OUR SON

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Robert Edward, Junior — that's his name. But soon it will be Bobby. And after a while he and I will probably be known as Big Bob and Little Bob.

Funny how you start looking ahead. When I came out of the shop today I happened to notice our sign — the big one with my name on it that hangs over the door. And I thought to myself, maybe someday we'll add: & SON . . .

But Marge and I know better than that! You can't plan your son's life for him. He's got to make his own decisions, choose his own road.

One thing we have decided for him, though. That he's going to have all the moral and spiritual training a man needs to make right decisions and follow a straight road.

This God expects of us — of all parents. And our church is ready to do its vital part.

Florida Council Reports

By M. Lewis Hall, Jr.
Vice Chairman
The Florida Council of 100

[illegible] W. [illegible] G. Hayne spearheaded efforts to secure [illegible]. The required [illegible] assistance [illegible] were provided. The [illegible] that the company [illegible] in Orange County and purchased a plant site [illegible] construction is scheduled [illegible] completion this year.

To stimulate the tourist economy, the Council has carried out many projects. One such program now in full swing is as effective as conducted in any state. Heading this program are members Byron C. Shouppe, St. Petersburg and Benjamin H. Oehlert, Jr., Orlando. The program encompasses a message of friendly Florida. The emphasis is on residents who are courteous, cordial, and who greet visitors and tourists with a smile.

Aid of the Council to higher education is worthy of attention. The scientific and technical higher education committee, under chairmanship of Stanton D. Sanson, Miami Beach, has proposed a far-reaching program to gear Florida higher education to the space age. Recommendations of this committee have been considered with favor by both Governor Farris Bryant and the State Board of Control.

Member R. F. Raidle, Palm Beach, is chairman of a committee raising $100,000 to finance a special study for improvement of Florida's higher educational system. On December 20, 1962, he presented a check for $35,000 to Governor Bryant. He anticipates the balance will be raised soon. This success is a substantial contribution to the present and future welfare of the state.

Not to be overlooked is the commendable work of the committee on natural resources and waterways. This committee, under chairmanship of James M. Wellman, Lakeland, has devoted needed attention to development of waterways, conservation of forests, land reclamation, and prevention of air and water pollution throughout the state. Each subject is vital to the development of our economy. Committee findings and recommendations have already received state and federal recognition.

It is evident that much has been accomplished to effectuate the philosophy and purpose of the Council since May 26, 1961, [illegible]

Little Annie on the Farm

The Woodchuck

I go out in the fields to watch
A woodchuck every day,
But if I try to catch him,
He just runs away.

Just how much wood could a woodchuck chuck
If a woodchuck would chuck wood,
I never can quite figure out.
Dear me, I wish I could.

If he'd chuck wood he'd be a big
Help to my dear old gramp,
But all he does is scratch and dig
Out in the field so damp.

He digs an awful hole and deep,
Sits on the edge to spin.
I'm 'fraid some day
he'll go to sleep
Right there and tumble in.

He looks just like my granny's muff
So he must keep nice and warm.
He lives on stomach
and such stuff,
And never does no harm.

He goes to sleep when comes the fall
And it is nice and cool.
I can't [illegible] that at all, at all.
I must run off to school.

Soil Conservation News

By SAM POLSTON
U. S. Soil Conservation Service

In January the Highlands Soil Conservation District sponsored a land judging contest in Wauchula on land capability and treatment for the F. F. A. of the Highlands County schools. All three high school F. F. A. chapters entered a judging team in the competition. Dean Griffin, Vo.-Ag. Instructor for the Avon Park F. F. A. chapter had the winning team which was made up of Nelson Varnes, Peter Hutchinson, Walter Repress, Ralph Westberry and DeWayne Lemler. Tom Stoutamire, Sebring instructor's team was Jimmy Tompkins, Tommy Albritton, Lynn McClung, Leroy Pepper and Richard Cooper. Leon Johnson of Lake Placid School had Clayton Hope, Douglas Hines, Bobby Aronhalt, Bobby Crum and Earl Jones. The winning team of this contest will be entered in statewide competition later this year.

Several landowners made application to the Highlands Soil Conservation District for assistance in developing soil and water conservation plans during the past few weeks. They are: Kahn Groves, Malcolm Waters, Bob McIntyre, Ray McIntyre, Joe Stiles and Bill Post of Sebring; W. F. Underhill and Oscar Clemons, Bassinger; Rudy Ashton, Lorida; W. D. Collins, Raymond Collins and W. P. Hamilton of Lake Placid.

Overhead sprinkler irrigation systems for citrus groves headed the list of conservation practices planned. A seepage irrigation system was designed for W. F. Underhill for 60 acres of improved pasture.

R. J. Hargrove of Venus was assisted last week in the installation of a combination drainage and irrigation system on 120 acres of improved pasture.

Silver Spurs Rodeo Slated At Kissimmee

KISSIMMEE — Professional cowboys from all parts of the country are converging on Florida's Cow Capital for the 31st semi-annual Silver Spurs Rodeo which opens Friday afternoon for three days of competition with $2,870 in purses plus hundreds of dollars in entry fees—at stake. Three performances—all beginning at 2:30 p. m.—are planned for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, February 22, 23, and 24.

As a non-profit corporation the Silver Spurs club has provided unmatched facilities for an arena show and annually sponsors rodeos in February and in July.

The Silver Spurs rodeo is officially recognized by the Rodeo Cowboys Association and competition is under the rules of the association in five events: calf roping, steer wrestling, saddle bronc riding, bareback bronc riding, and bull riding. The club is unique in that it owns its own rodeo stock, including hybrid Brahman bulls, and lively crossbred Brahman calves.

A cloverleaf barrel race for women contestants is included in the lineup.

Entry books close February 21 at noon.

WOODMEN CIRCLE

East Miller No. 6 District, Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, will convene in Wauchula, Feb. 27, at the Masonic Hall at 11 a. m. Luncheon will be served at 12 noon. Ritualistic ceremonies will be exemplified. Katharine Mather, district president, of Sebring, will preside and national and district officers will be present.

The 1963 Pinellas County Fair will be a miniature version of the Seattle World's Fair. The role played by county industries in outer space will be spotlighted at the fair scheduled for Feb. 25 through March 2.

The whooping crane will never be annoyed with an exploding population problem. There's only 32 left in America, they say.

JOINTS

One of the most important yardsticks of the quality of a home is the snugness of its joints.

When joints are strong and stay tight, surface materials are secure and have endurance. In addition, a tight house provides the ideal climate for low cost air and heat conditioning.

According to the Southern Pine Association, the snugness of joints depends on the nail holding power of framing lumber that holds the home together. About 50,000 nails are used in the average home. The nail holding ability of wood is increased by as much as 400 percent when lumber is properly seasoned and "preshrunk."

Florida's forest industry includes nine pulpmills, 171 sawmills, 21 veneer and crate plants and 21 wood treating plants.

Postal Patrons Urged To Give Correct Address

Postal patrons should take great care when giving their addresses for the purpose of receiving mail. In our area, oftentimes, persons living in areas with such names as Pinecrest, Avon Park Lakes, Lake Side Heights, and similarly named areas are served by Rural Route Carriers. These addresses must include the route number, box number, and the name of the city to insure that mail will be received. This has created serious problems for your Post Office. Be sure when you are giving your address, to give your "Complete Mailing Address."

To our welcome winter guests, particularly those who return to our city each year and receive their mail in Post Office boxes, we wish to advise that in many cases where a different box is rented each year, instead of renting the same Post Office box, much mail is delayed and some returned due to incorrect addresses appearing because of previous addresses and the unfamiliarty of the individual by our postal personnel, who make every effort to deliver the mail as addressed.

It is the desire of the Post Office Department to render patrons the most efficient service possible. You are invited to inquire about any postal problem you may have by calling your local Post Office. A most informative sheet about postal information is contained on page 15 of the Inter-County Telephone Directory. The information does not include the new postage rates effective January 7, 1963, but other information is very helpful. The Post Office Department is greatful to the Inter-County Telephone and Telegraph Company for this widely distributed information.

SPEAKS TO WOMEN—Dr. George R. Synder of St. Paris, Ohio, was the guest speaker last week at the Women's Fellowship of the Congregational Church. The speaker has served in the mission fields of China and Africa. He is presently touring Florida Conference Churches. The group enjoyed a covered dish dinner at noon.

British historian Dr. Arnold J. Toynbee told a mid-winter Jacksonville Univ. convocation that new weapons are so powerful they have "made nonsense of the institution of war."

Oh yes, a lot of us will tell the truth—no matter who it hurts.

Dinner Honors New Yorker

Ford Cobra In Contention For Sebring Win

Ford's new Cobra is gearing to take a win here at Sebring, March 23, in the internationally famous 12 Hour Endurance Race.

Already living up to its name, the sleek new 300 HP plus engine has already set its fangs into other American road racing cars, sending them down to bitter defeat.

West Coast top aces in road racing, Ken Miles and Dave McDonald have already set new records in the Carroll Shelby built road racing cars.

With all of the Ford Motor Company options as to gears and power plants, the Sebring 12 Hour Endurance Race may finally have a contender against European opposition of the past few years.

The Cobras, under Chief Shelby, are due in Sebring during the next week for final tests over the actual 5.2 mile grueling road racing circuit.

Growing international fame of the Sebring 12 Hour has each year increased the advance sale of the spectacular seating spots on the action packed corners, with this years' sales way out in front, now is the time to write for reservations to the Automobile Racing Club of Florida, P. O. Box 71, Sebring, Florida.

Total cash received from the sale was $2200, with Pep Hutchinson heading the list of salesmen. Other winners were Georgiann Godwin, Lance Padgett, Donny Whitcomb and Judy Pritchett.

The 11th season of the Black Hills Passion Play in Lake Wales opened Feb. 10 with a cast of 150. It features Josef Meier in the role of the Christus which he has portrayed more than 5,000 times.

How Business Looks

Business sentiment seems sure to be even more than usually subject to news from Washington for many weeks—if not months—to come.

The proposed tax cut is the main reason, of course. Any measure of so much importance to so many people is bound to have a profound impact on business' decision making.

Beyond that, though, this tax measure is subject to widely differing interpretations — all the way from opposition to anything that increases the federal deficit to warm approval of anything calculated to promote the rate of economic growth.

—o—

Even opinions as to what the tax cut would mean—assuming Congress passes the present measure in much the form submitted—vary over an exceptionally broad range.

There are economists who say consumers will realize so few dollars this year that it will make little difference (not to mention the fact that the higher Social Security rates offset part of the gain).

Others feel that the benefits will far outrun the dollars put in consumers' pockets, that the boost to confidence is the big thing.

—o—

Arguments over the inflationary potential of the tax bill are as hot as those over what it may do to the size and shape of the economy.

How the deficit of nearly $12 billion (some insist it will go substantially higher) is to be financed will be a vital factor. On this, there has been more talk of "flexibility" than of any other real plan or program.

Advocates of a big deficit and a larger money supply to spur business activity naturally recommend financing through the banks. They contend selling bonds to private investors would be taking away from them the purchasing power the tax cut seeks to create.

—o—

Attempting to meet all or a large part of the federal deficit by sale of Treasury obligations to institutions and individuals probably would require higher interest rates to compete for funds.

This, in turn, would stiffen rates charged business borrowers. Those who refuse to take inflation seriously are inclined also to bemoan the stifling effect this might have on business activity.

There also is the inevitable argument that there is too much idle plant capacity and too many unemployed for inflation to catch hold now.

—o—

Those who look farther into the future may even grant that there isn't much immediate danger of inflation, what with both domestic and foreign competition at the present fierce rate.

However, they are not about to take for granted that these conditions will persist forever. If tax reduction is successful—if it presses manufacturers to increase capacity and soaks up idle manpower—then the stake would be set for a resumption of price rises.

That would be a time when an expanded money supply (created by financing the deficit through the banks) could assert itself. And, at the going rate of turnover, bank deposits mean much more than they are counted in conventional measurements of money supply.

Employment On Farms At Record December High

Tallahassee — Florida nonfarm employment hit a new record high of 1,441,300 in December.

And at 76,900 unemployment dropped to a three year low.

State Industrial Commission Chairman A. Worley Brown said that December unemployment was the lowest since April, 1960. And the December unemployment rate of 3.8 per cent was the lowest since December, 1959 when the rate was 3.6 per cent.

Brown said the nonfarm employment figure was 39,300 above December 1961 and 26,300 above November, the second highest month on record.

"This heartening movement toward new highs in Florida nonfarm employment began with the seasonal upturn in September. And December marked the fourth straight monthly increase," Brown reported.

Had it not been for the unusually severe weather during the first two weeks of December, the rate of increase might have been even higher, Brown said.

"The sharp December unemployment drop of 8,300 from November," Brown said, "was due to increased hiring for holiday business, accelerated citrus processing, and continued preparation for the winter tourist season. The December freeze did not have an immediate affect on unemployment in mid-December."

There were 98,200 unemployed in December 1961.

Services at 238,400 was up 14,100 over December 1961; wholesale and retail trade at 409,100 was up 5,100; manufacturing at 227,700, up 4,200; and transportation-communications, etc. at 103,200, up 1,800.

Contract construction at 119,600 was 5,800 above a year ago but it suffered a seasonal drop of 3,500.

Whenever the sun shines the courts are filled, nearly to capacity these days. This activity is by far the most attractive to the winter visitors. The year-rounders, or those who have permanent homes here, seem to be most active in the dancing activity. Perhaps it is because the residents find their house and yard activities, plus participation in church and community activities occupy much of their daytime hours.

On Wednesday Harold Arms and Clarence Franklin won the main event, with Hazel Thompson and Howard Bell in the runner-up position. Consolation winners were Eldred Gruber and Chas Romilly. Saturday's tournament was rained out.

The beginners' classes, organized during the season as folk arrived, have met in the director's home, a square at a time, and learned the 14 most essential calls. They are now practicing those calls in various squares. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Booth, owners of Avon Trailer Park, have generously donated the use of their community hall that all might practice together. At the first meeting, Monday evening, three squares were present.

At the Valentine Day dance, Friday evening, 90 persons were present; eight sets of dancers, had there been sufficient floor space. The main feature of the evening was the Valentine Waltz. To find partners for this number each individual had to find the missing half of his or her valentine. Thirty-four couples were on the floor, dancing to the music of "Sweetheart Waltz." This is the largest number ever counted on the floor for a waltz. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waldman and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fleury assisted in serving fruit punch and appropriately decorated cakes during the intermission.

Next Friday night will be the second in the series of old-time dances, where the men are given numbers and called for time and place. The dances will be of an older vintage and of such nature that even the newest beginner will have no difficulty.

Tuesday's bridge games drew 36 players. High scorer was E. C. Ludington, second-high was A. M. Luyben.

- LIGHT INDUSTRY

  To insure more jobs—light industry must be attracted to Highlands County. We need factories and plants to hire our people and stabilize our economy. Our small counties do not have thousands of dollars available for advertising to attract light industries as do large counties and cities. We need state aid to insure industrial development in our area.

- SCHOOLS

  Continued improvement of our school facilities, both at the elementary and high school level, is a necessity for the youth of Highlands County.

- ROADS

  Our road system is all-important to our economy. Some of our roads have been tragically neglected. This adverse effect on our tourist industry must be corrected in the immediate future.

Coleman Home Scene of Annual Silver Tea Benefiting Library

For more than a dozen years the Avon Park Library Board and the Avon Park Woman's Clubs have sponsored a Silver Tea to benefit the library. The home of Mrs. H. W. Beautiful orchids from the Coleman's garden were used throughout the home for all to admire.

Day of Prayer In Lutheran Church March 1

The annual World Day of Prayer will be held at the Resurrection Lutheran Church on Friday, March 1. The service, held [illegible], will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Many of the churches in Avon Park will participate in the annual event.

The World Day of Prayer, observed on the first Friday in Lent, is sponsored by women of the major Protestant and Orthodox communions. It has a meaningful history of more than 75 years behind it. Prayer and giving for the world-wide mission of the Church have been its primary purpose. It has traditionally brought people together across denominational, racial, national, and cultural boundaries to pray for the needs of the world and to make an offering for the carrying out of the Church's mission across the world.

This World Day of Prayer is truly world-wide in character. Basically the same service is used by groups in approximately 150 countries. This provides an extraordinary opportunity for fellowship at a deep level with Christians all over the world. Increasingly persons from many parts of the world are involved in shaping the service. There is here a very real possibility for Christian unity in the act of prayer.

[illegible] good. (HOW)! Let's [illegible] a bigger deficit, about 20 billion dollars worth (WOW!) Now we're getting some-where—but where? You and I will never live to see if it worked. We'll all be dead and gone to . . . our just reward; and as far as we are concerned, it was good economics. The new generation, if they live,—will be the ones to live with it. What a heritage to pass on to them! just remember . . . they didn't buy it.

Hear a story, Folks—This is about a farmer that spent years in conditioning his horse to subsist on corn-cobs. Now don't laugh,—he succeeded, he did. The "less-corn and more - cob program" finally turned the trick. You guessed it—Old Dobbin cashed in his "social-security." So, you've heard that one before,—the first time you discover there's no more corn on your cob, you'll likely remember it again. What happened to all that corn? Ask your-self that one the next time you listen to some "sell-out scheme" for prosperity, via a bigger and better (?) deficit. And don't forget,—old Dobbin didn't buy-it—he swallowed-it.

While they're selling, and we're buying,—I won't forget my favorite subject, "TV". Now I'm not agin TV, it's just that folks is "up agin it." They've paid for a "season's fire-side

The two Highlands County men will now settle down to the task of campaigning before the next primary. Both are well known in Highlands County, since they have been on ballots previously. Davis is apparently fairly well known in Charlotte judging from the vote he received there.

By coincidence, both are native Highlands Countians, both went to school in Lake Placid and both are graduates of the University of Florida School of Law.

Devils Could Be Spoiler In Group Tourney

Avon Park's [illegible] Red Devil cagers will go into action tonight (Thursday) in Arcadia when they meet the Zephyrhills Bulldogs in the Group 7, Class B State Tournament. Game time is 7 o'clock.

The Red Devils have proven to be giant killers this season, and would like nothing better than to add a group title to their collection.

They upset the Arcadia DeSoto Bulldogs midway in the season and that ultimately sent that team into a tail spin. They recovered however, and came back to win the Ridge Conference. The 'Dogs accomplished that feat however, only after the Red Devils had knocked the Sebring Blue Streaks out of contention last week with a 63-60 thriller victory.

Zephyrhills is a member of the Tampa Bay Conference and finished third in season play. They have a record of 11-10, many of the games played against AA and A schools. The Bulldogs are current Class B State Champions. They were runnerups for the state crown in 1961.

Avon Park completed the season with a 10-7 mark and came back strong after a winless pre-Christmas schedule.

Last Friday night the Red Devils did what few thought was possible. They dumped the taller Blue Streaks while a crowd of hysterical fans looked on, screaming every minute of play.

Wayne Strickler was the big gun for the locals, pumping 19 points on eight field goals and three charity shots. Terry Oberle and Leonard Sullivan gave valuable aid with 11 and 12 points respectively. Larry Strickler found the hoops for nine points.

State Auditor Compliments County Officials

[illegible]

The [illegible] licenses and per[illegible] property taxes had been diligently [illegible] noted.

It commented, "Financial records were generally well kept." The report also noted that the tax rolls were correctly balanced and that expenditures did not exceed appropriation in office expense.

In 1960 the Collector's office collected $9,528.19 in excess fees. In 1961 this excess fee total grew to $11,166.09.

This was the second auditor report Prescott has received since becoming Highlands County Tax Collector.

For Gearing the current report is his 13th. The auditor said, "Financial records were well kept." It noted, "Tax rolls were neatly prepared and mathematically accurate."

The gross tax evaluations for the period of time covered by the report totaled $151,514,045 in property taxes and $98,677, 137 in intangibles.

Excess fees collected amounted to $10,492, returned to the county commissioners, and $3,398, returned to the school board.

Both the Collector's and Assessor's audits were made by A. H. Cash of the State Auditor's staff.

NUCLEAR EXHIBIT AT SCIENCE FAIR

Model of Nuclear Propelled Ship Displayed at Regional Science Fair

A model of the nation's first nuclear-propelled merchant ship will be a part of a large exhibit at the regional science fair.

The fair—which will bring together exhibits from school students in Hardee, Hernando, Highlands, Pasco and Osceola Counties—will be held at the county fairgrounds in Sebring, March 7-9.

The model of the nuclear-powered ship, the U. S. Savannah, is part of an exhibit being sent from the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission for display during the fair. The Atomic Energy display is one of the newest of its traveling exhibits. It will be housed in the education building at the fairgrounds.

This free exhibit will be open from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. on March 7, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on March 8, and 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on March 9.

The total exhibit has been named "Atoms in Action" and includes, besides the ship model, panels to provide explanation of the peaceful uses of atomic energy, an animated model of an atomic power plant and an illuminated explanation of the fusion process.

"Atoms in Action," like all of the Atomic Energy Commission's free traveling exhibits, is operated for the Commission by the Museum Division of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, Oak Ridge, Tenn., a non-profit educational corporation of southern universities and colleges.

Alcoholic Treatment Sought By Judges

Judge Rehrer Spearheading Pilot Project

Florida County Judge's Association has given unanimous approval to a bill which would set up a pilot program in involuntary treatment of alcoholics.

Judge Mervin Rehrer, chairman of the Judge's Association's committee on mental health, long has been advocate of a program of enforced treatment of alcoholics. This week Judge Rehrer revealed that a bill to set up such a program in the Highlands-Hardee-Polk-Hillsborough area has been drafted and is being presented for consideration by the 1963 session of the state legislature.

Within the coming week Judge Rehrer will meet with Woody Liles, chairman of the Florida State Legislative Mental Health Committee, and present the proposals of the Judge's Association.

"When the alcoholic population of a state reaches 150,000, as it does in the state of Florida, it is necessary that we give some thought toward meeting the problem face to face and some further thought to doing something about this problem and helping those afflicted with alcoholism," Judge Rehrer said.

The Judge said that in a meeting with the Alcoholics Anonymous group at the Avon Park Correctional Institute the group members said "that the alcoholic is not able to decide for himself, that an involuntary program is necessary to get them to a point where they will be exposed to, and eventually accept, an alcoholism rehabilitation program."

Rehrer said that since "it is difficult, if not impossible, for us as untrained judges, to make a proper diagnosis and determine whether or not a person is truly an alcoholic" he would propose that a procedure "similar to the present incompetency procedure."

"The legislature," the Judge said would give authority to the justice of peace, city courts, county judges, criminal courts of record and circuit judges "to defer sentencing and refer the individual to the County Judge's Court. The County Judge would then appoint a committee, comparable to our incompetency committee, and that alcoholic rehabilitation program personnel be utilized in these committees when possible."

The County Judge's Court should have, Judge Rehrer said, the authority to refer the individual to a rehabilitation center or out-patient clinic for further diagonsis and screening.

Under the proposed law an individual who fails to comply with the court's handling may be called back and sentenced or a sentenced which had been suspended may be enforced.

In non-criminal cases, individuals who are found by the judge's committee to be an alcoholic may be referred to the proper agency for treatment. If the alcoholic fails to comply with this directive, he may be held in contempt of court.

Judge Rehrer said that the present alcoholic rehabilitation is financed by use of only one per cent of the $50,000,000 which the state collects each each year in liquor taxes. To carry out a complete state-wide program of involuntary treatment would cost, the Judge estimates, about two to three per cent of the liquor tax "take."

The bill, as now drafted, however, provides for a two-year pilot program which would operate in four counties only. Judge Rehrer pointed out that Highlands County is the home of the state's Alcoholic Rehabilitation hospital, Polk is a large county with urban centers but no treatment facilities, Hardee is a rural county, and Hillsborough is urban with an out-patient clinic. This would put into one area, he said, a variety of enviornments and treatment facilities.

The bill proposes that the pilot program may be fianced entirely out of the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program Trust Fund. This fund is being held by the state comptroller, earmarked for the "promotion of the alcoholic rehabilitation program."

Judge Rehrer said the two-year pilot program would cost about $300,000. The trust fund presently contains about $400,000.

"The procedure as prescribed is quite unique," Judge Rehrer said. "There are no other states or territories with a program of this nature—employing these particular procedures. There is no absolute assurance that such a program will be completely effective, though there is reason to believe that it has excellent merit and will be workable.

"Today, when an individual comes before a court charged with some criminal misconduct growing out of his state of alcoholism, the Court has two laternatives, 1. fine the individual or, 2. commit him to the county jail. This is not the answer since it is not beneficial to either the individual or to the public. It is the hope of the members of the Judiciary that a procedure of involuntary treatment will provide a means of rehabilitating the individual who is recognized as being an ill person by reason of alcoholism."

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

The World Day of Prayer program will be held at the Lutheran Resurrection Church Friday night, March 1, at 8 p.m. All churchwomen of the city are invited to participate and everyone is welcome to attend.

CENTER OF ATTRACTION—Dr. Stephen L. Speronis is in a position most men would like to be—the center of attention. And rightly so. Dr. Speronis was the featured speaker at DAR meeting held at Avon Park Lakes Clubhouse last week. With the University of Tampa professor, left to right: Mrs. Lois Vasek, vice regent; Mrs. Gus Luyben, regent and Mrs. W. J. Lockett, program chairman.

Tampa Professor Speaker At DAR Meeting Here

The Patriots Chapter of the DAR celebrated the patriotic anniversary of George Washington's Birthday at a luncheon meeting on Friday at the Avon Park Lakes Association Club House. After the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner," the ladies enjoyed two vocal solos by Mr. John Wright, "America the Beautiful" and "Faith of Our Fathers," accompanied by Mrs. Ann Robbins.

The Chapter Officers, Mrs. A. M. Luyben, Regent; Mrs. J. A. Vasek, Vice Regent; Mrs. Demos Mandis, Chaplain; Mrs. H. A. Jones, Recording Secretary; Mrs. M. E. Stephens, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. A. H. Schutt, Treasurer; Thelma L. Merrill, Registrar; Mrs. I. H. Ford; Historian, and Mrs. M. H. Mather, Librarian, were hostesses for the lovely party.

Mrs. W. J. Lockett, Program Chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Stephen L. Speronis, of the University of Tampa, who spoke on "The Kremlin Today and Tomorrow." He stressed the importance of the patriotic objective of George Washington in the founding of our Constitutional Republic, making our Country the greatest on earth. He emphasized our responsibility as a DAR to cherish and uphold the ideals on which this nation was founded, and to perpetuate the memory and spirit of the men and women who achieved American Independence.

Dr. Speronis also said - "The USSR exacts every ounce of political advantage from its military and technical strength. It moves its chessmen around the world, influencing world thinking without permitting itself to be influenced or altered by it. The success of the Russian ideological program is such that it need no modification. The leaders of the Kremlin have long recognized that people are motivated not by facts but by what they think or perceive the facts to be.

" 'History is with us' the Russians assert at all times. They believe that the alliance system of the USA and NATO, SEATO, CENTO and RIO is doomed to failure because of internal rivalries and petty jealousies and, that the neutrals of the world will join the USSR, thus isolating the above alliance sysisolating the above alliance system, making it obsolete. Khrushchev has conducted Russian foreign policy in a manner which he hopes will succeed by the mere threat of total war. His actions show that he desires to bring about the surrender of the West first through accommodation (coexistence) and then acceptance of Russian leadership and control.

"Coexistence is the crux of Russian foreign policy. It is here that the leaders of the USSR are placing real emphasis for it is to them the path that will bury the democracies of the world.

Buses Driving With Lights In Safety Project

Highlands County school bueses this week began a new policy of driving with headlights on whenever children are riding the bus.

The "headlights on" policy was adopted at a county-wide meeting of school bus drivers held Monday in Sebring.

The meeting was the first in a planned series which will be devoted to a study of safety. Guest speaker at the first meeting was Sgt. Joe Keene of Arcadia who is in charge of this district's Florida Highway Patrol work.

Sgt. Keene told the Highlands County drivers he would be very pleased for the "headlights on" policy to be tried. "You will see a lot of headlights blinking at you," he conceeded, "but gradually, we hope, the drivers meeting you will become aware that the lights indicate that you have children aboard and they can be especially careful as they drive."

Plans for the drivers' meeting were under the direction of Garland Boggus, transportation officer for the Highlands County Board of Public Instruction and member of Superintendent Andy Miracle's staff.

Washington Report

By Congressman Jim Haley

[illegible] We have [illegible] meaning of [illegible] According [illegible] "several" means more than two but not very many." This, the [illegible] could mean that Premier Khrushchev is going to pull as few as [illegible] troops out of Cuba.

This would be only 17 per cent of Russian troop strength in Cuba, according to the Administration's public estimates that there are 17,000 under arms there. It would be only 7 per cent of the 40,000 troops which Administration critics estimate to be Russian military strength in Cuba. In either case, it is not enough.

Similarly, we are not told by Russia what types of troops will be withdrawn, and thus do not know whether there will be any decrease at all in the missile-firing forces, which endanger our own country, or the forces being used to train revolutionaries for efforts to impose Communist governments on the peoples of free nations in Latin America which endanger our whole hemisphere. Nor is there any deadline, to date, as far as one can ascertain, for such withdrawals of Russian troops as may actually be planned.

What we need is withdrawal of all Russian troops and armament, immediately.

Similarly, the Administration's slap on the wrist to shipping engaged in trade with Cuba falls far short of our real need of putting an effective economic squeeze on Khrushchev's bearded puppet, Fidel Castro, who needs a great variety of imports, over and above [illegible] still be ship[illegible] of arms of [illegible] military [illegible] that, all other [illegible] Castro's real [illegible] will be found in [illegible] and urgent [illegible] reports. Traffic Deaths Decreased In January

TALLAHASSEE — Traffic deaths on Florida highways for the first month of this year showed a marked decrease compared to the same period one year ago.

The Florida Highway Patrol said in a monthly summary that 90 persons were fatally injured in traffic during January, a 32 person decrease from January 1962 when traffic killed 122 people.

January traffic deaths were in twenty-nine of the state's 67 counties with Dade leading the list with a total of 14.

Names of the other 28 counties and the traffic death toll for each follow:

Escambia and Pinellas seven each, Palm Beach six, Duval five Broward, Okeechobee, Orange and Polk four each.

Alachua, Bay, Nassau and Volusia three each. Brevard, Hillsborough, Manatee, Monroe, Santa Rosa, Sarasota and Seminole two each.

Franklin, Hendry, Hernando, Leon, Marion, Martin, Osceola, Pasco and Walton one each.

For the first time the Clearwater annual Fun 'n Sun Festival Parade will be held at night. The 10th annual parade will be staged April 5 at 7 p. m.

Cracker Politics

By ALLEN MORRIS

TALLAHASSEE — About the [illegible] comment which may be made with assurance about the enlarged House of Representatives is that it presents a [illegible] of question marks.

The present prospect is for a [illegible] of transition before the House settles down.

[illegible] of the questions arising [illegible] lawmaking by 125 members [illegible] at the regular [illegible] session beginning April 2:

Will [illegible] debate [illegible] importance in the [illegible] that has been [illegible] past?

Will [illegible] demands upon the Speaker bring about the emergence of a majority leader to [illegible] the flow of legislation?

Will the unrestricted power of the Speaker to appoint committees give way to selection by majority party leaders or seniority or both?

Will longer biennial sessions, annual sessions, split sessions or open-ended sessions be necessary?

Will professional legislators, paid to give full time, emerge?

Will legislators, particularly in the metropolitan areas, be elected on slates, perhaps as tails to gubernatorial kites?

Although the number of House members is supposed to drop to 112 after the '63 Legislature, the validity of those questions remains.

Tallahassee's Mallory E. Horne, the perceptive young (37) Speaker of the '63 session, has been mulling over the changing nature of the House in the years just ahead.

Whatever happens isn't likely to affect him directly for Horne was one of those legislators from two-representative counties who voted to give up a seat to make possible the equal proportions solution of the recent reapportionment. Horne said it would be his seat in Leon county.

Horne says Floridians are not being realistic about what they expect of lawmakers: in the time they must give to the job nowadays ("it has magnified itself many times since I started in 1954"), in the time allowed for regular sessions (60 days every other year to dispose of 4,000 bills and a billion dollar State budget), and in the compensation ($1,200 a year, plus per diem and travel expense during sessions).

"What does this mean? Well, I was startled to find upon winding up this apportionment scrap that only 15 or 16 of us who saw it begin in 1955 were left at the finish. By the time a man reaches the point that he understands the complexities of State government, he is so destroyed in the pursuit of his regular livelihood that he has to quit.

"Members serve two terms and they are ready to quit. This is bad."

On the mechanics of lawmaking in the House, Horne thinks Florida is "coming rapidly to the day when the Speaker won't occupy also the position of majority leader."

"In most states," explains Horne, "the Speaker is the presiding officer but he does not serve as the majority leader. Instead, the legislative program is correlated through a majority leader who serves on the floor of the chamber rather than on the rostrum."

Florida approaches having a majority leader in the chairman of the House Committee on Rules and Calendar, but he is appointed by the Speaker rather than elected by the majority party.

The rules committee has the right to control the flow of legislation to the floor from committees but this right is usually not exercised until the closing days of a session. Its chairman, however, is generally the Speaker's floor manager, helping him in the orderly dispatch of business by making whatever procedural motions may seem desirable.

Speaker Horne believes the selection of committee members will ultimately shift from the Spearker to a seniority basis.

Presently, the Speaker and the Senate President possess very considerable influence over legislation through their unrestricted power to select the members of committees. Technically, it requires the votes of two-thirds of the House to revive for floor consideration a bill killed by a committee but custom makes this action more difficult than the arithmetic would indicate.

Horne thinks the passage of legislation is influenced by debate to a greater extent in the House by reason of its size than in the Senate, and the enlargement will increase that element of lawmaking.

"I have listened to debate and found myself honestly moving from one position to another. I have seen my own bills destroyed on the floor with debate when beforehand I thought I had sufficient commitments to pass them. Yet I think it is good to have a body responsive to debate."

Soil Conservation News

By SAM POLSTON
U. S. Soil Conservation Service

Clover pastures are now producing much needed forage. Marvin Kahn of Sebring says his better clover fields under irrigation are now grazing 3 animals per acre. He says one of the biggest problems in grazing is getting the cattle to graze the pasture uniformly. The way he has overcome this is by making the fields smaller and putting enough cattle on the fields to graze it off in a week and so rotate. He started out with 120 acre fields, cross-fenced twice and now has 30 acre fields. He makes better use of the pasture and as a result carries more cattle per acre.

Mr. Jim Hargrove was assisted last week by the Soil Conservation Service engineers in the design and layout of a water control system at Venus. He installed 2 miles of ditches and 30 water control structures to irrigate 100 acres of clover pastures.

Several district cooperators have planted rye this year in new pasture with very good grazing results. George Waggaman planted 100 acres of Florida Black Rye and has had excellent grazing results. Several have planted common rye with good results. Among them are C. M. Payne and Wesley O'berry both of Sebring, Fish-eating Creek Dairy of Venus and Edna Lockett of Ft. Bassinger.

Three District cooperators were assisted this week in the design of irigation pits for citrus groves. They are H. A. Prillwitz of Lake Placid; Helen Ramer, Sebring and Charles Collins of Avon Park. The pits will be dug to intercept and store ground water for irrigation use.

L. E. Larson, Jr. of Boynton Beach was assisted in the design and layout of over 2 miles of drainage ditch near Bassinger where he plans to build a dairy.

State Business Activity High

Business activity in Florida during last year's winter months was 7.7 per cent above summer month activity, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce said recently.

"Five years ago, the winter-summer variation was 8.8 per cent. A stronger year-round economy has been developing in Florida in recent years principally because of increased summer tourism. Manufacturing payrolls have also helped stabilize the economy.

"If business in both winter and summer moves forward, a small variation is good and usually indicates an increase in summer business. However, a small variation could also result from a slow winter and an average summer. This was not the case in 1962 when winter business gained 6.7 per cent and summer 7.6 per cent over 1961. Both gains were the largest since 1959.

"Figures on seasonal variations of business, based on bank debits volume, are available for a dozen Florida cities. Gainesville was the only city to show winter business slightly under summer activity. In Pensacola, winter showed a one per cent edge over summer.

"Daytona Beach and Jacksonville had a 4 per cent variation in favor of winter; Orlando 6 per cent; Lakeland 8 per cent; Tampa and Greater Miami 9 per cent; St. Petersburg 10 per cent; West Palm Beach 11 per cent; Key West 12 per cent and Fort Lauderdale 14 per cent."

Hours at the Avon Park Clinic which is held on Wednesday mornings in the City Hall, have been changed; they are now from 9:00 a. m. until 11:30 a. m. The time for the Lake Placid Clinic, which is located in the Eide Building is unchanged; on Wednesday afternoon from 1:30 p. m. until 3:00 p. m.

Safety suggestion of the week from FHP Bossman H. N. Kirkman: A so called minor traffic violation can, and often does, result in major disaster. Obey traffic laws and regulations.

Beverage Director Richard B. Keating has announced another record year in cigarette, beer and whiskey tax collections is indicated for Florida.

Wood Arsonist Continue To Destroy Florida's Woodlands

Fire bug, woods burner, or woods arsonist—whatever his title—his work goes on with its toll of Florida forests.

Illegally set forest fires annually destroy thousands of acres in Florida timber and pulpwood, worth hundreds of thousands of dollars.

During 1962, when 8,608 forest fires occurred in Florida, 3,094 were set purposely—more than one in three.

In spite of rewards offered for information leading to his arrest and convention, the dirty work of the woods arsonist continues. The offer of rewards, however, is a powerful deterrent to incendiary action.

The Florida Board of [illegible]stry will pay rewards up to [illegible] to any individual for information resulting in arrest and [illegible]viction of woods arsonists. [illegible] Florida Bankers Assoc. [illegible] also maintains a fund for [illegible]ing cash rewards, with [illegible] wards of $100 each pa[illegible] during any one calendar [illegible] A third reward source is [illegible] Florida Forest Arson Fu[illegible] provided by a group represe[illegible]ing landowners and the fore[illegible] industry—providing for payment of rewards up to $1,000.

Under Florida law, malicious starting of fires on the lands of others is a felony. The offender, on conviction, may be subject to five year's imprisonment. Intentional starting of fires on the lands of others is also a felony, subject to a fine up to $1,000 and/or imprisonment up to three years.

Rewards are not paid in the case of careless woods burning violations.

Recently in one Florida county 19 "set" fires whipped through 600 acres of land in one day. The following day 18 more fires scorched an additional 700 acres. Twenty of the fires were on forest land. When guilt is established, chances are reward money will be paid to some individual whose information to officers helped solve the case.

During 1962 there were si[illegible] persons rewarded with tot[illegible] payments of $500, according t[illegible] the Florida Forest Service. O[illegible] 363 convictions during the year, 54 were felonies.

Rotary News

Reported by Mitch White and Bill Young, Secretary, Feb. 20.

Dr. David M. Delo, President of the University of Tampa, addressed the Rotary Club last Wednesday on "Should Education be Dominated by Government?" It was a most impressive and articulate presentation of the importance of private educational institutions and their place in the American way of life. While not discounting the importance of tax supported educational institutions, he dwelt upon the wholesome and constructive influence of private educational institutions in the development of the individual, the free enterprise system and our society. If Democracy is to progress the individual must make the most of his God-given gifts. This means self reliance, personal responsibility, the development of the individual to his highest factor and all in a religious atmosphere. These are all basic to the free enterprise system and to our way of life—the highest in the world. If the private educational institution ever goes we will have lost a most precious thing and most likely something we may never recover.

This week Miss Joann B. Miklas will be with us with an educational talk on Communism. Miss Miklas is a graduate of Agnes Scott College, Decatur, Ga., with an A.B. degree and has done graduate work at Vanderbilt College. She does considerable lecturing on the topic and for the last three years has been teaching History via WEDU-ETV Channel 3, Monday thru Friday at 2:45 p. m. on "Fascinating World." We anticipate an interesting report next week.

Visitors: Vernon Downing, guest of John Mangrum; John Hilliard, guest of Earl Wells; Don Beck, guest of Art Beck.

Rotarians: Stephen H. Welch, Brown City, Mich.; W. E. McKenzie, Sr., Rock Fall, Ill.; Hugh E. Jones, Fairmont, W. Va.; Thomas Woodfield, Damascus, Md.; H. B. Moyers, New Market, Va.; Mitchell White, Mexico, Mo.; Bruce C. Kline, Hicksville, Ohio; Wm. Baxter, Minerva, Ohio; Jay A. Noble, Lockport, N. Y.; Chick Cross, Albany, N. Y.; Art Beck, Buffalo, N. Y.; Al Tregea, Falconer, N. Y.; Jim Drane, Sebring; George Woodham, Sebring; Dr. Gregg Watters, Sebring; Rev. George C. Stulting, Sebring; Odell Thompson, Marion, Ohio.

An $882 million "bare bones" 1963-1965 budget for the state has been submitted by Budget Director Harry Smith. This tops 1961-63 figures by more than $114 million.
