Winter Guest Club News

We have a good friend named Jim. An apology is due to him for the name which is not nearly as nice as Jim. So here is our apology, in good plain print for all to see. We like the name of Jim or James; we've seen it in the Hall of Fame(s). Moreover it's easier for to spell, the name of James than Sam.

Now that the winter guest season is so well underway the Monday and Friday dances are humming along with apparently increasing tempo. The first practice dance, on the last evening in October, was well attended. Three sets were in operation that night, and three couples on hand, eager for instruction. It looks as though the instructor this winter is going to have his hands full, which is no doubt the way he likes it.

On Friday evening, Nov. 4, there were seventy persons present, enough for five sets most of the time. All dancers are now asked to note the variations in the programs from week to week. Selma is a number repeated the following Friday, and most nights there are repeated till the third week. New numbers seem to give greater interest. It is essential that a program be well balanced as to the type of dances used. Our usual program consists of eight squares, two rounds, two mixers, and five ballroom or social dances. On with the dance, let joy be uncorrupted, as the poet said.

The musical shift began the season's Sunday afternoon singings on the 6th of November with about fifty present. It is the present plan to have these singings every other Sunday, the next being on the 20th, from 3 to 4 p.m.

Besides the group singing on this first meeting, Mrs. Wolvenberg gave two readings, one being "The Art of Forgetting," which, as to say, we know all about. Cal Sturtevant played two numbers on his harmonica, one being "Joy to the World," and the men's chorus, who sang "The Old Rugged Cross." Among the fifteen were those two beloved youngsters, Rulison, 91, and our Cal on the edge of 90. Good work, boys. Love on, sing on.

We should have said a bit more last week about the Hall of Fame party. We'll add a postscript now. The hall that night was decorated to suit the occasion with yellow and white, black cuts with arched backs, witches riding brooms, and big yellow pumpkins, the counterpart of which appeared later in very delectable and digestible pies. The program was engineered by the following group, who did an excellent job. — Mrs. Book, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stuckey, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pickell, and Mr. Frank LaFollette. Mrs. Wm. Ford did an excellent job of supplying the pie and doughnuts.

As for the games of the week we have the following historical facts to report. Six tables of pennants fought it out on the last day of October with the result that Mrs. Sylvia Book was champion for the afternoon with Mrs. Rich and Mrs. Edith Wagner close behind. Or, to put it metrically, Mrs. Book, the second Edith Wagner took. Next day the bridges had a battle, at least on the table of them, and Mr. Luyben was victorious with a score of 3350. Robinson and Mr. Goodman were still with the score 3270.

The shuffleboard tournaments now, be it noted, are on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons instead of in the evening. Now let joy be uncorrupted, as the poet said.

On November 1, a group of the nurses of District No. 27 met at the Walker Memorial Hospital for the regular monthly business meeting and to hear reports of the convention of the Florida Nurses Association which was held in the Sevens Hotel in St. Petersburg, October 25-28. District No. 27 was represented by four delegates: Mrs. Mary Daugherty, the president-elect; Mrs. Doris Payne, director of nursing; Mrs. Alice Bell and Mrs. Margaret June Dixon, operating room supervisor and obstetrical supervisor, respectively, of the Walker Memorial Hospital staff.

A special award of merit for outstanding service to the profession and to the Florida Nurses Association was presented to Mrs. Daugherty for the district. The citation was for achieving the largest percentage of new members for the district during the year.

The convention proved helpful to those in attendance. Our delegates reported a total of 541 registered nurses in attendance at the convention which was the largest on record for Florida. The House of Delegates voted to hold their next convention in Jacksonville.

2. The club accomplishing the most outstanding conservation project of the year.
3. The most outstanding local club conservation chairman.

Assisting Jaycees in the program will be the Florida Conservation Council, the Florida Wildlife Federation, the National Wildlife Federation, the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, and other interested organizations, Anderson said.

More Guests Arrive Here For Season

This past week marked the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Wustler from Clearfield, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. McArthur from Grand Rapids, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dowell from Beaumont, Ohio; and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Finney, Huntington, Ind.

The Harry Greville was among the winners of gifts from the Shoppertown Days offering. They had two lucky numbers.

Mr. and Mrs. Corwin Coate have enjoyed a visit from their son who was here for the weekend from Troy, Ohio.

Mrs. Evelyn Fritz is spending a few days at her home in Miami.

Friends are glad Ben Henningsham is making progress and is able to get around again.

Both Troops adopted the Get-Out-The-Vote project as their goal for November. It is hoped by the Scouts and their leaders that the citizens of Avon Park headed this club and that their good turn played a part in turning out the record vote Tuesday.

Other States Faced With Red Ticks

Sebring, Florida—Florida is not alone in facing the problem of wiping out the recently discovered African red fever tick. Directors of the co-operative State-Federal Tick Eradication program in Florida were advised today that the red tick, a potential carrier of cattle tick fever, has been found on animals at a zoo in New York.

The New York discovery resulted from inspections made after tracing origin of zoo animals to Florida was reported. They were found to be a shipment of 14 zebras from Kenya, East Africa.

According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Washington, 10 of the zebras were consigned to the Tampa area, three to a zoo in New York State and one remains in the USDA quarantine station at Clifton, New Jersey. The 14 animals were 28 days in transit from Africa and were held in quarantine at Clifton for 30 days before they were released.

Though the red tick is a potential carrier of several types of fever dangerous to livestock, no fever of any kind has been found during the current program to wipe out fever ticks in Florida. None of the livestock fevers is transmissible to humans.

Program directors point out that no satisfactory treatment has been developed for cattle tick fever, since fever ticks are the only carriers of the disease in the United States, getting rid of such ticks eliminates danger of the disease.

Eradication measures for the red tick differ radically from those being used in Florida's current fever tick eradication program, the third since 1943.

Fertilizer Use Is Up 12% In One Year

Figures compiled by USDA's Agricultural Research Service show an increase of 12 per cent consumption of fertilizers in the United States during the year ending June 30, 1959, as compared with the preceding 12 months. 23.3 million tons were used in 1958-59 compared with 22.5 million tons in 1957-58.

Consumption was substantially higher in both fertilizer mixtures and in materials used for direct application to the soil. Increase in the West North Central, East South Central and South Atlantic regions alone in Hawaii exceeded the national 12 per cent increase.

Scientists To Be In Line For Training

A program of research associations offering young scientists a chance to receive advanced training among highly-qualified veteran scientists has been announced by USDA and the National Research Council of the National Academy of Sciences.

A total of 25 associations will be supported by the USDA's Agricultural Research Service under the program. They will be awarded about April 1, 1961. Each will enable the recipient to receive training and do research for a year at one of the 15 ARS Pioneer Research Laboratories. These are special units established nearly three years ago to explore beyond the present limits of scientific knowledge.

The State of Citrus

By John Stiles

Lakeview Citrus Mutual

Lakeview—When the Seminoles of Ponce de Leon or Mother Nature—whatever or whatever—watered the first orange seeds that were to flourish into today's 400,000 acres of Florida's bearing groves, they he or she doubtless had no inkling that centuries later a man named United Arab Republic, would like to know all about our oranges.

For that matter, Florida orange growers, themselves, of half- or even a quarter-century ago probably would have tut-tutted any notion that by the mid-1960s every citrus grove in the world, even in the storied places like Port Said, would be centered on Florida.

Yet, this is how global Florida citrus has become in a relatively few years. And this could result in an increasingly larger world-wide trade for Florida citrus in the coming years.

United Arab Republic, a manufacturer and general exporter-importer in Port Said, has addressed a letter to Florida Citrus Mutual at "Miami, Florida" figuring, no doubt, that mail reach its desired Florida destination. The letter was promptly e-mailed to James C. Morton, Mutual vice president who was one of the pioneers in the movement which resulted in Mutual becoming the largest organization of its kind in the world, now comprising more than 10,000 Florida citrus growers.

Except from M. Hedieh's letter, "I have read with great interest about the wonderful things you have done in the waves that would erode the lower levee slopes.

The contract calls for 4,000,000 cubic yards of earth to be successful bidder will be allowed 400 calendar days to complete the project.

Bid invitations were sent to 35 construction firms and 5 submitted bids on the project.

field of Citrus . . . I would sincerely appreciate to receive information from you on the following subjects:

- 1) Frozen orange concentrate.
- 2) Chilled juice.
- 3) Primary uses of citrus by products, such as cattle feed, seed oil, margarine, etc.

Hedieh's letter isn't singled out here as being something unusual. Mutual receives letters every day from the far corners seeking information on Florida citrus. Morton, in recent weeks, has had such letters from South Africa and Venezuela.

Every season delegations come to Lakeland from afar—Thailand, Morocco, Formosa, Brazil, and infinitum—to study Mutual and Florida citrus.

Come to think of it, Jimmy Morton, himself, is a Scot—born near Edinburgh.

Talk about One World, why? An appropriate spot to hold a session of the United Nations. Preferably without Khrushchev or Castro, of course.

In spite of some storm and weather damage, fall production of cabbage, cauliflower, and broccoli in Florida is expected to equal or exceed last year's volume.

Monkey Fishing Said To Be Reduced To Minimum By State

TALLAHASSEE — Illegal fishing with electrical devices has now been reduced to a minimum in Florida, according to A. D. Aldrich, director, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

"The rash of illegal electrical fishing activity for catfish that broke out in the Lake George and St. Johns River area several years ago has been contained and reduced almost to the point of non-existence," Aldrich said.

"There are no more than six or eight persons now in that area who slip out occasionally for a little illegal electrical fishing activity. Our St. Johns River patrol of wildlife officers is still working day and night to make arrests and reduce the few violations that occur."

The current situation is as follows:

If the wildlife officers keep the best of patrol equipment but relax their patrol efforts, illegal electrical fishing will increase even though catfish are scarce.

If the officers patrol constantly with the best of equipment, but the catfish become abundant and the market price high, illegal fishing will increase.

If the officers have slow-running inferior boats and air patrol equipment, illegal fishing will increase even though catfish are scarce.

"Naturally, we intend to keep maximum law-enforcement patrol efforts along with superior equipment in continuous usage. But it is essentially a never-ending battle of profit-and-loss. We must keep illegal fishing unprofitable for the few hardened violators, through the fine efforts of our wildlife officers and our Florida courts and juries," he said.

Messiah Practice To Be Held Each Sunday Afternoon

Each Sunday afternoon during November the Messiah Group will practice at the First Baptist Church in Sebring at 3 p. m. All members are urged to attend and Paul Buskey, the director has announced that new members are welcome to join the group.

A final report on Hurricane Donna was given by the executive secretary, Mrs. Wooden. It was pointed out that our National Organization spent $10,000 more than our county sent to National.

The audit of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1960 was approved. The audit of the chapter books was made by Frank Hughes, who for the past several years has audited our books without remuneration.

The chapter is being forced to request a grant from the national organization to continue service to Highlands County due to the fact that our county has not met its required goal for the past four years. At present the treasury has enough to continue operations for only two months. Considering the amount the National Red Cross has contributed to our county the board expressed regret in having to ask for a grant.

The board officially sanctioned Mr. Davis appointment of George Crist as Safety Services Chairman for the county chapter. Plans were discussed for an all out effort to have a really good Water Safety Program for Lake Placid in the near future.

The entire board of directors expressed regrets when Mr. Davis announced the resignation of board member, John P. Arnold.

Mrs. Gordon Burris, Chairman of Volunteers, gave a glowing account of the chapter's community activities and what's going on in the County Red Cross wise, such as a First Aid Class in Lake Placid with David Barber, qualified Red Cross instructor, conducting; Mother and baby care class in the Avon Park high school with Mrs. Violet Mosley, Home Making Teacher and Mrs. Harry Lee, RN, Red Cross Home Nursing Instructor, conducting; Gray Ladies in the Woodlawn Elementary School in Sebring, have been on duty since the first day of school, and what an excellent service they are rendering serving in the health room and relieving the principal and teachers of that responsibility.

Mrs. Burris also reported that Mrs. Arnold, volunteer Gray Lady chairman for the county, is at present interviewing applicants for the Gray Lady Service to serve in the Avon Elementary School. Mrs. Burris complimented Mrs. Arnold for her wonderful

Game Funds Under Close Supervision

TALLAHASSEE — Financial transactions of the State Game Fund and the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission have always been closely controlled and supervised by law, A. D. Aldrich, Commission director, stated today.

"We have been informed that some citizens do not understand how their fishing and hunting license money is controlled and handled under the provisions of the State Game Fund," Aldrich said.

By law, all records of the Commission are open to public inspection by any citizen at all times.

All money resulting from fishing and hunting licenses and from operation of fresh-water fish and wildlife conservation programs, is deposited in the State Game Fund, as provided in the Florida Constitution.

The Commission's annual budget is submitted to the State Budget Commission and the State Comptroller.

The Commission also publishes a complete fiscal report of financial receipts and expenditures in its official Biennial Report, with copies furnished to the Governor, all members of the Florida Legislature, and to the press and general public.

"We also follow the procedures established for us by the State Purchasing Council and the Florida Merit System," Aldrich said.

Second Grade

Brownies Split

Into 3 Patrols

The second grade Brownies have divided into three patrols, and elected leaders and assistant leaders as follows: The Rosebud Patrol, Susan Gore and Sara McClure; The Deer Patrol, Gail Holman and Barbara Flowers; The Bluebird Patrol, Doreen Braxton and Lee Barker.

Mrs. Don Braxton told the girls the Brownie story which all they enjoyed and Winifred Davis and her mother, Mrs. Fred Davis, served refreshments.

At last the troop has received their new number, which is 79. In the future they will be the Brownie Troop No. 79. They were all very proud of winning first prize for their first in the Halloween Parade. Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Braxton and Mrs. Mac Flowers rode with the troop on their float.

This week the Troop practiced for their Investiture Ceremonies which will be held November 17. At the close of their meeting Susan Gore and her mother, Mrs. W. E. Gore served refreshments.

President of the Florida Turf Grass Association is Ralph F. Jones of Jacksonville.

Low-calorie, high-vitaminized vegetable stuffing will have great appeal to dieters and the whole family will come away from the Thanksgiving feast feeling happy but not stuffed—unless the one with the richer dressing and stuffings.

The slightly gamey flavor of the turkey will permeate the vegetables and any in turn will flavor the turkey, making it more tender and juicy.

There is a veritable cornucopia of garden-fresh vegetables on the market in increasing abundance now from the vast farmlands of Southern Florida for the turkey stuffing to choose from. Those in greatest supply, and thus cheapest, include eggplant, potatoes, green peppers, radishes, cucumbers, celery, tomatoes and green beans. Some of these go nicely inside the turkey—others are better as a garnish around him. Celery strips, diced tomatoes, cucumbers and radishes can serve a double-barreled purpose of vegetables and hors d'oeuvre.

Vegetables used for the stuffing should be prepared in long strips, if practical, seasoned and sautéed in butter or bacon grease before hand. They will absorb more flavor this way. Also, it is important to cook them until nearly done. When they're all tied up inside the turkey, they cook very little, even though the bird may bake for several hours.

Most compatible for the turkey's big breast cavity are the beans, potatoes, celery strips and peppers. Chopped eggplant, peppers and celery combine well with oysters into a dressing for the neck opening.

In selecting the turkey, allow 1½ pounds per person if for one meal, two pounds a person if two dinner meals are anticipated.

Rub the turkey inside and out with salt several hours ahead of cooking time to improve the flavor. Sprinkle paprika on before baking.

Cooking time varies but it is

THE FOUR-WAY TEST

1. Is it the TRUTH?

2. Is it FAIR to all concerned?

3. Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?

4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

Campaign To Save Bald Eagle Started

TALLAHASSEE.—A campaign designed to save the Bald Eagle, our national emblem and symbol of freedom—has been launched throughout Florida, according to A. D. Aldrich, director, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

A proclamation by Florida's Governor, LeRoy Collins, setting aside the week of October 23-29 as Bald Eagle week is being met with action on the part of the Florida Audubon Society, Florida Federation of Garden Clubs, and many local civic and conservation organizations.

The Bald Eagle is fully protected by both Federal and State law, and it is a violation to kill, molest or possess a Bald Eagle or their eggs or nests.

The Game Commission director pointed out that if the Bald Eagle is to be saved from extinction more than protective laws are needed. There is, Aldrich said, an urgent need for a better public understanding of the situation that faces the Bald Eagle. This bird is now seriously threatened by its failure to raise enough young each year to maintain the population. Both research and action are needed if we are to save this species.

Florida is reported to have the largest Bald Eagle population in the United States with the exception of Alaska. However the Florida population has declined rapidly with the advancement of civilization and was retarded even further by recent nest destruction resulting from hurricanes.

Steve Maxwell Celebrates His Birthday

About thirty friends gathered at the Maxwell home to help Steve celebrate his birthday Saturday night. They brought him many lovely gifts which were opened and admired.

During the evening refreshments were served from a buffet table where the guests enjoyed a variety of sandwiches, cakes and cookies and a cheese dip with potato chips with iced fruit juice.

Coke according to instructions given above.

When ready to serve, the vegetables may be removed and placed around the turkey on a large platter. The turkey will look prettier if the dressing is served as it is made.

Note: If you are serious about cutting down on calories, pre-cook the vegetables in a little bit of water instead of the butter or bacon grease. Note 2: If the turkey is cooked with a lid on, stick the breast under the broiler a few minutes before serving time to brown it.

November 13-24 Is Retarded Children's Week

Nationwide the days of November 13-24 have been proclaimed National Retarded Children's Week as the eyes of the nation focus on the plight and problems of the estimated 3% of the population classed as mentally retarded. In Florida Sunday, November 13 is to be observed as a day of prayer for the mentally retarded. The Florida Council of Churches is cooperating with the Florida Council for Retarded Children in urging ministers of all churches to offer prayers for the retarded during their services and if possible to devote their sermons to the staggering problem of mental retardation.

To help focus statewide attention on this problem, the Sunland Training Center, Gainesville, one of the three state operated institutional facilities for the retarded, is holding Open House with tours of the facility starting at one o'clock, Sunday, November 20. It is fitting too that the Florida Council for Retarded Children has chosen the dates of November 13-24 for the mid-year meeting of their Board of Directors with members of the Advisory Board. This meeting will be held at the Cherry Plaza Hotel, Orlando. Expecting to attend from Highlands County are G. F. Ward, President of the Council, Mrs. Ward and Rev. Tom Jones, Sebring, President of the Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children.

New Laws To Make It Tougher On Obtaining Drivers Licenses

TALLAHASSEE. — Drivers will find the going rough in the future in Georgia and Florida if they try to obtain drivers licenses under false pretenses.

In a pilot plan worked out by the two states' departments of public safety they have agreed to exchange driver license records of residents who move from one state to the other.

Only a full-service bank meets all your banking needs!

$1...$1000...OR ANY AMOUNT...

Here's why the best place to save is at a full-service Bank!

There are three big reasons why it's wise to start the habit of systematic saving at a full-service bank:

1. Your money is well-protected in a full-service bank because a bank has a substantial percentage of its funds in cash, government bonds and short-term loans. This means you can be sure you get your money, in cash, when you want it.
2. A full-service bank answers all your banking needs, so it's by far the most convenient place to do business. Want a savings account, checking account, low-cost personal loan? No matter what you need, a full-service bank can take care of you!
3. You help build your personal bank standing when you do business with a full-service bank. Bank standing means that a bank knows you... works with you. Actually, personal bank standing is one of the most valuable assets you can have.

So why not develop financial security and independence by opening a savings account today. Open it at a full-service bank where you can get many important advantages.

Better living begins at your full-service Bank

Library Book Week November 13 Through 19

From the Library Corner: "You'll find that reading's very nice. If you'll take my good advice, You'll find that reading's very nice." So wrote a nine-year-old who had been taught the most wonderful thing in the world... how to read books.

Miss Avis Slaughter, local librarian, says a child's growing spirit is not satisfied by what he sees around him, but by his ability to perceive what is beyond the horizons of everyday life. Good imaginative literature enlarges the mind.

Boyd Stewart expressed the desire of all children's librarians when she wrote: "When children come for books to use in class, I welcome their request with all my heart. Experience has taught me what they like in history, mythology, or art. When science occupies their eager minds, I proudly show new books on satellites, or help them find materials for talks on aardvarks, marmosets, or noyalties. All this is happiness, yet comes at a time of a happiness of greater measure... That's when a child looks up requesting me to recommend some books to read for pleasure.

Miss Slaughter invites you to visit the library and read its books.

Title Of "First Baby Sitter" Is Claimed By Avon Park Woman

"World's First Baby-Sitter" title claimed by Eric Choppe, one of the founders of Avon Park in 1895. She was employed at 50¢ per hour by Capt. Gray to care for his baby daughter, Cora, who is today Mrs. Cora Gray.

In a letter from Eric Choppe to the Old Settlers Association a few years back, this story was told as how she started baby-sitting for 50¢ per hour for Capt. Gray and her charge was his little daughter, Cora. Soon Prof. Sargent raised the hourly wage to 10¢ and hired her to look after his daughter, Fanny, who was to become Mrs. Fanny Spinks. Then

Mr. Smith raised the ante to 15¢ and she took over the duties as baby-sitter for the young Fred Smith, who was later one of the best known men in Avon Park. He has been dead a number of years.

Money talked even in those days when the 108 children of Avon Park gathered at the post office each afternoon at 5:00 o'clock when the mail arrived. This was the great social event, and Eric remembers the day a big black bear wandered downtown about the time the mail arrived and caused a great panic.

Planting Time For Clover Here

By Sam Peleton

U.S. Soil Conservation Service It is clover planting time now in the Highlands Soil Conservation District. Hub Bonny of Florida planted 100 acres of White Clover and Penacola Bahia on flat wood land, Charles Florio, manager of the Zorn Ranch planted about 100 acres of White Clover on an established soil of Argentine Bahia grass. The Zorn Ranch has established water control on 500 acres of improved pasture this year.

Mr. Florio says "these districts have been a life-saver during these heavy summer rains, without them we would have been a foot under water and no grass."

Several district cooperators have fertilized their old stands of clover recently. Among them are R. P. Douthett, Sr. and Marvin Kahn of Sebring and Jim Harvin of Venice. The cattle was taken off and 300 pounds per acre of an 0-10-20 with minor elements were applied. Marvin fertilized 100 acres of Panola grass pasture with a 10-10-10 standing hay to be used in the rotation grazing program with his clover.

Mr. Kahn has something unique set up for his rotation grazing program. He has metal plates with the field number painted on them and attached to the gates leading into the field. These field numbers correspond to them used on his conservation plan map.

Marvin says that this field numbering system has many advantages such as keeping fertilizer records, animal grazing records, directing fertilizer and lime spreaders to the correct field and not the least of importance when he and Woody (his former, Mr. Woody Lack) are talking about moving cattle to the field where the old pine fell last year; or where the old white face cow died, we sometimes get confused.

With this field numbering system, it is no room for error.

This numbering system is just one of the many fine details of management that Marvin has worked out in developing a Soil and Water Conservation plan into one of the most progressive and outstanding ranches in central Florida. This is illustrated by his recent election as president of the Florida Council. He is also past president of the Highlands County Cattlemen's Association.

President of the Florida Cattlemen's Association is J. O. Pearce, Jr., of Oklawaha.

Fire Fighters Busy During Past Season

Florida Forest Service firefighters found unlimited business in their field during the past year. In addition to their primary duty of fighting fires in the forest, FFS personnel also were on hand to help local fire departments in saving nearly $2 million of private property from fire.

A recent compilation of the 1959-60 fire control reports showed that Florida's woods firemen answered hundreds of calls to suppress fires in barns, houses, home trailers, cars, restaurants, hotels and motels, service stations, and even an airplane.

Value of the property saved ranged from a $50.00 automobile to a $100,000 motel. In all, $1,640,000 of private property was saved every case, the record speaks for itself; the Florida Forest Service serves the people of Florida 12 months out of the year.
