Avon Park Recreation Program Now In Third Week Activities

The Avon Park Recreation Program now in its third week, has reported excellent participation in all activities offered. The beginners swimming program got under way Monday, July 8, and is scheduled to continue for ten days. The exception of these days will be July 16 and July 23, because field trips are scheduled for those dates. The assembly line method of teaching swimming has been very successful at Avon Park and many students have been taught to swim as a result of this method. The recreation personnel are indebted to the ladies of Avon Park who each year agree to help with this outstanding program.

The other activities of the program will continue as scheduled with the exception of a golf match with the Sebring Recreation Program to be played Friday afternoon at 1:30 at the Sebring golf course. Bowling is scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at 1:15 PM. Reports from the management at the Bowling Alley are that the Avon Park boys and girls are real ladies and gentlemen and are very considerate of the equipment and property.

The elementary library and reading program has continued great success. A large number of boys and girls are taking advantage of the facilities and instruction offered. The music and typing classes also report a real good attendence.

The tennis program has shown a definite gain over the past years and that activity reports over twenty boys and girls are receiving instruction each morning from 8:30 to 9:45 AM.

The first field trip is scheduled for July 16. The bus will leave the gym at 8:00 AM for Vero Beach and will return at 4:30 PM. All students, seventh grade and above and can swim, are invited to make this trip. All that is required is a written permission from your parents, a lunch or money to buy your lunch, and your swimming equipment. This will be the first of three scheduled trips to the beaches of the east and the west coasts.

Halbig Goes Unbeaten In Tournament

Wolfgang Halbig is now the only undefeated singles player in the Kiwanis-Club-sponsored tennis tournament. He knocked Billy Miracle out of the undefeated ranks just before press time last week in a marathon contest which lasted over four and a half hours and went five sets. Scores were 5-7, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4. As can be seen, Halbig's victory over Miracle was eked out by the slim margin of only three games. The possibility exists that these two may meet again before tournament play ends.

Halbig and his partner, Eddie Bates, are also the only undefeated team in the doubles competition. They rocked Billy Miracle and Mike Duggan 6-3, 6-3, 2-6, 7-5 in the semi-finals match which was played on the 4th and 5th of July, part of the match having been rained out on the night of the 4th. It was a noisy and spectacular match. Miracle and Duggan suffered their first loss in doubles play in that match.

This brought about a re-match of Billy Miracle and Mike Duggan with their older brothers, whom they had previously defeated, but in the re-match, Andy Miracle and Robin Duggan rallied from a first set loss and upset their favored younger brothers in four sets, three of which were extra-game sets and one of which was the longest set in the tournament to date. Scores were 2-6, 7-5, 13-11, 7-5. This match was hotly contested in words as well as in play, all the way.

Andy and Robin then went up against Roy Coats and Al Yarbrough in the losers bracket semi-finals to determine who will meet Halbig and Bates in the finals. Miracle and Duggan dashed the hopes of Coats and Yarbrough by scores of 6-4, 6-2, 5-7, 9-7. As is apparent from the scores, it was no easy victory. Coats, who was tired before he started, having just returned from a trip to Miami, had great difficulty with his serves and was occasionally irritated because of bad shots, but from time to time flashed through with exciting and accurate net volleys. Yarbrough was in high spirits and joked and kidded throughout the match. Miracle's net play was beautiful, and Duggan was all over the court with sparkling teamwork all the way.

In other matches since our last reports:

Carl Holden eliminated Al Yarbrough 6-3, 6-3, 6-4.

Holden also eliminated Bob Briscoe 7-5, 6-1, 6-1, which was an upset since Briscoe defeated Holden in earlier competition.

Before losing to Holden, Briscoe defeated Roy Coats 6-3, 6-8, 6-2, 6-3.

Eddie Bates defeated Andy Miracle 6-2, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Robin Duggan eliminated Danny Butler 6-3, 6-1, 6-0.

After his match with Briscoe, Holden stated that he would have to withdraw from further competition, as he had to leave for New Mexico for several days and would be unable to play further. He had won five and lost only once in the tournament, and had hoped to be able to make a good showing by playing as long as he could.

The tournament should end this week, with the awarding of trophies and other awards. Mr. Edward J. Dunne, Jr., who has furnished several cans of balls for use in the tournament because of his interest in youth activities, has purchased a fine tennis racket and four cans of balls to be awarded upon the basis of good sportsmanship, attitude, and general participation and interest in the tournament. The trophies and awards will be given out after the end of the last finals match, which, it is hoped, will be well attended by the participants.

Singles finals will probably be played July 12, 13.

Leon's Sporting Goods store furnished balls for use in the semi-finals and finals matches, and Ted J. Ward and Rev. Carol Cash came from the Kiwanis Club to assist in calling line faults in one semi-finals match. Others who have assisted in calling faults and judging the play were Keith Collyer, Andy Miracle, Bryan Williams, Jim and John Rodgers, Roy Coats, and Jeff Childers.

More tennis competition is planned following the tournament. For details, see the separate article about the New Net Tourney, describing the ladder competition, in this paper.

Boys Visit New Mexico Scout Ranch

A number of Ridge Area boys are off this week to visit Philmont Scout Ranch high in the mountains of northern New Mexico. Elevations range from 6,621 feet to 11,711 feet above sea level. This is in the land of the Spanish Conquistadores, the American Pioneers, the Buffalo Hunters, the American Frontiersmen, the Santa Fe Traders, the Mountain Scouts, The Pueblo Indians, the home of Kit Carson, and the home of Lucien B. Maxwell (owner of over 1,700,000 acres).

In 1938 and 1941, the Boy Scouts of America received by gifts from Waite Phillips (of the Phillips 66 Oil Co.) 127,000 acres of Philmont complete with water, mineral, and timber rights and, as an endowment, the 23-story Philtower office building in Tulsa. This was done without any rights reserved by the donor. All livestock, equipment, and much other furnishings were included in the gift with the idea that the diversified ranch operations would add educational benefits to Boy Scouts and would also add to the endowment income. Therefore, the land of the Conquistadores, the mountain scouts, the frontiersman, the explorers of another century, now became the "University of the Great Outdoors" for the Explorers of a modern age.

Nine boys from Avon Park, along with 26 boys from Sebring, Frostproof, Wauchula, Bartow, Lake Wales, and Fort Meade, are making a 20 day trip to Philmont. This will be from July 9 to July 28. The trip will include 12 days at Philmont, a 4,000 mile bus trip, sleeping in Air Force barracks along the way. During the 12 days at Philmont there will be hiking and camping high in the mountains, mountain climbing, archery, marksmanship, burro packing, archaeology, geology, paleontology, conservation, horseback riding, panning for gold, and many other things.

Avon Park boys going are: Chuck Warrington, Carl Holden, John Mason, ohn Townsend, Walter Respress, Gary Parrish, Bruce Bennett, Donald Pyke, and Kenneth Sasser. Leaders for the trip are: Norman Cook of Avon Park, Mitchell Hope of Wauchula, Cleo Ogle of Bartow, and Rabert Rayburn of Lake Wales.

Heart Units Put Smokers In Risk Class

The American Heart Association has gone on record for the first time in favor of active steps to discourage cigarette smoking as harmful to health, reports Carl A. Fischer, President of the Heart Association of Palm Beach and Martin Counties.

The action came as the Association's Board of Directors adopted a report on smoking and cardiovascular diseases prepared by a special committee of physicians and scientists. The move opens the way for the Association to work with other health groups in educational campaigns aimed at discouraging the general public, and particularly teenagers and adults with a high risk of coronary disease, from acquiring or persisting in the smoking habit.

"High risk" individuals are those with a family history of heart disease or stroke in middle age, and-or high blood pressure, high levels of fatty substances in the blood and other factors associated with greater proneness to arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries).

Thrills and Spills Amuse Holiday Crowds At Races

Linda Sheppard, 1962 Miss Avon Park Flame, took the pleasure of crowning Beth Sullivan Miss Avon Park Flame of 1963.

Compliments are in order for the City Police Department, the Avon Park Firemen's Assn., J. [illegible] Townsend and his Scouts, [illegible] Heacock Jr., District Chairman B.S.A. of Sebring, Mrs. George Costello, Executive Director [illegible] A. of Haines City, Jim Coarsey Jr., Chairman, Activities B.S.A. Highlands District of Lake Placid, Rev. Herbert D. Graetz, Chairman of Public Relations for the affair and John W. Wright as Master of Ceremonies.

Sen. Scott Kelly of Lakeland, the guest speaker for the day, using the theme "Freedom From Control by Others, Self-government," was one of interest and understanding to all present (see Page 7 for complete address) as to the full meaning of the Bill of Rights as he (Kelly) sees it. It was an address given to much deep thought as to the way that the country will travel in the future.

The boat races gave many thrills to the spectators with several spills by the boats flipping over Paxton Hill and the Florida Federation of Outboard Clubs made the races a good show, holding the interest of the crowds for the afternoon.

The fireworks display was beautiful and with the reflection of the display in Lake Verona it made the effect doubly so.

New Net Tourney To Start Soon

On or about July 15, a new tennis tournament is expected to start. This will be a "ladder" competition. In this kind of tennis play, no one who enters is ever eliminated. He merely climbs or descends a "ladder", depending upon his ability to beat those whose names are above him on the list.

The ladder, as the name indicates, is a list of the competitors. Initially, the best players, or those seeded best or adjudged best by officials, are placed at the bottom of the ladder, and must climb to the top, if they can, by beating those who are above them. A player may challenge either of the two competitors whose names appear above his own on the ladder. If the challenger wins, he replaces the other player in the ladder and the loser takes his place. If the challenger loses, no change occurs.

This tournament should thus furnish, in time, a reasonably accurate indication of the abilities of all who compete.

Present plans are to have a split season, with the first part ending about September 1 before the college players leave, and the second part to end before the Thanksgiving Holiday season begins.

Sixteen players have indicated interest in participation, so far. Many more are wanted. Play is open to all in this city-wide competition. No prizes or trophies are expected to be awarded, and no balls furnished, but a city champion will be declared at the end of the seconl part of the season.

New players can enter at any time, even after the tournament begins, but all who are presently interested are urged to sign up to play on the list provided on the bulletin board at the tennis court, or to notify Bryan Williams. Proposed rules governing play are now posted on the bulletin board.

U.S. Economy To Grow $50 Billion In 18 Months

NEW YORK — The U.S. will achieve a better than $600-billion economy by the end of this year, according to Fortune's semi-annual business forecast out tomorrow. Next spring gross national product will rise to a $619-billion annual rate. And by the end of 1964 the annual G.N.P. rate will be up a whopping $50 billion above today's figure. By that time it should hit $633 billion (all figures in today's prices) with or without tax cuts, say the magazine's economists.

Chief among the reasons for Fortune's optimism is the growing demand for capital goods. The rate of capital outlays was only $48 billion per year in mid-1960. It was $52 billion last quarter. And it is headed for a $64-billion annual rate in 1965.

A Ten-Point Forecast — The highly regarded Fortune forecast is based on the following ten-point analysis of the economy.

Defense. The spending rate will rise perhaps $4 billion to $5 billion over the next 18 months as compared to $6 billion in the past 18 months.

Budget. In fiscal 1963 the regular budget of the government will show a deficit of well over $7 [illegible] There will be another [illegible] in fiscal 1964 despite [illegible] expenditures [illegible] And in fiscal [illegible] red ink [illegible] Spending [illegible] increase at its recent rate possibly through Election Day 1964, then more slowly.

Capital Outlays. Business spending for plant and equipment is currently rising by $1.5 billion or more per quarter, will stay strong and can easily rise by $6 billion in 1964.

Inventories. Accumulation, which rose from a rate of $1 billion per year last autumn to $5 billion or so in the spring, should increase to a rate of $8 billion in the next 12 months. Late in 1964 the building of inventories will be slowing to a long-run annual rate of $5 billion or so.

Construction. Nonfarm housing starts, which have risen by 5 percent so far this year, should total 1,500,000 in 1963 and may reach 1,600,000 in 1964. Public works are likely to grow some 6 percent between now and early 1964.

Prices and Wages. The general price level may edge above its 1.5 percent annual rise.

Low Drop-Out

Highlands Holds Own Getting Kids In College

[illegible]

The [illegible] includes the graduating classes from 1956 to 1962. The counselors spent two years in collecting and analyzing data and the findings have been made public by School Superintendent Andy Miracle.

This spring the guidance counselors began a second study.

In the first study the high schools of the county produced 1,099 graduates. Of these 431 or 39 per cent continued formal education by enrolling in a university, college, junior college or technical school. One hundred of these students left their studies without attaining the degree or certificate awarded at the completion of work.

No record has been kept of the number of students who continued their studies after attaining their first degree. School officials said they know that some of the 331 who completed the first phase of post-high school education have earned advanced degrees; some are even headed for doctorates. As yet no study has been made of these students.

The Highlands County average of 39 per cent continuing education is slightly behind the Florida average of about 42 per cent. The percentage is higher in counties where higher education opportunities exist within the same county, school officials said.

General Supervisor Sidney Horne pointed out that Highlands County does not have any technical schools or night schools such as are attended by many high school graduates in larger counties.

Counselors said that the students who dropped out of their advanced schools prior to graduation 11 withdrew to be married. An even dozen told interviewers that they withdrew because of academic failure, 7 had financial problems and another 7 quit to [illegible] Superintendent Miracle said.

[illegible] reason for [illegible] because he does not want [illegible] the primary one. Theories as to specific cause of failure may be inferred but are most difficult to categorize. Reasons for success are equally problematical.

The fact remains that of those who pursue further educational goals from Lake Placid, Avon Park and Sebring schools more than three times as many succeed as fail," Miracle concluded.

The educators expressed surprise that so few drop-outs blamed grade or high schools for lack of preparation. The educators said they observed some possible causes of later troubles and the schools are always at work to eliminate such weak spots.

Area Reservists Off To Summer Encampment

Sixty citizen-reservists of the 9331st Air Force Reserve Recovery Squadron, based at Bartow Municipal Airport, will embark with duffle bags and unit equipment to McDill Air Force Base Sunday, July 14, for 15 days of concentrated active duty training.

In making this announcement Lt. Col. L. B. Anderson Jr., unit commander said "We have been preparing for several months to conduct an active training program which will be highly beneficial to our unit and the Air Force. All of our personnel are anxious to begin this year's tour of duty."

Reservists will assemble at the Bartow Airport at 0800 hours Sunday, July 14, and convoy as a unit to the Tampa training site for processing and billeting assignments. The tour is scheduled to be completed July 28 with Sunday, July 20 the only non-duty day.

The squadron, whose mission is to provide decontamination, medical and emergency landing facilities for U. S. bomber and fighter aircraft in the event of national emergency, is manned by reservists residing within a 60 mile radius of the Bartow site. The reservists, from many walks of civilian life, serve in the unit voluntarily, ready to assist the Regular Air Force with their special talents when called upon.

Avon Park Woman Helps Korean Workshop

[illegible] also an example of the friendly ties of the Korean and American people.

In the village, situated on a hillside overlooking the ROK Air Force Academy in Yongdongpo, live 73 Korean war veterans, two former students and their families. The students were wounded in the April 1960 uprising.

All suffering from spinal disorders, 64 of them are confined to wheelchairs.

The village was first brought to the attention of Americans living in Korea through the interest of Mrs. Annabelle Breakefield, wife of Brig. Gen. D. E. Breakefield, Eighth U.S. Army ordnance officer. Mrs. Breakefield was instrumental in the founding of the workshop and in expanding its facilities to help the paraplegics work to help support themselves. Mrs. Breakefield is the daughter of Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Alexander Owens of Avon Park, Florida.

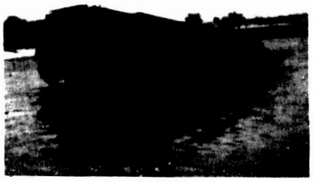
Soon after Mrs. Breakefield came to Korea with her husband in March, 1962, she visited the village to offer help. She said she had become interested in helping paraplegics while working with spinal patients at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington during World War II.

"I don't believe in merely giving money, which would be easy to do, to the disabled veterans who I believe can become proficient in handicraft work provided they are properly trained," she said. "So I decided to set up the workshop and the men in the village accepted my advice."

"We started with several desks, a handful of tools and some material in the church of the village," Mrs. Breakefield recalled. She said that soon many interested people, including Mrs. J. H. Edwards, wife of the deputy director, U.S. Operations Mission (USOM) and Mrs. C. R. Griffin, whose husband also works for USOM, offered help in teaching the veterans handicraft skills.

The Korean government encouraged the project by building the present workshop last Autumn. Many donors have presented tools and material. The American-Korean Foundation recently donated four sets of handicraft machines worth $1,500.

Now the paraplegics produce many items, including carvings, toys, chests and tables, models of Korean houses and straw items, all of which reflects Korean tradition, according to Capt. So Kol Lee (ret.), the workshop manager. He said so far more than 200,000 won ($1,540) worth of products have been sold to foreigners, mainly at charity events arranged by the group of American women.



WHEN BATTERY C of the 3rd Howitzer Battalion, 116th Artillery unloaded their most recent piece of equipment, with all the tools, equipment and publications that goes with the usual issue of Army vehicles, they noticed a paragraph in the manual related to amphibious operations and were somewhat skeptical. However, it didn't take long for Capt. H. Dean Griffin, local National Guard Commander, and 1Sgt. Ollie P. Gentry, Administrative Technician for the local unit, to prove this was a fact indeed. Pictured with their M59 Armored Personnel Carrier, they take it through its paces on Lake Verona without mishap. The vehicle is capable of transporting 16 combat soldiers with full field equipment.

THE FARM FRONT

BY DOYLE CONNER
COMMISSIONER
FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

In spite of prospects for reduced [illegible] in Florida for the [illegible]

[illegible] its products.

If there are any doubting Thomases who think the task will be an easy one and won't require every ounce of effort that can be put behind it, let them note the following editorial from a leading food trade paper.

"In Florida," says the mid-June issue of the Produce News, "there seems to be some concern, and [illegible] over the inroads of other drinks taking the place of citrus in the big markets. [illegible] 70 per cent of the crop has afforded other beverages the opportunity to slake consumers' thirst while Florida oranges are either absent or present but not attractive.

"The other fruit juices, real and manufactured, have come on fast, [illegible] fruit drinks, what [illegible] health value in the frozen concentrate and [illegible] that great proportion [illegible] feel any drink will do, particularly if it is more attractively colored and more exotically flavored. Fresh? Well, these other drinks out of a can or bottle are just as fresh as frozen goo out of a metal container.

"It is a sad fact that many of the oranges now shipped fresh out of Florida leave much to be desired. Housewives find them dry and very unreliable; it is a morning's work to squeeze a glassful of fresh juice. Four oranges yesterday morning made one small glassful of only fair tasting juice, and the cost was 17c.

"These facts are put down more in sorrow than anger. It all means that, when Florida can again produce fine fruit, she will have a tremendous job of rebuilding her fruit's place in the market and in the home. We think it can be done by rebuilding not on the basis of better canning and freezing, but on the basis that nothing tastes as good or is as good for you as FRESH fruit direct from the grove."

Incidentally, I note that synthetic soft drinks are under attack in South Africa. A legislator there stated the drinks were invading that market to the detriment of the country's health and to the economic disadvantage of the fruit farmer.

He suggested a tax on all synthetic drinks which did not contain a proportion of natural fruit juices.

Something new is on the way for Florida's watermelon industry.

According to a recent report, a Texas machinery manufacturer is making an electronic watermelon sizing device for use of our Immokalee growers. A million pounds of melons already have been handled by the [illegible] in the Texas area.

The electronic sorter divides a load in the field according to predetermined sizes. Its memory lines determine where the melons will be routed as they come off conveyor belts after being weighed. There is an average tolerance of about 1 pounds per melon, but loads appear uniform even though weights may vary from 24 [illegible] 28 pounds.

The automatic sizing will permit retailers to sell at unit prices. Grading to eliminate culls is done by sight as employees affix labels by hand. The manufacturer claims the same principle can be used for sizing cantaloupes, and is working on development of [illegible] transistorized equipment to handle other perishable crops.

Another new development that came to my attention is an instantized flour product of a big national milling firm. It is granular in texture, is said to pour as easily as salt, is dust free and disperses in liquids without lumping. It is expected to get one of the biggest advertising pushes ever put behind a food product and may be on the market this month (July).

Resident Of Sun-Ray Homes Dies

She is survived by her husband, Edwin H. Boadway of Sunray Homes.

Mrs. Boadway's remains were sent by the Smith Funeral Home to Berria, Ontario, Canada to the Jennett Funeral Home for services and burial.

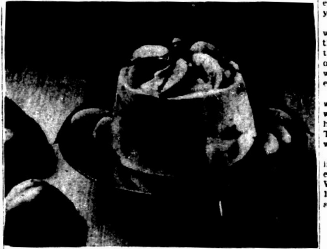
SALAD

For a summery salad, serve cucumber in sour cream. Peel and slice 3 large cucumbers paper-thin. Soak 2 hours in 2 tablespoons of salt and ice water to cover.

Drain and press dry. Blend into a combination of 1 tablespoon of sugar, ½ teaspoon each of salt and powdered mustard, 1 teaspoon of finely chopped onion, 3 tablespoons of cider vinegar and 1 cup of sour cream. Garnish with paprika. Serves 8.

New Fresh Nectarine Dessert



Easy to prepare, elegant to behold, "Nectarine Mint Bavarian" is a gourmet dessert to catch the fancy of summer appetites.

This colorful chilled delight combines chopped fresh nectarines with lemon gelatin and whipped cream flavored piquantly with peppermint extract. It's crested with nectarine slices for added eye appeal.

Although the nectarines are peeled in this case, it isn't necessary to remove their thin, smooth skins for most uses. The fuzz-free skin makes nectarines a favorite for out-of-hand eating.

Juicy, red-and-gold fresh nectarines from California are found in markets from late June into September. Savor their sunny flavor and fragrance regularly during their all-too-fleeting season.

NECTARINE MINT BAVARIAN

- 2 packages (3 oz. each) lemon gelatin
- 1½ cups boiling water
- 1½ cups cold water
- ½ to 1 teaspoon peppermint extract or 3 tablespoons creme de menthe
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 3 large fresh nectarines
- ½ pint whipping cream

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; stir in cold water, peppermint extract, salt, lemon rind and 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Chill until mixture mounds on spoon. Peel and slice nectarines. Brush 6 slices with remaining lemon juice; chop other slices coarsely. Whip cream; fold into gelatin mixture. Fold in chopped nectarines. Turn into 6-cup mold; chill until firm. Unmold and top with reserved nectarine slices. If desired, garnish with maraschino cherry and additional nectarine slices. Makes 10 servings.

Women-at-work Survey Shows Tasks, Salaries

CHICAGO (UPI) — Three of every 10 employed women handle clerical jobs, a survey by Commerce Clearing House (CCH) shows.

Service workers, including 1¼ million waitresses and cooks, account for about one of every four jobs and manufacturing work for about one in seven, said the national reporting authority on tax and business law.

Professional and technical work ranks fourth largest in job categories with about one in eight working women included. Among these are approximately 1¼ million teachers, CCH said.

The survey, based on Labor Department statistics as of April, 1962, showed that about half the women workers were married, and that wives working full time contributed an average of 35 to 40 per cent of their families' total income.

Of all married women, about 33 per cent held either full or part-time jobs, and about one-eighth had children under six years of age, CCH said.

The largest age group of working women in 1962 was in the 45-54 year bracket. Half of the women workers were 41 or over, and nearly 2 5 of them were over 45, the survey showed.

The latest earnings figures were based on a 1961 report, when a full-time woman worker had a median income of $3,342. The median for all working women was $1,279.

Twenty-four million women in the work force in 1962 marked a high, exceeding the World War II record of 20.4 million in 1944 by about 3½ million, CCH said.

SOME SHADE!

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Here comes a hat with a boy," quipped a sun-bather at a local beach the other day.

All within ear-shot turned and saw a two-foot high toddler in a Mexican hat. The hat had a foot-high crown and measured twice that from stem to stern.

'Supermart Twist' Jars Experts In Child Safety.

EVANSTON, Ill. (UPI) — Mothers can protect their babies from the danger of contaminated food by checking for signs that baby jars have been opened — before buying.

"Experience shows that some people, unaware of, or indifferent to, the dangers of bacterial contamination, open jars of baby food in the store, sometimes taste the contents, and return them to the shelves," reports the American Academy of Pediatrics' committee on nutrition.

Two types of safety features on screw caps will reveal whether the jar has been opened or has lost its vacuum.

A flexible button in the center of the cap should be depressed, as if it had been sucked in by the vacuum in the jar. If the vacuum is lost, the button pops up and can be pressed up and down with the finger.

On a two-piece cap, three parallel lines run across the top of the jar until it has been opened. Then, the lines in the center section of the cap no longer match with the lines at the rim.

...who were unable to attend last... Master Photo Dealers & Finishers Convention in Atlantic City N.J. will be interested in a new editor-viewer-splicer outfit introduced by the Kalart Company.

The Kalart EV-8 Mark II is an improved version of previous models and features a larger fine-grained ground glass screen that enlarges 8mm. films 16 times. The screen is recessed and hooded to provide a brilliant glare-free picture.

The threading path provides a self-aligning drive sprocket, simplified straight line threading and a frame marker that puts a tiny nick along the edge of the frame to be cut in editing.

The lamphouse has a convenient built-in on-off switch.

The unit is made of heavy gauge pressed steel and is fitted with two fold-out legs to provide a comfortable angle for viewing.

The film advance mechanism provides for a steady flickerless forward and reverse motion and rapid rewinding.

The EV-8 Mark II will be available from most photographic dealers beginning in April and will retail for about $34.50.

MEN'S WEAR

Real Expert on Men Talks of Men's Wear

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press International

Who should have firmer opinions on what the well dressed man should wear than a lady who has as she puts it sartorially "redone" three former husbands? Such a lady is glamorous Zsa Zsa Gabor who herewith and in her own special way sounds off on the subject.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Zsa Zsa Gabor, who has [illegible] opinions on many things, including lady columnists and former husbands, firmly believes a man should change into a black tie when he comes home from work at 6 [illegible].

So we checked in with her to see what other views she has on men's wear.

"Do I look fat?" she began the conversation, brandishing a not very complimentary column. "Do I look as if I had my face lifted? Do I look as if I had my bosoms lifted? [illegible]"

We dodged all [illegible] and returned her to the subject of men's clothes.

"Yes, of course I think a man should wear a [illegible] at night," she said. "He changes [illegible] from work [illegible] black tie. Vot [illegible] probably [illegible] how [illegible] doesn't [illegible] and take a bath and [illegible]

"And I think a man should have [illegible] basic [illegible] blue, gray flannel, black and navy blazer. Maybe a couple red or yellow sweaters [illegible] paca. And in sports [illegible] ones [illegible] adore [illegible]. The most beautiful man [illegible] printed sport shirt looks like hell.

"Every husband I [illegible] had to throw out his wardrobe when [illegible] got married. I have met some of the most distinguished husbands. The trouble with marriages is that [illegible] don't worry about what their husbands look like, just themselves. They cannot look beautiful if their husbands look [illegible].

"Vell, if it is an informal evening they might wear [illegible] blue or black to a cocktail party. The tuxedo is a uniform in England. A man always looks beautiful in a tuxedo. I never give a dinner party, even if it is eight people, unless the men vear tuxedos. A sit-down dinner.

"On summer vacations a man looks handsome in blue jeans and a light blue shirt but there must be a limit to vild things. Some men can vear hats and some cannot but they should vear them at the right times. I even like Russian fur hats but not all men can vear them.

"All American men have [illegible] great [illegible] damage [illegible] better [illegible]

[illegible] Am[illegible] dressed [illegible]

[illegible] I met [illegible] Hatters [illegible] K[illegible] [illegible] I tolerate. I think [illegible] ties are terrible.

"Take Ian Fleming's movie 'Dr. No.' Sean Connery is dressed perfect as a detective. Every occasion is perfection. Even to blowing up an island. He wore blue jeans, a light blue shirt and espadrilles to blow up the island. It vas perfect.

"I won't go into pajamas. George Sanders wore long night gowns. Said they vere more comfortable."

Sen. Kelley's Address

As Americans pause today [illegible] the signing of the Declaration of Independence, I hope we all [illegible] take a [illegible] look at the meaning of this word "Independence" and consider it in the light of recent events.

Webster explains Independence thusly: "Freedom from control of others; self government."

It is one of the easiest words in the English language to explain ... and one of the easiest to understand ... but probably the most difficult term to practice. In an age when society becomes more and more complex with each new technological discovery ... and government multiplies with each new national and international problem ... we see our Independence slipping away from us.

This jealously guarded heritage ... which our founding fathers passed down to us ... and which millions of Americans have protected ... with their lives ... is now under attack from within.

The Bill of Rights, which became the core of the Constitution of the United States before the various states would ratify the document ... will be nothing more than a scrap of paper if we permit this traditional statement of individual rights to be by-passed through statutory processes.

The Bill of Rights grants to all of us ... regardless of race, color or creed ... the right to assemble here today ... the right to freedom of speech and freedom of the press ... the right to worship as we please ... and that right and privilege which is the bulwark of our form of government ... the right to own property. We are now confronted with a legislative assault on this great right and privilege (to own property).

I refer, of course, to the Federal legislation now pending before Congress which has been given the label of "The Public Accommodations Bill." It will cancel the right of a businessman who serves the public to refuse service to anyone. This proposal which will strip us of the right to manage our own affairs and businesses is offered under the disguise of Civil Rights Legislation.

In good conscience I can only label such a proposal under this disguise ... "a political smoke-screen."

And there is no more proper time than now to fight this legislation.

That right which distinguishes a government of free men from a socialistic government, is that right to own and control property ... whereas the all-powerful state ... the dictatorships ... deny property rights.

If this proposal ... the Public Accommodations Bill ... becomes law, it will be another step towards socialism ... for it will be a dangerous intrusion of federal authority into the operations of private enterprise.

This proposal is an unwarranted encroachment into an area where no governmental regulation is needed.

The Public Accommodations Bill is offered as an extension of the Interstate Commerce Act, but this approach is fallacious. The Interstate [illegible]

[illegible] With the [illegible] This segment [illegible] to socialist state [illegible]

Integration is not the [illegible] social equality [illegible] whole question. Says [illegible] constitutional government [illegible] is the real problem.

Are we to continue the headlong rush into socialism [illegible] pelled [illegible] Or shall we adhere [illegible] to the proven principles of [illegible] government and the [illegible] individual rights as set forth by the signers of the Declaration of Independence?

I think we are [illegible] the proper answer when we recognize the need for education of the minority races. To this position I will add the need for tolerance, understanding and cooperative work at the local level through the voluntary organization of Bi-Racial Committees composed of the true and proven leaders of the communities.

We do not need [illegible] laws to dictate or direct our practices of human relations.

Instead of legislation ... we need discretion.

Instead of demonstrations ... we need conciliation and compromise.

Instead of Federal force and intimidation ... we should have enforcement of existing laws, and peaceful obedience to higher authority acting within the law.

It was with a great deal of satisfaction that I read the other day where our own Senator Holland said he intends to oppose the "Public Accommodations Bill."

Senator Holland, one of our greatest statesmen, said ... "It seems to me that the owners of private property ... are entitled both legally and morally to decide for themselves the nature of their clientele."

I recognize and believe in the right of every American citizen to own property, and operate businesses ... to serve the public ... whenever they may choose ... and that this right actually constitutes equality.

One of the great dangers that I see in the Public Accommodations Bill is that it threatens the freedom and rights of us all. Negro citizens as well as whites ... would be regulated and restricted in the operation of their private businesses. All races would be restricted by the law ... and lose the right to control their private affairs and property as they desire.

I hope that each of you are as concerned as I am about this latest attempt to give the Federal government the authority to invade private enterprise. It is high time that each of us ... as individuals [illegible] united [illegible]

It is [illegible] posted [illegible] known to [illegible] representatives [illegible] there is [illegible] legislation [illegible] will [illegible] representatives [illegible] there [illegible] oppose [illegible] Accommodations [illegible] them know [illegible] right which [illegible] basic [illegible] Socialist [illegible] property [illegible] and dispose [illegible] own desires.

As we gather [illegible] our forefathers [illegible] strongly [illegible] the face of [illegible] it is [illegible] hope that each [illegible] that your [illegible] representatives [illegible] and your [illegible] leaders are [illegible] concern about preserving [illegible] rights.

There is [illegible] we [illegible] declared [illegible] to let our leaders know [illegible] intend [illegible]

As I reflect [illegible] problem [illegible] a verse that sums up [illegible] for preservation of [illegible] freedoms. It expresses [illegible] for Divine guidance [illegible] our problems and [illegible] sets before [illegible] of harmony among [illegible] brotherhood.

It's the first verse [illegible] America the Beautiful:

O Beautiful [illegible] skies
For amber waves of grain
For purple mountains majesties
America! America!
God shed his grace on thee
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea.

He's Everything To Sophia Loren

ROME (UPI) — Short, balding Carlo Ponti is the man Sophia Loren describes as "my husband, my ex-husband, my fiancee ... or whatever one should call him."

The romance between the glamorous star and the Italian producer almost twice her age has landed them in the headlines and also into Roman courts on charges of bigamy.

It also has left a large part of the Italian male population envious and somewhat puzzled. Ponti just does not look like the type to get one of the world's most attractive women.

The only person who is not at all puzzled by the romance is Sophia Loren.

"Who wants a pretty man?" she asks with an eloquent shrug.

Ponti is a shrewd and successful international film producer who recently announced the screen version of Boris Pasternak's novel "Dr. Zhivago" as one of his forthcoming projects.

He was one of the bright men from Milan who came south to Rome to try their luck in the post-war film industry. When he and Sophia Loren met some 10 years ago, she was an unknown starlet struggling to overcome the poverty of a Neapolitan childhood. He was already an established producer.

From then on their personal and professional lives have been firmly linked.

In 1957 Ponti divorced Guiliana Fiastri in Mexico and married Sophia Loren by proxy in the same country.

Since Italian law did not recognize the Mexican divorce, the marriage, which later was annulled, brought the couple into a series of court cases that are still dragging slowly through Rome's Palace of Justice.

Legal tangles have marred their personal lives but both their careers have boomed.

Though both object to attributing a Svengali role to Ponti, his guiding hand has helped Sophia on the road from pin-up roles to flesh extravaganzas to the Oscar for her part in "Two Women."

Corvair 700 Club Coupe

The hardest part about parking a Corvair is finding a nickel

That may be a slight overstatement, but such jauntiness comes easily when you're a Corvair owner.

And you can usually back it up—as easily as you can back up a Corvair. You'll find yourself doing that, occasionally, if only to adjust the brakes—they're self-adjusting. That's all there is to it, and that's a good example of how delightfully easy Corvair is to own, drive and maintain.

But since we began by talking about driving, let's stick with that awhile. A large factor in the fun of driving a Corvair is the location of its engine in the rear. Why the rear? It gives Corvair extra traction on any road surface. It provides a nearly flat floor for more useable interior space. Best of all, it produces steering so light, so responsive, you wonder why no other American-made car thought of it.

Corvair's engine is also air cooled, we might add, which means there's no anti-freeze or water for you to add. Ever.

All that pleasure from something so practical almost makes you think Corvair is unique among American cars. Which isn't surprising, because it is!

Shirley Booth's 'Hazel' Is a Nation's Housemaid

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — For the past two years every televiewer in the United States has had a housemaid. Her name is Hazel.

She is nosey, meddling, of uneven disposition and thanks be altogether lovable. Offscreen, in the person of Shirley Booth, all of Hazel's qualities disappear save the warm, lovable traits.

At 53 Miss Booth leads a quiet, unique life which is far more interesting though less hectic than Hazel's.

To begin with, she has three homes. She leases a four-room apartment in Hollywood's very expensive Chateau Marmont and a five-room apartment on New York's west 57th street. But her favorite home is a summer cottage in Chatham, Mass., on Cape Cod.

Miss Booth manages to live in all three places during the year. Three months are spent at Cape Cod where she works furiously in an enormous garden babying flowers, shrubs and trees.

She is such a nut on flowers and plants that both her apartments are filled with growing things.

"When I leave my Hollywood apartment I distribute my plants among my friends—like other people do with pets," she says. "They're reluctant to take them for fear the plants will die and that I will never forgive them."

Widowed in 1951 when her investment broker - husband W. H. Baker died, Miss Booth has never remarried. She was married once previously to Ed Gardner of "Duffy's Tavern" fame.

A native New Yorker, Miss Booth fills the long hours in Hollywood knitting, puttering around her plants and by going for long drives in the Southern California countryside. "I try to find places where there's a lot of green grass and trees," she explained.

Shopkeepers thrill at the sight of Miss Booth. She feels she is being rude if she leaves a store without buying something.

Thus on infrequent shopping tours the actress buys wildly. But that's fine too, because she can afford it. Savings and investments have made her financially independent for life. She need never work again, although retirement might be her undoing.

In her clear New York accent she says, "I work because it makes me feel better and more interested in things. Maybe I'm not aggressive enough to find activities to fill out my day. When I work things are all laid out for me like in the army or when you're a child."

Despite her constant traveling from the Cape to New York to Hollywood, Miss Booth, a merry, open soul, packs only one suitcase.

She keeps her summer clothes in Chatham, her casual wardrobe in California and her smart, sophisticated duds in New York.

"Each place is 'home' to me. I keep them all in perfect order so that when I drop in after weeks or months of absence they appear as if I'd been living in them every day," she said.

Miss Booth says she is not interested in remarriage nor romance. She has scores of close friends, most of whom are in show business. Among them are Ann Sothern, John Forsythe, the Ralph Bellamys and Max Showalter. She is a frequent guest in their homes but she rarely entertains.

Of marriage she says: "It's more than a 50-50 proposition. It should be a 100-100 proposition, and I've become a little too selfish to give that much of myself to anyone else."

Television fans often find the diminutive star (5 feet 3, 130 pounds) poking about picture galleries or sitting beside them in theaters. She is an avid moviegoer.

When she first accepted the Hazel role in the NBC-TV series her friends were shocked, feeling she was selling out her reputation. And it was not totally without reason. One of the foremost performers on stage and in movies, Miss Booth has won every important award an actress can win — 28 in all, including an Oscar for "Come Back, Little Sheba."

But she loves her television series and looks forward to next year's segments. She enjoys a close, relaxed relationship with her co-stars, Don Defore, Whitney Blake and Bobby Buntrock.

"We have a genuine affection for one another," she says, "and I've had as much fun with this series as I did with any show on Broadway or in any movie I've made."

Miss Booth's life is not a lonely one. The pressure of a weekly video show keeps her busy memorizing lines, leaving her little time for housework or kitchen chores. A cook comes in to handle the meals in Hollywood.

[illegible] major work first performed just seven years before his death, when his mastery [illegible] and his psychosomatic stomach troubles were all at their height. He himself described it best by saying [illegible] written with the point of a needle.

It pokes fun at human vanities and pretensions, and more in the music perhaps than in the libretto. The weakness may be that these attacks on the human are too sharp [illegible] either way [illegible].

Whatever the reason, Beatrice and Benedict has never caught on even though it is a stageable comic opera. It is short [illegible] be adapted for coupling with something else that would be [illegible] but of the same vein. It may be people are tough enough now to take its jabs. PRETTY COURSE

Fresh snap beans with tomato mayonnaise make a picture-pretty vegetable course. Cook 1 pound of whole fresh snap beans in 1-inch of boiling water with 1 teaspoon of salt for 10 to 12 minutes or until crisp-tender. Drain and arrange in small bundles on individual plates.

Place a ribbon of tomato mayonnaise around center of each bundle; the mayonnaise made by mixing 2 tablespoons of finely diced fresh tomato, ¼ teaspoon of salt, a dash of ground black pepper and 1 teaspoon of fresh lemon juice into ¼ cup of mayonnaise. Serves 6.

When using a ladder on soft ground, put each leg of the ladder into a one-pound coffee can firmly secured.

Hope to Shine With Moon Food

MENLO PARK, Calif. (UPI) — So you think you have problems packing picnic lunches for the family.

Consider those of the Stanford Research Institute which has been given the job of developing food for the three astronauts whom the U.S. hopes to send to the moon by 1970.

One problem stems from the lack of gravity in a space capsule. A crumb or drop of liquid suspended in mid-air can be a menace.

Another is that virtually everything, including meat, must be freeze-dried or powdered and packaged in individual portions.

And the packages must be able to withstand the force of rapid acceleration.

And since there are no roadside litter cans, a system for package disposal must be worked out with anti-bacterial measures.

Steve Raines of "Rawhide" on the CBS Television Network was spotted by a Hollywood producer while stunt riding in a rodeo in Texas.

Tips on Tipping While Traveling

NEW YORK (UPI) — W[illegible] and how much to tip [illegible] one of the dilemmas faced by the American traveler [illegible] the United States. The problem [illegible] to perplex [illegible] for the [illegible] many [illegible] first [illegible] and infamous [illegible] travelers [illegible].

The story goes that the practice of tipping began some 300 years ago in England. Boxes suddenly appeared in cafes and other public houses with a slot for coins and the inscription "T.I.P.S." which stood for "To Insure Prompt Service."

Today tipping is regarded as one of the near-inescapable facts of life in virtually every corner of the world.

Following are some guideposts suggested by American Express and other travel industry specialists:

The general practice in major American cities is to tip about 15 per cent of the bill in restaurants, cafes, bars and night clubs. The usual tip for taxi drivers is about 20 per cent of the fare.

Railway, airport, ship and bus porters expect no less than 25 cents a bag. Hotel bell captains, bell hops, doormen, etc. are tipped according to services rendered.

Never tip the stewardess or any other airline employe when traveling by plane at home or abroad. Don't tip the conductor, but porters and stewards on trains should be tipped for their services.

Aboard ship tipping varies with the class you are traveling and the type of vessel. Never tip any ship officer with the possible exception of the Chief Steward for extraordinary services.

A dollar-a-day per person is an acceptable yardstick for tipping cabin and dining room stewards on short cruises or cabin-class transatlantic voyages. First-class passengers on big luxury liners should tip a little more — $1.50 to $2 a day per person for cabin and dining room stewards. The deck steward, wine steward, bellboy, bartender, band and other service personnel can be tipped at the passenger's discretion.

Another way is to put aside an amount equal to about 10 per cent of the one-way passage fare. This is distributed 40 per cent each to the dining and room stewards and the rest divided among other personnel.

Most hotels abroad add a "service charge" ranging from 10 to 20 per cent to the bill. But many travelers still tip waiters, bellboys and other help for spe[illegible]

[illegible] And don't overlook the [illegible] tions from securing travel tickets to a copy of your favorite American newspaper.

Many foreign restaurants include a service charge of about 15 per cent on the check, but some tourists add another 5 to 10 per cent if the service is particularly good. The sommelier expects a tip equal to about 10 per cent of the cost of the bottle if you have wine.

Abroad, 10 per cent is the usual standard for tipping taxi drivers. Give a little more if they help you with the luggage. Porters get an average of about 15 cents per bag but many veteran travelers never give less than 25 cents if only one bag is carried.

Washroom and cloakroom attendants overseas as well as in the United States expect tips. Also croupiers, theater ushers and ushers at bullfights in the European and Latin American countries.

Travel sources say most of the troubles Americans have with tipping abroad is confusion over the value of foreign currencies. Learn something about the monetary unit of the country. Banks and travel agencies can provide simple currency converters.

Before going overseas, the traveler can buy "Tip Packs" of pre-packaged foreign money from many banks or travel agencies. Lionel Pereira Manfra and Brookes, Inc., which makes up the "Tip Packs," also offers a free booklet which includes international currency values and regulations. The booklet "Going Abroad" can be obtained by writing to the company at 30 Rockefeller Plaza (20) or 44 Whitehall St. (4), New York City.

Gilt picture frames will have a lovely luster if they are rubbed with a little turpentine.
