City Council In Good Mood Monday Night

City Council Officers

MANNIN KIRKLAND
President

H. M. "CHICK" FARLESS
Vice President

Kirkland [illegible]

[illegible] Councilman [illegible] M[illegible] the motion [illegible] Kenzie Farless [illegible] supported the motion and former board president Clarence King opposed the action.

Following his election to the chair Kirkland made overtures at buying any axes which he and King might have had to grind with the statement that he "would like to see King as chairman of the board again." Kirkland pledged his full support of the former chairman if and when this action came about.

Kirkland and King have waged a verbal battle on numerous occasions regarding actions of the street department of which Kirkland headed until he took over the chair two weeks ago. At that time he appointed Border as chairman of the street department. General feeling among council was that a permanent chairman would be named at a meeting in the near future.

Next action of the board was the nomination and unanimous approval of Farless as council vice president. Farless is the youngest member of the board in point of service. He was elected to his first term in September. Border, although just appointed, was a member on a previous occasion.

Mayor E. A. DeLaney told the board that a survey had been taking last month on U. S. 27-98 at the West end of the Mall in hopes of determining if a traffic light would be approved for the intersection by the State Road Department. The results of the survey have not been released however, DeLaney said. Also on the traffic theme, council approved a signal light for the corner of Castle and Fairfield, which is on a city street, and voted to request permission from the state to erect a blinker light at the intersection of Castle Street and U. S. 27-98.

County Fair To Open In Sebring Monday

Beauties To Parade On First Night

Plans for the annual Highlands County Fair in Sebring were nearing completion this week, according to J. A. Butler, president of the Fair Association. The fair will open at six o'clock Monday, January 15 and close at 11:45 Saturday night, January 20.

Highlights of the fair include the beauty contest, science fair, livestock judging contest, fat steer sale, children's days and the dress revue by county 4-H Club and home economics students.

First round of the beauty contest will be held Monday night, with the finals and crowning of a new queen set for Friday night. An array of the county's loveliest girls will vie for the title "Miss Highlands County," currently held by Mrs. Mannin Kirkland of Avon Park.

The second annual Highlands County Science Fair exhibits will also be judged Monday night. More than 136 exhibits representing seven major divisions of science and mathematics will be judged. Officials expected about 50 exhibits from both Avon Park and Sebring and 36 exhibits from the Lake Placid School. The 60 winners of the science fair will advance to the Regional Fair in Brooksville on March 8.

The science fair will be judged by a group of Hardee County teachers.

Community booths will be judged Tuesday morning and the day has been set aside as children's day for Negro students of the county. The junior judging contest will be held in the afternoon and a music revue has been scheduled for the evening.

The county's white students will invade the fair grounds on Wednesday. Judging of beef and dairy animals and the livestock showmanship contest will also be held that day.

Highlighting Thursday's events will be a dress revue.

Finals of the beauty contest and fat steer sale top the events slated for Friday.

The 1962 Fair premium book was dedicated to R. L. "Bob" Stokes, a member of the fair board of directors. Stokes is also a former county commissioner. He resides at Lorida, here he and his family homesteaded in 1928.

Kathleen Out Of Ridge Loop Into Southwest

Avon Park High School Principal A. B. Wilhite announced this week that Kathleen High School officials had notified th local school of their intention to withdraw from the Ridge Conference at the end of the current school year.

The notice requested that athletic contests scheduled with the Polk County School for next year be canceled. The Kathleen school has been approved as a member of the Southwest Florida Conference, which embraces Wauchula, Lake Wales, Haines City, Plant City, Dade City and several other schools.

Avon Park Athletic Director Joe Franza said that he had replaced Lake Wales on the local Red Devil schedule, but still has a vacancy to fill since Belle Glade also severed relations with Avon Park.

Franza said that next year's opening game will be with Lake Wales and the second game with Mulberry. Previously Mulberry had declined to play the Red Devils in the traditional opening game for both elevens.

Building Sets Record Here

Building permits in Avon Park soared to $1,208,910 during 1961, according to a report issued this week by the City of Avon Park. Permits were issued for $58,200 during December to push the figure to a record.

The permits issued were as follows: Two for new residences totaling $12,000; three for additions totaling $2,200; and one for the new Lutheran Church totaling $44,000. One permit for a fallout shelter to Philip J Wooten was also issued.

A total of 133 permits were issued during the year, 74 of which were for new residences.

The highest previous building record for Avon Park was in 1959 when permits totaling $1,017,313 were issued.

Negro Seeking Damages From School Board

Damage actions, described as in excess of $500, were filed in Circuit Court this week against the Highlands County Board of Public Instruction. The plaintiffs in the case are Charles Jackson, Negro, and his 14-year old daughter, Gloria, of Avon Park.

Jackson is seeking in excess of $500 for his daughter who is alleged to have been injured on a county school bus while enroute from Avon Park's Hopewell School to E. O. Douglas School, Sebring, for a basketball game. The incident is reported to have occurred about two years ago. He is also asking in excess of $500 for himself to pay past and future bills. The bus driver, T. J. Brown, also known as T. J. Crosby was named as co-defendant in the suit.

Jackson contends — through his counsel of Holland, Bevis and Smith, Bartow, that the driver and teachers aboard the bus were negligent when they failed to stop the throwing of glass from a broken bottle.

As a result of the thrown glass, Jackson claims his daughter was injured about the head by the glass, resulting in the youth becoming partially paralyzed. The father further contended that the girl's mental faculties and future earning capacity were impaired by the injury.

A $3,000 suit was also filed this week against John H. Hutchinson and Ellie Robinson, Avon Park. Miami Tile and Terrazzo, Inc., is seeking the judgement for damage caused when their truck was allegedly struck by a truck owned by Hutchinson, but driven by Robinson here last May.

Rescue Unit To Sponsor Show

The Rescue Unit of the Avon Park Firemen's Association will sponsor a program by Ernie Lee and his TV musicians on Saturday night, January 20, in the High School Auditorium at 8:15.

COIN CLUB TO MEET

The Ridge Coin Club will meet Monday, January 15 at 7:30 at the Sebring Municipal Pier. Plans for the 1962 Coin Week will be discussed, and reports of the recent state convention will be made. An auction is also planned.

Polk County Man Captured After Wild Ride

A [illegible]-year-old Frostproof man ended up in Highlands County Jail Sunday afternoon when he attempted to outrun state and county law enforcement officers and crashed into two other cars.

Lloyd J. Morgan, who attained speeds of more than 100 miles an hour during the chase, was charged with driving while drunk and resisting arrest by State Trooper C. C. Johns. The accident occurred on a four-laned section of U. S. 27-98 near Brentwood Motel.

Morgan was sentenced to six months in jail and fined $300 or spend another four months in jail by County Judge Mervin Rehrer at a hearing Monday. Morgan's license was also revoked. He admitted the drunken driving charge.

The charge of resisting of arrest was denied by Morgan and a bond of $1,000 was set in that case.

Occupants of two cars were Mr. and Mrs. George Cook and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. O'Kelley of Winter Haven. Grady Victor, a recent resident of Avon Park was in the other vehicle. Mr. O'Kelley was admitted to Walker Memorial Hospital for observation of a neck injury. The others did not appear to be seriously injured.

Johns and County Sheriff's Deputy Harold Hopson were chasing Morgan when he crashed into the two cars. Morgan's car was demolished. Damage to the Cook car was estimated at $600 and $400 to the Victor car.

Post Yule Business Excellent In County Court: 117 Charged

A total of 117 persons answered to 127 different charges in the Monday afternoon session of County Court.

For the second time this Fall the weekly bond docket session out-grew the small County Court Room and had to move to the larger Circuit Court Room.

Most of the cases presented, at both the morning and afternoon sessions of County Court this past Monday, were concerned with traffic violations in mid-December.

Most serious of the traffic charges was driving while intoxicated. James Hershell Ward, 38, white, pleaded not guilty to this charge. The Avon Park resident is to be tried on January 23. His bond was set at $500.

Bennett George Dover, 27, white, pleaded guilty. Dover, also an Avon Park resident, was fined $200 or 90 days in jail; and his driver's license was revoked for six months.

David Epps, 26-year-old Lake Placid man, pleaded guilty and since this was his second conviction within three years on the driving while intoxicated charge, a jail sentence was mandatory.

Judge Mervin Rehrer set jail time at 30 days and in addition a fine of $250 or 90 days more in jail. Epps' driver's license was revoked for two years.

Nathaniel Britton, a Fort Myers Negro who last week pleaded not guilty this Monday changed his plea to guilty of driving while intoxicated. The 28-year-old Negro was fined $200 or 90 days in jail, and his license was revoked for six months.

Lee Archie Ammons of Dania, also pleaded guilty. The 43-year-old white man will lose his driver's license for six months. His fine was set at $200 or 90 days in jail.

Claude Ward of Avon Park entered pleas of guilty to two charges. The 53-year-old white man was fined $100 or 60 days in jail for assaulting an officer with a knife. He was fined an additional $50 or 30 days in jail for interferring with an officer while in line of duty.

Leslie Ward was bound over to Circuit Court under a $1,000. He is charged with resisting arrest with violence.

Seattle, Wash. Youngster Is Subject of Juvenile Triangle

A boy's love of water provided an important clue in helping a mother trace her son from his Seattle, Wash., home to an Avon Park motel.

The seven-year-old boy was spirited from his Seattle home by his father just after Christmas. As a result of a Juvenile Court hearing on Saturday, he is back home in the custody of his mother.

Juvenile Judge Mervin Rehrer said the case came to his attention very early Saturday. As a result of a preliminary hearing, at the Judge's home at 5 a. m., a full hearing was scheduled for later in the day.

The Judge said that the boy's father, "who holds a very responsible position" with an electronics firm in Alaska, had gone to see his estranged wife and sought permission to take the boy to a holiday entertainment in downtown Seattle.

Following the entertainment the father and son boarded a plane and came to Florida. The mother traced them to her father-in-law's home in Lakeland.

She too came to Florida, but in the meantime her husband had returned to Alaska, and in Lakeland the family home was closed and a note to the milkman said to halt deliveries for two weeks.

The mother then sought aid from law enforcement officers in Lakeland, but a systematic search in that city turned up no clues.

The mother said she was sure that her son, who loves to swim, would want to stay at a hotel or motel that is "on a lake or has a swimming pool". And with the aid of telephone operators she began a march south.

Employes at Reed's Motel in Avon Park recognized the persons being sought from the descriptions furnished by the mother. (Registrations were under the name of a family friend who had come with the grandfather, an aunt and the boy).

The mother hurried to Avon Park, arriving just after midnight. She asked the help of city police, who in turn called in Juvenile Counselor Robert Lindsay.

At the hearing she was represented by Attorney S. E. Pardee, Jr., and the wather was represented by Welch and Dooley of Lakeland.

Although the mother was given custody of the child to return to Seattle, the Highlands County Juvenile Court is retaining jurisdiction over the child until such time as the Juvenile Court of King County, Washington, will accept responsibility for him.

A divorce proceeding is pending, Judge Rehrer said, "But in the meantime, the Juvenile Courts can protect the child—someone should be putting him first."

Improvements For Ball Field

Mayor E. A. DeLaney told the Avon Park City Council Monday night that plans were underway to make some added improvements to Head Memorial Field, scene of the State High School Baseball Tournament last year and for June of this year.

DeLaney said the improvements included better accomodations for visiting press and radio correspondents and more seating for fans.

The tournament was moved here last year from Ft. Pierce. The success was better than anticipated and thus the indications were that with improvements, the sporting even that runs for a full week would continue to be held here

City Gets Share Of Cig Tax

[illegible]AMNED GAS TAX

[illegible] that saw with certainty about [illegible] forgotten man." The tax [illegible] remember him with a [illegible]

[illegible] U. S. Bureau of Public Roads estimates [illegible] motor fuel accounted for 64 per [illegible] state highway-user taxes during the year [illegible]. In terms of dollars, they came to $3.5 [illegible]. And [illegible] wasn't all by any means—for the [illegible] tax of four cents a gallon, added up to a handsome $2 [illegible] billion.

There is, however, a very definite question as to just how long this goose is going to give ever-increasing golden eggs. While state and federal taxes on gasoline have risen 50 per cent in the last decade, the rate of increase in gasoline consumption has, in late years, shown a substantial decline. For instance, when the federal tax was increased in 1956, there was a growth rate decline in 30 states. The same thing happened almost identically when the latest increase went into effect in 1959—39 states reported a consumption falloff.

So what we seem to be witnessing is an example of the ancient and irrevocable law of diminishing return. The combined federal-state gas tax now averages more than 10 cents a gallon. So motorists drive less, or shift to smaller cars. And government in the long run, is a mojor loser.

CRACKER POLITICS

By Allen Morris

TALLAHASSEE — A political tragedy of the Bryant administration is its leader's failure to get full credit for what is being accomplished.

Some, perhaps nearly all, of the [illegible] of Governor Farris Bryant's "little cabinet" are [illegible] as [illegible] independent [illegible]. You could say the Bryant lieutenants are functioning [illegible] than as a [illegible].

[illegible] a review of [illegible] responsible to the [illegible] that Bryant's [illegible] mentioned.

The [illegible] result of this [illegible] that Bryant does [illegible] the advantage of the [illegible] popularity which the [illegible] as the state goes into the season of electing legislators to whom Bryant must present his program.

There is no reason, of course, to believe that the little cabinet officers are deliberately slighting the man responsible for their transitory prominence. It is likely that, in natural preoccupation with their own affairs, they never have thought this matter through.

It is easy to grasp how these political amateurs, for only one ever held prior statewide public office, could lose their sense of the realities in the smothering blanket of adulation experienced during the first year of an administration. And because he has publicly praised his lieutenants so profusely, Bryant must take some of the blame for any tendency to confuse delegated power with real power, appointment with anointment.

It is not just a casual matter of credit being put where it belongs. It is tremendously important at this moment because this fractionalization of public support means the Governor may go to the '63 Legislature in a weaker position than he should.

The other face of this coin is the point often made by Capitol observers that Bryant takes the blame for goofs of his lieutenants. If the road department stubs its toe, the Governor does the explaining. But when a new road is opened, it'll be the road board members out there taking the bows.

Governor Bryant shouldered, for instance, the heaviest load in putting the turnpike extension into construction. It's no secret that watchers here feel some of the Bryant headaches in doing this were unnecessarily caused.

Yet, when the Chairman of the Bryant Turnpike Authority finally was able to announce sale of the bonds, he issued a 1,130-word statement which named eleven persons, including two members of the Collins Authority, as having contributed to making this sale possible. Now here in the statement, however, was Governor Bryant named.

This was not an isolated example of apparent forgetfulness. In speech after speech by the Chairman of the Road Department, by the Hotel and Restaurant Commissioner, by the Chairman of the Industrial Commission, and by others, no identification has been made with Governor Bryant.

Again, it's entirely possible these speakers - and their ghost writers - think it is unnesessary to make this connection for their audiences. The complexity of Florida's state government, with its big Cabinet, little cabinet, and independent agencies, causes real doubt as to the wisdom of this supposition.

Our state government is set up so the every-day work of the offices can - and often has been - be carried on in the absence of the transitory political administrators. The career people, by and large, know their jobs and can be counted upon to perform these duties.

The primary purpose of having this layer of political chiefs, known as the little cabinet, between the Governor and the careerists, is to execute the policy commitments of the gubernatorial administration. If a road is to be built and three equally adequate routes are being urged, it's the job of the politicians to make the choice. If six qualified people apply for two available liquor licenses, it's up to the politicians to decide.

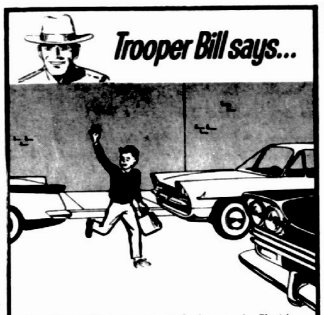
It's in this field of discretion that the members of a Governor's team can help create the sort of atmosphere of public acceptance which makes easier his own job of, say, selling the people or the Legislature on such goodfaith propositions as Bryant's program for higher education. For those Bryant has appointed to high office, now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party.

Game Kill For Range Reported

A total of 126 turkey and 33 deer have been taken from the Avon Park Bombing Range Hunt Area during the first 45 days of the 1961-62 hunting season, according to figures released this week by the State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

The report showed that 90 squirrel and 2,268 quail had also been taken in the area. Game officials urged hunters to take advantage of the cooler temperatures and scattered rainfall, which makes hunting conditions more favorable.

Trooper Bill says...



NEVER WALK between parked cars. In Florida, 221 people were injured and 4 killed in 1960, by walking between parked cars into oncoming traffic. Most of these were children under 10. Pedestrians should use crosswalks at intersections. Always look before crossing.
Motorists should drive very cautiously in school zones and near playgrounds. Especially be on the lookout for children, who often dart into the street.

The State of Citrus

LAKELAND—Florida Citrus Mutual's Bob Rutledge is an old weather hand even if he doesn't know an isobar from an anemometer.

Only Rutledge, instead of predicting what antics to expect from upcoming weather, must spend a good deal of his time calming the alarms of folks panicking over what the weather has done.

During that winter of 1957-58, when Florida citrus was shivered to the roots by 11 successive freezes, Rutledge was first forced into the role of weather soothsayer. Many in the industry were wringing their hands as if there wasn't an orange left on a tree, or anywhere else.

Before the frost was off the orange, Rutledge made a New York talk to, appropriately enough, a group of frozen food people.

"The Big Freeze of 1957-58 is a Big Bust so far as Florida citrus is concerned, "Rutledge told the group. "Our growers will receive a record on-tree return for their citrus this season."

It turned out that way, too. Florida growers received a whopping $213,220,000 on-tree for all citrus that season, a record up to then.

Hurricane Donna, in 1960, was still blowing the fronds off palm trees when at least one voice-happy radio announcer managed to get in front of a mike to proclaim that "Florida's $100 million-dollar orange crop is wiped out."

It's beside the point that nobody this side of heaven can responsibly say what's happening to citrus while a hurricane is blowing. That announcer's scare-cry made newspaper headlines in many northern cities where a lot of folks buy a lot of citrus.

Less than 24 hours after Donna quit blowing, Rutledge, conferring with Mutual field men and growers, was able to come up with a reassuring appraisal of damages that was within a few percentage points of figures released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture a month later.

When Florida thermometers dropped recently, the panic was about on again, especially in many northern newspapers which headlined doom. Rutledge, again in contact with Mutual's field men and growers, came through with more calm words: "Our preliminary survey indicates no great need for alarm . . . and we believe more detailed surveys later will reveal no industry-wide extensive damage."

"Of course we're apprehensive of freezes and all weather extremes," he said. "But so few of us, it seems, realize that citrus needs some cool weather to bring out the best color and flavor, and that there's no need for every drop of the mercury to send us to the wailing wall."

Employment In State Gaining

TALLAHASSEE — Seasonal Florida employment continued its upward push in November and unemployment dropped for the fourth straight month.

State Industrial Commission Chairman A. Worley Brown said employment rose 28,800 over October to total 1,337,900 in November. That was 22,100 above November 1960.

Brown said unemployment dropped 4,600 from October to 107,900 in November. But it was 15,300 above a year ago.

Contributing to the brightening seasonal employment picture, Brown said, were extensive hiring in citrus processing plants, expansion in retail outlets in response to the holiday season, and the hiring of more workers in service establishments preparing for the winter tourist season.

On a long term basis, Brown said, Florida will gain 80,000 jobs in 1962 over 1961.

He estimated the state's average monthly employment for 1961 at 1,320,000. He predicted an average of 1,400,000 for 1962 based on Florida's ten year employment growth and anticipated business improvements in 1962.

Although Brown pointed out that November was the fourth straight month that unemployment dropped, he warned that the seasonal influx of out-of-state job seekers during the remainder of the winter and early spring could block any great decline in unemployment.

All major business and industrial categories showed employment gains in November over October. Trade gained 12,700 to 367,400; manufacturing, 7,300 to 217,000; service and miscellaneous, 4,900 to 213,500; government, 1,900 to 232,000; construction, 1,000 to 116,900; and transportation-communications-public utilities, 900 to 99,300.

● In RESERVES

Because Banks are compelled to meet withdrawal requests without extended delay, they must maintain strong cash reserves and short-term investments. Savings and Loan Associations are not required to repurchase shares except after uncertain delay and, as a result, generally place the bulk of their funds in long-term investments.

● In RESPONSIBILITY

In the matter of withdrawals, the responsibility of a Bank is quite different from that of a Loan Association. Should a Bank find it necessary to defer the withdrawal of savings deposits as provided in its deposit contract (usually 30 days), all withdrawal requests must be paid in full at the end of the delay period. Otherwise, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation steps into member Banks and makes all insured deposits available promptly.

If Savings and Loan Associations cannot repurchase members' shares within 30 days, they may invoke a "take-your-turn" plan—that is, filing requests for money in numerical order. Should the value of the member's share exceed $1,000, he may be paid $1,000, when his number is reached, and then his application is renumbered, moved to the bottom of the list, and he must again wait his turn for the balance of the money. Also, under the "take-your-turn" plan, a Loan Association may pay up to $100 or $200 (depending on how it is chartered) to any shareholder in any month, regardless of the numerical order or filing of application. If all withdrawal requests cannot be paid within 30 days, Loan Associations must apply either one-third or 80% (depending on their charter) of their receipts to the repurchase of shares.

Ralph S. Richardson, ASCS County Office Manager has suggested to farmers that they do not overlook the closing date established for requesting cost-shares assistance under the 1962 Agricultural Conservation Program.

The closing date for accepting initial requests in Highlands County is Friday, January 12, 1962. Funds available for assisting farmers in carrying out approved conservation practices on their farms will be allocated shortly after the closing date, according to Richardson.

Electricity Production Up In State

The production of electricity in Florida during the first six months of last year moved upward 8 per cent, out-pacing most other indicators of the state's economic growth, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday.

"The total output of the state's electric plants, just reported through June, 1961, came to 10,318,036,000 kilowatt-hours. Marking the enormous strides made by the electric industry in recent years, this six-month total was more than was produced in the full year 1954 and almost twice the 1950 annual total.

"Florida's 8 per cent gain for the six months stood well above the national average of 2 per cent.

"Electric production for sale by utility companies, both public and private, accounted for 91 per cent of the Florida six-month total and registered a 9 per cent gain over the previous year. Production of electricity by large industry for its own use was up about 1 per cent.

"The capacity of all electric plants in the state stood at 4,287,132 kilowatts at the beginning of last year, and 11 per cent gain over the previous year. The national figure was 3 per cent."

The world's longest suspension span will be in the Brooklyn-Staten Island Bridge. The 4260-foot span will have more than 146,000 miles of galvanized wire spun into four 3-foot diameter suspension cables.

A[illegible] week passes and no [illegible] reached us about [illegible] They took [illegible] as they [illegible] the rest [illegible] noon, nine tables of them, and when the smoke of battle had cleared away there was Frank Th[illegible] standing triumphant over all the rest, score 3910 not [illegible] a few high but high enough. Good [illegible] Frank not so long back [illegible] on a winning [illegible] and now [illegible] tournament of [illegible] tables [illegible] something to [illegible] about. Next in line [illegible] far behind [illegible] was [illegible] Nich[illegible] score 3550.

And so ended the bridge scrap of last week. Even the losers had a good time.

The chill breezes of the early days of last week kept the attendance down somewhat on the shuffleboard courts. But in spite of the chill there were always a few zealots playing the game in overcoats and mittens. But Wednesday afternoon old Boreas moderated, a warm sun shone, and a goodly number came out to try their luck in the pick your partner tournament. And here are the winners eligible for the Hall of Fame. First honors went to G. Warner and H. Shauger, the honors of the consolation event to M. Higgs and L. Reisner. We cannot help noticing that the last mentioned wields a pretty good cue on the courts. Perhaps we are wrong but we seem to remember her winning three consolations in a row. The pot-luck tournament on Saturday was washed out. As the bulletin board had it with a touch of humor: "Main event, rain! Consolation, more rain!! So that was it, and as we saw the courts Sunday morning we guessed that was right.

About a hundred and fifty people enjoyed the evening of Thursday, the 4th of January. It was the first of the Winter entertainments of 1962, entitled Silver Skates. It was a glamorous exhibition of what can be done on skates with the know how. There was speed skating, and fancy skating, and dare devil skating, such as we never indulged in when we lived nearer the North Pole than we do now. And to give a touch of humor to it all a clown now and then did his stuff on skates to everybody's delight. It was a good entertainment. What next?

After a little rest the dancers began to do their stuff on Monday night, a very fitting climax to the New Year celebration. More than six sets of dancers were present, all equipped with fancy hats and noise making instruments. It is easy to imagine the jolly time they had. In the words of the leader it was "a howling success". The program was designed to keep the dancers both guessing and eager, and the onlookers too. Teenagers should have been present to see their grandpops and grandmas do the beer barrel polka and other fancy ones. More than seven sets were present on Friday night, a record for the season so far. One set on the stage and six on the floor made a capacity house. Next Friday some of the more popular numbers will be repeated so that less experienced dancers and beginners will be better prepared to participate in the second performance.

P. S. We almost forgot to mention a very important item concerning last Monday's dance: to wit, donuts, coffee, and punch were served during intermissions to the delight of all present.

The Saturday night supper brought out 56 hungry souls to the groaning board with Michigan contributing 15 to the group and Ohio 13. The supper was as usual delicious with everything to eat from soups to nuts. A short program followed, a sort of feast for the soul. Mrs. Fern Haas told interesting facts about her State of Michigan, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Walton told more. Sylvia and Frank LaFoliette, of Indiana, spoke of the history and noted people, other noted people we should say, of that State. All present swore they would be back next Saturday and bring others with them. Hostesses for January are Mrs. Rose Walton and Mrs. Audrey Cole. Mrs. Fern Haas is general chairman for the season. A good set-up is that, so says

My Psalm

The clinched fist and the hesitating step show the danger which doubtless has caused this heart to throb. But the face is lighted by the silver lining and hope and trust will drive out the fear. Every man walks, some day, through the valley of the shadow, along a dangerous path. Suffering and opposition and uncertainty are our common lot. But God is our shepherd and no matter how unequal we feel, He will carry us through. His rod and staff must be our comfort . . . for "My Psalm" says so. And if He walks with us through the valley, every darkness will give way to light. His church is on the corner to help us. The Book on its pulpit will give us direction. The faithful company, the anointed which My Psalm talks about, will be as His rod that drives away our foes. Then, surely, we shall not walk alone for goodness and mercy shall follow us and we shall dwell in the house of the Lord forever. A-men.

Okeechobee Game Action

Red Devils Look For Victory In Game With Kathleen Friday

Avon Park's Red Devil cage squad will be trying to hit the win column again this Friday night when they host the Kathleen Red Devils at the local gym and next Tuesday night as they travel to Lake Placid for a return match with the Green Dragons.

The Devils absorbed their third and fourth losses last week when Okeechobee topped them 73-51 Friday night and Sebring handed them a 52-43 defeat Tuesday night. Both losses came on the Devils home court.

Tuesday night the Red Devils put up a good fight before losing to the Sebring Blue Streaks by nine points. Sebring took an early lead and held a 17-5 point advantage at the end of the first quarter. At halftime the score stood 30-18 in favor of Sebring. But during the third period the Devils, playing without the services of Lamon Money who has a 23 point average for five games, put on a spurt of scoring and at one time were within three points of the Streaks. Sebring rallied however and went on to win 52-43.

The Devils outscored them from the floor hitting 20 field goals to Sebring's 19, but the Streaks bucketed 14 free shots while the Devils hit only three. Avon Park got only six free shots during the entire game while Sebring was given 28 chances from the free throw line.

Sebring's Dave Llewelyn was high scorer for the game with 21 points while Leonard Sullivan flipped in 18 for Avon Park to lead the Devils.

Last Friday night a tall, well coached Okeechobee ball club had to fight for their lives as the Avon Park boys put on a great first half exhibition of ball control only to loose the game by a final score of 73-51.

The Devils led the big 'Chobee five 11-7 at the end of the first period and the score was tied 25 all at halftime. However, the Brahmans came back with a full court press the second half and took full advantage of their height and superb outside shooting to surge ahead and swamp the Devils.

Six foot eight center Bill Phillips scored 24 points for Okeechobee and his six foot six teammate Rodger Burton netted 21 while Lamon Money was high man for Avon Park with 21.

Avon Minister To Participate In Symphony

The Rev. John F. Mangrum, rector of Church of the Redeemer, has been selected for the first violin section of the Florida West Coast Symphony Orchestra by Paul Wolfe, director.

Father Mangrum will rehearse with the orchestra on his day off each week, and will play in the February and March concerts in Bradenton and Sarasota. He is a former member of the Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, and Honolulu Symphony orchestras, and has played under such conductors as Jose Iturbi, Rudolph Ganz, Victor Kolar, Fritz Hart, and Henri Nosco.

He and Mrs. Mangrum commute to Sarasota each week for the rehearsals in the Civic Center.

Enrollment Up At Avon Park Elementary

Enrollment at Avon Elementary School was the largest in the county through the month of November, according to County School Superintendent Andy Miracle. The enrollment there is 773.

On a county wide basis, school enrollment has increased by 486 students since opening day, or up to 5,123 as compared to 4,637 on the first day of school. Miracle said he expected an even greater increase during the first of the year as many transfers come from out of state for the Winter months.

Complete enrollment for the county: White Schools—Avon Elementary, 773; Woodlawn Elementary, Sebring, 677; Fred Wild-DeSoto City, Sebring, 303; Lake Placid Elementary and High School, 683; Sebring High, 758; and Avon Park High, 677.

Negro enrollment: E. O. Douglas, Sebring, 651; Hopewell School, Avon Park, 422; Carver School, Lake Placid, 223.

"Fruit Pickin" Tourist Guilty

One privilege Florida does not extend to tourists is that of indiscriminate fruit picking. Judge Mervin Rehrer, in County Court Monday, said he has not figured out a way of telling "our most welcome visitors that they are not welcome to enter groves and pick fruit".

He said he had discussed with the county commissioners the advisibility of erecting signs along major highways stating that fruit must not be removed from the groves.

An Illinois tourist Monday entered a plea of guilty on a petit larceny charge. Highway Patrolman David Caudy said the tourist when apprehended in a grove protested that he "had always thought it was accepted practice for tourists to pick oranges".

Caudy said the Illinois man had helped himself to "about a pillowcaseful" of fruit.

Judge Rehrer set a fine of $35 or 20 days in jail.

"If a large fine would help in these matters, I'd set a big fine. Every citrus season we have these cases and the news that picking fruit is against the law just doesn't seem to get around," he said. "Ripe fruit near the highway is a big temptation, but it is one which had better be resisted."

Plan Underway For Day School Nursery Class

A director for the nursery program of the Ridge Area Day School for Retarded Children is being sought. The nursery program is expected to begin in the new Day School building in Avon Park early this spring, according to the Rev. Tom W. Jones, chairman of the school's operation committee.

Members of the committee met this week to outline school procedures for both the school level and nursery level programs offered. The school program, with eleven children currently enrolled, will be transferred to the new building in just a few weeks.

The duties of the nursery director, now being sought, will be to conduct the nursery program five mornings a week—throughout the public school year. Mr. Jones has described the position as one involving three principal duties. First is constant study of materials related to the trainable retarded child. Second is conducting the daily sessions of perhaps four to six (at first) children too severely retarded for the school program. Third responsibility is for coordinating the efforts of the several volunteers who will give daily assistance to the program.

License Tags Available From Avon Park Firm

"It will be a BIG help to everyone if Avon Park people will please buy their vehicle tags in Avon Park."

Supervisor of Registration Roland X. Droit this week issued this plea to all motor vehicle owners who have Avon Park mailing addresses.

To facilitate the annual sale of tags a complete set of license applications are pre-written for residents of the county. All pre-written applications for Avon Park residents are on file in the temporary tag office in Avon Park.

As in previous years this temporary office is being maintained in the office of Wells Motor Co.

Droit said the hours for that office are 9 a. m. to noon, 1 to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday. As the license deadline nears, at the end of January, some Saturday hours may be arranged, he said.

"This year a surprising number of Avon Park people have come down to the Court House to get licenses," Droit said. "Since the pre-written application is back in Avon Park, we must take time to write a new application, and we must have the 1961 registration.

"In several cases the would-be purchaser finds that he forgot to bring his old registration along. All this time and trouble could have been saved if the purchase had been made in Avon Park."

Droit estimated that about 5,000 license applications were sent to the Avon Park office for the 1962 sales.

County sales, as a whole, he said, have been slow. Only one of the businesses operating a fleet of trucks has purchased the 1962 license tags.

Sales are steady now, but the office is bracing for a heavy last-minute rush.

Flowers Heads Dime Drive In Avon Park Area

Walter O. McGrath, Sebring, chairman of the 1962 March of Dimes announced this week that the Avon Park Firemen's Association would be in charge of the drive in this area.

Flowers

McGrath said Mack Flowers, assistant fire chief would head up the drive. The firemen have spearheaded the drive in recent years.

A concentrated effort will be made during the month of January for funds to fight polio through the March of Dimes. Flowers solicited the support of all residents to help make this drive a success.

Plans Given For 2-Bedroom Florida Home

One of the attractions of this 1,008 square foot, two-bedroom home is its fireplace-barbecue combination strategically located between the living room and the kitchen. This body of exposed masonry (preferably second-hand brick) provides a functional decoration for both rooms as well as heat.

Anonther attraction of this 28 by 36-foot house is its spacious, L-shaped living-dining area with large windows at front and back and two sliding glass doors which open onto a 12 by 24-foot screened porch. In fact, they "borrow" space from each other and thus each is enlarged — at least optically. Incidentally, the porch may be enclosed and finished into a Florida room.

The U-shaped kitchen counter has space for a top range, a sink under the window, a built-in oven and a refrigerator-freezer combination. The barbecue (marked BR) with a decorative hood over it is handy to the kitchen counter and the dining table.

In order to obtain the maximum amount of floor space for the building dollar, this medium-sized home is a simple rectangle topped with a simple saddle roof. All plumbing fixtures are installed "back-to-back"—which means that the kitchen sink, the water heater, and the three bathroom fixtures abut the same "wet" wall.

The 12½ by 13 front bedroom has three windows, a six-foot closet, and a folding door to the living room. In families where this room is used for other than sleeping purposes, the folding door may be welcome means of joining the room with the living room, and, on the other hand, where both bedrooms are needed, the folding door may simply be replaced by a solid wall.

The 12½ by 10-foot bedroom has also three windows and a large closet. The linen closet and the broom closet are accessible from the bedroom hall.

The centrally located heater (marked "H") has registers on three sides in order to provide quick heat for all parts of the house.

Since the width of this home is 60 feet, the property frontage should be at least 75 feet; a 25-foot minimum front setback is recommended between the house and the road.

The construction of this house is as follows: Exterior walls are 8-inch-thick concrete blocks with 5/8-inch-thick stucco on the outside and 1½-inch-thick insulation boards and 7/8-inch-thick plaster on the inside. The 4-inch-thick concrete floor slab (reinforced with wire mesh) is topped with terrazzo flooring and is 12 inches above the grade in order to assure dry floors. All interior partitions are regular frame construction with plaster on both sides.

More information on this House Plan No. 1008-13 can be obtained from the author at P. O. Box 11567, St. Petersburg.

First Federal Assets Increase

The First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Sebring issued its semi-annual statement of condition last week, showing assets of $6,653,172.10.

This figure represents more than an increase of more than $1½ million during the past year. Assets a year ago were $5,094,395.

First mortgage loans at First Federal total $5,665,350.37 and savings accounts total $6,-266,995.14. Reserves total $181,115.47.

The Savings and Loan Association will hold their annual meeting on January 17, according to Stanley Davis, president.

Florida's State Board of Health donates to county health departments for use in free clinics vaccines for such diseases as polio, smallpox, typhoid, tetanus and diphtheria.

Band Group Has Regular Meet

The Band Association held their regular monthly meeting Monday night. Bob Lee presided in the absence of the president, Louie Wainwright. Reports showed the association had purchased three new instruments for the band recently, including a French horn, a tuba and a bassoon.

Plans were made to hold a variety show at the APCI in February and details will be announced later.

Vic MicKunas, director of the band, announced that the seasonal Sunday afternoon concerts would begin about the last Sunday in January. The band is practicing for the first concert. These are a public service offered for the entertainment of the winter guests.

On January 25 the group will hold its annual dinner meeting at the Sebring Hotel at 12 noon. Reservations are available from Helen Robbins, Rt. 2, Box 305, Sebring. They should be in before January 20, a member said.

Florida's State Board of Health biologists have identified 28 species of sand flies of which three species give most trouble with their bites.

NEW CHAMBER HEAD — Roy Seims, Avon Park businessman, was installed as president of the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce in ceremonies held last Thursday night. Seims, a former member of the city council, succeeds Royal Coats in the top chamber post.

Surety Collapse Has Effects On Bondsman

The collapse of the Pan American Bonding Surety Co. may be giving some personal headaches to L. S. Sims, but Highlands County law enforcement agencies are not experiencing the major problems some larger neighbors are.

Sims, who for a decade has worked as a bail-bondsman in this county, said that when the Pan American company went into bankruptcy last month that many civil and a few criminal bonds were involved here.

He has already re-negogiated the civil bonds, for about $150,000, with United States Bonding Surety Co. He said only two large criminal bonds and "about a dozen or so small ones" have not been placed with the new company.

The bankrupt company was guarantor for many bonds throughout the state, and in some larger counties the bailbondsmen are scrambling to re-negogiate for bonds running into the millions.

Avon School At Music Meeting

Students attending the Florida Music Education Association meeting in Tampa over the weekend were Anita Luscomb, Sharon Nations, Vicki Harrison and Wade Odom. Mrs. William Luscomb chaperoned the group.

Vic MicKunas, director of the band, and John Almlie, director of the glee club, also accompanied the students. The band students were a part of the sight-reading band and the glee club students were among the 660 voices of the high school chorus.

The proportion of users of alcoholic beverages among teenagers varies from community to community. In some communities majorities of 6 or 8 in 10 are users; in other communities only minorities are users.

If the parents of a family are users, the probability is high that their teenage children also will be users. Abstinent teenagers typically have abstinent parents.

Teenagers tend to associate the use of alcohol with adult role-playing and particularly with situations in which adults are being convivial, celebrating a special event or seeking relief [illegible]

Be Careful With Burning During Winter

The recent frost and cold weather are expected to increase the fire danger hazard according to District Forester J. H. Smith of the Lakeland office of the Florida Forest Service. According to Smith the potentially dangerous fire situation created by the long dry spell was alleviated only a slight amount by the recent light rains. Forest Service records show that the recent rainfall was neither extensive nor intensive enough to raise the water level throughout the southern portion of the state. This existing condition coupled with the killing of the lesser vegetation by the recent heavy frost and the increased cold weather burning activities by people makes a dangerous situation in the district.

Forest Service records show a total of 208 forest and non-forest fires burning in the six protected counties of the Lakeland district during December 1961.

Smith urges everyone whether they be housewife, hunter, farmer, cattleman, or student to be particularly careful with their fire during the next several months.

Further information on proper burning procedures and fire danger conditions may be obtained from the nearest Florida Forest Service fire control unit headquarters.

Ministers Meet At APCI Jan. 9

On January 9, Avon Park Ministerial Association met at APCI for its monthly meeting. Chaplain Johnson was host pastor for the occasion, bringing the devotionals to the group, and inviting them as guests for luncheon afterwards.

Officers of the Ministerial Association for the year ahead are Rev. Don Staten, president; Rev. J. M. Gilbreath, vice president; and Rev. John F. Mangrum, secretary-treasurer.

At its December meeting, the association extended a resolution of thanks to Chaplain W. B. Johnson for his year of leadership as president.

THE FARM FRONT

BY
COMMISSIONER
DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

I don't believe the Department has any program that has won as much world-wide acceptance as the Citrus Budwood Registration Program administered by our Division of Plant Industry. This entire operation is designed to make available to Florida's citrus growers a better-producing, more vigorous tree, which, it is felt, will definitely increase the yield and quality of citrus fruit.

Maybe I had better qualify that statement about making superior trees available to Florida growers. We are doing that, certainly, but at the same time other countries around the world are sending men to Florida to study our methods. Now the results attained by our own program are beginning to appear in these other countries almost as carbon copies, based upon what visiting research men have been able to glean from observations and instruction.

The budwood idea grew out of a problem that faced Florida's citrus industry not too many years ago. Costs of land, labor and materials made citrus a precarious business. The grower eventually went to the scientist with questions about how to raise more and better fruit on the land then in use.

According to what the men behind the microscopes had to say, virus diseases were slowly lowering the yields of many groves in the heaviest-producing citrus areas. While costs remained the same, or even inched upward each year, the yield of virus-infected trees dropped. The grower was not ready to believe this line of thinking at that time and it was not until 1950 that anything was done about the problem.

By the following year members of the Florida State Horticultural Society had discussed the subject thoroughly at their annual meeting and a series of conferences with citrus and agricultural leaders resulted in the proposal for a budwood program. The Statement of Policy that grew out of these sessions has served as the yardstick by which the Division of Plant Industry has administered the program since that time.

A five-acre tract of land near Winter Haven was purchased in 1953 and converted into a nursery for seedling test trees. In that first year, 18 nurserymen and growers signed as participants, entering as parent stock a number of trees that appeared to be free of virus. Today there are 322 participants in the program, growing approximately 1,600,000 nursery trees that are free of one or more viruses.

Any nurseryman or grower in Florida who wishes to participate in the program may make application to the Division for the examination of not more than 40 trees of all varieties. These trees must be at least 10 years old, vigorous, productive and apparently trust to best commercial type.

The Division then makes a preliminary inspection, preferably during the spring flush, of the candidate tree and the four trees immediately surrounding the selected tree. This check is for general quality, visible disease symptoms and the degree of bud variation. Records of results and location maps are made if the trees pass this preliminary test.

These successful trees must pass inspections over a period continuing through two subsequent spring growths, during which time these trees are indexed for tristeza. Buds removed from prospective parent trees must be propagated in the Division's registration test plot and checked for any evidence or sympton of the viruses psorosis, xyloporosis and exocortis, stubborn disease or other recognizable bud-transmissible diseases. Inspection of these buds also extends through two subsequent spring growths. Exceptions are buds on Orlando tangelo seedlings, checked for four years for symptoms of xyloporosis, and buds on Poncirus trifoliate, inspected for eight years for freedom from exocortis.

The Division, in a complex bookkeeping system, maintains a record of all registered trees, indicating variety, strain and age, name of owner, location of the planting, position in the planting, and the assigned registration number. Metal identification tags approved by the Division must be attached to each eligible nursery tree, indicating progeny or the registered parent tree. Out of this we expect to create the most productive citrus groves in the world - groves that will offer the finest tasting and the best-looking fruit to be found anywhere.

DAUGHTER ILL

Mrs. Florence Stebbins and daughter, Mrs. George Bowers, of Lake Placid, were in Orlando Friday to visit Mrs. Earl F. Bozeman, who is critically ill following surgery. Mrs. Bozeman is the former, Miss Mary Lydia Stebbins, whose parents were both long time residents of Avon Park. The Bozeman family lives in Winter Garden. She is a patient at the Orange Memorial Hospital, Room 237, Orlando, and will be glad to have encouraging letters from her friends here.

About Town Via The Mall

Don't Need It —

During the years of World War II, people spent hours in gathering and preparing for use by our government, rubber, aluminum and tin products. It would be easy now, should the need for tin arise again. You could gather a truck load of beer cans in just a mile or two on Alt. 27, South of Avon Park. Seems some people just don't believe in Florida's slogan, "Don't be a litterbug".

Really "Stuck Up" —

Read where glue is being used to close wounds on some patients in Tokyo. A group of 11 surgeons tested the glue—a synthetic resin adhesive normally used in electrical work—on dogs and rabbits; they then used it to close cuts on the skin, veins, windpipes and intestines of human beings. It sets in minutes. It can be applied on wet surfaces, is harmless to human organs, is easy to sterilize and will not deteriorate at normal body temperatures. It is absorbed into the body safely within a few weeks. So watch it, especially you hospital patients. If somebody calls you "stuck up", they may be talking about your physique, not your ego!

He Caught On —

John Phillips was really perturbed awhile back when he realized his wife, Alma, had sent him the same birthday card for four straight years! "I just wanted to prove," said Alma, "that men don't pay as close attention to those things as women." Yep, John agreed.

Compact —

Survival kits of one kind or another are cropping up all over, and getting smaller every time. One of the newest and smallest is one I bought from Johnson Associates, Box 1516, Milwaukee, Wis. The little kit is about four by six inches in size, about an inch thick, but holds 20 survival items from fish hooks to burn ointment to a knife and compass, plus a 16-page first aid and survival booklet. Cost $2.49 in plastic case, but $3.98 in leather. It's nice to have but here's hoping we never have to use it.

Yearns For Sun —

Had a nice card and letter from Mr. Clarence Foote, Rt. 2, Delanson, N. Y., stating he had enjoyed his vacation in Avon Park last Summer and was looking forward to it again this year. Comparing the weather there with the weather here, says he wishes it was now he could visit us all. Don't blame you, Clarence, and we'll be looking forward to seeing you soon.

Fed Up —

Mr. Stimson, of Stimson's Gulf Service on the Mall, says he's had enough! "For years I've wrapped flowers and trees against these December frosts and usually end up in planting new hibiscus every year," says Mr. Stimson, "but from now on it will be something that won't freeze. Brother, I've had it!"

Faith In Florida —

Mrs. Fran Evans of New York, and a visitor in Avon Park every Winter, grows cactus in New York as a hobby. She subscribes to a Florida newspaper and when the paper's weather report predicts rain, she waters her cactus!

Beauty Spot —

Won't be long before we join others at the drive-up window at the new Avon Citrus Bank. The building is getting prettier all the time and the workmen will soon be finished. It may not be the largest bank in Florida, but it will be one of the prettiest. It's already the friendliness!

AAA Routing Cars Around Georgia City

TAMPA — If the Peninsula Motor Club can help it, its AAA members will not come in contact with these "mean, mean, mean" cops in Ludowici, Ga.

The club's travel counselors in its Tampa headquarters and nine branch cities throughout Florida began routing motorists around Ludowici and Glennville, Ga., so they would not be "fair game" for the "over-zealous" law enforcement officers in those communities on U. S. 301.

This drastic action came after many months of negotiations with local officials who refused to consider the numerous complaints received by the AAA from the traveling public, according to Marvin L. Holloway, president of the Peninsula Motor Club.

U. S. 301 is one of the most popular routes used by AAA clubs in the East to route tourists to Florida. And Florida AAA clubs route thousands and thousands of motorists on it going northward.

The epithet for the Ludowici cops came from Alex Henderson, travel editor of the Toronto, Canada, Star, in a recent column warning Canadians to be extra careful going through the 48-mile stretch between Claxton and Jesup.

Until further notice, AAA members seeking routings will be directed, if going north, to turn onto State Road 169 at Jesup to a point on U. S. 280 near Claxton and return to 301 at Claxton. This route is actually two miles less than the 301 dogleg. A report from the Savannah Motor Club states that the detour is "a perfectly good alternate route."

The AAA has carried on a feud with officials in Ludowici for years and finally got the city to remove a tricky signal light there which was the basis for numerous arrests for years. As soon as that was done, according to AAA, the local cops set up their "speed trap" and have arrested hundreds of persons on borderline cases and in many cases in which defendants swore they were not exceeding the speed limit. Nationwide, the AAA has 7.5 million members, while the Peninsula Motor Club has 63,000 members.

"Nokatee — Land Beyond the Everglades," filmed by Orin Fogle, will be narrated by Barbara Stewart of Sarasota on January 12, 1962.

Audubon Society To Present Color Movie On Everglades

All of the unspoiled beauty of the Everglades of Florida - its fascinating swamplands, mysterious maze of mangrove isles and myriad wild creatures - has been captured in a full-length color movie entitled, "Nockatee, Land Beyond The Everglades", filmed, directed and produced by Orin Fogle of Sarasota.

It will be presented under the auspices of the Lake Region Audubon Society at 8 p. m. on Friday, January 12, in the Civic Center Theater, Lake Mirror Dr., Lakeland.

Narrated by Barbara Stewart, former resident of Winter Haven and Gainesville, the motion picture tells the story of how she and her husband made the adventurous expedition deep in the heart of the Everglades. The excursion set a new record of the longest canoe trip ever made in the wilds of Everglades National Park.

The two photojournalists lived almost entirely off the land and water during their six months' safari. Barbara vividly describes their survival techniques; searching for edible wild fruit and berries on old Calusa Indian mounds, plucking coon oysters and gigging crabs. The waters abounded with fish like tarpon, bass and snook which they caught and smoked at their wilderness camping site.

Their usual home was a campsite on any dry hammock they could locate and their only companions for weeks at a time were alligators, playful otters, snakes and hundreds of birds like the odd flame-hued spoonbills and graceful great white herons.

Every navigable river between Cape Romano and Cape Sable in the 10,000 island area of the lower southwest Florida coast was explored by the adventurers in their 17 foot canoe, the "Nockatee". They encountered otter-trappers, 'gator poachers, moonshiners and curlew hunters. The couple also visited and photographed every deserted pioneer homesite and former plantation in the area, meeting charter boat captains, commercial fishermen and professional hermits.

Fighting heat exhaustion and mosquitoes, the two explorers also suffered 32 degree frosts and experienced a raging storm that ripped their tent apart in the night and a battering 55 mile an hour wind in the open Gulf that whipped four foot waves over the stern of their canoe.

The public will be welcome to attend this film showing and tickets will be available at the box office. Proceeds will benefit a new wildlife research project sponsored by the Society.

Pine Seedlings Still Available

The Florida Forest Service announced this week that it's not too late to order slash pine seedlings for planting during this year's pine planting season.

Seedlings may be ordered through the county agent's office, Soil Conservation Service, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office or from the Florida Forest Service fire control headquarters.

A recent survey shows that only about one-fourth of the 20-million acres of commercial forest land in Florida are satisfactorily stocked. The remaining acreage needs either planting or some type of natural reinforcement of the existing standis. This is in spite of the fact that state landowners have planted over 1,870,000 acres since 1928, when the Florida Forest Service first began producing pine seedlings for reforestation. Over 58,000 acres have been planted in South Florida counties since 1928.

LIBRARY TEA SET

The annual silver tea which is sponsored by the Avon Park Library will be held this year at the home of Mrs. E. G. Todd on Lake Lotela, Friday, Feb. 9. More details will be announced at a later date.

Ticker Talk

New records for the American economy as a whole and for most of the industries that form its integral parts seem sure for 1962.

These prospects are assured by the level at which we enter the New Year and by the predictably steady progress over the next several months. But, like almost any other year, it can equally confidently be said that there will be unpleasant aspects.

One of this year's unpleasantnesses could, of course, center in steel.

Steel holds the spotlight now because of the rapid improvement in orders received and the buildup in output.

There's nothing unpleasant about this, needless to say. Yet the whole thing has a certain air of unreality about it. Every one knows that a share of this activity is simply inventory building against a strike.

This distorts not only the curve of steel operations but the trend for manufacturing in general. No matter how high the production indicators go, nobody will take them quite seriously.

The second problem involving steel is the thoroughly unpleasant business of hammering out a new labor contract to replace the one which will expire at mid-year. Whether there will or will not be a strike makes a lot of difference to business in the second half of 1962.

With a strike of any duration, steel users would largely chew up the inventories they are accumulating now. Without a strike, they will chew these up just the same - at the expense of new orders.

Steel mills are in for a lean third quarter either way.

Clouding the prospect for successful bargaining in steel are the so-far-untested attitudes of the federal authorities.

How far will the steelworkers push their demands in the face of the President's admonition to exercise "restraint"? To what extent is the union's leadership impressed by competitive inroads already made by foreign steel (1) in the U. S., and (2) in third countries?

How seriously will either side bargain while harboring the implicit knowledge that the government "can't tolerate" a big strike.

Any union demand, any wage settlement, any strike can now be classified as a "national emergency" because of its potential effects on our exports and on our balance of payments.

The material for this article was furnished by the Research Dept. of the Francis I. duPont & Co., Members of the New York Stock Exchange, Sarasota office, Phone WX-2323.

Covenant Circle To Meet Jan. 17

Wednesday, January 17, the Covenant Circle of the Union Congregational Church will meet in Fellowship Hall at 1:30 p.m. Coffee will be served by Mrs. Henry Lexa and Mrs. Ernest Abbott.

The program will include a film strip "The Florida Conference Advances," by Wm. N. Tuttle, Jr.

Dodge Dart 2-Door Sedan

PERFORMANCE
The new size Dodge Dart has the most powerful standard six engine in the business. The Dart-6 gives you the muscle of an eight with the economy of a six. Dart also has the most powerful V8 anywhere near its price.

COMFORT
Plenty of headroom and legroom. Reduced front floor hump. Chair-high seats. Fold-down center arm-rest, all-vinyl upholstery on Dart 440. Man-size wheels and tires that put plenty of rubber on the road. Smooth Torsion-Aire ride.

SAFETY
Dart gives you more braking power-per-pound than most any car at any price. As much as 62% greater lining area than any car near its price. The brakes adjust themselves automatically. They're bonded, not riveted, for longer wear.

DEPENDABILITY
Dart's body is rustproofed. You go 32,000 miles between grease jobs. High-speed starter and high-output alternator are standard for quick, sure starts.

The new size 1962 Dodge Dart is two feet shorter than America's largest car. It is two feet longer than the smallest. You get maneuverability without sacrifice of room or comfort. You get both genuine economy and outstanding performance.

Next Florida Governor Could Serve Six Years Under Plan

[illegible]

But Adams concedes the plan [illegible] would help the Democrats [illegible] especially in the early years.

If approved by the Legislature and the voters before the 1964 election, the proposal would work this way:

State and county officials elected in 1964 would hold two year terms with a new cycle of four year terms set up to begin with the 1966 election.

The governor elected in 1964 would be eligible to run for a four-year term in 1966. But after 1966, all governors would be banned from succeeding themselves, as at present.

Adams feels that the off-year election procedure would keep state and local elections separated from the national political races.

He thinks it would result in the development of state party platforms, and not tie candidates to national party platforms, which Adams said, are designed to "bring together all types of splinter groups."

"This is true of both the Democratic and Republican platforms,' he said.

In 1960, Florida Democrats, who outnumber Republicans 6 to 1, won by margins of only about 2 to 1, indicating that many Democrats once they jumped party lines to vote for Richard Nixon, who carried Florida, just kept voting Republican in State and county races.

Civil Service Exams Slated

The United States Civil Service Commission today announced an Air Reserve Technician examination for the position of radio operator, GS-5, $4,345 per year at Homestead Air Force Base, Homestead, Florida.

No written test will be given. Applicants will be rated on the basis of their experience.

Air Reserve Technicians are fulltime civilian employees who are also members of the Air Force Reserve Unit in which they are employed.

Full information with instruction on how to apply may be obtained from the Examiner in charge at the Post Office; Executive Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Dobbins Air Force Base, Ga.; or the Fifth U. S. Civil Service Regional Office, 275 Peachtree street, N. E., Atlanta, Ga.

Applications will be accepted through May 16, 1962.

Pension Report Time For Vets

It's pension reporting time for [illegible] disabled veterans and the dependents of deceased veterans in Florida.

Rufus H. Wilson, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in St. Petersburg, explained today why it's also a time of complications and individual problems, some of them unnecessary.

Along with their December checks, due January 1, all VA pension recipients will receive tabulating cards on which to report income. They carry the words "please do not mutilate", although many will come back in unusable condition.

On these cards beneficiaries must report all outside income received during 1961 and expected in 1962. Outside income means everything, including Social Security payments, except of course the VA pension payments themselves.

The VA needs the reports to determine continued eligibility of pensioners and to make adjustments on the basis of increased or decreased outside income, Wilson explained.

One pension law cuts of' payments when income of an individual, if single, exceeds $1400 a year; or $2700 if he has dependents. Another law, which went into effect in 1960, sets limits of $1800 and $3000 but provides for adjustments on the basis of income up to these maximums.

Mr. Wilson estimates that on the basis of past years, some 3000 recipients will simply extract their checks from the envelopes and, without looking inside, throw away the enclosed tabulating card.

Another 2000 won't fill out and return the cards because their incomes are already in excess or will be during 1962. That's all right about 1962, but when 1961 isn't reported VA is interested in determining just when the beneficiary's income made him ineligible and why he didn't tell VA at the time. If the recipent is at fault he may be liable for repayment of all checks received during the previous year.

Prompt and accurate reporting can save the VA and the beneficiary delay and heartache.

"A WALK WITH GOD"

We walk this way together
Hand in hand, my God and I;
I with steps of weakness
He with his presence nigh.

We walk this way together
Through the long, long
stretch of years,
Through the path, rock-strewn and rugged
And the one that is paved with tears.

We climb the heights together
To behold the lofty view;
Descend to the task that is waiting,
The joys of service renew.

We reach day's end together
Life's work faithfully done,
With hand co-joined with Jesus
We finish the journey home.

Florida Hospitals Open New Careers For Stetson Students

TAMPA.—The University of South Florida Foundation has indicated an accelerated program designed to supplement state appropriations for the institution with private gifts.

The USF Foundation is a private corporation which receives and administers gifts to the University. Administratively, the Foundation will be headed by its president, Circuit Judge John F. Germany, with Dr. John S. Allen, president of the University, as chairman of the Foundation's 22-man board of directors. Seven committees, headed by the directors, will focus fund-raising activities in various fields. Members of the committees and of the entire board are volunteers.

Support will be sought in three areas of gift opportunities—current, special and capital. Current giving includes scholarships, special cultural and scientific programs, lectureships, artists series, research projects and campus beautification.

Special gifts are of longer duration and include permanent scholarship and research funds, the endowment of distinguished professorships and chairs and fellowships for graduate students. Capital gifts cover the cost of facilities not likely to be provided by state monies, due to a lack of funds, and include an observatory, a concert hall, health and recreation facilities, a golf course, an arboretum, a technological institute, research centers, biological field stations and marine biological facilities.

In a statement announcing the Foundation program, Judge Germany and President Allen said "the Foundation is not seeking dollars which should go to private institutions of higher learning; rather, it is providing an opportunity to individuals, corporations and foundations to meet the expanding challenge of higher education's role and requirements.

"Both public and private institutions have a vital role to fill," continued the statement. "The outstanding state universities in America have been built by a combinantion of public and private funds. In its aspiration for greatness and for expanded services the University of South Florida must have such support."

Dale Purcell, director of development at South Florida and coordinator of the Foundation program, explains it as an opportunity to invest in America's young people, while increasing the donor's spendable income, avoiding capital gains tax, cutting current income tax and eliminating management worries on their holdings—ultimately leaving a heritage which provides a genuine sense of fulfillment. "There are unlimited opportunities here," he said, "for concerned people to give vital assistance to the developing of something great and lasting and essential."

The University of South Florida, now in its second year of operation, has 3,000 students in freshman and sophomore classes. The charter class will graduate in 1963 and an enrollment of 10,000 is expected by 1970.

JULIAN MARKHAM

Former School Administrator To Be Honored

Julian A. Markham, former Supervisor of Schools in Highlands County, will be honored by school personnel Saturday night, when a testimonial dinner will be held at the Sebring Hotel.

Markham is presently General Supervisor for the Volusia County Schools. He served Highlands County for about 12 years. He also was a member of the State Board of Managers for the Florida Congress of Parents and Teachers from Highlands County.

Ever since he left the county at the beginning of this school year, the HCTA and the CTA have been planning this affair. County school administrators, teachers, husbands and wives will be attending.

A full-time physician is employed at Florida's State Board of Health to check constantly on possible hazards resulting from atomic and nuclear fallout.

Such odd cases as smelly basements, discolored paper and gases thrown off by ripening bananas are investigated by Florida State Board of Health agents.

One of the leading complaints in Florida industry are skin diseases caused by acids, soaps, oils, metals, sunlight, fertilizer and gasoline.

Florida has upwards of 300 kinds of midges or blind mosquitoes. They are a nuisance but carry no disease.

Florida's State Board of Health has laboratories in each principal city to check on such things as blood, brain tissue and various types of specimens so that diseases may be more quickly identified and persons helped rapidly back to health.

FOG BLAMED FOR PILEUP — Heavy fog that covered Highlands County early Monday morning was blamed for eight accidents in the South end of the county. One of the pileups, shown above, sent two to the hospital. The truck, at left of photo, driven by Harold Deck, Sebring, rammed the rear of truck in center, driven by Connie Purvis, Sebring. The impact drove the Purvis vehicle into the semi-truck which had stopped due to the hazardous conditions. Deck and Purvis were admitted to a hospital for treatment. Highway Accidents Numerous As Fog Blankets County Monday

A "pea soup" fog hung over Highlands County Monday morning and by the time it had cleared eight traffic accidents had been reported. For an hour and a half U. S. 98 was closed while accidents were investigated and the road cleared.

There were few injuries and arrests as a result of the mishaps. Sheriff Broward Coker and Florida Highway Cpl. Joe Keene heaved sighs of relief late Monday. "It could have been so much worse," they said.

Most serious of the accidents occurred on U. S. 98 at 9:15 a. m. It accounted for all the serious injuries; four Sebring men were hospitalized.

Pick-up trucks driven by Harold D. Deck and Connie W. Purvis collided in the fog and rammed a semi-trailer truck driven by Harold J. Fairchild of St. Louis, Mo.

According to the investigating officer, Patrolman H. A. Moore of the highway patrol, a telephone company truck driven by Deck crashed into the rear of a tile truck driven by Purvis and threw the tile truck into the rear of the semi.

Thomas Carter and Ernest J. Ash, Sebring Negroes who were riding in the tile truck, were among the injured. Each of them suffered back, neck and head injuries.

Deck, the most serious injured, suffered five broken ribs. Purvis suffered neck, back and hand injuries. All the injured were admitted to Walker Memorial Hospital.

Deck has been charged with driving at speed too great for conditions.

The truck accident occurred six miles East of Sebring. Fifteen minutes later, six and a half miles East of Sebring a car which was being driven off the road was rammed by a truck, and another quarter of an hour later and a mile farther from Sebring a similar accident was reported.

The series of U. S. 98 accidents began at 6:15 a. m. with a minor collision at the intersection of 98 and U.S. 27, South of Sebring.

Law enforcement officers closed 98 about 9:30 Monday morning. The road was cleared of fog and debris and opened to traffic about 11 a. m.

Farther South in the county two vehicles were damaged slightly in a "fog accident". A station wagon belonging to Lykes Brothers of Tampa and driven by Maurice Gustavus Crum of Lake Placid collided with a car driven by Ester Lindsey of Lake Placid.

According to Cpl. Keene Mrs. Lindsey had stopped her car on state road 621 and in the fog Crum rammed the parked car. Mrs. Lindsey was charged with parking on the highway and driving without a license.

Damage to the vehicles was estimated at $150 each.

To handle the rash of accidents Sheriff Coker called out all his deputies and some members of the Sheriff's Rescue Unit. Highway Patrol Auxiliary also provided some assistance.

In addition to Moore and Keene investigations for the Highway Patrol were handled by Patrolman D. D. Caudy.

Minor Accident At East Main

A minor accident at the East end of the Mall early Monday morning put a 76-year old Avon Park man in Walker Memorial Hospital here.

John Cooper, although not believed injured seriously, was taken to the hospital for observation. Avon Park Police Leland Harrison said Cooper apparently blacked out as he approached the Mall and his small foreign car went out of control and jumped the curb, knocking down a small palm tree.

Approximately $225 damage was reported to the car. No charges were placed. The accident happened about 7:30 a. m. shortly before the heavy fog moved into the area.

Livestock Sale At Fair Friday

The annual Highlands County Fat Steer Sale will be held at the livestock pavilion at the county fair grounds Friday afternoon at 3:30, County Agent Bert Harris told The Sun this week.

Harris said the livestock is better this year than in the past and that quality of animals to be sold is also improved.

Redmond Dortch, Jr., county rancher and chairman of the livestock committee urged potential buyers to be on hand for the sale.

Future Farmer Chapter members and 4-H Club members from throughout the county will have animals for sale.

Youth To Prison After Cattle Theft In County

An 18-year-old Lorida youth is prison bound—less than a week after committing what is in modern times the rare crime of cattle rustling.

In Circuit Court Monday, Frank Byars pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny. Judge Clifton Kelly immediately handed down a sentence of two years in prison.

On. Thursday, January 11, R. A. Carlton of Sebring complained that two calves were missing from his ranch at Lorida. Carlton told law officers that he had fed the calves on Wednesday (January 10).

He also told officers that tracks at the ranch indicated that the calves had been dragged away.

When Deputy Sheriff Don McIntyre checked the cattle market in Wauchula, he learned that the missing calves had been there and were sold to a packing company in Bartow.

The manager of the Wauchula market identified the calves and produced records which showed that the animals had been brought to market by Frank Byars of Okeechobee.

Young Byars was found at Okeechobee and returned to this county.

In sentencing Byars Judge Kelly made a strong plea for the youth to return to the studies he had abandoned short of high school graduation. The Judge said he would write to Raiford officials and ask that Byars be given every opportunity to complete his high school work.

Dress Revue Is Slated For Fair Thursday Night

Over 50 girls from throughout Highlands County will participate in the annual dress revue at the County Fair Grounds Thursday night. The girls will represent the various home economic and 4-H clubs from the county school districts.

Miss Betty Duckett, home demonstration agent is director of the dress revue which will feature the girls modeling apparel which they have designed and made during the past year.

Four girls from Avon Park will be entering home projects. They are Anita Luscomb, Nina Laye, Mary Whitted and Jackie King.

The event is scheduled for the stage at the fair grounds.

Five Arrested In Break-Ins

First arrests have been made as a result of the series of break-ins which marked the new year in Highlands County.

Jewell Green and Ellis Taylor, Jr., residents of the Avon Park Negro quarters were accused of making break-ins at cafes in the quarters.

In County Court Monday morning both Green and Taylor waived preliminary hearing on breaking and entering charges. They are accused of robbing the Beachfront and Blue Bird Cafe.

Judge Mervin Rehrer set bond at $5,000 for each of the accused ($2,500 on each of the two breaking and entering counts). He explained that bond was made high because "a large amount of money was taken and so far not recovered".

He added that both Green and Taylor have "bad records".

In addition to the breaking and entering charges, both men faced drunk charges Monday, and each entered a guilty plea on that count. Each was fined $25 or 20 days in jail.

WOMAN INJURED

Mrs. Frank D. Henderson is recuperating at home from injuries she received in a fall last week, when she broke several ribs and sprained an ankle badly.

Hat In Political Ring, Adams Starts Campaign For House Seat

Morris Adams, 45-year-old Avon Park oil distributor, has announced his candidacy for the Highlands County seat in the House of Representatives.

The announcement came as no surprise however since Adams had indicated some weeks ago he would seek the seat currently held by Howard G. Livingston of Sebring. Livingston declined to seek re-election.

Adams graduated from Sebring High School in 1933 and in 1938 graduated from the University of Florida with a degree in business administration.

He served in the U. S. Army from March of 1942 to March, 1946, a part of the time spent in the European Theatre.

Adams is a former Highlands County Commissioner, serving a term from 1953 to 1957. He is a member of the Avon Park Rotary Club and a director of the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce.

The representative aspirant is married to the former Mary Emerson and they have two children.

In making the announcement, Adams did not elaborate on his campaign platform.

Inter-County Breaks Ground For $80,000 Addition To Local Plant

The Inter-County Telephone System broke ground this week for an $80,000 addition to the Avon Park telephone building, which will almost double the existing floor space. R. M. Gay, District Manager, said land for the building addition was purchased from Ray Wells of the Wells Motor Company.

The purchase extends the present property the full length of the block from Lake Avenue to Forest Avenue, and will provide the Telephone Company with an outlet on both streets.

The new two-story, air conditioned facilities, will be integrated with the existing structure and will include a warehouse with off the street parking. H. L. Long of Ft. Myers, who handles all of Inter-County's building Systemwide, has the building contract.

The Avon Park Exchange serves as Long Distance Center for some 20,000 telephones located in Highlands, Hardee, Polk and Okeechobee Counties, and presently employs more than 65 operators to provide Long Distance service on its 35 switchboard positions. The second floor of the new addition will be used for expansion of these facilities.

The telephone growth in the five county Northern District area comprising Arcadia, Avon Park, Bowling Green, Fort Meade, Lake Placid, Okeechobee, Sebring and Wauchula Exchanges has been steady over the last five years. Records show that total stations in the area served have increased from about 11,000 telephones in 1956 to 20,000 in 1961, for a gain of more than 82 per cent. Inter County officials anticipate a continuation of this growth and are making expansion plans accordingly.

The Avon Park Long Distance Center now has over 260 Long Distance circuits which handle over 5,700 calls per day and Company officials expect this figure to increase to over 6,200 during the coming year.

Inter-County provides service to more than 10,000 square miles in South Central and Southwest Florida. The Company currently has 26 Exchanges serving more than 62,150 telephones in its 13 county area, and employs almost 600 people.

Court House To Get New Phone System

[illegible]

The [illegible] concrete [illegible] be [illegible] able [illegible] officials indicated that bids may be awarded at a special meeting sometime before the regularly scheduled commissioners session on February 6.

The bids include prices for asphalt, hot and cold mixes, steel culverts, concrete pipe, lumber and rock of all sizes.

Only one bid was received for pre-stressed concrete, and that bid—from Ewell Pre-Stress Concrete Co. of Lakeland—was accepted.

New Phone System

At Tuesday's session of the county commission final okay was given to plans to install a new telephone system for the court house.

A contract was signed with Inter-County Telephone Co. for the installation of a private automatic branch exchange. The phone company had studied the phone habits and needs in each office and came up with suggestions for improving efficiency and saving money.

Officials to be served by the new switchboard attended the first part of Tuesday's commission meeting and aired their hopes, gripes, and questions about the new system.

Local manager for Inter-County Co., Robert Gay, and technical experts were present to participate in this part of the meeting.

County Judge Mervin Rehrer explained that he had opposed the system because many of the calls handled in the county and juvenile court offices are confidential in nature and callers are distrustful of switchboards.

Phone company people sought to re-assure the officials about the privacy of conversations. They explained that the "private automatic branch exchange" is so constructed that when the operator throws the switch to connect the in-coming call with the proper office, she is automatically dis-connected.

Operator "eveadropping" is thus impossible with this system, the technicians asserted.

Gay assured the commissioners that cost of the new phone system will be less than the present system of 13 separate private lines into the various county offices.

For the present the county school officers will not be included in the new system. Commissioners said the system contracted for can easily be expanded from five to ten lines and other offices added.

The commissioners adopted a resolution setting up a $200 petty cash fund for use by the welfare director. This is to serve as an emergency reserve for the director.

County Polio Free During Past 12 Months

"Highlands County was lucky in 1961; not one case of polio was reported in the county," Walter McGrath, Jr., said today. "When we are so lucky it is easy to forget how badly the March of Dimes still needs money," he continued.

McGrath, who is serving as the Highlands County chairman for the 1962 March of Dimes, pointed out that there are continuing obligations to the past victims of polio. "Perhaps even more important at this moment," he said, "is the need to march against even greater cripplers than polio."

He pointed out that through the March of Dimes, 1961, the citizens of Highlands County contributed $2,000 to research. The National Foundation, which is supported by the annual March of Dimes, is financing the vast research programs to find the causes and ways of preventing birth defects and arthritis.

"While Highlands County escaped the misery of polio last year," McGrath said, "we cannot say that no one in the county suffered from arthritis and that every family escaped the special kind of suffering which is associated with birth defects."

The National Foundation continues to offer financial assistance to past victims of polio. In this county, McGrath said, funds were available in 1961 to provide special shoes and braces for two children. Assistance also was given toward corrective surgery for another child.

A Step In The Right Direction

[illegible] Highlands County Science Fair [illegible] in connection with the county fair merits the following remarks:

It affords youngsters from throughout the county school system an opportunity to exploit their hobbies, theories, and knowledge, along with the principles which they have gathered from outstanding teaching.

It provides an outlet for students to show citizens of the community what they learn in the various science programs of our schools.

And, to many, it is the first stepping stone to a bright and prosperous future as engineers, scientists and teachers of tomorrow.

Highlands County is one of the few small counties in the State of Florida fortunate enough to have such a splendid display of ability and knowledge. Much of the credit for this science fair must go to the county science teachers. Once again, Highlands is a fortunate county to have the teaching talent available which it has.

The Avon Park Sun would urge all its readers to make a concentrated effort to visit the science fair, and then make an even more concentrated effort to encourage youngsters to aim now for another fair next year.

Certainly, The Highlands County Science Fair is a step in the right direction to a better future for our country.

Sebring Race To Host Three Championships

[illegible] the FIA [illegible] the first [illegible] is organized [illegible] of the [illegible] four of the [illegible] road racing [illegible] Le Mans, France, Sebring, Florida, Targa Florio, [illegible] Monza, Italy, known [illegible] "Challenge Mondial de Vitesse et d'Endurance" which gives the manufacturers of [illegible] racing cars an extended displacement of 400cc over the FIA restriction of 3000cc now [illegible] 1962 limits. This additional displacement opens the way for car manufacturers and designers to make use of the new smaller displacement built American engines.

With speeds already clocked at over 100 miles per hour for even the smallest of sports cars, this year's Sebring 12 Hour Grand Prix of Endurance Race should prove the fastest as well as the longest race in the history of United States road racing.

Vets Urged To Get Information From Fla. Office

Information concerning benefits administered by the Veterans Administration may be obtained much more quickly by writing or visiting the St. Petersburg VA Regional Office, rather than writing VA Central Office, Washington, D. C.

Specific requests for information concerning individual cases cannot be handled in Washington, Rufus H. Wilson, Manager of the VA Regional Office in St. Petersburg, pointed out. These must be supplied by the office where the records, files and case folders pertaining to the individual veteran are maintained.

All records of this type are kept in VA Regional Offices, and inquiries about particular problems must be referred to the Regional Office having jurisdiction over the records of the veteran concerned.

When veterans write their VA Regional Office for information, they should include their full name, complete address, birthdate and claim number (C Number), if they have one. This will identify the veteran and assist the VA in locating promptly papers and records sometimes needed in supplying answers to queries.

Soil News

By O. S. Polston

U. S. Soil Conservation Service

Students of Soil and Water Conservation Class from the University of Florida visited several ranch and grove operations in Highlands County last week. They were accompanied by Professor Rush Choates and Marstello Myers of the Ag. Eng. Department.

The group visited a tile job for drainage of citrus on Stokely-Van Camp grove near Avon Park, they visited a 600 acre pasture seepage irrigation system on the Hartt Ranch, a 600 acre overhead sprinkler system for grove using a reservoir for water on Consolidated Financial Corporation near Lake Placid, and the intricate drainage and irrigation systems, used for their farming operation. The Soil Conservation Service Engineers assisted these landowners in the design and layout of these water control systems.

This week the Highlands District assisted two cooperators in revising their ranch plans. George Cross of Lorida, 2700 acres and Marvin Kahn, Sebring, 1080 acres. Kahn is planning to develop the balance of his ranch. Cross is planning a major improvement program on his entire ranch. He is now preparing 300 acres of organic land in the Kissimmee River Marsh to plant Argentine bahia and clover.

Max Hoffman of the Lake Placid Sod Farm was assisted in developing a water control plan for regulating the water table on 640 acres that is being developed to Caladiumns, vegetables and sod grass, ornamentals and citrus.

Elkcam Farm of Lake Placid was assisted this week in the design of a water control system on 80 acres of organic land that is being developed to improved pasture of Argentine bahia and clover. Mr. Zolor, Farm Manager says they plan to increase their thoroughbred race horses in the Lake Placid area.

Steel pail makers have borrowed an idea from ladies' hose - seamless design. According to a manufacturer, one-piece stainless steel pails, with no hiding place for germs, are ideal for dairy, hospital and other uses.

Kelly Off and Running With Blast at Turnpike Program

TALLAHASSEE Sen Scott Kelly the road prober apparently has launched his 1964 campaign for governor with a [illegible] at the handling of the turnpike extension.

It seems to be a valid issue, but raises a puzzling question.

Where was Kelly during the last year that the turnpike extension plans have been discussed?

He was chairman of the Senate roads committee and could have explored the subject, but he didn't.

His road committee got a chance to do something about the two major points Kelly is now complaining about during the 1961 session.

Kelly says the turnpike deal will strangle free highways through secret deals.

He [illegible] the bond buyers are getting rich through the refinancing.

Interestingly enough Sen. Harry Kicliter, Fort Pierce, introduced two bills during the 1961 session to take care of those items.

Kelly's committee killed both bills, and there is no evidence that the killing was witnessed with any great dispair by Kelly.

Votes of Senate committees are not available to the public, but news stories of the committee meetings indicate Kelly either did not vote or voted against at least one of the Kicliter bills.

Committee chairman, however, can make the votes available, and so Kelly could produce the votes on the two bills to show how he is recorded.

From news stories and Senate records, we find the following:

On April 13, 1961, Sen. Kicliter introduced Senate Bill 226. It prohibited the refinancing of the turnpike.

On page 816 of the Senate Journal of May 4, 1961, it shows Kelly reporting the bill unfavorably.

News stories of May 3—the day the committee met—show the vote against the bill was 8 to 3 and lists Sens. G. T. Melton of Lake City, Wayne Ripley of Jacksonville and Luther Tucker of Crawfordville as the only ones voting for the bill.

A story on the meeting said:

Kicliter told the committee that the refinancing will extend the period of time needed to pay off the turnpike bonds."

"Under present financing, Kicliter said the turnpike bonds would be paid off in 14 years and we would have a freeway from Fort Pierce to Miami."

He also said that the refinancing of the turnpike could delay interstate highway construction on the Lower East Coast."

These are basically the same arguments Kelly is using, but the record indicates he did not vote for Kicliter's bill.

After that bill was killed, Kicliter introduced another bill (Senate Bill 860) on May 11.

It simply forbid the state or any of its agencies from making commitments which would delay or prevent work on any county, state or federal highway or bridge in connection with operation of turnpikes or other toll facilities.

The Senate Journal shows Kelly reporting the bill unfavorable on May 25 on Page 1536.

News stories do not reflect a vote, but one story said:

"The Senate Road Committee (Kelly's committee) today killed Sen. Harry Kicliter's bill to stop the state from making agreements which would hold up construction or improvements of competing freeways."

"Kicliter, of Fort Pierce, said he was afraid construction of limited access highways would be delayed down the East Coast if commitments were made to spread extension of the bobtail turnpike."

The stories again do not reflect any big pitch by Kelly for the bill.

It was suggested during the session that Kicliter's interest in the bills was motivated by the fact he has a service station at the end of the present bobtailed pike, which might suffer.

But Kicliter said this was not an issue, and he pointed out he was not trying to kill the pike extension, but merely keep the state from refinancing at huge costs or making commitments against free highways.

Embarrasing —

John F. Bilek was smugly demonstrating to a group of friends how easy it was to toenail a stud if you brace it against your neck to keep it from slipping sideways. He poked his head between the studs, pulled the loose end toward him, and whacked it smartly in place. "There," he said proudly and started to step back. He hadn't noticed that this particular stud was right next to a door frame. He had trapped his head between them and was peering out foolishly like a caged monkey. It was quite a while before the gang could stop laughing and set him free.

Whipped It —

Fred Bailey has a sure enough way to keep warm during these past cold days. Last Saturday morning when he found the thermometer way down, he remembered a pair of "long johns" that were packed away. "First time I've seen them in over five years," said Fred, "but they sure feel good to this ol' country boy now."

It'll Make You Laugh —

Bill and Marge Gilliam, of Bill's Corner Grocery, N. Highlands and Cornell, have one of the cleverest little gadgets you ever saw. It's a plywood sign that is in two parts. Costs only 98 cents and certainly gets the laughs when you lift the flap. Ask 'em to show you one!

You Can Have It —

Nelson Hager, a gasoline attendant on the Mall, says he didn't mind the cold weather as he has worked outdoors in -32 degree weather. "It was a dry cold and nobody seemed to suffer from it in Peterborough," said Nelson. Sounds alright but not to a native Floridian. You see, Nelson came from Peterborough, Ontario, and is an Ojibway Indian!

We Do Agree —

A few months ago a leading magazine published an article, "$40 Gadget Spots Police Radar", which really worked and was easy to build. Complaints by the score poured in to the publishers, condemning the article, not from police officers, but from the general public. One such letter in part—" . . . but it is an affront to the system under which we live. It's a mistake to give this free publicity to a device that allows people to defy our laws." Another wrote — "I doubt the worth of the device. Our state motor - vehicle laws provides that a warning sign must be placed between 750 and 1500 feet ahead of any radar on speed-timing device or the evidence will be judged incompetent. It seems to me that this renders radar useless, outwitting its purpose. I think the law is ridiculous." So do we!

Congregational Church Group To Meet Jan. 24

A noteworthy program is promised at the monthly meeting of the Woman's Fellowship of the Union Congregational Church to be held the evening of Wednesday, January 24 in Fellowship Hall. All men and women associated with the church are cordially invited.

At 8:00 p.m. pie and coffee will be served by the Covenant Circle, followed by a short humorous skit by members of the Evening Circle. The feature of the evening will be an address by Dr. John Whitney Mac Neil, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Sarasota on the subject, "The Dynamic Unity on Your Street."

Dr. Mac Neil has to his credit an imposing list of accomplishments which gives the Fellowship confidence in warmly greeting their guests. In addition to his pastorate he is one of the founders and a trustee of the recently established New College in Sarasota which has the distinction of being the first four-year college to be founded in the twentieth century by the Board of Home Missions of the Congregational Christian Churches. He is Chairman of the Department of Stewardship and Missions of the Florida State Conference. A native of Boston, Mass., Dr. Mac Neil is a graduate of Bowdoin College, Bangor Theological Seminary, and did advanced work at Columbia University and Union Theological Seminary. His Doctor of Divinity degree was awarded to him by Piedmont College in 1961.

Over eleven hundred persons had died on Florida highways at the end of last year. The economic loss was over $177 million dollars. What a price to pay for carelessness.

Growers Will Meet To Discuss Spreading Decline Problems

The second in a series of grower meetings called to discuss spreading decline and a buffer plan to contain the serious citrus ailment is scheduled for Tuesday, January 2[illegible] Sebring.

Highlands County [illegible] growers are invited to attend the meeting which begins at 7:30 p. m. and will be conducted at the Sebring High School Auditorium.

The first such gathering was held at Alturas in December and drew a turnout of 6[illegible] persons from the South Polk County area.

State and federal plant pest control officials will be present to explain the mechanics of the buffer program which has been proposed by the Florida Department of Agriculture's Division of Plant Industry for [illegible] of the burrowing nematode responsible for spreading decline. The decline [illegible] and the selling points of the buffer idea will be illustrated with color slides.

The buffer program has won approval generally from citrus growers familiar with the plan to encircle all known infesta[illegible] [illegible] of [illegible] an effort to slow the disease until some better method of control is [illegible] [illegible]. The buffer also will permit growers [illegible] retain diseased trees [illegible] as such trees [illegible] profits [illegible]

[illegible] Mr. Isaa[illegible] King of Oak Ridge, N. J. returned to his home on the Lakes last week. Mr. King's brother, William, is here for a visit.

Jean Bailey returned home last Sunday from a seven week trip to her former home in Kansas City, Mo. Jean enjoyed visiting with family and friends over the Holidays, but was happy to leave the snow and ice and cold weather. Returning with Jean for an indefinite visit are her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Burroughs.

Mr. Leonard Duncan has returned from Detroit, Mich. and would like to publicly thank his friends and neighbors of this community for their many deeds of kindess and sympathy to him and his family during the recent illness and death of his wife.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Benson last Tuesday and Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McClenathan and son from Marion, Ohio. The Clenathans are spending the winter in Eustis, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bennett spent Friday in Orlando, guests of Mrs. Fredonia Baker a former friend from Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bue spent several days in Miami, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Muir. The four made a trip to West Palm Beach. While there they visited Mr. and Mrs. Paul Conner of Hiram, Ohio who are wintering in West Palm Beach. After leaving the Conners they called on other friends from Owensboro, Ky. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scholl who are spending the winter at Delray Beach.

Recently plans for a reunion cookout in Avon Park were made by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Benson and 1 6 of their friends from Sarasota. After all had gathered at the meeting place, they found the weather much too cold to eat out. Mr. and Mrs. Benson graciously invited them all to come to their home for the day. All had a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fillmore, their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Skillings motored to St. Petersburg for a couple of days last week. On their return Mr. Skillings parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Skillings accompanied them to Weeki Wachee for the underwater show and back to Avon Lakes for a few days before returning to their home in Lubec, Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ryan spent Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bennett. Mr. Ryan is a cousin of Mrs. Bennett and Construction Engineer for the Phillips Oil Company in Tampa.

We wish to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Victor Garay from Brewster, N. Y. as new residents to our community and wish for them many happy years of retirement. The Garays had a rather unfortunate experience last week when their car was involved in an accident on U. S. 27 by a speeding car being persued by law enforcement officers. Although their car was quite badly damaged, they did not receive any serious injuries themselves.

Hope to see everyone out Thursday night for the covered dish supper at 6 p. m. at the club house. Hostesses are Pearl Castine, D. Stotts, E. Harp, J. Jameson and M. Benson.

Without ME YOU can do NOTHING

—so the vine said to the branches. Separated from the vine the branch became dead wood. We boast of our strength and the part we play but oh, how dependent on God we really are. The physical body must have goods we cannot get except they come from God... air, food, water, companionship and even wealth. It is all part of a living universe. By itself all of this would be dead wood. The Christian without Christ becomes fruitless... dead. The human is nothing apart from the divine. God not only created life, He also sustains it. Our health, strength, success are all God's gift. Better stop Mister, long enough to give Him credit. Without Him we can do nothing.

FPC Sets Up 19 Radiation Stations

Florida Power Corporation has taken steps to keep electric service "on the line" in case of nuclear fallout, it was announced today.

The utility has established 19, well-equipped radiological monitoring stations throughout its service system to determine nuclear radiation levels in case of war. The move, which involved training 74 employees in the use of radiation detection equipment, was prompted by recognition of the vital role played by electricity in America. These employees were trained to determine levels of radiation at which duties or necessary repair work might be performed safely for a specified time.

The stations are set up in division engineering offices, power plants and substation construction and maintenance shops.

Red Devil Cagers Even Slate With Squeeker Over Dragons

Avon Park's Red Devil cagers displayed a blistering finish Tuesday night to come from 10 points back in the last five minutes and down the Lake Placid Green Dragons, 58-57. Leonard Sullivan sank the winning bucket just before the buzzer sounded.

The Red Devils will enter the second half of the season with a 4-4 mark as they meet the Mulberry Panthers twice in a row playing here Friday night and then in Mulberry next Tuesday night. Tuesday night's game was moved up from February 16 to fill an open date on the Devils slate.

The Devils trailed 57-56 with 15 seconds left on the score clock and Lake Placid started freezing the ball. Lamon Money stopped the clock with a foul and Lake Placid's G. W. Rutland missed his free shot.

Seven seconds were left in the game as Jack Seims tied up the ball on the rebound and tipped it to Terry Oberle on the jump. Oberle flipped it out to DeWayne Lemler who relayed it down the court to Leonard Sullivan. Sullivan swished the ball through the hoop from the side to put the Devils ahead by one slim point and the bubber sounded ending the game before Lake Placid could get off another shot.

Avon Park trailed the Dragons 15-12 at the end of the first period, led 28-26 at the half and had dropped back to trail 41-38 at the third period break. Terry Oberle got hot for nine quick points in the final quarter to put Avon Park back in the game after they had dropped behind ten points.

Lamon Money, the game's high scorer with 24 points, was given plenty of assistance by Joe Jackson who flipped in 11 points and pulled in 11 rebounds before he fouled out early in the fourth quarter. Oberle grabbed nine rebounds and scored 11 points also. Jim Kelly scored 17 points for Lake Placid's high mark.

Avon Park made 68.4 per cent of their free shots while Lake Placid sank only 50 per cent.

Avon Park's "B" squad won their third game of the season by a score of 39-25. John Rhoades bucketed 14 points for the winners.

Devils Top Kathleen

The Avon Park five came from behind last Friday night to take a thrilling 58-56 win from Kathleen at the local gym.

The visiting Red Devils from Kathleen jumped off to a quick 11-3 lead but the Avon five switched to a full court press and closed the gap a little to trail only 16-11 at the end of the first quarter. At halftime Kathleen still led 32-26 but the Avon Devils got hot in the third period and took the lead moving ten points ahead at one point in that quarter. Kathleen recovered however and Avon Park led only 45-44 as the third period ended.

The fourth period was nip and tuck but the Avon quintet held their lead and with two minutes to play Avon Park led 58-52. Kathleen managed to sink two more shots from the floor before the final whistle sounded with the score 58-56.

Bobby Bates and Terry Oberle shared scoring honors for Avon Park with 15 points each. Oberle hit seven out of ten field goals and one free shot while Bates bucketed four floor shots and seven free shots. Joe Jackson played a terrific defensive game and accounted for 13 points as well and Leonard Sullivan rang up 11 counters for the local five.

The Polk County Red Devils hit 42.6 per cent of their floor shots and 59.3 per cent of their shots from the foul line while Avon Park was close behind percentage wise with 42.3 per cent on field goals and 53.8 on free shots.

Kathleen's "B" squad blasted the Avon Park jayvees 63-22 in the preliminary game to give the junior varsity boys a 2-5 record.

Biggs Installed As President Of Realtors

Officers of the Avon Park Board of Realtors installed at the 10th District Installation Banquet held in Zephyrhills January 8, are Hubbard K. Biggs, president; Robert R. King, vice president; Ted J. Ward, secretary and treasurer.

For the past three years the 10th District's local boards have been having joint installation ceremonies so the state president could attend the installation.

James O. Buck of Jacksonville, 1962 president of the Florida Association of Realtors, in his message to the group, urged the Boards to try and do a better job of educating the public to the difference between a realtor and a broker. Only members of the State Association and the National Association of Real Estate Boards may use the copyright term of "Realtor".

The president commended Avon Park on the large number of Realtors serving on some of the twenty committees of the State Association. Ted J. Ward is chairman of the Rules and By-laws Committee; Robert R. King, Jr., is a member of the Membership Committee and Biggs is a member of the Professional Standards and Vigilance Committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Biggs were the only representatives from Avon Park who attended the banquet in Zephyrhills.

Children should be seen and not hurt, safety men say. However, kids hold a good sized hunk of safety stake, too. They must observe good walking practices.

Stetson Law School Offering Many Built-In Advantages

Young people interested in law as a profession have a built-in advantage if they attend Stetson University, according to University officials.

That is because the institution offers both pre-legal and professional training—undergraduate studies are taken on the DeLand campus and advanced work leading to a Bachelor of Laws degree on the campus of the College of Law at St. Petersburg.

Under Stetson's combined degree program, it is possible for a law student to obtain two degrees simultaneously. When he receives his LL.B degree, a graduate may also receive a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree provided he has put in a year of residence in DeLand and completed work successfully in either the College of Liberal Arts or the School of Business.

No pre-legal major is required for admission to Stetson's College of Law. There are suggested areas of study which might prove helpful, however.

Pre-law students in DeLand should place emphasis on English and American literature, history, psychology, logic and ethics, political science, economics, government, accounting, mathematics, sociology, languages, and laboratory science. Since an LL.B. degree is applicable to many professions, fields of study are suggested only. The background for law students must be as broad as the professions they enter.

The Law College is also interested in evidence of rapid reading with comprehension, logical thinking, communication of thinking, and aptitude for law.

Students for the Stetson College of Law are drawn primarily from two sources. Applicants with a senior classification, who have completed their first three years satisfactorily at Stetson or at a similar accredited institution, are eligible. Also eligible are those who hold baccalaureate degrees from Stetson or from any accredited college.

The Stetson Law College, Florida's oldest, also requires the Law School admission test. This test, administered by the Educational Testing Service, attempts to measure aptitude for law study. For further information, applicants should write to E.T.S., 20 Nassau Street, Princeton, New Jersey.

The advantages of taking law work on Stetson's St. Petersburg campus are similar to those of taking one's undergraduate work at Stetson's DeLand campus. A student receives personal attention in regard to his mental and moral health from an outstanding faculty.

Furthermore, during his years of specialization, a student is able to live on a quiet campus devoted exclusively to training for the legal profession, whereas the conventional law school is still only one of a group of schools on a large university campus.

The Stetson Law College has adopted an English point of view in regard to training young barristers. The older, more experienced lawyer takes the pupil as his "apprentice"—theory and practical experience are thus gained from highly qualified men.

The College of Law also has several other advantages. A modern, air-conditioned and well-equipped library is one of the newest additions to the West coast campus. A swimming pool on the grounds, an adjacent golf course, and the nearby beaches on the Gulf of Mexico offer pleasant occasional diversions for the diligent student.

Those interested in obtaining more information can pick up a College of Law Bulletin in the Admissions Office on the DeLand campus or from Mrs. Kay Eddy, registrar on the St. Petersburg campus.

Horse Owners Warned Against Blind Staggers

JACKSONVILLE—The State Board of Health today urged horse owners to have their animals inoculated immediately against eastern equine encephalomyelities. The disease is also called blind staggers in horses; sleeping sickness in man.

Dr. James E. Scatterday, Director of the Division of Veterinary Public Health, said January and February are the best months for inoculation because the time is just prior to the breeding time of mosquitoes which carry the disease from bird to bird, sometimes to a horse and occasionally to man. The disease normally subsides in colder months.

Dr. Scatterday said inoculation of horses will prevent the disease which usually is fatal if contracted by a horse. He said the same disease is rare in man but frequently is fatal and almost certainly disabling.

Unfortunately, he said, there is no immunization for man. Man's best protection is a campaign such as the Board of Health maintains in continued control and eradication of mosquitoes.

Last year there were 38 cases of equine encephalomyelitis reported in horses; none among humans. The disease causes inflammation of the brain and spinal cord.

A method now used to form steel is to place the piece to be formed over a die of the desired shape, submerge it in water, then set off an explosive charge in the water above it. Water transmits the force of the explosive to the steel, pushing it against the die and thus shaping it.

Home Nursing Operators Are Urged "Go Slow"

JACKSONVILLE—The State Board of Health, noting a tremendous rise in nursing home projects, warned today that many would-be operators face financial difficulties because of their ignorance of the law.

Dr. Simon D. Doff, Director of the Board's Bureau of Special Health Services, said "Construction of new facilities and conversion of old buildings for use as nursing homes and homes for the aged has assumed explosive proportions in Florida.

"As an investment many persons are going into the nursing home business. The bureau reviewed 70 per cent more plans in 1960 than in 1959 and 150 per cent more in 1961 than in 1960.

"Unfortunately a great many prospective owners and operators are unaware that Florida has a law which requires the licensing of these homes by the Board. Such facilities must meet minimum standards relating to construction, equipment, staffing and other factors which affect the health and safety of the aged and infirm. State and local codes for building, zoning, fire, sanitation, plumbing and electrical installation must be complied with.

"All persons interested in operating a nursing home are urged to inform themselves of the law and the rules and regulations before making any investments or commitments concerning property which may prove to be unlicensable or licensable only after large sums of money are spent for renovations.

"Many persons have bought old homes, motels and hotels with the intention of going into the nursing home business only to learn too late that they can't be used for this purpose without extensive structural changes. Information can be obtained from county health departments and from the State Board of Health.

"To a lesser extent a similar situation exists in connection with hospitals which are also licensed by the board under state law."

Angus Bull Sale Set For Bartow Jan. 19

BARTOW—The Florida Angus Association will hold its second Invitational Bull Sale January 19 at the Bartow Livestock Pavilion. Featuring 100 select range and show bulls from the herds of 15 top regional purebred Angus breeders, the consignment will include the grand champion of the 1961 Florida State Fair.

The bulls will be graded by a three man committee which includes Louis Gilbreath of Camp Ranch, Ocala, president of the Florida Cattlemen's Association and a commercial cattleman; B. Edmund David of Winter Haven, a purebred breeder; and Don Wakeman of the University of Florida. The grading is set for 1:00 p. m. on Thursday, January 18.

"All entries will have been carefully inspected prior to their acceptance into the same, and a veterinarian will be on hand during the sale for any assistance he can render to buyers," reports Leonard Balaban of Bonifay, chairman of the sale committee. Other committee members are B. Edmund David of Winter Haven and Charles Moore of Dundee Ranch, Lutz.

Balaban said a "Get-Acquainted" dutch treat dinner is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. on Thursday at Chartrand's Restaurant in Bartow for all persons who would care to attend.

The top graded bulls will be eligible to compete in the Invitational Show which is slated to be held on Friday at 10:00 a. m. The Invitational Sale will follow at 12 noon with Paul Good of Van Wert, Ohio, as auctioneer.

FLORIDA
DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

We'll be reading a lot in coming months about the "Common Market" and the tariff policy of the U. S. in relation to this powerful giant on the other side of the Atlantic-European Economic Community (EEC).

The administration will be seeking legislation giving the President authority to reduce tariffs "across the board" in any percentage necessary to maintain an advantageous trade position in an increasingly competitive world.

In other words, "enabling legislation" will be sought so action can be taken to reduce tariffs when it is believed necessary to protect and advance the national interest. American agriculture has a big stake in the outcome. The U. S. sells 2 BILLION dollars a year of agricultural products in Europe, but imports from Western Europe only 80 million dollars worth. That's a highly favorable balance of trade for the American farmer.

I believe we still need in Florida an "enabling law" to protect and advance the interest of our farmers in the Sunshine State. The time is near when more of our agricultural producers will find it necessary to take new steps to establish and maintain orderly marketing of their products, at fair prices to the consumer and with an equitable return to the producer.

Failure to obtain passage of an agricultural enabling law by the 1961 Legislature was due, I believe, to lack of understanding by its opponents of what such legislation can be expected to do for our farmers.

In the first place, the kind of enabling law I visualize would not of itself impose any control, regulation or limitation of any kind on any farmer. It would merely open the legislative door to permit any grower group to vote itself under a marketing order which, when adopted, would be supervised by a committee of growers with the Department of Agriculture.

Such a law would leave it up to each individual group to decide if it wants control of its product and how much and what kind of control is needed. Any move to take advantage of the law would be entirely voluntary.

The role of the Department would be one of assistance to the producers. That they will look to us for assistance is a foregone conclusion. We are here to serve them in any way we can within the limits of laws that have been enacted. And because we recognize the fact they will be needing more assistance in the field of marketing as time goes on, our Division of Marketing is being developed as quickly as possible.

Objectives of the Division will be along two basic lines: (1) market services and (2) market promotion and advertising. The Division presently is composed of five sections: (1) Market Development; (2) Marketing Bureau; (3) General License and Bonding (other than citrus); (4) State Farmers Markets; (5) Crop and Livestock Reporting.

The need for more marketing assistance to our farmers has become increasingly apparent in recent years. Our marketing system has become more and more complex. The days of simple, direct dealings between the farmer and the consumer are gone forever.

Farming has become big business and highly specialized. The modern farmer sells to a local buyer then loses contact with his product. It may be resold a dozen times as it passes through today's channels of distribution before it reaches the housewife's market basket.

When today's farmer feels his product is not giving him the return he expects, it's time for him to get some good, hard, reliable information about his market prospects. We plan to have that information available through our Division of Marketing. To use that information to his advantage however, it may be necessary for the farmer and all his fellow producers to act in concert if they wish to improve their economic situation.

An agricultural enabling law will make it possible for him to do just that—and to utilize the expert and experienced personnel of the Department to see that his plans and wishes are carried out.

In the meantime, I believe we must be sure that any new laws we adopt, and any marketing programs we plan, do not stifle competition or growth, but rather foster and protect them while at the same time promoting the efficiency and progress of Florida's agriculture.

In 1960, 38.9 cents of each sales dollar in the American steel industry went to pay employment costs. Another 42.3 cents was spent for materials and supplies. Net income after bills were paid amounted to 5.7 cents.

Shuffleboard appears to be the chief interest of almost everybody round here. The courts are pretty well filled about every day. They would be filled every day were it not for old man Boreas, who persists now and then in driving some folks inside the house to sit by the fire and have a hand at rummy, seven up, pinochle, or some other indoor sport. But always there are some who are still rugged enough to play the mame in spite of wind and falling temperature.

The Inter State League tournament have begun though as yet not to the glory of Avon Park. On the 2nd day of January the first game scheduled with Sebring took place. Avon Park players did their darndest, but the Sebringites did a little darnder and so ran away with the bacon, so to speak, score being 10 to 6 in favor of the latter. But wait a while. We may have a different story to tell by and by. How about a little positive thinking? A certain well known Clergyman has declared in print that positive thinking is a great help in times of stress. It might work.

The usual weekly tournaments went off as scheduled. The weather was propitious at the right time for them. The Wednesday tournament ended with O. Gibson and D. Keiter as victors in the main event, E. Heath and Roy Girten winning the consolation. In the Saturday afternoon games Grace Warner and L. Stettin led at the close with Mr. and Mrs. Spinks close behind to take the other event.

The bridge and pinochle games go on weekly, quite oblivious to the weather, except that inclement weather at times brings more to the tables. On January 9, with 8 tables in play, the winners were Ann Duffy 5800, Delight Jones 5710, and Fred Noel 5020. That by the way was bridge. The pinochlers on Monday the 8th fought over 7 tables, with John Nuber highest scorer, C. Bynner next in line.

A belated item concerning shuffleboard. It appears that John Floyd and Orin Mast journeyed to Lakeland the other day to try their luck on the Woodall courts there. They came away with the consolation prize. Worth how much? We haven't heard. Some less than a million we guess.

The pot-luck supper on the 13th drew a total of 60 hungry souls, who did full justice to a lucious and bounteous meal. Fred Ifland pronounced the blessing, after which all fell to with a right good will. Then followed a roll call of the States, which gave New York and Michigan the high score of 12 each. Mr. Fred Groiler spoke interestingly about the beauty spots of New York, and Mr. Hoppe gave more testimony about the same. Then followed Mr. and Mrs. Scott telling of the agricultural products and industries of their home State of Missouri. Everybody seemed to have a right good time round the festive board and vowed they would surely be on hand again next Saturday.

There was a good bit of singing on Sunday afternoon. There were 123 people on hand, representing 12 different denominations. Besides the general singing Mr. Fred Ifland sang "How Great Thou Art", Cal Starrett played two fine numbers on his musical harmonica, the men's chorus sang feelingly "The Way of the Cross Leads Home", and finally everybody stood to sing Happy Birthday for the benefit of Mrs. Nancy Curtis of Tennessee. And on that happy note let us close this report, says

Woman's Club Luncheon Held At Jacaranda Last Thursday

A hundred women attended the annual luncheon at the Jacaranda Hotel Thursday, when the Avon Park Woman's Club had as their guest speaker, Mrs. J. R. Glover of Lakeland, who is being sponsored by the Woman's Club of Lakeland for the office of President of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs. Her timely message entitled, "Accepting Responsibility", was a challange to women to take an interest in the large issues of the world, help to meet the needs of the local community to live and to grow, and not just live to entertain oneself.

Mrs. Samuel O. Norris, program chairman, presented Mrs. Glover, after the chaplain, Mrs. Frank Edwards had given a devotional and led in the salute to the American Flag, following the singing of the National Anthem. Mrs. Edward's message was on New Year's enventory.

Dr. Ruth Phillips, who is chairman of international affairs, centered her brief talk on the president's state of the union message to the 87th Congress, and on some of the vital issues facing the nation today. She urged women to write their senators, expressing their views on these important issues.

Presiding during the business session was Mrs. S. F. Elkhill, president of the club. Mrs. B. Frank Camp, Jr., president of the Junior Club, was a guest at the luncheon. Mrs. Frank Thieroff, chairman of the library committee, reported a circulation of 19,651 books which is the largest in the history of the library. She expressed appreciation for a recent $300 memorial donation, and urged all club women to join the library by paying $1 and also to read more books.

The date for the annual Library Silver Tea will be Friday, February 9, at the home of Mrs. E. G. Todd on Lake Lotela, from 3 to 6 p. m. Proceeds will go towards the support of the library.

The secretary, Mrs. George Adams, read a letter written by the Executive Board to the Avon Park Mayor, E. A. DeLaney, asking him to call a meeting of the heads of all of the civic clubs and organizations of the city for the purpose of discussing the possibility of a city civic center or auditorium which would accommodate the needs of the various organizations of the city.

Ticker Talk

Have you heard that . . .

- With a production increase from 109,000 barrels per day in 1956 to about 160,000 barrels per day in 1961, Atlantic Refining Company has improved its crude oil self-sufficiency from 53 per cent to more than 80 per cent. A year from now, with facilities for greater production in Lake Maracaibo, Venezuela, and with a contract already operating for sale of higher production, management is budgeting for a net production that will exceed 90 per cent of the volume of its refinery throughput. Herein lies a good measure of Atlantic Refining's recently enlarged earnings base, which has carried common share earnings over the $5 level, and is reflected in the recent increase in the quarterly dividend rate to 60c from 50c previously.
- In 1961 sales of American Steel Foundries to other than railroad customers accounted for 44 per cent of volume whereas immediately after World War II less than 10 per cent of sales were made outside the railroad field. Since development of its Controlled Pressure Pouring process in 1953, ASF has become the major manufacturer of steel wheels for freight cars. Last August, the company commenced operations in its fourth steel wheel plant in the U. S. located in the Chicago area at Bensenville. In effect, it has already practically completed its conversion from iron to steel wheels.
- With combined telephone revenues (a record $520 million) and manufacturing sales (about $700 million) anticipated to reach an all-time high, General Telephone & Electronics Corp. expects its consolidated net income for 1961 to total about $70 million, or almost $1 per common share on the 70.6 million average number of shares outstanding during the year vs. $1.04 on 1.6 million fewer average shares outstanding in 1960. For 1962, management anticipates over a 10 per cent increase in net income from telephone operations and about a 12 per cent gain from manufacturing. On this tentative basis, earnings per common share are projected at about $1.10.

Like its principal competitor, General Telephone places major emphasis on scientific research and development. Its 35 laboratories are staffed by 3,600 scientists and engineers, and the projects in which they are engaged represent the expenditure of more than $30 million annually. This is entirely apart from the $80 million or more in research and development work it performs for the Government.

- On a 3000-acre site in the Bayou Casotte industrial area near Pascagoula, Miss., Standard Oil Company of Kentucky (a division of Standard Oil of California) has started building a refinery with a capacity of 100,000 barrels a day. It will represent a capital investment of $125 million. Operation is scheduled to begin in the summer of 1963. Power requirements, estimated at 135 million kwh. annually, will be supplied by Mississippi Power Co., one of five utility operating subsidiaries of The Southern Company. Establishment of this large installation is expected to attract related petro-chemical industries to the Bayou Casotte area, which affords shipside sites for ocean-going vessels and ample rail and highway facilities.

Bride Honored With Shower

Mrs. T. R. Douberly, the former Miss Alice Hollingsworth, was honored Thursday night with a miscellaneous shower in Wesley Hall. Hostesses were Mrs. Virgil Tondee, Mrs. R. A. Carver, Mrs. Wiley Cothran, Mrs. W. M. Renfro and Mrs. W. P. O'Steen.

The new bride was lovely in a yellow wool sheath and her hostesses presented her with a corsage of red camellias. She received a wide assortment of gifts for her new home, including much of her chosen patterns of silver and china.

The guests enjoyed appropriate games for the occasion. Mrs. Tondee made a toast to the bride and presented her with a rolling pin.

The refreshment table was overlaid with white linen. Fresh orange juice was served from the punch bowl. Dainty cake squares bore tiny yellow rosebuds with green leaves. These were served with the punch and nuts and mints were also on the table.

A method now used to form steel is to place the piece to be formed over a die of the desired shape, submerge it in water, then set off an explosive charge in the water above it. Water transmits the force of the explosive to the steel, pushing it against the die and thus shaping it.

First Fatality In Highlands

A 58-year old painter from Ft. Pierce became Highlands County's first traffic fatality last Friday when his automobile overturned nine miles south of Sebring on U. S. 27.

John Brandt, who was enroute to a job at Lake Placid, was pronounced dead on arrival at Walker Memorial Hospital. Brandt was thrown 75 feet from the wreckage, according to State Trooper D. D. Caudy, who investigated the accident.

"Bloody 27" as the highway has become known, claimed 15 lives via auto mishaps last year.

County Fair Community Booth Title Reclaimed by Lake Placid

Lake Placid was up to her old tricks again this week as she walked off with the Blue Ribbon in the community booth competition at the Highlands County Fair.

The win was number 11 in a 12-year period for the southern Highlands city. Only time during the span when the booth did not win was last year when it placed second behind Sebring.

Sebring took the runnerup Red Ribbon this year and Lorida placed third for the White bunting. Avon Park was fourth.

The Lake Placid booth emphasized their tourist attraction, Placid Tower, and surrounded it with agricultural products grown in the area. Included in the array was citrus, pineapples, caladiums, and vegetables. The booth was sponsored by the Lake Placid Lions Club.

Accent of the Sebring booth was placed on citrus production in the area, as well as the increasing flower producing asset of the county seat community. The industrial site at Sebring Air Terminal was also spotlighted. The Sebring JayCees sponsored the booth.

Lorida's theme was slanted toward homemade aritcles, which included bed spreads, quilts, and numerous home sewn items of wearing apparel. Egg production and cattle ranching of the area was also featured by the exhibit which was sponsored by the Lorida First Baptist Church.

The JayCees sponsored the Avon Park booth and worked around a theme of the "City With The Mile-Long Mall". Citrus production of the area was emphasized as was the many articles which are produced at the Avon Park Correctional Institute. The city's recent climb in building permits was also spotlighted, as encouragement for prospective homeowners. Items manufactured at Hosecrafters, Inc., were also featured.

JayCee Week Slated By Gov. Farris Bryant

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 13, 1962—Governor Farris Bryant today proclaimed January 20-27 as "Junior Chamber of Commerce Week" in Florida and asked all state and local organizations to cooperate in the observance.

He said the purpose of the week is to focus attention on young men and the work they are doing, and emphasize that the Florida Jaycees have done an outstanding job in the fields of community development, youth work, traffic safety, and leadership training.

During Jaycee Week observance in Florida, the U. S. Jaycees will be recognizing America's Ten Outstanding Young Men of 1961 in Santa Monica, California, with national Jaycee President Bob Conger making the presentations.

The week celebrates the founding of the Junior Chamber in 1915, when Henry Giessenbier saw a need for a young men's civic group and organized the first chapter, according to state Jaycee Week Chairman Bill Gunter of Orlando.

The Florida Jaycees, over 7,000 strong, have local clubs in more than 100 cities throughout the state. State headquarters for the organization is located in Lakeland.

Baptist YWA's Plan Banquet

At their bi-monthly meeting last Monday the YMA counselor brought forth the idea of a banquet to the YWA's. The idea was unanimously approved. Plans for the party will be made by the Baptist WMU's.

The YWA program Monday was based on the 30,000 movement started in 1956. The movement led to the placing of Baptist churches in foreign countries all over the world. The latest figures reveal that 4,175 churches have been organized and 8,621 missions have been started, bringing the grand total to 12,796.

Attending the meeting were seven members and the counselor. Participating on the program were Diane Landress, Janice Mills, Joyce Antley, Carol Sellars, Vickie Harrison, Marilyn Cook and Cheryl Guerndt.

The second trial of Grady Pate has been postponed. Originally scheduled for re-trial in this month, the Pate case was continued.

Pate, formerly superintendent of Sebring Packing Co., has been charged with theft of fruit from the packing company. He was tried early in December, but the jury was unable to agree.

No new date was set when the continuance was granted in Circuit Court on Tuesday.

Trustees Meet And Reorganize

The organization meeting of the Highlands County School trustees was held Tuesday night at the Court House. The meeting was the first for newly elected trustee Malcolm Watters of Sebring. He succeeded Dr. W. S. Coon, who declined to seek another term.

King Refuses Job As Head Of City Council

Border Also Declines Chair Monday Night

The Avon Park City Council still has no "permanent" chairman. A move to name one Monday night fell flat, as nominees declined the position.

Acting President Mannin Kirkland followed the suggestion of Councilman George Border to open the floor for nominations for a chairman. Border nominated Clarence King, citing the former board chairman's past experience as the basis for the move. (King served as chairman until the council reorganized in November, but was ousted in favor of Roland Dilly, who has since resigned due to an out of town position).

King thanked Border for his confidence, but refused to accept the chair again. He then put the name of Border up for chairman, but Border likewise declined, stating he had the opportunity before, but declined then also.

So, Kirkland remains acting chairman and the city council still has no permanent leader. The permanent vice chairman is H. M. (Chick) Farless. Theoretically no chairman or vice chairman is permanent, since a vote of three council members can unseat either office holder at any time.

Other business transacted by [illegible] Monday:

Webster will make payment of a $500 binder and should he not make use of the property, it and the binder will revert to the city.

Webster plans to move his operations from the Sebring Air Terminal to the site here. He was not available to make a decision when the move would take place. Webster was the brains behind what is now the Webster Corporation, one of the largest irrigation pipe manufactures in the South. He has since broken relations with the firm.

The group voted to earmark the anticipated $5,000 from the sale of Kings Court property for construction of additional bleachers and a press box at [illegible] Baseball Field, site of the Florida High School Baseball Tournament each June.

Took under advisement bids on fire hose for the city's new truck which is expected to be delivered in the near future.

Betty Hughes of Sebring Is Chosen County Fair Queen

Brunette and beautiful, Betty Hughes of Sebring is the new Queen of the Highlands County Fair. She ascended the throne Friday night after three judges picked her from a field of 28 contestants—ten of which were in the finals.

Queen Betty was crowned by the retiring queen, Mrs. Wallace Kirkland, the former Margaret Hagen of Avon Park.

The new queen, standing five foot five, is 19 years old and was sponsored by her employer, Radio Station WJCM, Sebring. She came to Sebring seven months ago from Ozark, Ala.

A large crowd was on hand at the fair ground stage as the new queen and her four-member court were announced by master of ceremonies Haywood Taylor.

The four runners-up and their sponsors:

First—Beverly Carroll, Sebring, I.G.A. Store; Second—Ingrid McMasters, Avon Park, Albritton's Barber Shop; Third—Patsy Elder, Avon Park, Touchton Drug Co.; Fourth—Linda Kay Patterson, Sebring, Tropical State Bank.

The other five finalists: Beth Church and Lois Ann Thompson, Avon Park; Marsha Christian and Mary Alice Gwin, Lake Placid.

The queen received a check for $75 and the court received checks in lesser amounts. The royalty will reign until another queen is selected at next year's fair. The annual event is sponsored by the Sebring Firemen's Auxiliary in cooperation with the Highlands County Fair Association.

Construction Report Due On Ridge Area School Monday Night

The Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children will meet Monday, January 29, 7:30 p. m. at the Ridge Area Day School, King's Court, Avon Park. Of primary importance will be the report on construction of the new school building at West Charles and North Byrd Ave. Construction there is currently entering its final phase with expected completion date of February 10.

The school, designed by local architect James A. Heim, is being constructed by Sebring Builder, Kenneth Grubb. Both Heim and Grubb are donating their services. In addition, many of the suppliers are providing materials and services at cost or at reduced rates.

Total cost of the school will run approximately $22,000, but the building is conservatively valued at $30,000. The building will consist of three classrooms and principal's office. Two of the classrooms will be used by the Highlands County Board of Public Instruction in providing training for youngsters of six through 16. The other room will house the new pre-school and nursery program to be financed and operated by the Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children.

A report will be made to the group on the results of the fund drive conducted during November and December. "We are still a bit short of our goal," stated Mrs. Franklyn Ward, President of the RAARC, "but we are still hoping that some of our faithful donors of past years will remember to send in their contributions during January and thus help us to make our goal."

The Medical Auxiliary of the Highlands County Medical Association advised Mrs. Ward this past week of their intent to purchase specialized equipment to be used in speech therapy at the new school and will also underwrite the cost of obtaining professional therapy for one child. It is hoped that other civic organizations will follow their lead.

The RAARC recently announced the opening of a position as Director of the Ridge Area Nursery Program. The Rev. Tom Jones, Sebring, is Chairman of the School Committee and will interview applicants. Rev. Jones announced this week that several applications had already been received. Any persons with the necessary qualifications can obtain further information by writing Rev. Jones, 205 Poinsettia Ave., Sebring, or contacting Mrs. Franklyn Ward, Avon Park.

County Schools Hit By "Flu"

Although attendance appears to be on the upturn, many Highlands County students are still confined to their homes this week following a heavy seige of influenza in the area.

County School Superintendent Andy Miracle told The Sun early this week that 2,586 students were absent during last week for one or more days. The total enrollment in the county is 5,101.

Schools here felt the brunt of the outbreak as 1,233 students out of a possible 1,850 were absent during the week. A total of 585 students were missing from county classrooms on Monday of this week, but by Wednesday a slight improvement was noted according to Miracle.

A similar outbreak of the "bug" in Polk County was reported two weeks ago when over 5,000 students were confined with the flu.

Station WAVP Up For Sale?

The Sun learned this week from authoritative sources that a contract for the sale of Radio Station WAVP was in the making. According to the reports, persons with an interest in Sebring Station WSEB were attempting to purchase the station.

Reports also indicated that before a final decision could be made, the deal would have to be approved by the Federal Communications Commission.

WAVP is managed by Royal Coats and operates out of the Jacaranda Hotel. Coats also manages the hotel.

Traffic Count Not Available

The State Road Department notified the Avon Park City Council Monday night that the recent traffic survey at the West End of the Mall and U. S. Highway 27-98 is completed, but is not available for release.

According to SRD officials an analysis must be made of the survey before a decision can be made on whether the site requires a traffic light or not. The letter said the report would be made available as soon as possible.

Read was the driver of a car that crashed into the rear of car driven by Albert Shepherd on October 7. The accident occurred just inside the South Avon Park city limits. For the first time in history, all three groups will meet on March 28 for a joint meeting, Rehrer said.

Rehrer was instrumental in bringing a steering committee here last Fall to inspect the Pinecrest facilities and as a result they chose the Highlands County site. As host for the convention, Rehrer has scheduled a meeting of the convention committee for February 2, when final plans will be formulated.

The conferences will bring benchmen from all over the state to the county, according to Rehrer, who expressed his pleasure at the willingness of local groups who are assisting in hosting the three groups.

Plans are also underway for a similar convention to be held in Sebring in the future, Rehrer told The Sun.

Efforts To Verify Story Unsuccessful

[illegible]

[illegible] The S[illegible] local groups.

I. I. Wa[illegible] state superintendent of the Avon Park Correctional Institute at the Bombing Range was questioned on the issue and said he knew of no such plans for putting the base into operation.

Wainwright said the State Penal Institution signed a five-year lease with the Air Force on December 12 for use of facilities presentely occupied by the prison. This includes about 800 acres.

Maintenance of utility lines and the fire department has also been turned over to the prison according to Wainwright. The prison superintendent said however, that the lease with the Air Force is revokable on 24-hour notice in the event of emergency.

It is a known fact that present prison facilities could accomodate over 600 men due to the advanced program of rehabilitating barracks and other buildings located at the range.

Florida Power Corporation officials were contacted and they likewise expressed surprise over the rumors, stating they knew of no plan for increased consumption of power. The utility company serves both the Avon Park Bombing Range and has recently completed a program of ~~updating service~~ to Hendrick's Field. Florida Power purchased the distribution system at the airbase from the City of Sebring last year.

Officials of Inter-County Telephone Company were consulted and again The Sun drew a blank. Only commitment that the phone company would make was that certain improvements were underway in the system at the base. The official went further however, by saying "that we are making improvements daily over our entire system".

Major C. T. Hooten, Air Force officer in charge of the Avon Park Bombing Range gave a reply similar to the other groups questioned. He said that to his knowledge, nothing is being planned for the range, other than small projects similar to those held at the range last Summer by the Navy. These projects last only one or two weeks, Hooten said.

Hooten said the annual Florida National Guard training exercises at the range will begin in February, but these have been held for several years during the Spring and Summer and are not considered new.

All three cases grow out of auto accidents on U. S. 27.

Men called for jury duty next week are Oscar Bryant Farmer, W. M. Strength, Carl Allison Woodham, John G. Shivers, Homer H. Shepherd, Ollie P. Gentry, David Earl Shelton, Leroy Brock, J. W. Vickery, W. E. Kelley all of Avon Park.

[illegible] the Avon Park Booth was [illegible] presented. It's even more pos- [illegible] that it wasn't the worst presented. [illegible] as to the meat of this column.

Fairs in the beginning were primarily used to exploit agricultural products and by-products. As a result this train of thought has continued for generations. "The county fair is where you see the best in livestock and agricultural products."

The fact that this is true is evidenced by the judges of county fairs. By and large, they come from agricultural related positions such as county agents, home demonstration agents, etc.

Since the Avon Park area does not excell in agricultural products, except citrus, it is well to concede the fact that the booth has little chance of taking the blue ribbon. The fact remains however, that the Avon Park JayCees, along with a number of their wives did a splendid job with what they had, to exploit the "City With the Mile Long Mall."

The booth was much improved over that of a year ago, and although praise is sometimes little reward for a lot of back ache, we would commend the club for their civic pride and the fine job which they did.

Win or lose, if continued efforts such as this abound in the area, we'll be right up at the top ribbin' elbows with all the other communities in Highlands County—The Best County In Florida.

[illegible] from factories turning [illegible] durable goods, as represented by new orders booked, has been in a sustained rise [illegible] the curve touched its [illegible] bottom last January.

By the fourth quarter, new orders were above $16 billion a month on a seasonally adjusted basis, the best sustained rate ever recorded.

And orders went up faster than goods could be made and shipped (even though finished inventory could be tapped in some instances to help meet demand). Now, though the value of shipments is pushing $16 billion a month, it still hasn't caught up with the order book.

—o—

Much activity in the durable goods industries has been fed by defense orders and the upturn in business spending on equipment (though the latter has a good way still to go to equal the 1957 high).

Lately, however, the consumer has given clear evidence that his interest in hard goods isn't dead.

Retail sales in the fourth quarter snapped out of their earlier rut—and the backbone of the rise was consumers' durables. Spending at retail, by yearend, was at an annual rate close to $230 billion.

Moreover, the rate of rise in personal income bids fair to sustain sales at these or even higher levels, promising new records in 1962.

—o—

Business spending for inventory is sure to taper off after midyear. So the question mark for late 1962 becomes the rate of investment in new plant and equipment to back up consumers in support of the economy.

Clearly the scope of the recent rise in demand on factories will be pressing operating rates in many industries toward optimum levels.

That's the first requirement for stimulating capital outlays. The next requisite is money. Beyond the steadily rising flow of funds from depreciation, many experts feel that corporate profits in the first half of next year will be above $25 billion after taxes.

This puts capital outlays for 1962 within reach of the 1957 peak of $37½ billion.

Trooper Bill says...

DON'T PASS on a hill or on a curve. One sure-fire way of getting into an accident is to pass a car on a hill or on a curve. In Florida, as elsewhere, some drivers will take a chance that another car is not coming over the hill or around the curve in the opposite direction. And that's when two and three-car collisions take place. You should never try to pass another car when you can't see a clear road far enough ahead to pass easily.

Jim Haley Back In Washington; Makes First Report of Session

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The second session of the 87th Congress has convened, along with my colleagues, I am back in the national capital for a long grind in which we will consider much legislation of major import to our country and its citizens.

Last year when we met, we were faced with problems arising from transition from an old to a new presidential administration. This year, we have the problems arising from new leadership in the House.

I cannot say—because I did not bring my crystal ball when I returned to Washington—what the outcome of this session will be. I can say, however, with confidence that it will be loud and sometimes bitter in working on the many controversial and important measures before us.

President Kennedy has laid before us a legislative program and a $95.5 million budget to support it. He insists—and I hope he is right—that the budget can be balanced. No nation more than ours needs to have a balanced budget.

But there are many in Congress—an increasing number of us dedicated to sound fiscal policy as the basis of constitutional government—who believe there must be some reduction of the President's proposals to balance the budget. Since Mr. Kennedy himself supports a balanced budget as essential to our welfare, we hope to help him achieve it.

This is to say there certainly are things in the President's program I can support and wholeheartedly, first among them being a balanced budget. On the other hand, to be frank as I always try to be, there are some things my conscience will not allow me to support, in part because to have them we must give up the President's ambition to balance the budget.

I will do all I can to support the President. I had breakfast with him recently. He did not ask me for any promises and I did not promise him support on any specific issues. But I do think that as a practical politician, he knew he must ask for some things he did not expect to be approved. I think he is as aware as I that under our new leadership, the House approach to legislation will lean conservative.

Some of you in Charlotte and Okeechobee Counties will be getting this report from me for the first time, because next year you will be included in the Seventh District which I now am privileged to represent. I know you will be unhappy to lose your present able Congressman, Paul Rogers. But I can assure you that the other counties in the Seventh District will welcome you because of our great community of interest. I will be glad to assist you in any way that I can.

CRACKER POLITICS

By Allen Morris

TALLAHASSEE — As campaigning openly begins for membership in the 1963 Legislature, this is the really critical time in determining its philosophical nature.

To be resolved with reasonable, if perhaps not recognizable, finality in the weeks just ahead are sure important matters as new taxes, expanded higher education, and more adequate care of those dependent upon the State through welfare, health, and custodial programs.

In other words: Who's going to get the money? Where'll it come from?

That's because now is the time when those who seek seats in the House of Representatives and in the Senate are making the commitments which most of those who are elected will do their best to honor.

At the moment, this seems to be the consensus:

1. To try to get along on present taxes, but - and this is the significant part - without making a flat pledge against any and all additional taxation.

2. If more money be necessary, to raise it without knocking out the present sales tax exemptions of food and medicine.

Incidentally, there's occasional complaint during legislative sessions about "special interests" having their way. Usually, the answer is the simple one of preparation. The people who know they're going to ask the Legislature either to pass or defeat some measure, or kind of measures, are talking to the legislative candidates right now.

They're not waiting until the session is just ahead on the calendar to work out a legislative program. That awareness of when to talk to prospective legislators is one of the differences between professional and amateur lobbyists.

What are potential '63 lawmakers saying? As for the House, there's one man who knows more about that than anyone else. He's Speaker-designate Mallory E. Horne, who combines the opportunity to hear with an ear sensitive to the nuances of political talk.

Beginning with the first Tuesday after the first Monday in April, 1963, the day for the convening of the regular session, this shrewd Tallahassee lawyer, now 36, will be the No. 3 man in Florida's government by the conventional yard stick of the gubernatorial succession. (No. 2 is the Senate President, who in '63 will be another home towner, Senator Wilson Carraway, Tallahassee banker.)

Few members of the House come to Tallahassee without communicating with Horne. That's the courtesy nearly every legislator observes when in the home town of a colleague. But Horne talks with more because the Capital attracts more lawmakers than any other community. Business brings them here. And because he's the Speaker-designate, it's more than an amenity to check in with Horne. He'll be making the committee assignments after the September caucus at Daytona Beach.

But he need not rely entirely upon his Tallahassee listening post. Horne has been roving Florida. He traveled 6,000 miles in October, 4,000 in November. In some weeks, he's made as many as eight speeches away from home. In part, that's because the ability to bring the Speaker-designate to town as a participant in some civic progrom is regarded as a feather in the local legislator's cap.

What are the members of the present House who likely will seek re-election saying about money? Horne boils it down thus:

"I judge that for the most part the members feel there's more of an interest in Florida's development, and its needs in the field of capital outlay for anticipated growth, than that of holding fast to an absolute pledge of no additional taxes."

Horne says the legislators are telling constituents that the State can expect more dollars from existing taxes. And because of this, they are saying, there "possibly" will not be a need for much, "if any," additional taxation. "They are staying away from absolute commitment."

Horne senses a feeling among legislators that any broadening of the tax base should, at least in the beginning years, be tied to specific areas of need. There has been, for example, some subrosa talk of increasing the tax on pari mutuel wagering with an earmarking of the proceeds for some phase of education.

In Horne's opinion, there are quite a number of areas which the Legislature would consider in search of any needed additional revenue before even thinking of broadening the sales tax either by increasing the present rate or through eliminating the food and drug exemptions.

Personally, the Speaker-designate will concentrate his energies during the months ahead to closing what he describes as "the chasm that exists between legislators and school people."

The State of Citrus

Florida Citrus Mutual

LAKELAND — When you start to count your blessings, where do you look?

Citrus growers had a blessing high in the sky several days ago, according to Warren Johnson, head of the Federal-State Frost Warning Service with headquarters in Lakeland.

"A flow of warm, southerly air prevented a disastrous freeze January 11-12," Johnson related.

The cold wave that moved down from Canada and wiped out the Texas grapefruit crop, posed a serious threat to Central Florida.

"Frankly, we were alarmed," Johnson said. "There was a period when we didn't know what might happen."

He described the cold air mass as being more severe than the one that caused the infamous freeze in Florida in the 1890's.

"Had this cold front progressed another 150 to 250 miles, we would have had zero in Tallahassee and 8 to 12 degrees over Central Florida," Johnson said.

The amazing thing is, the cold wave traveled some 8,000 miles before it encountered the flow of warm, southerly air. Fortunately, the warm air was sufficient to counter-act the cold front.

Johnson said that watching the progress of this huge cold air mass "was an interesting experience, but I hope I don't see another one." He described it as a once-in-a-lifetime occurrence.

The seriousness of the threat was not announced at the time because Johnson did not see the need of causing undue alarm so long as there remained a chance of conditions changing.

"All you can say is, we were spared a disaster," Johnson commented.

Robert W. Rutledge, executive vice president of Florida Citrus Mutual, paid tribute to Johnson and his staff. "They are doing a wonderful job for the people of Florida, especially the citrus industry."

Rutledge pointed out that Mutual works closely with the Weather Bureau, "In order that we might keep the citrus growers well informed on all matters of importance."

flameless ELECTRIC HEAT!

There's nothing like the gentle, overall warmth of electric heat. You actually have to feel it to realize just how comfortable it can be. No cold corners, no chilly drafts, no overheated rooms.

And because it's flameless, electric heat is clean and safe. It usually costs about the same or less to install because no flues, vents or chimneys are required. And this means operating economy, as no heat can escape to the outdoors.

So if you're planning to build or remodel your home ask your electrical contractor about electric heat. You'll be glad you did!

Experienced—

While watching the TV show depicting the life of Jimmy Doolittle the other night, we were reminded of the way he classifies the people he sees on planes. If a man is sitting quietly reading a newspaper, he's a veteran air passenger; if he's looking around nervously, it's his first air trip; but if he's sweating and biting his fingernails, he's a pilot.

He's Nice—

One of the nicest persons we've met in quite a spell is Warfield Arnold, of Arnold's Mower Service on Highlands Boulevard, Avon Park. We called on him for help in obtaining some spring steel the other day. He didn't have it, but last Monday while in St. Pete, he spent hours looking for it. He didn't do it for money—just because he wanted to help someone. Warfield believes in that old saying, "It's nice to be important, but it's important to be nice!"

Progress—

Nikita Khrushchev used to say that our children would live under Communism. Now he says our grandchildren will live under Communism. So there's been some progress—we've saved a whole generation!

Some Ride—

Mr. John Roman, of Alt. 27, drove to New York last Summer and stepped on a jet plane, arriving in Milan, Italy, just seven hours later. "It was a nice trip," said John, "but there wasn't any sight-seeing. It was a big thrill to see my old birthplace and visit some relatives I hadn't seen since I was a young boy." John is very proud of his garden, raising tomatoes the year 'round and fresh lettuce and endive, grown from seed he brought from Italy last year.

A Real Difference—

A very nice young business executive gave us this one the other day but asked that we not use his name as the girls in the office might think him as a "rounder". 'A single man has three things on his mind—wine, women and song. But with a married man, it's Metrecal, Same Ol' Gal and Sing Along With Mitch!'

We'd Like To See—

A beautiful multi-color water fountain in the Mall as a tourist attraction. Mayor DeLaney in a ten-gallon hat! A traffic light at the West end of the Mall and Rt. 27.

County Medics Celebrate 2nd Birthday Here

The Highlands County Medical Society and its Ladies Auxiliary, observed the second anniversary of their founding at a dinner meeting held in the Jacaranda Hotel Monday, January 15.

Dr. C. J. Larsen, newly elected president of the medical society, presided. Dr. C. Brooks Henderson, secretary, introduced the program after giving a report of a recent meeting of officers of county medical societies and auxiliaries which he and Mrs. Henderson attended in Jacksonville.

Other new officers including Dr. Burton C. Ostling, vice-president and Dr. Donald C. Hartwell, delegate to Florida Medical Association, assumed their offices for the year of 1962.

The speaker for the evening was Dr. Hartwell, who discussed his hobby of collecting and identifying local varieties of poisonous plants.

Mrs. Watters of Sebring was introduced as a new Auxiliary member. Dr. Ivan Berhen, Research Professor of Psychiatry at Miami University Medical School, and Mrs. Berhen, were guests of the group.

Women Bowlers Set For Third Annual Tourney

Women bowlers will be competing in the third annual city association tournament of the Lake Wales Woman's Bowling Association to be held at Highland Lanes, Lake Wales, on February 17 and 18.

Trophies will be awarded in team handicap and scratch matches, and both trophies and medals will be awarded in the doubles and singles divisions. In addition, a cash prize of $10 will be given to the league secretary with the largest percentage of team entries.

Entries will close midnight January 26. Information can be obtained from your league secretaries at Ridge Lanes. Entry blanks, available at Ridge Lanes, must be returned to the City Secretary, Betty H. Jones, P. O. Box 512, Lake Wales, Florida.

Margaret Kauffman, Sebring, holds the All Events record for this annual tournament with a 1577 total pinfall. She is entered to defend this record this year.

Proclamation

Mayors of Highlands County towns joined this week in issuing proclamations designating January as NEW MARCH OF DIMES MONTH.

The three mayors urged all residents of Highlands County to "support this urgent and important community fund-raising campaign to the fullest extent".

The joint proclamation reads as follows:

WHEREAS the disabling effects of birth defects, arthritis and polio are of vital concern to the families of our community and,

WHEREAS more than 250,000 children in the United States are born each year with a significant birth defect and,

WHEREAS arthritis and the rheumatic diseases affect 11,000,000 Americans including 30,000 children and,

WHEREAS thousands of past polio victims still need patient aid and,

WHEREAS the great hope for prevention of these crippling diseases lies in an expanding, flexible and well-financed national medical research program and,

WHEREAS thousands of victims of these three disabling diseases are in need of expert medical treatment and,

WHEREAS help is needed to provide more skilled hands in research, medicine, nursing, occupational and physical therapy, medical social work and other health professions and,

WHEREAS the role of The National Foundation as a voluntary health agency numbering hundreds of thousands of volunteers remains vital in a free and democratic society,

THEREFORE, I, E. A. DeLaney, Sr., Mayor of Avon Park, join with the other mayors of Highlands County towns to hereby proclaim the month of January, 1962, as New March of Dimes month.

Seafood Menus

SNAPPER ESCABECHE

Two pounds snapper fillets or steaks (or any other variety of fish); Six tablespoons lemon juice; Flour; Butter; One clove garlic; One-third cup orange juice; One-third cup olive oil; One-third cup minced green onions; One-eighth teaspoon Tabasco; Salt.

Have fish skinned and remove bones. Place three tablespoons of the lemon juice in a bowl. Dip fish in juice, then rub with flour. Brown in butter. Place in a shallow bowl, and cover with sauce made by combining a crushed clove of garlic, remaining lemon juice, orange juice, olive oil, and minced onion. Add Tabasco and salt to taste. Pour over fish and marinate in refrigerator over night or longer (the longer the better).

Serve to six with tomato-lettuce salad, buttered green peas, tiny hot rolls, and apple Betty. Very good!

DISCUSS NEW MATH PROGRAM—Shown discussing the new mathematical curriculum that will be offered in Highlands County Schools is a group of educators. Standing, left, Sidney Horne, general supervisor of Highlands County and Andy Miracle, county school superintendent. Seated, left, Mrs. Harriet Phypers, Sebring High School and E. G. Raborn, general consultant of instruction of the State Department of Education.

New Mathematic Program Slated For Highlands County Schools

Highlands County School Superintendent Andy Miracle announced this week that plans are being made for the institution of a special advanced mathematics course in county schools.

The new course of study will revolve around some 50 teachers who have organized and have been meeting at two-week intervals to acquaint themselves with the new program. Miracle said that a need for the development of mental and moral power to keep pace with technological advances prompted the introduction of the course.

The school official also made note that Highlands is one of the few counties in the state fortunate enough to have the resource personnel available for this study. The county is also the first in the state to organize such a program and put it into practice from the first through the 12th grade.

Dr. Wayland Phillips, supervisor of mathematics for the State Department of Education aided in laying the groundwork for the program.

Miracle said the new program will go a step further than merely teaching a student to "do" arithmetic. It will enable a student to comprehend a real understanding of mathematical problems that will long linger in his mind. The course will also enable prospective college students to acquaint themselves with certain mathematical courses which they will face upon entering the higher institutions.

Sidney Horne, general supervisor, expressed the hope that Highlands County's breakthrough in this field would encourage other counties in the state to follow suit, not only in mathematics but english, social studies and other courses as well.

Savings Bond Sales Record Set

Floridians set a peacetime record for investment in Savings Bonds during 1961, it was reported today by S. F. Longbottom, Chairman of the Highlands County Volunteer Committee. Purchases during the year amounted to $81,716,656, nearly $10 million more than in 1960 and more than $1.4 million ahead of the volume rung up in 1955 when the limit for any one purchaser was $20,000 instead of $10,000 as it has been since 1957. A change back to the $20,000 level has been announced by Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon starting January 1, 1962.

Highlands County purchasers participated to the extent of $549,222 in this record smashing total, Longbottom said. This was 39.4 per cent more than the $393,935 recorded during 1960.

The Treasury Department has set Florida's quota for 1962 at $85,000,000, a 4 per cent increase over 1961 sales, of which Highlands County is expected to produce $515,000, Longbottom added.

The landscaped park at Florida's Silver Springs covers 100 acres and is one of the largest in Central Florida. It is free to the public.

Hendersons At Hospital Meet

Dr. and Mrs. C. Brooks Henderson were invited guests to a Tea Dance and Luau at the Far Horizon on Longboat Key, near Sarasota over the weekend.

The affair was sponsored by the National Association of Private Psychiatric Hospitals. Miniature orchid corsages for the ladies, leis and appropriate decorations with flowers in abundance, created a typical setting for the affair, part of which was held out of doors.

The 98th anniversary of the death of Stephen Foster was observed at the Stephen Foster Memorial at White Springs, Jan. 13-21. Foster died at the age of 37 after writing more than 200 melodies.

Landowners Urged To Exercise Caution With Land Burning

Crews in Highlands County Fire Control Unit, of the Florida Forest Service, have suppressed a total of 35 wildfires during the first half of January, 1962. Twelve of these fires burned some 647 acres of forestland.

The largest forest fire was a 300-acre conflagration southwest of Lake Placid, on the sixth of January. The other 23 fires were confined to the landowners' property, or the miscellaneous category. Most important of the miscellaneous fires was the saving of approximately half of the bridge spans of the Kissimmee River bridge, on highway 70.

The burning index, a measure of the severity and the possibility of fires based on current weather elements taken at the Fire Control Unit headquarters, at DeSota City, have at times extended into the very dangerous category during this time.

County Ranger Norman Williams says Highlands County is now experiencing the worst fire situation that it has had since coming under county fire protection, in the Spring of 1957. Williams adds that rainfall is well below that of last year. As a result, the low swamp areas are dry and will burn readily. If it is not possible for folks to curtail their burning, he recommends they do their burning in the morning before the winds pick up and the fuels dry out completely.

For further information on the burning conditions call the Florida Forest Service, at EVergreen 5-8851.

All players are advised to check their individual handicap card. The square in the top right corner is your handicap based on 18 holes. If you are playing 9 holes subtract half the figure.

All members please check the calendar which is posted on our new bulletin board for the schedule of golf activities. We would like to thank Mr. Jeff Barrow for the wonderful job he has done providing us with the long needed bulletin board and for installing the handicap card rack.

All members are requested to please post all scores on their handicap card regardless of whether the card is turned in for a tourney or etc. Score cards will not be collected, it is up to the player to get his score recorded on his handicap card and in turn receive a true handicap. Your cooperation in this matter will be greatly appreciated.

Student Nurses At Alcoholic Center Jan. 17

Twenty-six student practical nurses from the Licensed Practical Nurse School in Sarasota visited the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center here on an orientation tour on January 17th, according to Ernest A. Shepherd, Administrator.

Shepherd welcomed the student nurses to the Center and told them something of the scope of the problem in Florida and the nation.

Miss Gladys Connerly, R.N., Supervisor of Nurses and Aides at the Center, told the girls they would encounter alcoholic patients in hospitals. "Your handling of the patient, the degree of respect you show him, the sympathetic understanding you offer, can be the turning point in his life."

Miss Connerly took the student nurses on a tour of the facilities at the Center, and Mrs. Jean Mosier showed them the Occupational Therapy section, and discussed its role in treatment.

Record Breaking Prices Paid For County Steers

Record prices were paid last week as Highlands County Future Farmers and 4-H Club boys sold their fat steers at the County Fair.

Publix Markets, builders of a new supermarket in Sebring which is expected to open late in February, paid the premium price of $100 per hundredweight for the grand champion.

Through its agent, Lamar Blanton, Publix paid the record breaking price for the 860-pound Blue Ribbon Angus owned by Raleigh Sapp of Lorida. The supermarket also bought two other animals. They paid $56 per cwt. for the 710-pound Hereford of Ray Negus and $53 per cwt. for the 600-pound Hereford owned by Milton Bunker.

Harvey Sapp, a brother of Raleigh and owner of the reserve grand champion, received $405 for his 750-pound Angus. The buyer was James Kondor, of Thriftway Stores which operates a supermarket in Sebring.

Another member of the Sapp family—Jerry—received $73 per cwt. from the Avon Citrus Bank for his 785-pound Angus. Following the purchase the bank donated the animal to the Highlands County Cancer Society.

Lenny Tucker — 985-pound Hereford bought by Bank of Lake Placid for $522.05.

Fred Schroeder — 680-pound Hereford bought by Tropical State Bank, Sebring for $340.

Johnny Nelson — 585-pound Hereford bought by George Cross, Sebring for $310.05.

Billy Crum—545-pound Angus bought by Lykes Brothers for $279.95.

Average price paid per hundredweight for the animals sold was $59, bringing the owners a total of $5,525.25. The price is far above that of a year ago when the sale average was $30 per cwt.

Spreading Decline Topic Of Program In Sebring Tuesday

[illegible] threats to the citrus in [illegible] Highlands County growers in the county have been most cooperative in trying to [illegible] the area of the malady.

James M. McNamee of the State Department of Agriculture's Division of Plant Industry told an audience of citrus growers at Sebring High School auditorium last night that two-thirds of all decline in Highlands County had been eliminated to date. He cited figures of about 1,200 acres eradicated by the old push-and-treat method and about 600 acres remaining infested with the burrowing nematode responsible for decline.

More than 100 persons, including Rep. Howard Livingston, turned out for the meeting to hear plans for a buffer program to contain decline. From Avon Park where W. F. Ward, G. Franklin Ward, Jack Hutchinson and C. E. Crews.

The buffer plan offers protection for the grower who does not have spreading decline in his grove and at the same time allows the owner of diseased acreage to retain trees as long as they return profits.

McNamee offered a slide talk that reviewed accomplishments of the push-and-treat program as well as outlining the promise in the use of buffer strips to isolate decline.

The need for added state and federal funds to support the buffer plan was explained by Dr. W. G. Cowperthwaite, director of the Division of Plant Industry, and by F. I. Jeffrey, area supervisor in Florida for the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Plant Pest Control Division.

Introducing the speakers was Clayton Logan of Lakeland, chairman of the Citrus Industry Spreading Committee and a director of Florida Citrus Mutual.

46 Juniors Entered For Sebring Race

Sebring, Florida—With Saturday, March 24th the big day here in Sebring, Florida for the world's fastest racing cars, a Formula Junior Race on Friday, March 23rd promises car racing fans a star studded drivers field for a 25 lap, 130 mile race. Forty-six of these dynamic single seated racing cars have already notified the Automobile Racing Club of Florida of their intent to participate in this 130 mile race, the largest field of Formula Juniors to catch the green flag in any race in the United States.

Almost duplicating the Grand Prix designed racing car, Formula Junior cars are held by F. I. A. restrictions to using only component parts from highway designed cars up to 1100 cc engines. Thus FIAT, OSCA, LOTUS, ELVA and many other car manufacturers have designed a single seated, open wheeled racing car that champion drivers as Ricardo Rodriquiz, Mexico, Charlie Kolb, Florida SCCA Formula Junior Champion and Pete Lovely, Seattle, Washington, 1961 Pan-American Formula Junior Champion, have been able to keep spectators on their toes with top speeds approaching the 140 MPH mark.

Twenty-five laps over the famous Sebring 5.2 mile circuit, a snarling pack of highly tuned Formula Jr's, as a preview to the internationally famous 12 HOUR ENDURANCE RACE for the Alitalia Cup, starting at 10 a.m. Saturday, March 24th, 1962.

Judge Mervin Rehrer will continue to conduct hearings on Monday morning for persons who have been placed in jail during the preceeding week.

Avon Park Negro Sentenced To Six Months For Arrest Resist

Avon Park Negro Clifton Rolley, 32, has been sentenced to the state penitentiary on the charge that he resisted arrest.

Rolley, who had previously entered a guilty plea, was sentenced in Circuit Court on Monday. Judge Clifton M. Kelly set Rolley's penalty at six months to a year at Raiford.

A trio of out-of-county men entered guilty pleas on three counts of breaking and entering autos. Judge Kelly deferred sentencing of Raymond Melton Gordon, 29, his brother George Carl Gordon, 33, and Clifford Eugene Mitchell, 33, of Gainesville.

The Gordon brothers' father, Pafford Gordon, also of Waycross had been arrested with the younger men last week; but charges against him have been dropped.

Richard West (alias Richard Wesley, Herldon Richardson) entered not guilty on two charges: breaking and entering a building other than a dwelling with intent to commit a felony and grand larceny by burglary. Bond was set at $5,000.

Lewis Gibbs, charged with withholding support from his wife, entered a guilty plea Monday and was placed on probation for three years.

In Circuit Court last week Judge J. H. Willson handed out a prison term and two long probations. William R. Read of Sebring, convicted of manslaughter in connection with the death of an Avon Park woman in a traffic accident, was placed on probation for five years. His right to a driver's license was revoked for three years or until restored by a court order.

Lewis Stanley Juister of Sebring, who had pleaded guilty to commiting a crime against nature, was placed on probation for five years. One condition of his probation is that he receive psychiatric treatment.

Emery Orville Richards, convicted of a crime against nature, was sentenced to three years in the state penitentiary.

Judge Willson presided over two civil suits last week.

A suit brought by Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Ianelli against Levi King resulted in a jury awarding $500 damages to Mrs. Ianelli.

The Ohio couple had asked $150,000 for damages growing out of an auto accident. Members of the jury were Everett G. Monroe and R. H. Rosser of Lake Placid; J. Clagett Taylor, William M. Payne, Louis Edgar Selph, Jr., and Edwin S. Smith (foreman) all of Sebring.

The performance will feature the choir of St. Luke's Cathedral, Orlando, and the Episcopal Young Churchmen of Avon Park. Rev. John F. Mangrum, rector of the local parish, will be the celebrant for the service of Holy Communion. He has been a pioneer in directing the recorded performances at Camp Wingmann and other Florida cities.

Miss Anne Johnson, president of the local Episcopal Young Churchmen, and Ruth Border have had training with the use of the recording. Robert Border, warden of the acolytes guild of Redeemer parish, will be in charge of servers for the February 4th presentation.

Residents of Avon Park are invited to head and experience the new piece of music.

Hardee County Featured At Florida Fair

TAMPA Hardee County, the Garden Spot of Peace River Valley and Cucumber Capital of the World, will show its green-gold agricultural wealth at the Florida State Fair in Tampa, February 6-17.

Its big county exhibit will feature cucumbers, of course, but also many varieties of Winter vegetables and literally mountains of citrus in its display of year around harvests.

Jack C. Hayman, county agent, said the accent of the entire presentation will be on youth with hundreds of Hardee Future Farmers and 4-H Club members participating in judging events and other activities.

Twelve other counties from all sections of the state also have entered exhibits to underscore the fact that the Tampa exposition is one of the largest agricultural fairs in the nation and the only one held in mid-Winter.

The others and their county agents are Columbia, Neal M. Dukes; Gadsden, John C. Russell; Indian River, Forrest N. McCullars; Hernando, Charles R. Smith; Highlands, Bert J. Harris, Jr.; Hillsborough, Jean Beem; Manatee, W. Harper Kendrick; Marion, Edsel W. Rowan; Pinellas, Harry J. Brinkley; Polk, W. Paul Hayman; and Volusia, Thomas R. Townsend.

Ginny Tiu, the sensational, lovable "China Doll", will star the second week. Auto thrill daredevils and Great Smoky Mountain gunmen will add variety every day during both weeks.

CD Booklets Available Now

A new Civil Defense booklet giving the dos and don'ts about fall out protection and the proper moves to take during a nuclear attack is now available at the Avon Park Post Office, according to R. D. Young, acting postmaster.

Young said the booklets are free of charge. Just make a request at the service window. The allocation provides for one booklet to be distributed to each family. Additional booklets may be obtained from the Office of Civil Defense, Battle Creek, Mich.

Savings Bond Sales Record Set

Floridians set a peacetime record for investment in Savings Bonds during 1961, it was reported today by S. F. Longbottom, Chairman of the Highlands County Volunteer Committee. Purchases during the year amounted to $81,716,656, nearly $10 million more than in 1960 and more than $14 million ahead of the volume rung up in 1955 when the limit for any one purchaser was $20,000 instead of $10,000 as it has been since 1957. A change back to the $20,000 level has been announced by Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon starting January 1, 1962.

Highlands County purchasers participated to the extent of $549,222 in this record smashing total, Longbottom said. This was 74 per cent more than the $[illegible] recorded during 1960.

The Treasury Department [illegible] set Florida's quota for 1962 at [illegible] a 4 per cent increase over 1961 sales of [illegible] Highlands County is expected to produce [illegible] Longbottom added.

THE FOUR-WAY TEST

1 Is it the TRUTH?

3 Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?

Vet Benefits Altered; More Now Eligible

Some veterans, and widows of some deceased veterans, who have not been eligible for Federal benefits because of insufficient active military service, may now become eligible by adding to the veteran's active duty period the certified time it took to proceed directly home after separation from service.

Veterans Administration officials explained that all veterans discharged or released after December 31, 1956, have already been credited with this travel time. A law passed last summer extended this provision to all other veterans, Rufus H. Wilson, Manager of the VARO in St. Petersburg, explained today.

The pension claims of some 2,500 veterans and a number of widows have been disallowed by the VA because the veterans had less than 90 days of service. By adding the travel time as certified by the veteran's service department, some of these veterans will now have the 90 days of service needed to qualify.

The new law is particularly important to Spanish-American War Veterans, who qualify for a special lower-rate pension if they have at least 70 days of active service. The homeward travel time of those who were previously ineligible may give them the necessary 70 days to meet the service requirement. Others who are receiving the lower-rate pension, may have their service period increased to 90 days and qualify for the regular service pension at the higher rate.

The VA can identify and is reviewing all 70-day cases which may become eligible for the regular service pension, Wilson said.

But Spanish-American War veterans who had less than 70 days of service are not known to the VA. Neither are the widows of Spanish-American War veterans who previously had less than 90 days of service. Any of these who think that the addition of the travel time from the place of discharge to the veteran's home would make them eligible for a pension, should contact the VA Regional Office at St. Petersburg.

Country Music Slated For State Fair Grandstand

TAMPA—One of the many personalities that crowds will see and love at the Florida State Fair, February 6-17, will be Mrs. Henry R. Cannon of Nashville, Tenn.

Never heard of her? Oh yes, you have. Mrs. Cannon is none other than Minnie Pearl, that simple, boisterous, warm-hearted country gal from Grinders Switch, who spends all her time trying to land a "feller".

She'll be at the big Winter exposition headlining the first week's grandstand show along with Hank Snow, the nation's foremost religious and country music recording artist, his Rainbow Ranch Boys' Band and other talent from the Grand Ole Opry Circuit.

For variety and an exciting change of pace, these stars will be backed by Bill Reed's International Auto Daredevils in a thrill show of 30 death-defying, car crunching acts.

The same bill will include a demonstration of the world's first and only pure jet automobile, the 23-foot "Green Monster" with 7,000 horsepower and a timed speed of more than 240 miles an hour. This overturned volcano will be "opened up" before the grandstand and stopped with aircraft brakes and two drag parachutes.

Meantime, for more variety, a gang of fast-draw gun fighters from the Great Smoky Mountains of North Carolina will be robbing banks, stealing horses, shooting marchals and otherwise misbehaving in a frontier town setting.

The fair's grandstand show will be changed completely for the second week of the exposition which brings on Ginny Tiu, the lovable, sensational China Doll child star who has captivated TV and "live" audiences throughout the country. She will appear here with her equally appealing brother and two sisters of the Happy Tiu Family.

METHODIST MEET

The MYF of First Methodist Church will be host to the sub-district meeting here Wednesday night. Methodist youth from all of the churches in this sub-district will be attending to hear Dr. E. R. Overley who will bring a message on evangelism. Adults are also invited to attend and her Dr. Overley.

More than eight railway freight cars of minerals are carried away each 24 hours by the 600,000,000 gallon flow of water from Florida's Silver Springs.

LAKE FRONT

Avon Park Lakes News

• By Mrs. Marge Slocum

Last Thursday the covered dish dinner served at the Avon Park Lakes Club House had a record attendance of 110 members, their families and guests. After a brief business meeting the remainder of the evening was spent playing cards.

The Board of Governors wishes to call to the attention of any prospective members of our Association who are not 1961 members, the following excerpt from the By-laws: "The right to vote shall be limited to those qualified members in good standing for at least ten days prior to elections." This means that in order for non-members in 1961 to be a "qualified member in good standing", 1962 dues must be paid not later than January 27. Those persons who are presently members are considered qualified voters. Voting takes place February 5, 1962.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Halvorson of Milwaukee, Wisc., Mr. and Mrs. Herman Samuelson of West Allis, Wisc., Rev. and Mrs. R. J. Dahl of Lakeland, Fla. were callers at the home of Rev. and Mrs. H. Folkstad Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanford recently entertained his brother, Thomas P. Hanford, and Mrs. Hanford from Kensington, Conn. They are spending some time in Winter Park and will return to the Lakes to spend more time with Laura and Bob. Also visiting the Hanfords were Bob's daughter, Mrs. Donald McAnally, her husband and two daughters, Kathy and Carol from Salvador, Brazil. Mr. and Mrs. McAnally and family left for Dalas, Texas, where he will be re-assigned on a job with Geodetic Service Inc. The Hanfords accompanied them as far as Silver Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. William Constantine spent Wednesday in Bradenton visiting an aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cook from Orwell, N. Y. The Cooks are wintering in Bradenton.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Myers and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harp just returned from a six day trip to the Everglades National Park at Flamingo on Florida Bay. Their fishing trip was quite a success with Marguerite Myer high lighting the day by catching an eight pound Channel Bass. They all report having a wonderful time also enjoying sightseeing the Everglades.

Wednesday the Slocums were happy to have callers from the North, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fusco and mother from New Jersey and Mr. and Mrs. George Liekefet now retired and living in Hernando, Fla. The men worked together in New York for the telephone company.

Mr. and Mrs. Evverett Chapman of Vallejo, Cal. have recently spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kostitch of Nautilus Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Blake Marlin of Fenton, Mich. called on Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnson, Sunday. The two couples are spending the Winter at the latters Winter home near DeLand, Fla.

On Friday Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fillmore accompanied by their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Skillings, drove to Winter Haven stopping at Cypress Gardens for the water show and on to Orlando where the Skillings enplaned for their return trip home in Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Fillmore returned the next day after visiting with Mr. Fillmore's cousin.

There will be a free Christian Science Lecture at the church, corner Avon Blvd. and Highlands Ave., Sunday afternoon, January 28 at 3 p. m. All are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rood were accompanied by Mrs. Al Diebold and Mrs. Louks last Sunday, visiting Ohio friends, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Heineman now of Winter Haven.

New Soap Plant In Production

The South's largest detergent plant, with a capacity of 3,500,000 pounds of powder and liquid detergent a month, has been placed in operation at Jacksonville, Fla., by Blue Arrow, Inc.

The new facility, covering 40,000 square feet, is a wholly-owned subsidary of Winn-Dixie Stores, Inc., which operates 545 supermarkets in the local area and throughout the Southeast.

"This new operation illustrates the swift business and industrial upswing that is taking place throughout the South to supply the needs of its own growing population," said A. D. Davis, president of Winn-Dixie.

"Approximately one-half of the raw material ingredients which the plant will utilize will be produced or purchased in the South, and the same holds true for the cartons and containers in which the detergent will be marketed."

The plant, which is the first major detergent manufacturing operation in the Southeast, is located on a 40-acre site where the Winn-Dixie general headquarters also are situated.

Its blue powder and white powder production capacity will be approximately 2,500,000 pounds a month and its liquid capacity will be 1,000,000 pounds a month, according to J. V. Wilkerson, plant superintendent.

Eight Charged With DWI In County Court

A total of eight driving while intoxicated cases headed a heavy docket for County Court on Monday. Only two of eight [illegible] claim Highlands County home.

Leonard Hayward, a 42-year-old white resident of Avon Park, pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated and was fined $250 or 90 days in jail, and his driver's license was revoked for three months. He also pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery (against his wife), and on that count received a 60-day suspended jail sentence.

William Lane, a 31-year-old Sebring Negro, entered guilty pleas on three traffic charges. He was fined $200 or 90 days in jail for driving while intoxicated, and his right to drive was revoked for a year.

He was fined $25 or 15 days in jail for driving without a license, and for driving without [illegible] brakes he was fined another $25 or 15 days in jail.

[illegible] Samuel Jenkins of West Hollywood, pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated. Judge Maxon Rehrer delayed passing sentence on the 41-year-old white man until an investigation of Jenkins' driving record can be made with state officials.

Clyde Gilford of Wauchula pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated and lost his driving license for a year. The 30-year-old Negro also was fined $200 or 90 days in jail.

Dave Thomas, 50-year-old Negro from Ft. Pierce, was sentenced to pay a fine of $250 or three months in jail for driving while intoxicated. His driver's license was revoked for a year. Thomas had entered a guilty plea on January 15, and sentencing was delayed to allow for a check to be made into his driving record.

Three drivers accused of driving while intoxicated entered not guilty pleas, and their cases will be heard in the March term of court.

The accused are Alton John Drawdy, white, 38, of Immokalee; Billie E. Warner, and Andrew Parrott, 52, Homestead.

A lesser charge of reckless driving while drinking was made against Kenneth Dalton Roberson, 31-year-old white man from Plant City. Highway Patrolman C. C. Johns who arrested Roberson testified that Roberson was driving at the rate of 100 miles per hour.

Judge Rehrer set Roberson's fine at $125 or 60 days in jail.

Red Devil Cagers To Risk 4-Game Win Skein Friday

Avon Park's Red Devil cagers face a tough week after winning their last four encounters to set their record at six wins and four losses. Two consecutive wins over Mulberry put the Devils over the 500 mark last week.

Friday night the Devils travel to Arcadia for a return game with the Bulldogs who handed Avon Park its first loss of the season at the start of the year by a score of 67 to 56. The Arcadia five has lost only to Okeechobee, Sebring and Lake Placid and last Tuesday night they upset Fort Meade breaking the Miners nine game winning streak.

Next Tuesday night the Red Devils will be at home to the Fort Meade Miners, leaders of the Northern Division of the Ridge. The Miners gave Avon Park its most humiliating defeat of the season in Fort Meade earlier when they outscored the Devils 80-53.

A slow second quarter during which both Mulberry and Avon Park scored only six points each kept the score down in the Devils 56-40 second win over the Panthers last Tuesday night in Mulberry.

Four Devils finally managed to score in the double figures. Lamon Money put on a nine point final quarter spurt to score 15 counters, Bobby Bates and DeWayne Lemler hit for 11 points each and Terry Oberle hit five for five field goals for 10 points and a 100 per cent average from the floor.

The Panthers couldn't hit the basket very well and Butch Curry's eight points were high for six points. The Hagan brothers were held to four points each.

Joe Jackson led the Devils under the basket with 12 rebounds closely followed by Bobby Bates and Oberle with 11 each.

Coach Ralph Hill's "B" squad took a close 31-29 win from the Mulberry junior varsity as Bobby Coleman led the Avon Park scoring with ten points. Wolfgang Halbig bucketed nine points also, but Gerald Moses was game high-scorer with 13 points for Mulberry.

The Red Devils fifth win was racked up last Friday night when they trounced Mulberry 85-56 at the local gym.

Joe Jackson and Lamon Money were the hot Devils on scoring as they accounted for 60 points together. Money hit 11 out of 13 free throws and dumped in 12 shots from the floor for a total of 35 points to bring his average for seven games to 25 points per game. Jackson swished 10 field goals through the hoops and made five free shots for 25 points.

The Avon Park five jumped off to a quick 22-10 first quarter lead as they displayed fine teamwork and a pressing attack to upset the Panther quintet. At halftime the Devils had a 17 point lead and continued to outscore their Polk County opponents throughout the second half.

Both teams hit a high percentage of their free shots. Avon Park made 19 out of 24 for 79.2 per cent while Mulberry hit 14 of 18 for 77.8 per cent. Husky built Micky Hagen scored 18 points for the losers and his brother Larry contributed 11 points. Both boys hit well on an outside jump shot.

The aggressive defensive play of Leonard Sullivan and DeWayne Lemler and the fine rebounding of Terry Oberle, Bobby Bates, and Joe Jackson kept the heavier Panther squad off balance the whole game as the Devils set a season high by scoring 85 points to Mulberry's 56.

Stills Honored On Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Virgal Still were surprised on their 25th Wedding Anniversary Tuesday, January 16, when a group of friends arranged a dinner party in their honor. The secret plans were laid and the honorees were picked up by friends and when they arrived at the O'Steen home the other guests were there. They all proceeded to Sebring where they enjoyed a special dinner at Fisher's Restaurant.

Mrs. Still was presented with a corsage and following the dinner the group visited the County Fair and afterwards returned to the O'Steen home where they were served cake, coffee and punch. The cake was decorated with silver wedding bells and other decorations emphasising the anniversary theme.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. O'Steen, Mr. and Mrs. Willard C. Griffin and Mrs. Gertrude Craft were present to enjoy the affair with the Stills.
