67 "Dads" Rooted For Boys Ranch Graduate

LIVE OAK — M[illegible] boys [illegible] Wally Edwa[illegible] most. He had 67 "Dads" rooting for him [illegible] walked across the stage at Suwannee High School [illegible] Florida.

Wally was adopted [illegible] 67 sheriffs when he became [illegible] at the [illegible] Boys Ranch [illegible] 19[illegible], and was the first boy from the Ranch to graduate [illegible] high school.

"I couldn't feel any prouder if he was my natural son," said Baker County Sheriff Ed Yarborough, Chairman of the Boys Ranch Board of Trustees, "and I am sure all of my fellow sheriffs feel the same way."

Formerly a resident of Woodville, a small community near Tallahassee, Wally has made an outstanding record of scholarship and leadership at the Ranch. Last year he was one of the youths representing Florida at the National Convention of the Future Farmers of America and he has developed public speaking talents that make him the envy of many of his adopted Dads.

The 17-year-old youth will continue to live at the Boys Ranch, 11 miles north of Live Oak, and he will start his college education in the Fall by commuting to nearby North Florida Junior College. His ambition is to become a vocational agriculture teacher.

"Wally is a good example of what the Ranch can do for needy and worthy boys," said Sheriff Yarbrough. "We have given him the breaks in life he so richly deserved, and now we have the satisfaction of seeing him take his place in society as a responsible citizen."

The Sheriff explained that Wally is a "trailblazer" for hundreds of other youngsters from all parts of Florida who will come to the Ranch in the years ahead seeking a good home and a secure future. "We intend to give all of them a college education or a good trade which will make them self-supporting," he added.

There are 52 boys living at the Ranch now, ranging in age from 8 to 17, and facilities are being expanded as fast as funds will permit toward a target enrollment of 100.

Financed entirely by public donations, the Ranch was founded in 1957 as the first institution of its kind sponsored by sheriffs. Since then the sheriffs of Georgia and Alabama have established boys ranches, and other states are [illegible] similar projects.

Editorials - Do Pay Off

It is increasingly apparent that Postmaster General J. Edward Day is allergic to editorial criticism and feels that the public should be happy to pay more for postage and get less service in return.

In articles and speeches, Mr. Day has taken vigorous exception to suggestions that the Department should catch up with industry in automation. Writing in The Postal Supervisor, he said: "Mail cannot be delivered to people's homes and offices by clanking robots, and post offices cannot be managed by electronic computers. Most of our thousands of offices are very small and could not in the wildest stretch of the imagination justify mechanization."

As far as we know, the Postmaster General is the only one who has suggested "clanking robots." And it is interesting that, having talked about mechanization for ten years, he now redicules it. As for the small town post offices, these are not the ones that are causing the headaches - of the PMG or the public. We think it is generally true that the smaller offices are rendering the same fine, dedicated service they always have - insofar as their own operations are independent of the big city trouble-sports.

Frequently of late, and most recently in a speech before a Washington meeting of the Federal Government Accountants' Association, Mr. Day has emphasized his reaction that an "appalling thing about these sharply critical editorials was the obvious lack, in so many of them, of an even rudimentary knowledge of how postal expenditures are financed."

In other words, if the basic communications system of the nation - on which the conduct of commerce and industry, of human affairs and even of Government itself depends - should fail to meet its historic responsibility at reasonable cost to the users, we must not complain!

The Postmaster General's attitude comes perilously close to the philosophy that the primary function of the people is to support the Government - including the Post Office Department - and the people should be happy for whatever left-handed service they might receive in return.

But Mr. Day's impatience with editorial criticism is the best indication that it is hitting the mark.

Avon Park Stores To Close On 4th

A survey taken by the Chamber of Commerce indicates that over 35 business firms and stores in Avon Park will be closed for the Fourth of July.

The survey was conducted with a two-fold purpose: As a public service to the community and as an endeavor to create better cooperation and coordination of efforts between the merchants and the Chamber of Commerce.

Halbig-Bates Reach Doubles Semi-Finals In Tennis Tourney

In the Kiwanis Club-sponsored tennis tournament, Wolfgang Halbig and his partner, Eddie Bates reached the doubles semi-finals by defeating Bob Briscoe and G. L. Townsend in four hotly-contested sets by scores of 6-2, 6-0, 4-6, 6-2. The games were not as one-sided as the scores may indicate, since many of them went to deuce before being decided.

Previously Mike Duggan and Billy Miracle also reached the semi-finals and they will be the opponents of Halbig and Bates in that match. Plans are to hold that match at 7 p. m. on the Fourth of July, weather permitting.

Earlier, Bob Briscoe handed Carl Holden his first loss in singles competition. Holden put up a game fight but lost the match in three sets by scores of 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

Andy Miracle and Bill Ward, having each lost once, played their second-round match in the losers bracket and Miracle eliminated Ward from further competition by scores of 6-2, 6-0, 6-2.

Roy Coats and Al Yarbrough eliminated Jim Lyle and John Rhoades from doubles competition in a hotly contested five-set match which saw Coats and Yarbrough come from behind and win the last two sets to gain the victory. Scorers were 3-6, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4. When that match ended, Lyle and Rhoades had to play their singles match also, since the second-round deadline date had arrived before either match was played, and they agreed to play one set and call it a match. This was approved. Rhoades won it 6-3.

Coats also advanced to third round play in singles via a forfeit from John Rodgers, who could not play because of a knee injury. Another forfeit went in favor of Rodgers and his partner, Jeff Childers, when Jay DeShong withdrew from further competition to go on an extended vacation, and he and his partner, Carl Holden, suffered a forfeit from further doubles play.

DeShong's withdrawal also gave Andy Miracle a bye in third round play, and he advanced to the fourth round accordingly.

The third round's first contest was between Robin Duggan and Jeff Childers. Duggan took the first two sets easily by scores of 6-1, 6-0, but had to extend himself to win the third, which he finally did 8-6. This eliminated Childers from further competition.

Trophies arrived since our last report and Dale Jordon has engraved them and is displaying them in the window of Jordon & Son Jewelers.

New nets arrived and with the cooperation of Mayor DeLaney, have been installed. They are beautiful black nylon trimmed in white plastic and are a great improvement over the old wire net. Two courts can now be used for play, although lack of lights makes one pretty useless at night, and backstops are needed.

Documentary Stamp Tax Charges Increase

[illegible] that [illegible] property is [illegible] to a corporation in exchange for the issuance of a state number of shares of the capital stock, the documentary stamp taxes due are measured by the par or fixed value of the stock issued unless it is made to appear there was other consideration for the stock in addition to the said conveyance.

The tax on bills of sales, agreements, transfers of personal property and interest therein will be 15 cents per $100 or fraction thereof. In this instance, where outstanding shares of stock in a Florida corporation are transferred in another state, which transfers are registered on transfer records in a state other than Florida, such transfers of stock are not subject to the Florida documentary stamp tax, the attorney general has held in an opinion.

The tax on stock certificates has been increased from 10 cents to 15 cents per $100 or fraction thereof, including when a certificate is issued without face value.

The tax on bonds, debentures and certificates of indebtedness issued in Florida will be 15 cents per $100 or fraction thereof. The identical charge will be made on promissory notes, written obligations to pay money, the assignment of wages or other compensation, and the renewal of same. This also is true in connection with sales made under retail charge account services, incident to sales which are not conditional in character and which are not secured by mortgage or other pledge of purchaser, except that it would be on the gross amount.

The case has been assigned to Judge J. H. Willson.

One prisoner was sentenced in Circuit Court Monday. B[illegible] Jor[illegible], who had previously entered a plea of guilty to an aggravated assault charge, was sentenced to serve six months to five years in prison. Judge Clifton Kelly presided at Monday's court session.

In this week's session of County Court one driver drew a jail term for driving while intoxicated. John Daniel Carmichael, white resident of Alturas, was sentenced to serve 60 days in jail and to pay a fine of $250 or three months in jail.

His driver's license is to be suspended for the maximum suspension time allowed by Florida law.

Judge Mervin Reherer noted that Carmichael had been involved in a serious accident and had been arrested in Polk County in February.

For driving without a license, Carmichael was sentenced to serve a 5-day jail term to run concurrently with the DWI sentence. Carmichael pleaded guilty to both counts.

Protect Your Second Sense Hearing

We all know "the five senses"—sight, hearing, smell, taste and touch. Next to sight, probably the second most important to us is hearing. Many of us take our hearing for granted. Not until we begin to lose it do we realize how dependent we are upon it in almost every daily activity.

"In 1961 it was estimated that nearly 6,000,000 people in the United States had impaired hearing and the number has undoubtedly increased since then," says Dr. William F. Hill, Jr., Director of the Highlands County Health Department. After the age of 40 the number increases sharply. Loss of hearing may result from infections, particularly in children, certain drugs, injury to the ears or head, exposure to excessive noise, and aging.

Recently one authority on deafness said: "Of all the handicaps encountered in deafness, I believe that loneliness, and especially the fear of loneliness, is possibly the greatest problem. You and I as hearing people have been lonely, but I do not believe that we can ever quite realize the degree of loneliness a deaf person sometimes feels."

How can it best be prevented? Be sure that all infections and injuries are fully treated, follow your doctor's advice on taking medicines and try to avoid too much exposure to loud noises.

Sometimes we are not aware that our hearing is failing until we experience real difficulties. And some children do not progress as well as they should, simply because they do not hear all that their parents and teachers may say to them. At the first suspicion that you or a member of your family are not hearing as well as before, visit a doctor for a check-up.

RECITAL CANCELLED

MISS CLYTEE COLEMAN

Miss Clytee Coleman Attended Leadership School In Ohio

Miss Clytee Coleman, president of the Delta Gamma chapter at the University of Florida, attended a Presidents Leadership School held at the Fraternity Executive Offices in Columbus, Ohio, June 19-23. Clytee is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Coleman.

This new concept of Fraternity Education is a unique opportunity offered by Delta Gamma to develop the leadership potential of each of its 89 chapters.

At this training seminar the collegiate and alumnae officers met with their Council to study the basic objectives and trends of fraternity life, and to set up a good working relationship for their ensuing terms of office. Fraternity personnel demonstrated the necessary and available, the files and mailing systems as well as the basic material for the programs and standards for cultural and academic achievement.

The exchange between the presidents representing so many areas of the United States and Canada was an invaluable experience for these leaders in chapter life who work toward the attainment of the highest goals in conduct and scholarship on the University campuses.

All phases of chapter life on the campus and including the participation in the philanthropic projects of Delta Gamma which include International Education, Sight Conservation and Aid to the Blind, and Grants and Loans for members and non members was covered during this intensive period of study.

Delta Gamma Fraternity was founded in 1873 at Lewis School, Oxford, Mississippi. This International Fraternity has 89 collegiate chapters and [illegible] alumnae groups in the United States and Canada.

Clytee is employed at the University Hospital in Gainesville this summer, and will begin her senior year at the University of Florida in September.

Baby-Sitters Be Fire Conscious

If you employ a baby sitter, be sure she knows what to do in case of fire, says the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Your sitter should be taken through the house and shown two different routes of escape. If fire occurs, she may then select an alternate route if one of them is blocked.

Make it clear to the sitter that if there is a fire, she should get the children out of the house first, and then call the fire department.

1953 Class Holds Anniversary Reunion

The 1953 Graduating Class celebrated their 10th Anniversary Saturday, June 22, at the Jacaranda Hotel.

A numerous variety of foods, served buffet style, was enjoyed by all. Rev. Dean Martin gave the welcoming address. Rev. Martin, a former member of the class, is now pastoring the First Methodist Church at Pinellas Park.

A brief, but interesting speech was given by the honored guest, Mrs. Mary Meyers, one of the class's first grade teachers.

Other special guests joining the alumnae in reminiscing were Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wilhite, Mr. and Mrs. Paxton Hill, and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Watson.

The class was sponsored in their Freshman year by Mrs. Hill. Mr. Watson started his teaching career with this group.

Highlighting the evening was a summary, given by each member of the class, of what has been happening through the past ten years.

It is amazing how time changes people. But with all appreciation, prosperity has been with the class members through the years.

Former High School Teacher Wed In Lake Placid, June 14

Miss Linda Mae Spillman became the bride of Thomas Marvin Stidham at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, June 14, at First Baptist Church in Lake Placid. The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Dwight C. Spillman of Ft. Myers, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Stidham of Lake Placid.

The bride's father, assisted by the Rev. Max Holleyman of Lake Placid officiated at the double-ring ceremony, preceded by a program of nuptial music by Mrs. Charles D. Stidham, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, organist, and Mrs. Vic Mickunas, of Avon Park, soloist.

Baskets of white gladioi and pompons with spiral candelabra on either side, provided a setting for the wedding party. Fern and pompons were in each window of the church, and reserved pews were designated by white bells intermingled with greenery.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white silk organza gown, fashioned on princess lines. The bodice featured a scooped neckline with lace applique trimmed with seed pearls and the voluminous skirt terminated in a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of sheerest illusion fell from a Mary Queen of Scots crown adorned with seed pearls and crystal beads. She carried a white Bible topped with white carnations, sweetheart rosebuds and valley lilies.

Miss Sally Stidham, sister of the bridegroom, attended as maid of honor; Mrs. Frank Young of New Port Richey was matron of honor, and bridesmaid was Miss Margaret Simons of Gainesville.

Their identical street-length gowns of aqua blue georgette were posed over satin, with scalloped boat necklines. They wore circle veils of blue tulle with crowns of ruffled net embellished with seed pearls and crystal beads. Their flowers were pink carnations, in double wedding design.

Mrs. Spillman chose for her daughter's wedding, a blue lace afternoon dress, with matching accessories, and a white phalaenopsis orchid corsage.

Mrs. Stidham, mother of the bridegroom, wore an aqua blue lace dress with white accessories, and a white phalaenopsis orchid corsage.

Charles D. Stidham attended his brother as best man, and groomsmen were Frank Young of New Port Richey and B. Mason Hughes of Melbourne. Ushers were David Spillman of Ft. Myers, brother of the bride, and Jim Pratt of Lake Placid, cousin of the bridegroom. Lane and Dean Stidham, nephews of the bridegroom, served as ring bearers.

Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Spillman entertained at a reception in the social hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. The decorations accented a pink and white motif, with baskets of gladioli and mums placed at vantage points about the spacious room. The centerpiece for the bride's table, overlaid with a white linen cloth, was a three-tiered decorated wedding cake topped with a miniature bride's bouquet of flowers. Pink punch was served.

Miss Judy Box of Haines City was in charge of the guest book. Those assisting in receiving and serving were Mrs. Gerald Brummett of Bowling Green and Miss Dian Kinney of Lake Placid.

When the couple left for a wedding trip, the bride wore an aqua blue sheath with lace trimmed jacket, complemented with white accessories.

The couple will reside in Gainesville this Summer, where they will both take graduate work. Mr. Stidham is presently band director at Lake Placid High School and Mrs. Stidham was chorus director of Avon Park High School the past year. They will make their home in Lake Placid, where both will be members of the school faculty next year.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. J. C. Russell of Centerville, Ind., and Mrs. B. E. Higgs of Whitewater, Ind.

Wilhites Will Vacation In Europe

Supervising Principal and Mrs. A. B. Wilhite will leave Monday, July 1, for a visit with their son and family, Captain and Mrs. James A. Wilhite who are stationed at Augsburg, Germany. The Wilhites have just received a wire stating that they are now the grandparents of a second son born to Captain and Mrs. Wilhite on Sunday, June 23.

While away, the Wilhites plan to visit much of Europe for pleasure as well as for educational and cultural enrichment.

During Mr. Wilhite's absence from the Avon Park High School office, Mr. Crittenden, Assistant Principal, will handle needed communications. His headquarters will be at the high school gym, where he is directing the Summer Recreational Program.

The Wilhites wish to thank their friends for the "Bon Voyage" party given them recently and for the thoughtfulness of many in making the trip more enjoyable.

In over thirty-four years of his business experience in Avon Park, Jack Stephenson has never denied any one of his services regardless of financial circumstances.

SLIDE BOY SLIDE—Shown here is part of the action in one of the Little League games last week

Our Feathered Friends

BY THE BIRD WOMAN

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE A BIRD?

Many people think that the life of a bird is entirely care free; we often hear the expression, "free as a bird." A well-known poet wrote a beautiful poem along this line, and said "How beautiful the life of a bird must be living in love in a leafy tree." We enjoy the poem but consider him a better poet than bird watcher.

When a heavy storm begins we can scamper into our secure homes and close the door and let the storm pass by without affecting us. But if you were a bird the situation would be quite different. Do we suppose that they feel secure in their flimsy nests of sticks and feathers, put together with their mouth and feet and placed precariously in the crotch of a tree?

When we anticipate rain we carry our shower stick and rain coat, if it is necessary to be out in the weather. But the birds have no choice; they must seek whatever place of shelter that they can find and have only a few layers of feathers between them and the blowing rain.

When the time comes to rear their young they cannot refer to a blueprint and call a carpenter to carry out their instructions to build a house suitable for them. They must collect twigs, straws and feathers and entwine them with their mouths to make a nest that will stand the wind and weather and still be ample for their young.

If one of the young is sick or gets hurt, they do not have access to doctors and nurses and hospitals as we do. Also, there is no one to give them a formula for feeding.

All these things must be a part of the instinct that was given them by the wonderful Creator and which is handed down through each generation of that specie.

Besides keeping a vigilant eye on the nest to keep enemies away, they must gather food, one insect at a time to keep the hungry brood satisfied. Even when the young are able to leave the nest, a more careful watch must be provided for security for the brood, as that is the time when stray cats and many other predators are at large watching for the helpless offspring. What a help it would be for the parent birds to have a convenient feeding station at hand where they could teach the young to go for food.

Even when the young can care for themselves, they all have predators and boys with guns to elude. We would like to remind parents and guardians that this is a time of year when children will be out of school and restless to find something to entertain themselves. Please let us remember and impress on our children that it is illegal for a child under 16 years old to have even a BB gun in his possession without being with and supervised by an adult.

The penalty for this is defined by the law and the parents are responsible for an infringement on this law. The same is true with the law, which is a state law, that no bird can be killed or damaged in any way by anyone.

How pleasant the life of all birds could be if all of us would not only obey the laws, but provide feeding stations and bird baths for those that we might entice into our area!

When we start out on a trip we feel that we must have an air-conditioned vehicle and plenty of food and any other convenience that we might have in our own homes, but the birds, small and frail as they are, when they start to migrate carry neither chart or compass. They do not pack a lunch, nor have any control of the temperature through the area they are to travel, and their locomotion is all wing power that they must expend themselves. While stopping to rest they must collect enough food to eat to carry them through another day.

They can't stop at a motel and secure food and lodging, but must in strange areas find resting places free from predators, and be able to subsist on whatever food they can find.

We should be thankful that our wonderful Creator did not place us in such a hazardous environment that we would have to have an eye on each side of our face and then be able to focus them together in front of us in order to spy enemies that were constantly lying in wait for us.

How many times have we heard people say that they have to rest up from their vacation? But birds no sooner arrive at their destination than it is nesting time, and the whole cycle begins again.

We do not know of any bird, beast or animal that have "baby sitters" to care for their young, so they can get out and frolic around. Even the education of the young is not intrusted to teachers, but the ability to care for themselves, and to hunt their own food is taught to them by their parents. So by and large when we consider all aspects of bird life, we realize that they do not lead the "life of Riley."

Many people like to travel for pleasure, but we are not sure why birds migrate as they do; some very wise heads have come up with some very sage opinions, but these opinions differ. If some of these globe trotters think they are traveling, they should follow the route of some of the even smallest birds, and they would feel that one such trip would suffice.

Yet some of these small birds make an annual trip from the far north to the extreme south end of South America, and taking only a short rest retrace their flight to their homeland. There seems to be a compulsion about these trips, and what to them is a yearly experience would become both tiresome and monotonous to us.

So contrary to the [illegible] woman, the poet [illegible] of being changed to a bird [illegible] shall [illegible] ourselves [illegible] stay as we are, and do what we can to help these [illegible] that are so helpful to us in destroying insects and also in entertaining us with their antics and filling the air with lovely songs.

HOW COOL WILL YOU BE WHEN YOU GET HOME?

Ask any delivery man, he goes everywhere. Air conditioned homes have the happiest people. And it doesn't cost much to turn your home into a cool haven from the muggy world outside. Find out about electric air conditioning today. Spend the rest of the summer in cool, cool comfort.

If you've ever taken a child to the seashore, you know what that first glimpse of the ocean can mean to a youngster . . . the lure of fascination . . . the foreboding of fear. Which will win the struggle?

But what a delight when hesitation ends and Jeannie finds her happy beachhead down where the waves wane, and the tide seeks its rest.

And if you've ever taken a child to Sunday School, you know what that first glimpse of strange surroundings can mean.

But, even if there are misgivings that first Sunday, Jeannie soon finds her happy beachhead. And one day she'll plunge bravely and confidently into deeper reaches of the vast spiritual ocean that surrounds life.

Anything as vital as religious education deserves an early and earnest beginning.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL · ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

MRS. FRED H. GUERNDT, JR.

Myrtis Smith - Fred Guerndt, Jr. Married In Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Myrtis Smith and Fred H. Guerndt, Jr., exchanged their nuptial vows Saturday, June 22 in the First Baptist Church, Avon Park, at 8 p.m. Rev. Aden Childress officiated in the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with an artistical arrangement of greenery. An arch entwined with fern and pink pom poms centered the altar directly behind the silver kneeling bench decorated with white satin ribbon bows and streamers. Candles burned from three branched candlelabra and along the window ledges, nestled in pink caladium leaves, to furnish light in the sanctuary. Tall floor baskets held pink pom poms and white gladiolus.

A program of music was rendered by Miss Marilyn Cook at the organ and John W. Wright, vocalist, who sang "Because," "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith, Sr., of Williston, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Guerndt.

The lovely brunette bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an original gown of crystal white Chantilly lace and tulle. The sculptured bodice was elongated slightly and set in deep points onto the bouffant skirt. A rounded sweetheart neckline was etched with floral motifs of lace in a dainty aplique border. Wide gathered alternating tiers of tulle and lace formed the floor length skirt and swept over a Southern Belle hoop for added bouffance. Her veil of French illusion fell from a tiara encrusted with pearls, and she carried a beautiful arrangement of white carnations centered with an orchid.

The bride's matron of honor was her cousin, Mrs. Donald Ford. Miss Lynn Loessner of Louisville, Kentucky, and Miss Cheryl Guerndt, sister of the groom, were the bridal attendants. They wore identical street length dresses, one lilac and two ceile blue, of sheer de pole over taffeta, featuring a scoop neckline, cap sleeves, controlled scissor skirt with wateau back drape. Crescents of pink carnations and lilies of the valley were carried by the attendants. Their head pieces were a circular veil of silk illusion held by a petal bow clip in matching color and fabric.

Little Kim Smith and Stephen Ford, cousins of the bride, was flower girl and ring bearer. Kim wore a street length dress identical to the bride's attendants in ceile blue.

Attending the groom as best man was Virgil Martin of Pompano Beach. Usher-groomsmen were Thomas Stimpson of Leesburg, and Dr. J. W. Smith, Jr., of Ocala, brother of the bride. Ushers were Lawler Wells and Cecil Skipper.

Mrs. Smith chose for her daughter's wedding a pink Shifflie embroidered sheath with white accessories. She wore an orchid corsage. Mrs. Guerndt wore a sheath of blue lace over taffeta with white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Reception

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith entertained with a reception at the Jacaranda Hotel following the wedding ceremony. The receiving line was formed in the Palm Room with Mrs. Wendel Smith, cousin of the bride, greeting the guests at the door.

A bowl of white carnations and dainty white blossoms decorated the table where Mrs. R. L. Padgett kept the bride's book. A formal arrangement of white carnations, pom poms and stock in a milk-glass compote was placed at a focal point in the center of the room.

The bride's table was centered with the cake which was in the shape of hearts with a tier standing above white swan colonades and a bride and groom adorning the top. Delicately tinted pink rose buds decorated the hearts. Silver candlesticks held white burning tapers entwined with English ivey and pink and white blossoms. The bride's bouquet was laid on the table for all to admire. Mrs. Jane Wells and Mrs. I. H. Ford cut and served the cake.

Punch was served from another table where crystal bowls at either end of the table was presided over by Mrs. Cecil Skipper, Mrs. R. M. Gay, Mrs. Kenneth Wells and Miss Margaret Baker. A silver candelabra was gracefully entwined with English ivy to form the centerpiece, with an epergene holding miniature pink rosebuds and sprays of white blossoms. Silver compotes held nuts and mints.

Both refreshment tables were overlaid with identical imported linen cloths in an overall drawn work design.

Assisting with hospitalities were Mrs. Louise Cinie, Mrs. Janet Willis, Mrs. Betty Lou Wells and Mrs. Virgil Martin.

The happy couple left immediately for a wedding trip to Ft. Lauderdale. For traveling the bride chose an aqua linen two-piece suit with matching linen lace trim and white accessories.

Upon returning from their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Guerndt will live on Lake Damon in Avon Park.

New nets are up on the courts, and both courts have been in great demand every night since their installation. Lights have been installed over the new court by Mack Flowers and the Florida Power Corporation, and Mr. Flowers also has sought to eliminate some trouble which was causing fuses to blow out when the lights were on for any long period of time. Mr. R. M. Gay had a crew from his Inter-County Telephone and Telegraph Company remove two telephone lines which had been strung up over the courts long ago, and which were interfering with play. It is expected that backstops will be installed and fences completed around the playing area in the near future through the efforts of Mayor E. A. DeLaney and the City of Avon Park. These improvements will give us one of the most up-to-date and attractive playing areas in this vicinity, one of which our citizens may be justly proud.

JUDGE MERVIN REHRER

Judge Rehrer Not Disturbed By Comment

[illegible]

"I feel these are cases of necessity," the Judge said. "The Auditor does say that 'most of such defendants eventually paid their fines. Some do not, but I cannot feel the county has really lost money on these cases.

"On the whole, I feel the report was excellent. It does say 'records generally well kept, all collections accounted for,'" the Judge commented.

The report noted that some license subagents had not been bonded. The Judge said the law requiring bonding had been passed in recent years and he had required bond from all agents appointed since that law was passed.

In an interview Tuesday the Judge said he has been working on the bonding of all agents, and that task is virtually completed. "There is one subagent which may not be bonded yet, but I have not checked today to see whether that has been completed."

The report on the Sheriff's Department was generally good. "Financial operations were well managed. Budgets were properly prepared and followed. The Sheriff diligently followed provisions in the Florida Statutes in advertising and remitting to the county all unclaimed bond monies in adjudicated cases," the report stated.

The keeping of criminal records was commended.

The only adverse comment was the lack of some financial records from 1958-59. Sheriff Broward Coker said the records could not be located and apparently have been destroyed.

The Sheriff noted that the audit covers four years. "That is really too long," he said. "Audits should be made more often."

Highlands Court News

[illegible]

Mrs. Hendry [illegible] Tuesday afternoon.

[illegible]

"In addition to this act being contrary to a state law, it is an insult to the peace and dignity of the fine community of Lake Placid. They want, expect and deserve their youth to be protected against persons who so brazenly aid in a breakdown of the morals of our youths.

"As a consequence of the criminal misconduct we shall set the penalty as twice that which was imposed upon this boy. In addition to this penalty the Court will refer the matter to the Florida Alcoholic Beverage Department for such administrative action as to them may seem fit and proper," the Judge concluded.

Mrs. Hendry protested repeatedly that she often "bounces" the young boys who attempt the buy liquor in her place of business. "I have a good record," she said, "but this slipped through."

Later in the afternoon an appeal bond was posted by Mrs. Hendry, but her attorney Harry Lee indicated that a firm decision on a possible appeal of the case had not been made yet.

In other cases Tuesday afternoon Harvard Van Dunn, 31-year-old Negro from Avon Park, was sentenced on a driving while intoxicated charge. He was fined $200 or 90 days in jail, and his driver's license suspended for six months.

In the Monday session of County Court John William Birkhead waived preliminary hearing on a breaking and entering charge.

The 22-year-old white man is a resident of Texas. He was arrested by citizen arrest and accused of breaking into the Matt Bass store at Brighton. Deputy Bob Barringer answered the call to the southern part of the county and returned Birkhead to the jail where he is being held.

80 Enroll In Reading Program

The summer reading program of the Avon Park school system started off with seventy boys and girls enrolled. During the first week ten additional people have enrolled making a total of eighty children enrolled.

The program of reading is under the direction of Mrs. Ethel McKelvane assisted by Miss Beth Johnson. The program is designed to help those children who have been slow to grasp the fundamentals of reading. It is also designed to keep some children from slipping back to a lower level of reading.

Children who have enrolled in the program are given some phonics along with spelling and plenty of practice in oral reading.

In connection with this reading program, the elementary library is open two days a week. Children may check out books on Tuesday and Thursday between the hours of ten and twelve o'clock. Parents are urged to bring their children to the library on these days, in order that they may take advantage of reading during the summer.

Commissioner Request Junk Yard Regulation

Junk yards may be facing more regulations. At the Tuesday morning session of Highlands County Board of County Commissioners Chairman Carl McIntyre requested County Attorney R. P. Dunty, Jr., to draw up a resolution which might include some provisions for screening and/or fencing of junk yards located on secondary or primary roads in Highlands County.

McIntyre noted, "The Farm Bureau and Cattlemen have found that junk yards tend to cause property to depreciate in value."

He said the farm groups found that the depreciation occurs "for about a mile on either side of the yard."

Dunty pointed out that Lake Placid, Sebring and Avon Park each have zoning laws which include provisions for location and screening of junk yards. Under Florida law the county commission may "exert some reasonable control" over the yards located without the cities and in the county.

In other business the commission received a letter of thanks from the Sebring Chamber of Commerce, commending the board for its efforts to obtain widening of U. S. 27.

C. M. Payne, president of the land owners organization for the Upper Josephine-Lake Jackson Watershed Project, sent a letter stating that the land owners have agreed to bear all cost for acquision of right-of-way for the first part of that project.

The State Auditor reports on the county judge's and sheriff's offices were received and filed in the public record.

After the formal adjournment of the meeting the board went into executive session and spent the rest of the day preparing a budget for the 1963-64 year.

Patrol Predicts Bloody Fourth

TALLAHASSEE—The Florida Highway Patrol predicts that 15 persons will die in traffic crashes on the state's streets and highways during the July 4th holiday weekend.

The Patrol's prediction is for the period beginning 6 p. m. July 3 and lasting through midnight July 7. This year's prediction covers a 102 hour period, 72 hours longer than the 1962 holiday when two people died as a result of traffic crashes.

The 1963 prediction is somewhat lower, however, than the resulting figures of 1961 when, in a 102 hour period, 21 highway deaths were recorded.

Local Boys Do Well At J C Tournament

Bill Reck, Jr., and Bobby Rush, our local teenage golfers gave a good showing at the Florida Junior Jaycee Gold Championship Tournament held at Pine Meadows Country Club in Eustis, Fla. last week.

Both boys playing in the 13-15age group played very well, Bobby having a 79,82 card placed eighth in the 13-15 age group, and 34th in the state.

Bill had a card of 82, 92 for his rounds, playing him 26th in the tournament and 71st in the state.

Both boys have improved their play over last year, Bobby by 52 strokes and Bill by 34 strokes. Boys from all over the state competed in this tournament and Avon Park should be proud of the splendid showing that these boys made at a tournament of this size.

New Public Defender Staff Meeting July 8

The newly appointed public defender staff will hold its first conference in Highlands County Monday.

Circuit Judge Clifton Kelly said Defender Lee Roy Horton, Jr., and his assistant Kingswood Sprott, Jr., will come to Sebring for a meeting with Prosecutor Glen Darty and his assistant J. O. Macbeth.

Both the defender and his assistant are residents of Lake Wales. First item of business will be review of the cases of the many prisoners who are seeking new trials or release on the ground that they were not properly represented when first brought into court.

Lake Placid To Host Miss Universe

Lake Placid is to be host to Miss Universe and her entire coterie of the 25 most beautiful girls in the world. The cavalcade of beauty will arrive in Lake Placid Thursday, July 11 and will be greeted by a group of Lake Placid business men and civic leaders, headed by Hayward Davis, state senator.

Luncheon will be served at the Tower View Restaurant under the direction of Carl Di Giacomo and at least 25 local men will lunch with the girls. An attempt is being made to obtain persons who speak foreign languages to attend the luncheon. To date one man has volunteered. He speaks German.

Among the contries represented will be the United States, France, Finland, Sweden, Peru, Colombia, Japan, East Germany, Isreal, Korea, Wales, England, China, Greece, Luxembourg, Canada, Turkey, Haiti and several others.

Following the luncheon the international beauties will be taken on a tour of the Tower attraction and will observe the Lake Placid area from the top of the new 240 foot Tower.

After the two-hour visit in Lake Placid, the girls will continue on to Miami where they will compete in the Miss Universe Beauty Pageant.

The pageant was conceived in 1950, but took two years of intense effort and organization before it was first held in 1952 in California. Eight years later, it had outgrown the west coast and moved to Miami Beach with 25,000 girls involved, 3,000 people actively engaged and 100 organizations enfranchised by the Miss Universe Pageant to provide both international and domestic contestant delegates. Now the city of Miami and the Metro county government join Miami Beach in hosting the pageant.

CLOSED FOR FOURTH

Highland County court house will observe a holiday Thursday. All offices will be closed for the Independence Day observance, but they will all open for "business as usual" on Friday.

And that is exactly what Mr. Mills is trying to assure, by his patient and clear refusal to be stampeded into hasty action on a new tax bill which could wreak financial disaster on the nation.

In this, the slow-down imposed by Mr. Mills in this matter demonstrates not only great courage, in the face of heavy pressures from both the Administration and other sources, but great intelligence in its recognition of the fact that the tax-reduction issue cannot be approached in haste and, at the same time, with the wisdom and painstaking study it demands.

This is especially true, since both the Administration and the standing committees of The Congress long since have given up the old-fashioned logic of tailoring expenditures to fit income.

INSECTS

Our Feathered Friends

BY THE BIRD WOMAN

INSECTS AND REMEDIES

[illegible] that we [illegible] means [illegible] the insects that are [illegible] of the year. [illegible] Florida than [illegible] the northern states [illegible] are always [illegible] and many [illegible] the [illegible] that [illegible] the freeze [illegible]. But in Florida where the weather is more mild and [illegible] insects, although [illegible] weather [illegible] force when the [illegible] have begun.

Although many of the insects are of almost microscopic size, [illegible] may be counted by the millions, and if [illegible] of them were allowed [illegible] maturity and [illegible] chain of propogation, few plants would be able to survive, [illegible]

It is amazing to learn that [illegible] estimated to be 2,500,000 [illegible] different [illegible] of insects which have [illegible] capacity. If there were not some balance [illegible] them, [illegible] would be [illegible].

A good example of their propagating capacity can be noted by the common house fly. If from April to August the descendants of one pair were all allowed to live and reproduce normally, there would be 191,000,000,000,000,000,000.

In our climate we are more concerned with the aphid, sometimes called plant lice; these are capable of propogating many generations each season. If all lived and produced, from one pair at the end of the season, there would be 1,560,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 decendants.

But the wonderful Creator gave us birds and friendly insects to keep the harmful ones in check. However, we have allowed so many of the useful birds to be killed, and have used so much poisonous spray that many of the helpful insects have been destroyed; so we throw up our hands in despair!

We recall that in ancient times some of the people were nomads, living in tents and grazing their flocks where ever the grass was abundant, but when the grazing was not so good, they would fold their tents and take their herds to some place where the grass was more luxuriant. They follow the same idea that the birds have had, for when there is an outbreak of locusts, mayflies, or any other insect, or when wild fruit is ripe in some area, we do not know just how they find it out, but they do not need an invitation to the feast. Some where the birds got the idea that the wonderful Creator put food here for them as well as for man.

One of our wonderful helpers is the woodpecker family; there are many kinds found in many localities. They seem to have the ability to know where and if insects are lurking under the bark of trees, or even in the heart of the tree.

Many times they will bore into a tree and clean out a whole colony of wood ants that soon would have killed the tree, but were unnoticed by man.

In one of our national forests a severe infestation of Spruce beetle was reported, and many of the prize trees were ruined. Without invitation, woodpeckers moved in and practically removed the bark from some of the trees, with the result that 80 per cent of the beetles above the snow line were eradicated in one winter.

It seems the Englemann beetle is the most serious insect the Spruce has to combat. In another national forest there [illegible] a few [illegible]. [illegible] they are given [illegible].

In the Salt Lake [illegible] checked. The [illegible] that 15 larvae of [illegible] weevil besides other [illegible] brought to the [illegible]. Assuming that [illegible] 12 [illegible] each day, [illegible] 30 weevils each day.

None of us are interested [illegible] few are given to prove [illegible] that birds are our [illegible] friends and they could do [illegible] for us if we would [illegible] give them the opportunity.

In China and India where birds have not been protected but slaughtered for food, they are plagued with hordes of insects, and a large percentage of their much needed crops go to feed insects.

One way we have proposed so often, and now find that other localities are of the same mind, is to put up nesting boxes and feeders to attract and protect birds and let them do the work they were intended to do.

Recently we find that the Naple's residents have long been plagued by insects, and naturally many types of sprays have been used. The horse flys, as well as mosquitoes, seem to be the worst insects they have to combat.

At long last they are trying the sensible way: "Let the birds do it." Following the advise of Chas. Lebuff, a wild life aid with the Bureau of Sport Fisheries, who is stationed at Sanibel Islands at the National Wild Life Refuge, and Lamond Hardy, who was a former biology teacher in Naples, they are starting a housing development, and it's for the birds! Working with the Sanibei Audubon Society, they so far have 18 apartments on the Island. The Martins that they are especially trying to attract are not too particular about their housing, but being gregarious, prefer to build near others of their kind. We recall that when our forefathers first came to America, they found that the Indians were using large grounds, making entrances in the sides and hanging them in clusters for the Martins. For many years the Seminole Indians in our state raised these large gourds, both for utensils to use about the home and for bird nests.

However, progress changes many things, and the Seminoles started using more modern utensils and did not bother to raise the gourds. So the Martins were deprived of housing and moved on; consequently the mosquitoes and insects returned. It is known that Martins are prodigious eaters, and one Martin can account for 20,000 mosquitoes in a day; multiply this by 18 apartments full of Martins, and we can see why they are trying so hard to coax the Martins back. Martins winter in South America and arrive in our area about the first of February. So why not let us take this as an example and greet the Martins in February with hundreds of houses!

(We regret to announce that this will be the last article of The Bird Woman, written by Mrs. Mary Davis, who died suddenly over the weekend. The articles were enjoyed by all, and Mrs. Davis will live in our memories as one who contributed much to society.)

Treat For Sunday Supper

It's fun to vary the standard meat, potatoes and vegetable menu fare for Sunday night supper. Something that's easy to make and popular with the family—sandwiches, pancakes or waffles—makes a good Sunday night supper menu. And sausage corn bread with fried apple rings tops all for variety. It's this easy.

For the corn bread, begin with a package of corn muffin mix. Along with the usual egg and milk add tender kernels of corn. Blend ingredients, then circle the pan of corn bread with cooked sausage link "spokes" and it's ready to bake! A wedge of golden corn bread with its sausage link baked right on top is yummy served hot with syrup. Apple rings fried in butter are a flavorful accompaniment. Try this new menu next Sunday!

SAUSAGE CORN WEDGES

Makes 8 servings

One 12-oz. pkg. Flako Corn Muffin Mix
1 cup drained whole kernel corn
1 egg
2/3 cup milk
8 cooked pork sausage links

Heat oven to hot (400°F.). Empty contents of package into bowl; add corn, egg and milk. Blend only until dry ingredients are thoroughly moistened. (Batter should be slightly lumpy.) Pour into greased 9-inch round layer cake pan. Arrange sausage links as "spokes" over top of batter. Bake in preheated oven (400°F.) 20 minutes or until golden brown. Cut in wedges; serve piping hot with maple-blended syrup.

Are you a collector of recipes? Collecting and trying new recipes is a good way to put variety in your meals. Recipes may be collected from newspapers, labels on food containers, and Extension bulletins, to mention just a few sources. "Mixes Made at Home" and "Potatoes in Popular Ways" are two of our bulletins which are chock full of ideas for varying your meals. The potato booklet includes ideas for potatoes in main dishes, salads, soups, and pancakes as well as the more conventional methods of cooking potatoes.

"Mixes Made at Home" contains a recipe for an all purpose mix, plus mixes for cornbread, hot rolls, quick pudding, and pie crust. All these may be stored on the shelf indefinitely in a tightly covered container. These mixes make wonderful fresh baked products possible for busy homemakers.

Write me for these bulletins at P. O. Box 527, Sebring or call EV 5-0945. We welcome you to visit our office in the basement of the Post Office Building when you desire bulletins on any phase of homemaking.

"My Mary"

Mary took her love from me
She made me very blue
But I shall always love her
God knows this to be true

I know she may never return
But the flame in my heart shall always burn
My love for her shall never die
This is the reason my heart cries.

I prayed that it would never be
But now "MY MARY" has gone from me
If she could only see
What her love means to me.

Then she would know
Why I will always love her so
Another I could surely marry
But no one shall ever take
The place of "MY MARY."

Water and Boat Accidents On The Increase

JACKSONVILLE — Water accidents and deaths are increasing in Florida as more and more people build home swimming pools and take to skiing and boating, the State Board of Health noted today.

In 1961 there were [illegible] drownings, 91 of these from small boats. In 1962 there were 412 drownings, 104 of these from small boats.

This year the board has started tabulating deaths in home swimming pools and the total so far is 12.

Deaths could be cut to almost zero if a few basic rules are followed, said Dr. George A. McCoy, director of the board's Accident Prevention Program.

He said overcrowding of home pools is a common cause of accidents, but so is running on slick surfaces and jumping or diving in too-shallow water. He said utmost caution should be used with lighting equipment and power lines.

Dr. McCoy said swimmers should never swim alone, just after eating, when tired, when drinking or at night except in well-lighted pools.

Regarding skiing, he said that not only should the boat operator know where he is going but the skier should avoid exhibitionist acrobatics, such as skiing close to wharfs or other fixed objects. He said a second person in a boat is a valuable asset to help in case of accident.

A[illegible] safety rule in boating [illegible] is to stay [illegible] the boat, he said. Trying [illegible]

At the back of the carport are two large storage closets, one of which could house laundry appliances, if desired. (It should be the one next to the bedroom to save on pipes and hot water.)

Both bedrooms have cross ventilation and 4-foot closets which serve as sound insulation between them. The conveniently located bathroom has a shower stall and a countertop wash basin with cabinets below.

The linen closet is in the hall outside the bathroom door and next to the heater for dry storage.

The heater (H) is centrally located to heat the front area as well as the two bedrooms. If the house were heated by electrical coils installed in the ceiling, the heater space would become a closet.

State Starts Medical Aid Assistance For The Aged

Medical Assistance for The Aged started this week. It is the new Florida public assistance program based on the Kerr-Mills amendments to the federal public assistance laws. [illegible] and a half million [illegible] program is administered through the twelve welfare districts of Florida's State Department of Public Welfare. The benefits are limited to hospital care for acute illness or [illegible] nursing [illegible] hospital [illegible].

[illegible] U. S. [illegible] or older, [illegible] and who [illegible] for food, [illegible] and personal expenses but who cannot pay [illegible] medical care without depriving themselves of [illegible].

The [illegible] legislature provided [illegible] dollars for this year (fiscal 1963-64) which is matched by one and a half [illegible] dollars federal funds.

While approving its new operation budget covering this program, the State Welfare Board set the specific eligibility requirements:

A person will not be eligible unless he has received hospitalization within the last two months, or reasonably anticipates receiving hospitalization within 30 days from the date of application.

The annual income may not exceed $1,200 for one person or $2,400 for a man and wife.

The applicant may have a homestead, the cash value of other resources may not exceed $1,000 for one person or $2,000 for a couple, excluding $[illegible] per person cash value of life insurance.

The person must be at least 65, reside in Florida, be a U. S. citizen, and not be receiving any other public assistance from the Florida Department of Public Welfare.

If eligible, there are two benefits:

1. Payments for hospital care of acute illness or injury will be made directly to the hospital, for not more than 30 days of care in any year.

2. Following any hospital care, for all the home nursing care visits prescribed by a physician, during the first 30 days following the date of discharge from a hospital, payments will be made directly to the vendor of the home nursing care service.

Family Income On Rise In Florida

GAINESVILLE — The annual [illegible] of the "typical" Florida [illegible] during the 1949 to 1959 decade by about $2,200, a recent University of Florida study reports.

The [illegible] saw Florida [illegible] Virginia among southeastern states in terms of [illegible] family income with $4,722.

Average family income [illegible] was considerably below the national median, which was $5,660, according to [illegible] "Economic Leaflets" by [illegible] Bureau of [illegible] Business R[illegible] [illegible] Brevard County [illegible] $6,125 [illegible] the state [illegible] figure was exceeded.

All of the six counties with median family incomes above $[illegible] except [illegible] are large metropolitan counties, Dade, [illegible], Escambia, Brevard and Orange, the study reveals.

Manufacturing industry in these counties has largely accounted for the higher income figures, according to the report, which concedes that "income-in-kind," or earnings reflected in goods produced and consumed on the farm, is of more importance in the lower-income rural counties where agriculture predominates.

The lowest median family income in the state was reported in Holmes County, where only 16 families out of 2,846 reported incomes of over $15,000 and where the median was $2,137.

The study was prepared by Dr. Madelyn Kafoglis of the Bureau of Economic and Business Research. Economic Leaflets reporting on aspects of economics and business are published monthly by the Bureau and are available to Florida residents free upon request.

TALLAHASSEE — [illegible]

The impact of Matthews on the other candidates [illegible] difficult to assess. A [illegible] estimate is that Matthews as a candidate would tend to enhance the chances of Fred Dickinson of Palm Beach to make the second primary. If Matthews, too, made the second primary he would be quite a dangerous candidate in much the same sense Burns would have been in the 1961 election when his star rose so rapidly.

Matthews also is in the enviable position of being a freshman senator newly elected who could run as a Senator and keep his legislative seat in case he lost. This would give him a strong long-pull advantage of being able to keep his name in the forefront for an additional two years.

Whatever the political developments, it is likely that Jack Matthews will be heard from for some time to come.

Florida waters are so productive and Florida bass so prolific that closed seasons and size limits do not play any part in bass management.

Never Say Yes To A Stranger

If a stranger calls and offers to give you something free, the best thing to do is say "not interested" and hang up.

The Florida Sheriffs Association has received reports from many parts of the state about various rackets operated by telephone solicitors, and in each case gullible citizens who thought they could get something for nothing were gypped out of hard earned cash.

One racket was a series of beauty treatments offered at a ridiculously low price. Some 50 housewives bit on this one, and all they got for their money was the run around.

Another racket, brought to the attention of Lake County Sheriff Willis McCall, went something like this:

Your telephone rings and the caller tells you he is trying to enlarge the circulation of certain magazines in your area. You have been selected, he says, as one of the outstanding citizens in your locale to receive free subscriptions.

You will be so impressed by these magazines, the caller says, that you will recommend them to your friends, and therefore the free subscriptions you get will be merely a token of appreciation for your good work in boosting circulation.

Citizens who bit on this one discovered later that the subscriptions weren't free. Some apparently paid up to avoid unpleasantness. Others who tried to cancel the subscriptions received letters threatening legal action if they didn't pay up.

Just remember, if a stranger calls and offers you something for nothing, the smart thing to say is "no."

In over thirty-four years of his business experience in Avon Park, Jack Stephenson has never denied any one of his services regardless of financial circumstances.

Diane Olsen, Long Beach, Calif., beauty, is one driver who won't forget to fasten her seat belt. Her car is equipped with the latest safety development, the Stay Safe Reminder, made by Caravan Mfg. Co., Long Beach. This ingenious device prevents the car's starter from working until the seat belt is fastened. When the belt is loose, no electricity can reach the starter. When the belt is tightened, a pressure switch enables the starter to operate. The safety switch is protected by a compact case of tough "Cycolac" brand ABS plastic with an attractive metal finish to match other seat belt part. The reminder is sold in department and auto accessory stores.

THE BOOK AND THE FLAG

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Behind the open Book, we see the Star Spangled Banner of the United States and the cross-borne flag of Christianity.

Does this seem like a strange combination to you—the flag of a nation beside the flag of a religion?

Not at all! Look into the Bible and see these great truths: MAN IS THE CHILD OF A LOVING GOD; WE ARE MADE IN GOD'S IMAGE. Here is explained the DIGNITY OF THE INDIVIDUAL.

Now we begin to realize how close is the relation between democracy and the Church.

Our national flag, our church flag would not be here today were it not for the open Book.

Come learn of this Book. Come worship and study in the church of your choice this Sunday.

Florida World's Fair Site Picked

To Be Held In N. Y. 1964-65

PALM BEACH [illegible]

[illegible] Kimball and other members of the authority were appointed by Governor Farris Bryant in July 1962.

Also in the lake area will be the Amphitheater, Hawaiian [illegible] and the Continental Circus. Exciting, novel boat rides along the edge of the lake will give visitors a mariner's view of the exotic Florida site.

With one eye on April 22, 1964, the opening date of the fair, the FWFA has approved its grounds plan as prepared by the architects, Pancoast, Ferendino, Grafton, Skeels and Burnham, Miami, and the engineers, Connell, Pierce, Garland and Friedman, also of Miami. Edward G. Grafton is the project manager for the two firms.

Supervising preparation of those plans were Joseph R. Martin, director of nylon manufacturing, The Chemstrand Corporation, Pensacola, and Raymond K. Mason, president, Mason Enterprises, Jacksonville, who comprise the design and construction committee of the FWFA.

In direct charge of the overall operation is W. L. Stensgaard, executive director of the authority, whose headquarters are maintained at 307 Ponciana Plaza. F. A. Soucy is the authority general manager.

The groundbreaking ceremonies will be held in May for the spectacular citrus tower which will be sponsored by the Florida Citrus Commission.

Sam A. Banks, commission chairman, already has presented to Kimball a check for $250,000 for construction of the tower. F. Elgin Bayless, a member of the commission, and president of Consolidated Financial Corporation, Sebring, also is a member of the authority's liaison committee.

Other liaison committee members are William J. Clapp, president, Florida Power Corporation, St. Petersburg, and Henry [illegible]

Around the base of the tower [illegible] constructed a building [illegible] feet in diameter which [illegible] occupied by Minute Maid [illegible] operation. The exhibit building and the tower are identified as Exhibit A on the groundsplan.

Second in area size only to that of New York State, the Florida site probably will have eight other structures including the Florida Exhibit Building, the Porpoise Stadium and Pool, Exhibit Buildings B, C, D and [illegible] the leisure home and the [illegible] ment home.

James M. Wellman, president, Wellman-Lord Engineering, Inc., Lakeland, is chairman of the exhibitor's committee for the FWFA. The other member of this committee is H. Loy Anderson, president, First Federal Savings and Loan Association, West Palm Beach.

The Florida Exhibit Building will be circular, having a diameter of 160 feet and containing approximately 20,000 square feet of floor space. It will be 24 feet high.

Inside there will be a central exhibit area, 50 feet in diameter, around which will be various exhibit spaces pertaining to industry, agriculture, sports, attractions, education, counties and cities. This structure will be air conditioned and will house the administrative offices of the FWFA.

One of the main features of this building will be the projection of slides on the upper surfaces of the interior walls. These slides will be used to further tell the exciting and dramatic story of the state.

About one-third of the porpoise stadium and pool will extend over the waters of Meadow Lake. Appearing to float on the lake will be other exhibit buildings, each 40 feet in diameter and about 22 feet high.

These buildings will be accessible from a boardwalk which will start at the edge of the porpoise stadium.

The boardwalk will wind along a lagoon in which a giant map of the State of Florida will be outlined with colorful flowers, plants and tropical foliage. Here also will be Flamingo Isle where species of these aquatic birds in all their [illegible] and plumage may be seen.

The boardwalk will end in the [illegible] area where visitors may inspect a truly beautiful contemporary Florida home furnished in the most modern mode. The patio and pool area of this lovely leisure home will serve as a background for a continuous fashion show of the latest creations in Florida styles. NOAH'S A.R.C." slides down the ways at the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center (A.R.C.) here. Patients at the hospital rebuilt the Center's small fishing boat in their spare time. When launching time came, someone came up with the witty play on words between the initials of the Center (A.R.C.) and the Biblical Ark which kept Noah "high and dry." It was christened and launched with appropriate ceremonies, but without champagne.

FARP Purchase Archive For Alcohol Study

Scientists and graduate students seeking research data on alcohol and alcoholism were [illegible] to Avon Park this week.

Frank M. Richardson, administrator of the Florida Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program, said the agency has purchased an extensive archive of alcohol-alcoholism research containing abstracts of virtually every important study in the field.

Only 17 other states maintain similar archives, Richardson noted, making Avon Park one of the country's focal points for researchers seeking data of this type.

The agency purchased the archive from the Rutgers University Center of Alcohol Studies.

It contains more than 8,000 abstracts of research conducted in this country and abroad, dating back to early work in the field. Five hundred abstracts of current studies are added each year to keep the material up to date.

Richardson said the archive was purchased in line with the agency's need for research data to use in its own studies, and the agency's role as a source of scientific data on alcohol and alcoholism.

The archive will be open to graduate students and scientists [illegible]

Fashion & beauty report
by Dee Morrison

When you first flop down in the sun after a long cold winter you want to just lie there forever. But after you've soaked up a certain amount of sunlight, if you're like me, you look for something to do. How about a self-improvement routine that may lead to a breath-taking beauty-contest-type "figger"?!

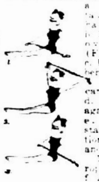
Skip rope! It will tone up every muscle in your body, and be just as much fun as when you were ten. This could be "boy girl" type fun. Remember, that's how prize fighters train.

Of course first things come first. Don't chance a bad burn. Take along Bronztan, a lotion proven by three famous dermatologists to give protection in the sun for up to four hours. And the shade of that tan is LUSCIOUS.

EXERCISE A

This is good for limbering up shoulders and chest and to help correct round shoulders.

Start with legs together, toes pointed, knees straight, stomach in, back very straight, chin [illegible]. Do not [illegible].



a. [illegible] (Fig. 1).
b. Raise arms over head. (Fig. 2).
c. Lower arms behind you, as far as you can go. (Fig. 3)
d. Over head again. (Fig. 2).
e. Drop to starting position. (Fig. 1) and repeat.

Try it with rope folded in four.

EXERCISE B

Stretches and limbers arms, legs and torso.

Start in sitting position, legs together, knees straight, toes turned up . . . and KEEP them so. Rope folded in quarters.

a. Raise arms over head, rope [illegible].

b. With arms held straight — reach out with rope over [illegible] (Fig. [illegible])

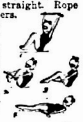
EXERCISE D

[illegible] for abdominal [illegible]

and lower back muscles and balance.

Start in sitting position, legs straight out, head up, chin in, shoulders relaxed, arms overhead, elbows straight. Rope folded in quarters.

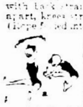


a. Raise arms straight overhead, rope taut, and bend knees slowly. (Fig. 1)
b. Lower arms slowly, keep elbows straight, bring rope forward over feet. (Fig. 2)
c. In continuous slow motion bring rope under knees, gradually straightening the legs. (Fig. 3)
d. Resting on buttocks only, slowly bring rope under thighs until legs are straight and off the floor. Shoulders off floor, too. (Fig. 4)
e. Reverse the action, slowly returning to position in Fig. 1.

EXERCISE E

To improve and maintain flexibility.

Start in sitting position — with back straight, legs wide apart, knees straight, toes up. (Rope folded into quarters.)

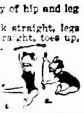


a. Reach over head, arms straight, rope taut. (Fig. 1)
b. Keeping back straight, stretch arms and body forward to the right, reaching out with rope over right foot. (Fig. 2)
c. Alternate left and right.

EXERCISE F

For flexibility of hip and leg muscles.

Sit with back straight, legs apart, knees straight, toes up, rope in eighths.



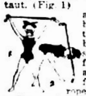
a. Stretch slowly forward, keeping back straight, knees straight, arms straight, rope taut. Go as far forward as you can without rounding the back. (Aim at the position in Fig. 2 with arms and torso touching floor.) Easy does it!
b. Return to sitting position.
c. Repeat up and down, slowly.

EXERCISE G

For suppleness of shoulders, waist and hips.

Start by being sure your posture is correct — buttocks tightly tucked under — abdomen flat, chest up — shoulders relaxed.

Stand firmly, legs apart. Arms overhead, elbows straight. Rope folded in half, held taut. (Fig. 1)



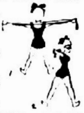
a. Twist the body a quarter-turn to the left.
b. With back straight, lean forward left and touch the floor, holding rope taut. (Fig. 2)
c. Return to standing position facing forward.
d. Alternate left and right.

EXERCISE H

For flexibility of shoulders, chest and waist.

Start with perfect posture — bottom under — stomach flat, chest up, shoulders relaxed. Stand firmly with legs apart . . . arms straight out to the side, elbows straight, rope single, wrapped around hands to adjust length of rope. It should be taut and straight at all times. (Fig. 1)

Do not move feet or bend knees.



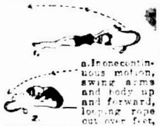
a. Twist the body left. (Fig. 2)
b. Straighten.
c. Twist the body right.
d. Straighten.

Repeat and repeat.

EXERCISE I

For flexibility and to strengthen back and abdominal muscles.

Lie flat on back, legs straight, arms overhead, rope folded in half, rope laid out on floor overhead. (Fig. 1)



a. In one continuous motion, swing arms and body up and forward, looping rope out over feet, head down, hands touching floor. (Fig. 2)
b. Swing back to prone position on back.
c. Repeat up and down, up and down.

As you progress, do this exercise with the rope folded in four parts, then in eighths, keeping the rope taut.
