[illegible] QUESTIONS NEED ANSWERS

[illegible] has been said in regard [illegible] County Hospital which will go before [illegible] November 7. But in all of the talk, rumor [illegible] there has been little or no definite plans as [illegible] following items:

1. Cost. The so-called hospital committee has [illegible] primarily in generalities, in most cases, using other hospitals as a guide on which to base their analysis.

2. Location. There is, and will continue to be, a certain amount of disagreement between the three towns of the county. This brings up the question—if a hospital is okayed by the voters—where will it be located. On this there are several schools of thought, none of which appear to have the mutual backing of all concerned. True enough, the City of Sebring has indicated they will donate land south of the city limits. Is this agreeable to residents of Lake Placid and Avon Park?

3. Who will operate the hospital if it is approved? This is a question which has been kicked around and the hospital committee has done little to educate the county population of their plans. At a recent information meeting called by the county's three Chambers of Commerce held in Sebring, the hospital committee failed to show up, merely sending a short and uninformative letter to the group.

There are many other pertinent questions in regard to a county hospital which should be answered in order to give residents a clear cut look at the proposal. At the present this has not been the case. One train of thought among backers of the hospital is to wait until the last minute, then produce the facts where they will be fresh in the voter's minds.

In our opinion this is the backward way of accomplishing a goal. People must be educated, just as a child who enters school in the primary grades and gradually works into higher learning.

The Sun plans to take no projected stand on the hospital question. However, in the public interest, we feel that the public is getting sold short if the above—and many more questions are not answered, long before election day.

Therefore we would urge the hospital committee to "get on the ball" and present some realistic facts and then let the voters decide.

THE RIGHT KIND OF WAR

America's doctors and the federal government [illegible] joining forces to declare all-out war on medical quacks and charlatans. These unsavory characters [illegible] of hundreds of millions of [illegible] through the sale of useless gadgets, [illegible] pills and the many [illegible] trade.

[illegible] INCOME VS REAL INCOME

[illegible] larger dollar income now than [illegible] 1946, right after World War II.

But that doesn't mean that we have higher "real [illegible]"—a term which covers purchasing power—[illegible] taxation and inflation have sorely worn away the dollar's worth.

The Tax Foundation tells the story. If a married couple with two children had an income of $3,000 in 1946, they need $4,756 now if they stayed even—a jump of 59 per cent. And the percentages are pretty much the same for most other income brackets.

What will the "real income" value of the thinning dollar be five, 10, or 15 years from now, at the rate the federal government is spending and going into debt?

LAKELAND — Like the players in the World Series, you [illegible] your foreign friends [illegible] without a [illegible]. And very frequently, [illegible] all the diplomatic [illegible], you become [illegible] what nations are [illegible] with US even when [illegible]

Take Great Britain, for [illegible]. Scoring [illegible] extra bodies, ex[illegible] more mixed up metaphor, MacMillan's bench [illegible] with US, but they don't always play cricket, y'know.

Britain keeps Fidel Castro's scoring chances alive by buying Cuba's grapefruit while shutting out imports of same from Florida, and the rest of US. Between 1957 and 1960, during the month of October, November, the British bought 62,705 boxes of Cuban grapefruit. In those same years during those same months they bought exactly no boxes of grapefruit from US. They banned our grapefruit during those periods when we had a lot of grapefruit we'd like to've sold them.

They're the slick ones, though, those British. They get real cozy with US and our grapefruit between March 1 and September 30, magnanimously tell us they'll buy 1,050,000 Pounds Sterling (about $2,940,000) worth of our grapefruit during that period.

This is ruddy nice of the British, except that we have very little, if any, grapefruit to sell to anybody, let alone going to all the extra bother and expense of shipping it overseas, during that period.

Florida Citrus Mutual's Bob Rutledge has communicated with just about everybody who might be able to tell the British this sort of thing isn't cricket, and make it stick, to try to move a few million boxes of Florida grapefruit to Britain at a time when Florida grapefruit needs a bigger home.

More recently Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman's said he'd see what he can do. Rutledge has just asked Governor Farris Bryant, who's planning a trip to England, to see what he can do about these double-dealing British restrictions against Florida grapefruit.

"For years Florida has been a valuable market for British insurance with annual premiums amounting to $15 million, for $11 million worth of British automobiles each year, and for some $4 million worth of British whiskey," Rutledge said.

"Would there be any wonder if our grapefruit growers decided they could get along very well without sending the British these some $30 million every year until Her Majesty's Government permitted her subjects to buy $2 or $3 million worth of our grapefruit when we have grapefruit to sell?"

The question is rhetorical.

Letters To The Editor

(Chamber of Commerce Hospital Committee)
Sebring, Florida
By Jerrry Beeler

The added payroll resulting from the operation of the proposed 50 bed Highlands General Hospital should not be overlooked by those considering the matter of voting for or against such a facility on November 7th.

The average 50 bed hospital employes 75 full time people - on the basis of 1½ employe per bed - excluding internes, residents and students. At an average rate of pay of $3,000.00 per year, which is conservative, this would produce a payroll of $225,000.00 - a very respectful sum in and of itself.

Add to this the income of doctors, (who we hope will all be residents of Highlands County), vendors, and others whose incomes will be increased by reason of the hospital, and you come up with an increased total payroll well in excess of a quarter of a million dollars.

We would all certainly be happy to hear that a new industry employing 75 people was coming to the County. We can feel equally as well off, payroll wise, with a new hospital, as the rates of pay are quite comparable. The difference is, that a new industry, presumably manufacturing products to be sold mostly outside of the county, would be bringing in "outside" dollars, whereas the hospital income would generally be coming from the "inside". Many thousands of these "inside" dollars are now being spent "outside" the county, as it has been necessary for residents of Highlands County to go to other areas where modern hospital facilities exist, and the money for payment of such services has gone with them.

An ever increasing number of the residents of Highlands, as well as other, counties, are covered by hospital insurance, the premiums for which being invariably paid to "outside" insurance companies. When the insurance companies pay the hospital, doctor, druggist, ambulance or what not, however, such payments, under present conditions, are likewise paid "outside". We should see that such monies come in to our county, and, if our hospital service and doctors prove to be as good as we want them to be, we should attract some patients from "outside", who would bring that kind of money into our coffers.

It is interesting to observe, too, that, as an example, the City of Sebring is reputed to have 40 registered nurses in residence, only two of whom are regularly employed. How many additional registered nurses are residents of Avon Park, Lake Placid or other sections of the county, is not known, but, presently, they do not have even an opportunity for full time employment. It appears that there is an ample supply of unemployed nurses in the immediate area to meet the requirements of a new hospital, and whose pay would be circulated through County channels.

Hospital Not Politically Influenced or Controlled

Anything connected with the word "taxes" generally smacks of politics, but for those who fear that a county financed hospital would develop into a political football we submit that if they will stop and consider what any attempt at political control or inflence would involve, they will immediately see that such condition will not exist.

The members of the Board of Hospital Commissioners, under the law, are to be appointed to staggered terms by our Governor, without recommendation from any political group. Anyone can suggest to the Governor the name or names of proposed Commissioners - but it is strictly his job to select and make the appointments, his only restrictions, if they may be designated as restrictions, being that the various districts of the county must be represented and no members of the medical profession shall be so appointed. Despite anything that any Governor might wan to do, he will of necessity have to select only fully qualified, able men of proved ability and reputation, who will, without compensation, conscientiously and efficiently "be their brothers' keeper", or, otherwise, he himself would be subjected to the voters' criticism. This system of appointing hospital Commissions has been used in Florida for many years without any political backfire or mis-management.

When sickness or emergency strike, in any home or under any circumstance, the families' or individual interest immediately becomes and intense demand for the absolute best in service, whether it be by doctor, hospital, ambulance, taxi cab, food, or just anything attached to the welfare of their loved one.

Normal good judgement and tolerance are non existant when emergency or serious illness is involved. The hour of day or night, the impossibility of meeting the demand of the person in need under the stress and strain of their emotions, is not something that any politician wants to cope with. It is just too tough for even the smartest of political genius' to meet! So you can rest assured that politicians will give any "control" of a county financed hospital a wide and elusive berth.

Put yourself, for the sake of argument, in their place. Imagine a City, County, State or Federal elected official, serving on a Board of Hospital Commission, (or claiming to have "influence" or "control" over such a group) which has been duly appointed as required by law, being called out of bed in the wee small hours of the morning by a substantial contributor or political backer whom he cannot refuse, and who, after responding to the very best of his ability and influence, finds that something - completely beyond his control - has gone awry, and his friends wife, daughter, son or what have you, is mishandled in the slightest degree. Think a little bit of the many other related situations that could arise, and you will quickly realize that they will not permit themselves to be subjected to that sort of thing. What would be their chances for re-election?

The financial accounts of such a hospital must be and are set up on approved accounting methods, policed by both Federal and State agencies, leaving no opportunity for fraud or graft even is anyone, remotely connected with such an operation, had the terenity to flirt with the consequences that would result from tampering with a "life or death" facility so dear to the hearts of every living soul.

No, they just don't want any part of it!

Dear Editor;

I think it a wonderful idea to have a hospital in our county with all the facilities the large cities have.

It could mean saving lives, also save the sick people tiresome trips to the big cities for medical assistance we do not have close.

Also I think competition is good for any business.

Also no matter what our ideas or eating habits are they should be considerate of paying guests.

Every county large or small needs a hospital with the things proposed for this new one.

It is only fair to have a centrally located hospital to serve all parts of the county.

If these hospitals at present are non-profit with the charges now made, I sure feel sorry for folks who pay where profit is made.

If people will just read what the new county hospital will include I know they won't mind the few dollars a year extra in taxes.

It could mean the saving of many lives. And what it taxes compared to lives.

Thanks for printing this.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Mary Reeves

Dear Editor:

I would appreciate if you would print this letter in your Letters To Editor. I read Mr. Beelers letter in last weeks paper on the proposed New County Hospital. I think it is a wonderful idea, and would mean a New Modern Hospital located in the center of our County. It would mean progress and would help bring in more tourists and industry.

Also in case of a National Disaster even the ones against the idea might Pray for more facilities to provide for sick and injured.

Also it would save many folks a long tiresome trip to other Citys, and keep the money in our County. At present we Tax Payers are paying the bills for the needy in out of County Hospitals, and recently I read one patients bill was over $5,000.

People wouldn't mind paying more taxes, if it help save peoples lives. Also our County taxes are very reasonable and fair.

I know a lot of folks pay less than Five Dollars a year out of City tax on lovely New homes. Yet some have big families and attend the public schools, and all Tax Payers keep up the schools.

Any investment in the Future of our Youth or peoples Health I think a very sound investment.

Our neighboring Citys also Doctors deserve a centrally located Hospital. These Citys have been very good to patronize the Hospital located here.

I think if we can afford decent, New Modern schools we can afford New Modern Hospital for our County. Every one can use it, and I know the slight increase in Taxes won't break any of us.

The Bible says Love Thy Neighbor, and I think now is a good time to practice it by helping our neighboring Citys.

I think a Blood Bank and modern Clinical Laboratory, would bring more older Tourists to Our County.

I hope people study this over and figure the present conditions of Our Country, before they decide against a modern hospital for our County that will be open to the public. No matter what hospital we are confined in they all cost. But to need one in a hurry and not have it could be serious.

I know we have lost clients to Citys where they had more modern up to date Hospitals. I know the public would appreciate hearing a talk on the proposed New County Hospital, or more about it in the paper. Thank you for printing this letter.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Ella Albright

CLOUDS
by Celia Albritton

I looked up at the sky.
An old, old man looked back.
He looked very much older than I.
It looked like he carried a sack.
I said, "Old man Cloud,
what's in your sack?"
Not a thing did he say;
he just looked back.
As I looked at the clouds
that day,
Old man Cloud just faded
away.

CLOUDS
by Susan Biggs

When I was out at play,
There were clouds high
in the sky.
It was a merry day in May
As I watched the clouds sail by.
The clouds were white as snowy bleach,
There were horses eating hay.
And there were babies
on the beach
That sunny day in May.

CLOUDS
by Jeanine DuBose

Have you ever seen a crowd?
A crowd in the streets
of town?
Well, in the sky there
is a crowd,
A crowd of clouds like down.
When you are lying on the grass,
Look up into the sky.
You might find a cloud
that looks like a lass,
Or like your sweetheart
as she rides by.

CLOUDS
by Melanie McClure

While I was on vacation,
I looked up in the sky,
And saw a cloud formation
Go floating swiftly by.
This cloud was very big,
you know,
And as white as white can be,
But before you could say
Tommy Joe,
It was far across the sea.

CRACKER POLITICS

By Allen Morris

TALLAHASSEE — You are worried about the Brandenburg Gate. You should be. But you ought not to forget your own city hall or courthouse.

That's the gist of the warning to Floridians from Supreme Court Justice Stephen C. O'Connell.

Judge O'Connell describes local government as being "on trial" in Florida for these basic reasons:

1. You as a citizen are allowing the world crisis to divert you from the ever-present need for keeping tabs on your hometown government.

2. Your local government may tend to take the easy course of seeking solution of hometown problems in Tallahassee or Washington.

3. You may feel less respect for your local government because you may believe there is an unnecessary duplication of facilities and employees, which means waste of your tax dollars.

"That we as citizens should be concerned with the present world crisis cannot be debated," says Justice O'Connell. "But we must not allow this concern to cause us to lose sight of the fact that whatever happens in Berlin, that whether a nuclear attack ever comes, the proper functioning, retention, and improvement of our local government is vital and essential to the lasting success of our whole system of government."

Indeed, adds Judge O'Connell, we cannot lay aside the needs of local governments in Florida until the world crisis is over, for it seems likely the struggle between Americanism will continue forever.

"The feelings of insecurity, the doubts and misgivings, the fear of the present and the concern for the future that accompanies a crisis, such as the present one, can be dangerous if not controlled and put to work in a constructive way," he said.

During the crisis of the depression of the 1930's, there were those who argued that the state governments represented a costly and unnecessary layer of administration which the Federal government could join with cities in absorbing.

Today, in a new and different upheaval, continued Judge O'Connell, "we must take care the present crisis, and those which will follow, do not lead us in such a direction."

Judge O'Connell believes the changing nature of Florida, from a rural to an urban state, demands continuing reexamination of local government. The need of those living in unincorporated areas for city services plus the increasing number of cities, often small and having adjoining boundaries, have their complications.

These factors may result in an apparent duplication of public agencies and public employees. This, in his view, diminishes the respect of citizens for their local governments, lessens their willingness to pay taxes, and makes them apt to look to Tallahassee or Washington for relief.

The O'Connell message is important because of the office he now holds. But it's doubly important since many Floridians see in Stephen Cornelius O'Connell a future governor. They believe he would appeal philosophically to the type of voter who in recent years elected Spessard Holland, Millard Caldwell, Dan McCarty and LeRoy Collins as governor and who split their second-primary ballots between Farris Bryant and Doyle Carlton.

This sort of talk seems to trouble Judge O'Connell. He doesn't want his judicial position compromised — as his past chairmanship of the State Judicial Council was, to an extent—by people reading political implications into what he says and does.

Yet the 45-year-old Broward countian couldn't escape consideration as a gubernatorial possibility if he wanted to. Time and chance have combined to put this former president of the University of Florida student body (captain of the boxing team, president of Blue Key), this executive officer of a World War II Pacific bomb group, and this campaign-tested jurist, into the small category of those that people in search of a governor will talk about.

USDA Reports Exports Up

U. S. what and flour exports in July totaled 59 million bushels—about 35 percent larger than the same month in 1960.

Wheat exports at 50.7 million bushels, were up about 13 million from the previous July. Flour exports in July, 1961 were 8.3 million bushels, compared with 5.5 million the previous year.

U. S. rice exports from August 1960, through July, 1961, rose two percent above those in the similar period of the previous year, USDA reports.

Substantial increases in exports to Africa, Asia and Europe more than offset the sharp drop in rice going to Cuba, formerly a principal market.

U. S. shipments of lard, inedible tallow, red meats, variety meats, sausage casings, mohair, cattle hides, and calf and kip skins in July were larger than in the same month of 1960 according to USDA

Why Do We Drink? Question Is Answered By Man Who Knows

By Harve E. Olsen

Why? Why? Why?

"Why do you have to drink so much? Look what it's doing to you, to me, to the children, to your parents and to your friends and business associates!"

If alcoholics, active or recovered, are unable to give themselves a satisfactory answer as to the whys and wherefores of their varied degrees of excessive drinking over a varied period of time, there are professionals in the fields of medicine, psychiatry, psychology and social work who are beginning to get to the root of our individual problems through constant study and research . . . and a lot of the rest of us have come to accept their explanations for our abnormal behavior during our drinking careers . . . thus, through acceptance of these facts about ourselves, we are able to arrest our alcoholism.

Ask the man who knows! We have yet to meet an alcoholic who, while practicing his "profession" to the utmost, cannot innumerate reasons for his drinking—and to him they are the most sound, the most plausible reasons on earth. After he has arrested this chronic illness, this same individual will be the first to discount his reasons for drinking as mere excuses, manufactured, in the main, to suit his own desires and needs as they arose.

But in the interim, the alcoholic has thoroughly convinced himself that he has valid reason to drink the way he does and to do the things he does while under the influence of alcoholic beverages. And no one is about to change his way of thinking . . . until the hopeful day comes when he fully realizes he has a drinking problem and is ready to do something about it.

We remember one time at a conference on alcoholism, Dr. Paul Stevenson of the National Institute of Mental Health, said, "Our society is constantly searching for comfort . . . none of us wishes to be uncomfortable. In their quest for comfort, 70 million Americans have found social acceptance and 'feel comfortable' with a cocktail in their hand."

Of these 70 million, approximately 5 million have found more than social acceptance and mere comfort in the bottle. They have found courage; they have found a new ability to face reality; they have found a new method of overcoming their tensions, their fears and anxieties; they have found, they sincerely come to believe, the one answer to all their problems.

Why do we drink? Why do we permit ourselves to become engulfed in the deep, dark forest of alcoholism?

We are told we are "immature". We are told we are "egocentric". We are told many of us are "perfectionists" and when unable to reach impossible goals our depression and our resentments, which we promptly blame to others, are too great . . . thus we turn to the bottle for comfort . . . because we are uncomfortable in the society in which we live.

As our drinking progresses, we withdraw from that society and enter into a world of fantasy all of our own where no one else may enter, not even those who are nearest and dearest to us. And we continue to live in our world of make-believe, until one of three things may occur: we may become permanently insane, we may suffer an alcoholic death, or we may just get "sick and tired of being sick and tired" and come to the realization that we must do something about our drinking.

Why did I drink? I drank because I found it uncomfortable to live in today's society; I found it impossible (I thought then) to accept life as it was meant to be for me . . . and I found solace in a bottle.

Why do you drink?

Midges Becoming Unbearable In Some Sections of Sunshine State

[illegible]

[illegible]ology explains that the more people who come to Florida result in more sewage treatment plants which help feed plankton — tiny organisms — in lakes and streams. The plankton are also fed by fertilizer draining from citrus groves and pastures, and from industrial wastes.

Adult midges lay eggs on top of waters in a gelatinous mass which breaks up and sinks to the bottom. There the larvae spin webs to catch plankton on which to feed until the new midge emerges. Then the cycle starts all over again.

Muirennan explained that [illegible] by chemical means is difficult until all possible is known about all midges which are the most nuisance (they are no health hazard), whether to use contact or stomach poisons, which larvae are fixed or swim freely.

Mrs. Beck has just begun her work but so far has identified 150 species. She says "at a rough estimate I believe we will find about 300 species including 10 to 15 new ones. The task is not too complicated and it is very interesting but it is very difficult to distinguish among the various types."

She gets the midges from light traps all over the state. Her husband William, also a Board biologist, helps by the collection of midge larvae. The midges heretofore have gone unmolested insofar as curiosity into their personal lives are concerned in Florida.

Mrs. Beck was awarded the grant because of past work with sand flies. Using her free time, she conducted the first survey of these pests and classified 28 species including four new ones. She discovered that there are two species on the east Florida coast and one on the west which give the most trouble with their bites.

After her sand fly habit discoveries, the Board was in a far better position to start trying to control the flies. Muirennan expects the same thing will happen after she completes her work with the midges.

Patrols List Accident Causes

TALLAHASSEE— The Florida Highway Patrol listed four of the most common causes of accidents today and said that either or all might easily be averted by sensible driving.

Following too closely, speeding, improper passing and improper turning were listed as the chief reasons for accidents which result in millions of dollars worth of damages not to mention the loss of life and limb.

Although the patrol is constantly on the alert to stop such violations, Comdr. H. N. Kirkman said they are the most frequently disobeyed laws and regulations of our state.

"The above mentioned violations may not seem important to motorists but they are the most commonly ignored regulations of safety which drivers seldom pay attention to until after the wreck—if they are alive," said Kirkman.

State troopers are on the lookout for such violators and the patrol says they will be dealt with in order to hold the line on death and injury.

County Soil Conservation District To Elect Three Members Oct. 17

Voters of Highlands Soil Conservation District will go to the polls October 17, to elect three members of the five-man governing board. The terms of Waggaman, Barben and Durrance expire in October, according to Katherin Waggaman, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors. Nominating Petitions have been submitted for the three above whose terms expire.

Polling places will be set up at Metcalfe Hardware, Avon Park, South Florida Motor Company, Sebring, Polk Hardware, Lake Placid and Clarke Grocery, Lorida.

The Highlands Soil Conservation District is a political subdivision of State government, directed by a board of five landowners elected by their neighbors and serve without salary.

Many groups and agencies cooperate with the Soil Conservation District in, helping landowners develop and apply soil and water conservation plans on farm and ranch land. The Soil Conservation Service provides most of the technical help. The Florida Forest Service provides technical help on specialized phases of woodland conservation. The Florida Game & Fresh Water Commission, County Agents, Vocational Agriculture teachers, County Commissioners, and others provide assistance in various ways.

This past week the Highlands Soil Conservation District assisted R. B. Sherley of Venus in developing a Conservation plan on 465 acres, the most of which will be developed to improved pasture and a small part formed in rotation with the pasture grasses.

The Soil Conservation Service Engineers assisted W. F. Ward of Avon Park in the construction of an irrigation pit for 60 acres of citrus and Edna Lockett of Ft. Bassinger on 1300 acres of water control.

"They Guard Against Floods and Drouths" is the title of an article published in the October issue of the Progressive Farmer magazine on the Watershed operations of Highlands County. It was prepared by Sam Polston and L. A. Jacobsen, Soil Conservation Service, Sebring.

"New Look" In Hunting Regs From Judges

TALLAHASSEE — A "New Look" has been added to the 1961-62 summaries of hunting and fishing regulations, now being distriubuted by County Judges and authorized subagents.

Hunters and fishermen should benefit from the effort to streamline and simplify summaries of laws and the information posters published by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, according to A. D. Aldrich, director.

All of the Commission's summaries of regulations have been rewritten for simplicity and accuracy, and one new summary created to cover all rules and licenses for the commercial taking or handling of wildlife and fresh-water fish.

"In redrafting the 'old-style' summaries, we have attempted to make the rules, laws and license structures more easily readable for the sportsman, and still retain the necessary accuracy of legal terms," Aldrich stated. "We are interested in giving our fishermen and hunters this improved information to make their favorite sport simpler, and also reduce unintentional violations of the law."

The redrafting work was done by the Information and Education Division, in cooperation with Administration and the Fiscal, Fisheries and Game Management Divisions of the Commission.

As each new summary is completed by the printers involved, copies are rushed direct to all distribution points.

"Jr. College Gang" Taking Over In Florida From Pork Choppers?

By Don McKeon[illegible]

TALLAHASSEE — Back in the 1957 Legislature, education sprouted a new tail—the community junior college program — at least new in the sense that a special state program was established to push it into new areas.

During the 1961 Legislature, there was growing talk that the so-called "Senate Pork Chop Gang"—the small county senators—had dissolved, and a new breed was taking over, the "Junior College Gang."

The new group, a powerful combination of big and little counties, South and North Florida counties, seemed to dominate legislative budget considerations.

There was a suspicion that the junior college "tail" was beginning to wag the educational dog.

We asked Legislators if there was such a junior college gang — one that would swap and trade to see that money is available for junior colleges . . . at the expense of other programs.

Reaction was mixed.

Some said there was such a gang.

Others said there might be a group interested in promoting junior colleges, but it shouldn't be called a "gang", and others said there was no such group.

It also is interesting to note that several legislators candidly agreed that the "swap and trade" system prevailed in the Legislature, and wanted to know if there was any other way of doing business.

Some of the answers to the question from Legislators are as follows:

"It was a temporary group in the Senate . . . since dissolved and not necessary," from Lower East Coast legislator.

"There are a number of legislators who have junior colleges in their districts. They are naturally interested and concerned with the welfare of these institutions. Some of these legislators might be willing to 'swap and trade', but certainly most of them will not do so at the expense of other worthwhile and needy projects. This is a strong group and it should be a factor in all future sessions due to its numerical strength," from a Lower West Coast legislator.

"When you realize that over half our counties are participating in the junior college program now this gives their request much strength and a sizeable bloc — it is similar to the type of natural bond and support existing between Leon, Alachua and now Hillsborough counties in regard to appropriations for their universities," from an East Coast legislator.

"There is evidence of such a group and such an operation is not in the best interest of the State," from a North Florida legislator.

"Yes, there is such a group and it is very bad," from an East Coast legislator.

"To my knowledge such a group does not exist and I am confident that the members of the Legislature in the future will be of such 'high caliber' that they will not sacrifice a good program for junior colleges alone," from a South Florida legislator.

"Legislators from counties feel a common interest when they have similar types of institutions. Junior Colleges are certainly no exception," from Central Florida legislator.

"I know of none. I think it would be good if there were," from a West Coast legislator.

"There is developing such a group and it can be bad, unless the group relaxes its admant attitude," from a North Florida legislator.

"There is no such 'gang' but certainly those Senators representing districts where Junior Colleges are located did exert a tremendous amount of influence on the appropriations bill during the 1961 session. If those same senators were to band themselves together in the future for the sole purpose of pushing junior colleges out of proportion to the other educational requirements of the entire state it would definitely be a bad thing," from a North Florida legislator.

"I feel there is definitely a 'Junior College Gang'. I feel that this so-called 'Junior College Gang' consists of the entire membership of the Legislature. If any money appropriated by the Legislature was ever acquired without swapping or trading it would be enlightening for you to inform as to how it was done. I believe that all the appropriations by the Legislature are swapped or traded in one form of another," from a North Florida legislator.

"Yes there is a junior college gang. It is bad because this kind of horse trading does not make for good government for the whole state," from a West Coast legislator.

"There is no such group but the Junior college is important because so many high school graduates are just not prepared to enter a four-year college, and if they do, they soon drop out because they find it too advanced for them," from a Northeast Florida legislator.

"Legislative swapping and trading of support for local county institutions or agencies is not new nor is this custom confined to Florida. It is a political necessity for representatives of counties to see that their counties receive necessary appropriations . . . junior colleges are necessary and important, but uncontrolled and undisciplined expansion of this system could drain the state's financial resources and hurt our university system, both financially and academically," from a Central Florida legislator.

"Yes and I think it's bad," from a Central Florida legislator.

"I don't believe there is such a group," a South Florida legislator.

"Legislators with Junior Colleges in their counties and districts do swap and trade the same as Legislators do with State institutions in their counties and districts, for example, mental institutions, prisons and universities. I personally do not believe that appropriations should ever be parcelled out on this basis but, be that as it may, this has existed in the Florida State Legislature and quite possibly always will," from a North Florida legislator.

APCI Gets New 5-Year Lease

The Avon Park Correctional Institute located at the Avon Park Bombing Range was given a new lease on life this week as the State Prisons Board signed a new five-year lease with the federal government. The state will pay a $1 a year on the lease during the five years. Previously the state paid $92,000 during the four year lease period.

H. G. Cochran, director of state prisons said a full title might be acquired to the property at a later date.

L. L. Wainwright is superintendent of the institute which normally has about 650 minimum security prisoners within its confines.

The Junior Woman's Club held their regular monthly meeting at the Club House Tuesday night. James Coarsey of Lake Placid was the guest speaker.

Coarsey, who was honored by the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs in 1953-54 when he was named "Hume Fellow" by the FFGC, spoke on the "Use of Florida Exotic Plant Material in Landscaping." He offered suggestions on plants to set in extremely dry soil, and what to plant on the hot side of the house and on the north side of the house, and he also told of the favorable grasses to use in certain locations.

Mrs. B. Frank Camp, Jr., president, conducted the business. Mrs. Wayne Cribb served as secretary in the absence of Mrs Jane Kelley. Miss Frances Annis gave the devotional.

A recommendation from the Executive Board was approved to set aside the proceeds from one money making project during the year for the Ridge Area Day School. Mrs. Henry Heilig asked for some volunteers who would transport the children to and from the day school.

Hostesses Frances Roberts, Nell Roberts and Myrtice Smith used a Halloween theme in the decorations and refreshments served.

Mrs. K. W. Elder, chairman of the Halloween Carnival announced all committees are making ready for the big celebration which will be held Saturday, October 28.

Mother Seeks Damages From ACL Railroad

An Avon Park mother is seeking damages in excess of $500 from the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad as the result of the death of her divorced husband.

Mrs. Lillian Kendrick, divorced wife of Obie Kendrick, filed the damage suit against the railroad in behalf of her three children, Jimmy (12), Jerry (10), and Julian (7).

The youngster's father was killed on April 11 of this year in a car-train smashup South of Sebring.

Mrs. Kendrick alleges that the railroad was negligent in operation of their vehicle and that the cross was unmarked. James Allen Riser, engineer and John Doe, breakman were also named in the suit as defendants.

Devil "B" 11 Tops Ft. Meade

Avon Park's "B" squad won their second game of the season Tuesday night in Ft. Meade with a 14-0 score.

The junior Miners held the Avon Park jayvees scoreless in the first half but the young Red Devils came back after the halftime period looking like a new ball club as they pulled together to score two touchdowns and the extra points.

Avon Park's first touchdown was scored by John Rhoades from two yards out after the team drove for 70 yards from their own 30. Rhoades also went over for the point after the touchdown.

Eddie DeLaney intercepted a pass on the Ft. Meade 35 yard line and raced over the goal line for the second score. Again Rhoades ran across for the extra point.

Next week Avon Park travels to Lake Wales on Wednesday, October 18, for an afternoon encounter with the Highlander "B" squad. Game time will be 4:30 p. m.

Better Quality Forecast For Rose Growers

Florida rose fanciers may obtain better quality plants in the future as the result of a new rose grading regulation which has been placed into effect by the State of Texas.

Doyle Conner, Florida Department of Agriculture commissioner, said today that the regulation would mean that nurserymen in this state would have to adopt the new standards when shipping roses into Texas. Conner disclosed that Dr. William G. Cowperthwaite, director of the Department's Division of Plant Industry, had relayed information that the grading system would require stricter attention here to the matter of labeling bushes and cuttings.

In a letter to Dr. Cowperthwaite, Assistant Agriculture Commissioner Charlie Chapman of Texas noted that the standards now in force are higher than those required by the American Association of Nurserymen.

The label denoting grade must be attached to each rose plant, cutting or shipment offered for sale, according to Chapman. Texas inspectors have received instructions to check deliveries into the state and shipments out of the state to determine if rose plants and cuttings are being properly labeled.

Chapman wrote Dr. Cowperthwaite that the new regulation "will help the rose industry here and at the same time insure you of getting better bushes. You can help by bringing to our attention any plants that you find not properly marked. If you have any nurserymen shipping bushes to Texas, please pass the word along to them that the bushes must be graded."

The standards specified apply to all roses when sold either bare root in bundles or individually wrapped and packaged, Chapman explained.

Any person, firm or corporation planning to grade or to claim a grade for selling or offering to sell commercial quantities of rose plants or cuttings in Texas must apply for a certificate of authority from the Texas Department of Agriculture. All license fees for such sales shall be based upon the annual volume of sale, Chapman declared.

Next week October 15-21 is National Newspaper Week. It is also National Apple Week. If we had an apple industry in Florida I'd be in favor of putting a shiny, big red apple on the desk of every one of our newspaper editors some morning as a token of appreciation for the fine job our press does in keeping us informed.

We may disagree with an editorial now and then. We may not like some facts reported in the news. But no single authority is dictating the editorials and news we read in our newspapers. They are presented to us free from the controls and restraints that rule the press under authoritarian governments.

Freedom of the press is one of our most cherished American heritages. Our newspapers today are a massive bulwark against forces that would destroy our American way of life.

In Florida this month we're observing "Eggtober" in recognition of the season when pullets are just getting into the swing of consistent laying and their first efforts are confined to the "small" variety. These eggs are on the markets now and should be a good buy. They're just as nourishing as the large sizes even though one doesn't occupy as much space on your plate or in the frying pan as the higher priced larger egg.

There was a time when the housewife didn't think a brown-shelled egg was as good as the white kind. That myth has been exploded. An egg is an egg and the color of the shell makes no difference. And small eggs make just as good cakes as large ones.

Egg production has been undergoing radical changes in recent years. Commercial flocks have been grately increased in size; automation has become more widespread in feeding, handling and packaging; refrigeration has become a must from the earliest possible moment after an egg leaves the nest until it is used in the kitchen; and the total consumption of eggs in Florida has increased by leaps and bounds.

Looking over the records of Florida egg production I find that total of eggs sold in the state increased from 195 million in 1943 to 855 million in 1959, the largest reported year. That's a jump of more than 338 per cent.

Gross income from eggs, including those consumed on the farm, was more than 29 million dollars in 1959 for a new high. However, average price for the year was only 39.1 cents, nearly 6½ cents under the previous year and the lowest since 1944. Highest price was 58.1 cents in 1951.

To show you what is happening in Florida egg production, our Marketing Bureau reports the number of layers in July, 1960 was 4,612,000 while in July this year it was 4,950,000 for a gain of 38,000. However, recent average price to producers was only 33 cents per dozen, down 5 cents from the July 1960 figure of 38 cents.

A friend tells me that back in the Thirties eggs were selling at Wisconsin farms for 15 cents a dozen. "I told a farmer that was ridiculous," he said. "That price didn't even pay for the wear and tear on the hens. So, I insisted on paying 25 cents a dozen and the farmer was happy."

My friend had some appreciation of what farmers are faced with and a little knowledge of farming—more at any rate than the city man who bought a small farm and some chicks. To his dismay, all the baby chicks died. "What in the world did you feed them?" asked his neighbor. "Feed them?" blurted the would-be farmer. "I thought the hens nursed them."

YOUTH PROGRAM

"Horse Trading" Is Practiced In Electing Senate. House Leaders

By [illegible] M[illegible]

TALLAHASSEE — The horse trading that goes on to elect Senate Presidents and House Speakers is "strictly a business but our own," most legislators seem to think.

That's the general impression you get from answers [illegible] answers to questionnaires asking legislators if they were pledged to anyone for these posts in 1965.

In the meantime, two candidates claim to have the posts sewed up and the race is under way for the 1967 session, three elections away.

It is a settled fact that Rep. Mallory Horne and Sen. Wilson Carraway, both of Tallahassee, will head the House and the Senate in 1963.

Beyond that, however, Sen. James E. Connor, Brooksville, and Rep. E. C. Rowell, Wildwood, claim the Senate Presidency and House Speakership in 1965.

It boils down to this, like it or not, that Florida's legislators are swapping pledges for choice committee assignments.

Legislators are noticeably reluctant to say who they are pledged to, and since the public generally doesn't ask, they are able to swap their pledges without getting in hot water.

Someday, however, some smart opponents might raise the issue in a campaign, and ask these legislators what right they have to make a pledge on an office they don't even hold—an office which they must seek several times before they are legitimately in it.

Better yet, people in the local areas and newspapers could begin demanding that their legislators tell them who they are pledged to and why.

It would be interesting.

The simple facts are that these long-range secret pledges are a form of Legislative black mail.

You either get on the bandwagon or get dumped from the inner circle.

Outside of the governor, these posts are the most important in Florida government—and in some respects they are more important.

A House Speaker or Senate President can kill legislation by a committee reference.

Most Legislators polled did not have a solution to the problem.

We offer this one:

Any pledge must be made public.

Of 133 queries, only 30 Legislators were willing to answer whether they had pledged or not.

Out of those only seven were willing to name the men they were pledged to.

Of the 30 answers, only three thought long range pledging was good, and one of those wasn't too much of an endorsement.

That legislator said, "When [illegible] real way to avoid it. The 19[illegible] [illegible] who seeks such a post [illegible] and waits for [illegible] at the outset."

Other comments [illegible]

"Not good, [illegible] a way to stop it," from a legislator who [illegible] he was pledged to.

"Good. It [illegible] the future [illegible]" from a Senator [illegible]

"It is [illegible] guarantee that [illegible] selected by [illegible] will ever be a member [illegible]" from a legislator [illegible] pledged.

"A Speaker [illegible] a President would need, in my judgement, at least one year [illegible] to accomplish the planning and organization for his session. Beyond that, I would not [illegible] the question as to the point at which this might become [illegible] ridiculous," from a legislator who declined to answer whether he was pledged or not.

"I think long range pledging is bad. It is the custom, however, and if you expect the candidate of your choice to have any chance at all it is necessary to encourage him to get into the race and secure pledges at the earliest time. I am not willing to encourage others to seek pledges or to give pledges unless I am willing to give one myself. However, I am in favor of and will support any type of plan that will shorten the pledge period," from a legislator who is pledged but declined to say to whom.

"I think pledging for years in advance is a bad practice—It creates a desire upon the part of the legislator to please the one to whom he is pledged in order to get good committee assignments. Two year pledging does create some harmony and efficiency," from an unpledged legislator.

"Definitely bad," from an unpledged legislator.

"I think it should be on a seniority basis," from an unpledged legislator.

"Bad!" from an unpledged legislator.

"Bad, very bad," from an unpledged legislator.

"I believe that pledging your vote even two years in advance is detrimental to the state and to the person who pledged himself. I sincerely feel that long-range pledging is bad to the pledgor and the pledgee because it 'ties the hands' of the pledgor and lends more 'power' to the pledgee. It often times leads to picking or choosing the wrong person for the right job as speaker and chairman of various committees," from an unpledged legislator.

"Ridiculous," from an un-

Forest Service Offers Trees For Planting

A variety of different forest tree species will be available from the Florida Forest Service nurseries for the Florida landowner to plant during the coming winter planting season here in south Florida. According to District Forester J. H. Smith of the Lakeland office, the Florida Forest Service nurseries will produce slash, loblolly, longleaf and sand pine; tupelo gum, catalpa, red cedar, arizona cypress, cotton wood, yellow poplar, bald cypress and potted and bare root Eucalyptus.

All pine species will be $4.00 per thousand f.o.b. nursery. The prices of other species vary from potted Eucalyptus stock at $15.00 per hundred to $5.00 per thousand for catalpa seedlings. Red cedar and arizona cypress seedlings are $8.00 per thousand and all other species are $10.00 per thousand. Most of the hardwood seedling stocks are $10.00 per thousand. Most of the hardwood seedling stocks are produced at the Florida Forest Service nursery at Munson, Florida, with the exception of the tropical Eucalyptus species that are produced at the Herren nursery south of Punta Gorda. The slash pine is produced at all four of the Florida Forest Service nurseries, with both the north and south Florida varieties being produced at the south Florida, Herren, nursery.

Landowners interested in specie selection, site preparation or other reforestation problems should contact their local county forester, county fire control unit, or District Forester, P. O. Box 2067, Lakeland, Florida.

Seedlings may be ordered through Florida Forest Service District office in Lakeland, County Forester's Office, County Agent's Office or the Agricultural Conservation Program Office.

City Council Minutes

(Organizational meeting held at city hall, midnight, September 30, 1961.)

All members present including the Mayor and City Attorney. Invocation given by Mr. Dilley.

The Chair called for any unfinished business and there being none closed the meeting. Assistant City Clerk Edna Leighton then administered the Oath of Office to the incoming Mayor and two Councilmen, E. A. DeLaney, Sr., Sam McKenzie and H. M. Farless respectively. The newly elected officers took their places at the Council table.

The Chair entertained a motion for a Chairman. Motion by Mr. Kirkland, seconded by Mr. McKenzie that Mr. Dilley be nominated as Chairman. President King said that he wanted to comment before the roll call. Mr. King stated that he had heard through the "grapevine" for some time what had been planned without any phase of it being discussed with him. He felt that the reasons were apparently obvious. Mr. King stated that he had been elected to the Council three consecutive times; the last two that he had received the greatest amount of votes cast for any one candidate. He said that his vote count had not been surpassed in two more City elections since he had been on the Board including the most recent for which he was most grateful. Mr. King further stated that it had always been a tradition in Avon Park for the candidate most wanted by the electors as shown by their voting, to be Council President for their elected term. He said that he felt he was getting a raw deal as well as the voters. However, he stated, that regardless of this, he would work for the best interest of Avon Park.

Mr. Kirkland then reminded Mr. King that he had mentioned this nomination to Mr. King several weeks ago. That each of them had been Chairman and he thought it fair to swap about for certainly there was no axe to grind.

The Chair called for the roll call. Those voting "Aye" were Mr. Kirkland, Mr. McKenzie and Mr. Farless. Mr. King voted "Naye" and Mr. Dilley abstained from voting.

Mr. Dilley accepted the gavel and thanked the Council for their vote of confidence and stated that he would try to be worthy of it.

Mr. McKenzie nominated Mr. King for Vice Chairman but he declined. Mr. Farless nominated Mr. Kirkland as Vice Chairman, seconded by Mr. McKenzie and carried unanimously with the exception of Mr. Kirkland who abstained from voting.

Motion by Mr. Kirkland, seconded by Mr. McKenzie and unanimously carried that Mr. Hue Nunnallee be appointed as City Attorney, Lucile A. Shockley be appointed as City Clerk and L. F. Harrison be appointed as Chief of Police.

Motion by Mr. Kirkland, seconded by Mr. McKenzie and unanimously carried that the present employees be hired subject to confirmation at the first regular meeting.

Meeting adjourned.

Roland L. Dilley,
President

U.L.C.W. of Fla. Holds Meeting

Mrs. Helene D. Becker and Mrs. H. E. Gibson represented the Avon Park United Lutheran Church Women at the annual meeting of the U.L.C.W. of the Florida Synod, which was held in Jacksonville last week. St. Mark's Church in Jacksonville was the host church, but the 200 women held their headquarters at the George Washington Hotel.

This was the final meeting of this body, since during 1962 all four Synods of the Lutheran Churches in America will become one church under the name of Lutheran Church in America, and the church women will also become one body.

At present, there is one female alcoholic for every five male alcoholics in the State of Florida, but the proportion of female alcoholics is increasing faster than males, according to the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program.

(HAVE YOU HEARD)

* Aside from its important of leasing terminal storage facilities, the other major facet of General American Transportation Corporation's leasing business is its leasing of special types of railroad freight cars, primarily to industrial shipping. In this area, GATX, as the company is generally known, is well equipped. Its fleet of 65,000 cars is the largest privately owned car fleet in the world. It consists mainly of 51,000 tank cars, which are leased on term contracts to more than 800 concerns, principally shippers of chemical, food and petroleum products, and cover the so-called "blue chips" of American industry. Incidentally, the company's car fleet is anything but a static asset. In 1960, for instance, approximately $26 million worth of new cars was added to the fleet, and it now appears that another approximate $30 million worth of cars will be added by the end of 1961. These railway cars not only are designed by General American, but are self-manufactured. And of its 65,000 car fleet, over 29,000 cars are fully depreciated. Over 38,000 cars are free of lien.

* Continental Can Co. Inc., is showing a remarkably good performance in the important new market of soft drink cans. Sales in the first seven months jumped 93.2 per cent as unit deliveries rose to 282 million from 146 million a year earlier. Experts believe this market has the most promising growth potential in the can industry. The industry reached an all-time high in 1960 with sales of 812 million units. This year, it is forecast, at least 1.2 billion containers will be used, up 50 per cent from 1960. Continental manufactures soft drink cans at 13 facilities across the country, and plans to manufacture at additional facilities as demand expands.

* Oil marketers are experimenting with plans to expand the merchandise base at service stations. Pure Oil has established Montgomery Ward catalog sales agencies at stations in Palatine and Fox Lake, Ill., and Greensboro, N. C. Customers can order the full line of Montgomery Ward merchandise, get quick mail delivery, receive the full Montgomery Ward guarantee, and obtain credit. Ohio Standard is serving hot lunches to customers at two of its stations on interstate routes in Ohio in less time than it takes to service the car. The food is precooked, frozen and packaged in individual sealed containers by Stouffer Corp. Electronic ovens are installed at the stations to warm the food. A hostess is on duty to help the customer select food from refrigerated vending machines.

* The mid-section of the Mercury Capsules carrying the first and second American astronauts into space was constructed with both an inner and other shell of Crucible Steel Co. of America's patented titanium alloy, A-110AT. The McDonnell Aircraft Corporation, the designer and builder of the capsule, specified the use of this titanium wherever possible to accomplish important weight savings. A-110AT with 5 per cent aluminum and 2½ per cent tin was used because of its moderately high strength, its resistance to softening at temperatures in the 600-800 degree F range and its ability to be welded with resultant high efficiency, ductile welds.

TAX NOTICES ON WAY—Highlands County Tax Collector W. H. Prescott, left, and assistant J. T. Landress made a last minute check of tax notices this week, prior to putting them into the mails later this month. The tax roll hit a new high this year, Prescott said.

Here's Fact Sheet For Nimrods Who Will Hunt Doves This Season

Mourning Doves — An outstanding game bird which has long been popular in southern states, and is becoming increasingly popular in many northern states.

Migratory — Mourning doves are classed as migratory game birds under jurisdiction of U. S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, which sets dove season framework, bag limits and regulations for all states. The states may further restrict, but cannot expand, the hunting season, bag limits or regulations.

Incoming Flights — Two main flights into Florida one in October and one in late November and December. In some Florida counties, doves appear in sufficient numbers for hunting only in the early flight.

Life Cycle — Doves have a high natural mortality—70 to 80 per cent die during their first year of life. Objective under good management is to harvest such birds in a sporting manner before they die from natural causes.

Harvest — If early doves are not taken in October, those particular birds are largely lost to Florida hunters. Statistically, more doves in Florida are harvested in October than during later season. Proper game resource management calls for adequate harvest of both early and late dove flights.

Flight Patterns — Largest populations of doves appear in October in Northwest Florida—particularly Gulf, Franklin and Wakulla Counties—and in the peninsula roughly west of a line from Columbia County southward to Manatee county—and in extreme Southeast Florida—namely Palm Beach, Broward, Dade and Monroe Counties.

Dove Seasons

Hunting Days — This year, Federal regulations allow Florida 70 half-days (noon to sunset) of dove hunting. Florida chose a two-phase season—23 half-days from October 7 to October 29, and 47 half-days from November 23 to January 8.

Zoning — Federal regulations do not allow zoning inside a state. Florida must set statewide season—not different seasons for different parts of state. State-wide season may be restricted on local basis—if state-wide two-phase season is set, then either phase may be closed in individual districts. Hunters in districts closed during one of two phases would lose those half-days of dove hunting, since the time could not be added to the remaining phase. Florida could take 70 straight half-days, but some hunters would lose their best dove-hunting days.

Objections — Some hunters object to early season on basis that it allows a few individuals to take other game under excuse, "I'm dove hunting." Such few people, however, can use the year-around excuse "I'm crow-hunting, rabbit-hunting or snake-hunting." Other hunters say early dove season discourages violations since legal hunters are in the field, and deliberate violators fear they will be observed and reported. Some landowners object to the early season on the grounds that it invites trespass by dove hunters.

Early Guns — Does the early dove season encourage hunters to take other game illegally? Naturally, early dove season does result in more hunters afield before regular hunting season. However, Game Commission feels that damage to resident game as specific result of early dove season is minor, and does not justify closing early season and losing opportunity to harvest the early flight of doves. Commission believes that most Florida hunters are good hunters.

Dove Baiting Laws

Regulations for the hunting of migratory birds are designed to achieve two purposes:

1. To guarantee the return to the nesting grounds of sufficient breeders to maintain an adequate population, and
2. To provide a reasonable opportunity for a large number of hunters to share fairly in the harvest.

Legal Methods — It is legal to hunt doves—

Over grain fields seeded in a normal agricultural manner.

Over standing crops.

Over standing grain or other feed crops grazed by livestock. Example—hogged-down corn and/or peanut fields.

Over grain found scattered solely as the result of a normal agricultural harvest.

Illegal Methods — It is illegal to hunt doves—

Over bait or by means, aid and use of bait—or on or over any area where grain, salt or other feed capable of luring or attracting such birds is placed, deposited, distributed or scattered except as the result of a normal agricultural planting or harvest.

Over feed lots—where grain is present as a result of feeding livestock.

Over areas where grain crops have been cut down, dragged down, knocked down, burned over or otherwise manipulated and left on the ground.

Stew Priced Right - Council: Recipe Given

The Florida Beef Council suggests smart homemakers in the State look over beef stew meats during this time of the year.

This particular type of meat carries an attractive price tag nowadays because of its abundant supply.

Also, your beef stew can take on Italian airs in a succulent Florida Beef Stew Cacciatore, a long-cooking version of the traditional dish which makes a handsome company meal. Big chunks of beef are browned and cooked until tender in a flavorful bouillon. At the end of the cooking period, red wine, plump whole canned tomatoes and green pepper squares are added. The hearty dish is served with wide noodles.

Boneless beef stew meat is always a "good buy" and the deep-flavored stewing and pot roasting cuts are particularly good budget stretchers during this Fall period of heavy beef marketing.

Look to new and different ways of preparing this favorite for delightful adventures in good eating.

FLORIDA BEEF STEW CACCIATORE

Olive Oil; 2 medium onions, chopped; Flour; 3 pounds of beef stew meat, cut in 1-inch cubes; 2 cloves garlic; 2 teaspoons salt; ½ teaspoon oregano; ½ teaspoon crushed red pepper; 1 cup beef bouillon; ½ cup red wine; 1 No. 2 can whole tomatoes; 2 green peppers cut in squares; 12 ounces noodles.

Cover bottom of heavy skillet with olive oil. Heat. Brown onions. Remove to separate bowl. Flour beef. Brown in oil. Crush garlic in salt. To meat add onions, garlic, oregano, red pepper and bouillon. Cover and simmer slowly for two hours, or until beef is tender. Add more bouillon if needed. Add wine and cover to steam for 3 minutes. Add tomatoes and cook uncovered for 15 minutes. Add green pepper and cook another 15 minutes. Cook noodles and drain. Add part of sauce to noodles and mix. Serve with beef mixture.

Yield: 8 portions.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Sargent are the proud grandparents of a son born to their daughter, Arlene, who with her husband, Robert M. Sundy, lives in Atlanta, Georgia, 2381 Armond Road, N.E. The young man arrived Saturday, October 7 and weighed 7 pounds and 8 ounces. He has been named John Sargent Sundy. Mrs. Sargent has been visiting with the Sundys for the past two weeks. Mr. Sargent will be driving up to Atlanta to see his only grandchild and to bring Mrs. Sargent home.

Drivers Warned To Use Caution

TAMPA — Cats may see better at night, but motorists were warned today that driving at night becomes increasingly difficult as you grow older.

The Peninsula Motor Club (AAA) came up with the figures, estimating that after age 20, the amount of light required to see an object doubles for each 13 years of increase in age.

"A driver 33 years old needs about twice the amount of light to see a dimly lit object as does a person aged 20," said Marvin L. Holloway, president of the club. "At age 46, the amount of light needed is about twice that at age 33."

The motor club chief dug through a report, "Visibility for Night Driving," prepared by Burton W. Marsh and Earl Allgaier, of the AAA's Traffic Engineering and Safety Department, to get the statistics.

Because of these limitations, Holloway urged older citizens to drive more slowly at night. He also emphasized that the ability to recover from glare (approaching headlights at night) diminishes sharply with advancing age. And he pointed out that few eye examinations, however, test this aspect of vision.

Holloway added that the report pointed out that lack of an adequate supply of oxygen in the lungs will also decrease the sensitivity of the eye.

"Though it is little realized, inadequate oxygen may be caused by smoking as well as by high altitudes," Holloway declared. "Smoking while driving can be avoided. Extra caution is suggested while driving at high altitudes."

Now, getting back to cats and their ambulatory powers. One encyclopedia tells us that in bright light or during the brightest part of the day the iris of the cat contracts and shuts out much of the glare, while at night the iris opens wider than it does in eyes of man or other animals. The wide open iris lets in all possible light. This allows cats to see in a dim light.

But don't kid yourself—cats cannot see in complete darkness, as most people believe, according to this authority. And a Tampa veterinarian says cats do not have the depth perception that a human being has, that's why they get hit so often.

Approximately 11% of the State's general income is derived from taxes on alcoholic beverages, according to the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program.

Residents Urged To Use Caution With Heaters

JACKSONVILLE. — Cooler weather is coming to Florida and with it, in all probability, will be a rash of fires due to improperly operated home heaters, the State Board of Health said today.

Accidents are the fourth leading cause of death in Florida, behind heart disease, cancer and stroke in that order. Last year fires and explosions caused 228 deaths.

Board officials said heaters should be cleaned and tested before they are actually needed because accumulation of carbon in the fire box and flooding are the main causes of trouble.

Officials stressed these points:

Use a lighter rod if possible but at any rate BE SURE that not too much oil is in the fire pot when it is lighted.

Never fill or move a portable heater while it is running.

Place heaters away from curtains and furniture and place them so they cannot be tipped over.

Always remember that a heater burns oxygen in a room and that a little outside air is necessary. Florida law requires all fuel-burning fixed heaters to have outside vents.

Citrus Tour Planned By County Agent

A rapidly growing and heavily producing young grove will be viewed by growers attending a County Agent's Tour on October 17.

The tour committee of the Highlands County Citrus Advisory Committee finalized plans for the first county citrus tour of this season. Smokey Padgett, Elton Crews, and Earl Crutchfield make up the tour committee. Meeting with the Assistant County Agent, they planned a tour of the Lake Denton property south of Avon Park.

The citrus tour will begin at C. E. Crew's equipment barn at 2:30 p.m. on the 17th of October. Crew's equipment barns and office are located to the right of the second right angle turn one makes on alternate 27 going south from Avon Park. The barns are less than a mile from the center of Avon Park. Transportation will be pooled at this point and the group will move to the Lake Denton Grove. The fertilizer, spray, and cultural programs will be discussed with growers having an opportunity to view the irrigation system and some cultivation equipment.

Agent David Martsolf reports that this grove is an excellent example of the production possible on our high sands. Every citrusman viewing the grove finds it a rewarding experience.

Olds Records Best 10-Day Sales Period

LANSING — Actual retail sales of 17,389 new Oldsmobiles have confirmed that Oldsmobile's 1962 model announcement period was the most successful in the company's long history, it was announced today by Jack F. Wolfram, general manager of Oldsmobile Division and a vice president of General Motors.

"Never before," he said, "have Oldsmobile dealers delivered so many new cars within the sales period in which public announcement day falls.

"Not only that," Wolfram added, "but by delivering so many new Oldsmobile F-85's, 88's, 98's and Starfires to their customers in the final ten days of September, our dealers recorded the best ten-day sales period since September of 1955 —six years ago.

"The excellence of this sales report," he said, "attests to the high degree of public acceptance that our new 1962 models have earned. Dealers had informed us earlier that the longer and lower styling of the 88's and 98's was being wonderfully received and that there was considerably more interest in the improved 1962 F-85 models. Our dealers also report that the exciting new Starfire Couple and the Cutlass Convertable are attracting many new buyers into their dealerships.

"I have been optimistic about the business outlook and Oldsmobile's outlook," Wolfram said, "Today, with the knowledge that our new styling and performance, together with Oldsmobile's increased emphasis on product reliability, are pleasing our customers, I am even more so."

Avon Band Association Declines Cherry Blossom Festival Invitation

LOUIE L WAINWRIGHT

Upon the recommendation of the executive committee, the Avon Park Band Association, in its second meeting of the new school year Monday night, declined an invitation to attend the National Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D. C., next spring.

Considerable discussion evolved around the proposed trip which was turned down because of the high costs of transporting the band and chaperones to the nation's capitol. The band had made a trip to the Mardi Gras in New Orleans last year.

Principal A. B. Wilhite of the Avon Park high school said he doubted that the school board would permit the 70 band students to miss a day, or several days of school to attend the Washington affair.

The association did however accept an invitation to participate in the Pageant of Light Festivities in Fort Myers in February. Director Victor MicKunas reported on band activities which have included half time shows at all high school footbal games and a trip to Fort Meade for a football game two weeks ago.

Approval of a $2,839 budget also was on the evening's agenda. MicKunas had requested $3,672.50 for the coming year, but his budget was trimmed by the executive committee before being presented to the association for approval.

Included in the budget was $250 for special music, $275 for instrument repair, district and state contests $450, general expenses $1,000, capital outlay $1,334 and uniforms $480. Of this fund, monies have already been expended for 80 flute-o-phones for fifth grade music students, a new bassoon and 3½ uniforms which are now on order. Five hundred dollars had been transferred from the special fund (left over from the New Orleans trip a year ago) to the general fund.

Officers of the Band Association this year are L. L. Wainwright, president, Mary Durden, vice president; Frances Adams, secretary, and Mrs. W. White, treasurer.

Serving on the executive committee are Wainwright, Durden and Adams, and Bob Lee, Elton Crews, Billy Martin and Mrs. Bob Barden.

The following committees were named by Wainwright:

Membership—J. T. Landress, chairman; Mrs. Robert E. Lee, vice chairman, and Mrs. Clayton Rhoades.

Ways and means—Mrs. Eloise Sharpe, chairman; Mrs. Harve E. Olsen, vice chairman, Mrs. R. C. Adams and Mrs. W. F. Luscomb.

Transportation—John Hutchinson, chairman; Elton Crews, vice chairman; R. P. Pate and R. P. DeLaney, Jr.

Chaperones — Mrs. Mervin Rehrer, chairman; Betty Sullivan, vice chairman, and Georgia M. Mason.

Equipment—Mrs. J. L. Townsend, chairman; Mrs. L. L. Wainwright, Mrs. J. W. Martin.

Publicity—Harve E. Olsen, chairman; Robert E. Lee, vice chairman, and Winie DeLaney.

Winter Guest Club News

Let's begin this spiel with a few personal items. Mr. and Mrs. Stratton, well known in this select circle for the past several years, paid our courts a visit last week. We welcomed them with glad hands and hoped to see more of them during the coming winter season. But alas, they have anchored their trailer home up at Zephyrhills, on Route 301, where, judging by the name, the gentle breezes always blow to cool the fevered brow. Just why anyone who has ever tasted the sweet air of Avon Park and its Guest Club should even think of settling down elsewhere is one of life's unsolvable mysteries, like who killed Cock Robin or why Castro was ever born. But they do, and we can't explain it.

We note with pleasure that Her Highness, Madam President of the Guest Club, has returned to town and is safely ensconsed in an apartment within a stone's throw of the Club grounds where she can keep a vigilant and watchful eye on it. We wish her a happy and successful year in her high office.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rentschler, of Marion, Ohio, may not return this year. It all depends on whether they can find a first-floor apartment suitable to their needs. For the past eight years they have occupied the Stroller's garage apartment and were all set to come back to it this year. But alackaday, early in September Ed took a tumble, the result of which was badly bruised ribs and knees so badly lamed that he is under Doc's orders to climb no more stairs. They will surely be much missed if they can not come back.

We hear that the dancing activity is still going strong, really on the up and up. Had there been one more couple to join the push last Friday night there would have been 6 sets on the floor, a real record for this time of the year. It appears that while the dancers are increasing in number the spectators are decreasing. In a way this is a welcome change since it means fewer chairs on the floor and more room for the dancers.

The card sharps, should say devotees, are having their innings now. We were informed a while ago that the Bridge tournaments would begin on the second Tuesday in October. But the managers couldn't wait. Under Mrs. Lexa's directions they started off with a bang on the first Tuesday, Oct. 3, and Mr. and Mrs. Brush swept the boards that day with respective scores of 4750 and 3580. A most excellent beginning for Charles and Bertha, high scorers at cards and frequently too at shuffleboard.

One final note. The players of penochle are to begin operations on Monday, Oct. 9, the very day in which we go to press with this historical skit. We shall spread the names of the winners across the page next week. And that's all just now from this corner of the round world, if you can imagine such a geographical wonder, says

Permits for such dove hunts will go on sale at a later date.

Feeding, Must For Dairy Cattle

GAINESVILLE — Cow depreciation cost per gallon of milk is the third largest milk production cost, following cost of feed and labor.

Dr. R. B. Becker, dairy husbandman with the Florida Agricultural Experiment Stations, says dairymen must provide their cows with the kind of feed, care and management conducive to a long, productive life in the herd.

A cow may cost $300 to raise or purchase and, when her useful period is over, bring $135 on the market.

Thus, her depreciation would amount to $13[illegible]. If the cow produced 8,000 pounds of milk while in the herd the cow-depreciation cost would be nearly 18 cents per gallon.

"On the other hand," says Dr. Becker, "if she produced 25,000 pounds of milk during her productive period, her depreciation cost would amount to less than 6 cents per gallon."

The difference between 18 and 6 cents per gallon for depreciation could be a deciding factor in determining the success or failure of a dairy herd.

Mortgages Up In State During Month of June

Home-purchase mortgages recorded in Florida turned upward in June for the first monthly gain in 15 months, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday.

"June's total came to $146,461,000, a 9 per cent gain over June of 1960. The national increase was 6 per cent. This June up-turn in Florida was a welcomed change as monthly totals since March of 1960 dropped as much as 24 per cent below the previous year.

"The Florida six-month total through June of this year reached $731,314,000, down 12 per cent from 1960 as a result of drops in early months of the year. This 1961 figure was also below the comparable 1959 figure but well above 1958. Nationally the January-June total this year was 2 per cent above 1960.

"Mortgages included in these figures are those of $20,000 or less (as reported to the Home Loan Bank Board) secured almost entirely by residential properties although some small business loans are also included.

"Savings and Loan Associations were the original lenders of $62 million of the June total in Florida, a gain of 13 per cent over the previous June. Governmental agencies loaned $40 million, up 2[illegible] per cent and commercial banks handled $12 [illegible]. Highlands County Sheriff Broward Coker has announced completion of the plans for a [illegible] appearance of the Rebels Quartet in Sebring at the high school auditorium, at 8:00 o'clock [illegible] of Saturday, October 21.

The Sheriff also announced that a quartet of boys from the [illegible] boys now resident at the Boys' Ranch at [illegible] would also be present and would entertain in addition to the Rebels Quartet.

The Rebels Quartet gospel and spiritual songs on national [illegible] known records are among the best sellers in the field. In many cases the Rebels are first to record new gospel songs, and other groups follow after hearing a successful number.

Members of the group include J[illegible] Mathews and Horace Pat[illegible], both of whom started their singing with the non-professional quartet that became the Rebels; London Parris, bass singer in the quartet; Jimmy [illegible], a native of Florida who [illegible] worked with several other gospel singing groups, and "Big Jim" Hamill, singing [illegible].

All net proceeds of the program will go to the Sheriffs' Boys Ranch to help expand and maintain the ranch for underprivileged boys. The tickets for the performance are available through the Sheriff's Office, any of the deputy sheriffs, or any member of the Sheriff's Rescue Unit.

Recent Bride Shower Honoree

Mrs. Shelly Marrs, the former Miss Cecilia Weinzirl, was the honoree at a shower Monday night, October 9, at the home of Mrs. Edna Leighton. Other hostesses for the party were Mrs. W. A. Maddox and Mrs. Jack DeLaney. The couple was married in the Baptist Church of Lake Placid, with only the families in attendance, September 27. They are making their home in the Avon Park Lakes area.

The bride received an array of lovely gifts for her new home. Miss Beth Church assisted with registering the guests in the bride's book. Miss Pat Touchton presided at the refreshment table. Sharing honors were the groom's mother, Mrs. F. Marrs, and his sister, Miss Joan Marrs of Lake Placid.

Arrangements of roses predominated in the flowers used, and a lace cloth covered the refreshment table. Cake squares bore dainty motifs of rose buds and orange blossoms, and compotes of nuts and mints completed the table appointments.

Coin Club To Meet Monday

The Ridge Coin Club will meet Monday, Oct. 16, 7:30 p. m. in the lounge of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association in Sebring.

An interesting program has been planned according to the club secretary, Mrs. Helen Robbins. A auction will be held after the program.

NEW SIGN Memorial Field's beauty was enhanced greatly recently with the addition of this new sign, which pays honor to two former Avon Park residents. Coach J H. Wendell Smith, ardent Avon Park fan designed and built the sign.

PTA Executive Board Meets At Leader's Home

The Executive Board of the High School PTA met at the home of R. M. Gay, president of the PTA, Tuesday night. The budget for the year was approved and Mrs. L. L. Wainwright, treasurer, was instructed to present it for adoption at the next regular meeting, which will be Thursday, October 19, at 7:30 p. m.

It was decided to ask home room representatives to assist with selling memberships, since this is the only source of income for the PTA, unless a money raising project is undertaken.

The Board voted to accept the resignation of Mrs. G. Franklyn Ward, with regrets, and to elect as vice president, Harve E. Olsen. Mr. Olsen is a newcomer to Avon Park. He has been active in PTA work, having served as president and his presence on the Board should add some interest to the PTA meetings.

All parents who have students in Junior or High School are urged to attend the regular monthly meeting next Thursday, October 19, 7:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

The Red Devils were forced to kick-off from their 25-yard line as the result of a penalty after the point try was over. The "Dogs" returned to the 46, but were forced back to the 31 by a 15-yard penalty. They could only gain back eight of the yards and kicked to Money on the 30, who returned to the Avon Park 37.

With Bobby Bates at the controls the Red Devils began a 63-yard sustained drive with reserve backs Max Still, Lance Padgett, and Tommy Singletary lugging the pigskin. Eighteen plays later Still hit pay dirt around his left end and then scored the point on the same play. Big play of the series was a 13-yard pass from Bates to Singletary, putting the ball on the 10-yard stripe.

During the intermission both school bands displayed entertaining routines.

On the first play from scrimmage to begin the third period, Money set his sights on the Bulldog goal line 71 yards away and completely outran the entire Frostproof team. Benton tacked on the point.

Later in the period, Bob Pearl, a scrappy 135-pound defensive stalwart, busted through the Frostproof line, found daylight and legged the ball for a 66-yard scoring run. The youngster had displayed his speed and alertness on a 90-yard run earlier in the season, only to have it nullified by a penalty. This time it was for real—no penalties. Still went up the middle for the point to end Avon Park's scoring.

Late in the final stanza Frostproof managed to dent the scoring column—for the first time this season—as Al Milton bulled his way 20-yards for the score. He added the point. Ironically, the score gave the visitors almost a big a thrill as winning, and the Polk County fans went wild.

The statistics:

	AP	FP
First downs	9	8
Rushing yardage	281	120
Passing yardage	62	17
Passes	2-3	2-9
Passes intercepted	1	1
Punts	1-31	6-26
Fumbles	1	0

How you can receive a check signed by Uncle Sam twice a year

When you buy an H Bond you can be sure of receiving your first interest check in six months—and every six months till maturity. Every year the U.S. Treasury mails out more than 3⅓ million interest checks worth $149 million to the folks holding Series H Bonds.

Why buy Series H Bonds? H Bonds are especially good if you're living on a retirement income or want to invest for current income.

If you own E Bonds you can trade them for H Bonds at anytime. (A nice feature of trading is you don't have to pay tax on the accumulated E Bond interest until your new H Bonds mature or are cashed.)

Guaranteed growth. Your Bond money now earns 3¾% interest held to maturity. Your money can't be lost because Uncle Sam replaces destroyed Bonds. And you can get your money with interest anytime you want it.

Every Savings Bond you buy is a share in a stronger America. Why not ask your banker for all the details?

H Bonds pay you 20 checks—one every 6 months. If you buy a $500 Bond, for example, your first 3 semi-annual interest checks will be $4, $7.25 and $8.00. Thereafter you receive $10 every 6 months. H Bonds also come in denominations of $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

You save more than money with

CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN—Collie dogs, long considered by man as one of the most obedient and intelligent of the canine family, are known for their record breaking performances. Lassie, shown above, owned by Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Pixler of Lake Letta is no exception. She presented her owners with this litter of 12 healthy pups a couple of weeks ago. To coin a phrase, Lassie feels as though pups are cheaper by the dozen. There were five males and seven females in the family.

Devils Visit Arcadia For Circuit Game

Locals Win Skein Broken By Wildcats

Still smarting from a 21-19 defeat by the Hardee High Wildcats of Wauchula last week, Avon Park's Red Devils will make a bid to get back into the victory column when they visit Arcadia Friday night. The game will be a Ridge Conference affair.

Although the Red Devils remain unbeaten in the Ridge, they suffered their first defeat of the season last week as the Wildcats came to town with a potent attack that left the locals on the short end of the score on a rain-soaked field.

Avon Park Coach Joe Franza said he expected to start his same lineup against the Bulldogs, since no serious injuries were incurred last week.

Arcadia has a record of one win and four defeats. Their lone win came over Punta Gorda earlier in the season. The Bulldogs were nosed out last week when Jupiter scored 13 points in the third quarter to post a 21-20 verdict.

Bill Yates is in his second year at the Bulldog helm and runs his team from both the single-wing and T-formations. According to scouting reports, he has a youngster who can scamper in the person of sophomore Joe Waldron. Waldron scored on runs of 81 and 65 yards in the Jupiter game.

First Loss For Devils

Following a 30-minute delay to get a wet field in condition last Friday night, the Avon Park Red Devils and the Hardee High Wildcats of Wauchula met in their annual game, with the visitors going home with a 21-19 win.

The whole story was, Avon Park got started too late. They spotted the Wildcats two first half scores and then came storming back for three last half touchdowns, but two missed extra points spelled defeat.

Wauchula's first score was set up by a 50-yard pass-run play from Jim Nicholson to Bill Ward, placing the ball on the Red Devil five. Four plays later Nicholson sneaked over from the one-foot mark. Wayne Henderson kicked the first of three points.

Early in the second period Ward got loose on a 52-yard run for his team's second marker. Henderson again kicked the point. Score at halftime, Hardee 14, Avon Park 0.

Two More Named For Trustee Job

Two names were added to the list of candidates for three expiring school trustee offices this week. One of those named is an incumbent, the other is a newcomer.

Thomas P. Clinard of Lake Placid was the incumbent filing a petition for re-election. Malcom Watter of Sebring is the novice. He is seeking the seat presently held by Dr. W. S. Coon, Sebring dentist, who declined to seek re-election.

Paul McFarland of Avon Park filed his petition with the school board last week. He is also an incumbent. The board serves without pay.

County School Superintendent Andy Miracle said the deadline for nominating trustees is October 23 with the election set for November 7.

SPEAKING WINNER—Milton F. Stokey, local Florida Power Corporation employee, won the company's annual public speaking contest last week at the finals held in St. Petersburg. Stokey, a watch engineer at the Avon Park plant competing in the non-professional category, spoke on "Investor-Owned Power vs. Government Power." Representing the utility's Lake Wales and Winter Park divisions, Stokey competed against two other finalists, each representing two of FPC's six geographical divisions. 7,448 Eligible For Hospital Vote On Nov. 7

Highlands County Supervisor of Registration said this week that 7,448 freeholders are eligible to vote on November 7, when two issues will be decided.

Up for consideration at this time will be the controversial county hospital referendum and the school trustee election.

According to Highlands County Representative Howard G. Livingston, only a majority of those voting in the election is necessary for passage of the hospital bill. On the other hand, Droit said it was his interpretation that a majority of the registered freeholders must vote in the school trustee election.

According to Droit's figures, 2,630 of the voters reside in Avon Park (Precincts 1-7); 3,334 reside in the Sebring area (Precincts 9-17); 260 in the Lorida area; 74 in the Venus area and 1,030 in the Lake Placid area.

Use of the field has already been okayed by the school board, and tickets will go on sale soon, club officials said. Special seating arrangements will accomodate both white and Negroes.

Settlements for an amount totaling $16,000 were recorded this week in Highlands and Hardee County Courts as the result of a car-bus crash that took the lives of a father and two of his children here last December.

Paul, Winter Haven fruit dealer and Reynaldo Sanchez, driver of the bus. In addition to the death of the father and two daughters, Mrs. Sasser and another daughter were also injured. The collision occurred near Bougainvillea Cemetery in Nork Avon Park during the time U. S. Highway 27-98 was undergoing improvements.

According to her attorney, Lefferts L. Mabie, Jr., of Wauchula, Mrs. Sasser will also receive the remaining $134,000 sought.

The settlements were: One for $7,000 in Highlands County Judges Court and $9,000 in Hardee County Judges Court.

Commissioners Face Truck Problem Again

Horsepower Rating Causes Big Discussion

T[illegible] Tuesday [illegible] ty Commis[illegible] for a new [illegible] on [illegible] awarde[illegible] of Sebring [illegible]

The [illegible] trict two [illegible] sioner Chairman [illegible] Hamlin. In order to [illegible] fully in the discussion at [illegible]ing, Hamlin temporarily vacated the chair and vice chairman Cecil Skipper conducted this portion of the meeting.

Hamlin said he had sought to write specifications "broad enough so that everybody could bid". These broad specifications" dropped the horsepower requirement—200 horsepower—into an omnibus sentence beginning with the word "approximately". County Attorney R. P. Dunty, Jr., said that technically the specifications did call for an engine of "approximately 200 horsepower".

Two of the four bids were for trucks of less than 200 horsepower. One of these, Wells Motor Co. bid of $4,932, was low. The Walker bid was low for the two bids on trucks over 200 horsepower.

Harmon Atkins, Wells Motor Co. representative at Tuesday's meeting contended that the 194-horsepower engine in his truck had as great or greater torgue (pulling power) as the Walker truck.

Commissioner James Creel said, "If you (Hamlin) mean you need a minimum of 200 horsepower you should say so in print."

Hamlin made the motion that the Walker bid be accepted, and for a moment it appeared that the motion might die for want of a second. Commissioner Ben McGee seconded the motion adding, "I think we should have some discussion on this motion, so I'll second it."

After more argument—among the commissioners and dealers present—Chairman Skipper called for a vote. Deputy Clerk Charles Lairsay, who keeps the board minutes, said he recorded the vote as 2-to-1 (out of a total of five votes). He said he does not make a record of who votes for or against measures, just the total vote.

Bids on a truck for use in district one brought forth no discussion. Three bids were received, and the Wells Motor Co. bid of $3,458.33 was accepted. This deal involved a trade-in.

The commissioners Tuesday completed details on a cooperative work agreement which they believe will save the county "at least $35,000". By this agreement Commissioner McGee is to obtain use of the dragline now being used by Commissioner Hamlin.

Hamlin now will share—along with Commissioners Skipper and Carl McIntyre—in the use of a dragline.

McGee said the cooperative agreement will make possible avoiding purchase of a new dragline (estimated cost $18,000 to $24,000), cost of maintenance, and an operator's salary. "We hope to use the money saved to buy road material," McGee concluded.

At the request of John Perlaki, manager of the bowling lanes of Route 27, the commissioners agreed to ask County Surveyor Roger Miller to draw preliminary plans for construction of a deceleration lane on the highway at the bowling lane entrance.

Perlaki estimated that as many as 100 cars seek entrance into the highway each time the shift changes in the evening bowling schedule. Drivers, who have been forced to wait as much as half-an-hour, grow impatient and reckless in their attempts to get onto the highway. He said the highway patrol have sought aid from the state "but so far they haven't gotten anywhere."

County Supervisor of Registration Roland Droit presented a list of polling places and poll officials for the Nov. 7 election. This was approved.

Sheriff Broward Coker asked the commissioners help in finding a site for the re-location of the sheriff's department radio transmitter. Presently located at the jail, the transmitter is interferring with television reception in some parts of Sebring.

He said the Federal Communications Commission technicians have been trying to help iron out the difficulties, and

Letters To The Editor

Sebring, Fla., October 13, 1961

Mr. Earl Wells,
Avon Park Sun,
Avon Park, Fla
Dear Mr. Wells:

With reference to your editorial in the Avon Park Sun of October 12th, we quite agree with you that certain questions concerning the proposed new county hospital need answers, and we will herewith undertake to answer your questions, qualifying our remarks, however, with the statement that what we say must be accepted as being the considered opinion of this Committee only. We have been trying, thru various articles written after research, and which you have been cooperative enough to publish in your "Letters to the Editor" column, to answer the questions we have felt are those that are in the minds of the people. We have been reluctant to make statements that can only be decided, by the terms of the law itself, by the Board of Commissioners to be appointed, but, since there are apparently no others who might be expected to answer your well founded editorial, we will be glad to publicize the thinking of those of us who are actively supporting the county wide plan. We therefore submit, in direct answer to your questions:

1. Cost. The law provides that the total cost cannot exceed one million dollars, and since Hill-Burton funds are already assured to the extent of 40% of the cost, if the maximum cost is used then the cost to Highlands County could not exceed $600,000.00. Estimates vary from a low of $10,000.00 to a high of $22,500.00 per bed, and it will be the duty of the Board of Hospital Commissioners to finally decide upon the actual cost. Our research indicates the necessity for a 50 bed hospital, to be substantially in accordance with the prototype study which you published in your October 5th issue, at an estimated cost of $17,000.00 per bed, or $850,000.00 without the cost of land. Of this amount 40%, or $340,000.00, would be furnished by the U. S. Government under the Hill-Burton Act, making the cost to Highlands County $510,000.00.

2. Location. Here again the final decision must be made by the Board of Hospital Commissioners. Our prediction is that the location should be south of the City Limits of Sebring and north of where U. S. Highway 98 comes in to U. S. Highway 27, which would seem to make it feasible and economical to take advantage of the eight acre tract of land owned by the City of Sebring which, by a recent action of the Sebring City Council, will be offered to the Board of Hospital Commissioners free of charge. The State of Citrus

Florida Citrus Mutual

LAKELAND — A recent article in The Triangle, Florida Citrus Mutual weekly publication, asserted that the 1961-62 season might well turn out to be the "Year of Economic Maturity for the Florida Citrus Industry."

The premise was based on the growers' manifest evidence that growers, particularly, are more than ever determined to make the positive decisions on production, research, advertising and marketing to insure that prudently planned growth shall be the business philosophy of their industry.

Now comes an expression from outside the industry that the 1961-62 season starts out as the year of increasingly mature independence for the industry.

Editorially commenting on the calmness with which industry leaders view the federal government's October Florida crop forecast, which predicted the largest orange crop at 99,000,000 boxes in the state's history, the Tampa Tribune concluded:

"Florida's economy has reached a healthy state when a record crop estimate does not upset the optimism its citrus men feel for the new season—and when in an era in which so much of agriculture is becoming more and more dependent upon USDA (U. S. Department of Agriculture) intervention, the citrus industry can exhibit its increasing independence of big government."

Over the past 10 years Mutual's Bob Rutledge has repeatedly pointed out that these government "crop forecasts are merely that—forecasts. They are positively not the laws and the gospels by which this industry must conduct its economic affairs. The sooner we assert our freedom from these predictions the sooner will we become a completely independent, mature and progressive industry."

Rutledge's long-time philosophy toward the government forecasts is further spelled out in the Tribune editorial:

"All this (the calm view of the October forecast) does not mean that citrus men—a notably rugged breed—have suddenly become apathetic. It does mean that thanks to their own agencies and organizations they have other valid crop estimates. They now can regard the federal figures as something less than gospel, and the market does not rise and fall the tenth day of each month during the citrus season when the USDA presents a forecast."

TALLAHASSEE. — Fiddling around with the merit system to some folks is like saying there isn't a Santa Claus.

The last legislature adopted a plan to give administrators under the merit system—all agencies of the governor—a chance to knock off some top employes.

It's a good law . . . or at least it could be.

How it is administered, however, will provide the real answer.

Several agencies have already come up with suggested "policy makers" they think should be taken out from under the merit system.

These departments are the Florida Development Commission and the Road Department.

Although there are several recommendations in both agencies that seem to be carrying the policy too far down the line, they seem to be, as a whole, fairly sensible suggestions.

If properly worked out, this move could do more to save the merit system approach than to hinder it.

Few could argue that under the old system the merit system went entirely too high up into government, making transitions sticky.

The current move makes it possible to develop all kinds of theories on skulduggery—chopping off political enemies, etc.

But, if in fact there are some political enemies to the administration hiding under the merit system, they should be chopped.

Some will claim that a giant purge is in the making.

This we doubt.

As it stands, we are willing to wait and see what developes.

There is no doubt that the move could be dangerous.

But, if it does, in fact, provide a governor and his top administrators with top level people friendly to his aims, it would seem fair enough.

Governors are elected by the people—and the people theoretically have endorsed his program. He should have a reasonable opportunity to put it to work.

Frankly we doubt the wisdom of putting district engineers in the highway department on a non-merit system basis, as has been suggested by the road board.

This seems more like a reflection of present ills than a correction.

At present there is too much of a tendency to view road problems from a five "little kingdoms" basis instead of statewide.

Taking the district engineers off the merit system would seem to strengthen the "kingdom" approach.

But this really wouldn't be a change . . . it already exists under the merit system.

The situation boils down to this:

A little careful pruning of top officials could make the merit system a little more realistic, and in turn more effective.

CRACKER POLITICS

By Allen Morris

TALLAHASSEE — Remember Farris Bryant's campaign promise to save fifty million dollars?

Well, aides of Governor Bryant figure he's already thirty-six and a half million toward fulfillment, with a year and eight months still to go of the first Bryant biennium.

How they add up the money will be detailed in a moment but first some background plus Bryant's own definition of "save".

Of all the pledges made during the '60 campaign, the Bryant "save-fifty-million" was regarded even then as a bomb.

The Bryant opposition recognized its voter potency by challenging him again and again to spell out exactly how he expected to make good on this pledge (His answer: wait and see.)

In part, they hoped to blunt its voter appeal by stirring up the people in those governmental areas - welfare and education in particular - where spending is of sufficient magnitude to make big savings possible.

Some Bryant friends were alarmed by his use of a specific figure, although the pledge possessed voter magic exactly for that reason. Nearly every candidate for every office promises an economical administration.

And they realized that voters might reason that "Farris Bryant's set a goal and even if he doesn't make it, he'll be trying and that'll cause him to pinch pennies."

But the Bryant friends feared that if elected he would be haunted by this promise in the same manner as was the successful gubernatorial candidate of another year who was understood to have pledged himself against a sales tax.

That governor's explanation that he had been talking about a "general" sales tax and not a "limited" sales tax never seemed to help much, even among those who accepted the fact the State was desperate for the sales tax dollars.

Bryant's own definition of his commitment, as voiced in a St. Petersburg interview after the May primaries, was:

"I said we'd save fifty million dollars in two years by a more efficient operation of the State government. We're going to spend all of the money. We're going to take that fifty million we're going to save and use it for the areas of greatest need."

This definition takes "saving" out of the limited sense of "money not spent," and substitutes the test of personal judgment as to the wise utilization of the dollars.

In building up the total of $36,513,295, the Governor's aides list such specific items as this:

"Item: $7,465,161 saved for the biennium by reduction of proposed salaries in budget requests and before the Budget Commission. A review and comparison of budgets against national pay standards and scales accounted for much of this saving while enabling Florida to remain competitive with other states in its pay practices."

Another listing:

"Item: $3,899,000, the value the State will receive from the institution by the Bryant administration of long overdue participation in the Federal Surplus Food Program for the relief of our needy.

The listings range from these in the millions to the $10,500 "saved for this biennium by prompt action on conversion to a natural gas system at the Florida School for Boys at Marianna, which had originally been scheduled for delay until 1963."

His aides agree that this situation has not been accomplished by Bryant alone. They credit what they describe as the Governor's "teamwork approach to government and the close working relationship he has established with his Cabinet colleagues and with members of the Legislature."

Are all of these savings even by the generous Bryant definition? That depends upon your own point of view, and men of goodwill may debate the inclusion of this or that item. Surely, however, no governor has been more concerned about State spending.

And, perhaps, the fifty million dollar target set up during the campaign has caused Bryant to examine every proposed release of money from the treasury before these requests even reach the Governor and Cabinet sitting as a screening board. Knowing this, department chiefs give thought to the justifications which accompany the money requests.

Too Late To Classify

While Florida is a lovely vacation spot that attracts millions of tourist dollars each year, we should realize that there are many others. Competition for the tourist dollar is getting keener every year.

If Florida is to hold her favored position it is imperative that Floridians realize what the tourist industry means to them. Consider the fact that nearly 15 per cent of Florida's tax revenue comes from tourism, which is the state's largest industry.

Last year our visitors spent a total of $1,767,562,483. In addition to paying over $76 million in direct taxes they contributed to the state's economy by helping to pay the salaries of thousands of employees who serve them in one way or another.

While a large percentage of the money they spend is for food and lodging, they spend large sums for merchandise and services. They purchase clothing, jewelry, cosmetics, drugs, dry-cleaning and laundry, taxis, utilities, and in many other ways pour millions of dollars into Florida tills.

If Florida were to lose this lucrative income you would be called upon to pay a lot more taxes than you do now. Unemployment would take a sharp rise and every man, woman and child would feel the effect in increased living costs and in many other ways. Many hotels, motels, restaurants and business establishments would be forced to close. Real estate values would drop and the overall picture wouldn't be very pretty.

Why am I telling you this? Because I am concerned about Florida's future. I feel it is a matter that every Floridian should understand and be equally concerned about.

Times are changing, world conditions are different. Unless we are aware of our problem and stay on our toes we can lose our tourist revenue or a good portion of it.

One thing I have learned in my travels is that we are being challenged today as never before. Other tourist areas are flexing their muscles and going all out to take as many of these tourist dollars away from us as they can. New vacation spots are being developed all over the world that will give us fierce competition.

If you think we have tourists in Florida you ought to see Hawaii and Alaska. Jet travel at low fares is making it possible for just about anyone to go just about anywhere. It is as easy today for the New Yorker to take his two-week vacation in Europe, Hawaii, the Bahamas or Alaska as it is to take it in Florida.

These competitors are eager beavers. They have gotten a taste of this tourist business and they like it. They are working like mad to improve their accommodations and services. They are catering to the little fellow as well as the tycoon. They are practicing courtesy, politeness and the real meaning of the world "Welcome". They are increasing their advertising and promotion and I'm here to tell you they are getting results.

Ticker Talk

* Shortly after Stanley Warner was separated from Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., Stanley Warner acquired for $14,930,000, the entire capital stock of International Latex Corp. Using International Latex Corp., which had sales of about $30 million when acquired, as a base, Stanley Warner has built the organization with the aid of a few acquisitions into one of the largest girdle and bra manufacturers in the world.

Girdles are manufactured and marketed under the trade names of Playtex and Sarong. Sarong Inc. was acquired in 1960 to supplement the company's line of cotton-lined latex girdles with an all fabric girdle. Playtex products are now manufactured, not only in the United States, but also in Puerto Rico, Canada, United Kingdom, West Germany, Mexico and Venezuela. Other acquisitions by Stanley Warner include radio and television properties in Northern New York State, which have since been developed into WAST-TV, serving the Albany-Schenectady-Troy markets.

Stanley Warner also has a pharmaceutical operation, which includes a proprietary division, products marketed under the Isodine trade name and an ethical division, Tailby-Nason. Although still small by comparison to Stanley Warner's overall operation, with the parent company's marketing know-how, the pharmaceutical divisions offer interesting potentials. For the parent, as illustrated by the success of the Playtex line, has the marketing ability to sell the product when the company's research endeavors pay off.

Thus, it can be observed that in addition to having some 220 theaters, down from 356 when originally divested from Warner Bros. Pictures, Stanley Warner has indeed developed into an interesting diversified operation. Theater and associated revenues are about $40 million annually while other revenues are approaching $100 million.

* Auto production, originally projected at 500,000 for September, probably won't add up to much over 300,000 when final results are in.

By the time General Motors worked out a full agreement with the auto workers, only one full production week was left out of the month. GM had lost two full weeks of production - had barely produced the models required for dealers' showings of the new cars. Meantime, other producers were stepping up but it was late in the month before most really had production lines humming.

* Definite indications that labor market conditions are improving could be detected even when the auto labor negotiations were holding things back. New claims for unemployment compensation began falling early in August and, by mid- September, were at the lowest level in nearly two years. Since mid-August they have been lower than a year ago.

THE FARM FRONT

BY
COMMISSIONER
DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Besides being National Pretzel Week and National Flower Week, the week of October 22-29 also is National Honey Week. To us in Florida, honey and the busy little honeybee are of considerable importance.

At a fair ground recently, I noticed great numbers of bees scrambling along the surface of a concession counter trying to scoop up the sweetening from spilled soft drinks, candied apples and other such treats. I don't believe I've ever noticed before so many of the little creatures rubbing elbows with people.

Maybe there's a reason why bees have to look to new fields for sources of honey. The way Florida's rapidly expanding population is squeezing agriculture out of the picture in some areas obscures the fact that the tiny honeybee also has been caught in the press of progress.

Florida ranked third in 1960 in honey production, with 277,000 colonies of bees providing a record 19,390,000 pounds of honey. That was an increase of 5,263,000 pounds over the preceding year and almost 600,000 pounds above the high for any other year. To me, those figures are impressive, since the honey business in Florida does not benefit from too much publicity or advertising.

Thinking about that record and the sight of bees vying with man for a share of sugar at a fair, I turned to the report of Phil Packard, chief apiary inspector for our Division of Plant Industry.

Phil observes that one of the principal problems facing the beekeeper in Florida is the securing of new apiary locations and the holding of old ones. This difficulty has been heightened by the increase in housing developments, the clearing of more and more land for cattle pasture and the expanding use of land for mining purposes.

These are only three of many reasons why woodlands are slowly disappearing from some of the old haunts of the honeybee. For one thing, this encroachment of society is doing away with many thousands of acres of saw palmetto, a prime source of honey.

Phil, however, isn't greatly concerned about this development. He explained that the honeybee simply is shifting to other areas for sources. He doesn't believe that 19,300,000 pounds will be an all-time high for honey production in Florida. As long as wild flowers and citrus and saw palmettoes and other shrubs and plants grow and bloom, he figures the honeybee will be kept busy in the state.

Phil thinks the State's growth pattern has helped the honey industry. As he puts it: "This increase in population has brought the consumer closer to the honey producer, thereby increasing the demand for fine Florida honey."

The total wholesale value of honey produced in Florida last year was $3,374,000 and beeswax was valued at $150,000. Phil feels that these figures fail to tell the whole story because there is no way to estimate the value of the honeybee in pollination processes.

Colonies of bees in Florida pollinate the blossoms of more than 50 agricultural crops, including such standards as strawberries, cucumbers, squash, blackberries, avocados and watermelons. The good that these fellows accomplish is recognized by every successful farmer. Citrus growers, especially, are ready to offer space in their groves to honeybee colonies.

I once was told by a prominent citrus man:

"Bees do as much as anybody or anything to help my trees to a good set of fruit." That's a big tribute to a little helper.

Former Students To Relive Golden Days During B-Squad Grid Game

By Harve E. Olsen

The regularly scheduled B-squad game between Avon Park and Sebring next Tuesday evening, October 24, won't be the only attraction to be viewed by spectators of the two cities at Memorial Field.

Under auspices of the Avon Park Band Association, a special halftime show will be presented by former members and old timers who at one time or another played with the bands of the area. And it promises to be a halftime show to end all halftime shows, according to Gene Gorman, director.

All proceeds from the game will go to the band association with the exception of a percentage to be paid to the athletic association for the field and a small percentage on the net proceeds from the concession stand.

Members of the band association will sell homemade doughnuts, coffee, hot dogs and cold drinks during the Tuesday night game.

Scheduled to appear before a huge stadium crowd will be former drum majorettes Mrs. Eliene S. Cason and Gloria Droit, both of Sebring, Roberta Elder, Pat Pickett Starling, Ann Rowland Carter, Beverly Williams Hall and Delores Martin Pearce.

Picking up their instruments for this special occasion, and it will be the first time in many a moon for several "musicians," will be Ed Touchton, Billy Martin, Roland Dilley, John Giddens, Jr., Larry Bond, Jimmy Pearce, Robert Whitcomb, Herb Todd, Glenn Hopson, Harold Worden, Harry Hood, Bill Pardee, Phil Landress, Dorothy Atkins, Nancy Nunnalee, William Padgett, Eve Booth, Eulora Kelly.

Vic MicKunas, Pat Peterson, Janet Willis, Mike Harrison, Fred Guerndt, Harriet King, Mary Giddens, Virginia Henderson, Bobby Arnold, Georgia Mason, Peggy Bussard, Joe Metcalfe, Jr., Walter Manzie, Gene Thomas, Harve E. Olsen, and anyone else who shows up for rehearsal next Monday evening at the high school auditorium.

Members of the Avon Park high school band will offer advance tickets to the game to area residents starting today (Thursday). The price of admission has been set at 50c for adults and 25c for all students. Tickets also will be available at the gate Tuesday night at 6:30.

Game time Tuesday will be 7:30 p. m. It'll be a treat you will not want to miss.

Positions paying yearly salaries of $5,355 and $6,435 a year are open in all branches of engineering. In hydraulic, electrical, and safety engineering, jobs are open which pay $7,560 a year. The positions to be filled are located in 17 Western States and the State of Alaska.

To qualify for these positions, applicants must have completed appropriate college study or have had equivalent technical engineering experience. Additional professional experience or graduate college study is required for the higher paying positions. Applicants who have not completed an acceptable engineering curriculum may be required to take a written test.

Applications will be accepted until further notice and must be filed with the Central Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Bureau of Reclamation, Denver Federal Center, Denver 25, Colorado.

Further information may be obtained from Gladys Smith at the Avon Park Post Office.

Award Winning Ben-Hur Slated For Local Screen

"Ben-Hur," which has been making theatrical and literary history for 80 years all around the world, again took the news spotlight today when top film executives signed contracts for the first local showing of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's Academy Award-winning production of the Gen. Lew Wallace classic.

The deal involving this booking sets another record for "Ben-Hur" and will bring the long-anticipated picture to Hilans for a weeks limited engagement, starting Sunday.

Most acclaimed motion picture ever made, the William Wyler presentation of "Ben-Hur" won 11 Academy Awards, including the "Oscar" for Best Picture of the Year. This is the greatest number of awards ever received by a picture in the history of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

"Ben-Hur" also won the British "Oscar," was named Best Film of the Year by the New York Film Critics, Best Produced Film of the Year by the Screen Producers Guild, and has been given a long list of additional awards and citations.

Band Group Is Short of Items For Oct. 28 Sale

Members of the Avon Park Band Association are a bit concerned this week because not too many articles of clothing have been offered for the big rummage sale to be held on The Mall Saturday, October 28.

Area residents having any articles of clothing, canned goods or anything else with a sales value are urged to immediately contact Mrs. Eloise Sharpe—phone GL 3-4632—or Mrs. R. P. DeLaney—phone GL 3-4371. If, for any reason, saleable items cannot be delivered by the contributor, a pickup service will be arranged by the two ladies.

The point is to get the items for sale listed at the earliest possible date.

All proceeds from the sale will go into the band's operating funds and used to purchase needed band instruments, uniforms and band supplies in addition to helping finance proposed trips during the year.

Officers and members of the Avon Park Band Association will sincerely appreciate the cooperation of the public in this endeavor.

Florida Beef Council To Discuss Bull Sale At Lakeland Meeting

KISSIMMEE.—The Florida Beef Council will meet in Lakeland October 25, at the Annual Winter Convention of the Florida Cattleman's Association.

Beef Council president, Marvin Kahn of Sebring, said the meeting will be held at the New Florida Hotel at 9 a. m.

Among the topics to be discussed by the Beef Council is an all-breed Bull Sale which is to be co-sponsored by the Council.

The sale will be conducted November 1 at the Sumter All-Florida Livestock Pavilion near Webster.

The sale has already attracted over 120 top-grade bulls.

A rating committee has been named for the event. The committee consists of: Marvin Kahn; Elliott Whitehurst, Williston feed lot operator and commercial cattle breeder; Jim Pace, University of Florida Animal Husbandman and Gary Brown and John Culbreath, Sales Managers for the sale.

Cattlemen throughout Florida can make plans to attend both the Beef Council sale and a Hereford Bull Sale at the same site the following day.

The Beef Council, an arm of the Florida Cattleman's Association, will also discuss future promotions for beef.

The Florida Beef Council has within its membership representatives from the Florida Cattleman's Association, Florida Independent Meat Packers Association, Florida Livestock Auction Markets Association, Florida Dairy Farmers Association, Florida Dairy Products Association, Florida Bankers Association, Retail Merchants Division of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, Florida Agricultural Extension Service, Florida Feeders, Florida Farm Bureau, and the Florida Angus association.

Officers of the Beef Council are George Young, vice president, Belle Glade; O. L. Partin, treasurer, Kissimmee; and Arthur L. Higbie, executive secretary, Kissimmee.

Other members are Sam Longbottom, Avon Park; Ned Folks, Dunnellon; Dallas Dort, Sarasota; Erwin Bryan, Center Hill; Carl Friemuth, Reddick, Lacy G. Thomas, Groveland; Glen Woodward, Jacksonville; Dr. A. Z. Palmer and Dr. R. L. Reddish of the University of Florida; Louis Gilbreath, Ocala; Bob Cody, Kissimmee; Louis Benito, Tampa; and J. R. Gunn, Kissimmee.

The Florida Beef Council is a non-profit organization dedicated to a single purpose—to promote the sale of Florida beef.

The Council operates from the Florida Cattleman's Association headquarters in Kissimmee and is supported through voluntary deductions of 10 cents per head on cattle sold within the state.

Girl Scout News

The first meeting of Troop 79 was held Tuesday afternoon at the Scout Hall in Woodruff Heights. Only ten of the 20 who had enrolled were in attendance. The group decided to meet on Wednesday instead of Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Don Brassell and Mrs. Mac Flowers are leaders for Troop 79. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Cecil Ferguson and her daughter, Sue.

Correction

The Sun reported last week that Mrs. Neva Atherton had retired from the employ of the Inter-County Telegraph Co., after 18 years of service. We were reminded by Mrs. Atherton that she resigned "of her own free will".

"FROM HERE"

...it appears our world needs a lot of 'fixin up'." Too often, too many of us do our day-to-day job in a half-hearted way. We lose our perspective... our relationship to the world. We get to feeling our importance. Right there is our un-doing. When a man loses humility, he is on the way out. This man, with his wrench, looks at the world from way up. He wonders if he did his best on the foundation underneath him... if the high walls will support the structure he is atop. Both are basic to good building. The church, too, is necessary in the building of character, in the transforming of souls. It will help us greatly in the training of people to help fix our world. It will make good stewards of us who will be more anxious to share the fruit of the vine. So let us attend church or Synagogue every week. Let us, in earnest, help this man 'fix up' our world.

Funeral Services Held October 14 For George Edward Welch, Pioneer

Death claimed one of Avon Park's early settlers Thursday, October 12, when George Edward Welch, age 72, passed away at the Walker Memorial Hospital, following a long illness. Interment followed in Bougainvillea Cemetery. Pallbearers were Theo Dyal, Roy Dyal, Roland Droit, W. A. Maddox, John Giddens, Jr., and Walter Mandis.

Health Board Urges Flu Shots For Certain Ages

Jacksonville — The State Board of Health today advised Floridians of certain age and physical groups to obtain immediate influenza immunization.

Citing a report from the U. S. surgeon general that an upswing is expected this fall and winter of Type B and Asian flu, Dr. James O. Bond, Director of the Board's Bureau of Preventable Diseases, said persons needing immunization should see their family physician, not their county health department. The State Board of Health gives county health departments vaccines for some disease but as yet has been unable to obtain sufficient state funds to include flu vaccine.

Dr. Bond suggested a booster shot this year if a person had received the vaccine last year. For those who have not had previous shots, he suggested one now and a second one two months from now. He said getting a shot after contracting a cold or flu would be too late.

Flu vaccine may be taken by any one but it is specifically recommended for persons over 65; pregnant women; and persons with heart, pulmonary, diabetic or other chronic diseases. While flu is generally a mild disease for most persons, it can be very severe and even fatal for persons in the specific groups mentioned.

Tax Collections Increase More Than Pay Check

Federal tax collections in Florida are setting a faster growth-pace than is personal income received by Floridians, the State Chamber of Commerce pointed out yesterday.

"In 1960, the federal tax total collected in the state was almost four times the 1950 figure while personal income was close to three times greater in 1960 than in 1950.

"A comparison of the 1959 and the 1960 figures accentuates this trend. Collections of all federal internal revenue amounted to $1,399,000,000 during the calendar year 1960, a 13 per cent gain over the previous year. Personal income amounted to $9,938,000,000 in 1960, an increase of 6 per cent. A breakdown of the tax total shows $1,022,000,000 in individual income taxes paid by Floridians, up 15 per cent; $241 million in corporate taxes, up 4 per cent; and $136 million in other types of internal revenue, a gain of 15 per cent.

"Although a comparable breakdown of personal income is not available, some detail is provided in official reports. Wages and salaries paid to Floridians made up $6,008,000,000 of the total personal income last year, registering a 7 per cent gain over 1959.

"Property income (rents, dividends, etc.) amounted to $1,673,000,000, also up 7 per cent, as was $818 million in income from miscellaneous sources.

"Not so fortunate was the total income received by proprietors of all types in Florida. The total for this group came to $1,439,000,000, slightly below 1959."

[illegible] become engrossed [illegible] allow us [illegible] never [illegible] football [illegible] last [illegible] Arcadia [illegible] Avon [illegible] had [illegible] Red [illegible] Meade [illegible] Kissimmee had [illegible] with Mulberry. The Kowboys won by an 18-6 margin, but saw an opponent cross their goal line for the first time this season.

We received several long looks when we elected to choose Okeechobee over Sebring, and had it not been for an intercepted pass in the waning moments which the Brahmans turned into a touchdown we might have missed this one. Final score, Okeechobee 7, Sebring 0.

[illegible] Ridge Conference scraps [illegible] this week, with Kathleen the only circuit team [illegible] outside competition. The Red Devils will meet Dunedin's Falcons, an independent team. On this one— and it's strictly a guess— it's Dunedin.

Conference games will go like this, we hope:

Kissimmee over Okeechobee. The Kowboys are expected to [illegible] and [illegible] the Brahmans as they search for their first Ridge title in years. The game is scheduled for the lakeside city.

Mulberry over Frostproof in the Phosphate Bowl. The building [illegible] streak is going to be shortlived.

Avon Park over Arcadia's Bulldogs in the DeSoto County seat. The Red Devils will be plenty tough following their first defeat last week. Look out Bulldogs, as Lamon Money nails down the Ridge Scoring Title.

Ft. Meade over Sebring in Blue Streak land. The Miners are spasmodically good and bad. They should be good enough this week to score a close win over the Blue Streaks. We're keeping our fingers crossed on this one.

Our record to date: 20 correct, [illegible] wrong; 4 ties.

LAMON MONEY, AVON PARK halfback snares a pass from Quarterback Jack Seims in last week's game with Wauchula. The play picked up 12 yards and moved the Red Devils into scoring position. Money scored 7 points in the 21-19 loss to the Hardee County eleven.

Football

kicked off and then threw up a rugged defense that symied the Wildcats. Late in the period after an exchange of punts, Lamon Money rambled through the Wildcat defenders for 54 yards and six points. He added the point through the line.

On the first play of the final period Money completed a 10-yard pass to Ed Touchton who made a spectacular one-handed catch for the score. The all-important extra point that would have deadlocked the game was no good.

Wauchula came charging back as they drove 56-yards on 10 plays to score with Dick Jucknath going over from one-yard out. Henderson kicked the point. Big play of the series was a pass from Nicholson to Larry Stephens with a fourth-down situation and the ball on the Avon Park 40. The gamble paid off however, as Stephens gathered in the pigskin and wound up on the 10-yard line.

Leroy Benton scored the Red Devils' final touchdown from two-yards out as the seconds ticked away. The score climaxed a 62-yard drive. The attempt for conversion was no good.

Avon Park held a commanding lead in the statistic department, leading in first downs and rushing and pass completions.

Red Devil "B" Squad Dumps Lake Wales

Avon Park's "B" squad knocked Lake Wales' Jayvees from the ranks of the undefeated Tuesday night by handing them a 20-6 defeat on the junior Highlanders home field. The win gave the Avon Park team a 3-1 record.

Lake Wales drew first blood when Dennis Bowers picked up an Avon Park fumble and raced 75 yards to paydirt for their only score of the evening.

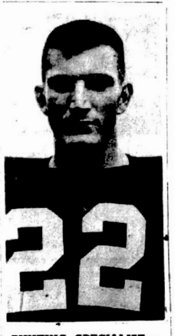
John Rhoades culminated an Avon Park drive with a three yard touchdown run to tie the game up 6-6 in the second quarter.

The junior Red Devils went into the lead when end DeWayne Lemler took the pigskin on an end-around play and dashed 30 yards for Avon Park's second TD. Rhoades made the bonus point to set the score 13-6.

Leonard Sullivan, running from the fullback slot, scored the third Avon Park touchdown from 24 yards out as he took a pitchout and skirted the end for the tally. Again Rhoades scored the PAT and the Devil "BEES" wrapped up their third win 20-6.

Next Tuesday night at Memorial Field Avon Park will seek revenge from Sebring who handed them their only loss of the season. The Streaks took a 13-6 decision from the junior Devils early in the season on Sebring's field.

The Sebring game will be sponsored by the Avon Park Band and an elaborate halftime show is being prepared for the enjoyment of the spectators.



PUNTING SPECIALIST — Bill Rouse, a former standout on Avon Park Red Devil athletic teams, now a member of the University of Tampa Spartan football team is among the state's leading collegiate punting specialists. Rouse ranks second to University of Florida kicker Don Ringgold. The Avon Park lad has a 36 yard average on 10 punts this season, just six-tenths of a yard behind Ringgold.

At the opening session on Monday, Oct. 9, Mrs. John P. Arnold of Sebring, a National Volunteer Field Consultant, speaking on the subject, Red Cross What and Why, noted that the Headstone defined as the main stone or corner stone was indigenous of the service to mankind by people who volunteer to serve without the thought of self. Mrs. Arnold pointed out that this Neighbor to Neighbor helping theory was the prime factor in the Why that the Red Cross as a great international humanitarian organization was founded. Today more than two million citizens of these United States serve as Red Cross Volunteers, outnumbering the career staff by a ration of 155 to 1, they bring a wealth of divirsified talent and skill to the organization and are truly in the role of Florence Nightingale.

Musicians Urged To Seek Career In U. S. Army

By S/Sgt. Howard W. Sander

Young musicians who have a military obligation are now being offered professional training in the field of music while serving their country in the United States Army.

For those who can qualify, including a successful audition before an Army Bandmaster, the modern Army will guarantee an assignment to the Army Band of their choice. The guarantee will be in writing and given before actual enlistment. For those young musicians not having a preference for a particular Army Band, the Army offers them a band assignment in an overseas area of their choice. This, too, is guaranteed in advance.

While fulfilling their military obligation they pursue their musical careers with the finest professional training available. The training includes instruction on individual instruments, theory, harmony, composing, arranging and other music subjects.

Travel-eager musicians who enlist for "Army Bands - Unassigned" for a particular overseas area have ample opportunity for sightseeing. They can also broaden their professional knowledge by studying the musical customs in the overseas area of their assignment.

Through this program, qualified instrumentalists can stay in their chosen career field, increasing their musical knowledge, while serving their country.

For those interested, complete information can be obtained from your local Army Recruiter at the City Hall, Thursday, 1-3:30 p. m or by calling MU 2-6712.

4,300 New Jobs Expected From 54 New Plants

TALLAHASSEE. — Plans for 54 new plants and expansions of existing Florida companies creating 4,300 new jobs were announced in September, the Florida Development Commission said today.

Chairman-Director Wendell Jarrard said it is significant that new expansions more than doubled new plants in size with a total of 470,724 square feet. Estimated square footage of new buildings was 198,900.

"This means these established industries are not only happy with Florida as a location but plan to stay here and grow with the economy," he said.

An estimated $39.6 million will go into the plant expansions. Dollar figures were not available for new plants.

Largest in either category will be a $30 million expansion of the Florida Power Corporation's St. Petersburg plant which is set for completion in August and which will employ 52 additional persons.

The International Minerals and Chemical Corp. in Bartow has scheduled a $5 million expansion to be completed early next year and a $1,825,000 expansion of Hudson Pulp and Paper Co. in Palatka is set for July and a $750,000 expansion of Air Products, Inc., rocket fuel manufacturers in Palm Beach County, is announced for August.

Half-million dollar expansions are planned for General Electric Co. electronics plant and Hood's Dairy in St. Petersburg by July and November respectively; by Laura Lee Candies in Miami by September and by Royal Crown Bottling Co. of Tampa by November.

In the quarter-million dollar expansion bracket are Space Technology Laboratories in Cocoa Beach, and Pinellas Seafoods Co. in St. Petersburg.

Largest number of new employees will be added to the Pratt & Whitney payrolls with its new expansion in Palm Beach County next July. Second is Rawls Bros. Contractors Inc. (ship repairing and conversion) in Jacksonville with 650 more workers by January.

New plants to open within a year and employ between 25 and 170 new people include: Aero Corporation at Lake City; Del Mar Industries at Sanford; Hollywood Artists Productions, Inc., at Miami; Florida Bomb Shelters at Miami; and Jaxco Jetronics Corp. at Jacksonville.

The Commission compiles the statistics monthly from Committees of 100, news sources, and Commission activities.

As the result of occupational training and re-training in plants operated by Goodwill Industries, many physically handicapped persons are enabled to resume their former occupations.

School Board Borrows Money

The Highlands County School Board this week found itself in a financial plight and was forced to borrow $65,000 to carry on operations until the first of next month at which time the board will receive its share of taxes from the county.

The action was taken in a special session last Friday. Borrowing the money became necessary because of the building program in the fiscal year ending last month.

During the year a big amount has been spent for a homemaking unit for E. O. Douglas School in Sebring, science and industrial arts departments at Avon Park High School and the new six room Fred Wild Elementary School in Sebring.

The board pointed out that not only were these facilities provided during the year, they were also equipped with the necessary tools, furnishings etc.

Tropical State Bank of Sebring, of which Board Chairman Sam Longbottom is vice president advanced the loan.

New Trooper For Highlands

Another Florida Highway Patrolman was added to the Highlands County unit this week, as Trooper Allen Hobbs was transferred from Ft. Lauderdale.

Hobbs, a native of Polk County, resides in Sebring. Other members of the Highlands County Highway Patrol contingent are: Cpl. Joe Keene; Troopers David Caudy, C. C. (Red) Johns and H. A. Moore.

BID SON FAREWELL

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wilhite went to Camp Stewart, Georgia last week to see their son, 1st Lt. James Wilhite, before he left for his military assignment in Europe. Mr. Wilhite returned home Sunday, but Mrs. Wilhite will accompany her daughter-in-law, Sandra, and their son, Joey, back to Avon Park, where they will make their home until Lt. Wilhite is back in the States.

Winter Guest Club News

This is going to be a rather brief report, for news this week is almost as scarce as hen's teeth. We have not been able to scout up very much. We usually get some information relative to the weekly dances but drew a blank this time. When we poked into the Stroller's box on Monday morning, lo it was empty, where usually is some dance information. From what we do hear we judge that dancing this season is to be a sort of double-barreled affair, or divided into two separate groups. Besides the regular dancing in the club house on Monday and Friday nights, another group of some forty or fifty, composed of Guest Club members and "Townies" under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Seiffert, meets on alternate Wednesday evenings at the parish house of the Episcopal church, where they appear to have a royal good time. So it does seem, as said in a previous report, that dancing is to be the great indoor sport this winter.

As we go to press with this little sheet the devotees of the game of penochle are assembling for the first time this season to try their individual luck at that fascinating game. As for the bridge competition last week some familiar names appear as winners to be hung in the Bridge Hall of Fame: namely, Mr. A. Luyben with score of 6790 and Mrs. A. Lexa who totaled 5590 on the card.

And now we take pleasure to announce that Mrs. Sylvia Book is no more. If that sounds lugubrious or ambiguous, let us hasten to say that Mrs. Book is no more for she is now Mrs. Frank LaFollette by virtue of a happy marriage ceremony in the Methodist church on the 8th of October in this year of our Lord nineteen sixty-one. Mr. and Mrs. LaFollette, we understand, will make their home in their house in the 400 block of upper East Main street. Now that is real news to some and good news to all. So give 'em the glad hand, everybody says

Former Senator Claude Pepper May Be Candidate For Congress

By Don Meiklejohn

TALLAHASSEE. — There will be a congressional campaign down in Dade County that could be of more than passing interest to the rest of Florida.

Under the new Congressional formula, Dade County will get a second congressman.

Running for the post will be State Sen. Cliff Herrell of Miami Springs.

Also talking like a candidate, although he hasn't officially tossed his hat in the ring is former U. S. Senator Claude Pepper.

Based on past experiences, however, there seems to be considerable doubt that Pepper will ever really make the leap.

This is based on a feeling that Pepper shot his last political wad in atteempting a comeback against Sen. Spessard Holland.

Although Pepper won Dade County handily in that campaign, it doesn't mean he could beat Herrell, and even if he did beat Herrell some of his political friends don't think his ego could stand the deflation from Senator to Congressman.

The best assessment we can get of the situation is that Peppep is milking all the publicity he can get out of his possible race, but really won't jump into it.

Charles Hall, a Metro Commissioner, is expected to make the race, and the Republicans are expected to put up a young attorney, Robert Petersen.

Herrell is regarded as the probable winner.

This gets down to another aspect of the race.

If Herrell wins does it mean he won't be a candidate for governor?

Herrell, in 1960, bowed out of the race in favor of Doyle Carlton, and it was generally expected that he might be heir apparent in view of Carlton's defeat.

Herrell himself admits that some of his political friends think the congressional race wouldn't be good, if he wanted to run for governor, but he doesn't think it would necessarily eliminate him.

As Herrell views it, Congressional service would "broaden my experience."

He doesn't however, have his eye on the governorship at present, but in answer to a question said he didn't think the congressional race would hurt his chances—but could possibly help him should he decide later to run for governor.

He's probably right.

Voters in some parts of the state would probably be less reluctant to vote for a Florida Congressman from Dade County than a State Sen. from Dade County.

Herrell enjoys some wide friendships among small county politicians, and wouldn't necessarily be hurt by sectionalism issues.

But the guess is that Herrell won't run for governor in 1964.

The thing that could change this is for Pepper to run against him, and for Herrell to defeat him decisively. This would automatically get Herrell statewide attention, and put him high up in the 1964 governorship speculation.

Children Up For Adoption

France, Director of the Gulf Coast Division of The Children's Home Society of Florida, which is a licensed, state-wide, private adoption agency, said the waiting list of couples waiting for babies has been cut to an average from three to six months during the past year and some have been placed within three months.

Florida Power Explains Position In Rate Hearings Held Recently

President W. J. Clapp of the Florida Power Corporation, recently made these statements in answer to a request for an "uncomplicated" explanation of what the company is asking in its rate hearing held in St. Petersburg before the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission. He also specified what approval of the proposed rate changes would mean to the company's customers and to FPC.

First of all, Clapp said, the company wants to reduce its revenue and at the same time modernize, revise and simplify its rate schedule. There have been tremendous changes in all the factors considered in establishing rates since 1953, when present rates were set, he said. These changes have created unfair conditions for both customers and the company.

Clapp said, "The rate revisions requested would mean a slight reduction in the cost of electricity to about 80 per cent of our customers. To the remainder, they would mean a slight increase." The increase would be borne by customers whose monthly payments are not enough to compensate the company for rendering them service. For example, residential customers whose bills are now $6 or less are such "low-use" customers. Under the present rate schedules, part of the higher-use customers' payments make up the difference between what the low-use customer pays and the actual cost of service, Clapp said.

The company has sampled minimum bills in six areas which give a cross section of the economic levels in one of the cities it serves to attempt to determine what type of customer would be most affected by the increase in the minimum bill. The average per cent of minimum bills for the entire system was 4.37 per cent in 1960:

Type of sample areas	% Minimum Bills
High income residential, permanent residents	3.44
High priced rental area	8.60
Middle class, permanent residents	4.15
Low income-white	2.28
Low income-Negro	5.06
Central residential rental area	8.90

This would indicate that the lower economic income areas are the areas wherein the lesser percentage of minimum bills occur. The higher priced rental areas appear to have the highest percentage of minimum bills.

Under the revised rates, the minimum bill and other low-use customers will pay more of their own costs. This, along with an overall reduction in the company's revenue, enables the company to lower electric costs to the majority of customers, Clapp said.

"It is easy for people to overlook," he said, "the fact that the cost of service includes much more than the cost of generating electricity at the power plant. It must include meter reading, billing, accounting, providing service on every street and road, cost of investment money, taxes and other costs of doing business."

The immediate result of implementing the proposed rate schedules would be a decrease in the company's annual revenue; however, the utility is relying on increased sales because of the lower cost to the customer, to help make up the loss.

Clapp also said that the use of progressively more efficient generating equipment plus a greater volume of sales can possibly lead to future reductions in cost to the customer.

The company is also asking for a higher allowable rate of return on its investment in plant and equipment. The present rate is 6.45 per cent. FPC is asking that it be increased to 7 per cent—about the same as other utilities in the state. "Allowable is the key word here," Clapp said.

"The rate of return specified by the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission is the maximum percentage of return on our investment which we would be permitted to earn—it is not a guaranteed return," Clapp emphasized. The company's average rate of return since 1953 was 6.24 per cent.

If the higher allowable rate of return is granted and if it enables the company to realize additional revenue, it will be from a greater volume of sales and greater generating and operating efficiencies . . . not from an increase in rates.

A higher rate of return is helpful to everyone, Clapp said, because economies in raising construction money help hold the line on inflationary pressures and contribute to economies leading to rate reductions.

The importance of realizing a better rate of return is going to become even more important in the next few years, Clapp emphasized. With the growth of the state, the demand for power (from FPC) is expected to double within seven or eight years, he said. He pointed out that since 1946 the company's total investment has risen from 41.1 million to 309.5 million—an increase of 653 per cent. And, he added, approximately half of this expansion was during the last five years.

Plans Given Here For Two Bedroom Home

Size is not always the measure of desirability. With good proportions and grace of line, a small house (such as this 624 square foot retirement home) can have its own elegance of appearance. The front view of this 24' x 26' slab house shows two 3-sectional awning-type windows and a gently sloping saddle roof which extends over the carport (left) and the porch (right), making a harmonious whole.

The home is designed for ease of living and practical economy of construction. The 5-ply roofing is topped with white marble chips for greater heat insulation and the wide eaves protect the windows on all four sides.

The living-dining area facing the street is 22½ feet long and 14½ feet deep in the living area. One enters the house through the 10' x 10' screened porch which serves as a foyer as well as an outdoor living space. Although well lighted through 3 tiers of awning windows and one side window, the area has plenty of wall space for furniture. Another 3-tiered awning window lights the 8' x 8' dining area. Since the ceiling follows the lines of roof, the highest point is at the center of the living-dining area.

The kitchen, which is screened from the living room by a china closet projecting into the dining area, is a factory-built "cooking center." This consists of a readymade stainless steel unit, including sink, range, refrigerator and wall cabinet. This is located back-to-back to bathroom for economy of plumbing installation.

The door from the carport opens into the kitchen area - a convenience in transporting groceries.

At the back of the carport are two large storage closets, one of which could house laundry appliances, if desired. (It should be the one next to the bedroom to save on pipes and hot water).

Both bedrooms have cross ventilation and 4-foot closets which serve as sound insulation between them. The conveniently located bathroom has a shower stall and a countertop washbasin with cabinets below.

The linen closet is in the hall outside the bathroom door and next to the heater for dry storage.

The heater (H) is centrally located to heat the front area as well as the 2 bedrooms. If the house were heated by electrical coils installed in the ceiling, the heater space would become a closet.

Home No. 624-8 was designed by architect Jan Reiner, who is the author of Florida Homes magazine, which is available on newsstands or by mailing 50c to Box 11667, St. Petersburg, Fla.
