectors at the various points where larger animals, such as cattle and horses, are checked.

"Any warm-blooded animal the size of a rabbit or larger is subject to screwworm infestation," he said, "and a domestic pet with a case of screwworms is as much a menace as an infested steer.

"Prompt reporting to a county agent or livestock inspector of any suspected screwworm-infested wound in vitally important. Samples of maggots must be saved for proper identification so that if the case should be positive, immediate precautionary measures can be taken."

Bids Will Be Opened For New Pump Machinery

Bids will be opened by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers Jacksonville District about December 1, for the fabrication and supply of pumping machinery for three pumping stations in Glades County.

The pumps and necessary engines and transmission are expected to cost about $350,000. Installation of the equipment will be under a separate contract.

Delivery of the pumping equipment will be to Moore Haven, Florida and the units will be installed in the Northwest Shore Flood Control levees of Lake Okeechobee for the purpose of pumping drainage water from the landside of the levees into the lake. The pumping equipment is for installation at Levees 48, 49, and 50 near State Road 78 about 27, 20, and 13 miles, respectively, from Moore Haven.

Construction and delivery of the equipment is expected to take approximately a year following the award of contract. The successful bidder will supply a technical advisor to oversee the installation of the pumps and related equipment by the structure contractor.

Following installation of the pumping equipment, expected about January 1962, that area of the drainage control district will be virtually completed.

Plans and specifications may be obtained from the District Engineer, U. S. Army Engineer District, Jacksonville, Corps of Engineers, P. O. Box 4970, Jacksonville 1, Florida.

JIM HALEY'S VOTING RECORD IS SOUND!

"A NATIONAL LAWMAKER OF OUTSTANDING DEVOTION TO PRINCIPLES OF CONSERVATIVE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT."

In endorsing Congressman Haley's re-election one prominent area newspaper stated: "In Congressman Haley the Seventh District has a representative who has stood the test of time well both as a state and national legislator. We think it would be ridiculous and unrealistic to substitute a newcomer to Congress in his place and lose his seniority and vast value to the people of the Seventh District. Political realists know that the real power of the nation lies in Congress among the various committees and with the men who have tenure and have shown they can handle responsible tasks. Probably the greatest tribute which can be paid to Congressman Haley is: He is his own man."

Jim Haley's work in this area for extension of prison leases, screw worm eradication, small watershed and other programs has made him a valued representative with great knowledge of your needs. Keep an energetic, effective worker on your side. Vote to return Jim Haley to Congress!

Rams Whamed

Dick Nagel took advantage of the unexpected turn of events and quickly covered the ball to give the Devils possession on their opponents forty-five. Jackie Seims proceeded to mastermind a forty-five yard drive that ended with fullback Joe Milton blasting through from the four for Avon Park's third TD. Lamon Money took a pitch-out from Seims and then passed to Touchton for the Devil's only extra point of the game.

Late in the third quarter Belle Glade took over on their own forty-forty-five when the Devils gambled on fourth down and missed by a foot or so. Trailing 19-0, the Rams took to the air and quarterback John Bass hit his halfbacker Roger Walker and his ends Davis and Martin for long gains which moved the ball to Avon Park's six in spite of a fifteen yard penalty against them on the way. A five yarder from the six slowed the hard driving Rams down though and the Devils tightened up their defense and held. So for the first time all evening the Avon Park eleven was deep in its own territory. From the fourteen, Money tried an end sweep, got caught behind the line of scrimmage and tried to lateral to a teammate. A Belle Glade player picked the attempted lateral out of the air and stumbled to the six. John Bass then rolled out and raced around his left end to score untouched for the Rams. Carl Norris booted the extra point to put seven points on the scoreboard for the visitors.

But Money redeemed himself with the Avon Park fans when he took Belle Glade's kick-off and thrilled the crowd with a forty-five yard return to the Rams forty. With the exception of two two yard gains by Milton and Hall, Money moved the ball on to the twenty and then the flashy Devil halfback finished off the drive with a twenty-three yard touchdown romp around his left end. Needless to say, ten other Red Devils were playing mighty good ball to give Money the chance to break clear on his long gains. The Devils try for the point failed for the third time so the score read 25-7.

Belle Glade came right back with a 65 yard scoring drive of their own on the next series. John Bass sparked the Rams with long runs and passes to his halfbacks and dashed the last nine yards himself to serve his second TD of the game. Their extra point was wide and the scoring ended 25-13. In the remaining three minutes of play, the Devils were forced to punt after four plays. The Rams passed on their first play but Money intercepted. Seims ran to Belle Glade's forty for a gain of nine yards on the final play of the game.

Quarterback Seims added an extra spark to the Devil's offense last week with several well executed carries on option plays. The young co-captain played perhaps his best game of the season as he kept the Rams defense on edge with passes, options, power plays, and end sweeps.

Senior tackle Reese Parrish led the big Red line which outplayed the heavier Rams' forward wall and blasted open holes for the Devil backs who racked up 255 yards on the ground. Devil linemen Andy Miracle, Bill Scott, Clayton Jenkins, and ends Joe Jackson and Ed Touchton were all outstanding on defense for Avon Park.

Dick Nagel deserved special mention for his terrific job on pass defense. Dick has intercepted five passes in the last seven games and has done a bang-up job as defensive halfback for the Red Devils all year. Linebackers Joe Milton and David Barefield were tough on the Rams ball carriers as they backed up the Devils' Red Raider defense.

COFFEE HOSTESSES—These ladies were hostesses Friday morning in honor of Mrs. James Haley. The group which served the coffee in the Palm Room of the Jacaranda Hotel were (left to right) Martha Ward, Beverly Carney (Cong. Here's More About—

Did It Occur

that by providing a litter bag for your auto you could help save the state some $280,000 a year, the expense of removing trash from our roadsides?

that litter on the highways and streets is a traffic hazard. Untold accidents have been the direct cause of trying to dodge litter in the path of oncoming traffic?

that by putting such things as empty cigarette packages, tissue, beer cans, liquor bottles, Coke bottles and gum wrappers in a container instead of on the streets, you are saving lives, saving tax money and heeding a moral obligation to your country?

that by having good housekeeping habits in your home and well as on the street that you are helping to improve the looks of your community as well as preventing eyesores that mar the natural beauty of our town and country?

that by the simple act of putting trash in containers in such public places as the post office, for instance, you would be doing your part to make the community more attractive to ourselves and well as our visitors?

that is is up to you as a committee of one to see that you and others do not menace the health of our community by being careless with used food containers, straws and germ-laden tissues?

that part of your social responsibility lies in a display of good manners, good manners means thinking of others. Thinking of those who will come after you at the picnic ground for instance, or good manners in thinking of the ones who have to pick up after you have tossed trash in their front yard from your car?

Did it ever occur to you that while you are very particular about your own premises you might be a little lax in the way you litter up the streets and roadways of YOUR community? Think about it. It concerns you and all of us . . . who live together to make up a community.

Election note: The election of a Florida Agriculture Commissioner Nov. 8 will mark the first change in that office since 1923. Nathan Mayo, who announced his retirement from the caginet post before his recent death, was believed to have held th same elective position longer than anyone in the United States.

150 International Virologists Make Nursery Sojourn

One hundred and fifty members of the International Organization of Citrus Virologists made a brief tour of the Highlands Citrus Industry Wednesday, November 9. The IOVC held their second annual conference in Lc'' Alfred at the Citrus Experiment Station Monday and Tuesday. The field trip left Lake Alfred Wednesday morning and visited experimental plots and the State Plant Board Citrus Budwood Program nursery at Winter Haven, toured spreading decline areas near Lake Wales and Babson Park then came to Avon Park. The motorcade was met at the Highlands County line by the Highlands County Sheriff's patrol and escorted to the home of the G. F. Wards on Lake Lotela where they were served lunch on the lawn.

After lunch the motorcade wound its way through Minute Maid and other local groves to the 200 acres site of Ward's Nursery, Inc. where they inspected the wind machines installed for forest protection and machinery used in nursery cultivation and propagation. Leaving Ward's Nursery the group were escorted to the county line where they were met by the Polk County patrol and headed for Orlando where the remaining two days of the Conference will be held.

The International Organization of Citrus Virologists is comprised of leading virologists and plant pathologists from all over the world. They meet in conference only on the average of every four years. The last Conference was held at Riverside, Calif. in 1957. Attending the Conference this year were representatives from Australia, British West Indies, Egypt, France, India, Israel, Morocco, Peru, Brazil, Argentina, Phillipines, South Africa, and Japan as well as from the United States.

Education Week Is Set For Nov. 6-12

American Education Week observance grew out of a revelation, during World War 1, that a shocking percentage of the American people were illiterate and physically unfit. The NEA working with the American Legion led in the first observance of Nation Education Week in 1921. The United States Office of Education the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and many other groups help plan and finance many N.E.W. projects and activities today.

Purpose is to increase public understanding and appreciation of education, schools and their needs and problems, current teaching methods and materials and to strengthen the bonds of cooperation between school and community . . . to name only a few of the high purposes of the N.E.W.

The high schools held open house Tuesday evening and the Avon Elementary School held open house Wednesday morning when parents were invited to visit their child's classroom and talk with the teachers.

Christmas Seals Mailed This Week

Mayor J. D. Hunt of Sebring, Christmas Seal Chairman for the 1960 Seal Campaign announces that the Highlands County TB & Health Association is mailing letters this week with the 1960 Christmas Seals enclosed. The fight against TB must go on. You are urged to read your letter for the facts, and to send your gift, large or small in the self-addressed envelope enclosed with your seals.

Mayor Hunt, Mrs. Mabel Thompson, executive secretary and Mrs. Myra Maxwell, president of the Highlands County TB & Health Association, express thanks to the dozen of people who gave hundreds of hours work in getting these ready to mail. If your Seals are stuck from dampness, they beg your indulgence to blame it on Donna. The Seals arrived during the torrential rains when everything in Florida was penetrated with dampness.

Club To Honor Youth

The Avon Park Optimist club this week joined with more than 1800 other such clubs in their annual "Youth Appreciation Week."

It is the feeling of the group that 95% of the youth of America should not be condemned for the actions of the other 5% who manage to compile mountainous crime statistics.

The feeling of the local Optimist club is that the week of November 14-20 should be set aside to give all of the law-abiding youth of this country a hearty "Pat On The Back" and make every effort to let them know that they are appreciated for what they are and not a bunch of young hoods as many would want this country to believe.

To this end, local president Vern Griffin of the Optimist club asked Mayor E. A. DeLaney to set this period aside as Youth Appreciation Week in Avon Park.

The following is a proclamation to kick off the week's activity of the organization.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, law-abiding youth are distressed by the shadow cast by juvenile delinquents over the entire teen-age segment of our population, and

WHEREAS, more than 95% of these young people are respectable, ambitious youth worthy of commendation and

WHEREAS, the citizens of the City of Avon Park wish to join the Optimist Club of Avon Park in its wish to express sincere respect and gratitude to these wholesome young people for their contribution to this community,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, E. A. DeLANEY, SR., MAYOR, proclaim November 14-20 as

and urge every citizen of Avon Park to recognize the accomplishments of our young people and to extend them appreciation and friendly confidence.

E. A. DeLaney, Sr.,

As Highlands Goes So Goes The State:

Again the old adage of the political circles comes to the fore as Highlands County held true to form and again went Republican in Tuesday's election insofar as the presidential race was concerned.

Congressman James Haley put forth a strong bid for re-election and came out in good shape over his Republican opponent Bartholemew by totaling 3622 votes to the GOP candidate's 2067.

Farris Bryant in the governor's race held a substantial lead over Peterson. Peterson made a good showing in Highlands county but speculation places this in the "could be" column in that voters may have cast their lot for the Republican in protect of Bryant's reluctance to endorse the national ticket while others feel that the vote came from Doyle Carlton backers in a hold-over from the primaries.

Bryant was far ahead in a precincts of the county except in number 12 where he tallied 330 to Peterson's 532. In all other parts of the county the Democrats nearly doubled or more than doubled all of Petersons votes.

In other races the Democrats retained power in Tallahassee.

County tallies are as follows:

Secretary of State
Adams (D)	3570
Thompson (R)	2124
State Treasurer
Larsen (D)	3603
Fisher (R)	2120

Administrator Is Named To Commission

On Rehabilitation—

Ernest A. Shepherd, Administrator of the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program, has been appointed to a new International Commission to study alcoholism in the United States and Canada.

Shepherd will serve with 24 other commission members from the U. S. and Canada in a critical examination of alcoholism for a five year period. The study is being financed by an unprecedented million-dollar grant from the National Institute of Mental Health of the U. S. Public Health Services.

"The goal of the commission is to learn how alcoholism has reached its present proportions in the United States and Canada, and to search out better ways of dealing with this serious problem," Shepherd says.

The Commission, under the direction of Dr. Nevitt Sanford, professor of psychology at the University of California, will examine and re-evaluate all scientific knowledge of alcoholism as a disease and a social problem. In addition to the many organizations which deal with alcoholism or are related to it will be studied.

"Nothing will be overlooked," says Shepherd. "Lobbies of all kinds surrounding the use of alcohol, the Temperance movement, sales promotion, law enforcement methods, health, welfare, and educational agencies will be systematically studied," he adds.

Shepherd points out that there are around 165,000 alcoholics in Florida, and that alcoholism is considered the nation's fourth major health problem, affecting more than five million persons.
