HOW DO YOU FEEL?

Avon Park has always been termed a beauty spot by many due to our "mild long mellow" . . . certainly all realize that our quaint town is growing daily, and as it grows it suffers from growing pains . . . it must, all towns do.

It is noted that there are a group of people in town who are advocating the conversion of part of the mall in the center of town to parking area . . . this may be the answer to many of our down-town area problems, we don't know.

Certainly there are those who agree with this theory and those who oppose them . . . we are not advocating one plan or the other . . . rather offering the columns of the letters to the editor to those who would speak out in one way or the other as we do feel that this is an issue of import to both sides for years to come.

It can well be seen that the downtown merchants want to have a maximum parking area near the stores and to prevent businesses from migrating to the new highway. On the other hand there are many that do not want the mall disturbed.

We are offering the use of the editorial columns to help as a guide for those who will be making the decision on the matter.

As far as we are personally concerned we haven't made any decision . . . the only thing we do feel strongly about is that the bandstand which is countless years old should be replaced with a beautifully lighted fountain.

A DAY IN COURT

Not what the name implies, but your editor did pick up one of those little red "love notes" from the Sebring Meter Maid the other day for over parking.

Like most folks, we stuck the darn thing behind the visor of the red wagon and forgot about it except when it vibrated loose a couple of days later and fluttered to the floor . . . only to be re-stuck behind the sun shade.

Soooooon . . . Saturday we are presented with a summons in the mail . . . not saying to PLEASE be in traffic court Monday morning but just BE there. Well we were and paid and all is now serene between Sebring and us.

I could have stuck in 50 cents and been able to forget about the darn thing . . . but no, it not only cost me more but I was out the inconvenience of going to Sebring or letting them come to me.

I once worked with a fellow in another town who was served with 22 of the ducats at one time.

The point that we are making is that certainly there is enough revenue (profit if you please) to warrant the issuing of a "come on in or we'll come get you" to add some revenue to our own city's larver.

Maybe Avon Park is the friendliest little city in Florida but doggone we should put the squeeze on some of the overparkers who never pay a fine.

Sounds like we are advocating more work for Peggy . . . but we bet she wouldn't mind.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

CHRWELAH, W.N., INDEPENDENT: "Senator Mansfield, Democrat from Montana and the majority leader in the U. S. Senate . . . suggests that a law should be passed providing for one million dollars to each of the two major parties to be spent during the presidential campaign . . . stipulating that the money be given only to the Democrats and the Republicans, upon the face of it be unconstitutional, as it is then a discriminatory law. To be legal, we believe that every party which has a presidential candidate could demand an equal contribution—including the Socialists."

BEEVILLE, TEXAS, BEE-PICAYUNE: "In the era after World War I, a group of men across our country banded together and in unity were able to stop the careers and mergers of big business. Competition continued to determine price, and man was able to rise materially according to his own ability. Today we feel there is a need for another group of men to gather together, not only to stop big business, but to stop big government. Not only do we have public power and government-owned industries but in almost every city of the United States you can find government supply stores, outlets for any type of merchandise on the market."

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, MINN., JOURNAL: "There are 44 sponsors of Senate Bill No. 1 which calls for the expenditure of $400 million over a four-year period for the relief of distressed areas. The project seems well on its way to early realization. The money would be spent to set up three $100 million revolving funds and authorize $75 million grants to help build new industrial plants and public facilities in areas of chronic unemployment. But it does not get to the real heart of the matter—which is the cause and cure of such conditions in various communities across the country."

From The Office Of Jim Haley

WASHINGTON, — March is upon us, and, as I predicted in an earlier report, with its arrival communities like Miami and Palm Beach, emerge almost overnight.

These men of wealth were not content to control only Florida's economic life; they also wanted to dominate her government.

Political resentment grew and an anti-corruption faction finally wrested control from the conservatives and launched a progressive movement in the state.

Florida experienced great growth in the decade after World War I when it seemed as though everyone in the country had been seized with a mad desire to own a bit of Florida land. Prices skyrocketed, and thousands journeyed to the state expecting to see carved out of the pine forest wilderness, white-marbled cities which would resemble Venice, the French Riviera and the Arabian Nights.

When the boom bubble burst and the state was swept by two disastrous hurricanes in 1926 and 1928, there were many who believed that Florida was finished and that its growth had been stopped forever. Time, however, proved them wrong.

Florida emerged from a long struggle against depression with an industrial boom. Then, when the War ended, many hundreds of thousands of Americans, representing all ages and occupations, decided that they wanted to live in a state whose history they had been punctuated so often with excitement and romance and whose future growth and progress seemed to have no limitations.

The men who have made Florida's history have been men whose insight, vision and courage have enabled them to triumph over great odds. This same breed of men live in the state today.

There is good reason to believe that Florida's future history will be as well spaced with excitement and romance as was true of her past.

(One of a series of public service articles by faculty members of the University of Florida to help residents of Florida know their state better and to better understand the role of the state in the lives of its citizens.)

To VICTORY

...that is the cry of the multitude. Today we join the happy throngs around the earth as we shout together, "Hosanna!" Whatever the morrow may hold of suffering, today we declare to the world... "Christ has come." Because we are in His company, we know that God ultimately will be sovereign over all the world. We are confident that goodness is stronger than evil. We are sure love will triumph over hate. Whatever a Friday of crucifixion may bring of temporary defeat, we know life will triumph over death, and the Christian way will resolve itself supremely in the final destiny. Then Palm Sunday is a day to celebrate and set up our banner of hope. "For right is right as God is and right the day must win." This hope will convert, for us, spiritual defeat into eternal victory.

Famous Band Leader To Be One Of Race-Time Highlights

Charlie Spivak, who lives up to his billing as "The Man Who Plays The Sweetest Trumpet In The World," is bringing his top-flight orchestra to the City Pier in Sebring at 9:30 p.m., March 23, 1961, has a philosophy for success that says, "Don't take yourself seriously, my boy."

And he didn't. Charlie says, "Success is something you work for and when it comes, you work harder. Because once you get to the top, you're a public servant, and you owe your public the best service."

With the current vogue for sweet music gaining favor each day, Charlie Spivak and his band are more popular than ever. The way Charlie plays his famous horn, soft and smoothly, reflects his sentimental and philosophical personality.

Born in New Haven, Connecticut, Spivak got his first trumpet while still in grade school: a tiny instrument with the first valve practically on top of Charlie's nose. Spivak's family had charted out a medical career for him; then one of the country's outstanding band leaders offered him a job, and he signed and remained with the outfit, and his next stop was the Dorsey Brothers Orchestra, where he played alongside such musicians as Glenn Miller, Skeets McFarland and Bob Crosby.

When Ray Noble came to America, he asked Glenn to help him organize a band, and the first musician to be signed was Spivak.

When Spivak left to try his musical wings on his own, he became the highest paid free lance trumpeter in radio, playing on the Ford Symphony Hour, the Smith and Fred Allen broadcasts. When he felt ready to organize his own band, a lot of encouragement came from Glenn Miller, who told him he had all the ingredients for a winning combination.

Spivak is mild-mannered and self-spoken. He is five feet, eight inches tall, has brown hair, blue eyes and still blazes at a compliment.

This is truly a big treat for Highlands County to have Charlie Spivak and his orchestra playing under the stars at Sebring's City Pier, sponsored by the Sebring Jr. Woman's Club. Prices for admission are $3.00 per person. Reservations can be made by calling EV 5-7619. EV 5-7608 or EV 5-7513.

We hope to see you there because we know you will certainly have a good time.

Winter Guest Club News

The other day we received a note from someone named "Anonymous." It advised us to look into the dictionary and find out how to spell "penelope." We looked but found no such word; nor any "penelope," which was our way of spelling the word. But we did find "pinchole," spelled with an "n," and that's the way we'll try to spell it hereafter. So the critic slipped a little this time. If we misspelled the word, so did Anonymous, which makes us quit. And now let's read a word about Anonymous letters. We don't like 'em. We welcome friendly criticism but would like to know the critic's name. And finally, if Anonymous has a Bible, we suggest he look into the Book of St. John, 8th chapter, 7th verse, and note what it says about throwing stones around. Selah.

Miss Seaborn Honored With Birthday Party

A party at the Youth Center, Friday night, March 3, marked the 17th birthday of Miss Gloria Seaborn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Seaborn. Mrs. Alvin Ellis assisted Miss Seaborn with the hospitalities.

The guests danced to music of records. Colored balloons and streamers from the ceiling of the room created a festive atmosphere. The birthday cake was decorated with chocolate swirls and dancing figures, in pink and green. The refreshment table was centered with the attractive cake that was cut and served with cold drinks, potato chips, nuts and colored mints.

The guest list included Judy Glidewell, Sue Cooper, Nancy Coleman, Vicki Harrison, Ingrid McEaster, Linda McClure, Helen Thomas, Dot Jackson, Ann Det, Jerry Draughton, Ann Draughton, Jack Seims, Patsy Elder, Gloria Stokes, Lillian Lawrence, Marilyn Gratz, Naomi Elder, Patsy Fure, Lois Ann Thompson, Jewel Seals, Frank Phillips, Geraldine Jones, Fred Jones, Mary Whitte, Jon Ellis, Saundra Fuller, Judy Lawler, Max Still, Marky Jenkins, Tommy Joe Johnson, Peggy Nagelschmidt, Don Barker, Lucky Wells, Molly Faircloth, Judy Hooper, Anna Ziegler, Gordon Marshall and the hostess, Miss Seaborn.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of Wometco Enterprises will feature a portfolio show. The group will meet at Miami Seaboard, which it owns, and will be entertained by its employees, the portfolios.

In spite of the rain last Monday evening the practice dance was a success. Enough people braved the elements to make up three sets, thus proving the necessity for square dancing. It was a fine practice dance, and all declared they had a good time.

On Friday night the Irish were out in full force, eighty being the count. Most of the numbers were Irish. "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," "My Wild Irish Rose," "The Wearing of the Green," and "The Irish Washer." That the Irish are a friendly people was evidenced by the good fellowship prevailing through the evening.

All voted it was the best ever. For the first time in many years the dancers were guests of the Guest Club, enjoying the "passé de rafraichissement." During the intermission the culinary department served the great American square dance menu, "do-nuts and coffee," and that supply was sufficient to satisfy the hungriest and thirstiest. Many thanks to Mrs. Ford and her splendid staff.

Despite the very wet Saturday evening of hungry mouths came out to enjoy the fine supper. Even if our numbers are lessening, not so the popularity of these Saturday night suppers. They will continue for some time yet, for the show is always tip-top, and good fellowship always prevails.

It must be gratifying to those who are denoting their time gratis every week to teaching classes the mysteries of art and the complexities of bridge; gratifying to see how their work is appreciated, how well the classes maintain their interest in learning something worth while. It is no sad reflection on a person to be a little shy these days, and if you can't play a good hand at bridge, then your education is deficient, almost as much as that of a fellow who can't spell pinhole.

Sunday afternoon was pretty warm, but 110 came to the gospel sing and enjoyed it too. The next Sunday sing, the first one of the season, will be on April 9. Besides the general singing, Mrs. William Holden gave a reading, "The Right Way to Live," very pertinent now. Mr. James Eccles sang three solos, one being "How Good Is God?" Mr. Jerome Shultz joined in the choruses of that one, and everybody joined in to sing the third and last one. The musical Shilts was in charge as usual.

William Rullison moved away last week at the ripe age of 91. He was long a member of the Guest Club, a man whom every-of-way." Attorney R. P. Dundy Jr., pointed out, "and the cost involved could be negligible—just a few more feet of the wall would be needed to move the drain away from the beach area."

The commissioners promised to consult immediately with drainage engineers in the state road department.

The water problems at the southern end of the county appeared to be more knotty.

Harry Michael served as chief spokesman for the Lake Placid delegation which was composed of landowners who had a few years ago purchased "waterfront property" along Lake Francis.

They are now alarmed because the waterfront is steadily receding.

One man complained that the beach ramp he built several years ago now is useless because the lake has receded and often is so shallow that only very small boats can be used at all.

Among the delegation on hand Tuesday the consensus seemed to be that two canals which have been built to the west of the lake are serving to drain Lake Francis.

County Attorney Dundy explained that the commissioners do not have the authority to build a dam across the canal.

Michael, who had brought with him petitions signed by more than 70 landowners, angrily accused the commissioners of "passing the buck."

On the recommendation of Dundy, the commissioners passed a resolution inviting the state water resources director to come, or send a representative, to survey the situation and to meet with the landowners.

Dundy said flood control authorities and soil conservation department also share in responsibility for acting in such a situation. "We have here a nattural resource which you believe is being mis-used. You have a right and duty to seek to have that corrected, but we have established means for proceeding and the commissioners must follow the law."

County Welfare Director, Anna Dee Church, reported that Highlands County is beginning to feel the pinch of the recession. "People are out of work," she said, "and I'm getting serious about it."

Her monthly report showed expenditures of $3,091.98—an increase she said of "at least 10 per cent" over this period in 1960.

School Superintendent, Andy Miracle, appeared before the commissioners to inquire about the possibility of having a sidewalk built along the road leading to the new Fred Wild Elementary School.

The commissioners instructed Attorney Dundy to proceed with negotiations to buy right of way for widening and improving the Highland road which runs in front of the new school.

Miracle said that roughly a quarter of a mile of sidewalk would be needed from the corner of Highway 8 (Kendallville hwy.) and Highland road past the front of the school. Mayor DeLaney said that at the time the new Avon Park Elementary School was built the highway department assisted with providing sidewalks.

He added that because the walks were leading to a school and were needed for the safety of children, the state aid was given without reference to the second road priorities.

The question of the county auditor's office furniture popped up briefly this week. Earlier this year Judge Melvin Beyer had purchased new furniture for his office, but the commissioners had refused to pay for it.

According to a letter received from the state auditor's office, the commissioners were justified in denying payment. The letter pointed that although the state

Local Boy Takes Pledge
LAKELAND.—Walter Nelson Crews, Jr., of Avon Park is among the new pledges of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity following annual Spring Rush week at Florida Southern College.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Crews, Rt. 2.

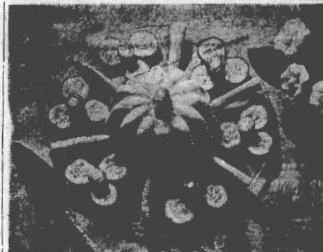

Laws provide for excess fees from county offices to be sent for needed equipment, books and other furniture for the offices, the commissioners must approve the individual expenditures.

Clerk Earl Rich explained to the commissioners that state auditing procedures now require that the county make a complete inventory of each piece of equipment it owns which cost more than $25 and which will last for more than one year.

The commissioners agreed to issue immediately to make inventory of equipment. After the first lists are in a complete check must be made by someone other than the one charged with the custody of the material.

Rich said this work must be finished by the end of the fiscal year in September.

Reports of the Small Claims and Juvenile Courts were approved.

Landowners

Will Plant Many Pine Seedlings

According to Florida Forest Service Records the landowners in Highlands County will plant 60,000 Slash Pine seedlings before the 1960-61 pine planting season comes to a close this month.

Forest Pearce of Okeechobee, largest individual planter in the county has planted 40,000 of the 60,000 seedlings on his Sebring Ranch. Pearce, working closely with the Florida Forest Service Farm Forester, R. C. Korneguy began his planting operation during the 1959-60 planting season with the planting of 20,000 each of the North and South Florida varieties of Slash Pine. The present seasons planting is all the North Florida Variety. Either variety should prove equally successful since the ranch lies well within the mixing or buffer zone of the native tree. The pine is planted at a spacing of 6 x 10 feet or 720 trees per acre. Site preparation, removal and reduction of competing vegetation, was accomplished by prescribed burning prior to planting. Fire lines were plowed and will be re-worked each year to help insure the success of the planting operation.

The Highlands County Fire Control Unit were called on to plow the firelines and assist in the prescribed burning operation. The plowing service is available to all landowners at a nominal cost per hour with the first 15 minutes complimentary. Standby on confined controlled and prescribed burning are dependent on the seriousness of the wildfire situation and are part of the service offered to local landowners without cost.

Pearce plans to continue his cattle operation on the planted area. Last years plantings and grazing operation indicated that as long as the area was not overgrazed very little damage to the young seedlings would result.

The pine plantations are used to fill in the areas between the existing timber stands. Future plans call for the planting of an estimated 100 acres to complete the re-establishment of fully stocked timber stands on the ranch.

At present prices the timber product of the plantations should return an average of $10.00 per acre per year for the first 15 to 20 years. As the size and value of the product increase the average annual income per acre should increase to around $15.00 or more.

Persons interested in growing timber for profit should contact R. C. Korneguy, Farm Forester, Florida Forest Service, Box 2007, Lakeland, Florida, or the local Florida Forest Service Fire Control Unit just south of Delton City.

Export sale of Florida phosphate is in jeopardy from developing competition from foreign sources, the Florida section of the American Institute of Mining Engineers was told recently.

Minutes Of City Council

(Special called meeting for the purpose of discussing further the bathing beach at Donaldson Park, plumbers sanitary ordinance and other pertinent business.)

All members present including the mayor and city attorney.

As spokesman for the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Jim Heim reported that some profiles had been taken and some elevations had been plotted but that he had not actually had sufficient time to finish the plans. However, he stated that everything hinged on whether or not a culvert could be moved. The Mayor was to secure a right-of-way map and pinpoint the location to be presented to the State Road Department for approval.

Mr. Birge, Mr. Vilkaitis and Mr. Capwell appeared and explained that in the condemnation proceedings securing the right-of-way on Rest Avenue, they had been promised parallel parking. The Mayor stated that if the State Road Department had provided this, it should be done. The Mayor further stated that in a telephone conversation to Baxton, they knew nothing about such a promise. Also, that the State Road Department had full jurisdiction and authority over Rest Avenue since it was a State highway.

It was agreed to rescind the Resolution which was passed at the last regular meeting next Monday night at the next regular meeting.

There was a lengthy discussion of a drawing of an Ordinance for the Plumbers Sanitary Code. The City Attorney was instructed to make a draft for the next regular meeting.

Motion by Mr. Kirkland seconded by Mr. Dilley and unanimously carried that the City adopt the State Sanitary Code. It was learned that the City had adopted this many years ago.

The Chair offered the following suggestions for consideration at the next meeting since the Housing Projects were not actually revenue producing:

1. Abandon Kings Court and sell the lots.
2. Abandon the East wing of Woodford Heights and sell.
3. Place all tenants who are not in the West wing.
4. Have a collector secure the rent each week.

The City rents seven apartments in Kings Court and 44 apartments in Woodford Heights. Motion by Mr. Dilley, seconded by Mr. Kirkland and unanimously carried that the City accept the recommendation of the Zoning Board in allowing Dr. C. H. Bolton to erect a house on Lot 7, Block 1, Wells Better Homes Subdivision in Section 15, with a minimum of 6 1/2 foot property setback. This is a deviation of one foot and is allowed because the houses on either side have a 30 thirty foot property line.

Tax Fax

By P. G. Gearing
County Tax Assessor

This is the time of the year when so many people are asking so many questions about the Florida Homestead Exemption Law so here are some of the answers.

WHAT IS HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION?
Under our Florida Constitution, Article 10, Section 7, a person's home, under certain specific conditions, is exempt from payment of operating taxes up to a valuation of $5,000.

WHO IS ENTITLED TO HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION?
The law states that every person who has legal or equitable title to real property, resides thereon, and in good faith makes same his or her permanent home is entitled to the exemption.

WHEN DOES ONE APPLY FOR THE EXEMPTION?
Application is made to the County Tax Assessor between January 1, and April 1, of each year.

DOES APPLICANT HAVE TO HAVE A DEED TO THE PROPERTY?
Not necessarily, but claimant must have equity in the home evidenced by a bona fide contract or agreement for deed which must be recorded in the office of circuit court on or before January 1.

CAN ONE INHERIT A HOME AND BE ELIGIBLE FOR HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION?
Yes, if all other requirements are met.

MUST THERE BE CONTINUOUS PHYSICAL RESIDENCE ON THE PROPERTY?
No, but the property must be where the claimant actually resides and maintains his or her permanent home.

WHAT CONSTITUTES A PERMANENT RESIDENCE?
A permanent residence is distinguished from a temporary residence. It is necessary for the claimant to establish sound evidence of permanent residence.

WHAT IS THE BURDEN OF PROOF?
The burden of proof is of prime importance, other evidence would be the purchase of Florida license plates for his car and making a tax return on intangible personal property (stocks, bonds, mortgages, cash, etc., whether actually located in this state or not.) In this case of a new resident, he may execute a Declaration of Domicile, filing same in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court. Each application stands on its own merit and the burden of proof is on the claimant.

IF A PERSON OCCUPIES HIS HOME FOR SIX MONTHS OUT OF THE YEAR, IS HE ENTITLED TO THE EXEMPTION?
Not necessarily, an applicant's eligibility is not measured by the time he spends on the property, but rather whether or not he is permanently and legally domiciled in the property.

CAN A PERSON RENT HIS HOME AND STILL GET HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION?
No. Under a new law passed by the 1959 Legislature, if a person rents his ENTIRE home it constitutes abandonment and he forfeits his right to the exemption until such time as he returns and actually lives in it. The status of the property on January 1st is the controlling factor.

HOW MUCH LAND CONSTITUTES A HOMESTEAD?
Florida law limits a homestead to one-half acre within the corporate limits of a city or town, and 160 acres outside city limits.

IF ONE'S HOMESTEAD IS IN THE CITY, DOES HE HAVE TO APPLY AT THE CITY OFFICE?
No. The law provides only one application and that at the County Tax Assessor's office. The cities get a certified list from the County Tax Assessor.

WHY ARE THERE TAXES ON SOME HOMESTEAD PROPERTY AND NONE ON OTHERS?
The first $5,000 on any homestead receives the exemption from all operating taxes. The tax levied in Highlands County ($4 mill in the Sebring district) is for the retirement of school bonds which were a lien on all property in these districts before the Homestead Law was passed. In all other districts the school bonds have been paid off.

HOW SHOULD ONE GO ABOUT GETTING HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION AFTER THE FIRST TIME?
An applicant should bring to the Assessor's office his deed or contract which gives a legal description of his property and any other information which would help in establishing his rights to said exemption.

CAN A PERSON GET HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION AFTER JANUARY 1 OR ANY GIVEN YEAR?
While a person has until April 1 to apply, the exemption is based on the status of the property on January 1. In other words, the applicant has to be residing in his home on or before January 1. He must have title or equity in the property before said January 1, and same must be recorded in the Clerk's Office before January 1.

AVON PARK LAKES NEWS

Mrs. Marge Sloum
Phone GL 3-4221 — Box 297, Rt. 2

The second annual bulletin of the Avon Park Lakes Association was mailed March 14 to 4700 property owners scattered about the country and abroad.

To accomplish this operation a group of 30 men and women gathered at the clubhouse last Monday and Tuesday to assist in the work of folding, sealing, addressing, and stamping the issue which is intended to inform property owners and to solicit membership in the Association.

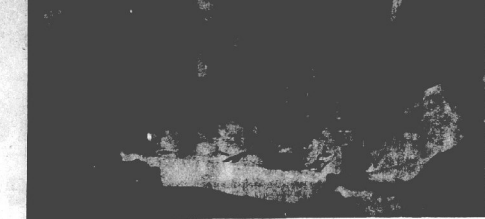

This is the fourth year in which this organization has sought the support of both resident and non-resident owners, and the second in which a bulletin of this nature has served as the medium. Last year a four page issue was mailed on February 28 to 4300 owners while this year an eight page publication containing reports, membership appeal, and advertising went out to 4700 interested parties.

The year of 1960 saw the number of members reach about 800;

it is expected this year to pass this figure due to the greater number of property owners and the realization of the increasing importance of the Association to all lot owners as time goes on.

The State of Citrus

By John Sikes

Florida Citrus Mutual

LAKELAND.—New frontiers are everyday, albeit inspiring homework to the Florida citrus industry.

Orangemen, Florida variety especially, ever are pushing back horizons; always alert to what lies on the other side of the mountain, so to speak.

This constant reaching out for new ideas, new operational methods is naturally consequential to the Florida citrus industry being tops among agricultural enterprises of the world.

At the moment the industry is climbing to a new plateau of endeavor. This is in the form of an immediately filling Stabilization Act which would give the industry almost limitless responsibility in resolving its own problems: problems of production, research, both of advertising and marketing, and of merchandising.

Under this Act, which will be proposed for passage by the upcoming session of the Florida Legislature, all facets of this old industry would work as one to insure ultimate quality of product from raw fruit hanging on the tree to every processed form in the industry's repertoire; to develop every means of utilizing these products; and to distribute all these products over ever-increasing and every widening marketing channels.

Moreover, the Florida citrus grower, already world-recognized as the most progressive of agricultural producers, would, under the Act, himself pay all the bills for research and for marketing—all provisions of the program.

This new look beyond the economic mountains would be in addition and supplemental to the contributions the grower already makes to the overall success of the industry.

Presently the grower pays, at so much per box on all the fruit he produces, for the industry's general advertising, its research and its merchandising. But, under existing regulations, the industry is somewhat circumscribed in the expenditure of these funds for orderly and profitable operations.

Under the Stabilization Act, the grower by self-determination would provide the means, additional means, for the overall development of the industry through stepped up research, more intensive marketing programs as circumstances dictate, and general progression and multiplication of utilization channels for the industry's products.

The Act would implement present authority of the Florida Citrus Commission for research and marketing of Florida citrus crops for the benefit of the grower, and paid for by the grower.

Under the Stabilization Act, which we consider the most important advancement in the industry since the establishment of the Florida Citrus Code (which regulates research, marketing, etc.), would place the entire Florida citrus industry on an equal footing with the highly successful practices of such outstanding organizations as General Motors, American Telephone and Telegraph, and similar other giants of American enterprise," concludes Florida Citrus Mutual's Bob Rutledge, in assessing the potential of the proposed Act for the Florida citrus industry.
