

Highlands In Comptroller's Tax Garner

State Comptroller Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr., announced that the state documentary stamp tax garnered Florida $1,770,597 for September. Dickinson noted the total represented a dollar value on the 6,910,807 stamps sold of $6,249,675.

September collections were down $64,321 from total revenues for the same month last year.

Dickinson said a breakdown of the total indicated that $1,706,102 was collected from in-state sales made in Florida's 67 counties. An additional $4,695 was recorded in out-of-state sales, he said.

The collections—deposited in the general revenue fund—represent payments on deeds, stocks and bonds, and written obligations to pay money, such as notes and contracts.

In the breakdown as listed by counties, Highlands had recorded $6,496.50 in its favor.

The G. F. Wards Leave For NARC In Kansas City

Mr. and Mrs. G. Franklin Ward left by plane Tuesday for Kansas City, Mo., to attend the 17th annual convention of the National Association for Retarded Children. Mr. Ward is vice president for the Southeast Region of NARC and Mrs. Ward is president of the Florida Association for Retarded Children. They will return Sunday.

Mrs. Hubert Humphrey, wife of the vice president, and Inger Stevens, Hollywood starlet, will be the honored guests and speakers at the convention. Mrs. Humphrey is the grandmother of a retarded child and has been active in the work of the NARC. Mrs. Stevens was recently honored by the California Association for Retarded Children for her work publicizing the needs of the retarded.

Delegates from every part of the country, representing the 1,100 state and local units of the NARC will attend this convention.

Vital issues on the agenda is a change in the name of the National Association for Retarded Children. Since retarded children grow into retarded employable adults and NARC serves all of the mentally retarded, concern has grown that the name does not clearly reflect the basic purpose of the organization.

Research scientist in mental retardation from all parts of the United States will vent on new means and methods of prevention and treatment.

Grange Plans For Organizing

We're coming close to old Halloween and nights are getting cooler. It's nice to get out and do things, makes one feel young and peppy.
I've not made a night of it at Nick Christy's SUNDOWN RESTAURANT in Winter Haven. Guess I'll have one of those real delicious Kansas City steaks with all the trimmings, feel real happy. I'll enjoy my after dinner drink in the Chase Lounge while watching Tony and Jane Mark doing their act. They just got back from Las Vegas. Real good, go up tonight and see them.
After my daily chores are done tomorrow, I'm going to trapse up to see Frank Wiesner at the EL CID LOUNGE in Ft. Meade. Haven't caught the Go-Go Girl act in some time. Good drink, Frank.
My daughter's favorite food is LOBSTER and I plan to take her to the TOWER VIEW RESTAURANT in Lake Wales, where they are featuring all the lobster you can eat for only $3.25 per person. This is a one time she can have her fill—lobster lovers—the last call is out, only this week left for the lobster special. Scrumptious what?
Just east of Cypress Gardens on Highway 540, the Junes are serving delicious inexpensive meals at THE GOLDEN BELL RESTAURANT. I was in a rush, the last time I was by, so had a delicious pepperoni pizza—this is it, kids.
It has been a while since I stopped in to see Mr. Hunt at the HIGHLANDER RESTAURANT in Lake Wales, those fabulous Sunday buffet dinners are real delicious and are comparable to those found in Miami, Chicago and New York.
For gourmet dining stop by George's COPPERTOP on Hwy 27 in Lake Wales and enjoy a leisurely dinner while listening to Johnny Kragan's inimitable music. Have your favorite beverage served in frosted crystal glasses before dinner in the Lounge by Don or Jimmy at the bar.
For Italian specialties, stop by at CLAYTON'S, just south of the shopping center in Sebring. One of my favorite's is Veal Scallopini Pizzio with mushrooms—doesn't that make your mouth water? Char-broiled steaks are also one of their popular entrees.
SPORT FANS! did you know that there is wrestling tonight at the Armory in Avon Park? Take a look on the card, you will see many of your favorite wrestlers listed on the program.
For family entertainment, stop in the HILANS THEATRE in Avon Park tonight and see Walt Disney's "The Fighting Prince of Donegal". As usual, Disney gives you an exceptional movie. You would never guess the co-feature "Winnie the Pooh"—really, that is the other film playing. This plays thru Saturday, Sunday thru Tuesday, has Gregory Peck and Sophia Loren in technicolor panavision "Arabesque".
Midway between Avon Park and Sebring, the SEVON DRIVE IN THEATRE has a triple feature on, this includes Dana Andrews in "Tobacco Road"; Lee Marvin and Montgomery Clift in "Wild River" and "Swamp Country"—this plays thru Saturday—better believe it, this is really your money's worth starting Sunday and playing through Wednesday, is "Of Human Bondage" with Kim Novak and "This Property is Condemned" with Natalie Wood. These last two shows are strictly Adult Entertainment.
Well, Highlanders, this should give you many places to go and see things that are entertaining and still only a hop or a skip away from Highlands County. Talking about hopping, brings back to mind that flying is getting more and more popular every day. Why not fly to where you are going this weekend and avoid the traffic jam on the highways and come back rested after a leisurely flight? Call Shelly at MARR'S AIRCRAFT in Avon Park, he'll arrange it for you.

NEW ORLEANS

The home of Dixieland Jazz, this city is unique... offering creole cuisine, Southern hospitality and sophisticated city life. The city on the big river retains a festive Mardi Gras spirit year round. A glorious setting for a fun vacation, New Orleans is the Gateway to the Caribbean.

If a couple could prove they had not quarreled nor had had a cross word for a year and a day, the bacon was awarded, and there was much to do about it. Naturally, few people received this award, so that whoever had for the bacon wasn't out much. Awarding the bacon was such fun that it became a custom for young people to get together for this good fellowship. Strangely enough, the expression is still heard centuries after the reason for saying it has been forgotten.

The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

When a member of a family goes out to some sort of game or giveaway and returns with prizes or material gifts, someone is sure to say: "Boy, you really brought home the bacon!" The expression, "bring home the bacon," had its origin in Essex County, England, where in the early 1400s it was customary to award a fitch of bacon to a young married couple if they could prove they had lived in complete harmony during the year. At a designated time and place, all the young married couples who thought they deserved to bring home the bacon had to appear before a jury of six maidens and six bachelors to be questioned.

Council Accepts Grant From Federal Govt

A resolution was made by the City Council at its regular Monday night meeting, authorizing Mayor DeLaney to execute the acceptance of the offer of the Federal Government grant of $50,000 for the proposed Avon Park sewage treatment facility. The resolution was passed and adopted. A letter was read from the Special Assistant to the Mayor of the Florida Section of the American Water Works Association stating that the city was to receive an Award of Progress for the excellent improvement in lost-time accident record for the year 1966.

The South Florida Junior College requested, and will receive, a final payment of $1,000 from the city. Mayor DeLaney explained what the college means to this community.

The terms of office have expired for all members of the Zoning Board, with the exception of George Haynie, who had resigned. They all stated they would serve again until the city is dissolved. The council appointed the following men to serve on this board for a three year term: Bob Barben, Neal Sellers, Jack Duggan, Jim Heim and Man-nin Kirkland.

Other action by the council included: —A resolution stating that Highlands Cable Television Corporation is in violation of the city ordinance in this area. Clark Swann, owner, offered to carry the council meetings on local television via video tape. A test trial will be held at the next meeting.

—Mayor Thomas and Councilman Charles Cannon, of Wauchula, thanked the Avon Park Council in a letter and brought a letter of appreciation for the aid rendered in the recent fire which destroyed the J. W. Earnest Co. store.

Deadline For Packages Overseas Near

Postal patrons mailing packages abroad for Christmas are reminded again of the dates they should be mailed before if they are to reach the addressees before Christmas: —South and Central America, Surface — Nov. 10, Air — Dec. 10.

Europe, Surface — Nov. 10, Air — Dec. 15.

Near East, Surface — Nov. 1, Air — Dec. 10.

Far East, Surface — Nov. 15, Air — Dec. 10.

The period October 21 to November 10 has been designated for mailing Christmas parcels and greeting cards by surface transportation to members of our Armed Forces overseas. For airmail parcels the period is December 1 to December 10.

Postal patrons mailing packages abroad should be reminded to see that they are packed adequately for the length of the journey, and that the contents are protected.

They expressed their gratitude and offered the services of the Wauchula Fire Department, should it ever become necessary.

—Mrs. Hayes Maxwell requested the council to give serious consideration to a request that the Junior College offer a course in Parliamentary Procedure, the next semester.

B. Q. Waddell of Indian River County has notified Commissioner McGee that he is to serve another term in the health and welfare committee. He has previously been a member of this 15-member committee which makes a continuing study of all matters relating to health and welfare and the relation of the counties to the state and federal government in these matters.

The Junior Women's Club urges all parents to have their children obey this proclamation, which is signified by the sound of the fire alarm.

Various organizations are joining the Junior Women's Club to help make this year's carnival a success by having booths in the event.

The Girl Scouts will sell candy, while the Band Parents' Association will offer donuts and cotton candy.

The Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce are going to operate not one, but two booths—"drive the nail" and "Madame Butterfly," a mystery story told by telephone.

Well-known first-timers are also the senior class of The Highlands School for Girls, who are busy preparing a "Spook House" that you just won't believe could be so scary!

The Junior Women's Club will again operate their regular food booth, with hot dogs, hamburgers, coffee, etc., the large Coke Wagon, and the old favorite, the cake walk. Everyone is invited to this event each year is for the fun and enjoyment of the children of the community.

Details of the line-up of the parade, judges, awards, etc., are in a separate article, be sure to look for it.

Be sure to take part in this county-wide event on Saturday, after all you might even see The Great Pumpkin, he surely watches over all Halloween activities, wouldn't you think?

Avon Park could also be called a scrappy team and although the Red Devils have given up 45 points to their four opponents, they have never trailed in a half game this season and have steadily improved on both defense and offense. Led by Jacky Emmitt Money at quarterback, the Devils have amassed a total of 101 points in the four wins.

Money has scored six touchdowns and four extra points for a total of 40. Harold Callaway, the right halfback has crossed the goal line three times to contribute 18 points. Money has scored two touchdowns and one extra point for a total of 14 points. TD pass to John Wright and two point after passes to Hoppy Rewis. Showing the Devils depth on offense is the fact that Dean Lemler, Earl Sims, and even lineman Steve Weber have now touched down on the record. Rewis has also kicked two extra points.

The Devils are also a running team but in the past two games, Money has utilized the pass quite effectively. After four games the total yardage back has completed 11 of 25 passes. Barben has yet to connect with a receiver but has thrown the halfback pass three times.

Avon Park has plenty of incentive to make it five straight wins this week. The Devils are currently on the top of the Class B regular season standings. The Devils lost last week to Mulberry. The Devils would also like to lose to one of the two Class B schools on their schedule after beating three Class A schools and facing a schedule full of the larger schools in the next few games.

After the second open date of the young season, the Red Devils should be more than ready to play ball and fans may expect a real battle this week when the two teams try to stay in the undefeated ranks and fight for their respective region titles.

The Avon Park starting offensive line will have John Wright and Bruce Bennett at ends, Joe Strickler and Steve Weber at tackles, Andrew Wells and Roscoe Bass at guards, and Carl Barnes at center. The backs will be Money at quarterback, Lemler at fullback and Callaway at halfback and Sims running at halfback.

On defense the Red Devils will have Money and Wright at ends, Strickler and Callaway at guards, Wells on the nose, Weber, Barnes, Sims, and Barben at linemen, and Lemler and Bennett as deep backs.

We made the car go faster.

And the engine go slower.

We've added a full 3 m.p.h. to the top speed of the Volkswagen. If that doesn't sound like a lot to you, it's because it isn't. And wasn't meant to be. We put most of the power increase (from 50 horsepower to 53) into the lower gears. So you could climb hills easier. And accelerate quicker. But we didn't do all this at the expense of the engine. In fact, we made the engine run even slower. So it would last even longer. You'll be very happy to know this speedy new Volkswagen has dual brakes as standard equipment. If the front brakes should ever fail, the rear brakes will stop you. And vice versa. We even put in some changes you can see, like retracting seat belts, recessed inside door handles, and back-up lights. They're standard, too. And so are the letters VOLKSWAGEN on the engine lid. So you'll recognize the new bug when it passes you. With its new, slower engine.

Will the bills cost you $175 more than they should?

They might, if you have to borrow the money to pay them. (Repaying that loan will cost you a pretty penny in interest charges.)

But if you make a habit of saving with us, with the people who specialize in saving, you will have the money when you need it. The difference between borrowing to pay the bills for your baby or saving ahead and getting earnings on your savings could turn the nursery.

Four Local Men On Successful Fishing Trip

A most enjoyable and successful fishing trip was made in the Gulf of Mexico on Monday, Oct. 24, by E. G. T. Todd, George Borde, Dr. J. John Kest, and W. F. Ward.

They left Avon Park at 5 a.m. for Boca Grande and returned at 8 p.m. with fish the catch which was dressed and laid down before leaving Boca Grande.

Included in the catch was a 32 lb. Kingfish, measuring from 6 to 10 pounds or more; 50 Spanish Mackerel (fish from 2 to 6 pounds each) and two large Bonita, 15 pounds or less.

They went out with Capt. C. C. Under the "Gulf Bred Ship" and fished from one to five miles off shore, with most of the fishing close in.

There were a few bait fish in the same area and all appeared to be catching fish.

Capt. Downing docked his boat at the "Pink Elephant" Marina, at Boca Grande, and is a most pleasant and experienced guide.

The fish were divided up among the crew, with each person getting a good share.

Women and children are encouraged to fish, and will be thoroughly enjoyed.

Thru Dyal and the Red River report successful fishing in the creek, at lake and river, at both spots, perch and bass seem to be in the biting mood now.

The fishermen of Highlands County should have no trouble fishing for the next few days.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

BY REV. MICHAEL A. GUIDO

The first Psalm bursts forth with a joyful exclamation, "Blessed is the man, or 'O the happiness of the man' What man? Any man? No, 'the man'."

It is one thing to be a Christian, but it is another thing to be the Christian. It is one thing to be an ordinary Christian, but it is another thing to be an extraordinary Christian. Only the extraordinary Christian is the genuinely glad Christian.

To look at some professing Christians you would think they had been soaked in vinegar and weaned on sour pickles. They give the world the wrong impression of Christianity. A man sat for a picture. "What is your profession?"

State Attorney Outlaws Radar, Other Devices

The loss of radar, timing devices and airplanes as traffic control instruments will be mourned in Highlands County, but the loss probably will not affect many, if any of the cases now pending.

Many of the traffic offenses are tried in County Judge's Court. Judge Mervin Rehner said Tuesday that he believes radar and timing devices are "more accurate than evidence which patrolmen gather in pursuit."

One of the early cases on use of the Patrol airplane was tried in Highlands County. The trial, before a jury, involved a battery of expert witnesses, but it didn't raise any question of law, I am sorry to say," Judge Rehner commented.

"I had hoped it would be direct challenge to the law so the question of use of airplanes would be before the courts and we might have had a ruling on this," the Judge commented.

State Senator Hayward Davis of Lake Placid is a member of the Legislative committee which last week quickly began study about possible new laws which would re-instate the use of electronic devices, radar and airplanes. These were all knocked out last week when Attorney General Earl Faircloth ruled that the findings gathered by these means cannot be admitted in court as evidence.

Florida Highway Patrolmen working in Highlands County told reporters that they have a few cases pending which are based on findings from the outlawed instruments.

Letter To The Editor

On Tuesday, Nov. 8, we will be voting for the candidates for our choice for various state offices and on the same ballot you will find a number of proposed constitutional amendments. Two of these proposed amendments are concerning the judiciary and more particularly the County Judge's Court. Both of them are proposed amendments to Article V, Section 5, of the Florida Constitution.

The proposed amendment listed on the ballot as No. 6 provides that the legislature may require County Judges to be a member of the Florida Bar. In order to become effective, however, it is necessary that special acts so providing the respective counties shall be subject to referendum approval. This proposed amendment also grandfather present non-lawyer County Judges even to the extent that they may continue in office and seek re-election thereafter, but that other non-lawyers cannot qualify for the office.

In my personal opinion, this is a very good amendment proposal. After all, this is a judicial office and in order to carry out the judicial duties properly and to assure good law with our County Courts the Judge should be trained in the law.

Amendment No. 7 provides that the legislature shall provide the number of County Judges in each county and the monetary jurisdiction in cases at law in County Judge's Court. The amendment further deletes the requirement that County Judges issue all licenses.

This proposed amendment I strongly recommend also. The present constitution provides only that every county shall have a County Judge.

Following the introductions, Sister Hornby spoke about VFW and the benefits it offers to its members including homes for widows and orphans. She also told of the history of the Auxiliary. The Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was organized in 51 years ago whose purpose is to honor the dead by helping the living. Over 400,000 members belong to units in all of the 50 states.

The objects of this organization are fraternal, patriotic, historical and educational. Several other worthy projects and programs were mentioned. Among one is the National Home at Eaton Rapids, Mich., which the organization is justly proud.

have a County Judge. Under our present system when the workload increases to a point where one Judge cannot possibly handle all the duties of the office the legislature now establishes another separate court such as the Criminal Court of Record or a separate Juvenile Court or a Civil Court of Record, or some other judicial office under some other title. By enactment of this proposed amendment the legislature could merely provide a second or third, or as many County Judges as would be required to perform these various duties. In this way the judicial setup in all the counties of the State could be the same. As it stands now, we have about 13 different judicial setups within our 67 counties of the State.

Furthermore, in the absence or incapacity of one of the County Judges, the other County Judge could continue to carry on these duties of the State Constitution of 1865. This is the fifth change in the history of Florida.

The weakness of the present one are well known to most - uneven spread of representation in the legislature, the relation to an old rural day now past, weak executive government setup, clumsy and cumbersome to operate, and with ten times as many words contained in it as in the Constitution of the U. S. Many of its regulations have now become unlawful by acts of the Federal Government and the Supreme Court of U. S.

The new Constitution of Florida must be three things: 1. Consistent with the U. S. Constitution; 2. Have clear, simple language right to the point in each section; 3. It must contain provision for future changes when needed with ample trust in the people of the state to know when and how.

Smith stated that the job of his committee will be ended early next year. The new constitution will be checked by the total committee this November, and presented to the legislature in January. The public will view it in February after at least a two-third vote by legislature.

Chesterfield Smith did a top job in great style.

today they might be required to visit three offices in order to get the licenses for which they came to the Court House.

Luncheon Report

Reported by Father John Knapp

Last week's program, October 19, Chesterfield Smith, the guest speaker, was introduced by Hue Nunnallee. The subject, at first, perhaps sounding dry, was soon shooting sparks all over the place - due to the ability of our speaker. He happened to be the chairman of the committee on revision of the Florida State constitution - and the "revision" was his subject.

A native of Arcadia, and educated at UP through his law degree, he is a member of the firm in Bartow and Lakeland with Senator Holland as one of the partners. Now he heads a 37 member committee working to update the State Constitution of 1865. This is the fifth change in the history of Florida.

The weakness of the present one are well known to most - uneven spread of representation in the legislature, the relation to an old rural day now past, weak executive government setup, clumsy and cumbersome to operate, and with ten times as many words contained in it as in the Constitution of the U. S. Many of its regulations have now become unlawful by acts of the Federal Government and the Supreme Court of U. S.

The new Constitution of Florida must be three things: 1. Consistent with the U. S. Constitution; 2. Have clear, simple language right to the point in each section; 3. It must contain provision for future changes when needed with ample trust in the people of the state to know when and how.

Smith stated that the job of his committee will be ended early next year. The new constitution will be checked by the total committee this November, and presented to the legislature in January. The public will view it in February after at least a two-third vote by legislature.

Chesterfield Smith did a top job in great style.

Residents Urged To Fill Out "Zip-A-List"

Postmaster R. D. Young today thanked the thousands of Avon Park residents who have been cooperating in a plan to add ZIP Codes to personal mailing lists. He urged all those who have not yet sent in their "Zip-A-List" forms to do so.

As a part of nationwide program, the postal service will add the ZIP Codes to personal mailing lists. Every household in the nation has been sent forms with blanks for addresses to which residents wish the post office to add the five number codes.

"It's not too early to think of adding ZIP Codes to your Christmas mailing list," Postmaster Young suggested. "Also, it would help us greatly if you would print each address."

"Postmaster General Owen has said that we must do all we can to make ZIP Codes completely accessible and this is part of that program. Local ZIP Codes are all in Avon Park 33825. For ZIP Code information in Avon Park call GL 3-3825.

"Personal and social mail accounts for more than 20 billion pieces annually." Young encouraged mailers to use the ZIP Codes on all addresses because with it mail moves by a more direct route and is handled faster times.

In filling out the forms, householders are asked merely to list the addresses - not the names - of their correspondents. Incomplete addresses which are submitted but cannot be ZIP coded by the local post office will be sent to the appropriate city and the codes will be added there.

Postmaster Young emphasized the importance of including the return address on the front of the cards so that his employees will know where to return them after the five number codes have been added. Several people have turned in lists with no return addresses. They will be held at the post office and can be called for.

He also noted that extra cards will be available for those requesting them.

The game was close until the third quarter when the Panthers pulled away. Butler, moving forward, stole the ball from Taylor Stokes and drove into Hillsborough High for the University of North Carolina. Butler was fouled once from Bobby Shiver, and Gause basketball captain. The real smooth work of the Whitehead netted him 19 points, 10 of them in the second half. In this contest, Butler had 18 points, 12 in the second half. Gause had 12, Halley 10, Gause and Cooper with four, combined. The Panthers had 20 rebounds with seven, followed by Gause with six.

Five Denominations Cooperate In Unusual Ministry Program

A Bishop becomes a rector, Episcopalian, Lutheran, Methodist and Presbyterian worshipping God together.

Lay people driving thousands of miles each week to read services in isolated areas, to do parish calling, to study theology.

The state's established religious, the Latter Day Saints (Mormons) blink in amazement.

This information and more came from the September and October issues of "The Episcopalian" under the heading of "What's Happening in Idaho?"

It was part of the program presented to the Church of the Redeemer ladies at their October meeting. But because so many other Christians are also involved in this great movement, it was felt that there would be interest in learning more about it. Hence the above and following information taken from this article.

It all started in early 1965, and it is hard to pinpoint just what happened first, but it is now considered a pilot project and the National Episcopal Church is watching it with much interest.

St. John's Episcopal Church in Idaho Falls was planning a summer parish training program. St. Paul's Methodist Church was planning an experiment in summer field work seminars.

United Presbyterians and Episcopals found common concern over ministry to small communities and solved them together with a stinging either denominational affiliation. The United Presbyterian congregation in Salmon was being served by the Presbyterian minister from Rexburg, but he could not come often.

Arrangements were made to transfer the congregation to the Episcopal rector in Salmon with the Presbyterian minister from Rexburg coming at regular intervals to administer the sacraments. The Lutherans too made similar arrangements.

Rick's Junior College (Mormon) had many non-Mormon students who needed to have a Christian minister available, yet there were not enough of any one denomination to make it feasible to have a rector of each denomination. The Presbyterians and Episcopalians pooled their money and manpower to provide a ministry for these students.

The Methodists and Roman Catholics became interested and inquired about it and the possibility of their joining in. The Rev. Charles A. Wilson, coordinator of the project, says: "We are making the church visible." The church being understood to mean the Body of Christ, and the Body of Christ being understood to mean all the churches together.

Within the Episcopal Diocese itself there were problems to be solved. St. John's Episcopal Church, with the Rev. Jack Viggers as rector, was in an enviable position. It was growing fast. But this project presented a problem. There was too much work for Father Viggers, and so there was discussion of getting another priest to assist him.

But there was not enough work for two priests. Small communities where three or four congregations were served by one priest were also growing and needed more attention. To have two priests at St. John's and to give some of these small communities a priest for themselves would have required five more priests in the diocese. But by the plan of cooperation which they worked out and with the help of lay people it was necessary to have only three more priests instead of five.

The laymen take special studies and drive many miles to conduct services now, whereas before they served only in their own parish.

The churchwomen of St. John's now make calls on newcomers and the sick and report back to the rector when they feel that a call from him is necessary. Because the budget was being pressed (as church budgets always are) a plan was worked out where four or five families each week are responsible for the church cleaning. Junior and senior high girls now serve on the altar guild. The young people have a representative who sits and not vote. Formal business meetings of men and women's groups have disappeared—now all meet together and work together.

Old forms of thinking have been erased and new strength has come to the area. Lutheraans, Disciples of Christ, Methodists, United Presbyterians and Episcopalians have banded together into an Ecumenical Regional Ministry. When someone said to Nancy Viggers (wife of Father Viggers) that they could understand the "what's" but not the "why," she commented that each denomination represented in Ecumenical Idaho had tried to go it alone and failed. But there is always need for a leader to coordinate the various activities of a group of this kind and Father Viggers was chosen to be that leader. He felt that if he remained as rector of St. John's he would be thinking of everything in terms of how it applied to St. John's.

In order to have a broader view he resigned as rector of St. John's and the Rt. Rev. Norman Foster, Episcopal Bishop of Eastern Idaho took on the duties of head rector there with another rector to assist him. Bishop Foster had from the beginning been active and enthusiastic regarding these projects.

Some of Father Viggers that they now would feel neglected because he would not be around when they needed him, but he has shown them that it is more important that he be around when the church needs him.

The ministry depends heavily on the laity.

Wrestling Thurs. UNICEF Children Help Children Night, Oct. 27 At AP Armory

Tonight, at 8 p.m., professional wrestlers will be challenging each other at the AP Armory on North Verona Ave. Heading the list on tonight's ticket, is a challenge match under the heading of "Texas Death Match," between Steamboat and Lethario against the Infernos. Sam Steamboat and Jose Lethario, who battled to near victory over the Infernos last Thursday night at the Avon Park Armory, lost the decision only because one of the Infernos used a heavy-soled shoe in desperation. Steamboat and Lethario, seeking revenge, challenged the Infernos to a Texas Death Match. In this type match, there are no rules, which means Steamboat and Lethario can use any trick or means at their disposal to gain a win over the Infernos. Everything goes, no disqualifications, no time limit and falls do not count. The fight goes on until one man or one team cannot answer the bell to start the next fall. It's a fight to the end!

Other matches send Rock Monroe against Johnny Hall and rugged Johnny Heidman takes on Silent Rodriguez.

People who feel concern for the world's sick and hungry children will be gratified to know that careful planning and painstaking preparations are underway for an event which will bring help and hope to millions of them in all parts of the world.

On October 31, more than 3.5 million American boys and girls in over 15,000 communities will Trick or Treat for UNICEF, collecting life-saving pennies for the Nobel Peace Prize-winning United Nations Children's Fund.

The results of the world's greatest effort by children to help children will be the most vital as UNICEF, which was founded just 20 years ago, still operates with a budget equivalent to what a page on a world map in two hours of one day.

Education, Safety Keynotes
UNICEF has handled in the month millions of parents, teachers, church and youth leaders, city and county members and teenagers from coast to coast have devoted much time and effort to inform the kids they love about the needs of others, less fortunate children. American youths have been learning in contrast with a world of abundance, there is a world in which hunger, misery, disease and ignorance stalk their helpless prey—and that three out of four children live in the latter world.

From Abbeville, Ala., to Zelenople, Pa., through class units, book clubs, photographs, posters, wall charts, booklets and films, boys and girls have been discovering what has been accomplished since 1946 by UNICEF, and how much more remains to be done.

With this knowledge, they are now making their own plans to end disease and help their far-away, unknown friends in more than 100 countries where UNICEF is at work through over 500 long-range programs.

Concern for the safety of the young Trick or Treaters themselves is, of course, a basic and very important feature of every UNICEF Halloween program. The organizers recommend that they make their own plans to end disease and help their far-away, unknown friends in more than 100 countries where UNICEF is at work through over 500 long-range programs.

Pennies Go Long Way
UNICEF Trick or Treat pennies are collected by their official orange and black collection bags and black collection canisters. It bears a symbolic message of a mother and child.

While each canister contains only small coins, even after a long night of collecting, the pennies of these coins can accomplish a lot. A penny will buy six large cups of milk, a nickel will buy a pencil, a dime will buy a young victim of trachoma from blindness. A quarter buys the flu vaccine to protect 25 children against tuberculosis.

Since UNICEF's inception, among others, about 200 million young persons have been vaccinated against TB, over two million persons have been treated for leprosy; over 103 million have been examined and millions—half of them mothers and children—have been treated for yaws; about 22 million children and adults have been treated for trachoma.

At the same time, UNICEF is assisting teacher training programs in 60 countries, and vocational projects in 10 countries to provide young people with manual skills. UNICEF has helped equip 7,000 schools and teacher training centers with 300 vocational training institutions.

Forty-seven countries are being aided by UNICEF to develop programs that strengthen family life. In 14 countries, young women are taught essentials of child care and homecraft; foods have been allocated to provide 41 countries with 220 milk processing plants, and in areas with insufficient local milk supply, UNICEF helps to develop other high-protein foods suitable for children.

When they are given to UNICEF, Halloween pennies go a long way.

Episcopal UTO Ingathering On Sunday, Oct. 30

It is hoped that all Episcopal Churchwomen will participate in the Fall UTO Ingathering which will take place at all services of the Church of the Redeemer on Sunday, Oct. 30.

If you have not received a UTO envelope by this date you may transfer the contents of your "Blue Box" to a plain envelope, but you should mark "UTO" on it, pick up an envelope in the rear of the church. Place the envelope on the offering plate together with your regular pledge or donation to the church.

If you are unable to get to the plate on Sunday it may be turned in during any service the following week, or you may mail it to the chairman, Mrs. Karl W. Spore, at P. O. Box 200, Avon Park, Fla. 33825.

Also get in touch with Mrs. Spore if you are in need of a UTO box.

Mrs. Spore tells us that she has placed over the total amount of the contents of these boxes which is turned in each Ingathering. But she and the other UTO chairwomen of South Florida are sad that less than half of the Episcopal Churchwomen turn in envelopes, and this annoys them the fact that the other more than half have not had the single thing to be thankful for during the past several months.

If only there was an envelope from each Episcopal Churchwoman (even though some might contain only a penny or two) it would be a ray of sunshine as it would show that each had at least one small thing to be thankful for, and had offered their "prayers of thanks."

Why not help the Church of the Redeemer branch to be the first to have one hundred percent participation?

Cyrus Senner, director of the "Fan Trailer Club" of the UTO, is expecting a business visit from Franklin A. Newcomer, president of the Fan Club, president of La Florida, Ind., sponsors of said clubs.

The Christian Science Reading This Sunday

"Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy loving kindness, according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions."

This verse from the 51st Psalm is a part of the responsive reading in this week's lesson-sermon titled, "Revealing Punishment," to be read at all Christian Science services this Sunday.

From the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the following passage will be read: "Are we benefited by praying? Yes, the desire which goes forth hungering after righteousness is blessed of our Father, and it does not return unto us void."

The Scriptural readings also include the account of the healing by Jesus of the palsied man at the pool of Bethesda.

Maybe not proper to use in a news story, but nevertheless very true in many hundreds of five accident stories which appear in the papers over any given year, George N. Crist, Safety Service chairman of the Highlands County Red Cross Chapter, points out.

"Never smoke in bed," Crist admonishes, "and use extreme care when smoking around upholstered furniture. Discard cigarette butts in a safe place, not in wastebaskets. Don't light matches in attics, closets, or near clothes, paper or other combustibles."

Crist said 50 percent of all fires occur in homes. He cited careless smokers and careless handling of matches as leading causes of fires.

"Many people, too, get careless with their heating and cooking equipment, and also fail to check their electrical equipment for improper use or installation," he pointed out.

"Ask yourselves the following questions," he tells householders. "If your answers aren't 'yes,' then you'd better do something right away to correct the situation."

Are your clothes, curtains, and lighters out of children's reach? Have you cleaned your chimney, oven and broiler lately?

Do you keep electric motors clean and free from grease? Are your attic, closets, basement, garage, yard free of accumulation of rags, rubbish, or other combustible materials?

Do you refrain from using kerosene or gasoline to start fires? Do you avoid placing extension cords under rugs or hooked over nails on walls?

Do you keep your paints in tightly closed metal containers and away from heat? Do you avoid using flammable fluids for cleaning purposes?

Do you keep a fire extinguisher handy, provide screens around fireplaces, and keep a garden hose near a faucet ready for instant use in event of fire?

"If your answer is 'no' to any of these questions, then your chances of becoming a fire accident statistic are very good," Crist says.

Maybe not proper to use in a news story, but nevertheless very true in many hundreds of five accident stories which appear in the papers over any given year, George N. Crist, Safety Service chairman of the Highlands County Red Cross Chapter, points out.

"Never smoke in bed," Crist admonishes, "and use extreme care when smoking around upholstered furniture. Discard cigarette butts in a safe place, not in wastebaskets. Don't light matches in attics, closets, or near clothes, paper or other combustibles."

Crist said 50 percent of all fires occur in homes. He cited careless smokers and careless handling of matches as leading causes of fires.

"Many people, too, get careless with their heating and cooking equipment, and also fail to check their electrical equipment for improper use or installation," he pointed out.

"Ask yourselves the following questions," he tells householders. "If your answers aren't 'yes,' then you'd better do something right away to correct the situation."

Are your clothes, curtains, and lighters out of children's reach? Have you cleaned your chimney, oven and broiler lately?

Do you keep electric motors clean and free from grease? Are your attic, closets, basement, garage, yard free of accumulation of rags, rubbish, or other combustible materials?

Do you refrain from using kerosene or gasoline to start fires? Do you avoid placing extension cords under rugs or hooked over nails on walls?

Do you keep your paints in tightly closed metal containers and away from heat? Do you avoid using flammable fluids for cleaning purposes?

Do you keep a fire extinguisher handy, provide screens around fireplaces, and keep a garden hose near a faucet ready for instant use in event of fire?

"If your answer is 'no' to any of these questions, then your chances of becoming a fire accident statistic are very good," Crist says.

MAKE LIFE WORTH LIVING

"For me to live is Christ," Philippians 1:21. We should think of life as a sacrament. It is so much to others and to God. In the final analysis life is a gift. William Law referred to this gift when he said: "Man has a seed of the Divine life given unto the birth of his soul, a seed that has all the riches of eternity in it and is always wanting to come to birth in him and be alive to God."

Dr. Fosdick surely had this truth in mind when he told the story of a Roman Catholic priest coming up to minister to a wounded soldier in the last war. The soldier said to him: "Thanks just the same, Padre, but I don't belong to your church." "I know," replied the padre, "but you belong to my God."

For me to live. Someone has said that the average Christian life is rarely brought beyond the aspiration stage. To really live is to grow. What we bring doesn't matter, provided we bring it all.

The Cure of Ars was a poor, illiterate Frenchman who could not pass his theological examinations and was so deficient in moral theology that it was thought unwise for him to hear confessions and yet he became one of the truly great spiritual advisors of his age. Strong men came to him and warmed their hearts at his genius.

Because one is limited does not mean that he is doomed to littleness. Take what is given and use it. Always there is something to be used; use understanding; use sympathy; use what life has taught you through pain for the strengthening of someone at your side. Disraeli put it simply when he said: "Life is too short to be little." Especially is this true of the Christian life.

When a person's religious experience is accepted as adequate and he no longer aspires to more light and spiritual power, then spiritual death comes on and soon it is time to dig a grave and have a short, sad service over the spiritual corpse.

To keep spiritually alive, we must maintain an interest in what is going on in the world, particularly in people. Jesus was responsive to all kinds of people. He had time for little children. He joined with those who rejoiced. He reached out his hand to another's burden. His heart was touched by another's sorrow. All of this he places on the heart of his follower, and assure him that greatness in God's kingdom comes through such service. "Whoever would be great among you must be your servant," St. Matthew 20:27.

It is said that the Cure of Ars often contemplated running away from the waiting pilgrims who day by day waited his counsel. He was held steady by the realization that his, like the Master's, was a divinely-ordained slavery to human need.

This is the way of life in Christ. If we are willing to set our little lives before God, our cup runs over. We are made more abundant in our usefulness among men. We can surely say the words of the Psalmist: "My cup runneth over." We like St. Paul's description of such a life: "Your life is hid with Christ in God," Colossians 3:3.

What we have said is that life is the gift of God and we do best when we live usefully in His service. There is no experience more overpowering than the realization that God is our Father and we are His children. If you want to set the possibility of this experience in your life, say the following affirmation slowly and audibly: "I am in the presence of God. His laws govern the universe about me. In His wisdom he has created it all. And I also am his child. I belong to him. His will for me is inward created it all. And I also am his child. I belong to him. His will for me is inward peace and quiet. He wants to help me organize my life around eternal values; and, as I do, he will enter in and dwell with me. There is no problem I cannot solve, or be content to leave unsolved, no pain I cannot overcome, or at least endure, if I rest quietly in him. There is nothing in all the world of which I need be afraid, if I meet it in his presence. In every emergency there is help for me in God."

If one will allow himself to be guided by that affirmation of faith, prayer will become natural, normal and real. He will become a more faithful follower of Christ both in thought and action.

Phillips Brooks was a great American preacher who was claimed by Christians generally in his own time. It is said that: "More fully than any other American preacher he rose above sectarian differences." There is a statue of Brooks before Trinity Church in Boston. A figure stands behind him and to the side. It is the Christ. Christ's hand is on his servant's shoulder as if in blessing.

I once had a professor who taught classes in psychology. One day he told us that occasionally he was conscious of Christ standing by his desk. Have you read Robert Browning's Saul? If you have, you remember that he closes the poem with these words: "See the Christ stand." Christ can be so real that you may be conscious that he is standing by your side. The professor was right. In that moment your response will be like that of Peter: "Depart from me; for I am a sinful man, O Lord," St. Luke 5:8. "Come," says the Master. Simon Peter put his hand in the hand of Christ and went rejoicing down the ages. The same invitation is extended to you and me. We, too, can go rejoicing with Him down life's ways not worrying whether they wind uphill or down.

Citrus Council Elects Three Highlands Men

Three Highlands County citrus men were elected to serve on the Highlands County Citrus Advisory Committee in the committee's recent elections. They are: Earl Crutchfield and Ed Holcomb of Lake Placid. These three men will serve a three year term on the committee.

The Citrus Advisory Committee is composed of nine men all serving three year terms, each year three new members of the committee are elected. The committee functions in cooperation with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service, County Agent's Office for the purpose of educating citrus producers and processors of new and better methods.

When problems in the citrus industry of the county arise, the committee functions to obtain as much information as possible to remedy the situation.

Earl Crutchfield was one of the retiring members and was re-elected. Ed Holcomb and Wilbur Duran are replacing the positions previously held by Eddie Stephens of Sebring and Bill Sackness of Avon Park. Both Stephens and Sackness had a fine job on the committee and helped out a lot.

First Messiah Rehearsal Sun.

The Highlands County Messiah Society will hold its first rehearsal on Sunday, Oct. 30, at 3 p.m. in the First Methodist Church of Sebring.

All singers are invited to join the group and are urged to attend the first rehearsal. E. Donald Meiser, director.

The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

One of my teacher friends was replaced in a hiring-firing incident and a third party remarked, "That little squirt can't hold a candle to Mr. High."

Only a few people employed in this world cannot be replaced, but sometimes it is difficult for the new employee to wear a former employee's shoes. It's usually better if the replacement just wears his own shoes.

The expression "can't hold a candle to" originated in gambling. Lighting was a serious problem for gamblers before the dawn of gas lights or electricity. If a lamp or candle was placed on the dice table, it interfered with the rolling bones, so it was customary to ask someone to hold the candle while the gamblers played. Sometimes the innocent on-looker asked to take part in the game and he usually found himself broke in short order. At such times a professional gambler made fun of him and he was ordered back to hold the candle while more experienced men won or lost. It is easy to understand why the expression "can't hold a candle to" came to mean a position of complete inferiority.

The supermarket industry was founded in the depths of the depression for the purpose of distributing food at the lowest possible price. The supermarket has a very definite place in the economy of our nation, and Publix is a part of this great industry.

Publix has always been concerned with the welfare of our customers, and has always joined the supermarket industry in the basic aim of offering the lowest possible food prices to the consumer.

The nation's current artificially high prices will continue until all controls are removed and the farmer and the retailer are free to arrive at prices fixed only by the laws of supply and demand. Our food prices have always been based on the manufacturer's costs to us. Whenever any reductions in these costs are made, you can be sure that these reductions will be immediately reflected in our retail food prices.

I personally want to assure the people of Florida that we will continue to reflect the lowest possible prices on all food items, and that Publix will continue to operate the stores "where shopping is a pleasure."

Scotland Yard
Scotland Yard got its name from the fact that a palace belonging to the kings of Scotland stood on the site of the old Scotland Yard building and, at that time, the land was declared part of Scotland and not a possession of England.

Smithsonian Elephant
A giant, mounted elephant, with trunk outflung, stands in the rotunda of the Smithsonian Institution's Natural History building in Washington. More than 15 feet high at the shoulder, the mammoth weighed 12 tons in life. Its hide, now supported by a papier-mache form, weighs two tons.

The Things We Say
By RUBY SHANNON
Pork has been eaten in America ever since the colonists brought hogs here, when the three essential animals on a farm were a sow, a cow and a hen.
Before the day of meat packing houses, farmers cured their own pork at home in a barrel of salty brine. When it was ready, the meat was washed and smoked, and again stored in a barrel where it could be kept covered and safe from flies or other insects.
Early American farm wives would go to the pork barrel for a slab of bacon or a cured ham when the one they kept in the kitchen had been eaten, and their husbands would kill more hogs for the pork barrel when it began to get low.

We have Nick Christy's SUNDOWN RESTAURANT in Winter Haven featuring ocean fresh seafood—try his fisherman's platter, which includes oysters, scallops, shrimp and lobster, served with baked potato and salad. In the attractive Chase Lounge, direct from Las Vegas are the enjoyable duo, Jans and Tony Mark.
In Lake Wales we have the HIGHLANDER RESTAURANT, which features the horseshoe bar for drinks and the Cage dining room. You will love the live birds flying around (in the cage) with their melodious trilling. This restaurant is noted for their extra special dishes and desserts featuring Florida citrus. Try some soon—real tantalizing.
Also in Lake Wales, we have George's COPPERTOP, who has a new innovation. If you are celebrating a birthday, anniversary or another special occasion—they will snap your picture and frame it in a coppertop folder for you as a souvenir of the event. Real nice. George. Don't forget dining, dancing, music by Johnny Kragan and your favorite beverage served by Jim or Don in the Lounge are a night's feature.
In Ft. Meade, we have Frank Wiesner's EL CID LOUNGE, featuring the current favorites: "Go Go" girls in the Cage and also your favorite beverage.
Chef Carl at the TOWER VIEW RESTAURANT in Lake Placid told me the response to his Lobster special has drawn so many people that he is extending this special another two weeks—to give LOBSTER LOVERS a repeat of their favorite—LOBSTER—LOBSTER—all you can eat special still going on. As Carl said 500 Lobster lovers can't be wrong.
If you are planning to see the attractions close by and have something to eat at the GOLDEN BELL Restaurant on State Road 540 in Winter Haven—good food and conveniently located to all the local attractions, couldn't do better for the price—open on Sunday.

Tonight is the night again for wrestling fans to see their favorites perform at the Armory in Avon Park—know someone in Lake Placid that never misses one of these matches—always asking what is on the card for the coming week's event.
FISHING is a favorite of many here, both tourists and residents—there is good fishing at Lake Istokpoga—call Ralph Eaves at Istokpoga Fish Camp in Lake Placid and make arrangements for an exciting and relaxing day of fishing. Incidentally, they have cabins for rent, space for trailers and camping sites are also available.
Flying over Highlands County gives one a big thrill—both from the beauty of the countryside and the sense of soaring in space. If you haven't seen Highlands County from the air, you have really missed something, see this thrilling natural beauty of Florida by calling Shelley Marrs at MARRS AIRCRAFT at the municipal airport in Avon Park NOW!

Junior College Panthers Practice For Opening Game November 19

The South Florida Junior College Panthers are hard at work for their opening game against Florida College of Tampa, November 19. The Panthers took a week off to catch up on some studying after playing four games over the weekend in Tampa. These were in the MacMillan Air Force Tournament, won by the Panthers. Coach Terrell says: "We found some mistakes that need to be corrected. Our boys are still trying to find each other. At times we looked sharp, but at other times we didn't do so well. Our number one problem is studies, and our number two problem is fighting. We will be shorter than any team we play against on our schedule."

Running in two units, the Panthers have as one unit, Skip Gause 6'2", Ray Whitehead 6'2", Rocky Kitchens 6'0", Barry Trawick 6'7", and Junior Gabe 6'9". The other unit consisted of Jeremiah Cooper 6'2", Thomas Williams

The Tysons have a two year old daughter, Clara, who is happy with the arrival of her new sister.

The children from Bonnie Brae were in the Avon Park Halloween parade Saturday. Donna Wright, Benjamin, who was dressed as Batman, and Miss Hollis Casey of Fort Pierce, daughter of Mrs. W. Laughter, with whom they were in Avon Park for the parade.

Melanie Rutherford marched with the Browne Troop.

Luncheon Report

Last week's meeting, October 26, program chairman, Jim Tushnet, introduced ex-Florida coach John Elmer who is now executive director of Gator Football Boosters. Coach Elmer's talk consisted of a series of mostly very humorous stories about football and football players.

Until this year coach Elmer has been a Florida scout (for the past 17 years). Last year, as head scout, he worked the teams of Missouri, Miami, FSU and Auburn, but in 1965 it was dedicated for public use.

R. E. Baines, who served as spokesman for the petitioners, said: "The developer had intended this to be a private park and clubhouse, but in 1959 it was dedicated for public use."

Miss Earl Rich said investigation of the subdivision plat shows that streets, canals and clubhouse, but in 1959 it was dedicated for public use, but the county has never accepted them.

The streets do not meet county specifications, Chairman Skipper said.

Baines strongly denounced a club which he said the residents of Orange Blossom Estates contribute to but which has not carried out maintenance work members desire. County Attorney Hue Kunneler told the delegation that the county commissioners have no jurisdiction over the Florida state, Steve Spurrier. His completion of 90 passes of 137 attempts with only two interceptions, fantastic. He even thought a Rotary team could do better in the interception department against John Elmer. (No wonder coach Elmer is no longer scouting.)

Coach Elmer expressed satisfaction over Florida's victory over FSU and explained that by eliminating Florida he had not really left to FSU two years ago.

Entrance requirements of Florida were discussed. A minimum score of 300 on the college entrance exam is required, and the current average at U. of F. is 407 points.

The football team averages 387 points but yet are above the all student scholastic average.

Coach Elmer attributes this to supervision. No cars are allowed for the players. Every week cards are sent to the instructors of the players for work to the minute assessment of their work. Unless their work is well up, mandatory study hall is held every night.

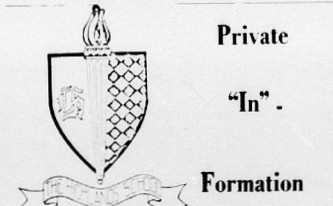

U. of F. is still needed, tutors are provided. All players must be in their rooms at 10 p.m. with "lights out" at 10:30. While it might seem that the young players might resent this type of regulation, the opposite is true.

In addition to Spurrier, the following first year players were singled out: Larry Smith - 6'4", 245 pounds; Jim Yarbrough - 6'6", 236 pounds; Guy Dennis - 6'2", 241 pounds.

Coach Elmer told us how pleased they were with freshman Bobby Coleman.

Coach Elmer left us with the thought that football will make men out of boys, but will not necessarily build character. This must be done by home and church.

Saturday, October 15th, we had our second dance. The Key Club of Sebring High School was invited. We also had our first band to play here.

On the 22nd of October, the entire student body enjoyed a picnic at Highlands Hammock, State Park. Our hosts for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Boylston, parents of Anne Bayliss, a day student in the eighth grade. Mr. Parks, the Park Ranger, took us on a conducted tour of the surrounding territory in the park. He pointed out various spots of interest. Near the end of our tour, Mr. Parks had to ask Clark Blankinship to give a speech to the group. He mounted the train in order to get out of the canal. When we returned to the cooking area, Mrs. Bond and Mr. Norris had a delicious spare rib dinner awaiting us. A number of the girls returned to school immediately after dinner to attend the next event of the evening—a dance at the Avon Elementary School sponsored by the Student Council of Avon Park High School.

Well, our first months are over and I like it. The social and social affairs are just getting into the swing of things. So let's wait and see what the future holds for us. Highlands girls. New and exciting things, we all hope.

25 Road Projects Shared By Five Commission Districts

Highlands County's first county road priority list includes 25 projects divided among the county's five commission districts.

In keeping with recommendations made by the State Auditor, the commissioners adopted a road and bridge policy which stipulates that the commission shall, in October of each year, adopt a priority list of road projects for the fiscal year.

No work may be done on any other road without formal amendment to the approved priority list by the commission.

Although called a priority list the projects have not been given a number to indicate which one will be first and which last, the projects rather are listed according to the type of construction.

Work has begun on some of the projects, and one, the Albright Road in district 3, has been completed. The priority list does not show length of construction in each project.

The completed Albright Road project was grade and base construction.

Other roads in that type are the Roberts Road in district 1; Catfish Creek Road, Henscratch Road, Lafayette Road, all in district 4, and West Josephine Road in district 5.

In the coming 12 months double surface treatment is to be given to the Old Bouncing Range Road, streets in Lake Lillian subdivision, in district 1; Sand Beach, Lake Letta roads in district 2; Marlow Avenue and Thurston Avenue, in district 3, and Deadman's Curve in district 5.

Junior College Panthers Practice For Opening Game November 19

The South Florida Junior College Panthers are hard at work for their opening game against Florida College of Tampa, November 19.

The Panthers took a week off to catch up on some studying after playing four games over the week-end in Tampa. These were in the MacDill Air Force Tournament, won by the Panthers.

Coach Trevel says, "We found some mistakes that need to be corrected. Our boys are still trying to find each other. At times we looked sharp, but at other times we didn't do so well. Our number one problem was in the line. The line is a two problem is tight. We will be shorter than any team we play against on our schedule."

Running in two, the Panthers have as one unit, Skip Gagne, 6'2", Bill Whitehead, 6'3", Rocky Kitchens, 6'0", Barry Truitt, 6'1", and Junior Galt, 6'0". The sub-unit is composed of Jeremiah Cooper, 6'0", Thomas Williams

6'2", Ted Butler, 6'1", Harry Holly, 6'0", and Dale Taylor, 5'10".

The Panthers work out on Monday and Wednesday at the Avon Park High School Gym, and on Tuesday and Thursday at the Hardee High Gym in Wauchula.

The Panthers are members of the Florida Junior College Conference of 25 teams. They are, more precisely, members of Division III. Others in Division III are Manatee of Bradenton, 4,000; Oklawaha, St. Petersburg, 19,000; Polk Junior College, 2,000; Orlando Junior College, 3,000; and Riverview of Cocoa, 2,000, while South Florida Junior College has an enrollment of 338. The Panthers come from Division III will represent it in the state tournament in Panama City in February.

Rifled schedules of the Panthers are out and if you desire one of a dozen, call Coach Trevel at GL 3-6068, or come by the college.

Luncheon Report

Last week's meeting, October 26, program chairman, Jim Turnbull, introduced ex-Florida coach John Elmer who is now executive director of Gator Football Boosters Inc. (Coach Elmer's talk consisted of a series of mostly very humorous stories about football and football players.

Until this year, Coach Elmer has been a Florida coach (for the past 17 years). Last year, as head coach, he worked the teams of Missouri, Miami, FSU and Auburn. He now has no further scouting responsibilities.

Mention was made of University of Florida state, Steve Spurrier. His completion of 90 passes of 137 attempts with only two interceptions is fantastic. He even thought the Rotary team could do better in the interception department against John Units. (No wonder, Coach Elmer is no longer scouting.)

Coach Elmer expressed satisfaction over Florida's victory over FSU and explained that by eliminating cheating, Florida had not really lost FSU two years ago.

Entrance requirements of Florida were discussed. A minimum score of 300 on the college entrance exam is required, and the current average at U of F, is 407 points.

The football team averages 387 points but yet are above the all student scholastic average.

Coach Elmer attributes this to supervision. No cars are allowed for the players. Every week cards are sent to the instructors of the players for up to the minute assessment of their work. Unless their work is well up, mandatory study hall is held every night. If help is still needed, tutors are provided. All players must be in their rooms at 10 p.m. with "lights out" at 10:30 p.m. While it might seem that the young players might resent this, type of regulation, the opposite is true.

The following first year players were singled out: Larry Smith, 6'4", 216 pounds; Jim Yarbrough, 6'0", 236 pounds; Guy Dennis, 6'2", 241 pounds. Coach Elmer told us how pleased they were with freshman Bobby Coleman.

Coach Elmer left us with the thought that football will make men out of boys, but will not necessarily build character. This must be done by home and church.

Parade and Carnival By Junior Woman's Club A Great Success

Commissioners

Orange Blossom Estates came in person with their petition asking that the board accept maintenance of a public park and community clubhouse in the subdivision.

R. E. Barnes, who served as spokesman for the petitioners, said, "The developer had intended this to be a private park and clubhouse, but in the end it was dedicated for public use."

Clerk Earl Rich said investigation of the subdivision put the streets, canals, and park have been dedicated for public use, but the county has never accepted them.

"The streets do not meet county specifications," Chairman Skipper said.

Barnes strongly denounced a club which he said the residents of Orange Blossom Estates contribute to but which has not carried out its responsibilities.

He urged the members to desire County Attorney Hue Nunnallee to the delegation that the county commission has no jurisdiction over the club and if members wish to dissolve it—as they present Tuesday said in their wish-action would have to begin with the Florida Secretary of State and may move into a Circuit Court proceeding.

The Orange Blossom Estates delegation said consideration has been given to seeking creation of a special tax district so residents may raise money for community improvements in the subdivision.

"A special tax district would cost no more than our club membership now does," Barnes commented. "We are eager to see improvements started so that property owners newly arrived will not leave and go to other Florida counties like so many have done after their first visit to Orange Blossom Estates."

Chairman Skipper promised the petitioners that the commissioners would study the petition and consider the steps to be taken in obtaining a school in the area.

Good Sidewalk

Petitioners from Fred Wild, DeSoto City School Parent Teacher Association were told that the State Road Department has promised that the sidewalks to Fred Wild School will be restored and kept in good walking and bike riding condition.

Some of the sidewalks to the school have been used by the Highlands Avenue improvement project. PTA members present Tuesday were concerned that the project may leave a drop-off which would make bike riding hazardous, but the Road Department spokesman said the slope will be a two-inch drop per foot of paving.

Two other petitions did not fare well. Some residents of Citrus Lake Colony requested the county to accept the two streets in the subdivision for maintenance. The commissioners refused since the streets are not paved as required by county specifications for subdivision streets.

A petition bearing approximately 50 signatures, protested the use of Lake Henry by a commercial boat sale company. Port Charlotte Marina is operating at the Lake, and its petition claims, in their demonstrations of the power and speed of boats making the area noisy and dangerous.

The commissioners said the marina operation might be in violation of subdivision's deed restrictions. The petition did not have a signature from the subdivision's board decided it would not attempt to send letters to each of the petition signers explaining that the proper recourse would be through Circuit Court.

In other business Tuesday the commissioners agreed to paint the voting building in Precinct 6.

Received the Sheriff's Department annual report.

Accepted a bid from a M Corp. for a copying machine, table and service, the bid (only one submitted) totalled approximately $1,800.

Approved the Sheriff's transferring from other funds a total of $6,000 into the investigation account.

Voted to request permission from the State Road Department to install a deceleration lane along the East side of Highway 27 at the entrance to Josephine Heights.

In making the announcement, Mr. Bond stated that the bank would now be in a position to render every type of service a commercial bank can offer to better serve the public.

County Soil Board Appeals To Land Owners To Re-Organize

Highlands County Soil Conservation District Board has issued an appeal for an immediate reorganization of land owners in the Upper Josephine-Jackson Watershed area.

All preliminary work has been completed and the third phase of this large project ready for contract by June 30 if the local group is to retain claim to approximately a half million dollars in federal help.

The entire Josephine-Jackson project includes three phases, but the third phase is as large as the first two combined. Since it passes through some urban-type development it involves a larger number of land owners than small watershed projects often do.

C. M. Payne is chairman of the land owner group which has worked to obtain right-of-way and money for the third phase, but being carried on by the late W. Macey, secretary-treasurer of the land owner organization.

At its monthly meeting on Tuesday the Soil Conservation District Board, composed with the county commissioners of the watershed projects, drafted a letter to land owners urging reorganization.

"We have enough time to prepare this phase for contract," Sam Polston of the soil conservation staff explained, "but we cannot delay at all. We shall need every minute to get ready by the June 30 deadline."

"The letter will alert the owners to the fact that we could lose the federal money appropriated for this project," he said.

Robert Ford attended the funeral of his friend, Wesley Watley, on Tuesday. Watley was crushed in a train accident Sunday. The funeral was held at the First Baptist Church in Sebring.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hager Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. John Baldwin of Lake Wales, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hager of Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Douglas of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart of Avon Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pakes, Jacksonville, were back in Avon Park for the winter and called on their old friends and neighbors, the Lassies, Monday night.

Over five million dollars have been spent for research by the National Multiple Sclerosis Society since its inception. The money is being used to support a recent Society report.

No work may be done on any other road without formal

amendment to the approved priority list by the commission.

Although called a priority list the projects have not been given a number to indicate which one will be first and which last, the projects rather are listed according to the type of construction.

Work has begun on some of the projects, and one, the Albritton Road in district 3, has been completed. The priority list does not show length of construction in each project.

The completed Albritton Road project was grade and base construction.

Other roads in that type are the Roberts Road in district 1; Catfish Creek Road, Henshaw Road, Lattimore Road, all in district 4, and West Josephine Road in district 5.

In the coming 12 months double surface treatment is to be given to the Old Bombing Range Road, streets in Lake Lillian subdivision, in district 1; Sand Beach, Lake Letta roads in district 2; Marlow Avenue and Thurston Avenue, in district 3, and Deadman's Curve in district 5.

Avon Park Schools Observe Education Week

Mrs. Ellis' first grade class has composed an experience story about a live rabbit in their room. Children sometimes can learn to read by telling stories that they have developed from their own thoughts. The story has meaning to them personally when it is written down and they can read it to you.

Y - Y - Y the Yo - Yo sound
Y makes the Yo - Yo sound.

This is the new letter and sound Mrs. Watts' first graders are learning. The children also use Singing Sound records, games and word sounding activities. Learning sounds can be fun.

Once again the schools of Avon Park will be in the spotlight as parents visit their children's classrooms during American Education Week, November 6-12.

Sponsored annually by the National Education Association, Florida Education Association, The American Legion, The National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the U. S. Office of Education, American Education Week reminds each citizen that good schools, are, to a very high degree, his own responsibility. The promotion of quality education adds up to "Human Dignity," "To Rational Thinking," "To a Creative Spirit," "To Self Balance," "To Economic Competence," "To Informed Citizenship," and "To Life-Long Opportunity."

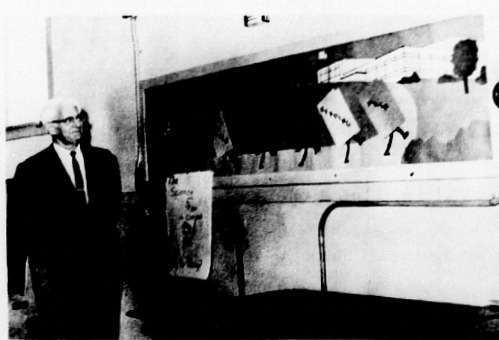

This year, the theme for the week's activities is "Education Adds Up" and 32 million parents across the country are expected to visit their schools to see how education adds up.

Avon Elementary invites your attendance at the following events:

School Visitation Day—Nov. 8, 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Parent Teachers Association—Nov. 10, 8 p.m.

Parent Conference Day—Nov. 11, 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

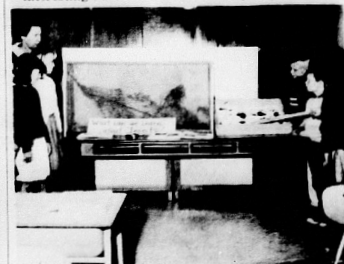

GEORGE KELSEY, Principal of Avon Park Elementary School is shown in one of the classrooms, observing some of the subjects taught there, displayed on the blackboard.

He will be observing National Educational Week, next week, along with other educators in the area. — (Sun Photo)

Once a week boys and girls visit the library to learn library skills. Here the boys and girls of Mrs. Halvorson's third grade room are enjoying some of the interesting adventure stories of the past.

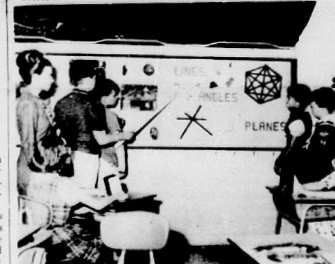

Insect interest is high in Mrs. Everett's fourth grade room. In the insect laboratory they have watched a big green larvae found on the poinsettia bushes change to the pupa stage and emerge as a large Sphinx moth. They are now watching a mass of tent caterpillars for the emergence of a small white moth.

The students in Mrs. Metheny's second grade have been observing animal motion in science. In art they have been drawing and painting pictures of the animals studied. Then in music they sing songs about these same animals.

Mrs. Allen's sixth grade room has been studying the contributions of ancient Greece.

The children of Miss Harrison's fifth grade are examining geometric figures and shapes to develop basic fundamentals. This is an outgrowth of their TV lessons.

The children of grades 3, 4, 5, and 6 are busy learning the skills of Volley Ball. Several classes are able to play simultaneously under the supervision of Miss Karrick and Mrs. Miracle.

WHEREAS, The schools touch the lives of all citizens at that period when they are most receptive to ideas and capable of forming attitudes; and

WHEREAS, The consequent importance of the schools to the future of America and of her individual citizens means that no citizen of these times can afford indifference to or ignorance of the condition and quality of education in the nation or in the local community;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, E. A. DeLaney, Sr., Mayor of the City of Avon Park, Florida, do hereby designate November 6-12, 1966, to be American Education Week and urge all citizens to take this opportunity to inform themselves about the achievements, programs, and goals of our schools; to relocate themselves to the provision of the best possible education for every citizen.

LIFE WITH A PURPOSE

"The Lord comes, who will bring light to things now hidden in darkness and will disclose the purpose of the heart." I Cor. 4:5.

A railroad president was watching a workman as the tapped wheels on freight cars. A foreman said: "This man has been tapping wheels for thirty years." "Fine," replied the president. He turned to the workman and asked: "What do you tap them for?" He was surprised to receive this answer: "Can't say as I know." It is possible for one to become so engrossed in routine work as to forget the purpose of it. Work without purpose becomes drudgery. This truth holds for life generally.

The realization of purpose in what a man does makes his activity a joy rather than a chore. This is so in the realm of spiritual activity as well as in the world of manual toil. Einstein pointed out the importance of moral or spiritual purpose in these words: "To bring beauty and brotherhood into life is the chief end of man and the highest happiness."

We believe that having a purpose for the guidance of action in life is divine. It runs like a varied-colored thread through all creation. It is not surprising that we read in Isaiah 46:11 that God said: "I have purposed and I will do it."

You will remember that Jesus set forth what he purposed in his ministry: "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to preach good news to the poor. He has sent me to proclaim release to the captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those who are oppressed, to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord." St. Luke 4:18. We know that he did what he set out to do.

Jane Addams noticed that the houses were ugly and small in shanty town sections of Freeport. When she asked her father why, he gave this answer to his eight year old daughter: "Because they have no money to live in better places." Jane replied: "When I'm a grown-up lady, I'm going to live in a great big house, but I don't want it to be near other mansions. I want to live right next door to poor people, and the children can play in my yard." "That's a fine plan," he encouraged her. "I hope you will carry it out some day." She did. In 1889, at the age of 23, she founded her world famous social settlement, Hull House.

She succeeded in the realization of the high purpose of her life in spite of handicaps. Tuberculosis of the spine crippled her in youth and forced her to spend months in a plaster cast, strapped in a steel ribbed leather jacket. She, who knew what it was to suffer, gave her life to lift suffering from poverty-stricken people and their children. She worked so effectively for peace, after the outbreak of World War I, that she was awarded the Nobel Prize with this tribute: "In honoring Miss Addams we also pay homage to the work which women can do for the cause of peace and fraternity among nations. Her quiet personality creates an atmosphere of good will, which instinctively calls forth the best in all of us." Through her 75 years she moved to greatness by following a vision she had had as a child.

There is nothing more shareable nor more worthwhile, than the things of the mind, the spirit and the heart. I realized this quite vividly as I sat talking to a corporation lawyer in Akron, Ohio. When he learned that I had attended Yale Divinity School, he said: "Then you know Dean Charles Reynolds Brown?" I assured him that I had had a class under Dean Brown. His face brightened, his eyes became moist as he said: "My Mother taught Dean Brown as a boy in her Sunday School class." Little did she realize what the extension of her influence would be through the work of a great and good man. To him she might have said:

"Take thou the splendor, carry it out of sight.
Into the great new age I must not know
Into the great new realm I must not tread."

The investment of life in young people is a goal that many people have in view. There is a poem about one of them. The man was old yet he had built a bridge. He was rebuked by a fellow pilgrim because of the uselessness of building a bridge when one's journey is about over. The old man had a purpose in mind, however, when he built the bridge.

"The builder lifted his old, gray head—
"Good friend, in the path I have come,"
he said.

There followeth after me today,
A youth whose feet must pass this way.
This chasm that has been as naught to me
To that fair-haired youth may a pitfall be;
He, too, must cross in the twilight dim—
Good friend, I am building this bridge for him."

The day is coming says Paul when "the purpose of the heart will be disclosed. It is important for you and I to take the measure of the purpose we have in view and to pray God that it will be acceptable in his sight. "A man's a Christian" says Paul Scherer, "when he refuses to take anything in his own hands and keep it there. He takes it to lay in God's hands." "Every man" says Paul, "according as he purposeth in his heart." II Cor. 9:7.

Dr. Hill Warns Of Poisonous Chemicals

According to Dr. William F. Hill of the Highlands County Health Department, "lighter fluid, kerosene, gasoline and related substances continue to be reported as causes of accidental poisoning among children. Over 2,000 cases of children under five years of age swallowing lighter fluid were reported last year."

Dr. Hill pointed out that lighter fluid, kerosene and gasoline were chemically related, flammable liquids known as hydrocarbons. Most are poisonous to humans, and even relatively small amounts are toxic to children. Though most cases are not fatal, swallowing usually produces a severe illness marked by nausea, vomiting, cough and loose stools, sometimes bloody. The most serious consequence is a form of pneumonia caused by the substance coming into contact with lung tissue.

Dr. Hill stressed that prompt medical attention is necessary. "If you suspect that a child has swallowed any of these substances, rush him to a hospital without delay."

The doctor emphasized that these chemicals should be stored safely within the home. He suggested that they be kept in tightly capped or closed metal cans that cannot break, and out of reach and sight of children.

"The best precaution against accidental poisoning by flammable liquids," Dr. Hill stated, "is to store them where children cannot get to them."

State Allots $95,557 For County Schools

State Comptroller Fred O. Dickinson Jr., announced the release of $21,145,652 in state funds for the operation of county schools and junior colleges in Florida. Of the total figure $95,557 will be distributed to Highlands County Schools, for grades one through 12.

The money, a monthly release to county boards of public instruction, was $893,045 more than the release for October, 1965.

Of the total, $19,097,772 went for kindergartens, elementary and secondary schools in the state's 67 counties, said Dickinson.

Of this sum, $16,675,506 came from the minimum foundation program. An additional $2,424,266 came from the county school sales tax fund, Dickinson noted.

The remaining $2,045,880 went to school boards in 25 counties for junior college functions. This money was made up of sums from the minimum foundation program, the sales tax fund and special appropriations.

PLEASE DON'T NAIL SIGNS ON UTILITY POLES!

HERE'S WHY... A single nail, tack, or staple can cause serious injury—or death—to a lineman.

When a lineman must climb a pole to repair a utility line, he depends on his "hooks" for a sure footing—by digging them into the wood. A nail can cause him to slip and fall.

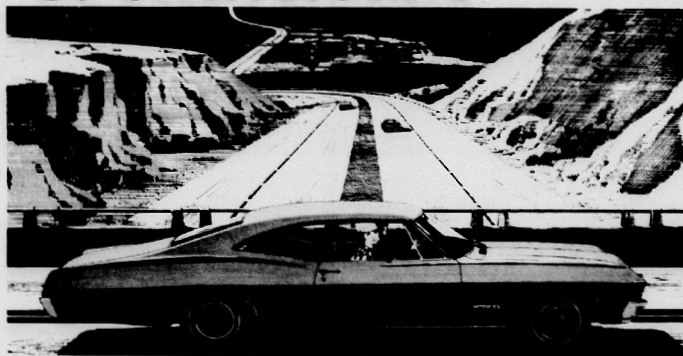

His hands, arms, legs can also be severely cut and damaged by nails, tacks, and staples in a pole.

A lineman works faithfully to provide you with the safety, comfort, convenience, and help electric power brings. He looks out for you... and now that you realize the danger, we know you'll look out for him—by never driving metal of any kind into a utility pole.

To do so is illegal—the law tries to protect him. But only you can safeguard him against this hazard. We know you will... and we'll appreciate it!

HAWAII

Our new outdoor, these islands combine the best features of Florida and California and add to them a touch of the East and the languorous life of the primitive South seas. There's nothing like it anywhere.

NASSAU

Delightful island city in the Bahamas, less than an hour away from Miami or Ft. Lauderdale. Distinctly British in flavor, with many smart shops, luxurious hotels and beautiful beaches, snowy white beside crystal clear waters. An ideal "out of the country" vacation spot.

Grand Bahama Club

A typical trip includes a fishing trip, 18 hole golf club, sightseeing and strolling. Wonderful for the "out-of-doors" type.

WHERE ARE YOU GOING? I hope all of you are going to the Plaza and vote on November 1st. Exercise this privilege that gives you the opportunity to select your government leaders. With the crescendo building up in Politics, tempers hot, it is important to take time out to relax every now and then.

For good dining, let us suggest George's COPPERTOP STEAK HOUSE on U.S. 27 in Lake Wales. Try their real delicious char-broiled steak with all the trimmings, you'll love it.

Another excellent restaurant in the area is THE HIGHLANDER RESTAURANT and LOUNGE on Alt. 27 North in Lake Wales. Their menu carries your favorite dishes plus the extra special citrus items that have earned them an award. All of these citrus specialties are of course made from different Florida citrus, try one once and you will be back for an encore.

Last call is out for that extra special of All the Lobster you can eat at the TOWER VIEW RESTAURANT on U.S. 27 in Lake Placid. This is the final week Lobster Lovers. Naturally, there are many, many other tantalizing items on the menu to delight your palate.

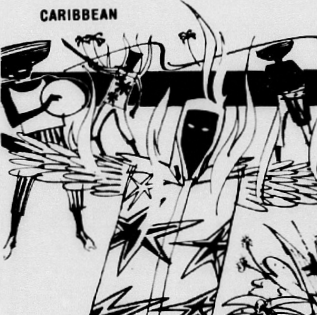

In Winter Haven, Nick Christy's SUNDOWN RESTAURANT features many luncheon specialties and one of the men's favorite for dinner is Kansas City Steak, broiled to perfection, whether you like it rare, medium rare or well done. Sea Food lovers Nick features ocean fresh seafood — try the seafood platter. A special menu for the kiddies, that they will enjoy.

For entertainment and dancing with your favorite drink, we have Frank Wiesner's EL CID LOUNGE in Ft. Meade. The Go-Go Girls are still packing them in. Johnny Kragom is at the Keyboard at the Coppertop Lounge for listening or dancing pleasure. The Chase Lounge at Nick Christy's Restaurant in Winter Haven has for your entertainment Jayne and Tony Mark thru this weekend. Starting Monday, November 7th, Top ranking accordionist Gino Martino will present his exciting new sounds of his accordion showcase. You have enjoyed him on the Ed Sullivan and Arthur Godfrey shows.

Movie goes on the local cinema, HILANS THEATRE in Avon Park we have the offerings of well known movie stars, Peter Onofa and Nancy Sinatra in "The Wild Angels." Incidentally, this is not for children. This feature will play tonight thru Saturday. Starting Sunday, we have Rock Hudson in the film "Seconds." This is a hair raising film with suspense mixed with the bizarre — a real chiller for the mystery lovers.

At the SEVON DRIVE IN on Alt. 27, we have a Hitchcock thriller "Torn Curtain" that won't disappoint the Hitchcock fans. This will play thru Saturday, and don't forget Thursday thru Saturday only $1.00 per carload. Starting Sunday, we have How to Steal a Million. I didn't know anyone had a million left after taxes, should prove interesting, don't you think? Audrey Hepburn and Peter O'Toole are in this comedy. Come out to the airport in Avon Park and get a thrill flying — call Shelley Marks and make your appointment now for learning how to pilot a plane — as many pilots will tell you, flying is never a bore.

Save time to enjoy some local live talent in Avon Park, coming soon—Real fun "Funapoppin."

DICK PELLING, 25, a member of the London police force, leads his wife, the former Sandra White, under an arch of police truncheons as they leave the church after being married in London. Dick's wife also works for the police so their friends on the force decided to provide this unusual guard of honor.

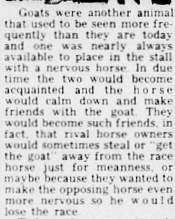

The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

I read a news item some time ago about a police officer being called to get a goat off a roof where it had climbed to escape from a dog, and this was the headline: "Get My Goat, Officer Pleads."

Much more frequently we hear the expression "get my goat" used figuratively. I once heard a public speaker say, "The measure of a man is what it takes to get his goat."

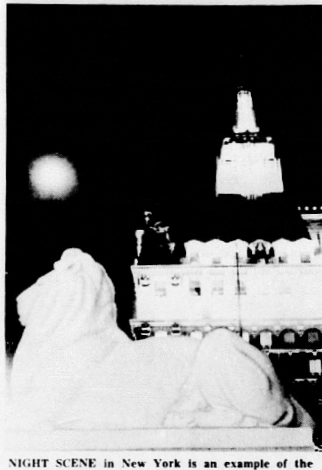

What really gets my goat is that some authorities try to link this expression to a scapegoat, and that is not the origin at all. A long time ago when we had more horses than cars, people also engaged in more horse racing than they do today. A race horse is frequently nervous, and when placed in a strange stall, in a strange barn, the horse was apt to become panicky.

Goats were another animal that used to be seen more frequently than they are today and one was nearly always available to place in the stall with a nervous horse. In due time the two would become acquainted and the horse would calm down and make friends with the goat. They would become such friends, in fact, that rival horse owners would sometimes steal or "get the goat" away from the race horse just for meanness, or maybe because they wanted to make the opposing horse even more nervous so he would lose the race.

Today, when we get one's goat, it merely means that we annoyed, angered or irritated someone.

Fred: "Those musical horns scare me half to death."
Ed: "Why?"
Fred: "Well, the guy who ran off with my wife had one on his car and every time I hear one I think he's bringing her back."

NIGHT SCENE in New York is an example of the unexpected beauty to be found in the big city. Soaring lights of the Empire State Building and nearby structure form a glowing backdrop for a stone lion on the public library steps.

The Automobile Legal Assn. says it's better to get plastered at home than all over the road.

How do you like the Tennessee Stone on The Tropical Bank & Trust Company building Now? Stone furnished by Hart Memorials.

The Highlands School

Third School Founded By National Educator

Col. Leslie Charles Blankinship, President and Educational Administrator of The Highlands School was born in Buckingham, Virginia. He received his A.B. degree at Lynchburg College, Lynchburg, Virginia, and completed his graduate study at the University of Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Blankinship

(the former Elizabeth Haye) have two children. Their daughter Martha (Mrs. Raymond Stokes) is the teacher of Art and Home Economics at The Highlands School. Their son Leslie Scott "Scotty" is a junior at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

The Colonel's experience in the field of education and administration most certainly qualifies him for his present position. He has taught and coached in high schools in the following cities: Gordonsville, Randolph Macon and Front Royal, Virginia; also in Lexington, North Carolina.

Other past duties include: Director of Physical Education of the YMCA at Roanoke and Lynchburg, Virginia; General Secretary at the YMCA in Dayton, Ohio, and President of the Millersburg, Kentucky Military Institute.

He founded the Carolina Military Academy of Maxton, North Carolina in 1962 and is now the owner and president. In 1964 he founded Vardell Hall in Red Springs, North Carolina, and is President of the Board of Directors. The Highlands School was founded by Blankinship in September of this year.

Additional points of interest reveal that he is a member of the Executive Committee and President of the National Defense Cadet Corps School; he served with AUS (Intelligence) from 1942-1946; he is a member of the Civil War Round Table and serves on the Executive Committee; his church membership is with the Christian Church, and he is a 32nd degree Mason and a member of the Rotary Club.

Administrator

Raymond H. Stokes is a native of South Carolina where he attended high school. He graduated from junior college at Palm Beach, Florida and attended Lynchburg College in Lynchburg, Virginia where he received his degree. Immediately after graduating he became a member of the staff of Carolina Military Academy at Maxton, North Carolina. When Vardell Hall was organized in 1963, he was made Director of Admissions and served as Dean of the college department. On July 1, Stokes assumed his duties as Executive Vice President of The Highlands School.

The Highlands School

The Highlands School was organized in March 1966 on the grounds which for many years served as the Pinecrest Lakes Club. Many visitors to the campus have commented nostalgically on the memorable social evenings spent there, however, they find that the interior has been greatly changed with the advent of the school.

The same Mediterranean architecture is apparent as they round the drive in front of the school. The Mediterranean and Spanish themes are carried out in the interior furnishing in the main parlor, small parlor and vice president's office.

In the main parlor the fruit-wood furniture is of Spanish design, carried out in the credenzas, abbey's chair, cane back chair, sofa, wing chair, lamps and tables; projecting color scheme of gold and green. Accents of handmade Flemish flower arrangements, Persian fruit and gold quilted candle holder are found in the parlor and main hall, which is covered by an oriental rug. The same color scheme continues in the small parlor with a large coffee table of Spanish design flanked by matching chairs.

A second oriental rug carpets the floor of the office of the vice president. Accenting the beauty of the rug is a traditional sofa with a woven Spanish design on each of the three back cushions, Spanish design desk and chair, occasional cane back chairs upholstered in blue corduroy, bunching tables and various wrought iron pieces. Among the decorative items in the room is an oil painting done in the early 1900's, beautifully set off by a wide gold frame. Over a black and glass wrought iron table hangs Mr. Stokes' collection of pictures of famous women wearing the various types of dress from the representative periods. Gracing the end table by the sofa is a figurine done after Michaelangelo's "Moses."

Leading from the main parlor is the wide, curving, carpeted staircase to the second floor dining room. This lovely room, with its exposed beams, picture windows overlooking the lake and golf course, and wide stone fireplace at either end offers a peaceful setting for the meals at The Highlands School.

Off the dining room is the Assembly Hall containing a baby grand piano and organ. Immediate plans call for a stage to be constructed at one end of the Assembly Hall.

In the dormitory wing of the school, the furnishing in the pastel colored rooms are French Provincial, Modern Traditional, or Italian Provincial. Many of the rooms have french doors leading to individual balconies. Individuality is maintained by the students with their personal "treasures" and you may be assured that no two rooms are alike.

In 1912 Carolina College was established on the grounds now occupied by Carolina Military Academy. In 1929, the college was purchased by the Presbyterian Church and re-organized as Presbyterian Junior College. It operated under this name until 1961.

when it combined with other Presbyterian colleges to form the new St. Andrew's Presbyterian College in Laurinburg, North Carolina. During the year a second re-organization of the school took place under the direction of Col. Leslie C. Blankinship, its new president.

Of course you can't. A child is priceless. Yet, it is very important that you calculate her worth in dollars and cents. Does that sound incongruous? It's not. although they controlled the ball most of the quarter. Early in the fourth period Naples moved to the Avon Park 27-yard line only two yards short of a first down but a five yard penalty (the only penalty they received all night) moved them back and caused the drive to come to a stop. Naples moved to Avon Park's 30-yard line minutes later after the Devils couldn't move the ball and moved out to the Eagle 25-yard line. The Devils drove moved 45 yards before the Devil defense could stop it at the 30.

But at that point Avon Park caught fire and drove 70 yards for the third Devil touchdown. Harold Callaway went around left end and dashed 30 yards for the score. A penalty on the Devils back to the seven as Mory dropped back and tossed a one point pass to John Wright in the end zone and not Avon Park out front 20-6 letting the Devil fans breath deeply for the first time since Naples had scored.

Avon Park's next score came after linebacker Earl Sims intercepted a Naples pass on the Eagle 44-yard line and returned it to the 33-yard stripe. The speedy back almost went all the way but couldn't regain his balance after grabbing the pass and fell with no opposing around. The Devils were hot, however, and moved in seven plays for the final TD with Callaway sprinting from the 19 to the one foot line and then hailing over the middle of the line for the six pointer. Lemmie's try for the PAT was no good leaving the score 26-6. Naples tied four incomplete passes at the close of the game and the Devils were in possession of the ball when the final whistle blew.

Formation

This past weekend featured "dance time" again for the girls at The Highlands School. This dance involved a bus trip to Florida Central Academy in Sebring, Fla. where a group of students were the invited guests of the academy. The trip was long and the hour late when the bus returned but it was all worth the effort and long hours.

The bulletin board at school is full of announcements for meetings and practices. One of the most important events of the week will take place on Saturday, Nov. 12 at 8 p.m. when the "Miss Highlands School" winner will be selected. Although this is not primarily a beauty contest, all the contestants are paying particular attention to hairdos and don'ts this week. We hope the residents of the surrounding communities will visit our school and enjoy the pageant and intermission entertainment. October 30 found all the students in the Florida State Exams. The bright-eyed girls who started out that morning emerged haggard and worn in the afternoon, but thankful that another day of tests was over and behind them.

Sundays warming trend brought out the bathing beauties around the pool and the skiers on the lake. Certainly it was different from the two or three days before when the most often heard remark from the students was, "Are you sure this is Florida?"

Large Delegation

The School Superintendent's office was crowded for the board meeting and most of the audience had questions about the bond issue and school construction program. For more than an hour the school board, Superintendent and school construction program. The subject was, "Juvenile Problems," special emphasis on the part of the County Court, Juvenile counselor, and the local police all play in resolving this problem. The judge quoted much of the Florida State Code No. 39 which is part of the State Juvenile concern arising as late as 1951. The practical application of the many facets of the law is hindered by the overcrowding of the courts with other matters. In our county alone there were in 1965, 349 adult cases in addition to the 234 juvenile cases. A juvenile is a person 17 or under.

The judge brought out the relation between the police and the Juvenile Counselor - the former arrest, the latter takes over afterward and does the case work and takes responsibility for confinement. Until we obtained a house for use as a Detention Home, minors were held in jail or in the home of the judge or counselor.

Now the Detention Home, just west of Sebring, takes care of up to 15 youngsters at a time. A county drive is about to take off for funds to build a new home much better suited to this special type of care. It is to be remembered that not all the youth cared for are delinquent; many are sent to county care because of broken family life or other tragedy. The County Juvenile Counselor has complete charge of the home and its operation in addition to his other duties in the judge's office. Out of the 2nd juvenile cases last year, 62 were dependency cases.

Juvenile problems are not the concern of one or two county departments or local police, but also the deep concern of every citizen. Prevention is the product of good family life, school spirit, youth activities and recreation, and such groups as the Boy Scouts.

Last week's program, Nov. 2, Pastor Herb Gratz, beginning his November series, introduced the Hon. Merwin Reber, Highlands County Judge, a well-known friend to this club and a former Roman himself.

The subject was, "Juvenile Problems," special emphasis on the part of the County Court, Juvenile counselor, and the local police all play in resolving this problem. The judge quoted much of the Florida State Code No. 39 which is part of the State Juvenile concern arising as late as 1951. The practical application of the many facets of the law is hindered by the overcrowding of the courts with other matters. In our county alone there were in 1965, 349 adult cases in addition to the 234 juvenile cases. A juvenile is a person 17 or under.

The judge brought out the relation between the police and the Juvenile Counselor - the former arrest, the latter takes over afterward and does the case work and takes responsibility for confinement. Until we obtained a house for use as a Detention Home, minors were held in jail or in the home of the judge or counselor.

Now the Detention Home, just west of Sebring, takes care of up to 15 youngsters at a time. A county drive is about to take off for funds to build a new home much better suited to this special type of care. It is to be remembered that not all the youth cared for are delinquent; many are sent to county care because of broken family life or other tragedy. The County Juvenile Counselor has complete charge of the home and its operation in addition to his other duties in the judge's office. Out of the 2nd juvenile cases last year, 62 were dependency cases.

Juvenile problems are not the concern of one or two county departments or local police, but also the deep concern of every citizen. Prevention is the product of good family life, school spirit, youth activities and recreation, and such groups as the Boy Scouts.

Army National Guard To Hold Practice Alert

Major General Henry W. McMillan, The Adjutant General of Florida, announced today that the Florida Army National Guard will conduct a state-wide practice test alert between December 1-15.

General McMillan said, "The purpose of the practice alert is to evaluate the effectiveness of our mobilization plans and test the troops' ability to assemble rapidly when called upon to render assistance to our State or Nation in event of emergency or national disaster. In the trying times that exist today, we must be assured of the readiness of our National Guard."

The practice alert will come without warning. General McMillan went on to say, and will be called during early evening hours. The cooperation of employers in permitting guardsmen working night shifts to report to their units will materially assist in the evaluation.

The call alerting the Florida Army National Guard will originate in the Headquarters of the Military Department, State of Florida in St. Augustine.

Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, eighteen in the B Class turned out to play in the tournament. They played one round, then it rained. The A Class played at 6:30 with 26 playing. The winners in the main event were Charles Fenstermaker and Hazel Thompson, the runners-up were Ota Gibson and Alta Robinson. Consolation winners were Duke Christensen and Louise Bell against Chris Cabezas and Grace Walker.

On Saturday there were five and a half courts in play in the B Class, and eight courts in the A Class. Ray Johnson and Burdette Howard won in the main event in the B Class with Blaine Kerr and Ralph Crocker runners-up. R. Elias Roenneburg and Bernice Tingley won in consolation over Elmo Cornue and Harold Wolcott. In the A Class Gertrude Fensterman and Harold Wilde won over Tom Clarke and Ruth Jordan. Consolation winners were Kate McAlexander and Ota Gibson over Dorothy Wilde and Elizabeth Clarke.

There were a goodly number of new members at the supper Saturday evening. It is a real good way to get acquainted, everyone is so friendly, and of course the good food is an attraction.

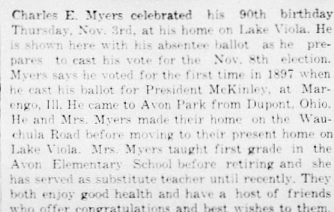

One of the attractions of the club is the Sunday afternoon Hymn Sing. It is good to have it get started. Edna Henderson led the group with Mildred Long at the piano. Among the hymns sung were "How Great Thou Art" and "I Love To Tell The Story." The next session will be November 20.

Mr. Cyrus Senger will show pictures Thursday evening of his trip through Kansas, Minnesota, Michigan and back to his home in Indiana. Pictures will include a pageant in Pipestone, Minn., of "The Songs of Hiawatha," the Mackinac Bridge and the Eisenhower Museum. The picture he will show is called "Retire and Travel."

Four members of the club are in the hospital, Ethel Kime with a broken wrist, Frank Junn and Jim and Margaret Brown. We wish them all a speedy return to health.

The Ed Comforts guests Tuesday, Nov. 1, were Mrs. Grass, an old friend from Cattail, N. C., and Miss Ray from Burnsville, both enroute to their Ft. Lauderdale Winter home.

Lu Strick had surgery last Thursday and is convalescing in room 125 at Walker Memorial. Hope it won't be very long before you are out of bed, neighbor.

Last week, the Pestles of Dunedin, were overnight guests of Sam and Rosa Walton, and on Thursday all made a trip to Orlando in the Walton car.

Carl and Lila Wertzbar just received word of a new great grandson in the family, born to their grandson Mike and wife Sandy of Jackson, Mich. This is their first child, but makes the 11th great grandchild of the Wertzbars.

The Art Wilmonts, from Holiday Mobile Park in Lakeland, former residents in Southland, were recent visitors to old friends and neighbors.

John Breyer recently suffered an accident at his New Jersey home, falling from a ladder and shattering the bones in the upper arm. Their plans for another Winter in Florida will depend on state of their health, but if they do come, they will be by train, as he can no longer drive the car.

Louise Garrison's friends, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gaith of Rochester, N. Y., who purchased the Dow mobile home some time ago, are expected soon. We are indeed happy to see them and hope they will be at Southland this Fall, and sincerely welcome their becoming a part of our large family.

There will be a dance at the Post Home in Sebring on Veteran's Day, Friday night, from 9 p.m. till 1 a.m. with music by the Melotones. The proceeds from this dance will be used to sponsor memberships for our boys serving in Vietnam and other recognized areas.

All members are asked to support this worthy cause. Donations for the dance will be $1.00 per person.

THOUGHTS FOR VETERAN'S DAY

"In his days did Hiel the Bethelite build Jericho: he laid the foundation thereof with the loss of Abraham his firstborn, and set up the gates thereof in his youngest son Segub..." I Kings 16:34.

We have made progress in America but not without sacrifice. We have built on the blood, sweat and tears of men and women who have lived, toiled, fought, bled and died for America since the beginning.

If we go back in the history of Israel, we discover that when Joshua laid waste to the city of Jericho, he placed a curse on anyone who would attempt to rebuild it: "Cursed be the man that rebuilds this city. At the cost of his firstborn shall he lay its foundation, and at the cost of his youngest son shall he set up its gates." Joshua 6:26. Why this curse? We suppose it was because of the stubborn resistance of the citizens of Jericho against the invading Israelites.

The plain on which the ancient city of Jericho stood was very fertile. It was enclosed by mountains and bisected by the Jordan river. Josephus called the place divine; he said that no other place compared to it for climate. It was only natural that some stout-hearted, farseeing individual would try to rebuild the city. At long last Hiel the Bethelite determined to take the risk.

Hiel succeeded in rebuilding Jericho but he did so at the cost of two of his sons. It is written that he laid the foundation with the loss of Abraham his firstborn, and set up the gates with the loss of his youngest son Segub. Jericho became again a great and a thriving city.

This story has meaning for us today, for it is universally true that no great undertaking has been accomplished without sacrifice. That is how our country has grown. It has come to its present position of power and influence in the world through the sacrifice of its sons and daughters. Its foundations have been laid on lives laid down. There is the story of Nathan Hale. He taught school after his graduation from Yale University in 1773. "I love my employment," he wrote "his friends in New Haven. In July of 1776 he resigned to accept a commission in the Revolutionary Army. In September of 1776 he volunteered for a dangerous mission behind the enemy lines. He was captured and executed as a spy. What he said then is known to every school child in America: "My only regret is that I have but one life to give for my country." Dean Weigle of Yale University says in his volume "American Idealism": "Hale is a fine example of an American type that has persisted from the 18th century to the present. It was no accident that such a man should volunteer for a dangerous mission, and should give his life for the ideals he held dear." Not the first and earliest sons alone, however, but also by the sacrifice of the youngest and latest born.

Out of the struggle in Korea, for instance, came a letter written by Pfc. John J. McCormick, a paratrooper, addressed to his six-year-old daughter Rose Marie McCormick and her three-year-old sister Joan. He wrote: "I want you both to know that I'd be with you if I could, but there are a lot of bad men in the world and if they were allowed to do what they wanted to do, little girls like you wouldn't be allowed to go to church on Sunday or be able to go to the school you wanted to."

"So I have to help fight these men and keep them from coming where you and Mummy live. It might take a long while, and maybe Daddy will have to go and help God up in heaven, and if I do, I always want you both to be good for Mummy, because she is the best Mummy in the whole wide world."

"She has always taken care of you while I have been away. You see, kids, I happened to be caught in two wars inside of ten years, and the reason I am where I am today is because I am fighting for what I think is right."

"That's one thing I always want both of you to remember. If your conscience tells you something is right, always stand up for it. You might be ridiculed for doing so, but in the long run you'll always find out that people respect you more for doing so."

Three days before the letter arrived, the mother of Rose Marie and Joan was notified that Paratrooper John J. McCormick had been killed in action. The foundations of our country have been laid, and the structure raised, on the sacrifice of its sons and daughters. We must keep first in mind the idealism for which they fought and died; the great principles on which this nation of ours was founded.

We must always remember that this nation was founded by men who loved and served God. They firmly believed that "all men are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

"And out of the bounty of earth and the labour of men;
Out of the longing of hearts and the prayer of souls;
Out of the memory of ages and the hopes of the world,
God fashioned a people in love, blessed it with purpose sublime and called it America."

Ex-Missionary At Redeemer Sun.

Everyone at times seems to be faced with more demands than he can meet. But we can fulfill every right demand if we understand the basic spiritual law of putting God's demands first.

SDA Pathfinder Club Solicits For The Needy

Boys and girls of grades one through four of Highland Lakes Junior Academy, along with youngsters of the upper grades, who are members of the Pathfinder Club, will participate in a door to door solicitation in Avon Park Saturday night, Nov. 12, from 6 to 8 p.m.

Mrs. Donna Halverson, co-ordinator of the Walker Memorial Seventh-day Adventist Pathfinder Club, says, "when these young folk knock at your door, they will be giving you an opportunity to help them help other less fortunate people. In this worthy project they are gathering food and clothing to fill Thanksgiving baskets for people whose holiday dinners and needs might otherwise be meager or unsupplied."

Mrs. A. H. Foster and Mrs. Mel Ott, Pathfinder directors, will supervise in organizing the children into groups of three or four. These units accompanied by an adult will ring door bells seeking your contribution.

If you know of a family in need of help, give their name and address to the junior that comes to your door, or call Mrs. Halverson at GL 33161 or GL 33579, so that such needy persons may be contacted.

Food and contributed gifts will be arranged in baskets and delivered to homes Sunday, Nov. 20.
