Hospital Committees Almost Completed

County-wide Efforts To Raise Funds

The County-wide united effort to secure funds with which to furnish and equip the new unit of the Walker Memorial Hospital is making excellent progress, according to E. A. DeLaney, General Chairman. Organization committees and Divisions are nearly complete. When the organization set-up is completed all the people of Highlands County and areas of neighboring counties being served by the hospital will be reached. Besides the several functioning committees the working Divisions are: Memorial, Special Gifts, Medical, Employee, Women, Area, Junior Chamber of Commerce and Negro. Under the chairman of the Divisions the hospital needs will be outlined.

"Our Ridge Area is woefully under hospitalized," commented John W. Wright, chairman of the campaign committee appointed by President George Border, of the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce. "The Walker Memorial Hospital Expansion and the new Highlands General Hospital when completed will help our area tremendously but we will need more hospital facilities as we grow," further emphasized Mr. Wright.

The Walker Memorial Hospital's new unit will double the capacity with 53 additional beds together with furnishings and equipment to make this additional unit completely modern.

These planned facilities for which the $100,000.00 is being sought are:

Mervin Rehrer In Tallahassee

County Judge Mervin Rehrer was in Tallahassee Tuesday to testify in behalf of the bill setting up a compulsory treatment for alcoholics program.

The bill, which was sponsored by Florida County Judges Association and introduced by Senator Hayward Davis, is being studied by a judiciary committee.

Judge Rehrer expected to return to his duties at the court house on Wednesday.

In the Judge's absence County Prosecutor Harry Lee received pleas in the Tuesday session of County Court, and Judge Rehrer was to pass sentence later in the week.

Little League Meeting Friday Night At National Guard Armory

There will be a Little League meeting, Friday night, 7:30 p. m., at the National Guard Armory. All parents of Little Leaguers, coaches, officials and umpires are urged to attend this meeting. Any citizens of Avon Park, who are interested in helping with the Little League, will also be welcome.

Uniforms for each of the teams will be passed out at this meeting. Moms and Dads will be expected to be at the meeting with their son, to pick up his uniform.

The new Little League field is in the process of being completed, and for the first time the boys will be playing on a regulation field.

Six teams will be entered this year, two more than last season. The two new teams are: The Florida Avenue Baptist Church, and Avon Citrus Bank. Teams back from last year: Avon Park Lions Club, Avon Park Rotary Club, First Baptist Church, and Bagwell Lumber Co.

There are four minor league teams in our Little League program this year, two new teams having been added, sponsored by Griffin's Restaurant and Kirkland's Market. The hold-over teams are Turner's Furniture Co. and Jahna's Ready Mix.

Through the cooperation and help of the local businessmen, the Little League Association is able to provide a program that will allow approximately 135 youngsters to take part in a clean competitive sport. This is twice the number that were able to participate in the Little League program last year.

The benefit from Little League play is tremendous. The Little League Association of Avon Park is aware that the program can be successful, if the parents give 100 per cent cooperation. It is the hope of the Association that all parents will attend this meeting and bring their sons. This will help to insure the success of our Little League program in Avon Park for the 1963 season.

Circuit Court Meets For Spring Term

Circuit Court's first round of spring term trials was quickly disposed of Monday with no jury trials.

Two defendants entered pleas of guilty, and two cases were dropped.

Cueller Philip Peterson, who had been charged with attempting to bribe a sheriff's deputy, changed his plea to guilty, and Judge Gunter Stephenson ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

B. G. Collier changed a previous not guilty plea and pleaded no contest to a grand larceny charge. Several witnesses were heard, and Judge Stephenson took the case under advisement.

A worthless check charge against Collier was dropped.

Matilda Green was reprimanded for failure to appear as a witness before the grand jury on April 2.

Election Day Tuesday At High School

[illegible]

The campaign and election was conducted much in the same manner as the political elections of the United States are held. The student body is divided into two parties, the Federalists and the Nationalists, and each party selects candidates after several days of campaigning by the students who are interested in holding an office in the Student Council. Party candidates were named at last Thursday's assembly following some very good speeches made by their supporters or campaign managers. Following their nominations, the candidates had a weekend for making posters and mapping their strategy for election.

The big political rally was held Monday in the auditorium. The band played, there were heated speeches and general confusion, such as that which is experienced at the national conventions of the Republicans and Democrats. The auditorium was plastered with banners and streamers, and even pictures of the various candidates, telling of their special qualifications for the job.

Perhaps the greatest difference in this election from national politics, was that the candidates were required to clean up their mess following the rally. According to John Crittenden, the clean-up job was accomplished quickly as each candidate had a number of ardent supporters who volunteered their services.

When these young voters become of age they will know how to use voting machines, and they will also have some understanding of how politics work in our two-party system. This school election was of deep concern to each student, and their party affiliation very real, but they found that when they went into the machine to cast their ballot, they did not have to vote a party ticket, but were free to cast a vote for any candidate they chose, regardless of his party affiliation.

Salie Harrison Gives Kentucky Recital, Apr. 19

Miss Harrison's mother and brother, Mrs. G. L. Harrison, and son, Michael, of Tampa, motored to Wilmore, Ky. to attend the recital. They were joined by Mrs. Harrison's sister, Mrs. George Jordan, of Ocala, and a nephew, Arthur Kelly, Jr., of Punta Gorda, to make the trip.

Miss Sally Nute, who is attending college in Lexington, Ky. was also present for the recital.

Miss Harrison is now interning in the music departments of Cassidy, Ashland and Johnson Elementary Schools, Morton Junior High and the Henry Clay High School in Lexington.

APHS Glee Club Rates High

APHS Glee Club received an Excellent rating at the annual music festival, the State Vocal Contest held at Daytona Beach last week. This is considered a fine grade since very few high schools make an Excellent rating, which is next to the highest grade received.

Leaving APHS Friday afternoon, the group arrived in Daytona in time to participate in the massed chorus Friday evening. They also heard the top soloists and choruses which had been chosen during Friday's contest. The concert chorus contest was held Saturday morning at which time the APHS Glee Club sang two numbers, for which they received the Excellent rating, and also same grade for sight reading.

Wayne Strickler, soloist, rated Excellent and Lynda Shepherd, pianist, rated Good.

Accompanying the group on the trip was their director, Miss Linda Spillman; Mrs. W. Barber, Mrs. Georgia Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. McMasters and Ross Bigbie.

William K. Osborne and Daniel West, Jr., both out-of-county drivers, entered pleas of guilty to driving while intoxicated charges.

Each was fined $200 or 90 days in jail, and each lost his driver's license for six months.

Tallahassee Tattletale

By Jennie Reninger

We are at the half — we hope?

Behind us is the John's Report, some little legislation, and many very important social functions.

The piece de resistance of the 1963 session— a bird of an Appropriation Bill—was placed before the Senate last Thursday. Everyone knew right off, this fowl was much too big to serve whole, but no one wanted to start carving. Furthermore, no one would say whether they preferred white or dark. Finally—in order to give the boys time to whet their knives — the bird was sent to baste in committee over the weekend.

Now is the time for all good legislators to watch their step! Everyone is getting tired, suspicious and touchy. Too many want too much of everything except taxes. During the next four weeks secretaries will lose their sunny dispositions; Legislators will develop ulcers, and lobbyists will limp around on fallen arches.

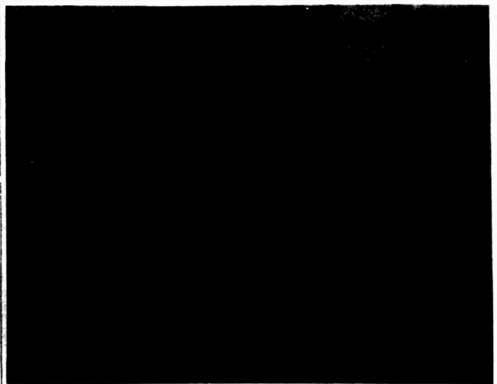
Meanwhile, politicians are busy jockeying governor hopefuls into position and votes on legislation are being counted as "For" or "Against" the "would-be's" popularity. Enough about politics. Let me tell you about The Bloomer Girl.

This amazing individual is as much a part of the Legislature as is the Governor and the Capitol Dome. She gets her name from her zaney garb—baggy bloomers of flapper vintage. For almost twenty years she has journeyed from her home at Gainesville to attend each session of the legislature. Here she lobbys for what few bills she favors and drafts others to suit herself. These she carries around in a battered briefcase hung from her shoulder by a strap. The Bloomer Girl was an old woman when I first met her in fifty-three and the years have not treated her kindly. She sees poorly, has only one tooth, and isn't as spritely as of yore, but her spirit and spunk remain undaunted. The Bloomer Girl is convinced this country is going to the bow-wows and only her concerted efforts can save it. Since she appropriates my desk everytime I leave it, I'm sure I'm right in line to be her first lieutenant, once we get the world back on an even keel.

Every government official in Tallahassee eventually gets around to pointing out: Florida is the only State in the Union to furnish a private office for every Legislator, plus one for his secretary. If at this point you tactlessly mention "Catacombs," you're certain to hear "How bad they have it in California!"

Every few days The Boss hands me a handful of papers with the observation, "This is Bill so and so — relating to such and such." I can tell from his tone he considers it important and secretly hopes I'll pass it on to you. Since I haven't the heart to tell him, "Legislators are lousy 'Copy,' and nobody cares a whoop about Bills," I've decided to devote one whole paragraph this week to pending legislation.

This week the Gentleman from District 40 stood up in the Senate and spoke his piece. He would pick a lie detector bill being promoted by the Sheriff's bureau to buck. Anyway he got it defeated—by one vote. The Gentlemen in the House are likewise coming to life. The trio make it a point to get their pigeons in a row before they start to shoot and—if I do say so—"They aren't bad!" Morris Adams' Bill for a Highway Patrol station in Highlands County has now cleared the Public Safety Committee and gone to Appropriations. This week will probably see several more dropped in the hopper.



BAND ROOM IMPROVEMENT—Risers for the band room were finally completed and installed during the Easter holiday week-end, which delights both students and Director MicKunas. This is another of the long looked for improvements at APHS which the school board has completed.

Under the Mansfield proposal, we would recognize a Cuban government in exile, and put a tight quarantine such as that used against Trujillo in the Dominican Republic, and bar movement of Castro Communist agents from Cuba into other American countries.

Plan Proposed For Saving Citrus Industry Time and Money

[illegible] Ap. 24 — [illegible]

We know that the problems [illegible] facing in the [illegible] be a great deal different from those we faced before the freeze. At that time we had large inventories and heavy crops on the trees. "Now we have sharply reduced crops, considerably higher prices on our fruit and products, and vigorously increasing competition from drinks, ades and other synthetics which sell cheaper. This means we must have new strategy for this new situation."

Hooks said that the Commission would have less money to spend on advertising next season than in any year since 1953-54, even if the 10 cents per box orange advertising assessment is approved by the current session of the state legislature. In all probability, funds will remain at a low ebb for the next three years.

"We have to maintain the image of Florida citrus in the markets during these three years. We have to hold on to customers we have against the hard-hitting challenge of drinks and ades. And at the same time, we have to begin repainting the idea of citrus for other than breakfast uses so as to broaden the base of utilization against the day of higher production. Advertising costs have gone up 10 per cent in these same five years, Hooks said, "which means that the citrus industry must now spend more to do the same job being done in 1957.

"We must have the funds now and the knowledge now to best prepare for the day when we return to record crops. I feel this preparation can best

The Square Dance group enjoyed a "pot luck" dinner at the Avon Park Lakes Association Club House on Wednesday night. There were five sets, 40 dancers, that "whirled-away" the gay evening. This special affair was a farewell party before the "trek-to-the-north" commences. A token of appreciation was presented to Mr. C. Mr. and Mrs. Don Jameson entertained eight at a dessert pinochle party on Friday evening. The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. H. Woodruff.

Miss Bertha Desauteis, Mrs. Maude Bedard and Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Willis spent a lovely day at Sarasota Beach and Anna Maria Beach on Tuesday. How are the "sunburns?"

Mr. and Mrs. Jewell L. Edwards and daughters, Deann and Luann, of Owensboro, Kentucky, called on Mr. and Mrs. Paul Calvert on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Robbins entertained eight at a dinner party on Thursday night. After a lovely dinner, the Robbins showed slides of their trip to Nassau. The group then played pinochle and Mrs. A. M. Luyben won high score and consolation to Mrs. Wm. Eickoff.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Miller of Zephyrhills were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tilton on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kirchmer and Mr. John Christy of Cliffside, New Jersey were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Bengel last week. The group spent several days in Silver Springs and Marineland. Mrs. Kirchmer is Mrs. Bengel's sister. The Kirchmers and Mr. Christy will spend two weeks at Indian Rock Beach prior to returning home.

The summer "exodus" has begun - sincerely hope everyone has a nice vacation!

Paying Twice For Postal Service

Basically, the government operates the postal service for all the people as a giant monopoly financed by general taxation. But then, it insists also that postal revenues from mail rates shall balance postal costs.

Under this policy, both the amount of taxes going to support a public service postal system and the rates being charged mail users have gone only one way for many years—up, and ever up.

In fact, postal rates have now climbed so high that it is time to ask whether we aren't paying twice -- once through taxes, and again in stamp charges—for the same poor quality service.

First class stamps have gone from three to five cents in two steps since 1951; second and third class rates have been increased more than 100 percent in the same period.

This insistence on higher postal rates, in addition to a larger flow of money from the general tax fund to the postal service, is at variance with federal policy for other departments and agencies rendering important public services.

For example, the Federal Government spends approximately $91 million a year for the National Park Service, $205 million on inland waterways, $23 million for the patent office, $5.2 billion for Agriculture Department services not billed to farmers. None of these agencies is required to charge fees, in addition, which will approximately balance expenditures.

With postal costs at an all time high, Congress should take a long, hard look at Post Office budgeting, accounting, cost ascertainment and mechanization to cut costs.

You should urge your Congressmen and Senators to find out whether we aren't paying two or three times the amount of money really needed to furnish a modern, efficient postal communications system.

A MIRACLE

Did you ever hold in your hand a rose, a plant, or even a tiny seed and wonder where its beauty comes from? Or did you plant a seed and watch, day by day, and marvel at nature's way? How miraculous are the ways of nature; so beautiful that man can never fashion or create a rival.

Another word for nature, of course, is God. He creates. Beauty in all its forms comes from Him, and to us they are given; nature's bounties, we call them.

When you go to church this Sunday, say another word of "thanks" for all that is good, all that is beautiful; all that you possess!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The pretty new uniforms worn by the check-out girls, and the attractive outfits of the boys as well as the blazer worn by the manager at the Kwik Chek Store. They give a nice dressed-up appearance, don't you agree.

The leaving of our Winter Guests at the Tourist Club makes it a quiet place. During the season there is much laughter and activity and they all seem to have so much enjoyment at their games. The club, with over 600 members, scatters to all points of the compass telling their friends at home, what a nice winter they have spent here in Avon Park.

The traffic conditions at the Post Office during the busy hours is getting to be a problem to get a space to park.

The activity at the Hopewell School. The Plaza effect will make this a beautiful area. The school board and the city should get lots of thanks for their work there.

A new tennis court is under construction on the play ground area at Donaldson Park. The one court that has been used has had a heavy play, causing a long wait for those wanting to play. With the completion of the new court a lot of the waiting will be eliminated.

TODAY'S HOSPITAL... CAREER CENTER FOR AMERICA'S YOUTH

NATIONAL HOSPITAL WEEK MAY 12-18

Hospitals of [illegible] community [illegible] the nation [illegible] as "Career Centers for America's Youth." Hospitals [illegible] far more jobs for high school graduates than is generally realized, according to A. J. Lynd, administrator of Walker Memorial Hospital. The jobs require a variety of trades and skills which can be learned on the job and they offer many opportunities for advancement within the hospital field, Mr. Lynd said.

"We tend to associate only doctors and nurses with the hospital, but it could not function if they were the only persons on the staff," Mr. Lynd said. "To keep the hospital running engineers, cooks, typists, maids, orderlies, nurse aides, librarians and technicians are needed."

Some of the larger hospitals list 200 different job classifications. "Walker Memorial Hospital has approximately 50," Mr. Lynd said in an interview telling about the National Hospital Week, May 12-18. Theme of the week is "Today's Hospital - Career Center for America's Youth."

Hospital services are usually divided into three parts: administration, professional services and plant operation. Most of the jobs [illegible] fall into the [illegible] and [illegible] levels. [illegible] high school education are to be found in all areas of the hospital.

Nursing aides and orderlies are members of the auxiliary nursing team. They are frequently trained on the job and work under the direction of professional nurses. They make beds, bathe patients, deliver messages and escort patients to other departments. Orderlies usually perform these services for male patients and do the heavier work in the nursing unit.

Four departments that employ high school graduates are housekeeping, dietary, laundry and maintenance.

Those who are interested in becoming skilled in any of these services usually plan to further develop their training so that eventually it is their future vocation. "Hospitals have jobs for persons with many interests. They are, indeed, career centers for America's youth," Mr. Lynd said.

Winn-Dixie Backs Florida Progress

For the third straight year, "Dixie Products Days" is emphasizing the fact that over [illegible] Floridians are today enjoying more nutritious and more varied meals at lower real cost than ever before.

The observance, which began with a proclamation by Gov. Farris Bryant, is marked by home-grown meats, produce and staples featured in abundant display at the 240 Florida supermarkets operated by Winn-Dixie Stores.

Florida-grown and Florida food is the Dixie Products Days theme at these supermarkets, a number of which are located in the local area. The observance runs through May 11.

Citing the fact that Florida agriculture and produce are making a vast contribution to the state's economic well being, Gov. Bryant in his proclamation urged all persons, firms and businesses to:

"Pay tribute to our Florida agriculture, which has helped to give us the highest standard of living in the world."

Special decorations pointing up the importance of Florida agriculture are brightening each Winn-Dixie Supermarket, whose employees are garbed in typically-Southern attire. The important contribution the firm now makes to the entire South's economy is illustrated by the following yearly figures for the company as a whole, which operates 605 stores in Dixie:

Salaries, $58,000,000; occupancy costs $11,500,000, local taxes (not including social security) $2,375,000, advertising expenses, $6,000,000 and utility expenses $5,525,000 all totaling $83,400,000.

The actual scope of "Dixie Products Days," however, is shown in the figures on the food handled by Winn-Dixie stores during the course of one year. The amounts are somewhat staggering:

Groceries, 727,836,000 pounds in Florida and 1,435,018,000 pounds in all divisions; produce including frozen foods, 395,768,000 pounds in Florida and 777,536,000 pounds in all divisions; meat, 202,650,000 pounds in Florida and 411,290,000 pounds in all divisions.

The company itself, now employing over 15,000 people, is an example of the progress that is possible in the modern day South. Winn-Dixie had its beginning in 1925 in a 2,800 square foot grocery located in Lemon City, then a suburb of Miami. It was started on $10,000 of borrowed capital. Its founder was W. M. Davis and his young sons, A. D., J. E., M. Austin and Tine W. Davis assisted him.

Today, A. D. Davis is president of the Winn-Dixie organization and J. E. Davis is chairman of the board. The other brothers, M. Austin and Tine W. Davis are executive vice president and regional retail store operations directors.

The Winn-Dixie profit-sharing program is unique in the annals of American business. For example, in 1962 the company distributed profit-sharing checks totaling $2,577,803 to approximately 4,000 employees.

"Our employees—through our profit-sharing program — are given the opportunity to share in the profits they themselves help create," said A. D. Davis.

"Through this program, together with low-cost life, hospitalization, surgical and accident insurance, college scholarships for employees' children, sick pay, stock purchase arrangement and other benefits, we feel we are fulfilling the vital responsibility of providing for the present and future security of Winn-Dixie people."

How well a home is "lined" has a strong impact on air conditioning costs and efficiency. According to the Southern Pine Association, an ideal "lining" is a layer of solid boards between the framework of outer walls and surfacing materials. The high insulation value of this lumber makes the home cooler in summer and increases air conditioning efficiency.

Florida Council of 100

[illegible]

[illegible] that the typical business man who travels will average over seven trips a year as compared to an average of one trip a year for the tourist.

By bringing industry and business to Florida we will be bringing people in numbers to create an unprecedented demand for tourist attractions and facilities.

This is why I say, with great emphasis, industry means tourism.

It is important for every Floridian to think in terms of new business and industry for Florida, each to help in his own way to create an economic, political and physical climate favorable to business.

This means, among other things, electing public servants with an interest in promoting our economic welfare through expanding industry, it means endorsement of expenditures for higher education to create the intellectual environment necessary to space age industry, and it means working with our present industry to see that it is happy because [illegible] best advertisement for new industry is satisfied [illegible] existing industry.

The Commission report shows [illegible] during March [illegible] was selling at [illegible] less than [illegible] same month a year earlier, with the [illegible] that volume increased [illegible] and the per cent of families using that product increased by 33 per cent. In terms of buying families, the increase was 43 per cent for pineapple grapefruit drink, 29 per cent for orange drink, 27 per cent for pineapple juice, and 24 per cent for other fruit drinks.

A year ago, a six-ounce can of frozen orange concentrate sold for 17.4 cents as compared with March's price of 23.2, Dr. Black said. Canned grapefruit juice soared from 27.9 to 35.3 cents and canned grapefruit sections from 20.3 to 22.9 cents in the year interval. Price hikes also accompanied chilled orange juice and canned orange juice, but these two products enjoyed increases in volume and number of families buying those products. Chilled orange juice went up 19 per cent in volume and 14 per cent in number of family purchasing, while canned orange juice registered gains of 15 per cent in volume and 27 per cent in family buying.

Cut 1½ pounds round steak across the grain in paper thin slices. This is easier to do if meat is frozen first. Place meat in bowl and pour over it a mixture of ⅓ cup soy sauce and 1 teaspoon sugar. Let it marinate for ½ hour, turning meat after first 15 minutes. Cut 3 large peeled firm tomatoes in eighths and cut 2 seeded green peppers into thin strips. In a large skillet heat ¼ cup salad oil. Add 1 garlic clove and ¾ teaspoon ginger and cook for a few minutes. Remove garlic, add green pepper and saute, stirring constantly, for 3 minutes; then the beef and its liquid and cook for another 3 minutes. Add tomatoes and cover. Simmer a few minutes until tomatoes are hot. Blend 2 tablespoons cornstarch with 2 tablespoons soy sauce. Gently stir into the mixture and cook 1 more minute. Serves 6

Experts Give Tips To State Mum Growers

Were your fall chrysanthemums wilted, blighted, spotted or deformed? If so, they were probably suffering from a disease producing fungi or bacteria.

Dr. E. L. Hobbs, assistant plant pathologist at the Gulf Coast Experiment Station, a unit of the Florida Agricultural Experiment Stations, gives some pointers on how to prevent the recurrence of this unsightly malady this fall.

The first step toward successfully growing mums, he [illegible] them in [illegible] soil. This can be [illegible] them [illegible] garden [illegible]. However, this may [illegible]

[illegible]

As an added bonus, the researcher says these soil treatments will kill nematodes and weeds in addition to disease-producing organisms.

Dr. Hobbs warns home gardeners that re-contamination of a chrysanthemum bed can result from contaminated soil carried on tools and shoes. Heavy rains can also wash contaminated soil into the bed. Because of this, it is best to be careful not to work the soil any more than is necessary after treatment.

"If re-contamination does occur and some plants begin to wilt or become rotten at the soil line," Dr. Hobbs says, "some control can be achieved by applying a drench of a mixture of five tablespoons of Captan and 10 teaspoons of Terrachlor in three gallons of water for every 10 square feet of area to be treated. Care should be taken to wash the chemicals off the foliage after application.

To control diseases on the leaves and flowers of your chrysanthemums, Dr. Hobbs suggests spraying weekly with a mixture of one teaspoonful of Captan and one teaspoonful of Maneb in one gallon of water. To avoid injury to flowers after they open, use only two teaspoons of Captan in one gallon of water.

During periods of heavy rain, you may be troubled with bacterial leaf spot. This disease may be recognized by large dark brown spots which are banded with areas of lighter brown. Control of the disease may be obtained by spraying with four teaspoons of tribasic copper in one gallon of water at weekly intervals. "Since copper can build up in the soil and become toxic to the plants," Dr. Hobbs advises gardeners "to spray only when the disease is found to be present."

"If you follow this disease control program along with good cultural practices," the Agricultural Experiment Stations researcher stresses, "you should be able to enjoy beautiful high quality chrysanthemums this fall."

Tallahassee Tattletale

By Jennie Reninger

I don't know why Hayward wants to be a Senator when they have so much more fun in the House. Things are terribly stuffy in the Senate. Just no one tells very funny jokes—anyway, belly laughs are frowned upon. Over in the House the boys get all steamed up and pop off at each other, then quick as a wink it's all over. I love their term "Stone Stew," which translated, means "Stupid Bill," also their custom of offering a box of salt to the looser.

Once every session they hold Third House, a hilarious skit in which pages and secretaries impersonate their employers, while the Speaker and Representatives (wearing short shorts and sucking lollypops) serve as pages, janitors and such. Third House, Thursday, was a riot! It opened with the interim committee on gambling playing craps in the center aisle. As soon as they were thrown into the Temperence Committee, the Speaker arrived. He looked very debonair with a boutoniere of two huge amarilis. This august Gentleman was preceeded by the chief clerk—a bosomy damsel with brilliant red wig—who tripped along scattering rose petals in his path. Behind followed her six assistants—all robust sweater girls of the opposite sex. The President of the Senate was escorted in and took the chair. There was a great fanfare! Then the Governor came galloping down the aisle; dashed to the rostrum and explained, between pants, that he had outrun his escort when he realized they were all members of The John's Committee.

Representative Smoak of Charlotte, kept jumping to his feet begging to be recognized, only to be told he was "out of order." For the benefit of freshmen Members, the Speaker pointed out they must conduct themselves with dignity and decorum and cut out sailing paper planes in the Chamber. This, he explained, was a privilage reserved for the Senate.

There was a delightful rendition of The Re-Apportionment Song with it's plaintive chorus "Impasse! Impasse! Impasse!" One of the clerks did a clever takeoff on Governor Bryant. The Dairy Princess, Miss Udderman, was introduced and brought "Greetings" from The Herd—a loud succession of mournful "mo-o-o's." The Speaker appointed a committee to escort her to the rostrum, but Representative Miner of Hendry objected on the grounds that: Never in all his years in the House had he heard of a House Committee escorting a lady to the "restrum."

A bill pretaining to protecting poor working girls from fresh Representatives was introduced; discussed and referred to the Committee on Hotels and Restaurants. Another bill, making it mandatory for elevators to carry an equal number of male and female occupants, was read in full, argued at length and finally sent to Outdoor Amusements. Much time was consumed with a bill with a misplaced semicolon which legislators tried to amend into it's proper place. The bill was killed when someone noticed the semicolon was actually a sand flea that had crawled off of the bill's introducer. Chesterfield Smith's appropriation bill was salvaged from the Committee on Mental Health and promptly passed. Everyone voted against taxes. Representative Smoak was finally recognized and invited

The bridge commitment was one of the requirements to be met. On a second commitment the commissioners [illegible] The landowners requested the board to sign a maintenance agreement.

The commissioners refused to sign this agreement until the funds for the annual budget, estimated at $2[illegible] are pledged. Maxey contended, unsuccessfully, that increased taxes from higher valuations on land benefiting from the Project would more than cover the maintenance cost.

The commissioners pointed out that similar projects—the Fisheating Creek and Istokpoga Marsh Watershed Projects—have maintenance [illegible] raised by assessments [illegible] benefitted landowners.

"Can we assume that if we come up with an agreement similar to those on the other projects, then the commissioners will sign the maintenance agreement?" Maxey asked. The landowners [illegible] called a meeting for Friday to work out a plan to present to the commissioners.

Civil Defense Director Don Hansen attended Tuesday's commission session to report on his study of county bomb shelter projects. Several weeks ago Hansen requested the commissioners to include a shelter in the court house annex.

He pointed out that a shelter to be used as civil defense control center, can be built with the federal government footing half the bill for construction and maintenance.

Tuesday, Hansen reported that Lakeland's shelter is costing $16 per square foot. He said this includes the cost of generators for an emergency power supply and air conditioning.

A control center in West Palm Beach cost $17 per square feet. The communication equip-

Registration List of Voters To Be Verified

Roland X. Droit and his staff at the Highlands County supervisors office of registrations started verifying the registration list in Avon Park Wednesday.

Avon Park's four precincts are the first in the county to be checked. The work will be done out of the voting building on South Fairfield Avenue. As many persons as possible will be checked by phone, but if they can't be reached, his staff will try to locate them in person. The mailing of cards will be used only as a last resort. Those who can make it, or have no phones, are urged to come to the building in person.

Voters are required to notify the supervisor of registration as to change of address, status or property, and if moving to another precinct.

LITTLE LEAGUE LEGACY

A Guest Editorial by Tom W Jones

[illegible] The uniforms bear the names of highly respected institutions [illegible] community [illegible] each a team sponsor. But the boy who wears the uniform is the real reason for Little League. He may be [illegible] nine years old [illegible] to death he might have to bat in the first game, yet [illegible] he'd rather be in this particular uniform at this particular time, than be anywhere else in the world. Or he may be an old hand at the game, a veteran at 12 years of age, a little cocky with experience, but not quite sure what this year's crop of pitchers may send his way.

The umpire, a volunteer [illegible] The manager [illegible] The scorer, a volunteer [illegible] play by play [illegible] game. [illegible]

[illegible]

Little League Baseball [illegible] interest, enthusiasm [illegible] Because its [illegible] babies, and [illegible] by volunteers [illegible] nobody makes a cent, some of the coarser elements of the big leagues are omitted. There's no room for jeering the umpire from the stands, or arguing with him on the field. And players and spectators refrain from razzing the opposing team. A sincere "well done" is the only pay for players, and losers and winners may share this.

Let's support our Little League—leaving the fierce competition of teams and the harsh up-brading for mistakes to the majors. It's just a game, but WHAT a game.

Ridge Area Organizations Invited To Noon Luncheon, May 13

Representatives of civic, commercial and patriotic organizations of the Ridge Area are being invited to attend a luncheon at the Walker Memorial Hospital 12:30 Monday, May 13. This group is under the leadership of the Rev. John F. Mangrum, Chairman of the Sponsors and Speakers Committee, one of the important elements of the organization to seek funds with which to equip and furnish the new unit of the Walker Memorial Hospital.

To discuss the value and need for more modern hospital service, the history and place of the Walker Memorial Hospital together with a detailed description of the new unit will be the theme of this luncheon meeting. There will be no financial solicitation. It is the feeling of Chairman Mangrum and the officers of the Chamber of Commerce that a frank and detailed outline of our hospital needs is most timely.

Rev. Mangrum and members of his committee urge those who have received an invitation to attend the luncheon notify the headquarters office in the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce in order that proper arrangements can be made.

Junior Class Contributes To Track Fund

Avon Park High School's Junior Class contributed $100.00 to the new Track Fund last week to lead the way as the APHS students took it upon themselves to get things going on funds to build a new regulation track at the athletic field east of Memorial Field.

The Ridge Conference of which Avon Park is a member has ruled that track will become a major sport and will be required in all participating schools starting next season. The Highlands County School Board has agreed to finance an additional coach in each of the three county high schools to take charge of the new sport.

This season Avon Park started a limited track program and entered some events in the Ridge Track Meet but a regulation track is badly needed in order for the local school to meet the conference competition.

Earl Varnes, high school teacher, is heading up the drive to obtain funds for a track and says that in addition to the donation from the junior class, other contributions from local citizens have already started to come into the fund. Other student organizations are expected to join in the donating and Varnes admitted that anyone wishing to contribute could feel free to do so by contacting him or any member of the coaching staff.

Plans for a regulation track are already included in the County School Board's master plans for an athletic area east of Memorial Field and although cost of laying down a track is not known, Coach Franza says that plans will go ahead now to get things rolling for next season.

OK, silly, go ahead and do the job wrong because you don't have enough time to do it right. Where's time coming from to do it over?

Local Board President Explains Obligation To Home Seekers

[illegible] days later, Realtor B [illegible] under which Client A's house would no longer be near a stop.

He informed Prospect C of this circumstance. Prospect C lost interest in the house. Realtor B informed Client A and [illegible] that prospect C's deposit should be returned. Client A reluctantly complied with Realtor B's request, but complained to the board of Realtors that Realtor B had not faithfully protected and promoted his interests; that after a willingness to buy had been achieved, Realtor B need not have a disclosure to the prospect that killed the sale, since the point was not of major importance. The new bus route, he showed, would put a stop within six blocks of the property.

"In a hearing on the matter before the board, Realtor B explained that in advertising Client A's property the fact that a bus stop was only a few feet away from the property had been prominently featured. He made the point also that prospect C, in consulting him, had emphasized that because of physical disability, he needed a home as near as possible to a bus stop.

Thus, in his judgment, the change in bus routing materially changed the characteristic of the property in the eyes of the prospective buyer, and he felt, under his obligation to give fair treatment to all parties in the transaction, that he should inform prospect C, and that in so doing he was not violating his obligation to his client.

"The board concluded that Realtor B had acted properly under the spirit and the letter of the Code of Ethics. He was exonerated and commended."

Joy Riding

I went to ride one day with Jim
How pleasant to ride
My Jim beside.
[illegible]" he said.
I trusted him.

The car was new, the road
was straight,
And like a song
We flew along,
Our mph reached eighty-eight.

Oh that was simply glorious
Till a sudden curve
Compelled a swerve,
Since when life's been too dolorous.

I waked up in a hospital
But oh, my Jim waked not at all.
For he was dead
And I in bed
Since then a life of bitter gall.

[illegible] on a holiday
[illegible] can create
A [illegible] Fate
[illegible] that one will drag along.

[illegible] we must burn
Our roads with speed
Far greater than need,
For every road must somewhere turn.

Six-and-a-half-year-old Eddie discovers that there are three major candidates for the job as his father's mate — a blonde bombshell, a beautiful brunette and a vivacious redhead. Each contender has her own bag of tricks — and isn't afraid to use every one to gain her ends.

This story enabled producer Joe Pasternak and director Vincente Minnelli to appeal to every member of the family. The relationship of the motherless boy and his father is expected to tug at the heartstrings of all parents and parents-to-be.

Rotary News

As Reported By
Rev. John F. Mangrum and Bill Young, Secretary

A perplexing and stimulating program was offered to Rotary last week when Assistant Principal John Crittenden surveyed legislative measures before the Tallahassee assemblage as they affect education. In the process, John told us some facts about our own school system that stunned some of us with their blunt realities. What had seemed to be the easy job of administering a group of teachers, students, and buildings was revealed in its complexities, and we gained new appreciation for the hard decisions that must be made by Andy Miracle and Art Wilhite and by the speaker of the day.

Under the 1947 Florida Minimum Educations Foundation Program, established by law, there is a standard allotment of funds and personnel for each school system: 28 pupils per teacher, 180 days a year, and certified teachers. This is the goal that the legislature set for each county back 16 years ago. For those times, the goal was a good one. But Florida has had 110 per cent increase in its population which has produced increased demand for facilities. Nobody in 1947 dreamed that this would occur.

Operating under the minimum standards, the state now gives this county, for example, $3600 per year for each teacher with a degree. Our starting stipend is $4150 for such a person. This means that we must raise by our own means the extra cash to get good teachers. The key, said Mr. Crittenden, for any good program in school is the classroom teacher. And, he pointed out, when taxes and deductions are written out, no good teacher can maintain himself or his family on the wages paid.

We all know that teachers carry the heavy load of day-to-day relationship and training of our children. We make the administrative personnel the goal of all our particular complaints, gripes, and frustrations. When one hears a speaker tell of trying to staff a school at such paltry wages and still meet our stiff demands for understanding, knowledge, psychological expertise, cafeteria management, hygienic instruction, moral guidance, musical skill, athletic prowess, and the ability to be all things to all men, one realizes that we are making impossible demands for a frighteningly small salary. If all the parents and community leaders could hear just such a speech as John Crittenden gave us, we would heed his urging and back the plea that our school systems need more help. He particularly urged support for the 75-25 split on school construction financing now before the legislature. Above that, we can give all these good men and women our applause and gratitude, and our assurance that we want to see them adequately compensated for the most important work of raising up our children.

Visitors—V. L. Choate, guest of Franklyn Ward; Rev. Robbins Ralph, guest of Bill Tuttle; Phil Elrod, guest of Jim Turner.

AVON PARK LAKES NEWS

By Thelma L. Merrill Phone GL 3-6146

So many good wishes are made for Mother on Her day, they couldn't all be expressed, so we wish Her all Life's best.

"There is a garden in my heart
where happy memories grow
Of those who mean the most to me as seasons come and go,
And among the fairest flowers,
and the loveliest by far
Are the thoughts I cherish,
Mother, of how very dear you are!"

Thirty Association members enjoyed the card party on Tuesday night at the club house. Everyone shared Rex Beach's birthday cake. May we wish you every happiness for your birthday and for each day all year through. Mrs. Pearle Beach was hostess for the evening.

Remember the Association's "covered dish" dinner on Thursday, May 16 at 6 p. m. at the club house. Come and share a pleasant evening with friends and neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Luyben entertained 22 guests at a dessert bridge party on Saturday night. High scorers for the evening were Mr. Karl Swanson, Mr. Frank Harp and Mrs. Wm. Robbins and consolation prize to Mrs. Orville Castine.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coburn and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Huntington had a pleasant day in St. Petersburg on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanford spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Taylor in Winter Park. Mr. Jesse Carter returned to the Lakes with the Hanfords for a week's visit.

Ladies of the Women's Group of the Avon Park Lakes Association met on Thursday afternoon at the club house. Mrs. Pearle Beach, President, presided. Mrs. Al Diebold and Mrs. Lewis Rood, hostesses for the afternoon, served refreshments prior to the business meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wentworth are proud grandparents for the "twelfth" time. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Wentworth reside in Pasadena, California. The new granddaughter "evens-the-score," making six granddaughters and six grandsons. Congratulations!

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Spencer together with Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Moore were Sunday dinner guests of Ed and Marie Graton in their new home in Boca Raton. The Gratons wished to be remembered to their many friends at the Lakes and extended "welcome" to all.

"Gold Medals" should be awarded to the gentlemen at the Lakes who are donating their skills, time and labor in the planning and building of an addition to the Association's Club House. Those to be commended for their excellent services are Messrs. Al Schutt, Frank Harp, Orville Castine, Clarence Bue, Don Jameson, Walter Beach, Wm. Robbins and George Burroughs. The new room will be utilized for storage, utility room, and a lounge. In the fall, the Woman's Group of the Association will furnish the lounge. Thanks to everyone for their splendid efforts!

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Huntington, Mr. and Mrs. Al Diebold, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hurst and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Rood entertained 24 guests at a dessert pinochle party on Friday night at the club house. Mrs. J. Johnson won high score for the evening and consolation to Mr. John Bengel.

One of the first "brave" couples to move into the Avon Park Lakes development, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lynch, celebrated their 47th wedding anniversary last Saturday. The day started with a Mass offered for the intentions of the happy couple at Our Lady of Grace Church by Father Armand Gregoire, with several friends in attendance. After Mass, the Lynches, Father Gregoire and their friends proceeded to the Jacaranda Hotel for a festive breakfast. The table was beautifully decorated, by Mrs. Paul Romosa, with white gardenias and greenery, and the breakfast was excellent and very gay. The Lynches received many cards, congratulations and good wishes from their many friends and neighbors in this area. Happy days, folks!

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Owens of Cambridge Springs, Pennsylvania were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanford for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Owens of Cambridge Springs, Pennsylvania were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanford for several days.

"Aunt Dot" Merrill was high scorer at a dessert card party given by Mrs. Paul Erickson, Holly Shores, on Friday night.

Mr. George Barnes and Mr. and Mrs. Herb Slocum have a new granddaughter, and Mrs. Elizabeth Winkler a new great niece. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Slocum, reside in Atlanta, Georgia. Congratulations to all!

The dinner party at Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Carlisle's on Saturday night was in celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lynch's anniversary and Mrs. Carlisle's birthday. Happy birthday, Vi.

Patriots Chapter of DAR enjoyed a lovely "salad bar" luncheon meeting at the Avon Park Lakes Association Club House on Monday. Mrs. A. M. Luyben, Chapter Regent, was hostess and co-hostesses were Mrs. H. O. Jones, Mrs. E. J. Nickerson, Mrs. W. S. Vorous and Thelma Merrill. Other ladies from the Lakes attending the luncheon were Mrs. Clarence Bue, Mrs. Elmer Hurst, and Mrs. Al Schutt.

Miss Bertha Desautels, Mrs. Maude Bedard and Mrs. Al Diebold met Mrs. Agnes Sturdevant at the Tampa Airport on Tuesday. Mrs. Sturdevant just returned to the Lakes after visiting for several months with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sturdevant, in Lancaster, California. Welcome home!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Memories in the Making

A picture . . . a frame . . . to treasure always. So she believes!

The fleeting baby smile, the outgrown pair of baby shoes—these she'll always treasure.

But in later years not every mother can point with pride to her son's baby picture. Memories sometimes become tarnished with remorse.

So much depends on us.

If we hope always to treasure our glimpse of yesterday . . . we must carve with spiritual tools our vision of tomorrow.

Hospital Drive Hits High Gear Pace

Luncheon Held To Discuss Progress

In an atmosphere of determination to secure adequate hospital facilities for the Ridge Area, some 50 business and professional men and women met at luncheon Monday noon in the Walker Memorial Hospital to discuss the progress and plans of the current hospital expansion program.

Under the chairmanship of Father John F. Mangrum a general discussion of the importance, needs and value of the added hospital facilities emphasized a united front in the effort to secure funds with which to equip and furnish the new unit of the Walker Memorial Hospital. This group represented the civic, commercial and patriotic organizations from throughout Highlands County. "Hospitals are not in competition with each other," commented Father Mangrum. "Rather they are a vital and integral part of our community life."

"Recognizing the need for monies to equip and furnish the new Unit the officers and directors of the Avon Park Chamber of Commerce assumed the responsibility for seeking the needed finances," pointed out George Border, President of the Chamber. He emphasized the dollar and cent value of the hospital and compared the $100,000.00 for equipment with the $400,000.00 cost of the new unit which is being paid for by the Seventh-day Adventists. Decision On Dissolution Of High School PTA Due Thursday

The decision of whether to continue or dissolve the Avon Park High School Parents-Teachers Association will be made at a special meeting of that organization called for Thursday, May 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. All members of the association have been notified in writing of the meeting and have been urged to attend.

The question of dissolution has arisen because of apathy on the part of both teachers and parents. Attendance at the quarterly meetings has been light and sporadic for the past two years. A nominating committee appointed to select officers for the coming year, announced at the April meeting that they were unable to obtain the consent of any member to serve as an officer.

Of 60 questionnaires sent out last week asking for opinions on continuation, projects, and suggestions for improvement, only one reply had been received at press time.

"It seems that we have been trying to keep PTA going for several years as a means of communication between parents and teachers, when the parents have no desire to communicate," one teacher stated at the April meeting.

Franklyn Ward, current president, in his letter to the membership, called attention to the projects brought about in the past by PTA. These include the PTA Scholarship, sponsorship of the Christmas band and glee club concerts, sponsorship and underwriting of the Senior Breakfast and many others. "There is still need for an active PTA," Ward stated.

Open discussion on the question of dissolution will be held before the vote to dissolve is presented. tI is hoped that many members will be present in order that the decision reached will be representative of the majority opinion.

Voter Checking In Avon Park Progressing

Voter registration checking in Avon Park is moving into high gear this week. Supervisor Roland X. Droit said installation of a phone has been completed, and the task of checking names and addresses can move ahead.

The county-wide checking began early this month, and so far most of the work on one precinct, the 18th, has been completed.

Mrs. Droit said 150 to 160 postcards had been mailed to voters in the 18th who have not been contacted by other means. The 18th is principally a rural precinct in the De-Soto City area.

Warning

The City Council is advising that at the time of fires in the city, all spectators must not interfere with the Firemen. All spectators are warned to remain 500 feet away from any fire, and automobiles 1000 feet. Hydrants must not be blocked by cars.

Tallahassee Tattletale

By Jennie Reninger

Reading the Tattletale I'm sure you folks must wonder whether I know beans about legislation? "I do." Every morning I read both Journal of House and Senate from cover to cover. Any bill introduced by Representative Smoak of Charlotte, Adams of Highlands or Senator Davis of District 40, is clipped and pasted into a Docket Book which I post daily. At a moment's notice I can tell you the present statis of each Bill and trace its trials and tribulations since introduction. I could write literally reams about bills but you wouldn't read it and I wouldn't either if I didn't have to. By the time this gets into print everything will be all different, but here is the approximate score as of a week ago:

Representative Adams has introduced 12 bills and co-sponsored 6. Four have passed; the rest are wending their way through committees.

Representative Smoak has introduced 15 bills and co-sponsored 13. Eleven have passed; the rest are on the Calendar or in committee.

Senator Davis has introduced three bills and co-sponsored 11. All local bills have been introduced in the House. There are daily conferences between your three legislators, with the result that bills breeze through the Senate without a hitch. All we need now is twice as much time, three times as much money and some way of getting them without a Special Session or higher taxes.

Even politics has its pleasant surprises. Bill Bowen is my bright spot in Tallahassee. As a member of the news staff of TV Station WCTV here in the Capital, Bill has gone far beyond the line of duty in his loyalty to his hometown Senator. Seldom does a shot of the Senate Chamber appear, but what the camera lingers awhile at a certain seat in the left hand corner of the back row. Thanks to Bill, Senator Davis has been interviewed on TV more times than many veteran legislators. For this, and many other courtesies—such as escorting two middle-aged secretaries—we love and salute the irrepressible Bill Bowen.

Jada Dolcater, Frank Smoak's secretary, invited us to a "come bring your own lunch" picnic held in an airconditioned Senate Hearing room if you please. Our potato salad and fried chicken were store bought and we ate it seated in leather upholstered chairs at a highly polished conference table. The women and conversation were interesting—but I did miss the sunshine and ants.

County Receives Race Track Fund

Tallahassee — State Comptroller Ray E. Green said each of Florida's 67 counties will receive $34,000 more from the race track tax fund.

The Comptroller said checks were put in the mail and that the payment is $3,000 more than the counties received for the same month last year.

Each county has received a total of $193,000 for the current fiscal period, or $8,500 more than they received for the same period last year. Two more checks will be mailed to the counties before the end of the fiscal year, he said.

Criminal Court Calendar In For Long Summer

[illegible] may be in for a [illegible] summer. The [illegible] from the Gideon vs Wainwright decision by U. S. Supreme Court [illegible] with the lower courts [illegible] ing the 10th Judicial Circuit of Florida.

The Circuit Court office in Highlands County has received six or seven motions to vacate previous court decisions.

According to the Federal Court, all defendants have a right to legal counsel, and throughout the country, prisoners are petitioning for decisions to be set aside on the grounds, that no legal counsel was provided.

Florida has not, up to now, provided that defendants must have counsel except in capital cases. When the Gideon vs Wainwright decision was pending last fall, the judges of this circuit agreed that defense attorneys would be appointed in many more cases.

But even that precaution was perhaps not sufficient. One of the petitions for redress was filed by a man who had waived an offer of legal assistance when he was brought into Circuit Court here. Records that show that a waiver was signed before a plea was entered.

Resident Circuit Judge Clifton Kelly said no rulings have been made on this or any of the other half-dozen petitions.

"All cases are being referred to the State Attorney who is to investigate the allegations and advise the court," Judge Kelly said.

A bill now in process at the Florida Legislature provides for establishing a public defender position throughout the state.

When the U. S. Supreme Court handed down its decision no limits were placed on the application of the principle, so some of the cases now coming up for review are far from new.

Mrs. Vera Bowers, deputy clerk of the Circuit Court in this county, said "right off hand" she recalled some of the cases now under study had been dated 1959 and 1960.

Judge Kelly said the new ruling and the resulting petitions were much discussed at the recent Florida Bar Association convention in Miami Beach. He said courts from all over the country and certainly in Florida, are facing a "long hot Summer."

Class "A" State High Tourney Starts Today

[illegible]

Coach Billy Bennett brings his Palatka Maroons back with two hot sophomore pitchers who both saw action last year in the state meet as freshmen. Bobby Mangum set a 6-1 record this year and teammate Charlie Payne is undefeated with five wins. The Maroons had a 15-1 season record.

The Dunedin Falcons will bring the pitcher with the hottest record to the tournament in Charlie Littlejohn who posted an 11-1 mound record for the season. Littlejohn won all but four of the Falcons' games as the Dunedin nine set a 15-1 season record also. Chick Pollock, former Wauchula High coach, will be in charge of the Dunedin team when they make their try for the state title.

Some local fans got a look at the Miami Christopher Columbus Knights last Friday when they defeated Sebring in the Region 4 play-off in Sebring. Coached by Pete Aiello, the Knights bring a 13-6 record to the tourney. Righthander Dave McCammon is the big gun on the mound for the Miami team with a record of nine wins and four losses. McCammon has a 1.5 earned run average for the season.

Officials for the Class A meet will be Edward H. Boell of West Palm Beach, Umpire in Chief, and base umpires Ross H Belbeck of Winter Park and Aubine L. Batts, Jr. of Orlando.

The state activities office announced that no refunds will be made on tickets bought for the tournament since rain checks will be given to be used at make-up games should that be necessary. Admission prices will be $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for students on both nights.

Local organizations, under the direction of tournament managers Joe Franza and Guy Garrett, are all set to provide the necessary work to make the state meet successful again this year.

Home Economist On The Go

by Patricia G. Hurley

I was in Tallahassee last week for five full days of concentrated study in consumer [illegible]. This subject is receiving much emphasis these days. Actually, Home Economists have been teaching this for many years. Are you a wise buyer? What should you consider before buying clothes, household goods, food, etc. This is consumer information, and all of us are consumers.

Consumer information is included in most of the programs of the Home Demonstration Clubs. For instance, this month's topic is "Selecting and Using Pictures for Your Home." During the program at the Avon Park Junior Club, Mrs. Jeannie Belle Spu[illegible]ck, Mrs. Annie Harrison, Mrs. Ammyce Jean Kimbrough, and Mrs. Harriet King joined in the discussion of what to consider when buying a picture.

Certainly a person should enjoy looking at a picture they are considering. Perhaps they like the subject matter, color or line movement. Modern abstract paintings do not have subject matter, but they definitely have color and line movement which you might like.

Wall decorations may be many things, not just pictures. For variety, try using trays, platters, plaques of brass or chipped marbles, sconces holding figurines, or a beautiful fabric.

The Venus Home Demonstration Club had a successful community auction Friday night, May 3. Mr. Robert Hall did a fine job of auctioneering, assisted by Mrs. V. T. Oxer, club president.

Avon Park Sun Is Award Winner

In recognition of work for the cause of mental retardation, the Avon Park Sun was awarded a certificate of Meritorious Service by the Florida Council for Retarded Children at the state conference in Gainesville, Saturday, May 4. Mrs. Samuel A. King, President of the Ridge Area Association for Retarded Children accepted the awards in the name of Jack Flaggert for the Avon Park Sun, and for Earl Wells, former editor of the Sun. Mrs King presented the awards in the Sun office, Tuesday, May 7.

A total of 23 awards were made to newspapers, editors, radio stations and television stations throughout the state of Florida in recognition of services over and above the normal recording of meetings and routine business. Those communication media which have made unusual effort to inform the reading and listening public of the problems of mental retardation and its possible solutions — those which have demonstrated that RETARDED CHILDREN CAN BE HELPED — were so recognized.

the boy who couldn't take it

Once there was a mother who had a normal, healthy boy. And he liked to do the things that normal, healthy boys like to do.

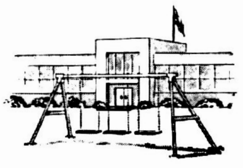
But, for a long while, Mother couldn't take it. She kept saying, "DON'T Bobby — you'll hurt yourself!"

Then one day, as she passed the playground, she marveled at a bold youngster's feats on the horizontal ladder. And, coming closer, she discovered it was Bobby!

Now she has more confidence in her son . . . and better understands his confidence in himself.

Sound religious training begins with confidence and understanding. In churches of our community youthful eagerness is directed toward right motives, high ideals, clean activities. Moral and spiritual conviction begin to supersede daring and pride as incentives for action.

Your child already has faith in himself. Through the Church's guidance and your example this rudimentary faith can be enriched and tempered by faith in God.



THE CHURCH FOR ALL · ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

IN FLORIDA

BEER IS A NATURAL

As natural as the wholesome grains and tangy hops from which it is brewed, beer is Florida's traditional beverage of moderation ... light, sparkling, delicious.

And naturally, Florida's Brewing Industry is proud to be a major purchaser of Florida products and raw materials. For example, the Brewing Industry is responsible for millions of dollars paid annually to Florida farmers for pulpwood to be made into cardboard boxes and cartons. Millions more are spent for other Florida materials and services. In Florida, beer belongs ... enjoy it.

[illegible] Walker Memorial Hospital [illegible] National Hospital Week, May 12 [illegible]

[illegible]

The hospital [illegible] is a [illegible] located in a small city, Mr. [illegible] patient [illegible] specialized [illegible] hospital care [illegible] trained personnel.

[illegible] of the hospital dollar [illegible] cents goes for professional care of patients, 12.7 cents for household and property, 11.2 cents for administration, 11.1 cents for dietary, and 8.6 cents for other items.

For every hospital patient, there are nearly two and a half employees, and for every physician practicing in the hospital, seven employees assist him, Mr. Lynd said.

Since the opening date of Walker Memorial Hospital on January 6, 1948, 27,175 persons have been admitted to the hospital. There have been 4,402 babies born at Walker Memorial Hospital as of this same period which would make up the population of a good-sized town.

Hospitals offer many career opportunities for persons of all types: those with a sense of business, those with a desire to help their fellow man, those who work well with people, those who enjoy housekeeping and those who are interested in dietetics, etc.

The opportunity in a hospital is a unique one: a chance for a young person to do what he likes and does best, and at the same time contribute to the well being of his community.

"We in the hospital field hope that every young person leaving high school will consider the career opportunities in the hospital field. The need for trained personnel is great. All hospitals, regardless of size, are constantly striving to add the new skills required for the new roads to recovery. At the same time, they are striving to provide security and recognition to those whose hands and skills give patient care. As a result, by far the major portion of hospital income goes to payroll, and this accounts for the major portion of the increase in hospital costs," Mr. Lynd said.

Hospital care must always be primarily a personal service. In some areas, behind the scenes, hospitals can and do apply the techniques of the production line. But at the patient's side, science and skill are geared only to human need.

Many hands and many skills are needed for today's hospital care and the youth of every community have the opportunity of considering a career in the hospital field.

School Tennis Tournaments In Planning Stage

At a meeting held at the Avon Park High School auditorium, 16 boys and four girls expressed interest in entering the proposed city tennis tournament for students of high school age and under. Two of the boys were junior high school students.

Under the circumstances, it was considered impractical to have a girls' tournament unless at least four more girls can be signed up. Judy Wester, Sandy Biggs, Ann Barben and Patsy Martin were therefore asked to see whether they could find four more entrants. If they can, a girls' singles tournament and possibly a mixed doubles tournament can be arranged for them.

It was also considered impractical to set up a separate category for boys below high school age, and therefore all 16 boys were entered in a boys' singles and a boys' doubles tournament. Drawings for first round matches in the boys' tourneys were then held, and first round play has begun.

The drawings: Singles — Robin Duggan vs Wolfgang Halbig; G. L. Townsend vs Bill Ward; Mike Duggan vs Dick "Yankee" Humphries; Andy Miracle vs Jeff Childers; Al Yarbrough vs Bobby Barben; Eddie Bates vs Billy Miracle; Royal Coats vs Don Collyer; and John Rodgers vs Jim Rodgers. (The Rodgers boys are brothers, but it was the luck of the drawing that set them up as opponents.)

Doubles — Yarbrough and Coats vs Andy Miracle and Robin Duggan; John Rodgers and Childers vs Billy Miracle and Mike Duggan; Humphries and Townsend vs Collyer and Ward; Halbig and Bates vs Barben and Jim Rodgers.

A double-elimination tournament was agreed upon. No one will be eliminated until he has lost twice. A match will consist of the best three of five sets. An umpire will be present at all matches, to decide disputed points. Unless otherwise agreed, a match will be played in a single session, weather permitting. First round matches are to be completed by May 27, the players selecting their own times for play.

The public is invited to come out and see the matches, without charge.

Our Feathered Friends

BY THE BIRD WOMAN

THE EXOTIC PELICAN

Any bird that we might select and analyze thoroughly would be found to be both exotic and amazing, but some birds give us much entertainment and food for thought by simply watching them at a distance.

The pelican family belongs in this category, and although there are eight species and four additional forms, the one that is native to our area is the brown pelican. There is another specie of the brown pelican on the Pacific coast.

The beautiful white pelican, the largest of our water birds, winters with us, but when spring comes it migrates diagonally across the country to the north western part of the U. S. Although closely related, these birds are very different in their habits. The white pelican wades in fresh water and catches its food by scooping it up in shallow water. Sometimes it gangs up with other pelicans, and the birds form a circle in the water, flap the water with their wings, and drive the fish into more shallow water where they are more easily caught.

We are often amazed at children from the same family, having different dispositions and likes and dislikes, but we find this to be true in the bird world, pelicans being a good example.

The brown pelican prefers the salt water and the fish that live in salt water, and its method of procuring its food is quite different also.

While it is a large bird, averaging from seven to 11 pounds, and often having a wing spread of nearly seven feet, it dives for its food from a height of from 20 to 50 feet in the air, coming down naturally with a big splash but never missing its prey.

Its bill is from nine to 13 inches long, and beneath the bill is a pouch which has the ability to expand to a size which will hold three gallons of water.

This is one of the exotic things about the pelican, and it is a carry all for fish and also useful in scooping up food from the water. It is almost uncanny to watch the young pelican getting its food, for it pokes its head out of sight into the pouch and helps itself to the store of food that has been provided for that purpose.

We can readily see that it takes many dives, each yielding one fish, to provide for this bird and to help keep the insatible appetites of the young under control.

So our wonderful Creator equipped the pelican with air sacs under the skin which act as pneumatic pads when the bird strikes the water; they have been so placed that they absorb the shock when it hits the water from such a height.

A few other birds have some air sacs, especially those of long flight and some such as the grebe which lives mainly on water and must dive to obtain food.

During the war when food had to be conserved many people turned to fish as a cheap, and easily obtainable food; when they saw the pelican fishing also, they made war on some of the rookeries and killed many of the birds.

The Federal Food Administration made an investigation and found that at that time there were 65,000 pelicans on the 1,500 mile coast line between Key West and the mouth of the Rio Grande on the Mexican border.

But further investigation showed that they just ate fish that were not edible for man. But occasionally since, the subject has been revived, but investigation has always vindicated the pelican. It was also learned that the droppings of the birds fertilized the vegetation at the bottom of the water, and this attracted more fish than had previously been in that area.

The white pelicans are not as numerous as the brown, and whether migration has anything to do with it or not is problematical. Many men and boys think it great sport to shoot at a moving target, even though the pelican is not edible for man.

We think that, over all, the pelican is one of our most exotic birds and that they are certainly a tourist attraction along the coasts.

What To Look For In Lumber

Many home improvement [illegible] some use of [illegible] To a large extent, the [illegible] and satisfaction of the [illegible] are determined by [illegible] wisely lumber is specified and applied. Here are [illegible] suggestions from the Southern Pine Association on what to look for in lumber and the right kind for specific uses.

Since your charges are based on the board foot, you must have full sizes to be assured of full value. For this and other reasons, you should specify lumber that's "pre-shrunk" by proper seasoning before being surfaced to final dimensions.

Whether you're undertaking an ambitious project, such as enclosure of a porch, or a simple job, like erecting shelves, well seasoned lumber is essential. It has the stability and uniformity of size to match the measurements in your blueprint and helps you perform the work with confidence and precision.

Properly seasoned lumber offers [illegible] that [illegible] good [illegible] [illegible] with. Proper seasoning and [illegible] increase the nail holding power [illegible]

It's impossible to place too much stress on the importance of lumber with nail holding ability. This is the quality that keeps structure tight and surfaces snug.

If your project requires structural lumber strength should be an important consideration in the choice of species. The identities of the stronger species are well known to your retail dealer. It's also important to have a proper grade. Here again, the dealer is a source of good counsel.

"Finish" is a term for decorative lumber, such as wood paneling, siding and trim. In the choice of these items, high resistance to wear is a major consideration along with proper seasoning.

If the lumber has natural resistance to wear, and if it's properly seasoned, wood paneled walls will have permanent character and artificial coating will last indefinitely.

When lumber is used close to the ground or under conditions of constant, severe weather exposure, it should be pressure treated with chemical preservatives. Such [illegible] are toxic to termites. [illegible] treatment is not essential for wood siding, which [illegible] to only an occasion[al] wetting.

The retail dealer can be helpful in many different ways. When furnished a rough sketch of your project, complete with measurements, he [can] accurately determine your lumber requirement. Many dealers have complete home improvement departments, offering materials, contracting and financing in a convenient package.

935-11

Unexpected 'Plus' In Low Cost Home

A [illegible] masonry slab house which can be built on a [illegible] ft. wide level lot for about [illegible] of interest not only [illegible] citizens but also to the young couple because [illegible] financing is easy, (b) upkeep and maintenance reasonable, and (c) resale favorable.

Home 935-11 incorporates [illegible] customarily expected in higher priced [illegible] For example, there is [illegible] light and large living-dining room with raised corners [illegible] (FP), a lunch counter accessible from two sides, an extra large screened porch with [illegible] (B), and double closets (C) in each bedroom. And, for the sake of privacy, there is no major side window toward the neighbors whose windows may not be over 12 to [illegible] ft. away. Like "good fences," a "no-side-window" [illegible] makes good neighbors.

The carporte (which could be [enclo]sed into a garage) is handy to the front door and to the ser[vice] door. The 3-ft.-wide jalousie front door leads into a 4x4 hall and faces the floor-[to-]ceiling bifold doors of the 48" coat closet (C).

The two basic dimensions of the L shaped living-dining room are marked on the plan. On the street side this room has a series of three 3-ft.-wide windows, while toward the rear (the porch) there are a 6-ft. wide sliding door, a 3-ft.-wide jalousie window, and 30-inch-wide jalousie door. A 16-ft. long continuous through of indirect light is mounted right above these doors and windows and gives a dramatic touch to the 9½-ft. high sloping ceiling.

The corner fireplace (FP), which has a decorative masonry hood over it, is visible not only from all parts of the living-dining room but also from the kitchen.

The dining table (shown dotted on plan) is handy to the kitchen. It has a double connection with the kitchen (a) by a sliding [or] folding door (see arrow on plan), and (b) by a 4½-ft.-wide service window. Incidentally, this service window is located over a lunch counter (with storage space underneath it) and [its] height is such that a regular dining chair could be used. (Note on the plan that one of the four dining chairs faces the counter.) Above this lunch counter are cabinets with translucent plastic doors which, again, are openable from both sides. There is a psychological advantage which ought to be mentioned here, because of the door and the serving window, the homemaker feels a part of the entire living-dining area instead of being "cooped up" in the 7½' x 10½' kitchen.

There is an additional "plus" connected with this kitchen which a gourmet family may particularly appreciate. It is the through-going work counter with double sink (S) on the kitchen side and the barbecue pit (B) on the porch side. The "up & down" window over the sink acts as a serving window here. There is another window in this kitchen located between the range (R) and the refrigerator (RF) located below the wall cabinets (shown dotted on plan) to light the work counter.

The "collecting" family that is one which does not part readily with old magazines, furniture, etc.—will welcome the 9½'x6' storage room wedged between the kitchen and the carporte. The hot water heater is located here (see doted circle) as well as the laundry appliances (LN) which are handy to the jalousie door and the clothes lines.

The construction of home 935-11 consists of 8"-thick blocks for exterior of the house finished in stucco and all interiors in plaster. The roof calls for solid wood deck topped with build-up roofing and white marble chips. The underside of this wooden roof is left exposed and stained. The 4" 935-11 sheet 3 of 3 thick concrete floor slap has terrazzo or cork tile finish. The house is heated by electric "baseboard" units mounted along the exterior walls. If a forced hot air heating system is preferred, then the furnace should be located in the storage room and ducts placed below the floor slab.

Still another way of heating this room would be a dual wall heater (H) installed in the bedroom hall partition, in which case no other ducts or registers would be needed.

Plans for home 935-11 were prepared by architect Jan Reiner, 1000-52 St. N., St. Petersburg, Fla.; Florida Homes magazine featuring Mr. Reiner's designs is available on the newsstands or by mailing $1 to same address.

DAR Luncheon Held At Avon Park Lakes

Members of the Patriots Chapter of DAR enjoyed a "Salad Bar" luncheon on Monday at the Avon Lakes Association Club House.

The business meeting followed the delicious luncheon. Mrs. A. M. Luyben, Chapter Regent, called for annual reports from all Chapter Committee Chairmen.

Mrs. W. H. Mather was delegate to the National DAR convention in Washington, D. C. in April. The Patriots Chapter was awarded the Gold Honor Roll Certificate, and as representative of the Patriots Chapter, Mrs Mather accepted the Certificate for the Chapter.

The tables and the club house were beautifully decorated.

Mrs. A. M. Luyben was hostess for the afternoon and co-hostesses were Mrs. H. O. Jones, Mrs. E. J. Nickerson, Mrs. W. S. Vorous, and Thelma Merrill.

Open House At MacDill

MacDill Air Force Base has announced that a full day of programs have been scheduled for the Armed Forces Day Open House, May 18.

MacDill's men and planes will demonstrate the aerial capabilities of Tactical Air Command's new supersonic aircraft.

All gates will be open to the public at 9 a. m. and the opening event will be a jump by Army Skydivers at 10 a. m. The team from Ft. Bragg, N. C., will drop on the base from an altitude of more than two miles.

Highlight of the afternoon will be an aerial demonstration involving the F4-B Phantom II. The Phantom II, capable of flying at more than 75,000 feet, will demonstrate its high performance twin afterburner takeoff and rapid climb capability.

Hospital Week Marks Progress In Medicine

This year about 600,000 people will discover that a quiet revolution has taken place in Florida.

These men and women will be admitted as patients into one or another of this state's 160 hospitals. And in all of these institutions, they'll find in daily use techniques and equipment undreamed of only a generation ago.

This week (beginning Sunday, May 12) the state observes National Hospital Week to salute those whose efforts have developed institutional medicine to its present efficiency and who work toward the improved hospital of the future.

Authorities point to developments such as:

*Shortening of the average stay in U S hospitals from 14 days in 1900 to 8 days in 1962.

*Development of a host of new products including electronic devices that automatically dispense medicine and give continuous readings on blood pressure, pulse, respiration and temperature.

*Tripling of the use of therapy oxygen since World War II.

*Widespread use of new cost-cutting disposable products from needles and syringes to bedpans and oxygen masks.

A guide path for future innovation is provided by the progress of oxygen therapy from a World War I curiosity to its present indispensable role in treatment of respiratory and circulatory difficulties, reports Chemetron Corporation, a leading producer of medical oxygen and inhalation therapy equipment.

Oxygen use in hospitals has tripled since World War II and is still climbing by 10 per cent a year, according to Chemetron.

Medical and engineering researchers have worked together to broaden application of this vital therapy while at the same time reducing its cost to hospital authorities and, ultimately, the patient.

Chemetron lists these developments:

*Labor-saving piping systems have done away with clumsy and psychologically disturbing cylinders in operating, recovery and patients' rooms.

*Central supply systems—some containing huge amounts of oxygen in liquified form—save space and reduce storage expense.

*Comfortable single-use ogygen masks have raised sanitary standards, yet cost less than cleaning a re-usable product.

Public Invited To Attend Armed Force Day

Air to air combat, more commonly known as "dog fighting," between jet fighters of the Tactical Air Command's supersonic family of aircraft will take place over MacDill Air Force Base May 18, Armed Forces Day.

In a demonstration of TAC's ability to cope with limited as well as all out war, jet fighter-bombers will make low level strafing and bombing passes.

The world's fastest operational fighter, the F-4B (Phantom II) will demonstrate its versatility by performing a dual afterburner takeoff and climb to over 50,000 feet. Capable of performing at twice the speed of sound, the Phantom II is also able to fly as slow as propellor driven aircraft.

The public is invited to the Armed Forces Day activities. MacDill's gates will be open 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Florida Income Tax Returns Up

A 15 per cent gain in the number of income tax returns filed in Washington from Florida during the past five years, points up the state's growth, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday in its Weekly Business Review.

"In 1962 there was a total of 2,672,000 returns filed from the state. This figure was 341,000 more than five years previously," the Review said.

"The count of returns filed by individuals came to 1,612,000, up 16 per cent during the period. Declarations of estimated tax numbered 203,000, slightly above the 1958 figure.

"Corporations showed a 45 per cent increase in number and stood at 50,000 last year. Partnerships totaled 24,000, down 7 per cent during the five years.

"Filings for various types of employment taxes came to 663,000, a 16 per cent increase over 1958. The balance of the total returns were for estate, gift and excise taxes and numbered 120,000.

"Although there are duplications in the total figure since different types of returns may be filed by one corporation or individual, the general upward trend shows an expansion of the state's economy," the Review concluded.

Mrs. S. C. Chamberlain Celebrates 90th Birthday, Saturday, May 11

Mrs. S. G. Chamberlain observed her 90th birthday at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Chamberlain, 12 N. DeSoto Avenue, on Saturday, May 11.

Open house was held Saturday afternoon when friends were invited to call between the hours of 3 to 5 o'clock. The honoree received many beautiful arrangements of flowers from her relatives and friends, which decorated the home during the party. She was also showered with cards and many congratulatory messages on this memorable occasion.

Mrs. Claude Chamberlain was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Calvin Mason, and daughter, Miss Pamela Mason, with the hospitalities during the afternoon.

A lovely hand-made lace cloth covered the refreshment table which was centered with the birthday cake. Punch was served with the cake, nuts and mints. All table appointments were of crystal.

Mrs. Chamberlain has made annual visits to Avon Park since her children moved here more than five years ago. She will be leaving this week to return to Leavenworth, Kansas where she will spend the summer with her daughter and family.

On a Florida Beach

A Meditation

The multitudinous sands in purple distance fade away.
Up and down the warm sea-scented beach
Stroll men and women scantily clad.
Slender firm-muscled youths, cigarette in lips,
Toy with ear-burned maidens.
Fat women and rotund men placidly sit on
House steps facing the deep blue sea,
Or tip-toe down to the curling water's edge,
Where wavelets beat against their knees.
Mimic combat there they wage with
Valorous shouting and vain splashing
Against a power that could in one great
Smothering rush sweep maidens, youths, fat
Women and rotund men, and houses too,
Built upon the shifting sands, all
To irretrievable destruction.

Here, strolling, musing day by day
Up and down the perfumed shore
Among those placid women and old men,
Rejuvenating by the summer sea,
Among those careless youths and maidens gay,
Toying with a power so mild, yet
In anger relentless and terrible,
I think of Byron sitting by the Grecian Sea
And penning these immortal lines:

"Roll on, thou deep and dark blue ocean, roll!
Ten thousand fleets sweep over thee in vain;
Man marks the earth with ruin, - his control
Stops with the shore. Upon the watery plain
The wrecks are all thy deed, nor doth remain
A shadow of man's ravage save his own,
When like a drop of rain . . . .
He sinks into thy depths with bubbling groan,
Without a grave, unknell'd, uncoffin'd, and unknown."

best investments we can make," declared the President.

Mayor F. A. DeLaney, of Avon Park and chairman of the expansion campaign, projected his statement into the future. He compared Avon Park with other forward looking cities and said that Avon Park must give direction to the growth and development that is just ahead.

The organization plans for the campaign include five Divisions, each of which will operate under the same general plan, pointed out by John W. Wright, hospital Committee Chairman. He told the group that these organizations are nearly complete and making final plans for the solicitation period beginning next week. The Women's Division under the General Chairmanship of Mrs. R. S. Reaves is the largest and will include many workers. The Junior Woman's Club of which Mrs. Reaves is the President has adopted this division of the campaign as their project. "We appreciate this fine interest on the part of the Club for their helpful cooperation," stated Mr. Wright. He asked for continued interest and the sacrifice of the necessary time to finish this important work during the next three weeks.

Robert J. Barben and Roy E. Seims Co-Chairmen of the Memorial and Special Gifts Division told the group that they were encouraged over the cordial response received from a number of the larger individuals and firms. They expect to make a substantial report at the meeting launching the intensive campaign.

Father Mangrum concluded the conference with a plea for close cooperation of all organizations and the business and professional interests of Highlands County, stating that this is one of the most important efforts to be made this year.

Dear Sirs:

At our meeting of the Women's Group of Avon Park Lakes, Assoc., we voted a token gift of $50.00 toward the Walker Memorial Hospital Expansion Program. It is our hope in the fall to make another gift. We shall use whatever influence we may have to encourage individual gifts in our area. Kiwanis Club Meeting

Tuesday the Kiwanis had as guest speaker Robert Yaukey, Lakeland City Manager.

Tuesday noon all members and guests were present at the Kiwanis Club meeting and luncheon.

The meeting was opened by Henry Cafe who introduced the visitor. Jack McC[illegible] introduced the speaker Robert Yaukey, who is Lakeland City Manager.

Yaukey spoke on Council management of local government and how it was started.

In the 1900's towns and cities had no council or city managers. The police, firemen or mayor usually made the decisions of the town. They had no water or sewage problems, because the people had their own wells etc., and it was their problem. As time went on the governments of the towns received more authority and people started to find defects in local government. Then the city officials were beginning to be elected. More and more cities started to adopt the council management plan. This year, more than 1800 cities have the plan into effect and foreign countries are beginning to adopt the management plan.

The council acts as a group to see that the public is kept informed on what is being done in the city.

At the closing of the meeting, the speaker gave time for anyone to ask questions concerning the management of local governments.
