Savings Bond Interest More

United States Savings Bonds are now a more attractive investment than ever before, Charles L. Longbottom, chairman of the Highlands County Savings Bonds Committee, said in commenting on the increase in interest on Series E and H Bonds to 4.15 percent.

Mr. Longbottom pointed out that the new rate applies from Dec. 1, 1965 to all Savings Bonds, old and new.

"That means," he said, "He has announced that the congress theme is 'Jesus is Coming Again.'"

The purpose of the congress is to inspire and train the youth in giving a personal testimony in their personal lives for Christ. Several denominational leaders will be featured in the congress meetings of the congress. It will close with a patriotic meeting Saturday night, at which the speaker will be Congressman Edward Gurney of the 11th District of Florida. His topic will be 'Loyalty—Price for Freedom.'

"That between 30 and 40 million Americans who now hold more than $9 billion dollars worth of Series E and H Bonds will automatically increase their earnings."

Under the new rate, Series E Bonds will return $100 for each $75 invested after a maturity period of seven years. The rate increase in the case of H Bonds, which are bought at face value, will be reflected by larger semi-annual interest payments.

CHEVY PICKUPS E SMOOTHLY

... A BIG REASON WHY THEY'RE LIKED BEST!

Smooth ride is one big reason why Chevy is America's most popular pickup. You get true independent front suspension; front wheels that step lightly over bumps. And most models provide big coil springs at all four wheels to soak up the jolts. You get a ride that's ideal for camper duty as well as work... a tough suspension proved over the past 5 years on rugged jobs. Try a smooth-riding 1966 pickup at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Invitations
Going Out To Nearly 4,000

Nearly 4,000 invitations will be sent to former patients of the Alcohol Rehabilitation Center inviting them to return to Avon Park for the fifth annual patient reunion Saturday afternoon, April 16.

Coordinating reunion plans is Harvey E. Olsen, regional field representative, who has been in charge of the program for the past three years.

Olsen said the reunion again this year will coincide with the second annual AA get-together being sponsored by a South Florida Committee and to be held at Lake Byrd Lodge April 15-17.

The ARC reunion will feature an openhouse at the Center from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Afternoon programming will include visitation with staff members, music by the inmate band from the Avon Park Correctional Institution, brief remarks by staff members and the serving of refreshments.

All hospital patients will attend the Saturday evening AA meeting at Lake Byrd Lodge as special guests of the AA sponsor organization.

Further details on the reunion will be released as plans are formulated, Olsen said.

AF Needs
'Old Hands'

Local U. S. Air Force Recruiting Sergeant Paul Smith reported that the greatly increased Air Force needs for prior service personnel will continue indefinitely.

The sergeant said prior to last August, the Air Force accepted only a small number of former service men and women for re-enlistment in critical career fields.

But it has become apparent to the Air Force that the greatly increased input of young men and women without previous military experience which has been occasioned by the world situation needs to be balanced by experienced "old timers."

"Former service men and women can pick the date they want to enlist," the sergeant said. "They can choose the base they want to go to, the states or the overseas area they desire and get up to thirty days re-enlistment leave prior to reporting for duty."

Sgt. Smith reported that the Air Force is seeking prior service people between 17 and 27 years of age, honorably discharged from any branch of the armed forces less than three years (or if longer, have actively participated in the reserve program with pay), and who can qualify for a needed Air Force job. Openings are currently available in all 40 Air Force career fields.

FIVE AMBULANCES—2 each from Scott-Stephenson-Smith Funeral Home and Mizelle Funeral Home of Avon Park and 1 from the Lake Placid Memorial Chapel—ready to remove the "injured" from the mock disaster at the Avon Park High School Thursday morning, Feb. 17.

Automobile Hall of Fame Develops From Idea To Reach Planning, Discussion Stage

Location of an Automobile Hall of Fame in Highlands County is the goal of a large group of dedicated men in Avon Park, Lake Placid and Sebring.

It is the development of an idea first projected some months ago by several men at Sebring who envisioned possibilities of such an exhibition hall for past, present and future automobiles.

Civic Clubs in Highlands County are being contacted to further the plan and see that the idea becomes reality. Letters are being received by organizations and individuals asking support for the project.

In the Avon Park area supporters include State Rep. Morris Adams, Charles Whitehead Jr., president of Avon Citrus Bank, Mayor E. A. DeLaney, Sr., Robert Barben, Allen Clayton, I. J. Hopper, Edward Touchton.

At Sebring, Elgin Haywood, Gen. Elmer Sherwood, Rex Bond, Mayor Butler, Ken Grady, Ernest Breed and Melvin Baker are a few of those interested.

Mayor Alfred Moretz of Lake Placid, with State Sen. Hayward Davis, Victor Kirk and Tom Wallace are behind the idea.

Eventually a $1 million-plus exhibition hall for the display of representative autos of all eras is the goal of the group further plans. It is this development they are asking others to help push to reality.

One of the reasons backers give for believing the idea will be a great year-round attraction in Highlands is the international fame Sebring has gained as site of the annual 12-hour auto race.

With the latter's reputation and international favor, it is thought an exhibition hall of famed cars will be a daily attraction for the area, not just a 3-day drawing card each year, as the 12-hour race has become.

As the name implies, the Automobile Hall of Fame, if the idea materializes, will be a display of many famed cars, models and automotive ideas.

Like all of today's cars, the Hall of Fame has become more than just an idea and has reached the planning stage.

Disaster Drill Said Successful

Last Thursday morning, (Feb. 17) Avon Park High School was the scene of a disaster drill and 5 ambulances loaded with the "injured" youth screamed their way to Walker Memorial Hospital.

There the staff had been alerted for this emergency.

Within 5 minutes of arrival of the "victims," the emergency entrance was cleared, and various departments, Emergency Room, X-Ray and Surgery had taken over.

The admitting office checked those who needed to be admitted.

Dr. Hartwell, chief of staff, observed that in the event of a real disaster—with real injuries—it would take longer with each patient to discover the extent of cuts and/or breaks so that the physician could decide where each one would be cared for first.

Observers had a good opportunity to see the results of teamwork in action at a hospital, and the important part that each one plays in the total well-being of the community.

The disaster drill was conducted by Walker Memorial Hospital in cooperation with the First Aid class of Avon Park High School.

Sermonette

BY REV. HERBERT D. GRAETZ
Union Congregational Church

A GOOD CONSCIENCE

And Paul, earnestly holding the council and brethren, I have lived in all good conscience from my childhood until this day." Acts 23:1.

St. Paul opened his defense before the council with the words of our text. "Men and brethren, I have lived in all good conscience from my childhood until this day." These words were spoken for the high priest, Ananias. After all, he was being tried as a criminal. Because of such a statement would naturally be regarded as an insult to the august body of his accusers. And so, Ananias commanded those who were to smite St. Paul on the mouth.

St. Paul thus challenged the ruling body of the church in the light of his conscience. Down the centuries another man, Martin Luther, was to challenge the councils and traditions of the governing Christian Church in the light of his conscience. In the first instance the Church was convicted. In the second it was moving toward a new kind of center. In either case the conscience was a strong motivating force.

A small boy once described the conscience in words that he addressed to his Mother on the first collision between instinct and duty: "I've got something inside me I can't do what I want to with." That is a simple but as good a definition as any.

Archbishop Temple gives us insight into the meaning of the term in the following statement: "However far our doubts go, they cannot obliterate from within us the sense of right and wrong and of the everlasting difference between them. They cannot silence, unless we join in silencing, the voice that bids us believe that, in spite of all that can be said, seen, or felt, the law of right is the eternal foundation on which all things are built."

Conscience, as we know it, does not stand still. If it does, it becomes static and hardens. That was the trouble with the conscience of the high priest. As a rule, conscience grows as the result of man's deepening understanding and acceptance of the ethical requirements of religious living.

Let's look at St. Paul's declaration again. Obviously, it includes the time when, as a Pharisee, he joined with those who charged Christians with blasphemy and condemned them to death. He did these things in good conscience. "I verily" he says, "thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth." Acts 23:9. The key words in that verse are "that I ought." This inborn sense of "oughtness" was his conscience. The nature of which had been determined by the ethical teaching he had been brought up on and his moral experience to that time. In the light of all that he had been taught, his conscience was good, even when he was persecuting the Christians. All of this, however, was to change when he met the Lord Jesus Christ on the Damascus Road.

After his divine encounter with Christ, his whole being gravitated from another center and necessarily his conscience changed. It was to grow from then on under the compunctions of the grace and love of Christ.

Few of us can make the great claim of St. Paul, "I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day." We are apt to be like the negro maid who came to her mistress, in great distress, to discuss a matter of conscience, and the mistress talked to her about the still small voice which prompts to right conduct. "It's sho

"huff dat way, Miss Mary," Lizzie admitted. "De Lawd, he speaks to me 'bout mah goin's on. But sometimes I talks right back to him and 'bout haf de time he lets me have mah own way." It is not impossible to argue down the promptings of the conscience. We can be perverse. We can and often do deceive our own selves. "I want" takes precedence over "I ought."

No one need tell us, when we have chosen the wrong rather than the right, because in the choice we have suffered the pang of conscience. And because we have gone against the prompting of conscience, we experience a sense of guilt. What can be done about it?

When we have once abused our conscience, we can't just say "let by-gones be by-gones," because the wrong is in us. It is there either as repression or fetter, assuredly as a mark or stain, and we can't forget it.

A sense of guilt has been likened to an infected wound. Now, how does a doctor deal with infection? He lances it to allow it to heal from within. Prayer can lance what might be described as "infected being" and bring healing.

Dr. Buttrick reminds us that in modern psychiatry, the patient lays on the doctor his burden of sickness. In much the same manner, in our prayers we can lay on God, through Christ, the burden of a darkened conscience and He will give it back lanced and sweetened.

Seventh-day Adventist Group Will Attend Youth Conference

Evangelist Ray Numbers of St. Petersburg, guest pastor speaker here in the revival series at the Seventh-day Adventist Church on Lake Lillian, continues his speaking engagements this week. He will enter the second week of services beginning Sunday night, Feb. 27, presenting the topic "The United States in Prophecy."

The public is cordially invited to attend each evening at 7:30 p.m. and hear the following topics presented:

Feb. 28, "Why I Am a Seventh-day Adventist."

March 1, "Is It Necessary to Be Baptized?"

March 2, "Does God Always Answer Good Prayers?"

March 3, "Must I Belong to a Church to be Saved?"

March 4, "The Last Night on Earth."

At 11 a.m. March 5, Pastor Numbers' sermon will be "The Sin God Never Forgives."

Gideons Will Fill Pulpit For Presbyterians

Filling the pulpit at the First Presbyterian Church this Sunday will be the Gideons. They serve as a non-sectarian, extended arm of the church.

The Gideons International, composed of Christian business and professional men, is carrying out a broad ministry of Scripture distribution in over 80 countries which no single denomination could undertake.

The fact that the Gideon Association is interdenominational gives its members access to almost all institutions.

They give freely of their time and money and enjoy the good will of the public. Their cause is liberally supported by the church.

There will be a meeting of the Associate Reformed Florida Presbytery, Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the Lake Placid Church.

The First Presbyterian Church will be hosts for the World Day of Prayer, Friday at 7:30 p.m. All Churches in the area are invited to worship with us.
