THE AVON PARK SUN

In The Heart of The Citrus Belt

Volume XXXVIII, Number 45 — Avon Park, Florida —Thursday, September 6, 1962 — 10c Per Copy

HEAD COACH JOE FRANZA gives some instructions to backfield prospects as the Red Devils went through their first practice under the lights Monday night. The backs and ends are working hard on pass plays and timing in preparation for the opening game Friday, September 14 in Lake Wales against the Highlanders of the Southwest Florida Circuit.

Soap Scrimmage Set For 7:30 Friday Nite

Fans To Get Preview Of Football Team

The annual Red and White Soap Scrimmage at Memorial Field Friday night, September 7, will pit the members of the 1962 Red Devil squad against themselves in a game-like scrimmage to which Avon Park fans are invited.

The price of admission to the inter-squad game will be a bar of soap for each fan. The soap is used by the athletic teams during the entire year.

Head coach Joe Franza has not divided his squad into Red and White units yet due to the fact that the members of the squad are still inexperienced and he needs more time to look at the boys before he makes the division in order to make the two teams as evenly balanced as possible.

Monday night the team worked out under the lights for the first time after taking a break for the Labor Day weekend. Franza stated that last Friday the boys looked like they were finally shaping up into a team and that he felt more encouraged about the squad than he had since practice started.

Newcomer Wayne Strickler has been out of practice for a week because of an injured wrist but is back in action this week. He has been working out at quarterback along with junior Leonard Sullivan and freshman Bobby Coleman. Franza moved letterman halfback Max Still in to work with the other three quarterbacks last week with Strickler out of action. Still gained some experience in the quarterback slot year before last and has looked good in the last several practices. Both Still and Sullivan have been looking good at passing and are handling the

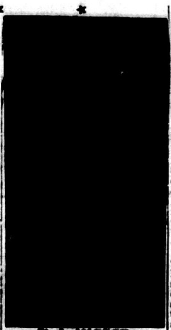
Athletic Group Plans Bar B Que Next Tuesday

A big Bar-B-Que for the entire membership of the Avon Park High School Athletic Association has been set for next Tuesday night, September 11, at the Florida Power Employe's Clubhouse. Eating time is scheduled for 7 p. m.

The program committee for the big event plans to have an outstanding speaker to entertain the group. Smokey Padgett, chairman of the committee, thinks the speaker he is trying to get will make the program the best in years. He urges all male Avon Park citizens to make plans now to attend the supper.

The Athletic Association has set its membership goal at 300 this year and all Red Devil fans are encouraged to join by attending the Bar-B-Que. Membership cards are on sale for $1.00 and all members are admitted to the supper free. Or a card may be purchased at the supper.

The association plans to invite lady fans to a later dinner meeting but the Bar-B-Que will be strictly a stag affair according to secretary-treasurer Bud Edge.



W. A. MADDOX

Maddox Named President Of Athletic Assn.

W. A. Maddox has been chosen as the new president for the Avon Park High School Athletic Association for the 1962-63 season. Maddox served as vice president last year for the association which serves as a booster unit for high school athletics.

Moving in as vice president this year is R. L. (Smokey) Padgett and Bud Edge was re-elected secretary and treasurer at the association's first meeting last Friday night at the Avon Elementary Cafetorium.

The membership elected five directors to serve this season: Gene Cruse, outgoing president; Cecil Skipper, Wendell Smith, J. C. Walker, and Ed Albritton.

The association was informed that the Avon Park Lions Club will present a flag pole and flag for Memorial Field and plans were made to install the pole at the west end of the field. The club also voted to allow the senior class of APHS to run the concession stand for the 1962 football season.

Radio Station WAVP requested permission to tape Avon Park's games and replay them on Saturday morning and the club voted favorable on the request.

President Maddox stated that he will sell $1.00 membership cards to the Athletic Association at the Red Devil's Soap Scrimmage this Friday night and anyone wishing to join the organization should see Maddox or Padgett for a card. The membership goal for this year was set at 300 and a drive will get underway immediately to build the association up to this number. Any Avon Park man is eligible for membership.

Chamber Asks Turnpike Road Be Accessible

The Avon Park Chamber of Commerce has adopted a resolution requesting the Florida State Turnpike Authority to give more consideration to accessibility by Ridge area towns to the new Florida State Turnpike running from Wildwood to Ft. Pierce.

The resolution, directed to Governor Farris Bryant, H. E. Lewis, chief engineer of the Turnpike Authority and W. E. Hammer, chairman of the Sunshine State Turnpike, pointed out that due to a lack of cross state highways, the Ridge section will be practically inaccessible from the new turnpike link.

As an answer to the accessibility, the chamber has proposed that State Road 64 (Bombing Range Road), be connected with State Road 606, which would start south of Vero Beach and connect both coasts—Bradenton on the West and Vero Beach on the East.

Also pointed out by the chamber is the fact that only two gaps remain to be constructed before this could be a cross state highway. These gaps are 22 miles long and 14 miles long.

As a second measure, the chamber requests the turnpike authority to provide for an under-pass or over-pass connecting the East-West artery with the turnpike, thereby giving access to East, West, North and South from the area.

The resolution was signed by Chamber President Roy Seims and Morris Adams, chairman of the Highlands County Roads and Highways Committee. Adams is also Highlands County representative elect.

F-100 Sabre Jet Crashes At APBR

A U. S. Air Force F-100 Super Sabre, assigned to the 31st Tactical Fighter Wing at Homestead Air Force Base, Homestead, Florida, crashed at the Avon Park Weapons Range at 9 a.m., Wednesday morning.

Lt. Roger Bridges, Public Information Officer at Homestead, said the pilot was killed and his identity is being withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Bridges said the aircraft was performing a training maneuver when the crash occurred. A team of officers is now investigating the cause of the accident.

Juvenile Home Open House Is Reset For Sept. 16

Open house for the Highlands County Juvenile Receiving Home will be held on Sunday afternoon, September 16.

Counselor Robert Lindsay and Mrs. Lindsay began moving into the home, located on the old DeSoto City road, this week. On Thursday the home's policy-making supervisors, the Board Visitors, will hold a picnic and board meeting at the home.

The open house, originally scheduled for September 9, has been postponed to give more time for re-decorating to be completed, Lindsay said.

Hearing Waived On B & E Charge

Junior Dewayne Maloney, arrested in connection with a break-in at Ridge Air-Conditioning on U. S. 27, has waived preliminary on a breaking and entering charge.

In County Court Tuesday young Maloney's bond was set at $1,000.

In other cases Willie Rogers Bell and Johnnie Survine appeared on aggravated assault charges and bond was set at $500 each.

Leonard Jacob Harvard entered a plea of not guilty to a driving while intoxicated charge.

In the absence of Judge Mervin Rehrer, the resident Circuit Judge Clifton Kelly presided at the County Court session Tuesday.

Three Council Seats To Be Filled Tuesday

Eleven city council candidates will be making their final bid for votes this week, as the current campaign moves down to the wire. The election is slated for next Tuesday and three councilmen will be elected at that time.

The Avon Park JayCees have planned for a political rally to be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the band stand on the Mall. An open invitation to all residents is extended to see and hear the candidates make their plea for votes.

Among the 11 seeking the three seats that will become open officially on September 30 are the three incumbents, two former councilmen and a former city clerk.

The incumbents are: Mannin Kirkland, present chairman of the board; Clarence King and George Border.

Former board members seeking another two-year term on the five man board are E. O. Blanford and J. B. Sparks. Blanford was an unsuccessful candidate for Mayor last September. Mrs. Louise Armstrong is the former city clerk who is running.

Others in the race: Bill Luscomb, Kelton Hill, Jimmy Doerr, E. E. Sheumaker, and Lacy Bennett.

Holdover board members are Sam McKenzie and H. M. (Chic) Farless. Mayor E. A. DeLaney is also a holdover board member.

A total of 3,091 voters will be eligible to cast ballots, according to County Supervisor of Registration Roland X. Droit who will conduct the election for the city.

Election officials appointed by the council several weeks ago are: Lee T. Mitchell, Clerk; John A. Clark, Sheriff. Inspectors: Zelma Wells, Mary Harbison, Florence Stebbins, Lillian Hood, Garland Kelly and Grace Boney.

Polls will open at the City Hall at 7 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

Avon Elementary School Tops Enrollment For Highlands County

Avon Park Elementary School led in the schools of Highlands in percentage of enrollment, according to figures released at the close of the first day of school.

County School Superintendent Andy Miracle said the local grade school enrolled 782 students on Tuesday. This is 74 more boys and girls than began 1961-62 school year at that school and was an increase of 10.5 per cent.

Total enrollment for the county on opening was 4,798 students—an increase of 338 over opening day a year ago, but 807 less than attended on the closing day of the 1961-62 session.

Miracle said that during the year enrollments usually do grow.

Only one school within the county reported a drop in enrollment. Ridge Area Day School for retarded children dropped from 13 to 9 students.

Avon Park High School enrolled 609 Tuesday as against 572 on opening day a year ago.

Hopewell school's enrollment went from 285 to 301. Avon Park's total increase was 123 for white and Negro schools. The white school growth, 107 students, was high in the county.

Sebring schools gained 88 white students and 45 Negro students. E. O. Douglas school in Sebring draws Negro high school students from all parts of the county.

Lake Placid schools went up by 58 in white schools and 24 in the Negro school.

The county-wide percentage gain is 7.6 per cent.

TICKETS PLEASE—Bud Edge, right, secretary-treasurer of the Avon Park Athletic Association, is shown selling season and reserved seat tickets to Jack Hutchinson. Edge told The Sun that the tickets were on sale at various merchants and that they would be good for six home games, including the annual Sebring Turkey Day Eve game. (Sun Photo)

Reserved Seat Tickets To Devil Games On Sale; Six Home Games

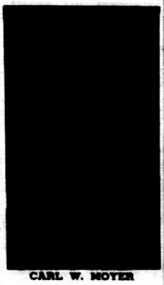
Season tickets to all six Red Devil home football games are on sale now at $6.00 each according to Avon Park Athletic Association President W. A. Maddox. Season reserved seat tickets may also be purchased for the six game home schedule at $2.50 per ticket.

Association treasurer, Bud Edge, explained that the addition of a sixth game to the Red Devils home schedule pushed the price of season and reserved seat ducats up this year but brought out that a season ticket will be a saving of $1.50 over regular admission price of $1.25 per game for all six games and that purchase of a season reserved seat card will save the owner 50 cents and insure him of a seat at all home games including the Okeechobee and Sebring battles this year.

Edge urged all fans interested in using the reserved seat section, the center section of the new south stands, to buy a season ticket this year because all resaerved seats are up for sale right now. Previously some reserved seat tickets were held back for each game but this year it will be "first come, first served" according to Edge.

The fact that the Red Devil-Blue Streak game will be played here at Memorial Field is expected to cause an unusually heavy demand for reserved seat tickets. The Devils also meet Jesuit of Tampa, Mulberry, Ft. Meade, Arcadia, and Okeechobee at Memorial Field this year.

Both season tickets and reserved seat tickets are on sale at the following places of business: Griffin's Restaurant, Avon Citrus Bank, Leon's Sporting Goods, King's Market, Stimson's Gulf Station, and Albritton's Barber Shop. Individual members of the association also have cards for sale.



CARL W. MOYER

New Minister Called To Avon Christian Church

Carl W. Moyer is the new minister of the Avon Park First Christian Church, assuming his duties here last Sunday.

Moyer and his wife, Julia, came to Avon Park from California where he ministered. He has spent the past 15 years in Ohio, California and Florida.

The new minister and wife are the parents of two married daughters, both living in California, one of which plans to move to Avon Park after December.

Miss Harrison In Freak Accident

Miss Salie Harrison is being treated for a neck injury which she received Thursday of last week, while she was sitting in her automobile which was parked on a street in Sebring.

A passing truck threw off a tire from the wheel which hit the back of Miss Harrison's car, causing damage to the car as well as to Miss Harrison's neck. The truck driver was unaware of the loss of his tire until the other tire blew out some distance down the street.

[illegible] paid drug bills totaling about $200.

He said the Society has an ironclad policy of not making any payments for doctor bills. "It is completely beyond our resources to pay those bills," Emory said. When the Tampa office of the Cancer Society returned bills from two Sebring doctors one of the physicians attempted to collect from Highlands County Cancer Society.

The county secretary, Mrs. Lillian Bannerman, told the commissioners that the doctor became indignant and abusive when she too refused the bill. At the suggestion of the district office Emory and Mrs. Bannerman came to the commissioners to learn whether the county might pay the doctors' bills.

County Welfare Director Mrs. Church said, "I wish the commissioners would write a letter to the doctors and see whether we can get a policy worked out. Most of the Sebring doctors charge us for treating welfare patients. The Avon Park doctors do not charge, although some have made minimum charges in the past."

Mrs. Church said Avon Park doctors often refuse to take any payment and often bare considerable expense personally. "It really doesn't seem fair for the Avon Park men to be spending money for welfare patients when Sebring doctors are insisting on payment."

Commission Chairman Cecil Skipper said the bills presented on the cancer case were from two Sebring doctors and totaled $150. One doctor had charged for treatments and medication at the rate of $20 per day.

Mrs. Bannerman said this particular case has now been transferred to a Sebring doctor who has refused to take any payments. "When I saw the poverty of the family," he told Mrs. Bannerman, "I could not charge anything for treatments."

Mrs. Church said for this particular victim the county has already paid a hospital bill for about $600 and another bill for approximately $125 is outstanding. She said that state welfare refuses to share expense in the hospitalization of persons with terminal cancer. Some exception is made for treatment of accute conditions such as hemorrhage.

The Cancer Society will assist with funds to provide up to five weeks of day care at home for terminal cancer cases. Emory said payment for drugs is usually limited to $100. "I can ask for an exception to be made in this case since it seems that no welfare agency will accept her."

Emory said his group might seek to have the woman admitted to a Roman Catholic hospital in Atlanta which specializes in caring for terminal cancer cases.

Mrs. Church said, "I shouldn't want to ask that this woman go there. She has two children at home, and no one could expect her to leave them before she has to. She will have to be hospitalized again. There is no insurance or state aid; the bill could be big."

In the meantime the board decided to "pass up" the doctors' bills. "The county did not authorize treatment," Skipper pointed out. "We are not obligated to pay; the Cancer Society cannot pay. This is the doctors' problem. It looks like they will have outstanding bills for a long time."

Later in the Tuesday meeting Skipper said the hospital aid to indigents fund is $4[illegible] in the red with another month to go on the current fiscal year.

"We cannot tax the property owners to take care of all the riff-raff of the county," Skipper said.

"Our problem is with the doctors," the Welfare Director

Alabama Visitors Enjoying Vacation In Jacaranda City

Mrs. Coston Pearce and daughter, Linda, and three of her friends, Margaret Kendrick, Mavis Cotton and Minette Brunson, from Elba, Alabama have been enjoying a vacation in Avon Park and visiting relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Pearce, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Milford Collier. While the visitors were here, they all went to Miami where they visited with Dr. and Mrs. Albert Collier. Dr. Collier, a graduate of APHS, is studying at the University of Miami.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Cornell and son, Paul, of Homestead, were weekend visitors with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Cornell and Mr. and Mrs. Milton F Stokey.

Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Gover left on Sunday for their former home at Leicester, North Carolina for a few weeks visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Shiltz are reporting a wonderful vacation trip on the Skyline Drive to Washington, D. C. They visited relatives in New Jersey and New York, and participated in three camp meetings at various places.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Webber of Mayville, New York arrived Sunday for the winter months at their home on North Verona Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Royal of Atlanta, Georgia spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Mark Herrin.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Pearce and daughter, Mary, and Judy Martin have returned from a visit with relatives in Elba, Alabama. Mr. Pearce's mother, Mrs. Ida Pearce, accompanied them home for a visit here.

Mrs. Elsie Coen and her sister, Mrs. Thomas P. Brown, left a week ago for Wheaton, Ill. where they visited Mrs. Coen's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Benson. Mrs. Brown continued on to California for a visit with her son and his family. Mrs. Coen will also visit her other daughter and family, the Rev. and Mrs. Roger Williams in Thomasville, N. C. before she returns home.

Kirkman Cited For Leadership Of State Patrol

TALLAHASSEE—Col. H. N. Kirkman, Director of the Department of Public Safety which comprises the Florida Highway Patrol and the Driver's License Division of this twin-purpose state agency, has been highly commended by fellow peace officers for his outstanding leadership in a state where the increasing population and the subsequent vehicular explosion has put autos in record numbers on the highways.

At its annual meeting, the Florida Peace Officers' Association said that Col. Kirkman has done "fine work in the past" as commander of the Florida Highway Patrol in a state where an "increasing citizenry takes motor travel at an increasing and accelerated rate" thereby increasing safety law enforcement problems at all levels.

Newest phase in the Patrol's effort to save lives on state highways is the employment of aircraft for air-to-ground detection and arrest of traffic violators. The Department has two airplanes in use.

FPOA in the same resolution in which it commended Kirkman strongly urged increased manpower for the Patrol to cope with the steady increase of highway travel in vacationland Florida.

ONE OF EVERY THREE VISITORS TO FLORIDA COMES ON THE RECOMMENDATION OF FRIENDS!

GREET THEM WITH A SMILE!

CRACKER POLITICS

By Allen Morris

TALLAHASSEE — Survival 101, not to be found in the catalog of any Florida university, is exciting more interest nowadays than many of the formal college courses.

"We've received some 700 to 1,000 letters so far, many from representatives of groups, and they're still coming in," reports an aide to Governor Bryant on public response to the Governor's recent Conference on Cold War Education. "That's the most mail this office has ever had on a single subject.

Virtually all the writers urge the Governor to carry ahead his idea that Floridians need to be better informed about the home-front meanings of Communism. Survival 101, as an expansion of the Bryant conference, is in the making as a result of those urgings.

The letters echo what Bryant told the Conference:

"Truly, the battle we fight is one which must be fought in a free country by citizens who have no official role in the great international struggle. The efforts by the President, by the Congress, by the armed forces, cannot be successful - will not be successful - unless they have the support of the people of this nation, based upon an understanding of the goals of this struggle plus a determination to achieve these."

An hour-long radio tape and a sound film are among the program helps in stages of preparation to bring Survival 101 to civic clubs and similar established groups. This preparation is being done under Governor Bryant's mandate that his staff (1) not get into the business of conducting meetings, (2) yet provide whatever guidance may be feasible for local sponsors, and (3) "work always for results, not for credit."

The project's name, Survival 101, sounds like a college freshman course. It was an off-the-cuff inspiration as Bryant convened his formally titled "Florida Governor's Conference on Cold War Education."

Bryant said "the school bell ringing" that July 18 morning at Bal Harbour summoned his statewide audience to a class which might aptly be called "Survival 101." He added: "On our success or failure in passing this course may depend our ultimate survival."

The Conference resulted from Bryant's conviction that parents in particular ought to be better prepared to cope with questions and comments resulting from the first classroom teaching of the state's new high school course, Americanism vs. Communism.

Without preparation, felt Bryant, there could be misunderstandings which would make the task of those teachers pioneering this course even more difficult.

Yet Florida, as the first state to undertake such a course, had in Bryant's opinion the monumental opportunity to show the nation that Soviet slogans and Red rules of order could be translated into Americanese which teenagers would understand.

Schools generally will be offering Americanism vs. Communism in the 12th grade, after students have the thorough grounding in American government which Governor Bryant, State School Superintendent Thomas D. Bailey and other authorities agree must first be grasped by those who hope to examine intelligently the Soviet system.

"A good understanding of how our governments operate - including our own, close-to-home Florida government - is essential if we are to realize how alien the Soviet system is to what we believe and what we know to be true," observes Superintendent Bailey.

(Incidentally, through his months of preparation of the Americanism vs. Communism course, Dr. Fred Turner of the State Department of Education has become recognized as a leading authority nationally in secondary education in this field.)

Two of Governor Bryant's aides, John E. Evans and William J. Jamison, had the responsibility for putting together the July conference - a performance Bryant saluted as magnificent. Now they have, in addition to their regular duties, the follow-up burdens of Survival 101. Community Cold War Education conferences already are being planned for September by local groups in Orlando, Ocala, Tallahassee.

Reporting to the Governor, Evans and Jamison said the state-wide conference was successful for three primary reasons: (1) the caliber of the program participants, (2) the balancing of viewpoints, and, (3) thorough planning.

To these, Governor Bryant added, in his handwriting on the permanent record, a fourth, significant reason:

"The absence of extremism or violent criticism."

Jim Haley Reports

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Syndicated columnist William S. White, who is regarded by many qualified observers as knowing as much as any person about what makes The Congress tick, has had some interesting things to say in a recent analysis (for a magazine) called "Why the South is the Saddle in Congress."

(Among Mr. White's credentials as an expert on your national legislature are the fact that he covered The Congress for a quarter of a century as a top correspondent for a New York newspaper, has written "The Citadel," a book about the inner workings of the Senate, and now is at work on a similar book about the House.)

Mr. White's newest observations are aimed at showing why it is that the Southern bloc of lawmakers in both the House and the Senate packs a wallop far beyond its numerical strength in The Congress. Dixie has no more than 20 out of 100 senators, on whom it can depend to reflect Southern viewpoints. The Ratio in the House is about the same—perhaps 85 to 90 out of 437 members.

Mr. White explains the disproportionate power of the Southern bloc (not, of course, to imply that we get everything our own way) this way:

"Dixie understands what no other section understands half so well. To have really potent representation it is necessary to let your representatives stay in Congress long enough to accumulate real seniority . . . This is so because no one man's vote automatically equals another man's vote in the Congress. The true decision rests in the legislative committees—and the kernel of the true decision rests within the chairmen (of the committees and subcommittees)."

"These Chairmanships do not fall mostly to Southerners through dark conspiracy. They fall that way because seniority of service is the route to chairmanship and the Southern fellows have a way of coming back here to become incredibly 'seniors'. Urbanites will never make it unless they can persuade Congress to abandon the seniority system (which is quite hopeless) or learn to let their congressional people stay here long enough to learn what it is all about and to gather seniority to be able to do something about what it is all about."

How true Mr. White is. Although the Southern bloc represents only about one fifth of the membership of each House, it provides exactly half of the chairmen of standing committees of the House, one more than half the chairmen of Senate standing committees.

I set down these observations as background for a second letter I intend to send you next week, going further into the question of how The Congress is organized, how it works. I hope that, with the reopening of schools approaching, these two letters will be of both interest and value to teachers, and to parents, who are interested in seeing to it that our future voters know more about the inner workings of our government.

MRS. PATRICIA G. HURLEY

North Carolinian Demonstration Agent in County

Mrs. Patricia G. Hurley became home demonstration agent in Highlands County on Sept. 1, Miss Anna Mae Sikes, state home demonstration agent, announced last week.

A native of North Carolina, Mrs. Hurley holds a bachelor's and a master's degree in home economics from the Woman's College, University of North Carolina. She majored in housing and management.

She grew up on a tobacco farm in Wilson, N. C., where she was a 4-H club member for nine years.

She has been teaching home economics at the University of North Carolina and has worked as a home service adviser with the Duke Power Company in Winston-Salem.

In Highlands County, Mrs. Hurley will work with individual homemakers as well as members of home demonstration and 4-H clubs, Miss Sikes said.

Advancement Contest Held By Avon Scouts

What promises to be the greatest contest in advancement in local Scouting is shaping up this week in preparation for the Highlands District Court of Honor, scheduled for September 10 at Sebring Woodlawn Elementary School. The contest lies mainly between Troops 156 and 157, both of Avon Park.

Both Troops sent 16 Scouts each to Camp Brorein this summer. Both Troops have held summer camps and both have been hard at work earning rank advancements and merit badges to be awarded at the Court of Honor next Monday night. The lead has see-sawed between the two troops with the decision still up in the air at press time.

Troop 156, sponsored by the Union Congregational Church, has placed emphasis on the Hiking and Cycling merit badges, while Troop 157, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Avon Park, has emphasized Pioneering, Forestry and Cooking. Both troops have about an equal number of Scouts advancing to 2nd Class, First Class and Star ranks and each have a Scout advancing to Life rank. Neither scoutmaster will hazard a prophecy as to which Troop will win the advancement award.

Each of the Avon Park troops is busy getting out notices to parents and urging their attendance at the Court. Since about 85 per cent of each troop membership roster is receiving one or more advancements, a record-breaking crowd of parents and friends is expected.

The Court of Honor is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p. m., September 10 in the auditorium of the Woodlawn School on the north side of Sebring.

Inter-County Telephone Company In Process of Expanding Service

J. N. Johnson, President of the Inter-County Telephone System, released figures today indicating the extent of the Company's program to provide additional and improved long distance facilities to the 13 county area served by the utility.

Over one-half million dollars is being expended this year to provide Inter-County customers with the quality and quantity of long distance circuits needful for their communications in this fast growing section of the State of Florida.

R. M. Gay, District Manager, stated that the new 6,000 megacycle radio-relay microwave installation to serve the Lake Placid exchange of Highlands County accounts for nearly $100,000 of this budgeted item. Construction of the microwave tower and related equipment in Lake Placid is very much in evidence and visible from the entire surrounding area. Gay also stated that the building and tower at the relay point in Crewsville are completed and final lineup and testing of the critical components of the new Avon Park - Crewsville - Lake Placid radio link are now under way.

By late September of this year, most of the long distance calls to and from the town of Lake Placid will travel over this ultra high frequency radio link, and improved service will be evident.

John Kruse, Group Manager for Lake Placid and Sebring, pointed out that this microwave expansion program is being added to throughout the entire system, and that the Lake Placid customers will soon have long distance facilities equal to or better than any city in the Nation.

An extensive building addition at the Avon Park Long Distance Center, which serves all of Highlands and other surrounding counties, is also nearing completion. Floor space here has been almost doubled in order to install additional long distance equipment for expanded and improved service.

The Inter-County Telephone System provides service to more than 10,000 square miles in South Central and Southwest Florida. The Company currently has 26 exchanges, with its 27th, Cape Coral, scheduled for service in November of this year. Its nearly 600 employees aid in maintaining the almost 65,000 telephones which are now installed and supported by a 40,000 mile toll channel network within the Inter-County Service area.

Hugh Taylor Birch State Park at Ft. Lauderdale was Florida's most popular park last year with over 640,000 visitors.

Scouts To Hold Honor Court September 10

The Highlands District of the Boy Scouts of America will hold a Court of Honor, September 10, 1962, 7:30 p. m. at the Woodlawn Elementary School. Boys from Sebring, Avon Park, Lake Placid, Wauchula, Bowling Green and Frostproof will receive recognition for their advancements at this Court.

The highlight of this program will be the presentation of Eagle Rank to Charles Eugene (Gene) Prickett of Troop No. 481, sponsored by the St. Agnes Episcopal Church of Sebring.

This is the highest honor that can be won by a Boy Scout. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

State Beverage Cases Decrease

Law enforcement activity by the State Beverage Department dropped slightly last month compared to criminal cases filed during June, according to Beverage Director Thomas E. Lee, Jr.

Beverage agents filed 158 criminal cases during July, 27 cases less than was made the previous month. The number of administrative cases showed little change; however, civil penalties of $2,500 more than doubled the amount imposed by Lee during June.

Arrests for moonshine violations dropped to a low of 67 as compared to 94 for June. A decrease in activity in the Dade County area accounted for the lesser number of both criminal and moonshine cases, Lee said. Only five criminal cases and one moonshine case were recorded in the four-county Beverage District as compared to 46 criminal and 37 moonshine cases during June, the Director explained.

Two Beverage licensees lost their license during the month by order of the Director. Fourteen others were suspended and 10 reprimands were issued during administrative hearings resulting from Beverage Law violations, Lee said.

IDEAL CEMENT

Capital outlays & diversified markets paying off for low-cost producer

Ideal Cement Company commenced operations some 63 years ago with one plant and a productive capacity of approximately 200,000 barrels per year. By 1945, its capacity attained 7.5 million and its sales volume in that year reached 4.5 million barrels. Today, after giving effect to a major expansion and improvement program stated in 1955, Ideal has 17 strategically-located plants, which can be operated at minimum cost, including new plants at Ada, Oklahoma and Tijeras, New Mexico, both of which witnessed their first full year of operation in 1961.

Serving widely diversified markets in some of the most rapidly growing Western and Southern portions of the U. S., Ideal now has an effective annual capacity of 40 million barrels, placing it among the largest of the domestic cement producers.

In the 1955-61 period, capital outlays for expansion and improvement totaled almost $153 million. The $10.3 million expended during 1961 was the smallest since 1955, running well below one-half the $23.3 million in 1960, which in turn was some $5 million below the roughly $29 million average high at 1956-57.

As might well be expected, these sizable expenditures under aggressive management have enabled Ideal not only to become one of the largest factors of the trade, but one of its low-cost producers as well.

In addition, the company is one of the most diversified geographically, serving no less than 26 states in some of the leading cement-consuming areas of the country, while its recent record places it foremost among the trade's leaders from the standpoint of profitability. In fact, Ideal was one of the few companies in the industry to experience higher earnings in 1961 than in 1960.

Indicative of the company's enviable past record has been the roughly 232 per cent gain in billings to customer during the period 1950-61, to the accompaniment of a 129 per cent increase in profits. Despite recessionary influences spilling over from 1960, billings to customers increased nearly 10 per cent last year to $121.1 million from $110.5 million in 1960. Reflecting tight cost controls and more fully realized benefits of its plant construction program, profits rose slightly more than 20 per cent to reach $16.7 million in 1961, up from $13.7 million in 1960. Per share net increased to $1.48 from $1.22 in 1960.

Like others in the field, Ideal's operations over recent years have been restricted by over-capacity conditions in the trade. Nevertheless, operating its plants at more than 75 per cent of capacity last year, the company again enjoyed a higher level of operations as compared with the industry generally, which held close to 72 per cent of capacity. Management expectations are for a 5 per cent increase in the rate of operations during the current calendar year.

Anticipations are that shipments industry-wide will be equal to or higher than the record 335 million barrels attained in 1959, as compared with the 323 million barrels produced in 1961, when total industry capacity stood at 438 million barrels.

Contributing to the improved outlook for cement demand is the prospect that total U. S. construction expenditures in 1962 wil exceed $60 billion, up from the $57.4 billion of 1961, for another record high, while outlays for road construction, with a good part of the Federal Highway Program now believed closer to the cement-laying stage, are expected to attain a peak $6.1 billion level. Also, new housing starts in 1962, despite their slow start, are expected to reach the 1,425,000-unit level, up from 1,303,500 in 1961.

On the expected higher volume, and bearing in mind the price increases which became effective on early 1962 cement shipments, Ideal's earning power this year is expected to be in the neighborhood of $1.65 a share, against $1.48 a share in 1961.

Ideal has paid cash dividends every year since 1911. The payout policy has approximated 50 per cent of net earnings after taxes. At prevailing price levels, Ideal Cement shares yield about 4 per cent from a secure 80c annual dividend rate.

Citrus Commission Conducts Survey On Color-Added Buyers

LAKELAND—An old merchandising axiom that "choice increases sales" has proven true in relation to Florida oranges used in a consumer acceptance survey by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Purpose of the marketing research report was to determine consumer reaction to Florida oranges with or without color added and was conducted in cooperation with the Florida Citrus Commission.

Oranges were offered to consumers in the Cleveland and Philadelphia marketing areas in three phases—sold as color-added only, as natural-color only, and in combination. The results showed that sales of oranges placed side by side were 36 per cent more in Cleveland and 20 per cent more in Philadelphia than for either natural - or artifically-colored fruit offered alone.

The research indicates that the increase occurred when the consumer had a choice—in this instance, in the color of the fruit.

Otherwise, the study pointed up what the Florida citrus industry had been aware of all along—that artificial coloring greatly influences the buying habits of Americans who consume oranges. In Cleveland where practically all the citrus available is color-added, consumers preferred the heightened color in the fruit. The results in Philadelphia, where a lot of natural-color fruit is marketed, was about evenly divided between the two products.

Statistically, about one-third of all Florida oranges marketed for fresh consumption are sold in natural-color state. The bulk of this fruit is moved through the major markets in the east, with color-added fruit primarily moving to midwestern outlets.

While no strict regulations govern the movement of artificially-colored oranges outside the state, Florida's citrus code contains stringent rules that require a yield of a minimum of five gallons of juice per standard box for the color-added fruit utilized within the state, as compared with a minimum of four and one-half gallons for each standard box of natural color fruit.

The survey, by the USDA's Economic Research Service and the Statistical Reporting Service, covered test periods of three weeks each, conducted during the months of November and December of 1959 and 1960 and during June of 1961. Dr. William Black of the Florida Citrus Commission and John T. Lesley of the Florida Citrus Exchange served as consultants in planning the study and in arranging for the supply of fresh fruit utilized in the tests.

Not surprisingly, most consumers based purchase psychology upon the appearance of the oranges, admitting that color-added fruit "looked better, juicier and sweeter." This, the report indicated, meant that outside appearance of the oranges was a strong factor in determining inside quality.

The survey was an exhausting study that tracked down such items as the sex, age and education of the consumers. Of interest was that most people interviewed purchased citrus at least once a week, with many buying oranges as often as twice a week. Most of the consumers purchased seven to a dozen oranges each time.

Re-Elect
To The City Council
CLARENCE KING
Pull Lever 7-A
Tuesday, September 11

I will continue to fight against deficit spending. This fiscal year, ending September 30, I have voted and fought against spending more than $[illegible] that was passed by council. I did not consider this expenditure necessary or within good business practice.

We now have a deficit of $34,284.50 on contract or pledged to be carried over from this year's operations. The above deficit does not include any part of street paving program indebtedness. This debt has to be paid by YOU and other taxpayers.

I am very sorry, indeed, our board chairman did not call a meeting of the Council to adopt a budget and set tax millage before the election next Tuesday. I think you should know how much more tax you will pay.

Had we not have had the expenditures I objected to and with the added revenue from the new construction, we should have had a decrease in taxes, rather than an increase as it looks at this time.

I will continue to fight against the Civil Defense trucks being used for private use and burning city gasoline. They shoud be parked for emergency use only.

I will continue to cooperate with our schools and their youth programs and The Little League Association for a baseball field.

I hear a rumor that if I am re-elected to council this year, I will resign and run for Mayor next term. I have made no such statement, nor did I have that in my plans. I can do much more for Avon Park as a Councilman.

New Lumber Uses Are Explored By U. S. Forest Laboratory

Explosion of an ancient myth is expected to accelerate the development of new and improved uses of lumber.

The assumption, long held in [illegible] uninformed quarters, that [illegible] a "temporary material" [illegible] scotched as the "worst kind of fallacy" by federal scientists. Through research at the U. S. Forest Products Laboratory, Madison, Wisconsin, the government technicians have determined methods by which wood can be rendered permanent for all conditions of use. It's significant that the factors of permanence also assure maximum retention of paint and other forms of finish.

Such findings are essential to a broad and successful application of other research discoveries in the fields of engineered timber design and wood technology. They're also important to the effective execution of bold, imaginative designs with wood on home exteriors.

The Government Laboratory has found that "as long as wood is dry, and remains dry, it is a permanent material."

The first condition—initial dryness—can be readily established at the lumber mill by proper seasoning. This air or kiln drying process—called "vitally important" by the Federal Laboratory — eliminates moisture that lumber inherits from the Mother tree. The practice has been standardized in the manufacture of all items of Southern Pine for home building. In addition to being "dry," properly seasoned lumber is also pre-shrunk for dimensional stability, full size and greater strength.

The second condition—keeping it dry—is fulfilled, in most instances, simply by observing the basic principles of good construction. In the case of exterior wood walls, tightness is a key essential, assured by the formation of snug joints and proper execution of other details of carpentry. A sealer coat can be applied at the ends of exterior siding and if necessary, as a caulking, to seal the end of the lumber against rain.

The occasional wetting of exterior wood walls is of small consequence. Properly seasoned lumber is dried deep down in its pores, where rain doesn't penetrate. The wetting is limited to the surface and after the rain is over, quickly evaporates.

In the case of wood paneling for interior room walls, similar conditions apply. The lumber should be properly seasoned. Ends and backs should be treated with a penetrating sealer or other moisture resistant coating prior to installation.

Thorough modern knowledge of the ingredients of permanence is of immense value to the advancement of engineered timber design. Giant structural sections, formed by gluing and engineering techniques, are used to support and decorate churches, schools and other large buildings. The immense wood members are built up with standard one and two inch thick framing lumber. Since Southern Pine framing is properly seasoned in conformity with mandatory manufacturing standards, the glued structural sections which are made with it have the same degree of permanence as the individual pieces of lumber.

Where lumber is used close to the ground or under conditions of constant severe weather exposure, it should be pressure treated with chemical preservatives. Such chemicals are toxic to termites. Pressure treated lumber has extended the orbit of wood's use. Some examples of its application are wood deck walking surfaces for open outdoor patios, exterior exposure of rafters at regular intervals of the roofline for dramatic effect, and exposed latticeworks of lumber which filter sunlight above exterior courtyards.

Governor Backs Citrus Group's Adv. Program

LAKELAND—Copies of Governor Farris Bryant's endorsement of a Fall advertising program planned by Florida processors of frozen orange concentrators will be mailed by the Florida Citrus Commission to almost 10,000 members of the nation's grocery trade.

Addressing himself to the trade, Governor Bryant heartily endorsed the action of the processors of frozen orange concentrate and asked cooperation of grocers everywhere.

"In this era when federal subsidization regrettably appears to be the course of least resistance in the broad field of agriculture, it is both refreshing and encouraging to discover an agricultural industry with continuing faith in the basic principles of the American Free Enterprise System," the Governor wrote. "I refer to the processors of Florida's dynamic Citrus Industry, who once again, as they so admirably did three years ago, have voluntarily taken decisive action to meet the challenge of a changing marketing picture."

His reference was to approval of an advertising program by citrus concentrators on Tuesday (August 14). The concentrators immediately recommended that the administration of the program be turned over to the Florida Citrus Commission with a kick-off date of September 13 for the promotional effort.

Governor Bryant said that facing up to the fact that a broader marketing base is both needed and desired, 20 Florida processors of frozen orange concentrate voluntarily contributed $3,500,000 toward an aggressive and timely special advertising-promotion campaign. He explained to the grocers that the campaign was designed "to move Florida orange concentrate out of your freezer cabinets and into more American homes."

Because of the significance of the campaign and upon the economy of the state of Florida, the Governor declared that the effort also would affect the profit structure of the grocer trade.

"I most strongly and respectfully urge you to join with me in commending the citrus processors of Florida by pleding your endorsement of this unique multi-million-dollar advertising-promotion program. It is only through your cooperation and merchandising support at the retail level that this campaign can be successfully concluded to the ultimate benefit of all whose daily lives are enriched by Florida's most famed agricultural product."

The campaign, based upon a coupon-redemption plan, will be pushed through U. S. and Canadian newspapers and magazines.

At the end of May only eight counties were left of the state's 67 in which there had been no traffic death. It's right shaky. Drive with care.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Do you suppose Susie wants an addition for her doll family? Or ice cream and cake for supper tonight? Or a new pair of fancy black patent-leather shoes?

I'm Susie's mother, but I wouldn't know! You'd have to have seven league boots to keep apace with her active little mind!

For instance, she'd overheard us discussing our new family policy of having a suggestion box. Susie was determined to get into the act too. It is typical of her, typical of our family. We enjoy doing things together. We believe in unity in work, in play, and in prayer.

We center our family activities about the Church. The children go to Church School—Susie can hardly wait for each Sunday morning—and my husband is active in the Men's Club. I am president of the woman's group in our parish. Yet—it does take a lot of time and effort. But I am never happier than when I am doing church work, because I know how truly worthwhile it is.

Don't forget that your church needs workers too! Just as you need the Church!

Ford Motor Company Unveils New Production Car For Sport Racing

The first production model of a new sports roadster designed for normal road touring and world-wide road racing competition was displayed to the press today by the Ford Division of Ford Motor Company.

Powered by Ford's Challenger 260-cubic-inch V-8 engine, the new car—the Shelby Cobra—was developed by Carroll Shelby, internationally-known race driver and performance vehicle specialist. The car is reported to be one of the fastest production vehicles in America today.

In describing the vehicle, Donald N. Frey, Ford Division assistant general manager, said, "We are proud that, for the first time in more than 25 years, an international competition vehicle designer has selected a Detroit produced engine for his power source for a competition production vehicle.

Mr. Shelby's selection of our lightweight, cast-iron Challenger engine would be standard in the 1963 Galaxie line, and available as an option in the Fairlane line.

The Shelby Cobra is a unique and effective combination of a modern American production powerplant and a renowned English sports car body and chassis. The handformed, all-aluminum roadster body is made by the AC Car Company, one of England's oldest coach building firms.

Shelby says the Cobra is intended as a dual purpose sports car, for fast touring as well as road course competition.

The chassis, running gear, body, upholstery, appointments and trim to the finish color coat of paint are completed by the AC Car Company in Thames Ditton, Surrey, England. The Ford engines are installed when the cars reach Los Angeles. Shelby will test drive each Cobra before delivery.

Features of the 2,100-pound Cobra include 12-inch Girling disc brakes on all four wheels, independent four wheel suspension, four-speed Ford transmission, fully synchronized with close ratio gears, individual bucket seats with genuine leather upholstery, all weather top, wire wheels, optional radio and heater, full instrumentation including tachometer, adjustable steering wheel, a choice of gear ratios and a selection of optional equipment.

The car has a suggested list price of $5,995.

The basic powerplant, the Ford 260-cubic-inch Challenger V-8, has been modified slightly in order to alter the compression ratio for higher performance. With a 3.54 to 1 final drive ratio, the top speed of the car is rated at 175 m.p.h. Other engine modifications—multiple carburetion, special camshaft and higher compression—can increase the output to 335 bhp. for competition in "A" Production class.

"The Cobra is designed as a threat to the cars that now dominate the world's sports car races," Shelby said. "I believe this is the right type of sports car for the American driver who wants performance with no sacrifice in normal driving reliability. The Cobra is made to be driven on the street and enjoyed, but it will also be highly competitive in all types of events, including Le Mans and other demanding races."

"I knew the reputation of the AC sports cars for their handling and clean design. When Ford Motor Company announced its new lightweight V-8, I knew the powerplant I needed was available.

The Challenger V-8 engine achieves its light weight with a thin-wall casting technique which Ford pioneered in the auto industry. The engine weighs less than the two litre (121-cubic-inch) Bristol which was used in previous AC cars, but the Ford V-8 develops almost twice as much horsepower. It has a bore and stroke of 3.8 in. by 2.875 in. and a compression ratio of 10 to 1.

A single four-barrell carburetor tops the basic engine (for Class "B" Production sports car racing), engine options up to 335 bhp. will be offered. Optional equipment includes racing camshaft, higher compression ratio, Weber carburetors and supercharger.

The Ford four-speed transmission has close ratio gears, floor shift and a short, positive throw, reverse inhibitor.

Shelby designed the body with a streamlined nose and flared wheel cutouts. The aluminum body is hand crafted and finished with 12 coats of acrylic lacquer. Coachwork and trim are of highest quality. A folding soft top and side curtains, with movable lucite panel, provide all-weather protection.

Although the chassis has been redesigned to accept the greater power output of the 260-cubic-inch Ford V-8, the car has the same large-tube frame and independent suspension that gave other AC cars a notable reputation for handling. The rear end features a husky Salisbury center section and heavy axle halves.

The Shelby Cobra will be distributed by Carroll Shelby Enterprises, 1042 Prinseton, Venice, California.

Lowell Stotts Passes Saturday

Lowell J. Stotts, 65, a resident of Avon Park Lakes passed away Saturday at Walker Memorial Hospital.

A native of Parris, Ill., Stotts came to Avon Park four years ago from La Grange, Ill. He was a retired farm machinery engineer.

[illegible] The supplemental budget will come to approximately $70,000 and will be obtained from excess fees collected by certain county offices.

At the Tuesday meeting the commissioners approved the 1962-63 tax levy for the county.

Millage for all purposes will be 40.5 mills in Avon Park. Highest millage in the county is to be levied in Avon Park Lakes where a special road tax of 8.75 mills will boost the levy to 49.25. Lowest in the county, 40 mills even will be levied in Lake Placid and DeSoto City.

The school taxes, already at the 20 mill limit, will remain unchanged. The Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District tax remains at .9 mills. The County Board of Commissioners remains at 18 mills, but there are revisions with the county funds. the county health levy drops from 1 mill to one-half mill. The jail bonds levy of 1.25 will disappear from the books, but the county general fund will go from seven to 8.75 mills. The road and bridge fund will stay at six and fine and forfeiture fund at 2.75 mills.

Throughout the county the millage will increase by 2 mills the amount of levy requested for the Highlands County hospital.

School Officials Get Together

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew W. Miracle were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Sidney L. Horne of Sebring with entertaining the Administrative Staff of the County Schools with an Open House at the Miracle Home last Friday night.

Refreshments were served from the dining table which was overlaid with a lace cloth. Candles and summer flowers decorated the table. Punch was served from a large crystal bowl. Delicious homemade cake with dainty sandwiches, nuts and mints were served with the punch.

Those enjoying the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Billy Cason, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. George Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ferrell Smith and Wallace Cox, all of Sebring; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. David Robinson, all of Lake Placid; Mr. and Mrs. George Kelsey, A. B. Wilhite, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Crittenden, of Avon Park and the hosts of the party.

Family vacation cottages are available year round at Gold Head Branch State Park, six miles north of Keystone Heights on State Road 21.

Influenza Cases Increase In State

JACKSONVILLE — Influenza cases in Florida already have more than doubled the total for all of last year and the State Board of Health says widespread outbreaks may be expected this winter.

Last year's total was just over 4,000. So far this year over 11,000 cases have been reported.

Dr. Clarence M. Sharp, assistant state health officer and acting director of the Bureau of Preventable Diseases, said a lengthy study by the board recently showed flu hits hardest at persons under five and over 65. He said mortality in these groups represents from 60 to 75 per cent of the total deaths in Florida. There were 50 deaths from flu last year. In 1960 there were 185, the greatest number since 223 deaths recorded in 1953.

Dr. Sharp said annual immunization is especially urgent for persons of all ages who have chronic diseases; pregnant women; persons under five and those over 45, particularly those over 65; and persons working in medical and health services, public safety, public utilities, transportation, education and communications fields.

He said persons taking flu vaccine for the first time should have a second shot two months later.

County Officials To State Meet

Two county officials will represent Highlands County at state-wide conventions in Miami the middle of this month. Mrs. Anna Dee Church, county director of welfare, will attend the meeting of County Welfare Executives Association. She is treasurer of the State Association.

Ben McGee, commissioner for district three, plans to attend the convention of the county commissioners association.

ball well running through play formations.

Tackles Bill Scott and Jim Lyle seem to be leading the way for the Devil linemen with Andy Miracle, Bobby Briscoe, Robert Duggan and Doyle Griffin also showing up good in blocking and tackling drills. Four boys are still making quite a battle out of the end position. DeWayne Lemler, who reported late for practice because of vacation plans, is looking good at the flanker spot along with Bill Ward, Randy Rewis and Jackie Turner. John Rodgers has been slowed up with a wrist injury but is back in shape and working out at end also with Keith Albritton and Danny Butler.

Sullivan and Albritton are both working at the punting chores for the Red Devils. Both boys were getting off good kicks in punting drills Monday night although both are inexperienced at the job.

Franza and assistant coach, Guy Garrett, both feel that the squad still has a lot to learn before meeting the Highlanders in Lake Wales, September 14, but hope that these last days of practice will see the boys improving rapidly.

Kirkman Cited For Leadership Of State Patrol

TALLAHASSEE—Col. H. N. Kirkman, Director of the Department of Public Safety which comprises the Florida Highway Patrol and the Driver's License Division of this twin-purpose state agency, has been highly commended by fellow peace officers for his outstanding leadership in a state where the increasing population and the subsequent vehicular explosion has put autos in record numbers on the highways.

At its annual meeting, the Florida Peace Officers' Association said that Col. Kirkman has done "fine work in the past" as commander of the Florida Highway Patrol in a state where an "increasing citizenry takes motor travel at an increasing and accelerated rate" thereby increasing safety law enforcement problems at all levels.

Newest phase in the Patrol's effort to save lives on state highways is the employment of aircraft for air-to-ground detection and arrest of traffic violators. The Department has two airplanes in use.

FPOA in the same resolution in which it commended Kirkman strongly urged increased manpower for the Patrol to cope with the steady increase of highway travel in vacationland Florida.

Duplex Is Way To Live And Earn Interest On Investment

Many investment-minded families find in a duplex a satisfying way to live and at the same time earn interest on their investment. An imginatively designed duplex is a far-cry from the run-of-the-mill duplexes mass-produced by merchant builders. A modern duplex should offer its two tenants nearly as much privacy and joy of living as two separate homes but cost less. There is a saving on land because a duplex usually takes less frontage than two separate homes and some construction savings since one center wall (the so-called party wall) replaces two exterior house walls, with additional savings in footings and roofing.

Duplex No. 1590—159, designed by architect Jan Reiner, P. O. Box 11567, St. Petersburg, Fla., for an 85 foot wide level lot, is rather unusual in floor plan because it is not symmetrical. To the right of the party wall, it contains a two-bedroom "patio apartment," and to the left a one-bedroom retirement unit. The apartment has a front porch and rear garage, while the unit has a smaller porch and rear carport. Both quarters were designed with crossventilation in mind, and both have high airy living-dining areas.

The 8' x 8' garden-pation is the ever-changing attraction centered in the heart of the apartment. Its screened roof allows the sun to reach the interiorof the living-dining area and gives it an unexpected dramatic touch. Two sliding glass doors fuse this miniature garden (with its bush, pool with bubbler, and ground cover with stepping stones) with the rest of the house into one cool and airy space—Florida living at its best. This jewel-like garden should be a constant source of enjoyment to the family as well as a challenge to the green thumb of the homemaker.

In the apartment the living-dining area, including the kitchen, is 34 feet deep. However, where desired, an eight-foot-wide folding partition (not shown here) may separate the kitchen from the day area. Between the 10-foot-wide kitchen and the dining area is a curved lunch counter to seat four. The three basic kitchen fixtures are marked on the plan (S,R,RF), and wall cabinets are shown dotted. A jalousie door leads to the garage and to the laundry appliances (LN) with hot water heater.

The front bedroom has two four-foot closets (C), the rear one a six-foot closet (all with bifold doors). A three-foot coat closet is in the living room, a 3'x4' walk-in closet in the front hall and a linen closet near the rear bedroom.

A 6'x12' screen porch doubles as a vestibule for the retirement unit and a place for outdoor eating (handy to the kitchen). Privacy between the porch and the apartment is achieved by the extension of the masonry party wall which protrudes three feet beyond the face of the porch. The L-shaped living-dining area has windows on two opposite walls, (a side window may be added if neighbors are not close), a five-foot coat closet (C) and a back door to the carport.

The bedroom has two four-foot closets with bifold doors, a linen closet, and two walls for placing of beds. This room is accessible through the bathroom or kitchen. The skylighted 6'x14' kitchen is the "corridor" type of plan and the three basic fixtures (S,R,RF) are marked on the plan; wall cabinets are shown dotted. For greatest economy of plumbing installation, the bathroom is back-to-back to the kitchen.

Heat may be supplied by one of several methods: electric ceiling radiation or individual units; oil or gas-fired heaters (H); or central heat-pumps (one in the garage and the other in carport closet "C").

The advantages of the shed roof (here used) are well known: lower initial cost, cheaper maintenance, and higher ceilings for the front day areas with lower ceilings for the smaller rear bedrooms and car shelters.

Exterior walls and party wall are of 8" masonry blocks; interior partitions of wood frame with plaster on both sides; concrete floor slabs are topped with terrazzo or resilient tiles.

Better get to being air-minded. That little "skeeter-hawk" buzzing overhead may be one of the Florida Highway Patrol's air-borne speeder-spotters.

TRIPLE TANK—Shown above is one of the 200 new tank cars purchased recently by Green's Fuel to service Florida, Georgia, North and South Carolina with liquefied petroleum. Frank Welch, of Ridge Fuel, local Green's Fuel distributor, said the new tanks have a 30,000 gallon capacity, three times that of the regular size cars as seen at right. The 65-foot car is the first to arrive here via the Seaboard Railroad. (Sun Photo).

Ford Gives Preview of '63 Falcon; In Local Showrooms On Sept. 28

The Falcon Futura convertible—a completely new model in Ford's industry leading compact line—led Detroit's parade of 1963 models today when Ford Division of Ford Motor Company released complete details and photograps of the new sporty car.

A combination of low convertible silhouette, compact lightness and 170-cubic-inch engine performance, the car has the rakish flair of a sports car while maintaining the traditional economy features of the Falcon.

Full-width, pleated, all-vinyl front and rear seats are standard. Optional front bucket seats and a sports console are available to customize the convertible in sport car fashion. An electrically operated, power top is standard equipment.

Lee A. Iacocca, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager, pointed out that the car can be tailored to six different performance levels through various transmission and rear axle combinations.

The car is available with either automatic, 3-speed manual, or a fully-synchronized, 4-speed manual transmission. Wire wheel covers are optional.

In styling, the new convertible is distinctively Falcon, while its lower silhouette gives it an even more racy appearance. Interior appointments are tailored with luxury-car plushness. The all-vinyl convertible top is anchored to each roof bow to prevent "ballooning" when the car is underway.

The Falcon convertible is the first compact to provide 36,000-mile factory installed major chassis lubrication and 6,000-mile oil change and minor lube intervals. Because of improved lubricants and advancements in sealing designs, the historical oil change and inspection after the first 1,000 miles have been eliminated.

The new convertible will be in Ford dealer showrooms September 28.

Junior Women Attend District Nine Meeting

"Junior Night" for members of Junior Women's Clubs in District Nine, Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, was held August 30 at the Haven Hotel in Winter Haven at 7:30 p. m.

[illegible] of the [illegible] Association [illegible] Thursday, September [illegible] at the club [illegible] plan to attend [illegible] pleasant evening [illegible] the Rev. [illegible] party [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] anniversary [illegible] of 37 friends [illegible] the Beach [illegible] Lake Olivia and [illegible] and Rex [illegible] evening, anniversary cake and refreshing punch was served. Many happy years.

The ladies of the Women's Group will meet on Thursday at [illegible] p.m. at the club house.

On Friday, August 31, the Sunshine Chapter of the Pioneers - retired employees of the telephone company - had a delightful day at the Avon Park Lakes Club House. The meeting was at 10:30 a. m. and a "covered dish" brunch was served. After a lecture on E.M.C. presented by Mr. Sanders of Madiera Beach, the group played cards and bingo. Everyone joined in the community singing; also a few enjoyed square dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Muir, of Miami, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bue.

"Mom" Sturdevant wishes to thank everyone for their many kindnesses and the abundance of "get well" greetings. She is doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Haines returned Friday, August 31, from a vacation visiting friends and relatives in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Kentucky. While there, they visited with some winter residents of the Lakes: C. D. Keys, of Galesburg, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Benson, of Urbana, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Hampton Grant, of West Bridgewater, Pa. On August 19, a Haines reunion was held in Garfield Park, Indianapolis, which was attended by 38 members from Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky. After an absence of 99 days, Avon Park Lakes was really a welcome sight.

Mrs. Fredonia Baker, of Orlando, was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bennett.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mehrling and daughter, Ginger, of Miami Springs, spent the Labor Day weekend at the Lakes.

The community was shocked and saddened by the death of J. Lowell Stotts, on September 1, after a short illness at Walker Memorial Hospital. Our heartfelt sympathy to the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Rood returned Thursday, August 30, after a month's vacation. They visited their daughter and family in Emmaus, Pa., and their son and his family in Toledo, Ohio. They stopped in Bowling Green, Ohio to visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Beam and sons, Gary and David, were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bennett. The Beams were residents of the Lakes and from here went to Japan and Ewa, Hawaii. They are making their home in Mobile, Ala.

Prayer In A Cornfield

Lord, I ask not for wealth or ease,
Nor power to rule my clan,
But blessings on this field of corn,
Beneficent to man.

Send down Thy rain
upon it, Lord,
And water the thirsty roots.
Forbid the cawing crows to eat
The young and tender shoots.

The rustle of the bladed stalks,
What is it but Thy voice
Encouraging the wearied soul?
I listen and rejoice.

Thy footprints, Lord,
between the rows
I often seem to see,
And then I think what time
you trod
The fields of Galilee.

Like to the loaves you
multiplied
In those brave days of old,
So may this corn I'm hoeing now
Return a thousand fold.
For that I tread
these dusty rows
And slay Philistine weeds.
Thy mercy on Thy servant,
Lord,
Is all Thy servant needs.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID WEED

Collier-Weed Vows Said In New Hope Baptist Church August 25

In a beautiful candlelight service, Miss Willie B. Collier became the bride of David Weed at 7 o'clock Saturday night, August 25 at the New Hope Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr.and Mrs. Gettus Collier of Wauchula, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Weed of Sebring.

The Rev. B. C. Lamb officiated at the double ring ceremony before a background of palms and arrangements of yellow and bronze mums. Mrs. Clayton Driskell, accompanied at the organ by Miss Mary Simmons, sang "The Wedding Prayer", and at the close of the ceremony sang "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of embroidered lace over taffeta. Her lace trimmed veil fell from a pearl crown and she carried a bouquet of feathered carnations with an orchid in corsage. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Miss Annette Collier, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Barbara Harrison, cousin of the bride was bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of avocado taffeta and carried nosegays of yellow and bronze mums.

Little Tina served as flower girl and Eddie Shiver was ring bearer.

Robert Weed served his brother as best man and usher-groomsmen were Eugene Foster and Barrett, brothers-in-law of the groom.

A reception in Fellowship Hall followed the ceremony. Miss Eva May Tomlinson was at the bride's book. Miss Louise Summers and Miss Hatie Griffin served the punch and Mrs. Eugene Foster, Mrs. Robert Weed, and Mrs. Bill Barrett served the cake.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Avon Park.

County Agent Cited For Work With Beef Cattle

B. J. Harris, Jr., Highlands County agent for the past 14 years, yesterday received the Distinguished Service Award from the National Association of County Agricultural Agents.

He received the award at the 47th annual meeting of the N.A.C.A.A. at New Mexico State University.

Other county agents from Florida who received the award were Gordon B. Ellis, Nassau County agent, and W. W. Glenn, Jackson County agent.

Harris was selected for his exceptional leadership in improvement of the beef cattle enterprises in his county. He has set up shows and sales to improve quality and management. He has also worked with 4-H Club beef projects.

So, you lucky stiff, you made it past Labor Day. Now try like blazes, with safe driving, to make Christmas and beyond.

David Ward Is Party Honoree

David Ward was surprised with a party on his 15th birthday last Saturday night, at the home of Mrs. John Turner, 208 E. Winthrop Street. Miss Beverley Turner planned the party. More than 40 of David's friends gathered at the Turner home, each bringing a birthday gift for David, who arrived a bit late to pick up his date, when he found the party already assembled.

The young people spent the evening dancing and enjoying a last big fling of summer before school begins.

The refreshment table was decorated with summer flowers. A large decorated birthday cake with burning candles was cut and served with punch.

Ruth Border Is Named to Special Program at FSU

Officials of Florida State University, Tallahassee, announced this week that 121 incoming freshmen have accepted invitation to participate in the Honors Program in the Division of Basic Studies. Included in the group is Ruth Border, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Border of Avon Park. Miss Borda was salutatorian of the 1961 Class of Avon Park High School.

Dr. Paul J. Piccard, associate professor of government and Honors Program director, said the 121 freshmen will join 70 returning sophomores in the program, which is designed to provide a maximum of faculty assistance in helping able students utilize their first two years in college to maximum advantage.

To be selected for the program a student must have scored 450 or above on his Florida Twelfth Grade Test (or 1100 on the College Entrance Examination Board test) and must have maintained a 3.5 (A minus or B plus) average in high school academic subjects.

In addition to the Basic Studies Honor Program available to university students campuswide during their first two years there is an Honors Program for juniors and seniors in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Maness Enlightens Teachers On Methods Used By Communists

LEE MANESS

Recognizing a Communist is not easy, Lee Maness Avon Park High School teacher said in a panel discussion of the new Americanism vs. Communism course in Florida schools.

Maness, who will be one of the teachers of the new course, participated in the panel along with other teachers who will offer this class during the second semester of the 1962-63 school year.

The panel appeared Friday afternoon at a meeting of Highlands County teachers.

Maness said Communists make wide use of the idea of "sharing the wealth." The idea of taking from the wealthy to distribute to the poor is very popular, particularly among the "have-nots."

The Avon Park teacher said too few people realize that the price of this program can be individual freedom.

Maness and Glen Odham of the Sebring High School faculty emphasized the problems created by the Communist use of words. New and radically different meanings are given to words long familiar to Americans. For example, the teachers said, "democracy" to Americans means individual freedom, but in Communist thinking means the will of the group.

Robert Fitzgerald, Lake Placid teacher, said the struggle between Americanism and Communism is a re-run of the age-old struggle between individual rights and rule of the few. In other ages, Fitzgerald said "Divine Right of Kings," or "depotism" would have been the description used for the idea that a few should rule the many. The only new thing about Communism, he said, is the tricks employed to accomplish the same end.

Odham pointed out, "Americanism, patriotism, and love of country cannot be taught in one six-weeks course."

The Sebring teacher said teachers may emphasize Americanism in each grade through such things as the flag salute, the oath of allegience, the study of history, student activities and leadership programs.

All the speakers at the teachers meeting attended a special workshop at the University of Florida this summer. In the special session they studied methods of presenting the new course now required in all Florida high schools.

For the next several weeks Odham, Maness and Fitzgerald will lead discussions with the teachers in their respective school and will present in detail the materials available for teaching the Americanism vs Communism course.

Pastors Honored By Local Church

The Rev. Don Staten and Mrs. Staten and the Rev. and Mrs. Jerry Howell were honored at a Lawn Party on the grounds of The Church of God last Thursday night when more than one hundred church members and friends gathered to honor the two ministers.

Rev. Staten has served the Church of God for the past six years and is retiring because of ill health. He and Mrs. Staten will be in their new home on North Anoka Street. Rev. and Mrs. Howell have come to Avon Park from Orlando, and he will become the new pastor of The Church of God.

The group enjoyed visiting and singing church hymns. Each minister was presented with a large cake decorated as an open Bible surrounded by rosebuds. Rev. Staten's cake bore the inscription "Farewell, Reverend Staten," and a "Welcome Reverend Howell" was embossed on Rev. Howell's cake. Mrs. Ellis Watson had baked and decorated the cakes. Hostesses at the punch table included Miss Tonie Faircloth and Miss Brenda Brown, Mrs. Scott Landress, Mrs. Marie Westberry and Mrs. Roy Johnson were in charge of arrangements for the affair.

Surprise Party For Newcomer

Miss Lynn Cravens was surprised with a party on her 17th birthday Wednesday, August 29. Lynn has recently moved to Avon Park from Galena, Illinois. Her father has joined the faculty at APHS. She will be a member of the senior class of 1963.

The party was planned by the Misses Sonia and Naomi Lawrence. Their mother baked the beautiful birthday cake and the girls served cold drinks, potato chips, nuts and mints, while they all enjoyed an afternoon of getting acquainted.

The girls brought an array of lovely gifts to the honoree.

11 Highlands Citrus Growers Make Trip To Rio Grande Valley

By Lew Miller

"Down but not out", effectively describes the Rio Grande Valley citrus growers visited in the Harlingen to Mission, Texas area by seven Avon Park men and four men from Sebring and Lake Placid, all connected with the Highlands County citrus industry.

The flying trip to the Valley citrus area was sponsored by the Highlands County Agricultural Extension Advisory Council tour committee with W. F. Ward as chairman. The group under the direction of David Martsolf, Highlands County Assistant Agricultural Agent took off from Tampa International Airport Sunday noon and were met at the Harlingen, Texas airport early Sunday evening by Norman Maxwell, Associate Horticulturist, Texas Experiment Station and Morris Bailey, Area Extension Citrus Specialist.

Making the Valley citrus tour were the following from Avon Park: E. C. Crews and son, Mikell, Jack Hutchinson, L. R. Miller, R. L. Padgett, Jack Seims and Ward. From Sebring came Earl Crutchfield, David Martsolf and Charles Sebring, with Jim Bowhan coming from Lake Placid.

Places visited by the group included the Texas Experiment Station, USDA rootstock variety plots, various groves, nurseries, bulk citrus packing plant and the Texas Citrus Mutual Headquarters. Freeze damage to trees of all sizes was noted throughout the Valley with varying amounts of lush regrowth.

Even before landing at the Harlingen airport the effects of the January freeze could be seen from overhead on the unpruned groves with their weathered and sun bleached branches and twiggs interspersed with round shaped burst, of new green growth centered about the main tree trunks.

During the January deep-freeze the temperature dropped to a low of 6 degree F. in a low pocket in the Mission area, while the low for the Valley averaged 12 degree F. The low for the 1951 freeze was only 19 degree F. The January cold wave was accompanied by winds of 35 to 50 miles per hour which dissicated both soil and trees.

This freeze of 1962 reversed many previous opinions of cold weather damage to trees in some areas. There was more tree damage on high ground areas this time than on the adjoining low ground. Some sod areas had less damage than clean cultivated groves and that the amount of weeds and irrigation of a grove had no apparent effect on the amount of freeze damage to the trees. But several of the growers agreed that good cultural practices would help prevent extensive tree damage by freezing.

A visit to the USDA rootstock plots revealed that sour orange and cleopatra mandarin were much more cold resistant than rough lemon rootstock. There were several other cold resistant varieties that showed promise of being acceptable rootstock material such as Changsha tangerine and C. Taiwanica, a rootstock from Formosa.

Several grove owners and caretakers explained that their costs of production varied between $125.00 to $250.00 or more per acre of citrus, with the cost varying according to the number of irrigations, number of sprays, location in the Valley, type of soil, etc. Wages of grove workers ranged between 50 and 70 cents per hour, with some labor being available from Mexico.

Irrigation water comes from the Rio Grande River with a small amount coming from wells. This water is pumped from the river and is distributed throughout the irrigation district by gravity flow through concrete-lined flumes and for the most part is metered out when the crop or grove-owner wants to irrigate. Each acre of land in the district is entitled to the same amount of water which is in proportion to the amount in storage behind the Falcon Dam across the Rio Grande River.

Irrigation is a multiple-purpose function supplying not only water but the water carries sufficient soluble phosphorous and potash compounds that none of these two elements need be applied in fertilizers. This water also helps leach away the soluble alkaline salts left when the soil moisture evaporates. Soil Ph in the Valley ranges between [illegible] and 8.[illegible] while the high organic content gives the soil a tremendous buffering action. Most growers apply nitrogen fertilizer in the form of ammonium sulfate.

Nursery men had their particular problems in protecting small trees from the freezing winds and the following radiation cold. Those using high soil banks were able to save sufficient trunk to regrow a tree with a low bushy top. While one grower who flooded his nursery lost the small tree trunk down to the underside of the ice. Some of the growers using sprinklers for frost protection found that the water froze between the time it left the sprinkler nozzle and the time it hit the ground.

The group also met with E. E. Gene Winn, General Manager of Texas Citrus Mutual, who expressed the general air of optimism of the Valley citrus growers. True there were many groves still unpruned for various reasons. About 40 per cent of the groves were owned by non-residents. 60 to 70 per cent of the grove owners belong to Texas Citrus Mutual and pay assessments of 25 cents per ton of fruit or about a cent per box.

Winn pointed out that while the freeze was an economic calmity it was an opportunity for some growers to push out low producing groves and to level their land for better cultivation and irrigation practices; to replant with improved varieties of citrus with more trees per acre. There may be up to 30 per cent of the present grove acreage pushed and replanted. The replantings are expected to increase the acreage of oranges over the present two thirds oranges and one third grapefruit. As for lemons—there will be few if any lemons planted in the near future as the Valley lemons were in full bloom when the freeze hit, consequently, the trees were killed to the bud union and some cases the rootstock died.

To emphasize the extent of the economic loss, Winn told how the Valley had 28 million boxes of citrus before the 1951 freeze, 1960-61 ten million boxes, the 1961-62 estimate was 11 million boxes with about half being harvested. Production this year will probably be 150,000 to 200,000 boxes, next year about two million boxes with a 50 per cent increase for the next three years and during 1967-68 they expect to reach about 18 million boxes.

As a side trip the group crossed the Rio Grande River into Mexico to find that the smooth surfaced highways abruptly end at the [illegible] and are replaced by rutted wrenching dusty roads [illegible] street. The State of Citrus

By John Sikes — Florida Citrus Mutual

LAKELAND—The other day Frank Trovillion, Florida Citrus Mutual's executive assistant, was lured out of the strictly business confines of his executive suite and asked to make like a visionary.

A national citrus trade magazine had asked Mutual to do an article on recent, current and prospective trends in consumer-unit packages of fresh Florida citrus. In short, what is Florida citrus doing about wrapping up take-home quantities of oranges, tangerines and grapefruit in eye-appeal bundles.

Trovillion, who specialized in marketing at the University of Chicago before joining Mutual several years ago to help sell more Florida citrus to more people for more money, was asked to jot down in a memo his thoughts on said pre-packaging.

After nearly a page of technicalities, Trovillion wrote as follows:

"4. Some day-dreaming about future consumer unit packages:

"Looking into the future, following are a few ideas that will probably never come to pass, but which might make interesting reading.

"A. A dozen tangerines packed in a poly bag designed like a stocking for Christmas merchandising.

"B. A dozen oranges packaged in a small treasure chest, or a miniature Bruce box. (Small-sized edition of the familiar orange crate.)

"C. A large bag of grapefruit packaged with two of Mutual's silver-plated or stainless steel grapefruit spoons.

"D. Hand eating oranges, such as tangerines, Temples and Murcotts, already peeled and packaged in an air-tight, clear polyethylene bag."

Maybe this isn't as much day-dreaming as Trovillion indicates in his memo. Food packagers all over are going all-out to present their products to the housewives in most convenient and attractive forms.

Some of today's actual food packages, selling millions of dollars worth of products, doubtless were considered visionary just a few years ago.

Like the man said, without imagination this country could go economically blind.

Soil News

This week the Highlands Soil Conservation District assisted Mr. Lee Keck in developing a conservation farm plan on 70 acres being re-established to citrus in the Hicora area. Also assisted Mr. John C. Cook in developing a plan for 1280 acres of organic land in the Istokpoga Marsh Watershed Project area. Mr. Cook had 320 acres burn last spring during the drought. The Soil Conservation Service Engineers are assisting him in the design of a water control system that will enable him to prevent such a thing from happening again. Fire is always a threat to organic land and is kept in mind by the Soil Conservation Service when designing water control systems.

Last week Mr. Julian O'neal of Lorida, Don Deadwyler of Cornwell, W. M. Payne of Sebring, Oakley Murphy, Avon Park and Bob Hall of Venus were assisted in the design and layout of water control systems for improved pasture. Most of them are preparing to irrigate winter clover with the systems as well as taking off the excess surface water this summer.

Mr. John H. Ausburn, Soil Conservation Service Engineering Technician is now working with the landowners on the first phase of the Upper Josephine-Jackson Creek Watershed to determine the location of the side drainage culverts that will let the water into the proposed channel. The property owners between Lake Josephine and Highway No. 27 are being contacted to determine their needs for outlets into the creek. Mr. Von Maxcy and Mr. C. M. Payne are heading the committee working out the land rights and easement problems with the property owners.

According to D. H. Eary, Soil Conservation Service Watershed Planning Chief in Gainesville, the Istokpoga Marsh work plan is completed for the enter-agency review being planned for later this month, after which it will go to Congress for approval.

Advancement Contest Held By Avon Scouts

What promises to be the greatest contest in advancement in local Scouting is shaping up this week in preparation for the Highlands District Court of Honor, scheduled for September 10 at Sebring Woodlawn Elementary School. The contest lies mainly between Troops 156 and 157, both of Avon Park.

Both Troops sent 16 Scouts each to Camp Brorein this summer. Both Troops have held summer camps and both have been hard at work earning rank advancements and merit badges to be awarded at the Court of Honor next Monday night. The lead has see-sawed between the two troops with the decision still up in the air at press time.

Troop 156, sponsored by the Union Congregational Church, has placed emphasis on the Hiking and Cycling merit badges, while Troop 157, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Avon Park, has emphasized Pioneering, Forestry and Cooking. Both troops have about an equal number of Scouts advancing to 2nd Class, First Class and Star ranks and each have a Scout advancing to Life rank. Neither scoutmaster will hazard a prophecy as to which Troop will win the advancement award.

Each of the Avon Park troops is busy getting out notices to parents and urging their attendance at the Court. Since about 85 per cent of each troop membership roster is receiving one or more advancements, a record-breaking crowd of parents and friends is expected.

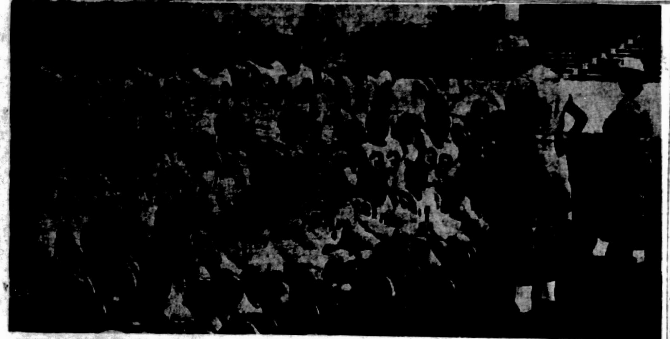
Volume XXXVIII, Number 46 — Avon Park, Florida — Thursday, September 13, 1962 — 10c Per Copy



LAST MINUTE PREPARATIONS—Coaches Joe Franza and Guy Garrett, right, give their football charges some last minute tips this week as they went through final drills in preparation for their opener Friday night in Lake Wales. The Red Devils renew grid relations with the Highlanders for the first time since the latter left the Ridge Conference several years ago. Lake Wales is a member of the Southwest Florida Conference. Red Devil Gridders Open In Lake Wales

Inexperienced Squad To Face Highlanders

Avon Park's young, untried football squad travels to Lake Wales Friday night to take on the Highlanders from the Southwest Florida Conference in the 1962 season pigskin opener. Kick-off time is scheduled for 8 p. m.

The Red Devils, who finished third in the Ridge Conference last season with a 7-3 record, will be meeting the Lake Wales team for the first time since the Highlanders withdrew from the Ridge Conference some years ago. Coach Wes Abrams charges finished in the Southwest Florida Conference cellar last year with a 1-8-1 record, but 20 returning lettermen have brightened prospects for this season.

Lake Wales' backfield is expected to be bolstered this season by 155 pound Terry Kitka, who was moved into the fullback spot. The Highlanders are deep at tackle and will average a heavier line than the light weight Red Devils.

The Red Devils looked encouraging at the annual intersquad Soap Scrimmage last Friday night in spite of the lack of experience at many positions. The eight returning letterman linemen showed up well. Center Randy Rewis, who was switched to end this year, put on quite an exhibition of pass receiving, and end Bill Ward showed promise of filling in at the end slot held down last

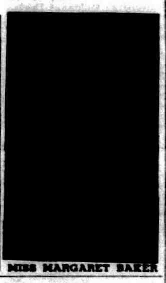
APHS Girls Physical Ed Teacher Is "Ole Miss" Graduate



MISS MARGARET BAKER

Miss Margaret Baker, new girls' physical education director at Avon Park High School, is a native of Memphis, Tenn., and a recent graduate of the University of Mississippi at Oxford.

Miss Baker received her BS at "Ole Miss", shortly before coming to Avon Park. Following her graduation she and a girl friend made a European tour which included 14 countries. Included in their itinerary was a trip to the World Music Festival which Miss Baker had participated in previously as a member of the American team.

In addition to her duties as physical education director, Miss Baker is sponsor of the A-squad and B-squad cheerleaders. She is a member of the Presbyterian Church and lists bowling as a hobby. She resides at the Jacaranda Hotel.

Avon Band Association Plans For New Year; Meeting Held

Preliminary plans for another busy season for the Avon High School band were discussed by members of the Avon Park Band Parents Association at their first meeting of the new school year Monday night.

Presiding at the meeting was association president, R. C. Adams.

Director Victor MicKunas reported to the band parents that he had 71 students in the high school marching unit, including the drum majorettes, and voiced a note of optimism about the band's capabilities again this year.

"We are going to concentrate on precision drills rather than pageantry in our field shows during the football season this year," MicKunas announced. He noted that most Florida high school bands today do a better job in precision drill routines than in the type of halftime shows as presented by his youthful musicians a year ago.

Association members also studied a proposed budget of $2,418 for the coming school year, the biggest item of which was for three musical instruments — baritone saxophone, a concert base drum and a sousaphone—for a total of $1,025.

Other budget items include music $200, instrument repair $200, state band contest $500 and the balance in miscellaneous needs.

Fund raising projects also were discussed by the parents of band members, 36 of whom were at Monday's first session. Plans were tentatively set to sponsor the Red Dvils B football game between Avon Park and Sebring October 4, a repeat of the "Country Store" sale scheduled Saturday, Oct. 27, and a candy sale to be held just prior to Thanksgiving Day in November.

MicKunas said the band would not be ready for the Lake Wales football game at Lake Wales Friday, "but we'll be on the field for the opening game in Avon Park the following week."

Kelly Disposes Of B & E Charges In Circuit Court

A dozen breaking and entering charges were disposed of in Circuit Court this past week.

Judge Clifton Kelly ordered pre-sentence investigations on Bobby Wallace Byars, Junior Dewayne Maloney, Floyd Thomas Phillips and Richard Lee Phillips. All had entered pleas of guilty on charges of breaking and entering. Byars faced two charges, and the Phillips brothers three charges each.

Floyd Phillips also pleaded guilty to auto larceny.

Robert Heeren and Alfred M. Flora, who had previously pleaded guilty to breaking and entering charges, were each placed on five years probation.

Joseph Ryan, also known as J. H. Ray, had previously pleaded not guilty to grand larceny. He was granted permission by the court to withdraw that plea and plead guilty to the lesser count of petit larceny. Judge Kelly deferred sentencing and released Ryan in the custody of Avon Park Attorney David Lanier.

Freddie Lee Walker changed his plea to guilty in an aggravated assault case. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered.

Paul Williams, who pleaded guilty to aggravated assault, was sentenced to spend a year in the county jail.

EIGHT AND FORTY MEET

Mrs. John P. Arnold was hostess to the Eight and Forty of the American Legion Auxiliary at her home in Sebring on Thursday night. During the business session plans were made for the official visit of the Chapeau Departmental which will be in November. A social hour was enjoyed with games and refreshments.

Chamber Plans For Noninations

The Avon Park Chamber of Commerce nominating committee, composed of Paul Jordan, Chairman, R. J. [illegible] and Charles [illegible], is busy selecting names to be put on a ballot which will be mailed out the first week in November to choose six new directors.

Present directors whose terms will expire at the close of this year are: Dr. H. W. Coleman, Hubbard E. [illegible], William Briscoe, Jack DeLaney, Morris Adams and R. G. [illegible].

Twelve names will be placed on the ballot and the top six will be elected to serve for a term of three years. A total of eighteen directors function on the chamber board.

The next regular meeting date will be Thursday, Sept. 20. A dinner has been planned for this meeting to be held at the Avon Park [illegible].

Caution Urged In Sleep Sickness

Mayor E. A. DeLaney yesterday urged all Avon Park area residents to take immediate precautions against the possible infiltration of the dreaded disease, encephalitis or sleeping sickness as it has become known. Carrier of the disease is said to be a mosquito.

DeLaney made the announcement following the death of a Hardee County man Monday. The victim was reported to have contracted the disease while on a visit to a Pinellas County beach last weekend.

The mayor said precautions to be taken are: Remove all stagnant water, cut high weeds, and take notice of old automobile tires where water would stand, or any area where mosquitoes might breed.

Although no outbreaks have been reported in Highlands County, DeLaney was given the go ahead by City Council, Monday night to proceed with plans for obtaining State and Federal aid in a mosquito spraying program.

Red Devil Pitch Fork Missing Over Weekend

Pitchfork theives are up to their old tricks. They have once again gone to great lengths to wrest the pitchfork from the grasp of the Avon Park Red Devil atop the entrance to Avon Park High School.

The thieves have turned out to be more than that this year however. They have stooped to defacing public school property at the same time.

Sometime over the weekend, as has become customary just before football season opens, someone swiped the fork, but while doing so, doused the Red Devil's head with black paint, as well as the side walk below. Several letters were also painted on the school building by the thief-artist.

The latter deed has caused school officials to take a rather dim view of the goings on. They have been good sports and allowed the fork thief in past years, without intervening. However with the damaging of property, things are not expected to go easy with the culprits if caught.

The fork was stolen last year just before the open of the grid season and turned up just before the annual Avon Park-Sebring Thanksgiving eve game.

Boys School Official To Speak At Opening of Juvenile Home

The assistant director of Florida School for Boys at Okeechobee will be the principal speaker for the formal dedication of Highlands County Juvenile Home.

The dedication is set for 4 p. m. on Sunday. Frank Zych's address will highlight the ceremony. Highlands Juvenile Judge Mervin Rehrer and Counselor W. Robert Lindsay are to speak. Mrs. Sadie Kahn, owner of the home who is leasing the house and its grounds to the county on a rent free basis, will speak briefly.

The Rev. Tom W. Jones of Sebring, chairman of the Board of Visitors the supervisors of the home's policies, will be in charge of the dedication service.

An open house at the new juvenile receiving center is set for 2 p. m. and will continue until six.

Several service clubs from the Avon Park, Sebring, and Lake Placid have shared in preparing the home for use, and will assist with the open house Sunday.

Zych is one of the few juvenile authorities who began his association with state institutions as an inmate. After spending some time in a state school for boys Zych completed, going on to college to major in social work and counseling. He has served on the Okeechobee school staff since that school's opening.

The Highlands County Juvenile Home will be officially opened with the beginning of the county fiscal year in October. Highlands County is the only Florida county with less than 50,000 population with a juvenile receiving facility.

Health Official Answers Many Questions On Encephalitis

The following is a statement from Dr. William L. Wright, Assistant State Health Officer of the State Board of Health, answering principal lay questions regarding encephalitis in its various forms.

The word "encephalitis" means inflammation of the brain.

It may be caused by a variety of germs, mostly viruses. It occurs sometimes after a smallpox vaccination (about once in every 700,000 vaccinations) - more frequently as a late complication of such common childhood diseases as measles, mumps, or chickenpox (all virus diseases). It sometimes complicates the "flu".

Another variety of encephalitis is that which, while still caused by viruses, is carried by insects. The most common insect associated with this disease is the mosquito and there are quite a few species which are suspected of being implicated. Ticks and various bird mites are also suspected as carriers but they are not nearly as important as the mosquitoes in outbreaks in humans.

Encephalitis is frequently called "sleeping sickness" and it is this term which makes the illness seem so mysterious and dreadful to people. In most human cases the onset is rather sudden with the ill person complaining of headache, fever, sometimes chills, nausea, perhaps vomiting, generalized pains and an indefinite feeling of general discomfort. Many people with encephalitis will not have any more serious symptoms than these and frequently do not seek any medical help. Others will proceed to develop a stiffness of the neck and will experience in varying degrees a drowsiness or stupor. They may show some mental confusion, have speech difficulties or experience tremors. In serious cases there will be convulsions and coma or unconsciousness.

In this state there have been, at various times in the past decade, a scattering of encephalitis cases reported to the State Board of Health. They have been of the Eastern Equine, Western Equine and St. Louis types. The present outbreak on the gulf coast is of the St. Louis type, as were the 1959 and 1961 cases in the same area.

It is known that a wide variety of birds, both domestic and wild, become infected with this St. Louis strain of encephalitis. Just how the birds continue to harbor and carry the virus we don't know. Ducks, grackles, blue jays, pigeons, chickens, pheasants and many others have been found to be infected from time to time. At one time we thought only the wild migratory birds carried the virus. However, we are not now as certain of this as we used to be. What we do know is that there are still many unanswered questions about just what conditions exist in the west coast area relative to the bird and mosquito populations.

For the most part this virus encephalitis is passed from bird to bird and back again by certain mosquitoes. Apparently the disease cannot be passed from one human to another. Even in the 1933 St. Louis outbreak, when there were 1,100 cases, it was rare to have more than one case in a family.

Almost all cases will be reported as suspects since the physician has only the symptoms and a few physical findings upon which to base a tentative diagnosis. A confirmation of the diagnosis must await either laboratory reports on two blood specimens taken two weeks apart or the culturing of the virus from the patient's blood. The latter is difficult. Since the symptoms will also fit equally as well for a number of other conditions (not encephalitis) many of those reported as encephalitis may well not have it. As the physician gets additional lab reports on the patient's symptoms and physical findings change the number of suspect cases reported will vary. This is the reason for some of the seeming confusion as to the exact number of cases. When a suspect diagnosis is changed to something else this fact is usually not reported and so the case remains on the suspect list and new suspects are added to it, thereby increasing the total.

Autopsy findings are usually reliable for making a fairly certain diagnosis but it is not always possible to get the neces-

Kelton Hill, also a newcomer to the city political arena was runnerup with 541 votes. J B. Sparks, a former councilman, was fifth with 357 votes and Kirkland polled 301.

King is completing his third two year term, while Border has been appointed on two occasions and was elected to a two-year term previously.

The defeated incumbent, Kirkland, had served on the board for 13 years and is chairman of the group at present.

Holdover members of the council are H. M. Farless and Sam McKenzie, along with Mayor E. A. DeLaney.

As is customary here, the defeated candidates were buried in defeat on The Mall, Wednesday morning with clever parting epitaphs adorning the said graves. The grave makers also provided tombs for the two holdover councilmen, predicting results of the election a year hence.

King and Doerr were the most active campaigners of the 11 running, with the former running on a record of opposing spending by the present board. Doerr, an opponent of a talked of utility tax, ran on the theory that the city could operate on present income with increased taxation. Both pledged aid to youth organizations and to help bring industry to the area.

Border, an exponent of the utility tax, cited the increased paving, water lines, and services offered by the city in his platform. He defended his utility tax idea with the thought that additional sewer lines and improvement of plant facilities were necessary if the city was to continue to progress.

County Supervisor of Registration Roland Droit and his assistant David Elliott conducted the election, with the use of three county voting machines.

Council Holds Short Meeting Election Eve

An election eve city council meeting Monday night will go down in history as possible one of the briefest held here. The meeting—including a 10-minute wait on the mayor—lasted about 35 minutes.

Whether or not the three incumbent councilmen seeking reelection were bent on adjourning to do some last minute politicing was not known, but nonetheless they did not tarry long in the council chambers.

Principal item of business was to okay a plan for the city to cooperate with the State and Federal governments in fighting a recent outbreak of encephalitis—sleeping sickness. A mosquito is reported to be the chief carrier of the disease.

The dreaded disease which affects the brain, is now plagueing the West Coast of Florida and has been blamed for a number of deaths.

Although no deaths or cases of encephalitis have been reported in Highlands County, a Hardee County man succumbed Monday from the disease following a weekend visit to a Pinellas County beach.

Mayor E. A. DeLaney is handling the assignment to work out a spraying program to combat mosquitoes in the area. He urged residents to take special precautions to empty stagnant water, cut high weeds and remove any objects that mosquitoes would tend to breed in.

DANCE AT LEGION HOME

Schools Record Increase In Attendance

Although some Highlands County classrooms are slightly crowded, County School Superintendent Andy Miracle says there is no accute problem at present.

Miracle told the County School Board Tuesday night that there is a little problem at several of the schools, but that this is being worked out. The teacher load for Highlands County was not increased this year, based on the attendance records for last school term. During that term an influenza epidemic hit the schools, resulting in mass absenteeism at many of the schools.

Total enrollment of county schools as of Monday was [illegible] more than on opening day. The biggest increase reported in white schools was at Avon Park, with Sebring second. Hopewell School here was tops in the Negro division.

School Board Vice President Henry [illegible] presided at the meeting in the absence of President [illegible] who is on vacation.

Washington Report

By Congressman Jim Haley

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Last week, to illustrate the importance of the seniority system in the workings of the legislative branch of our national government, I wrote some notes about the reasons our Southern bloc of lawmakers are able to wield such great influence in the House and Senate.

Following that up, I would like this week to tell you a little bit about how the House is organized to carry out its functions (the Senate, basically, is similarly organized). Fundamentally, our government is a two-party government, and this is reflected by the make-up of The Congress. It is rare in either the House or the Senate that a member is not a Democrat or a Republican.

The House, at the beginning of each new Congress, is organized by whichever party is in the majority. This means that the majority party (it has been the Democrats in every Congress except two since 1931) elects the speaker and all the other officers of the House—and names the chairmen of all the standing committees. This is vital to effective majority party control, for the bulk of grinding in the legislative mill is done in the various committees, not on the Floor.

Now, before the House actually is organized, both parties hold their own sessions, known generally as caucuses—in which they decide who will be their nominees for the speakership and the various other House officers who are elected at the opening session. Each party [illegible] candidate for the speakership because theoretically it is possible for any [illegible] a member of the [illegible] to be elected to [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] party [illegible] of [illegible] by chaos [illegible] the [illegible] both the Democrats and the Republicans, after having settled their factional disputes behind the closed doors of their own caucuses, pledge their members to support the party's nominees for the speakership and other posts. Thus, many years ago, when the late Sam Rayburn of Texas was chosen for the first time as the Democratic nominee for speaker, he faced opposition in the caucus from several sources. But when the matter came to the floor for a final vote, all Mr. Rayburn's opponents, and their backers as well, voted for him. Had the party stayed divided after the caucus, the minority Republicans could have, by uniting behind their own candidate, have elected a minority member as Speaker of a Democratic House. This same situation occurred last January when John McCormack of Massachusetts was elected speaker. McCormack had opposition from several sources in the party caucus—but when election time came, his opponents joined, as they were pledge to do, in electing him over the Republican candidate.

If we are to have an effective Congress, the majority must control it. Members of the majority may disagree, as they most always do, on specific items of legislation. But they cannot disagree, after the majority of the majority has spoken in caucus, on election of the speaker, for that would be the road to utter chaos.

The Farm Front

Doyle Conner

A former Minnesota resident now making his home in Florida, returned to Tallahassee recently after an extended visit to the Northwest. He reports many changes are visible in the cities and towns of the states he visited in the short space of five years since he last travelled through that part of the country.

"It does a person a lot of good to get away now and then and see other states," he reports. "This is a big country we live in. If we don't see other parts of it periodically we're apt to lose the perspective we should have in evaluating the good points and the shortcomings, too, of our state.

"We talk about mountains in some of our southern states. But until you see the Rockies and other western ranges, you don't appreciate what mountains can be. Travelling through them, you wonder how in the world anyone ever had the courage to tackle them and find the passes that make it possible to continue on to the Pacific.

"When you're over the Great Divide and coasting down the western slope, you marvel at the fortitude of the pioneers who endured months of hardship and dangers to creep by wagon train over such rugged territory."

"Air travel is splendid if you're in a hurry. But if you want to see the country and get the feel of it, its vastness, the endless sweep of western prairies and plains, a glimpse of sterile badlands and the grandeur of snow-capped mountain peaks — you must travel by highway or rail through the Northwest."

The Florida traveller reports Minnesota still has no state meat inspection. Because it is an important dairy state, Minnesota's controls over milk products are comprehensive. Unlike Florida, however, it has neglected to establish its own meat inspection to protect its consumers of meats produced outside of Federal inspection.

Minnesota's legislative research committee reported recently one-fifth of the meat consumed in the state is not inspected for wholesomeness. While admitting the need for a state meat inspection law, the committee is not recommending it to the next legislature. The reason: it would cost about $500,000 a year to maintain and the committee members are just as budget conscious as legislators of many other states.

I feel that we are fortunate to have in Florida the protection of an efficient State Meat Inspection service. It is rated as one of the best in the nation. The money spent to maintain it is well worthwhile because it provides vital protection for our consumers and an important service to our Florida meat and livestock industries.

Incidentally, the Florida traveller noted the price of milk to consumers in Minnesota's Twin Cities has been boosted a cent a quart. The reason: an intensive drive to combat a recent rise in the level of iodine-131, by-product of nuclear fallout, in fluid milk. Dairy farmers are being urged to feed their cows only on "aged feed" instead of on fresh pasture. They're being paid a higher price (such feed costs more) in order to assure a safe supply of fluid milk. Radiation testing of milk in Minnesota is being stepped up.

Florida growers are not the only ones facing labor shortages at harvest time. While he was in Seattle, our Florida traveller noted news reports of daily pleas for pickers to harvest truck and berry crops. On one day when 1,800 pickers were needed only a few hundred showed up. It's easy to see why there's so much pressure for more and more mechanical harvesting devices.

In contrast, wheat harvesting was underway in Montana, North Dakota and Washington when our traveller passed through. Squads of combines were stripping the fields with the efficiency born of long experience in harvesting grains from Texas to Saskatchewan. Now and then a caravan of harvesters was to be seen on the highways — the combines on trucks with trailers, followed by buses with the crews, mess trucks and even mobile machine shops to handle repairs.

Grain harvesting on America's western plains is probably one of the best organized and efficient mechanical harvesting operations in the world.

Letters To The Editor

Sept. 6, 1962

Avon Park Sun
Avon Park, Fla.
Dear Editor,

During an Election Campaign, and for some time thereafter, we develop an awareness for the serious aspects of our city administration. It is regrettable that we cool off too soon, and fall back on our disappointed hopes and shattered confidence.

Too often the remark is heard, before and after, that no matter who is elected, the results will be the same; those who win a seat will have their hands tied, or will be pressurized into the same old administrative groove. So "What's The use", say we, " 'Twill Always Be Thus".

Then there follows a period where we retreat to lick our wounds, and feel sorry for ourselves. Many feel that an entirely new chamber of councilmen would have saved the day for our fair city. Wouldn't it be wonderful, if it could be as simple as that.

This writer feels that the Great Fault reposes on the door-step of We The People. We are suffering from the meanest of all maladies, that of plain Belly-ache. Those of us who are thus afflicted would surely welcome a simple remedy.

For a change, why not try being a participator, rather than a spectator. We might even catch on to being a "Good Sport".

Awareness of our being a part of city administration and a willingness to enter into community progress, - there's that word again, - will go a Fur Piece in easing the tensions of council seats. It would lessen the necessity of our Councilmen spending so much effort in keeping a tight-rein on one-another. Don't think for a moment they love it.

What to do about it?

1. Try leaning forward, - it makes pulling easier.
2. Criticize, - but be impersonable about it.
3. Differ with your friends on a charitable basis.
4. Write a letter to your Editor. He has big shoulders and don't mind you crying on them.

Don't forget, - Councilmen do read the newspaper.

Marsh Hen To Be First Game Of Hunt Season

TALLAHASSEE—Marsh hen hunters will open Florida's 1962-63 hunting season at sunrise Saturday, September 15, according to A. D. Aldrich, director, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission. The day's hunting will end at sunset.

Hunting the migratory rails and gallinules (marsh hens) will be allowed for 65 consecutive days ending November 18. Bag limits for all rails and gallinules, except sora rail, is 15 for day's bag and 30 for total possession. Daily bag limit for sora rail is set at 25, with a total possession of 25.

The clapper rail will be the primary species taken. Other prominent species include the Virginia, king, black, and sora rail. Hunters will also take the Florida and purple gallinules.

Although rails and gallinules are found throughout the state, the majority of the hunting is done in tidal marsh areas along the coastlines. However, most of the successful marsh hen hunting is done in a tier of six counties along Florida's Northeast coast—Nassau, Duval, St. Johns, Flagler, Volusia and Brevard counties—and two counties along the western Gulf Coast—Gulf and Franklin.

Hunting in other counties is becoming more popular as more hunters take advantage of early hunting dates applying to marsh hens.

It has been estimated that Florida hunters harvest from 45,000 to 60,000 marsh hens each season.

Under the Migratory Bird Act, marsh hen hunters must have their shotguns plugged to three-shell capacity. Rifles are always prohibited when taking migratory birds. Duck stamp is not required for marsh hens.

Mushroom To Be Studied

GAINESVILLE—A University of Florida chemical engineer this week proposed the mushroom could be a silent agent for utilizing this nation's wastes, rebuilding ailing soils and fostering unexpected economies for cities.

Dr. S. S. Block, the engineer - speaking before a scientific meeting at Corvallis, Oregon - used the proposal based on laboratory results to dramatize the need for engineering procedures in waste disposal and methods of utilizing the nation's wastes.

He said the luxury food item thrives on compost built of food wastes. He has successfully grown edible, vitimin and mineral-rich mushrooms in garbage, sewage sludge and sawdust, and has equalled (proportionately) yields by commercial growers.

Production Of Pulpwood Up In State

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 5—Pulpwood production in Florida increased eight per cent last year over the year before.

Statistics compiled by the U. S. Forest Service, in cooperation with the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association, showed Florida pulpwood production during 1961 totaled 2,058,749 standard cords. Of this volume 95 per cent was pine, the remaining five per cent, hardwood.

Florida counties leading in pulpwood harvesting during the year were Baker, Bradford, Clay, Columbia, Duval, Escambia, Flagler, Hamilton, Marion, Nassau, Putnam, St. Johns, Santa Rosa, Taylor and Volusia—each with 50,000 or more cords.

Top three counties in production were Nassau with 106,581 cords, St. Johns with 98,180 cords and Hamilton with 97,482.

Statewide harvesting of hardwood for pulp was less than half the 1960 production of 233,102 cords.

In addition to the pulpwood harvested in Florida, another 1,600,000 cords of pulpwood were imported from adjoining states. This made Florida mills' total output of pulp rank third among all the states in the nation.

Throughout the South there are 81 pulp mills with a daily capacity of 51,156 tons. Ten of these are located in Florida.

In the southern states during 1961, only one new pulp mill went into operation, according to the production report. In the past five years, however, plant capacity in the South has increased by one-third. The 1960-61 increase in plant capacity was the smallest in any single year since 1946.

U. of Florida Tech Laboratory

GAINESVILLE — The University of Florida announced this week the completion of a special technology laboratory for training engineering students.

Dean Joseph Weil of the University's College of Engineering said this laboratory will stimulate training in space oriented technology.

Equipment valued at over $230,000 on the open market was obtained by the College of Engineering at a fraction of its original value from the Atlantic Missile Range at Cape Canaveral where it was used in launching, tracking, and guiding missiles.

Recorders, oscillators, computers, plotters, telemeters, amplifiers and associated equipment have been fused into the core of a completely automated laboratory for instruction in missile-satellite technology.

The State of Citrus

By John Sikes — Florida Citrus Mutual

LAKELAND — A Florida Citrus Mutual committee, composed of three members of Mutual's board of directors, has been named to seek "reasonable solutions to the problems posed by discriminatory taxation of citrus groves".

"Land re-assessments and re-evaluations underway or recently completed in various Florida counties pose grave problems to all agricultural interests," Mutual's Bob Rutledge said. "At issue is a basic consideration, should farmers' real estate taxes be based on the land's value in the particular farming operations, or on a theoretical, potential value determined by encroaching housing or industrial development?

"It is Mutual's contention that agricultural lands should pay a just proportion of taxes based on actual earnings or net income derived from current use and not upon some theoretical or speculative figure."

Rutledge pointed out that Mutual supported enactment of Florida's "Green Belt Act", which gives county commissioners the right to zone lands as agricultural and empowers county tax assessors to make valuations on the basis of agricultural use.

"Further, we have made special appeals to county tax assessors on many occasions urging that the agricultural and not the real estate value be made the basis of assessment for taxes," Rutledge said.

In a study of taxation of Florida citrus properties, Herman F. Steele, Mutual assistant general manager, reported to Mutual's board:

"For some 200 mature citrus groves for which records are available, state and county taxes averaged $7.82 per acre for the 28-year period ending with the 1958-59 season.

"However, for the last three years of this period these taxes averaged $13.42 per acre, or nearly double the figure for the 28-year period.

"Due to re-appraisals and determination of assessment values in many citrus-producing counties, the tax-load on citrus properties is moving upward at an alarming extent."

The Mutual Citrus Land Taxation committee, named by President W. Max Acree of DeLand to seek solutions to this problem, is composed of Chairman Robert J. Barben of Avon Park, Fred H. Adkinson of Minneola and Chester J. Karst of Orlando.

McDaniels Host Avon Teachers

Mr. and Mrs. David P. McDaniel entertained Friday night for the teachers of the Avon Elementary School, with an Open House at their home on East Oak Street.

Invited guests included the teachers and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. George Kelsey, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Miracle and Mr. and Mrs. James P. Turnbull. Mr. Turnbull is president of the Elementary PTA.

The dining table was overlaid with a lace cloth and the large punch bowl centered the table with an arrangement of fern and blossoms. Cookies, nuts and mints were served with the punch. Mrs. Russell Boaz presided at the table.

Avon Park School Teachers Are Honored By Legion Post No. 69

More than two hundred enjoyed the ham dinner at the Legion Hall on Thursday night when the Post No. 69 and the Auxiliary hosted the affair honoring the teachers of Avon Park and the administrative staff of the county schools. Each teacher and their entire family was invited as guests.

Heads of the two organizations, Grover C. Bates, and Mrs. Ben T. Stewart, welcomed the group, which assembled under the shade trees in the yard where the Rev. Russell C. Boaz gave the invocation before the guests were ushered inside the building.

A back-to-school theme was prevelant in all of the decorations with Fall shades of croton leaves and Summer flowers being used to center the tables. Large slates on the wall bore the names of the school principals and county superintendent, behind where they were seated. Miniature slates with childish markings were at each place for favors. The Junior members of the auxiliary had made all of the decorations. Legion members had prepared the food with the assistance of the Auxiliary, as a part of their community service program.

Mrs. Stewart, in her remarks to the group, explained the Education and Scholarship fund, which amounted to $6,000, being spent in the state last year to assist students in their higher education. Also, two $1,000 scholarships were given in the Southeastern Division, as well as other financial aid to students. She also expressed appreciation to the schools for the help in the selection of the boys and girls who each year attend the Boys State and Girls State in Tallahassee under the supervision of the Legion and its Auxiliary. She spoke of the Poppy Program, the Child Welfare Program and various other services rendered by the organizations.

County School Superintendent, Andrew W. Miracle, responded for the teachers and guests.

Chaplain Howard Clark gave the closing prayer at the end of the program.

Birthday Party For Bob Watson

Robert Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Watson, celebrated his seventh birthday with a party at his home on East Canfield Street, Saturday afternoon.

Robert's mother had baked a large cake, decorated with the names of each of the invited guests. As the cake was cut and served each child got the piece of cake with their name. "Happy Birthday" inscribed on the top and the seven burning candles decorated the cake. Punch and ice cream was served with the cake. Crepe paper and balloons decorated the party area with fancy hats and masks for each child. Noise makers and baskets of candy were given as favors.

Guests included Janice Murphy, Janice Turnbull, Malenda Barben, Ricky Lanier, Jill, Glenn and Carl Stone, Susan Lee, Ricky, Rita and Randy Rich, Beth, Sue and Sara Ann Ferguson, John Thomas Write, Andy Prescott, Robert Varnes, Pat DeLaney, Steve Childress, Allen DeLaney, Kent Filppula, Linda Padgett, Kathleen Ladwig, Paula Jean Allen, Dee Flowers and Ray Watson.

Garden Clubs To Meet Sept. 20

The Avon Park Federation of Garden Clubs will hold a covered dish luncheon on Thursday, September 20, at the Woman's Club House, at noon, following the meeting at 10:30 a. m.

The guest speaker will be Mrs. Jeannie Niswonger of Lakeland, who will show slides of wild flowers and birds of the Everglades and Dry Fortugas Island. Mrs. Niswonger is a newspaper correspondent and members should look forward to a most interesting program on September 20.

Ridge Theatre Group To Open '62-'63 Season

Ridge Theatre Guild, Highlands's County Little Theatre Group, opens its 1962-1963 season on Thursday, Sept. 13, at 8:00 p m in the Home Economics Room of Sebring High School.

Mrs. Dorothy Clark, president of the organization, has announced that at that time there will be election of officers for the 1962-1963 season, as well as a report from the play-reading committee as to prospective productions for the forthcoming season.

Mrs. Clark advises further that, although cards have been sent to some former members and a few prospective members, this meeting is open to all Highlands County residents interested in this Little Theatre Group. Besides actors and actresses, there are needed administrative workers, workers behind the stage, as well as workers in front of the stage.

Ridge Theatre Guild last season produced "Bus Stop" and "Morning At Seven." In the past they have produced such hits as "Our Town," "George Washington Slept Here," "My Three Angels," and many others.

Sebring Golf Women Open New Season

The Sebring Women's Golf Association held its first meeting of the season on Luncheon Day, Sept. 4th with Katherin Waggaman presiding.

Twenty-four members were present and one guest. Hostesses were: Jane Rapp and Mae Hughes.

Winners of the day were: In the 18-hole group — low gross, Mar Bodenham; low net, Arlene Johnson, Penny Putts, Terry Akin; Blind Bogey, Al Linville. 9-hole group, low net, Mabel Saffell.

The Tropical State Bank Tournament was postponed to October 3rd, Luncheon Day.

A Ringer Tournament is now in progress, which started Sept. 4th and ends in Nov. 30th.

Constitution Week Is Slated

The week beginning September 17th has been designated by an Act of Congress and by Proclamation of the President as Constitution Week. The Bill of Rights, the first ten amendments to the Constitution are rights that Englishmen had won through the centuries, that the Colonists had declared in their Bill of Rights and that a war, the American Revolution had been fought to preserve.

Our Constitution is the eternal monument of the men who died at Lexington and Valley Forge. We have every reason to be proud of our country. Our government is the freest and finest on earth. It is our mission to keep it so.

Capt. McGuire Attends Course At Staff College

Fort Leavenworth, Kansas (AHTNC) Army Capt William R McGuire, 31, whose wife Eleanor, lives in Odum, Ga., is attending the 26th associate course at The Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kan

The associate course is designed to prepare select officers from all components of the Army for duty as commanders and general staff officers. Officers from 15 allied nations are also attending the course.

The college, the Army's senior tactical school, was established in 1881 as the School of Application of Infantry and Cavalry.

Captain McGuire entered the Army in 1949

The captain, son of Mrs. Cora F McGuire, Lake Placid, Fla, is a 1958 graduate of Avon Park (Fla) High School.

July Sales Tax Falls Below August Business

TALLAHASSEE — State Comptroller Ray E. Green said today August sales tax collections for July's business totaled $14,514,229, a decrease of $542,852, or 3.6 per cent under July collections of 1962.

Green said that although collections fell under July's revenue, they topped his estimate for the month by $177,489 and were 8.17 per cent or $1,097,223 over August of last year.

The comptroller pointed out, however, that the increase over August of last year would be substantial in view of the fact collections for the first six months of fiscal 1961-62 lagged behind the estimate for the period.

"We are pleased that collections passed our estimate for August in view of the fact that July business for hotels and motels was reported to have been the worse month this year as compared with last year," the comptroller said.

Green said the statement was issued by a Miami accounting firm, representing the hotel industry, in making a report to the hotel and motel industry.

"Further evidence of the drop was presented by an official of the Dade (Miami) Port Authority who said tourism took a $3 million decrease during July. We predicted that Florida's tourist industry would be hurt by the Eastern Air Lines strike. We are most fortunate it was not worse, and hope the situation will return to normal within the immediate future."

July and August collections totaled $29,571,311, or 2.41 per cent over the estimate for the two months, he said.

"We need an increase of 8 per cent during the current fiscal year over 1961-62 to make the estimate of $194 million in revenue needed from this source to meet our obligations," the comptroller said. "Our estimate for September collections is $14,955,365."

Mrs. Arthur B. Moehlman, of Naples, Fla., with her granddaughter, Grace Alzamora, of Lima, Peru, were weekend guests of Mrs. C. H. Moehlman.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Coburn visited Mr. and Mrs. Al Sendker, of Sarasota, last Thursday and Friday.

Mr. Les Fowler met with an accident that resulted in a serious eye injury. At last report he was coming along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Haines, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Castine drove to Clearwater Sunday and had dinner at The Kapok Tree [illegible] it was the Castine's 29th anniversary.

[illegible] members enjoyed an evening of cards at the Tuesday night card party at the club house.

Work has begun on two additional shuffleboard courts at the club house.

My Great-Great Grandad

My Great Great Granddad
must have been
A stout old boy,
Through thick and thin
He lasted till at ninety-seven
He went to rest somewhere in Heaven
At least that's what the gravestone said
Which recently I found
and read.

Sometimes I feel a little sad,
Thinking of my great-great
granddad,
Who lived when times
were mortal slow.
When nobody had a radio
So never got the news red hot
Served with the morning
coffee pot.
He never had a motor car,
So never traveled fast or far
From his fireside. Behind
old Kate
He drove perhaps some six or eight
Slow miles per hour,
or walked the road
Gee-hawing his oxen
with a goad.
He never once was vitimized,
He never was psychoanalyzed.
He read his Bible by candle light,
And when he went to bed
at night
He shut his windows
good and tight.
He knew the night air
wasn't good.
At least that's what he understood.

Yet I needn't pity that grand old guy.
No doubt he happily
lived as I.
He may have thought it fine
to be Alive in that great century,
When Andrew Jackson,
Henry Clay,
And Daniel Webster
had their day
Napoleon then was dead
and gone,
And Adolph Hitler
not yet born.
For Germany, Russia
or Japan,
He never gave a
tinker's damn.
No doubt he sweated
o'er plough and ax,
But never over an income tax.
Some things that give us
little joy
Just never bothered that old boy.
His sun was just as bright,
the breeze
That whispered through his maple trees
Was fresh as now;
as sweet the rose
That blossomed in his garden close.
He lived his life in God's own way,
So with due reverence
let me now say,
Requiescat in pace,
That stout progenitor of me.
H. J. Fenton

Coffee Club Lends A Hand

More than a dozen members of the Friday Morning Coffee Club went to the new Juvenile Home near Sebring on Friday where they assisted with cleaning and getting the house ready for occupancy. They took towels and other supplies for the home, and also plenty of cleaning supplies.

During the morning's work they stopped for a refreshing cup of coffee and snacks which they each had brought along.

IN MARCHING CHIEFS

Miss Anita Luscomb has been selected to become a member of The Marching Chiefs section of the Florida State University Band. Anita will enter the University as a Freshman this year. LIFE'S LABORATORY

Have you ever thought of your life as a laboratory? There are no test tubes and no scientific textbooks to aid us in our study, but we've been given other aids more important still. We call them God's formulas for living.

ARE WE AFRAID? Then we may test the Christ-given formula, "Be not afraid, only believe."

ARE WE LONELY? Then we reach for the promise of the Lord, "And lo, I am with you alway . . ."

DO WE DOUBT THAT GOD CARES? Then we can analyze for ourselves the message of the Christ, "God so loved the world that He gave His Son . . . "

These are only a few of the formulas for our lives.

To test them we must first know them. The Church is ready to teach. We shall need direction also. The Church offers us the help of consecrated pastors and leaders.

Let's go to Church and learn the transforming power of God's formulas in the laboratories of our lives.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Red Devil Band Elects Officers

The APHS Red Devil Marching Band elected officers for the year of 1962-63 at a meeting held Friday, September 7.

Tommy Hallam was elected captain of the band. Diane Landress, 1st Lt. and secretary; Jimmy Rehrer, 2nd Lt. and quartermaster; Tom Olsen and Eddie Bates, sergeants; and Sharon Lee, 2nd Lt. and publicity.

These new officers, elected by their fellow band members, conducted the first meeting of the band when they discussed rules that would be enforced for the coming year.

Two marching rehearsals were held before the opening of school, and according to the members, they did really good. The band is beginning to work on new shows, which will include pageantry. They are also beginning a new phase of programming which will include a lot of precision drill work. This will require more practice but the band members are expected to show the usual Red Devil spirit in this extra work.

New uniforms have been issued to each member. Bob Lee was assisted by Mrs. R. P. DeLaney and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Adams with fitting and issuing the uniforms.

One part of the band held their first public appearance when they played for the political rally held on September 8, on the Mall.

Victor MicKunas, director of the band, states that he expects this to be one of the best years the band has ever had.

Peace Ridge Scottish Rite Club To Meet

Peace Ridge Scottish Rite Club had as their guests at the dinner meeting held at the Jacaranda Hotel, Bro. F. F. Bickerstaff, 32nd degree General Chairman of Membership and Minister of State Tampa Consistory K.C.C.H.; William H. Moore, 32nd degree Master of Tampa Chapter of Rose Croix; Marshall P. Summers, Jr., 33rd degree Assistant Secretary Tampa Bodies, and John P. Rogers, 32nd degree Chairman Tampa Area Membership Committee.

Master of ceremonies for the evening was L. E. Reas of Wauchula, Local Membership Chairman of memberships.

Pictures were shown and talks made by Summers, Rogers and Bickerstaff as a kick-off rally for the October class to be held at Jacksonville. At this time it is hoped that there will be a class of 1,000 in honor of illustrious Frank H. Thompson, 33rd degree Sovereign Grand Inspector General in Florida.

Any Master Mason desiring information relative to this class should contact any Scottish Rite Club members or the secretary, R. M. Duthie.

A short business session was held and the meeting was turned over to the Tampa delegation. Thirty-seven men were present.

The first Wednesday night in October was designated as Ladies Night.

ATTENDS GORDON MILITARY

Buren Eugene Alsobrook, son of Mrs. R. D. Alsobrook, Avon Park, is among the largest enrollment in the history of Gordon Military College, Barnesville, Ga. The school recently opened for its 111th year. Students from 26 states and several outside countries are registered at the school.

Here and There—

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Luscomb have returned from a vacation trip through the New England states where they visited relatives.

Ralph Luscomb, who spent the summer in Oregon where he was employed by the Deschutes National Forest near Crescent, arrived home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Plettl Hendrick are enjoying a vacation at Miami Beach. They also spent a few days at Naples on the Gulf before going to Miami.

Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson of Gary, New York, arrived this week and have taken an apartment on East Canfield Street.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Heim spent the weekend in Jacksonville with relatives.

Mrs. Cora Wray is in Tampa with her daughter and son-in-law, Sgt. and Mrs. Frank Waddell. Mrs. Wray has been ill since leaving Avon Park.

High School PTA To Meet Thurs.

The first meeting of the Avon Park High School PTA will be held Thursday night, September 20 at 7:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Program for the meeting will be threefold. There will be a demonstration by the new language laboratory, a demonstration of the SRA reading laboratory and a question and answer period relative to the new Communism vs Americanism Course that is being taught in the county schools this year.

Parents will have an opportunity after the program to meet the teachers that will be instructing their children. They are urged to attend this meeting.

TO MILITARY SCHOOL

Jimmy Renfro and Bobbie Durden left last week for Milledgville, Georgia where they will attend the Georgia Military School.

Scout Troop 157 Holds Camp At Arbuckle

Seventeen Boy Scouts of Troop 157, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Avon Park, spent the past weekend under tents at their Troop campsite on Lake Arbuckle. The group left from the Episcopal Parish House, temporary Troop meeting place, just minutes before a terrific windstorm struck the area. Camp was set up and cooking under way before rain reached the campsite.

Since rain canceled planned campfire ceremonies Friday evening, time was spent working on merit badges and practicing making fire by friction in preparation for the District Camporee in October.

Special guest for dinner Friday was Scoutmaster Norman Cook of Troop 156 who demonstrated to the scouts the making of fire-by-friction sets and the use of the sets in starting a fire. Cook and Mr. Roy Bennett worked with the boys on fire-by-friction while Dr. Brooks Henderson worked with advanced scouts on First Aid merit badge.

Saturday was spent with groups working on first aid, nature study, signaling, swimming and canoeing. Life Scouts, Chuck Seibold, Bill Fries and Nelson Varnes acted as instructors as well as Dr. Henderson and Bennett. The two canoes were kept in constant action with each scout getting the opportunity of trying his skill at paddling, beaching, and righting an overturned canoe.

All cooking was supervised by Life Scout Bill Fries, who built up an enviable reputation as chef based upon a concoction called "Boston Beef Hash".

Camp was struck after breakfast Sunday morning and the Scouts returned home in time for Sunday worship services.

Scouts participating in the camp were: Bill Fries, Chuck Seibold, Nelson Varnes, Gary Bennett, Fred Crawford, Kenneth Sasser, Bruce Bennett, Chester Bennett, Charles Rewis, Craig Henderson, Chuck Watson, Ricky Green, Ed Reck, Bill Reck, Bob Barben, Jim Nunnallee and Buddy Winegard. Adults aiding in the camp in addition to those named above were: Earl Green, Ray Bennett, H. T. Sasser, Bill Bennett and Scoutmaster Franklyn Ward.

WSCS Circle Two At Gerrard Home

Mrs. R. A. Gerrard was hostess to Circle Two of the WSCS at her home on Tuesday afternoon with ten members present, and one new member welcomed into the group. Mrs. Sherwood Stonemetz was co-hostess for the meeting.

The program, "What Missions Mean to Me", was presented by Mrs. I. L. Hall, Mrs. Frank LaFallette, Mrs. Hubert Bussard and Mrs. Ben Stewart.

Cake and ice cream was served at the close of the meeting.

A recent study indicates that drinking coffee after drinking alcoholic beverages may actually add to the drinker's confusion, according to the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program.

Mrs. Carrier Is Circle Hostess

Circle Six of the WSCS was entertained by Mrs. J. L. Carrier, Tuesday morning, at her home on East Pine street. Upon arrival the ladies enjoyed hot coffee and fancy pastries served from the dining table.

Mrs. Allen Kindel was assisted by Mrs. Vi Carlisle and Mrs. Elizabeth Winkler in presenting the program on missions. Ten members were present.

Circle Three At Mrs. Riggins

Mrs. A. F. Riggins was hostess to Circle Three at her home on N. Anoka Street, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Fern Kerr, circle chairman, conducted the business. Mrs. Riggins gave the program which was entitled, "Missions".

At the close of the meeting the ladies enjoyed a refreshing lime delight with cookies. Ten members including one new member were present

Classes Open For Younger Retardates

Five young retarded children began school at the Ridge Area Day School Monday. The class, sponsored by the Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children solely through contributions from interested citizens, is taught by Mrs. Donald Webb. All of the five pupils are boys and vary in age from 7 to 11. Tests indicate that they are not yet ready for the more intense schooling of the class carried on at the Day School by the Highlands County Board of Public Instruction.

The class meets five days a week from 9 to 12 only. Transportation must be provided by the parents and a nominal tuition charge is made, although scholarships are provided by several civic clubs for those children whose parents cannot bear the burden of the tuition. For most of these children, the class is a continuation of the experimental class begun last March. Results were so encouraging that the needed funds to continue the class for a whole school year are being raised.

Lack of volunteer help during school hours has been a handicap so far. Volunteers are needed both in the younger class and in the older class. Persons interested in serving as volunteers should contact Mrs. G. F. Ward, president of the RAARC, Avon Park, GLendale 3-4433 or Rev. Tom Jones, Chairman of School Affairs Committee, Sebring EVergreen 3-0352. No teaching experience is necessary.

The Day School has put on a polished appearance because of the efforts of the children's parents at two work days during August when floors were scrubbed, walls brushed and windows washed in each classroom. Volunteers during the summer mowed and weeded the lawn. A monkey swing is ready for hanging on the big oak tree in the play yard.

Country Club Membership Policy Changed

The Board of Directors of the Avon Lakes Country Club met Thursday, September 6, 1962, at the Clubhouse and voted to discontinue the requirement that all members spend a minimum of $10.00 per month in the dining room.

The dining room has become a very popular eating place with the members and their guests. It will continue to serve food as before. Persons interested in membership should contact the membership committee - Chairman, John C. Wright or Bob Young and secure application blanks.

Dues are $100.00 per year for Family Golf Membership and $30.00 per year for Family Social. All dues are payable in four quarterly payments, in advance of the period covered. Out of town guests of members may enjoy all privileges of the club. Green's fees are $2.00 all day.

Use of the golf course by local residents as guests of members is limited to four times per year. The course is in fine shape and Winter rye grass will be planted on the greens in October.

Controls Set On Importing Of Chickens

TALLAHASSEE — Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner announced recently he has promulgated amended regulations governing imports of live chickens and turkeys in a campaign for early control and final eradication of infectious laryngotracheitis in Florida's poultry flocks.

Widely supported by the state's poultry industry, and recently recommended by Conner's livestock technical advisory committee, the amended regulations become effective September 15.

According to Dr. C. L. Campbell, director of the Division of Animal Industry, the disease has been a costly problem in other states. Because it first appeared in Florida about a year to 18 months ago, its extent now is limited, so early action to combat it is expected to be effective in preventing its further spread, and eventually wiping it out.

Concerning imports of chickens, the amended regulations specify that: "Chickens over 14 days of age shipped into Florida other than those consigned to recognized slaughtering establishments must be accompanied by permit issued by the state veterinarian of Florida. Application for permit must show the number, age and breed of chickens to be shipped, name and address of producer, hatchery source, and record of vaccination against disease, and must be co-signed by a veterinarian certifying that the chickens to be shipped are in good health and show no evidence of disease."

Chickens, and turkeys for breeding purposes, "must be shipped in new, unused, or cleaned and disinfected crates."

Campbell has stated his Division will strictly control the "live," or "hot," vaccine which is used to fight infectious laryngotracheitis, and has warned flock owners not to attempt any "bootlegging" of vaccine. Sale and use of the vaccine in Florida is prohibited without permission in writing from his office. A representative of his Division will supervise all vaccinations.

"Wholehearted support by the poultry industry should enable us to eradicate infectious laryngotracheitis in Florida," Conner said. "Full co-operation of all flock owners with all the rules and regulations which the Division of Animal Industry must enforce will greatly assist us to prevent any further spread of this costly disease."

Troop 157 Edges Troop 156 For Court of Honor Advancement Spot

Wild cheers broke out at the Highlands District Court of Honor Monday evening at Woodlawn School, Sebring as announcement was made that Troop 157, sponsored by the Avon Park Rotary Club, had won the advancement ribbon with a total of 505 points. Runner-up was Troop 156, sponsored by the Avon Park Congregational Church, with 445 points. Other troops were far behind. Thus ended the battle between the two Avon Park troops that began a month ago with the lead see-sawing between the front-runners.

The point scores are based upon troop registration with 15 points for 2nd Class advancement, 20 points each for advancement to 1st Class, Star, and Life and 25 points to Eagle. Five points are awarded for each merit badge earned. District Advancement Chairman Don Pillinger announced that Troop 157's record averaged 21 points per scout. Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Bill Fries accepted the Advancement Ribbon for Troop 157.

Troop 157 also was awarded the Attendance Ribbon for its 82 parents and friends who attended the Court. Again Troop 156 was second with 72 persons present and Sebring Troop 141 third with 66 present. Senior Patrol Leader Charles Seibold accepted the Attendance Ribbon for Troop 157.

Culminating the ceremonies the coveted Eagle award was made to Eugene Prickett, Troop 481, Sebring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Prickett. Mrs. Prickett pinned the Eagle badge on her son. Prickett's Scoutmaster is Bob Jardine, Sebring.

The National Camping Award was made to Norman Cook, Scoutmaster of Troop 156, for his diligent efforts in providing the opportunity for more than 50 per cent of the Troop to enjoy 10 nights or more camping during the past year.

Rank advancements for Troop 157 were: to Life rank, Nelson Varnes; to Star rank, Don Pyke, Jimmy Kendrick, John McClure, Charles Arnold and Fred Crawford; to First Class, Chester Bennett, Bruce Bennett and Ricky Green; to 2nd Class, Charles Watson, Jim Nunnallee, and Ed Reck. Merit badges were awarded: Bill Fries, Charles Seibold, Nelson Varnes, Jimmy Renfro, Jimmy Kendrick, Charles Arnold, John McClure, Chester Bennett, Bruce Bennett, Bob Barben, Fred Crawford, Tom Nunnallee, Don Pyke, William Reck, Kenneth Sasser, and Charles Rewis.

Rank advancements for Troop 156 were: to Life rank, Jimmy Rehrer; to Star rank, Gary Neal, Gary Parrish, Terry Bruner, and Jack Brown; to First Class, Roger Hooten; to Second Class, Tommy Townsend. Merit badges were awarded: John Alwood, Jack Brown, Terry Bruner, John Mason, Jr., Gary Neal, Gary Parrish, Jimmy Rehrer, Walter Respress, Fred Rhoades, Donnie Singletary, John Townsend, Bill Wolking, and Chuck Warrington.
