RESULTS SPEAK

Kremlin leaders claim that the Soviet economy [illegible] produce the American economy, [illegible] to be realized, he'll have to pull [illegible] rabbits out of a mighty small hat.

A [illegible] article in the New York Times by Harry Schwartz tells the story. In certain areas Soviet industrialization by the heaviest kind of official compulsion has made significant strides. But trouble spots abound. For instance, 1961 results were below announced 1961 goals in such all-important fields as national income, labor productivity, foreign trade, and oil production.

On top of that, the Soviets are undergoing an agricultural crisis. Food production just isn't adequate. Premier Khrushchev himself has said as much in recent speeches, laying special emphasis on an acute shortage of meat—a commodity which we have in abundance.

It is to be expected that Soviet production, measured on a pure percentage basis, will expand more rapidly than ours in many lines—for the simple reason that the Russians are starting from a far lower base, in an economy of scarcity rather than one of plenty. But in the basic fields—such as steel, electric power and oil production—our superiority is enormous. Two systems are now engaged in all-out economic as well as political war. The one is based on competitive free enterprise, in which men and institutions voluntarily attempt to outdo each other. The other is based upon absolute government denomination and decision with coercion as the spur. The results speak for themselves.

Washington Report

By Congressman Jim Haley

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Without any great fanfare, President Kennedy has renewed his request that Congress transfer to him stand-by power to make cuts in income tax rates as a means of fighting economic recessions—and with even less fanfare, the proposal has been laid to rest in the House Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee.

There is a considerable suspicion that the President's formal request for this power (which he first suggested in his State of the Union message last January) was done solely for the record, for he had been advised by the leadership of both houses of The Congress that the bill does not stand a chance of passage.

In the first place, the Ways and Means and Finance committees are so swamped already with administration legislation, including perhaps the three measures which are the President's most important proposals of this session, that they could not reasonably be expected to study the tax-cutting proposal.

But there is a more fundamental reason, I think, why the new bill will not be passed. What the bill would do would be to take from The Congress a power, at least, of its constitutional power to raise revenue. It would grant the power to fix tax rates and refuse levies [illegible] in the past has [illegible] many of its [illegible] them in the [illegible] executive branch. Members of the [illegible] either of the previous year. [illegible] than ten years ago even [illegible] of the fundamental [illegible] controlling taxes.

The Administration's financial advisers insist that this bill does not ask The Congress to give up its power to levy taxes. But the power to levy Taxes obviously include the power to lower levies, and that is exactly the power this bill proposes to transfer to the Executive.

The House has not been very busy since the Easter recess, mostly because of primary elections. There have been a series of these, starting with the Texas primary May 1. This was followed by primaries in five states, including Florida, and as members of the House invariably go home—as they should—for primaries which are important to their futures, the House, operating under a gentleman's agreement, was virtually shut down, as far as important business was concerned, until the middle of last week.

But you may be certain things soon will begin to hum in Washington.

$31,000 Dog Tax To County

TALLAHASSEE — State Comptroller Ray E. Green reported today each of the 67 counties has received an additional check of $31,000 from race track taxes.

Green said the total sent to counties to date for the current fiscal year is $11,000 more than received by each of the counties during the corresponding period of the previous year.

Each county has received a total of $184,500 in race track funds to date.

CRACKER POLITICS

By Allen Morris

TALLAHASSEE—Some old bones are being rattled here as efforts are made to fit together a winning combination of public and private groups to combat traffic slaughter on Florida's streets and highways.

It was roughly a decade ago that last an idea which couldn't fail - "who could be against highway safety?" asked its proponents, first confidently, then in bewilderment - did fail.

Actually, even that was a replay. Governor Dave Sholtz, in 1933-36, had encouraged a State traffic safety program. It faded away when Sholtz did.

The lessons of 1950-53 are being picked over now as Governor Farris Bryant's Inter-Agency Council on Traffic Safety begins anew. Right now, this departmental group has hopes of blossoming into a broad-front agency which would bring both public and private groups into the safety crusade.

Why did the same idea fail of legislative support in the 1950's? It failed then for a number of reasons, any one of which might have been fatal.

Paradoxically, it failed because it was successful. Florida's highway death rate levelled off, reducing the urgency for doing something. It is tragic but often true that only catastrophe stirs people to action.

And it failed because of certain human elements. For one thing, it was identified too closely with Governor Fuller Warren. As it had ten years earlier with Governor Sholtz, the safety program was left orphan when Governor Warren bowed out at the end of his term.

It didn't have to be that way, since Cabinet officers and others were brought into the leadership expressly to provide continuity from one gubernatorial administration to another, but it was. And there were legislators who wanted to wipe out any trace of Warren that they could.

Together, they found it easy to say "let's turn this over to the Department of Public Safety," and that was done.

It was done in the face of repeated warnings from the National Safety Council that however logical it may seem to have an enforcement agency as the core of a traffic safety movement, the total job requires citizen cooperation and experience elsewhere has shown uniformed men and civilians find it difficult to work together.

And there were certain other built-in points of irritation. For example, not all of the strict traffic law enforcement philosophies of the National Safety Council coincided then with the motorist-conscious Florida affiliates of the American Automobile Association. Many of those problems probably could have been adjusted if there had been time.

And yet, despite all its personality and other conflicts, the program of the '50's - with the Governor's Highway Safety Conference as its official vehicle and the Florida Citizens Safety Council as its public support arm - won measurable results. The mileage death rate, the most reliable index where the population fluctuates, dropped materially each year after the launching of the campaign although it had been rising steadily in prior years.

It furnished the spark for the formation of more than a score of local safety groups, the grass - elements which are considered essential to the success of any accident prevention movement. Some judged changes their attitude toward traffic violations by participating in meetings which convinced them of the relationship between penalties and accidents.

Too, the fallacy of looking to industry and other private sources for financing was rather clearly demonstrated then. It was found that such a plan, while occasionally workable at first, usually causes the staff to spend more time promoting donations than in promoting safety. It was found, too, that since the program benefits everyone, it was unfair to ask a few persons and firms to finance a statewide program.

Segments of the traffic safety problem have, of course, received official attention since the collapse of the Warren organization.

Former State Senator Merrill P. Barber of Vero Beach was, for example, largely responsible for the attention given by the Legislative Council to this matter, and, under the present chairmanship of Rep. Hal Chaires of Old Town, this work has been energetically carried forward. (Incidentally, the Legislative Council is one of the agencies of Governor Bryant's Inter-Agency Council, as is Chief Justice B. K. Roberts' Judicial Council.)

State Treasurer J. Edwin Larson, as Insurance Commissioner, brought into being a group, known as the Citizens Advisory Committee on Highway Safety, which gave effective public support to Legislative Council recommendations. Among these was the new two-year driver license. By spreading the issuance of some 2,500,000 licenses over 24 months, eliminating the pileup that came when all were written in a single month each year, the licenses have become more meaningful in law enforcement and for safe driver insurance rating.

Now, on its third time around, Florida looks hopefully toward the establishment of a lasting, useful statewide weapon against traffic accidents.

Journalism Institute Set For U. of Fla.

Gainesville — Opportunities will be afforded high school newspaper, magazine and yearbook staff members to [illegible] their work during the fourth annual High School Journalism Institute this summer at the University of Florida.

The institute is scheduled for June 17-29. It will be conducted by the Florida Institute for Continuing University Studies and the School of Journalism and Communications.

About 700 students participated in the three previous institutes. Officials expect over 300 to attend this year.

The institute is divided into two sections. The first week pertains to yearbooks and the second one deals with newspapers.

Magazine enthusiasts will find related subjects in either section.

Subjects to be covered during the first week are themes, copy, layout, picture editing, advertising, business, and circulation.

Those attending the second week will study reporting, makeup, features, editorials and other aspects of newspaper publishing.

Registration is limited to students entering the tenth grade or above next fall. Each applicant must be recommended by his student adviser and principal.

Enrollment forms may be obtained from Mrs. Hazel T. Morgan, youth activities director for the Florida Institute for Continuing University Studies, 807 Seagle Building, Gainesville, Florida.

Tonight is the Avon Park Lakes Association picnic on the patio of the club house at 6:00 p. m. Everyone come and bring a covered dish and enjoy the delicious food and pleasant visit with neighbors.

Last Monday the following couples enjoyed a picnic, and swimming, at Vero Beach: Mr. and Mrs. Al Diebold, Mr. and Mrs. Don Jameson, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Slocum, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harp, Mr. and Mrs. Harold LeChien, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanford, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Krenerick, Mr. and Mrs. Elzo Cornul, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Robbins, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Meyers.

For the past several weeks Mrs. Inez Spaniol of Clinton, Illinois has been the house guest of Mrs. Mildred Armour.

Mr. Earl Spencer is in the Cone Memorial Hospital in Greensboro, North Carolina. I am confident he would appreciate receiving "get-well" cards from us all. Our prayers are for your speedy recovery, Mr. Spencer.

The regular monthly meeting of the Avon Park Lakes Board of Governors was held last Thursday at the club house.

On Monday several ladies from the Lakes attended the monthly meeting of the Patriots Chapter of the D.A.R. Officers for the next two years were installed, and those from the Lakes were Mrs. Beatrice Luyben as Regent, Mrs. Hazel Schutt as Treasurer, and Mrs. Thelma Merrill as Registrar.

Thirty members of the Avon Park Lakes Association enjoyed the Tuesday night card party at the club house. Members played bridge, canasta, pinocle and other card games.

The square dance group served a pot luck supper on the club house patio last Wednesday night prior to the dance. There were 15 couples of whom six couples were guests from Avon Park. The group presented gifts to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Krenerick in appreciation of their gracious assistance and leadership. Everyone is welcome to participate in this pleasant past-time.

Mrs. Lucy Rue and Mrs. Thelma Merrill motored to St. Petersburg the weekend and visited friends. Mrs Marion Sterrett and Mrs. Helen Stephens at St. Petersburg Beach.

In observance of Mothers Day, the Desautels entertained eight guests for dinner on Sunday. "A Mother is a mother still, the holiest thing alive."

My sincere thanks to Mr. P. P. Hasenmann, Jr., of Bergenfield, New Jersey for the nice letter and the booklet. I am extremely pleased that you enjoy the news contained in the "Lakes News", Mr. Hasenmann.

Mr. and Mrs. George Burroughs have returned to their home near Ulloch, Missouri. The Burroughs wintered with Mrs. Burrough's sister, Mrs. Jean Bailey. Hurry back Charles and George, we all miss you.

Sixteen ladies of the Women's Group of the Avon Park Lakes Association met at the club house Thursday morning. They made items for the Cancer Society and also worked on their arts and crafts projects.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Slocum and daughter, Holly, have returned to their home in Atlanta, Georgia after a weeks visit with her and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Thelen. Mr. Slocum's father, Mr. George Barnes and with Robert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Slocum.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Schutt weekend guests were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Griebels of Largo.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bengel entertained a few friends on Tuesday night in celebration of their tenth anniversary. Mar. 1 was also your days, month, and year of blessed happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Sandy motored to Tampa for Mothers Day weekend with their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Thelen.

"A person must have the proper attitude toward and glory in our heart as we are dead inside."

Openings Still Available At Youth Camp

TALLAHASSEE — Vacancies for 447 boys and girls still remain open at the Florida Youth Conservation Camp in the Ocala National Forest.

Sponsored by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, the summer camp will offer four camping sessions beginning June 17 for boys aged eight through 14 and girls aged nine through 13 years.

Parents of interested children may obtain applications and information by writing to the Youth Conservation Camp, Ocala, Florida.

All children attending the camp receive intensive education in wildlife conservation, swimming, boating, wilderness survival, wild-animal tracking and natural resource studies, it was stated.

Camping fees are $25.00 for the one-week session, and $55.00 for the two-week sessions, with special rates in effect for members of recognized youth organizations.

Civil Service Posts Opened

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced new examinations for filling the following positions:

Quarantine Inspector Trainee, paying $5,355 a year, with U. S. Public Health Service quarantine station training centers. After satisfactory completion of the training program and additional experience, the inspector will be reassigned to other quarantine stations throughout the country. To qualify, applicants must have had appropriate experience. Pertinent college study may be substituted for part of the required experience. Applicants must also pass a written test designed to measure their general aptitude for the positions. Full information concerning requirements and instructions on how to apply are given in Announcement No. 279 B.

Speech Pathologist, Audiologist, and Audiologist-Speech Pathologist, paying from $7,560 to $10,635 a year, with Veterans Administration installations throughout the United States and Puerto Rico. No written test is required. To qualify, applicants must have completed all requirements for the doctoral degree with major emphasis in the fields of audiology or speech pathology. In addition, they must have had experience in these fields of the amount, type and degree required for the specific position. Full details concerning the requirements to be met and instructions on how to apply are given in Announcement No. 280 B.

Announcements and application forms may be obtained from Gladys Smith, located at Post Office, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applicants for these examinations will be accepted until further notice.

Construction of 86 public boat-launching ramps on Florida lakes and rivers has been completed by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, through its Fisheries Division.

Plant Food Hunger Can Be Licked In Citrus Crops

GAINESVILLE, Fla. — The most commonly observed plant food deficiency on citrus is nitrogen, Dr. Herman J. Reitz reports from the University of Florida Citrus Experiment Station.

Other deficiencies showing up in different areas include potash, boron, iron, manganese, molybdenum, and phosphate, the Florida horticulturist explains.

What causes plant food hunger in a citrus crop?

Dr. Reitz says at least one of three basic causes is usually involved: (1) Actual deficiencies of the elements in some soils; (2) Soil fixation, causing such elements as potash to be unavailable at times, complicated by various pH effects; (3) The interactions or antagonisms of one element acting in the presence of another.

"Currently the greatest problem in citrus nutrition is determining the current and future nutritional status of the tree," the Florida horticulturist contends.

The known ways to answer that problem, Dr. Reitz explains, are (1) symptom observation, (2) leaf analysis, (3) soil analysis, and (4) (perhaps in future) fruit analysis.

Of symptom observation he says, "With an accurate record of a grove's fertilization history and a background of observing experiments and demonstrations in his locality, the experienced grower can make a fairly satisfactory over-all analysis of the tree's nutritional status. But this method just partially informs the grower.

Of leaf analysis he says, "Regular annual leaf sampling and analysis can show a grower the direction his nutrition program is leading, enabling him to apply preventive measures before the grove enters any hunger range. For 4- to 5-months old spring flush leaves on non-bearing shoots, leaf analysis values in Florida are: nitrogen, 2.5-3.0 per cent; phosphate, more than 0.10 per cent; potash, 1.0-1.5 per cent; magnesium, more than 0.35 per cent; manganese, zinc, and boron, more than 30 parts per million."

Of soil testing he says, "Soil testing will doubtless be used to a greater extent in the future than at present, particularly for phosphate, but possibly for all elements that are retained by the soil in semi-permanent reserves. Recommendations for soil tests are now restricted in Florida to tests for soil pH (5.5 to 6.5 considered optimum) and for excess copper (amounts over 150 lbs., total Cu per acre)."

Of fruit analysis he says, "Although this area has not been explored adequately, we know fruit composition is relatively stable over a period of several weeks to a few months and most fruits on a citrus tree are about the same age. This stability of fruit composition over the sampling period might well make fruit sampling easier than leaf sampling, since citrus tree leaves may result from several flushes, possibly ranging over two years. This stability might also compensate for the range of analytical values being lower in fruit analysis than in leaf analysis."

Seafood Menus

BAKED FLORIDA MULLET

Clean, wash and dry 4-6 pound fish. Rub inside and out with salt. Place fish in a greased baking pan. Brush with melted butter or other fat and lay slices of bacon over the top. Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees, for 40 to 60 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Serve with Hush Puppies Dixie.

Here is a good sauce to be used for a change with Baked Mullet.

OLD SALT SEAFOOD SAUCE

1 cup chili sauce; 1¼ cups mayonnaise; Juice of 1 Key lime; 2 tablespoons celery, minced fine; 2 tablespoons dill pickle, minced fine; ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce; ¼ teaspoon prepared horseradish.

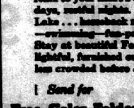

Blend all ingredients. Keep in cool place, not refrigerated, and serve on any variety of cooked or raw seafoods. Makes 2¾ cups.

HUSH PUPPIES DIXIE

1 cup cornmeal; 2 teaspoons baking powder; ½ teaspoon salt; 1 egg; ¼ cup milk or water; 1 medium sized onion, minced.

Mix dry ingredients and onion. Break in egg and mix well. Add liquid and shape into small patties. Fry at 375 degrees, in deep fat, or in skillet with 1 inch of fat, until brown.

Ticker Talk

A Raytheon has been staging a commendable comeback recovery since the first quarter of 1961 when 33c a common share was reported. This was followed by 40c in the June period and 46c in the September quarter, closing 1961 with 56c in the final three months. Continuation of this steady upward trend is expected in 1962 since profits in the first three months ended last March rose further to 60c a common share.

For 1961 in entirety, profits dropped to $1.69 a share—the lowest in five years. However, earnings for 1962 are expected to reach approximately $3 a share. Projections point to a profits level in the latter part of this year at a higher annual rate than the 1962 estimate.

Raytheon is a widely diversified maker of electronic equipment and components. About 85 per cent of sales are derived from government orders, the funded backlog of which exceeded $335 million at the end of March, 1962, and is believed to cover more than 150 programs. Because of its broad product mix, a major part of output most likely in one degree or another is channeled into a great many other electronic products and systems which in turn find their ways in one form or another into the nation's vast weapons arsenal and its probings in outer space.

The company holds prime contracts for Sparrow III and Hawk defensive weapons. Other missile programs in which it holds major positions include the Mauler, Shillelagh, Tartar, Terrier, Polaris.

Raytheon common stock currently sells at a discount of about 42 per cent from its 1959 high.

Highway Desecration

Just for a handful of lucre
they did it,
Bordered our roads
with flaming signs.
Beauty of Nature? They scored it and hid it,
Wanting the silver and gold
of the mines.

Driving we now hardly see pastures green.
Instead it's "Horse's Posterior, Grandmother's bread,
Old Crow Whiskey,
Sure Pop Gasoline,
Beauty Rest Motel
four miles ahead;

"Burma Shave and Shoes Orthopedic,
Smoke Lucky Strikes,
Eat Chocolate Bars,
Try Our Liver Pills
Lest you be sick,
Try Our Rum Soaked
Tampa Cigars."

Oh, for a highway
that is not selling
Its birthright of beauty
for silver or gold!
Oh, for a road that's not always calling
What we should buy
and where it is sold!
Once it was said that
for our salvation
Man can not live
by bread alone.
Oh, why then allow this foul desecration,
Blotting out beauty for the sake of a bone?

IN HOSPITAL

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leandras have received word that their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joan Landreau, of Eau Gallie is making satisfactory recovery from a surgery operation she had at the J. Hillis Miller Clinic in Gainesville last Thursday morning. Her room number is 636. Any one her friends wish to send a card.

The most colorful of the Florida fresh-water fish is the sailfish, a species closely related to the bluegill bream.

Color, Texture New Dimensions In Home Design

The adroit use of texture and color can do wonders for a small or otherwise modest home.

Materials of high texture interest give added dimension. They can be arranged and finished in such a way that rooms seem larger and more distinguished.

According to the Southern Pine Association, pleasing evidence of this dramatic trend is found in the use of lumber.

For instance, the wood roof deck.

This device of contemporary design does double duty as roof structure and ceiling, in partnership with supporting beams.

Both deck and beams are of lumber. The deck consists of two inch thicknesses of framing applied flat across the beams which are placed on edge and span the ceiling horizontally. This creates a handsome crown for the rooms and maximum ceiling height.

Different colors may be applied to beams and deck through appropriate stain finishes. The applied colors look just as natural as the wood's own, and are transparent to leave the grain texture exposed. The system affords an ideal medium for jointly realizing the high strength and beauty of Southern Pine.

As the arrangement indicates, the structure dominates the interior decoration. There is a nice blending of the warmth of wood with the solid, reassuring look of exposed framing lumber. In addition, the roof itself has great strength and self-sufficiency which offers further possibilities.

For example, wall framing and partitioning can be simplified for freer vision and movement. Larke window areas can be installed adjacent to private, attractively landscaped patios. The sunshine comes streaming in and the outdoors becomes part of the interior view. The result is that the rooms seem larger.

Further impressions of spaciousness can be achieved by the arrangement of wood paneling and choice of colors. Vertical placement of boards makes the room look taller. Use of cool colors, such as pale grays or light blues, will make the walls seem more remote and the rooms larger.

First Aid Course Being Offered

A Standard Red Cross First Aid Course will be conducted at the City Hall in Avon Park beginning May 21.

This Standard First Aid Course will be held from 9 to 11 a.m., May 21, 24, 25, and 31. Mrs. John P. Acri will be the Instructor.

Homemaking Today ...the Modern Way

Lettuce Vegetable Casserole

1 [illegible] cauliflower
2 [illegible] onions
5 tbsp. butter
4 tbsp. flour
½ tsp. salt
Dash pepper
1 cup milk
1 cup (4oz.) grated American cheese
1 tbsp. chopped pimiento
½ cup bread cubes

Cook mixed vegetables and cauliflower as directed on package; drain. Saute onion rings in 3 tablespoons of the butter until lightly browned. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Add milk gradually, and bring to a boil over low heat stirring constantly. Add cheese and pimiento; stir until smooth. Remove from heat.

Arrange mixed vegetables and cauliflower in 1½ quart greased shallow casserole. Melt remaining 2 tablespoons butter, add bread cubes and toast lightly. Pour cheese sauce over vegetables; top with toasted bread cubes. Bake in moderate oven (375°) for 15 minutes or until bubbly. Serves 6-8.

Prepare ahead hint:

Cook vegetables. Make cheese sauce with onion and pimiento as directed. Toast bread cubes. At meal preparation time, arrange vegetables in casserole, add cheese sauce, top with bread cubes. Bake as directed adding about 10 minutes to baking time.

Gross Sales In State Higher, But Building Industry Down

TALLAHASSEE — State Comptroller Ray E. Green reported today gross sales in Florida during the first nine months of the current fiscal year totaled $10,817,297,252, an increase of 5.44 per cent or $558,139,413, over the same period last fiscal.

The comptroller said the increase was registered even though 33 types of business reported gross sales for the period were under the previous year.

The lumber and building materials industry was down $111,796,092, or 14.01 per cent, Green said.

"The drop in this field was a big blow to our sales tax revenue," Green said. "We hope that it will return to normal during the next year so as to give a firm foundation to our sales tax revenue estimate."

Allied industries reporting decreases were building contractors $1,227,791, or 1.05 per cent; electrical and plumbing $378,426 or .12 per cent; roofing and sheet metal $3,514,257 or 4.30 per cent; household appliances $48,165,327 or 25.28 per cent.

Bakers reported gross sales down $3,453,537 or 10.66 per cent; candy and confectionary $9,240,270 or 5.44 per cent.

Another business showing a minus - both in gross sales and sales tax revenue - was hardware, paint and light machinery. Gross sales were under the previous nine-month period by $56,365,540 or 12.19 per cent.

Green said new car sales could possibly have had a bearing on declines reported by auto accessories, tires and parts firms, and garage and repair shops. The former reported gross sales were off $53,554,445 or 14.02 per cent, and the latter $10,089,353 or 11.55 per cent.

Other businesses reporting gross sale declines included:

Motorboat and yacht $6,744,830 or 9.88 per cent; furniture stores $8,535,302 or 4.30 per cent; cigar stands and tobacco shops $33,038,742 or 37.95 per cent; florists $3,254,687 or 14.42 per cent; fuel dealers $19,909,276 or 9.14 per cent.

Scrap metal and junk yards $5,851,129 or 23.17 per cent; itinerant vendors $629,641 or 9.94 per cent; photo supplies $4,657,255 or 12.64 per cent; news stands $1,591,285 or 20.02 per cent; addmissions $3,414,088 or 6.74 per cent; sanitary and industrial supplies $15,100,648 or 21.06 per cent; packaging materials, paper bags $4,984,586 or 7.35 per cent; importing and exporting $4,656,761 or 36.20 per cent.

Multi-Purpose Program Planned For University of South Florida

A long-range program which would develop the University of South Florida into a large multi-purpose university serving the needs of higher education in the Tampa Bay area and the state has been proposed by University officials in a report to the State Board of Control.

The proposals are contained in the University's Role and Scope Study, one of four such reports prepared by Florida's state universities and delegated by the Board of Control Friday, May 11. The Board will now study these and assimilate them into a master report to serve as a guide to future development of the system.

Major new programs envisioned in the report are an institute of technology, which would provide a limited number of engineering programs as well as technical studies to meet the ever-increasing needs of Florida industry, and a program in health related studies, which would include a four-year dental school and a two-year school of medicine.

These two units, together with a proposed research institute and a regional science center in the St. Petersburg area, form the backbone of the University's plans for providing public and private higher education in the rapidly growing Tampa Bay area and the state in general over the next decade.

The University's 10-member role and scope committee, headed by Dr. Sidney J. French, dean of academic affairs, estimated that enrollment at USF would reach 12,000 by 1970.

"Unless additional public institutions of higher education are established beyond those now planned," the report stated, "further increase toward 20,000 or more is almost inevitable during the period 1970-1985."

The committee report recommended that attention be given first to expanding and building the campus already in existence at the undergraduate level. To perform this task adequately, it was proposed that an upper division residence center be established in Pinellas County to duplicate certain undergraduate programs and offer some graduate courses for teachers. Such a center, offering upper division courses, would supplement not compete with the work of St. Petersburg Junior College. Neither would it be in competition with Florida Presbyterian College, which expects to have an ultimate enrollment limited to 1,200 or 1,400 and which is not seeking transfer enrollment in the upper division.

Movement into graduate work up to the master's level on the Tampa campus would take place as soon as the full undergraduate program has been implemented, the report stated. It would come first in education and related fields. Graduate work to the doctorate level, confined at first to areas most needed by the teaching profession, would begin about 1970.

The committee stressed that, at this time, it is not proposing duplication of other professional programs offered by the University of Florida, Florida State University of Florida A&M.

Among the most significant proposals for expansion of the present programs in addition to the graduate work proposals were:

1. Expansion of the program in international studies, with the development of a Center for International Studies and Relations as an eventual goal.

2. Establishment of a program in news reporting which would operate within the structure of the College of Liberal Arts and not develop into a traditional school of journalism. Emphasis would be on providing a broad liberal arts background and not on "how-to-do-it" courses.

3. Expansion of the program for preparation of teachers of "exceptional" students—those who are gifted, retarded or physically handicapped. This would be tied in with expansion of studies in the behavioral sciences. The latter, however, would stress research rather than teacher preparation.

4 Continued expansion of the evening program toward the goal of enabling students to start and complete a degree program in evening classes.

5. Further development of the field of adult education, with the possibility of offering a special bachelor of liberal arts degree for adults. Such a program might lead eventually to establishment of a special faculty to be known as the Adult Center, which would provide for short institutes and workshops on technical, governmental, social and cultural matters, in cooperation with the Institute for Continuing University Studies.

In addition, expansion of present course offerings in social work, library science, urban planning, gerontology and marine biology were suggested.

The two new units, the Institute of Engineering and Technology and the Health Related Program, would help in meeting the state's need for more engineers, technicians, dentists, medical technicians, doctors and other highly-trained specialists.

Engineering degrees would be limited to the fields of civil, electrical, electronic, mechanical, space and traffic engineering.

The Health Related Program would provide for a two-year medical school along the lines of that operated by Dartmouth College. It would relieve the burden on four-year medical schools which are traditionally overcrowded in the first two years but not in the third and fourth years. The dental school would fill the need for such a facility in the state, and the committee said the University's location is excellent for such a school.

The committee said the proposals made in the report "are predicated upon the supposition that Florida intends to have one of the finest systems of higher education in America, geographically dispersed to serve all areas of the state."

Surprise Shower For Miss Dasher

A surprise shower was given to Kathy Dasher, who has been the pianist for the Lutheran Church for the past two years. Kathy will wed Earl Bradford Pyke in the new church on June 10. The young couple will go to New Port, Rhode Island where they will make their future home.

Little Laurie Rehrer brought a large decorated basket holding the gifts to the bride-elect as everyone wished her much happiness. She received a large array of gifts for her new home.

Snap dragons, lillies and foliage decorated the refreshment table from which cake, ice cream and coffee and punch were served.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. S. F. Elkhill, June 14.

The Florida sunfish known as "shellcracker" is usually found in clear, sand-bottomed lakes, although they are sometimes taken from quiet rivers and streams.

It's awfully hard to cover up error with an excuse.

Winter Guest Club News

Last week, it seems, we were in error; the pinochle players continue to meet, and will do so long as there is a sufficient number interested. On Monday, May 7, there were eight players with Lura Pickell in first place and Dorothy Johnson second.

These cool evenings are just made to order for the bridge board enthusiasts. In the tournament on Wednesday, May 9, Bertha Brush and Jim Brown beat all comers. The consolation event was won by Herbert Shauger and Frank Fleury. Saturday's tournament was won by Mr. and Mrs. R. Simpson; Jennie Baker and Peter Console took the consolation play-off.

Mr. Sam Waltron, who hails from Michigan, has provided the Saturday-night diners with many a chuckle during the past season. On this past Saturday he entertained us for the last time this season. We're sorry to see Sam and Rose leave but look for their early return. As usual, Ohio led in numbers from the states represented, with a total of eight. If you haven't formed the Saturday-night supper habit, we suggest you do so, provided you like good food, pleasant companions, and a cool, airy room.

In spite of the fact that three dances were held in the clubhouse this past week, while in former years only one was held at this time of the season, the attendance at the Friday night dance was sufficient for four sets. The cooling shower, with the resultant breezes, plus the fans, made an ideal temperature for this activity.

It would be helpful if those in charge of the various activities would form the habit of reporting; unreported news sometimes can be ferretted out, but not often. This column is just what you make it, says

Health Board Gives Tips On Baby Sitting

JACKSONVILLE—Baby sitters can be helpful—and some can be problems.

Just sitting in a house where babies are is the answer, says George Gehres who heads the State Board of Health's Accident Prevention Program.

"Hiring the wrong kind of sitter could be an accident of the most serious kind," he says, "but even the best may get rattled in an emergency. So to help parents and sitters, the Board along with the Florida Chapter American Academy of Pediatrics has printed a pad of information on "What Our Baby Sitter Should Know". It also helps parents remember what instructions to leave.

One sheet of the pad concerns what to do in case of fire, if baby is choking, if baby is hurt, if baby gets sick and information on other matters. This sheet is hung by the phone permanently.

The remainder of the pad contains sheets of such information as where the parents will be, including phone number; special instructions for caring for baby (food, blankets, windows, heat, toys, books etc); and other pertinent instructions which may apply to particular situations.

A pad may be obtained free by writing to the Accident Prevention Program, Florida State Board of Health, P. O. Box 210, Jacksonville 1, Florida.

Slash Pines Still Mainstay Of Industry

TALLAHASSEE, May 4 — Slash pines are still the mainstay of Florida's reforestation program. Of the 75,136,000 seedlings sold from the Florida Forest Service nurseries for in-state planting last winter, 95 per cent were the slash variety.

State nurserymen report that seeding for next year has been completed—stock for transplanting during the upcoming 1962-63 season—and that slash pine, numerically, will again dominate all other types combined.

Sales of seedling trees for planting increased some 6,750,000 during the 1961-62 season just ended, over the year before. Even so, three-fourths of Florida's 20 million woodland acres continue to produce pulp and saw timber at less than half capacity.

Foresters have shown that production in Florida can meet future demand only by (1) more intensified management of existing woodland, (2) establishing fire protection in all timber-growing land, and (3) planting seedlings on forest acres that are now idle. U. S. Forest Service surveys show that 8 million acres in Florida are in need of reforestation.

The Florida Forest Service has produced and sold at cost almost one and one-quarter billion seedling trees since 1927.

Seedling trees for planting—including pine, red cedar, Arizona cypress, and cuttings—are shipped from mid-November through February. Orders, however, should be made in advance. Order blanks are available at any Forest Service office, county agricultural agent's office, Soil Conservation Service, or ACP office.

BREAKS HIP IN FALL

Mrs. Bertha Wilson fell at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. B. Wilhite last week and broke her hip. She is in the Walker Memorial Hospital where she had surgery on Monday and is reported to be progressing nicely. Her other daughters, Mrs. Lucille Brown and Mrs. Charles Robinson of Miami are visiting at the Wilhite home.

SWISS VISITOR

Georg Gehr of Switzerland is visiting his mother, Mrs. Dan Gehr, at her home on Lake Lillian. Mr. Gehr lives near Zurich and this is his first trip to the United States.

In practically every discus- sion of a farm problem these days someone suggests the need for research to find new uses for one commodity or another.

As an example I quote the following excerpts from a letter of a Maryland dairy farmer in a recent issue of a national dairy publication:

"One would assume from reading articles and reports about how wonderful milk is that it is almost spiritual. It is definitely not. It is an economic product . . . It appears to this writer that the vast sums of money spent for high-priced TV, radio and movie stars to advertise milk SHOULD be spent in research and develop- ment of an industrial product derived from milk. It is time new uses were found for milk— other than 'nature's most nearly perfect food.' . . . Somewhat in a laboratory something new from milk can be developed that will have economic potential. Then dairymen can again enjoy an expanding market."

The results of research have been so beneficial to agriculture in so many ways that it's not surprising to discover many people expect it can work mir- acles. However, experience has shown us that some of the most successful efforts to increase outlets for a farm commodity include research AND other proven tools, such as advertis- ing and promotion.

The techniques of modern marketing and merchandising offer a variety of "tools" that many of our producers in Flor- ida can use if they wish to im- prove demand for their com- modities. They need only to look them over, decide which they can use to their best advantage, and then get together and put their ideas to work.

Potatoes have been in the news recently, and our Florida potato growers are voluntarily financing a research program in which the Department's Divi- sion of Marketing is lending a hand. I believe it has excellent prospects for showing good re- sults.

In the meantime, I note that research has already brought some new develop- ments in the nation's potato in- dustry that are causing big changes in utilization of this crop. In a recent report, the Market Potentials Branch of the U. S. Department of Agri- culture's Economic Research Service points out that the pro- portion of potatoes used for pro- cessed foods has taken a big jump. It rose from a mere 2 per cent in 1940 to nearly 25 per cent of the 1960 crop. By 1970, it is estimated, more than 50 per cent of the national po- tato crop will be processed.

According to USDA, half the potatoes used for processing in 1960 went into dehydrated and frozen products. Volume for Frozen French fries and dehy- drated mashed potatoes nearly doubled from 1958 to 1960. Even so, it's believed there's a big potential home and institutional market still untapped.

Studies of potato use reveal that per capita consumption in the U.S. had been declining prior to 1956. In 1957, however, the trend was reversed and con- sumption that year showed a gain over 1956 of 1 pound per person. By 1960 the gain over 1956 had reached 6.3 pounds. There has been a big expansion in existing and new plants for processing potatoes. By mid- 1961 there were 38 plants pro- ducing frozen French fries, and 12 more were being planned, were under construction or nearly ready for production.

Development of potato flakes was undertaken by USDA as one of its overall research pro- jects to find new uses for farm products. It now predicts we'll receive news on the market of several new forms of processed potatoes.

The point I'd like to make is, that after a new or better pro- duct is developed, it takes ad- vertising to inform prospective customers it's available, and promotion to persuade them to buy it. The modern business- man with a better mousetrap doesn't believe in the world to beat a path to his door—he goes after customers with every ethical means at his disposal.

In the case of new processed potato products, the firms that make them are going out after the business and are getting results. Our Florida potato growers have something that consumers want and will buy, and I'm glad to see them make a concerted effort to expand the market for what they have to sell.

State of Citrus

LAKELAND — A couple or so years ago Drew Pearson, the columnist, dropped in on Flor- ida Citrus Mutual and told Bob Rutledge he wished the Ameri- can Dairy Association might adopt Mutual's programs for aiding producers.

Pearson has a dairy farm out from Washington and is a mem- ber of the association. Inciden- tally, shortly after his Mutual visit, Mr. Pearson wrote a column in which he implied Nikita Khrushchev could learn a lot about American democracy in action if he would visit Mutual also.

This letter about a new milk- shake from Edgar Melvin of Winter Haven Route 1 to Rut- ledge, coincidental to the Pear- son wish, suggests a profitable hook-up between Mutual and the Florida citrus industry and the dairy folks:

"I call this (delicious orange milkshake) 'Hoodlum-Doodlum' and have written several jingles about it telling of how im- portant milk and citrus are in our diet.

"RECIPE: — 1 quart homo- genized milk; 1 six-ounce can frozen orange concentrate. Mix these together until concentrate dissolves; 1 pint orange sher- bert. Mix with hand mixer until sherbert is well mixed, adding 1 tbs. sugar.

"If you are dieting, this re- cipe can be changed to skimmed milk and use a sugar substitute.

"I suggest that one or more of the concentrate plants pro- duce a special concentrate com- bining the orange juice and sherbert so the housewife will have to add only milk—and sugar, if she desires. This way we could be sure of a rich orange flavor and color.

Mr. Melvin, who is a Mutual member as well as a dairyman, adds:

"I feel sure every milk company will follow my co- operative, Velda, in promoting this racy drink.

To which Bob Rutledge re- sponds:

"Shake, Brother Dairyman."

Kenneth Wright Guest Speaker At Walker Church

Kenneth A. Wright, Field Secretary for Stewardship of the Florida Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, will be the guest speaker at the Walker Memorial Church on Saturday, May 19, at 11:00 a. m. He will also be speaking at the Friday evening service, May 18, at 7:30 p. m.

Wright was appointed to his present position in June, 1960. He was an educator in the denomination's schools for many years, including a four year term as principal of Forest Lake Academy, near Orlando. He was president of Southern Missionary College, near Chattanooga, Tennessee for more than 12 years. Since that time he has been a pastor in Fort Lauderdale and Avon Park.

Wright has been an ordained minister since 1936. He received his B. A. Degree at Emmanual Missionary College in Michigan, and an M. A. Degree in School Administration at Cornell University.

In his present work as stewardship secretary, Wright promotes the principles of Christian stewardship in the churches of the Florida Conference of Seventh-day Adventists; and in personal contacts, he gives guidance and counsel on the subject.

Mrs. Wright, who will be accompanying Pastor Wright to Avon Park, is the president of the Florida State Federation of Seventh-day Adventist Health and Welfare Societies, an organization of church women dedicated to acts of benevolence for the needy.

"Jewels For His Kingdom" Theme Of Baptist GA Coronation Sunday

Theme for the Girls' Auxiliary Coronation held at the First Baptist Church Sunday evening, May 13, was "Jewels for His Kingdom". The GAs is the missionary organization of the Baptist Church for girls from 9 through 15 years of age. Thirty girls were recognized for having passed Forward Steps, which represent achievements in Bible study, memorizing scripture and missionary work.

Carol Ann Childress was recognized as Queen Regent In Service, for having attained the highest steps, and following the charge given her by the pastor of the church, Rev. Aden D. Childress, who is also Carol Ann's father, she was presented a Bible from the church. Mrs. S. S. Turner, president of the Woman's Missionary Society, made the presentation in recognition of the seven years of work and study in Girls' Auxiliary.

Sally Beth King and Sharon Sue Childress were each crowned Queen, and their charges were given by Mrs. Sam King and Mrs. Ray Wells. Gini Beth Henderson, Janice Turnbull and Wanda Williams served as flower girls.

Those reaching the step of Princess were Nancy Mitchell and Sharmon Atkins. Ladies-in-waiting were Patti Goff, Gale Meyers, Cherie Adams, Delores Reynolds, Marion Turner, Melanie McClure, Debbie Gurganus, Jackie Tuskey and Sherry Wainwright. Maidens were Sarah Turnbull, Peggy Snelgrove, Janie Barben, Connie Elder, Sharon Snelgrove, Lisbeth Liles, Kay Taylor, Judy Cooper, Sheila Jackson, Beverly Pollard, Judy Seay, Lavada LaBlanc, Linda Mercer, Terry Guyton, Linda Farrell, and Katy Baucom.

GA Director, Mrs. Aden Childress was assisted by group counselors Mrs. P. O. Goff, Mrs. Lee Gurganus, Mrs. Raymond Cook, Mrs. Sam King, Mrs. L. L. Wainwright, Mrs. Ray Wells, Mrs. Lawler Wells and Mrs. J. T. Gibb.

Presbyterian Women Meet

The Woman's Society of the Presbyterian Church met at the home of Mrs. J. N. McDougald, 702 W. La Grande Street, Tuesday morning, May 8, for their regular business and program.

Mrs. Fred Fenn presented a program on the Dunlap Orphanage at Brighton, Tenn. which is supported by the ARP Church and Mrs. Ted J. Ward gave the Bible study.

The hostess served cookies and cold drinks.

The public is invited to attend.

Adding Machine Company Opens Sebring Office

The National Cash Register Company announced this week the opening of a service center in Sebring. The center opened on May 1.

H. H. Williams, a trained service technician will operate the center and will reside in the county.

To highlight its new service center NCR also announced a premier showing of the company's low-priced computers on May 22 and 23 at the Hotel Sebring.

All types of computers and business machines will be demonstrated at that time and all Highlands County businessmen are invited to attend the showing. Shows are at 2 p. m. and 7 p. m. daily. The exhibit is open from 12 noon until 8 p. m.

NCR said the rapid growth of the Highlands County area required the opening of a branch in the area. The company emphasized that Williams was one of the most competent trained service men in the field, with experience in accounting machines, data processing equipment, cash registers and adding machines.

Landress Hurls Town Diamond "9" To Victory

The Avon Park town team [illegible] 8-5 victory from the Frostproof Packers last Saturday night at Head Field to even [illegible] second at one win and [illegible] The local nine has [illegible] Okeechobee in the first game [illegible] evening by a score of [illegible] 2. On Saturday night Sebring [illegible] shut-out Punta Gorda 4-0 to [illegible] the sub-group and earn a [illegible] to face Plant City in [illegible] best of three game play-off [illegible] to determine who will represent [illegible] District 6 in the State Baseball Tournament to be held [illegible] here at Head Field starting June 11.

Plant City reached the District championship play-off by defeating Mulberry and then Turkey Creek who had eliminated Kathleen in the first round. The Sebring-Plant City play-off series will start Thursday night of this week.

The Blue Streaks scored first in the Thursday night game against Avon Park when Rodney Walker doubled in two runs in the bottom of the fourth. Chester Clark had reached first on a walk and Gary Rapp singled and both scored when Walker's hard drive down the third base line was too hot for Devil Joe Jackson to handle and was scored as a double.

Avon Park came back to tie the game up in the top of the fifth. Starter Richard Gill walked Randy Davis to start off the Avon Park rally. Rewis went to second on a passed ball and later scored when Gill threw wild to his brother, David Gill, trying to pick Max Still off first base. Still had walked also. Terry Oberle also drew a walk and lead-off batter Jack Seims put down a perfect sacrifice bunt to score Max Still from third to tie things up. Gill also walked Bobby Bates before Coach Johnny Freeland replaced Gill with right hander Randy Foster. Foster proceeded to strike out the next batter to retire the side. The young hurler finished out the game without allowing the Devils a hit and struck out five.

Neither team could score in the sixth and seventh innings but losing hurler Leonard Sullivan put the eighth inning lead-off batter, Richard Gill, on first with a walk and David Gill sent him on to second with a sacrifice bunt. Chester Clark grounded out to the Devil second baseman but Richard Gill advanced to third on the play. Gary Rapp, with a count of three and two on him, grounded down to the Devil third sacker who bobbled the ball allowing Rapp to make first safely and Gill scored on the play to wrap up the victory for Sebring.

Red Devils Hang Up Spikes; Season Record of 12 and 6

The Sebring Blue Streaks knocked the Avon Park Red Devils out of the District 6 baseball tournament in the best-of-three series of the sub-group by defeating Okeechobee in the first game of the evening by a score of 10-2. On Saturday night Sebring shut-out Punta Gorda 4-0 to win the sub-group and earn a chance to face Plant City in a best of three game play-off to determine who will represent District 6 in the State Baseball Tournament to be held here at Head Field starting June 11.

The loss ended Avon Park's 1962 baseball season leaving them with an overall record of 12 wins and six losses. Sullivan ended his hurling season with a record of eight wins and five losses. Jack Seims took the other pitching loss and Terry Oberle took credit for four mound victories against no losses for his first season of hurling.

The Red Devils will lose Bobby Bates, Joe Jackson, Jack Seims and Darrell Bailey this year but will have eight or nine returning lettermen for next season

Three Retailers Honored By Commission

LAKELAND—Three Central U. S. retail produce managers have been awarded the top prizes in the Florida Citrus Commission's Grapefruit "Treasure Chest" Display Contest, it was announced by the Commission today.

The Contest, which encouraged retailers in the U. S. and Canada to gear their promotions of fresh Florida grapefruit around picturesque and colorful pirate chests, offered some 153 prizes in cash and merchandise. More than 4,000 retailers from coast to coast and Canada entered displays during the promotional period of January 15 through April 15, 1962.

Top prize of a 1962 Ford Galaxie Sedan went to Fred De Vries, produce manager of D. & W. Food Centers, an I.G.A. store located at 4050 Chicago Drive, S.W., Grandville, Michigan. The 40-year-old De Vries is married, has two children, and is a native of Grandville. He has been in the grocery business for 24 years.

Second prize of a 1962 Corvaire 500 Club Coupe went to Broadie Newton, produce manager for Big Bear Stores Company, Southgate Shopping Center, in Newark, Ohio. He is married, and the father of five children. He is a native of Fredericksburg, Virginia, but has spent the past 13 years in Newark as a employee of Big Bear.

Third prize was won by Ron Straessle, produce manager for Marsh Super Market, 3300 North Anthony Boulevard, Fort Wayne, Indiana. Straessle, who is married and the father of four children, won an all-expense paid vacation in Florida for two. He is 27 years old and is completing his sixth year with Marsh-Super Markets.

In addition to the top three awards, ten fourth-prizes were awarded to retailers, each receiving $100 in cash. These were listed as Peter Montana, produce manager, Acme Markets, Oakdale, L. I. N. Y.; Ken Featherstone, produce manager, Albertson's, Billings, Montana; Robert W. Volmer, produce manager, Jack and Jill, Grand Island, Nebraska; Karl D. Carlton, produce manager, The Kroger Company, Grand Rapids, Michigan; Vincent O. Straw, produce manager, Lobraws, Inc., West Seneca, N. Y.; De Lyns Cook, produce manager, Gamble's Fine Foods I.G.A., Idaho Falls, Idaho; Fernand Morrisette, manager-buyer, Mon Mart Discount House, Ville La Salle, Montreal, Canada; Willie Stanphill, produce manager, Pik-Kwik, Kellogg, Idaho; Nick Koftinow, produce clerk, Overwaites, Ltd., Nanaimo, B. C., Canada; and Patrick Arico, produce manager, Albany Public Markets, Inc., Rensselaer, New York.

There are some 20 fifth-prize winners each receiving $50 in cash and an additional 120 sixth-prize winners receiving $25 in cash.

Photographs and descriptions of the displays, together with official entry blanks, were forwarded to the Commission and judged by a trade panel for originality and sales effectiveness.

Judges for the Contest were Frank Brown, merchandising manager for the National Association of Retail Grocers of the United States, Chicago, Ill., Calvet Hahn, marketing research director, Chain Store Age, New York; Walter H. Preston, publisher of the Produce News, New York; Glenn Snyder, associate editor, The Progressive Grocer, New York; and Richard V. Whiting, editor of The Packer, Kansas City, Mo.

Lutheran Church Women Meet

Mrs. M. R. Jackson was hostess to the Lutheran Church-women at her home Thursday night, May 10. Mrs. Wm. Becker, president, conducted the business. Mrs. J. A. Terp was in charge of the program. Missionary boxes were collected. Members voted to buy 100 place settings for the new church kitchen.

The World Day of Prayer will be held in the new church this year. Mrs. Becker reported on the meeting she attended in Sarasota.

During the business it was announced that the new organ for the church would be a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gibson and Mrs. William Becker.

Future Homemaker Fashion Show Presented At School Auditorium

Twenty-three girls received FHA Homemaking degrees in a Fashion Show and program presented Monday night in the High School Auditorium. Linda Smith presented the devotional and Devorah Reddick, president-elect, was the narrator for the program.

Each girl modeled clothes which she had made in the home making classes, and they were grouped as sleep wear, sports wear, school dresses, suits and dress-up clothes.

Linda Smith, secretary and Charlene Burrescia, historian, assisted Devorah Reddick with the degree presentation to Beverly Giddens, Pat Prescott, Trudy Mitchell, Nina Laye, Beth Sullivan, Trudy Pritchett, Anne Barben, Judy Taylor, Jo Ann Kelly, Patsy Martin, Mary Whitted, Bonnie Townsend, Barbara Garrahan, Jane Copeland, Charlotte Gibbs, Joyce Ann Dailey, Marjorie Hall, Judy Wester, Sandra Biggs, Charlene Burrescia, Cindy Metcalfe, Susan Booth and Karen DeLaney.

Chapter Degrees were also presented to Cindy Metcalfe, Bonnie Oberle, Devorah Reddick, Pam Flint, Carol Ann Childress, Judy Pritchett and Kathy King.

Joyce Antley and Anita Luscomb were recognized for having received their State Degrees at the recent state convention and it was announced that Anita had received a $300 FHA Scholarship.

Mrs. Violet Moseley, chapter advisor and homemaking teacher, was recognized for her untiring efforts with the girls, and the program was closed with repeating the chapter creed.

Cancer Drive Chairmen Give Special Thanks

Our special thanks to the following people who headed the various committees and also the 100 or more workers who helped put Avon Park Division of Highlands County over the top in the Cancer Crusade drive for funds:

Wesleyan Guild Holds Annual Mother-Daughter Banquet Thurs.

The annual Mother-Daughter Banquet, sponsored by the Wesleyan Service Guild, in Wesley Hall Thursday night was attended by about 100 mothers and daughters. The oldest mother attending was Mrs. Anna Lipstreu and the youngest mother was Mrs. Wayne Cribb. They were presented a corsage and Mrs. Eleanor Trescott was presented a corsage for being the mother having the largest family.

Mrs. Russell Boaz was toastmaster, Miss Helen Thomas rendered a tribute to mothers in song and Miss Bonnie Oberly gave a reading honoring mothers. A special ventriloquist show was given by the Rev. Roy T. Johnson and his puppet, Dopey. Reverend Johnson, who is among the new residents of Avon Park, is known as "The Will Rogers of the Ministry," from his home state, Kansas.

The delicious chicken dinner was served in banquet style with each place marked by a dainty doll dressed in satin. Summer flowers and foliage centered the long tables. Large vases of lillies were used to dcorate the Hall.

Episcopal Women Meet In New Rectory

The Spring Luncheon of St Margaret's Guild of Episcopal Churchwomen was held Wednesday, May 9, in the new Rectory, following a board meeting which was held in the Parish House.

Hostesses for the covered dish luncheon were Mrs. John F. Mangrum, Mrs. A. J. Irwin, Miss Avis Slaughter and Mrs. G. A. Woodward. The ladies were seated at tables in the dining and living rooms. This was the first time that some of the members had seen the new Rectory and all appreciated the hospitality of the Rev. and Mrs. Mangrum.

Mrs. Edward Hall presided during the business meeting. Matters under discussion included the closing of the Thrift Shop. A motion was unanimous to send the contents of the Thrift Shop remaining at its close, to the Cuban refugees in Miami.

The program consisted of reports of the Diocesan Convention held in Palm Beach, given by Mrs. Hall, Mrs. A. S. Paine and Mrs. Peter F. Watterson, who were delegates among the 660 women attending. Mrs. A. Travers Ewell, Diocesan President, presided at the meetings, which were held at the Biltmore Hotel.

APHS Glee Club Wins Excellent Rating At State

The Avon Park High School Glee Club was awarded a "Superior" rating at the District Vocal Contest held in Fort Myers and a rating of "Excellent" in the State Vocal Contest held in Daytona Beach.

Forty-seven schools entered the State Festival. Avon Park was one of 10 class CC, or smaller schools, from this total and they managed to do as well as all the other smaller schools, being rated "Excellent." Vicki Harrison received an excellent rating on her vocal solo.

This was the first time the APHS Glee Club had entered the State Contest and their rating has brought honor to their school.

The members of the Glee Club express deep appreciation to the school patrons and organizations who helped to make their over night stay at Daytona Plaza and the trip to Daytona Beach for the state contest a possibility, especially Mr. Coats at the Jacaranda Hotel, the Rotary Club, Lions' Club, Woman's Club, the First Methodist Church, the chaperones for the trip, and numerous other people who encouraged and assisted the club.

They invite you to attend their Spring Concert at the high school auditorium Tuesday, May 22, at 8 p. m., at which time they will present many of their contest numbers.

Luncheon Fetes Visitors Monday

Mrs. W. C. Touchton entertained with a luncheon at her home Monday honoring Mrs. J. M. Lee of Tallahassee and Mrs. J. C. Whitworth of Atlanta, Ga.

Other guests included Mrs. B. F. Martin, Mrs. Bertha Pabor and Mrs. Elsie Coen. Mrs. Whitworth is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Lee has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Maddox.

Water in a good fish pond should be colored green or brown by plankton growth so dense that a shiny object sunk 12 inches below the surface can no longer be seen. Such water produces the most fish.

Miss McMasters, Bride Elect Is Shower Honoree

Miss Ingrid McMasters, bride elect of Ray Young of Mulberry, was the inspiration for a shower given Thursday night, May 10, at the home of Miss Anita Luscomb. Guests included her fiance's mother, Mrs. James young and daughter, Sharon, and Miss Mary Sue Swann of Mulberry, and her classmates from Avon Park High School.

Numerous games were played, each one having a wedding theme, and several prizes were awarded.

A beautiful umbrella was suspended from the ceiling with rainbow colored streamers showering above the gift table. These rainbow colored streamers were also used at the ends of the refreshment table.

The bride-to-be received an array of lovely gifts, including an antique blue glass service set from Mrs. Young and a set of antique salad forks from her friend, which will be treasured by the young couple in their new home.

A large decorated cake, inscribed "Ingrid, Luck" was cut and served with punch. Chip 'n dip and other party snacks were on the refreshment table.

Founders Circle Members Attend Luncheon Meet

Mrs. Bertha Pabor, Mrs. L. D. McGibboney, Mrs. W. C. Touchton, Mrs. W. J. Head and Mrs. C. R. Ginn were among the Garden Club members attending a luncheon at Indian Lakes Estates in Lake Wales last week.

The final meeting of the season for Founders Circle was held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Shepherd at Holly Shores, Thursday morning of last week. Mrs. P. L. Rumpsa was co-hostess.

Upon arrival the ladies were served punch with delicious pecan rolls and enjoyed a social hour before the business session.

Mrs. Charles Hindman of Sebring, who is a former resident of Avon Park, was a guest of the circle. She talked on the culture of Day Lilies, and brought a beautiful display of lilies to illustrate her talk. Mrs. Hindman is secretary to the National Day Lily Society.

When you build a quality truck, the inclination is to run around asking users what they think of it. We do quite a bit of this.

It's a funny thing. You'd think people would talk mostly about the mechanical features of the vehicle—the good ride, its power, the double-wall construction, cab comfort, or tough tailgate.

These things get comment, of course, but they're constantly outnumbered by expressions of satisfaction with the dependability of a Chevrolet truck.

thrown by the machines. The rotary mower which attains speeds of 2,000 to 4,000 revolutions per minute is responsible for practically all of the serious injuries.

Most persons who use power lawn mowers are not aware of the potential danger associated with them unless they have been specifically instructed. It should be part of the retailer's duty to see the proper operation of the machine and give the necessary instructions. Many lawn mowers are purchased by persons who have never used one before. It is important that all of these persons be instructed in the safe use of the machine before they start to use the lawn mower.

Here's Plans For Narrow Lot Residence

Increasing population with its steady demand for desirable house lots contributes mightily to the ever-increasing real estate prices for ever-decreasing house lots. Not too long ago an acre was considered a fair-sized lot for a "good house." Today a half acre, a third, or even much smaller lots have to do nicely. As a consequence, the planning of modern houses is undergoing some basic changes to fit "economy-sized" but high-priced lots.

To meet the disheartening restraints of a narrow lot, the above pictured house, No. 1380-19, has been conceived. Though only 50 feet "narrow," (but 46 feet deep), this 1380 square-foot three-bedroom, two-bath home offers much of "inner" compensation for the lack of "outer" garden space and elbow room.

Seen from the street, this home looks unpretentious indeed. All one sees is a carport with a blank wall next to it (though painted attractively)—both topped by the narrow white line of the widely projecting roof eave. Gone is the "formal" front door with the traditional decoration on and around it. Here the front door has been transformed into an informal 3 by 7 foot flush plywood (or steel) door (on the long side of the house) leading into the far end of the 28 foot deep living-dining area.

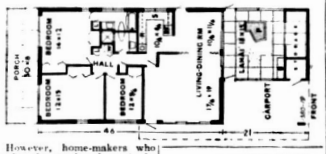

But what this unimpressive house lot may have lacked in a landscaped setting or a distant vista has been abundantly compensated by a secluded lanai (18 by 15 feet) with a reflection pool, lawn, stepping stones, pavement and shrubbery—and with plenty of sunshine entering it through its screened roof. (see picture).

By means of 16 feet of sliding glass doors, the living-dining areas fuse their floor space with this private lanai and augment their height by the "sky-view" through the lanai roof. Thus, what from the street looked like an unpretentious "tract" house turns out to be a rewarding experience in space, color, furnishing and landscaping—in short, in creative living.

Practically speaking, Home 1380-19 embodies some other desirable features. The living room may be closed off from the dining area by a folding partition and from the rest of the house by a door leading to the hall. If guests arrive while food preparation is under way, they may be welcomed through the lanai.

The U-shaped "cooking center" which opens into the dining area is compact but with plenty of counter and cabinet space, as well as a built-in oven (O), counterton range (R), sink (S) under the window, and refrigerator (RF) next to the dining area.

The two rear bedrooms open onto a screened porch (30 by 8 feet) with a particularly screened roof (see picture). Some families might use this porch for summer sleeping. The master bedroom has its own bath and linen closet, as well as two large closets (a double-sized one for HER). The interior hall is lighted and aired by a skydome (see picture) and contains a closet with a washer-dryer combination and next to it space for linen storage.

However, home-makers who prefer the washer-dryer to be located outside the house, may utilize the 5 by 12 foot storage room (accessible from the lanai) as a utility room. Incidentally, this closet together with the adjacent 5 by 5 closet (door from carport side) should be built of decorative masonry ("Shadowall Roman brick, or perforated blocks) and architecturally integrated with the corner barbecue pit (B) wedged between the carport and this storage unit.

As plumbing installation represents a sizeable chunk of the building dollar, an effort has been made here to group the six bathroom fixtures, laundry and kitchen appliances, and the water heater as close together as possible. The children's bathroom has a shower-stall, also lighted and aired by a skydome.

Although the plans call for electric heating coils embedded in the ceiling, this home could also be heated in the more conventional way by a furnace located in the hall closet with overhead or peri-meter duct system.

Florida Getting "Sweeter" Buy 50% More Sugar

Florida consumption of sugar, one of the state's leading products, has stepped up almost 50 per cent since the early 1950's, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce said recently.

"Last year, Floridians and visitors dipped into sugar bowls at tea and coffee time or for cake-candy-jelly making in homes, to use 146,400 tons of refined sugar. This home-restaurant use volume was 51 per cent more than the 1954 consumption.

"Sugar is also used in large quantities by many of Florida's food manufacturing and processing plants. Last year, some 65,500 tons of refined sugar were used commercially to make candy, cakes, cookies, jellies and beverages and in canned and frozen fruits and juices. This amount was 16 per cent more than the 1954 use.

"Production of raw sugar in Florida now stands annually at some 200,000 tons. This volume, after going through refining processes in out-of-state plants, is equivalent to about 187,000 tons. Consumption in the state stood 24,400 tons above the production figure."

TWIN GRANDDAUGHTERS

Rev. and Mrs. Robbins Ralph are announcing the birth of twin granddaughters, born April 19 in Accra, Ghana, Africa. The twins' father is Peter Ralph who is completing a two-year's teaching assignment in Ghana. He will be back in the States some time this summer. In the fall, he plans to study at Massachusetts Institute of Technology in the field of bio-physics. The Ralphs have one son, age 1½.

Texas Removes Requirements On Fla. Fruit

TALLAHASSEE — Texas has withdrawn all requirements for the fumigation of citrus fruit from Florida, State Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner said today.

Conner made the announcement a short time after a telephone conversation with Dr. W. G. Cowperthwaite, director of the Department of Agriculture's Division of Plant Industry in Gainesville. The latter explained that he had just received word of the action that dropped any need for fumigation and certification of citrus fruit from outside the state.

According to Dr. Cowperthwaite, a proclamation from the office of Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White rescinds the establishment of the citrus district of Cameron, Hildago, Starr and Willacy counties in the heavy citrus-producing area of Texas.

White stated that the need for fumigation and certification no longer existed since "certain citrus surface pests outside the boundaries of the State of Texas are now known to occur in Texas."

He pointed out, however, that citrus fruit entering the state still must be packed in standard boxes, crates, baskets or containers.
