Commissioners Hear Welfare Complaints

Avon Park Man Appears Before Board Tuesday

Complaints about welfare payments and personnel enlivened an otherwise routine meeting of the Highlands County Commissioners Tuesday.

Avon Park resident D. K. McClure told the commissioners, "One family brags about how much money they get from state and county welfare, and they have salaries coming in too."

He complained that when he tried "to inquire into how our tax money is being spent" he was rebuffed and "information I had given in confidence was divulged to welfare recipients".

"I think that is unethical," he complained, "and I do not appreciate being talked to—and about—the way I was when I was trying to be helpful."

"Let's be plain, Mr. McClure. Are you complaining about our county welfare director Anna Dee Church?" Commission Chairman Cecil Skipper asked.

McClure said yes.

Skipper promised to be "personally responsible" for checking the state welfare list against the county's records. "I cannot imagine why anyone would brag about such a thing and lying about it is even harder to understand," he concluded.

County Clerk Earl Rich said the law requires that state welfare payments be a matter of public record. The state welfare department derives its entire budget from state tax funds, and the counties have no control over it, he explained. However, the department must file a quarterly report with the county clerk listing aid given in the county. He said this includes payments for aid to the blind and to dependent children.

He said the county welfare funds are to be regarded as emergency aid. "No one is supposed to be on it permanently, and the county is to pay no one who is receiving state aid."

He said most people, including welfare recipients, are confused about the source of welfare funds and the manner of administration.

Attorney S. C. Pardee requested the board to set a public hearing on a petition to close a road just to the north of Walker Memorial Hospital. He said arrangements can be made for the county to receive right-of-way for another road "which would offer safer access to route 27". The hearing was set for 10 a. m. on June 5.

Sanford Hart and D. L. Snyder attended the meeting Tuesday to ask for immediate commencement of work on a new county road.

The proposed road, which will lie partly in district 2 and partly in district 3, is to serve some newly developed grovelands. The local property holders have given right-of-way for the road, and the commissioners indicated Tuesday that work probably will begin "immediately", pending settlement with a South American firm. The firm, through its American attorney, has indicated that they do not wish to be paid for right-of-way but they do insist that the necessary strip be acquired by condemnation.

Snyder and Hart said the [illegible] strip is about a mile

Educational TV Survey Planned For Avon School

Highlands County Superintendent Andy Miracle announced at the monthly school board meeting Tuesday night that plans are underway for possible educational television instruction in Avon Park High School.

Miracle said a survey is being made regarding the clarity of reception of WEDU, Channel 3, educational TV station in Tampa. He said if the survey proves favorable, a course in Americanism vs. Communism would be the first received locally. If approved the project will get underway next school term.

The superintendent pointed out that if the program is instituded, it would open the door to additional use of the video type classroom instruction. A number of schools in Hillsborough, Polk, and Pinellas Counties are already utilising the TV education system.

The school board approved corrected preliminary plans for a library at Hopewell Elementary School here along with preliminary plans for two additional classrooms at Fred Wild Elementary School, Sebring.

Several requests from area schools were granted. They were:

Mrs. Violet Moseley, home economics teacher at Avon Park High School, to attend a workshop at Purdue University July 1-3. State Department of Education sponsors program.

14 Cars Derailed In Train Wreck Tues. Morning

Curiosity seekers were treated to some unexpected events here Tuesday, as 14 cars of an Atlantic Coast Line freight train left the tracks near Hopewell School about four o'clock in the morning. The mishap occurred on the Haines City-Clewiston branch of the rail company's line.

According to reports, a broken rail caused the spectacular pileup which involved 13 cars and one engine. As a result the cars—both flat, tank and refrigerated—were twisted, splintered and smashed over about 800 feet of track. The impact also knocked down a lengthy section of telegraph line bordering the track.

As word spread throughout the area, thousands of onlookers rushed to the scene to witness what old timers termed "the worst train wreck in the area's history". Not only did the spectators get a look at the twisted wreckage, they saw some efficient work by the rail line's wrecking crews.

Shortly after nine o'clock, the weird sound of the wreck engine was heard moving through down town. Soon after its arrival, those cars in good enough condition were being returned to the tracks. Section hands then began rebuilding the track for the clean-up operations to continue.

The train crew consisted of six men, none of which received injuries. They were: J. A. Puritt, conductor; H. D. Anderson, engineer; W. J. Sanders, fireman; J. B. Royal and J. C. Taylor, brakemen. Another passenger on the train—a young dog, enroute from Texas to Immokalee—was also uninjured. The animal gathered much of the attention as onlookers looked on in amazement at his twisted cage that rode out the wreck.

An estimate of the damage was unavailable, however rail officials appeared somewhat jubilant over the fact that many of the derailed cars were either empty or lightly loaded.

One flat car contained two giant crawler tractors destined for Clewiston and an additional diesel engine. One tractor and the engine were thrown from the car, but the other machine rode out the accident without apparent damage.

Mixed reactions were voiced about the accident from those residents living near the wreck scene. Many living within one-half block of the impact site said they heard nothing, while others in various sections reported hearing the crunching of cars and steel.

Adams, Hamlin, Creel Win; Bond Issue Too

South County Votes Heavy For Hospital

Highlands County freeholders have approved an $850,000 bond issue for the construction of a county hospital. The vote was 3703 for the bond issue; 619 against and 185 void ballots.

The participation of over 4500 voters in the special election, which was held at the same time as the Democratic Primary, was more than enough to make the bond issue valid.

The referendum provided that 50 per cent plus one, of the registered freeholders take part in the election. Around 7600 freeholders are registered, according to Roland Droit, Supervisor of Registration.

Passage of the bond issue was welcome news to many groups in Sebring and Lake Placid, both cities having campaigned vigorously for the passage of the bill.

Many Avon Park freeholders were known to have opposed the issue and campaigned openly against it when a hospital commission was established last November. However, during the recent election the Avon Park delegation was relative quiet.

The hospital commission, composed of Richard Dressel, Lake Placid; Edna Lockett, Ft. Basinger; Miles Baker, Sebring and Robert R. King, Jr., and Fred Jahna, Avon Park, recently voted to construct the hospital South of Sebring if the bond issue was approved.

Highlands County [illegible] joined thousands throughout the State of Florida, Tuesday as they went to the polls in the Democratic Primary elections. There was no Republicans on the local ballot.

A representative seat and two county commissioner posts were up for grabs in Highlands County.

As a result of the unofficial count, Morris Adams, Avon Park oil distributor, appeared to be the winner of the Highlands County Representative seat in a close race with Harry Lee, Sebring attorney. Without the 187 absentee ballots, Adams held a 191 vote lead in the unofficial tabulations.

Eugene Hamlin, incumbent commissioner of District 2, was a clear cut winner over former commissioner John W. Schumacher. Both men reside in Sebring. The victory gives Hamlin his second term in the seat. He is a past chairman of the board.

In the other commission race—District 4, Lake Placid—the absentee ballots hold the key. According to the unofficial count, incumbent James G. Creel held a 43 vote lead over his opponent, Vernon Tyson. Creel is seeking his third consecutive term on the board. Tyson is making his second bid against the incumbent.

The election brought out less than 50 per cent of the 9,729 Democrats eligible to vote. This was as expected however, as little was said during the campaign to raise the voter's blood pressure.

In the representative campaign, Adams and Lee both ran what appeared to be a "lily-white" race. The tempo was slightly increased in the District 4 Commission race, but only in the last few days prior to election.

Avon Park constituents stood behind Adams all the way, giving him 1,144 votes compared to 280 for Lee. Adams also surprised many politicos when he carried Lake Placid by 389 to 377 vote. Lee's strongest precinct was No. 10, the American Legion Hall in Sebring, where he polled 477 votes to 279 for his opponent.

Hamlin did not lose a precinct in his bid for re-election, as he topped Schumacher by more than two to one majority.

Creel and Tyson were locked in a battle from the start, the first reporting precinct, No. 14 at the Triangle in Sebring, giving the incumbent 41 votes and the challenger 45 votes. An issue of this race had been "ask the voters in District 4", which was emphasized strongly by Tyson. He won his home district by an even 100 votes, 494 to 394.

Avon Park went toward Tyson, giving the challenger 765 votes to 671 for Creel. A Creel stronghold was precinct No. 10, Sebring, where he polled 445 to 309 for Tyson.

[illegible] most viewers will be thinking, "Boy, [illegible] that pile of dough!" Who wouldn't? But [illegible] truth is that if you earned a million in the course of a year, and if you head the average American family of four people, you'd have to pay out $856,910 in federal income taxes—plus whatever state and local taxes you are liable for.

Moreover, that million dollars, big as it looks to the vast majority of us, is a tiny drop in a huge bucket when it comes to government spending. It would, for instance, meet the interest costs on the national debt for just one hour and three minutes—or pay the salaries of federal civilian employees for a mere hour and 27 minutes.

So, the question becomes: "Where is a million dollars chicken feed?" Answer: "In Washington, D. C."

DEEP TROUBLE

"An industry which helped to make America great, and which is still important to its national pride and security, is in deep economic trouble," says Louis Cassels of United Press International. "It is the Merchant Marine."

The trouble can't be laid to the quality of the ships, crews, or managements. These are the equal of any. The trouble is basic: "High costs of operation." U. S.-flag vessels working in international trade must compete with the vessels of other leading maritime nations which can operate for much less. To take a single example, Mr. Cassels points out that the wages of American seamen run three to eight times as high as those of various other nations. Current union wage demands would stretch this difference still farther.

About a third of this country's merchant fleet—ships serving world trade routes which the government considers essential — receive federal subsidies. Strict rules and regulations accompany these differential subsidies—including the requirement that U. S. crews must be hired, that building and maintenance must be done in U. S. yards, and that, if the steamship company involved earns a profit, the government may recover a part of the subsidy.

Subsidy payments now come to about $200 million a year—a very small part of the national budget. It may be that they will have to be increased and extended. This isn't desirable—no subsidy is—but it may prove unavoidable. Our Merchant Marine must operate in an insecure world in which dog-eat-dog competition for trade is becoming more and more the rule. And we can't possibly afford to let the U. S.-flag gradually vanish from the high seas.

Jim Haley Reports

WASHINGTON, D. C.—As most of you know, I have returned to Washington after an all-too short visit to our seventh congressional district during the congressional recess. In my few days at home, I visited every county in the district and was fortunate to see many of you [illegible] about your problems and those of the government. But I am distressed that because of the limited time available there are many of you whom I did not have a chance to see for even a moment.

To those of you who wanted to see me and did not have the chance may I say that I will be happy to hear from you if you have any problems with which I may help you through our Washington office. Do not hesitate to let me know.

In this connection, I perhaps should say that while my time is always your time, at this time of the year "your time is not my time." Washington now has gone on Eastern Daylight Time, and until the end of October, my official time of day will be an hour later than yours—for example, 5 p. m. in Florida, 6 p. m. in Washington. So if I am not in my office for what seems a not-too-late telephone call, blame daylight time. And remember, at the other end of the day, when you're just rubbing the sleep out of your eyes, I'm already at my office, or in committee.

I would like to take just a few lines now to say that I am still deeply concerned about the prospect of a withholding tax on dividend and interest income, and am praying that the Senate will act with more wisdom than did the House by striking this iniquitous provision from the pending tax bill.

I think there is growing awareness, not only of the unfairness but of the lack of wisdom, of this provision, which was driven through the House without adequate debate and with no opportunity for a saving amendment. This increasing doubt about this provision was signified a few days ago by the abrupt editorial about-face of a powerful newspaper chain which had vigorously supported dividend tax withholding.

The Scripps-Howard chain of 20 newspapers, scattered coast-to-coast, announced that "We wish we could eat our words" of endorsement of the proposal. The newspapers explained that, after mature reflection, they had concluded the withholding provision not only was cruelly unfair (to taxpayers with dividend income and to the banks which would have to pay the cost of the withholding operation) but that it also was unnecessary (in view of fool-proof automatic data processing equipment being installed by the Internal Revenue Service) as a device to catch those relatively few taxpayers who have not been paying all their dividend income taxes.

As you know, I have felt this way all along, and I hope the Senate will give the House an opportunity to "eat its words" by sending back to us, for our concurrence, a tax bill which does not include the dividend withholding tax provision.

Manufacturers Using More Electricity

The use of electricity by Florida manufacturing plants last year was 42 per cent more than in 1957 and 8 per cent up from 1960, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce stated recently.

"This expanded consumption of electric energy to turn the wheels of industry in the state is a basic gauge of a growing manufacturing economy, and a gauge which has recently been computed from official reports.

"In 1961, manufacturing plants consumed over six billion kilowatt-hours of electricity. This was made up of 4.3 billion kilowatt-hours bought by manufacturing plants from electric producers and 1.8 billion kilowatt-hours generated by large manufacturers for their own uses. A decidedly greater gain in purchased electricity was recorded, indicating an addition of many small plants rather than the establishment of large plants in the state. At the same time, the trend toward automation in industry worked toward a bolstering of electric consumption at the expense of manpower.

"Coincident with manufacturing growth, as measured by the use of electric energy, was an even greater expansion in the purchase of power for residential, commercial and other uses. For example, from 1957 to 1961 these uses stepped up 66 per cent and were greater by 9 per cent than in 1960."

The award is given by the Florida Development Commission in recognition of outstanding service to industry in the state. Mrs. Worden is credited with playing a major role in the location of Hosecrafters, Inc., here. She is the only woman in the state to receive the coveted award. CRACKER POLITICS

By Allen Morris

TALLAHASSEE—More and more, the Federal government is influencing State spending, and Governor Farris Bryant is trying to figure out what, if anything, can be done about this.

He's concerned particularly about what might be called the "we start, you finish" type of Federal program that leaves the State holding the bag.

An extreme example of this is the expanding system of interstate highways. The Federal government stimulates the building of these by a lavish 90-10 matching of construction money.

For each $100 of cost of an interstate highway, the Federal government pays $90 (from the proceeds of a special tax on highway users) and the State adds $10.

But the expense of maintaining these superhighways is borne entirely by the states. This maintenance of the interstate system will cost Florida about $4,000,000 a year, drawn from the fund set aside for primary highways.

"Thus," remarks Governor Bryant, "when the Federal government offers a program so attractive as 90-10, it commits you to a future which pretty much hamstrings you in other areas."

That's a big example of how the Federal government influences the money-spending of the states.

But there are other, smaller instances. The Federal government may grant Florida, say, $40,000 for a special health inquiry. Then, after a year or so, the Federal government may drop out. This occasionally leaves the State with a program which it feels it must carry ahead with its own money.

The Federal program for retraining the unemployed who have little or no prospect of returning to work in their former field, the Federal Manpower Development and Training Act, is presently taking shape. In Florida, this would affect a group like the Tampa cigar workers.

This particular program is something of an example of the "we start, you finish" type, for Chairman A. Worley Brown of the Industrial Commission says preliminary information is that the Federal government will wholly finance it until June 30, 1963. After that date the State would have to bear half of the cost.

Governor Bryant has been assigned the subject of Federal influence on state spending for discussion at the National Governors' Conference at Hershey, Pa., in July.

His present, tentative thinking is that the states should have representation in Washington to point out the long-range effect on state finances of Federal programs as these develop. He feels the members of Congress would welcome such counsel.

Nowadays, points out Bryant, the U. S. Senators and Representatives must depend for the facts upon the Federal sponsors of spending programs, other than the information which may come on a volunteered basis from state authorities and private associations who learn, perhaps casually, of what is underway.

Even when a program is fully financed by the Federal government, but administered by a State agency, it influences state policies.

When the headline says "Industrial Commission Adds 50," the reader may skip the fact these have been put to work, perhaps temporarily, to carry out a Federally-paid program. The agency's hiring is bound to exert some psychological impact on other State agencies and to dishearten purse-conscious legislators.

Too, the local administrator has the problem of equalizing wages so the Federal money will not stir up trouble among the State-paid people in his own and other agencies, for the Federal government could be more generous than Florida in the rates of pay it will approve for men and women working under the State agency's supervision in wholly-paid Federal programs.

While a state theoretically could refuse to participate in a Federal program, this usually is impractical. Many of these programs are of the type called "coercive legislation" by Chairman Brown of the Industrial Commission.

Brown cites for example the Temporary Extended Unemployment Compensation program. At the time last year of its passage, he asked Federal authorities whether Florida had to participate.

"We were advised the program was purely voluntary, but if Florida did not participate Florida employers would still have to pay their share of the increased Federal tax for financing it."

Even with Florida's participation in this, reports Chairman Brown, Florida workers will draw back $11,500,000 of the $21,400,000 paid by Florida employers for this temporary program.

So far as the Industrial Commission is concerned, adds Chairman Brown, this imbalance between Federal collections in Florida for employment security programs and Florida benefit payments may be expected. The disparity has, however, been drawn down from the 70 cents paid out of each Florida tax dollar a few years ago to the around 90 cents which comes back from Washington now.

Both Driver And Pedestrian Must Obey Traffic

TALLAHASSE—The Florida Highway Patrol says that the driver or the pedestrian who fails to observe and obey signs and signals along today's modern highways is heading for traffic trouble.

"The signs along our modern highways carry a special message for all motorists," says the Patrol, "and unless they are heeded anyone, whether walking or driving, is bound to wind up in an accident sooner or later."

The Patrol also stressed the importance of the proper use of directional signals now on all modern automobiles and trucks.

"While it it important to use your directional signals, it is important for the other driver to know what they mean and follow accordingly. Otherwise you will both be in a position to have an accident."

The organization emphasized that the only means of communication between drivers on the highway are such devices as stop lights, directional indicator lights and the horn.

"Modern highways are marked for your safety," declared the Patrol, "and you can save your life and the life of others if you learn those signs and then obey them."

Motorists who fail to use proper signals are not only breaking the law, but they are contributing heavily to the frustrations of everyday driving on highways that are unfamiliar to the millions of visitors as well as some of the local people who use them.

County Agent Gives Helpful Tips To The Ambitious Home Gardner

Different plant foods come in different "brands", just like breakfast cereal or soap flakes. For example, we use at least four different sources, or "brands", of nitrogen in our modern fertilizers.

If you know where the different fertilizer materials come from—and how they act in the soil—you will be able to buy just the kinds your plants need most. Often, you will be able to save as you do so.

Plants get oxygen, hydrogen and carbon from the air. But they also need large quantities of nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium, magnesium and sulphur, which they take from the ground. Besides, they get the so-called minor elements - iron, copper, manganese, zinc, boron and molybdenum - from the ground.

Since Florida soils are often poor in many of these elements, we have to add them in fertilizer. The plants' requirements depend largely on the crop and the soil type.

The three most important elements in commercial fertilizers are nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium, according to Dr. G. M. Volk of the Florida Agricultural Experiment Stations. He says you can get a wealth of information about these and the other elements in the fertilizer from the fertilizer tag, if you understand it properly.

As mentioned above, four different kinds of nitrogen are used in fertilizers. Nitrate nitrogen is found in nitrate of soda and similar compounds. This nitrate moves readily through the soil, is good for plant use, but leaches easily. Ammoniacal nitrogen is found in such things as sulfate of ammonia and liquid ammonia. Plants can use it, but most of it is probably changed to the nitrate form of soil bacteria before the plants use it. This form of nitrogen does not leach as readily as does the nitrate form.

Two forms of organic nitrogen are used—water-soluble and water-insoluble. Most water-soluble organic nitrogen consists of urea. It converts rapidly to ammonia nitrogen in the soil. The other form usually comes from animal waste products such as tankage and meals. It does not leach rapidly, but is not an efficient form of nitrogen.

Phosphoric acid usually comes from one of two sources. Available phosphoric acid is often made by treating phosphatic rock with sulfuric acid. This process also supplies sulfur for plant use. Insoluble phosphoric acid is usually ground phosphate rock, used as a filler. It is slowly available in acid soils, but relatively unavailable on calcareous soils. It is used for pastures, but isn't recommended for rapidly growing crops.

Potash comes from either muriate or sulfate of potash. Both are good sources; but muriate is about half chlorine and should not be used for chlorine-sensitive crops such as tobacco. Potash does not leach readily during heavy rains.

For more fertilizer information, see your county agent.

Winter Guest Club News

April 24 was the last meeting of the bridge players for this season. On this day high scorer was A. Luyben with 6980 and L. Rodgers with 6460 in second place.

The pinochle players evidently are made of sterner stuff, being able to continue their games through April 30; no more until fall. Peter Console was high scorer at this time and Ann Ford was second high.

About 20 knife-and-fork wielders continue to enjoy an hour of food and sociability each Saturday evening. This activity will continue so long as the participants desire. For the last two weeks those hailing from Ohio have been most numerous; six one evening and nine the other. Mr. and Mrs. Hanford are acting hosts for the summer season; Mr. Hanford wishes it be known that the kitchen will not be open hereafter.

If you would know the latest "hot tips", the state of the nation, political forecasts, etc. just come to the shuffleboard courts any morning. There you will find gathered a group of men who combine exercise with a talk-fest, thereby enjoying to the full the pleasant coolness of the mornings. There are no membership dues to this club, we understand, all men welcome.

The evenings find the courts well filled with folk enjoying exercise, meeting friends, and the cool breeze after the sun has set. Wednesday and Saturday evenings are reserved for tournament play, except on the occasions when there are welcome rains. Recent winners have been Lillian Hayes and Sadie Wyman; Mr. and Mrs. Gibson. Consolation events have been won by Mrs. Grimshaw and Harold Arms, Mrs. Webber and Mrs. Baker.

Among the various activities of the club the dances seem to be more than holding their own. Friday evening nearly every number had four squares and the attendance Monday evening was about the same.

The Board's action in special meeting that the two "Different types of dancers" should be provided with two different programs under two "separate managements" is in evidence. The dances traditional to Friday night will not be repeated on the Monday evening program. This will give a greater variety to the dances and add greatly to the enjoyment of doing them, especially to the many dancers who enjoy both evenings. Numbers too often done become uninteresting, it has been noted.

Last Friday evening, May 4, saw the ladies gaily decked out in fragrant gardenias, a gift from Mr. West's garden. Thank you, Ira, these lovely blooms gave pleasure to all, says

THE TATTLER

Sans Souci Club At Jacaranda

Miss Millie Pearson was hostess Tuesday evening to the Sans Souci Bridge Club members with a fried chicken dinner served in the Jacaranda Coffee Shop and with the bridge game played in the Palm Room after dinner.

Guests were seated with place cards in a floral design at each plate. A line arrangement of colorful flowers centered the long table. Guests included Mrs. C. R. Ginn, Mrs. Raymond Dilley, Mrs. A. B. Wilhite, Mrs. Alice Sherman, Miss Sara Sellers, Miss Mildred Myers, Mrs. J. Paxton Hill and Mrs. Ben T. Stewart.

At the end of three progressions of bridge, the hostess presented a gift to each of her fellow club members. The Sans Souci Club has existed a number of years with some of the above members being those who started the club.

MRS. JOHN BENGEL ENTERTAINS

Circle Three of the WSCS met at the home of Mrs. John Bengel on Verona Road in the Avon Park Lakes area Tuesday afternoon for the regular monthly meeting. Following the business and program meeting the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Under average conditions a Florida fresh-water bass will grow to a length of one foot, or a weight of one pound, in its first year of life.

Every hour of every day . . . and night . . . consciously or subconsciously . . . we draw upon Mother's strength and love. It is a meager tribute that we should pause once a year and dedicate one day to Mother.

Mother is what makes the wheels go round. Home isn't home without Mother. The countless details, the careful planning, the constant loving care . . . that takes Mother every time. Children won't tick without Mother. Form the start, Mother is our warm meal when we are hungry, our extra blanket on a cold night, our light in a dark room. Little minds and hearts reach out for MOTHER. Baby-sitters aren't the same. Servants are insufficient. Even Daddy isn't quite enough. A well child runs on eager feet to tell MOTHER of his joys; a sick child calls constantly for MOTHER to soothe away his pains. There's something special, something extra, that comes only from Mother.

Who else can kiss a hurt and make it well? Who else can give us lovely memories of a happy childhood, rich with fun and friends? And who, but Mother, can lead us from our earliest days to find Him as our Refuge and Strength, a very present Help in time of trouble?

Life brings floods of uncertainties, disappointments, failures. Mother is the rock that stands fast. Her faith is sure, her spirit never wavering, her love never failing. Life, too, brings joy, achievement, success. Then we know one heart is happier even than our own. Mother is then the soaring cloud of radiant rapture, lifting us to new attempts.

As long as Mother lives, we shall not lack for care or love or prayers. When separation comes, as come it must, "death is swallowed up in victory." Life will not change Mother's love; death will not conquer it. Mother's spirit will walk ever beside us; her love will wrap us close. Her gentle hand will guide us; her sweet voice will echo in our ears. Again we'll feel that extra blanket slipped quietly over us, in the coldness of our night! Mother is and will be forever more our guardian angel. In this world or in the next, we know that we may draw eternally upon the strength and the love that is . . . MOTHER. Go to your church this Mother's Day.

[illegible] IN WRECK — [illegible] little fellow was trapped in his cage in the train wreck Tuesday.

Avon Police Nab Man Sought By FBI Officers

The Avon Park Police Department was responsible for the arrest of a Mississippi man last week, wanted by the FBI.

Assistant Chief Joe Lee Elder arrested Milton Earls, 41, last Tuesday. Earls, employed in Avon Park as a fruit picker, is charged in a federal warrant with unlawfully fleeing the State of Mississippi to avoid prosecution for the crime of Arson.

The FBI said the charge resulted when Earls, under a $2,000 bond, failed to appear to answer a Mississippi Grand Jury indictment charging him with burning an automobile in October of 1960, near Mt. Olive, Mississippi.

Earls was placed in the Avon Park jail, from where a United States Marshall from Tampa picked him up. Joseph F. Santoniana, special agent in charge of the FBI, Tampa, worked with Elder on the case.

Cheerleaders Sponsor Dance

Avon Park High School's newly elected cheerleaders will sponsor an "end-of-the-year" Sock Hop at the gym Friday night to raise funds to help with expenses for attending cheerleader workshop in Sebring this summer.

Admission will be thirty-five cents stag or fifty cents drag according to Carol Beckham, captain of the group. Students from Sebring and Frostproof have been invited to attend the dance along with Avon Park students.

The Hop is slated to start at 7:30 p. m. if the Red Devils are eliminated from the sub-group baseball tournament on Thursday night but will start after the game Friday night if the team is still participating. The cheerleaders suggest all students attend the game in Sebring if the Devils play and then come back to the gym for a real twisting Hop!

Motorists Burn More Gasoline

Motorists are buying more and more gas in Highlands County. This fact was back up by a recent report from State Comptroller Ray E. Green which pointed out the increased gasoline tax collections, based on seven cents per gallon.

A total of 1,139,731 gallons of gasoline were sold in the county during April, bringing a total of $79,781.17 in taxes.

The same month a year ago brought in $72,056.32 in taxes. March, 1962, collections were [illegible]9.58.

Changing Times of Medical Care Outlined by Walker Official

The doctor's little black bag—the traditional symbol of American medicine—follows a different path today than it did 50 years ago. Then it made most of its trips between the doctor's office and the patient's home; today it travels most frequently between the office and the hospital.

"The little black bag's altered path illustrates the changing patterns of medical practice—the trend toward centralizing medical care in the hospital," according to A. L. Lynd, administrator of Walker Memorial Hospital.

Medical care has shifted from the home to the hospital, and with the shift, a new ingredient has been added to patient care—the highly technical methods resulting from the scientific revolution of the 20th century, he said.

The combination of science and individual patient care is the theme of National Hospital Week, May 6-12. This observance, originally celebrated as National Hospital Day, has been marked annually since 1953. Sponsored by the American Hospital Association, it is held each year during the week of Florence Nightingale's birthday (May 12).

The contents of the doctor's little black bag have changed some in the last 50 years, but the changes again illustrate the trend toward the hospital, Lynd said. Added to the bag are some new drugs—particularly antibiotics and stimulants for starting stopped hearts. Subtracted are the equipment and instruments the doctor used at the patient's home for surgery, obstetrics and emergency treatment of inquries. Nowadays, the doctor admits surgical and obstetrical patients to the hospital and meets the injured patient at the hospital's emergency room.

The hospital has indeed become the community's center for health care. In the past 50 years, it has added laboratories, diagnostic x-ray machines, drug rooms or pharmacies, physical therapy and a host of other facilities necessary for the patient's recovery. As new scientific equipment is developed and proven effective, it is added by hospitals to help save lives and combat disease. This dramatic progress has meant added years of life for many persons.

"Just as every medical service provided in the patient's home was accompanied by the individual care and attention of the doctor, every hospital service is administered individually to meet the needs of each patient," Lynd said. Hospital people are highly trained to provide the exact treatment or medication the doctor prescribes.

Individual concern for each patient is synonymous with hospital care. The scientific services are necessary for the patient's speedy recovery, but hospitals also recognize the patient's need for emotional support. Hospital people strive to provide this support by means of individual and personal services for patients and their families. Additionally, hospitals are adding many services which make each patient's recuperation more pleasant.

The care provided in today's hospital scientifically exceeds that provided from the little black bag of 50 years ago, but the "tender loving care" which accompanied the doctor's visit is also still present in the hospital.

In conclusion, Lynd observed, "This combination of personal interest and scientific advances found in our hospital is summed up in this year's National Hospital Week theme—"Your Hospital . . . Uniting Science and Patient Care."

Marriages On Increase In Sunshine State

Jacksonville — Marriages in Florida in 1961 totaled 40,934, a one per cent rise over 1960's 39,315.

The State Board of Health gave this figure after a final revision of reports and said it represented an upward trend unbroken since 1953 in line with Florida's rising population.

Comparing the median ages (the middle group, excluding extremes on each end), the board found that grooms were about three years older than brides; single grooms averaged three years older than single brides; divorced grooms 4½ years older than divorced brides and widowed grooms 10½ years older than widowed brides.

The board said compared with 1951 data median ages of both brides and grooms declined slightly when the previous marital status was single and increased slightly for the divorced. Today's widowed partner is approximately seven years older than in 1951, due probably to the large gain in Florida's over-65 population.

There were 21,492 divorces in 1961, the highest since 1946 when there were 26,112.

Six years was the median duration of marriages for state divorces. In 53 per cent of the cases one or more minor children were involved. Only 30 per cent of the divorces were contested and in these the divorce was granted to the wife 71 per cent of the time, the husband 24 per cent and to both 5 per cent.

Extreme cruelty was listed as the cause in 16,806 cases of the total (78 per cent); desertion 3,422 (16 per cent); habitual intemperance 707 (3 per cent); ungovernable temper 265 (1 per cent); and other causes 2 per cent.

During 1961 there were 190 annulments reported. In 114 cases, the marriage lasted less than a year. Bigamy (30 per cent) and fraud or misrepresentation (28 per cent) were leading causes.

Junior Women Hold Picnic

The Junior Woman's Club family picnic was held on Tuesday, May 1, at the Florida Power Club House.

A covered dish supper was served. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Ford, who showed movies to the children. Following the picnic, each family was presented with a surprise gift.

Jury Venire of 45 Called For May Term of Circuit Court

Former Sebring Packing Co. superintendent George Grady Pate will go on trial for a second time beginning May 17.

Pate is one of a trio charged with grand larceny in connection with a long series of fruit thefts from the packing company.

His first trial, early in December, ended with a hung jury. James Maynard and Patrick Testa, who were arrested on the same charge, pleaded guilty and testified against Pate at the December trial.

At the time of the first trial some difficulty was encountered in obtaining a jury. Pate, a long-time resident of Highlands County, was known to many of the men called for jury duty.

In preparation for the trials May 14-18, a venire of 45 has been called. This is nine more than are usually called for non-capital trials.

A damage suit growing out of an Avon Park auto accident will lead off a week of trials in Circuit Court next week.

Damages "in excess of $500" are being sought from Grady Kerney and others by Johnnie Lee Coleman. Coleman was a passenger in an auto which was struck by a hearse driven by Kerney.

The accident occurred at the outskirts of Avon Park on June 4, 1961. Robert Lee Rogers, driver of the car in which Coleman was riding, died in the accident. During the Fall term of Circuit Court Kerney was tried for manslaughter in connection with the death.

He was found not guilty on a directed verdict.

The Coleman-Kerney case is set for 9:30 a. m. Monday. Other cases scheduled for the day are Glantz vs. Golden and Saling vs. Endicott.

Lois Glantz, a minor, by Hershey Glantz is asking damages of $5,000 for injuries resulting from an accident. William Richard Golden is the defendant.

William H. Endicott, a driver for a Lake Placid construction company, is defendant in two suits growing out of an accident between a construction company truck and the Saling family car. Damages in the two suits total $60,000.

The week will close with the trial of Bob Allen on Friday. He is charged with burglary by breaking and entering.

Those called for jury duty are Charles Rudolph Ginn, Jr., Charles R. Moore, John L. Bridges, Jerry Childress, Alonzo S. Greenway, J. Paxton Hill, Eugene A. Flint, Darryl Edwards, Frederick W. Jahna, George H. Beckham, Ralph C. Stangland, Alvis B. Cox, H. D. Chancey, Dewey Lee Tew, Luther Wayne McKinnie and Charles G. Metcalfe all of Avon Park.

Floyd L. Polk, Herman Washington, Thomas L. Ellis, Benjamin Holmes Foster, L. M. Zuillen, Donald Pillinger, J. O. Blackman, W. Ralph Pearce, William Peters, Carl J. Dingman, R. W. Bethea, John D. Gettleson, W. G. Cross, Harold L. Gordon, George L. Richardson, Earl L. Smith and Robert Neil Durrance, all of Sebring.

Charles Edward Keller, Everett Boney, C. K. Clark and Vernon A. Dean of Lorido; Robert James Hargrove, Jr., of Venus.

Horace E. Shackleford, Charles S. Conley, Thomas N. Flaherty, C. M. Goff, H. N. Bodenham. Kader B. Hancock, Jr., James Buford Chesnut of Lake Placid.

E. O. Douglas Light Fund Marathon

Saturday, the Highlands County Area will be entertained with a two-hour Marathon, 4:30 - 6:30 over Radio Station WSEB. At this time, a special appeal will be made by E. O. Douglas School Officials to the listening audience for contributions and donations toward the completion of their lighting system on the Douglas football field.

Ten poles and the wiring system have already been installed on the football field at a cost of approximately two thousand dollars ($2,000.00). The cost of each mercury light including the fixtures is $257.00. There are four mercury lights per pole, which brings the cost for the lights to approximately ten thousand dollars for the ten poles. Listeners will also be treated to the latest hit tunes, live and recorded, plus spiritual and gospel numbers.

Persons who wish to contribute should call the station between 4:30 - 6:30 p. m. Their names and amount that they are donating will be announced. Officials will be glad to oblige donors who may wish to remain anonymous.

All checks should be made payable to E. O. Douglas Development Fund.

Number of Criminals Increase With Growth In Population

TALLAHASSEE — Exploding population in Florida also is ballooning the criminal population, and the Florida Parole Commission in its annual report stressed the need for a larger staff if probation and parole are to continue effective.

The report, submitted to the Governor and his Cabinet, pointed out that six individuals released on parole would save the state $6,044.40 which it otherwise would pay to keep them confined. This money, said the report, would pay the salary of one parole commission supervisor for a year, and he in turn could supervise 60 additional probationers and parolees at a total saving of more than $60,000 a year the state would otherwise spend on prison costs.

The Commission makes the further point that not only do these individuals go out to productive jobs, but that they pay taxes, support dependants and in the main become functioning parts of their communities again. In one year, says the report, men and women on probation and parole earned $13,845,000 where otherwise they would have cost the state nearly $4.00 a day to keep them locked up in prison.

The Commission recommends that it be given sufficient appropriations that it might offer pre-sentence investigation and probation supervisor to the county judges of Florida, and thus, by removing minor criminals from the associations of county jails, many may be helped back into useful and law-abiding careers.

Another field of new usefulness is alcoholism, and the Commission points out its unique ability to apply specialized treatment to criminals who broke the law because of excessive use of alcohol. To do this, the Commission reports it will need additional personnel who may be trained in this particular kind of social rehabilitation. The Commission can call upon specialists in many lines to advise with it in the supervision of alcoholics, or those who drink too much.

The report shows an active parole supervision load at the end of 1961 of 2,876 men and women, and there were 1,218 new cases of parole added during the year. This is twice as many as the 20 year average from 1941 to 1961.

And there were 4,140 on probation at the end of 1961, including 202 from other states now living in Florida. So the total load of the Commission for both parole and probation at the close of 1961 was 7,016. This was divided among 90 supervisors, making each responsible for supervising a number almost 50 per cent greater than the nationally recognized desireable number.

The report shows that the Commission with its present staff can not effectively administer more, and yet the growth of the state and the fact that criminal populations keep pace with such growth, convinces the Commission that it will have to have a larger staff and more specialty training if it is to function as the state has expected it to do.

State of Citrus

By John Sikes

LAKELAND—In comparison with the 1960-61 season, 13 of Florida's 20 major citrus-producing counties have plus signs in front of their indicated 1961-62 production of Valencia oranges.

Four of the 20 counties are on the minus side, while no change is expected in three. There's a minus sign in front of expected production in "all other" counties.

The government's estimate of Florida Valencia production is, at 44,500,000 boxes, up 25 per cent over the pickout for the 1960-61 season which was ushered in by Hurricane Donna.

Florida Citrus Mutual agrees with the government's Valencia estimate, as per these words from Executive Vice President Bob Rutledge:

"Mutual is in the unusual position of defending the federal crop estimate of 44,500,000 boxes of Valencias only because we believe it to be right . . . and because the lack of confidence in the estimate is preventing the grower from receiving his rightful share of the consumer's citrus dollar."

Mutual also agrees with the government's estimate of a total 1961-62 Florida orange crop of 101 million boxes, and Rutledge points out that Mutual expects the actual pickout to be no more than that amount.

"From the information we have compiled and analyzed at this time, we see no justification for any further increases in the Florida orange crop estimate and we believe the industry can plan with confidence based on no more than 101 million boxes of oranges," Rutledge said.

Mutual's estimate of county-by-county Valencia production this season, with changes from last season noted:

Polk, 12,880,000 boxes, up 70 per cent; Highlands, 2,440,000 boxes, up 30 per cent; Lake, 9,100,000 boxes, up 20 per cent; Hillsborough, 2,800,000 boxes, up 20 per cent; Hardee, 1,110,000 boxes, up 20 per cent; Broward, 575,000 boxes, up 20 per cent; Orange, 5,200,000 boxes, up 15 per cent; Indian River, 870,000 boxes, up 15 per cent; Manatee, 375,000 boxes, up 15 per cent; Pasco, 2,100,000 boxes, up 10 per cent; St. Lucie, 1,865,000 boxes, up 10 per cent; Pinellas, 745,000 boxes, up 10 per cent; Desoto, 680,000 boxes, up 10 per cent.

On the minus side: Brevard, 640,000 boxes, down 25 per cent; Seminole, 510,000 boxes, down 25 per cent; Marion, 255,000 boxes, down 20 per cent; Volusia, 635,000 boxes, down 15 per cent.

The "no-change" counties: Osceola, 985,000 boxes; Hernando, 368,000 boxes; Putnam, 146,000 boxes.

In "all other" counties, with 221,000 boxes, down 20 per cent.

Calling The Man In The Moon

Mr. Man in the Moon,
up there in the blue,
Please lend me your ear,
for I'm calling you.
I am calling you
just to put you wise,-
You are in very soon for a big surprise.

There are fellows down here,
smart boys too,
Who are building big rockets to fly up at you.
They'll land one in your front yard some day,
Then claim the whole moon
for the U.S.A.

You smile at that.
You don't believe it?
What's that? You say you can't conceive it?
You say that fellows planning such crazy things
Belong to what's known as the lunatic fringe?

Now you may be right.
I just don't know.
I dare not say
it isn't so.
To prophecy failure,
I guess one shouldn't.
Too many things have been done that couldn't.

But listen. They've already tried it twice;
In fact they've actually tried it thrice.
The last rocket went round behind, they say.
You may find it in your backyard some day.

Now these rocketeers have an almighty yen
To try it again and again and again.
So long as the money holds out,
you know,
They'll keep putting on this astral show.

Oh, yes, it's expensive
for folks in the red,
A number of billions,
so 'tis said.
But that won't worry 'em,
for the plain fact is
They can always get money by levying taxes.

That's all, Mr. Moon.
I've given you warning.
Now I must ring off
for it's almost morning.

Walker Memorial Physician Gives Address On "Poisonous Plants"

[illegible] Hartwell delivered a [illegible] message to a [illegible] of interested people [illegible] night of last week [illegible]

[illegible] great distress to [illegible] some people while others are not affected. Some times the fumes from burning leaves and twigs of ivy causes itch and blisters on the skin of sensitive people. English ivy is listed among the poisonous plants but only the mature black berries are the culprits. Many people are poisoned by chrysanthemums, prim roses, limes, and mango.

Since there are more than 1,000 poisonous plants it is hardly advisable to attempt to destroy them all, but rather teach the children not to eat or touch. Dr. Hartwell compared the poison plants with many medicines which are poisonous if not taken as directed; one of these being the common aspirin tablet. He also urged that children never be told that medicine tasted like candy, but that they learn to take medicine because it was needed, and that they learn not to eat poisonous plants, berries, just because they look pretty and attractive.

Recognition of specimen plants is of importance to every parent, especially because many plants grow in accessible places around the home and in public parks. Poisonous specimen can be defined on different plants at various stages of their growth, in the way that some are poisonous in the raw and not so when cooked. To illustrate this Dr. Hartwell used the cashew nut which may not be eaten raw but it is completely harmless after roasted.

Of the deadly poisonous plants in Florida is the Oleander [illegible] leaf of this [illegible] swallowed [illegible] known [illegible] The milk [illegible] of the plant is [illegible] taken internally [illegible] including [illegible] which has the [illegible] poisonous. [illegible] Lantana which grows [illegible] and bears pretty blossoms [illegible] yellow and orange [illegible] a lavender shade, [illegible] deadly poison plant. It is [illegible] of the many extremely dangerous [illegible] to cattle if they [illegible] buds among the [illegible]

The Datura or Angel Trumpet [illegible] of the deadly poison family. The Gloriosa lily, the Hydrangea and the Larkspur are only a few of the common flowers found in most gardens that are deadly poisonous if taken internally.

Dr. Hartwell referred to recent deaths of children which had been attributed to eating berries from the Nightshade plant. The green berries of this plant are the deadly poison and when the berry has turned black it is not a deadly poison. He described the Pokeweed which is used in the early spring by many people as an edible green but when it is a full grown plant it is poisonous and also the berries of this plant are very poisonous.

Florida groves and vacant lots are full of the delicate looking but strong vine which bears clusters of seed pods full of red seed with black spots, known as Black Eyed Susans or the Rosary Seed. These seeds are very hard, and are often strung for beads, but this seed is deadly poison if chewed and swallowed. He urged that children be instructed to leave this attractive looking seed alone.

The above named plants are only a few of the dozens that Dr. Hartwell displayed and to further illustrate his explanation that many plants are poisonous in varying degrees depending upon the amount a person consumes, he displayed a tobacco leaf rolled into a cigarette, and also a bottle of rye, made from the common grain rye.

In the kitchen, the Irish potato can become a poison if it has turned green, and also the long shoots from the potato when it sprouts, they are poison. He advised the housewife to never use a white potato when it has turned green.

The castor bean and the tung-oil tree were also named as the cause of a number of poisonings to people who ate the nuts from these trees.

A Bulletin from the Agricultural Experiment Station at the University of Florida, Gainesville which gives information on poisonous plants around the home, may be had by mailing a card requesting same.

Red Devils Play In Sub-Group Tournament In Sebring Tonight

Coach Guy Garrett's Red Devil nine will make a bid to return as host team to the state high school baseball tournament Thursday night when they play the Sebring Blue Streaks at Fireman's Field in the nightcap of the sub-group tourney being held there.

Okeechobee will meet first seeded Punta Gorda in the opening game at 7 p. m. and the Red Devils are scheduled to meet Sebring at 9 o'clock.

It will be the third meeting between the two Highlands County schools. Avon Park took the first game at Head Field and the Streaks won the second meeting at Fireman's Field in Sebring.

Leonard Sullivan will get the nod for mound duty for Avon Park and Sebring's coach, Johnny Freeland is expected to call on his ace lefthander, Richard Gill, to hurl for the Streaks.

The other sub-group tournament of District 6 will be held simultaniously in Plant City with Kathleen meeting Turkey Creek at 7 p. m. and Plant City hosting Mulberry at 9 o'clock.

The finals of both sub-group meets will be held Friday night at 7:30 and the winners will meet each other in a best-of-three game series next week. The winner will represent District 6 in the state meet here at Head Field next month.

long and 33 feet wide.

The right-of-way for Sebring's main street was the subject of a letter to the commissioners from the State Road Department. The letter pointed out that "clearing all encroachments" from the right-of-way along North Ridgewood drive, from the Circle to the railroad, is the "responsibility of the county".

The letter was referred to the County Attorney. Work on Sebring's street improvement program is underway.

The commissioners also referred to the Attorney papers dealing with the designation of Highlands County Court House as a fallout shelter in case of a disaster. The court house has already been declared as a control center for civil defense activities in event of disaster.

The commissioners approved the bond for Ann Williams, newly appointed deputy employed in the Sheriff's Department office.

Tentative approval was given to a plat for a portion of Leisure Lakes sub-division.

A letter of appreciation was received from the Highlands County Fair Association. Special acclaim was given to County Agriculture Agent Bert Harris. The Association said state officials now refer new fair groups to Highlands County to receive expert help in setting up new fairs for small counties.

A temporary wall, once used in the county health department, was declared surplus property and of no value.

Light Docket In County Court

Drinking figured in the charges of 15 of the cases heard in County Court on Monday. The docket of 25 cases was an unusually long one.

Two white drivers entered pleas of guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated.

Judge Mervin Rehrer handed out a jail sentence of three months, and a fine of $500 or six months more in jail, to Woodrow Wilson Smith, 50, of Lake Wales.

The Judge also ruled that Smith should give up his right to drive for the maximum time allowed under Florida law. At the time of his arrest Smith was driving without a license and in court Monday pleaded guilty to driving while his license was revoked. On that charge he was sentenced to three months in jail and fined $200 or three months more in jail. This was Smith's fourth conviction for driving while intoxicated.

A good fish pond in Florida should produce about 200 pounds of fish per acre each year, if the pond is properly managed.

Little League—

Sebring in Sebring in the sub-group tournament Thursday night.

Last Tuesday afternoon the Little League Association kicked off its 1962 season with a parade through town at 4 p. m. The Red Devil band led the parade and local officials participated in the parade along with players of the four teams.

Three First Baptist boys slammed out home runs to lead their team to a 16-7 win over the Rotary nine in the Little League season opener last Tuesday night and the Lions scored 12 runs in the top of the third inning to swamp the Florida Power Employees by a score of 12-4 in the nightcap.

Clark Jackson, Dean Lemler and G. Griffin all hit homeruns to spark the Baptists 17 hit attack on the Rotary hurlers. Jackson and Lemler also got a double as Jackson got four hits for five at bat, Lemler got three hits, Ronnie Laye hit a double and a single, Rance Rewis got three singles, Griffin got two singles along with his homer, and Wicker and Atkins both got a single each.

The Rotary boys scored their seven runs on four hits—doubles by Copeland, Sizemore, and Rewis, and a triple by Chestnut. C. Jackson was the winning pitcher and R. Sizemore took the loss for Rotary.

The Lions got only three hits, singles by Gary Neal, Nunnallee, and Sims, but took advantage of eight walks and five errors to score their 12 runs. The F.P.E. nine collected only two hits off winning pitcher Long who relieved starter Landress. Steve Walker got both hits for the Florida Power team, both singles.

Bright Future Is Predicted For Daytona

DAYTONA BEACH — Bill France, president of Daytona International Speedway and NASCAR, predicts that within five years the annual "Daytona 500" late model stock car race will be attracting crowds in excess of 100,000 and that other major events such as the annual "Daytona Firecracker 250" scheduled for July 4 and the "Daytona Continental" three-hour grand touring and sports car race scheduled for February 17, 1963, will be attracting other record sports crowds as top Florida attractions.

The paid attendance for the 1962 "Daytona 500" speed classic won by Daytona's own Glenn "Fireball" Roberts in a 1962 Pontiac with a record speed of 152.529 miles per hour passed the 58,000 mark and race officials are already predicting a crowd of 75,000 or more for the fifth annual 500-mile classic February 24, 1963, as the climax of the annual Daytona Speed Weeks.

The attendance for the Independence Day "Daytona Firecracker 250" has increased every year since it started in 1959, and so have the speeds. Fireball Roberts won the 1959 250-miler with an average speed of 140.581 miles per hour. Jack Smith of Spartanburg, S. C. won the second 250-miler in 1960, moving the average speed up to 146.842 miles per hour. Then last year David Pearson of Spartanburg nosed out Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill. in a sizzling finish with a world record speed of 154.294 miles per hour, which will be the mark at stake in the July 4 race this year.

The speeds for the annual "Daytona 500" stock car classic have jumped from 135.521 miles per hour for Lee Petty in an Oldsmobile in 1959 to 152.529 miles per hour set by Roberts this year. Other winners included Junior Johnson of Ronda, N. C. in 1960 with an average of 124.740, slowed down by wrecks, and Marvin Panch of Daytona Beach in 1961 with a new average of 149.601 miles per hour. Johnson was driving a Chevrolet and Panch a Pontiac.

Four 25-mile qualifying races are scheduled for Sunday, July 1, starting at 1 p. m. to determine starting positions for the 250-mile Independence Day race that gets underway at 11 a. m.

Florida Juice Said "Selling Like Hot Cakes" In North

The old phrase, "selling like hot cakes" is being changed to "selling like orange juice" in this big midwestern market, Homer E. Hooks, general manager of the Florida Citrus Commission, reported after a personal visit to Chicago food stores featuring Florida citrus.

Hooks said current Commission promotions on fresh Valencias and frozen orange concentrate are "paying off in increased sales." The Commission is spending $100,000 nationally pushing Valencia sales and $300,000 promoting multi-pak concentrate.

"We are getting wonderful cooperation from chains and independent food stores in the Chicago area," Hooks said. "Store managers, buyers and merchandisers, told me Florida citrus is selling well. They are featuring our citrus in their weekly newspaper ads. Citrus is widely and attractively displayed, and the prices are right. All this adds up to maintaining consumer demand at a high level. We've got to keep working to continue this momentum," he said.

He said he was especially pleased by the confident and optimistic attitude of the store managers and merchandisers on the Florida citrus sales outlook. "They feel they can promote citrus and do a good job in bringing values to consumers, and the results bear out this attitude," Hooks said.

Hooks presented a camera to a retail chain assistant produce merchandiser in recognition of his outstanding work in promoting Florida Valencias throughout the chain in the Chicago area. Hooks also talked with consumers in the stores to get their comments on Florida citrus. He said the predominant comment was "more juice" in Florida oranges and the value of concentrate in being "cheaper than soft drinks."

Hooks reported that Florida oranges and concentrate were "by far the best food buy among all fruits and juices" in the stores he visited.

He praised the work of the Commission merchandising men in Chicago for keeping Florida citrus in the forefront of food store features. The Chicago team is headed by Francis Mulkeen, division manager; Joe Ferguson, regional manager; and Conway Brock and Clifford Beasley, Jr., merchandising representatives.

While in Chicago, Hooks also hosted a dinner in behalf of the Commission, for top officers of the American Women in Radio and Television who were holding their national convention here. He also was interviewed on Florida citrus prospects by a major Chicago daily newspaper.

Hooks then flew to Atlanta, Georgia, where he again acted as host at a luncheon honoring a Chicago teacher chosen by her superiors as having done an outstanding job in health education. The recognition awards for health education are part of the Commission's Youth and School Program.

Witnesses Hold Meet In Bartow; Good Attendance

"It takes only a casual observation to remind us that never before has the world experienced such international confusion as it does today. Never before has there been such marked division affecting people of this earth, such divisions that the most astute leaders of the nations are unable to solve." These were the opening words of D. J. Thomas, district supervisor, as he addressed a crowd of 1,298 assembled for the climax of Jehovah's Witnesses three-day convention in Bartow.

Thomas showed the scriptural reason for this condition is Satan's selfish exploitation of man for his own purpose.

He concluded his talk by saying: "Because Jesus has the necessary qualities of love and wisdom bound up in perfection and has proven unbreakable in discharging faithful service to Jehovah, God has seen fit to place into his hand all authority and power as world ruler to put down rebellion and to restore a sane and righteous rule toward this earth."

On Saturday afternoon 19 baptismal candidates were totally immersed in water symbolizing their dedication to do God's will and desire to pursue the ministry as their main goal in life.

Avon Park Band Wins Top Honors At State Contest Held In Tampa

The Avon Park Band, under the direction of Victor MicKunas, brought home honors from the State Contest held in Tampa last week from Wednesday to Friday.

In marching, the band received a Superior rating, which is a distinct honor due to the fact that most of the band members are young and have only had a short period of training.

In concert music, the band received one superior rating and two excellent ratings from the three judges.

In sight reading they received an excellent rating.

Only two of the 18 bands entering the contest received superior ratings which also gives Avon Park a proud feeling to be one of those two.

MicKunas treasures the comments made by Al G. Wright, on his report. Wright was one of the judges and is from Purdue University. His comments in quote, "This CC Band can stand among the best of any state in the United States." "They are fine, well trained and well instrumented." "Any CC School and members of Class AA Schools in the county would be proud of."

The band members stayed at the Hillsboro Hotel. Accompanying them with Mr. and Mrs. MicKunas were Ernest Childers, Mrs. Arlin King, Mrs. A. E. Flint, Mrs. Tony Mitchel and Mrs. William Luscomb, chairman of chaperones.

Ticker Talk

HOW BUSINESS LOOKS

April's results have been marred by the inevitable drop in steel orders that followed the labor settlement and rescinding of the price hike.

Indications are that the month's output fell to about 9½ million tons. That isn't exactly bad; it is better than any month in all of 1961 with the exception of December.

Yet it was the poorest month so far this year, comparing with a bloated March figure of about 10½ million tons.

—o—

How much more deflating steel will have to take because of customers' earlier inventory building now is an open question.

The new factor is the growth in consumer demand for goods and most particularly for new automobiles. This helps to compensate for recent cancellations of steel orders and requests from customers that deliveries be deferred.

No sooner did Detroit begin receiving final reports on dealers' retail sales for March than they began to step up the output of cars.

—o—

Production of about 640,000 automobiles pushed April more than 40,000 above what had been expected as the month started.

This was some 35,000 ahead of March and the best month so far this year. But, more importantly, it made this the biggest April since 1955 and seemed likely to set the tone for the entire second quarter.

While Detroit aims to play it close to retail sales, right now there are hopes for a three-month total close to 1.9 million.

—o—

Autos may not be breaking any records (1955 is pretty hard to top) but they are providing a real bright spot in the business picture.

By contrast, the overall economy has been breaking any number of records without seeming to impress anyone unduly. In fact, these records are being made laboriously, like a man swimming upstream. The process is slow. But, more than that, there is the lurking fear that the swimmer may go under from sheer exhaustion.

This perhaps creates a tendency not to judge things for what they are but rather for what might have been.

—o—

Production, conspicuously, is held up for comparison to the estimates made at the turn of the year. And, though new records are being set, they quite generally are found wanting.

Physical volume of production, as measured by the Federal Reserve Board's index, provides an example.

The overall index registered 116 in March. That was a new high. But, rather than look at it that way, there's the tendency to add that it was only 1 point higher than December. And should it take three months to add a point?

Gross national product is being subjected to the same kind of scrutiny. Official estimates place this dollar measure of all goods and services at a $549 billion rate for the first quarter.

That was roundly $9 billion better, at an annual rate, than 1961's final quarter. But it did, in fact, fall $4 billion short of original estimates in Washington circles.

—o—

With the employment figures, it is even more difficult to maintain a negative point of view. Month after month, the number holding jobs goes on setting a new high for that month.

The latest figure is no exception; 800,000 more people were employed in March than a year before. The figure for those actually on payrolls is even better—1.2 million higher than a year earlier.

Or take the progress so far this year. Employment is lower than it was in December. Yet, allowing for seasonal factors, there actually has been an improvement of more than 300,000 in payroll jobs.

And unemployment, though higher than last fall, has declined to 5½% of the seasonally adjusted labor force from 6.7% and 6.8%.

—o—

Not only are more people working than ever before for the time of year. They also have been putting in more hours on their jobs.

This has resulted in new record for personal income in 11 of the last 12 months (the dip in January being the lone exception).

March climbed to an annual rate above $435 billion, $2 billion better than February's record and up almost $30 billion in a year.

That's a sturdy year-to-year rise of 7% for purchasing power.

—o—

Improvement in retail sales, since the mid-winter hesitancy, naturally offers the best proof that people are in a spending mood.

Autos and other durable goods finally are providing the backbone of the pickup (gains for Easter finery notwithstanding).

Retail volume for all types of stores now in running at an annual rate above $230 billion—and, by all portents, heading higher.

—o—

Anyone really hunting trouble doubtless will point to the downturn in orders booked by manufacturers of durable goods.

Indeed, this will bear watching. For, after a year-long rise, such orders slide fairly steeply in February and March.

But there remains the question if all this wasn't a distortion in steel and things made of steel—first a rush to stock up, then a cut in orders when it became more evident there would be no strike.

Future readings, though, will have to be taken more at face value.

MISS ESTHER QUINONES

Local Family Brings Another Refugee Here

Miss Esther Quinones, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Quinones, have been operating a protestant mission at Sancti Spiritus, LV, Cuba, arrived this past week to be a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Singletary. Her parents have also made application to come to the United States.

Miss Quinones states that the food shortage in Cuba is dri[illegible] ing many people out. She further reports that there has been no trouble in getting American financial aid to the people at her mission station, but that food and materials are rationed and that Communist supporters of Castro's government are given priority for food and clothing.

Miss Pearson Is Bridge Hostess

A dessert bridge party at the Jacaranda Hotel last Thursday evening was hosted by Miss Millie Pearson. The guests were served a delicious baked Alaska dessert with hot coffee in the Jacaranda Coffee Shop. A crystal vase of spring flowers centered the table.

For the bridge game the ladies gathered in the Palm Room, and at the end of the play, prizes were awarded to Miss Kate Tompkins, Mrs. Hilda Taylor, Mrs. Lillian Hood and Mrs. I. H. Ford. Other guests included Miss Mattie Tompkins, Mrs. Joe Johnson, Mrs. Raeburn L. Brown, Mrs. Ethel McKelvaine, Mrs. Helen Pardee, Mrs. H. E. Bouis, Mrs. Edna Jackson, Mrs. Royal Coats and Mrs. Ethel Redd.

W.S.C.S. Circles Meet Wednesday

Mrs. R. B. Enoch was hostess on Wednesday morning to her circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, at her home on Mulberry Road in the Lake Lillian Subdivision.

Upon arrival the ladies enjoyed a social hour when the hostess served hot coffee with delicious party snacks. The program and business meeting followed.

Twenty-three ladies of the Women's Group of the Avon Park Lakes Association held their monthly business meeting on Thursday afternoon at the Club House. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Grace Haines and Mrs. Marge Slocum. During the summer months there will be no business meetings, however the ladies will meet each Thursday morning for their arts and crafts activities, also will work on items for the Cancer Society.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lynch. May we all wish you a happy 46th anniversary and many more wonderful years.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bengel motored to Clearwater Saturday morning to visit with Mrs. Bengel's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kirshmer. The Kirshmers have been visiting in the St. Petersburg area and are leaving for their home in Cliff Side Park, New Jersey.

On Thursday the 17th at six o'clock the Avon Park Lakes Association members will have a picnic on the patio at the Club House. Everyone is to bring a "covered dish" and a meat serving sufficient for their family. It was decided not to prepare any meat on the grille. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Pearl Johnson, Mrs. Stella Sattler and Miss Bertha Desautels. We sincerely hope everyone will come out and have a good picnic supper and enjoy the splendid fellowship of other Association members and guests.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Kempker drove Mrs. Kempker's mother, Mrs. Fisher, to Tampa on Saturday. Mrs. Fisher is flying home to Plainfield, New Jersey. Happy landing, Mrs. Fisher.

Mrs. Helen Adams, Mrs. Evelyn Bengel, and Mrs. Thelma Merrill of the Lakes enjoyed the Avon Park Woman's Club "covered dish" luncheon meeting at the Woman's Club on Friday. Two ladies from the Lakes are officers of the Woman's Club for next year - Mrs. Helen Adams, Recording Secretary and Mrs. Beatrice Luyben, Registrar.

The Avon Park Lakes Association Tuesday night card party was quite a festive occasion. All members celebrated Rex Beach's birthday and shared his birthday cake, with ice cream and coffee. Happy birthday, Rex! Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Florence LeChien and Mrs. Pearle Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Robbins enjoyed a camping trip to the Everglades at Marco Island last week.

Last Wednesday Mrs. Lucy Bue and Mrs. Thelma Merrill entertained 24 ladies at a dessert-luncheon card party at the Jacaranda Hotel. Refreshing punch was served during the afternoon. Beautiful arrangements of orchid and white chrysanthemums, gardenias and other greenery were used profusely to decorate the Palm Room.

Mrs. Ann Robbins made high score in the afternoon bridge game, and Miss Bertha Desautels was second high. Winners in Canasta were Mrs. Jane Jameson, Mrs. Pansy Diebold and Miss Gertrude Desautels.

Don't forget the Wednesday night square dance at the Avon Park Lakes Club House.

Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Beach and mother, Mr and Mrs. Clarence Spencer, and Mr. A. M. Luyben enjoyed a picnic last Saturday at Lake Jackson - such luscious food and pleasant conversation.

The additional shuffleboard courts are progressing nicely. The fill for the new courts has been placed and men of the Avon Park Lakes Association are working eagerly to complete necessary ground work.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Governors of the Avon Park Lakes Association will be Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the Club Huse, Chairman Diebold presiding.

Our homes here at the Lakes are landscaped and set with flowering plants and trees - and lush green grass. We take great pride in our little community and all our work and efforts is paying dividends in the enjoyment of the beauty of our properties. At night when the lights reflect in the lakes it is truly a lovely sight.

Mr and Mrs. Wm. Robbins visited Mrs Robbins' mother, Mrs. Charles Keep, and her sister, Mrs. Caroline Swaze at Flagler Beach last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Osgood Lee of Jesup, Georgia enjoyed a weeks vacation in their home on Avon Blvd. on Lake Olivia.

Mrs Carroll Moehlman visited her friend Mrs. A. U. DeMott who is residing in Carroll's home here at the Lakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan of Birmingham, Alabama relaxed in their home on Nautilus Drive for a week. Perfect vacation spot - right?

Mr. and Mrs. C. Coburn entertained Mr. and Mrs. Osgood Lee at dinner on Saturday night.

Sunday is a very special day for honoring a loved one - Mother's Day - and this day shall bring happiness and many affectionate and loving thoughts of our mothers. May we this day, and every day ahead, be grateful for our precious mothers. "With Love to Mother on Mother's Day."

"Home is in our memory,
 A house upon a hill
With a valley spread before it
 Green and clean and still.
Home is where the stars shine
 More brightly every night,
And where through every window
 We can see a welcoming light.
Home is where those dear to us
 Keep faith in us and pray
That the path we now are traveling,
 Will lead us safely back some day."

"The grand essentials to happiness are something to do, something to love, and something to hope for."

[illegible]

[illegible] changing world [illegible] Florida have [illegible] national markets [illegible] from the rest of [illegible]

[illegible] must decide the [illegible] America must take to [illegible] selves the strongest [illegible] domestic economy while at the same time preserving the utmost strength of our position in the growing economic competition between nations.

Economics . . economics . . economics! Wherever you turn in agriculture, in business, in industry, in government, in the everyday routine of family living, problems involving economics are encountered. If we continue at our present level of economic illiteracy, how can we expect to have the judgment to choose a course that will preserve our American way of life?

What is economics? Here's the definition by Webster's dictionary: "The science that investigates the conditions and laws affecting the production, distribution and consumption of wealth, or the material means of satisfying human needs."

And what does it do for us? To quote Secretary Hodges: "Economics offers a way of deciding the relative merits of this course or that. It insists that we define problems in terms of facts and identify our objectives in some order of priority. It tells us to examine alternative ways to achieve our objectives, and it gives us tools to measure the likely consequences of the various possible actions. In short, it equips us for orderly thinking about our resources."

If you think the subject isn't important, let me quote Secretary Hodges' closing remarks:

"Years ago someone said that economics was the science of stating the obvious in terms that are incomprehensible. Economics is not incomprehensible, as some schoolchildren know. And what it teaches is certainly not obvious, for otherwise there would be no problem of economic illiteracy.

"Americans can - and must - learn their economic ABC's, for at bottom the case for economics is the case for democracy itself — government by the people. If a democracy is to cope effectively with economic issues, the people must understand."

The complexities of agricultural marketing involve economics in a big way. Some of our progressive producers in Florida have learned that promotion of their commodity in a manner that goes direct to the ultimate consumer is one of the most effective means of strengthening a marketing program.

According to a recent report, Georgia and Alabama peanut farmers are doubling their budget for promotion this year. Says one Alabama grower: "Six years ago our state's surplus was 38 per cent of production. Last year, sales of peanut butter - where most of Alabama's peanuts are used - were up by 14.2 per cent and the surplus was down to 17.5 per cent."

His comment: "Promotion pays!"

FIFTEEN BROWNIE SCOUTS of Troop No. 79 and many of their friends enjoyed a spend-the-day party in Lake Wales Saturday of last week. They made the trip by truck with Fred Davis as the chauffeur. Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Cecil Ferguson, Mrs. Roberta Flowers and Mrs. Elizabeth McIntosh accompanied the troop. Davis took the Troop on a tour through the Passion Play grounds where he had once worked and explained to them the various buildings. They also visited Bok Tower and enjoyed a picnic lunch at the play ground in Lake Wales before returning home. Troop No. 79 will hold their final meeting Saturday, May 12, with a swimming party at the Florida Power Club House from 2 to 5 p.m. The mothers will serve a picnic supper for the children.

Game and Fish Commission Sets 19 Meetings Throughout Florida

TALLAHASSEE — A series of 19 public meetings will be sponsored throughout the state by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission from May 7 to June 15 to gather information for setting of Florida's 1962-63 fishing and hunting regulations.

In announcing the meeting series, the Commission's director, A. D. Aldrich, stated that the purpose was to determine public reactions and suggestions so as to formulate a set of regulations satisfactory to the majority of the people and consistent with the greatest benefits to the fish and wildlife.

All interested persons and organizations are invited to submit comments or recommendations as to all fishing and hunting regulations at the specified public meetings, or in writing to any office of the Commission.

The public meetings will be held as follows:

Fifth Conservation District—DeLand, May 7; Orlando, May 8; Inverness, May 9.

Third Conservation District—Pensacola, May 10; DeFuniak Springs, May 11; Marianna, May 21; Tallahassee, May 22.

Second Conservation District—Jacksonville, May 14; Lake City, May 15; Bronson, May 16.

Fourth Conservation District—Vero Beach, June 4; Belle Glade, June 5; Immokalee, June 6; Fort Lauderdale, June 7; Miami, June 8.

First Conservation District Brooksville, June 12; Bradenton, June 13; Fort Myers, June 14; Avon Park, June 15.

After data collected at all the meetings has been compiled and analyzed, the Commission will formally set the 1962-63 hunting and fishing regulations at Tallahassee in mid-July, Aldrich stated.

In Florida, the minnow most easily propagated for use as fishing bait is the golden shiner.

Therapy Group To Meet at FARP

The Florida Occupational Therapy Association will hold its 10th Annual Meeting at the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center in Avon Park, May 26, according to Mrs. Jean G. Mosier of Sebring, hostess.

Mrs. Mosier said an executive board meeting is scheduled for May 25, at the Santa Rosa Hotel in Sebring. A business meeting will also be held at the hotel on the morning of May 26. The group will then visit the Center for lunch, a tour of the facilities and a program, to be presented by Mrs. Mosier.

Mrs. Mosier is director of occupational and recreational therapy at the Center.

Sixteen Florida lakes are now under full or partial fisheries management, for improved fishing, by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission. The Commission plans to add more in the near future.

Current reports of the U. S. Forest Service indicate the Southern Pine forests are increasing in volume at the rate of 3½ billion board feet each year.

Droit Predicts Light Vote For Second Primary

A very light turn-out is being predicted for the second primary on Tuesday, May 29.

Supervisor of Registration Roland X. Droit said the number of ballots cast may fall to a thousand. "When only five thousand voters turn-out to vote when there are several candidates and a bond issue, you can be sure that very few will come out when they don't even know the candidates," Droit said.

Official results of the May 8 voting for state-wide candidates will not be available until late this week. However, unofficial returns indicate that the only state-wide candidates on the May 29 ballot will be Jim Blanton and Jerry Carter.

These two are seeking a seat on the railroad commission.

Droit said sample ballots have not been distributed as yet, but he expects it will include contests for spots on the Democratic National Committee. Democrats are to chose one national committeeman and one national committee-women, and there are often six or eight candidates for each of these posts.

In both the Democratic and Republican parties all local party officers are without opposition.

New Order To Take Effect On Monday

(2) [illegible] and a [illegible] be put into effect.

(3) And that [illegible] were not removed [illegible] State Baseball Tournament which runs from June 11-14, they be covered.

After receiving these recommendations from William Briscoe, chairman of the merchants committee, council voted to put the plan into effect immediately and continue for an indefinite time. One council member commented that the indefinite period would probably be "permanent".

General feeling of the group was that little revenue is gained from the meters, since upkeep and repairs take most of the funds derived from them. Another thought was that by removing the meters, shoppers would tend to patronize the downtown stores more, rather than drive to the parking-free shopping center West of the downtown shopping area.

At any rate, signs have been ordered and will be erected at the beginning of blocks, noting the parking time limit. Most board members thought this limit would range from one to two hours in the immediate downtown area.

In other business Monday, council referred until next meeting a request for a pay raise for paid members of the City Fire Department. The request was made by Councilman H. M. (Chick) Farless, chairman of the fire department.

Farless was told to proceed on another fire department matter however. The firemen indicated their desire to cater the Ridge League of Municipalities Meeting which will be held here in June, and were told by council to proceed with plans for the event. The volunteers would prepare the meal and the women's auxiliary would serve.

Councilman George Border, chairman of the street department, reported that the current paving project authorized some time ago was nearing completion, with the exception of several blocks on North Central Avenue. According to Border, $10,000 was to be alloted to the project. At this point, $9,117.75 has been spent and another $3,000 would be required for paving of North Central. He was told to proceed with that phase of the program and then council would take another look at any further paving for the current fiscal year.

Words of praise were heaped on council and the city police department in a letter from the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad. The railway commended the city's policemen for the fine effort they put forth in controlling spectators during the mopping up operations of a train wreck on the company's line here last week.

Mayor E. A. DeLaney reported to council that the State Road Department had okayed the signal light for U. S. 27 and the Mall and that the plans are currently in Tallahassee for final approval. He said installation of the traffic control structure is expected to get underway shortly.

Shortly before adjournment, City Attorney Hue Nunnallee cleared up a controversial situation which had arisen over the speed of ambulances and emergency vehicles within the city limits. According to Nunnallee, the city adopted the "Model Traffic Code" several years ago. This code is set forth in Florida Statutes and is a state law, Nunnallee said. According to that statute, municipalities cannot regulate the speed of emergency vehicles. Nunnallee pointed out however, that such emergency vehicles "proceed at their own risk".

The Avon Park JayCees have slated their annual Vehicle Safety Check campaign for Saturday, May 26, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., at the street adjacent to the railway station in Avon Park.

Harold C. Worden, Safety-Check Committee Chairman, said ten items would be checked. They are. Brakes, front lights and turn signals, rear lights and turn signals, steering, tires, exhaust system, glass, windshield wipers, rear view mirror and horn.

Cars that check out properly on all ten items will be awarded the JayCees familiar circular safety check sticker, to be placed on the windshield of the auto.

The JayCees will establish their "Safety Lane" near the railway station. The complete check will take less than ten minutes, Worden indicated.
