School Board Buys New Typewriters

Machines For Avon, Lake Placid

Purchasing problems complicated an otherwise routine school board meeting on Tuesday night.

The Highlands County Board of Public Instruction had advertised for bids on typewriters, a calculator, two movie projectors, a rearview projector, and a Sousaphone.

Each of the bids presented some problems.

James Drane, Sebring office equipment merchant protested the board's purchase of nine Smith-Corona typewriters. Drane's bid on another make had been the high bid, but he said the teachers had asked the board to purchase new models of the machines he was selling.

Board member Henry Bailey said, "The students are using these typewriters to learn a system—the touch system. When they go to work after they are out of school, they will not be able to direct the employer to buy certain types of machines. I am not convinced that we are not going to get the best quality machine with this bid."

The board voted to accept Highlands Office Supply Company's bid of $1,206 for the nine typewriters—seven for use at Avon Park High School and two for Lake Placid.

Drane did receive the contract for a new calculator for use in the county instructional office. The bid was $670 for a Victor Calculator.

The board studied a large number of bids for movie projectors then voted to refer the matter to a committee for study. Members found comparing makes and prices with the printed specifications too time-consuming for a regular meeting.

Only one bid was submitted for a review projector, and the board accepted Gordon Cook's bid of [illegible].

The monthly lunchroom report showed that more students are eating in the school lunchrooms than did last year.

Superintendent Andy Miracle pointed out that "participation on the part of the high school student is good this year". He said 56 per cent of the students of Avon Park High School are eating at school. This compares with an average of [illegible] per cent last year.

Miracle told board members that during the past month Hopewell School had been broken into twice but nothing of any value was lost either time. The first time, he said, a pencil machine was broken; and the second time the ice cream machine was opened.

In a break-in at Lake Placid, however, the thief made way with about $130 in lunchroom receipts. "That will not happen again," Miracle noted. "All lunchroom money is put in night deposit at the bank."

Miracle told board members that the schools this year are attempting to offer driver training classes which will "do better than meet the state's minimum requirements". He said the minimum was six hours of actual driving for each student and 30 hours of classroom instruction.

The Wells Motor Company of Avon Park is supplying the driver-education car for the newly formed driver classes at E. O. Douglas School. The car will be ready on Oct. 15 he said—well in advance of the first class's need.

The board approved Douglas Principal Samuel Nixon's request that girls' basketball be discontinued. Nixon said only two schools in the area still have teams for girls and it is very difficult to arrange games.

The board accepted reports of approved trips made by Avon Park teachers [illegible] and Addie Lee [illegible] to [illegible] the county recency of credit requirements.

The board approved the addition of eight persons to the lunchroom staff personnel of the county. Helen F. [illegible] was named to the [illegible] staff, Johnnie Allbritton at Avon Park High and Lyndal Dyal to Avon Elementary.

Two [illegible] teachers attended the board meeting. They explained that the county Classroom Teachers Association would like to send members to each of the board meetings so that teachers may become better informed [illegible] of the problems faced by the county school board.

Board members said they welcome visitors and [illegible]

Avon Junior Women Win "Hope Award" For Outstanding Service

The Avon Park Junior Woman's Club has been highly honored and has gained statewide recognition by having been selected over all the Junior Woman's Clubs throughout the state to receive the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs' "Hope Award".

"The Hope Award", a large silver tray, was presented at the State Fall Board Meeting which was held in Daytona Beach on October 2, 1962. It represents the rendering of outstanding performance by the Avon Park Club in the field of programming for the mentally retarded children during the period of September 14, 1960 to February 1, 1962.

Mrs. Henry Hellig and Mrs. Harry L. Hood, president of the club, wrote and edited the winning entry which was judged on originality and accomplishment. The article depicted the club's [illegible] opportunity of being able to contribute and support locally the Ridge Area Day School in Avon Park which is sponsored by the Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children; also the satisfaction of [illegible] a patient from Sunland Training Center in Ft. Myers.

Mrs. A. S. Turner, Jr., and Mrs. B. Frank Camp, Jr., served as club presidents during the biennial year of 1960-1962, in which the contest was held, and the major portion of the club's donations to the Ridge Area Day School for this period were derived from the following fund-raising activities sponsored by the club: Mother's Day Fund Drive for RADS, Sugar 'N Spice Follies and the Christ-Wallace Circus.

The Avon Park Junior Woman's Club is indeed proud to have been awarded the "Florida Federation of Women's Clubs Hope Award," for the outstanding civic service to the Avon Park community in the area of help to the retarded child.

Being a small club, with a small membership and drawing on resources from a small community, the Club wishes to thank all who co-operated with them in their endeavors, which enabled them to receive the high honor and the beautiful "Hope Award" silver tray which will always be cherished by the club.

The silver tray Hope Award has been placed on display at Gordon Jewelers for the public to admire.

They defeated Clearwater 48 to 6, lost to a strong Palmetto team 30 to 6, and won over Florenceville last week by a 14 to 0 score. Some of the outstanding players on the team live in Avon Park.

Kickoff time is set for 8:00 p.m. at Memorial Field. Ticket prices are $1.25 for adults and .50 for students including stadium tax. Major Hooten Confirms Bomb Range Hunting

Major Caris T. Hooten, Commander, Avon Park Bombing Range, 10 miles east of Avon Park, stated today that hunting definitely will be permitted on the Wildlife Management Area during the 1962-63 season, opening November 17.

Major Hooten said, however, that two new target areas, embracing approximately 17,000 acres, have been activated, and will be rigidly closed to hunting or entry, as a life-safety precaution.

David Austin, game management wildlife biologist of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission and assistant project leader of the Avon Park Wildlife Management Area, said that the two new closed areas will be clearly marked with open rights-of-way, fresh grades, and well-placed Commission posted signs.

Austin has advised game management officials, and J. O. Brown, manager of the Commissioner's South Florida Region, Lakeland, that 83,000-85,000 acres will be open to hunting, and that he foresees no loss in this year's game harvest from closing the two new target laws. Game population is now well above average, he said.

Deer, turkey and all upland game may be hunted as usual this year, Brown said after talking with Austin; but hogs, a favorite target for hunters on the Bombing Range, may not be shot or taken in any manner. They are not legal game, he said.

Ownership of the hogs at present is vested in holders of agricultural leases on the area, and both the Commission and the Air Force will prohibit taking hogs, Brown and Major Hooten said jointly.

Major Hooten expressed pleasure that recent conferences between Air Force and Commission personnel, and agricultural lessees, had resulted in full agreement to again open the Bombing Range to hunting. He emphasized, however, that any entry into new restricted areas, or the taking of hogs, could alter the agreement.

For the present, the Bombing Range remains closed to weekend fishing, camping, or other entry, Austin said. The agreement opening the area November 17 will permit fishing excursions, as well as hunting, Austin said, but the area is closed at present.

Negro Charged In Assault On White Woman

A 22-year old Negro is being held in the Hillsborough County Jail, Tampa, accused of raping an Avon Park white woman last week.

Ellis Thomas, Jr., the alleged rapist, was arrested by Sheriff Broward Coker's deputies on a warrant issued by County Judge Marvin Rahner on Coker's affidavit that the woman had been raped in her home early Sunday morning.

After waiving a preliminary hearing, Thomas was bound over to circuit court without bond.

Removal of the Negro to Hillsborough County to await grand jury action was ordered by Circuit Judge William K. Love. State Attorney Glen Darby said he would present the case when the grand jury is empaneled in November.

According to the report, fire loss in Avon Park came to $24,000 last year. Property involved was $400,000. Per capita fire loss within the city was $3.43, compared to a $6.26 national average.

The department answered 130 alarms during the past year. They were: Construction, 38; grass or woods, 58; automobiles, 21; rescue, 12; false alarms, 1.

In making the report, Giddens noted that this was also Fire Prevention Week and urged residents to call upon the department if they had questions relative to fire prevention or fire hazards.

Literature on fire prevention is being distributed in the schools of the area and a parade highlighting the week is slated for Saturday afternoon. Firemen are also making public appearances at the schools and at civic organizations pointing up the fire prevention idea.

Giddens and his department also urged all residents to exercise caution with fire, in order that no loss of property or life might be caused by fire.

Fires for the month of September were: Construction, 3; grass, 1; auto, 1; rescue, 1. Loss for month was $875, with no time lost for sickness or accident.

Red Devils Seek Third Straight Win Friday Nite

The injury-riddled Red Devils, leading their Ridge Conference with a hard fought 13-0 win over Frostproof last week, will step back into action against a [illegible] Florida team Friday night when they travel to Wauchula to face the Wildcats with their single-wing offense.

The Devil's stubborn defense, which has given up only six points in the last three games, will face the acid test this week when it will be forced to try and stop Wauchula's single wing attack. The Wildcats have been impressive this season under new coach Cotton Martin. Although this is the first year the Hardee eleven has used the single wing, they have scored 52 points against four opponents thus far. They squeaked by Fort Meade 7-6 in their opener, dropped their only loss to Plant City 19-0 in their second game, and smashed Kathleen 27-0 before stomping previously unbeaten Lake Wales 19-12 last week.

Several pre-season injuries to supposedly key players on the Wildcat eleven apparently haven't hampered the team much. Bill [illegible], Bill Campbell, and Gary [illegible] have all proved to be effective replacements in the tailback slot of the Wildcats single wing. Scouting reports showed that quarterback (or blocking back) Tommy Wingo has been extremely effective in leading the ball carriers with his well-placed blocks as he swings out in front of the single wing attack.

The Wildcats employ a balanced line with their offense and rely mainly on a five-man defense dropping into a diamond formation near their goal line. Avon Park scouts praised the defensive work of Pete Chilton and Buckley.

Although three more Avon Park players were added to the injury list last week, everyone on the team is expected to be ready for action this week except [illegible]

Increase Work Week For City Hall Employees

Before [illegible] Avon Park City [illegible] their first regular [illegible] the new fiscal [illegible]. And before adjournment [illegible] the five-man board had heard a plea for a state audit [illegible] city hall workers, [illegible] a 40-hour work week for city hall employees and received a pat on the back for surplus funds from the year just ended.

Wayne Albright, president of the local Taxpayers League, got the meeting off to a fast pace when he asked the council to submit to a state audit. Albright said he was only yielding to "the many phone calls and inquiries he had received" regarding the city's financial condition. He said that he "thought such an audit would be free if worked through the governor".

Council Vice President George Border said he didn't think audit necessary, but saw no harm in such a move. He went on to say however, that he thought an audit would reflect on the council. Newcomer board member Jimmy Doerr countered with "if nothing wrong, an audit would cast no reflection on the council."

Albright said he thought a political situation had arisen on the council to the point where it was a "you scratch my back, I'll scratch yours, situation". Albright later said members of the council "had violated the charter by selling to the city, and contracting for services." He did not elaborate on his accusations.

In a heated discussion that followed, Mayor E. A. DeLaney told Albright that "if money was not as reported by the city's auditors—A Winter Haven CPA—he would resign in 10 minutes". Council President H. M. (Chic) Farless finally tabled the discussion until a future meeting. The city books are audited every three months by the firm of Lester and Kennedy, Certified Public Accountants of Winter Haven.

Next item on the agenda was the task of hiring city employees for the year. Rather than take each department as a whole, Farless opened the discussion to each individual employee.

King opened the action with a statement that he thought there was "too much overhead in the city hall". He thought it was duty of the board to eliminate some of the overhead. He proposed increasing the city hall work week from 35 to 40 hours and eliminating one of the five employees. City hall workers work on a monthly or weekly basis).

When asked by other board members who he thought should "go", King said he had nothing personal against any of the workers, but wanted board to agree on a cut in man power. He finally made the motion for a 40-hour week, with Doerr seconding the action. On the ensuing vote, King, Doerr, Sam McKenzie and Farless favored the action and Border was opposed.

Doerr then motioned and received a second from King that one employee be cut from the city hall payroll. Doerr pointed out that he only knew City Clerk Lucille Shockley and her assistant, Edna Leighton. On this basis he suggested that Mrs. Mary Durden, who according to Doerr, had been the last employee hired, be released. He also pointed out that Mrs. Durden had been hired on a temporary basis. Doerr, King and McKenzie favored the action and Border was opposed.

Other city hall employees are: Mrs. Virginia Henderson, Bookkeeper and Mrs. Eric Lewis, water department and general office work.

When the board finally got to the police department, King again took the floor. He suggested that Mrs. Peggy [illegible] be made a full fledged policewoman, in addition to her duties of meter maid, and [illegible] school crossings. He noted that she had received training in various police schools, etc. However, no definite action was taken on this matter.

FIRE PREVENTION — TODAY'S CHALLENGE

Around the calendar and around the clock, fire strikes an average of over 1,000 American homes every day. Some are serious. Some are inconsequential. But every fire means a loss.

Fire takes lives, too. Last year there were 11,700 fire fatalities in the United States. And more than 70,000 persons were injured in fires.

Fire plays no favorites. It hits where it is least wanted and least expected. Last year there were serious fires in hospitals, schools, nursing homes and churches, as well as in private dwellings. Many of these fires should never have happened. The National Board of Fire Underwriters reminds us that three-fourths of all fires are the result of carelessness, and with a little care, we should be able to reduce our mounting fire toll. And mounting it is. Last year fire losses totaled $1,209,042,340.00, the greatest dollar loss in history and an increase of 9.1 per cent over the preceding year. It was the fifth year in a row in which losses exceeded the billion dollar mark.

The efforts of every citizen in the nation are needed in the drive for fire safety.

You can join the drive in many ways:

1. After you have smoked a cigarette, make sure you extinguish it.
2. Keep matches out of the reach of children.
3. Never leave small children alone. If you must leave children, ask an adult to stay with them or employ a qualified baby sitter.
4. Never strike matches or carry lighted matches or candles in closets.
5. Keep electrical appliances in good repair.
6. Make sure you use proper type fuses in electrical boxes.
7. NEVER SMOKE IN BED.

If we all do our part we can keep fires from happening.

Washington Report

By Congressman Jim Haley

WASHINGTON, D. C.—I am perhaps not as admiring as some of my colleagues of the tax revision bill we passed and sent to the White House the other day for the President's signature. But the bill is by no means all bad, and certainly it is a vast improvement over the original tax reform bill passed by the House earlier this year.

That bill, you will recall, contained provisions for withholding income taxes on dividends and interest. I was, of course, opposed to any such provision as this from the very beginning, because I regarded it as an unwarranted hardship to be visited on people whose retirement income came from those sources and could ill afford to have 20 per cent of their money taken away from them until such time as the government got around to refunding whatever excess had been withheld.

When the bill was passed with this provision in it, I predicted [illegible] of my colleagues who [illegible] it would rue the [illegible] as the protesting [illegible] they did. When the Senate [illegible] provision from [illegible] tax bill, it [illegible] apparent [illegible] would support [illegible] And we did, of [illegible] the conference [illegible] which embodied [illegible] went to the President [illegible] become law.

[illegible] feature of the [illegible] bill is a billion-dollar [illegible] for [illegible] A principal weakness, in my mind, in the [illegible] the fact that new sources of revenue which it provides will offset only about half of this amount, and on its face the bill would appear to increase the deficit. But I hope, as Administration experts believe, that the plant modernizations which will be encouraged by the incentive provision will create new jobs and new production which will in the end result in additional personal and business income tax in amounts more than sufficient to make up the difference.

Some of you may know that a few days ago I introduced in the House a bill which would establish an eight-point program for modernizing and improving the non-service-connected disability pension program for war veterans, and you may wonder why I did so at this time, when there was no chance for passage this year.

The reason for the timing of my step was to provide opportunity, before the new Congress comes in in January, for the Veterans Administration and the Budget Bureau to study the bill, determine its costs, and make recommendations about what they may see as desirable changes in my proposals. I am, in other words, attempting to provide this year a basis for orderly and speedy consideration of this badly needed legislation next year. The bill certainly will not satisfy the views of all, but it is an attempt to work out a compromise (as is all legislation in the end) of the varied and widely differing viewpoints of many. I would be happy to have comments on it from veterans organizations and individual veterans who are interested.

CRACKER POLITICS

TALLAHASSEE — Governor Farris Bryant's disclaimers of future political involvement should be taken with the skeptic's grain of salt.

He's been saying that after winding up his gubernatorial term on January 5, 1965, "I plan to return to Ocala and the practice of law."

Right now, that's all the 48-year-old Governor could be expected to say. It likely means he just doesn't know yet what he specifically will do.

But since governors spend nearly all their adult life in political activity before achieving the state's top office, it's unrealistic to expect them to abruptly stop then.

That Governor Bryant will do something is almost a foregone conclusion, for every predecessor in modern times able to do so has: the solitary exception being Governor Dan McCarty, who died in office.

Beginning with 1900, every other chief executive has run again for some office. For Florida governors, history makes out a perfect case of the inevitability of further candidacy.

Ten ran for a seat in the United States Senate, and three ultimately were elected (one having been first defeated). Five ran again for Governor, and only one was successful.

That's why it's deceptive to say that a Florida governor lacks the political responsibility of a chief executive elsewhere who may seek reelection.

The Constitution bans a successive term for a governor elected to a regular four-year stint. "Regular" is the key word there, for LeRoy Collins' election to a two-year, unexpired term did not disqualify him from running successfully for the following regular term.

Some observers believe a governor, like the President of the United States, should be made eligible to seek one successive term: that the limit of service should be increased from one term to two of four years each.

These observers argue the one-term limit should be lifted because the Democratic nominee no longer can count upon having the months between the May second primary and the January inauguration fairly free to work out his program.

The growing importance of the November election, demanding defense of the Democratic nomination against increasing Republican strength, means today's new governor goes to his first regular session of the Legislature in April without as much opportunity for preparation as his predecessors had.

And it's at this first, honeymoon session that governors usually have the most favorable legislative reception of their program. By his second regular session, in the third year of his administration, Florida's governor usually is - as Governor Dave Sholtz said - no longer a king, or even a prince, but instead a quince.

But all that is beside the point of what Farris Bryant will do after he turns over the governorship to his successor.

When recently asked, "do you have anybody in mind for that job," Governor Bryant laughingly replied:

"Well, let me say this, Mrs. Bryant is not going to run."

Earlier, when asked if he planned to endorse the candidacy of former State Senator Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr., of West Palm Beach, now Chairman of Bryant's Council of One Hundred, the Governor first said:

"I plan to take no affirmative part in the 1964 Democratic primary."

Then he explained the "affirmative" in that sentence by saying:

"Well, I wouldn't want to bar myself entirely, but if at a press conference somebody asked me what I thought about a particular individual I don't know but what if I thought he was bad I am liable to say so. And that would be negative."

Because the United States Senate has been regarded as the next step by a majority of Florida's governors, and since the seat now occupied by Spessard L. Holland (himself a former governor) will be the first open to election, in 1964, Bryant's view is of special interest:

"Senator Holland, in my judgment, is one of the most dedicated men that Floridians have been fortunate to have serve them, in the judiciary, in the Legislature, as Governor, and in Congress. I think he is a fine public servant, and if he runs for the United States Senate again, as I expect him to do, I will support him unqualifiedly."

Membership on the State Supreme court is a new avenue of post-gubernatorial activity, opened only this year by former Governor Millard F. Caldwell.

Interestingly, Justice Caldwell may be the first affected by the new constitutional provision that members of the court must retire at 70. Justice Caldwell is now 65, and hence he will have to retire before the end of the six-year term, beginning next January, to which he was nominated this year.

The State of Citrus

By John Sikes — Florida Citrus Mutual

LAKELAND—The 17 days beginning Oct. 15 very likely will tote up to the most concentrated, and valuable, fact-finding period in Florida Citrus Mutual's 14-year history of service to Florida citrus growers.

During the period 39 meetings of Mutual's Grower Councils will be held. Two additional meetings will be held Nov. 5 and 6.

The Councils are Mutual grower members' direct representatives in each citrus-producing community in the state for disseminating pertinent and up-to-the-minute citrus information from production to marketing and for the exchange of ideas and suggestions among individual members.

Programs for the meetings will include a look-see at Mutual's current activities on behalf of growers, discussion of Mutual's program for 1962-63 and a complete economic outlook for the new season just now getting underway.

"Mutual has a tremendous job to do in the 1962-63 season in every respect," Bob Rutledge, Mutual's executive vice president, said in announcing the series of meetings. "We want our membership to be fully informed every step of the way.

"We are putting more emphasis on our Grower Councils' activity than ever before and we believe this stepped up activity in the best way to keep the facts of Florida citrus before our membership at all times. As well, these Council meetings will give us the benefit of the thinking of our grower members in every community in the state where citrus is grown."

A special message from Rutledge will be one of the many highlights of the series of meetings.

The day-by-day schedule of the meetings:

Oct. 15 — DeLand, Sanford and Orlando; Oct. 16 — Apopka, Winter Garden and Kissimmee.

Oct. 17—Seville and Ocala; Oct. 18—Mt. Dora, Umatilla, Tavares and Eustis; Oct. 19—Leesburg, Clermont and Groveland; Oct. 22—Frostproof, Lake Wales, Haines City and Winter Haven; Oct. 23—Fort Meade, Bartow, Auburndale and Lakeland; Oct. 24 — Brooksville, Dade City and Plant City.

Oct. 25—Odessa, Lutz and Tampa; Oct. 26—Palm Harbor, Largo and Palmetto; Oct. 29—Sarasota, Alva and Arcadia; Oct. 30—Lake Placid, Avon Park and Wauchula; Oct. 31—Davie.

Game Officials Predict Best Hunting Here

LAKELAND — South Florida's finest hunting in many years will be available throughout the South Florida Region during the coming season, opening November 17, Manager J. O. Brown, Lakeland, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, said today.

Game counted, tracks checked, and other surveys reported by Wildlife Officers and game management personnel at hunt meetings October 2 and 4 in Ocala and Okeechobee—regarding Citrus, Croom, Richloam, Avon Park, Cecil M. Webb, Lee and Fisheating Creek Management Areas—show a record game population this year, Frank Winston, game biologist, has advised Brown.

All small game, particularly quail and squirrel, are abundant on and off the management areas, Brown said. Squirrels, reduced to remnant numbers by hurricane Donna, have staged a remarkable recovery, he said, and will provide fine hunting this year.

Only first-phase dove shooting October 6-November 4, prior to arrival of migratory flights, may be under the high-level population of other game, he said.

Main targets for the hunters will be deer and turkey on management areas, where pre-season track counts and other surveys show that a record harvest this year is in definite prospect.

Only drawback to the finest hunting in years will be prolonged dry weather immediately ahead of the opening date November 17, which, in effect, would push game out of hammock areas into the swamps, and would be a hindrance for dogs, he said.

With the heavy hunting that will occur in the area this year, the Commission is asking that all hunters abide by the license and permit provision and the bag limits on all game, Brown concluded.

Perhaps you've wondered whether many of the "convenience" foods to be found in increasing numbers in today's markets, cost more than they're worth.

If "worth" is considered on the basis of comparison with the cost of home-prepared counterparts, you may be surprised to learn that many of the convenience items will save you money, besides the time and labor saving for which they are designed.

Frozen orange juice concentrate is among the leaders in money saving items. According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, for each $100 spent on food at the grocery store 68 cents goes for frozen orange juice. But it would cost $1.39 for an equal amount of juice from fresh oranges—and that doesn't include the value of time saved in preparation.

Of 158 convenience items studied, USDA reports 42 were less expensive and 116 more expensive than home-prepared counterparts. However, the typical housewife buys enough of the money-saving items so her total food bill is smaller than if she bought only fresh items to prepare in her own kitchen.

The greatest cost difference found in the studies was between instant coffee and that made from regular ground roast coffee. One dollar of every hundred spent on food by typical housewives in the nation is spent on instant coffee. The same number of servings from regular coffee would cost $1.96. The chicken chow mein you buy at 85 cents in frozen form for four servings, or the canned product at 66 cents, would cost you $1.02 if prepared at home.

On the other hand, fresh, ready-to-serve yeast rolls account for 10.6 cents of every $100 spent on food, whereas the ingredients to make an equal quantity at home would cost only 3.4 cents. However, many housewives—and probably a lot of single men who do their own cooking—purchase the cost-increasing foods because of the time and skill required to prepare such things as rolls at home.

If you'd like more information on relative costs of other convenience foods, you may write for Marketing Bulletin No. 22, "Convenience Foods in the Grocery Basket." Single copies are free. Address your request to Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

A Florida woman wrote this office recently asking for information on how to raise ants and where is the best market for them. I'll confess we had to write back and ask what kind of ants she had in mind and for what purpose she thinks they'll be used.

It seems to me I've heard of some strange specialty foods, such as fried grasshoppers and chocolate covered ants, to intrigue party givers into offering their guests something different than the usual run of cocktail canapes. But I don't envision an overwhelming demand developing in our conservative American market for such extraordinary items.

On the other hand, many of us do go for aged cheese in a big way, yet I doubt if our cheese connoisseurs would be much tempted by the aged eggs which the Chinese consider a great delicacy. And some of our malodorous, but delightfully tasty, cheese wouldn't be likely to get a warm reception on a Chinese dinner table.

I hope we shall be able to help the woman who wants to raise ants. I thought we had enough of them in Florida that no one would be interested in producing them commercially.

Quite a number of things American have become popular abroad—Coca Cola, hot dogs, supermarkets, electric refrigerators, etc.

Latest to invade Europe, it is reported by U. S. News, is trading stamps. With the boom in business there, retailing is becoming more competitive and many merchants are looking for new promotion gimmicks to stimulate trade.

On the other hand, here in the U. S., a recent business news item quotes officials of W. T. Grant Co. (a chain of 1,000 stores) to the effect they will drop trading stamps as of March 15, 1963. The sales increase realized from stamps is "not enough to pay the cost."

New Jersey reports the number of turkeys being raised there this year is down 11 per cent this year, from 180,0000 in 1961 to 160,000. Light breeds are the same as a year ago (14,000) but heavy breeds are down 20,000, or 12 per cent.

In spite of the fact the industry refused to approve proposals for a national marketing order that would tend to lower production, growers seem to have taken to heart the warnings that they faced another tough year if they didn't cut back. National production this year is expected to total 91,800,000 birds, or 15 per cent less than 1961's record crop. Heavy breeds are down 13 per cent, but there's a one-third cut estimated for the light breeds.

Maryland, Virginia and California are bucking this year's trend. Those three states expect to produce more turkeys this year than last.

INTRODUCING THE 1963 DODGE

People can't help being carried away by the 1963 Dodge. Who can blame them? Dodge looks like an expensive car. But, it's priced down with other low-price cars. And inside there's room galore! The roofline sweeps straight back instead of sloping off. That means ample headroom in back, not just in front. There's more legroom and footroom, too. The seats are chair-high whether you choose a model with sofa style, buckets, or fold-down center arm rest in front. Plus, you get the most luxurious interiors in the field, a smooth torsion-bar ride, a thrifty Six or quick, slick V8. Little wonder, people get carried away . . . especially now that every Dodge is backed by a revolutionary 5-year/50,000-mile warranty*! See your Dodge Dealer.

J. Morris Adams, Highlands County Representative to the state legislature, spoke before the Avon Park Woman's Club Friday afternoon. He gave a brief resume of the State's operation since the amendment of 1924-25 on re-apportionment; how the Supreme Court is involved, and he also explained the recent amendment which was passed by the special session of the Legislature.

Adams answered questions from the floor and explained how the new law will affect Highlands County if it is passed by the people in the November election.

Mrs. Mervin Rehrer was program chairman. Mrs. William Bonner gave the devotional.

The business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. S. F. Elkhill, who welcomed the large attendance of ladies for the first meeting of the Fall season. At the close of the business and program meeting a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the courtesy committee.

Soil Conservation News

By SAM POLSTON
U. S. Soil Conservation Service

The Highlands Soil Conservation District shares a distinquished birthday this 1962, along with the citizens of Sebring, who are celebrating their 50th anniversary. The district was first organized in 1942, 20 years ago. Although the district yet considers itself to be in the pioneer stage, much progress has been made. Mrs. Katherin M. Waggaman, charter member and present chairman for the board of supervisors, marvels the accomplishments of Sebring and Highlands County.

There is 75 per cent of the land still undeveloped With the tremendous progress made over the past 25 years it is hard for one to realize that we still have so far to go. There is about 100,000 acres of improved pasture, 35,000 acres of citrus and 3,000 acres of cultivated crops developed in Highlands County, the majority of which has been done over the past 15 years.

Just 15 years ago it was thought that clover could not be grown here. Now it is being grown on most of our pastures in the winter with upwards of 10,000 acres under seepage irrigation. The reason for the early failures was the lack of applying the needed lime and fertilizer nutrients of which our soils are deficient.

By planting our native pasture land to improved grasses the production is increased about 15 fold. So it is easy to see that with only 25 per cent of the land developed our potential is unlimited.

The thing that we sometime fail to realize is that our water resources will be the limiting factor in our development. Highlands County has made progress since 1954 in developing its water resources through the Small Watershed Program.

It is anticipated that the agricultural development in the county will double in the next 15 years. Reading the 50 year history of Sebring, the agricultural growth was predicted 40 years ago but the "bust" and the "depression" delayed the progress until after World War II.

Alarming statistics as to what the communists are doing to further their cause were compared with what we are doing.

He discussed the new course he is to teach in high school next semester, "Americanism versus Communism", and a question and answer period closed the program.

Mrs. Helen Young and Mrs. Kyleen Thompson, playground committee chairmen, announced a clean-up day for Donaldson Park, the date to be published later.

Girl Scout Committee Chairman, Lil Hassfurder, requested a leader for the troop which the club sponsors. Anyone interested should contact her.

The Club voted to hold the December meeting on the 4th and the annual Christmas Party on December 11.

Hostesses Nell Roberts, Jean McAllister and Edwina Daniels served refreshments during the social hour. The table was centered with an autumn motif composed of a pumpkin and autumn hued leaves.

Some 40 guests are expected to meet at Highlands Hammock State Park for a day-long discussion of such problems as Language Arts, Elementary Education, Business Education, Vocational and Adult Education, Audio-Visual Education, and Certification. Among the guests are expected some ten representatives of the State Department of Education. Mr. Bill Vincent will act as chairman of the meeting.

The Counties to be represented will be: DeSoto, Glades, Hardee, Hendry, Indian River, Martin, Okeechobee, Osceola, and St. Lucie.

Red Devil "B" Team Stop Sebring, Lose To Lake Wales

Wolfgang Halbig and Tom Nunnallee scored a touchdown each and the Avon Park "B" squad defense drove the Sebring junior varsity offense into their own end zone for a two point safety to give the local jayvee eleven a 14-0 win over their Highlands County rivals last Thursday night at Memorial Field.

The win was a big one for the Avon Park boys who had played Sebring to a scoreless tie the previous week. Steve Seims, Avon Park halfback, set up the first touchdown for the Red "Bees" when he moved the ball to the Sebring 15 with a 45 yard run in the first period. Halbig broke through to score from the 15 on the next play, but the PAT try was stopped short of the goal line and Avon Park led 6-0.

In the second quarter, Sebring moved to Avon Park's 25 before the junior Devils held and the half ended with the local squad still out front 6-0.

There was no score in the third period as both teams were unable to generate a sustained drive. Early in the fourth quarter with Sebring deep in their own territory, thanks to one of Devil quarterback Bobby Coleman's fine punts, a host of Avon Park tacklers broke through the Sebring line and tackled the ball carrier behind the goal line for a safety putting Avon Park out front 8-0.

The second Avon Park touchdown was scored with only 30 seconds remaining in the game. Tom Nunnallee took a hand-off from Coleman and shot through the Sebring line ten yards into paydirt. Again the try for the extra point failed leaving the score 14-0 in favor of Avon Park.

Two touchdown pass plays and a 70 yard kick-off return were all the Lake Wales "B" team needed last Tuesday night to defeat the Avon Park junior varsity by a score of 19-6 at Memorial Field.

The undefeated Lake Wales squad opened the scoring action with a 51 yard pass play which put them ahead 6-0 early in the first period. Quarterback Bill Marston hit end Ralph Jacobs in the open and Jacobs trotted into the end zone untouched. Halfback Dennis Bowers plunged through for the PAT.

In the second period, Avon Park took over on the Lake Wales 13 when the junior Highlanders tried to make fourth down yardage and were held by the junior Devils. From that point Avon Park marched to the four yard marker and halfback Steve Seims raced over for the TD. The extra point run was stopped short leaving Lake Wales out front 7-6.

On the following kick-off Lake Wales' Tommy Byrd took a reverse handoff from a teammate and raced 70 yards around the Avon Park defense for another Lake Wales score. The PAT try was stopped.

Later in the second period Lake Wales got another drive going and moved to Avon Park's 30. Again quarterback Marston dropped back and fired a 30 yard pass to end Tommy Byrd who fell into the end zone for their third touchdown. Again Avon Park held on the try for the extra point and at halftime the score stood 19-6.

The second half was strictly a defensive battle with neither team able to score. The win was Lake Wales's third straight and the loss gave Avon Park a record of one win, one loss, and one tie.

Avon Park meets Lake Placid here at Memorial Field, Oct. 25 in their next game.

Baptist WMS Observes 75th Anniversary

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church observed the 75th Anniversary of the WMU of the Southern Baptists with a special program at the church Tuesday morning. Mrs. Webb Hazen introduced the topic of the program "Laborers Together with God."

The WMS was first organized in Richmond, Virginia in 1888. Three ladies who were dressed in appropriate costumes for attending this first meeting, Mrs. C. W. Pabor, Mrs. B. F. Martin, and Mrs. Otto Skipper were present to give their part of the program, "I Remember." Mrs. Martin is the oldest member of the First Baptist WMS.

Three other ladies who presented the program of Today were Mrs. Aden D. Childress, Mrs. Forrest Johnson and Mrs. Otis Strickler. Miss Sharon Sue Childress was present to represent the Junior Girl's Auxiliary.

Mrs. Art S. Turner, Jr., president of the WMS, presented the Goals for the Year, this being the beginning of the new year's work for the WMS.

The Executive Committee met in the morning prior to the regular meeting and the circles were divided and names posted for the new circles to organize.

15 Additional Shipping Days

LAKELAND—Florida shippers of fresh grapefruit will have an additional 15 days to move fruit into the United Kingdom this season, Homer E. Hooks, general manager of the Florida Citrus Commission, announced today.

Hooks said that he had been notified by the United States Agriculture Department that the British Board of Trade had extended authority for importation of fresh Florida grapefruit from September 30 to October 15.

"This is the first time that the British Board of Trade has taken such action and it presents Florida grapefruit shippers an excellent opportunity to move more fruit into the United Kingdom," Hooks said.

Mrs. T. H. Maxwell is chairman of the study. Mrs. S. M. Swaney will give the devotionals. Special recorded music and appropriate displays of articles from the countries and colored films will enhance the interest of the subjects to be discussed. Numerous ladies will be taking parts on the programs. Mrs. Hubert Bussard will be conducting a study on the same subject in the Children's Department.

Mrs. Martin Is Party Honoree

Mrs. B. F. Martin was the surprise honoree on Sunday afternoon when her family gathered to celebrate her birthday. Early in the afternoon the daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Blake and their sons, Bud and Terry, of Tampa made a private plane trip over, to surprise Mrs. Martin. Billy and Dorothy Martin and their son, Joey, came bringing a large birthday cake and Mr. and Mrs. Devon Reddick and daughter, Devorah, brought a churn of homemade ice cream.

The group arrived singing Happy Birthday and bringing many nice gifts to the honoree.

The previous week Mrs. Martin had surprised Mr. Martin with a family dinner party on his birthday and had expected the birthday occasion to be over in their family, which added to her surprise when the children came on Sunday.

Sun Editor To Attend Realtor Meeting Oct. 18

Earl Wells, editor of the Sun, will attend the 40th state convention of the Florida Association of Realtors to be held in Jacksonville October 18-20, it was announced by Hubbard K. Biggs, president of the Avon Park Area Board of Realtors.

Biggs said among local Realtors invited to participate in the state meeting were Ted J. Ward, chairman of the rules and by-laws committee of the 3,000-member state group, and Robert King, who serves on the membership committee of Florida's Realtors.

Several hundred Florida Realtors, their salesmen, and their wives will be in Jacksonville for the three-day convention, the local Board president said. The theme of the meeting is "Florida Realtors Salute the Press" and newspapermen from all parts of the state will attend as guests of their local Boards of Realtors.

Convention speakers include Dr. Arthur R. Upgren, St. Paul, Minn. economic consultant; Dr. Charles E. Irvin, General Motors staff speaker; A. M. McNickle, Miami trust company executive; and Cathy Busby, Memphis, who will talk on "Personality" at a wives' special program luncheon. Brig. Gen. Harry J. Sands, Jr., vice commander, Air Force Missile Test Center, Cape Canaveral, and D. D. Wyatt, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Washington, will speak on "The Impact of America's Space Program."

Also on the program will be the Rev. Laurance H. Hall, Cleveland, banquet speaker; William R. Spear, president, Florida Society of Editors; and Miles H. Wolff, Greensboro, N. C., vice president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. A press relations workshop will be staged on October 20 for Realtors and newsmen.

Other convention events include a training session for 1963 local Realtor officers, and educational and business meetings of real estate traders, farm brokers, industrial Realtors, property managers, and appraisers.

Florida Realtors will elect their 1963 officers on October 20 and at a banquet and ball that night will name the Realtor of the Year. A "convention special" train originating in Miami will pick up Realtors and salesmen on the way to Jacksonville.

Five Generations Of Wrights Here

The J. C. Wright home at Pinecrest Lakes was the scene for a family gathering on Sunday which brought together five generations of Wrights. Mr. Wright's grandmother, Mrs. Nellie Maddox, of Haines City is perhaps one of the few native Floridians, having come from two generations of Florida stock herself.

Coming with Mrs. Maddox was Mr. Wright's mother, Mrs. S. G. Lowry, and also an aunt, Mrs. Thelma Whitehead, all of Haines City. The Wright's daughter and her family, Mrs. Hugh Williams and Kathryn and Karla, were also present to complete the family group of five generations, who enjoyed a sumptuous dinner at noon served by Mrs. Wright.

Here and There

Mrs. Cora Wray is expecting her son, F. Ellis Wray, from Clanton, Alabama to arrive this weekend and be here to attend the Old Settlers Association picnic which will be held on Wednesday of next week. Ellis is district manager for the Alabama Power Corporation.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Krenerick have returned from an eight weeks vacation trip. They visited in Franklin, N. C. and with relatives in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota while they were away.

Sherry Smith spent the weekend at the "Green Shutters" in Orlando visiting her sister, Miss Linda Smith, who is attending Jones Business College.

New Members At Country Club

Thirty new members have joined the Avon Lakes Country Club recently and many winter guests are returning to add to the social life of the activities for the season.

There will be no social following the football game this Friday night, but the social committee is planning to resume the popular covered dish suppers in the near future.

45 Dove Fields Open To State Hunters

TALLAHASSEE — Florida hunters will have an opportunity to hunt dove on 45 experimental public dove fields during the 1962-63 hunting season. The fields consisting of more than 3,715 acres are located in 12 counties and will require a $2.00 daily permit with the exception of fields in Jackson and Franklin Counties, and the Eglin Air Force Reservation, according to A. D. Aldrich, director, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

Information and location of the public dove fields follows:

Dade County — Located between the Tamiami Trail and Homestead, west of Perrine. Two fields consisting of 360 and 600 acres for a total of 960 acres planted in millet. Open for hunting on alternate days. The larger field will open on Sundays, Wednesdays and Fridays; the smaller field on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays. Both fields will be closed on Mondays.

Gilchrist County — Located three miles west of High Springs. Two fields consisting of 85 and 120 acres for a total of 205 acres planted in corn and peanuts. Open for hunting on Saturdays and Wednesday, with the same permit honored on either field.

Suwannee County — Located northeast of Branford. One field consisting of 200 acres planted in corn. Open to hunting on Saturdays and Wednesdays.

Clay County—Located on the Camp Blanding Wildlife Management Area. Five fields consisting of 40 acres. No more than 60 hunters will be allowed per day. Open on Mondays only. Special permit may be obtained from the Commission's Lake City office.

St. Johns County — Located north of Hastings. Two fields consisting of 140 and 200 acres for a total of 340 acres planted in corn. Open for hunting on Saturdays and Wednesdays only.

Flagler County — Located north of DeLand. One field consisting of 273 acres planted in corn. Open for hunting on Saturdays and Wednesdays only.

Hernando County — Located east of Brooksville. One field consisting of 250 acres planted in corn and peas. Open for hunting on Saturdays and Wednesdays only.

Franklin County—Located on the Apalachicola Airport. One field consisting of 120 acres planted in Millet. Open for hunting every day and requires a $1.00 daily permit.

Jackson County—Located on the Apalachee Wildlife Management Area and the Apalachee Correctional Institution lands. Consisting of 800 acres planted in corn. Open for hunting every day and requires a $5.00 public hunt permit.

Walton-Okaloosa and Santa Rosa Counties—Located on the Eglin Wildlife Management Area, Eglin Air Force Base. Consisting of 30 fields which range in size from 10 to 25 acres and planted in millet, peas, and chufas. Open for hunting on Wednesdays and Saturdays only. Requires a $1.00 daily permit for the first phase dove season and regular Eglin hunting permit for balance of hunting season. Permits may be obtained from the Jackson Guard Station at Niceville, or any Eglin forestry tower located near major highways.

There is no limit as to the number of hunters allowed on the fields, with the exception of the Clay County Fields on the Camp Blanding area. Permits may be obtained at the fields or at any of the five Commission regional offices located at Panama City, Lake City, Ocala, Lakeland, and West Palm Beach. Special permit for the Clay County-Camp Blanding hunt may be obtained at the Lake City office only.

According to Aldrich, these dove fields serve a two-fold purpose. They will provide additional public shooting grounds for the hunter and an experimental proving ground for managed public hunting on small areas. It is hoped that more private landowners may follow this example and open their lands for a similar controlled hunt in the future.

Don't forget to renew your driver's license during the month of your birthday.

Game Officials Says Fish Kills Damage Small

LAKELAND—Manager J. O. Brown, South Florida Region, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, Lakeland, said recently that many "fish kills" reported have caused only minor and temporary damage, and generally have been from "natural causes", rather than from pollution.

He appealed to the public not to be jerky or overly disturbed by minor kills, which he said occur frequently throughout Florida—where only a relatively few fish die from siltation from heavy rains and erosion, from decaying vegetation in low water, from incorrect field spraying for insect and pest control, and from other "natural causes".

He said that kills occasionally occur also from over-fertilization of a pond or body of water.

"We are anxious to know at once about pollution from oils, chemicals, acids, and other harmful industrial wastes which destroy plant life and fish populations," Brown said.

"We urge the public to notify the Lakeland office at the first sign of such pouultion of any lake or stream. If we can catch the pollution in time, it usually can be stopped and cured.

"If it is not reported immediately, it is difficult later to determine the cause or causes, and such pollution can lead to serious damage, if not 'death' of any body of water," he said.

He added, "Time and personnel to follow up reports of 'fish kills' is very limited. While only a qualified biologist can determine accurately the type of a baffling fish kill, many kills being reported are easily recognized as 'natural kills', and are of little cause for alarm. Public cooperation to conserve time and personnel to investigate the more serious pollution kills is vital at this time," Brown said.

Home Economist On The Go

by Patricia G. Hurley

Flower arranging is a topic worthy of study. It is sometimes erroneously considered too difficult a skill to tackle. After I recently showed the Venus and Lake Placid Home Demonstration club women some basic flower shapes and styles they were ready to try their hand at this skill. In fact Mrs. W. J. Hanke of Lake Placid practiced some with my permanent flowers just after the demonstration.

Some of the women said they had always made traditional arrangements, but were not going to attempt Oriental and Modern designs. Here are a few pointers which should be helpful if you are making a flower arrangement or if you are choosing an arrangement for your home.

Traditional arrangements usually have symmetrical balance and use flowers in mass. In contrast, Modern and Oriental styles use fewer flowers and typically have informal balance.

Modern styled arrangements emphasize line movement and often use accessories such as rocks and figurines as an essential part of the arrangement. If you try this idea, be sure that your accessories, flowers and container are congenial in character. There is a very practical advantage in making a modern arrangement: only a few flower are necessary.

The philosophy behind Oriental arrangements is an interesting one. Japanese artists may use three or more flowers in a design, but the three principle flowers will form a triangle, with its three points representing heaven, man and earth. Oftentimes the Oriental arrangement is placed in a shallow container.

Studying flower arranging can help you enjoy others' creations to a greater degree. Mrs. Dahlia Pearce of Venus told me that after the flower arranging demonstration she noticed the flowers at church more closely and appreciated them more.

Library Meeting Slated At Lake Wales Oct. 19

Luncheon reservations should be sent to the Lake Wales Public Library.

Reforestration Below Needed Timber Demand

TALLAHASSEE Sept. 28—Though one and one-third billion pine seedlings have been planted in Florida, the present rate of reforestation is not equal to anticipated demand for pulp and timber.

A booklet released this month by the Florida Forest Service cites this fact, and lists changes in Florida's forest resources and the industrial use of timber in the past 25 years.

At the present rate of industrial use, Florida's wood supply faces serious depletion unless growth is increased. Yet a favorable "growth-use" balance could be attained by planting, management and protection.

Based on three surveys, the booklet "Florida's Timber — Changes in Supply and Use" was prepared and illustrated by the Florida Forest Service in cooperation with the U. S. Forest Service. Copies are available on request.

Woodlands still cover nearly two-thirds of Florida's land area, but the state has 2,500,000 fewer forest acres now than a quarter century ago. Nine per cent of Florida's commercial forest area has shifted to other uses in the last 10 years, the publication shows.

Ten million acres, most of them pine woodlands, are very poorly stocked and must be planted before they can reach full production. Low-quality hardwoods cover much of this land and must be removed before the land is planted.

Four out of every 10 cords of wood going to Florida's 10 pulp and paper mills are imported. Even so, the tortoise of timber production has not yet lost the race to the hare—industrial demand.

Progress continues because (1) of new markets for smaller trees, (2) most forest acreage in the state is now protected from wildfire, and (3) better forest management is being applied to private lands.

Gone is the old concept of timber as an inexhaustible raw material, to be wantonly cut and remembered only by barren fields within the sweeping radius of the mill.

Gasoline Taxes On Increase

TALLAHASSEE — State Comptroller Ray E. Green reported today gasoline tax collections for September totaled $11,158,008, an increase of 9.5 per cent or $971,728 over the same month last year.

The Comptroller said September collections topped those of last August by 2.48 per cent, or $308,239. The increase for the first quarter of the current fiscal year over the same period last year is 7.9 per cent.

A total of 160,186,089 gallons of gasoline was sold during August.

Avoid temptation when you drive. It's a good way to grow old.

Harvest Moon

Autumn's equinox now past,
Harvests of the year at last
By strong hands are gathered in,
Filling silo, barn, and bin.

Weary goes the sun to rest,
Pillowed in the golden West;
Luna, queen by divine right,
Rules the spangled heavens
all night.

One by one the starry host
Pales to insignificance,
Their bright glory almost lost
In Luna's pale magnificance.

Queen and huntress,
bright and fair,
Buxom, smiling, debonair,
Riding handsome, riding high,
So she drives across the sky,

Shedding light but never heat,
Light for mooning
lovers meet,
Light that softens all the harsh
Sharp features of both field and marsh.

Rich man, poor man,
moron, sage
Hardly can repress their rage*
Watching Luna riding by
Across the vasty
vaulted sky.

Ride on, Luna,
Queen of Night!
Welcome is your mellow light,
Heavens, the glory of God
declare,
When your face is shining there.

15 Additional Shipping Days

LAKELAND—Florida shippers of fresh grapefruit will have an additional 15 days to move fruit into the United Kingdom this season, Homer E. Hooks, general manager of the Florida Citrus Commission, announced today.

Hooks said that he had been notified by the United States Agriculture Department that the British Board of Trade had extended authority for importation of fresh Florida grapefruit from September 30 to October 15.

"This is the first time that the British Board of Trade has taken such action and it presents Florida grapefruit shippers an excellent opportunity to move more fruit into the United Kingdom," Hooks said.

Larry is a fullback. You ought to see him finding those holes in the line . . . driving off tackle . . . slashing through the secondary. Oh, Larry has scored a dozen touchdowns!

But he can't kick an extra-point! The cross-bar is too high, the goal posts are too far away.

Just give Larry a year or two—with lots of practice. Then we'll win those close ones . . . 7-6 . . . 14-13 . . . 21-20!

Never worry about failure when its cause is being overcome. Don't lower the goal . . . keep trying. Grow stronger. You'll reach it!

That's one of the lessons of life that Larry has learned on Sundays when he goes to church with his family . . . one of many lessons that help us achieve our best every day of the week.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Florida Council Reports

By Fred O. Dickinson, Jr., Chairman
The Florida Council Of 100

Two members of the council have agreed to head a special courtesy to tourists campaign next January and February. They are Byron C. Shouppe, president, Southern Tours, Inc., St. Petersburg, who will serve as chairman, and Benjamin H. Oehlert, Jr., president, Minute Maid Corp., and vice president, Coca-Cola Co., Orlando, who will be vice chairman.

Shouppe and Oehlert have called a meeting for Oct. 16 in West Palm Beach at which time the specifics of the campaign will be discussed. This must of necessity be an exploratory meeting since the chairman and the vice chairman must determine the cost of the program, what state agencies and organizations desire to participate, how the cost may be defrayed and how responsibilities may be assigned.

The preliminary plans which have been outlined indicate this will be the most comprehensive campaign of its kind ever initiated in Florida history. The goal is to impress on our visitors that we are a friendly people who are really glad to have them among us.

The theme, which has been agreed on during the preliminary planning, will be "Smile and Sell Florida." In the studies on tourism which the council has made, we have determined that great emphasis is being placed in other resort areas on courtesy, friendliness and making people feel they are wanted. A smile is the first step to courtesy, to friendliness and to making people feel they are wanted.

This massive program will be directed toward urging all businesses which deal with tourists to insist that their employees are friendly and courteous, and we hope every city, county and state agency which has contact with our visitors also will insist on cordial assistance. By this we mean that law enforcement officers and all public employees must be courteous and cordial.

Among the organizations expected to have representatives attend are the Florida Attractions Association, Florida Development Commission, Florida Tourism Council, State Junior Chamber of Commerce, State Chamber of Commerce, Florida Petroleum Council, Florida Hotel Association, Florida Motel Association, Florida Restaurant and Hotel Commission, Florida Citrus Commission and the Florida Trucking Association.

If, in the judgement of Shouppe and Oehlert, the council can receive the kind of support it needs from the appropriate agencies and organizations to effectively stage this campaign, the council will be given a report and asked to authorize our participation during the Nov. 2nd semi-annual meeting at Tampa.

On Oct. 1, some 300 correspondents from throughout the world who covered the manned orbital shot from Cape Canaveral were entertained at a reception at the Cape Colony Inn, Cocoa Beach, by the council and the Florida Development Commission.

We told those attending that the participation of the Florida Council of 100 in this reception was an expression of appreciation from the members to the representatives of the press, television and radio who have told so well the story of man's conquest of space.

Our council took this means to thank the news media representatives for their invaluable work in the past to wish them every success in the future as the free world moves from Cape Canaveral into the new world of limitless space.

Press kits, prepared jointly by the council and commission, were distributed and entertainment was provided by the City of Miami Beach and Florida Attractions Association through Richard Pope, Sr., council member.

Ford Galaxie Shatters 46 Speed Records

BONNEVILLE, Utah — A Ford Galaxie with an experimental 483-cubic-inch V-8 engine under the hood shattered 46 national and international land speed records Tuesday (Oct. 2) on the 10-mile circular track at the Bonneville Salt Flats in Western Utah.

The powerful racing machine, driven alternately by Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., Don White of Keokuk, Iowa, and Ralph Moody of Charlotte, N. C., set new Class "B" marks at every distance between 25 kilometers and 500 miles. Average speed for the 500-mile, three-hour run was 166.33 miles per hour from a flying start and 163.85 from a standing start.

The speed trials were sanctioned by the United States Auto Club.

Many of the records that fell had been on the USAC rolls since 1935 when Ab Jenkins drove a Duesenberg Special at the Salt Flats.

The fastest lap of the 10-mile circle was 169.4 mph. Earlier, Lorenzen had driven the Ford at its best speed of 176.978 mph. In a North-South run on the Bonneville straightaway last week, Lorenzen averaged 172.26 in the measured mile.

The Holman and Moody car, prepared in Charlotte, N. C., established national records with a flying start from 25 kilometers to 500 kilometers and up to 400 miles. From a standing start, the record string extended from 25 kilometers to 500 miles. The international record string stretched from 100 kilometers to 500 miles. New one hour and three-hour records from both standing and flying starts also were established.

All records set have been authenticated by USAC, subject to confirmation by the Federation Internationale D'Automobile (FIA), the international sanctioning body for racing and speed records.

The Holman and Moody car was the same one that won the Atlanta 500 race earlier this year. The 483-cubic-inch test engine from Ford Motor Company's Engine and Foundry Division in Dearborn, Mich., was installed in the car after only 20 minutes break-in. Horsepower and torque ratings have not yet been established for the engine.

The engine, constructed of a new-type nodular iron, has an experimental camshaft and is equipped with dual, four-barrel Holly carburetors. It has a compression ratio of about 12 to 1. The intake ports are 18 per cent larger than those in the huskiest stock Ford engine, the "406", and the exhaust ports are 16 per cent larger. The Holman and Moody team used super premium fuel of 103-105 octane.

The car itself is a 1962 Ford Galaxie convertible, with a "fast-back" roof, similar to the Starliner roof silhouette of 1961. The car ran on 8.00 by 15 racing tires and carried a 2.67 to 1 rear axle.

Florida Prison Space Problems Under Study

TALLAHASSEE—The State Parole Commission is moving swiftly to examine and qualify additional supervisors to cope with the prison space crisis in Florida.

Chairman Roy W. Russell of the Florida Probation and Parole Commission has called for merit examinations to supply new staff supervisors, authorized by the State Budget Commission with a recent $123,000 emergency appropriation. Board action came after Louie Wainwright, Director of the State Prison system, reported he had no more bed space for convicts.

Russell said that as fast as more supervisors can be qualified, the Commission will start releasing on parole as many of nearly 400 qualified prisoners as can be placed in jobs and suitable home environment. The new supervisors will assist in finding work for those convicts who cannot themselves find jobs, as well as to supervise those released. The Parole Commission previously had reported its staff was loaded to capacity with supervising more than 7,000 convicts on probation or parole, in addition to making pre-sentence investigations as required by the judges of the state having criminal jurisdiction.

Commenting on this turn toward greater use of probation and parole, Russell said, "We of the Commission see other avenues of usefulness opening up, in the prevention of crime as well as in dealing with its results. We believe that by substituting probation or parole for the county jail, we can save many minor offenders and misdemeanants of all ages from further lives of major crime. We also are combatting the spread of crime through alcoholism and of sexual offenses, by providing forms of treatment not available from other agencies under our present form of government. And of great importance too, the functions of the Commission can be used to help young offenders bridge the gap between a correctional institution and normal community life."

Russell said that pre-sentence investigations by staff members of the Commission are increasing in number, as more and more judges call on the Commission for this service. From such reports, the courts then determine upon either probation, or imprisonment or fine. "With the results of these investigations," said Russell, "judges can determine whether the convicts before them are worth trying to salvage as individuals, or whether there is no alternative to sending them to jail or to prison or to fine them, or both."

Russell pointed out that every man on the Commission's supervisory staff is a college graduate, and each has been chosen as the result of successfully passing a stiff merit system examination. New applicants must meet the same strict merit requirements, he said.

Two Avon Youths Lose Probation Bid; Sentenced

Two Avon Park youths have lost a bid for probation. In Circuit Court Monday Judge Clifton M. Kelly sentenced Floyd Thomas Phillips, his brother Richard Lee Phillips to the state penitentiary.

The teen-agers had previously entered pleas of guilty on each of three counts of breaking and entering other than a dwelling. A sister in another state had offered to give her brothers a home and provide jobs for them.

Probation officials of the sister's state, however, refused to accept any responsibility for working with the brothers. Judge Kelly on each charge sentenced the brothers to six months to three years in the penitentiary. The sentences are to run concurrently.

Floyd Phillips had also pleaded guilty to larceny of an automobile. On that charge the Judge deferred sentence.

Bertha Louise Whaley, who had previously pleaded guilty to four charges of forgery and uttering and passing a forged instrument, was placed on five years probation.

Last Friday Freddie Lee Walker, who had previously pleaded guilty to aggravated assault, was sentenced to prison for five years.

B & E Charges Face Sebringite

A Sebring man has been bound over to Circuit Court on a charge of breaking and entering. Lee Andrew Faggett, Negro, waived preliminary hearing in County Court this week, and County Judge Mervin Rehrer set his bond at $1,000. Faggett is accused of breaking into the Triangle Drive-in Restaurant.

Two out-of-county drivers faced driving while intoxicated charges in County Court. James Clinton Foster drew a sentence of 20 days in jail plus a $250 fine or three months more. His driver's license was suspended for a year.

Lloyd George Sheffield of Frostproof pleaded not guilty on two counts—driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident. His bond was set at $300 for each charge. Sheffield, white, resides in Frostproof.

Former Resident Dies In St. Pete

Mrs. Katherine Bristol died in St. Petersburg Monday at the age of 86. She had made her home with her daughter there since leaving Avon Park three years ago. She was a member of the Methodist Church, and OES Leigh Chapter. She came to Avon Park from Vinton, Iowa in 1919.

Mrs. Bristol was hostess at the Jacaranda Hotel when it was first opened by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Raab in the early twenties. She later managed the Poinsettia Hotel for a number of years, before retiring to her home on Lake Letta.

Her survivors are an only daughter, Mrs. Kathryn B. Eddy, of St. Petersburg; a sister, Mrs. Frances Clark, of Avon Park and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held from the Stephenson Funeral Chapel Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. Officiating minister will be The Rev. W. M. Mullen of Sebring, a former pastor of the Avon Park Methodist Church when Mrs. Bristol was an active member.

Interment will be in Bougainvillea Cemetery.

Red Devils Seek —

week's game because of an infected leg. He is practicing this week, however, and will be ready for Friday's game. Lanse Padgett, switched from halfback to fullback last week, received a bad bruise on his back in the third quarter of the Frostproof game. He also is back in action this week, and guard Bobby Briscoe, who has been out for two games with an injured knee, is working out this week and hopes to see full action Friday. Rhoades will be out of action for at least three weeks it is reported due to injuries to his ribs received in the Frostproof game. Scott reinjured his knee last week in a non-football accident, and it is doubtful if he will see any action this season.

Halfback Wayne Strickler, who impressed Devil fans with a 19 yard TD around-end scamper and a 33 yard gain around end later in the game last week, will possibly strengthen the Red Devil offense this week.

Meeting unexpected tough competition from the Frostproof eleven last week, Avon Park had to re-group its forces at halftime to come back and push over two quick touchdowns to take the win and remain unbeaten in conference play.

Twice during the game the Frostproof offense struck with lightening-like swiftness to fill the Avon Park fans with fear as they scored on two long plays only to have both touchdowns called back with penalties. The passing accuracy of quarterback Don Sebastian posed a constant threat as he repeatedly hit his receivers with perfect passes only to have them drop the ball with nothing but space between them and the Devil's goal line. The breakaway speed of halfback Leroy Mauldin also kept the Devil defense busy.

Senior halfback Max Still did a tremendous job of keeping the Devil offense rolling the second half after Rhoades and Padgett were sidelined. Still ground out 93 yards on the ground on 21 carries. Padgett ran well from the fullback position the third quarter as he racked up 85 yards and scored a touchdown before he left the game. Halfback Wayne Strickler proved worthy of the call as he moved in to fill the gap caused by Rhoades's injury. His speed impressed Devil fans in spite of the fact that he seemed shakey on taking hand-offs in the backfield.

The Red Devil defense accepted the challenge thrown at them by the determined Bulldogs as they held their Polk County rivals to 57 yards during the game. They rushed in to catch the Bulldog backs behind the line of scrimmage on six different occasions and forced them to fumble once. Andy and Billy Miracle along with Doyle Griffin and Jim Lyle refused to allow the Bulldogs to gain up the middle while DeWayne Lemler, Robert Duggan and Max Still held down the ends for the Devils.

Frostproof Game

The Red Devils lost the toss and were forced to kick-off to the Bulldogs to open their fourth game of the season and quickly found that they were playing a fired up ball club.

Bulldog fullback Alex Restina took the kick-off and returned it 19 yards to the Frostproof 35 yard stripe. An off-side penalty against the Red Devils helped the Bulldog offense move to a first down, but three plays later the Devil defense stiffened and forced the Frostproof eleven to punt. John Rhoades, Devil right halfback, reeled off 16 yards on Avon Park's first offensive play, but the Bulldog defense pulled itself together and the next three plays netted the Devils exactly nothing so Bill Ward booted a 44 yard punt to the Frostproof 19. Frostproof was guilty of clipping on the punt return and the penalty drove the Bulldogs back to their 16 yard marker. The hard driving Devil defense blasted through to drive the Bulldog backs further back and Leroy Mauldin was forced to punt out. Mauldin lofted a tremendous 49 yard boot to the Devil 37, but Lanse Padgett returned it 17 yards to the Bulldog 47.

Frostproof stopped the Devil offense without a first down by intercepting a pass, but three plays later John Rhoades returned the favor by hauling in a Bulldog pass. Rhoades was injured as he carried for five yards on the next play which ended the first period.

The second period still saw the two teams battling on even terms in the middle of the field with neither team able to keep a sustained drive going until late in the first half Frostproof recovered a Devil fumble on their own 48. From that point Bulldog quarterback Don Sebastian hit halfback Leroy Mauldin with a left handed pass and Mauldin outran the Devil defense for an apparent score. The touchdown was called back with a holding penalty however and the Bulldogs were unable to break loose again. With only minutes left in the first half, Frostproof moved for two first downs to the Devil 40 attempting seven incomplete passes in the nine plays. Sebastian then punted the ball out of bounds on the Devil three giving Avon Park time for only one running play before the half ended. A stunned Red Devil team moved to the dressing room to review the first half.

The third period was a different story as Avon Park came back from their halftime rest, took the Bulldog kick-off, and marched 65 yards for a touchdown. Max Still took the kick-off on his 20 and returned it 15 yards to the 35. Then Lanse Padgett romped 15 yards on one carry and four yards on the next. A five yard penalty against the Frostproof line gave Avon Park a second down and one yard to go, so Max Still cut loose with a 12 yard gain for the second first down of the drive. Padgett ploughed through for five more on the next play and then dashed 24 yards through the Bulldog line for the score. Max Still powered through for the PAT and the Devils led 7-0.

Avon Park's joy was short lived however as Mauldin skirted the Devil's end several plays later and turned on the speed to race 56 yards into Avon Park's end zone. Again the fates were against Frostproof as penalties against both teams nullified the play and the Bulldogs were forced to punt.

Again the Red Devils started rolling and with the aid of a 15 yard penalty for pass interference against the Bulldogs, they drove 72 yards for their second touchdown of the evening. Lanse Padgett and Max Still alternated carrying on the drive with Still breaking loose for the longest run of the series—an 18 yard off tackle dash. All was not so smooth for the Devils on the drive however. As Padgett drove for seven yards to the Bulldog eight, he injured his back and had to come out of the game. Still crossed over on three short power plays up the middle only to have the TD nullified with a helping the runner penalty against Avon Park. The 15 yard penalty moved the ball back to the 19. Devil halfback Wayne Strickler took the hand-off from Sullivan on the next play and brought Avon Park fans to their feet with an electrifying end run entering the end zone without being touched. The speedy newcomer to the Devil squad completely fooled the Bulldog defense as he turned on the speed to dash by the Frostproof secondary. The Devils power drive for the extra point was stopped short of the goal to leave the score 13-0.

Avon Park's defense held Frostproof to nine yards during the entire fourth period, but with Padgett, Rhoades, and Maddox all sidelined, the Devil offense couldn't get up another drive against the still determined Bulldogs. DeWayne Lemler recovered a fumble for the Devils early in the final period, but Sullivan and Still couldn't move for the first down although Sullivan's only completed pass—a four yard gain to Still—almost got a drive going for Avon Park. On the next Avon Park series, the Devils moved for one first down before losing the ball with a fumble in the backfield.

Frostproof's punting was outstanding during the game. Sebastian booted a high one which rolled dead on the Devil 11 yard line late in the fourth quarter. From that point Strickler demonstrated his ability to run again to Devil fans as he skirted right end for a 33 yard pick-up. The final whistle blew with the Devils moving on the Frostproof 43.

The hard, determined play on the part of the Frostproof ball club won the admiration of all Avon Park fans. The team never gave up, and with the breakaway threat running of Leroy Mauldin ever present, the Avon Park lead was in danger until the final minutes of the game.

Red Devils Hope To Bounce Back Friday

Beaten Last Week By Hardee Wildcat Team

The Avon Park Red Devils, after absorbing a humiliating 26-0 defeat at the hands of the Hardee High Wildcats last Friday night at Farr Field in Wauchula, will return home to Memorial Field this Friday to host Arcadia in a Ridge Conference encounter.

In spite of the Devil's poor 2 - 3 record, the Avon Park eleven remains undefeated and unscored on in Ridge play and a win over Arcadia this week would even out the Devil's record at 3 - 3 and keep them at the top of the Ridge standings.

Arcadia, however, doesn't look like a team to be taken lightly this season. The Bulldogs have won three and lost two thus far this season. They lost to conferences foes Kissimmee 7-6 and Okeechobee 24-14 and won over Fort Meade 19-6 for their only Ridge win. A 26-0 win over Punta Gorda and last Friday's 13-12 win over Jupiter show that the Bulldogs have an offensive punch along with a strong, well-balanced defensive team.

Bulldog coach, Bob Martin, has built his team around a nucleus of nine lettermen. Last season Arcadia won only two games and were winless in conference play, but this year the young squad has already shown that they are an improved club that means to make its mark in the conference and outside the loop also. The Bulldogs run from the T formation with quarterback Joe Waldron directing the offense. Red Devils fans will remember the fine running ability of Waldron from last season.

The Red Devils will have a task bouncing back from the big loss to Wauchula. Joe Franza, Devil head coach, hopes that big sophomore fullback, Jimbob Maddox, will be back at full strength this week after being sidelined the past two games and that his added offensive punch will be what the Devils need to hit the win column again. End Randy Bowie is still nursing a sprained ankle and tackle Bill Scott and halfback John [illegible] are still doubtful starters for this week's game. Tackle Bobby Briscoe saw plenty of action last week's game after missing two games with an injured knee and should be in even better shape for the Arcadia game.

One bright note in last week's action was the performance turned in by Devil tackle and end, Jackie Turner. The big sophomore drew praise from Franza for his aggressive defensive play.

Wauchula's effective passing game was the big difference last week as the Hardee backs completed seven out of nine passes for a total of 110 yards while Avon Park completed only three for nine for 35 yards gained in the air. On the ground the teams were almost even with Wauchula chalking up 142 yards to Avon Park's [illegible] [illegible] the first quarter of the game

Shepherd To Leave Avon Alcoholic Center For Connecticut Position

Ernest A. Shepherd, administrator of the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program since its creation nine years ago, has resigned to accept an appointment as head of the state alcoholism agency in Connecticut.

Shepherd submitted his resignation to the Governor this week, to become effective December 1. He will be named Chief of the Alcoholism Division, Connecticut Department of Mental Health.

In a memo to staff members announcing his resignation Shepherd said:

"Throughout the nine years of the Program's life, it has been singularly fortunate in the people who have been working with it, and I am most grateful for the loyalty, the support, and the high interest which has characterized our work together.

"I hope you will share with me a pride and satisfaction in the Program's accomplishments and purposes."

Shepherd has molded the ARP's growth since the agency's infancy. When he was appointed administrator on January 25, 1954, his staff consisted of one secretary.

They worked in office space borrowed from the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce until the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center was completed in 1955. The Program then established its state headquarters and an in-patient treatment hospital at the Center.

Today, 67 persons are employed at the Center (29 in ARP headquarters and 38 in the hospital). They bring into the area almost a quarter-million dollars a year in salaries.

No state help was available to alcoholics in Florida when Shepherd took the helm of the ARP in 1954. Now, more than 1,600 persons are treated each year at ARP facilities throughout the state.

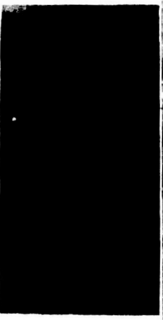
In addition to the AR Center here, the ARP operates four outpatient clinics in the major population centers of the state—Miami, Tampa, Jacksonville, and Pensacola. The agency is now acting to establish a fifth outpatient clinic to be located in Orlando.

A noted authority in the field when he assumed the ARP's administrative post nine years ago, Shepherd has won added national acclaim over the years for his work with the Florida program.

His prominence in the field led to his appointment last year to the Cooperative Commission on the Study of the Problems of Alcohol. The Commission is conducting an extensive survey of alcoholism and the agencies that deal with it in the United States and Canada.

Shepherd is a past president of the North American Association of Alcoholism Programs (NAAAP), an international organization composed of state and provincial alcoholism agencies from the United States and Canada. He is now a [illegible]

He is a graduate of the Yale Summer School of Alcohol Studies, and lectured at the School for five years. He also serves on the editorial board of the Quarterly Journal of Studies on Alcohol, a technical treatment journal.



ERNEST A. SHEPHERD
. . . FARP leader

Shepherd has written numerous publications on the problem of alcoholism, and traveled widely as a consultant and speaker to national groups working on the problem.

A Methodist Minister on permanent leave of absence from the church to work in the field of alcoholism, Shepherd served as director of the New Hampshire Division on Alcoholism for six years before being appointed administrator of the ARP.

He and Mrs. Shepherd will make their residence in the Hartford, Conn., area, where he will be headquartered.

Shepherd's successor has not yet been named.

Shoplifting Course Slated

Through the efforts of Highlands County Sheriff Broward Coker and the Avon Park Police Department, all merchants of the area are invited to attend a course of instruction on how to identify bad checks and to be alert for shoplifters.

The course will be held at the Avon Park City Hall at 2 o'clock Thursday, October 25. Bervin Williams, special agent of the Florida Sheriff's Bureau will conduct the course. Similar courses are also being held throughout the county.

James Pearce, Power Company Worker Killed

Funeral services will be held today (Thursday) at the Avon Park First Baptist Church for James Lee Pearce, 26-year-old Florida Power Corporation employee, who was killed Tuesday morning when he was struck by a "hot" wire while working near the Jack Hutchinson home on Lake Lotela.

The Rev. Aden Childress will conduct the services which will begin at 2 p. m. in the church of which the deceased was a member.

Pearce and a line crew were working on a transformer at the site when a wire broke and fell on the victim. Efforts to revive Pearce by fellow workers, a doctor and the Avon Park Fire Department Rescue Squad were fruitless, as a local physician pronounced him dead an hour and a half after the mishap. Although the line was killed moments later, Pearce had received a fatal shock and was severly burned.

A three-year employee of the power company, Pearce was well known for his athletic ability on Avon Park High School teams. He was employed by the power company following four years in the United States Air Force which he entered after graduation in 1955.

Pearce was a native of Elba, Alabama, but had lived here 15 years. He is survived by his widow, the former Delores Martin and a seven-week-old son, James Jeffrey. Other survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Pearce of Avon Park, and a sister, Miss Mary Alice Pearce, a student in Jacksonville. The victim's father is Superintendent of the Highlands County Road Department.

Ironically, Pearce's wife is the niece of Durrah Martin, another Florida Power Company employee who was severely burned in July when he came into contact with a "hot" wire south of Sebring. Martin subsequently lost one forearm and is presently undergoing skin grafting operations for the other forearm at a St. Petersburg hospital.

Commissioners Make Meet Time Change

Dat Blat 'Nats Causing School Official Concern

"We are doing all we can," Superintendent of Highlands County Schools Andy Miracle said this week when he talked with reporters about the "gnat situation".

"Every Fall and Spring we have a gnat problem," Miracle said. "We have had conferences with the County Health Department and talked with Dr. Hill many times. We have conferred with other counties in the state. No one has a perfect solution."

Miracle said he and County Health Officer Dr. W. F. Hill had agreed on one weapon—spraying. School teachers throughout the county have been furnished with a non-toxic spray to use in classrooms each day.

This is the only weapon in wide use in other counties.

"Screens are not the solution," Miracle observed. "You know gnats come through the screens." He added that complete air conditioning "even if financially feasible" would not be completely effective. He pointed out that each time a door opens the little insects rush in.

The Highlands County Superintendent said the insects have not been so troublesome this Fall as they have been at times. He added that the school authorities are eager for parents to know that this is one of the problems the officials are aware of but unable to solve at present.

Dr. King Speaker For Medical Meet

Dr. Samuel A. King addressed the combined meeting of the Highlands County Medical Society and Medical Auxiliary at the regular monthly meeting held Monday evening, October 15, at the Hotel Sebring. His subject was "Poisonous Snakes" which he illustrated with several specimen of preserved snakes, loaned for the occasion by the Walker Memorial Hospital and a private individual.

Prior to the meeting the group enjoyed a dinner in the hotel dining room with beautiful autumn flowers combined with a Hallowe'en theme for the decorations which Mrs. Clara Martin had provided. After the dinner the decorations and also special gifts of candy from the City Drug Store and Gilbert's Drug Store were all donated by Mrs. Martin to the students at Ridge Area Day School.

At the close of the program the Auxiliary adjourned to a separate business meeting at which members voted to donate $200 from their treasury to help pay the cost of a speech therapist for the Ridge Area School. The Auxiliary has adopted the RAS as its special project for 1962.

ATTEND FINANCE MEET

Two officials represented Highlands County at the Fall Conference of the Florida Finance Officers Association. Earl Rich, clerk of the Circuit Court, and Deputy Clerk Charles Lairsey attended the October 11 and 12 meeting at Orlando.

Three Avon High School Students Among Top Percentage On Tests

Three students from Avon Park High School have placed high on National Merit Scholarship Tests given last Spring. The students, Royal M. Coats, Jr., John Webber and Andy Miracle, Jr., are all members of the senior class.

ROYAL M. COATS, JR.

JOHN WEBBER

Coats, son of Mrs. Florine Coats and the late Royal Coats, placed highest of the three. He was 185th among over 28,700 students who received letters of commendation for excellent performance. His high ranking placed him among the semi-finalists in the competition.

Coats has attended Avon Park schools since 1957 when he entered the seventh grade. Since then he has received a certificate of merit science award; a First Federal Savings and Loan Association cash award and the DAR Award for a history essay. He plans to major in the field of nuclear engineering following graduation.

Placing 269th in the group was Webber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerrold L. Webber. He too was in the upper two per cent of those taking the merit scholarship tests.

Webber attended schools in Mayville, New York before entering the junior class here last year. He is a member of the Avon Park High School Band and also participated in the Junior Class play last year.

Upon graduation, Webber expects to enter college and major in mathematics and science.

Andy Miracle, son of County School Superintendent and Mrs. Andy Miracle, placed 438 among those taking the tests and he was also in the upper two per cent. He and Webber received letters of acommendation from APHS Principal A. B. Wilhite and John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Miracle is president of the school student council; a member of the National Honor Society; attended Boys' State and is co-captain of the Avon Park Red Devil football team.

The test given last March lasted three hours and covered five separate areas of educational development and is the first step in the eighth annual merit program. The tests are given locally under the direction of Mrs. Paxton Hill, guidance counsellor at Avon Park High School.

Coats will compete with 11,000 other semi-finalists in December in an attempt to advance in the merit scholarship program.

Students whose scores on the second test substantiate their performance on the qualifying test and who are endorsed by their high schools will become finalists. In this category they become eligible for scholarship awards sponsored by the National Merit Scholarship Committee and about 150 business corporations, foundations, unions, professional associations and individuals.

Halloween Parade Shaping Up As One of Biggest In AP History

The Halloween Parade slated for 4 p. m. Saturday, October 27, is shaping up as the biggest ever in Avon Park, according to Mrs. Shirley Whitcomb and Mrs. Bobby Pinardi, parade co-chairmen for the Jr. Woman's Club.

Seventeen local civic clubs and businesses will have entries in the parade and will compete for awards in the float division.

Organizations and businesses sponsoring entries include:

A number of other businesses have also indicated they may make entries in the parade.

The Jr. Woman's Club, sponsor of the parade and the Halloween Festival, will also enter a float, but will not compete for awards.

City and public school officials will ride in the parade, as well as representatives of APHS Student Government and officers of local civic organizations.

Lynda Shepherd, Miss Flame of Avon Park, will make an appearance along with [illegible] Junior Miss and Mr. APHS, and Mr. and Miss APHS.

Awards will be given for costumes in the following categories: Pre-School, 1st Grade, 2nd Grade, 3rd Grade, 4th Grade, 5th and 6th Grade, 7th - 12th Grade, and Novelty Group (all ages).

The parade route will be announced in next week's edition of The Sun.

Persons who wish to ride horses in the parade are asked to contact Mrs. Pinardi or Mrs. Whitcomb. Anyone who would like to participate as a clown or in any other way is urged to contact the co-chairmen as soon as possible.

Ella Is No Threat Here

For the benefit of our northern subscribers, The Sun is happy to report that at press time Tropical Storm Ella posed no threat to the Avon Park area.

The season's fifth tropical disturbance was headed for the southern part of the Florida peninsula or maybe even farther to the North.

Light gusts were felt here and several small showers, but there was no reason for alarm and no warnings issued locally.

Move Made To Clean Up Confusion

After [illegible] Highlands County [illegible] change [illegible]

Under [illegible] lowing the first M[illegible] month and [illegible] thereafter. [illegible] first and third Tuesday [illegible] when a month [illegible] Tuesday, some confusion [illegible] arose.

The move was taken [illegible] a specific schedule and [illegible] a lot of confusion, the commission pointed out.

The board also moved up their meeting time from 9 a. m. to 8 a. m. No one debated the wisdom of setting the meeting dates at the first and third weeks, however, County Attorney R. P. Dunty, Jr., questioned if the 8 a. m. meeting time would work a hardship on people attempting to do business with the board. He noted that at Tuesday's meeting they had visitors from as far away as Dade County.

Commissioner Jimmy Creel, who motioned for the time change, defended the action. He said, "We don't want to cut the public out of our meetings, but we have a lot of business to discuss that the public is generally not interested in. We could make bids returnable at nine instead of 10 o'clock. Discussions which sometimes drag out until afternoon could be finished by noon".

The new schedule was adopted by a unanimous voice vote.

Budget discussion included items of income and expenditure. Clerk Earl Rich presented a group of bills to be paid from the 1961-62 budget. The bills were for jail supplies—mostly paint. The board approved payment of the bills, noting that with their payment the jail maintainence budget expenditures for last year were $1,606 when the budget [illegible] $800.

The board voted to instruct the clerk to write a letter to Sheriff Broward Coker "cautioning" him that the bills "approach a violation of the [illegible] bid laws". The letter, as dictated, will ask that "in the future the board be given a chance to advertise for bids" for large purchases and "thus avoid criticism from the State Auditor".

Commissioner Creel asked whether the board intended to maintain the 50-hour work week which had been adopted near the end of the last fiscal year.

Commissioner Carl McIntyre, who presided at the Tuesday meeting in the absence of Chairman Cecil Skipper, said, "We could start right now to conserve money instead of waiting until near the end of the year."

The board members agreed to this policy and set the 50-hour week as the county-wide policy for road and bridge crews.

The board adopted a new policy on county sectional maps. In the future such maps may be purchased from the county clerk at the rate of 25 cents per map.

Clerk Rich read a letter from the State Health Department indicating that the "wheels are in motion" for the county to obtain its Health Department building fund for local deposit.

County Health Officer Dr. W. F. Hill and Commission Chairman Skipper had written to the state and asked for Highlands County's accumulated funds to be released. According to the letter read Tuesday, Highlands County has deposited $52,656.62 with the State Department of Health. In such a deposit the funds draw no interest.

The State Health Department has entered a formal request with the State Comptroller for the funds to be sent to this county. "We can draw several hundred dollars in interest while we are deciding what to do next," one Commissioner observed. The Health Department had saved the funds from its annual budget appropriations for several years, planning to provide itself with new quarters of some type.

Washington Report

By Congressman Jim Haley

Washington, D. C.—Legislation proposing substantial improvements in the non-service-connected pension program for veterans of all wars was introduced in the House by Rep. James A. Haley, Sarasota Democrat, as the current session of Congress ground to a close.

Haley, a ranking member of the House Veterans Affairs Committee, offered the bill at this time in order to speed consideration of it in the next Congress.

While the Haley bill will have to be reintroduced then, its introduction now will give the Veterans Administration and the Budget Bureau opportunity to estimate its costs and make recommendations on which official Administration attitude toward the bill will be based.

Similar legislation was introduced in the House by Rep. Roland V. Libonati (D., Ill.) who, like Haley, was a member of a Veterans Affairs committee panel which recently concluded six weeks of intensive hearings on proposals for revision of the non-service-connected pension program.

The major proposals in the Halev and Libonati bills, based in large part of these hearings, are these:

1. Minimum and intermediate income steps would be raised, thus allowing most veterans and widows to obtain higher pension rates.

2. Pension rates would be increased for veterans and widows whose annual income is below the minimum income increment—in most instances about $5 a month.

3. Amounts paid by a veteran for burial expenses of a spouse or children would be excluded from annual income reports.

4. The disability requirement for veterans 65 years of age or older would be eliminated, and veterans in that age group will be presumed eligible without requirement for physical examination.

5. The costs of medical, dental and hospital expenses of the veteran, his spouse, and children would be excluded from annual income reports in the case of veterans who have reached 65.

6. Earned income of the spouse of any veteran would be excluded from annual income reports.

7. Also excluded from the annual income reports would be profits realized from disposition of real or personal property.

8. Ten per cent of all payments on public or private retirement programs would be excluded from annual income reports, and would eliminate the provision of present law not requiring inclusion of income from a public or private retirement plan until the individual contribution has been recouped.

Home Economist On The Go

by Patricia G. Hurley

I visited Mrs. Jack Hutchinson of Avon Park the other day and thoroughly enjoyed a tour of her home. Workmen were adding closets to a bedroom in the old wing which is being remodeled, and more workmen were in the new wing putting sheets of plastic on the kitchen cabinets.

"We planned our house to be maintenance free," Mrs. Hutchinson said as we walked across flagstone floors. There are large areas of glass overlooking Lake Lotela, but most of the walls in the new wing are of wood paneling or rough stone. The exterior requires no upkeep for the rough vertical boards have been treated with a grey green stain.

"I've been planning this house for years," Mrs. Hutchinson quickly replied when I asked her how she was able to work so many individual ideas into her house plan. Her closets have each received close scrutiny in the planning stage so there is a place for everything she needs to store. Her new kitchen is situated so that she can see the lake while she works.

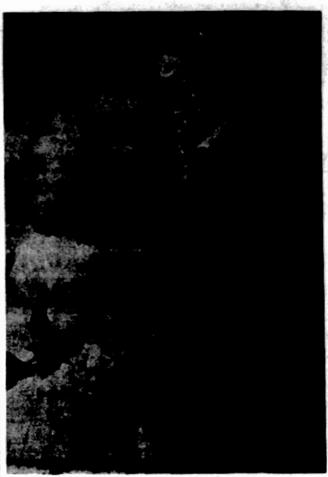
The master bath is divided into areas, with a separate vanity for "Her" and for "Him". Between these two areas is a walk in closet. An unusual leaf design was her choice for the wall tile in the large shower compartment.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson have realized the importance of adequate wiring and lighting in their home. The rows of light switches in the living room and in the master bedroom portray how they have fingertip command of the lights over the whole house.

Mrs. Hutchinson says that she is now turning her attention to the landscaping of the yard. She is collecting information and ideas so that before work begins she will have the whole yard well planned.

As I left through the front entrance Mrs. Hutchinson commented that these double doors will be painted red. "This," she said, "will contribute to the oriental character of the house as well as clearly indicate to visitors where the front door is." It seemed fitting to me, for red doors, too, would be inviting, to complement the graciousness of the hostess.

State Comptroller Ray Green reports Florida's gas tax revenue shows an increase of 2.5 per cent for the month of September. During the same period sales tax revenue dropped 2 per cent.



LT. AND MRS. WILLIAM DEAN COLLAR, JR.

Niece of Avon Woman Wed In Highland Park, Ill. Ceremony

In a lovely all-white candlelight ceremony Wednesday evening in Trinity Episcopal Church, Highland Park, Ill., the nuptials of Miss Nancy Lynn Holland, daughter of the Cyrus E. Hollands of County Line Road, and Lt. William Dean Collar, Jr., son of Mrs. Collar of Chicago and the late Col. Collar, were read by the Rev. Ray Holder.

White mums, gladioli and Shasta daisies were floral background for the ceremony at which Miss Cynthia Parks, daughter of the Gordon Parkses of Glencoe Ave., was soloist and Prof. George McClay of Northwestern University School of Music, organist.

The bride wore a long-sleeved traditional gown of ivory taffeta with boat neckline outlined in Alencon lace studded with seed pearls. The bouffant skirt with bustle and a chapel train was garlanded with Alencon lace and seed pearls. Her triple tiered double illusion veil fell from a cathedral crown of sequins and seed pearls. She carried a spray of miniature white roses encircling a white orchid corsage.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Robert D. Collar, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and bridesmaid was Miss Parks, long-time friend of the bride, who's now teaching in Wheeling. They wore A-line gowns of ice blue peau de soie with matching full length overskirts and bows of ice blue peau de soie in their hair with veils to match. They carried Bronze Fuji mums encircled with autumn-toned wheat.

Captain Robert D. Collar was his brother's best man and ushers were Keith Keller and Richard Traugott.

Reception at Le Pavillon

One hundred and twenty-five relatives and friends greeted the young couple in a buffet and reception dance in the Terrace Room of the Le Pavillion in Northbrook after the ceremony.

Lt. Collar has reported to Camp Rucker, Ala., for specialized training in the Army. His bride will join him there this week, and they will make their home in Fort Rucker. Both she and her husband are graduates of Lake Forest College.

The former Miss Holland has many friends in Avon Park where she has often visited her aunt, Mrs. Dorothy Porterfield, and she also attended school here during one term.

A Boy's Eyes

"I'd like to be a Cub Scout—"
(His eyes were deepest blue)
"I'd like to learn, and play, and build,
Like Jim and Freddy do."

"I know how to use a hammer;
I can drive a nail if I try,
I'm eight years old,
I'm big and strong
And hardly ever cry."

I gave him the application
And parent-participation sheet,
(His eyes were filled with sunshine
As he left on dancing feet.)

Next day, my friend was back again,
A dejected little lad.
"I guess I'll skip the Cub Scouts."
(His eyes were dark and sad.)

"My Mom is awful busy,
She has lots of friends, you see,
She'd never have time for a den;
She hardly has, for me.

"And Dad is always working—
He's hardly ever there,
To give them any more to do
Just wouldn't be quite fair."

He handed back the papers
With the dignity of eight years,
And, smiling bravely, left me
(His eyes were filled with tears.)

Do you see your own boy's eyes
As other people may?
How he looks when you're "too busy"
Or "just haven't time today"?

A boy is such a special gift—
Why won't you realize,
It only takes a little time
To put sunshine in his eyes.

Waiting for the news to come on we are bombarded with the wonderful delights that await us if we chew "Bull-O-The Wood" Chewing Tobacco, no kidding—that's the name of it, and we are assured in the same commercial that the Bull is the Boss. We are not left to doubt but that there is plenty of "Bull".

Next an automobile super market tell us of the most fabulous buys in new and used cars. You can hardly wait to get one. A little news—and then comes Schlitz with Real Gusto and I mean "GUSTO". A little more news—and then we discover that we MUST, I repeat MUST put all our food in Baggies. I don't quite know how left over soup or gravy would fit into a Baggy, but the lad said we would just Have to use Baggies.

A bit more news and then comes a girl who can't it seems get "Really Clean" until she tries Zest—Improved that is. She never can find this out for herself—someone always has to tell her.

Next an ad for Seal Test Milk and then to Huntley Brinkley report, but first the inevitable message from the sponsor Texaco with two or three kinds of gas, three kinds of oil, a grease job, battery, fan belt, tires, muffler check and what have you.

By the time they get down to the news you are all tuckered out from having the car checked. At the finish if you are "smoking more but enjoying it less" then by all means "have a Camel".

Seven o'clock brings "Death Valley Days" but can you see it? Not on your life! You must first brush your teeth with GLEEM and G L 70 whatever that is. To prove it the man brings out a picture of a mess of nasty looking germs that are enough to make your stomach turn over.

Ten minutes of the picture and then comes BORAX. Seven-twenty more BORAX. Seven-twenty-eight still more BORAX until you are really BORAXED.

Seven-thirty arrives and with it "COKE" gives you that "refreshing new feeling". By this time you need it to withstand the next batch of commercials, hair driers, car polish, pain killers, electric shavers, 7-Up, Bufferin and etc. and etc.

Ho hum!

Wish it was time to go to bed.

Dear Editor:

You can read about it, and hear about it, but you'll never know what it's really like until you attend one in person . . . our home town council meeting of course. That I did on the eve of October 8, 1962 and came away with mingled reactions of both admiration and concern.

A handful of sincere men attempting to guide the affairs of a small town is not in the least a light undertaking. In the first place the smaller the town the more we get under one another's feet, and the more prone we are to get in one another's hair. No matter how sincere we are, sincerity does not always guarantee that our cause is just or that our judgement is the best.

The first impression was that the council board was like two pitched camps one against the other in some sort of a contest, and at times more resembling near mortal combat. One could not but notice also the soft answers, "which turneth away wrath", and the patiently gracious reactions to opposition and provocations.

The routine of business got off in a decorously restrained atmosphere that at first seemed "too mild to filter", but as the pall of smoke began to descend over the assembly, so also did the plot begin to thicken. At times it seemed that the voice of the people was completely lost in the smog, much of it to languish at the feet of the chairman . . . and he so young. In some instances resistance to the point of fear seemed to characterize attitudes of those unwilling to clarify procedures in consistant city government.

But clouds have a way of dissipating and letting the sunshine through as the sun can not for long be darkened. There were as many bright rays as there were clouds. Hats off to our City Fathers and all those doing a good job for us. After all it's their skin off their own nose, but I wish they would remember the soil from which they were taken. Whose money are they spending - up on whose authority do they act - and what about the vote that dedicated them to the cause of the people. Let them boot each other when needed but not play football with our trust. Let's not ask these gentlemen to start a job for us that we can't help them finish.

Come on down to the city hall, remove your hats and be as welcome as I. But remember that when you point your finger, your other three fingers are pointing at you.

TB and Health Board Meeting

The Highlands County TB & Health Association held the Fall Board meeting in the Avon Citrus Bank's Lounge on Thursday night. President L. L. Llewlyn, conducted the meeting and showed a film on chest diseases.

At the close of the meeting the group enjoyed hot coffee and apple pie topped with cheese, served in the dining area, with Mrs. T. H. Maxwell as hostess.

A recent botanical survey of the University of Florida campus disclosed that the "palm and pine campus" actually had more than 5,500 trees dotting its 1,800 acres and included 153 different species.

Leon County Health Official Visits FARP

Kent Miller, Ph. D., supervisor of the Leon County Health Department's Division of Mental Health, met with the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program's Grants-in Aid Committee here October 5, to work out details for a proposed health department alcoholism service.

According to Ernest A. Shepherd, ARP Administrator, the alcoholism service is to be established within the health department's Mental Health Clinic in Tallahassee on an ARP grant. Dr. Miller will serve as project director.

The grants committee and the ARP's advisory Council have already approved the application for a grant, but the Budget Commission will have to extend approval, before fund can be released for the service.

If approved, the service will bring to seven the number of state and related treatment facilities available in Florida.

ARP outpatient clinics are located in Miami, Tampa, Jacksonville and Pensacola; and related facilities exist within the Sarasota County Health Department; and at the J. Hillis Miller Health Center at the University of Florida, Gainesville.

1-Year Drivers Licenses No Longer Issued

TALLAHASSEE — An old friend of millions of Florida automobile drivers is dead. The "old fellow" expired Oct. 1.

The Florida Highway Patrol called attention to the fact that there are no more one year driver licenses, and that from now on the two-year license has taken over.

Here's how it will work if you were born in an odd numbered year (like 1931, etc.) and apply for a license in an even numbered year (like 1962):

You will be issued a license which will expire the next odd numbered year unless for a time lesser than 12 months. If so, the license will expire the birthmonth of the second odd numbered year.

Expiration dates should compare with birthdates, the patrol said.

Any errors on licenses should be corrected by the proper authorities at the county judge's office to avoid any run-ins arising from such unintentional mistakes.

Don't spend too much time looking backwards. You may start in that direction.

Punt, Pass, Kick Contest Slated At Avon Schools

The second annual Punt, Pass and Kick competition for the nation's grade school football enthusiasts was announced recently by the National Football League and the Ford dealers of America.

George Kelsey, principal of Avon Elementary School said the contest would be held here this year. Information regarding the contest may be secured from him or the local Ford Dealer, Avon Park Motor Co.

"PP&K" pits the punting, passing and place-kicking skills of boys seven through 11 against all other participants of the same age. The program attracted 205,000 youngsters last year, when it was launched, and was cited by President John F. Kennedy for its contribution to "the physical fitness of our youth."

Registrations for this year's "PP&K" competition will be held at Ford dealerships, or at locations designated by them, October 1-31.

Top prize for the 10 national finalists—one in each age group from both the Eastern and Western team areas—will be an all-expense paid Tour of Champions for the youths and their parents December 26-30. It will begin with a two day visit to Washington, D. C., which will be highlighted by a special tour of the White House.

From Washington, the group will be flown for a two-day visit to the city in which this year's National Football League championship game will be played December 30. The Eastern Division titlists will be this year's NFL championship game hosts.

At the halftime of the title game, before the overflow crowd that traditionally attends NFL championship games, the two finalists in each age group from the two finalists in each age group from the Eastern and Western Divisions will square off for national honors. In a ceremony immediately following this competition, NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle will present the five national winners footballs autographed by the two teams competing for the title and trophies symbolic of their national championships.

First phase of the "PP&K" program is competition in local contests, sponsored by Ford dealers with the cooperation of the NFL. With some 5,000 such contests likely to be held, 75,000 prizes will be awarded to winners of local competitions. First prize will be a warm-up jacket, while football helmets and autographed footballs will be the second and third prizes.

Total scores, based on distance and accuracy of their punts, passes and kicks, will determine the winners.

From among those competing in local contests, five boys—one each in the seven through 11 age group—will be named regional winners in each of the 14 NFL team television coverage areas. These 70 youths will display their "PP&K" prowess at the halftime of designated November or December NFL games of their home teams, and from them will emerge the 10 who qualify for the Tour of Champions and the showdown competition for national honors at the NFL championship game.

The 70 regional winners will receive junior NFL uniforms.

After the local competitions, special trophies will be awarded in each state to the boys who compiled the highest point total in their age bracket statewide.

At the White House during the 1961 Tour of Champions, the five national champions received autographed photographs of President Kennedy and letters in which the President commended them on their "PP&K" achievements.

University of Florida engineers are working with a revolutionary new device which will convert heat directly into electricity. When perfected it could transform the sun's heat into electrical power needed by space ships and satellites.

Times do change. An item that cost $10 ten years ago, costs $15 to have repaired now.

Although engineering enrollments have dropped in the nation's college and universities during the past few years, enrollment at the University of Florida College of Engineering has increased, particularly at the graduate level.

Pulpwood From Southeast Is 80% of Nation

Tallahassee — Pulpwood produced in the southern states accounted for 60 per cent of the nation's total output in 1961, according to figures released by the Southern Forest Experiment Station.

Pulpwood production in 12 southern states increased three per cent last year over the year before, reaching an all-time high of 24.2 million cords.

Though Florida led most other states in rate of increase over 1960 — eight per cent — Georgia continued to lead all southern states in volume with its 4.9 million cords.

Of the southeastern production, 80 per cent came from southern pine, with the remainder hardwood. Florida production volume was 95 per cent from pine, and the other five per cent hardwood.

Southwide, the 1961 increase in pulpwood production over 1960 was comprised almost entirely of hardwood bolts and chipped residues, wood that was formerly wasted, according to the Southern Forest Experiment Station at New Orleans.

Throughout the South there are 81 pulp mills with a daily capacity of 51,156 tons. Ten of these are located in Florida, with most pulpwood converted into paper or cellulose.

Annual paper consumption of 39 million tons (in 1960) is expected to jump to more than 58 million tons by 1970. Total U.S. paper and board production capacity has doubled since 1945.
