THE MAIN LINE

Here are two tracks,—two roads,—two ways to go. From this point, apparently, both lines lead to coveted destinations. True, they point in different directions and their terminals are drastically different. The Great Teacher once warned, "There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the ends thereof are the ways of death." Brother, you can't reach Heaven going in opposite directions. You've got to get on the main line and keep on going if you expect to enter by the narrow gate. We can move to the right or to the left—to life eternal or to certain death...which way will ye take? Your church offers valuable help in determining the main line. For he said, "The path of the just is as a drawing light that shineth more and more into the perfect day."

Navy Man Tells Rotarians Of Problems Facing Service POWs

The Avon Park Rotary Club was held in spell-bound silence as their speaker last Wednesday, Commander Frank A. Graham, brought them up to date on some of the problems facing all branches of the service today in regard to prisoners of war.

Commander Graham told the group that at the present time there are enough service personnel incarcerated in big and service prisons today to man five Forestal class aircraft carriers. This apparent laxity for rules, regulations and laws porvades also the minds of many personnel who become POWs of the communists.

The Navy man cited that of the nearly 7,000 men who were captured during Korea and were brought back on operation Big Switch and then observed as they reacted to being prisoners. He cited that of these 7,000 men, not one attempted to escape the prison nor his captors.

He further stated that four out of every ten men who were captured by the communists during the police action, just gave up and assumed the responsibility for the entire party captured.

Better Breakfast Plan Given

The FHA girls will begin a two week trial plan for a Better Breakfast Program among the Avon Park high school students. This is not to be a money making project, but one to encourage students to eat a good breakfast.

Sally Nute, who is working on her state degree project will be assisted by Frankie Smith, Joyce Antley, Linda Smith in serving each morning. These girls are also working on State Degrees.

Sally Nute has written an original skit which will be presented in assembly Friday as a means of informing the student body of the Better Breakfast Plan.

Each morning from 7:45 the FHA girls will serve orange juice and donuts in the Home making Department for 10 and 6 cents. They urge the students who do not eat a good breakfast at home to come in for orange juice and donuts instead of buying a cold drink and a candy bar, as so many students are in the habit of doing.

Livingston Says He Will Not Ask Park Raise For County Commissioners

Judges Go On Record For Change

Two Year Span For Drivers Permit Favored By Judges

Judges of District 5 of the Florida County Judges Association have gone on record favoring a two-year life for drivers' licenses.

This measure is being presented to the 1961 session of the state legislature by the Florida Department of Public Safety, and when the county judges held a district convention at Arcadia Friday, they voted to support the proposal.

Judge Mervin Rehner of Highlands County presided at the convention which included judges from 11 counties.

The judges also voted to support proposals that drivers' licenses should be renewed on the driver's birthday. Judge Rehner said his office, under present requirements, is swamped each September when more than 12,000 drivers come to the judge's office to buy licenses.

He pointed out that 12,000 sales in a two-year period could be handled far more easily and efficiently than 12,000 sales in one month.

Judge Rehner said the judges from the fifth district also agreed that juvenile traffic offenders should be brought before juvenile authorities rather than being tried in regular traffic court.

The juvenile judges pointed out that they have far more freedom in dealing with traffic offenders. Judge Rehner said a juvenile judge may suspend a license when it could not be done in regular traffic court.

Then too, in juvenile court the parents must be present. In this day and age it is not difficult for a youngster to raise money for a fine, and his parents would never find out that there had been any trouble.

The day-long session at Arcadia included studies of proposed legislation and extensive discussions on criminal court procedures.

Judge Rehner is vice-president of the Florida County Judges Association. Other counties in District 5, County Judges Hendry, Sarasota, Charlotte, Glades, Hardee, Lee, Manatee, Polk, DeSoto.

5 Officials Attend School In Tallahassee

Five Highlands County officials were in Tallahassee last week to attend the first annual School for County Commissioners.

County Commissioner Eugene Hamlin and two newly elected Commissioners, Carl McIntyre and Ben Metcalf, attended the Jan. 23 and 24 school. Clerk of the Circuit Court Earl Rick and Deputy Clerk Charles Laine also attended.

Plans had been made for all the commissioners to attend, but the cold wave which swept the area at the same period forced Commissioners Carl Skipper and James Crowl, who have citrus groves, to remain behind to tend their groves.

Mr. Rick said of the 116 who registered for the school, a large number were commissioners who were beginning their first term of office. From among the clerks attending, however, Mr. Rick was the only clerk beginning a first term in that office.

The state association of county commissioners sponsored the school, and faculty members included professors from both the University of Florida and Florida State University.

BROUGHT BACK—James A. Brown, colored trusty at the city, walked away from his job on the city garbage truck Monday about 11 a.m. City police officers revealed the services of "Buddy", the bloodhound from the Avon Park Correctional Institution. Buddy, one of the better known trunks in five southeastern states, was put on the trail at 1 p.m. and by 2:15 p.m. had covered 8 1/2 miles north of town to catch up with the escapee. Brown is shown here gingerly holding the collar of the bloodhound dog.

Highlands Hospital Hopes Hearing For Legislative Action

Movements toward obtaining a Highlands County hospital were given impetus this week, State Representative Howard Livingston made public a bill which proposes establishment of a hospital tax district.

The bill which will come before the state legislature during the first month of its 1961 session provides for setting up a board of hospital commissioners. This board would be empowered to "contract, operate, maintain such hospital as may be established and constructed by the board in the tax district."

The board would have the power to provide for the levy and collection of taxes within the hospital tax district. The Livingston bill proposes that a limit of five mills per dollar of the valuation of the real and personal taxable property not exempt by law.

Provisions are also made for the board to issue bonds (not to exceed $1,000,000 payable in a period of time from 5 to 20 years). Interest rates would have a six per cent ceiling.

The bill gives permission for the hospital commissioners to "enter into contracts with the government of the United States, with the state or any county or municipality, private corporation or individual providing for or relating to the construction or acquisition of additions, extensions, and improvements to said hospital."

There are specific references to accepting grants, loans or contributions of money, property, land.

The bill directs that the hospital may care for and treat with out charge patients who are found by the Board of Commissioners to be indigent and who have for one year preceding the application for admission been residents of the district.

The residents of the district shall have first claim for admission, but the "privileges and use of the hospital" may be extended to non-residents.

If the Livingston bill gains the approval of the Legislature, the Board of County Commissioners will be required, upon the petition of not less than 25 qualified voters, to call a referendum in Highlands County to call and hold an election.

The bill also provides for a referendum before the hospital board could issue bonds. Approval must be given "by the majority of the votes cast in an election in which a majority of the freeholders, who are qualified registered electors in the district shall participate."

The board of commissioners would be made up of five freeholders—one from each district of the county. They would be appointed by the Governor.

In the first appointments the commissioners from district two and four would be named for two year terms. The commissioners from districts one, three and five would be asked to serve for four years. Thereafter, all terms would be for four years.

The board would be appointed within 30 days after the passage of the bill. Members of the medical profession may not serve on the board, and all commissioners would serve without pay.

Any commissioner who attended at least 75 per cent of the board's monthly meetings would, however, be eligible to receive $120 per year expense money.

The Governor of Florida shall have the power to remove commissioners from the board and to appoint members to fill vacancies.

The commissioners shall elect one of the board to serve as chairman and may elect one of its own members to serve as secretary and treasurer or to appoint some person not on the board.

Outstanding speakers, discussion groups, student programs, exhibits of textbooks and other school supplies an equipment will be included in the full schedule of the convention. All so visits to selected secondary schools and distinctive places of interest in the Detroit area will be available for those who attend the convention.

Mr. A. B. Whitte, Supervisor Principal of the Avon Park Schools, will leave Friday, February 10 by plane to attend the National Association of Secondary-School Principals in Detroit, Michigan.

This will be his second convention of the NASSP. The convention will open Saturday, February 11, in the Cobo Hall in Detroit, and run through Wednesday, the 15th. The convention theme will be "Individual Competence and the National Welfare."

School To Get Boost But Could Have Gotten More

Highlands County school board members may get a salary jump thanks to the county's population increase. Representative Howard G. Livingston said today that he will introduce to the state legislature a proposal to boost the present $960 salary to $1200 annually.

County Commissioners had talked with Livingston and State Senator G. W. (Dick) Williams about a possible boost in their $1200 stipends. Livingston said the commissioners did not name a specific figure in their request, so, he will not introduce any legislation applying to that board.

In public legislative hearings it had been pointed out that the school board and county commissioners carry more responsibility now as they represent more people and each board directs the expenditure of more than $1,000,000 annually.

According to state statute the school board members were slated for a salary jump to $1,800. In meetings with the legislators the Highlands County school trustees agreed to the $1,200 salary.

Free officials in the county are given the state-set salary. $8,500 did not request any changes in wages.

Highlands County grew from a population of 12,000 in 1950 to 21,338 in the 1960 count. As a result of this growth changes are needed in 18 laws enacted by the state legislature and applying specifically to this county.

Representative Livingston said some of these 18 laws are now obsolete. He plans to incorporate needed changes and amendments into one omnibus bill. The state attorney general is planning another omnibus bill which includes the shifts in about 600 laws applying to smaller counties.

Negro Held In Death Of Girl

A charge of murder has been filed against Ralph Jackson, the 20-year-old Negro resident of Avon Park is accused of stabbing to death Juanita Ash.

The victim, also Negro, was stabbed Monday night. She was found on arrival at Walker Memorial Hospital.

Hospital attendants said that the knife had penetrated her heart. Sheriff Browder Coker said the knife allegedly occurred when the girl fell against Jackson near the Hopewell School where the victim had been attending a school basketball game.

Sheriff Coker said Jackson had admitted being responsible for the death of the girl but maintained that the knife was accidental.

Jackson was taken into custody by men from the county sheriff's department and Avon Park police force. A witness told Sheriff Coker that Jackson was the last person seen with the Ash girl before she was found with the knife wound.

Added by dogs from the Avon Park Correctional Institution, Sheriff's deputies and city policemen searched for Jackson for four hours, and captured him about midnight.

Jackson was brought into County Court on Tuesday. He waived preliminary hearing, and Judge Mervin Rehner ordered him held in county jail without bond.

FFS Crews Fought 29 Wild Fires

Florida Forest Service crews in Highlands County suppressed 29 wild fires last year burning a total of 648 acres. The largest fire burned 280 acres out of Sebring Air Terminal. This is an increase of three wild fires over the previous year. In addition to the 29 wild fires, 16 improvement fires amounted to a total of 112,000 acres with 5,000 of property being saved.

Highland County contained 75 landowners with their holdings. (11 is a tracts plus up to a 2,500 acre tract.)

Jackson was taken into custody by men from the county sheriff's department and Avon Park police force. A witness told Sheriff Coker that Jackson was the last person seen with the Ash girl before she was found with the knife wound.

There is a movement afoot in the central and south end of Highlands county for a hospital . . . the big push for this is coming from Sebring apparently.

This would be possibly a good deal for them but we doubt it.

It is our contention that Walker Memorial here in Avon Park is adequately serving the county at the present time.

We have talked to several doctors who agree that the trend today is to bigger, more adequate hospitals rather than small spread out type facilities.

If the people of the county think that there should be a county hospital then let there be one . . . but if there is one, let us exclude Avon Park from any such district. We feel that we are high enough now and certainly can't see the advantage of increasing these obligations with the addition of a county hospital when we have a private hospital here which we feel is doing an adequate job for the area.

Again if a hospital must be built then it looks as if the right spot for it would be half-way between Lake Placid and Sebring. It certainly doesn't seem feasible to build just 9 miles from a facility such as we have here.

ADVERTISING FACTOR IN DISTRIBUTION

We read the following in a recent exchange and it struck us as being good. Read on:

"ONCE upon a time there were three manufacturers of mouse traps, and competition set the retail price at 30 cents. Manufacturing cost was 15 cents. None of the three mouse trap makers advertised.

"One day one of the manufacturers decided to advertise. He found that he established brand recognition and reached a wider audience and broader market. During the second year his sales grew so much that he increased production. This permitted him to install new, more efficient machinery and he cut production to 9 cents a trap. Dealers cut their retail prices from 30 cents to 25 cents. Manufacturing profits jumped from 33 1/3 to 50 percent and dealers made 66 2/3 percent instead of 50 percent. Brand recognition was built up so that the demand by brand forced the two non-advertising manufacturers out of business.

"Who paid for the advertising? Not the manufacturer because he increased profits and cut costs. Not the dealer—he did the same thing. Not the consumer because he bought the trap for less. That somebody had to pay for advertising is a hard, cold fact, yet it is one of the most misleading facts in business.

"The answer lies in a combination of two things. The manufacturers who didn't advertise paid for it and the economies made possible by increasing production paid for it.

"ADVERTISING is a factor in distribution and is paid for through the increase in sales and the savings the increased production makes possible."

—Fr. Meade Leader

If money's going to buy less and less . . . why not go back to the good old barter system? A dozen eggs would get enough material to make a dress—a day in the field would earn housing and food for a week—a work of art would be traded for a pound of beef—etc., and etc.

In days of yore, that is!

But, maybe, it could be worked out on a modern basis—just maybe. Perhaps construction or crocheting could be traded for food; or a rose bush for a small electrical repair. We could, you know, raise our own food in Florida; a few chickens, a goat, a cow and some gardening. And what we had left over we could take to the market to trade for pins, nails and, maybe, a dress.

I think money has become too important in our lives. The goal for gold has almost replaced the peaceful search for a full life. The first observation made when meeting someone new is generally, "How much has he got?"—not "What has he done of value to help his fellowmen?" Maybe we should strive for gold without the "I's."

I well remember the crash, the depression and 100-mile winds. We all grew closer together and true friendship was a precious asset. We've waxed fat, sassy and rich—but I don't think we've improved any. We've got automobile legs—push-button fingers—and channelled thinking.

But what have we done with our spare time? Have we used it to sweeten the milk of human kindness; or have we clattered it? Have we forgotten that time is like life? Once you've lost it, you can't get it back.

A brand new Year is in the offing, with a lot of brand new resolutions. Now is the time to ask yourself what you did with last year's.

CRACKER POLITICS

By Allen Morris

TALLAHASSEE.—Florida's first flying Governor is concerning himself about the efficient use of the growing fleet of State-owned airplanes.

Student Pilot Farris Bryant has had more opportunity than his earthbound predecessors as Governor to observe what is happening in Florida's aviation in busy afternoons from the passenger terminals.

Piqued by curiosity at the sight of airplanes with State markings on airports here and there, Governor Bryant had a census made. It was discovered that seven statewide agencies presently are using 25 planes.

The Forest Service has the largest number, nine, and the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission has eight. Others are flown by the Beverage Department, Conservation Department, Department of Public Safety, Department of Agriculture (the latter is part of the Aviation Board), and the Civil Defense Agency.

Another agency likely will be added in a month or so as the Development Commission hopes to have Governor Bryant take delivery of No. 1 of the "Cheerleaders" line of four-place planes from the new Piper production plant at Vero Beach.

The Development Commission can use the plane to carry out its airport site appraisal and inspection program. It has had to depend upon what its aviation inspector could see from the highways for rather inadequate enforcement of this program. This plane also will be available for other public purposes.

Governor Bryant has been told, on the basis of a preliminary survey, that more effective and efficient use of the State's planes could be obtained by pooling maintenance and repair facilities. Having the planes based in Tallahassee also would, it is believed, make possible agency equipment interchanges to increase the utilization of aircraft.

Sidelights: The Executive Department is headed by the Governor and the Cabinet of officers, and two of these have reportedly declined to fly aboard the Governor's plane because of misgivings about its landing tendencies. Still another did not prove feasible for its low engine power because it is wings below out sight of the ground immediately below the helicopter.

Its maximum speed is 125 miles an hour.

It is these such things as a law officer getting lost and a law officer people too well for their benefit or R. A. Riedel, the new hotel and restaurant Commission, thinks so. He expects to institute a policy of periodically rotating the assignments of officers.

Riedel believes the approach of the Commission's inspectors to the lodging and restaurant industry should be "continually, but businesslike. He distrusts the first-timer, "how-the-family" basis for law enforcement just as much as he distrusts the extreme of "here's-my-baggage!"

While the Commission's full personnel, some 45 men, are subject to reasonable transfer, Riedel considers the fact that most are rooted in their home communities. Hence, he'll begin his rotation policy by moving the inspectors about within their present districts. In Miami, for example, there are 12, and transferring to a different territory within a county presents no problem.

Commissioner Riedel thinks the greatest contribution he could make during the four-year term would be fostering the establishment of an educational program, centered largely in the community junior colleges and vocational schools.

Riedel is a professional hotelman, having served his apprenticeship in Polk county while still a student at Florida Southern College. He is sure that properly trained desk clerks, bellmen, waitresses, cooks and other hotel and restaurant workers are secret for causing people to return to an establishment. In turn, repeat business is the secret for success in the transient field.

The new Commissioner is proceeding with available money and time to sack off the existing training program but he's hopeful the Legislature will provide an additional $500,000 for industry-paid fees during the next biennium to do a full-time job. The investment, he is confident, would be returned many times over to the State treasury by encouraging tourists to come back to Florida.

The governor and some of the top legislators have said they see no need for new taxes to run the state.

"I just don't like that word 'new' in statements dealing with the legal extortion known as taxes.

This is a brag like those 'Who is trying to kill you' statements. There won't be no new taxes, because there ain't no such thing.

I think people are getting a little sick of congressmen and legislators putting 'no new' in front of taxes in statements. I can't recall one ever using 'no increase' or 'no higher.'

With congressmen in session now and the biennial chaos scheduled in Tallahassee in about two months, I'll give it to you: we are out with our wallet closed. They don't need a new way to tap it. They have plenty of old and effective ways.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

Let's talk about taking a driver's test. If you have taken one you know the score, but if you are like me and have been driven in a car you were loaned high to a pup, long before driver's licenses were ever thought of, I realize that a land of nine-foot roads and woods cuts, and sleek transportation was a Model T Ford, or a Chevrolet. They called it the 480 because that was the price. Believe it or not, $480 for a Chevrolet touring car? Then you've got a lot to learn.

As I told you last week I was unfortunate enough to be involved in an accident and as a result was called upon to take a test to ascertain whether or not I was qualified to be entrusted with the operation of a motor car under present day conditions.

I, who had been driving automobiles for nearly 40 years, with an enviable safety record! I, who had my eye on the road, I, who had been driving a breeze, (I told myself) The Department of Public Safety sent me a little booklet. They really know what they think about it, I realized that if I were going to pass a driver's test I'd have to get on the ball and acquaint myself with modern day motoring if I ever hoped to make a passing grade. What you need to know is what you know a new kind of a different suit of clothes. Rules of the road today are a lot different from those twenty years ago. Backing into a parking space between two cars in 1914 was a lot different from trying to do it today.

In the first place it was hard to find two cars to park between, and besides parking spaces were so numerous you added had to worry about wiggling in and wiggling out.

If you have never taken a driver's test or haven't taken one for several years I suggest that you get your nearest Florida Highway Patrol office or write the Department of Public Safety in Tallahassee for a copy of their "Driver's Handbook." You will find it interesting reading and if you study it and become thoroughly familiar with its day rules of the road it may save you a lot of grief and maybe your life.

Getting back to the test. After I read the booklet, I found that I wasn't as smart as I thought I was. One of the first I found I played safe and took a driver's course with the Harbor Creek School. I don't just think I should drive and drive and forget it, but driving habits and taught me to drive defensively. It was a defensive which is mighty important to anyone behind the wheel today. Approximately 50 per cent of our accidents are caused by traffic law violations, that should and could be avoided. Learn to drive to stay alive!

My examiner was Officer Doss. I am, of course, fully aware that actions speak more significantly than words; that deeds rather than speeches create the character of a presidency. We, too, cannot with certainty know what will be the character of the new administration until it has had time for action. But, for one take home in President Kennedy's words and pray they will be matched by his actions.

As for the snow-caked inaugural festivities, the less said the better. I know many Floridians who were disappointed because they didn't get to see the most who did make it wished they had not and envied those who stayed home.

These are words which, assuming they go beyond mere rhetoric, have a profound meaning for the future of the United States and for our way of life. For too long, the citizens of this country have been trained to look more and more to their government for things which they should do for themselves. The era of the hand-out, of something for nothing, has softened us as individuals, and as a nation.

Similarly, for too long we have encouraged other nations to look more and more to us for things which they should do for themselves. The era of the hand-out, of something for nothing, has softened us as individuals, and as a nation.

Now I am proud of my driver's license and have a lot of respect for it. It is a privilege and I feel that my experience as a result of my recent accident was very much for the "how-to-drive." Now I know I'm a good driver. I don't just think I am and I have learned to drive defensively which is mighty important to anyone behind the wheel today. Approximately 50 per cent of our accidents are caused by traffic law violations, that should and could be avoided. Learn to drive to stay alive!

From The Office Of Jim Haley

WASHINGTON, D. C.—I think all of us must recognize that President Kennedy's inaugural speech was a document of inspiration and eloquence—and that if our nation's new President lives up to the principles which he laid down in the speech, all of us can find new assurance for our country's future, and for the future of the world.

It is no secret that during the campaign, I was somewhat dubious about what might happen to our country under a young new president tied to a national party platform to which I could not then and do not now subscribe. But so far, John F. Kennedy's performance—in his inaugural speech and in the bulk of his appointments to top offices in the government—has indicated that we have a new leader who has the capacity to rise above a purely political document, such as a party platform, and do what is best for his country.

"My fellow citizens, I am hopeful for our future such words of President Kennedy as these: 'And so, my fellow Americans: Ask not what your country will do for you—ask what you can do for your country.'"

Let fellow citizens of the world: Ask not what America will do for you, but what together we can do for the freedom of the world.

These are words which, assuming they go beyond mere rhetoric, have a profound meaning for the future of the United States and for our way of life. For too long, the citizens of this country have been trained to look more and more to their government for things which they should do for themselves. Engineers To Seek Bids On Two Projects

Bids will be opened by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers on Feb. 2 and Feb. 17 on a flood control project and a military project, respectively.

The flood control project involves a new bid opening following the selection of the original bids in Jan. 11 because they were considered too high. The work, estimated to cost $100,000, involves repair of erosion damage along Canal 29A and Canal 40, Section 2 and constructing stone protection at three water control structures in the area northwest of Lake Okechobee.

The canal damage is located in Glades and Highland counties. Thirty separate culvert structures are scheduled under the contract. A June 30 completion date will be set for the successful bidder.

The military project, involving alterations and additions to the sewage treatment plant at the Air Force Missile Test Center, Patrick Air Force Base, is expected to cost about $200,000. Purpose of the work is to increase the capacity of the second-stage treatment plant facilities.

A deadline of Sept. 15 will be set for completion of the Canal work.

Winter Guest Club News

There is a counter attraction on the club grounds these days. We now can enjoy two shows at the same time. We can sit on the benches and watch folks play, and we can turn the head a bit and watch people work on the new building close by. It is always pleasant to watch other folks work, especially for amateurs who do not have to work any more. Let the whole blow and the bell ring, we don't have to mind them any more. Hence some of us get quite a kick out of watching that new building next door.

And speaking of work, a good piece of work lately in the house was the new ventilation system. It will be quite a help from now on when the house is filled with diners or dancers or people on a certain one way or another. At present the dancers are finding the system quite to their liking. They will find it more so by and when old Sol beats up the house during the day to almost the boiling point. They think it will be grand then to set the exhaust pump going to let the hot air out and the cool night air in. It indeed will be just that.

There was an amazing occurrence at the practice dance last Monday night. There were more men present than women. Two more ladies would have been just enough for an extra set, the usual size for practice. That can be easily corrected, and probably will be. At the Friday dance 74 were present, a goodly number, enough for seven sets, making it necessary to repeat most of the squares. There seems to be no diminishing of the interest in dancing here. It is the great indoor sport.

The weather last week being good the shuffleboard tournaments went on as usual. On the 26th, Shauger and Goodwin, qualified for the Hall of Fame by taking first place, while Milton and Stanley by taking second place at least got a look-in. On Saturday, the 28th it was two fine ladies who made the mystic H of F. Mrs. Bush and Mrs. Floyd. Two men got the look-in by winning the consolation, Wilde and Kramer. The fine weather brings out the crowd on these tournament days, also the competition. Lake Wales is sending down a classy bunch of shufflers to vie with A. P. on the 14th of Feb.

The pot-luck supper was a humdinger, and everybody attending reported a fine evening. The fair hostesses were Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Haas. At the close of the latter introduced the managers for next month, Mrs. Beulah and Mrs. John Floyd. A pleasing entertainment followed the feast. "Happy Birthdays" were sung for Bill Norman, Ira Eisenman, and Mrs. Sam Walton, who had just chucked up another milestone along the highway of life. There were short talks by several of the diners about the glories of the home state. Scott DeGlorio gave a fine reading, and Sam Walton spoke interestingly of the Machine Bridge in Northern Michigan, ending with some stories about the Ford Motor Company, of which he used to be a member.

And so Saturday evening passed on into Sunday, when 115 people praised the Lord by singing hymns, this time an hour earlier on account of the High School band concert. A ladies group sang a special number, followed by a men's chorus doing the same. Mrs. Fern Beck rendered two excellent whistling solos, and Carl Starratt played twice on his old friend the harmonica. If you haven't heard Fern whistle or Carl toot-foot, you have missed something good. We have musical art in our midst. As a final number, and in memory of the late Roy McKim, was sung that good old hymn, "In the sweet by and bye". In the absence of the musical Shirts, Fred Ifland will be in charge of the next Sunday sing.

PASSION PLAY BY THE TON—Twenty tons of costumes, equipment, and other theatrical materials being unloaded at the Lake Wales Amphitheatre, located 2 miles South of Lake Wales on Alt. 32 in preparation for the start of the Black Hills Passion Play's 5th season on Sunday, February 5th. In addition to the 35 professional actors and over 200 amateur volunteers, the cast includes 3 camels, 24 sheep, 6 white horses and 1 donkey. Performances will be held every Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday through April 15th.

Church News

Resurrection Lutheran

Sunday, February 5, is the regular Communion Service for the Resurrection Lutheran Church.

As for the devotees of penance and bridge, they had their usual get-to last week. There seems to have been a quiet penance winners this time around. According to our information at the close of Monday's game there were prizes awarded to the following five, may be in order of merit but not exactly know: Mrs. Lura Pickell, Sylvia Book, Edith Wagner, Ethel Brewster, and Bernice Tingle. There were six tables but no men winners. What but however, the men had their winnings in bridge next day. Out of eight tables Mr. Nickerson stood the highest at the close with a score of 6020. Mr. Layton next with 6610. And that's that.

Finally, it is with great regret that we record the death of Mr. Claude Pennington, a well known and universally liked member of the Guest Club for several years. He passed away recently at his home in Cleveland, Ohio. We personally shall miss him, and so will many others of this club. So says The Stroller

The Chancel Choir rehearsed on Wednesday evening at 8:00. This choir has maintained a very high standard for church music over a period of years. Its singing at the 11:00 o'clock service on Sunday morning is one of the inspiring experiences of the week for lovers of good music.

Compete In 3rd Dessert Contest

The third annual All-Florida Orange Dessert Contest is now underway with more than $7,000 in prizes being offered for the best desserts made of orange products, according to Miss Fay Gordon, Florida Power Corporation home service adviser in this area.

Sponsored by the Florida Citrus Commission and FPC in this area, the competition is open to all residents at least 17 years old. The contest is an outgrowth of the Orange Cake Baking Contest originated by the utility's home service department several years ago.

Congressmen Get 23 Education Bills

1st Day of Session

Twenty-three education bills were dropped into the legislative hopper of the House of Representatives the first day of the 87th Congress, according to a listing in the Congressional Record.

These are but the forerunners of hundreds of others to be offered within the next few weeks. Some designed to give Federal aid to public schools, some designate aid to the State to be distributed through the State school system, some clearly have relief to parochial schools in mind, and others of an indirect approach by providing income tax deductions for certain educational expenses.

Feb. 12 Deadline To Enter Ridge Bowling Tourney

Tournament time is drawing near for bowlers. Deadline for entering the Ridge Association Championship Tournament is one week away. Single, double and team entries must be filed by midnight, Thursday, Feb. 12.

The tournaments will be held at Ridge Lanes on route 27 on Feb. 23 and 26.

To date two teams from this area have entered the state tournament. The state tourney is set for Daytona Beach and will be rolled off between April 25 and June 4. Ridge Bowling Association Secretary, Jay Erdman is seeking additional entries from teams in the Ridge Area.

One local team unsuccessfully attempted to enter the national tournament which will be held in Detroit beginning in March and continuing through May. A record-breaking 6,100 teams had entered by Jan. 15 and forced the closing of tournament entries two weeks ahead of the announced deadline.

American Bowling Congress proudly points out that its organization now includes about four million members who participate in bowling each week as members of 775,000 teams.

The ABC is the men's organization. By the time women's and junior groups are counted, along with unaffiliated bowlers, the total number of teams and bowlers jumps to the neighborhood of eight million bowlers on a million teams.

R. C. Nichols Leaves SCD For Air Force

The Highlands Soil Conservation District is losing the services of R. C. Nichols this week. He is entering the U. S. Air Force as a 2nd Lieutenant, January 30, 1961. Mr. Nichols has served as agricultural engineer with the Soil Conservation Service since graduation from the University of Florida last August. This of course leaves the District with a backlog of request for technical assistance.

This week the Highlands District assisted Santa Fe Ranch in the design and layout of a water control system on 1200 acres of flatwoods land. This system is now under construction on about 320 acres being prepared for planting improved pasture this summer.

The Dressed Dairy of Avon Park was assisted last week in the layout of a water control system on 100 acres of pasture on organic soil. The system of shallow ditches spaced at 75' intervals, was designed by the water level in the ditches. This is part of 1000 acres of highly developed organic land used by Dick Dressed Dairy operation.

Cooperator Bob Hall of Venus has requested the district for assistance in the design and layout of a 1200 acre water control system. Mr. Hall is in the process of developing this tract of flatwoods land into a dairy operation during the year. This and other large dairies moving into Highlands County is creating a problem for the Highlands Soil Conservation District in supplying the technical assistance desired in these areas.

On Tuesday night, Jan. 10, the following ladies visited the Sebring Rehoboth Lodge: Bertha Barker, Bertha Kelly, Rubie Barker, Lela Barker, Bonnie Barker, Mary Smalley, and Cora Way. They were present for the official visit of D. D. Pres, Blocka Kistler and her staff, when the new officers for the Sebring Lodge were installed.

Many Enjoy Round And Square Dances

About twenty-five couples enjoyed dinner at the Jacaranda Hotel Thursday evening, and spent the evening dancing and singing old time favorites of popular music. Mrs. Edna Jackson accompanied the group at the piano for the singing.

Music for dancing was furnished by Clifford C. Seifert as he supervised the hi-fi set.

Robert M. Duthie was in charge of the arrangements for the evening.

Firsthand Look

"There is a Holy" was announced in a church bulletin as the subject of a sermon at the Evangelistic Conference of the District of Columbia Baptist Convention.

"Some of our leaders will be there, and will bring back a report," the bulletin commented.

Bob Barben was elected to head this committee as chairman. C. L. Reynolds as vice-chairman and B. J. Hays as secretary-treasurer. Others present were Bill Post, George Cross, A. L. Hall, Clarence Rehbrg, T. H. Maxwell, Felix H. Uzzell and Bob Oker.

Rebekahs Are Hosts To Deputy

Monday night, Jan. 16, the Eleanor Seavens Rebekah Lodge No. 67 was host to the District Deputy President, Blocka Kistler, and her staff of eight members from the Arcadia Lodge No. 67, who were here to install the new officers of the Eleanor Seavens Lodge.

Past Noble Grand, Mamie Armstrong, was presented a beautiful country and a Government car. She in turn presented each of her officers with a hand made present and read an original poem.

Guests from Sebring, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin and Canadian Lodges were present.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Hostesses were Mamie Armstrong and Bertha Barker.

On Tuesday night, Jan. 10, the following ladies visited the Sebring Rehoboth Lodge: Bertha Barker, Bertha Kelly, Rubie Barker, Lela Barker, Bonnie Barker, Mary Smalley, and Cora Way. They were present for the official visit of D. D. Pres, Blocka Kistler and her staff, when the new officers for the Sebring Lodge were installed.

Goodwill To Again Make Drive Here

Avon Park will take part in a special clothing drive to benefit the 215 handicapped employees of non-profit Goodwill Industries.

Royal Courts, who has been named chairman, said the Avon Park Boy Scouts and Rotarians will conduct the drive March 4-11 in conjunction with a similar drive on the West Coast of Florida and in Polk, Highland and Hardee counties.

Scouts will distribute large Goodwill bags at homes on Saturday, March 4. Residents will be asked to fill the bags with articles they no longer want, such as shoes, clothing, small electrical appliances, and household goods.

Scouts will return for the bags the following Saturday and members of the Rotary club will see that the discarded are delivered to Goodwill's production plant in St. Petersburg where 215 handicapped men and women are employed. Articles repaired by these people are sold in ten Goodwill stores, and from store sales comes their wages, Goodwill being about 95 per cent self-supporting.

Rev. Edward L. Dinkins of the First Methodist Church in Frostproof is county chairman. The St. Petersburg Goodwill was established six years ago. There are Goodwills in 125 U.S. cities, including Miami, Orlando, and Jacksonville.

It's motto is "Not Charity, But A Chance For The Handicapped."

There will be a meeting at the Jacaranda Hotel, Feb. 2 at 7 p. m. when Goodwill's director, Dr. R. C. Adair will explain how Goodwill rehabilitates handicapped people, taking many off the relief rolls to make them taxpayers.

Directing the scouts in the drive will be Scout Executive Maurice Paige.

Couple Fails To Collect Damage Suit

An Avon Park couple last week lost in their bid to collect more than $2,000 damages from the Avon Park Automatic Laundry owner, Charles M. Starnwood.

Dorothea Platt-Hendrick and her husband Martin had charged Sherwood with negligence in maintenance of the laundry. Mrs. Platt-Hendrick alleged that she had suffered an injured hip in a fall at the Avon Park business on July 3, 1959.

Jurors for this trial were Samuel F. Tauchen, Lewis Henry, C. O. Rogers, Caudy, Durden, Horace Lee Bryant and Eugene Blanford.

Other civil cases tried before Circuit Court Judge Clifton M. Kelly last week included two suits involving the Sebring Redwood, Inc.

Lumber Sales, Inc. won a judgment for $18,641.15 in a verdict directed against Sebring Redwood, Inc. and Josephine Motale. Another directed verdict brought a judgment for $3,650.81 to Lane Paskill Corp.

Atlantic Trucking Enmet Dwayne Lantry won a judgment of $2,750 from Emms Insurance Co.

Bridge Is "Popular" But Anonymous Game

Mrs. Blank Blank has been one of the many hostesses to small groups of bridge lovers. Bridge is so popular that most of those who enjoy playing the game are always booked ahead for several weeks. Some hostesses prefer to entertain with a large party at the Jacaranda Hotel and others prefer the series of two and three tables of bridge at their home.

All who play bridge seem to enjoy reading about the parties that others have, but most of the hostesses prefer to keep their own party out of the social column.

Philathea Class Meet Monday At Atkins Home

Mrs. Harmon Atkins was hostess to the Philathea Sunday School class, on Monday evening. Fourteen ladies and their teacher, Mrs. Bryce Martin, enjoyed the evening of games and entertainment at the Atkins home on N. Lake Avenue.

A short business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Hugh Haynesworth. The group also sang many old time favorite songs with Mrs. Martin at the piano.

The hostess served refreshments at the close of the evening. It's a lot easier to get in than out of a traffic square.

GRACE at MEAT

Bobby Burns calls us to thank God for food which He provides. The Jewish people use a beautiful grace, "We praise Thee, O God, who in kindness sustainest the world... Amen." They could well add their other prayer, "May our table be an altar of loving kindness, and our home a temple in which Thy spirit of goodness dwells." Many families use a poem, but more often this simple grace, — "Bless, O Lord, this food to our use, and us in Thy service; through Jesus Christ our Lord... Amen."

Every family would be blessed if they would say:
"Back of the loaf is the snowy flour, And back of the flour the mill, And back of the mill is the wheat and the shower, And the Sun and Thy Father's will."
But better than all learned prayers is our own, simply spoken directly to God.
Do you say Grace at Meat?

Lions Club Backs New Cub Pack; 2 Dens Started

A new Cub Scout pack has been launched here with the Avon Park Lions Club as sponsoring organization.

Richard Pate, formerly Scoutmaster here, has been named Cubmaster. Mrs. Pate and Mrs. John Surrency will be den mothers for the first two dens. Mrs. Surrency will be assisted by Mrs. Pete Crocker. An assistant for Mrs. Pate is to be named later.

Plans call for organization of two more dens in this pack at a later date.

The final arrangements for the new pack were completed Wednesday and the charter mailed to the national headquarters of the Boy Scouts. Maurice Page, district counselor for the Gulf Ridge Council of the Boy Scouts, attended the Wednesday meeting here.

The new pack has been given the number 450.

John Surrency has been chosen chairman of the Cub Pack committee. Other members of the committee are Greg Oteri (Lions Club representative on the committee), C. W. Watson, John Batts, J. T. Landrum, Pete Crocker, C. H. Hamrick.

Parents who are interested in enrolling sons in the Cub Scout program may contact Mr. Oteri at the Phillips 66 Station on Highway 27, south.

South Carolina Editor Writes Letter On Florida

A writer for the Charleston, S. C., Evening Post brought his Florida on a week's sightseeing trip through Florida, and writing home he wrote this editorial:

"One of the most lasting impressions is the cleanliness and beauty of Florida's highways."

"A tourist entering the Sunshine State is informed early by highway signs that litterbugging is frowned on and that persons caught throwing trash on highways may be fined as much as $100.00."

"Obviously a traveler could throw trash all up and down the highways and not be caught, but they don't. I rode hundreds of miles in and around Florida, from one side to the other, and never saw an unkept highway."

TRASH CONTAINERS

"On the main highways, large trash containers are placed along the shoulders at intervals of about five miles. It is a simple matter to pull off the highway and dump trash into the big cans. Throughout the trip all six of us (four children) scrupulously obeyed Florida's anti-litter law. The children wouldn't toss a chewing-gum wrapper out of the car window."

NOT WORRIED ABOUT ARRESTS

"It wasn't the prospect of getting arrested that stayed trash-throwing hands. We drove many miles without seeing another car, much less a patrolman. We could have flung trash out the car window all over the place and not got caught. But it is contrary to human nature, I think, to litter up a place which is unattended. Had there been trash cans on the roads I expect we would have added to it without so much as a thought."

Kind words of this nature make all of our native chests swell with pride and should be ever mindful of the need for the cooperation of each and every one of us in keeping our streets and highways clean.

Maxwell-Hoffman Wedding Solemnized January 28

(Miami Herald)

The Granada Presbyterian Church in Coral Gables was the scene for the wedding ceremony which united Sarah Elizabeth Hoffman and Thomas Hayes Maxwell, Jr., Saturday, January 28, at 6 o'clock in evening.

The Reverend Dr. Frank Alfred Mathis, pastor of the church officiated in the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hoffman of Cape May Court House, N. J. and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Maxwell.

Detailed simplicity characterized the church decorations of pedestal baskets of white mums and gladioli with palms and candelabras.

Music was furnished by Charles Beaver at the organ, who also accompanied Miss Anna Applewhite who sang, "O Promise Me," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride entered on the arm of her father, who gave her to be married. Her gown was an original design of champagne imported brocade, tailored with elbow length sleeves and a scoop neckline that dipped to a V shape in back.

A matching self belt was closed at the back with a petite loop to top the unpoised pleats of the straight floor length skirt. A short veil of champagne tulle was attached to a tiny crown of pearl orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid showered with carnations and satin ribbon streamers.

Mrs. William E. Krueger, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a gown of rose Peau de soie, styled after that of the bride, with a cocktail length skirt. Her veiled headpiece matched the dress and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations with contrasting green ribbons.

Young Master Keith William Krueger, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

Mrs. Maxwell was attended by Richard Oelkers, 3rd, Thomas Rieck and Kenneth C. Whittier, Jr., were the ushers.

The bride's mother chose a rose silk dress with a deep lace yoke and her hat was of rose tinted tulle. The groom's mother wore a dress of blue lace over taffeta with rose colored accessories. Each mother had a corsage of purple orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman entertained with a reception for the couple at the Massman Hall on Valencia Street immediately following the wedding.

They displayed the bride's gifts on long tables around the room. Baskets of white flowers and candles were used for decoration at the refreshment table.

One very long table was centered with the wedding cake and at either end were large punch bowls. The four-tiered cake was topped with a bride and groom ornament standing under a tress of white flowers. White roses and bells encircled each layer. Mrs. Maxwell, sister of the groom, Miss Ginger Mehling and Miss Bev Coggins presided at the refreshment table.

For a honeymoon trip to Jamaica, Mrs. Maxwell wore a beige knit sheath dress with dark brown accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell will make their home for the present in an apartment at 24 Sidonia, Coral Gables.

Here's More About—Hospital

hospital. The need of such an institution is urgent and will be of extreme benefit to the residents of the county.

Notwithstanding the fine facilities of the Walker Memorial Hospital, a second one is required to adequately serve the residents of our county and the surrounding area.

The construction and operation of a hospital is of such magnitude that it requires the financial assistance of all of the residents of the county.

"A modern hospital facility of this size will be of tremendous benefit in attracting future residents as well as county-wide industry."

"Industry is needed for the County, and a modern hospital facility goes hand in hand with this type of development."

"While it is true as in other instances of general taxation, there will be some who will never use the facilities and there might be reluctance on their part to approve the issuance of bonds or general taxation, however, one cannot foresee the day when he or she will require the facilities of a modern hospital and on such space in the kitchen to prepare that many. However, everyone was more than happy and well fed, and we are looking forward to as well or a better crowd this weekend, so come on out and enjoy a real treat."

Wayne Knowles is very happy in the number of players that have been using the course, and I am told that in the near future, No. 1 fairway will be sprigged with the best of grass. This will be a beautiful hole when completed and will make the course in fine shape.

The ladies have their luncheon and card and golf party on the first Wednesday of each month, so all you ladies come on out and have lots of fun. Mrs. John Giddens, Jr., is the publicity chairman for the ladies activities, so if any of you have queries or something to add to the activities out at the club, let Mrs. Giddens know, just call GL 3-4923, and give her the news.

Wayne is available for golf lessons to any of you that might be having a slice or hook that you can't get rid of, just call him at the club and make an appointment.

Be sure and come out Wednesday, Friday or Saturday for a nice steak or chicken dinner, you will see all your friends there.

"The hospital association welcomes suggestions relative to the contents of the proposed bill and the proposed means of financing the construction and operation of the facilities."

"It is not the wish of the association that any resident feel aggrieved because of the necessity of having to finance the construction through general taxation, and while there will be some slight addition to an individual's tax, it is the honest opinion of the association that the resulting benefits will far exceed payments required of the residents."

Compliments are the cheapest coin we can mint, so why do we pass them out like miserable misers?

Many Want Library-How Big? Question

They are not exactly sure how to get it, but a lot of people are interested in obtaining a Highlands County library—and they showed up at county commissioners meeting on Tuesday to say so.

Representatives from service clubs, women's clubs, church organizations and interested citizens from Lake Placid, Avon Park and Sebring filled the board room to overflowing.

After the meeting many of those who had attended the meeting admitted that they were hazy on what they wanted the commissioners to do and even more hazy on what aid may be expected from state and federal governments.

The one thing they were all sure of is that Highlands County needs to expand the library services which are now available.

Royal Coats, who is president of the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce, was one of the group who spoke at the Tuesday session. He said the county "would be a most valuable thing. It helps to educate so many people."

Julian Markham, general supervisor for Highlands County schools, said, "Good library service supports the program of the schools. We need this support in promoting reading." He mentioned, in particular, the need for publicly available reading materials on the pre-school and post-school levels.

Mrs. A. L. Marchand of Sebring said, "We need maps, recordings, microfilms, recreational materials, research materials which our little libraries cannot supply now."

Dr. William V. Berg of Sebring and Sebring City Councilman Gene Sebring, made the longest statements in behalf of the establishment of a county library which could be merged with libraries from Harde and DeSoto Counties. They said that such an inter-county library would be eligible for the more substantial grants made by the state and federal governments to libraries serving areas of more than 25,000 population.

Dr. Berg several times referred to the money now in the government's pocket "for use by libraries. Printed literature passed out by Mrs. Marchand and Berg was handed 'proposed bill' for the 1961 Florida legislation.

Mrs. Anna Belle Warden of the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce was among those who professed surprise when they noted that this was "proposed" legislation. "Everyone knows,"

Commissioners Take No Interest In Interest Figures But Auto Dealers Interestingly Interested

When is a debt not a debt seems to be the knotty question that came up at the county commissioners meeting this week, and it all seems to have stemmed from the bids on a dump truck which the county wishes to purchase (or lease as the case may be).

The problems all started when the county fathers asked for a bid for said truck. Five dealers submitted their cost figures at the meeting and kept their fingers crossed. The third bid arose when the commissioners apparently forgot to tell the bidders that they could not pay simple interest on a contract, this contract called for 30% down on the vehicle and 50% of the balance the first year and 50% of the balance the second. Two of the dealers did not state that there would be any interest due on the term of the contract, the commissioners indicated that the successful bidder would be honored.

One car dealer then posed the question why should this be when the contract showing no interest was $565 over the low bid.

At least one of the other dealers requested that he be allowed to remove the 6% simple interest but not change his final bid price, merely include the interest in the bid price. This was requested by an attorney general's ruling which reportedly be requested.

she commented, "that proposed appropriations are a long way from 'in the pocket'."

A member of the Sebring Ministerial Association said that in a presentation to that group Berg had not cited specific laws which make library funds available. The ministers had accepted without question his statement that such funds are now on hand.

Commissioner Chairman Eugene Hamlin suggested that the library backers send to the commissioners a list of five persons who might serve, with a commission committee, to contact neighboring counties relative to their interests in a library.

After the library presentation the commissioners began the work of opening bids.

Identical bids were submitted by half a dozen asphalt firms, so the commissioners voted to split the county's purchases half and half.

The companies are Central Oil co., Sapone Oil co., and Mariani Asphalt co., all of Tampa; American Oil co., and Texas Oil co., Jacksonville, and Bannerman co., Tallahassee.

The bids are for one year. Avon Park Motor co., on a bid of $1,063 won the contract for a half-ton truck.

A two-year contract for gasoline and diesel fuel went to Sinclair Refining co. Its bid on 98 octane gasoline was 6055 under the consumer tankwagon price, and for diesel fuel it was 346 under the tankwagon price.

One-year contracts were

BRIGADIER GENERAL MARK LANCE, native son of Avon Park, extends his thanks to Mayor E. A. Delaney following a tour Monday of a proposed site for a training ground for the Avon Park National Guard. Local national guard officers and city officials looked over the 10 acre site near the local airport which would be used for a garage and practice field for the heavy equipment of the Guard. General Lance is stationed in St. Augustine and heads this area for the National Guard.

John F. Crittenden will begin the first class in Personal Survival in Disaster, Monday evening, February 13, at 7:30, High School building.

This is to be a 12 hour course, limited to about 20 people for each class. Monday evening those who register for the class will decide upon a suitable meeting time for continuing the course.

Among the subjects to be discussed in the course will be survival in atomic, biological and chemical warfare as well as disaster resulting from other causes.

Commissioner Creel Among Pox Victims

"Seeing red" in Highlands County these days may have neither political or emotional connotations. It may merely be another case of chicken pox.

County Health Dept. personnel said "epidemic" would be overstating the situation, but they admitted that there are "several cases." To date Avon Park seems to have fewer cases than either Sebring or Lake Placid.

The victims at Lake Placid currently include County Commissioner James Creel. He missed Tuesday's commissioners meeting because of the red bumps.

Hundreds Visit County's First Science Fair

A constant stream of students and adults from all over the county visited the Science Fair on Friday and Saturday of last week. From the many expressions and comments of the visitors, this first County Fair held in Avon Park, was to be considered a big success.

James B. Martindale, director of the Fair, Floyd Clark, Robert Watts, Earl Yarnes and Charles West of Sebring put forth a great deal of effort and time, and were assisted by a large number of other teachers and parents and business firms, in getting the Fair set up. The students were all receiving praise from parents and the general public for their accomplishments.

The out-of-town judges worked long and hard Thursday evening trying to decide which should be the winning exhibits, and after deliberating for several hours, according to Mr. Martindale, it was a difficult decision for them to make.

The first and second place winners will take their exhibits to the Regional Fair which will be held in Duke City in March.

The Fair was financed with cash contributed by the cities of Avon Park, Lake Placid and Sebring and the Highlands County Commissioners. Mr. Louis Wainwright sent men from the Avon Park Correctional Institution to assist with arranging the tables, Townsend Lumber Company furnished supplies for the exhibit, and the Highlands County Guard made available the Armory for the exhibit and all of the school teachers were very considerate and cooperative. For all of these and the others who assisted, Mr. Martindale and his staff of workers are most appreciative.

It was heartening to hear some of the comments which were made about opposition in this column to the construction of a hospital in the Sebring area.

Of course most of the balking was aimed at the taxation of this area in support of a hospital in south Highlands county. This of course is a real factor as far as the property owners are concerned. We feel that a separate hospital district should be formed in the south end of the county to support an installation down there if they need it but at the same time we must look at the facilities that tax monies would buy.

We talked to several about the adequacy of Walker Memorial hospital . . . at the present time their 85 beds would seem to be adequate as would their two brand new operating rooms which are of the latest and safest type. We have learned that Walker Memorial hospital is planning to expand its facilities with an entirely new surgery and obstetrics wing which would just about double the size of the existing hospital and would allow the entire old portion to be used for sanitarium and recovery purposes.

It was further learned unofficially that a church organization was interested in putting in a hospital in possibly the Sebring or Lake Placid area which might bear watching by people in the south end of the county . . . this too may provide them with a hospital with the taxation freedom which is enjoyed in Avon Park and we hope will continue to be enjoyed here.

The only valid argument that we can see for the advocates of a county hospital is the problem of indigent patients . . . this could possibly be handled through a county indigent fund if the hospitals are privately owned.

THE STRANGE TOWN:

If in our imagination we might compress the total population of the world, now more than 2 1/2 billion persons, into a community of 1000 persons living in a single town, the following picture of the contrast we would then vividly see.

Sixty persons represent the United States population; the rest of the world would be represented by 940 persons. The 60 Americans would be receiving half of the total income of the entire community; the 940 other persons would share the remaining half.

Of the Americans in the town, 36 would be members of the Christian churches; and 24 would not. In the town as a whole about 330 people would be classified as Christians and 670 would not be so classified. At least 80 people in the town would be believing communists and 379 others were under communist domination.

Classified as to skin color, 303 people would be white and 697 would be classified as colored. The 60 Americans would have an average life expectancy of 70 years, all other 940 would average under 40 years.

The 60 Americans would possess 15 1/2 times as much goods per person as all the rest of the people. On an average they would produce 16 1/2 of the town's total food supply, but would consume all but 11 1/2 of that and keep most of it for their own use in expensive storage equipment. Since most of the 940 non-Americans in the community would always be hungry and never quite know when they would get enough to eat, the situation created by this disparity in food supply and in the existence of vast food reserves, becomes readily apparent, particularly in view of the fact that Americans already eat 72% above maximum food requirements.

Of the community's total supply of electric power, the 60 Americans would have 12 times as much as all the rest; 22 times as much coal; 21 times as much oil and gasoline; 50 times as much steel; and 50 times as much in general equipment of all kinds. Of the 60 Americans, the lowest income groups would be better off than the average in much of the rest of the town. Out of this average income of $2500 per year, the gift of each American person for all purposes other than private and personal gifts would average less than $55.00 per year.

With the exception of perhaps 200 persons representing Western Europe and a few favored classes in other areas, like South America, South Africa, and Australia, and a few wealthy Japanese, literally most of the non-American people in this imaginary compressed community would be ignorant, poor, hungry, and sick. Half of them would be unable to read or write.

Half of the people of this community would never have heard of Jesus Christ, or what he taught. On the other hand, more than half would be hearing about Karl Marx, Nicolai Lenin, Joseph Stalin, Nikita Khrushchev and other communist leaders. Reprint from The Intelligence Reserve News Letter.

CORVALLIS, ORE., GAZETTE-TIMES: "Communism was poverty, illiteracy and illness to conquer nations, as in Cuba to establish a base for new aggressions. Reduce poverty illiteracy and illness and you reduce opportunities for communism to spread and overwhelm us. But we must never lose sight of the fact that the ultimate goal is a free world."

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

From George Smathers
GREAT CHALLENGES FACE OUR NEW PRESIDENT

In simple but impressive dignity our nation has just inaugurated John F. Kennedy as the 35th President and Lyndon B. Johnson as Vice President.

President Kennedy's inaugural speech, which most of you probably heard, was historically eloquent. He entered his high office with a great store of good will and hopes for success from the people.

The job ahead is enormous and two-fold: for he now is both chief executive of the United States and the leader of the Free World. All of us I'm sure join in praying that he and Lyndon Johnson be granted wisdom and strength to meet the great challenges and problems of our time.

FLORIDIANS IN THE BUIZZARD
Floridians by the hundreds were in town for inaugural week. For many the move that pointed down on them was the first they had ever seen and they were delighted with it—but most felt that the blizzard which followed was carrying a good thing too far. On in-state news, Washington news, and the world news, the blizzard of news and slush auto jam in history. To Floridians who were caught in it, thoughts of the Sunshine State were never so warmly appreciated.

THE 87TH CONGRESS
The 87th Congress is underway now and already faced with a heavy legislative calendar. Some key bills have already been submitted. Many more will be soon. In the months ahead I'll be reporting to you about activities of Congress, with particular emphasis on how they affect all of us in Florida.

NEW DUTIES
I was deeply honored by my Democratic senatorial colleagues on opening day by being elected unanimously to the post of Secretary of the Democratic Club. By virtue of that office I became a member of the Democratic steering committee (which picks the Democratic members who will serve on various Senate committees) and a member of the Senate Democratic Policy Committee. This group decides generally what legislation will be brought to the floor and shapes our overall legislative policy.

A third function of the new job requires me to act as second floor leader to the Majority Leader and the Whip—being responsible for a good deal of floor action in legislative matters. As has been customary the President has weekly meetings with the Majority Leader, the Whip and the Secretary of the Conference. The President announced that we would meet on Tuesday morning at 8:45, and this will make Tuesdays unusually heavy days.

In accordance with these various posts I am not changing in any way my basic political views. I remain the same. However, it does mean that I will have an opportunity to present in an important new forum the views which I feel best represent the majority of the people of Florida.

What is most pleasing to me is that Florida is being recognized as playing a more important role in our national scene. BROAD SERIES OF BILLS INTRODUCED IN SENATE
Since the beginning of the 87th Congress I have introduced a broad series of bills which briefly would:

- Set up a system of nationwide presidential primaries and abolish the electoral college.
- Provide for presidential commission to recommend changes in U.S. election procedures.
- Provide program to enable self-employed persons to set up Federal Reserve banks.
- Enable persons covered under themselves and their employees.

- Create an additional federal judicial district within Florida.
- Provide for two additional federal judgeships in Florida.
- Amend National Labor Relations Act to ban discrimination in hiring of a person because of age.

- Use wartime enemy assets held by U.S. to pay American war claims and establish scholarship fund for American youths.
- Allow deduction of up to $600 for tuition and fees paid by taxpayer in providing higher education.

- Establish International Home Bank to encourage savings and finance home ownership.
- Provide for Foreign Service Academy to train U.S. diplomats.
- Allow taxpayers to deduct up to 10% in their method of writing off machinery and equipment.

...CONGRATULATIONS!

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The successful effort of the liberals to stack the House Rules Committee is an unfortunate thing for sound government, but the closeness of the vote on the issue should have lasting benefits to this Administration.

Despite the application of every form of pressure from the House leadership and from sources inside the White House, the House voted against this scheme.

The State of Citrus
By John Sides
Florida Citrus Mutual

Lakeland, Jan. 28 — Florida citrus is sadder than most folks realize, especially in its hardiness to shake off left hooks from Kayo Winter.

Any time the "Sunshine State" is tipped by a day or so of "unseasonably low" temperatures flocks of Up-North newspapers compose 72-point, and larger, banners like to scare-head that "Cold Blasts Florida Citrus."

"Freeze Puts Bite On Florida Oranges," of citrus & New England journal on a day last year when the mercury slid to 40 in Central Florida. The shrilled, in a P-I based typographical display, that "Cold Blasts Florida Oranges" in an unstable hint that there was hardly an orange left hanging on a Florida tree.

Such journalistic reaction is puzzling. Headline writers aren't, normally, so satirical that they'd take out of the winter of their own children on the Florida orange crop.

Could be the Up-North papers play Florida cold spells are just trying to message our Winter Visitors, most of them action in line up with Black Home from the journals, with something like "You aren't so warm here, Florida, when you're down there to skip the blizzards up here. Look what the cold's doing to the Florida orange crop."

Actually, the Florida citrus grower has long since learned his lesson. Florida citrus is goodly amount of cool weather to add sweetening to the juice and taut up the color of the fruit. Remember back R.C. (Refore Comets) how the ladies would glow on their pretty faces? (Scarlett O'Hara contrived the same effect by pinching her nose just before setting out to capture a hapless male.)

Bob Rutledge applied melting heat to the fallacy that Florida citrus is so acutely sensitive to cold when, back in 1958, he publicly stated that "The Big Freeze of 1957-58 is a Big Bust!" That season there were 11 hard freezes in which temperatures hereabouts dropped below 20 in many areas. The Up-North papers, and some in these parts, howled Florida citrus with those icy headlines.

They did until Rutledge predicted, while Florida was still in primary production, that returns to Florida citrus growers would set a new record that season. The bumper crop, he said, would be 1,213,220,000, up from the previous high mark of 1,188,000,000 set in 1953-54. (The 1957-58 record was broken the following season with 1,292,357,000 and the 1958-59 season set a new mark for season for total on-tree returns: Over $300,000,000.)

For the guidance of headline writers, and other shivers, the U.S. Weather Bureau here in Lakeland has set the freezing points for Florida citrus thereby listing the various citrus items: small green oranges, 28.5 degrees; grapefruit, 27.5; half ripe oranges and grapefruit, 27.5; ripe oranges and grapefruit, 27.5; tangerines, 27.5; tangerines, 27.5; dark green growth, 24; buttons (leaves) and 30; and open bloom, 30.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

While I am not at liberty to reveal when or where I was privileged to interview the famous or perhaps I should say infamous character, I can tell you that I recently interviewed Jose Garmar, pirate's and humorist and man-about-the-Caribbean.

The grisly bearded villain was in a foul mood but he tolerated me since he was anxious to get a message to the world and felt I could help him in this desire.

I learned that he is indeed planning an invasion of Tampa and his plans are well advanced. He is planning to land on a hair he snatched from the head of a passing renegade he spat viciously at a scurrying chameleon and launched into a tirade against the world and mankind in general. I have seen angry men but I never saw one to equal Garmar on this occasion. He is very much disturbed over recent developments in his domain of the Caribbean.

First he paid his respects to Castro, Cuba, Venezuela, the Premier, a fraud and an interloper, he pointed out that no self-respecting pirate would stoop to operating as Fidel does.

"The scoundrel has brought honest piracy to the lowest level in world history. Calling it a revolution doesn't change the facts that he has stolen far more than I or all other pirates combined, he poses as a hero and has fooled countless thousands with his lies and propaganda," Garmar said.

"And now comes another pineapple, this Portuguese fellow who captures an ocean liner and does as in the name of political expedience. He attempts to disguise his practical actions as a humanitarian mission for his passengers and crew. He puts them ashore for medical treatment. Any self-respecting pirate would have made them walk the plank long ago."

"It comes the navies of half a dozen nations are on his trail but so severely has he disguised his operations that they hesitate to attack and he goes on his merry way, while warships trail in his wake."

"Any pirate worthy of the name would not hesitate to fight as I have done time and time again. I don't care that Jose Garmar fears no man and was never known to run from a fight or dip the skull and crossbones to any foe. I am a pirate, yes, but an honest one! Even today I have openly admitted that it is my plan to lead my motley crew on an invasion of Tampa. I have even specified the date and dare anyone to interfere."

"Were it not for the fact that I am not at liberty to reveal the time and place of my next move, I would have said at sound government. I do not believe this chicanery will work because the navy would have shown too much strength even though out voted."

Minutes of City Council

(Special called meeting held at City Hall, January 30, 1961, to discuss finances, labor and other pertinent business.)

All members present including the Mayor and City Attorney. Invocation given by Mr. Dilley. The Chair explained that due to the tremendous expense of hurricane "Donna", the repairing and painting of two water tanks, the replacement of water line on Highway 27, the upcoming replacement of water lines and further extension in the City on the State Road program, which was not budgeted for nor anticipated, that if the expenses and purchasing was not curtailed, the City was going to have a deficit and that the following suggestions were offered to alleviate the situation:

Transfer Mr. Martin from the Park Dept. to the Garbage Dept. to replace Mr. Woodard who has retired; Discontinue the services of Mr. Sheumaker who is part time, with two weeks notice. Place Mrs. Durden part time which is tax season.

The Chair called for any further suggestions or comments. After a discussion it was agreed to follow the above suggestions to determine the need of traffic light to be located at the intersection of Main Street and State Road No. 25.

RESOLUTION
BE IT RESOLVED, that the State Road Department be requested to proceed with a survey to determine the need of traffic light to be located at the intersection of Main Street and State Road No. 25.

It is too late at this time to change my plans I would personally lead an expedition to drive Castro, Garmar and their ilk from the Spanish Main. "I shall capture Tampa, replenish my supply of food, arm my men and equipment, and all goes well I hope to add a number of vessels to my fleet, then I shall set out to deal with those interlopers. They will find that poaching in my domain is both unhealthy and unprofitable. I shall invade Tampa on Monday, February 13 and will sail the good ship Garmarilla up the Hillsborough River to the heart of the city where we shall disembark and stage a monster parade and celebration that will continue throughout the week."

"When this little task is completed I shall turn my attention to those who have made a mockery of my honored profession and wipe them from the face of the earth," he concluded.

The Florida Development Commission predicts that the state's tourist industry will experience a decline in the winter season of the history. The agency notes that all major rail, bus and airline companies are pouring millions of dollars into new equipment and facilities to transport northerners to the state.

Passed and adopted, this 30th of January, 1961.

AVON PARK LAKES NEWS

Herbert B. Welsh, Correspondent

Phone GL 3-4716

Box 289, Rt. 2

A special meeting of the Board of Governors of the Avon Park Lakes Association was held Thursday evening, February 2 with A. M. Luyben, Chairman presiding. All of the Board members were present as well as twenty-four resident property owners.

The group was fortunate in having as a guest, Ira J. Glicker, representative of the Developers, who was able from his wide experience to advise on matters pertinent to Association financial management.

Consideration was given to material to be included in the forthcoming annual bulletin which is to be mailed to all owners.

D. Grey Knowles, reporting for the Finance Committee, reviewed a recommended budget for the ensuing year.

The retiring treasurer, Thad Keeffe, entertained those present with his humorous "lane duck" remarks. These were followed by brief comments from Bertha De Santel and Leonard Duncan whose Banquet services terminate with the close of the fiscal year.

Before adjournment opportunity was given for questions and remarks from the floor. (Note to editor: Authorized for release, Helen J. Mordick, Board Secretary.)

No doubt most of you readers already know that your correspondent has been accused of stirring up strife on the Board by his reports on the meetings and dissension among the residents in his personal contacts with them. He trusts that these allegations were disproved in the special meeting held last Thursday evening in which he was asked to resign from the Board and refused to do so. However to avert any suspicion of guilt in the allegations he is resigning the job as your correspondent so that the suspicions may revert to their true source. You can judge the wisdom of this action by the forthcoming results. The personal contacts made in gathering the news have been a pleasant chore, but, in the interest of unity in the community, must be retired in favor of remaining your good friend and neighbor.

Former Columnist Gives Her Impression of Inauguration

Dear Editor —

Here is my coverage of the inauguration, and as the greatest editor I ever knew, the late John Perry, Sr. and for whom I wrote a women's column for his Jacksonville Journal would say, "Wait 'til the dust settles, then write something to make the people think. So here it is."

THE MELODY LINGERS

An old editor used to say to me, "Wait 'til the dust settles, then write something to make the people think." Well, the words of the inaugural speech still linger, furnishing us the best topic of conversation, and so it should. It made history before the last word was spoken. None of the inaugural elegance, whether taken singly or collectively, can compare with the deep stir of emotion that the ringing forces, the promise, the enthusiasm, John Kennedy's words gave his listeners as he stood at the rail of the inaugural platform much like a captain on the bridge of his ship.

I stood in the cold like thousands of others on that morning. I also went to all the festivities. The reception for the great ladies of our nation, of whom I think Eleanor Roosevelt stands for the greatest, although I don't always share her viewpoint. The gathering of the governors of our states I thought impressive. Even the glamor of Frank Sinatra and his review of stars and the dignity of the cabinet, Adlai Stevenson receiving a rousing cheer, and smiling Dean Rusk, who, to me, is tops and not because his brother is my friend of long standing. Not even the breathtaking beauty of the First Lady, whom I studied at close range, her sincere manner, her simplicity of dress, no jewels to speak of. None of this aroused the thrill, the uplift the President's words gave us on that bitterly cold inaugural morning.

My renewal in the future started when I opened my eyes to the bright Washington sun in the early hours of January 20th. The first thing I saw was the flag floating out from the pole on the house next door. It was a glorious sight. The last time I was deeply stirred by the flag was at the review of the British Navy in the waters off Spithead, during the Coronation. There were visiting ships there too, of course. I was on a British frigate covering the event. Turkish and Russian cruisers were close by and even closer was the American cruiser BALTIMORE, with the Stars and Stripes flying and the band playing the national anthem. A chill of delight came over me. The sight of the flag, the notes of the anthem — I wanted to shout, to laugh and to even cry. It was mine and I was part of that great, free flag.

But on the morning of the inauguration my joy was quiet, profound. I thought I'd never seen the red brighter, the white purer, and the blue deeper. It was a morning of promise.

I dressed and hurried to join the waiting throng at the Capitol. We shivered and stomped our feet to ward off the cold. Reporters thumped their numbed fists on their small tables so as to scribble faster. But on the whole the excitement and anticipation stimulated us and the moving scene before us was so intensely interesting, though sometimes a little slow, we took it all in our stride and waited.

Then at 12:51 this drama moved into its climax. The young President-elect stepped forward and laid his hand upon his family's Bible and in a clear, firm voice repeated the oath of office after Chief Justice Earl Warren. With his last words, "So help me God," interesting precedents tumbled into the history book. This 35th President, great-grandson of Irish immigrants, became the youngest man ever to be elected to this high office, the first President to be born in the 20th century and the first Roman Catholic ever to take office.

As he stood bare-headed before us, he made it felt that liberty was never bought low and he pointed his finger at each and every one of us as he intimated — what are YOU going to do to propagate the survival of that liberty? He gave us the call we had needed for a long time. The clarian blast to arouse us from the complacent aura of comfort that envelops so many of us and to tap deeply, more deeply than ever before, our well of strength, courage and purpose.

Besides the inspiring challenge he gave his own countrymen and all free nations, he gave sober, quiet notice to the Communists that in substance seemed to say — O.K. boys, I'm now taking over and if you want to talk sincerely and earnestly, we are ready. But no sleight-of-hand, no under-the-table. Have something to say and mean it.

John Fitzgerald Kennedy is a leader and let's thank God for him. He's a diplomat, too. Not only has he chosen the great brains of the nation for his cabinet, but he has persuaded men of genius who could very well fill top posts, to accept the assistant posts, for as we all know the assistants wield a power of might in matters of State.

So now that the dust has settled and we have time for retrospection, time to ponder the inaugural speech, take it to your hearts, teach it to your children. It is grist for our mills which, during the trying days ahead, will give strength and faith to our purpose. Pray over it that our wisdom will not falter, that our patience will be long and that our enthusiasm great, for without enthusiasm the other virtues lag. Cherish those words — the song is sung, but the melody lingers.

Winter Guest Club News

The weatherman, with his such of rough and cold, has had effect on the attendance at the dances. The number at the practice on Monday evening was less than 50, and at the Friday night dance it was 66—much below the usual attendance.

The ventilating system will be completed and tested before the next Friday night dance. The dance committee has been expecting to find the proper regulation of the fans and the location of air inlets on that there will be slow and continuous diffusion of the air without drafts in any part of the room. Spectators and dancers will appreciate such a condition.

Mr. Jake Stuckey was high scorer at Monday's pinchle games, with Mrs. Art Pickel scoring next high. There were nine tables in play so these are real winners.

Tuesday's bridge session saw five tables in play; Mr. Wharton scored 590 to place high, and Mrs. Keiser was close behind in second place with a score of 580.

Of interest to bridge devotees and those who think they would like to learn or improve their game is the news of Mr. Glenn Miller's instruction class on Friday morning at 10 a. m. in the clubhouse.

As usual, it takes more than cold breezes to keep our enthusiasts away from their favorite outdoor sport. The tournament on Feb. 1 was taken by Messrs. Kostich and Byrner.

The winners of the consolation were Messrs. Ifland and Stuckey. Did the cold weather keep the girls home or were they just unlucky?

Thursday was picture night, with movies provided by the telephone company. The first film took us into a home, ultra-modern in every respect; nice, to look at but definitely unattractive for the average retiree. The second film gave us a complete picture of the manner in which the balance country works in civil defense, enemy detection, etc.

Saturday's pot-luck shuffle event was won by Messrs. Palmer and Gibson with Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. White taking the consolation play-off. We're glad to see the ladies among the winners again; keep it up girls.

On Saturday evening, over 100 hungry folk gathered at the clubhouse for the weekly covered-dish supper. Nine tables were represented; Mich, Ohio, Conn., Ind., Ill., N. Y., Miss., Va., and Kansas. The bounteous repast was followed by a short program including a whistle solo by Mrs. Beck, a vocal solo by Mr. Hoppe. A gifted trio entertained with piano and vocal numbers and a short, short poem by Floyd Leonard concluded the program.

Those having birthdays this past week were honored by club singing of "Happy Birthday" and a most pleasant evening closed with the singing of "God Be With You."

It is not the policy of this column to list all the coming and going of its various members but occasionally an event of special interest is noted. Such is the case this week. It has been reported (not rumored) that our good friends Marian and Jay Kellerman have sold their property near Venice and have returned to reside in Avon Park. Welcome home, Marian and Jay, from all of us, says THE FANTLE, pinch-hitting for the STROBLER, who is recovering from a bout with a HUG.

High School PTA Observes Founders Day

Thursday evening, February 16, at 7:30, at the high school auditorium, the High School PTA will observe Founders Day. Dr. C. S. Clifton will be the guest speaker. His topic will be on Family Life.

The Executive Board met at the home of Mrs. Lena Suges, president of the PTA, Wednesday afternoon. Routine business of the Association was handled, and plans made for the February meeting.

Mrs. Suges urges all parents to plan to attend this meeting, the third Thursday in February. Refreshments served from the dining table included a cheese dip, potato chips and cold drinks, olives, nuts and candy mints.

7,238 Gallons Of Chemicals Used To Kill Hyacinths

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 8.—A total of 7,238 acres of hyacinths and other noxious vegetation was brought under control during the last six months of 1960, according to a statement released here by A. D. Aldrich, director of the Hyacinth Control Division of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

Between July 1 and Dec. 31, personnel of the Hyacinth Control Division operated eight air-boats, an outboard boat and one airplane. These crews sprayed a total of 7,238 gallons of chemicals to kill hyacinths on 148 acres of water in 38 counties of the state.

Chemicals used for hyacinth control are generally mixed with a carrier fluid, either an oil-based mixture or water. Under normal operations, one gallon of chemical is mixed with 100 gallons of carrier fluid and applied by spray pumps.

Dr. Harold E. Mohrens, editorial and curriculum director at CAP National Headquarters and author of the latest aerospace text on rockets, missiles and astronautics, "The Diving Space Age", believes Civil Air Patrol Cadets will be flying around the moon by the year 2000. They will at the same time be on the earth satellites service accompanying skilled technicians on research expeditions.

Parents of all teenagers, boys and girls (yes, we stress girls, because Civil Air Patrol needs their services) should keep in mind that American teenagers possess a restlessness that leads them, freely into new fields of activity with accepted standards. This doesn't mean that all teenagers are bad... statistics show that less than 5 per cent are delinquents. The main objective in avoiding restlessness of teenagers is to get them to apply themselves to something that will quench their thirst for adventure.

For fifteen years, the Civil Air Patrol has been trying to do just that. In the first graduating class, in 1950, of The Air Force Academy, were 28 former CAP Cadets.

CAP itself is considered a teenage in years of operation. The Civil Air Patrol is just 18 years old, with approximately 55,000 of whom are made up of male and female cadets between 14 and 18 years of age, while 55,000 more people are senior members or civilian men and women, offering their time to help cadets and be of service to our country.

It takes some $30,000 to train a combat pilot and before he reaches the age of 20 he is considered "old". That is one reason why cadets are given the basic flight steps and knowledge of airplanes, so that they might advance faster as a pilot in any branch of the Armed Services.

You could cover several fields in which a CAP Cadet is trained, but it would take too much space to even begin.

Although CAP is an auxiliary of the U.S. Air Force, a cadet or senior member is under no obligation as a member of our armed forces. However, should a cadet join any branch of the service later on, he has automatically earned an extra "stripe" or rank by just being a member of CAP in proficiency.

Now that man has put a chimp into space and in a few months plans to send the first human into orbit, millions of all kinds will be on the tips of tongues the world over. Thousands of young men will be wanting to get in on the space programs. The Air Force has just published a new official Blue Book that answers all those questions, all about each and every type of missile, airplane, even a comparison of space accomplishments of both the U.S. and Russia. This Air Force Blue Book answers just about all questions and is on sale at the What Not Shop, Main and Fairfield, in Avon Park. Originally hard bound and selling for $4.95, this soft back volume is only $1.50. We suggest you stop by today and pick up a copy while they last.

To all adults and teenagers who would like to know more about Civil Air Patrol, they are welcome to attend any meeting on Tuesday nights at the Sebring

Traverse-McLemore Vows Spoken

Miss Delores Joy McLemore became the bride of Gerald Williams Traverse Monday evening in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Aden D. Childers in the First Baptist Church. The altar was banked with palms and flower baskets held white chrysanthemums and gladioli with a tint of pink shades. Candles burned from the candelabras on either side of the altar and the white kneeling bench centered the platform.

Mrs. Dolan Hill, organist and Mrs. K. W. Elder, soloist, rendered a program of nuptial music. The vocal numbers being, "Hand in Hand," "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The stately brunette bride entered on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. The bride's dress was a white gown with a three tiered lace bustle in the back, which fell from a large net bow across the hips. Graceful apron folds of embroidered chiffon covered the front of the skirt. The petite waist line was accentuated with a small net bow in front. A close fitting lace jacket topped the bodice. The jacket was fashioned with a low round neck and long tight sleeves that came to a point over the hand. Her arm-length veil of illusion fell from a tiara crown of pearls, and she carried a white orchid bouquet, on a prayer book. Delicately tinted pink roses were cascaded in both satin ribbon streamers from the orchid.

Miss Hattie Leighton was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of green chiffon in a

The bridemaids, Miss Peggy Nagleschmidt, wore a gown of pale pink chiffon and Miss Donna Fay Wiggins wore aqua. The dresses were identical in design with a low collar of self material and a large rose at the front. Their flowers were fan shaped bouquets of pink carnations.

Jerry McKenzie served Mr. Traverse as best man. The ushers were Lefroy Benton and Tom Ringston.

The bride's cake stood four tiers high and was graced with a bride and groom figurine standing under a trellis of lace and flowers. Clusters of pink tinted roses decorated the cake. Domestics Can Gain Help From IR Service

Could you afford to pay your maid a pension for the rest of her life when she becomes too old or disabled to work for you any longer? Would you be willing to support her children if she were to die? Unfortunately, even many of the men who at that time are household help could not afford the expense of trying to meet such obligations. But there is a way you can help.

Domestic workers who are paid as much as $50 cash in a calendar quarter from a single employer can receive social security credit for their earnings. But to get the credit, their earnings must be reported. And that's where you come in. For employers must make a quarterly report to Internal Revenue Service when they pay a domestic worker as much as $50 cash wages in the quarter. These reports should be filed after the close of each calendar quarter, from April 15 to April 30, July 15 to October 15, and January 15 to February 15.

Most household employers will make their reports on Form 942. This is a special simplified form printed on the inside of a return envelope. If you are a household employer who is already on the mailing list of the District Director of Internal Revenue, one of these forms should have been mailed to you before the end of December. If social security taxes are due from a household employer who is not now on the mailing list, the employer should ask the District Director for the form and give him her name and address to be added to the mailing list before the next quarterly return is due.

The amount of the social security tax is 6% of the total cash wages paid to a household worker in a calendar quarter, plus the employer is expected to share this tax with the employee. However, it is the obligation of the employer to report and send the total tax of 6% to the District Director of Internal Revenue. The employer wage tax applies separately to each household worker in your employ, and no report or social security tax is due on any household worker to whom you pay less than $50 cash during the calendar quarter.

How many times has this man saved your life?

Most of us, when the kids are in the car, you get that "extra careful" feeling. You know, that's the same way your friend—the service station dealer—feels when you stop by to see him.

Over the years, you've probably come to take your service station dealer pretty much for granted. But when your kids are riding with you, aren't you glad you took his advice and had your brakes checked? His suggestions—small though they may seem to be—may have saved your life more than once. His interest in your safety is more than interest in a customer—it's concern about a friend.

And what a valuable "customer" if your own service station gives you S&H Green Stamps.

 3. Will it build goodwill and better friendships?
 4. Will it be beneficial to all concerned?

For best results with pest pots, says The Progressive Farmer: 1. Fill pots with good, loamy soil mixture. 2. Treat seed to protect against seed rot and damping-off. 3. Water heavily the first time—extra water is to wet the pot. 4. Water plants thoroughly in bed before moving pots to field. 5. Cover pots completely with soil when set out or the pest will eat as a "wick", causing soil to dry out.

part of the Mardi Gras celebration. Saturday starts early! The band will leave Camp Leroy Johnson by 8:30 a. m. After the parade a sightseeing tour will visit many famous spots such as the old slave market, battle of New Orleans site, St. Louis Cathedral, home in the French Quarter and old plantation homes.

More sightseeing is set for Sunday afternoon before the homeward trip begins at 5:00 p. m.

Chaperones for the trip will be Mr. Louis Wainwright, head chaperone and Mrs. Wainwright, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Luecomb, Mrs. Catherine Mitchell, Miss Betty Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Darden, Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Sharpe and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Wickham.

The average family in the South spend less than $300 a year for all medical expenses, says The Progressive Farmer, but twice that for tobacco and alcohol.

da Culvert Mfg. Co., Clearwater for culverts; Avon Park Asphalt Materials Co., for hot and cold mix.

Pavil Prefabricated Concrete Co., Lakeland and Florida Prefabricated Co., Tampa for precast and prestressed bridge materials; Ewell Concrete Pipe Co., Lakeland for concrete pipe; J. M. Whitaker & Son, Inc., Sebring for rock and linerrock.

The commissioners noted that bids for a dump truck contained, in addition to the price of the truck, interest charges. This is an innovation in bid procedure in Highlands County. County Attorney R. P. Duntz, Jr., advised the commissioners that the state attorney general had ruled that a county is not permitted to pay financial charges when they are listed as such. Such costs must be included in the bid-price.

Awarding of the contract for the dump truck was then deferred until the commissioners receive further guidance from the attorney general.

That wasn't the end of questions on trucks. Harold Barbee of Walker Chevrolet, Inc., Sebring, asked why all truck specifications have been for Ford.

Chairman Hamlin said the make of truck is usually left to the discretion of each commissioner, and the specifications were written from others now on file.

Commissioner Cecil Skipper suggested that representatives from the manufacturers should get together and prepare some standard specifications which could be used for the commissioners guidance. He added that he favors standard specifications which would include all makes.

The board voted to advertise for bids for a tractor-loader for use in district 4.

The board promised Warden that consideration will be given to including in the next budget some funds for use by the county's Chamber of Commerce organizations. Mrs. Warden said that the board at one time had appropriated $500 for use by the Chambers in Highlands County promotion.

She said the Chambers use large sums of money each year in promoting tourism and new industries for the county.

"Click That Bell" read a letter of thanks to the commissioners from the Avon Park Association. The Association said that due to the financial assistance of the board and other groups and individuals, the Avon Park High School Band will be able to leave on Thursday for a trip to New Orleans to participate in the Mardi Gras.

The Highlands County Fish and Game Club notified the board that it is suspending operation, and the board decided to make a study of possible uses for the county property formerly used by that Club.

The state department of highways notified the commissioners that budget hearings for second-year road funds will be held in Bartow. Highlands County's requests will be presented on March 7.

Conservation District Lends Assistance

By Sam Polston

U.S. Soil Conservation Service

This week the Highlands Soil Conservation District assisted the Consolidated Naval Stores of Lake Placid in the design of a farm pond and irrigation reservoir combination for citrus irrigation south of Lake Placid. Mr. Ed Holcomb, agriculturalist for the company says they plan to begin construction soon.

This pond is the second in a series to be built in that area by that company for citrus irrigation. The first was built three years ago on Hickory Branch and serves as a water supply for 600 acres of citrus. The pond to be built next will serve as a storage for a small stream and temporary storage for a large well to supplement the natural water supply.

Mr. George Moore, Soil Conservation Service Engineer is now working on the detailed plans for this job.

The SCS assisted Cleveland Bussey of Lovida in the location and design of five water control structures for improved pasture. Claude Howerton, SCS assisted the Santa Fe Ranch of Lovida in laying out 140 acres of water control on flatwoods land being prepared for improved pasture.

This is part of a 1200 acre unit now under construction on the Ranch. Mr. Victor Fernandez says he expects to complete the project this year.

Request for Engineering assistance on water control was received by the Highlands District this week from N. R. Jackson of Venus, and J. C. Duran of Lake Placid.

9:30 a.m. service of the Christian church.

There will be a work party held this week at 9:30 a.m. Saturday morning. All interested in cleaning up the church are urged to be there and bring a sandwich.

MRS. HERBERT KELLEY with that chic French look in a costume of pure silk, black and white skirt with black jacket. Suitable for a dinner date at any French Cafe or an afternoon garden party. Jane proudly presents this as one of the fashions to be shown by Ward's of Lake Wales, at the Junior Women's Club Annual Spring Fashion Show, "Fashions Around the World," Thursday, March 2, 8 p.m., Avon Elementary Cafeteria.

Here and There—

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Higgins' weekend guests were their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Morgan and Mrs. Mary Rodgers of Miami.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Heath who have been here since the first of October have gone to Los Angeles, Calif. to spend a few weeks before returning to their home near La Porte, Ind.

Mrs. Heath is a sister of Mrs. John Williams, and she is anxious for a comparable report of Calif. with the Florida climate.

Avon Park Lakes—

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Haines have been Mr. and Mrs. Doc Adams of Urbana, Ill. Mr. Adams formerly was associated with Mr. Haines at the University of Illinois.

Charles and Ruth Keys enjoyed a trip to Largo, Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Taylor of Lake Worth are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Al Diebold at their home on Carpenter Road.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hawk of Bowling Green, Ohio have returned to St. Petersburg after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Road.

Ladies Play Hostesses To Bridge Party

Following the dessert course, nine tables of bridge were in play and five prizes were awarded at the close of the game.

Family Finances

Postage is probably a minor item in your budget, but odds are you can save money in this department. Try these:

- Don't allow letters going less than 150 miles.
- Use a proper size container for parcel post. If a box is too big for an item, you're paying extra postage for the padding.
- Mail books and phonograph records at the special rates. Ask your post office personnel.
- Purchase stamps in books or rolls to last until your next visit to the post office. You save $1 by buying 100 4-cent stamps in a roll rather than buying two stamps at a time in a dime stamp-machine.
- Don't use special delivery stamps for services not needed. Their mail is usually given out at a "mail call"—the stamp won't speed delivery.
- Send fourth-class parcels—"special handling" rather than special delivery for comparable delivery at lower cost.

THE FOUR-WAY TEST

- 1 Is it the TRUTH?
- 2 Is it FAIR to all concerned?
- 3 Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
- 4 Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

Mrs. D. R. Hassfurter is the general chairman for the show, and she will be assisted by Mrs. Norman Todd, Mrs. William Booth is chairman of the models and Mrs. David Endright is in charge of tickets. Mrs. Robert Harben and Mrs. Donald Ford will have charge of decorations and Mrs. Gene Cruse, Mrs. Wen-del Smith and Mrs. James Turner will serve refreshments. Many wonderful door prizes will be offered, with Mrs. Andrew W. Miracle as chairman. Mrs. Endright and her ticket committee will be soliciting your patronage and they assure you of an evening of pleasure and entertainment. Proceeds will be used for the Ridge Area Day School Building, which is a project of the Junior Woman's Club.

Day of Prayer

How wonderful if our nation would take to its knees on this National-Day-of-Prayer, and make our oath a reality, a "nation under God." Even our money declares our faith —

"In God we trust." All those who have the prayer habit and many with concern for a good world will pray.
Will you pray? Then begin the vigil with self-examination. This general
Confession offers a fitting personal prayer to God.
"Forgive what I have been;
help me to amend what I am;
and by thy Holy Spirit, direct what I shall be... Amen."
Unless we begin in some such mood, we run the risk of hindering God's purposes instead of helping.
"Not my will, Lord,
But Thine
be done."

You In The Church
The Church is You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs
the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program
of service to humanity,
be a faithful worker,
a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.
