Commissioners OK Referendum Vote

Approval Given By Board At Special Session

In a surprise move Tuesday morning, the Highlands County Commissioners approved a $250,000 bond issue election for the construction of a county hospital. The election will be held along with the May 6 primary.

The commissioners approved the primary ballot last week and at that time no request had been made for the bond issue to be placed on it. In a special session early Tuesday, Richard Drennon, Lake Placid, chairman of the hospital board, requested the bond issue be placed on the May 6 ballot.

Paper ballots will be used for voting on the issue however, since the election would be placed on voter machines. Supervisor of Elections, Robert E. Drott, told the commissioners that enough ballots would be prepared for the election. He said commissioners in their various districts would have to conduct polling locations.

Only freshkeepers will be allowed to vote on the referendum, which, if passed, would allow the hospital board to issue $250,000 in bonds at their discretion. The bond issue will permit issuance of bonds up to $1 million. Drennon said additional funds to help with construction and equipping the hospital would come from the Hill Burton act.

The 30-year bond issue will be retired from all valuations on all taxable property in the county with a maximum levy of five mills per year. A 60 to 80-bed hospital is planned. Drennon said with the possibility of adding additional units at a later date without increased construction.

Several sites for the hospital have been offered, but the board has yet to make a decision. Among the sites is an eight-acre tract south of Sebring owned by the city.

Ferrari Car Wins Sebring 12-Hour Race

Joachim Bonner of Sweden and Loren Bianchi, Italy, won the annual Sebring 12-Hour Endurance Race overall title last Saturday at the wheel of an Italian Ferrari. The car was entered by Southern Securities.

The two drivers covered 234 laps—four less than the record for the 1962 race—averaging 104.142 mph.

The Bonner-Bianchi car took the lead late in the afternoon after front running Stirling Moss and Jones Ireland, also in a Ferrari, were disqualified for taking on gas before turning the prescribed number of laps—18 instead of 20.

Until this turn of fate, it appeared as though Moss might pick up his first Sebring win since 1954. Many times Stirling Moss has led the race, but either disqualified or conked out for various reasons.

With the Moss machine out of the running and the Rodriguez brothers out of the race, the two of them—out of action, it soon became evident that the Bonner-Bianchi car would be the winner if it held together, and it did.

The Grand Touring title—more important than the overall win this year—was won by World Driving Champion Phil Hill and Olivier Gendebien. The two drivers covered 196 laps. Hill is from California and Gendebien from Belgium.

The Index of Performance was taken by a German Porsche in the top ten was a Chaparral driven by Ray Sharp and a Ford Mustang in Texas. The car is powered by an American Corvette engine. The best straight Corvett ever made was an 18th place.

TO FACE SEBRING—Leonard Sullivan, crafty right-hander, will face the Sebring Blue Streaks Friday night as the Avon Park Red Devils baseball team tries to improve their 2-2 record. Sullivan has a record of 2 wins and one loss.

Red Devil "9" Splits To Host Sebring Streaks Friday Night

Avon Park's young baseball team showed marked improvement this past week as they won 11-9 over Hardee last Saturday night and last 4-2 to win a single, John Rhodes led the team to a 1-0 win over the Sebring Blue Streaks Tuesday night in Sebring. The loss to Sebring was the first on another error by the pitcher and scored on the 14-2 trouncing the Devils took from the same team just two weeks ago. The Red Devils game on scheduled with Klamath last Friday night was postponed because of water on the Keweenaw. The game was rescheduled at a later date.

This Friday night the Avon Park boys face a real test as they take on a strong Sebring team at Head Field. The Streaks are undefeated so far this season but have a tie game with Kathleen of the northern division of the Ridge. Tuesday night Okeechobee will be the Devils' opponents at Head Field. The Brahmas are also showing signs of having a strong team this year so Avon Park has a couple of important games coming up. The Ridge title will be decided by a four-team playoff at the end of the season and the Devils will have to be one of the top two teams in the southern division to be in the playoff.

The Red Devils put a scare into Coach Soule's Riverhounds Tuesday night when they scored a run in the first and second innings and four more in the sixth and four more in the seventh to lose 11-9. The Wildcats had two men on base in the seventh.

Fund Project R.I.

It was an emphasis that the $1,000,000 outlay would make ample funds to complete streets in Sebring, the Eubank Creek project and a nine-mile grade project during the current budget year.

Although Cason was non-committal, he did agree to give the matter his serious consideration and said an answer would be forthcoming in the immediate future. This train of thought was somewhat different from one he expressed at a recent meeting with the road official.

Avon Group At Student Council State Convention

Avon Park Student Council members were represented at the State Council in Jacksonville last weekend by Andy Miracle, Jack Seims, Frankie Smith, Linda Seims, Deborah Reddie, Ann King and Cindy Metcalf. Miss Miss Pearson, sponsor of the group, was also present.

The report that the three days were very successful and informative and the social affairs very enjoyable.

"Your Alert for Freedom" was the theme for the convention was.

Avon Park High School ran for vice president of the state organization. Robinson High School in Tampa made the nomination and Andy Miracle, local president, gave the campaign speech. Among the three other schools competing for the presidency, Avon Park won second place.

Miss Pearson says, "This was the best convention of the five I have attended. When one sees high school students planning and executing such an undertaking as the state convention, it is a real eye opener and making key note addresses with an outstanding show of cooperation and friendliness towards each other, one is assured that 'Youth is Alert for Freedom' and for other responsibilities of the future."

The experience of attending the convention, meeting delegates from the other 186 schools and actively participating in the political campaign has been a rewarding experience for the students that will carry over into their work for future years, so states their sponsor.

Thought For Today

"Great ideals and principles do not live from generation to generation just because they are right, nor even because they have been carefully legislated, and put into effect. They live from generation to generation because they are lived. They are the hearts of children as they grow up."

Highway Safety Sense

With the growing and bloodthirsty nature of the real progress that has been made in highway safety, it is not surprising that the number of deaths per 100 million vehicles in 1961, the rate was slashed to 5.3 in 1961. In fact, it was the lowest in the first 11 months. This outstanding progress was made during the decade and a half since World War II when the number of cars, trucks and buses on America's streets and highways soared from a little over 31 million to more than 71 million.

With the automotive safety record constantly improving, it's time to stop screaming death and destruction. It's time to call a halt to creating the impression that the only safe place for the family car is home in the garage.

There's no minimizing the importance of highway safety—and nobody wants to—but sensational reports of widespread carnage, instead of making drivers safer and more competent, can make them more tense, more nervous and more accident-prone.

What makes better drivers is not horror but help; not scars but suggestions; not terror but teaching. Safe driving is a skill which, once mastered and remembered, provides great pleasure. America's automotive safety record can be improved still more, without horror and hysteria, by the conscientious application of the principles of safe driving.

Delegates Leave For Conference

Washington Reports

WASHINGTON, D. C. The House of Representatives today passed a bill to shift the date for the start of the fiscal year from July 1 to October 1. The bill, which would take effect in 1963, was passed by a vote of 317 to 197. The bill would also shift the date for the start of the fiscal year for the District of Columbia and the Federal Reserve Bank. The bill was introduced by Rep. Charles McNair (R-Ore.) and was sponsored by the House Committee on Governmental Organization. McNair said that the bill would help to reduce the confusion caused by the different fiscal years of the various federal agencies. He also said that the bill would help to reduce the cost of government by eliminating the need for a separate fiscal year for each agency.

Practicing for contest—The Avon Park High School Band under director Victor McKenna was practicing on the finer notes this week as they prepared for the district music contest on Saturday in Lake Wales.

Parents Urged Attend Contest

When members of the Avon Park High School Band go to Lake Wales Saturday to participate in the district music contest, parents of band members are invited to accompany the youthful musicians. Director Victor McKenna said today that the contest will be open to the public during the day and a small admission charge will be made to the massed band concert and special entertainment features Saturday evening. Quite a number of band parents are planning to lend moral support to the Red Devil Band in its bid for the privilege of participating in the Miami state contests later this spring.

Member of County Development Commission Issues Challenge

Jerry Beeler, chairman of the Highlands County Development Commission, recently organized a group that has submitted the following story based on a survey made by the First Research Corporation. He entitles his story "A Challenge to Highlands County." During February the First Research Corporation of Miami released their Project Apollo Economic Study, which was prepared for 25 of Florida's largest counties who had contributed $600.00 each for its completion. Presumably these participating companies will base their immediate future plans and programs on the findings and recommendations contained therein. Since two of the participating companies have large interests in Highlands County, the following excerpt from this study is quoted: (Emphasis is ours.) "First Research Corporation is adding to the Project Apollo Study, a detailed analysis and projection of population and other economic indicators for Highlands County. We have projected the population of Highlands County at a total of 55,000 persons by 1970 or an increase of 14,000 persons from the 1960-1970 period. Highlands County is characterized as a predominantly rural area with a small urban core. It is probable that it will not receive the large numbers of population as forecast for such counties as Dade, Broward, Palm Beach, Brevard, Hillsborough and Pinellas. In the face of the economic competition from these coastal counties, the population growth rate of Highlands County has not been sufficient to establish the necessary urban facilities, services and conveniences that would be required of an area of major potential growth. In short, this means that Highlands County, while increasing its employment somewhat, has not increased it sufficiently to attract a large number of permanent population. This does not mean that industry will not come to Highlands County, but it does emphasize that there are many other areas in the state with more industry-luring and industry-supporting potential. Project Apollo will create an impact to some degree on Highlands County during the 1960 decade. The extent of this impact will be small unless further inducement is generated and motivated by local community leaders or by large land holders interested in development. One concept of Highlands County is not an area that can be expected to grow without a great deal of internal inducement, as compared to such counties as Orange, Brevard and Broward. Industries seeking locations in Florida will have to be lured to Highlands County in terms of land costs, location, good labor relations, normally found in smaller counties, good transportation routes to the major urban areas of the state, and other similar factors. Without a strong selling and promotion appeal to prospective industrial firms, there is little likelihood that Highlands County will be discovered by many potential industries seeking locations in Florida.

"Highlands County, especially from these coastal counties, the area surrounding Sebring and Avon Park, offers some of the most beautiful areas to be found in the state, and, with be ideal for a major retirement center such as that being developed by General Development Corporation at Port Charles, La. A development of this nature, coupled with an aggressive campaign to locate industry in the area, would do much to correct the overall development of the county, and completely change the projected economic future as outlined by First Research Corporation. Here is a real challenge to Highlands County!

If we are to participate in the fantastic growth predicted for Florida in general, and certain areas thereof in particular, it is specifically pointed out that we must do something about it. Growth and expansion will not just automatically come to us, for the solid reasons outlined—we must promote our own interests.

It is up to the individual Chambers of Commerce—Avon Park, Lake Placid and Sebring, to promote their individual interests by improving their locations as they can and then making their particular advantages known. The Highlands County Chamber of Commerce, composed of representatives of these three Chambers, was organized for the purpose of assisting in the improvement of the County as a whole, and to this end will concentrate in any way that it can to generate the kind of growth and expansion that we take in order to effectively get Highlands County on the "Moon Beam."

None of these organizations can accomplish anything without the moral and financial support of all of Highlands County for business, commercial, governmental and private interests. All suggestions or recommendations as to procedures for this Commission are cordially invited.

WE MUST MEET THIS CHALLENGE!
