MR. AND MRS. RAYMOND HALL

Miss Carol Burton, Raymond Hall United In Church Rites Feb. 24

Miss Carol Juanita Burton and Raymond Alan Hall were united in marriage Saturday night in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Aden D. Childress, in the First Baptist Church.

The church was transformed by a massive background of fern and palms entwined with white satin ribbon and numerous baskets of white chrysanthemums.

The entire rostrum was covered with white cloth. Soft candlelight glowing from rows of candelabra formed an arch around the altar. The prayer bench was covered in white satin where the couple knelt to receive the benedictory prayer.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Burton and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Virgil L. Hall.

Miss Joyce Antley rendered traditional organ music and accompanied Mrs. Virgil Hall, Jr., who sang, "I Love You Truly", "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The Bride

The lovely brunette bride entered upon the arm of her father who gave her to be married. She wore a floor length gown fashioned with a bouffant skirt of bridal satin. The basque waist of brocaded satin was adorned with a tailored bow of the same material across the back. The long tight sleeves, pointed at the wrist, were closed with tiny pearl buttons, and the neckline was a modest scoop. Her fingertip veil fell from a small white satin headband. She carried a white Bible topped with a purple throated orchid, showered with streamers tied with narcissus buds in lovers knots.

Miss Mary Lou Bailey of Arcadia, her maid of honor, and Miss Nancy Coleman the bride's maid each wore royal blue dresses of satin and taffeta with matching accessories and carried rose pink carnations.

The flower girls were neices of the bride, Marsha Walker and Teresa White, both of Fort Myers. They wore dainty dresses of pink organza.

Robert Hall of Atlanta, Ga. served his brother as best man. Joe Milton of Gainesville was the groomsman. Serving as ushers were Ed Touchton, Charles Adams, Milton Stokey and Freddie Sachsenmaier. Stokey is from GMC, Milledgeville, Ga. and Charles and Freddie are classmates of the groom at St. Petersburg Junior College.

Teddy White, nephew of the bride carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Reception

Following the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Burton entertained with a reception at their home at The Motel Sharon.

Miss Harriett Crews kept the bride's book. Miss Beth Church greeted the guests. Randy Walker, nephew of the bride, passed out rice bags tied in pink net. White carnations and narcissus blossoms were used at vantage points around the reception room. The bride's bouquet and her attendants' flowers were placed on the refreshment tables for all to admire.

The bride's table was overlaid with a cut-work linen cloth. The three tiered cake formed the centerpiece and was decorated with a bride and groom standing under a circle of leaves and bells to ornament the top layer, which was supported by white swans. Mrs. Harland Walker, sister of the bride, from Fort Myers, cut and served the cake. She was assisted by Mrs. Al Gans.

Mrs. Ivan Merritt and Mrs. Merle D. White of Fort Myers, sisters of the bride, presided at the punch table. A white linen damask cloth covered the table and white mums and narcissus encircled the bowl. Silver dishes held mints and nuts.

Coffee and sandwiches and other dainties were served by Mrs. Ronnie Burton and Mrs. Robert Villers from another table which was overlaid with a cut-work linen cloth. Others assisting with hospitalities were Mrs. Richard Satler, Miss Bertha Greenwald and Mrs. Glenn Dyess of LaBelle.

Mrs. Burton chose for her daughter's wedding a sheath dress of pink lace and Mrs. Hall wore a sheath of aqua lace. Each had matching accessories and corsages of contrasting blue and pink carnations.

When the happy couple left for a wedding trip to the Gulf Beaches Mrs. Hall was wearing a sheath dress of ta-lu-ka material in a new Spring shade of pink. Her accessories were black and she wore the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Upon their return to Avon Park, Mr. and Mrs. Hall will be at home on Avocado Road in Lake Lillian Subdivision.

Cub Scouts Hear Indian Lore At Banquet

The Annual Blue and Gold Banquet was held by Cub Scouts at the Avon Elementary Cafetorium, Thursday night, February 23.

Tom Brown of Frostproof was the guest speaker. His subject was "Indian Lore" and he told true stories of the Indians and the white men who came to settle this part of Florida. Mrs. Brown was also a guest at the dinner.

Billy Martin led the singing and gave the invocation. Bob Barben, Cub Master, was in charge of the program.

The following awards were given: Howie Godwin, two year pin; Steve Prisoc, bear badge; Donnie Gentry, assistant denner; Mike Reck, wolf badge; Glenn Sizemore, silver arrow; Jim Warrington, two year pin; Daniel Albritton and Baird Robards, bobcat pins; Bill Smith, bear badge and silver arrow; Freddie Renfro, wolf badge, one gold and two silver, and Milton Howard, wolf badge.

Each Den decorated the table for their group, using the theme of blue and gold. Approximately 200 attended.

Brownies Hold Two Meetings

The past two meetings of Troop 79 were held at the Girl Scout Hall in Woodruff Heights. On Feb. 7 the girls made Valentine Dolls from lollypops and made plans for their trip to the Court House in Sebring. Lee Barker served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

On Feb. 21 at the regular meeting the Brownies discussed their recent trip to the Court House and reviewed the interesting experiences.

They wish to publicly thank Judge Clifton E. Kelley who was so gracious to entertain the girls and to serve them each cold drinks during their tour of the Court House. It was erroneously reported last week that Judge Rehrer had treated the girls.

Plans were made for the annual sale of Girl Scout Cookies which will begin March 1. The Girl Scouts and Brownies will have booths at various places of the business section of town, and they invite everyone to support the girl scout work by purchasing cookies. The proceeds go towards purchase of equipment, the Wildwood Camp and for the local troops.

At the close of the meeting Barbara Flowers served refreshments.

The Home

Seek to make your home
most lovely
Let it be a smiling spot
Where in sweet contentment resting
Care and sorrow are forgot.

Where the flowers and trees are waving
Birds will sing their sweetest song
Where the purest thoughts
will linger
Confidence and love belong.

There each heart will rest contented
Seldom wishing far to roam
Or if roaming still will cherish
Memories of that pleasant home.

Such a home makes man
Pure and lasting its control
Home with pure and bright surroundings
Leaves its impression on the soul.

First Hiway Death Recorded At Controversial Intersection

The first traffic fatality at the intersection of highways 27 and 98, South of Sebring, was the result of an accident costly not only in life, but in time and in property.

Melvin Clay Lowry, 45-year-old white resident of Miami, died in Walker Memorial Hospital at 7:45 a. m. Monday. He had never regained consciousness after being injured at 12:45 a. m. on Friday, Feb. 23.

Lowry was driving a semi truck West on 98 and collided with another semi—a truck headed North on 27. The two men riding in the truck on U. S. 27 were not injured.

Highway Patrolmen estimated damages at $60,000. Col. Joe Keene of the Florida Highway Patrol said this was the county's most costly single accident.

Patrolman H. A. Moore, who was investigating officer, said Lowry apparently fell asleep as he was driving and ran the stop sign for U. S. 98.

However, Moore said that his accident report was filled out to indicate that the accident site is a dangerous one.

"This is the first fatality at that intersection," Moore said, "but you can't help wondering how many more we'll have."

Besides the loss of life and property, Cpl. Keene pointed out that at least 10½ man-hours were needed to investigate the accident, patrol the area, clear the highway.

An entrance lane to a state road was blocked briefly, the patrolmen said, but even at the late hour a large number of motorists were on the road, "and they all wanted to stop", a patrolman commented.

In addition to two highway patrolmen, the services of sheriff's deputies, members of the Sheriff's Rescue Unit and highway auxiliary were needed. The Rescue Unit men operated the power lights needed for difficult task of extricating Lowry from his wrecked truck cab. More than an hour was required for that task.

At a county commissioners meeting in January Sheriff Broward Coker asked the board to pass a resolution requesting the state road department to take special safety measures at the intersection of 98 and 27.

"It's going to be very dangerous there," the Sheriff commented.

Lowry was the third traffic fatality in Highlands in 1962.

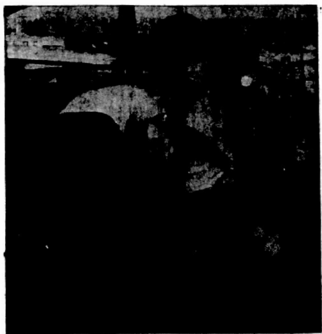
The 98-27 intersection figured in several traffic cases heard in County Court this week. One out-of-state driver, charged with making an improper pass at the intersection, probably was unaware of the law enforcement officials fears about the potential danger at the intersection.

In a "hot" letter he voiced the opinion that the arresting officer, from Florida Highway Patrol, was "prejudiced" against "Cadillacs and—Yankees".

He enclosed a long list of newspapers and public officials who are being notified about the "speed traps" in Florida and the highway patrolmen's prejudices.

Judge Mervin Rehrer ordered the irate driver's $35 bond estreated, and pointed out that "most drivers comment on how courteous and helpful our patrolmen are".

AWAITING AMBULANCE—Leon Parcell, 431 W. Canfield, is shown as he awaits the arrival of an ambulance after he was hit by a car at the new Food Fair Shopping center Wednesday morning.



PARCELL IS LIFTED into ambulance enroute to hospital. He was released later when it was learned he suffered no serious injuries.

Goodwill Bags Aid Handicapped To Find Jobs

Most people think of Goodwill Industries as an organization which is sustained by periodic drives to collect donations of clothing and household items which are repaired and sold by handicapped workers in Goodwill Stores.

Only a few persons are aware that Goodwill is a membership organization with seven types of membership. Those interested in becoming a member of the Goodwill Industries may write to: Goodwill Industries, P. O. Box 10398, St. Petersburg 33, Florida, or contact a member of the Avon Park Rotary Club. Membership in Goodwill Industries is a perpetual investment in human beings whose lives have been blighted by handicaps and other misfortunes.

Gifts to Goodwill Industries, including membership costs, are tax deductable. Those giving money to Goodwill automatically receive a receipt. Persons giving materials receive a thank-you card which serves as a verification. Goodwill is happy to verify contributions of materials if an itemized list is sent along with donations. However, Goodwill is not permitted to set an evaluation on gifts. The doner has to do that, nor can Goodwill verify contributions of materials after they are received which are not accompanied by an itemized list. They have no way of checking back.

Schools, clubs and other organizations can call upon Goodwill Industries at the above address for free programs including, movies, talks and tours. These programs are highly interesting and demonstrate the wonderful and many achievements of Goodwill Industries.

Hunt Area Kills Reported By Game and Fresh Water Dept.

TALLAHASSEE—The 1961-62 wildlife harvest by hunters on the 27 Florida Wildlife Management Areas exceeded all previous harvest totals by considerable margins.

Increases in bags were shown for all species of game and birds except wild hogs [illegible] damage to basic [illegible] according [illegible] Fresh Water Fish Commission.

Total management area harvest totals for the recently concluded 1961-62 season, as compared to the previous season, were as follows:

Deer: 1961-62 total of 3,540 harvested, an increase of 688 over the 1960-61 total of 2,852. Turkey: total of 1,427 harvested, an increase of 360 over the 1960-61 total of 1,067. Quail—total of 17,435 taken, an increase of 13,472 over the 1960-61 total of 3,963, when adverse weather conditions cut down quail reproduction on the South Florida areas. Squirrel—harvest totals of 23,233, an increase of 10,110 over the 1960-61 total of 13,123.

Migratory bird harvest totals also showed increases on the management areas: Dove—1961-62 harvest of 1,521, an increase of 778 over the previous season's total of 743. Ducks—harvest of 3,653 this season, an increase of 1,708 over the 1960-61 total of 1,945. Harvest of coots remained almost the same, with a 1961-62 total of 531, being an increase of only 15 from previous year.

The only decrease in harvest totals was in wild hog, with 138 being taken this season, compared to the 1960-61 total of 225.

Florida's wildlife harvest has been increasing annually for the past 20 years, as more hunters go afield each season, according to A. D. Aldrich, commission director. Despite additional hunting pressures, however, Florida's deer population more than doubled during the decade from 1949 to 1959, showing an increase from 36,675 to 97,225 deer. Florida's turkey population nearly tripled during the same ten years, from 25,780 to 74,765 wild turkeys.

The Avon Park Bombing Range kill was as follows: Deer, 35; turkey, 139; quail, 2,303.

BORG-WARNER TO DO BETTER IN 1962

Borg-Warner last year invested the largest sum in its 34 year history for capital improvements and research and development. Capital additions for the year totalled almost $50 million, including $30 million for U. S. plants and improvements, almost $10 million overseas and $10 million in plants leased to Borg-Warner divisions by seven communities. R & D expenditure was nearly $26 million. The resulting new products, new production, and increased efficiency should start making contributions to earnings this year.

Taken in conjunction with the projected increase in sales for practically all the company's lines, which include such diverse fields as automotive (33%), home equipment (33%), oil, steel and chemicals (10%), national defense, agricultural, industrial machinery, and aviation (the remainder), B-W is in a good position in 1962 to come close to, or perhaps exceed the record volume of $649 million set in 1959. And a sharp earnings rebound from the depressed $2.45-$2.50 a share estimate for 1961 to a $3.50-$4 level is a reasonable projection for the current year.

Best known of the new products is the Norge Dry Cleaner. Production of this coin-operated machine started a little over a year ago. There are presently over 2,000 stores, supplied by all manufacturers offering coin-operated dry cleaning. So far Norge has equipped more outlets than all of its competitors combined. And the Norge people say they will equip twice as many in 1962 as in 1961.

Quite prepared to reap the benefits of a projected 6.5 to 7 million automobile production year are the new Warner Gear Model 35 automatic transmission, especially engineered for compact cars, used on 1962 American Motors cars, and adaptable not only to most compact cars in the U. S., but also to many European cars, and the "E-Stick", an automatic clutch, used with a stick shift transmission giving most of the advantages of an automatic transmission but costing a third as much.

About a year ago, Borg-Warner bought Brummer Seal Co., a maker of engine oil seals, which was selling almost entirely in the original equipment market. Management is not only broadening this activity, but in addition has begun to sell their line in the automotive after-market.

Now, of all things, the shuffleboard enthusiasts are beginning to complain about the HEAT! Despite the unseasonably high temperatures the tournaments are well attended. On Wednesday the ladies were victorious in the main event when Bertha Brush and Ota Gibson lead the field. The consolation event was won by Mr. and Mrs. John Floyd. Saturday's tournament saw Frank Lane and F. Rouget win top honors with the consolation being won by O. Mast and Tom Kranz.

The attendance and interest at the dances seems to vary with the temperature. This past week has been unseasonably warm with a resultant drop in numbers present. Also, the spectators prefer on warm, moonlit evenings, to enjoy the shuffleboard courts. However, four sets put in a strenuous session Monday night, drilling on new basics and learning new squares, as well as polishing some of the more familiar numbers. On Friday night there were five sets come to enjoy an evening of fellowship and relaxation. The porch is a popular spot between numbers, these warm evenings.

The pasture is always greener on the other side of the fence. It is reported that seven of our dancing couples journeyed to Bradenton Saturday to participate in a workshop session. They reported well pleased with the artistry and skill exhibited by the professionals who demonstrated the figures, both in round and square dances.

Thursday mornings the club house is a place of planned confusion. Under Mrs Wetmore's excellent direction, between 20-30 ladies gather weekly for instruction in handcraft. Last week there were three different types of activity taking place simultaneously; there were some finishing their tile projects, some working on pine-needle craft, and a third group starting a marble-jewelry project. In this last work, the marbles are heated to 500 degrees, cooled in ice water, then fashioned into bracelets, ear drops and necklaces. The heating and cooling brings out a sparkle and sheen to the marbles, making them most attractive.

The Saturday-night supper attracted 72 persons, many of whom stayed to enjoy the short entertainment which has become a part of the evening's fun. Hostesses were Mrs. Hopkins and Mrs. Haas, assisted by Mr. West and Mr. Kienzel and Mr. De Golyer. Michigan lead in attendance, with 18 present; Ohio was in second place with 14. "Old-timers" reported one having spent winters here sincer 1939, one from '45, one from '46 and two from '47. Mrs. Krenerick gave a short history of the club, getting her information before 1950 from three charter members who are still residing in Avon Park. Those are Mrs. Mary Luxton, originally from Canada, Mr. Cal. Starrett, from Ohio, and Mr Robt. Bovard, from Pennsylvania. The most outstanding difference between "then and now" is the attitude of the club members themselves; "then" the members themselves pitched in on the cleaning jobs, creating their own "home-talent" entertainments, and caring for the courts. "Now" the members feel they come to Florida to relax and be entertained and have no desire to shoulder any responsibility. It would seem President Kennedy's warning and concern about "Spectatoritis" would apply to our Senior Citizens as well as to the youth. Television, as well as some other modern innovations, is not an unmixed blessing.

ZERO hour is at hand. It is high time men discovered the rule for living which This Old Book offers . . . the Golden Rule. For almost 100 years now, it has shown me the way to live so that my dying may be a simple transition. I trust its Golden Promises and I have seen them come true. But we have real trouble in the world today.

The Book says that nation shall rise against nation; that men would love pleasure rather than God; that they would turn their backs upon His church and would deny His Power. That's the way it is today. My God, let us dust off our Bibles and discover again, or for the first time, that God is the truth and the light, and that we are doomed without Him. Let us say with the Psalmist, "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path."

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

Jacaranda Hotel News

Sixty-five hotel guests attended the Annual Roundup Dinner Tuesday night, Feb. 20 at 6:15. This affair was initiated at the Jacaranda several years ago by Glenn Miller and Chick Cross and has continued to be one of the highlights of the season each year.

The program was arranged by Mr. Miller, who invited students from the local high school, where it seems that talent is unlimited. The group enjoyed the delicious dinner in the main dining room as guests of the hotel management before their performance.

Anita Luscomb's impersonation and trumpet solo brought down the house; Joyce Antley, demure and sweet in old fashioned dress, matched her lovely voice; Valerie Hopson, debonaire and clever, displayed her natural wit; Cindy Metcalfe took the guests back to the 20's with her impression of Flapper Days then changed to a beatnik routine. All of the talented offerings were received by generous applause from the winter guests.

The Saturday night social hour in the Palm Room was enjoyed by a number of guests who played games. Refreshments were served.

Recent arrivals include Mrs. Myra Hunnicut of Newport News, Va., Mrs. Harry Smith of Morrisville, Pa., Chester Waite and Paul Teeter of West Ipswich, N. Y.

Patience is a good thing to exercise, especially in traffic.

Scouts, Rotarians To Distribute Goodwill Bags to Homes March 3

Once more Boy Scouts will sally forth to fill Goodwill bags and, as a result, Goodwill Industries on the Florida West Coast, expect to have 300 handicapped persons on its weekly payroll shortly. Three years ago only 78 were employed, two years ago 190, today 250. The target is 500 handicapped persons on the payroll.

Goodwill Industries has credited our young people with being responsible for the continued growth of the hire-the-handicapped organization. Annually our Boy Scouts, and school children too in their various drives, collect more than 100,000 bags of repairable discards for Goodwill.

Scouts, with assists from members of the Rotary Club, will distribute Goodwill bags to thousands of homes on Saturday, March 3. Homeowners and their families will have one week to fill the bags with articles they no longer need—clothing, shoes, toys, small electric appliances, and small household goods. Scouts will return the following Saturday, March 10, for the contributions. Residents are asked to leave the filled bags outside their door by 8 a.m.

Goodwill Industries is not equipped to use paper, glass bottles, jars, etc., large appliances or furniture. Residents are asked to bind two piece suits, dresses, shoes, etc., so they will not become separated. If homeowners have articles in excess of what the bags will hold, place those items in another container and mark for Goodwill Industries. Don't leave laundry bags or clothing to be cleaned near the Goodwill bags!

Working closely with the Scouts will be Maurice Paige—District Scout Executive, G. Franklyn Ward—President of the Avon Park Rotary Club, assisted by Rotarians James A. Heim and John L. Townsend.

If any home fails to get a bag on March 3, or if a bag should be overlooked and not collected on March 10, bring your donations to the Quonset hut at the Florida powerhouse between 9 a.m. and 11:30 a.m., Saturday, March 10.

Scout units participating in this drive will be Troop 157, Troop 156 and Cub Packs 156 and 450. These units will assemble at 8:30 a.m., March 3, at the Scout House at Kings Court.

Passion Play Now In 10th Fla. Season

LAKE WALES—The Black Hills Passion Play, known as the greatest dramatic presentation ever staged and now in its 10th consecutive year at the Lake Wales Amphitheatre, has been attended by over 5,500,000 Americans who have seen it either in Florida or South Dakota.

The Passion Play was brought to this country in 1932 by Josef Meier as the Luenen Passion Play, named after the town in Westphalia, Germany where it originated in 1242. With Mr. Meier cast as the Christus and his wife as Mary, the play is given entirely in English. In 22 lavishly staged and colorfully costumed scenes, it presents the story of the last seven days in the life of Jesus of Nazareth.

Such realism is achieved in the presentation that spectators tend to feel they are actually present at the immortal events of 2,000 years ago. The central set, depicting a typical street in ancient Jerusalem, includes such scenes as the Court of Herod, the Last Supper and the Ascension.

A cast of 150, live animals (camels, horses, sheep and a donkey), over $50,000 worth of custom-designed electrical equipment, and special recorded sound effects, all add to the authenticity of the production on the huge 250 foot long stage.

The Passion Play can be seen in the Lake Wales Amphitheatre on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday twilight performances at 6 p.m. Seats are priced at $2.00, $2.50, and $3.00. Reservations are not required.

PTA Scholarship Fund Gets Check

The Avon Park PTA Scholarship Fund is richer by $308.42 which was the amount of a check turned over to the Scholarship Committee at the regular PTA meeting February 15, by Mrs. Lena Suggs, who represented the Year Book Staff of 1960-61 to Mrs. G. Franklyn Ward, chairman of the committee.

Mrs. Suggs, who sponsored the publication in 1960-61, explained that this amount was a surplus and that the Year Book Staff had voted to make this contribution to the PTA Scholarship Fund. Mary King and Monty Maxwell were editors of the annual and Morris Gay was the treasurer for the 1960-61 Yearbook.

In her report to the PTA Mrs. Ward stated that any contributions to the fund from private citizens would be welcomed. Avon Park High School graduates who need assistance in college are benefited through the PTA Scholarships.

Gasoline Sales Still Increase In Florida

Gasoline sales in Florida last year were 2.2 per cent greater than in 1960 and more than double the volume sold ten years ago, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce said recently.

"Sales of gasoline in the state last year came to 1,789 million gallons. Not included in this figure are military on-base purchases, farm and other state tax exempt volumes amounting to some 120 million gallons.

"Last year's gain over 1960 was the lowest in recent years. Since the high was reached in 1955, with a 12 per cent increase over 1954, gains have been smaller. The 1956 total was 11 per cent over 1955; 1957 was up 9 per cent; 1958 up 5 per cent; 1959 up 7 per cent and 1960 gained 4 per cent.

"Sales totals within individual counties have been used in the past as indicators of economic growth of counties or areas within the state. However, during the past two or more years, new wholesaling patterns have distorted county totals and they can no longer be used as guages of business conditions. The state total consumption is still valid and last year's smaller gain reflects the state's calmer growth pace", the trade body concluded.

New Furniture Plant To Open In 60 Days

To Employ 20 During First Operations

William Briscoe, chairman of the industrial contacts and promotion committee of the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce announced this week that the new Kerns Furniture Co. assembly plant was expected to be in operation here within 60 days.

Briscoe, after conferring with B. M. Knop, vice president and manager of the Kerns company, said a local manager is being sent here from Atlanta, Ga., where he was assistant to the plant manager. He is Charles E. Lyon, a Southern native and graduate of Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta. He will move here in the near future from Mableton, Ga.

Knop said the company would probably employ about 20 persons in the beginning stages, with a possibility of increasing this number later.

Workmen are currently busy repairing the Engleman Hatchery Building, which will house the new industry. The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad is also reported to be in the process of expanding their spur track which sides near the building.

The plant will assemble furniture for distribution to the Southeastern United States. Sears, Roebuck & Co., giant mail order house, is reported to be one of the company's biggest customers.

Dorminey, Former Banker Here Succumbs In South Florida

W. D. Dorminey, prominent banker, and former resident of Avon Park, who died at his home in Hallandale Tuesday, February 27, was buried in Fitzgerald, Georgia on Friday.

Mr. Dorminey had a lifetime of banking experiences. He was first connected with The First National Bank of Avon Park. He served the Sottile Banking Group first as Executive Vice President, South Dade Farmers Bank of Homestead, and as president of the Avon Citrus Bank, Avon Park. He had spent 16 years with the Barnett National Bank of Jacksonville organization, in its Ft. Lauderdale and Avon Park affiliates. He served as president of the Bank of Hallandale. He had helped to organize the Bank of Lake Placid, serving as Executive Vice President.

W. D. DORMINEY

Mr. Dorminey was born in Fitzgerald, Ga. where he attended high school and was graduated from the Georgia Military Academy at Milledgeville, Ga. He began his banking career at the Bank of Irwinville, Ga. where he became president of the bank. He came to Avon Park in 1926.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Mrs. Louise Dorminey, two daughters, Mrs. R. B. Wiggins of Pompano Beach and Mrs. David Lanier of Avon Park, and six grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. David Lanier attended the funeral in Fitzgerald and she returned to Hallandale with her mother for a few days.

The Dormineys have maintained their home on Lake Lotela and often returned here for weekends.

Harry Lee Is Now "Running"

Sebring Attorney Harry Lee jumped from the "considering" to the "running" stage this week as he qualified for the Highlands County Representative seat. Lee qualified with Secretary of State Tom Adams Tuesday morning.

Only last week the former Highlands County Judge had told The Sun he was "considering" running for the seat presently held by Howard G. Livingston, Sebring Attorney, who declined to seek another term in the House.

Lee was elected Highlands County Judge in 1952 and was defeated in a bid for reelection four years later by Marvin Rehrer, present judge. Lee is a graduate of the University of Florida Law School and has practiced in Sebring for over 16 years.

Phone Company Named In Suit

The Inter-County Telephone Co. and one of her employees were named in a damage suit filed this week in Circuit Court.

Connie Purvis, Sebring, is seeking in excess of $500 from the phone company and Harold Deck, driver of a company truck that was involved in an accident on fog-bound U. S. 98 South of Sebring in January.

Purvis is alleged to have been injured in the accident and he is seeking damages for present and future medical bills, in addition to loss of earning capacity. Deck was also injured in the mishap and spent several weeks in a local hospital.

Band Concert Here Sunday

The APHS Band will present another concert Sunday afternoon, March 11, beginning at 3:30 in the High School Auditorium.

Director, Vic MicKunas, announces that Dr. T. M. Daniels will be the guest soloist for the program. His baritone voice has been enjoyed on other programs and the band is especially pleased to have Dr. Daniels sing with them Sunday.

The band will also be playing some of their numbers to be used in the District Contest and music of the armed forces.

The public is invited to attend the concert which is presented by the band as a public service, in appreciation for the support they receive from the residents of Avon Park.

King Closes Land Deal

Avon Park Realtor Robert King, Jr., purchased seven acres in the King's Court section here this week, in a step for a planned subdivision. The sellers were Charles S. and Sara Lavin of Dade County. Consideration was $12,000.

King recently bid $5,000 on city property located in the area, but the final closing is pending a title search.

King plans to build 30 homes in the $12,000 bracket.

Devil Diamond Team To Open Season Tuesday

Coach Guy Garrett will put his 1962 baseball hopefuls on display this Friday night with an inter-squad game scheduled for 7:30 p. m. at Head Field. The Red Devils are working hard to get in shape for the Riverview Rams of Sarasota next Tuesday night in the season opener at Head Field.

Garrett has divided his squad into two teams for the Friday night practice game. One squad will have Doyle Griffin and David Ward hurling with Bobby Bates catching. George Kuhn will be on first, Randy Rewis on second, Eddie Bates at shortstop and Lanse Padgett on third. Jack Seims will hold down center field, Joe Jackson will be in right field and Max Still will play left field. The other team will have Leonard Sullivan pitching and Andy Miracle catching. Bill Ward will be at first, James Reynolds at second, Terry Oberle at shortstop and helping to hurl, DeWayne Lemler on third, and Tommy Marshall, Darrell Bailey, and Bobby Briscoe will take care of the outfield. John Rogers, David Barefield, Keith Albritton, and John Rhoades will also take part in the game.

The past week Sullivan, Padgett, Oberle, David Ward, Doyle Griffin, and Keith Albritton have been hard at work on the mound. Sullivan, Oberle, and Padgett all saw some action last summer with the Legion team with Sullivan perhaps gaining the most experience.

Coach Garrett expects his tentative starting line-up for next Tuesday night to have Jack Seims in centerfield, Bobby Bates catching, Joe Jackson in right field, Randy Rewis or Eddie Bates at second, Leonard Sullivan hurling, Max Still or Tommy Marshall in left field, Lanse Padgett or DeWayne Lemler on third, Terry Oberle or James Reynolds at shortstop, and George Kuhn on first. Performance in the Friday intersquad game could bring about changes in his line-up for the opening game.

Paupers, Road Topic Of Commission Meet

H. Davis Ends Speculation On House Seat

Hayward H. Davis, Lake Placid Attorney, dispelled any rumors linking him with the Highlands County House of Representative seat this week, as he flatly denied any intention to seek the post.

Davis, loser in a runoff with G. W. (Dick) Williams of Wauchula for the 27th Senatorial District seat two years ago, said he expected to make another bid for that position if the present reapportionment plan is adopted by voters this Fall.

The new Senatorial District, if adopted, will comprise Highlands and Charlotte Counties. The present 27th district comprises Highlands, Glades, DeSoto and Hardee Counties.

One candidate has made explicit plans to seek the House seat. He is Morris Adams, Avon Park oil distributor. Another candidate, Harry Lee, Sebring attorney, is still on the limb on whether or not to run. He told The Sun last week he was "seriously considering" running for the post.

GOP Member To Seek Seat Held By Jim Haley

A Palmetto Republican announced this week he will be a candidate for the Seventh District Congressional seat currently held by Democrat James A. Haley. The GOP candidate is F. Onell Rogells, a former State Senator.

Rogells, a native of the District, said he anticipates a good fight for the party nomination from Robert Hanst, who is reported in the running.

Rogells was a life-long Democrat until 1956 when he jumped the party barrier. He was born in Manatee County and garnered his entire education in the state—elementary, high school and college. He has practiced law for 12 years, in Bradenton and Sarasota.

The GOP candidate promised a face to face, door to door campaign, keyed to "service to people in all walks of life".

Camp Meeting Group Breaks Ground For New Building

Ground breaking ceremonies were held Tuesday at the Avon Park Camp Meeting Grounds for a new dormitory, the first major building the camp has erected since 1954. The last building built was the tabernacle.

The new building, located near Lake Isis, will be two story cement block construction.. The group expects to erect the $15,000 building at a cost of $11,000, thanks to donated labor. The foundation, 74 x 35 feet, with all plumbing installations will be completed now and the remainder of the building completed next winter.

Mrs. S. W. Hughes, Camp Meeting Treasurer turned the first spade of dirt in the brief ground breaking ceremonies as a small group of members braved chilly winds in the background. Assisting in the ground breaking exercises were the Rev. T. Homer Smith, executive vice president; Chris Schoenhals, finance chairman and Roy A. Watts, building chairman.

The ceremony included the reading of "For the Beauty of the Earth" by Secretary Chester Lewis and a prayer by Schoenhals and the ritual, "We Break Ground Today." Lewis said over $7,000 of the cost is in the camps hands and in pledges.

The camp has 28 additional church pews given by the Lealman Avenue Methodist Church, St. Petersburg that are presently being installed in the tabernacle.

The camp will be host to the Methodist Men's Brotherhood of Sarasota on March 16 and 17.

Cost More To Die Now Than In Past

Like everything else, the cost of dieing has gone up, and the trend is reflected in contracts negotiated recently in several Florida counties.

In Polk County, for example, the fee for adult pauper burials has been boosted from $175 to $400.

Highlands County commissioners, dismayed at the $250 fee set for pauper burials, is currently starting a study of burial costs in other Florida counties.

There are some indications that the end of the study may be to show Highlands County in a bracket with low contract figures.

A national trade journal for funeral directors, in a recent issue, said the national average for pauper burials now stands between $350 and $400.

In 1957 this county's board of commissioners worked out a set of fees for pauper burials, and the same fees are paid regardless of which funeral home provides the service.

The set fees range from $50 for infants up to $250 for adults. The cemetery owners in the county follow no uniform policy on pauper burials, however, and the undertaker occasionally must purchase a burial site out of the county's fee.

At Tuesday's commissioner meeting the question was raised whether a savings might be realized by awarding contracts on the basis of competative bids.

This practice is followed in some parts of Florida and in other states. However, it is increasingly difficult to get undertakers to submit bids.

One undertaker pointed out, "In such a system the family involved has absolutely no choice. The family that cannot afford burial fees would be forced to use the services of one or two funeral homes.

"We don't operate that way on indigent medical bills. No one is forced to go to a certain doctor, and many families feel keenly about having the funeral director of their choice," he concluded.

Highlands County commissioners do make one stipulation on pauper burials—interment must be within Highlands County. One funeral home operator said this seems a wise rule. Sometimes, he said, the person who has died is a worker whose home is great distance away.

Some of the large cities have sought to cut out-lay for burial of indigents by extensive use of cremation. This was one suggestion which was never introduced into Highlands County commissioners' discussion of the "high cost of dieing".

Double-Header

The Sun accomplished what some might consider a difficult feat last week. It succeeded in promoting one Florida Highway Officer to a Colonel, while demoting another to Patrolman — all in one story.

The error was called to our attention by some close friends of the FHP officers.

Colonel Joe Keene of the Highway Patrol is actually a Corporal and Patrolman H. A. Moore is a Trooper, one rank higher than a Patrolman.

JAMES CREEL

Hamlin Leads Qualifiers For County Offices

County Commissioner Eugene Hamlin was the first candidate to qualify to make the race in up-coming county elections. He qualified Tuesday.

All candidates for county offices must file within a two weeks period which began March 6.

Shortly after Hamlin had filed as a candidate for the district II commission post, veteran commissioner James Creel filed for the district IV job.

The only other candidate to file Tuesday morning was Sebring realtor, Mrs. Pearl Yeager. Mrs. Yeager is seeking reelection as a member of the Republican state executive committee.

Hamlin, immediate past chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, is now completing his first term on the board.

Creel too is a past chairman of the commissioners. He was vice chairman for one year and chairman for three years. Creel, who is a citrus nurseryman, lives in Lake Placid. He will be seeking his third term as a commissioner.

Only two commissioners will be chosen this year. So far no one has announced plans to oppose Hamlin or Creel.

Three other county offices will be filled at the upcoming election, school board seats. Up for reelection will be E. Ray Wells, District 1, Avon Park; Jack Wirick, District 3, Lake Placid and Henry Bailey, District 5, Sebring. All are expected to seek reelection.

City Officials To Dine March 13

The City of Avon Park has invited past and present Highlands County Commissioners and City Councilmen to dine at the Florida Power Club House on March 13.

The group was invited to share in the dinner for their efforts in securing the road program here. Before the dinner they will tour the city streets included in the program.

[illegible] budget hearing [illegible] the county [illegible] road department, the board adopted the list of priorities for secondary road projects. County Attorney R. F. Dunty, Jr. was instructed to draw up the detailed descriptions of the roads on the list. No new projects were added to the list submitted in 1961.

Dunty said the Fisheating Creek project is completely designed now, and the 9-Mile Grade is "on the drafting boards". These two projects had been listed a year ago as the major items after the street improvements in Lake Placid, Sebring and Avon Park.

Tax Assessor P. G. Gearing reported that the work on aerial maps of the county is progressing "but slowly because of the dusty, hazy weather we've had". He said his office has received nearly 100 photographs and he is now busy studying them. Gearing said the photos will be especially helpful in locating new groves.

In other actions this week the board voted to send a letter to Morris Adams, chairman of the County Chambers of Commerce roads committee, requesting him to work toward organization of delegation to attend the road department budget hearing in Bartow on March 13.

Several communities in the Ridge area have indicated that they are planning to send a delegation to the budget hearing to request immediate four-laning of U. S. 27.

The board conferred, at some length, with the design engineer on the Upper Josephine Creek Watershed Project. Engineer Harry Fryerson said original plans to place a bridge on a water control structure for Lake Josephine now appear impractical.

Watershed staff hope to get the first phase of the project into construction "by fall".

The commissioners voted to advertise for bids for heavy, treated timbers for bridges.

DWI Charges In County Court

Three Highlands County drivers appeared in County Court this week to face charges of driving while intoxicated.

William Willis, Lake Placid Negro, was charged with striking a pedestrian while driving under the influence of liquor. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to four months in jail.

The 30-year-old driver was fined $250 or two months more in jail and will lose his license for the maximum time.

On a charge of driving with an improper license he was fined $25 or 15 days in jail.

Roy Lee Stoker, also of Lake Placid, pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated and was fined $200 or 90 days in jail.

The 27-year-old white driver will lose his driver's license for three months.

Chester A. Clarke, 41-year-old white resident of Sebring, pleaded not guilty to driving while intoxicated. He will be tried in the March term of County Court.

Gerald Elrod Hultgren, 20, white, of Oak Park, Ill., pleaded guilty to driving while his license was revoked, and was sentenced to 15 days in jail.

Eddie Ned Reynolds, 28-year-old Negro from Lake Placid, has been bound over to Circuit Court where he'll face a charge of aggravated assault. After his preliminary hearing, Reynolds bond was set at $1,000.

Cliff Alexander Lloyd, 22-year-old Sebring Negro, will receive a preliminary hearing on Friday on a breaking and entering charge. Judge Marvin Rehrer set Lloyd's bond at $500.

[illegible]

[illegible] ambulances [illegible] they can [illegible] city limits. Now just what kind of a law is this? I have lived in big cities with congestion and very heavy traffic and you can hear the sirens and ambulances speeding through town all night long.

Another thing, sometimes a few minutes means life or death to the person involved. I wonder if our city officials would want that law enforced if it happened to be one of them or one very dear to them?

Here is the good part, a little boy was killed on Lake Ave. from a car going 55 miles per hour, yet Lake Ave. has been a 25 mile zone and by the church 15, and a residential street. Yet the paper said if the man would of been going 20 it couldn't of helped. I say it would as he could of stopped sooner, and had his car under control, ask any highway patrolman.

Yet this man was speeding and caused a death, and the drivers of ambulances can't speed in our city to save a life. I cannot understand such action.

If that would of been my son killed by a man traveling 55 miles in 25 mile zone, I sure would demand an investigation.

As our new surfaced streets have become speedways and more lives will be lost if speed laws aren't enforced. I have saw several very close accidents on new streets.

I think that was a wonderful letter concerning Postal examination in last weeks paper. It seems to of created more interest than Col. Glenn's flight into orbit. I am in favor of our seriously disabled, who gave so much for so little in return.

In Interest of Public

Editor's Note: The accident referred to in the above letter happened outside the city limits. Also, below is the letter sent to all ambulances in the area.

June 13, 1961

Gentlemen:

In view of the recent accident resulting in a death, the City of Avon Park requests all ambulances to observe the speed laws of the city.

Yours very truly,

Washington Report

By Congressman Jim Haley

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The House Appropriations Committee has come forth with a statistic which should frighten every man, woman and reasonably mature child in this country. It certainly frightens me.

This is the appropriations committee statement: Interest on the public debt now is costing the taxpayers $17,960 every minute of the day.

I will not even attempt to compute what that amounts to per hour or per day, but I will point out that the interest on the public debt now has become the largest single item in our federal budget except for the defense appropriation. This, I remind you, is interest alone. We are not now engaged in making significant payments on the principal of the debt—to the contrary, we still are increasing it.

The sad fact is that this Congress has just boosted the debt ceiling to the three hundred billion-dollar mark and the Secretary of the Treasury, without waiting even for that increase to be signed into law, already has warned us that he will be back for more, and soon.

To be alarmed by this situation is nothing new to me—indeed, I have had pending in the House for several years, legislation which would make mandatory some annual reduction in the national debt by giving payments on it priority over all other appropriations. But this proposal is one that has been bitterly opposed by the bureaucratic government for many years.

It is, however, encouraging that so powerful a group as the House Appropriations committee [illegible] an interest in the [illegible] It said in a [illegible] the House that the federal government in years of prosperity "such as we are now enjoying" should have a budget surplus—but instead is running an estimated seven billion dollar deficit this year and probably will run a deficit in the year beginning July 1.

We need more than alarm from the committee, however. It, more than any other instrument of the Congress, could do something about the national debt, by taking action to eliminate all non-essential spending. But I am sorry to say that the spenders still are in the saddle.

One personal note, it may be of some interest to you that my home in Washington has been broken into for the third time in five years. Apparently, this time, the burglar was frightened away before he could make a selection of my goods to take away.

Washington has a greater variety of police forces than any town in the world, I suspect, and my house on Capitol Hill certainly is in no remote neighborhood. The truth is that there is great disrespect for law and order in our nation's capitol these days, and this attitude is encouraged by the lenient attitude of many of the judges here.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. G. Franklyn Ward, president of the Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children wishes to thank the anonymous doners for the work done in getting grounds cleaned around the new school building. She says two colored men were seen working there Saturday, and so far she has no idea of who sent them there to do the cleaning job.

CRACKER POLITICS

By Allen Morris

TALLAHASSEE — "Give justice the green light!" was the 1956 appeal. Voters heeded. Now the motorists (litigants) are swamping the traffic cops (judges).

We're not back where we started - yet. But the volume is building up at a rate such as to cause members of the Judicial Council to be giving thought to new relief for the Supreme court and the public.

Here are the significant figures:

For the year 1958, the first complete year after creation of the District Courts of Appeal, the Supreme court disposed of 582 cases and had 146 left on its docket.

For 1959, the court disposed of 548 cases and had 151 left.

For 1960, the court disposed of 676 cases and had 223 left.

For 1961, the court disposed of 691 cases and had 281 left.

Thus, the number of hanging cases creeps up despite the increasing number of cases being completed.

Chief Justice B. K. Roberts is also Chairman of the Judicial Council, a 17-member committee of judges, lawyers and laymen charged by the Legislature with bettering the administration of justice.

"Because of the importance to the people in so many ways of the prompt and proper dispatch of their business in the courts," declared Chairman Roberts, "the Judicial Council is starting now to look for answers to this problem before it again reaches the crisis stage of the 1950's."

The traffic signal symbolism of "give justice the green light" was used by the Judicial Council in asking the voters in 1956 to create the three District Courts of Appeal. This new layer of appellate courts was designed both to bring justice nearer home for litigants and to ease the burden on the Supreme court, then, as now, the most congested superior court in the nation.

It then was stressed that this was not primarily a judicial relief measure, except in the sense of lightening any sense of guilt over the inexorably increasing pile of unfinished work. It was said that judges, like other craftsmen, could produce only so many opinions even when laboring at top speed.

The voters accepted this recommendation of the Judicial Council to create the District Courts of Appeal, and a subsequent one in 1960 to increase the number of DCA judges from nine to 14. Meantime, mainly by reason of the population increase certified by the 1960 census, the number of Circuit judges has jumped from 59 to 103.

Thus, since 1956 the number of judges of the District Courts of Appeal has gone from none to 14 and the number of Circuit judges has increased from 59 to 103.

"Whenever you increase the working force, you're going to do more business," succinctly observed Chief Justice Roberts.

"The Supreme court might be likened to a planing mill," remarked Judge Roberts. "This mill finishes the lumber which saw mills furnish. If you double and treble the number of saw mills supplying law product to a particular planing mill, the volume of its work is bound to increase, too."

With local courts better able to give prompt service, it has become more desirable for claimants to litigate rather than settle. "This is as it should be," remarks Chief Justice Roberts.

And by creating the District Courts of Appeal, at population centers, the State has given the right of appellate review to many people who otherwise might have regarded this as a luxury that could not afford. All appeals formerly required trips to Tallahassee.

A certain amount of all this new litigation works its way to the Supreme court.

"Too, Florida continues to have the pains of growth felt in its courts," explained the Chief Justice. "Not only is the population changing but the character of the state. There is greater industrialization. That brings about more and different litigation concerned with: labor relations, contracts, industrial accidents."

Judge Roberts said the public agencies - the 67 counties, 350 cities, and numerous special districts - have been under pressure to meet the demand for services. Bond validations and financing plans have piled up grist for the judicial mill. "And," he added, "motor vehicles may be expected to provide more and more business for the courts."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their lovely gifts we received at the shower, and the many cards of congratulations. May God bless everyone.

The State of Citrus

By John Sikes — Florida Citrus Mutual

LAKELAND. — The other day a young German fraulein dropped in on Florida Citrus Mutual. For a beauteous, well-endowed—36½-23-36, 5-8, green eyes, platinum hair—miss of 25 who speaks little American, she showed uncommon interest in such citrus matters as frozen orange concentrate, pricing patterns, utilization charts and the like.

As the reigning Miss Universe, a title she acquired last year at Miami Beach in competition with some 45 or 50 universal beauties, her schedule is uncomfortably tight as she strives to give as many of her subjects as possible a good look at her.

In tow of Mutual Vice President James C. Morton, himself a born Scot, and Assistant General Manager Herman F. Steele, a native Virginian, Miss Universe—nee Marlene Schmidt—whirlwinded through this Florida citrus look-see in one hour and 27 minutes flat:

Checked by Mutual and immediately motorcaded to Auburndale and Adams Packing Co., where Herschell Sorrells, Adams's top man, personally guided her on a quick tour of his company's concentrate and sectionizing operations. Thence to an Adams grove where she picked her first orange. (Here she indicated entrancement and asked that she be photographed with a sprig of orange blossoms in her hair.)

Thence back to Lakeland and Mutual where she popped into the offices of these Mutualmen: Frank Trovillion, administrative assistant; Bob White, marketing analyst; Roy Hunter, marketing information director; and Marty Hearn, international trade director.

Mingled in with these close studies of citrus, Miss Schmidt stood prettily still for a gruelling array of press photos and interviews, TV filmings and radio chats.

All the time, and everywhere she went, any-where from 50 to 100 lookers-on crowded around Miss Schmidt to admire the view.

By contrast to all this to-do over this universal beauty, a couple of years ago Drew Pearson, who is merely a world-famed newspaper columnist and TV and radio personality, also dropped in on Mutual, with Mutual's Bob Rutledge, Pearson, too, visited the Adams plant in Auburndale and was shown the operations by Sorrells. Pearson also inspected an orange grove, although his hair wasn't such as to accommodate an orange blossom sprig.

When Miss Universe made the tour the other day there were from six to a dozen cars in her motorcade, jampacked with officials, newspaper, TV and radio men, with all those lookers-on looking on.

When Pearson made the tour there was just one car, and there was room in it for at least a couple of more persons. No awed lookers-on looked on as the Pearson party of three moved from citrus point of interest to citrus point of interest.

Just goes to show the contrast of values of this world and values of the universe. Or if you expect to draw a crowd you'd best be a girl celebrity, with measurements, instead of a man celebrity, with typewriter.

FARP To Host NAAAP Group

The Florida Rehabilitation Program will host the 1963 national convention of the North American Association of Alcoholism Programs in Miami Beach, according to Ernest A. Shepherd, administrator.

Shepherd, a past president of the NAAAP and a member-at-large of the executive committee, said the decision was made at the January meeting of the committee in New York City. No specific dates or site have been selected as yet.

More than 150 top officials and staff members of alcoholism programs are expected to attend. The organization's last convention was held in Chicago.

The NAAAP is composed of state alcoholism programs from the United States and provincial programs from Canada.

I see by the papers where a woman filed suit for divorce because her husband was careless about his appearance. He hadn't shown up in nearly two years.

Patricia Allison CHARM CIRCLE

Do You Dress To Please Your Man?

"Dear Patricia Allison: My husband admits that he doesn't always like the clothes I choose for myself. I try to keep up with the latest styles. What do you suggest? Carol J."

Answer — Dear Carol J: Aren't you fortunate in having a husband who really notices what you are wearing?

So he doesn't always like the latest fashion! Why? Probably because his first concern is with what is becoming to you.

Let's be refreshingly honest. Let's admit that some pretty ridiculous things have been perpetrated in the name of Fashion, in the unending struggle to be "different."

Take Advantage

Why not take advantage of your husband's taste, and please him, all in one strategic stroke?

Ask him to help you select your ensembles, including accessories. If he will take the time and trouble to do so, you may take a bow.

Many of the best-dressed women I know avail themselves of masculine talent in their style selection.

Ask him in such a way that you compliment his judgement and taste, which may turn out to be surprisingly good!

If he hesitates, remind him that most of the top fashion designers, and almost all the world's greatest artists, are and always have been, men.

What Gentlemen Prefer

Here are the vital points men of discernment usually approved in the way a woman dresses. So most probably your man will select: —

1. Garments of smooth, sleek, uncluttered lines—lines which, on you, bring out the best attributes of your own particular figure. (Remember that he can see you as you really look, as no mirror can).

2. Dresses or suits which define the waistline, and indicate the curves of hips and bosom, in a genteel manner. No sabotaging your feminine contours with "sack" lines or excess fullness!

3. Colors which make him feel best about you. He is most likely to prefer pleasing tones of such colors as blue, green, coral, pink or biege, depending on what does the most for your coloring. The chances are good that he will avoid drab, odd or intense colors.

4. Not more than two colors to an ensemble, if possible; three at the most.

5. "Trimmings" of admirable restraint, perhaps nothing more than one just-exactly-right costume pin.

6. Nothing too extreme. It's a safe bet that he doesn't want you to be the inspiration for aside-comments such as — "Wonder what they call that?"

demands an absolutely clear, even-toned skin, free from blackheads, whiteheads, and with even circulation. The best recipe I know to achieve this pristine complexion is a truly-magnificent Scrub formula from Sweden. It is blended of almonds, wild honey and precious herbs. For information about it, just write your name and address and "SCRUB" on a postcard. Mail to me, care of this newspaper.

Volunteers in the nursery program will be expected to supervise play activities. They will be under the guidance of Mrs. Webber, and reading materials on working with retarded children will be available for their study if they so desire. Nursery hours are 9 a. m. to 12 noon each day Monday through Friday. In general, the children will be from six to 12 years old, with mental ages of three to six.

Volunteers in the school program will assist by listening to children read, helping with workbook study, and monitoring the room while children carry

Prayer Day Set For Mar. 9

[illegible] Annual World Day of Prayer will be observed by [illegible] churches of Avon Park, [illegible] March 9, at 7:30 p.m. [illegible] service being held in the [illegible] Church [illegible] the corner of N. Verona St. and E. Pleasant St. Seven of the local churches will be participating in the service.

This will be the 76th anniversary of the World Day of Prayer. The service is continuous from the rising sun on Tonga Island to the St. Laurence Island in the Bering Sea, throughout 5 continents the service will be conducted in 60 languages and a thousand dialects. This worship service was planned by the women of Uruguay.

The offering will be used to promote literacy programs in Africa, Community interracial planning in Alaska and in the Training of Church Women.

This day there will be millions of Christians around the earth singing the same songs, praying the same prayers for those hungry for food and freedom and for the dignity of man which God's love assures to all His children.

Difference between a poor man and a rich man is that one worries about his next meal while the other worries about his last one.

Scouts Will Collect Bags For Goodwill

Last Saturday our community was blanketed with Scouts distributing Goodwill bags to the residents of Avon Park. On Saturday, March 10, these Scouts will again assemble at King's Court to collect the filled bags. The Rotary Club of Avon Park, who is sponsoring this drive, will provide for trucks to assist the Scouts in assembling contributions.

Everyone should remember that Goodwill Industries needs clothing of all kinds, shoes, hats, small electric appliances, table lamps, radios and other small household items. Items such as paper, glass, bottles, jars etc., large appliances or furniture cannot be used.

The Florida Power Corporation is making available the large quonsit hut near the powerhouse as a collecting station for the Goodwill Bags. Anyone who has been overlooked, or has additional items to contribute may bring their donations to the collecting station between 9 a. m. and 12 noon, on March 10.

March 10 will close the big Goodwill drive to help-the-handicapped. Thus, again we have the opportunity of sharing with our youngsters the privilege of helping others help themselves.

In appreciation for their fine efforts, the Rotary Club will sponsor a picnic for all the Scouts who participated in this drive. Rotary sends a big thanks to the Coca Cola Bottling Company for furnishing free drinks to the Scouts.

Once again the Scouts have demonstrated that boys are wonderful people. We worry about what we should teach them about good citizenship, sharing and accepting responsibility. Perhaps we should look and listen . . . learn from them.

Guess they call'em window envelopes because they contain bills that give us a pane.

Lime Production Increase In Fla.

Production of quick and hydrated lime in Florida has increased some 70 per cent during the past three years yet consumption in the state still stands almost twice the Florida-produced volume, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce said recently.

"Florida is in an especially favorable position to expand production of lime within the state because of the presence of high-grade, accessible limestone deposits. In 1956, when there were only two plants producing lime in Florida, production accounted for 23 per cent of consumption. By 1959, this proportion had increased to 41 per cent and last year stood at about 55 per cent. The 1961 volume produced in Florida amounted to 190,000 tons and consumption reached an estimated 345,000 tons.

"Lime is essential to a number of industries and as the state becomes more industrialized, the demand for lime will also move upward. Production in 1962 will likely show an appreciable gain with the first full year of operation of a new facility which began production late last year.

"Lime is used in Florida in the manufacture of paper, tobacco products, insecticides and a wide variety of other chemicals. In addition, water treatment and prosphate processing account for a considerable portion of the consumption volume in Florida."

Hoosier Picnic At Hammock

The Avon Park Indiana Hoosiers gathered at Highlands Hammock State Park Tuesday, for a picnic. Approximately fifty people attended. They came from various places in Indiana. Some were only spending the winter in Florida and a few make their permanent home here the year round in Avon Park.

A basket dinner was served at noon. A short program of readings and entertainment was enjoyed. All who attended reported a good time.

60 Youngsters Complete 4-H Electric School

Moore Haven, Fla.—Some 60 boys and girls, plus 20 adults, gained basic electric know-how at the state's first area 4-H electric school.

Indian boys and girls joined 4-H groups from Hendry, Highlands, and Glades Counties for the school, held in the American Legion Building at Moore Haven.

Frank Yaun, president of the Glades Electric Coop, presented wallet cards marking completion of the course at the final session, January 23.

Safety specialist A. M. Pettis of the Florida Agricultural Extension Service, said the school was planned in response to high interest in the 4-H electric project in the area.

The Glades Electric Coop, managed by W. B. Irby, sponsored the school in cooperation with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service. The cooperative provided refreshments, project materials and assistance with instruction.

Sessions covered basic facts about electricity, proper lighting, and safety with electricity. Students constructed their own heavy duty extension cords and made test lights. The final session featured a lamp contest, with ten youngsters competing for prize ribbons and electrical equipment.

Mrs. May Fulton, Indian agent for girls, said the school was extremely helpful to the Indian 4-H members. They will take new knowledge home to their parents, who have had electricity in their homes only a few years.

The 20 adult 4-H leaders will use their training to instruct additional 4-H'ers.

The school consisted of three monthly meetings. Billy Bass, Glades County agricultural agent, was in charge of local arrangements. Others assisting were Gene Harrison, assistant agricultural agent for Hendry County; Betty Duckett, Highlands County Home Demonstration Agent; David Martsolf, Highlands County assistant agent; Fred Montadeoca, Extension agent for Indian work; and Mrs. Fulton.

Farmer's Tax Question To Be Answered

"The remarkable aspect of Tomlinson, District Director of our tax system", Laurie W. Internal Revenue Service said recently, "is based on individual self-assessment and voluntary compliance. It is a system, as someone once has said, 'of taxation by confession'."

The self-assessment feature of our tax system is based on the good faith of the American people and their continued willingness of reporting income and deductions accurately. "We are keenly aware", Director Tomlinson said, "that in turn this good faith is largely dependent upon the public's general confidence that the tax laws are operated fairly and impartially and that each and everyone is paying his proper share of taxes. It is our aim to see that this public confidence is warranted and increased. To do this we are going to devote our efforts to improving tax administration by: better service to the taxpayer; a reasonable, although vigorous, enforcement of the tax laws; and curbing of abuses in the reporting of income and the claiming of deductions."

In giving better service to taxpayers IRS is stepping up its public information program, Tomlinson said.

A list of normally asked questions and the answers to these questions is available from the Internal Revenue Service, Jacksonville office.

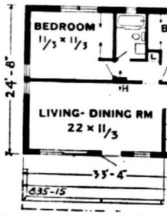
Here's Plans For 2-Bedroom Retire Home



A compact and easy to build two bedroom retirement home is always in demand in this area. The special attractions this small home — only 935 square feet in floor area — are (a) its 22 foot long front living-dining room boasting 8 foot wide glass sliding doors, and (b) the 8 by 23 foot front porch. This roof covered porch, acting as house entrance, is so designed that it can be screened in, or glazed in as a Florida room. Either operation could be done in the do-it-yourself way.

Another feature of home No. 835-15 is its narrow front: with the front living room, front kitchen, and the 12 foot wide carporte, the total width is only 46 feet which means that the house fits a 60 foot lot.

In order to "borrow" space (optically, at least), one end of the 9 by 11/3 kitchen opens into the living-dining room. However, home owners who prefer a closed off kitchen can easily accomplish just that by installing a regular folding door (48 by 70 inches in size) which will shut off objectionable noises and odors from the kitchen (door not shown on plan above.) A 5 by 5 foot space is provided for a dinette set at the carporte window, while the L-shaped work counter faces the street; the sink (S) is shown under the front window. A 32 inch wide jalousie door connects the kitchen with the carporte. Laundry appliances may be located in one of the two closets shown at the back of the carporte. Laundry appliances and the water heater may be located in one of the two closets shown at the back of the carporte; the other closet is for garden tools.

Each bedroom has two 36-inch-wide windows facing the garden and one small-size window for cross ventilation. The closet in the Master bedroom is 7 feet long, and the smaller bedroom has a 6 foot closet; both closets have folding doors for maximum accessibility t clothing. A 24 inch wide linen closet (marked L) with five shelves is located in the bedroom hall and is handy to the bathroom door.

The bathroom is planned between the two bedrooms and two 24 inch deep closets provide sound insulation between the rooms. The bathroom contains a 5 foot tub (with a shower head above it), a wall-hung type toilet, and a regular washbasin; plans call for ceramic tile facing around the three fixtures and provision for a small electric wall heater.

In order to obtain the maximum amount of usable space for the building dollar, this house is a simple rectangle—24/8 by 33/4 in size — topped by a gently sloping saddle roof which extends in one unbroken line over the house and the carporte. The approximate cost of the house is $7,500 plus the land.

The construction of home No. 835-15 is as follows: all exterior walls are built of 8 inch thick concrete blocks with stucco on the outside and insulation and plaster on the room side; all interior partitions are regular wood frame with plaster on both sides. The roof-supporting central partition is framed of 2 by 4, and all other partitions of 2 by 3 stock. The 4 inch thick floor slab, the level of which is 12 inches above the street level, is topped with terrazzo (or resilient floor tile) laid over vapor proof membrane in order to minimize condensation.

The centrally located dual wall heater (marked H on plan) blows the heat both into the front room and into the bedroom hall; oil or gas may be used as fuel. Electric heating may also be used in this home. Architect prepared blueprints for home 835-15 contain ¼ inch scale floor plan (complete with window and door sizes and electrical layout), four exterior elevations, kitchen and bathroom interiors, masonry and framing details, and a large-scale cross section through the house. The plans are adequate for a builder, the FHA, and bank loan applications.

The plans for Home No. 835-15 were drawn by architect Jan Reiner, the author of Florida Homes magazine (available on newsstands or by mailing 50c to P. O. Box 11567, St. Petersburg 33, Fla.)

Bulb Inspection Prolonged By Doyle Conner

TALLAHASSEE — Inspection tags for Florida caladium bulb growers have undergone a change and will be in effect through October of each year, according to State Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner. Until this year the tags had expired June 30, which is about the middle of the caladium blub-shipping season, he said.

A change in the tag designation will specify "caladium bulb", where the old tags listed "bulb" only. These tags may be purchased by growers from the Gainesville office of the State Department of Agriculture's Division of Plant Industry.

The inspection of caladium bulbs will be handled by Division personnel as special inspections, the commissioner explained.

Both field and storage inspections are required before certification for out-of-state shipments, since certain diseases of caladium are not detected in storage inspection. Bulbs can be infected or infested with Southern blight, bacterial soft rot, bulb mites, [illegible] mealybugs and rootknot nematode.

Conner said certificat[illegible] be refused bulbs that exceed five per cent tolerance of diseases or insects. He pointed out that [illegible]

Price, spice and everything nice!

Who ever thought a car that saves like this could have so much sizzle? Chevrolet engineers, that's who! Liveliness and luxury for a low, low price were exactly what they had in mind to begin with. And they began from scratch with a whole carload of ingenious new ideas designed to give you more for your money. That spunky 6 with gas-sipping stinginess is just one example. Another: a new unitized Body by Fisher that's fit for a full-size family inside, easy to park outside. Still another: tough but gentle one-piece Mono-Plate rear springs that outdo many a bigger car for quiet comfort. Any wonder Chevy II won Car Life magazine's 1962 Engineering Excellence award hands down? (The wonder would be if you settled for anything less—once you get your hands on one at your Chevrolet dealer's!)

MISS PEGGY WILLIAMS

County Juvenile Program May Be Mecca For Balance of State

[illegible] will take up where the training schools leave off in helping boys and girls to build useful lives," Highlands County Juvenile Counselor Robert Lindsay says.

A bill to provide for a state-wide "after-care" program has been [illegible] for consideration by the [illegible] session of the state legislature. A similar bill was introduced in the 1961 session but never "got off the ground".

"This kind of bill must be backed by an aware and interested public," Lindsay said.

Judge Mervin Rehrer has included a discussion of the bill on the agenda for the annual Day in Court which the Woman's Clubs of Highlands County will observe on March 8.

In the meantime, the Highlands County officials are doing some spade work which may be most helpful in setting up a state program.

Lindsay is preparing a simple work skeet for use by the staff at the state training schools.

"House parents can give us some very helpful information," Lindsay said, "but they do not have time to fill out long forms about each of the children in their care. Right now I'm up to my neck in research, trying to figure out a simple but really comprehensive work sheet."

In the Highlands County Juvenile Court program, the Counselor visits each of the children sent to a state training school. Children are not "sentenced" to a training school for any definite period of time. They are, rather, kept at the school until they have achieved certain standards of behavior and training which indicate that they can get along at home.

Training schools, the Florida juvenile authorities point out, are not prisons where people are punished. They are a part of a system which repeatedly says it aims at helping the children who have not been able to cope with all of life as they have found it.

Lindsay says he visits with the children "as a friend". "I take news from home, what's going on around the old hometown, and I listen to their gripes. You know it helps to have someone to gripe to, and sometimes, I can help iron out some of the problems.

"As it is now—with no state law to back me up—I cannot compel anyone to come in to see me after he leaves the training school, but I hope they will want to and that they'll let me continue trying to help," the Counselor explained.

A good after-care program, Lindsay said, includes working with parents to prepare them for [illegible] of a child who [illegible] We need to [illegible] ready to come [illegible] ready for [illegible] believes that [illegible] Highlands County [illegible] an unusual degree [illegible] readiness to accept out- [illegible] other parts of the State where he has worked [illegible] often seem to regard [illegible] court as an enemy.

"M[illegible] counseling service is needed for families," Lindsay said. "The average time spent in a Florida training school is low, but the child often returns home feeling that he is ready to 'turn over a new leaf and begin again.' Too often he comes back to a home that hasn't changed, and the same old problems are there.

"He may soon be wishing to be back in the training school. Sometimes the children the court has sent away say that they do not want to come home, and we need to help them make adjustment to a new home with foster parents when they do leave the training school."

Judge Rehrer pointed out that in Florida the Juvenile Court has original and exclusive jurisdiction over all matters where the law comes into contact with a person under 17 years of age, whether delinquent or dependent.

"Once a person has been in contact with the Juvenile Court, that court may assert jurisdiction—even though the person has passed his 17th birthday," the Judge said.

"We do not 'write off' a person as a closed case when he passes his 17th birthday and certainly not when he leaves the county to attend a state training school. We must follow him with our interest—and try our very best to conserve the good the school has been able to begin," the Judge concluded.

Part of an after-care program includes helping the older boys and girls to find work, preferably a job which will make use of any skills the young person has learned in the state school.

Many of the returneses will be too young for full-time employment. These children will return to school.

Sebring Supervising Principal George Douglass said he has never found any lag between the grade level of the training school and the public schools here.

"Many of these children have failed in school, but if the training school administrators say that he can do fifth grade work, he can do fifth grade work. Academically we have not had any troubles, but the attitude of fellow students is very important.

"Students need to be prepared to accept the returned boy or girl and give them a chance," Douglass said.

4-H Club Week Slated For March 3-10

About 42,000 youths in Florida will observe National 4-H Club Week, March 3 to 10. The young people are among the 2,296,000 4-H'ers who belong to about 93,000 clubs in urban, suburban and rural areas throughout the United States.

The week has a number of local and national aims among them: To give members a chance to measure progress and set new goals; influence more youths to join or form 4-H Clubs; acquaint more parents with the organization and enlist their aid; encourage more persons to volunteer as local leaders; stress learning to live and serve cooperatively with others, and recognize the major part played by Friends of 4-H.

The week will be highlighted in Washington, D. C. by a team of 4-H'ers, representing members everywhere, who will give the annual "4-H Report to the Nation." The report will review in story and pictures outstanding 4-H achievements and current projects. While in the Nation's Capital, the reporter-delegates will visit the White House, meet members of Congress, high Government officials and other national leaders. After a short stay in Washington, they expect to go elsewhere for a few days to meet with other friends of 4-H.

Sharing honors with Club members in all States will be nearly 310,700 men and women who serve as unpaid volunteer leaders, and guide 4-H work in local communities throughout the 50 States and Puerto Rico.

Legion Aux. Poppy Sale Successful

Highlands Unit 69 American Legion Auxiliary are happy to report a total of $286.05 received from the Poppy Day contributions and they wish to thank all who participated. Except for the small percentage of this amount that goes to veterans who make these poppies, the money remains with the local unit for their welfare projects.

The Junior Auxiliary members have sent their packages of comfort articles to three veterans' hospitals.

The Auxiliary has three boxes of children's clothes ready to send to the children's hospital in St. Petersburg.

These reports were made at the regular monthly meeting Tuesday night of the Auxiliary. Also the ladies heard an account of the party which was given to the Women's Ward of the Arcadia Hospital on January 30, and they also discussed the outstanding film which was shown on February 22, by Major Mueller of Air Castle AFB, on "Progress of the Air Force in 1961".

Plans were made for the birthday celebration of the American Legion. This 44th anniversary will be observed by Post 69 with a covered dish dinner in the Legion Home, March 29, at 7 p. m.

GREET THEM WITH A SMILE!

County Agent Gives Tips On Care For Home Lawns

Have you looked closely at your lawn lately? Chances are the tender young grass shoots are pushing their way up into the light.

These tender shoots will soon need more plant food so that they can become a mature, healthy lawn. It is time to think about fertilizing your grass.

If you have a Centipede lawn, it should be fertilized in the spring and may be fertilized again in the fall. Use one application of a complete fertilizer, 6-6-6, or 8-8-8, within the next month, and apply it at the rate of 20 to 25 pounds per 1,000 square feet.

St. Augustine and Manila grass (Zoysia Matrella) will need this same sort of application now and will need three to four extra applications a year, according to Dr. Granville Horn, lawn specialist with the Florida experiment Station—in the early spring, early summer and early fall. These can be primarily nitrogen fertilizers. Complete fertilizers will not be needed again. If you want an attractive winter lawn, an early winter application will be helpful.

An application of minor elements may be needed every two to three years—or even more often if your soils are alkaline. Iron deficiency, in particular, may occur on Centipede and St. Augustine. The symptoms of this deficiency are a yellowing or general mottled appearance in the leaves of the grass. This may show up following fertilization or during rainy season. You can correct this condition by using a chelated iron application of iron sulfate.

When applying the fertilizer to your lawn, be sure to apply it uniformly. Spotty application may burn the grass in areas of heavy concentration and may cause minor-element difficulties, as well as inefficient use of the fertilizer. For the most uniform distribution, use a lawn fertilizer distributor, especially on larger lawns. When using such a spreader, it is important to calibrate the distributor carefully, so that it will apply the right amount.

On a smaller lawn, it may be more practical to apply the fertilizer by hand. If you do this, divide the fertilizer for the whole lawn into two parts. Then cover the lawn with half the fertilizer from one direction, and with the other half at a right angle to the first. For example, cover the lawn east and west with one-half of the fertilizer, and apply the other half north and south. Apply the fertilizer while the grass is dry to avoid burning the leaves. It is a good idea to water the fertilizer in thoroughly after applying.

Wendel Smiths Attend Silent Wedding Mar. 4

Mr. and Mrs. Wendel Smith attended the wedding of her brother, Harvard Carnes of Sebring to Miss Eloise Broome of Winter Haven, on Sunday afternoon. The wedding was held at the First Baptist Church in Inwood, near Winter Haven.

Both the bride and groom are deaf and the silent ceremony was performed by the Rev. Demoree. Mrs. Demoree sang "I Love You Truly", in the sign language.

Mr. and Mrs. Carnes will make their home at 617 Pomegranate Street in Sebring.

Rev. and Mrs. Demoree are former residents of Avon Park. He was a printer with the local paper when Bill Hetherington was the editor. She had the misfortune to loose a leg in a train accident here because of her being deaf.

Rev. Demoree is a missionary with the Southern Baptist Convention. Special services for the deaf are held in the Inwood Baptist Church on the first Sunday of each month and Sunday School is held each Sunday morning. An invitation is issued to all deaf people to attend. They also hold classes to teach the sign language.

Don't criticize the work of others unless you want to do the work of others.

Inter-County Annual Report Points Up Area Expansion

A graphic picture of the growth of this area is presented in the annual report of the Inter-County Telephone & Telegraph Co., for 1961, which was released this week.

For any who might think Highlands County is at a standstill, the report should be enlightening. It gives the number of telephones in service throughout the entire Inter-Conuty System including 27 exchanges of which Avon Park, Sebring and Lake Placid comprise a portion.

Although the increases in Highlands County were not as staggering as those in Charlotte County (home of the giant Port Charlotte subdivision), they are substantial.

Total gain for Avon Park during 1961 was 7.11 per cent or an increase of 214 telephones, bringing the total to 3,222.

Sebring increase was 8.25 per cent, or 349 telephones, boasting to total to 4,577.

Lake Placid showed the greatest increase, with 15.13 per cent. This figure represented 147 new phones for a total of 1,118 units now in service there.

The Port Charlotte increase was 76.52 per cent, representing 997 new units to push the total for the well known area to 2,300.

Total over-all increase for the entire system was 13.41 per cent, or 7,350 new telephones, bringing the total to 62,150.

R. M. Gay, Manager of the Northern District of which Highlands County is a part, said the Inter-County System doubled between the years of 1940 and 1950. Between 1950 and 1960 the number increased more than four times. As of December 31, 1961 more than 10 times as many telephones were in service than at the end of 1940, representing a 978 per cent increase for the entire system.

An indication of the area growth was the necessity of additional construction to the Avon Park plant.

Construction is underway on an $80,000 addition here, which will doube the amount of floor space available. The local plant employees 65 operators to man 35 switchboards and handles all long distance calls for the Highlands County area and immediate surrounding areas.

Safety sign: "Watch out for school children . . . especially if they're driving."

FHP Bossman H. N. Kirkman has this to say on safety: Keep up your driving defenses, else someone will knock your block off.

Cattle Rustler Termed "Good Boy," Is Released By Judge

A confessed cattle rustler is free because the cattlemen of Highlands County are convinced that Frankie Byars is "a good boy".

In an unusual hearing March 2, Circuit Judge Clifton Kelly placed the 18-year-old youth on five years probation and sent him back home—probably to a job on a cattle ranch.

Judge Kelly said he "could not remember any previous case where cattlemen have come in to ask the court to free a rustler.

Byars, early in January, was arrested by sheriff's deputies and charged with stealing two calves from Cattleman R. A. Carlton. The youth confessed that he had stolen the animals and pleaded guilty to grand larceny.

Judge Kelly immediately sentenced Byars to two years in the state penitentiary—and just as quickly friends and neighbors of the Byars family protested.

Mrs. George B. Waggaman of Lorida contacted "all the cattlemen around here" and with their consent brought a protest to Judge Kelly.

"I have been a neighbor to this boy all his life," Mrs. Waggaman said, "and I know he has never been in trouble. On the spur of the moment he went wrong.

"It was easy to see that it was a spur-of-the-moment-thing—too childish and immature a venture to have had any thought behind it. He made no attempt to conceal his identity when he sold the calves, and he even borrowed my son's trailer to move the calves.

"Everyone in this part of the county thinks he should be given a chance to prove that he is the good boy we believe he is," Mrs. Waggaman told the court at the hearing last week.

The calves owner, Calton, also appeared at the hearing and asked the Judge "to give Frank a chance".

Probation officer William J. Rustar said he had conducted a probation hearing in the Lorida area and at that hearing learned "that the people want it made clear that no one is condoning what has happened, but are eager for this fellow to be given probation and a chance to prove himself".

Rustar said a rancher had offered young Byars a job.

Judge Kelly announced that the original charge of grand larceny had been dropped and a new charge of larceny of cattle had been filed by the State Attorney.

Byars, at last week's hearing, formally entered a plea of guilty to the new charge, and then Judge Kelly announced, "With great pleasure, I am placing you on probation for five years."

Later the Judge said, "Ranchers are in a very vulnerable position; they must depend on the honesty of the general public. They cannot lock up their cattle. Stealing cattle is a very, very serious offense. I think the cattlemen are to be commended for the interest they have shown in this case and this boy. Their interest convinced me that he does deserve every opportunity to a fresh start.

In other Circuit Court cases last week Lessie Ward pleaded guilty to resisting arrest with violence and was sentenced to a year in the state penitentiary.

Joseph Welsey Compton, Jr., who had previously pleaded not guilty to a breaking and entering charge, appeared to change his plea to guilty and a presentence investigation was ordered.

Ellis Taylor, Jr., charged with grand larceny and burglary, entered not guilty pleas to both charges. Taylor, who waived jury trial and asked to be tried by the court, is accused of breaking into the Blue Bird Cafe in Avon Park.

Vernon Sessoms, who entered a not guilty plea to an aggravated assault charge, also asked to be tried by the court.

Lloyd James Morgan, who pleaded not guilty to resisting arrest with violence, will be tried by a jury.

School Head Is Kiwanis Club Speaker

"An educational program controlled by the state and locality is one of our greatest democratic strengths," Superintendent of Highlands County Schools Andy Miracle said Wednesday.

In an address before the Sebring Kiwanis Club, Miarcle listed the principal arguments on both sides of the hotly debated federal aid-to-education question.

The Highlands County School Administrator said, "In a democracy the curriculum and instruction must be directly responsible to the will of the people served.

"Those who believe in local control of education must be particularly alert in these times of increasing bigness and complexity, when the state and federal governments must, of necessity, play a larger part in educational affairs.

"There are many obvious advantages in centralized control and in times like these they have great appeal. But these advantages must be weighed against the disadvantages," Miracle warned.

Miracle listed among the advantages more direct and faster action in achieving results, and among the disadvantages rigidity and restrictiveness.

Youth Center Group Elects

Election of officers of the Avon Park Youth Center Development Association was held at a meeting Monday night. The officers: Vi Townsend, president; John Crittenden, vice president; Wini DeLaney, secretary; Eloise Sharpe, treasurer.

The Board of Directors: Mary Durden, Anita Renfro, David McDaniel, Louis Hooper, Fred Davis, Robert Watts, J. S. Hill, Vera Kirkland, Sara White, Norma Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Harve E. Olsen, Aline Parnell.

Race Program Underway At Sebring Mar. 24

Friday's March 23rd racing program is an eye opener for the internationally famous 12-Hour Endurance Race, Saturday, March 24th.

Starting at 10:00 a.m. sharp, a three hour race over the twisting 5.2 mile course will have the cream of the world's road racing champions at the wheel of the smaller cars under 1000 cc.

Stirling Moss, England, "often a bridesmaid, but never a bride" in the yearly duel for world champion road racing drivers, will be in a Austin-Healey "Sprite" entered by the English manufacturer, Sir Donald Healey.

Olivier Gendebien, Belgium, flatly denying all retirement rumors will be piloting one of the fast little Fiat Abarth team entered cars.

Even though this race counts for points and trophies in the same rating as Saturday's big 12-Hour Endurance Race, world champion drivers are allowed to drive by F. I. A. regulations in both Friday and Saturdays races.

Saturday's famous 12-Hour Endurance Race will get the go signal at 10:00 a.m., for 12 of the hardest hours of punishment ever given cars or drivers. No let up for the wheel spinning sports cars from Modena, Italy, in the all out fight to keep American bred Corvettes, road race proven in the past few years, from taking the victor's wreath and overall Alitalia Airlines Trophy.

Marvin Panch, "Fireball" Roberts, both of Daytona Beach, Florida, stock car champions; Panch in a Corvette and Roberts at the wheel of a Pontiac powered special Ferrari are slated for the battle of the year on the fastest road racing course in the United States, Saturday, March 24th, starting at 10:00 a.m.

For advance ticket sales information write to Automobile Racing Club of Florida P. O. Box 71, Sebring, Florida.

More Airports In State Now

Florida's aviation progress was marked by a gain of 15 airports during the past five years, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce said yesterday.

"There are 99 well equipped airports for general public use in the state today. Only eight states have more. Half of these Florida airports are paved and fully lighted and equipped, ranking the state third in this respect.

"Fifteen Florida airports have runways of over 7,000 feet with only three states having a larger number.

"All airports and seabases which can be used by the public in the state number 152. This figure is made up of the 99 well equipped installations plus 53 others some of which are partially restricted to military use and others which have limited facilities. Airports used by the military alone are not included in these figures.

"Last year, active civil aircraft in Florida numbered 2,691, a gain of 339 aircraft over 1960. This gain also ranks near the top, only three states had a greater gain."

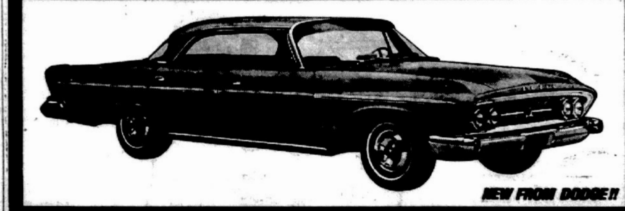
INTRODUCING THE BIG
DODGE CUSTOM 880



NEW FROM DODGE!!

CUSTOM-MADE FOR THE BIG CAR MAN. The new Dodge Custom 880 is a big automobile. No pretense. No half-measures. It offers the comfort and sense of well-being that only a large car can give you. It has been made for one reason. To satisfy, without compromise, the needs and demands of the big car man.

As we have stated, the new Dodge Custom 880 is big. Wheelbase is 122 inches. Overall length almost 18 feet. There's an abundance of room for six adults. The trunk is 33 cubic feet. Mammoth by any standards.

The Custom 880 is powered by a 361 cubic inch V8 which will develop 265 horsepower. It is very hot. It is also satisfyingly economical. This same engine got 20.0 miles to the gallon when it won its class in last year's Mobilgas Economy Run.

The car handles beautifully. Its long wheelbase and perfectly balanced Torsion-Bar suspension system provide a stable, smooth ride. The body, of course, is rustproofed. The brakes are extremely large, as you should expect in a car of its size. And you can drive thirty-two thousand miles between grease jobs.

The new Dodge Custom 880 is now on display at your dependable Dodge Dealer's. The model pictured is a four-door hardtop. Other models include a four-door sedan, a two-door hardtop, six- or nine-passenger wagons, and a convertible. All custom-made for the big car man.
