Cave Man's Life No Bed of Roses Scouts Find Out

Life in cave-man days was no bed of roses if the experience of the Scouts of Troop 157 is any indication. For one thing fires must have been extremely hard to start after several days of rain. The 19 Scouts who participated in the Cave-Man Cookout Monday evening on the northern shore of Lake Lotela found their tinder so damp that sparks from flint and steel died before igniting the fuel. Likewise the patrols using the fire-by-friction sets ran into trouble. However after many minutes of huffing and puffing three fires were started, one by flint and steel and two by friction.

Then came the problem of cooking the meat and vegetables. Some Scouts were so hungry by the time the fires were started that they placed their steaks directly on the coals. Others didn't wait for coals to form but placed the warm smoked meat would get them by for the evening. The older, experienced Scouts, however, waited for good beds of live coals and proceeded to roast their meat on palmetto sticks, shish-kabob style.

After eating and cleaning up, each patrol had the opportunity to try its ability at lashing a camp table. This is one of the events scheduled for the District Camporee, October 19, and will be a timed event. Other events scheduled for the Camporee are: fire-by-friction (timed), compass course, and stretcher race.

Announcement of the Fall Round-up of new Scouts was made by James Heim, Troop Committee Chairman. All Scouts bringing in new candidates will be awarded the Recruiter patch. A goal of ten new Scouts has been set for the Troop. Three new candidates were present at the meeting.

Plans Given For 1962-63 Fisher Body Model Car Competition

Warren, Michigan—Imagination in the design of new concepts for passenger vehicles will be a larger factor in the expanded 1962-1963 Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild model car competition.

In announcing major changes in the 32 year-old youth program, Guild officials said that starting with the 1963 program, the competition will include an "open" classification in which the Guild member will be encouraged to use the full power of his imagination and creative ability. In this new category, some restrictions in the field of practicality will be relaxed for the purpose of stimulating greater originality of design.

The new phase of the program will be to design and build a wheeled-type vehicle for the land transportation of two to six people.

The new classification is designed to encourage the kind of creativity that involves new concepts in areas such as passenger placement, methods of exit and entrance, comfort and convenience for passengers, placement of wheels and exterior appearance.

Every conceivable type of passenger vehicle is now eligible in one of three classifications. They are: (1) the regular category, (2) the new size and sports car category and (3) the open category.

The competition is open to all young men born from 1942 through 1951 who reside in the United States. All enrollees will receive an instruction booklet which will define the model car project and outline the various types of vehicles that are eligible.

This year the Guild will offer $117,000 in incentive awards, including $38,000 in university scholarships, which will be presented to the best model car designers and builders in the country.

These awards include eight scholarships for the national winners in the Junior and Senior Divisions of the Guild. The winners in the 11 through 15 age group and the 16 through 20 age group will both receive a $5,000 scholarship for first; $4,000 for second; $3,000 for third; and $2,000 for fourth. In addition, ten $1,000 scholarships are awarded to boys showing exceptional design ability.

There are 16 awards in each of the 50 states and the District of Columbia, eight in each age group as follows: 1st—$150 cash; 2nd—$100; 3rd—$50; and five honorable mention awards of $25 cash. For tax purposes, the country is divided into 20 regions, each of which will send a Junior and Senior Division winner to the expense-paid national convention in Detroit next July.

Since 1936, the Fisher Body competition has awarded 279 university scholarships valued at $741,500 to national winners. The total value of all awards has exceeded $2 million.

Sons of General Motors employes (including dealers and their employes) are eligible to enter the competition. Duplicate awards are made whenever a son of a GM employe wins.

The 1962-1963 competition will end June 7, 1963.

Beverage Agents Return To School For Training

State Beverage Agents working the Polk, Hardee and Highlands County area will "return to school" Wednesday when special classes are conducted as another phase of the Beverage Department's training program, according to Thomas E. Lee, Jr., Beverage Director.

Agents from the three-county area will attend an eight hour class September 26 at the Beverage District Office in Lakeland located at 1529 Gary Road.

Joe Simmons, attorney from Ocala, will conduct part of the training session which will cover law of arrest, search and seizure, criminal procedure and rules of evidence.

The course will consist of four hours of participating lectures followed by four hours of working with technical investigative aids and covering investigative techniques.

The training, Lee said, is part of the department's reorganization; and classes will be conducted on a continuous basis with schools for agents held throughout the state.

The next session planned by the department will be September 27 in Tampa, the Director noted.

Development Group Predicts Good Season

Tallahassee, (FNS) Despite air line strikes, encephalitis and economic doldrums Florida will have a successful winter tourist season, according to the Florida Development Commission.

Chairman-Director Wendell Jarrard says there is no reason for alarm or panic in the tourist promotion agency over prospects for the coming season.

"Overcoming the results of any health problems, transportation strikes, economic changes or weather patterns are a regular part of our job," Jarrard said.

He did not predict a record season, but said early indications point to a successful influx of tourists.

Meanwhile, Fred O. Dickinson asserted Florida is headed for the biggest tourist season in history. Dickinson, chairman of Florida's Council of 100 and has been prominently mentioned as a gubernatorial candidate in 1964.

He said a study by the Council of 100 showed the Panhandle section enjoyed the most profitable summer tourist season in three years. He added that he feels, the Cuban situation notwithstanding, the 1963 season will be the greatest Florida has ever seen.

Dickinson's prediction was presented in a speech at the 12th annual installation banquet of the Hialeah-Miami Springs Chamber of Commerce.

The feller who is always threatening to give you a run for your money is more likely to hand you the run around.

"Sunflavor" New Theme For State Produced Fruits and Vegetables

TALLAHASSEE — Three Florida citizens, two women and a man, have provided the "missing link" in the state's agricultural promotion program—a symbol to identify Florida's agricultural products in the marketplace.

The three winners will split $1,000 in prize money offered a year ago in a statewide contest. They are:

Mrs. Celine J. Allen, florist, 1209 Edgewater Drive, Orlando.

Mrs. H. B. Davis, wife of a retired school custodian, 155 Maple Terrace, Port Charlotte.

H. R. Edenfield, deputy sheriff, 3029 Drewery Avenue, Lakeland.

The new symbol was unveiled by Governor Farris Bryant last week (Sept. 20) at the annual banquet of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association at Miami Beach. It is an outline map of Florida with the word "sunFLAvor" over it. Emphasis is placed on the middle three letters which represent the abbreviation of Florida.

After praising Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner for the contest idea and selection, Governor Bryant explained: "The nation's housewives will see this symbol in advertising and promotional material, then they will see it stamped on our products and in point-of-sale material in the supermarkets. Of course growers and shippers will still have their own individual brands and labels, but they can also use the tie-in, 'sunFLAvor,' if their products meet grade and standard requirements."

Grades and standards will be set up for each product before use of the symbol begins so that only top quality produce can be sold under the name.

The idea for such a symbol or trademark was presented by Conner at the FFVA annual convention last year when he said he would donate $100 out of his own pocket to anyone who could come up with a name or symbol to be used for identification of Florida agricultural products. The press picked up the challenge and gave it widespread publicity. Other agricultural organizations joined in with contributions of money and ideas and a contest was held. Prize money soon reached $1,000 contributed by Florida Citrus Mutual ($500), Florida Citrus Commission ($300), Florida Fruit & Vegetable Association ($100), and Commissioner Conner ($100).

More than 10,000 entries were mailed into the Florida Department of Agriculture. A panel of 12 judges was selected from Florida's agricultural writers, editors, and newscasters.

Candy Man Is Rotary Club Speaker Here

The historic and ever-increasing role of candy as the universal "pick-up" was related by Mr. Ervin R. Shames, a representative of the Candy, Chocolate and Confectionery Institute, on September 26.

Shames, of Pink Cottage Candies in Mount Dora, told the Avon Park Rotary Club at the Jacaranda Hotel, Wednesday, that there is growing awareness of the value of candy in the average diet as a tasty source of energy. This has led to the use of candy to speed production; increase motorists' alertness; provide extra go-power to outdoorsmen and athletes; as an aid to the busy housewife; and to supply the between-meals staying power needed by active youngsters. These factors have made candy more popular than ever, Shames said.

"Total dollar sales of our country's selection of more than 2,000 types of candy totaled over three billion pounds for a wholesale dollar volume of approximately $1,231,859 in 1961," Shames said. "Each American put away more than 17 pounds of candy during that year."

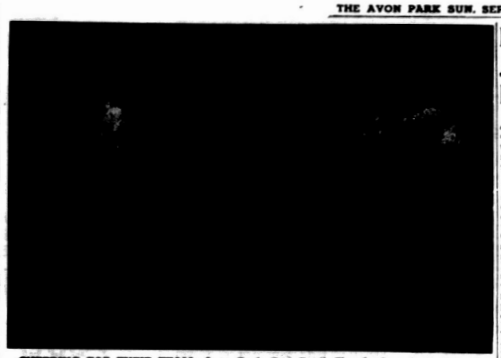
He said that these figures indicated the growing understanding of the value of candy in the average diet.

"As a matter of fact, many diet authorities suggest candy as a part of the reducing plan," reported Shames. "By sucking a sourball—13 calories—or munching a bon bon—47 calories—after a meal, the desire for a dessert of much higher caloric content is eased and the physiological need for sweets is adequately filled."

The high-energy value of candy has made it popular with soldiers since the days of Alexander, Shames said. He pointed out that candy has been a standard item of the American military rations since World War I and that a recent report by nutritionists for the Air Research and Development Command indicated that candy was one of the staple diet items now used in manned space voyages.

He pointed out that this "extra" energy is now being used to increase production through a "candy break."

By passing a tray of candy a couple of times a day to workers, employers find an increased alertness. It's the same sort of energy pick-up that athletic coaches provide to their teams," Shames said.



CHEERING FOR THEIR TEAM—Avon Park Red Devil Cheerleaders lead fans in cheers as they pull for their team to score a TD. The cheers were plenty good, but the gridders failed to make the score. (Sun Photo)

RED DEVIL FULLBACK—Pinkeh Medder, who sat out last season with an injured knee, appears to be headed for a fine high grid career. The big line plunger was effective against the Mulberry Panthers last week. He is expected to be in the lineup Friday when the Red Devils meet the Fort Meade Miners at Memorial Field. (Sun Photo)

Beverage Licenses Due

A reminder was issued today by State Beverage Director Thomas E. Lee, Jr., that a renewal of beverage licenses in all 67 counties of Florida must be made by October 1, 1962.

If licensees fail to renew their present license, a penalty will be imposed, the Director warned. Such penalties may range as high as $125, depending on the type of license and the date renewed, Lee explained.

More than 17,000 licenses are now in existence throughout Florida and represent a variety of some 22 types of beverage license.

METHODIST SEMINAR

Hundreds of women from the Sarasota District are expected at First Methodist Church Thursday for the District Seminar. Several District and State officers are expected to be overnight guests, arriving Wednesday afternoon from a similar meeting in Punta Gorda.

Don't forget to renew your driver's license during the month of your birthday.

Fashionable colors, such as avocado and honey beige, can be readily applied to wood panel ing on interior walls. According to the Southern Pine Association, the desired hue can be achieved simply by tinting the finish with oils. Such finishes are transparent and do not obscure the wood grain.

Why gamble with the benzine buggy? You seldom get a second chance there.

Cox Re-elected President Of Vegetable Group

MIAMI BEACH—J. Abney Cox of Princeton was reelected president of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association last week as the group held its 19th annual convention.

Other officers reelected were Roy Vandergrift, Jr., Pahokee, vice president, and Joffre C. David, of Orlando, general manager of the organization, secretary-treasurer.

Association research awards were presented to Dr. Marshall R. Godwin, senior economist of the Florida Citrus Commission, for his marketing research, and to Henry W. Schaeck, technical seed consultant with the association, for his work in developing new celery varieties.

District WSG Meet In Arcadia

Wesleyan Service Guild members gathered at the Trinity Methodist Church in Arcadia on Sunday afternoon for the District Seminar. Avon Park and Sebring Wesleyan Service Guilds were co-hostesses with the Arcadia WSG for a buffet dinner which was served at the close of the business session.

Those representing the Avon Park WSG were Mrs. Russell Mizelle, Mrs. Helen Harris, Mrs. T. O. Martin, Mrs. Ila Parks, Mrs. Floyd Oldham, Mrs. Eugene Dettinger and Mrs. Don Edmondson.

POST GAME SOCIAL

The Avon Park Country Club will have their after-game social this Friday night following the football game. Snacks will be served during the evening.

REBEKAHS TO MEET

Regular meeting of Eleanor Severns Rebekah Lodge No. 65 will be held in the Brickel Hall, Monday night, October 1, at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Hood Hosts Junior Woman's Executive Board

Mrs. Harry L. Hood, president of the Junior Woman's Club, was hostess to the Executive Board meeting at her home in Lakeside Heights Thursday night, September 20.

During the business session plans were made to have a dessert party for the new members of the club, which will be at the club house in October. A letter from Mrs. J. R. Glover, GFFWC President, announced a change in the state board meeting which will be held in Daytona Beach October 1-3 instead of at Sarasota as previously announced. Special committees were announced by the president, as follows; polio drive, Nan Allen and Mary Palmer; cancer drive, Nancy Williams and Jean Ballentine; fashion show, Dean Moxley and Bobby Pinardi; house committee, Norma Jean Hill.

The hostess served hot coffee and donuts to 12 board members present.

First Meeting Of Season Held For Junior Gardeners

The Junior Garden Club of Avon Elementary School, including fourth and fifth grade students, held their first meeting of the year on Thursday afternoon with more than 40 students present.

Mrs. Jeanne Niswonger of Lakeland, president of Lakeland area Audubon Society, spoke to the club and illustrated her talk with colored slides of birds of Florida. She had taken the pictures on her many trips to the Everglades and Dry Fortugas.

Mrs. Hubert Bussard, Mrs. Sybil Laye and Mrs. Sara Reaves assisted with the program which was arranged by Mrs. Fred Fenn and Mrs. C. Brooks Henderson. The Junior Club is sponsored by the Avon Park Federation of Garden Clubs and will meet on the third Thursday of each month for the remaining school year.

Garden Clubbers At District Meet

Avon Park Garden Club members who attended the workshop of District 9 of the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs which was held in Lake Placid on Monday and Tuesday of this week were Mrs. C. Brooks Henderson, Mrs. Hubert Bussard and Mrs. O. F. Laye.

The theme of the workshop was "Together-We Grow". According to those who attended, the lectures and demonstrations were interesting and informative, with new ideas in crafts, horticulture, sand painting and flower arrangements.

The pine trail isn't quite as lonesome as the well-known title suggests. There are an estimated 36 billion Southern Pine trees growing in 12 states and their number is increasing every year.

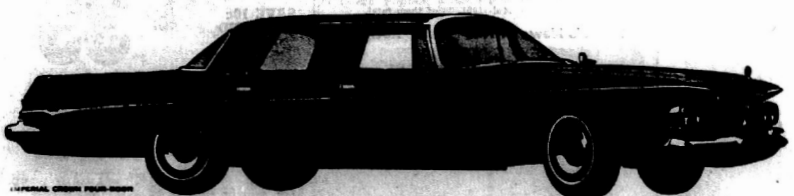
AMERICA'S MOST CAREFULLY BUILT CAR



IMPERIAL CROWN FOUR-DOOR

To everyone who plans to buy an Imperial, Cadillac or Lincoln this year

If you'd like the best perspective on what your next luxury car can offer, begin with a drive in the new Imperial—first luxury car having its power-train warranted for five years or 50,000 miles.*

Your Imperial dealer is ready to furnish one of his new models for your comparison.

You'll find Imperial is designed for spaciousness and luxury on the grand scale. Imperial's town-car look is deliberately restrained—and timeless. But its famous roadability is evidence of very timely advances in high-performance power and the largest automatic-adjusting brake system in any American luxury car.

After you've tested and inspected and compared, we'd like your personal judgment of our major premise: that Imperial's differences afford important motoring qualities not found in either Cadillac or Lincoln.

So accept our friendly challenge, please. We're confident that driving an Imperial will influence your ideas about what a luxury car should be and should do.

*Power train warranty: Applies to Chrysler Motors engine, drive unit, transmission and overdrive as sold in 1962 and later cars and to Dodge, Plymouth, Valiant and Lancer engine, transmission and overdrive as sold in 1962 and later cars. Gophers To Play Role In Annual Shopportunity

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Merchant's Committee Tuesday morning it was again decided to employ the Florida Gopher in promoting Shopportunity Days. November 1, 2, 3.

The gophers were used last year with a theme of "Gopher More Business in Avon Park." A number of the four-legged creatures were released with banner markings heralding the shopping days. Finders were given prizes if they returned the gophers to the Chamber of Commerce.

The committee also approved the "Miss" and "Mrs." Shopportunity" contest. "Miss Shopportunity" is chosen by judges and the "Mrs." title is determined by public vote. Currently JoAnne Kelly holds the "Miss" title and Mrs. M...

"Engineered" wood roof systems are so strong that homes can be built with fewer partitions, larger rooms and windows. This means more space for family living and storage, greater freedom of vision and lower construction costs. According to the Southern Pine Association, two of the most prominent systems are plank-and-beam and wood trussed rafters.

Avon Park Seeks First Win

year, is expected to be in action this week after being sidelined with an injury before the first game. His speed at halfback may add to the Devils offense which has sadly lacked a fast, break-away runner thus far.

The Red Devil marching band, directed by Vic Micunas, will again put on a half-time show. Last week rain hampered marching practice and prevented the band from presenting their planned show which will take place this week.

Mulberry Game

The Mulberry Panthers converted a costly Avon Park mistake into a first quarter touchdown and then held the Devils scoreless last Friday night at Memorial Field to post a 6-0 victory over the winless Red Devils. It was the Panthers first victory over the Devils since 1958.

The Panthers lone touchdown was set up by the Devils early in the first period. Facing a fourth down and 17 yards to go situation, Avon Park lined up in punt formation. A high snap from center sent punter Bill Ward chasing the ball toward his own goal. Ward managed to pick the pigskin up but couldn't get a kick off and was downed on the Devil's 13 yard line.

Mulberry backs Charles Duke, Kent Stewart and Mickey McQuaig ground out four yards each to give the Panthers a first and ten on Avon Park's one yard line in three quick plays. Fullback Duke then plunged through the middle for the score on the next play to put Mulberry ahead 6-0. The Devils defense held on the ensuing try for the extra point but the six points proved enough for Mulberry to take the win.

Avon Park's offense couldn't move the ball on the following series but Ward got off a 43 yard punt to push the Panthers back to their 20 yard marker. Mulberry quarterback Robert Strange decided to take to the air as the first quarter drew to a close but Devil guard Bobby Briscoe intercepted a low pass over the line and moved to the Mulberry 31. Two plays later the Devils fumbled and Mulberry's Jackie Jones recovered for the Panthers.

The entire second quarter was taken up with a 35 yard drive by the Panthers which ended on Avon Park's 33 when Devil defensive halfback DeWayne Lemler fell on a Panther fumble, and a 45 yard drive by the Devils to Mulberry's 21 yard line. Halfback Lanse Padgett almost put the Devils on the scoreboard as he highlighted Avon Park's drive with a 34 yard romp around left end. Padgett was hit several times during his gain but bulled through to the 32 before a host of Mulberry tacklers got to him. Avon Park's offense sputtered and died 20 yards short of pay dirt after a five yard penalty forced the Devils to go to the air. Devil signal caller, Leonard Sullivan, tried passes to Bill Ward and Lanse Padgett but neither receiver could hold on and Mulberry took over on downs.

Avon Park dominated the third quarter with two drives which got as far as the Panther 20 and again to the Mulberry 14 before the Devil offense fizzled out. A fumble which was again recovered by Mulberry end, Jackie Jones, brought a halt to the Devil's deepest penetration on the 14. The fumble also set up a 52 yard drive by Mulberry. The Panthers were driven back to their own seven yard line by a penalty and Avon Park's hard driving defense but a 15 yarder against Avon Park moved the ball out enough to give the Panthers running room. From the Mulberry 40, young Panther halfback Mickey Mahan squirted through the Devil line and angled off tackle for a 50 yard gain before DeWayne Lemler overtook him from behind. The Panthers moved on from the ten to the one foot line but the Devil's defense put on a terrific goal line stand and held the Panthers inches from the goal. Neither team was able to move far again and the game ended with Avon Park in possession on the 50 after two fine pass receptions by Randy Rewis and John Rhoades.

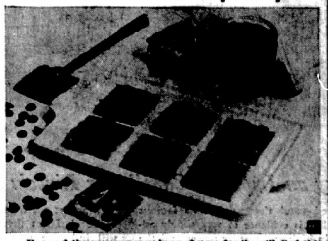
There's News In This "Chip" Recipe!



You and the younger members of your family will find this recipe simple as 1-2-3—graham crackers, peanut butter and glazed chocolate chips. These new glazed chips add something extra to any chip recipe . . . they are richer, fresher and more decorative. Just try the "Quick Chips" below and the following variations and see for yourself:

Instead of peanut butter, place about 12 chips on each cracker and heat as directed. Spread chocolate chips on cracker and sprinkle with flaked coconut. Still another delicious idea is to use finely chopped nuts instead of the coconut. All the versions are really yummy!

Quick "Chips"

6 graham crackers
3 tablespoons crunchy peanut butter
3 tablespoons Baker's Satin Glazed Semi-Sweet Chocolate Chips

Spread each cracker with about ½ tablespoon crunchy peanut butter. Top with the chips, using about 12 chips on each cracker. Heat in slow oven (325°F.) 2 or 3 minutes, or until chips are softened. Spread chips quickly over crackers. Cool. Makes 6 cookies.

Note: Do not make more than 6 cookies at one time.

Four New Chevys Displayed For '63

Four distinctive lines of 1963 Chevrolet automobiles will go on sale in Chevrolet dealerships across the nation this Friday (September 28). The Chevrolet dealer in Avon Park is I. H. Ford Motor Co.

Offering 33 models in four separate categories—each aimed at a specific segment of the market—the 1963 cars represent faith in a continued strong national economy by Chevrolet, which is already on its way to setting an all-time industry sales record for 1962.

There are significant styling changes in the regular Chevrolets, a continuation of their unique automotive personalities by the Chevy II and the Corvair, and two entirely new bodies and a new chassis for the Corvette sports car. All models have significant mechanical improvements.

Taking the four members of the Chevrolet family one at a time:

Regular Chevrolets — The traditional big car emphasis upon luxurious transportation is continued in the 1963 regular Chevrolets, offered in 13 models in the Impala, Bel Air and Biscayne series.

There is a sleek, longer look with all-new styling. Straight windshield pillars improve access for driver and passengers. The new front grille of anodized aluminum extends the full width of the vehicle, while a depressed center area adds new interest to the broad rear deck lid.

Smooth, straight line styling gives the side of the new Chevrolets a flowing look of motion. A horizontal line highlights the sculpture of the side, extending from the foremost point of the front fender to the extended point of the rear fender. Lower, a slender accent rib from midway down the front fender skims the top of the rear wheel and carries through to the rear bumper.

Throughout the line, ventilated rocker panels provide a new measure of protection from corrosion. Decricks are improved to enhance passenger safety.

The Impala sport sedan has a fleet, new roofline and an optional vinyl top is available for the Impala sport coupe. Fifteen solid colors and eleven two-tone combinations are available in the regular Chevrolets. Interiors of the cars are entirely new and more luxurious for 1963.

Mechanically, there are the following new features:

—A new six-cylinder 140 horsepower engine, higher in horsepower and yet 23 per cent lighter than its 1962 counterpart, teams with a revised 238 cubic inch V8 and five other V8 engines to offer engines ranging from 140 to 425 horsepower.

—Brakes are self-adjusting, mufflers will have longer life, and the lightweight Powerglide transmission used with the 327 cubic inch engine option in 1962 is extended to all models.

—Delcotron generators are standard on all models, assuring ample reserve electrical power for added accessories and longer battery life.

—All radios are transistorized for 1963.

—The standard equipment heater is new as are the optional all-weather and custom air conditioners.

Chevy II—In its second year on the market, Chevy II continues the basic styling of the previous model with new exterior and interior appointments. There are ten models in three series.

There is a new grille and wide hood and deck lid emblems to give a more massive look to the car. There are new body side moldings for the 300 and Nova 400 series.

For 1963, Chevy II offers Super Sport options on its Nova 400 sport coupe and convertible, featuring bucket seats and all-vinyl interiors. Fifteen solid colors and eleven two-tone combinations are available on Chevy II models.

Mechanically, the Chevy II has self-adjusting brakes and Delcotron generators. Four and six-cylinder engines again are offered, with minor improvements. Longer-life mufflers are standard on all models. Radios are completely transistorized.

Corvair—Chevrolet's distinctive small car enters its fourth year on the market with an ever-growing following among those who want a sports car feel in a less expensive car.

Styling changes are confined to ornamentation and molding details. Otherwise, America's first rear engine car continues its unique personality.

There are eight models of Corvair, ranging in variety from the Monza Spyder convertible to two models of the popular Corvair Greenbrier sports wagon. Fifteen solid colors plus two-tone combinations are offered.

Mechanically, Corvair has self-adjusting brakes, more durable exhaust system and changes in front suspension and steering linkage. Engines have numerous improvements and radios are transistorized.

Corvette—In its tenth year on the market, America's only production sports car is redesigned and re-engineered for the first time. In addition to the convertible (with optional hardtop) model offered in the past, there is a new "fast-back" sport coupe.

For the first time, Corvette offers optional power steering, power brakes and air-conditioning for the customer who wants a sports car but also wishes to retain the driving conveniences to which he has become accustomed.

Mechanically, there are a host of improvements, including a completely new chassis, four-wheel independent suspension, self-adjusting brakes, improved steering and Delcotron generators.

Especially dramatic are the retractable headlights which rotate up from the airfoil-shaped front end at the touch of a switch by the driver.

Both Corvette models are known as the "Sting Ray". Their sleek, aerodynamic fiberglass bodies will be available in seven high-quality acrylic lacquer finishes.

Corvettes for 1963 are two inches lower and four inches shorter in wheelbase than 1962 models. In addition to their exterior styling, interiors have been completely redesigned for 1963.

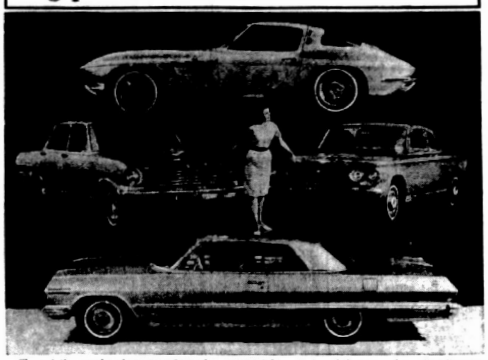
Additional note: On all 1963 Chevrolet passenger cars, engine oil change is recommended at 6,000 miles or 60 days and chassis lubrication is recommended at 6,000 miles or six months.

Also, all 1963 models have amber front turn signals instead of white turn signals as in previous years.

33 varieties offered in

Big parade of 1963 Chevrolet models



Chevrolet's parade of new products for 1963 includes four lines. Heading the list, which will be announced on September 28, is the luxurious Impala Sport Coupe (bottom), Chevy II 4-Door Sedan (left center), Corvair Monza Club Coupe (right center), and the new and startling Corvette Sting Ray Sport Coupe, the epitome of advanced styling. Chevrolet's wide choice of passenger cars includes 33 models in addition to 6 variations with special optional power-train combinations.

Tomorrow-GO JET-SMOOTH CHEVROLET for '63

If it didn't say Chevrolet on the flanks of the superb automobile you now have, you'd have a hard time proving it's a low-priced car. It offers luxurious styling, extremely comfortable, spacious and silent interiors . . . plus a lot of invisible ways to keep it looking and running like new when a lot of others have started to sag and sigh: new finish and dry rocker panels under the doors to guard against rusting . . . self-adjusting brakes . . . Delcotron generator for longer battery life. If you ever wondered why Chevrolet leads its field, a drive in this '63 should answer all your questions.

IT'S EXCITING!

GO CORVAIR for '63-IT'S EXCITING!

'63 CHEVY II NOVA SPORT COUPE '63 CORVAIR MONZA CONVERTIBLE

Hard as it may be to believe, this year's Chevy II is better, better than last year's and better than anything in its class. It combines all the new easy-care features of the big Chevrolet with its own wonderful attributes of portable size, four- or six-cylinder fuel economy and interiors that'd do justice to cars with twice its price and half its charm.

Change it? Calm yourself, nobody's going to mess with a winner like the one! We did add self-adjusting brakes and a more fully absorbed muffler; interiors and outside trim are refined a bit, but the rest is pure Corvair with all the over-the-road goodness that implies. Oh yes, we changed the nameplate so all those people you pass will know you're driving a '63.

THE EVENING HOUR

The peaceful hush
of evening falls
On moorland and on sea.
The plover down
the twi-light calls
Goodnight to you and me.

The sun's rim disappears,
and soon
The stars shine one by one.
Low in the east
a round red moon
Stands on the horizon.

The winds that thru the whistling day
Have boomed o'er vale
and hill,
Or whipped the waters
into spray,
Are peaceful now and still.

No ripples now on lake
or pond;
They are smooth
as they can be.
Old ocean's bosom far beyond
Heaves calmly, peacefully.

Out of the stardome
of the night
A lonely heron cries,
As thru the dim uncertain light
To some loved marsh
he flies.

Dear God, in this so quiet hour
How near to man Thou art!
The very stillness speaks
Thy power
To calm the restless heart.

O why should man seek wealth and power
By warring without cease?
It is the quiet evening hour
That happiness brings and peace.

Chryslers On Display At Wells Motor Company In Avon Park

This is that time of year when trees begin to change ... most of them to brown. But, certain trees stand out ... the flaming reds and vivid yellows that fairly glow. Certain cars stand out beautifully this fall, too.

They're the bright, new 1963 Chryslers now at Wells Motor Co. This year Chrysler has a crisp, new, custom look. A custom look that's already setting the styling trend of the future. If you'd like to take a "beautiful step ahead" ... make a date with a crisp, new, custom look Chrysler. They look just like they sound. Distinctive.

Even if you removed the Chrysler nameplate, anyone would recognize this original styling, whether it's the luxurious New Yorker ... the sporty 300 or the economical Newport.

Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on the 1963 Chrysler automobiles has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair for five years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first.

This includes the engine block, head, and internal parts; transmission case and internal parts, excluding manual clutch; torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (excluding dust covers), rear axle and differential and read wheel bearings. Provided of course the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Chrysler car care schedules.

There are many other "firsts" in the styling, design, comfort and driving in the 1963 Chrysler on display at Wells Motor Co., Avon Park.

Garden Clubbers At District Meet

Avon Park Garden Club members who attended the workshop of District 9 of the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs which was held in Lake Placid on Monday and Tuesday of this week were Mrs. C. Brooks Henderson, Mrs. Hubert Bussard and Mrs. O. F. Lape.

The theme of the workshop was "Together-We Grow". According to those who attended, the lectures and demonstrations were interesting and informative, with new ideas in crafts, horticulture, sand painting and flower arrangements.

School kids are often too busy to be careful. You should never be too busy to be careful when behind the wheel and around school yards.

Ridge Theatre Guild To Open New Season

Jack Hyatt, new elected president of the Ridge Theater Guild and chairman of its Executive Board, has announced that the Little Theater Group's first production of the 1962-63 season will be Glass Menagerie, by Tennessee Williams.

This production will be under the able direction of Gil Ring, who will be remembered for his excellent directing of Bus Stop last season. The show is scheduled for early December.

Hyatt also advises that there will be a meeting of the Guild Sunday, September 30, at 2:00 p. m. The meeting will be held in the Theater Guild's workshop at the Sebring Air Terminal, across from Field's Administration office.

This meeting, it has been stressed, is open to everyone interested in taking part in Ridge Theater Guild, from production to stagehand. The first readings for the casting of Glass Menagerie will also be held at this time. The president announced that there will be a second meeting the following Tuesday, October 2, at 7:30 p. m. also at the air terminal building.

This second meeting will be in the nature of an organizational meeting for the production of Glass Menagerie. These meetings are open to the general public interested in little theater. All are invited to attend either or both of these meetings.

The State of Citrus

By John Sikes — Florida Citrus Mutual

LAKELAND — There are some 140 to 150 human reasons Florida Citrus Mutual's 12,000-plus grower members are recognized as the best informed agricultural producers in the world.

These human reasons are the officers of Mutual's Grower Councils, of which there are now 42 representing each community in Florida's citrus-producing areas.

There are, of course, lozens of other reasons Mutual grower members keep current on what goes on in citrus production, packing, processing, movement, selling, etc. Among these: The Triangle, Mutual's weekly publication circulated to all members; Mutual's Daily Market Bulletin, issued during the season; Mutual's seven staff field men who work with growers in each of the seven Florida citrus districts; Mutual's 21-member board of directors, three from each district; all these plus frequent special reports and additional personal contacts.

But the 140 to 150 Grower Council officers, who do their jobs without pay, are special links in the Mutual chain of organization.

Elected by their fellow grower members of Mutual, these Council officers—about one of them per 80 to 85 individual members—keep members in their respective communities posted on going citrus prices, fruit movement in all channels, their organization's activity and programs, industry-wide goings-on and even how Mrs. Smith in Keokuk and Frau Schmidt in West Berlin are buying Florida citrus products.

They serve to correlate efforts of growers in each community in working out solutions to local citrus problems and they help develop ideas and suggestions from individual growers that might lead to overall Mutual and industry action.

When the Grower Councils were formed in 1952 Mutual's Bob Rutledge called them "Mutual's Minute Men".

"Certainly the Council officers who are thoroughly familiar with every citrus situation in their respective communities make the interchange of ideas and suggestions between our individual members and Mutual's board and staff swift and practical," Rutledge said.

"These Council officers are doing an essential job of up-to-the-minute communications among growers and between the individual grower member and the Mutual organization."

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862 . . . the same year that

IN FLORIDA, citizens were evading the blockade of the Union Navy, by using small boats to bring in essential weapons and supplies for the Confederate armies. After each successful blockade run, many men celebrated with well-earned glasses of beer.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation. But beer means more than enjoyment in our state. The Brewing industry contributes more than 25 million tax dollars to Florida each year — money that helps support our hospitals, schools, and highways.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

Boys Ranch Is Recipient Of $28,441 Bequest

LIVE OAK — The Florida Sheriffs Boys Ranch today announced it has received a bequest valued at $28,441 from the estate of Agnes A. Torrey, a Polish immigrant from Monticello who died a childless widow in 1960.

The bequest, which includes real estate in Monticello, cash, a U. S. Government bond and two diamond rings, was turned over to Baker County Sheriff Ed Yarbrough, chairman of the Ranch Trustees, and Jefferson County Sheriff J. R. Thomas by Jefferson County Judge Kenneth E. Cooksey on September 20.

Yarbrough said this was the first bequest to the Ranch although others have been received since Mrs. Torrey's death and most of them are still under probate.

He expressed deep appreciation to Judge Cooksey for bringing the Ranch to Mrs. Torrey's attention after she discussed her will with him and expressed a desire to make a bequest which would help needy and homeless boys.

Yarbrough said the Ranch water system will be dedicated as a memorial to Mrs. Torrey. He explained it is currently being expanded and improved to meet the steady growth of the Ranch and any portion of the bequest not used for this purpose will go into an endowment fund for future needs.

Mrs. Torrey was born in Poland in 1904 and after coming to this country she and her husband, Lenard H., operated variety stores in Quitman, Ga., and Monticello. Her will was dated August 18, 1959, six months after the Boys Ranch opened for business, and she died March 18, 1960.

She had no children and no known surviving relatives.

No one passes up an opportunity by keeping on the go.

Post Office Is Commended For Savings Sales

Avon Park Postmaster R. D. Young said today he had received a letter from William H. Neal, National Director of the U. S. Savings Bond program, commending the local post office for its efforts in the promotion and sale of U. S. Savings Stamps.

"You and your associates have helped to make the Treasury's school Savings Program the success it is today," Mr. Neal wrote. "It is regarded as a most important instrument in teaching citizenship and thrift.

"Now as another new school year opens, you will again have the opportunity of contributing to this important means of thrift education. I personally believe that a part of every American's savings belongs in U. S. Savings Bonds, and there is no better place to begin than with the youthful investment in Savings Stamps.

"On behalf of the Treasury Department, may I express sincere appreciation and ask for your continued active cooperation. Through the sale of U. S. Savings Stamps you offer a convenient service to schools, and to the public in general."

Young expressed his own endorsement of the Treasury Department's School Savings program for the purchase of Savings Stamps and Bonds. Savings Stamps in 10c, 25c, 50c, $1, and $5 sizes are on sale at the post office at all times, as well as on School Stamp Day each week in local schools.

Enthusiasm shown by 4-H girls all over the county is most gratifying. As I meet with the old clubs and form new ones, I find that the girls are most interested in the foods and clothing projects.

The 4-H program is set up so that as a girl progresses in age she can add to her beginning skills and not lose interest. For instance, a girl taking a foods project the first year may complete the minimum cooking requirements in her project book but during her second and future years she may want to enter the Dairy Foods Demonstration contest or the Bread Making contest. She can branch out into areas of canning or freezing. As a senior 4-H girl she may help younger girls with their foods projects.

Girls may join the 4-H at the age of ten. They take only one project their first year while they are learning such things as the club pledge, how to participate in a business meeting and how to keep project records.

Miss Irene Polk and Myrna Lewis were confident as they presided over the first meeting of their respective clubs at Sebring High and Venus last week. It was evident that through their years of 4-H work they had gained poise as well as skills in Home Economics.

Local club leaders assist the girls in many ways, but perhaps their most important contribution is their workshop in which they help the girls with their individual projects. Mrs. Floyd Polk, Mrs. Reed Rainey, Mrs. V. E. Waters, and Mrs. Betty Archbalt are continuing to give their services as club leaders for individual clubs in and [illegible] the county.

The 4-H girls enjoy and participate in special events such as the County Dress Revue at the fair, a week at Camp Cloverleaf at Lake Placid, and Girls' 4-H Short Course on the [illegible] Florida State University campus at Tallahassee.

Avon Park children will aid the handicapped by collecting clothing for Goodwill Industries.

The drive will coincide with National Employ the Handicapped Week, October 7-13, giving children and teenagers the opportunity to actively participate in a drive that has the endorsement of President Kennedy.

Pupils will take Goodwill clothing bags home on Monday, October 8, and fill them with usable things no longer wanted at home. They will return the donations to their schools the latter part of the week for pick-up by Goodwill trucks.

Non-profit Goodwill Industries employs 280 handicapped people to repair or renovate clothing and other articles given by the public. These articles are sold in 15 Goodwill stores, and from store sales come the wages for the Goodwill employees.

The road pictured here bears the time-worn marks of many travellers. Apparently it leads to some distant village or serves perhaps as a link between more vital thoroughfares.

But in reality this road does neither. Once, no doubt, it had a destination, but today it fades away into the woods a few miles beyond—a "dead end."

How many lives are like this road? They have promising beginnings, but instead of continuing to worthwhile goals, they wander aimlessly to final dead ends.

The Church teaches us to build useful lives and guides us toward noble achievements and ambitions. Regular attendance at church services gives greater assurance that our pathway of life will not lead us astray. On the contrary, it leads straight to the house of the peaceful mind and the contented heart.

Jim Haley Reports

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The House, as you have probably read by now, has just succeeded in making the deepest cut ever achieved in the budget recommendations for the foreign aid program—and, if we can hold this in our annual duel with the Senate over this nightmarish issue, I will be encouraged to believe that someday The Congress will come to its senses about this deficit-producing program.

I should say that while I am glad that we have succeeded in cutting about a billion and a quarter dollars out of the fat-loaded foreign aid appropriations, I would be happier had we been able to cut it even more deeply. I am, of course, opposed to the foreign aid boondoggle, as I have been for years, but I am enough of a realist to know that we cannot just abandon it all in one fell swoop. But I think the time has come—indeed is long past due—when we should make heavy annual cuts in this program until we finally have succeeded in eliminating it entirely.

I had occasion during debate on this bill to say a few words in which I pointed out some figures which are to me, as an accountant, of great significance in thoughtful consideration of this program. I think, and I believe that you will think, that these figures demonstrate as clearly and succinctly as anything could the fact that the foreign aid program can be cut and cut sharply, if not this year, certainly by next year.

These figures show that as of the beginning of this fiscal year —the year for which we now are making new appropriations —the foreign aid program was in possession of a kitty of six billion, seven hundred twelve million dollars in unexpended funds from prior year appropriations.

This is about three quarters of a billion dollars more than the foreign aid surplus a year earlier; nearly two billion dollars more than the surplus two years earlier. These figures show, for one thing, that we overappropriated for this program for fiscal 1961 and did it again for fiscal 1962. I think we now have done it once more for 1963.

But these figures contain a fact of even more striking significance. They show that as of the first day of this fiscal year, there were already on hand in the foreign aid treasury what really is too vast to be called a "kitty"—sufficient funds to operate the program, at the same level of expenditures that has prevailed for the past three years, for more than two years without the appropriation of a single additional penny.

I am familiar with all the bureaucratic gobbledygook about obligations and commitments and programming. But I am not nearly so impressed by these fine words and theories as I am by the stark reality of the facts and figures. I might say, as a matter of fact, that I am totally unimpressed by the words and theories—and vastly impressed by the facts and figures.

National Wildlife Federation To Provide Grants To Nature Students

WASHINGTON D. C.—The National Wildlife Federation will provide several thousand dollars in grants to natural resources conservation students again this year, according to Federation president Paul A. Herbert.

Deans of education in colleges across the country are now receiving the Federation's official announcement that it plans to provide undergraduate scholarships of up to $500 and graduate fellowships of up to $1,000 to college students majoring in such subjects as natural resource management; conservation education, journalism, radio and television; and land-owner-sportsmen relations.

Applications may be submitted by students having completed one year of college and who are citizens or nationals of the United States, or will be by March, 1963. Awards will be made in March, 1963, for the academic year 1963-64.

Additional information and application forms are available on request from the Executive Director, National Wildlife Federation, 1412 16th Street, N.W., Washington 6, D.C. Completed applications must be returned to the Federation postmarked no later than midnight, December 1, 1962.

Since 1951, a total of 180 individual student grants and four organization grants have been made by the National Wildlife Federation. Grants made by the Federation for this purpose and for state-affiliate-administered conservation education projects such as teacher workshops in conservation now total almost a quarter of a million dollars.

As with other conservation education efforts of the National Wildlife Federation, these awards are made possible through contributions received in exchange for Wildlife Conservation Stamps, donations from conservation-minded organizations and individuals, and the sale of nature-related merchandise.

The largest private conservation organization in the world, the National Wildlife Federation represents over 2,000,000 conservationists through its affiliates in 50 states and the District of Columbia.

Drivers Urged Watch For "That Bouncing Ball"

TALLAHASSEE—Watch out for a bouncing football, says the Florida Highway Patrol, because some future All-American may be right behind it.

Only that potential quarterback doesn't have the common sense and judgement that it takes to watch out for the football and traffic too, so be prepared to stop on a split second's notice and let him reach the goal line in life.

Those were the words of advice today from Florida Highway Patrol commander H. N. Kirkman who reminds drivers that the football season is officially with us, and with us unofficially but very much in reality - are the hundreds and hundreds of tiny tot football "big stars" of tomorrow who will be kicking it up in the sandlots.

"Let these little guys grow up, and for Heaven's sake don't run them down. Be prepared like you were never prepared before to really stop on a dime. Be ever watchful in suburban neighborhoods where those teams might be battling it out weekday afternoons as well as on Saturday," said Kirkman.

The veteran commander said that we all have "a double duty. We must think for ourselves and for the quarterbacks of the next decade too, or we could easily live to regret it for many a decade to come."

"Let's protect our youngsters," pleaded Kirkman. "Let's let the 1970 potential All-American live."

Penal System At "Cross Roads"—Parole Officer

Florida has reached a cross roads in dealing with convicts, says Roy W. Russell, Chairman of the Florida Probation and Parole Commission. He said that Florida now has had to choose between more probation and parole, or more prison space, and the State Cabinet has chosen probation and parole.

The Chairman pointed out that the state prison head in recent days has told the public that he has no more beds at any state prison, and that the only relief from the kind of crowding that squeezes 18 men into a single cell, is for parole techniques to be applied for those otherwise eligible. The Parole Commission replied that its staff is limited, and each man now is supervising more probationers and parolees, is doing more pre-sentence investigating, than is normal. As a result, said the Chairman, the State Cabinet has released $123,000 to enable the Commission to add 16 supervisors, and in a short time, release on parole nearly 400 state convicts.

The Chairman declared that probation and parole may properly be applied to those in county jails and stockades, to the alcoholic criminal, to the dope addict, to first offenders and to juveniles in state correctional institutions. In each of these areas, he said, the Parole Commission can bring into action trained men who can help the individual law violators come back into society and earn their livings and support their dependents. The alternatives, he added, will be for Florida to keep on building more prisons, and thereby creating a larger and larger permanent criminal population.

Fashionable colors, such as avocado and honey beige, can be readily applied to wood paneling on interior walls. According to the Southern Pine Association, the desired hue can be achieved simply by tinting the finish with oils. Such finishes are transparent and do not obscure the wood grain.

Florida is one of several states which operate state alcoholism agencies on funds raised through taxation of alcoholic beverages.

Diabetes Hits New Death High In Florida

JACKSONVILLE — More Florida residents died of diabetes in 1961 than in any previous year, the Florida State Board of Health said today.

The board said the diabetes death rate of 41 in 1960 in Florida was the highest of any state.

Latest U. S. census data for Florida shows that in 1960 persons 45 years of age and older accounted for 31.8 per cent of the state's population whereas in 1950 they made up only 28.8 per cent.

The board said "This increase no doubt is a major contributing factor in the rise in our diabetic death rates. Nearly 92 per cent of the deaths due to diabetes during the period 1952-61 occurred in groups of 45 and over."

From 1952 to 1961 inclusive 4,485 Florida residents died of diabetes. Females of both races accounted for 56 per cent of those deaths.

The death rate is higher among non-whites and the board said this is due probably to the fact that more whites take advantage of medical services for early detection and treatment.

In most cases diabetes can be controlled by proper treatment if detected early enough. The board said all persons beyond 40 should have periodic blood sugar tests and that such tests should be made annually on relatives of known diabetics.

"Secret" Of Florida Living Is Climate

The secret of pleasurable Florida living is to take advantage of Florida's year-round climate, according to architect Jan Reiner of St. Petersburg, who has just published an enlarged edition of his FLORIDA HOMES magazine that gives suggestions about how to do this. Mr. Reiner is well known to readers of this newspaper through his house plans which have appeared in these pages.

The magazine offers house plans designed for Florida ways of living and building and articles on planning and construction of a Florida home and planning a Florida garden. Such moot questions as site selection, insulation, air conditioning and heating methods are discussed.

Like the previous issues, this edition contains a collection of "down-to-earth" house plans aimed at budget-minded families. The total of 74 plans includes many tried-and-true favorites of Florida families and a number of new ones. All homes are slab-on-grade masonry structures with airy rooms, high ceilings, large windows and one or two screened porches. They range in size from one-bedroom retirement homes to houses with three bedrooms and two baths. Some are especially designed for narrow lots and a few feature landscaped patios and lanais. Plans for six duplexes are included. Each house is presented with a floor plan diagram, a corner view and a half-page description of the room arrangement, heating, construction, etc.

"I should like to think," writes Reiner in the introduction, "that this collection of homes would become at least a partial answer to the planning needs of families (and builders and developers) who intend to build homes suited to warm region living. Three principles have guided me in the design of these house: 1. Livability, 2. Economy of construction and maintenance, and 3. Pleasant, middle-of-the-road appearance so that families with modern or conventional furniture, (and taste) may feel at home." The magazine, which is available at leading newsstands and bookstores (or by mailing $1 to the author at 1000 - 52nd St. North, St. Petersburg 10) should be a helpful addition to the reference library of the person planning to build in this state.

Jan Reiner, a Harvard graduate who for the past four years has specialized in the design of lowcost homes particularly suited for Florida living, is well known for his articles, public lectures and house plans which have appeared in many newspapers and publications in this state and elsewhere. In the St. Petersburg area he is also known for adult education classes in home planning.

DIVIDENDS: THEY HAVE GROWN SAFER THOUGH PROFITS HAVE RISEN BUT LITTLE

Corporate profits, after payment of taxes, have averaged about the same in the last three years as in 1955-56.

This, to the investor who looks no farther, must seem both disappointing and frustrating. Yet the chances are that he is receiving substantially higher dividends. And, his dividends are really much better protected.

To the investor unfamiliar with accounting, this may seem hard to understand, but any financial analyst can tell you there is no magic to this. It's simply a case of business, even though showing no appreciable gain in net income, generating internally a good deal more cash in the form of reserves for depreciation (which it sets aside before taxes).

In 1956, for example, corporate income was $44.7 billion on which the taxes came to $21.2 billion (and before taxes, reserves for depreciation totaling $17.5 billion had been set aside). In 1961, on income of $45.6 billion corporations paid taxes of $22.3 billion (but depreciation amounted to $24 billion). Thus internally generated funds—net after taxes plus depreciation reserves—amounted to $47.3 billion, up from $41 billion in 1956.

That demonstrates how rapidly reserves for replacement have been rising. And, this year, corporations will start charging still larger reserves for depreciation under the liberalized allowances of Bulletin F, recently approved by the Internal Revenue Service. Funds set aside for depreciation are, of course, to replace worn-out or out-of-date equipment. Yet this reserve is not an out-of-pocket cost like purchased material or labor; it is cash available for general corporate purposes until it is needed for its ear-marked purpose. And, though it tends to reduce profits subject to federal income tax, it reduces tax payments by the same token.

The Treasury, for example, figures it will lose something more than a billion dollars of revenues this year under the new rules governing depreciation. Obviously, at the 52 per cent corporate tax rate, that means Internal Revenue expects corporations to set aside more than $2 billion additional depreciation (and the amount will rise as the value of plant and equipment expands).

It may be that some corporations will find little or no advantages in the new schedules over their present methods of charging depreciation. Most, however, will accrue depreciation on the new basis—and they will show proportionately lower earnings as a result. A few, in fact, already are reporting income on the new basis.

Among the very first to do so was Johns-Manville. This company noted that it charged an additional $600,000 cash reserve for depreciation against second quarter earnings (to cover the added reserves allowed for the first half of 1962). This reduced the quarter's after-tax net to $7,828,000 against $8,273,000 in the comparable 1961 period. At the same time it fattened second quarter depreciation to $5.6 million (more than $1 million higher than the reserve set up in the preceding quarter).

Another example is provided by Universal-Cyclops Steel which deducted an additional $200,000 for depreciation from pre-tax earnings in the first half of 1962. This gave the company the equivalent of an additional 10c a share of retained cash; under the rules prevailing earlier, the $200,000 would have been subjected to federal income taxes, reducing its contribution to the company's net earnings to 5c per share. Thus, for a loss of 5c a share in reported earnings, Universal-Cyclops has 10c a share more to use in carrying on the business.

These examples point up the importance of greatly increased reserves for depreciation in recent years—up from $10.4 billion in 1952 to $24 billion last year (and probably $26 billion for 1962). Assuming that 1962 profits will only be in the neighborhood of last year's $23.3 billion; the added $26 billion or more of depreciation would bring cash flow earnings close to $50 billion, a new record.

This year's dividends probably will be close to $15 billion. That would represent a 64 per cent payout on $23.3 billion of after-tax net—but only 30 per cent of cash flow earnings. In 1956, the $12 billion of dividends paid came to a 51 per cent payout on net of $23.8 billion—but again only about 30 per cent of cash flow earnings.

This depth of coverage, when profits and depreciation are considered together, helps explain why corporations' payout rate can safely be higher today than in 1956. For, though few corporations would think of paying dividends out of plant and equipment reserves, the existence of this cash pool clearly reduces demands on retained earnings.

$3,500,000 Ad Campaign Slated By Citrus Group

LAKELAND — Adjacent advertising of similar or competitive products has been ruled out of the remainder of the special $3,500,000 advertising promotion campaign being conducted by the Florida Citrus Commission for Florida processors of frozen orange concentrate.

In a letter written recently, Commission Chairman Sam A. Banks of Lakeland declared that the Commission had agreed to a unanimous request by the concentrators to bar adjacent advertising of competitive products from the same page or the page opposite on the special frozen orange juice advertisements. The request came too late to affect magazine advertisements, but should be effective in ads scheduled for newspapers and some newspapers' Sunday supplements, Banks said.

"The 20 participating concentrators in the current special concentrate promotion unanimously requested the Florida Citrus Commission to change the present policy regarding adjacent advertising for the balance of the special campaign in order to avoid competitive efforts to obtain adjacency in newspapers and Sunday supplements," Banks said. The Commission prohibits adjacent advertising in its own promotional campaigns, but the policy was initially dropped for the special program at request of the concentrators.

Banks said that he had contacted members of the Commission and found complete agreement to accede to the request.

"This is consistent with previous decisions by the Commission to comply with concentrators' desires for the handling of their promotion," Banks stated. "Therefore, for the balance of the special concentrate promotion, adjacent advertising of similar or competition products on the same page and on the opposite or facing page to the industry's concentrate advertising in newspapers and (where possible) Sunday supplements, will be prohibited. This policy request by the concentrators includes prohibition of grocery ads on the same or adjacent page to the industry advertisement, in which similar or competitive products are mentioned."

The current advertising offers a coupon redeemable for 10c at any U. S. or Canadian grocery store on the purchase of four or more cans of any brand of frozen orange concentrate.

SOIL NEWS

By SAM POLSTON
U. S. Soil Conservation Service

This week the Soil Conservation Service Engineers assisted Earl Crutchfield in the location and design of a pond to irrigate 40 acres of citrus north of Sebring. The pond is in a natural low area in the citrus grove. It will be dug to a depth of about 18 feet below ground level and the water will re-charge the pit while pumping.

This week the Soil Conservation Service assisted Sol McClelland in revising his ranch plan on his ranch along Istokpoga Canal. Mr. CeClelland is preparing to plant and irrigate about 40 acres of clover pasture. He was assisted last year by the Soil Conservation Service in the design and layout of surface ditches for drainage that will now serve to distribute water for seepage irrigation.

The H. A. Bishop Dairy of Lorida was assisted this week in developing a plan for 1,250 acres now being developed to improved pasture grasses. They now have 640 acres planted to Pangola grass. According to Mr. Earl Bishop, manager, the operation will be centered around raising replacement heifers for their dairy at Davie.

Mr. C. H. Carlton was assisted by the Soil Conservation Service Engineers in the design of a drainage and irrigation pump for his 2,080 acre ranch near Brighton. Mr. Carlton is on Harney Pond Canal which he will use to drain into and also to get irrigation water from during dry weather. He is now constructing several miles of ditches that will serve both to collect drainage water and distribute irrigation water.

The Highlands Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors at their meeting last week agreed to publish the Conservation Needs Inventory of the county. This brochure will give the expected agriculture an urban use of all the land in Highlands County.
