VISTA Workers Tell County Of Free Food

Mr. and Mrs. S. Wiland, VISTA volunteers working in Avon Park, attended Tuesday's County Commission meeting to present more materials about use of surplus food commodities in the war on poverty.

The VISTA volunteers have asked Highlands County to enter the commodity distribution program, and at Tuesday's meeting Commission Chairman Cecil Skipper said a preliminary study of the program indicates "it would be simple enough." No action was taken.

The Wilands asked the board for permission to use surplus food commodities in building on Delaney Avenue in Avon Park. They said the temporary buildings at Hopewell School used for the rest of their program are not sturdy enough to accommodate the power tools Wiland would like to use in a wood-working class.

Wiland promised to check with his supervisor to learn who should be responsible for maintenance, insurance and liability if the county does grant VISTA use of the structure.

The Wilands said 81 persons are now enrolled in the various self-help programs being offered at Avon Park and that "Community cooperation is excellent."

In the winter of 1964-65, repeated cold waves obliterated the orange industry in Florida causing damages to groves of over 200 million and pushed citrus growers farther south.

The first state farmers' market in Florida opened at Sanford in 1964 and eight years later, 26 markets sold over 213 million worth of agricultural products.

Further details are available at the Lakeland Air Force Recruiting Office, located at 1218 Tennessee Avenue.

College graduates may apply for either flying or non-flying career areas. Non-flying career areas include intelligence, weather, missile operations, aircraft maintenance, supply management, statistics, communications-electronics and weapons directors. Many of the non-flying career areas are open to women.

Applicants selected for OTS will be informed of their career areas before enlistment. Many OTS graduates receive further Air Force Professional training immediately after commissioning.

Suit Filed

Damages in excess of $1,000 are being asked by Roger W. Tumblison of Lake Placid in a suit filed in Circuit Court from Frank Michael Yuskos, Lake Placid.

Tumblison charges that he was injured in an auto accident on SR 700, approximately 6.4 miles from Lorida.

He was a passenger in a car driven by Yuskos. He alleges Yuskos lost control of the car which ran off the road and overturned August 9, 1964.

Avon Archers To Try Again

Avon Archers, according to their monthly bulletin prepared by Eddie Schoonard, did not have a very good meeting last time out. In fact, he wrote it was a "big Only five attended."

Todate, he says, there have been a few membership renewals. So, the Archers are asking former members to renew their memberships at $6 per family, or $3 individual.

The bow and arrow group will meet tonight (Thursday, Feb. 3) at 7:30 o'clock at the Florida Power Corp. lounge. And, Schoonard the president, wonders if modern Robin Hoods will come out of "Sherwood Forest" that a constitution and by-laws may be adopted.

Happiness Spiritual State, Says Christian Science Lecturer

"Happiness is a spiritual state" that comes from "obedience to God's will," said a Christian Science lecturer here on Saturday.

The belief that happiness depends on material things is a "deception," he declared. It leads to "appetites and addictions which make slaves of men and separate them from their natural dignity."

Roy J. Lanning, C.S., was the speaker, under sponsorship of Christian Science Society of Avon Park. The lecture was titled "The Science of Happiness" and was given in the Avon Park High School Auditorium.

To delight in doing God's will is "experience true joy," said Mr. Lanning.

It is "a state of spiritual-mindedness" and "unselfed love."

This joy cannot be given or taken away by any material thing or person, he stressed. "God, as creator, is the source of all our good"—and "all the joy man has, or can have, comes from God."

To reach for happiness in matter "puts us at odds with God and with our own native spiritual sense," he said. "We do devote our lives to the things we need certain material comforts to satisfy us, or that we need a certain place or a certain person to bring us joy."

"This material-mindedness is a selfishness which loses sight of God," he declared.

"It would fool us regarding happiness. It can offer only comfort, but it can offer nothing that satisfies."

Christ Jesus rejected this deception when he said: "It is the spirit that quickeneth the flesh, profiteth nothing" (John 6:63).

Each of us must learn this for himself, he remarked, the lecturer. "We are compelled to seek the higher pleasures which God gives."

To do this, prayer is essential, he said.

Through prayer we begin to feel joyous striving to bring every thought to the obedience of Christ.

This is a "ceaseless prayer," he declared.

"It awakens such a love for God in our hearts that to know and obey Him becomes a 'thrill' but complete evil tendencies are foreign to us. Fleshly attractions lose their false appeal, and in obeying God, we find our natural gravitation to His divine source, God."

We know the thrill of yielding to God's leading power, the thrill of being whole and glad."

The lecturer told of one case who brought healing to a man addicted to one of the many enslaving forms of sin. There was a "dreadful but complete reformation" in the man's life, as he "began to see that satisfaction is found only in obeying God."

Such a change "is not made in an argument," remarked Mr. Lanning.

He urged the audience not to be "surprised when tempted to think or act evil." We are always "at the point of choosing between good and evil," he said.

The important thing is to "detect temptation"—to face it and reject it. Christianity shows that "evil must be rejected and overcome through obedience to God."

This means "letting go of all that would turn us away from God," he said. "We must let go our hold on evil, and cling to Truth with both hands—clinging to every right idea, every spiritual motive, and reject every evil thought."

This kind of obedience, he declared, "is the essence of true joy"—the happiness "al-

$1 Million Revenue Certificate Sales Is Planned By County

One million dollars in revenue certificates will be sold by Highlands County Commission next Monday, Feb. 7 at 2 p.m. at the courthouse in Sebring.

Money from the sale will be used for variety of county improvement projects.

Bids will be examined next Monday afternoon, including that from the county's fiscal agent of St. Petersburg—Goodbody and Co.

The revenue certificate issue is backed by the county's share of state race track taxes and payable over a period of 30 years.

Backers of the issue, a substantial vote of acceptance, when it was learned that the county's race track funds were obligated there was a strong possibility that it might be reduced in favor of larger counties when the legislature is re-appointed.

Backers of the plan say there are about two dozen small counties that follow the same action. If a county has obligated its race track funds, it would be impossible for the legislature to cut it and appropriate it to other counties.

Four types of projects have been outlined by Highlands County commissioners. Commission Chairman Cecil Skinner said the projects, admittedly, were "very general estimates" made quickly and without consulting engineers.

Included in the road program is the widening of South Commerce Street from the downtown to the courthouse. This is a heavily traveled street and except for a short strip in front of the courthouse it is either one or two lanes with parking. Other road projects are paving and widening of existing roads in Sebring, in South County, and "in-between" areas.

Listed in the building program is a branch courthouse facility and health department for Lake Placid, a second floor for the county jail and sheriff's office building, and possibly a second floor on the courthouse annex.

The $1 million revenue certificate issue was scheduled in circuit court 2 weeks ago.

Insurance Is Topic For Rotary Club

Club guest speaker last week was Charles McAlister, vice president in charge of Claims Service of the Farm Bureau Insurance Company of Florida who spoke about problems facing the insurance business and reasons for proposed increases in insurance rates in Florida.

Insurance is necessary, said Mr. McAlister, for such reasons as many people are saved from financial disaster; insurance provides a good tax source for the state; companies operate an assigned risk program; provide assistance to the National Safety Council and other related organizations; provide insurance protecting mortgages and loans and insurance protects business properties and investments.

Insurance rates are heavily regulated today and are based upon percentages providing for payment of 90 percent of income for losses, 35 percent for operating expenses and 5 percent profit. However, insurance companies today are paying 70 percent for losses and many companies are operating at a loss.

Investment income received by insurance companies is a very small part of the profit and cannot offset the increase in losses which must be paid, Mr. McAlister said.

The increase in loss payments, McAlister said, is due to increasing number of traffic accidents, inflation, increases in injury claims; rising medical expenses; higher prices for new automobiles; increases in repair costs; and increases in exaggerated and fraudulent claims.

Some factors which could help, he said, are, stricter driver's license requirements; stiffer enforcement of traffic laws; and, for offenders, being more severely dealt with by courts.

We can help, Mr. McAlister said, by being more careful, supporting traffic safety points, and, being honest in filing insurance claims.

Bound Over

Carrie West, 38-year-old Sebring woman, has been bound over to Circuit Court on an aggravated assault charge. She was charged with striking and beating a woman and reckless display of firearms. She will be tried on Feb. 10 in the next session of County Court.

Former Judge Sues Sebring For Damages

Former circuit judge and frequent candidate for public office, Joe D. Kinsey, has filed suit charging City of Sebring officials have issued reports which "degrade the character and reputation" and have led to Kinsey's "harm and humiliation."

Filed in Circuit Court Jan. 28, Kinsey's suit asks for a "declaratory judgment or decree relieving the plaintiff from unjust accusations and statements made by officials and employees who are entitled to be enjoined from making such reports and assertions . . . and for additional relief as he (Kinsey) may be legally entitled to."

The City of Sebring and J. A. Butler as mayor, are named defendants.

Kinsey asked that the defendants be "required to produce records of issuance and service of warrants of arrest for the plaintiff."

The case has been assigned to Judge A. H. Lane.

Coming off the railroad just before the turn of the century transformed the swamps and sand dunes of South Florida into a thriving agricultural and commercial region. Towns rose in the Lake Okechobee region when the drainage made the Everglades navigable.

Sebring was one of the early towns to develop in the region. It was founded in 1888 and has since become a major center for the automotive industry.

The city has a rich history and is known for its annual Sebring International Raceway. It is a city of contrasts, with a mix of old and new architecture.

The city is home to many famous people and has a vibrant cultural scene. It is a city that has grown from a small settlement to a major metropolitan area.

The city is known for its beautiful scenery and its friendly people. It is a city that has a lot to offer to its residents and visitors alike.

Production of Electricity Indicates Growth

Electric production in Florida has not paced most other states in recent years and during the first six months of 1966 more electricity was generated in the state than during the entire year 1965. The Florida State Chamber of Commerce stated in its Weekly Business Review released yesterday.

Total output of electric power in Florida amounted to 11.4 billion kilowatt-hours through June last year, representing a 7 per cent increase over the same period in 1965, and pointing better than the national gain.

The electric volume was made up of 11 billion kilowatt-hours produced by manufacturing plants (pulp and paper mills for example) and 400 million more. This volume of electricity showed a 6 per cent gain over 1965.

The 11.4 billion kilowatt-hour volume is referred to as utility production as it is for sale by public and private plants to all customers, plus power for such public purposes as street lighting. The increase in utility electric production was 10 per cent last year.

County Gets $21,000 From State Racing

Tallahassee—State Comptroller Fred O. Dickinson today announced the monthly distribution of $1,407,000 to Florida counties in state racing tax funds.

Racing tax receipts are divided equally among Florida's counties. The January distribution, Dickinson said, provided each county $21,000.

That is an increase of $2,000 per county over the $19,000 allocated each county in January 1965.

Tree Survey Should Improve Fruit Marketing

Lakeland—The 12,000 square mile aerial citrus tree survey, which was recently completed this week, will lead to better marketing practices, according to John W. Rutledge, executive vice president of Florida Citrus Mutual.

The survey, which had been a major objective of the big grower organization for several seasons, has produced an accurate count of the number of trees upon which the crop estimate can be made.

Rutledge said, "The survey will lead to better marketing. The price changes come from over- and under supply. We need this survey will lead to far better estimates of our supply situation."

The cost of the survey was borne by Florida's citrus growers through a special tax on their production.

Commissioned at Fort Sill

David Higgins, 34, son of Mrs. Catherine B. Higgins, 328 Fairview Ave., Sebring, was commissioned an Army second lieutenant after graduating from the Officer Candidate School at the Artillery and Missile Center, Fort Sill, Okla., Dec. 17. The 16-week course, designed to prepare the men for officer duties in field artillery units, included training in communications, and aerial-photo reading, electronics and combined arms tactics. Leadership preparation was also a major part of the curriculum. Lieutenant Higgins entered the Army in February 1955.

A member of Pi Kappa Phi fraternity, the lieutenant was graduated from Sebring High School in 1950 and received his bachelor of science degree from Western University, DeLand, in 1953. He was employed as an accountant by a St. Petersburg firm before entering the Army.

KEEP OFF THE GRASS

By BILL LEAVELL
DO COMPUTERS GO TO HEAVEN?

Don't laugh when you hear this often overworked office saying, "Don't forget, you can always be replaced by a machine." No matter what you do to earn the money to support our government in the style it has become accustomed to, you are not safe from the electronic wizard.

Some of the stories they tell about the magic boxes would be down right funny if they didn't indicate what the future might hold.

One story is about an Army General who dropped into the Pentagon computer center one morning to try out a new super thinking machine. The machine fielded all the General's questions about logistics and military strategy so well that he decided to ask it the ultimate question: "What about World War III?"

After a while of reel spinning and lights blinking, the computer paused and printed out the one word, "yes."

"Yes?" roared the General, "what kind of an answer is that?" "Yes what?"

The machine spun more reels and tried again, it mockingly printed out "Yes SIR."

Another story is about a rather dull government official who tried to experiment with his department's new and complex computer. In his ignorance, he boomed things so badly that the giant machine hummed a few times and then tapped out a short message: "Please stop bothering me."

At a major state university, one young coed, because of an error on her computer card, was expelled from school for failure to attend R.O.T.C.

A large department store with a computerized accounting department threatened legal action against a customer with a balance due of $0.00.

I like to think that the computers will never take over the world as long as men can pull the plug. One story does shake me up more than a little bit however. It is about one scientist that had a mighty fancy computer. For months it answered every question put to it. The more questions it answered, the hungrier the machine got. It got real ugly. Finally the scientist thought up a question he felt sure would stump the smartest computer.

"Is there a God?" he asked.

The computer was silent for a long time (that is in its usual) haughty manner it answered, "Now there is."

It seems to me the doggone computers are acting more and more like politicians. I can hardly wait until they start running for office.

It is going to take some tall campaigning to get me to vote for a computer. I would rather vote for an ordinary crooked politician than a smart electronic machine. Besides, if a politician is human and crooked, I might hope to be crooked in my best interest and no one can pull his plug.
